U. S. Makes Major Leap In H-Power

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A scientific group in this country's hydrogen bomb laboratory today reported what appears to be a real — though short-lived — controlled thermonuclear reaction.

squeezed a cubic inch of hydrogen until it reached a temperature of 35 million degrees centigrade—60 million degrees Fahrenheit.
In that state some of the hydrogen atoms presumably fused together in pairs and formed a light variety of helium, with the production of a cloud of neutrons and a release of more than three million volts of electrical energy per atom as by-products.

Kennedy Gets Wild Welcome

Sen. John F. Kennedy is inundated by a shower of confetti and paper strips during a huge demonstration in the heart of the downtown section of Los Angeles. Police estimated 200,000 persons greeted him in a mile-long motor trip.

Rooting For Victory

Spinning Top Satellite Up; Reds Edged

Explorer VIII Aids In Study Of Ionosphere

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A 90-pound "spinning top" satellite whirled into orbit today to begin the most extensive study ever attempted of the earth's ionosphere.
The satellite, officially designated Explorer VIII, is designed to give scientists a better understanding of the mysterious electrically charged ionospheric layers which reflect radio signals back to earth.

The experiment could lead to improved communications between continents, ships and planes. It also could open the way for more effective contact with communications satellites like the recently launched Echo and Courier and with future manned space craft.

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the successful orbiting of Explorer VIII gives the United States a commanding edge over the Soviet Union in exploration of the ionosphere.
Robert Bourdeau, head of the ionosphere branch of NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, said published reports indicate the Soviet Union has been probing the ionosphere with rockets and until today was considered even with this country in data gathered from this sea of electrical particles which extends from 50 miles to about 1,000 miles above the earth's surface.

A powerful 76-foot Juno II rocket blasted off from this missile test center at 12:23 a.m. today. Its four stages fired with clock-like precision and boosted the payload to necessary orbital speed of more than 18,000 miles an hour.
Two hours after launch, NASA announced the "spinning top" was in orbit. It is so nicknamed because it is shaped like a child's toy top and spins during flight for stabilization. It is 30 inches in height and diameter.

The satellite spun into a path with an apogee — farthest point from the earth — of 1,450 miles and perigee — closest point — of 215 miles. This is fairly close to the intended orbit of 200 to 1,000 miles. Each pass around the world takes 112 minutes.
Officials reported the payload's transmitter was working fine.
Explorer VIII is the 36th earth satellite successfully orbited by the United States in less than three years. The Soviet Union has launched six into orbit.

IN PHYSICS

Americans Win Nobel Award

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Two American scientists — Dr. Willard F. Libby and Dr. Donald A. Glaser — today were awarded the 1960 Nobel prizes in chemistry and physics.
Libby, 51, former member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, was awarded the chemistry prize for devising the "atomic time clock," a method of determining the age of fossils, wood and other organic matter by measuring the amount of radioactive carbon present. The process can determine within 200 years the age of samples as old as 25,000 years.

Glaser, 34 and a member of the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley, was named the physics laureate for invention of the "bubble bath chamber" for photographing atomic particles. Superheated liquid in the chamber slows down the high-speed particles until they appear in photographs as a string of bubbles.

NEARING 75TH
They were the 73rd and 74th Americans to win Nobel awards since the annual prizes were first given in 1895. Each will receive a check for $43,827 from the trust fund left by Alfred Nobel, the inventor of dynamite.
Other Nobel award winners this year are Saint-John Perse, French poet and former diplomat, for literature; and Sir Frank MacFarlane Burnet of Australia and Dr. Peter Brian Medawar of Britain for medicine.

The committee announced without explanation last week that the other award—the peace prize — would not be given this year. It is the 17th time this prize has been withheld.
Libby, the first scientist ever appointed to the AEC, quit the commission in 1959 and went to the University of California at Los Angeles.
"If I am to remain a scientist," he said in a letter to President

Eisenhower, "I must return to teaching and research."
Eisenhower named him to the AEC's advisory committee, on which he had served before he was named to the commission in 1954.
A native of Grand Valley, Colo., Libby intended to become a mining engineer until he entered the University of California and switched to chemistry. He received his Ph.D. there in 1933.

A strong-willed individual, he is known among his associates for an intuitive approach that enables him to guess correct answers before an experiment even begins.
Libby remained on the California faculty until 1941, when he took a leave to join the secret Manhattan Project that developed the first atom bomb. He worked at Columbia University on the job of separating by diffusion the fissionable isotope of uranium, 235 from the other uranium isotopes.

NUCLEAR STUDIES
In 1945 he joined the University of Chicago's Institute of Nuclear Studies.

During his first term on the AEC advisory committee, from 1950 to 1954, Libby sided with Dr. Edward Teller in opposing delay in developing the hydrogen bomb and was one of the discoverers of natural tritium, an element of the H-bomb.

Glaser was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1926 and was graduated from Case Institute of Technology there in 1948.
He went to the University of Michigan in 1949 as an instructor, later becoming a professor, and took his Ph.D. in physics in 1950 from California Institute of Technology, at Pasadena. This year he joined the University of California's famous physics staff at Berkeley.

Belgian Congo Actions Scored

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld charged today that large-scale Belgian activities in the Congo are hampering U.N. efforts to restore law and order.
In a voluminous report to the General Assembly, Hammarskjöld said large numbers of Belgian nationals were returning to the Congo and were exerting strong influence on the temporary administration set up by Col. Joseph Mobutu.

He blamed the Belgians for a growing hostile attitude on the part of the Mobutu government toward the U.N. Command. Many of the young commissioners in that government, he said, were constantly accompanied by Belgian advisers to whom they listened.

One of the results, he added, was that "the chaotic administrative and economic situation reached the verge of collapse" before the U.N. Command stepped in firmly and took a more active hand.

COMING BACK
"It may be concluded that a gradual but purposeful return is being staged by Belgian nationals, which has assumed serious significance in view of the key areas which they have penetrated in the public life of the country and the possible effect of their activities on all aspects of the U.N.C.'s (the U.N. Command) responsibilities," the secretary-general told the assembly.

The activities of the returning Belgians, Hammarskjöld said, appear to be clearly at variance with assembly directives and with the U.N. Command's basic objectives.

The secretary-general made public communications in which he had protested against the activities of Belgian nationals in the Congo, which was a Belgian territory until last July.

ARMING NATIVES
Hammarskjöld said that some Belgian nationals "are believed to have been actively arming separatist Congolese forces and, in some cases, Belgian officers have directed and led such forces which, in certain areas, have been responsible for brutal and oppressive acts of violence."
He said some of the Belgians are returning to the Congo "partially through what seems to be an organized recruiting campaign in Belgium."

Hammarskjöld's report comes in the wake of mounting Soviet demands that he say what the United Nations is doing to suppress what the Soviets call "the subversive activities of Belgian agents" in the Congo.
The Indian head of the U.N. mission in the Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal, headed here from Leopoldville to report on the mounting obstacles in the path of the United Nations' Congo operation.

Dayal is expected to tell Hammarskjöld that Congo President Joseph Kasavubu and the Congolese army chief, Col. Joseph Mobutu oppose the plan of Hammarskjöld's advisory committee to send an Asian-African conciliation mission to the Congo to try to bring together the warring political factions.

Jack In Arizona As Ike, Dick Aim South

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon headed for the South today, jubilantly predicting that President Eisenhower's campaigning for him here Wednesday put the clincher on a Republican victory.
Nixon and Eisenhower left Idlewild Airport within a few minutes of each other this morning. Nixon to continue his campaigning, and Eisenhower to return to Washington.

Before his departure, Nixon said that if the tide continues, "I will win by one of the biggest electoral vote victories ever."
Nixon accused his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, of "whistling in the dark" and "obviously getting paraded" in claiming the Democrats have the edge.

The vice president expressed confidence he will carry New York with its vital 45 electoral votes. Eisenhower made no statement on his departure.

BIG ACCLAM
Climaxing a day of vigorous plugging for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, Eisenhower Wednesday night touched off tumultuous acclaim in championing the GOP candidates and in hitting at Sen. John F. Kennedy at a party rally in Manhattan's Coliseum.
So tremendous was the acclaim, so many times was Eisenhower interrupted by the wildly cheering crowd that Nixon got to speak only a couple of minutes before the rally proceedings—carried nationwide on television—went off the air.

But the vice president smilingly told his coast-to-coast audience: "I can only say that I am always glad to give up my time for the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Nixon called his day in New York the brightest of the Republican campaign.
"It has started us to a great victory in New York and victory in the nation. Now let's go," he said.

Nixon thus underscored the importance he attaches to Eisenhower's help in the homestretch drive to defeat Kennedy. The Nixon forces are hoping the help will have nationwide impact. But they are especially hopeful the President's great popularity will win for the ticket the richest of all prizes—New York's 45 electoral votes.

Some politicians in the two parties have been giving the edge in the state to Kennedy. Some Democrats have been predicting a big margin for their man.

EN ROUTE WITH KENNEDY
(AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today Arizona and the nation "are going Democratic next week."
Kennedy told a morning street rally in Phoenix that Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater had wired Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York that Arizona was "in the bag" for the Republicans.

"Judging from the people who turned out here," said Kennedy, "it's a mighty thin bag."
Kennedy told a morning street rally in Phoenix that Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater had wired Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York that Arizona was "in the bag" for the Republicans.

NO NEW STARTS
He said damn all over the United States are memorials to Franklin D. Roosevelt, but the memorial to this administration was contained in three words—"No new starts."

Leaving Phoenix Kennedy flew eastward with stops at Albuquerque, N.M.; in Texas and Oklahoma City.
At one point a jet plane swept overhead making it difficult to be heard at the Phoenix rally, and Kennedy looked up and cracked: "All the people are down here, Dick."

He said the administration had failed in the areas of outer space exploration and conversion of salt water into fresh.
"We have to recognize we are face to face with a dangerous adversary," he said, "and unless we move forward what happens to Africa, what happens to the United States, what happens to Arizona? That is the great issue of our time. I ask your help in picking this country up and moving it into the sixties."

At San Francisco Wednesday night, Kennedy amplified on his proposed "peace corps" of smart young men encouraged to join the diplomatic service.
Kennedy said the young men qualified for such service would "serve their country in this fashion for three years as an alternative to peacetime selective service."

He emphasized that word "qualified." The "peace corps" would not be an easy alternative to military service, he stressed. The Democratic presidential candidate also declared it would be a volunteer corps.
Speaking at San Francisco's huge Cow Palace to a spill-over crowd of 30,000 which screamed its approval in political convention style, Kennedy said that too often American ambassadors are "ill-chosen, ill-equipped and ill-briefed."

MATCH WITS
"Men who do not even know how to pronounce the name of the chief of state to whom they are accredited—as we have seen two years ago in the case of the ambassador to Ceylon—must match wits with Communist emissaries long trained in the ways of dialects of that nation," Kennedy said.

"They can only be countered by Americans equally skilled and equally dedicated—and if I am elected, I ask you to help me find those Americans."
A principal originator of the "peace corps" idea was Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, former chief of the Army's Research and Development Command, who retired several years ago and wrote a book blasting administration defense policies.

Mrs. Newsom Seriously Hurt
LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. Floyd Newsom, Vealmoor Rd., is in serious condition this morning in Medical Arts Hospital, following an automobile collision at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Attendants said she underwent surgery through most of the night. Mrs. Newsom was injured when her car rammed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck on S. Dallas St. Damage to her car was listed at about $1,200, with negligible damage reported to the truck. Hiram Ruggles, Lamesa, was the truck driver.
Mrs. Newsom was issued a traffic ticket for following too closely, Lamesa police said. She was alone in the car.

Lamesa Shock Victim Dies

LAMESA (SC) — Homer Lightfoot, 20, died at 11 a.m. today of burns he received from a 12,000-volt electrical charge while working on a roof Tuesday afternoon.
The young man received third degree burns over 80 per cent of his body when a television antenna he was removing came in contact with power lines.
Lightfoot was semi-conscious when rescuers lowered him from the roof, and took him to the Medical Arts Hospital here. He died at the hospital.

Democratic Film Called Deceptive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have branded a Democratic television film "a cruel hoax" and demanded that future scheduled showings be canceled.
The Democratic reply: "The reason the Republicans are objecting so intensely to this particular commercial is because it dramatizes the need for a decent medical care for the aged bill."

Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton said Wednesday night the five-minute film on medical care for the aged, presenting an interview with Sen. John F. Kennedy with Mr. and Mrs. John McNamara of Newport, Ky., "has been exposed as a deliberate deception."
Morton made public an affidavit from Dr. L. Howard Schriver of the Ohio Blue Shield medical insurance plan. It attested that insurance covered all but $146.25 of McNamara's $619.00 total hospital and medical expense for an operation resulting from a fall from a ladder.

Dr. Schriver said McNamara told him Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, knew this prior to the interview and said: "We will not say anything about that now."

Morton quoted Kennedy as saying in the film that McNamara "incurred a debt of over $600 to pay his medical bills" and that "whatever savings they (the McNamaras) may have had would have to be spent to pay for his bills."

Morton sent a letter to Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson, demanding cancellation of scheduled future showings of "this fraudulent film."

"The American people have had enough of rigged television fare, and casting for votes from the elderly with a film of misrepresentations is a cruel hoax," Morton said.
Morton said in a statement "if Sen. Kennedy is guilty of misrepresenting these facts, how can he be believed on anything else?"

Jail Break Is Foiled

LAMESA (SC) — Those strange noises turned out to be an attempted jail break.

Investigating suspicious noises heard in the Dawson County jail, sheriff's deputies found an 18 inch hole that had been dug five inches deep in the ceiling of a cell block. They confiscated a rasp, a file and a screwdriver that had been used to make the hole.

Two inmates, who are being held on charges of forgery and passing, are believed responsible for the attempted break. Sheriff Henry Mayfield said if the hole had been completed, it would have opened on the roof of the court house and a trap door into the court house area would have opened the way for their escape.
Officers believe the tools were smuggled in by visitors. The project probably required several days, Mayfield said.

Surplus Draining

Lake J. B. Thomas eased off to elevation 2,258.7, or two inches above spillway Thursday. This was a reduction of little over one-third of an inch for the day. This is the 16th day that water has been draining out of the service spillway in the wake of heavy Oct. 18 rains.

Leaders Seek 80 Per Cent As Fund Workers Report

Report meeting for all divisions of the United Fund campaign was slated today at 5 p.m. and leaders were shooting for 80 per cent of the goal.
Almost 73 per cent had been reached in the Tuesday report and both meetings this week have been listed as "crucial" to the overall campaign. Floyd Parsons, campaign chairman, urged workers to maintain the pace set in early days of the drive in order to see the annual effort go over the top.

A goal of $83,210 this year will provide 12 local welfare agencies and guidance organizations with aid in giving their important services to the community. All of them receive part or all of their financial assistance from the United Fund.
Big Spring and Howard County have never failed to meet the needs of these organizations.

Handshake For A Good Job

Jack Davis (left) a team captain in the employees division of the United Fund drive, congratulates Jake Morgan, assistant traffic manager of Caden Petroleum Corp. Bill Crocker, assisting in the Caden drive, looks on. The traffic department was the first department in the general offices at Caden to reach 100 per cent of its goal. Four other departments have since reached 100 per cent, including payroll, insurance, pipeline and supply, exploration and production.

King Is Ruled Ineligible To Vote

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. can't vote here Nov. 8 because of unpaid poll taxes, county officials have ruled.

The probate judge's office said King, who has moved to Atlanta, is ineligible for absentee voting because he has paid no poll taxes since 1958 and the deadline for payment was last February. The Negro integration leader had said Tuesday he planned to vote absentee at Montgomery because his move to Atlanta last February was too recent to qualify him to vote in Georgia.

Dies By Grave

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A 68-year-old Spaniard observing the annual Day of the Dead collapsed and died beside the grave of a relative Wednesday. He was Manuel Alonso Pardo, a merchant. With him were his wife and a niece. Doctors said he died of a heart attack.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Good Flying Weather Lures Local Pilots Into Skies

Good flying weather has reigned over Big Spring this week and local pilots have put the clear skies to good advantage for business and pleasure trips, and just to log hours in the air.

There were about 35 out of town fliers using the Howard County Airport facilities this week. Among the aircraft passing through were three twin-engine planes, and a helicopter bound for California.

A twin carrying Gallo Wine Co. personnel from California refueled here Wednesday, and twin-engine crafts owned by Texas Electric Co., Fort Worth, and Continental Oil Co., Oklahoma City, made a Big Spring stop. Another Oklahoma City oil company was represented here Wednesday when the Johnson Oil Co. plane landed.

Among Big Spring fliers logging flights were O. D. Landrum who flew to Abernathy, Bert Andries who flew to Abilene and Ted Snider, to Rotan.

Bill McClendon flew pipe line patrol this week, and C. A. Ross covered the South Texas area on a trip. Cosden pilots Bill Edwards and Winston Harper also got into the air this week. Ted McClung flew to Midland, and Roy Merworth logged hours on cross-country flights to San Angelo, Big Lake and Abilene.

Business trips to various points this week were made by Leroy Tidwell and Vernon Smith. Saturday the airways were well filled, according to airport records, with 173 operations reported. Flying weather that day was about ideal. Operations are averaging about 30 a day.

Other out of towners who made Big Spring a stopping point this past week included Frank Montgomery, Midland, Jack Kassman, Lubbock, W. O. Lockwood, Lubbock; B. J. Simpson, Rio Hondo; C. W. Morgan, San Antonio; the Vandervorts of Dallas, a Mr. Sudarth from Amarillo and a Mr. Thorne from Houston.

Big Spring pilots who made local flights during the week include Alvin Long, Dick Standifer, Dr. B. Broadrick, Mae Hughes, Frank Hughes, Pete Fuglaar, Clayton Bettle, J. A. Wright, and John Jones.

Sheffield Faces Tax Trial Today

AUSTIN (AP)—B. R. Sheffield, Brady land promoter charged with forgery in a veterans land deal, was to be tried today on a charge he evaded full payment of income taxes in 1953.

The government claims the 55-year-old Sheffield had an income of $40,719 and should have paid $21,702 in taxes. Sheffield paid $290 in taxes on a reported income of $1,449.

Sheffield recently won a continuance until Jan. 23 on charges of forgery and passing a forged instrument. Sheffield was convicted in 1956 in Lubbock and sentenced to 10 years but the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the verdict on grounds of a faulty indictment. This case will be heard in Hillsboro.

Skies Are Cloudy In West Texas

Partly cloudy to cloudy skies covered West Texas Thursday but it was clear in Central Texas and East Texas.

Fog hovered along the coast to offer hazards to sea, highway and air traffic.

Forecasts called for continued mild temperatures and clear to mostly partly cloudy skies. Possibility slightly warmer weather was expected Friday.

Thursday's early morning temperatures ranged from 30 at Lubbock to 69 at Brownsville. Wednesday's maximums ranged from 60 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart to 93 at Laredo.

Saturday Is Dad's Day At Texas Tech

LUBBOCK — The man who pays the bills will be king at Texas Tech Saturday when students celebrate Dads Day on campus.

An inter-sectional football game, lunch with Tech president Dr. R. C. Goodwin and a visit with the kids are all on the agenda for more than 1,000 fathers—and mothers, too—who are expected for the annual observance.

Tech's Red Raiders will meet Tulane University at 2 p.m. in Jones Stadium to provide the chief entertainment of the day.

Sponsoring Dads Day is the Association of Women Students who will hold its traditional coffee hour from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the Tech recreation hall. Registration will begin at 8 a.m.

President Goodwin will report on Tech affairs during the annual Dads Association luncheon and business meeting at 11:30 a.m. in the Tech union ballroom.

At half-time ceremonies of the Tech-Tulane game, dads will be honored with salutes from the band and student body as a whole. Dads Association officers for the 1960-61 academic year will be presented. Trophies will be awarded to the oldest and youngest dads present, the dad with the most children enrolled at Tech, and the dad coming the greatest distance for the day.

Trustees and officers of the Tech Dads Association will hold their fall meeting Friday (Nov. 4) at 6 p.m. in the Parkway Manor Motor Hotel, located on the Fourth Street Freeway near MacKenzie State Park.

Assisting the Association of Women Students and the Dads Association in conducting the day's observance will be Alpha Phi Omega, men's campus service organization.

"Is Christ Divided?" will be the sermon by Mr. Paul E. Rogers tonight, 7:30, Church of Christ, 3900 West Highway 20. Also, you will find it to your advantage to hear all of Mr. Rogers' sermons during our fall revival, which ends November 10. We guarantee you will learn lots about your Bible and its teaching. MASTERING A KEY FORM
Kenneth Franks is new IRS agent

K. D. Franks Joins Local IRS Office

The Big Spring office of the Internal Revenue Service here has a new agent.

He is Kenneth D. Franks who recently graduated from a 13 weeks intensive tax school in Dallas.

A native of Dawson County, Franks was reared on a farm four miles north of Ackery where his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M.

Surgeon Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Ralph Falk, 76, co-founder and board chairman of Baxter Laboratories, Inc., died Wednesday after a brief illness. Dr. Falk, a surgeon and a pioneer in the development of intravenous feeding techniques, organized the firm in 1931 and developed it into a major manufacturer of pharmaceuticals and medical equipment. He was born in Boise, Idaho.

Franks still reside. After his graduation from Ackery High School, he attended HCJC for a year and then took his bachelor of business administration in accounting from Texas Tech. He and Mrs. Franks have acquired a home at 3226 Cornell.

The IRS rated him as one of the outstanding graduates recruited from Texas Tech. The personnel officer visits colleges to outline opportunities of service with the IRS, and those selected enter an intensive six months training program under experienced instructors. The 13 weeks period which Franks has completed is a climax to the period of training to equip agents in solving problems of taxpayers in a manner that is fair with both the taxpayer and the government.

Franks will join Ben Hawkins, who currently is attending an instructors school, and Joe Gordon as agents. Two collection representatives, Joe King and J. D. Brady, also are assigned to the office here.

Local Party Leaders Hold Curbstone Debate Wednesday

The Democrats, Republicans and Constitutionists butted and rebutted Wednesday in a program arranged by the Downtown Lions Club as an election prelude. Kismans and Jaycees joined in the affair.

It was a sort of curbstone prototype of the TV presidential debates and was conducted against a backdrop of free cigars with plenty of smoke in the room as well as in the arguments. In a straw poll following the debates between three county chairmen, the GOP swept the field with a 6-31 margin, polling 52 votes to 25 for the Democrats and 6 for the Constitution party. Four said they were undecided and about two score did not vote.

Winston Winkle, program chairman, lauded the three county chairmen, Frank Hardesty, Democrat; Paul Meek, Republican; and Dr. J. E. Hogan, Constitutionist for their active volunteer roles in a part of the national exercise of democracy. Brief opening remarks were followed by periods of rebuttal and finally by question and answer periods.

Here were some of their highlights:

DEMOCRAT

Hardesty charged the GOP administration with inertia and ineptness, deteriorated foreign relations, lag in adequate defense, faltering economy, allowances in public works and welfare and in solution to social problems, high interest. On the rebuttal, he challenged Republican claims of fiscal responsibility with the charge that the public debt had grown 20 billion dollars in 7 1/2 years and the expenditures for the period were five-eighths as much as all that had gone before it, that the total tax take was up by 35 per cent for the period.

On questions he said Democrats did not advocate a blanket cut in the depletion allowance that Texas Demos had led the fight for its retention, that excessive oil imports were largely responsible for a depressed oil situation.

REPUBLICAN

MEEK — Despite platform similarities, there is a vast difference in approach. For instance, the GOP would limit aid to education to physical facilities, whereas Demos advocated direct aid even for salaries, and this could lead to control. The GOP and its nominees are firmly committed against changing the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance, whereas the Demos voted against the tide lands bill and has a graduated sale plan that amounts to divide and conquer.

On rebuttal, he said that Demos proposals of correcting inequities in depletion allowances was directed at the oil industry which has 85 per cent of the allowance. Without the allowance to justify exploration drilling would halt. This would be ruinous to Texas which depends so heavily on oil. He said the GOP had reduced government competition through sale of plants.

He demanded a jury trial. Wayne Burns, county attorney, represented the state. R. H. Weaver was attorney for McDowell.

The highway patrol has warned that more arrests for violation of this law are in store if truck drivers operating without the flaps continue to do so.

More Mail Arrives Than Is Sent Out

By SAM BLACKBURN
Big Spring Post Office handled 63,900,715 pieces of mail during the fiscal year which ended on June 30. This was its proportionate share of the record breaking

63.9 billion pieces of mail handled in the same period by the U.S. Post Office Department. Like the report from the national headquarters, the volume of mail dealt with in the local office showed the steady upward surge which has prevailed each year for the past seven. The increase in mail load has exceeded even the tremendous increase in population nationally and E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that the situation applicable on a national level is applicable in the local post office.

Nearly two times as much mail came into the Big Spring office in the fiscal year just ended as was sent out. Boatler said incoming mail totalled 15,216,857 pieces compared to 7,965,858 outgoing pieces.

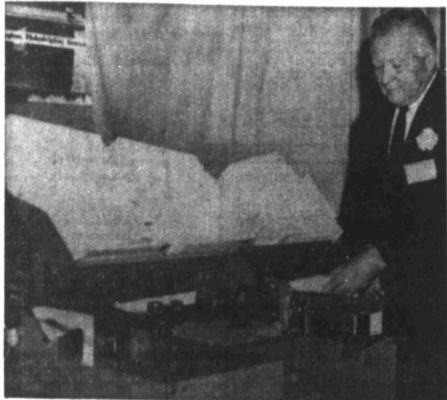

Nationally, the increase in mail load is 26 per cent greater than it was for 1953. Boatler says the average here will match the national picture and that, because of the remarkable growth of this city in the past seven years, it is possible the percentage of increase may even exceed the national gain.

Postal receipts in Big Spring showed an amazingly similar growth to the national receipts. In 1953, nationally, postal receipts were $2,091,714,000. For the fiscal year ending on June 30 this year, the receipts were $3,276,800,000.

Big Spring receipts in 1953 were $234,651 as compared to $374,800 for the 1960 fiscal year.

The Post Office Department is striving to keep pace with the growing mail burden by wider utilization of mechanical mail-handling devices. A new cancelling machine capable of handling 30,000 letters an hour has been developed. The local office has two of the older model cancelling machines. It is estimated by Boatler that each of these will cancel 20,000 letters an hour.

Further development of machines to speed the handling of mail is being pushed by the department.

The Old And The New

Forsan Man's Brother Dies

Roy Lamb, Forsan, has been called to Sherman by the death Wednesday of his brother, H. B. Lamb. The latter, a retired Magnolia superintendent, died in Sherman after a lingering illness. He was well known to Magnolia employees and, although he had never lived here, had often visited Howard County.

Arrangements are pending but it was believed the funeral would be Friday in Sherman. Mr. Lamb was 70 years old. He is survived by his widow, one son, Marcus J. Lamb, Casper, Wyo., and one sister, Mrs. Blanche Murphy, Ardmore.

Mrs. Roy Lamb accompanied her husband to Sherman.

Bristow, Leach Attend Congress

Big Spring will be represented at the YMCA area Physical Education Congress by Ohio Bristow, chairman of the local P.E. committee, and Joe Leach, P.E. director of the local Y.

The meeting is slated for Friday and Saturday in Dallas and laymen from throughout the southwest area will be on hand. The congress will set policies for the physical education phase of YMCA work. Leach pointed out it is the most important meeting of the year for physical education workers.

A highlight of the program will be an address by Kellum Johnson, president of the AAU and a member of the area committee, who served as an official during the Olympics.

Fined $100

James R. Julian, charged with having been arrested with a king-sized switch blade knife in his possession, pleaded guilty in Howard County Court Tuesday. He was fined $100 and costs.

New Court Plan Prepared To Expedite Jury Cases

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, and Gil Jones, district attorney, are initiating an experiment this coming week which they hope will be effective in better utilization of jury panels and bring about a reduction in the number of civil and criminal cases pending trial in the court.

Effective with the civil docket slated for Monday, Jones has set down a number of criminal cases. These will be called for trial if it is shown there are no matters on the civil docket ready for hearing.

It has been the experience of the court on numerous recent occasions that jury panels called for civil docket duty have found nothing to do. Cases set for trial have failed to develop. As a result the panel reports and then has to be excused.

If the present plan works, after the civil docket has been sounded, any remaining days of the week on which civil cases are not scheduled will be devoted to trial of the criminal cases on the list.

Judge Caton said that he has called the jury panel to report on Monday at 1:30 p.m. He will sound the docket, both civil and criminal, at 10 a.m. From the announcements made, he will be able to evaluate how many cases will be ready for trial during the week. He said of the cases he has set down for trial, a large number have already been settled, dismissed or continued. Actually only one or two remain on the docket as likely to be tried.

If this situation prevails, the court will have three or four days open. If this develops, the criminal cases which Jones has set down will be called up for hearing.

The criminal cases docketed are:

George B. Anglin, DWI second; J. T. Stanford, DWI second; Jeff Leo Sisk, DWI second; Charles Meade, forgery, and C. D. Camp, theft by bailee.

This is the first time this system of handling jury matters in the court has been attempted. It was explained, however, that even if the plan is adopted as regular procedure by the court, criminal docket weeks will still be scheduled. The plan is devised solely to help keep both the civil and criminal dockets more current.

Jones said that there are more untried criminal cases in his file at the present time than in many months.

Muleshoe Man Loses Braceros

DALLAS — Andrew H. Wilson, Muleshoe, has been denied the further contracting or utilizing of Mexican National workers, it was announced this week.

Regional Director Tracy C. Murrell of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security here said the ineligible ruling was based on the employer's violation of Standard Work Contract Article 2.

This, in effect, means that government investigation disclosed that Wilson had failed to maintain adequate housing for contracted Mexican workers assigned to him by the Western Texas Farm Labor Association and that the housing was found to be dangerous to the health and welfare of the workers.

Wilson made no move to appeal within the required time.

DEAR ABBY

LOSE HIM

By Abigail Von Suren

DEAR ABBY: This is a lulu. I am married to a man who is insanely jealous. One of his best friends just told me that he is in love with me and has been from the moment he saw me. I have never given him any encouragement. This friend is around all the time and I am nervous and uncomfortable in his company. I can't tell him to stay away or my husband will wonder why. Don't tell me to talk to my husband or he would beat this man to a pulp. Please tell me what to do.

"Experience is the comb that Nature gives to bald men." Live a little.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of The Big Spring Daily Herald and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Discussion Group Receives Texts

Charmed by Boethius' reasoning as well as his poetic expression in "Consolation of Philosophy," the Great Books group achieved one of its most beneficial sessions Tuesday, in spite of the fact that the year's texts from the Great Books Foundation arrived just three-quarters of an hour before the meeting.

Next for discussion is Moses Maimonides' "Guide for the Perplexed," scheduled for Nov. 15. Maimonides, born at Cordova, Spain, in 1135, of Jewish parentage, was driven into exile by the Moslem conquest of that city. He became court physician to Saladin, Moslem ruler of Egypt, achieved fame in medicine and theology and profoundly affected Christian thought.

Great Books meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of each month and are open to everyone.

2 Webb Pilots Boost Ratings

Two Webb pilots recently flew over the hump to receive higher pilot ratings.

Maj. Russell J. Gradel, operations officer in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, logged over 3,000 hours to receive his command pilot wings. Fifteen years of active service and 3,000 flying hours are needed for this rating.

The senior pilot rating was earned by Capt. Donald E. Jonker when he passed the 2,000-hour mark. In addition to the 2,000 flying hours Capt. Jonker, an instrument instructor in the 3560th Pilot Training Wing, also had to have seven years of rated service to get his wings.

DEAR TRYING: You can't cure both ills with the same medicine. Each child has a slightly lopsided personality. Pull the reins a little tighter on your daughter. Make her budget her time until she develops better study habits. Encourage your son to take part in school activities, but don't push him too hard. Serious-minded boys are usually late starters socially—but they catch up.

Win Habit Grows On College Elevens

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer

There's an intangible factor in college football—momentum—that probably is as important as spirit, desire and the others that coaches talk about but can't define.

In simple terms, it means that the winning habit grows and the losing habit becomes hard to break. It could make the difference in about a half dozen of this week's big games that could mean titles and bowl invitations for the winners and oblivion for the losers.

Obviously this measure can't be applied to two such teams as Iowa, the nation's No. 1, and third-ranked Minnesota, who play in Saturday's headline encounter.

They're both rolling along the unbeaten track. If momentum is the main factor, they'll come to a dead halt when they meet.

Navy also is unbeaten, but against Notre Dame last week. Joe Bellino and Co. nearly ran out of steam. Duke has been picking up momentum since its single defeat, winning from North Carolina State, Clemson and the big one from Georgia Tech. That's the kind of situation that could lead to an upset.

Conversely, Tech likely will have trouble getting started again after its loss and could be an easy victim of a Tennessee team that has won five, tied one and keeps looking better weekly as it challenges Mississippi for the Southeastern Conference lead.

Syracuse and Baylor, two others of last week's victims, are in about the same situation. Syracuse, brought to a dead stop by Pitt after limping through five victories, figures to be a somewhat stronger team than Army, but it may have lost the winning habit. Baylor was dropped from the Southwest Conference lead by TCU. Now it meets Texas, which regained winning form against Southern Methodist after losing twice.

Rice, current SWC leader, has won five straight and faces Arkansas, which hasn't yet established a pattern of winning or losing.

Regardless of what happens in the Iowa-Minnesota game, Ohio State finds itself in an enviable position as contender for Big Ten honors and a place in the Rose Bowl. The rugged Buckeyes, jolted by Purdue, moved against Wisconsin and Michigan State the past two weeks and shouldn't slow down when they meet Indiana in a game that doesn't count in the standings.

It's anyone's guess what will happen when Washington and Southern California clash with the Big Five lead at stake. Washington has a 6-1 over-all record and USC 3-3. But the Huskies haven't won impressively, taking their last three by a total margin of four points. USC lost its first three but has been winning by bigger margins.

The Big Eight lead and a possible Orange Bowl berth are up for grabs when Missouri plays Colorado. Utah State and Wyoming battle for first place in the Skyline conference.

Missouri's Tigers have been impressive both on offense and defense. Colorado has had a tough time beating the same conference teams but got a tremendous boost from its first conference victory over Oklahoma last week.

Utah State is another unbeaten team with impressive statistics for ground gained and for scoring. Defensively tough Wyoming has won its last four, beating two common rivals by bigger scores than Utah State did.

Stanton Junior High Seeks Second Victory At 6:30

STANTON (SCI)—Floyd Sorley sends his Stanton Junior High School football team out against Rankin at 6:30 p. m. here today.

The Junior Buffaloes have won one of four starts. They beat Lorraine 8-0 and have lost to Big Lake twice, 12-6, and 20-8 and to Lorraine 6-2.

Rankin lost to Big Lake, 12-6. Probable starters for Stanton on offense will be Ray Loder at center, Ray Davis and Don Thompson at guards, Bill Davis and Don Davis at tackles, Carroll Anderson and Bill McCauley at ends, Harold Cain at quarterback, Mike Hall and Dink Polson at halfbacks and Sammy Badgett at fullback.

A Football Sweetheart will be crowned at half time.

Candidates include Jan House of the Sixth Grade, Becky Saunders, Seventh Grade, and Nancy Graves, Eighth Grade.

Fourteen players, all of them Eighth Graders, will serve as honorary captains for Stanton in the game.

STANTON (SCI)—Plans to stage a bon fire for Stanton High School's upcoming game with Tahoka have been abandoned.

Some one approached the heap of rubbish and discarded boxes during the early hours of this morning and put a torch to it. The bon fire and victory dance were to have been held tonight. It was to have been held on the high school campus.

The Stanton team has been cheered by the return to action of Herb Sorley, a back, who has been out with injuries. Sorley missed last week's game with Denver City.

The Buffs, despite the loss of Tommy Newman, are favored to hurdle Tahoka Friday night. The game has been designated as Homecoming for Stanton ex-students.

Big Eight Fight Still Wide Open

By SKIPPER PATRICK

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—"Let's see now. Monday we didn't see La Rose, Calhoun, West, G. Smith and Brossart until a few minutes before quitting time. Wednesday we excused Garvis and Henley and five other fellows from our weekly night squad meeting."

That's Missouri Football Coach Dan Devine's reply to the question: "How are things coming for the Colorado game, coach?"

Missouri and Colorado, tied for the Big Eight lead on 4-0 records, play in Columbia Saturday.

Devine's Tigers are undefeated and untied in seven games. They rank No. 2 in the Associated Press top ten teams.

"It's nice being rated so high," Devine explained, "and I feel the kids deserve it. But we aren't out of the wilderness yet. We've got to play Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas and it's still a tossup for the title."

Devine, 35, looks more like a university professor than a football coach. He's quiet but firm. He explained the "excuses" went to end Danny La Rose, tackle Rockne Calhoun, back Mel West and end Gordon Smith. They had to do practice teaching at a local school.

The regular guards, Paul Garvis and Paul Henley, are chemical engineering students and "Have a test tomorrow" Fred Brossart, ace defensive back, is a pre-med student and needed time for study.

Devine graduated from Duluth (Minn.) State and learned the multiple offense under Biggie Munn and Duffy Daugherty as assistant coach at Michigan State. In three seasons at Arizona State University and two seasons and seven games at Missouri his teams have won 45 games, lost 12 and tied 2.

Goliad Elevens Play Tonight

Two Goliad Junior High School football contingents are booked for action this evening, one here and one on the road.

Goliad's Eighth Graders oppose Sweetwater at 6:30 p. m. in the local stadium while the Ninth Graders, losers to Colorado City last week, visit Sweetwater for a 7:30 o'clock engagement.

Back Sympathizes With McKeever

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Steve Bates, California halfback involved in one of the most controversial plays of the 1959 football season, had nothing but sympathy today for Mike McKeever, Southern California guard who is recuperating from an operation this week for a blood clot on the brain.

Bates and his 1959 head coach, Pete Elliott, were bitter last year after McKeever landed on Bates and smashed in the side of his face.

"There were times in the weeks after that when I thought of Mike and I'm ashamed to say that sometimes I felt he was having good times while I was suffering," Bates said.

"But I feel differently now. I am truly sorry about this (McKeever's blood clot). I deeply hope that his recovery is speedy and he can continue football. I know he really loves to play."

Nine District Champs Already Determined

By The Associated Press

Nine district representatives have been determined and at least a score of others will be known this week in a Texas schoolboy football campaign rushing toward its state playoffs.

There also will be some upheavals among the 32 undefeated teams left to guard their records. In at least two instances unbeaten teams clash with each other.

El Campo will be at Bay City Friday night in a fight between teams with perfect records and the winner will become an overwhelming favorite for the Dist 11 championship in Class AAA.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Nov. 3, 1960 7-A

In Class A, George West, undefeated and untied, meets once-tied Poth with George West able to win the District 30 championship. Victory by Poth would leave the title up to the Poth-Jourdanton game Nov. 11.

None of the Class AAAA undefeated and untied appear to face trouble and it isn't likely that any district title will be determined.

This division, like Class AAA, has three more weeks to run. Class AA and A wind up the district races Nov. 11.

There are 96 districts in the four divisions that play to state championships. These district representatives have been decided:

Class AA: 3-Denver City, 6-Anson, 9-Olney, 11-Lancaster, 19-Terrell, 26-Sweeny.

Class A: 9-Copperas Cove, 12-Keller, 22-Clifton.

Baytown, the top-rated team of Class AAAA, moves toward a showdown in District 12. The Ganders play at Galena Park favored to win with comparative ease. Freepot, another member of this district and also boasting an unbeaten, untied record, plays South Houston.

Baytown and Freepot are expected to meet Nov. 11 with the title on the line.

Jacksonville, the No. 1 team of AAA, plays at Center Friday night but can't sew up the District 7 title. Nacogdoches, which has only one loss, has an open date and plays Jacksonville Nov. 11.

Olney, the No. 1 team of Class AA, already is "in" with its district crown and only awaits the playoffs.

Stinnett, the top ranked team of Class A, is expected to win its district title without trouble Friday night. Stinnett has only to defeat often-beaten Gruver.

Injury Bugaboo Bypasses Owls

By The Associated Press

Injuries and illness—the nemesis of the football camps—swept through the Southwest Conference this week but apparently bypassed Rice, the undisputed leader.

Rice, unbeaten in conference play, will be at its best physical condition Saturday when it meets Arkansas at Little Rock.

The Owls and Baylor, a top title contender, appear to be the only members to escape major injury or sickness this week.

Arkansas probably will be without the services of end Les Lockinger and fullback Curtis Coe in the hopeful list.

Texas more than likely will be without its stellar halfback Jack Collins against Baylor.

Halfback Dick Polson at Texas Tech is doubtful and quarterback Glen Amerson is still recuperating from an earlier injury.

Texas Christian quarterback Donald George suffered a minor knee injury which brought to a halt the Frogs' contact work Wednesday.

TCU's other quarterback, Guy

(Sonny) Gibbs, has a bruised leg. The Frogs are idle this week.

Flu sidelined Southern Methodist's Pat Neill and Billy Polk. Glenn Gregory, a starting halfback, is doubtful.

Ends Russell Hill and Bobby Huntington missed workouts at Texas A&M with injuries and they have been shuttled aside for newcomers.

Baylor received news Wednesday that center Burth Maples and halfbacks Buddy White and Bert Tate have recovered from injuries.

Rice shunned contact Wednesday and held a recognition drill against Arkansas plays. "They recognized two or three," quipped Coach Jess Neely.

Texas A&M spurned caution and ran at full speed in preparation for wireless SMU. The Mustangs concentrated on goal-line defense.

Baylor staged a long workout which included review of its running attack while Texas drilled on pass defense and passing.

Japanese Socialists Make Issue Of Political Slaying

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Socialists today made campaign issue of the suicide of the ultranationalist youth who assassinated their party leader.

Socialist politicians campaigning for the Nov. 20 parliamentary elections charged that laxity on the part of Premier Hayato Ikeno's Conservative government had allowed Otoyama Yamaguchi, 17, to hang himself with torn bed sheets Wednesday night in his cell in a juvenile detention home.

Saburo Eda, acting leader of the Socialist party, condemned what he called "the astonishing irresponsibility on the part of authorities for allowing an important criminal to hang himself."

The Socialists already had been making campaign capital out of the assassination of their leader, Inejiro Asanuma. They charge the government with failing to prevent a revival of the ultranationalist terrorism that dominated prewar political life in Japan.

Tokyo's chief prosecutor, Sasao Nomura, admitted that guards at the juvenile home had been negligent.

Yamaguchi had been transferred to the home Wednesday afternoon from the central police headquarters to await a decision whether he would be tried in Juvenile Court or Criminal Court.

Seven Enter Guilty Pleas

One defendant was sentenced to serve two years in the state penitentiary and six others were given suspended or probation sentences in 11th District Court Thursday morning.

The seven persons pleaded guilty before the court to indictments voted against them by the Howard County grand jury.

One probation sentence was allowed. Six drew the suspended sentences.

J. L. Franklin, charged with forging a check for $100 on his uncle, Jerome Williams, was the one person sentenced to serve prison time. He was given the minimum sentence for the offense and credited with the 15 days he has served in the county jail.

Other pleas of guilty included Dorothy Colburn, charged with forgery. The woman, mother of seven children, was given a three-year sentence which was suspended.

Steve Harper, 20-year-old Negro, charged with having knifed and seriously wounded L. Z. Bell on Oct. 2, was placed under probation for a period of three years.

R. K. Sessions, indicted as a repeater worthless check writer, drew a three-year suspended sentence. The same penalty was assessed against Edwin Skaggs and Thomas Cox, who were jointly billed for the theft on July 10 of a four h.p. light plant from Dupre's Salvage.

Leonard H. Roquemore, charged with cashing a forged $6 check, drew three years suspended.

Franklin was the final defendant to face the court. It was related that he cashed a $100 check at the Wheat Furniture Co. on Aug. 31. The check was forged on Jerome Williams. His punishment was fixed at two years in the state penitentiary.

4 Guilty Pleas Close Court Term

LAMESA (SC)—Three prison terms and a three-year probation sentence were handed down by Judge Truett Smith here Wednesday. All were given as a result of guilty pleas.

Lavoy Brunley of Hobbs, N. M., was assessed the three-year probation sentence on a charge of burglary. Prison terms were given to David L. Flowers, two years for theft over $50; Jose Gonzales, four years for possession of marijuana; and Ben T. Gregory, four years for burglary of a private residence.

The activity closed out a non-jury session of 106th Judicial District Court here.

Divorces Lead Dawson Filings

LAMESA (SC)—Eighteen cases were filed in 106th Judicial District Court in Dawson County during October, according to Robert E. L. Smith, clerk.

Divorces again topped the list with nine and three compensation matters were logged during the period. Others filed include: appointment of trustee, partial termination of trust, collection, adoption, damages, and breach of contract.

By contrast, County Clerk Frank Y. Martin reported that 16 marriage licenses were issued by his office during October.

Lamesa Water Usage Declining

LAMESA (SC)—Water consumption in Lamesa continued its gradual and seasonal decline during October as citizens used only 46,872,000 gallons, it was reported by W. E. Sealy, water superintendent.

Gomez Gets New Lawyer To Defend His Interests

A Gomez, formerly an influential figure on the North Side now under five indictments for perjury and theft, came up with a new attorney to represent his interests Wednesday.

Letter from Bernard A. Gold, Houston lawyer, was received by Gomez, district court judge, who related in his letter that Gold is now "sole" attorney representing Gomez in the criminal charges against him here. He stated that the number of the indictments and their contents be submitted to him.

He wanted the information, he stated, to prepare "proper motions" in connection with the charges.

The five indictments have been filed by Gil Jones, district attorney, for trial on Dec. 5. Jones said that until the letter from Gold arrived (to it was attached an affidavit signed by Gomez that Golding is now his representative) Wayne Basden, Big Spring, and Warren Burnett, Midland, were Gomez lawyers. Jones said that Golding now was the legal representative for the defendant.

Jones added he planned to push for trial of the five indictments on Dec. 5. The state is likely and will urge that the cases be tried.

It was generally assumed around the courthouse that the defendant will move for a continuance, possibly on the grounds that the new attorney has not had time to prepare his defense.

Gomez was indicted first in October, 1957 for embezzlement, in connection with the alleged removal of property owned by the Saunders Co., wholesale plumbing supply house. Before the indictment was returned, Gomez fled the state.

A few weeks ago, Jones set off five indictments down for trial on Dec. 5.

Gomez is free on bond in all of the cases.

Baptists Close Convention With No Advice On Politics

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Baptists ended their 75th annual convention Wednesday night with no direct or official advice on politics from the president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Ramsey Pollard of Memphis, Tenn., preached the closing sermon on evangelism without any reference to his outspoken stand against Sen. John F. Kennedy as a presidential candidate.

At a news conference earlier in the day, he called Kennedy a bigot and said he would vote against him even if Kennedy were not a Roman Catholic.

He said he would vote for Richard Nixon.

Pollard has been among Southern Baptist leaders opposing Kennedy on their expressed fears that the election of a Catholic is a threat to the historic Baptist position for separation of church and state. Kennedy repeatedly has asserted that he believes in the separation of church and state.

The convention elected James H. Landes, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, president. Landes is chairman of the executive board of the convention and was the first chairman of its education commission. He has been active on many Texas and Southern Baptist boards and agencies.

Named first vice president was Dr. C. C. Collon of Dallas, and second vice president, W. E. Thorn of Lubbock. Other officers are Dr. D. B. South of San Antonio and Cecil Goff of Dallas, recording secretaries.

Zollie Steakley of Austin, chairman of the Christian Education Commission, and Dr. E. N. Jones, executive secretary, outlined a program to raise $28 million for Texas Baptist colleges.

"What we do as a denomination in these immediate years will determine our greatness or mediocrity in these challenging times," Steakley said.

Dr. Jones said the plan calls for one year of education of church members through pastors, to be followed by solicitation for funds with emphasis on special gifts. The objective is to raise the money outside the denomination's cooperative program budget.

"We must develop a vision of excellence, and train uncommon men for places of leadership," Jones told the convention.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, said the money to begin further development of Texas Baptist colleges must not come from "a few millionaires even if we could get it that way."

"It must come from the people in a heartbeat campaign," he said.

Fort Worth was selected as the site for the 1962 convention to be held Oct. 30-Nov. 1. The 1961 session will be in Austin.

Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas, was named preacher of the 1962 convention sermon with Dr. John Rasco, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Odessa, the alternative.

The convention's record $13,688,000 budget tops the 1960 budget by $808,030. Nearly half will go to home and foreign missions. The largest items are world missions and Christian education which will get a combined total of $6,146,295.

Christian education was allotted $2,658,290, state missions $388,640; child care $897,518 and healing $720,000. Texas Baptists own and operate eight hospitals, six children's homes and two homes for the aged.

The convention voted to come to grips with the problem of capital funds for its eight colleges by approving a drive for $28 million for buildings in the next several years.

The convention was the last for Dr. Forrest C. Feozor, who has served as its executive secretary for eight years. He is retiring Dec. 31 and will be succeeded by Dr. T. A. Patterson of Beaumont.

Formal merger of the Texas Mexican Baptist Convention with the Baptist General Convention was approved.

Republicans More Optimistic About Winning Vote In Illinois

Editors Note—This is the fourth in a series of Associated Press stories exploring the political situation in the Big Six states—an arena where next Tuesday's presidential election could very well be decided.

By STAN KOVEN

CHICAGO (AP)—Both major parties speak confidently of victory in Illinois in the presidential election Nov. 8. But the Republicans seem a shade more optimistic about winning the state's 27 electoral votes.

Only a month ago, the Democrats would shrug when asked if Sen. John F. Kennedy seemed likely to win. The Republicans, on the other hand, have been predicting victory for Vice President Richard M. Nixon for at least three months.

It is conceded by both sides that Kennedy will run far ahead of Nixon in Chicago—the heavily Democratic metropolis which casts about half of the state's ballots.

The question is: Will Nixon be able to pile up a margin in normally Republican downstate which will overcome Kennedy's expected big city plurality?

ONE FACTOR

The Roman Catholicism of Kennedy is just one factor with unpredictable implications in Illinois. Another is the bid of Republican Gov. William G. Stratton for an unprecedented third term.

Four years ago, President Dwight D. Eisenhower swamped Adlai E. Stevenson, former Illinois governor, with a plurality of 847,645 votes. The total cast for the two men were 4,399,009.

This year, the best political guess is that no landslide of the Eisenhower proportion is in the winds.

The most prominent statewide poll, conducted by the Chicago Sun-Times, has consistently shown Kennedy to be making inroads in those areas where Democrats switched to Eisenhower four and eight years ago.

Republicans guessed that Nixon's plurality would approximate 300,000—this on the heels of an increase in total registration which tends to favor the GOP.

NO ESTIMATE

One Democratic official said he is confident Kennedy will win but declined to estimate the margin. Another guessed Kennedy's probable plurality at about 150,000.

Why this confidence on both sides?

Some sample comments:

Republicans: "Nixon started out strong and has kept up. There would have to be some major political accident in the closing days of the campaign to beat him."

Democrats: "Kennedy's crowds have been large and exuberant in Republican territory. I think he has the spark and I think he's caught fire."

Newsmen on the political beat feel in general that while Stratton's third-term bid may not cost Nixon votes, it won't provide any assistance to the vice president.

The last Illinois governor to seek a third term was Republican Dwight H. Green. Stevenson defeated him resoundingly in 1948. No Illinois governor ever has won a third successive term.

MIRACLE

The Sun-Times poll, which has a good record for accuracy in measuring the election sentiment of Illinois, reported midway in its samplings, "Only some kind of miracle could save Stratton from defeat by Otto Kerner."

Kerner, a Democrat and former Cook County judge, has shown considerable strength in the cumulative samplings and he appeared to be running well in traditionally Republican downstate counties. Cook County includes the Democratic stronghold of Chicago.

Democrats, in fact, figure that Kerner and Sen. Paul H. Douglas will run better on the Democratic ticket than Kennedy. Douglas is challenged by Samuel W. Witwer, Chicago attorney making his first bid for public office.

Kennedy's chances, said the Democratic officials, were enhanced by the television debates with Nixon and the Republicans agree.

RELIGION

His religion would work against him, the Democrats added, "in some remote areas of the state." Yet they predicted that many Catholics in populous centers—such as Springfield and Peoria—who had voted for Eisenhower would switch to Kennedy.

One problem which has plagued Illinois Democrats in past years was the split between downstate groups and the big city organization of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

"This year," said one Democratic source, "everybody's on the ball club—and it's the first time that's happened in a long while. Certainly it didn't work out that way four years ago."

From Caribbean Water comes a remarkable leather—tough, scuff-proof Tiger Shark! It's boldly grained, marvelously soft and naturally waterproof. Yet Tiger Shark is the strongest leather used in men's shoes. Try a pair—you'll be amazed by their length of service. And you'll see why we say—by the month or by the mile, Florsheim shoes cost less in the long run... black or brown, 28.95.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1960 SEC. B

The Way The Wind Blows

It looks like Sherry Coats is testing wind direction with her finger, but she's really just an actress in rehearsal. She portrays the little old lady who upsets a powerful corporation's board of directors, in "The Solid Gold Cadillac," to be pre-

Missile Leader Giant Of A Man

By JERRY O'BRIEN
OGDEN, Utah (AP)—One May day last year Donald Kenniston Tasker—respected aviation pioneer, successful industrialist, boss of 1,600 Utah missile workers—took stock of himself and decided he was just too big a man for his own good. It was an obvious decision: He weighed 370 pounds, was known as the most prodigious mammal in missiledom and a most unlikely-looking producer of the Marquardt Corp.'s sleek ramjet engine for the supersonic Bomarc.

With the same zeal that made him a leader in an exacting profession, Tiny Tasker tackled the problem of his monumental girth.

In 14 months he shed an incredible 175 pounds and today stands a semi-trim 195 at 6-2, a heroic figure to Marquardt men and women already awed by his mental dimensions.

But while the diet reduced the burden on his feet, it did nothing for the weight he shouldered as manager of a $30-million plant involved in the vagaries of defense production.

The Bomarc (named for the Boeing Airplane Co., which makes the frame, and the Michigan Aero Research Center, an early ramjet designer) is intended to do only one thing—shoot down manned enemy bombers.

To some planners, the manned bomber is a passe threat. There were fears at Ogden last spring that Congress wouldn't approve the $244 million recommended for Bomarc, that the program would go the way of the buggy whip.

To combat the gloom invading his plant, Tiny Tasker ordered keep-smiling rallies and predicted Bomarc would stay "when the truth is known."

For him, the truth came from Lt. Gen. Thomas White, Air Force chief of staff, who told the Senate: "In my opinion the manned bomber will be a threat for another decade at least."

Enough money has now been allocated to keep the program going through the third quarter of 1962. After that, Marquardt and Tasker will have to explore other things to produce, eventually, perhaps, ramjet engines for 2,600-m.p.h. airliners or nuclear ramjets for low-level vehicles capable of circling the earth indefinitely. Marquardt is already working on both.

Tasker joined the Republic Aircraft Co. in 1940 and in 1943 was sent overseas as a chief civilian technician.

In a Nazi ramjet buzz bomb sputtering across London skies, Tasker saw his future. It almost knocked him down as he walked in Grosvenor Square on an August night in 1943. Republic quickly assigned him to scout the countryside and gather pieces of the new German propulsion system for closer scrutiny.

He rose in the Republic organization doing other work until four years ago when he left his executive position to join the Marquardt Corp.

At 52, he is a man of 13-hour days and runs the plant with a quiet-voice, firm-hand policy. It is said he can personally operate every machine at Marquardt but the typewriters.

Candidates Due Today In Last Push For Texas Electoral Vote

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Hot, turbulent politics hits Texas as a triple blow Thursday in predicted fair, cool weather that could bring out record crowds to see three of the four principals in the 1960 presidential sweepstakes.

The Texas show will be unreel against a backdrop of still another Trumanism that erupted out of Fishkill, N.Y., Wednesday night after the president of the Southern Baptist Convention said former President Harry S. Truman should be kicked out of his church.

Answered hip-shooting Harry: "I dare 'em to do it."

Democratic Nominee John F. Kennedy and his running-mate, vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson, arrive simultaneously (3:30 p.m.) Thursday at Amarillo for an airport rally.

After about an hour in Amarillo, the Democratic party's presidential contenders go on to Wichita Falls for their last joint appeal for Texas' 24 electoral votes. Senator Johnson, also running for reelection to the Senate, continues on to Fort Worth for a "family style" dinner and rally while Kennedy stays on an Oklahoma City appearance Thursday night.

Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon was to arrive in San Antonio at the moment Kennedy and Johnson were meeting in Amarillo. He speaks before the Texas shrine, The Alamo, at 3:30 p.m., makes a TV film at 7 p.m., and goes to Houston for an 8:45 p.m. speech.

Nixon will fly to Fort Worth to spend Thursday night after the Houston speech and plans an 8:15 a.m. breakfast speech before leaving Fort Worth for Casper, Wyo.

As Nixon flies to Casper, Johnson will start a five-day helicopter tour of Texas.

Former President Truman's dare to the Baptists came Wednesday after Dr. Ramsey Pollard told a press conference in Lubbock that Truman ought to be turned out of his church unless he repents his "sins and ill manners."

Pollard's remarks preceded an address that closed the annual session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He made no mention of politics in the speech.

Truman, in a recent campaign speech in Texas, said Texans "ought to go to Hell" if they support the Republicans. Pollard, from Memphis, Tenn., said the remark brought "discredit to the nation, the high office of president, and the cause of Christ."

In Fishkill, told of the suggestion to kick him out, Truman said when asked for comment:

"I've already told the Baptists where they ought to go, and I can't add anything to it." Later, however, in Haverstraw, N.Y., the former president said, "I dare them to put me out and they can't do it, so there you are. They can't do it."

Pollard repeatedly said he spoke only as an individual with no authority to tell Baptists how to vote. He said he would vote for Nixon even if Kennedy were not a Catholic, called Kennedy a bigot, predicted Nixon's election, and said the religious issue is not the only factor in the race but that it would be highly influential.

On another front, Gov. Price Daniel told a Democratic party rally in Marshall that President Eisenhower signed a measure giving the states rights to submerged oil deposits and then permitted the U.S. attorney general to file a suit seeking to reduce the offshore limit from 1 1/2 to 3 miles.

Daniel cited Republican vetoes of natural gas bills as one reason Texas should support Kennedy and Johnson. He said still others are "the use of bayonets and bullets in the halls of our schools, and a GOP policy reversal on the tidelands "which I could never forget."

At Tallahassee, on a Southern tour, former Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas predicted that Nixon would carry more Southern states than Kennedy in the Tuesday election.

Shivers spoke before about 100 Nixon supporters in Tallahassee and told them the Nixon-Lodge ticket would carry Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, and several other Southern states.

Johnson, speaking Wednesday night in Syracuse, N.Y., contended that what he called an "inexperienced Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had stripped Vice President Nixon of his 'convictions of a lifetime.'" He said Rockefeller "caught Nixon with his planks down." Police estimated the Johnson crowd at 800.

Avoids Similarity

Georgine Darcy, from the new "Harrigan & Son" TV series on ABC, says she wears a braid over her shoulder because "there is too much similarity among women today."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Secures 'Unusual' Look With Braid

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "I think there is too much similarity among women," Georgine Darcy said, explaining why she always wears a braid over her right shoulder. "It's not a pigtail," she insisted. "I'm not trying to look like a school girl; to avoid this, I choose the most sophisticated clothes that I can find."

Georgine started her career as a dancer but is delighted to be acting. We were chatting on the set of "Harrigan & Son" on ABC-TV.

"A TV series doesn't leave me much time for anything but work, and so I don't get enough exercise; I try to give myself a workout at home."

"But I love my work and when I don't work, I worry," she added. "That's one of my worst faults. It is a habit that is hard to break. I had to laugh the other day, driving to work, when I saw a sign outside a church with this advice, 'Why pray when you can worry?'"

I asked Georgine if she had any beauty problems and if so, any solutions.

"My biggest concern is an oily skin, but I've been told that I should be glad that my skin is oily because it doesn't wrinkle as fast as a dry one. But I do have to be careful about blackheads."

Coahoma Couple Is Honored On 32nd Anniversary

COAHOMA (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Henry were honored Saturday evening with a dinner in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Danny Mar. Games were played and prizes of Halloween candies were given to four of the guests. Favors were balloons, whistles and black and orange candy sticks wrapped with ribbon.

Matt Duiker, brother of the hostess, helped entertain the guests.

Fischers Return

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer and Jo Anne returned Monday evening after a two weeks vacation of visiting their families. In Austin they visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fischer and in Woodville they were guests of Mrs. Fischer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Collier.

Charles Buckner and Mrs. James Henderson were hostesses.

Nov. 15 at 2 p.m. is the time selected for the party, which will be given at the Big Spring Country Club. Prizes will include cakes and 10 books of trading stamps.

Tickets may be bought from any of the members and are priced at one dollar. Foursomes will be made up at the club or players may arrange their own parties, it was announced.

Proceeds will go into the fund of the club used for assisting the YMCA. Further information may be gained by a call to Mrs. Jim Bob Little, Chairman of arrangements, or Mrs. Kimball Guthrie and Mrs. Fred Stitzell.

The group voted to follow recommendations of the city federation in assisting the Northside YMCA and the Crippled Children's Center. Plans were also discussed for giving a basket to a needy family at Christmas.

Speaker for the club was R. H. Weaver, who discussed the electoral college and gave the history of voting in the presidential election. Sixteen were present.

The next meeting, Dec. 7, will be in the home of Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr. or Mrs. Harry Middleton, both of whom live in Gal.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

MELODY LEE is the name of the little daughter born Wednesday morning at 8:10 to MR. and MRS. RAY DABNEY at Malone Hogan Hospital Foundation. She weighed 6 pounds, 5 ounces when she arrived. She is the granddaughter of former Mayor and Mrs. George W. Dabney and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Agee. Her mother is the former DARLENE AGEE.

Visiting here Wednesday with friends were MR. and MRS. FORREST HAZELWOOD of Tucson, Ariz., who are former residents of Big Spring. They are visiting in Sweetwater in the home of his parents, who plan to drive them back to Arizona when they complete the visit.

MRS. CARREL GLENN is back from San Antonio where she visited with her husband who is stationed with the medical corps connected with Brooks Army Medical Center at Ft. Sam Houston. Glenn completed his basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood in Missouri. Mrs. Glenn is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Linsing, during her husband's duty period.

T. A. ROGERS, who retired from his work with TES last year, has really enjoyed every minute of his retirement. He and Mrs. Rogers are enjoying it further this week with a fishing trip to a lake below Devil's River near Del Rio.

The JOHN COFFEES have been in San Antonio where they attended a railroad lawyers' meeting. Just as soon as the annual Quarter Century dinner of Texas Electric Service Co. had reached a successful conclusion, the R. L. BEALES had planned to hook their boat to the car and take off for a fishing session at Corpus Christi. A change of plans delayed the trip, but they are still looking forward to "the voyage."

The arrival of BESA REGEON to MR. and MRS. ROYCE REGEON is the occasion for the visit of her grandmother, MRS. EULA REGEON, whose home is in Sonora. The Regeons have another daughter, Nanetta, who is four years of age.

Women bowlers from Big Spring plan to be in Abilene this weekend for another tournament. Last week they journeyed to Amarillo for play included in the party were MRS. L. J. BROWN, MRS. BOB ELSBERRY, MRS. CHARLES HOOD, MRS. LADD CAUBLE, MRS. O. D. DANIEL, JR. and MRS. DWAIN WILLIAMS. Cauble accompanied the bowlers.

Abstract Arrangements Shown For Gardeners

Abstract arrangements were explained and demonstrated for members of the Big Spring Garden Club Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Chris Watson.

Presenting the program were Mrs. Dale Smith and Mrs. Kyle Cauble, both members of the Spaders Garden Club. Members were told that the new style is personal, with emphasis on design, line, texture and color.

Two types of arrangements are the abstract decorative and the suggestive interpretative; the former shows innate character, is non-realistic and is forceful, Mrs. Smith stated. The latter is subtle and gives form to the feelings of the arranger, which makes the arrangement personal.

The reason given for the innovation in arrangements is that the set patterns had become stagnant.

During the business session, the club voted to change the fiscal year to begin and end in June rather than in March.

A dining room at the state hospital will be decorated by the club for the Christmas holidays, it was announced.

Mrs. Mitchel Is Gift Tea Honoree

COAHOMA (SC)—Mrs. Ronney Mitchel, recent bride, was complimented Tuesday evening with a gift tea in the home of Mrs. Odell Buchanan.

The serving table was covered with a cloth of white lace over pink and centered with an arrangement of pink roses and candles.

Twenty-five guests were registered.

The honoree is the former Doris Hitchcock, daughter of Joe Hitchcock of Colorado City, and Mrs. Pat Powell of Roscoe.

Assisting Mrs. Buchanan with the hostess duties were Mrs. Bob Lutton, Mrs. Thelma Thomas, Mrs. Pete West, Mrs. Sam Armstrong, Pat Russell and Zona Miller.

'Lecture Day Cake Is Good For Fall Parties

You won't need a conversation piece to get a party under way this season. The air's full of controversial issues that can make or break up a friendly get-together. The clever hostess will plan for diversions for conversation. 'Lecture Day Cake' is a likely subject because in colonial times election day was important enough to command a specialty from the cook. Home service consultants have researched the antique recipe and reports it is frequently referred to as Hartford Cake. That's because its destiny was usually Hartford, Conn., where so many of the stormy meetings were held during the shaping of the destiny of the new nation.

'Lecture Day Cake' is a hearty cake. It met the needs of the times. Leavened with yeast and laced with spices and fruits, it was a "good keeper." It traveled well and made substantial fare for the defenders of liberty.

In some old cookbooks the recipe calls for a cup of sherry, good brandy, Medford rum or rye whiskey. One old recipe calls for "a quart of bread dough, light for the pan. Put into it 1/2 pound sweet butter, 1/4 pound beaten and sifted sugar, 1/4 pound of raisins of the sun, 1/4 pound Zante currants, candied peel if you please, 4 new laid eggs, such spices as you favor and flour as much as you may need."

Before putting the cake into the oven the recipe suggested that the cook "test the heat by throwing a tablespoon of new flour on the floor of the oven. If it takes fire or turns dark brown, the oven is too hot. If it remains white, the oven is too cool. If it slightly browns, the oven is right."

Contrasted with modern recipe writing and ranges with time and temperature controls, the recipe demands a lot of judgment from the cook. After some experimentation with the early recipes, this modern recipe was evolved in the standard brands test kitchen. It produces an excellent cake without changing the character of the original recipe.

'LECTURE CAKE

2 pkgs. of cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
1 1/2 cups warm, not hot, water
2 tps. sugar
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 1/2 cups margarine or butter
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg plus 1 egg yolk
2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. mace
Grated rind of 1 orange
1/4 cup currants
1/4 cups raisins
1/2 cup chopped pecans
About 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar

1 egg white, slightly beaten
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract
Sprinkle or crumble yeast over water in large bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast); stir until dissolved. Add sugar and 1/2 cups flour; mix well. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, about 30 minutes, until very bubbly. Meanwhile, cream margarine with sugars. Beat in egg and egg yolk. Stir in bubbly yeast mixture. Sift together 3 cups flour, salt and spices; stir into yeast mixture; beat smooth. Stir in orange rind, fruits and pecans.

Turn into greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 1/2 hours. Bake at 375 degrees F. 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in cake comes out clean. Turn out onto cake rack; cool.

Frost with combined confectioners' sugar, egg white and vanilla extract. Makes one large cake.

Chili Chicken Makes Good Meal

Chili chicken is different and good.

CHILI CHICKEN

1 large broiler-fryer
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
Chili powder
3 tpsps. fat
2 small onions (cut into thin rings)
1 large clove garlic (crushed)
1 can (about 1 lb.) tomatoes with tomato paste and basil
1 tpsp. cornstarch

Have chicken cut in 10 pieces; wash and dry; rub with mixture of salt, pepper and 2 teaspoons chili powder. Brown chicken in fat in large skillet. Add onion and garlic. Cover tightly and cook slowly, turning a few times, until tender about 25 minutes. Remove chicken. Mix a little of the tomato juice with cornstarch until smooth; add to drippings in skillet (first removing excess fat). Add tomatoes and rest of juice and chili powder to taste. Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Return chicken to skillet; reheat. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Plain Cake Topping

You can make a quick topping for a plain cake by beating a couple of egg whites until stiff and then beating in a half-cup of currant jelly.

Cover Eggs

Some cooks like to cover the shirred-egg dishes or custard cups in which eggs are baked.

MRS. JIM BILL LITTLE, PAM AND LINDA
... enjoy story time

Mrs. Little Recommends Grandmother's Recipes

Living in a home designed and built by her husband and father are three feminine members of the Jim Bill Little family. The family moved into their home at 1706 Yale three years ago.

The Littles have two lively daughters, Pamela, who is five and a half, and Linda who is three years old. Both Mr. and Mrs. Little are natives of Big Spring. Mrs. Little is a graduate of North Texas State College in Denton with a degree in Advertising Art. After finishing college, she was employed for a short time with the advertising department of The Herald, before leaving for a teaching job in Roswell, N.M., where she taught sixth grade art.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Whitney of Corpus Christi, formerly of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. James Little of Big Spring.

The family are active members of the First Presbyterian Church where the couple was married some seven years ago by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. Mrs. Little serves on the Christian Education committee at the church and is a member of the Margaret of Nazareth Circle. She is also a member of the 1953 Hyperion Club, afternoon and evening bridge club and the Coillon Dance Club.

Mrs. Little lists her hobbies as cooking, sewing, bridge and reading. She sews mostly for the girls. The recipes which Mrs. Little recommends highly are three which belonged to her grandmother. She suggests you try them.

GRANDMOTHER'S CHOCOLATE CAKE

2 cups sugar

Fancy Eggs

Fancy up creamed eggs by adding pimiento, green pepper and mushrooms to the sauce. Serve in patty shells.

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup cocoa (add 1/4 cup water to make paste)

4 eggs
2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup cold coffee
Cream sugar and shortening. Add eggs one at a time, beating mixture as each is added. Pour in cocoa paste, flour with baking powder.

After mixing well, add the coffee, soda and vanilla.
Bake in slow oven (350 degrees) for about 40 minutes.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

1 cup milk (heated)
2 tpsps. sugar
1 egg
1/2 yeast cake
3 tpsps. melted shortening
2 1/2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt

Beat egg and sugar; add lukewarm milk and shortening and also dissolved yeast.
Add flour and salt and beat until smooth. Cover and put in refrigerator.

About one hour before serving, put dough on board and work in enough flour to roll or cut out.

Place in greased pan and let rise an hour before baking.

CRANBERRY NUT BREAD

Grease bottom only of a 9x5x3 inch loaf pan. Line the pan with wax paper that has been cut to fit the bottom of the pan; grease the waxed paper.
Rinse, sort, chop, mix and set aside.

2 cups fresh cranberries, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Melt and set aside to cool slightly:
2 tpsps. butter or margarine
Sift together into bowl and set aside.

2 cups sifted flour
1 cup plus 2 tpsps. sugar
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. baking soda

Combine:
1 egg, well beaten
1 1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup water
Stir in the melted butter or margarine.

Make a well in the center of dry ingredients and add the liquid ingredients all at one time. Stir only enough to moisten the dry ingredients.

Add the nuts and cranberries plus 1 teaspoon grated orange rind (grated through colored part only; white part is bitter).
Stir just until blended (do not overmix); turn into prepared loaf pan and spread to corners.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 70 minutes, or until cake tester or wooden pick comes out clean when inserted into center of loaf.

Remove from oven; cool 10 minutes in pan on cooling rack. To remove bread from pan, first loosen by running a spatula gently around sides. Cover with a cooling rack. Invert and remove pan. Immediately peel off waxed paper and turn bread right side up.
Cool bread completely before slicing or storing.
To store, wrap tightly in foil or other moisture-proof material.

Turkey Casseroles Combine Variety, Economy, Goodness

Turkey casseroles command attention these days, whether they are simple combinations or elaborate, gourmet-inspired creations.

They are easy to prepare, fun to serve and chock full of nutrition and goodness. With turkey so plentiful and economical this fall, turkey casseroles are budget-wise, too.

Turkey and other casseroles deserve top-billing as company-perfect menu items. Just knowing the entree is in the refrigerator and ready to put in the oven for on-time serving is enough to let you greet your guests with poise, calmness and social spark.

There's another bonus to casserole cooking, too. Your kitchen can be whistle-clean; no stacks of soiled dishes, pots and pans when the guests arrive.

Casserole versatility is limitless. In a casserole, even leftovers have a way of displaying an evident beauty—eye-appealing, taste-tempting casseroles dispel all thoughts of leftovers.

Since any concoction baked in a casserole-like dish can be called a casserole, an exact definition is almost impossible. They can contain anything that family appetites or available foods demand.

Take any basic casserole-type recipe. By simply using a bit of imagination you can alternate the ingredients, introduce colorful appeal with gay combinations of vegetables or garnish, and have a completely new presentation.

But be sure to alternate or exchange "like" ingredients and amounts, else you may wind up with something either too moist or too solid.

It is especially appropriate to turn to turkey casseroles this time of year. Agricultural Marketing Service reports the total number of pounds of turkey in today's markets is even larger than a year ago. But consumer demand is greater, too. So prices may average just a shade higher than last year's extreme low.

As you make the best possible use of the turkey abundance, give some thought to trying Turkey-Noodle Scallop. Here's a basic recipe developed by home economists. It offers limitless variations for the creative homemaker:

Take 3 cups medium white sauce; 1/4 cup finely-minced onion; 3 cups cooked noodles (6-ounce package); 1/2 cup cooked or canned peas; 2 cups diced cooked turkey; 1/2 cup grated cheese; and bread or cracker crumbs mixed with melted butter or margarine.

Use turkey broth, if available, as part of the liquid in the white sauce. Add onion to sauce. Place layers of noodles, peas, turkey, cheese and sauce in a greased baking dish.

Sprinkle crumbs over the top. Brown in 400-degree F. oven about 20 minutes or until sauce starts to bubble through crumbs.

To provide variety to this Turkey-Noodle Scallop recipe, cooked rice, fancy-shaped macaroni, fat to thin strands of spaghetti broken into three-inch lengths, may be substituted for the cooked noodles.

Alternate vegetables may include cooked baby lima beans, thin-sliced stewed celery, diced carrots, diamonds of green pepper, bits of pre-cooked turnips, cream or whole-style corn. Just be sure the total equals the 1/2 cup of cooked green peas.

Grind, slice or cut the turkey into julienne strips rather than dicing it. And be sure to try different kinds of cheese—mild, flavorful and robust cheddar cheese, or Grated Romano, Sapsago or Parmesan cheese. Each has its own distinctive flavor.

In place of regular bread crumbs, try brown bread crumbs. Or use sesame seed, blue cheese or soda cracker crumbs. Simply roll the crackers into crumbs and sprinkle atop the casserole.

Quick and easy garnish ideas to further enhance this delicious turkey casserole include using green pepper and sweet onion rings. Wedges of fresh tomatoes arranged spoke fashion, or criss-crossed sticks of cheese which melt into ribbons of tasty beauty also can be used to brighten the dish.

Cheese Sauce For Pork Chops Is Novel Idea

Looking for something different in the food line? What homemaker isn't? Preparing a new dish or a new version of an old favorite gives you a lift. As a morale booster it's almost as effective as a new hat!

Reba Staggs, home economist and meat expert, offers an idea for giving pork chops an exotic flavor by marinating them in an oriental sauce which blends ginger and soy sauce. This is one of the culinary ideas acquired from Chinese cookery.

In this recipe, pork chops are cut 1/2 inch thick, suitable for broiling. (Thicker pork chops are usually cooked by braising.) The chops are placed in the spicy marinade for 4 to 6 hours. Then they are broiled in the usual way.

These Oriental pork chops make a good main-dish for a company meal. You'll win compliments and be asked "Just how did you give them this delicious flavor?"

ORIENTAL PORK CHOPS

6 pork loin chops, cut 1/2 inch thick
1 1/2 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup sugar
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. ginger
Combine soy sauce, sugar, garlic, salt and ginger. Pour mixture over pork chops and allow to marinate 4 to 6 hours, turning occasionally. Place on a rack in broiler pan. Place chops 5 to 7 inches from heat. Broil 10 to 15 minutes on first side. Turn and broil on second side 10 to 15 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 4 servings.

Metal Jello Molds

You'll find your salads and desserts made with gelatin will unmold more easily from metal containers than from glass or earthenware receptacles.

Corned Beef Brisket

A piece of corned beef brisket weighing about 3 pounds usually needs 3 to 3 1/2 hours cooking when it is covered with water and simmered.

Try This Old Recipe For Apple Tansy

Ever taste, or even hear of, a Virginia Apple Tansy? It's an old fashioned dessert made with apples on Virginia plantations. The thrifty mistresses of these colonial kitchens used the fruit of their own orchards, which flourished in the Old Dominion as early as 1640.

The original recipe for Apple Tansy, and many another favorite dish, came out of the London cookbooks the colonists brought with them from their English homes to the New World.

Apple Tansy is just as good today as it ever was, and apples are now widely available, though for nearly 200 years they were a luxury enjoyed only on the plantations where the first American orchards were planted.

Mrs. E. Smith, English author of a cookbook entitled "The Complete Housewife," published in England in 1724 and issued later in an American edition by an enterprising printer in the colonial Williamsburg, gives the following directions for making an Apple Tansy.

We reproduce her recipe as she wrote it, with the quaint spelling and punctuation unchanged. In this form, it is still an eminently usable "receipt" as the old fashioned cooks spelled it.

To Make A Virginia Apple Tansy
"Take three pippins (apples), slice them round in thin slices, and fry them with Butter; then beat four Eggs, with six Spoonfuls of Cream, a little Rosewater, Nutmeg and Sugar; stir them together and pour it over the Apples; let it fry a little, and turn it with a Pyeplate. Garnish with Lemon and Sugar Strewed over it."

Don't let the rosewater called for in this recipe defeat you. If you want to be authentic, you can get rosewater at the drugstore. If you prefer a modern substitute, use a few drops of pure vanilla extract instead. Oldtime cooks had no vanilla until Thomas Jefferson brought it back with him from France. They relied on such readily available flavors as rosewater, orange and lemon.

VIRGINIA APPLE TANSY
2 Medium Apples
2 Tablespoons butter
4 Eggs
6 Tablespoons light cream
1 Teaspoon rosewater or vanilla
1 Tablespoon sugar
1/4 Teaspoon nutmeg
Pinch of salt
1 Tablespoon grated lemon rind mixed with 2 tablespoons sugar
Core apples, but do not pare. Cut in thin rounds. Fry quickly in butter on one side until golden. Turn carefully.

Mix eggs with remaining ingredients and beat until blended. Pour over fried apple slices. Cook over medium heat, pulling cooked eggs gently from side of pan and tilting pan slightly to allow uncooked portion to slide under. Continue cooking until eggs are set but still soft.

Sprinkle with sugar and lemon rind and fold as for an omelet, or cut into pie shaped pieces. Makes 4-6 servings.

1/2 tsp. salt

A Devotional For Today

Ask, and it shall be given you, seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Matthew 7.7.)
PRAYER: O God, our Father, help us continually to seek Thy presence. May we experience the high joy of realizing that before we set out to search for Thee, already Thou art seeking us. Bless those of every race and nation who are seeking Thee today. May they find Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Backing A Dream With Boldness

Men of great stature and great courage and great vision are not too numerous, and the loss of one of their number is always keenly felt. Such was the case of Ernest Kurth of Lufkin last week.

Mr. Kurth was the guiding genius, the spark plug, the man of stubborn purpose who brought to reality the dream of newspaper being made from Southern pine. More than any other man, he succeeded in the establishment of the Southland Paper Mill near Lufkin just prior to World War II. Had it not been for this mill during the war times and immediately afterwards, many Texas papers would not have been able to publish, or would have been held to mere flysheets.

This gave rise to other mills in the South using a forest product previously thought to have little value. The demonstration was so successful that Southland faced a dwindling of its markets to the point that one, and more recently two, of its four paper machines had to be converted to making kraft (a lower value wrapping paper). Ironical as this may be, it does not lessen the brilliance of the example of a man who had a dream and was bold enough to back it.

Something Unique In Cooperation

This must be a day of cooperative enterprise. When three cities—Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder—got together more than a decade ago to tackle a common problem of water supply, this was an unprecedented approach.

Now the arch-rival cities of Fort Worth and Dallas have got together on a common undertaking—at least two institutions in those cities have. The Star-Telegram in Fort Worth and the Times Herald in Dallas last weekend issued an addition publicizing the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan and industrial area.

The job was well done, the copy is succinctly written and in a large measure penetrating. The supporting advertising ranges from interesting to compelling.

This was a story which perhaps neither paper could have told so well, for the territory has come to be in a large measure a single market, a single complex. It is, as one of the ads suggested, a Megalopolis. Thus the story of the center of inland industrial development, of the long-sought dream of canalization of the Trinity River, the blossoming aircraft and electronics manufacturing center is all effectively dramatized. The two papers have performed a fine service for their area, and in a sense for the Southwest, for prosperity and advance have a way of spreading.

Marquis Childs Kennedy Camp Plays It Cautious

WITH KENNEDY CAMPAIGN. — The spectre that haunts this campaign is the memory of 1948. The recollection of that other time when all the signs and the portents pointed to victory and all the signs and the portents were wrong falls like a shadow across even the most cautious expression of optimism in the Kennedy camp.

For this time, too, all the indicators, the polls, the predictions, the reports that travel up from the grass roots point in the same direction — the election of Sen. John F. Kennedy on November 8. Yet, no one close to the Democratic candidate will admit out loud that these mean what they seem to mean.

THIS EXPLAINS the difference in the atmosphere between the two camps. The managers of Vice President Richard Nixon have been putting out optimistic polls to show that the tide is running their way and that the Republican ticket will triumph in the states with big electoral votes save only — possibly — New York. It is an effort to create the euphoria of victory, the atmosphere of confident success.

Around Kennedy you will hear only that it's close. In state after state it is neck and neck and every vote will count. The pace of this last week is more frantic than ever as the candidate bounces back and forth across the continent always running behind a schedule that is crowded to the last possible minute.

THOSE AROUND the Democratic candidate make no secret of their concern, and particularly as the issue has been raised not once but twice by the Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico in declaring that it is a sin to vote for Governor Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic party. The Bishop's disclaimer any intention to exert influence on the election on the American mainland as against the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. But this has an unconvincing sound to the candidate and those around him who had hoped that once and for all the charge of church domination had been laid to rest.

KENNEDY COULD not have been more forthright than he was on Sunday's "Face the Nation" television program. He said that even if this country was 99 per cent Catholic he would still favor the separation of church and state. He gave it as his view that the principle of separation was a unique and priceless feature of the United States Constitution and the experience of other countries where church and state are one is, therefore, irrelevant.

While the command inside the Kennedy fort keeps on firing until the very last minute, the candidate has himself gained a new and evident confidence. There may or may not be a new Nixon. But there is definitely a new Kennedy. He has a poise, a serenity even, a sense of knowing where he is going, that he did not have at the beginning of the campaign.

THIS IS reflected in his speech-making. His oratory is less frenetic, more variable in pace, even spiced now and then with easy good humor and comradeship with his listeners. Much of the tension seems to have gone. What appeared at the outset a grim kind of fatalism is today an almost-journey acceptance of what each day may bring. Yet, he must feel, along with a great many of his fellow citizens including the Vice President, a great sense of relief that it is nearly over. For there is no concealing that it has been a highly unsatisfactory campaign.

NEITHER CANDIDATE has seriously addressed himself to the issues in the tradition of the past when the candidates felt required to give their views in detail on foreign policy and what course was to be followed, on labor, on the farm problem, on natural resources, on fiscal policy. These were major speeches to which the public, or at any rate the interested public, looked for guidance on what a new administration would do.

Where the blame lies is quite naturally a matter of dispute. Charge and counter-charge have been fired across the barricades and the smoke of battle has filled the air. In trying to prescribe what he believes must be done for America's well-being, Kennedy has been accused by Nixon — and by the President himself in defending his own record — of downgrading America. In the ensuing argument the prescription itself has been lost sight of.

TELEVISION has had something to do with the nature of the campaign. Neither candidate likes to read a speech, always mindful of the short span of attention of the television audience and the peril of plowing through a manuscript with the threat of millions of sets being switched to more exciting fare.

So with one thing and another we have had little solid substance. The Presidency, as we are seeing more than ever before, is the greatest gamble in history. One of these men will win. But what that victory will mean after January 20 we can have only a hopeful guess.

Fish Suit Settled

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Water Control Board has settled a suit against American Viscose Corporation here for $30,000 — which it says will replace fish in the Shenandoah River it claims were killed by waste from the corporation's plant.

Crime Wave Halted

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A two-year series of minor burglaries were solved when police nabbed a thief entering a plastic company.

Authorities said, despite the admission of many burglaries during the past two years, the thief still has time to go straight. He is 12 years old.

SUMTER, S. C. (AP) — S. L. Gentry of Sumter won $500 in a crossword puzzle contest conducted by the Charleston, S. C., News and Courier. A few days later, he was notified he had won $275 in a similar contest conducted by the Charlotte Observer.

They are the insignia worn by his father, Brig. Gen. H. B. Eagon, when he was a lieutenant.

The father is an Ohio National Guard officer and the state's director of natural resources.

THE FRENZIED ALCHEMIST

James Marlow Campaign Is A Personality Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you judged the presidential candidates by what they've said of each other, you might get the impression one was a crooked card shark and the other a juvenile delinquent.

The kid glove treatment has been reserved for President Eisenhower who is now up to his neck in the campaign himself, plugging for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

His appearance in the campaign brings it back to where it began and has been pretty much all along—a kind of personality contest. Still, his intervention for Nixon, if judged by his previous efforts for Republican congressional candidates, won't change anything.

NIXON HAS SAID of his rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, that he lies to the voters "as a hobby." It is an unimpressive, rash, impulsive way of making "dangerous statements."

Kennedy has said not only that

"someone had better cut the cards" before Nixon deals but has represented the vice president as a "baffling kind of individual whose political career has often seemed to show charity toward none and malice toward all."

Nixon to Kennedy is the "trigger-happy" leader of a "wrecking crew."

The vice president of course is in no position to criticize the Eisenhower administration's record even if he should want to. He has been part and parcel of it and right now is depending on Eisenhower's help to win.

Kennedy with no part in the administration and under no obligation to the President, has made ripping into the Eisenhower record one of his main occupations in this campaign.

BUT HE has carefully avoided any direct assault on Eisenhower. It's simply good politics for Kennedy to lay off Eisenhower—even though belittling his administration—since to be otherwise might cost him votes among admirers of the still highly popular President.

Kennedy himself, when asked why the reluctance about criticizing Eisenhower, said the basic question is one of the future and whether it should be entrusted to Kennedy or Nixon.

In giving this explanation he also stated the essential basis of the fight between him and the vice president. Each all through the campaign, and by the way they've conducted it, has been asking a vote of confidence as the better man.

This, therefore, has reduced much of the campaign to a personality contest. And Eisenhower, now that he's in the campaign, is doing on his side what Kennedy and Nixon have been doing on theirs.

Eisenhower, once all his oratory is stripped away, is simply appealing to the voters to continue to trust his judgment to the extent of believing, when he says it, that Nixon would make a better president than Kennedy.

Whatever political magic Eisenhower has for himself, so far it has proved entirely limited to him. He couldn't rub it off on his party. He's trying once more. It remains to be seen whether he can rub it off on Nixon.

Hal Boyle Bad Words For Lawyers

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a lawyer gets tired of hearing. "All I know is that if I go to jail, you don't get paid."

"I hear he studied law by watching Perry Mason on television."

"He specializes in accident cases. Any time he gets a case it's bound to be an accident."

"Okay, Blackstone, wake up Court's in session."

"His real ambition is to run for the bench. But so far cooler heads have prevailed."

"Only one call came while you were out, Mr. Wimpey. It was from the landlord. He says if he doesn't get the office rent by Monday he's going to hire a lawyer—and it won't be you."

"I didn't exactly say he was old-fashioned. All I said was he still chases ambulances on foot."

"We're getting up a testimonial dinner for Judge Smith. The tickets are $25 each. How many do you want?"

"It's true he begs he never lost a client to the electric chair. On the other hand, none of his clients were ever charged with anything but petty larceny."

"He had a big month last year. He had a $10 case—and two little ones."

"I hear the last time he went to the courthouse to try to fix a traffic ticket he arrested himself for double parking."

"Whenever he gets up to object that something is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, he's really telling the story of his life."

"He's done a fine job of handling half a dozen bankruptcy cases, but in each of them he was his own client."

"Motion denied."

"Well, counselor, I know you can't win them all. But sooner or later, you ought to win at least one."

"I don't know what a quid pro quo is—but it sounds just like what he looks like."

"Well, if he's a criminal lawyer, now I understand why crime never pays."

"There's a package on your desk, Mr. Wimpey, from the brother of your last client—the one in Sing Sing. I'd be careful how I opened it."

"The boys have decided this is as good a year as any to put you up for Congress. After all the guy you have to run against is unbeatable."

"The chairman of the bar association's grievance committee called. He asked if you'd please hurry up your reply to the last complaint against you—as there are three more pending."

"I know Abe Lincoln said, 'a lawyer's time and advice are his stock in trade—but he ain't Lincoln.'"

"He almost got that last pick-pocket off—until the judge missed his watch."

"Your wife just phoned Mr. Wimpey. She said an ambulance just passed your house headed south."

To Your Good Health Neuralgia Can Be Painful, Difficult

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is intercostal neuralgia? Why is it so hard to get relief from it, or a cure? My husband who is 51 has had it for two years—Mrs. T. K."

Intercostal neuralgia is pain in the nerve trunks that run between the ribs. Neuralgia, of course, is pain in the nerve trunks, and the word intercostal simply explains where the nerves are and where the pain is.

I am not ready to admit that intercostal neuralgia is necessarily any more difficult to control than neuralgia in other regions. Neuralgia of the facial muscles, for instance, can be extremely painful and aggravating and stubborn. So is sciatica, in which the sciatic nerve of the lower back and upper portion of the legs is involved.

Most certainly I am not belittling intercostal neuralgia. There are many neuralgia sufferers, and they'll agree with you that in a good many cases it can be difficult to control.

The question is why. Let's stick to your particular problem. A variety of things can cause the nerve trunks to stir up a painful storm. Arthritic changes in the spine; the residue of a case of shingles; a toxic focal infection somewhere else in the body, as in a tooth or teeth, perhaps in the prostate or in some other area; excess tobacco.

These are some of the possibilities. Sometimes X-rays that are "negative" give you one bit of information. They indicate that the trouble is NOT something that will be apparent in X-ray plates.

Please don't say that I'm indulging in double-talk. I'm just trying to lay things on the line and explain why neither I, nor your doctor, nor anybody else, can give you a simple prescription to cure neuralgia.

If arthritis is affecting the spinal segments so they pinch the nerve, that dictates the treatment. If it's one of the other things I mentioned, the solution is generally easier than that to the arthritic case.

Start with X-rays to see what they show, and go on from there. Look for too simple an answer, and you invite disappointment. Understand the complexity of the possibilities, and you are on the road to success.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband had a very small malignant tumor burned off in his bladder. What is the likelihood of recurrence, and how soon? Do statistics show any cure for bladder cancer?—Mrs. P. H."

I can't guess at the prospects in any given case, when I haven't had any chance to examine the patient. You'll have to ask your own doctor. But I can tell you this: With cancer of the bladder, the ones found early show a very high rate of cure; the ones found late (after the cancer has penetrated well into the wall of the bladder) have a poor outlook. And the hard battling is in the ones caught at in-between stage. From the information you give me, I would judge that your husband's was found quite early.

NOTE TO MRS. F. D.: Please, friendly reader—and let this answer upmy-ump other questions when your mother is 82, just try her like a nice old lady of 82. Yes, she's deaf, tired, bothered by various symptoms. She's OLD! Medicine can't solve all the problems of age.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald for my booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Fundamentals Of Choice Seats

Sitting in on numerous conversations concerning "how to get the best seat in a movie or municipal auditorium." I have decided that most of us are mere amateurs at this fascinating game. Gone are the days when you casually told the usher "about half way" or "real close up front."

Today, the spectator must be more particular. For instance, if the show is similar to Jose Greco's dancers, there is no seat in the house better than the balcony, second row. (The first row is too close to the railing.) This vantage point is the only place in municipal auditorium where you can see the foot work at the best angle.

ON THE OTHER HAND, if it is a dramatic performance, any place in the first 10 rows, center, is best. The hearing is reasonably good and you can keep up with the entrances and exits without a score card.

It is better to go two-out-of-three falls with the orchestra leader for his seat than sit under the balcony. Or sit on the front steps and watch traffic. At least you can hear the motorists honk at one another.

But this is only part of the game. Getting a seat in the first 10 rows is not always an assurance that you have a good seat. In the last analysis, the success of your evening at the theatre is often determined by the folks who sit around you.

THE LADY IN FRONT of you may have a jungle for a hat which could disrupt your entire evening. Or the man seated to your left may be a "twit." That is, he scoots and slides around in his seat throughout the show.

Or the lady behind you may have hay fever and sneeze right at the tag line of every joke. And worst of all, the man seated to your right may have "seen better than this last year at Lamesa" and tell you all about it during the performance.

These are hazards of any program produced and should be carefully guarded against. Actually, it is all a matter of timing.

ARRIVE AT THE auditorium only in time to insure that you get one of the last few seats available in the desired area. Then, check all the women's hats in front of your desired seat; check all the noses in the area for red ones; a sure sign of hay fever; check the trousers of all adjacent males for wrinkles, a tell-tale sign of a twit; check for grim faces, indicative of a fellow who has already decided that the performance will not be good and is determined to tell his neighbor exactly why.

Failing to remember these fundamentals, I suggest you just race in like the rest of us and take the only seat available.

—V. GLENN COOTER

Holmes Alexander How The Tickets Balance Out

WASHINGTON—It would be wrong to let the campaign wind to a finish without a final go-round on the two national tickets.

At the end of July when the convention season closed, the gossip was that both party line-ups ought to be reversed. At the end of August just before the election canvass began to hum, the word from the skill sessions was that Lyndon Johnson was a drag on the Democratic ticket, whereas Henry Cabot Lodge was an after-burner which gave additional trust to the Republicans. Well, let's see:

HAD THE DEMOCRATIC ticket been reversed, putting Kennedy in the rear and Johnson in the front, much would have been lost to the party and the country. Kennedy has been the energizer and charmer, the Caesarian organizer of his legions, the Napoleonic director of his field marshals.

In many instances, often missed by the general public, Kennedy has displayed the rare political quality of humor. Once, while testing a public address hook-up, he muttered into the mike: "As Liffoln said in 1864, presumably over the radio—Another time, after hearing Michigan's Governor Williams introduce him all day as sure to be the 'greatest' of all Presidents, Kennedy remarked that he'd like to say a good word for Washington and Jefferson.

IT'S HARD TO pick any fault with Kennedy as the head of his ticket and, as a lightning rod for "prejudice," Kennedy probably did not attract as much hatred as Johnson would have drawn. The dislike of Catholicism in the country, while considerable has been, with few exceptions, politely discussed by God-fearing intellectuals and church-goers. But the naked hate which Northern demagogues would have incited against LBJ, that embodiment of layocracy, oil wells and closed labor shops, would have been downright infernal. Sweetness and light were better served by Kennedy-Johnson than by a turn-around ticket.

LITTLE NEED BE said about the early proposals for up-ending the Nixon-Lodge ticket. The Vice President has spoken millions of words with relatively few fluffs—although I did once hear him come out against "godless atheism." Former U.N. Ambassador Lodge starts having trouble whenever he opens his mouth. On the Nixon train a GOP leader showed this reporter a telegram from a Southern Republican saying in effect: "Request Lodge stop making Cabinet appointments." The reference was to the Ambassador's single-handed desegregation of the non-existent Nixon ministry.

LODGE'S contribution to the Republican ticket has been remarkable, but somewhat unrespectable. His appeal has not been the highbrow thing that his admirers anticipated. His attraction, presumably much to his own embarrassment, has been to a universal but unmentionable instinct of the voters affected by the 19th Amendment. It is not a happy fate for the grand old man of the GOP's last grandeur to become the mob-center of the supermarket. Perhaps it is best to draw the curtain of charity, since Lodge clearly never planned it that way.

BUT SENATOR Lyndon Johnson did plan and execute his own role of significance on the Democratic slate. Had any of the liberal senators or governors—Clark, Jackson, Williams or Ribicoff—been nominated as Democratic vice president, the South and much of the border land, as well as some of the smaller Western states, would have been lost to the Kennedy ticket. Johnson has been the big man in the smoke-filled huddles. He may not save Texas for his party, and he had little influence in Virginia and South Carolina—but he is credited on all sides with preventing the Southern landslide to Nixon, which was predicted some weeks ago.

Both national conventions chose better than many of the critics allowed. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

David Lawrence Big Shift In Catholic Vote

WASHINGTON—The most revealing of the nationwide polls taken thus far in the current campaign is one just released by Dr. George Gallup. It may prove more significant than his final pre-election survey next week. For it shows that more than half of the Catholics who voted for the Republican presidential nominee four years ago are going to vote for Sen. Kennedy.

This is such a sensational shift from the Republican to the Democratic party that, if corroborated by election returns on November 8, it could mean not only a landslide for Sen. Kennedy but possibly one of the largest popular vote totals ever given to a presidential candidate in American history.

A SHIFT OF 5,000,000 votes from the Republican party to the Democratic party is indicated by the Gallup Poll, with no corresponding shift the other way to make up for the loss.

Four years ago, when there was no religious issue, the surveys show that Catholics gave the Republicans 49 per cent of their vote. When this 49 per cent now is diminished by 28 points, down to 21 per cent—as the latest Gallup Poll discloses—it means that the Republican ticket has lost between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 votes that will go to Sen. Kennedy. It means also that 79 per cent of the Catholic voters—who are estimated to have numbered 15,500,000 in 1956—will be recorded for Sen. Kennedy.

THE NEW POLL may come as a surprise to many people who have not followed the inside political battle on the so-called religious issue. But the latest Gallup Poll confirms the argument the Kennedy staff first made among various delegations at the 1956 Democratic convention when there was an effort to get the vice presidential nomination for the Massachusetts senator. A memorandum developed by the Kennedy staff was circulated then to show exactly how the "Catholic vote" would accrue to the benefit of the party with a Catholic on the ticket.

Illinois and California, with a total of 166 electoral votes, are acknowledged to be pivotal states in this election. The Kennedy staff memorandum shows that of the total two-party vote the Catholics in 1952 comprised 40 per cent in New York state, 30 per cent in Pennsylvania, 34 per cent in Illinois, 30 per cent in Michigan, and 27 per cent in California.

In these same states, the Eisenhower margin above 50 per cent in the 1952 election was between three and seven percentage points. It was a little higher in the 1956 election, but a gain this time by the Democrats of 28 percentage points among the Catholics is more than enough to wipe out the margin held by so popular a candidate as Dwight Eisenhower in both 1952 and 1956.

ANY SUCH mammoth switching of votes by one bloc of voters of one religious faith would be unprecedented. Thus, the same Gallup Poll shows that the members of the Jewish faith, who gave the Democratic ticket 75 per cent of their votes four years ago, have gone up this time only three points—to 78 per cent. Or, to put it another way, 25 per cent supported Eisenhower in 1956, and today only 22 per cent will support Nixon. The Protestants show exactly the same decline of only three percentage points from their 63 per cent support of Eisenhower in 1956, so it is obvious that something has happened to stir up the Catholic voters and cause a big number apparently to dis regard all other considerations and support the Democratic nominee, who happens to be of their faith.

Whether the switch of the Catholics is due to resentment over the injection of the religious issue in the campaign, or whether it is the result of a deliberate exploitation of the issue by the Democrats in certain populous states will be debated long after the election. So far as political analysts are concerned, however, the facts in the Gallup Poll indicate why so many forecasters have been reluctant to predict the result this year.

In talking with Gil Shine, advance man for the Oberammergau Passion Play, the question has often come up of just what sort of man Jesus Christ really was.

Such a question is impossible to answer at so late a date as the year 1960 A. D. Yet, it is true that every person has his own conception of this greatest of personalities.

The issue is not wholly a religious one, as attested by the fact that every actor who attempts to portray Christ must have some sort of understanding of the personality involved. Otherwise, the portrayal would be as wooden and meaningless as any other empty portrayal on any other stage.

Shine's concept is that of a dynamic personality, a fearless man of high moral principles and with a deep understanding of human nature.

"He came to earth as a human being," Shine noted, "and the trip would have been meaningless unless he felt everything a human being feels."

In the Garden of Gethsemane, Shine added, Jesus must have undergone every torture experienced by any man under death sentence.

Shine shares his conviction with the passion play's Christus portrayer, Val Balfour, who attempts while on stage to create the picture of a very human (although divine) person who knows he must die, and why.

In nearly every passion play, you will find varying interpretations by Christus portrayers, and they run the gamut.

One common conception held by many laymen sees Jesus as something of a milkop; an anemic, skinny and rather timid creature who apparently turns the other cheek simply through a lack of alternatives.

Others find this concept reflected in certain Sunday school picture cards and in some book illustrations—but not in the paintings of most of the old masters, like Da Vinci, whose "Last Supper" sees Jesus, not as a superpious weakling, but as a man of strength, both bodily and spiritual.

Shine likes to point out that Jesus, in his youth, was a carpenter, "and carpenters, then and now, are not likely to be anemic. One expects both Jesus and Simon Peter, the big fisherman, to have been strong-bodied."

And, I pointed out to Shine, it takes a rare kind of courage to offer up the other cheek out of conviction.

My own concept dovetails neatly with Shine's. I do not visualize a man with hands eternally poised prayerfully under his chin, eyes eternally cast upward. I do visualize a man who saw and understood what was wrong with the world and with human nature, and who was given the wisdom to know what had to be done about it.

Jesus was not a fanatic, who went joyfully to a martyr's death—his agony in the garden is proof enough of that—but a man with normal human feelings, who because he was also the Son of God, walked wide-awake into his destiny.

Like I said before, ideas about the character of the Messiah run the gamut, and most everyone has his own.

I think it might be instructive for people to see the passion play with an eye to comparing their own conception of the personality of Jesus with the beliefs of Balfour. It is a question that a lot of people have never thought much about.

It might be educational even for agnostics and atheists.

Some talented young Texas singer will walk away next year with a thousand-dollar scholarship for advanced local study, according to information received from Fort Worth.

The Opera Guild of Fort Worth is making the award. Winner will be determined through open competition in auditions scheduled for April 28 and 29. Any Texas voice student aspiring to a career in opera or concert, between the ages of 19 and 28, is eligible.

Lily Pons is expected to be among the five judges.

Interested parties may write the Opera Guild Scholarship Committee, 2700 Colonial Parkway, Fort Worth. Deadline is midnight, Feb. 1.

Monday, Lubbock will have the Fred Waring show that appeared here last season, a program titled "Stereo Festival." Those who want to see it again may write Civic Lubbock, Inc., care of Lubbock City Auditorium, for information.

Post Office Receipts Gain

Receipts at the Big Spring Post Office for October were $32,027.96. This was $832.89 ahead of the receipts for the same month last year.

So far in 1960, the Big Spring Post Office is approximately $5,500 ahead of 1959 in total receipts. For the first 10 months of 1960, the post office receipts have been $300,871.68. In 1959 for the same period, receipts were $295,344.87.

Local Building Takes Slump

Big Spring building during October slumped to the lowest monthly level recorded since September, 1958, and left this year's construction lagging far behind that of last year.

Builders took out city permits for only $98,066 in construction last month. It was the first time building permits had fallen below $100,000 since September, 1958, when $65,000 was reported. The total for the year now stands at $2,818,194, compared to $3,239,882 for the same 10 months last year. The 1959 total was $3,512,012.

In October of last year, there was a total of $170,172 in building permits issued. Last month there were 50 building permits sold at city hall. That was not the least number sold this year, however. In February there was only 46 sold, but building that month totaled $148,440.

The year's total is now 961 building permits issued compared with 662 sold during the same period last year. The 12-month total last year was 753 permits.

Rotarians Count 53 Grandchildren

Of course there may be more than that when all the members show up, but Rotarians Tuesday could account for but 53 grandchildren.

It was grandchildren's day, and Rotarians had 14 youngsters on hand with them with George Grimes and F. H. Talbot each having four as their guests. Ira Driver, who had one of his three present, was honored as the oldest grandchild. Sam Peters, who has eight, qualified as the "mostest grandpa," and Mrs. Ann Houser, with six, as the leading (and only) grandmother. Awards were presented by Col. Dick Crowell. Dr. P. D. O'Brien was the speaker, using a "Grandfather's Philosophy" as his topic.

Small Loans Plan Scuttled

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The widespread certificate plan for making small loans is unconstitutional, the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals held here Wednesday.

The law authorizing use of the plan was passed "to thwart the constitutional prohibition of usury," Associate Justice Jack Pope said in writing the opinion.

Under the plan a borrower is required to purchase an investment certificate on the installment plan at the time he makes the loan. The certificate becomes part of the collateral used to secure the loan.

When the certificate is paid for, providing the borrower has kept up his payments, it may be used to repay the loan.

Two other civil appeals courts have upheld the law, but Wednesday's ruling and an April decision by the Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin ruling the plan unconstitutional on other grounds makes it certain the State Supreme Court will consider the law, Pope said.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals held the legislature did not intend to evade the constitutional limit on interest, but the opinion said a 1 1/2 per cent interest paid on the investment certificate, which the borrower is required to purchase, "can hardly be termed legitimate benefits to the borrower."

Wednesday's Fourth Court ruling came when the court considered the appeal of a Bexar County Court at Law decision in a suit filed against Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Harrell of San Antonio by the Colonial Finance Co.

Pope said the certificate plan was "a device to charge usury" and not a bona fide separate investment. "Even the Legislature," he wrote, "cannot avoid the Constitution."

Meeting Held By Travelodge Group

The Travelodge Corporation, world's largest motel network with home offices in San Diego, has just completed its 14th semi-annual conference at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley, Calif. The conference had an attendance of 400 co-owner managers and associates. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Kuenzel, co-owner managers of the Big Spring Travelodge, attended the conference.

The climax of the three days activities was a president's banquet given in honor of Scott King, president and founder of the Travelodge Corp. Two hundred and fifty persons, primarily co-owners, were present with the express purpose to pay tribute to the man who had conceived the Travelodge plan for a nationwide network of motels with partners as managers.

Baptists Elect Lubbock Man

TYLER (AP)—The Baptist Missionary Association elected The Rev. John W. Duggar of Lubbock, moderator during their meeting here Wednesday. He succeeds The Rev. A. L. Meador of Humble.

The convention also elected The Rev. Jimmie Henry of Fairfield and Reuben Leslie of Groves, vice presidents.
