Wreck Kills Garcia

O'DONNELL (SC) — Andrade Thomas Garcia, 43, was killed and four other men were injured at 11 p.m. Sunday when a pickup truck overturned one and a half miles east of O'Donnell.

Garcia was riding in the back of the truck. Jose Angel Perez, who was in the cab, is in a serious condition with a broken neck. Also listed as seriously injured is Pedro Garcia Milan, 25, who has fractured ribs, a dislocated shoulder and head injuries.

Jesus Canales Alba, 32, driver of the vehicle, suffered head lacerations but is said to be in good condition. Juan Guerrero Chavez, 21, escaped with a shoulder injury.

All persons involved in the wreck are Mexican Nationals procured by Bolynda Co-op Labor Association of Dawson, Borden and Lynn Counties. The five men were enroute to the J. W. Gardenhire farm after a Sunday shopping trip.

Highway patrol officers out of Lubbock investigated the accident and said that it was believed the brakes locked when the driver applied pressure to the pedal. The truck skidded 156 feet on the dirt road.

British Okay Ford Purchase

LONDON (AP) — The British government today approved purchase by the American Ford Motor Co. of the outstanding shares of British Ford.

Chancellor of the Exchequer John Selwyn Lloyd announced this decision in the House of Commons.

American Ford already owns 55 per cent of British Ford and has offered to pay 145 shillings and six pence ($33.27) per share for stock now held by British investors. The sale would pump more than $300 million into the British economy.

Lloyd said he believes complete American ownership of British Ford "would lead to still more vigorous development of the Ford enterprise here and to even greater efforts in the export market."

The chancellor said he had received assurances from Detroit that an expansion program for British Ford at Mersyaside, Basildon and elsewhere will be carried out as planned at a cost of $196 million.

Labor members of Parliament and some Conservatives have questioned the wisdom of the deal on the ground that Detroit could call the tune for British Ford and even lay off workers if that suits the company's over-all production plans. Critics are unhappy at the already significant segment of the British economy controlled by U.S. firms through their British subsidiaries.

Ford officials have stressed they plan to expand rather than contract operations of British Ford.

RAUL CASTRO

Cuban Attacks Warship Move

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro says President Eisenhower's dispatch of U.S. warships to the Caribbean is criminal and "unmasks United States' puppets in Central America."

But the younger brother of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in an angry speech Sunday refrained from rattling Soviet rockets as a threat to the United States. The omission was in line with a trend noted recently in speeches by other top figures in the Castro regime.

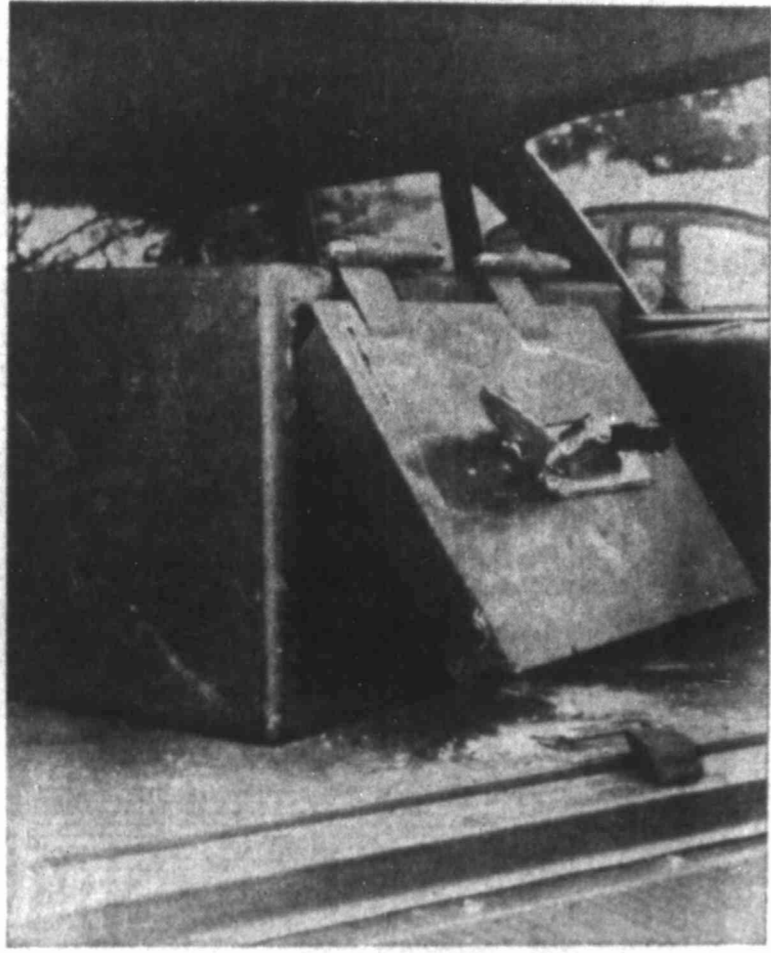

The softer tone lent weight to speculation that Moscow had nudged Castro to take the Soviet Union out of the Cuban revolution's frontlines to preserve other

Honeymooners Die In Wreck

LOVE GROVE, Okla. (AP) — Louis Thomas Gilmore, 30, and his bride, Carlye Ann, 29, both of San Antonio, Tex., died in a car accident near here Sunday while on their honeymoon.

The couple was reportedly married in San Antonio Saturday.

Also killed in the head-on collision was the driver of the other car, B.C. Riddle, 47, Frederick, Okla. His son, Glen, 16, was injured.

Officers Solve Burglary Case

The battered, empty safe stolen from the Pinkie's liquor store on the night of Nov. 13 has been recovered and two men have been charged with burglary. One of the men is in the county jail—James Morris Knight, 25, 1404 Grafa. The other man, who is Knight's brother-in-law, is Billy Joe Wade, 23, Odessa. He has not been arrested.

Knight, who has been held in the county jail since Nov. 18, Sunday decided to change his story and told Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, he would lead officers to the place where he and Wade had left the safe.

OTHER STORY
Prior to Sunday, Knight had clung to a statement that he had

Daniel Denies Paper's Hints

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel said Sunday that he knows nothing about a suggestion that legislation is being planned which would make a special election to name the successor to Lyndon Johnson as senator unnecessary.

The Houston Chronicle said the election may not be held because of the difficulty of raising money after the Democratic primary and the high cost of the presidential race.

The report also said Daniel is studying a change in the special law that allowed Johnson to run for senator and vice president at the same time.

The story said Daniel doubts if a majority of the legislature would agree to a revision of the so-called Johnson-for-President Law. Such a revision would have to be passed by speedy legislation early in the session meeting in January.

Yule Dress Due This Week

Christmas street decorations are due to be in place by Thanksgiving, Bill Quimby, Chamber of Commerce manager said today.

Crews for the decorators arrived during the weekend and were at work Monday getting everything in order for stringing the decorations.

A week from Tuesday (on Nov. 29), Santa Claus is to appear in "the world's largest sleigh" for a two-day visit with all the children in the community. Last year's plan of a shuttle service for school children is due to be repeated.

Plans for the religious parade as a pre-Christmas feature are completed, Quimby added. The Rev. V. Ward Jackson of the Big Spring Pastors Association is heading up the committee in charge of church participation in float preparation.

Foes Make Last Ditch Effort To Block Kasavubu

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Foes of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu mounted a last-ditch effort today to keep the U. N. General Assembly from seating him and his delegation.

But the prospect was that the assembly would vote to seat him anyway, late today or some time Tuesday. That would give the United States a victory over an Asian-African-Communist faction favoring Kasavubu's bitter rival, deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

One experienced diplomat said the vote to seat Kasavubu might be as much as 60-20 with 18 abstaining. A day-long debate is expected and a special night session may be held.

The first four countries on the speakers' list — Yugoslavia, Guinea, Mali and Ceylon — have come out against Kasavubu.

Kasavubu, who came to New York two weeks ago to press his case, has said that until he is seated, he will not state his attitude toward the U. N. conciliation commission for the Congo.

Some diplomats say Kasavubu has intimated that once he gets the seat, he will welcome the 15-nation Asian-African commission to carry out its assignment of seeking peace among rival politicians. Others doubt that he will do so.

Guinea and Mali have said privately that if Kasavubu is seated they will quit the commission. Some on the commission say that if some of its members drop out, none should go to the Congo.

But Jaja Wachuku of Nigeria, commission chairman, told a reporter Sunday nothing would keep it from making the trip. He said talk of a boycott was "shadow boxing."

Wachuku dismissed the threat of Jose Nussbaum, Congolese commissioner for the interior, that 5,000 soldiers would prevent the commission from landing at Leopoldville Airport.

Court Certifies Election Returns

Election returns, canvassed last week, were formally certified as correct Monday morning by the County Commissioners' Court.

Hudson Landers moved that the election returns be certified. The motion was adopted unanimously. All members of the court, including P. O. Hughes, were in attendance.

The commissioners also certified the Forsan incorporation election returns. However, because no one representing the community was on hand, no action setting a date for the city election in that community was taken. Judge Ed Carpenter and the commissioners felt that it would be inadvisable to set an election date until a conference with the residents of the town could be held.

Rev. Francis B. Beasley, St. Thomas Catholic church, appeared before the court with a request that the county consider building a new road from U.S. 87 westward to the site of the new church and school. The commissioners pointed out that they would have to have a dedication of the present private road, which leads partially to the church, before any official consideration could be given the proposal. However, they told the priest that they would be glad to consider the proposal.

The court paid a number of routine bills.

Mexico Honors First President

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos and six former presidents of Mexico attended Sunday the ceremony in which the remains of another president were transferred to a new tomb.

The ashes of President Francisco Madero, who in 1910 started the Mexican revolution that lasted almost 30 years, were removed from a cemetery to a grave at the Revolution cemetery.

Madero was killed in 1913 while he was president, after the first stage of the Revolution was completed.

Former Presidents Emilio Portes Gil, Abelardo Rodriguez, Pascual Ortiz Rubio, Lazaro Cardenas, Miguel Aleman and Adolfo Ruiz Cortines joined Adolfo Lopez Mateos at the presiding stand.

TOWER FLIES, LEAVING FIRST MERCURY CAPSULE GROUNDED

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An attempt to launch an unmanned space capsule failed today.

When the countdown reached zero, an escape tower shot into the sky leaving the Redstone booster rocket and the capsule on the pad.

The 15½-foot tower shot straight up into low-hanging clouds and several seconds later plunged back onto the Cape.

The launching was to have been the first in the Project Mercury Redstone series. The purpose was to test the capsule in a space environment.

If success had been achieved, a chimpanzee was scheduled to ride a Redstone-powered capsule over an identical route within two months. Then if that was successful an astronaut was to take the same trip in February or March in the first U.S. man-in-space attempt.

Today's capsule was aimed to go 130 miles into space and drop in the Atlantic Ocean 220 miles down-range. There was to be no attempt to put the capsule into orbit — the eventual goal of the man-in-space program.

Fifteen minutes after today's launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced: "The escape rocket on a Project Mercury space craft ignited prematurely three seconds before a scheduled launching today. The escape tower landed approximately 2,000 feet west of the launch site."

Lad Praised For Courage

Tommy Ralph Flowers, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Flowers of Lenora, is in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock critically injured as result of an early morning one car accident Sunday.

Steve Lynn Flowers, 15, brother of Tommy, is in Medical Arts Clinic Hospital with a badly cut knee, received in the same accident. A companion of the two flowers, Royce D. Reynolds, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reynolds, is also in the same hospital. He is severely bruised but was making satisfactory progress.

Tommy Reynolds has severe head injuries and a punctured lung, it was reported. His condition was described as serious Monday morning.

Highway Patrolman Jack White and Arvin Henry, who worked the accident, had high praise for the courage and resourcefulness of Steve Flowers.

The patrol said that the three boys were en route to their homes in Lenora sometime around 2 a.m. Sunday. They turned off U.S. 80, just across the line in Martin County, to take a county road which was a shortcut home. Two and a half miles north of U.S. 80, Tommy, who was driving the 1953 Chrysler, failed to make a sharp curve in the road.

The car turned over. Tommy was thrown out of the car more than 30 feet and landed in tall weeds at one side of the road. Royce was tossed from the vehicle and it rolled over on him.

Young Steve was left in the up-turned car. He had suffered a deep cut on the knee which was bleeding severely.

He made his way out of the wreckage and found Reynolds trapped under the car. He located a jack and managed to raise the wreckage enough to permit him to drag Reynolds clear. He made a search in the pitch blackness for his brother but failed to find him.

He dragged an old quilt and a floor mat from the car and covered Reynolds as best he could. It had begun to rain by this time.

Despite his injured leg, he set out on foot back toward U.S. 80. He walked two and a half miles to the liquor store just on the county line. He beat on the door until the proprietor finally was awakened. The patrol was called.

More than two and a half hours had passed since the car flipped over.

White and Henry sped to the scene and were able to find Tommy, near death, in the tall weeds. A Nalley-Pickle ambulance brought the three injured boys to the Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital but later it was decided to take Tommy to the Lubbock hospital. Nalley-Pickle removed him to that hospital Sunday.

The car was nearly demolished, the patrol reported.

Tourists Cost Mayor His Job

TORRI RENACO, Italy (AP)—The portanitary mayor who tried to chase scantily clad foreign tourists off of this resort on the shore of Lake Garda has been chased himself—out of office.

The new mayor says he takes a more liberal view of how vacationers may dress.

Mayor Gino Barbieri was tossed out after a heated local election campaign in which tourists' dress was the main issue in this community of 4,000 near Verona.

Wins Applause Of Delegations

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
PARIS (AP) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson drew cheers today as he told legislators from Atlantic alliance countries that the United States stands by President Eisenhower's Atlantic policies.

Johnson said the U. S. election in no way was a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

APPLAUDED
The tall Texas senator was loudly applauded as he strode into the assembly room of the parliamentary conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

His vigorous bipartisan speech was frequently interrupted by applause of legislators drawn from all over Western Europe and Canada.

Johnson made a political tour of the hall, shaking hands all around at the conference's opening session. He strode across the hall to warmly shake hands with French Premier Michel Debre, who spoke just before Johnson.

Debre disclaimed any attempt on the part of French President Charles de Gaulle to weaken NATO. On the contrary, Debre said, it was De Gaulle's idea to strengthen NATO by increasing the French weight in the organization.

And Debre added, NATO is needed as much now as at its formation 10 years ago and the "crucial menace" of the Soviet Union is a strong as ever.

NATO
Speaking at the opening of the annual parliamentarian conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Johnson made a vigorous bi-partisan appeal for "a new long step toward a richer meaning for freedom."

The Texas senator told 300 assembled legislators from NATO's 15 countries "the voice of isolation is stifled in America."

"A new generation of Americans — who came to early maturity fighting for freedom on the fields of Europe and the islands of the Pacific — is coming to power in the leadership of our land," Johnson said.

"In their hearts is a determination to make the most vigorous use of America's resources and capacities to assure their children, and the children of all nations a life without war — a future of peace."

Johnson stressed that he was speaking as a senator and not specifically outlining policies of the administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy. However, Kennedy read the speech when he and Johnson met last week in Texas.

LONG PLANNED
While Johnson's appearance here had long been planned, he was aware that the U.S. election and specifically outlining policies of the administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy, was especially by Europeans, as the first indication of the new administration's foreign policy.

The speech indicated the Kennedy Johnson administration would be more receptive toward moves to expand NATO's influence beyond the military field.

"The challenge before us is to add new dimensions to the purposes of our alliance," Johnson said.

"We can—and we must—together enlarge the community of joint purposes to include new neighbors of the world."

This could have been directed toward French President Charles de Gaulle who favors giving NATO a broader global outlook.

"Beyond mutual military purposes," Johnson said, "we can do much more to implement concepts of economic progress and social gain."

NOT EASIER
He warned that the U.S. election "was not a call to an easier life. It was a call to a more responsible life."

However, he said, "you here know well the magnitude of President Eisenhower's service to NATO and to the strength of Western Europe. I want you to understand that President Eisenhower will leave public office with the continuing respect, trust and esteem of all his countrymen without regard to domestic partisanship."

Conservatives rolled back to control of Parliament today but failed to get the all-out backing they had asked of the nation's voters.

The conservatives claimed their victory was a broad endorsement of the U.S.-Japan security pact and other close ties with the West. Their leftist opponents claimed leftist gains proved just the opposite.

The nationwide Sunday balloting that returned Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's Liberal Democrats (conservatives) to power followed the same general pattern of elections in Japan since World War II. It showed a conservative majority battling a slowly but steadily increasing leftist minority.

CRUSHED
A middle-road appeal, made by the Democratic Socialist party, was crushed as Japanese voters repeated their sharp swing to the right and left.

The Communists made their best showing in 10 years, increasing their vote from 2.6 to 2.9 per cent and winning three seats.

The vote came against a background of mob scenes in Parliament, violent demonstrations against the U.S.-Japan security pact and President Eisenhower's cancelled visit to Japan. While party leaders played on foreign policy themes during the campaign, regional and domestic issues and personalities were, as always, important.

With all but one of 467 parliamentary seats decided, the unofficial count gave this breakdown: Liberal Democrats 296, Socialists 145, Democratic Socialists 16, Communists 3, Agrarians 1, independents 5.

The five independents elected are considered in the conservative camp. With 96 per cent of the popular vote tabulated, the Liberal Democrats had 22,106,738 or 57.9 per cent; the Socialists 10,462,245 or 27.4 per cent; Democratic Socialists 3,319,026 or 8.7 per cent; Communists 1,096,687 or 2.9 per cent; minor parties 134,311 or 0.3 per cent and the independents 1,096,994 for 2.9 per cent.

SOLID VICTORY
While the outcome gave Ikeda and his Liberal Democrats a solid victory, they failed in their announced aim of boosting their House strength to 312. That would have given them the two-thirds majority needed in the 467-member house to carry out long-range plans for amending the constitution to strengthen the status of the army and the emperor.

Last month Ikeda dissolved the old Parliament, in which his party held 283 seats, and asked the voters to return more than 300 Liberal Democrats to the ruling lower house.

The Socialists, who had 122 seats in the old House, were resigned to a minority role and were buoyed by the final count. Saburo Edo, Socialist party secretary general, declared the Socialist showing means "the world situation is changing. We must turn toward neutralism and establish relations with (Communist) China."

The big loser in the balloting was the Democratic Socialist party which made an appeal for a middle course between the collective security with the West line of the conservatives and the sometimes Moscow-pitched approach of the Socialists.

Two cars extensively damaged early Sunday morning in a collision on the Andrews Highway. Highway patrol officers said that Jesus P. L. Hewitt 37, Lenora, had parked near the center of the road without lights at 1:50 a.m. James Hardy Jones, 37, Tarzan and Mrs. Jones, in their car, came upon the parked vehicle but could not evade crashing into it. No one was injured but the property damage to both cars was high.

Pastor Demands Public Penance

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The Roman Catholic Woman mayor of San Juan, Felisa de Gauthier, was ordered by her pastor to do public penance before she can receive Communion because of the way she voted Nov. 8.

The Rev. Thomas Maisonet, pastor of San Juan Cathedral, said in an interview between Masses Sunday she must publicly repent by radio, television or newspaper to receive the church sacrament.

The mayor did not attend any of the five Masses at the cathedral Sunday. She was reported to have spent the weekend at her beach cottage in Vega Baja and to have received Communion at its church. She made no public comment on Father Maisonet's demand that she do public penance.

Dona Felisa is a leading member of the Popular Democratic party opposed by Puerto Rico's Roman Catholic bishops as "un-Christian." Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, head of the party, was re-elected by a 58 per cent majority and its members retained control of the legislature, despite the bishops' warning that supporting them would be considered a sin.

The mayor has maintained the church's intervention in politics unjustified. She vowed after the election to take Communion at the cathedral without confessing her vote for Munoz Marin, as Father Maisonet insisted was necessary.

The bishops have not entered directly into the controversy between the pastor and Dona Felisa. But a letter signed by Msgr. Rafael Grovas, assistant to Archbishop James P. Davis of San Juan, has been distributed warning priests against administering sacraments to those who should not receive them.

Sam Rayburn Predicts Quick Action On Platform Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., forecast today quick congressional action next year on a depressed areas bill, housing, school construction and minimum wage.

Rayburn added, "I think our committee on agriculture has already begun laying the ground-work for a reasonable and workable farm bill which I think we need very much. I think we will do something for the aged."

Does BLADDER IRRITATION MAKE YOU NERVOUS?

Thousands are now discovering how much stronger and better they can feel by combating ordinary kidney or bladder irritations. These irritations often occur after 30, and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Ordinarily, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backache and feel tired, depressed. In such irritation, OXYTEK usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritations, relieving strong, acid urine and by giving analgesic pain relief. Safe for young or old. OXYTEK is druggists. Feel better fast.

think those are the principal things that we will try to get to early in the session . . .

Rayburn, in a copyrighted interview in the magazine U.S. News and World Report, predicted a shakeup in the Pentagon. "I think we have got to look into our defenses very thoroughly and there probably will be a reorganization in the Defense Department to see if we can't have the Army, Navy and Air Force work in unison and watch our expenditures and see just where we're going along those lines."

Rayburn in January begins his 25th consecutive two-year term in the House. He said he looked forward to working again under a Democratic president — "I don't think we will be threatened with vetoes, and we can move ahead and inaugurate a real program."

Asked to contrast President Eisenhower and President-elect John Kennedy, Rayburn said:

"Both, of course, are fine men, fine characters, but I think that Sen. Kennedy will show a little more drive than Mr. Eisenhower has done, and I hope that drive is in the right direction."

Rayburn said he hoped Congress would close some loopholes in the tax laws, but added that he doesn't consider the 27 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance a tax loophole.

"We are going to look into these things thoroughly," he said, "but I don't think the oil people have any cause to fear a 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance is going to be disturbed. It has been in effect for 34 years and Democrats have been in control of Congress for 23 of those 34 years."

Rayburn said a bill to aid school construction is likely, but "as far as other aid is concerned, there is a question in my mind as to whether Congress would go further at this time. They may do it. I think it is going to be advocated, and strongly, that we go into some plan for paying teachers' salaries and things of that kind, but there are a great many people who fear that."

Cold Community Loses Gas Service

OTSEGO, Mich (AP) — "Brr" was the word around this western Michigan community.

About 1,800 homes lost their gas service Saturday night. Michigan Utilities Co. said an automatic regulator broke at Allegan, shutting off the flow to Otsego and Plainwell.

The company restored service to about half the homes Sunday. The rest will get service within a day or two, a gas company spokesman said.

Temperatures here dropped to the mid 30s at night.

Mother Of Six Stabbed To Death

PITTSBURGH, Kan (AP) — A mother of six children was stabbed to death by her husband Sunday night during an argument over a beating given to a 5-year-old son, County Attorney J. John Marshall said.

The six children saw the stabbing. Marshall said a first-degree murder charge will be filed against Thomas W. Crowe, 42, an unemployed butcher.

Crowe told officers the stabbing was an accident — that he was "just funnin'" with his wife, Leah May Crowe, 38.

Hospitalized here was Rickie Crowe, who had a cut on his head and severe facial bruises.

A GOOD MAN, BUT LOST

Men are lost because they are guilty of sin. "For the wages of sin is death . . ." (Rom. 6:23.)

Men are sinners because they have violated God's law. " . . . Sin is the transgression of the law." (1 Jno. 3:4.)

Immoral men are lost because God's law requires morality. Moral men — good men — are often lost; because God has laws dealing with things other than morals, and they have violated these laws.

The first sin — eating of the forbidden fruit — was not an immoral act. (Gen. 3.) One can be a moral man and reject Christ; but this will condemn him (Jno. 12:48). One can be moral and reject baptism; but in so doing he rejects the counsel of God against himself (Luke 7:30). A good moral man may add certain things to the Word of God, and take certain things away; but this will condemn him. (Rev. 22:18, 19.)

The churches of Christ plead with you to obey the Word of God — all of it; and to add nothing to it. This will keep you from immorality, and other sins as well.

Dog Grieves For Dead Pal

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Baron, a two-year-old Dachshund whose brown and white mongrel friend was killed by a car, was placed under sedation Sunday night.

The little Dachshund dragged the mongrel, Jenny, from the street and into his yard. Then he stood over her for 90 minutes, not letting anyone near her.

Police dragged him away and locked him in a storeroom at his owner's home. A veterinarian later placed him under sedation.

Car Returned

OTTAWA (AP) — Abe Morris' auto, stolen a year ago from a parking lot, was returned to the same spot with 18,000 additional miles showing on the speedometer.

Market Finishes Fling; Experts Guessing Again

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market is over its brief election fling and is back trying to guess what business will be like when spring comes.
What the new administration will want to do and what it actually will do will play a part. But the market seems to be saying that a greater role will be taken by business and consumer forces. What the majority now think, right or wrong, is that the forces pulling the economy down in the last six months or so will have lost their strength in another six and that spring or maybe summer will find times generally on the upgrade.

OPTIMISM
What optimism this generates among stock traders is pretty well tempered just now by the prospect of continued dragging in many lines for the immediate future. And for the long run there is the growing tendency of consumers to spend more of their money for services of all kinds and less proportionately for the goods that factories turn out.
The stock market's post-election fling was relatively mild. For two weeks before stock prices had been rising most of the time.
On the day before the polling The Associated Press 60-stock price index stood at 211.8. The day after the election it rose to 212.4 and the next day, Nov. 10, to 215.5. Then it backed away and alternately rose and fell, until on Nov. 18, after eight days of post-election trading, it closed at 214.3.

EVEN OUT
On a chart the whole process would even out pretty much along the rising line it had been taking before the voters acted.
The Dow-Jones industrial index of 30 stocks followed much the same course. On Nov. 7 it was 597.63; Nov. 9 it rose to 602.25; hit a high of 612.01 Nov. 10; fell back and closed last week at 603.5.

Some of the mildness of the reaction to Sen. Kennedy's election is likely due to uncertainty as to just what he will actually propose and, more important, just how he'll propose to go about it. And there's considerable doubt that the strong conservative bloc in Congress would let him take any really radical steps.

BRIGHTER
Today many stock analysts are taking this tack: Stock prices have been depressed because the economy slackened off; but since the decline of the last six months was relatively slight, prospects for a recovery fairly soon are that much brighter.

At home the economy still has to shake off these downward pressures: the hand-to-mouth inventory policy which holds new orders at a minimum the over capacity built into many industries in the last few years; the consequent drop in plans for more plant and equipment spending; the still rising costs that crimp profits because competition is too keen for prices to rise at a like rate; and a tendency on the part of some consumers to wait and see before spending much beyond the outlays to which they're already committed.

PLEASURES
Abroad the pressures are strong and often uncharitable.
They are both political and financial. The stock market tends to react quickly to any marked change in the overseas news.

Winner Finally Officially In

SEATTLE (AP) — "Somebody told me just now that I won the election. Is that true?"
It was Democratic Rep. Don Magnuson had been declared the official winner Sunday after having been all but counted out in Washington's 7th District.

The election was the last congressional race to be decided. Democrats will have a 261-176 edge in the House, a loss of 22 seats compared with the last Congress.

State Republican Chairman William C. Goodie indicated the GOP might seek a recount.

King County Auditor Robert Morris, a Democrat, said he saw no basis for a recount. He said discovery of errors in unofficial tabulations had given Magnuson a 116-vote edge.

The totals were 95,639 for the four-term congressman and 95,523 for Republican John Stender, an international vice president of the boilermakers union.

Stender who led by 358 votes in the unofficial count of the Nov. 8 election, and lengthened his lead to 666 on the basis of absentee ballots could not be reached for comment.

Cancer Victim Dies Sunday

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — Rosemary Flores, 14, who celebrated Christmas in August because doctors feared she might not live until Dec. 25, died Sunday in Santa Rosa hospital of cancer.

The girl celebrated Christmas on her birthday, Aug. 25, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Flores of San Antonio, and hospital staff members.

Doctors said she never was told she had cancer and was looking forward to returning to school.

Farm Bureau Lists Policies On Legislation

WACO—State policies to guide the Texas Farm Bureau's actions in the 57th Legislature next year were adopted by voting delegates to the organization's annual meeting last week in Dallas.

Among the more important state-level issues on which policies were set by the convention are farm-to-market road construction, sales taxes, education and farm labor. Recommendations to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December on national matters were also adopted by the 67th voting delegates.

Delegates recommended that no changes be made in the present system of allocating funds for farm-to-market road construction. In the controversial field of taxation, the delegates defeated a proposal for a state sales tax and favored, instead, more economy in government, plus enforced collection of personal property taxes. The TFB is already on record favoring a tax on natural resources.

As for education, the convention favored local control of public schools, especially regarding financing and curriculum. They urged that the youth be taught more about the "true history of our country, our Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and our free enterprise system."

The delegates turned down flatly a proposal to finance research and promotion programs of various commodities. The delegates said that "while we defend the right of farm workers to organize and bargain collectively, it must be recognized that extreme fluctuations in weather and in farm commodity prices make it impractical, if not impossible, to impose industrial standards or industrial union wage scales and working conditions upon agriculture."

In other matters, the delegates also recommended that pink bollworm regulations, especially in regard to okra harvest for seed, be tightened.

Favored the theory of competitive rating in casualty insurance "because we believe in the free enterprise system" and opposed the present merit rating (point) system for casualty insurance.

Favored continuation of research for the control and eradication of anthrax, vesicular exanthema, foot and mouth disease, brucellosis, wheat poisoning, cattle grubs, blow fly, sand burn, and also scabies and scrapie in sheep; Recommended that mineral rights separated from the land be registered each year or terminated.

Reaffirmed previous policy on dis-annexation of farm land from city limits if utilities have not been provided within a five-year period.

Favored the publishing of retailer fees of attorney-legislators in local newspapers; favored limiting candidate to run for me office at a time.

Favored stopping abuses under welfare programs and making public names of recipients; favored licensing of farm-used trucks on a monthly basis.

14 Texans Die In Traffic

At least 18 persons met violent deaths in Texas over the weekend. Traffic took 14.

Three persons died in a head-on collision 11 miles south of Mason late Sunday. Killed were L. D. Schumaker, 45, and Clayton Thomas, 42, both of Mason, and Miss Lillie Elaine Buford, about 20, of San Antonio. Three men in the car with Miss Buford were injured.

Ignacio del Toro, 51, died Saturday during a fight in his tavern at Fort Worth. Officers said Del Toro attempted to break up a fight between three men. The three fled.

A hunting accident near Whit in northwest Parker County Sunday killed Norman Black, 45, food store manager at Weatherford.

Another hunting accident near Junction killed James Wilson Newton, 42, of Odessa. Police said he apparently was killed by his rifle as he was trying to climb a tree.

Tanislado Gomez, 65, of Eagle Pass, was killed late Saturday night when an auto overturned 25 miles east of the Mexican border town.

Mrs. Dora Fullerton, 74, died in Ballinger of burns received when her robe was ignited by a bathroom heater at her home in Paint Rock Saturday.

Finns Discuss FTO Business

MOSCOW (AP)—Finland's President Urho Kekkonen led a delegation to Moscow today to work out an agreement with the Soviet Union enabling his country to do business with the European Free Trade Association's "Outer Seven."

Wrapped in a heavy overcoat and wearing a black astrakhan hat, Soviet Premier Khrushchev turned out in below-zero weather to greet the Finns at the railway station.

"Soviet-Finnish relations are a good example of the practical implementation of the principles of peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems," said the Soviet leader.

A Devotional For Today

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. (Psalms 100:1, 2.)
PRAYER: O Lord, who are goodness, mercy, and truth, fill our hearts anew with Thy joy. May we now, and at all times, enter Thy gates with thanksgiving and into Thy courts with praise; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Program That Gets Results

The meeting of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism and the second homecoming of the Big Spring State Hospital alcoholism ward here Sunday focused attention on an endeavor which is helping to clear the fog and is getting results.

While alcoholism is not necessarily a mental illness in the strictest sense of the word, our state mental hospitals have come to grips with the problem out of necessity. For many hopelessly caught in the worst stages of the web of compulsive drinking, commitment to the state hospitals was the end of the road.

But bold and visionary spirits conceived that the road could just as well have a turning—and that the turn could be toward hope, rehabilitation and recovery. Fortunately, provision was made for segregation of the alcoholics in a ward for people with the same problem where people who also had faced the same problem could help them.

It would be wonderful to say that most of those treated recovered, as do most of the patients with organic and bacterial ailments in a regular hospital. The sad fact is that a lot of alcoholics can't be helped because they don't want to be helped.

Yet it is little short of a miracle that upwards of 50 per cent of those who reach the state hospital alcoholic wards at the end of their rope have gained a new hope and have walked down the road toward recovery. This number may be as many as 3,000 for the state system in five years. Conservatively, this means earned income of $15,000,000 annually as contributing, grateful members of our state rather than being an albatross on the necks of their families and society. It's a relatively unglorious but a splendid program, and we wish it well.

Let Him Have What He Deserves

A Central Texas man whose excuse was that he was in a financial bind on a couple of weekly newspapers has been arrested and charged with robbery of two Texas banks.

While he had been in banking and other businesses before entering the newspaper field last year, the newspaper profession doesn't wash its hands of him on that ground.

As the publisher of a newspaper, however small, he had taken on an unwritten obligation to be the sustainer of morality in the communities he served, to contend for the upholding of honesty and of law.

To debase this trust by seeking a cheap way out of his troubles is, in the sight of the newspaper profession, loathsome.

Perhaps the law will deal with him as sternly as it should. We hope so, because it pains us for even a Johnny-come-lately to reflect upon a profession that should be closely linked with the conscience of society.

David Lawrence Implementing The Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON—It was inevitable that immediately after the presidential election some action would be taken with respect to Communist-directed military operations in this hemisphere.

The orders issued by President Eisenhower to the U. S. Navy to assist the governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua are in line with historic principles of international law. It is significant that the two governments requested the military aid. It is important to note the exact language of the White House announcement, which was as follows:

"IN RESPONSE to the request of the governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua, surface and air units of the U. S. Navy are in a position in which they could assist these governments, should it become necessary, to seek out and prevent intervention on the part of Communist-directed elements in the international affairs of Guatemala and Nicaragua through the landing of armed forces or supplies from abroad."

The phrase "Communist-directed elements" justifies the application of the principle of the Monroe Doctrine, which proclaims American purpose to resist any attempt by a European power to add territory by conquest in this hemisphere.

PRESUMABLY this action means that ships at sea or airplanes carrying armed forces or supplies will be intercepted before they can land on the coasts of either Guatemala or Nicaragua. Actually, the Communists are not likely to make any such attempt now that they know there will be resistance by the United States.

The organization of American states in recent years has accepted and further strengthened the principle of the Monroe Doctrine. But each nation may at any time on its own request aid from a sister nation to ward off an invasion. So what Guatemala and Nicaragua have done is in conformity with established principles of law in this hemisphere.

EVERYBODY KNOWS that Cuba is the point of origin of forces hostile to other Central American republics, so it is likely that a close watch will be maintained by the U. S. Navy's airplanes on any vessels or planes which leave Cuban shores for any destination in neighboring countries. This kind of surveillance will gradually increase and could conceivably mean the stoppage and search of vessels of any other country whose cargoes or passengers are destined for ports in Nicaragua or Guatemala.

The incident is more important, however, in a broader sense. It means that American patience with Castro's antics is about exhausted and that from now on his regime will be held to a strict accountability for any military movements that threaten the internal peace of other countries.

THE DECISION to go ahead with military action is a bold one.

Red Economy Means Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet affairs experts conjure up a frightening picture of the use of the Kremlin might make of the U.S.S.R.'s burgeoning economic strength.

From one standpoint, it matters little when or whether the Russians make good their boast of overtaking United States production. The key word is trouble, and there is plenty of trouble in store for the United States in any event.

There is no argument with the proposition that Soviet economic power is rising swiftly. The big question is: What does the Kremlin intend to do with this power and what does it hope to achieve?

WILL IT MEAN more for the Soviet consumer—and the risk of changing the monolithic dictatorship structure of Soviet rule? Will it be thrown into military adventuring? Or will it be used in another kind of bid for world domination through enormous investment in economic aid to underdeveloped countries?

All signs point to the latter. No qualified student of Soviet affairs

Also Prefer Blondes

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Mosquitoes and gentlemen have one thing in common: Both prefer blondes. The mosquitoes choose blondes because their skin is usually thinner and less resistant to biting—but why gentlemen prefer blondes is their own secret.

What can a man believe? All my life I've thought kills were of Scottish origin. Now I'm told they were first brought to Scotland by a French tailor in 1745.

IT HURTS the same in any language, but a black eye is called a blue eye in Germany. In France it's known as a poached eye.

Everyone has to live his own life and find by experience what is best for him. On his 70th birthday Mark Twain warned, "Don't try to reach old age by another man's way." Two things he felt had helped him attain the Biblical span: He "never smoked more than one cigar at a time" and for 30 years he limited himself to two meals a day—breakfast and dinner.

Our quotable notables: "An atheist," said John Buchan, author and statesman, "is a man who has no invisible means of support."

Ever wonder why the blind peddlers and sightless strolling musicians in the Broadway area don't prefer to work in a factory or make brooms? One big reason: They can make up to $300 a week selling pencils and tunes on the streets.

EXECUTIVE SIGNS: This one is a favorite of Stork Club owner Sherman Billingsley: "When success turns a man's head—he is facing failure."

If Jacqueline Kennedy, America's next First Lady, has any wish to decorate her new home in January with foreign antiques, she will have to restrain her ambition. In the 1930s Congress put into law a requirement that White House furnishings "be of domestic make as far as practicable."

Incidentally, Dwight D. Eisenhower will leave office with a claim to fame often overlooked. He was one of only two bald-headed men in American history elected to the presidency. The first was John Quincy Adams.

Lady, if you think cooking a Thanksgiving dinner for your family is something of a chore, even in a modern kitchen, think how much tougher it was for the Pilgrim mothers. The original Thanksgiving feast in 1621 lasted for three days—and 91 Indians showed up as guests.

PROSPERITY NOTE: Looking for a good business opportunity? Then why not open a finance company? It is estimated that one out of four U.S. families now are living beyond their means.

It was T. A. Dorgan who observed, "Life is like eating artichokes—you've got to go through so much to get so little."

To Your Good Health

Bicarbonate Of Soda Habit Of No Purpose

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My son takes a teaspoon of bicarbonate of soda in a glass of orange juice every morning, and my daughter also is always taking it for nervous indigestion. She says the soda relieves her and removes gas. What do you think?—M.F."

The "bicarbonate habit" exists quite widely, but I can't see any good excuse for it, and I can see some harm in some cases.

First, it can be distinctly harmful for anyone on a low-sodium (low salt) diet.

Second, the stomach is supposed to be somewhat acid to digest food. The body itself provides traces of hydrochloric acid for this purpose, and some people, lacking enough of the acid, are very much relieved when it is administered medically—naturally in very small and dilute amounts. Too much bicarbonate upsets the naturally acid condition of the stomach.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My wife suffers terribly from pinworms. We have tried everything in the drug store. A doctor gave her pills for a 10-day treatment. There is nothing so far that will help more than a couple of months and then the problem is back again.—A.C.B."

Curing pinworms—getting rid of these parasites—is unlike curing a good many other diseases, because you can't develop an immunity to the parasites.

Starting with a reasonably good medication, the important part of the treatment depends on using the medication properly.

Using it properly usually means checking and if need be treating all members of the family.

For, you see, a person may get rid of the pests, but in a few weeks develop the trouble all over again by picking up a pinworm anew.

Obviously pinworms trouble some people more than others. It is possible for people to have them but not realize it, because they do not suffer little discomfort.

"Dear Dr. Molner: We are worried about a brother-in-law who recently underwent an operation for removal of the prostate gland. He had always been very easy-going and good natured, but now is a changed man. Do you think the operation caused this?—C.S."

Yes and no. The operation didn't do anything that caused this change in temperament. Operations don't. But I'll tell you what I think DID cause the change.

He's worried! Chances are, of course, that the operation did all that it was expected to do. His health, in that case, has been protected. But he is still worrying about it. We all worry, I suppose. And that, most likely, is the whole story of his temporary change in temperament.

Do you have an unruly child? If so, send for my leaflet, "Tantrums—And What They Mean." To receive your copy, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Voodoo Practices Still With Us?

Ever have a shooting pain in your head and get the idea that one of your neighbors might be practicing voodoo by sticking pins in a doll that looks like you?

The idea, the practice, might be more widespread in this broad land of ours than you think.

The cult of voodoo is believed to have originated in West Africa and moved across the Atlantic in the hold of slave ships.

NOT TOO LONG ago, a school principal in Alabama was accused of encouraging the practice of voodooism among her students.

She failed to reveal whether the practice worked for her or whom she was seeking to work her magic on—it could have been a member of the board of trustees or the parent of a student which had blamed her for letting little Johnny fail.

Cults sprung up in Haiti and flourish to this day. When I stopped in Port Au Prince several years ago, I could hear the voodoo drums beating in the jungle not far from where my quarters were.

THERE WERE tales abounding of the orgies which occurred in the bush, where blood sacrifices of chickens and goats took place and the voodoo serpent god Gran Zombi was worshipped.

There were also rumors that humans were occasionally sacrificed, although those stories were not substantiated. I found such tales not too hard to believe, since human life came so cheap. I saw prisoners in chains in the streets, sentenced to life terms for the theft of a few pennies, whose freedom I could have purchased for a five-dollar bill.

THE VOODOO practitioners fill their dolls with pins and withdraw them over a period of time. When the last pin is withdrawn, the enemy died—or so legend has it.

The hex victim is supposed to work in some cases, where the victim is as superstitious as the hexer. In other words, the victim perished because of his fear.

Zombies were another product of the voodoo legends—persons supposedly brought back to life and given soulless animation through the odd rites. Hollywood has made many number of films on the subject, all of them pure fantasy and none based on fact.

SOME VOODOO worshippers in the south, quick to spot a chance to take an unsuspecting for the coin of the realm, have put such items as go-way powder and eagles' eyes on the market to help rid the hexed buyer of illnesses and complaints.

The eagles' eyes, which actually were taken from fish, were supposed to help the purchaser see the moves of his enemies. The go-way powder was employed by disenchanted lovers who wanted to get rid of an old romance—or at least keep him or her at a respectable distance.

The beliefs in voodoo will endure. Some people abhor the thought of giving up their pet beliefs, life would become a lot more boring and a lot less romantic if they did.

Put A Curb On Tourist Shopping

FLORENCE, Italy—Any thoughtful American traveler who is disturbed by the outward flow of gold from the United States and by the nation's unfavorable balance of international payments can suggest a quick and easy reform that will save both the nation's gold and American tourists from themselves. So here goes:

The next session of Congress should revise sharply and downward the present overgenerous customs exemptions allowed American tourists on their return from abroad. Such a revision would do two things: It would save Uncle Sam as much annually as a quarter to a half-billion dollars in gold and it would channel a nice windfall into America's limping economy.

DURING THE PAST 10 years—and never more so than on this present journey—I have observed that great numbers of American tourists go abroad not to look, learn and relax, but to shop and to shop greedily. This is particularly noticeable at the moment in Florence, a city famed for the art of the goldsmith and the jeweler, for leather goods of all kinds, for exquisite linens and, since World War II, for women's fashions.

Florence is full of American tourists, all buying like crazy. (So, too, was Venice.) And I have every confidence that the same condition will prevail in Rome and Paris.

BEFORE WORLD WAR II, the American tourist returning from abroad was allowed a customs exemption of $100. After the war, as a shot in the arm for Europe's prostrate economy, Uncle Sam revised this exemption generously and drastically upward.

Under present regulations, a tourist who is abroad at least 12 full days can claim a $500 exemption every six months, as long as the articles are for the tourist's personal or household use.

BUT BEYOND THAT "each returning resident who has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than 48 hours is entitled to an exemption of $200 once each 31 days," according to customs regulations. Minor children are entitled to the same exemptions as adults, a generous proviso that permits many an American family to import a European car almost duty free. The kids are also entitled to import that gallon of alcoholic beverages and 100 cigars that Uncle Sam permits each returning traveler to bring home with him.

BUT THIS IS hardly the half of it. In recent years, Uncle Sam has permitted his peregrinating citizens to ship home, duty free, an almost-limitless number of $10 gifts to friends and relatives. Only perfumes, tobacco and alcohol are excluded from this kind of proviso. The giver, or tourist, has only to make certain that no two such gifts arrive home on the same day for the same person.

Certainly the liberal customs exemptions on the part of the United States have had a potent effect on Europe's economy and have contributed mightily to its present booming economy. The law was an invaluable shot in the arm when it was most needed and we can take pride in what these regulations accomplished.

BUT WESTERN EUROPE is on its feet, and it is high time that Uncle Sam put his own house in order. Largely because of American generosity and all kinds of continuing foreign aid, the United States is struggling with an unfavorable balance of payments to the shocking tune of four billion dollars.

It is high time to plug such obvious and no-longer-needed loopholes as the above customs exemptions.

Words Of Warning For Kennedy

WASHINGTON—It's too early to start shooting at the President-elect's Ship of State, but a couple of shots across the bows by way of warning are permissible. Senator Kennedy is going to get into early trouble if he:

1. PAYS ANY attention to Khrushchev's proposal of renewed "relations between our countries (that) will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time." The whole effort of American diplomacy, 1945-60, has been to reverse the roads to Yalta, Tehran, Potsdam and Moscow. Mr. Kennedy, a patriot of the highest order, will also be among the brainiest presidents of history. If his patriotism dominates his intellect, as I think is probable, we need not worry about further giveaways and concessions to the Reds. But intellectualism has not always been a useful quality in Presidents. Roosevelt and Wilson are examples of why it often pays in human and political terms to listen to the blood's tingle and the heart's throb rather than to the grinding of the brain cells. There probably is an impulse in Mr. Kennedy to tell Khrushchev in Trumancian terms where to go. It would be all right with many Americans if the incoming President uses some very short words with Khrushchev on "the line . . . in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

2. PAYS TOO MUCH attention to the academic braintrust of iconoclasm represented in Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith. Again, it is a matter of head vs. heart. Iconoclasts make fine literary heroes, and I grew up in pious worship of Henry L. Mencken. But, like our ancestors, the idol-smashers are people whom it is better to worship than to join. Despite American separation of religion and politics, the President is something of a spiritual leader. Professor Galbraith is a clever and amiable heretic. He is the man who writes (a) that Henry Ford, innovator of the high wage which turned workers into consumers, was a fake and a business failure; (b) that the personal genius of Edison and the Wright Brothers is today replaceable by "organized effort" in a laboratory or experimental shop; (c) that the proper reason for tax-supported foreign aid is not American self-interest but because it is "generous and right and perhaps a little out of a sense of guilt that we should be so well off while others are not"; (d) finally, that it is time for "limited" intervention by the Federal Government into the "concentrated industries."

ALL THESE IDEAS of Professor Galbraith are healthful, skeptical and provocative. They belong in books, which is where I read them. But a President of the United States just should not embrace the general heresies evoked here—that the creators of American capitalism are bogus, genius can be synthetically reproduced, we should feel "guilt" for our prosperity, creeping nationalization of industry is due.

3. Gives encouragement to the idea that "Happy Day Are Here Again" for the eggheads. It would be a major mistake for Mr. Kennedy to go to Adlai Stevenson, high priest of the egghead cult, for Secretary of State. There would be a Senate floor battle, and at least half the nation would dislike the idea.

PHILIP JESSUP, whom the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in 1951 declined, on grounds of his Red-tainted connections, to confirm as a delegate to the United Nations, is now apparently to be appointed by a panel for that purpose as judge on the U.N. International Court. The appointment does not come from the White House or before the Senate. But despite all this—indeed, because of this—the Jessup case is an early and searching test for Mr. Kennedy.

He has been promising to restore Presidential powers to the tradition of Jackson, Lincoln and Roosevelt. Well, here is a chance for the President-elect to demonstrate those powers. A word, a frown from Mr. Kennedy can deny an American post in international affairs to a man already marked as unworthy. If Mr. Kennedy does not act to stop this marked man, the new Administration will be stuck with an old grievance.

most of the day at his Atlantic shore home with Clark Clifford, his chief liaison man with the outgoing Republicans.

Clifford, who served as special counsel to President Harry S. Truman, was picked by Kennedy shortly after his nomination last July to make a study of the problems of transition from one administration to another.

UNDER WAY
Clifford had the study well under way when Kennedy won the Nov. 8 election. Since then, Clifford has conferred twice with President Eisenhower's chief aide, Wilton B. Parsons.

These conferences and the Kennedy-Clifford talks today will be climaxed soon by a meeting of the president-elect and Eisenhower for a top level discussion of the change-over.

Sitting in with Kennedy and Clifford for at least part of the talks will be Prof. Richard Neustadt of Columbia University. Neustadt is a specialist on the problems of government transition.

From his two advisers Kennedy will get a list of some 150 top positions for which he will be choosing appointees between now and his inauguration Jan. 20, or immediately thereafter. Hundreds of lesser jobs also must be filled.

Clifford, who arrived Sunday afternoon, had still another Kennedy assignment. He represented the president-elect at a conference with a delegation sent here by the Louisiana Legislature.

The group was under instructions to find out Kennedy's views on a federal court order enjoining the legislature from interfering with school integration in New Orleans. The delegation outlined its mission to Clifford, who simply listened and promised to report to Kennedy.

Kennedy headquarters had announced the delegation would meet with Clifford today but declined to specify where or when.

Over the weekend Kennedy divided his time between recreation and conferences dealing with reorganization of the Defense Department and discussion of the tense situation in the Caribbean area.

His house guests were two Democratic senators, Stuart Symington of Missouri and George Smathers of Florida.

Symington, secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, is head of a Kennedy study committee on Pentagon reorganization. Mentioned frequently as a Kennedy choice for secretary of defense, Symington said he felt told the president-elect he feels he can be of more help to the new administration by staying in the Senate.

Symington, whose report to Kennedy is scheduled for completion by the end of the month, has talked of saving between five and 10 billion dollars a year through greater administrative efficiency in the Defense department.

With Smathers, the president-elect talked over the menace of communist penetration in Cuba and other Latin American countries.

Cotton farmers are still hoping that rain will hold off a few more days. Bulk of the cotton crop is now ginned but some fields are still to be harvested. Ranchers, of course, would welcome more rain to bolster winter pasture prospects and to supplement water supplies for stock.

Bracero Hurt In Accident

A bracero who was injured slightly when he was struck by a car on North Gregg late Saturday night was reported in good condition today and "up walking around the hospital."

Lerila Rodriguez was taken to the Howard County Foundation in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance after he was hit by a car driven by Samuel Allen Truitt, Weslaco, at NW 4th and Gregg.

Truitt told police that Rodriguez ran from behind a car and "came out of nowhere." The victim ran in front of Truitt's car.

Three other accidents, none involving reported injuries, were investigated Saturday.

Robert J. Murphy, 1501 Main, and Gene Hardy Fiewellen, 2008 Johnson, were in collision at 10th and Johnson.

Ronald Dean Langley, Midland, and David Austin Ferguson, Rt. 2, Big Spring, collided at 10th and Main. A passenger in Langley's car, Judy Parsons, was shaken up in the accident and was taken to the Howard County Hospital Foundation in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance. A check showed she had no injuries, however.

Salvador D. Garcia, 509 N. 8th, was in a collision with Leland Wesley Yates, Rt. 1, Big Spring, at 3rd and Benton.

In one mishap investigated Sunday, Nicholas Joseph Seidl, 215 Wright, and Doyle C. Harris, 1107 Ridgeway, were in collision in the 300 block of West 3rd. No injuries were reported in the accident.

Minnick Heads For California On Horseback

A latter-day pony express rider came to Big Spring as Weldon Minnick, 44, from Dover, N. J. rode into town. On his mare Sharon, he is traveling from Kensington, Conn. en route to Disneyland, Calif. The trip began in June, 1959.

Minnick says he gives most of the credit to his horse after riding knee-deep through a Kansas snowstorm. Before this trip, he was self-employed in the western entertainment field and has received advance billing through various groups on his changing route to offset his expenses. He says many times motorists have stopped him along the way and made various contributions, specifically to be used for Sharon's food and lodging.

Schools have had him speak and entertain along his route and often private citizens have given him work. The lack of a definite sponsor combined with the elements has hampered him somewhat, though his spirit appears to remain undampened as seen in his weathered face.

Lettie Ross, now director of rehabilitation for the state commission and who was the first commissioner on the ward at Big Spring State Hospital, told how the ward was established and headed Dr. Harrison for his help. The payoff was not alone on the recovery of patients but in the happiness for their families, he said. This made it a season for "Thanksgiving."

200 Attend Ward Meeting

Approximately four score alcoholics came back to their alma mater's second homecoming Sunday afternoon, and you couldn't find a happier bunch.

These were the people who began to find their way back as patients in the alcoholic ward at the Big Spring State Hospital. With them Sunday came grateful wives and children and others who accounted for a 200 turnout for the brief program in ward 10-A at the hospital.

"It was here that I learned that I wasn't just a drunken bum," said Curley, an alcoholic once accounted as hopeless, but now a total abstainer and successful in his business. There were other impromptu testimonials from a red-headed young lady in appreciation for what the hospital's alcoholic program had done for her mother; from a wife who said her husband was now buying a home and going into business instead of fulfilling a doctor's prediction of death within six months if drinking continued.

The prime tribute came from Dr. Jim Rountree, Kerrville, now a successful practitioner who once had his medical license revoked because of addiction to alcohol and barbiturates.

"I was hopeless, except in the minds of the workers on the alcoholic ward at the hospital here," he said. "The hospital more than did its part. The best place any alcoholic can go for help is our state hospital."

Earlier in the day the Texas Commission on Alcoholism had met in the offices of Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, and reviewed financial statements and progress reports. Continued austerity of the field work program was forecast due to lack of funds, but the commission indicated $9,000 out of $12,000 available in cooperative aid with local communities would be turned back to the state treasury because most communities are going it on their own.

Al Badger, Dallas, chairman, presided over the panel which had all but one member here for the occasion.

Of the 2,017 alcoholics admitted to the six state hospital alcoholic wards last year, 72.5 per cent were first admissions. It was reported. Statistics indicated that two-thirds of those who did return were voluntary readmissions. Figures also indicated that best results were shown among the younger patients. In this respect alcoholism paralleled the record of other diseases, physical and mental—the earlier the treatment, the better its chances of success.

Dr. Harrison welcomed the visitors to the homecoming and told them that the staff was learning from them and that if mental patients would talk as freely about their recovery as alcoholics do, "we will have reached the millennium in treatment of mental illness."

Lettie Ross, now director of rehabilitation for the state commission and who was the first commissioner on the ward at Big Spring State Hospital, told how the ward was established and headed Dr. Harrison for his help. The payoff was not alone on the recovery of patients but in the happiness for their families, he said. This made it a season for "Thanksgiving."

said Shelby Parnell, counselor, who presided over the program.

Gold Problem Could Rock U.S. Finances

First of three articles
By FRANK CORMIER
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The nations of Western Europe now have it in their power to rock the American financial system any day in the week.

All that stands between crisis and stability is an intangible called "confidence"—confidence that the U.S. dollar will remain "as good as gold."

Foreign governments and their citizens own about $15 billion of Uncle Sam's money. Most of these dollars are owned by Western Europeans and are deposited or invested in the United States. Theoretically, all could be used to buy American gold.

WIPE OUT
 If all were used for this purpose, Uncle Sam's supply of bullion would be wiped out. There is only $19 billion of gold in the government's coffers.

Such a disaster is virtually impossible.

For one thing, foreigners do so much business with the United States that they couldn't afford to exchange all their dollars for gold. Furthermore, to do so would wreck their own finances because the United States is the cornerstone of the free world economy. This doesn't mean, however, that the current anxiety over Uncle Sam's persistent loss of gold is misplaced. The simple fact is that foreigners could cause a major crisis merely by exchanging a relatively small proportion of their dollars for gold in the span of a few days.

NO CONFIDENCE
 If foreigners bought $1 billion of U.S. gold in a single week, this would be taken as a vote of "no confidence" in the dollar. Perhaps even a lesser amount would turn the tide.

It is this possibility which last week prompted President Eisenhower to impose unprecedented restrictions on spending abroad under the military and foreign aid programs. His aim was to lessen the number of dollars moving into foreign hands; dollars that could be used to buy American gold.

Since July 1, foreigners have been buying American gold at the rate of $3.8 billion a year. Since Aug. 1, they have been ordering at an annual pace of $4.1 billion. Since Sept. 1, the rate has risen to $4.7 billion. Since Oct. 1, the flow of bullion has hit a spectacular annual rate of $5.9 billion.

Compare this buying with the remaining U.S. gold supply: $18 billion of which $11.5 billion must, by law, remain in government hands as backing for part of the money supply.

CUSHION
 It wouldn't take long to use up the cushion available for meeting foreign orders. And once Uncle Sam had to turn away customers, the dollar would no longer be as good as gold.

Of course, the buying rate of recent weeks may slacken and perhaps drop sharply.

The point is, however, that no one can foretell the future.

The balding arithmetic of the present situation already has caused some international uncertainty. Witness the frenzied speculation that gripped the London gold market last month.

At this point, large gold purchases over a short span of time would add to the existing uncertainty—would threaten to unleash forces that could shatter the free world's financial system.

The Soviet Union, fortunately, hasn't the dollars to attempt such a move. And why would friends ever do such a thing, especially since they would suffer, too, in the end?

Why did millions of solid American citizens run trembling to their banks after 1929?

Putting it plainly, they lost confidence in the banking system. It was to buttress confidence that Eisenhower acted last week. He wanted to show the world that the United States is aware of its problem and is not afraid to do something about it; that it will defend the free world's stake in the stability of the dollar.

Some believe the President's actions were too severe—that the cure will hurt more than the disease. However, the fact that such action was taken by a "lame duck" administration suggests the urgency with which the problem is viewed by Eisenhower and his secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson.

WHY NOT WAIT?
 Why couldn't they have waited nine more weeks for the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy?

Some speculate that the actions were taken now because Eisenhower felt they would be necessary soon and feared a new administration might be reluctant to take potentially unpopular measures.

This was denied by an official who took part in the meeting at which Eisenhower made his decision. This man said there was only one reason for acting now: Inauguration Day might be too late.

Found Faith, Self Confidence In Deep Personal Suffering

TOKYO (AP) — Hayato Ikeda, the victor in Japan's eighth postwar election, found faith and renewed self confidence in deep personal suffering.

The 60-year-old prime minister, whose pro-U.S. policies received a mandate from the voters, was the son of a wealthy sake manufacturer who spent his youth as a university student at Kyoto drinking deeply of the pleasures of that famed geisha capital.

Like many sons of the rich, he chose government service as a career. He might have remained an obscure official if a rare disease of the skin had not forced him to resign his post in the tax office in Utsunomiya in 1932.

CURE SEARCH
 Dressed in the white clothes of a pilgrim, and accompanied by his devout mother, he made a long and painful tour of Buddhist temples on the island of Shikoku in search of the spiritual cure modern medicine could not provide.

Five years later he emerged well and healed. He attributed it to his faith in Buddhism, a faith that continues deep today.

He returned to ordinary life a serious, purposeful man who bore little resemblance to the playboy of his youth.

Taken under the wing of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida in the postwar occupation days, he became finance chief and drafted tough economic reforms which put Japan firmly on the road to recovery. He learned to work with highly placed Americans and won their respect in the process.

AFTER SISHI
 He became prime minister July 14, succeeding Nobusuke Kishi, who was forced to resign following his successful but bitterly opposed fight to push through the new defense treaty with the United States.

Some veteran politicians predicted Ikeda would soon be ousted from power because of a temper and a candor which are celebrated in Japan, traits which stirred him to retort to critics of his austerity measures: "Let the people eat barley if they can't afford rice."

But Ikeda has conducted himself during his four-months tenure with mastery and control.

Recognizing that Kishi aroused hostility among the leftists and the general population by a general attitude of rigidity, Ikeda set about proving he could and would compromise if the opposition Socialists cooperated.

Johnson Arrives, Tuxedo Lost

PARIS (AP) — Vice-president-elect Lyndon B. Johnson arrived at his Paris hotel Sunday minus his tuxedo.

An aide to the 6-foot, 3-inch Texan said, "It's not funny. You can't just go out and rent a dinner jacket for him."

Johnson is in France to attend the NATO parliamentary conference. Shortly after arriving the Senate majority leader noticed his tuxedo was missing.

Aides scurried through the hotel and telephoned the airport to seek the missing piece of luggage. It finally turned up after a six-hour search.

Not Focused

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When the Liberty National Bank & Trust Co. branch was robbed of $18,000, a hidden automatic camera took pictures every 15 seconds as it was supposed to do. But, said bank officials, the robber was out of range in every picture.

 By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: On October 5th I ran the following letter:

DEAR ABBY: I am a 35-year-old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband. . . I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own. . . a good allowance to do as he pleases and no questions asked. I want a man between 20 and 40 who doesn't drink. I own four houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank. . . There is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work. . . and he can sleep as late as he pleases. I am sick of playing hard to get. I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

JUST PLAIN LONESOME
 Here are some of the replies:

DEAR ABBY: Tell "JUST PLAIN LONESOME" she can have my husband. He's in his late 30's, likes to sleep, doesn't care for work, would appreciate a car and an allowance, would like to come and go as he pleases with no questions asked, and prefers women who are "not hard to get."

"JUST PLAIN FED UP"

DEAR ABBY: We are not for sale, but we are for rent. There are seven of us who will offer "Lonesome" companionship at the rate of one per day.

Relief was apparent at the air base when news arrived that the wives and children of American servicemen would not have to pack their bags after all. President Eisenhower was still determined to save on dollar spending overseas but not at the expense of separating service families already-settled abroad. (AP Wire-photo)

Congolese Attack, Wound Americans

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A crowd of knife-wielding Congolese Sunday fell upon three American men and a woman whose car accidentally killed a Negro cyclist. Two of the Americans were wounded.

Chief Warrant Officer Clyde St. Lawrence of New Bedford, Mass., a member of the military attaché's staff at the U.S. Embassy, was stabbed three times as he ran from the car he had been driving.

Frank Carlucci of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., political officer at the embassy, stayed at the scene so the others could get away. He was stabbed in the back and beaten before he jumped aboard a passing bus.

U.S. military attaché Lt. Col. Edward Dannemiller and his wife pushed through the crowd unhurt while it went after St. Lawrence.

The latter was picked up by a U.S. vice consul, Alison Palmer of Amityville, Long Island, N.Y., who happened to be passing in her car.

St. Lawrence was taken to Lovanium Hospital and given a blood transfusion. His condition was described as not serious. Carlucci's wound required three stitches.

The four Americans were en route to Leopoldville's airport to see off Deputy Undersecretary of State Loy W. Henderson, leaving after a two-day visit.

Carlucci said the cyclist crossed the road in front of them, then turned back as they swerved to miss him, putting himself directly in the path of the car.

In the tug of war, Bauer placed first, Marcy second and Lakeview third.

The outing ended after supper and a discussion period.

Col. McCoy Is Transferred

Lt. Col. Carey B. McCoy, Wing personnel officer at Webb AFB since March, 1958, made a sudden departure last weekend for Washington, D.C., where he will join the 9999th Air Reserve Squadron.

An old hand at AF Reserve work, Col. McCoy was executive officer for reserve forces at Hq USAF, Bolling AFB, there from 1953 to 1955. He wears the Air Force Reserve Medal.

A native of Gilbert, La., Col. McCoy is a 1934 graduate of Louisiana State University. He earned a reserve commission while attending LSU.

Called to active duty in 1941, he remained in the United States until 1945 when he went on a year's tour to the Philippines. Duties in Korea from 1957 to 1958 preceded his Webb assignment. He was wing project officer for Webb's last two United States drives.

GOP May Ask For Recount

By DAVE CHEAVENS
 AUSTIN (AP) — Republican leaders are expected here today or Tuesday to confer with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson about a possible contest to bring on a recount of some general election ballots.

State GOP Chairman Thad Hutcheson of Houston and general attorney Simms Davidson of Dallas may make a formal recount request in their revived hope that it might switch Texas' 24 electoral votes to Republican Richard Nixon from Democrat John Kennedy.

This request, Hutcheson said, would go before Secretary of State Zollie Steakley.

The Republican chairman said that at least 100,000 and possibly as many as 200,000 ballots are in question. The Republican leader says that a large per cent of the paper ballots were thrown out in many precincts because of failure to mark them correctly. In other precincts, he said, none or very few ballots were tossed out.

Failure to mark out minor parties listed on the ballot brought on most of this confusion.

Schools Closed Pending Ruling

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An uncertain quiet prevailed in this troubled Deep South city today as it waited for a three-judge federal court to rule on school integration.

Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., chief judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, declined to say when the ruling would be handed down.

While city and state officials awaited a court decision, New Orleans public schools closed for a week's holiday.

Police reported a calm weekend in sharp contrast to five stormy days that followed the admission of four Negro first graders to two white schools last Monday.

Unofficial returns compiled by the Texas Election Bureau gave Kennedy a 45,264 vote margin.

The official canvass of votes comes Friday. This is the date set by law for Steakley, Gov. Price Daniel and Wilson to open returns officially certified to them from county judges.

The presidential electors also meet on a date set by law, Dec. 19, at the Capitol.

The Texas Election Code provides that the attorney general may on his own motion, or must when allegations of fraud are made by two or more reputable citizens, investigate an election. This applies to special, general, or primary elections for national and state offices involving two or more counties.

A special statute covers contests for presidential electors, providing that it shall be tried and determined by the state board of canvassers made up of the governor, secretary of state and attorney general.

A financial squeeze was expected this week against the money-beset New Orleans School Board, faced with a $2-million teacher payroll.

The state was reported ready to transfer $1.5 million of school bond funds from New Orleans banks to state-chartered banks in Shreveport. That would put the money beyond the jurisdiction of federal courts in case the government attempts to freeze the funds.

Impact Sought Of Teaching Aids

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is financing a study of the present and potential impact of new inventions on the classroom work of teachers.

The National Education Association, sponsor of the study, announced it will be conducted under an 18-month, $102,980 contract with the U.S. Office of Education under the National Defense Education Act.

James D. Finn, professor of education at the University of Southern California, will direct the study of new developments in television, teaching machines, audio-visual materials and other technology and the problems and opportunities they create for the nation's teachers.

Clubs Checked For Licenses

NEW YORK (AP)—The owners of two night clubs where Frank Sinatra and Sophie Tucker performed without valid entertainers' licenses have been summoned to a police department hearing today.

The hearing is part of a widespread investigation into cabarets and the licensing of performers. Over the weekend more than 1,000 police inspected 2,478 cabarets, dance halls and other licensed premises.

Among the 1,218 cabarets inspected, police said they found 114 violations, including those at Jack Silverman's International restaurant where Miss Tucker has been singing, and at Jules Podell's Copacabana, where Sinatra has admitted performing without an identity card.

Miss Tucker, "last of the red hot mamas," ended her engagement on schedule Sunday night. Police said she had been singing at Silverman's International since Oct. 19 with an expired license. Her pianist, Ted Shapiro, had no card.

To sing again in New York City, Miss Tucker need only apply at the division of licenses for a two-year renewal of her identity card, police said.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has placed special emphasis on a check of the Copacabana. He said he wanted to find out if the night club was receiving preferential treatment, and if so, why?

Sinatra has said he has no intention of ever getting an identity card. He is not appearing there now.

The weekend check of the Copacabana disclosed that nine employees were working under improper licenses, police said.

The cabaret check was a countermove to charges by a citizens' committee that there was police corruption in the issuing of licenses to cabaret entertainers.

Indians Announce Tougher Stand

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India will shoot down Communist China planes crossing its borders "when we can." It was the toughest stand he has taken on the long-simmering border dispute.

The government reported last week it had protested to Peiping over 101 air violations of Indian territory in eight months. The Chinese denied the planes were theirs.

Nehru made his threat to stop the violations with force under questioning in Parliament.

Ike Considers Shooting Trip

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported considering today a one-day quail shooting trip as a windup to his two-week Georgia vacation.

The White House said the President had not yet firmly decided whether to accept an invitation to fly Tuesday to Albany, Ga., 250 miles southwest of Augusta, on the hunting expedition.

W. Alton Jones, board chairman of Cities Service Corp., has been urging Eisenhower to visit the Jones' Blue Hill plantation near Albany.

Eisenhower spent Sunday golfing and playing bridge at the Augusta National Golf Club with his friends. He left his secluded vacation headquarters Sunday night to put in a brief appearance at a party honoring his press secretary, James C. Hagerly, at the Richmond Hotel in downtown Augusta.

Earlier, he accepted the resignation of James D. Zellerbach, San Francisco industrialist, as U.S. ambassador to Italy.

NESSELRODE CAKE

A sweet treat with its rich chocolate filling and garnish of chestnuts, raisins, glace cherries and grated orange rind.

Put An Individual Touch In Cake Mix

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Cooks vie to see who can give the most interesting home touch to a cake mix. Want a suggestion? Take your cue from the famous Nesselrode Pudding and blend some of the flavors that distinguish the original dessert.
According to Escoffier these are chestnut puree, currants, raisins, candied orange peel, cherries, Madeira, maraschino and whipped cream—all added to a rich molded custard. For a garnish the master-chef surrounded the dessert with "a crown of fine glace chestnuts or balls of chocolate-glaced chestnut puree."
Quite an array for modern short-order cooks! So here's an adaptation. Use a package of cherry-flavored cake mix and fill and frost with chocolate whipped cream; garnish the sides of the cake with a delicious mixture of some of the other Nesselrode ingredients.

- NESSELRODE CAKE
- 1 pkg. (1 lb. 3 oz.) cherry-flavored cake mix
  - 1 cup heavy cream
  - 1/2 cup instant sweet chocolate-flavored beverage mix
  - 1/4 cup chopped cooked chestnuts

Bite-Size Jelly Apples Delight The Younger Set

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Fall days bring jelly apples. But have you noticed that small fry rarely eat one of these large treats right down to the core?
If you have preschoolers in your family, you might like to make them some bite-size jelly apples using this recipe borrowed from China.
This dessert is a specialty of Northern Chinese cooks who are also famous for their Peking Duck. They fry pieces of apple and bring them to the table with a syrup that is kept warm. Eaters dip the apple into the syrup and then into bowls of icy-cold water to harden the glaze.
Such table-style dipping is fine for adults who can safely manage the hot syrup. To use the idea for small children you'll need to adapt the procedure. This is how we work it out at our house, omitting the frying process.

First we fit two whole apples into two low sturdy glasses so that the apples are above the top of the glass. Then, as suggested in the recipe, we insert food picks in lemon-dipped apple pieces.
When the syrup is at the hard crack or brittle thread stage we place it—in the small saucepan in which it is cooked. Dip the apple pieces, one at a time, into the syrup and then into a bowl of ice-cold water; now the youngsters take over. They continue hardening the glaze in the water, and then insert the miniature jelly apples in the whole apples placed in the glasses.
After this? Small fry pass speedily, eat promptly and enjoy.

MINIATURE JELLY APPLES

- 2 medium-size apples
- Food picks
- Juice of half a lemon
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup water

1-3 cup dark corn syrup
Wash and dry apples but do not pare; remove cores and cut into eighths; cut each eighth into 3 crosswise pieces.
Dip apple pieces in lemon juice; drain well. Insert a food pick in each piece of the apple so skin is down. In a 1-pint saucepan stir together the sugar, water and corn syrup.
Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring to hard crack stage (300 degrees) or until a little of the syrup dribbled into 1 cup of ice-cold water separates into threads that are brittle. At once set pan over an electric or candle warmer.

Dip apple pieces one at a time in hot syrup and then into a bowl of ice water to harden syrup coating.
Hand to eaters at once. The dipping should be done with dispatch so syrup won't thicken too much.
Eggs Benedict
Eggs Benedict, traditionally made, consist of toasted English muffins topped with sliced ham, poached eggs and Hollandaise sauce. A variation on this theme is to fill individual rich pastry crusts with creamed ham and top with poached eggs.

Lamb Roast Takes On Special Savor For Dinner

SPECIAL DINNER
Lamb takes on extra savor.

SPECIAL ROAST LAMB

- Leg of lamb
- 1 tbsps. flour
- 2 tbsps. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. dried rosemary
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1 clove garlic (crushed)

top. Roast, top side up, on flat rack in shallow roasting pan in very hot (450 degrees) oven 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Continue roasting in slow (325 degrees) oven to desired doneness. For lamb that is juicy and slightly pink in center count on about 25 minutes per pound or about 170 degrees on meat thermometer.

Colored Sauce
Want to give pale white sauce enticing egg-yolk color without using the yolks? Add a bit of turmeric.

Sharon Huguency, who plays a starring role in Warner Bros. "Parrish," speaks of complexion and styling hair in today's column of Hollywood Beauty.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Young Star Likes Hair Style Variety

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Sharon Huguency was with a little theater group when she was spotted by a talent scout from Warner Bros. She was tested for "Parrish" and won a featured role and a term contract.

When we met for tea, every eye was turned as Sharon crossed the room to my table. She is a stunning brunet and looks older than 16, but she is not sophisticated beyond her years.

"Since I've had a contract," Sharon said, "I'm happier than I've ever been because I love working with a tutor. I can go as fast as I want in my studies. In a class, you are held back by the others."

Sharon has a beautifully even suntan, and she wears no make-up except on her eyes and mouth.

"If you keep your skin clear and clean, you don't have to cover it up. I use a medicated soap and I always scrub my face well. If I get an occasional bump, I put on medicated cream right away."

A friend stopped at our table for a moment and said, "I didn't recognize you, Sharon, when you came in."

"People are always telling me that," she laughed. "It's because I wear my hair so many different ways. I have about 10 styles. I love to fool with my hair."

I asked about some of the other ways she dressed her hair. Today it was drawn back with a Dior wreath of white leaves.

"I like to wear it in a pony tail that starts high on my head, or straight back with a bun at the nape of my neck, or a low Psyche knot, or a coronet of braids or loose waves that turn out. But I never wear it in a French twist," she added, "because I don't like doing it the way that everyone else does."

I asked Sharon what she thought of her generation.

"I don't agree with those who feel that high moral standards are old-fashioned. I think each girl should follow what she feels is right for her and not what the boys think. Parents can help their children by advising them what kind of situation they may run into and how to handle it. If a girl is prepared for what to expect, she won't be persuaded to go against her better judgment."

Selection Of Spouse Important

AP Newsfeatures

What a rising young salesman should look for in a wife is spelled out by Vincent F. Sullivan, New York newspaper executive, in a book called "How to Sell Your Way into the Big Money," just published by Prentice Hall. He writes—

"A wife must be ambitious not only for herself but for her husband. She must work with him, prod him, push him if he needs it, but never too obviously nor too fast.

"She must be a good sport about disappointments and setbacks. When a real crisis takes place, her philosophy should be, 'Well, I'm on the floor now—I certainly can't fall off from here.'

"She must demonstrate her loyalty to you, and show a deep respect for your abilities and your ambitions.

"She must never be critical of you in any way but, reversely, should go out of her way to compliment you whenever at all possible.

"If she quibbles about money—drop her fast.

"The young lady under inspection must have a pleasant and varied voice. If she is the whining type or in any way boisterous, check her off the list immediately.

SENSE OF HUMOR

"If she has a good sense of humor, including the ability to laugh at herself, she probably will do."

"She must be big enough in mind to accept your friends and modes of recreation without sarcastically telling you that perhaps they might be improved upon or changed.

"Above all, she must show a keen interest in the man that you are, the problems of your job, and your supreme ambition to reach out for the high salary objective.

"And she should have some sex appeal.

"If you can't find a girl with all the aforementioned qualifications, you should just keep trying."

Good luck, young man!

This of course is just one facet of Mr. Sullivan's advice on how to become a super-salesman. After outlining the techniques, from product research to the dotted line, he winds up with a call to "get back to work."

Hong Kong Beauty Is Fortune's Cooky

NEW YORK (AP)—Nancy Kwan doesn't think she should get married for a few years.

It has nothing to do with her age (21), romance (she's experienced it), or ambition (she's not the career girl type).

But her favorite fortune teller, a blind Tibetan in Hong Kong, told her she should wed late or she'd divorce early. She shrug: "So I'm in no hurry."

The little Eurasian star of "The World of Suzie Wong" is no push-over for predictions though. She's pretty sophisticated about the whole thing: crystal balls and head bump reading are silly, palmistry and astrology are not to be sneered at, and that clairvoyant blind fortune teller is the most.

"He told me: 'Don't ever gamble. You're very unlucky.' He was right. I shouldn't gamble, but I like to waste money."

"He also told me I was going to die at 64. That's a long time off."

Nancy admits she frequently visits fortune tellers in Hong Kong. "My family doesn't believe in them, but I think it's up to you."

"The best kind tell you something in the past that has really happened. And one told me I'd be famous."

That's one prediction that worked out. Through her father, a wealthy

DIPLOMAT'S DAUGHTER

Believes Medicine Is Good Career For Women

By JOHN H. LANNAN
BOSTON (AP)—Medicine, according to the physician daughter of Canada's Governor General, is one of the fields open to women in which they really do have equal opportunities with men.

Dr. Therese Vanier (pronounced "vahn-yay"), a girl brought up in Canadian diplomatic circles at home and abroad, chose the field because "I just thought I'd like to do it."

"Medicine is a good career for a woman," says the stately, prematurely grey doctor, "provided a girl knows what she wants. You've got to realize it's going to take most of your energy for the next five or six years, though."

And marriage and medicine do mix, she says. "I've known lots of girls who married during their training, but they were the exception. You've got to be tough to do it, both mentally and physically."

Dr. Vanier, now 37, didn't try to mix them. She took a one-way path, entering medical school at the University of Paris. Then, she transferred to Cambridge University in England where she was one of the first women ever awarded a degree at a Cambridge convocation. Other women had won degrees there but they were not awarded at all-university convocations.

She took her medical residency in pediatrics, choosing the field because:

"I get a great kick out of working with children. They're very amusing little personalities and they put up no false front. Besides, there's an optimistic side to it. An old boss of mine used to say that no matter what you do, 90 per cent of the children you treat are going to get better anyway."

Now at Boston City Hospital after service in English institutions, she's taking a year of special work in hematology (blood studies).

Dr. Vanier lives at the hospital: "It's much easier that way, especially if I want to work in the evening as I often do."

Her day starts at 8:30 a.m. rather than the 9:30 a.m. customary in England where she was attached to the Great Ormond Street Hospital, a children's institution.

Dr. Vanier says she has no desire to go into private practice. "I'm too used to hospitals. I'd probably forget to send out bills or something and end up in bankruptcy court."

The doctor, the only daughter of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Georges Vanier, has four brothers.

One is a Trappist monk in Canada; another is an artist in France; a third is studying philosophy in Portugal and the youngest is at the University of Ottawa.

"It's nice having them spread around so," Dr. Vanier says, "especially if you like to travel as I do."

Porkers Now Have Chance To Make It Three Titles In Row

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks have ridden a confident smile and a Southern drawl into the Cotton Bowl and talk in the Ozarks is that this team is still on the way up.

The smile and drawl belong to 35-year-old Coach Frank Broyles, who in three seasons at Arkansas has twice tied for the Southwest Conference championship.

Rice can tie for the crown by beating Baylor in Waco Saturday. Broyles says he has no preference as far as a Cotton Bowl opponent goes, but he does rule out Mississippi, a team that beat the Hogs, 10-7. Possible Cotton Bowl opponents include Navy, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama and Oregon.

Remaining S'west Games May Decide Bowl Bids

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

Three games this week will clean up all the business of the Southwest Conference for the football season and decide whether Arkansas, already in the Cotton Bowl, is to be undisputed champion or share the title with Rice.

Arkansas clinched a tie for the title and the Cotton Bowl when it walloped Texas Tech 34-6 Saturday. Rice stayed in the running for a share of the championship by blistering Texas Christian 33-0.

Copa Tiger Wins Race, Ties Record

EL PASO — Responding courageously to the urgent stretch drive of Jockey Gale Mower, Copa Tiger moved down his opposition in the last sixteenth of a mile Sunday afternoon to win the featured Juarez Purse in the blazing time of 1:36 which equaled the track record.

May High carrying 127 pounds zipped to a new world's record for 570 yards rattling off the distance in 45.2-10. It eclipsed the old mark held by Sovereignty by 1-10 of a second.

Managers For Club Picked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's baseball baby has been provided with guardians of broad experience in Mickey Vernon and Ed Doherty.

The signing of Vernon as field manager and Doherty as general manager gave American League expansion plans a boost. But the other half of the double play—the move into Los Angeles—is still to be completed.

Club owners and league officials meet in New York Tuesday to award the Los Angeles franchise. They put off action last week after storm signals were raised by commissioner Ford Frick.

Frick hinted that the American League had better do business with Walter O'Malley, owner of the National League's Los Angeles Dodgers, before moving on to his lush acres. As a result, Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, is in Los Angeles to talk with O'Malley.

From a public relations standpoint, owners of the new Washington club scored heavily in their appointment of Vernon as field manager.

The lean, quiet Vernon, 42, was an idol of the fans when he won batting titles and played first base for the Washington Senators.

Schoolboy Grid Playoffs Move Into High Gear

By MIKE COCHRAN Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas schoolboy football campaign rolls into its first full week of playoff games and leading the charge are the state's four top-ranked teams.

Wichita Falls in AAAA sewed up its district title by crushing Grand Prairie, Jacksonville in AAA picked up its ticket over a week ago, Olney advanced through the first round of AA by bouncing Azle and Stinnett rumbled on in Class A.

Eighteen clubs with perfect records survived—three in AAAA, five in AAA, six in AA and four in A.

Packers Stunned By Rookie's Field Goal, Eagles Win Again

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Plucky Danny Villanueva, one of a family of 12 children, an ordinary college football player and a pro oversight finally signed by the Los Angeles Rams, has spent many of his 23 years seeking attention. Today the spotlight was shining in his face.

The Rams (5-2-1), who may have lost first-string halfback Frank Gifford with a concussion, took an early lead on Joe Morrison's one-yard plunge and Pat Summerall's 26-yard field goal.

The Philadelphia Eagles took a commanding 14-0 lead in the Eastern Division by knocking off the runner-up New York Giants 17-10 in the first of their crucial back-to-back meetings.

East Texas followed suit with a 20-14 triumph over Stephen F. Austin. Sul Ross gained a tie for fourth with Howard Payne by whipping the Yellow Jackets 13-0.

Seven Coeds Seeking A Crown

The queen of the Tournament of Roses and her six princesses touch the crown that her royal highness will wear as she reigns over the annual New Year's Day rose parade and Rose Bowl football game. The Seven were selected at Pasadena following a series of judgments, but which will be queen is still up to fortune's magic wand. She will be named Nov. 30. Left to right: Sheri Rice, 17; Mary Lou Thomas, 18; Carrie Washburn, 18; Cindy Gillette, 18; Pamela Jean MacLean, 20; Terre Hammonree, 17, and Nancy Ann Mellen, 17. (AP Wirephoto)

Car Has High Resale Value

NICE, France (AP)—Three men have been arrested for dealing in stolen cars—using the same car. Police said their system was to steal a car, repaint it, sell it again but keep a spare key. When the new owner left it unwatched they would steal the car back, repaint it and sell it again. They sold the same car seven times, according to the charges.

Murphy Blasts At Treatment Of GI's

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"After the war, they took Army dogs and rehabilitated them for civilian life. But they turned soldiers into civilians immediately and let 'em sink or swim."
This was an ex-soldier talking. Not just any ex-soldier, but Audie Murphy, who collected more medals than any GI in World War II. "I can remember back in North Africa when we were trained to a razor's edge," he said. "We were mean and raw. They told us to be ready to kill everyone in sight when we invaded Sicily—men, women and children. They thought that might be the only way we could take the island."
"You can't just toss that training aside overnight. I still had some of it when I came here to Hollywood. I remember one night at a party when I got in a beef with Larry Tierney. If somebody hadn't stopped me, I would have very happily killed him."
Audie's postwar adventures form the basis of a screen story, "The Way Back," written by his good friend Spec McClure. Universal owns it but has no plans to film it. This despite the fact that Audie's war biography, "To Hell and Back," was made for $1,200,000 and has earned $10 million.

"They're afraid of the cost," Audie explained. "It would run about twice what a cheap picture would cost. The studio thinks there is room in today's market only for cheap pictures or super-specials."
"I think they're wrong. To me, the postwar story is more interesting than 'To Hell and Back' (which he terms a Western with uniforms). I'd like to buy it from them and make it with my own company."
Audie's current chore is a feature called "Posse From Hell." It's a Western, match, and that's unusual, too. Audie is the only star left who is still making Westerns for theaters.
"I think there's still a market for them," he remarked. "Westerns are still a good escape from everyday life, and we can give 'em color and scenery that they can't get on TV. And Westerns are still steady sellers in Europe and Japan, where they don't get so much TV."

CINEMA COMMENT

By Bob Smith

In "Where the Hot Wind Blows," Gina Lollobrigida is back in the type of role that made her famous, and we are glad of it.
Miss L., like all good actresses, had to try Hollywood, a decision that could have been, but wasn't, fortunate. Now, back in her native Italy, she is making the kind of movie for which she apparently was designed.
The story of "Where the Hot Wind Blows," taken from the Roger Vailland novel, "La Loi" ("The Law"), is centered in a dusty Sicilian village, and the artistry of Jules Dassin gently lifts the veil on the town's emotions and social structure. Dassin, who wrote the screenplay and directed, is a good man with a camera, and handles this story adeptly in the tradition of Italian realism.
Gina portrays a village slattern who, nonetheless, is choosy. Eventually, she chooses a visiting engineer from North Italy. In the mean time, she must beat off the advances of the local Al Capone, played by Yves Montand.

There are other stories interwoven into Gina's—the unfaithful wife of the village judge who gets her revenge upon the man who broke up her affair, and the local noble, Don Cesar, a dignified old man who keeps a houseful of mistresses to look at.
Also, there is Don Cesar's servant man, a pitiable bum who falls victim to Montand in an odd game called "The Law," but who also shares in the village's ultimate revenge against their official ruler.
The "law" game, banned by the Italian government, is played around a wine table, one man winning the position of boss through a system of gambling. The boss selects his deputy, and then attempts to humiliate his victims, who are the less fortunate players. And anything goes in this game, because the boss makes the law.
"Where the Hot Wind Blows" has been called pornographic by some reviewers who do not know the difference between that and erotic realism. This film is realism of many kinds, including erotic, but definitely not pornographic. Nevertheless, the management at the Ritz Theatre is recommending the film only for "adults and mature young people."
Dassin, an American who has had great success overseas, brings out every tiny inflection and reaction in his cast to create realistic characters, and guides his camera lovingly over the wreck and junk and poverty that is Rome's biggest headache. Gina has life and energy, as well as beauty, and wears her skimpy rag as if she really were a waif of the streets, and not in the artificial Bardot manner.
Montand, one of Europe's most versatile actors, builds such a slimy and reptilian characterization as one is not likely to forget. Melina Mercouri, who plays the judge's erring wife, and also is one of Europe's leading stars, expertly bares the heart of a wronged and wronging woman. Marcello Mastroianni, as the handsome engineer, and Raf Mattioli, as the young lover of the judge's aging wife, are more than adequate.
About the worst point in the film is the dubbing. Most of the time, one has difficulty understanding what people are saying, although the story depends more upon visual effects than auditory. Still, the dubbing is superior to that of most imports. We would personally prefer subtitles, like they used to do.
"Where the Hot Wind Blows" will play through tonight at the Ritz.

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were as thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

A FRIENDLY HAND WHEN YOU NEED IT

They see it!
they love it!
but wow-when they drive it!

Buick's Special has the room, ride and "go" that gets 'em every time! Buick's Clean Look of Action gets a big reaction right off the bat. (Who wouldn't whistle at those low slung, flowing lines!) But where love really bursts into bloom is right behind that wheel. You'll flip at the zip of Buick's sassy Special ... wonder where it gets that "go"! The answer is in the Special's lively exclusive aluminum Fireball V-8 and aluminum Dual-Path Turbine Drive* — the team that gives the Special twice the pow per pound of most compacts ... actually more than many full-size V-8 cars. Yet for gas savings, it's as tight-fisted as they come!

Behind the wheel's the only way to get that "Buick feel" of these other features too: Buick interior beauty; Buick room (more total head, leg and hip room than the compacts!); Buick suspension for a smoother, relaxing all-day ride; Buick pride!

Now ask how much—and hold on. This Buick (get this) is priced just a whisper above the compacts, the lowest price you can pay for a high performance V-8 car! Guest-test this knockout at your dealer's, see what new kicks Buick's put in driving now!
