VETERAN'S DAY OBSERVANCE Ceremonies honor veterans, their sacrifices

200 Attend Veterans Day Program At VA Hospital Here

Nearly 200 persons met at the Veterans Administration Hospital this morning to participate in a special Veterans Day program sponsored jointly by the hospital and ex-servicemen's organizations. Opening ceremonies, including a band concert by the Big Spring High School band and raising of the flag by a Webb AFB color guard, were held on the grounds in front of the hospital. The group then moved inside for the remainder of the program. The high school band, under the direction of drum major Durwood Rutledge, presented a series of stirring, patriotic numbers for an appreciative audience of veterans. Following the invocation, which was given by Father Francis Beasley, St. Thomas Catholic Church, Chaplain C. O. Hitt, hospital chaplain, made the principal address. Chaplain Hitt expressed to the crowd the importance of veterans who served the United States in war time, stressing that the sacrifices they have made should never be forgotten. Veterans are everywhere, Chaplain Hitt said, reminding us of the struggle of our nation to remain free. The formal program was closed by V. J. Belda, hospital manager, who praised the cooperation of local groups with the service organizations on Veterans Day, and pointed to the patriotic music played by the high school band as exemplifying this spirit in the community. The program was followed by a social hour in the main recreation room of the hospital. Coffee and cookies were served by the American Legion Auxiliary and the World War I Veterans Auxiliary. Patients, members of the ex-servicemen's organizations, guests and hospital personnel filled the room. Special guests during the program were area Gold Star Mothers. The program was coordinated by a hospital committee and representatives of the service organizations. Members of the hospital committee included Phil Hanigan, chairman, Belda, Hays Bacus, Tolford Durham and Miss Bessie Love. Service representatives included Fred Eaker, World War I Baracks; Granville Miller and John Gregory, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Christine Horne, Fay Horton and R. R. McKinney, Disabled American Veterans; Joe Pendleton, American Legion; Mrs. Jessie Brown and Helen Guild, World War I Auxiliary; Mrs. Thelma Rea, American Legion Auxiliary.

To Meet Chief

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he will meet the new president of the United States next February.

Public Employes Division Is First UF Group To Push Over 90 Per Cent Mark

The public employes division of the United Fund became the first Wednesday to push over the 90 per cent mark in the drive toward its goal. Bruce Dunn's group of workers have reported in with a total of $16,337.43 for 90.8 per cent. The Wednesday report pushed the total goal up to $83,134.66 for 85 per cent of the goal. United Fund workers are pushing toward a $98,210 goal this year and are eight days ahead of last year's campaign. "This week is important to the campaign," President Randall Folk said Wednesday. "We must keep working hard to see that the goal is attained. A slow-down now could hurt the entire effort." Only $15,075.34 away from the top, workers are shooting for 90 per cent completion by the end of the week. The campaign supports 12 agencies, in whole or in part, who provide welfare and guidance needs of the city and county. Without this assistance, many of these agencies would be forced to curtail their activities. Howard County residents have never failed to meet these needs. The metropolitan division, which added new life to its drive this week by appointing a group of cleanup workers, moved up to 84.6

per cent of its goal. The division has collected $4,227.50 and still going strong. Mrs. O. S. Womack and James M. Hardy are chairmen of the two sections. The big gifts division is up to 87.3 per cent of its goal with $38,687.50. Doug Orme's division has maintained a fast pace throughout the drive. Larson Lloyd's division, special gifts, has reached 60.8 per cent of its goal with $9,141. The out-of-town division has reached 40.2 per cent according to chairman John Currie. Arnold Marshall's employes division has pushed its collection to $15,696.23 for 68.2 per cent.

Communist Giants Split On Reaction To Election

LONDON (AP)—The giants of the Communist world split today in their reaction to the election of John F. Kennedy. Moscow was friendly, Peking hostile. While most of the Free World looked to the U.S. president-elect for dynamic new leadership, Soviet Premier Khrushchev fired off a congratulatory telegram to Kennedy declaring readiness for "most friendly relations" and proposing negotiations on disarmament, Germany and other cold war issues. Khrushchev, who blamed President Eisenhower for the U2 incident and collapse of the Paris summit, said he hoped Soviet-American relations "will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time." Red China's official New China news agency, however, described the president-elect as a member of one of America's richest families and called him an advocate of military spending and war preparations. The comment made clear that the election has not altered Peking's hate-America policy. The differing Red reactions reflected the Moscow-Peking argument over peaceful coexistence—with Khrushchev holding that war is not inevitable because communism can triumph by peaceful competition, and the Red Chinese arguing that "just wars" are inevitable as long as capitalism exists. Moscow's Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, claimed American voters had rejected Vice President Richard M. Nixon because Republican policy had not conformed to "the interests of safeguarding peace." Moscow radio said some observers believed the new administration would make a "more realistic appraisal of the international situation." The election of the first Roman Catholic president was received with satisfaction at the Vatican. Pope John XXIII, in a congratulatory cable to Kennedy, prayed that "Almighty God may assist you" and expressed his good wishes to "the beloved American people." Along the coast of Ireland's County Wexford, from which Kennedy's great-grandfather emigrated during the famine of 1847, a chain of bonfires burned Wednesday night. The little town of Newross was gay with flags in celebration. Most Western newspapers viewed the election in the light of the cold war and looked to Kennedy to put new life in the Western alliance. "The big sleep ends" said a headline in London's conservative Daily Mail. Stockholm Expressen, Scandinavia's largest newspaper, said the tremendous task lies ahead of checking Communist advances and said the Free World hopes Kennedy "will be able to turn the tide." Cuba's government-controlled press gave the expected secondary and acid-treatment to the election. La Calle, referring to Kennedy and Nixon, said one candidate was "as much a bandit as the other." But many Latin-American newspapers expressed the hope a new administration would give more attention to their national problems. Mexico City's Diario de la Tarde said Latin America expects a sort of Marshall Plan. The Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, who had favored Vice President Nixon for his stand on Quemoy and Matsu, put on a brave face at the Kennedy election. President Chiang Kai-shek and other officials sent congratulations, and Formosa newspapers said no basic change in America's China policy would result. Japan's multimillion-circulation dailies expressed hope for new energy and flexibility in Washington. Asahi, the largest, said the Kennedy victory was recognition of the need to "re-establish America's international leadership on a new foundation." The election results were received indifferently in much of the Middle East.

Kennedy To Pick Aide As Liaison With Ike

Jack's Vote Margin Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record voter turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence. With counting continuing in California and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes—31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes. Eight electors in Mississippi and six in Alabama were not committed. But in the popular vote, Kennedy held a margin of less than 325,000 votes in a tally of more than 66 million for the major party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come on less than a majority of the popular vote cast. His 50.2 per cent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Grover Cleveland race in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman. U.N. LEGATE Any of these, and particularly Stevenson, might be named by Kennedy as American ambassador to the United Nations. Henry Cabot Lodge resigned this post after holding it for seven and one-half years to make the unsuccessful race for vice president on Nixon's ticket. Kennedy will have to decide whether to go himself or send an agent to the mid-December NATO meeting in Paris. Herter, and possibly Eisenhower, will attend. It is considered likely that Robert Kennedy, the president-elect's brother, will fill a top advisory post in the new administration. He may be active in liaison work with the outgoing GOP administration. Robert Kennedy, who served as his brother's campaign manager, said Wednesday the senator couldn't have won the election if it had not been for the four nationally televised debates with Nixon during the campaign. The Democratic candidate was helped by his appearance and the manner in which he handled himself, Kennedy said. He added that the TV debates "pulled the rug out" from under Nixon's argument that his opponent was too immature for the White House.

CHANGE OVER

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20. Foreseeing a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said Wednesday that "there is general agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s." "All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world." Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present lineup. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

NEW SENATE

Tuesday's election provided a Senate makeup of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 65-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 257 members and the Republicans 175. The old lineup, including vacancies, was 283-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their statehouse total to 34—their highest since 1938. Of the 27 state posts at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration. But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state. Among those mentioned for this role are Adlai E. Stevenson, Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the

Leaders Set For Switch Without Kinks

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President-elect Kennedy conferred with his aides today about the selection of a representative to act as liaison with President Eisenhower's aides. Kennedy had not yet replied to Eisenhower's telegram on the question of "the orderly transfer of executive responsibility." Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said "we expect to have the answer some time today." It is the normal procedure for the president-elect to name a representative to keep in touch with the administration in the period between the election and the inauguration on Jan. 20. Salinger said Eisenhower's telegram was received late Wednesday afternoon. The text of it was released in Augusta, Ga. at 10 a.m. today.

BUDGET, HERTZ

Eisenhower also suggested liaison meetings with the director of the Bureau of the Budget and Secretary of State Herter. Kennedy also was studying a telegram from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. At the same time, Kennedy's aides were working out arrangements for him to go to Palm Beach, Fla., to rest for 10 days to two weeks. Salinger said Kennedy might leave Hyannis Port, his summer home, on Friday. "His plans probably will be completed today," Salinger said. Khrushchev's telegram appeared to indicate a desire for direct discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on the most dangerous world problems.

WORLD PEACE

"I think you will agree that the eyes of many people are fixed on the United States and the Soviet Union because the destinies of world peace depend largely on the state of Soviet-American relations," Khrushchev said. He referred to disarmament and the question of a peace treaty with Germany as major questions. "We are ready, for our part, to continue efforts to solve such pressing problems," Khrushchev messaged.

He congratulated Kennedy on winning the presidency and said "We hope that while you are at this post the relations between our countries will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time." Salinger said the message when delivered to Hyannis Port was in Russian.

RUSSIAN EXPERT

"The senator is bringing a Russian expert here to make our own translation" he said. "Then when he has studied it he will answer." Last May 16, when the summit conference collapsed in Paris, Khrushchev strongly indicated that he thought further conferences on cold war questions must await the election of a successor to Eisenhower.

On the matter of "orderly transition of government" the procedure is for the president-elect to appoint a representative to meet regularly with administration officials on current developments. This representative keeps the incoming president advised. Kennedy said he would "announce within 24 hours arrangements with the administration with regard to the transitions." But he said he would make no arrangements of appointments to his administration before Thanksgiving. The senator also called a conference today with his brother Robert and other key personnel in his staff to prepare for his new administration.

CRMWA Gets Lamesa Payment

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa City Council called for bids on two new police cars and authorized an expenditure to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. The two new vehicles will replace two 1960 models, which have almost 60,000 miles recorded. Bids will be opened at the next meeting of the council on Nov. 21. Based on a contribution of 10 cents per water meter, the council authorized a $428.90 donation to CRMWA for operating expenses and was the last of the 11 member cities to provide their share. Lee Roy Colgan, county agent, was reappointed to a four-year term on the city park board and a Christmas party was authorized for city employes.

Cadet Injured In Plane Crash

A-C William F. Wesson, 20, member of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, suffered a broken back when the T-33 training jet which he was flying crashed and burned at noon today.

The accident occurred 11 miles southwest of Garden City. Cadet Wesson was forced to eject and parachute from the plane after a flame out at 7,000 feet. A helicopter was dispatched from Webb immediately following word of the mishap.

Cadet Wesson's condition had not been definitely ascertained at 1:30 p.m.

Lt. Mike C. Brasington, instructor pilot, in the lead aircraft said the four planes were descending in formation. At about 7,000 feet altitude, Cadet Wesson reported his engine had failed. He attempted to make an air start but was unsuccessful. Wesson ejected from the jet.

Lt. Brasington said he saw the plane crash and burn in an isolated location.

One-Way Signs Being Installed

The first signs of the new one-way street system, which goes into effect downtown Monday, were in evidence today. City crews began erecting the signs which will designate the flow of traffic.

The signs are all covered with paper which will be removed Sunday at midnight, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

At corners where the streets begin the one-way flow, signs read "begin one-way," Dunn said. Other signs have arrows pointing in the direction of the traffic movement flow. Still others read, "one-way, do not enter." About 75 signs will be erected.

One-way street changes include Scurry, which will be one-way south from 8th to 1st; Rummels, south from 1st to 8th; 2nd, east from Gregg to Johnson; 5th, west from Johnson to Gregg. Dunn said that crews would begin painting new stripes, marking the angle of parking, Saturday. "Motorists should not let this confuse them, however," he said. Parking will be as usual Saturday and Sunday.

No. 7 Is Delayed

T&P train No. 7 was about four hours late arriving in Big Spring this morning, due to a wreck east of Ranger. Nine freight cars were derailed there Wednesday evening and crews worked through the night clearing the right-of-way. No. 7 got through about 10 a.m. this morning and was due a little after 5 o'clock.

Better Late Than Never

W. L. Wallace heads weather hint left by community's first frost and adds anti-freeze to this car's radiator. The temperature dipped to 25 degrees this morning.

County Has Its First Freeze Of The Season

Howard County had its first freezing weather of the 1960 fall season Wednesday night. It was almost on the nose for the average freezing date for this section. The average date is Nov. 7.

The temperature dropped steadily during the early part of Tuesday night until it touched 25 degrees at 3 a.m. The subfreezing cold held on steadily through 8 a.m. At that hour it was 28 degrees—still four degrees below freezing.

Fundamentally, it was just what the doctor ordered. The farmers were elated. The freeze will pop open stubborn cotton bolls which have held off and will hasten the wind up of the cotton harvest.

Only damage will be to cotton planted as late as July and to belated feed crops. Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent, said that there was comparatively little cotton and feed in this category in the county. The benefits from the frost in opening the last of the cotton will offset any damage to the other crops, he feels.

The frost, hanging on for three or four hours, will also defoliate the plants. The leaves should begin to fall off within three or four days. This will bring an end to the need for artificial defoliation in the fields where strippers are being used.

The 25 degree low of last night comes close to the all time record for cool weather in this area. The coldest Nov. 10 on record was 19 years ago. The reading on that date was 23 degrees. In 1957, snow fell in Big Spring on Nov. 10 but the temperature did not get as low as last night. The high for Wednesday, according to the U. S. Experiment Station, was 59 degrees. This compares with the hottest Nov. 10 on the books—87 degrees back in 1917.

Jack's Legislation Faces Tough Hurdles

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's promised package of economic-welfare measures will face a number of tough hurdles in the first session of the 87th Congress.

But the new chief executive also will have several things in his favor as he tries to put through four proposals which he repeatedly told his campaign crowds would be high on the agenda of a Kennedy administration.

The four are minimum wage liberalization, a medical care program tied to the Social Security system, federal aid to education, and depressed areas legislation.

These have been debated for years; all were hot issues in the last Congress, but failed of enactment because of vetoes or a legislative snarl or just plain lack of votes.

his drive to win passage of the measures will be:

1. The closeness of his popular vote victory, which foes of the measures can interpret as meaning he has no mandate for his program.

2. The falling off of Democratic majorities in both Senate and House.

3. The stiff opposition of many groups and particular economic interests to the four measures; this has contributed heavily to their defeat so far.

4. The likelihood of a continued conservative Democratic-Republican majority on the House Rules Committee. This body has wide roadblock powers, but efforts may be made to trim these when the new Congress meets.

CREDIT SIDE

On the credit side:

1. The important powers of a new president, which Kennedy has had a chance to study from the congressional viewpoint for 14 years. These include the appointive power and the job of drawing up the federal budget with all its far-reaching ramifications.

2. The affirmative White House leadership which Kennedy will give in behalf of the measures, in contrast to President Eisenhower's opposition to them.

3. The switch in the chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee from conservative Rep. Graham Barden D-N.C., to liberal Rep. Adam Clayton Powell R-N.Y. This committee handles the wage and school bills. Barden is retiring from Congress.

Depressed areas legislation would seem to have the best chance of quick action in the 1961 session. Democrats got such a measure through in 1958 and 1960 but Eisenhower each time killed it with a veto.

JOBLESS AREAS

The legislation is designed to help areas of high and chronic unemployment attract new industries with federal loans, grants and technical aid.

Both branches passed minimum wage bills this year but the House measure offered much less than the Senate bill which Kennedy sponsored.

This legislation then died in conference when a conservative House delegation led by Barden refused to accept any liberalizations in the House measure.

Both House and Senate also passed differing education bills in the 1960 session, but no action resulted because the House Rules Committee refused to let them go to conference.

The question of writing a medical care program into Social Security stirred one of the biggest fights of the 1960 session.

In the end Congress rejected this and instead increased greatly the federal share of medical costs under the public assistance program for indigent persons.

But the Senate vote against the Social Security proposal was close and several Democrats said they favored the alternative because Eisenhower had indicated he would veto the Social Security plan. They said they expected medical benefits to be added to Social Security when the time was ripe.

The new Senate will be 64-36 Democratic instead of 66-34 as in the past Congress. In the House, the Democrats apparently lost a net of 22 seats. With 5 races undecided, the lineup so far for the 87th Congress is 257-175 Democratic as compared with 283-154 in the 86th.

K Changes Tune, Angles With Jack

Editor's Note: A message from Soviet Premier Khrushchev to President-elect John F. Kennedy offers sharply in tone from some of Khrushchev's previous remarks. The possible significance is assessed in this interpretive article by John M. High, senior AP writer on diplomatic affairs.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is already maneuvering for a summit conference with President-elect John F. Kennedy. He has begun with soft words and this probably signifies a lull in the cold war for the next several months.

Western diplomats here agree that Khrushchev's interest in resuming negotiations looking to a new summit meeting was behind the unusual message of congratulations which he dispatched to Kennedy Wednesday.

The Khrushchev message, made public in Moscow was notably free of some of the critical remarks he directed toward Kennedy before the election.

On one occasion he said that Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon were both "lackeys of monopoly capital." He also called them "a pair of boots," asking "which is better, the right or the left boot?"

OLD-TIME PEACE

In his congratulations to Kennedy, Khrushchev called for a return to the kind of Soviet-U.S. relations which existed in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a time when the two countries were allied against Nazi Germany. But he went beyond that reference to the past.

He declared that in the interest of world peace the Soviet Union is ready "to continue the efforts to solve such a pressing problem as disarmament, to settle the German issue through the earliest conclusion of a peace treaty and to reach agreement on other questions."

"Any steps in this direction," he said in a sentence that could embrace both summit and diplomatic negotiations, "will always meet with the full understanding and support of the Soviet government."

Kennedy during the campaign declared himself willing to go to the summit but only on condition that "there is some reason to believe that a meeting of minds can be obtained on either Berlin, outer space, or general disarmament—including nuclear testing."

BUILDING STRENGTH

For the period immediately after the next president takes office Jan. 20 Kennedy said the president should focus on building up United States strength because "the Soviet Union does not understand strength."

Neither in Kennedy's statement before the election nor in Khrushchev's new message is there any hint of changes in basic United States or Soviet policy.

Khrushchev has said repeatedly that he wants a peace treaty signed separately by East and West Germany, whereas the United States stands firm on a peace treaty signed by a united Germany. Khrushchev wants the western Allies to pull out of West Berlin. Kennedy, like Eisenhower, has pledged firm U.S. support for the continued independence of West Berlin from Communist rule.

What the friendly wording of the Khrushchev message does seem to mean is that the Soviet leader is prepared to resume active broadscale negotiations with a new U.S. administration on a variety of problems.

New President Can Look Forward To War Of Nerves

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

On the international front, the president-elect can look forward to a monumental battle of nerves with the Kremlin.

The Communist leadership will waste no time in sizing up its new antagonist and laying its plans accordingly. And there are many signs to indicate that their principal weapon in the developing battle will be the use of fear.

During much of President Eisenhower's administration, the Kremlin attempted a "peace" approach. It failed to work, principally because an overdose of peaceful words and gestures produced towering problems within the Communist camp itself.

Now, while they wait for the new American president to take office in January, Soviet cold war strategists indicate they are thinking that by exploiting European, Asian, African and Latin-American fears of nuclear war, it may be possible to isolate the United States from the rest of the world and remove existing obstacles from the path of Red global expansion.

The Soviet shock approach in the opening weeks of the U. N. General Assembly session suggested Moscow might rely on a swiftly developing fear offensive aimed at keeping a new U. S. administration baffled and off balance.

The immediate objects probably would be to force a special U. N. Assembly meeting — outside the United States—attended by heads of government, in an attempt to remove some of the inhibitions and prohibitions in the way of new expansionist moves.

The Kremlin leaders may have assigned Nikita Khrushchev the task of creating an atmosphere of apprehension at the United Nations that would explain his theatrical performance and violent torrent of threats.

If creation of such a mood was the purpose, Khrushchev did the job. Among apprehensive delegates representing the vast majority of the U. N. members—warmer nations caught in the middle by the giants' cold war—the impression was created that something had to be done to placate the Kremlin, or else.

How can the Kremlin use terror as a weapon in an offensive against a new U. S. administration? The U. N. performance suggested some examples.

Fear and the United Nations structure.

The U. N. peace-making machinery has annoyed the Russians ever since Korea, in areas like Laos in southeast Asia and the Congo in Africa. It might get in the way again.

Back To Jail

With her eyes downcast, Carol Tregoff leaves the courtroom in Los Angeles and heads back to jail after the jury in the second murder trial of Miss Tregoff and Dr. R. Bernard Finch failed to reach a verdict. The jury in the first trial also failed to reach a verdict in the murder trial of the doctor and his sweetheart. They were charged with murder in the death of Finch's wife, Barbara.

Partial Verdict In Finch Trial To Be Probed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The district attorney will investigate reports by three jurors that the Finch murder trial jury No. 2 reached a partial verdict once but was directed by the judge to continue deliberating. Three jurors said the panel agreed after a week and a half to convict Dr. R. Bernard Finch of second-degree murder and to declare itself deadlocked on the murder charge against Carol Tregoff.

They said Judge Le Roy Dawson sent word, on being told of their agreement, that they should continue to try to agree on a verdict against Miss Tregoff. The defendants are accused in the gunshot death of Finch's wife last year. The jury was discharged Monday after saying it was deadlocked. The first trial of the physician and his ex-mistress also ended in a deadlock.

Lyndon Plans A Rest Today

AUSTIN (AP)—Vice-President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson planned to rest today after the strenuous, hard-fought campaign that swept the Democratic party into the White House.

Johnson said Wednesday it would be presumptuous of him to try to advise Texans on whom they will name to succeed him as U.S. Senator. The tall Texan captured both the vice presidency and re-election as the state's senior senator in Tuesday's General Election.

Johnson said he has not yet decided when he will resign. He denied earlier reports that he had said he would delay his resignation until the new Congress is organized in January.

In a victory statement televised nationally, Johnson said: "A mature and responsible people have turned to courageous leadership and have declared that they are willing to face squarely the problems of our modern world. Our country has been the winner in this election."

"This election demonstrates our country's willingness to move beyond the divisions of the past into a new era of national unity. No American harbors in his heart any malice that would prevent our moving together as one people to face the urgent demands of world leadership during the next four years."

Gov. Price Daniel has not indicated whom he might name to succeed Johnson in the Senate, pending the results of a special election. Johnson said he looks forward to sharing with President-Elect John F. Kennedy "a partnership of service to America and to the world in an administration that pledges itself to working for the greatest good to the greatest number."

Must Have Been Really Unhappy

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential victory seemed imminent, a woman called the Chattanooga News-Free Press and demanded: "Why aren't all of the votes in the states recounted?" She was told that the figures were rechecked constantly for accuracy. "I don't just want them rechecked," she declared. "I want them changed."

More Energy

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Zenzo Kosaka Wednesday predicted a more energetic but basically unchanged U.S. foreign policy under the presidency of Democrat John F. Kennedy. The opposition Socialists said Kennedy's victory probably would make it easier for them to realize the neutralist policy that they want Japan to adopt.

Wind Up Play Friday

Cautious Longhorns Await TCU Battle

By The Associated Press

Texas is playing all the angles in its effort to beat Texas Christian Saturday and thus stay in the Southwest Conference race. The Longhorns don't plan to get caught short this time like they did last season when they came out in short-sleeved jerseys with snow on the ground. They lost 14-9. So when cold weather came Wednesday, Coach Darrell Royal said his Longhorns would take their long-sleeved jerseys along for use if the weather is bad at Fort Worth Saturday.

sophomore guard Johnny Treadwell and regular fullback Ray Poague out with hurts. Texas Christian had its quarterbacks limping with knee hurts but they were expected to be able to play. The quarterbacks, Sonny Gibbs and Don George, took part in a 90-minute workout. The Rice-Texas A&M game at Houston Saturday may have a field of players on the sidelines. Fullback Roland Jackson, tackle George Karam and end Bill Simmons were out of action at Rice. Aggie Coach Jim Myers called off contact work because of so many injuries. Back Jim Murphy and punter Babe Craig won't be able to play and back Sam Bvergard, Wayne Labar, tackle George Hogan and end Ralph Smith may not see action. Arkansas, which meets Southern Methodist at Fayetteville, had end Les Letsinger and guard Paul Henderson on the doubtful list. Southern Methodist had four players on the ailing list, fullback Gene Sherman, halfback Glynn Gregory, end Pat Neill and guard Bobby Hunt. Baylor and Texas Tech play inter-sectional games. The Bears meet Southern California in Waco and Coach John Bridgers was sharpening up his aerial attack in view of the fact that the Trojans would throw a 227-pound line against the 206-pound Bears. Texas Tech plays Wyoming at Lubbock and Coach DeWitt Weaver worried because the Wyoming defense was No. 1 in the nation.

Gophers' Brown Wins AP Award

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Strange things happen to Minnesota football rivals when a restless mauler named Tom Brown looms in view. "Brown," smiled Gopher Coach Murray Warmath, "affects people that way." He affected Iowa so painfully Saturday that the Hawkeyes lurched and foundered, lost their big game to Minnesota 27-10 and surrendered No. 1 rank in the nation to the Gophers. For his work, Brownie was named the Associated Press lineman of the week. Brown, a 240-pound guard, is so tough his reputation alone bothers people. In the Iowa game center Bill Van Buren snapped his center pass two feet over the head of punter John Calhoun and Minnesota had a touchdown two plays later. Brown makes no claim that Bill got a little edgy bracing for the Gopher lineman's charge. "But you're not human if you don't worry with Brownie looking down your throat," a teammate said. Against Iowa the 23-year-old former Navy policeman sealed off the middle on defense, helped protect the flanks, opened the road for numerous gains and delivered the most spectacular defensive play of the game. On that one he hurled lineman Iowa Bill Decidino into quarterback Wilburn Hollis to break up a play on the 5-yard line and force Iowa into a field goal attempt.

Crain Leader With 66 Pts.

Gary Crain, big fullback for the Odessa Permian Panthers, is well on his way toward becoming the individual scoring champion in District 2-AAAA.

Through eight games, Crain has a total of 66 points, which came as the result of eight touchdowns, one field goal and 15 extra points. Crain leads the second place boy, Eric Moore of Midland, by 14 points. Third in the derby is Richard Keller of Permian, who has 48 points.

Maris Says: NY In 1961

By SKIPPER PATRICK
RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP) — Roger Maris, the American League's most valuable player for 1960, brushed aside comment on his award today with the declaration that the New York Yankees "should go on and win it again next year."

A four-year major league veteran, Maris edged Yankee teammate outfielder Mickey Mantle by only three points—225 to 222—in the voting of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Ten players were included in the voting, announced Wednesday, with 14 points awarded for first place, nine for second, eight for third, and so on.

Asked how he felt about beating out Mantle—most valuable in 1956 and 1957—the Yankee outfielder said: "I'm just happy I won it. I thought it was possible but I wasn't sure."

Maris, 26, celebrated his fourth year in the majors—Cleveland one year and Kansas City two before becoming a Yankee—by leading the American League in runs batted in (112) and slugging percentage (.581). He batted .233 and hit 39 home runs, one fewer than title-winning Mantle.

It was the second closest contest in history of the award, started in 1932. The tightest one was in 1947 when Joe DiMaggio edged Ted Williams 202-201.

BILL AMONG FAVORITES

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Billy Maxwell of Texas was one of the favorites today as the $10,000 Mexican National Open started over the 6,738-yard par 72 Chapultepec golf course.

Maxwell, champion in 1958, still holds the record—264—for this tournament.

Spain's Angel Miguel is the defending champion and is among the players picked to take down the $2,000 first prize.

There will be 104 players in the field.

Bull Leige Races In Park Feature

EL PASO—Bull Leige, one of the top three-year-old standouts and threat for the approaching Texas Derby, matches strides with older horses here Saturday for his second start of the season in the featured El Paso Elks Club Purse. The race carries a purse value of $1,700 and will be contested at 6 1/4 furlongs.

The handsome chestnut property of the Reynolds Brothers of Fort Worth has been training smartly for his second start and will be saddled by Wayne Locklear, subbing for his ailing brother Clyde. A gelded son of Akbar-Copper Pail, Bull Leige was a fast closing second to Masud in the New Mexico Handicap and is being pointed for the Texas Derby December 18. At Sunland last year he won two six-furlong sprints in the splendid time of 1:09 2/5. His regular rider Leo Rosendahl will be aboard with a 112-pound package.

In his last effort, Berto Barbone smashed the 5 1/4-furlong track record in the Twin Farms Purse and will undoubtedly be a formidable contender in the Elks Club contest. Owned and trained by Dick Orr of Albuquerque, the four-year-old gelding has proven a definite liking for the Sunland "magic carpet" and can be counted on to be in the thick of it despite his 117-pound impost. Jockey Claude Davis will be at the helm.

Dark horse of the race appears to be the recent invader Malaysia, three-year-old flash of Lone Star Stable, who won his last start at Hawthorne in Chicago on Sept. 8. Son of the famous sire Polyneesian, Malaysia drew the number four post and will be handled by Louis Meaux.

Trainer Hubert Vincent is sending out the vastly improved Mac Mulken, who will be looking for his first win of the season. He was a charging second to Yes More in the El Paso Handicap at the 6 1/4-furlong distance in which he turned back the highly regarded Spinney and Blanter.

Others in the six-horse field include Divining Rod, and Wish U Well.

'Voice Of The Texans' Here

Local Keglers In Tournament

Three local keglers will take part in the Texas All-Star Bowling Eliminations at Lubbock this weekend.

They are Elton Kelley, who has a 187 average; Sugar Brown, 180; and Dot Hood, 190.

The meet is being held in this portion of Texas for the first time. It will be alternated between two kegling centers, Lubbock Bowl and Q's Bowl.

Winners will be determined by total pin fall. Six women and 14 men will qualify for the finals and scoring will be done through the Peterson Point System.

The three top women and eight top men entries will qualify for the National All-Star Tournament, which will be held in San Bernardino, Calif., in January. They will receive their expenses paid to the meet.

The meet at Lubbock starts Friday and continues through Sunday.

Six-Man Playoff Game To Be Set

Representatives of Flower Grove and Blackwell schools will meet at Colorado City Monday night to discuss the site and time for their six-man football playoff game.

Flower Grove looms as the District 7-B representative while Blackwell is the 8-B winner.

Big Spring has been mentioned as a possible site for the game. Winner of the contest would go into regional finals, which is as far as six-man play is carried.

Jack Mitchell Credited With Jack Hadl's Move

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Give Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell credit for one of the smartest moves of the 1960 college football season when he shifted John Hadl from halfback to quarterback.

The move was made last spring when Mitchell was faced with the loss of his only signal-caller, Duane Morris Hadl, who made the 1959 all Big Eight team as a halfback, did such a good job then, and in pre-season training that Mitchell never hesitated in keeping him at quarterback.

What has it accomplished? The Jayhawks, now banned by the NCAA from post-season competition in football for a year, still have a chance to take the Big Eight title. They have an overall 4-2-1 record, with the losses coming from Syracuse, when the Orange was considered the nation's top-ranked team, and Iowa, when the Hawkeyes were No. 1.

In the conference, Kansas is undefeated with a 4-1 record. Missouri is the conference leader with 5-0.

And behind all of this is the artistry of Hadl, a 19-year-old, 191-pound junior from Lawrence, Kan., home town of K.U.

He presently leads the team in passing, punting, kickoff returns, scoring, is second in rushing and punt returns and even has caught a couple of passes for 18 yards.

Minnesota's top-ranked Gophers have linebacker Billy Kauth back from the injured list for this week's game against Purdue. Southern Cal's quarterback, Bill Nielsen is a doubtful starter against Baylor because of a fractured finger. Ben Charles may start.

Mike Lind, a fullback, returned from Notre Dame's injury list but is not expected to play Saturday night in Miami. Texas will be without fullback Ray Poage and halfback Jack Collins against Texas Christian.

Three local junior high school football contingents will see action for the final time this year tonight. Runnels Junior High School sends its Ninth Graders to San Angelo for a return game with Lee. Lee belted the locals by three touchdowns in a hastily-arranged game here last week.

Two of Gotland Junior High School squads go to Snyder for outings with Travis Junior High.

The Eighth Graders play at 6:30 p.m. and the Ninth Graders at 7:30 o'clock.

All other junior high school clubs here have ended their campaigns.

1-Handed End A Real Whiz

NASHVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Franklin Luke is pretty much like any personable young high school athlete you'd meet, except for one thing. His left arm ends just above the wrist.

Usually this would be enough to discourage anyone from pursuing such two-handed sports as football and basketball.

But the farm boy, at 17, is the first string end on the Berrien County High School football team and is one of their most dangerous offensive weapons.

In his latest outing, Luke nabbed a pass with his handsless arm and ran for a touchdown. The play covered 35 yards.

Before losing his hand in a hay baler accident three years ago, young Luke appeared destined for a fine career in basketball.

Fish Teams Meet

HOUSTON (AP)—The Rice and Texas A&M freshmen teams clash tonight and a crowd of 25,000 is expected. Proceeds go to the Good Samaritan Foundation drive to provide scholarships for student nurses.

Plans Offered For 4-H Club Horse Program

An attempt will be made tonight to initiate a Quarter Horse program for members of the Howard County 4-H clubs.

Timmy Taylor, county agent, said that members of the organization will meet in the county court room at 7:30 p.m. to see a film on Quarter Horses and to discuss the possibility of a program for 4-H club members in that area.

Whether the organization will develop will depend on the interest displayed. However, Taylor said, persons with whom he has discussed the idea are enthusiastic. If the program is started, it will be the first such activity among 4-H members in the state insofar as Taylor knows.

The plan would involve the 4-H member buying a Quarter Horse. Later, there would be shows and sales as a part of the activity.

Taylor said that anyone interested in Quarter Horses would be welcome to attend the meeting. He added that the film, prepared by the Quarter Horse association, is of special interest.

Officers Due Back Here Today

Congo Debate Held Up; West Goes Into Parleys

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Sudden suspension of the Congo debate at Wednesday's Assembly session, Ghana ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey urged postponement until a 15-member Asian-African commission makes an attempt to resolve the differences between the rival Congolese politicians. The commission is expected to leave for the Congo next week.

Levelland College To Dedicate New Dormitories

LEVELLAND—South Plains College at Levelland announces the dedication of three new dormitories Sunday. The new dormitories, entitled respectively Frazier, Spencer and Stroud Hall, are of brick construction and feature complete air-conditioning. Open house for all buildings begins at 1 p.m.

Ceremonies, featuring an address by Congressman George Mahon, representative of 19th Congressional District, will begin at 2:30 p.m. on the campus. A flag raising ceremony will be featured by this year's first appearance of the Tex-Anns, South Plains drill team, with the college band also scheduled to perform. The Hockey County Sheriff's posse will present the flag and the honor guard will be the Levelland Unit of the Texas National Guard. The Faculty Women's Club will host a reception for all guests and visitors to the campus immediately following the ceremony.

South Plains College opened in the fall of 1958 with five new brick buildings and approximately 230 day students, now has a total enrollment of 414 day students which makes it one of the fastest growing junior colleges in the nation. The evening school and adult programs have enrolled several hundred students each semester.

by the Soviet bloc, pushed through a surprise motion to hold up the Congo debate at Wednesday's Assembly session. Ghana ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey urged postponement until a 15-member Asian-African commission makes an attempt to resolve the differences between the rival Congolese politicians. The commission is expected to leave for the Congo next week.

Nigeria's Jaja Wachuku, supporting the Ghana motion, contended "any debate and muddling here will result only in making the work of that commission impossible."

The United States tried unsuccessfully to delay a vote on the Ghana motion but it was carried 48-30, with 18 abstentions.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said later that the Congo debate can be reopened at any time. But he said the United States has not decided whether it would make such a move.

At one point in Wednesday's debate, Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny was interrupted by deaf thumping from the Communist and Ghanaian delegations. It was the first such display since Soviet Premier Khrushchev left the Assembly.

Seven floats will develop the Veteran's Day theme. Other elements in the parade include the Dyess AFB color guard, the National Guard's color guard, the Colorado High School and Junior High School bands, the Loraine High School band, the Woodson High School band of Abilene and the Western Riding Club.

Creighton White, assistant city attorney at Odessa, is to be the speaker at the assembly program. Prior to going to Odessa, White was associated with the district attorney in Waxahachie for two years. After his graduation from CHS in 1945, he served in the Army medical corps and infantry, and obtained his law degree from the University of Texas law school in 1958. He is a member of the Jaycees and Optimist clubs.

Candidates for homecoming queen are Betty Gilbert, Gayle Williams, Gayle Feaster, Sue Blackard, Betty Lloyd and Mary Ann Merritt.

Status Clarified

In the account of a federal district court action against A. R. Collins, former Big Spring drugist, in Abilene Tuesday, reference by character witnesses that he was an elder in the Church of Christ was in error. Mr. Collins pointed out that this was not the case and that he does not wish to involve the church in any way. Mr. and Mrs. Collins now make their home in Burnet.

Varied Program Made For C-City Homecoming

COLORADO CITY — Homecoming for Colorado High School will get going here at 10 a.m. Friday with a downtown parade.

Other events planned for the day are an assembly at 11 a.m. in the high school auditorium; the football game between Lamesa and Colorado City; and the crowning of the homecoming queen at the halftime.

DEAR ABBY

TELL THE TRUTH

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in high school. I don't have the kind of parents you can talk to so I started confiding in a man teacher. He said he would rather I talked to the woman counselor but I was afraid I couldn't trust her. I guess I made a pest of myself because he had my classes changed around so I wouldn't have study hall during his off period. I got mad and told my girlfriend things about this man that were not true. She promised not to tell, but word got back to my mother and she went to see the superintendent. The teacher wanted to talk to my parents, but they wouldn't see him, so I just had to say everything I said was true. He got fired and all he did was listen to my troubles. He moved out of town. What should I do? I feel just terrible.

GUILTY GIRL

DEAR GUILTY: Go to the

Brownwood Due Public Building

BROWNWOOD — The Brownwood Public Facilities Committee has proposed plans that would give this area one of the most unusual and functional all-purpose buildings in the Southwest.

The City Council is expected to call a $650,000 bond election for Nov. 22 to finance the project.

The multi-purpose building, combining features of auditorium, coliseum and theatre, would be constructed to replace old Memorial Hall.

It would follow a design prepared by architect Frank C. Dill, calling for an all-concrete, circular structure.

superintendent and tell him the truth. Then ask for the teacher's address and write your apology to him. And vow never to bear false witness again. You are capable of being a good person. Your troubled conscience shows it.

DEAR ABBY: If a woman proposes to a man, does she have to buy her own engagement ring?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: Only if the man doesn't offer to buy her one.

DEAR ABBY: My son-in-law is the biggest disappointment in the world. My daughter has been married to him less than a year and when he comes in the house she is lucky if he says hello to her. He just grunts and drops his big carcass in the easy chair and in two minutes he drives you out of the room with his snoring. No one dares to say anything to her about him because she sticks up for him. ("He's tired, Mom.")

MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR MOTHER: The "slob" is your daughter's hero and unless his behavior is a problem to HER, don't stir up anything.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE SWEETHEART OF SIGMUND FRED" AT THE DOCTOR'S HOSPITAL: Take care of your id, Kid.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of the Big Spring Herald and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Many Old Airplanes Never Die; Start Dusting Crops

Unlike old spiders, old WWII airplanes never fade away. And far from dying, a lot of old WW II airplanes become more useful as they get on in years.

Consider the Stearman PT-17 hangered at the Howard County Airport. It, along with thousands like it, was built as an Army Air Corps trainer during WW II. Now it, along with many of those same thousands, is a crop dusting plane.

A lot, if not most, of the WWII pilots took training at one time or another in the Stearman. It was a primary (P) trainer (T). The Navy had a similar craft, according to O. D. Landrum, airport mechanic and commercially licensed pilot.

These open cockpit planes bring to mind a picture of the pilot as commonly known a few years ago before the jet and space-age killed the romance of the white silk scarf, goggles and "by the seat of your pants."

"You wear goggles and all that sort of paraphernalia," Landrum said, "when you fly one of them. And a white silk scarf."

A lot of the trainers were converted to crop dusters following the war. The government put them all on the surplus market and at that time sold for as low as $150, depending on their condition, according to Landrum, who bought three of them.

The Stearman which is kept at the Howard County Airport is owned by Dewey M. Mark of Dallas.

Mark has converted the Stearman in typical fashion, putting a tank for the spray in the place of the forward seat. The pilot flies from the rear seat.

Unlike jet pilots or even the pilots of small private aircraft of today, the pilot who climbs in the Stearman is not bothered by a lot of dials, gauges and other instruments. There are three dials and a transparent vial which serves as the gasoline gauge. The vial hangs from the gasoline tank in the center section (the middle of the upper wing), and if visibility is less than four feet, the pilot can't see it.

Surprisingly enough, the Stearman is capable of acrobatics. It is powered by a nine cylinder, 225 horsepower Lycoming radial engine. Landrum said it can cruise at about 100 miles per hour and with its 30-gallon gasoline tank can stay in the air about two and one-half hours.

There is a big difference in the old Stearman and modern small aircraft in the weight department. A 1960 Commanche, a four-passenger plane, for instance, only weighs 1,600 pounds empty. The Commanche can carry a load of about 1,200 pounds, while the Stearman is limited to a load of about 400 pounds.

SOLOS
John W. Jones

With its flying limited to a short season, and assuming those nine cylinders keep pumping, the Stearman probably won't die for a long time yet. And at the present time, it's far from fading out of the flying picture.

This past week has been a good one for local flying, airport officials said, pointing to an average of 45 operations per day.

Two students joined the elite of solo pilots this week, taking off solo after logging nearly eight hours of dual instruction.

John Jones made his momentous flight Thursday morning and Pete Fluglaar made his on Sunday afternoon. They now have slightly more than 30 hours to put in flying before they receive their private license.

Local fliers making flights this week included David Simms, to Lubbock and El Paso; Clyde McMahon, Jimmy Jones and Dub Caldwell, to Nebraska, pheasant hunting; Vernon Smith; Winston Harper, J. W. McClendon and Bill Edwards, Cosden flights; Dr. B. Broadrick; Bruce Frazier; Ted Snyder, to Waco; Dick Standifer; Al Milch, Johnny Johnson and E. C. Smith, to Houston and Waco; Gene Nabors and party, to Waco; Howard Lloyd; Ona Mae Hughes, Ted McClung; J. D. Carter; Curtis Erwin, and the Webb Aero Club.

Standifer flew Charles Jones, publicity director for the Dallas Texans, professional football team, from Midland to Big Spring for a Airlines pilot, flew home for a few days this week.

Out-of-town planes landing at the local air terminal were in abundance during the week. Cities represented included Andrews, Lubbock, San Antonio, Midland, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Rio Hondo, Houston, Wichita Falls, Brownsville, Austin, Abilene, San Angelo, Amarillo, Ozona, Odessa, Snyder, Fort Worth, Tulsa, Fort Smith, Ark., Sinton, Hartington, Levelland, Hobbs, Albuquerque, Phoenix and Santa Anna, Calif.

Loans Now Up To Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—It is now up to the legislature to provide effective regulation of the small loans industry, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said.

Wilson said the large margin by which the so-called "loan shark amendment" passed is a "mandate to the legislature from the people to come up with a good law to eliminate loan sharks."

The amendment, approved Tuesday by Texas voters, gives the state's lawmakers power to regulate interest rates on small loans.

"We have just changed battle-grounds, as far as getting these measures through are concerned," Wilson said. "The loan sharks will pitch their final battle in the legislature to try to eliminate the penalties and to develop loopholes. We will all have to be on guard to see that a strong regulatory law is passed."

The attorney general promised that "unless and until a regulating measure is enacted," his office will continue to prosecute the several hundred anti-usury cases it has filed.

Pilot Testifies To Crash Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Texas pilot says he was offered $10,000 to fly a Mosquito bomber and abandon it so it would crash, permitting collection of $50,000 insurance.

Lewis M. Leach of Wichita Falls, Tex., testified Wednesday at the trial of Richard E. Loomis, 45, aircraft parts company head. Loomis is charged with murder and conspiracy in the crash death three years ago of James K. Gibbs, a pilot.

Leach said he refused the offer by Loomis and was told other pilots were made similar proposals. The prosecution contends that Loomis sabotaged his own plane to cause it to crash and to remove Gibbs as a possible witness against him.

Pumpkin pie goes modern

When shades of harvest gold tinge the countryside, pumpkin pie comes to the dessert fore with its own winning color and flavor. A menu treat at dinner parties and afternoon and evening dessert socials, this golden pie will also climax many a Thanksgiving feast. Now, as in Pilgrim days, the "fixins" boost pumpkin pie to desert fame. Eggs and evaporated milk give the filling a smooth custard texture. Ginger and other spices give it distinctiveness of flavor. When the pie is made the modern chiffon way with unflavored gelatine, the filling has a lightness of texture pleasing at the end of a meal.

The easily assembled chiffon filling calls for such modern convenience foods as canned ready-to-use pumpkin and smooth, blendable evaporated milk. Unflavored gelatine, by capturing the air beaten into the egg whites used, gives the filling the fluffiness and dramatic height characteristic of chiffons.

The pumpkin mixture, chilled in a baked pastry crust or in a graham cracker or cookie crumb crust, is trimmed with a low calorie pressurized topping.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIE

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/4 cup sugar, divided
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon each salt, nutmeg and ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 1/4 cups canned pumpkin
- 1 9-inch baked pastry pie shell

Mix together gelatine, 1/2 cup of the sugar, salt and spices in medium saucepan. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks. Blend well. Place over low heat and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves and mixture thickens slightly (about 3 minutes). Remove from heat, stir in pumpkin. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon (about 1 hour). Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/4 cup of sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in pumpkin mixture. Turn into pie shell, chill until firm. (2 hours or overnight)

YIELD: One 9-inch pie

Brunch Means Very Easy Entertaining

Brunch is a form of entertaining easy on the hostess and guests alike. For the busy mother, a mid-week brunch does not conflict with evening or weekend plans for the family. And for the working girl, Saturday morning or Sunday-after-church are convenient times to have friends in.

Brunch is also an easy little meal to plan, built around one or two main dishes and an ample supply of coffee. The meat in the menu is usually one of the standard breakfast favorites: sausage, ham, or bacon. Eggs, hot breads and fruit are also right at home at brunch.

Brown 'n serve sausage is a good brunch meat as it is so little bother. It comes already shaped in patties or links, and cooked except for the last minute browning. Because it has been cooked in advance, drippings are kept to a minimum. This makes possible some interesting recipe combinations of hot bread and sausage, baked together. Home economist for the meat packer who created brown 'n serve sausage, recommends a Sausage and Muffin Bake. In this recipe, bakery English muffins and brown 'n serve patties are baked in a spicy sauce to create a major sensation at serving time. Sausage patties and eggs baked in individual custard cups is another scene-stealer. Try either of these dishes at your next forenoon gathering. They are easy, and yet fancy enough for company.

Fruit Cake With Honey It's The Best Ever

When the gusty winds sweep dried leaves in swirls up and down the roads; when pumpkins become red-orange and yellow corn is shocked, then the days steadily grow a little colder. Suddenly November appears on the calendar in big black letters. November—the month that ushers in the holidays with festivals, feasts and family fun.

These are the occasions that remind us that it's time to make fruit cakes to ripen for feast-time. In Merrie Old England every one in the household takes a turn at mixing the nuts, spices and fruits so good luck will be insured to all who take a hand. In America, honey fruit cake is the friendly gift or gracious serving. The best part of all is that fruit cakes may be made weeks or even months ahead and may be stored ready for use at a moment's notice.

Fruit cakes made with honey keep especially well, for honey has the moisture attracting ability that helps keep baked goods fresh longer. The flavor is enhanced as time goes by.
Here is a recipe that you are sure to call "A Best Honey Fruit Cake."

HONEY FRUIT CAKE
(Rich and Moist)
Makes 7 one-lb. cakes
Honey Fruit Cake has just the right combination of dried and candied fruit, nuts and honey to make it rich, moist and delicious. For a festive decoration use blanched almonds, candied cherries and citron.
1 cup prunes
1 cup dried apricots
1 cup golden raisins

Different Way To Prepare Squash

Different way to treat squash.

GOLDEN GLOW
1 1/2 lbs. butternut squash
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cornstarch
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 cup drained pineapple tidbits
Pare squash, remove seeds and stringy portion; cut in 1/2 inch cubes. Cook rapidly, covered, in 10-inch skillet with water and salt just until tender—about 10 minutes; drain if necessary and reserve. In same empty skillet mix cornstarch smooth with pineapple juice; cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Add lemon rind and juice, squash and pineapple; heat. Makes 6 servings.

Potato Bin Promises Plenty For Winter

Remember the fall days when Grandma and Grandpa sat down around the kitchen table to figure how much farm produce they could sell, and what they had to store for winter eating?

That isn't done so much on a family basis any more. We simply trust those in charge to make sure grocery supplies at the store are ample.

A binful of potatoes, properly stored, was one of the important staple items in pioneer days.

Potatoes are important today, too. But the agricultural marketing service, working with producers, processors and the food trade, does the figuring to make sure we have enough.

Have we enough potatoes for this winter? The crop reporting service of AMS estimates we'll have more than 253 million hundred-pound bags of potatoes from all 1960 crops. That's 10 million bags more than last year; 20 million more than average. Per capita consumption this year is estimated at 103 pounds.
AMS statisticians keep a running record of what happens to each year's crop. They report that sales for table stock were about 143 million hundred pounds in each of the last three years.

But there has been a big increase in the amount of potatoes processed into foods like chips, frozen, dehydrated and canned products. From the 1959 crop, 40.2 million hundred-pound bags were sold for processing into these items. It was 34.1 million from the 1958 crop; and 28.6 million in 1957. Potato chips and shoestring accounted for about half of these products. Potatoes sold for making starch, flour and livestock feed dropped in 1959.

Sandwich Loaf Idea

Making a sandwich loaf for a party? You'll find one layer of egg salad, one of deviled ham and one of a cheddar cheese mixture will give a delicious flavor combination. Frost the whole loaf with cream cheese softened with a little milk or cream and garnish with radishes, olives, green pepper or parsley.

MRS. J. W. BRYANT JR. begins Thanksgiving preparations

Thanksgiving Dinner Is Special In Bryant Home

Thanksgiving dinner plans are under way around the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bryant Jr., 1602 Tucson.

The Bryant family consists of 18-year-old Arlen, who is a freshman at Howard County Junior College, 16-year-old Leahann, a junior in Big Spring High School, and six-year-old Denise, a first grade student in Washington Place School.

Mrs. J. F. Horner, who is Mrs. Bryant's grandmother, makes her home with the family. Another grandmother, Mrs. A. D. Cross, also lives in Big Spring.

The busy mother's main interest is her church work. She is serving her fourth year as treasurer of the Wesley Methodist W.C.S. and is circle chairman for the Lalla Baird Circle. She is also in charge of serving the Evening Lions Club once a month. She is soon to take over the duties of treasurer for the United Council of Church Women where she will serve for the next two years.

Mrs. Bryant, who was born and reared in Big Spring, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Hamby. On Dec. 7, she will celebrate her 20th wedding anniversary. She met her husband, who is an auctioneer, in Abilene while visiting a friend during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Bryant, who says the family thinks the cookie jar should be full at all times, especially enjoys cooking desserts. She first began to like cooking while in high school in homemaking class under the direction of Miss Lillian Jordan. Mrs. Bryant also enjoys making bread, and it is a known fact that she enjoys every part of cooking except cleaning up the mess.

Thanksgiving dinner around the Bryant home will probably consist of turkey and dressing, fruit and angel salads, broccoli with cheese sauce, hot potato salad, stuffed celery and fruit cake or date cake, pecan pies, pumpkin pies served with whipped cream.

Here's how Mrs. Bryant prepares roasted turkey and all the trimmings. Temperature, 300 degrees, time, 18 to 20 minutes per pound.

Select a 14 to 17 pound young turkey. Loosen the skin from the neck, push back the skin and cut off the neck close to the body. Remove the internal parts unless this has been done at the time the poultry was purchased. Cut the giblets from the entrails. Wash the turkey inside and out. Wash the giblets.

Prepare a stuffing using the following ingredients:

- 2 qts. bread crumbs
  - 2 tsp. salt
  - 1/2 tsp. pepper
  - 1/2 cup melted butter
  - 1/4 cup chopped onions
  - 1/2 cup chopped celery
  - 1 chopped apple
  - 1 cup chopped nuts.
- Mix the stale bread crumbs and seasoning which can be varied to suit the taste. To butter or margarine add finely chopped onion and cook for two minutes. Then add seasoned crumbs. Two teaspoons ground sage may be added if desired. Stir and heat until crumbs are slightly browned.

In order that the wings and legs may not become drier than the other parts of the turkey, they should be tied or skewered (trussed) close to the body of the turkey.

Place turkey on a rack in a roaster. Brush with unsalted fat. Add the giblets and neck. Bake at 300 degrees for 18 to 20 minutes per pound. The smaller the turkey the longer the time per pound for roasting.

GIBLET GRAVY

- 8 tbsp. turkey fat or butter or margarine
  - 1/2 cup flour
  - Turkey broth
  - 1 cup boiling water
  - Chopped giblets
  - 1/2 tsp. pepper
  - 1 tsp. salt
- Skim the fat from the broth around the turkey, or use butter

Your Family Will Love This Apple Charlotte

Among the forgotten delicacies of the well-fed past is Apple Charlotte, once a prime favorite in Southern households noted for their wonderful food.

This old-fashioned dessert, especially popular in Virginia because of the local abundance of fine apples, deserves to be revived. Apples, more widely available than ever, are now coming into your hand at a dish that helped to establish the tradition of "Southern cooking."

The modern cook, however, should be forewarned. She will be able to find plenty of good and reasonably priced apples for her Apple Charlotte, but she will not, alas, be able to discover a "penny loaf of bread" listed among the ingredients in some of the oldest recipes.

In the recipe that follows, the author merely stipulates "bread crumbs" and says nothing about the price thereof.

We have ventured to add to the original directions, given here exactly as they appeared in "Housekeeping in Old Virginia" by Marion Cabell Trece in 1877, a few footnotes that may be useful to the 20th century cook who likes more definite measurements and uses a stove equipped with modern heat controls instead of an old wood-burning black iron range.

VIRGINIA APPLE CHARLOTTE

Equal quantities of stewed apples and bread crumbs and one spoonful butter, three eggs beaten up and stirred in at the last, just before baking. Spoonful wine, cinnamon, nutmeg, lemon peel and plenty of brown sugar. Stir together and bake a long time."

Modernized, this recipe would be cut down in size to make about four servings. Peel and core three apples. Quarter three-fourths of a pound of the prepared apples, cover with water, and stew gently until tender, when the water should be absorbed.

Beat one egg and add to cooled mixture with one-half cup brown sugar, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, the grated rind of one lemon, one tablespoon of sherry wine, and a dash of salt.

Bake in a small baking dish, well-buttered, at 325 degrees F. for three quarters of an hour. Old-time cooks measured butter with a generous hand; when they said "a spoonful" they meant a spoonful piled high.

Serve your Apple Charlotte with thick cream, preferable poured from a yellow pitcher. The dessert is best when still slightly warm from the oven.

Party Fare

Soft custards, rice pudding, prepared pudding mixes and fruit sauces become party fare for small fry when a bit of flavorful candy bar is grated and scattered over the top. Try it when the taste for these simple desserts pall.

Scrap Disposer

Tired of bending to reach one thing or another in the kitchen? Cut off the top of an empty rectangular-shaped milk carton and put it on the counter when you are cooking. It will make a handy container for scraps to be disposed of, and you'll have it there at hand's reach.

Here's How To Pep Up Succotash

Most homemakers realize that cheese is one of the most nutritious foods in our diet, and for good reason. It is one of the most highly concentrated protein foods we have because it possesses all the milk nutrients—milk protein, fat, fat-soluble vitamins and minerals.

For instance, the home economics director of the American Blue Cheese Association, reports that the domestic brands of blue cheese are approximately 21.5 per cent protein, 27 to 30 per cent milk fat and 43 to 46 per cent moisture with the balance in total milk minerals.

The director points out that it takes approximately 10 pounds of milk to produce one pound of blue cheese, making this type cheese an excellent source of milk nutrients and the important fat-soluble vitamin A or carotene. The protein content of one pound of American blue cheese is approximately equivalent to that contained in a pound of most meats, the home economist for the association adds.

Calcium and phosphorus are the minerals to be found in cheese, and emphasizes that even a small portion of cheese provides the body with its necessary daily requirements of nitrogen. Salt added to blue cheese during its manufacture, for instance, provides ample quantities of sodium and chlorine.

The director also notes that cheese is one of the most readily and completely digested of all foods. Blue cheese is easily assimilated, even by children.

Here Is A Way To Store Ice Cream

Ice cream should be served cold but not so cold that it is too hard to dip. Twelve degrees is about the right serving temperature, according to ice cream producers. This is a stage where your servings are creamy, smooth, yet still firm and have the finest flavor.

If the ice cream is too hard to dip from the container, let it stand, covered, at room temperature momentarily. It should soften just enough to enable you to scoop out the servings you need. To hold ice cream for lengthy periods, store it in the freezer, or in the zero degree freezing compartment of your refrigerator. Or if you wish to store it in the ice tray compartment, it will keep safely for several hours with this storage method.

Simply remove ice cream from its carton and place it in empty ice cube trays. Cover the trays tightly with waxed paper, freezer paper or foil. Place trays in the part of the freezing unit that is contacted by coils. Turn control to "cold" setting.

Yogurt Flavor

Increasing in popularity among teens who are watching their complexions are the sweetened varieties of yogurt. The cultured milk food is available sweetened and flavored with orange and vanilla; also with prune-hip, strawberry or pineapple preserves on the bottom of the cup, in addition to the plain variety.

Holiday Tables Are Laid For Oasis Garden Club

Table settings for three holidays were viewed by members of the Oasis Garden Club in the home of Mrs. A. B. Muneke when the club met Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Muneke served from a table laid for Thanksgiving, using a white cloth with an autumn theme emphasized by purple grapes, combined with chrysanthemums in harmonizing shades.

Mrs. Boone Horne, cohostess, arranged a yuletide setting of a pink candle, with pine cones and grapes in a base of silver leaves.

A New Year's Eve table, arranged by Mrs. R. L. Beale, featured a large clock with the hands at midnight and "Happy New Year" in letters on the table. Chrysanthemums and noise makers completed the decor.

A report was made on the pot plants recently taken to the special education school, and letters of appreciation from the pupils were read by the club.

Mrs. Horne was appointed to the committee for city beautification. Tips on growing chrysanthemums were presented by Mrs. F. H. Tabbot, who told members that the plants do better when they are not put in the same bed two years in succession.

The December hostess will be Mrs. Beale, who will entertain on Dec. 14. This is a change from the yearbook.

Recommends Self-Improvement

Carol Byron believes that we can give ourselves a self-improvement course to achieve a cover girl perfection. She is appearing in CBS-TV's new series "Oh! Those Belles."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Likes Natural Look For Her Personality

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Carol Byron, Kitty on the new CBS-TV series "Oh! Those Belles," started her career as a model. "I came to Hollywood fresh from a farm in Escondido, Calif., and went to one of the top agencies looking for a job. I remember the lady who interviewed me looked at me and almost shouted, 'Why don't you use make-up? How can you expect to get a job without it?'"

Even when Carol is working she wears the sheers base and a minimum of make-up.

"Make-up just doesn't glamourize me," Carol revealed, "and the studio agrees with me."

This is a big lesson to learn — staying with your convictions in the face of authority. Individuality is developed this way.

"But I did learn some valuable things at the modeling school," Carol told me. "I heard a recording of my voice and knew how I wanted to improve it. I saw myself in home movies and could criticize my posture and the way I moved."

"And I learned about the import of color. We don't realize the extent color plays in influencing others as well as ourselves. Industry knows and color experts are consulted to increase sales appeal. We are all salesmen of ourselves and should make a study of our best colors."

Carol confessed that being neat for her is doing what comes naturally.

"I make a weekly inspection of everything in my closet for hemlines, seams, spots, frayed goods, heels on shoes, belt buckles—just everything. Then if anything needs cleaning or repairing, I can have it done before it is too late and I need to wear it. This way, I'm always prepared," she concluded.

Mrs. Thornton Is Shower Honoree

A shower given Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Dale Barrington was a courtesy for Mrs. Bob Thornton.

Joining Mrs. Barrington and Mrs. Bunch in the hospitality were Mrs. Sage Johnson, Mrs. Roy Cook, Mrs. Jack Griffith, Mrs. H. A. Davie and Mrs. Sonny Rose.

A pink cloth covered the serving table where a cherub centered an arrangement of pink asters, and a cake frosted in pink and blue held a matching stork. Pink candles flanked the floral decoration.

Mrs. Green Honored At Farewell Tea

Austumn shades predominated in the decor for a farewell tea given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Harry Hon in honor Mrs. Jim Green.

A gift was presented to the honored guest by the hostesses, who also gave her a chrysanthemum corsage in the favored colors.

Brown napkins, printed in gold ink read "Bon Voyage, Ruth," and the gold and brown were further emphasized in the brown and gold dried arrangement which centered the setting. Brown linen with lace inserts covered the tea table.

Mrs. Leland Younkin assisted the hostess by serving refreshments.

vor of assisting the Crippled Children's Center and the Lakeview YMCA with $1,000 apiece from the fund of the city federation.

For Christmas she showed how to make Christmas stars out of tin cans for hanging on the door. The cans were decorated in glitter.

candle. The base was decorated with Christmas balls of red, red ribbon and greenery.

The 1961 Flower and Garden Calendars were received from the council.

The group voted to sponsor the second grade Girl Scout Troop at Boydston School.

The Christmas party planned by the club will be held Dec. 14, in the home of Mrs. Dick Collier, 819 Kern at 12:30 p.m., at which time a salad luncheon will be served and gifts exchanged.

A Devotional For Today

Now we believe, not because of thy saying; for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world. (John 4:42.)
PRAYER: Dear Father, we are joyful that in meeting Jesus Christ we find Thee. Grant us power to live daily as Jesus lived when He was on the earth. We thank Thee that He lives in the hearts of His followers around the world. In His name. Amen.
(From The "Upper Room")

Call For Humility And Responsibility

Not since the election of Woodrow Wilson has a presidential race remained so long in doubt after the polls were closed as has been the selection of John F. Kennedy. In many respects the immediately past campaign will be an historic reference piece; just how historic in the course of the nation and world only time will tell. There will be endless analyses of how a few votes switched here and there would have reversed the results, how this tactical error or that maneuver hurt or helped, what effect blocs of votes had on the outcome, what issues—stated or submerged—were influential. The hard fact will remain that none of these conjectures will change the fact of actual results. Certainly the narrowness of the results in final voting—less than one per cent—should be a sobering reminder to Mr. Kennedy that only the thinnest of margins separated one party and one candidate from the other. To be president of almost as many who preferred another as to be president of a majority calls for humility to an understanding president of all. Another fact is that for the first time in years an administration will have the undivided responsibility of leadership.

While it is not impossible for a government to function with one party in control of the executive branch and another in control of the Congress, students of government are agreed that such is not the easiest course for effective action that we have gone forward during the past eight years under a split arrangement as a tribute to the president and congressional leadership.

Now with the Democrats possessing wide margins in both the Senate and House, Mr. Kennedy will be plainly responsible for courses of action. Here he can succeed only as he recognizes that even with the Congress there are divisions which are not necessarily partisanship and that the switching of 50 or so votes in the House or 15 in the Senate can block or alter legislation. This will call for modifications and intelligent, equitable compromises. All loyal Americans surely will pray that there will be a proper appreciation of these facts, and that there will be a Divine leadership which will somehow help the president and Congress take those steps which will keep our nation strong and safe and will contribute to the peace and promulgation of freedom in the world.

Two Observations About Our Voting

There are doubtless many conclusions to be drawn from Tuesday's balloting, but two stand out in bold relief here. One is that there is no such thing as a "secret" ballot so long as large groups of people are crowded together within relatively small areas so that almost anyone can see how another person votes—if he is the inquisitive kind. Before the next primary or the next general election, we hope that some arrangement, either by voting machines or curtains for makeshift voting booths—can be accomplished. The former would be the easier, but more expensive way; the latter would be slower but less expensive. The other conclusion is that voters will need to have greater instruction in how to cast a ballot properly. Likely those who made the greatest number of mistakes were the occasional voters, but the fact that nearly one in 10 lost a vote in one or more (and in some instances in all) races is indicative that more education is needed in the mechanics of voting. It would be helpful if these occasional voters would get in practice more often than once every four years.

David Lawrence Must Keep A Sharp Eye On Soviets

WASHINGTON—Now that the American election campaign is over, the issue of peace or war becomes paramount in the world today. The Soviet Union has been waiting for the outcome of the campaign to determine just what its next move will be. The theory of the Soviets is that basically the West is disunited and militarily unprepared for the kind of "limited war," rather than nuclear war, which Moscow would risk.

THERE ARE PLENTY of issues on which a crisis can be built. The status of West Berlin is one of them. It has always been felt here that when the next big break came between the East and West, the Soviets would simultaneously step up their activities, not only in the Far East and Africa, but in Cuba and Latin America, so as to provide the maximum amount of embarrassment for the United States and its Allies.

The Soviet strategy, of course, has been developed in what is known as the "cold war" as a means of securing Communist objectives without taking the risk of military action. The idea is to bluff the West into making concessions, on the theory that the Western Alliance will give in rather than allow even a "limited war" to be brought on.

THE SITUATION in the West has gradually deteriorated in the last few months. Perhaps the biggest single encouragement that has been given the Soviets is what has taken place in Great Britain, where the British Labor party is split wide open. One faction is insistent that bases not be granted to the United States in Europe, and the other is standing by America, but indications are that the so-called "left wing" is making progress by appealing to the pacifist sentiments of the population. Having been through two terrible wars, the British people are eager to avoid a third. Again pacifism is doing in Britain what it did before each of the two major conflicts—it is seeking to prevent Britain from getting the necessary protection, and it is also conveying to the enemy the impression that Britain will not fight, or at least will do almost anything to avoid a war.

IN FRANCE the situation is likewise complicated by Communist intrigue and partisan mischief. It is acknowledged that the Communists have been behind much of the trouble in North Africa, and that they have managed not only to produce divisions inside of France but also have succeeded in increasing the expense of the Paris government in Algeria.

The situation in Italy is still one of irreconcilable conflict between the Communists and anti-Communists, but perhaps the biggest gains have been made by the Communists throughout Latin America.

THE BIG QUESTION mark, however, is what will the United States do about it all? Both candidates in the presidential campaign promised a more vigorous assertion of American policy. But the details were not spelled out. Both nominees indicated that they would like to talk further with Nikita Khrushchev. This has been interpreted abroad as meaning that there will be more and more parleys before the real crisis will develop. The time will come, however, when Premier Khrushchev will decide to test America's resolution and the effectiveness of her leadership in the world.

The climax is not expected to come at once, but certainly within the next year the people of the United States will have to make up their minds whether they wish to prepare for real sacrifices and face sternly the Communist threat, or whether they want to drift along with more and more conferences that in the end will inevitably mean demands for greater and greater concessions. It was this process of frequent conferences and steadily increasing concessions that encouraged Hitler to believe that the West wouldn't fight.

WITHOUT DOING ANY sabre-rattling and without taking any provocative steps, the United States will be obliged to indicate in no uncertain terms that it will fight if necessary for the protection of the whole Western Alliance, including Berlin. The hope of Moscow has been that the presidential election would muddy the waters, produce vacillation in American policy and ultimately a retreat in the face of growing demands by the Soviet government.

With the election campaign over, there will be less partisanship exhibited in the United States and a tendency to unite ranks behind the government's policy. But the pressures of the pacifist elements and the appeasers, who believe that by more conferences war can be avoided, will continue, while in Moscow efforts will be intensified to bear down more and more heavily on the West in the belief that big gains for the Soviets can be made through such maneuvers.

SO FAR AS A nuclear war is concerned, the belief is growing that neither side would wish to use nuclear weapons and that a so-called "limited war" is more likely to ensue. The Soviet theory, of course, is that the Communist regime can stand such a war much more readily than can the national economy of each of the Western countries.

Now that the American election is over, the Soviet policy will tend to become clearer. If ever in history there were a need for maximum alertness during so-called peacetime, it will be in the next few months.

Tax Money Refused

SKIATOOK, Okla. (AP)—Once again, Skiatook plans to function without tax money. The town of 1,700 will pass up its 2-mill allocation from the county excise board. Skiatook's budget calls for $41,865 in operating expenses for fiscal 1960-61—but it has enough cash surplus and miscellaneous revenue to handle the need. Most of the miscellaneous revenue is from town-operated electrical utilities.

THE SUN WILL KEEP COMING UP

James Marlow Kennedy Will Be A Busy Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy made enough campaign promises and pledges—for better living in America—to keep him busy for his four White House years.

"The theme of this campaign," he said, "is going to be action." His actions—and his frustrations—begin as soon as he takes office and has to deal with a Congress where, although his Democrats retained control of it, there is a built-in stumbling block to some of his liberal ideas.

This is the old coalition of conservatives: most Republicans and the Southern Democrats. They can block, blast and baffle the man in the White House. A president can operate in one of three ways in dealing with Congress: forcefully, like Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt; deliberately, like Truman; or cautiously like Harding and Eisenhower.

THOSE WHO KNOW Kennedy expect him to be forceful. But his squeaky victory over Vice President Richard M. Nixon has deprived him before he starts of that awe professional politicians have for a heavy winner.

Confronting Kennedy immediately will be two domestic problems involving money: 1. The country has had an economic downturn. He must try to avoid a recession. 2. Kennedy has never come up with a cost estimate for the programs he proposes. Nixon said it would be $15 billion. Kennedy hooted at that. But soon after he takes office he will have to send his list of expenses—his budget—to Congress.

He has said he would not ask a tax increase. But he also promised to keep the budget balanced—spending no more than is taken in through taxes—except in times of national emergency or severe recession.

HOW THEN, in view of his broad and far-reaching promises, would he do the balancing? He suggested various fields in which he thinks expenses might be cut.

Hal Boyle But Jack's Already Tied

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Widows seem to hold a fascination for U.S. presidents. Seven presidents, beginning with George Washington, married widows. Here's another White House oddity: You are more likely to be a large family. Eighteen came from families of six or more. None was an only child. When you are born into a large family, you have to learn how to get along with people—the politician's art.

Prosperity note: Singer Brian Hyland owned one suit and one pair of shoes before he made his hit recording. Now he has 20 suits and 30 pairs of shoes. Sid Ascher gives this definition of women who worry too much about their weight: Hippo-chondriacs.

The ladies are getting their hands on more money all the time. More than half of the 625,000 people employed by U.S. banks are women.

Our quotable notables: "Most people," said John Erskine, "have some sort of a religion—at least they know which church they're staying away from."

A piano looks simple but it has 7,500 parts—more than an auto. Salesmanship in signs: a shoe store advertises: "Shoes—$8.50 a foot"... a barber shop proclaims: "We need your head to run our business." A downtown pet shop announces: "Everything must go—lost our leash."

The power of the press: The U.S. newspaper industry gives jobs to more than 200,000 people—who earn better than a billion dollars a year. The agile Indian: The world's fastest typist, S. N. Nikalee, a Hindu, can hit the typewriter keys accurately at a speed of 145 words a minute. How does he compare with the stenographers in your office?

Nature lore: The grebe is one of the world's most practical birds. It not only eats its own feathers—it also feeds its feathers to its young.

To Your Good Health Special Factors Govern Child's Bedtime

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D. Dear Doc Molner: What time should children of 11, 10 and 8 years of age go to bed?—K. K.

Before we get onto that subject, I'll let you in on a secret. Some doctors don't mind being called "doc" and some do mind, and some kind of like it. Me? I don't care—I guess maybe in my mind it depends on the tone of voice. Just thought I'd mention it, for believe it or not, doctors are people, and there's just as much variation of taste in them as in others. Some men like to be called by their first names and others don't. Some youngsters warm up to you right away if you say "Hi, Buster," others are affronted and go formal, saying, "My name is Harold!"

So much for unimportant things. What time should children go to bed? It depends on what time they have to get up. What time they need to sleep, not a fixed hour for bedtime.

Regular habits of going to bed and getting up are important to a child, but depending on school, parents' working hours, and so on, there's some degree of variation. Some youngsters have to get up earlier than others, so they should go to sleep earlier. The 11-year-olds and 10-year-olds need at least 10 hours sleep as a rule. Some need more. Some can get by with a little less. For an 8-year-old, I'd add an extra hour. Assuming that the youngsters have to get up, somewhere around 7 a.m. on school days, I'd say the older two should be in bed by 9 p.m. and the younger one somewhat earlier.

In this you must be guided by what you see in the children. Brothers and sisters of about the same age sometimes vary in the amount of sleep they need. The intense energy-burning child may need an hour more of sleep than the youngster who, by natural bent, takes life at an easier pace. Sometimes the youngster who becomes super-lively, or even, say, smartalecky, in the evening, often is going on his nerves, and needs to be shooed off to bed.

With a youngster of 10 and another of 11, it might well be that you have to send both to bed at about the same time, since they are about the same age.

The 8-year-old ought to be headed for bed a little sooner, I'd say. Maybe an hour sooner, maybe half an hour. Maybe, depending on circumstances and individual differences, even less. But you know how it is with 10-year-olds. They say, "Gee, why do I have to go to bed when Bobby does? He's only 8 and I'm 10!"

If, in your good judgment, you still have to send the older ones off to bed only 20 minutes after the youngsters, has gone—well, you've saved the pride of the 10-year-old. And that's important, too.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it proper to have dentures the same day your teeth are pulled?—Mrs. K. M."

There are several reasons for doing this: To maintain facial appearance; to maintain gum ridge—otherwise it shrinks; to keep the correct bit or way in which the teeth meet; to prevent patients from falling into improper eating habits which are difficult to correct later. Doubtless there are other reasons in some cases, but remember, I am not a dentist and do not pretend to know all the many points involving dentistry.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost-Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Around The Rim

'Did You Say Three A.M.?'

"I'm program chairman for the Thursday afternoon pea-picking society and we wanted to get a story in the paper about our meeting."

"Certainly. When is your next meeting Thursday?"

"No, we have a special meeting coming up and we thought you would probably want to send out your photographer to get a picture."

"We will try to arrange it. When is the meeting?"

"Well, at first we thought we would have it Saturday but our president has to be out of town that day. Next we decided on Monday, but other conflicts came up. So we finally decided on 3:15 a.m. Sunday."

"Did you say a.m.?"

"Yes, don't you think that's unusual?"

"You can bet your sweet..."

"BUT ALL THE members like the idea and the program will be to watch a pea vine climb."

"Are you sure you have the right number?"

"Will your photographer want to come down early? We will serve cantaloupe and ice cream and he is welcome to join us."

"I'm sure he would be delighted, but..."

"And can you send someone to write up the story? Although I write rather well, my mother used to say, I notice you always change it so I thought you would probably want to send someone to do it the way you want."

"YOU DO WRITE well, but our editorials require..."

"Don't apologize. It probably isn't your fault. Can you send someone to write it?"

"As a matter of fact, our photographer and reporters all plan to be out..."

"Of course, if you don't want to send someone, it's quite all right, but I think you should know that all of our members subscribe to your paper and we will certainly be looking for the story and all of those lovely pictures in next week's paper."

"But Mrs. Program Chairman, you don't understand. Three o'clock in the morning? Cantaloupe and ice cream at that hour? Do you realize that..."

"OF COURSE WE could subscribe to the county seat paper. I know they would be glad to come down and take our pictures. It isn't as if we don't have it coming."

"O.K., lady. I'll be there, with camera and bromo."

"Oh, will you come rather than send someone?"

"Lady, I am the only one on the staff."

"Oh, I didn't know that. I thought you had a big paper."

"G-g-g-r-r-r..."

"Anyway, it's O.K. for you to come."

"Thank you so much. Incidentally, how many members does your club have?"

"Three. See you Sunday."

Perhaps it is exaggerated a little, but that is the best reason I can think of to stay clear of the weekly newspaper business.

J. A. Livingston Gold Problem For New President

NEW YORK—A vault 55 feet below sea level will have a lot to say—if a vault can be said to speak—about the economic policies of President-elect Kennedy and the Secretary of the Treasury he appoints.

Lying in this vault on the bedrock of Manhattan Island are 11,000 tons of gold bricks in segregated cages of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. This gold is owned by the central banks of France, Switzerland, Mexico, Japan, and so on—in confidential amounts.

THESE BRICKS weigh 399 to 401 troy ounces (27 to 28 avoirdupois pounds). They have been piling up so fast in recent weeks that aluminum casings worn by stackers and weighers over their shoes—a precaution against broken toes from a dropped ingot—are being used at an above-average rate.

More than half the gold owned by foreign central banks of the free world is held right here in the U.S. Four and one-half years ago, only 6,500 tons worth $6,500,000,000, were earmarked for foreign central banks. Today, the total is $11,000,000,000.

THIS MOUNTING store of foreign gold is an impermanent monument to concluders. A half dozen years ago, the world suffered from a "permanent dollar shortage." What could be done to remedy it?

The world today suffers from a "permanent dollar surplus." The United States, through expenditures on military and foreign aid, has strewn dollars throughout the world. American corporations have also distributed dollars by foreign investing. Result: Even though U.S. exports far exceed imports, we have a deficit in our balance of payments. Gold goes away.

THE GOLD THAT "flows out" of the U.S. store is carted less than half a mile from the U.S. Assay Office on Old Slip and South Street to the Federal Reserve Bank on Liberty Street, where it is carefully weighed and stored in separate compartments under seal for each foreign bank.

The recent spurt in earmarking has brought panic fancies: The dollar would be devalued. In London's free gold market, the gold price rose to $40 an ounce for a couple of days. It has since subsided to $36. Obviously, some speculators are still counting on the U.S. to raise the price.

BLAME THE GOLD "rush" on the current economic lull, not on deterioration in the country's balance-of-payments position. The Federal Reserve Board in Washington has made credit easy. This forced interest rates down. This country became less attractive as a haven for foreign funds.

Why should a British or French business man keep a large deposit in an American bank at 3 per cent or hold short-term U.S. Treasury obligations at less, if he can invest elsewhere at 4 per cent, or 5 per cent? Foreign holders of dollar deposits or securities have cashed them in for pounds, francs, or other currencies.

RECENTLY, the central banks in England and France lowered their discount rates to discourage the outflow of dollars from the U.S. The Bank of Switzerland has ordered Swiss commercial banks to charge a penalty—1 per cent—on foreign deposits. Central banks have a way of "cooperating" without consultation.

Devaluation of the dollar wouldn't necessarily correct the dollar surplus. Basically, the dollar is strong. Devaluation would impel other countries to devalue—France, Great Britain, Japan, Italy.

THE COUNTRIES that would benefit most from devaluation would be the Union of South Africa and the U. S. S. R. As major gold producers, they would get more dollars for their metal. And if other countries devalued, more pounds, francs, and so on.

Secretary. The President-elect's choice of a Secretary of the Treasury will echo cavernously 55 feet below sea level in lower Manhattan in well-carpeted central bank boardrooms throughout the world.

Marquis Childs First Task: National Unity

WASHINGTON—As the shouting and the tumult die one question remains: To what degree can a new administration achieve national unity and some harmony of purpose?

It would be foolish to pretend that no damage has been done by the campaign. In some respect the airing of the religious issue was a healthy thing, for it brought into the open what has long smoldered beneath the surface. But at the same time it aroused bigotry, hatred, doubt, suspicion.

A NEW PRESIDENT'S first task must be to allay these uncertainties and with the magnanimity of the victor to make plain that he is President of all the people. While that has been President Eisenhower's objective, he has achieved it largely in a negative sense.

Profound changes have occurred during the past eight years. From this perspective it is hard to recall the McCarthyist atmosphere of eight years ago; an atmosphere inflamed by the Republican campaign with its charges of "soft on communism" and the intimation that traitors in the Truman administration had deliberately conspired to give China to the Communists.

WITH THE inauguration of General Eisenhower there had been hope that this poisonous atmosphere would be cleared away. But the new President seemed powerless and the attacks continued as though nothing had been altered by the election. For months the nation was absorbed by the televised drama of McCarthy versus the Army and, in effect, versus Eisenhower.

A measure of the change is seen in the fact that insofar as it attracted national attention the "soft on communism" cry was heard in this campaign only once and that was from Mrs. Styles Bridges, wife of the senior senator from New Hampshire. There is no reason to believe that this random shot had the slightest effect on the outcome.

NEVERTHELESS, it may have served as a reminder that while the noisy surface manifestations of McCarthyism have disappeared the blight of conformity, fear, suspicion and an ever-proliferating security apparatus remain as a heritage. That this has an inhibiting effect on the intellectual life of the country, on the stream of new and vigorous ideas that must be the sign of a dynamic society, few can doubt.

It may be more than a coincidence that in New Hampshire one of the victims of the McCarthy era is serving a year in jail. Seventy-one-year-old Willard Uphaus, a Christian Pacifist, was sentenced for refusing, as an act of conscience, to turn over to New Hampshire authorities conducting an investigation into alleged Communist activities the names of 600 persons who attended his World Fellowship Camp. Judged naive by some in his zeal for peace, Uphaus has been recognized by almost all as a dedicated Christian. The Supreme Court, by a four-to-five decision, refused to consider his case.

THE QUESTION OF civil liberties and the rights of the individual got little attention in the heat of the campaign. But for many Americans who see the steady encroachment of big business, big labor, big military, and often the triumvirate aligned together, it is a source of deep concern and it is directly related to the free and vigorous society that both candidates talked about.

From the American pantheon no name is more invoked in political campaigns than that of Lincoln, and 1960 was no exception. We sometimes forget that Lincoln in his day was considered by many of his fellow citizens, and not alone in the South, as a dangerous radical. The anti-slavery movement was aimed at property, since slaves were property and, therefore, it was an assault on all that was right and proper. But Lincoln took the lonely decision to free the slaves in the midst of a terrible civil war.

BOTH CANDIDATES assured us that keeping the peace was the primary task. Yet a powerful propaganda is spreading to convince the country not only that a nuclear war is likely but that the nation can survive its millions of casualties. In his courage to counter this trend and initiate a new effort to win the peace with the widest possible popular support, a new President will be judged.

Men Rescued From Scaffold

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — High over a busy street crossing two sign painters clung desperately to ropes on a scaffold that had slipped one end of its support and swayed giddily.

A tense crowd of over 700 shouted encouragement to the men, employees of an outdoor advertising firm, and cheered firemen trying to rescue them Wednesday with an extension ladder that wouldn't reach quite far enough.

The men were at the top of a 10-story building in midcity, getting ready to paint over a sign, just under the roof.

Charles Bremme, 25, and John Krause, 45, were lowered on the 20-foot scaffold. Their mate, Harry Leon, 25, stayed on the roof. A rope gave way; the scaffold fell to an angle of about 45 degrees. All three cried out for help. That roused a traffic policeman, who got the firemen.

Let out to its fullest, the aerial ladder was still a couple of feet from Bremme's grasp. As there seemed nothing else to do, Bremme finally let go the rope and dropped to the tip of the ladder, landing true. Other firemen joined Leon on the roof and pulled Krause to safety.

City Dump Fire Ends In 2 Deaths

CARROLLTON, Tex. (AP) — Two men burned to death in this northwest Dallas County town's city dump Wednesday night in a fire they apparently started in an attempt to keep warm.

Sheriff's officers identified the pair as R. L. Chavers, 28, and Andrew L. Watts, 19. They said W. E. McElmore was overcome by smoke but a fourth, Walter Chavers, escaped injury.

Police said the bodies were found in an abandoned automobile at the dump. A justice of the peace withheld a death verdict pending an investigation and autopsy.

Girl Scouts Slate Plans

Five girls attended this year's first meeting of the junior high Girl Scout Council at the Girl Scout House Wednesday to begin making plans for the year's activities.

With their leader, Mrs. W. H. Booher, the girls decided that each troop is to plant a rose bush at the Crippled Children's Center.

Other plans discussed included taking a charm course, and having one girl from each troop attend the bi-weekly council meetings. Twenty-two adults have volunteered to teach a dancing class, which was discussed.

Oberammergau Passion Play Is An Interesting Production

Back near the dawn of recorded history, a group of Greeks disguised as gods walked down a tiny valley. One of them, a fellow by name of Thespis, stood aside from the religious procession, removed his mask, and declared to the assembled citizens on the hillside that he actually was the god he portrayed, and so proceeded to portray him.

Others soon followed his example, and drama was born. Nearly 2,000 years ago, a real drama occurred in a little known part of the world—a drama so real and so meaningful that the course, not of history, but of civilization itself was changed.

INEVITABLE
It was inevitable that early Thespian drama should soon begin to portray the real drama that took place on a tiny hill outside the Middle Eastern city of Jerusalem.

During the height of the Black Plague that nearly exterminated Europe during the Middle Ages, a tiny Bavarian village named Oberammergau made a holy vow. The citizens, who already had lost scores of friends and relatives to the scourge, promised their Creator that, if the plague should end, they would annually stage the drama of the Messiah as a memorial and a covenant.

The Oberammergau Passion Play is now world-famous, and has been staged every year, with the exception of a few disturbing wars. An American version was conceived and is now on tour of the United States.

STAGED LAST NIGHT
It was this drama of the last seven days of Jesus Christ on earth which was presented last night in City Auditorium, and will be presented in matinees and evening performances today and Friday. Curtain times are at 1:30 and 8:15 p.m. The play is sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club.

The drama was received with mixed reactions by the audience. There was very little objective criticism and little could honestly be made, for the Oberammergau version, by its very nature, evokes deep subjective responses.

DAMP EYES
There were a lot of damp eyes among the onlookers; else, how explain the fits of coughing and sniffling in face of the fact that there is no influenza epidemic at present, although the weather outside was cold.

Yet, there were those whose emotions were turned the wrong way — something indefinable in characterizations failed to set well in their minds.

Actor Val Balfour, who portrayed the Christ, did a creditable job in personifying his conception of Jesus. I personally, could not agree with that conception. And it would be difficult to find an even dozen spectators in agreement, for opinions on what Christ was like are nearly as numerous as people to have opinions.

NOT EASY JOB
Admittedly, Balfour's job is not an enviable one. He'll never be able to please everybody.

In an earlier column, the play's advance agent and I exchanged views on our conceptions of the personality of Jesus, and compared them with that of Balfour; at the time, with Balfour absent, it seemed that we might all three agree; however, the impression I got last night during the performance was wide of the mark.

Some of the mixed reactions were caused by a misunderstanding of the nature of the drama. The passion play was produced in the age-old traditional manner, not in modern stage form. Thus, the movements were too broad and stilted for modern forms. Still, it was perhaps too fast-paced for the pageant style.

OLD STYLE
Pageants were and are designed for outdoor presentation, as in the days of Thespis, and the broad movements and overacting becomes a necessity in what would be inexcusable in modern theatre. Aside from these inherent difficulties, the passion play was well done.

The lighting was excellent, the sets barren but colorful and symbolic, and many of the scenes almost attained visual perfection. Among these were the Last Supper scene which ended on a shining chalice, and the taking down of the body from the Cross. George Kieber, as Judas Iscariot, attained a memorable characterization as the betrayer during the latter portion of the Last Supper scene.

IMPROVED
The Cross scene was something of an anti-climax at first, from a dramatic standpoint, but it improved in this vein to a high point in the taking down from the Cross. The ringing of the nails being driven out of hands and feet against a background of reverent silence was impressive.

In other scenes recorded music was used in the background. It was not always orthodox religious music, but was always at least classical. It was not as effective as it should have been. The script was Biblical enough, and added dialogue was carefully interpolated from Scripture. In fact, the story and history themselves were a strong part of the play, combined with the audience's knowledge and beliefs.

Makeup was excellent—so good, in fact, that this reviewer had difficulty recognizing any of the local citizens who took "extra" roles. Costuming was historically well researched.

In summary, the Oberammergau Passion Play is an interesting production, provided one is able to overcome preconceived notions, sit back and enjoy it. —BOB SMITH

Those who managed to keep their eyes open past 3 a.m. were rewarded with one of the most dramatic moments of the long night of mounting velvet returns. That was when Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his wife stepped before the cameras and he—with a determined smile and great poise—delivered his conditional concession. He handled himself very well and won much admiration. But every woman watching Pat Nixon could identify herself with this tired woman at her husband's side, trying — and failing — to conceal her disappointment—even heartbreak.

Not long after midnight, NBC publicists telephoned around triumphantly to report that a quick survey by the American Research Bureau showed that early evening coverage by its team was getting the lion's share of the home audience—almost half. CBS came second and ABC third.

This viewer, watching the competition on three TV sets, thought that in terms of quality, production values and understandability, it was a tie between CBS and NBC.

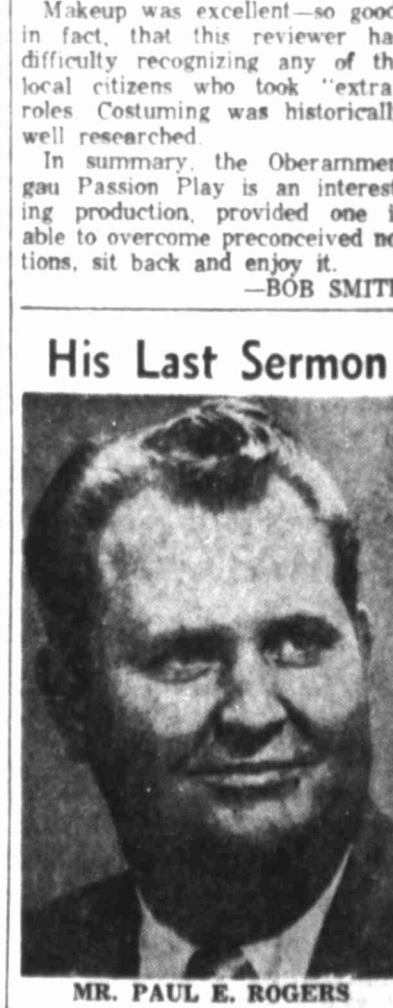

Five programs new this season have popped into the top 20 shows on the most recent Nielsen ratings list. "Checkmate" (No. 10); "Andy Griffith Show" (11); "The Tall Man" (15); "My Three Sons" (18); and "Candid Camera" (20).

Alfred Hitchcock Presents' managed to change networks and time period and still stay in the winners' circle—in 19th place.

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Although Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost the presidential election he was a better than two-to-one choice in his home town. Final returns from this Los Angeles suburb showed 14,417 votes for the Republican nominee to 6,713 for the Democratic winner, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

It is hoped that Mr. Rogers will live long and preach many more sermons with the same good results that have come from his work as evangelist. In the fall revival of the Church of Christ, 3900 West Highway 30, tonight he preaches his last sermon in our revival. It may be the last chance you will ever have to hear him. By all means, come tonight, 7:30, and hear the sermon, "Properly Evaluating the Things of God." Welcome! —Adv.
