Rail Walkout Felt By Eastern States

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - A long-threatened strike stalled the Pennsylvania Railroad along its entire length today, and the economy of 13 states from the Eastern seaboard to the Midwest skipped a few beats as thousands felt the impact.

There were no reports of disorder from any quarter. But there was disruption, since the strike by more than 20,000 non-operating employees of the country's largest railroad came just before the Labor Day weekend with its inevitable mass travel.

The PRR laid off its 52,000 other employees for the duration. No travelers were stranded, however, for the railroad saw to it that no trains were on the move when the strike started.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

The 17th modern Olympiad at Rome, Italy, is commemorated with a set of seven new and colorful stamps by Haiti. The Haitian postal authorities announced the purpose of the issue was to convey, in miniature form, the spirit and history of modern Olympic contests.

The new set consists of four regular postage stamps — 10 centimes, 20 c, 50 c and 1 G. — and three airmail values — 50 c, 1.50 G and 2.50 G.

The 10 c has a background showing the Olympic Stadium at Melbourne, site of the 1956 Games. Also noted is the Olympic torch and the parade of winners at the first modern contest in Athens in 1896.

The 20 c depicts a background of the Rome Stadium. In the foreground is a discus thrower statue. The 50 c illustrates a parade of the athletes at Melbourne and a portrait of the founder of the modern games, Pierre de Coubertin of France. The 1 G pictures the Athens Stadium in 1896. The 50 c airmail portrays Pierre de Coubertin and the flaming Olympic torch against the background of the Melbourne Stadium. The 1.40 G airmail shows the discus thrower statue against an aerial view of the 1956 Rome Stadium. The 2.50 G joins together the parade of winners at the first Olympic Games and those at the last Melbourne contest.

The United Nations Postal Administration announced that it will issue a 4 cent and 8 cent stamp to commemorate the fifteenth anniversary of the United Nations on October 24. A souvenir sheet (value 12 cents) will be issued at the same time. Further details will be given here soon.

Australia will issue a 5 pence stamp later this year to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Melbourne Cup. This Cup has held an honored place in the social and sporting history of Australia and has received attention all over the world. The first Melbourne Cup race was run at Flemington, Victoria, on Nov. 7, 1861. This, and the race of the following year, was won by a horse named Archer which will be the main subject of the stamp design.

Latest reports from the U. S. Post Office Department reveal that three memorial 4-cent stamps will be issued to honor American officials who have died in office. The new stamp will pay tribute to former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Georgia Sen. Walter F. George, and Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft. Designs and dates will be announced later.

Also from Postmaster General Summerfield's office is the statement that the 4 cent and 4 cent Garibaldi "Champion of Liberty" stamps will be placed on first day sale in Washington, D. C. on Nov. 2 rather than on Nov. 7 as previously announced.

Volume II of Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue covering the nations of Europe, Asia and Africa and their colonies will have 40,854 price changes. The 1961 book will be on the market in September. The price is $8.

The Netherlands will issue two new stamps honoring World Mental Health Year. It will consist of a 12 c red brown and white portraying J. L. C. Schroeder van der Kolk, and a 20 c blue black and white depicting Johann Weyer. Both were noted for their work in this field.

Gas Works Taxed On Air Base Sales

AUSTIN (AP)—The attorney general has held that a local gas works must pay the state gross receipts tax on gas it sells an Air Force base within city limits. Even if the base takes the gas and distributes it through its own system and sells some of it to private concessions on the base, it still is not in the gas works business, the opinion said.

State Comptroller Robert Calvert inquired whether the local gas company was required to include the receipts from the Air Force base as taxable gross receipts. The opinion was written by Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack Price.

Senate OKs Helium Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill aimed at recovering millions of cubic feet of helium gas now wasted when natural gas is burned was passed by the Senate Wednesday night.

The bill went back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

Blind Dallas Kids Get In The Swim

By PHILIP GRUBBS, DALLAS (AP)—The cry, "Watch out below," is not one of arrogant warning in a little group of girls who have been instructed to swim this summer.

It is a precautionary statement before Ann Phillips and Kathryn Ann Wilson dive into a pool. For both are blind.

At first they were cautious, but Amacher, with patience and understanding, gave them the needed confidence.

644 Enrolled At O'Donnell

The high school enrolled 151 and junior high had 187 students. Elementary and Negro school enrollment was listed at 264 and 42, respectively.

The Muse On Mews

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Even her poems couldn't stir romance in the soul of her husband, says Jessie A. Johnson, 30. She went to court Wednesday, seeking temporary support pending a divorce, armed with a sample of her poetry.

You used to take me on your knee
And stroke my soft brown hair
And sometimes you'd call me kitten

And I would sit and purr.
The years have gone,
My hair is gray
Since you have called me that
Now that little, soft brown kitten
Has turned into a dam'd old cat.

Mrs. Johnson won $25 a week temporary support from her husband George, 59, a carpenter, just by telling the court her husband was "unromantic." So she read her poetry to newsmen.

ON THE SHELF

THE GOLD-RIMMED SPEC-TACLES. By Giorgio Bassani. Translated from Italian by Isabel Quigly. Atheneum, $3.

Once in Ferrara before the war, one of the best known and best liked doctors was Fadigati. He liked good music, he went to the Venice biennale. But popular as he was, he had never taken a wife, and his good neighbors schemed to get him married. Yet when they probed into his private life, they discovered he was definitely not the marrying kind. When the disagreeable news spread, he was derided by students, and mocked, and blackmailed.

The narrator of this short novel is sometimes observer, sometimes sympathizer with the tortured Dr. Fadigati. It is in the Mussolini era; the Duce lets it be known that anti-Semitic laws are being considered. The narrator is of a prominent and successful family, but a Jewish one, and as Dr. Fadigati sinks lower and lower in their common society, the narrator finds himself slipping, too, almost imperceptibly.

Written with a calm sure hand, this relates the terrifying consequences of a society's moral disapproval. Will the Fadigati tragedy be repeated, is a new victim being prepared, has the narrator unwittingly been telling "his own wretched story?" The novel closes starkly with this dreadful question mark.

THE PEACOCK EYE. By Lewis Lasardi. Scribners, $3.95. On an isolated farm in Southern France, little Adrienne Lescamp plays fearfully with her toys as her agonizing mother dies in childbirth to leave the lone daughter to a bitter doom.

Her father has disappeared, and only her Uncle Louis is there to work the place, boss the help, and keep up a prosperous front. He has a savage appetite for women; and the girl, with no formal learning but full of the brute knowledge acquired in the farmyard, acknowledges his desires for what they are, but keeps growing ominously on to the age where they can center on her. Completely untamed, she has the standards imposed by a wanton mother, a wicked uncle, a father who abandoned his family, and the demands of the flesh over which she has never seen any restraint exercised. Thus it is partly her primitive nature, partly ingrained spite and partly loneliness that makes her set out to seduce the young dedicated novice assigned to give her a belated schooling.

This is a tragic picture, drawn in sober grays and funeral blacks, of a girl whose soul is damned. It is done with a searing realism that is illuminated, and redeemed, with a mystical significance.

Newsmen Plan Discussion On Color In Ads

DALLAS — The same magnetic power that newspaper color advertising holds for consumers will attract scores of advertising and newspaper executives from four states to Dallas, Sept. 15-16, for the first annual Southwest Newspaper Color Conference.

Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico will be represented at the conference, sponsored by the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Texas Newspaper Advertising Managers Association.

"Newspaper color advertising is one of the really exciting things in advertising today," Amon G. Carter, Jr. of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and conference chairman, said, in discussing the conference. "This is true because color, properly used in the newspaper, is the most explosive and effective merchandising force that can be delivered by any mass medium today."

An array of experts on all phases of color — ranging from creative to research to production people — will take part in the conference program. M. J. Butler of the Houston Chronicle is program chairman.

Highlight of the conference will be the awards dinner on the evening of Sept. 16, when winners of the first Southwest Newspaper Color Awards Competition will be announced by Ray L. Powers of the Houston Press awards committee chairman. Newspapers, advertisers and agencies will compete for the awards in seven contest categories.

Fighting Reported At Kasai Capital

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Fighting was reported today between Congo army forces and rebels in Kasai province around Bakwanga, its capital.

But a spokesman for the army of rebellious Katanga province cast doubts on some claims of victories there by Baluba tribesmen supporting Albert Kalonji, chief of Kasai. Kalonji has allied his regime with Katanga.

Kalonji claimed Wednesday that Baluba guerrillas had captured Bakwanga, which had fallen to Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba's forces Saturday. The Katanga officer said all radio communications are cut off but some news filtering out of Kasai indicated the Baluba tribesmen are still harrying Congo soldiers who retreated from Bakwanga.

He said, however, that Kalonji's claim that his guerrillas had taken three other centers did not seem to be "well-founded."

Crippled Yacht Limping To Port

HONOLULU (AP) — The crippled 136-foot Seattle motor yacht Wild Goose II—with nine feet of water in its hull—has won its battle for survival and is heading for Honolulu.

The Coast Guard cutter Mataroga reached the vessel Wednesday night, 250 miles southeast of here and put aboard a repair party.

The yacht, carrying 18 persons including a 4-year-old Maori girl on her way for treatment of a heart defect, radioed the Coast Guard for help early Wednesday after a mysterious breach in the hull let the sea in.

Cline Named To Head Lamesa Chest Drive

LAMESA (SC)—Lloyd Cline was named by the Dawson County Community Chest directors to head the 1960 campaign here later this year. Chest President Leroy Olsak made the announcement. The directors also approved a chest goal of $26,375, an increase of $1,000 over last year's total and represents the largest ever sanctioned.

The budget indicated increases for Girl Scouts, $500; Boy Scouts, $400; Texas United Fund, $750; Texas Heart Assn., $100; and Goodfellows, $700. The American Red Cross had the lone decrease, $500. Other agencies retained the same amount in the budget.

Approved were Texas Rehabilitation Center, $1,100; Girl Scouts, $4,000; Boy Scouts, $4,600; Red Cross, $6,500; Salvation Army, $2,800; Volunteers of America, $850; Texas United Fund, $1,500; Texas Heart Assn., $600; Goodfellows, $2,700; and the agency's pro rata expense, $1,725.50.

Bracero Bill To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action was completed in Congress early today on a law authorizing admission of Mexican farm laborers to this country for a six-month period beyond next June 30.

The House originally had approved a two-year extension of the program but the Senate cut it to six months. By voice vote the House accepted Senate changes in the bill.

The bill now goes to the White House.

Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Sen. Allen Ellender of Louisiana assured critics of the act that a full dress hearing will be held next year before any further extension of the law.

Special Clinic Slated In Lamesa

LAMESA (SC)—A business letter clinic will be offered to Lamesans at Lamesa High School Sept. 22.

The clinic, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will be conducted by William H. Butterfield of Texas Tech, a past president of the American Business Writing Assn.

It will cover the fundamentals of effective letter writing, show how to apply fundamentals and will place strong emphasis on building good will by mail. Butterfield's clinics have been attended by business and professional groups in 82 cities.

Lamesan Receives Baylor Degree

LAMESA (SC)—James B. Middlebrooke of Lamesa received the Bachelor of Arts degrees from Baylor University at the 71st summer commencement exercises recently.

Middlebrooke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Middlebrooke and is a 1948 graduate of Lamesa High School. He majored in chemistry.

Beaten U.S. Airman

An unidentified American airman, his head bandaged, is helped from plane on arriving at airport in Leopoldville, The Congo. He was one of the eight crew members of the U.S. Globemaster and two Canadian soldiers who were attacked by Congolese at Stanleyville airport. They were on a mission for the United Nations peace force.

Officials Fear Red Beachhead

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials fear the Soviet Union is trying to establish a Communist beachhead in the trouble-ridden Congo under the guise of helping the United Nations restore order there. These officials said today this conclusion appeared inescapable in view of the amount of Communist military, technical and transport aid rushed—outside U.N. channels—to the African republic in the last two weeks. The State Department has steadfastly declined to comment on the development. Officials said privately the problem is one for the United Nations—not just the United States—to handle. U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld is aware of the situation and is reported to be assembling information on Soviet bloc activities. But some U.S. officials, concerned over the speed of the Soviet actions, believe the U.N. must move soon and vigorously to assert its authority if the Congo is to be kept clear of the East-West cold war struggle. These officials said the Soviet goal apparently is to make Premier Patrice Lumumba so heavily dependent on Soviet advisers and material help to keep his nation from collapsing that he will be a willing tool afterward for further Red penetration of Africa. More than 200 Soviet bloc technicians—some of them military and intelligence officials—are reported to have moved into the Congo, many aboard planes ostensibly carrying relief supplies. Twin-engine Soviet IL14 transports with double crews are understood to have begun landing in Stanleyville Tuesday to back up nine four-engine IL18s there. Confidential dispatches also reported the Soviets have smuggled in small arms and ammunition along with 100 trucks and technicians landed from a Soviet ship eight days ago. The Soviet Union soon is expected by many to announce a big arms deal with Lumumba's government, similar to the big shipment being provided the Guinea government. Authorities believe this would be followed up with sizable economic credit.

Baptist Fellowship Spurns Kennedy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The Baptist Bible Fellowship has turned thumbs down on Sen. John Kennedy as a presidential candidate because he is a Roman Catholic. "The Roman Catholic Church is a totalitarian religio-political institution whose source of authority and government is the head of a foreign state," said the resolution unanimously adopted at the group's annual meeting here Wednesday.

Crosses Burned At Five Schools

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Police said crosses were burned at five—maybe six—public schools here Wednesday night—the eve of school opening. Similar incidents took place about this time last year. All the schools are for white students. Officers said the crosses, 3 to 4 feet tall, were wrapped in burlap and soaked in kerosene. Police said there were no witnesses and no indication who was responsible.

ABA Doesn't Like World Court Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The policy makers of the American Bar Assn. have decided by a vote of 114-107 that they still don't like the controversial Connally reservation.

The ABA House of Delegates approved a resolution Wednesday urging the Senate to repeal the 14-year-old reservation which limits United States' acceptance of the World Court's jurisdiction.

Under it, this country reserves the right to decide whether a court case against it involves a domestic matter and thus is exempt from World Court rulings.

While the ABA decision—reaffirming one made 13 years ago—was likely to stand, the issue still remained alive at the association's 83rd annual meeting. The question was scheduled for still another airing before the ABA Assembly, consisting of all 6,000 lawyers attending the annual meeting.

The assembly could take an opposite position, supporting the Connally reservation. However, its action would be subject to review by the House of Delegates, which presumably would take the same stand it took Wednesday.

Since 28 members of the House did not vote, however, there remained a chance that the decision might be reversed.

In the U.S. Senate, opposition of some members prevented action this year on a resolution to repeal the limitation. In opposing the reservation, the lawyers group took the position recommended by President Eisenhower in a talk to the association Monday.

Eisenhower pictured the reservation as a stumbling block to the establishment of a world rule of law, inasmuch as it permits the United States to decide on a case-by-case basis whether it will be subject to the World Court's jurisdiction. Eisenhower saw this as a bad example for the rest of the world.

Former Sen. Tom Connally of Texas sponsored the original reservation.

Residents Set High Hill Fete

SCHULENBURG, Tex. (AP)—High Hill, the mother of Schu-len-burg, marks its 100th anniversary Sept. 4, and to this day no one knows sure why it was so named. Some speculate that it was named by Central European immigrants searching for any little rise in the ground that might remind them of their Alps in this sandhill country.

Others believe a group of residents, comfortably filled with beer, named High Hill and other knolls in the area in sarcasm. The festival Sunday will commemorate establishment of St. Mary's Catholic Parish and will include tribute to all the area's pioneers and to the birth of Schu-len-burg.

The community was an important marketing and manufacturing area when the first overland mail route, from Washington to San Francisco, was established. A post office was opened and given the name High Hill.

The first immigrants came from mountainous areas of Central Europe, and it is possible that after the long sea voyage followed by a wagon trip over the coastal plain from Galveston, the hills of Fayette County were a welcome sight—even though they were little more than bumps compared to the towering peaks of their homeland.

Col. Stapp To Brooks

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An Air Force flight surgeon known as "the world's fastest man on the ground" because of his rocket sled tests, takes up new duties at Brooks Air Force Base today. Col. John Paul Stapp became a special assistant for aerospace medicine at the advance studies group of the Aerospace Medical Center.

He has been chief of the Aerospace Medical Division of the Wright Air Development Center at Dayton, Ohio. Col. Stapp rode a rocket-powered sled on a rail 76 times at Holloman AFB, N.M., during a series of experiments aimed at determining the effects of bailing out of aircraft at high speeds. He holds degrees from Baylor University, the University of Minnesota and the University of Texas.

Powers Case Cited In Talk Against Emphasis On Skill

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A church leader says the case of the convicted U2 pilot, Francis Gary Powers, illustrates the danger of "emphasis on skill." The Rev. Herman L. Turner, moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said that Powers mastered the skill of flying but was "uninformed about all else in his life."

The Rev. Dr. Turner of Atlanta, Ga., referred to Powers in addressing the annual meeting of the Synod of Texas, which ends today.

Powers "knew little of the meaning of his country" and "pleaded political innocence and ignorance," he continued. "He testified that he had never paid any attention to America's political affairs. He had never voted." More than 50,000 Presbyterians in about 100 Texas and Louisiana congregations attended the meeting.

Drivers Slips Up On Banana Peel

YORK, Maine (AP)—Theodore Mysliwy, 43, of Danvers, Mass., was traveling along the Maine Turnpike eating a banana.

He threw the banana peel out the window. It struck the car of State Trooper Merle A. Merrill. In District Court Mysliwy was fined $10 Wednesday for "throwing a substance on the highway."

Rail Strike Leader A Determined Man

NEW YORK (AP)—Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, is an individual of determination, abounding Irish wit and a propensity for getting in and out of trouble.

Quill, 55, is a caricaturist's dream with his heavy, dark-rimmed glasses, a fringe of hair around a bald pate, a round, cherubic face, a roly-poly frame, and blue eyes which twinkle or blaze.

Since he came here from Ireland when he was about 26, Quill worked at odd jobs, became a subway change maker, helped organize the TWU, and served three terms on the city council.

Early today he led workers out on a strike that shut down the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Behind his broad brow and colorful language lie a resourceful brain and a bull-like tenacity. He often has threatened strikes but after a suitable interval, has compromised and praised the very companies and individuals which he attacked with vitriolic vigor.

Quill, who got some early support from Communists, decided in 1948 to clean them out of the TWU.

Going Communists one better, he sowed dissension among their ranks, planted misinformation which broke up their planned attacks, and ridiculed them.

Once he turned up at a meeting dominated by Communist union leaders and sat on the platform reading comic papers. When the Communist leaders voiced their protests, Quill, in his famous thick brogue, remarked: "And now we have thought control."

The laughter and shouts broke up the meeting.

Quill's own accounts of why and when he came to the United States have varied. He has told of coming to New York on St. Patrick's Day, limping from a hip wound caused by a British bullet fired during the Easter Day 1916 rebellion. That story would make him about 11 years old at the time.

Over the years the story has dwindled to a bad fall on the hills of Kerry tending his father's sheep.

When he is not engaged on labor matters, Quill lives quietly in the Bronx with his wife, the former Mollie O'Neill. They have one son, John, 21.

Apple-Loving Ape For Space

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The first U.S. animal put into orbit around the earth will be a well-dressed monkey munching on sliced apples.

Two of the five monkeys being trained for the trip were exhibited by the Air Force Wednesday. They are known as 20-X and 21-X.

The Air Force hopes to put one of the 4-pound monkeys into orbit using a modified Thor missile fired from Vandenberg, Calif., Air Force Base in late October. The healthiest of females will make the trip and the Air Force believes it will survive. Its food during the trip will consist of sliced apples.

Sonic Booms For Texas

FORT WORTH (AP)—Sonic booms are predicted over Texas again today as a B58 jet bomber makes training flights from Carswell Air Force Base for the Strategic Air Command.

The runs will be from Fredericksburg to Mineral Wells between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., from Plainview to San Antonio between 5:30 and 6 p.m., and from Fredericksburg to Stephenville between 5:45 p.m. and 12 midnight, and another Saturday from Fredericksburg to Duncan, Okla., between 2 and 8 p.m.

Carswell officials reported they didn't receive a single inquiry Wednesday about a sonic boom caused by a B58 which flew from Cotulla, Tex.

They credited advance notice to the public for allaying any possible alarm over the boom, which occurs when a plane cracks the sound barrier.

Fire Warning Downs Airliner

ABILENE (AP)—A false alarm in a fire warning system caused an American Airlines DC7 with 73 persons aboard to make an emergency landing here Wednesday.

Capt. V. J. Spreckels of Dallas said no evidence of fire was found. Firemen stood by as the plane, en route from Dallas to El Paso, set down at the Abilene Municipal Airport.

The plane's warning system had indicated a fire in the No. 2 engine. It was feathered and the plane landed.

Safety Expert Lists Questions, Answers For Holiday Reading

By GEORGE C. STEWART
Executive Vice President
National Safety Council
Written for the Associated Press

Almost everywhere I go, people ask me about the holiday traffic tolls. The questions asked most frequently, and my answers, are as follows:

Q. Why does the National Safety Council concentrate so heavily on holiday accidents?

A. It doesn't. The Council works every day of the year to prevent accidents of all kinds. But we do place special emphasis on the holiday traffic tolls because of the extra danger during holiday periods.

Q. So there really is extra danger on the highway during a holiday period?

A. Absolutely.

Q. How do you know?

A. Every bit of evidence we have been able to dig up points to it. For one thing, the Associated Press makes a dry run on the holiday traffic compilation two weeks before each major holiday. It compares the traffic death toll across the nation exactly as it will do two weeks later—the same number of hours, the same days of the week as the actual holiday period. With only one exception, the actual holiday traffic death tolls have never failed to exceed the toll on the comparable non-holiday period of two weeks hence.

Q. By how much?

A. By an average of 27 per cent over the last five years.

Q. How do you explain this higher holiday toll?

A. More travel, more danger, more accidents. It's just that simple.

Q. I have read or heard somewhere that the holiday tolls actually aren't as big as they appear to be. Isn't it a fact that a certain number of people would die anyway, whether it was a holiday or not?

A. Certainly—but not as many, as I have tried to show above.

Q. How does the National Safety Council keep tab on all these holiday traffic deaths, hour by hour?

A. It doesn't. Compilations are made by the two nationwide press associations, through their state and local correspondents and bureaus across the country.

Q. Then how does the Council fit into the holiday toll picture so importantly?

A. The Council compares the hourly traffic death figures compiled by the press associations with the toll at the same hour on preceding holidays, and reports on whether the toll is running ahead or behind the previous toll, and by how much. It also issues frequent warnings aimed at the traffic situation which prevails at that moment.

Q. Doesn't it also issue pre-holiday predictions as to how many people will be killed on the highways over the holiday period?

A. A correction, please. Not how many people will be killed, but how many people may be killed unless the extra holiday danger is met with extra care. The Council has never said so many people will or must be killed, for the reason that they needn't be killed if enough people drive the way they should.

Q. But you do try to come as close as you can to predicting the actual toll, don't you?

A. On the contrary, the Council is the one forecaster who hopes and prays his forecast will be 100 per cent wrong. We would be the happiest people on earth if we estimated traffic deaths over a holiday might total 400, for example, and no one was killed.

Q. But isn't it a fact that your forecasts have been amazingly accurate?

A. No. As a matter of fact, our pre-holiday estimates have been consistently wide of the mark. This is natural, of course, since we are basing our estimates on what could happen mathematically, and human behavior doesn't follow any such pattern.

Q. Just how far do you miss it?

A. Since we began our holiday campaigns in 1946, we have missed the actual traffic death tolls over 70 major holidays in 14 years with an average of 41—or 12 per cent.

Q. I don't understand.

A. Well, our estimates have varied by as much as 100 under the actual toll to 130 above the actual toll. On the other hand, some of our estimates have been tragically close. But the average over the 70 holidays has been a difference of 41 deaths between our pre-holiday estimate and the actual toll.

Q. Do you have any feeling that your pre-holiday estimates may frighten drivers so that actually they become susceptible to an accident?

A. No, we don't feel that way. On the contrary, we believe our warnings alert drivers to the extra holiday danger and thus make them more cautious. We certainly don't want to scare anyone, but we firmly believe caution and concern help prevent accidents—on holidays or at any other time.

Q. Do you urge people to stay home over the holidays—or at least to stay off the road?

A. Never. We don't believe that is the way to hold down the traffic toll.

Campaign Ensembles

Women supporters of either political candidate Richard Nixon or John Kennedy will be campaigning this fall in these two ensembles designed by Neiman-Marcus and selected by the executive staffs of both candidates for their women's groups. Kennedy campaigners will wear a skirt of flag blue, a true blazer jacket of white lightweight flannel, piped in flag blue, with Navy brass buttons. Nixon supporters will campaign in a white pleated or straight skirt of Delgado fabric, topped by a flag blue, double-breasted yachtmans' jacket with giant pearl buttons and three-quarter length sleeves. The Dallas and Houston stores will be exclusive outlets for the ensembles.

Sponsor Still Has Influence In TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Despite all the talk, the sponsor's influence has not departed from the television scene.

One cigarette manufacturing company has such strong feelings about cigars that it will not permit even villains to smoke them. A number of car manufacturers dislike the sight of an automobile accident so violently that smash-ups are never in their sponsored shows—not even when the cars are so disguised that the make is unrecognizable.

The soap company sponsoring "Lassie," which has a large children's audience, bans both drinking and smoking. But by special dispensation, the veterinarian on the show may be shown holding a pipe between his teeth if it isn't loaded, however.

Sponsors quite naturally feel that performers in their series should be willing to use the products they are advertising. To insure this the soap, toothpaste and food manufacturers usually present their stars with handsome supplies of the product. Part of the financial reward of the musicians in Lawrence Welk's orchestra is a current model of his sponsor's automobile. Stars of other automobile-sponsored shows can usually get a new model at wholesale prices.

Cigarettes, however, present a more difficult problem. Most smokers have their own favorite brand and prefer it in spite of financial considerations.

Recently, talking with the star of a new adventure series on the set between shots, I offered him a cigarette. The strong, brave hero started to accept and then jerked his hand back and looked furtively around. Then he shook his head, murmuring that it wasn't his brand.

"That boy is learning fast," he said. "There was a sponsor's man standing right behind him. He won't smoke anything but the company's brands—not in public, anyway."

NBC plans a women-angled 60-minute documentary on family life, narrated by Jane Wyatt, on Nov. 14. It's sponsored by a cranberry producer anxious to overcome the disquieting news that cut into berry sales last Thanksgiving. No one will get on the record with a statement, but rumors persist producers are having difficulties with the ABC's new series based on Winston Churchill's memoirs and CBS' "Checkmate."

School Traffic Problem Removed

LAMESA (SC) — A troublesome traffic problem at the Lamesa Junior High School was removed by city workmen here this week.

Traffic lights were removed from the adjacent intersections on 1st and Bryan Sts. and a midblock crossing installed.

Students will be required to use the midblock crossing rather than the intersections. An overhead traffic light will halt vehicles at the crossing.

The new system was installed after a recommendation by the Texas Highway Department following an extensive study of the problem during the summer.

Past Disasters

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pieces of small planets, called asteroids, have hit the earth at least nine times, a scientist says. Dr. Robert S. Dietz told the Meteorological Society that one of the largest made a 26-mile-wide crater in South Africa 300 to 600 million years ago.

Nixon Knee Is Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's injured knee was reported today to be responding well to treatment at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The vice president had the most restful night he has enjoyed since arriving at the hospital, an aide to the Republican National Committee said.

Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, was admitted to the hospital Monday. He bumped his knee on a car door during a Greensboro, N.C., campaign trip Aug. 17. His doctors estimated he would require two weeks of treatment.

The aide said Nixon's chief complaint is a sore arm resulting from penicillin shots.

Nixon has worked on correspondence and dictated campaign speeches while in the hospital.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York had an engagement to visit Nixon this afternoon. Nixon's office said they would discuss campaign strategy.

Racial Wrong

WEST BROMWICH, England (AP) — Shop manager William Whittingham, 49, felt he had done wrong in signing a petition protesting the sale of a house on his street to a family of Jamaican Negroes. His wife told a coroner it preyed on his mind. Whittingham was found drowned in a nearby river. The inquest verdict: suicide.

Final Plans Being Made For Farm Queen Contest

Final plans were being made today for the district Farm Bureau Queen contest.

The event will be staged at 8 p.m. Friday in the HCJC small Auditorium. Ed Cumby, field representative for the Farm Bureau, will emcee the program which will feature three county farm queens vying for the district title. Winner will seek the state title against other Texas district queens.

Contestants include Sandra Baker, of Howard County; Sue Shipp of Dawson; and Caroline Ratliff of Tom Green.

A rehearsal will be held at 5 p.m. Friday for the contestants, and at 6 p.m. the three beauties will meet with judges for a light dinner and personality interviews.

Lions Hear Talk On Sight Checks

Parents frequently are guilty of not checking often enough on their children's most precious gift—their sight. L. Carl Moverman told the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday.

L. Moverman, assigned as optometrist at Webb AFB, said that eyes ought to be checked annually. Leaving the chore of screening to health and school nurses, who are overburdened with numbers, is unwise, he said.

Tips for perhaps spotting that one child in five with inadequate or faulty vision include:

Holding reading matter up close to the face; sitting habitually close to the TV; frequent low brow or precordial headaches; day dreaming in school; constantly red eyes and other signs of eye irritation; consistently brimming with tears when subjected to bright lights; double vision or ghost images (as indicated by habitual tilting of the head or looking sideward; unexplained nervousness.

"Nothing is more precious than sight itself," said L. Moverman. "Lions are dedicated to that preservation and they can do much to enlist the help of parents."

3 Men Held For Car Theft Here

Charges of car theft have been filed against three men now held in El Paso in connection with stealing a 1955 Chevrolet station wagon from the car lot operated by O. L. Snow. The car was stolen here Tuesday night.

Sheriff Miller Harris identified the three men as Howard M. Price, Raymond B. Plumlee and James K. Matthews. He placed the complaint with Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter.

He said he recognized only Plumlee of the names given him by El Paso officers. Whether the other two men are local, the sheriff was not advised. He said a deputy would be sent to El Paso to take custody of the men.

Mexico Volunteers For Cuban Talks

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos pledged his government's good offices today to attempt a reconciliation between the United States and Cuba.

In a four-hour annual state of the nation report prepared for delivery to Congress, Lopez Mateos said the mission of each of the American states "consists of keeping united in peace and harmony this great family in which Cuba rightfully holds a place of distinction."

The preliminary approaches did not have the immediate result we wished," the President said. "Nevertheless, Mexico will not cease in its effort to serve unreservedly the cause of friendship and harmony among the American republics."

Lopez Mateos made no specific mention of communism, but that was clearly his target when he said: "Other countries have under-

Publicity Boosts Support Checks

Wade Choate, district court clerk, was knee-deep in child support checks Thursday.

There were two reasons for the excess number. It was the first of the month—and an extra number of payments always show up on that date.

The other reason had to do with actions of Judge Ralph Caton, 11th District Court.

The judge, on two recent occasions, has had former husbands before him cited to answer charges of contempt. The citations alleged that these men had been ordered by the court to make specified payments for the support of their children and had failed to comply with the court's order.

In each of these cases, the court ruled the men in contempt and ordered Sheriff Miller Harris to lock them up in the county jail until they "purged" themselves. The only acceptable way to clear the record in such a case is to pay up all back payments.

Invariably, Judge Caton and Choate explained, when the court has to lock up ex-husbands for this offense, there is a flood of payments by other persons who have not been as prompt in child support payments as they should have been.

No sooner do newspaper reports appear that the court has jailed someone for failing to comply with the court's order than Choate's mail becomes heavy with checks.

Y Young Adult Club Meets Today

The YMCA Young Adult Club, composed of members aged from 19 to 35 years, will meet today at 8 p.m. in the YMCA club activities center.

A new club, the young adults are seeking more members to participate. The club activities are primarily social and recreational. Only a YMCA membership and the proper age are required to join.

Information regarding the club can be obtained from Club President Chuck Dennis, Ext. 518 at Webb AFB, or secretary-treasurer Kay Loveland at AM 4-5698.

Club activities in the past have been picnics, wiener roasts, swim parties, volleyball, badminton and various gym activities.

James M. Hardy, general secretary of the YMCA, said he hopes the club will gradually develop and affiliate with the national program and participate in area and national conferences and conventions.

Mary Conkey is club advisor.

Candidates Both Criticize Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both presidential candidates had critical goodbyes to the Congress, which is expected to wind up its politically heated summer session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts served notice that he will be around in January—either as president-elect or senator—to bring up again some of the things they didn't do.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in Republican rival, said Congress had been called back after the party conventions for political purposes and had failed to enact a program.

Nixon, hospitalized with an infected knee, said through Herbert G. Klein, his press secretary, that "certainly it is not surprising that the leaders of the Democratic party have not produced the type of program" President Eisenhower and he advocated.

Kennedy criticized Southern Democrats, as well as Republicans, for balking the passage of legislation "keyed to his party's platform."

He told his colleagues Wednesday that if he had accepted a

Fund Shortage Halts Work

The oiling program to cut down dust and maintenance cost on unpaved streets, has been temporarily discontinued until more funds are available.

Taxes which are paid in October will enable the city to take up the oiling program again, and also begin asphalt stabilization and seal coating, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

The oil surface has cut maintenance considerably, Dunn said, saving money formerly spent on watering and grading to keep dust to a minimum.

Many persons have responded favorably to the oiling, Dunn said, and have requested the oil for their streets. Dunn suggested that these residents consider entering an assessment type paving program, however. The oil is temporary at best, he added.

Dunn said that when oiling is started again the city will surface as many streets as possible.

Rites Held For Mrs. Ruhrup

Rites for Mrs. Anna, Belle Ruhrup, 84, were to be held today at 4 p.m. in the river General Home Chapel with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd officiating. Interment will be in the City Cemetery.

Mrs. Ruhrup died Sunday in an El Paso rest home after a long illness. She was born at Terrell, July 26, 1876. She was a resident of this community for many years.

She married Charles Ruhrup, who preceded her in death, at Baird. He was an engineer on the Texas and Pacific Railroad until his retirement.

Mrs. Ruhrup was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Eastern Star.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. J. S. Morrison, El Paso, Mrs. M. T. Johnson, Neenah, Wis.; two sisters, Mrs. Dewitt Davis, Big Spring, Mrs. Joe McGowan, Baird; and four grandchildren.

Palbearers are Paul Soldan, Friend Talbot, Jack Wilcox, Temp Currie, Roland Schwarzenbach and E. C. Boatler.

Commission Posts $20,000

COLORADO CITY (SC)—A three man commission, appointed to bear a condemnation petition concerning 20.813 acres of land required by the state in building Interstate 20, awarded Dr. J. Melvin Crymes $20,000 for the property.

The acreage is located on Colorado City's West Hill and will be used in building the bypass road of the city. Commissioners were Perry Bowles, Ross Dockrey and Ross Daniels.

Both the landowner and the state have 10 days to appeal the verdict. They may appeal and receive a condemnation trial in county court.

J. C. Gilbert Asks $70,500 Damages

J. C. Gilbert has filed a suit in 11th District Court asking $70,500 damages of Stripling Supply Co. and Tommy Wilkerson as a result of a truck-car collision on July 11.

Gilbert alleges that he was driving his car on South Lancaster, between 4th and 5th streets, on the date named. He claims his automobile was struck by a truck owned by the defendant firm and driven by Wilkerson. He was injured, he asserts, and is entitled to $70,500 damages.

stripped-down House version of a minimum wage bill, the action would have foreclosed further progress in this field for several years.

Instead, he said, he chose to let the bill die so that it could be revived in a new Congress and with a new president.

Kennedy can contend in the campaign that if he is president he can reverse the present situation. He would have within his own party in Congress sufficient support to uphold almost any veto. He could throw back any bills passed by a coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans and thus pressure legislation in the direction he points.

On the other hand, Nixon can perform the near miracle of carrying the Republicans to control of the House, he will be in the same position as President Eisenhower.

He will have to depend on the old Republican-Southern Democratic coalition to produce the votes for his program. He will have to use his veto power as a club to influence the course of legislation.

Even a public control of the House wouldn't change this materially. In the end his administration would have to accept some half-loaf compromises between a Republican House and a Democratic Senate.

President Eisenhower chats with Vice President Richard Nixon at Walter Reed Hospital at Washington, D.C., where Nixon is being treated for an infected left knee. The Republican presidential candidate was ordered to the hospital.

Miller Says Those Marines Are Crazy, But He's Game

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"These people are crazy—what makes them act this way?" said good of Mel, bewildered but still game hero of "Melvin Miller Week."

"But I'm going to see this thing through, even if it kills me," said the Peoria, Ill., tractor factory foreman who today officially begins this week-long reign as king of this seaside resort.

His raucous reception Wednesday night quite probably would have made seasoned politicians cry, "Enough! Enough!"

In case anyone hasn't heard, Melvin is the ordinary Joe whose free week in Laguna dates to a zany long-distance telephone call last Labor Day weekend.

On that now historic occasion, Marine Capt. Joe Gestson—searching for his misplaced automobile—quite by accident called Peoria and got Melvin, a complete stranger. They became long-distance buddies, and practical joker Gestson organized a drive to bring Melvin to Laguna for a week of fun in the sun.

INTO CHAOS
Wednesday night Melvin stepped off a jet airplane in Los Angeles into chaos, brother, complete chaos.

"I never expected anything like this," said Melvin, nondrinker, father of three, church elder and pillar of the Peoria community.

The airport crowd of about 300 included actress Mammie Van Doren, who planted a kiss on Mel's surprised cheek.

"My wife didn't know about this," laughed husky Melvin, 40, who left his wife Sally and the kids in Peoria.

While the throng cheered, "Yea, Melvin," he was given a key to Laguna Beach by gray-haired Mayor Jesse Riddell, retired Des Moines insurance executive and one of Laguna's greatest lawn bowlers.

Like conquering heroes, Miller and Gestson in an open convertible headed a howling motorcade. It proceeded 75 miles south to a reception at Laguna's Sandpiper Bar, the Marine hangout where Gestson placed his celebrated telephone call.

The joint was jammed.

ON TRACTOR
Outside the bar, teen-agers climbed aboard a 20-foot-long tractor parked as a monument to Melvin's occupation.

On busy U.S. Highway 101 police officers battled a traffic jam.

"It got so bad I had to close down," said Yvonne Jones, who operates a drive-in restaurant across the street.

Inside, Melvin was mobbed by Press photographers, television cameramen, reporters, ladies in mumpsy-baggy Hawaiian dresses—and Marines; jet pilots, beach boys, beach girls—all wanted to say hello to the crew-cut factory worker.

Barricaded in a corner, Melvin, in a conservative business suit, shook hands with a couple of hundred. He tended bar. He posed for pictures under hot TV lights as fans stood on tables and chairs.

Finally Melvin and Gestson wriggled out of the jam for a breath of ocean air on the sidewalk.

NO REST
But there was no rest for Melvin. By now in shirtsleeves and trying to light his pipe, he was lifted onto the curbside tractor for more pictures.

Students See Science Films

The first of the new science course films are being shown in regular physics and chemistry classes today, while scheduling is being set up for the regular film course, Sam Anderson, assistant superintendent said this morning.

Registration for the film courses will be held through this week and part of next week.

"We are encouraging students to take both the film and the regular laboratory course," Anderson said.

He added he hoped there would be some students taking just one of the courses so efficiency of the film course could be gauged.

"It will be the first of next week before we know what the enrollment will be," Anderson explained.

Anderson thought that through the use of the film and the regular laboratory, a top notch 1½ credit program would be worked out. His hopes are to eventually work into a two credit course with expansion into other sciences.

Postal Receipts Climb Upward

Postal receipts for the Big Spring Post Office were $8,000 greater in August of this year than in the same month of 1959. E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said Thursday morning.

He said receipts for the month just ended were $32,652.35. A year ago, the same month's receipts were $24,896.11.

So far, 1960 is approximately $6,000 ahead of the total for the same number of months in 1959. The total for 1960 is $240,796.94 compared with $234,142.70 for the same period in 1959.

Famed Passion Play Gets Mixed Reactions

By JOHN BAUSMAN
OBERAMMERGAU, Germany (AP)—A German critic wrote, "It is just bad theater." A correspondent for New York's show business newspaper Variety found it stuffy and dated. And even before the season started a professor raised an old complaint that it is anti-Semitic.

They were all talking about the Oberammergau passion play, produced every 10 years in this village at the foot of the Bavarian Alps.

Despite all criticism, the show is playing week after week this summer to capacity audiences of 5,000.

The visitor sees a dramatization of Christ's last week on earth, his crucifixion and resurrection, ac-ording to a 100-year-old script. Between the narrative scenes are long choral interludes and tableaux depicting Old Testament scenes. The performance runs from 8:15 a.m. until nearly 6 p.m. with two hours out for lunch.

Spectators sit under an arched shelter, open at one end to a big outdoor stage.

The elders of Oberammergau pledged in 1633 to perform every 10 years a play in memory of Christ's passion if the village was spared from a plague. According to local legend, plague deaths stopped immediately and in 1634 the first passion play was performed. In 1880 the play schedule shifted to the 10-year schedule.

The current text is basically one written by a parish priest, the Rev. Alois Daisenberger, between 1850 and 1860.

It is strictly a local show, performed by villagers paid nominal sums to make up for time lost from regular work. No professional actors are used.

There is a strict rule against makeup. The men of Oberammergau let hair and beards grow for the year of the passion play.

Most spectators are obviously impressed by the performance. Some weep during the crucifixion, which is presented with a startling reality that has Christ hanging on the cross almost 20 minutes.

The passion play committee reports its mail runs 90 per cent favorable and 10 per cent critical. Published articles on the play divide about the same.

At least some of the villagers take the criticism seriously. Revision of the play has been discussed for over 30 years but a strong faction favors the traditional script.

Cuban Seizure Of Property Near

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Raul Castro indicated early today that the seizure of the remaining American property in Cuba—estimated at a quarter of a billion dollars—is imminent.

But the fiery minister of armed forces told a midnight rally of sugar workers his brother's regime does not plan to confiscate the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo "for now."

He described the base as obsolete and predicted "it will come to Cuba years sooner or years later."

Charging that "war criminals"—meaning anti-Castro forces—are training at Guantanamo, he declared: "We warn again any problem that rises there is the consequence of auto-provocation."

The younger Castro left the impression that another grab of American properties might be announced at the giant rally Prime Minister Fidel Castro has called for Friday "to answer the declaration of San Jose."

Tourists Beat The Beatniks; They're Fleeing North Beach

By HARRY JUPITER
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—What's next?
The report from North Beach is that the beatniks have been fleeing the scene.

The news has been met with mixed emotions.

San Francisco, site of the birth of the beards, sits back and awaits the next movement in the sociological symphony of discordant notes.

North Beach once a colorful, relatively quiet Italian neighborhood that harbored struggling artists and inexpensive conversation, has become in five years, the busiest, gaudiest, noisiest part of San Francisco at night.

And expensive as well.

As for the original bearded, sandaled, fiery-eyed ones, most have departed for other pastures—some greener; others, you should pardon the expression, commercial.

Reasons for the exodus are as varied as the individualists who first were identified as beat. They erupted into passionate debate over the meaning of the all-inclusive but nebulous term beatnik.

If there was anything dear to the hearts of the original oddballs, it was their striving for the singular, their yearning for the unique.

Their major protest was against conformity.

But what happened, faster than you can beat a bongo?

In virtually no time at all, the beatniks and their chicks pouring into North Beach had uniforms. Suddenly it seemed all the young men—some angry looking, others puzzled looking—were dressed like tramps, unclipped and unshaven. And all the young women wore black tights, shaggy sweaters and hair that resembled an aging mop.

These were the second wave—the kick seekers, the pseudo-beats and the joiners. Mostly the joiners.

Of the originals, some have gone to Venice (west in Southern California) and others to New Orleans. They've scattered to such diverse havens as Pocatello, Idaho, or New York. Some scrapped up enough of the bread to scam to the beatniks' Utopia—Europe.

Some have even gone to work.

The artificial frenzy got old hat after awhile. The imitating newcomers were bringing the anathema of Beatville: togetherness. And the little old ladies came with their cameras.

That was too much for the first of the red-hot beatniks.

What's left?

A little of the old and lots of the new.

Henri Lenoir, proprietor of one North Beach saloon, in order to satisfy the curiosity of his new customers, tries to make sure the tourists aren't too disappointed.

Lenoir has created a job for Hubert Leslie, a thin, bearded man who goes by the name of "Hubert the Cube."

"I give Hubert two bits to sit in the window so I'll have a beatnik to show the tourists," says Lenoir, who admits: "Hubert is a nice person, quiet and well behaved."

Cuban Paint Brushes Cover 'Taint' On Oil

By HAROLD K. MILKS
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Confident it has won its battle for oil, the Cuban government's petroleum monopoly is now trying to wipe out all physical signs of foreign ownership of the refineries it seized.

Tank trucks and filling stations of the former Esso Standard, Shell and Texaco refineries have lost their distinctive colors and well-advertised names and slogans.

All this has been replaced by the green and white sign of ICP—for Fidel Castro's Institute of Cuban Petroleum.

Station pumps and storage tanks throughout Cuba have been repainted to erase the markings of the multimillion-dollar American, Dutch and British oil holdings Castro seized because the owners refused to process Soviet crude oil.

Unofficial reports say the Soviet Union's tankers are more than satisfying Cuba's immediate need for both crude oil and petroleum products. But the cost of this long-distance operation—bringing Soviet oil from Black Sea ports to Cuba—has not been disclosed.

Thirteen tankers delivered nearly a million tons of crude oil to Cuba in July plus 125,000 tons of fuel oil and quantities of other products. The same delivery rate was maintained in August, official sources claim.

Cuban sources said all three seized refineries are operating normally, although their top capacities have been reduced because Soviet crude is substantially lighter than the Venezuelan crude formerly used.

While some shortages have developed in specialized lubricants, supplies of most oils are normal.

Experts say it is too early for major supply or maintenance problems to crop up in the government-run industry. When they do, these experts say, the government's ability to meet them will show whether it is capable of handling the industry on a long-term basis.

State Revenue Fund In The Red

AUSTIN (AP)—The state comptroller today starts the 1961 fiscal year with the general revenue fund nearly eight million dollars deeper in the red than last Sept. 1.

The state closed its books for 1960 Wednesday with the General Revenue Fund showing a net cash deficit of $34,572,355, the comptroller said. When the fiscal year began Sept. 1, 1959, the fund was $24,671,156 in the hole.

"And this happened despite the new tax bill," said Kenneth Kimbro, who heads the comptroller's statistics division.

Students Without School Seek Help

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The plight of 24 suburban Negro students who have no high school in which to enroll next week drew the attention of Michigan officials today.

The 24 were among the 60 who were graduated in June from elementary school in the little Detroit suburb of Royal Oak Township.

They want to continue their education, but none of the surrounding communities — Detroit, Ferndale or Oak Park — has been able to work out arrangements to take them into their schools.

The basic problem is that Royal Oak Township is an untidy remnant of World War II—a shantytown. The framework of the community was set up by the federal government, which threw up scores of flimsy barracks to house migrant workers needed for defense industries.

When peace came, the workers moved on. Today, the community — less than half a mile square — has about 8,000 residents, practically all of them Negroes. More than half are on relief and township officials are hard pressed to get funds to operate the community.

Detroit officials, citing fruitless attempts to collect $125,000 in overdue tuition money from the township, closed its doors to Royal Oak Township students for the school year starting next week.

Rear Guard Fires On Own Advance

IRVINE, Ky. (AP) — Henry Lutes asked his son, Alex, 47, to see why their chickens were making a disturbance.

A few minutes later, the elder Lutes decided to make his own check, remembering that about 100 chickens had disappeared earlier in the summer.

Looking into the dimly-lit chicken house, he saw something crawling on all fours and fired a lot of buckshot.

It was Alex. He's recovering in the local hospital—in a non-sitting position.

Oak Park and Ferndale said they had no room; that classroom schedules had been drawn up weeks ago and teacher assignments made.

Some Negro leaders said the failure to find classroom space for the 24 was based on racial prejudice. School officials in the Detroit, Oak Park and Ferndale denied this.

Lynn S. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said the matter basically was a local one.

Today he was joined by Gov. G. Mennen Williams in a scheduled meeting with various school and township officials involved to see if they can find a solution.

Growth Stimulator

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported Tuesday that a Soviet chemist has developed a new growth stimulator for plants and animals. Tass said Prof. Jibrail Guseinov treated oil waste with a solution of caustic alkali and produced a substance with properties similar to hormones and vitamins.

GARDEN TALK

Too Many Trunks Can Spoil A Mimosa Tree

By BRUCE FRAZIER

Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Jr. called my attention to a problem with her mimosa trees. She said they were turning yellow and branches were dying in spite of plenty of water and plant food.

Upon close inspection I found the first problem was the result of allowing the trees to develop too many trunks. It is natural for some trees to send up a cluster of trunks from one central root system. The mimosa is one of these.

If you allow several trunks to grow they will compete for food and moisture, but even more of a problem they will rub and injure each other and form weak crookches where they come together. Three points of weakness will fail when a high wind hits them or just the normal movement from the wind will injure the bark and cambium layers.

It is always a good practice to train young trees with a single strong trunk. Prune off branches that come out at very sharp angles where either one may become the main top of the tree.

In the case of these mimosa trees several other problems had developed, and may be a problem over a wide area where mimosa trees are grown. There were termites living in one tree. This is rather unusual, but it happens occasionally when there is other damage to the tree under the bark. The termites were probably there as the result of the other injury and not the cause of it.

I also found a number of flat headed borers. These have been turning up more and more often in West Texas and are probably doing much more damage than we realize. These borers can be removed with a sharp knife or treated with any contact poison if one takes the trouble to dig into their tunnels and apply it hole by hole. A general spraying will do little good against this pest.

The original trunk damage may have been aggravated by an attempt to treat the trees with some sort of petroleum paint. White-washed trees used to be fashionable and since then we have tried to treat the trunks with various things to stop insects from climbing the trees. It is wise to be very careful what is applied to the trunk of any tree. This trunk area is vital to its health and any damage completely around the trunk will girdle or strangle the tree.

If anyone offers to paint your tree with any sort of compound, be sure you know who you are dealing with and what he is applying and why. If you are in doubt, wait until you figure out why, before you treat the trunk.

If you have garden questions, write Bruce Frazier in care of The Herald.

What's Happened To The Old Stars?

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie - TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Remember the movies of 25 years ago? If you do then you lived through Hollywood's golden age.
 Young timers of today who watch old movies on the late show may wonder what all the shouting was about. Perhaps the films of the 1930s have faded with time. But, during the first decade of the talkies, Hollywood saw a burst of creativity it has never equalled.
 And so many stars!
 A quarter century later, some of them are still big names in the film world—John Wayne, Clark Gable, James Stewart.
 Some have stuck around in television—Jackie Cooper, Loretta Young, Ann Sothern.
 Some have combined stage and TV work—Lee Tracy, Walter Pidgeon, Henry Fonda.
 But what ever happened to the others?
 A Hollywood reporter often gets queries from fans who want to know what their favorites of long ago are doing now. Here is a rundown on some of them:
 Deanna Durbin lives near Paris with her husband, writer Charles David.
 Tim McCoy travels with a circus. Dancer Ruby Keller is a housewife at Balboa, Calif.
 William Haines is a Los Angeles interior decorator.
 Ramon Novarro tends to his real estate and does occasional TV roles.
 Richard Barthelmess lives in retirement in New York.
 Clara Bow is in a Culver City sanitarium with a nervous ailment.
 Bebe Daniels has a TV show in England with husband Ben Lyon.
 William Powell enjoys a life of ease in Palm Springs.
 Hoot Gibson is a hotel greeter in Las Vegas.
 Comedian Jack Oakie leaves his San Fernando Valley ranch for occasional film roles.
 Bill (Hopalong) Boyd is retired at Palm Desert, Calif.
 Shirley Temple is a Burlingame, Calif., housewife, appears occasionally on TV.
 Jeanette MacDonald sings at concerts.
 Nelson Eddy stars in a night club act.
 Bruce Cabot does films in Italy, has business deals with King Farouk.
 Irene Dunne limits herself to public service and rare TV appearances.
 Jean Arthur lives in seclusion in Monterey, Calif.
 Sonja Henie manages her interests, still skates in ice shows.
 Alice Faye lives in Palm Springs, Calif. with husband Phil Harris.
 Dorothy Lamour works in night clubs, may return for another "Road" film.
 Luise Rainer makes a rare stage appearance.
 Fay Wray does character roles in TV films.
 Marion Davies looks after her financial interests.
 Stan Laurel lives in Santa Monica, disabled by a stroke.
 Virginia Bruce is married to Turk tycoon Ali Ipar, recently made a film return.
 Tim Holt has a cattle feed business in Marshalltown, Iowa.
 Olivia DeHavilland lives with husband Pierre Galante in Paris, makes a film a year.
 Billie Dove is retired in Palm Springs as Mrs. Robert Kenaston.
 John Boles lives in Beverly Hills and tends his investments here and in Texas.
 Priscilla Lane lives as Mrs. Joseph A. Howard and mother of four in Andover, Mass.
 Rosemary Lane is retired in Pacific Palisades, Calif.
 Charles Farrell manages Palm Springs' Racquet Club.

Dolores Del Rio Is Presley's 'Mom'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dolores Del Rio is making her first Hollywood movie in 18 years—playing Elvis Presley's mother, of all things.
 How does she look? Fabulous. She has the same smooth face, the same waist-length auburn hair as when she played Ramona, Evangeline and Madame DuBarry. The record books show her to be 55.
 "I have no particular secrets," she said, "except perhaps that I am never bored. I think boredom is a woman's worst enemy. When she stops taking interest in what is going on around her, that's when she starts to grow old."
 "I am too busy to be bored. I have my home in Mexico, I have my husband (stage and TV producer Lew Riley), whom I married last year. And I have my career."
 "Actually, I have had four careers. The first was here in silent films; I started in 'What Price Glory' 34 years ago. The second career was talking films. I was really in trouble, because my English was very poor. But I took lessons and I survived, while most of the other silent stars disappeared."
 She remained in Hollywood until 1942. After starring with Orson Welles in "Journey Into Fear," she returned to her native land.
 "I was unhappy with the kind of roles I was getting," she explained. "Also, I wanted to go home. Something happens to a person who lives too long in a foreign country. He becomes neither a part of the new country, nor of his own. A person needs to have an identity."
 "My third career was in Mexican films. I started at an exciting time, when the film industry down there was just beginning. It was a thrill to help it grow and to pioneer new markets in Europe and South America. Now it is a thriving business."
 "The stage is my fourth career, and perhaps the most satisfying one. I started it only recently, and it was a real challenge to enter a new medium and to face audiences in different cities. I was playing 'Lady Windemere's Fan' in Buenos Aires when the call came for this picture."
 This picture is "Black Star," and she plays an Indian, as she did in so many Hollywood films. Presley is her half-breed son.
