Voters Okay Road Bonds By 3 To 1

Howard County voters gave their approval Saturday to the issuance of $150,000 in bonds to purchase right-of-way for more highway improvements in the county.

The vote was 777 to 260. This was a ratio of roughly 3 to 1, whereas a 2-to-1 majority was required. The total vote of 1,037 was about as forecast.

The proposition was favored in 14 of the 16 precincts, with Gay Hill and R-Bar casting negative majorities. Forsan and Vincent gave the bond issue 100 per cent endorsement, with a poll of 17 to 0 at the former and 20 to 0 at the latter.

The bond money means widening and four-laning of Highway 87 north from Big Spring to Fairview (the segment from Fairview north to the county line already is acquired, and this project is due for state letting in January). It also means extension of FM 700 northward from IS 20 to the Snyder Highway. It means closing a gap in FM 846, from US 87 to the Gall road, and giving a paved road across the northern part of the county from east to west.

Laos Receives 1st Soviet Aid

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The first flight of the Soviet airlift to Laos landed in Vientiane Saturday with 16 extra pilots and navigators aboard but no Soviet aid.

The plane was a trail blazer to familiarize pilots with the route. The pilot said the airlift will start shortly with twin-engine Ilyushin 14 transport planes.

The first plane was a week behind schedule.

More than 2,000 other flights, stretching far into the future, will be needed to airlift the 5,000 tons of petroleum products the Russians have promised as a "good-will gift" to the divided Laotian government. Later flights are expected to bring milk, flour and sugar to relieve acute shortages in areas under this government's control.

Saturday's plane flew in from neighboring North Viet Nam's capital, Hanoi, a two-hour flight. An American-made flatbed tractor, part of the multimillion-dollar U.S. aid program in Laos, stood by to unload. American-made planes lined the runway and American-built cars filled the parking lot.

British agents for the New York-owned Liberian steamer Iri, overdue on a voyage from England to Montreal, said Saturday night the situation looks bad.

A spokesman for the agents declined to commit himself on the possible fate of the steamer, which sailed from Fowey, Cornwall, Nov. 8 with 21 days fuel.

But he said: "It does look bad. She hasn't been heard from for so long now and attempts to contact her by radio have been fruitless."

He said the 3,000-ton vessel's captain was an American, Ben Kraemer. The only other American aboard was a journalist, identified as James Robert Dickson, the only passenger.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

Got any unused toys cluttering up the place or stuffed back in the closets? They could make some youngsters happy on Christmas if you will just take them to any of the fire stations this week. Firemen will repair them and make them good as new.

The final figures for the federal census shows Big Spring with 31,230 residents, an increase of 80.7 per cent over the 1950 total. The official total was 242 more than the preliminary announcement. The percentage gain was the greatest our city has experienced in any decade with the exception of the oil boom period in the 20's.

Last week the county commissioners court received the deed on the final tract of right of way pending on U. S. 87 north from Fairview. This means that the State Highway Department can proceed on plans for putting this in the next letting of contracts. Results of Saturday's balloting also opened the way for securing roadway on U. S. 87 south of Fairview to Big Spring, so it looks as if we have a four-lane, divided highway in prospect.

Annual Bargain Offer

The Herald announces its Annual Holiday Bargain Rate for yearly payments on papers delivered to homes in Big Spring.

From now until January 1—positively for this month only—the yearly subscription rate is $16.95.

This represents a sizable discount from the price you pay weekly; more important, this one-time payment means that you will not have the worry of weekly collections by your Herald newsboy. Your newsboy, incidentally, receives his full share of profit when you make your annual payment. It's a help to him, too.

You will want to take advantage of this offer, for saving and convenience. Remember, this reduced, one-time rate is for the month of December only—The Herald delivered to your door in Big Spring for just $16.95.

(See THIS WEEK, P. 10-A, Col. 2)

YOUR HELP NEEDED FOR CHRISTMAS

Looking forward to a busy, bountiful Christmas? Lots of good things, lots of happiness?

There are many families in our midst who are not. These are people in destitute homes, where the head of the household is ill or has left youngsters to fend for themselves; where a working mother cannot provide extras for a brood of children; where sickness and poverty always prevail.

Don't you want to help these people?

You can, through the traditional CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. It officially opens today (there are advance gifts totaling $15 as a starter) and your gift will be received at The Herald from now until Christmas. The CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND welcomes every gift from a dime to a hundred dollars.

There's no overhead, no administrative cost, in the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. Every penny goes to help the needy. The Herald is the collector. City firemen are volunteers for toy repair. Money goes to buy items to rebuild broken toys; to buy fruits and nuts. And, importantly, money left over from Christmas, if any, is made available to the County Health Nurse through the year, for purchase of milk, ice, medicines and nourishing food in cases of immediate and dire emergency. This is the spirit of Christmas the year around.

There will be no special contacts, no solicitation, for the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. It operates simply from the heart of Big Spring. It needs your help and is pleased to receive it, however modest. Just make your check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND, and mail to The Herald or hand to any city fireman. It will be promptly and gratefully acknowledged.

The time is short this year to meet the Christmas, 1960, needs. Won't you help spread Christmas cheer today? You'll feel better if you do.

VOTE RECOUNT

Demos Blast GOP Action

By DAVE CHEAVENS
 AUSTIN (AP)—The state Democratic Executive Committee Saturday called the Republican challenge of General Election results in Texas "unfounded and irresponsible."

Democratic National Committeeman Byron Skelton of Temple said the attack on the vote count was a "deliberate plan to develop propaganda" for use in the special U.S. senatorial election.

"Nothing has hurt the prestige of the United States more than the national Republican effort to create the impression that the Democrats stole the election," said Skelton.

MARGIN

The Democratic ticket of Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson won Texas' 24 electoral votes by a vote of 1,167,592 to 1,121,659—a margin of 45,933.

The executive committee heard Gov. Price Daniel urge its members and Texans to help the legislature write what he referred to as a "growth tax" law to meet the state's present and future fiscal crisis.

The committee officially adopted a statement by its executive secretary, Jake Jacobsen, slapping at the GOP charges of fraud in counting the presidential election votes in Texas.

This unanimous action came on the motion of committeeman Maury Maverick of San Antonio.

DISSENT

Maverick earlier had led a minority dissent against a state platform plank urging protection of decisions of the people of local school districts in operation of their schools.

Maverick said either that view or the holdings of the U.S. Supreme Court would hold in school integration and that he thought it was a mistake to have the statement in the state party platform.

Maverick was not given an opportunity to voice his views until after the committee adopted a resolution reaffirming its support of the Sept. 20 state platform by a voice vote.

Maverick and several others voted no. Chairman Ed Connolly of Abilene told Maverick—long identified with liberal Democratic forces in Texas politics—that under committee procedure he should have opposed the resolution in subcommittee before having a chance to speak against it in the whole committee.

It was the only note of dissent as the 65-member committee—including 35 new members—held its first session since the state convention.

NO COMMENT

Daniel told the committee he could make no comment on the Republican effort to bring about a recount of the presidential vote because he is a member of the official canvassing committee.

The governor did suggest that a study be made in educating the voters in how to mark ballots in the future without running into danger of having their votes thrown out.

Jacobsen, who represents the committee and some electors in the challenge, said that "obviously there are no facts" on which to base a challenge. He said the claims that fraud is shown by the variations in the percentage of votes thrown out, and in the number of votes exceeding the poll lists, will not stand up.

Skelton pointed out that 90 per cent of the election judges who counted the votes this year were also the vote counters in 1956 without a complaint from the GOP. The Republicans, he added, won in 1956.

Jacobsen said the total vote often exceeds the poll list because in cities under 10,000 voters over 65 vote by affidavit and are not required by law to be on the list. Those voting for the first time after reaching 21, he said, also vote by affidavit.

PROGRAM

Daniel outlined his 11-point legislative program, including most of the platform adopted in the September convention.

It calls for public school improvement and higher teachers' pay, better law enforcement on many fronts, additional highway

Hodges Is Picked For Cabinet Post

Will Be New Secretary Of Commerce

By HOWARD BENEDICT
 PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy Saturday tapped North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges, longtime textile industrialist, to be his secretary of commerce.

Hodges, standing by Kennedy's side for the announcement, promptly expressed concern about the economy of the United States under the outgoing Republican administration.

He promised to make the Commerce Department a vital, challenging force for the nation.

ANNOUNCED

Kennedy announced Hodges' appointment to some 50 reporters and cameramen crowded on the flagstone patio at his family's ocean-front home here. It was the president-elect's second Cabinet selection. On Thursday he named Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut to be secretary of health, education and welfare.

Kennedy said Hodges, 62, a Democrat, "will bring to his new position experience in both business and government."

Hodges, whose appointment announcement was an hour late because of the delay of his overnight train from North Carolina, told newsmen he is concerned that the economic position of the United States is "not at the top." This was in reply to a query on whether he thought the nation was on the edge of an economic recession.

FAR WORSE

"I think," Hodges said, "the thing is far worse than the present administration has ever led us to believe. I think that the inventories are high and that the orders on the part of merchants, manufacturers, are not as good as they have been."

He declared the economy needs a new stimulation, "which I hope we can get beginning Jan. 20 with a rebirth of confidence."

Aid to depressed areas apparently will be one of the new administration's first major steps (See HODGES, Page 18-A, Col. 7)

Optimists Open Tree Sales

Undaunted by high winds that raised havoc with their Christmas trees, Big Spring Optimists began their annual tree sale Saturday. Reg Hyer, sales chairman, pictured on the left at 18th and Gregg, said that money from the tree sales will be used to help finance a park program on the North Side.

The Optimists, devoted to helping boys, finance their entire annual program through Christmas tree sales. The club program includes sponsoring a baseball team, a bicycle safety program and youth appreciation week. The lot will be open for business from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m. every day.

CAPTURED

Treatment Of Lumumba May Hurt Mobutu Regime

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Western diplomats said Saturday the savage treatment dealt former Premier Patrice Lumumba by Congolese troops may backfire against Col. Joseph Mobutu's pro-Western regime.

Lumumba, captured by Mobutu's forces at Port Francqui Thursday night while trying to reach his Stanleyville stronghold, was brutally manhandled in public view when he was returned here Friday.

One Western ambassador said he was deeply shocked over what he called the jungle violence meted out to the leftist Lumumba.

The diplomat said Mobutu's regime won a significant victory with the seating of President Joseph Kasavubu's delegation at the U. N. General Assembly last month. But "the fruits of this victory may well be thrown away with such exhibitions of uncivilized brutality, we can expect the Soviet bloc to get the maximum propaganda mileage out of it," he said.

Mobutu watched with folded arms as his soldiers slapped and pushed Lumumba, grabbing him by the hair to turn his face toward waiting photographers.

The army strongman was not present a short time later when the soldiers took Lumumba to an improvised prison at the Binza paratroop camp. Eyewitnesses said Lumumba, arms held tightly behind his back, was set upon by 40 screaming troops, punched, kicked and shoved to the ground. They said Gilbert Fongo, Mobutu's security chief who claims credit for arresting Lumumba after the ousted premier left his U.N.-guarded villa here Sunday night, yelled at the soldiers and incited them to greater violence.

According to the witnesses one of the soldiers read in a loud voice a recent statement by Lumumba restating his claim to be the Congo's only rightful premier.

The soldier then wadded the paper into a ball and shoved it down Lumumba's throat.

Admits 3 Murders But Not Worried

LAMESA (SC)—"If there weren't so many stool pigeons in this world the cops would never have caught me."

"Yes, I know who put the finger on me—my cousin," said Alfred Peralles Gonzales, confessed slayer of three men. He is presently awaiting grand jury action here for the slaying of a Lamesan and trial in Terry County for the murder of a Brownfield service station operator.

Without seeming remorse, Gonzales related three wanton slayings, displayed no signs of nervousness and said: "I guess they give me a 99 or the electric chair for what I've done."

UNDECIDED

"I don't know whether I'll plead guilty or not—I may get me a lawyer," he added as if aware of what conviction would mean.

The suspect was standing atop his book in the Dawson County jail, looking outside at the Christmas shoppers passing by on the east side of the square when the cell door was unlocked by Sheriff Henry Mayfield.

Apparently glad to have a visitor, Alfred jumped off the bed in which he had been sleeping since Sept. 2, 1960 and sat down on it—calmly smoking a cigarette.

He was clad in a dark blue sport shirt, khaki trousers and his thick, wavy hair was well-combed and glistened in the late evening sun that was beginning to fill the small cell. He didn't mind talking about the murders.

Born on Dec. 23, 1929 in Florenceville, he admitted never doing "too much work."

He has seven sisters and two brothers and helped his father haul cotton during the harvest. He also recalled working a couple of years in Midland as a bricklayer's assistant.

LITTLE SCHOOLING

His schooling, all five years of it, was obtained in Florenceville and Lamesa, and he said he "just quit." His tin-can "ashtray" indicated he was a heavy smoker, drunk man for nothing. Gonzales was held in connection with the case but was released for insufficient evidence.

SECOND KILLING

The second killing occurred in Lamesa on Feb. 25, 1956. He entered the rear door of McGuire's service station, shouted "This is a holdup!" and was told by Herman L. Curtis, 61, "Go home before you get into trouble."

Three shots from the .22 caliber rifle Gonzales was carrying and Curtis fell dead on the floor. Police didn't even know he had been shot until his body was removed to the Higginbotham Funeral Home and undressed. There, the wounds were discovered.

The rifle was never recovered. It was used to help pay off a grocery bill by Gonzales' father.

Last December, he and a companion started to a dance in Brownfield, and Gonzales stuffed a pistol in his pocket because "you never know what kind of trouble you'll have at one of those dances." But he decided to rob another service station, Lester U. McPherson, part-time employe, was shot down in cold blood as he was obeying the hijacker's commands, and was left dead on the floor of the E. N. Ballard service station.

TURNED NORTH

Gonzales told police that on the day the case was broken, he thought they were taking him to Midland for a lie detector test in connection with the burglary for which he had been jailed in September. "When they turned north and headed for Brownfield, I knew what was happened," he smiled.

"No, I wasn't nervous. When you get nervous, that's what makes you plead guilty."

Gonzales, who has a record of six arrests and is on probation for a violation of the Dyer Act, may be tried for murder by his next birthday—but he isn't worried—he's not nervous.

Live And Dangerous

This .50 calibre machine gun bullet is having its teeth pulled by S. Sgt. George H. Schweickert, member of the Webb AFB explosive ordnance team. It was turned in by M. Sgt. Harold M. Kain, 3560th Air Base Group. Sgt. Kain, director of Webb's NCO Prep School, picked up the live bullet at Chanute AFB, Ill. in 1947. These seemingly harmless war souvenirs and relics, displayed in numerous homes, could be lethal weapons. Big Spring's Police Department and Webb's EOD team recently started a program where citizens of Big Spring and Webb Village could have their war souvenirs checked and rendered safe, if necessary. Anyone may get this free service by calling the police. After being checked by Sergeants Schweickert and Warren D. Hannabass, souvenirs are returned to the owners either complete or minus only hazardous components.

Boosters Set Executive Meet

Band Boosters will not have their regular monthly meeting in December, but the executive committee has scheduled a luncheon session at 12:15 p.m. Monday at Coker's.

Dr. Preston Harrison, president, urged that all executive members be on hand because several important matters are scheduled for consideration. Among them will be a progress report on the fruit cake sales.

The Boosters, by their cushion rentals at football games and in other ways, have raised sufficient funds to take care of the last of the indebtedness on band uniforms purchased in previous years.

However, funds are sorely needed to provide funds for the band trip in the spring. Now that past obligations have been covered, the net proceeds from the fruit cake sales will go to the trip fund, for awards, post-game receptions and entertainment of visiting bands, special jackets and uniforms for majorettes, etc.

Because the Boosters are anxious to see that the band is rewarded for its faithfulness in playing for school and community functions, they are appealing to Big Spring residents to consider purchase of the fruit cakes.

So far the sales have been going fairly well, but officials emphasized that the need to be stepped up in order that band activities be supported adequately.

MEN IN SERVICE

Roy M. Layman, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert R. Layman, 1718 Purdue, enlisted in the Air Force last week through the local recruiter, S. Sgt. Bobby McElroy. He chooses the mechanical career field and will be sent to a technical school of his choice upon completion of basic training.

Layman was sent to San Antonio for his basic training. He enlisted under the buddy plan with eight other men he met while processing for the Air Force at Abilene, and all nine men will receive their basic training in the same flight.

Pvt. H. N. Simmons, 23, whose wife, Dorothea, lives in Lamesa, has completed the four-week medical supply procedures course at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston. Simmons was trained in the requisition, receipt, storage and issuance of all medical supplies and equipment.

Naval Aviation Cadet William R. Satterwhite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Satterwhite of 610 E. 17th, is undergoing pre-flight training at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. The sixteen weeks of officer indoctrination includes technical courses in reading improvement, aviation and navigation which prepare him for actual flight training.

Upon completion of pre-flight, he will undergo primary flight training at the Saultfield Naval Auxiliary Air Station in Pensacola. Cadet Satterwhite attended Texas Technological College and Howard County Junior College.

Airman Sidney Wylie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wylie, Gail Rd., has been assigned to a unit of the military air transport service at Orlando AFB, Fla. for training and duty as a cook. Airman Wylie attended Big Spring High School.

Cadet Band Set For Inauguration

BOSTON (AP)—The cadet band of the nation's oldest secondary school has been asked to represent Massachusetts in the inaugural parade for President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Boston officials indicate they will honor a request by Joseph P. Kennedy that Boston Latin School band participate in the ceremonies.

Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the president-elect, and former U. S. ambassador to the Court of St. James, is a Latin School alumnus.

Latin School was founded in 1635, one year before Harvard College.

Contest judges were Mrs. Terry Patterson, Mrs. Frank Shannon and Mrs. Lawrence Tunnel.

Presentation Of 'Messiah' Is Set For Next Sunday

Presentation of Handel's celebrated oratorio, "The Messiah," is set for next Sunday afternoon at the Howard County Junior College auditorium. The date was incorrectly listed as this Sunday in an article carried Friday in the Herald; the date is Dec. 11. This will mark the first offering of "The Messiah" as a community undertaking in two years. The Howard County Junior College choir, the choirs of the First Methodist and the First Christian Churches are joining to sing the great work.

Myrtle Doesn't Like Milk

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Myrtle the circus elephant had second thoughts about appearing in the Paris Christmas parade Saturday and bolted off on a 19-block rampage of her own. She damaged fences and straggled but no one was hurt. A milk distributor rented Myrtle from the Herb Walters Circus, at winter quarters in Hugo, Okla., 24 miles north of here. He planned to have her march in the parade with a replica of a milk carton strapped on her back. Myrtle was down on all four knees in the middle of the floats and hands assembling for the parade when she caught a glimpse of the carton being needed for her back. With a squeal Myrtle got to her feet and headed in the opposite direction from the parade route, lined with an estimated 10,000 persons. Bandmen, marshmen and spectators scurried out of her way. Myrtle headed into backyards in the neighborhood and for 30 blocks smashed fences, straggled and every obstacle in her path. Finally she tired, slowed to a walk and her handler and several hundred volunteers who had rallied to the chase caught up with Myrtle. With soothing words the handler calmed Myrtle, induced her to return to the truck and climb aboard for the trip back to the circus.

Gonzalez Enters Senatorial Race

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, a hard-carnaging liberal who gained national attention fighting school segregation laws, entered the race for Lyndon B. Johnson's U. S. Senate seat Saturday. Gonzalez, 44, said he will campaign on a promise to cooperate with the Kennedy-Johnson administration and to be "responsive to the needs of all Texans, regardless of race, color or creed or social or economic position." He said he decided to run at the urging of people who supported him in his race for governor with Gov. Price Daniel, former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel and Dallas insurance man Joe Irwin in 1958. Gonzalez finished second in that race polling around 250,000 votes. He was elected to the Texas Senate in 1956 and re-elected Nov. 8.

He is the third candidate to announce for the special election to be held next spring. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth and former Sen. William Blakley of Dallas also plan to run. Gov. Price Daniel said he will support Blakley to the U. S. Senate pending election of a new senator. Gonzalez promised to stum every area of the state in a campaign limited only by his duties in the state senate, which convenes in January. "I have never missed a meeting of the senate since I have been a member, and God willing, I intend for that record to continue."

Ike Calls Out Band For Jack

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Saturday ordered special guard units from all four military services to line the walks of the White House's front lawn when President-elect John F. Kennedy visits him Tuesday morning. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said some details of the first meeting between the men since the election still have to be worked out. Hagerty said Kennedy is expected to arrive at 9 a.m. Eisenhower will meet Kennedy at the north portico—main entrance to the White House—and accompany him to the President's office for their conference. Guard units of the Army, Navy, Air Force and the Marines, will line the walks and driveways, as Kennedy arrives and departs, Hagerty said. In response to a question, Hagerty said he would not call the units an honor guard. A military band also will be at hand on the White House grounds.

Family Had Twins Twice This Year

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Twins are a natural in the Harley Pedersen family — and they've come twice within a year. A year ago Friday, Kirsten Pedersen, 23, gave birth to her first set, both girls. Monday she again bore twins—this time a son and a daughter. Pedersen, a laboratory technician, is hoping income tax benefits from both sets may help out with his extra expenses.

Space Baby May Miss Moon Trip

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Nancy Joyce Carpenter, 8, isn't so sure now that she wants to use that ticket she has for a trip to the moon. The little blonde girl came to Redstone Arsenal this week to check on progress for the trip. She got a little way into space by standing atop a Saturn booster mounted on a 177-foot captive test stand. When she was 11 months old Nancy Joyce was chosen "Space Baby" in a contest with 50 other babies at Redstone Arsenal. As the prize, Dr. Werner von Braun awarded her a "round-trip ticket to the moon via the first available rocket ship." Nancy Joyce and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Carpenter, of Alexandria, Va., stopped by the arsenal while on vacation. They called on Von Braun, now director of the Marshall Space Flight Center and were taken on a tour of the laboratories. After she came down from the booster stand her father said, "Nancy is not sure she wants to leave the good earth." Nancy's father worked at the arsenal when she won the contest in 1953.

Water Panel Proposes Two Recommendations

Two key recommendations came out of the meeting of the Texas Water Coordinating Committee last week in Austin, according to E. V. Spence, member of the panel. One has to do with a proposed reorganization of the Texas Board of Water Engineers, and the other proposes the creation of a Board of Pollution Control. The subcommittee dealing with the water board program urged that a six-member, part-time Texas Water Commission be created, and that it employ an executive director for the administration of all water resource matters. In addition, this group suggested that there be a separation of the engineering functions and quasi-judicial and quasi-legislative functions under the commission. The commissioners would be selected from six geographic areas of Texas and would conduct their hearings through examiners. The proposed Pollution Control Board would be made up of the administrative heads of the Department of Health, Board of Water Engineers, Game and Fish Commission, Railroad Commission and the Office of the Attorney General. The board would employ an executive secretary, and it would be charged with the responsibility of preventing injurious pollution, either surface or underground. It is envisioned that the board will be armed with proper enforcement authority, that it retain injunctive powers against recurrence of pollution, that control be exercised in the disposition of polluted waters, whether on the surface or in underground strata.

The Law Of Moses

The Apostle Paul contended with a certain sect because they tried to require Gentile Christians to "keep the law of Moses," which law was done away with in Christ (A.C.T. 15:1-5; 13:19; Jno. 1:17). The "law of Moses" and the "law of God" in the Old Testament are one and the same. The terms are used interchangeably in Neh. 8:1, 8, 18. In Neh. 10:28-31 it is called the "law of God" and "God's law, which was given by Moses," and is said to pertain to such things as keeping the sabbath day, the sabbath year, and other holy days. Therefore, when the law of Moses was done away, the law of God of Old Testament times, including it's command to keep the sabbath, was done away. Is there a representative of any group who would deny this in orderly, public discussion? According to New Testament example (Acts 20:7) we meet today for the breaking of bread. Don Sweeney will preach at 10:30 and 7:30 Welcome.

Tom Yarbelt, president of the Church of Christ, West Highway 85, is the speaker for the breaking of bread.

Income, Sales Taxes Due More Legislative Thought

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Legislature next month will begin work on another record busting tax bill to meet the relentless demands for more money from state agencies.

Between $200 and $250 million dollars will be required in new taxes to wipe out the deficit and carry the state through the two fiscal years beginning Sept. 1, 1961. The deficit at that time is expected to total $98 million.

The major tax policy question facing the legislature is whether or not the state will continue to rely on selective tax bases or move to such broad bases as income or general sales taxes.

Gov. Price Daniel has led the fight against a general sales tax although Texas has some of the highest specific sales taxes in the country. Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey also has pledged himself publicly against this approach and apparently most of the legislators feel the same way.

The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy has found that the annual average state tax in Texas on a family of four is $115.89. This compares with other states from $89.90 in New Jersey to $394.15 in Vermont.

The Texas Research League recently found that Texas has a "very high state tax" on manufacturing companies with no net income. For those earning less than 6 per cent profits, the tax rate is "below average."

NEW REVENUE
Joe Moore Jr., secretary of the State Finance Advisory Commission which has been studying tax sources and appropriations for several months, said the demand for new revenue will fall between $100 and $125 million a year.

Revenue from present tax sources is expected to increase by $44 million in the next two years. These are some of the demands, and costs, which will be presented to the 57th Legislature, as outlined by Moore.

The Texas Highway Department will take in $698 million and has indicated a need for $725, a difference of $25 million. This includes $132 million for farm market roads. Thirty million dollars for rural roads comes from the General Revenue Fund and there has been speculation that the legislature will consider revising financing of these roads to take this drain away from general revenue.

SALARY HISE
A $400 a year salary increase for school teachers — only half of what the teachers are hollering for — would add another $73 million to state costs. To maintain the current cost of public schools will take $48 million more just to accommodate the swelling number of students. The Texas State Teachers Association advocates an $800 annual salary increase — a total cost of another $160 million.

The state will spend $10 million for support of the 37 public junior colleges in the next biennium. To maintain the present level and care for the enrollment increase will require an additional $2 million.

HOUSTON ADDED
If the University of Houston is added to the list of state colleges the legislature can count on another $4 million expenditure.

The State Hospital and Special Schools Board wants $24 million more than its present appropriation of $82 million and Department of Corrections (prisons) is asking for a $5 million raise.

Other major governmental activities such as the Department of Public Welfare, the Texas Employment Commission, the Department of Public Safety and the State Board of Insurance are financed outside the General Revenue Fund.

PEARL HARBOR

Japan's Spy Tells Story

By C. YATES McDANIEL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Japanese navy's lone spy in Hawaii at the time of Pearl Harbor says his work had "little to do with mysterious methods of communication, lush lady spies or single brilliant coups."

Instead it was based solidly on scholarly research, meticulous observation and painstaking attention to details.

Breaking a silence of 19 years, retired Ensign Takeo Yoshikawa tells his story dispassionately in the current issue of the U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings. The story was written with the help of Marine Lt. Col. Norman Stanford, now an assistant naval attaché in Japan.

LONG STUDY
Yoshikawa had spent more than four years intensively studying the U. S. Navy, particularly the fleet and the bases in the Pacific. Then, at the age of 25, he was sent to Hawaii in 1941 as a spy, posing under the cover name of Vice Consul Morimura.

He was in Honolulu on that fateful Dec. 7, and heard the sound of explosions as Japanese bombs rained down on the big U. S. naval base at Pearl Harbor. But as a consular officer he eventually was repatriated to Japan without his spy status having been discovered.

He wrote that he found his job easy in respect to things and happenings he was able to see for himself. He found it "disappointingly difficult" in that he got little or no help from the large Japanese community in Hawaii.

QUESTIONED
He also picked up little of significance in talks with American sailors to whom he gave lifts. And despite careful and patient questioning of military men, he never was able to find out where American ships went when they periodically left Pearl Harbor.

The Japanese spy used no unusual methods of communication, relying solely on the regular diplomatic codes and message channels employed by his consulate there.

How did the young officer find out what he did about the fleet and its operations?

He found out about the movements, the numbers and the preparations of battleship forces by walking to the end of Pearl City Peninsula that juts into Pearl Harbor. There he used his eyes.

He found out about flights and dispositions of aircraft on Army airfields by hiring a small commercial plane, flying low at times to take pictures.

MESSAGE
On the very day before the Pearl Harbor attack, Yoshikawa sent a significant message that was relayed promptly to the task force. He had previously reported that the U. S. military authorities were planning to put up a balloon barrage around key points. On Dec. 6, the Japanese agent reported no balloons in sight and, as a result of a stroll to Pearl City, he was able to report that the carriers Enterprise and Lexington, together with several cruisers, had sailed from Pearl Harbor.

The absence of a balloon barrage meant that the Japanese could employ low-flying torpedo bombers.

As a result of his earlier observation that the big battleships were often moored in pairs, the Japanese high command had provided the attacking force with dive bombers to make sure of hitting warships that might be blocked by other vessels from torpedo attacks.

FOUND IT EASY
Although the Japanese officer said he found it easy to peer into Pearl Harbor and to fly over airfields, he found that military security within the big naval base itself was hard to crack.

Specifically, he never succeeded, even though dressed as a Filipino laborer, in approaching the entrance to Pearl Harbor. He therefore never was able to determine whether the U. S. Navy had nets strung across the entrance to block the passage of hostile submarines.

Rites Monday For Mrs. Rains

Mrs. Cloah E. Rains, 94, of 3707 West Highway 80, died in a hospital here Saturday morning.

The funeral has been set for 2:30 p.m. Monday at the River Funeral Chapel with the Rev. J. W. O'Shields, pastor of the Jehovah Witnesses congregation, officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery.

Mrs. Rains, who was born Sept. 6, 1866 in Iowa, had made her home in Big Spring since 1946.

She leaves her son, Lester Rains, Big Spring; a sister, Mrs. Grace Mosbach, Marysville, Calif.

Land Of The Navajos, Asleep For Too Long, Begins To Stir

By BUZ MILLER
WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Navajoland — a huge, sprawling, often forbidding country — is stirring from its centuries-long sleep. Jarring it out of slumber are the noises of the pounding drill of an oil crew, the whirr of rubber wheels over asphalt roads and the blare of a radio playing rock 'n' roll.

But the sleep was sound, and the awakening is difficult. The Navajo reservation is the largest in the United States, spreading across 25,000 square miles of northeastern Arizona, southern Utah and northwestern New Mexico.

Larger than West Virginia, this lonely and beautiful land is the ancestral home of 90,000 Indians, the largest tribe in the country and, until less than a decade ago, one of the poorest.

Today the Navajos, collectively, are among the wealthiest Indians in the country, but the tribe still is plagued by the old problems of illiteracy, disease, poverty.

NATIONAL COUNCIL

Churches Gather To Work Together

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Christian forces, gathering here Saturday, have come a long way since a little incident back in 1870.

That's when seven pastors of various denominations in Westerville, R. I., had their picture taken together to prove "that the Church of Christ in Westerville is one."

Today, the evidence was far more than any photograph.

Representatives of 33 denominations with 40 million members, most of the major Protestant and Orthodox churches of the nation, were arriving for a joint policy-making convocation on cooperative church work.

The affair is the triennial general assembly of the National Council of Churches, which opens Sunday.

Presbyterians, Lutherans, Baptists, Methodists, Episcopalians, Greek Orthodox, old Catholic, Congregationalists and a host of others—Christians who used to work separately—were here to work together.

The week-long assembly marks the 10th anniversary of the interdenominational council.

"The past 10 years have witnessed growing unity among the churches," says the council's president, the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, a St. Louis Baptist.

Jack's Aides Stepping Into New Positions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first major appointments of President-elect John F. Kennedy already have taken the early steps toward mastering their new assignments.

David E. Bell, named budget director Friday, met with the outgoing director immediately after Kennedy announced the appointment.

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, the incoming secretary of welfare, telephoned the present secretary and scheduled a conference with him in Washington Tuesday afternoon.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, the new assistant secretary for African affairs, made plans to tour Africa before the inauguration of Kennedy next month.

Bell lunched with the present budget director, Maurice Stans, who promised him "the fullest cooperation in every way" in achieving a smooth transition.

"As a general proposition," Bell said, he agreed strongly with the fiscal position taken by Kennedy during the campaign; budgets should be balanced except during emergencies or recessions.

Stans said Bell would be given an office and a secretary in the bureau for his use during the transition period. The bureau is located next door to the White House.

Ribicoff said that after conferring with Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming Tuesday, he planned to hold preliminary discussions with others on the organization of the department.

Killed In Fall

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Levoy Berry, 60, maintenance man, working in the attic of the Chapel at St. Joseph Hospital, fell 60 feet through the ceiling and was killed Friday as the hospital mns entered for prayers.

Sister Michaela Marie, hospital administrator, said Berry apparently slipped off a catwalk in the attic.

Cubans Denied

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP) — Paraguay has refused recognition to a Cuban charge d'affaires because Fidel Castro's government refuses to grant safe conduct visas to two Cubans who sought refuge in the Paraguayan embassy in Havana. Paraguay has threatened to withdraw its entire diplomatic staff from Havana.

These years, he said, "have also presented mankind with a mounting turbulence and change that challenge the churches to an even greater purpose in their life and work together."

In that period, the council and its activities have burgeoned rapidly, embracing a vast array of mutual Christian effort ranging from joint Sunday School curricula to relief shipments overseas.

The council's budget, originally about $6 million, has been doubled to about $12 million, and its staff has increased about 50 per cent to 664.

The council services the churches with a variety of experts—in evangelism, architecture, Christian education and stewardship, among other things.

It coordinates foreign missionary activity, provides a ministry to Americans overseas, to farm migrants, summer park visitors and the armed forces chaplaincy, and produces radio and television programs.

It has shipped more than $200-million worth of food, medicine and clothing to the needy overseas through its Church World Service, and helped resettle 120,000 refugees.

It published the revised standard version of the Bible, now widely used throughout American Christianity.

It recently dedicated its new headquarters, the $20-million, 19-story "Interchurch Center" in Manhattan, which also houses many other religious organizations.

Altogether, the council carries on 70 different year-round cooperative church programs, whose functions are up for review and the mapping of new goals at the week-long assembly here.

200 Delegates Of 31 Churches Attend Meeting

Reports of activities in the Big Spring district of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference were received Friday at the annual district conference in Lamesa's First Methodist Church.

Approximately 200 delegates from all of the 31 churches in the district took part, said Dr. H. Clyde Smith, Big Spring, district superintendent.

During the first six months of the conference year, 734 members were added to the churches. In the aggregate, the charges reported having attained 38 per cent of their world service (mission) goals. Of the goal of 200 in the $10 Club (for new church aid), 149 had been enlisted. Total contributions for all causes during the six months period stood at $626,930.

The Rev. Weldon Butler, in the conference sermon, stressed the theme of the Methodist Church for the next four years—"Jesus is Lord."

A gift of $120,000 from Charles Maedgen, Lubbock, toward a new administration building at McMurry was announced. The present building will be converted into a library.

A Pat on the Back

FOR MRS. CLYDE ANGEL

The soft drawl and easy charm of Mrs. Clyde Angel leaves no doubt that she's a Southern lady of the type famed for their graciousness. Before her marriage in 1933, she was Annie Matt Tate—born and raised in Cuba, Alabama.

In preparing for a teaching career, she received degrees from Texas State Teacher's College at Denton and Texas Tech at Lubbock. She decided to stay in Texas and accepted her first assignment at Spur—teaching children who lived on the Swenson Ranch. Her next position was in Stanton—where she met Clyde. After moving to Big Spring, Mrs. Angel continued to teach in the elementary schools for seven years.

She possesses an out-going, energetic personality that has so impressed the women of Big Spring that four clubs named her as their candidate for "Woman of the Year"—an honor she was awarded in 1955.

Mrs. Angel has served as president more than one year for at least five organizations: Big Spring Concert Association, Big Spring Garden Club, 1905 Hyperion Club, First Baptist Church W.M.U. and the Hyperion Council. She is still active in these groups and others, including Eastern Star Chapter 57, the Garden Club Council and the American Cancer Society which she serves as a board member.

She worked on the committee to landscape the courthouse square and served on the Community Conference on Education besides helping on most all community fund drives.

An avid interest in literature led to her hobby of book reviewing. Although she says she is not a professional reviewer, she accepts out-of-town invitations and has appeared before clubs in towns such as Sweetwater, Midland and Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Angel live at 706 Hillside Drive. Their son, Robert Tate, graduates from Baylor Medical School in May. He is married to the former Jimmie Lou Angier, who was a Baylor beauty and now teaches in Houston.

The Angels are active members of the First Baptist Church where she has taught an adult class for 23 years and is a member of the building committee.

Servicemen's Wives Club Works On Christmas Plans

Christmas goodwill is spreading among members of the Servicemen's Wives Club as the organization moves into its welfare program. Goal of the working committee is to gather enough toys for the Webb AFB Hospital children's ward, and to collect clothing for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Clothing and shoes will go to State Hospital patients, according to Mrs. Mildred Ray, committee chairman, and single men at Webb are a big source for these items.

Open to wives of NCO's and Airmen, the Servicemen's Wives Club meets each Monday in the John H. Lees Service Club at 7:30 p.m. Many of the activities are programmed for charity with social events directed at boosting the club program.

Members are currently working on a Lone Star quilt. NCO and Airmen's wives are asked to bring scraps and their own scissors for the work.

Mrs. Jimmy Davis, recently elected club president, pointed out there is no charge for membership.

VA Staffer Emphasizes People, Not Diseases

By JACK RADER

A doctor who wears an infectious friendly smile like a native West Texan, and looks as if he might be more at home making his rounds from house to house, is the latest addition to the Veterans Administration Hospital medical staff.

The smile is certainly real, but Dr. Paul F. Kionka is a West Texan through choice, not chance. He is a native of Melrose Park, Ill., and although he was once a family doctor he has 13 1/2 years of VA hospital work in Tucson, Ariz., already to his credit.

Dr. Kionka is to be staff physician in the Medical Service section at the hospital here, according to Carlton L. Carr, administrative assistant. He assumed his duties this week.

Expressing a strong preference for small cities, Dr. Kionka also disclosed that at heart he is a family doctor. "I spent 13 years in general practice," he said, confessing that had it not been for the Navy and his arthritis he would probably still be a general practitioner.

He spent 4 1/2 years in the Navy during World War II serving as an LST commander and physician in the Pacific Theater. "After that length of time it is hard to get back into private practice. It takes a lot of rebuilding," he said.

That fact, coupled with an awareness that his arthritis might become a real disability if not checked, led Dr. Kionka to Tucson and into VA hospital work.

He admits that he enjoys his present work, despite his roots as a family physician which are probably grounded in the fact that his father was a country doctor.

Dr. Kionka said he thinks of himself as a scientific doctor more than just a doctor. "I like to cure people, instead of diseases," he said.

Dr. Kionka received his medical schooling at the University of Illinois and following graduation practiced at Arlington Heights, Ill. From there he went to Bloomington, Ill., going into private practice and also serving as director of public health before entering the Navy in 1942.

He and his wife and son, 10-year-old Roger, are making their home at 1610 Pennsylvania, and are becoming ardent Big Springers.

Dr. Kionka said that the friendliness of Big Spring impressed him and his family. "It is a healthy thing, and I think we are going to like it here. We like it very much already," he said.

Mexican Trees Are $8 Each

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The price of Christmas trees is increasing so rapidly they are becoming luxury items, says the newspaper Diario de la Tarde.

Only imported trees are permitted to be sold in Mexico, as government seeks to preserve its own forests.

Consequently, costs of trees this year have gone up about 50 per cent to what the newspaper says is a minimum of 100 pesos ($8) per tree. Few are on sale as yet.

Webb Civilians Win Awards

Cash awards were recently received by three civilian employees at Webb AFB after their management-improvement suggestions had been adopted by the Wing Incentive Board.

John S. Fry, Civil Engineering Group, received $40 and Mrs. June Brandon, 3560th Air Base Group and L. G. Grantham, 3560th Transportation Squadron, each received $10 awards.

Suggesting certain modifications to make the street-stripping machine, used for painting runways, more efficient and economical, won the $40 prize for Fry, who is assigned to the paint shop.

Mrs. Brandon collected her cash prize for an office-improvement idea where she works in group headquarters. She worked out a system of placing long distance calls in the traffic management branch which eliminated the need for obtaining a control number of each call.

Grantham's award was for plans to improve the drainage system at the base motor pool wash rack. An Air Force veteran, Grantham started work at Webb in March, 1956.

ABC Members Hear Bond Talk

Annual Christmas party and dance for the American Business Club will be held on December 16, at the Cosden Country Club.

Announcement of the event was made by ABC President Bob Rogers at the club meeting Friday.

The luncheon session will not be held on the 16th.

Merrill Creighton and Frankie Mote were awarded boxes of candy as winners of an attendance campaign. R. W. Whipkey appeared before the club to urge support of the county road bond issue.

A total of 58 members and guests were present. Guests included Al Fischer, Dick Kendall and Ken Cusick.

Double Honors

S. Sgt. John J. Dunphy makes pen and ink letters on one of the brochures used in the ATC indoctrination program. He received a letter of commendation for his workmanship in producing brochures and charts for this program as well as a letter of appreciation for his efforts and cooperation during the 1960 United Fund drive at Webb AFB. Assigned to Headquarters Squadron section, 3560th Pilot Training Wing, Sgt. Dunphy is NCOIC of the Wing graphics and staff presentation branch.

'Wufe' Creator Wins 2 Honors

S. Sgt. John J. Dunphy, NCOIC of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing graphics and staff presentation branch recently received double honors at Webb AFB.

As creator of the now legendary dog "Wufe", Sgt. Dunphy received a letter of appreciation for his efforts and cooperation during the 1960 United Fund drive from the project officer, Lt. Col. Carey B. McCoy.

He also received a letter of commendation from Wing Inspector Capt. Larry R. Georgan for "excellent workmanship in producing brochure and charts on Air Training Command's indoctrination program."

The program material, "reflecting resourcefulness and knowledge of design techniques," is used in briefing senior officers who come to Webb for orientation before assuming various duties in ATC.

Main object behind the "Wufe" creation, Dunphy said, was to provide enough stimulus among Webb personnel, since outright quotas this year were ruled out by the Wing Commander, Col. Donald W. Eisenhart. As it turned out, "Wufe" generated stimulus that never waned throughout the campaign.

Mirroring the Webb United Fund efforts as the days rolled by, the temperamental dog at times prodded base members—by its scowling, snarling and piercing eyes.

Words of congratulation and appreciation were passed on to Sgt. Dunphy by Capt. Gregg A. Smith, squadron commander, in his indorsement to both letters.

YMCA Workers Plan Region PE Competition

Physical education directors and laymen representing nine West Texas YMCA's will meet at the Big Spring YMCA this afternoon to plan inter-association athletic competition for the newly created Region Four.

Pete Cook, Big Spring, chairman of the region's physical education committee, will conduct the meeting as leaders set up regional tournaments in all phases of the YMCA athletic program. Policy and rule changes are also slated for discussion.

In addition to local YMCA personnel, representatives will be on hand from YMCA's in Midland, San Angelo, Abilene, El Paso, Amarillo, Plainview, Dumas and Perryton.

The meeting will be held between 1-3 p.m.

Canada Cards Need Four Cents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield reminded Americans Friday Christmas cards to Canada and Mexico take 4 cents postage, whether in sealed or unsealed envelopes.

To all other countries, the surface mail rate is 8 cents for sealed envelopes, 4 cents for unsealed envelopes.

Business Expected To Quicken Pace In '61

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Business is expected to quicken its pace in 1961, according to the first week of the Christmas shopping season, retail trade volume was unchanged to four per cent lower than a year ago. Shoppers were out in good numbers but were reported more price conscious and selective than last year.

STEEL
Steel production made only a modest comeback from last week's holiday-curtailed operations. A decline ended the stock market's postelection rally. The government reported new orders received by manufacturers dropped four per cent in October, ending a two-month rise. However, there were expressions of optimism for the future. Chairman Henry C. Alexander of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York City said at the Investment Bankers Association convention: "We have a pretty good level of business activity. I think there's a good chance that within a matter of months there will be a slight upturn."

Production jumped back from the holiday week with an estimated output of 141,000 passenger cars. Last week the total was 111,181. The automakers rolled out 897,116 cars in November, bringing the year's total to 6,172,075, more than one million ahead of a year ago. New car sales in the middle third of November totaled 165,200, second best on record for the period. A familiar nameplate faded from the Detroit scene when Chrysler Corp. discontinued DeSoto after 23 years. New construction rose one per cent in November to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $55.761 billion from $54.781 billion in October. Spending for private residential buildings advanced to an annual rate of $21.169 billion from $21.124 the previous month.

FOOD PRICES
Food prices continued their rise. Dun & Bradstreet's wholesale index went to a new 1960 high for the fourth consecutive week. Volume on the stock market last week rose to 16,809,950 shares from the previous week's 12,709,925. Bond sales on the New York Stock Exchange were $30,908,000 (par value) for the current week, compared with $21,545,000 the week before.

Texas Business Activity Down

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas business activity declined seven per cent in October from its September level and dipped two per cent below October 1959, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported Saturday.

Business activity in 1959 was similar to 1957 when the national economy was on the verge of a mild recession, statisticians said. B. May said. November and December values will reveal whether Texas is going further into the recession grips the rest of the country whether it will continue to recede.

Production of goods and services continued to decline in October. The volume of production fell two per cent from September and five per cent from October 1959.

Mike Adams Wins Club Honor Award

Mike Adams won the Cub of the Month award Friday evening at the Cub Pack 100 monthly meeting. Sponsored by St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, the pack received the Golden Jubilee Award for recruiting its quota of new members.

Cubs of Den 3 presented a flag ceremony to open the meeting following the invocation by Cubmaster J. M. Looney. Plans for a Christmas party, Dec. 22, are approved and a skit on "A Light to the Moon" was presented by Den 2.

Fifty-one cubs attended the meeting and the attendance flag was won by Den 3.

Dale Hughes received the Wolf badge; Curt Clyne, a gold arrow; and Mike Adams, a silver arrow. About pins were awarded to Randall Sunday, Bobby Bryant, James F. Branch, Lance Lane, Eddie Nanny, Francis LaRock, Dick Alan LaRock and Randy Bur.

Refreshments were served by Den 4.

Issue Dedicated To Judge Hickman

AUSTIN (AP)—The December issue of the Texas Law Review has been dedicated to retiring Supreme Court Justice J. E. Hickman.

Judge Hickman was presented a bound copy of the University of Texas Law School publication at a surprise coffee Friday. He and fellow jurists and law school members first "if my stay here has resulted in bringing the court to a higher elevation in the minds of the laymen of the state, then it's all been worthwhile."

He became the 20th chief justice of the court Jan. 7, 1948, after serving on the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals.

Rev. Hungerford Is Guest Speaker

The Rev. Donald Hungerford, rector of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church, will be the speaker at the annual ladies night affair of the Men of the Church in the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday.

The dinner affair will start at 6:45 p.m. in Fellowship Hall and the program about 7:30 p.m. The men and their wives of the St. Paul's and the Coahoma Presbyterian Churches are especially invited to attend.

Topic of Rev. Hungerford's address will be "Loneliness — What the Church Can Do to Alleviate It."

27 Cases Posted In County Court

LAMESA (SC) — Twenty-seven cases have been docketed for a December term of Dawson County Court which will be convened Wednesday by Judge R. F. Spraberry.

Cases set for trial include possession—Rene Sturgeon, Margaret Harris, Willie Evans, Ralph Reeves (two counts), Elias Narvas, Lester Bush and Willie Collins.

Transporting — Willie Evans (three counts); desertion—Bernardo Salazar, Haskell Lee, Orville Thomas, Rene Sturgeon, Manuel Sanchez, Cecil M. Odell and Johnny Gill.

Worthless checks—Herman E. Curtis (two counts), Charles D. Gowan; aggravated assault — Pinkie Abram, Lydia Gomez and J. D. Ford; Pearl Loftin, destruction of public property; Noah Killian, contributing; Raul and Antonio Rodriguez, disturbing the peace.

MRS. ELSIE CREIGHTON

New Voice At City Hall

Beginning Monday a new voice will be heard by those calling the city engineering and public works departments. Mrs. Elsie Creighton will assume her duties as secretary to Bruce Dunn, director of public works, Monday, replacing Charlene Anderson.

Mrs. Creighton, a Stanton High School graduate, is attending night school at Howard County Junior College. She was formerly a cashier with the American National Insurance Co. Her starting salary with the city is $200 per month. Mrs. Anderson, secretary for 19 months, is leaving to take up residence in Dallas.

331st Pilots Receive ADC High Proficiency Ratings

Capt. Phillip W. Broom and 1st Lt. Norris J. Krone Jr. of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB received their expert rating recently from ADC.

The Air Defense Command gives this highest award of proficiency to pilots who have completed 1,000 hours total flying time—700 of which is in jet fighters, completed 20 low approaches when the weather was less than 1,000 feet or visibility less than two miles, made four out of five successful intercepts carrying scoring simulated armament, and successfully passed a flight, supervised by a tactical evaluation pilot from higher headquarters. The other two ratings prior to becoming eligible for the expert award are qualified and skilled.

Capt. Broom, who is the assistant training officer of the 331st, first entered the Air Force on active duty in August, 1954. He went through pilot training, receiving his wings at Webb in September, 1955, and then flew the B-36 bomber at Carswell AFB with the 11th Bomb Wing. After completing the school at Craig AFB, Ala. and becoming jet-qualified, Capt. Broom attended the all-weather interceptor school at Perrin AFB. From Perrin, he went overseas and flew the F-86 at Komaki AB, Japan and Faha AB, Okinawa. In March, 1959, he joined the 37th FIS at Ethan-Allen AFB, Vt. where he stayed until his move to Webb with the 331st last spring. Capt. Broom has a total of 1,700 hours of flying, almost 1,100 are in jet fighters.

1st Lt. Krone Jr. entered the Air Force in March, 1959, attended flying training and received his wings at Laughlin AFB, then went to the all-weather interceptor school at Moody AFB, Ga. in March, 1957 where he flew the F-86 interceptor. Upon completion at Moody he was assigned to the 331st FIS which was then stationed at Stewart AFB, N. Y. He accompanied the squadron on its move to Webb AFB and checked out in the F-102 in the spring of this year. Lt. Krone has 1,400 hours total flying time of which some 1,100 are in jet fighters.

'Secret Santa' Is Found Again

MRS. PAUL NELSON with Secret Santa cash

Friday turned out to be a mighty good day for Mrs. Paul Nelson, 618 Linda Lane. Shopping in a local store, she asked the clerk assisting her if he happened to be the day's "Secret Santa." Indeed, he did. Mrs. Nelson received $40 in cash because the Secret Santa wasn't identified the day before, and the $30 daily award money carried over. By coincidence, Friday was Mrs. Nelson's birthday, and she had received a wallet from her husband, Capt. Paul B. Nelson, and their daughter, Sandra. It was a timely receipt for the $40. The "Secret Santa" game resumes on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, with more than a score of local stores participating. A sales person in one of the stores will be designated each day as the "Secret Santa." The person (adults over 16) properly accepting the "Santa" is awarded $20 in cash. If there is no winner on the first day, the $20 carries over the second. There will be three days this week of the "Secret Santa" game, the last three days of the week following. Full details will appear in Tuesday's Herald. In addition to Mrs. Nelson as a winner Friday, the first day's award went to Donna Reyna, 311 NW 10th.

REFUGEE AID

Cubans Complain Of Ike's Move

HAVANA (AP)—The semi-official newspaper Revolucion complained Saturday that President Eisenhower's decision to give $1 million in aid to Cuban refugees in Florida "opens up a free lunch counter" for counter-revolutionaries. By allocating the money to help the 30,000 refugees, the U.S. government "officialized and legitimized the financing of counter-revolution" against the Castro regime, the newspaper said. It castigated the refugees as people "who are disposed to live without working and are willing to join in battle against the Cuban revolution." No mention was made of the fact that Eisenhower acted under a law pertaining to aid for refugees from Communist-run governments, which in effect officially labels Cuba Communist for the first time in Washington. "Said Revolucion: 'The Yankee government, which has never had a holy attitude toward its Negroes in the South threatened by borders of KKK (the Ku Klux Klan), which has never concerned itself with the exploitation of Latin American peoples, which had no compassion over dropping atomic bombs on Hiroshima, now says it is spending a million dollars to help Cuban refugees." The government-controlled organ accused Eisenhower of creating a system of "botellas" (payoffs or bribes) for "the war criminals in Florida... those who are not accustomed to work but only to assassinate other Cubans." Revolution also brought up a new charge about U.S. destruction of an erring rocket three days ago above the Holguin area of eastern Cuba. The newspaper ran a story from Holguin, under an eight-column banner headline, saying fragments from the U.S. space missile had killed an inoffensive cow grazing on a ranch seized and administered by the Agrarian Reform Institute. The U.S. Embassy had received by Saturday neither an expected protest about the rocket's flight over Cuba nor a reply to Washington's request that fragments be returned for examination and analysis.

Coahoma Holds Open House In New Building

Open house and dedication of a new auditorium and gymnasium will be held between 2-5 p.m. today at the Coahoma High School. The ceremonies, originally scheduled two weeks ago, were postponed due to last-minute construction delays. The new auditorium and gymnasium form the top of a T arrangement, separated by a lobby area. The classroom unit, with laboratory and work areas, form the stem of the T. The classroom unit has been in use most of the current term. The new plant was built at a cost of about $550,000, financed by a $695,000 bond issue. The building is part of a program which included some renovations and four classroom additions at Coahoma's Midway school.

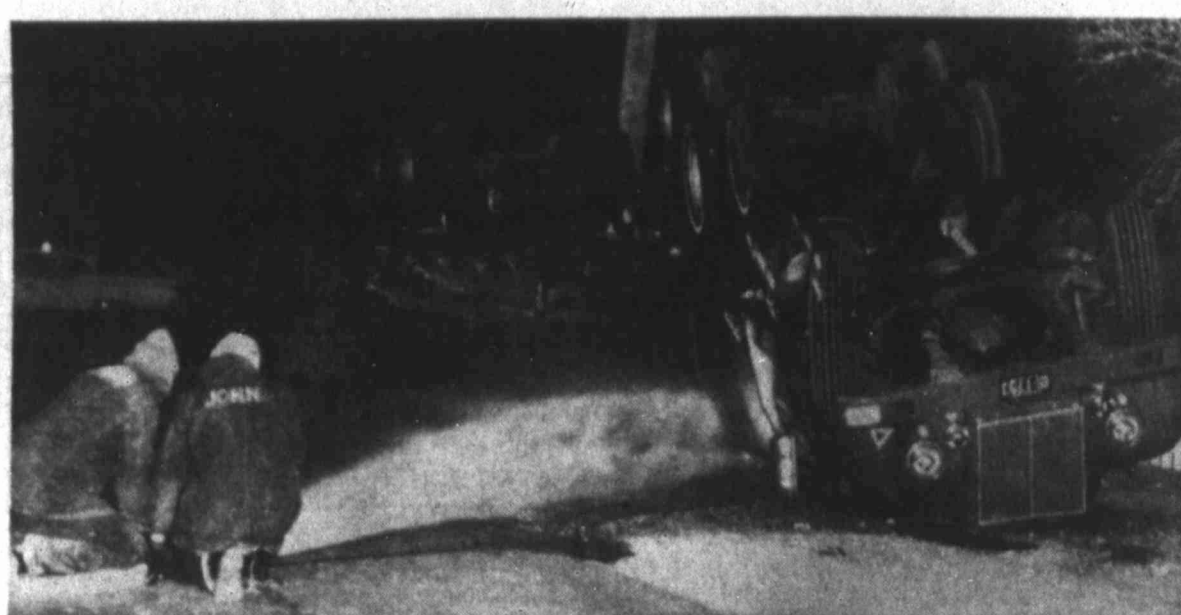

Webb Parade Winners Named

Headquarters Squadron Section, 3560th M&S Group, won first place in marching in last week's graduation parade at Webb AFB. The wing parade, with over 900 men participating, was held in honor of graduating pilot class 61-D and three winners of the Air Force Commendation medal. Wing Commander Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, reviewing officer, was joined on the reviewing stand by the award winners, Col. Glenn A. Skell, commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing, was parade commander. Second place honors in the parade went to Headquarters Squadron Section, 3560th Pilot Training Group, and the 3560th Flight Line Maintenance Squadron won third.

Firemen Prevent Blazing Inferno Following Wreck

What could possibly have been a tragedy in death and destruction was averted early Saturday morning after a tank truck overturned at NE 12th and the Snyder Highway.

Column Hunt, 1210 Main, escaped with only a minor head injury. The truck, owned by the Oil Transport Co. here, incurred an estimated $5,000 in damage, and company officials said that the loss in fuel mix was probably about $1,000.

Hunt to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital where he was treated and released.

Wing Board To Pick Top Pilot

A Wing Board will meet next month to select the Webb AFB Pilot of the Year for 1958. Candidates meeting the board will be one pilot each from Pilot Training Group, 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, Base Operations, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron; M & S Group, and the 351st Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

As the fuel leaked from the battered tank, firemen hosed it away from the wreckage while a foam truck from Wern AFB stood by just in case the liquid should blaze.

Three other mishaps were reported investigated by police Saturday, one involving a car set rolling down a hill, allegedly by two youths who then sped away in their own car.

200 Enter FFA Contests Here Saturday

The Big Spring Future Farmers of America Chapter won fourth place Saturday in the farm radio broadcasting portion of the Area Two contest.

Approximately 200 FFA members attended the area leadership contest, held in Big Spring High School, representing schools from a 43 county area.

AF Editor Lauded For UF Assistance

T. Sgt. Herbert S. McGregor, editor of the "Prairie Pilot," Webb Air Force Base newspaper, received special recognition for his part in the 1958 United Fund drive at Webb AFB when he received a letter of appreciation from the Fund Drive Project Officer, Lt. Col. McCoy.

In lauding Sgt. McGregor for his efforts and cooperation in the drive, Col. McCoy said, "your interesting and imaginative news coverage, and your timely progress reports, stimulated members of the base to do their utmost to bring the campaign to a successful conclusion."

Mr. Cross was a native of Taylor County and a former longtime resident of Garza County, from whence he moved to Stephenville in 1952. He served as Garza County judge from 1930-34 and as sheriff from 1940-44. He also was a rancher and farmer in Garza County for several years. He was a Baptist and a Mason.

toward bolstering the economy. Kennedy told the news conference he would have an important statement about unemployment areas Sunday.

During his campaign Kennedy hammered at what he called an urgent need to promote government help for areas of unemployment in an effort to stimulate business.

Board Takes No Action Against Dr. W. D. Holt

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The State Board of Medical Examiners took no action Saturday on charges that Dr. William D. Holt violated professional ethics by his conduct at McCarney Hospital last year.

This decision, in effect, was a victory for Dr. Holt who appeared before the board for two hours Friday to deny that he had acted improperly before a group of nurses at the McCarney Hospital.

McKinney Attends Planning Meeting

R. R. McKinney, senior vice commander of Texas department for the Veterans of World War I, will be in Fort Worth this evening for a national convention planning session.

White Kennedy conducted his news conference Saturday Caroline pushed a small baby carriage on the busy street outside the Kennedy house. Her nurse, Maude Shaw, who strolled with the youngster and a Secret Service agent, said two dolls in the carriage were named Mary and Baby Dear.

Missionary's Family Leave Lamesa; Return To Congo

LAMESA, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. William H. Crane and her four children are planning to leave Lamesa next week to join her missionary husband, Dr. William H. Crane at Elizabethville in troubled Katanga Province of the Congo.

The Cranes, who have been living in Lamesa since early summer were scheduled to leave this weekend. But they were delayed since they have not received visas and because they are finding it difficult to get plane reservations from Brussels, Belgium, to Elizabethville.

Mrs. J. R. Coon Dies In Roscoe

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. J. R. Coon, a resident of Lorraine since 1907, died at the Morris Nursing Home in Roscoe Saturday at 7:45 p.m. She was 92.

The family came to the states in July 1959 on a year's furlough; both Mr. and Mrs. Crane were born in the Belgian Congo to missionary parents and two of their children were born there.

Aged Stone Found

JERUSALEM (AP)—A stone more than 2,000 years old inscribed with a 38-line military order in Greek has been found in North Israel. Experts said it contains the texts of official documents from the reign of Seleucid King Antiochus the Great, 223-187 B. C.

Howard Brown are prearranging the costumes; Mrs. Gayle Johnson and Mrs. Roy Rosene will handle makeup; Mrs. Terry Patterson and Bloddy Chrene are building and designing the set and properties; Roy Rogan and Howard Brown are assigned to plan the lighting and sound effects; Mrs. Lee Rogers is cast director; Jimmy Taylor has charge of the livestock, and Mrs. Carl Bradley is planning the music.

THE WEEK

Several organizations and church groups have volunteered assistance toward the production. The Big Spring Civic Theatre has donated costuming, make-up and electrical fixtures. The First Christian Church has given costuming, set materials and electrical equipment.

A full cast meeting is slated for 5 p.m. Monday. Everyone except members of the cast will meet in a planning session Tuesday at 6 p.m. First rehearsals begin Wednesday and the director points out these will last less than one hour. They are scheduled for 5 p.m. each day.

Col. Gus Tauts received the Air Force Commendation Medal last week, but he might have been in line for the Purple Heart (four wounds) had he not made a last-minute recovery. At 3:15 p.m., 15 minutes before the presentation, he remembered he hadn't thought to tell Mrs. Tauts that he was receiving the medal. A hasty call enabled her to make it on the double.

First Lt. James R. Alley not only did honor to his class (61-D) last week at Webb, but he did honor to the base as well. He was announced at graduation exercises as the outstanding graduate of all the classes in the ATC. This won him the special Orville Wright award and membership in the Order of Daedalian pilot's fraternity. At the exercises, Rep. George Mahon told the young fliers that manned aircraft are not on the way out, but on the way up.

Security State Bank announced a sort of Christmas present last week in the form of a 10 per cent dividend for the second consecutive year. This will be paid on Dec. 15 on the 11,000 shares of stock.

Maybe they'll be taking sidewalk next. Last week officers received a complaint that a cattle guard had been stolen at the Coronado Hills development.

The United Fund has a about reached the end of the row and about $4,000 short of its $98,210 goal—unless those who have not yet given come to the aid of the 12 participating agencies.

If you wonder who is still the most popular man, consider the turnout in two days last week of youngsters wanting to ride in Santa's big sleigh. Something like 5,000 showed up for a pre-Christmas visit with the jolly old fellow.

Webb had a distinguished visitor last week in the person of Maj. Gen. Henry K. Mooney, vice commander of the Air Training Command. The general, recently assigned to this post, came here for a familiarization and inspection trip.

Ministers have joined in the plea for safe driving and safe action around Christmas time. After all, one of the commandments is "thou shalt not kill," the pastors figure this applies to using automobiles as well as other weapons.

Kennedy Lauds Other Kennedy

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Police Capt. Dan B. Kennedy is getting a respite while President-elect John F. Kennedy spends the weekend in Florida.

"Things have kinda settled back to normal routine, said white-haired Capt. Kennedy as he sat at his desk in the Seventh Precinct police station.

President-elect Kennedy lives in the Seventh Precinct, the Georgetown section of the capital city. This has meant extra protection work for the policemen.

"He has been nice" about helping the policemen in their work, Capt. Kennedy said about the other Kennedy.

The president-elect and the police captain are not related. Four policemen from other precincts have been assigned to help the men of the Seventh. They work with the Secret Service men assigned to the president-elect.

When Kennedy is at home, there are only two policemen on duty at the N Street house. Four more help out when Kennedy arrives at or departs from his home.

Capt. Kennedy himself is there when the president-elect is "moving." He has been at the Georgetown University Hospital, too, when the president-elect has gone there to visit his wife and baby son—the hospital is also in the Seventh Precinct.

This weekend, with Mrs. Kennedy and John Jr., still in the hospital and Kennedy and daughter Caroline in Florida, there still are policemen around the Kennedy home to guard it and keep the traffic moving on the street.

"This is when the out-of-town people will drive by," Capt. Kennedy said. "It's a funny thing, you'll see a car go by, and somebody in it will point at the house. And five minutes later there's that same car again. They keep going around."

Crowds on the sidewalk across the street from the house have reached as many as 700 at a time.

"The people have been orderly," Capt. Kennedy said. "We haven't had any incidents."

"It's a quiet section of town. No—haven't had any complaints from the neighbors. I think they kind of enjoy all this excitement."

VA Schedules Special Session

A three-day physician-in-residence session will be conducted at the Veterans Administration Hospital Monday through Wednesday.

Dr. Arthur Grollman, professor of experimental medicine at the Southwestern Medical School, University of Texas, at Dallas, will conduct the session.

Carlton L. Carr, administrative assistant at the hospital, said that local physicians are invited to the session.

Dr. Grollman will deliver five lectures. The talks are slated for 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, and at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Following the Wednesday lecture, Dr. Grollman will hold a question and answer period.

Lecture subjects include principles of pulmonary physiology, cellular metabolism, thyroid nodule, pharmacology of drug addiction and the liver and its disorders.

Sack Collins Found Guilty, Receives 99 Year Sentence

HOUSTON (AP) — Clarence (Sack) Collins, 24, yesterday was given a 99-year prison sentence by the Houston jury that found him guilty of murder.

Collins, a Houston Negro, was convicted of the murder-for-pay death of Mrs. Wilma Selby after two hours and 45 minutes of jury deliberation.

Mrs. Selby, a wealthy Houston woman, was found shot to death in her home Nov. 16, 1959.

Collins pleaded innocent when the trial started almost three weeks ago. Houston Dist. Atty. Dan Walton asked the jury—which included one Negro—to give Collins death for killing the white woman.

"Oh man, I don't want to talk," Collins told reporters after the verdict. His lawyers said they will appeal.

E. A. Waight of Baytown, the jury foreman, said the jurors voted three times before they agreed on the 99-year sentence.

Collins was one of four defendants in the case. Two others have been tried.

Joseph F. Selby, the victim's husband, is serving a life sentence for hiring someone to kill his wife. Mrs. Maggie Morgan, a Negro fortune teller, was given a death sentence for arranging the death. Her lawyers have appealed.

Miss Patra Mae Bounds, the state's star witness in all three cases, has not been tried.

The defense attacked police methods in arresting Collins, methods used to obtain a statement from him and had a psychologist testify Collins is a mental defective.

Miss Bounds, who had testified she was with Collins when he killed Mrs. Selby, was called back to the stand and said she was tortured into implicating Collins by two deputy sheriffs.

British May Bring Back The 'Cat' For Punishment

LONDON (AP) — In an English court a few years ago, the judge summoned the prisoner and announced: "Twelve months in jail."

No flicker of emotion showed on the prisoner's face.

"And 15 strokes of the cat," added the judge.

The convicted man paled. His knees sagged. Sweat beaded his brow as he was led away.

The prisoner was taken to a jail, moved into a cell and stripped to the waist.

He was then marched to a steel frame, a sinister looking apparatus much like the framework of an artist's easel—an inverted Y.

A leather belt was laced around the prisoner's loins and his neck encased in a wide leather collar.

A prison medical officer faced the prisoner, at a position where he could look into his face.

A prison officer took his place behind the prisoner. In his right hand dangled the dreaded "cat"—a flail, or cat o' nine tails.

"One," spoke the prison governor.

The cat cracked across the prisoner's bare back.

"Two—"

Down came the cat again, bringing blood from the man's flesh and a scream from his lips.

"Three—four—"

Three years later the same prisoner was again convicted of robbing women with violence. This time he received a sentence of three years plus 12 strokes of the cat.

The fact that this man and others flogged for robbery with violence subsequently repeated their crimes did much to convince a British government in 1948 that whipping was not a deterrent.

Up to 12 years ago floggings were systematically ordered by judges and carried out in prisons across the land.

Today there is agitation for the return of the "cat."

If public opinion polls and letters to newspapers correctly reflect the feelings of most citizens, British people want the courts to bring back the cat. It now is used against attacks on prison officers.

Two investigating bodies, one in 1938 and another this year, found no evidence for any belief that floggings stamp out violence.

Backed up with the reports of the 1960 committee, the present government has refused to restore the lash.

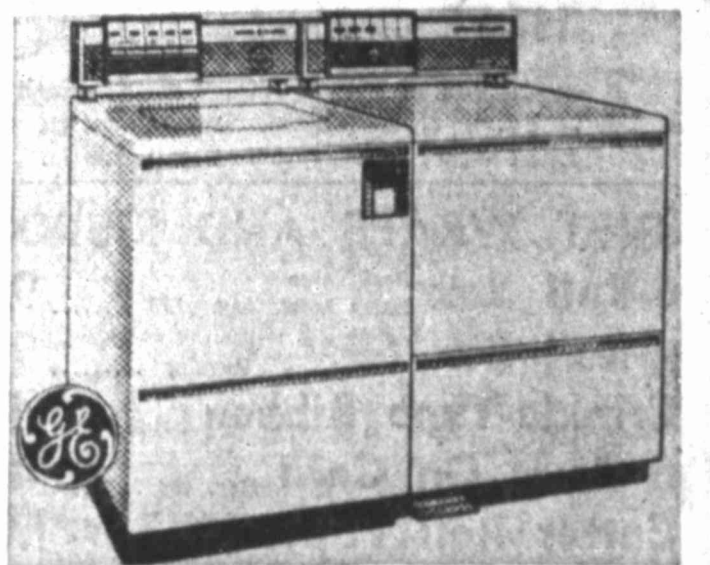

One member of the House of Commons summed up his reasons for voting against floggings.

"I hold that a civilized country has no right to punish lawbreakers by inflicting gross physical cruelty on them," said Charles Curran, a Conservative.

"For a deterrent is a good ground for bringing back the lash, it is an even better ground for bringing back the rack."

ODESSA — San Angelo College won the first annual Odessa Junior College Basketball Tournament, defeating Howard County Junior College of Big Spring by a score of 54-52.

San Angelo led most of the way but had to rely on Bubba Bailey's dramatic shot by sinking two free tosses.

In Friday's semifinals, San Angelo came from behind to defeat Clarendon, 84-63, while Howard County edged past Odessa, 64-59.

Odessa led HCJC at half time, 37-29, and seemed well on its way to victory.

Denver City Express In Action

Bert Gravitt, hard running quarterback of the Denver City Mustangs, is shown about to be stopped here by a whole host of Anson tacklers, among them Preston Hunt (11), Bobby Edwards (66) and Larry Cox (86). Gravitt scored two touchdowns and passed for two and the Ponies romped to an easy 43-0 victory in a Class AA quarterfinal game. Denver City thus earned the right to oppose Oney next week. The game was played before 6,500 at Memorial Stadium here. (Photo by Keith McMillan.)

thing to see. He bolted free on a 79-yard gallop early in the second quarter, then danced away from a mass of surging tacklers and roared 71 yards to pay dirt later in the round.

In all, Gravitt rolled up 212 yards net in 17 carries and completed six of seven passes good for 100 yards.

Marcell Dorethy, who opened the season as a guard and wasn't moved into the secondary until the playoffs, scored the first touchdown of the game on a three-yard sprint off right tackle with 57 yards to go in the opening period.

The touchdown came at the end of a 78-yard march. Dorethy bruised through for the extra point but Denver City was in motion on the play. Johnny Fulbright then dropped a pass in the end zone for the extra point.

Gravitt's 79-yard run provided the Mustangs with their second tally 2:19 deep in the second quarter. Dorethy churned through for the two extra points and the Cayuses led 14-0.

Midway in the second quarter, Gravitt sought out George Curtis with a payoff pitch, the play covering 15 yards. Curtis twisted after taking the pass right in front of the goal posts and fell into the end zones. Gravitt converted for two points on a run.

Curtis himself set the drive in motion by picking off a pass thrown by Anson's Roger Huber on his own 21.

With 3:30 to go in the round, Gravitt broke loose for his second TD run — that one good for 71 yards. Dorethy again ran for the two extra point and Denver City led, 30-0.

Midway in the third, Gravitt connected with Johnny Fulbright for a TD pass, the maneuver covering 35 yards. Fulbright was all by himself when he took the pitch. Dorethy failed on a running try for the PAT and Denver City led, 36-0.

Dorethy ended the scoring for the day when he plunged over from the one at the end of a 52-yard march late in Round Three. Tommy Jones had sent Denver City on the attack by intercepting a Huber-thrown pass.

Dorethy then proceeded to kick the PAT and Denver City had its margin for the day.

Gravitt scored another TD in the fourth on the 20 after grabbing a ball he had bobbed, only to have the play wiped out by a penalty.

Anson never got closer than Denver City's 37-yard line in the first half. The Tigers pushed to the Ponies' 32 in the third period but the Mustangs dug in to hold.

Gravitt carried the ball 17 times for net gains of 212 yards. Dorethy gained 46 paces in 14 attempts. Fulbright picked up 31 yards in five carries.

For Anson, Dudley White was the top ground gainer, with 51 yards advance in 11 attempts.

Ronnie Bailey gained 40 yards in five lunges for the Tigers.

Kilmer Shines In UCLA Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hard-running halfbacks Bill Kilmer and Bobby Smith led UCLA to a 27-6 romp over the Cotton Bowl-bound Duke Blue Devils to wind up the regular college football season in Memorial Coliseum Saturday.

Kilmer gained 200 yards and won in the 1960 total offense championship with a 10-game total of 1,889 yards.

A crowd of 23,357 saw the Bruins score a touchdown in each quarter and blank Duke, the only team to whip Navy this year, until late in the fourth period.

It was Duke's first appearance in California since 1939 when its great outfit, undefeated, tied and unscored upon, was beaten 7-3 in the Rose Bowl by Southern California.

Kilmer led UCLA on its first scoring drive, gaining 42 yards in seven runs and capping it with a nine-yard touchdown pass to Don Vena.

Kilmer scored a touchdown on a four-yard plunge in the fourth quarter, after gaining 45 yards in five tries.

Quarterback Don Altman guided the Blue Devils 61 yards in eight plays in the closing moments with Dean Wright scoring from two yards out. Duke, which plays Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas Jan. 2, wound up the season with a 7-3 record and UCLA with 7-2-1.

Oilers Near Grid Title

The Houston Oilers and Los Angeles Chargers have chances to wrap up the American Football League's Eastern and Western championships Sunday, two weeks before the end of the league's inaugural season.

The Oilers, who have won their last two games on the strength of rookie Jack Lee's passing, play the Dallas Texans in the Cotton Bowl and the Chargers play Oakland in San Francisco's Candlestick Park. If they both win, it will be all over.

Sunday's other games send the New York Titans to Denver and Boston to Buffalo.

The National Football League also could wind up most of its sectional races in a six-game program. The Philadelphia Eagles need only one more victory to clinch the Eastern Conference title. If the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers and Chicago Bears win, they'll be the only contenders left in the Western Conference race.

The Eagles play the Cardinals at St. Louis; the Colts are at home against the Detroit Lions and the Bears entertain the Green Bay Packers. Other NFL games are Dallas at New York, San Francisco at Los Angeles and Washington at Cleveland.

Missouri Man Is Contest Winner

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Ed Landreth, 37-year-old Joplin, Mo., gun rack and cabinet manufacturer, won the 25th annual world championship duck calling contest Saturday night.

Charles V. Stepan of Port Arthur, Tex., was second and Richard Moothart of Washington, Iowa, was third. Defending champion James Fernandes of Port Arthur finished fifth.

Wildcats Edge Texas Aggies

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State withstood a Texas A&M second-half rally to win its season basketball opener 69-64 Saturday night.

The Wildcats had fashioned a 41-32 lead the opening minutes of the second half only to see the Texans come back to tie the score twice.

Although Larry Comley paced Kansas State with 18 points it was up to a pair of sophomores to finally move the game out of danger in the closing minutes as 11,000 saw the contest.

Leading only 65-64, K-State stretched its advantage on sophomore Jerry Roy's driving layup with 51 seconds left. Al Pietman, another sophomore suited it away with two free throws.

The penny-ante game saw both clubs in trouble. K-State got only limited duty from its two big men, Mike Wroblewski and Ced Price, in the second half as each carried four fouls.

The Aggies, led by Carl Broussard with 17 points, lost regulars Don Starward and Jerry Windham in the closing minutes. Two other starters, Wayne Annett and Pat Stanley, each were hobbled with four fouls the last half.

Kansas State hit 25 of 87 floor shots for a 29.9 shooting percentage. The Aggies made 17 of 69 shots for 24.6 per cent.

Officials Select Snyder As Site

School officials of Denver City and Oney met in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College following the Denver City-Anson football game here yesterday and decided to play their Class AA semifinal game in Snyder at 7:30 o'clock next Saturday evening.

Denver City picked Snyder as a "home site" while Oney favored Sweetwater. Denver City then won the coin toss.

Officials of the two schools then flipped a coin to see whether the game would be played in the afternoon or at night. Oney wanted to play at night and won the right to have its way.

Oney defeated Gilmer, 41-6, Friday night to win the right to oppose Denver City.

Both teams will carry undefeated records onto the field.

Hamlin Slams Wolves, 52-37

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Hamlin dumped Colorado City here Saturday night, 52-37, as the Wolves absorbed their third loss in four starts this week.

Cecil Robinson paced the winners, pouring six field goals and as many charity tosses through the net for 19 points. He was the game's leading scorer.

Colorado City never led but made a game of it until midway through the second period, when Hamlin began pulling away. Buddy Compton kept the Wolves in the game with 16 points, 12 of them on field goals.

The Colorado City B team squeaked past the Hamlin Bees, 29-27, with Charlie Houston leading the home team scoring with 18 points. Van Newberry was top man for Hamlin with 13.

Colorado City meets Roscoe Tuesday in the next home game.

Score by quarters:
Colorado City 13 11 27 23
Hamlin 7 10 12 12

Fullmer Retains Boxing Crown

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Champion Gene Fullmer, the billy goat better from Utah, retained his world National Boxing Association middleweight title Saturday night in a 15-round draw with five-time ex-champion Sugar Ray Robinson of New York.

It was a split decision that drew loud reactions from the crowd in the Sports Arena at the end of one of the most vicious and bruising fights seen here in many a night and probably as rough as the 39-year-old Robinson ever weathered in his 20 years in the ring.

Referee Tommy Hart scored it 4-4, Judge George Laska had it 8-8 and Judge Lee Groesman scored it 9-5 for Fullmer.

Fullmer weighed 159, Robinson 150.

A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 stood for several minutes after the decision was announced in the nationally televised fight.

Eagles Can Sew In Title Today

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
The last time the Philadelphia Eagles and Coach Buck Shaw were in a title game was 1949. The Eagles won and Shaw lost. Now they'd like to win together, but first they must beat the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday to clinch the Eastern Conference crown in the National Football League. The Eagles are 5-point road favorites to score their ninth straight victory.

That would give Shaw as many victories as he totaled in the past two seasons, his first with the Eagles. His title game shot was as coach of the San Francisco 49ers in the old All America Conference. The AAC didn't have two divisions in 1949—its last year—so Shaw has never coached a conference champion in either league, although he worked five more years after the 49ers came into the NFL in 1950. The Cleveland Browns beat the 49ers 21-7 in the AAC's final title game, and the same year in the NFL the Eagles took the crown with a 14-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

With TOMMY HART

Bobby Wright has the best score posted at the new Country Club course here, a 67 he fashioned a couple of weeks ago while playing with Obie Bristow, J. R. Farmer, Earl Reynolds and Bill Cheek. . . Wright, a veteran tournament player here, was out in 33 and in 34. . . Par for the course is 36-35-71. . . He wound up with five birdies and a bogie on the 18. . . Cheek has the next best round, a 70. . . He had 17 straight pars and then wound up with a birdie on 18. . . The fine new layout has had a good play since it was opened in October. . . The NCAA reportedly is investigating Oklahoma University again over another recruiting incident. . . A paid crowd of 41,636 was in the stands when freshman football teams of Georgia and Georgia Tech clashed in Atlanta recently. . . The game ended in a 22-22 deadlock. . . Wayland College's freshmen cagers defeated South Plains JC of Levelland recently, 85-84, despite the fact that they finished the game with only two players on the court. . . South Plains made the mistake of double-teaming the Pioneer frosh after three players had departed and began to pile up the fouls. . . The Wayland team made good on 42 foul shot attempts, compared to 24 for South Plains. . . Odessa Periman was shocked no end by that 31-21 football defeat at the hands of Yaleta last week but the Panthers didn't lack for offensive punch. . . They made 355 yards net against Yaleta, compared to 407 against Big Spring — and they beat the Steers 49-0. . . Duke Garren, the Pampa center who glided against Big Spring, was the Harvesters' lone player on the All-District 3-AAAA platform named recently. . . Dale McCoshan, the former Sweetwater star, is now playing basketball for the C&I Life Insurance team in Lubbock, as is Dale Giese, who sparked the Lubbock Christian College club two seasons ago.

Steer Grid Attendance Picks Up

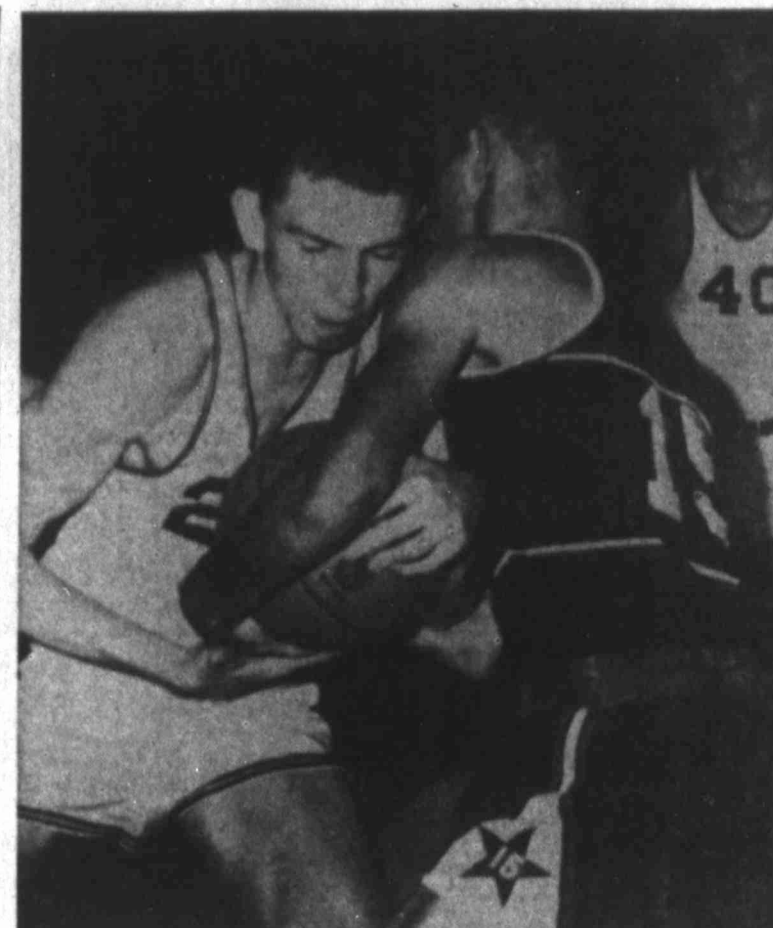

The Big Spring Steers wound up playing to 5,399 more paycomers in the past football season than they did in 1959, despite the fact that fans in their road games didn't break down the gates to watch them. . . The Longhorns and their ten ties attracted turnouts totaling 41,623, compared to 25,833 last year. . . The cash income of this year's games amounted to $41,577.50, compared to $28,951.75 in 1959. . . Of the total attendance, 22,672 saw the Longhorns in action here. . . Here's a breakdown on the game-by-game attendance, with letters in parentheses indicating whether it was here or away: Pampa (a)—1,646; Pecos (a)—2,547; Snyder (h), 6,140; Sweetwater (a), 4,709; Lameta (h)—5,889; Abilene (h)—4,394; Odessa (a), 3,287; Midland (h)—3,496; San Angelo (a), 5,587; Odessa Periman (h), 2,861. . . Only 1,269 adult and 1,911 student tickets were sold in the other communities for the five games played here. . . Although Georgia Tech's football team wound up with a lackluster 55-win record, coach Bobby Dodd maintains it was one of the best Tech teams he ever coached. . . A spread of 16 points in these five games would have given the Engineers an undefeated untied season. . . Lakeview Winner In Gra-Y Ball

Lakeview won the 1960 Gra-Y Rag Football league championship by defeating Boydstun, 36-8, here Saturday morning. . . The drive with a 15-yard run for Lakeview won the game, 36-8, here Saturday morning. . . Boydston took an early lead when Gary Rogers raced nine yards across the double stripes, after which Humphrey Clanton passed to Jerry Cryer for two extra points. . . Gun Jackson capped a 55-yard drive with a 15-yard run for Lakeview's first score later in the round but Lakeview failed to add the extra point and still trailed. . . Near the end of the opening period, Joe Walter Green caught Roger behind the double stripes for a safety that tied the score. . . In the second period, Roosevelt Brown of Lakeview sprinted 28 yards into the end zones and then added the two extra points on a run and Lakeview led, 16-8. . . In the third, Brown again shook loose on a scoring run, this one for 18 yards, and Lakeview's lead was boosted to 22-8. Later in the third quarter, Seneman Johnson bolted one yard for another Lakeview score and Brown added two extra points on a run. . . In the fourth, Boydston drove to Lakeview's three-yard line, only to lose the ball on a fumble. On the next play, Claude Tucker Jr. sprinted 77 yards for Lakeview's final score. . . Next week, Gra-Y Rag football will be capped by an all-star game. The contest starts at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Sectional Tennis Tourney Scheduled For Dec. 28-31

DALLAS — The fourth annual Texas Sectional tennis championship of the Texas Tennis Association will be played as one of the outstanding sports events of Cotton Bowl Festival Week in Dallas. The matches are slated for Dec. 28-31 in the Automobile, Aviation and Recreation Building at State Fair Park. . . Entries are now being accepted and the deadline for applications is Dec. 19. . . More than 200 top tennis enthusiasts are expected to enter the Cotton Bowl tournament. Last year some 170 students from 11 states participated. . . The tournament, open to any individual and all high schools and junior high schools, is sponsored by the Dallas Board of Council and the Dallas Tennis Association in cooperation with the Dallas Park and Recreation Department and the Texas Tennis Association. The matches have been sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association and the Texas Tennis Association. The tournament has been officially designated to determine the Texas Tennis Association championships. . . Six divisions will be included in tourney play. There will be three divisions for boys and three for girls. Classification of entries are boys and girls 13 and under; boys and girls 15 and under and junior boys and girls divisions for those 15 and younger in which only singles entries will be accepted. . . A player may compete in any two events only. Players eligible to play in the younger divisions may elect to play in older divisions as well. . . P. Arthur, Jacksonville Register Playoff Wins

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
Port Arthur, the team that was picked to win the Class AAAA schoolboy football championship back in August, is in the semifinals waiting for somebody to show up to challenge it. . . The Yellow Jackets whipped Houston Bellaire 27-15 Friday night as the four divisions of schoolboy football started determining semi-finalists. . . There was only one upset Friday night when 10 games were played in the quarter-finals of the four classes. That upset came at El Campo in Class A where Crosby, a four-time loser, toppled unbeaten, untied George West 30-14. . . Jacksonville, tottering on its pedestal as the No. 1 team of Class AAA, had to pull out all the stops to beat Greenville 13-8 while Port Lavaca made Seguin's stay in the race a short one with a 15-0 49-14 triumph. Seguin it was that got into the quarter-finals when San Antonio Sam Houston was kicked out by the interscholastic league because of a fight at an October game. . . Mighty Bellville, powered by its twin terrors, Ernie Koy Jr. and Joe Ed Lynn, crushed unbeaten, untied Gatesville 41-8 in the big show of Class AA. Devine clipped Sweeny 23-12 to gain the doubtful distinction of becoming Bellville's foe in the semi-finals. . . Olney, long run with No. 1 in class AA, crumpled Gilmer 41-6. . . Class A, led by high-scoring Stinnett, decided all its semi-finalists Friday night. Stinnett lashed hitherto unbeaten Plains 57-8, Albany whipped Mt. Vernon 28-8, White Oak dashed Clinton 21-6 and Crosby upended George West. . . Stinnett and Albany will meet at Chidress next Friday night. White Oak and Crosby will decide Saturday on the site and date of their melee. . . Port Arthur stayed on the ground to roll up 270 yards and whipping Bellaire with Ronnie Landry scoring two touchdowns. . . Jacksonville scored with only 23 seconds left in the first half to take a lead Greenville never could offset. The second Jacksonville score came with only 45 seconds left in the game with Robby Robins making the touchdown. . . Port Lavaca averaged a point a minute in smashing Seguin with Tom McGrath scoring on a 65-yard run, Ronnie Corvenka passing 49 yards to Sid Baker, Don Leigh taking a 69-yard pass and Rickey Whately tallying on a 45-yard throw for the most spectacular plays. . . Jim Grisham ran for two touchdowns and Jerry Bishop passed for two in Olney's victory over Gilmer. . . Lynn scored three touchdowns and Koy two in the awesome Bellville triumph over Gatesville. Charley DuBose ran for 143 yards and Frank Bain 138 as Devine romped to 476 yards rushing to lick Sweeny. . . Stinnett exploded for 30 points in the second quarter as it found Plains only a romp. Donny and Larry Anderson and Gerry Laster led Stinnett to 455 yards on the ground. . . Johnny Agan and Roy Hogan

Bulldogs Edge Past Stanton

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs turned back Stanton, 51-48, in a game that was decided in an overtime period. . . The regulation contest ended with the score 47-47. The win was Coahoma's second in three tries. . . Dwayne Richters scored 19 points for the Bulldogs while Dock Reeves chipped in 15. . . Herb Sorley paced Stanton with 15. . . Coahoma also won the girls' contest, 56-55 — a real thriller. . . Barbara Ritter tallied 26 points for Coahoma while Glenda Haynie had 17, Claudine Bales 11 and Sandra Nichols two. . . For Stanton, Frances Graves tallied 22, Elida Reyna 17, Carolyn Kelly 13 and Lou Frye four. . . In that one, Coahoma led at the end of the first period, 14-10, at half time, 27-22, and after three periods, 41-30. . . The Bulldogs play Westbrook Tuesday night. . . Coach Jimmy Spinn of Coahoma is cementing final plans for the annual Coahoma Invitational Tournament, which will be unveiled Dec. 29-30-31. . . COAHOMA (11)—Dock Reeves 5-15; Dwayne Richters 7-5-18; Maurice Cright 4-0-8; Ronnie Cunningham 3-2-4; Doug Nichols 8-1-1; Totals 15-13-31. . . STANTON (48)—Pistol 1-4-4; Church 2-0-4; Sorley 7-1-15; Koy 7-1-15; White 10-12-28; Totals 18-12-48. . . Quarter: . . . Coahoma 10 11 28 47-31; Stanton 7 24 32 48-48.

Air Fireworks Due In Bout

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Plenty of aerial tactics are on tap Tuesday as two college all-stars collide in the annual Blue-Gray football game Dec. 31. . . Complete rosters announced Saturday forecast potent passing offensives in a high-scoring thriller, but both teams also pack the power to launch a formidable ground attack if the air lanes fail to pay off. . . Led by three talented passing quarterbacks — Georgia's Francis Tarkenton, Norm an Sneed of Wake Forest and Jerry Eisenman of Kentucky — the Rebels will be after a comeback in the national television clash. . . Although the Southerners have won 13 of the 21 games in the intersectional series, they have dropped the last two to rugged Yankee invaders — and this year's Blue team appears no less fearsome. . . With such passers as quarterbacks Bernie Allen of Purdue and Dale Betty of Maryland and a brigade of other hard-running backs, the North might pull out an unprecedented third straight victory. . . Local Cagers Rack Up 42 To 36 Win

A much improved Big Spring racked Colorado City in an exhibition unreeled here Friday night 42-36.

Stymied for a half, the Steers broke their shackles with a big effort in the third period and won going away. The Longhorns outscored the Wolves, 18-6, in the third round.

The victory was the second in three starts for the Big Spring club.

Dick Ebling, an up-and-down junior, led the Longhorns with 19 points while Ronnie Hamby followed with ten.

Buddy Compton kept Colorado City in the game with a 16-point outburst.

The Wolves made only ten field goals and ten of those were by Compton.

Jimmy Marcus' Big Spring B team won its third straight game, turning back the Cee City reserves in the opener, 37-32.

The Dogies raced to a 20-5 advantage at half time and the third and fourth stringers took over after that.

George Ryan registered ten points as the top scoring hand for Big Spring. Houston had 17 for Colorado City.

Bearkats Defeat Cowboys, 45-26, In Cage Contest

GARDEN CITY — Garden City made it two basketball wins in three games by belting Grandfalls, 45-26, here Friday night.

Three boys hit in double figures for the Bearkats. Dennis Cypert and Joe Carter each had 12 while Doug Parker tossed in ten.

Sammy Trees and Herbert Robinson each tallied five for Grandfalls while Bill Turley accounted for eight.

Garden City also won the B game, 51-16. Donnie Thompson accounted for 14 of Garden City's points while Gary Mosley had nine for the Cowboys.

Garden City led at half time, 27-9.

In the girls' game, Garden City won, 49-16. It represented the second win in three starts for the girls.

Jo Calverley waxed warm for Grandfalls, losing in 32 points. Freshman Gail McDonald had six while Sharon Warner paced Grandfalls with five.

The Bearkats entertain 'Stan-ton Tuesday night.

Antonelli Goes To Cleveland

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The San Francisco Giants Saturday traded southpaw Johnny Antonelli, one-time pitching ace, and Willie Kirkland, hard-hitting outfielder, to the Cleveland Indians for star outfielder and former American League hitting champion Harvey Kuenn, The Associated Press learned.

Kuenn, unaware of the transaction, is here as AL player representative and member of the Pension Committee to attend meetings Sunday and Monday.

The 2-for-1 interleague transaction involving top-flight performers ranks as one of the most important in recent years and could play a vital role in shaping up the pennant races of both leagues in 1961.

Kuenn figured in one of the biggest trades of the 1960 season when the Indians acquired him from the Detroit Tigers in a straight swap for outfielder Rocky Colavito.

Kuenn, generally regarded as one of the most scientific batters in the game, has been one of the top stars of the American League since he won rookie of the year honors with the Tigers in 1953. He battled .306 that year and topped all shortstops in his league in total fielding chances.

A former University of Wisconsin all-around star, he was given a $55,000 bonus by Detroit in June of 1952.

Antonelli, one of the pitching mainstays of the National League, suffered his poorest season as a Giant last year, winning 6 and losing 7. After a poor start he was relegated to the bullpen where he regained his form in the final months of the campaign.

The 30-year-old left-hander, like Kuenn, was a bonus boy. He was 18 in June of 1948 when the then Boston Braves gave him $65,000 to sign.

Kirkland, 26 last February, batted .252 last season but slammed 21 home runs, 10 triples and 21 doubles.

A strong-armed right fielder, he stole 12 bases, indicating good speed for a 6-foot-1, 212-pounder. In three years with the Giants he has never hit higher than .272 but he owns 57 homers and has driven in 189 runs in that period. He was hitting well over .300 last year until gripped by a severe midseason slump.

ODESSA TOURNAMENT
The Odettes team of Big Spring placed eighth in the Odessa Invitational tournament held recently. Members of the team and their sponsors included: Marie Irwin, Big Spring Herald; Jewell Wadsworth, Cover Bow; Doris Hamberg and Helen West, Golden Nugget Drive-In. These girls were awarded miniature ornate corsages for the highest team series of their club.

Helen McHugh was given a "300" club pin for her first mentioned 300 series and hers was the only one presented in the meet. These girls also plan to attend the Midland tournament Feb. 4-5.

Kansas Quint To Play Tech

LUBBOCK — Highest ranked basketball team ever to play here, the University of Kansas Jayhawks engage Texas Tech's Red Raiders in the Coliseum at 8 p.m. Monday.

In the 6 p.m. contest, the West Texas State freshmen meet the Texas Tech Picadors.

Kansas, in the top 10 as picked for the magazines this fall, ranked No. 4 in last week's United Press International poll.

Coach Dick Harp has returning four starters from the Kansas team that tied with Kansas State for the Big Eight championship and beat the Wildcats in a play-off to decide the National Collegiate tournament entry.

Two all-Big Eight performers spark the Jayhawks. Wayne Hightower, 6-8 1/2, averaged 21.8 points a game last year, but the stand-out best known in this region is Bill Bridges of nearby Hobbs, N.M. The 6-6 Bridges led the Big Eight in rebounding for the past two seasons.

Texas Tech, judging from its 92-73 victory over Hamline, will feature its Muti- and Jeff offense of 6-9 Harold Hudgens, Ballinger junior, and 5-10 Del Ray Mounts, junior from Perryton. Hudgens poured in 31 points and Mounts flipped in 29 as the Raiders overcame a 47-40 halftime deficit in the Thursday night opener.

Coach Polk Robison is also expected to start 6-3 Mac Percival, Vernon junior; 6-5 Tom Patty of Roswell, N.M., a sophomore; and 6-4 Roger Hennig of Mathis, a junior.

High scoring George Scott of McAloo, a 5-10 guard, and 6-7 Frank Schaefer of Berger, both of them Texas High School All-Stars last summer, lead the West Texas State frosh. James Scott is coach.

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

the Snowman that Lived.

Johnny built a snowman! From white, cold snow he made it. It was hard work, and Johnny was justly proud.

Johnny built a snowman—in a day! He packed the snow hard, put in coals for the eyes and nose, and Daddy's hat was placed on top.

But far more of Daddy than just his hat went into this snowman. Just as Johnny worked hard to build the snowman, his father is hard at work too . . . building Johnny. Daddy's greatest dream is to see Johnny moulded into a man of strength, vision, and character.

Luckily for Johnny, Daddy is a wise father. He realizes that the most important single influence upon his son's life is the teaching of Christ. Daddy will see to it that his son receives that teaching by sending him to Church services regularly. In making certain that Johnny knows the beauty of God's words, father will see his greatest dream come true.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Oil Men To Study Water Pollution

Officials of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are hopeful that upward of 100 operators in the Sharon Ridge and Coleman Ranch pools will be here Tuesday for a report on salt pollution studies.

Sam L. Robertson, Abilene, president of the West Texas Oil & Gas Operators Association, advised E. V. Spence, CRMWD general manager, that the number was not settled but that all who so far had replied to the invitation had accepted.

The association cooperated with the CRMWD in arranging the meeting which will start with a luncheon at noon Tuesday at Cosden Country Club. There are 122 operator members in the association which covers most of the area in which the CRMWD has been conducting pollution studies.

SECOND LAKE

Last June the State Board of Water Engineers granted a permit to the district to impound a second lake on the Colorado River in southern Mitchell County, provided that salt water pollution on the upper Colorado River could be cleared or controlled. Since then district personnel, together with Ed Reed, Midland hydrologist, have been conducting a detailed study of disposal of salt water produced coincidental with oil. Some operators, notably Magnolia, already have begun reinjection operations.

The district itself has tentative plans for a low water channel dam above Colorado City to intercept the normal flow of the Colorado River (which has a salt content of 20,000 parts per million) and to dispose of this volume of polluted water. However, officials pointed out that this would be feasible only if steps were taken to halt current and future pollution.

OTHER CITIES

The second lake has been proposed as a source of supply not only for the three member cities of Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder, but potentially for half a dozen other area cities as well.

Prior to the luncheon, at which operators will be guests of the CRMWD, the district board of directors will meet to give formal approval to the 1961 operating budget (which was adopted for reference to trustees and bondholders at an October meeting), a report on lots for a headquarters building site here, and a report from S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, consulting engineer, on the prospective dam sites for the proposed second lake.

D&D PERSONALITY

Mrs. Leon Kinney Is Honor Member

Desk and Derrick Club members have nominated Mrs. Leon Kinney, current club president and Cosden employee, member of the month for December.

Mrs. Kinney is assistant to Mrs. Alma Gollnick in Cosden's lease department where she sets up the lease records, pays oil and gas lease delay rentals, completes information for various reports and takes care of correspondence.

This month's honor member joined Cosden in 1955 after two years with the Farmers Home Administration here.

Mrs. Kinney joined the Desk and Derrick Club shortly after going to work for Cosden. In addition to serving as president during the past year, she has, in the past, served on the scrapbook, bulletin, and nominating committees, and in 1958 was recording secretary. She attended national conventions in Chicago, San Antonio and Detroit, and has made field trips to Odessa and Dallas, as well as a seminar meeting in Borger.

She was born in Carthage and attended schools in Marshall, including two years at East Texas Baptist College. After college she worked as a receptionist for the WPA in Marshall. She and her husband were married in 1937, and in 1948 they moved to Big Spring where Kinney was transferred by the Texas Employment Commission. He became manager in 1949 and still holds that position. The Kinneys have two children, Eddie Kinney, a sophomore pre-medical student at the University of Texas, and Mickie Kinney, a freshman at Austin College in Sherman.

Mrs. Kinney is a third grade Sunday School teacher and assistant leader of a group of junior high school students at the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Kinney live at 801 W. 16th with their 10-year-old dog, Speckles.

MRS. LEON KINNEY

Speaker

Dr. William H. Gordon, Lubbock physician, will address the Permian Basin Chapter, Texas Society of Professional Engineers, Tuesday at Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland. Newly elected officers will be installed during the dinner meeting which begins at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Gordon is currently president of the Lubbock Rotary Club and the Lubbock Business and Professional Club, and is past president of the West Texas Museum Association and the Lubbock Knife and Fork Club.

Continuing Role Forecast For Advisory Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects are that the National Petroleum Council, created in 1946 as an advisory group to the government, will be continued.

Little, if any, change is expected in the makeup of the 105-member council. The members are named to represent various segments of the industry.

The council has served under both Democratic and Republican administrations, advising the secretary of the interior and other government officials on oil and gas matters.

Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia has been chairman of the council since its creation.

One official of the council said it is ready to continue "the fullest cooperation of the oil and gas industry" after the Democratic administration of John F. Kennedy takes over.

Some representatives of oil and gas organizations expect Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton to appoint or reappoint members of the council in December for the coming year even though he will leave office in January.

The next meeting of the council probably will be in February.

A council committee on proved petroleum and natural gas reserves has been making a study for the government of crude oil reserves by years of discovery and of natural gas and natural gas liquid reserves.

A committee on petroleum refinery maintenance and chemical requirements is working, through a technical subcommittee, on another report asked by the government.

U.S. Operators Drill Fewer Wells, Find Less Oil In 1960

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)— Domestic oil operators have drilled fewer wells this year and found less oil. Completions may be the lowest since 1952.

Most forecasts for 1960 drilling operations had indicated a minor increase of 1 to 2 per cent over 1959. Recent surveys indicate a decline of 9 per cent or more.

Adding to the discouragement has been a decline in the success ratio of exploratory or wildcat wells.

One survey this week reported only 9.6 per cent of the wildcats drilled the first 9 months were productive. Some 11 per cent of the wildcats drilled in the same period were successful.

Most of the slowdown in drilling is attributed to oversupply. The resulting depressed status of demand for domestic crude has dictated caution. Domestic crude output this year is expected to average only 7,017,000 barrels a day, compared to 7,034,000 in 1959 and the record 7,170,000 of 1957.

Projections of three late surveys indicate 1960 well completions will be between 46,189 and 46,902, compared to 50,902 last year and a record 58,250 in 1956.

All three surveys indicate the 1960 total will be the lowest since 1952.

The three surveys:

American Petroleum Institute—An estimated 37,888 wells drilled through Oct. 29, compared to 41,818. This is equivalent to a 9.3 per cent decline that would indicate a 1960 total of about 46,189.

World Oil Magazine—An estimated 34,500 wells drilled in 9 months, compared to 37,518 the same 1959 period. This is a 7.9 per cent drop that would place the year - end total at about 46,902.

Texans Gain 221 Oil, 40 Gas Wells

AUSTIN (AP)— The Railroad Commission said Saturday drillers brought in 221 oil wells and 40 gas wells.

Nine wildcat oil wells were successful while drillers hit 88 dry holes. They included three in District 6, two in Districts 7-C and 9 and one well in Districts 4 and 7-B.

For the year, drillers have brought in 9,143 oil wells and 1,926 gas wells compared with 10,685 oil wells and 1,697 gas wells. Wildcaters have hit on 338 oil wells and 87 gas wells compared with 402 and 65 wells, respectively, a year ago.

Basin Rotary Rigs Increase To 241

Rotary drilling in the Permian Basin registered another gain this week, climbing from 230 to 241 active units, according to the Reed Roller Bit Co. weekly survey.

The eight county area marked a gain, upping its total from 18 to 21.

Borden County led the area with six active rigs, an increase of one. Dawson and Martin counties each counted four units making hole. Dawson gained a rig while Martin lost one.

Garza County kept its count at three, and Mitchell County gained two units to have three units making hole this week.

Howard County gained a rig to count one active in the survey.

and Glasscock dropped off the active list, losing its one rotary drilling operation. No active rotary rigs were reported in Sterling.

Lea County, N. M., continued to lead the Basin with 33 active rotary operations, followed by Andrews with 24. Crane County took over third - place with 19.

The Basin survey, county - by - county, with last week's figures in parentheses, includes:

Andrews 24 (22), BORDEN 6 (5), CHAVES 2 (2), CRANE 19 (16), CROCKETT 4 (4), CULBERTSON 1 (1), DAWSON 4 (3), ECTOR 12 (14), EDDY 15 (16).

National Supply Sets New Area

The National Supply Company has consolidated its former Abilene, Hobbs, and Odessa Districts into a new area organization headquartered at Odessa. John R. Walker is area manager of stores.

Supply stores at Abilene, Andrews, Aspermont, Big Spring, Crane, Denver City, Electra, Graham, Kermit, McCamey, Midkiff, Monahans, Nocona, Odessa, San Angelo, Snyder, Sundown, Whitesboro, and Wichita Falls, Texas; and Eunice and Hobbs, New Mexico, are involved.

The changes are part of a comprehensive realignment of its oil field sales organization within the United States being put into effect by the company. Nationally, six divisional sales organizations were consolidated into four regional organizations, designated as Eastern, Western, Northern, and Southern. Eighteen district organizations were combined into nine area organizations.

Oil Change Interval Has Little Influence On New Car Buyers

Why do motorists choose a certain make when they get ready to buy a car?

About 1,500 new-car buyers were asked in a consumer study the reasons for their choice after they had already purchased one of the three top-selling makes.

Four of the five reasons given most frequently as important in the purchase of a particular make were the same for a 11 three makes. They were style and appearance, best price, cheapest to operate, and good, dependable motor.

The fifth reason varied for owners of each of the three makes. One group, owners of the same make of car, gave "rides well comfortably" as a determining factor. Another group, all of whom purchased another make of car, gave "built well, sturdy" as an important reason. A third group gave "recommendation of friends, family" as an important factor in their choice.

The study was conducted for the American Petroleum Institute in an effort to determine what, if any, influence the car manufacturer's recommendations of a longer oil-change interval might have had on buyers.

Not a single new-car buyer spontaneously mentioned oil-change interval as a factor influencing the purchase decision. Even when oil-change interval was suggested by the interviewer as one of a list of possible factors it brought responses from relatively few owners.

Reasons for purchase cited most frequently by the owners, after the first five, included general preference (good car, good company); recommendation of family, friends; good mileage; good trade-in, re-sale value; easy to handle, drive; good past experience with the make.

Reasons for purchase mentioned least frequently, and only at the suggestion of the interviewer, included, roomy, easy to start, good power and pickup, friendly for dealer, grade of gas, and oil-change interval.

SAFE CHANGE

The API was advising motorists that a safe oil-change interval from the standpoint of minimizing repair costs is every 30 days in winter, every 60 days in summer, and not more than 2,000 miles. The oil-change interval recommended by auto manufacturers ranges between 2,000 and 4,000 miles for driving under ideal operating conditions, with more frequent oil changes recommended for average and severe operating conditions.

Another study previously conducted for the API among almost 2,000 car dealers representing the three best-selling makes disclosed that the majority of dealers do disagree with their manufacturers' oil-change recommendation. They tend to advise their customers to observe a significantly shorter interval, an average of 1,633 miles.

Basin Oil Finals 50-Barrel Howard-Glasscock Well

Basin Oil Company, Big Spring, has finalized a Howard - Glasscock field test, is slated to drill to 3,200 feet with rotary equipment about 11 miles south-east of Coahoma.

Location is 330 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 65-29-W&N survey. It is on 160 acres.

Total depth of the new well is 2,400 feet, top of the pay is 3,178 feet, and the 7 inch casing goes to 2,398 feet. Gas - oil ratio is nil.

Site is 230 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 67-29-W&N survey. Elevation is 2,433 feet.

OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

W. E. MORRIS

This is the 15th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valuable services of these employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

When Wm. E. Morris hangs up his safety hat at the end of his shift, passes through Cosden's refinery gates and heads for home, he has a choice of hobbies and special interests awaiting him.

Woodworking is one; enlarging his home at 1411 Wood is another. Hunting and fishing excursions often find his son, William Gene, a 12-year-old seventh grader, in the party.

Morris, who grew up in Harrison, Ark., got to know West Texas when he was stationed at Camp Barkley, Abilene, during World War II. Three years, 11 months and 29 days he served in the Army, garnering five battle stars and a silver star.

While in Abilene he met Velma Mae Neff of Big Spring, who was visiting her brother. They corresponded for three years and married three days after he returned stateside, on July 4, 1945. He has encouraged her to pursue her interest in oil painting, to the delight of family and friends.

Mustered out of service in October, 1945, he reported for duty as a yardman at Cosden Nov. 1. For seven years he was assigned as a painter. He went to the benzene-toluene-xylene unit in June, 1953, and remains there as a stillman and relief operator.

Inspired by their daughter, Janice Mae, 11, who is a fifth grader at Washington Place School, Mr. and Mrs. Morris are active in that P-TA unit. They also participate in Band Boosters and attend College Baptist Church. Morris is a member of the Scouting Committee, his son being in Troop 300. He is a former treasurer of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 826.

Market Takes Sharp Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned the corner into December this week with its sharpest weekly decline on average in a month and a half. Prices were rising as the week ended, however, and the question along Wall Street was: Is it a technical rally or, hopefully, the start of a "traditional" year-end rally? Brokers seemed to think the former was more likely. For one thing, the business news was mostly bad and therefore provided no real springboard for an advance. For another, they noted that the rally started just above the 590 level in the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial, one of the street's so-called "resistance" levels. For the week the Dow average was off 10.47 at 596.00. The Associated Press 60-stock average declined 2.20 to 2,141.0, making it the largest drop since one of 4.90 in the week ended Oct. 22. The week's decline contrasted with an 8-point gain during the month of November. Brokers professed to like the way the market acted in the face of the gloomy business news, the uncertain economic outlook and the equally uncertain plans of the new Kennedy administration regarding business and finance. Selling to establish tax losses, and subsequent replacement buying, also tugged at the market. The extent of such transactions was illustrated by Monday's total of 1,266 issues traded, the greatest number since 1,269 issues changed hands last Jan. 6.

Divorces Again Leading Docket

LAMESA (SC) — Divorces again topped the list of cases filed in 106th Judicial District Court here during November, according to Robert E. L. Smith, clerk. Smith reported that 11 divorces were filed during the period, six less than the number of marriage licenses issued by County Clerk Frank Y. Martin. Other cases filed include: trespass to try title, annulment of marriage, debt, adoption, garnishment, personal injury and compensation, all one each.

Seaweed Cocktail

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norwegians are starting to get their daily dose of vitamins through seaweed. One company has ended three years of tests on a new tonic drink made from seaweed. Other companies are marketing a crisp bread made of flour and seaweed vitamin pills. The weed contains vitamins A to K and 60 different minerals.

Has $40 Idea

An award of $40 was recently paid to Arthur B. Parker, a Webb AFB civilian employe in the 3566th Field Maintenance Squadron, for his suggestion to improve the oil line between the fuel pump control and the generator in the J-33 engine. The change was necessary after bigger generators were installed and leakage occurred in the oil lines. A former airman in the 3566th Flight Line Maintenance Squadron, Parker accepted civilian employment in field maintenance after being discharged in 1954.

DEAR ABBY

CHECK CLOSELY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our mother, age 70, eloped with the real estate dealer who sold her lovely big home for her. He claims to be 65, but he looks much younger. No one knew she was even interested in getting married again. She had been a widow for 14 years. Mother isn't the smartest woman in the world and we think perhaps she has become old and foolish. This man is a pretty fast talker and since he knows there is community property in this state, he put over a pretty sweet deal for himself. All mother's holdings were to be divided equally among her children when she goes, but we understand that has been changed. Is it possible for children to get a parent's marriage annulled? CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: It's possible, but you'd better talk to a lawyer about the probabilities. Are you sure your mother is "old and foolish"—or are you children just young and selfish?

DEAR ABBY: I don't claim to be an expert cook, but one thing I make that everybody raves about is spaghetti. I entertain very informally, and always include some single people who eat out a lot, so maybe that's the reason why they are so appreciative and lavish in their compliments.

Well, I had my brother and his wife here for supper last night and I served my spaghetti. My brother literally licked his fingers and said, "No wonder everyone raves about your spaghetti!" My sister-in-law said, "Don't tell me you serve SPAGHETTI to dinner guests!" I said I frequently did. She said it was considered very poor etiquette. Was she right?

DEAR SPAGHETTI COOK: She is wrong. Although you served spaghetti, it tasted like sewer grapes to your sister-in-law. Ignore her remarks.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and my mother said if I started to go steady she would tan my hide. A real cute guy by the name of Jeff asked me to go steady. I can't say "Yes," but what reason can I give him? I hate to say, "My mother won't let me." (It sounds so babyish.) Please answer soon, because he wants to know right away.

DEAR BARBARA: Tell him you can't go steady because your mother doesn't "approve." There is nothing babyish about respecting your parents' wishes.

DEAR ABBY: I changed doctors and now I would rather have the first one. The first one knows I went to another doctor. Could I change back without having to explain anything I have more faith in the first one than the second one. I will not go back to the second one if I can help it.

DEAR DUMMY: No explanations are necessary. Ask your first doctor for an appointment.

Harvest Weather Is Nearly Perfect

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Near perfect weather for harvesting continued in all sections of West Texas during the past week.

Rain continued to hamper activities in the eastern and southern sections, said Director John Hutchinson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Areas needing surface moisture increased but the shortage was not serious. General conditions continued to range from fair to excellent. Livestock and range conditions, outside of the heavier rainfall areas, are good.

In the Panhandle, subsoil moisture is adequate but surface moisture is short, said W. W. Grisham from Amarillo. He described livestock and range conditions as good; wheat pasture as excellent; said the cotton harvest was in full swing and that the grain sorghum harvest was near completion with excellent yields.

NEARLY COMPLETE. South of Lubbock the cotton harvest is more than 90 per cent complete while to the north about 65 per cent of the cotton is out, reported W. J. Jones from Lubbock. He described the condition of winter ranges and livestock as excellent with supplies of stock water ample. He said 98 per cent of the grain sorghum in the South Plains had been harvested.

Surface moisture is needed in eight of the Rolling Plains counties in the district supervised by Jarred Simmons from Vernon. He said wheat planting was not nearly complete; that the cotton harvest was making good progress and that farmers and ranchmen were busy getting ready for winter.

Cotton harvesting is continuing at top speed in far West Texas where Ray Siegmund from Ft. Stockton reported 90 per cent of the crop was out in some areas.

Cubans Arrested

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Police Friday closed the pro-Castro news agency Prensa Latina and arrested four staff members in an investigation following Wednesday's short-lived uprisings in Argentina.

Government and army sources have insisted the outbreaks were Peronist attempts to seize power. Others arrested in the police raids included labor leaders and the editor of an ultra-nationalist weekly.

He said yields generally were slightly below those of last year. Livestock and ranges were described as good with very little supplemental feeding of stock.

The cotton harvest has reached the scrapping stage in Central West Texas and the pecan harvest is nearing completion, said Roy Huckabee from San Angelo. He added that both crops exceeded expectations. Livestock and ranges in that section are in good condition.

Moisture ranges from short to surplus in North Central Texas. Ted Martin from Denton said southern counties in the district received rains last week but western counties could use moisture. He said general conditions were considered fair with some supplemental feeding of range cattle to prevent winter weight losses. Small grains are making fair growth and are providing some grazing.

General rains fell over North-east Texas during the past week and the moisture situation is good, said John Surovik from Mt. Pleasant. Oats and legumes are providing grazing; the sweet potato harvest is over and the pecan harvest is well along, Surovik said. Commercial vegetables, he added, are plentiful.

RAIN NEEDED. Moisture continues short in the western counties of Central Texas, said R. G. Burwell from Stephenville. The cotton and pecan harvests in this section are in the final stages. The pecan harvest is continuing with yields ranging from fair to good. Livestock are in good condition, winter grasses and weeds are growing but stock water is short in the western counties.

Wet fields continued to keep all work at a standstill in the upper Gulf coastal counties, said Silver Whitsett from Richmond. The excessive moisture continues to hold up the completion of harvesting and cotton stalk destruction. Whitsett said pastures were holding up exceptionally well but some deterioration had been reported. Cattle continue in fair to good condition.

Open weather is needed in South Central Texas for the completion of flax planting and land preparation, said Joe Glover from Gonzales. Glover said some strawberries were being set and that livestock were continuing to do good.

Rains have continued to delay field work and have increased the weed problem in vegetable fields in the far South Texas, reported Joe Rothe from Weslaco. He added that oats are looking good and that cattle and deer are in excellent condition.

Private Clubs Given Jolt

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Some Texas private clubs received a jolt Friday when the 5th Court of Civil Appeals in Austin ruled a common practice of the clubs illegal.

The appeals court said it is illegal for a private club to buy whisky on behalf of members and dole it out by the drink for a "replacement and service charge."

Selling liquor by the drink is illegal in Texas but many private clubs operate in the state's larger cities, and dispense liquor.

The opinion by associate justice Bascom Thomas, noted that the first court decision on the pool plan came in 1897. He said it had been repeated time and again.

Both Sides Lose In Ballot Count

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Cameron County Commissioners Court Friday completed the two-day job of opening ballot boxes No. "4" in the General Election.

The request to open the boxes, found to contain mutilated ballots, unused ballots and election material, was made by Mrs. Tom Heno, Cameron County Republican vice chairman.

"It was never the intent of the Republicans to contest the election but just to comply with the law," she said.

Mrs. Heno said she would make a written report to the state GOP chairman that the Democrats lost as many votes as the Republicans because of mutilated ballots.

Skunk Fouls Up Radio Station

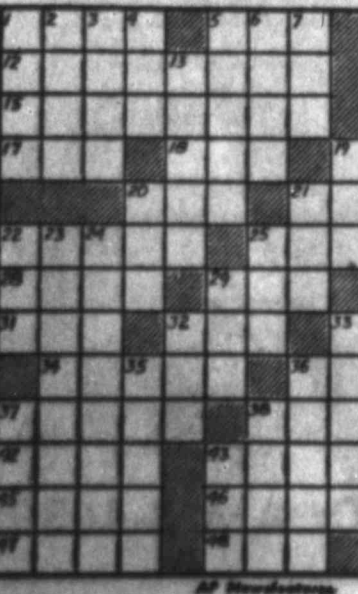

WEST PLAINS, Mo. (AP)—A skunk fouled radio station KWPM tonight, forcing a 15-minute suspension of broadcasting.

The skunk wandered into an unsealed air duct beneath the building, short-circuited a power line and was electrocuted.

Even after it was removed it left something to remember it by.

A MURAL IN BRIGHT TONES decorates a wall of the dining room at the Cosden Club (pictured left) and the draperies pick up the red, blue, yellow and black as French scenes are depicted on the sheer curtains. An improvement made in the enlarging of the club is the proximity of the kitchen to the dining room, which facilitates the serving of meals. Just beyond the paneled wall is the attractive ballroom, also conveniently placed for serving large banquets and dinners.

WHITE MASKS scowl and smile from a wall of the taproom at Cosden Country Club, where Harlequin figures bring color to another wall. White leather covers high stools and is also the covering for a sectional divan. Draperies of white, printed in blue, green and a metallic touch, extend to the floor, carpeted in Kelly green.

A POPULAR SPOT for small groups will be the sunroom at the newly-redecorated Cosden Country Club. An addition to the clubhouse, the room affords a view of the club lake and surrounding area. One exciting panorama from the windows includes a view of the Cosden refining plant. White wrought-iron furniture is made comfortable with cushions of a print gay with greens, blues, purple and orchid.

Cosden Club Opens Plush New Rooms

By ANNE LEFEVER

"Something new has been added" to Cosden Country Club, bringing with it not only more beauty but spacious rooms for entertaining, dining and dancing.

The former entranceway has been enclosed to make a cozy area for television films, and swimmers will be delighted at being allowed to come into the one-time dining room — now an informal snack bar.

For more convenience, luncheon and dinner guests are seated in an added room with the kitchen adjoining. Brick red, shades of turquoise and beige make gay surroundings in the draperies and in the mural which decorates one wall.

Red and gold are picked up in fruit plaques on the wall and in the red leather chair cushions.

A greatly enlarged ballroom, with an attractive stage to replace the old dais, opens off a corridor which seems shortened, due to the new entrance. Enclosed to make a small foyer, the reception hall sets the theme of colors, blues and greens, with touches of red and orange, throughout the attractive gathering place.

Oriental trees stand in corners of the hall, with a modernistic print on the wall to emphasize the blue tones.

Also added is a sunroom, which overlooks the club lake; here are to be found white wrought-iron chairs with cushions of blue, Kelly green, purple and orchid print. The green is repeated in the carpet of the taproom, where figures of Harlequin pose and white masks adorn a wall. Through the entire club, walls are of dull-finished paneing.

It is in the new room which was added for small dinners, cocktail parties or similar festivities, that the feel of luxury is strongest.

One sinks into a carpet of deep blue which forms a background for polished tables and a buffet for serving. A tapestry repeats the intense blue and chairs combine the same hue with green-blue overtones.

Improvements have extended to the outside of the clubhouse, also, where privacy is afforded by curtain walls of hollow tile, arranged in a variegated pattern to enhance the front of the building.

SOME OF THE DIRECTORS of the Cosden Club seem ready for dining, and, in such a lovely room, who could blame them. The elaborate chandelier sheds a soft glow over the room done in deep blue, while the light may be augmented from table lamps or from

Control Tower Chief, Family Are Newcomers

Although the family of M. Sgt. Forrest G. Franks is new in Big Spring, they are already Texans. The family moved to Big Spring from San Antonio where they had made their home for the past two years.

The family is made up of Sharon and Barry, who are both ninth grade students at Goliad Junior High; Caroline is a seventh grader at Goliad and Stephanie is a fourth grade student at Marcy School.

The family pet is a frisky puppy called Seppl, which is the German pronunciation of Joe. Seppl was acquired while the family lived in Germany.

Before their arrival in San Antonio, the Franks had been stationed in Munich, Germany, for three years. Mrs. Franks lists her home town as Riverside, Calif. and his is Quincy, Ill.

The couple met between California and Hawaii, when Mrs. Franks was on her way to Hawaii to live for a short while, and he was on a tour of duty.

Mrs. Franks, whose hobby is family trees, has a tree that can be traced back 14 generations; another hobby of the busy homemaker and mother is sewing.

Sgt. Franks' hobby is sports. Around the home may be seen several trophies he has received in basketball, football, bowling, and baseball. Other hobbies are golf and hunting.

Barry shares the golfing interest with his father, while Caroline and Sharon list their hobby as liking to cook. Stephanie doesn't share their interest very much, but the entire family is interested in piano music and are all able to play one tune at least.

At Webb Air Force Base, the sergeant is a member of the 2013 AACS Detachment. He is chief of the control tower.

Methodist Class Meets For Lunch

Mrs. Logan Baker and her group were hostesses for the luncheon given Friday at the First Methodist Church; guests were members of the Susannah Wesley Class.

Mrs. Mary Williams presented the devotion based on "The Lord's Prayer," for the 38 attending.

Tables were decorated with Santa Claus and red pyracantha branches. Joining the class as guests were Mrs. Harold Robb of Dallas and Mrs. Martha Withers.

Snow Suits

Many fabrics now used in winter coats and snow suits can be dried in a clothes dryer. Home service consultants suggest you read labels carefully before buying. Reliable manufacturers of children's clothes give complete instructions for recommended heat level and approximate time for drying.

Adapt Make-Up For Change In Eyes By Contact Lens Use

The girl who plays the cleverest joke of all on nature is the one who slips tiny plastic "cheaters" under her lids and not only corrects her vision, but changes the color of her eyes.

Is that you? Well, if you don't tap 1960's exciting eye make-up to dramatize the eyes that you change to green or to blue, you're missing the brightest beauty bet of the 20th Century.

When you change to a new eye-color with contact lenses, play up to it with eye shadow and eyeliner. Use a shadow to match or contrast in color with your costume color. Deepen the effect by drawing a fluid eye-liner of the same shade along the edges of your lashes.

If you must apply make-up while your lenses are in, use, instead of fingertips, a soft sable brush for stroking on eye shadow. Lids may be sensitive to the pressure of fingers.

Having lenses over your eyes will in no other way affect your eye make-up application; nor will they prevent your wearing artificial eye lashes. You can attach these luxurious-looking strips to the edge of your own lashes by the adhesive method.

Families Host A Holiday Meal

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Fairchild and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker were hosts to a Thanksgiving luncheon in the Fairchild home on Thursday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Digby and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fairchild and children, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Saunders, Jim Armstrong, Mrs. Faye Daniel all of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Armstrong of Big Spring.

The Fairchilds and Parkers were also among former graduates of Westbrook High School who attended the homecoming there.

Here for several days from Burket were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blankenship and Billie Ruth, who visited a daughter and sister, the Elbert Strickland family.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Scudday and Berney are fishing and visiting at Possum Kingdom. They will visit with the M. V. Scuddays there.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Klahr, Mary Ann and Royce of Eunice, N. M., were here to visit his father, J. F. Klahr, and in Big Spring to visit the Brooks Bedell family.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Klahr are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Green of Stephenville.

Mrs. Kenneth Cowley and Bobby are expected home today from Dallas where she has been with a sister, Mrs. Sam Brown, who suffered a stroke recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hawkins are home from a visit in Graham.

Honored At Tech

Malinda Crocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Crocker, 1707 Benton, was recently honored at the formal pledge presentation of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority at Texas Tech. The event was held at the Lubbock Country Club. Malinda is a freshman music major at Tech.

'Twould Be Nice To Follow Tips For Avoiding Season's Rat Race

To save yourself from the Christmas shopping rat race, which can spoil your Christmas pleasure and good looks, here are 10 timely tips on ways to spare your feet, temper, back and illusions.

1. Besides starting early, use the telephone and mail-order service wherever you can. If you don't have charge accounts in stores where you'd like to shop and where you can get good service by telephone or by mail-order, open some right now as Christmas presents to yourself.
2. Don't make another move until you've organized your whole campaign of gift-giving. Make a list, complete with addresses and mailing zones; sizes of hats, gloves, hose, sweaters, perfume and cosmetic preferences; favorite lipstick shades, and color-leanings of every person on it.
3. Shop alone. You'll go faster, get more done, and you won't be confused by another person's opinions.
4. Dress comfortably for shopping but dress well. Sales people are highly susceptible to good looks, an open letter of suggestion as to the quality you're apt to buy. A customer who acts nicely is going to get better treatment than the one who looks unkempt and leaves her manners at home.
5. Regardless of your smart appearance, wear easy shoes. Sales people won't see your feet or judge you by your shoes.
6. Choose a coat to wear by judging how heavy it will be hanging over your arm in a heated store.
7. Organize your lightest handbag to use. Leave out everything but the essentials. Have all lists, charge plates, ready-written gift cards filed in pockets for easy access. And don't forget your glasses. Carry as much money as you'll need, and organize it into bills of convenient stair-step denominations. Put your change in a separate purse. And don't turn this year's Christmas-shopping into a traumatic experience by allowing yourself to be pick-pocketed, a fairly common incident among holiday crowds.
8. Don't crowd in too much in too-little time. Start early enough, and you can devote a couple of hours a day to your stint. Or, if you come into town from the suburbs, plan to break your day by having a leisurely lunch or a restorative session in a beauty shop. Bring a book along, and read while you're under the hair dryer or are having a revivifying pedicure.
9. If you're the "tuckering-out" kind, are easily fazed by the jostling of other shoppers or by the frustrations of not finding what you want, take a rest before fatigue catches up with you. Go to the powder room and refresh your make-up. Kick off your shoes and stretch your feet. Lie down if there is a convenient couch.

10. Thousands of steps can be saved if you'll confine your shopping during one given day to one store. Go from floor to floor, department to department, according to a systematic plan. This will save you the time, temper, and steps of moving with a small-space traffic, having to park and retrieve your car.

Leadership Clinic Slated For WMU

LAMESA (SC)—Mrs. Ebbie Lee, Lamesa Baptist Association WMU president, has announced a leadership clinic for all officers in the local societies of the association for Thursday, in the chapel of First Baptist Church.

Onion Bread

Here's a bread to serve with game or pot roast. Preheat the oven to 450 degrees. Arrange biscuits from 1 package refrigerator biscuits overlapping one another on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Brush with a tablespoon of melted butter or margarine and bake in the preheated oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon instant minced onion over the loaf and return to the oven for about 1/2 minute longer—or until onion is lightly browned. Serve it piping hot.

For Stuffy Rooms

Does your house suddenly feel stuffy when you have to close windows and doors at night? The blower on your furnace will circulate the air even though you do not need heat. Modern heating and cooling systems feature well-designed blowers that change the air constantly. Your house will stay cleaner, as it is not necessary to open doors and windows to circulate the air.

Unusual Towels

Bathroom beauty has now reached the point where towels are being adorned with velvet appliques. The velvet is as washable as the terrycloth itself.

Narrow cording trims the waist, and there is a kick-pleat panel to ease the skirt back.

Silk, shantung, faille, crepe and rayon are suggestions if you want to dress up, but in linen or novelty cotton, you'll have a simple and understated version for resort wear and next summer.

Old Paper Plays Hob With Household Task

By LUCILLE PICKLE
Did you ever start to do a big cleaning job in the closet and find something long forgotten or so interesting the original task was left undone?

Hugh Duncan recently started a resilvering job on an old mirror, and when he removed it from a desk, found a well-preserved copy of the women's section of The Salt Lake Tribune dated May 20, 1906. Needless to say, the resilvering was left to another day as he perused the newspaper that has a colored first and last page.

Four colors were used in the printing, and one more in the pastel line than color work used on the later editions. The type is a full size smaller than that used by The Herald and is more difficult to read.

The particular theme of the section dealt with floral decorations for June weddings with yard and field-daisies being topmost in favor. It is to be presumed the writer was speaking of horse weddings because she had everything from the mirrors to the balustrade entwined with daisies. Also she suggested the bridesmaids make their headresses with the flowers and some milliner's wire. In fact, the Marjorie who wrote the particular articles had a place for every available daisy.

The hair style was that of the Gibson Girl. Dresses were fashioned with high necks and large ruffled sleeves. Waists were high and the models appear to be well-corseted.

As to other fashion notes, one reads that the picturesque effects prevail in parasols which must match the frock or its accessories. Making parasols in 1906 was no small thing. They were a real must for the well-dressed lady.

Styles showed the most exquisite lingerie type of beaute trimmed with eyelid embroidery; an imported model of Marie Antoinette brocade with narrow val lace; one of chiffon with ribbon embroidery; another was of heavy linen with embroidered initials for wearing with morning gowns, and of course, there were those fashioned on a smaller scale called parasollets similar to the carriage parasols which in this new era were to be used for motoring. Some of the models were beautifully set off by handpainted handles.

The Duncans have enjoyed the paper but were somewhat puzzled by the fact the paper was behind the mirror. As far as Mrs. Duncan knew, her father had bought the secretary-like desk now for the family home in Wichita Falls. After finding the paper she wrote an older sister and found that the furniture had been bought by their father second hand from a woman who had moved to Wichita from Utah. Now the Duncans are wondering how old the desk is.

Betty Guthrie On Scholarship List

Betty Guthrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Guthrie, 1010 Station, has been named to the Austin College Dean's List for the fall semester of 1960. Miss Guthrie, a junior sociology student, was named to the list for what college officials called "outstanding conduct, industry, and academic attainment." To qualify for the list, Miss Guthrie maintained a B average in all courses for the academic year of 1959-1960.

Week Of Prayer Concluded By WMU

Thursday morning the Lucille Reagan Circle presented the Foreign Mission Service Program for members of the First Baptist Church W. U.

Topic of the program was "Seeing the Multitudes Discard." Mrs. Leonard Coker was in charge, and others taking parts were Mrs. Roy Phillips, Mrs. H. B. Reagan, and Mrs. Dick Lane.

Mrs. Raymond Moore led the offering prayer.

During the brief business session, Mrs. W. B. Younger, president, designated the Lucille Reagan Circle, Mary Willie Circle, Christine Coffee Circle and Helen Jean Parks Circle to be in charge of the refreshments served at the meetings of the Girls Auxiliary.

Members of the WMU assembled daily for prayer and contemplation as they considered "His Peace For the Multitudes" as the general theme of the mission program.

Each day they brought offerings as Christmas gifts to the Lord and each day they placed token gifts under the missionary Christmas tree which were symbolic of the gifts of self, love, prayer, time and talents.

One Friday morning the last of the week's programs was presented by the Maye Belle Taylor Circle on "Seeing the Multitudes Without A Shepherd."

Mrs. Frank Pollard read "When Jesus Saw the Multitudes." Others on the program were Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. B. J. Reynolds, Mrs. Johnny Shortes, Mrs. Walter Wheat and Mrs. Ted Snider.

Homemakers' Task Is Easier

NEW YORK (AP)—A new finish for silver holloware is expected to make life easier for the homemaker who likes to set a gracious table.

The finish, made of a silicone material that sticks tenaciously to silver, is supposed to prevent tarnish and eliminate the need for polishing. The housewife can apply her own finish, too; it comes in an aerosol dispenser.

Member Returns To Sewing Club

A former member, Mrs. J. L. Swindell, rejoined the Eager Beaver Sewing Club Friday afternoon after a three-month leave of absence.

The club met in the home of Mrs. R. I. Findley, where sewing and chatting were the diversion. Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party when the members will entertain their husbands.

Date for the Christmas dinner has been set for Dec. 16 at 7 p.m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Washington, Allendale. Games of W will be played after the dinner.

Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, 614 Steakley, will be hostess for the next gathering, set for Friday.

Mrs. Clayton Burnam served as noble grand on the degree staff. Refreshments were served to 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Graves, Terri and Craig of Coahon—spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves. The two families then went near Ozona deer hunting. They returned home on the weekend. Terri Graves spent three days with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves after their return home.

T. W. Haynie is a patient in a Big Spring hospital.

Ernest Hock is a patient in the Stanton Hospital.

Mrs. Roy Linney's sister, Jewel Allen, remains on the critical list at the Midland Hospital.

Kathy Phillips of Muleshoe spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Phillips, and they visited in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Anderson visited in Brady and San Angelo in the past week.

Jeanette Avery visited in Lamesa recently.

Pre-Shrink Ribbon

Because some ribbon may shrink up to three inches per yard, it's best to pre-shrink ribbon yardage before using it in any kind of needlework. Wash in soap or detergent suds, rinse, and let it drip-dry before it is stitched to the fabric. Thus, it will not pucker the item it trims when laundered.

Freshen Fish

You can freshen dried smoked fish by scalding with boiling water several times. Add fresh water, of course, each time.

Energetic

Mary Martin tells Lydia Lane that it's not age that counts but energy in today's Hollywood Beauty column. Miss Martin is starring in "Sound of Music" on Broadway and she will be starring in "Peter Pan" on Dec. 8 on NBC-TV.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Not Age, But Energy That Makes Charm

By LYDIA LANE

NEW YORK — Mary Martin invited me to a tea in her beautiful penthouse, overlooking the East River. When I arrived, there were several guests already present, but Mary and I found a corner where we could chat privately for a few minutes.

"This is my last socializing event. Beginning Monday, I work every night in the theater in 'Sound of Music,' and every day rehearsing for my Dec. 8 show of 'Peter Pan' on NBC-TV," Mary began.

"Where in the world do you get all your energy?" I asked.

"I have found the most wonderful high protein tablets, they are made by a trainer for the Olympics, and they give me an energy boost almost immediately.

"In my play I do a lot of running around, and Richard, my husband, said he'd like to know just how much I traveled in an evening, so he put a pedometer on my belt. We found that I walked two and one half miles a night and five miles on matinee days. No wonder I'd been losing weight," she added with a laugh. "Well, when I came home at the end of the week, I was all in, but one Saturday night I had to go to a party to accept an award. I was so tired that I thought I'd never make it. Then someone gave me four of the protein tablets and I had energy all evening. I think so much of them that I hand them out to anyone who looks tired."

"Do you do anything else for energy?"

"I eat cheese and drink tea with honey. Honey is quick energy and goes right into the blood stream without needing to be converted, but my doctor said the effects of honey last longer when you combine it with protein, so I have lumps of cheese that I pop into my mouth after I drink the tea.

"I don't have a large stomach, so I am uncomfortable eating much at one time, but I do try to eat often," she added. "And by having tea and cheese during intermissions, I can put more into the rest of the show."

"Have you ever rested and relaxed long enough to gain weight?"

"Yes," Mary replied. "On our farm in Brazil, I slept most of the time, ate beans and rice and not too many green vegetables. When got back to New York, my clothes were tight and I felt sluggish. I went to a ballet school and started with 15 minutes a day and worked up to three hours of dancing exercises. And I soon got back to normal."

"Did you diet, too?"

"You may call it that. I believe in eating lots of lean meat, green vegetables and fruit. I eliminated all butter, breads and sweets. If people would take off extra weight as soon as they put it on, they'd have no problems.

"I look me two years to grow my hair," Mary said suddenly, patting her French twist, "and tomorrow I have to have it all cut off for 'Peter Pan.'"

"That's too bad," I sympathized.

"I don't really mind," she grinned. "I won't have to fuss with it when it's short, and I'm having some wonderful wigs made. They are so light that I hardly know I have them on." She chuckled. "One of these days I'm going to forget it is a wig and try to wash it."

"More and more women are having wigs made for those occasions when they have to look their best and can't spare the time to go to a hairdresser or do it right themselves."

One of Mary's guests, a famous diplomat, sat down with us and said teasingly, "I was reading Who's Who today and I know your age."

"Everybody does," Mary retorted. "I make no secret of it because I don't consider it important. What is important to me is to be able to have the energy and enthusiasm to do all the things that I want to do. Such as working afternoons on 'Peter Pan' and every night in the theater—that's what I like. And I'm terribly excited about having 'Peter Pan' on tape; for I can hardly wait to see it."

"After such a heavy schedule, you must find it difficult to relax. Do you have trouble sleeping?"

"I have one rule that I follow before going to sleep. I don't turn out the light without reading a little, but as soon as I feel drowsy, no matter how interested I am, I turn off the light because if I don't I reach a point of being stimulated again.

"When I was in Brazil, I used to fall asleep as soon as my head hit the pillow, for there were no tensions and the whole day was a relaxed one."

"You have to have respect for your body and remember that it needs proper nourishment and that it can be affected by the mind. All the illnesses that I know are a reflection of worry or friction."

"Would you say that your sunny disposition was one of your sources of energy?" I asked, as Mary and I went to join the other guests.

Mary nodded. "I am a happy person and I'm so grateful for my wonderful life."

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Although it is a little early for Yuletide celebrations, this week will see the beginning of club parties and private affairs for Christmas entertaining.

Nearly every woman's organization in town is busily preparing for the big party to be held on Dec. 20 at the Big Spring State Hospital for the patients. The entertainments will be held for the various wards by men's service clubs and women's groups, the latter of whom will furnish decorations and refreshments. Many garden clubs are working on decorations to be used for the big occasion.

The Ladies Golf Association of the Big Spring Country Club will be hostesses for a coffee honoring the 1960 members of the club on Wednesday from 10 until 12 at the club. Church groups will start their class parties during the weeks, and the YMCA pageant is due to have a run-through sometime soon.

MRS. ED BRINDLEY and MRS. HOUSTON COWDEN are expected home today from Fort Worth and Dallas where they visited while their husbands hunted deer on the Porter ranch near Kent.

MR. and MRS. JOHN PHELAN have returned to their home in Washington, D. C., after spending several weeks in Texas. Phelan, a missile designer, was in White Sands, N. M., on a government mission. Mrs. Phelan visited her mother, Mrs. O. P. Griffin, in Abilene and spent some time here with a sister, MRS. LUCILE HAMRICK. She visited other relatives in Midland and Odessa before leaving for her home.

Having a winter vacation in California are MR. and MRS. A. R. (DAVE) DAVENPORT, who are visiting their daughters, one in Los Angeles and the other in Sacramento.

Accomplishments of the After Five Garden Club members were apparent in the beautiful decorations made for the Lone Star District Scout banquet held Thursday night at Cosden Country Club. Under the direction of MRS. J. E. SMITH, the committee used orange pyracantha berries, cotton balls, pine cones and even rope for the tables. An arrangement of pyracantha with candles exactly matching the berries was used on the piano. MRS. ADRIAN RANDE is president of the participating club.

MR. and MRS. CARLTON OSBORN and Glenda have left the states for Melbourne, Australia, where they will make their home for the next 18 months. Mrs. Osborn is a sister of DON RASBERRY. Osborn, along with eight other men, who are employed by Humble, will train men and establish the Alkoona Petrochemical Plant.

As a farewell gesture to the Osborns, the family members gathered at the Lubbock home of their parents, MR. and MRS. L. D. RASBERRY.

Recent guests of the Don Rasberrys have been S. Sgt. and Mrs. Curtis Rasberry, Rocky and Ricky from Sheppard AFB in Wichita Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wood, Lonnie and Lana of Eden.

Bridge Players Begin Winter Series Games

Duplicate bridge players began the winter series of games at Big Spring Country Club Friday when 14 tables were filled.

Participants in the series must play in five out of six games for the six-week period, Mrs. Elmo Wasson stated. An extra bonus in points in addition to the points in each single game will be awarded to winners.

Playing in north-south position, winners were Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Fern Durham, first; Mrs. Gene McAllister and Mrs. Turner Morrisett, both of Lamesa, second; Mrs. Harvey Williamson and Mrs. Jack Irons, third; Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Truman Jones, fourth; Mrs. J. J. Havens and Mrs. Riley Foster, fifth.

In east-west play, winners were Mrs. Jack Phinizy and Mrs. Wright J. Boyd, both of Lamesa, first; Mrs. W. A. Wallace of Lamesa and Mrs. Louis Hall of San Angelo, second; Mrs. Ben McCullough and Mrs. John Stone, third; Mrs. Glenn Riley and Mrs. Arliss Ratliff, both of Garden City, fourth; Mrs. Harvey Williamson and Mrs. J. Y. Robb, fifth.

Foursome games, which were played at the same time, resulted in a tie for high score between Mrs. Elmer Tarbox and Mrs. Burl McAllen.

Games will be played at 1 p.m. Friday at the club, and the occasion will be Master Point Day.

MRS. RINEHARD ELDON VOGLER

Miss Currie, R. Vogler Take Twin Ring Vows

LAMESA, (SC) — In a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of First Baptist Church, Lenda Fay Currie became the bride of Rinehard Eldon Vogler. The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel L. Currie; Vogler is the son of Fritz C. Vogler of Mullins and the late Mrs. Vogler.

White tapers in graduated candleabra outlined the dais and were flanked by baskets of coral gladioli.

Mrs. Lavoy Miller played traditional selections at the organ and accompanied Hubert Murphy, uncle of the bride, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Currie escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her traditional gown of Chantilly lace over satin was designed with illusion yoke, Peter Pan collar, long tapering sleeves and bouffant ballerina length skirt. Her shoulder veil of illusion was attached to a bonnet type headdress crusted with seed pearls. She carried white roses atop a white satin-covered Bible.

Sylvia Henson of Canyon was maid of honor. Her dress of coral organza over taffeta featured rounded neckline terminating in a V at back; pin-tucked bodice and fully shirred skirt. She wore a matching semi-bonnet headpiece and carried coral and white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Martha Hanson of Abilene and Patsy McMullen, were dressed identically to the honor attendant, but carried coral carnations. Flower girl was Christine McKinney.

Nelson Wayne Milstead of Lubbock was best man; ushers were Walter and Leon Vogler of Hereford; candlelighters were Dale Snel of Silverton and Ronnie Gresham of Abilene.

Decorations for the reception, held in the church parlor, accented the coral and white-wedding color theme. Guests were registered from Big Spring, Midland, Canyon, Hereford, Silverton, Lovington, N. M., and Lubbock. Receiving the guests with the couple and their parents were feminine members of the wedding party and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. M. L. Stenderfer Jr. When the couple left for a wedding trip to an unannounced destination, the bride was wearing a charcoal gray wool suit with white hat and black accessories.

Mrs. Vogler, a graduate of Lamesa High School, is employed by Lamesa National Bank. Her husband, who graduated from Kiondike High School, is farming in the Patricia community. After Dec. 7, they will be at home at 607 N. 4th St.

Breakfast Served At Club Dance

An early morning breakfast was served following the holiday formal of the Cobillion Club at Big Spring Country Club Saturday evening.

Pat Patterson and his orchestra played for the dancers.

Guests were seated at tables holding Christmas greens and red candles with small gaily-wrapped packages and poinsettias adding interest. On the buffet table stood a tiny tree, flocked in white, with a miniature Santa Claus and packages under the tree.

Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Nabors, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Hayee Stripling Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carol Belton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Anderson.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caton, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Worthing, Mr. and Mrs. Harrol Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tarbox.

Davidsons Back From Oregon Visit

MRS. CLYDE ALTON TATUM

Home Rites Unite Pair

Single ring rites were read for Thelma Suzanne Harris and Clyde Alton Tatum Saturday evening in the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw, Old San Angelo Highway.

The Rev. R. Lee, pastor of the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, officiated for the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tatum, Rt. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris, 1003 Main.

The bride's father gave her in marriage; she was dressed in white chiffon over a tulle skirt, with a bodice of ivory brocade. A small hat of mauve feathers and pale pink slippers completed the bridal ensemble. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Henrietta Harris attended her sister as maid of honor. Her dress was of blue brocade cotton satin, and her flowers were white carnations in corsage.

Shaw attended as best man. Lace over green covered the table where cake and punch were served during the reception which followed the exchange of vows. Pink roses formed the centerpiece, and a cake, in tiers, was frosted in blue and white with a bridal couple on the top.

wedding included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Tessie McCarty of San Angelo, and sister, Mrs. Frances Hudgins of Brenham.

The couple will make a home at 710 Bell.

Savory Skillet Chicken Is Great

Quick and delicious is this chicken.

SAVORY SKILLET CHICKEN
 1 broiler - fryer (about 2½ pounds ready-to-cook weight)
 ¼ cup flour
 1 tsp. salt
 ¼ tsp. pepper
 ¼ tsp. paprika
 ¼ cup butter or margarine
 2 medium-sized onions (cut into thin strips)
 1 pound mushrooms (sliced).
 Have chicken cut in 10 pieces; wash and drain. Mix flour, salt, pepper and paprika; coat chicken with mixture. Heat butter in large skillet; add chicken and brown; cover tightly and cook until tender, adding a few tablespoons of water if necessary. Remove chicken and keep warm.
 Add onions to skillet brown lightly; add mushrooms; cover and cook gently until mushrooms are wilted, stirring a few times. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve onions and mushrooms with chicken.
 Makes 4 servings. Add a tablespoon or so of butter if necessary in cooking mushrooms.

Mrs. Jones Elected Golf Group's Prexy

Mrs. Gil Jones will head the Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club for the coming year, taking office in January.

She was elected at a luncheon meeting of the group at the club Friday. Serving with her will be Mrs. Ralph Gossett, vice president; Mrs. Eli McComb, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Tompkins, treasurer.

Those present were reminded of the coffee scheduled for Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon; the affair, to which all women of the club are invited, is planned to honor all new members.

Friday hostesses were Mrs. Shirley Robbins, Mrs. Zollie Boykin, Mrs. Hayden Griffith and Mrs. Worth Peeler. They had decorated tables in green linen with runners of cedar interspersed with poinsettia blossoms.

The arrangement which marked the head table was a pot of poinsettias and holly; this was awarded to Mrs. C. A. Jones as a special prize. Mrs. Jones will serve on the hostess committee for the January luncheon.

New members of the association are Mrs. H. W. Wright, Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Cecil McDonald. They were introduced at the luncheon.

Following the luncheon, members and their guests played contract and duplicate bridge.

ALL-ROUND WEAR
Ready For All Events
Is This Yoked Dress

This precise little dress by Charles Montaigne goes careering, shopping or just about anywhere—and tastefully so!
Easy-fitting, easily made dolman sleeves are cropped short. The slender skirt, released by small pleats at the waistline, boasts two handsome patch pockets.
Buttoning up to an unadorned neckline—perfect for a chunky choker, the bodice yoke is hand-sewn in place so it can be easily replaced with its contrasting “double” when the mood or the season dictates.
Use lightweight woolsens, rayons or silks for the dress with a self yoke, also making a quick-change yoke of linen or pique (divine in white on dark wool for spring).
For warmer seasons, choose linen, shantung, pique, sharkskin, plaid or printed cottons.
Select your correct size from the chart. Our pattern measurements are comparable to ready-to-wear sizes.

Size	7	9	11	13	15

A letter from Christine Bonney was read by Mrs. Bill Patterson. Prayers were led by Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Royce Womack. Refreshments were served to 14 members.

Westbrook People Entertain Students

WESTBROOK (SC) — Home for the holidays were Linda and J. E. Salley, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Salley. Linda is a student at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, and J. E. attends Texas Tech in Lubbock. Others were Dink Reese and Danny Swafford, from Sam Houston in Huntsville; Brenda Butler and Roy Buchanan, students at Baylor in Waco, Dan Buchanan and John Matlock from Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene.
Roy Buchanan who is a ministerial student, was guest speaker at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning. This was his first sermon; he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buchanan and a member of the 1960 graduating class of Westbrook. Special music was presented by Grover Buchanan of Abilene.

Members of the WMU of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. W. A. Bell to study the foreign mission book, “Across the Bridge.” It precedes the Little Moon Christmas offering and Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions which is being held this week.

Guest in the E. A. Oden home was a former teacher of Mrs. Oden, Dr. R. G. Fowler. Dr. and Mrs. Fowler are both former teachers in the Westbrook and Cary schools. Dr. Fowler is now a dentist and resides in Dumas.

Bewitching Supper

Nothing dull about a menu like this: Corned beef hash bedeviled with seasonings and decorated with poached eggs, cucumber pickles, sliced tomatoes, fresh apple sauce and hot gingerbread. For the hash, preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Blend a can of corned beef hash with 1 can chili, 1 cup cubed American cheese, 1/2 cup chopped scallions and a 1/2 cup catsup. Spread into a well greased skillet and bake in a hot oven for 30 minutes. Turn the crusty side up and perch the poached eggs on top.

Baptist Group Plans Brotherhood Service

The mission study for Baptist Temple WMS will be presented at the church at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 13, it was decided at the session Friday morning at the church. The group also decided to give the Royal Service for the Brotherhood when that group meets at the church, Dec. 20.

The society ended the daily gatherings Friday, when they presented the last program in the Week of Prayer observance.

Mrs. A. W. Page brought the meditation for the women, and Mrs. V. V. Ames gave the introduction to the topic, "Seeing the Multitudes with Compassion."

A poem was read by Mrs. Madeline Wyatt, who also told the story, "Tragedy Becomes Triumph." As the meeting closed, gifts which had been placed under a tree included those for prayer, time and talents, concern, love and money.

Mrs. W. L. Sandridge dismissed the session, which 15 attended.

In Thursday's meeting, Mrs. Page presented pictures of a missionary, Mrs. Ted Trent, who serves in New Mexico. Mrs. Charles Modisette led the scripture reading and introduced the subject for study, "Seeing the Multitudes With No Shepherd."

Mrs. Sam Arrington reviewed "Crowded Ways of Life" and Mrs. D. C. Boren worded the dismissal prayer. An oriental display formed the theme of the decor for the program.

Special prayer requests were read at Wednesday's meeting by Mrs. H. I. Cox, and Mrs. H. M. Jarratt distributed prayer cards.

Introduction to the study, "Seeing the Multitudes Afraid," was given by Mrs. Pete Shepherd; Mrs. Richard Grimes told the story, "There is a Difference."

Mrs. Robert Hill read a poem, "When Jesus Saw the Multitudes," and Mrs. A. T. Boren dismissed the group of 23 with a prayer.

Missionary, Children To Leave Lamesa For Congo

By VIVIAN LEE
LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. William H. Crane and her four children are planning to leave Lamesa this week to join her missionary husband, Dr. William H. Crane, at Elizabethville in Katanga province of the Congo.

The Cranes, who have been living in Lamesa since early Summer, were scheduled to leave this weekend, but were delayed since they have not yet received visas and because they are finding it difficult to get plane reservations from Brussels, Belgium, to Elizabethville.

The family came to the United States in July, 1959, on a year's furlough; both Dr. and Mrs. Crane were born in the Belgian Congo to missionary parents, and two of their children were born there.

The governing mission board of the Presbyterian Church intervened because of the Congo crisis when their year in the U. S. was ending; they sent Dr. Crane to France while Mrs. Crane, also a missionary, and their children waited months for the board to approve her return to Africa.

Dr. and Mrs. Crane had been serving at a mission about 10 miles from Luluaburg in the Central Congo before coming to the states; however they will now live in Elizabethville where Dr. Crane is teaching in the seminary being established at the university by Protestant denominations.

Asked if she feared returning and taking her four children to the Congo, Mrs. Crane said there was no obvious reason for alarm. Residents of Elizabethville are leading a peaceful, normal existence although there is still violence and danger near Luluaburg, their former home, in the Central Congo.

Cowley Hunts In Davis Mountains

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

30 HCJC Students Plan College Flying Club

By JACK RADER

Enthusiasm for flying is spreading rapidly these days with men and women of all generations getting the "bug."

Latest of those smitten are 30 Howard County Junior College students who are setting the wheels in motion for a flying club.

At present the group is composed of members of the college agriculture club under the direction of Bruce Frazier who fathered the idea.

"The boys are really enthusiastic about flying," Frazier said, pointing out that selling his idea was not difficult. "One woman taking agriculture, Mrs. Velma Rankin, has even joined the project," Frazier said.

Dick Standifer, manager of the Howard County Airport and operator of Big Spring Aircraft Co., has taken several students up for demonstration flights, and true to tradition, after one experience on the controls most are fired with enthusiasm for more.

Standifer said he hopes that flying can be made a part of the curriculum at the college, and Frazier seconded this idea. "I think flying is a part of education," Frazier said.

The group is tentatively planning to acquire an airplane for the school, although, as Frazier pointed out, this is a long-range idea.

Two members of the agriculture club have their own planes, Horace Hamilton and Larry Nix, and Hamilton is a licensed pilot. Frazier said that with these two planes, plus several others available, flying out-of-town trips to collegiate functions could readily become a reality.

Flying is not entirely new to HCJC. Until about six years ago, a Link trainer for simulating flying was kept at the college. Students were given ground instruction and took lessons in the air. The trainer was destroyed by fire, however, and since that time there has been no organized flying program.

The agriculture club's interest in flying is a natural, according to Frazier. "With farms and ranches getting larger and operations covering more and more ground, airplanes are as common in the barn as tractors," he said.

Activity at the Howard County Airport continues to keep pace with the good flying weather and operations this past week averaged between 35 and 40 a day.

Transient flights, pilots stopping here for gasoline or for an overnight stay, averaged about 10-12, airport personnel reported.

The list of local pilots making long flights was topped this week by Leroy Tidwell who flew to Los Angeles. Clyde McMahon went to Galveston, and Howard Loyd and David Sims made trips to El Paso. Sims also landed at Lubbock during the week. Al Milch and Curtis Kelly flew to San Angelo.

Other Big Spring pilots making flights during the week included Bill McClendon, Bill Edwards, Winston Harper, Ted McClung, O. D. Landrum, Dr. M. W. Talbot, Clayton Bettle, Frank Hughes, Cotton Henderson, Vernon Smith, Dick Standifer, J. D. Carter, Gene Barnaugh, Dr. Nancy Amil, Roy Merworth, J. A. Wright, Charles Viergege, Ben Nix, Pete Foglar, Betty Ray Clifton, E. C. Smith, John Jones and Dr. B. Broadrick.

Five new students who took their first dual instruction were Ralph Rogers, Lamesa, and HCJC students from Big Spring, Howard Cagle, Keith Neff, Randy Cole and Roy King.

State Hospital Party Scheduled

A Christmas party for 945 patients at the Big Spring State Hospital will be held Dec. 20, according to Mrs. Ira Thurman, volunteer coordinator. Each ward will have an entertainment program and refreshments and gifts will be presented.

Immediate families of many patients have been invited to bring gifts and attend the festivities. Indigent patients will receive canned books from various individuals and organizations, as well as clothing and other items. Mrs. Thurman said those wishing to contribute may contact the Volunteer Council office.

Several Big Spring merchants have allowed purchase of gifts at cost and 65 local organizations are members of the Volunteer Council. All give their time and services, along with many Big Spring churches and individuals, to make the Christmas program a success.

Entertainment for the men's wards will be furnished by civic clubs, including Kiwanis, Rotary, American Business Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the two Lion's Clubs.

Clubs helping in women's wards include Regular Nurses Association, Woman's Forum, Junior Woman's Forum, Rebekahs No. 284, 1948 Hyperian Club, American Business Women's Association, Music Study Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Midland Volunteers, John A. Kee

Rebekahs and the Airport Baptist Church.

The Tri-Hi-Y club of the YMCA will sing Christmas carols.

The wards will be decorated by the Green Thumb and Oasis Garden Clubs, Big Spring and Spaders Garden Club and the Pyracantha Garden Club.

A Devotional For Today

The Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth. (John 1:14, RSV.)
PRAYER: O God, our heavenly Father, who in Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Saviour, didst come in flesh to the world, teach us that Thou art with us every day, and all the days. In every hour of difficulty or of loneliness may we know the quiet peace of Thy presence. In the Saviour's name. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

Make A Gift Of Carefulness

Ironical though it may seem, there is no season of the year which is fraught with so great a peril to the safety of individuals as the Yuletide.
We think logically of the traffic toll, for indeed it is a fearful and needless loss which is accentuated by its pall which envelops what should be a joyous season.
If you can plan your trips so that you will leave a few days or a few hours earlier than ordinarily would be the case, you may be allowing a margin which will increase your life span many, many years. To be sure there are numerous victims who die innocently on the highways, but usually the drivers of one or both cars are guilty of crowding their luck by a real or imagined rush. The safest course of all is to plan to spend the holidays at home.
But there are other hazards to the season, not the least of which is the danger of fire. Old decorations and particularly old tree and decoration light strings are potential fire-makers. A tree, even at best, is a ready tender, especially if it dries out. Wrapping paper, packages and other items may be stacked or left in positions which would feed fires.

Downtown there is danger that pedestrians loaded with packages will not be able to see approaching cars, or that eager children will dart from between parked cars into the street. It is a time when drivers should count to a hundred—and then a thousand, if necessary—to extend their patience. It's better to be in the right and yield than to be right and hit someone.
We can be safer this season if all of us are conscious of the fact that it takes an extra measure of care. Why don't you give yourself, your family, friends and others a present of extra carefulness this season?

Extend Community Spirit

The dinner affair last week which brought together more than three score of officers from Webb AFB and a corresponding number from town was an evidence of a desire to cement a community spirit between civilian and military personnel.
This is something that does not, and for practical reasons cannot, happen every day, but periodically such get-togethers are most helpful in broadening acquaintances and in establishing mutual interests.
We have said over and over that men and women in the Air Force are just as much in a career as those in office work, oilfield, industrial, transportation, professions, or any other field. When they are assigned to Webb, they become just as much a citizen as the businessman who is sent to take charge of a store here. Big Spring becomes their home town so long as they are at Webb.

It would be wonderful if we could relate this attitude to day by day living. Webb AFB is part of the Big Spring family, and we hope that groups other than the base-community division of the Chamber of Commerce will consciously work at the task of extending this spirit.

Marquis Childs Kennedy's Diplomatic Corps

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(For Marquis Childs, on vacation.)
WASHINGTON—What kind of working-level diplomatic face will we turn to the world in the oncoming Kennedy Administration? Will it be the face of socially-minded Ivy Leagueers interested most of all in welfareism and the progress of liberalism?
This often was the face of the field diplomatic corps of the Roosevelt-Truman era, even though its most distinguished Secretaries of State, Cordell Hull and Dean Acheson, were themselves practical men concerned more with power than with reformist programs.
WILL IT BE the bluff face of big business so influential in the diplomacy of the Eisenhower years—even though, here again, Secretaries John Foster Dulles and Christian Herter were not themselves symbols of big business?
Or will the new working diplomacy's face be more that of the trained politician, tougher and more savvy than the Ivy League type, and less tactless than the tycoon type?
THESE ARE more basic questions than they might at first appear, and perhaps more basic even than the identity of the new Secretary of State. For among the new winds now blowing is a wind which warns us that a fresh start at the working diplomatic level is highly desirable, in many places at least.
One of the great problems (and great opportunities) for President-elect Kennedy is simply this: to find ambassadors and lesser representatives to send abroad with toughness and flexibility and the capacity to act quickly in crisis.
THERE SHOULD be no more automatic obedience to routine State Department directives from Washington. There should be no more unwise bowing at all the automatic techniques and attitudes of the past. The new ambassadors should be neither bookish reformers nor men whose whole background has been in commerce.

It is time to give a chance to the young politicians, not the slavishly partisan politicians who in their profession have learned how to deal with people. We need men not afraid to file and forget all the timid bureaucratic cautions—don't do this thing, don't get mixed up with that fellow— which flow from the State Department just as they would flow from any other bureaucratic center.
HERE IS ONE illustration of what has been wrong. (And there are others like it, to this correspondent's knowledge.) In Mexico City we maintain a vast diplomatic establishment. It is 10 times more critical as a post than it looks. For actually it is our central headquarters in Latin America against the penetration of imperialist communism in all its heretofore.
And Mexico City is also the Soviet general headquarters for that penetration.
OUR JUST-RETIRED Ambassador to Mexico, Robert C. Hill of New Hampshire, is a politician and, as it happens, a quite conservative one to boot. But he found long ago that he could not do his job there if he listened to every counsel of carefulness that came from the State Department. So he went ahead on his own judgment to get to know all factions in Mexico—including the Communist stooges who were supposed to be off his list.
He warned Washington long beforehand that Castroism was going to be very nasty in Cuba and elsewhere. He did not obtain that intelligence by playing it safe. He got it by making it his business to meet not just the people who like us but also the people who definitely do not.
HILL, OF COURSE, is going out, because the Democrats are coming in. This is as it should be, in our system. But plenty of Democratic Hills—young, industrious politicians with drive and guts—will be available to President-elect Kennedy, if he wants them.

That's the signal the day-to-day stock market flashes. Neither boom nor bust. Neither bull market nor bear market. Just uncertainty.

We could be on the threshold of an advance similar to that which preceded the 1959-60 business upturn (see chart). That would mean this is the first leg of a bull market.
Or we could be on the brink of another cave-in—further new lows in a continuing bearish cycle.
One Wall Street says: "The bad news is out. Smart investors know that earnings in the first six months of 1961 will be lousy. They know that we're going to have high unemployment. That's all been discounted. The next move in stocks has to be up."

Another analyst, with equal understanding of Wall Street's bounces, says: "Don't let temporary rallies fool you. Business news is bad, earnings are bad, and both are going to get worse. As soon as people get the silly notion out of their heads that an upturn in business will take place in the first half of next year, bang! Selling will inundate stock prices."

INTERIM BEFORE DECISION
There, in those two quotations, is the stock market in essence. No mystery. No high-falutin theory. Just one clear fundamental: As goes business, so go stock prices. That's the Great Guessing Contest: Which way the economy?
If the recession gets deeper, if we're headed into a further business decline which will aggravate unemployment, squeeze earnings, and force more dividend reductions, then this is a fall before another leg in the bear market. But if business is to improve, then the stock market will improve too—and probably four to six months ahead of business.

Ever since mid-'59, the stock market has been "defensive." Utility shares, long looked upon as the conservative investor's hide-away (good steady yield), have been strong.
In contrast, the industrial and railroad shares, which respond to changes in business activity, have drifted downward (chart). Inference: Wall Street sees—the banks, the investment trusts, investment counsel, and other substantial investors—have been moving out of cyclical stocks and into companies whose long-term growth tends to ride over recessions.

TIME INDEFINITE
But lately, the utilities and railroads and the industrials and slips (even the stepchild railroads) have shown rallying tendencies. This could be feeling for the business turn.
Yet, day-to-day industrial news is not encouraging. Manufacturers' shipments and new orders slipped again in October. And inventories were reduced for the second successive month. If business remains flat, that means less production, fewer jobs, and a prolongation of high level stagnation. It could even result in a further business drop.
Steel producers, who earlier were counting the weeks to an upturn on the fingers of one hand, now put both hands behind their backs. Automobile companies report good sales, but some show stocks of cars continue high. Rationalization: More brands and models require dealers to carry more vehicles.
EXCUSES, EXCUSES, EXCUSES
The Christmas selling jubilee starts none too robustly. Department store sales, which had been running throughout the year on even terms or better than 1959, made sorry comparisons during November.
For this, merchants have excuses. First, the election; then the after-doubts, when the vote was so close, pushed shopping out of house-holders' minds. That's logical. Federal Reserve Board statistics indicate that in other Presidential years department store volume was affected adversely.
Second, weather. It has been un-

Hobby Recalls History

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What began as a hobby for Dr. Robert B. Sutton may serve to fill in gaps in the history of education.
Sutton, associate professor of education at Ohio State University, has collected in the past five years more than 2,000 items relating to the history of American education.
Among them are report cards dating back to 1861, an 1827 teacher's contract, and 1849 school newspaper and a 1864 geography reader for Confederate children in Raleigh, N. C.

To Your Good Health Terminology Of 'Upside-Down' Stomach

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor tells me I have an 'upside-down stomach.' Would you explain this? What should I do?—B. C. G."
This term is used, with some reason, I grant, for a rather large hiatus hernia, or for the situation which results from a defect in the left leaf (or left part) of the diaphragm. With some charts and a lot of words, I could make clear precisely what this is all about. But for practical purposes, would you forgive me if I say that you'd probably be bored by the explanation before I got through? The degree and type of this condition can vary to such an extent that the only sensible advice I can give is to do what your doctor says. He's spent some years learning the precise meaning. But you, I am sure, would rather be told what will help you, than to spend a lot of time learning technicalities.
"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband will not go to a doctor. He has had persistent mouth sores for over a year, white spotty places that hurt when eating acid foods. He has experimented and found they are caused by smoking—one cigar or a pack of cigarettes a day will start it. If he quits for a week, they stop. What I would like to know is can you shed some light on this from what I've told you? Could these spots turn into cancer? Is his system lacking something or has he just built up this reaction to tobacco?—Mrs. V. B."

Why should your husband go to a doctor? He knows what ails him. He just hasn't got what it takes to do what the doctor would tell him to do. There—I've saved you the price of an office call. Show this to your husband. And tell him I changed your initials just for the heck of it.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Not since my primary school days has it ever been necessary for me to have an enema. I was so regular. However, last spring I was confined to bed four weeks and my mother-in-law came to care for me. As I awakened each morning, almost immediately she had that enema bag ready—for 26 consecutive days.
"Now I find myself reaching for it automatically. My husband scolds me and tells me to leave nature alone. My sister also tells me I am killing off normalcy and will be dependent on this artificial means, if I do not stop it. I can't agree with her. Am I wrong in such an attitude?—G. B."
Yes, I think you are wrong—and after 20-odd years of normal

Around The Rim They Want To Straighten The Calendar

The difference between lost causes and worthwhile projects which will succeed must be minuscule. I can't tell the difference. So I don't know in which category to place the latest proposal for a change in the calendar.
This sort of thing has been going on for a long time, but my desk has just been covered with a new barrage of informational material in behalf of the "scientific" World Calendar.

THE MATERIAL says the time to change to this calendar is either January 1, 1961, or January 1, 1967. Those are the years when the first day of the year is on Sunday. Oh, let's just wait a few more years.
Anyway, my ears perked up when I read that the new World Calendar "eases tax payments, lessens costs of government, helps home-budgeting, equalizes salary payments, saves bookkeeping expenses, standardizes school schedules, aids farmers in planning crops, simplifies legal procedures, stabilizes business activities, benefits everyone."

WELL, EASING of tax payments was enough to get me to read on. You interested?
Features of The World Calendar:
Has 12 months of equal quarters. A year of 364 days, temporarily putting aside the 365th and fractional day. Has equal half-years of 182 days. Has equal quarter-years of 91 days. Each quarter of three months in a regular pattern of 31, 30, 30 days. Each quarter-year of 13 weeks. The week retains its sequence of Sunday through Saturday. Every year, quarter-year and week begins on the first day of the week, Sunday. Every month has 28 weekdays plus Sundays. Every year is comparable. Holidays are on same day and date.

WHAT HAPPENS is that February gains two new days, March loses one and April gains one. May and August lose one each. There will be no December 31, but it's December W, for "world day," a yearly holiday. On Leap years there would be a June W (June 30 to you) as a quadrennial holiday.

Other holidays would be:
New Year's, always on Sunday, Jan. 1 following World Day, Washington's birthday, Sat., Feb. 11, Lincoln's birthday, observed on Monday, Feb. 14, Memorial Day, Monday, May 27, Independence Day, Monday, July 2, Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 4, Columbus Day, Monday, Oct. 16, Thanksgiving Day, third or fourth Monday in November, 29th or 27th, Christmas, Monday, Dec. 25.

THESE CALENDAR makers may not have checked such momentous occasions as March 2, Texas Independence Day, and April 21, San Jacinto Day, but they both happen to come on Saturdays, so I won't protest there.

The World Calendar people say this all makes for harmony, order and stability. It could also get us into a rut. I'm for order and stability, but I still don't see where it cuts my taxes, or makes me any younger. Let the World Calendar people get on the line with these, and I might take up the cudgels in their behalf.

Norman Vincent Peale There's A Remedy For Your Fears

A woman in upstate New York became so alarmed about her emotional condition that she went to a psychiatrist. She had a frightening impression that everything was going wrong with her and her family.

She was worried about her health, about her husband's work, about her children's personal problems—and she even worried about her own increasing tendency to worry. As a result, she had an ulcer.

AFTER TWO YEARS of psychotherapy she gave up. It had not worked. She still had an active ulcer and muscles that refused to coordinate.
She then began to wonder whether she might possibly get help from religious sources. Since college days she had been of the opinion that religion was only for weaklings, but now she painfully realized that she herself was a weakling. Gropingly she went from one church to another until she found one with an atmosphere that appealed to her, where she could "sit and say an inarticulate prayer."

Finally came the big turning point, which she describes like this: "With the greatest difficulty and reluctance and fear, I told God I was giving myself entirely over to Him."

IT TOOK QUITE a while, but from that time on things gradually changed in her life.

As she puts it, "Quiet desperation became a subtle hope." She found a doctor who helped her with the ulcer, another doctor who successfully diagnosed the rigid constrictions. Her husband's business problem began working out all right. Their son's behavioral difficulties eased up and so did their daughter's.
The change that has taken place in the life of this woman and her family began when she gave herself to God's care and surrendered to His will. It was in filling her mind full of God that she was able to let go of her fears. Life is full of such great human stories; dramatic narratives of changed personalities.

SOME YEARS AGO I had the privilege of holding in my hand for a few moments a copy of the Holy Bible that had been used by Abraham Lincoln in the White House during the darkest period of the Civil War. It was a big, old-fashioned Bible with an air of stability about it. My attention was directed to a passage which Lincoln evidently valued very highly. In the margin alongside it, there is a deeply dented, smudged place where the Emancipator's finger must have rested repeatedly as he read.
The passage is the fourth verse of the 34th Psalm, and it reads: "I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."

AMONG ALL THE GREAT figures of American history there is none who towers higher than that rugged character from Illinois. Yet he, too, experienced fears.
Even the great, even the heroes, even the saints are at times assailed by fear. No one is immune from fear. But there is a remedy, a way of overcoming fear instead of being dominated or defeated by it. This remedy is universal—available to all of us. It is to seek the Lord. To seek means to go all out.

And when you go all out for God, there begins to build up in you the great force that destroys fear. Fear is a tremendous force, but even stronger is the force of faith.
IN SEEKING the Lord you begin thinking faith thoughts. Perhaps at first it will be only a trickle of faith, but as you keep calling faith thoughts back to mind and repeating them and emphasizing them, presently there will develop in your mind a great channel of faith-thinking that will undercut the fear channel. Fearfulness subsides as you become optimistic, hopeful, confident, serene. So the real remedy for fear is to fill the mind full of God. When it is full of God, how can there be any room for fear?

David Lawrence Congress And The Money Problem

Everybody is discussing the kind of administration John F. Kennedy, as President, is going to give the country, but there seems to be little attention focused on the kind of job the nation may expect of Congress.
Will it be a responsible or an irresponsible Congress? Will it do the things that maintain a stable dollar, or will it bring about the inflation that will rob the workman of the purchasing power of his wages?

THE ROLE played by the Democratic-controlled Congress in bringing about the chaos in the international business situation of today has not been made clear to the American people. While, for instance, the outflow of gold is doubtless not due to any single factor, it can be persuasively argued that the Democratic leadership in Congress, by its refusal to remove the interest ceiling on U.S. government bonds of five years or more, contributed a great deal to the current crisis in gold.
Some politicians have always been inclined to feel that they can run the government on a socialistic basis—that is, that they can mould the law of supply and demand to fit their own concepts of what will prove popular or bring votes. But every now and then actual experience catches up with theory, and the nation pays the penalty for the mistakes of the theorists.
WHEN INTEREST rates in the last two years started rising all over the world, and especially in the United States because of the increasing demand for investment funds to meet the needs of natural economic growth, the United States was faced with the simple effects of the law of supply and demand. Our government, in borrowing money, cannot be paying very much less for prime securities than the non-governmental institutions and businesses in America are paying for money. There is a close relationship between the rates on the two sets of borrowings.

ORDINARILY THE law of supply and demand fixes the interest rates. The U.S. Treasury, however, which has to refinance constantly the enormous public debt, cannot always wait for more propitious moments to float its loans. It must go into the market and pay the current rate. The situation normally tends to iron itself out as demand and supply balance one another. Eventually, as the demand falls off, the interest rate drops, too.

BUT WHEN THE Congress yields to the demagogic politicians who cry out against "high interest rates," a serious blow is struck at the normal and natural processes of the law of supply and demand. Last year and this year the Congress turned thumbs down on the request of the Treasury for a free hand in dealing with the sale of government securities. There was a blast from the politicians that interest rates must not be allowed to rise. This view was shortsighted. Interest rates would have not gone higher for any length of time but would have gradually reduced themselves. Meanwhile, foreign-owned funds would have remained inside the United States, and there wouldn't have been such a tendency to send gold out of the country to earn the higher interest rates being paid abroad.

AS A CONSEQUENCE of the interference by Congress with the natural functioning of interest rates on a supply-and-demand basis, the business situation inside the United States was worsened. While the steel strike caused a recession, a recovery movement this year was further complicated by the bad effects on foreign-trade markets caused by the outflow of gold from America.

Just as Congress commits a serious error in interfering with the law of supply and demand in the sale of government securities—something that makes extremely difficult the sound management or refinancing of the national debt—so also in there grave doubt whether control of interest rates domestically by the Federal Reserve can be effective as long as the Congress of the United States usurps executive functions. The Treasury should not be deprived of the flexibility needed in handling the biggest single factor in the money markets of the world today—the price that the U.S. government is compelled to pay for borrowed funds in the open market.

Flynn enlisted in the Navy in July, 1959, and now holds the rating of electronics technician, third class. He is congratulated by Ed Coglian, local recruiter, Navy enlisted men have the opportunity to apply for the academy by means of competitive examinations each year. Only about 180 men from the Navy are accepted through this program annually. Petty Officer Flynn graduated from Big Spring High School, and attended Howard County Junior College. He enlisted under the nuclear field of training, and upon completion of recruit training, attended six months of electronics school, then entered submarine school, which took him aboard the nuclear submarine USS Sargo, which operates in the Pacific. He is now attending the academy preparatory school, at Balahridge, Maryland. He will be enrolled in the Naval Academy in July.

GARDEN TALK

Texas Claims Three Top Trees In The Country

Several columns ago I mentioned the trees of West Texas and their beauty in the autumn and the specimen trees we have in the area. It seems other people are also interested in the specimen trees of the entire state. The Texas Forest Service is concerned with this problem on a state wide scale, and in turn the nation is conducting a program called the "National Champion Big Tree" contest. Texas now for the third time has been credited with having national champion big trees in three different species. One of these champions is the nation's largest water oak (Quercus nigra) which is owned by E. H. Lawson of Center, Texas. That tree is 70 feet high and the crown spreads for 100 feet. The trunk is over 20 feet around, and that beats the old champion in Hillsboro, Ga. by nearly three and a half feet. If you are ever near Center you can drive by the Lawson place nine miles north of town on the Center-Longport road. It is a surprisingly good condition in spite of the fact that an ice storm in 1947 broke off some of the limbs and back in 1927 it was damaged by a hurricane. Besides this new champion tree Texas can now claim, it also possesses the American holly (Ilex opaca) in Liberty County near the town of Hardin, and the largest honey mesquite (Prosopis glandulosa) near Gatesville in Coryell County. I wonder if there are any specimens in Howard County that could get into this sort of contest. We are probably too new as a civilized area to boast a champion tree since most of our trees came with or soon after the early settlers. The American Forestry Association started the Big Tree Contest back in 1940, and it has done some good in making us aware of the value of these outstanding specimen trees. Many of our finest plants have been lost just as the buffalo, passenger pigeon, and prairie chicken and whooping crane have been either lost or nearly lost. The United States is a new land, and our pioneers destroyed many things to make a home in which they could raise their families. Texas is even newer than many of the eastern states, and so we have to tame the land before we could think of beautifying it. Now, perhaps we can try to make it prettier by taking care of what we have and grooming our natural charms to their best advantage. If you have a garden question, write to Bruce Frazier in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Recruiter Lists Holiday Program

The local Navy recruiting station has announced recruiting plans for the holiday period. Men desiring to enlist after Christmas may take preliminary qualification tests now, both mental and physical, and leave after Christmas. After the first screening test, the applicant is sent to Abilene for mental and physical qualification tests. Then he returns home, and may select the day he actually leaves for the Navy. At that time, he is sent to Albuquerque, N. M., for enlistment, and from there to the recruit training center, in San Diego, Calif. Men re-enlisting are sent to Albuquerque for re-enlistment bonus, and may take a 30 day leave after being sworn. Those not taking a leave are sent to the Naval receiving station of their choice, either Long Beach, or San Diego, Calif., to await assignment. Re-enlistments, whether broken service (over 90 days), or continuous service, may request school assignment through the local recruiting station before re-enlisting. Any additional information may be obtained from the recruiting station in the post office basement.

Webb Picked To Test Two Economy Moves

Webb AFB has been selected as a test base for two Air Force money-saving projects, both of which are aimed at streamlining administrative and supply procedures in aircraft maintenance and supporting units. The 3560th M&S Group will be the testing organization, announced Lt. Col. Asa A. Adair, chief of maintenance. The tests will run from Jan. 1 until April 1, 1961. A new form will be sent from ATC to replace two now in use. It will later replace five or six others used in reporting maintenance data. The next project concerns the speedy repair of aircraft parts. Present practice calls for turning items in to base supply, where they are stored or shelved, and later sent in bulk to the base repair shop or to the depot. Under the new system, items will go direct to the base repair shop, bypassing base supply. Present plan is to repair all items on the base—within the capabilities of base shops. By parts being bench-checked, rushed to the shops, and returned to maintenance, the Air Force expects a big savings in dollars. Transportation charges to and from the repair depot will be greatly lessened, and the cost of packing and crating will also be reduced.

Hereford Sale Plans Complete

With one week to go, all preparations are complete for the 17th Annual Howard County - South Plains Hereford Association sale set for Dec. 10. Officials of the association believe this year's group represents the best array of prime Hereford bulls and cows ever to be offered at its yearly sale. Buyers from all over the Southwest are expected to be here for the sale. The sale will be at the Howard County Fairgrounds west of town. The sale starts promptly at 1 p.m. with Walter Britten as auctioneer.

Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach and Dr. B. B. Dunn the award for the reserve champion female, Kimbell Grain Co. will award the trophy for the best pen of three bulls. John Davis Feed Store provides the award for the reserve champion pen of three bulls. The revolving bull trophy is awarded by the First National Bank and the trophy for the female in this category is made available by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. The judging of the animals will be at 9 a.m. Home demonstration clubs will serve lunch at noon in the fair barns. R. H. Odum Jr. is president of the association. Charles Creighton is first vice president; Loy Acuff, second vice president; Taylor, secretary-treasurer and C. A. Walker, assistant secretary-treasurer. Seventy of the finest Herefords in the South Plains ranching country have been consigned for sale. Ranchers who are consigning stock to the sale include: Buchanan Herefords, Big Spring; Rexie Cattle, Big Spring; James Coates, Big Spring; Charles Creighton, Big Spring; W. L. Award Banquet Set In Lubbock

Howard County's Gold Star 4-H Club members, Wanda Boatler and Freddy Cad White, will join Gold Star boys and girls from 20 West Texas counties Monday night at Lubbock for the annual district Gold Star Award banquet. The banquet, held each year, is sponsored by the co-operative electric companies. At the dinner, the Gold Star club members are presented with certificates. The Caprock Co-op is the local host. The banquet is attended by the Gold Star boys and girls, by their parents, and by the county agents and home demonstration agents from each of the 20 counties in the district. Miss Boatler and White, their fathers and mothers, Jimmy Taylor, county agent and possibly Mrs. Catherine Crawford, home demonstration agent, will attend the banquet. Mrs. Crawford assumed her duties as county home demonstration agent on Thursday of last week.

Another Message to American Industry Leaders about
The Opportunity Frontier OF TEXAS

IT'S 1965 FOR THIS MAN IN THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS

Our planning engineers are "men who live in the future." They maintain a constant watch over growth patterns in the OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS—population, retail sales, personal income, vehicle registration, construction, so they can plan effectively and anticipate power needs five and more years from now.

For example, the 240,000 Miltowatt steam electric generating unit at our newest plant site near Graham, Texas, was planned in 1955 for operation in December, 1960. It is the sixteenth power generating unit built during the past twelve years at strategically located plants throughout our strong power system. These new units have increased by ten times the company's net generating capability.

Our well-planned power system assures metropolitan-type service throughout the area served by the company. When your firm relocates in this area—or when you open a new plant, warehouse or branch office in the OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER—you will have a sure source of low-cost power.

Our Area Development Department will gladly supply plant site information to fit your specific needs.

WE'RE INVITING THEM TO GROW WITH THIS PROGRESSIVE AREA

American business and industry are constantly looking to the future... selecting the location of plants, warehouses and branch offices to keep manufacturing, distribution and marketing operations efficient amid changing patterns of population and resources.

The dynamic growth and rich resources of The Opportunity Frontier of Texas, much of which is served by Texas Electric Service Company, offer many advantages for growth and expansion.

Business and industry executives—the men who decide on plant, warehouse and office sites—will see the message reproduced at left in Business Week, Fortune and The Wall Street Journal.

We are making this investment in area progress to promote the growth of the area we serve—to attract new customers, added tax revenues, and greater job opportunities which will benefit everyone.

Recording Artist

Tammy Lillard, former resident of Big Spring, has hopes of a hit with her new record just released.

Former Local Girl Has A New Record Release

Tammy Lillard, a former Big Spring girl, is the vocalist on a new Marco release, "I'm Waiting (Impatiently)", and on the flip side, "Find Yourself Another Girl."

Tammy, who is 13, is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. D. C. Lillard and is a student in the Bossier City, La. Junior high. Her father is stationed at Barksdale Air Force Base, but the family considers Big Spring home.

Mrs. Lillard is the former Wynne Hull, a graduate of Big Spring High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hull, 1512 Main. Other relatives here are Mr. and Mrs. Birt Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Carothers.

Her recording had its introduction here Friday evening when it was played at the 2nd grade Tri-Hi-Y frolic. KBYG and perhaps other local radio stations will have it within the week.

Tammy is to be heard over the Shreveport, La. TV station on Dec. 4, and she has an audition arranged in Dallas soon.

Besides her studies and her singing career, she still finds time for her hobbies of water skiing, swimming, dancing and music.

Now is she the only "career-minded" member of the Lillard clan. Her older sister, Donna, 16, and her younger sister, Robin, 5,

Tammy is to have a special assembly of the Bossier Junior High dedicated to her on Monday.

Should Sororities Exist Is The Major Question

By BESSIE LITTLE
Fisher News Service

DEAR BESSIE: I'm thrilled to be one of the chosen 30 per cent of the sophomore girls to receive a bid to a Greek letter high school sorority. But I am paralyzed with fear at the thought of being forced to go through humiliating initiation stunts such as appearing in early evening in our main street clad only in diaper, boots, T-shirt and red bow. Is high school sorority membership worth this?

DEAR L. B.: I don't think anyone can really answer that question but you. The hazing would undoubtedly be embarrassing to almost anyone, but humiliation is perhaps a strong word for you to use. What you describe is hardly the height of fashion, but I'm sure you and the rest of the 20 per cent will survive the ordeal.

The big question today, and scores of educators have taken a strong position, is whether this type of organization should exist at all. Many colleges today are trying to curtail fraternity and sorority activities, not entirely because of the hazing involved, but because of the social implications of this type of selection of a choice few. This is really more of a problem than the diaper.

DEAR BESSIE: I am 16 and I like a boy who is 22. He is the nicest boy I have ever gone with in my life. He knows how to treat a girl like a lady. I can handle myself very well. My grandparents won't let me go with this boy because he has been married.

DEAR WORRIED: It seems your grandparents are more "worried" than you are and it is possible that they have good reasons. I am sure that they are concerned about the difference in age and experience between this man and you. They would feel happier if you were going with others closer to your own age and experience level. I'm sure this man is all you say he is and that you can handle yourself, but why not give yourself the chance to know other young men so that you, too, won't have the tragedy of an unhappy marriage at an early age? Try as hard as you can to see the point of view of your grandparents and use your own good common sense.

Elvis Hits Top Spot Once Again

By JEANNE HARRISON

He's back again—Elvis Presley, that is. Elvis' "Are You Lonesome Tonight" skyrocketed from out of nowhere into the number one spot in the nation's record hits last week. The success of this latest disc comes only weeks after his "It's Now or Never," which held sway over the top 10 for weeks.

1. "Are You Lonesome Tonight," Elvis Presley
2. "Poetry in Motion," Johnny Tillotson
3. "Last Date," Floyd Cramer
4. "New Orleans," U.S. Bonds
5. "I Want to Be Wanted," Brenda Lee
6. "Georgia on My Mind," Ray Charles
7. "You Talk Too Much," Joe Jones
8. "Save the Last Dance for Me," Drifters
9. "A Thousand Stars," Kathy Young
10. "Stay," Maurice Williams other. Connie is appearing at New York's famous Copacabana night club, and an on-location recording will be made entitled, "Connie Francis at the Copa."

Speaking about albums, the three hottest vocal ones around today are Frank Sinatra's "Nice 'n Easy"; the Kingston Trio's "String Along"; and Elvis Presley's "G.I. Blues."

Among the new releases give a listen to Anita Bryant's "Wonderland by Night," a lovely, tuneful ballad. It's backed by "Pictures," another song in the ballad vein. Art Mooney's orchestra has a new entry in "I Ain't Down Yet" from Broadway's "Unsinkable Molly Brown." It's backed by another show tune, "Til Tomorrow" from "Fiorella." The combination of the orchestra and an excellent choral group makes for fine listening.

Frankie Avalon scores a liking listener with his "A Perfect Love" which is among the better ballads with a beat. The flip is a novelty number, "The Puppet Song." While you are spinning them at the local disc shop, listen to Tony Bennett's "Follow Me," a beautifully belted ballad. It is backed by an oldie with a new twist, "Romania."

Post Office Marks Gain

Honored

Among 34 students at West Texas State College named to represent the college in the 1960-61 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" were, left to right, William Kernek of El Paso, Minta McAninch of Merkel, and Lewis Newell of Big Spring.

Lewis Newell Named To College 'Who's Who'

CANYON (Sp.)—Lewis M. Newell of Big Spring has been chosen as one of the thirty-four juniors and seniors to represent West Texas State College in the 1960-61 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," according to Dr. Irma Barlow, chairman of WT's student honors committee.

Nominations for "Who's Who," one of the top honors awarded each year at WT, are made by departments of instruction and campus organizations. Top students are named and approved by the organization which publishes the volume. Students named are also honored by Le Mirage, WT yearbook, in its personality section.

Mr. Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe T. Newell of Big Spring, is a senior Business Administration major. He has been secretary of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, president of Circle K-Civic Club, dorm supervisor and vice president of the Junior Class.

The Big Spring Post Office showed a gain of nearly $5,000 in postal receipts in November as compared with the same month a year ago. However, for the first 11 months of 1960, the post office is but $208.15 ahead of the total for the same 11 months in 1959, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said today.

November was a good month for the office, Boatler said. Total receipts were $35,805.45. Of this total, $18,261.25 was for the sale of postage stamps. Total receipts for November 1959 were $30,983.80. This gives this past month a margin of $4,821.65 over the same month a year ago.

For the first 11 months of 1960, the total receipts are $326,536.22. This compares with $326,328.65 for the same period in 1959—a margin of only $208.15 for the current year.

Better Make Those College Plans Now

By DAN HARDING

Getting into and through college today is a more difficult task than it was only a few years ago. And the Under Twenty group completing high school education, can be sure that the situation is going to get a great deal worse before it gets better. There are two main reasons why the business of getting a college diploma will be more challenging.

First, there are going to be more and more young men and young women trying to get into the schools. Second, the family is going to have to come up with a larger check to pay the bill for the education.

Estimates of the college entry situation show that in the next 10 years there will be a 50 per cent increase in college population, in already over-crowded institutions. The colleges, both state and private, are doing everything they can to build additional facilities for study and residence, but they cannot keep up with the bumper crop of seniors graduating from high schools each year. Take a look around your high school, and junior high school, and see the increase in the size of the classes. Every year there will be more and more graduates and the competition for a college classroom seat will be stiffer and stiffer.

The swelling ranks of those who want to get into college means that the standards for college entrance will get much higher. For many gifted students it may mean that they will have to settle for far less than they require.

Not a small part of the problem is a financial one. Today, it is estimated that in a state school the total expenses average almost $1,500 per year. In a private school the cost is slightly over $2,200. If you plan to go to college you can figure that the costs will run somewhere between $6,500 and $12,000 for the four years.

The student who is smart in his day-to-day planning—as well as in the classroom—will begin taking a look at both of these problems right now. In the money department it is going to be necessary for more and more Under Twenties to supplement what their families can make available for a college education. The girl who has her mind set on a college education, and the boy who wants to further his career with more education, will have to look around for part time work to help the cause along.

Naturally, there are college jobs to help ease the burden on the family, but these may not be available or enough to meet the needs. So, if you are really interested in going to college, think you can meet the standards and you are ambitious, now's the time to double the baby-sitting efforts and get that after school job at the drug store. Then instead of depositing all of the earnings at the mall shop, begin systematically putting some of the money away for your college education.

Even if you are just in junior high school, now is a good time to begin talking with your parents about college and college plans. If you are in high school, the timing is even more important. Frank, open discussions about your ambitions, and the ability of the family to put you through college, will save major disappointments later on. Spend time with your school guidance counselor and begin reading guides on colleges and college entrance requirements.

intelligence in their selection of a candidate. As a matter of fact, the teen-age reasons would appear to be more sound than those they ascribe to their parents—based on family conversations about the election.

For example, parents indicated a strong tendency to vote for a candidate merely because he was a member of a political party they had been supporting for many years. The teen-agers in the poll reported that almost 25 per cent of their fathers, and 21.5 per cent of their mothers, were influenced by party in their vote. This compared to only 11 per cent of the Under Twenties who said party was their deciding factor.

In the field of foreign affairs, over one third (37 per cent) of the young people selected their candidate because they felt he would be more capable in this field. Fathers indicated 33 per cent, and mothers were 32 per cent. The high incidence of mention of Quemoy and Matsu as a campaign issue showed the teens were informed on major issues of the campaign.

Logically, the teen-agers were more concerned about education than their parents. Their parents were, in all, seven per cent said they selected their candidate on the basis of his stand on education; while fathers were four per cent, and mothers almost five per cent. Religion, however, was not as large a factor with the Under Twenties potential voter as it was with the parents. Fathers were listed in 9.6 per cent of the cases as voting along religious lines, and mothers were at 11 per cent, compared with seven per cent for the teen-agers.

The Civil Rights issue brought the young people more closely in line with their mothers, with each indicating this as a reason in slightly over 4.5 per cent, as compared with dad's three per cent.

In the portion of the poll devoted to reasons, and a short article on why it is a citizen's duty to vote, the teen-agers generally reached a very high level of understanding of the problems of our country. Teen-agers were generally well-informed and their replies indicated so. Here, for example, is a portion of the response sent in by a 14-year-old from Lansing, Michigan.

Basketball Season Is Underway For Hawks

By KAY LOVELAND
The Jayhawk basketball season began last week in earnest as the team competed in the Odessa Junior College tournament, Dec. 1, 2 and 3. Adm. month will be played this week, with the Hawks battling Cisco tomorrow night here and San Angelo Tuesday night there. Then, this coming weekend, Dec. 9 and 10, they go to San Antonio for the San Antonio tournament.
The western dance sponsored by the Rodeo Club is set for this Friday night in the SUB. Admission to the dance, featuring tape recordings of the Hoyle Nix band, will be 50 cents per couple. It will begin at 7:30 p.m.
The Aggie Club has been one of the most active clubs on the campus lately. About 30 members of the club are now engaged in flying lessons. Under a special plan, three boys go up with one flying and two observing. Future lessons are left up to the individual after everyone has been up three times and flown once. Also among the activities of the club is the landscaping of the Crippled Children's Building. Members are still engaged on this project. Last week the Aggie Sweetheart was chosen, but her name will remain secret until the club holds its next social.

FORMAL
Rocca Rocca Hamma members are making plans for decorating the SUB for the Christmas Formal, which will be held Saturday, Dec. 17. The dance will last from 8 to 12 p.m. and admission is set at $2 per couple. Rocca Rocca Hamma members will sell tickets. The Classics have been engaged to provide music for the affair. Tentative plans have been made by several members of the geology classes to take a raft trip through one of the major canyons in Big Bend next weekend. The one-day trip would be the second of its kind by HCJC this year.
A Rocca Rocca Hamma picture party has been scheduled for Tuesday night in the parlor of the SUB. At the party, pictures of the two Big Bend field trips will be shown.
Ken Seewald, geology instructor, and Mrs. Gladys Burnham, biology teacher, were in Fort Worth this weekend attending the Texas Academy of Sciences meeting.
Baptist Student Union members are now working on a Christmas play, which will be presented at 7 p.m. Monday night, Dec. 19, in the little auditorium. The play is entitled "Unto Us."
MISCELLANEOUS NOTES
The Lass-O Club has planned a Christmas social for Monday night, Dec. 12, in the parlor of the SUB.
An assembly has been tentatively planned for Dec. 12, at which time Miss Kline of the National Education Association will speak. The annual Christmas assembly will be Dec. 14.
Phi Theta Kappa is still selling cases for $1 each.
Delta Psi Omega, honorary drama fraternity, will hold an initiation and banquet Monday night. Beginning at 5 p.m., initiates will meet at the HCJC auditorium for an initiation ceremony. At 6 p.m., they will attend a banquet at Masters' Cafeteria. Those being inducted into the fraternity are Douglas Davis, Ronnie Bingham, Brenda Augustine, Charles Smith, Lena Gilstrap, Gary Blalock, Mary Helen Yater Roy Cobb, Kay Watson and Lewis Petnecky.
Twelve more days of school until Christmas vacation.

KATY COCHRAN
... "Miss Mistletoe" of Goliad 8th grade Tri-Hi-Y.

Katy Cochran Is Named 'Miss Mistletoe' Friday

Katy Cochran was crowned Miss Mistletoe at the Goliad 8th Grade Tri-Hi-Y Christmas dance Friday night at the YMCA. Miss Cochran, escorted by William Griffith, was presented a rhinestone-studded tiara and a bouquet of red roses. Runners-up were Nancy Thomas, escorted by Ricky Earle and Jean Armstrong, escorted by Skipper Sabatino.
About 40 attended the dance, which was decorated in mistletoe, red bows and Christmas lights following a theme of a "Mistletoe Christmas."
Refreshments were served from a silver punch bowl, centered on a white table cloth, which was decorated with mistletoe and a Santa Claus.
The affair was held in the all-purpose room of the YMCA from 7 to 11 p.m.

Rehearsals In Progress

By JUDY ENGLE
Lynda McDonald, 9th grader, was crowned Harvest Queen at the climax of the harvest festival held Friday night. The two other candidates were Glenda Heffington, 8th grade, and Sarah Smith, 7th grade.
The Harvest Carnival was a success as many students as well as people from the public came to join the fun and excitement. The dance and party began at 8:30. Decorations for these were made by the Student Council members and Patsy Tunnel, art teacher. The queen was crowned at 10 p.m. at the dance by Roscoe Newell, principal. A cologne set and a bouquet of red roses were presented to the queen. While caravans were given to the other candidates.
Runnels was kept busy also this week with the talent shows that were held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Admission to these shows was 10 cents per person and the proceeds went to each grade's queen nominee. A special display of talent was shown by Danny Lane, seventh grader, as he played the drums in the seventh grade show. Other excellent performances were also given in the other shows.
The fifth grade played Edison of San Angelo last week and won 68-18. The eighth grade played two games this week, Edison of San Angelo and Lamesa, losing both games despite the enthusiasm shown. Our seventh grade played Lamesa, winning 43-9.
Cheryl Whittington, business manager of the annual staff, received $5 for selling the most annuals throughout the annual sale. Four hundred eighty-two annuals were sold in all.
New students at Runnels this week are Shirley Osteen, eighth grade and Jimmy Parrish, ninth grade. Welcome to both of them.

Producers Deny Lowered Morals

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — "We do not agree that Hollywood has made a 'bold and unprecedented' departure from previously accepted moral standards," says the Association of Motion Picture Producers.
The association commented last week on a statement issued in Washington in which a committee of bishops urged the 40 million U.S. Roman Catholics to stay away from movies not meeting acceptable standards.
"We do not agree that 'objectionable films' have created a 'national crisis,'" the producers' statement said. "We do not agree that the production code administration is 'presently ineffective.' The facts do not support any such conclusion."

FCC Wants More Payola Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has advised 37 radio and TV stations it may have to take action against them unless they supply more detailed data on alleged handling of hidden commercial and payola practices.
The FCC, which sent out a questionnaire on these subjects to all broadcasting stations a year ago, said the 37 had returned completed questionnaires but had failed to respond to letters sent out in September and October requesting further information "about unannounced paid or furnished program material and what they are doing about it."
The commission said Texas stations which failed to respond included: KIEP-FM KACT at Kikas at Silsbee; KTER at Terrell and KZEY at Tyler.

Action Of Texas Stations Taken

WASHINGTON (AP)—Action on cases involving Texas radio stations has been taken by the Federal Communications Commission.
Changes for radio stations authorized by the commission include:
Waco—KEPC (FM), assignment of license to Contex Radio Co. for $27,500.
Levelland — KLVT, assignment of license to Levelland Broadcasters (Marshall and Clint Formby), associated with KACT at Andrews, KLEF at KACT at Anson, KLFJ at Herford and KTUE at Tulla, for $100,000.
Applications for new radio stations included:
Beaumont — Woodland Broadcasting Co. (Gerald Proctor, Box 2963, Houston) FM on 88.1 megacycles.

Jazz Festival

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The first international jazz festival is scheduled for Acapulco early next year with orchestras from six countries invited.
After it was over he declared: "As far as I'm concerned the play is moral and not in the least bit obscene or even suggestive."
"By giving me an inexpensive opportunity to learn, plus thorough studies and practical work, the program helped me in building my career," he states.
A young person interested in electrical work can expect an average salary of $100 per week, Mr. Pettus estimates, and a top salary of around $125 per week.
"The DE and ICT programs afford a wonderful opportunity for all students who do not contemplate going to college, and they are advantageous even for those who do go on to college," he concludes.

Teams Play First Games

By NANCY HEDLESTON
Basketball season got under way Monday night when the Goliad Mavericks 8th and 9th grade teams played Lee of San Angelo in the Goliad gym. The 8th graders won their game with a final score of 21-18. Don White was the high scorer for the 8th graders. The 9th graders lost their game. Monty Clendenin was the high scorer in that game. Thursday night the 7th grade beat Lamesa, but the 8th and 9th graders lost.
The Howard County Tuberculosis Association has sponsored this year a poster project. Art Against T. B., for anyone of high school or junior high school age who wanted to enter. The posters were turned in Nov. 30 to be judged by a panel of local judges. Cash prizes were to be awarded to the three best posters in each group.
The Goliad director of the girls PE department, Mrs. Jane Dotson, Thursday attended the State Physical Education Convention in San Antonio. Accompanying her were two representatives from Goliad, Linda Painter and Nancy Norman.
Wednesday the Future Homemakers of America held their monthly meeting. They discussed their work on home projects.
The 9th grade class officers held their first meeting Wednesday morning. They made plans to have a tacky party for the 9th grade class Tuesday night in the gym from 7 until 10 p.m.

Greek Play Draws Fire

PIELD, England (AP) — Dark goings on among the gods of ancient Greece have roused the wrath of Iliad's mortals.
The vicar is in the middle of the rumpus rocking this normally peaceful Sussex village.
Disapproving whispers started after the Rev. Alan Williams organized an amateur village play about ancient Greece.
The play is "Amphitryon" set by the Frenchman Jean Giraudoux.
The villagers say it's too sexy; the vicar says it isn't.
In the play the god Jupiter assumes the guise of Amphitryon, a mortal, and seduces his lovely wife Alkmena while he is away at the wars.
The vicar plays the part of a Greek warrior, which is too much for some of the worthy women of the parish. They have severely taken him to task for doing so. Members of the parish church council spoke out Friday against the play.
"It is just larded with sex, and double meanings," said one.
The vicar called a conference at the Angthon vicarage to discuss the uproar.
After it was over he declared: "As far as I'm concerned the play is moral and not in the least bit obscene or even suggestive."

Albert Pettus Backs School ICT Program

Albert Pettus, owner of Pettus Electric Co., 301 Benton, participated in the Industrial Cooperative Training program at Big Spring High School for two years. At that time, Pascal Buckner was coordinator of the course.
Mr. Pettus began his training as an armature winder with a local electric company because he "needed the training and had no money for college."
He feels that the practical experience and the study of the job theory combined in the program is the best possible for learning.
"By giving me an inexpensive opportunity to learn, plus thorough studies and practical work, the program helped me in building my career," he states.
A young person interested in electrical work can expect an average salary of $100 per week, Mr. Pettus estimates, and a top salary of around $125 per week.
"The DE and ICT programs afford a wonderful opportunity for all students who do not contemplate going to college, and they are advantageous even for those who do go on to college," he concludes.

9th Grader Crowned As Harvest Queen

By PHYLLIS ANDERSON
Coahoma's basketball teams played Garden City Tuesday at Garden City, and the boys walked away with a victory while the girls lost. We played Stanton Friday night. The teams are entered in the Coahoma tournament next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, after they play Westbrook on Tuesday.
The juniors are hard in rehearsal now for the junior play to be presented soon, and from the looks of things, a great performance will be given.
The stamp of approval was received with a smile from the FFA girls. Daddy Date night was a success. The purposes of the organization were presented by some of the members. Ginger Richters displayed and explained the organization's emblem. Glenda Haney gave the creed.
Tuesday — Vegetable soup, apple sauce cake, pimento cheese sandwiches, corn bread or crackers.
Wednesday — Hamburgers, pinto beans, French fries, fruit cup, lettuce, tomato, onions and pickles.
Thursday — Roast and gravy, cream potato, fruit Jello, hot rolls.
Friday — Tuna or ham sandwiches, potato salad, cheese squares, ice cream.

Coahoma Menu Is Announced

COAHOMA (SC) — The menu for the Coahoma schools has been announced for next week.
Monday — Hamburger steak, tomato and macaroni, blackeye peas, brownies.
Tuesday — Vegetable soup, apple sauce cake, pimento cheese sandwiches, corn bread or crackers.
Wednesday — Hamburgers, pinto beans, French fries, fruit cup, lettuce, tomato, onions and pickles.

Many Activities Mark The Following Weeks

By LYN CLAWSON
The Steer basketball team played two games here this week. One which was held Thursday night was against Sweetwater and Friday night they played Colorado City. Next Tuesday night the Steers take on Snyder in Steer gymnasium. That is not very far to go to see a good basketball game—so come on out, won't you?
The basketball team will participate in its first tournament of this season next weekend at San Angelo. The first game is against Brady at 9 o'clock Friday morning.
Congratulations to the boys who have recently been chosen captains of the Steer Football team by their team mates. They are Alf Cobb, Tommy Whitley, and Jerry Dunlap.
Yesterday the BSHS Vocational Ag Chapter hosted the Area leadership contest. About 400 vocational Ag students from eight districts gathered here to practice parliamentary procedure. The Big Spring radio team, which won first in district contest, competed for the area title. The radio team consists of Mike Lowe, Neal Epper, and Ronnie Crowner. Winners from the area contest will compete for state championship at Huntsville.

Members of the Speech Department are working hard on the material which they plan to use at the speech tournament in Denton, on Dec. 16 and 17. They plan to enter such events as extemporaneous speaking, impromptu speaking, radio speaking, after dinner speaking, debate, poetry reading, etc.
The Shorthand Club elected the staff of their publication, "The Scratch." Editors are Ilameta Carr and Deanna O'Brien. Judy Johnson and Dreda Wilson will serve as co-editors; stenographers are Lyn Clawson, Lillian Burnett, Cheryl Jones, and Kathy Soidan. Society editors are Freeda Eudy and Jacie Clark; art editors, Mary Walker and Rita Wilson; sports editors, Gwen Proctor and Elena Patterson; feature editors, Lida Fiveseah and Wanda Boatler.
Yesterday the junior class held a rummage sale to raise money to sponsor the Jr-Senior Prom.
Last night the Chi-Rho Tri-Hi-Y sponsored a Fall Semi-Formal at the Y. They also invited the sophomore and junior Tri-Hi-Y Clubs and their dates.
Elena Patterson was the winner of the contest held by the annual staff to see who could sell the most annuals. As a reward for selling 103 books Elena received $25.

Sharon Gary received $10 for coming in second.
Friday morning all three chapters of the Future Homemakers heard Mrs. Katherine Crawford, new Howard County home demonstration agent, speak.
The junior class still has a few student directories left. If you haven't bought yours, now would be a good time to do so. They can be a big help when you are making out your Christmas card list.
Last Monday night the Tri-Hi-Y Clubs held a joint meeting and as a program they saw a fashion show sponsored by Swartz Jr. Shop. Models were Kay Crowner, Wanda Boatler, Janie Harrington, Lyn Clawson, Carolyn Thompson, Carla Sledge, Alice Bedwell, Alice Lang, Jan Graham, Barbara Clark, Louise Jackson, Brenda Cosper, Darla Moore, Jane Tamplin, Bonnie Bada, Norma Graves, and Sara Manuel.
Tomorrow afternoon after school the Senior Gift Committee will meet in the library. This committee consists of Lyn Clawson, Elena Patterson, Richard Atkins, Doyleyne Watkins, Alf Cobb, Tim Williamson, and Mike Worley.
See you at the game Tuesday night.

FHA Holds Progressive Dinner At High School

By DARLA DUNAGAN
Monday, Nov. 28, the Forsan FHA held a Progressive World Dinner in the different rooms of the Forsan High School. First enjoyed was a trip to Hawaii where everyone was entertained by the senior girls. Here they had appetizers of fruits on bamboo sticks. Cieta Newson, Verna Draper and Judy Banks did a welcome hula dance.
Next was the country of Mexico, where avocado salad was served. The junior girls furnished the entertainment, which consisted of a skit in Spanish. Then everyone formed a circle around a pinata, which was filled with candy. Everyone took turns trying to break it.
Turkey was the location of our main course. This was furnished by the sophomore girls. Lanell Overton told a fable about Turkey and Blanche Radtke read a letter everyone had put in Turkey. The dessert was eaten Holland. Here the freshmen served pineapple sherbet and cookies which were made by a favorite recipe from Holland.
The dinner was very successful and enjoyed by everyone.
Next Monday night is the FHA Christmas party. Everyone is to bring a toy and give it to the one whose name was drawn. After the party the toys will be put in a box and sent to a children's hospital.

The girls basketball team did very well in the HCJC tournament. They won third place after playing five games. Everyone played outstanding ball. Carla Jo Hughes was named most valuable guard and Darla Dunagan got all-tournament guard.
Dec. 8, 9 and 10 is the Forsan Invitational Boys and Girls Basketball Tournament. The teams entered are Stanton, Klondike, Water Valley, Coahoma, Garden City, Sterling City, Westbrook and Forsan. The first game will be played at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday when the Sterling City girls meet Westbrook. We would like to see everyone at our tournament.
The past week the Forsan boys were entered in Ira's Invitational Tournament.
Tuesday night the Forsan girls basketball team played Ira at Forsan. The final score was in Ira's favor, 32-31.
The seniors are selling tickets for a raffle to be given away during the Forsan tournament. Everyone is urged to buy a ticket. This money goes to help the seniors finance their senior trip at the end of the year.
The juniors are selling candy to raise money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. The candy is very good, and anyone who buys a box of it will surely enjoy it.

3,000 Converted

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — During an 18-day evangelistic mission in Korea led by 13 American Methodists this fall, more than 3,000 Koreans committed their lives to Christ, the Methodist board of Evangelism reports. It said most of the new converts are students.

Film Is Psychiatric Study Of Call Girl

A provocative social psychoanalytical study of a contemporary problem forms the basis for Warner Bros. "Girl of the Night," at the Ritz Theatre.

Anne Francis stars in the title role with Lloyd Nolan portraying the analyst who attempts to guide her back to a more normal way of life. Kay Medford and John Kerr are also starred in the Vanguard Production as a worldly woman and the young man who lives off of Miss Francis and her earnings.

"Girl of the Night" was based on the Ph.D. thesis prepared by Dr. Harold Greenwald at Columbia University and subsequently published as "The Call Girl," immediately becoming a non-fiction best seller. It was adapted for the screen by Ted Berkman and Raphael Blau, who previously had scripted "Fear Strikes Out."

In detailing the struggle of a young woman to understand and rehabilitate herself with the aid of an analyst, "Girl of the Night" faithfully brings to the screen the factual material which was disclosed by Dr. Greenwald's trail-blazing study.

Lloyd Nolan, regarded as an "actor's actor" by his colleagues, has won the Donaldson and New York Drama Critics' awards.

Nolan's role as a psychoanalyst in "Girl of the Night" is in sharp contrast to his stage triumph as the psychotic officer in "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

Showbiz Tutors For Montand

As an added bonus to Jerry Wald's production of "Let's Make Love," the Marilyn Monroe-Yves Montand-Tony Randall-Frankie Vaughan starrer at the Jet Theatre, there will be cameo appearances by three men who are tops in their respective, entertainment fields.

In the picture Yves Montand, a billionaire turned entertainer, is in competition for Miss Monroe with Frank Sinatra, a song and dance man.

In order to be at his best in the love-match, Montand hires the services of some experts to aid him in his quest. To teach him the art of warbling he enlists the aid of Groaner, Bing Crosby. For the fine art of comedy he calls on "Uncle Milly" Berie and for the fine points of the dance, none other than Gene Kelly.

Top Tunesmiths For MM Movie

Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen, of Hollywood's Tin Pan Alley have once again run the tunesmith's bell in Jerry Wald's "Let's Make Love." In addition to the title tune, they penned "Incurably Romantic," "Specialization," "Hey You With The Crazy Eyes," and "The Pop Singer's Lament." Cole Porter's "My Heart Belongs To Daddy," puts the icing on the musical cake.

She Screams

Lovely British actress, Barbara Shelley, ordinarily a very quiet, reserved person, became the noisiest performer on the set for a scene in MGM's "Village of the Damned," in which she co-stars with George Sanders. In the scene, Barbara immerses her hand in a pot of supposedly boiling water and she had to react effectively. She did. Her scream could be heard two blocks from the set!

Gogi's Daring Act — She Just Sings

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

Gogi Grant is a wisp of a lass with an incredibly big voice and a steadily growing following of fans. Some critics regard her as the best blues singer since Helen Morgan, a judgment that was enhanced several years ago when her name was chosen to dub the Helen Morgan songs in the film biography of the late great flame of the '30s.

Recently Miss Grant, who records for Liberty Records, made her New York supper club debut and managed to amaze the critics and electrify the audience with a very daring act.

The act was daring in that throughout her whole hour-long presentation Gogi neither did a strip tease, nor was tossed around by chorus boys, nor did she venture into the audience to kiss bald men on the dome or trade quips with the credit card customers.

All she did was stand there, in very modest décolletage, and sing. Most of the time, she ignored the microphone and belted it out concert style without benefit of gimmicks, echo chambers, trick arrangements or naughty lyrics.

The songs ranged from "The Wayward Wind" and "Suddenly, There's a Valley," her million-selling pop records, to an Israeli folk song, a melody of Helen Morgan songs and an exquisitely sensitive rendition of "The Village of St. Bernadette."

Her daring act reached its daring climax when Gogi dared to wind up with a sighing, sentimental ballad that left the patrons in awed silence, prisoners of her li-gery high notes, instead of winding up with a belting jazz number that would have had them whistling and clapping and pounding the table for more. Gogi, who can belt with the best of them, chose mood over mayhem, and won.

Her enthusiastic reception offered hope that Liberty will waste no time getting out an album of "Gogi at the Plaza" and confirmed suspicions that girls, especially girls who can sing, are coming back in style again in the music business.

Variety was not a problem for the MGM hairdresser called upon to create a shoulder-length bob for six nine-year-old girls who play vital roles in "Village of the Damned."

The young ladies are cast as supernatural children with evil powers in the science-fiction drama, and they had to look as alike as possible. As a result, their hairdos were identical.

"Girl of the Night" sets two precedents in motion picture production: In addition to being the first film to be based on a Ph.D. thesis, it is the first in which the leading characters were extensively psychoanalyzed before shooting began.

Anne Francis, Lloyd Nolan, Kay Medford and John Kerr are starred in the film which is based on Dr. Harold Greenwald's social psychoanalytical study, subsequently published as "The Call Girl" and a non-fiction best seller.

Prior to launching filming on the actual New York locations, Dr. Greenwald discussed the motivations of each of the principal characters with the stars and the producer and director to assure a more complete understanding in their interpretations.

Greenwald interviewed and analyzed twenty high fee "girls" in preparing his original thesis for a Ph.D. at Columbia University. He learned, for example, that three out of four of the girls attempt suicide at one time or another.

In the film, Nolan portrays an analyst who undertakes the rehabilitation of one of these girls—portrayed by Anne Francis. Miss Medford plays a madam, and Kerr plays a young man living off of Miss Francis.

George Sanders, often listed among Hollywood's best-dressed actors, didn't have to spend any of his time in the MGM wardrobe department for his new role in "Village of the Damned."

Sanders was able to fill the bill merely by selecting an assortment of clothes from his personal wardrobe.

Horror Film Has Super Children Against World

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Village of the Damned," starring George Sanders and the British actress, Barbara Shelley, plays at the Ritz Thursday.

Laid almost entirely in the picturesque hamlet of Letchmore Heath in southern England, the picture was filmed on location in the story's locale, with two motion picture units taking over the entire village for a period of several weeks. This gave the story an authenticity it could not have achieved had it been filmed on studio sound stages.

This is what it is about: Without warning or explanation, every inhabitant of Letchmore Heath, within a certain radius of the village, is subjected to a blackout. The driver and passengers of a wrecked bus appear to be dead. An investigating plane crashes. Even the animals fall into unconsciousness.

In a matter of hours everyone recovers from the blackout, apparently unharmed. But something uncanny has happened in this interim, which manifests itself two months later. Twelve women in Letchmore Heath find themselves pregnant, among them four unmarried women. Six boys and six girls are born to them. By the time they are nine years old, it is apparent that these supernatural children have powers of mental telepathy and are of evil intent. Feeling themselves to be menaced by the normal world, they are responsible for two suicides and plot to annihilate the entire village.

One of these children, David, was born to Anthea Zellaby (Barbara Shelley), wife of the noted physicist Gordon Zellaby (George Sanders). David appears to be the leader in the evil machinations of the others and when his father reluctantly comes to the conclusion that these supernatural children cannot be permitted to live, David is able to read his mind.

What happens in this struggle for supremacy between normal and supernatural forces? What plan

SANDERS & SHELLEY
Visitation in the night

does the physicist evolve to out-mastermind the juvenile monsters who can determine in advance his every thought and move? How does Anthea react to the conclusion of British officials that these frightening children, among them her own son, must not be permitted to survive?

These are the questions that are finally resolved in the climax of "Village of the Damned."

Michael Gwynne and Laurence Naismith head a group of British players in support of Sanders and Miss Shelley, with David enacted by the juvenile actor, Martin Stephens, who was seen as the son of Deborah Kerr and Rossano Brazzi in MGM's "Count Your Blessings."

"Village of the Damned" is based on John Wyndham's novel, "The Midwich Cuckoos," with the screen play written by Stirling Silliphant, Wolf Rilla and George Barzley. It was directed by Wolf Rilla and was produced by Ronald Kinnoch.

THE INVINCIBLE MONET

By C. P. WEEKES

Appletton-Century-Crofts, $4.50

Claude Monet was born 120 years ago above a grocery store in Paris, and in 1916 he died at Giverny, on the Seine, where he lived more than 40 years. His father, the grocer, didn't do well with his store and in Claude's childhood moved to Le Havre where, in association with a brother-in-law, he prospered. In fact he hadn't a good business head in any field: He refused effective financial support to the son who, ultimately one of the wealthiest artists of his generation, had nothing to do with him at the end.

The boy began as a caricaturist and sold well in a Le Havre art shop, Boudin, also of Le Havre, befriended him, an aunt helped out and off he went to Paris for a career. From the first, to the annoyance of aunt and parents, he stayed defiantly out of traditional academic paths. He studied only under duress with Gleyre; his companions were Jongkind, Pissarro and later, Sisley, Bazille and Renoir. He was traditional enough to have a mistress, Camille, and they had two children; but the popular, mostly American notion of artists living luridly in sin is belied in his case, as others, by the facts that he appears to have been faithful to her, that he married her, and that she died, tragically, of hardships imposed on her selflessly by her enduring love for a man who couldn't keep the wolf from the door.

For about 15 years Monet barely did keep alive. "No bread, no wine, no fuel, no light" for a solid week, he would complain, and again, "I have not one sou!" If there was an acquaintance from whom he didn't abjectly beg, it was just because the man was as poverty-stricken as himself. Yet he maintained an indomitable confidence in plain airisms, in the pictures originally ridiculed as "Knitted"—an apt description, too, if it had not been meant hatefully. And through it all, and later after success came, he turned out those 20th Century masterpieces like the series of haystacks, lily beds, Rouen cathedral and Paris railroad station.

We're familiar with the more spectacular careers of Van Gogh and Gauguin. But it could be that the Monet story is the hardest luck story of them all. Weekes concentrates on the hardships; he's a little cursory about some contemporaries—Bazille for instance was a better painter than he actually was, and he's a much needed biography, and it doesn't overstate by one penniless week or breadless meal the terribly high price a man may have to pay for genius.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH AP Newsletters

Two simultaneous issues by Israel honor Henrietta Szold, founder of the women's Zionist Organization, Hadassah, and the 25th Zionist Congress.

The Szold stamp which portrays the first president of Hadassah also shows the Hadassah Medical Center in the background. This stamp will be issued on Dec. 14—the centenary of her birth.

Born in Baltimore, Miss Szold left the United States in 1920 to take up residence in Israel and remained there until her death in 1945.

Israel's 50 agorot stamp honoring the 25th Zionist Congress depicts the emblems of the first Zionist Congress which took place in Basle, Switzerland, in 1897 and the forthcoming Congress in Jerusalem.

Last week this column discussed the issuance of the 4-cent U. S. Echo 1 communications "For Peace" stamp which will be placed on first day sale Dec. 15 in Washington, D. C.

The design will feature the balloon-like communications satellite in orbit with a part of the earth in the lower left portion. Radio waves to and from Echo 1 are denoted by arced lines. A single star is shown in the upper central portion. The design was based on a drawing by Ervino Metz of New York.

As stated last week, collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 4-cent Echo 1 stamp should send self addressed envelopes, to gether with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, the Postmaster, Washington 13, D. C. The outside envelope should be clearly marked "First Day Covers 4-Cent Echo 1."

The stamp collection of the late Milton A. Holmes of New Jersey, reputed to be one of the finest United States collections in existence, was sold at auction recently for an amount in excess of $71,000. Top price at the auction was $6,000 for an unused example of the 1909 30-cent with the flags inverted. It is catalogued at $8,000.

The United Nations Postal Administration has made available to collectors a souvenir folder to which is attached all the stamps issued by the United Nations in 1960. The folder is multi-colored, the front illustration showing the U. N. buildings and the back cover bearing a photograph of the ornamental stairway on the U. N. Plaza. The folders are on sale for 95 cents each. Mail orders should be addressed to the U. N. Postal Administration, United Nations, N. Y.

Heavy Criminal Docket Slated

A heavy docket of criminal cases, headed by the five indictments against V. A. Gomez, charged with embezzlement, has been set for this week in 118th District Court.

In the event that the Gomez cases, which are set as No. 1 on the docket, fail to come to trial, Gil Jones, district attorney, said Saturday he is prepared to proceed with the other cases scheduled.

A motion for a continuance in the Gomez cases and a second motion by the state resisting this proposal is on file in the court. Gomez is seeking to postpone trial on the contention his attorney is not available. The state contends that this position is untenable and that it arose unnecessarily—that Gomez knew his cases were set for Monday at the time he employed his present lawyer, Bernard Golding, of Houston.

The other cases set for trial, in the order they will be called:

George B. Anglin, charged with DWI second offense;

Fanciano Lopez, charged with possession of narcotics;

Leslie Mae Wesley, charged with assault with intent to murder;

Dennis Odell Brunson, charged with DWI, second offense;

Grady Rhone, charged with DWI, second offense;

Marshall Butler, charged with assault with intent to murder;

Eladio Zubiate Jr., charged with being a repeater in possession of narcotics;

A jury panel originally comprising 100 members has been notified to be in court at 1:30 p.m. Monday. The forenoon will be devoted to sifting the docket and determining how many of the cases are to go to trial.

It was not definitely known when the motion for a continuance submitted by Golding in Gomez' behalf would be argued. It was assumed it would be the first thing to be cleared up when Judge Ralph Caton calls the docket in the court at 10 a.m. Monday.
