Committee Okays Negro For Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee on an 11-4 vote today approved Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro, to be the government's housing administrator.

The committee acted within minutes after closing public hearings on President Kennedy's choice of the 53-year-old Weaver for the highest job a Negro has ever held in the government.

The committee action sends the nomination on to the Senate where it could encounter some debate and opposition. But eventual Senate approval seems certain.

The hearing was delayed Tuesday until Kennedy sent word to the Capitol Hill that he had reviewed Weaver's loyalty file. Weaver later denied membership in several organizations alleged to have Communist links.

Weaver, 53, now is vice chairman of the New York City Housing and Re-development Board.

He was quizzed all afternoon about his loyalty, his views on whether federal housing programs should be used to enforce residential integration, and his experiences in previous housing posts.

But the net result apparently was to leave the committee lineup unchanged. A substantial majority of the members warmly endorsed Weaver, who if confirmed will assume the highest post ever held by a Negro in the executive branch of the federal government.

Sen. Willis Robertson declined to begin the hearing until Kennedy had sent a personal letter regarding Weaver's loyalty. The committee chairman said he had received a number of allegations that the New Yorker had been affiliated with some subversive organizations.

Kennedy wrote he had "fully reviewed and evaluated" an FBI report on Weaver. He added his complete confidence in the New Yorker would do "outstanding service."

Sen. William A. Blakley, D-Tex., later questioned Weaver about alleged associations with Communist front organizations. But supporters of the nominee dismissed the allegations as smears and asserted he had answered them fully.

Greater concern, however, was expressed by some members including the Senate House subcommittee chairman, John Sparkman, D-Ala., about the philosophy

Weaver would bring to the federal post.

These senators noted that the New Yorker, a prolific writer, long had advocated residential integration. They expressed the fear he might try to use federal housing programs to enforce these views.

Weaver said he did indeed believe in "open occupancy" for all races in housing. He declared that he should not be used to further racial discrimination.

But he added that he seriously doubted whether he would see the end of residential segregation in his lifetime and explained that his chief concern was to assure that Negroes received "equal opportunity" in federally assisted housing projects.

JFK Will Use Moral Position In Race Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy pledged today that he will use the "moral authority or position of influence of the presidency" in school desegregation situations.

The President at his news conference said students should be permitted to attend schools in accordance with court decisions.

The statements were made in response to a request for comment on a boycott by white students of schools in New Orleans, ordered desegregated three months ago by a federal court. A reporter said there appears to be an organized campaign of intimidation which has kept most white children out of these schools.

Kennedy replied that he will speak out about the New Orleans situation "at such time as I think it is most useful and effective."

He said he will attempt to use the "moral authority or position of influence of the presidency in New Orleans and in other places."

Pressed for a more specific statement, Kennedy said:

"As far as New Orleans goes it is my position that all students should be given the opportunity to attend public schools regardless of their race, and that is in accordance with the Constitution."

Kennedy said it is his opinion that the people of the country believe as he does about this matter.

Kennedy said he feels efforts to provide "a more harmonious acquiescence with the court decision" in New Orleans should wait until the administration has concluded an analysis of the situation there.

Blakley Quizzes Negro Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William A. Blakley, Texas, questioned Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro nominated by President Kennedy as the government's housing chief, before the Senate Banking Committee Tuesday.

The Texas asked Weaver about alleged associations with Communist front organizations. Supporters of the nominee dismissed the allegations as smears and asserted Weaver had answered them fully.

Weaver pledged "that he would not discriminate against any section of the nation in handling the numerous housing programs under his jurisdiction."

He also said he would resign as national board chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People if he is confirmed.

It is this NAACP affiliation which is emphasized in much of the mail being received by Southern senators in opposition to the nomination.

Blakley cited a 1957 participation by Weaver in a Philadelphia meeting of the National Negro Congress, later cited by the attorney general as Communist-dominated. The New Yorker said that President Franklin D. Roosevelt sent greetings to this meeting, and that the Republican mayor of Philadelphia spoke there.

The Texas senator also asked about Weaver's membership in the Washington Co-operative Bookshop, another cited organization. The nominee answered that he joined to get the book discount but resigned in 1941 after he became suspicious of the leadership.

Blakley wanted to know if the NAACP was Communist-infiltrated. Weaver quoted a passage in a book by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover saying the NAACP had strongly resisted Communist attempts to gain a foothold in it.

Blakley also brought up such matters as a review of a Weaver book in a Communist magazine and a trip to Russia by the New Yorker in 1946. Weaver said the trip was as a part of a United Nations relief and rehabilitation team.

Kennedy Predicts Hard Test Ahead For U. S.

Missile Study Not Completed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today he sincerely believes America's ability to maintain its position in the world will be severely tested in the next four years.

That was his reply to a news conference question as to whether he has been painting the U.S. picture blacker than it is "for shock purposes."

And Kennedy insisted his administration has not yet reached any firm conclusion as to the relative position of this country and Russia in missile strength.

There were published reports the last two days that Pentagon officials believe the so-called "missile gap" versus Russia did not exist—in short, that this country was as strong in missiles as the Soviets.

The New York Herald Tribune said today the stories to this effect were based on a background briefing held by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Kennedy said he had talked with McNamara and other defense officials, and that the secretary "stated that no study had been concluded in the Defense Department which would lead to any conclusion at this time as to whether there is a missile gap or not."

The President added that it is hoped a preliminary study could be completed by Feb. 20. He said he hopes this country is "completely secure" as to the missile situation, but the answer is not yet clear.

Republicans in Congress had chortled over the reports that there was no genuine missile gap. Some of them had suggested that perhaps other "gaps" which Kennedy professed to see didn't really exist.

It was against this background that a newsmen asked whether Kennedy had been seeking to use "shock tactics."

This third presidential news conference for Kennedy, unlike the two earlier ones, was not televised. It drew 297 newsmen to the State Department Auditorium and brought questions ranging over a wide field.

Among the subjects touched on in announcements and questions and answers:

Prime Minister John F. Diefenbaker of Canada is coming to Washington Feb. 20 to discuss matters of mutual interest.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is making a study of policy in relation to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and will have advisory help from Dean Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration, among others.

The Welfare Department is setting up a child health center to deal with the special health problems of children.

On civil rights, Kennedy said he believes students should be permitted to attend schools in accordance with court decisions made in desegregation cases. As to the situation in New Orleans, he said he intends to speak out on it "at such time as I think it is most useful and effective."

Asked if he might want to cut taxes to stimulate the economy, Kennedy said he once voted, in 1958, against an anti-recession tax cut in March but voted for one in June.

NEW COOK

"We are going to take a new look at the economy in April," Kennedy said, to determine whether the economy will move upward by early summer.

He said he wasn't sure Congress would entertain a tax cut proposal now and added that before such a plan be put forward the administration should have a clearer view of the probable course of the economy.

The President said he hoped Congress would act now on aid to distressed areas, extension of unemployment compensation and certain Social Security changes he has recommended.

On gold, Kennedy said his administration was trying to get West Germany to do more in the problem of stopping the outflow of U.S. gold.

He said West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano is coming to Washington and he hoped the matter will be discussed then.

An afternoon meeting at the White House will discuss the crisis in Laos "and what new actions we should take now," Kennedy said.

Kennedy also mentioned Laos in connection with relations with the Soviet Union. A newsmen, recalling the release of two U.S. fliers who had been held in Russia for seven months, asked what steps the President expects to be taken before a possible summit meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

OBSTACLE GONE

Kennedy said the release of two RB47 fliers had removed a serious obstacle to relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

He noted Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson is returning to Washington for consultations, and added there are several issues that concern U.S.-Soviet relations, including Laos.

The President was asked whether this country knew details about the Soviets' seven-ton rocket launched last week and whether there was a human inside.

"There is no evidence that there was a man in the rocket," Kennedy said. But it may be a part of experiments leading to putting a man into space, he added.

As to whether this country is racing the Soviet Union to put a man in space, Kennedy said no undue risks are going to be taken with the lives of U.S. astronauts even if we do come in second.

To a question on the possibility of legislation to control domestic interest rates, Kennedy replied that he has no intentions to ask for such legislation.

Air Proposal May Gain Approval Here

Recommendations by a federal aeronautics official Tuesday for air service to Big Spring will probably find approval with local backers of better service.

William Dapper, counsel for the Bureau of Air Operations for the Civil Aeronautics Board, recommended to the CAB examiner that flights of American Air Lines and Continental Air Lines through Big Spring be suspended. He recommended approval of the petition of Trans-Texas Airlines to serve Big Spring.

In earlier hearings, Trans-Texas offered five flights per day through the city and Central Air Lines offered two flights. For this reason, the Big Spring delegation leaned toward endorsement of the former application.

At any rate, the Big Spring group told the examiner that the city wanted the best service possible, and apparently Trans-Texas was prepared to offer it.

BETTER GRADES REPRINTS MADE

However, a reorder has been placed and deliveries will be made as soon as possible. So if your copy does not arrive as soon as you expected, we ask your patience. Be sure and place your order if you want one of the books and we'll fill it just as soon as the new shipment arrives. Today's "Better Grades" article is on Page 2.

Snow Covers Almost All East Coast

A mountain of snow blanketed almost all the Eastern seaboard today and new storms closed hundreds of schools and brought traffic to a standstill.

Snowbound New York City looked forward to more snow or rain and freezing drizzle. Mayor Robert F. Wagner continued his ban on all nonessential private auto traffic after he made a helicopter tour of the snowbound city. The ban meant another day of crowding on public transportation facilities as hundreds of thousands of automobiles remained buried along streets and parkways in the city.

With an ice breaker showing the way, 10 river craft started up the ice-choked Hudson River today to deliver more than 100,000 barrels of gasoline and heating oil for New York communities where shortages were reported. The bulk of the fuel was bound for Newburgh for distribution.

In Washington, D.C., the capital's snow-a-week schedule was right on time with a fall unofficially reported at 3 to 5 inches. Heavy snow warnings were out for northern and western Virginia and snow and sleet was spreading from North Carolina into southern Pennsylvania.

While Pennsylvania was attempting to dig out from last weekend's crippling snowfall of up to 24 inches, more snow lashed at the state. The Western part of the state bore the brunt of the new storm which dumped up to 4 inches of fresh snow here.

The eastern Panhandle of West Virginia got 6 inches of snow early today.

Coffee Break To Help MOD

Coffee and doughnuts are being sold all this week at the courthouse in Garden City as a March of Dimes benefit.

It started out as a one-day affair, but friends of the MOD decided to continue it the balance of the week. The first day brought in $108. Those in Glasscock County, who find this impractical for making contributions to the MOD, may leave their gifts at Carter Grocery or mail to the postmaster at Garden City.

Big Spring contributions may be mailed to Box 134.

So far, response to the MOD has been good, and Rad Ware, chapter chairman, said it might be several days yet before the coin collectors are gathered and the final tabulation is made. He urged those planning to give but who have not to make their contributions as soon as possible.

More Snow, Rain Seen

More snow and rain was forecast for Texas Wednesday and the U.S. Weather Bureau said a wet and cold weekend was in prospect for most of the state.

Snow flurries and scattered rain in the Panhandle by late Wednesday with somewhat warmer temperatures in other sections of the state were predicted.

The five-day forecast called for more snow in the Panhandle, rains in other areas and generally colder weather during the weekend.

Light snow fell at Amarillo Tuesday afternoon but there was no overnight precipitation reported. Early morning lows ranged from 18 degrees at Amarillo to 42 at Laredo.

Panel To Consider Crime Probe Group's Extension

AUSTIN (AP)—The House State Affairs Committee will consider tonight extending the life of the five-man investigating group that aired alleged vice conditions in Amarillo, Port Arthur and Beaumont.

Several hundred persons, including delegations from Jefferson County, are expected for the session in the House chamber.

The resolution by Rep. W. T. Oliver, Port Neches, calls on Speaker James Turman to name five men to replace the interim committee that expired when the Legislature convened Jan. 10.

Previously Turman was presented with a petition containing 2,300 names asking that the same five men be reappointed.

Rep. Menton Murray, Harlingen, was chairman of the old committee although Rep. Tom James, Dallas, vice chairman, made many of the sensational announcements. Other members of the group are Reps. Charles Ballman, Borger; Lloyd Martin, Normangee, and John Allen, Longview.

The fact that the old committee has not turned in a report on the Amarillo, Port Arthur and Beaumont public hearings and investigations has become a controversial issue with some House members.

Rep. Robert H. Hughes, Dallas, said he may appear at the hearing tonight. He said he had no personal criticism of any of the members "but I still think that before they start making it public all over the state they should give a report to the Legislature."

James replied that Hughes "apparently has joined those who would discredit the work of our committee in its inquiry into law enforcement in our state."

He said the group has no staff and former counsel David Witts of Dallas is working without pay in an effort to get the reports ready "within the next few weeks."

"Our efforts since the Jefferson County probe closed have been concentrated on preparing the legislation that we found in our investigations to be badly needed," James said.

New X15 Has Powerful Engine

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The next X15 rocket ship flight for Air Force Major Bob White—possibly next week—will be in a model with a powerful new engine.

White rehearsed for this role Tuesday by testing the rocket ship's new "hot nose" in an X15 with a small temporary power plant developing 16,000 pounds of thrust. He reached a speed of 2,112 m.p.h. during an 11-minute flight.

The more powerful model is designed eventually to rocket man from 50 to 100 miles at speeds of 4,000 m.p.h.

The X15's new rounded nose, replacing the earlier needle-like antenna, contains instruments to help the pilot re-enter the atmosphere at a safe angle.

Legislators May Cut Teeth On Sales, Income Tax Bills

AUSTIN (AP)—A House leader predicted today that tax hunting legislators will cut their teeth on general sales tax and income tax measures before getting a chance at Gov. Price Daniel's big payroll tax bill.

Rep. George Finson, Mineola, vice chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, had that comment on House committee action last night and readied for debate a measure to prohibit passage of an income or payroll tax by any Legislature.

HASN'T APPEARED

Daniel has "adopted" a recommendation of the State Finance Advisory Commission that a one per cent levy be placed on all payrolls. However, the payroll plan has not appeared for introduction and there have been reports Daniel is still searching for a legislative sponsor.

"It is the general sentiment of those of us who are in charge of committees that all important legislation get a run before House members," Finson said. "I think (Rep.) John Allen should get a run with his sales tax bill. There should be a variety of tax plans to come to the floor on the permanent financing issue. I still think we should get to the deficit financing first."

Hinson predicted that when Daniel's tax bill appears it will be "a drastically revised plan" from the recommendations of the Finance Advisory Commission.

"I'm working on a broad based plan that will be close to a general sales tax but it will have the feature that payments can be used as credit against the federal income tax," Hinson said. "It doesn't mean anything to a taxpayer for him to realize that he has to pay a few cents sales tax in buying something. It does mean a lot if he can get credit on his income tax as high as that is."

The Senate devoted much of its time to local bills.

RADIATION BOARD

A bill setting up a radiation advisory board under the State Department of Health was passed 30-0 by the Senate and sent to the House.

The anti-income or payroll tax measure was the first proposed constitutional amendment to reach the House on the question of taxes this session.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell, San Antonio, pushed his amendment through the House Constitutional Amendments Committee after members surprisingly suspended its automatic subcommittee rule. The key votes were 12-5 with support rallying around Rep. Wade Spillman and Rep. Jerry Butler.

NEEDS SUPPORT

Bell's proposal—one he has been urging for 16 years—will need the support of two-thirds of the Legislature before the tax question could be submitted to the voters in November, 1962.

The governor has recommended a one per cent payroll-earnings tax to be paid equally by employer and employee as the best solution to the mounting tax problem.

Bell's amendment prohibits the

In Search Of Inspiration

Kathleen Soldan has an English theme to write, so where does she go for inspiration? Why, to the greatest of them all, Mr. Shakespeare, himself, complete with bell, book and candle, which Kathleen tries vainly to light in an attempt to draw the Bard's spirit from the nether world. But Dr.

Nason assures us in today's article that one needs no inspiration to write a theme, nor is it necessary to be a literary genius, and he lists methods of common sense to be used in producing a good, readable composition. And, adds the good doctor, let's just forget about "inspiration," shall we?

YOU CAN MAKE BETTER GRADES

Systematic Work, And Not 'Inspiration,' For Themes

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., with HARRY KARNES

The ability to organize and express thoughts clearly and concisely is one of the greatest assets a student can possess. As you go up the ladder in school, you will be asked more and more often to write themes, reports, and essays. Your grades in some courses will depend almost entirely on how well you have written your reports.

It is unfortunate that many students approach the act of writing with a sense of awe. You do not have to be a literary genius to write a competent paper. In fact, it is better to get rid of the idea that "inspiration" is needed.

Simply go about it as you would any other project. Decide what has to be done and figure out the most logical way to do it.

Here are some steps that will help you in mapping your written reports:

1. Make sure you understand exactly what the teacher expects you to write about.

If you are not sure, write a sentence stating what you believe the subject to be, and show it to the instructor.

Understanding of the topic can save you much fretting and many hours of work. You may write the finest paper in the world, but if it is not on the topic assigned, you are going to be in trouble.

2. Make a list of places to look for material for the report. Most student research is done in libraries. Your research will be made easier and more effective if you ask the teacher or librarian how to use encyclopedias, the New York Times index, the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, and the library card file system itself.

As you consult such sources, make a list of the books, magazines, newspapers, and pamphlets which offer some promise of giving the information you want. Behind each reference, write down the page number.

3. Now start gathering the information from these sources. Make notes in your own words: don't just copy what the writer has written, unless, of course, you intend to quote him word for word. Credit the source.

Don't copy material down in wholesale lots. Be selective. Ask yourself: "Does this actually pertain to the subject?"

This doesn't mean you should accumulate only a few notes. Gather plenty of material that you can use. It is better to have some facts and ideas left over than to have too few.

When you find that you have run out of things to say and yet have not written a substantial paper, this is the signal to go back and do more research. Don't try to "bluff" it out. If your teacher is a good editor of reports, he'll detect your effort to pad.

4. After gathering your material, organize it. That is, make an outline. Decide which ideas are the big ideas, and which ideas are the smaller, supporting ideas. Decide the order in which these ideas should appear in the finished product.

The extent to which you use these suggestions will be governed, of course, by the nature and the length of the paper you are asked to write. Normally, a one-page theme will not require the research required for a four-page report.

If your assignment is a lengthy term paper, you will want to consult one of the many fine books that have been written to guide you in that kind of project.

Of the four steps described above, the one most likely to spell success or failure for your paper is Number 4.

HOW TO OUTLINE

If you have never learned to make an outline, you should take time out right now to learn how. First, open a book to a brief chapter. The first paragraph or so, perhaps even the first sentence, will contain a statement of what the chapter is about. Write Roman numeral 1 on the top line of a sheet of paper, and copy that sentence behind it.

Second, find the main ideas or items of information in the remainder of the chapter which explain or support statement number 1. Place them under 1 in their proper order as statements A, B, C, D, and so forth.

Let us use a simple example. A book on guinea pigs might contain a chapter which opens with Idea. Two, find the supporting ideas and facts. After you have practiced outlining material that is already written, reverse the process. Write down a list of observations, thoughts, and facts about a subject with which you are familiar. Now take another sheet of paper and rearrange this material in a logical, sensible order.

You will get from this a sense of harmony and rightness which will give you enthusiasm and confidence when you start the actual writing of your report.

Night Club Probe Causes Job Loss

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—City Attorney Olavi Hendrickson has resigned his $17,500-a-year post, saying he was sorry if his eight-hour stay in a night club embarrassed the city.

Hendrickson, 46, said he was at the club to collect information about legality of its operation.

"I understand I may have been over-zealous — over-enthusiastic," he told the commissioners Monday.

Hendrickson and an aide left a $72 unpaid bill at the club, but they said the management had refused to let them pay it.

Hoax Cuts Down School Attendance

WEBB CITY, Mo. (AP)—City schools were open Tuesday but fewer than half the 1,520 pupils showed up.

Someone—apparently a boy with a deep voice—called radio and television stations and announced the school would be closed because of a six-inch snow. The caller impersonated Fred Daugherty, high school principal.

The announcement, made on 8 a.m. newscasts, even confused teachers at the four grade schools where many students were sent home after reporting for classes.

U.S. Delegates Tell Woes At Border Congress Talks

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP)—After two days of listening to Mexico's troubles, U.S. delegates to an interparliamentary meeting here are pointing out that the United States has problems too.

Mexican senators and deputies opened the meeting, first such in history, by reciting their nation's economic and social woes. They urged the United States to cut tariffs, ease trade regulations, make loans, and help Mexico in other ways.

U.S. Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., called a meeting Tuesday of the 21 other U.S. senators and representatives attending the meeting and urged them to take the offensive in a friendly way.

Mansfield suggested that they point out that the United States also has unemployment, a critical flow of dollars abroad and other major economic and social problems.

When Mexican deputy Manuel Yanez Ruis urged a U.S. tariff policy favorable to his country's lead and zinc, Mansfield replied that many U.S. miners are unemployed and that unemployment through the United States is the highest since 1940.

Mexican Senator Francisco Velasco Curiel complained that U.S. firms operating retail, manufac-

Wire Silences Musical Phone

NEW YORK (AP)—The telephone company has muted its mysterious music box in the Criminal Courts Building.

A bit of wire splicing cut off the sweet melodies that had been sneaking into the coin box phone from a worn-out wire that pipes music to restaurants.

Word had spread far and wide that the phone emitted music when someone picked up the receiver, and that a conversation had orchestral accompaniment when a dime was dropped in the box.

It seemed that everybody wanted to get into the act Tuesday—after the show was over.

Calls came in on the press room's silenced phenomenon from as far away as California. Frustrated callers expressed disappointment that the music was gone.

The reporters finally got tired of explaining how come, so the receiver was removed from the hook.

DEAR ABBY

KEEP SAYING NO

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school student who makes straight A's. My problem is I am well liked by my teachers but not by my classmates. The reason: When people ask to copy my homework I tell them I don't mind helping them with something they cannot understand, but I don't see why I should spend three or four hours on homework and then hand it over for someone to copy. They call me stuck-up and selfish. How can I keep up my work and my friends, too?

DEAR SELFISH: "Copying" homework is dishonest, and he who hands over homework for copying is just as guilty as the copier. Keep on saying "No." The "friends" you lose because you refuse to cheat are not worth having.

DEAR ABBY: This month marks our tenth wedding anniversary.

Nearly Armless License Okayed

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A county court has ruled that a man with no right arm and only part of his left arm should be entitled to a driver's license.

The license of Joseph Piurkowsky, 45, of Johnstown, was suspended by Pennsylvania's secretary of revenue following a ruling that all state employees must take a physical examination for a driver's license. Piurkowsky is a bridge foreman for the State Highways Department.

Cambria County Court said Monday the secretary had abused his discretion in suspending the license without investigating the individual problem.

Testimony disclosed that Piurkowsky had driven motor vehicles for 23 years without an accident or traffic violation. He uses no special equipment in the vehicles he drives.

sary. I am 29 and my husband is 33, and we might as well be 80! When I go to kiss him, he tells me he's tired. He has no reason to be tired, Abby. He has a job where he sits all day. (He drives a cab.) We have two children. I keep myself neat and clean, am a good housekeeper and hold down a part-time job. And what's more, I still get whistled at when I walk down the street. What is a young wife supposed to do with a husband who is old at 33?

DEAR NEGLECTED: Maybe he is tired. (Driving a cab is no breeze.) But something else must be troubling him. He has either physical or mental problems he is not sharing with you. If you love this man, show your interest in HIM (not yourself) by insisting that he get a physical check-up and talk his troubles over with you.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "Silver Blonde" may be right in certain areas, but not in Alaska. It's not what you HAVE BEEN, it's what you ARE that counts. In Alaska, it's "no questions asked." If a person wants you to know about his past, he will tell you. When I find the girl I am looking for, I won't ask where she came from or what she was. Age, religion, divorces, fat or thin—I won't care. It's how she treats me that will count. This is not my own opinion. I have asked several other men up here about it and they all agree with me. All except one young punk who hasn't grown up yet. But he will, if he stays in this country and lives through it.

Sincerely,
A.C. FROM ANCHORAGE

Braceros Caught In Labor Dispute

CALEXICO, Calif. (AP)—Through the chill darkness a swelling stream of shadows shuffled. Their destination: A ravine called "the hole" near the city dump.

For up to three hours they waited, silent, watchful and shivering beneath their sombreros. There were hundreds. Then the buses came.

By then it was light. As they drove off some could see their homes 200 yards away—adobe and jerry-built board shacks with backyard privies and TV aerials, on rutted hard-baked streets lined with broken fences. They saw their wives outside scrubbing clothes.

It wasn't far. Only a high security fence stood between. The rolled barbed wire on top looked like a child's practice scrawl, miles long.

There was Mexico, here the United States. They found little work there; here they sometimes found it. And they welcomed their 90 cents an hour and got up at 3 a.m.—or earlier—to make sure they'd get a chance. A week's work would net them over $30.

They're the day workers—insecure, scrambling, often hungry—the lettuce hands, cabbage pickers, ditch men, stitchers, cotton choppers, crop thinners, field packers and short-handled-hoe slingers.

Now they're pawns. A conflict between powerful social forces flamed around these uneducated men and boys. They're the braceros.

On one side: Organized labor, backed by the AFL-CIO.

On the other: About 121 producers of 80 per cent of the United States' winter lettuce crop.

The unions' aim: A foothold in an all-out drive to organize all the nation's farm workers—biggest unorganized working bloc left. The number is fluid, may range to 2 1/2 or 3 million. A quarter million are in California.

The battlefield: The lush Imperial Valley—what union forces hope is the soft underbelly of American agriculture; a fertile 25-mile-square flatland rimmed by mountains. It drowns in the desert sun between the Salton Sea and Mexico. It's a land that grows immense quantities of lettuce, cotton, alfalfa, cabbage and other crops.

The attack isn't new; it has gone on for 30 years. Always before, growers staved off the labor organizers, sometimes accepting a crop loss in the process.

This time labor's big guns are turned on the valley. Organizers are well-financed—they've spent at least $200,000 so far. The lettuce is ripe and would soon spoil unpicked. Last year preliminary skirmishes raged in northern California around cherry, pear, peach, tomato and grape harvests.

Union strategy: Hit the farmers when it hurts most. Knock out their use of braceros one way or another; cut field crews so those remaining can call the tune. Until April it'll be the lettuce harvest—and some smaller ones—here. In mid-May the cycle will start again, with cherries in northern California.

Grower strategy: Refuse to accept the unions as representative of the workers, and contend the farm industry isn't suitable for unionizing. Fight for the right to use braceros—in the courts and elsewhere.

Precedents set here will be highly significant elsewhere. Both sides know it.

I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me. (Isaiah 6:8.)

Our Fences Need Mending

Another reminder from the south that our fences need mending is contained in the election of Alfredo Palacios to the Argentine Senate. He was running into opposition to President Arturo Frondizi's candidate and polled 308,000 votes. Moreover, Palacios is a critic of the United States. In fact, the president's man, incumbent Armando Turano, ran third with 240,000 votes compared to 301,000 for the second man, Nicholas Romano of the People's Radical party, a liberal center group. We are properly concerned about the Castro situation in Cuba with its overtones of Communism. But if our immediate policy in this matter is to be one of containment in hope that sore will eventually heal itself, or yield to hemispheric pressures, we had better take a look at our progress toward containment.

This latest development in Argentina doesn't reflect a hopeless situation, but it does remind us anew that an urgent order of business is the mending of our relations with our neighbors to the south.

Urgency Of State Water Activity

The answer to federal encroachment in the development of water resources is the exercise of state responsibility. This is the way Marvin Nichols, chairman of the Texas Water Development Board, sums up the situation.

In an address to the Interstate Conference on Water Problems held recently in Washington, he expressed the conviction that development of water resources was best accomplished at the lowest governmental level, i. e. the localities and the state. He hastened to observe that timidity, lethargy and short-sightedness of states in assuming the initiative in long-range planning is creating a climate, if not a vacuum, into which the federal government is moving steadily. The pattern has been set plainly, for the federal government is no longer restricting its scope to the function of food control and navigation. Frequently if subterfuge is necessary to make propositions more palatable, these are resorted to. Our own general region has two prime examples of the inclusion of irrigation in water allocations in order to qualify the project, when in truth and in fact little or no irrigation is intended. In one case, the irrigation allocation is in the form of effluent from disposal plants. This simply illustrates the militancy of the federal advance.

Nichols said that in his experiences states were relatively unorganized, they had indulged only in minor coordination, with few exceptions (California notably) they had failed to lay cash on the barrel head, and had adopted a general policy of hat-in-hand while waiting uncertainty for something to happen.

This plainly calls for preparation of long-range state plans and financing and construction of projects over and above the ability of local interests to do so. Mr. Nichols declared. This is the answer rather than a statement of water policy by the various agencies, for there can be no clear-cut, definitive policy affecting water other than to develop water resources at the earliest possible date.

David Lawrence Popularity Is A Fickle Thing

WASHINGTON — Where does President Kennedy stand today in popularity throughout the country?

Many people who didn't vote for him are saying nice things about him. Their comment is that his television appearances thus far have made a good impression and that his statements on public policy have been restrained, cautious and prudent.

Indeed, while it is hazardous always to predict what a public opinion poll on the popularity of a president will show in the future, it wouldn't be surprising to see the Kennedy percentage go up into the 70's or even the 80's. It will be recalled, however, that in the early days of his first administration, President Truman reached a figure of 87 per cent—an all-time high for a president—only to drop to an all-time low of 23 per cent in November 1951.

This writer recalls that in the spring of 1945 the late Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary and a former newspaperman of experience, said privately that he was puzzled by the seeming lack of criticism and that things "look too good to be true." This often happens in what is described as the "honeymoon" period. Even President William Howard Taft was thrilled by it in 1909, only to find himself defeated three and a half years later.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY got the votes of approximately half the American people last November. Presumably he has retained that support and needs only to make some inroads in the other half. Apparently he now has made some substantial gains there.

But the ups and downs of popularity polls show that, while public opinion isn't exactly fickle, it reacts sharply to the things that might be called "irregular." Thus the Truman administration was hurt by the scandals that cropped up in various departments of the government and, though Mr. Truman personally wasn't in any way involved, the episodes nevertheless did turn public opinion away from him and helped bring about the defeat of the Democratic party in 1952.

Anything that touches integrity is a delicate issue, which quickly influences the voters. The public doesn't like political fixing or political chicanery. One of the main reasons for Dwight Eisenhower's almost unbroken popularity—averaged 66 per cent throughout his two administrations—was his aloofness from politics. He was for such a long time in the military service that he didn't have a chance to learn the wiles of politics. In fact, his environment and training led him to shun politics. He suffered some defeats in Congress because he didn't understand the art of "playing politics," but, on the whole, the country approved of him as a man who put the nation's interest above all else—even political gain.

ALREADY WHATEVER criticism has been heard about President Kennedy is that he is a practical politician who will make members of Congress "toe the mark, or else." If it should turn out that all the high-sounding and noble phrases of recent speeches are surface virtues, and that underneath is a political administration of the type from which the country has suffered in big cities like Boston, New York and Chicago, the popularity of Mr. Kennedy would drop precipitately. There was, indeed, some raising of eyebrows when he put his brother in the Cabinet, but fortunately for him that same brother is a competent young man who is likely to do a good job if he can only suppress his natural instinct and affinity for being in on political operations.

On the whole, President Kennedy has made an auspicious start. He has surprised many conservatives by his disinclination to propose radical policies, though some of the reports from his numerous "task forces" are as theoretical as some of the ideas the new deal "brain trust" brought forth—and equally unrealistic.

CERTAINLY ON WORLD policy, the new President has made a favorable impression: thus far at home and abroad. The real test will, of course, come when elegantly phrased principles have to be implemented by necessarily harsh decisions.

The European governments are in a receptive mood and will try to co-operate with the new administration here. There's a chance for dynamic leadership, and if world affairs show a turn for the better after these many years of steadily increasing gains for the Communists, the American people will send the popularity poll a lot of percentage points for President Kennedy. Conversely, any impression that the Communists are being appeased—and there are some signs already that could be ominous—will in due time bring an adverse trend in the public-opinion polls.

Body Found

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Dewitt D. Phillips Jr. was 15 years old in 1937 when he solemnly placed the body of his pet turtle in a box, put it on a rafter in a neighbor's attic and left this note:

"If this corpse should be found please notify me. Or in case this is found later than 2037 please notify Dewitt D. Phillips III."

Twenty-three years later, Z. C. Hubay, remodeling the house, found the turtle's skeleton and contacted Phillips, now a doctor.

Phillips had no recollection of the turtle but he said, "I must have done it." As for Dewitt III, the doctor isn't married yet.

James Marlow Kennedy Is His Own Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—How does President Kennedy look after less than three weeks in office?

If he follows the course of his first 20 days, you can expect this:

1. His is going to be a middle-of-the-road administration. It will be more liberal than conservative but it will shun extremes.
2. He will be an extremely active president. He already has poured out proposals to get the economy moving.

3. In foreign affairs he will be firm, non-belligerent, imaginative and human. He will try to do business quietly, without playing to the grandstand.

4. HE WILL be very political-minded in dealing with Congress,

Hal Boyle The Scribe Hits 50

NEW YORK (AP)—Help! I am on the verge of being 50 years old.

When a glance at the calendar told me that this month I'd reach the half-century mark, at first I simply couldn't believe it. Then as the inescapable certainty dawned on me that it was only too true, I felt a sense of indignation. What angered me most was seeing strangers laughing and joking as I passed them on the street.

What kind of dull clods were they? How could they smile during a month in which one of their fellow creatures—even if they did, not know him—was turning 50?

Well, that's human nature for you. This feeling of resentment was succeeded by one of numb horror. Where had the last 10 years gone? Why wasn't it only yesterday that Father Time had pushed me, kicking and screaming, past my 40th milestone?

I had decided then that a man's 40th birthday was the worst moment in his life. Life begins at 40? I was sure that what began at 40 was second childhood—and in a way it does. (It is at least another adolescence, and any adolescence is trying, even one without pimples.)

How quickly the decade since I was 40 had fled on antelope feet. And so little to show for its passage! That is one of the hardest facts to adjust to in middle age: The days often seem endless, but the years go by like railway cars in the night.

And now I stand on the edge of 50. Just keep your chin up—and it'll happen to you. If you're lucky.

The puzzlement still endures, but I am no longer resentful or horrified. After all, you can't whip time.

And in a way time has changed me very little. I was born bald, fat and howling at the world's injustice. Fifty years later that still describes me about as well as anything.

There is also one tremendous consolation denied to many my age. The first day I saw on earth is still alive at 73, although her hair is now almost as white as the snow that fell outside our home the stormy day she bore me back in 1911.

She knows I am a birthday fighter, and as usual she'll send me a card and a scrawled note of advice:

"Son, don't struggle so hard against what has to be put up with. When will you ever learn to sit loosely in the saddle of life?"

"She'll also know—whatever I think of turning 50—that I am still deeply grateful for our first meeting, and every year we've shared, together or apart, since then.

A really elderly gentleman of 55 I know told me: "My boy, you are just entering the true golden years. They hold priceless rewards you have never had a chance to enjoy until now."

"Tell me about those rewards," I asked.

"Tomorrow," he promised.

"Right now I'm on my way to see the doctor about my arthritis. It's killing me."

Oh, well.

Never laugh at anyone reaching 50. Just keep your chin up—and it'll happen to you. If you're lucky.

unlike President Eisenhower who showed distaste for politics and kept hands off Congress.

5. He'll be the boss in his administration.

Perhaps the best example of his middle-road attitude is in his proposal to raise the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.25. He could have suggested boosting it to $1.25 in one crack. That would have meant trouble with Congress, maybe no raise at all.

So he asked only for $1.15 this year—which is far as the Eisenhower administration would go—and $1.25 two years from now.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's activity was limited to a wheel-chair. President Harry S. Truman got around in the usual, predictable way without mingling with people much. Dwight D. Eisenhower, except for golf, stayed rather alone in the White House.

KENNEDY HAS hopped all over Washington: To a late movie; to friends' homes for dinner or a party; to the State Department to sit in on conferences.

He has been firm with the Russians in foreign affairs—too firm, they think—but has said nothing deliberately to irritate them.

He has made it clear he wants to deal with them quietly, has offered to cooperate with them on earth and in space. But he isn't rushing toward them.

He and his aides are studying the problems—particularly disarmament and nuclear testing—in the hope of finding answers, perhaps new ones, as he said.

Self-interest will be involved in American foreign policy, but Kennedy hasn't used it as a flag. Indications are that Kennedy will be the boss in his administration, even if he has to slap down some of his own people to prove it.

When his ambassador to the United Nations, Adlai E. Stevenson, guessed out loud Kennedy would be glad to meet with Premier Khrushchev if he comes here, the White House quickly, crisply said Stevenson talked for himself.

Kennedy is not delegating authority as Eisenhower did with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams. There is no White House job similar to Adams'.

Around The Rim Fodder From Ye Olde Mailbag

Ye olde mail bag turns up a multiplicity of items, some of them interesting. About 95 per cent goes in the wastebasket, three per cent concerns the day's business, one per cent has to do with personal matters, .999 per cent helps clutter up the desk on the premise it will be read later, and .0001 per cent is helpful in filling up a column, like so:

THE BERLIN Illustrated was originated four score years ago and suspended after Hitler corrupted it for his own purposes. Now it has been resumed and one of the 200,000 copies of the special first issue beamed to the U.S. has found its way to our desk. The thesis is that Berlin is the pivotal issue and place between Democracy and Communism, therefore Berlin is worth whatever investment is required to sustain it.

The magazine does a superb job of telling its story. Perhaps the most compelling is the report on Berlin as the most effective crack in the dike between the two worlds. In the past 15 years, 34 million people have voted with their feet by leaving everything they had in Communist East Germany to become refugees in free West Germany. Aside from dealing a telling propaganda blow to the Reds, this migration is bleeding off the younger people and leaving an older population, with the problems that implies, in East Germany.

THE SAN MARCOS Vacation Association would like me and my family to come down for an expense-paid weekend to show off the vacation wonders of the area, including such things as Aquarena (world's only submarine theatre, etc.), wonder cave inspiring scenery such as the Devil's Backbone and the hill country, the San Marcos River and the state's greatest spring, etc. That's nice of them, but not necessary. I'm well aware that it's pretty and pleasant down that way. Give 'em credit for promoting.

A RELEASE FROM the embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics reports on "progress," but one paragraph complains that "many regions and territories of the Russian federation made poor use of the possibilities of increasing farm production. The output was less in 1960 than the figure outlined in the 7-year plan. It goes on to list a dozen territories and regions which stumped their toasters and means that the "Sovietian SSR tolerated big shortcomings and mistakes in the guidance of agriculture..." You can lead a horse to water, and you can tell a Russian peasant...

CATASTROPHES (accidents in which five or more people are killed) claimed 1,400 lives last year, about the same as the year before. There were eight major catastrophes (25 or more deaths) accounting for 450 deaths. The worst single disaster was the New York mid-air collision which took 134 lives, the greatest in aviation history.

SOMEDAY CITIES may have moving sidewalks to encourage downtown shopping. Houston has had a 230-foot long moving sidewalk in use for six years, carrying pedestrians 114 feet across Buffalo Bayou up a steep incline to a main entrance of the Houston Coliseum. B. F. Goodrich, which furnished the sidewalk, maintains that it is scarcely worn after all these years of traffic.

THE NATIONAL SAFETY Council reports that if all the traffic deaths last year had occurred in one place, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. (pop. 38,330) would have been wiped out. Had they been reading my column about a year ago they could have read the same thing about Hickory County.

Woman Who Has Everything, As Of Now

Every time I settle back in the commonplace belief that I am really the woman who has everything—a gold toothpick, a camel saddle, a huge chiffon handkerchief edged in mink, an electric brandy warmer, an espresso coffee infernal machine—American industry and ingenuity prove me wrong.

But surely with the arrival yesterday of a sterling silver measuring cup, I am the woman who has everything for at least the next five minutes. Think of it! A sterling silver measuring cup to gussy up the kitchen and put the old glass one out to pasture.

I had never even dreamed of such elegance in the culinary department until the cup, the gift of a departing house guest, arrived yesterday from a fancy jewelry store. It had never occurred to me that in my lifetime I would advance from a tin measuring cup, through aluminum, then glass and finally to silver. Shades of William Jennings Bryan and the Affluent Society!

BUT EVEN A moment's reflection is enough to convince anyone that today's foremost status symbol is not a plush parlor but a 22-carat kitchen. We are living in the age of the dream kitchen, the cost of whose ritzy equipment would have built a three-bedroom house before World War II.

It isn't enough today, as in the past, that decorator color schemes fancy up the bedrooms, living, dining, family rooms. The new "jewel tones" in matching refrigerator, stove, wall oven, sink, clothes washer and dryer, dish warmer, freezer, counter tops and cabinets in the kitchen are a must in any home worthy the name.

Anyone who has priced this matching kitchen equipment knows full well why its colors are described as "jewel tones." But, by current standards, it is better to skimp in any room in the house than the kitchen, modelled as it is on the Peacock Throne.

Holmes Alexander What We Need Is Fewer Laws

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's 5-vote victory in adding three new members, and supposedly more liberality, to the House Rules Committee will have the effect, if any, of more legislation in the 87th Congress.

But is this good? Immediately after the vote in the House was taken, I crossed to the Senate and reached there in time to hear a debate which, by sheer dramaturgy of chance, commented upon the idea that more legislation means good legislation—commented upon very sourly.

SENATOR TOM DODD (D., Conn.), who ordinarily knows better, was asking for more money for an investigation of Juvenile Delinquency. He contended that if Congress would like the allotment from $150,000 to $178,000, the subcommittee could do more work, hold more hearings, publish more findings, bring more publicity to the subject, and pass more laws.

Oh, brother! Let's admit that crime among children is a dreadful and disgraceful thing in our country. FBI Director Hoover has lately commented—again—upon the enormity and depravity of violent acts by persons in the second decade of their lives. President Kennedy touched the subject in his State of the Union address. But is there any cure for adolescent viciousness in Federal law?

THE RECORD WOULD say there is not. Senator Dodd admitted that since the Senate investigation of this ghoulish subject commenced eleven years ago, the cases in criminal courts had annually mounted till in 1959 there were 738,000 such cases. Senator Ellender (D., La.) recalled that it all began when Ex-Senator Hendrickson (R., N. J.) asked for a mere $75,000 to investigate on the argument that an informed Congress would pass wise and salutary laws, that an informed public would rise up to destroy this curse. Since then $1,400,000 has been spent and we are asking for more.

The Senate does not have a snug little

IN THE PAST DECADE I cannot remember picking up a single issue of any woman's or household magazine—either chic or chain store—that has not had at least one article, magnificently illustrated in stereophonic color, on the new kitchen. That's the way the wind and the money blows these days.

And breathes there a woman with soul so dead she has not drooled over these fantasy kitchens with push buttons to match? (Who was it that opined women will have had it the day the buttons begin to push back?)

Today I do not envy my best friend her diamonds or her Matisse or even her naturally curly hair. But I'd give my eyelids for a duplicate of her new French-blue kitchen with its touch of scarlet for contrast.

SO IT IS SCANTY wonder that jewelers are getting in on the kitchen kick. Who else is better equipped to furnish these resplendent retreats? From the silver measuring cup it is only a logical step to sterling mixing bowls, sink strainers and canisters.

Indeed, with the kitchen now on the gold standard, is sterling quite good enough? We shall know by Christmas 1961. Just to prove that I am not intimidated by the sterling standard, I went out to my kitchen, a mongrel mess by current reckoning, and employed the new silver measuring cup in the concoction of an angel food cake. What else, with such shining equipment? It proved just as reliable as the old tin, aluminum and glass versions.

Now all I have to do is save my money and trading stamps to acquire a kitchen of matching magnificence. Ingenuity does it! I must keep in mind that the mink-edged hanky eventually yielded enough fur for a mink shako. Great oaks from little acorns, etc.

I look at my latest gift for the woman who has everything and realize that it is indeed the cup that cheers.

unit, as did the House till now, which could block the snowballing of useless legislation before it became too big to handle. Only the Keeper of all secrets knows how many bad bills and resolutions Rules Committee Chairman Howard Smith has mercifully smothered. But—now!

Well, now the deluge! I am not going to believe that Mr. Smith, a wily and taciturn master of parliaments, is at the end of his resourcefulness. He remains as chairman of a packed committee, the victim of a mink-edged notion that anything bigger is better. Mr. Smith will find ways to help the country survive the inundation, but he will hardly be able to practice the debt flood control of past years.

MEANWHILE, SOMEBODY would perform a public service by going through the annual litter of new laws, and by trying to discern which ones even approximate the hyperbolic significance claimed for them by their sponsors and boosters. I will never believe, for example, that "the world" breathes easier, or will last any longer, because the House Rules Committee has been enlarged. Yet, a few days ago, this was the contention. Last year's hardest-fought bill, the Civil Rights Act, which put our Federal Government into the business of protecting the right-to-vote, was undoubtedly effective in causing more Negroes to vote in 1960. But whether it improved the quality of the American electorate, mollified racial strife, did anything that wasn't evolving within the States, would be hard to believe and impossible to prove.

Voltaire's dictum that society is better served by making two blades of grass to grow in place of one than by all the frantic activity of statesmen has modern application. Setd us the man who can cause fewer laws to pass! The country has need of him.

House Of Dior Faces Dilemma Of Designers

By NADENE WALKER
PARIS (AP) — When Marc Bohan accepted the job of designing the spring fashion collection for Christian Dior, he found himself in the middle of what might be called "Dior's dilemma."

His youthful predecessor, Yves Saint-Laurent, provoked the issue by getting a very early discharge from the Army following a nervous collapse. Will he take his job back from Bohan after a single season? French law assures him, like any draftsman, that he can if he chooses.

Showing no signs of any nervous collapse, which might be understandable in the circumstances, Bohan firmly refuses any comment on his future plans. If Monsieur Saint-Laurent returns, French newspapers have already tagged 34-year-old Bohan as "Sympathique," which means they like him.

LIKES KNEE SHOW
The small, elegant, dark-haired Frenchman who wears Dior's mantle for at least this season is already a veteran of 15 years in Paris high fashion, for he began his career at 19 with Piguet, continuing with Molyneux, Patou and finally Dior.

He has revealed that he is in favor of short skirts—"We had enough trouble getting them accepted, and besides, my wife likes them!" — but is "personally against brutal style revolutions."

Modes, he says, "should surprise but not astonish." Loose waistlines, the biggest style news in the past ten years in his estimation, "will still last a long time."

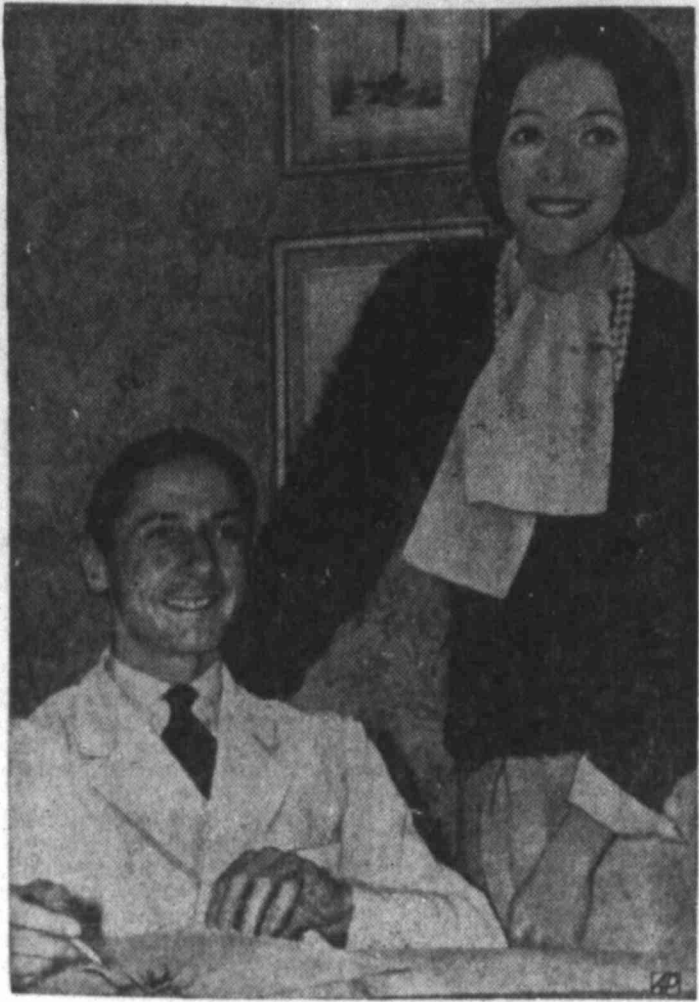

Proving his personal courage, Bohan has come out strongly in favor of "Frenchwomen" and against certain current fads.

"The Frenchwoman," he declares, "has a gift (which foreigners do not always share) of personalizing what she wears. Good taste distinguishes Frenchwomen and assures that Paris will always be Paris."

He says, "I appreciate American women's taste for novelty and style in general." He speaks a little English, likes American mannequins, prefers "very thin types."

NO SPIT CURLS
He does not hesitate to turn thumbs down on these current rages: black-rimmed eyes, gold lame, spit-curls and boots for women. They've all been run into the ground since last season, he comments tersely.

His pet outfit in his debut Dior collection is the casual sports suit, even carried over for evening wear in dressy materials. Black and blue are his favored colors, and he dislikes green, but does not bar it absolutely from his show.

Future Unknown

Marc Bohan, posing here with his star model "Kouka," took Yves Saint-Laurent's place as head designer at Dior. But Saint-Laurent now out of the French Army, can legally reclaim his job.

Married at 24 and the father of a six-year-old daughter, Anne-Marie, Bohan defends the privacy of his family to the extent of declining to reveal his wife's first name to interviewers. He has grudgingly admitted that it was his seamstress mother, now dead, who first interested him in fashion designing.

His father, two brothers and two sisters are a subject he considers purely personal and private.

Away from work, theater and home decorating are his two great interests.

Unlike Saint-Laurent, who is shy to the point of seeming wooden in interviews, Bohan enjoys the social side of his job at Dior's. With disarming charm, he admits that he was scared stiff at the thought of his opening January 26, when the Dior salons will be usual packed from the galleries to the bottom of the stairs with eager spectators.

But he started sketching from that debut from the day — September 28—when he was named

Miss York Is Honoree At Shower

A lingerie shower was a pre-nuptial honor for Nina York Tuesday afternoon when her coworkers at Howard County Foundation Hospital and Clinic entertained with a Coke party after work hours.

Miss York, daughter of Mrs. E. W. York, 1512 Sunset, and the late Mr. York, is to be married Feb. 18 to Bob Jack Barnes, son of Roy Barnes, Old San Angelo Highway, and the late Mrs. Barnes.

The wedding will take place in the home of the bride's mother.

The table, which held dainties and dips of various types, was decorated with pink tulips; napkins repeated the shade, and Cokes were served from a silver container.

The group gathered in the lounge of the hospital, where gifts were presented to the honoree.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

All of the town and surrounding countryside looks a mite undressed after that lovely mantle of white that covered it for a day and a night. Unaccustomed as we are to having that much snow for more than 12 hours at a time, activities planned were called to a halt. That is, a halt came to everything except the school children who never had so much fun taking advantage of the closed schools and the big snowfall. While most of them never got more than two blocks from home, all of them with the exception of those who were ill, were out throwing snowballs, riding sleds of all varieties, or just walking through the frosty fall.

Out our way D. BENNETT and BERT SHIVE had time to fashion a sled that would carry at least three children at a time. For more than an hour they pulled the sled around the block behind a car with some of the grownups taking a spin occasionally. MAJ. JAMES FRY took his little Frys and some others on the block over to "thrill hill" on Parkway and they all took turns sliding down on a discarded airplane canopy which served the purpose well until it cracked and let the riders bump bare on the hard spots. As the morning wore on Tuesday, another crowd gathered at the incline but the sun took its toll and soon left a rather soggy slide area.

MRS. H. H. LUCAS, sister of MRS. TOMMY HUTTO, called Tuesday morning from Alexandria, La., to say she and her little son, Mike, had arrived safely home. They had left here Monday morning after a visit in the Hutto home.

Facts, Fancies Make Valentine's Day Lore

Nobody really knows who started Valentine's Day. But as long as love exists, the day devoted to it will be acclaimed by poets and plain people all over the world. It is thought to have no real connection with St. Valentine, a religious sense, and yet it is celebrated on his feast day.

Some say St. Valentine's Day stems from an ancient Roman festival dedicated to Lupercus, the god in charge of keeping the wolf from the door. At the feast of Lupercalia, young people drew game partners for the coming year and this probably started the whole idea of a day devoted to selecting a mate.

In the days of elegant King Charles II, ladies participated in yearly Valentine lotteries and received gifts from the gentlemen whose names they drew.

Historians say that one year a certain Miss Stuart got the Duke of Richmond's name and received a jewel from him worth $4,000. The following year, failing to draw a royal partner, she got a ring worth only $1,500.

The practical and frugal historian-diarist, Samuel Pepys, participated in these lotteries but gave only green hose and garters to his fair lady.

The romantic French, as might be expected, elevated Valentine writing to an art, while the conservative English published a practical guide to composing these verses. Valentines were first sent in America by parents to their children.

At one time, young girls pinned bay leaves to their pillows on the eve of the holiday. Then, after eating an egg stuffed with salt, they hoped to dream of their sweethearts. This custom undoubtedly caused many a memorable nightmare, but it was believed that marriage would take place if the dream were sweet.

Owls and sparrows have played parts in the day devoted to lovers. Couples were supposed to stalk and catch these birds before sunrise. Some authorities say that the owl stood for wisdom and the sparrow for modesty, the proper ingredients for perfect wedded bliss.

No one knows if any searching beau or belle ever caught his bird, but most of them usually caught a mate.

Mrs. Carr Speaker For Junior Gardeners

Mrs. Doris Carr discussed the subject, "The Magic of Vegetables", for members of the Junior Garden Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Obie Bristow.

The speaker, who follows the signs of the moon in planting, told the group that root vegetables, such as beets, carrots, potatoes, should be planted in the dark of the moon; those that produce above ground do better when planted in the light of the moon, Mrs. Carr explained.

In preparing the soil for vegetable planting, Mrs. Carr cautioned the group to spade the ground and spread barnyard fertilizer on it in the fall; she also advised the purchase of good seed.

Specific dates given by Mrs. Carr were Good Friday for planting beans, yellow squash, beets and carrots, if the moon is right; peas should be planted in January, she stated, and lettuce in February.

Plant potatoes around Feb. 14, again, if the moon is right, and start tomato seed now in paper cups to be transplanted later. Radishes should be planted every two weeks after the ground is warm, the speaker said.

Bride-Elect Is Shower Honoree

Joann Durham, bride-elect of Dean Blake, was honored Monday evening with a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. Ward Hall, 1700 Runnels.

Mrs. Hall greeted the guests who were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Fern Durham, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. M. Blake.

For the occasion, Miss Durham chose a dress of printed polished cotton. She was presented a corsage of white carnations by the hostess.

Linda Hall was at the guest register, and Beverly Dobbins displayed the gifts.

Mrs. Tom Conway, aunt of the bride, presided at the refreshment table which was covered with a white satin cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue and white baby mums accented with silver leaves and blue tapers. Carrying out the bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white were blue napkins inscribed with "Joann and Dean" in silver. Appointments were of silver.

Von Braun Says Space Race Clouded

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — It no longer is possible to determine who is ahead in the U.S.-Soviet space race, says a top U.S. scientist.

Dr. Werner von Braun said Tuesday night that U.S. space efforts were "so diversified and complex" that it was impossible to make such sweeping conclusions.

He said the Soviets had been able to make deeper probes into space and had put up bigger rockets and bigger payloads, but that the United States had made "six times as many firsts."

Martinez Gets Life Term For Sterling City Shooting

STERLING CITY — Mike Martinez, 17, who was released from the Gatesville School For Boys, without explanation, after shooting a filling station attendant here in 1957, was given a life sentence Tuesday.

The 11 man and one woman jury deliberated two hours and two minutes after hearing the case, following a plea of guilty by Martinez who was 13 years old at the time of the shooting.

Martinez, a Big Spring youth, and three other boys were arrested in San Angelo following the shooting when their car overturned after they ran through a roadblock. They were in a stolen car and said they were on their way to Mexico.

The four boys attempted to hold up Taylor Garrett at his station, and when he resisted, Martinez said he fired six bullets into the man at close range. The boy in a written statement, said he shot when Taylor grabbed him around the neck. He blamed a beer-

Upgrader Test Called Failure

DALLAS (AP)—A test made for the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) showed that the controversial Benson upgrader will not produce commercial uranium ore, a witness testified in Federal Court here Tuesday.

Clark Martin of the Colorado School of Mines Research Foundation said that tests of John Milton Addison's Benson upgrader was able to upgrade the ore less than one-half times.

Addison and five co-defendants are on trial on charges of using the mails to defraud, conspiracy, and violation of the securities regulations.

Earlier witnesses testified that Addison told prospective lenders that his "revolutionary" upgrader would produce the ore at an $86,000 daily rate upgrading the ore seven times.

During examination by U. S. Atty. W. B. West III, Martin testified that the Benson upgrader lost 37 per cent of the good ore during the processing.

Martin said he made the tests for the SEC in April, 1960, and that Miles White, one of the co-defendants in the case, assured him that the Benson upgrader was in adjustment. Martin said that White operated the upgrader during the tests.

West said that the government is expected to rest its case today. The trial is now in its third week.

Friend Quotes Edwards On Gift To ACC

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP)—A longtime friend of the late William M. Edwards Tuesday quoted Edwards as saying he was going to give his 65 1/2-section ranch to a hospital or college and not to the government or relatives.

Frank Hinde of Fort Stockton testified in the million dollar lawsuit in which Abilene Christian College seeks to regain title to and possession of the ranch in Pecos and Terrell counties.

Hinde said that later Edwards told him he thought he would give the ranch to ACC and told him of the transaction in 1954 before it was announced publicly.

Hinde also declared that he believed Edwards was of sound mind and that he had a "mind of his own."

Edwards transferred the ranch to ACC by two deeds and a contract. Relatives are challenging these documents and are claiming that Edwards was of unsound mind or that he was unduly influenced.

BUSINESS OP. D EXCLUSIVE PAINT FRANCHISE

One of America's fastest growing paint firms, Mary Carter Paint Company, is offering exclusive single or multiple unit retail franchises to qualified individuals. Over 300 stores are already operating successfully in 35 states. The success of our franchise is due largely to specific detail advantages: No franchise fee - FREE delivery service - unlimited 50-50 co-op that is not predicated on the purchases - a skeleton stock inventory of only $5,450.00 is permitted - an exclusive franchise is granted - only 5% of your capital is in non saleable inventory (fixtures, equipment) - there are no hidden costs. Your total investment including operating capital is a total of $6,500.00. A turnover of 8 to 10 times per year is average for our retail branches.

Our unique continuous FREE PAINT OFFER is a key factor in producing this exceptional volume. Consequently, immediate profits is commonplace with a Mary Carter franchise.

The promotional success of this advertising agent enables you to operate a low overhead, cash, super-market-type operation. We share your advertising costs, 50-50 based on what you want to spend - no tie in with purchases or percentage of sales.

Dull TV Season Comes Up With 2 Lively Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This dull and imitated television season has been notable to date for the paucity and shoddy quality of its dramatic offerings.

But Tuesday night things perked up considerably. There were two special dramatic programs, and each was excellent entertainment.

For this double helping, many thanks to NBC. First there was "Time Remembered," a 90-minute TV adaptation of a Broadway adaptation of a Jean Anouilh play.

Its plot in outline surely reads like a tragic psychiatric case history, but it was a lunatic and very funny comedy. (That is not redundant: I've been watching unfunny comedies for months.)

Then there was an hour-long playlet called "A String of Beads," based loosely on a Somerset Maugham short story, but actually a morality tale dressed in chic Park Avenue clothing. It will probably make young Jane Fonda, in her TV debut, the discovery of the year.

"Time Remembered" was wild, sophisticated, whimsical and based on a thoroughly macabre subject. The plot concerns the efforts of the Duchess of Port au Bronx to shock her son out of his long grief over the unfortunate death of his beloved. The lady, a famous ballerina, had swept Prince Albert off his feet, only to die three days later by accidentally strangling herself while making a particularly dramatic gesture with a scarf.

B'way's New 'Faust' Shines

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—The eyes have it in Broadway's new "Faust."

Brought to the stage of the City Center Tuesday night by an acting company from Germany, the production of Goethe's massive classic glistens with episodes of visual excitement.

In other respects, the specimen of international cultural exchange is an arduous test of audience enthusiasm. The philosophic depths of what is more a poem than a play appeared to receive respectful rather than enthusiastic attention from first nighters.

"Faust" is being performed by the Deutsches Schauspielhaus Company of Hamburg, the first troupe to come this way from the Rhine country since Max Reinhardt's expedition in the 1920s.

The director and acting star of the ensemble is Gustaf Grundgens. Besides conceiving the drama with imaginative emphasis on stabs of spectacle, Grundgens enacts the role of Mephistopheles with versatile dexterity.

As Faust, the man who preferred sensual delight to future bliss, Will Quadflieg displayed a strange detachment. Only after the premiere was it disclosed that the actor had had a neck abscess operated upon a few hours previously.

That Curve Ball Really Does Curve, Science Meeting Told

By The Associated Press

Curve balls, thunder, copper atoms and spring trouble coming are subjects for science at work: CURVE BALL

What makes a spinning ball—in baseball, table tennis or golf—curve?

A side force, something like a cross wind, develops to push the ball aside, scientists reported at the American Physical Society meeting.

A baseball pitched at moderate speed, spinning 30 revolutions a second, can move up to 1½ feet off course by the time it crosses the plate. A slow pitch curves more than a fast one, since it spends more time curving.

Experts say there is scientific evidence for a sharp-breaking pitch—a baseball taking a sudden change of direction.

MEASURE AN ATOM

Copper atoms behave as if they were tiny round balls—so small it would take 99½ million of them lined up to make an inch.

How do physicists know? They use an electric plating device to measure the amount of charge it takes to deposit a certain amount of copper on an electrode.

If you buy a pound of copper, they say, you are buying 4,300,000,000,000,000,000,000 (43 a and 23 zeros) copper atoms.

ANTAOLOGY OF THUNDER

Why does thunder rumble when heard from a distance?

The rumble is partially an echo of the original thunder clap, reflected back from a layer of ice, water and water vapor in the thundercloud itself, a researcher reports.

And what causes the thunder claps heard at short distances? The branching of a lightning bolt. Each point of the branch produces a single explosion heard as a thunderclap.

YOU CAN'T DO IT HERE

You can't deduct state cigarette taxes on your 1960 income tax return.

Ben M. Hawkins, administrative officer of the local Internal Revenue Service office, said state tax on cigarettes in Oklahoma is deductible.

But in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, it is not.

BAD NEWS

Trouble is gathering underneath all that winter snow. Crab grass sprouts better after a hard winter.

Somewhat the severe frost seems to add extra zip to the germination of crab grass seeds, report horticulturists for the Dow Chemical Co. Crab grass dies every fall, but leaves an enormous crop of seeds to sprout in the spring.

The seeds also benefit from the frost break-up of the soil and the added moisture from heavy snows. Crab grass killers prevent new seeds from germinating.

SMALLEST PACKAGE

Capsules just 1-25,000th of an inch in diameter have been made by National Cash Register Co.

The tiny plastic-coated packages are about as big as one of the smaller bacteria.

One use for the tiny plastic capsules is as a replacement for carbon paper. A colorless dye is bound up in small plastic packages. A solution of capsules is used to coat a sheet of copy paper with an invisible film. When a typewriter or pencil crushes a number of the capsules, the dye is released, reacting with another chemical to create color and leave a visible mark or letter on the paper.
