Heaviest snowfall of the current winter Sunday blanketed the countryside in white, closed the doors of all schools in the county but one, slowed traffic on roads and streets to a snail's pace, and vastly augmented the worries of police and others charged with traffic safety. The ground was covered with an inch and half of dry snow and the low-hanging clouds were adding to the fall at a steady pace at noon. No wind came with the snow and there were no problems created by drifting. LESS SNOW Webb AFB dismissed all personnel living off-base at noon today due to the hazardous driving conditions. On-base personnel will be manning the posts. Also, personnel were asked to listen for radio reports Tuesday morning regarding status of duty. Howard County apparently had less snow than most areas in West Texas with the exception of Lamesa. TESCO reported that its representative in Lamesa said that skies were cloudy there but that no snow had fallen. Sweetwater had five inches of snow (.58 inch moisture content). It was still snowing at 8 a.m. Snyder had an inch and a half of snow on the ground and was still falling this morning. Chalk had snow, extremely dry, and the same report came from Eskota. No telephone, electric service or gas problems had developed from the weather. The ice was not sticking to the power lines and telephone lines in sufficient volume to pose any serious worry. Gas pressure was normal. Telephone service was not interrupted.

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department reported ice, snow and slush today over wide areas of Texas. Driving was hazardous in many sections. Ice and snow hit the Panhandle and West Texas and drifted down near Austin in the Hill Country. Other sections reported roads closed by high water from heavy rain Sunday. Road conditions by district: Austin-1 1/2 inches now in Gillespie, Llano, Mason and Burnet counties with some slush ice on roads. Bridges sanded. Farm 1320 closed by high water in Blanco County. Wichita Falls — One to two inches of snow. All roads open but driving hazardous. Waco-Snow and sleet in north part of district with ice on some bridges. Ice, spots sanded and traffic moving normally. These roads closed by high water: Farm 1829 at Leon River in Coryell County; Farm 497 at Elm Creek in Bell County. HAZARDOUS Odessa-Snow and sleet. All roads open but travel hazardous. Snow flurries with high of 40 degrees forecast for today. Abilene-Some ice and snow over entire district. Driving very hazardous but traffic moving. Bridges are sanded. Fort Worth-Slush on highways and bridges in Wise, Jack, Parkers, Palo Pinto, Hood, Somervell, and Erath counties but all roads open. Snow continues at various points. Brownwood-All roads covered with ice and snow. Bridges sanded. Driving very dangerous. Still snowing and conditions expected to continue through today. Amarillo-Two to 5 inches of snow in west part of district and 5 to 12 inches in east part of district causing hazardous driving conditions. All roads are open and expect roads in west half of district to be free of ice by tonight but ice will be found in east half of district. Lubbock-All roads clear. Travel normal. Childress-All highways open but covered with ice. Conditions expected to continue through tonight. Driving hazardous. LIGHT MIST Dallas-Light mist falling but ice on roads. Forecast of rain or sleet and a low of 39 degrees tonight. El Paso-Snowing on U.S. 90 from Sierra Blanca to east of Kent with some ice on U.S. 90. Snowing from Van Horn to Marathon with some ice on U.S. 90. Caution recommended. Paris-All roads open. Tyler-These roads closed by high water: Farm 487 from Yarrington to Buckhoffs; Farm 496 from Pettibone to Farm 487; Farm 2269 from Cameron to Yarrington; Farm 487 from Tracy to Rockdale. San Angelo-Snow and ice on all roads north and west of Junction and some ice on roads south of Junction. U.S. 290 temporarily closed east of Sheffield. Traffic moving but driving extremely hazardous. Del Rio-Four to five inches of snow in the north and west parts of Val Verde County and one to two inches of snow in Edwards and Real counties. Traffic was stopped temporarily on U.S. 90 west of Langtry but was expected to be open by noon. All other highways are open. San Antonio-All roads open but some snow on the roads in Kerr County. Bridges and hills are sanded and traffic is moving normally. Corpus Christi-These roads closed by high water: Farm 70 in Nueces County; Farm 81 in Karnes County.

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A campaign dinner for John Tower, Republican candidate for senator, was cancelled today because of snow. More than 4.5 inches of snow had fallen when the decision to cancel was made. As much as 9 inches had fallen in surrounding areas. Lenora Man Hurt In Wreck Lois Calvin Lenora was hospitalized at Howard County Hospital Foundation this morning following a one-vehicle wreck about 7:30. His pickup truck hit a slick spot on the Andrews Highway, about 7.4 miles from Big Spring, and the truck overturned in the resulting skid. The truck's top was mangled and the windshield broken. X-rays were being made of Calvin this morning, however his condition was not believed serious.

ROADS OPEN Most highways were open although some were treacherous. The highway patrol discouraged travel over U.S. 82 between Benjamin and Guthrie, in the Wichita Falls area, and described Highway 287 in the Henrietta and Bowie area as very treacherous because of 3-4 inches of snow. Sweetwater, 49 miles west of Abilene, was buried under four to five inches of snow and the stuff still was coming down slowly Monday morning. South of Sweetwater, the fall was six to seven inches deep. Roads were open but dangerous. Schools in Sweetwater and eight nearby towns were closed. A Panhandle, etc. as before. A Panhandle cattleman died of exposure in 15-degree weather after his truck stalled in a snowbank. Three freight trains were derailed in the snow covered Panhandle-Plains. Rain-slick and ice-covered highways were factors in several highway deaths. The tornado hit the Flour Bluff area near the coast Sunday morning but damage was light. Winds clocked at 32 miles per hour lashed Kennedy, upsetting one trailer home and smashing trees and TV antennas, as a broad band of violent thunderstorms moved across the southern part of the state. OUT OF BANKS Rains up to three inches sent small streams in Central and South Texas out of their banks. Snow continued falling early Monday as far south as Dallas. An estimated two inches of snow, providing 1.3 of an inch of moisture, had been reported. Streets were icy and traffic moved at a snail's pace. Police reported only one minor accident during the morning. LECTURE CANCELLED The lecture scheduled at the 14th and Main Church of Christ this evening was cancelled this morning, due to the inclement weather. WORST IN 13 YEARS NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's largest city today struggled from under remnants of its worst snow storm in 13 years. (See WEATHER, Page 8, Col. 7)

Way Cleared For Hamlin Rd. Howard County Commissioners Court signed an agreement with O. E. Hamlin Monday by which the last remaining right-of-way needed on FM 846 was secured. Hamlin appeared before the court Monday and agreed to accept $3,606.20 total compensation for 27,655 acres of his land needed for the new east-west FM road. Of this total $2,500 is earmarked as damages. The county will also build four miles of fence to safeguard Hamlin's property. Closing the deal with Hamlin now clears the way for the state to award contract for the Construction of FM 846. Joe Smoot, assistant district engineer for the state highway department, said last week that the state would let contracts for the road in March if the right of way was secured. He said that the contract for the FM 846 job (commonly known as the Hamlin road) and that for the Hartwell FM road, west of town would be let at the same time. The Hartwell road has been ready for construction for some time.

Judge Bans Sheffield Moves; Jury May Get Case Tonight

HILLSBORO (AP)—Judge Sam Johnson rejected today defense motions for a directed acquittal verdict and to strike portions of testimony in the veterans land scandal trial of B. R. Sheffield. Sheffield, 55, Brady real estate man, is on trial on charges of passing a forged document to the Veterans Land Board. The state claims the document was not properly notarized. Both sides ended testimony and the case was expected to go to the jury by tonight. L. V. Ruffin, formerly of Brady, was returned to the stand today. He testified that another key prosecution witness, Stanley Stribling of San Angelo, never helped or offered to help Ruffin secure veterans' signatures on applications to buy land. Stribling testified that in August, 1953, he heard Sheffield and former land commissioner Bascom Giles discussing what they called "G.I.-ing" of land to the land board. Sheffield previously denied any such conversation with Giles, who served a prison term for veterans land irregularities. Sheffield's chief counsel, John Cofer, made several motions. He asked for an instructed verdict of acquittal and for a new trial, and that certain testimony be deleted. Cofer insisted that the state had not proven its case, and that there was no definite evidence as to who actually passed the controversial land purchase agreement, signed by Alfonso Mireles, veteran.

Only 1 Juror Is Selected

GARDEN CITY — Only one juror had been seated in the box at noon Monday in the scheduled trial of Willard Wayne Lawson, 27, Stanton, Lawson is charged with rape. A special venire of 80 Glasscock County residents had been summoned to report in 118th District Court on Monday morning to serve in the trial. Lawson is charged with the Aug. 23 assault on his 17-year-old sister-in-law. The offense allegedly committed in Glasscock County. China Considered WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed today that administration disarmament experts are studying the problem of whether and how Communist China can be brought into proposed disarmament schemes.

Negro, 79, Lives 96 Hours In Open

CORSICANA (AP)—A 79-year-old man survived two days and nights in the open in Texas' current bad weather. He is J. W. Bell, a Negro who had been missing since Friday afternoon and who was found Sunday 3 1/2 miles from his home in the Pelham community. The temperatures during the period dropped to the low 30s, and rain, sleet and snow fell. He was brought to a hospital here for treatment.

GE, Westinghouse, Others Fined $150,000 On Anti-Trust Charges

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of antitrust laws. J. H. Chiles, a Westinghouse vice president, was given a 30-day jail term, one of the few times a defendant was sentenced to jail in an antitrust case. Chiles also was fined $2,000. Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system. General Electric and Westinghouse each received $40,000 fines on the first count, involving the sale of power transformer equipment. On the same count, Judge Ganey fined Allis-Chalmers $25,000; McGraw-Edison $20,000; Moloney Electric Co., $15,000 and Wagner Electric $10,000. In his pre-sentencing remarks, Judge Ganey said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what has happened. Accordingly heavy fines will be imposed on the companies." As for the individual defendants, Ganey said he would impose jail terms only on those responsible for corporation policy. The case involves 29 of the nation's largest electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 of their employees. There was a total of 72 pleas of guilty and 89 of nolo contendere (no defense) to 20 indictments for fixing prices and rigging bids at secret meetings all over the United States. The nation's biggest electrical makers—Westinghouse and General Electric—were named in 19 indictments each. Westinghouse pleaded guilty to seven; GE guilty to six; nolo in the rest. Of the defendants, 57 were up for sentencing today. They included 21 corporations. Corporations are liable to a maximum $50,000 fine on each indictment. Individuals, besides the $50,000 fine, can be sent to prison for a year. If the maximum fines were imposed the total would be $3,950,000. The government charged the conspiracy stifled competition in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act of 1890. All the defendants vigorously denied this at first, then later switched their innocent pleas as the government pressed for trial. Following the sentencing, the next legal step, if any, could be civil lawsuits by governmental and private industry customers to recover damages for alleged overpayments for equipment used to generate, transmit and distribute electricity to almost every home in America. Four separate grand juries returned 29 indictments. Those named in the first six were sentenced today. Defendants in the remaining 14 indictments, including many of those also named in the first six, are scheduled for sentencing Tuesday. Judge Ganey separated the group because of expected lengthy appeals for clemency from defense attorneys. Pleading no contest only were: Carrier Corp., Syracuse, N.Y.; Sangamo Electric Co., Piquette, S.C.; Ohio Brass Co., Mansfield, Ohio; Cornell-Dubilier Electric Corp., Plainfield, N.J.; Porcelain Insulator Co., Lima, N.Y.; Lapp Insulator Co., Le Roy, N.Y.; Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply Co., Chicago; A. N. Chance Co., Genoa, Pa.; Hubbard Co., Chicago and Kuhlmann Electric Co., Troy, Mich.

Laos Rebels Lose Road

POU KHOUN, Laos (AP)—Forces of the pro-Western Laotian government have chased the last pro-Communist rebel forces from the Vientiane Luang Prabang road, but enemy artillery is still within range of this strategic junction. Opening of the vital junction 40 miles south of Luang Prabang began two days ago when separate government columns pushed in from south and north.

Judge To Rule On Addison Plea

DALLAS (AP) — Federal Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson was to rule today on a defense charge that uranium promoter John Milton Addison is a victim of "double jeopardy" action. The 37-year-old uranium promoter and five co-defendants are on trial here on charges of using the mails to defraud, conspiracy and violation of securities regulations. The "double jeopardy" issue was raised by defense attorney Lamar Holley after it had been shown that Addison was tried on state charges stemming from his uranium operations in 1959. Judge Davidson asked defense and government attorneys to submit "one-page-letters" of their views of the "double jeopardy" charge for his consideration over the weekend.

Muted Protest

Mrs. Gertrude Copeland, foreground, and her brother, William Duke, burst into protest in Nashville, Tenn., immediately after a Negro woman was sentenced to two years for killing their brother, Willie Duke, 17. Mrs. William Duke, also in tears, tries to silence them. Receiving the two-year sentence for voluntary manslaughter was Mrs. Dorothy Jones, mother of seven. She said she shot young Duke last November after he cursed her.

Daniel Brother Is Choice For Guam Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill Daniel, brother of Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, Sunday was announced as President Kennedy's choice for governor of Guam.

The White House did not say when the appointment would be made officially.

The 45-year-old Daniel is a native of Dayton, Tex., and a 1938 graduate of Baylor University.

A practicing lawyer for 22 years, the six-foot-two Daniel has found plenty of time for other activities.

He served three terms in the Texas House of Representatives and is a former county attorney of Liberty County.

SHOWPLACE

His plantation-ranch near Liberty has been rebuilt into a showplace and is the site of two big parties he gives each year—one at Easter and another party especially for crippled children.

A rodeo enthusiast, he has staged a number of them for the benefit of crippled children. He is also an ardent hunter and has just returned from a big game hunt that climaxed a 42-country, around-the-world trip with his wife, the former Miss Vera Faye of Hillsboro.

When his brother Price appointed Daniel Texas' "Ambassador at Large" four years ago, some people thought it was a gag. It wasn't to Bill Daniel, the fellow who likes to put on a gaudy Western costume and ride a big white horse at the head of a parade—nearly any parade.

ONE OF FIRST

When Hawaii and Alaska were admitted to the union, Bill Daniel was one of the first to get to the 49th and 50th states and offer congratulations. His friends thought it very magnanimous of him in the case of Alaska, because it relegated Texas to second place in size among the states. They claim the story-telling ambassador was the first with the crack: "Just wait 'til all that ice melts!"

He's spent much of his time on good-will trips to South America and Central America in recent years and says, "You know, I've learned one thing. I love all kinds of people, white, black, red and brown. You can love them all if you meet them, face to face."

He's a family man, a church-going Methodist, and the father of four children: Dani, 6; Sue, 12; Ann, 14; and Will, 19, a pre-law student at Baylor University.

Will the family go to Guam with the new governor?

"Oh, they sure will," Daniel answered. "I wouldn't go without a one of them."

Bishop Expelled After Haitian Riot

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The Roman Catholic Bishop of Genève, French-born Mgr. Paul Robert, was ordered from his diocese after demonstrators looted the bishopric's warehouse, apparently with government sanction.

Mgr. Robert, 59, was escorted 70 miles to Port au Prince Friday night by the local military commander who ordered him to leave because "I am responsible for order and I am afraid the people might set fire to the city." President Francois Duvalier's government has been feuding with church leaders for months.

Avalanches Kill 37

ROME (AP) — Sunny, springlike weather coming after snowstorms has brought great masses of snow tumbling down from the high peaks in the Alps. Highways and railroads are blocked, mountain villages isolated and at least 37 persons have been killed.

DEAR ABBY

WATCHING HUBBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours own a resort. The wife interviews all the applicants for jobs and does all the hiring and firing. If you saw that collection of maids and waitresses, you'd think it was an old ladies' home. A girl under 50 hasn't a chance to get hired there, and even a good-looking matron over 50 gets fired if she looks sideways at the husband.

It's true in his younger days this man was mixed up with some of

Snow Buries N.E. Regions

By The Associated Press

Northeastern areas, stunned by one of the worst storms in history, struggled today to overcome the devastation of a weekend storm that buried the area under up to 40 inches of snow.

In the nation's midsection, a new storm headed northeastward after dumping up to eight inches of snow on portions of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas and glazing nearby areas with freezing rain or sleet.

The storm was expected to move across the Midwest and into the middle Mississippi Valley, Kentucky and Tennessee today but posed no immediate threat to the beleaguered Northeast.

Communities from the Carolinas northward into New England continued the massive task of attempting to restore order from the havoc wrought by the season's third major storm that virtually paralyzed the area, over the weekend.

The howling storm, accompanied by winds up to 75 miles an hour, was blamed for nearly 100 deaths.

Gale force winds whipped the snow into gigantic drifts, severed utility lines and reduced travel to a bare minimum.

Numerous towns and cities, mostly in New England and New York, were under emergency conditions long after the storm roared out to sea off the tip of Nova Scotia early Sunday.

Air, rail and bus schedules were still a scramble Sunday night but officials held out hope that reasonable service would be restored today.

New York City, its 6,000 miles of streets nearly strangled with almost a foot and a half of snow, was still closed to all but emergency travel late Sunday.

The city's two major airports, Idlewild and La Guardia, resumed operations Sunday night after being closed since Friday, forcing cancellation of some 2,600 flights.

The four major railroads operating out of the city hoped to be back on schedule after a day of operation without the semblance of a timetable.

In Rhode Island, officials called the storm the worst in at least 57 years.

Among the hardest hit communities was Cortland, N.Y., which measured 40 inches of snow, the heaviest in the city's history. Boston had 14.4 inches but the northern areas of New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine escaped the full fury as the storm moved out to sea.

The storm blanketed the heels of 16 consecutive days of sub-freezing temperatures but the mercury was expected to climb in the sunny 30s today.

The storm moving northeastward out of the south central portion of the country was expected to spread sleet or snow from eastern Oklahoma, Kansas and northeast Texas across southern Arkansas and into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

Scientists Put Snail's Pace To Acid Test

ROCKPORT (AP)—Two scientists, an American and a Canadian, have come up with some startling figures to answer that over-used phrase, "as slow as a snail."

After trying out 21 species of snail, John Oughton and Ernest Roscoe clocked the slowest snail at about one half inch a minute. It could travel a mile in 35 hours if he didn't get tired or its mind wandered.

At the other end of the spectrum was a slug (snails without shells) that moved 20 inches a minute. This variety could cover a mile in 4 hours and 29 minutes—if he was a distance runner.

When the two scientists averaged speeds for 16 species they came up with 4.5 inches a minute or 0.00248 miles an hour, depending on individual performances, temperature, type of terrain, direction of travel with respect to the pull of gravity and a number of other factors.

There are times when the answer concerning the speed of snails can be valuable.

Each year, the well-armed sea snails devour from 5 to 6 million oysters. The oysterman's best plan of action is to plant new beds at a safe distance from snail-ridden territory.

Other champions named in the final performance were:

Steer wrestling—Milton Simon of Limon, Colo., $1,741. Runnerup, Stan Christian of Muskogee, Okla., $1,441.

Bareback bronc riding—Ellie Lewis of Penticton, British Columbia, $915. Runnerup, Marty Wood of Calgary, Alberta, $787.

Bull riding—Jim Miller of Sulphur, La., $1,157. Runnerup, Bob Cullison of Hattiesville, Wyo., $957.

The girls barrel race division was won by Sue Roberts of Pryor, Okla. Runnerup was Sis Armstrong of Marietta, Okla.

McLaughlin Top Rodeo Winner

FORT WORTH (AP)—Don McLaughlin of Fort Worth was awarded $3,518 in calf roping money Sunday night as the curtain rang down on the 1961 edition of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeo.

The 33-year-old rodeo star took top money of $1,838 for roping two calves in a total time of 29.1 seconds. He also claimed $1,580 as winner of the first go-round.

Runnerup in calf roping money was Glen Franklin of House, N.M. He downed his two calves in 30.9 seconds and received $1,821 for the chore plus $570 in first go-round money.

Jack Burkholder of San Antonio won $1,838 as top man in the second go-round of calf roping.

Other champions named in the final performance were:

Troubled with GETTING UP NIGHTS Pains in BACK, HIPS, LEGS Tiredness, LOSS OF VIGOR

If you are a victim of these symptoms then your troubles may be traced to Glandular Inflammation. Glandular Inflammation is a constitutional disease and medicine that give temporary relief will not remove the cause of your troubles. Neglect of Glandular Inflammation often leads to premature senility, and incurable malignancy. The past year more than 1,000 communities have been successfully treated here at Excelsior Springs. They have found soothing relief and a new zest in life.

The Excelsior Medical Clinic, devoted to the treatment of disease peculiar to older men by NON-SURGICAL Methods has a NEW FREE BOOK that tells how these troubles may be corrected by proven Non-Surgical treatments. This book may prove of utmost importance in your life. No obligation. Excelsior Medical Clinic, Dept. 5610 Excelsior Springs, Mo.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to bother my clergyman with a problem like this, and don't tell me to talk it over with my mother because she is the one I'm having the trouble with.

I am 16 and very mature for my age. I mean I could pass for 18. All my girl friends have started shaving their legs. Even the blondes. I am a brunette and my legs look like a bear's. My mother says if I start shaving my legs now, in no time at all they will be as rough as a man's beard. Don't suggest waxes or creams as they are too expensive. At what age should a girl start shaving her legs?

TALL, DARK AND HAIRY

DEAR T., D. AND H.: When a girl takes on the appearance of a woman, it's time to take off the hair. Especially if you are a brunette and your legs "look like a bear's." Once you start shaving your legs, you will have to continue, but the growth is rarely comparable to a man's beard.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALL MIXED UP": You will find many people who will tell you what is good for you. Listen to them all—then do what you think is right.

Preparation For A Change!

"Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." Jas. 4:14.

It is said that Napoleon and his officers were viewing a glorious sunset in the alps, when an officer exclaimed, "Just what could be wrong with a scene like that?" Napoleon replied, "Just one thing. It cannot last!"

Things of this world will not last. But there is a kingdom that cannot be moved, which many have received. "Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace whereby we may serve God acceptably..." (Heb. 12:28).

Are you a part of that immovable kingdom of Christ?

Are you prepared for a change? Are you prepared for life's disappointments and sorrows? Are you prepared for death and the judgment? Is the Good Shepherd with you, so that you will not want? (Ps. 23).

In none other is there salvation... (Acts 4:12 RV). He has said, "Without me ye can do nothing." (Jno. 15:5).

Entertain Your Friends With A Heart-Y Party

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriter

Valentine's Day is a wonderful reason to have a gay, romantic party.

Invite an equal number of boys and girls. But ask them to RSVP, so that there will not be an extra.

Start the party off with a good ice-breaker like giving each guest a new romantic name. Put two vases or paper buckets at the door, one for girls, one for boys. Each guest will select his new name from a bucket. You could have someone dressed in a Roman toga, carrying out the idea of the Romans' Lupercalia day, and have them bless the guest with his new name.

The buckets could hold names of romantic pairs, starting with Adam and Eve. Any that you can think of—Dante and Beatrice, Tristan and Isolde, Wally and Edward, Robert Browning and Elizabeth—will get the party off to a romantic start.

Party Fancies

Readymade Valentine centerpieces make it easy for a young hostess to appoint an attractive table by the use of matching nut cups with name tags attached. Add tapers, and the party's ready.

ties may be heart-stitched with red silk floss. Artistic types might run arrows through their hearts.

Food needn't be fancy, but should be substantial. The menu depends on your budget, and the hour you plan to serve the food.

Good stick-to-the-ribs food includes those old combinations—hot dogs and potato salad, chili con carne and spaghetti, chicken a la king and rice, curried hard-boiled eggs and noodles.

YOU MAKE IT

Whenever you can combine an interesting food with starch, you have a hit-the-spot item that is filling. A platter of cold cuts is good party fare, but likely to be expensive when placed at the disposal of a pack of hungry boys.

To dress up a platter or individual plates try this: Make individual puddings out of hard-boiled eggs and ripe olives. Place the olive lengthwise on top of the hard-boiled egg to form a head, fasten with a toothpick. Cover toothpick spot with speck of mayonnaise or whipped cream. Ditto for eyes and mouth.

Insert a small sliver of carrot for a beak. Make two slices of the outside of the olive to form wings one on either side of the penguin's egg body.

Insert the end gently into the egg and fasten it by putting a toothpick through the arms.

A Spring Short Cut

AP Newswriter

Fur seal got a butch haircut for spring.

The result is lakoda, a sheer, lightweight fur introduced recently by the fur seal industry to compete with cloth coats in mild weather, too.

Jealous of the silkiness and drapability of some fabrics spring wraps are made of, peltmakers sheared the Alaskan seal to give it a flat, silky and golden iridescent appearance.

Since the new fur has reached the market, designers have fashioned it into jackets, caps and three-quarter length coats.

Crisply tailored shirtmaker jackets and coats are a fur design innovation which is not usually possible with other unsheared animal pelts.

Just as if it were fabric, the new lakoda fur is often trimmed with mink ranch or mutation, un-sheared seal, blue-fox or Persian lamb dyed brown or black.

The shearing trick keeps the fur out of the storage vaults in spring, an inevitability for heavier pelts.

Bridge Is Played At Cosden Club

Players of duplicate bridge gathered at 13 tables at Cosden Country Club Sunday afternoon for games under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Nails.

Seated in north-south position, Mrs. George McGann and Mrs. D. W. Wall were first place winners; Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson were second; Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards, Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. Ben McCullough tied for third and fourth places.

East-west winners were Mrs. Champ Rainwater and Mrs. E. V. Spence, first; Mrs. Doug Orme and Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., second; Dr. and Mrs. Howard Schwarzenbach, third; Mrs. Jack Irons and Mrs. Hudson Landers, fourth.

Games begin each Sunday afternoon at 1:30. It has been announced, and anyone wishing to play is invited to attend. Membership in the club is not necessary; fee per afternoon is 50 cents.

Science Today Study Of 1930 Hyperions

Science in today's world was discussed for members of the 1930 Hyperion Club Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. G. Keaton. Speakers were Mrs. Charles Weeg, Mrs. Hubert Stipp and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson.

Mrs. Weeg discussed the effect of science on national security, telling the group of the heavy burden on the shoulders of the scientist today. History, she said, is written in terms of progressing technology, and she recounted the development of weapons from the bow and arrow to the cannon, warship, airplane and now to the missile.

Telling the members that our security depends upon the solutions of problems of water supply, fuels, warning systems, control of missiles, vehicles and other items, Mrs. Weeg remarked the science will create either a Frankenstein or Utopia.

Mrs. Stipp, discussing science in everyday life, explained that science in 1960 burst the bounds of scientific knowledge and made fantastic advances with electronic appliances which will revolutionize housekeeping as well as office work.

The speaker told of the development of chemicals from products and compounds hitherto unknown and spoke of the replacement of metals and wood by plastics; she cited the place nylon is taking in the world and told of the revolution of industry by the fuel cell. Scientists, with their advances in medical lines, will add years to our lives, Mrs. Stipp stated, with more freedom from disease and illness.

In explaining the future of science and the power that man will have over the elements, Mrs. Patterson showed that the great need in the advancement of science is a moral force to balance the developments with the human values of religion. Knowledge of the scientists must be combined with love and concern for others to form a moral feeling of what is at stake unless the balance is achieved, she said.

Following a business meeting,

Mrs. B. L. LeFever, cohostess, served coffee and other refreshments from a table laid in Madeira and decorated with a circle of valentines around an epergne of red carnations, greenery and tapers.

Seventeen attended the meeting.

NO-SEASON FROCK

Diagonal Closing Is Waistcoat Effect

Just in time to refresh your wardrobe and to give you a head start on spring!

Charles Montaigne combines elegant simplicity with flawless tailoring in a design that goes about its day with seasonless good looks.

The button-trimmed surplice bodice is cut with a flattering waistcoat effect while the side sections of the dress are treated with slimming princess lines.

In back, the bodice is vented below the waistline to form a jaunty flap that is topstitched to match the front.

Make yours now in lightweight wood or rayon flannel, silk or rayon crepe, and later in sunny fabrics—linen, shantung or novelty cottons.

From these corresponding body measurements select the one size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to ready-to-wear.

Size 16 1/2 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric for dress, 3/4 yard of 39-inch fabric for contrast.

Help For Hips

Dody Goodman doesn't mind not being a ravishing beauty because it was her comical face that got her the starring role in "Once Upon a Mattress." She tells her favorite hip exercise to Hollywood Beauty readers in today's column.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Says Posture Ruins, Makes Good Figure

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—"Your posture affects your figure much more than the average person realizes," Dody Goodman declared. "Anyone who slumps her shoulders gets a widow's hump. If you slouch your back, you lose your waistline to a roll of fat in the middle. And girls who walk using their hips incorrectly usually collect fat in their derrieres."
Dody's first love was the ballet, but in recent years she has turned to acting and comedy.
"I work out with the dancers in 'Once Upon a Mattress,'" she went on. "I have to exercise to feel well, and when I'm on the road with a show it isn't easy to find time."
"What exercise do you recommend that does you the most good?"
"My danger zone is spreading hips and for it I do the 'fanny walk,' if you'll pardon the name for it. It sits on the floor with my knees up and my soles flat on the floor. Then I walk on my bottom by putting first one foot with bent knee in front of the other. I go forward and backward and I can feel the pressure when I need it most. Then I finish by sitting in the same position and slapping my knees to the floor—first to the left and then to the right. You can steady yourself by putting your hands to each side or in back of you."

"How many times do you do it?"
"Oh, a hundred," she replied. "You can work up to that, but there's no point in getting sore or stiff."
Dody is starring here at the Baltimore Theatre in the national company of "Mattress," and we were chatting after a matinee in her dressing room.
"It never occurred to me to worry because I wasn't a great beauty," she reflected. "I was more interested in perfecting an arabesque."
"It's my comical face that's made me the star of this show," she declared, "so how can I be dissatisfied with it. But if you are unhappy about something you should try to change it. I have a roommate who was miserable because her ears stood out. She had to wear her hair so they were covered and she complained about it and saved her money to have a plastic surgeon make them stick close to her head." Dody laughed. "She is much happier now, but she hasn't changed her hair style."

EXERCISE FOR EVERYONE
If you aren't satisfied with your figure, or if you simply need exercise, here is a leaflet designed for you, Leaflet M-8, "Exercise to Correct Figure Faults." If you already have a good figure, you can keep it that way, but if you are unhappy with your legs, thighs, stomach, hips or arms, why not let this leaflet show you when and how to exercise? For your copy send only 10 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that surgeons made astonishing statements like "The hemorrhoids have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.
This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 790. At all drug counters.

The Halo Effect

Sandra Baker wears a halo because she's practicing good penmanship. Dr. Nason, in today's article, declares that good penmanship will cause the professor to add a few points, had penmanship will lose a few points. He calls this the "halo effect." He also gives a few pointers on how to practice penmanship, beginning with position—a desk of comfortable height, arm in comfortable position, pencil held comfortably.

YOU CAN GET BETTER GRADES

Good Penmanship Still Key To Success

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., with HARRY KARNS

Don't kid yourself that good penmanship is no longer important in this world of typewriters, dictaphones, and tape recorders.

It's just as important to you as it was to your grandfather when he went to school.

Poor handwriting is one of the major reasons why students fail.

The student has no typewriter or recorder with him in the classroom when taking notes or answering exam questions. If he writes well, he stands a better chance of making good grades.

Writing happens to be a complex chore.

First, you must form a concept or picture in your mind. Then you must put this into words and arrange the words in sentences. Next, you must write all the necessary letters and symbols on the paper with the capitals and the punctuation marks in the right places and with the words spelled correctly.

Writing is a muscular as well as a mental operation. If the writing muscles are poorly trained and too weak to work very long, you are handicapped almost as much as you would be by a damaged brain.

We never really understood what a severe block poor writing habits can be until we met John. He came to us complaining of low grades on essay type exams. His penmanship was terrible.

We suggested simply that he practice writing. We hoped his grades might be raised by what is called the "halo" effect. That is, the teacher might grade him higher because his paper looked good, not necessarily because he had more to say.

John practiced, his penmanship improved, and he got better grades on essay questions. The old halo effect was working!

We glanced at some of his new papers and received a pleasant surprise. The answers were greatly improved in meaning and content as well as appearance.

WRITING HELPED THINKING

This improvement was linked with his new muscular skill in writing! Having gained that skill, he was able to think of what instead of how to write.

To check that conclusion, we repeated the experiment with student after student—always with the same results.

There was, for example, Ed. He brought us two exam papers from his sophomore economics class at the university. One had been graded "D," the other "D-minus." Ed felt that an injustice had been done. He had worked hard, and he deserved better grades.

"What the heck am I doing wrong?"

An analysis of the papers showed that Ed didn't write easily. The further he went in the exam, the worse his writing got, until finally it deteriorated into a meaningless scrawl.

The physical chore distracted him from the subject matter.

We advised him to train his writing muscles and exercise them. We gave him a brief paragraph of three sentences and told him to write it over and over again.

Try the following procedure, which we suggested to him:

1. Sit at a desk or table of comfortable height.
2. Get your arm in a comfortable position.
3. Hold your pencil in a comfortable manner, without cramping your hand or fingers.
4. Write several trial words. Remember that style of penmanship doesn't matter. The important thing is to form letters reasonably well and move the pencil easily on the paper.

5. Write three brief sentences over and over again. By the third writing you have should the material you are copying so clearly in mind that you can center your attention on the task of controlling your hand.
6. Now insist that your hand make well-formed letters and words without lifting the pencil from paper.

Practice in this way 20 minutes each day. Use different materials for each day's practice.

QUIT WHILE AHEAD

Caution: Don't practice too long at any one time. Your muscles are tiring when your penmanship starts deteriorating rather than improving. Quit for the day.

Ed practiced thus for 10 days, took another exam in economics, and hiked his grade to "B." The pen, provided you know how to hold it, is mightier than the sword.

If you are used to writing in English and you try to write in a foreign language, you face new problems. Some letters are shaped differently. You run into marks that normally appear in English only as pronunciation aids in dictionaries.

Practice writing the foreign language in the same way suggested for muscular training in writing English. Select three sentences containing the strange new letters and markings. Repeated writings will develop skill and accuracy.

Phyllis was discouraged by poor grades in French. We discovered she was losing points because of errors in small details—an accent mark omitted, a word misspelled, a letter incorrectly formed. By exercising as outlined above, she got to the point where she could think of subject matter and still do a good job of writing.

Henry's problem was slightly different. His teacher read in Spanish without attempting translation. Henry couldn't write fast enough to keep up, and he had a hard time reading his own work, in Spanish or English. A few days of practice 20 minutes a day resulted in substantial improvement.

We want to warn you about something with regard to writing exercises. They need to be writing exercises "only"—nothing more. It's not sufficient to pay attention to your penmanship while writing letters, taking notes, or making entries in your diary. The fact that your mind is centered on some other activity defeats your purpose.

Tomorrow: How to listen.

Ship Sinks, Song Calms Passengers

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—An American woman stood on the deck of a sinking ship in Tokyo bay Sunday night and sang "The Lord's Prayer" to calm the excited survivors.

The singer was Mrs. Victor Andrews of Laguna Beach, Calif., a passenger on the 6,419-ton Danish freighter Laust Maersk. The ship sank after colliding with the 6,419-ton American cargo ship Alcoa Pioneer.

The Japanese Coast Guard said one Danish crewman died in the crash and three others were missing. Forty-three persons — including Mrs. Andrews and three other American passengers — were rescued.

The American ship docked under her own power, her bow ripped and tangled. The Laust Maersk went down in about 20 minutes.

Lawyer To Seek Ban On Blue Laws

HOUSTON (AP)—A lawyer for a Houston car dealer said he may try to get an injunction to keep Houston from enforcing state Sunday closing laws.

Norman McFarland said Sunday he thinks he would have a good case because employees of only two companies have been charged in Mayor Lewis Cutrer's five-week crackdown on Sunday business.

Four more charges were filed Sunday.

34 Reds Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Thirty-four Communist rebels were killed and 38 others captured in battles with government troops last Thursday, the government announced today. The government said two of its soldiers were killed and two wounded.

A B-58 Hustler supersonic bomber that flies faster than twice the speed of sound on its revolutionary triangular-shaped wing was caught in this dramatic angle by a photographer in a chase plane below as the B-58 refueled from an Air Force KC-135 tanker. The B-58, the United States

Air Force and Strategic Air Command's newest and fastest bomber, is built at Fort Worth by Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. The tanker is built for SAC by the Boeing Airplane Company.

Medic Doubts War Caused Any Vet's Mental Trouble

DALLAS (AP) — A psychiatrist doubts that any veteran's mental disturbance stems from his war experiences.

"You can't put World War II up as a guide post and say that a man's psychic condition began then," said the doctor at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Lisbon.

"When we look into a veteran's mental trouble, we begin in early childhood or adolescence—not with his experience in World War II or Korea."

The doctor who asked to remain unnamed said that often combat veterans cannot say for sure they have killed an enemy even though they think they did.

He continued:

"Guilt is found in every normal person, but it is more exemplified in the severe psychotics cases."

"I saw a man with tremors the other day and he said they began in 1945 when he was in the service. However, we began an examination and found he had first had them in 1938 or 1939."

"When I asked him about it, he said: 'Oh, those in 1938 weren't important.'"

The doctor said that World War II might have crystallized or aggravated some mental conditions but the conditions were there before the war.

"Simply leaving home was enough to break some men down permanently. For those that went in, going overseas might have been a traumatic experience."

"Then in the war they may have performed something that would provoke anti-social action, but you can trace it to pre-service experience."

The doctor said the VA hospital is receiving patients who trace their mental disturbances to World War II.

"I've got one man who comes in here and points to the top of his head and says, 'That's where it hurts.'"

He suffered a glancing wound in the war, the doctor added, and something in his mental makeup has caused it to bother him since.

"I'd rather treat a man with schrapnel still in him than something like that."

The doctor concluded that most patients don't want to talk about pre-war experiences but that is where all examinations must begin if a psychiatrist is to have a true picture of the man.

Jailed Hypnotist Helping Prisoners

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A hypnotist serving 30 days in Harris County jail for practicing medicine without a license says he thinks he's helping some fellow prisoners.

Roy Masters, who calls his treatment psychocatalysis, claims his method cures fears and depression.

"I try to get them to look deep into themselves and to feel like thinking and saying and doing what they themselves recognize as right and wise," Masters says.

He works with prisoners while running the jail elevator and late at night in the cell block.

"Roy's helped me a lot," one prisoner said. "He's worked with me twice and I'm getting closer to some sort of peace of mind."

Several YMCA Classes Begin

YMCA spring activities for youths and adults offer members and non-members entertainment ranging from wrestling to riflery.

Programs for girls scheduled to begin today are free calisthenics, ages 6-9 and 10-12; advanced swimming instruction, ages 6-18 in minnow, fish, and flying fish and shark classes; Junior High cheerleading; and ladies beginner swimming instruction.

Activities for boys beginning Tuesday are wrestling, ages 6-12; advanced swimming instruction, ages 6-8 in the minnow and fish classes; riflery, ages 10-15; archery, ages 13-18; and plaster mold painting for 1st-6th grade boys.

For girls there is baton twirling and plaster mold painting, grade school ages; archery, ages 10-15; and ladies advanced swimming.

Modeling for senior high school girls begins Wednesday.

Classes in art begin Friday for 4th-6th grade boys and girls. There will be an informal education class for adults with a discussion of "Great Religions of the World."

For additional information, members are asked to call the YMCA.

Bonner Draws 15 Days In Jail

Arthur Bonner Sr., charged with writing a worthless check for $25 in 1958, pleaded guilty in Howard County Court Monday morning.

He was sentenced to serve 15 days in Howard County jail.

Bonner was arrested in Longview on a local warrant. Sheriff Miller Harris and Deputy Bill Whitten took custody of the prisoner Sunday as they returned from taking four prisoners to the state penitentiary in Huntsville.

Zoning Board To Meet Today

A meeting of the planning and zoning commission has been set for 4 p.m. today at the municipal building with Marvin Springer, consulting engineer, present.

The committee will review the results of the public hearing held Jan. 23, so that recommendations regarding the ordinance may be made to the city commission.

All citizens who made protests, or suggestions, on the proposed ordinance re-zoning the city to fit in with the Master Plan, were recorded for the benefit of the commission members. Any justifiable changes proposed will be set up in the ordinance finally approved by the planning commission for presentation to the city commission.

Russia Silent On Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union maintained an enigmatic and unusual silence today on the mission and fate of its massive new Sputnik. Western tracking stations picked up no trace of the satellite.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. Yevgeny Leonovich Klinov, hinted the seven-ton satellite, whose launching was announced Friday, was unmanned. He said it was designed to study the earth and its environment.

Moscow's official silence was in direct contrast to previous satellite launches, when Soviet scientists routinely announced how equipment was functioning and the schedule of cities to be passed over.

Western experts speculated that either something went wrong with the new satellite or the Soviets were keeping some spectacular development a secret until its success was assured.

Western scientists especially noted the Soviets seemed in no hurry to answer speculation that either something went wrong with the new satellite or the Soviets were keeping some spectacular development a secret until its success was assured.

Britain's leading satellite-tracking director of the Jodrell Bank Tracking Station, said, "There is certainly something rather odd about the long Russian silence on the satellite's progress."

"He suggested the Sputnik's radio may have broken down or the Soviets might be transmitting on frequencies not used before."

"It may be, of course, that there is some living thing on board—or, necessarily, a man—and the Russians are saying nothing until they get the satellite safely back to earth," he said.

"If the silence continues, I shall be inclined to believe that something went wrong shortly after the launching," Lovell said.

Japanese scientists said they picked up signals being transmitted today on frequencies normally used by Soviet satellites but said the signals seemed to be coming from a fixed station and not an orbiting object.

The Soviet press continued to give the Sputnik big propaganda treatment, reporting Soviet and foreign reaction to the launching. But no details of the satellite's progress were given.

Prof. Klinov was quoted by Moscow radio as saying the satellite was designed "to study the earth as a planet and to make a study of its nearest environment, including that of meteoritic dangers," and was in a different category than earlier Soviet Sputniks that took dogs and other animals into space.

A Soviet physicist, Prof. V. Fedynsky, said the Sputnik was shot into an orbit that carried it 203.1 miles from the earth at its highest point and 136.5 at its lowest. He said it would circle the earth every 86 minutes and yield new data on top layers of the earth's atmosphere.

Legislators Vote Selves Social Security Deductions

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Legislators voted themselves immediate social security deductions today shortly before diving into a crowded night-and-day committee hearing schedule.

After the brief action, actually a replay on some legislative moves last week, the Senate quit until 10:30 a.m. and the House until 11 a.m. Tuesday.

By a final vote of 123-23 the House finally passed a Senate-approved bill putting state legislators under the Social Security Act. The measure was approved last week but not by a House vote large enough to put it into immediate effect. The vote today clears the way for the first regular monthly payroll since legislators went on a $4,800 a year salary basis.

The Senate approved a resolution authorizing the M. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston to add a $4 million research wing to its facilities, at no cost to the state. The money will come from grants and donations, but legislative authorization to receive it was necessary. The resolution now goes to the House.

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American goods.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which he said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businessmen.

One new idea: That Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $2 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

where he has power to act and urged "early consideration and approval" of those measures which are subject to the will of Congress.

The President noted that the gold dollar stems largely from the fact that foreigners collect more than this country collects from them — $2.8 billion more in 1960.

EXTRA DOLLARS

This represents the deficit in the U.S. balance of international payments and means foreigners are receiving extra dollars which they may use to buy U.S. gold.

Kennedy Asks Cut In Tourist Goods

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

He described the proposals outlined in his message as supplementary to the aim but said: "They are not for that reason any less important or less urgent."

He promised vigorous action

Moore Takes PR Post With W. R. Grace

NEW YORK, N. Y. — W. R. Grace & Co. has announced the appointment of Richard L. Moore as director of public relations. Prior to assuming his new post, Moore had been manager of chemical public relations for the century-old firm.

Moore joined Grace in 1966 after spending nine years as assistant treasurer and director of public relations and advertising for Foster D. Snell, Inc., New York.

He graduated from Bucknell University where he received his bachelor's degree in chemistry in 1947 and master's degree in economics in 1949.

Moore is a former chairman of the New York chapter of the American Institute of Chemists and of Alpha Chi Sigma, national professional chemical fraternity. Currently, he is a national councilor of the American Chemical Society and chairman of public relations for the American Institute of Chemists. He is active in the Chemists' Club in New York; a director of the Chemical Industry Association; and chairman of the publications sub-committee of the Manufacturing Chemists' Association. He was elected a member of the National Association of Science Writers in 1960.

Standard Finds Slight Shows

Standard No. 1 Barber, wildcat location in Mitchell County, found traces of oil and gas on a driftestem test during the weekend.

Operator perforated and ran tests of the unidentified section between 5,933-55 feet. The tool was open 2 1/2 hours and recovery was 12 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud.

Weather

Freezing weather

Temperatures before dawn Monday ranged from 19 degrees at Amarillo to 45 degrees at Brownsville with freezing weather as far south as Abilene, San Angelo, Midland, Wink and Junction.

Maximum readings Sunday ran from 26 at Childress to 77 at Brownsville while minimum temperatures ranged from 7 degrees at Dalhart to 35 at Brownsville.

Snow up to seven inches deep covered all the Big Bend country, and it still snowed generally in that Southwest Texas area at midmorning. Even Presidio, a traditional hot spot of the nation, had snow but it melted when the mercury rose from 25 to 40 degrees.

The heaviest in the area was seven inches at McCamey. Alpine had five inches and Fort Stockton four. The white stuff fell from Langtry in the east to Sierra Blanca in the west and south to the Rio Grande. Schools were open. Roads were extremely dangerous but open.

INTENSIFIED

The snowfall at Odessa intensified at midmorning. An inch was on the ground when the snow increased. Packed in, 27 miles southeast of Fort Stockton, reported 3 to 4 inches.

Many points reported heavy rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Monday. Those above an inch included:

Victoria 1.40, Houston 1.50, Galveston 1.30, Austin 2.20, Waco 2.08, Dallas 1.08, Corsicana 1.42, Little Elm 1.44, Whitney 1.35, College Station 1.78, Palacios 2.08, Beville 1.90, Richmond 1.42, Ennis 1.21, Kennedale 1.45, Sherman 1.28, Waxahatche 1.08.

For 48 hours, some of the larger rainfalls included:

Lie Detector Finding Business Application

By IRWIN FRANK DALLAS (AP) — The rubber hose is stretched across your chest. Then the electrode is placed in your hand. The gray cloth of the blood pressure machine is wrapped around your arm.

You look straight ahead at a blank wall.

In a quiet, slow voice the man asks you questions:

"Is your name Jack Collins?"

"Are you 38 years old?"

"Have you ever stolen from your employer?"

"Do you have a police record?"

All the time the questions are asked and all the time you think, and answer, three metal arms make small zig-zag lines on an endless roll of paper.

You're taking a lie detector test. The test is not to determine whether you go to jail. It will help determine if you get the job you seek.

Giving lie detector tests to job applicants is a growing national trend. In Dallas this year about 20,000 persons will be tested by Truth Verification, Inc., the largest firm of its kind in the nation, says its president, Lee Keener.

Truth Verification's services are also used by employers trying to determine who stole the six radios from the stockroom, who took $56 from the cash register, who took the bottle of whisky from Room 432 of the hotel.

And it is used, says Keener, by the chambermaid who wants to prove she did not take the whisky, the sales clerk who says he didn't take the money and the three shipping room clerks who claim the radios were gone when they came to work Monday morning.

A company using Keener's services sends all job applicants to Truth Verification after they have filled out their employment applications.

Not all agree to the tests, however.

Mrs. Claudine Johnson, manager of an employment firm, says three out of four persons asked to take the tests object. Two of the three take them, nevertheless.

Other employment firm managers say they have had no complaints about the tests.

Keener says, "About 2 per cent of the applicants fail to show up for the test. We have checked on these 2 per cent and we find that 5 per cent of them have some kind of background problem that would have prevented them from getting the job."

What about a man with a past prison record who wants to go straight? What about the person with a history of excessive drinking? Don't the tests prevent such persons from ever getting a job?

Keener says just the opposite is true.

"Most employers are prone to give everybody a chance if they feel they are not taking too much of a risk. If a man with a past criminal record says he wants to go straight—and the lie detector test shows he's telling the truth—the employer may hire him because we have shown the man has honest intentions."

"If a man with a drinking problem says he hasn't had a drop in eight months—and the machine proves he's telling the truth—it is a plus in an excellent chance of being hired," says Keener.

person rather than the machine."

After years of testing he feels that he is not much better equipped than the average person in determining if a person is telling the truth by the old fashioned look-me-right-in-the-eye method.

"Some people can look you in the eye for five minutes and tell you a bag full of lies every minute," he says. "On the other hand, some people can't look you in the eye when they're telling the truth—they are just wary."

An important factor in giving a test is the way the question is worded.

Ask a chambermaid if she stole a bottle of whisky from room 432 and she may answer "no" and the machine shows she is telling the truth.

But ask her if she took a bottle of whisky from the room and if she says "no" the machine may show she has told a lie.

"The chambermaid did not feel that taking a half empty bottle of whisky from a room after the guest checked out was stealing," Keener says.

Coastal Vice Parley Held

AUSTIN (AP) — A Jefferson County group talked more than two hours Sunday with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson about vice conditions in Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Wilson said today he will meet again with the group, made up of representatives of the United Citizens for Law Enforcement of Jefferson County, "in the near future."

Those talking with Wilson were S. L. Bates, P. L. Robinson, B. T. McWhorter and J. C. Barry.

Wilson said the Sunday conference concerned "a mutual exchange of ideas concerning the steps to be taken in improving the standards of law enforcement in Jefferson county."

He said the group was told that three members of the attorney general's staff are devoting full time to the Jefferson County probe. The staff men are working with the present Jefferson County grand jury in investigating misconduct charges against some Jefferson County and city officials in the area.

Officials Drive To Austin Sunday

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer, City Attorney John Burgess, Commissioner George Zachariah and Clyde McMahon, left Sunday for Austin where they will meet with members of the legislature from this area. They will be briefed on proposed legislation affecting cities.

The men will also talk with Rep. David Read on legislation directly affecting Big Spring, regarding the authorization of a juvenile board, and on a bill allowing re-contracting with the state hospital for water.

The men had planned to make the trip by air, but weather conditions prompted them to drive.

Just Smoke

Firemen answered a call to Coker's Restaurant at 8:45 a.m. Monday to extinguish a fire in the grease filter above the big range. Lots of smoke resulted from the fire, but no damage was done.

CUT TO THE QUICK

2. Anglo "superiority": The literature Latin identifies his country "undeveloped"—but not "backward," in the African or Asian sense. Figuratively, such Latins—the leaders on whom we must depend—are cut to the quick by unthinking U.S. diplomats, businessmen and travelers who treat top-grade Latins as virtual "children," not as mature equals.

3. Disdain toward the masses: U.S. emissaries to Latin-America are, commonly, willing to lecture, advise and counsel high ranking Latins on local problems, but unwilling to work among the pitifully poor, uneducated, disease-ridden masses. This aloofness entrenches resentment against our imagined national "superiority complex."

4. Insistence on U.S. ways: Most U.S. concepts—governmental principles and systems, business practices, sanctity of contract, etc.—come from our Anglo-American heritage, while the Latin world's similar traditions come from an entirely different heritage. We are surprisingly ignorant of the Latin heritage and shockingly callous in demanding that Latins do business with us only on our own terms, embracing our standards while we ignore theirs.

DISPLAY GETS FURTHER USE

The background and artwork that resulted in 60 many comments during the annual Big Spring Chamber of Commerce banquet will be on permanent display at the local Electric Service Co. offices.

Prepared by Mrs. Bill Tubbs and Daryle Horvath, the huge billboard described Big Spring as the heart of the "opportunity frontier." Texas Electric instituted a wide campaign last year describing the section of West Texas it serves as the opportunity frontier. This promotion was featured in national magazines and newspapers.

The Chamber pinpointed the city as the heart of this area and used it as a theme for the annual banquet.

Former Resident Dies Saturday

T. C. Preston, 60, who died in a Corpus Christi hospital Saturday evening, will be buried Wednesday in Corpus Christi, with Clegg Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Born in Garden City, Mr. Preston made his home in Big Spring for about 20 years while he was employed by Sinclair Oil Co.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, a son and three aunts, Mrs. Nettie Burns, 309 Bell, Mrs. M. D. Davis, 407 Lancaster, and Mrs. B. T. Hill of Stanton.

Cap Rock Has Increases

Average and aggregate consumption of electric power by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative members increased in January. Monthly operating statistics showed that the average KWH consumption was 400, whereas in January, 1958, it was 351. The system purchased 2,157,785 KWH and sold 1,757,785. A year ago the figures were 1,931,690 and 1,472,448.

The number of miles energized was 2,229, up from the 2,121 a year ago. The number of members connected was 4,397 as compared with 4,171.

Cap Rock Has Increases

livestock shrinkage but a minimum of lambs were lost despite heavy lambing in Central West Texas. Goat shearing will begin with better weather.

Cold rains, sleet and snow in all far West Texas counties caused livestock to shrink and caused increased feeding. Moisture conditions are the best in years. Some goat shearing is starting.

In Northeast Texas, some hotbeds for tomatoes are being prepared, pine seedlings planted, orchards pruned, gopher control demonstrations are being conducted but the biggest job is feeding livestock.

Heavy feeding is continuing in North Central Texas where grains and pastures are providing light to poor grazing. Rust and insects are troublesome.

The Rolling Plains, feeding was increased.

All farm work on the South Plains, except feeding and caring for livestock, stopped.

Snow in the Panhandle brought moisture back to adequate and coupled with the cold, kept wheat dormant. Livestock generally is in good condition but feeding was necessary.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Banking Commissioner of the State of Texas for approval of a charter for Big Spring Savings Association with principal office to be located at 419 Main Street in the City of Big Spring, Texas.

A hearing will be held on the application at 10:00 o'clock a.m. on the 8th day of March, 1961, at the office of the Banking Commissioner of the State of Texas, at 1200 Ross Building, Austin, Texas.

If you wish to object to the application, you must file with the Banking Commissioner on or before February 10, 1961, a written notice of intention to object and a copy of such notice to the applicant.

The hearing will be conducted by the Banking Commissioner and unless otherwise ordered by the Banking Commissioner.

Receive Special Award

Mike Gilbert is shown receiving the Ad Altare Dei award from the Rev. Francis Beazley at the immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church Sunday morning. At Fr. Beazley's side is Arthur Dehlinger, who also received the award made by churches to Scouts who satisfy requirements of study and service. They are the first Catholic boys to receive the award here. Mike, an Eagle Scout and president of Squadron 136, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gilbert, 1304 Dixie, and Arthur, a Life Scout, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dehlinger, 1307 Johnson. At left is Don Snyder, assistant Scoutmaster, and at right is Carl Call, Scoutmaster. The presentation was made following mass Sunday.

Texas Called Critical Link In Latin American Relations

Editor's Note: This is one of several stories written by Jack Cox, Brookerside businessman, after a tour of Latin America.

By JACK COX

Written for The Associated Press

Texans—individually, through their business, labor and professional organizations, and through their state government—have great responsibilities and opportunities to meet in helping to improve United States relations with Latin America.

True, the big job of halting the spreading cancer of "anti-Yankee" feeling falls to the new administration in Washington. But I returned from my most recent look-and-listen 20,000 mile visit to Mexico, Central and South America convinced that the practice of constructive good neighborliness must begin at the Rio Grande.

Texas is known—and known in generally favorable terms—throughout Latin America, not just in Mexico. Many top Latin businessmen were educated in Texas. Many U.S. foreign service careerists in Latin America are native Texans, from corporate heads to roughnecks, have figured prominently in developing the Latin countries' oil resources. This special familiarity has built a special foundation of good-feeling and understanding.

ANOTHER SIDE

There is another side to the coin, however. Texas is more in Latin-America's spotlight than any other single state. While "good things" about Texas may be exaggerated, so are "bad things" given more attention than we in Texas may realize. This is important to the whole cause of freedom in the Western Hemisphere because the deterioration of U.S.-Latin relations is principally the result of intention to what we in this country—and state—dismiss as "little things."

These are specific:

1. Language: The greatest single irritant and handicap in Anglo-American relations is the Anglo's habitual refusal to attempt to learn Spanish. Tourists' ignorance is pardoned, but the language ignorance of businessmen, educators and official representatives of the United States is resented as a show of colonial attitudes.

CUT TO THE QUICK

1. Latin "superiority": The literature Latin identifies his country "undeveloped"—but not "backward," in the African or Asian sense. Figuratively, such Latins—the leaders on whom we must depend—are cut to the quick by unthinking U.S. diplomats, businessmen and travelers who treat top-grade Latins as virtual "children," not as mature equals.

2. Disdain toward the masses: U.S. emissaries to Latin-America are, commonly, willing to lecture, advise and counsel high ranking Latins on local problems, but unwilling to work among the pitifully poor, uneducated, disease-ridden masses. This aloofness entrenches resentment against our imagined national "superiority complex."

3. Insistence on U.S. ways: Most U.S. concepts—governmental principles and systems, business practices, sanctity of contract, etc.—come from our Anglo-American heritage, while the Latin world's similar traditions come from an entirely different heritage. We are surprisingly ignorant of the Latin heritage and shockingly callous in demanding that Latins do business with us only on our own terms, embracing our standards while we ignore theirs.

50 Years' Work Is Spent Developing Cotton Seed

CLARKSVILLE (AP) — For 50 out of his 87 years, John McLernon has gimmed thousands of cotton locks using a small, 10-inch saw, attempting to perfect a self-styled cotton seed, which he called Sunshine Rowden.

Each year he plants some 25 acres of cotton and gins it himself and saved the seed for next year. McLernon sells the ginned cotton, unbaled, at a local gin.

"No, I don't make much money at it, but it keeps me busy at something, I like growing good cotton," he said.

His cottonseed, the Sunshine Rowden, began about 40 years ago when McLernon planted some Rowden seed from East Texas. He added the Sunshine over a period of years, since he developed it into a light foliage cotton which lets more sunlight into the bolls.

He claims that his cotton "has good staple, bigger bolls and it pulls out well."

When McLernon worked 130 acres of cotton, the 10-saw gin couldn't handle the ginning. To make sure he got back the same seed he took to the commercial gin, he'd take 10 or 12 bales at a time.

"We started out at 3 a.m. to get to the gin before anyone else got their cotton mixed in and we were sure the gins were clean," he explained.

The gin building is somewhat dilapidated now, and the whole building shakes when the gin is cranked up. But McLernon is preparing to set up ginning soon in a small barn near the rear of his home.

"Nobody around here can set it up, but I can do it with my eyes shut," he said.

And with 40 years experience, no one will doubt that he can.

Texan Sets Off Fireworks In Defense Reorganization

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Texan has already set off some fireworks in the forthcoming battle to reorganize the Defense Department.

He is Ted C. Connell, Killean automobile dealer and the national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He recently put the VFW on record as against charges recommended to the Kennedy administration by the task force led by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

An article placed in the Congressional Record by Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich, notes that the Symington plan would abolish the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force—posts held by civilians.

Connell is then quoted in the article as saying:

"It seems incredible to me that Senator Symington's study group would recommend such a drastic change in the Defense Department during these perilous times. The fact that what he recommends is, in essence, the discredited Prussian type, supreme high command concept, seems even more incredible."

"This concept failed in the past because war and science outgrew

it. It failed because it was based on one man dominance and no one man alone is capable of solving the problems of modern global war."

An army veteran of World War II, Connell travels constantly between Texas and the VFW's Washington headquarters. He has discussed the reorganization proposal with chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee.

When Secretary of the Navy John B. Connally Jr. testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee on his nomination, he was asked by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, how he felt about the Symington proposal since it would abolish the position to which he was being named.

"Well, Senator," the former Fort Worth lawyer said, "I must confess that because of my admiration and long time friendship for Senator Symington (a member of the committee and listening), that I would have to say that I will have to be impressed with the report. But I have not studied it in detail."

"I will only say this to you—that I assure you that I would do nothing, and take no action and assume no position whatsoever just in order to keep the job, because I had one before I came to Washington."

A co-executor of the $200 million—more or less—estate of the late Sid W. Richardson, Connally agreed to take no fees in that capacity for as long as he heads the Navy.

BANQUET POSTPONED

The Birthday Banquet of the First Baptist Church, which had been set for this evening at the Howard County Junior College, has been postponed.

A new date will be announced later, said Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor. Church officials feared that driving conditions would be hazardous. The banquet, being resumed as an annual affair, brings members of the church together at tables according to the month in which they were born.

South African Negro Show Due In Britain

LONDON (AP)—South Africa's white supremacy government has won a rare pat on the back for letting the all-Negro musical "King Kong" come to Britain.

The African "jazz opera" which opens in London Feb. 23 has been credited with punching a tiny hole in South Africa's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation. It contains some pointed jabs at South African racial policy.

"But there has been no attempt at censorship," South African producer Leon Gluckman told a reporter. "The South African government made it possible for the whole company of more than 60 to get passports."

Few of the cast have been abroad before. For the first time they will share living quarters and eat and drink with white people—in a London hotel.

One British newspaper, the Observer, commented the most extraordinary thing about "King Kong" is that this work—a triumph of black and white cooperation—should have come out of racially torn South Africa.

Africans have contributed the vitality, the talent, the theme, the music and the cast.

Whites have supplied the drive, the technical skill, the financial backing, the book and the lyrics.

The show is based on the true story of a Zulu heavyweight prizefighter who fought under the name of King Kong. He became a legend among South Africa's Negroes.

Three years ago he stabbed his girl friend to death because he thought she had been unfaithful. At his trial he demanded the death sentence but was sentenced to 12 years at hard labor. At the first opportunity he committed suicide by diving into a prison dam.

Bicycling Prof Bumps Law, But Wheels Turning For Him

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—For 27 years, in blizzard and heat, the professor pedaled serenely from home to campus — a dignified familiar figure along the 2¼-mile route.

Sometimes during the noon break in classes at Northwestern University he would hustle off on his lightweight bicycle to tend to family errands in the suburb's busy shopping district.

It was all very cozy and routine. Then the law stepped in. Overnight Professor Malcolm Dole and his bicycle became a cause célèbre.

On three separate occasions, Professor Dole was confronted at an intersection of Sheridan Road by a young police officer.

The last time they met, on Jan. 20, it went badly for Professor Dole, a silver-haired member of the chemistry department faculty.

"This young officer radioed into the station for a paddy wagon," he related. "When they brought

Texas Violence Claims 15 Lives

Traffic facilities continued to pace the weekend violent death toll in Texas although snow and sleet kept most motorists at home.

Many of the 12 traffic deaths were blamed on wet streets and packed highways laced with ice.

One death was blamed on exposure after the body of a Texas Panhandle cattleman was found in the snow-covered area near Dumas.

Two shooting deaths brought the weekend total to 15 persons. The Associated Press tabulation covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

MEN IN SERVICE

M. Sgt. James B. Snelling ended a 20-year career in the U. S. Air Force as he retired at Tinker AFB, Okla. on Jan. 31 at a ceremony attended by the staff of MATS' 1707th Air Transport Wing.

A native of Otis Chalk, Snelling joined the Army Air Corps at Ft. Bliss, on Dec. 7, 1940, exactly one year before Pearl Harbor was bombed. After air mechanics school, his first assignment was as crew chief on AT-6 advanced flying trainer aircraft at Stockton, Calif.

While still at Stockton, he transferred to the supply field, and has since been a supply non-commissioned officer at nine different Air Force bases. He had one overseas assignment in Bermuda and two in England, the first with a bomb Force during World War II. He came to the 1707th, a MATS training wing, in 1955.

Sgt. Snelling is married to the former Grace Hager of Masonville, N. Y. They live in Del City with their two children, and Snelling plans to work in the Oklahoma City area.

Army Specialist Four Bobbie L. Henderson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Henderson, Colorado City, is participating with other personnel from the 59th Signal Company in Exercise Winter Shield II at the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels training area in Germany. The exercise is scheduled to end Feb. 8.

Specialist Henderson, a clerk in the company in Kaiserslautern, entered the Army in December, 1958 and arrived overseas in December, 1959. He is a 1959 graduate of Colorado High School.

John P. Flynn, electronics technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Flynn, 1201 Johnson, is serving aboard the nuclear-powered submarine USS Sargo operating out of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Lanchester Show Cheery

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — By never lingering long on any item, "Elsa Lanchester—Herself" adds fresh cheer to Broadway's entertainment array.

The show, relying solely on the elfin actress-singer and a two-piano team, opened Saturday at the 41st Street Theater.

Miss Lanchester artfully spans from the ridiculous to the touching with pace and discernment. A tiny eyebrow lift, or flirt of chin-frown scarf, transforms her from sinister to sunny, or simple or saucy or sentimental.

Displayed are a number of familiar from the Lanchester night club and record grab-bag: "The Ballad of Sister Anne," "He Didn't Oughter," "Lola" and "When a Lady has a Piazza." Thomas Wolfe supplies some of her dialogue, and so does Henry VIII.

If you haven't observed her before, now is the time to see Lanchester in action.

An utterly different weekend thespic event was the premiere of "A Modern Japanese Plays" at the Players Theater, under sponsorship of Helen Menken, president of the American Theater Wing.

Mildly mystical and exotically off-beat, the eastern playlets are aptly interpreted by Western actors under the direction of Herbert Marshall. Altogether, a bamboo treat.

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Negroes who bucked the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to vote for a new segregated elementary school said they did so because of the problem of overcrowded schools.

Negroes in Sussex County, Delaware's southernmost county, voted 441 to 19 in favor of construction of a $543,000 school which must be segregated under state law, state officials reported. About 40 per cent of the eligible Negro voters were represented.

Cigarette Lighter Spells Life For Stranded Fliers

ALAMOSO, Colo. (AP)—A cigarette lighter—"that made the difference between life and death," Pat Floyd, 28, thus summed up today how he and two others survived 38 hours in bitter cold on a snowy mountainside after their plane crashed Friday.

Floyd, his sister, Betty, 19, and the pilot, Bill Bradley, 20, of Alamosa, were rescued Sunday morning from the slopes of Mt. Blanca.

Bradley's brother, Jack, a searching pilot, spotted their crude "help" appeal tramped in the snow. Within an hour a weasel—a tracked vehicle for going over deep snow—reached them.

All were hospitalized here. Floyd and Bradley suffered deep face cuts and bruises. Miss Floyd suffered a sprained ankle. All were suffering from various degrees of frostbite in the hands and feet.

The plane crashed in severe icing conditions on a flight from Denver to Alamosa in southwestern Colorado. One wing was ripped off the light plane but a 16-inch cushion of snow saved the occupants from serious injury.

"All our matches were wet," Floyd said, "so we couldn't start a fire. We just walked around Friday night trying to keep warm."

"When it got light enough to see Saturday morning we searched the wreckage and managed to find my cigarette lighter."

They used it to light oil from the airplane engine.

"We just prayed all day Saturday and tried to keep warm," Floyd said.

The temperature dropped to four below zero Saturday night and more snow fell.

"We fed the fire with brush and oil and tried to keep warm," Floyd said. "We're awful lucky."

Floyd is city manager at Alamosa where the Bradleys operate a flying service.

They were trapped in the same storm that caused two other private planes to crash in the region Friday. William D. Kelley Jr., 36, of Cumberland, Md., died when his single-engine craft smashed into a gully about 20 miles north of Brigham City, Utah.

The third plane disappeared on a flight between Rock Springs and Lander, Wyo. It was piloted by Buck Duane, 41, Lander businessman, and carried Terry J. Turner, 28, a Denver writer for Time-Life magazines.

LIBSON, Portugal (AP)—Four persons were reported killed and seven wounded Sunday during new rioting in Luanda, capital of Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported shooting broke out during a funeral procession for seven policemen and soldiers killed in a clash Friday between a mob and police armed with machine guns. Nine civilians also were killed in the battle.

U.A.R. Frees Jailed Briton

CAIRO (AP) — James Zarb, a Briton jailed as a spy in the United Arab Republic since the Suez war, was released today after serving nearly half of a 10-year sentence.

Cairo newspapers said Zarb's release came as a direct result of the debate in Montreal last week in which British historian Arnold Toynbee strongly defended the Palestine Arab case against Israel. Zarb's case also was probably helped by the agreement between Britain and U.A.R. to exchange ambassadors as the final step in resuming diplomatic relations broken off because of the Suez invasion.

Billy Wilder Is Director Of Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Billy Wilder, who directed "The Apartment," has been named Director of the Year by his fellow craftsmen.

Other directors honored Saturday night by the Directors Guild of America were Alfred Hitchcock for "Psycho," Richard Brooks for "Elmer Gantry," Jack Cardiff for "Sons and Lovers" and Fred Zinneman for "The Sandlot."

A Real Lemon

Contrary to popular opinion, some lemons grow to a very large size. Frances Johnson, of Harlingen, is shown estimating how many pies she could make from this Ponderosa lemon, a product of the Texas citrus area in the Rio Grande Valley.
