Nixon Proposes Economic Council

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today proposed establishing a National Economic Council—part of a 12-point program he set forth to accelerate economic progress in the United States.

The council he suggested would correspond to the National Security Council which advises the chief executive on the problems of security.

Nixon said in a speech prepared for the National Association of Business Economists that the new group would coordinate "the various government efforts bearing on the promotion of healthy economic growth."

But he declared it would infringe in no way on the independence of the Federal Reserve Board. This, Nixon said, "is something the opposition seems bent on doing and which is already causing concern in responsible circles both in our country and abroad."

Discussing fiscal policy, Nixon said Democrats, who insist on easy credit on what he called artificially low interest rates under any circumstances, are practically inviting foreign investors to withdraw billions now placed in this country on deposit or in short-term paper.

This could result, he contended, in "a totally stupid and unnecessary gold crisis" which could have disastrous consequences for the entire free world.

To solve problems created by automation in industry, Nixon rejected over-all consultation among union, industrial and government leaders. Instead he recommended working sessions for each major industry to analyze its own problems.

Nixon addressed the convention of business economists in his only scheduled engagement of his second day in New York. He meets his Democratic opponent — Sen. John F. Kennedy—here in the last of their televised debates Friday night.

EXPANSION

Much of what the Republican presidential candidate said in his speech—which he described as the most important of his campaign on business and economic matters—expanded on proposals which he previously had made in criticism of Democratic programs.

For the first time he emphasized the possibility of "an early warning economic intelligence system." He said it could operate through flexible credit and fiscal possibilities, that could include tax adjustments to protect the economy against threats of stable growth.

In this connection he suggested amending federal law to include "reasonable price stability" as a major objective of government policy.

The national economy also could be stabilized, he said, "if our unemployment insurance system were substantially strengthened."

UNTRUTH CHARGED

Wednesday, he accused Kennedy of glaring misstatements on 13 campaign issues, arguing the Massachusetts senator had obscured or failed to tell the truth about achievements of the Eisenhower administration.

Nixon quoted remarks by his Democratic rival for the presidency and followed each with statements which he characterized as the facts. His accounts sought to show that Kennedy has given a false picture of the Eisenhower administration and that the administration's record was one of accomplishment in each field.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, termed Nixon's summary inaccurate and said the senator would respond in detail today.

MORE PROGRESS

In connection with civil rights, Nixon quoted Kennedy as saying last month that the Republican party has failed to take one constructive step toward guaranteeing equal rights to all. Nixon said more progress has been made in civil rights under the Eisenhower administration than in the entire period since the Civil War. He listed a number of steps taken and bills proposed by the administration.

Nixon said a Department of Agriculture study fortifies his estimate—which Kennedy called untrue—that the Democrats' farm program would raise food prices 25 per cent.

Nixon said Kennedy had distorted Eisenhower's position on the defense of Quemoy and Matsu, quoting a letter the White House made public last Saturday in saying Eisenhower and Nixon were in full accord on the offshore China islands.

OTHER ISSUES

The vice president also pounced on Kennedy statements, many in the course of their televised debates, on defense budgets, medical care for the aged, housing, minimum wage, economic growth, power output, federal aid to education, forestry and wildlife and the voice of America.

After firing what he called this "White Paper" at Kennedy, Nixon joined the senator at the head table of the Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner. Both addressed the dinner and there Nixon agreed with the senator that religion should never be a campaign issue. Nixon drew more applause than did Kennedy at the dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Strange Encounter

If you were attending your very first State Fair of Texas, like one-year-old Wayne Davis did, you'd be seeing many strange, new sights—like this organ grinder's monkey, Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Davis of Abilene, appears somewhat puzzled as the monkey, begging for pennies, grabs his arm.

Australian, Briton Win Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—An Australian, Prof. Frank MacFarlane Burnet, and a Briton, Prof. Peter Brian Medawar, were awarded the 1960 Nobel Prize for Medicine today.

The winners of the $43,827 prize (225,987 Swedish crowns) were selected by the Royal Caroline Institute in a two-hour session.

The five annual Nobel prizes are awarded in fields of medicine, physics, chemistry, literature and peace work, and stem from the fortune left by the late Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

Burnet and Medawar were awarded the 1960 prize for medicine jointly for the discovery of acquired immunological tolerance, said the official citation of the awarding body.

The two noted medical researchers have solved one of the major obstacles for transplantation of tissues from one body to another.

Burnet is director of the Walter and Eliza Hall Institute for Medical Research in Melbourne, Australia.

Medawar is professor of zoology and comparative anatomy, University College, London.

The Caroline Institute's citation of the award said:

"Transplantation of tissues from one part of the body to another does not present any particular difficulties—the graft usually heals easily. Exchange of tissues between different individuals is a problem of a total different order and for the following reasons. All the body's cells and tissues carry a certain immunological pattern. Individual patterns show the same variability as fingerprints and can equally well serve to identify their owners. The differences between such patterns are too subtle to be demonstrable by any known chemical methods but they are readily recognized by the extremely sensitive immunity apparatus. If, therefore, a foreign pattern is introduced with grafted tissue, it is immediately identified as foreign, and an immune reaction is elicited. After about two weeks the graft, which might have healed in the meantime, is demarcated and rejected. Only genetically closely related individuals, such as identical twins or mice of the same highly inbred line, carry sufficiently similar patterns to accept each others tissues.

"Graft reactions were first clearly recognized in the field of experimental tumor research. Later the problem was studied systematically by Medawar on grafts of normal tissues and the immunological nature of the phenomenon was clearly demonstrated.

When, in 1949, Burnet attempted the formulation of a general theory on the mechanism of immunity, the graft reactions served more or less as his starting point. Apparently it is of vital importance that the body's own tissues do not induce reactions, while it is equally important that the defense mechanisms are promptly alerted by the intrusion of foreign substances.

Nixon Eliminated As Tax Witness

LITTLETON, N.H. (AP)—Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon has been eliminated as a possible witness, but big names continue today to occur in the federal tax evasion trial of Mark Granite, 78.

Nixon was wanted to identify, and therefore admit as evidence, a letter he wrote to Granite.

Dora Vale Granite, 62, began her testimony Wednesday and before adjournment put many notable names in the record as contributors to the Granite Foundation, set up by her husband as a nonprofit educational and historical operation.

The government contends he diverted foundation funds to his own uses, making them taxable. He is charged with failing to report $60,000 in personal income in a four-year period.

Experts Arrive

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two German experts on fisheries arrived here Wednesday for a two month stay. They will visit the Gulf and the Pacific, making a study on fishing conditions there, which will be presented to the Mexican government.

Like The Wind

Some people feel sure they have been saved because they have had a glorious experience—a sort of sensation. They believe Christ taught that the new birth is that sort of thing, when He said, "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth; so is every one that is born of the Spirit." John 3:8.

This verse is read as if it said, "so is the new birth." But it does not say the new birth is anything like the wind. It is "every one that is born of the Spirit" that is like the wind which cannot be seen. The inner man, which cannot be seen, is that which is born of the Spirit.

The new birth is something that can be understood and taken hold of by those who need it. In each of the three sermons a week we show you in the scriptures how to be saved (born again). Next sermon, "The Biggest Little Word in the Bible," tonight, 7:30. Welcome, Ady.

'Boulwarism' New Weapon Against Labor's Strength

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A novel mode of collective bargaining—pegged on bending a labor union at its own game—is now being tested in the crucible of industrial conflict at General Electric Co.

The industry and union men who keep thrashing out the terms of the nation's major labor contracts are intently watching the battle.

Because if the plan works it could spread to other industries. The showdown is between one of the nation's largest corporations, General Electric, and one of the top labor organizations, the International Union of Electrical Workers.

GE has been developing and practicing its bargaining plan for a dozen years, but it has never been put to so severe a test. Essentially, it's a method of strengthening management's hand in calling the tune on labor contract terms.

Attitude is to blame for the sad state of GE-IUE relations. Certainly a worker is bound to have questions on the value of his dues payments to a union that can't wangle better settlement terms than a company will give willingly. Thus the GE policy tends to minimize the union's role in industrial life.

The company stands by its system, saying: "General Electric believes its approach is sounder than auction-type bargaining which can start out with unrealistic claims on both sides, and then lead to drawn-out haggling."

MORE TENDERLY
GE deals with some 100 different unions and never seems to have the troubles with the others that it experiences with Carey's union. But the IUE is the largest and as such gets most management attention and the full "Boulwarism" treatment. The IUE says the other unions are handled more tenderly.

Both GE and IUE blame the other for adamancy. Both deny it—yet stalemate is the result.

Carey has proposed calling off the present strike for a month if only GE will sweeten its proposals. But a recent GE memorandum stated: "In the light of the economic facts facing General Electric and the comprehensive nature of the company's proposal, we have no intention of yielding to Mr. Carey's plans for further increases in the offer."

DUAL APPROACH

The GE approach to labor bargaining is two-fold: First, a steady, unremitting drumfire of "Papa knows best" coming to the workers conceding that the company, rather than the union, is their best protector and welfare provider.

Second, a sizable contract offer containing "everything the company believes to be right" and, except for minor variations, sticking to it even if it means a strike.

The system has worked well in the sense that the company views have substantially prevailed without incurring any company-wide labor stoppages—since GE Vice President Lemuel R. Boulwar devised the technique in the late 1940s.

RULE CHANGED

Meanwhile, Carey got his union to change its rule, thus making it harder for some IUE elements to block his calling future strikes. These rule changes have led GE to question publicly how much employee support there is for the present strike.

In the constant sniping between company and union, GE has claimed Carey had promised "I owe GE a strike." Carey says the company's "take it or leave it"

Girls Draw Line At Open Blouses

CHESTERFIELD, ENGLAND (AP)—Five hundred girls who lifted their skirts without a blush have drawn the line at unbuttoning their blouses.

The girls, whose average age is 18, work at a hosiery and lingerie factory.

They complained that their modesty was offended by new security checks to see that none of the firm's underwear was being smuggled out for the benefit of competitors. Some of the girls threatened to strike.

"We are used to lifting our skirts to show that no expensive frillies have been removed from the work benches," said one teenage blonde.

"But we draw the line at anyone looking in our bras. That was going too far."

Managing Director Kenneth Allen apologized to the girls and the strike threat evaporated.

Mexico Chief Starts Tour, Will Meet Ike

Out Of The Dog House

Number 22383 at the city dog pound in San Antonio was a sad-eyed Beagle left behind by young burglars who vandalized the Kate Schenck Elementary School. However, number 22383's plight brightened considerably when his owner called to report he had a Beagle that had been stolen. Sure enough it was number 22383. Police quickly dropped the "burglary charges" against the Beagle on finding he was an innocent victim.

Ike's Non-Political Tour Aids Nixon

Editors Note: What will be the effect on the election campaign of President Eisenhower's current tour, described as nonpolitical? Jack Bell AP political writer, assesses it as Eisenhower moves into pivotal California.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Politicians are watching President Eisenhower's current tour for new answers to the old question of whether a president can pass along his popularity.

The White House has called Eisenhower's nine-day tour non-political, but the President has been doing some obvious plugging for election of Vice President Richard M. Nixon to succeed him.

If Eisenhower gets in some of the same kind of licks in California...

Need For News Reporting Stressed

DALLAS (AP)—American newspapers "must keep the free people informed or surely they will die the death of the oppressed," a Dallas newspaper executive said Wednesday.

Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of The Dallas Times Herald, said "the American newspaper is in the deadly serious business of informing."

McKnight, speaking to members of the East Dallas Exchange Club, said "we live in varied climates of fear, of hope, of suspense, and even of plenty."

"The next bulletin off the wires," he added, "could add another threat from Communism to pile atop a teetering stack of world worries."

nia that he registered for Nixon in Michigan and Minnesota. Republicans are going to be mighty happy about his tour of political hot spots.

Eisenhower has struck at the campaign theme of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, that this country has stood still and has lost prestige in the world.

Since then presidents haven't been very effective in swaying the electorate for another man. Calvin Coolidge virtually set out the campaign when Herbert Hoover was elected.

Eisenhower himself has had little luck trying to transfer his vote popularity to Republican candidates for Congress since 1952.

But even some Democrats concede that this year's campaign is different. Republicans contend—and Democrats don't dispute it seriously—that Eisenhower's popularity remains tremendously high.

How much this recommendation of a popular President will sway the voters remains to be seen.

Democrats say they don't think any retiring President can influence the election results much. But they would be happier if Eisenhower weren't trying.

U. S. Has Gone Limit With Cuban Sanctions

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States apparently faces serious difficulties in imposing any major economic or political pressures on the pro-Communist Castro government of Cuba.

State Department officials said today that this country has gone about as far as it can go for the time being in applying what amounts to sanctions against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The latest move came Wednesday when the Commerce Department ordered a curb on all U. S. exports to Cuba except medical supplies and some foodstuffs.

The next most likely step—though it is not yet worked out in detail—could be the freezing of Cuban assets in the United States.

Officials said they were not sure of the volume of these assets but that they probably were not more than a few million dollars.

From time to time, informants said, ideas have arisen of the possibility of establishing some kind banned the transfer of American-owned ships to Cuba.

Earlier this year the United States had cut off aid to Cuba and had virtually closed the U. S. market to Cuban sugar purchases.

Wednesday's trade ban was clamped on after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, speaking in his presidential campaign at Miami, Fla., Tuesday, advocated a policy of quarantining Castro's Cuba and said that "a number of steps can be taken to do this and are planned."

Diplomats dealing with the problem reported that considerable thought has been given to a wide range of measures.

The possibility of taking joint action with other Western Hemisphere allies through the Organization of American States is under constant study at the State Department.

The problem is that in many Latin-American countries Castro has the status of a popular revolutionary hero.

From time to time, informants said, ideas have arisen of the possibility of establishing some kind of patrol of air and sea craft around Cuba and of trying to prevent flow into Cuba of arms from Communist countries.

Such activities, however, responsible authorities said, come close to blockade actions if they are to be effective.

There has also been some talk of the possibility of breaking off diplomatic relations with Castro, but the State Department officials discount this completely under present conditions.

Mrs. Kennedy Leaves Campaign

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy has bowed out of her husband's presidential campaign. Her doctor has ordered her to rest because of the expected birth of her second child in December.

Mrs. Kennedy's last campaign appearance was Wednesday, with her husband in the ticker tape parade staged in his honor.

After a stay here of a few days, Mrs. Kennedy will return to her home in Washington.

Bellwether Arrives Monday

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Since 1940 students at Trade High School have taken a straw vote on each presidential campaign and have always picked the winner.

This week they voted 963-486 in favor of Sen. John F. Kennedy over Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Catholic Clerics Advised To Deny State Pressures

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Methodist bishop says responsible officials of the Roman Catholic Church should deny a Catholic president would not be subjected to church pressures.

Protestants are waiting for such assurances from the Catholic church itself, Bishop John Wesley told a news conference.

He said Kennedy has made a "completely satisfactory statement" of his own views on separation of church and state.

The bishop added that some Catholic papers and professors indicated that Kennedy was "at variance with his faith's official position."

The bishop recently was transferred to the Washington area from Boston. The news conference was called primarily as a get-acquainted session, reports were told. The bishop volunteered his views on religion and politics.

Stengel Says He Kept Youth In The Game

By JOE REICHLER NEW YORK (AP)—Today the Yankees will name a new manager. He will be 41-year-old Ralph Houk.

"The youth movement of America is for kids," blared old man Stengel in an acceptance speech Wednesday night.

"Sure I'm old," 70-year-old Stengel challenged an audience that included Yankee owner Dan Topping, 46, the man who fired him; George Weiss, 65, the general manager who will be the next man to be fortified under the new "youth program" policy.

Looking directly at Topping, Stengel said: "This is not a ridicule of Topping who has the nerve and the guts to be here tonight."

Earlier Topping, obviously tense and nervous had been among the dozens of persons—baseball officials including Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Joe Cronin, writers and friends who had paid tribute to the most successful manager in baseball.

Stengel began his speech by saying "I'd have to say this is the first time I've ever been near to tears."

Casey was both funny and serious in his "thank you" speech to the writers who presented him with a silver tray inscribed: "In appreciation of your friendship and cooperation through a dozen happy years."

Penrock Smashes Sunland Track Record

Penrock became the bright new star in the Sunland Park sky as the brilliant two-year-old son of Kentucky Derby winner Ponder, is shown streaking to a new 6 1/4-furlong track record last Sunday, blazing the distance in 1:15 1-5, just 2-5 of a second off the world's record.

Midland, Texas, off-harness Ralph Love, Penrock, packing 120 pounds with Ken Coppennoll up, eclipsed the old mark of Vic Man by 1-5 of a second and solidly established himself as the horse to beat in the $5,000 Enchantment Stakes November 12.

Spinney Faces Severe Test

EL PASO — Spinney and Fleet Boy, two of the top handicap horses campaigning at Sunland Park, clash in the White House Purse Saturday, an allowance event at six furlongs.

A full field is set to challenge the top two, including Turkson, one of the fastest sprinters on the grounds, Sovereignty, the California invader, Pearl Corral, Gallant Bid, Divining Rod, No Gal, Count Maxwell and Just A Dream.

George McVior's Spinney has proven himself at distances up to a mile and one quarter, which included a victory in the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity at that distance.

Pace will play an important part in the race and the H. G. Wells' Turkson and Lakin Mead's Gallant Bid are expected to attempt to steal the race.

The Wagner Stable's Sovereignty, a recent arrival from California, will be making her first start of the meet.

The co-featured 8th race, named the Hotel Paso Del Norte, has attracted a full field with Bigato and Saygo high weights of the contest at 122 pounds.

First post for the 10 race program is 1:30 p.m. with daily double wagering offered on the first two races and the quinella available on the fourth and tenth races.

Nominations: FIRST (6 furl.) — Real Bold, Make-Up, Okey, Donald Sam, Dan B. Ray, Olney, Jig-A-Long, Miss Necessary, Non-Silver, Big Dan, Jubilee Jim, also Abu-Maria, Charlene's Pride.

Fans Have 13 Days To Order Tickets

French Assembly Recesses To Prepare For Atom Plan

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly early today was recessed for 24 hours in a maneuver expected to clear the way for approval of President Charles de Gaulle's plan to give France an atomic striking force.

Opponents of the plan still had one weapon left—a censure motion against the government. But it was unlikely they would make the move.

De Gaulle himself displayed no concern about the outcome and was leaving Paris tonight on tour of southeastern France and a visit to Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco.

Balloting on a vote of confidence in the government was set for Monday.

Premier Michel Debre hurled the gauntlet at the opposition by cutting off debate on the plan for $1.2 billion force of atom bombers and rockets and calling for a vote of confidence.

Under parliamentary procedure of the Fifth Republic, the opposition has 24 hours to decide whether it wants to risk a censure motion.

Heir's Wife Asks Record Alimony

NEW YORK (AP)—AEP food chain heir Huntington Hartford has been accused by his estranged wife of misconduct with half a dozen women. She asks a record $25 million in alimony.

The accusations came to light in proceedings before State Supreme Court Justice Henry Epstein.

The action was filed by Marjorie Steele Hartford, 31, who married the Hartford heir 12 years ago when she was a Hollywood cigarette girl. Hartford is 48.

Yarborough Blames Ike For Economic Troubles

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough Wednesday night blamed the Republican administration in Washington for what he called the economic ills of the nation.

He told a rally of 1,500 Democrats that interest rates were too high, there was too much unemployment and no new starts on water and public works projects.

"A flood of foreign oil imports have drastically delayed the natural growth and development of Texas," he said.

Yarborough, a Texas Democrat, shared the speaker's platform with State Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio.

Gonzales said Sen. John F.

Kennedy, Democratic candidate for president, "has the wit and the will to win and give us the leadership to raise our standard of living and that of all our neighbors to the south."

Master of ceremonies at the rally was Rep. John Young of Corpus Christi.

Former state attorney general Gerald Mann, state campaign director for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, introduced Yarborough.

Yarborough said a Republican "falling farm program" and the policy of "no new starts" on water development projects were largely to blame for the fact that 144 of Texas' 254 counties lost population in the past 10 years.

Mexican Hotels Deny State Plan

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican Hotel Association Wednesday denied it is studying plans to nationalize or "Mexicanize" hotels in the country.

Such a suggestion was made recently by an Acapulco hotel official, a member of the association, and rumors spread that the group had discussed the plan at a national conference earlier this month.

President Daniel Sanchez said this was not true.

DEAR ABBY IN THE DOGHOUSE

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You goofed! How could you advise parents to get their small boy a miniature French poodle? Poodles are expensive to buy and only a millionaire can keep a poodle properly manicured and clipped. Also, you can't give an aristocrat like that table scraps unless you eat filet mignon. What's wrong with a Boston bull? PAUL FROM SOUTH CHICAGO dwellers have no business having dogs. A few goldfish or tropical fish would do just as well. I had puppies when I was a child and believe it or not, I learned about the birds and bees from the fish! "CORNELL '61" (ITHACA, N. Y.)

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who knows anything about pets will tell you that the best pet in the world for a child is a dachshund. They are odorless, hairless, affectionate and sturdy. FRISKEY'S MASTER

(HARTFORD, CONN.)
DEAR ABBY: I hope Mrs. J.L.T. didn't take your advice and rush out to buy her 7-year-old son a miniature male poodle. A female (spayed, of course) would make a much better pet. EDNER (PORTLAND, ORE.)

DEAR ABBY: I agree every child should have a pet. But why a French poodle? Our boys had white mice. Their mice gave them much pleasure and there was no work involved for me. Mice cost nothing to feed, require no license, never have to go to the vet and do not annoy the neighbors. LIKES WHITE MICE (San Antonio, Tex.)

DEAR ABBY: For a couple of dollars and a trip to the dog pound, Mrs. J.L.T. can get a first-class pet. Yes, I mean an ordinary mongrel. We've never had anything else and when it comes to loyalty and companionship, I'll put one of those mutts against any pedigreed dog. HERB H. (SIOUX CITY, IOWA)

DEAR ABBY: I've raised and bred dogs all my life and, if I were to recommend the ideal dog for a child, I'd say get him a cocker spaniel, beagle or schnauzer. French poodles are too high-strung, noisy and ornery. Besides which, a small poodle is no animal for rough-housing. DOGBREEDER (BATON ROUTE, LA.)

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe my eyes when I read your advice to buy a miniature French poodle for a 7-year-old boy. That's a dog for a rich lady who has nothing to do but pamper a spoiled ball of fluff. Tell the parents to get the child an Airedale. It can take all the teasing, cuddling and mauling

a small boy can dish out. "FLO FROM ST. JO"

ADA Upholds Crest Endorsement
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The American Dental Association's House of Delegates has upheld an ADA Council's endorsement of Crest toothpaste. A Connecticut resolution to rescind the approval was voted down Wednesday. Opponents of the endorsement claimed involvement of ADA with a commercial product weakened public confidence in the association. Never before in ADA's 100-year history had a commercial toothpaste been endorsed.

Tax Writers Make Error, Agency Seeks Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials today were debating how to offset the misleading effect of a paragraph in next year's income tax instruction booklets. It would affect only certain older married couples who itemize deductions for medical expenses. The Internal Revenue Service, an arm of the Treasury, conceded that the paragraph definitely is misleading. Unfortunately for taxpayers, anyone who might be led astray would pay more taxes than he should. The law says that if either husband or wife is 65 or older, the medical expenses of both may be deducted in full, within broad dollar limits. The new instruction booklets imply that if either husband or wife is under 65, his or her expenses may only be deducted to the extent that they exceed 3 per cent of taxable income. The general rule—for those under 65—is that a person may deduct only that part of his medical expenses which exceeds 3 per cent of his income. But this does not apply to persons over 65, or to either one of a married couple if either is over 65.

Airmen Enroll At HCJC In Record Numbers

Enrollment of Webb AFB personnel in credit courses at Howard County Junior College reached a new high this semester, with 99 officers and airmen signed up for 196 courses evaluated at 612 semester hours.

Comparing available records at the base, dating back to 1955, Joseph F. Hinton, Webb educational advisor said:

"This exceeds any semester enrollment at the college, by men seeking academic credit, special non-credit courses are not included. The nearest figure to this was attained in the 1958-59 fall semester when 118 individuals were enrolled in 185 courses."

Leading all Webb organizations in off-duty studies at HCJC is 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron with 26 persons taking 41 courses for 121 semester hours.

Indian Guides Set Splash Program

A Y Indian Guide "splash" is scheduled at the YMCA tonight, beginning at 7 p. m. in the pool. All Indian Guide families, and others interested, are invited to attend.

The special program is for second and third grade tribes. Events will include a shoulder race, pajama relay, spoon relay, 25-foot free-style for boys, balloon relay, and a greased watermelon wrestle for dads.

E. A. Williams is chairman of the program. Refreshments will be served.

Bids Asked

The Webb AFB procurement office will accept bids for repair to two hangars on Nov. 15 at 11 a. m. The job descriptions call for repairing doors and replacing winches in one hangar and repairing doors in the other.

The Howard-Glasscock chapter of the American Red Cross was due to have an advisory board meeting at 5 p. m. today in the county commissioners' room, according to an announcement from R. W. Whipkey, chapter chairman.

Coahoma Bank Plea On File

AUSTIN (AP)—State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner announced today an application for a state bank at Coahoma in Howard County has been filed with the Banking Department.

The proposed Coahoma State Bank would have capital of $100,000, surplus of $50,000 and reserves of $30,000.

Proposed as directors are Ed J. Carpenter, R. M. Martin, Joe Nixon, Carl Bates, R. D. Garrett, E. T. O'Daniel and R. A. Foster, all of Coahoma; and Bill E. Reed of Moran.

Read, president of the Moran National Bank, is projected as president, and Carpenter is projected as chairman of the board.

No dates have been set for examination of the application by the Banking Department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Pistol, Starter Reported Stolen

Two thefts Wednesday were added to the list of those already under investigation by police.

The latest items stolen include a car starter and a pistol.

Arthur W. Jones, 631 NW 4th, reported the theft of the starter from his car.

A 38 caliber pistol was reported taken from the Western Auto store, 206 Main, possibly by a shoplifter.

Chapter Meets

The Howard-Glasscock chapter of the American Red Cross was due to have an advisory board meeting at 5 p. m. today in the county commissioners' room, according to an announcement from R. W. Whipkey, chapter chairman.

Free Checks Offered For War Souvenirs

Services of the Webb AFB explosive ordnance disposal team are now available to residents of Big Spring to check and render safe, if necessary, hazardous war souvenirs.

The Big Spring police department and the base explosive ordnance disposal section are working together to provide this safety program.

Police officers point out that war souvenirs and relics are kept on display in many homes and some may still have mechanisms of destruction, previously overlooked by unqualified personnel.

Webb's two-man explosive ordnance disposal team are trained to render such items safe.

Any resident may get this service by calling the police department. The items picked up by police will be checked by Sergeant George H. Schweickert and Warren D. Hannabass, the EOD team.

Souvenirs will be returned to their owners either complete or minus only internal hazardous compounds or components.

Explosives deteriorate with age and usually become more sensitive, an officer said. Consequently, a supposedly harmless souvenir could be a lethal weapon.

Police Check Three Accidents

Three traffic accidents were investigated during the past 24 hours by police. No injuries were reported.

Ramon Alaniz, Lamesa, and J. W. Parmley Jr., 1708 Purdue, were involved in a collision at the Gregg St. viaduct.

Gertrude M. Gingerich, Westbrook, was in collision with Faye Dunlap Horton, 422 Hillside, at 3rd and Main.

Elvy Monroe Kelly, 1103 N. Gregg, and Billy Joe Arnold, 503 NW 10th, collided at NW 12th and Aylford.

Missing Driver Still Being Sought

Police are still checking the hit-and-run accident in which a bracero was killed Sunday morning but at this point slim clues are leading the investigation into a dead-end.

IA Stanley Bogard, head of the traffic division checking all cars in the area which resemble that described by witnesses at the scene, said that only one known car which fits the description remains to be investigated.

Descriptions of the car were consistent as to the make and color, but varied as to the year. Some said it was a 1952 model, while others thought it was a 1958 model.

The Mexican National was crossing Lamesa Dr. in the 1100 block when he was struck by the passing car.

in and to the effect of the said Order, I, W. B. ZACHRY COMPANY VS. ZOORA CARTER PATTERSON and LARRY SCARBROUGH, Cause No. 12,266.

And to me as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I did proceed to sell to the highest bidder, for cash, between the hours of 10:00 o'clock A.M. and 4:00 P.M. on Tuesday, December 6, 1960, to bring first 10:00 P.M. of said month at the Court House door of said Howard County, on the South side of East 3rd Street in the City of Big Spring the following property, situated in the County of Howard and State of Texas, and within the corporate limits of the City of Big Spring, and described as follows: to-wit:

Lot No. 4 in Block 2 of the Morning Side Addition located and situated in the City of Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, as shown by Deed dated September 12, 1951 from W. B. Younger, recorded in Vol. 172, p. 23, Deed Records, Howard County, Texas.

Leveled on the 12th day of October, 1960, and to be sold to satisfy a judgment dated the 20th day of May, 1960, and recorded in the minutes of said Court in Vol. 21, pages 158-159 in favor of the plaintiff H. B. Zachry Company against the defendants Zoora Carter Patterson and Larry Scarbrough, for the sum of one hundred eight-three and 7/10 ($183.70) Dollars and all costs of suit and further costs of sale.

Given under my hand this 13 day of October, 1960.

Faster-Than-Sound Transport

The nation's first supersonic passenger transport aircraft may be similar to this artist's conception released by Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., at Fort Worth. Convair's proposal is that the present B-58A Hustler bomber, now operational in the USAF Strategic Air Command, be modified to substitute for the bomber's sleek fuselage a larger fuselage capable of accommodating passengers. The aircraft Convair proposes would be used to gather data for production later of supersonic airliners for commercial airlines.

Candidates, At Al Smith Fete, Agree Bias A Lesser Factor

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1960 presidential candidates, speaking Wednesday night at the annual Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner, agreed that religious bigotry is less of a factor in this year's election than it was in 1928 when it weighed heavily against Smith.

Both Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, renounced the religious issue. Francis Cardinal Spellman officiated at the dinner which honored the only Roman Catholic other than Kennedy to run for president. The $100-a-plate dinner, attended by 2,000 persons, raised funds for charities for people of all races and faiths.

Kennedy, first to speak, said: "I believe 1928 and 1960 may be very different. I do not believe the American voter of 1960 is the same as the American voter of 1928." Smith, the Democratic nominee, was defeated by Republican Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Kennedy said he is confident that the judgment of the voters on Nov. 8 will "not be based on any extraneous issues" but on what is best for the country.

"When that happens," he added, "the bitter memories of 1928 will begin to fade." Nixon, a Quaker, said in his speech that "religion should not be an issue and will not be an issue if we try to keep real issues before the American people."

Nixon added that he believes the times call for a leader who has faith in God and faith in the rights of man. Both candidates drew loud applause for their remarks on the religious issue.

In addition to their serious comments on the religious issue, Kennedy and Nixon did some joking in their talks at the nonpolitical dinner. And they drew a lot of laughs.

Kennedy said he was glad that Cardinal Spellman had brought together amicably two political leaders "who are increasingly apprehensive—about the November election, and who have long eyed each other suspiciously, both publicly and privately—Vice President Nixon and Governor Rockefeller." This was a reference to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a guest at the dinner, who once considered challenging Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon said he had been subjected to one of "the worst smears in American political history." He said he had read in the newspapers that Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro said the two men running for the U.S. presidency are a couple of "beardless youths." "Now, I resent that," Nixon grinned. "I resent it because, as Sen. Kennedy well knows, after my first television debate, my makeup man said I had the worst beard since Sal Maglie—the baseball veteran who had a habit of not shaving on the day he was to pitch.

Jail-Not-Bail Negro Policy Ends In Cell

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Following a pledge of "jail instead of bail" policy, integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. and 35 other demonstrators against segregated eating facilities were behind bars today awaiting trial on charges of violating the state anti-trespass law.

They were among 51 Negroes and one white person arrested Wednesday following a well-organized invasion of downtown Atlanta by Negroes picketing and staging sit-in demonstrations at stores with segregated lunch counters.

King, who said he was an invited participant and not a leader of the demonstrations, vowed to remain in jail a year if necessary rather than make bond. He also said the demonstrations will continue "until something is done."

Also arrested was Lennie C. King (no kin), head of the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights, which one of the demonstrators said sponsored the demonstrations.

All arrests were made at Rich's Department Store on charges of violating a 1960 act making it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave private property when requested to do so.

Demonstrations were staged at Davison's, S. H. Kress, F. W. Woolworth, H. L. Green, Newberry's, Grant's and McCrory's stores. White lunch counters were closed at some of the stores when demonstrations began shortly before noon.

There was no violence during the demonstrations and picketing. All defendants pleaded not guilty before Municipal Judge James Webb. Charges against 16 were dismissed when an officer testified they had been requested to leave the dining room but not the store.

At his hearing, the Rev. M. L. King, who led the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, said his family spent $4,500 at Rich's during 1959 and that "we are welcome at all counters but the lunch counter."

Girls Take Top Billing At Fair

DALLAS (AP)—Girl exhibitors took top billing in the fat steer show Wednesday at the State Fair of Texas.

Lynda Cook, 13-year-old 4-H Club girl from Goldthwaite, saw her 720-pound Hereford steer, Robert, named the grand champion. Lynn Trimmer, 13, a 4-H Club girl from Hale Center, showed the reserve grand champion—an Angus.

Reserve champion Hereford steer was shown by Jackie Henson of Tuscola. Don McAnear of Clarendon had the reserve champion Angus, and Thoran Ament of Tulsa showed the reserve champion shorthorn.

Congo Province's Secession Looms

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The president of the Congo's capital province threatened today to secede in an open clash with army leader Col. Joseph Mobutu.

President Cleophas Kamitatu of Leopoldville Province accused Mobutu's soldiers of maintaining a regime of terror, bloodshed and rape in the capital city. Kamitatu ordered Mobutu and his provisional national government to stop the soldiers' activity or face expulsion within 48 hours by a "civilian mobilization."

The provincial president told a news conference that in the past 10 days the struggle between Mobutu and deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba "has become a war."

Kamitatu said he was a consistent supporter of Lumumba. He in effect ordered Mobutu's 3,000 Congolese army troops in the Leopoldville area to stop carrying arms. The provincial president announced a ban on the carrying of arms by anyone but his 2,800 provincial police and U.N. soldiers.

He also announced a 30-day ban on publication of all newspapers in the province.

He claimed his civil police force is being reinforced by 372 U.N. policemen.

In the manner customary with Congolese leaders, Kamitatu held his news conference in his residence surrounded by a score of rifle-carrying police in gray uniforms who searched the newsmen for weapons.

Kamitatu charged the Leopoldville papers had "concentrated on inciting the population to tribal hatred." The local press has strongly supported Mobutu and his provisional national government of college-trained men.

Kamitatu said unless he received a satisfactory reply from Mobutu within 48 hours, he would convene the provincial cabinet and possibly the provincial assembly and would ask them to vote Leopoldville province out of the Congo.

In the past, Leopoldville and the key Bakongo tribal area between the capital and the sea have demonstrated a considerable feeling for a greater degree of autonomy from the central government. It was not known, however, to what extent the Bakongo tribesmen would back Kamitatu's secessionist threat. Kamitatu's threat was an obvious move to help Lumumba back to power, and the tribe is generally loyal to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu, who has thrown his full support behind Mobutu and his regime of commissioners.

Morgan Kin Dies

SIMCOE, Ont. (AP) — Janus S. Morgan, 68, of New York, grandson of the late American financier J. Pierpont Morgan, died Wednesday after an emergency operation for ulcers. Anti-Lyndon Suit To Texas Court

DALLAS (AP)—Attorneys seeking to prevent Sen. Lyndon Johnson from running for the Senate and the vice presidency on Nov. 8 headed for the Texas Supreme Court today.

They hope to get a court hearing on the constitutionality of the law permitting the Democratic senator to run for both offices. Judge F. B. Davenport of the 118th District Court earlier threw out their suit on jurisdictional grounds. But attorneys Robert Billings and James Donovan posted an appeals bond. They said no court has ever ruled directly on the constitutionality of the law. Their reverses, they said, have been on procedural matters.

The attorneys said that if the court overrules Judge Davenport's decision and declares the law unconstitutional they will ask that Secretary of State Zollicoffer be enjoined from counting any votes cast for Johnson.

G. F. Reynolds, (right), 304 E. 6th, veteran rail-roader, had high hopes of being No. 1 absentee voter when such balloting opened Wednesday. However, he was a little late and wound up as No. 2. L. L. Madry, Mesa Addition, just figured if it was time to pay taxes he might as well do so. He showed up at the tax assessor's office Wednesday morning. It turned out he was the fifth county taxpayer to settle accounts on the first day taxes could be paid.

Protestant Leader Denies Plans For Anti-Kennedy Drive

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of a national Protestant group with 10 million members denies his group plans a campaign against Sen. John F. Kennedy in Protestant Reformation Sunday sermons.

The denial was expressed in a news conference Wednesday by Dr. George Ford, director of the National Association of Evangelicals (NAE).

It was in reply to a lay sermon last Sunday by Bruce Felkner, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee (FCPC). Felkner said some conservative Protestant churches plan to turn Reformation Sunday, Oct. 30, into a huge campaign against Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, who is a Roman Catholic. Ford said Felkner's statement was an obvious reference to NAE plans to air from the pulpits debates over church-state separation that day.

Ford said he invited Felkner to inspect the operation of NAE in suburban Wheaton.

"We feel the FCPC ought to practice fairness and to investigate our operations before linking us with bigotry," Ford said.

The NAE is directly affiliated with 38 denominations and associations in 50 states. It has 28,000 affiliated churches.

Ford said the NAE has told none of its members to vote for or against Kennedy. He said the group is spending $20,000 to further its program of guidance to member churches.

"Part of this guidance is suggestions for Reformation Sunday sermons," he said. "These suggest the separation of church and state."

"Protestants have developed a guilt complex about the religion in politics issue. They think to discuss the issue is wrong, bigoted."

Ford said "we think churches have a responsibility to inform their members," adding "Protestants ought to stand up and be counted."

Dokies Plan Flare Sale

A covered dish supper tonight at the Pythian Lodge Hall will serve as a kick-off for the Dokies safety flare sales campaign which will be staged in Big Spring Saturday.

The supper is set for 7:30 p.m. and members of the Pythian Lodge, the Knights of Khorassan and their wives are cordially invited to be present.

The Dokies will sell the safety flares, of value to motorists who may have motor car trouble on the highways, as a part of a financial campaign. Plans for the sale will be reviewed at the supper.

Officers Named For Scout Troop

Girl Scout Troop 147 is now meeting on Wednesdays at 4 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Gehrig, 74A Ent Dr.

Officers are Susan Wilcox, president; Jeanne Mink, reporter; Sandra Gradel, scribe; and Patrol Leaders Andrea Prindahl, Darla Seebo and Lillie Lott.

Sixth grade girls interested in joining Troop 147 may contact Mrs. James Prindahl, 3608 Dixon.

Two Deputies Are Assigned

LAMESA (SC) — Campdon Lawson, Crosby County native, has been appointed deputy sheriff by Sheriff Henry Mayfield.

Lawson, who had been a deputy in Crosbyton prior to his appointment here, is married and is a graduate of Crosbyton High School. He also attended McMurry College and West Texas State College.

His wife, Marguerite, is a piano and voice instructor and Lawson plans to move his family, which includes a son and daughter, to Lamesa as soon as practical.

He has been associated with law enforcement work for 2½ years and was associated with the State Game Commission in 1949.

Mayfield also announced that a part-time deputy, Marshall Yates, Stanton constable, would assume duties here on Oct. 22. He will work in the northwest section of Dawson County, particularly in the Welch area.

MEN IN SERVICE

Kent L. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gibson, Big Spring, has graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

K. M. Seown, apprentice petty officer second class, USN, son of Mrs. Wanda R. Seown, 411 Aylford, has graduated from nine weeks of Recruit Training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the seaman recruits to assist company commanders. The selection is based on individual aptitude and leadership qualities.

Marine Pvt. Jerry R. Pike, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pike, For-san, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. Upon completion of training new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training, or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

U. S. Army Pvt. Richard Auld, 17, is presently undergoing basic Infantry training at this Monterey Peninsula Training Center.

Upon completion of his basic training, the soldier will go on to either advanced Infantry training or to one of the many Army specialist schools. Auld is the son of

The Big Spring Civic Theatre will meet tonight in a special planning session. All members, and other interested persons, are urged to be on hand to help formulate planning for the next few months. The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Prairie Playhouse.

One of the major items is the selection of members who are interested in taking a part in the Oberammergau Passion Play, to be presented here in November. BSCT members have been invited to take non-speaking roles.

The board of directors approved the plan, calling it an excellent opportunity for members to gain valuable stage experience with accomplished thespians.

In other business, the long-awaited workshop program will be organized. The board named Marge Brown to head up this phase of theatre activity. She will probably name other committee chairmen tonight. Chances are, some of these workshop plays will be given formal presentation.

It must have been gratifying for members of the BSCT to see the production "The Moon Is Blue" presented here Monday. And there was a large representation of the group in the small and disappointed audience.

Allowing one exception, the four member cast did not match the local group's most recent offering. Indeed, this road show might have been subtitled "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

The set was meagre and unimaginative.

The one action scene was ridiculously amateur.

Only one of the cast bothered to project. Those who sat half-way back tell me they heard little of the play. I congratulated them on their good fortune.

Three of the cast appeared frightened of their lines and dashed hurriedly from sentence to sentence in a game of verbal leap frog.

The charming talk, talk of the playwright's pen was destroyed in a mixture of missed cues and missed emphasis.

If the play had any direction, it was carefully concealed; even the actors missed it.

Any high school drama group can give the play a better staging. I've seen at least one do it.

On each of these points, the BSCT production was far superior.

Such presentations are bad for theatre. Ticket buyers will think a long time before plunking down the price of a ticket in a gamble that the next play will be better. The best way to destroy the stage is to be kind to such shallow productions.

Our local group will not present a play so badly. "The Warrior's Husband" was proof that the BSCT can present accomplished theatre. With continued community support, the BSCT will continue to provide good theatre.

Halloween Witches' Brew

Let's face it... bright red apples, scooped out and carved with devilish faces make delightfully edible punch cups to quaff a witches' brew on Halloween.

Bright Red Apples Make Delightful Punch Cups

Apple munching really gets under way in the autumn, when days are shorter and nights very cool. That's when the weather is ideal for developing the best flavor in apples.

Everyone likes apples to munch just as they are—cherished by gourmets the world around for fresh out-of-hand eating.

Their lovely color and juicy tart-sweet flavor are the product of an environment in the Appalachian Mountains that is duplicated nowhere else in the world. Growing conditions are just right to produce the distinctive texture and fragrance that distinguish these apples, now coming into local markets.

If you're planning a Halloween party, apples will make the most attractive punch cups you ever saw! Cut the tops from big red apples, using a scalloped design, if desired. Scoop out the fruit, leaving a shell about half an inch thick.

Cut out funny faces, making sure not to cut through the shell too far. Sprinkle all cut surfaces with lemon juice to prevent darkening; or with the ascorbic acid powder used in preparing fruit for freezing.

Use these pretty apple cups for serving punch, which might be a spiced apple cider, or the "Witches' Brew" suggested below. If your guests eat the apple cups after they drink the punch, you eliminate the dishwashing problem!

HALLOWEEN WITCHES' BREW

- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 4 quarts water
- 2 6-oz. cans lemon juice
- 2 quarts apple juice
- 1 quart cranberry juice

Make Souffle High

Next time you make an orange or lemon souffle, try sprinkling the buttered sides of the souffle dish with sugar. This rough surface is said to give the souffle mixture something rough to climb on so it will reach handsome heights!

For A Fall Dinner Try Serving Hot Spaghetti

For a fall dinner, there's real appetite appeal in a steaming platter or bowl of hot spaghetti with a tangy sauce ladled over it. A delicious sauce can be ready in minutes, or in hours, depending on your own time and your favorite sauce flavors.

Fastest way to a quick, hot spaghetti dinner is to buy cans of ready-prepared spaghetti sauce. Such sauces come plain, with mushrooms, or with meat. The sauce heats in the few minutes it takes to boil the spaghetti to "al dente" tenderness—tender, but with just a touch of firmness in the center when you bite through a strand of spaghetti.

Spaghetti sauce mixes are also popular, and a speedy way to a quick sauce. By contrast, some good cooks prefer an "all day" spaghetti sauce, letting a combination of ground meat, seasonings, spices and tomatoes simmer slowly until rich and thick.

For National Macaroni Week, October 30-29, here is a new savory spaghetti, with a delicious cheese flavor to the tomato sauce. It can be cooked in about half an hour.

SAVORY SPAGHETTI

- 7 oz. long spaghetti
- 1 lb. sausage meat
- 1 4-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 medium-sized onion, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- 2 8-oz. cans tomato sauce
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, about 1/4 lb.

Cook spaghetti as directed on package; drain. Meanwhile, cook sausage over low heat until browned. Drain off all but 1-3 cup drippings.

Add mushrooms, onion and garlic to sausage. Cook until onion is tender.

Add tomato sauce, cheese and spaghetti and cook until cheese is melted, stirring occasionally. Or leave spaghetti out of sauce and serve sauce over hot spaghetti. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Glamorize Liver With A Topping

Often when a distinctive, yet popular flavoring is employed in preparing variety meats, it produces the most appealing entrees.

If your family needs a bit of urging to eat nourishing calves' liver, for example, try serving it with an American blue cheese topping. The mellow flavor of the creamy, subtly sharp cheese that permeates the liver, enhances it greatly.

For four servings, season one pound of calves' liver with salt and pepper. Brown liver quickly on both sides in oil or butter. Place in shallow baking dish. Mix 1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese with 2 tablespoons fine bread crumbs and 2 tablespoons minced green onion. Spoon cheese mixture on top of liver slices and broil about 5 minutes, or just until topping is tinged with brown and cheese begins to melt.

Horse-Radish Roast

The English favor the flavor of horseradish with roast beef. To serve horseradish with pot roast, add some to the gravy.

Mrs. Irene White proudly displays a colorful cake which contains individual cake balls, bubble gum, candy corn and jaw-breakers. The type of candy used depends on the season of the year and the occasion for which the cake will be used. Mrs. White recommends it for children's birthday parties. The colorful cake balls are colored in pink, green, brown, yellow, gold and blue and are held in a petal of green on a cut glass stand.

Cheeseburgers Are Halloween Treat

If the final call for treats on Halloween eve is to be at your house, be prepared with refreshments of the substantial kind. Don't be fooled by that ghostly garb! Underneath the masks, those skeletons and sprites harbor lively appetites after an evening of witching in the crisp autumn air.

The hamburger is just about every kid's favorite dish, with the only possible improvement a generous topping of cheese. A clever Halloween trick is to make a jumbo-size cheeseburger, large enough to serve several, and add a jack-o-lantern face. A couple of these sandwiches on the table will win cheers from the spooks when they reappear from their rounds. Hasty refreshments of this kind are not only fun, they are packed with the good things youngsters need. Hamburger supplies complete meat protein. Cheese supplies protein, too, and valuable vitamins and minerals. Buy the snacks for this recipe (and for snacks at other times, too) in 6-ounce packages, already sliced and paper separated for easy removal. American, pimiento, or Old York would be equally delicious in this cheeseburger combination. These varieties are also available in two-pound loaves, a convenient way to buy if your family carries trick-and-treat raids on the refrigerator beyond Halloween.

HALLOWEEN CHEESEBURGER

- Yield: 12 servings
  - 2 pkgs. (16 oz.) sliced cheese
  - 2 lbs. ground beef
  - 1/4 cup chopped onion
  - 2 tbsps. pickle relish
  - 2 tpsps. salt
  - 1/4 tsp. pepper
  - 1/4 tsp. oregano
  - 1/4 tsp. dry mustard
  - 2 eggs, slightly beaten
  - 1 large round loaf rye bread, unsliced
  - 2 gherkin pickles
  - Paprika
- Mix together the ground beef, onion, relish, and seasonings. Blend in the beaten eggs. Pat ground beef mixture into two 9-inch round cake pans which have been lightly greased. Bake in a

The 'Hourglass Figure' Shows In Coffee Package

The coffee industry has a "new look" in its instant coffee packaging. The innovator this time is Maryland Club Coffee, which can now be found displaying an "hourglass" figure in its Instant Jar just released to grocery stores. Those not in the "know" may wonder why all this talk about fashion with a coffee. But the rest have long been familiar with the unique, fashion-wise advertising theme followed by Maryland Club coffee the past nine years. So, it comes as no surprise to them that Maryland Club Instant Coffee is wearing a new Fall outfit perfectly suited to the coming big coffee season. If you want to decorate your market basket with the latest fashion, and have the world's richest-tasting instant coffee, too, it's available all in one package at your grocer's now...Instant Maryland Club Coffee.

Mix all ingredients except eggs; slice eggs and arrange over top of salad. Makes 6 servings.

Mrs. White Is Artist Who Creates In Kitchen

Some artists work with clay, some with oil, but Mrs. Irene White's medium is sweets.

A native of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. White is an artist at her hobbies, and she is self-taught. She has had no formal training in the decorating of cakes; what she knows she has gleaned from books, magazines and experimenting.

Besides being a cake decorator she is an excellent seamstress, designing and making all of her own clothes.

Mrs. White first became interested in cake baking and decorating at the age of 16. Most of her cakes, for friends and members of her family, are original designs, with particular attention paid to details. She loves the challenge of a new design and draws and cuts her own. The main instruments used are her hands.

Her designs have included a red barn with white silos and a straw stack for a square dance; a top hat done in green with a black hat band for St. Patrick's Day; a sheet cake in the form of a diploma for an Air Force graduate; it was decorated in Air Force blue with white lettering and wings and 10 small silk American flags scattered over the top.

A special design in cake decorating is a Doll Cake which is baked in an angel food pan with a small doll placed in the hole and the cake decorated to look like a skirt.

Mrs. White sends along several tricks for cake decorating. One is to make scallops with a teaspoon inverted and the tip pressed into a frosted cake. Repeat in rows for an all-over design.

For a spiral design hold a spatula at the center of a frosted cake. Gradually draw spatula toward you while turning the cake around. The plaid design can be obtained by dipping a string into food coloring, stretch string taut and press into the frosting. Repeat. Use a new string for each color used. Make up your own plaid design.

Other hobbies of Mrs. White are swimming, oil painting and candy making. Mrs. White suggests that you try her low calorie oatmeal cookies and beef and bean casserole. For a luncheon for the girls she recommends mushroom muffins, but warns to be prepared because guests will want the recipe.

MUSHROOM MUFFINS
4 ounce can mushrooms (stems and pieces drained) (reserve liquid)
1 tbsps. butter
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
3 tpsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 egg
1/4 cup mushroom liquid
3/4 cup milk
1/4 cup grated American cheese
1/4 cup salad oil or melted shortening

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Grease bottoms of muffin cups. Sauté mushrooms in butter. Sift dry ingredients into large bowl. Beat egg slightly with fork and stir in mushroom liquid, milk, cheese, mushrooms, shortening. Add dry ingredients; stir just until flour is moistened. Batter should be lumpy. Do not over mix. Fill muffin cups 2/3 full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 12 to 16 medium muffins.

BEEF AND BEAN CASSEROLE
1 lb. ground beef, salt and pepper to taste
1 large onion (chopped)
1 can kidney beans (not drained)
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
Place beef in cold ungreased skillet on medium heat. Add chopped onion. Cover. When brown turn and cook until meat is seared well, then add beans and tomatoes.

Chili powder may be added to taste if desired. Pour into cas-

Spice Up Sponge-Cake

Ever add spice to sponge-cake batter? Cloves, nutmeg and allspice (all ground) make a delicious mixture.

Potato Croquettes

Make leftover mashed sweet potato into croquettes. Mix the potato with well-beaten egg, shape into patties and dip in a little egg and bread crumbs. Fry until golden-brown on both sides. Good with ham or boneless smoked pork shoulder butt.

Stewing Chicken

You can usually count on a large stewing chicken yielding about 4 cups of diced meat after it is cooked. Use the cooked chicken for salad, chow mein, chicken loaf or combined with noodles.

serole and strip with favorite cheese of your choice.

Place in moderate oven and bake for 30 to 45 minutes.

LOW CALORIE OATMEAL COOKIES
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/4 tsp. soda
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 cup butter, soft
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup buttermilk
2 cups oats (quick or old-fashioned uncooked)
Sift together flour, soda, baking powder, salt and cinnamon into bowl. Add remaining ingredients except oats. Beat until smooth. Fold in oats; drop by teaspoons on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 10 to 15 minutes. Makes three dozen cookies. Calories per cookie 54.

Low Calorie Supper

Rich fruit flavor in this cool and refreshing dessert.

TANGERINE JELLY
1 1/2 cups cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 can (6 oz.) frozen concentrated tangerine juice
Remove tangerine juice from freezer and open so it will thaw a little; you can immerse the can in hot water.

Pour 3/4 cup of the cold water into a one-quart saucepan; sprinkle gelatin over to soften. Place over low heat and stir until gelatin dissolves; remove from heat. Stir in remaining 3/4 cup cold water and the tangerine concentrate, just as it comes from the can.

Turn into 5 individual molds, each about 1/4-cup size. Chill. Unmold at serving time. Makes 5 servings. If indented molds are used a little fresh fruit may be placed in jelly indentations as a garnish.

Needs No Rack

A standing rib roast doesn't need a rack in the roasting pan because its bones hold it out of the drippings. But if the beef is a rolled roast place it on a rack.

Teen-Agers Like Snacks After Class

When the crew cut, pony-tailed set comes dashing in the kitchen door after school, better be prepared with refreshments. Growing youngsters don't demand elaborate dishes, but the wise mother will see that they have sufficient, nourishing foods for snacks.

Because of its appealing flavor and abundance of extra calcium, phosphorus and protein, American blue cheese makes superb spreads on crackers and bread for after-school nibblers.

Here's one, for example, which you probably can prepare from ingredients already in your kitchen.

BLUE CHEESE SPREAD (About 1 cup)
1 cup cream-style cottage cheese
1/4 cup crumbled American Blue cheese
2 slices leftover, cooked bacon, crumbled
Dash Worcestershire sauce
Combine the two cheeses and Worcestershire sauce and beat until blended. Stir in crisp bacon bits. Use as a sandwich or cracker spread.

Smoked Tongue, Vegetables For Family Supper

Nice because there will be left-over tongue.

SMOKED TONGUE WITH VEGETABLES

Shred beef tongue
Boiling water
1 tbsps. mixed pickling spice
2 bay leaves
1/4 tsp. whole cloves
1 garlic clove
1 lb. small potatoes
4 medium carrots
1 head green cabbage (about 1 1/2 lbs.)
Simmer tongue in boiling water to cover with spices and garlic until tender—about 1 hour per pound. Remove tongue; skin and trim off roots. Add scrubbed unpared potatoes to tongue cooking liquid and cook until tender—about 30 minutes. About 15 minutes before potatoes are done, add pared whole carrots. About 5 minutes before carrots are done, add cabbage cut into four wedges with core left intact. Remove vegetables with slotted spoon and serve with sliced tongue. Vegetables will make four servings.

Fresh Cranberries Appear After Harvest

Look for more fresh cranberries this year than ever before.

That's the outlook described by the Agricultural Marketing Service, as pickers swarm over the colorful bogs to harvest the delicious, nutritious berries. First shipments of the 1960 crop already have reached retail markets in this area.

Total production in the five major cranberry states is set at 1,286,500 barrels. That's 4 per cent more than last year's record crop and 29 per cent more than average.

So this will be a good fall to make frequent use of the tangy, red, vitamin C-rich fruit.

Indians who introduced cranberries to the Pilgrims not only ate the berries; they used them to make an ointment for healing poison-arrow wounds. And New England clipper ships carried barrels for sailors to chew on to prevent scurvy.

Cranberries once were called "bitter berries." And there's no doubt about it, they are bitter. But it's the bitterness that makes cranberries good menu companions for any meat. Serve them, particularly, with the many meats that are so plentiful this month—beef, lamb, broiler-fryers and turkey. They're equally good with pork and fish. Cranberries provide brilliant color to any meal.

Cranberry-Orange Relish has been around a long time. It's still one of the most popular ways of serving cranberries. Put 4 cups of cranberries and two quartered and seeded oranges through a food chopper. Add two cups sugar and mix well. Chill before serving.

For an interesting variation, mix the relish with equal parts of apple sauce and add just a little horse-radish.

Freshen Rolls

Rolls left over? Freshen them in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 3 to 7 minutes. Serve at once.

Cordial Fruitcake

WITH IMPERIAL Pure Cane BROWN SUGAR

Gladden friends with your fruitcake. Best of all because it's homemade and because you cared enough to bake it! The treasured recipe takes a little time and a lot of ingredients, but it's easy to bake. A pound of Imperial Brown Sugar imparts a special rich flavor. Helps keep the cake moist. Be sure of success. Be sure it's Imperial—the only brown sugar with a heat-sealed cellophane wrap to keep it soft and fresh!

4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 pound butter or margarine
1 pound Imperial Brown Sugar
10 eggs, well beaten
1/2 pound nuts, chopped
1/2 pound candied orange and lemon peel
1/2 pound citron, thinly sliced
1 pound raisins
1/2 pound candied pineapple
1/2 pound candied cherries
3 cups dates, pitted and sliced
1 cup molasses or corn syrup
1 cup honey
1/2 cup cider

Grease three 10" x 5" x 3" loaf pans; line with heavy paper; grease again. Combine flour, baking powder and spices; sift together three times. Cream butter; add Imperial Brown Sugar gradually; beat till light and fluffy. Add eggs, nuts, peel, fruits, molasses, honey and cider. Gradually add dry ingredients; beat well after each addition till blended. Fill pans 3/4 full. Bake slowly at 250° F. 3 1/2 to 4 hours. For moist texture, place shallow pan of water on lowest rack of oven; remove the last 15 minutes. To store, cool cake; wrap with cloth dampened in cider or grape juice. Overwrap with aluminum foil. Store in airtight container in cool, dry place for several weeks; remoisten once a week with cider or juice. Holiday Sauce Imperial, a topping for fruitcakes and holiday puddings: Combine 1 cup Imperial Brown Sugar and 3 tablespoons flour. Add 1 cup boiling cider or water and 3 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla or nutmeg.

TASTES BEST WITH SKINNER

Spaghetti

You're particular about the sauce you use. Be just as particular about the spaghetti. Choose Skinner Spaghetti. It has a more appetizing color—a golden glow of quality. It cooks tender yet firm, never soft and mushy. You see, Skinner uses 100% amber durum wheat. It makes quite a difference. So remember to always use the spaghetti that is worthy of your favorite sauce—Skinner Enriched Spaghetti.

Mrs. Lloyd Leaves Board

After nearly a score of years in Girl Scout work, Mrs. Inogene Lloyd has resigned her place on the local board.

She started out 19 years ago in Girl Scouting with her daughter, Patricia, who eventually grew out of scouting — but Mrs. Lloyd did not. At the district committee meeting this week she submitted her resignation, which was accepted with regrets.

Participating in the committee session were Mrs. F. W. Malone, Mrs. W. H. Booth, Mrs. C. M. Womcraft, Mrs. Earnest Miller, Mrs. D. M. Costlow of Stanton and Lawrence Robinson.

During her tenure, Mrs. Lloyd served as district president three

Has Source Of Energy

In today's column, Andrea King tells Hollywood Beauty readers her secrets for keeping healthy. Part of her energy she attributes to Tiger Milkshakes.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Believes In Caring For Body Every Day

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "The trouble with most women," Andrea King declared, "is that they don't start taking care of their bodies until they discover they're getting flabby. When you don't exercise for years, you have to work twice as hard to get back in shape. If you exercise a little every day, you preserve your body. I realize that an actress is more concerned with her appearance than the non-professional, but no woman, regardless of her occupation, wants to feel that she is getting flabby."

"I like to exercise. I feel so much better for it and I think it gives my whole body a healthful glow."

"When I'm not working at the studio, I enjoy playing tennis and swimming, but if I have to go to the studio, I do set-ups for about 10 minutes every morning. I believe in the saying, 'use or lose.' If you don't use muscles—they'll lose their tone."

I wanted to know if Andrea had any beauty problems.

"Yes," she replied, "I have a sweet tooth and I am the type of person who can gain from merely smelling candy. But I decided that I want to have a good figure more than I want to eat, and so now I have no problem with candy."

"And I must confess that I feel better when I'm on a health kick. Vitamins have made a fabulous difference in the way I feel at the end of a day. Every afternoon, when I'm working, I have one of Adele Davis' Tiger Milkshakes. She calls it that because it makes you feel as strong as a tiger. I used to have to mix these myself."

Rebekah Lodge To Be Dinner Guests Of BS Odd Fellows

All members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge and their families will be guests of the Big Spring Odd Fellows and their families for a dinner Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the lodge hall. A program is to be presented and a sing-song enjoyed.

During the Tuesday evening meeting Mrs. Cecil Thixton was installed as left support to vice grand, Mrs. Irene Dempsey, replacing Mrs. Charles L. Marchbanks, who has moved to Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Homer Petty reported for the ways and means committee on the successful rummage sale held Saturday.

Mrs. S. P. Wink was presented a certificate of perfection in the unwritten work by Mrs. C. A. McDonald, lodge deputy.

Members were told that Thursday will be the birthday of the lodge mother, Mrs. Mary J. Lamar, 1107 West 3rd.

An attendance of 35 members was reported.

WMS Circles Meet In Jarratt Home

Members of all WMS circles of Temple Baptist Church were entertained in the home of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Tuesday morning, when they met for mission study.

Mrs. Richard Grimes, leading an explanation of the WMS manual, demonstrated her talk with posters and leaflets. Mrs. A. R. Posey offered the opening prayer.

Committee chairmen discussed their duties and told of the assistance given at the associational clinic recently held at the First Baptist.

Mrs. R. N. Adams dismissed the group with a prayer; refreshments were served from a table laid with a cloth of imported Italian linen. Tapers in silver holders surrounded an arrangement of fruit.

Two guests, Mrs. I. S. Story and Mrs. T. C. Harbin, were present with about 30 members.

The WMS will meet at the church Tuesday at 9:45 a.m. for a business session; the executive board will meet at 9 a.m.

'ROUND TOWN

Friends here will be happy to learn MRS. H. M. RAINBOLT is doing well following spinal surgery at Midland Memorial Hospital. She is in room 350 and will probably be in the hospital there five or six days. If she is progressing well enough, the family plans to bring her here for her convalescent period. She'd like to hear from her Big Spring friends while she's away from home.

Fall was really putting its best foot forward when the J. C. PICKLES were in the Adirondack Mountains after attending the meeting of the National Selected Morticians in Chicago. En route to Illinois, the couple stopped in Tulsa, Okla. and visited MRS. INEZ M. MIDDLETON at her home, 3330 E. 36th. Mrs. Middleton and her late husband had married and made their home here several years before moving to Tulsa. After attending the meeting, the Pickles went to Detroit and into Windsor and Toronto, Canada; then to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Utica, N.Y. They spent Saturday and Sunday in Fulton, Ky., with relatives, including MRS. ARTHUR PICKLE, who is planning to spend the greater part of the winter there with her sister. If the travelers had gone one more mile, they would have gone 4,900 miles while they were away.

MR. AND MRS. C. C. JONES are in El Paso where they were called by the death of her brother-in-law.

ALFRED MOODY is hospitalized at Big Spring Hospital following an accident after becoming ill in San Antonio as he and Mrs. MOODY planned to continue their trip to Houston to attend the Gold Star Mother's convention.

The weather played a big part in the plans of MRS. W. F. TAYLOR and her sister, MRS. J. R. CALDWELL, of Bovina. The two had planned for weeks to drive to Cuero to visit a brother, who has recently moved back to Texas from California. When the weather turned bad they decided to go by bus. They had their hats on ready to go to the station when they decided to call Cuero and see about the weather which they found was worse there than it was here. They called off the trip there and later went to Midland, accompanied by MRS. C. O. HITT and while there heard Dr. J. R. Crewell, Baptist minister who is conducting a revival in Midland. Mrs. Hitt visited her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Hogue; Mrs. Caldwell remained to visit in the home of her son.

LAMESA CLUBS Set Workshop For Furniture Finish

LAMESA (SC)—A workshop on refashioning furniture will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in Pioneer Park Recreation Hall under the sponsorship of the Dawson County Home Demonstration Council, according to Jo Crabtree, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Buck Bennett will give the demonstration and instructions for refashioning furniture during the beginning period of the session, and those attending may refinish their piece of furniture at the recreation hall, or go home and do the work. Miss Crabtree said.

Pieces being done at the hall may be left in the building overnight and the finishing steps done there Friday morning.

The workshop is open to all home demonstration club members and other women who are interested. Anyone attending the workshop should bring sandpaper (3-0 and 4-0 or 5-0); paint and varnish remover, fine steel wool, stain, satin finish varnish and paint brush.

A Devotional For Today

Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee . . . (Psalms 31:19.)
PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we are grateful to Thee for Thy thought for man's need. Grant us disposition of heart to share with others in their need the goods Thou hast given us. Thus may the whole world be filled with Thy goodness and Thy loving-kindness. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
 (From The 'Upper Room')

With Our Boys, We Represent The City

On Friday evening the Abilene Eagles will come here for a game with the Big Spring Steers.
 You may be certain that Abilene folks will back their team to the hilt. That city has asked for 3,000 tickets, and if the weather turns out good as expected, fully that many visitors may come here to root for their boys.
 While we admire this spirit, we want to go it one better. We would like to see the remainder of the stands packed with our own people all pulling for what our boys have been working for—a victory.
 This promises to be an interesting and lively game. Based on the season's record and on general reputation, Abilene is doped to win. But victories are won on the field, not in scrapbooks. Our own boys, even with a 3-2 record, have been a hard-fighting bunch. One loss was by two touchdowns (the second scored within the last few seconds) and the other by a mere three points. So nobody has pushed the lads around willy nilly, and the boys don't intend for that to happen Friday evening.

 Indeed, their attitude is that there is no point of playing if you don't play to win. That kind of attitude ought to be honored by fans who turn out to cheer as good sportsmen of the town we all represent.

A Ticklish Situation

When the United States announced last week that it had suspended, at least temporarily, its entire military assistance program to the Southeast Asia kingdom of Laos, the inevitable happened quicker than anticipated.
 The Soviet Union immediately offered the hard-pressed Laotian government economic aid.
 The United States at once reconsidered its position and decided that the suspension was terminated as of now. Whether aid will be broad enough to help bridge the financial crisis of the beleaguered country remains to be seen. Laos is in such straits that it is possible that not even the largest of any one nation can solve the problem. This incident, however, is typical of the puzzling situation, if not the dilemma, in which our country finds itself. If, for any reason it wishes to abandon a course of aid or mutual assistance, there is always the probability that the weakened nation immediately will turn to the big Red Bear lurking outside the door. In day and time when challenges are on a global scale, even the smallest nations have an alternative. Russia is playing a game of waiting for the dramatic moment to move in once we move out. And thus we can ill afford to vacate even if disciplinary action seems to warrant it.

Marquis Childs Cut Down On The Campaigning

PHOENIX, Ariz.—With three weeks of the campaign still to run one thing is abundantly clear: some way must be found in the interest of national sanity and America's position as leader of the free world to restrict the length of these Presidential contests.
 There is good reason to believe that a great many people have already had enough. Nothing that they hear in the closing weeks, short of some egregious blunder by one candidate or the other, is likely to make much difference. And this goes for the undecideds, many of whom may not make up their minds until they walk into the polling booth regardless of how much time they have for reflection.
 THIS REPORTER has talked with smaller-business men, ranchers, and farmers in Montana, California and Arizona, and whatever their political preference they have one wish in common and that is that the campaign should come to an end. Going on for nine to 10 weeks it has an increasingly unsettling effect. The business of the nation and the world seems to stand still while the conflict grows louder and angrier.
 Privately in the entourage of both candidates the course of the prolonged campaign, with the country crisscrossed over and over again, is freely discussed. In one of his stops in the West on his first long tour just after Labor Day Senator Kennedy remarked feelingly toward the close of a 14-hour grind, "I can't imagine why Adlai Stevenson ever thought that he wanted to do this for a third time."

citizen hears the message of both candidates.
 SO MUCH OF THE motion crowded into the present 10 weeks is sheer waste. The outstanding conspicuous example is the airport rally. Most airports are five to 10 miles from the center of town. If the organization works hard it is possible to get a crowd of a few thousand out to hear the candidate when he stops for an hour and a half in the course of a long and punishing day.
 But he will be talking to the faithful and the converts, who have long since determined to vote for him. And while his presence and his oratory may fire them up to greater organizational effort the benefit in this department is to say the least doubtful. If it takes that kind of shot in the arm to get the organization going it is not likely to be very effective in any event.
 NIXON'S SORTIE into Arizona is a case in point. If one state should be safe for the Republican candidate, under the tutelage of Arizona's own Sen. Barry Goldwater who has been stumping the country for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, it is this one. Yet the 10-hour stop was costly to the candidate in time and energy, and the blessings he exchanged with Goldwater were at best superfluous.
 So much of the effort is trivia, but very expensive trivia. The forest of signs, the costumes, the bands, all these phenomena have multiplied in what is certain to be far and away the most costly campaign in history. Much of this comes under the heading of good, clean fun but surely it could be limited to four or five weeks without making anyone unhappy.

THE ARGUMENTS against any limitation are familiar. If the campaign itself were shortened to four or five weeks the time of the Presidential primaries would be moved forward and we would get the same continuous deluge under another guise. It will always be to the advantage of an incumbent President, as four years from now to limit the campaign.
 But, as we are seeing today, the longer a campaign runs the more the atmosphere is heated up and the greater likelihood that America's position in the world will be badly hurt. And there is always the possibility that one of the candidates may succumb to the mending strain. A sensible time limit should not be impossible.

Teaching A Lesson

SUNNYSIDE, Wash. (AP)—Sunnyside people are looking for the magician who made four cars disappear and then vanished himself—without the cars.
 All the autos materialized at the police station and the cops were as puzzled as the owners.
 In each automobile was a note giving the address of the owner. On the doorsteps of the owners' homes were notes saying, in effect:
 "This will teach you not to leave your keys in your car."
UNHEEDING RAIDERS
DENISON, Iowa (AP)—A Denison farmer, disturbed by raids on his melon patch, rigged his largest melon so that an auto horn would sound when the melon was moved.
 But, his neighbors reported, while the farmer and his family were away from home the horn tolled for more than half an hour. The noise didn't bother the melon thieves. They almost cleaned out the patch.

Dual Funeral-Role

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—County Patrolman Jimmy Catlett, assigned to escort a funeral procession to a cemetery, got a bigger assignment than he expected when the minister failed to show up.
 Catlett, an ordained Baptist minister, was asked to officiate. Doffing his cap and pistol, he preached a 12-minute sermon at the funeral home. Then, he escorted the procession to the cemetery, again doffed cap and pistol and preached a graveside service.

DRASTIC SORT OF EYE OPENER

James Marlow A Bad Year For The Old Pros

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the Yankees sacked Casey Stengel it just went to show this has been a bad year all around for the old pros.
 Take politics. None of the men around Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy is a political sentimentalist. But almost all are young.
 The oldtimers in both parties have been shoved into the back-ground.
 Two of the biggest old pros still loose in the land, former President Truman and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, tried to side-track Kennedy's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.
HE RAN RIGHT over them. Nixon didn't have to demolish any Republican giants to get what he wanted. He spent seven years as vice president sowing up the Republican presidential nomination long before he ever got to the convention.
 Neither Nixon nor Kennedy, of course, is a political chicken. Even though they're both in their 40s, each has been in Congress 14 years and each knows his way around in campaigns. They've been in some rough ones before this.
 The closest thing to an old-time pro in either camp is Leonard Hall, Nixon's campaign manager, a former Republican national chairman who was in Congress for years and has been mixed up in politics since back in the 1930s when he was sheriff of Nassau County, N.Y.
 But Hall is staying pretty much out of sight, doing a lot of his work by telephone.
FURTHER UP FRONT is 35-year-old Robert Finch, a lawyer who's been in California politics for years, ran twice unsuccessfully for Congress, and has the title of campaign director for Nixon.
 Kennedy didn't go hunting among the professionals, old or young, for his campaign manager. He picked his younger brother, Robert, who had been attorney for the Senate's racketeers committee.
 When he was with the committee the younger Kennedy brought in an old family friend, Philip Kenneth O'Donnell, 36, a former Harvard football player and war veteran, as his top assistant.
 The Kennedys took O'Donnell along for the campaign. He's the senator's chief trouble-shooter now.
 As his chief assistant Kennedy has 32-year-old Theodore C. Sorenson, who will probably be White House chief of staff if Kennedy wins.
 Another old Kennedy family friend—Lawrence F. O'Brien, 43-year-old lawyer and public relations man—is in charge of organizing the Democrats around the country. He did pretty well for Kennedy in his primary fights this year.
 So, with the exception of Hall and Truman, who is making some campaign speeches for Kennedy, there is hardly a political Stengel in sight.

What Others Say
 The bleak picture of youth we get too often these days was brightened by the recent news of the Westbury, L.I., high school senior refusing to accept a graduation award because he disagreed with the policies of the organization giving it.
 The American Legion offered the award. But the name of the organization in this instance, is beside the point. What is important and refreshing is that honor student Stephen Bayne is a young man with principles and is willing to stand up for them. We cannot see such a lad becoming a victim of the me-tooism that has stunted the intellectual growth of so many of our youngsters and blunted the political imagination of so many of their elders.
 —NEW YORK TRIBUNE

Greets Foreigners
JAMESTOWN, Va. (AP)—Step up to Pablo Sviokos and ask a question about the Jamestown colony and you'll likely get an answer in the same language as your question.
 Sviokos, interpreter at Jamestown, can also talk music with you. He is a cellist with both Richmond and Norfolk symphony orchestras, an orchestra at Yale University and is studying music in New York City.
 Sviokos, born in Chile, reared in Yugoslavia, educated in Canada, Italy and the United States, and employed in Germany, speaks five languages fluently.
BALTIMORE (AP)—The clerk at the library thought the little girl asked about Greek fiction.
 That is, until the child produced an assignment note which said: "How to reduce friction—example, grease."

Old War Yarn Sighted Sub, Spudded Same

HONOLULU (AP)—The destroyer escort O'Bannon has many citations and battle ribbons but his crew is proudest of a plaque awarded the destroyer by the Maine Potato Growers Assn.
 The bronze plaque was presented to the Pearl Harbor-based destroyer for sinking a Japanese submarine with potatoes.
 It happened in the South Pacific during World War II when the O'Bannon caught the submarine napping on the surface. A well-placed hit from the destroyer sheared off the sub's conning tower.
 The sub moved in too close for the destroyer's big guns to bear on the target. Japanese crewmen poured on deck with small arms.
 The destroyer's pistols and rifles were below in the armory. The only close means of defense was the potato locker.
 O'Bannon crewmen bombarded the enemy with potatoes. One Japanese crewman was knocked overboard. Others thought the potatoes were hand grenades.
 The confusion gave the destroyer time to move away far enough to fire on the sub and sink it.
 The O'Bannon went through the battles of Guadalcanal and Leyte Gulf and holds three Navy Crosses, three Silver Stars, two Legions of Merit, a Presidential Unit Citation—and the only potato throwing citation in the world.

To Your Good Health What Makes A Proper Dose Of Medicine

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: What about the advisability of taking nicotinic acid tablets after middle age to improve circulation?"—S.R.
 Nicotinic acid is used on occasion to dilate the blood vessels and hence to improve circulation to a certain extent. To accomplish this large doses are required, so of necessity the side effects must be tolerated.
 For one thing, the dilation of the vessels results in flushing of the face, etc. More blood naturally flows toward the surface of the skin.
 As with so many medicines, perhaps with all of them, proper dose depends on the inter-balance of the need, the effectiveness, and whatever unwanted effects have to be accepted. That, in a word, is the reason we need doctors who spend a lifetime learning the ins and outs and relative considerations.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: I have bronchial trouble and arthritis. I think you would do a big service to people if you would put in the paper that it's 'arthritis' and 'bronchial.' All my friends read your column and I hope at least two of them will profit. Just hearing them say 'bronchial' and 'arthritis' gives me a pain in my whatchemacallit.—H.R.P."
 I agree. Also it's "prostate" and not "prostrate," and "coronary infarction" and not "infraction." I even had a long letter, several years ago, from a lady who wanted to know what to do about her "apeses" which bothered me until I realized she meant "abcesses."
 I really don't care very much what folks call things, so long as I understand what they mean, and can give a helpful word of advice. I sympathize with you, but don't worry about it. Learning not to worry about it will cure your pain in the whatchemacallit.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is 40 and has come home to live with me. She has been drinking two quarts of beer before dinner each day and three to four quarts Saturday and Sunday. I think she is sick, but one word from me about the beer and there is always a fight. How can I get her to a doctor? Can a doctor help her, or does she have to help herself?"—F.M.
 She'll have to help herself. Once she wants to do so. Alcoholics Anonymous or alcoholism clinics can help her.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor told me I have inflammation of the shoulder fibrositis. The therapist is giving me exercises to do, but told me not to do any setting up ones as they would only irritate the shoulder. Isn't she contradicting herself?"—J.J.C.
 No. Nor is your case the only one in which a little exercise is good, but too much may be bad. For an outstanding example, take an acute attack of rheumatoid arthritis, in which the joints are inflamed.
 It is necessary for the patient to move these joints daily, and to move them in all normal directions, as far as they will go. This is to prevent the joints from freezing, which carries a most serious risk of permanent inability to move the affected joints.
 Thus it is vital to move the inflamed joints but for the remainder of the time the patient should rest. Excess movement will only serve to increase the inflammation.
 MRS. H.G.: Yes, as I've written, ammonium chloride is one of several drugs used to release fluid from the body. But it is NOT a weight reducer. You might reduce weight by drying out your system but as a result of drinking only enough fluid to stay alive, this would put a dangerous strain on the body and wouldn't be either true or permanent weight reduction.

Around The Rim But He Might Need A Knife

On one of our infrequent trips out of the city, my good wife Joyce and I journeyed to the State Fair of Texas last week, to be sadly disappointed.
 But I did get a few pointers. First, I found enterprising homeowners renting their front yards as parking spaces at a buck a throw. There, I pointed out proudly, is a wonderful idea. We can't grow grass in our yard, let's make a parking lot out of it.
 My good wife pointed out that there is not a State Fair in the next block with inadequate parking facilities. However, countered, next year they may move it to Big Spring. After all, the city doubled in population in the last 10 years. At that rate, it shouldn't be long before the old caliche pit could be converted to green gold, and I wasn't talking about grass. She dismissed the idea and so did I.
 WE PARKED AND got out to walk. I say walk, but it was more like being a salmon swimming upstream during spawning season. I've never seen so many folk. And all of them appeared to be going a different direction. We pushed and tugged but did not see near all of the exhibits.
 But one report I want to make. There are some old-time pitchmen working the

Inez Robb Harvard Alumni Making Friends

Never again shall I carol my once-favorite college song: "Don't Send My Boy to Harvard, the Dying Mother Cried." That's a solemn promise.
 For the Harvard alumni of New York are leading the collegiate procession in an attempt to supply friendship and a home-away-from-home for 18 young officials of a dozen newly emerging African nations who are here in connection with a United Nations training program.
 AT A RECENT dinner and reception at the Harvard Club, an imposing pile of stone just off Fifth Avenue in West 44th St., the alumni gave membership privileges in their citadel to the African officials in the U.N. program.
 Since French is the secondary language of most of their guests, the Harvards rounded up their French-fluent alumni for the occasion. One of these, Lewis M. Isaacs Jr., a New York lawyer, was so astounded at the youth of the African guests that he had to keep reminding himself that Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson were also young men when the United States emerged from colonialism.
 THE HARVARDS themselves felt that their program was a success from the start when a youthful official of Togo, when called upon to speak, said in Africa there are continuous reports that the Negro is universally mistreated in the United States.
 "I have seen no such mistreatment," he said, "and now you have proved the rumors false. There are bad men in my country and there are bad men in your country, but the good are in the great majority."
 THE HARVARD Club is large and impressive, and its operation and support were the source of much questioning. Who built the club, the guests wanted to know. They were surprised that Harvard alumni had raised the money for its construction.
 "Didn't you get any money at all from the government?" was a frequent question.
 The Harvard Club, which hopes to enlist the Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth and other college alumni clubs in a similar program for African students, was interested in the report by one of its members, Rawson L. Wood, Harvard '30.
 WOOD IS CHAIRMAN of the Africa Service Institute, founded by a group of public-spirited New Yorkers who are alarmed by the lack of contact, cultural and human, between African students in New York and New Yorkers themselves. Wood says there are approximately 1,000 such students in the city.
 The institute tries to supply hospitality to such students through American homes and clubs. The organization finds that African students need more than scholarship and transportation funds provided by public groups. Most of them need help in finding decent housing, summer employment, advice on budgets and small loans for emergencies. Such help often spells the difference between a satisfying visit to the United States and failure.
 WHEN FUNDS ARE available, the institute hopes to provide a center where Africans can come for companionship and guidance. The institute, by the way, is supported by private and voluntary funds.
 United Nations officials approached the institute with the problem of improved cultural and social relations for the young African officials in its six-month training program. Harvard Alumnus Wood put the matter up to his club. Now Harvard is pressing other Ivy League organizations to join it in extending a welcoming hand to young African officials. For Harvard alumni present at the initial dinner still have a plea in their ear, put there by an earnest young African who said, "America is no longer the New World. Africa now holds that title."

David Lawrence Eisenhower Seeks Vote Of Confidence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Can Dwight Eisenhower persuade the American people to elect Vice President Nixon to the presidency?
 Mr. Eisenhower is expected during his current trip across the country and later on in the campaign to try to do so by expressing himself forcefully on that point again and again.
THE QUESTION naturally arises, therefore, whether any popular President can "transfer" his political strength to someone who is a candidate to succeed him. It has been done before. President Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, campaigned in 1908 for William Howard Taft, who was not an active campaigner or a man who could be described as a colorful candidate. But "T.R." urged the electorate to support his own administration by voting for Mr. Taft. The election result showed Mr. Taft a victor, with 321 electoral votes—the highest in history up to that time with the exception of the 336 "T.R." had polled four years before.
 When President Coolidge in 1928 said he "did not choose to run" and gave his whole-hearted support to Herbert Hoover when nominated, the latter got 444 electoral votes, which was 62 more than his predecessor.
MR. EISENHOWER realizes that in a sense his own record is on trial before the voters. Will they repudiate that record and say, in effect, that they are voting against the Eisenhower administration?
 "Sen. Kennedy says that, while he has a high regard for President Eisenhower personally," he does not approve of his administration.
 The Massachusetts senator clearly defines the issue. Do the American people intend by their votes to agree with Mr. Kennedy and thereby register their disapproval of the Eisenhower administration?
CERTAINLY, IF Mr. Kennedy is elected, the press of the free world as well as of the Communist world will say that the Eisenhower administration has been given a "vote of no confidence." That's the phrase they use abroad in describing the defeat of a party in power, just as they say a "vote of confidence" has been given in office.
 NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV contends that President Eisenhower is at fault for the breakdown of the "summit" conference and for the failure to get a disarmament agreement. The Soviets, in the event of Mr. Kennedy's election, would rejoice as they blast over the radio around the world the view that the American people have rejected the Eisenhower leadership.
THIS CONTINGENCY has been discussed from time to time in recent weeks and has led some observers to say that it doesn't make any difference, for instance, what the Russians think about an American election and that it concerns only Americans. But in the present political campaign much has been said by Sen. Kennedy and his spokesmen about the alleged drop in America's "prestige."
 There has been continuous concern expressed over what the rest of the peoples of the world think about America, and it would seem logical that, if their views on American prestige are so important, the impact of the presidential election would be important to the future course of events, especially if there is a change in party at the White House and a different leadership is installed which rejects the Eisenhower policies.
ALREADY NATIONALIST China, with its 800,000,000 army, is nervous about Sen. Kennedy's open break with the Eisenhower policy as he insists that a line should be drawn to exclude Quomox and Matsu from the defense line laid down by the President and Congress of the United States. Also, Mr. Kennedy has just sent a message of encouragement, through an Algerian newspaper, to the rebels there, as he tells them that the Algerian problem is not "exclusively a French problem." This doesn't make General De Gaulle happy about what to expect from America if Mr. Kennedy is elected.
 President Eisenhower has in his Detroit speech attempted to refute Sen. Kennedy's argument on another point which is being widely discussed here and abroad—America's prestige based on our rate of growth compared to that of the Soviet Union. Mr. Eisenhower said:
 "YET EVEN if we accepted the claim that a communized system will eventually equal our productivity—which, of course, we do not—we would reject it. For a complete communization of the means of production will succeed only under a dictatorship. We would prefer poverty in freedom to riches in slavery. How fortunate it is that this is not the choice."
 More and more the presidential-campaign debate will concern international policies. More and more Mr. Eisenhower is being placed in the position of asking for a "vote of confidence" in his administration. Will he get it?

Las estrellas agrega Los Infantiles Mexicanos de la Ciudad de los Niños de Monterrey, Gerardo Olvera, el mejor clarinetista; Melena Torres, Triunfadora de la canción Mexicana; y Victoria Cantu, el mejor ventrícuquo de Mexico con su muñeco Don Canuto.

Si, sera una noche de alegre y emocion. Vengan todos al Teatro Rio el Sabado 29 de Octubre.

That Is, Mexican Singers Coming

In English, the above means that Big Spring is in for a musical evening, Latin-wise.

Lovers of Mexican music will have the opportunity to hear the Youth Chorus of Monterrey, along with other popular stars, when a program of mariachi music is presented at the Rio Theatre.

The program begins at 8 p.m. Saturday and includes two noted singers and a ventriloquist.

Biographer Does A Fine Job On Sumner's Story

CHARLES SUMNER and the Coming of the Civil War. By David Donald. Knopf, $6.75.

Scarcity of material is frequently an occupational hazard for a biographer. Not so with the one who undertakes to write about Charles Sumner of Massachusetts. Here is a statesman whose published "works" run to 15 volumes, whose papers total between 40,000 and 60,000 items, whose letters are scattered through dozens of repositories. We can readily understand why 10 years of research have gone into this volume.

Sumner became a permanent figure in American history under the flailing cane of Preston Brooks on the floor of the U. S. Senate in 1856. There are historians who regard the attack upon the Massachusetts senator by the representative from South Carolina as the opening blows of the Civil War. At the least, it was symbolic of the intense emotionalism which swept the divided nation beyond the point of no return.

FWI Charges Are Dismissed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A complaint against W. B. Hogan Jr., of Lubbock, Tex., charging that the flier performed acrobatic maneuvers low over Dodge City, Kan., while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was dismissed by the Civil Aeronautics Board Wednesday.

The order of both the Federal Aviation Administration and of Cab Examiner Joseph Caldwell Jr., which would have revoked Hogan's private pilot license and grounded him for at least two years, were both reversed by the CAB action.

The CAB said it doubted testimony of one eyewitness who said he saw Hogan perform acrobatics 100 to 300 feet over a congested part of Dodge City, Feb. 27, 1959, while Hogan supposedly was searching for a convoy of trucks owned by him.

Inevitably, the caning and its aftermath — a strange illness which kept Sumner from functioning as senator for nearly four years — is a pivotal part of this, the first of a two-volume biography. Indeed, one of its major claims to importance is the extended study which author David Donald has given to that chapter of Sumner's life. Not the least of Donald's achievements is his utilizing of modern specialists for a diagnosis of Sumner's illness.

Donald does not profess to have "unraveled the riddle" of an extremely complex personality. He does say—and he is not bragging—that he has come to know Sumner better than he knows any other human being — "a great deal more, in some respects, than (Sumner) knew about himself." From such depth of knowledge, he has written a fascinating story of a controversial figure, a man who was egotistical, fanatical, puritanical, self-pitying, an addict of invective, and a flouter of friendship — and, withal, appealing. It is an honest book, a forthright book — and biography at its best.

—Robert D. Price

Cabbie Outdoes K, Shoes The Judge

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A taxi driver charged with beating his sweetheart went Soviet Premier Khrushchev one better.

Angered because he had to wait several hours for a hearing, Juan Ramirez de la Rosa took off a shoe Wednesday and pounded the railing in the police court to attract attention.

When that failed, he threw the shoe at the judge.

The shoe missed, but the judge sentenced Ramirez to 72 hours in jail for disorderly conduct in court.

Baby Electrocuted

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—A 23-month-old baby, Paul Welch, was electrocuted Wednesday when he came in contact with an electrical cord at his home.

Steel's Road Parody Not Aimed At Auto Industry

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—It would be well, let's say injudicious—for a company that manufactures steel to sponsor a television program dedicated to satirizing the American automobile industry which uses a lot of steel and also has some brand new models out. So "Step on the Gas" Wednesday night's CBS Steel Hour special, didn't.

What it did was poke fun at very old cars, automobile horns, credit cards carried by motorists, and—of course—women drivers.

There were also some dances and some songs relating to automobiles one way or another. Jackie Cooper, Shirley Jones, Hans Conried, Shari Lewis and Pat Carroll did their best with the rather bland material.

This week's "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" was one of the most delightful half hours encountered on television in months, and a real off-beat treatment for that usually mischievous show. It was a delicately told story about a little boy and his love for his father—with a real snapper of an ending which both was surprising and brought a quick tear to the eye.

Found Dead

that gave a great beer its name

Next time you pour your Pearl Beer, watch the bubbles rise in the glass. Many years ago, a German brewer watched the same thing. He named the bubbles "Perlen" or "Pearls," because they looked like gems. In Munich, Dortmund, Vienna, the name caught on. The word "Perle" came to mean the sparkle—the life—of the beer. And in Hamburg, a famous German brewery chose "Perle" as the name for its finest lager. From this very brewery, 75 years ago, my family brought both the name and the formula for our Pearl Beer. Today, we continue to select and balance our ingredients according to this recipe, and we bring out the best in these premium grains with an exceptionally fine artesian water—one of nature's rare brewing waters. It starts as spring water and filters underground through 100 miles of limestone before our wells bring it up from a quarter of a mile beneath the brewery. In beer brewed from this water, the pearls rise lighter and livelier than ever. Thus, Pearl Beer lives up to its name... just as, year after year, it lives up to its reputation as the favorite beer, the largest selling beer in Texas.

the beer around here is Pearl
