DEAR ABBY

AGE OF UNREASON

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?

I was married to a man for 21 years. I loved him and tried my best to be a good wife and mother. I was happy and thought he was, too.

Out of the blue he told me he was in love with another woman. He packed up and moved out. He left me six months' pregnant with a 14-month-old baby and four older children. The woman he left me for is 12 years younger than I am. He met her at work. She knows our religion doesn't allow divorce and remarriage but she doesn't care. My husband is begging me for a divorce. My heart says no. My friends say yes. I'm all mixed up.

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: The answer to your first question, "What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?" is "Temporary insanity." (This sometimes passes for "love.") Don't make any decisions while you are in an emotional tumult. Your husband may find his way back to the world of reality soon. In the meantime, tell him "No divorce!"

DEAR ABBY: When a hostess has a party and some guests bring other people, and a card table has to be set up in addition to the big dining room table which seats 14, WHO should sit at the card table? My husband says the "extra guests" who were not invited by us. I say my husband should sit at the big table and I should sit at the little one.

NOISE AT OUR HOUSE DEAR ABBY: In the case of two tables—the host should sit at one, and the hostess at the other.

DEAR ABBY: A boy wrote in telling you he thought it was a "sin" for his mother, who was 44, to have a baby. Well, I don't think it's a "sin," but I have news for you—I doubt if any woman in her right mind would go in for it, at age 44, on purpose.

I am 42 and have a new grandchild. My daughter went on a trip and I am caring for her baby. I've been up for three days and three nights and I can't see straight—but the baby is still going strong. Women past 40 should leave well enough alone, and let the younger ones increase the population. I have no sympathy for them, and neither will their husbands. They'll sleep through it all.

DEAD TIRED CONFIDENTIAL TO G. K.: Place a raw beefsteak over your eye and then place a two-inch strip of adhesive tape across your mouth.

Watermelon Lad Dies Of Cancer

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The plucky boy with cancer whose wish for fresh watermelons touched thousands of hearts, is dead.

Little Danny McDougald, 6, of Bluffton, S. C., took a turn for the worse at home Tuesday and was taken to Savannah's Memorial Hospital, where he died about an hour after arrival.

Danny had been in and out of hospitals since September when doctors discovered he had cancer of the lymph glands.

Early this month the youngster told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McDougald, that he would like to have some watermelon. His request reached as far as Miami, Fla., where Mayor Robert King ordered a watermelon flown from Honduras.

Danny enjoyed the watermelon just as he did the Christmas presents that were given him ahead of time.

President Gets Annual Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is in Walter Reed Army Hospital, completing the second phase of his annual medical checkup.

Eisenhower entered the hospital Tuesday night after a White House reception for Chief Justice Earl Warren and the eight associate justices of the Supreme Court. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and other top judicial and legal officers of the government.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President feels fine but wanted to finish his physical examination. The first phase of the checkup was Sept. 15 and 16. Eisenhower is expected to stay in the presidential suite at Walter Reed until sometime Thursday.

Tower, Defeated Republican Candidate, Will Run Again

DALLAS (AP) — Republican John G. Tower, declaring himself "the only genuine conservative candidate," Tuesday announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate. The former Wichita Falls government professor, defeated in his race for the Senate seat in the Nov. 8 general election, said: "I think I can win without a runoff."

Tower was defeated by Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson after a heated campaign and a strong race.

Tower told a press conference that the biggest job facing Congress is "to put the brakes on these purported liberal schemes which can debase our currency and undermine our rights."

He said he is "the only genuine conservative candidate now in the race." He implied that former Sen. William A. Blakley of Dallas, a well-known conservative and an announced candidate, leans toward the liberals.

"What is a 'new frontier' conservative," he said, referring to Blakley's support of the Democrats in the general election. He called U.S. Rep. Jim Wright and State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, both candidates in the special Senate race, "certainly liberals."

He said "Gonzalez is a well known liberal, the darling of the ultra-liberals." He claimed Wright voted with conservative congressmen only 28 per cent of the time.

The 35-year-old Tower, labeling the Republican platform versus the Democratic platform as "reason vs. radicalism," said the GOP platform is more realistic and more conservative than the Democratic.

He said he would campaign on his conservative platform he used in the general election. He then polled 926,653 votes while Johnson received 1,306,325.

He describes himself as a moderate in civil rights, a believer in "fiscal responsibility," an opponent of deficit government spending and an advocate of states rights, "state responsibility," and freeing "agriculture from federal subsidy and control."

Tower's announcement Tuesday apparently gave no answer to speculation that former Gov. Alan Shivers will enter the race. Shivers said in New York that he had no comment except that "I still have it under consideration."

Some political observers said earlier they did not believe Tower would run if Shivers sought the job.

Tower said he will have "the support of the GOP organization." He said he conferred Tuesday with State Republican Chairman Thad Hutcheson at Houston and National GOP Chairman Thruston Morton by telephone.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the staunch Republican conservative from Arizona, came to Texas to campaign for Tower in the general election. He also received support from former Gov. Coke Stevenson and former Gov. Dan Moody.

Date for the special election has not been set since Gov. Price Daniel cannot call it until Johnson resigns. Blakley will be appointed interim senator following Johnson's resignation.

Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats will hold primaries. Under new laws, a runoff will be held if no candidate receives a majority vote over all the other candidates.

Prober Silent On Testimony

BEAUMONT (AP)—Rep. Tom James of Dallas Tuesday declined to reveal his testimony before a Jefferson County grand jury but declared again the Beaumont-Port Arthur area "is the prime problem in the breakdown in law enforcement" in Texas.

The vice chairman of the Texas House General Investigating Committee called "organized crime here the oldest, the best organized and the most open to the public of anywhere in the state." Tom Hogan of Port Arthur, the grand jury foreman, and James refused to discuss testimony in the 90-minute hearing, although James later talked with newsmen. James said the committee singled out Beaumont for investigation on the recommendation of the Department of Public Safety. He said the committee asked the DPS to pinpoint particular areas in the state where there had been particularly flagrant breakdowns of law enforcement.

GROUND WORK

"They told us Amarillo and the Beaumont-Port Arthur area," James said. "Ground work had already been laid in Amarillo and the committee moved into the Panhandle. When we finished the investigation in Amarillo we started studying the possibility of an investigation in Beaumont and Port Arthur."

James said the raid by Texas Rangers in Beaumont 11 days ago "was actually a springboard for the investigation now under way." Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin invited James to testify before the grand jury after the legislator last week charged that wide open gambling, prostitution, open saloons and the narcotics trade flourished in this Texas Gulf Coast area. The House committee instructed James to appear.

James told newsmen before the hearing he would ask the jury to excuse Griffin from a portion of his testimony. He said that if the jury did not do so he would withhold some of his testimony. Griffin waited in an aide's room while James testified.

James, asked by reporters why the investigation centered here instead of Port Arthur, replied: "It was physically impossible to assemble enough people to raid all the known places where vice flourishes in Jefferson County, so we were unable to raid in Port Arthur."

"The fact we raided only places in Beaumont does not mean that vice does not exist in Port Arthur. Members of the committee were in Port Arthur about a week ago and found gambling, prostitution and liquor violations prevalent there."

James said at a news conference before going before the grand jury that last week Griffin "assured me of his cooperation with the inquiry of our committee. Statements he has made since then lead me to doubt the sincerity of his offer."

INCONSISTENT
"His charge that a problem of narcotics does not exist in Jefferson County is inconsistent with the facts as he himself has stated them," James said.

He said that at the request of Griffin the DPS had sent undercover agents to Beaumont to help determine the sources of a heavy traffic in marijuana and barbiturates.

The legislator said in spite of the fact that the names of the agents were revealed only to the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department and the Beaumont Police Department.

Lion Turns Up On Pastor's Porch
TEMPLE (AP)—A baby lion, believed stolen from the Jesse James Trading Post in Dallas Sunday, turned up on the porch of a Presbyterian minister's home here Tuesday.

The Rev. Houston Hodges said he received a telephone call from an unidentified person telling him that if he looked on his front steps he would find a baby lion in a cardboard box.

The minister said the caller told him it was the same lion that had been taken from Dallas.

The Rev. Mr. Hodges called police and said, "You probably won't believe this, but I have a kidnapped lion."

The lion is being kept at the police station until the Dallas owners claim it.

Tax Issue Hurts State, Expert Says

DALLAS (AP)—Inability to put Texas' financial house in order and to leave it alone for any length of time is harming the state's industrial development, the executive director of the Texas Research League declared today.

Alvin Burger also told the Dallas Rotary Club that the legislature convening next month must raise $217 million in new taxes of the 1961-1963 biennium.

"Our apparent inability to put our state's financial house in order and let it alone for any length of time is the big minus in our state tax policy as it affects industrial development," he said.

He recalled that the legislature enacted new tax bills in 1950, 51, 54, 55, 57 and "the whopping tax bill of 1959."

"The state could get by another two years—or possibly four—with more selective taxes, including rate increases on some present ones," Burger said. "But if fiscal stability is believed to be a worthy objective, that objective will not be achieved by continuing along the selective tax route."

Without recommending specifically either of them, Burger mentioned as broad-based new taxes a 2 per cent sales tax he said would yield $125 million a year, or a personal income tax of 1½ per cent which he estimated would raise $104 million.

He mentioned also the payroll-earnings tax of 1 per cent, shared jointly by employer and employee, which the governor's state fiscal advisory committee proposed recently as a $100 million a year revenue source. He said too little was now known about the tax to evaluate it.

"In our preoccupation with state problems, let's not overlook what goes on in Washington," Burger said. "The so-called new frontier includes some federal aid proposals of questioned need and doubtful merit."

He said the state tax problem "can't be solved in a vacuum." "Taxes for all government—federal, state and local—this year will take $125 billion from the pockets of our taxpayers," Burger said. "This amounts to about 30 per cent of our national income. It is almost as much as the American people are now spending on food, clothing and shelter combined."

He said about $36 billion of the total tax bill went to state and local governments and about $88 billion to the federal government.

Invention Claimant Awarded Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man who charged a group of manufacturers with stealing his idea for a device to help babies walk was awarded $225,000 damages today.

A Superior Court jury returned a verdict in favor of William H. Reinholz, 57, after a six-week trial. His suit was directed against American Pipe & Steel Corp., Hemet Aircraft Corp., and four men identified as officers of the companies.

Reinholz claimed he had showed his island baby walker to the defendants more than six years ago. He said they later set out to manufacture it under the name Ricky Jr. Bouncy Walker without offering him compensation.

Entertainers Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball were named defendants in the original suit because they had licensed the use of the name Ricky Jr. The case against them was dismissed.

VA Christmas Plans Scheduled

"Visit a veteran in the Veterans Administration Hospital during the Christmas holidays," V. J. Belda, local VA hospital manager, urged today.

"Patients appreciate a personal visit above all else at Christmas," he said. It lets them know they are not forgotten by their friends or the community.

Belda added, "If you can't visit, write a letter, but try to spend a little time with patients who will not be able to leave the hospital during the holidays."

For veterans who will be in the hospital, Belda said the traditional Christmas dinner will be served, including turkey and all the trimmings, except to patients barred from such food by their doctors. Special Christmas activities are being planned at the VA Hospital throughout the holidays.

Sunday, Dec. 18, a group led by Mrs. R. L. Mundt will sing Christmas songs. The annual Christmas party is slated for Dec. 22 and Protestant services in the chapel are planned by Chaplain C. O. Hitt at 9 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. on Dec. 25.

Organizations assisting in preparation of the various Christmas programs include the American Legion and Auxiliary, VFW and Auxiliary, DAV and Auxiliary, Jewish Welfare, Elks, Red Cross, P-TA, WMU of the Baptist Church, Church of God, Forsan Study Club;

And Forsan Home Demonstration Club, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Navy Mothers' Club of Lubbock, World War I Barracks and Auxiliary, Eager Beaver Sewing Club, American Business Club, National Community Catholic Service, Salvation Army and the Gold Star Mothers.

Rape Trial Defendant Takes Poison Pill, Dies

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Leonard Norman Hensley Jr. stood up in the court where he faced rape charges and said, "Judge, I want to take my five o'clock pill."

He died a few minutes later, gasping to his foster uncle and family doctor, "Help me, please, help me I took..."

Doctors at Baptist Memorial Hospital said Hensley, 20, poisoned himself late Tuesday, apparently by swallowing cyanide.

His death followed a brief struggle with a bailiff and other officers who sought to handcuff him after Dist. Judge Archie Brown raised the youth's bond from $5,000 to $50,000.

Brown acted on testimony from the uncle, the boy's foster father and a psychiatrist that Hensley was dangerous, mentally ill and incapable of telling right from wrong.

Hensley's trial on charges of repeated criminal assaults on a teen-age housewife and mother of two children had halted until the court determined whether the youth was sane enough to stand trial.

Brown, at the close of the day's testimony, dismissed the jury and recessed court until 9:30 a.m. today after ordering the increase in bond and directing bailiff C. J. O'Neil to take Hensley into custody.

Spectators said Hensley popped something into his mouth as O'Neil approached, then began struggling with the bailiff. O'Neil and two other officers handcuffed him and took him from the courtroom.

Red Chinese Cast Out Love For Hate

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — A decade ago

Mao Tse-tung's newly created People's Republic of China threw its Red shadow across an alarmed Asia. Today, the lengthening shadow has crept half way across the earth to the Americas.

Despite the fact that his regime has been branded an outlaw for its aggression in Korea and against Tibet, Mao's ambassadors sit in chanceries from Baghdad to New Delhi, from newly independent Guinea to Afghanistan.

He has walked into the Americas by way of Fidel Castro's Cuba, 90 miles from the U.S. mainland.

And despite 10 years of bitter U.S. opposition, Mao stands at the threshold to the United Nations. The world's leaders conceded that a disarmament treaty without his assent would be little more than a scrap of paper.

In his 66th year, this round-faced, toby-browed son of peasants has been raised by his Communist followers to the eminence of a demi-god. His words, actions and even his thoughts are holy writ for 650 million people.

One of the most powerful men on earth, much of his power is based on the most debilitating of human emotions—hate.

The China he rules is fanned daily by hatred of a dozen different and terrifying kinds—hatred of the United States, hatred for rich landlords, for counter-revolutionaries, for Chiang Kai-shek, hatred for anyone who fails to conform.

"Hated," said a traveler recently returned from Mao's China, "has become an institution, particularly hatred for the United States. It is horrible to see this vast human machinery run by only one fuel—hatred. If it used love, instead, it could become the most powerful nation on earth."

The catechism for the party faithful of Communist China is Mao's collected works. A fourth edition which appeared Oct. 1 has been quoted approvingly by Communist leaders in recent weeks. Unfortunately for the peace of mind of the West, the language is warlike.

"Politics," Mao said, "is war that sheds no blood while war is blood-shedding politics." In the next breath he adds, "We Communists are opposed to all kinds of unrighteous war that impedes progress toward communism but are not opposed to righteous wars that promote progress."

Coupled with this kind of talk, Peiping's propagandists boast of the rapid build-up of a national militia which they claim will put 200 million men under arms, and warn the United States that it will be crushed in any future war.

The image the world sees, the one Mao apparently wishes to project, is of a growing China, almost arrogantly unafraid of any enemy no matter how big.

Nixon (Quaker) Gets Baptist Vote

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—When the 191-member Texas Baptist Executive Board balloted for a new chairman here Tuesday, Dr. K. Owen White of Houston won by a landslide, but Vice President Richard M. Nixon received one vote.

Tellers counting votes said it was impossible to tell which member voted for Nixon.

Board officials said they were not surprised that a die-hard Republican might vote for his favorite candidate, but were slightly perturbed by the fact that Nixon is a Quaker, not a Baptist.

Hawks Register 79-60 Victory

HCJC pulled out all stops in the last half to vanquish Allen Academy in a basketball exhibition here Tuesday night, 79-60.

The Jayhawks, now 7-2 on the season and nursing a modest four-game winning streak, trailed by one point at the intermission after being down by as much as 11 midway through the first half.

The visiting Rattlers were beating the Hawks on the boards and were coming up with some amazing shots from the field.

Coach Buddy Travis dispatched his "little boys" onto the court, however, with instructions to carry the fight to the enemy and they did just that.

When the regulars returned to action, they took charge and virtually dominated play from that point.

Allen hit an amazing 59 per cent of its shots from the field and first half, connecting 15 times in 26 attempts. The Bryan team tallied off to 30 per cent the final 20 minutes, getting only ten buckets in 31 tries.

HCJC was held to 27 per cent the first half, connecting on only 13 of 36 shots and it seemed that every time the Hawks fired away they were off balance. In the last half, they connected 13 times in 22 attempts for a respectable 59 per cent.

HCJC grabbed off only 23 rebounds all night, stark evidence that the Rattlers were doing a superlative job on the boards.

Allen has now lost eight games, compared to four victories. The defeat by HCJC was its second in two nights against West Texas competition. Odessa had edged the Rattlers by four points on Monday night.

Ronald Weeks, a tremendous all-around performer, led the Hawks in scoring with 24 points and in rebounds with seven. Bill (Red) Edwards and Larry McElyea each wound up with 16 points.

Ralph Townsend kept Allen in contention with a 22-point burst while Ray Smith followed with 11. In preliminary action, HCJC's freshmen dropped a 71-63 verdict.

SUNLAND DARK ON FRIDAY

EL PASO—Sunland Park will be dark on Friday for the first time this season. Racing resumes Saturday with the feature attraction billed The Toys For Tots Purse.

In cooperation with the 19th Rifle Company U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, Sunland will admit patrons free in exchange for a useful toy.

The Marines will have collection boxes at the general admission entrance and distribute the toys to deserving children in the area at Christmas time.

For HCJC, Dorothy Williams zeroed in for 17, Mary Griffin had 15 and Betty Ellison 13.

Estela Lee Leftwich tossed in 26 points for HSU while Karen Hamm followed with 15. Sandra Thompson had nine, Joan Robinson four, Delores Shelmutt three and Linda Myers two.

Green Bay leads the parade now with a 7-4 record, but Baltimore, San Francisco and Detroit all are 6-5. Baltimore faces San Francisco Sunday, and Chicago is at Detroit.

Green Bay was better in the mud than San Francisco last Sunday, but the Rams upset Baltimore, playing superlative defensive football.

"We're getting our defense set for the Packers," said Line Coach Don Paul. "Jim David and I figure on using somewhat the same defense we employed against Baltimore—lots of hard tackling and a hard charge."

David, defensive backfield coach, said Ollie Matson, veteran ball carrier, will be called upon again for defensive duty. Matson's play against Baltimore was instrumental in crimping Johnny Unitas' passing.

Head Coach Bob Waterfield is convinced that the Rams are going to be winners in another year or so, but he is pessimistic about the Green Bay game. He says that quarterback Frank Ryan, ends Del Shofner and Gene Brito and tackle Lou Michaels are sidelined and that the physical condition of the team is the "worst it has been all year."

Middle guard Les Richter says Green Bay's strong running game, spearheaded by Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, is working because of the great work of blocking guards Fred Thurston and Jerry Kramer.

"They're the best guards we've seen all season," says Richter. "Their performance last Sunday against San Francisco was the big equalizer in that mud. I don't want to take anything away from Hornung and Taylor, but they get going behind some really fine blocking. We want to spoil things for the Packers, though, because we own them nothing."

The Packers arrive today from San Francisco and will complete their conditioning in Santa Monica.

George Ryan again led Big Spring with 16 points, followed by Dick Ebling, who had 15.

For Colorado City, Buddy Compton stepped out to set the pace with 21 while Jon Moore responded with 15.

Big Spring's B team won its sixth straight decision in the opener, turning back the Colorado City reserves, 42-40.

In that one, Jeff Brown and Jerry Tucker each tossed in 12 points for Big Spring while Charles Houston counted 16 for Colorado City.

The Steers return to action in Big Spring Friday, at which time they oppose Lamesa, the defending state title in Class AAA.

LA Rams Aim For An Upset On Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers have one of the soundest ground games in the National Football League, but the Los Angeles Rams hope to upset them here Saturday and scramble the Western Conference race.

If the Packers win, they are divisional champions and face the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL playoff. If they lose, there will have to be a play-off, with the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Green Bay in the picture.

Favored Tarheels Are Topped By Wildcats

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky is no longer the college basketball power it was in the good old days, but the Wildcats can still pull one out of the bag once in a while.

They did Tuesday night, turning back favored, previously unbeaten and fifth-ranked North Carolina 70-65.

Trailing 27-35 at halftime, the Wildcats roared back in the second half behind the slick shooting of Ned Jennings and Bill Lickert.

It had to be a good night for at least one other Kentucky school because Louisville and Western Kentucky were matched in the finals of the Bluegrass Tournament, the first major tourney of the season. Ninth-ranked Louisville won 86-71 to lift its record to 7-0. Utah State settled for third place by downing Georgia Tech 87-62.

Cincinnati showed it can win without Oscar Robertson, while West Virginia did the same without Jerry West. Both All-Americans were lost through graduation. The Bearcats beat Loyola of Los Angeles 74-53, and West Virginia nipped Richmond 75-72. Cincinnati has won four games and lost one, while the Mountaineers are 3-2.

Kentucky's fine free-throw shooting was the difference against North Carolina. The Wildcats hit 28 of 34 and had a stretch of 18 straight in the second half until they missed one. Jennings scored 19 points. Larry Pursell had 17, including 11 of 11 from the free-throw line, while Lickert had 16, including a second half basket that sent Kentucky in front to stay.

John Turner, named the most valuable player in the Bluegrass competition, led Louisville with 25 points. He had 11 of 11 free shots. Charles Osborne had 17 points for Western Kentucky, which suffered its initial setback.

Utah State had to put down a Georgia Tech rally to put down the consolation game. The Engineers, trailing by nine at the intermission, closed the gap to 63-62 with 47 seconds left. But State put together four straight points to sew it up.

Cincinnati sank 14 of 23 field goal attempts in the first half and ran up a 32-21 half-time lead over Loyola. Bob Wiesenhahn, usually a defensive standout, headed the Bearcat offense in the first half with 11 points and finished with 17. Teammate Paul Hogue led both teams with 20 points.

San Angelo's Lake View girls won a 48-46 thriller over Garden City. Saunders hit 31 points for Garden City while Linda Wagner had 27 for Lake View.

In the boys' B contest, Big Lake won, 44-32. Tommy Grant and Don Thompson each counted seven points for Garden City.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Byron (Whizzer) White, who likely will fit somewhere into President-elect John Kennedy's cabinet, made a lasting imprint on the memory of Cotton Bowl fans who saw the 1938 game between Colorado and Rice.

Rice, coached by the late Jimmy Kitts, won the game that year, 28-14, but the Owls couldn't corral White.

Ole Cordill, a Big Spring product, was performing in the Rice backfield that day and scored one of the touchdowns which toppled White and his wrecking crew.

Colorado could gain only 87 yards rushing the Rice line that day but the Buffs jumped off to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter and appeared on their way to an upset victory.

Colorado got its first TD on a nine-yard pass from White to Joe Antonio, the left halfback. Whizzer then picked off a Rice pass and returned it 47 yards for a TD. He booted both of Colorado's PAT's.

Unless memory fails me, the four backs honored thusly were Sammy Baugh of TCU (1937), Bobby Layne of Texas (1946), Glenn Dobbs of Randolph Field (1944) and John Kimbrough, Texas A&M (1941).

Most of those who voted in the election to name the all-time Cotton Bowl stars apparently never saw Walker play. Doak remains this writer's idea of one of the truly great SWC players in history but he had far better days than he did in the two Cotton Bowl games in which he appeared.

I happened to cast my vote for Bobby Layne, who had a hand in all of the 40 points scored by Texas in the Longhorns' 40-27 victory over Missouri in 1946.

Layne told me later that he probably looked good because the opposition was weak but the game offered the type of slam-bang action that spectators dearly like to see. Between them, the teams scored ten touchdowns.

That afternoon in Big Dallas saucer, Max Bumgardner—now head coach at San Angelo College—played one end for Texas and the great Hubert Bechtel cavorted at the other terminal. Between them, with Layne passing as he was, they ran the Missouri defense crazy.

Bumgardner took a 48-yard aerial from Layne for the first UT score. Layne then boomed across on a one-yard buck for the second TD. He used the same play to get the third touchdown, passed 15 yards to Bumgardner for the fourth, drifted downfield himself to take a scoring aerial from Ralph Ellisworth, the play covering 50 yards; and bruised across for the final Texas score from two yards out late in the game.

Big Spring's Peppy Blount got into the game briefly as an end for the Longhorns.

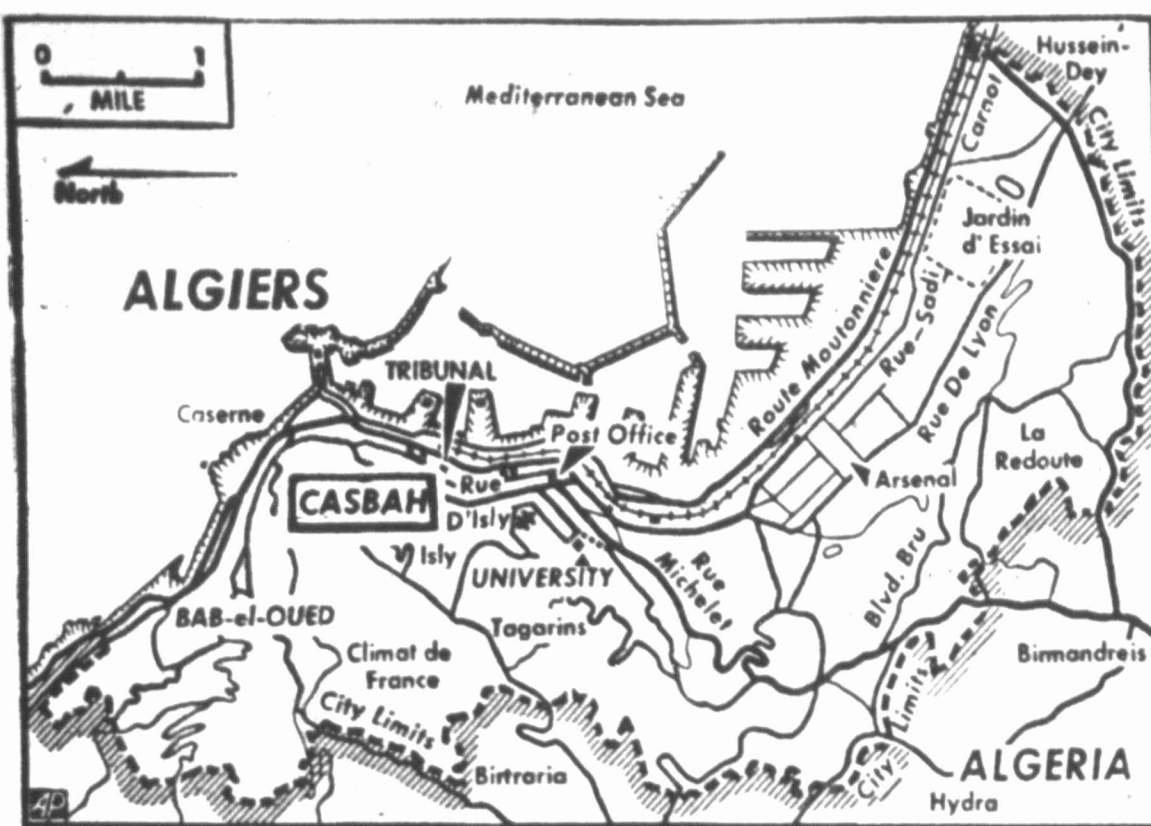

NEW YORK (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson and veteran sports writer Ned Brown are the winners of two of boxing's most important awards.

Patterson, first man to regain the heavyweight title when he knocked out Ingemar Johansson last June 20, was awarded the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as Fighter of the Year by the Boxing Writers Association.

Patterson became the second two-time winner of the Neil award, named in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1938 while covering the Spanish Civil War. He won it first in 1956, the year he won the title the first time at the age of 21. Carmen Basilio, former welter and middleweight champ, was the winner in 1955 and 1957.

Brown, about 78, is employed by the North American News Alliance. He was boxing writer for the New York World from 1903 to 1931. A former president of the Writers' Association, he handled publicity for some recent important title fights and did public relations work for Jack Dempsey. Brown won the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service to boxing."

The writers also voted special awards to Humbert (Jack) Fugazy, veteran promoter; Gen. Melvin Krulwich, chairman of

ALGERS, A CITY IN CONFLICT
Fabled Casbah was center of trouble

Algiers Crisis Remains Grave

ALGERS (AP) — Screaming Moslem rioters and fanatically determined resistance from French settlers today confronted France with the gravest crisis in its attempts to end six years of fighting in Algeria.

No one any longer spoke of fraternity between Moslem and Frenchman after five days of bloody rioting which killed 122 persons and wounded more than 500.

The Moslems, who sustained most casualties, shouted that French bullets had destroyed all hopes of Algerian union with France.

French settlers, fired on by French troops Tuesday for the first time since the riots began, vowed never to accept President Charles de Gaulle's plan for home rule in Algeria.

De Gaulle chopped a day off his tour of Algeria and arrived home in Paris, announcing he will stand by his plan to end the fighting which has bled France white.

De Gaulle left from an airport a few miles outside Bone, where French Foreign Legionnaires fired on Moslems and then directed point-blank fire at marching European settlers.

Among the dead were seven Moslems and two Europeans. Fifty-five persons were wounded.

East, Still Cold, Digs Out Of Storm

By The Associated Press

Slowly, painfully, the Eastern United States, still gripped by an unrelenting arctic cold, dug itself out Wednesday from the worst autumn storm in its history. As it did so, a new storm hit New Mexico and spread across the Southwest.

The toll of storm-related deaths passed 220, and the cost in lost business and in the expense of snow removal ran into millions of dollars.

The cold, which ranged into the below-zero regions in some areas, had a cruel companion: the wind. It stung the faces of motorists trying to dig out from streets still littered with abandoned vehicles. It blew the snow's fine powder into electric-train engines and stalled motors, and it covered ordinary objects with drifting snow and turned them into strange, white shapes.

As millions chopped at ice and shoveled snow, it was no comfort to read that in Moscow, normally one of the icebox cities of the world, the citizens were complaining because unseasonable warmth had ruined the usual skating and skiing.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered out the State National Guard to help clear abandoned vehicles from New York City's snow-clogged streets.

In the Southwest up to 12 inches of snow fell in the high mountains of New Mexico, and snow was general in a belt across West Texas from the Panhandle to the Big Bend country. In the Flatlands the fall was generally six inches or less and in some places was mixed with sleet and rain. The big Eastern storm had started in the Southwest.

On the Eastern seaboard no relief from the subnormal cold was in sight, although some moderation was predicted during today and Thursday.

New York City and the other great Christmas shopping centers of the East suffered grievously from a lack of customers. New York counted the loss in several millions, and department store managements said they doubted they could recoup the lost sales before Christmas Day.

Home deliveries of milk, fuel oil and diapers were scarce, but deliveries of foodstuffs to stores picked up, and the situation was not considered serious.

Transportation improved, although delays on railroads and buses were still expected. Airports resumed full flight schedules.

Dry Skin Victims, Stutterers Find Hope In Medical News

By The Associated Press

Some ski facts, defenses against virus diseases, and a question on anemia are among the week's medical notes.

SKI STOP

A skier weighing 150 pounds and traveling at 30 miles an hour develops a momentum of 6,600 foot-pounds per second. If he stops within two feet, the stopping force is 2,250 pounds.

So it's not surprising that about 80 per cent of all skiing injuries involve the ankles, knees, and legs, comments Dr. William B. McCune in Missouri Medicine.

DRY SKIN TREATMENT

A daily bath in water containing a little oil reduced annoying dryness of skin in 90 per cent of patients, a physician reports.

Their skin became softer and smoother, and patients reported benefits in such problems as aged skin, burn scars, and skin inflammations. The bath is not a cure, and dryness reappears if the bathing is stopped. But Dr. Gustav Weissberg thinks it was more beneficial in relieving skin troubles than ointments, creams and lotions.

VIRUS DISEASE DEFENSES

Researchers have found three types of chemicals which prevent viruses from multiplying without hurting normal cells.

Future studies will show whether these or related substances can be useful in preventing or treating human virus diseases, which include the common cold, flu, polio, and smallpox, says Dr. Igor Tamm of the Rockefeller Institute.

The three virus inhibitors are a synthetic chemical nicknamed HBB, a mold product known as helicine, and substances produced by virus action and known as interferons. Each protects cells in test tubes against viral damage and shows some protective activity in experimental virus infections in animals, he adds.

ANEMIA AND VITAMINS

Proposition: "Anemia is usually caused by vitamin deficiencies."

Wrong, very wrong, says Dr. Richard W. Vilter of the University of Cincinnati.

Most Americans get enough vitamins in their daily food, and not more than four per cent of anemia in this country is due to vitamin deficiency, he reports.

Some 18 per cent of cases are due to iron deficiency from chronic loss of blood and the rest to causes not connected with the diet.

SLEEP PILL

Anxiety is a common cause of insomnia. Tranquilizers can relieve anxiety.

Reasoning that a combination of a tranquilizer and a barbiturate sleeping pill might make it easier to get to sleep, Dr. Wesley W. Bare of Philadelphia tested such a combination on a group of elderly patients.

The combination permitted using less customary amounts of the barbiturate, he said, and worked better than the sleeping pill alone. And patients reported fewer hangovers the next morning from the sleeping drug.

CAUSE OF STUTTERING?

From the psychoanalytic point of view, stuttering consists of a conflict between the traits of loquaciousness and taciturnity, suggests Dr. Joseph C. Solomon, University of California psychiatrist.

When both the motivation to speak and the motivation to remain silent work together, stuttering results. He compares it to keeping the brakes on.

RHEUMATIC HEARTS

Damage to the heart from rheumatic fever can be prevented if steroids, such as the hormone cortisone, are given very early in the disease.

Heart damage occurred in only two per cent of patients if cortisone or another steroid was given during the first week of rheumatic disease, reports Dr. William Likoff of Hahnemann Medical College.

But about half the patients developed heart damage if cortisone was delayed until the second week, and 90 per cent had heart damage if treatment was not begun until the sixth week, statistics show.

Technical Trouble Delays American Shot At Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

—Technical trouble today forced at least a one-day postponement of an attempt to launch an American space craft toward an intended orbit about the moon.

The 368-pound space craft is intended to become the first lunar satellite. Its load of electronic equipment is designed to make the most extensive study yet attempted of the moon's environment.

The countdown on the 96-foot Atlas-Able booster rocket progressed to within seven minutes of the scheduled lift-off time to day when the attempt was called off.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported only that technical difficulties had prevented the launch. It did not reveal the nature of the trouble.

Scientists had only a 21-minute span—from 2:58 a. m. to 3:19 a. m. EST—in which to fire the rocket to put it on the proper course to the moon, 240,000 miles away. When it became apparent the trouble could not be corrected in time, the shot was postponed.

Today was the second day of a five-day period in which the moon is in a favorable position for the launching. If the trouble is minor, another launch effort may be made Thursday. If the Atlas-Able does not get off the ground by Saturday, the shot will be put off until the next ideal period, 28 days from now.

The space craft carries instruments to measure such space phenomena as radiation, magnetic fields and micrometeorites. This data could help prepare for manned flight to the moon.

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Kiz Harp, 29, a jazz celebrity and co-owner of a night club, died unexpectedly Tuesday.

Hawaii Ballot Recount Planned

HONOLULU (AP)—A ballot recount in 34 of this island state's 246 precincts will be made in response to Democratic charges of irregularities in the close presidential election.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was certified the winner over President Elect John F. Kennedy by a margin of only 141 votes. Hawaii has three electoral votes.

Circuit Court Judge Ronald B. Jamieson, in ordering the recount Tuesday, said he would order a complete recount if enough irregularities are disclosed.

Schnozzola Is Noivous

NEW YORK (AP) — James Francis (Schnozzola) Durante, 67, says "this is makin' a noivous wretch outta me."

Durante noivous? Whoops, nervous. Sure, He's getting married today.

The sandpaper-voiced comedian will be wed to Margie Little, 40, a red-haired former show girl from Plainfield, N. J., at the Actor's chapel this afternoon, with the Rev. Thomas de Luca of Troy, N. Y., officiating. The chapel is formally named St. Malachy's Roman Catholic Church, in the theater district.

The wedding was planned to be quiet, but Durante says he has his doubts, what with all the advance publicity.

"Everybody wants to get into da act," he commented, using a line not entirely new to his repertoire.

Marriage License

Jimmy Durante, always the comedian, and his girl friend for 16 years, Margie Little, gag it up as they pose for photographers at New York's marriage license bureau. It is the first marriage for Miss Little, 40-year-old actress. Durante, 67, has been a widower for many years.

Police, Public Works Dept. Get New Vehicles From City

Three new vehicles, two cars and a pickup truck, were purchased at a total cost of $4,337.43 by the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday night.

The purchase includes one police car, and a car and truck for the public works department.

Jones Motor Co. was low bidder on the cars and Tarbox-Gossett submitted low bid on the truck.

The commissioners purchased two 1961 Dodges, trading a 1960 Ford police car and a 1959 Plymouth used in the public works department, at a cost of $2,837.90. The pickup, a 1961 Ford, with trade-in allowed on a 1953 Chevrolet, cost $1,499.53. Another 1960 Ford, a police car, was given the public works department to replace the 1959 Plymouth.

Tarbox-Gossett submitted a bid totaling $3,067.84, including trade-in, for the cars, and Tidwell Chevrolet made a total bid of $3,415 for the cars.

Bids for the truck, with trade-in, included Tidwell, $1,635; Jones Motor Co., $1,606.60, and Driver Truck and Implement, $1,624.

Gulf Oil Co. was low bidder, for the second successive six-month period, to supply the city gasoline, submitting 17.01 cents per gallon for regular gas and 19.01 cents per gallon for Ethyl gas.

Other companies and bids included Cosden, 17.18 cents, regular, 19.15, regular and 21.65, Ethyl; Continental, 17.36, regular, and 20.36, Ethyl; Texaco, 19.89, regular, and 22.14, Ethyl, and Humble, 17.48, regular, and 19.98, Ethyl.

During the six months of the contract period, considered the maximum a company can set a cost, the city uses an average of 19,000 gallons of Ethyl and about 36,000 gallons of regular.

The commissioners approved a new two-year contract with Novice Womack for equalizing and rendering taxable property in the city.

Womack is paid $12,000 a year to perform the service for the city, the county, local public schools and the junior college. The city is the first agent to renew its portion of the contract.

In other business, the commission approved payment of damages to Mrs. Billie Redman, 1005 E. 2nd, whose furnishings were damaged when a sewer backed up and flooded portions of her house. A tentative figure of $117 was set for the damage payment.

Commissioners agreed to continue use of cast iron pipe in the water and sewer extension program, being designed by Forrest and Cotton. Transit pipe, cement asbestos equipment, was suggested as a possible alternate in the design but thrown out as being inferior to the cast iron.

Action Taken To Put Water, Sewer Links On Pro-Rata Plan

Machinery was set in motion Tuesday night to put future water and sewer line connections on a pro-rata, or front foot, basis.

City commissioners approved the first reading of an ordinance setting up pro-rata charges of $2.50 per front foot of lots where water is connected and $1.50 per front foot for sewer connections. Under terms of the ordinance, the city will extend water and sewer mains a distance of 100 feet, plus the distance across necessary lot frontage to provide service when requested by a property owner.

PAY CHARGES

The property owner applying for these extensions would be required to pay the pro-rata charges on all property he owns which is to be served by the extensions. Property owners, who may be served by the extension, pay the pro-rata charge when their property is connected.

Where property is more than 100 feet from existing mains, and extensions are requested, the property owner would pay pro-rata charges, $2.50 and $1.50, for extensions on all property to be served. The cost would be refunded when connections are made between the property and extensions.

DEVELOPERS POLICY

Developers would be required to pay all costs of extensions, with the city refunding the cost of extensions over and above pro-rata charges. When 90 per cent of the lots in an area under development are connected to the extend system, the developer would be refunded all money over the total pro-rata charge.

The ordinance sets five years as the maximum period of eligibility for a developer, or person making the original deposit for the extensions, to connect 90 per cent of the lots and receive the refunds.

Property now platted into lots and which has water and sewer mains would be exempt from the pro-rata charges.

SECOND READING

The commission approved the second reading of the subdivision ordinance which was approved on first reading at the last meeting. An ordinance re-zoning property at 11th Place and Johnson, from A, residential, to E, community business, was approved on final reading, and the salvage yard ordinance was passed on third reading.

Two streets were proposed for inclusion in the assessment paving program, with representative property owners present, but commissioners declined action Tuesday on the basis of a lack of adequate funds.

Mrs. Jim Bob Chaney, Mrs. Charles Buckner and Rex A. Greenwood appeared before the commission requesting pavement on Virginia from 16th to Marcy Dr. Boyd Bryans and Jack Davis requested paving on Aylford from 14th to 15th.

SIGNED PETITION

The Virginia Street representatives said that most property owners had signed a petition to have the street paved. One owner, however, with about 500 feet of property, has held out. If the city picked up that tab the city's share in the paving would amount to more than $3,000.

Commissioners told the group that City Manager A. K. Steinheimer would discuss the paving problem with the property owner in question. If the property owner agrees to pay, the city's share would amount to $680.

On Aylford, a similar situation exists, but on a smaller scale. The share of the cost to the one property owner, who's not ready to pave, amounts to $576. Commissioners said efforts will be made to contact the property owner.

Rice, Cotton Farmers Vote To Continue Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas rice farmers voted 1,274 to 215 to continue marketing quotas and price support program for the 1961 crop.

Nationwide, the growers voted far in excess of the required two-thirds majority to continue the support program which will be available to cooperating farmers at no less than 70 per cent of parity.

Texas cotton farmers also voted by a good majority to continue the support program on that crop. The state's vote was 92.5 per cent in favor.

Howard County cotton producers voted to maintain cotton quotas in 1961.

158 farmers voted to carry the measure and only 18 voted to remove the restrictions, according to Gabe Hammack, office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Martin County residents cast 199 ballots for and 7 against the proposal, reports the Martin County ASC office.

Stanton proper voted 78 for and one against; Lenora, 22-2; Brown, 44-3; Flower Grove, 19-1, and Tarzan, 36-0.

Voters for the cotton quota program must carry the nation by a two-thirds majority to maintain restrictions throughout the United States.

A Devotional For Today

Look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. (John 4:35.)
PRAYER: O Father, may our hearts burn within us for the world's lost millions. Deliver us from the sin of neglect. Awaken us to the need and opportunities to bring others to Christ. Use us as Thou wilt. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

Defender Of The System

Miss Clarice Kline, president of the National Education Association, appeared as a staunch defender of the American system of public school education when she spoke here Monday.

As part of her talk to teachers and patrons, she concurred in the assessment of public schools available to all as perhaps the nation's greatest contribution to civilization. This device, she went on, had been the means of uncovering a vast reservoir of talent overlooked or ignored in other nations. It had opened the door for the "late bloomers," those who find themselves after they complete high school or perhaps after they are well into college. It has provided opportunity of thousands upon thousands which would otherwise have been denied a career in engineering, science, medicine, and other fields. It has opened up a whole new vista which has had its economic repercussions in an unparalleled standard of living.

Why then, contended Miss Kline, would we want to disrupt or overturn the basic pattern in favor of the European and other systems' policy of intensive education for the mentally elite "early bloomers"?

We doubt that there are many, who give the matter much serious thought, who would want to change the basic objectives of our public education. Perhaps the big problem is to continue the opportunities to all and at the same time to provide the intellectual challenge and technical training which the mentally blessed can absorb and which will enable them to rise far, far above the rank of mediocrity. Even here the big problem may not be so much a system of learning as it is to discover, attract and stimulate those with high mental endowments so they will not fritter away their precious gift.

Big Job Coming Up

We can see where the city faces a street maintenance problem of no mean proportions.

The sustained wet weather, coupled with freezing temperatures, has accelerated the rate of deterioration for some old streets. All over town there are pot holes which are mushrooming into chugholes. So long as there is water to collect in them, keep the base soft and furnish an agent for flushing out loosened soil, they are going to get larger. And until the weather turns off, this will be the pattern.

So the city may as well get braced for a big job of repair work, even if on a temporary basis, to make the affected areas passable.

You likely can help by notifying the city of particularly bad places. Street crews do not always know about these immediately. Perhaps in this connection, a bit of interdepartment coordination could be helpful by having police patrol car personnel note the condition of streets and to pinpoint locations in need of urgent repair.

After the spell is all over, there may be some particularly troublesome spots which warrant complete replacement. That may be the more expensive approach at the moment, but it would be good economy in the long run.

Responsibility For Cabinet Selections

WASHINGTON—The American people are witnessing again a travesty on representative government—the selection of the Cabinet by a president-elect.

Not one of the men who will wield tremendous power over a huge department of the Federal government was elected by the people. Not one of them was proposed for Cabinet membership before the election so that the people could have a chance to voice their approval or disapproval.

THE FACT that the same thing would be happening if the president-elect today were a Republican, or that the identical process has been followed again and again in the past by both parties, doesn't make the whole system any more desirable.

To the other democracies of the world, the American system appears to be unrepresentative—the people have little to say, and the vesting of vast powers in one man at the top resembles far more the autocratic than the democratic formula.

In the newspaper reports about prospective members of the Cabinet, the talk is of the political service rendered during the campaign by various personages and the importance of rewarding them. This is a narrow approach. It ignores the greater importance of rewarding the hopes of millions of people who, when they voted for the winning ticket, expected something better than merely political selections.

THE NEW YORK "Times," which editorially supported Senator Kennedy during the campaign, showed its concern recently as it noted newspaper stories about certain persons being considered for high office because of political service rather than ability. The "Times" quoted particularly a campaign speech by Mr. Kennedy in which he said:

"Should I be elected President, it would be my intention to ask the ablest men in the country to make whatever sacrifice is required in bringing to the government a ministry of the best available talent. . . . For no government is better than the men who compose it—and I want the best. . . . All appointments, both high and low, will be made on the basis of ability—without regard to race, creed, national origin, sex, section or occupation."

THE "TIMES" declared that "the premise could not be clearer, the pledge more solemn," and pointed out that, if this pledge means anything, it means that political gratitude will be a totally insufficient reason for appointment to major Federal office."

This, indeed, is what the country as a whole, irrespective of party, expects of the president-elect. What other men did before when they won the presidency doesn't justify a breaking of the splendid pledge given by Mr. Kennedy during the last campaign.

THE FACT IS, however, that the names of many persons who helped in pre-convention or post-convention efforts to win the electoral votes of key states have been bandied about in the press as likely selections. Whether these were trial balloons or whether they reflected the ambitions of certain influential persons trying to mold Mr. Kennedy's decisions is unknown to the public. But it seems certain that if, as rumored, the president-elect is seriously considering some of the names being mentioned, he is disregarding some of the principal points in his pledge.

Picking a Cabinet is no easy task, but the regrettable custom is to satisfy the political leaders and factions and take a chance on popular indifference or lack of interest.

THEORETICALLY the people have something to say about it, as all appointments to the higher posts have to be confirmed by the U. S. Senate. But the Senate is itself political, and it is an unwritten law that, unless an issue involving personal integrity is at stake, the nominations of Cabinet officers, irrespective of party, are promptly confirmed.

But under a parliamentary system—as in Canada—they do it differently. The Cabinet members are themselves veterans of Parliament and are known to the people as the prospective selections long before the election is held. Policy decisions are those of the entire Cabinet and not just of the prime minister. Thus the Cabinet as a whole is responsible to the people.

SUCH A SYSTEM for this country was forecast in February 1913 by President-elect Woodrow Wilson in a letter to the then House Majority Leader, which read in part as follows:

"Sooner or later, it would seem, he (the President) must be made answerable to opinion in a somewhat more informal and intimate fashion—answerable, it may be, to the Houses whom he seeks to lead, either personally or through a Cabinet, as well as to the people for whom they speak. But that is a matter to be worked out—as it inevitably will be—in some natural American way which we cannot yet even predict."

Maybe the time now has arrived for Congress to give serious consideration to a constitutional amendment which would make the Cabinet responsible to the people through both Houses of Congress.

Cool Men Around Kennedy

He has been patiently surrounding himself with a bunch of managers.

Each of his five Cabinet appointments appears to be an extremely well-controlled, unassuming, non-flamboyant individual who so far, at least, has carefully avoided the kind of pronouncements which make headlines.

THE EISENHOWER administration wasn't very old before Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Treasury Secretary George Humphrey were both dominant forces. And President Eisenhower leaned on both tremendously.

None of Kennedy's top appointments has such national prominence that he is apt to overshadow the president. Nothing in the background of any of them indicates he would want to.

With one exception—Stewart L. Udall, Arizona congressman whom Kennedy chose as his secretary of the interior—all the top appointments are men actually coming out of managerial jobs of one kind or other.

Two are governors: Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, the new secretary of health, education and welfare, and Luther H.

Hodges of North Carolina, who will be secretary of commerce.

DEAN RUSK, whom Kennedy named this week as his secretary of state, had in effect a very special managerial job. He was head of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Kennedy's budget director, David Elliott Bell, comes out of Harvard where he was both teacher of economics and secretary of the Littauer School of Public Administration.

Tuesday Kennedy picked Robert S. McNamara right out of a top management job to be his secretary of defense. McNamara is president of the Ford Co.

Even the three men he picked for jobs next to the top or close to it had managerial experience as governors: Rep. Chester Bowles, D-Conn., undersecretary of state; Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, ambassador to the United Nations; and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

The president-elect, in his search for the key men who will help him run the government, apparently sought the best advice he could get on the best men for the jobs when he didn't have strong opinions of his own.

He knew Udall, Ribicoff, Hodges, Bowles, Stevenson and Williams. But he never had met Rusk or McNamara until this past week. And he hardly knew Bell.

Art Discovery

WEST STAYTON, Ore. (AP)—More than 70 years ago, when Homer Davenport was a railroad engine wiper here, he left behind evidence of the talent that made him one of America's best known cartoonists of the early 20th Century.

The evidence is a sketch of his dog Duffy, revealed when boards were pulled away from a rough inside wall at what is now a Southern Pacific warehouse.

Davenport in a book of his life once said of Duffy:

"I liked him more than I did some people and he preferred me to some dogs."

Davenport was a newspaper cartoonist in the early 1900s. He died in 1912 and is buried at nearby Silverton, Ore., his home town.

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter who is 6 has a birthmark between her eye and eyebrow. It is tan and has hair growing from it. She didn't have this at birth but it appeared about four months later. Can this be removed, and if so, without scarring? Can electrolysis be used?"—Mrs. C. P.

Birthmark isn't a very good term. Skin blemish is much better because few, if any, such blemishes have anything at all to do with the process of being born. Personally, I question whether there is any connection.

What you describe sounds like a hairy mole.

From the health standpoint, it is of little importance. Whether it was present, or was recognizable, at birth isn't of any consequence, either. It may have been there when your daughter was born, but not yet have acquired either color or visible hair growth.

Billions of such skin blemishes have existed and have never done the least harm to the possessors of them.

In this case, the basic question is whether the blemish is substantially unsightly. With a girl, this is more important than it is to a boy, although, depending on the darkness of color, the amount of hair, I dare say there are cases in which removal might be warranted for both.

In the opposite direction of thought, there are parents who become too concerned over trifles, and worry about blemishes that nobody else even notices.

If I were you, I'd have my regular physician take a look at this spot, as much for a disinterested opinion on whether it is unsightly, as for a medical aspect that may conceivably be involved.

If, then, you find real reason for having the blemish removed, ask your doctor to refer you to someone of considerable skill in this work, either plastic surgeon or dermatologist who specializes in this sort of thing.

The specialist will be best equipped to advise how to remove it, and whether in this particular case, electrolysis can be used.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to drink coffee or tea? Would we truly be better off without them?"—Mrs. E. K.

No, I don't think we'd be better off without them. In moderate amounts, they do no harm and in my opinion they do some good.

In excessive amounts, coffee and tea can be harmful by causing nervousness, fast heart beat, palpitation, and sometimes digestive upsets. Some people are more susceptible to these side effects than others. The sensitive people are better off without them. For the rest of us, the mild pickup of a cup is useful and good.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain what a mongoloid baby is, and what causes the condition."—S. J.

The mongoloid is one form of mentally retarded child, having as physical characteristics sloping eyes, snub nose, high cheek bones and others which give the condition its name.

There are varying degrees of this. Some mongoloid children look almost normal unless you search for the signs. At the other extreme, some are hardly intelligible in their speech, and are clumsy and awkward all their lives.

The reason mongoloids are born is not known. It may be a defect in the germ plasma or a glandular abnormality. It has been observed that mongoloids are somewhat more common among older rather than young parents, but young parents may have such a child, too. Furthermore, such a child can be born to parents who, either before or afterward, or both, may have perfectly normal children. The cause simply is not known.

Around The Rim

Shortest Distance Between Two Points

There must be something of the primitive man in every little boy.

He is not called upon to huddle in a cave, shivering against the torrents or blizzards that howl outside. Yet, some deep instinct must compel him to gestures of defiance against the elements. Or perhaps it is a rebellion against authority.

For some reason, a boy is loath to walk around a puddle. He may be obliged to detour over an agonizing route to place the puddle squarely in his path, but he'll stomp and splash through—and then stand you down that there was no other way to avoid it.

IT'S THE SAME way with a ditch flowing with water—or a creek that small voice from the ages before bridges whispers to a boy—"ford that stream, wade in that ditch." And who is a red-blooded boy to fail to answer boldly and actively?

Snow banks provide a similar challenge. Where more logical minds would dictate a slight deviation to avoid a struggle through the soft mas, a boy seems drawn as though by a magnet into the depths of the drift. Probably his mind conjures a vivid picture of the Alaskan mushing through to the isolated village with a life-saving cargo of diphtheria serum, but again he'll argue to the bitter end that there simply was no good way to get around the drift.

THE SAME SORT of echoes from the call of the wild will lure a lad into a camp in the worst kind of weather. This is when high adventure beckons, when he can defy the elements by pitching a tent that keeps out rain, or by providing a shelter and fire that will keep him warm while sleet peppers and north winds blow.

And he'll go hunting in the nastiest drizzle and the densest fog just to demonstrate his dogged will or his homing pigeon skill.

A boy doesn't ask for the easiest way, at least not when it's play or fun. Give him a chance and he'll prove that the shortest distance between two points is a mud puddle.

Some Issues For Barry Goldwater

WASHINGTON—Senator Barry Goldwater, like the romantic poet and duelist Cyrano de Bergerac, is urged to beware of walking under open windows. Cyrano, like Goldwater, angered and frightened the high and mighty of his day. He was murdered when a lucky tossed a heavy log down on his head.

With Goldwater, the powers which cannot beat him by wit or rapier, and which would like to do him clandestine harm, are the so-called Moderns of his own party. They yearn to take over the Republican party on Capitol Hill—but this they cannot do with Goldwater in good political health.

HIS PUBLIC speeches and writings, the GOP success in his home state of Arizona, along with the election of two new conservative Republican Senators (Thomson of Wyoming and Miller of Iowa) as well as the re-election of Senator Bridges of New Hampshire and Mundt of South Dakota, have made Goldwater the take-charge man of the GOP. He can defend himself very handsily from enemies in front of him—but the footpads and the other back street assailants could give him trouble.

BY WAY OF protection, Goldwater's friends would like to see him take positions which, while fully consonant with his widely-expressed philosophy, are less subject to being distorted by his enemies and employed to trap and injure him. The following ideas have been garnered from Goldwater sources but without the Senator's knowledge or approval. He will be urged to:

1. Lay off the old shibboleths. There is little chance in the 87th Congress to make hay by advocating (a) right-to-work laws, (b) states' rights and (c) anti-trust legislation to include labor unions. All these ideas relate to concern for the individual. They are a proper concern for conservatives—but they are water-logged with bad publicity. They would be lethal weapons if dropped on Goldwater's skull.

2. GET AWAY from abstractions. The latest of these is "inflation," which everybody abhors but few understand. Instead of pounding on this well-pommeled term

Goldwater is urged to discuss what the sagging value of money means to a man of lower-middle income who has sons to send to college, insurance payments and investments to make for his retirement or for his widow.

3. Take a solid and conspicuous stand for civil liberties of the working man. This is the same position that Goldwater has occupied for several years in his battle against the power of the Labor bosses. But it is a vulnerable position because it coincides with Management's interests. Goldwater's friends would like to see him more clearly the spokesman of the individualist and the minority.

THE SENATOR could do so by coming to the rescue of a truly forgotten man—the worker who is excluded from a union or is a minority-minded member. The building trades unions around Washington, for example, do not willingly accept Negroes. Many high-pay jobs—those of operating engineers, bricklayers, motion picture projector operators—are controlled by unions which, in turn, control the size and nature of their membership.

If unions were a club or fraternity, and no more than that, their membership could properly be limited and hand-picked. But the Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947, as amended in 1959, bestows on unions the "exclusive" right of collective bargaining with employers.

THERE IS SOMETHING very wrong, and very un-American, in this system. A bricklayer can't get work unless he joins a union which may not accept him. Even inside the union, the minority-minded member may disagree with union policy, but his bargaining (and often his political action) is performed for him by the leaders.

Mistreated bricklayers may not be very numerous—but the fair play issue is a sound one. Goldwater's friends think he can make himself an increasingly popular figure by embracing it. This is something which the Labor bosses and their Liberal supporters will try to prevent—at all costs.

Cutting Down The Yankee Dollar

Everyone in the United States is willing to shore up the dollar and stanch the outward flow of gold, providing George does it.

Everybody is eager for the other fellow to make the sacrifice. The Pentagon, the overseas military units and their dependents are, as I interpret the dispatches, about to declare war on us civilians because the President has ordered a gradual return of said dependents to the U.S.A.

THE INFERENCE among the military is that we expendable civilians ought to be in the front line of defense for gold and the dollar. There can't be any logical argument with this contention. But the hard fact is that George can't do it by himself. Operation Dollar Rescue is going to require that every citizen pitch in and give until it hurts someplace.

One of the easiest and most logical methods of sopping up that dollar outflow is to line the pockets of American tourists with fishhooks. Ever since World War II, American tourists have been swarming over Europe, spending dollars like an old-time run runner with a hot wad.

AS SUGGESTED before in this space, Uncle Sam could save a passel of gold if he would revise downward the present overgenerous customs exemptions permitted American tourists. Cut the present $500 exemption once every six months, and the fringe exemptions that can double or quadruple it, and fix it at $100 annually for the duration of the dollar crisis.

It ought to be a matter of both distress and shame to thoughtful Americans that many U.S. tourists now go abroad not to see the beauties of the rest of the world or broaden their outlook and understanding of a globe that shrinks daily.

THE REAL purpose of far too many trippers is a shopping bender. For every hour they spend in the Louvre or the Pitti, they spend 10 in the Flea or the Straw Market.

No proof of the above thesis is really needed. Nonetheless, there are at the moment two books on my desk that put the cherry on this particular sundae. These literary Siamese twins are titled, "Shopping Around Europe" and "Shopping Around the East and Near East" by a Miss Judith Friedberg.

Neither volume contains any of that usual tourist-guide jazz about historic monuments, cathedrals, art galleries, architectural wonders, great libraries, stately homes or nature's beauties.

THESE TWO BOOKS turn Europe and the East and Near East into one vast Macy-Gimbel supermarket with the companion—shopping made easy by Miss Friedberg, who has fingered all the merchandise and ticketed all the best buys from Abadan to Zagreb.

It is plain as a price tag that the two volumes mentioned above are but the forerunners of a great new series of guide books to bargain in South and Central America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand, Bermuda, the Bahamas and the Caribbean islands in general, not to mention the South Pacific or the polar regions, North and South.

MISS FRIEDBERG has a great career ahead of her if Uncle Sam continues to encourage his touring relatives to buy now, see later, if the strength remains. Of course, how much of the dollar will remain is anybody's guess, unless everybody, including the touring Georges, is not on short rations until the crisis is over.

General Casts Vote

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The recent presidential election gave retired Marine Gen. Vernon E. Megee his first chance to carry out an American tradition—entering a voting booth to cast his ballot.

It isn't that the former commanding general of the Fleet Marine Force in the Pacific hadn't voted in the past. But his 40 years service in the Corps had kept him on the move and he voted by absentee ballot.

He retired a year ago and has been visiting in Oklahoma, his native state.

Looking Way Ahead

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—City councilmen here have decided to change the name of Oak Lawn Drive to Tinker Drive, as had been suggested.

They'll call it Wildwood Drive instead. The councilmen were afraid that if future development called for a South Tinker Drive, a careless sign painter in abbreviating South might forget to put a period after the "S," resulting in Stinker Drive.

Early Days In Big Spring Described For Jr. Forum

The Big Spring of long ago was the study of Junior Woman's Forum members at a session in the home of Mrs. J. R. Redden Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Billy Dunn was cohostess.

Mrs. Ernest Welch was chosen to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Billy Watson, who resigned as president. Reports on plans for assisting at the Christmas party for patients in the Big Spring Hospital were heard.

Mrs. Bob Zellers, Mrs. Vernon Reid and Mrs. Bob Newton are to bake cakes to be served on Ward Five, where six members will help with the entertainment. They include Mrs. Ed Corson, Mrs. E. C. Smith, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Charles Wash, Mrs. Horace Rankin and Mrs. Watson. The forum voted to share part of the expense of the party.

Members will have their husbands as guests at a Christmas dinner in the Rock Room at Masters Cafeteria, Saturday evening. It was announced.

Bringing the discussion of the early schools of Big Spring was Mrs. Wash, who told members that the first school was carried on in a tent, near the location of City Park. The first money for the school was appropriated in 1882, she stated.

Mrs. Clifford Balzer, recounting legends and folklore of the vicinity, told of the importance to the Indians of Signal Mountain, which they used for sending their smoke signals. Mrs. Balzer remarked that legend tells of a cave located beneath Signal Mountain.

Members were told by Mrs. Zellers that the first church in Big Spring was the First Methodist, which began in 1883; the second was the First Christian Church, organized in 1883. The First Presbyterian Church was the first to have a pipe organ, which was bought in 1891, she said.

Buffalo hunting as the initial industry of early Big Spring was described by Mrs. David Mayrand, who spoke of the arrival of the Texas and Pacific Railway and the cattle industry, all of which had a part in building the town.

Present-day Big Spring will be the topic of study when the forum meets in the home of Mrs. Jim Calmes, 3234 Drexel, Jan. 10.

Mrs. Balzer will be cohostess.

Methodist Group Has Yule Coffee

Women of First Methodist Church were guests at a coffee Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Dewitt Seago, when the WSCS served as hostess group.

Mrs. Seago and Mrs. Joe Leatherwood greeted guests, who heard Mrs. Harrol Jones tell of Christmas traditions in other lands. Carols were sung with Mrs. Darrell Hulme as accompanist.

A love offering for the conference daughters, Betty and Peggy Campbell of Lamesa, was collected.

About 50 were present and were served refreshments from a table laid in green felt with angels adorning the skirt. An all-white arrangement of tapers and poinsettias centered the table, where Mrs. J. W. Dickens and Mrs. Leatherwood presided.

The home of Mrs. Jerry Spence, 1709 Yale, was the scene Monday evening for the annual Christmas dinner of the Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Dinner was served buffet style with the traditional yule tide decor. Gifts were exchanged by the members.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of a basket of food and clothing to be given to a local needy family. The basket was filled by each member bringing one can of food and one article of clothing and 35 cents so that meat could be included.

Twenty-three members were present.

The first meeting of the new year will be held Jan. 2 with Mrs. Bill Draper and Mrs. Walter Eubanks as hostesses.

Have Faith

In the last analysis, the cause of all failures in the Christian life is a lack of faith. "Well, because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high minded, but fear." Rom. 11:20.

How, then, can one get more faith? From reading and studying the Word. "So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God." Rom. 10:17.

Study the Word to have a strong faith. Study it privately at home. Study it in the Bible classes Sunday morning. Hear the preaching of the Word. Take notes on the sermons and study the Bible references given (we always give references for what we preach). Bring your Bible with you to the services. You will see that truly faith does come by hearing the Word of God! Welcome to the three preaching services each week at 3900 West Highway 88: Sundays, 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Thursdays, 7:30 p.m. Question period follows sermon each Thursday evening. Adv.

Likes High Protein Diet For Reducing

By LYDIA LANE
BROADWAY—Jane Morgan was a voice to me, until I came to New York and lived with her in her favorite restaurant, The Colony. This charming young woman was wearing a smart grey suit and a chic blue hat, which was the same color as her eyes.

"I'm a hat girl," Miss Morgan confided. "I always travel with a box of them. Hats complete a costume and can cover my hair if it needs to be done. When I'm constantly traveling and before the public, my hair can be quite a problem."

"I'm having a wig made by Corvia, that fabulous hairdresser in Paris, who is responsible for the vogue for wigs. It will be a duplicate of my hair and it will be a big help during emergencies when I don't have time to do my hair or go to the hairdresser. The real wigs cost around $400, but they make amazing and inexpensive ones in nylon."

Jane began her career in Paris and stayed there for five years singing French songs. Her newest album, "The Ballads of Lady Jane," has also been recorded in French.

"Living in Paris conditioned my taste in clothes. I learned to appreciate detail and elegance. In this country we go in more for effect, while the French are more conscious of fashion and being chic."

Miss Morgan had ordered a minute steak. "I can always drop a few pounds with lean meat," she explained. "I like a high protein diet best. I don't have to fight to stay on it. I make up my mind to give up highballs, rolls and butter, and I concentrate on eating meat, salads and vegetables."

Miss Morgan has extraordinarily beautiful teeth. When I mentioned it to her she said:

"I carry a toothbrush with me, and I try to use it after every meal. My dentist recommends a brush that has various length of bristles with longer ones at the end."

Miss Morgan feels the biggest mistake that American wives make is not planning to look their best when their husbands come home from work.

"But perhaps the husbands are to blame, too, because they seem not to notice their wives even though they do. If they would compliment their wives when they look pretty, it might give them more incentive to look their best," Jane concluded.

HIGH PROTEIN DIET

One of the best ways to lose weight is by eliminating sweets, starches and fats. In Leaflet M-1, Two-Week High Protein Diet, there are two menus that will allow you to eat well and maintain your vitality and strength. If you follow the menus exactly, you should lose on the average of one pound a day. For your copy of this important leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Cancer Kills Noted Baritone

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Death caused by cancer has silenced the deep, rich voice of baritone John Charles Thomas, one of America's most beloved singers.

The barrel-chested star of opera, concert stage and radio died at his home Tuesday, Dec. 14, 1960, of intestinal cancer. He had spent his last days in a coma.

Although still widely sought for concert appearances, Thomas retired from the circuit in 1953, after 1954 he and his wife, Dorothy, had lived in this desert community northeast of Los Angeles.

His big, booming voice became familiar to millions between 1928 and 1947 when he sang regularly over the National Broadcasting radio network. He habitually ended off his program with the words "Good night, mother"—a reference to his singer mother, Anna Dorothea Schrabel Thomas.

The exchange of paintings and a theatrical presentation will be on the program for the annual Las Artistas Christmas dinner.

The banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, and reservations should be phoned in by tonight to Mrs. Jerry Patterson for Mrs. Blunt Jones.

The exchange of paintings has become a tradition at Las Artistas. Each member is required to bring a painting for exchange, although the rule does not include non-artistic guests.

Special extra paintings traditional to the exchange are on hand for the guests. The theatrical presentation will be a one-act play, "Unto Bethlehem," directed by Capt. Jerry Williams for the Civic Theatre.

LAMESA (SC)—City police here picked up 23,006 miles for a new monthly mileage mark in November and also listed a record number of accidents, 30, to tie the all-time 30-day high set in October.

The department's monthly report also listed the third highest number of arrests, 106, for offenses from simple assault to robbery and auto theft.

Corporation court fines amounted to $1,238; traffic violation citations picked up another $832; and costume parking tickets netted $15. Fifty-eight arrests for drunkenness added $900 to the city till.

Residents' Sister Dies In Levelland

Mrs. C. S. Wiley, Sundown, sister of Mrs. R. V. Jones and Miss Edith Hatchett, died Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Levelland hospital.

Mrs. Wiley, who had been making her home with a daughter in Sundown, fell Nov. 18 and broke her hip. She had been in the hospital since that time.

Rites will be said at 10 a.m. Thursday in Sundown, and burial will be in Tahoka. Mrs. Wiley had lived many years at Tahoka and at Brownfield before going to Sundown.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ted Clark, Sundown, and Mrs. Homer Huff, Muleshoe; one son, Howard Wiley, Portland, Ore. She also leaves five sisters, Mrs. Jones and Miss Hatchett of Big Spring; Mrs. Paschal Peck, Eugene, Ore.; Mrs. L. O. Greenfield, Brownfield; and Miss Grace Hatchett, Lubbock; and three brothers, W. B. Hatchett, Stephenville, L. P. Hatchett, Lubbock, and Herbert H. Hatchett, Casa Grande, Ariz.

71 Jailed Last Month In Dawson

LAMESA (SC)—Seventy-one persons were detained in the Dawson County jail here last month on a variety of offenses ranging from drunkenness to murder.

Receipts from fines in Sheriff Henry Mayfield's office totaled $2,921 out of $2,870 in fines assessed. Of that amount, $1,628 was assessed in county court and a d the remainder in justice court. Drunkenness headed the list of offenses as 30 were counted for November.

Gregory Ratoff, Director And Actor, Dies Of Cancer

SOLOTHURN, Switzerland (AP)—American actor-director Gregory Ratoff, 63, died in the Solothurn Citizens' Clinic early today of blood cancer.

Ratoff, who wrote many of the original scripts of stage plays and films he directed, was born on April 20, 1897, in Petrograd, now Leningrad, in Russia, where he began his stage career after finishing commercial college. He went to New York in 1932 to appear on Broadway.

In more recent years he produced and directed the stage hit "All About Eve" and several films, among them "Black Magic," "The Heat's On," and "Operation X." Before the war he acted in many Broadway plays including "Blossom Time," "Tenth Avenue," and "Castles in the Air."

Ratoff had been living in Milan, Italy, with his wife, Maria Kotes, a well known singer. He was stricken last fall and came to Switzerland for treatment by Prof. Sven Moeschlin, one of Switzerland's leading blood disease specialists, who diagnosed his illness as leukemia.

His wife was at his bedside at his death. His body will be cremated here, and his ashes will be flown to the United States.

Ratoff knew he was suffering from a serious blood disease, he first entered the Solothurn hospital Sept. 27. His health improved after treatment, and he left a few weeks later for the United States.

He re-entered the clinic several weeks ago in serious condition and began his final battle. Only a week ago he was quoted as saying he was hoping to return to work—"But you never know."

Snow-Covered City

The town of Memphis lies under a blanket of snow after 17 inches fell on the Panhandle. The downtown section of town is in the upper portion and snow-covered bales of cotton are at the bottom.

Dr. White Named To Baptist Board

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Owen White of Houston was elected chairman Tuesday of the Texas Baptist Executive Board.

The group named Dr. Clyde Childers of San Antonio vice chairman.

The board approved a Christian Education Commission report and appointed a 6-man committee to plan a $28 million fund drive beginning in January 1962 and continuing four years.

The drive is designed to meet what was called "a critical shortage of building funds at nine Texas Baptist schools."

Dr. White succeeds Dr. James Landes of Wichita Falls, who was elected president earlier of the 1½ million member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Dies In Accident

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—John Goforth of New Braunfels died Tuesday in a one-car accident three miles south of here.

Hugh O'Brian Finds Lots Of Compensation In Role

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There is, concededly, inevitable monotony in playing the same role year after year, no matter how successful the actor's vehicle.

"But there are certain definite compensations, and they aren't all money," says Hugh O'Brian, now playing his sixth season as ABC's Wyatt Earp.

O'Brian, cast and production crew work like dogs for five or six months, turning out a full year's supply of the Westerns at the rate of two a week.

"I keep my nose to the grindstone for that time," said O'Brian, "but after they are finished I have six or seven months of the year to do a whole range of things I'm interested in."

"Wyatt Earp" will be finished for this season, as far as O'Brian is concerned, on Jan. 6. During the period after that he will be free to take on—preferably non-

Western—other acting jobs, personal appearance dates, even to travel and do nothing.

O'Brian took advantage of a short break in his tight shooting schedule to fly to New York, primarily to make arrangements with the owners of the stage play, "Destry Rides Again" for rights to convert the hit into a two-hour TV special. O'Brian played Destry for a week on Broadway last season, and hopes to be in the TV special next year sometime.

"I'm ambitious, aggressive—that's becoming sort of a dirty word and it shouldn't be—and I have certain goals," O'Brian explained earnestly. "I've been concentrating on television, and I've had a certain success. Now I want to broaden my activities—make motion pictures—and I wouldn't sneer at a Western if the saddle fit me, although career-wise it would be smart to lay off Westerns—and maybe do a play."

Opera Star Having Ball Making Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I don't believe in fate," said Helen Traubel, "but it is amazing how single events can change the course of your life."

The course of the singer's life has taken a sudden change from the ease of near-retirement to working from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. in a movie. And she's having a ball.

"I had decided to cut my career down to almost nothing," she said. "I had worked hard for many years, and I thought I deserved to slow down. I didn't get restless; I'm very good at doing nothing."

"Then Jerry Lewis called me up and offered me a part. At first I said no, but then I got interested. I'm glad I did. I'm fascinated watching Jerry create comedy."

Meanwhile her plans for retirement have flown out the window and she contemplates other films and even a TV series. So let's mark another chapter in the multifaceted career of a St. Louis woman who declined to be merely an opera singer.

Traubel, of course, was no mere singer, having starred at the Metropolitan during its great Wagnerian era. But her lusty love of life made her interested in other things as well, including baseball—she is a great Cardinal fan—and comedy.

One of her first ventures away from the operatic stage was on the old Duffy's Tavern radio show. She was clowning with Ed Gardner (Archy) one day when Jimmy Durante's producer, Phil Cohan, happened in from the next studio: Bingo!

It was the surefire combination of Durante and Traubel that got her out of the Brunhilde getup and into the public's consciousness as a warm and witty entertainer. That turn of events also led to her break with the Met.

After the singer made a much publicized night club debut, Metropolitan boss Rudolph Bing cautioned her about preserving dignity. She still smarts over the incident.

"Imagine the nerve of him to come over here from Europe and start lecturing about dignity!" she said. "I had the perfect answer for him: I carry my dignity with me."

"I am glad I left opera when I did. I had never wanted to continue to the point where people would be saying, 'That Traubel! Why doesn't she quit?' that would have killed me."
