Candidates Ballot, Await The Returns

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy returned to his summer home at Hyannis Port today to await the climactic moment of his life, the returns of his great drive toward the presidency of the United States.

He flew to Hyannis Port with his wife, Jacqueline, after voting in Boston.

As this longest day of his life began, Kennedy was still cool and apparently unconcerned. He showed every sign of complete confidence in the outcome today.

Asked if he was tired, Kennedy grinned and said "I suppose I am but I just don't feel it." Mrs. Kennedy, who is expecting a child in three weeks, motored 75 miles from Hyannis Port to go to the polls with him.

(his almost 3-year-old daughter) and take it easy."

When his plane touched down at Hyannis Port about a hundred people met him. One teen-age girl began singing a song with the refrain "Welcome Home, Neighbor."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon cast his ballot in his nearby hometown of Whittier, Calif., today, then drove off, apparently to await in seclusion the nation's verdict on his bid for the presidency.

At the polling place, Nixon told newsmen he believed John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, "is strongest in the East but I'm not conceding any state. We must await returns from the Midwest and South. Those are the crucial areas."

After leaving the polling place, Nixon switched from a black limousine to a white convertible and drove off with a Secret Service man, a military aide, and the car's unidentified driver.

His destination was not learned. Herbert G. Klein, his press aide, said the nominee apparently wanted a bit of seclusion.

Mrs. Nixon stayed in the limousine.

UP EARLY

Nixon arose at 6 a.m. after three hours sleep and rode to the voting place in a private home less than a mile from where he lived before he went to Congress 14 years ago.

He was the 24th voter, his wife the 25th.

Nixon had traveled 64,000 miles in his campaign, which took him into every state.

The GOP nominee's swift-paced, far-ranging quest for the presidency came to an informal, spectacular close here even as early rising voters in the East were stirring from their beds to start the nation's march to the polls.

Nixon's chartered jet airliner arrived from Chicago at 12:57 a.m. PST, after a grueling 7,300-mile tour from California into Alaska, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and back to California in the final two days of the campaign.

United Fund Now At 82.3 Per Cent

The United Fund drive inched upward toward the $98,210 goal Monday as workers reported in with an additional $1,947.05.

This puts the campaign within 82.3 per cent of the total with a collection of $80,915.16.

Rivalries between various sections of the drive continued as the public employees division stayed in the lead. The division has brought in a total of $15,935.18 for 88.6 per cent of its goal.

This is the highest percentage of collections among the divisions.

Close behind is the big gifts division with a collection of $35,942.50, which is 85.6 per cent of its goal. The public employees and big gifts divisions have been in a see-saw battle for the top place.

The special gifts division has accounted for 60.5 per cent of its goal with a total of $9,066. The employees division stands at 65.6 per cent with $15,090.98. The out-of-town division has 35.2 per cent of its goal.

The metropolitan division was adding new spark to its share of the campaign today. Chairmen Mrs. O. S. Wornack and James M. Hardy named 10 supplemental workers each, 20 persons, to tackle all contact cards that have not been worked.

The division has already reached $4,065.50 for 81.7 per cent of its goal. The cleanup campaign starting today should push the division over the top, pegged at $5,000.

Early Voters In Big Numbers Cast Ballots

Kennedy Winds Up Campaign

Democratic presidential candidate John Kennedy addresses a rally outside the Providence, R.I. city hall. In front right are his three sisters, Eunice, Patricia and Jean. An estimated crowd of 30,000 heard Kennedy make his final pitch for election.

Next President Awaits Outcome

WASHINGTON (AP)—American voters were out early and in big numbers today making their choice between Richard M. Nixon and John F. Kennedy for the next President.

A forenoon spot survey by Associated Press newspapers and bureaus across the country brought reports of long waiting lines at thousands of precincts. Advance predictions were for a record total of perhaps 67 million ballots.

First trickling reports of how the voting was going quickened spirits of those backing Nixon, the Republican candidate, in New Hampshire and Kansas.

On the other hand, Democrat Kennedy scored in the first straw from Virginia, North Carolina and Minnesota.

As usual, a handful of New Hampshire precincts had their votes all in and counted by daylight. The score: 49 for Nixon, 8 for Kennedy. Republican headquarters rushed out a statement saying Nixon was running 5 per cent stronger than President Eisenhower did in 1956.

In Parsons, Kan., four precincts, incomplete, gave Nixon 71, Kennedy 61, although Democratic candidates for the Senate and governor were running ahead of Republican opponents.

A Virginia fishing village, which went 3-1 for Eisenhower over Democrat Adlai Stevenson four years ago, reported 7-9 for Kennedy over Nixon.

And a North Carolina mountain precinct which was solidly Democratic in '56 remained that way with 8 votes for Kennedy.

A little Minnesota precinct gave Kennedy 3, Nixon 0. No comparison with four years ago was available.

SPOT CHECK

In the spot check around the country, these were some of the reports:

Pennsylvania—Record turnout indicated with voting heavy in all sections.

Michigan—Long early lineups pointing toward record vote. Rapid movement of lines in Detroit indicated most voters were pulling straight party levers on voting machines.

Illinois—Early voting heavier than in 1956 despite rain.

Missouri—Near record early turnout in Democratic St. Louis; some outstate points reported big early vote despite chilly rain.

Texas—Long lines waiting when polls opened in all sections.

Indiana—Prospective record vote.

Georgia—Voting so heavy in larger cities that Atlanta sought extra voting machines but found none available.

Ohio—Heavy early vote.

State and congressional races, some of them as heated as the presidential contest, will help swell the vote total. Twenty-seven governors, 34 senators and all 47 U.S. representatives are also being elected today.

For months both presidential candidates have been shooting off an unprecedented display of spectacular fireworks.

Yet with the millions of words, often repeated over and over,

VICTORY SEEN

True to tradition, each man bravely predicted victory.

Most poll takers give Kennedy a slight edge, but rarely have so many predictions been hedged in so many directions.

The difficulty is simple. Scarcely a one of the 50 states can be rated safely in the bag for either Nixon or Kennedy. Big states like Illinois (57 electoral votes), Michigan (20), Pennsylvania (32) and Texas (24) are tossups.

With 269 electoral votes needed for victory, a slight switch in either direction could upset the most carefully calculated prediction.

Almost lost in the excitement over the presidential race are the contests for governors and for Congress.

Much of the attention in the gubernatorial races will center on Michigan, Kansas and Illinois.

In Michigan, Democrat G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams is stepping down after serving a record of six two-year terms. Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, 35, a Democrat, is running against Paul D. Ragwell, 47, a Michigan State University speech professor.

FIRST MEMBER

In Kansas, Democrat Gov. George Docking is trying to become the first member of his party to win three consecutive two-year terms in what once was a predominantly Republican state.

In Illinois, Republican Gov. William G. Stratton is shooting for his third four-year term. Otto Kerner hopes to beat him.

No matter how the presidential race goes, Democrats are expected to keep control of Congress.

This is especially true in the Senate.

Local Voter Turnout Heavy

Big Spring voters were turning out heavily in Tuesday's presidential election. A spot check of the seven city boxes at 11 a.m. indicated that at least a fourth of the total potential vote in the boxes had already been cast. A steady line of voters was drifting into the voting places at that hour.

Precinct officials estimated a grand rush, at the noon hour and again after 5 p.m. until the boxes close, would push the total vote in each of the boxes to near the number shown on poll tax records. Polls close at 7 p.m.

No out-of-the-ordinary developments were reported in the seven boxes visited. Counting of the ballots was said to be moving steadily.

There were reports a large number of voters were making mistakes in their voting procedure. Such mistakes will nullify their ballots in the election.

Some electioneering was in progress in the areas adjacent to the polls. Wayne Burns, county attorney, said he had heard complaints from some precincts that the campaign workers in a few cases had become overenthusiastic and moved closer to the voting place than is allowed by law. However, in the seven boxes checked, no such reports were heard.

Total vote in the seven boxes showed 2,202 voters had balloted. The total possible vote in the precincts as shown by the poll tax records is 9,465. Total voting strength of the county is 11,963.

City boxes checked at 11 a.m. showed:

Precinct No. 1 (North Side Fire Station) votes cast 187; total vote as shown on poll tax records 1,046.

Precinct No. 2 (Washington Place School) votes cast 259; total vote as shown by poll tax records 1,396.

Precinct No. 3 (Main Street Fire Station) votes cast 302; total vote as shown by poll tax records, 1,522.

Precinct No. 4 (City Hall Fire Station) votes cast 460; total vote as shown by poll tax records 2,394.

Precinct No. 5 (West Ward School) votes cast 253; total vote as shown on poll tax records 1,197.

Precinct No. 15 (Runnels Junior High School) votes cast 228; total vote as shown by poll tax records 928.

Precinct No. 16 (Park Hill School) votes cast 312; total vote shown by poll tax records 981.

Precinct officials said the commonest error voters are making in their ballots is failing to scratch out all of the candidates for the particular office with the exception of the one they favor. For example, there are four sets of candidates for president and vice president. Some voters are striking out one and then leaving the other three unchecked.

Despite the length of the ballot the counters were moving ahead at good speed, judges in the precincts said.

The special canvassing board, charged with counting the 640 absentee ballots cast, began counting votes at 8 a.m. Headquarters have been established in the offices of the Howard County commissioners for this task. This box should be the first to be completed and results posted.

Vandals Break 23 Windshields

Vandals went after car windshields with a vengeance Monday night, breaking 23 in two separate strikes with pellets.

The Auto Super Market, 905 W. 4th, was the scene of the largest amount of activity, with 22 windshields broken on cars standing on the lot. In addition, the vandals stripped one of the cars of its hub caps.

One car windshield was broken on the run in the vicinity of the Sands Restaurant on West U. S. 80. Jake Bruton told police that a pellet was hurled through his windshield from a caseload of young Latin-American boys.

A Devotional For Today

I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, it is more blessed to give than to receive. Acts 20:35.
PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we are thankful for Jesus estimate of the widow's two mites and His use of a lad's small loaves and fishes. We ask Thee to use what we bring to Thee. Most of all we bring ourselves. In Jesus' name Amen.
From The Upper Room

Trite But True

All across the nation, newspapers will just like us—publish editorials in which they will appeal to the people to close ranks now that the big campaign is over, and to march as Americans toward common goals of peace, strength and prosperity.

Make This Paramount Now

This is a critical week for our United Fund. It is a week in which we may press so near to our total goal that success will be well within sight. It could be a week in which, if we falter, that we will be obliged to regroup and pressing a task that simply must, if humanity possible, be accomplished.

Holmes Alexander First Task For New President

WASHINGTON—On election day with many ballots uncashed and recounted, there is no better time to speak of the most intricate and difficult problem that the new President will face. It is not that the campaign has sometimes falsely seemed to show the problem of "standing up to Communist dictators in Russia, China or Cuba" it is not getting to be the matter of bringing about nuclear disarmament or winning majorities in the U.S. General Assembly. The single factor which most closely affects every American is some thing called the financial health of the United States.

NEVER BEFORE in the histories of most living Americans has this matter ever been a problem. Never in the 200 years since the United States was founded and foreign businessmen shown any hesitancy to accept the American dollar as sound money. But today there are signs which government and private financiers have detected in West Europe, India, Hong Kong and Thailand—signs pointing to a skepticism about the ability of the United States to make good on the monetary promises which men live by.

I HAVE PURPOSELY postponed this column till election day. The subject of money is difficult to discuss, explain, or understand. To inject it into a Presidential campaign seemed ill-advised. But by now the American people have made their choice between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy. Nothing that happened in the campaign is irreparable. None of the promises really stands for much. The question from now on is what the new President will do—or just what he will say—to restore the financial world's confidence in the value of the American dollar. There are three things to be done as soon as possible by the President-elect.

1. He must not merely speak favorably of budget-balancing. He must determine how he intends to obtain the funds for running the Government. He may have to modify or postpone some projects. He may have to raise or reduce taxes. The one thing that he must not do is go further into debt or weaken our currency in any way.

2. HE MUST NOT merely ignore our losses in international trade. He must act to stem and reverse them. The situation is succinctly stated in the Federal Reserve Bulletin for October 1960 as follows:

"Net gold and dollar transfers were running at an annual rate of nearly $3 billion in the second quarter of 1960 and became larger during the summer. Outflow of U.S. capital and shifts of foreign private funds have tended to increase foreign official reserves more rapidly.

3. HE MUST FIND a way to reduce the cost of American goods so that they can compete with our allies and enemies in the world market. There is no sound way to do this except to increase our output in steel, new cars, wheat and other commodities that we export. To do this means that we must reduce the price of oil, gas, and other raw materials. It also means that we must reduce the price of labor. This is the most difficult task of all.

This does not mean a capitulation on principles or that you be inconsistent. This does not mean an abandonment of resistance or that you be unwise. This does not mean an unanimous consensus of one party or one man or his would be inconsistent and dangerous.

But it does mean that everyone can unite under the common objective of an America using as best it can the best of its destiny. Those on the majority side have an increased sense of leadership. Those in the minority are not so. The work of the Administration will be to see that the democratic approach to the exercising of a choice or the resolving of a problem.

Well, There's Always a Chance

WASHINGTON—The "other" opinion in today's press release section of the election is in the minds of the voters. It is the "other" opinion that says that there is a chance for a change in our foreign policy. It is the "other" opinion that says that there is a chance for a change in our economic policy. It is the "other" opinion that says that there is a chance for a change in our social policy. It is the "other" opinion that says that there is a chance for a change in our foreign policy.

WELL, THERE'S ALWAYS A CHANCE

James Marlow The Real Problem For The Voters

WASHINGTON—The "other" opinion in today's press release section of the election is in the minds of the voters.

The whole campaign—besides everything else I have said in this column—was centered on the question of the candidates themselves. It was their primary issue.

IN THE 1936 presidential race when Franklin D. Roosevelt ran against Alfred M. Landon, the United States was still in a situation. World War II was still on in sight, and foreign problems were just beginning to appear.

THEY MUST FIND a way to reduce the cost of American goods so that they can compete with our allies and enemies in the world market.

EXCEPT for the matter of enigma facing the country in all the elections of the last 20 years, including this one, it is in foreign affairs.

Around The Rim Maybe It Was A Close Shave

What you don't know won't hurt you, maybe. But when you find you shined walked through something uncatched which could have been disastrous, you can be considerably shook.

When one of the barbers did you were asked my friend: "I don't know the one who served the first hair."

I was spending a few days with the warden of the state penitentiary. I had not planned to be gone overnight and had failed to bring along shaving equipment.

GOOSE PIMPLES popped out at the memory. Sure, reason argued he just used one person. But said Terro he used a razor and shaved his victim's head.

Inez Robb Old Comedian Finds His Happiness

Writing for Acknowledging that Burt Berne, 52, was the most important thing I can walk into a bar or a club or a party. He said as though he were trying to measure himself—just in ten minutes somebody recognizes me and the next thing you know we're having a party.

HE AND A PARTNER—the Lone Palm Hotel in Palm Springs. Bert believed that with the success of Wheeler and Wootley, he released Bob Wootley and Alvin T. Jones. Bert's wife partner played a good and moral property stake, as she had in the past.

WHEN THE WIG came off, he took his bow. Bert Wheeler, 51, stands in tragedy in audience who never again might capture the glory of those famed movie days at Wheeler and Wootley.

THIS TALK was strange coming from a man whom I had known only as a funny little guy on the screen who would make me laugh harder than any of other guys.

WASHINGTON—The Nixon statement was laughable to those who understood how their neighboring countries the coup was financed and masterminded.

NEVERTHELESS, this unhappy exchange may have served a purpose if only it brought to the public focus what is certainly the most acute and immediate problem to confront a new administration.

WASHINGTON—From the election of a new president on November 4 in his inauguration on January 20, 1961, days will pass. Measured by the pace of events of a revolutionary era this is an infinity of time in which anything can happen.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clark Gable, recovering from a heart attack and deemed too sick to have any visitors except his wife, still plans to vote today.

He and his doctor made arrangements to sign papers that would get him an absentee ballot after the usual deadline.

Gable, 59, was stricken Sunday at his suburban Encino home. His condition was reported as satisfactory late Monday night.

His wife Kay, who is expecting a baby in March, is sleeping in Gable's room on a cot. His physician has prescribed at least three weeks hospitalization.

Mrs. Kay Gable has a word with her obstetrician, Dr. Michael Flynn, at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital where her husband, actor Clark Gable, is under treatment for a heart attack. Mrs. Gable is expecting a baby in March. Gable's condition was reported by his physician as "very satisfactory."

NBC Will Enlist New Wagon Chief

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Death of Ward Bond means NBC's popular "Wagon Train" will soon enlist a new wagon master.

Reports from the West Coast are that there are 16 new episodes of the Wednesday night show ready for showing, which will keep Bond in the cast until Feb. 20. During the next few days, however, some plan will have to be worked out to give the show a new wagon master. Will Robert Horton be transferred from scout to head man? Or will a new co-star be brought in?

Such a situation has arisen comparatively few times in television.

When Jack Webb's original partner in the early "Dragnet" series, Barton Yarborough, died suddenly of an embolism in 1951, a special episode was written quickly which had Joe Friday's partner, Ben Romero, shot and killed in line of duty. Later, Ben Alexander took over as Webb's co-star. Yarborough's death was handled on his radio show—he played Clifford Barbour on "One Man's Family" for years—by having the character unexpectedly leave for China for a protracted stay.

ABC coped with its current difficulties with James Garner, "Bret" of "Maverick," by replacing him with a new Maverick character — Cousin Beau — without loss of popularity to the program.

Timmy of "Lassie" has had three mothers (Jan Clayton, Cloris Leachman and, now, June Lockhart) and Danny Thomas has had two TV wives (Jean Hagen and Marjorie Lord). Usually, non-emergency shifts in casts are made between seasons as quietly as possible.

Flag At Half-Mast For Ward Bond

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The American flag flew at half-mast beneath a cloudy sky as last rites were said for actor Ward Bond, 55, who died of a heart attack Saturday in Dallas.

John Wayne, a chum of Bond's since college days said "It's the way he would have wanted it. There was no one who loved his country more."

The services were held Monday at the Field Photo Farm, a home for Purple Heart veterans in the San Fernando Valley community of Reseda.

Wayne was a pallbearer as were bearded Frank McGrath and Terry Wilson of Bond's "Wagon Train" TV series. Co-star Bob Horton sent condolences to Bond's widow.

Shivers Ends Campaign With Blast At Kennedy

AUSTIN (AP) — Allan Shivers climaxed his campaign for the Republican ticket Monday with a blistering attack on Sen. John Kennedy.

The former, longtime governor said the Democratic presidential nominee is an "ambitious, arrogant and ruthless young Boston millionaire whose political philosophy cannot be defined, principally because he has none."

Shivers addressed a cheering, placard-waving crowd at a Central Texas Nixon rally an unofficially estimated 2,000 persons attended. His speech was telecast statewide.

Before Shivers arrived the gathering joined in a sing-song only with these words "Send LBJ all the way, back to the Heart of Texas," subbed in.

"Nixon believes in the kind of government you and I believe in, a government that meets its responsibilities but stays out of the business and the social problems and the lives of its citizens as much as it possibly can," the Texan said.

No Solution In Air Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The ten day strike against Compania Mexicana de Aviacion (CMA) showed no indications of being solved, as negotiations between the ground personnel union and the management were resumed today.

A stewards strike which started on Oct. 29 was settled last Thursday, but the ground personnel strike which began Wednesday is still in effect.

After hearing demands by the union, the management of CMA said they were "absurd, stupid and from the bounds of reality."

The union is asking for a 30 per cent wage boost which would eventually be raised if an audit in the company's books shows profits.

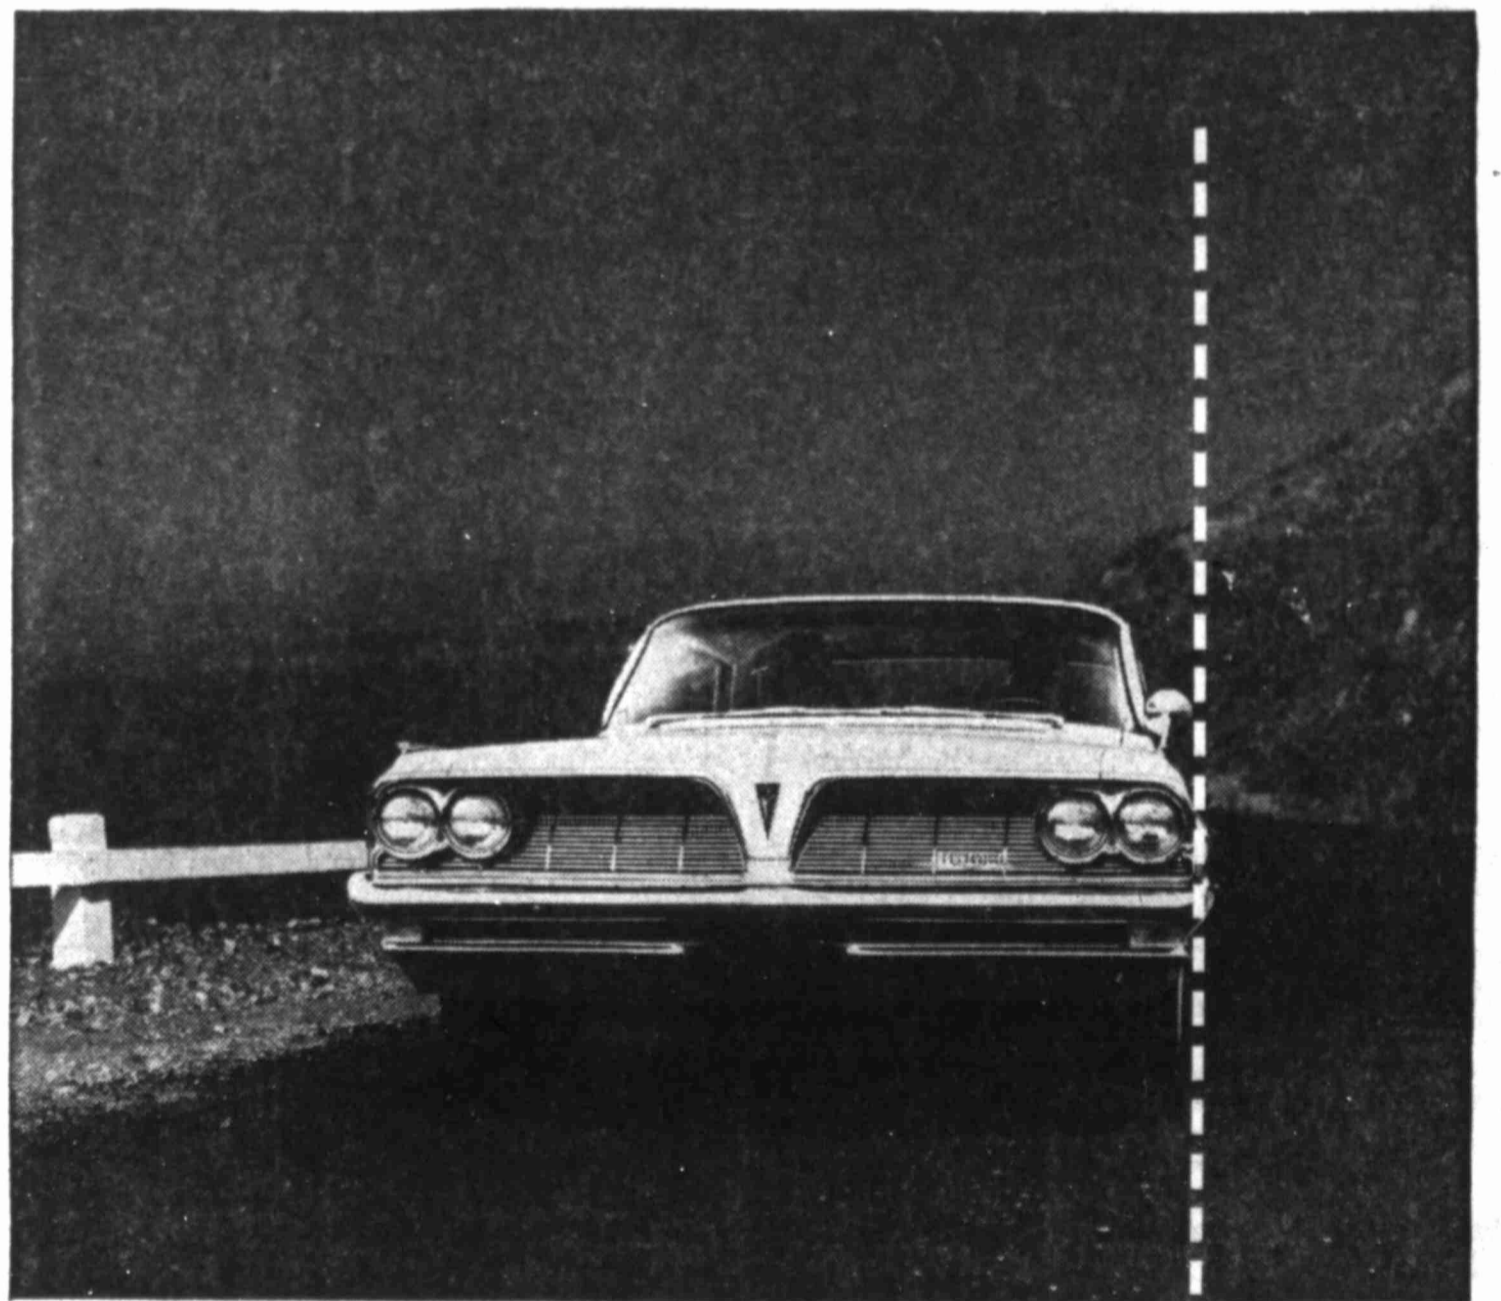

The company on the other hand says it has been operating in the red for the last few years.

Mexicana de Aviacion serves most Mexican cities and has international flights to Los Angeles, Chicago, San Antonio and Havana.

Daily Average Oil Production Rises

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Daily average production of crude oil and condensate increased 87,075 barrels to 6,925,260 barrels last week, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

The magazine's figures showed most of the principal producing states had parts in the gain, with Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana leading the way. Texas' output increased 28,625 barrels to 2,442,200. Oklahoma's was up 21,600 to 513,600 and Louisiana added 19,650 to 1,091,100.
