U.S. Agrees To Discuss Colonialism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) The United States agreed today to full U.N. Assembly debate of a Soviet proposal for freedom for all colonial areas.

The U.S. move obviously deprived the Soviet resolution of much of its propaganda impact and arrayed the Americans with new African and other emerging nations on the question of ending colonialism.

Crash Reported

Minor damage resulted Wednesday night when William Mueller, Webb AFB, collided with a parked car owned by Herman Andrew Crawford, Odessa, in the 400 block of Rannels. Police reported no injuries.

OIL NEWS Eisner Plans Garza Explorer

A new wildcat and a Cain (Sprabery) field location have been staked in Garza County and three new Howard - Glasscock field sites have been reported in Howard County.

John J. Eisner, Abilene, will drill No. 1 J. B. Slaughter Estate as a wildcat venture in the southwest part of Garza County to a contract depth of 8,500 feet.

The explorer is spotted one mile southwest of a 5,500-foot dry hole, one and one-quarter miles southwest of the North Teas field and two miles northeast of the Lazy JL field.

General American Oil Co. of Texas will test the Cain field with No. 4-3 Koonsman, drilling to 5,100 feet about nine miles southwest of Justinburg.

Humble No. 1-B Conrad is swabbing the Strawn perforations between 8,072-82 feet. The hole is bottomed at 8,175 feet and plugged back to 8,150 feet.

Conoco No. 1 Justice is drilling below 7,972 feet in lime and shale. Site is 660 feet from south and 1,969 feet from west lines of section 67-97-H&T survey.

John H. Eisner No. 1 J. B. Slaughter is a new wildcat location to drill to 8,500 feet. It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 26-1-Jasper. Hayes survey, nine miles south of Post. It is one mile southwest of a 8,563

U.N. Witnesses Wildest Meet In Its History

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) The U.N. General Assembly, Wednesday was swept with disorder by Communist insults and the wildest scenes in its history.

The Assembly was delayed by... Three trips by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the rostrum to speak, during one of which he called Sen. Lorenzo Sumulong, a Philippine delegate, "this jerk" or "this joker" and a "stooge" or "boot licker."

Communist fury that exploded when Sumulong, speaking on the question of colonialism, said the debate should be expanded to include nations of Eastern Europe that have been deprived of their freedom by the Soviets.

Repeated and stormy interruptions by Romanian delegate Eduard Mezinescu and Khrushchev when they called points of order. They used the device to accuse Assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland of partiality toward the West in his rulings.

The final climactic moment when Boland, beet-red and glaring, began banging his gavel and suddenly adjourned the session "in view of the scene we have just witnessed."

IRISH TEMPER Boland wielded the gavel with such force that it broke. For an instant, the hundreds of delegates sat in startled silence.

Then he urged people in colonial regimes to take up arms in the fight for independence. And he said the Soviet Union will help them.

34 Persons Hurt In Bomb Explosion

NEW YORK (AP)—A home-made bomb exploded in a subway station beneath Times Square Wednesday, shattering train windows and knocking over dozens of victims.

At least 34 persons were injured, none seriously. It was the third device to explode in 11 days in the Times Square area.

The explosion and gust of black smoke touched off momentary panic as the bomb went off behind a self-service automatic photo-taking machine near a Times Square-Grand Central Terminal shuttle train which was just loading.

The blast, which also destroyed a metal clothing locker, was felt at street level and some windows rattled in adjacent buildings.

Witnesses said they saw two youths, their faces powder-blackened, race from the blast scene. Transit Authority Inspector Patrick J. Coughlin, 46, said he overheard one of the pair say "we got too close, I lost my hat" and the other reply "I lost my hat, too."

Two hats were found near the blast scene.

Two youths picked up for questioning shortly after the explosion were questioned and released.

In both previous bomb explosions, eyewitnesses told of two youths fleeing from the scene. Last Sunday, in Bryant Park adjacent to the Public Library at 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue, a bomb went off but no one was injured. The first blast on Sunday, Oct. 2, in which seven persons were injured, came from shrubbery in Duffy Square near the northern rim of Times Square.

DEAR ABBY

NOT YOUR TOPIC

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A 16-year-old boy lives next door. Last night he told me he was never told the facts of life. I was really surprised, because I am 13 and my mother told me a long time ago. He said he asked his father and was told he knew all he needed to know to get along. His 18-year-old sister also told him he knew enough. He said all he knows he heard from the kids at school. I don't feel right talking about things like that with him, but I do think he ought to know. Where can he find out?

A GIRL WHO KNOWS

DEAR GIRL: The boy should learn the "facts of life" from a mature, informed adult. If his father refuses to tell him, he should go to his clergyman, his coach at school or a respected relative or friend. Don't YOU discuss it with him.

of the groom could hardly plan your daughter's wedding without her knowledge and consent. If she shares your viewpoint (which, by the way, is the proper one), she should let them know. If she's all for the groom's family putting on the show and footing the bill, then go and keep the peace.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a businessman should hire relatives when he needs more help. This is a small place and most of us have been here a long time, but lately the boss has been bringing his relatives in. To them there's no "Boss"—only "Cousin Joe" and "Brother Moe". We outsiders don't appreciate a family reunion every day during business hours. We'd appreciate your comments.

OUTSIDERS

DEAR OUTSIDERS: When a businessman hires in his place of business is his own business.

DEAR ABBY: I have a $10 bet with my father-in-law riding on your answer, so please don't let me down. He says that even though you reveal a writer's name you are not allowed to use a letter in your column unless it is signed. I say he is wrong.

BERNIE

DEAR BERNIE: Congratulations, you have just won $10.

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of the GROOM'S family going into debt over their ears to put on a big wedding and reception just to impress people? When our daughter became engaged, we explained to the boy's parents that our income was limited, and said we would give the children the nicest wedding and reception we could afford. This didn't suit them, because they took over without consulting us, and are putting on a three-ring circus and are paying for everything. We'll be the laughing stock of this town for years to come. Should we refuse to attend the wedding?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: The parents

of the groom could hardly plan your daughter's wedding without her knowledge and consent. If she shares your viewpoint (which, by the way, is the proper one), she should let them know. If she's all for the groom's family putting on the show and footing the bill, then go and keep the peace.

Mystery Object Seen in W. Texas

LUBBOCK (AP)—A mysterious flaming object streaked across the West Texas sky Wednesday night and was sighted by hundreds of persons here, in Abilene and Amarillo.

The teardrop shaped object, described as flaming orange and yellow, was visible for 25 to 30 seconds. The Federal Aviation Agency said it probably was a bright meteor.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal received reports that the object appeared first to be a yellowish red with the big end of the teardrop seemingly turning green and burning up or disappearing.

The object, said by one witness to flash bright and then dim, was traveling from west-southwest to east-northeast. It was spotted shortly after 7:30 p.m.

Indian Wrestling Match

ants, Big Bow (Gas Heckler), Little Bow (Kyle Heckler) is almost hidden, Big Eagle (F. J. Collins), Little Eagle (Larry Collins), and Straight Arrow (Donnie Ray Heckler) leans over to get a better look. The Eagle members of the tribe have moved from Big Spring to Andrews, but they still attend every meeting, communiting. This meeting was held in the Big Bow tepee.

Farm Fires Are Increasing At Alarming Rate

Farm fire losses, increasing at an alarming rate, mean that rural residents must be just as aware of Fire Prevention Week as the city dweller.

"Rural residents have a tremendous stake in National Fire Prevention Week being observed now," Sam Whitlow, Dallas, president of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, said.

Whitlow said that national farm fire losses have increased 37 per cent during the past 10 years, with one-third of the increase occurring in 1958. Farm property loss through fire amounted to $175 million last year.

"Fire is a dangerous enemy," Whitlow said, pointing out that in 1959, 515 Texans lost their lives in fires. In addition to the loss of life, Whitlow said, "fires annually cause considerable damage on Texas farms and ranches."

Authorities agree that the best way to cut down on fire losses is to practice a sound prevention program, he said. "The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urgently recommends that rural homes put into practice a safety inspection program to diminish the possibility of fire damage. Let's cut down on fire losses," Whitlow said.

The Texas Farm Bureau is initiating a new program of providing fire extinguishers to members at cost, through its farm safety department. The program is expected to cut down appreciably the economic loss from farm fires in the state, according to Joe Smetana, Waco, farm bureau safety director.

"Many rural areas, as a rule, are without adequate fire protection," Smetana said. "It is largely up to each farm operator to provide his own fire fighting equipment."

YMCA Program Boosts Father-Son Relations

By ROB MARION
Hang onto your hair — that's redskins loose here!

There are 200 braves camping round Big Spring. They represent some 15 tribes, such as Creeks, Apaches, and many others.

However, there is no cause for alarm. They are all members of the YMCA Indian Guides, and as far as is known, they haven't scalped anyone yet.

The Indian Guides is a father-son program which was initiated about 1925 by Joe Friday, an Ojibway Indian.

DISPROVE SAYING
The program tries to disprove the Ojibway saying that "White man does everything for son, does little with him; red man shows

Essential Evil In Alcohol Denied

DALLAS (AP) — Episcopal clergymen in Oak Cliff have unanimously agreed that alcohol may be misused but is not "essentially evil."

The clergymen said they were opposed to outlawing the sale of alcoholic beverages on the grounds that it "imposes a spiritual despotism."

"Prohibition of the use of alcoholic beverages imposes a spiritual despotism which violates the doctrine of man's free will to choose between right and wrong," they said in a statement.

MEN IN SERVICE

PVT. JAMES WILLIAMSON

Army Pvt. James E. Williamson, 20, whose wife, Carolyn, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Williamson, live at Stanton, recently was graduated from the 101st Airborne Division Jump School at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Williamson received his paratrooper wings after completing three weeks of intensive ground and aerial training which included five parachute jumps. He entered the Army in March of this year and received basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. Williamson is a 1958 graduate of Stanton High School.

Benjamin R. Kinder, fire control technician first class, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom C. Kinder, Coahoma, is serving aboard the experimental auxiliary general U.S.S. Observation Island operating off the coast of Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Observation Island participated in the recent firings of the Polaris missile from nuclear-powered submarines.

son trail of life, white man just hopes son knows right signs."

The program is for boys in the first, second and third grades, and their fathers.

"It gets the boy at the age when he thinks his dad is the greatest guy on earth," said James M. Hardy, YMCA general secretary.

The main aim of the program is to foster companionship of fathers and sons. "Pals forever" is the slogan of the group.

The group is divided into tribes. Each tribe has from six to nine fathers and sons in it. Each tribe meets once every two weeks for a rotation basis.

The meetings open with an Indian ceremony and consists of stories, games, crafts or special activities such as a slide show or a speaker.

The fathers are called big braves, and are trained by the Y-Indian Guide longhouse, the steering organization of the group.

INDIAN NAMES
Each father and son have an Indian name. The son's name usually bears some relation to that of the father. Some of the names, such as Night Owl, who works at night, are suited to the person.

Crafts are an important part of the program. The Indians make tomahawks, drums, Indian clothing, medicine boxes and so on. Each tribe has a totem pole with a carved face to represent each member.

Coups were an important status builder for the real Indians, and the little Indians have their coups too, properly recorded on coup sticks. Each coup is signified by the addition of a feather. Feathers are awarded for such things as cooking the fathers' breakfast, hikes, and winning intertribal events.

Apples Lead On Good Buy List At Produce Counters

By The Associated Press
It's the apple season at Texas fruit markets. Huge supplies of nearly all varieties are available at noticeably lower prices this week, the U.S. Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

Grapes, especially Tokays, continue readily available at reasonable cost.

Fresh vegetables that rate best buy mention, on the basis of supply and wholesale prices, include cabbage, carrots, celery, greens and green onions, iceberg lettuce, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Especially reasonably priced are yellow medium onions and round red potatoes.

Priced lower than last week are celery, lettuce, okra, onions, and cauliflower. Pears and cucumbers are lower.

Avocados are higher as supplies are short. Snap beans and bananas also are slightly higher. A few local watermelons still show up at higher prices.

Grapefruit harvest in the Lower Valley is beginning but shipments will not be heavy for two or three weeks. Prices on all citrus held steady this week.

Cranberry shipments increased. A few pomegranates from California showed up this week. Rice is available in abundance and with economy, as the industry has designated October for its annual rice harvest festival.

Beef is now plentiful as production has increased steadily in recent weeks. Chicken, turkey and lamb also are abundant. Watch for specials. Many Texas stores are cooperating with the dairy industry on October cheese festival. Cheese stocks are huge.

'New Look' For Maryland Club Instant Package

In its introduction of a new instant coffee container, Maryland Club coffee is offering the first real change in instant coffee packaging since this great convenience product was put on the market.

There are many advantages made possible by the exclusive styling of the instant Maryland Club coffee jar, apart from the obvious one of good looks; it is slimmer in body for ease of handling and removal from the shelf; its height makes it readily recognizable; the new "twist-off" concealed-thread lid facilitates opening; and the concentric bands at the top and bottom of the jar allow firmer gripping.

For everyone who is familiar with the "fashionable" connotation surrounding Maryland Club coffee, the "new look" of the instant Maryland Club coffee package represents another fashionable "first" in its long line of advertising and marketing innovations.

Baked Pears Are Good Inexpensive Fall Treat For All

Cheese lovers have long considered fruit and cheese to be the perfect dessert partners. The usual treatment consists of crisp, bite-size pieces of raw fruit accompanied by a creamy, spreadable cheese.

Certainly the food experts are right! But for a flavor change of equal compatibility, try combining fruit and cheese in a baked dessert. And make the cheese American blue. Because of its soft, crumbly texture, its delicate blue-green marbling and its piquant flavor, blue cheese is a perfect companion for canned fruits.

You will introduce an elegant finale to your next company or family dinner, for instance, with this exciting, yet inexpensive recipe for blue cheese pears.

BAKED BLUE CHEESE PEARS

(Four servings)

1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 oz.)

1 tablespoon coffee cream

Low Calorie Yogurt High Protein Food

Yogurt, a satin smooth, tangy cultured milk food, is a nutritious protein snack for dieters. One serving of plain yogurt yields only 120 calories. It contains all of the nutrients of a cup of milk, minus half the fat content.

Mrs. Glenn Hartwell Is Busy Mother Of Three

Mrs. Glenn Hartwell is a native of Bakersfield, Calif., but has lived in several parts of the world. She and her husband, Maj. Glenn E. Hartwell and their three children, Glenn Jr., who is 14 years old, Gloria Dawn, 7 1/2, and Glenda Gaye who is three years old, moved to Big Spring three years ago.

Glenn Jr. was born while the family lived in California and Glenda while they lived in Arkansas. Gloria was born in Canterbury, England, about a block from the Canterbury Cathedral.

The family lived in Athens, Greece, for about six months and in Canterbury, England, for two years. During their overseas stay they visited in Cairo, Beirut, Jerusalem and a few other countries.

Mrs. Hartwell likes sewing and designs clothes for herself and the girls when she can find the time. She also likes cooking and acting. She recently finished a leading part in the Civic Theatre play, "The Warrior's Husband."

Mrs. Hartwell is a member of the Officers Wives Club where she served as editor of the Wives Club paper, "Tiger Rag."

Mrs. Hartwell is interested in quick one-dish meals and also has her husband interested in the art of cooking. She is sending along a Greek menu.

She emphasized the fact that in Greek cooking no salt is used. Mrs. Hartwell was taught these recipes by a Greek woman while living in Athens and says that if you really want to eat like a Greek, try the recipes, but if you are a weight watcher it is not recommended.

PISTICHE
1 pkg. elbow macaroni
2 lbs. large grind lean beef
14 oz. can Parmesan cheese
1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
2 medium onions
4 to 6 cloves garlic
Boil macaroni as directed on package and drain. Brown meat in skillet with chopped onion and finely chopped garlic cloves. Remember, no salt. When browned, mix in large baking dish in layers, alternating a layer of macaroni sprinkled heavily with cheese and with cinnamon until it looks heavily peppered, and a layer of the meat mixture. Repeat procedure until finished. Usually makes about four layers of each.

Make a normal cream sauce of medium thickness and pour over mixture. Make about 2 1/2 or 3 cups. Bake in moderate oven about 300 degrees for 20 to 40 minutes. Do not let brown.

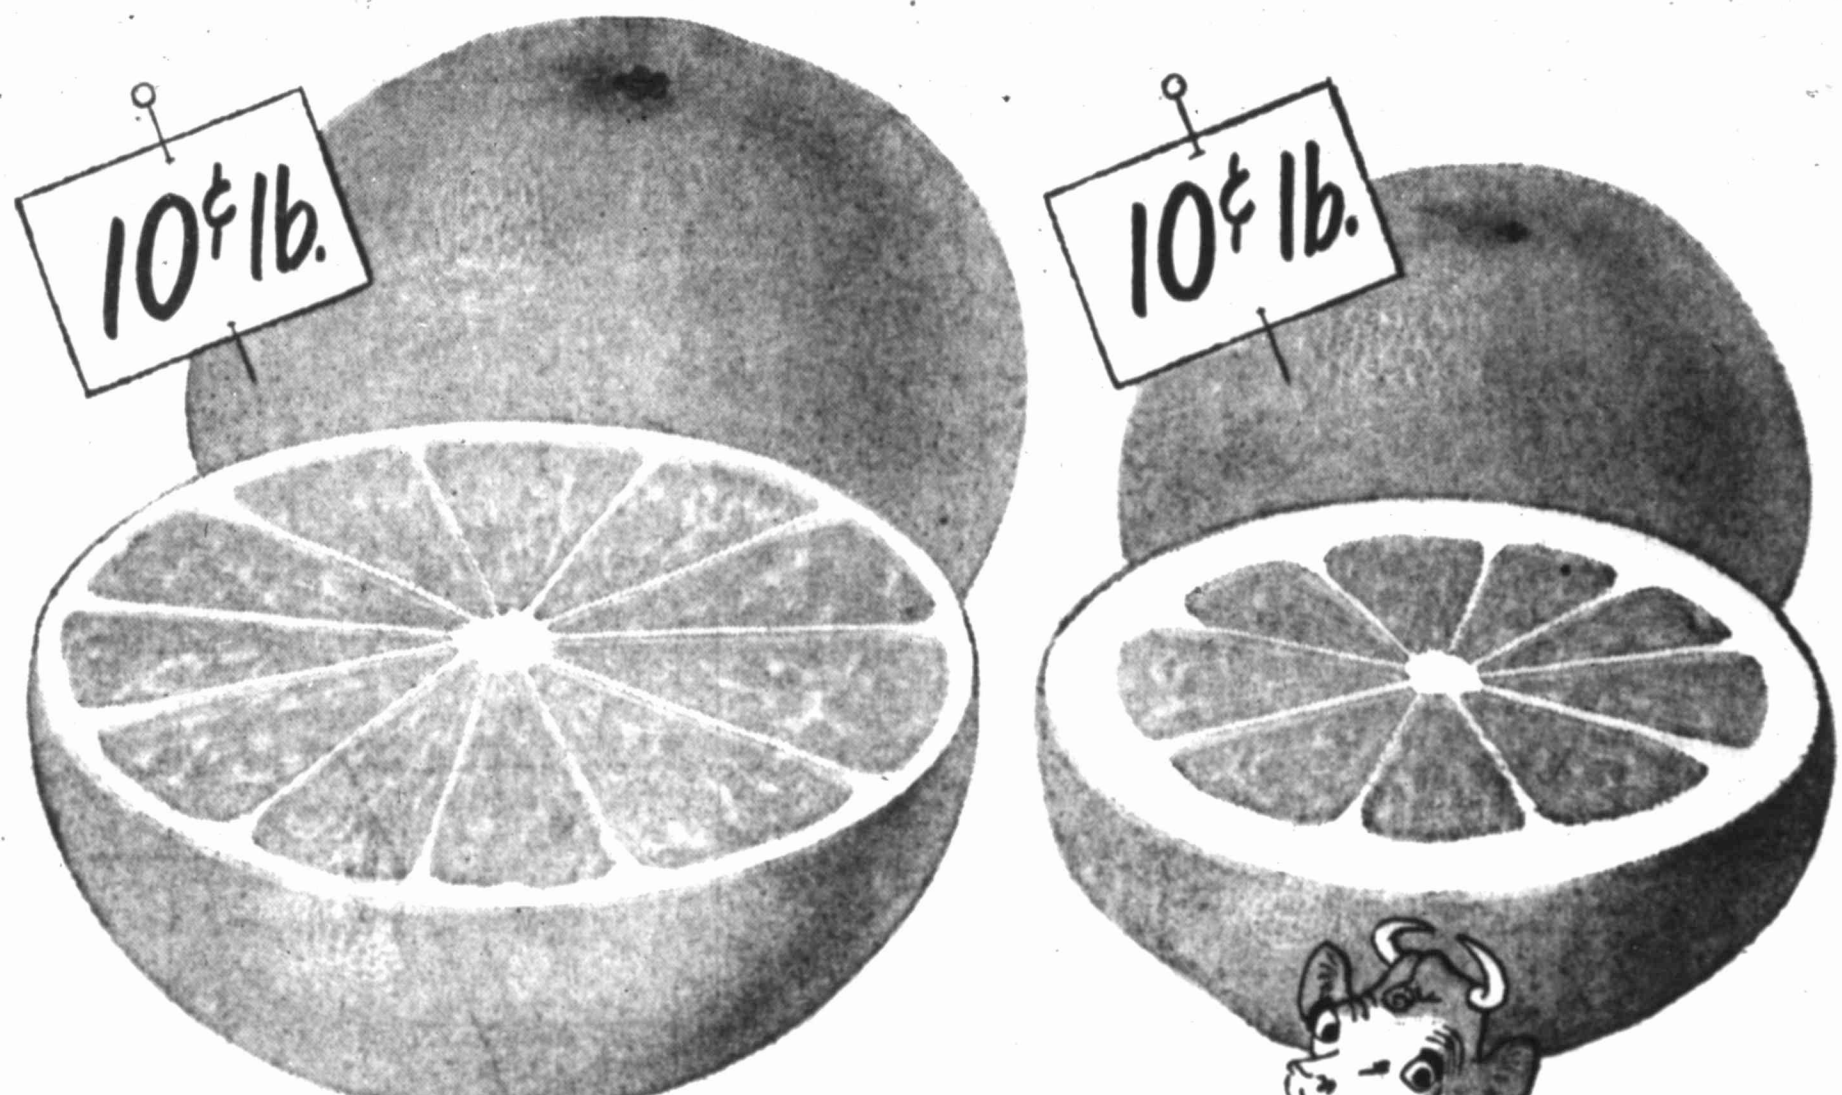

The preferred vegetable dish is a mixture of green peas and mushrooms heavily buttered.

1 pkg. frozen green peas
1 small can button mushrooms
1/2 cube butter

Mrs. Hartwell states that Greeks use a lot of butter.

SALAD
Serve lettuce leaves with olive oil and any other favorite vegetables.

This menu will serve approximately 12 people with generous servings.

Halloween Party Treats Are Fun For All The Little Spooks

Leaves scurrying about, a smell of wood smoke, a tang in the air and the heavenly aroma of apples, apples, apples—that is Halloween weather. Spirits are abroad—mischievous and mysterious—but the goblins we are most concerned with have hearty appetites after their fun and frolicking about.

The recipes offered today will satisfy Halloween observers in the most tempting fashion, using apples in several mouth-watering ways. For instance, consider Apple-Dandy Wieners which team two great favorites—apples and wieners!

Mother enjoys the thought of preparing these ahead of hostess-time, and the cooking of them may be left to young 'spooks' as hunger dictates. And we've Spook's - Choice Appleslices, too, for the more venturesome spirits. An easily-assembled combination of apple slices, cheese and bologna, on favorite hamburger buns.

With these choices, you'll need only to serve bountiful bowls of popcorn and the Halloween Apple Float for beverage. It's color-perfect for the party, and wonderfully refreshing. To complete your Halloween theme, make our Halloween Spooks. They're easy to do, the youngsters can help with them, and their mobile presence moodily enhances the party-spirit. In fact, their little clove eyes just pop out at the rate the refreshments disappear.

HALLOWEEN SPOOKS

Requirements are:

White tissues—one per spook
Marshmallows
White thread
Pipe cleaners

2 whole cloves—per spook

1 gnarled tree branch

Tie a marshmallow in one corner of facial tissue. Insert cloves for eyes. Fasten pipe cleaner to thread around marshmallow head and hang from a gnarled and twisted branch in airy abandon.

APPLE-DANDY WIENERS

2 cups finely cut apples

2 tps. pickle relish

8 wieners

8 strips bacon

Mix together apple and pickle relish. Split wieners without cutting through opposite side. Fill wieners with apple mixture, then wrap with bacon and secure with wooden picks. Broil until bacon is done as desired.

SPOOKS' CHOICE SANDWICHES

Split burger buns and brush with melted butter and prepared mustard. Place on each, a slice of bologna and cheese. Top with unpeeled apple slices (crescents)

brushed with lemon juice.

If desired, these sandwiches may be broiled, brushing apples with melted butter, until the cheese is melted. Serve hot.

HALLOWEEN APPLE FLOAT

Chilled apple juice

Orange sherbet

Pour chilled sparkling apple juice into tall glasses. Float a big scoop of orange sherbet in each glass, top with a clove, to simulate a pumpkin stem.

Brown Beef Stew, A Family Favorite

On a cool day greet the youngsters with this hearty back-to-school stew.

BROWN BEEF STEW

(boneless)

1 pound beef or veal shoulder

1/4 tsp. pepper

1/4 tsp. paprika

1/4 cup flour

2 tps. fat

1 tsp. salt

1 cup water

1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

1 tsp. Kitchen Bouquet

1 tsp. catsup

4 medium potatoes, pared

4 medium carrots, pared

4 medium onions, peeled

Cut meat into cubes. Roll in blended salt, pepper, paprika, and flour to coat each piece. Brown meat in fat in a heavy kettle. This browning gives rich, brown gravy and extra flavor to the meat, so take time to brown thoroughly. Add water and seasonings. Cover tightly and simmer about 2 hours.

Do not boil.

Add the prepared vegetables (uniform sized vegetables will be done at the same time). Cover and cook another 30 minutes or until the vegetables are tender when pierced with a fork. Serve piping hot.

Gadabout

A cotton coat designed for the young gadabouts, a bulky knit convertible collar, and leather buttons and tabs. A bold plaid lining adds warmth to the coat made of washable Cone corduroy.

Pickle Fanciers Note

Though pickles are generally served today as a relish in company with other foods, in the 18th century they often were served as a main dish, report home economists.

Asparagus Plus

Have you ever tried an Asparagus Salad? Here is a good one to try.

ASPARAGUS PLUS SALAD

2 tablespoons salad oil

1 tablespoon cider vinegar

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

1/4 teaspoon sugar

1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard

1 can or jar (about 1 pound) asparagus spears (drained)

Salad greens

8 ounces cream style cottage cheese

Paprika

With a fork beat together the salad oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, sugar and mustard; pour over drained asparagus and refrigerate at least 1 hour, turning or basting asparagus with marinade a few times.

At serving time arrange salad greens and cottage cheese on plates; sprinkle cheese with paprika; add asparagus, using mari-nade and dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Nancy Olson believes in caring for her complexion by carefully removing her make-up every night with creams and astringents. She is soon to be seen in Disney's "The Absent-Minded Professor."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Tips On Skin Care, Diet Are Discussed

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Nancy Olson has recently resumed her career as an actress, and when we met for lunch at Disney Studios, where she is starring in "The Absent-Minded Professor," I found her looking as young and slender as the last time I had seen her. When I mentioned her beautiful figure she said:

"I think eating properly contributes to physical fitness. My father is a doctor, and he never allowed us to eat foolishly. From his training I learned good eating habits which have carried over into my adult life. Ever day I have vitamins and at least one glass of skim milk or buttermilk."

"And I have orange juice with berries for breakfast. Although I have a healthy appetite, I try to satisfy it with foods that are not high in calories. If I don't indulge in sweets or too many carbohydrates, I can enjoy three meals a day without gaining."

Because Nancy was not scheduled to work until after lunch, she hadn't been to the make-up department and so I was able to see what a clear, finely-grained complexion she has. When I mentioned it to her she said:

"It's incredible to me why some people abuse their skin. Excess sun, too much make-up and not removing make-up at night lead to complexion problems. I am fanatical about caring for my skin," she declared.

"What routine do you use?" I asked.

Prepare Kidneys In Skillet Easily

Skillet meat dish to cook at the last minute.

- VEAL KIDNEYS
 1 pair veal kidneys (about 1/2 pound)
 1 cup thin strips onion
 2 tbsps. butter
 1 small clove garlic (crushed)
 1 beef bouillon cube
 1/2 tsp. pepper
 2 tbsps. red wine.

Remove any outer covering of fat from kidneys. With sharp knife cut small scalloped pieces of kidney away from center white membrane and tubes; cut away any hard core remaining on kidney pieces; wipe with damp cloth. In a medium-sized skillet (9 or 10 inches) brown onion in butter. Add garlic and bouillon cube; mash cube with a fork to break up and mix with onions. Add kidney pieces; cover tightly and simmer about 15 minutes, lifting cover and stirring often or until only a trace of pink shows; lift cover and stir often. (Do not overcook or kidneys will be hard and tough.) Add pepper and wine and mix well. Serve at once.

Salad Fame Is Achieved With Famous Dressing

Secure your fame as a salad maker with the most delicious fruit salad dressing you ever tasted. Just right in tartness and sweetness, it goes well with most any fruit combination.

Arrange chilled fruits on crisp greens, and add a sprinkling of coarsely chopped nuts and Famous Fruit Salad Dressing. You'll have either a main course salad or an excellent dessert.

Try these canned fruit combinations:

1. Pear halves, white or dark sweet cherries.
2. Apricot halves, plums or prunes.
3. Peach halves, fruit cocktail.

- FAMOUS DRESSING
 1-3 cup sugar
 1 tsp. flour
 1 egg yolk
 1/2 cup canned pineapple juice
 2 tbsps. canned lemon juice
 1 tsp. celery seed
 1 cup whipping cream
 Mix sugar, flour and egg yolk in a saucepan. Add fruit juices and cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add celery seed. Cool. Stir in whipped cream just before serving. Makes about two cups.

Chicken Makes Easy, Good, Inexpensive Meal

How many ways to cook chicken? ... Fifty? A hundred? A thousand or more? Maybe a thousand or more, although no one ever has added up all the delicious chicken recipes now available. Some are strictly American; others belong to the "imported" category.

Folks in about every country in the world eat chicken. Favorite recipes were brought to this country by early settlers, right along with other gems of old-country heritage.

Old-Fashioned Way For Franks

It's an old-fashioned meal right out of the Gay Nineties, but it's still a delicious combination.

FRANKS WITH SPICY RED CABBAGE

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 6 cups knife - shredded red cabbage (firmly packed)
 1/4 cup (1 small) finely chopped onion
 1/4 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
 1-3 cup cider vinegar
 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1 large red baking apple (cored and cut into eighths)
 8 to 10 (1 to 1 1/4 pounds) frankfurters

Melt butter in 12-inch skillet over low heat; add red cabbage, onion, brown sugar, vinegar and salt; mix well. Add unpeeled apple.

Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, for 20 minutes; apple will take on red color of cabbage. Bury frankfurters in cabbage; cover and simmer 20 minutes longer or until franks are hot through and cabbage as soft as desired; stir cabbage a few times and turn franks over.

Makes 4 to 5 servings.

If baking apples are used, they should not disintegrate during cooking.

One reason for its international popularity is the delicious way chicken responds to all kinds of seasonings. With a little imagination, and a deft touch of herbs and spices, chicken offers an almost-limitless variety of tempting entrees.

Right now, the alert menu planner can make full use of the tender broiler-fryers that are so plentiful. These meaty young birds, from 2 to 3 1/2 pounds, are just the thing for frying, sauteeing and roasting, as well as for casseroles and baked dishes.

One of the tastiest ways to cook a chicken some Sunday when you want something special is Hungarian Chicken Paprika.

To make it, simply dredge disjointed chicken pieces in seasoned flour, and brown lightly in a heavy skillet, with minced onion. Then add a tablespoon of paprika, a cup of liquid (chicken broth, tomato juice or water), cover the skillet and simmer slowly until the chicken is fork-tender.

To make the gravy for Hungarian Chicken Paprika, transfer the chicken pieces to a platter and, very slowly, blend a cup of sour cream into the pan juices. Then re-heat the chicken and serve on a heated platter.

Makes 4 to 5 servings.

For chicken with an Italian accent, try Chicken Cacciatore. This is a succulent blend of herbs, vegetables and chicken, simmered slowly in an uncovered frying pan. Here, too, start by dredging the chicken pieces in seasoned flour, and brown them in butter, margarine or olive oil. Then add chopped onions, chopped green pepper, minced garlic, canned whole tomatoes (or tomato juice), salt and pepper, a pinch of allspice, and a dash of cayenne. Simmer until chicken is fork-tender.

Another delightful chicken entree—a wonderful Saturday night buffet dish you can prepare before the company arrives—is Arroz Con Pollo. This is the southwestern version of chicken and rice. To make it, simply brown disjointed chicken pieces in a skillet, then add minced onion and garlic, salt, pepper, paprika, a bay leaf, and minced parsley. Cook slowly until chicken is tender. Then add uncooked rice, the appropriate amount of liquid (chicken broth, tomato juice or water), and a pinch of saffron. Simmer until the rice is thoroughly cooked. Just before serving, add a small can of green peas and pimiento strips.

With variations, Arroz Con Pollo goes by many other names. Paella, for instance, is chicken and rice dressed up with skrimp, cubed ham and cherrystone clams. Chicken Pilau, the great Creole dish served in New Orleans, includes curry powder in its seasonings. Greek Chicken Pilaf is topped with raisins and chopped pecans.

Refresh Smallfry With Mint Coolers

Here's a frosty cooler to prepare quickly when those youngsters come trudging in hot and thirsty from practice. It is such a simple, nourishing treat, the kids can make it themselves, if you're busy.

Combine 20 mints with 1 cup milk in top part of a double boiler. Stir over hot water until mints are melted. Remove from heat and stir to blend with milk. Divide into four glasses. Add ice cubes and fill glasses with cold ginger ale, stirring carefully to mix.

It May Be Needed Some Day

The Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees in its Tuesday meeting adopted a motion that land owned by it on State Street and north of Eleventh Place is not for sale.

In times past the board has received some rather interesting proposals and a few attractive firm offers. Some of them doubtless have been tempting from the point of revenue.

Yet we feel that the decision is a wise one.

When it comes to schools, having too much land is the least of possible worries. Changing trends, expanding population, and other factors all have a way of increasing land demands rather than diminishing them. Land which seems in surplus today may be sorely needed tomorrow—but once it's gone, there is no recovery, at least not without a prohibitive cost.

The land in this instance is separated from the main high school plant by a drainage channel, but this would not lessen its utility later as a parking area or for other uses. Additions to the plant this year have about pre-empted the locations joining the original plant. It is improbable that Big Spring will soon become a two-high school district, hence the inevitable increase in high school pupils will in time call for other additions in plant. Moving eastward is one logical answer, and when that time comes, the auxiliary area for parking, etc., will be shoved across the ditch into the area involved.

Give The Plan A Fair Trial

The city commission has approved a recommendation from the traffic commission to institute a one-way pattern of traffic for the downtown area. The exception would be Main Street.

In the expectation the traffic commission, the utilization of one way travel will materially increase the volume of flow of traffic. Some businessmen have asked if the one-way pattern will adversely affect their trade; some think that the volume will be greater and hence their chances for trade will be increased.

Only time will tell.

And, thus we hope that there will be few preconceived ideas about the effectiveness of the plan until it has been given a fair chance to function. If it does not work out, then we can always turn back to the present system. If it does, the ability to handle greater amounts of traffic with less congestion may prove a boon to the downtown area.

At any rate, a fair trial will give some revealing answers.

Real Status Of The Red China Issue

WASHINGTON—Unless Senator Kennedy repudiates the speech he made at Salem, Ohio, last weekend, he may, if elected President of the United States, find that he has embarrassed his own government.

For Mr. Kennedy took the position that, when a country "abstains" from voting on an issue in the United Nations General Assembly, it is "against" the proposition under consideration. He said:

"OUT OF THE 24 nations on the newest continent (Africa), 22 were against us."

But 14 of these 22 votes, it so happened, were from countries that had "abstained" from taking a position either way on the pending motion to start debate on the admission of Red China. Since when is a member of any organization governed by parliamentary rules—including the United States Senate—do be regarded as voting "against" when the record is "present but not voting"?

LOOKING OVER the full list of 22 countries that "abstained," it will be noted that Israel and Portugal, for instance, were among them. Can it be said that Israel has deserted the United States and favors the position of the Soviet Union just because of a declaration to vote for or against this resolution?

The record since 1952 shows that the United States has mustered between 42 and 47 votes each year against debate on a resolution to admit Red China to the U.N. This year the vote in support of the United States position was 42, which is exactly what it was in 1952 at the height of the Korean War, when Red China was fighting the United Nations armies. Can it be said that the position of the United States, therefore, on this particular motion has really weakened, as Senator Kennedy claims?

THE FACT OF the matter is that a two-thirds majority would be needed to seat Red China in the General Assembly—or at least 66 votes out of the present U.N. membership of 98. This means that, for Red China to become a member of the Assembly, 32 votes would be needed in addition to the 34 votes this year in favor of debating the question. So all of the 22 abstentions plus at least 10 of those countries now standing with the United States would have to be obtained by the Red China supporters.

THIS IS NO improbable that it gives a clue as to why 22 members abstained from voting last Friday on the United States resolution not to take up the question of admitting Red China. They knew the resolution would win anyway, and they could gain a little neutrality mileage for themselves by "abstaining." Many a so-called "neutral" finds it desirable now and then not to offend the Communist bloc, especially when on the opposite side no offense is felt by the United States against the member countries that abstain from voting.

But when is Senator Kennedy going to come to grips with the real problem that will confront the United States. The question of whether the Assembly should or should not debate the admission of Red China is a relatively minor one. After there is a vote to begin debate, another vote has to be taken and a two-thirds majority recorded before Red China is admitted to the General Assembly.

EVEN THEN, it would be possible for Red China to be a member of the Assembly without being admitted to the Security Council, in which the United States has a veto. Mr. Lodge already has stated that such a veto would be exercised in the Security Council.

Nations like China could, therefore, remain in the Security Council while Red China held China's seat in the General Assembly. The question is one that really involves the right of both bodies to pass or the credentials of factions within a given country.

THERE'S A LONG and tempestuous course ahead for Red China, and those who are predicting "eventual" admission are forgetting the barriers that lie ahead. What's more important to the American people at the moment is whether Mr. Kennedy, as President, would instruct the American representative in the United Nations to vote against the admission of Red China or to "abstain." This is the real issue, and a pledge on this is essential to an understanding of whether, under a Democratic administration, the trend is going to be toward favoring Communist China to the discouragement of the 1,000,000 or more troops in South Korea, Formosa and the Philippines who, now are protecting our military position in the Far East.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The Federal Power Commission has thrown up its hands at the overwhelming task of regulation of natural gas producers and prices handed to it by a U. S. Supreme Court decision in 1954 and a subsequent lower court ruling. In pretty strong language it has said that treating each of 3,500 gas producers as a public utility, and fixing separately the prices at which they can sell, is such a mountainous job as to be impossible. It adds, using words like "unrealistic" and "ridiculous" that there wasn't much sense to the idea in the first place.

But in drawing away from that job, the commission has not succeeded in escaping trouble. For the area pricing formula it has substituted, though administratively less complex, involves such elements of arbitrariness and even unfairness that it is sure to be a continuing source of dissatisfaction and contention. The commission, and the gas industry, may be better off, but it is hard to tell how much.

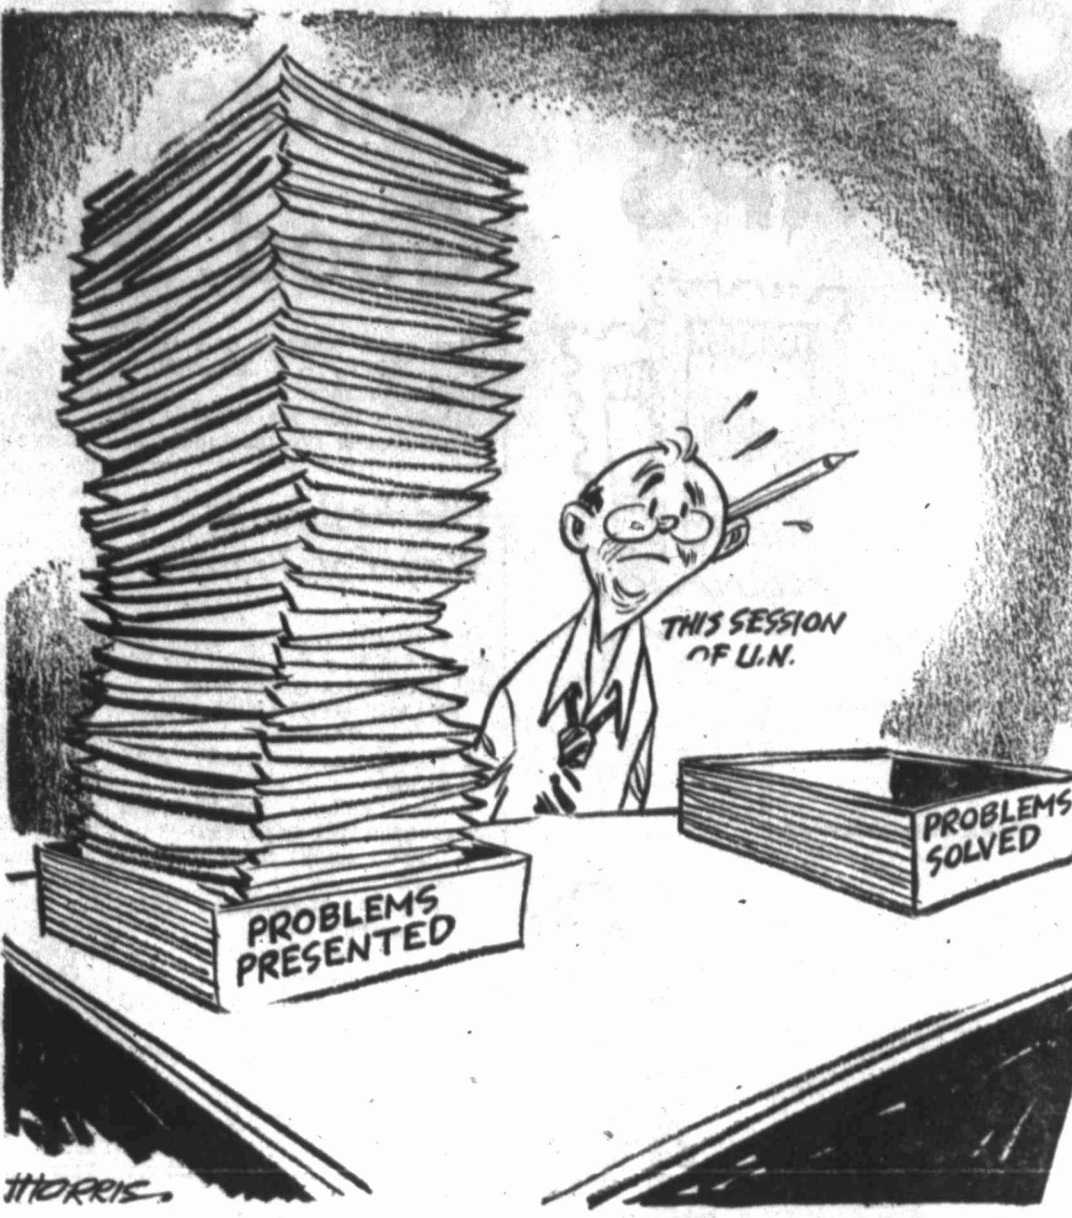

If abandonment of the court-prescribed system seems nothing less than a last resort in a time when law-of-the-land decisions of the Supreme Court are supposed to be accepted without question, it can be said that the FPC made a good try of it before it threw in the towel. If the court now feels affronted at this apparent flouting of its command, it can not say it was not warned, and by one of its own members. In a dissent from the 1954 opinion, Justice William O. Douglas tartly admonished his colleagues: "Regulation of the business of producing and gathering natural gas involves consideration of which we know little and with which we are not competent to deal."

Just how innocent was the Supreme Court about the facts of life in the gas industry is revealed by the FPC statement that even if its staff were tripled it would take 20 years to make the individual rate determinations for independent producers on the utility basis. But the basic error of the court was in holding in effect that such producers are public utilities when they are not.

They are, in fact, mere producers of a commodity for sale.

A better plan would be to recognize natural gas for what it is—a competing fuel in a competitive market—and to permit the well-head price to be set by the law of supply and demand. This is obviously what Congress intended when it passed the natural gas act of 1938.

The Storm Over The Islands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The presidential candidates are blowing up a storm over what each would do about two small islands—Quemoy and Matsu—off the Red China coast.

Should they or shouldn't they be left out of the area which this country would defend against the Red Chinese? Sen. John F. Kennedy says yes—in order to avoid being dragged into a war over them. Vice President Richard M. Nixon says no—but he didn't say he'd go to war to defend them.

The islands became a campaign issue last week in the Nixon-Kennedy TV debate. Those islands, close to the China mainland, are claimed by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa which is 110 miles from the mainland.

But the Red Chinese on the mainland claim them, too. Chiang keeps a lot of his troops on them. The Reds have been bombarding them for years. Sooner or later, as Red China gets stronger, it will probably try to take them by invasion.

THIS COUNTRY, by treaty with Chiang, is bound to defend Formosa from Red attack. It is not bound to defend Quemoy and Matsu. And President Eisenhower has always avoided saying this country would go to war to defend them.

But, on the other hand, he has never said this country wouldn't go to war to defend them. This apparently has been intended to keep the Red Chinese guessing on what they could expect if they did attack.

Whether or not the islands would be defended has always been tied to this question which has never been fully answered: Are they really necessary to the defense of Formosa itself?

Kennedy said that as president he would try to persuade Chiang to pull his forces back from the offshore islands. Why? Because, he said, he sees no sense in this country's being dragged into a war over two islands which are "not strategically defensible."

BUT HE SAID: He would not let the Red Chinese force the evacuation of the islands under the threat of force.

Nixon conceded the two islands are unimportant — he even said the few people who live on them "are not too important"—but he said he wouldn't let the Red Chinese have them. Why? He said it is a matter of "principle."

Kennedy was actually echoing the views of some other Democrats in past years. Nixon was echoing Eisenhower, even to the extent of using some of the same words the President has used in the past.

Wednesday night Kennedy accused Nixon of being "trigger-happy" in insisting upon holding on to those "unimportant indefensible" islands.

Wednesday night Nixon likened Kennedy's willingness to give them up to the Western allies' concessions at Munich before World War II.

Chronic Gastritis From Stomach Irritation

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

A reader complains that she has written before, but has received no answer. She asks, "Can chronic gastritis be cured? Is it serious? Just what does it mean? Can you suggest a diet? Is B-12 injection helpful?"

In my own humble defense, may I say that I have discussed this before—and, doggone it, there is some malignant fate that arranges things so that people are out of town, or attending a clam bake, or it's Aunt Grimalda's birthday or something the day the item of particular interest appears in the newspaper. So they miss it—and in time I tackle the subject again and bring it up to date.

Chronic gastritis is an irritation of the stomach lining. This does not mean that a little belching or "flatulence," or gasiness means gastritis, although with real gastritis, this gas is usually present.

Every upset stomach isn't "chronic gastritis." But chronic gastritis is an irritated and upset stomach.

The most frequent causes are improper eating, especially highly-seasoned foods that are irritating; excess alcohol; excess smoking. I don't know whether you drink any alcohol, but if so, the first rule is to stop entirely. The drinking habit, while by no means the only cause of C.G., is a frequent and important one.

Gassy stomach is only one of the symptoms. It and others may mimic ulcers, gall bladder trouble, or even cancer. There can be pain or soreness of the upper stomach, nausea, vomiting (with or without blood), and poor appetite.

Exact diagnosis can be achieved with an instrument known as the gastro-scope by which the physician can examine the stomach lining itself. X-ray gives much information; other tests involving the chemistry of stomach acids help.

Treatment? Stop use of alcohol, tobacco, highly seasoned foods. Follow a bland diet—low in roughage. Regularity of eating habits is important, too.

Injections of B-12 help. So does taking Vitamin B complex in capsule form.

Although in some ways the treatment may resemble that for some of the other troubles I've mentioned, there are also certain differences. So it is important for your doctor to be sure, if you have, for instance, an ulcer or biliary gall bladder, he wants to be sure of that because of the modifications in treatment that are necessary, as well as the differing signs for which he will be watchful in case, for example, you might require surgery, or some alteration in treatment. I mention this to explain to you why your doctor isn't going to offer a quick snap judgment, but is going to make further observations and perhaps require some specialized tests to be positive whether you have chronic gastritis, gall bladder disease or gallstones, or ulcer, or one or another of the other annoyances that can bother our digestive systems.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have three cysts on my left breast. There is drainage most of the time. At first it was clear, but it seems to be a little darker in color. Do you think I should have the cysts removed? — Mrs. D.J.B."

In a word: YES.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading my booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Carry It One Step Further

The current series of television programs featuring presidential hopefuls is probably the first serious attempt by that medium of finding its best place in the entertainment field. The medium is accomplishing something that can be done in no other way, to be really effective.

But the part I like best is the absence of commercials. At least, I have seen no commercials on the portions of both programs I saw.

This, in reality, is a public service. And it would be a boon to audiences and good taste if the medium would carry this practice over to its regular news programs.

AFTER ALL, THE medium is licensed to be a public service, which means something should be offered to the watch-listener free. I know that recruiting notices, church services, Red Cross, and other announcements are carried under this listing. And they are commendable.

But why not the news too? Actually, there is something almost distasteful in a story of the presidential candidates interrupted for a short speech on the benefits of an underarm deodorant, particularly when it is delivered by the same man who is announcing the news. I find it hard to believe that this fellow can be proficient in analyzing world news while earning his living supporting a bogus scientific claim for a cigarette filter.

At least, I think another announcer should give the pitch when commercial time rolls around, provided of course, that sponsors continue to be used with the news.

TO BE A REAL PUBLIC service, the news should be free of commercials. I know nothing of the economics of such broadcasting. But I know a newspaper sells its news for a nickel (10 cents on Sunday) to the individual consumer. Advertising is sold in the same periodical for its inherent worth, regardless of the amount of news.

This is pointed out by the numerous "shopper" newspapers about the country. The success of the newspaper, operating on this basis, is historic fact.

The newspapers have emulated much of the newspaper lingo, such as headlines and deadlines, and datelines to mention a few. I would like to see them emulate the point of news not interlarded with commercials.

CERTAINLY, THE television industry, and radio for that matter, adds considerably to the citizen's chance to keep up with the world and what is going on. For one thing, they have taken the place of the old and expensive "extra edition."

Also, these media can develop the "you are there" approach, giving news from around the world a living room reality.

But why add those tasteless commercials which destroy the sincerity and importance of the news?

Federal Subsidy For The Rag Biz?

So far, both major Presidential candidates have promised palpitating voters such a wide assortment of pie in the sky that, no matter who wins, we should all have acute indigestion indefinitely.

However, both candidates have overlooked a slab of pie that would be irresistible to New York's Seventh Avenue, i.e., the dress industry, more affectionately known as the rag biz.

THE CANDIDATE who will promise to subsidize the American couture, as the French government subsidizes French high style, will not only win the rag biz vote—more importantly, he will enable American designers to compete on even terms with their French counterparts.

Of course, Seventh Avenue is too sensible to expect a government subsidy. Still, it can dream out loud, as couturier Larry Aldrich does occasionally. Aldrich is the new president of the New York Couture Group, which is the equivalent of the French couture's ritzy Chambre Syndicale. And on occasion he and other designers cannot help but envy the Chambre, subsidized alike by the French government and the French manufacturers of textiles.

"THE FRENCH, because of these subsidies, can afford to do experimental stuff that would ruin us," Aldrich said recently, with reference to American designers. "That is one of the reasons New York couturiers still borrow more from Paris than Paris borrows from us. Most of us can't afford to risk ruin with either a fashion or a price tag—that's too high."

But in the past 25 years Seventh Avenue has had a tremendous impact on Paris, too," he continued. "Seventh Avenue excels in converting fashion trends—some of them pretty baroque—into basic simplicity. The basis of true elegance and good taste in clothes, as in everything else, is simplicity and cleanliness of line."

"THAT IS AMERICA'S contribution to world-wide fashion. It has seeped back to Paris. In the past quarter century, French fashion has grown much more simple because of the trend from the United States.

"One of the wonders of the world is that this national simplicity plus mass production has enabled American women with taste, whether she has a lot of money or a little, to be the best dressed this side of the moon."

REGARDLESS of the merits of French and Italian fashions, Aldrich believes they get twice as much space in American newspapers and magazines as American design.

"French fashion especially has the eyes and ears of the international press," he said. "If American designers want their fair share of this publicity, we shall have to do two things. First, we must strengthen our position as creative artists. And, second, we must bolster New York as a fashion center."

AS THE NEW president of the New York Couture Group, Aldrich is considering a number of ways and means to implement both goals. Since Aldrich went into the rag biz for himself in 1927, Seventh Avenue has been good to him and he would like to return the compliment.

It—the avenue—has enabled him through the years to assemble one of the finest privately owned collections of modern art in the nation. The walls of his New York apartment, his Connecticut country place and his Seventh Avenue office overflow with canvases by Bonnard, Braque, deKooning, Raoul Dufy, Gauguin, Kandinsky, Manet, Modigliani, Renoir, Utrillo, Matisse, Picasso, et al.

IN MANY WAYS, Aldrich is an optimist. He believes that girls will be girls, and that, eventually, skinny girls in short shorts and fat women in stretch pants will see the light, stop making spectacles of themselves and go back to skirts. But his optimism stops short of government supports to maintain parity between the Rue de la Paix and Seventh Avenue.

'Yankees, Yes—Russians, No'

KEY WEST, Florida—There is a nascent Cuban-American uprising against Fidel Castro which needs more attention than it is getting. The younger of these writers has researched the movement, interviewed some of its members at Key West, the highly Latinized and nearest-to-Cuba city in the United States.

THE RECENT ALLEGED "invasion" of Cuba last week by 27 adventurers is in the fading tradition of Caribbean filibustering—romantic but ineffectual. The growth of an offshore, Cuban-American resistance movement with the capability of exciting the American public and even influencing American policy, is far more promising.

For the ousting of Fidel, while desirable, would be insufficient and might be disastrous. There are men behind him who are closer to Russia and far more adept at fashioning a model Communist satellite. Castro must go—but he must be succeeded by a pro-Western Cuban who is able to do for the island something which compares with what Munoz-Marin has done for Puerto Rico.

IN KEY WEST today there are about 140 active members of Christian Anti-Communist Group, Inc. In addition there are about 100 teen-age members. The group's outlook is hemispheric and democratic. It backs the Monroe Doctrine with the motto: "Yankees, yes; Russians, no!" Most of the members are low on money and education, high on concern for their families both in Cuba and the United States, devoted to their Catholic Church religion and ties. Many members work in Key West for the two big federal employers—the Navy and Post Office. Others are day laborers and small merchants. A few are wealthy.

CHARLES M. REYES, who runs a small grocery on Duval Street, is vice president of the Christian Anti-Communists. A first-generation American, with parents who were born in Cuba, Mr. Reyes is short, middle-aged, fiery for his cause, and disappointed in the unwillingness of the Eisenhower administration to be more helpful in liberating Cuba. The FBI, which often looked the other way when arms were being smuggled out of Florida to overthrow the crude but pro-American dictator Batista, is now pounding on weapons with which the Islanders could make things very uneasy for Castro. Mr. Reyes says that the Federal Communications Commission, aided by the local sheriff, blocked the licensing of a Key West radio transmitter that was intended to beam instructions and propaganda to liberation-minded Cubans. Sen. Kennedy recently charged that the Voice of America was doing nothing in this regard.

CASTRO HIMSELF appears to be the best recruiting sergeant for the Christian Anti-Communist group. When the bearded rebel leader of the July 26th movement came to power, most Cubans were understandably proud of him. He had won a good fight. He was the champion of the peasants. Cubans saw in him, as did many Americans, the rise of another Simon Bolivar. Pro-Castro sentiment remained strong even after the early indications of his Soviet ties. Norman D. Artman, editor and publisher of the Key West Citizen, used to receive furious phone calls and anonymous hate-letters whenever he printed anything against Fidel.

BUT FIDEL has fixed that. His ardent love affair with Russo-Chinese Communism, climaxed by his recent antics at the United Nations, has reduced his Key West supporters from several thousand to a hard core which is estimated at no higher than 80. It is no longer fashionable, and not altogether safe, for a Latin-American to boast of his Castro connections. Even the school children are suffering from the politics of their parents, and a few U. S. mothers forbid their offspring to play with Cubans because of the Communist infection.

MR. REYES HOPES that the Christian Anti-Communists will become nation-wide. He is very reticent about the present activities of his group within Cuba—the island being connected to Key West by twice-a-day air flights as well as by ferry. But it is significant that the group's headquarters, a large, if run-down building across the street from the post office, is proudly and bountifully decorated with American flags.

Mr. Reyes feels that Cuba will be free when the Stars and Stripes flies there—either over an associate of the American Commonwealth or as an American State.

North Side Protection

Ready around the clock to battle fires which break out in the north section of the city is the fire fighting crew posted at the North Side Station, 8th and N. Main. The station is equipped with two trucks, although only one shows is used regularly. This truck is a 1941 model capable of pumping a minimum of 500 gallons of water a minute. In addition, the station has a 1956 model 750-gallon per minute pumper. While aged, the truck is in perfect working condition and is used in emergencies. Six men are assigned in two shifts at the North Side Station, rotating every 24 hours. The firemen are, from left, Lt. Jake Trantham, Donald Barber, Jewell Willingham, Clayton McDaniel, Lt. J. D. Jenkins and Pete Anderson.

36 Firemen Stand Ready To Do Battle

By JACK RADER

Four fire stations, 36 firemen and seven fire trucks stand ready around the clock to protect your life and property. This is the fire-fighting punch in Big Spring.

The city maintains its relatively small fire department at stations strategically located throughout Big Spring. The main station, or "central," as it is known, is the heart of the system and is located in the west wing of the city hall building. Three sub-stations protect various parts of the city, sending trucks and men from their sites at 18th and Main, Eleventh Place and Birdwell, and NE 8th and Main.

MOST COMPLETE

As might be suspected the central station is the most complete, both in men and equipment. Both the men and equipment from central, however, aid the other stations when needed.

At the main station, there are eight men on duty at all times. There are 16 men assigned to this station but only half of them are on duty in one 24-hour period. In addition to Chief H. V. Crocker and Fire Marshal A. D. Meador, who answer calls in any section of the city, the central station maintains two captains, R. T. Hale and H. W. Clawson. The captains are in charge of eight men each.

Firemen now assigned at the central station include H. L. Dodd, E. G. Miller, Bill Rains, John Shortes, J. R. Gould, Herbert Doring, R. G. Smith, R. H. Mullins, J. W. Foresyth, J. W. Brown, Riley Knightstep, Ralph Murphy, Elton Hamby and Bill Kuykendall.

Equipment-wise the main station has three trucks ready to go, plus a multitude of miscellaneous emergency equipment.

BIGGEST TRUCK

Topping the list of trucks is the

Pie Woman Sends Pastry To Kennedy

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The pie-baking housewife from Luling, Tex., has whipped up more pastry, only this time it's for "peaceful purposes."

Mrs. Virginia McCleary, who sent a pie to Soviet Premier Khrushchev in New York that created a bomb scare, Wednesday prepared another for Sen. John Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate.

So as not "to create turmoil," Mrs. McCleary sent the pie to local Democratic headquarters and asked that it be shipped to Kennedy for "peaceful purposes."

12 Area Teachers To Attend Meeting

12 Area Teachers To Attend Meeting

Approximately 12 teachers from the schools of Howard County will leave Big Spring on Oct. 19 for Corpus Christi to attend the annual state convention of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The convention will be in progress through Oct. 22. It is the first time that the yearly meeting has been held at this season. In the past, the TSTA convention has always been a feature of the Thanksgiving holiday season.

Attending from Big Spring will be S. M. Anderson, assistant superintendent of the Big Spring schools, who is also president of District IV of the TSTA; Mrs. Anderson; Floyd Parsons, superintendent of the city schools; Mrs. Parsons; Walker-Railey, county superintendent; George Archer, principal of Gay Hill School; W. A. Wilson, superintendent of the Coahoma schools; Miss Rose Sizemore; Roscoe Newell, principal of the Rannels Junior High School; Mrs. Newell; John Smith, principal of the Big Spring Senior High School; Mrs. Smith; and Mrs. Floyd Hobbs.

It is possible, Anderson said that others of the city school faculties, and possibly other teachers from the county schools, may attend. Arrangements have been made for teachers in the city school to attend the convention and not be penalized for the time lost from their duties.

District IV comprises 14 counties in West Texas. The district is entitled to 33 delegates to the state meeting, plus the president of the district, and three executive committee members. Walker Bailey is an executive committee member from the district.

Anderson said that each of the counties in the district will probably have representatives at the Corpus Christi conference.

Bite Causes Loss Of Arm

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Philip A. Berkes, 38, of Norristown, has been discharged from Montgomery Hospital following three amputations of the finger and left arm after a lioness bit him.

Berkes was discharged from the hospital Monday as cured. It was disclosed Wednesday. The hospital said the last amputation, the upper part of the arm near the shoulder, apparently had stopped the spread of infectious bacteria.

On Sept. 24 Berkes was making a visit to a zoo when a lioness snapped off the tip of the little finger of his left hand. The spread of the infection resulted in the amputation of the finger, then the lower part of the arm and finally the upper arm.

Clear To Partly Cloudy In Texas

By The Associated Press

Clear to partly cloudy skies covered Texas early Thursday.

Temperatures ranged from 51 at Dalhart to 77 at Brownsville and Galveston.

Pleasant fall temperatures covered Texas Wednesday and some heavy showers fell in some portions of the state. Childress got 1.15 inches during the 24-hour period ending at 6 p.m. Fort Stockton got 1.05, Wichita Falls 1.2, Amarillo .04, Mineral Wells .03 and Victoria .01. Light showers also hit Cotulla, Alice, San Antonio, Waco and near Austin.

HAVE BOAT

A boat, equipped with an outboard motor, is kept at the central station for calls to nearby lakes for rescue and recovery operations.

It is grim, but the boat is kept filled with grappling-hook devices for use in dragging for drowning victims. Fortunately, Meador said, this equipment is not often needed.

The fire department also keeps available emergency oxygen tanks for aiding in reviving victims of boating and swimming accidents, or persons who manage to escape a fire only to be overcome by smoke and fumes.

Four iron lugs are available on instant call, for emergencies. Two of the lugs are kept at the central station and two at the Eleventh Place and Birdwell station.

A fire drill tower, located just south of the YMCA at 10th and Owens, is used to keep the firemen in practice in ladder work, Chief H. V. Crocker said.

HOLD DRILLS
"We hold drills every week. The men practice lying hose, first aid, working on ladders—in short, everything that they have to know to fight a fire," the chief said. "We also drill on hydrant locations in the city."
"We never enjoy putting our knowledge to use," Chief Crocker said, "but we have to be ready for any kind of emergency."

'Naked-City' Back Shining

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—A good, taut police action series, "Naked City" dropped out of the television lineup after the 1959 season. It made a comeback on ABC Wednesday night, expanded to an hour, and better than ever.

The first episode was about a rogue cop pulling off a box office holdup in a fight arena. It was fast moving, exciting and well acted. Much of the show was filmed in New York City locations. There was violence—a lot of it—but not a gun was fired nor a blow struck merely for violence's sake. The story developed logically as police officers focused their attention on one of their own. Paul Burke and Horace McMahon are the regulars. It was a good show, up to the standards of "The Untouchables."

Stands Firm

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas School Board stood firm Wednesday night in its decision not to rehire a Negro teacher whose husband bought a home in a white neighborhood.

Those who got a kick out of the movie now may see the stage play that made the movie possible.

It's F. Hugh Herbert's naughty-but-nice "The Moon Is Blue," the play of innocent innuendo that had Broadway audiences laughing heartily for two years.

The production will be staged at 8 p.m. next Monday at the City Auditorium, under sponsorship of the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce. Advance tickets are one dollar for students, $1.50 for adults—and you have to pay two dollars if you wait and buy yours at the door.

It's not often that Big Spring sees a professional troupe. This particular one is the Variety International Productions of Houston. After the one-night stand here, the troupe goes to Odessa for two evenings.

For those of you who don't know or have forgotten, here is a run-down on the plot of "The Moon Is Blue":

A young, personable architect meets a sweet young thing atop the Empire State Building. Being a bachelor and a red-blooded young American, lad, the first thing he wonders is a certain age-old question. He tries to find out by inviting her out, then up to his apartment.

The architect is non-plussed, to say the least, when the girl begins talking frankly. So frankly, in fact, that he almost drops his teeth. So frankly as to be painful. So frankly that the girl, for example, wants to know after the apartment invitation has been extended: "Will you try to seduce me?"

Of course, the architect is hard put to find an answer.

The play goes along its merry way in much the same vein. Things do get a bit warmer, with the help of a well-appointed apartment—and a bit stickier, with the help of a neighboring roue and his daughter, who would love to get her hooks in the architect.

Things get so sticky, the young man gets stuck. The frank-talking girl's father barges in and blackens the architect's eye.

A description of the plot cannot begin to portray the humor of the lines and situations. The plot is, in essence, extremely simple. It is the script, acting and direction that make the play. Like in most any other dramatic work.

Lubbock Single Tickets On Sale

Civic Lubbock, Inc., has announced, after its biggest season ticket sale, that individual tickets will go on sale Monday in the lobby of the auditorium. The ticket office will be open from 9 to 5 daily.

Tickets are still available in all price ranges for all shows. There are nine shows on the schedule this year and they are as follows:

"Elsa Lanchester," Oct. 27, "Fred Waring," Nov. 7, "Shelley Berman," Nov. 15, "Don Giovanni," Nov. 25, "Pleasure of His Company," Dec. 3, "J.B.," Feb. 13, "Once Upon A Mattress," March 4, "Andersonville Trial," March 14, "Fiorello!," May 23-24.

Tickets also will be on sale by mail. Orders should be sent to the Lubbock Auditorium, care-of City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

No Award Presented In 21st Annual Piano Competition

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—The Levontritt competition for pianists has once more lived up to its reputation for being the toughest trial of its kind to face young musicians in this country.

There were three finalists in the 21st annual run-off of this international competition Wednesday night in Carnegie Hall, but the distinguished jury decided that none of them quite merited the award—an award perhaps best known for having gone to Van Cliburn, the Moscow competition winner, in 1959, an award carrying a cash prize of $1,000 and solo appearances with numerous orchestras.

In the two-decade history of this competition, a first award has been given only 14 times.

Some in the audience on this occasion walked out with an air of disappointment. They had been,

it is true, very generous in their applause of very superior piano playing by Kenneth Amada, 28, native of Orange, N.J.; Bela Szilagyi, 26, of this city; and Michel Block, 23, born in Belgium of French parents and now living in Mexico.

Leonard Bernstein, announcing regretfully the jury's decision, noted that the competition was intended to find great talents, but "great talents who are fully equipped to assume the responsibilities of a professional career." On this larger basis no award was made.

The contestants will receive, however, some cash; Levontritt gold medals were presented them by jury chairman Abram Chasins.

Milton Katims conducted the Symphony of the Air to accompany the aspirants in Beethoven, Brahms and Rachmaninoff concertos.
