

Nervous? Who's Nervous?

Judi Shields takes another bite out of her badly-chewed pencil as she awaits the arrival of the professor with those terror-inspiring sheets of paper known as exams. But Judi needn't be nervous, says Dr. Nason; action is the enemy of fear, so make two plans of action, one before exam time, the other after you've arrived and looked at the questions. That, he says, will kill your fear.

YOU CAN GET BETTER GRADES

Oh Come Now, Tests Need Not Make You THAT Jittery

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., with HARRY KARNS

Do tests and exams make you nervous?

If not, you are an exception.

Recently, one of our friends, a college graduate, told us about a dream he has recurrently. He is sitting in a classroom whose blackboards fill the wall space from floor to ceiling. The blackboards are covered with exam questions.

Suddenly the teacher appears at the front of the classroom and announces:

"You have two more minutes in which to finish."

Our friend looks down at his paper and discovers that, except for his name in the upper right hand corner, it is blank. He hasn't answered a single question!

The best way to overcome the fitters at exam time is to go into the classroom with a plan of action. Fears creep into idle minds. But if you fill your mind with positive plans for taking the test, there will be no room left for anxiety.

"I really get buck fever when I go in to take an exam," Jack told us. "That first 10 minutes is just wasted. It takes me so long to get calmed down, I can't finish exams of ordinary length in the given time."

Here is what we told him: Enter the classroom with a definite plan of action.

As soon as you get a look at the list of questions, make out a tentative time budget. This is action, and action is an enemy of fear. After making out the time budget, start using it. Read the first question. Answer it. Discard it from mind. Read the second, answer it, and go on to the third. Forget the problems you have worked—concentrate on the one you are working. This is a guaranteed way of preventing mental tensions that tie you up and make you forget things you know as well as your own name.

Students tell us that often in the midst of an exam, without warning, something happens to cause a partial or complete blackout of knowledge. As a result, the last part of the exam is left out entirely or is very poorly done. We know of no remedy except to stop working, take a deep breath, relax your muscles for a moment, and then make an entirely fresh start.

TACKLING THE ESSAY TYPE Fill your mind with a new plan. Remind yourself:

"I am going to read the next problem carefully. I am going to give it full attention. I am not going to stand for any interference by silly thoughts."

Let yourself know who is boss. The details of the plan you use depend on the type of exam.

Let's say you enter the classroom and discover that you are required to take an essay-type exam.

1. Check the number of questions. Decide about how much time you should allow for each. 2. Now go back to the first question. Forget everything else. Give that first question your undivided attention. What does it ask you to do? Compare? Define? Explain? Discuss? Outline? List? Each of these words means something different. Make sure you understand the differences.

3. When you are sure you know what is wanted, write down the answer as clearly and completely as you can. It may help you to use a piece of scratch paper to organize your ideas before making your final draft. 4. Leave the first question as soon as you decently can. Leave a space between this answer and the next answer in case you should want to add something later on.

5. Forget the first question and concentrate on the second. Follow the same procedure as before. In the same way, complete all the answers. You are now ready, if time allows, to go back over your paper and correct it. Look for incomplete sentences, incorrect punctuation, misspelled words, grammatical errors. If you have some time left, go through the exam for the third time. This time ask yourself: "Is there any more precise information I can add?" Think of your textbook, your notebooks, and of the lectures. If something comes to mind, use the space you left for additional sentences.

He looked up No. 62 on a question sheet and grew red in the face. "I wouldn't answer that question the way the professor demands even though I failed the course." This emotion had cost him 10 grade points. You have to approach exams with an objective point of view. An exam in a subject containing controversial ideas isn't necessarily a test of your opinion. It is not an argument between you and the professor. It is a test of how well you understand what the professor and the text have been saying. Tomorrow: More about how to make good grades on exams. (Copyright 1961, Better Grades)

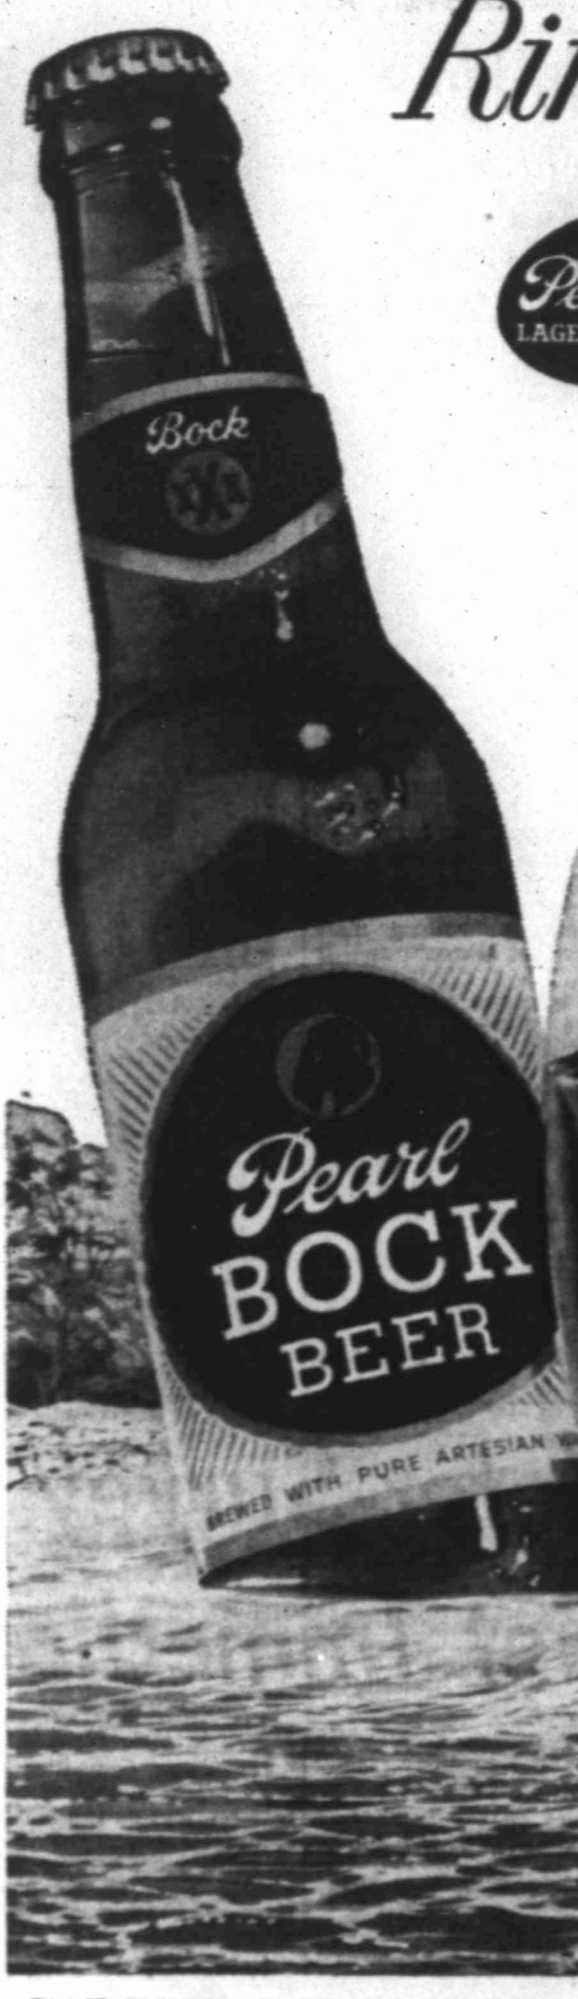

Joe brought us an answer sheet for a test in graduate education. We spotted a sequence of wrong answers in which he had missed 11 out of 12. We sensed that the first question of this series must have troubled Joe mightily. "What happened on No. 62?" we asked him.

Kennedy Pumping Money To Combat Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, hitting back at those who contend there is no recession, is pumping more federal money into the economy to combat the "very serious problem of unemployment." The President sized up the problem in those terms at his news conference Wednesday night while thrusting at Republican criticism of his efforts to spur business and reduce joblessness.

And the President, again with Soviet Union clearly in mind, asserted that any attempt to destroy the United Nations in the Congo crisis "is a blow aimed directly at the independence and security of every nation, large and small." He pledged the United States "will continue to support the United Nations' presence in the Congo," and said a U. N. pull-out there—such as demanded by the Soviet Union—would add up to disaster.

CONCERNED: Kennedy said the country is "most concerned about the very serious problem of unemployment." There are, he said, more than 5.5 million Americans who want work and can't find a job. Alluding to Congress, the President said he hopes there will be action on his legislative program as soon as possible.

SMALL BUSINESS: Kennedy's news conference—his fourth since taking office—was broadcast live on nationwide television and radio. He was solemn for the most part, but on a couple of occasions he joined in laughter touched off by questions or by his replies.

Hitting at Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, the President said he hopes his recommendations on how to spur the economy will have more impact than "a snowflake on the Potomac." Dirksen has evaluated the impact of Kennedy's State of the Union message in those words.

Florida Girl Is Miss REA

DALLAS (AP)—A 17-year-old Florida girl Wednesday night was named Miss Rural Electrification of 1961. The selection of Miss Tillie Cynthia Smith, representing the Talquin Electric Co-Op at Quincy, Fla., was held in connection with the 19th annual meeting of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

BURKE—Kennedy said he now is "happier than ever" about his policy of requiring advance clearance of national defense statements and speeches made by government officials. The President made that remark—and drew another round of laughter—in discussing sharp comment on Soviet-American relations in an interview granted by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations.

MISCALCULATED: Cuba—Obviously alluding to the Eisenhower administration, Kennedy said this government probably miscalculated in assessing the Castro regime in Cuba. "But," he added, "I have no evidence that anyone did it out of any motive but to serve the United States."

Soviet Union—Despite current tension over the Congo, Kennedy expressed hope "real progress can be made this year" toward improvement of Soviet-American relations. He called anew for cooperation in peaceful ventures rather than "differing on matters which carry with them such hazards."

El Salvador—Kennedy announced the United States has extended diplomatic recognition to the three-week-old government of El Salvador.

Green River Electric Co-Op at Owensboro, Ky., was second runner-up.

Mrs. Groves Tells Lensmen Of Modelling

Mrs. John Groves was special guest at the Big Spring Freelance Photographers Guild's regular meeting held in the John H. Lees service club at Webb AFB recently. She told of the basic principles used in modelling for photography and gave a step-by-step demonstration of the correct posture for posing. "Relaxation" is a must in this type of modelling, Mrs. Groves told the group. Modelling highlighted the meeting. The models were Misses Karla Nell Rodgers and Connie Cortez. Another feature of the meeting was a one-man exhibit of a picture story. This was another "first" for the freelancers and T. Sgt. Bob Johnston's story of a cat and dog playing together served as "guest pig" for this exhibit which will be a regular feature at future meetings. Jet Colorama, a film from Eastman Kodak showing the hotel set team, the Blue Angels, in flight, will be the main attraction of next week's meeting commencing in the service club Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Matched Money

MEXICO CITY (AP)—For every peso invested by the government in promoting tourism, private sources will match the figure, the president of the Mexican Travel Association said Wednesday. The money should not be handled by the government itself, but by a foundation in which both official and private interests would be represented, President Carlos Ibarquien said.

TV Debate Looms In Senate Race

By The Associated Press. A television debate in the campaign for the U.S. Senate seat loomed this mid-week as the number of candidates in the April 4 special election set a new Texas-size record.

The field Wednesday swelled to 30—one more than the previous high of 29 in a similar 1941 election—when Curtis E. Hill, a Dallas attorney, paid his $50 fee and said he would campaign on using American "know how" instead of money to defeat communism.

The television debate was prompted by a challenge from U.S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth to John Tower, the lone Republican in the race. Tower promptly accepted. Wright, in his telegram to Tower, said he would particularly like to debate "the notion that Texans must feel bound to choose a doctrinaire all-or-nothing approach to any of the serious problems confronting us today."

He noted that Tower had said Texans have a "clear choice between a pure liberal and a pure conservative" in choosing between Maury Maverick Jr. and Tower.

"The challenge comes as a result of the poll released over the weekend which showed that I am running in front and that Jim is the tail-end," Tower said. "As for debating Jim Wright I will be happy to do so anytime or anywhere that it can be arranged to suit our respective schedules."

Wright also broadened the challenge to include the men he described as the four other major contenders, interim Sen. William A. Blakley, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, State Sen. Henry Gonzalez and Maverick of San Antonio.

There was no immediate response from the four men named by Wright.

Singer Has Appendix Out

LONDON (AP)—Eddie Fisher was reported getting along "quite well" today after emergency removal of his appendix at the London Clinic.

Surgery began half an hour after the singer was admitted to the expensive private hospital Wednesday night.

Fisher and his movie star wife, Elizabeth Taylor, had been celebrating the pre-Lenten carnival season in Munich with friends when stomach pains began bothering him Wednesday. Fisher and Miss Taylor canceled a ski holiday in Switzerland and flew back to London, where she is to film the movie "Cleopatra."

Fisher's doctor said there were no complications and he should be out of the hospital in four or five days.

Rules Against Polygamy

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, West Highway 80

According to Monday's paper, a missionary just returned from Africa, advocates that the churches must modify the rule against polygamy; otherwise Christianity will make very little progress in Africa.

The church we are affiliated with has not made a rule against polygamy. If it had made the rule, it could alter the rule.

The Lord has made a rule against this sin, by requiring that a man have only one wife. See Mat. 19:5; 1 Cor. 7:2; 1 Tim. 3:2; Eph. 5:23 and 4:4.

Denominations may make rules; but the church of Christ, being undenominational and having no creed book but the Bible, does not make church rules. It must teach and observe what the Bible says about marriage without compromise (II Jno. 9-11; Gal. 1:7, 8; Rev. 22:18, 19). May it ever do so! More on this subject tomorrow. Tonight at 3:00 West Highway 80, Don Tarbet of Shaw Low, Arizona will preach at our mid-week service. 7:30. Welcome. —Adv.

DR. YOUNG Hypnosis Is Useful Tool

There is nothing to fear about hypnosis, but it is no plaything, Dr. Paul C. Young advised the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting. Later, the club joined in an experimentation in the phenomenon.

Dr. Young, chief psychologist at the Big Spring State Hospital, was introduced by Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent. Dr. Young was one of the pioneers in the field of age regression research in hypnosis. Since doing graduate work at Harvard two score years ago, he has been researching in the general field of hypnosis.

Nobody knows exactly what hypnosis is, he explained, although it may be likened to a disassociated state, like sleep or a dream, or playing a role, getting into a groove, or becoming pliable to suggestion. Intense engrossment in a book, or staring at distant lights from a plane or car may produce a mild form of self-hypnosis.

It was in 1780 that Mesmer began to experiment with what he called a relation of human beings to heavenly bodies.

"He theorized that there was a magnetic fluid that he had more of than anyone else," said Dr. Young, "and by touching of his subjects, he could throw them into fits. Curiously, sometimes they were helped by it."

From this mystic beginning, hypnosis fell into the hands of charlatans and entertainers, thus giving it a bad name consonant with spiritualism, etc.

Actually hypnosis is harmless, if used by responsible, capable practitioners. In many instances it can be helpful.

Most anybody could be a hypnotist or could be hypnotized. But nobody should use hypnotism unless he has a good reason or use for it. In the hands of untrained people, it could be dangerous by releasing the conscious inhibitions of latently hysterical or psychotic people.

There is no infallible criteria to tell if a person actually has been hypnotized, and some people do actually fake a hypnotic state, said Dr. Young. It is a question which the individual will have to honestly answer himself. Much of the time there can be no doubt about it, however, for subjects can be into states of paralysis, amnesia or delusion.

This he proceeded to prove by an experiment in which the membership participated as a group. Most grew drowsy and a few drifted into a light stage of hypnosis. Among these some were induced into a deeper state to demonstrate an amnesia and paralysis (arms that would not bend at the elbow).

Milton Barnett was program chairman for the day.

it's apple pie, all right

It looks good. Maybe it is good. But what kind of ingredients went into it? Were the apples carefully selected and properly flavored? Was a good shortening used? Was it baked under healthful conditions? Will the pie taste just as good as it looks? Unless you know the answers to these questions, you're rightfully reluctant to put your money on the counter. These days, nobody has the time to go to the bakery to reassure himself about such things. So you rely on the reputation of the baker — because he has sufficient pride in his product to put his label on it. And sufficient confidence in its quality to invest his dollars to advertise it. Because his product is good, he sells it in large quantities, and you buy it at a reasonable price. Whether it's pie or hi-fi—toy trains or tires—carpets or candy —if the manufacturer believes in his product enough, he is willing to pay to tell you about it, so that you can decide for yourself. And that's what advertising is all about.

DEAR ABBY

JUST TELL HER

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed to tell you how old I am. Let's just say I am old enough to know better. I've been a widower for six years and have grandchildren. I got myself involved with a divorcee who is determined to marry me. I am NOT RICH. In fact, she can buy and sell me many times. We saw a lot of each other last year and then I realized I couldn't take her in large doses. She acts like she owns me. New Year's Eve she had a big party. She'd bought herself a great big diamond and told everybody I gave it to her. Weddings usually follow engagements. She is pressuring me. How do I get out of this?

dividend, delivered long after they thought the production department had closed down, was the greatest blessing of all.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what you think of women who wear tight, short skirts and insist on crossing their legs at every opportunity? Their skirts like up and it makes every refined gentleman want to leave the room. It's gotten so I am afraid to look at a woman when she sits down any more. I hate common women and the way they dress, and cross their legs to boot, makes them all look common. P. S. Since you are a woman, I don't ever expect to see this print, but I'd sure like to.

DEAR OLD FOOL: Look her straight in the eye, apologize for taking so much of her time and tell her the "engagement," which was never on, is now off. Finally, don't date her again or you'll find yourself in the same old corner.

ONE GENTLEMAN HEARD FROM

DEAR GENTLEMAN: You'll get no argument from me because I know you're right.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE IN KOREA": DO NOT MARRY HER! If it is really "love," it will last until you get back to The States and are able to think it over.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend who is 48 and thinks she is pregnant. She is quite sure but not positive. She had her last child when she was 43. Her worry is that people will make fun of her for having a child at that age. Does this happen to many women? I would like to be able to tell her it does, so she'll feel better. Thank you.

Organization of a Junior Toastmasters Club is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the YMCA, Everett Taylor, program director, announced today.

Boys and girls of high school age are invited to participate. Object of the club is to help individuals learn through experience how to express themselves orally and to constructively criticize a speech.

Sgt. Richard M. Clark and Milford M. Thompson will be the advisors for the group. A definite meeting time and all other matters relative to a club will be brought up for a decision by the group at the initial meeting, said Taylor. Advance registrations may be made at the YMCA.

Hard To Tell Who's Leading Space Race

By ALTON BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer -CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—In 40 months, 45 satellites have soared up successfully from the United States and Soviet Russia.

The Soviets put up 11, this country 34. The Soviet Union leads in spectacular, impressive firsts and in weights.

The reach toward Venus opened a new fourth phase of Soviet space age efforts. Until now, the Soviet Union has been bunched her shots in triple plays, each concerned with a different aspect or region of space.

HIT MOON Then in 1959, she reached for the moon, hitting it, photographing its back side, and sending one probe past the moon to become the first little man-made planet of the sun.

The United States later sent two probes into orbit around the sun, one of them radiating back space findings over a record distance of 22 1/2 million miles.

VENUS PROBE Last weekend, the Soviets opened the interplanetary phase, with the new feat of launching a Venus probe from space itself.

VENUS PROBE Last weekend, the Soviets opened the interplanetary phase, with the new feat of launching a Venus probe from space itself.

VENUS PROBE Last weekend, the Soviets opened the interplanetary phase, with the new feat of launching a Venus probe from space itself.

Some Western experts believe the Soviets embarked in 1956 or earlier on a plan to send man into space. This would be at least two years ahead of the start of the U.S. program.

SIGN OF INTENT Sputnik II, carrying the dog Laika in November 1957, is taken as one sign of such intent.

Limited in weight by smaller rockets, but using ingenious miniaturized equipment, the American program has been more diversified, and more broadly based.

The United States clearly leads, most experts say, in gleaming new scientific knowledge from and about space, and in cultivating space for valuable practical applications.

Women's Dorm At H-SU To Be Dedicated

ABILENE—Blanche Lange Hall, women's dormitory at Hardin-Simmons University, will be dedicated Saturday in honor of Mrs. Fred M. Lange of Dallas.

A native of Overton, Mrs. Lange has been active in civic work of Dallas and has had leading roles in Women's Forum, Women of Rotary, Women's Group of the Dallas Council on World Affairs.

Courier satellites are preparing the way for a space network to relay civilian telephone calls, TV and radio programs, and military commands.

NAVIGATION FIXES Transit satellites augur artificial stars supplying exquisitely accurate navigational fixes for ships and planes.

U.S. satellites discovered the Van Allen radiation belts. U.S. satellites have explored more vigorously and keenly the earth's magnetic and gravitational fields.

FEWER REPORTS The Soviets have published far fewer reports on their findings, he adds. Since their moon shots, they appear to have lost momentum in studying aspects of space near earth.

HE FEELS THE Soviets have attracted fewer scientists with original and imaginative ideas to their space program—perhaps because such scientists are more desperately needed in other fields.

First in developing great booster rockets, the Soviet Union can lift up far heavier payloads, and can equip satellites with excellent guidance controls.

Next: space plans ahead.

Benita Smith Named Furr's Top Checker

Benita Smith, wife of electrician Bert Smith Jr. and mother of a 16-year-old high school daughter, of Big Spring, is Furr's Super Markets "Checker - of - the - Year."

She won these honors this week, being selected by a panel of judges of Furr's, Inc. The announcement came as the culmination of a four-week long contest among 59 Furr's super markets in West Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, and Arizona, with more than 500 checkers eligible for the coveted award. She survived the first test which included voting from customers at her store, a male and a female selected in each of the 59 units. Next she stepped up to the division winners, two in each of 6 zones. Last step of the competition was the naming of the sole winner of the entire chain of stores.

Mrs. Smith, a small blonde, has been with Furr's in Big Spring for two years. Her husband is employed with Selman Oil Company. Her daughter, Danah, is a junior in high school. In addition to the number of votes received at her store, she was judged by her store manager, Conrad Davis, and supervisor, Pen Bailey, and upon accuracy based on check-up reports and volume of her cash register. Too, her theme "Why I Like My Job," was judged extremely good.

Prizes won by Mrs. Smith include the grand prize of a $100 stereophonic phonograph, a Scotch plaid car bag, and a transistor radio set.

Ahead she faces competition in this southwest region of five states. Should she be named as this winner, she will be one of ten persons to attend the Super Market Institute convention in Chicago in May, and there be judged by a New York panel of men and women judges, plus representatives of the SMI and National Cash Register Company, sponsors of the nation-wide competition. The top winner will be named Checker - of - the - Year for all super markets of the United States, win a trip to Hawaii, plus many other gifts, too, in addition to trips to Miami.

Serna, charged with DWI, who was docketed for trial today will not be tried—a major state witness is not available and the prosecution cannot go to bat. Wayne Burns, county attorney, said. He added that it was possible the case will be dismissed.

James G. Freeman, charged with DWI, is slated to go to trial Friday. The jury panel was excused to report back Friday morning.

Daniel J. Munoz, charged with DWI, who had announced Monday his intention to plead guilty but failed to do so at that session, reported Wednesday afternoon. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and serve three days in the county jail.

GARDEN TALK

Wood Ashes May Be Helpful To Your Soils

Mrs. Ida Harrison on Birdwell Lane asks: "Are wood ashes from the fireplace beneficial to plants and trees? Also, what fertilizer should one use on flower beds?"

Wood ashes contain two important elements that increase the fertility of most soils, potash and lime. In West Texas our soils are heavy on lime, so additional lime may be of little value. Potash, however, is often very helpful where fruit trees or shade trees are grown. They are also helpful on roses and hydrangeas at the rate of about a half pound to the rose or hydrangea plant. If you prefer to spread them over a large area the rate of four to six pounds of ashes to 100 square feet of space may be used.

To get best results from ashes from the fireplace they should be spread in the spring when the plants first begin to grow. Spreading them in the winter gives them time to leach out the potash and lime good is left. They should be stored in a dry place. Here in our area addition of sulphur in equal parts will help counteract the alkali effect of the ashes. This is important in our alkaline soils and especially so where the caliche is near the surface.

A combination of wood ashes and well rotted compost or manure works well. With fresh manure the ashes cause the manure to release its nitrogen too rapidly and may cause burning of the plants. It also helps to break down compost or manures so they become more quickly available to the plants.

Never let the ashes fall in little hills. Too heavy a concentration may result in damage to the plants it is intended to help. You can mix ashes with compost to hasten rotting. They also have been used in colonial times to make lye for the processing of grease into soap. So, with a bit of caution, perhaps they may do as a fertilizer even here in our alkaline soils.

For best fertilizers in flower beds, that is a subject that will take at least one other column to answer. For answers to your garden questions, write to Bruce Frazier in care of the Herald.

Stays Young

Madge Kennedy, who was a Broadway star in the '20s, enjoys working in TV and motion pictures. "It keeps you young to be active," she says.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Sees Difference In Old, New Make-up

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Madge Kennedy, who started her career in silent pictures, has seen Hollywood grow from a small village into the cinema capital of the world.

"I still can't get over the wonderful things that are done with make-up today," she told me as we chatted set-side at 20th Century-Fox. "You sit in a chair while they work on you for 45 minutes and when they are finished, you don't look made up at all. When I think back to the heavy grease paint we used to smear on our faces and have it baked in by those hot lights, it's a wonder our skins weren't ruined."

It was obvious that Miss Kennedy had managed very well, and I told her so.

"I had it drilled into me that I must remove every trace of make-up or I would have a terrible skin problem."

"The deep pore cleansers that are on the market today save so much time. They are light and come off more easily than heavy cold creams, but," Madge revealed, "I never use paper on my face. I think a turkish towel does a better job."

"Another thing, in my day we tried to keep a pink and white complexion and so we stayed out of the sun. I think that all this basking in the sun is harmful to the skin. It dries it out and makes it leathery. I like to get a light tan, but when I sun, I always use my favorite oil afterward. It's just plain old-fashioned castor oil. I rub it under my eyes to keep the lines away, and I even use it on my eyelids to keep it soft. I've been told that many of the best cosmetic houses use a castor oil base in their creams."

Members Honored With Gifts

For holding a perfect attendance record through the year, 1960, three members of the Ladies Society, BofLFAE, received gifts from the organization. Mrs. Cleo Richardson presented awards to Mrs. T. L. Bradford, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. C. L. Kirkland.

Announcement was made of the union meeting of the BofLFAE and the women's groups to be held in Austin in June. Headquarters will be in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Mrs. Alfred Moody was named drill captain; appointed as a telephone committee were Mrs. Felix Jarrett and Mrs. Sidney Woods. The door prize went to Mrs. C. B. Sullivan.

Refreshments were served to 10 by hostesses, Mrs. M. E. Anderson, Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. D. C. Pyle.

Hostesses for the March 15 meeting will be Mrs. O. T. Arnold, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. George Mims.

Plants, Seeds Mix With Plentiful Produce In Stores

By The Associated Press

Texas strawberries and celery started into trade channels this week. Good movement of onion and cabbage plants and seed potatoes gave further evidence of approaching spring, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Celery from other areas has been in excellent supply for some time. This item rates a good-buy tag among fresh vegetables. Cabbage and carrots continue in abundance. Watch, also, for specials on greens and green onions, iceberg lettuce, potatoes, turnabout potatoes and purple-top turnips, both bunched and loose.

Shipments of Texas grapefruit and oranges are large and regular. Both are among best fruit buys this week. Wholesale prices on apples dropped slightly. You'll find an especial abundance of wineapples and Rome beauties. Avocados and bananas are priced reasonably.

Higher price tags are on snap beans, carrots, celery, tomatoes, and Texas oranges. Mexican cantaloupes are some lower but still high.

Egg prices are fairly stable at lower levels. Broiler-fryers continue moderately priced. Lenten observers can look to dry beans and peanut products as good sources of vegetable protein. Both are plentiful. Red meats and seafoods continue in good supply.

I'm Hungry!

Is probably a familiar saying around the Jim Calmes home. Here Charlotte and Mike Calmes wait for that after-school snack as their mother casts the latticed cherry pie, for which she gives the recipe below.

Mrs. Jim Calmes Busy As Homemaker, Mother

Mrs. Jim Calmes, 3234 Drexel, is the busy mother of two children, Charlotte, who is a second grader, and Mike, who is almost seven, and a first grader. Both attend Washington school.

Mrs. Calmes is a member of the Junior Woman's Forum and a mid-morning bridge club. She serves as reporter for the Forum and is a member on the committee of Brownie Troop 92, of which Charlotte is a member. She teaches the second grade group Sunday School Class at First Christian Church and is room mother chairman for Mike's class, taught by Mrs. John Richard Coffey.

Another duty of the busy homemaker is serving on the volunteer council of the state hospital. The Calmes family moved to Big Spring in 1956 and later they moved to Midland where they made their home for over a year before moving back to Big Spring a year ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Calmes are originally from Clinton, Okla., where they attended school together. Mrs. Calmes attended Oklahoma State College in Stillwater.

Listed below are three of the family's favorite recipes. One is

Pin Up Cords

Fasten a snap clothespin upside down on the wall or shelf next to your washing machine. This comes in handy to hold the electric cord off the floor and out of your way.

Strike A Note Of Elegance With Dutch Bavarian Cream

A fancy chocolate dessert that will win compliments from dinner guests is Dutch Bavarian Cream. It tastes just as luscious as it looks, too, because the ingredients are richly delicious—eggs, heavy cream, sugar and instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix.

The mix, which blends instantly with hot or cold milk, is made entirely of fine Holland cocoa and has an extra chocolaty flavor. It's a great favorite of youngsters for beverages and desserts. Home economists at the test kitchen use it to full advantage in this mouth-watering recipe.

DUTCH BAVARIAN CREAM

(Makes 8 servings)
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 tbsps. cold water
4 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix

Patched Parasol

Mend small holes in an umbrella by placing upside down on ironing board. Cut patches from iron-on mending tape the same color as the umbrella and press over the hole with an iron.

unnamed; however, they call it goulash, but Mrs. Calmes says it is more than that. She suggests it for serving several guests and for storing in a home freezer, since she likes foods which can be prepared in advance.

THE GOULASH

Step 1: Boil 1 large package noodles, and drain.
Step 2: Simmer and cook for 10 minutes:
2 onions
Garlic salt or powder
1 green pepper (large)
2 cans (8 oz.) tomato sauce
2 tbsps. fat

Step 3:
Brown 2 pounds ground meat
Salt and pepper
1/4 bottle chili powder
Combine steps one, two and three. Then add:
Corn
18 ripe olives (sliced)
3/4 lb. grated cheese (mild)
Sprinkle 1/2 lb. grated cheddar cheese on top and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

CARAMEL CREAM CAKE

2 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup butter or 1/2 cup margarine and 1/2 cup shortening
1 cup buttermilk
5 eggs
2 tps. vanilla
3 cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. baking powder
4 tps. cocoa
5 tps. strong coffee (liquid)
If margarine and shortening are used, add a pinch of salt.
Cream fat and sugar until light and fluffy. Sift flour, soda, baking powder and cocoa together. Beat eggs separately. Add yolks to butter and sugar mixture and beat. Add dry ingredients alternately with the buttermilk and beat again. Stir in the strong coffee and vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten whites.

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes in an oblong aluminum pan. Makes large cake.

ICING FOR CARAMEL CAKE

1/2 lb. margarine or butter
1 egg yolk
2 tps. cocoa
1 tsp. vanilla
5 or 6 tps. hot coffee (more may be added if needed)
1/2 to 3/4 box powdered sugar
Sift powdered sugar and cocoa. Beat egg yolks and stir in hot coffee and vanilla. Cream butter, cocoa and powdered sugar mixture until light; then add liquid. Beat until soft, puffy and smooth enough to spread on cake.

LATTICED CHERRY PIE

3 cups pitted cherries
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cherry juice
3 tps. flour
2 tps. butter
1 recipe, plain pastry shell (10 inch)
Combine juice, sugar, flour and salt; cook until thick, add butter and pour over cherries in 10-inch pastry-lined pie plate.
Make twisted lattice top crust; flute edge and sprinkle top with sugar and cinnamon.
Bake at 375 degrees for about 45 minutes, or until crust is lightly browned.

constantly until mixture is smooth, thick and coats metal spoon. Add softened gelatine and instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix; stir until gelatine is dissolved and mixture is well blended. Cool until partially set.
Beat whites until stiff but not dry; fold into chocolate mixture; fold in whipped cream.
Pour into 1 1/2-quart mold which has been rinsed with ice water. Chill until firm, about 3 hours.
Unmold just before serving.
Decorate with whipped cream and maraschino cherries.

Coconut Chips

Coconut chips are made from thinly shaved fresh coconut meat that has been roasted at a very low temperature for a couple of hours. The brown skin does not have to be removed from the coconut when preparing this snack.

Cover Tightly

When you open a package of dried apple slices, remove any not used at once to a tightly covered jar to prevent moisture and molding.

Indian Dinner Was Feature In New York

East met West over the banquet table at a dinner given by the American Spice Trade Association in January at the Hotel Astor, New York. The culinary theme was the foods of India, especially the Indian art of spicing.

This cook's tour of India produced many new and exotic delicacies worthy of the glamorous East. Twenty dishes were offered, starting with Samosas (little spiced meat-filled pastry cushions) and ending with a dessert course which would have pampered a maharaja.

This may well mark the beginning of a new trend in American eating. This year's exotic may become next year's coast-to-coast favorite. Our appetite for spices is growing. Never before in the history of American cookery have we been as spice-conscious as we are now, having consumed a record total of 184,659 pounds of spices in 1959. Everywhere we turn, we see more evidence of the new interest in these seasonings.

Many of the recipes served at the Indian dinner can be prepared with the spices most of us already have on well-stocked shelves. Some of the off-trail Indian spices are not as new to our palates as we might think.

Cardamom, grown almost exclusively in India and a favorite spice in Indian cookery, flavors the Danish pastry we eat at our coffee breaks.

Coriander, with hundreds of Indian culinary uses, helps season the great American hot dog. We've tasted fennel seeds in sweet Italian sausage on top of pizza and tumeric in the mustard which goes on the hot dog.

We Americans have a great yen for black pepper, the world's master spice. We actually consume 11,200,000 pounds more a year of black pepper than the Indians themselves!

In short, we've discovered that it's fun to cook with spices and to learn new seasoning subtleties. Since the Indians are past masters at the use of spices, we can learn some of the fundamentals of spice artistry by trying these recipes for dishes served so successfully at the American Spice Trade Association dinner.

CHICKEN CURRY

1/2 cup onion flakes
1-3 cup water
4 tps. shortening or cooking oil
4 tps. ground coriander
1 1/2 tps. ground cumin
1 1/2 tps. powdered mustard
1 1/2 tps. ground tumeric
1 tsp. ground cardamom

1/4 tsp. ground ginger
1/4 tsp. ground red pepper
3 to 4 pounds chicken legs or breasts
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups hot water
1-3 cup evaporated milk or coconut milk
2 tps. fresh lemon juice
Combine onion flakes and the 1-3 cup water. Let stand 5 minutes to soften. Stir and cook, but do not brown, in 2 tablespoons of the shortening 2 minutes.

Mix spices together and add to cooked onion. Add remaining shortening or cooking oil. Stir and cook 1/2 minute. Wash and dry chicken and add to onion and spices. Stir and cook 5 minutes. Add salt and hot water.
Cover and cook 30 minutes. Remove cover and cook 15 minutes or until chicken is tender and water is reduced. Just before serving, add milk.
Cook only until hot.
Do not boil. Add lemon juice. Serve with white rice or rice pilau.
Yield, 6 servings.

SAMOSAS

(Curried Meat Puffs)
2 tps. instant minced onion
2 tps. water
2 tps. butter or margarine
1/4 tsp. garlic powder
1/4 tsp. ground cumin
1/4 tsp. ground ginger
1/4 tsp. cayenne
2 tps. ground coriander seed
1/4 cup chopped fresh tomato
1 1/2 cups finely ground lamb or beef
1 1/2 tps. salt
1/4 cup water
2 tps. fresh lemon juice
Pastry
Egg white, beaten slightly
Soften onion in the 2 tablespoons water. Sauté in butter or margarine. Add spices, stir and cook 1 minute. Add tomatoes, beef or lamb and salt. Stir and cook 2 to 3 minutes. Add salt and water and cook until all liquid is absorbed. Turn out onto a plate to cool.
Roll pastry very thin on a lightly floured board. Cut into circles with a 2 1/2-inch cookie cutter. Brush edges lightly with lightly beaten egg white. Place a rounded 1/2 teaspoon of the mixture in center of each.
Fold over the dough and crimp edges with a fork, being sure they are well sealed.

Fry in hot deep fat (360 F. to 375 F.) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve as an accompaniment to cocktails or tomato juice.
Makes about 60 turnovers.

Bar Cookies Are Easy To Pack When Wrapped

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

For some reason or other, old-fashioned cooks never discovered the virtues of the bar cookie.

Look into cook books published 50 or so years ago and you'll see plenty of recipes for rolled dough from which cookies are cut out. Later rolled cookies gave way to "icebox" variety that can be sliced without rolling out.

Thank goodness the easily made bar cookie did show up. Baked in a shallow pan, these are cut into bars or squares after they come out of the oven. Usually they have delicious flavor, a satisfying cakelike texture and store well.

We're particularly fond of a new recipe for a bar cookie. Made with uncooked prunes and walnuts, they are chewy and flavorful.

The batter that surrounds the fruit and nuts is like sponge cake—it doesn't call for fat. And this recipe takes modern tastes into account. It has less sugar added than one might expect; from the point of view of both flavor and calories, this is all to the good. Because the batter is not overly sweet, the true flavor of the uncooked prunes predominates.

This is a fine cookie to wrap individually and send along in a lunch box or to a youngster at college. Or tote them over to a friend's house some afternoon to enjoy over a cup of tea and a good talk.

PRUNE SPONGE BARS

1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. each baking powder and salt
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 1/4 cups chopped pkg. prunes
1 cup chopped walnuts
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until foamy.
Gradually beat in sugar and vanilla; continue beating until ivory colored.
Fold in flour mixture in two additions; add prunes and walnuts and fold in. Turn into greased 8 by 2 inch pan that has been greased, lined with waxed paper and the paper greased.
Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until top has dull crust and cake tester inserted in center has no particles of batter clinging to it.
Turn out on wire rack; remove paper; turn right side up.
Cut into 16 bars while warm. Store in tightly covered container.

News While It's News

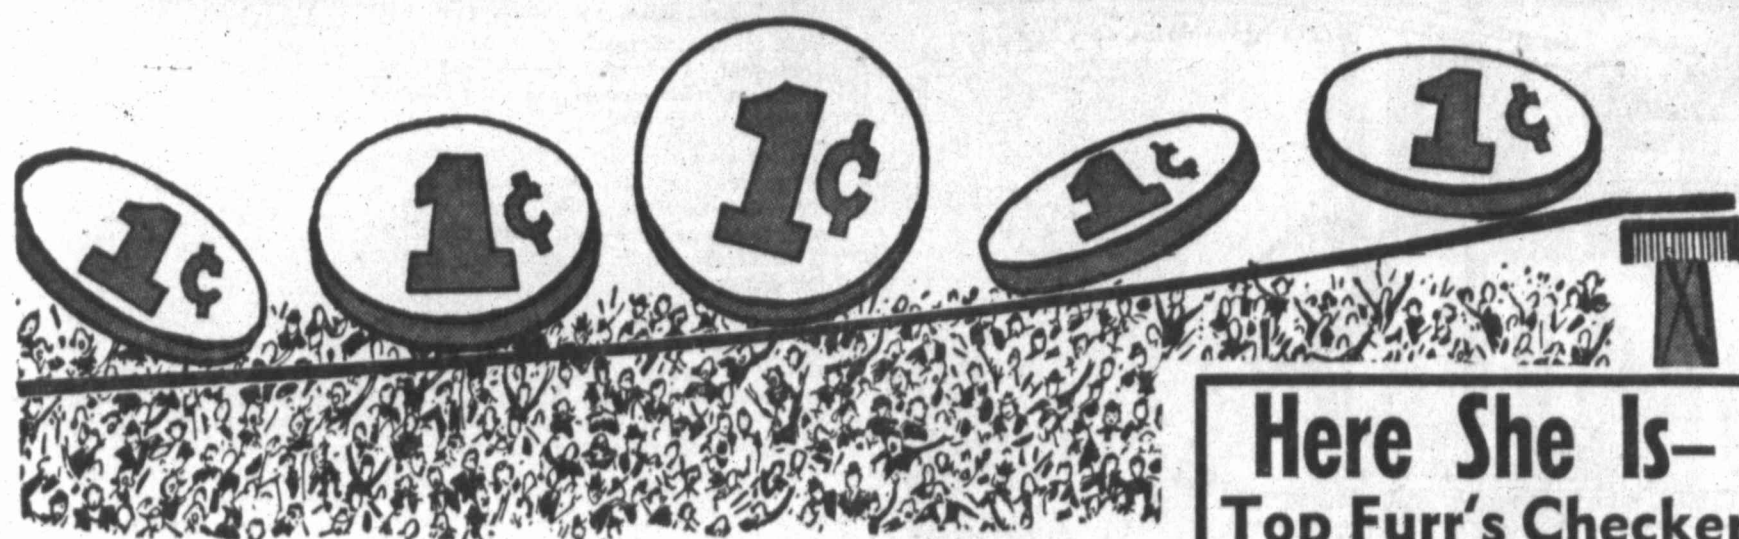

People in the Big Spring area are receiving better news service than ever before—news on the day it's news—no "pre-date" editions—through the special motor routes maintained by The Herald. In the small communities, in the oil camps, on the farms, they're finding in The Herald a newspaper that publishes news of interest to them. West Texas oil, West Texas farming and ranching, West Texas sports, West Texas women's activities, West Texas happenings. That's the reason more and more people on these routes and in this area are saying, "Leave us The Herald."

Where Advertising Pays

This daily delivery, right to area homes, is "money in the bank" for the merchant who uses Herald advertising. No other medium, of any kind, anywhere, can reach the same people who are looking for better values, who want a good place to shop, and who turn to The Herald for their shopping guide. This is real benefit to Big Spring merchants who have a sales story to tell to the people in this area. The rural daily delivery is, of course, in addition to the 68 city route carriers who put The Herald every day right at the door of more than 6,800 Big Spring homes.

Lincoln Death Plot Is Among Week's Offerings

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—A number of regularly scheduled programs will depart from their usual formats during the next few days to give the television viewers a change of pace.

For instance, NBC's Telephone Hour tonight (9-10) was made in Disneyland, features some original music and stars two dancers.

Gene Nelson and Jacques D'Amboise.
"The Lincoln Murder Case," CBS' show of the Month, promises to be the most interesting item in Saturday night's schedule. The drama explores a controversial theory that the assassination of the Civil War president was the fruit of a conspiracy which included some very high federal officials. (9:30-11).

CBS has an interview show, "Washington Conversation" making its bow at noon Sunday. In everything but name, it is "Face the Nation." Meanwhile, the title "Face the Nation" has been given to a public affairs show which alternates on Thursday nights with "CBS Reports." But it has become a debate show (and next Thursday (10-11) will present union leader Walter P. Reuther and Dr. Edward R. Annis arguing about health care for the aged.) Garry Moore is on a brief holiday, and Peter Lawford will fill in for the star Tuesday night (10-11) on the CBS Garry Moore Show.

Star Weary Of Defending Odd Marriage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Shirley MacLaine, wrapped in white mink, sat in the lobby bar of the Hotel Imperial and defended her crazy, mixed-up marriage.

She is weary of doing so. To her there is nothing unusual about having a career in Hollywood and a husband in Tokyo. But others find it strange. A news magazine recently termed her union with Steve Parker as "the oddest marriage in Hollywood." Her reaction to the story was to fling a pie in the face of the magazine's Tokyo correspondent.

"That story made me mad," she exclaimed with fire in her eye. Shirley sees nothing odd in her marriage to Parker. She explained that he was involved in enterprises in Japan while she was working out a Hollywood contract. But she said that their relationship has not suffered, nor has their daughter, Stephanie, 4½.

"I can name you 15 stars in Hollywood who see less of their children than I do," said Shirley. "When I am not working, she is with me all the time. Or when she is here with Steve, she goes with him everywhere, even on business appointments. What other child spends so much time with her father?"

The Parkers' time and fortunes are now intermingled. Shirley is here to stay in "My Geisha," which is being produced and promoted by Steve Parker.

Shirley is hepped up about the geisha routine, having spent some time at the school for geishas in Kyoto.

American women — in fact, women of all other nations—could learn some lessons from the geisha," she remarked. "The average Western person doesn't realize how talented these women are."

"It appalls me that the average Western person thinks of the geisha as a prostitute. She isn't. She performs a very worthwhile function for the tired businessman. She listens to his problems, soothes him and talks to him understandably. Then he is ready to go home to his wife perfectly calm and happy. The wife appreciates this, and often she and the geisha are good friends."

If the system is so ideal, could it then be transported to a western community, say, Westport, Conn.?

"Probably not," Shirley admitted. "because the American woman is not prepared to be any less than monogamous." Including, she could add, an American woman named Mrs. Steve Parker.

Tech's Board Approves New $411,000 Addition

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech's board of directors approved a contract for a $411,000 addition to the Science building and authorized a summer institute for teachers of Spanish in a meeting here Saturday.

The Science addition construction was awarded to Carl Maxey Co. of Lubbock. The three-story wing will house new laboratories and classrooms for physics, biology and geology.

Tech will be one of six U.S. colleges and universities to offer a special institute for elementary and secondary teachers of Spanish.

The program is part of a U.S. effort to improve multilingual capabilities of its citizens. The Tech institute, June 2-July 27, will be financed by a $69,385 grant through the National Defense Education Act.

The Tech Board approved the changing of West Hall from an athletic dormitory to a women's dormitory next September. The change will accommodate 320 more women in the Tech dormitory system.

Tech varsity athletes will be dispersed among other men's dormitories.

Lovelady Speaks Here Thursday

John H. Lovelady, assistant director of field service for the Texas State Teachers Association, will make a report Thursday night to the Howard County Teachers Association on school legislation now pending before the legislature. He will speak at a meeting of the Howard County Association in the auditorium of the new Coahoma High School. The meeting is set for 7 p.m. Russel Howie, Elbow, president of the association has invited all teachers in the area to attend the meeting.

This gathering will be replaced for the meeting which had to be cancelled some days ago due to the bad weather. The original meeting was set for the Howard County Junior College auditorium.
