Bobo Hardy One Of 5 Top Young Texans

James M. "Bobo" Hardy, general secretary of the Big Spring YMCA, has been named one of five outstanding young Texans by the Texas Jaycees.

He is one of two West Texans named, the other is James N. Allison of Midland. Remaining three include Clair Justice, Fort Worth; Robert H. Steward, Dallas; and Lawrence H. Warburton, Alice.

Richard R. Wadsworth, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, made the announcement stating "We are . . . pleased . . . to honor five young Texans such as these men who have, through their initiative, demonstrated that success in our free enterprise system is still available to those individuals who strive to achieve."

The selections were made by a panel of judges including Raymond L. Tollett, president of Big Spring's Cuden Petroleum Corp.; William L. Kerr, president-elect of the State Bar of Texas, Midland; Dr. D. Ray Lindley, president of Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth; Charles P. McGaha, president of the City National Bank, Wichita Falls.

The five men will be honored at a banquet in Tyler on Jan. 21. Bob Richards, young minister and Olympic champion, will be the speaker.

In citing Hardy, the announcement said "he has served as general secretary of the Big Spring YMCA since Jan. 1, 1956. Through a dynamic personality, organizational skills and an unquenchable love for the cause to which he has dedicated himself, he has made YMCA a 'living' spirit for 31,000 residents.

"Through his tireless and unselfish leadership, a Howard County Juvenile Board has been created for the purpose of dealing with probation and rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents. He is serving as vice chairman of the board which began functioning in July of 1960. In addition, he has served as director of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, two years; chairman of the recreation-education committee of the Air Base-Community Division; a member of the civic development membership and law enforcement committees; a four year member of the board of trustees of the United Fund; a four year member of the board of governors of the American Business Club; a director of the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults; a member of the advisory board for volunteer service at the Big Spring (See HARDY, Page 4-A, Col. 3)

West Cagey On Report Of Laos Invasion

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Western military experts Saturday gave careful study to the Laotian government's claim of an invasion by soldiers of Communist North Viet Nam. The military men wondered whether it could be one of many sallies across the ill-defined border.

Radio Hanoi, in the capital of neighboring North Viet Nam, denied staging any invasion, first reported in a communique by the pro-Western government of Premier Prince Boun Oun Friday night.

The communique said five Viet-minh battalions were attacking Nonget on the border between this Southeast Asian kingdom and its Communist neighbor.

Two other Vietminh battalions were reported moving about 30 miles up the road toward Ban Ban, on the way to the provincial capital of Xiengkhouang.

PRISONER TAKEN

The government also reported that a wounded Vietminh soldier was captured and brought to Vientiane.

"Laos will fight with all the forces at our disposal against this foreign aggression," said the communique. "In case the aggression does not cease, however, Laos reserves the right to appeal to friendly countries to defend the right of its national territory."

One of these friendly countries presumably would be the United States, which has supported Laos with $300 million in military and economic aid during its six-year fight to wipe out pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels supplied from North Viet Nam.

In Washington, President Eisenhower summoned military, diplomatic and intelligence advisers for a report. U. S. officials said they had no clear indication of the Communists' intentions.

RUSS AIR SUPPORT

Military men and diplomats in other Allied capitals inclined toward skepticism, saying they had no information to confirm the reported invasion. Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty declined to say whether Washington had received verification. Reports circulated in Washington diplomatic circles that the Vietminh troops were operating with the support of Soviet planes.

Soviet aircraft have been dropping supplies to remnants of the pro-Communist force that was driven out of Vientiane in mid-December by Boun Oun's forces after four months of civil strife. Under paratroop Capt. Kong Le, the leftists have regrouped about 60 miles north of Vientiane. The United States has accused Moscow of interfering in the affairs of Laos. Washington supports Boun Oun.

Nonget is located across the jungles about 150 miles northeast of Vientiane. Road and telegraphic connections are poor.

The Nonget area has been the scene of frequent border sallies by Communist troops.

3 HAPPY FATHERS GET TAX DEDUCTIONS AT LAST MINUTE

A little late for Santa Claus, but barely in time for income tax purposes three Big Spring area husbands received $600 deductions Saturday. All three became fathers only a few hours before the 1960 income tax year expired.

In a race against the hour of midnight, the stork made it to three local hospitals, delivering boys in each case and giving their dads an extra break when it comes time to fill out his income tax forms.

The three happy families were:

T. Sgt. and Mrs. James O. Barritt, 1206 Mesa, became parents at 5:15 a.m. Saturday at the Webb AFB Hospital. The youngster weighed in at six pounds, 12 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hilton, Sterling City Route, received their baby boy at 6:55 a.m. at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. He tipped the scales at seven pounds, 11 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nixon, Coahoma, were parents with the arrival of their youngster at Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital at 4:45 a.m. He weighed seven pounds, 15 ounces.

By the middle of the afternoon Saturday, prospects appeared dim for any other last minute tax reductions here.

U.S. Prepares Counteraction

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was told by his top military and diplomatic advisers Saturday that Communist forces have struck into northern Laos from Communist North Viet Nam. They are reported to have air support from Soviet-made planes.

In a 75-minute meeting at the White House, Eisenhower is understood to have ordered the State and Defense departments and the Central Intelligence Agency to get all available information together at the earliest possible moment for an assessment of the size and purpose of the Red invasion and a decision — which could come Sunday — on possible U.S. counteraction.

The United States has particularly determined to nail down, it is understood, the identification of troop units which have struck against the American-supported government of Premier Boun Oun.

This is necessary for any appeal to the U.N. Security Council, a definite possibility, or for action through the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in conjunction with U.S. allies.

It would be necessary to show that the invaders were not simply Lao units returning from training in North Viet Nam or Red China. The conviction of top U.S. officials is said to be that they are North Vietnamese forces.

Eisenhower, who has only 20 days remaining of his eight years in the White House, was described by other administration officials as determined to take whatever action is required to prevent a Communist takeover in Laos.

He will keep President-elect John F. Kennedy fully informed of the situation and of his decisions, it was said.

The most delicate element in consideration of possible strong U.S. counteraction, authorities said, is not in the imminent end of Eisenhower's administration but in a lack of enthusiastic support from Britain and France. This, as one official said, is one of the muddying factors in the situation.

Intensive consultations were reported under way among Washington, London and Paris. They have been involved in argument for some time on the nature of efforts to prevent Laos from becoming another Korea — a cockpit of combat between American-Allyed forces and Sino-Soviet bloc armies. If such a conflict should develop it would probably engulf the rest of Indochina.

Officially the White House was noncommittal about the dangers in the Laos crisis. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said "I am not applying labels, adjectives or the like."

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

The old year went out on a pleasant note, so far as this area is concerned. Drizzle over three days added about a half inch to the year's total. In the south part of the county, the amount was heavier, ranging up to an inch. Pastures were helped greatly as were small grain fields. An ice storm was averted when temperatures never quite dipped to freezing while the moisture was falling.

Howard County is moving to clean up the FM 846 roadways project. Condensation proceedings were lodged last week against land owned by an estate with so many heirs it was impossible to get them all. This job should be ready for a letting early in 1961.

Through Saturday evening the holiday season had produced a number of collisions in the city and a few mishaps on highways, but none of serious consequence. It would be wonderful if we could (See THE WEEK, Page 4-A, Col. 1)

Murky, Moist Weather Driven Out By Cold Winds

Murky, moist weather retreated swiftly from Texas Saturday before masses of colder air whipped southward by increasingly stiff north winds.

Snow, frequently mixed with rain, fell along the Red River Valley and southwestward to Lubbock and in the Panhandle. The amounts usually were light, however, and most of the snow melted as the sun drove back the over-casts.

Some substantial rains fell, usually in the eastern half of the state, but the moisture moved eastward into Louisiana and Arkansas.

High winds, gusting up to 80 miles an hour in New Orleans, and heavy rain fell in the New Orleans area and westward to New Iberia. The sudden, violent storm caused widespread damage and some momentary flooding.

More than an inch of rain fell in Houston, the fifth consecutive day of rain. Forecasts were for good weather Sunday for the American Football League championship game between Los Angeles and Houston.

13 Mexicans Killed When Troops Fire

CHILPANCINGO, Mexico (AP)—Thirteen persons were killed — including a 6-month-old baby — when army troops fired on a crowd of 2,000 demonstrating Friday against Gov. Raul Caballero Aburto.

Demonstrators accused Caballero Aburto of corruption and mishandling public funds and demanded he resign.

Healthy Year

PARIS (AP)—France is ending the year with a healthy $2.1 billion in gold and foreign currency holdings. This nest egg has been built up from almost zero two years ago when President Charles de Gaulle returned to power and the French recovery started.

Roadblock Nets Robbery Suspect

Area-wide roadblocks Friday night trapped an armed robbery suspect within 45 minutes after he allegedly shot $80 at a gas point from Jeanie Jergen, employe at Vicky's Liquor Store, on West U.S. 80.

Justice Magill, 30, was charged in Robert of the Peace Jess Slaughter's court with armed robbery.

Police were notified minutes after the robbery occurred, and they contacted local sheriff's officers and Texas Highway Patrolmen to join in the search. Roadblocks were set up throughout the city and a canvass of local taverns and theatres began.

Surrounding towns were notified and they also established roadblocks. About 45 minutes after the robbery, Sterling City officers notified local officers that the man had been caught in a roadblock.

Police Chief Jay Banks and THP officers Arvil Henry and Jack White took custody of Magill, returning him here. Banks said the man was driving a taxicab, owned by a San Angelo firm. He was employed by the company, police said.

A foreign made automatic pistol, which police said was used in the robbery, was recovered as well as the missing money.

A woman accomplice, who was waiting for Magill in San Angelo, was also arrested and brought to Big Spring. Banks said both of them are wanted by Galveston authorities. He said Galveston officers were en route to Big Spring Saturday to take the woman into custody.

Magill will be held for arraignment and the next session of the grand jury here.

Gail Awaits Alcohol Vote

GAIL — Residents in this small county-seat town are awaiting the outcome of a local option election to be held Jan. 7. The area involved is Precinct 1, which includes all of Gail and the northwest quarter of the Burden County.

Polling places will be at the court house and at the Plains School House, which is between Gail and O'Donnell. The petition requesting the election was required to have 40 signatures, but there were 82 when it was presented to County Judge C. C. Nunnally.

He said there were approximately 210 eligible voters in the precinct, and because of the intense interest being created by the election, it is likely that everyone will vote. The petition calls for the premature sale of all alcohol beverages.

This will be the first local option election held in over half a century, explained the judge. The county was voted dry in September of 1907, and until this year no attempt had been made to change that status. Prior to the 1907 election, Gail had several open saloons.

Several observers say that if the wets win the election, there will likely be an effort made in the Lake Thomas area to start a similar petition.

New Year Dawns On World Plagued By Troubles Of Past

A new year dawned Sunday on a world plagued by problems from the past but hopeful for the future.

As 1961 arrived, fresh, bright and new, millions thrust cares and burdens aside for the moment to celebrate with gay party, fervent prayer, the relaxation of sports events and other carefree pastimes.

The traditional crowd gathered in New York's Times Square to cheer the changeover, heralded by the descent of a huge illuminated globe on a pole atop the Times Tower Building.

Others joined in solemn Watch Night services in churches or homes at night spots and in lifed around the world.

Children in many cases got a special treat—permission to stay up and watch festivities on television screens.

Noisemakers, funny hats and confetti were the order of the midnight hour almost everywhere as the world took a temporary respite from its troubles.

But the changing of the calendar found the globe still gripped in tension between the free peoples and those under the thumb of communism, bloody strife in Laos, rioting in Belgium, racial and political disorders in Africa and human unrest elsewhere.

Bleak as the picture appeared, however, there were rays of hope for better times.

United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold chose the burgeoning of the new year to fly abroad with a personal appeal for peace and good will.

Pope John XXIII, the 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church, voiced hope that 1961 would be a year "of spiritual renewal and of harmony between heaven and earth."

In Yugoslavia, President Tito said international prospects were worrisome but added that "We should not lose hope that the forces of peace, which everyday increase in numbers and strength, will prevent war."

The new year will bring a major transition in U.S. affairs, a change of prime interest around the world.

Dwight D. Eisenhower leaves the White House after an eight-year Republican administration, tendering the reins of government to a Democratic administration headed by John F. Kennedy.

Mild, Sunny Weekend Is Forecast For New Year's

After almost a week of cloudy skies and drizzling rain, a mild sunny weekend was promised to greet the New Year in Big Spring Saturday.

Forecasters promised clear skies and mild temperatures for residents planning to spend the weekend traveling or visiting friends.

The four day rainfall total was reported as .34 of an inch by the U.S. Experiment Station in Big Spring.

The Texas Electric Service Co. report listed the Friday precipitation at 22 of an inch at the Big Spring switching station; a half inch at Chalk; .30 of an inch at Eskota; .32 of an inch at Sweetwater; and .35 of an inch at the Morgan Creek plant.

The slow penetrating rains resulted in little runoff, but they were helpful in sustaining lake levels.

The Lake J. B. Thomas reservoir completed the year at elevation 2259.15, only .85 of a foot below the spillway level.

The Colorado City Lake was 11 feet below the spillway at elevation 2,659 feet. The Champion Creek lake level was 2,055.30 feet.

Mexico To Keep Policy Of Peace

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico will maintain its policy in favor of peace and solidarity with all nations, Foreign Secretary Manuel Tello said Friday. There will be no change in policy with Cuba, he added.

Tello also said he is confident Mexico will maintain the same cordial relations with the Kennedy administration as it has with President Eisenhower.

Dies Of Injuries

FORT WORTH (AP)—Don Garrett, 19, died Saturday of injuries sustained Thursday in a traffic accident at nearby Bedford. His father, E. B. Garrett, died in the wreck.

Senator Wants Home Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said Saturday a big home-building program, designed primarily for families of modest means, could help the economy out of its slump.

Sparkman heads the Senate Banking subcommittee which handles housing legislation. He predicted a bill will be enacted by Congress without the customary delays. It usually is one of the last measures disposed of before Congress adjourns.

"Nothing creates job opportunities better and faster than home construction," Sparkman told a reporter. "It sets off a nationwide chain reaction stimulating industry generally, what with its consumption of steel, lumber, lime, sand and the many other things that go into a house."

The construction of a million family sized homes in a year, he said, means jobs for 2.5 million men on the construction sites alone.

He said it is impossible to figure how many other jobs are created at the mills, factories and other plants supplying the materials and services required.

Sparkman said the Kennedy administration will submit recommendations in the form of a bill or message to Congress, and that he will await this word before starting work on the housing problem.

City Holiday To Be Monday

Both public employees and downtown store employees will be visiting friends or cleaning up after the holidays Monday as Big Spring observes a New Year's Day holiday.

Most stores and public offices will present closed door for the day.

The banks will be open, as they were last Monday, due to state law.

City police and firemen will work regular shifts as will highway patrolmen and sheriff's office personnel.

A few courthouse employees will be on hand for swearing-in ceremonies of new officials, but no official business is planned in the various offices during the day.

Appeals went out from law enforcement agencies urging motorists to observe traffic laws for a safe holiday weekend. Increased traffic is a threat to all motorists.

Police Chief Jay Banks said, and he urged Big Springers who plan to make trips to practice caution.

Million-Dollar Construction At State Hospital Proposed

The possibility of nearly a million dollars of construction at the Big Spring State Hospital during the next biennium is seen in the proposals by Gov. Price Daniel and the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

The largest single item in the recommendations for the hospital is for a $500,000 medical and surgical building to replace the original medical and surgical unit which has long since become inadequate and overloaded.

Other items are a proposed $200,000 rehabilitation building to house all therapy units connected with restoration of recovered patients to a useful place in society. Another $100,000 is suggested for renovation of the pair of two-story patient buildings constructed in 1939 when the hospital was created. Storerooms addition is set up for $48,200 and a laundry addition for $38,000.

The legislative budget board has not yet released its recommendations. It will take its place with these two reports for the Senate and House to consider.

The Abilene State Hospital is set up for $2,480,000 in construction under the two proposals. Of this, $780,000 would go for a 420-bed patient unit, $400,000 for a hospital and infirmary, $840,000 to replace two old buildings housing 120 wards; $270,000 for a new central kitchen and dining room; $60,000 for conversion of the present hospital; $30,000 for renovations.

The sum of $100,000 is proposed for renovations and repairs at McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital.

The current operating budget for the Big Spring hospital is $1,186,600 with 272 employees. The board and the governor proposed $1,500,265 and 337 employees for the fiscal year of 1962 and $1,499,670 and 337 employees for 1963.

Abilene's budget of $1,977,669 and 498 employees would be upped to $2,283,366 and 536 employees for 1962 by the board and $2,122,555 and 511 employees by the governor. Both added about $200,000 for their 1963 proposals. The board would cut the McKnight operating budget from its present $1,327,370 and 285 employees to $1,165,924 and 275 employees. The governor proposed $1,095,870 and 266 employees.

A burglary and theft from car were added to police investigations during the night. J. L. Kellam reported the Joe Boy Cafe, 205 N. Benton, was burglarized during the night. Missing are about three dollars in change, some candy, peanuts and jewelry.

Jim McHargue, Midland, reported his car was forced open and a large quantity of clothing taken. The car was parked at the Settes Hotel, he said.

Population Up

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Switzerland's population has increased 15 per cent over the last 10 years to 5.4 million.

This New Year

Does this new year bring you a new beginning in life? It can't unless your past has been forgiven. Only Christ can forgive sins. Only the blood can wash them a way. Eph. 1:7.

Those who, with believing and repenting hearts, submit to immersion in the name of the Holy Three, for the remission of sins, shall have their names written in the book of life. Rom. 6:3, 4; c.f. Mat. 28:19; Mark 16:16; Acts 2:38.

Start the new year right. Resist no longer. Obey the gospel and be saved (1 Pet. 4:17).

If you do not have the faith, then come and hear the Word. Faith cometh by hearing. (Rom. 10:17).

Are you unable to bring yourself to repentance? Come and learn more about Jesus, the gift of God's love. The Goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance. (Rom. 2:4).

Come to the services today. Heaven's invitation is extended at the end of every sermon. David Tarbet will preach at 10:30; Ian Burgin, at 7:30. David is a local boy. Ian's home is Australia. Welcome. —Adv.

Final Stock Market Week Was Turbulent

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's final week of 1960 was a turbulent one, full of cross currents, but the list was up on average.

The market thus maintained once again the Wall Street tradition that stock prices advance between Christmas and New Year's Day.

American Telephone, rising to one historic high after another, was the single outstanding feature of the week. It continued its spurt of the previous week on news of a forthcoming dividend boost and stock rights offering.

AT&T this week advanced 5% to 107 1/2, closing below its latest peak of 108 1/2.

JUMBLE The rest of the market was a jumble of year-end transactions, many of them for income, tax purposes, offsetting losses against gains for the year. At the same time, however, considerable reinvestment was noted by brokers. Much of this came from the big institutional investors such as mutual funds.

The daily average of trading was 4.13 million shares, the greatest since the week ended March 21, 1959 when the average was 4.32 million shares. Because it was only a four-day trading week (Monday was a holiday), the weekly volume was only 16.54 million shares, compared with 18.43 million in the prior week of five trading sessions.

WHOPPER The final session of the year on Friday was a whopper, with volume at 5.30 million shares, biggest since Oct. 17, 1958, when the total was 5.36 million. This was a confused session, typical of the final week of 1960. The Associated Press average closed unchanged.

The moderate gain in the final week of 1960 did little to reduce the big losses taken this year by the stock averages.

This week the Dow Jones Industrial average rose 2.66 to 615.89.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.90 to 220.90. Of 1,428 issues traded, 725 advanced and 520 declined. New highs for the year totaled 78 and new lows 44.

The most active issue this week on the American Stock Exchange was Lefcort Realty, up 1/4 at 2 1/2 on 168,300 shares.

RALLY The government bond market staged a sparkling rally in December that carried some intermediates to 1960 highs at the end of the year.

Corporate prices barely advanced during the month, ending a three-month slump from the year's peak.

Treasury issues regained 1/4 to 3/4 points with almost the entire list closing a point or two better than on Dec. 1. The advance more than recouped the losses of the previous two months.

All four weeks showed improvement for the government market. The first was the best since the end of July when the list was nearly at the 1960 highs. For the month the slowest movers and the longest bonds the fastest.

The over-all pickup was easily the best of the final half of the year. Corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange for the first three weeks was among the busiest of the year. For the month it was $130.18 million compared with $109.3 million in November.

Driving Stakes Two Negro men drive the final stakes into the ground after putting up a new tent at "Tent City" which has been built to house evicted tenant farmers near Somerville, Tenn. ### N.Y. Mental Study Shows Only 18.5 Per Cent Not Sick

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLER Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A study checking on mental health of city folk finds only 18.5 per cent of them completely well.

Psychiatrists classified 36.3 per cent as having mild symptoms, 21.8 per cent moderate symptoms and 23.4 per cent impaired—having symptoms interfering with life functions.

The findings are part of a long-term community health study in a midtown area of New York City conducted by researchers of New York Hospital and Cornell University Medical College.

The risk of poor mental health is determined by the number of stresses met through life. Dr. Thomas S. Langner, a sociologist, said in a report prepared for the closing sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The study finds little to support the idea that mental illness is brought on by one single stressful experience which suddenly snaps the string, he said.

"Events in the life history seem to pile up," increasing impairment, but there is no one event which automatically spells disaster for all those who experience it," he said.

"Nor, on the other hand, is there any suggestion of the principle of the 'straw that broke the camel's back.' Events do not pile up to a certain point, beyond which all persons are bound to collapse.

"There is no 'breaking point' in the number of factors beyond which there is a sudden marked increase in mental health risk."

The risk of poor mental health is found to be considerably larger among persons in the lower social-economic group than in the middle- and high social-economic groups, he said.

But this is not because those in the low group suffer proportionately more stresses—the number of stresses didn't vary much among all the groups.

Nehru Urges India Advances

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru has appealed to Indian farmers to cast away their antiquated plows because — in the words of Benjamin Franklin—"Man is a tool-making animal."

Nehru told a community development conference in India must "get out of the rut of the cow-dung age."

More of them are likely to react in probably psychotic ways, while those in the high social group are more likely to react in neurotic fashions.

The study was based on two-hour interviews with 300 questions asked of 1,660 persons aged 20 to 59. They represent about 1 1/2 per cent of the 111,000 in the long-term study.

It's Time To Consider Income Tax Forms Again

Explanation on who must file a Federal income tax return for 1960 came today from Ben M. Hawkins, administrative officer of the local Internal Revenue Service office.

Citizens or residents of the U. S., including children with gross incomes of $600 or more in 1960, must file tax returns on or before April 17, with the IRS district directors, the IRS representative said.

"If you were 65 years or over on the last day of 1960 you needn't file a return unless your gross income was $1,200 or more during the year," Hawkins said.

Self-employed people must file a return if their self-employment income was $400 or more, even though their gross income was less than $600.

"If your gross income for 1960 was less than $600 but it was subject to withholding tax, you should file a return and get a refund of the tax withheld, he said. Texas community property law in most cases gives both husband and wife one-half of the total income and withholding credit each one receives."

In this state the husband and wife must either file a joint return including all income, or each report one-half the combined community income on separate returns.

"If they use Forms 1040 and 1040W each may deduct one-half of the total deductions paid with community funds," the IRS representative said. Members of the Armed Forces also pay federal income taxes. They give their names, service serial numbers and permanent home addresses on their returns.

Many tax problems can be solved by using the comprehensive instructions that accompany tax return forms. The IRS office has a special Taxpayer Assistance Day every Monday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Hawkins said. Telephone information is available by calling AM 4-2612.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Manuel Alves was blinded by a firecracker at age 9. This year—35 years later—a Brazilian doctor heard of a new Japanese technique for curing him by surgery.

Japanese doctors wrote him about the method and their letters were laboriously translated from Japanese to Portuguese. The doctor, who asked that his name be withheld, performed the operation and restored Alves' sight.

Morse, formerly of San Angelo, was living with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Morse, in Midland at the time of the accident in November of 1959. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Glosion, lives in Austin.

Pre-Dawn Fire Ruins Clinic, Patients Evacuated Safely

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—A swift fire before dawn Saturday wrecked the 156-bed Park Place Hospital. All 72 patients, including eight new babies, were evacuated safely.

The fire broke out at 6:30 a.m. (CST) near sterilizing equipment in a laboratory off the operating room. It spread rapidly between the walls and between the ceiling and roof through the main section and six wings of the modern one-story brick building. Large sections of the roof collapsed.

Rex McGee, the hospital administrator, estimated damage to the million-dollar, privately owned hospital built in 1953 at $500,000. He said the hospital will be rebuilt.

No patient was in the operating room when the fire started. Most were asleep.

Nurses, who were just changing shifts, firemen and police quickly organized an orderly evacuation. Marc Cook, reporter of the Port Arthur News who lived across the street from the hospital, said:

"The lobby was full of patients when I got there. Some were sitting in chairs and others were in beds which had been rolled into the lobby and front corridor."

"There was smoke and fumes but no flames. Soon the smoke became too dense and we started moving the patients out on to the driveway."

A light rain was falling and the temperature was 43 degrees. Ambulances and police cars took the patients to St. Mary's Hospital. Some were placed in nearby homes until they could be moved.

A city bus was near and was commandeered to take some patients, doctors and nurses to St. Mary's Hospital.

At St. Mary's, doctors examined the patients and said all were in good condition. Some were sent home and 63 admitted to St. Mary's.

Mrs. Ernest Jones, manager of the Park Place Hospital's cafeteria, said she first learned of the fire when smoke began coming in the cafeteria.

"I ran into the hall and saw nurses wheeling patients into the ball. There was no confusion," she said.

Wendell Weisinger, whose wife and two-day-old baby were in the hospital, said he saw the fire as he left his home two blocks away to go to work and rushed to the hospital.

"The place was choked with smoke but I saw no flames," he said. "My wife's room was on a corner near the door. She and the baby had been taken out. I picked up her personal belongings."

Diphtheria Wanes But New Outbreak Possible

PLAINVIEW (AP)—Plainview's second diphtheria outbreak, fought vigorously by doctors and health authorities, appeared to be on the wane Saturday. But doctors cautioned that a third outbreak was possible since the disease usually followed that pattern.

Only four new cases were reported yesterday. The city's largest hospital, which had been filled to capacity before Christmas, and a smaller hospital both reported they had bed space.

Another factor authorities counted on heavily to whip the disease was the requirement the 4,891 elementary and junior high school students returning from Christmas vacations have doctor-signed certifications saying they had been vaccinated or started the series. High school students were exempt, but the school administration urged them to be vaccinated.

While attention centered on the 75 cases here since November 2, the State Health Department said more than 200 cases had been reported in Texas in 1960. This was the largest number since 1955 when there were 260 cases. The five-year annual median is 163 cases.

Two deaths have been reported this year, one at Plainview and another at Gonzales.

The first case at Plainview was a small girl of a Latin American family on Nov. 2. Two other members of the family were stricken on the next day and by the end of the month 12 cases had been reported.

A second outbreak began Dec. 16. Since then there have been 63 cases, including two at nearby Kress.

Since the outbreak began the city has conducted five days of free clinics to vaccinate those unable to pay for vaccination by private doctors. More than 3,000 adults and children have been vaccinated at the clinics. Many more have been vaccinated by private doctors and during the height of the outbreak many doctors reported lines of patients waiting at their offices.

The Plainview School Board ordered the compulsory vaccinations upon the recommendation of Dr. J.E. Peavy, state commissioner of health, who made an on the scene inspection.

The department said such action was not unusual and had been recommended before in other schools as an aid in breaking up a concentration of cases.

Diphtheria is a communicable disease spread by contact through the air by coughing or sneezing or by contact with articles handled by infected persons.

The disease can be carried by persons who do not themselves contract the disease. The State Health Department said, however, that normally the disease is not carried more than two to four weeks and some do not carry it for that long.

Physicians urge immunization in infancy as a big preventive with booster shots as recommended by a family physician.

CITY HOLDS A WHITE TURKEY

Have you lost a white turkey?

The city is holding one that was found by two boys Saturday. Chester Smith and Gregg Peay found the bird and turned it over to authorities.

The owner may have the turkey by claiming it.

Bank Lowers Interest Rate

The board of directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston has approved a reduction of one half of one per cent in the interest rate which the bank will charge on its new loans beginning Jan. 1, 1961. The new rate will be 5 1/2 per cent.

Moreover, outstanding loans bearing six per cent interest will be reduced by one half of one per cent.

This reduction will be passed along to borrowers, and in the Lamesa National Farm Loan Association it could amount to a substantial saving. The association, which embraces a large sector in this region, has around $5,000,000 outstanding loans. The cut will apply to all the loans bearing six per cent.

According to Hal Weatherford, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, this is the third time the bank has been able to voluntarily reduce the interest on loans already on the books. The Federal Land Bank makes its loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. It has over $235 million dollars of loans in force and obtains funds to make loans through the sale of bonds to the investing public.

County elections seldom bring out many candidates, at least not in recent years. Nunnally has been in office eight years, Mrs. Cathey has held office for about 15, while Sid Reeder has spent almost half his life in the sheriff's office.

There are only two sheriffs in Texas who have served longer than Reeder, and they are both retiring. So sometime in 1961 he will have served longer than any sheriff still in office.

Reeder started working as deputy sheriff on April 15, 1937. He won the sheriff's election the next term and took up his duties Jan. 1, 1939. He is a native of Borden County and grew up on a ranch east of Gail.

Borden Gets No New Officers

GAIL — There will be no new faces around the Borden County Court House in 1961. The county election created only mild interest.

With only two men opposed for re-election and both of them made it, Dee Burrus was re-elected commissioner in Precinct 1, and Borden Gray came out winner again in Precinct 3.

Sid Reeder was also re-elected. Judge C. C. Nunnally still has two years to go on his term. Other officials not up for re-election were Mrs. George A. Cathey, county treasurer, and Mrs. Doris Rudd, county district clerk.

DEAR ABBY PERENNIAL LOVER

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to an incurable flirt and philanderer for 22 years. I can pick his next victim ten minutes after I enter a roomful of strangers with him.

He is a handsome, respected professional man. He has a wonderful personality and is such a charming kisser no one would suspect he'd seriously follow up a cocktail party flirtation. Believe me, I know better.

I have covered up for him many times. I've stayed with him for the sake of the children and to avoid scandal, hoping each fling would be his last. He adores the children and suffers no loss of love at home. Everyone thinks we are an ideal family. Can you ever change the spots on a leopard, Abby?

LEOPARD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You've confused your animals. Yours is a wolf, "Covering up" for a philandering husband for 22 years is no way to cure him. The wife who raises Cain early in her marriage may not change her leopard's spots, but she can train him before he gets too wild. Better start now. It's later than you think.

Brake Failure Causes Wreck

A Fidelity Oil Company transport truck crashed into the rear of one car and sideswiped another on the Snyder Highway viaduct Saturday morning. There were no injuries.

Arby Guy Binion, Odessa, driver of the truck, said his brake failed when descending the crest of the overpass. A car driven by William Kounte, 1801 W. 3rd, was struck in the left rear as Binion attempted to miss an approaching vehicle driven by Thelma Famin, 614 NE 11th.

Neither vehicle was heavily damaged. In another mishap, Edward T. Fox, 200 Kindal, and Manuel Baeza, 1307 W. 2nd, were involved in a collision in the 1300 block of West 3rd.

DEAR ABBY: When I met Rita, exactly one year ago, I knew I had finally found the girl I wanted to marry. She works where I work, is quiet, refined, and beautiful in a natural way. Rita is 26 and a widow. I am 28 and also eligible. I love her and she says she loves me. When I asked her to marry me she said yes, and gave me her CHEEK to kiss. Abby, this woman has never let me kiss her on the lips! She says that when a woman gives her lips she should be willing to give herself completely to a man, and she is waiting for marriage. She insists she is not cold, but kissing is part of lovemaking and she doesn't believe in starting something she doesn't intend to finish. Would I be crazy to marry her?

T. J.— DEAR AT. J.: You'd be crazy not to.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TERIBLY INDEBTED": Give back the gifts. The gentleman (?) obviously expects an immediate return on his investment.

"Who pays for what?" Send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3385, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding."

DEAR ABBY: I have been married less than a year and already I am having problems. My wife calls me at work, I wouldn't object if she had a reason for it, but she will call me just to "hear my voice." She does this at least once every day. It is very embarrassing, and the guys at work give me dirty looks when they have to call me to the phone. She's a wonderful girl but she is very sensitive. How can I tell her to quit calling me at work without hurting her feelings?

JUST A HUSBAND DEAR JUST: Explain it to her exactly as you have explained it to me. Tell her it is embarrassing and an imposition on your co-workers. Punctuate it with a kiss, take her out to dinner and it won't hurt her a bit. (P.S. Why not call HER once a day—at noon, perhaps?)

Mohole Project To Take Peek At Earth's Innards

By ALTON BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Tests will begin in March of the audacious plan to drill a hole deep into the earth from a ship at sea.

This plan is the Mohole—the first hole ever to penetrate all through the earth's crust to learn what mysteries lie in and below it. It is "one of the most important scientific undertakings of modern times," Dr. Detlev Bronk, president of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, declared today.

The actual Mohole would be drilled from atop water perhaps 3 1/2 miles deep, with special drills then biting 3 miles through the ocean floor to go below the earth's crust or outer skin for the first time.

Experimental drilling to test all the difficult techniques will start in March near Guadalupe Island off the western coast of Mexico, the National Science Foundation and Academy-Research Council announced.

PIONEERING

There she is 12,000 feet deep—2.3 miles. Holes looking for offshore oil have never been drilled before in water deeper than a few hundred feet.

Several test holes to various depths are planned. A rotary drill working from a specially-fitted ship will be used.

Digging the Mohole itself may come in a few years.

Mohole gets its name from the Mohorovicic discontinuity—Moho for short. The Moho is a boundary between the earth's thin crust and the underlying rock, the mantle, of unknown composition which extends 3,000 miles deep to the earth's core. (The core is presumably composed of nickel and iron.)

The Mohole—Moho hole—can be possibly drilled only at sea. For the earth's crust under the oceans is as little as 2 1/2 to 3 miles thick, as against 15 to 20 miles on land masses. And the deepest oil well ever dug on land is only 4.7 miles.

BRING UP SAMPLES

The Mohole will try to bring up samples of the mantle, and to study the curious Moho boundary layer.

The drilling also could produce a rich history of life, evolution and climate changes on earth.

This can be done by bringing up and analyzing the sediments building up to 500 to 1,000 feet thickness over millions of years.

Organisms that lived in the sea sink to the bottom to form sediments, leaving fossil records. The types of life varied with climatic changes.

LETTERS

Wants To See Officer; Cautions Against Reds

To the Editor:

Well, now that the new juvenile officer has been appointed, selected or something, I think that all the taxpayers, citizens and others should know what he looks like and learn something of his background, education, what college he attended, what experience he has had as a juvenile officer, and where he got his diploma. There should be a picture published in the local paper with all this information. If this information has been published (it was on Dec. 6, with picture—Ed.), there should be a reprint as I missed it and many others did, as I have had numerous calls since my letter in the Herald Dec. 11.

Part of said letter was left out and some mistakes, which I did not make. I have written for San Francisco Examiner and the Oakland Tribune, and I don't make mistakes, proud to say.

About this stranger, you know some "Old Timer" might be passing by one of our public buildings when suddenly a man might come running out with a pitchfork in one hand and a net in the other and Glory be one wouldn't know what to do, whether to help, stop him or run. Wouldn't know whether he was the juvenile officer, dog catcher or what or just Santa Claus without his uniform. We sure don't want to confuse him with juveniles, delinquents or otherwise.

Worlds of power to the New Stranger, he will need it for the job he has landed.

MRS. DAVID WALDO JONES 1700 Virginia

To the Editor:

In a (recent) paper, Holmes Alexander said: "We have never had a president in the White House who fought Communism, in fact they often defended Communism from angry Americans." This in my opinion is the shame of us all. After all the terrible wars and countless young lives that have died to preserve our freedoms, are we going to throw it away now?

The unholly four of Communism since the writing of "Das Kapital" have been Karl Marx, Nicolai Lenin, Joseph Stalin and Nikita Khrushchev. Nicolai Lenin, a Russian, put the teaching of Karl Marx into practice. He took the revolutionary philosophy of Marx and conquered a nation with it, that nation being the Soviet Union. In 1903 Nicolai Lenin and 17 other disciples of Marx established the Bolshevik movement in Russia, or the Communist party as we know it today. Keep in mind that in 1903 there were only 18 Communists in the Soviet Union. Today there are over one billion people in the world are affected by this Godless conspiracy. In 1917 with 40,000 supporters, Nicolai Lenin conquered the Soviet Union with almost 150 million people. By 1960, the party of Lenin had enslaved one billion conquered people and murdered 30 million or more in doing so.

In just half a century the Communists grew from 18 to one billion, which is the most phenomenal growth of any world movement or political power in the history of mankind. It is no longer a question of will the Communist malignancy conquer the world, or can it conquer the world? It is conquering the world.

After 2,000 years the combined Church of Jesus Christ (the total membership of every Catholic and Protestant Church in the world) has only 750 million members. After 2,000 years the church has 250 million less than the Communists, and it took the Communists only 50 years to accomplish theirs. How could the Communists do so much in so little time? The answer is dedication.

Some of the nation's best informed conservative and patriotic American citizens believe unless there is an awakening among the American people quickly, that Communism will take over the nation in five to 10 years at the most.

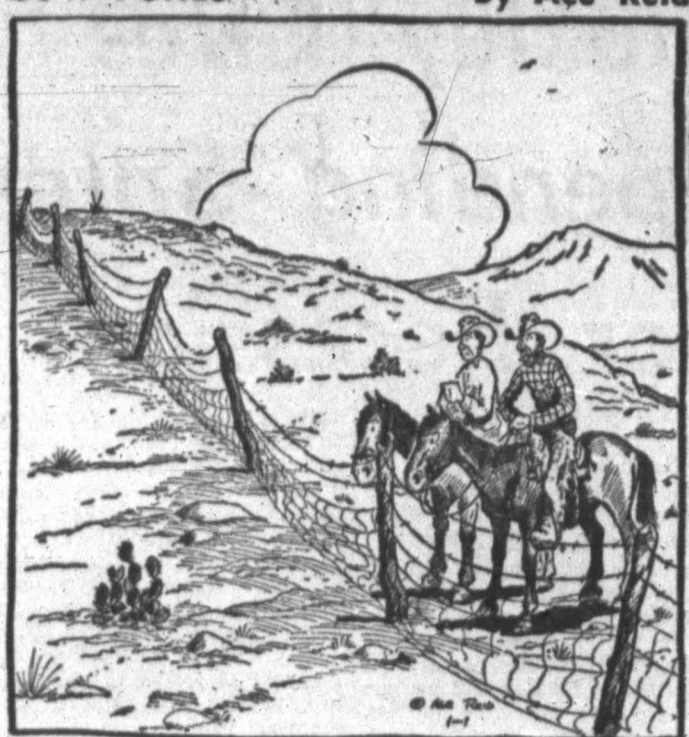

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has called Communism the "greatest danger of our civilization" and the Communist party a "trojan horse of disloyalty, coiled like a serpent in the very heart of America."

Whether America has four years, 10 years, 15 years or longer it comes as a shock to know that America can be so close to oblivion without the greatest majority of its citizens being aware of it. The American people need to see Communism for what it really is, whether disguised as liberalism, socialism, progressivism or modernism.

Hard-Driving Connally Second Texan To Head Navy In 7 Years

FORT WORTH (AP)—A slim six-footer with a reputation as a man who gets things done will become the second Texan to hold the office of Secretary of the Navy within seven years.

He is John B. Connally, lawyer, oilman, cattleman and executive of a dozen or more corporations.

Connally knows plenty about the Navy and is in love with it. President-elect John Kennedy designated Connally as his Navy secretary Tuesday.

Should the Navy ever need help in politics, Connally is in a position to ask aid from some of the best sources available.

In addition to receiving Kennedy's support, Connally long has been probably the main adviser to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, now vice president elect.

One of the men who recommended him for the post is powerful Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House.

INDEPENDENT But Connally, his associates agree, probably can take care of himself in a maneuvering among the military services and on the complex Washington scene.

He is a personable individual, a man who can think and talk quickly and persuasively. He trained for politics through years of association with Johnson.

He understands finance on the multi-million-dollar level through association with the late Sid Richardson of Fort Worth, one of the world's wealthiest men, and through co-administration of Richardson's estate.

He learned the intricacies of the military services while serving under the then Undersecretary of the Navy James Forrestal, and while attached to Allied headquarters in Algiers under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

COMBAT MAN And the uniformed Navy can give Connally that highest of praise from the sailors on the ships—"He's a combat man."

For Connally served 18 months aboard carriers in strikes at a host of islands across the Pacific and up against the Japanese mainland. He was in the attacking forces on such battlegrounds as the Marianas, Philippines, Okinawa and Iwo Jima.

Another Texan, with much the same background as Connally, was Navy secretary from 1953-1954. He was Robert Anderson of Vernon, who had extensive dealings with oil, cattle and finance as manager of the vast Waggoner Estate. Anderson, however, did not have the experience in politics.

"I have a deep admiration for taking the $22,000 Navy job will be a financial sacrifice for him. "But I don't consider it a sacrifice—I consider it a privilege," he declared.

Elated over his designation is Mrs. Connally.

Their wedding was that of the big figure on the campus and the campus queen. Johnson introduced them. They celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary last Dec. 21.

SWEETHEART When elected sweetheart of the University of Texas, she was Idanell Brill of Austin. The name is almost forgotten, for her friends call her Nellie. She retains the dimpled charm that made her a campus beauty.

They have three children, John Jr., 14; Sharon, 11; and Mark 8.

One of Mrs. Connally's reasons for being elated probably is shared by every wife of an ex-Navy man who has heard her husband spin long tales about his ship.

Connally's ship was the Essex. She said that when he becomes Navy secretary perhaps he will take her aboard.

"I've yearned to see it so many times," she said. They live in the Westover Hills section of Fort Worth, an area of impressive homes. But she has no domestic help.

She could have used some since the designation of her husband. The telephone has been ringing constantly with congratulations.

Among congratulations the Connallys received were ones from Elvis Presley and Eddy Arnold. A fellow Texan sent an appropriate one.

Harry Provence, editor-in-chief of the Waco Times-Herald and News-Tribune, messages: "Twenty-one guns. Splice the main brace. Full steam ahead."

Richardson picked him as attorney, as did Perry R. Bass, another Fort Worth oilman. But he still remained one of Johnson's closest advisers.

LYNDON SPOKESMAN Said one source, "Connally is the only man I've ever known that Lyndon would let speak for him."

Connally gained the national spotlight personally in 1958 when he went before the national Democratic convention to nominate Johnson for president. Adlai Stevenson won the nomination.

Again in 1960, Connally was campaign manager for Johnson during the drive to obtain the presidential nomination, which went to Kennedy.

Connally told newsmen that

Baylor's Gamble Loses; Florida Takes It 13-12

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Baylor missed a go-for-broke two-point conversion attempt in the closing seconds Saturday and Florida won a 13-12 thriller in the 16th Gator Bowl football game.

Baylor, led by quarterbacks Bobby Ply and Ronnie Stanley, almost pulled out the victory after Florida built a 13-0 lead, but a conversion try by Larry Corley failed after the first touchdown, and Ply's pass conversion attempt barely grazed halfback Ronnie Goodwin's fingertips after the second touchdown as time was running out.

Florida guard Chet Collins recovered a Baylor fumble and induced another with a jolting tackle, and each recovery led to a Gator touchdown in the second quarter.

But Baylor wouldn't concede, and the Bears from the Southwest Conference struck by air on the passes of Ply and Stanley for two touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

Ply hurled 11 yards to Goodwin for the first, and halfback Ronnie Bull scored the second from the 3 after a Stanley-to-Goodwin pass covered 49 yards in the final minute.

Fullback Don Goodman scored Florida's first touchdown on a three-yard plunge five plays after Collins recovered Bull's fumble at the Baylor 20.

Most of the yardage in the scoring drive went to wee Larry Libortore, Florida's 138-pound quarterback. End Bill Cash kicked the conversion that proved to be the margin of victory.

The second Florida touchdown came easily after the Gators had an apparent score nullified by an illegal motion penalty. That drive was checked at the Baylor 2 when tackle Pete Nicklin blocked Cash's field goal attempt.

Collins separated Stanley from the ball at the Baylor goal line and Larry Travis recovered in the end zone for a 13-0 Florida lead.

A record crowd of 50,112 fans saw Baylor come back magnificently in the second half. Ply did most of the Baylor passing with Goodwin his favorite target.

Florida made a furious stand on the goal line in the first quarter after Ply's pitches guided the Bears 74 yards. Leading the Florida defensive heroics were center Bill Hood, guard Vic Miranda and tackle Jim Beaver.

HOLUB SIGNS WITH DALLAS TEXANS

DALLAS (AP) E. J. Holub, Texas Tech's great center, has signed with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League, Texas owner Lamar Hunt said Saturday.

Hunt said Holub, training for the East-West game at San Francisco, telephoned him that he would play with the Texans.

Hunt thus was winning part of his battle of the checkbook with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, who also had drafted Holub.

Bob Lilly, TFC tackle, signed with the Cowboys after being drafted by the Texans.

Holub will receive $15,000 a year, it was learned.

Texans Thump Arkansas Tech In Bowl Tilt

GRAND PRAIRIE (AP)—Sophomore halfback Butch Pressley scored four touchdowns Saturday to lead spirited Texas A&I to a smashing 45-14 victory over fumbling Arkansas Tech in the first Great Southwest football bowl.

Pressley, a powerfully built 185-pounder, scored on runs of 4, 10, 7 and 3 yards to pace the favored Javelinas to a top-sided triumph "Wonder Boys".

Thick black clouds hovered over the stadium but rain, which soaked the field last night, never returned.

The Javelinas, in addition to the sparkling runs of Pressley, stunned the helpless Wonder Boys with a rugged defense and the smashing run of Harold Hees, Sid Blanks and Tommy Janik.

A&I, the Lone Star Conference champions, wound up the season with an 8-1-1 record. The loss, Tech's first, completed its campaign at 10-1.

Ted Unbehagen, A&I end, pounced on the Tech fumble at the outset that gave the Javelinas possession at the Arkansas 14.

Three plays later, Pressley blasted in from the four.

Hees set up the second touchdown with a pass interception at the A&I 44. The Javelinas moved quickly downfield with Hees speeding through right guard for the final 34 yards for the touchdown.

A 10-yard scamper by Pressley, a three-yard plunge by Janik and a three-yard run by Blanks accounted for A&I's second quarter touchdowns.

Earl Morris converted once to give the Javelinas their 31-0 half-time lead.

Tech quarterback B.J. Moore, a crafty sophomore ball-handler, got the Arkansas into the scoring column in the third period with a 25-yard pass to halfback Henry Brummett.

Wayne Parmley kicked his first of two conversions.

The touchdown came only moments after Pressley, following another pass interception by Hees, sped through the sagging Tech line seven yards for A&I's sixth touchdown.

Pressley added the final Javelinas tally with 8:11 left, this time sailing in from the three.

Moore climaxed the day's hectic activity on a three-yard dash with only 2:44 left in the game.

Arcaro Wins With A Built-In Timer

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Basically, there are two types of thoroughbreds — the sprinter who runs his rivals into the ground with a blistering pace, and the router who can handle most any opposition beyond one mile.

Sometimes a speed horse gets off winging in a distance race and just manages to hold on for victory. When this happens, and the horse wins, racegoers say "the jockey stole the race."

Then there is the horse whose staying qualities are suspect in a long race. The trainer often gives the jockey instruction to set a slow pace. When this happens, and the horse wins, racegoers say "the jockey had a clock in his head."

Such was the case when Eddie Arcaro, the master of all riders, led Devil Diver to victory in the gruelling mile and a half Manhattan Handicap at Belmont Park in 1944. Arcaro had such a firm hold while setting the pace with Devil Diver that the race, now run at one mile and five-eighths at Aqueduct, was run in 2:36 3/5, slowest ever for 12 furlongs at Belmont.

Arcaro used to sit in his Long Island living room, close his eyes and have his wife hold a watch. Eddie would guess on the head when the second hand reached a certain point. It helped him become a great judge of pace. And when he won the 1944 Metropolitan he did it without aid of a fractional times board.

In 1953 when Conn McCreary won The Jockey Club Gold Cup with Inside Tract, a 15 to 1 shot, at Belmont Park the two-mile race was started one half mile from the finish at the mile and a half track.

When the field passed the Teletimer board, which shows quarter-mile times, McCreary noticed the fast pace for the first half mile.

"When I saw they were going so fast," McCreary said, "I took back, and it had an effect on the result."

Ever since that race, Abe Smuckler of American Teletimer has been struggling with the brass at big tracks to have a field indicator installed at every quarter-mile pole for the benefit of the jockeys.

Some veteran jockeys are opposed to the idea. It would give the less experienced rider an almost equal chance, say the veterans.

However, Alfonso Coy, a 26-year-old Pennsylvanian who rode more than 200 winners in 1960, likes field indicators. They have been used the last two seasons at the Old Woodbine track in Canada where Coy does a lot of riding.

"I like the indicator," says Coy. "It tells you how fast or how slow your horse is going, and it makes the job of following a trainer's instructions that much easier."

It took a lot of doing to sell race tracks on the fractional times board. But it has been a boon to race fans. Many watch the board while a race is in progress.

A number of trainers think the field indicators, placed where riders can see them, would be a big help to the jockeys. If trainers and jockeys demand that service Smuckler is all set to add another electrical gadget to racing.

Hawks, Angelo Meet For Tourney Payoff

It was to be a familiar casting for the finals of Howard County Junior College's basketball tournament Saturday night.

The foes were the host Jayhawks and San Angelo College, meeting for their fourth time, with a great deal at stake. HCJC and SAC have met three times earlier this season, with SAC winning twice. Those two losses had been the only setbacks for the locals in 12 games.

Tyler and Clarendon were billed to fight for third place rating, while Decatur and Amarillo were in an early evening scrap for fifth place standings.

Howard County staged an upset Friday night in over-powering the vaunted Tyler Apaches, 66-56. Larry McElroy had 19 points as four Jayhawks hit the double figures to topple the nation's No. 1 ranking junior college team. It was the first defeat for the Apaches in nine games. For the losers, Pete Petron scored 18 points.

In the other bracket, San Angelo was running up a high total for the season in scoring a 92-80 victory over Clarendon. The winners ran up a 12-point lead at the half, and then moved on to a comparatively easy victory. For the winners, McCoulsky scored 16, Bailey 15, Shuffield 14 and McKisack 12. For Clarendon, Bibby Lesley tallied 23 and John Alexander 17.

Calf Ropers Tie With 10.2

DALLAS (AP)—A pair of calf ropers set records Saturday for the National Finals Rodeo by tying their calves in identical times of 10.2 seconds.

The fast pace was set by Sonny Worrell, Fredonia, Kan., and Harry Charters, Melba, Idaho. 11.3 record of the two-year-old National Finals by tying a calf in 11.1 in the fourth go-round of this year's series. The 11.3 mark was set by Lee Cockrell, Panhandle, Tex., in 1959.

Larry Kane, Big Sandy, Mont., rodeo "Rookie of the Year," snapped back from apparent beginner jitters for a spectacular ride in saddle bronc in the seventh go-round.

Kane, 22, and a crowd favorite, received a score of 187—the highest ever made in the National Finals.

Kane reared the finals only as a replacement for the veteran Casey Tibbs, Bracketville, Tex., who broke a leg in the first go-round.

Loses Paternity Suit

Dennis Crosby, 26, one of Bing Crosby's sons, and 3-year-old Denise Michelle Scott sit in court at Los Angeles just after a jury decided Crosby is the father of the child. Her mother, Mrs. Marlyn Miller Scott, accused Crosby in a civil paternity suit.

MEN IN SERVICE

Don G. Mince, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hooper of 2007 Johnson, has graduated from the Aviation Structural Mechanic School at the Naval Air Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

During the nine-week course, students are instructed in the repair of aircraft, safety precautions and the maintaining of hydraulic systems.

Army Pvt. Wiley A. Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Chandler, 500 Ayford, recently arrived in Germany and is now a member of the 2nd Armored Cavalry.

Chandler, a mechanic in the cavalry's Headquarters Troop in Amberg, entered the Army in May, completed basic training at Fort Hood, and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. The 17-year-old soldier attended Big Spring High School and was employed by the H. W. Smith Co. before entering the Army.

Frederick W. McCannon, electrician's mate second class, USN, son of Mrs. Eva M. Watzauer of Forsan, is serving aboard the Navy's new fleet ballistic missile submarine USS Abraham Lincoln, undergoing construction at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, N.H. He was recently promoted to his present rate.

Army 2nd Lt. Robert L. Eisenhart, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Eisenhart, Big Spring, has completed the eight-week officer orientation course at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

The course is designed to familiarize newly-commissioned officers with the duties and responsibilities of an infantry unit commander. The Infantry School prepares infantry for Army training and developing leadership qualities of combat commanders.

Lt. Eisenhart is a 1960 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., and a member of Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu fraternities.

Army 2nd Lt. Jerry E. Hall, son of Mrs. Vestal A. Hall, Ackerly, has completed the ten-week military police officer orientation course at the Provost Marshal General's School, Fort Gordon, Ga. Designed for newly-commissioned officers, the course instructed Lt. Hall in personnel management, law enforcement, traffic control and military leadership.

The 22-year-old officer is a 1956 graduate of Ackerly High School and a 1960 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Army Pfc. Charles A. Ford, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ford, Lamesa, recently completed the tank turret mechanic course at The Ordnance Organizational Maintenance School, Camp Irwin, Calif.

Ford received training in the familiarization, use and proper care of the medium tank turret and its components. He is assigned to the 40th Armored Company A at Camp Irwin. Ford entered the Army in January, 1960 and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan.

Ronald G. Aaron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Aaron, 302 Park, and Bobby W. Hambrick, son of Mrs. Gertie Hambrick, 1410 Lexington, have graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

Area farmers and ranchers are reminded that Monday, Jan. 16, is the final day for filing their estimated federal income tax return for 1960, unless they plan filing their final return on or before Feb. 15.

Ben M. Hawkins, administrative officer, of Internal Revenue Service, Big Spring, explained that those farmers and ranchers who file an estimated return on Jan. 16 and pay the tax due thereon have until April 17 to file their final return and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise, the law requires that they file their final return and pay the full amount of the tax due by Feb. 15.

Needed assistance is available from the Revenue Service, both by telephone and in the office but taxpayers are urged to fill out their own returns as far as possible before contacting IRS. Copies of the helpful free booklet, "Farmer's Tax Guide" are available at the IRS office, 113 W. 2nd Street. Telephone service may be had by telephoning AM 4-2612.

Very little advertising and music to listen to are the promises of Jerry Caddell and Don Anderson, who have requested a permit to put an FM radio station on the air in Big Spring.

Some advertising is necessary in such an enterprise, of course, but holding it to a minimum will be to the owner's credit. It is an ideal I hope they can make stick.

The programing will include only music specifically to be listened to, not background music. Here again, they will be departing from established trails. And they can provide an interesting asset to the arts in Big Spring.

Beyond music, there is a world of entertainment to be found in special programming that has found favor in larger cities. I mention plays, readings and special treatments of the two.

We can only wait and see, but I hope they are able to put their ideas and ideals into practice.

One of the best comedies I remember seeing was "The Desk Set," a play spoofing electronic brains and people who work in offices. Featuring a strong female lead, Shirley Booth created the part which was a smash hit when it opened back about 1955 or 1956.

If arrangements can be made, this will be the next production of the Big Spring Civic Theatre. Although it is still in the planning stage, the board of directors voted to plan the production for the latter part of February.

Readings and selection of the cast has been docketed for Jan. 26.

New County Officers Take Over Posts

Brief ceremonies at 9 a.m. Monday will mark the swearing in of county and precinct officials for terms of office.

The Howard County Commissioners Court will convene to approve bonds of the officials, said County Judge Ed Carpenter. All have completed their bonds but they must be passed by the court.

Among the new faces at the courthouse will be Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector; Joseph Hayden, commissioner of precinct No. 3; Rufus Stallings, commissioner of precinct No. 1.

Others re-elected but who will be beginning new terms include R. W. Caton, district judge; Gil Jones, district attorney; Miller Harris, sheriff; Walter Grice, justice of peace precinct No. 1, place No. 1. J. W. (Wes) Patton and Tim Burkhead also were elected to constable posts last November.

Ford received training in the familiarization, use and proper care of the medium tank turret and its components. He is assigned to the 40th Armored Company A at Camp Irwin. Ford entered the Army in January, 1960 and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan.

Speaker Contest May Slow Organization Of Legislature

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN (AP)—The tight race for the House speakership has cast an ominous shadow over the work-burdened Legislature this month.

Most representatives, particularly those in office one or more sessions, say the contest will slow organization of the House.

The race between Rep. James Turman of Gober and Rep. Wade Spilman will be settled Jan. 10 when House members cast secret ballots. It may be as close as the race two years ago when Speaker Waggoner Carr edged Rep. Joe Burkett Jr., 79-71.

Turman and Spilman frequently utter victory predictions. Both long ago mailed out committee preference cards to all members but say they have not yet promised anything to any one.

"This race for speaker has reached ridiculous proportions and pressure has mounted to an unbelievable pitch," said Spilman, a McAllen lawyer.

ABSOLUTE AUTHORITY
The speaker has the same absolute authority in the House as the presiding officer in the Senate, the lieutenant governor. He names members of such key committees as appropriations, revenue and taxation and state affairs which control the flow of the most important bills to the floor for debate.

The speaker also will name the members to joint committees which will work out the details on such items as the new $200 million plus tax bill and the $2.5 billion spending bill.

The sharp, smoldering division between the pro-Carr forces and the pro-Burkett segment was a factor in the last Legislature's long months of indecision on spending and taxing.

As late as mid-July 1959, Carr, in a dramatic and unusual speech, challenged House members to kick him out if they wanted to. He then walked out of the chamber. Burkett ended the crisis by moving that a committee escort Carr back to the stand.

RACE UNSETTLED
The current speaker's race is unsettled, but reports say at least five candidates already are planning strategy for campaigns for speaker of the 58th Legislature in 1963.

Realizing the problems the Turman-Spilman race is causing, one House member, Rep. James Cotton of Weatherford, even suggested to Gov. Price Daniel that he call the House together in December to elect a speaker then so that committees could be set up before the 57th Legislature got down to business. Daniel said he did not think such a session would be legal.

A bogdown in the House obviously will hamper the Senate. The Senate also has no authority to consider a tax bill until the House sends one over.

Rep. Bill Dungan, replying to The Associated Press poll, indicated he is fed up with the present method of electing the speaker.

CHANGE NEEDED
Dungan, of McKinney, said most members agree a change is needed. He proposed a constitutional amendment to permit House members to assemble 30 days after the general election to be sworn in and to elect a speaker. A special House committee made a similar recommendation two years ago.

Dungan would eliminate the unreliable pledge card system by which members agree in writing to support a particular candidate.

On occasion some members have been known to give pledges to two candidates, confusing even the candidates.

The air of uncertainty will require an additional two weeks for organization of committees, Rep. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi estimates.

POLITICAL SHADINGS
Some have called the race a conservative-liberal battle. Others deny it. Generally Turman and Spilman are considered middle of the roaders with Turman leaning to the liberal viewpoint and Spilman to the conservative philosophy.

Spilman, 35, headed the House's first General Investigating Committee which investigated the defunct U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. collapse. He headed another investigation committee which uncovered the naturopaths' illegal activities and was vice chairman of the group which probed the veterans' land frauds about five years ago.

Turman and Spilman were elected to fourth terms. Turman holds a doctor of philosophy degree in education and resigned last year as assistant to the president of Texas Woman's University at Denton. Turman led the fight in the House at the last session for more money for teachers.

BOOKS • MUSIC • ART • DRAMA CRITIQUE

By Glenn Coates

The old museum is not a museum any more. Although a lot of work is still to be done, it has already taken on the appearance of a theatre inside, thanks to the untiring efforts of Howard Brown who has spent most of the holidays inside the walls of the building.

Work has been done on the building in spurts, since it was given to the BSCT. Using borrowed materials, which were not always easy to get, and amateur labor, which is sometimes impossible to get, the work has often been slowed.

But gradually, the building has taken shape. Old walls, mostly rotten and falling down, were replaced with new ones. With city aid, two restrooms were put in. Other donations have made possible seats for the auditorium.

Construction of special theatre lighting is now under way by Roy Rogan, the city's electrical engineer. These fixtures will give the building lighting equipment, similar to that in the city auditorium.

Construction in the building is now on dressing rooms plus painting. At the present pace, work should be completed in a few months.

Easy Test For Mouth Cancer

Veteran's Administration Hospital Dentists report an easy and painless test for mouth cancer.

According to Dr. H. C. Ernsting, director of professional services at the VA hospital here, the method consists of scraping cells from the surface of the mouth tissue, staining them with a smear used to detect uterine cancer and examining them under a microscope.

Upon finding evidence of possible cancer, a small section of the tissue is removed surgically. Recognition of early mouth cancer has been difficult because mouth abnormalities are quite common and this test is not taken routinely unless strong suspicion exists, Dr. Ernsting explained.

Cell scraping can be done without inconvenience to the patient and may turn up unsuspected cases in time to save lives. The accuracy of this technique supports favorably the results of actual smear tests and is no more painful than scraping a fingernail across the arm, said Dr. Ernsting.

Happy New Year Is Also Happy Birthday

QUITE AN ARRAY of awards for twirling has been accumulated by Dean Terrazas, (pictured left), who was a New Year gift to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Terrazas, 1001 Bell. There are about 60 in her collection. A sophomore in high school, Dean was featured twirler and drum major in Goliad Junior High School last year. The attractive young girl made her appearance at the Howard County Foundation Hospital.

HE ALMOST GOT THE TITLE of Mr. Big Spring in 1955, did Roy Lee Metcalf, (pictured right), son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Metcalf of Knott. The youngster, who arrived at the Howard County Foundation Hospital on Jan. 1, 1955, was the second baby born that day. Roy Lee has a brother, John Wayne, 3 years old. At the present, Roy Lee is perfecting his skill in bicycle-riding when he's not busy with the toys he received for Christmas.

MR. HAPPY, the puppet, has received good workouts ever since he was a Christmas gift to Fred Heckler, (in photo below), who was a New Year's baby in 1951; he was born in Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital and missed being the first baby of the year by about 45 minutes. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guss Heckler, 1411 Mt. Vernon. Other hobbies of the youngster include making car and airplane models, and, with his dad, he is beginning to assemble ship models. (Photos by Keith McMillin).

NEW YEAR'S DAY BIRTHDAYS are celebrated by two members of the local police force. Lt. Stanley Bogard of the traffic division, at left, in the picture above, is a native Big Springer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bogard. Police Capt. Walter Eubanks, who has almost completed the ship model which he holds, was born in Memphis, Tenn. Seems to run in his family—this having birthdays on holidays. The captain's mother, Mrs. John Balch, was born on Christmas Day, and Balch's birthday is on Halloween.

THREE DISTINCTIONS are claimed by Nancy Jenkins, (right), who was born in Overall Memorial Hospital, Coleman, Jan. 1, 1943. She was the first baby born in the hospital; the only girl born that day and was the smallest of the six babies who arrived on New Year's Day. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jenkins, 107 E. 12th. Nancy spends much of her time writing original poems and jingles, with some serious writing of stories. A senior in Big Spring High School, she plans to enter Shannon School of Nursing, San Angelo, when she receives her diploma.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JANUARY 1, 1961

City Not Entirely New To David Edmond Family

Big Spring was the home for a short time last winter of the David Edmond family. They then moved to Stillwater, Okla., where they made their home for several months before returning to Big Spring.

The Edmond family consists of Edmond, his wife Peggy, and two sons, three-and-a-half-year-old David and Kent who is two.

The home town of the pair is Lebanon, Mo., where they attended the same high school. They began dating during their senior year of high school and were married after his graduation from the Missouri School of Mines, a branch of the University of Missouri.

Traveling is a hobby as well as a job for the Edmonds. He is a construction engineer, and during their four-and-a-half years of marriage the couple has lived in eight different states and has visited in some 18 others.

Other things they enjoy are playing bridge, tennis, bowling, and square dancing. Their main hobby is collecting snapshots and souvenirs of the places they have been and the interesting places they have seen.

The family pet, a bird dog, "Puppie" was unable to accompany the Edmonds to Big Spring, so he is staying at the home of her parents in Lebanon.

The family, who attends First Baptist Church, is making their home at 1201 Stanford.

Use Care In Placement Of Salt To Melt Ice

The salt used to clear your walks and driveway of sleet, ice or snow this winter can be poison to your plant life. This warning is sounded by E. A. Dahlgren, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who says sand, cinders and the trusty snow shovel are safer answers to the problem. Common salt—sodium chloride or calcium chloride—is a herbicide and often recommended as such. When dissolved salt runs over or into the root systems, it is likely to spell trouble for woody plants. Chemical ice-removing is advisable only when extreme care and judgment are used. If you insist upon salt applications come the frigid storms, have the topography well in mind. Direction of any run-off will be readily apparent. If trees are located above and well away from driveway or walks, little danger of chemical injury looms. But, don't apply salt near trees and shrubs where water will wash downhill over the root areas.

Salt injury works in a somewhat complex way. It occurs through dehydration, sometimes called exosmosis. This is the reverse of the process through which fluids are brought up into the tree through capillary action. Salt injury has a delayed action. It is usually signalled the next summer when foliage and twig growth may be sub-normal. Leaf scorch also is a common symptom.

Women Regaining Esteem Once Held In Movie World

The new year may well see women regain the position they once held so glamorously in the movie world. The male stars dominated the Hollywood scene in the years following World War II, when a toughened world called for more manly entertainment. But the he-man era may be declining. Many such stars are no longer young; Clark Gable, Tyrone Power, Errol Flynn are dead. Elizabeth Taylor was to receive a cool million for portraying Cleopatra. Doris Day earns 50 per cent of the profits of many of her films; which could run in the millions. Others who take a big chunk of profits are Marilyn Monroe, Susan Hayward, Debbie Reynolds and Deborah Kerr. More actresses like Shirley MacLaine and Audrey Hepburn are moving into that preferred position. Hollywood may once again become a woman's world.

where water will wash downhill over the root areas. Salt injury works in a somewhat complex way. It occurs through dehydration, sometimes called exosmosis. This is the reverse of the process through which fluids are brought up into the tree through capillary action. Salt injury has a delayed action. It is usually signalled the next summer when foliage and twig growth may be sub-normal. Leaf scorch also is a common symptom.

A Devotional For Today

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. (Philippians 4:13.)
 PRAYER: Our Father, we come to Thee for the strength which enables us not to break under the hardships of life. Grant us that strength today through Jesus Christ our Lord. We pray in His name. Amen.

Outlook Generally Is Good

The economy of any locality is inextricably bound to that of the nation if a sufficient time element is brought to bear. A slowing of the general tempo within the past year, and particularly the last six months, has underlined the potency of overall trends. Hence, what our vicinity experiences during 1961 will be more closely responsive to the state and national picture than in recent years. Hence national forecasts of a static level or slight dip in the first quarter, followed by mounting signs of strength in the second quarter, are indicative of an improving situation in this area.

Here are some of the factors:
WEBB AFB HAS going and will have going more than a million dollars of construction on runway extensions and relatively minor improvements. By mid-year the base complement is due to increase with phasing of primary training into the base mission. It looks like an active year at the base.

Cosden, exercising versatility, is fighting hard for a share of the hard-hit oil trade. While it's initial half of the fiscal year has not been too encouraging profit-wise, officials are hopeful that closing months will improve this picture. The company has completed greater facilities for making styrene and also for manufacturing polystyrene (a plastic material). Cosden constantly is examining potential fields, and no one rules out the possibility of other developments.

OIL PRODUCTION and exploration are due to maintain their currently modest pace. Bearing substantial strike, a major increase in development is not probable. Cabot Carbon, with enlarged facilities, is due to continue its vigorous pace. Sid Richardson Carbon may go on stream by July with its new plant costing between four and five million dollars.

Building does not promise to rocket, at least not in the first half. Residential construction likely will continue at its restrained pace, accelerating later in the year. Commercial building may show some gains, but it promises to continue to be the weak sister of our construction. The City of Big Spring will launch a million dollar program as the first in a series of its five-year permanent improvements plan—financed out of bonds floated last year.

ONLY ONE school building, Lakeview, is in sight at the moment. Tax rate and bond assumption elections may clear the way for a bond vote for another elementary school, probably in the College Parks area. Church construction may slow a little over its current good year.

During the year it is likely that the IS 20 by-pass roadway will have been secured, opening the way for a $8,000,000 project. Contracts will be let for construction of U.S. 87 north from Fairview, and possibly south from Fairview to Big Spring. First steps are due late in the year on a new Gregg Street overpass. The Hamlin road plus, an extension of FM 700 from IS 20 to the Snyder Highway are other possibilities. Howard County should have $150,000 to $200,000 of lateral road work.

THE AGRICULTURAL outlook is at least as good as it was a year ago, with moisture in fair reserve. Pastures, by reason of several fairly good years, are gradually regaining strength and are approaching normal. All in all, agriculture depending on weather, should experience a good year.

Private, governmental and institutional payrolls likely will remain at least static as to number and will increase slightly to substantially in amounts. While the halcyon days may be at hand, there is little cause for long range pessimism. The year 1961 should prove better than 1960.

NO PLACE FOR POOR EQUIPMENT

J. A. Livingston
 Downhill, Shallow Dip, Or Steep Fall—Which For 1961?

Nineteen sixty — the best year ever—ended the way it should've begun — soberly. In fact, it should've stood in bed. It has been a downhill year in an uphill sense. An inverted V.

And 1961 takes off accordingly. New Year's statements of government officials, business executives, and Wall Streeters possess a stiff upper-lip quality. "We've been through these things before. We'll get through them again."

YET, TOTAL OUTPUT of goods and services, personal income, employment, industrial production, weekly wages, all attained all-time highs. This year begins pessimistically, however. Production is headed downward.

As I see it, 1961 can take one of three courses:

1. Downward all the way. Full-blown depression, the worst since 1937.
2. Saucer-shape. Slow drag first half, upturn sometime in the second half.
3. V-shape. Quick down, sharp up—the worst over in the first quarter, a la 1958.

THE CASE for depression goes thus:

After 15 years, prosperity is all tucked out—not only here also in Western Europe. The U.S. balance of payments difficulties—the loss of gold—will hamper effective government aid to the economy. Deflation has set in throughout the world. The United States has surplus production capacity and so do other countries, including the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, the average decline in a business cycle lasts 20 months. This slump started in May. Therefore, it could run through 1961—and still be shorter than average.

THE SAUCER case goes something like this:

There has been an inventory decline primarily. During early 1960, business men were building inventories at a rate of about $13,000,000,000 a year; now they've shifted to de-inventories at a rate of nearly $5,000,000,000. As a result, $18,000,000,000 of buying has whizzed out about six months to squeeze down to bottom and then reverse.

Further, any measures taken by President-elect Kennedy's administration to spur housing and stimulate business in general won't be effective till summer or fall.

AND HERE'S the get-it-over-quick case:

Steel has been operating at half-blast for more than six months. Automobile companies will cut back production rather sharply in the first two months. So will other manufacturers.

By March or April, the economy should be set for a pickup—especially since most steel consumers have been living from hand to mouth. The slightest stimulus will cause a buying rush—even as in 1958. I favor this pattern.

Don't forget that all three post-war declines have been short, as follows:

Period	No. of Months
1948-9	11
1953-4	13
1957-8	9

THE ARGUMENT is now current: We can't expect such good luck all the time. Why not? Was it luck?

The same built-in correctives—unemployment, compensation and Social Security payments—are working to buoy personal income. Furthermore, the production high was in January, which means the industrial phase of this readjustment started 11 months ago. Making a V this spring would not mean a longer than average post-war contraction—14 or 15 months.

THE PRESIDENT-ELECT and Congress will enact measures to stimulate business, especially if it lags beyond April or May. Money and credit will continue easy. Housing will be encouraged. Aid to education—school construction—is to be expected. And if foreign bankers become temporarily scared and draw off gold, the problem is manageable. The Federal Reserve System would merely buy government securities to replenish reserves.

The area of greatest imbalance—as I see it—is automobiles. The oversupply is correctible in four or five months, even with slow sales, and if the retail buying rate of November were to recur, the outlook for a production revival would improve rapidly.

SEN. KENNEDY is unlikely to try to win an economic battle and lose the economic war. If the U.S. goes in for another inflationary whirl, foreign fears about the dollar would be justified. America's competitive position in the world would worsen. The balance-of-payments deficit—the export of capital—would persist.

My hunch is that this administration will curb inflation. It will try to improve living standards through (1) lower prices rather than higher wages and (2) wider protection of workers through legislation—higher minimum wages, expanded Social Security benefits, retraining and rehabilitation programs for the unemployed. A Democratic administration, with a Secretary of Labor known to be devoted to the well-being of the worker, could put such a program across, and reduce time lost due to strikes.

CONCLUSION: Optimism is always low near the bottom. Last January was a good time for a little contrary opinion. Maybe this is another such time.

Couldn't Resist Look

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Tom Barlet, photographer for the Capital Times of Madison, was assigned to take a picture of a boxer dog for his newspaper. L. J. Kinney of Madison wanted to find a new master for the four-year-old pet.

"I couldn't resist that soulful look..." Barlet sheepishly explained to his wife as he brought the dog to his seven children, who are owners of two cats, three pet mice, four pairs of hamsters, some goldfish and a canary.

Fatal Landing

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP)—State Patrolman Clem Wiechman stopped to investigate a stolen auto one night. He turned on the dome light of his car to make out a report.

Suddenly there was a loud thump. Wiechman found that a teal duck had landed on the hood of the patrol car. The patrolman theorized the duck mistook the reflected light for a pond and made a landing. The duck died.

Around The Rim For Helping The Town Along, Thanks

Here we are about to attempt another lap around the old Race Course and we haven't yet gotten the official time on the one just ended.

Some of us carrying an excess of the frailties of life won't tot up much of a score, but we can at least give a cheer for some of those who have made a good mark during 1960.

THIS IS A SORT of traditional piece that I write in this corner at the turn of each year, forgetting the flippancies for the nonce and being sincere in gratitude to the many who have helped make the old home town a bit of a better place to live.

The people who contribute thusly are too numerous to mention, but there still are not enough of them. They would be the people who did more than they just had to do, to help their fellowman, or to help lift their community another notch above mediocrity. Cities accumulate a personality, a type of dignity and a measure of pleasantness and solidity in proportion to the amount of unselfish work done in programs for civic and cultural betterment.

WELL, THE volunteers have done some good this past year. Probably never was so much work done for the uplift of patients at the State Hospital than was done in 1960. The scores of people who worked in this area ought to have our thanks. Similar programs at the VA Hospital—where young people did an outstanding job—and other hospitals—deserve our commendation.

Never has the city-military relationship been better, and this is due to a fine appreciation of community endeavors on the part of the War people, who can be counted in every worthwhile program.

THE CITY and the school problems have been more complex than ever. You and I may not always agree with some of the solutions those in authority have adopted, but we can never overlook the fact that these are men giving of their time and talent and getting nothing in return, too often, except criticism and abuse.

The United Fund missed its mark this past year, but never was a more valiant effort put forth, and every individual who performed his task deserves a vote of thanks. It was gratifying to see this major campaign in the hands of younger businessmen who, now having tasted the bitter, will be all the more determined for future success.

WE HAVE to cite the people who labor, month in and month out on boards directing such welfare and cultural activities as Red Cross and Salvation Army, YMCA and Concert Association, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. These assignments take time, they pay no salaries. The reward? Well, a word of appreciation would be wonderful recompense in itself.

There are those who labor in the vineyards or the churches and the Sunday schools, long and faithfully, and exert more influence on young lives than can easily be imagined. Their labors should not go unacknowledged.

THERE'S HARDLY a stopping place in a census like this, and there's no way to list in full all the activities that go to round out a better town. The people who participate in these are the people who are not content with the day's work, a few hours at television or at the social club. They are the people who look for something unselfish to do, and do it.

They don't ask for credit, but if someone called them on New Year's Day and said "thanks" along with the traditional holiday greeting, they'd feel a lot better. So would he who does the calling.
 —BOB WHIPKEY

This Is No Time To Accept Red China

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev is telling the world over the air waves that he's against colonialism. He's boasting about his support of the United Nations resolution, adopted a few days ago, which proclaims the "necessity of bringing to a speedy and unconditional end colonialism in all its forms and manifestations."

But, oddly enough, the Soviet premier never says a word about the colonialism imposed by Moscow behind the Iron Curtain. He piously declares:

"IF THE COLONIAL

powers cast aside the U.N. resolution and continue to obstruct the liberation of subjugated peoples and oppose their independence, then these peoples will be left with only one choice—that of carrying out a decisive struggle to sweep away all obstacles put in their path. And they will not be alone in that struggle."

Mr. Khrushchev's argument against colonialism is transparently hypocritical, but what is surprising is that spokesmen for the free world do not seem to take him up vigorously on the issue. Even in the United Nations, there seems to be inertia among Western diplomats when it comes to delivering attacks on the colonialism of the Soviet Union.

MAYBE IT'S time for these same Western diplomats and representatives in the U.N. to read over a speech delivered on May 18, 1961, by Dean Rusk, who was at that time Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs and who now has been designated by President-elect Kennedy to be the new Secretary of State. Mr. Rusk said in part:

"The freedoms of the Chinese people are disappearing. Trial by mob, mass slaughter, banishment as forced labor to Manchuria, Siberia or Sinkiang, the arbitrary seizure of property, the destruction of loyalties within the family, the suppression of free speech—these are the facts behind the parades and celebrations and the empty promises."

"WE CAN TELL our friends in China that the United States will not acquiesce in the degradation which is being forced upon them.
 "We do not recognize the authorities in Peking for what they pretend to be. The Peking regime may be a colonial Russian government—A Slavic Manchukuo on a larger scale. It is not the government of China. It does not pass the first test. It is not Chinese."

"It is not entitled to speak for China in the community of nations. It is entitled only to the fruits of its own conduct—the fruits of aggression upon which it is now willfully, openly and senselessly embarked.

"WE RECOGNIZE the national government of the Republic of China, even though the territory under its control is severely restricted. We believe it more authentically represents the views of the great body of the people of China, particularly their historic demand for independence from foreign control. That government will continue to receive important aid and assistance from the United States. Under the circumstances, however, such aid in itself cannot be decisive to the future of China. The decision and the effort are for the Chinese people, pooling their efforts, wherever they are, in behalf of China."

Dean Rusk's words are just as valid today as they were nearly ten years ago when he delivered them in a prepared speech before the China Institute in America.

LATELY THERE have been all sorts of speculation as to a possible change in the United States policy toward Red China. It has been argued naively that Red China is a "fact" and that control of the mainland must be accepted as a basis for the Peking government's admission to the United Nations. This argument is made largely by appeasers but also to some extent by misguided people who think that the end justifies the means—they are willing to try to appease Moscow and Peking and hope to get some minor concessions as the price of admission of Red China to the U.N.

ON THE TELEVISION a few nights ago, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., one of the President-elect's principal advisers, said that admission of Red China to the U.N. is a "reasonable price" to pay for a disarmament agreement with the Soviet Union and Red China. This is the beginning of a new series of arguments designed to make Americans believe that the word of the Chinese Communists and the word of the Russian Communists can be trusted in any disarmament agreement. Unfortunately, risks of this kind have been taken before and have ended in disaster. This time a nuclear catastrophe could result, which would be far worse in its consequences than any diplomatic mistake made in the past.

THIS IS WHY many Americans, including Senator Paul Douglas, Democrat of Illinois, and Senator Kenneth Keating, Republican, of New York, are active in the fight as members of "the committee of one million against the admission of Communist China to the United Nations." The committee is currently giving wide distribution to Dean Rusk's speech of 1951 in the face of some hints from other Kennedy advisers that the time may have arrived for a "deal" with Red China.

It is strange how often the idealists who profess to be "liberals" will succumb to the temptations of Communist diplomacy, which promises everything but rarely honors any of its oral or written agreements.

Coffee Breaker Dishonest

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The coffee break which has spread to most legitimate businesses, apparently has penetrated the other kind, too.

The clerk of a cleaning shop reported that a young man walked into the store, helped himself to a cup of coffee from a pot, then sat on a stool next to an unlocked safe and chatted amiably. After he left, the clerk discovered that $72 was missing from the safe.

To Your Good Health Proteins Kill Urge To Eat Between Meals

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 There's a story to be told by two readers' letters, and perhaps I can give you a useful tip about avoiding "between-meal hunger," if you are on a reducing diet.

Anyway, one letter, from which I will quote only a sentence or so, is from "E.M.B.," who tells me that she weighed 160 pounds, lost 12 of them, and is now satisfied that her weight is right for her height and bone structure.

She writes: "I didn't diet to lose weight, I just ate less."
 When you learn to shed pounds that way, by eating less, you have achieved the best kind of weight control. You have a method whereby you can keep your weight steady, or you can, if you choose, lose a few more pounds. You do not, as so many, struggle to reduce, and then find the pounds creeping right back as soon as you go off the "reducing diet."
 Now here's part of the other letter: "I wonder if being at least 45 pounds overweight could have caused my trouble (in childbirth). Since my first baby I have gained quite a bit of weight, and would like to go on a diet that will not hurt me and I won't feel hungry between meals.—Mrs. N. M."
 Mrs. N. M., take a tip from E.M.B. Don't hunt for a "special diet." Just learn to eat less!

That way there is no risk of getting into a diet that will be harmful.
 It will take some will power. Enough will power to change the old pattern of eating too much. But it can be done.
 And this tip will help: Put the emphasis on protein foods, to guard against between-meal hunger.

There is a sound reason for this. Sugars and other starches are used very rapidly by the system. They are absorbed quickly. The proteins (lean meat, fish, seafood, cheese, eggs) are not absorbed as rapidly. It is necessary for the chemistry of digestion to put these proteins, or parts of them, through an extra process or so, before the food can be burned up as energy.

Therefore, the proteins tend to stay with you longer, because of the slower absorption. This can be genuinely helpful in avoiding that famished feeling between meals.
 You may well have read about athletes, sometimes football players, who aren't very heavy, who nibble a lump or two of sugar between halves, because the sugar, absorbing quickly, gives them a rapid boost in energy.
 To avoid the between-meals hunger, you do the opposite. Instead of eating quick-absorbing foods, you eat more of the slow ones, which will spread their supply of nitrogen over a longer period.

 "Dear Dr. Molner: I have always understood that an X-ray of the heart was a picture of it, and a cardiogram showed its movement or beat rhythm. Am I right?—C.E."
 Yes, you are. An X-ray shows the shape and size of the heart. A cardiogram by means of graph representing changes in the tiny electrical impulses in the heart shows the rhythm and timing between the various phases of a heart beat. Certain peculiarities in the pattern can disclose damage from such things as a coronary thrombosis (heart attack), or rheumatic fever.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of my booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope a n d 25 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.
 Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Marquis Childs Senate Facing The Filibuster Issue

WASHINGTON—Are you pro-Kennedy or are you anti-Kennedy? That, rather than Northern or Southern, liberal or conservative, should be the test for Democrats as the new Administration prepares to take over.

This is the view of Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota who will in all probability become majority whip of the Senate. In that position he will in effect, be deputy to the new majority leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

BUT, WHATEVER test is applied, the fact remains that the old divisions which plague the Democrats on the first issue to come before the Senate of the 87th Congress. That is the proposal to change Rule 22 which requires a majority of two-thirds of those present and voting to put an end to debate and thereby to frustrate a filibuster.

Until two years ago it took two-thirds of the Senate membership rather than two-thirds of those "present and voting." But the change did not mean too much. When it comes to protecting their precious bastion, the two-thirds rule, the Southern Democrats will all be present and ready to vote.

MANSFIELD, taking over from Lyndon Johnson, who moves on January 20 to the Vice President's chair, would prefer that the struggle be postponed. He is naturally fearful that it will stir the old hostilities and leave such rancor in its wake as to jeopardize the Kennedy legislative program. Put it off, so his argument runs, until we've got some of the program adopted.

The Southerners point out that of the 300 electoral votes that President-elect Kennedy received 49 came from the state of the Deep South and another 24 from Texas. The majority necessary to win in the electoral college is 269.

BUT IF HE COULD not have won without the South, neither would Kennedy's victory have been possible without the Negro vote, and it is from this segment of the voting population that the greatest pressure for civil-rights reform comes. The evidence is more and more convincing that the margin in the big-city states was an emotional response to the telephone calls made by the two Kennedy brothers in behalf of Rev. Martin Luther King when he was put in jail in Georgia.

In view of the deeply conflicting pressures, the leadership would like to avoid at the outset a bruising fight. But both Republicans and Democrats from the North will feel compelled to bring up the filibuster issue. Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey, who led all Republican Senatorial candidates in the size of his majority, intends to press for changing the rule to permit a simple majority to shut off debate.

SEN. THOMAS KUCHEL of California, the minority whip, has his own proposal. This would permit debate for 28 legislative days after a bill or a resolution had been made the pending business of the Senate. At the end of that time on a petition signed by 16 Senators the Senate could within two days vote by a majority to end the debate. Kuchel argues that 25 days of talk is fair enough with anything beyond plainly a filibuster by anybody's definition.

LYNDON JOHNSON will be Majority Leader until January 20. He could undoubtedly carry the day if he were to raise his voice. Whether he will care to expend his authority on this issue so early in a session certain to produce many conflicts he must himself determine.

The wounds go deep and they have been inflamed by the long—embittered struggle over integrating the New Orleans schools.

Lamesa Couple Has Solution For A Happy Life Together

LAMESA (SC)—"Pray together and you'll stay together" is the sage advice of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Peterson, who are observing their 62nd wedding anniversary today.

10 days before they married; he was visiting a friend near Pleasant Hill, La., and just couldn't go back to his East Texas home until young Susie was his bride.

eral years ago, the family home was on the farm east of Lamesa until July, 1953, when they moved into town.

Farewells Are Said At Coffee

STANTON (SC)—A farewell coffee was given Thursday morning for Mrs. C. V. Greenlees, who with her husband is moving to Ranger where he is employed with the T&P Railway.

Quick Cooking Barley

Quick-cooking barley is available in some neighborhoods. Regular barley needs to be soaked before cooking.

Now 84 years old, Mr. Peterson remains active, and when the family staged a party for him on his 80th birthday, he got the gift he wanted—a new lawn mower.

The Petersons reared eight children; only one, Luther, is deceased. Their sons are Percy, Carl and Otis Peterson, Lamesa; the Rev. Elmer Peterson, Dennison; Dupwood Peterson, San Angelo.

There are 18 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

New Year Welcomed With Social Whirl

Arriving in a whirl of social activity in 1961, with informal gatherings and formal receptions combining with a tea dance.

Stated this afternoon at Big Spring Country Club is the dance, with music by Jess Gayer and his orchestra; dancing will be from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and will be followed by a buffet from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Steve, Debra Favorites In 1960 Names

Looking back over the list of babies born in the year of 1960, it seems as if a few more boys than girls were born in the local hospitals.

Steven, Michael, Mark and David were among the favorites in the first names given to these boys. Second name choices included Richard, Paul, Allen and Craig. Ricky and Robert were also among the chosen names.

Of course, there were many juniors, and several named in the third generation and a few even carried through the fourth.

Several sets of twins were recorded on the 1960 birth records in the city.

Kelly, Michelle and Kim were a few names which were shown partially in the naming of both boys and girls.

Susan, an all time favorite, was still among the top ranking girls' names. Renee was also among the favorites.

Debra, spelled also Deborah, Cynthia and Lisa were some of the chosen girls' names. Kimberly was also a top ranking name during 1960. Other favorites were Lauri and Denise.

Sherry, Brenda and Diane were also still on the selected list. Kaye and Ann, both old favorites in the second names given to the 1960 girls.

Harvard are to hold open house for friends this afternoon, and a reception is slated at Webb Air Force Base, carrying on the New Year's tradition.

Calling at the Officers Club from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. will be military personnel and their wives, while civilian guests will be received from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Included in the receiving line will be Col. and Mrs. Donald Eisenhart, Col. and Mrs. August Tautz and the group commanders and their wives.

The New Year was welcomed at a dance at Cosden Country Club for members and their guests, with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Black-eyed peas were served to guests at midnight as part of the festivity.

Black-eyed peas were also part of the fun at the "Come and Go" New Year's Eve party given by the American Legion, Saturday, at the Legion Hut. Members and guests gathered at 10 p.m., and the serving began at midnight to accommodate merry-makers from other parties.

Welcome to the year was extended in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Groebel Saturday evening when they were hosts to a supper club and other friends at an informal party.

Nan Rankin and Kathleen Soldan were hostesses for a party late Saturday afternoon and evening in the home of Miss Soldan.

Another good luck supper was served at the Elks Club Saturday after the dance for members and their guests who ushered in the New Year.

Friends Divorcing? You Had Better Stay Neutral

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON, AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When a friend faces a marriage break-up, chances are that you, being the milk of human kindness, may offer your broad shoulder to cry on. Your reward may be a soured friendship, or two.

Take the word of Mrs. Else Siegle who, as assistant director for New York City's Community Service Society, has been counseling bickering couples for more than 20 years.

While social researchers keep tabs on the count of broken homes (approximately 400,000 annually), and the resulting "half-orphaned" children (about 800,000 yearly), nobody accounts for the fringe casualties . . . those friends of quarreling couples who somehow find themselves taking sides.

With one out of four marriages reaching divorce courts these days, and with a tremor in the most unshakable unions occasionally, you have probably already been drawn into the middle of a marital muddle sometime in your life; unless you are very wise and very careful. And few people are!

Why you're involved Miss Siegle, an Austrian-born caseworker in this largest of the nation's family service agencies, claims that friends are drawn into the wars of embattled couples for three very human reasons:

1. All people are flattered at being solicited for advice.

2. Some people (the gossip types) enjoy listening to the ains of the supposed errant husband or wife.

3. Most people do not wish to turn a friend away at the very time when he or she is obviously in need of friendship.

You don't have to turn a friend away, Mrs. Siegle insists. Indeed you should be helpful in almost all ways you can. Offer to entertain the child or invite the friend out to a dinner or show to get his mind off his troubles.

"But don't let these emotionally distraught friends relate to you the details of their personal problem. Tell them that because you are so fond of them that you cannot look at the situation objectively."

You can't, Mrs. Siegle has a thick file full of cases where well-meaning friends have done more harm than good.

A BROAD SHOULDER "Of course, it is good for them to talk out their troubles with someone, but someone impersonal. I don't mean a marriage counselor, necessarily. The family doctor or a minister will do."

The experienced counselor is the first to admit that a state of neutrality is difficult to maintain, particularly if members of your family are involved. Still, it must be done if you are to avoid sometimes unpatchable splits that develop between couples and laws.

BUTTING IN? The spats of little children are a good analogy, Mrs. Siegle thinks. Mothers rush to the defense of their youngsters and wind up not speaking to each other long after the kids are back playing together again.

"Remember that your friend or relative in marital trouble is in a highly emotional state, only able to see the negative side, unable to reason well," she says.

Remember, too, in choosing up sides, that tomorrow the couples may be deeply in love again, but embarrassed because you know what you know, and angry at you for "butting in."

"It's a tough code to practice," Mrs. Siegle admits, "almost impossible sometimes."

But the middle road is the only safe road to take when a marriage is erupting around you.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Greenlee. Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Limzey, Mrs. Lewis Carlisle, Mrs. P. M. Bristow, Mrs. Sam Wilkerson, Mrs. Walter Graves, Mrs. John Roueche, Mrs. Les Durham, Mrs. T. W. Haynie, Mrs. W. T. Wells and Mrs. N. L. Riggan.

Mrs. Eula Eubanks has had visitors from California and from Monahans.

Christmas Eve guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves were Mr. and Mrs. Granville Graves, Terri and Craig of Coahoma; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Graves and children and Mr. and Mrs. Art Lind and children all of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bridges, Mrs. Fannie Graves, A turkey dinner was served to 22.

Christmas Day guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bridges were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baugh and Patsy of Stamford; Mrs. Mary Bridges, Preston, Bud and Mike of Big Spring; Henry Bridges of Seminole; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves.

The Rev. W. H. Ulman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is to accompany a group of Royal Ambassadors from the church to a two-day meeting in Big Spring.

Keep your mind from the sun, do much, try sunshine, and do as you a week. You and make peace in it! (State, Tex.)

Empty cartons of cottage cheese are good containers for fat you skim off meat dishes and stock and which you do not intend to re-use. Cover the carton and let the fat harden in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator and you can discard the whole thing easily.

Jill Haworth Happy Choice For Key Part In 'Exodus'

By JOHN LARSON
In the filming of "Exodus," it was clear from the beginning that the role of Karen, the young Jewish refugee girl around whom much of the story revolves, would be most difficult to cast. Jill Haworth, whom Producer Otto Preminger finally chose to play the part, is a lovely, blue-eyed, smug-nosed, golden-haired 15-year-old girl from Sussex, England. She has studied acting and dancing since she was eleven and is totally unaffected.

"I couldn't believe it when I was selected to play the part," says Jill. "I ran to my drama teacher, half laughing and half crying at the same time."

A serious, almost tense young lady, whose sudden smile lights up a room, Jill had never been out of England before her role in "Exodus," except for a short holiday in France.

Her main interest is acting, but she also likes to play tennis and net ball. "I enjoy bicycling," she told us, "and I guess you would call me a fair to middling swimmer. In school I prefer history to math. I don't care for cooking because I seem to spoil everything I cook. Chickens and fish-and-chips are my favorite foods."

EXPERIENCES
Perhaps the best way to get to know Jill is by a story about her experiences in Israel while making the picture. On a brilliant, warm Thursday morning last spring, several members of the "Exodus" film company not involved in that day's shooting schedule, drove off for a day of sightseeing at Beersheba and its famed camel market. Beersheba is about an hour's drive over rough roads from the King David Hotel in Jerusalem, where the "Exodus" company was housed.

Included in the company taking the trip was Sal Mino, Composer Ernest Gold, and Jill's teacher, Miss Phoebe Stone. Sadly disappointed, Jill had, at the last minute, been told she could not go. She had a big scene coming up the next day and she had to stay and work on it all day. Knowing of her overwhelming love for animals, everybody felt sorry.

Sal Mino, who plays Dov Landau in the picture, was aware of her keen disappointment. He decided to shop for a pet for Jill in the market. He wanted something small, but the smallest animal he could find was a three-day old donkey with large, appealing eyes, wobbly legs and a very dirty, muddy coat. He bought it, had it washed, and gave it to her. Jill kept asking, "Is it really mine? Is it mine to keep?" "Oh, it's the most beautiful donkey I have ever seen," she named him "Dov" on the spot. Dov Landau is the youthful Israeli terrorist from the Warsaw ghetto played by Sal Mino.

FAVORITE PET
Two days later, forced to find a home for Dov, Sal and Jill set out for a drive around the neighboring farms. They found one to satisfy Jill after a couple of hours search. The farm was within a 15-minute drive of the King David Hotel. They left the donkey in the farmer's care, with detailed instructions from Jill on the care, feeding and loving necessary to Dov's happiness. Jill spent all her spare time visiting Dov on the farm. While away from him she worried constantly that the farmer might not be giving him enough love and attention.

Sal Mino finally came up with a solution to which Jill agreed and which in time softened the glow of parting with her pet. Jill gave the donkey to a youth village near Jerusalem.

Your Hands Tell Tales

By CHRIS RILEY
Hands can, and do, say all kinds of things about people. They tell you, not only about your physical condition, but also about your personality. The way your hands will be the first thing to show your age, if you let yourself grow old. So, now—right now—is the time to see that your hands tell the right tale. It is terribly important, but, fortunately, it isn't difficult to do.

First, it should be said that the best argument for good grooming in general is the way it makes you feel and behave. When you look lovely, you act lovely.

Whether you know it or not, you use your hands constantly to express yourself. Even holding your hands in little tight fists in your lap, or trying to hid them, is an expression of yourself—a rather unhappy one.

Before your hands can be relaxed and poised, before we want them to be seen, they must be groomed. The very first thing we must do is to take care of them physically, to see to their health and the grooming. Gracefulness, poise, hand beauty are bound to follow.

GOOD DIET
Healthy hands start with good diet—particularly the vitamin A, or "skin vitamin" foods. You'll learn more about beauty diets as you go along, but for the moment, for beautiful hands just remember to drink lots of milk (skim or buttermilk, if you are gaining too much weight), eat cottage cheese or yogurt, eat bright green and bright yellow vegetables.

Beauty Rule No. 2: good circulation! Make sure that your good beauty-building blood (that you get from eating your beauty diet) circulates into your hands. When you use your hand lotion (and that's every time you wash your hands, and especially before going out of doors) work the lotion into your hands just as if you were working on a tight glove, pressing down the sides of your fingers all the way from the tips, smoothing the back of each hand, the palms, the wrists. For good measure, pinch the finger tips a few times, till they tingle. At bedtime do this again, more thoroughly. Stretch the hands, make "claws," make fists, then relax them. While you sleep roughness will heal and fingernails will grow beautiful. If you have problem nails, by the way, buff them regularly, to get that blood right in under them, too.

WATCH CUTICLE
Never let hard cuticle develop either at the base of the nail or around the tip. If cuticle is already hardened, make a practice of using a pumice stone, finger tip size, when you take a bath. Rub the softened cuticle gently with the stone, a little at a time (don't over-do it!) each time you take a bath. It's a good habit to press the cuticle down at the base of each nail every time you dry your hands, and use a rich cream on this slowly disappearing cuticle at bedtime.

Have a very special manicure day—or evening; and see that you always get that regular thorough, loving weekly manicure. A good practice is to start with a bath that softens the cuticle; otherwise, soak the hands in warm gentle suds before your manicure. Dishwashing detergents are wonderful for this. Remove old polish completely before soaking the finger tips, and file a soft, rounded curve for each nail before the nail grows too soft from soaking. (A little softening actually helps.)

You shouldn't have to clip the cuticle if you manicure your hands regularly, but at first, if you do have to, do it gently, and see to it that it never happens again. A weekly rub with cuticle lotion eliminates normal cuticle growth.

REPAIR DAMAGE
Never, never let a hang-nail or a broken rough fingernail go un-repaired. Don't even wait for your weekly manicure to do that little job. Tend to it immediately. You know that a temptation little snag like that are to start your fingernail biting—a habit so much against the rules it's almost unmentionable!

When your nails are perfectly clean (underneath, too!) and free of cuticle, and filed into gentle curves, apply a colorless base coat of polish before your colored nail polish, to protect the nails from stain. Then apply a very, very thin first coat of polish (because thick spreading is never even). Then another thin coat, this time not covering the entire nail—no down all the way on the sides. This gives the illusion of very slender, curved fingernails. Then repeat

Tips Given On Driving

By BOYD STEVENS
A sidelight of one of our recent studies made in a highly instrumented test car showed that auto radio music such as rock-and-roll reduces gasoline mileage. The "rock beat" causes drivers, consciously or otherwise, to jiggle the accelerator.

This bit of information may not seem too important in itself but it illustrates a good point for new drivers interested in cutting down on the costs of operating their own cars or dad's. It's the abrupt changes, such as tapping on the accelerator, that adversely affect your auto's performance.

Jack-rabbit starts, or "bugging out," subject the car to the worst possible conditions. Start off smoothly and you'll save gas, lessen wear-and-tear, and get where you're going just about as fast.

It is actually possible to favorably change fuel consumption 10 per cent by adhering to all the rules of good and safe driving. We learned, for example, that extended use of the choke with a warmed-up engine can cut economy from 20 miles per gallon down to as little as eight. Automatic chokes should be adjusted regularly.

Take Advantage Of Unsteady Status And Make New Friends

By BESSIE LITTLE
PUBLISHER TEEN PARADE
DEAR BESSIE: My girl friend and I are having quite a time. She likes a boy and I like the boy's friend. The boy she likes likes me, and the boy I like likes her. What should we do?

GLORIA
DEAR GLORIA: Congratulate yourselves! Things could be much worse than they are—imagine if you both liked the same boy or both boys liked only one of you. You have a pleasant (if slightly mixed-up) little foursome. When there is some activity to which you do the inviting, invite the boy of your choice. Try to indicate to the boys which of you likes which, and maybe the compliment will be returned. Above all, don't become upset or jealous of one another.

DEAR BESSIE: A few months ago my boy friend and I broke up. When we did, however, we agreed that even though we were no longer going steady we would remain good friends, still date occasionally, and date others as well. Both of us were happy with this agreement and felt that it would be the best and most sensible way for us to still remain friends. Now, everything has changed. He hasn't asked me for a date, hardly speaks to me and never, never phones. Deep down I still care about him, but it almost seems useless. Please, Bessie, tell me what to do.—S.A.D.
DEAR S.A.D.: The best intentions often go astray. Take advantage of your new "unsteady" status and cultivate the friendship of other boys in your group. Remember, it could be that your ex-steady feels strange about your new arrangement. If you don't moon and brood, and do keep yourself in the swim, you'll do two things. First, you'll enjoy new relationships and second, he will see that you, too, are popular with others. Live up to your side of the bargain—and remain his friend.

DEAR BESSIE: I am 17 years old and have been going with a twenty-two-year-old man for several months. I am very much in love with him and he loves me. We are engaged but he says he isn't ready to settle down yet and won't be for another three years. He says he is too young and so am I. I know he still likes to go out with the boys and enjoy himself, but there is a time and a place for everything. Bessie, I love him. Should I break up with him now before he hurts me?—DOROTHY M.

DEAR DOROTHY M.: Suppose that this young man were not completely honest with you or himself. Let us suppose that you had married when you thought you were ready. Then, suppose that he showed by his actions that he wasn't ready to accept the responsibilities and the duties of marriage. Then, Dorothy would have a problem.

It is possible that a girl of your age is emotionally ready to settle down to married life and make a good wife for the man you love. But, if he isn't ready and is honest enough to talk to you about it, you should be thankful.

If you love him and he loves you, then waiting a few years could deepen your relationship to the point where you could look forward to a happy marriage. If you try to push him to the altar, you could well push him away.

Maybe You Had Better Lay Off Those French Fries

By JO CRAVEN
Funny how silly, even ugly little poems will stick in your mind, even when something nice, that you really want to remember, just won't. Perhaps it's because there is some very basic and undeniable truth on the side of the little poem or jingle you remember.

Take this one, for instance:
French Fries,
Potato Chips,
A pimply face—
And big fat hips!

Horrid, isn't it? Maybe this is what they mean by the "awful" truth.

Of all the nice things we could learn from the French, why did it have to be French fries that we took to our hearts—and to our fattening figures? All that starch, with the minerals peeled off and thrown away! All that salt, with nice little trick that salt has of keeping water in our tissues (which looks the same as fat from the outside).

They're tasty, of course—French fries. And they're cheap—if you only count the cost of paying for a mountain of them in the gang's favorite diner after school,

What they cost in other ways—when you get too fat for your clothes, or your skin breaks out from too much salt, and you don't get as many dates as you more, this is another matter. Remember, it's because French fries are cheap that the diner owner inexpensively serves them to you, but at a terrible expense to you.

One mother, with four teen-agers in her family, recently sighed heavily and said,
"If I could just keep my teen-agers away from French fries, potato chips, chocolate bars and peanuts, we would have no skin problems and no overweight in our family!"

A certain amount of peanut eating can be defended because of the good protein in peanuts. Unsalted peanuts are recommended by some of our nation's best nutritionists. Chocolate, too, in moderation, wouldn't do too much harm if it weren't for the great quantities of sugar usually served with it. Candy bars, (particularly with nuts), are perhaps the greatest threat of all to teen-age skin. (Copyright Columbia Features, Inc.)

Elvis' Record Stays At Top

By JEANNE HARRISON
Elvis Presley extended to four weeks his hold on the number one spot in the nation's top records last week. His recording of "Are You Lonesome Tonight" is still the hottest in the land; followed again by Floyd Cramer's "Last Date" in second place. Holding on to third spot was Kathy Young's "A Thousand Stars."

An import from Germany, Lolita's "Sailor" is the fastest moving record. It moved into the number ten spot last week, and is making a bold bid to move up on the charts. Here's the rundown:
1. "Are You Lonesome Tonight," Elvis Presley
2. "Last Date," Floyd Cramer
3. "A Thousand Stars," Kathy Young
4. "Many Tears Ago," Connie Francis
5. "Wonderland by Night," Bert Kaempfert
6. "North to Alaska," Johnny Horton
7. "You're Sixteen," Johnny Burnette
8. "He Will Break Your Heart," Jerry Butler
9. "New Orleans," U. S. Bonds
10. "Sailor," Lolita

For those who dig a collection of romantic vocals, Joni James has cut an exciting new album, "100 Strings and Joni on Broadway." In arrangements equaling the quality of her previous albums, Joni warbles such favorites as "Hey There," "Til There Was You," "The Party's Over," and for a change of pace, "Baubles, Bangles and Beads."

For a shorter version of Joni, there's a new single, "My Last Date" backed by "I Can't Give You Anything But Love." The "Date" is a new sound calculated for great listening. The "Love" bit is an oldie in a bright new setting.

Also worth noting in the new discs the next time you're spinning them on your best friend's Hi-Fi are: "You Know You Belong to Somebody Else" and "Hold On" by Fabian; an oldie with an Under Twenty pitch backed by a rocker, "C'est Si Bon," and "Don't You Dare Let Me Down," by Conway Twitty—a latin twister with special appeal for the girls, backed by another top rocker. With "Sailor" hitting the high spots, there's another German entry on the way. It's Mariene Stolz with "Gute Nacht, Johnny Boy" backed by "Nach Dem Servus." If you dig the German trend (or if you're making with the language at school) you'll enjoy the nifty-night ballad and the flip farewell number.

They Hope To Have A Ball

Lucille Ball and Bob Hope are shown here in a scene from their movie, a romantic comedy called "The Facts of Life." Also, the theme of the film—naturally—is the facts of life. Also, the facts of laugh. The film will be at the Ritz through Tuesday.

Elvis Presley Is Indian Lad In His Latest Movie

The blood-and-thunder of the early Texas plains under the onslaught of Indian attack forms the background for the new production "Flaming Star," 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope Deluxe Color drama starring Elvis Presley, Barbara Eden, Steve Forrest, Dolores Del Rio, opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

PRESLEY & EDEN Him protectum squaw

When the Indians launch a series of massacres on pioneer ranches the wrath of an entire town turns upon the Burton family, chiefly because of the boy Pacer (Elvis Presley) and his Indian mother Neddy (Dolores Del Rio). Whose side these two will take during the struggle that is sure to come is the question that confronts both the Indian leaders and the local pioneers.

Danger comes when the Indians ask Pacer to take sides with them against the frontier settlers. Presley sings four new songs: "Flaming Star," "Bitches," "Summer Kisses—Winter Tears," and "A Cane and a High Starched Collar."

Steve Forrest plays one of the burly Burton sons, a young frontiersman who defends his beleaguered family even though he almost loses his girl (Barbara Eden) in the conflict. Dolores Del Rio marks her return to the American screen as Neddy, mother of young Pacer.

ON THE SHELF

BRIGITTE BARDOT AND THE LOLITA SYNDROME. By Simone de Beauvoir. Reynal, $1.95.

Brigitte Bardot seems like an extraordinarily light topic for a writer so serious as Miss de Beauvoir—you remember her autobiography, "Memoirs of a Dutiful Daughter," her novel, "The Mandarins." But when you also remember her "The Second Sex," you realize that the spectacularly successful young French film star really lies within this author's province, especially when she dignifies her title, or even weighs it down, with "syndrome."

For this is a cool study of the hot nature of the Bardot riddle. She is an "export product as important as the Renault auto," we are told. With the French she is less popular than with Americans: They want some submissiveness in the female, she reputedly pretends to prefer some equality. And Bardot is as much hunter as hunted, says Miss de Beauvoir. She is the "exotic boyden," whose very frankness rouses up both friend and critic. Akin to Françoise Sagan's young heroines, she is the child-woman revealed by Nabokov, by Colette, and on the stage, too. If the idea of a profound study rebuffs you, I have a surprise: There are also 80 photos.

Call Girl Study Results In Film

For the first time in film history, a Ph.D. thesis has been used as the basis for a motion picture. Warner Bros. release of "Girl of the Night," at the Jet Theatre and starring Anne Francis, Lloyd Nolan, Kay Medford and John Kerr, was based on Dr. Harold Greenwald's social and psychoanalytical study of the case histories of call girls which earned him his Ph.D. from Columbia University.

The thesis was published as "The Call Girl" and became a non-fiction best-seller.

Guest Stars

Duane Eddy and the Rebels, recording aggregation, make a guest star appearance in "Because They're Young," Dick Clark stars, in his motion picture debut, along with Michael Callan, Tuesday Weld and Victoria Shaw. James Darren also is a guest star, singing the title song.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

The first commemorative stamp depicting the work of the United Nations Postal Administration will honor the International Court of Justice. It will be issued Feb. 13, 1961.

The design will feature a closeup of a hand holding the work of Kurt Ploetz of the U.N. Graphic Presentation and is another in the series of U.N. commemoratives depicting the work of the United Nations Specialized Agencies.

Further details about obtaining first day covers will appear in this column as they are available. The Society of Philatelic Americans is opening a special department to meet the needs of the growing number of topical collectors. This new department will circulate among SPA members topical stamps entered by other members. This non-profit Society believes that collectors will be able to add to their topical collections at reasonable prices and can also dispose of their duplicates.

Afghanistan has issued two new semi-postals to honor the Red Cross. The 50 p plus 50 and 175 p plus 50 show an ambulance and the Red Cross emblem. They come perforate and imperforate. Also issued by Afghanistan are two stamps paying tribute to the 15th anniversary of the United Nations. The design shows the world globe topped by the initials "U.N." and the flags of the United Nations with emphasis on the Afghanistan flag.

For those collectors who specialize in Olympic Games stamps, a colorful new album for "1960 Olympic Games Stamps" has been added to the White Ace line. The pages are standard 8 1/2 by 11 size with holes to fit a three-ring binder. It sells for $3.25 and can be purchased at your local stamp dealer.

Belgium has issued a six value set of stamps with surtax added for their anti-tuberculosis fund. This set depicts the arts and crafts of Belgium. The 40 c plus 10 shows tapestry, 1 Fr plus 50 c crystal, 2 Fr plus 50 c lace, 2.50 Fr plus 1 Fr metal crafts, 3 Fr plus 1 Fr diamonds, 6 Fr plus 2 Fr ceramics.

The fourth offering of the Big Spring Film Club will be an Italian movie with one of the longest lists of international prizes ever garnered by any motion picture. "La Strada" will play April 20 in HGCJ Auditorium. Admission will be by membership only. Memberships may be had by writing to The Big Spring Film Club, 2500 Morrison, Big Spring, Texas; season tickets, cost $2.50 each. "La Strada" ("The Road") was written and directed by Federico Fellini, recognized as one of the few true geniuses in the film industry. The film creates a world of its own, investing its characters with a sense of poetry and speaking to the profoundest human emotions through the images it creates.

Fellini's story of a simple-minded wif, a brutish strong man and a philosophical fool who travel the highways of Italy becomes, through the artistry of all concerned, a story of every man's loneliness and search for the way of life. Giulietta Masina portrays the wif, a deaf-mute and feeble-minded girl who also is possessed of great beauty. Being primarily an actress, Miss Masina jumped at the chance for this role when other beautiful Italian actresses spurned it for its lack of glamor. The wif is in love with the brute, played by Anthony Quinn. He, in his turn, uses and abuses the girl, but she always comes back for more. Richard Basehart portrays the philosophical fool, who loves the girl and treats her gently and compassionately, only to be spurned by her for the brute.

Miss Masina's pantomime has the beauty and expressiveness of a clear pool, now reflecting the blue sky or bright sun, and as quickly changing to dark clouds that pass over. It is a performance of astonishing power, expressing not only the weak and wandering mind but also the great beauty of the world.

Critics have hailed "La Strada" as a moving and compassionate work which mixes realism with poetry, unlike most Italian realism which portrays its society precisely and unadorned. The music and the background scenes of life in Italy are pure fascination.

Short subjects playing with "La Strada" include a Mr. Magoo cartoon and an artistic montage on the life of the immortal ball-fighter, Malleo.

The spring season includes "The Bed" Jan. 19, "Ordet" Feb. 16, "The Sorceress" March 18, "La Strada" April 20, and "The Stone Flower" May 18.

Here's an item of interest for radio fans: A new FM station operating out of Midland, called KNFM, is now putting out a monthly booklet which lists daily programs for the entire month.

A study of the booklet or a listening session over the radio reveals a well-balanced mixture of music, which includes everything from Bach to boogie, and all of it tastefully selected. In addition, on Sunday mornings, "The Protestant Hour" and "The Hour of St. Francis," both expertly designed national programs, are available.

You may find, at times, that the listings begin a few minutes later than scheduled, but that's because of KNFM's policy never to cut off a musical selection until the end. And no selections are played before their scheduled time.

Schedules may be obtained from KNFM, 317 N. Colorado, Midland, Texas.

Actress Favors Harness Racing

Anne Francis, starring in "Girl of the Night," shares the traditional Hollywood star's enthusiasm for horse racing. However, Anne differs from most of screen colleagues in that she prefers harness racing. Her famed pacer, Jamin, is a consistent winner in sulky meets at Hollywood Park.

John Wayne Leads Local Film Listing

A study of local boxoffice receipts for 1960 indicates that Big Spring's bigger grossing movies have little relation to similar listings elsewhere. Ike Robb, manager of the Ritz Theatre, checked his books Friday afternoon and came up with the following list of the top ten films for the past year:

1. "North to Alaska," with John Wayne.
2. "G.I. Blues," with Elvis Presley.
3. "Psycho," an Alfred Hitchcock thriller.
4. "Polyanna," a Walt Disney production.
5. "Portrait in Black," with Lana Turner.
6. "Home From the Hill," with Robert Mitchum.

Lancaster, Taylor Win Top 5 Ballot

By CHESTER B. BAIN
Editor, THE FILM DAILY
NEW YORK—Burt Lancaster in the title role of "Elmer Gantry," and Elizabeth Taylor as the ill-starred heroine in "Butterfield 8," gave the most memorable performances in motion picture-starring roles in 1960, according to the country's press critics and reviewers and broadcasting's film commentators voting in The Film Daily's annual Fildom's Famous Fives poll.

The results of the canvass by the industry's oldest daily newspaper were based on ballots cast upon invitations extended to 1,850 who write or speak professionally about theatrical motion pictures.

The 1960 poll is remarkable for the fact that not only were the stars of two controversial pictures chosen but that in the instance of "Elmer Gantry," two of its supporting players also were singled out for top honors in that category—Arthur Kennedy and Shirley Jones.

Hollywood waited some 30 years to bring Sinclair Lewis's graphic story of a cunning "fire-and-brimstone" revival preacher to the screen; taboos earlier had effectively barred its filming.

"Butterfield 8," a much later controversial novel by John O'Hara, presented Miss Taylor in a characterization to which she first demurred, that of a call girl—hence the title. However, so effective was her interpretation that her selection by critics and commentators hardly surprises.

Here are the complete results of the poll, listed in descending order from first place to fifth in each category:

Best performances by male stars: Burt Lancaster in "Elmer Gantry," Charlton Heston in "Ben-Hur," Jack Lemmon in "The Apartment," Ralph Bellamy in "Sunrise at Campobello."

Best performances by female stars: Elizabeth Taylor in "Butterfield 8," Shirley Jones in "Elmer Gantry," Angela Lansbury in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," Eve Arden in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," Ina Balin in "From the Terrace," Myrna Loy in "Midnight Lace."

Best photographed pictures: "Ben-Hur" by Robert L. Surtees, "Jungle Cat" by James R. Simon, Hugh A. Sillar and Lloyd Beebe, "Sons & Lovers" by Freddie Francis, "Elmer Gantry" by John Alton, "Suddenly, Last Summer," by Jack Hildyard.

Best screenplays of the year: "The Apartment" by Billy Wilder and I.A.L. Diamond, "Elmer Gantry" by Richard Brooks, "Ben-Hur" by Karl Tunberg, "Sunrise at Campobello" by Dore Shary, "Inherit the Wind" by Nathan E. Douglas and Harold Jacob Smith.

High Salary But Still Broke

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John M. Frankheimer, motion picture and TV director, says a man can earn $3,750 a week and still be broke. He told a Superior Court alimony-child support hearing last week, that the salary figure is deceptive. He pays $7,000 monthly on current and past federal, New York and California income taxes, for instance, he said.

His estranged wife Carolyn wants $3,752 monthly. Frankheimer, 30, cited these among his expenses:

For moving 10,000 pounds of effects when Mrs. Frankheimer insisted on joining him here, $2,000; for rent of his New York apartment, $700 a month; for rent of a Beverly Hills house she chose, $1,000 a month; for rent of separate quarters for himself after they separated last October, $550 a month.

The court ordered the director to give his wife $500 to meet current bills.

Monster

This girl isn't looking horrified because the fingernails she's manufacturing on that hand reaching for her—it's because the hand belongs to a monster who, apparently, is up to no good. The scene is from "Caltiki the Immortal Monster," showing through Wednesday at the State.

7. "Toby Tyler," a Disney circus yarn.
8. "Operation Petticoat," a wartime comedy.
9. "Journey to the Center of the Earth," Jules Verne classic with Pat Boone.
10. "Li'l Abner," film version of the Broadway musical.

This list could not possibly be duplicated by the Academy Awards, the New York Film Critics Awards, the Fildom's Famous Fives poll (see story below) or any other such listing, except possibly those available in other West Texas towns.

"There would be some variation, of course," Robb noted, "but I think most of West Texas would choose a list of ten top movies similar to ours; they'd at least be in the same category, even if the same movies weren't always selected."

Films which play in Big Spring for three days might play two weeks in a big city, and which days of the week the movies play here also have a definite effect on the number of customers. Further, local houses do not always obtain the same releases that other cities get, and films of general release sometimes get here within a calendar year, sometimes later. Lists to choose from do not always contain exactly the same films.

A more analytical glance at Robb's listing tells us that John Wayne will always get good attendance from West Texas audiences; that Elvis Presley is still highly popular with teen-agers, is beginning to be accepted even by adults, and that he is more popular than Pat Boone; that Hitchcock and Disney fans will turn out in great numbers; but mostly that Academy Award movies seldom make the grade out here.

Babies Of The Year

The past year was a big one for babies, with four born to famous parents. At upper left is John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., son of the President-elect; Prince Narohito, son of Japan's Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko, is at upper right. At lower left is Prince Reza Koorosh Ali, whose parents are the Shah of Iran and his queen, Farah, and at right, Prince Andrew, youngest child of England's royal family.

Women Kept Busy In 1960 With Births, Ballots And Bachelors

By JOY MILLER

In 1960 women outnumbered men at the polls, won Olympic medals, made the most of Leap Year.

Soap operas went down the drain, but housewives carried on bravely. They tried 900-calorie liquid diets, wore purple, kept their heads about high fashion's sooty eye makeup and culottes for town wear.

And they had famous babies. The index of influential infants is hard to pin down, but any list would include:

Jacksons Have Family At Home

KNOTT (SC)—At home for the Christmas holidays were all the children of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jackson. Present were Neva, who is a student at Tech in Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Jackson, Valerie and Kevin of Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Smith and girls of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and girls of Fairview and Karen of the home in Knott.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jeffcoat have returned from Segreaves where they visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Jeffcoat.

Classes will be resumed in the Knott School on Jan. 3.

E. C. Airhart, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Airhart, Mrs. Elsie Smith and Mrs. Jewell Smith have returned from Spur where they visited their sisters Mrs. E. S. McArthur and Mrs. J. R. McArthur; other guests were Mrs. Jack McClung and children of San Angelo.

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Colorado City were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Airhart and other friends recently.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nichols are Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Landon and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Winterbauer and children of Houston.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., whose proud parents will move him into a White House nursery Jan. 20; Prince Andrew, son of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip; Prince Reza Koorosh Ali, long-awaited heir to the peacock throne of Iran, born to the Shah and Queen Farah; Prince Narohito, son of Japan's Crown Prince Akihito and Crown Princess Michiko.

The Steven Rockefeller (she's Anne Marie Rasmussen) and Brigitte Bardot had boys, too.

Other vital statistics of the year include prominent divorces: Sir Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh of the British theater; Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz of the American TV screen. Sex symbol Marilyn Monroe broke off her marriage with playwright Arthur Miller.

Maybe Leap Year had nothing to do with it, but the world's first spinster popped the question. British Princess Margaret Rose had to, of course—it was protocol. She gained a commoner husband, Antony Armstrong Jones, but lost a butler, Thomas Cronin. The perfect servant felt his master didn't measure up. Along with Leap Year, every fourth year comes the presidential election. And the 1960 political arena at times resembled a Daisy Chain so many women got in the act. Campaigning with their candidate husbands were Mrs. Richard Nixon and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

Jacqueline Kennedy stayed home to await Junior, but her youth, beauty and taste in clothes kept her controversial at coffee klatches. The talk tempo stepped up when she became First Lady-elect.

Margaret Chase Smith of Maine won re-election over Miss Lucia M. Cormier in the first all-woman Senate race.

Neither were women abroad slackers politically. Japan got its first woman cabinet member, Mrs. Maeda Nakayama, welfare minister. Ceylon got the world's first woman prime minister, Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike. And the U.S.S.R. made its top-ranking woman Communist, blonde Ekaterina Furtseva minister of culture.

In other fields: Athletes: Olympic heroines were sprinter Wilma Rudolph, figure skater Carol Heiss; swimmers Chris von Saltza and Lynn Burke. And older amateur, Russian-born British physician, Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, walked 3,397 miles across the United States in 185 days, mostly munching grass. Uncounted were the women who bounced on trampolines in their backyards or exercised passively on oscillating couches in their boudoirs.

Literature: Margaret Leech won her second Pulitzer Prize for a history book. This one: "In The Days of McKinley." And the ghosted autobiographies of glamorous women continued haunting the bookstands.
