Tank Cars Bring Water To Baird

The T & P Railway Company has assigned six tank cars to the jobs of shipping water into Baird from Abilene in an effort to offset a water famine here. The first car was unloaded in Baird Monday. City Secretary Clifton Hord said the cost of the water to the city had not been determined, but it was almost sure to run $3 per thousand gallons. Just how the city will place this expense on the water users it yet to be seen, but it is expected that the heavy users will be penalized after the meter shows an excess of water being consumed.

The extra water is helping in a number of ways, more especially it is giving water customers on the high places a chance to get water. Heretofore many people in the western highlands were without water most of the time.

YOUTHS ARRESTED IN THEATRE ROBBERY

Three youths are awaiting action of the October Grand Jury in Callahan County jail, who are alleged to have broken into the Plains Theatre at Cross Plains Saturday night. Twenty dollars in dimes and nickles were found on one of the youths after his arrest.

CITY'S BUSINESS PRACTICE GETS PRAISING LETTER

The following letter is self-explanatory, and compared with statements from financing companies a few years ago pertaining to Baird's ability to pay, it is a thing of which we may well be proud:

"Dear Mayor Ross: "We acknowledge, with thanks, the final payment on the engine which you purchased from us. This closes our file on this particular contract, and before doing so, we would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the splendid manner in which the City of Baird has cooperated with us. It has been a pleasure to do business with your town, and I sincerely hope that we can be of service some time in the near future.

Cordially yours,
Fairbanks, Morse & Co.
R. E. Whiteley,
Credit Manager."

Citizens Warned Against Peddlers

The people of Baird are warned to have no business with strangers, peddlers, agents of all kinds who have been flooding our town during the past few weeks. These agents have been proven to be swindlers in many cases, Sheriff S. S. Nichols states. The sheriff asks all our people to notify his office as soon as possible when an out-of-town agent knocks on your door, or enters your place of business. These highway operators are not only a nuisance but they are oftentimes dangerous. Many of them are wanted for crimes committed elsewhere. Notifying the sheriff of their presence might be aiding in the capture of a notorious criminal.

PETTY ASKS COUNTY AGENTS PARDON

An advertisement from Petty's Seed Cleaning, Cross Plains, of the July 18th issue of The Star, stated that our county agent, A. R. Grote, had asked Callahan county farmers to take their vetch and rye seed to Rising Star for cleaning. After due investigation Mr. Petty learned that his accusation was false, and Mr. Grote received the following letter of apology:

Cross Plains,
July 26, 1947
Mr. A. R. Grote, Jr.,
Callahan County Agent,
Baird, Texas.
Dear Mr. Grote:

Since publishing advertisements in several Callahan county newspapers last week in which I said that growers of vetch did not have to take their seed out of the county as stated by you, I find that I was in error in declaring that you told Callahan county growers to go elsewhere. I, therefore, tender you an apology and intend to correct the misunderstanding with vetchmen with whom I come in contact.

With every good wish to you and the vetch growers of Callahan county and pledging my support to cooperate in every way possible to the end of obtaining 22½ cents for locally raised vetch seed, I am,

Very truly yours,
A. D. Petty,
Petty's Seed Cleaning,
Cross Plains, Texas.

POOLS MOVE TO LULING

Our prayers are for this friendship to continue on and on, until we can be together again. May the richest blessings rest upon each one of you until we meet again."

Well Destroyed At City Park

Mean pranksters were not content with the destruction of fire places at the park, but some time Tuesday night they picked up the loose concrete blocks and rocks and dropped them into a new water well that had just been drilled at the park. Colonel Dyer, Lonnie Ray and W. O. Wylie worked for some time to pick the location of the well and paid the driller out of their own pockets. The well had been drilled 19 feet and the water level rose to 9 feet. This was not a strong vein of water, but by installing a hand pump, the supply would be sufficient for park use. Mr. Ray had planned to purchase a pump and have the well in use this week. His chief desire was to provide a well of water for public use, where boys could get a drink of cool water after swimming in the lake, and where picnickers could obtain water for a pot of coffee or any of the many other ways water is needed in a park. It was hoped that the well would produce sufficient flow for a wading pool for the tiny tots.

But all this came to naught when it was learned that the well was plugged from bottom to the water line solid with rocks. Another well would have to be drilled before anything else could be done to overcome the destructive deed. If another well were to be drilled, would it not also be filled with rocks? Shall we continue to construct accommodations at the park to be torn down by ruthless pranksters? They burn arbors, set fire to park equipment, break up fire places, and anything else that their idle minds fall to, never realizing that the park and all that's in it is there for their own use. Whoever is doing this damage should be caught and made to pay for the damage.

OMAR BURLESON SPEAKS HIS PIECE

The following was taken from the Congressional Record, and we tip our hat to Congressman Omar Burleson for his stand for state's rights. We believe you will agree with us that Burleson is proving himself to be the kind of representative in Congress this district can well be proud to have.—Editor.

Mr. Burleson. Mr. Speaker, in these closing days of this session of Congress, it seems a sad commentary that many important legislative matters should be shelved to make way for the bill now under consideration.

The distinguished majority leader the gentleman from Indiana, (Mr. Halleck) has just reminded the House that the Democrats have several times passed an anti-poll-tax bill and that now we are displeased because the Republicans are doing the same thing. Yes, it is true; the Democrats have done so but I'm not at all proud of it. I am surprised at a certain element on our side of the aisle being for this measure, and that they have been all along. They are the one who will impose upon the poll-tax States and the South generally, to appease the radical minorities in their districts who are constantly bringing pressure upon them, just such ill-advised legislation as this. But I am sorely disappointed in the Republicans; that great conservative party which has always been for State's rights. Here we find them today ramming through and running rough-shod along with this element on the Democratic side, telling us in the poll-tax States what we must do with our poll-tax system. If the Republicans were really for State's rights, this measure would not be up here today. We know, of course, you are going to pass it over us. We can only raise our voices in protest. I sincerely believe that if a private poll were taken among the Members of the House, the majority would be opposed to this sort of political inquisition under which we are put. I believe you know in your hearts that the question of constitutional right, insofar as qualifications for voting in the various States are concerned, is not the question to be debated here. Neither is it a matter to be argued on the merits for or against the poll-tax system. Plainly and simply it is a matter of we in the poll-tax States running our own business, and you of the other 41 States running yours. As for my own delegation from Texas, I do not think you will ever hear of any of us trying to tell someone of another State how to conduct your affairs, and by the same token we resent your trying to tell us how to conduct ours.

There are a lot of do-gooders, crusaders and champions of causes who would like to hold themselves up as martyrs to a cause, and their voices are loudest in this discussion. Constitutionally right or not, meritorious or not, it is just plain none of your business to tell us who can and who cannot vote in Texas. I am not unmindful that we have considerable sentiment in the State against the poll tax, and if it is dirty linen, we will take care of it ourselves. If I were the strongest advocate in the State for abolition of the poll-tax system, I would still vote against it here in this Congress for the reasons that I have stated. And I say again that I am sorely disappointed in the actions of the majority party for joining the element in my own party to force down our throats this bill, which is the height of all demagoguery in this session of Congress.

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman from Texas has expired.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR NEW BUSINESSES

With the completion of the new re-built Highway 80 through Texas, prospects are good for a number of new businesses to be established here -- provided. Provided that building sites along the right-of-way of the new highway through Baird are not jumped up higher than anyone will pay for the land. It is true that the land fronting on the highway is more valuable now than ever before. The completion of the new highway will increase the values of all real property throughout this section, both in town and in the country, but land owners can encourage the construction of many new motels, tourist courts, trailer parks, and other businesses to accommodate the traveling millions on this big trans-continental highway by selling the land at a reasonable price. Baird is well situated, and with a little encouragement the tourist business can make this one of the most important stops on the road.

GILCHRIST HEADS COTTON RESEARCH COMMITTEE

ABILENE — Gibb Gilchrist, president of Texas A&M College, was re-elected chairman of the joint cotton research committee which met here Monday. Other members of the committee include Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas, and Dr. W. H. Whyburn, president of Texas Technological College.

Positions for research associates to be filled by top-flight research scientist at Texas Tech and the University of Texas were established. These men will coordinate the undertakings of the committee.

The group reviewed in detail the appropriations of $153,244 for the fiscal year beginning in September of the 50th Legislature for cotton research.

The bill first establishing an appropriation for cotton research in the three state colleges was passed in 1941 by the 47th Legislature.

Also meeting with the committee members was John Leahy, general director for the committee with administrative office at College Station.

COFFEE'S ON THE HOUSE

New York—Something new has been added to make rail trips more enjoyable for the much-traveling American public, especially during these summer vacation months. It's "coffee on the house" served passengers on transcontinental trains of the Texas and Pacific. Twice daily a dining car pantryman prepares fresh coffee to be served free of charge to the passengers. Dining car attendants pass through the cars with coffee, cream and sugar and paper cups to furnish travelers these pleasant midmorning and midafternoon treats.

The famous Texas-thru-to-New York "Sunshine Special" is one of the trains featuring this unique postwar service which holds high approval by travelers especially since, "It's on the house."

PEACHES COMING

A Texas peach crop that's expected to be of the best quality yet has started rolling into market from the West Cross Timbers area and the northeastern part of the state.

Most growers in both areas have carried out intensive spraying rot free peaches.

During the last half of July and well into August, the yellow freestone peaches -- Halehaven, Fairs Beauty, Texberta and others -- will be coming in. The Elbertas will start moving in early August.

The big crop is coming from some 6 million trees, most of which are around Weatherford, Eastland and Comanche in the West Cross Timbers area. Approximately one million of the fruit trees, mostly Elbertas, are in the vicinity of Avery, DeKalb and Omaha, Texas.

For the first time in several years, housewives will have a chance to combine this quality peach crop with unlimited supplies of sugar. The peaches will go by way of truck to every town in Texas.

SAME TIME, DIFFERENT CANNERS

The processing time tables for home canners recently released by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service can be relied on for any make or model of canner.

Canners on the market today differ in material, design and also size, but test in nine canners showed that the rate of heating and cooling did not differ enough to make different processing times necessary.

U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists made tests with green beans and mashed pumpkins with two canners of porcelain enamel on steel, one of pressed aluminum, and the other of cast aluminum. The canners varied in weight from 11 to 20 pounds and in volume from 17 to 31 quarts. Each canner had a capacity of* at least one tier of seven quart jars.

Housewives may feel safe in using the standard processing times in any type of canner. The new time tables are still available in the offices of the

4-H GIRLS ENCAMPMENT SCHEDULED AUG. 4-5

Plans are being made for the annual 4-H County Encampment to be held at Denton Park on August 4 and 5. Approximately 60 4-H girls are expected to attend the camp.

A letter has been sent to the girls and club leaders announcing the encampment. Registration will be from 3:30 to 4 p. m., on Monday, August 4. Enrollment fee for the girls who attend the encampment will be $1.00 each.

Each club has been assigned certain food items to bring for camp. Meals will be cooked by the girls. Menus for the encampment are camp style foods. Each girl will bring a cot, bedding, eating utensils and personal items.

The 4-H girls who attended the district encampment at Christoval will assist in teaching the girls camp cookery, recreation and handicraft.

"BOOMERANG"

Bringing to its fullest realization a revolutionary new motion picture technique, "Boomerang" the new Twentieth Century-Fox hit presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, opens Saturday Prevue, Sunday and Monday at the Plaza Theatre. With Dana Andrews as its star, the picture tells an astounding stranger-than-fiction story that for sheer drama and absorbing entertainment is said to be unrivalled among the year's screen offerings.

"Boomerang" brings exciting screen life to the strangest case in American court history—the gripping story of a man, a State's attorney, who placed a higher value on the life of another man than on his own political ambitions. When, during the 1920's, the case reached its spectacular climax in the courtroom of a Connecticut city, its dramatic impact was felt the length and breadth of the country. Today, wherever storytellers gather, it is this story that is invariably submitted as "Exhibit A" but the truth is stranger than fiction advocates.

EULA H. D. CLUB

The Eula Home Demonstration Club has had two club meetings during the month of July, one of which was held without an agent, the other with the agent.

Evelyn Wieland, H. D. Agent, demonstrated the making of refrigerator ice cream, when 14 members and 2 visitors met in the home of Mrs. Estes Farrar. She also presented those present with instruction sheets for ice cream mixtures, using both mechanical and freezer types, stressing the use of one part salt to 8 parts ice in using the freezer method.

T&P INAUGURATES INSTALLMENT TRAVEL

Dallas, July 18—Americans are accustomed to buying their homes, automobiles, washing machines and a multitude of other things on the installment plan. Today they found these time payments extended to an entirely new field -- railroad passenger transportation.

Effective today, installment buying of passenger tickets made its appearance on the Texas & Pacific Railway, one of the nation's 137 Class I Lines.

The T&P is a 76-year-old railroad which operates 1,800 miles of track between Texarkana, Tex., and New Orleans, La., on the east and El Paso, Tex., on the west.

This installment buying has no connection with the credit card plan inaugurated on the T&P and some 40 other railroads earlier this year.

If the Texas & Pacific idea spreads to other railroads, it will mean that the $35 a week stenographer and the man and wife with children and a moderate income will be able to take an enjoyable vacation without using a major portion of their savings or pawning their belongings.

In substance, the T&P Railway installment plan is set-up like this:

(1) Any person planning a business or pleasure trip where the first-class fare is $50 or more, exclusive of Federal tax, may make application for installment buying of his transportation at any T&P passenger agency where this arrangement is in effect.

(2) When the applicant's credit standing is approved, the passenger agent issues the ticket and the customer makes a down payment of not less than 25% of the ticket's total cost.

(3) The passenger signs a promissory note for the balance, which is payable in consecutive monthly installments for the next six months. A service charge of 2% on the unpaid balance is made at the time the transaction is closed, and this amount can be spread over the six-month period.

In dollars and cents, the T&P installment idea means that a person on limited income, for instance, could afford a trip that cost him $152.60 by laying out only $38.15 cash. Balance of $116.74 ($114.49 plus 2% service charge) is due in five monthly payments of $19.46 each with the sixth and final payment $19.44.

In distance it means that the salesgirl who has $100 or so as the total amount to spend for her vacation now can go from Dallas to New York and return instead of to a resort 50 miles away. And she'll still have spending money for Radio City and perhaps a new hat from Fifth Avenue.

Besides the broad stipulations in the newly inaugurated installment tariff applying to passenger fares on the Texas & Pacific, there are a number of specific rules governing the plan which are more interesting to students of business and finance perhaps, than to the general traveling public. However, in explaining them in his office at Dallas today, T&P Traffic Vice-President Chester G. Hayes emphasized that there were no "fine-print" catches to riding the railroad on the installment payment plan.

Hays said that the promissory notes signed by the passengers carry no interest and are payable on or before maturity date. The 2% service charge is to take care of the extra detail work, such as sending regular bills ten days before a payment is due.

The installment plan is particularly designed for vacationists, Hays stated, and there applies to round-trip fares only. Signing of the note puts responsibility for payment of collection expense upon the customer in the event the account becomes delinquent.

Even though only one railroad is using the plan, it effects and benefits traffic on all U. S. railroads. That is because such tickets bought at a specified point on the T&P usually takes the passenger to a destination on one or more of the rest of the country's railroads. To use the plan, persons must originate their trip at one of eight T&P terminals -- Abilene, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth and Texarkana, Texas, Alexandria, New Orleans and Shreveport, La. To reach their T&P off-line destination, such as New York,

San Francisco, Milwaukee or Palm Beach, they are required to buy transportation via St. Louis, Memphis, Shreveport, New Orleans, El Paso, Dallas, Fort Worth and Sweetwater when making use of the installment tariff.

FARM PRODUCTION OF GOOD GRADE BEEF

There is no definite procedure for the farm production of good yearling beef, for feed and pasture conditions vary; however, in starting with feeders one should have a general plan and the feed or grass in sight. At the Spur Station the plan is to purchase steer calves in the fall; winter them with silage, stalk fields, wheat or native grass; summer graze on native grass; then finish in dry lot. In wintering, all calves, except those on wheat, are fed one pound of cottonseed cake daily. Calves on wheat are given dry roughage or access to native grass. In the summer period, depending on the grass, yearlings may be fed 2 or 3 pounds of cottonseed cake daily for 30 to 60 days before going to dry lot. The object is to get as much weight and condition as possible while on grass. Grass gains cost less money than dry lot gains and more weight at the start, the less to be made in dry lot for good finish.

It was possible to produce good grade carcasses with fleshy feeder yearlings in 112 days of feeding with rations comparatively low in concentrates. The yearlings were raised approximately one grade, or from "Commercial" to Good with dry lot gains, basis market weight, of about 200 pounds.

In the comparison of roughage lots, two fed 6 pounds of ground alfalfa in addition to sumac silage and only 2½ lbs. of cottonseed meal instead of 4 lbs. as the other lots, made above average gains. Previous tests have shown the same results.

Steers in light graded pastures averaged 64 lbs. more gain and higher condition than steers on heavy grazed pastures. The average acre gain was the same for the two rates of use, but the 1945 acre-gain was low for heavy grazing.

Summer grazing tests with yearling steers on native grassland show that 5 pastures cleared of mesquite produced 14% more gain per acre and 31 lbs. more gain per steer than 5 pastures with moderate stands of mesquite.

Successful control of hornflies on range cattle has been made possible with water dispersible forms of DDT. This organic chemical, unlike other fly killers, remains highly toxic to the hornfly for several days after treatment by spraying or dipping.

Wheat pasturage supplemented by dry roughage produces just about as high a rate of gain as good feeding in dry lot. More than any other feed treatment at Spur is seems to afford the maximum of economic winter gain. Wheat calves not only put on flesh but make a great deal of growth. Usually, calves at Spur gain about three-fourths a pound daily from December to April, when wintered on native grass with 1 pound of cake daily per head. Wintering on grass with cake is a good treatment. The calves grow well and make good use of summer grass.

Generally the more calves gain during the winter the less they gain on grass the following summer; however, the total winter and summer gain is greater in the case of high winter gain. Steers once behind in development, and they develop most rapidly as calves, never quite catch up in size, although they may finish to very good advantage.

Wheat pasturage in winter, light grazed and cleared pastures in summer and well balanced dry lot rations for finishing are the steps in the farm production of good grade yearling beef at the Spur Station.

44 ways

To get "Something for Nothing"

The railroads have received 44 "rules" demands from the leaders of the operating unions . . . representing engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen. They say they are seeking only changes in working conditions—NOT a wage increase.

More Money For Less Work

But what kind of rules are being asked for? Twenty-eight of them would compel railroads to pay more money for the same, or less work; 7 would require additional and unnecessary men to do the same work; the rest would bring about changes in operating practices at increased cost.

For Instance:

The Union leaders demand additional train and engine crews on Diesel-powered trains—one full crew for every power unit in the locomotive. A freight train hauled by a 4-unit Diesel would have to carry 4 engineers, 4 firemen, 4 conductors, and at least 8 brakemen, or a total of 20 men instead of 5.

"Made Work"—Sheer Waste

The Union leaders demand that full-length freight trains be cut to about half their length, even though such trains are most efficient for low-cost service to you. This rule would call for twice as many locomotives, would double the number of trains, and make accidents more likely.

Additional equipment, yards, and other facilities required to take care of these short trains would cost hundreds of millions. What the Union leaders really want is to make more jobs.

The Union leaders demand that when a crew in one class of service perform incidental service of another class, they will be paid not less than a day's pay for each class, even though all service is performed as a part of the same day's work. The crew would get at least two days' pay for one day's work.

The Union leaders demand that the present basic day for passenger conductors and trainmen be reduced from 150 to 100 miles, which would have the effect of increasing their pay 50%. Such a run often takes only two or three hours!

You Can't Afford This Waste

Demands like these are against the interests of the whole American people, who depend on railroad service for nearly everything they eat, wear and use.

These rules would cost a BILLION DOLLARS annually—a gigantic waste which neither the railroads nor the country can afford.

Railroad workers are good citizens and good employees, with pride in their calling. Their record during the war was outstanding. We do not believe they fully understand the "featherbed" rules which the Union leaders are demanding. We do not believe they understand the harmful results which these rules would have to the railroad industry, to the millions of men and women dependent on railroads for their livelihood, and to the shipping and consuming public.

The great strength of America is in production—an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

For only through greater production can we hope to stop the steady upward surge of living costs.

Surely, if ever there was a time in our history when we needed to work, not waste, this is it.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.
