

Space Age Soon Will Be A Part Of Everyday Life

Editor's Note—In just six months the rocket age has brought us to the threshold of manned space flight. Even more dramatic developments are ahead in the coming decade, as a look at present plans shows. This is the last of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Space age satellites and rockets are speeding along the time when:

You flick on TV, settle back and watch Olympic games, political crises, news events the very moment they are happening half a world away, or out in space.

Lovers still look at the moon—but sometimes with spyglasses in hopes of seeing machines exploring its surface, or signs of men who landed on the moon. News bulletins answer the great mystery whether life exists on Mars, or elsewhere in the solar system.

By radio-telephone, your voice shoots into space and back to a friend in Calcutta, the conversation clear as a bell, the cost of the call likely less than one made today.

Someone you know may know someone whose son has a fascinating job—he's floating in space, helping a great space station out of pre-fabricated materials carried up into that precise orbit by freighter rockets.

ADVANCE WEATHER
You know what the weather will be weeks in advance, to time a golf date or a wedding and know what to wear.

Astronomers harvest a gold mine of knowledge clarifying the origin and fate of the universe and world from a clear-eyed observatory circling above earth's obscuring blanket of air.

Some of these space age dividends could be realities within 5 years, others in 10 or so.

Plans for all of them already are under development. Scientists engineers, industries, technicians engaged in all the complex calculations and proposals as the infant space age rushes toward maturity.

All, and more, are included in a 10-year space plan drawn up last year by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

POLICY QUESTIONS
President Kennedy's administration has not yet spelled out any changes it may make. Great policy questions are involved. For example, whether a network of communications satellites for civilian use should be operated and paid for by government or private industry.

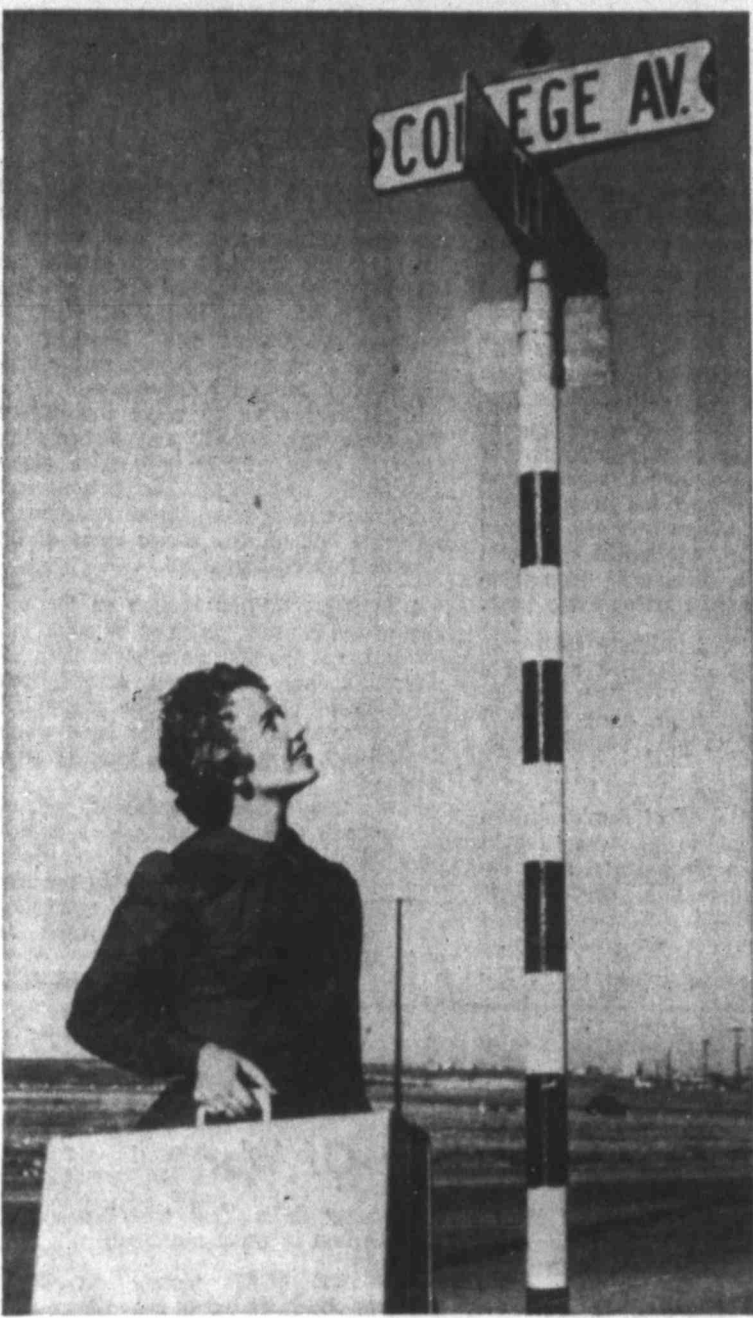

In addition to NASA's ambitious plans, the Air Force, which has launched the majority of successful U.S. satellites to date, is developing satellites for communications, detecting launches of any enemy missiles, and observing military installations around the globe. The Navy is developing transit satellites to give ships, planes and submarines highly reliable "fixes" of their exact location at sea or over land.

Hopefully, this year will see an astronaut orbiting the earth.

This year's schedule also calls for launching the first stage of the huge Saturn rocket, designed to develop 1 1/2 million pounds of thrust, or about double the Soviet Union's present great booster rocket. (The U.S.S.R. undoubtedly also is working on bigger rockets). The Saturn rocket could put a 14-ton satellite into orbit, or land six tons on the moon.

SOLAR STUDY
Also scheduled are a solar observatory to study X-rays and radiation from the sun, and satellites to expand understanding of sun-space-earth relationships.

Terrorists
ALGIERS (AP)—Four bombs of a type generally associated with right-wing counterterrorism exploded Thursday night in widely separated sectors of Algiers, wounding 22 persons.

Which Way?

Penny Jones wants to know which way to go. She's been reading Dr. Nason's articles, the last of which is published today, and she says students need a sense of direction. The best way to attain this sense of direction, he says, is through a how-to-study course as a part of the regular curriculum.

YOU CAN GET BETTER GRADES

Why Not A How-To-Study Course? Students Need It

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., with HARRY KARNIS

This is the last lap of the course.

First, a few words about how to get better grades on problem-solving exams.

And then a proposal for the future.

In problem-solving tests such as those given in math, physics, and similar courses, you should keep three things in mind:

1. Your first concern is that of picking the right process for working the problem.

Read carefully. Be sure you understand the conditions of the problem and what kind of answer is wanted. Think the problem out in words. And keep in mind some of the things we said in a previous chapter about how to solve problems.

2. Your second concern is that of method.

While you work on the main process of the problem, the arithmetic work takes place on the fringe of your thinking space. The harder you concentrate on method, the more errors you are likely to make in the arithmetic.

3. Concern number three, then, is that of eliminating these careless errors.

Obviously, doing a problem-solving test involves more than merely knowing how and when to use your various processes of solution.

Work swiftly. Occupy your thinking space at all times. Go through the test twice.

First, concentrate on method and careful organization of your work on paper.

The second time, put your full attention to checking the arithmetic.

Observers Hope Meeting Fosters Better Relations

OTTAWA (AP)—Next week's talks between President Kennedy and Prime Minister John Diefenbaker will be watched here with unusual attention because of recently impaired relations between the United States and Canada.

Canadians, both inside and outside the government, have expressed hope that Kennedy's invitation to Diefenbaker will become the first step toward a new era of good neighborliness.

While the Canadian prime minister plans to spend only Monday in Washington, the discussions may lead to more detailed talks later.

Canadians seem pleased that Diefenbaker is among the first government chiefs invited for consultations with the new U.S. administration. Some Canadians have felt that the U.S. government tic and your use of algebraic signs.

Here again, we must repeat: You can eliminate mistakes with greater ease if "all" the steps of the problem are arranged "neatly" on the paper.

IT'S ALL "OBVIOUS"

Alex got low grades on math tests because he was smart. He was able to work out two or three steps of a solution in his mind. Only about one-third of the actual steps appeared on the paper. His answers were often wrong because of errors in his numbers. We suggested he try writing out every single step on the paper.

He did these simple things and raised his math grade from "D" to "A."

Why was this possible? When all the steps were before him on the paper, he was able in his checking to concentrate entirely on arithmetic and signs instead of worrying about re-creating the missing portions.

As we look back over what we have said in this and other chapters, it occurs to us that we may be charged with repeated statements of the obvious.

Why, of course it is helpful to budget your time on tests! Of course it is wise to concentrate on one question at a time! Of course it makes sense to make a neat paper, to write out all the steps so they can be double-checked!

Of course, And it is precisely the simple, obvious principle which students neglect under the misguided impression that it isn't important.

FOR THE FUTURE

So now our proposal for the future:

We suggest adding to the curricula of grade schools, high schools, and colleges a different sort of course.

Today, the student studies reading, writing, arithmetic, biology, chemistry, French, and a variety of other subjects. He studies subject matter. If he intends to be a teacher, he studies courses that pretend to tell him how to teach.

But nowhere along the line does he take a course devoted entirely to "How to study, how to learn!"

Such a course, it seems to us, is basic. It is to the student what a compass is to the explorer.

Our experience in the private tutoring of failing students convinces us that "How to Study" classes would eliminate much of the heartache, frustration, and defeat in school and in life itself.

After all, what are we talking about is a way of making human beings happier. Success in education can make a person happier. It can improve him emotionally and spiritually. It can improve his opinion of himself, his economic status in society, his value to his family and his country.

The journey into learning is a great adventure. It can be a successful one for most boys and girls and men and women if they are first given a sense of direction.

To help give that has been the aim of what we have written here.

Bon voyage!

New Probe Is Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An attempt to launch a 75-pound satellite to probe mysteries of charged region around the earth, has been postponed for a second time.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration called off the scheduled firing of the Juno II booster rocket Thursday night because of technical troubles. No new launch date was set.

An attempt to fire the 76-foot rocket last week also was postponed because of technical difficulties.

Kennedy Praised

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Javier Rondero, secretary of the Mexican Academy of International Law, said today President John Kennedy will be capable of "erasing a portion of United States history that was rushing the country toward a collapse." He praised Kennedy for not having mentioned "the unilateral and repudiated Monroe Doctrine."

P-TA Celebrates Birthday, History Of Long Membership

By GAYNELLE PRICE
Mrs. Della K. Agnell, 311 W. 6th, was awarded the first P-TA life membership pin ever awarded in the state of Texas. Life memberships are awarded to deserving P-TA members each year.

Mrs. Agnell had been a member of the local P-TA organization since it was first organized in 1912 as a mother's club. In 1916, the name of the organization was changed to the Home and School Club and in 1925 became affiliated with the State Parent Teachers organization as a P-TA unit.

The Central Ward P-TA association was organized in May, 1925, with Mrs. J. C. Douglass Sr. serving as president for the following three years. Later Mrs. Douglass was chosen the first president of the P-TA Council. The West Ward, now Cedar Crest, unit was organized in 1931 when the new building was completed and there was no P-TA association in Big Spring until 1925.

Mrs. Agnell was presented the life membership honor in 1929 by the West Ward unit in recognition of 19 years of perfect attendance and active service.

ACTIVE WORKER
This active worker has enjoyed almost every activity in local P-TA since the first in 1912. She has probably attended more state conventions than any woman in West Texas and has never been inactive since the first organized Mothers' Club. She has paid the yearly dues from then until the present. Currently Mrs. Agnell is a member of the Boydstun P-TA and is historian of the P-TA Council.

Perhaps few, if any, other organized groups have enjoyed such a marvelous growth as the Parent-Teacher Association, which is today celebrating its 33rd birthday as an organization. This, no doubt, is due to the fact that it was founded on fundamental objectives and needs and guided by men and women of clear vision and steadfast purpose — that purpose being the welfare of children and youth.

The national organization is made up of the individual membership of the local associations and the state branches constitute the membership of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. This nationwide organization promotes the parent-teacher movement.

It was for the purpose of educating parents in the care and upbringing of their children that the P-TA was founded. Feb. 17, 1897, in Washington, D. C., by Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Epperson Hearst.

The national organization is governed through action taken at its board meetings and at its annual national convention, which is held in the late spring. The supporting income of the national organization is derived from annual dues of five cents per member, paid through the state branches; one-half of the annual Founders Day benefit; and small sums in interest from the Endowment Funds and other investments.

On Oct. 19, 1909, Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter of Dallas, who has been named by National Congress of Mothers as organizer for the Texas organization, issued a call to the mothers of Texas to convene in the First Methodist Church of Dallas to organize a state Congress of Mothers.

MRS. DELLA K. AGNELL

las Council of Mothers, Mrs. Porter called a three-day conference of representatives of interested organizations. Texas mayors were requested to send delegates from their towns. These persons, together with leading educators and other interested men and women, made up the organizational body. The response was greater than anticipated.

Mrs. Porter was elected to the president's office which she held for three years. Her administration was devoted largely to extension. Cooperation of the Texas State Teachers Association was secured, and that body adopted resolutions endorsing the organization of Parent-Teacher Associations in the Texas schools.

From this small beginning has grown an organization now numbering more than 720,000 men and women and the third largest state congress in the nation. So important has the organization become to the state that a parent-teacher enrollment month is set aside each year by proclamation of the governor.

The organization was known as the Texas Congress of Mothers until 1923 when it became the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association. In 1922 the name was changed to the present Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

An informal luncheon was another courtesy for Mrs. Thurman, who was complimented by Mrs. Dixie Kilgore of Lamesa and her sister, Mrs. Morris Patterson, today at noon.

Iris decorated the table in the Blue Room at Couden Country Club where guests assembled; places were marked for 15 intimate friends and relatives of the honoree.

Dixon To Have Chance To Follow Through

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Rand Dixon, President Kennedy's choice for chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, would have a chance in the post to follow through on some of his stormy Capitol Hill investigations of alleged monopolistic practice.

The deceptively soft voiced Dixon is chief counsel to the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. He will keep the post until the Senate confirms him for the FTC job.

Kennedy has announced he will appoint Dixon FTC chairman, but the nomination has not yet reached Congress.

IN THE THICK

As counsel to the subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., Dixon was in the thick of more than three years of critical investigation of pricing and trade practices in the steel, auto manufacturing, oil, bread and drug industries.

He told a reporter his role in these hearings would not disqualify him from considering at FTC any case which might result.

"I would have the right to sit on any case I have not prejudged," Dixon said. He said this was because the Senate inquiries were fact finding missions to develop information for Congress, rather than court type adversary proceedings.

TOO MUCH

Dixon said he agrees with Kennedy that there has been too much "inertia" in the FTC and some other regulatory agencies.

"I have gained a considerable knowledge concerning the inertia President Kennedy spoke against," Dixon said. "We should find avenues for speeding up investigation and adjudication of cases." He added, however, this must not be at the expense of due process of law.

Dixon, 47, is a former varsity quarterback at Vanderbilt University and was an assistant basketball coach at the University of Florida while studying for his law degree. At 100 pounds, he is a husky 5 feet 11. He is a native of Nashville, Tenn.

IN 1938

Dixon joined the Federal Trade Commission staff as a trial attorney in 1938, the year he received his law degree.

Night Viewers Saturday Get A Refreshing Change

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Saturday night viewers who are accustomed to having their whodunits and westerns satisfactorily tied up at the end of 30 or 60 minutes, may be in for an unnerving experience.

CBS' Show of the Month has preempted "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Gunsmoke," and for 90 minutes will explore the mysterious circumstances surrounding the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

The drama, "The Lincoln Murder Case" was written by Dale Wasserman, and is an examination, based on documentary evidence, of many of the unexplained and strange events before and after the shot was fired in the theater.

Wasserman originally was assigned to write a play based on "Web of Conspiracy," by Theodore Roscoe, which the Shirley Temple Show.

Pentagon Asks Inventors For A 'One-Man Tank'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tomorrow's soldier will be a human and a power plant all wrapped into one.

He will be a "one-man tank" — able to run faster, stop quicker and lift bigger loads than ordinary mortals. What's more, he will be immune to germ warfare, poison gas and the heat and radiation from nuclear blasts.

Such a soldier is not the dream of a science fiction writer, the Pentagon thinks. The idea is feasible and wants civilian inventors to come up with some ideas on how to make him become a reality.

Here's how the Pentagon expects to make him come true:

Called the "servo-soldier," this future GI will wear a special suit that will have its own engine, giving him the extra power. He will be aided by a servo-motor, or auxiliary power plant.

The mechanical type suit will provide "a self-contained power source, automatically controlled and guided by the natural responses and senses of the wearer."

As the soldier moves his hands, arms, legs and feet, the power mechanism would be automatically activated to multiply his strength in much the same manner as vehicle power brakes and power steering mechanism respond to foot pedal and steering wheel movements.

In combat "the mechanism would be designed to convert each soldier into a fast-moving and highly mobile one-man tank."

The soldier-tank is on a list of inventions wanted by the armed forces and other government agencies. The lists are published periodically by the National Inventors Council, which is the official link between civilian inventors and the government.

Other wanted inventions included:

- Small arms ammunition which is smokeless, flashless and noiseless.
- A device for driving stakes 12 inches into frozen earth in one minute.
- Plastic cartridge cases stronger than metal.

New York's Crime Rate Has Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City's crime rate went up an average of 4.5 per cent in 1960 over the previous year, according to Police Department figures.

The department report, released Thursday, said it was the seventh straight year of crime increase in the city, but added that the rise reflected a national trend.

The report noted that the same number of murders — 390 — occurred in both 1959 and last year.

Among other crimes: rape, up 3.9 per cent; robberies, up 6.1; burglaries, 6.9; juvenile delinquency, 6.7.

IT'S YOUR LIFE

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has a very dear friend. She and I always do our marketing and errands together because she has a car and I do not. I suppose you'll think I'm terrible for complaining, but she drives like a maniac. Every time I get into her car I feel like I'm taking my life in my hands. She speeds, goes through red lights and talks so much she doesn't watch where she's going. Do I dare tell her she is a poor driver? Or should I keep quiet and try to get out of riding with her?

DEAR PUZZLED: I am constantly amazed at the number of people who wouldn't dream of cat-

New Reports Point Out Economy Lag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two new government reports show a further lag in the economy with industrial output dropping for the sixth straight month in January and incomes falling for the third month.

In one report, the Federal Reserve Board said Thursday that production at mines, factories and utilities dropped one per cent to a point eight per cent below the record level achieved in January, 1960.

In a separate report, the Commerce Department said personal income dropped by $600 million last month to an annual rate of $406.3 billion. This compared with last October's record rate of $409.7 billion.

The board said a sharp cutback in auto assemblies, which has continued this month, was only partly offset by a better than seasonal pickup in steel.

of $400 million a year last month, while marketing payrolls were down $300 million. Larger payrolls in government and service industries partly offset these declines.

The income of business and professional people dropped $200 million to the rate of $35.5 billion a year. There was little change in other types of income.

Meanwhile, the Small Business Administration announced a new move to help stimulate hard-pressed sections of the economy. SBA said size standards for businesses eligible for its aid are being increased by 25 per cent in areas having substantial unemployment.

What this means is that more and larger firms will be eligible for assistance.

President Kennedy said Wednesday night that this action would be taken.

SPUR TO ECONOMY

In another step to spur the economy, the Veterans Administration said that, working overtime, it now expects to complete distribution of some $258.5 million in 1961 GI insurance dividend payments before the last week of March.

The announcement represents a speedup from the original completion date of June 30.

Normally the payments are spread out over a full year. Kennedy ordered immediate distribution to help stimulate the economy by increasing buying power among the more than 5 million veterans involved.

STEEL BETTER

The board said a sharp cutback in steel production, which has continued this month, was only partly offset by a better than seasonal pickup in steel.

The Commerce Department report said most of the January income decline reflected a reduction in manufacturing payrolls.

OFFSET DECLINE

Wage and salary payments in manufacturing dropped at the rate

Controversy Is Just A Slogan

DALLAS (AP)—H. S. Brown, president of the Texas State AFL-CIO, asserted Thursday that the right-to-work controversy "beating a dead horse." He said the repeal of the laws by the legislature would actually mean little to unions.

"What we need to do is to get the people of Texas to understand what this catchy slogan of those who don't know what to organize means," Brown said.

"We've got to persuade them that in Texas—we need an orderly procedure to bargain collectively in organizations which do not come under the National Labor Relations Board."

Brown said Texas Employment Commission figures do not reflect the true unemployment figures in the state.

Explorer

Dr. John Lyman of the University of California at Los Angeles biotechnology lab models the newest thing in suits for a moon explorer. The designer, Allyn B. Hazard, figures an astronaut wearing it could explore the moon surface for days without returning to his space ship. Hose attached at the front would bring in heat, air and electricity for lights and instruments. Lyman holds a measuring stick which could be used for moon survey work. The university scientists will test the suit, but not on the moon. (AP Wirephoto).

PROOF OF THE PUDDIN'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—When Samuel Douglas, 35, of Bradock took the witness stand to defend himself in an Allegheny County Criminal Court trial Thursday he was promptly jailed because the judge said he was intoxicated.

"You're drunk," Judge Loran L. Lewis told him. "I have no recourse but to give you 10 days in jail for contempt of court."

Douglas was on trial charged with possession of moonshine.

Eight Ships Collide In Fog, Another Is Aground

LONDON (AP)—Eight ships, including the 10,687-ton American freighter Ocean Evelyn, were involved in collisions during the night around the fog-shrouded coasts of Europe. A ninth went aground.

Distress reports flashed in to harassed Coast Guard stations to climax 48 nightmare hours of shipping chaos.

The Ocean Evelyn, registered from New York, and the Dutch vessel Amstelhoek collided off England's Kent Coast. Both were groping through the blanket of fog, and neither vessel was badly damaged. Two crewmen aboard the American ship were injured.

The 12,729-ton Norwegian tanker Ralla and the 10,056-ton West German freighter Bochum crunched together five miles out in the narrow straits of Dover. One German crewman was killed, another injured. The Bochum was badly holed and tugs stood by, waiting for the fog to lift.

Off nearby Dungeness the British ships Beech Hill, 7,150 tons, and Formality, 410 tons, collided. The Beech Hill, damaged above the waterline, anchored to await assistance.

A British Navy auxiliary vessel grounded at Dungeness. Another ship waited to tow the stranded vessel off at high tide.

Polygamy And High Motives

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, West Highway 80

That polygamy in Africa is sinful, is an assumption, according to a returned missionary (see Monday's newspaper).

His reasoning was not that the Bible fails to teach against polygamy; but that because an African polygamist has high motives, he is not guilty of sin.

This means that it matters not what one does, so long as his motives are pure. What about this?

Jesus declared that the time would come when "whoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service" (Jno. 16:2). Saul of Tarsus is the classic example of this. He thought he ought to persecute Christians (Acts 26:9, 10). Yet he was the chief of sinners in so doing (1 Tim. 1:12-15).

If only honesty counts, then it is a mistake to teach men about God's laws. Better that they violate them in ignorance and be innocent; than that they know the truth, for then they will violate some of God's laws knowingly, and become guilty. This would make missionary work a mistake. Who can believe it?

Plan to attend our services Sunday.

THE THEORY OF DOUBLE PROTECTION

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Somehow we don't think of the baby's bassinette as a "scientific development." But it is.

It has been designed to protect a child from exterior hazards—and from himself.

Religion isn't what we would call "scientific." But it, too, embraces this theory of double protection.

The man or woman who worships God faithfully is prepared for the unexpected crises in life. And his mature conscience is ready to cope with temptation.

This isn't to say that nothing ever goes wrong for the ardent church-goer. But he meets each outward or inward challenge with adequate spiritual resources.

There are impelling reasons why you need the Church and its undergirding strength. And for every one that is evident today, there are others you'll confront tomorrow.

Family Watches 'Glowing Object'

LAKEPORT, Calif. (AP) — A Lakeport family watched a brightly glowing object for nearly half an hour in the sky west of here Thursday night.

Robert Sneed, a local insurance man, sighted the object at 9 p.m. an estimated 20 degrees above the horizon over Cow Mountain west of here.

He and his wife and son, Victor, a local photographer, went to a small hill where they watched it "until it went out" at 9:25 p.m. Sneed said Victor took two photographs of the object and said he would develop the film today. Through field glasses, Sneed watched the object carefully and said it seemed to stand still but appeared to have some movement possibly a spinning motion.

He said it was perhaps 10 times as bright and as big as the planet Venus, as it appeared in the cloudless sky.

The sheriff's office received no other sighting report.

Glazier Official To Be Honored On 25th Anniversary

Jerry Leibs, vice president and sales manager of Glazer Wholesale Drug Co. will be honored by all employees of the company during February and March in celebration of his twenty-fifth anniversary with the firm, according to Cecil Roberts, manager of Glazer's Odessa operation.

A native of Chicago and a graduate of Texas A&M, Leibs started with the company in Houston in February, 1936. After three years he was transferred to Dallas and took over as manager of the Glazer operation in that city.

From 1942 to 1946 Leibs served in the United States Army where he was inducted as a private and discharged a major.

When the company started its expansion program after the war, Leibs became sales manager for all Glazer activities in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas. He lives with his wife Arlene and their three children at 6522 Northwood Road in Dallas.

Glazer Wholesale Drug Co., distributors and importers of some of the most widely advertised and popular brands of wine, liquor and beer sold, is one of the largest wholesale operations in the country.

Nope, Age Is No Barrier

HONOLULU (AP) — The fight was definitely not his fault, Mortimer Aldridge explained to police through a bruised face.

Mitsuzo Taramoto simply leaped up and began pummeling him for no reason, Aldridge said.

Police were inclined to forget the whole thing, warning Taramoto, 97, and Aldridge, 93, to keep the peace in the future.

2 Marionette Shows Today

Suzari, a famous marionette clown, is in town today.

He and his troupe of wooden actors will present a full-length musical marionette play, "The Tinder Box of Flanders."

The play is based on the tale by Hans Christian Anderson. A program of action, suspense, and magic, the story is set four centuries ago in the colorful age of Breughel's Flanders, as told by a large cast of lively, authentically costumed marionettes.

Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sponsors the event. The show will be given at City Auditorium at 4 and 8 p.m. Tickets are 50 cents for children, 99 cents for adults.

1st Rocket Flyer Heads NAA Branch

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scott Crossfield, first man to fly the X15 rocket plane, has been named head of North American Aviation's new engineering branch to test manned space systems.

He'll supervise the flight test program of the Air Force Hound Dog missile and help develop new manned space craft.

Crossfield, chief test pilot for North American's Los Angeles division, joined the company as a design specialist and engineering test pilot on the X15 project in 1955.

He became the first man to fly the dart-shaped craft in June 1959. He made 15 flights in the X15 before North American turned it over to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Teahouse Old Stuff Now, Coffee House

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie - TV Writer

TOKYO (AP) — The Teahouse of the August Moon is old stuff nowadays. The coffee house has taken over.

The Japanese have taken to the coffee house with a passion. There are more than 7,000 in Tokyo alone, and more open every week.

The coffee house here bears little resemblance to the American variety. You'll find no beards, bards nor beatniks. The Japanese coffee shop might be described as a combination drug store and saloon, with elements of the cabaret and Coney Island.

They are strictly a postwar phenomenon, providing a place for young couples to date. The American style of dating was not practiced in Japan before the war. The coffee houses are well, you just can't understand them without seeing them. Even then, you may not be sure.

First stop is the Fujiya Music Salon, a tastefully decorated place. As is the custom in the coffee places, you buy a ticket at the door for your refreshment — tea, coffee, fruit drinks, beer, sundaes, etc., at around 150 yen (42 cents) apiece.

You take a seat on one of the tables, and the waitress takes your ticket and brings the order. You sip and listen to a combo of six sleepy-eyed musicians playing progressive jazz that would be more than acceptable on the Sunset Strip.

Next comes the Tennessee. You take a table in the balcony of the rococo place, sitting alongside hobbysoxers just out of school. All of a sudden the bandstand erupts with a rock 'n' roll "I'm Going to Stop Shoppin' Around," complete with honking sax and thumping guitars.

The din becomes too great, and you walk to the Yie-Lai-Shian, a tastefully decorated Chinese palace. At the far end is a platform where a 10-piece chamber-music group is playing "Liebestraum." The atmosphere is hushed, and couples whisper over their coffee cups.

You could keep walking from one such place to another until you were washed with coffee. They are all over the city in an infinite variety. One features waitresses in negligees, another offers bikinis. One is fashioned as an airliner; customers are strapped with seat belts in reclining chairs.

Chair Sent To Match Professors

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Now they're sending the Harvard furniture to the White House.

Ten Harvard freshmen planned today to ship a second hand traditional Harvard chair to alumni, President Kennedy, to go with the Harvard professors drafted by the administration.

The chair, formerly used in Greenough Hall, a freshman dormitory, carries a plaque reading: "Presented by members of the class of 1964 in the firm belief that the only proper seat of government is a Harvard chair."

A letter accompanying the gift asked that the chair "remain in the White House so it may be occupied by Harvard men for generations to come."
