Hawaii Star Added To U. S. Banner

By The Associated Press
America's new 50-star flag flew for the first time today on flag-staffs across the land. Hawaii's star proudly joined those of her 49 sister states.

It was the second year in a row that a new flag rose for the first time. Last July 4 brought the inauguration of the 49-star flag for Alaska.

The new flag, with five rows of six stars and four rows of five stars, was unveiled first in one country at 12:01 a.m. over Ft. McHenry in Baltimore, where Francis Scott Key saw its predecessor during a long night-battle and was inspired to write the Star-Spangled Banner.

But at Guam, a U. S. territory west of the International Dateline, the flag was raised at dawn Sunday as the Fourth of July began on the other side of the world. Hawaii, being east of the date-line but far west of the mainland was the last state to be able to stream the new flag at dawn. The jubilant Hawaiians planned a mammoth celebration at historic Iolani Palace.

On the U. S. continent, watchers on three Maine mountaintops vied to be the first to greet the sun's rays by raising the flag. The rivals were on Mt. Katahdin, Mt. Cadillac, and Mars Hill, Maine's northernmost peak.

Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, in a speech preceding the flag-raising, said the occasion pointed up the differences between democracy and communism.

"There is a contrast—as unmistakable as it is meaningful—between the unparalleled recognition of the rights of man wherever the American flag flies and the foul and bloody chronicle of the Communist world," he said.

"While Alaska and Hawaii were becoming full-fledged members of the union, the Communists wrote their exhibit, 'A' for all the world to see in the bloodbaths and the ruthless tramping out of liberty and the arrogant denial of human rights in Hungary and Tibet."

Then, as he did exactly one year ago with the 49-star flag marking Alaska's admission to statehood, Seaton entered the tiny fort to tug the halyard sending the new edition of Old Glory aloft.

A stiff northerly breeze started the flag fluttering before it was one-third of the way up the floodlit 87-foot staff of Douglas fir.

As it cleared the rooftops of the fort-buildings, a cheer rose from the thousands assembled outside the walls.

Howitzers booming 50-gun salute across Baltimore harbor and the U. S. Marine Band sounding the last note of the national anthem, the flag reached the top.

Island Folk Beam Proudly At New Flag

By LOUIS G. PANOS
BALTIMORE (AP) — Hawaiians sporting aloha shirts and leis cheered and beamed proudly today as Old Glory, sporting their new star, made her first official ascent over Ft. McHenry.

The nation's new 50-star flag was raised over the historic birthplace of "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the climax of colorful midnight ceremonies.

A crowd estimated at 30,000 witnessed the ceremony, including a mock bombardment of the fort and a fireworks display.

"It's a great day for Hawaii," beamed Rep. Daniel Inouye, spokesman for the Hawaiian delegation.

Inouye led three battalions of Hawaiians and their friends on a 40-mile trip from Washington.

President Eisenhower directed that the new flag first be raised over Ft. McHenry, where in 1814 Francis Scott Key — inspired by the sight of the flag still waving after an all-night British bombardment — wrote the first lines of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, in a speech preceding the flag-raising, said the occasion pointed up the differences between democracy and communism.

"There is a contrast—as unmistakable as it is meaningful—between the unparalleled recognition of the rights of man wherever the American flag flies and the foul and bloody chronicle of the Communist world," he said.

Big Spring Observes Uneventful Holiday

A Sabbath-like air prevailed in Big Spring as July 4 began. Partially cloudy skies prevailed in the morning and the temperature was only 83 at 10:30 a.m.

Majority of downtown business establishments were closed. A few restaurants were operating. Some service stations had closed down. All public offices were shut down.

Peace officers were happy at the tranquility which had prevailed over Saturday and Sunday of the long Independence Day week-end. They had their fingers crossed, hopeful the last day and night of the holiday would pass with equal inactivity.

No serious traffic accidents had occurred. Traffic was fairly heavy on the major highways but observers commented that most drivers seemed aware of the need for careful driving.

Hospitals had nothing to report out of the ordinary for Saturday and Sunday. Pablo Martinez, a city-garbage employee, was apparently the only Big Spring resident to be injured on the holiday. Martinez suffered a mangled foot when it was run over by a big garbage truck early Monday morning.

Grass fires, originating from the use of fireworks, marred the city fire department's record for another week-end. One of these was in the southeast part of town Saturday night on the Phillips Road. Two trucks were needed to combat the blaze. Two grass fires were started on scenic Mountain from firecrackers Sunday. In each case, two trucks had to be dispatched and firemen had a busy time curbing the stubborn blaze.

Ex-Diplomat Dies
BELFAST, Maine (AP)—Robert P. Skinner, 94, retired diplomat who served as United States ambassador to Turkey from 1933 to 1936, died Friday. He had suffered from a heart condition. He was owner and editor of the Massillon, Ohio, Evening Independent for 11 years before he entered the Foreign Service in 1897.

City Worker Mishap Victim
A city employee was seriously injured in a garbage truck accident about 7 a.m. this morning. Executed?

Amelia Earhart, long-missing American aviatrix shown just prior to her ill-fated flight in 1937, may have been executed by Japanese on Salpan, in the Pacific. A Columbia Broadcasting System news team which visited Salpan reported that Salpan natives viewed Miss Earhart's crash landing near the island.

Earhart Clue

A corroded high-capacity airplane generator, recovered recently off Salpan, is the focus of attention in the KCBS studios in San Francisco as it is examined by Paul Maniz, center, outfitter of plane used by Amelia Earhart on her last flight. Maniz is making a trace of numbers on the generator for further study, as AP reporter Moe Ralston, left, and KCBS reporter Fred Goerner look on. This is one of several plane parts brought back by Goerner in his search for definite evidence to support a long-held theory as to the fate of the plane.

Baptists To Dedicate Encampment Grounds

Dedication for the new Baptist Encampment grounds in Martin County began today with Baptists flocking in from throughout District 8 to participate in the program.

"The Church Preaching—Teaching Growing Christian Life" is the theme of the three day encampment which will continue through Wednesday. The camp is located on Highway 137, seven miles north of Stanton.

Registration for the five Baptist associations participating in the encampment began this morning at 9:30 a.m. The Rev. J. William Arnett, District Missions Secretary and Camp Administrator, presided at the morning's meeting which included a program of scripture, song and a special dedication message.

On the program this morning were the Rev. L. R. Pendley, pastor, Second Baptist Church, Lamesa, who gave the Bible lesson; Ed Wittner, music and education, First Baptist Church, Lamesa; the Rev. Cecil C. Rhodes, pastor, West Side Church, Big Spring, who recalled twenty years of camping; the Rev. J. F. Selzraig, pastor, First Baptist Church, Colorado City; and the Rev. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor, Crescent Park Church, Odessa, who gave the dedication message. Monday afternoon was taken up with more registration, swimming and a district executive board meeting.

The program for the remainder of the encampment is as follows:

Sun And Wind Use Up Precious Water

Grady Randel, with the U.S. Experiment Station, holds a gauge above an evaporative test tank. If there had been no evaporation during June, the water level in the small tank would have been above the top of the gauge in his hand. Evaporation loss for the month at the station was at an all-time record high of 12.46 inches.

Evaporation Saps Lake Thomas Water

The biggest customer—non-paying—that Lake J. B. Thomas has is Old Man Sun.

During June, a particularly hot month devoid of precipitation, evaporation lapped up more than twice as many gallons of the precious water in the big reservoir as were pumped through the lines to Big Spring, Odessa, Snyder and other official consumers.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District office reports that evaporation took two billion gallons of water from the lake in June. Nine hundred million gallons were consumed by the towns which depend on the big reservoir for their supply.

NOT NEWS

This was no news to Grady Randel, member of the staff at the U. S. Experiment Station, on the north edge of Big Spring. One of his assignments is maintaining accurate figures on evaporation. "In the 44 years that such statistics have been kept at the station," he said, "we have never had a June with so high an evaporation record. We had numerous occasions in that month when the sun and wind were absorbing as much as half an inch of water from lakes and stockponds—in a single 24 hour period. On one day, the figure was 67 inch."

This means, it was pointed out, that if a farmer had a stock pond covering one acre, the sun and wind used up more than a foot of his reserve during the month. This would represent a loss of almost 400,000 gallons of water from his pond. This explains the distress ranchers are feeling over water shortages. Stock ponds are dwindling rapidly under the scorching sun which adds to the aggravating problem of depleted pasture lands.

14.46 INCHES LOST
Randel said figures for the evaporation tests at the station showed a water loss of 14.46 inches for June. This compares with the average of 10.11 inches for the 44 years that records have been kept at the station. On June 15, with the temperature reading 108 degrees and the wind blowing stiffly, the evaporation loss was .67 inch in 24 hours.

Throughout June the wind velocity average 7.3 miles per hour—a factor which contributed to the heavy evaporation losses recorded. Randel's studies of evaporation are made in a highly scientific fashion. A small metal tank, 6 is set up in an open area at the station. Nearby is a wind gauge which records the velocity of the wind at ground level.

Randel pointed out that the size of the container has no bearing on the rate of evaporation—a gallon bucket, under the same circumstances, would lose exactly as much water as a 10-acre lake. Each day Randel measures the water in the tank. The difference, from the level reported the day before, shows the evaporation.

DIFFERENCES NOTED

CRMWD officials said that there is a variation noticeable in big reservoirs such as Lake J. B. Thomas over the situation which would prevail in a small container such as Randel uses. The CRMWD said its evaporation tests at the big lake was 10.57 inches during June.

This, the CRMWD explains, is attributable to the much higher temperature Randel's test tank would reach as compared to that of the lake. The higher the temperature of the water, the lake operators say, the greater the rate of evaporation.

Lake J. B. Thomas level on June 1 was 2,248.95 feet. On June 30, this had dropped 1.19 feet to 2,247.76. The actual withdrawal of water from the lake, for consumption and due to evaporation, was 14.22 inches, it was said. Odessa, Big Spring, Snyder and other users accounted for 3.50 inches of this loss; the sun and the wind for 10.67 inches, CRMWD said.

Evaporation takes twice as much as consumption as a year-around rule, the water district office reported.

Another aspect of the problem of evaporation, naturally, is the impact it has on fields and pastures. The rate, of course, is not the same, but each day's heat and wind takes more and more precious moisture from the land. In a month devoid of rains as June was—only .09 inch was gauged at the U. S. Experiment Station—this process saps reserve moisture at

Rites Set For Lamesa Man

LAMESA—Services for Lester Gaines Christopher, 55, are slated for 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Assembly of God church, with Rev. Nicholas Kovak, pastor officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mr. Christopher died at 3 a.m. Sunday as the result of a heart seizure. He was a Dawson County resident for 36 years and was a machinist. He was born in Red River County on June 9, 1905.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Tommy Patterson, San Antonio; his mother, Mrs. Mary Christopher, Lamesa; a sister, Mrs. J. L. Keith, Andrews; two brothers, Sam Christopher, San Angelo and W. G. Christopher, Lubbock; and three grandchildren. Members of the Odd Fellow Lodge will serve as pall bearers.

Claims British Have More Liberty

DETROIT (AP)—A British minister picked the Independence Day weekend to say the English have more freedom than Americans.

The Rev. E. Lincoln Minshall, minister of Central Hall Methodist Church in Coventry, England, spoke at Detroit's Central Methodist Church Sunday. He and the Rev. James Laird are exchanging pulpits during July.

"It is rather strange for a Tory to be invited to give his first sermon in this country on the Fourth of July weekend," Rev. Minshall said.

"We have more freedom than most Americans. An Englishman can say what he wants—even 'Down with the government'—and nobody tries to impeach him as a 'prospective Communist.' We take it all in stride."

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—A bridge collapsed under a passing train Sunday night and first reports said more than 50 persons were killed and about 60 injured. The accident occurred 30 miles west of Rawalpindi.

$157 Million Road Fund For Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas stands to receive 157 1/2 million dollars in federal highway aid in each of the next two fiscal years, starting July 1, 1961, under pending legislation and long range planning of Public Roads Bureau.

Under the interstate highway program the allocation will be 99 million dollars a year, assuming that gasoline taxes plus revenues into the highway trust fund at the rate now contemplated. The state also will get $52,800,000 each year under the regular federal aid highway program for the A-B-C system of roads. This is based on a $25 million dollar annual authorization for all states included in a bill expected to go to the White House soon. The same amount is to be available in fiscal 1961 which started July 1.

Graham Does Poorly In Brazil

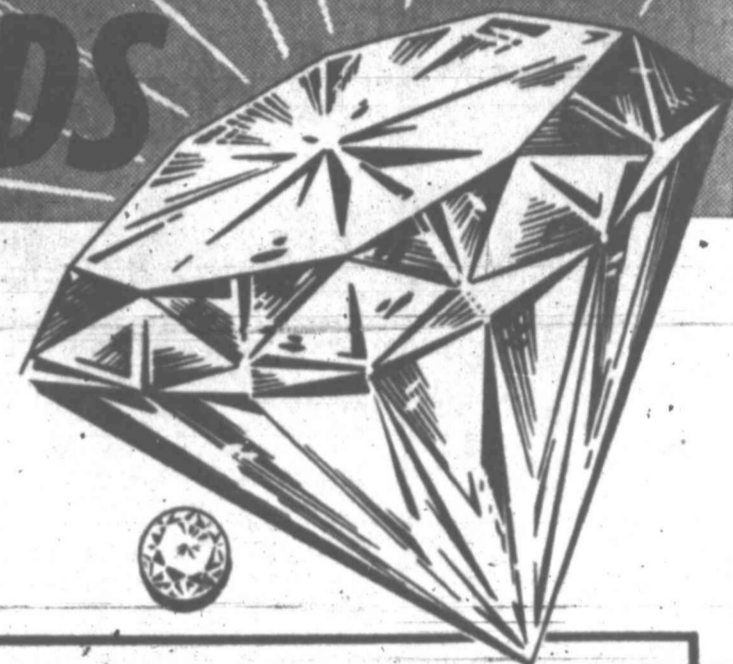

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Billy Graham drew what may have been his largest outdoor audience here Sunday night but an aide said the American evangelist was disappointed at the number of persons who responded to his closing appeal to "come to Christ." Brazilians familiar with the seating capacity of the huge soccer stadium estimated the crowd between 170,000 and 200,000. The largest crowd previously was at Sydney, Australia, where 150,000 attended.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newswriter

The fourth of the American "Crede" stamps features Francis Scott Key's words from the Star Spangled Banner — "And this be our Motto, in GOD is our TRUST." The stamp will be first placed on sale in Baltimore on Sept. 14.

Dedicatory ceremonies will be held on that date at Ft. McHenry in Baltimore. It was the bombardment of this historic fort that Key watched while in custody aboard a British frigate and which led him to write his famous words.

This "Crede" design will follow the same pattern as those previously issued. The message and Key's signature appear and the feature device is a drawing of a bomb burst within a double circle.

Collectors desiring the first day cancellations of the 4-cent stamp may send their addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Baltimore 33, Md. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 4-Cent Key Crede Stamp."

Other news from the U. S. Post Office Department reveals that the "Champion of Liberty" 4-cent and 8-cent stamps honoring Ignace Jan Paderewski, world-famed Polish patriot and pianist, will be placed on first day sale at Washington, D. C., on Oct. 8.

The U. S. commemorative marking the 150th anniversary of Mexican Independence mentioned in this column last week will have its first day sale in Los Angeles on Sept. 16.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of these stamps should send their addressed envelopes with remittances to the following: Paderewski to Postmaster, Washington 12, D. C., prior to Oct. 8; Mexican Independence to Postmaster, Los Angeles 52, Calif., before Sept. 16.

Japan has issued two new stamps. One, a 10-yen, honors the 12th International Congress for Bird Preservation held in Tokyo. It shows the Toki (Japanese crested ibis). The other stamp, also of the 10-yen denomination, commemorates the Silver Jubilee of the International Radio Program of the Japan Broadcasting Corp. This stamp depicts a radio wave encircling the world.

The Norfolk Islands has issued two new stamps in its local flora series. The flowers depicted are the lantana and the red hibiscus. A 2-shilling-8-pence stamps by the same post office commemorating the introduction of local government of Norfolk Island will be issued in November.

Denver To Get Its Water By Tunnel

By GORDON G. GAUSS
DILLON, Colo. (AP) — Within a year and a half a 50-million-dollar hole gouged through the spine of North America—the Continental Divide—will begin tapping water from the western slope of the Rockies for Denver, nearly a hundred miles away on the eastern slope.

The tunnel, one of the most spectacular ever built, is more than a mile and a half above sea level. Yet, in some places, it is 4,400 feet below the snow-capped peaks which it pierces.

It is 23.3 miles long, 10 feet 3 inches top to bottom and is as wide as an ordinary room.

It drops, west to east, a little more than seven feet every mile. The only place to get into the tunnel, except at the portals, is down a 920-foot elevator shaft—roughly the up-and-down distance of an 80-story skyscraper.

At the base of the shaft, 3 1/2 miles from daylight to the west and 14 1/2 miles from the eastern entrance—there's a hundred-foot-long room so busy workers dub it "Times Square."

It has a railroad, whose rails—bought as salvage—once formed a Burlington spur across the Nebraska prairie. There are electric lights, generators, pumps and even a dial telephone which can be plugged into cross country lines.

The tunnel is a key unit in a system which will deliver up to 265,000 acre feet of water a year to the thirsty Denver metropolitan area on the edge of the high plains east of the Rockies. It will virtually double the city's water supply and remove the threat of shortage, a real peril for a metropolis where rainfall averages 12 to 14 inches a year.

To capture water for the tunnel, Denver is building a dam across the Blue River Valley on the western side of the Continental Divide. The western portal of the tunnel will be beneath the waters of the reservoir created by this mile-long dam.

At the eastern portal on the Denver side of the divide, water will spill out of the tunnel into the North Fork of the South Platte River and flow naturally 46 miles down the eastern face of the mountains to Denver's Water plant. The flow from the tunnel will be controlled by a giant valve.

The small town of Dillon will be inundated by the waters of the reservoir. Denver has bought all the property. The hundred or so residents have until next April to evacuate. A new townsite will be established a mile away.

The tunnel is supposed to be completed Jan. 7, 1962, and work is on schedule.

WACO (AP)—Lester Jackson, who was picked up after threatening to blow up the Veterans Administration Hospital at Houston, has been placed in the VA hospital here.

Authorities at the hospital would not say how long he would be a patient or give any information about his condition.

Jackson was picked up by a state highway patrolman as he slept in his car near Corsicana Friday night. Santa Cruz, Calif., police issued a pickup for him to hand over his wife he was en route to Texas to blow up the VA hospital.

Jackson, however, said that was incorrect, that he intended to blow the VA office in Houston but changed his mind en route to Texas.

'Miss Texas' Must Talk About Herself And Pageant

HOUSTON (AP)—Reporters simply will not allow Pat Cloud to talk as much as she likes about speech therapy. They want to talk about Pat Cloud and the Miss Universe contest which started at Miami Beach Saturday.

Miss Cloud, 20, is a Baylor University beauty from Houston, representing Texas in the competition.

On Mondays and Wednesdays, she works with a pupil-patient, a 7-year-old girl.

Since winning the state title at Lake Whitney June 11, Miss Texas has been on the run.

First came the paper work—country forms, birth certificate, affidavits that she never has been married, etc.

Next the wardrobe. All Texans must be cowgirls—even if they live in the nation's sixth-biggest city. So Pat went to Fort Worth for a glamour-cowgirl outfit. Then she traveled to Waxahachie, where the evening gown she will wear in competition was made.

Back to Baylor for some sleep and clinic work. Then Miss Texas went to Houston for a weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Cloud.

More shopping, posing for pictures and appearances were on the schedule.

Two months ago, Pat wasn't sure she would enter the Miss Universe contest. However, she had created an unusual situation that influenced her to compete.

About two years ago Pat met a "wax publicity man," who offered her a job.

Pat's duties included signing up beauty contest entries and helping backstage.

Spectators kept telling Pat she should be on the stage; not backstage. Friends also gave encouragement, so Pat agreed to try.

Old Methods—Old Tools

A. G. Mitchell, extreme left, is using an 80-year-old Georgia Stock plow, an equally venerable two-row walking plow and a team of mules to cultivate a 2-acre tract he owns northeast of town.

Ken Mcelling, holding the reins, and Jerry Cunningham, are leading a hand with the old style farming operations.

A.G. Mitchell Farms 2 Acres With Antiques

By SAM BLACKBURN
Automation, and stuff like that, means nothing to A. G. Mitchell. The civil deputy in Sheriff Miller Harris' office believes in doing things the way grandpop did them. Especially farming, that is.

The plow he uses is 80 years old. It's a genuine Georgia stock and in excellent condition, despite the long passage of time since it was made.

His middle buster is a mere youngster. Mitchell has had it for only 25 years. The two-row walking plow dates back to 1825 and, standing by, is a 35-year-old turning plow and double shovel which goes back half a century.

To motivate these gadgets, Mitchell has a team of mules. He estimates their age at 11 years. Mitchell is using this equipment to cultivate a two-acre tract, five miles north and east of Big Spring. He is planting part of the area to sweet potatoes, black-eye peas, pinto beans and similar produce. A well, which he says is good for 200 gallons a minute, is rigged to provide irrigation.

He inherited the Georgia stock from his wife's father, Lee Cook. Cook used the plow in Collins County when he was a young man. He, in his own turn, got it from his father. The middlebuster was imported by Mitchell from Denton County.

"I've always used this sort of equipment to farm," says the deputy sheriff. "It's about the best if you have a small tract like I have."

EXPERIENCE
Mitchell claims he can operate all of the equipment and relates that he had plenty of experience when he was a youngster.

"My dad," he says, "had a field with rows a mile long. He'd tell us boys at the start of the day 'Plow 12 rows each, sons—that's in the days assignment,' and, by golly, we'd plow 'em, too."

However, Mitchell was not piloting the gadgets at the time his operations were checked. He was acting in a supervisory capacity and Ken Mcelling and Jimmy Cunningham were actually working the equipment.

That day they were using the plow to spread commercial fertilizer—about the only concession to what is called "modern" farming methods that Mitchell will accept. Unless, of course, you include the irrigation operation.

BELES AGE
The equipment bears its age. It is neatly painted and in excellent condition. The plow looks good for another 80 years at least and the other machinery should be useable for an equal interval.

Of course, Mitchell's mules may wear out. However, they are now sleek and fat and display no tendency toward nearing the end of their age of usefulness.

The spectacle of Mitchell or his helpers plodding along back of the Georgia stock or guiding the two-row walking plow draws the eyes of all passersby.

Farming scenes are common in Howard County, to be sure. But such scenes feature tractors, gang plows and other "mechanized devices."

It's when a tiller of the soil reverts to the old ways that it's new and news.

Lucy And Desi Together Again

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz are reported back together again, but the significance of the reunion isn't known.

Miss Ball, who recently divorced Arnaz, came to this seaside community to recuperate from injuries suffered in a fall on a movie set last Friday.

Sunday Arnaz was reported to have joined her at a beach house where they spent summer vacations for some 10 years. A reporter from nearby San Diego called at the home and was told by servants that Arnaz was away at church. Miss Ball's secretary said the actress was in bed and under sedation.

Arnaz chatted with Miss Ball before she left a Hollywood hospital Saturday. Lucy said later they were "still the best of friends—but there was no talk of reconciliation."

Ike Enjoys Golf

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower hoped to get in some more golf today before ending his holiday weekend at his farm.

Lyndon Expected To Announce Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A chairman of the Lyndon Johnson For President Committee expects the Texas senator to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination in a few days. Mrs. India Edwards said Sunday on her arrival for the national convention that she believes Johnson will declare himself a candidate after he winds up a Texas vacation about midweek. And, she said, he will be nominated at the convention by the fourth ballot. The advantage supposedly held by Sen. John E. Kennedy of Massachusetts, she said, exists "only in the imagination of Kennedy's publicity men."

Meeting

Sen. Lyndon Johnson smiles as he enters a private meeting held in Washington to raise funds for the re-election campaign of Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.). The Congressional Quarterly, a privately published reference service, reported that Johnson was in first place in its June poll of newspaper editors asked to name the "strongest possible" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Soviet Missile Ships Under Way

HONOLULU (AP)—Three Soviet ships equipped to track and recover the nose cones in the forthcoming Soviet missile shoots steamed about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii today.

The Soviets claim the new tests—scheduled between July 5 and 30—will be longer and more accurate than the two in the same territory last January.

U. S. military sources said Sunday the three vessels are about 40 nautical miles apart, apparently practicing to recover the missile nose cone. The ships, from a naval base at Petropavlovsk on the Kamchatka peninsula reached the target area a week ago.

U. S. Navy and Air Force planes have been patrolling the impact area.

The Soviets claim one of their rockets in the last tests came within 1 1/4 miles of the target after a 7,762-mile flight.

Campaign Coming To End In Oklahoma In Nominations

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A generally lackluster campaign comes to an end Tuesday as Oklahoma Democrats and Republicans pick their nominees for a variety of offices.

All will vote on 4 state questions, including a proposed college building bond issue of 35 1/2 million dollars.

The primary has no bearing on either presidential nominating convention. Oklahoma Republicans are for Vice President Richard Nixon and the state Democratic delegation is for Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Sen. Robert Kerr has only token Democratic opposition in his bid for a third term. The top Republican fight, however, is between two former U. S. district attorneys seeking the GOP senatorial nomination. They are Herbert Hyde of Oklahoma City and Hayden Crawford of Tulsa.

With only one race for state office to stir the voters, prospects are for tight turnouts. Pundits say no more than 350,000 Democrats and 60,000 Republicans will vote in the primaries for less than one-half the voters registered in each party.

However, there are a few hot local races, pitched mostly to the theme of "for" or "against" Oklahoma's controversial young Gov. Howard Edmondson.

Funeral In Rankin For E. J. Brown

Rankin services are slated for Ernest J. Brown, 77, who died at a Big Spring hospital at 1:30 a.m. Monday.

He had lived at Rankin about a year, moving there from Marathon, where he had resided since 1908. He was a World War I veteran.

Mr. Brown was born Sept. 3, 1883 in Parker County.

Services are at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church at Rankin with Rev. Lynn McAden officiating. Burial will be in the Rankin Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include a brother, Bruce Brown, Rankin, and several nieces and nephews.

Banzai For U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito today cabled Independence Day congratulations to President Eisenhower.

His brother, Rep. Ed Edmondson, of Muskogee, faces his toughest fight since he went to Congress in 1952. Opposing Rep. Edmondson are Bill Doenges, once Democratic committeeman from Oklahoma, and state Rep. Shockley Shoemaker.

Western Oklahoma Democrats once again will choose between U. S. Rep. Toby Morris of Lawton and former Rep. Victor Wickersham of Mangum. Two years ago Morris shaded Wickersham by 81 votes after a recount of more than 90,000 votes cast in the 6th District primary.

U. S. Rep. Page Belcher, Oklahoma's lone Republican in Congress, is unopposed for the nomination but three Democrats are vying for the right to meet him in November. They are Wesley Disney Jr. and state Sen. Yates Land of Tulsa and Lige Stewart of Alva.

Other Democratic congressmen seeking re-nomination against nominal opposition are Carl Albert, the House whip; Tom Steed, and John Jarman.

The closest thing to fireworks in the campaign has been provided in the last week in three eastern Oklahoma counties represented by state Sen. Ray Fine of Gore, a bitter opponent of the governor.

State Crime Bureau agents last week presented signed statements from voters in Cherokee County that they had been paid to vote and told how to vote absentee ballots.

The report linked a campaign worker of Fine's to the alleged vote-buying. Fine denied all knowledge of the affair.

Edmondson said Sunday he will send Crime Bureau agents to each of the three counties to oversee balloting.

Fine is opposed by Howard Pink of Vian, a teacher reported backed by Gov. Edmondson.

Civil Liberties Emphasized In Court's Newest Rulings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court in the busiest term of its history showed a growing tendency to look out for the little man in his encounters with government.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By CURTIS BISHOP

The fourteenth was the magic round on this day in 1910 for a burly Negro prizefighter who grew up on the docks of Galveston. He was Jack Johnson, the only Texan to ever win the heavy-weight championship of the world. He knocked out Jim Jeffries in Australia, bringing the title back to the United States.

His success created the famed search for a "white hope". Johnson defeated Sam Ketchel and beat Jeffries in a rematch, then successfully defended his title three times in Paris during 1915.

The Texan's reign ended in 1915 when he fell before the flailing blows of Jess Willard in a 36-round bout in Havana, Cuba.

Johnson fought his last major fight at the age of 48, beating Pat Lester in a 15 round event at Nogales, Texas.

Jack's fistic career began at the age of 21. He scored a knockout in a small Galveston arena and for two years whipped all comers to the Texas coastal city. He ventured into the East and amazed sports experts by beating the fabulous Sam Langford in 15 rounds in 1906. He knocked out Bob Fitzsimmons in just two rounds.

Johnson died June 10, 1946 at Raleigh, N.C.

month term ended last Monday the court's nine justices showed concern for the constitutional guarantees of criminals, people facing deportation, persons subjected to searches and seizures. Negroes denied the vote, and town characters who got harsh treatment from local police.

Such civil liberties cases resulted in some of the widest splits in court voting and occasionally in some unusually sharp language in dissenting opinions.

For instance, Justice William O. Douglas with concurrence of Justice Hugo L. Black denounced his fellow jurists as believing that "personal preference, not reason, seems to be controlling" in some decisions in cases involving due process of law.

Douglas and Black-rated leaders in the court's four-judge liberal bloc—added that "emotion rather than reason dictates the answer" in some due process cases.

Their denunciation came when the court decided the Civil Rights Commission need not disclose to voting registrars the names of Negroes who complain about denial of voting rights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren wrote the majority opinion in the commission case and Justice William J. Brennan was among those who agreed with him. Warren and Brennan are the other members of the liberal bloc.

While the justices got into verbal battles over some of the civil rights appeals, they also can reach unanimity occasionally.

As an example, when the highest tribunal stepped into a Louisville, Ky., police court case it ruled unanimously that Negro handyman Sam Thompson had a perfect right to do a "shuffle dance" to jukebox music in a cafe where he was a customer. The nine justices voted to wipe out $20 in fines imposed on Thompson.

The court also granted hearings on more "miscellaneous docket" appeals than at any time in its history. These usually are appeals by "little people" who get into miscellaneous but often serious trouble with the law and feel they do not get a fair deal.

Hearings were granted on 56 such appeals, compared with 28 in the previous term. The total of miscellaneous appeals received reached 1,119, compared with 1,006 in the previous term.

Civil rights issues also reach the court via its regular docket. The total number of cases taken to the tribunal last term, including the miscellaneous appeals, reached a record 2,177. This compares with 2,062 for the 1958-59 term. Looking back to the 1950-51 term, the total was only 1,235.

In addition to clearing the way for Civil Rights Commission hearings on Negro voting rights in the South, the court in its 1959-60 term approved an order to restore names of 1,377 Negroes to the voting rolls of Washington Parish, La.; threw out a ruling by a federal judge in Georgia that the 1957 civil rights law conferred unconstitutional powers on the attorney general; directed that the 1960 Civil Rights Act, permitting federal government suits against states, should be applied to enforce Negro voting rights in Alabama.

In other civil rights cases, the court:

Refused to interfere with a New Jersey law that bans racial discrimination in housing, as applied to FHA-insured homes.

Struck down a Los Angeles ordinance that made it a crime for a bookseller to have an obscene book in his shop, whether or not he knew its contents.

Ruled suspicion is not enough to justify an FBI agent to arrest a citizen.

WHY ARE YOU ILL?

Wm. T. Chrane, B.S.D.C.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS and irritable, you probably have many different symptoms of illness. Nerve irritations disrupt the harmony of all the functions of the body — and the body is sick. TO CORRECT this illness, you must look to the CAUSE of your nervousness. You should be examined to determine the existence of nerve irritations in the spine. Your doctor of Chiropractic is a specialist in this work. He will analyze your spine and enlighten you as to your need. Correction of the cause will result in renewed health.

Congress Messes Up Platform Work

By OVID A. MARTIN
 Associated Press Farm Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic - controlled Congress has handed a tough job to the drafters of a farm plank for the Democratic National Convention convening in Los Angeles July 11. The Congress has balked at following the traditional party path of providing farmers high price supports—the path a Democratic farm advisory committee wants the convention to choose.

The congressional stand came on bills proposing new programs to meet a mounting and costly surplus of wheat. The Senate voted to retain the present price support level of 75 per cent of parity and the House rejected a proposal of its Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee to raise supports to 80 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

The parity concept was established by a Democratic administration back in the early 1930s. It was this parity that led the way in establishing supports at 90 per cent of parity. It has been this parity that has consistently endorsed supports at this level.

It has been the present Republican administration that has pointed the way to lower supports. Democratic platform drafters, who start work July 5, face the fact that their party is badly split on the farm issue. This is true, but to a much lesser extent, of the Republicans, who meet in convention at Chicago July 25.

The Democratic Farm Advisory Committee issued several weeks ago a statement advocating a farm plank pledging re-establishment of 90 per cent parity supports and establishment of more effective means of controlling excess farm production.

But the present Congress refused to follow this course, with many urban Democrats joining a big bloc of Republicans to defeat support-boosting measures.

As a consequence, the party's policy writers face this somewhat embarrassing question: "Will we be able to promise farmers higher supports in the face of the refusal of a party-controlled Congress to vote them? Would farmers take such promise at face value?"

These questions take on added significance when it is recalled that many farm-belt Democratic members of the present Congress were elected two years ago on the pledge they would extend additional government aid to producers.

Some Democrats favoring higher supports argue that a new Democratic - controlled Congress elected this year would follow the leadership of a Democratic president to carry out a party-pledge for greater aid to agriculture.

Canadian Open
 Has 177 Entries

TORONTO (AP) — A field of 177, many of them Americans celebrating their Independence Day, was to tee off today in the qualifying round of the $27,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship.

The low 40 scorers and ties from the 18-hole scramble over the 35-37 par 72 St. George's Club course join 110 automatic qualifiers for the tournament proper starting Wednesday and continuing through Saturday.

Today's qualifying play, first in the 50-year history of the Open, was made necessary when the Royal Canadian Golf Assn. received a record entry list that topped 250.

Among the U.S. contingent were pros Ernie Boros, Hillman Robbins, Huston Laclair, Jerry Pittman, Bob Goetz, Wally Ulrich, and amateur Bob Shave.

Thunderstorms Hit West Texas

By The Associated Press
 Thunderstorms hit the Texas Panhandle and Upper South Plains early Monday but the rest of the state continued to enjoy perfect summer weather.

The scattered thunderstorms hit portions of Northwest Texas Sunday night and continued early Monday. The storms extended through northern Oklahoma where more than two inches of rain fell in some areas.

Temperatures early Monday ranged from 63 at Dalhart to 81 at El Paso and Galveston.

El Paso Sunday had the highest temperature ever recorded in that city in July, a hot 109 degrees. But Presidio, with 113 degrees, was even hotter than El Paso. San Angelo and Wink had 103, Del Rio, Van Horn, Wichita Falls and Laredo had 102 and it was 100 at Abilene, Alpine, Childress and Big Spring.

The low maximum Sunday was 88 at Corpus Christi.

The Amarillo area had a thundershower Sunday night and Beaumont recorded .65 of an inch of rain.

The five-day forecast issued Monday calls for temperatures near normal throughout Texas with light to moderate precipitation.

Bevan Abed
 LONDON (AP) — Aneurin Bevan, 62, was reported today to have had a comfortable night, but doctors said his condition is still critical. The deputy leader of Britain's Labor party suffered a relapse from a stomach-operation he underwent last December.

Melee Centers On U.S. Nazis
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighteen persons face disorderly conduct charges today as the result of fighting between supporters and opponents of George Lincoln Rockwell, self-styled leader of the American Nazi party.

Rockwell himself was one of those arrested by park police at the rally. Several persons suffered bruises and minor injuries in the melee, police said.

Harold F. Stewart, chief of the National Capital Park Police, said the fighting broke out between a group of Rockwell's followers and members of the audience. Those arrested posted $10 collateral each pending hearings in municipal court Tuesday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Vernon Harton, the former Big Spring High School basketball mentor, was in East Texas peddling some of Elmer Tarbox's hand-caps when he learned that Jacksonville Baptist held an opening for a cage mentor.

Harton, whose teams won 39 games here over a period of two seasons, arranged an interview with the college board and was hired in short order.

The school has only been back in competitive athletics one season and then won only eight games, while losing 46. Harton knows he has his work cut out for him. JBC is a dues-paying member of the rugged Longhorn Conference, which has as other members Kilgore, Tarkenton, Tyler, Paris, Henderson County and Lon Morris.

Lon Morris is a Methodist institution located in Jacksonville and has about 300 students. JBC boasts an estimated 200 pupils.

Harton is already interviewing prospective players, although he doesn't officially take over until August 1. He has arranged to talk with a 6-foot-6 one-eyed youth in South Texas, who has passed up an opportunity to play basketball under Milton Jowers at Southwest Texas at San Marcos, and has just about talked Big Spring's Homer Mills into attending his school.

Mills was just coming out on his own senior year in high school and could make a whale of a college player. Another local boy who has been offered financial help by JBC is Bobby Evans, the brother of HCU's Jimmy Evans. Bobby captained the local high school team last season.

Leonard B. Roper, who had the JBC coaching job last season, quit to return to his old position as superintendent of schools at Bullard, a Class B school. It was he who told Harton about the vacancy.

Harton had excellent credentials for the Jacksonville job. In ten seasons of coaching, he's guided his teams to 222 wins, compared to only 97 defeats. That averages out to 22 triumphs a year, compared to less than ten reversals.

His Frankston High team won the district title in 1954. The following season, his quietest there tied for first place in the district, but lost to Bayuga in a special playoff.

He had his best year in 1953-54, at which time his Indians won 35 of 38 starts.

In his two years at Jacksonville High prior to coming to Big Spring, Harton guided his teams to 29 victories, compared to 33 defeats. The Indians won 29 games under him there the second season.

The Dallas Texans were losing 11 times and finished third in District 2-AAAA, conceded to be one of the roughest in the season.

Last season, the Steers improved on that mark, winning 20 times while losing only nine. The Steers wound up tied for second in the district, back of Midland—a team that won 29 of 30 starts.

Harton is a salty-talking ex-Marine. He put in 2½ years in uniform, much of it in the South Pacific battle area during World War II.

He's married to the former Peggy Hall of Navarro County. Of that union have been born three children, Janelle, age 13; Ray Vernon, Jr., 7; and Cathy, 2½.

Four Tied For Finals At Flint

By DAVE DILES

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—The $2,000 Flint Open golf tournament had a perfect holiday setting today and Fourth of July fireworks were certain to fly in the mad scramble for the $9,000 top payoff.

Four players—Gene Littler, Don January, Gay Brewer Jr., and Mason Rudolph—were tied at 212 as the trimmed-down field of 60 pros and nine amateurs entered the stretch run.

They were only four-under-par for the 54 holes as the golfers found Warwick Hills' 7,280 yards difficult to master. Only 15 players out of a starting field of 190 were under par after three rounds, and 69 was the best score Sunday as winds up to 25 miles an hour buffeted the tree-lined course.

Warwick, with its par of 36-38-72, is one of the longest touring pros play all year.

Littler bogied four of the last seven holes Sunday to relinquish his chances for the undisputed lead. While Littler was faltering with a 73, Brewer, January and Rudolph were coming in strong.

January, who has won more than $15,000 in 15 tournaments starts this year, bogied the fifth hole and double-bogied the seventh, but recovered with some deft putting and finished with 72.

Brewer spent the second and third rounds making up for his 75 on opening day. He snaked-in four long birdie putts in his 69 that gave him a piece of first place.

"Two miles of putts" to earn his 71. The young Tennesseean fringed his way out of five sand traps, and three times had to sink putts of a dozen feet to salvage par.

Mike Souckay, who shared the halfway lead with Littler, had a third round 73 for a 213 total that left him one stroke off the pace.

Bucs' Lead Is Cut Down By Dodgers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Pirates beware! It ain't necessarily so that the 4th of July leader wins the National League pennant. Just ask Billy Ripken.

He had his San Francisco Giants on top last year at this time and you know what he is doing now.

Dave Grote, the National League's publicist-historian, dug through the files to discover that 60 per cent of the Independence Day leaders make it all the way into the World Series.

However, there are exceptions. Like last year, for instance, San Francisco was first, Milwaukee was second and Los Angeles, the eventual winner, was third.

The Pirates lost a game of their lead Sunday when they bowed to Los Angeles' Don Drysdale 6-2 while Milwaukee was edging St. Louis 4-3 in 14 innings.

The Braves now trail by 3½ games. San Francisco closed in within 1½ games of the top by thumping Philadelphia 11-5, Chicago got out of the cellar by topping Cincinnati 7-5.

In the American League, New York moved three games out in front by sweeping Detroit 7-6 and 6-2 and stretching their winning streak to six games. Cleveland went into second place, ahead of Baltimore, by beating Washington 5-2 and 11-5 while the Orioles bowed to the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 11 innings.

Drysdale had lost six straight before he finally knocked off the Pirate with a seven-hit ball. He struck out eight and walked only one while his mates blasted Vinegar Bend Mizell in a four-run third inning.

Del Crandall's infield hit with the bases loaded and two out in the 14th did the job for the Braves as St. Louis edged Chicago 3-2.

Willie Mays had a spectacular day for the Giants with his 17th homer, triple, two singles, a walk, four runs batted in and his 19th stolen base. He now has hit safely in the last 17 games. His batting average is .369.

Ron Santo, Chicago's rookie third baseman, never will forget Sunday, July 3. He hit his first big league homer with two on in the first inning of the game with Cincinnati. Harry Anderson and Wally Post homered for the losers.

Ramsey Is Medalist In Local Link Meet

W. E. Ramsey fired a 75 Sunday afternoon, beating J. L. Underwood, 2 and 1, and in doing so topped medalist honors at the Country Club Golf Tournament.

Ramsey shot a 72 Friday to tie Bill Cheek for the top spot, and then in a playoff Saturday, the pair shot 73's to force a Sunday re-match. Cheek carded a 78 Sunday as he fell to Jack Wallace, 2 and 1.

R. H. Weaver won a first round match over Weldon Bryant, 1-up after 20 holes and J. L. Underwood won his opening round bout over Earl McCormick, 1-up.

R. H. Weaver then topped Earl Reynolds, 3 and 2 and J. R. Farmer dropped Bernard Rains, 3 and 2.

Wallace and Weaver were to square off today in a semi-finals match as were Ramsey and Farmer.

In consolation play R. S. McCullah bested Gil Jones, 3 and 2 and Weldon Bryant dropped M. R. Koger, 3 and 2. Dick Pfeiffer trimmed Nell McComb, 1-up and Bert McNallen downed Son Powell, 6 and 5.

In today's matches, McCullah was to face Bryant and Pfeiffer was to battle McNallen.

In first flight play Daryle Hohertz beat Kent Morgan, 1-up and Charles Sweeney faced Sam Thurman, 2-up. Louis Stallings dropped Tom South, 1-up and L. D. Henson toppled Bob Pickett, 2 and 1.

Hohertz and Sweeney were to meet in semi-finals matches today as were Stallings and Henson.

Jack Riden downed Hudson Landers, 1-up through 19 holes in the consolation bracket and J. W. Atkins turned back Red Womack, 4 and 3. Alton Underwood took Sam Burns, 2 and 1 and Bill Edwards tripped H. W. Wright, 4 and 2. Roden and Atkins were to play today and Underwood and Edwards were also matched.

Carl Benson beat Cliff Fisher, 4 and 3 in the second flight and Clayton Head bested Jack Wilson, 3 and 2. George Grimes defeated J. T. Morgan, 4 and 3 and Gus Barr topped H. F. Schwarzenbach, 2 and 1.

Benson and Head were to meet today as were Grimes and Barr.

In consolation play in the second flight, Bill McClendon advanced due to a bye and Jack Irons trimmed Sam McComb, 1-up. Bob Johnson beat H. M. McLaughlin, 4 and 3 and Richard Clark waxed J. R. Smith, 3 and 2.

Irons was scheduled to meet McClendon today and Johnson was to face Clark.

John Jones belted R. L. Heath, 9 and 7 in the third flight and Jim Lewis trimmed Hayes Stripling, 2 and 1. Harold Jones beat Carol Belton 1-up and Worth Peiler won from C. D. Turner and John Taylor, 1-up.

John Jones was to play Lewis today and Harold Jones was to meet Peeler.

Lloyd Wasson trimmed Arch Ratliff in consolation play. David McCullah bested Kelly Lawrence Jr., 1-up, and Bill Neal trimmed Travis Reed and Zolzie Boykin, 2 and 1.

R. H. Reynolds won the putting tournament Sunday with an 18-hole score of 68. Jack Wallace and Bud Pickett tied for second with 69's. They were to hold a playoff today.

Yanks Hold Lead In Pennant March

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
It is time to dust off the old refrain, "Break up the Yankees!"

With Casey Stengel's crew on a six-game winning streak and New York's American League lead now measuring three games, there is a suspicion that you have seen all this before.

Perhaps Baltimore can steady itself. Perhaps Cleveland is ready to make its move. Maybe Chicago is ready to play 1959 brand ball.

But there is no "perhaps" about the Yanks on this July 4th.

Cletis Boyer won Sunday's first game with Detroit 7-6 with a three-run homer. Mickey Mantle won the second game 6-2 with another three-run homer while Art Ditmar took charge of the Tiger bat.

Cleveland banded into second place on the strength of two victories over Washington, 5-2 and 11-5, as Baltimore was losing to Chicago 2-1 in 11 innings. Rounding out the Sunday schedule was Ted Williams' 506th home run in Boston's 13-2 rout of Kansas City.

Pittsburgh's National League lead was cut to 3½ games when Los Angeles beat the Pirates 6-2 and second-place Milwaukee edged St. Louis 4-3 in 14 innings.

San Francisco whipped Philadelphia 11-5. Chicago climbed out of the cellar on a 7-5 decision over Cincinnati.

The Yanks have won 23 of their last 25 since Maris and Mantle began to bombard the fences. They came from behind in the first game and then fought off a ninth-inning rally by the Tigers.

Art Ditmar had things well in control in the second game after Mantle's three-run homer in the fifth. It was Mantle's 19th of the year.

Woody Held and Harvey Kuenn hit homers during a four-run first inning by Cleveland that beat Washington in the opener. Vic Power drove in four runs in the second game with two singles with the bases full. Johnny Briggs, finally getting a start after 8 relief jobs, won the second. Jim Perry took the first.

Roy Sievers was the big man for the White Sox at Baltimore. Jack Fisher had a no-hitter for 5-2-3 innings and a shutout until the seventh. Then Sievers' hit his homer into the left field bleachers. In the 11th Sievers scored from first when outfielder Jim Busby made an error on Sherm Lollar's single.

Williams, near 42, moved closer to Mel Ott's total of 511 homers, third behind Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig on the all-time list. Ted drove Dick Hall's first pitch into the right field pavilion in the fifth. Vic Wertz hit a three-run homer and Willie Tasby a grand slammer for the Sox.

The two teams were to have played at the Teen-Age Park in the north section of the city.

Big Spring's district record is now 6-1, assuming that the local team's protest of a win scored by the Lubbock Red Chicks stands up. Big Spring asked that the decision be forfeited due to the fact that Lubbock used two adult coaches on bases, something contrary to the rules.

The district committee gave Big Spring the green light on the forfeit but suggested that the game be replayed. The local management nixed the idea, saying that a game either should or shouldn't be forfeited. The matter has been referred on to divisional headquarters at El Paso.

Lubbock defeated Big Spring by a score of 11-5.

The local contingent goes to Brownfield for a league contest Tuesday afternoon and closes out against Lubbock on July 8.

Legion Team Takes Forfeit

The Big Spring American Legion Junior baseball team picked up a District 19 victory the easy way Sunday afternoon, accepting a forfeit when Andrews failed to put in an appearance.

The two teams were to have played at the Teen-Age Park in the north section of the city.

Big Spring's district record is now 6-1, assuming that the local team's protest of a win scored by the Lubbock Red Chicks stands up.

Big Spring asked that the decision be forfeited due to the fact that Lubbock used two adult coaches on bases, something contrary to the rules.

The district committee gave Big Spring the green light on the forfeit but suggested that the game be replayed. The local management nixed the idea, saying that a game either should or shouldn't be forfeited. The matter has been referred on to divisional headquarters at El Paso.

Lubbock defeated Big Spring by a score of 11-5.

The local contingent goes to Brownfield for a league contest Tuesday afternoon and closes out against Lubbock on July 8.

U. S. Olympians Have Big Task

By JACK STEVENSON
STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—The fastest and strongest United States Olympic track and field team in history now faces a near impossible task of winning as many gold medals as did Uncle Sam's men in 1952 and 1956.

Those years the total was 15 as this country dominated the sport. Two days of do-or-die trials in Stanford's Stadium moulded the team as the top three competitors in each of 17 events qualified for the squad. As more than 100,000 watched the two-days action, 13 trials records fell and one was equalled. Only in the 100-meter dash, 400 and 800 did the record hold up.

Three world records fell as Boston University's John Thomas high jumped 7 feet 3¼, Don Bragg the ex-Villanova star cleared the pole vault bar at 15 feet 9¾ inches and both Ray Norton of the Santa Clara Valley Village and Stone Johnson of Grambling were timed at 20.5 seconds for 200 meters around a curve.

Johnson first broke that record in the semifinals and then ran second in the finals as Norton equalled his best time to become the meet's only double winner. The 6-foot-2 speedster also captured the 100 in 10.4 seconds.

Other trials winners with record performances for the meet were Al Hall, hammer throw, 214 feet 7 inches; Dallas Long, shot put, 63 feet 3¼ inches; Ralph Boston, Tennessee A&I, broad jump, 26 feet 6¼ inches; 5,000-meter run, Jim Beatty, Santa Clara Valley 14 minutes 13.6 seconds; javelin, Al Cantello, 277 feet 7 inches; 500-yard dash, Ira Davis, Philadelphia 53 feet 1¼ inches; discus, Rink Babka, 192 feet 3¼ inches; 3,000-meter steeplechase, George Young, U.S. Army, 8:50.6; and 1,500 meters, Dyrrol Barleson, Oregon, 3:46.9.

BEAT OJINAGA

Big Spring Tigers Win 15th Straight

A five-hit pitching job turned in by Bobby Beall and Danny Valdes enabled the Big Spring Tigers to defeat Ojinaga, Mexico, 5-0, here Sunday afternoon.

The victory was the 15th straight for the Bengals, who have yet to lose. The two teams play a double header at Steer Park this afternoon. The first of two seven-inning contests gets under way at 1 p.m.

Beall pitched the first five innings of yesterday's engagement and gave up only three hits. Guialupe Hernandez was the losing toser. Sonny Dutcher, Billy Weatherall, Tito Arenchibia and Guy Lara each drove out two hits for the Bengals. In all, the Big Springers collected ten hits.

Weatherall and Arenchibia of Big Spring and Capote of the visitors hit doubles.

Beall fanned six and walked three during his stint on the mound while Valdes struck out two and did not issue a free pass in his four inning on the hill.

The Tigers return to New Mexico League competition next Sunday, at which time they oppose Andrews in Andrews. In league play, they have won 12 games. The Bengals have defeated the Lamesa Lobos and Merkel, in addition to Ojinaga, in non-league activity.

Abilene Cards Pro Grid Tilt

ABILENE—More than 15,000 reserved seats tickets will go on sale Thursday, July 7, for the first annual West Texas Shrine Bowl professional football game here matching the Dallas Texans against the New York Titans.

Abilene's first pro football contest will be held Aug. 20 at 8 p.m. in the 15,042-capacity Public Schools Stadium. The game is being sponsored by the Abilene Shrine Club and it will provide West Texas sports fans with their first look at the two new American League teams.

Reserved tickets are $5.00 each and will be sold in Abilene at the Eagle Gym ticket headquarters as well as 27 area cities. These include San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Lubbock, Colorado City, Anson, Stamford, Haskell, Hamlin, Munday, Rule, Roscoe, Merkel, Baird, Roscoe, Rotan, Winters, Brownwood, Coleman, Snyder, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Breckenridge, Eastland, Cisco, Ballinger and Rowena.

Equally good location tickets will be selected and distributed to each area ticket office. Mail orders may also be placed by sending checks or money orders to post office box 2334 in Abilene, adding 25 cents to each order for handling charges.

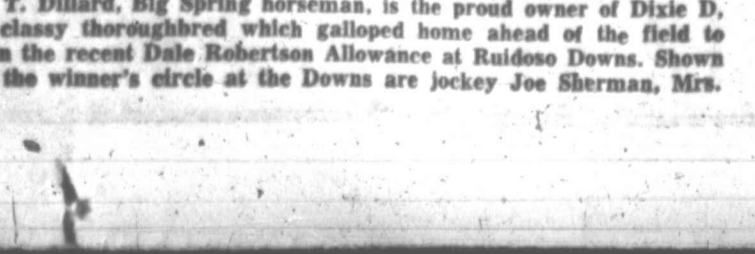

The exhibition game will match many of the area's outstanding former collegiate players, offering a homecoming for at least 15 coaches and players, including Sammy Baugh, head coach of the New York Titans.

Baugh, a former TCU and Washington Redskins passing great, was head football coach at Hardin-Simmons University here for five years. A resident of Rotan where he operates a large ranch, Baugh will bring with him eight former H-SU Cowboys and five ex-McMurry Indian athletes.

Outstanding Titan players include quarterbacks Ken Ford of H-SU, Terry O'Brien of McMurry and Frank Kremblyes of Ohio State; halfbacks Blanch Martin of Michigan State and Corky Tharp of Alabama; and ends Russ Solan of Missouri and Larry Grantham.

The Texans are coached by Hank Stram, former SMU aide, and are owned by AFL founder Lamar Hunt. Their outstanding players include All-America standouts Jack Spikes of Snyder and TCU; end Chris Burford of Stamford; guard Maxcin Terech of Ole Miss; tackle Aber Haynes of North Texas; former Baltimore Colt quarterback Dick Jamieson and Jim Swink, former TCU halfback.

J. T. Dillard, Big Spring horseman, is the proud owner of Dixie D, a classy thoroughbred which galloped home ahead of the field to win the recent Dale Robertson Allowance at Ruidoso Downs. All Set To Celebrate Pretty Miriam Blake, 19, of Dallas, strikes a fetching pose with this giant firecracker as she prepares to celebrate the Fourth of July. Miriam is a Texas Tech coed and part-time model. She will join the rest of the nation in welcoming the 50th state to the union.

Mystery Death Strikes Family

KOWALIGA, Ala. (AP)—Sudden death struck during a family holiday outing several miles east of this resort center on Lake Martin.

Barbara King, 9, of Birmingham, playing outside her family's lakefront lodge Sunday night, suddenly fell dead at her father's feet, most of her head blasted away.

Witnessing the baffling death besides her father, John L. King, 41, were her brother, Tommy, 10, and a cousin, Richard King, 9. Authorities said none could offer a clue.

The three children were celebrating the Fourth of July with fireworks, but Sheriff Lester Holley said the small firecrackers couldn't possibly have caused the severe head injury.

One officer theorized that the girl may have been struck by a bullet from a high-powered rifle.

Holley said he was not at all sure Barbara was shot, adding that the preliminary investigation turned up nothing to fix as the possible cause.

Unusual Mishap Kills 7 People

SPRING GREEN, Wis. (AP)—A runaway horse trailer, carrying two animals, crashed into an auto occupied by a family of eight Saturday, killing the father and his six children. The mother survived.

Three other persons were killed in a car-train crash Sunday as Wisconsin counted 15 on its highways so far in the Fourth of July holiday period.

Victims of the Saturday crash were Richard A. Meister, 29, of Beloit, Wis., and his children, Kathleen, 9; Karen, 8; Robert, 7; Brian, 4; Colleen, 3; and Danny, 1.

Mrs. Meister, 29, was in a state of shock and listed in fair condition.

The car drawing the trailer was driven by Stanley Mannino of South Beloit, Ill., who had just purchased the two horses. One of the animals had to be shot.

The Meister family was on the way to visit the husband's father who had just been released from a hospital.

Jazz Festival Is Disrupted By Riot

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—The colorful Newport Jazz Festival, disrupted when thousands of clamoring youths touched off riots Saturday night, plans to cue the city of Newport for four million dollars.

The City Council declared a state of emergency Sunday and revoked the festival's entertainment license. The action canceled performances for Sunday night and today.

An estimated 12,000 youths swarmed into the city Saturday night. When they couldn't get into the packed festival grounds, many turned on police, using bottles and beer cans for weapons.

Police officers, aided by firemen, state troopers and 50 Marines from the Newport Naval Base, finally restored order early Sunday.

Streets of this once proud stronghold of society, where President Eisenhower is scheduled to start his vacation Thursday, were left in a litter of smashed glass, trampled cans, tear gas canisters and other debris.

Festival producer Louis L. Lorillard put the blame for the outbreaks directly on the city. He said city officials had frequent warnings there might be trouble but had neglected to act. He said the festival suffered financial loss and damages from the cancellations. The festival itself, he added, was entirely blameless.

Festival producer George Wein said the 15,000 jazz buffs attending the performance had remained orderly.

More than 100 persons were treated for bruises and cuts in the wake of the clashes. More than a dozen youths were ar-

Another Police Car In Wreck

A police patrol car was involved in a traffic accident over the weekend.

Police records showed that Patrolman Elbert C. Ryan, 1604 Owens, was in a crash with a car driven by Julian C. Trevino, 903 NW 3rd, in the 700 block on East 7th. Police officials said that damage to the two vehicles was not serious and no one was injured.

Two other minor traffic accidents were listed on the weekend report. James Leavis, 801 Ohio, was driver of one car involved in a collision at 3rd and Trades. Shirley Jean Ranson, 709 Ohio, was operator of the other vehicle.

Grace Williams Smith, 1011 E. 3rd and Glenda Prescott, Forsan, were principals in a crash at 22nd and Scurry.

Burglars Hit Five Businesses

A rash of filling station break-ins over the weekend netted prowlers more than $400, city police reports revealed Monday.

The burglaries were similar in character and were well scattered over town.

One filling station—Kent No. 1, 1623 E. 3rd—was also raided but the burglars failed to gain entrance.

Another Kent Station, at 509 NW 9th, was less fortunate. A west door was forced which let the prowlers into the wash room. They made their way into the station proper and took $137 in cash. Included in the loot were four $20 bills.

Reed Service Station, No. 5 at 2415 Gregg, lost $174.53 in cash. The burglars broke into a store-room and then punched a hole in a partition wall to get into the station.

Smith Coleman Service Station, Northeast 2nd at Benton, was raided after the front door was forced. The cold drink machine was opened and robbed as was the cigarette machine. The cash register was also emptied. Total known loot was 50 pennies, $12 in dimes, half a dozen cartons of cigarettes and some cigars.

Joe Boy Cafe, on North Benton, was hit by burglars who shattered glass in the front door to get at the lock. The juke box and cigarette machines were jimmied. The amount of money taken from these machines is not known. Nearly all of the cigarettes in the machine were stolen and three cases of beer hauled away. The thieves also picked up $6 or $7 in cash and 40 pennies.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, MONDAY, JULY 4, 1960 SEC. B

Not Very Promising

Thirty-day forecast announced by the U.S. Weather Bureau holds no promise of relief for sun-parched West Texas. The map released by the bureau leaves West Texas well in the area marked "below normal precipitation." And it includes Big Spring in a small segment classified as "much above" normal temperature.

Yarborough Lauds Diablo Dam Value

DALLAS (AP)—Amistad (Diablo) Dam is needed "to protect the lives and property of hundreds of thousands of people living on both sides of the Rio Grande," Sen. Ralph Yarborough said Sunday in a radio talk on Texas stations.

Yarborough said final passage of a bill last week for building the dam was vitally important to Texas and Mexico. The dam will be west of Del Rio and will be one of the largest water projects in the state.

The dam will protect persons and property "downstream through Del Rio, through Eagle Pass, Laredo and all the cities downstream on the Rio Grande through Brownsville and Matamoros," the senator said.

The dam will be financed with funds from the United States and Mexico. It will be a companion project to Falcon Dam, further downstream and near the Lower Valley.

Yarborough said "Costs of the new project will be proportionately split between the United States and Mexico with America's share being 56 1/2 million dollars."

"President Eisenhower stated his support of the project in his budget message at the opening of the session in January, so it is expected that he will promptly sign the bill," Yarborough said.

"The annual savings of 3.5 million acre feet of water and the eventual generation of hydro-electric power will be of tremendous value in the growth and development of both Texas and Mexico on both sides of the Rio Grande. In addition to the annual savings of 3.5 million acre feet of water, there will be an additional capacity of 2.5 million acre feet of water for flood control in event of floods," Yarborough said.

Yarborough said a great savings will be accrued from flood control. "This dam and the resulting lake will also add to the recreation value of the Trans-Pecos and in an area that includes Big Bend Park and Fort Davis and the Davis Mountains and the Carlsbad Cavern area," he said.

Hope For Finding U.S. Fliers Dims

BODO, Norway (AP) — Hope faded today for six crewmen of the U. S. Air Force reconnaissance plane missing over the Arctic Sea as the search entered its third day.

The airmen would have spent more than 60 hours in the sea if the plane went down near the last known position—about 300 miles north of the Kola Peninsula in the Soviet Union.

Norwegian experts said that a man could live only 20 to 30 minutes in the sea in these waters, and even if the crewmen managed to get into one of the dinghies the plane carried the period now passed would be too long for survival.

Minister Dies Of Gun Wounds

BELLEVILLE, Mich. (AP)—A Baptist minister, going to conduct evening services, stepped from his car at his church here Sunday night and was shot to death as parishioners gasped. A salvo of shots from a .22 rifle cut down the Rev. Elwood McQuaid, 53, of Belleville, a community about 25 miles west of Detroit. The minister's son-in-law, Gerald Griswold, 23, a supermarket stock clerk, was held in Detroit's Wayne County jail for investigation of murder, police said.

Lt. Ronald LaRue of the Wayne County sheriff's department said the shooting stemmed from family trouble over the last six or eight months.

"He was interfering with my married life," deputies quoted Griswold as saying.

Griswold is married to the minister's stepdaughter, Judy, 20. She left her husband three weeks ago and said she had started divorce proceedings.

Excited Girl Runs Into Prop

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP) — A 14-year-old girl, excited over her first airplane ride, leaped from the plane, ran into the spinning propeller and was killed.

Sheriff C. T. Sullivan said the pilot, Soony Palmer, had taken Rachel Vest for a ride Sunday in his light crop-dusting plane. Palmer had cut the motor on landing, but the propeller was still spinning.

Executive Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Francis C. Reith, 45, president of the Crosley division of Avco Corp., died Sunday of a bullet wound at his home.

A Devotional For Today

O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together. (Psalms 34.3.)
PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, help us to make our homes places of worship and devotion. There may be the true spirit of love and brotherhood be taught, and Christ's way learned. In the name of Jesus we pray.
 Amen.

The UN's Fifteen Years For Peace

Hearing Harry Truman's voice again sounding a rallying call for the United Nations in the city of its birth, some listeners may have felt that the clock of history had been turned back at least momentarily. The occasion was the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the U.N. an event at which the then President Truman took part in 1945 at San Francisco.

Since then the U.N. has proved its indispensability. As an infant it had to play an adult-size role in removing foreign troops from Iran, Syria, and Lebanon. In 1947 it began a watch on Greek frontiers which was to last during seven years of Communist pressure against that nation. It brought a cease-fire to Palestine, and again in 1956 won a cease-fire in the British-French-Israeli-Egyptian crisis.

It was, moreover, through subrosa contacts between East and West in U.N. corridors that the first steps toward ending the wa-threatening Berlin blockade in 1948-49 were taken, an accomplishment of renewed significance since the re-opening of the Berlin and German questions by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Of similarly continuing interest were two matters raised by Mr. Truman in his recent address at San Francisco. One was the hope for a U.N. police force which must remain obscure while the big-power veto can prevent enforcement action for peace by the Security Council. The other is the possibility of making the U.N. a sort of "permanent summit meeting" already suggested by Ambassador Romulo of the Philippines, but also put into question by Premier Khrushchev's refusal to attend a summit at the U.N. after one had been prepared for in 1958.

Such proposals, though hard to implement, are reminders that the U.N. after 15 years is still capable not only of achievements that unaided diplomacy might have missed but of growth and development as an international agency for peace.

Mr. Truman And Mrs. Roosevelt

Harry Truman attracted more attention by saying he had decided not to attend the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles this month than most people would by saying they would attend with a 100-piece brass band.

That doesn't sound a bit like Harry Truman, the political animal from Missouri let it be known that he thinks the convention is being "pre-arranged," and took a hefty swipe at both Democratic Chairman Butler and the Jack Kennedy cohorts.

First reaction, in general, is that Truman has headed up a "stop-Kennedy" movement, who ever might be the winner thereby. Does this mean he is helping Lyndon Johnson?

Mrs. Roosevelt is responsible for the yarn, which Truman has vigorously denied, that Mr. T. would really like to see Lyndon Johnson get the nomination. But since he has already come out for his Missouri friend Symington, it wouldn't be nice to renege on the promise, so he's staying home rather than face the music. That, too, does not sound like Harry Truman.

What motive Mrs. Roosevelt had, in spreading the gossip that Truman was really for Johnson, except to throw discord and dissension into the rival ranks, has never been fully explained, by her or anybody else. Mrs. Roosevelt herself is for Adlai Stevenson, and makes no bones of the fact.

Now if Mrs. Roosevelt would show an equal concern for the Democratic Party as Harry Truman did by deciding to leave the convention alone, and announce that she has no intention of continuing her rather obvious efforts to run the party, maybe peace and harmony might prevail at Los Angeles.

The contrast between Mrs. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman is rather sharp. Harry is a dedicated politician and he plays the game as professional politicians play it. Mrs. Roosevelt is not so scrupulous in playing the game according to the rules. She is likely to go off the reservation and on the warpath at any minute—indeed, she is more likely to do so than not.

A lot of Democratic leaders would be overjoyed if Mrs. Roosevelt would stay home more and run around the country less.

David Lawrence Reds Don't Want An Agreement

WASHINGTON — So it wasn't the U-2 incident, after all, that really broke up the "summit" conference at Paris. The action of the Soviets now in torpedoing also the Geneva conference on disarmament reveals the Kremlin's game of provoking crisis after crisis. The Soviets knew they couldn't get the Berlin problem solved their way at the Paris conference, so they wriggled out. They have never really wanted to reach an agreement on disarmament except on their own terms—unconditional surrender by the West.

When this prospect failed, Moscow devised a scheme to confuse the issue before the people of the world.

AS LONG as the Soviets thought the West was soft and flabby and that the peoples of the alliance could easily be frightened by nuclear-test propaganda and threats of attack by missiles and rockets, the tactics used by the Communists were to encourage "negotiation" at "summit" conferences or at any other meeting.

But now, as the West turns a deaf ear to the appeasers in its own ranks who have called for "disengagement"—and as even the British Labor party turns away from its left-wing, pro-Britain's defense policies squarely before the United States—the chances of a Moscow victory through deceptive promises and "negotiations" have vanished.

emerged as yet from the era of Mongolian savagery in which their ancestors lived. It is astonishing that the prime minister of Great Britain should find it necessary to write to Premier Khrushchev:

"I MUST TELL you frankly that I am deeply disappointed, as well as surprised, at your decision to withdraw from the negotiations. The Geneva conference was set up as a result of an agreement between the four foreign ministers" last August; it cannot be properly broken off by any one group.

"Until agreement on disarmament is reached, we intend to maintain our collective defense arrangements. There is nothing provocative in this. You do so the same."

The plan of the Soviets to transfer the negotiations to the General Assembly of the United Nations will not deceive anyone. It means abandoning a conference where technical experts on both sides have participated, and throwing the whole thing into a political arena, with no chance of agreement or direct negotiations.

THE UNITED STATES delegate to Geneva, Fredrick M. Eaton, who has maintained throughout a dignified and serious attitude toward the negotiations, made the following statement at the final session of the Geneva conference:

"What is the Soviet purpose in torpedoing the conference? The purpose is now clear. The Soviets sent their delegation to Geneva, as the Soviets went to Paris, determined not to negotiate, but to forestall negotiations—not to reach agreements, but to prevent agreements. Just as Mr. Khrushchev torpedoed the 'summit' conference, the Soviets have torpedoed the Geneva conference. Clearly they seem determined to frustrate any serious discussion in which differences might be resolved."

WITHIN A few hours after the Geneva conference broke up, the Moscow radio was accusing the West of dissolving the negotiations.

Meanwhile, the U. S. naval commander in Europe, Admiral H. P. Smith, issued this warning at a London press conference:

"This is not a period of holiday from history. We are still in it. The moment the Soviet Union believes they can bludgeon our retaliatory forces, you are in for it."

Thus does the Soviet government stir up a crisis after crisis, and, if history is a guide, sometimes this can lead to a miscalculation and finally a big war. How long do the Communist leaders think the people of the Soviet Union can be kept in the dark as to who really is bringing the world closer and closer to a third world war?

He Pays His Debt

HAXTUN, Colo. (AP)—A 78-year-old man wrote the Farmers' State Bank asking if he could still pay off a $300 note he'd signed before he "died" Haxtun in the 1920s.

There was one hitch: the bank went out of business 37 years ago. Not even the State Banking Commission had the files on the bank.

The money was turned over to the Haxtun Community Hospital.

Political Report

Lyndon, Too, Thinks Convention Fixed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) has joined former President Harry Truman in charging the Democratic national convention has been rigged or fixed, although Johnson did not use those harsh words.

Johnson, a contender for the nomination, aimed most of his ire directly at National Chairman Paul Butler. In a radio-TV interview Sunday, Johnson said:

"I don't think it's any secret that the national chairman of all the members has been somewhat active in Sen. (John) Kennedy's camp. He no longer is really a judge, or impartial chairman. He is an advocate of Sen. Kennedy."

"I HAVE NOT BEEN consulted about the details of the convention of the chairman of the various committees, or of the convention itself," Johnson added. "All I know about the Los Angeles papers I have read in the papers."

"I think it is very disappointing that an avowed supporter of one candidate would set up the convention without conferring or including suggestions of other candidates or potential candidates."

"It seems a little unfair for Mr. Butler as national chairman to say that he doesn't think a man who has a residence in a certain section of the country can be selected and he thinks that a man who has a residence in New England ought to be selected."

Butler declined comment on Johnson's remarks. He has conceded that last March he made what he called a qualified prediction that Kennedy would win the nomination, but has denied any rigging of the convention in favor of any candidate.

TRUMAN'S CHARGES that the convention has been "pre-arranged" and "fixed" came a day earlier. Although Truman did not attack Butler directly, the implication was clear that he thought Butler did the fixing.

Johnson so far has not declared himself officially in the running. But he said "I think in the next few days you will hear more about my views. I will spell out what plans I have for the convention."

The Senate majority leader also claimed to be much closer to Kennedy's delegate voting strength than has been indicated in polls. He said he expects to be more or less even with Kennedy on the first and second ballots.

The Associated Press tabulation of delegate votes, which includes promised votes and not candidate claims, shows Johnson with 21½ and Kennedy with 53. It takes 761 votes to win the nomination.

Johnson said he expects an open convention, one that will not be stampeded into choosing Kennedy. Since the West Virginia primary, Johnson said, there has been an "accelerated and desperate attempt" to build up a Kennedy bandwagon, but "so far as we can observe very few people have joined that group."

Hal Boyle Get A Horse

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Tip to fatties: George Washington, known as the best horseman of his age; kept his figure trim by riding. Although he stood 6-foot-3½, measurements of the black velvet suit he wore at his second inauguration indicate that at 61 Washington still had a tidy size 35 waist.

If you really want to impress your girl friend, for $200 you can get a pilot to skywrite "I love you, baby." There are said to be only half a dozen active skywriters left in this country, and their usual charge is $15 a letter.

There's still more truth than poetry in the way Manhattan Island got its name. It derives from the Delaware Indian word Manahattan, meaning "The place where we got drunk."

Tourists are always giving a town a bad name.

Speaking of Indians and liquor, the Aztecs had a simple old-fashioned remedy for drunkenness that never failed to work. Anyone who got intoxicated except at a tribal ceremony was promptly executed.

Definition of the week: Robert Q. Lewis defines an optimist as a middle-aged man who believes the laundry has been shrinking the waistband of his summer trousers.

One reason European school children often seem more advanced than American children of the same age: They go to classes 240 days a year, compared to 150 days for the average U.S. child. It's no wonder women have most of the money. The word money comes from Juno Moneta, wife of Jupiter, the Roman god.

Genius is often modest. When Dr. Albert Einstein, one of the world's great thinkers, was asked what salary he wanted at the Institute of Higher Learning, he suggested $3,000 a year—explaining he doubted if he could get by on less. Instead he was granted $16,000 a year, and his pay remained at that figure until his death—an amount some comedians make in a single week at Las Vegas.

Those good old days: In 1907 a "well-dressed workman" paid $5 for an overcoat, $10 for a suit, $1 for a hat or cap and 50 cents for four neckties.

It was Charles Dickens who observed, "What we've got to do, is to keep up our spirits, and be neighborly. We shall come out all right in the end, never fear."

To Your Good Health Ulcer Diets Not Necessarily So Tough

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

After a few days, as the stomach calms down, the bland diet, you try adding something to see how it is tolerated: White bread or toast; cooked, strained vegetables and fruits; scraped meat (beef, chicken, lamb); boiled or baked potato.

Another early addition is strained fruit juice. We need vitamin C to ward off scurvy or its early stages, and on a bland diet for ulcers, it is easy to be skimpy on vitamin C. So this bears watching. Fortunately (we know now) orange juice does not intensify stomach acidity. So strained juice usually solves the problem.

In due time, as things go well, one adds whole cooked vegetables and fruits. Most kinds of meat, fish and fowl are well-tolerated. But you avoid such foods as contain coarse residue, as whole corn, celery, nuts, bran, etc.

Jams and jellies add a tasty tang at breakfast—but avoid those that have seeds—Sandwiches for lunch are suitable. Fruits like bananas, which don't have a lot of fibers (rough on the tender ulcer) are permissible. For dessert, cookies or cakes are bland. Salads can be satisfactory if they are of cooked fruit (cooking breaks up the rough fibers) on a bit of lettuce with cottage or cream cheese. Gelatin salads and desserts are flavorful. And between meals crackers and milk can fill that empty feeling without being irritating.

Forego spicy condiments, because the tang to the taste is irritating to the ulcer. Frankly, you'll be annoyed with a bland diet when you start, but as you learn what you can or cannot tolerate, and learn to lean more heavily on the things that are tasty yet still bland, you'll find it isn't nearly as bad as you had feared.

R.T.D.: If the rash is right under the new metal wrist watch band, I'd suggest suspecting it. Metal bothers some people. Try a fabric or leather band.

"Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For your copy write to me in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a 10-cent self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of mailing.

Around The Rim Sound Recording In Ancient Times?

One thing and another: A graduate student of a leading university in the South says that ancient pottery may make it possible to hear conversations that took place thousands of years ago.

He explains it this way:

A CRAFTSMAN making bowls and jars long before Christ appeared on the earth would spin the clay on a wheel, forming the shapes with his fingers. His fingernail may have acted as a phonograph needle, transmitting voice vibrations as he talked to an assistant or to some friend or person of high birth who had dropped in.

These fine grooves were baked into the clay, providing a permanent record. All that's needed, the graduate student states, is to find pots with adequate grooving and play them back at the right speed.

THE REUTERS News Agency of England reported not long ago that the famous newsreel shot of Adolph Hitler doing his ridiculous "victory jig" after the fall of France during World War II was a British propaganda fake.

Reuters quoted John Grierson, British documentary movie pioneer, as saying his track cutting of a German newsreel falsely made the German Fuhrer look as if he were dancing jubilantly after seeing French leaders sign his surrender terms at Compiegne, France, during the summer of 1940.

GRIERSON said the English people had little to cheer or jeer in those days and needed some comedy relief. He chanced to see the German newsreel and spotted Hitler making a slight jump, at which time he lifted his right leg and put it behind his left knee for a few seconds.

All Grierson did was freeze that jump at its silliest point and add a few frames, with the net result that he was doing a jig.

Jack Naidoo, deputy principal of the M. L. Sultan Technical College in Durban, South Africa, on a visit to this country, says that American youngsters of high school age are inclined "to take too much for granted."

HE ALSO remarked that our kids are "not taking full advantage of their opportunities."

"They should prepare their minds to occupy a foremost position in the great American democracy," he adds.

Little wonder the tobacco industry can subsidize half the western and sports shows seen on television today.

Sales in the industry in 1959 alone amounted to over $6½ billion.

An estimated 17 million Americans make their livelihood in whole or in part from tobacco. It has been estimated.

J. A. Livingston Auto Stocks Affected By Compacts

This has been a rousing year so far for the automobile manufacturer but not for the owner of automobile stocks.

In the first half, sales of domestic cars approached 3,200,000, second only to 1953's rattle-dazzle effort of 3,500,000 cars.

If the normal sales pattern prevails—51 per cent first half, 49 per cent second half—about 3,200,000 domestic cars will be delivered from July through December. Wheel! 6,500,000 domestics!

AND IF YOU ADD to that imports of half a million foreign cars, full-year sales will be only 200,000 short of 1953's 7,200,000 total, and well above the 6,000,000 total of 1956, 6,200,000 in 1957, and 6,600,000 last year.

But automobile company shares on the New York Stock Exchange are not riding the crest of this new-car sales wave. Industrial stocks generally are down 6 per cent from their 1960 highs and utility stocks are near their highs. And where are automobile shares? On their bottoms, down 21 per cent to 64 per cent from their highs.

AS A GROUP, auto stocks are only 1 per cent above their 1960 lows in the Standard & Poor's average, whereas 425 industrial stocks are up 7 per cent.

This Detroit-Wall Street paradox—sales up, stocks down—can best be explained by a flashback.

Nineteen fifty-five was a b. c.—before compacts. The major companies—General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler—seemed impervious to competition. Their Little Three—Chevrolet, Ford, and Plymouth—were unchallenged.

THE BIG THREE'S middle-priced lines—General Motors' Buick, Olds, and Pontiac; Ford's Mercury, Chrysler's Chrysler, De Soto, and Dodge—seemed entrenched.

Now—compact confusion!

Every automobile sales organization is going compact to hold on to dealers. Ford provided the Comet—to keep—Mercury dealers happy. Dodge brought forth the Dart, a regular size car, to compete with Chevrolet, Ford, and Plymouth, and it will bring forth the Lancer, a compact, this fall. General Motors is also adding to the compact crush with Buick's Special Oldsmobile's F-85, and Pontiac's Tempest.

AMERICANS ARE compact-car conscious. For some persons, the compact is a status symbol. The owner declares to the world he doesn't need a big car to prop his ego. And the industry has now accepted this fact. This fall, new-car buyers will have ten compacts to choose from—GM's Special, F-85, Tempest, and Corvair; Ford's Comet and Falcon; Chrysler's Lancer and Valiant; American's Rambler, and Studebaker-Packard's Lark. Romney is likely to be an "early prophet." Compacts now take 30 per cent of the market; next year they could grab off half, ahead of even his enthusiastic target date—the end of '61.

THIS THREATENS a squeeze all around. All threats with compact and regular lines, a cut in price—which to push? Certainly. The average price per new car sold will decline, even as this year.

Therefore, only a major increase in sales in 1961 to 7,200,000 or 7,400,000 could prevent a cut in Big Three profit margins per car. And professional investors in auto shares do not hope for such a sales increase at the moment.

Rather, they're worried about how the industry will work off high 1960-model inventories without slowing second-half sales of '61. Hence the Detroit-Wall Street paradox of high sales and low stock prices.

Holmes Alexander These Are Enemies Of American Life?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"I am asserting that those who misrepresent the normal experiences of life, who deny being controversial, who shun risks, are the enemies of the American way of life."

Thus writes Henry M. Wriston, President Emeritus of Brown University and chairman of the Committee on National Goals, another of the "good" eggheads, by which I mean thinkers who deserve well of the republic.

DR. WRISTON'S indictment of "the enemies of the American way of life" would cover a lot of persons in this election season. I don't see any reason why American voters should not paste his statement on the wall and make it parallel reading with the words and actions of our political leaders.

"Those who misrepresent the normal experiences of life": The entrance into national life of Madison Avenue and Hollywood has brought uptown hucksterism and make-believe to levels where they are out of place. Slogans and attitudes are "sold" to the public in place of truth. "Peace With Justice" is a phrase Mr. Eisenhower's copy-writers apparently have adopted much as a fictional advertising house once scored with "Love That Soap."

AS RECENTLY AS last week, the President put his sincere countenance on television for one of the most bare-faced jobs of pitchmanship ever attempted by a statesman. He told his countrymen that personal diplomacy, the most discredited gimmick of the mid-century, was really a very fine thing "...a course," he exclaimed, "which has meant much for our country, for her friends, and for the cause of freedom—and peace with justice in the world."

Unhappily, the Eisenhower Administration has made a habit of misrepresenting what Dr. Wriston calls "the normal experiences of life." There was a time when the White House or the Republican National Committee asked us to believe—or almost—that heart attacks, ileitis and small strokes are good for people. Later the major scientific achievement of the Soviet Sputnik was described as a mere "basketball." Earlier this summer, it was arranged for Mr. Eisenhower to be welcomed home from the insults and failures of the Paris Conference with huge signs saying, "Thank you, Mr. President."

"THOSE...WHO deny being controversial," it seems to me, is Senator Kennedy. He shows the same face to the North that he shows to the South. There are a number of questions on which a frank man ought to be willing to give other frank men the opportunity to disagree with him.

Mr. Kennedy told members of the Liberal Party in New York that he didn't need any Southern votes to be nominated. The implication was clear—he disagreed with the Southern viewpoint, and didn't care for Southern support. But shortly afterwards, it was revealed that the Senator was writing Southern leaders for the very support he scorched in New York.

THIS WAS NO slip-up. It appears to be standard Kennedy practice to put a foot in both camps. In his newspaper column of June 3rd, Jackie Robinson fell out with Kennedy because the Senator was found to be breakfasting with Alabama Governor Patterson and Sam Englandhardt of the Citizens Council one day, and trying to cancel out the curse by eating lunch with Thurgood Marshall, Negro lawyer, the next day.

"Those...who shun risks": Whatever can be sold to the public in place of truth, Kennedy, Johnson and Symington, they have the courage of their ambitions. They want to be President, and they're running for the office. But two men, regarded by their backers as top-quality presidential timber, have shown no such courage.

ADLAI STEVENSON'S position, as given by one of his promoters, is that the two-time loser should not interfere with the Convention's business of finding a fresher, younger candidate. There is some merit to this position, even if little decisiveness.

But Nelson Rockefeller's position is spineless and shameful. The New York Governor disapproves of Nixon and the Nixon leadership. Rockefeller would try for the GOP nomination if he dared—but he is afraid of being defeated. His example of political pusillanimity is no good at all for the American way of life.

ELKHART, Ind. (AP)—General Line wonders if a $2 parakeet is really worth a $9 vacuum cleaner hose. Line's 12-year-old daughter, Patricia, was cleaning a rug when the family parakeet, Baby, was sucked through the nozzle. Firemen cut the hose and rescued one shaky—but clean—bird.

Dogs On Duty At Nike Site

Sentry dog handler Pfc. Harold Lingstforders "Kurt" to the attack at the Nike missile site in Denton. The vicious, 91-pound German Shepherd will be one of four sentries on patrol at the site. The dogs will patrol from 6 p.m. until 6 a.m. and to keep them sharp, they have six hours training a week to keep them "agitated". Agitation training is to make sure the dogs don't get "friendly."

Small Car Age? Not In America

By BEN PHEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—In true American fashion the next domestic small cars to be offered to the public will be bigger than the first small cars.

Just as the Comet was bigger than the Falcon so will the Dodge Lancer be bigger than the Valiant, and the Pontiac Tempest, Buick Special and Oldsmobile F-85 will be bigger than General Motors' first compact, the Chevrolet Corvair.

This has led to an industry joke that "my small car is bigger than your small car."

Nevertheless, work is continuing on the design and advance planning departments of the auto companies on truly small cars.

Most of the talk around Detroit has centered on Ford's small-small project. Ford has admitted such a car is under development, but remains officially silent on details.

Usually reliable sources, however, offer some strong clues as to Ford thinking and direction. They shape up about like this: A small-small car definitely is in the works. It began several years ago as a project of Ford of Germany. Development is continuing at company headquarters in Dearborn.

The car as projected would be a four-passenger vehicle on a 95 or 96-inch wheelbase weighing about 1,650 pounds and selling in this country for around $1,600—about Volkswagen size and price. Original intent of the project was to give German Ford a new car to compete in its domestic market. German Ford has two models of the Taunus, both larger and more expensive than the Volkswagens.

Reports have labeled the Dearborn project the Sigma Three, Segment Three, Hummingbird and Cardinal. None of these necessarily will end up being the car's name. Cardinal is the current favorite.

The uppermost question about this project is: Will the small car be built and sold in the United States?

At best observers now believe the car could not be ready before the 1962 model year. If it shows that soon it probably would be as a German import.

Currently, the shortest wheelbase model among domestic cars is the Rambler American at 100 inches. It also is the least expensive—$1,795 including federal tax. The Ford Falcon is the lightest—2,258 pounds. The Corvair has the lowest horsepower—90. The Lark has the shortest overall length at 14 feet 7 inches.

First U. S. Negro Enters Beauty Test

By F. T. MACFEELY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Not even the first American Negro contestant has ruffled the smooth surface of the Miss Universe pageant with its emphasis on pure beauty.

Although Negroes have entered from foreign countries, the first from this country is Corrine Huff of Youngstown, Ohio. She has found a warm welcome from other contestants and there hasn't been a ripple of complaint, pageant officials said.

"I'm getting along just fine, in fact, wonderfully well," Miss Huff said. "Everyone is nice to me."

Her roommate is the contestant from the Middle East country of Lebanon, Gladys Tabet, who speaks no English. They found a common language—French.

"She speaks French and I know a little French," Miss Huff said.

In the opening stage ceremony Sunday night, the foreign girls wore costumes of their native lands and the American girls dressed to symbolize their states. Most of the foreign girls had long flowing gowns, colorful and exotic.

Many of the Americans wore costumes with shorts or specially designed outfits tight as bathing suits.

A parade on the waterways of Miami Beach and more convention hall ceremonies were on today's programs. Eliminations in the Miss U. S. A. contest begin Wednesday night and Miss U.S.A. will be selected Thursday night. She will compete against the other 43 girls, and the new Miss Universe will be chosen Saturday night.

Miss Ohio

Corrine Huff, 19, of Youngstown, Ohio is shown as she prepares to leave for the Miss Universe Contest at Miami after the original Miss Ohio was declared ineligible because of age. Miss Huff, said to be the first Negro to represent a state in the contest, replaces Cathy Justice, only 17.

Former Angelo Mayor Is Dead

DALLAS (AP)—Charles T. Paul, 80, former mayor of San Angelo and former county judge of Tom Green County, died at his home Sunday after a long illness.

He had been an industrial and business real estate man but at the time of his death was retired.

Born near Shelbyville in East Texas, he attended the University of Texas and its law school. He was elected mayor of San Angelo in 1909 and in 1913 was elected county judge of Tom Green County, a post he held for three terms.

His first wife, Minnie Elizabeth Hunter, died in 1947. Later, he married Mrs. Irene Morgan Smith, who survives.

Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. John G. Outland of Dallas and Mrs. E. Hoyle Graham of near Paris, Lamar County, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending.

Bears Triplets

HARLINGEN (AP)—Mrs. Bonifacio Tejada of Rio Hondo gave birth to triplets Sunday—three girls.

Coya May Try For Post Again

OKLEE, Minn. (AP)—Democrat Coya Knutson today may announce that she will try to regain the Congress seat she lost two years ago following the "Coya, come home" campaign of her husband, Andy.

The former representative said she will make an announcement today during the 50th birthday celebration of her hometown. She said in a news release Saturday, "During my time in the 9th District I have found sentiment overwhelming for me to become a candidate for Congress. I have no reservations."

Mrs. Knutson lost to Rep. Odin Lengen (R-Minn) in the 1958 election. During the campaign Mrs. Knutson's husband, operator of a small hotel here, wrote a widely publicized letter urging her to leave Washington and come home.

This year the 9th District Democratic Farmer-Labor Convention endorsed State Rep. Roy Wiseth for Congress.

Violent Storms Hit Midwest, Then Shift Power To S'west

By The Associated Press
Violent storms battered the Midwest, South and Northeast this holiday weekend, then shifted their violence today to the Southwest.

Tornadoic winds and torrential rains caused damage in the millions of dollars and left at least three persons dead and a score injured.

Trees and power lines were toppled, homes flooded, roads blocked by fallen debris. Communities in several states went without power for long periods.

Airport operations were curtailed. Flying was treacherous. At least one tornado was confirmed and several more suspected.

Today thunderstorms dropped 2.86 inches of rain in the Tulsa, Okla., area in less than four hours. The Weather Bureau alerted central and northern Oklahoma for severe thunderstorms and damaging winds and hail.

WABASH VALLEY
Hardest hit by the weekend

Eleven persons were injured in Peru, seven of them hospitalized after winds upended 10 house trailers. Peru's industrial section was hard hit, the end of one building torn completely away.

Police, civil defense workers and National Guardsmen were ordered into Logansport to help clean up the mess of twisted trees, broken utility poles, live power lines and battered automobiles. Heavy equipment moved in to assist the cleanup.

At Lake Schafter, 22 miles east of Logansport, a woman was killed when a tree toppled on her house trailer. A teen-ager was feared drowned in the lake after his capsized boat was discovered in the waters, its lights still burning.

turbulence was Indiana's upper Wabash River Valley, where 75-mile-an-hour winds Sunday battered the communities of Peru and Logansport into a state of emergency and caused property damage into the millions of dollars.

A United Air Lines DC8 jet airliner from Idlewild was forced to make an unscheduled stop at Chicago on its flight to Los Angeles after it was battered by turbulent weather shortly after takeoff. Two passengers were hospitalized in Chicago with multiple bruises and contusions.

A cloudburst inundated the eastern Kentucky area around Morehead. Two creeks overflowed their banks, forcing 1,000 persons to evacuate their flooded homes.

State police estimated that three inches of rain fell within an hour. Damage was expected to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, but no injuries were reported.

In the South, two youths were injured near Baxley, Ga., when a tornado blew down a shed under which they had taken cover.

Columbus, Ga., had 2.19 inches of rain accompanied by 46-mile-an-hour winds.

Jacksonville, Fla., was soaked with near 2 1/2 inches of rain in little more than an hour. Wind gusts up to 75 miles an hour struck Columbia, S. C., during a storm that dropped a 1/4 inch of hail and a 1/8 inch of rain.

Leaders In Pay Raise Victory

Senators J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.), Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), and Olin D. Johnson (D-SC), respectively from left, join in a four-way handshake after they led the Senate in a 74-24 vote in Washington, D.C., to override a presidential veto and give federal workers a 7 1/2 per cent boost in pay. It was only the second Eisenhower veto out of 169 to be overridden.

You're In The Backwoods Of Mexico, And What Is The Sound You Hear?—Elvis

MEXICO CITY (AP) — You're off the beaten path on a bumpy backroad. Lost, maybe. A coyote howls. Then there's another wail: Elvis Presley.

Shaken, you drive on and all of a sudden there's a little adobe village. A bunch of the boys are whooping it up around a juke box.

Juke boxes are everywhere in Mexico these days, forcing organ grinders and small native bands out of business.

Mexico, long the world's leading producer of Spanish language moving pictures, is now No. 1 in Spanish language phonograph records.

Eight major companies produce 20 million records a year, largely of the popular type. It is estimated that 60 per cent go into juke boxes.

Mexico also imports a substantial number of platters from the United States—which explains Elvis—and from West Germany. Record imports total $1,600,000 a year; Mexico's exports amount to about the same figure.

"Among durable consumer goods exports, phonograph records occupy third place," says the Bank of Foreign Commerce. Books and glass and glassware outrank them.

Major Mexican producers are Peerless de Mexico, RCA Victor Mexicana, and Discos Columbia de Mexico. The industry has eight plants.

Eisenhart Makes Dean's List

Robert L. Eisenhart has been recognized for good scholastic work in the recent term at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y., by making the Dean's List, according to Ira E. Harrod, dean of students.

Eisenhart is the son of Col. and Mrs. Donald W. Eisenhart, Webb AFB commanding officer, and is majoring in electrical engineering.

Long Holds Runaways

A 15-year old boy, accompanied by four girls ranging in age from 13 to 15, one of whom is the mother of a 7-month-old baby, were being held in the juvenile ward at the Howard County Jail Monday.

The five are runaways from Bossier City, La., and Louisiana authorities have notified Colby Juvenile Officer A. E. Long, to detain them until officers can come to Big Spring to take custody.

Long said that the baby has been identified as belonging to one of the girls, who is 15. Part of the group was picked up in Stanton and the others in Big Spring, Sunday night. They left Bossier City three days ago.

It was a big week-end for runaways, Long said. He had 10 in the juvenile ward during the interval. Some have been released. Two are being held for California.

NARROW SCAPE

Tales of narrow escapes were commonplace. A policeman whose car jolted to a stop found that it was hanging over a missing section of a bridge.

In New York thunderstorms battered Schenectady just nine days after a tornado had caused an estimated five million dollars damage.

About 2,000 homes in the Albany-Troy-Schenectady area and 3,000 more in Saratoga Springs went without power temporarily. Albany reported 1.4 inches of rain. Many cellars and streets were flooded.

Three deaths were attributed to the storm. Some homes were damaged.

The storm dropped .83 inches of rain.

35 Cars Leave Rails In Georgia

SAVANNAH, Ga., (AP)—Thirty-five cars of a 102-car freight train speeding perishes on Florida to New York left the rails near Savannah Sunday. No one was injured.

Almost a third of the refrigerator cars hauling citrus fruits on 3-day delivery to eastern markets were derailed at a siding 17 miles south of Savannah.

Cleanup crews worked through the night. They expected to restore normal traffic over the route by afternoon.

Seaboard officials said the accident resulted from a broken journal.

They Made It

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Of some 12,000 delegates here for the 25th anniversary convention of Alcoholics Anonymous, only a couple fell off the wagon, an AA spokesman reports.

And, he adds proudly, they both staggered back on board.

Young Thugs Ruin Watermelon Patch

DALLAS (AP) — Young thugs raided a watermelon patch in the south part of Dallas County over the weekend but they didn't eat a single melon.

Instead, Daniel Neal of Wilmer told the sheriff's office, the children destroyed eight acres of watermelons by stomping them. He said the vandals destroyed $200 worth of melons and also damaged several plum trees at his farm.

the President of the United States from visiting their country. In Turkey, student demonstrations help spark the overthrow of Premier Adnan Menderes. In Korea, they topple the government of Syngman Rhee. What drives these young men from their books to the political hustings, often to riot and bloodshed? Why don't they blow off steam, like their American counterparts, in things like football games or party raids? The difference, as brought out by an Associated Press sampling of student thinking in the three countries, lies mainly in their concept of their role in society. They feel they occupy a special position, unknown in this country. They are an educated elite amid a majority either illiterate or, they feel, politically passive. They consider themselves watchdogs of democracy, as in Turkey and Korea, or spearheads of social change, as many do in Japan.

ELDERS FAILED
Many believe their elders have failed them politically, and they have lost faith in the older generation to construct the kind of society in which their own qualities and learning will find proper scope. And they see it as their duty to rise in protest and take matters into their own hands. Lee Chung Soo, a 20-year-old sophomore majoring in political science at Seoul's National University in Korea says: "The politicians and generals failed to get rid of the corruption and other vices. We could no longer trust them. Nor could we expect the public to rise against the government. There was no other choice for us but to rise up and fight wrongs."

LACKED COURAGE
The people lacked courage to fight against the dictatorial regime," adds Lee Su-heung, a law major at Korea University. "We know the prime duty of the student is to devote himself to study, but the extraordinary circumstances of our society did not allow us to stay within the ivory tower."

In Turkey, too, student leaders harp on their duty to protest "when freedoms are disregarded." Ahsel Orkmezgil, 22, a pretty geographer major at Istanbul University says she and her colleagues were disillusioned by the rule of the professional politicians. "The elders who were governing the nation," she declares, "committed many wrongs."

AGAINST PACT
In Japan, the student riots have a more sharply defined political cast. They were led by Zengakuren, a student organization directed by Communists and extreme left-wingers.

spite the demonstrations that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's goodwill visit. Yoshiyuki Enami, 22, of Tokyo University says: "Japan's defense is now being keyed to the missile. But to make the missile effective, it must be armed with a nuclear tip. Japan is preparing for nuclear war. It's a problem especially close to the students who will be in the frontline of any war."

Enami has been twice arrested this year for leading violent demonstrations. He isn't sure, he says, what type of government Japan should have. "We can't tell whether communism is the answer," he told a reporter. "On the other hand, capitalism is the final class society. It is objectively necessary to change it. We (the students) will have roles in that process."

SYMPATHY
"We have much sympathy toward the Turkish students and the political situation there but we believe the situation in Japan is a bit different," says Lee Su-heung of Korea University. "The Japanese students seem to be working for some particular political groups and we don't believe in such a student movement."

But they agree with the thought expressed by Takayoshi Chigita, 19, who studies English literature at Chuo University in Japan: "In our country, we can't be saying that students should keep to the classrooms and leave politics to the politicians. I believe it is important for students to express their opinions on important issues. And it doesn't do any good merely to express them at home."

ILLITERATE
In Turkey, almost 80 per cent of the population is illiterate—thus giving university and college students a greater significance than in the United States, where education is not limited to a comparative handful. The students are aware of this, and want to live up to their place in the country's intelligence.

In Japan, education and teachers command high respect. The university student is a person apart from the masses. Parents respect, save and deny themselves to send their children to the universities. Coming from this background, the students often long to crusade against social injustice. Communists have exploited the sentiment, and the teaching of Lenin and Marx exert considerable attraction.

The trend was accentuated after the war by the breakdown of the authority of the older generation, discredited by defeat and bewildered by the sweeping Democratic reforms introduced during the U.S. occupation.

Tuesday Weld Laments Her Own Legend

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Take it from Tuesday Weld, it's tough to be a living legend at 18.

"I've had the worst possible publicity," she laments. "If I hadn't had the performances to follow up the publicity, I would have been dead professionally by now. Fortunately, I've been able to produce." Besides producing performances, she is also working on a new conception of Tuesday Weld. She arrived for our lunch-hour interview wearing a decorous beige dress and a prim hat. "No, I haven't changed," she declared. "I'm still doing the same things. But I'm doing them more quietly."

Her reputation as the jet-age version of Clara Bow and Lana Turner got out of hand, she sighed. "All I had to do was show up at a party," she remarked, "and the next day it was reported that I (1) was dead drunk; (2) stayed until the next morning; (3) did something terrible. Even if I walked in and out of the party, the same reports would be printed. "I was young and trusting. I didn't realize there were people in this town who were unscrupulous and would use you to promote their own interests. But I learned. Now I never will go anywhere that I am not sure I will know the people and what the affair is about."

Tuesday admitted that part of the Weld legend was her own making. She was seen escorted by actor John Ireland, age 45. "But John wasn't a date; he was a friend," she explained. "I don't place age limits on my friends. I wouldn't on my dates, either."

She has also contributed to her reputation with her frankness in interviews. "But people ask the most ridiculous questions," she protested. "There was one TV interview in which I produced eight whoopers. I asked if I wanted to settle down some day and have a husband and children. I said no, that I hate children; they run from me. And they do."

graduated last month from high school and won't be 17 until August. She plans to take college courses, but by tutor, not on campus. "I've tried going to schools and it doesn't work out," she explained. "The other kids treat me like a freak." I ventured that if she kept up her conservative kick she might be able to escape her reputation as filmland's Lolita. "I don't want that," she replied. "I might play the role in the movie. I read the book and loved it."

Farmers Survey Damage, Wait For Fields To Dry

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Farmers along the Gulf Coast and generally in the eastern half of Texas were surveying damage and waiting for their fields to dry this week. Those in many sections of West Texas still waited for badly needed moisture.

Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said crop and pasture conditions were greatly improved in the rainfall belt. District agents reported some cotton, corn and grain sorghums were too far gone to be benefited, especially in far south, south central and upper coastal counties. The moisture will improve prospects for a late hay crop. Hay production has been short in all areas, the director said.
