Congress' Stormiest Session Is Shaping Up

Rival Candidates Point Up Overtones

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1960 presidential campaign shifts into high gear—and into the Capitol—Monday with the return of Congress for what shapes up as its stormiest partisan performance.

The very presence in the Senate chamber of rival candidates for the presidency—Vice President Richard M. Nixon as presiding officer, and Sen. John F. Kennedy on the floor—pointed up the heavy political overtones.

And, if that does not constitute enough of a challenge to sober deliberation, the job of scheduling legislation will be in the hands of Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Kennedy's vice presidential running mate.

Add to the lineup Sens. Henry R. Jackson (Wash.), the Democratic national chairman, and Thurston B. Morton (Ky.) his Republican opposite number, and it's anybody's guess what explosions may occur before Labor Day.

MORE DYNAMITE
Democratic talk of increased spending for defense and to spur the domestic economy and Republican demands for Johnson to "deliver" on Democratic civil rights promises provided only part of the preliminary political dynamite to be set off in due course.

Sharp differences on how much to raise the minimum wage, over medical care to the elderly, housing, aid to education and other campaign issues put a big question mark over what can be expected in a session both sides hoped could be concluded in 24 working days.

Nor does it allow for action on what Nixon recently forecast would be a series of vetoes by President Eisenhower if Democrats enact what he called "massive spending measures" not accompanied by the taxes to pay for them.

That would mean keeping Congress in session while the Democratic leadership decided whether to attempt to override.

HOUSE NOT IN
The House doesn't even reconvene until Aug. 15—a week from Monday—and bills providing federal aid for school construction and housing are tied up in its Rules Committee until it can be persuaded to let them go.
The first big fight in the Senate likely will come on Democratic efforts to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour—the House raised it from $1 to $1.15—and to

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

It perhaps could be called a week of dog days, but there were signs that if summer is here, autumn activities cannot be far behind. Principals of the schools are already on the job, and parents were advised that classes of the new school year will begin August 31. That's much earlier than usual. The Kiwanis Club made plans for its annual welcoming dinner affair for teachers.

There was good news, and bad. Tragedy was in the headlines again as Howard County checked off its seventh highway death of the year. Victim was young Jimmy Don Engle, who perished as his car hit a bridge abutment on the Snyder highway.

In the category of better news, construction items held the spotlight. Pioneer Natural Gas Co. awarded contract to A. P. Kasch & Sons for a modern new headquarters office at Fifth and Runnels Sts. Suggs Construction Co. had low bid on a warehouse for the Ponca Wholesale Co. and the local building firm of Ray Dunlap was awarded work on a cafeteria and auditorium for the Grady school in Martin County. Work was due to start Monday on the new Richardson Carbon plant, out near Cosden, and county officials this past week OK'd an access road to this site.

Some more progress was made on obtaining right-of-way for widening part of Highway 87 north. The state is ready to start this project, an important one for Big Spring. And the city was perking up some unpaved streets with an oil layer.

Coahomans interested in establishing THE WEEK, Pg. 4-A, Col. 3) expand its coverage. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has served notice he has a big stack of amendments on which he will seek votes.

Then, there is the almost certain row over proposals to provide medical care for persons over 65. The Democrats would like such care in with Social Security deductions, while Republicans generally favor federal contributions to the states for this purpose.

ON THE SPOT
Republicans are trying to put the Democrats, particularly Vice Presidential Nominee Johnson, on the spot by calling for action on civil rights through a bill based on the new Democratic platform.

Even if half of the Southern Democrats suddenly developed lockjaw, every one knows the other half could easily keep such a bill in the Senate Judiciary Committee or blocked by talk on the floor a long time past Labor Day.

Sen. Morton acknowledged that Republicans simply "haven't got the troops" to override efforts to block either a civil rights bill by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) embracing the Democratic platform, or another by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) based on the Republican plank.

While Keating, Javits and others are goading the Democrats on civil rights, Johnson and Kennedy are trying to lure the Republicans into asking for more defense funds to support their view that defenses are threatening to lag behind the Soviet Union in the years ahead.

There is talk that, to counter this, Eisenhower will send a message to the new session either asking more funds or authority to transfer previous appropriations from one project to another to put greater emphasis where he feels the need is the greatest.

Rice Funeral Slated Today

Services will be held at 3 p.m. today in the River Funeral Home Chapel for E. L. K. Rice, 25-year resident of Big Spring and for many years operator of a printing establishment here.

Mr. Rice, 82, died in a local hospital Friday night after several months of declining health.
Born in Illinois May 28, 1878, Mr. Rice came here in 1935. He previously had followed the printing trade in Oklahoma, working in several shops in that state. He opened the Rice Printery here, and for a time published the All-Church Argus. Later he worked briefly for The Herald.

He was a member of the First Christian Church and the Staked Plains Masonic Lodge 598.
Survivors are his wife, Nancy, whom he married March 26, 1904, and several nieces and nephews.

The Rev. John Black will conduct the services. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park. There will be Masonic rites at the graveside.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUDGET

More Teacher Salaries Affect Schools' Increase

(This is the second in a series of articles on the 1960-61 budget of the Big Spring Independent School District. Public hearing on the budget is set for Tuesday evening.)

More than two-thirds of the proposed Big Spring school budget is charged to instructional costs. The exact percentage is 67.8 per cent, hence it is apparent that the key division of the budget is in instruction.

The $1,622,560 proposed is $131,014 more than the current budget. Virtually all of the increase is in provision for more salary. Here the base is unchanged but additional personnel has been added. If instruction dominates the overall budget, salaries dominate instructional budget even more, for 94 per cent of the total is for teacher and supervisory pay.

FOR TEACHERS
The outlay for elementary teachers is $600,000, up by about $40,000; for junior high $311,500, up $13,000; high school $250,000, up $33,000; substitutes $20,000, up by

AKRON BOUND HORNED FROG Mike Smith and Chub Jones, Jaycee leader, with special West Texas friend.

Mike, Pals Off To Akron

This is the week of a lifetime for Mike Smith. Accompanied by five feminine members of his family, and carrying along several dozen West Texas home towns, Big Spring's 1960 Soap Box Derby champion heads for Akron, Ohio, and the spectacular All-American test next Sunday.

Mike and other Smiths—the mother, Mrs. E. C. Smith; grandmother, Mrs. Emma Stovall; and three younger sisters, Cindy, Vicky and Becky—planned to leave by automobile today. His Dad, E. C. Smith, will fly to Akron at the weekend.

RACER SHIPPED
Mike's racer, a job that triumphed in the June event here, already has been shipped to Akron. It will carry the Big Spring Herald insignia; and a Herald representative, Sam Blackburn, will be in Akron with Mrs. Blackburn to give Mike "official" sanction.

It was a 4-170 or so horned toad that may give the Smiths pause as they make their way toward Ohio. Mike plans, of course, to pass out the live souvenirs of West Texas to other boys competing in the All-American Derby. There will be 168, all told, coming from all states and several foreign countries.

Each toad that survives the trip—and a good supply of ants was to be taken along—will be placed in an ice cream carton, bearing a tag which gets in some plugs for Big Spring. This was the Chamber of Commerce touch, since that organization helped Mike round up, box and ship the spiny critters. Mike's plans are to distribute the cartons to all his competitors.

BIG DAYS AHEAD
The Big Spring champ is to check in at Akron Thursday. He,

Dallas Votes Against School Race Mixing

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas residents rejected school integration by a margin of 4 to 1 in a special referendum Saturday.

Complete unofficial returns were 30,324 against and 7,416 for. The 37,740 votes were the largest total ever cast on a school issue in Dallas. School Board officials had predicted a vote of 50,000.

Negro precincts voted overwhelmingly in favor of integration with the margin as great as 20 to 1. The turnout in these precincts, however, was light.

But in many white precincts the vote ran about 10 to 1 against integration.

The results of Saturday's referendum will have no effect on whether or not Dallas schools are integrated.
Fed. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson has ordered the school district to begin a limited plan of integration by September, 1961 whereby only three schools will be designated as integrated and minority group pupils can transfer out of them. Negroes who brought the suit have appealed this order.

The judge said he thought federal courts would not uphold a state law requiring a school district to gain approval in a referendum before integrating its schools.

But he urged the board to go ahead with the referendum as a kind of barometer of public opinion and indicated that if Dallas voters approved integration he might revise his original order and require complete integration.

The state laws call for loss of nearly three million dollars in state aid to the Dallas school system should the system desegregate without a favorable integration vote.

In addition, the system would lose its state accreditation and its officials could be fined.
State officials have indicated that aid will be cut off immediately should the board integrate schools without a favorable integration vote. Presumably the school district would sue in court to seek to have the state aid restored.

Dave Evans Services Today

Funeral services for David Torrey Evans Sr., 68, retired Cosden Petroleum Corp. lubrication engineer, will be at 4:30 p.m. Sunday in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Lewis L. Petmucky, Coahoma Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Entombment will be in Trinity Memorial Park. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Evans, a resident of Big Spring since 1944 and active in church and civic affairs, died at 9:45 p.m. Friday in a local hospital.

Mr. Evans suffered a heart attack some weeks ago. More recently he suffered a second such attack and was hospitalized. Death followed on Friday night.

He was an elder in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and a member of the Big Spring Lions Club. He was retired from Cosden on May 1, 1959.

Mr. Evans was born on Oct. 12, 1891, in Fort Worth. He was married to Miss Ruth Beaumont in that city on Sept. 30, 1913. They estab-

Hard Wind Hits Fort Stockton

By The Associated Press

Destructive winds—described by some witnesses as a small tornado—battered Fort Stockton in far West Texas late Saturday.

Otha Peoples of the Fort Stockton police reported damage was heaviest at two cotton warehouses owned by Kermit Dyche. The roof sailed off one frame structure and a wall collapsed. Peoples estimated 60 per cent of the other building was destroyed.

Heavy rain and some light hail fell during the 15-minute storm, which struck about 6:15 p.m. There was no report of any tornado funnel being sighted.

Sandra Baker Crowned As Farm Bureau's New Queen

By BOB SMITH

A dark-haired beauty with flashing eyes who makes a habit of collecting beauty titles is the 1960 Queen of the Howard County Farm Bureau.

Miss Sandra Baker, 16-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Robinson, won the title over a field of 12 in the annual Farm Bureau queen contest Friday evening in HCJC Auditorium.

She now has a chance at the district title in a pageant scheduled, probably for Big Spring, between Aug. 29 and Sept. 9.

If Miss Baker wins the district title, she will compete for the Texas crown at the state Farm Bureau convention in Dallas Nov. 9-12.

RUNNER-UP

Runner-up in the Friday night event was Miss Dorothy Williams, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cobie Williams, of Rt. 1, Ackerly.

Contestants paraded upon the stage one at a time for interviews with Mrs. Jo Anne Forrest, emcee, and then gave short talks on "why I'm glad my family is a member of the Farm Bureau."

Miss Baker glided gracefully across the stage flashing a devastating smile, and followed with a speech that reflected originality and imagination. In her talk, she pointed out that farming was once considered a fit occupation only for the illiterates, and that the chief ambition in life was to get away from the farm; but that it was through the work of the type of men who pioneered activities like those she attributed to the Farm Bureau; that made farming a respectable profession.

OTHER VICTORIES
Miss Baker holds the title of Junior Miss Big Spring, which she sored Miss Big Spring contest, a preliminary to the Miss America pageant.

Virginia Cain provided organ background music for the Farm Bureau pageant, and Margie Newman played and sang while judges' points were added. A parade of "Future Queens" was a new feature this year, involving girls of 3 to 15 years of age.

Judges included John Gregg of Lubbock, representative of the National Cotton Council; Mrs. Joe Leach, wife of a Big Spring YMCA official; and Mrs. Marie Peay, nurse at the VA Hospital. Clerks were Vernon Winchester, Farm Bureau insurance adjuster, and Mrs. Roberta Oldfield, secretary to County Judge Ed Carpenter.

Gregg also acted as emcee for the "Future Queens" event.

Near-Win For Malinda Crocker At Fort Worth

It was a suspenseful 24 hours for the girl who is both Miss Big Spring and local DeMolay Sweetheart.

Miss Malinda Crocker, daughter of Fire Chief and Mrs. H. V. Crocker, was in Fort Worth this week for the state DeMolay convention. Miss Crocker attended in her capacity as the Big Spring DeMolay Sweetheart, to compete for the state title. Thursday night, she was named among the five finalists, but the winner was not revealed until the grand ball held Friday night.

Winner was Miss Mary Phillips of Harlingen. Other finalists besides Miss Crocker were Janis Smithwick of Fort Worth, Ginger Ross of Baytown, and Sandra Belver of Brownwood.

Ike Sets Special Congress Message

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower will send a special message to Congress Monday to press for a program the summer White House described Saturday as "in the public interest."

The subject matter was not disclosed.
Eisenhower has been insistent, however, in the face of the forthcoming presidential campaign, that it is vitally important that the reconvened session put the interests of the people ahead of politics.

Span Of Generations
Miss Sandra Elaine Baker, 16, poses happily with her excited grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Robinson of Rt. 1, after winning first place in the Howard County Farm Bureau Queen contest Friday night. Miss Baker, who also holds the title of Junior Miss Big Spring, looked proudly at her equally-proud grandfather and told reporters he was her number one boy-friend. Mr. Robinson looked mighty pleased.

Mystery Of Vanished Coors Heir Lingers On—And On

By ROBERT L. MOORE
GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — The mystery cloaking the disappearance Feb. 9 of wealthy brewery executive Adolph Coors III lingers on and on and on.

Pieces in one of modern criminal history's most baffling puzzles won't fall into place. Authorities aren't certain—or won't say—but the most important missing piece may be a missing man, making the Coors' case a double mystery.

Coors, 44, vanished while he was driving 12 miles over a gravel road from his home near the mountains to the Coors brewery in this community on Denver's outskirts.

The puzzle's missing part might be Joseph Corbett Jr., 31, an escaped California killer, who is listed as one of the FBI's 10 most-wanted individuals.

NO ACCUSATION

Nobody is saying Corbett had anything to do with Coors' disappearance. Nobody is even implying such is the case. However, a spokesman for authorities close to the case says this about Corbett:

1. He disappeared from his Denver apartment less than 24 hours after Coors dropped from sight about 9 a.m. on Feb. 9. Corbett, who lived in Denver four years under the alias of Walter Osborne, told his landlady he was going to nearby Boulder to enroll in the University of Colorado.

2. A week after Corbett's disappearance, police at Atlantic City, N.J., found a 1961 yellow Mercury sedan blazing on a city dump. The vehicle had the same engine number as one which Corbett had purchased in Denver in January.

3. A foreman at Coors' home told authorities he saw a yellow car which resembled Corbett's near the spot where Coors' abandoned station wagon was found on a bridge spanning Turkey Creek. The car was seen several days prior to Feb. 9.

MOTOR IDLING

When a truck driver found Coors' station wagon abandoned on the bridge, the motor was idling and the radio was playing. Authorities found blood smears on the back of the front seat and on the bridge railing. They also found a long-visor cap Coors wore much of the time and the millionaire's plastic-rimmed glasses beside the creek below the bridge.

Even the bloodstains haven't proven a piece to the puzzle. Sheriff Art Wermuth, answering mostly "no comment" to questions about the case, claims it has not been determined whether the bloodstains were the same type as Coors'.

Coors' family remains in seclusion in their ranch-type home. His wife, Mary Grant Coors, and four children maintain hope their husband and father is still alive.

Soon after Coors' disappearance, Mrs. Coors asked officers to withdraw from the area surrounding her home, thus removing any obstacles that might stand in the way of possible ransom negotiations.

LETTERS RECEIVED

Authorities compiled. Some 15 or 20 letters, most of them demanding huge sums of ransom money, were received. They were believed the work of cranks and pranksters. None was followed up.

The FBI hasn't linked Corbett—publicly at least—with the Coors investigation. Agents insist Corbett's name was placed on the 10 most-wanted list because he escaped from a prison farm at Chino, Calif., in 1955. Corbett was serving a term for second-degree murder.

Corbett is known to be a gun fanatic. Often he went into the mountains alone for target shooting. FBI agents have given him the "extremely dangerous" label. It could be merely a coincidence that Corbett, a fugitive for five years, vanished the day after Coors' disappearance. It could also be coincidence that the FBI found out Corbett was living in Denver at approximately the same time Coors disappeared. It might be coincidence, too, that Corbett drove a yellow automobile, though none of his acquaintances knew about the car.

Only time will tell. The mystery involving perhaps not only one man but two lingers on.

Car Cement Job Proves Hard Case

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Joe Nelson is going to get a 1948 model automobile to replace his 1946 car which Bob Porter filled with wet cement.

Also, he's going to get another load of concrete for the driveway he plans to build.

Joe's old car is going to be displayed by the cement company with a sign reading, "We pour cement anywhere."

Joe and Bob shook hands and agreed to let bygones be bygones. The happy ending would up to day an incident which started when Nelson ordered the concrete and it was delivered by Porter.

Priest Charged In Rape Attempt

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A charge of assault with intent to rape were filed Friday against a Catholic priest, Father John B. Feit, 27.

The complaint was signed by Maria America Guerra, 20, a student at Pan American College.

Dist. Atty. Robert Lattimore said Miss Guerra charged she was grabbed from behind and a cloth pu, over her face while she was praying in Sacred Heart Catholic Church March 23. The Fronton, Tex., girl said she bit the assailant's finger and he fled.

Father Feit, from Chicago, was enrolled in the pastoral school at the San Juan Catholic Church near here. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1959 but was not assigned to the church.

Forsan Youth Hurt In Crash

Danny Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Henry of Forsan, was slightly injured when his car struck a tree near Paducah where he was visiting relatives.

The car rammed into the tree as Henry was attempting to shut an open door. His right arm was broken.

Henry was released from the hospital Thursday and returned home to Forsan yesterday.

Hot Weather, Good Moisture Prove Of Benefit To Crops

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Hot open weather and generally favorable moisture conditions in the crop zone make good growth toward maturity, says Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He reported this week that district agents said moisture will soon be needed to maintain present prospects.

Subsurface moisture in the Panhandle was short in most areas but grain sorghums were making good growth and range and cattle conditions were good.

Cotton and sorghums made excellent growth in the South Plains (Lubbock) where no rain fell during the week. Isolated heavy infestations of cotton insects were reported. Some cotton and sorghums are being irrigated. This will increase with dry, hot weather. Ranges are very good, with stock water adequate. Rain will be needed soon.

Surface moisture was adequate in all except four counties in the Rolling Plains (Vernon). Cotton was fruiting well. Bollworms and weevils are causing damage. A small acreage of sorghums has been harvested. The third cutting of alfalfa is being made.

Cotton farmers in North Central Texas wanted hot sunshine. The wet weather is making insect control difficult. Another cutting of hay will be made from many fields as a result of the rains. Livestock and pasture conditions are good.

Moisture is needed in some areas of Northeast Texas. Pastures are beginning to get short, and cotton, corn and sorghums in many counties need rain. Vegetables, peaches and melons are moving and sweet potatoes are making good growth.

In far West Texas, range and livestock conditions improved in recent rains. More moisture is needed for grass and crop growth. Cotton is growing well and fruiting heavily. Goat shearing is beginning.

Recent rains have helped ranges and field crops but top soils are drying rapidly in West Central Texas. Stock water is still short in some areas and row crops need rain. Cotton is making good progress with little insect damage. Livestock are in good condition. Sorghum has been harvested.

Soil moisture was adequate in the eastern counties and short in the western counties of Central Texas. Cotton is maturing. Insects are increasing. Corn and sorghums are maturing fast. Pastures are dry but livestock are doing well.

The hot weather has dried top soils especially in the western counties of deep East Texas. A general rain would help pastures and crops. The fruit and vegetable harvests are about complete. Cotton is making good growth.

Moisture is adequate and hay crops are making good growth as are ranges and pastures in South Central Texas. The sorghum harvest is well along. Livestock conditions are good.

Moisture is ample in the upper coastal counties and sorghum harvesting is progressing. Cotton is fruiting well. Some hay is being baled and some has been damaged by rains. Pastures are good.

Ranges in the Winter Garden area are greening from rains of two weeks ago. All other counties in far South Texas need rain. The cotton harvest in the Valley and Coastal Bend is in full swing.

Former Beauty Queen Denies She Mistreated Son

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Leona Gage—who served the briefest reign in history as Miss USA—denies that she mistreated her five-year-old son.

She pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of endangering a child's life, an accusation based on her mother-in-law's report that she beat young David Ennis with a belt.

David is one of her two sons by Air Force Sgt. Gene Ennis, to whom she was married when she won the Miss USA title at the Miss Universe contest of 1957. When her married state was discovered she was barred from the contest after holding the title 24 hours.

She later went to Las Vegas, Nev., divorced Ennis, and married dancer Nicholas Covacevich, by whom she now has a third child.

She was freed on $500 bail pending trial on the mistreatment charge Sept. 29.

Traffic Deaths

AUSTIN (AP) — Reports from the Department of Public Safety through noon Friday showed 1,206 persons killed this year in Texas traffic accidents. It compares with 1,285 at the same time last year.

Hot Weather General In State

By The Associated Press

Hot August weather was general over Texas Saturday. More of the same was in prospect for Sunday.

A few clouds built up along the coast from Houston to Beaumont but elsewhere skies were clear to partly cloudy.

Arrested

Mrs. Leona Gage Covacevich, who held the Miss USA title for one day in 1957 before it was discovered she was a Mrs., talks with newsmen at a Hollywood jail after being booked on a charge of "endangering a child's life." She was arrested following a report to police that she had beaten her son David, 4. She told officers she strapped the boy with a belt to keep him from playing with razor blades.

NEW WATER LINE READY

Water service in two subdivisions in South Big Spring will be cut off overnight Tuesday while a new water line is connected in the area.

The new line will be tied in the Douglas and Lockhart additions. This area is south of Wasson Rd. and west of the City Park, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

Residents in these subdivisions, as well as persons with individual service south, should draw as much water as they expect to need from 10 p.m. Tuesday until Wednesday morning. Dunn said the line should be in service by 7 a.m.

The line, which has been laid in the ground replacing the old line which ran across Suburban Hts., is a 14-inch feeder line from the O'Barr well field.

District Water Deliveries For July Above '59 Total

Water deliveries fell under the billion gallon mark during July, but the month considerably outstripped July of 1959, monthly production figures of the Colorado River Municipal Water District show.

O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager-production, reported a total of 967,914,000 gallons of water metered to district customers. This was 10.3 per cent above last July but it fell far short of the 1,168,745,000 gallons in June—the second highest month in district history.

The July total was impressive in view of widespread and heavy rains during the first part of the month, Ivie noted. All the cities were up substantially, while the oil repressuring projects dropped off as usual under the 8-day production pattern.

Odessa used 462,442,000 gallons in July, a gain of 11 per cent over the same month a year ago; Big Spring used 233,449,000, a gain of 24.8; Snyder 72,577,000, a gain of 18.5. The SACROC repressuring unit consumed 116,294,000 gallons, a decrease of 3.9 per cent; Sharon Ridge 34,506,000, a decline of 25 per cent. Texas Gulf used 5,122,000 gallons, a gain of 76 per cent. The daily average production was 31,223,000 in July, Ivie reported, whereas in June it had been 38,958,000. So far, August has been averaging around 40,000,000 gallons per day.

The July water demands boosted the total consumption of the CRMWD system to 5,285,715,000 gallons for the first seven months of the year, about seven per cent over the comparable period of last year.

Dag Proposes Katanga Assurance

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold proposed Saturday the U. N. Security Council firmly assure the rulers of dissident Katanga Province that U. N. military forces will keep hands off the Congo's internal affairs.

With that assurance, the U. N. secretary general told the council, the door may be opened to a solution of the explosive situation posed by Katanga Premier Moise Tshomba's decision to fight any U. N. forces that enter his territory.

Powers Family To Leave Today

NORTON, Va. (AP)—A middle-aged couple who admittedly don't like to travel far from their home in the southwest Virginia hills leave Sunday on the longest and most distressing trip of their lives.

Their destination is the Soviet Union and the spy trial of their only son, Francis Gary Powers.

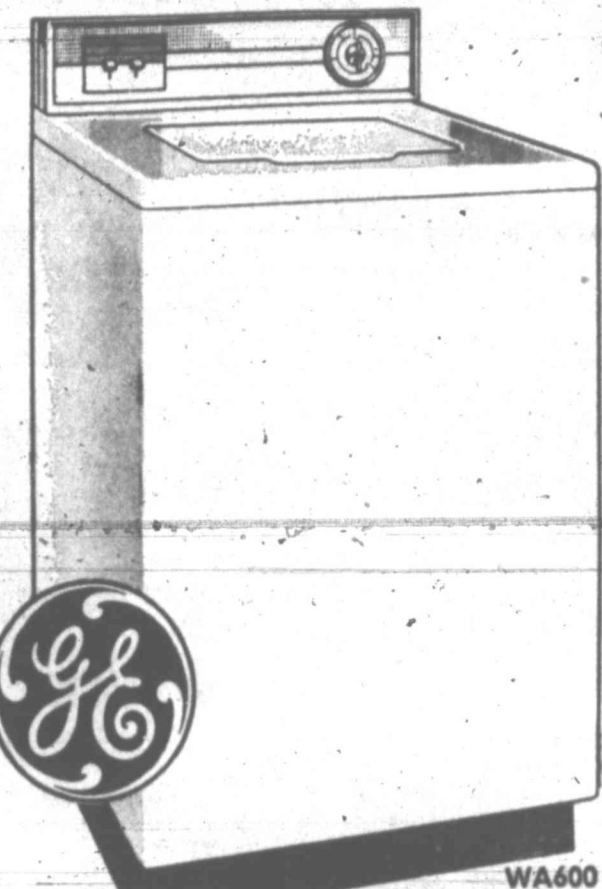

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Powers said Saturday they hope to arrive in Moscow before their son goes on trial Aug. 17. They will be accompanied by Sol W. Cury, home-town friend and adviser.

'Summer Rally' Not Seen On Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happens to the "summer rally," the stock market experts were talking about back in June?

The summer 1960 slump, which replaced the hoped-for rally, continued early this week as poor earnings (despite higher sales in many cases), dividend omissions and a tireless, leaderless market depressed prices. Late Thursday, however, what the analysts call a technical rally got underway and the market spent the rest of the week on the up beat.

Sleeping Woman Is Shot In Neck

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mrs. Alvina Robles, 46, was in a serious condition Saturday after being shot in the neck as she lay asleep in her home.

Five other members of the family escaped injury as four .22 caliber slugs struck the house shortly before 1 a.m.

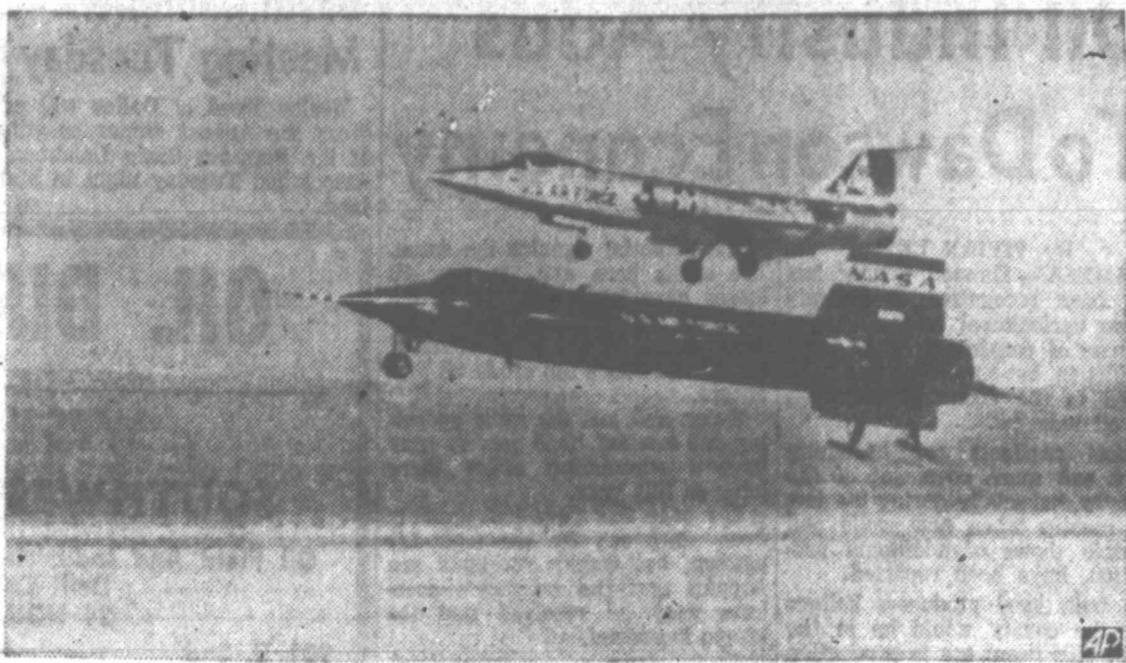

One of the bullets passed through a front bedroom window and hit Mrs. Robles as she lay in bed. Her husband, Reynaldo, who was beside her suffered a bruise on the left cheek, evidently from the slug which passed through his wife's neck.

Neighbors told police they heard six shots fired from two vehicles they saw near the Robles' home. Four children, 9 to 19, were asleep in bedrooms in the rear of the home, and were not hurt.

State Authorizes $13M In Securities

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Securities Board authorized $13,637,230 in securities for sale during July, State Securities Commissioner William King said Saturday.

The offerings included: Monarch Tile Manufacturing, San Angelo, 25,000 shares common, $225,000; and Technical Engineering Petroleum Service Co., Beaumont, 16,400 shares common $164,000.

End Of Record Run

The X15 rocket plane, piloted by Joe Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, settles to a landing at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., after flying 2,150 m.p.h., the fastest

Revenue Report

AUSTIN (AP)—Revenues collected by or credited to funds administered by the state comptroller totaled $569,417,132 in the state fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1959, State Auditor C. H. Caynes says. This was more than 29 million dollars over collections in 1958.

Major changes in tax laws have added to the work load of the state tax and radio, cosmetics and playing cards division, causing it to be "considerably behind" in processing quarterly cosmetics, radio, and television tax reports.

Refinery Fire Injures Seven

SILSBEE, Tex. (AP)—A Southamptton refinery fire sent seven construction workers to a Beaumont hospital with burns Friday.

The co-owner of the Motor Gasoline Refinery, M. Bowmer, said he was unable to determine the cause of the fire although some gas was escaping into the area.

About 200 men were working on a modification job and the refinery was shut down at the time.

The Silsbee men taken to the hospital were A. C. Herrington, Billy Odum, B. A. Balla, Fred Meyer, Robert Core, Al Williford, and A. Balla.

Demolition To Begin On Abilene Mall

ABILENE (AP)—Demolition work beginning this city's air-conditioned downtown shopping center-mall is scheduled to start Sept. 1.

The center will cover a block. Most entrances to stores will open toward the center of the block, permitting customers to walk from one business place to another with protection of air conditioning.

Most of the land has already been purchased for a second mall-shopping center.

The first shopping center is expected to be completed a little more than a year from now.

After both shopping centers are completed, plans call for a bridge across the street between them. Both centers will have parking on their roofs.

Thirty-four firms and corporations are stockholders of the developing company and most of the $700,000 capital stock has been paid into the company coffers. A loan for the rest of the cost, estimated at a million dollar total, will be needed.

The first shopping center will have 10 stores facing the air conditioned mall. Six of the 10 sites have been leased.

All the six are major, well-known stores, including Penney, G. C. Murphy Co., an Eastern variety store chain, Franklin's Women's Store, Thom McAn's shoe store, Lee Optical and Zale Jewelers. The mall-shopping center idea originated with Claude Stewart Jr., a former Nazarene minister who lived in Abilene while in high school.

The idea grew as he watched the recently-completed project of widening downtown streets.

The plan went through many trials and once was reorganized. The charter was amended and the project named Downtown Abilene Markets Inc. Stewart remained a director and stockholder.

The second shopping center has been capitalized at a half million dollars and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of downtown Abilene markets.

Moose For Meals Not At All Tiring

By WARD SIMS
LENA POINT, Alaska (AP)—You would think the kids at the Minfield Children's Home would tire of having moose for breakfast every day, not to mention lunch and dinner.

But, actually, the kids really go for the deal. The moose like the idea, too, all seven of them.

Lunch for the kids at the Minfield home, operated by the Gospel Missionary Union is a happy affair. Lunch for the moose at the Minfield home is absolute pandemonium.

Sam Nickel, chief counselor at the home, has children three to 15 years of age under his wing. The number varies. At last count there were 29. The children are native youngsters, orphaned or the products of broken home.

Nickel likes kids. He also likes moose. That's why, two years ago, during the start of an ambitious project to "establish" moose" in southeastern Alaska, Territorial Sportsmen, Inc., and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service came to Nickel for aid.

Would Nickel and his children provide daily care for 15 moose calves to be trapped in the Anchorage area and eventually be released in the Berner's Bay area 45 miles northwest of Juneau, where FWS studies had shown they would probably survive and multiply?

Nickel would, and moose pens were constructed in a large patch of brush and timber behind the home, which occupies a beautiful spot on a sheltered cove on Lena Point, just north of Juneau.

When the first moose calves arrived two years ago, the older boys at the home were each assigned an animal to care for, with Nickel and other counselors overseeing the operation.

The moose thrived and late in the summer of 1958 they were released at Berner's Bay. This spring a check of the Berner's Bay moose herd was made.

Eight full-grown moose actually were seen along with three calves born this year. The new Alaska moose herd was growing.

Eleven more moose calves were picked up in western Alaska and transported to the Minfield home this summer. Four died. The remaining seven appear to be healthy, alert animals.

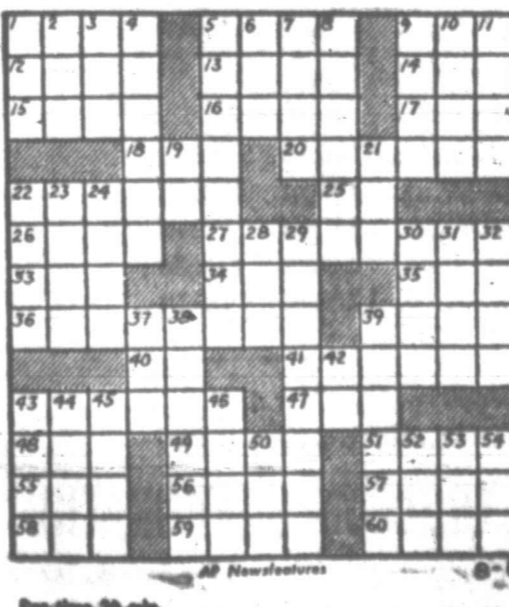

After they are released to join the moose already at Berner's Bay, it will be an estimated five to six years before the herd will be large enough for hunting.

LIFE FOR HIM HAS ITS UPS AND DOWNS
Jim Whitefield, Big Spring expert steer rider, shows why

Young Rodeo Rider Is Star Of Circuit

By ROB MARION
Jim Whitefield is a young man who has seen a lot of ups and downs in his life. As a rodeo rider, it's only natural that he would have seen both, but he's been up more than down as attested by his record. He was the American Junior Rodeo Association World's Champion bull rider last year, and runner up as a bareback rider. In 1958 he missed both titles by just one point. Last year he rode away with over two hundred dollars, a saddle and the title of All Around Cowboy of Howard County here in Big Spring. He will enter the event being held here the 11th, 12th and 13th of this month. Jim's father hoisted him in the saddle when he was 11-years-old. It wasn't long until he caught the rodeo fever and he's been riding ever since. "Rodeo is the worst fever in the world," the lean young man explained. "After you've ridden five or six times, you've got to ride some more. If you get thrown, you can't wait to try it again," he said. SAME EMOTIONS A cowboy waits his turn with the same emotions as any other sportsman. A little nervous, a little excited and maybe a little scared. The worst is when he is over the chute waiting to drop onto the horse. "When you're over the chute, you figure if you get down on that horse, you'll never ride another one," Jim explained. "Once on the horse everything is all right. The rider is so busy staying on and figuring what is going to happen next he doesn't have time to think of anything else. If a man makes a good ride, he thinks it over and tells himself maybe he'll try one more. When he is thrown, it's a different matter. "You always feel you could have gone the limit if it hadn't been for some little thing. You always know why you got bucked off and you can't wait to get on another horse," Jim stated. DON'T CONSIDER INJURY The cowboy never thinks about getting hurt. If he did, he probably wouldn't ride. The brown-haired Big Spring youth has been fortunate. He has been hurt seriously only once. In Tulsa, Texas in 1958 a horse pitched him and he landed "good-bye" with a hoof. A hitherto solid jaw was divided into seven pieces. After four or five days Jim left the hospital and not bothering to tell his parents of the accident, went to Andrews County where he took another title. To make his time, a rider has to stay aboard a pitching, stomping, rearing piece of contrary animal flesh for eight seconds. Many people probably think anyone could ride for eight seconds. It isn't long to stay in a nice solid chair, but a bull or horse can do a lot of things in eight seconds. And what they do can strain and pull every muscle in a person's body. "For some reason, you don't get sore and you're usually ready to go again next time," Jim said. After a rider has gone the limit in bare back riding, another horseman usually comes up and takes him off the horse. BULL RIDING DIFFERENT In bull riding, it's a different matter. "You're on your own there. You've got to get off as best you can. It's best to land on your feet—not to save those bruises, but to keep from getting some more," Jim explained. Thrown riders try to get to their feet as quickly as possible to stay out of the way of the flashing hooves and horns. "You can look yourself over to see if you're hurt after you get out of there," Jim grinned.

Jim believes bulls are harder to ride than horses, but that the horses require more skill. "You don't have to spur the bull," Jim said, "but you have to come way up high on the horses and keep raking them all during the ride." Bulls and horses perform all sorts of contortions and gyrations to get the rider off, but Jim thinks a spinning animal is the hardest to stay on. BUMPY REWARD The rodeo riders make up the purse from their own pockets. If a man is thrown, about all he gets is the bruises. "You have to win to stay with it," Jim said. As the animals that are good buckers move along from rodeo to rodeo in much the same manner as the riders do, it helps to know their characteristics. Some quick that led to a fall can be avoided by knowing what to expect next time. "It's pretty easy to win over $200 a week, but traveling takes a pretty big chunk of that," Jim said. The cowboys spend a good deal of time traveling from one city to another and often don't get much sleep. Jim has ridden in two to four events every weekend since March. He celebrated the July Fourth holidays by riding in five rodeos. He plans to ride one day here in Big Spring and make three other rodeos in the same week. He estimates he will travel some 2,500 miles. This year Jim is leading in both bareback riding and bull riding. "I don't think anyone can catch me in the bareback, but bull riding is going to be pretty close." The two other close contenders are Charles Engle of Big Spring and John Billy Koonsman of Snyder. MANY TROPHIES Jim, who lives with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Whitefield at 1301 Settles, has much to attest to his riding skill. One wall of his room is over half covered with pictures of him in action. On a dresser is a box holding part of the 24 championship buckles he has won. In his closet are 10 pairs of cowboy boots and western clothes he also won. In the living room are some saddles. Pictures are collected for a practical purpose. When Jim isn't riding or traveling, he works with his father as a plumber. In September he plans to return to Sam Houston State College where he will be an upper freshman. He believes he will major in animal husbandry. Now 19-years-old, Jim is making the circuit with the Junior Rodeo Association for the last time this year. Next year he will become a professional and move into an even tougher competition class.

MANY TOP-HANDS 4-H Rodeo On Hand Thursday

The Fifteenth Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo opens Thursday with a downtown parade at 4:30 p.m. followed by regular rodeo events that night at 8 p.m. in the Rodeo Bowl, just west of town. The young cowboys will compete for approximately $3,000 in prize money during the three day event which ends Saturday. All performances begin at 8 p.m. Other incentives for the riders are trophy buckles for the winner in each of the ten events and a saddle for the all around cowboy of the show. The Howard County Rodeo is sanctioned by the American Junior Rodeo Association. All points won by riders here are accepted by the Association. 150 ENTRIES EXPECTED County Agent Jimmy Taylor said that 150 entries from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana are expected to take part in the Howard County 4-H Club sponsored event. Members of 4-H clubs, their parents and leaders do all the work connected with the rodeo. Directors of the event this year are Rodney Brooks, Tommy Newman, Jay Creighton, Wanda Boatler, and Skipper Driver. Another director, Jimmy Engle, was killed in an auto accident Thursday morning. Events in the rodeo include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, bull riding, ribbon roping, barrel racing, pole bending, goat roping, a wild calf race, boot scramble and goat sacking. Buckles for the winner in each event are donated by local donors. Hoyle and Ben Nix donated the calf roping buckle, Loy Acuff, the barrel race, D&M Salvage, the ribbon roping, Security State Bank, the pole bending buckle, State National Bank, the goat roping, Wards Boot and Saddle Shop the bull riding and the First National Bank the bareback bronc buckle. TICKETS ON SALE Admission to the events is one dollar for adults and 50 cents for children. Tickets are on sale now at Wards Boot and Saddle Shop. Tickets may also be purchased from the county agent's office, the chamber of commerce or club members. Bucking stock for the show is being furnished by the 4-H Club and Donald Lay of Coahoma. "The stock is plenty rough," Taylor said. "It is the same stock used in amateur shows where adults compete." The stock, which is being brought here from Post, will begin arriving today. Club members will tend them until the rodeo begins. Toots Mansfield will be the field judge and Dub Bryant of Big Spring will announce the events. Funny man of the show will be Kenneth Williams of Big Spring who also worked last year's event. Riding judges will be elected by the contestants just before the first show begins. The parade opening the show will gather at 2nd and Goliad, go down 2nd Street to Runnels and then to 1st Street, over to Scurry, up to 2nd Street and down 2nd to Main and 3rd and then west on 3rd Street. "Everybody in the county who has a horse is invited to come in and ride in the parade," Taylor said. Forces Mobilized ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — President Kwame Nkrumah said today he will ask Parliament Monday for authority to mobilize all forces in Ghana for duty in the Congo crisis.

Road Deaths Set New High

Howard County got through July with no fatal traffic accidents but the Midland District, comprising 24 counties of which this is one, had a bad month of it, indeed. Capt. Ray Butler, of the Midland Highway Patrol, District 4-A, said that traffic fatalities in the district reached an all time high during July. "Eighteen persons died in July; nineteen four others were injured as a result of 129 reported accidents in the 24 county area," he said. "More people died in July of this year than in any other month of this year. May is next highest with 15 deaths." Ector County had 10 fatalities during the month including nine deaths in one collision. This was the worst accident in the West Texas area since reorganization of the Department of Public Safety in 1957. Howard County, although it escaped having any fatality chalked against it, had six accidents and in three of these there were personal injuries. Four individuals had to have medical attention as a result of these mishaps. Property damage in the six accidents amounted to $4,165.

Crushed To Death DALLAS (AP) — Walter Lavene Traethen Jr., 17, of Galveston was thrown from a car and crushed to death beneath a truck here Friday night.

Training Course Is Planned By YMCA

A training course for adult leaders of youth groups has been scheduled at the YMCA here Aug. 22, 23, 25 and 26, according to J. M. (Bobo) Hardy, director. Classes will be held at 7 p.m. each day of the course. Although the course is primarily designed for adult leaders of groups at the YMCA, Hardy said that as long as room is available, adult representatives of any other youth groups, such as churches, will be accepted. All adult leaders, however, including those regularly working with YMCA groups, should make reservations for the course by calling the YMCA as soon as possible, Hardy said. Seven classes are slated for the course, along with a concluding workshop. Hardy, along with Joe Leach and Everett Taylor, YMCA staff members, will conduct the course. Two classes will be conducted each of the four days. On Aug. 22, Leach will discuss the history, philosophy, organization and characteristics of the YMCA and Taylor will take up Christian education in the YMCA program. Taylor is slated to discuss the techniques and principles of working with a group during the Aug. 23 session, while the entire staff is to explain records and resources. On Aug. 25, Hardy will instruct classes in discipline and in understanding the youngster. Two films dealing with adolescence and grade school age children will also be shown. The final day of the course will be given over to a class on program techniques conducted by Hardy, and work groups. Leaders attending all sessions will receive a certificate that they are qualified group workers in the YMCA program.

Big Menu For Fete

CASTROVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A few more parties like the one this Southwest Texas town plans Sunday, Aug. 21, would go a long way toward getting rid of Uncle Sam's farm surplus. Last year, the guests at the St. Louis Day celebration put away: 7,200 pounds of meat, 1,500 pounds of potato salad and cole slaw, 3,000 pieces of cake, 3,000 sausages, 14,000 bottles of beer, And 4,000 bottles of soft drinks. This year they're expected to eat even more. Planners for the celebration expect around 10,000 persons to jam the 116-year-old village, normal population 1,500 in what is billed as the oldest and biggest homecoming celebration in South Texas.

City Residents At Big Reunion

Fourteen persons from Big Spring are among the 3,000 Texans invited to the fourth annual Texas Rehabilitation Center Reunion, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation. The event, being held today, is a get-together for former patients of the center. Former patients gather for a day of activity, to meet old friends from their stay at Warm Springs, and to make new ones that share their same handicap or a similar one. Last year, more than 300 disabled Texans went to Warm Springs, located between Gonzales and Luling near Palmetto State Park, for the August gathering. The meeting is sponsored by the TRC Former Patients Association, which is the only one of its kind in the United States. The members have two common interests. Each has been handicapped as a result of some injury or disease, and each has received rehabilitation treatment at the Center.

DEAR ABBY

HE'S NO GOOD

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 19-year-old daughter is in love with a 22-year-old Marine. He didn't finish high school, has no ambition and will probably never amount to anything. He has had one marriage failure and has to support his wife and two children.

He borrows money from my daughter, calls her collect to check up on her and accuses her of going out with other men. The worse he treats her, the more she defends him. Is there anything I can do to get it through her head that he is no good?

DEAR ABBY: I have my 37-year-old mother-in-law with me and I am at the end of my rope. She is the world's biggest trouble-maker. She tells my husband I like every man I talk to. First it was the janitor, then the insurance collector. Now she makes up stories about my having men callers.

My husband says not to pay any attention to her because she is getting a little crazy in the head. She is crazy like a fox. She hides things and says I stole them.

Marines Ready In Asian Waters

HONG KONG (AP)—The U.S. Navy has announced a Marine battalion landing team is being assigned to duty afloat in Asian waters "to further readiness of the 7th Fleet."

The announcement did not suggest the move was motivated by any new emergency. It appeared to be part of long-range U.S. planning.

The announcement by Vice Adm. Charles D. Griffin, commander of the 7th Fleet, said the move will provide the Marine units involved—which will rotate every two months—with amphibious training.

Forsan Sets Plans For New School Year

FORSAN—Freshmen and sophomore Forsan High School students will begin registration Aug. 25 with juniors and seniors registering the following day. Joe Holladay, superintendent, made the announcement.

Principals will meet Aug. 29 and 30. Teachers will meet Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2.

The school year will begin Sept. 6 with buses making regular routes and lunches being served in the school cafeteria. Students will return home at 4 p.m.

Elementary students living on the two southernmost streets of the Lockhart Addition and to the east and along Highway 87 and in the Silver Heels Addition in Big Spring will attend the Forsan School.

All other elementary pupils living in the Elbow School District will continue to attend the Elbow Elementary School.

Separate bus schedules have been arranged for the schools. Several new high school courses will be offered if enrollment justifies them. They are Spanish I, bookkeeping, shorthand and first and second level typing.

The facilities of both schools are complete.

McEwen Named To TADA Post

R. R. McEwen Jr., manager of the McEwen Motor Company here, has been named an associate director of the Texas Automotive Dealers Association, the state-wide association of factory authorized new car and truck dealers.

McEwen's appointment was announced by D. Mitchell, Waco, President of TADA, an organization of more than 1,000 Texas new car dealers with headquarters in Austin.

The Texas Automotive Dealers Association has a history of more than 40 years of service and is one of the largest associations of its kind in the nation," Mitchell said. "Its purpose is to establish a higher plane of commercial integrity for those engaged in the new car and truck business and to work together to provide the maximum in service to the buying public. We are extremely proud to have a man of McEwen's calibre accept this position of responsibility and leadership with our association."

In this post McEwen will maintain close contact with all new car and truck dealers in this area and will work directly with TADA area director, Cecil Elder of Midland.

Maris Clubs Two Homers As NY Rips Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Roger Maris walloped two homers and drove in six runs Saturday as the New York Yankees smothered the Kansas City Athletics 16-4 and maintained their 2½-game lead in the American League.

Southpaw Bill Short and Duke Maas subdued the A's hitters with the exception of Bill Tuttle, who hit two solo home runs.

Malzone Leader In Red Sox Win

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Malzone hit a double, triple and his 11th home run Saturday, sparking the Boston Red Sox to an 11-9 triumph over Detroit after the Tigers blew a five-run lead.

The loss was the 15th in 20 games for the Tigers and their second straight since Joe Gordon replaced Jimmie Dykes as manager.

Ozzie Virgil and Rocky Colavito belted first inning home runs off starter Frank Sullivan and the Tigers made it look like a rout in the second, scoring three more against Tom Sturdivant for a 6-1 lead.

9 Easements On IS 20 Loop Have Been Officially Closed

Negotiations for the acquisition of right of way easements on IS 20 for the loop road around Big Spring on U.S. 80 are progressing satisfactorily.

Nine easements have already been obtained. Conferences with the state over Big Spring State Hospital and the U.S. Experiment Station land and with the U.S. government over Webb Air Force Base property are under way. No difficulty is anticipated in these matters but it takes a lot of time, according to E. W. Couch, Abilene, district right of way chief for the State Highway Commission to work out deals with governmental agencies.

Couch said that the attitude of the people involved in the road project has been remarkably cooperative. He said that his representatives are making the property owners two propositions—one to buy just the real estate needed and leave the owner in possession of any improvements and, two, to purchase both land and improvements.

He pointed out that making decisions on matters of this kind, where homes have to be removed and where long occupied premises are taken, are always difficult. "The people we have approached have been most helpful and considerate," he said. "We are deeply appreciative of their attitude. It is making our task much simpler."

John E. Pierce, an agent for the right of way department in the Abilene District Engineers office, is in charge of local negotiations. Purchases made so far are mostly on the west end of the loop route. A few have been worked out at the point where U. S. 87 is intersected. In all, 76 property owners will have to be contacted and deals worked out before all of the needed right of way is obtained. Couch said the bulk of the right of way is on the north side of the route and will not disturb property owners whose holdings are to the south.

A small tract of land, owned by the city of Big Spring, has been acquired, he said.

No deadline for completing the easement work has been set.

Thieves Hit Zora's Cafe

Burglars entered Zora's Cafe, 1100 Lamesa Highway, Friday night and made off with 56 packs of cigarettes and $50 to $60 from coin operated machines, police reported Saturday.

Earlene Cathy reported two fishing reels, some clothing and an electric iron missing from her trailer house in the rear at 201 Young.

A vacant house at 1801 Alabaster was reported stolen in the Friday but the damage from the vandalism was light.

Gals Object To Curfew Law

MANORBIER, Wales (AP) — Twenty-one British army girls who complained an army curfew was wrecking their love life were told off today by their commanding officer, a woman major.

The girls apologized. They had staged a midnight protest against a regulation requiring them to be back in camp by 11 p.m. They refused to move until an army patrol—all men—was sent out to herd them into the camp guardhouse.

"We felt we were being treated like children and that we were not being trusted," said Pvt. Elizabeth McConnachie, 17, a leader of the mutiny. "A lot of the girls' boy friends were displeased at having to bring them back so early. It was very frustrating."

Later, they were brought before the commanding officer, Maj. Joan Crooke. One of the girls said Maj. Crooke gave them a "good telling off."

The girls are in the Women's Royal Army Corps, known as the WRACs.

Two Members FHA Committee Are Selected

Edgar L. Phillips of Howard County and Arnie W. Schraeder of Glasscock County were appointed to the Farmer's Home Administration Committee as representatives of their counties according to Lee R. Tunnel, agency county supervisor for the two counties.

Phillips owns and operates a cotton farm near Ackerly. Schraeder has a farm located in the St. Lawrence community. They were selected for the committee because of their knowledge of farming and ranching.

Other members of the Howard County committee are James H. Fryar, Big Spring, county chairman for the fiscal year of 1961 and Marion M. Edwards of Coahoma.

Doris Blissard, Garden City and Sidney F. Hirt, Garden City are the two other Glasscock members.

Members are appointed for three year terms. Phillips succeeds E. P. Driver and Schraeder replaces Carl E. Hightower.

The committee determine the eligibility of applicants for loans and reviews borrowers' progress. They also aid the county supervisor in adapting loan policies to local conditions. Members are selected to represent different areas or neighborhoods.

Logical Reason

TUCSON, Ariz. (U.S.A.C. Eric E. Goodrich of Davis-Monthan Air Force Base was asked to explain Friday how he won a base safe driving award for the first half of the year.

"I haven't the faintest idea how I won," he replied. "I haven't owned a car since February."

Near-Record Cotton Crop Indicated For Plains Area

LUBBOCK—The first estimated production total of the Texas High Plains 1960-61 cotton crop for the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is announced as 1,899,000 bales.

If produced, such a crop would be the second largest crop in history ever harvested off the High Plains, being topped only by the more than two million bales harvested in 1958. Production this past year, 1959-60 was 1,869,353 bales.

The estimated production total of 1,899,000 bales is expected off total 23-county allotments this year of 2,263,395 acres and standing acreage as of Aug. 1, totals approximately 2,175,000 acres.

Condition of the cotton crop as of Aug. 1 was given as good to excellent. Hot, dry summer weather during July enabled the crop to do some "catching up" and most agricultural observers see the crop as perhaps somewhat late this year, but still in good shape. Some dryland cotton is reported to be in the best condition in the past 10 to 20 years. One more shower or rain in late August will insure a good production. Irrigated cotton is again being watered in some areas. Thus far insects have not been too much of a problem. Control measures have kept the situation in check.

Below are production estimates for 1960, with 1960 allotments and 1959 production by county:

Music was furnished by Mrs. David Gibson at the piano, and Sue Barron, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of peau de sole combined with Chantilly lace. The molded bodice of lace featured shirred elbow-length sleeves with scalloped outlining the rounded neckline encrusted with iridescent sequins, pearls and seed pearls. The immense skirt, in princess lines, featured alternate gores of peau de sole and lace and extended into a chapel train.

Her veil of illusion fell from a tiny Juliet cap of pearls and the bride wore a lavalliere belonging to her maternal grandmother. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white roses.

Elena Esmond was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were her sister, Mrs. Robert L. Smith,

Perdue-McRorey Vows Pledged By Candlelight

Wedding vows pledged in a candlelit ceremony Saturday evening joined in marriage Judy Delores Perdue and Dwayne McRorey.

The rite was performed by Doyle Maynard, a cousin of the bridegroom who is a Church of Christ minister, in the First Methodist Chapel. It was a double ring nuptial.

The wedding party stood before an arch decorated with greenery and centered with a prie dieu. Arrangements of white gladioli and palms, along with four candelabra, completed the altar decorations. Selections included "O, Perfect Love" and "Always," with "The Wedding Prayer" sung while the couple knelt for the prayer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Perdue of 108 E. 15th. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ferguson of Allendale Road are the parents of the bridegroom.

BRIDAL GOWN

Mr. Perdue gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a gown of tulle over white silk tulle. The lace apron-like effect in front was highlighted with a lace half-overskirt in the back that tapered into a cathedral length train edged with wide rows of the lace. The fitted bodice formed a deep point in front and back at the waistline. The sabrina neckline was scalloped, and the shirred sleeves were accented by long lace mitts that extended to petal points over Miss Perdue's hands. A Juliet cap decorated with lace roses and seed pearls held the waist-length veil of illusion.

The bride carried a cascade ar-rangment of orchids atop a white Bible that was borrowed from her cousin, Mrs. J. L. Eldridge of Del Rio. She wore new pearl earrings and carried as something old a white handkerchief that belonged to her mother. A blue garter had been worn by several friends before Miss Perdue wore it. For luck she carried in her shoe a penny that was given to her by her father.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Boy May Jr. of Hollywood, Ark., an aunt of the bride. She was attired in pastel pink organza over tulle. The full skirt was accented with a pink satin cummerbund. The bodice had slender straps. White picture hats held streamers of pink, and Mrs. May wore pink elbow-length gloves. She carried a nosegay of pink flowers tied with pink ribbon.

Jeri Ann Rogers of Texarkana, Tex., and Pat Johnson were bridesmaids. Their gowns were designed as the matron's of honor, but in pastel green and blue. Serving as best man was Phil Pace of Duncan, Okla. Groomsman were Johnny Roy Phillips and Charles Morris. Guests were ushered by a brother of the bride, Ricky Perdue, and a cousin of the bridegroom, Larry Marshall.

A navy blue suit with white trimming was worn by the new Mrs. McRorey for the wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo. She wore an orchid from her bouquet. After their return from their wedding trip, the McRoreys will live at 2703 D 46th Street in Lubbock. McRorey is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Abilene Christian College where he was a member of the Trojan social club and the golf team. He will attend Texas Tech this year as a pre-dental student. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School also, and attended Howard County Junior College one semester. She plans to attend Draughon's Business College in Lubbock.

RECEIVING GUESTS

Mrs. Tommy Hutto, the newlyweds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. McRorey and the bride's attendants greeted guests in the First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

The refreshment table for the reception was covered with a floor-length skirt of silk organza over satin. Blue carnations centered the table and the attendants' nosegays surrounded the base of the silver punch bowl.

The three-tiered bridal cake had an arrangement of confection roses on top.

Guests were registered by Sherry Lurting and Mrs. Hugh Rogers. Members of the house party included Pat Arnold, Judi Simpson, Jane Cowper, Kay McGibbon, Rosalie DeVaney of Coahoma, Gloria Coker, Karen Kee, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Elmore, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogan, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thason, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pace of Duncan, Okla.

Coming from out-of-town for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Marshall, E. L. and Jan of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Marshall of Bovina; Mr. and Mrs. Merle McRorey of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Ferguson of Albuquerque, N. M.

Parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Coker's Restaurant, using a traditional bridal theme in appointments.

The bridegroom presented gifts to his attendants. About 23 were present for the affair.

A bridesmaids luncheon was given Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Tommy Hutto for the feminine members of the wedding party and the out-of-town guests. Mrs. Dean Forrest and Dorothy Baker were cohostesses with Mrs. Hutto.

Family Gathering To Note 50th Anniversary

A young widow with a small son had no idea that romance was ahead of her when she came to Big Spring from her home in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Ella Clara Wheeler journeyed here to make her home with her late husband's parents, and it was in Big Spring that she met George W. Neill, who had arrived from Indiana.

The two were married Aug. 10, 1910, by the Rev. John Thomas in the Presbyterian manse, and today an open house will mark their 50th wedding anniversary. The Sunday date was chosen for the convenience of a son, Mrs. and Mrs. G. W. Neill Jr., who live in Austin.

Friends will call at the home 1503 E. 3rd, during the afternoon to visit with the Neills who have lived in Big Spring all 50 years of their marriage. Neill, an employee of the Texas and Pacific Railway before his retirement in 1949, also farmed at a spot in the vicinity of Cosden Refinery.

For the day's celebration, there will be a three-tiered cake, frosted in yellow, and a centerpiece of golden leaves and yellow chrysanthemums; the figure, 50, will be based in the floral arrangement.

Assisting with the entertainment will be the couple's children, some of their 21 grandchildren and a few of their 10 great-grandchildren.

Besides the junior Neills of Austin, other children are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wheeler of Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Knowles, all of Big Spring.

Saturday evening a family picnic will be the entertainment for the group when they gathered at the home of the Carrolls on Gail Road.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. NEILL

Great-Grandmother Here For Tot's Party

Little Ralph Newman Jr. is a tot who has the distinction of having his great-grandmother and his great-uncle present for the celebration of his first birthday anniversary. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newman of Lomax.

Great-grandmother is Mrs. Ella Stolz of Amarillo; the aunt is Miss Thelma Stolz, also of Amarillo. The two have been guests in the Newman home.

'ROUND TOWN

It's been "Grandchildren Week" around the W. F. TAYLOR home. JAMES ATWOOD of Belen, N.M., came to visit his grandparents after a fishing trip to Greer, Ariz.

FEN TAYLOR arrived on the scene after a fishing trip to Colorado. He is from O'Donnell.

After visiting an aunt and uncle in Dallas, JANE CAVE of Roby came to visit her grandparents.

Boy Scout grandson STEVE ATWOOD, of Belen, N. M., came to visit his grandparents in between Scout camps. This summer he has attended the Wilderness Trek near Cuba, N. M., Philmont Camp in the Cimmaron River canyon of New Mexico and the National Jamboree in Colorado Springs, Colo. While at Philmont, Steve was in a tornado that hospitalized four of his group. Next destination for the young man is Aquatics Camp at Concho Dam, N. M., where the Scouts will spend five hours a day swimming and boating.

Fen, Jane and Steve have now gone to Roby to visit in the O. B. Cave home.

The Taylors are also assisting in entertaining John, Cindy and Mark as their parents, MR. AND MRS. JOHN TAYLOR, spend the weekend in Ruidoso. The other grandparents, MR. AND MRS. M. C. STULTING, are helping.

MRS. IRENE O'BRIEN has been hosting her daughter, MRS. J. M. SIMMONS of Clyde, and her grandson, MELVIN EUGENE SIMMONS, of Boston, Mass., over the weekend. This is the first time in six years the grandson has been able to come home.

The LAWRENCE ROBINSONS, 802 E. 17th, are grandparents again. They received word early

Saturday morning of a son born to MR. AND MRS. HAROLD HICKS in Berger. The youngster, who had not been named at the time the call was made, weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces.

MRS. GLADYS HICKS, 711 Rannels, is the paternal grandmother.

It took five days for the TED GROEBELS, TEDDY JR. and MOZELLE to get to Honolulu on board the Lurline; coming back, they made the trip by jet in four hours and 45 minutes—swoosh!

Now they plan to be off soon to Ruidoso where they will meet the BERNE COUGHLINS of Odessa, former Big Springers.

Overnight guests in the home of MRS. B. L. LEFEVER, 1710 Johnson, were her sister and her children, MRS. LEON CHURCHILL, LEANNE and KENT, of Abilene. The trio is on the way to California, where they will visit the John Andrews family in La Jolla.

Houston residents, MR. and MRS. J. H. BARKER, are visiting her sister and family, MR. and MRS. J. P. CAUBLE.

It probably seemed pretty quiet around the BROWN ROGERS household at 612 Dallas Thursday afternoon. They had been entertaining MR. and MRS. E. J. PIERSON of Fort Worth and their grandsons, MIKE and PAUL STELL, who left that afternoon. They had been to Carlsbad Cavern and were returning home.

The boys are staying with their grandparents while their parents, MR. and MRS. GARLAND STELL, are studying in the University of Texas after several years spent in Venezuela.

Forsaners Added, Move Out Of Town

FORSAN — New residents to this community are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Daniels and their children. Daniels is employed by Forsan Oil Well Service.

Miss Hancock Takes Vows With R. Wilson

LAMESA — The Lamesa Church of the Nazarene was the scene of the Friday evening marriage of Judy Carol Hancock and Ronald Gene Wilson. The Rev. Bob Wornack of Abilene was the officiating clergyman for the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hancock and Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Wilson.

The Rev. Darrell Moore of Abernathy, vocalist, was accompanied by Nelda Emberton, pianist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Flanking the wedding archway laced with greenery were baskets of gladioli and cathedral tapers in pedestaled candleholders. Lighted candles also marked the sanctuary aisles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of imported Chantilly lace over tulle and satin designed with high neckline framed with up-standing collar; the fitted bodice buttons in front, long sleeves tapered to points over the hands and a waltz length skirt of lace stemmed from the bodice with center front point and edged in hand-clipped scallops of lace.

A headband of seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion, imported from Germany, and she carried a bouquet of carnations which encircled an orchid.

Diane Hancock was her sister's maid of honor, and Kenneth Wilson attended his brother as best man. Bridesmaids were Lyn Taylor, Ann Neeley and Donna Stephens.

The feminine attendants and the flower girls, Faira Kay Huffaker and Debbie Goyne of Corpus Christi wore dresses of orchid brocade taffeta fashioned with large puff sleeves, fitted bodices and full pleated skirts. Their headbands of orchid velvet were embellished with tulle flowers of orchid and they carried roses with orchid streamers.

Serving as groomsmen were Ronnie Spears, Joel Fletcher and Kenny Barron. Ushers were the bride's cousin, James Towns of Muleshoe, and Leslie Williams. Candlelighters were Jana Spruill of Abernathy, Judy Meares and Jimmy Winford, uncle of the bride. The bridegroom's nephew, Kenny Wilson, was ring bearer.

Orchid and white predominated in the colors used to decorate the Lamesa Women's Study Club where the wedding reception was held.

When the newlyweds departed for Ruidoso, N. M., and Colorado Springs, Colo., for a wedding trip, the new Mrs. Wilson was wearing a navy silk suit with white accessories. She attended Lamesa High School and was a member of the Booster Club, FTA and FHA.

Her husband, who also attended the Lamesa schools, is farming in the Sand community. They will reside at 1107 N. 11th St.

Wedding guests were present from Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, Pecos, Lubbock, Abernathy, Abilene, Odessa, Midland, Clovis and Hobbs, N. M.

West Texas Is Choice Of The Mel Stinsons

"It seems like everyone wants to come back to West Texas once they have lived here," agree the Mel Stinsons.

Mel and Phyllis have recently moved to Big Spring with their two children, 10-year-old Steve and 7-year-old Pat, to go into business. The couple has opened Big Spring Automotive Supply, a wholesale automotive supply company. They moved here from the Spring Branch section of Houston.

"We chose Big Spring because we think that it is right in the middle of a growing area," Stinson says. "This is the size town to rear our children in, too. Then, we were homesick for West Texas!"

Moving with the couple were Dixie and Trixie, two female toy Manchester dogs. These tiny dogs — that resemble Chihuahuas — are one of the healthiest breeds of the smaller canines.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinson met while attending Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Mel's home town. Mrs. Stinson is a native of San Angelo.

Phyllis Stinson enjoys sewing and upholstering. She likes what she terms "the wilder colors" in decorating, and her living room is furnished on the contemporary Japanese theme.

"I guess this all started with the Japanese tea set Mel brought back while in the Navy," she relates.

Mel is interested in motors and water, so enjoys boating. His son seems to be following in his steps, for Steve is an avid fan of go-carts. He has one of the little cart's motors, but is still waiting for the car's body.

Second grader Pat is the quiet one in the family. At 7 years of age she is already interested in clothes. Her prime interest are the dogs, however, and Dixie and Trixie might well be her children the way she takes care of them.

Ex-Resident Is Bride In Corpus Christi Rite

Sandra Ann Belew became the bride of Edward Brian Barber in the chapel at the U. S. Naval Base in Corpus Christi Saturday evening.

Kathy Phillips Is Guest Of Parents

STANTON—Kathy Phillips, who spent two years in Okinawa, has returned and is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Phillips.

Miss Phillips visited a number of countries while there teaching school. At a recent meeting at the local First Methodist Church, she showed slides of Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, Japan and Okinawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Graves and children of Coahoma have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves.

Mrs. Mildred Ballard and Rita of Santa Monica, Calif., have been visitors in the home of her mother, Mrs. Eula Eubanks for the past ten days.

Bobby Holland is out of town visiting relatives in East Texas and in New Mexico.

Brighteners

Cotton terry cloth towels, designed for use in the kitchen, do a wonderful job of drying dishes, but their brightly printed patterns also make them ideal for kitchen curtains, table mats, and chair cushions. Cafe curtains are made by attaching brass clips to one end of colorful kitchen terris. The towels come in a 16 by 30 inch hemmed size.

Chaplain Salter of the base before the bride of Edward Brian Barber in the chapel at the U. S. Naval Base in Corpus Christi Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carter Belew of Corpus Christi, former residents of Big Spring. R. W. Barber of Bloomington, Calif., is father of the bridegroom.

Vocalist Kay Thomas sang two selections, "Because" and "O, Promise Me."

The bride's father gave her in marriage. For the wedding, she chose a street length frock of white organdy over taffeta, made shirtwaist style with full sleeves. Pearls enhanced the dress. A shoulder length veil floated from a headpiece of white taffeta.

On a white Bible, the bride carried flores diamonds; the Bible she named as something old; her wedding attire was new; Mrs. Jack Greenway of Big Spring, sister of the bride, furnished a garter, which was the borrowed and blue item.

Mrs. John Kennamer, who attended as matron of honor, wore a street length dress of pink organza.

Randall Glynn Woods was best man, and Len Strable was the usher. Deborah Sue Belew, sister of the bride, was flower girl; her dress, of white organdy, was accented with a cummerbund laced with yellow ribbon.

A reception was held for about 20 guests following the ceremony. Gathering at the Robert Driscoll Hotel, they were served small individual wedding cakes with punch.

After a trip to San Antonio, the couple will make a home at 654 Roberts Drive, Corpus Christi, where the bridegroom is stationed. He is a graduate of San Angelo High School. The bride was graduated from W. B. Ray High School, Corpus Christi.

MRS. EDWARD BRIAN BARBER

Former Resident Is Married In Lamesa

LAMESA — The Rev. Rush J. Barnett, pastor, officiated for a double ring marriage ceremony in the First Christian Church here at 4 p.m. Saturday, uniting Lynne Lee Porter and Jimmie Ray Shearer.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Porter, graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Texas Tech. She is presently employed in the personnel office for Furr Food Stores, Lubbock. The Porters are former residents of Big Spring.

Shearer, son of Mrs. Walter R. Shearer of Plainview and the late Mr. Shearer, graduated from the Plainview schools and Texas Tech. An administrative assistant to the city manager in Lubbock, he is doing graduate work in public administration at Tech.

Mrs. Fred Sanders was organist and Mrs. H. E. Morris, vocalist, for the traditional wedding music. Baskets of white gladioli in fan-shaped arrangement stood before a background of greenery at the altar and the church pews were marked with satin ribbons.

Porter gave his daughter in marriage. Her waltz length dress featured a Chantilly lace bodice with elbow sleeves and rounded neckline, and a silk organza skirt, fully shirred over taffeta.

Her illusion veil was shoulder length; she wore a strand of pearls belonging to an aunt, Mrs. C. E. Sledge, and carried an heirloom handkerchief, belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. B. E. King. Her flowers were white roses, which were arranged on a white Bible.

Alice Doering of Kerrville was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of pink chiffon over taffeta fashioned with a bouffant skirt.

Ken Owen of Plainview attended the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were the bride's brothers, John and Michael Porter.

The Porter home was the scene of the wedding reception. Members of the houseparty included Tahika Niemeyer; Mrs. Enoch Blewett, Lubbock; Mrs. C. E. Sledge, Dallas; Mrs. Ken Owen, Plainview, and Anna Murphy Kinsey.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride was wearing a toast peasant silk suit with lizard accessories. Upon their return, about Aug. 20, they will reside at 301 Ave I, Lubbock.

Keep Clean

On a vacation trip by car, take along several sleeves cut from old garments. Then if it is necessary for the driver to make emergency car repairs, it is easy to slip these on and hold them up with rubber bands to protect sleeves of coat or shirt.

ENGAGEMENT IS REVEALED

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Boyette of Stanton has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Wanda Merline, to Robert Richard Cranford of McNeil, Ark. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Cranford of the Arkansas town. The couple will take the wedding vows at 6 p.m. Sept. 22 in the First Baptist Church, Stanton.

Formal Ceremony Unites Leta Cope, Tom Shearer

LAMESA — Wearing a wedding gown belonging to her cousin, Mrs. J. C. Norris, Leta Gene Cope became the bride of Tommy Charles Shearer in a ceremony read at 4 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cope, and Shearer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Shearer of Colorado City.

Wedding music was presented by Lavoy Miller, organist, and Owen C. Taylor, vocalist.

Cope escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. Her gown of ivory slipper satin was designed with basque bodice which featured a decollete with sweetheart lines and long tapering sleeves; the immense skirt from an elongated waistline fell to a long graceful train in back while intricate hand applied leaf patterns of satin and tulle were used to outline the neckline of the gown and either side of a front panel.

The bride's illusion veil was attached to a crown of sequins and pearl beads, and she carried a white Chantilly lace fan beneath a white orchid and showers of Stephanotis.

Mrs. Jimmie Robinson was matron of honor. Her dress of maize silk organza over taffeta was styled with crushed organza, and the fitted bodice of the gown had a gold cummerbund caught at center back by a large silk organza bow from which flowed gold panels to the hemline of the dress. She carried an arrangement of croton leaves, polished acorns, and fall chrysanthemums accented by long stems of white wheat.

Dressed identically to the honor attendant were the bridesmaids, Margie Perry of Waco; Mrs. Nolen Cope, Mrs. Bob Johnson of Houston, and Mrs. Dannie Bryant of Waco. Junior bridesmaids were Cynthia Cope and Nan Norris.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Kenneth Brittain of Taft. Ushers were the bride's brother, Nolen Cope, Jimmie Robinson, Neal Echols, Larry Funderburk, Danny McClendon and Dickie Tune.

The parlor of the First Baptist Church was the scene of a reception for the wedding guests.

Members of the house party included Beverly Brewer, Sue Green, Linda Hamilton, Joan Osborn, Loan Parks; Mrs. Bill Ellyson, Mrs. Sammy Moore, Mrs. Dale Kirsey, Mrs. Carey McDanna of Groom; Mrs. Charles Warren, Mrs. Bob Coburn of Lubbock; Mrs. Jack Lee Goodloe, Tullia; Mrs. Hugh Gaines of Odessa; Mrs. W. C. Perry, Waco; Mrs. C. M. Barnett and Mrs. Burley Morris, both of Lubbock; Mrs. Buster Reed of Monahans.

Also Mrs. Davis Jones, Mrs. Durwin Echols, Mrs. Walter Smith Jr., Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Bill Britt, Mrs. Buddy Tune, Mrs. John Middleton Jr., Mrs. Ernest Moody, Mrs. Jeff Shipp, Mrs. Sam Z. Frazier, Mrs. Carson Echols, Mrs. Stansell Clements and Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell.

Guests attended from Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, Hobbs and Eunice, N. Mex.; Seminole, Lubbock, Floydada, Amarillo, Snyder, Colorado City, Houston, Taft, Odessa and London.

Mrs. Shearer selected an oyster white fitted silk suit with royal blue accessories for traveling. She is a graduate of Lamesa High School, attended Baylor University and Texas Tech. Her husband graduated from Slaton High School and attended Baylor University.

Upon their return from a trip to points in Colorado and New Mexico they will establish a home at 611 Court D, Lamesa.

TOSS-UP BETWEEN CERAMICS, CHINAWARE AND PAINTING
Mrs. Billy Owens displays some of her artistic creations

Ceramics Intended As Business; Still Hobby

By KAY LOVELAND
What does a busy secretary and an ever busier mother do in her "spare" time? Well, if that secretary and mother is Mrs. Billy J. (Doris) Owens, she spends her spare moments engaged in ceramic and china work and oil painting.

Mrs. Owens, secretary to County Attorney Wayne Burns and mother of four children, became interested in ceramics several years ago when a course in Dresden ceramics was being offered at Sherwin Williams Company here. A few months later, she learned the finer points of the art when she bought out Fran Rosser, who operated a ceramic shop in the area.

"It was in my contract that Fran would teach me ceramics," says Mrs. Owens. "My aim at the time was to go into business, but I never did."

Later, she taught ceramics at the YMCA and Webb Air Force Base, and in the following months her interests began to turn to china.

"I first took up china because I wanted to learn to paint features on dolls," she points out. "I never got around to it, however." For the next four years she took weekly lessons in the art of china making from Doris Kistner.

LIKES PAINTING
Two years ago Mrs. Owens' artistic interests took still another turn. She took lessons in oil painting. To date she has done several still life paintings, but she is aiming for portraits. At present, she is working on a painting of a mermaid, which will hang in her bathroom.

Mrs. Owens finds it impossible to choose any one of the three arts as her favorite. She likes ceramics and china work because they enable her to make unique items for her own home and original gifts for her friends.

"I can't say that I like one better than another, though, because each of them serves as an outlet for self expression," she states.

Patience is required to make Bavarian China, for the process usually takes several months. It took five to six months to make her china tea set.

One of the most unusual things she has made is an original brown china bottle that she uses for decoration. On the rectangular-shaped bottle she painted figures from fairy tales. The bottle was the only Big Spring entry displayed on the original table at a Sweetwater showing a few years ago.

She also made a pitcher which she considers unusual because in making it she broke one of the rules of ceramics. The rule states that only three china firings can be used on a ceramic piece; Mrs. Owens used four on her pitcher.

On special occasions she proves that her art work is useable as well as decorative. She uses her large pitcher for tea at family gatherings, and her tea set is often in use at weddings and showers.

In her experience, she has found that grapes and roses are the most difficult items to paint.

"It is hard to get the quality of depth into a perfectly round grape, and the lights and shadows on roses make them difficult to do," she explained.

Although she has sold a few ceramics on a commission basis, she has repeatedly refused to sell her china, because, she explains, it takes too long to make. She gives some of it away on occasion, however.

She likes to make pitchers better than any other item, and she plans some day to have a room divider filled with pitchers she has made. She also likes lamps and wants eventually to make one for every room of her home.

Her artistic inclination seems to be shared by two of her children. Linda, 10, won first and second place ribbons on her ceramic work at the YMCA craft show last week. In the same show, Bill, 9, won a third place ribbon. As yet, Bruce, 3, and David, 4 months, are a little too young to be interested.

In the past four months Mrs. Owens has had to devote most of her time to baby David, and her art work has had to take second place. When she "jumps in with both feet again," as she puts it, she intends to concentrate on fulfilling her lifelong ambition to paint portraits.

"To me, portrait painting has always offered a great challenge—more than any other kind of painting. A portrait can capture so much more than a photograph, and a person can see something different in it each time he looks at it," she says.

No Sectionalism In Demos' Campaign

By ROBERT M. JACKSON
Editor, The Corpus Christi Caller-Times

This election isn't going to be won on the basis of picking up sectional votes solely by sectional appeals.

In short, a Democratic victory will not be achieved by John F. Kennedy's carrying New England, Lyndon Johnson's carrying the South and various candidates for other offices helping to carry their sections of the country.

That's the essence of the feeling of the master politicians who are charting the course for the intensive campaign which is to be thrown into high gear right after Labor Day.

Kennedy and Johnson reached agreement at the Cape Cod meeting last week that both will campaign intensively and that there will be no sectional boundaries to the itinerary of either.

At the joint press conference in Kennedy's father's home in Hyannis Port, he was asked if he intended to campaign in areas where he was not particularly strong.

"And where would that be?" he asked with such a genuine air of shocked surprise that the laughter drowned out the attempts of the questioner to explain.

Kennedy's thought was that he intends to take nothing for granted, and to go into as many states as possible. It is a virtual certainty that he will campaign some in the South. This observer would not be surprised to see him make extensive forays into Mississippi, Alabama and other parts of the Deep South. He has said he will probably visit Texas and we have a hunch that he will deliver a major speech of his campaign in this state. It could very likely be one on the religious issue.

The magnitude of the campaigning effort this year is going to dwarf any ever seen before in this country. Vice President Nixon's long trip to Hawaii is but the prelude.

There will be extensive use of TV, of course, but the apathy of the viewers to the dreary spectacles of the convention has emphasized anew that nothing quite takes the place of the personal appearance of a candidate.

Modern planes have revolutionized the campaign junket, of course. A candidate can cover ground in an amazing amount of time: Last week Lyndon Johnson traveled exactly 4,621 miles in three and a half days. By supplementing the plane trip with buses he can reach places which heretofore were very inaccessible.

The idea of carrying the campaign to the people is almost as old as American politics, of course, but it received fresh impetus from the success of that old master, Harry Truman. He told us again in Kansas City the other day the oft-repeated tale of how he turned almost certain defeat into victory in 1948 by riding his campaign train into all parts of the country and "whistle stopping" to a triumph over Tom Dewey.

Before Truman and Johnson had a joint press conference they held a secret huddle for some 45 minutes. All indications are that Truman spent most of the time urging Johnson to take nothing for granted and particularly trying to persuade him to visit as many of the 50 states as possible between now and Nov. 8.

One report had it that Truman even urged Johnson to speak in Harlem. We wouldn't be surprised if he does.

New City Garbage System On Monday

The city's white fleet of garbage trucks will start Monday a new system of picking up refuse and officials are hoping that a new era in clean alleys will begin. The city has been divided into sections which constitute a new idea in routing for the garbage trucks. Under the new system areas in which a truck works are consolidated rather than scattered throughout the city as in the past, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works, in charge of the sanitation department. Dunn said that crews of sanitation department workers should now have more time to replace garbage can lids and pick up loose trash around the cans. Later this month, the sanitation department, along with the city-county health unit, will initiate a campaign to enforce the garbage can provisions of the city's overall garbage ordinance. "This phase of our new program will require the help of each garbage customer," Dunn said. The ordinance requires that garbage cans be of between 10 and 30 gallon capacity, be of metal construction, have a tight-fitting lid and be equipped with handles on opposite sides for easy handling. The provisions are to insure that each resident has adequate receptacles for trash accumulated between the twice-a-week pickups. Receptacles will be checked methodically and notices outlining specifically the violations will be issued to offenders, Dunn said. "It is hoped that every offense is corrected." "This program is an effort by the city to give better, more efficient garbage service to the citizens of Big Spring," Dunn said.

Garbage Trucks Get 'New Look'

Bearing out the new look in the sanitation department are these two gleaming white trucks shown above, acquired by the Department of Public Works. The collection truck, on the right, is a new model, purchased this year, and increases the sanitation department's collection truck fleet to five. New routes assigned for garbage pickup are pointed out by foreman Vernon Loven, right, as Homer Clark, truck driver, looks on in the lower photo. The city has been divided into five districts and a truck driver assigned to each district. Areas within these districts have been assigned days during which garbage will be picked up. In some areas garbage will be collected on Mondays and Thursdays, in others the truck will stop on Tuesdays and Fridays, and still other areas will have garbage picked up Wednesdays and Saturdays.

New Students Asked To Register For New Term

All students planning to attend Big Spring High School this fall who have not pre-registered are urged to do so as soon as possible to avoid the opening school rush. This applies especially to students new to the city. Asst. Principal Harold Bentley said that unless they register before the term begins students may find classes they wanted already filled. Students may pre-register at the high school between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. on week days. Bentley said that students who graduated this year and are planning to attend college may have their transcripts forwarded to the school of their choice by stopping at the high school office and making this request.

The search for a young actress to portray the title role in Walt Disney's Technicolor production, "Pollyanna," was a long one and the discovery of 14-year-old, small, blonde, blue-eyed Haley Mills, who won the coveted part, came by pure chance. Disney met Haley when she visited Disneyland Park with her father, John Mills, the famed English actor; he immediately became entranced with her charm and convinced that she would be the perfect Pollyanna.

Among other rewards for being a Hollywood actor is the fact that he is permitted to deduct the cost of clothes he wears in a picture from income taxes. For W. L. "SQUEAKY" THOMPSON

"Squeaky" Thompson is one of the best barbecue cooks in West Texas. In fact, some people just won't even have one if he's not available to supervise the fire-building and cooking. Those talents were appreciated last week by hundreds of folks at the annual Old Settlers' Reunion, which "Squeaky" was in charge of this year. This is one celebration that seems to grow a little bigger each time — and so does the job of feeding and entertaining so many guests. Mr. Thompson is president of the Evening Lions Club and their "Sight Conservation" project is one of his favorites. With cooperation of the schools, this Lions group helps provide glasses or eye care for children who could not afford it otherwise. He is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and has always been active in the Quarterback Club, which he has served as co-captain. For a number of years he has been a member of the Knights of Pythias. Mrs. Thompson is the former Marguerite Parker. They have a son, Bill, a sophomore at Rice University, and one daughter, Martha Ann, who is a sophomore at Big Spring High. They live at 1608 Stadium and attend the First Christian Church. "Squeaky" came to Big Spring in 1928, so considers himself a native. He owns the Thompson Furniture Company on Gregg Street but is willing to forget about business occasionally to pursue his hobby of hunting and fishing.

U.S. 87 South Project Making Rapid Progress

Improvement work on U. S. 87 south of Big Spring, which has been under way for some months, will probably be completed by the latter part of September.

District Engineer's office at Colorado City for the State Highway Department said that the contractor, Collins Construction Co., is well along with the work and ahead of schedule in some respects.

Two bridges on Big Spring creek are now being widened—about the last of the major structure work on the job. Hot mix is being applied to rebuild road surface. It is estimated by the engineer's office that this is about half completed.

The road has been widened, new shoulders constructed, bridges rebuilt to broader specifications and grading improved.

The project is the first step in a plan to improve U. S. 87 across Howard County. At the present time, the Howard County Commissioners Court is endeavoring to obtain easements for right-of-way along U. S. 87 north of Big Spring from Fairview to the Martin County line. The state proposes to make this segment of the highway into a four lane road. The commissioners will soon begin seeking easements south of Fairview to the Big Spring City limits. This, too, is to be rebuilt into a four lane highway.

Local Cadets Take Jet Flights

Lewis A. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Porter; Jerry McHaben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McHaben; and Dennis H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian A. Jones. All are students at Texas Tech, and following graduation will be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Cotton Fields Show Need For Additional Moisture

County Agent Jimmy Taylor noted hot spots in cotton and that some areas are in need of moisture in his recent trips over the county.

"We could use a good rain in most parts of the county," he said, but he went on to add that, generally, the situation is not bad.

Parts needing rain the most are in the north and northeastern sections although there are isolated spots in the rest of the county.

The insect situation as a whole over the county is good, according to Taylor.

"Fleahoppers are continuing to do the most damage in Howard County and up on the plains as well," he said.

In young cotton beginning to square, if there is a heavy infestation of 25 or more fleahoppers to each 100 stalks, Taylor advises poisoning.

Older satisfactorily fruited cotton can stand a heavier infestation, he stated.

"A rule to go by is to check terminals growth of the plant," he said. "If the cotton is holding three out of four of the small squares, it isn't being damaged." Taylor said that the bollworm population is still fairly light but noted a few millers during the week.

"These millers are the second generation and if they continue to build up in numbers, we will probably have a bollworm infestation over the county by the latter part of next week," he stated.

He added that the infestation might not materialize if present dr. weather held.

Taylor added that cabbage loopers and garden webworms are feeding on leaves in most parts of the county but as yet do not pose a serious threat to farmers.

Following local custom, all lower four grade airmen (who had neither bruises, scratches or driving tickets: in three months) packed the theater knowing that each had an opportunity to win.

The $200 distributed, the colonel presented four cigarette lighters as consolation prizes.

"You know, this is like being rewarded twice," said A.S.C. Dana Sharp of Wing Headquarters. "First they single us out as being careful, and, in a way, different (or luckier) than our buddies. Then we enjoy the feeling of hope until the last name comes out of the hat."

The giving of four additional prizes (at the suggestion of Mr. Lloyd D. Harp of Wing Ground Safety) was also an indication of the Wing Commander's enthusiasm. "He seems to enjoy this formation above all," commented A.S.C. Bill Harvell of Wing.

Lucky winners of "10s" were: A.S.C. Marvin E. Cave, 3560th USAF Hospital; A.S.C. Freeman L. Perry, A.S.C. Winfred Niemand, 3560th Air Police Squadron; A.S.C. Milford Thompson, 3560th Air Base Group; A.S.C. Fred L. Cody, A.S.C. John A. Smith, A.S.C. Gary M. Barnes, A.S.C. Mikel G. Henson, 3561st Flight Line Maintenance Squadron; Also, A.S.C. John E. Sevenich, A.S.C. Earl L. Doerr, A.S.C. Rol-

And A.S.C. William S. Hill, 400A Field Training Detachment; A.S.C. William Kurashigi, 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron; A.S.C. Wilburn Hall, 3560th Civil Engineering Group; and A.S.C. Jonas Blocker, 3560th Pilot Training Group.

Cigarette lighters went to A.S.C. Mateos Alvarez, Hq., M&S Group;

GARDEN TALK

Soil Testing Service Is Readily Available

The other day I was talking about fertilizers in general, and since then several people have wondered how they can get an analysis of their soil. There is a wonderful service for this problem for anyone living in the state of Texas.

At Texas A&M College there is a soil testing laboratory, and the lab will make a very careful analysis of your soil for the very reasonable cost of one dollar. To have this service done by a private laboratory the same amount of technical work would cost several times more than this.

In order to get all the information for making your soil test, go by the county agent's office in the basement of the court house and get a soil test application form. This will tell you exactly how to take a representative sample and where to send it. It will also ask some questions to get additional information for determining your soil needs. Once you have the application forms and your sample all you do is mail it to the State Soil Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M College in College Station, Texas. Usually the reply will be very prompt and there will be a complete discussion of your sample. Usually one sample will do for an entire field and surely for an area as small as a yard or a lawn. Sometimes, though, it is worthwhile to take two or more samples from different parts of your yard when you have widely varying conditions. For an example, when you have a rose garden that you have carefully composted over the years, and perhaps a new area of grass lawn that you are just putting into use.

If you have garden questions, write to Bruce Frazier in care of The Big Spring Herald. Others are probably having the same experiences in their own gardens and your question may bring an answer useful to a number of people.
