

GUEST AS A GAG

To Get Marines' Full Treatment!

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — "I'll go along with a gag—and it looks like I'm going a long way," says Melvin Miller, 40, genial tractor factory foreman.

He thought a minute. "Those take-charge characters! Well, I just have to meet them."

Miller chuckled Saturday about an all-expense one-week California vacation arranged for him by a group of Marines of Camp Pendleton and El Toro Marine Air Base.

Miller's life with his wife, Sally, and their three children—Bob, 10, Don, 9, and Judy, 7—was moderately predictable until last Labor Day.

That's when Marine Capt. Joe Gestson of Camp Pendleton picked up a telephone at a bar in Laguna Beach, Calif., to call a friend.

Gestson's finger dialed into the long-lines system and by some quick span out Miller's Peoria phone number instead of a buddy he was trying to reach in California.

"I was out in my front yard painting when I heard the phone," Miller said. "Some guy wanted to know if I knew where his car was."

"It sounded like somebody I knew, so I tried to help him out. Things were a little complicated, though. Seemed like he thought he was in California."

"He called me back later to tell me he had found his car all right."

POST CARDS

Miller said Gestson phoned several times thereafter. Sometimes he put a fellow Marine on the line for a few words; sometimes he talked to Mrs. Miller. The Millers thought their callers were idling in some Peoria oasis.

Gestson sent post cards from Laguna Beach to prove his whereabouts. Then, as Christmas approached, he handed out Christmas cards to airmen and sailors who were shipping out, making sure they were addressed to the Millers. So, the Millers got a shower of Yule greetings from various corners of the globe.

The Mel Miller legend grew in Laguna Beach, and a movement was launched by Gestson and bartender Grant Maxwell to bring Miller to California.

Maxwell kept a 120mm shell casing on the bar for the collection, and the money mounted up. Miller explained to Gestson that he had already taken his vacation from his job at Caterpillar Tractor Co. and couldn't get away for a visit.

ALL SET

"That Gestson! He called up my boss. Before I knew it, they had plane reservations made for me to leave O'Hare Airport in Chicago Aug. 31. The plant community relations manager called me in and told me."

Sally and the youngsters won't go along, but Mrs. Miller understands.

"I just told those boys to send my husband back in one piece," she said. "They told me, 'Sure, in one piece, but badly wrinkled.'"

The Marines say Miller's going to get VIP treatment such as has never been accorded any visitor before.

Miller knows Marines, and he trembles a bit when he thinks what the shindig could involve.

"Those El Toro guys who want to give me jet plane rides worry me the most," he said.

Crash Damages Boat, Trailer

A pickup truck towing a trailer and motor boat overturned Saturday morning causing an estimated $500 damage to the trailer, boat and attached motor. There were no injuries. The mishap occurred on FM 700, south of the Cedar Rd. intersection.

Lee Roy Findley, Rt. 2, Big Spring, was driver of the pickup which was not damaged according to investigating police officer, J. B. Hall.

Hall said that Findley momentarily veered into the path of an oncoming pickup truck, and in turning back into the right lane turned the steering wheel sharply. A whip-like action resulted and caused the upset.

James Tillman Rogers, Big Spring, was driver of the other vehicle.

In an accident investigated by police Friday afternoon, Patricia Gilliar, Stanton, was in collision with Onetta Wakeman, 621 Edwards, at the intersection of FM 700 and Airbase Rd.

20 Scouters Practice Skills

Scout troops No. 140 and No. 12, comprised of about 20 scouters, are facing the rigors of outdoor life this weekend as they take to the wilds of Camp Ed Murphy at Lake J. E. Thomas.

The troops, led by Lloyd Morgan, Tommy Pickle and Wiley Woodard, are catching up on their scouting skills for 1st and 2nd class requirements.

In addition, the scouts are setting up their own tents and cooking their own food. In between, they are playing some games for recreation.

A district committee meeting is planned for Sept. 8 and plans are being made for a fall round up drive for recruiting of new scouts when school starts.

Tex Martin Takes Biggest Chunk In Rodeo Winnings

DENVER —High ranked names in professional rodeo pulled down big slices of the $62,377 prize money paid out at seven major rodeos last week, but the biggest chunk went to unheralded Tex Martin, Meridian, Tex.

Competing at Colorado Springs, Colo., 30-year-old Martin went in against many of the sport's brightest names and came out on top. He pocketed $1,372 for first on saddle broncs and second in bareback riding. Martin, an ex-collegiate rodeo hand, has been consistently tough at smaller rodeos in the four events he enters, but never before in his 10-year arena career has he racked up such an impressive win.

Closest to him in total money won last week was Guy Weeks, Abilene. Commuting between rodeos at Burwell, Neb. and Rapid City, S. D., Weeks totalled $1,366 in prize money, most of it in the calf roping, the Texan's poorest event in 1960. He won the roping at Rapid City, took third at Burwell. Weeks, a rare rider-roper combination, is the third highest money winner in rodeo this season with $18,501. He trails leader Harry Tompkins, Dublin, Tex. by $3,078.

For the second week in a row, Tompkins' name failed to appear in rodeo results. Bob A. Robinson, Idaho hand, who staged second behind Tompkins in money won, gained slightly with a $549 win at Caldwell, Ida.

Old pro Jim Shoulders, sweeping out of his dismal spring slump in the last two months, pocketed $1,291 at Colorado Springs, winning the bareback event and scoring a day money on bulls.

The top three contenders for each championship:

166 Confederate Widows On Rolls

There are 166 widows of Confederate veterans in Texas who are now receiving pensions from the Veterans Administration, Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring VA Hospital, has announced. There are also two children of Confederate veterans on the VA pension rolls in Texas. Confederate Veterans receive $40.64 if under 70 years of age and $65 a month if over 70.

Children receive a pension only until they reach age 18. However, if before their 18th birthday they become permanently incapable of self-support through mental or physical disability then the pension payments are allowed to be made after age 18. There are no exceptions to this regulation for Confederate or Union children.

Mexico Air Lines Gain New Service Into U.S.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's two main airlines gained advantages in the new bilateral air agreement with the United States.

The agreement, effective for three years, extended the routes assigned to Mexico's CMA and Aerovias, giving new access to U.S. areas and to Europe.

Some rights were extended to U.S. carriers. An important aspect is that Braniff Airlines will return to Mexico with a San Antonio-Mexico City route.

Braniff closed its operations in Mexico about 15 years ago after an inter-company fight which culminated with the Mexico City airstrip being blocked by trucks to keep Braniff planes from landing. The agreement generally extends reciprocal rights to all. Present franchises are preserved. From the Mexican side, the following additions are authorized:

Compania Mexico de Aviacion: The right to include San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, plus Mexican intermediate points in its already established service to Chicago.

Aerovias de Mexico: Inclusion of Washington in its Mexico City-New York service, the right to extend its New York route to Europe, and exploitation of a new Mazatlan to Torreon to Monterrey to San Antonio route.

With 4th Set Of Twins, He Now Gets $70 A Week

LEECHBURG, Pa. (AP)—Floyd Varner became the father of a fourth set of twins recently. He also got a $5 pay hike and now earns $70 a week to support his wife and 10 children.

Raising 10 children poses many problems, not the least of which is how to support them on $70 a week.

How do the Verners do it? "It's pretty hard to say, it's pretty tough," remarked Varner, 27, a tire service company employee.

Pressed for a more explicit answer, Varner said simply: "We live on what we have." Also 27, Varner and his wife, also 27, live in a two-story, four-room house near this western Pennsylvania community, about 40 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

He credits good family health with helping to keep the family budget balanced.

"My children have been sick very little," Varner said. "that helps a lot."

He went to work in the sales and service department of a tire service company at nearby Oklahoma, Pa., about 14 months ago and calls it "the best place I've ever worked."

Mrs. Varner said she and her husband wanted a big family when they were married about 7½ years ago, "but we weren't figuring on having them all so soon."

Reynolds Shoots For New T&P Record

By JOE PICKLE
George Franklin Reynolds, 72, has rounded out 50 years with the Texas & Pacific Railway Company. He's just now getting his second wind and retirement is the thing furthest from his mind.
His crew paused to recognize his anniversary date with T&P on Aug. 17 and presented him with a gold plated badge set with diamonds. Albert Smith, baggageman, George Goltra, brakeman, Fred Tucker and Russell Carter, Pullman conductors, presented the veteran conductor with the pin. The T&P is due to hand him a 50-year pin soon. He has about seven years to go before he gets his Order of Railroad Conductors half century badge.

KEEP GOING
"I'm going to keep going until 1962, the Lord willing," Reynolds said. If he makes that, he'll be 95 and by far the oldest active employe in T&P history. He will have eclipsed the record of the late Irvin S. Witherspoon, who quit at 87.
For the past five years out of Big Spring, Reynolds has been the No. 1 conductor and brakeman on the board. If his health holds as good as it is now, he'll hold that spot for a long time yet.
Born Nov. 28, 1887 on a farm three miles from Carbon in Eastland County, he left the sand hills and looked for something besides a plow. Reynolds got his first job with the El Paso and Northeastern running a station at Alamogordo, N. M.
That made him feel pretty important, and especially when he judged the payroll from the bank to the station.

FELT BIG
"It was all in gold and silver in those days," he recalled. "I felt pretty big when I carried that bag up there."
In December of 1906, he took a position with the Santa Fe in Amarillo and became a brakeman. Later he worked for the Rock Island and then moved with that road to Fort Worth as a brakeman. He had heard of the T&P as "a railroad with a heart" and had observed that it had a steadier business with fewer layoffs. So he signed on in August as a brakeman. His first trip in a regular situation was under Joe Amacker as conductor. In December, 1914 Reynolds made conductor.
On exchange rights, he came to Big Spring in 1912 and except for a brief time at El Paso, this has continued to be his home.
When he started work the jobs paid about $35 a month and involved 14 hours a day sometimes, and seven days a week. Some of the railroad customers were a little on the rugged side, too, for twice in Oklahoma he had to use a pistol to defend his life.

NEEDED ARMS
When he reported for duty on the Shawnee run, a fellow worker asked: "Have you got a gun? No? Well how about a blackjack? A long-bladed knife?"
"I don't want to have anything to do with any of those," Reynolds said. His colleague shrugged his shoulders and predicted "they'll run you off."
On the first run that's about what happened. Reynolds bought a stub-nosed .32. Later he added a small blackjack as protection against Indians full of firewater.

50 YEARS ON RAILROAD
... but G. F. Reynolds won't retire
His only brush with the law came after he fired into the dark at a man who had creased his scalp with a brickbat. Reynolds winged his assailant in the foot, but no charges were filed.
SEVERAL WRECKES
He's been in several train wrecks, a few of them pretty rough, as a freight conductor. Once, every wheel on the train, except the rear wheels ahead of the caboose, left the tracks in a mighty pile up 13 miles east of Monahans. Since going on passenger runs, grade crossing crashes have been the extent of the mishaps.
Oddly, his only injury came in an automobile in 1928. The late

Selby Starts Prison Term

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Selby, sentenced to a life prison term as an accomplice in the murder of his wife, entered the state prison today, saying he was anxious to get as much prison time behind him as possible.
The prosperous Houston accountant can be considered for parole in nine years.
Selby arrived in the custody of Sheriff T. O. Lang of Austin.
Selby wore a long-sleeved sports shirt, gray slacks and black shoes. He carried a box containing a Bible, toilet articles and underwear. He deposited $43 with the prison cashier.
Given Prison Number 187834, he was taken to the reception center for tests. Prison officials said he probably will be assigned as a bookkeeper in the construction department.
Selby, 52, was convicted of hiring three Negroes to kill his wife, 48. She was shot to death in the couple's fashionable Houston home. One Negro woman has been sentenced to death in the case.

Davis Calls For Showdown On States Rights Issue

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie Davis, commanding a statewide battle to prevent integration of New Orleans schools, says the time has come for a showdown on states rights.
Only 18 days remain before the Louisiana city opens its schools under a federal court order to integrate the first grade.
Davis said Friday the New Orleans school crisis will test the amount of sovereignty that remains in states of the Union.
The governor earlier seized control of all public schools from the Orleans Parish School Board under a new state segregation law. He then ordered the schools to open Sept. 7 on a segregated basis.
U.S. deputy marshals apparently were still unable to serve Davis with papers notifying him he is a defendant in a federal injunction hearing Aug. 26 in New Orleans. The suit seeks to prevent the governor from interfering with federal court integration orders.
New Orleans Mayor DeLesseps Morrison said the city attorney has grave doubts that the governor will be able to keep public schools open and segregated.
On the states rights issue, Morrison said the question of state sovereignty "was settled in the Civil War."
"If we are going to lose the decision, inevitably," the mayor said, a small percentage of integration "might be the answer in the situation instead of having lots of trouble and lots of mixing."
In Washington, the U.S. Office of Education was reported keeping a close watch on the school

Runaway Truck Kills Three Pecos Children

Three children were killed Friday when the brakes failed on a soft drink truck and it smashed into a southside Pecos home where the children were eating lunch.
Johnny Tudor, 8, was killed instantly. Steven Tudor, 3, and Cynthia Tudor, 6, died several hours later in a Pecos hospital.
Mrs. E. B. Tudor, 27, mother of the children, was sitting at the kitchen table with the children when the truck plowed through the wall. She was hospitalized with minor injuries and severe shock.
The 1 1/2 ton truck, belonging to the Seven-Up Bottling Co., was driven by Joe D. Cannon, 28, who told Pecos Patrolman Tom Rickett that the brakes failed as he tried to negotiate an S-turn in the new city addition.
The truck swerved, bounced across a vacant lot and burst into the Tudor house. The impact carried the truck through the kitchen and into the living room. A small fire broke out but was quickly controlled.
Cannon was treated and released at the hospital.
Neighbors rushed the Tudor children and their mother to the hospital.
Funeral arrangements are pending at Pecos Funeral Home.

Campaign To Woo Undecided Voter

AUSTIN (AP)—Democratic and Republican bids to persuade Texas' question mark voters are in the advance planning stage and the real battle begins early in September.

Insiders in both parties say they have their sights on the voter who hasn't yet made up his mind. They know what to expect from the hard core of organization-minded, loyal - forever party workers and drones who always stay in line.

But they are heading a wide variety of polls indicating a close division between the voters who admit they have made up their minds, plus an unusually large percentage who confess that as of now it is wait-and-see.

Typical of these expressions was the poll of Texas newspaper publishers and editors of the state at the recent Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. meeting in San Antonio.

SEE GOP WIN
They predicted a Nixon - Lodge victory over the Kennedy - Johnson ticket by a 17-14 count. For this far ahead of the November election which will decide which party gets Texas' 24 electoral votes, that is close. On their personal preference, it was not so close. The daily newspaper executives said they favored Nixon 19-9.

Joe Belden's Texas Poll in its first statewide survey since the conventions found 24 per cent of their samples in the undecided classification. There was a narrow margin between those who voiced a preference on which ticket they would like to see win.

If such expressions are borne out, the extreme importance of the campaign that is now shaping up is obvious. The voter with his mind still open could decide whether or not Texas gets back into the Democratic column this election year, or whether it sticks with the GOP as in the last two elections. Democratic presidential candidate John Kennedy is expected to bring his appeal in person to Texas early in September, and Richard Nixon is also expected to bolster his GOP task force in Texas with personal appearances.

Nixon this week in his first foray into the South at Greensboro, N. C., predicted he would carry Texas and several other Southern states. GOP National Chairman Thurston Morton will meet with Texas and other Southern leaders at Jackson, Miss., Aug. 28 for a strategy conference.

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN
The Texas delegation is being primed for a whirlwind campaign after Congress adjourns.

The lone Republican congressman, Bruce Alger of Dallas, will speak widely for the Republican ticket.

The 21 Democrats from Texas in the House will beat the bushes for the Kennedy - Johnson combine. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen, one of Johnson's most active leg men, reported in Washington that he found less opposition than expected in a look at East Texas. He and other members of the delegation talked over campaign plans with Speaker Sam Rayburn in a mid-week session.

Campaign director Gerald Mann brought a wide variety of political forces into play this week in naming division heads for the Kennedy - Johnson Texas bid.

For example, he named Jerry Holleman of Austin, state AFL-CIO president, to work for the union labor vote. Ed Clark, powerful behind-the-scenes political figure in Austin, was made finance chairman. Holleman is a long-standing liberal, Clark's conservative.

The Republicans — as they did in 1952 and 1956 — will work hard for unhappy Democrats, especially conservatives, and for voters who do not line up for either party by habit.

Colorful Brochure Tells Of City Growth Program

A colorful, illustrated brochure giving details of the forthcoming city improvement bond election will be circulated throughout the city beginning Monday.

The Big Spring Printing Co. is publishing the brochure, ordered by the Master Plan Steering Committee.

The pamphlet is designed to give the voter a thumb nail sketch of the proposed "growth program" and includes a map which illustrates the areas of the city where the various improvements will be made.

The five-year program is listed completely by years, listing extension projects planned during each of them. Individual costs are also included.

The city's area of needs are discussed along with the plans for repayment of the bonds. Details of the election, to be held Sept. 13, are also included.

Plans are to distribute the brochure throughout the city prior to the election. Copies will be available in the city water department, the Chamber of Commerce, and members of almost all clubs in the city will receive copies during the next few weeks.

Showers, High Winds Hit Area

Heavy gusts of wind and light showers moved into Big Spring early Friday evening but moved on after depositing about .25 of an inch of water.

At Colorado City, 1.75 inches of rain during the afternoon caused the Hunter - Merket Motor Co. roof to cave in with resulting damage estimated at $5,000. Employees repaired the auto. Shingles before the roof section fell. Windows in the showroom were broken and other damage was inflicted.

Three to five inches of rain were reported eight miles south of Colorado City and to the east at Sweetwater. .35 of an inch was measured.

Mitchell, Nolan and Taylor counties received a general rain averaging over an inch.

Three Students Honored At A&M

COLLEGE STATION — Students from Big Spring have been designated distinguished students at Texas A&M College for the spring semester, 1960. They are Roy E. Hughes, Wesley L. LeFevre and Donald F. Reynolds.

A distinguished student must have registered for 15 or more hours and established a grade point ratio of 2.25 or better and had no grade below that of "C."

Big Airlift To Fly 5,000 To Dallas Meet

DALLAS (AP)—More than 5,000 persons will be flown into Dallas Aug. 28-29 in what is believed will be the largest commercial airlift ever attempted.

Sixteen U. S. and Canadian airlines are cooperating in flying the large group to Dallas in charter and regularly scheduled flights for a one-day meeting of Deere & Co. dealers of the two nations.

Following the meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 30, the airlift will be repeated, returning the dealers to their homes in widely scattered sections of the two countries.

The airlift will make possible the first meeting of all the John Deere tractor and farm machinery dealers at the same time and at the same place.

In addition to the 5,000 persons to be flown to Dallas, about 1,000 will come to the meeting by train and automobiles.

Handling the airlift represented months of planning by company officials. Reservations on regularly scheduled flights had to be blocked out far in advance and arrangements made for chartered flights in areas not served by regular schedules.

About 100 buses will be used in Dallas to transport the flying implement dealers from Love Field to Dallas hotels and to the State Fair of Texas grounds. The Dallas Memorial Auditorium, located in the downtown area, and the Cotton Bowl and State Fair Coliseum, both on the fair grounds, will be utilized for exhibits and sales meetings.

Among the 4,000 expected for the meeting are dealers from 15 other countries besides the United States and Canada. Because many of the dealers from Canada speak French, a United Nations-type of translating service will be provided. The French Canadians, through ear phones, will hear instantaneous translation of the programs.

DENTON, — Ira Schantz, of Big Spring is a member of the cast of the North Texas State College Opera Workshop production of "La Boheme," which will be given Aug. 22 in the Denton High School auditorium.

Schantz, a graduate voice major, is a member of the Howard County Junior College music faculty. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schantz of Lubbock.

The tenor, well-known in Texas music circles, will sing the role of Rodolfo. While an undergraduate and during the summer semesters while working towards the master's degree, he has appeared in a number of opera productions and sung with the choir.

He sang the role of the Duke in last summer's presentation of Verdi's "Rigoletto," and this summer he has been guest soloist at the First Methodist Church, Denton; the First Presbyterian Church, Gainesville; and the First Christian Church, Arlington.

As guest soloist, he was presented in July and this month with the choir of the First Methodist Church, Dallas, in "Twentieth Century Folk Songs," and "The Ballad of Judah Iscariot."

Brenda Admitted To Dallas Hospital

Brenda Szitar, 11-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Szitar of Gail Route, was admitted on Aug. 10, to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas.

Thirty-five years ago, Scottish Rite Masons founded the hospital, dedicated to an effort to provide a chance at a normal life for the handicapped child. Since 1925, more than 130,000 children have been admitted for treatment to the hospital, which is supported by public contributions and bequests.

Expertly staffed, unusual physical facilities and devoted interest in the individual, make the Scottish Rite Hospital an outstanding treatment center which serves the entire state.

News Of Week In Science Puts Sharp Focus On Health

By The Associated Press

Some 100 babies are born in England each year—the result of artificial insemination with the seed of a donor from outside the marriage, reports Lancet, a British medical journal.

The practice apparently has doubled in England in the past ten years and in the United States apparently is still more widespread, the report states.

It is invoked in childless marriages where the husband is sterile or suffers from some hereditary disease that would endanger the life of children. The British report suggested laws should cover such cases.

A special committee did not favor the practice for unmarried women, widows or separated marriages, nor for married women with the consent of their husbands and none of these cases should be considered legitimate by the law, the committee said.

ASPIRIN DANGER
British researchers find a danger of anemia for some sufferers of rheumatoid arthritis who rely on aspirin for treatment. Aspirin has serious and unpredictable disadvantages in a minority of cases says a British Medical Journal report.

Small amounts of blood are lost through bleeding in the stomach and intestines by some persons showing that anemia is sometimes due to aspirin sensitivity, the researchers from London's Harmer-Smith Hospital indicate.

ASPIRIN HELP
Aspirin may be an inexpensive aid in relieving symptoms of diabetes and in lowering blood cholesterol, reports an article in the New Physician, journal of the Student American Medical Assn.

Taken in frequent doses it spurs the body's hormone system and is known to reduce blood sugar, as well as its common uses in reducing fever and pain.

PAY NOW, PULL LATER
A prepaid dental care plan for the children of labor union members has been labeled a success by all parties concerned, reports the Journal of the American Dental Assn.

Some 2,300 children of members shoremen's and warehousemen's Union-Pacific Maritime Assn. took part in the plan during the past three years.

The Oregon State Dental Assn. operated the plan for the union. Dentists were apprehensive at first. But in a poll, they indicate that the plan is a great success, and should be broadened and extended to other unions.

NO EASY WAY
Fat persons who want to be hypnotized out of their overeating habits had best forget such seemingly easy, quick methods, a California psychiatrist reports.

Not only is such treatment usually ineffective, it is potentially dangerous and may heighten or create new psychological problems, says Dr. Charles W. Wahl of the University of California at Los Angeles.

When should hypnosis be considered as a diet aid? Only when the dietary condition threatens the life of the patient—and outweighs the risk of later psychological damage that may come from hypnosis, he writes in the Journal of the American Dietetic Assn.

First Woman Astronaut

Jerrie Cobb, 38, was disclosed to be the first acceptable woman astronaut for the Gemini 10 mission for Aero Design and Engineering Co., of Oklahoma City and is shown at the controls of one of the firm's planes. Dr. Randolph Lovelace, American space medicine expert connected with Project Mercury released the information in a speech at Stockholm, Sweden but said there is no immediate plan for sending a female astronaut into space. Dramatic Operation Saves Baby Minutes From Death

PASADENA, Tex. (AP)—A 7-month-old boy, minutes from death, was saved in a dramatic operation in the emergency room of Pasadena General Hospital.

James Arbour, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Paul Arbour, was taken to the hospital Friday in a deep coma and suffering from a brain hemorrhage.

Arbour, 23, a service station attendant, walked in the door without a word dropped his son into the arms of a nurse.

The baby was rigid, pale and breathing in a slow, shallow gasp. The nurse told the switchboard to announce a call "for any doctor." Five responded in minutes.

One doctor inserted a tube down Royce's throat to allow him to breathe. A neurosurgeon then performed a subdural puncture, which released the pent-up blood and relieved pressure on the brain.

"He came to instantly," said a nurse.

"He started to kick around and open his eyes. It gave us all a good feeling."

"We figured he was about 10 minutes away from death when his parents brought him in the door."

Mrs. Arbour said Royce fell off a bed a week ago, but, at first, had seemed unharmed until the sudden coma.

Royce was in "fair" condition.

Bearkat Ranks Mighty Thin

GARDEN CITY (SC)—If it will help, Coach Bill Richardson will keep his fingers, legs and maybe his eyes crossed this season. He simply can't afford to get anybody injured.

When his Bearkats reported last week for practice in the district 4-B eight-man race, he had nine on the squad. One other reported during the week. One other letterman is on vacation and may be back this week and possibly two or three others will turn out. Unless some of the bus students report, the squad may not number more than a dozen.

What could happen was demonstrated Friday when the boys had their first contact. Doug Ficker, end-back, got an elbow hurt and Denny Cyfert, sophomore flash, was sidelined with a back injury. Right off, Richardson was ready to go back to practice in gym shorts.

GOOD FIRST TEAM
 However, he was too pessimistic. If his first team stays in shape, the Bearkats can go with the best of them. With three men on one backfield combination able to throw the ball well Garden City can fill the air with footballs. If the opposition loosens up to protect against the passing, the Bearkats have enough speed and power to run with the ball.

At ends Denny Cyfert, at 170 pounds, looks like a starter if he isn't at a halfback post. Last year he was running as guard. Tommy Grant, another prime end prospect, may also double at quarterback.

Forsan Facing Tough Test, But Prospects Are Bright

FORSAN (SC)—Genial James Blake, Forsan coach, figures his club is facing one of its toughest seasons in eight-man football. One look at the schedule helps to sell the conclusion.

Wellman, the south Terry County team against which Forsan will open on Sept. 2, was a tri-champion of its district last year. Jayton and Gall, opponents the last two weeks in September, and incidentally the only two clubs to clip Forsan last year, were co-regional champions. Bryson, the homecoming opponent was a district winner and Woodson, the next opponent, was second to Bryson. Forsan opens against Grandfalls in 4-B district play, and Grandfalls is dropping back from 11-man ball.

"By the time we hit district play," said Blake, "we ought either to be able to really do something, or else we will be licking our wounds."

He figures Forsan had better be tough by then, for Grandfalls is followed by Klondike, Garden City and Sterling, all tough nuts to crack and all arch-rivals.

BRIGHT SPOT
 The center of the line is a bright spot for Blake, and in the backfield he will be carrying more weight. Running ought to be improved, although passing may not be quite as effective.

Martin Stretches Texas PGA Lead

LUBBOCK (AP) — Consistency paid off for little Iverson Martin of El Paso Saturday as he shot a 2-under-par 70 for a 54-hole total of 206 and a 3-stroke lead in the Texas PGA golf tournament.

Martin's two previous rounds were 66's.

Buhl Blanks Phillies

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee right-hander Bob Buhl blanked Philadelphia on five hits for a 1-0 victory Saturday night as the Braves put together three straight singles in the fourth inning for their only run off veteran Robin Roberts.

The victory was the Braves' 12th in 16 games with the Phillies this year.

Two Huge Indoor Sports Stadiums Are Planned

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County officials made public Saturday plans to build a $15 million sports center, including a 45,000 seat dome-covered baseball stadium.

Holders of the Houston franchise in the defunct Continental baseball League said they are prepared to lease the center for 30 years.

Under the plans, all sports in the stadium would be indoors beneath a 230-foot dome. The stadium would seat 50,000 for football.

Construction is expected to begin next January on a 259-acre tract five miles south of downtown Houston. Construction would require 12 months.

Negotiations started after an Aug. 2 meeting at which American and National league baseball representatives were reported to have agreed upon an expansion plan.

Harris County residents in 1958 voted a $20 million bond issue for the sports center.

Outside diameter of the dome will be 720 feet. Inside diameter will be 650. The stadium will be ventilated so as to hold the temperature 12 to 15 degrees below outside summer temperatures.

The dome covering will be of translucent plastic, allowing sun rays to pass through.

Parking space will be available for about 25,000 cars.

Altman Is Giant Killer

CHICAGO (AP) —George Altman drove in five runs with a double and a three-run homer Saturday, leading the Chicago Cubs to a 9-5 victory which smashed a four-game San Francisco winning streak.

Altman doubled home a pair of runs in the third inning and hit his ninth homer in the fourth, helping the Cubs wipe out a four-run deficit.

Southpaw Seth Morehead, taking over for starter Moe Drabowsky, was credited with his second victory against seven defeats.

The Giants piled up an early 4-0 lead in the first three innings but Sad Sam Jones, a 13-game winner, couldn't hold it.

The Cubs started Jones on the way to his 14th defeat with three runs in the third. Singles by Elvin Tappe and Bob Will and a walk to Richie Ashburn loaded the sacks. One run scored when Ernie Banks homered into a force play before Altman doubled in the other two.

Altman's three-run homer capped a five-run, fourth inning rally which also saw Ashburn single home a pair of runs.

San Francisco 121 010 000-5 11 0 Chicago 003 510 000-9 10 1 Sam Jones, Miller (4); Loes (5); Sherman Jones (8) and Landstul, Schmidt (7); Drabowsky, Morehead (4) and Tappe, W. Morehead (2-7). L—Sam Jones (13-14).

Home runs—San Francisco, Cepeda (21), Bressoud (7), Chicago, Altman (9).

Fairfield And Hebert Tied

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Don Fairfield of Jacksonville, Ill., and Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La., were deadlocked Saturday for the lead in the $30,000 St. Paul Open Golf Tournament at the 54-hole mark with 17-under-par 199s.

Hebert for the third straight round now has shared the lead, each time with a different player, over the 6,387-yard, par 36-36-72 Keller course.

Hebert shot a six-under 66 Saturday and Fairfield had a seven-under 65 as the two pulled four shots in front of the rest of the field.

Ted Williams Has Field Day, But Orioles Split

BOSTON (AP) — Incomparable Ted Williams provided the drama with a pair of three-run homers in the first game but Baltimore salvaged a double-header split, 6-0, against Boston Saturday night behind Hal Brown's masterful pitching.

Brown, a former Red Sox right-hander, allowed his old mates eight singles while keeping the Orioles in the thick of the American League pennant fight, 2 1/2 games behind pace-setting New York.

Williams, who also singled and drew his 2,000th walk, won the daylight half of the competition 8-6 by belting two tremendous drives for his 514th and 515th major league homers.

The loss in the nightcap went to rookie Earl Wilson as Baltimore ran its season domination of Boston to a 13-4 record.

Williams — who will be 42 in exactly 10 days — was the subject of four standing ovations from the afternoon crowd of 17,457. His second homer on loser Chuck Estrada's first pitch in the sixth put Boston in front to stay, 7-6. The 300-foot smash to the center field bleachers also helped Bill Monbouquette to his 13th victory.

Ron Hansen hit a three-run homer in the opener and a run-producing double in the nightcap as he enjoyed a 5-for-9 day and reaped 70 RBI.

"These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck... but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-wracking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day... make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevies are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

"That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the lunging power we need in the woods and walks right along with a full load on the highway."

A Pat on the Back
FOR
MRS. DON "MARILYN" NEWSOM
Marilyn Newsom is a lady with an obligation to fulfill.
"I believe that everyone who was born with—or has developed—a talent is obligated to use it. I wish all the people in Big Spring would use their talents for the benefit of our town," she said. Mrs. Newsom's particular talent is singing. Her father, H. G. Keaton, has been a member of the First Methodist Church choir for many years and encouraged an interest in music by his family. Marilyn's sister, Abbe, is also a singer (Alto). The two girls appeared together on a number of programs before Abbe's marriage.
Born in Big Spring, Marilyn attended Tarleton College in Stephenville, later receiving her B.S. Degree from Harris College of Nursing. She began her vocal training when she was thirteen years old and has studied piano for the last six years. Her plans are to continue music study at Howard County Junior College this fall.
Mrs. Newsom gives freely of her time and talent for many local functions. She performed with the college group presenting "The Fortune Teller" and "The Mikado" which were sponsored by the local Rotarians. Other memorable performances include her appearance with the Lubbock Symphony in 1954—singing for Governor Shivers at a reception in Colorado City—and being on the program for the State Federation of Music Clubs in Mineral Wells.
In other activities, Marilyn is a past president of the Beta Sigma Phi, member of the 1946 Hyperions, YMCA board member and has served both the Music Study Club and City Federation as president. As a Concert Association Board member, she is a dedicated worker for this group.
Married to Don Newsom, they live at 706 West 17th with their two boys, Gary, 5, and Kent, 2. "I wish every child could have the opportunity to receive training in music," she says. "To me, well, music just makes life better!"

Selected Fiesta Queen

Miss Rosario Morales (right) was selected queen in recent elections to reign over the Sept. 16 Fiesta. Runners-up were, from left, Grace Chavez with 2,382 votes and Rega Saldivas with 2,364. Miss Morales collected 3,776 in the polling. She is the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Morales and a student at Rynnels Junior High School. Blaz Bailon is president of the Fiesta and Mayor Lee O. Rogers will crown the queen.

Society Buys Equipment, Dedication Set Sept. 18

Members of the building committee for the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults agreed to purchase equipment for the new building, then set the date for dedication of the building, during a called meeting Friday.

First consideration of the group was purchase of equipment. Until recent weeks, equipment for the building was only a dim future goal. But President George Zachariah and County Nurse Bg Bowen located a clinic in Houston that is going out of business.

As a result, equipment valued at probably more than $10,000 has been made available to the local organization for $3,000. Miss Bowen said it is more than enough to completely equip the local facility.

The building committee voted to make the purchase. Zachariah pointed out that Byron's Transfer and Storage have agreed to transport the equipment to Big Spring sometime next week.

The committee decided it would investigate means of raising money to pay for the equipment. Meanwhile, Cosden Petroleum Corp. has guaranteed payment.

All needs of the organization to this point have been met through voluntary contributions of organizations and individuals. The building was constructed in this manner, as local union members and other workers pitched in to supply the labor.

Also, there is the consideration of paying operating bills of the organization. This includes a therapist to visit Big Spring regularly from Midland.

Dedication of the building will be held Sept. 18, between 2:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. By that time, the committee expects to have the equipment installed. Miss Bowen said it may already be in use.

Zachariah named Sam Anderson, Roy Watkins and Arnold Marshall to a committee which will plan the dedication ceremonies. Another committee, including Bill Quimby, Daryl Hohertz and Glenn Coates, was named to plan the plaque or scroll which will be permanently affixed to the building.

Cagney Sings
"Tribute to a Bad Man," CinemaScope outdoor drama, gives James Cagney an opportunity to sing two songs typical of the West's 1875 period, in his role as a rancher in the Wyoming horse country. One is aptly titled, "Rough Wrangler," and the other is the romantic ballad, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen."

Schedule Given For Registering At Junior Highs

Both junior high schools have set times for students to pick up schedules and register.

All junior high school students that are new to the Big Spring schools will register at Rynnels and Gollod on Monday and Tuesday Aug. 22 and 23. This applies to 7th, 8th and 9th grade students who have not registered previously.

Seventh grade students are to report to their school gyms Thursday, Aug. 25, at 9:30 a.m. Purpose is to pick up schedules for the coming year and to receive explanations of rules and policies of the schools.

Eighth grade students will report at 1:30 p.m. Aug. 25 to pick up schedules.

Ninth graders will pick up their schedule cards at 1:30 p.m. on Aug. 26.

DEAR ABBY

COFFEE BREAK

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband stays home just long enough to eat, sleep and change his clothes. Our children hardly ever see him. This has been going on for 10 years.

Last month I thought I heard a prowler, so I called the police. A police officer came and offered to stay with me until I got over my nervousness. I made coffee and we had a wonderful visit. He is a big, good-looking bachelor, but it isn't what you think. I don't cheat on my husband even though he cheats on me.

This policeman has been dropping in for coffee every night around midnight. Only someone who is as lonely as I was can realize what his visits mean to me. I have heard that my neighbors are beginning to talk. Should I explain that this is an innocent, clean friendship? Or do you think I am doing wrong?

LONELY: You'll have a hard time convincing your neighbors that there is nothing brewing but coffee at your house every night. Your relationship may be "clean and innocent" now, but you're asking for trouble. The Good Book says, "Avoid the appearance of evil." Use your energy to lure your husband back where he belongs.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago my husband and I gave his niece a very lovely present for her 17th birthday. We took a lot of time selecting this gift, and also the card that went with it. The niece just said, "Thank you" and she laid it on the piano and didn't bother to open the card or present while we were there. We stayed about an hour.

Shouldn't a gift be opened when the givers present it? HURT

DEAR HURT: It should.

DEAR ABBY: When a man and his wife are eating together in a restaurant, what should the man call the waitress?

My husband calls all waitresses "Honey" and I have even heard him call them "Dear" and "Darling." This burns me up as he calls me Hazel. Please print your answer. I'd like to settle this.

HAZEL: A waitress should be called "Miss" or "Waitress." It is never proper (although it is sometimes effective) to call a waitress "Honey," "Dear" or "Darling." But it does beat, "Hey, you!"

CONFIDENTIAL TO KATHY: The surest way to make a man wonder what he ever saw in you is to keep asking him.

MRS. NELSON WAYNE MILSTEAD

Shaw-Milstead Vows Exchanged In Lubbock

LAMESA—First Baptist Church of Lubbock was the scene for the marriage of Bennie Beth Shaw and Nelson Wayne Milstead at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. J. T. Bolding was the clergyman for the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie C. Shaw, Lubbock are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Milstead of Lamesa are the bridegroom's parents.

The pair exchanged vows before arrangements of pink gladioli, greenery, and pink tapers in branched candelabra. A prie dieu completed the altar setting.

Jack Hendrix of Big Spring, organist, and Wilena Robnett, vocalist, presented the wedding music.

Shaw escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. Her veil

Guest In Forsan Leaves For Illinois

FORSAN—Leonard Johnson of Brookfield, Ill. has been visiting in the home of the Frank Shannons. Johnson has been a visitor in Big Spring at the home of Mrs. Arthur Pickle when his son, Robert, was stationed at Webb Air Force Base. Robert married the daughter of the Shannons.

The visitor returned by way of Des Moines, Iowa, where he was to visit a sister en route to Minnesota for fishing in the Brainerd Lake Region at Lake Borden. He is a teacher in the Chicago School System, having taught manual training and crafts in woodworking for 35 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson accompanied Leonard Johnson to Forsan from Seguin and San Antonio where he had been vacationing. They were guests of Mrs. Arthur Pickle, J. B. Pickle in Big Spring and the Shannons.

Double Ring Ceremony Read For Couple In Klondike Church

LAMESA—Baskets of coral and white gladioli and large palm trees formed the background setting for a bridal archway of greenery topped with candles and two candle trees which decorated the altar of the Klondike Baptist Church for the marriage of Glynda Kaye Medford and J. P. Schroeder of Elgin at 8 p.m. Friday.

Miss Medford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gervaise Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schroeder of Elgin, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. W. A. James of Big Spring read the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Lavoy Miller was organist; Mrs. J. D. Pearce sang "I Love You Truly" and, at the close of the ceremony, "The Wedding Prayer." As Mrs. Miller played "Melody of Love", Sue Barron read "How Do I Love Thee?"

BRIDAL GOWN

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of silk organza over satin designed with rounded neckline, three-quarter sleeves and center point at front and back of the softly fitted bodice; the embroidery pattern on the bodice was also used on the front panel of the bouffant skirt and on the two back panels which swept to a chapel train.

Her veil of silk-Boston cascaded from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses. She presented her mother one of the roses as she was escorted to the altar.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Jackie Moss was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of shrimp tinted organza over taffeta with nipped boat neck, short sleeves and deeply hemmed fully shirred skirt. A panel of organza was caught to a self-fabric belt. Shrimp colored organza petals formed her headpiece which secured a circular nootip veil and she carried an arm bouquet of shrimp gladioli with streamers.

The bridesmaids, Sue Vaughn, Lynda Eoff, Sharon Smith and the bride's cousin, Mrs. David Noble of Odessa, were dressed identically to the honor-attendant. Their flowers were white gladioli.

Arthur Schroeder Jr. of Elgin was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ronnie Arbutckle, Gene McVay and Buddy Nelson, cousin of the bridegroom, all of Elgin, and Harlan Scott of Austin.

The candles were lit by Brenda Medford, cousin of the bride, and Betty Ray Schroeder of Elgin, cousin of the bridegroom.

HOUSEPARTY

Members of the houseparty for the reception held at the church were Mrs. Carl Hogue, Mrs. Gerald Roberts, Mrs. Ella Walker and Mrs. L. A. Bloodworth; Alfrida Kiefer, Kathleen Beeman, Dorinda Medford, Jeanette Medford, Jo Estes, Joy Kiefer, Olivia Beeman and Judy Koehler. Accenting the wedding colors, the serving table featured an arrangement of white fruits and flowers with shrimp colored candles.

Wedding guests were present from Los Angeles, Calif.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Lubbock, Colorado City, Brownfield, Elgin, Big Spring, Odessa, Alpine, Pecos, Abilene, Austin, Lovington, N. M., Imperial, Anson and Vernon.

When the newlyweds departed for a trip to points in Colorado and New Mexico, the bride was wearing a navy silk shantung sheath with raspberry accessories. A graduate of Klondike High School, Mrs. Schroeder attended Hardin-Simmons University and was employed this summer in the Dawson County Tax Assessor-Collector's office.

Her husband, a graduate of Elgin High School and Blinn Junior College, received his degree in business administration from Hardin-Simmons. He is presently employed at the Elgin National Bank.

The pair will be at home in Elgin after Aug. 26.

Delightful Writer Visits In Leonard Einstein Home

By LUCILLE PICKLE
Dootsie is a delight. Dootsie is the grandmother of Peter and Jill Einstein; the name came into being when young Peter, the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Leonard Einstein, couldn't say Juliet, and "grandmother" didn't seem to fit.

Dootsie is Juliet Lowell, author of eight best sellers that include "Dumbelles Lettres," "Dear Doctor," "Dear Mr. Congressman," three editions, "Dear Justice," a book for the just, the unjust, and those who just like to laugh, and the just-published "Dear Folks." She is presently working on three books, "Dear VIP," "It Strikes Me Funny," and an autobiography, "Dear Me."

Mrs. Lowell was born to lead an exciting life. She was brought into the world on a train and, according to the gay writer, she has been going ever since. Her father was in the rubber business and the family was either very successful or very unsuccessful. Travel was far more intriguing to the man than working—so Juliet, with her sister and parents, traveled to Europe many times. They were on the go so often the girls never really went to school. Juliet finally decided she should do something about her education. With the aid of an instructor she crammed and passed the entrance examination to Vassar from which she was graduated in 1922.

Having majored in international law, Mrs. Lowell found there was no demand for her talents once she had prepared herself; so she went into charity work, which was good for all of us because it was in this endeavor she came across a letter which stated that a check for 30 dollars was enclosed; it was left unsigned as the donor wished to remain anonymous.

With this as a nucleus, Mrs. Lowell wrote to various companies and was delighted with their cooperation in providing her with many correspondence which she received.

Having married the same year that she graduated, the Leo Lowells were blessed by the arrival of Margo (Mrs. Einstein) and Ross, now a professional photographer who makes movies for industrial firms; he is an inventor of a new light for indoor photography.

When her husband developed a heart condition, the writer persuaded him to retire and to go traveling. . . and travel they did, all over Europe and finally came home to the states to make a home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

After the death of Mr. Lowell, the vivacious woman went back to collecting more humorous letters for another book which now deal with correspondence received by draft boards; this she called "Dear Sir or Madam." While Simon and Schuster had published her first book, they refused the second saying they were short of paper due to the shortage brought on by World War II and suggested she take it to a house that had a plentiful supply as they were sure her second effort would be as successful as her first. Duell, Sloan and Pearce published four books for her.

in which she appeared with Fred Waring.

She went to London with the American Bar Association while working on the Justice book and was entertained at the Queen's garden party. She traveled twice with medical groups; to Venezuela for the Pan-Am Medical Association and to Lima, Peru, with the American College of Surgeons. She was delighted to be asked to attend the meetings held aboard ship.

The author has clippings printed in Norwegian, French, Italian and Spanish and it is presumed the writers were all as enthusiastic about her and her works as the reviews written in English. She has traveled with Fanny Hurst and appeared on the Jack Paar show. Since she has been in Big Spring she has had an offer to appear on Jack Edwards show which she declined because she doesn't want to return to California at this time.

In her collection of letters that brought about "Dear Congressman," Mrs. Lowell had included the names of all the Democratic candidates with various correspondence from their constituents. She and her publishers thought it most timely to attend the convention in Los Angeles and again she received much publicity, all favorable because she is the gregarious type. People are not strangers long to this charming lady.

When she gets into the autobiography, perhaps she will tell of being in Switzerland in 1914 when World War I broke and the difficulty her parents had in getting back home; of the trip to Japan in 1916 and some of the experiences on the Hawaiian Islands. She wouldn't have to collect anything but memories to make fascinating reading.

Delightful Dootsie is planning to be with the Einsteins until the last of the month when she will return to New York where she makes her home.

A Look At Books

The look seems to please the entire group, too; Mrs. Leonard Einstein, at left, and her children, Jill and Peter, laugh with Mrs. Juliet Lowell, mother of Mrs. Einstein, over some of the witticisms in the books, which she has authored. Mrs. Lowell, whose home is in New York, is a guest of Col. and Mrs. Einstein.

Miss Boswell Wed To Donald E. Smith

LAMESA — Marilyn Kay Boswell became the bride of Donald E. Smith in a ceremony read at 8 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Boswell, 8312 30th St. Lubbock, and Mrs. F. L. Smith of Ferriday, La., and the late Mr. Smith, are parents of the bridal pair.

Mrs. W. J. Beckham, organist, played the traditional selections and accompanied Ed Wittner when he sang "O, Perfect Love" and the "Lord's Prayer," and Pat Beckham and Sonja Minis, who sang a vocal duet, "Savior, Like A Shepherd Lead Us."

Boswell escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. She wore a custom made gown of handclipped Chantilly lace over white net and taffeta. Its Sabrina neckline was frosted with seed pearls and the long sleeves ended in tapers over the hands; handclipped scallops of lace met at center front over a white taffeta panel in the bouffant skirt, which was edged in scallops of lace.

Her illusion veil was attached to a pearl wreath headpiece, and she wore a cunego belonging to the bridegroom's mother. Her flowers were white carnations and tuberoses on a white Bible.

The maid of honor was Jean Ranson; bridesmaids were Jan McDaniel and Dorice Humes. Their identical dresses were of ice blue peau de soie fashioned with puff sleeves, fitted bodice and fully skirted. Their headbands were bows of matching fabric, and they carried tiny white testaments, gifts of the bride, topped with pale yellow rosebuds and white satin streamers.

Dale Johnson of Brownfield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man; ushers were John Boswell, brother of the bride; Marvin Standafer of Amarillo, her uncle; Sam Shoultz and John Robert Tilman of Waterproof, La., the bridegroom's nephew.

Candlelighters were Kay Campbell and Shari Addison; Susan Kay Standafer of Amarillo was flower girl, and Eddie Johnson of Brownfield, ringbearer.

Assisting at the reception held in the church parlor were Mrs. J. B. Leavelle, Mrs. Helen Robertson, Mrs. Billy Mitchell, Mrs. A. B. Cox; Carol Ann Leavelle, Sheron Phillips, Kay Greenwood, Patsy Timpa of Andrews and Francis Tilman of Waterproof, La.

For traveling the new Mrs. Smith wore a sheath of pink raw silk with matching jacket and black accessories. The couple will honeymoon in Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee.

The bride attended the Lamesa Schools, and her husband graduated from Ferriday High School, Ferriday, La. He is employed by Borden Milk Co. in Lamesa.

Wedding guests were registered from Louisiana, Brownfield, Amarillo, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio.

MRS. DONALD E. SMITH

All Here Except Michi

Michi, a beautiful fawn-colored Siamese cat, was probably asleep when the picture of the A. F. Tautes family was snapped. At any rate, he didn't make his presence known in time to get into the family group which includes Col. and Mrs. Tautes, nine-year-old Annette and A. F. Jr., otherwise known as Chip. Col. Tautes, who is deputy wing commander at Webb Air Force Base, has recently been transferred here from San Antonio.

A. F. Tautes Making Home In Webb Village

So recently arrived in town is the A. F. Tautes family that not all their packing cases are unpacked.

Coming here from San Antonio, where Col. Tautes was stationed, the four-member family is getting settled in an attractive home in Webb Village — make it five members, since lovely, sleek Michi doesn't realize he's a Siamese cat.

Included are August Franklin Jr., with the nickname, Chip; he was a student in TMI in San Antonio last year. He's undecided about his schooling at the present time.

It was a wrench of affections for nine-year-old Annette to leave her classmates and friends for the move to Big Spring, but there are probably scads of friendly girls and boys waiting for her at Marcy School, where she will be enrolled quite soon.

Annette is the linguist of the family, since she was speaking Spanish long before she learned English. This came about when the Tautes were in Lima, Peru, and Annette was cared for by an amah — nursemaid, to you.

Spanish was their means of communication rather than English. Upon the return to the United States, the six-year-old youngster refused to speak the musical tongue, even to the houseboy who accompanied the family and who spoke no English whatever.

Col. and Mrs. Tautes are both South Dakotans, she by birth — he by adoption — and in the words of the attractive brunette, have never lived anywhere that they didn't like.

Sewing and designing are interests that occupy Mrs. Tautes and she tells of the time that she and a friend in San Antonio developed into genuine designers. Happy Tops, made by the two to be worn with torador pants, were sent to a shop in Dallas, which sold the 25 that the ambitious pair had made. Then came a transfer for the friend and the designing gradually stopped.

A hobby that the Tautes have in common is golf, but with the care of a lively family, there isn't as much time for Mrs. Tautes to play the game as there once was. Very modestly she disclaims any prowess in golf, but her husband beams as he speaks of the various trophies she has won.

Mu Kappa Members Receive Jewel Pins

Eleven members of the Mu Kappa Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International received their jewel pins at a formal ceremony held in the home of Mrs. Robert Hamilton Friday night.

Mrs. William Seal from the Kappa Gamma chapter in Midland, first state vice president, performed the installation ceremony. Those receiving pins were Mrs. Hanson Lawton, Mrs. Loy Carroll, Mrs. Vernon Winchester, Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. Richard Sparks, Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Mrs. Roy Gammons, Mrs. Jay Speaks and Mrs. E. W. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who is with her husband in a Lubbock hospital, received her pin by proxy. Mrs. J. C. Armstead, who is on vacation, will receive her pin at a later date. After the ceremony, Mrs. Seal installed as officers, Mrs. Lawton, president; Mrs. Sparks, secretary, and Mrs. Carroll, treasurer. Refreshments in the sorority blue and gold colors were served from a white table set with a centerpiece of the sorority yellow jonquil and yellow dahlia.

Mrs. Bill Griffin of the Kappa Gamma chapter in Midland was a guest of the local Alpha Chi chapter.

Choose Knit Suit

Meant to be lived in—the cotton knit suit in a black, grey and white houndstooth plaid. The cardigan jacket has flap pockets, black piping on sleeve edge, pockets and all around the jacket body. Matching box pleated skirt accompanies the black turtle neck sweater, with three quarter sleeves. A jacket and skirt also come in green, olive and white or gold, olive and white plaids, and the sweater in green or gold.

Installation Principals

In ceremonies held Friday evening by the Mu Kappa Chapter, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Mrs. William Parker, on left, received her jeweled pin. Mrs. Hanson Lawton was installed as president of the group by Mrs. William Seal of Midland, first vice president of the state organization.

Fourth from left is Mrs. Richard Sparks, who was placed in office as vice president, and Mrs. Gay Sparks, secretary. Mrs. Loy Carroll, who will serve as treasurer, was not available for the picture.

Plans Announced For Bridge Championship

Date for the Open Pairs Club Championship in duplicate bridge has been announced by Mrs. Elmo Wasson, co-chairman of the duplicate games played each Friday afternoon at Cosden Country Club. The session, slated for 1:30 p.m. Sept. 4, will be played at Cosden Club. Master points will be awarded according to the American Contract Bridge League formula for club championship games, Mrs. Wasson stated.

All interested are invited to enter the games; fee is $2.50 per person; with the exception of wives whose husbands are registered in the Country Club golf tournament, which will be in progress at the same time.

The Marie McDonald trophy will be awarded for first place, and silver trophies will go to second and third place winners.

Play is sponsored by members of the Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club.

Winners in Friday's games were Mrs. Bill French and Mrs. Fred Kasch, first in north-south play; Mrs. G. H. Wood and Mrs. Obie Bristow, second; Mrs. Lloyd Nalls and Mrs. Fred Haller tied with Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. George McGann for third and fourth place.

MR. AND MRS. G. LOUIS ALEXANDER

Sheri Webber Bride Of Louis Alexander

Wedding vows were pledged in a candlelit ceremony Friday evening by Sheri Lyn Sue Webber and G. Louis Alexander.

The double ring rite was performed in the First Assembly of God Church by the Rev. Joe W. Adams of Waxahachie and the Rev. S. E. Eldridge, pastor of the First Assembly of God.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Webber of Santa Fe, N.M. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hugh Whitaker of El Paso and the late Mr. Prentiss Alexander.

Organ music was provided by Mrs. R. G. Crossman of Dal., N.M. Mrs. Jerry Hobbs sang "Till the End of Time." As the couple knelt "The Lord's Prayer" was played in a vibra harp-organ duet by Nancy Eldridge and Mrs. Crossman.

Scriptures were read to a musical accompaniment by the Rev. Eldridge.

Emerald ferns, interspersed with small candles, banked the chancel rails. The couple stood before fern-banked candelabra that held white tapers.

Webber gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a gown she had designed and made. The floor-length sheath featured wrist-length sleeves and was accented with handclipped appliques of lace, sequins and seed pearls. The half-overskirt flowed to a chapel train in back, and was highlighted with the same lace appliques.

Miss Webber's fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a pillbox lace hat that came to a point over her forehead.

Gardenias and lily-of-the-valley were carried atop a white Bible borrowed from Evelyn Wilkerson. Something old, as the bride followed wedding traditions, was her grandmother's engagement ring. Her gown was new, and she wore a blue garter. Pennies were carried in her shoes for good luck.

ATTENDANTS

Serving as maid of honor was Rhonda Adams of Waxahachie. Bridesmaids were Reta Rose of Lubbock and Mona West. The attendants wore full formal-length

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth over a green underlay. An arrangement of gladioli was flanked by a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and the crystal punch bowl that carried out the green color theme.

Guests were registered by Dorothy Wilkerson. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Burl Dennis, Janie Nelson, Linda Stuteville, and Evelyn Wilkerson.

Coming from out of town for the wedding were Marvin Moyers of Columbia, Mo., an uncle of the bride; Mrs. Fred Jennings of People often visit the River Funeral Home to look over our facilities, to inquire about prices, and to discuss funeral service in general. Many are interested in our answer to this question:

"Do you have the knowledge needed to serve members of my church?"

To this question, our answer is an emphatic YES. During the time we've been serving families in the Big Spring area, members of virtually every church have requested our service time and time again, as often as the need has arisen... an indication of completely satisfactory service.

About 25 guests presented their favorite recipes to the honoree, and the hostesses surprised her with a gift. In the games played during the courtesy, prizes were handed over to Miss Smith, who wore a corsage, a gift from the hostesses.

Mrs. Berry read a poem, "Recipe for Happiness" and refreshments were served from a table in green linen with a centerpiece of garden flowers in autumn hues.

MRS. ANGUS M. ROBERTS

Miss Brown Weds In Sisters' Bridal Gown

LAMESA (Spl.) — Wearing a traditional gown of white lace and tulle which had been worn by her sisters in their weddings, Emma Jane Brown became the bride of Angus M. Roberts in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. J. Lloyd Mayhew, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated for the rite in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church where wedding guests were registered in the foyer by Mrs. G. L. Trice and Mrs. Howard Garner.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Claudia Ola Brown of Hereford, and Roberts is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberts.

Baskets of pink summer flowers and white-tapers in pedestaled candelabra flanked the bridal archway at the altar of the church. Pat Sanders and Dicky Roberts, nephew of the bridegroom, lit the cathedral tapers as Mrs. Jake Lippard presented a medley of nuptial selections at the organ.

DUET SINGS

Mrs. Lippard accompanied the bride's sisters, Mrs. Albert Kinsey of McAlester, Okla., and Mrs. Jack Burrus of Canyon, who sang "No Other Love" and "Indian Love Call," and at the conclusion of the ceremony as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Wedding Prayer."

Mrs. Roberts' floor length dress featured a lace bodice with a square neckline and matching elbow length mitts, and a skirt of tiers of ruffled tulle over taffeta. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from an organza and lace halfhat ornamented with seed pearls; she carried a white Bible with cascades of white roses and series, and carried a white fan accented with pink rosebuds. Mrs. Burrus' dress of pink embroidered nylon organdy was styled identically to the honor attendant's and was accented with a Paris pink cummerbund.

The bride's niece, Sabrina Burrus of Canyon, was flower girl. V. M. Roberts was his brother's best man, and ushers were G. L. Trice, Dupree Sanders, Herman Maule and Don Roberts, nephew of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION HELD

Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene for the wedding reception. Betty Mac Sanders, Mrs. Dupree Sanders and Mrs. Herman Maule presided at the serving table and guests were registered by Margaret McAdams of Abilene. Piano selections were furnished by Melody Edwards.

For traveling, Mrs. Roberts selected a two piece bottle green linen suit with box jacket accened with brown accessories. She is a graduate of Lamesa High School and West Texas State College where she was a member of Tau Beta Sigma, national band fraternity; Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity; West Texas State College Band and Wesley Foundation.

For the past five years, the bride has been an art teacher in Lamesa Junior High School, and during the summer has served as director for West Texas Girl Scout Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater. She is currently serving as president of the Lamesa Branch, American Association of University Women.

A graduate of Lamesa High School, Roberts served two years with the U. S. Army, and is a partner in the West Texas Plumbing Co. here.

After terminating a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home at 206 N. Ave. M, after Sept. 1.

Clearing Way For Parking Lots

Work on the Big Spring High School's East side parking lot is about half complete. Two parking lots are planned, one on the East side and one on the West side of the school. This city bulldozer, manned by Arthur Hernandez, is used to rough grade the land and will be smoothed with graders, and an oil coating applied. Curbs larger of the two lots. The East side will be at two levels, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works. A ramp will connect the two levels. Once rough grading is done, the ground will be smoothed with graders, and an oil coating applied. Curbs and drive-ins will also be constructed. Cost on the East side is estimated at $900 for curb and grading. Cost of grading and curbing on the smaller West side should be about $600. The oil coating for both sides is estimated at $150. The plan for the two new lots was approved by the trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District at a special meeting Wednesday.

Two junior volunteers, Jane Harrington, Big Spring, and Lonnie McCracken, Odessa, will comment on "What Serving in the Hospital Has Meant to Us."

Presentation of certificates will be made by V. J. Belda, and Dr. Jack Margolis, director of professional services, will present the letters.

A social will be held following the ceremony for the more than 40 volunteers and their parents.

GARDEN TALK

Problem Of Acids, Bases And Plant Preferences

By BRUCE FRAZIER

A lady asked me the other day what we mean when we talk about acidity of the soil, or alkali in our water, or basic reactions. Perhaps this is a problem that many people fail to understand.

It is possible for soils, chemicals, foods, or just most any substance one can think of to fit into one of three classes. These are acid, basic or neutral. Where this concerns gardening is mainly in the soil and definite preference certain plants have for one type of reaction or another.

In chemistry we deal with acids and bases. The acids have a hydrogen ion that reacts, and in the bases there is an opposing reaction with an active hydroxide ion, one made up of a hydrogen and an oxygen atom. When acids and bases meet they react and each opposes the other and weakens it. The free ions of hydrogen and hydroxide combine to form water. If the base is stronger than the acid, then a weak base is the result, and if the acid is stronger a weaker acid results. If they balance, then a neutral product results.

Knowing about acids and bases and how one counteracts the other—and which plants prefer acids or bases—helps a gardener regulate his garden conditions. Really all gardeners are part alchemists, and the soil, seeds, plant foods, and plants are ingredients in a huge cauldron called the garden. He adds, blends, and modifies to suit the end results, be it a beautiful rose, or a mess of black-eyed peas.

One may wonder how the reaction of the soil can affect plants. Well, here are a couple of examples. In the area around Bastrop, Texas there is a lost pine forest, or really just an isolated pine forest of a rather limited area. Scientists have long wondered why the pine trees grow along invisible boundaries, and stop, and begin again according to some unseen law of nature. We now believe it is because of the soil reaction. These trees need a certain amount of free iron in the soil, and only when the soil is at a certain point of acidity is there enough free iron to support the pine trees, so we have the lost pine forest in obedience to the soil and its reactions.

In this area, our alkali or basic soils are known to be rich in lime, (calcium) and so we never add lime to our soils as people need to do in other places where the soil is acid. The lime sometimes gets too available, and our plants like the pyracantha become chlorotic (yellow) as a visible result of a too-basic soil reaction. Addition of acid-forming plant food will correct this chlorosis.

For answers to your garden questions, write to Bruce Frazier in care of the Big Spring Herald.

15 OR 20 Speed Ruling Due On School Zones

By JACK RADER

Motorists traveling through school zones may continue to drive up to 20 miles per hour if a committee's recommendation is accepted by the city commission.

The recommendation, a reversal of the traffic commission's action of two weeks ago, will be considered when the city commission meets in regular session in the commission room at City Hall at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Members of the city commission traffic committee have indicated they were in favor of the 20 miles per hour speed limit rather than a 15 mile limit previously approved for recommendation by the traffic commission. Traffic committee members are Paul Kasch, and George Zachariah.

The traffic commission Aug. 10 in a split vote approved zoning streets around schools for 15 miles per hour as a recommendation to the city commission. One member of the commission, Jack Y. Smith, voted against the recommendation.

One reason given for raising the speed limit to 20 miles per hour is that the automatic transmissions in most cars are unsuitable for a lower speed such as 15 miles.

At the traffic commission meeting, Smith maintained that the lower speed is unrealistic with modern cars. It is also contended that brakes on modern cars are better than ever before and stopping quickly and safely is not difficult.

Bruce Dunn, director of public works and executive secretary of the traffic commission, upholds the 15 miles per hour speed limit.

In a meeting with members of the school board, Dunn said, "school zones are designed for the safety of the children, and not for the convenience of modern auto-

J. A. Livingston No Run On Gold Despite Easy Money Policy

Where are the economists who declared, "The Federal Reserve Board is going to have to fight a recession with tight money and high interest rates?"

I can answer that question. They've gone underground. The Reserve Board has demonstrated in the last few months that it is not afraid of a big, bad foreign bugaboo—a run on American gold.

balance of trade this year has run at a monthly rate of $430,000,000 versus $195,000,000 last year (see chart). We're not yet priced out of world markets.

THE RESERVE has cut the discount rate twice—from 4 percent to 3 1/2 percent to 3 percent. It has lowered margin requirements for purchasing stocks.

Second, foreigners are not disturbed by statistics alone. The balanced budget in the year ended June 30 was reassuring. Moreover, astute European economists look behind the budget.

SO, IT WAS ARGUED, the Reserve doesn't dare let interest rates slide. If so, whoosh! Out will go foreign money seeking higher returns elsewhere.

FOREIGN FUNDS kept in the U. S. are at an all-time high. That, plus the face of a major decline in interest rates!

THAT HASN'T happened, despite the fact that in most major countries interest rates have risen, while rates here have fallen.

Central banks always respond to the larger problems that beset them. Therefore, the Federal Reserve Board sought to simulate economic activity—and ran the risk of a drain on gold which did not come.

Around The Rim So Your Water Tastes Bad, Eh?

Since nobody else has analyzed, much less explained, the taste of the water recently, we might as well turn the matter over to an expert.

AL-GEE ARE IN no way related to such other items as alpha and beta. Alpha and beta got here first, and the Greeks did something about them.

IT TASTES LIKE: Over-ripe bananas, well-worn overshoes, fish that have been caught for some time, tar, iodine, fuel oil, slightly overused dish rags, and perhaps a combination of all these.

NOW THE WHOLE secret is this: Al-gee can't help it, but they give off a sort of body odor, like those TV people who use only Brand X soap.

"DEFINITELY NOT," she replied with some heat. "The water last year tasted like M.M. The water this year tastes like B.B. More earthy, if you know what I mean."

But, as we have learned, Al-gees are darned precervative, and when thousands of them congregate, what they can do to a body of water is something awful.

THIS BRINGS US to those much-maligned critters, the algae. Anybody who knows his Latin knows that algae is (are) the plural of alga.

There are experts, of course, who scoff at the theory that lake water turns over. We can go into this later, after we have studied bottom water and top water, and determined where each of these came from.

Norman Vincent Peale Getting The Answer To Your Problem

A man who runs a big bakery business was once faced with a problem so worrisome to him that he thought about it day and night.

Certain man. There was no connection, so far as he could see, between his problem and the man whose name had suddenly occurred to him.

Pacing the floor of his office, he chanced to pause in front of his mother's picture hanging on the wall. His mother had been a simple country woman who had not only loved and revered but had greatly admired for her sharp practical intelligence.

Of course, the first thing we should do about any problem is try to think it through. The minds God gave us are surely intended to be used. And perhaps there is nothing more satisfying than to take a knotty problem apart and put it together again as a problem solved.

SO THIS HARRIED businessman sat at his desk, took all the papers off the top of it, shoved them into one of the drawers and pushed the drawer shut. He said to himself, "I will turn away from this problem for awhile."

AT SUCH TIMES the wise course is to set the problem aside momentarily, and fill your mind with thoughts of God. The peace of God permeating your consciousness induces calm, takes away the tensions, reduces and re-attunes your mental powers.

HE WENT BACK to work much refreshed. Suddenly the thought came to him to go down the street and see a

THE Hottest Child's New Decisions On Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON — In this pre-campaign interval, Sen. John F. Kennedy and his was a chance for success in the Geneva talks. For those who see in the steady worsening of East-West relations a drift from cold war to eventual hot war, this will be welcome.

THIS INVOLVES issues as well as personalities. It means enlisting for the big struggle those on the liberal-left whose ardor for the triumph of convictions and causes is at least as great as the simple desire of the officeholder to win.

THIS HAS been a signal for the advocates of testing to start a renewed drive. Edward Teller, the physicist who played a leading part in developing the hydrogen bomb and who has become perhaps the chief protagonist of more tests and more powerful weapons, is writing a series of articles that argue that progress can be achieved only through actual testing.

AS A RESULT of their talk, Humphrey is convinced that Kennedy will take a strong stand for continuing the nuclear test negotiations in Geneva so long as there is the slightest hope of coming to an agreement with the Soviets.

WHAT THIS ignores, as the other side sees it, is that the explosive power per rocket would be at the cost of permitting other nations to develop their own nuclear weapons. And while there is still a chance to achieve international control, it should not be sacrificed for a more powerful deterrent, and especially when that deterrent is claimed to be two or three times more than enough to do the job of retaliatory destruction.

FOUR DAYS

YMCA Leader's Training Begins

Some 60 new and old leaders of YMCA groups are expected to participate in the leader's training course beginning Monday at 7 p.m. in the YMCA, according to Everett Taylor, program secretary.

The lessons will be conducted from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. Eight lessons will be given Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

The first lesson, "Looking at the YMCA," will be given by Physical Director Joe Leach and will take up the history, philosophy and characteristics of the YMCA.

Everett Taylor, youth program secretary, will give the second lesson on Christian education in the YMCA which will include the concepts, aims and methods of Christian education.

Lesson three will concern working with a group and will examine the basic principles of leadership, the components of an effective group and principles by which attitudes are learned. Taylor will conduct this class.

Records, resources and merchandise of the YMCA will be examined in the fourth class under Leach.

Two 30 minute films will be shown in the fifth class which is concerned with the understanding of youngsters. This class, taught by James M. Hardy, general secretary, is sub-divided into the differences in development, basic emotional needs for an adjusted personality and the basis for understanding. The films are "Meaning of Adolescence" and "Life With Junior."

The sixth class, also taught by Hardy, is titled Discipline, and takes up the three parts of personality, principles of individual and group discipline, and when to stop trying.

Program techniques dealing with the different methods of finding the interests of youths and planning programs accordingly will be discussed in the seventh class.

The training session will close with a class on program planning. Senior Hi-Y and Senior Tri-Hi-Y leaders will be instructed by Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., leader of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y; Junior Hi-Y by Betty Gray, leader of Goliad ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y; Gra-Y by Taylor and physical program objectives by Leach.

Sixty-four instruction books were compiled for the classes. The work took about a month.

Taylor invited members of the physical committee and youth activities to attend the classes, along with the new and old group leaders.

Cleo Thomas Wins Award For Holland Speech

Cleo Thomas, 17, attending the YMCA World Youth Conference and European tour in Europe, won a silver spoon as an award for her speech on "The Impression Holland Made On Me."

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Miss Thomas was selected from about 40 applicants in the Southwest to represent the U.S. at the conference being held in Holland.

"The people here have been just wonderful," she reports.

She has been teaching her friends to sing "The Eyes of Texas."

Miss Thomas left July 14 to go to Europe and is expected back Sept. 15. One advantage of taking the trip, apart from all the exciting things she will see, is that she will miss the first two weeks of school.

However, the trip might have some drastic repercussions. She wrote and told her mother that

'Psycho' A Shocker By Noted Hitchcock

A new motion picture production from the master of suspense films, Alfred Hitchcock, is his latest Paramount release, "Psycho." "Psycho," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre, is based on an Inner Sanctum mystery novel and stars Anthony Perkins, Vera Miles, John Gavin and Janet Leigh as Mario Crane. Co-starred are stage and film star Martin Balsam and John McIntire. An outstanding supporting cast includes Frank Albertson, Pat Hitchcock (the producer-director's daughter), Vaughn Taylor, Lurene Tuttle, John Anderson and Mort Mills.

ANTHONY PERKINS IS HE the psycho?

To the universal appeal of every Hitchcock film he added another ingredient—an intriguing mystery which kept even Hollywood agog, with interest during production. The original novel by Robert Bloch hit Hitchcock with such impact that he immediately purchased the screen rights, then embarked on a campaign of secrecy and silence surpassing any mystery he has ever put on film. The barest story outline, supplied by Hitchcock himself, describes "Psycho" as the story of a young woman who steals a fortune and encounters a young man too long under the domination of his mother. The mother, to quote Hitchcock, is a "homocidal malac." With typical Hitchcock aptness, the electrifying story is laid against the eerie background of an isolated motel and a brooding Victorian mansion. Time: The present.

For months Hitchcock kept even the title secret. Hitchcock insists it is especially important to the enjoyment of "Psycho" that the sensational climax come to audiences as the complete surprise it is. The best way to ensure this, of course, is to see it from the beginning, and the management of the Ritz Theatre is urging patrons to do just that.

'Around The World' Film Has Record Number Of Stars

The late Michael Todd's spectacular "Around the World in 80 Days," the Academy Award-winning "show on film," which plays the Jet Theatre beginning Sunday smashes all previous records for cinematic celebrity. It boasts of no less than 50 full-fledged motion picture stars. Each and every one of them fits into the plot like pieces of a puzzle. All are admirably suited to their roles and the delight of recognizing screen giants in unusual, sometimes wordless parts, is an added entertainment dividend.

How did Todd, admittedly an almost fabulist master of persuasion, achieve this no-to-minor miracle? If each of his stars had been paid their customary wages, the dynamic producer's payroll would have dwarfed that of General Motors, even in a lean year. But the power of persuasion prevailed.

Noel Coward, for example, was earning $40,000 a week in Las Vegas when he was approached by Todd.

The producer's primary objective was to convince each of his targets that "Around the World in 80 Days" would do more for them than they would do for it. To prove to Coward that he knew whereof he spoke, he suggested a change in the star's act which proved eminently successful. Convinced, Coward agreed to perform for Todd for a mere 100 pounds ($200) and presented the producer with one of his original paintings to complete the bargain.

Fernandel, the famed French star, proved to be one of Todd's toughest targets.

A spectator at the meeting reveals, "Todd gave Fernandel a big cigar and told him his face would be 65 feet long and 25 feet high in the greatest picture ever made. Fernandel says, 'If you had the costume, I'd play the part.' Todd had three suits, a make-up man and a hairdresser in the car downstairs. He got Martine Carol that night by telling her he had Fernandel."

Todd warned that Marlene Dietrich, one of the shrewdest business minds in Hollywood, would be the impossible one to get. He told her, "I'll shoot the scene and show it to you and forget the cost. I'll burn the negative if you don't like it." He was gambling $150,000 with that one scene (a Barbary Coast saloon sequence in which George Raft plays the bouncer, Frank Sinatra, a piano player, Red Skelton a drunk and Dietrich the owner). Says Miss Dietrich, "I just walked in blindly, with no tests, but it couldn't have been better if we'd worked on it for a month."

Frank Sinatra, one of the most instrumental actors in Hollywood, was actually the easiest to enlist, according to Todd. "He was the only guy who wanted to do it really for love, for nothing. I just walked over and asked him and he said 'What time do I show up?'"

In addition to the four principals—David Niven, Cantinflas, Robert Newton and Shirley MacLaine—such stars as Charles Boyer, Joe E. Brown, Ronald Colman, Buster Keaton, Beatrice Lillie, Glynis Johns, Peter Lorre, Jose Greco, Robert Morley and Colonel Tim McCoy are seen in such varied, exotic locales as Suez, Spain, Paris, India, Hong Kong, Japan and several of the seven seas.

'Time Machine' From Welles Tale

A remarkable excursion into the fourth dimension—time—is depicted in "The Time Machine," George Pal's new science-adventure drama for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

TAYLOR & MIMIEUX IS SHE the future?

It is in the Victorian England of 1899 that The Time Traveler undertakes his daring fourth-dimensional adventure through time, surpassing the speed of light and projecting audiences into the fantastic existence of the world of the future. When he first steps, moments later, two hours have passed. Another pull on the lever and it is 1917, the period of World War I. He pushes on through Time—1940, London being bombed during World War II—1966, when he barely escapes an atomic attack. He races through an era of engulfment by lava, finally to emerge in what seems a veritable Paradise in the year 302,701 A. D.

This is the land of the future, inhabited by the blonde Eld people and their deadly foes, the evil, half-man, half-ape Morlocks; cannibalistic monsters with green hair and red eyes, who live in underground caverns, and prey on the enslaved Eld.

It is here that The Time Traveler has his most thrilling adventures with the lovely Weena (Miss Mimeux), whom he saves from the hands of the Morlocks in a climax taking place in a blazing cavern resembling Dante's Inferno.

The screen play of "The Time Machine" was written by David Duncan. The picture was directed by George Pal, whose science-fiction successes include "War of the Worlds" (also based on an H. G. Wells novel), "Destination Moon" and "When Worlds Collide."

Ernest Gann Does Triple Duty

Ernest Gann was the preeminent triple threat man on the Job. Wayne starrer, "Island in the Sky," filmed with Warner-Phonic sound, opening Saturday at the Sahara Theatre, Gann wrote the best-selling novel about the civilian air transport command in World War II from which the film was taken. He also wrote the screenplay and then served as technical adviser and did some of the flying in the picture.

Gann, who piloted planes for Transocean Airlines, took over in many of the scenes which required precision flying and would fly a large DC-3 transport as low as 20 feet over the heads of the actors.

Twain Meet

Kipling was wrong—Hollywood made a liar out of him. East does meet West, in a combination of two film formulas, in "Walk Like a Dragon," at the State Wednesday. The plot is a sort of "Savannah" story with an American Wild West background, Nafu McCarthy stars.

CINEMA COMMENT

By Bob Smith

Big Show

Veteran actress Betty Hutton has an important role in the Big Top film, "Greatest Show on Earth," which makes a return engagement Wednesday at the Jet Theatre.

Borrowed Lawn

Carrying green coals to Newcastle, M-G-M sowed a lawn on an 8,500-foot high Colorado plateau in the San Juan Range for the sake of motion picture authenticity.

In selecting a location site for the new James Cagney Cinema-Scope drama, "Tribute to a Bad Man," Director Robert Wise found that late snows retarded normal grass growth.

To ensure a rich meadowland for the start of filming within a month, the director ordered sacks of seed from an amazed local feed and grain merchant and planted his "lawn."

Pleads Guilty

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bobby Driscoll, former child actor, pleaded guilty last week to disturbing the peace. He was accused of striking a man in the face with a pistol.

The Last Hunt

Debra Paget is an unwilling Indian slave to badman Robert Taylor in "The Last Hunt," co-starring Stewart Granger, in an unusual story of the last days of the mass buffalo slaughter. But it's a buffalo who gets revenge for his race and for Miss Paget; we won't say how.

Alfred Hitchcock is always outdoing himself, and his macabre "Psycho" ranks with his best, if it is not his best.

The suspense master has taken several psychological themes and has woven them together into a tapestry of suspense that will have you chilled and electrified most of the time.

The main themes are sex and sadism, and the opening scenes make the camera into a Peeping Tom. We see Janet Leigh through the window of a hotel room, clad in bra and half-slip, in the arms of her lover.

But Hitchcock's purpose is to build his audience up, then let them down, again and again, until he is ready to strike. So, naturally, nothing happens so early in the movie—Miss Leigh gets up, tells her man their lunch hour is about over, and buttons up.

Later, it is learned that their love is being thwarted by her lover's alimony—hungry ex-wife; so, when Miss Leigh has a chance to steal a pot of money undetected, she doesn't hesitate.

She flees, hiding out in various sleazy hotels and motels; and once more Hitchcock picks up his theme—a Peeping Tom camera and an alternately buttoning and unbuttoning Janet Leigh.

It is when Miss Leigh meets the psycho that this theme, with its sudden introduction of sadistic violence, is capped, after a long and suspenseful buildup.

Think I've given away the plot? Of course not—this is only the beginning. But the shower scene is one of the most artfully directed bits of camera work the suspense master has achieved.

This is about as far as one may go without giving away Mr. Hitchcock's plot; but the insanity that crowns the film's ending is nothing short of brilliant, and obviously came from an inspired Hitchcock.

Incidentally, the previews of "Psycho" last week were an ingenious piece of work. Instead of simply showing scenes from his movie, Hitchcock took his potential viewers on a tour of the scene of the crime, tantalizingly holding out clues, and finally tipping it all off with a sudden and startling scene from "Psycho." Really, he ought to save that preview; it's a work of art in itself.

Two fine movies are returning this week.

The first film is "The Last Hunt," an unusual Western tale centering on the last days of the buffalo slaughter. Robert Taylor, the badman, has taken Debra Paget, a young Indian girl, as squaw, but his partner, Stewart Granger, doesn't go either for slavery and cruelty or the senseless extinction of the bison.

Of course, the badman gets his in the end and everybody, including the buffalo, gains revenge—but saying how would be tattling.

"Around the World in 80 Days," from the Jules Verne story, tells of an intrepid Englishman in Victorian days who takes up a bet that he can circumnavigate the globe in 80 days—at a time when going a fraction of that distance took a shade more than 80 days. It's long and drawn out, but one of the most colorful travelogues ever produced. David Niven, as the Englishman, and Cantinflas, the Mexican comic who portrays the traveler's "man," are superb.

French Actresses Take Off Bikinis

All the lovely French extras had to take off their bikinis before filming a scene for the Frank-Ross-Eton production "Kings Go Forth."

The script called for Sinatra to visit Nice on leave from his outfit during World War II and see dozens of lovely, shapely girls on the beach in bikinis.

But Director Delmer Daves, who is quite hep to what's what with women's styles, pointed out that the bikini was not invented until 1948.

So, all the lovely French extras had to wear different suits.

Big Mistake

For the first time in Hollywood history of a group of film carpenters were greeted on arriving at a Colorado location by television cameras. The unexpected welcome took place at Grand Junction airport when an M-G-M construction crew arrived to build sets for "Tribute to a Bad Man." It seems that some one in error had tipped the local TV boys that star James Cagney was arriving.

After several run-ins with the assistant director who mistook him for a costumed extra on the set of "Kings Go Forth," love drama opening Thursday at the Sahara Theatre through United Artists release, Army Major Vincent Marcheselli, technical advisor on the Frank Sinatra starrer, showed up for work wearing a badge pinned to his green uniform breast pocket.
It read:

Old Brer Terrapin peers out apprehensively and a little crossly, it seems, from his new world of captivity. Actually the rascal is gentle as a kitten and quite harmless, according to his young captors, Henry Rosier, left, and Lynn Langham. Rosier has estimated the age of the reptile at 50 years. "I took science last year and learned how to tell their age—you count the rings on his shell," the 11-year-old naturalist said. Rosier and Langham, 8, caught the tort-shelled turtle in Langham's back yard at 400 Owens.

Butane Dealers To See Weeds Burned By Flame

Texas butane dealers will have an opportunity to observe the results of the research in the new method of weed control called flame cultivation at the High Plains Research Foundation in Halfway, on August 24, according to an announcement by E. F. Powell of Ft. Stockton, president of the Texas Butane Dealers Association.

Dr. Thomas Longnecker, Director of the Foundation, has been carrying on a research program in the controlling of weeds through heat applied by a propane flame. The perfecting of this new method of weed control in row crops will mean tremendous savings for farmers all over Texas.

Tours of the High Plains Research Foundation by farmer and butane dealer groups will include an examination of the results of controlling weeds through flame cultivation in cotton, grain sorghum, corn, soybeans, and castor beans. Those taking the tours will be able to compare the test plots of these crops whose weeds were controlled by flaming with test plots of the same crops cultivated by conventional methods.

Flaming has been conducted on each of these crops with various size and type of flaming equipment at various dates during the 1960 growing season to determine the most economical and best time to use this method of weed control.

Information on the comparison of yield and quality of the various crops between flaming as compared to the same crops not receiving the flame treatment will be released by the High Plains Research Foundation when the harvest is completed and comparisons of all economic factors involved can be made.

Julian Baird Wins After Losing Out

By KAY LOVELAND

Losing out on a Rhodes Scholarship did not mean the end of a dream for Julian Baird, son of the J. T. Bairds. Instead, the dream is just beginning to come true.

Julian, a June graduate of Harvard with a B. A. degree in English, just barely missed winning one of the 32 Rhodes Scholarships given in the United States. In regional competition in New Orleans in December, Julian competed with 11 other state winners from six states for one of four scholarships. He finished fifth.

SPECIAL EFFORT

A number of people felt that such a near win warranted a special effort, and as a result, Julian will go to England in September, where he will attend Oxford on a Dallas Community Guidance Service Scholarship.

At Oxford he will study for an English B. A., which ranks somewhat above the American degree. "I considered studying for a Bachelor of Literature degree, which is in the same category as our M.A., or for a Ph. D., but I decided that I wanted a broad background in English Literature rather than specializing," he explained.

Once Julian returns home at the end of two years, he hopes to work toward his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees in American literature or American history either at the University of California in Berkeley or at Harvard. In time, he would like to teach American civilization at an Ivy League or West Coast university. His eventual aim is to collaborate with his fiancée, Carol Friedell, in writing books.

MARRIAGE

Carol graduated from Radcliffe in June and is planning to attend Stanford next year on a scholarship, where she will be working toward an M.A. degree in American history. Next summer, Julian and Carol plan to be married and Carol will accompany him back to Oxford for his second year of study.

Ordinarily, the English university system includes three years of study, but Julian's degree from Harvard gives him one-year advanced standing. There are several reasons involved in his decision to attend Oxford. Of course, he feels that the foreign atmosphere will broaden his scope of knowledge and he hopes to be able to travel during free periods of the school term.

"The most beneficial point as far as I'm concerned is the European system of education. At Oxford I will be studying under the English tutorial system, whereby I will audit lectures in various classes without receiving credit for it, then I will meet with an individual tutor at regular intervals for discussion on the reading and studying. I have been doing and finally I will take an examination at the termination of my studies. In what way I'm freer to choose what I want to study than I am in the American system," Julian elaborated.

SCHOLARSHIP

The scholarship pays $2,200 a year, which will come to 750 pounds in the changeover to English currency. Tuition at Oxford is 300 pounds yearly, but several services are included in this cost that are not included in American colleges, such as valet, making the price actually cheaper.

"The scholarship provides that half the money will be given to me in September and the other half in February. I'll be paid in American money and, therefore, will get a little more than if I were paid in British currency," he related.

Julian will enroll at Wadham College in Oxford in September before the fall session begins in October. In England the school term runs from October through July with two six weeks breaks during the year. It is during those breaks that he hopes to be able to travel.

Wadham is just one of some thirty colleges included in Oxford University; it dates back to the early seventeenth century.

"It will be more or less surrounded by antiquity," he pointed out.

During his first year he will live in apartments furnished by the college, much as he did at Harvard. The second year, he and Carol will look for a house.

Carol visited here with Julian and his family during the first part of the summer. This month they went to Cleveland to attend a friend's wedding and visit with her parents. In Cleveland, they will say goodbye for a year when she heads west for Stanford, and he goes east, for Oxford.

BAND CLASSES MEET MONDAY

Regular classes are scheduled for both junior high school bands this week. Doug Wiehe, senior high school band director, said the schedule would remain the same this week, despite the change of directors.

Starting Monday, beginning classes will meet daily at 8:30 a.m.; intermediate classes at 10:30 a.m. and advanced band will gather at 1:30 p.m.

New directors are Bill Jones at Goliad and Joe Burchfield at Rannels.

Wiehe said the senior high school band will not meet until Friday.

Pays $25 Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Greta Thyssen, once Miss Denmark of the Miss Universe contest, paid a $25 fine last week when a judge gave her the choice of the fine or five days in jail for a traffic offense.

She was found guilty of violating the right of way of a pedestrian.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Urges Support Of Worthy Community Campaigns

TO THE EDITOR:

The summer will soon be over, and the busy season of the year, the season of harvest and accelerated business activity will be upon us. The Lord of harvest has given us another abundant crop, and we should be grateful. Also the season of sharing will be observed by those who feel that the supreme beatitude is "It is more blessed to give than to receive." And to those who take seriously the words of the Master when He said, "give and it shall be given unto you, good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over," it will be a welcome opportunity to share with those less fortunate.

I am especially thinking of two programs which are immediately before us: the annual United Fund campaign and the more modest, but not less important, effort of the Big Spring Pastor's Association to raise the funds to carry on the Bible teaching program in high school. We all know how necessary the United Fund is, and we are more and more interested in the very effective work that is being done by Elizabeth Johansen with her Bible classes in the public schools. We hope you will be thinking these matters over and when the time of opportunity comes to make your contribution that you will not think of it so much as a gift but as an investment. For 18 years I have considered it a personal privilege and a great reflex blessing to have as generous part as possible in these worthy causes. I hold no office in the Pastor's Association, but I am deeply concerned in all the things this wonderful-organization sponsors. I was not asked to write these words but they come spontaneously from a heart that is concerned about every need of this community.

Sincerely,
DICK O'BRIEN
