President Bares Economic Moves At News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without waiting for Congress to act on his anti-recession program, President Kennedy has moved on three fronts to spur the lagging economy and relieve hardship.

After consultation with the countries involved. Civil Rights—He is considering Kennedy said, what steps he can take on his own authority—without enactment of new legislation—in the field of civil rights. He hopes the study will be concluded shortly.

Legislation—The House vote enlarging its Rules Committee means congressmen will have an opportunity to vote on controversial administration proposals, but the nip and tuck ballot on the committee issue means "we are going to have a close debate" on many of the proposals. DUE CARE Living Costs—"In all of the programs that we will put forward," Kennedy said, "we will pay due care to the problem of preventing any stimulation of the economy resulting in an excessive increase in the cost of living."

Berlin — The new administration regards the Communist threat to Berlin as a serious matter, just as the Eisenhower regime did. Farm — Within the next week legislation dealing with feed grains will go to Congress. By the end of the month legislation on the wheat surplus problem will be offered. Kennedy declined to provide any detail.

Outlook—Had he found the world situation very much worse on taking office than he had anticipated? "I think," Kennedy replied, "the situation is less satisfactory than it was last fall." As examples, he cited developments in Laos, Cuba and the Congo.

Revenue—He will ask Congress for the same new revenues the Eisenhower administration did in budgeting for the fiscal year starting July 1, Kennedy said. But he noted that Congress always has been reluctant to vote such things as the higher postal rates the old regime requested.

Prisoners—As for the six Americans sentenced to 30 years imprisonment in Cuba, "we are going to attempt to protect the interests of American citizens who are there." And the possibility of winning release of five Americans jailed for more than six years in Communist China is "a point of the greatest possible concern" to the new administration. Kennedy shattered tradition by taking time to respond to a woman reporter's question after the formal end of the news conference. Put by Sarah McClendon, representing Texas and New England newspapers, the question was whether Kennedy planned any steps to assure that statements by Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, coincided with his own on Red China. The President said he hopes there will be future coordination, but added he wasn't criticizing Stevenson. During the news conference Kennedy made no direct reply to a question on whether Stevenson was right in "guessing" the President would be happy to meet with Soviet Premier Khrushchev if the Kremlin leader goes to New York for the U.N. General Assembly meeting. "I think it would be more appropriate to wait until we have some idea whether he is going to come or not," Kennedy said.

Kendall To C-City Chamber Position

R. L. (Dick) Kendall will be the new manager of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today by Dr. Seth Cowan, Chamber president.

Assistant manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce since last Sept. 6, Kendall submitted his resignation to Bill Quimby, manager, this morning. It is effective Feb. 16. "We are pleased to have Dick," Dr. Cowan said, in Colorado City. "We feel he will be a big asset to our city and that we are fortunate to obtain a young man with his ability."

In a more jocular mood, Dr. Cowan said "It is about time Big Spring furnished us with a chamber manager." He referred to the fact that Big Spring has hired two managers from Colorado City, Quimby and J. H. Greene. "I'm looking forward to the challenges offered as manager of the Colorado City chamber," said Kendall. "I regret that I have not been able to work in Big Spring longer. My relationships here have been excellent and enjoyable."

He pointed to Chamber President Cliff Fisher and the board, noting the vigorous leadership. He said his experience and guidance from Quimby would be invaluable to him in the new position. Kendall was discharged from the Air Force last summer and immediately assumed duties with the local chamber. His experience has included director of research and publicity for the San Angelo Chamber, advertising sales and editor of the McConnell AFB newspaper. He was also employed on a Pasadena radio station. He is a graduate of Baylor University and also completed the Baylor Chamber Management course. "We selected Kendall from a

Chamber Holds Dinner Tonight

Over 500 are expected for the annual Big Spring Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight, beginning at 7:30 in the Student Union Building of Howard County Junior College.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, selected as the nation's No. 1 speaker, will address the expected packed house. Announcement of the city's outstanding young man is one of the highlights of the program. This is an annual selection made by the local Jaycees. The "pilot of the year" from Webb AFB will also be honored. Jack Hendrix, music department of HGJC, will provide dinner music for the banquet and new officers of the chamber will be presented. The banquet was sold out over a week ago, but a waiting list is being compiled at the chamber offices to be filled in the event of cancellations.

JFK Sends Congress Anti-Recession Plan

But No Cost Estimates Are Provided

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today handed Congress a sweeping anti-recession program built on faster federal spending, higher old age pensions and an emergency extension of unemployment pay.

Kennedy's tightly-packed 7,500-word special message brought the news that joblessness rose by 900,000 in January to a total of 5.4 million. The President said he would submit further proposals to Congress within 75 days if business does not improve. His message spoke of the general expectation that there will be "minor improvements" in business this year. But he added "speaking out of realism, not pessimism, we cannot rule out the possibility of further deterioration if we fail to act."

Kennedy predicted his economic proposals would "abate the waste and misery" of unemployment and "restore momentum to the American economy." He said they would not, by themselves, unbalance the $80.9-billion budget unveiled last month by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

NO ESTIMATES Yet Kennedy did not provide Congress with cost estimates of any of his proposals today as he: 1. Called for quick approval of higher Social Security benefits for some 4 1/2 million Americans, including a $10 boost in the minimum monthly pension; a two-step, two-year increase in the $1 minimum wage to $1.15 and then $1.25 an hour; a speedup in federal contract-letting and construction; government aid to depressed areas; federal relief payments for the children of jobless fathers.

2. Announced executive actions—beside those disclosed in his news conference Wednesday—to stimulate credit, release $724 million of highway funds to the states at once, and start a quickie expansion of urban renewal, local public works and college housing. 3. Disclosed he shortly will send Congress tax reform proposals to spur business investment and close tax loopholes; and another message demanding permanent measures to "revise and strengthen" the unemployment compensation system—presumably by setting some form of federal standards for the states—and to extend the coverage to "several million" more workers in the retail and other trades.

LABOR PANEL

4. Announced he will create a "President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy" with 21 members drawn from labor, management and the public. This body, whose chairmanship will be alternated annually between the secretary of commerce and secretary of labor, will advise on wage and price policies essential to the curbing of inflation, as well as such problems as automation and economy-crippling strikes. 5. Spelled out details of the moves announced Wednesday—cutting the interest on government-insured mortgages from 3 1/2 to 3 1/4 per cent; making early payment within the next 30 to 60 days—of the $28 million of veterans' life insurance dividends due in 1961; and starting pilot food stamp plans in several areas. The use of food stamps by needy families will be tested "as rapidly as possible" in localities in six areas—West Virginia, Pennsylvania, eastern Kentucky, northern Minnesota, southern Illinois and the Detroit area, he said.

IN FIVE AREAS

(Wednesday, Kennedy said the food stamp plan would be tried in five areas; a sixth area was added). Kennedy held out the hope to veterans that they might get another insurance dividend "check later on. He said: "If sound insurance practices justify it, as I hope further study will show, an additional dividend will be paid this year (See KENNEDY, Pg. 4-A, Col. 2)

REBELS MAY KEEP VESSEL

Passengers Exit Portuguese Ship

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Their captivity ended, the passengers of the hijacked liner Santa Maria came ashore today with thanksgiving for deliverance from a nightmare at sea.

The 20,906-ton Portuguese ship steamed into Recife at noon, anchoring just off a dock. An hour later the nearly 600 passengers began loading onto tugs for the last 500 yards of a detour that had taken them virtually the distance of a trip across the United States.

A Brazilian admiral was quoted as saying the Santa Maria reportedly would head for the high seas after the unloading of passengers. That word reached U.S. Atlantic Fleet headquarters from its Caribbean command.

For the time being at least the odyssey of the Portuguese liner was ended—12 days after she was seized 2,800 miles away in the Caribbean, by Portuguese rebels headed by Capt. Henrique Galvao.

The Brazilian government had not announced what was to be done about the ship after the landing of the nearly 600 passengers. The liner moved into shore after several tense sessions of bargaining between Galvao and Brazilian authorities.

The 616-foot ship sailed slowly to within 500 yards of a dock. Passengers jammed the rails, waving and shouting. Some cried with emotion at the end of their captivity.

For more than 24 hours the passengers had been within tempting sight of land—about three miles offshore—as negotiations for the landing went on. Some of the passengers had been verging on panic as rations ran short while the hot equatorial sun beat down upon the ship.

Galvao refused to tie the ship at the dock. Tugs went out to begin taking off the passengers. Buses were brought up to take passengers to the Portuguese Club where they could await arrangements for their return home. U.S. citizens in Recife threw open their homes for the 45 or so Americans aboard.

Police kept crowds back from the dock. Other spectators lined surrounding roofs. The Santa Maria sailed in with pennants fluttering from stern to stern.

She bore the big red "Santa Liberdade (Blessed Liberty)" banner of Galvao's revolutionary movement. Another sign carried the initials of the Portuguese name of the movement, D.R.I.L.

The decks, crowded with passengers as the Santa Maria dropped anchor, were soon virtually deserted. Passengers hurried below to prepare for debarkation.

A spectacular note was injected when a dozen men, clad only in swim trunks, arrived by speedboat ready to pick up any passengers who might fall into the water.

U.S. Consul Ernest Guadarrama and Capt. Helio Leite, chief of the Port of Recife, boarded the ship. Some of the Americans aboard were excited. Others were calm and mainly concerned about getting home. There had been near panic among third-class Spanish and Portuguese. Some said they had been threatened and mistreated by the rebel guards.

Shortly before the Santa Maria headed into the harbor passengers talked to reporters who came alongside in a lobster boat. "Get us off, get us off!" shouted Mrs. Lucile Gray of Chicago. Said Lawrence Williams, a Canadian: "We are in peril of our lives every moment. Men with small arms, rifles and submachine guns are all over the place—even eat with us."

Looking to future growth and expansion, trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District at a special meeting Wednesday noon decided to accept another school site.

Taking a new look at a site offered by E. C. Smith in the Kentwood subdivision, trustees agreed to accept it and then to participate up to $26,000 in utility and paving costs for the 12 1/2-acre site. Smith was on hand to explain details of the gift, along with Jack Bellamy and Al Milch.

The decision will give the district a fourth school site for future expansion. Others are in the College Park Estates subdivision, the Balch subdivision and the Wasson Place subdivision.

Smith listed the school's costs involved in the site, including curb and gutter, paving, water lines and sewer lines. He said they totaled $22,100. He said he would give the land to the district for a school if the trustees would participate up to $26,000.

Quizzed on a payment plan, Smith said the district could pay $6,000 in September and the remainder as the work is actually done. He said he anticipates at least 150 houses will be built in the area within a year.

Before making a decision, the trustees discussed possible sites on South Mountain, sites in the Highland South subdivision, and various aspects of a contract with Smith. Afterwards, they drove to the site for a first-hand inspection. It is about a block east of the Kentwood Methodist Church. Trustees instructed Supt. Floyd Parsons to have the necessary contracts drawn up, to be presented at the Feb. 14 meeting of the board.

Coahoma Bank Plea Delayed

Sponsors of the proposed Coahoma State Bank will have to wait still another month before they can find out if the state banking department is to approve their application for a charter. The board Thursday deferred action until March 2 on the application of the Coahoma bank.

The board approved the application of a group to establish a bank at Hitchcock in Galveston County. Ed Carpenter, chairman of the board of the proposed Coahoma bank, said that his group was represented at the Feb. 2 meeting by an attorney. No announcement was made as to the reason for deferring decision on the Coahoma charter.

Enterprise where the apprehension of criminals was made paramount to the effort to redeem erring youngsters, he warned. Harris argued that in the event that Darland was to be delegated solely to counseling and rehabilitation duties, he should have an "assistant to work with the police and the sheriff's office in the actual investigation of crimes involving juveniles." And, he added, if this is not possible, then his department and the police department should be provided with additional help delegated solely to juvenile work.

COMMITTEE OF THREE

It was at this point that Parsons suggested a committee of three be named to write a policy on just what the new juvenile officer is expected to do. This policy, he proposed, would be laid before the committee as a whole and, if approved, adopted as the basic rule for the future. The plan was adopted.

Mrs. Cowper then read the statement to the effect that the committee as a whole was agreed the juvenile officer is not an arresting or investigating officer. This statement was adopted as a general outline of the attitude of the committee on the issue.

Board Supports Juvenile Officer On Duties Issue

By SAM BLACKBURN Howard County Juvenile Committee board members are in agreement with Bob Darland, county juvenile officer, that his duties are not those of an arresting officer. Members said he should not be expected to investigate offenses committed by juveniles—that responsibility will rest with the sheriff's office and the police department. It was pointed out that his fundamental responsibilities are in the role of counselor and advisor; his chief objective is to prevent juvenile delinquency and, where it occurs, to rehabilitate the boys and girls involved.

This sentiment was made quite clear at a two-hour meeting of the board on Wednesday evening in the Howard County Commissioners' court. The conference had been brought about by the disagreement between the sheriff's office and Darland on just what his duties are to be.

DEFINITION

A subcommittee of three, selected from the committee as a whole, will draft a job definition for the juvenile officer which will be adopted by the committee as its official policy on the responsibilities and duties of the officer. The members of this committee are Floyd Parsons, Ralph White and Everett Taylor.

The committee went on record as approving the following statement of its sentiment on the issue under discussion: "The board members are largely in agreement that the juvenile officer should not be an arresting officer nor an investigative officer although his files should be available to the police or to the sheriff. He shall assist these officers when such assistance is requested."

Ed Carpenter, county judge, presided at the meeting. Present were Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Parsons, Taylor, White, Paul Kasch, Clyde McMahon, Bill Quimby, Dan Bustamante, Miller Harris, Jay Banks and Bob Darland.

INTERFERES Darland, in a statement at the outset of the conference, said it was his belief that if he is called upon to investigate a crime involving juvenile offenders it would gravely interfere with his efforts to prevent other delinquency and to rehabilitate those implicated in the specific offense.

Kasch observed that it was understood by the committee that Darland was not trained nor equipped to serve as an investigator.

Sheriff Harris protested that the juvenile officer should be on hand at the investigation of any crime in which juveniles are involved in order that he might be completely familiar with the case and all of its details.

Chief of Police Banks said that he "was not disturbed over the situation." The only problem as he saw it was the need for the board to set up a firm and established policy on just what it expected of its juvenile officer. "My department," he said "is in no controversy over this issue. In fact, I do not believe there is as much real difference in opinion over the matter as may appear on the surface."

He assured the committee his department would cooperate wholeheartedly in any policy that may be adopted.

REHABILITATION

Taylor said it was his opinion that the object of the office was primarily to rehabilitate youngsters and to prevent re-occurrence of juvenile delinquency in individuals. Mrs. Cowper agreed that this was her understanding of the plan. Parsons said he feels the officer is primarily a counselor and rehabilitation worker. The school, which is cooperating in the program, could not enter into any

MUST BE TIMED

Conferees—Kennedy left open the possibility of his meeting soon with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle, the President said to a question, the President said any announcement regarding such visits always must be timed

OTHER MATTERS

The session dealt with these other matters: Airmen — The President would be glad to have newsmen interview two Air Force fliers freed last by the Soviets—after the Air Force has completed talks with them. Interviews have been banned to this point on the grounds they might newly strain Soviet-American relations.

Speech Clearance—Kennedy defended his administration's policy of insisting that speeches by military or other government officials on national security matters be in line with White House views. He said this also was a policy of the Eisenhower regime, and that "the people and the countries abroad have a right to expect that (such) speeches represent the opinion of the national government."

Debates — If he is a candidate for re-election in 1964, Kennedy would be willing to debate his Republican opponent on television—just as he did his GOP rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, last year.

New Queen Of Sheba?

Nawal Ramlil struck a languorous pose after winning a United Arab Republic beauty contest last year. Now her beauty may be veiled forever from the public eye.

Beauty Queen Is Harem-Bound

BEIRUT — A statuesque Syrian beauty queen who may someday be the Queen of Sheba is about to veil her face and live in seclusion in the Kingdom of Yemen.

Once inside the medieval palace at Sana'a, the face that was officially judged the second most beautiful in the United Arab Republic can never be seen again by any man but her husband and brothers.

Miss Nawal Ramlil, a dazzling brunette in Paris fashions, has married Prince Abdul Rahman, 25-year-old deputy foreign minister and brother of Yemen's absolute sovereign.

The young prince is considered a possible successor to the aging Imam Ahmed as ruler of the tiny Red Sea kingdom, which tradition claims is the Sheba of ancient times.

For the bride, the marriage will be a journey into the middle ages and the not-very-exotic realm of the Arabian Nights, with occasional trips to the outside world.

WOMEN IN BLACK
Prince Abdul Rahman, "The languages, drives his own car and wears Western clothes when abroad.

But in Yemen, he is an aloof figure in flowing robes with a gold and silver dagger, and his wife is reduced to an unknown, shrouded lady in black.

Daughter of a wealthy Damascus family, the glamorous new princess is accustomed to a life of parties and conservative gaiety. In Yemen, if tradition holds, she will be confined to her apartment in one of three palaces, and any trips outside the walls will be in a car with curtains carefully drawn.

A HAREM LIFE
Only the palace doctor will have any idea that under the billowy, shapeless harem clothes is a figure that won a handful of beauty contests.

Princess Nawal stands almost five feet seven inches tall; her 36-23-36 inch measurements made her runner-up in the Uar's official beauty contest in 1959.

Like other Yemenite women, she will be at the mercy of her husband, who can divorce her as he did his last wife merely by announcing his wish three times. And he still can take three additional wives, meaning the princess would live in a harem.

Except on magic carpet trips abroad, only the other harem wives would see the jewels and finery the prince has given her.

A royal harem is up-to-date with radios and telephones, but the life is a tedious one of supervising the cooking and routine for the huge household.

Between tasks, the wives pass the time sipping tea and chatting with each other while the husband entertains his men friends on another floor of the palace.

Awards received during the past year were recounted for members of the Big Spring Garden Club at a meeting Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. J. E. Brown.

Trees Planted In Elgin Street Park

Work in the neighborhood park on Elgin Street was continued Wednesday with the planting of 20 non-bearing mulberry trees by members of the Four O'Clock Garden Club.

Directing and assisting with the work was R. W. Foresyth, assistant director of public works.

Iris rhizomes have been planted on the plot by the group, which has adopted the park as a project.

As transplanting is being done this spring, anyone wishing to contribute cuttings or plants to the park may call Mrs. Guy Cook, AM 4-6149, or Mrs. J. E. Fort Jr., AM 3-3183, and the items will be picked up.

Included in the plants wanted by the club are English ivy, vincas, lantana, verbena, a juga, yellow jasmine, honeysuckle, eleagnus and cotoneaster.

Book Review, Tea Stated In Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. Gordon B. Smith of Gainesville will review the book, "God So Loved The World," at a silver tea and book review here Friday night.

The review will be given in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church, and the tea is to follow in the church parlor. Sponsored by the WSCS of the church, proceeds will go to help support the various projects of the society.

Friendship Class Meets In Stanton

The Friendship Class of Stanton First Baptist Church met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. J. C. Salem.

Mrs. Salem gave the devotion, "God our Father."

Thirteen members enjoyed the visitation period which followed.

book at the district gathering. The Junior Garden Club, sponsored by the Big Spring Club, won honorable mention on the scrapbook kept by the group and received the honor of having given the best program during the year in the junior classification.

Speaker for the club was Mrs. John Groves, who discussed horticulture and showed slides of her garden and flowers which she grew in Alaska. She compared plants to people in the way that they must have variety in nutrition.

Mrs. Groves stressed the importance of keeping premises clean and of removing dust and dirt from plants regularly and thoroughly. In planting, it is well to soak seeds in a solution designed to hasten their germination, the speaker reminded members.

A suggestion made to the group was that garden clubs keep information on hand to give to newcomers to the city and this section regarding what, when and how to plant in order to get the best results from their work and expense of planting.

Mrs. Ross Boykin reported to the club on the progress of the litterbug project, asking members to set an example in neatness for their youngsters. Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr. presented a report on conservation materials.

Tickets were distributed for the tasting tea, set for March 4 in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. J. P. Dodge told the club that she has planted seeds of bluebonnets on the drive around Scenic Mountain in hopes that the flowers will get started there.

Announced for March 6 is the district convention to be held in Lubbock; the state meeting will convene in Odessa, April 25-27.

Flower Show School No. One is slated for April 11-13 and is open to anyone wishing to learn horticulture or flower arranging; only members of the garden clubs will take the examinations, it was announced.

A summary of plantings made by members includes 61 trees, 73 shrubs, 402 rose bushes, 532 bulbs and 50 crape myrtle bushes. Mrs. Leroy Tidwell, the next hostess, will entertain March 1.

Charm School Set By Lamesa Girl Scouts

LAMESA (SC)—Members of the seventh and eighth grade Girl Scout troops in Lamesa will be enrolled in a 14-hour charm school at the first session of the series Friday in the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce office.

Classes are to be held in the directors' room from 5 to 7 p.m. each Friday and will be concluded with a fashion show March 17.

Coordinating plans for the school are members of the program committee of the West Texas Girl Scout Council and leaders of the Junior High school troops. Girls who complete the course will receive commencement certificates following the school.

Plans call for the final session of the school to be held March 17 when the scouts will model for a style show under the direction of the Senior Girl Scouts. Mothers of the scouts completing the course and resources personnel for the classes will be guests. A tea will follow the fashion show.

Leaders for the junior high troops enrolling for the school are Mesdames Angus Roberts, W. D. Pratt, Ross A. Woodson, Homer Simpson and H. L. Norman.

Assisting with planning a n d serving as a steering committee for the school are Mrs. B. B. Lee, West Texas Girl Scout Council program chairman; Mrs. DeWitt Jordan, Mrs. Jim Grammer and Mrs. Bob Crawley, members of the council's committee.

Schools have been completed by Girl Scouts in Abilene and Sweetwater, and sessions of a similar school are under way in Big Spring, Mrs. Lee announced.

Testimony, Often Heated, Continues In Addison Case

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Testimony which has often reached the boiling point continued today in the trial of uranium promoter John Milton Addison and five associates.

The six are on trial on charges of mail fraud, conspiracy and violation of securities regulations in connection with the "Benson upgrade" which Addison asserts increases the value of uranium ore.

The state contends Addison got $1.5 million from more than 1,000 investors. Addison says the money was loaned to him.

Temper flared Wednesday when Lloyd Mulligan, promotion manager for two Shreveport newspapers, testified.

Lester May of the defense complained to U.S. Dist. Judge Whitfield Davidson that Mulligan "has obviously been well coached by the government."

U.S. Atty. W. B. West III flared back:

"I would be glad for the court to instruct the witness about the rules of hearsay and also to instruct the jury about disregarding counsel's reference to 'coaching' witnesses."

Davidson upheld West. Controversy began when Mulligan testified that one of the Addison lenders told him that Addison associates dropped their efforts to get a loan from George Jett, Shreveport oilman because "he did not have the right attitude."

Pope Insanity Petition Is Filed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A petition to declare Lawrence Pope insane has been filed at Giddings, the weekly newspaper publisher's lawyer said Wednesday.

Pat Maloney said the petition asks that Mrs. Pope be appointed her husband's guardian.

Pope, 42, is scheduled for trial in Waco March 6 on federal indictments charging him with robbing the First State Bank at Thornton of $1,744 on Nov. 5.

The heavy-set publisher of newspapers at Giddings and Lexington also faces state charges filed after the $4,580 robbery of the Farmers State Bank at Schulenburg Nov. 12.

Pope has been in jail here since Nov. 17. A former banker, Pope bought the Giddings and Lexington weeklies last fall.

A hearing on the guardianship motion was set for Feb. 6 in Giddings.

Cooler Weather Brings Rain To Sections Of State

By The Associated Press

Rain splattered Northeast and extreme South Texas Thursday as cooler weather spread over most of the state.

Fylar had a thunderstorm during the night that brought 7.2 inch. Shortly before daybreak, Texarkana and Longview in Northeast Texas and McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were reporting rain. Houston had fog.

Skies were cloudy over the eastern and southern part of Texas and partly cloudy to clear elsewhere.

Pre-dawn temperature readings ranged from 23 at Dalhart to 62 at Brownsville. Amarillo had 27 and Lubbock 31.

The forecast called for cooler weather and skies varying from clear through partly cloudy to cloudy Thursday and Friday. Little or no additional rain was predicted.

Maximum temperatures Wednesday ranged from 56 degrees at Wichita Falls to 75 at Brownsville and Waco as the state enjoyed Indian Summer weather.

Early morning temperatures in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were in the low 60s Wednesday—in sharp contrast to the 20 degrees on the same day 10 years ago. The 1951 freeze killed or damaged 90 per cent of the citrus trees for an estimated $150 million loss.

Dam Completed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico has just completed the Anzalduas Dam and will start working on the new Friendship (Amistad) Dam on the Rio Grande before long, Foreign Minister Manuel Tello said Wednesday.

Fireman Attends Disaster School

L. Alvie Harrison of the 11th and Birdwell Fire Station, will attend a civil defense and disaster school at Texas A&M College Feb. 13-17.

Harrison will get first-hand knowledge of all types of rescue work in the course. The college has buildings erected for the purpose of demonstrating the rescue of persons overcome by gas, the digging out of trapped persons in a building demolished by explosion, tornadoes, or earthquake, and how to aid the victims.

"When Harrison returns he will hold local sessions with firemen," A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, said, "and will demonstrate, as far as available materials and equipment go, what he learned at A&M. This will provide more trained men in our departments in case of any kind of disaster."

4 Get Prison Sentences In District Court

Five defendants pleaded guilty this morning in 118th District Court and four drew terms in the state penitentiary. One was given a suspended sentence. Four more guilty pleas were scheduled for Thursday afternoon. Steve Harper, indicted for robbery by assault, drew five years in prison as the heaviest sentence imposed at the morning session. Harper pleaded guilty to robbing Estelito Ruiz of the latter's billfold. The robbery allegedly occurred last Nov. 18. Dudley Jones, charged with passing a forged check in the amount of $79.38, drew the only suspended sentence allowed by the court Thursday morning. He pleaded guilty to giving the check to E. L. Newsom. Newsom said he had been repaid and that Gil Jones, district attorney, that he was in accord with any plan to give the 27-year-old defendant another chance. Jones was sentenced to three years and the sentence suspended.

R. B. Williams returned recently from California, pleaded guilty to cashing a forged check at the Safeway Store on April 7. He was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary. Joe B. Tarpley, charged with passing a forged check at a Lewis 5-and-10 store on Oct. 3, drew four years in prison. Hershel Jack McKnight, his co-defendant, did not plead.

Robert Lee Helm, indicted for burglary, drew two years in prison. He was indicted for breaking into the J&J Auto Supply on Oct. 29.

Legislature Given Tax, Courts Issues

AUSTIN (AP)—A proposal to revamp completely Texas' highest courts of appeal was introduced in the Senate today. The House received two new multimillion dollar tax measures. Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo offered a constitutional amendment to abolish the Court of Criminal Appeals and establish a 15-member Supreme Court to handle both civil and criminal appeals. Under the present system, the court of last resort in criminal matters is the three member Court of Criminal Appeals, and in civil matters the nine member Supreme Court. The amendment would require a two-thirds majority passage in the legislature. Before it could be submitted to the voters in 1962. Rep. Jack Connell Jr. of Wichita Falls introduced a bill levying two per cent on retail sales of tangible property costing more than $50 an item. He figured it would raise $72 million in a two year fiscal period. INSURANCE TAX Rep. Lloyd Guffey of El Campo proposed to boost the state tax on insurance companies to 19.25 per cent of gross premium receipts. He estimated his bill would bring in $76 million every two years. The present rate is about 4.5 per cent of gross premium receipts. A bill to limit U.S. Senate campaign expenditures moved today to the Senate calendar. AUSTIN (AP)—A bill to limit campaign expenditures in a U.S. Senate election moved to the Senate calendar today. Several bills won committee approval Wednesday and were added to the calendar in the Senate. House committees have not passed out any bills. Both houses started brief sessions at 10:30 a.m. before weekend adjournment.

Interest in the House mounts on the apparently widening split between supporters of Speaker James Turman, and those who voted for Rep. Wade Spilman. Some committees are stacked with pro-Turman men and others are overladen with pro-Spilman men. In a few others, such as elections and liquor regulations, a fairly even division could bring on a fight for control. The first big floor showdown between Spilman and Turman forces may come when permanent rules are adopted. The House now is still operating under temporary rules. Permanent rules require only a majority vote, instead of two-thirds when re-referring a bill. The 43 standing committees also would be made permanent as in Congress.

Sen. Martin Dies Jr., whose father may be considering entering the April 4 special U.S. Senate election, is author of the bill (SB 3) restricting expenditures in Senate campaigns to $25,000. The bill requires listing of all expenditures by the candidate in his behalf, including radio and television time, all contributions, gifts and loans. Present state law requires every candidate to list donations by the senior Dies, a former congressman-at-large, said recently that it has become common practice to ignore both laws. The Dies bill (SB 3) approved by the Senate jurisprudence committee makes the Federal Corrupt Practices Act state law with the burden of enforcement on state departments. Also on the calendar in the Senate today is a bill (SB 120) repealing part of the penal code which gives a man in Texas the right to claim justifiable homicide if he kills another man caught in the act of adultery with his wife. Women don't have this same right to kill some one as a man does. I think it would be easier to try to take that right away from the men rather than give it to the women," explained Sen. Wardlaw Lane. "I've already lost the women's votes, now I'm working on the men's votes," he quipped in reference to his opposition two years ago to a series of "Equal Rights for Women" bills.

MORE RIGHTS The State Affairs Committee approved a bill (SB 103) by Sen. Crawford Martin to eliminate the requirement of a private acknowledgment by married women on conveyance of land. Rep. Bill Hollowell, Grand Saline, said Wednesday his State Affairs Committee will 'old its first public hearing on proposed legislation next Monday night. The House Revenue and Tax Committee also will meet for the first public hearing Monday. Senate committees Wednesday also approved bills (SB 36) calling for quarterly payments and reports to the comptroller on most state excise taxes and (SB 39) one providing that all state tax returns and reports must be made under penalty of perjury rather than being notarized. ABILENE (AP)—Wayne Howell, 18, of San Angelo was killed Wednesday night when his car overturned south of here.

A. D. Bryan Found Dead

Anderson D. Bryan, 71, former peace officer in Big Spring for nearly 20 years, was found dead at his home at 507 E. 6th Wednesday afternoon. A neighbor who had not seen Bryan since Monday afternoon became concerned and investigated. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice said that the man apparently died following a heart attack and had been dead at least 24 hours when he was found.

Mr. Bryan had served with the Big Spring police department for several years, at one time being night chief. He also served as deputy sheriff of Howard County, and had served on the police force at Cisco. He came to Big Spring from Hamlin in 1929. He was employed by the railroad company at Hamlin.

Funeral services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. The two known survivors are Mr. Bryan's sons, D. W. Bryan of Corpus Christi and Charles B. Bryan of Little Rock, Ark., both of whom will be in Big Spring Thursday afternoon to complete arrangements.

Settlement Ends Jury Docket

Agreed settlement reached outside of court brought a quick end to the current jury docket in 118th District Court.

A jury in the damage suit filed by The Lancaster et al against Freddie O'Neal Roman returned a verdict on Tuesday evening but it was said at the court house that the decision in the case was actually a "draw." Neither defendant nor plaintiff will benefit from the judgment.

A scheduled case brought by Burnett Trailers Inc. against S. C. Poison was continued for the term. This was an action for damages. Only remaining case on the docket — Travis Carter et al vs. Pioneer Natural Gas Co., slated for Wednesday — was settled before the case was called for trial. Details of the agreed settlement were not announced.

Fatal Accident

SNYDER (AP)—William Dowdy, 41, of Seminole was killed late Wednesday night when his car hit a bridge 11 miles west of Snyder.

from the substantial funds that have been accumulated." Kennedy's promise that he would come back to Congress in 75 days "if these measures prove to be inadequate" could imply a request for a temporary income tax reduction. His task force on economic policy, headed by Dr. Paul Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, urged such a course if unemployment reached 7.5 per cent of the labor force. The January unemployment figure released today represented 6.6 per cent, after allowance for seasonal factors. This was a slight improvement from December's 6.8 per cent, and Kennedy has stated that conditions do not now warrant tax reduction as an economic pump-primer.

POLICY PACT The message contained hints that the Federal Reserve Board and the Treasury have reached agreement on policies to be pursued jointly to help reduce the U.S. deficit in international payments. This is a touchy problem for a lowering of short-term borrowing rates—desirable to combat recession—tends to send capital out of the country to foreign markets where interest rates are higher. Kennedy said he would describe the new government plans in a balance-of-payments message to Congress shortly.

Kennedy said, "We cannot expect to make good in a day or even a year the accumulated deficiencies of several years. "But realistic aims for 1961 are to reverse the downturn in our economy, to narrow the gap of unused potential, to abate the waste and misery of unemployment, and at the same time to maintain reasonable stability of the price level.

VIGOR, VITALITY "For 1962 and 1963 our programs must aim at expanding American productive capacity at a rate that shows the world the vigor and vitality of a free economy. "These are not merely fond hopes, they are realistic goals. We pledge and ask maximum effort for their attainment."

The President's economic policy recommendations and announcements included the following: Social Security Five improvements in benefits would begin on April 1. Congress gives quick approval. They would be financed by taxing workers and employers an additional 1/4 of 1 per cent each starting on Jan. 1, 1963, when the next regular increase—of 4 cent each—is due to take effect. The five proposals are: Raising the minimum old age pension from $33 to $43 a month; this would help more than 2.2 million persons in the first year. Permitting men to start collecting retirement pensions at age 62, as women now may do. The pensions would be smaller than are available when payments start at age 65. This would benefit some 800,000 men, and save some men from going on the relief rolls, Kennedy said. Increasing the widow's benefit from 75 per cent to 85 per cent of the amount of her husband's benefit. This would increase payments to 1,550,000 widows. Broadening disability insurance. Such benefits are paid now only if the disability is expected to result in death or last for a long, indefinite period. Kennedy urged that payments start when the worker has been totally disabled for six months. Liberalizing eligibility. Pensions may be paid now only if the retired person worked in jobs covered by Social Security in one out of every three quarters since 1950. The proposal would reduce this to one quarter year out of every four.

Jobless Pay The Kennedy plan would permit the states voluntarily to extend unemployment benefits, by using federal funds, to persons who have exhausted regular benefits since October 31. The extension would equal half of the duration provided by the state, up to 13 weeks. The overall benefits would not exceed 39 weeks. Kennedy had announced that his plan would be self-sustaining, and today he told how. The money would be advanced from regular federal funds, but would be repaid by the states in full later by raising the portion of taxable payroll from the present maximum of $3,000 per employee to $4,800. The permanent improvements in unemployment compensation—a separate program—will be recommended to Congress by the end of March, Kennedy said. Minimum Wage Besides the step-up in minimum wage to $1.15 and $1.25 in two years, Kennedy proposed that the "several million" new workers to be covered be brought in at a $1 minimum. This wage floor would be increased gradually, he said, to the general $1.25 level. Dependent Children The government now provides aid for dependent children if their fathers are dead, disabled or have deserted the family. Kennedy asked Congress to amend the law to include "children of the needy unemployed."

Help Requested For Choir Fund

Help from friends who had indicated a desire to contribute to the North Texas State College program fund was asked today by Ira Schantz, director of vocal music for Howard County Junior College.

The offering for the choir program fell about $40 short of the guarantee, said Schantz. Several people took checks to fill out, but in the confusion no plates were left out to receive these contributions. Some others who had indicated their willingness to help had to leave before the offering was taken. Hence, Schantz invited those who would like to have a part, or even a more generous part than they had, to contact him or mail gifts to him at the High School Bible Fund.

Publisher Faces Libel Sentence

AUSTIN (AP)—The editor of an Odessa newsletter apparently has lost his final chance to escape a nine-month jail sentence for criminal libel. The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the conviction of John Aldridge Dec. 27 and Wednesday refused a motion for rehearing without writing an opinion. State's attorney Leon Douglas said this is the final step. Aldridge, 51, was convicted by an Ector County jury for criminally libeling former Dist. Judge William B. Deaderick. He was charged with assailing Deaderick's character in an editorial in the April 4, 1959 issue of the "OCC News."

Burglars Take $273 From Beauty School

The Bette B. School of Beauty, 611 Main, was entered some time Tuesday night and $273.70 in cash was taken. The cash boxes and vending machines were broken. On the same night the school in Midland was entered and $57 taken by the same methods used in Big Spring. Mrs. Alleen Early, manager of the Big Spring school, notified police who investigated. The rear door was pried open and a bar left marks on all the machines, a file cabinet, and the cash boxes. The door to the office was opened in the same manner, and the face of the telephone box in the office pried off. Checks amounting to $269 were also taken. At Midland the burglars took $50 from the cash register and seven $1 bills were taken from a drawer. The office was ransacked and file cabinets pried open. Other thefts reported Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning included a long, dark bluish gray corduroy coat from the Big Spring Lock Plant, reported by Marvin Sewell, and six packages of beer from a car parked at Carlisle Place, reported by a Webb Air Force Base sergeant.

ACC To Host Ag Teachers

Dr. F. M. Churchill, head of the Abilene Christian Department of Agriculture and public relations director for the national group, said that some 200 agriculture educators and students from member colleges in 20 states are expected for the conference. Universities and colleges which are not land grant-supported are eligible for membership in the National Association of College Teachers of Agriculture.

6 Sergeants, With Combined 135 Years Service, Retire

Six sergeants with a wealth of knowledge and experiences gained through 135 years of active military service shed their Air Force blues following retirement ceremonies at Webb AFB Tuesday.

Starting out as civilians for the first time in 20 or 30 years will be: C.M. Sgt. Richard J. Wallace, M. Sgt. Travis M. Barrett, T. Sgt. Edward T. Fox, C.M. Sgt. Howard D. Gardner, M. Sgt. Tillman T. Dittich, and T. Sgt. Archie L. Smith.

Sgt. Wallace ended his four years at Webb and 21 years with the service by receiving the Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious service as NCOIC of M&S Group's Maintenance Standardization Branch. As project officer for a test program on a new concept of a 200-hour periodic inspection, Sgt. Wallace was cited for his exceptional knowledge of maintenance and for doing an outstanding job in obtaining the necessary data and writing the evaluation summaries to make this test a success.

The Sherman born sergeant entered the Air Corps at Dallas in 1939. He worked on the line at Kelly Field for a year and was assigned as an aircraft maintenance instructor at Chanute Field, Ill., until entering engineering cadet school at Yale University in 1943. Commissioned a second lieutenant in April, 1945, he left in May for China, Burma and India. Sgt. Wallace was discharged as a captain in 1947, promoted to major while on terminal leave, re-listed as a master sergeant in 1947 and rose to chief master sergeant in 1959. He plans to live at Wichita Falls.

Sgt. Barrett came to Webb in 1958 as NCOIC of periodic maintenance, M&S Group. The 41-year-old Ballenger sergeant has 20 1/2 years in service. Joining the Air Corps at Kelly Field in August, 1940, he spent the war years at bases in Texas and Alabama, for the most part as a flight engineer. He has served overseas on Puerto Rico and Guam.

A native of Hamilton, Sgt. Dittich has made plans to settle in Big Spring following his career as a 30-year man. He has been assigned as a supervisor in Base Supply during his four years at Webb.

The ex-cavalry man first signed up at Brownsville in 1928. After three years with the Cavalry he stayed out for two, then rejoined the artillery at Ft. Sam Houston in 1933 for 27 years of unbroken service. Sgt. Dittich served in New Guinea, Australia, and on Guam during World War II.

Sgt. Gardner has spent 20 1/2 of his 29 years in the service and most of his Air Force career was as an upper bracket noncommissioned officer. Entering the Air Corps in August, 1940, he advanced to master sergeant 25 months later and made senior master in March, 1959. He added his eighth stripe last June. He has spent his Webb tour as NCOIC of field maintenance shops in M&S Group.

Sgt. Fox, food service supervisor, has grown to be an ATC fixture during his 23 years of military service. His time includes 2 1/2 years in the Illinois National Guard, 18 months in Japan; and the balance—nearly 19 years—all spent at different ATC bases.

Sgt. Fox joined the Air Corps in 1940, and was cadre cook at Chanute Field, Ill. He fed the first troops to receive training at Sheppard when it opened in 1941. A native of Assumption, Ill., the sergeant and his wife will live at Rantoul, Ill., after he retires. Their daughter, Beckie, is married to Airman T.C. Larry Lohman of the 3560th Transportation Squadron.

The fourth member of M&S Group getting retirement papers, Sgt. Smith has 20 1/2 years of service life. The Gilport, Miss., sergeant worked as an aircraft mechanic at ATC base in Texas and Louisiana during the war.

At the close of World War II, Sgt. Smith went to Okinawa for a short tour. He served at Tachikawa AB, Japan for 18 months before reporting to Webb in October 1958. He will live at Oklahoma City after retirement.

DEAR ABBY BE HER MOTHER

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a young neighbor who comes over almost every day. She keeps me from my work. She says I remind her of her mother, who recently passed away. She has a young child and is expecting another. I feel sorry for her.

There are many young neighbors near us, but she doesn't bother with them. How can I tell her so much comfort to one so desperately in need of it. There are worse things than being kept from one's work, namely—finding your self neither wanted, needed, nor essential to the happiness of another.

DEAR ABBY: I am a piano teacher. I could make a better living doing something else, but I love music and want to teach others to love and appreciate it, too. I have 22 students. Eight of them have been coming for their lessons week after week without having practiced one note. (How do they think they can fool a teacher?)

When I telephone their mothers, I am told, "Johnny had basketball practice every evening," or, "Susie has been very busy with other activities."

I have threatened to drop these students unless they show more interest, but their parents plead with me to keep them. Should I drop them? My blood pressure is going up.

DEAR TEACHER: Drop them, and your blood pressure will probably drop, too.

DEAR ABBY: Recently an aunt of mine died. She was 56 years old and never married. The family wants to put "MISS" in front of her name on the stone. I am sure she wouldn't want it that way. Don't you think just her first and last name is all that is necessary? Please answer in the paper because those people never believe a thing unless they see it in black and white.

SHIRTTAIL RELATIVE
DEAR SHIRTTAIL: Her first and last name only is proper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KANSAS BACHELOR: Making a marriage work is like running a farm. You have to start all over again every morning.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Who pays for what? For Abby's pamphlet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, private citizen, vacationed with friends here today and said he expects to stay until Saturday.

Nixon, who visited this area frequently while he was vice president, was cordial when a reporter found him on a golf course Wednesday but declined to discuss politics.

Nixon said he will stop briefly in Washington before returning to Los Angeles where he expects to go to work in a law office.

THE UNDENIABLE
"Prove all things . . ."
"I Thess. 5:21; Mat. 27:65."
When one just inherits his religion, and is not concerned enough to check everything by the Word of God, he is leaving the salvation of his soul to chance.

When we go to buy land, we have the title checked. We do not take medicine in the dark; we read the label first. Why, then, do we gamble with our souls, of all things???

Let us be like the "noble" Bereans. When they heard Paul preach, they searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so? (Acts 17:11).
Any teaching that cannot be upheld by Scripture (for which there is no Scriptural authority) should be rejected. Our soul's salvation should not be left to chance!
Come and study the Word with us tonight, 7:30, Church of Christ, 3300 West Highway 80. Sermon, "Remember Lot's Wife." Question period follows.

Jailed Actor Balks At Alimony

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Movie and television actor Cameron Mitchell says he won't leave the Orange County jail unless his ex-wife withdraws her charges that he is delinquent in alimony payments.

Filmaster Inc., a company producing a TV series "The Beachcomber" with Mitchell as the star, offered to back a $50,000 bond for his release Wednesday but Mitchell refused.

He told a reporter, "I will not remove myself from here with these charges hanging over me. The only way I would leave here now is if Johanna (his ex-wife) would withdraw the charges."

Robert Stabler, president of Filmaster, denied reports that the company planned to cancel Mitchell's contract.

YOU CAN MAKE BETTER GRADES

Organize Your Reading To Improve Your Marks

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., with HARRY KARNS

The secret of successful reading lies not merely in repetition. Successful reading must have aim and organization.

We touched on that once before. Let's go a bit further and look at some helpful ways of reading in various fields of study.

Since the formula that works for reading about one subject does not always work in reading about another, we will discuss groups of subjects separately.

Books on economics and related courses scare most students stiff, so let's talk about that area first. Let's suppose you have been assigned a chapter for tomorrow's class. Follow these steps:

1. Pick up the book. Break it open to the table of contents. Find the chapter and turn to it.

2. Skim. Read the first paragraph. Leaf through and glance at subtitles. Read the concluding paragraph. This should give you an idea of the big idea of the chapter.

3. With this idea in mind, read the chapter. At the end of each paragraph or two pause and ask yourself:

"What was said?"
"How does it fit in the general pattern?"

If you can't answer these questions, it means that you went through the process of reading words without absorbing the ideas. Speed up your reading of the remaining paragraphs remembering the action mentioned previously—that speed and accuracy go together. When you get to the point where you can recite back the main idea of the paragraph you have just read, you have reached an efficient speed. Maintain that speed.

4. Finish the chapter, then read it with the aim of refining the material. Read now with the continuous question in mind: "Exactly what is said here?"

MAKE AN OUTLINE
Get the precise meaning. Relate it to some part of the big idea. This is the "real" key to success in the study of economics, marketing, and related subjects.

Make some sort of outline, in your own words, of what you have learned so you can review it.

Write it in a notebook, write it in the margin of the book, but write it clearly and in an orderly manner somewhere so you can refresh your mind before exam time.

The techniques for reading for review before an exam, however, involve some other factors. We'll talk about them later in a chapter on getting ready for examinations.

The above suggestions may sound time-consuming rather than time-saving. But if you will have faith and give them a fair trial, you will find that they do work and that they do save time.

Tom came to us with a familiar tale of woe. He told us it was his habit to read his economics lesson three or four times. He went through and underlined what he thought were the most important sentences. Just before tests, he outlined the materials in each chapter. The results of all this work was a grade no higher than "C." We agreed that it wasn't enough reward for so big an effort.

Tom's trouble was that his readings followed an identical process that brought nothing new to light. His underlinings left the author's ideas in the author's own words, robbing Tom of the illuminating experience of expressing the idea for himself.

We suggested certain improvements in reading habits: Read to get the big picture; read again to fit the picture together; read again for minute detail. And we asked:

"Tom, do you ever talk to yourself?"

"Oh, no sir," said Tom.

"You need to start talking to yourself — and answering yourself."

MAKING THE BRAIN WORK
It's a popular notion that someone who talks with himself is off his rocker. Actually, it's a habit which, consciously and purposefully employed, can help you clarify your thoughts. Talking to yourself forces the brain to digest an idea. If you cannot put it into words, you don't understand it—or at least you won't be able to prove to the professor that you understand it. Verbal expression is the test of fire.

Tom, incidentally, burned his way up to an "A."

Courses such as physiology and anatomy require slightly different approaches from those used in reading economics.

Psychology, anatomy, and science call for the learning of many names. The wise student works out a memory system. There are several good ones. We recommend a system by which you call up a mind picture when a word is heard or read.

Let's take an example. Suppose the word is aardvark. As words to that, one hasn't much to recommend it. Most of us would just

Underlining A Point

Suzanne Compton is dismayed, because Dr. Nason's article has just told her she has been studying the wrong way, and her textbook is nearly ruined with underlined passages. Now that she's read the article, Suzanne knows she's not supposed to try to memorize the author's words; and that underlining certain passages to the exclusion of others takes the underlined passages out of context, resulting in confusion and lack of understanding of the author's ideas. Now, she will read for ideas she can repeat in her own words—and her texts will end the semester in good condition.

as soon forget it. But if you are a student and your biology teacher asks you to tell what an aardvark is, it suddenly becomes an important thing to remember.

One way to remember an aardvark is to form an exaggerated or caricatured picture of one. Johnny Hart, who draws the comic strip "B. C.," frequently features an aardvark—an inverted, sad-eyed, long-nosed creature, commonly called an anti-eater, whose long extensible tongue goes "Zot" as he laps up an insect.

You get the idea. Draw a mental picture of the word, and it will stay with you.

How can you ever forget aardvark after this?

Reporter Is Skeptical Of Groundhog Legend

DEAR BOSS:

Your memo relative to the accuracy of groundhogs as weather prognosticators in this part of the country is duly received and noted.

It is my off-hand guess, without checking into the matter further, that, in a general way, the groundhog method is just about as accurate in forecasting weather in West Texas as any other.

It is well known to most people, I take it, that the best laid forecasts of the professional weatherman "gang aft agley" in these parts. The explanation (one of the explanations that is) has to do somewhat with the jet streams and things like that.

This, as you can easily see, is Groundhog Day. According to legend, groundhogs, having spent the time, since the first cold spell last fall until now, curled up in their warm dens asleep, select Feb. 2 to make a tentative survey of the prevailing meteorological conditions.

The story has it that at daylight today, the groundhogs from coast to coast popped out of their dens, opened their sleepy little blue eyes and scanned the skies and countryside. If the sun was shining, the groundhog immediately noted that his shadow was etched sharp and black on the ground.

That was quite enough. His sixth sense told him that the existence of his shadow on Feb. 2 was proof that winter is not through rampaging about and that six more weeks of chill, frost and freezing drizzle remain. Being a wise little booger, he immediately popped back into his den and won't come out again until 42 more days have passed.

On the other hand, if there are clouds overhead and the sun obscured when Mr. G. comes out for his Feb. 2 peep, his shadow is not depicted. If this is the case, he takes down the storm shutters, lugs out his featherbed to air and sets about his early spring plowing. Winter, he knows, is gone and spring has come.

That's the legend. Some folk believe it. Others don't. Most folk don't give a hoot one way or another.

As to whether it pans out locally—who can say? It may have been cloudy in Big Spring this morning and bright and sunny on top of South Mountain. How are you gonna figure where spring sprung and where it didn't, Boss?

Further, there ain't a groundhog in all West Texas and probably never was. Nearest we can come is a prairie dog and they're darned near extinct.

About the only place where the groundhog pitch still holds is in a town with the unlikely name of Punxatawney, in Pennsylvania. They make a big to-do about it there. It gets them a lot of free publicity and probably a little tourist trade.

The only groundhog around here, Boss, that anyone seems to be interested in is fresh country sausage.

Your skeptical reporter,
SAM BLACKBURN

Belgian Soldiers In Congolese Custody

Eight Belgian soldiers, kneeling with manacled hands above their heads, were guarded by Congolese troops at Bukavu in the Congo's Kivu Province. The soldiers, from the Carabiniers Regiment, on duty in the United Nations trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi, were taken into custody when they strayed into Kivu Province.

Big Spring Woman Is Sheffield Witness

HILLSBORO (AP)—More witnesses testified today in the veterans' land fraud trial of tall R. B. Sheffield, Brady land operator accused of forgery and passing a forged instrument.

Four witnesses underwent intensive grilling Wednesday. They included Lee Richey, 67, of Austin; Frank Carpenter of Austin; Mrs. Doris Cunningham of Big Spring; and Stanley Stribling of San Angelo.

Mrs. Cunningham testified she certified veterans land applications for veterans in batches of 10 or 20 while she was a notary public in Brady in 1957. She testified she did not know there was anything fraudulent going on.

Charges against the land dealer grew out of the veterans land scandals of the middle '50s and involves the 10,750-acre Roseow Ranch in Kinney County.

Carpenter testified that he helped Sheffield purchase the ranch and that paid $156,634, or slightly less than $16 per acre.

Richey, 67, testified that his appraisal of the Roseow Ranch was about $27 per acre. He said he raised his appraisal $5 per acre at former Land Commr. Bascom Giles' request. The state contends that this reappraisal increased the price for the Kinney County land by about $54,000 the amount paid to L. V. Ruffin, 41, in 1954.

Ruffin has testified that he was acting for Sheffield.

Stribling testified he heard Giles and Sheffield discuss "G.I.-ing" land. He said G.I.-ing meant buying it at a low figure and selling it to the state at a much higher figure.

One tract he heard discussed, Stribling said, would have brought the operators a profit of some $250,000.

The San Angelo man said he heard the Kinney County land discussed in an Austin hotel room. He testified that Sheffield told Giles it could be bought at from $15 to $17 per acre.

Dies In Collision

MIDLAND (AP)—Calvin Hendrix, 30, was killed Wednesday night about one mile west of here on U.S. 80 when his car and a truck collided.

Furr's Honors Two Checkers In Contest

Benita Smith and Lloyd Lindsey have been named "Checkers of the Year" for Furr's Super Market in Big Spring.

Announcement of the honor was made today by Roy Furr, president of Furr's, Inc. Judgment was made by a panel of judges on the basis of votes received from Furr's customers during a balloting this past week, ranking by the store manager a n d supervisor, and accuracy based on check-up reports and volume of the specific cash register assigned the checkers.

Mrs. Smith, 1506 Stadium and Lindsey, 205 Mesquite, are winners of Scotch Plaid Car Bags, awarded by Furr's. They now will compete with other checkers of their respective division for those honors, plus the award of a name brand radio transistor set. These winners will be selected next week.

Final judging for the overall Checker of the Year for Furr's will be made later. This winner, male or female, will receive a stereophonic phonograph from Furr's and will go on to compete with other checkers of the United States in a national contest sponsored by Super Market Institute and National Cash Register Company for the nation-wide Checker of the Year, plus many prizes which include a trip to Hawaii, following full acclaim during a week in Chicago and the SMI convention in May.

Beaumont Jury Ends Crime Study

BEAUMONT (AP)—The Jefferson County grand jury, after spending three days studying crime in this area, turned today to routine business.

Witnesses Wednesday included acting Police Chief Willie Bauer; Clyde Rush, captain of detectives; and an alleged operator of a bawdy house.

The session was the fifth since the House General Investigating Committee hearing in January.

Distaff Side Is In The Majority In Household Of Paul Meeks

It's all girls around the household of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek, who are the parents of three girls. Paula is a six-year-old kindergarten student; and Kathy is four and is taking kindergarten dancing lessons; last and least is four-month-old Carol Ann.

Mrs. Meek, who has lived in Big Spring five years, is a member of the 1946 Hyperion Club, afternoon and evening bridge clubs and the couple has recently become members of the Cotillion Dance Club.

Before coming to Big Spring, Baytown was the home of the Meeks. They met in Baytown shortly after their graduation from the University of Texas. Baytown is Mrs. Meek's hometown and her husband is originally from McAllen.

Mrs. Meek enjoys reading and playing bridge. In the way of cooking she prefers the cooking of desserts. She is a member of the Catholic Church.

Three of the Meeks family's favorite recipes are listed below.

BARBECUED SPARE RIBS
5 lbs. loin back ribs or lean spareribs
1 cup honey
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup dark molasses
2 tps. salt
1/2 cup sherry wine

Mix all of the ingredients and pour over the ribs in a shallow pan, and allow to marinate for at least two hours or preferably overnight.

Barbecue over an open fire, basting with marinade often, until crisp and well browned.

These may be baked in an oven by placing ribs on a rack and having a large baking pan beneath partially filled with water to catch the drippings.

Bake at 350-400 degrees, basting frequently with the marinade, for about 40 minutes, or until thoroughly cooked.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD
Mix one package Philadelphia cream cheese with 1-3 cup salad dressing.

Add:
1 No. 2 can drained crushed pineapple
1 No. 2 can Royal Ann cherries, cut in half
1 No. 2 can peaches, cut up
1 cup whipped cream, folded in Freeze. Serves eight. Nuts may be added if desired.

MEATBALL STEW
EN CASSEOLE
2 lbs. potatoes, pared, quartered
1 1/2 lb. small white onions
1 bunch small carrots, halved lengthwise
1 small can green peas, drained
2 lbs. ground round
1 egg
1 cup bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. dried marjoram
2 1/2 tps. salt
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2-3 cup milk
1-3 cup salad oil
1 1/2 lb. small fresh mushrooms
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. bottled sauce for gravy
1/2 tsp. onion salt or Accent

Cook potatoes, onions and carrots until barely tender. Mix meat with egg, bread crumbs, marjoram, salt, Worcestershire sauce and milk.
Drop by teaspoonfuls into hot oil in skillet; brown quickly on all sides; remove.
In same skillet, saute mushrooms until tender; remove; then in skillet, heat soup with nutmeg, sauce and onion salt.
Arrange peas, carrots, onions, mushrooms and meat in a three quart casserole. Mash and season potatoes; arrange in mounds around edge; brush with milk.

Bake at 400 degrees for 35 minutes or until browned and bubbly. Serves eight.

Show Off With Little Effort

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you like to cook a few interesting meals for your family, in a nonchalant way, over the weekend? To try something new, but simple to prepare, for Saturday lunch or Sunday supper?

Then choose a recipe with show-off abilities that needs no great production.

An American version of the German pfannkuchen, or pancake, is one of these. In its original version it's fried, dinner-plate size, in a large skillet and served with confectioners' sugar and lemon juice.

To prepare it in streamlined fashion, make up the simple batter and bake the pancakes in small pie plates. This way they don't have to be turned or watched. No worrying, either, whether the skillet is just the right heat.

Instead of sugar and lemon juice, you can serve the pancakes with a sauce that's a delectable combination of honey, orange, lemon, fresh dates and butter.

If you'd like the pancakes and sauce to take dessert honors, serve a chowder or chef's salad first. But if you prefer a one-course meal, offer the pancakes and their sauce with crisp bacon or good little browned pork sausages plus cottage cheese.

OVEN PANCAKES
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
3 eggs
1 cup milk
Sift the flour and salt. Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in milk enough to combine.

Gradually stir or whisk in flour until smooth. Butter 6 individual pie plates (about 5 inches across) generously. Divide batter among plates; they should be half full.
Bake in extremely hot (500 degrees) oven 5 minutes; reduce heat to very hot (450 degrees) and continue baking 10 minutes longer or until edges are golden brown. Serve at once in pie plates.

DATE ORANGE SAUCE
1/2 cup honey
Grated rind of 1 orange
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tps. lemon juice
2 tps. butter
1/2 cup fresh dates

Heat together gently, stirring occasionally, all ingredients except dates.
Pit and quarter dates and add; reheat. Serve warm.
Makes 2 cups.

Plant Shrubs And Trees To Insure Privacy Of Home

From time immemorial, families have sought a fair measure of privacy in order to relax and play and live their lives as they see fit whether in the company of close friends, or as a family unit.

Privacy becomes a very important need for the average family when homesites are close together. Fortunately it can be achieved almost anywhere by planned planting of trees and shrubs.

Trees and shrubs are both attractive and have the full approval of neighbors. They can block out a view of a property from any direction desired, without seeming to be anything but beautiful landscaping.

The garden-living, or the play and dining areas should be screened off; at least some area of the property should provide a delightful spot where the family can relax amidst lovely surroundings of evergreen and deciduous plant life, which provides flowers, as well as "Green walls."

Plan Garden Now To Save On Food

Food money is a major part of every family's budget.

As a conscientious homemaker, you want to make more and more dollars available for all the things that go into better living.

And yet, you certainly don't want to scrimp on foods, which keep your family in good health.

You can slash high food bills all year around and at the same time improve family nutrition by setting aside a small plot of land for a vegetable garden.

You'll have fun growing your own vegetables from seed and canning them with modern accessories. You'll also get a special feeling of achievement when you serve them.

But, in order to enjoy these benefits, you should start planning your vegetable garden now.

Wash, Wear Linens

Wash and wear finishes, once confined to clothing, have now turned up in the home furnishings field. Sheets are cotton, in either muslin or percale, and have been treated so they can be washed and spun dried, and then have their wrinkles smoothed out without ironing. Sheets and pillowcases are available in pastel or multi-colored stripes, as well as white.

Coffee Cake Crispies Good At Snacktime

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Some sweet bread recipes catch on—for good reason. They taste and look wonderfully professional and yet a home cook can bake them successfully.

We've been watching one of these go the rounds. Some years ago it won a Michigan cook a first prize at a bake-off. Then an Idaho restaurant, proud of a particular version, contributed its rule to a cook book devoted to recipes from famous eating places.

This latest New York edition, an aid to delicious dunking, differs from other recipes of its kind in calling for sweet cream. If your tasters are like mine, they'll want this version put in your permanent recipe file. Please note one feature: The dough is chilled and requires neither kneading nor rising periods in a warm place.

COFFEE CAKE CRISPIES
1-3 cup heavy cream
2-3 cup butter
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup warm water
1 envelope active dry yeast
1 egg, separated
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup sugar
2 tps. cinnamon
2 tps. finely chopped walnuts or pecans

Scald cream; add butter and salt; cool to lukewarm. Stir yeast into water to dissolve; stir in egg yolk, lukewarm cream mixture and vanilla; add to sifted flour and nutmeg; mix well.

Cover closely; refrigerate 4 hours or overnight.
Sprinkle board with mixed sugar and cinnamon, continuing to do so through whole rolling process to prevent sticking. With floured rolling pin roll out chilled dough so it is 20 by 8 inches.

Sprinkle lightly with sugar mixture. Fold short sides over to make 3 layers. Give dough quarter turn; repeat rolling, sprinkling, folding and turning 2 more times.
Roll to 20 by 8 inches. Brush with lightly beaten egg white; sprinkle with remaining sugar mixture and nuts.
Cut into 1/2-inch strips; place 1 inch apart on greased baking sheet.
Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 15 minutes or until browned. Strips spread and become flaky. Remove with wide spatula to wire rack. Serve warm.
Makes 2 1/2 dozen.

Complete History Of A Tanga Sauce

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

"What is Marinara Sauce?" a curious cook queries. "I've seen it called for in recipes but how to make it seems to be a big dark secret."

No wonder the question is asked! A search of comprehensive American cook books yields no answers. But our collection of about a dozen Italian cook books (written in English) makes clear the sauce's pedigree.

Birthplace: Italy.

Name: Marinara means mariner and alla marinara is "in the manner of sailors or fisherfolk." Did some of Italy's coastal cooks first popularize it?

Ancestry: It's a member of the tomato family that plays such a large part in Italian cooking.
Character: Besides fresh or canned tomatoes the sauce's basic ingredients are olive oil and seasonings—salt, pepper, garlic, parsley, basil or oregano or both.

Personality: Fresh and light, but changeable; might even be called fickle because it switches partners. Sometimes it is married to spaghetti and then it may have the addition of anchovies or shrimp. Should it accompany fish, lemon peel and capers are often added. When it is served with rice an Italian-American cook may add olives.

No matter what its background, Marinara Sauce is delightfully simple, yet full of flavor. Nowadays it may be had canned, or you can concoct it from the following rule.

MARINARA SAUCE
2 tps. olive oil
1 large clove garlic (peeled and minced)
2 tps. minced parsley

1 can (1 pound and about 3 ounces) Italian-type peeled tomatoes
1/2 to 1 tsp. salt
Pepper
1/2 tsp. sugar
1/2 to 1/4 tsp. crumbled oregano.

Heat olive oil in a heavy medium-sized saucepan; add garlic and parsley; cook gently several minutes, stirring a few times, until garlic is golden. Add tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste and sugar. Simmer, uncovered and stirring occasionally, until medium-thick—about 30 minutes; 5 minutes before ready add oregano; if needed add remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt.

IT'S SNACKTIME SO TRY THIS!

Hungry youngsters should so snack on nutritious foods, so try feeding them:

CHOCOLATE BANANA FREEZE-POPS

6 fully ripe bananas
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
Peel bananas; cut in half crosswise. Insert a wooden stick into the cut end of each. Place in shallow pan; freeze 2-3 hours.

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Spread melted chocolate with spatula or knife over each banana. Chocolate will harden immediately.
Wrap each banana in foil and store in freezer. Makes 12 chocolate-coated bananas.

3 School Bands To Hold Concert

The three bands of the Big Spring public school system will present their first mid-winter concert Friday. The program will be given in City Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by the Band Boosters, an organization of parents and other citizens interested in promotion of band music in Big Spring. The Boosters' main goal is to provide funds for the school bands not allowed for in the official budget.

Proceeds from Friday's concert will be used to help defray expenses for a high school band trip to New Orleans.

Doug Wiehe will direct the Big Spring High School Band during its portion of the concert. Conducting his Rannels Junior High band will be Joe Birchfield, and Bill

Jones will lead the Goliad Junior High School aggregation.

Ticket prices are one dollar for adults, 50 cents for students. Tickets are being sold by high school band members, and can be ordered by phone from Wiehe. The tickets will also be sold at the door Friday evening.

Senate Race Tempo Up

By The Associated Press

U.S. Rep. Jim Wright says he is going "to get up earlier, go to bed later, see more people, shake more hands and make more speeches than any other candidate" in the campaign for Vice President Lyndon Johnson's old Senate seat.

Wright, a Democrat, campaigned in Dallas Wednesday as the tempo of the race picked up. The special election will be held April 4.

John G. Tower, the only Republican in the race, charged in a speech at Corpus Christi that Wright had "joined (House Speaker) Sam Rayburn in the big frame-up to pack the Rules Committee of the Congress."

At Austin Sen. William A. Blakley's campaign headquarters announced that State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman J. Ed Connally has endorsed the interim senator's bid for Johnson's unexpired term.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson held conferences in Houston Wednesday and planned to open his state headquarters in Austin Thursday.

Austin Bright Spot In Jobless Picture

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin is the only major labor market in Texas with prospects of an immediate decline in joblessness, the Texas Employment Commission says.

This is "due to the impetus that the convening of the Legislature brings to payrolls in trade, services and government," the commission said in a special report Wednesday.

A continued increase in unemployment is expected over the state until spring, particularly in February and March in non-factory industries, the special report said. Construction and agriculture are expected to follow their usual seasonal lag during the winter months.

The percentage of jobless reached 5.3 per cent of the total Texas labor force in December, compared with 4.5 per cent a year ago. Statewide unemployment in December was 191,500, up 7,300 from November and 32,100 from December 1959.

Eight of the state's major labor markets showed unemployment larger than the statewide average, the TEC said. These are Abilene with 5.7 per cent out of work, Amarillo 5.6, Beaumont-Orange-Port Arthur 6.8, Corpus Christi 6.9, Fort Worth 5.5, Galveston-Texas City 5.5, Texarkana 8.1 and Wichita Falls.

Lubbock had the lowest unemployment percentage of the major labor market, with 3.6. Other areas whose unemployment was under the statewide average of 5.3 per cent in December were Austin 4.5 per cent, Dallas 5.1, El Paso 4.8, Houston-Baytown 5, Longview-Kilgore-Gladewater 4.9, Midland-Odessa 4.6, and San Antonio 4.4.

Strike Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators today reached a tentative contract agreement to end a strike of 1,700 truck drivers and helpers that partially disrupted circulation of New York City newspapers and magazines in the metropolitan area.
