

Motor Lines Reports Rise In Net Income

ABILENE — Net income of Merchants Trust Motor Lines, Inc., for 1960 climbed 34.7 per cent over the previous year for a new record, in spite of a slight reduction in operating revenues, Gene Whitehead, president, said in the first annual report issued since public sale of stock in early 1959.

Earnings of the motor carrier line, which operates only in Texas, totaled $1,379,465, equal to $1.40 per share. Of this amount, $1.26 came from operations and 14 cents from capital gains on equipment sales. In 1959, per share earnings were $1.12, with $1.10 from operations and 8 cents from equipment sales.

Operating revenues in 1960 totaled $11,479,142, compared with $11,574,248 in 1959. Whitehead said the gain in net income resulted from "improved operating efficiency realized from a 7.1 per cent decrease in miles operated, reduced insurance expenses, and higher capital gains from the sale of equipment."

Profit margins before income taxes continued to be among the highest in the motor carrier industry, the report said, and climbed to 23.7 per cent compared with 20.3 per cent in 1959.

Merchants units traveled 12,623,659 highway miles in 1960 compared with 13,959,990 miles in 1959. At the same time, total tonnage hauled increased to 462,426 tons against the 458,274 tons carried in 1959. Total shipments rose to 1,346,416, compared with 1,329,576. Whitehead predicted an even faster rate of growth.

By The Associated Press

More than two score of candidates in the vast field for the April 4 special U. S. Senate election, are little known outside their own areas and are not attempting to make major campaigns.

Some of the other candidates: Van George, 38, of San Antonio, owner of Farm Enterprises. He is a conservative Democrat who has voted Republican at times.

Arthur Glover, 44, an Amarillo certified accountant, gained 13,000 votes in a race last year for the House seat held by Rep. Walker Rogers.

Time Nears For W. Texas Spring Flower Display

By BRUCE FRAZIER

The time is getting close for the spring display of flowers for West Texas. Several of the early blooming plants are putting on buds even now, and it is time to set out several varieties of things. Pansy plants can be put in the yard now, and snapdragons, stock, calendulas, and gladioli corals. All these plants can be set out and with the moisture in the soil they should do well this spring.

It is time to get fruit trees in the ground if you expect to plant any this year. I recently planted a pecan as a Valentine present to me from my wife. You know this gift will be remembered for years and years, because it will grow and become larger and more beautiful for a long time to come. I think that rather fitting as a Valentine gift.

If you plant pecans try the Western Schly or Mahan for paper shell varieties, or Garner, Success, or Money-maker for the more oily, harder shelled varieties. Burkett is always popular but it has a tendency to die back, and for that reason I don't recommend it even though it sometimes makes a beautiful tree. This die-

Texas Cancer Death Rate Up

AUSTIN (AP)—The death rate for cancer in Texas inched upward last year as the disease killed 11,990 Texas residents in 1960, the State Health Department reported today.

The death rate was 118.4 deaths per 100,000 population, slightly higher than the 117.7 calculated in 1959. Only heart disease claimed more Texans last year.

The 1960 total was about 300 deaths over 1959.

"Deaths from cancer begin to take a significant toll after age 40 when the rates begin rising sharply over the earlier years," the department said. "The key to cancer cure or arrest lies in early detection. However, one leading national organization estimates that only one out of six women have physical examinations each year."

The report said breast cancer accounts for about 25 per cent of all cancer cases in women, with uterine cancer next in frequency. It recommended yearly checkups, including uterine smear tests.

THE UNDENIABLE MATERIALISM

By T. E. Forster, preacher Church of Christ, Wood Highway #1

One of the evils of the pre-millennial theory is materialism. It is materialistic in the core. It calls for the reign of Christ on a material throne in old material Jerusalem. It makes places of honor and power in this world for the saints that rule with Him in a millennium to come. It holds out promises of material blessings and places the emphasis on them. It causes men to put their affections on things below, and long for the Jerusalem which is beneath.

On the other hand, Paul said,

"Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth" (Col. 3:2). Abraham was commended for he desired a heavenly country (Heb. 11:10, 14). His affections were not set on Jerusalem in Syria. Ours must not be.

DEAR ABBY

LEAVE, LADY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is a 96-pound wife supposed to do when her husband and son get into a knock-down drag-out fight in the house? My son is 16 and he is as big as his father. Last night they went at it again over a difference of opinion. I kept out of it until they started knocking over furniture and pulled the curtain off the window. I ordered them to stop but they didn't pay any attention to me. I called the police because the neighbors on both sides said if I didn't—they would. Now neither my husband nor son will speak to me. Frankly I am sick of both of them. Should I walk out?

READY TO LEAVE

DEAR ABBY: Yes, and on the way out tell them to let you know when they are ready to settle their differences in a civilized manner and you'll be glad to return.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married quite a few years and I have always had to be the first one up in the morning when the alarm went off. If I didn't get up and wake my husband he would never get to work in the morning. He says he would rather lose a day's work than be a little late.

We have had both coal stoves and coal furnaces. More recently we have had gas and oil heat. But, believe me, a coal stove was no fun. When I had been sick and was just home from the hospital, it didn't matter—I was STILL the first one up. But on Saturdays, oh boy! If he had a fishing date, getting up all by himself at 3:30 A. M. was no problem at all. Why?

DEAR READER: You can't blame a man for bouncing out of bed faster to go fishing than to work. You are married to a spoiled little boy. But don't be too hard on him. You spoiled him.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a nervous wreck. My husband has a habit of taking things. He calls it "borrowing," but he never returns what he takes. If he sees a tool or something at the shop where he works, he just takes it. I keep seeing more and more things around the house that I know do not belong to him.

He got into some trouble over this habit some years back, but his boss felt sorry for me and the children, so nothing was done about it. We have a nice home in a nice neighborhood and could buy anything we really needed, so I can't understand why he risks his job and reputation this way. I feel that the world is closing in on me. Abby! Can I get help?

DEAR ABBY: Your husband could have an emotional problem which he, himself, does not understand. Tell your doctor the whole story and ask his advice on what kind of treatment your husband needs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "EL CHUMPO": Don't marry her. An engineer should be able to count to nine.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Campaign Paths Of 2 Nearly Cross

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff Writer

Campaign paths of at least two of the better known U.S. Senate candidates almost crossed Thursday as both State Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and former State Rep. Maury Maverick Jr. toured Northeast Texas areas.

Wilson expected to get back on the campaign trail in Cooper, Commerce, Greenville and Sulphur Springs after being bedridden for about 36 hours in Paris.

Maverick, who called for distribution of U.S. farm surpluses abroad in a "Teppie" appearance Wednesday, planned to campaign in virtually the same area.

Republican John Tower also planned an East Texas tour Thursday and Friday with appearances in Gladewater, Kilgore, Marshall, and Texas. The area, once staunchly Democratic, has become increasingly conservative in the last decade.

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, interim Sen. William Blakley of Dallas and others of the 71 candidates seeking Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's former Senate seat had not announced itineraries.

to support the Republican candidate who proclaims to be the 'only conservative in the race,' or the interim senator who opposes all forms of government aids and subsidies... except those that benefit airlines."

Blakley has heavy financial interests in the airlines. Wright continued: "Our interim senator in Dallas last Saturday joked about unemployment and boasted that he has found only one item on which he could vote with the President... confirmation of one appointment."

Wright Wednesday after the Senate recessed, scheduled a talk in Poteet Thursday night.

71 Names Are Drawn From Sheriff's Hat For Places On Ballot In Senate Race

Mary Hazel Houston won the ballot derby in Howard County on Wednesday afternoon.

This may not mean much to the average person but it probably is of considerable importance to Mrs. Houston and to at least 69 other persons.

Mrs. Houston, from Clay County, is one of the 70 officially filed candidates for the seat in the U. S. Senate left vacant by Lyndon Johnson's elevation to the vice presidency. And Wednesday afternoon, County Judge Ed Carpenter, County Clerk Pauline Petty and Sheriff Miller Harris drew her name from the sheriff's hat.

His name is Marcos Zertuche and he is from Bexar County.

Position on the ballot is important, candidates feel, since they believe that many voters not well informed perhaps on the merits of any of the contenders will very often vote for the No. 1 name before them. The deeper down in the list, the office seekers feel, the less likelihood the voter will see a name.

Judge Carpenter was puzzling over how to order the ballots prepared for the election here. The long list of names makes the voting task a little more difficult than usual.

Judge Carpenter was puzzling over how to order the ballots prepared for the election here. The long list of names makes the voting task a little more difficult than usual.

Carpenter was wondering if it would expedite matters to have a small square printed beside each candidate's name and instructions placed on the ballot to the effect that an "X" marked in a square would cast a vote for the man so selected.

Decision has to be made soon on the ballot form since the absentee voting period must be started at once.

Not Official Chatter

In discussion after the luncheon at Codden Country Club are, from left, Paul Meek, John Tower and Ralph Hughes. Tower did not have time for many questions as his party was scheduled to leave about 15 minutes after the lunch engagement.

Tower Calls On Conservative Backing In Senate Election

By JOSEPH MEYER
John F. Tower, contender for the United States Senate seat left vacant by the resignation of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, spoke Wednesday at a luncheon in the Codden Country Club.

About 45 persons were present to hear the 35-year-old former professor of political science at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls give his views about the senatorial race, other candidates, and his brand of politics.

Tower polled 926,653 votes in the November election in which Vice President Johnson received 1,306,625 votes.

Ralph Hughes, Howard County Republican chairman, introduced the guest. Tower said that he was happy to be in Howard County again after several false starts, and immediately pitched into his speech.

CONSERVATIVE
Tower, who asked for the backing of all conservatives in the State, defined a conservative as one who does not oppose change or progress, but believes that it should be done within the framework of existing legislation.

He called for minimum government interference with a citizen's private affairs. He strictly opposed any marshaling of the country's wealth and dispensing it in the form of government subsidies, federal medical aid, and the like.

Tower was critical of the present administration, stating that with President Kennedy in office, the people need conservative representation more than ever.

"I do not believe we need a clique of Harvard professors to tell us what to do," he said.

"SOCIALISTIC"
"The 'New Frontier' program is socialistic," he continued. "It says in effect that the people have too much money to spend, spend it foolishly, and need some Harvard professors to tell them how to spend it right."

He said that there is need to curb federal spending and pay off the national debt. Tower could see no way in which to finance the Kennedy program except through deficit spending or other inflationary methods.

Tower opposed the minimum wage laws, stating that "A minimum wage law cannot help unemployment. It can only impede employment."

He called for strong opposition to the Soviet Union and to give it notice that the U. S. will not yield free territory. Tower also called for a cut in foreign aid spending to halt the outflow of gold from this country.

OPPOSES KENNEDY
In discussing the current Senate race, Tower said that he is the only serious contender who opposed the Kennedy program in November and still opposes it.

He accused other major contenders of backing under to the influence of the current administration.

"I have no influence with Johnson or Rayburn," he said. "And more important, they have no influence with me."

He called for conservatives to unite with him and eliminate a runoff election.

"We owe it to the taxpayers to save the State the half-million dollars it would cost to hold a runoff," Tower said.

In answer to questions asked by guests after the speech, Tower denied that Interim Senator William Blakley is a conservative. He said that Blakley's support of the Kennedy administration program and his voting record show that he has voted against conservative legislation more than he has for it.

GOLDWATER TO HELP
Tower stated that his campaign was progressing well in most counties and that later in the race, Senator Barry Goldwater may come to Texas to speak in his behalf.

As a parting word, he commented that with the number of candidates in the race, his campaign slogan might have to be changed to "E Pluribus Unum."

Among guests at the luncheon were Paul Meek and E. B. McCormick, past County Republican chairman, Mrs. Mary Doss, district committeewoman from Abilene, and Tom Ivey, telephone committee chairman.

The Tower party arrived by plane about 11:30 a.m. and left immediately after the luncheon for Waxahachie. Tower planned to travel to Dallas Wednesday night.

R. A. McDaniel Named President Of Coca Cola

Raymond A. McDaniel Sr., Abilene, has been elected president of the Texas Coca Cola Inc., succeeding E. R. (Gene) McDaniel.

McDaniel, a son of one of the founders of the company which has the franchise in a territory roughly from Ranger to Midland and from Seymour to Lamesa, lived in Big Spring in the early 1930's and was associated with the Coca Cola plant here.

Other officers named were R. A. McDaniel Jr., vice president; V. E. Baldridge, secretary-treasurer and general manager; and Jerry V. Jarrett, sales manager and new member of the board.

The concern was formed in 1913 as a partnership between J. Soule McDaniel, father of R. A. McDaniel Sr., S. M. Jay, and E. R. McDaniel and was incorporated in 1928. After the death of J. S. McDaniel in 1940, his brother became president. The firm has plants at Abilene and Big Spring and warehouses at Stamford, Sweetwater, Eastland, Stephenville, Midland and Lamesa.

Winter Storm Goes To Northeast

By The Associated Press
Of man winter's parting blast at the Midwest, where up to 16 inches of snow paralyzed traffic, closed schools and caused at least 18 deaths, faded into the Northeast today.

Grudgingly relinquishing its fury, the storm sped snow, rain and sleet today over New York state and into Southern New England.

U.N. Protests Korean Assault

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today protested to the North Korean Communists against the attack by Red guards on U.S. military police during a meeting Wednesday of the Military Armistice Commission.

Spec. 4 Cleveland Campbell of Detroit, Mich., was slapped by a Communist guard who chained Campbell had stepped on his toe. Capt. William C. Lyons of Lubbock, Tex., investigated and a Communist guard pinned his arms while another guard struck Lyons in the face.

Senate Confirms Heatedly Contested Nomination

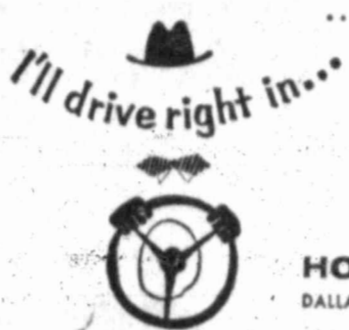

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Charles M. Meriwether as a director of the Export-Import Bank — an appointment that stirred more bitter criticism than any other President Kennedy has made.

The roll call vote of approval Wednesday was 67-18. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., continued the drumfire of opposition up to the last minute, calling Meriwether a racist anti-Semite and saying Kennedy had made a "horrendous mistake" in appointing him.

Kennedy, however, said later "I am confident that he will do a good job."

Meriwether said in a statement "This expression of confidence in my ability is reassuring and I accept with great humility the privilege of serving on the board."

Forty-eight Democrats and 19 Republicans voted for Meriwether; 10 Republicans and 8 Democrats were against him.

How their telephones save Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sauer 2 1/2 hours a day

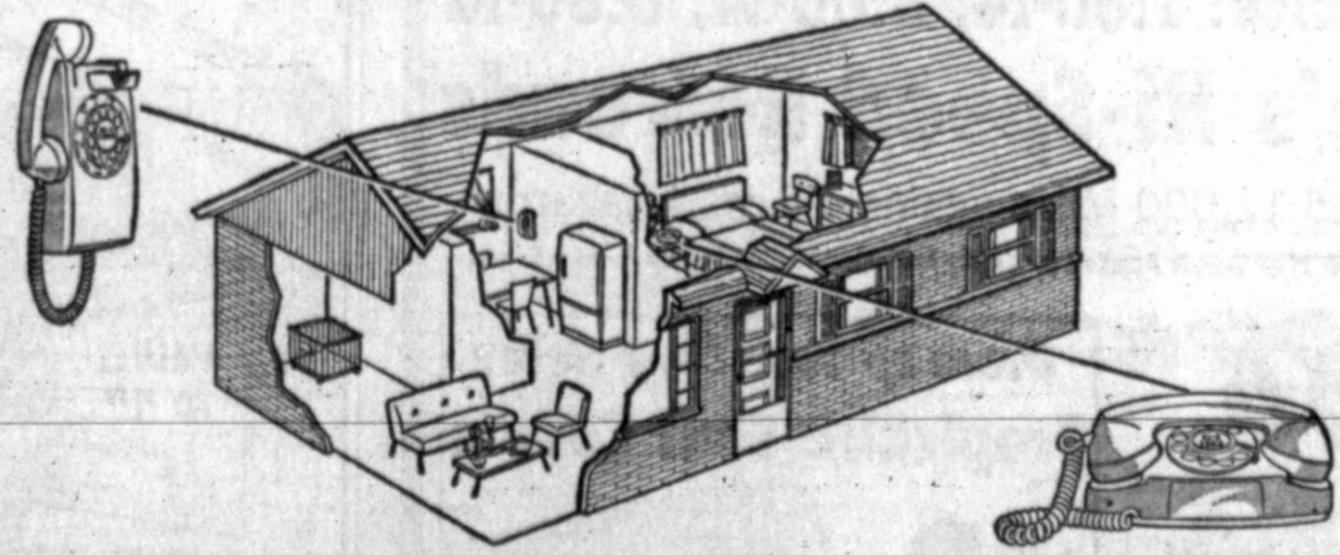

By DON DAVIS
Telephone News Writer

"I called a department store to order a place setting of china I saw advertised. It's for a friend who is getting married."

"As a photographer, I have calls at home in the evening. So I use our Princess phone in the bedroom where it's quiet."

The Sauers use their phones — a white Princess model in the bedroom and a green wall phone in the kitchen — about 50 times a week to help get things done.

As she speaks of the Princess, Mrs. Sauer's eyes light up. "It's so small and lovely. And the way the dial lights up is great."

SOUTHWESTERN BELL

The Sauers use their bedroom phone when they want quiet and privacy. This phone also gives Mrs. Sauer a sense of security when she's alone at night.

Why not take a tip from the Sauers? Enjoy the convenience, pleasure and security of extension telephones. Cost is low.

Finds Courtesy, Good Service Has Paid Off

A man who came to Big Spring two years ago with no knowledge of the service station business, and who was not acquainted with anyone in the city, has made a success of the Humble Service Station at 421 E. 3rd.

Rex B. Hutcherson said he went into the business with the intention of giving good service and of being courteous. "It has paid off for us," he said. "When it gets to the point where I don't care whether the job is first class or not, it will be time for me to step out."

The station serves customers with all grades of motor fuel required by automobiles and trucks. Motor and chassis lubricants of all grades are also handled, enabling the station to give complete service to all automobiles and trucks from washing to polishing, including tire changes and brake adjustment. "We never do anything to a man's car we feel isn't needed, but we do everything we feel is needed," Hutcherson said.

Batteries, tires, tubes, f a n belts, headlamps, anti-freeze, and all other accessories in the Atlas line are stocked. Pickup and delivery service is available for business and working men and women who can't bring their cars and trucks to the station. Road service, up to a certain extent is available. The station, open from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. is manned by Hutcherson, and Joe Lajlas who has had nine years of experience with Humble stations. Another man is added to the force on Saturday to handle the extra business of servicing coming to the station.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Louis Cox, the Dallas scribe, says he picked Big Spring's Jan Loudermilk over teammate Steve Strange because "he developed into SMU's clutch player down the stretch... He kept the Mustangs in game after game. Big and strong at 6-6 and 225, Loudermilk went all out despite being handicapped by a chipped cartilage in his knee. His punt making in the tough ones was sensational."

SMU's freshmen beat Howard County in the college freshman-junior college division of the Southwest Recreational track and field meet at Fort Worth last weekend but Jayhawk coach Red Lewis says the outcome would have been different had the Hawks' been able to use their star sprinter, Herman Robinson.

Lamesa, Big Spring News Carriers Due Webb Tour

Newspaper delivery boys from Big Spring and Lamesa will be going over a strange route during their 4½-hour tour of Webb AFB Friday. Fifteen boys from the Lamesa Reporter and 40 from the Big Spring Herald will make the tour, starting at 9 a.m.

Their day's activities of visiting Webb facilities used for training jet pilots will include a tour of the 31st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, an Air Defense Command unit equipped with the super-sonic F-102 "Delta Dagger" jet fighter interceptors.

They will visit the altitude chamber to see how personnel from the 3560th USAF Hospital's aviation medicine section check-out future pilots for high altitude flights, use of the oxygen mask, and operations of the ejection seat in jet aircraft. During a trip to the parachute shop, riggers will demonstrate how the chutes are packed and operate.

Included is a tour of MAS Group's Power Plant Section to observe mechanics performing their daily tasks of repairing and keeping engines ready for use in the three different types of aircraft at Webb. They will have the opportunity to see aircraft landing while visiting the Mobile Control Unit and end their tour with a close-up look at the T-33 and T-37 jet trainers and a H-43B helicopter.

The boys will also get a taste of Air Forcechow. They will be hosted individually at lunch by student officers.

Personnel from the office of information will escort the group on the tour.

School's Out, Teachers Attend WTTA Meeting

Friday will be a holiday for the boys and girls in the Big Spring Independent School District, and for all schools in the county, as they attend the 28th Annual meeting of the West Texas Teachers Association in Midland. Sam Anderson, assistant superintendent of the Big Spring schools, is president of the association.

There are 20 out of town speakers scheduled to appear at the sectional meetings. Seventeen such meetings are scheduled on Friday morning and 21 for Friday afternoon.

Initial meeting of the convention will be tonight when the house of delegates assembles in Midland. Meeting will be in the Hotel Scharbauer and Anderson estimated 100 persons will be present.

Election of officers for 1961-62 and revision of the association constitution are matters to be before the house of delegates.

Three persons from Big Spring will address the sectional meetings. Marshall Box, professor of industrial education at Howard County Junior College, will discuss "Pre-Engineering for High School Students" for the industrial education section.

Arah Phillips will speak about "Physical Education and Tomorrow's Young Women" for the health and physical education section.

X15 Record Even Better Than Guess

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force Maj. Bob White learned Wednesday that his latest speed run in the record-setting X15 rocket ship was even faster than at first estimated.

Initial readings after Tuesday's flight showed he had exceeded 2,600 miles an hour. But a study of instrument data later fixed the figure at 2,905 m.p.h.

Either way, White had topped his previous world mark of 2,275—achieved in an X15 with a smaller power plant.

The new engine, which has a 37,000-pound thrust, is expected to carry man to the fringe of space later this year.

Crash Kills Man, Derails Train

ROARING SPRINGS, Tex. (AP)—One man died and another was injured critically in a train-truck crash which derailed three diesel locomotives and 12 freight cars Wednesday.

The crash killed Walter Lee Robinson, 33, of Amarillo, instantly at the east edge of Roaring Springs, 60 miles northeast of Lubbock.

4 More Electrical Firm Executives Leave Prison

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Four more electrical firm executives, including three from the General Electric Co., were freed from prison early today for exemplary behavior after serving 25 days of 30-day terms for price fixing and bid rigging.

They were William S. Ginn, 45, of Schenectady, N. Y., GE vice president who earns $135,000 a year; Lewis J. Burger, 48, general manager of GE's switchgear and control division, Fort Wayne, Ind.; George E. Burens, 36, a GE vice president from Schenectady and Edwin R. Jung, 58, vice president of the Clark Controller Co. of Cleveland.

Kennedy Tries Diplomatic Stroke

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. strategists held cautious hopes today that President Kennedy made a diplomatic gain with his special hospitality toward Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah.

Kennedy personally went to the airport Wednesday for the first time to welcome a foreign VIP—and it was Nkrumah who got this red carpet treatment.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Sec. B Big Spring, Texas, Thurs., March 9, 1961 Sec. B

Girl Scout Cookie Time is Here...
Help us with our camps this year!

Launched Today

Girl Scouts and Brownies of the Big Spring area were to launch their Girl Scout cookie sale at 3:30 p.m. today. The sale will run through March 18. Close to 1,000 girls will sell boxes of cookies to raise money for their camping and Scouting activities for the year. There are 19 troops in the Big Spring area which includes Coahoma, Stanton, Sterling City and Big Spring, and all will take part in the camp fund cookie sale.

Girl Scouts, Brownies Start Cookie Sales

The 10th annual cookie sale for Girl Scouts begins today and will run through March 18, with youngsters in the 13-county area selling cookies to assist the council's camping program.

Past sales have provided funds to buy, build and equip Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater. Permanent installations at the campsite now include a swimming pool, a dining hall, troop lodge, caretaker's house, four tent units and a caretaker's house.

With proceeds from the 1961 sale of cookies, the camp committee of the West Texas Council plans to install new latrines and showers in the four units.

Because of the sales, the site is now the location for year-round camping, with troops staying in the buildings or the tents. During June and July, the council operates an established camping program, with trained, qualified leaders to assist in the schedule of activities.

Sessions have been mapped out for the coming season to include 10 and 12 day camping trips. Beginning June 11, the program will end July 28.

Knock Off An Inch, And Town's Got A Short Cop

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)—George Rezendes, a small cop with a big heart, can now become a full-fledged member of the Police Department of Nantucket Island, 15 miles off Cape Cod.

Some 250 islanders, with an assist from a tall president named Abe Lincoln, voted at a special town meeting to knock an inch off the law to accommodate Rezendes. The winter population of the famed resort island is about 3,500.

Rezendes, 25, a former farmer, is an inch too short to meet the 3-foot-7 civil service requirement for policemen in Massachusetts.

The well-liked Rezendes didn't attend the meeting. He told friends, "I'll find out how things came out in the morning." Then he went home to bed.

The Massachusetts Legislature approved a special law to enable Rezendes and all other would-be Nantucket cops to become policemen, one inch shorter than mainland cops.

Tuesday night, after voting on a warrant with 113 articles at the regular town meeting, townspeople held a five-minute special session just to approve the "short cop" bill recently signed by Gov. John A. Volpe.

Although George's many friends have been kidding him for weeks about being against the bill, it was passed without a single word of opposition.

Abe Lincoln said a man's legs only need to be long enough to reach the ground, that's good enough for me," said one voter to a group of friends before the ballyhoo. The same Lincoln story was quoted by a legislator when the "short cop" bill came up for discussion at the State House when the bill was pending there.

Another lawmaker cited the Biblical reference to man being unable to add one cubit to his stature. The special town meeting was held because the governor signed the law too late to be included in the regular town meeting warrant.

WHY CAUSE A STINK?
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It isn't that the ladies of a sewing circle here can't spell, but they do call themselves "The Sowers."

Mrs. A. R. Kasey, president of the group, explains: "There is another word spelled s-e-w-e-r-s, and if you pronounce it that way, it doesn't sound nice."

POWER OF THE PRESS
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—It's a moot question whether the pen is mightier than the sword, but a newspaper comes in handy at times.

James Prenatt, 25, told police a car pulled beside him, and one of the two men inside ordered him to hand over his billfold at gunpoint.

Prenatt said he hurled a newspaper at the car and it sped away.

BIG CLEANUP
FORT WORTH (AP)—A new police crackdown here had 109 persons in jail on drunk and vagrancy charges with higher bonds set for such offenses.

The large number of arrests caused a policeman to quip: "The only people I saw in alleys yesterday afternoon were garbage collectors."

KITING FOR A JOB

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Above this Southern California town soared a big kite of brown wrapping paper. Then things happened.

Cars jammed the street in front of Jack Wigmors's house. His telephone rang. The neighbors leaned on their lawnmowers and chuckled.

Everybody had his say on the big question of the week: "Will he or won't he?"

For a few days this went on. Every day after school, Wigmors's two sons flew the 10-foot kite.

Painted on the kite in bold letters was the message that caused all the stir: "Situation wanted—call LI 8-1304."

Wigmors, 33, had been out of work 2½ months since the electronics firm where he had been plant manager at $12,000 a year went out of business.

After nationwide publicity, job offers came in.

"I was either overqualified or underqualified," he said. "One person offered to let me cut his lawn."

Franksters called, too—lots of them. But so did dozens of persons sincerely interested in his problem.

So Wigmors goes to work Monday as head of production control for Behlman Engineering Co. in Burbank. And gladly, even though it means commuting 60 miles each way.

"It all started as a joke," he said. "It's fantastic."

SMART YOUNGUNS
MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Dorothy Spencer says her eighth graders did pretty well—in fact they did a little better than a group of college students on a current events test.

The junior high school teacher noted a newspaper story about the low scores, averaging 47.3 per cent on a test taken by students at Kent State University.

Mrs. Spencer got a copy of the test and gave it to her class. The eighth graders scored an average of 69.2 per cent.

WE'LL BET THEY DON'T
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Congress has been asked not to take the Arkansas Legislature too seriously.

State Sen. Douglas Bradley of Jonesboro and some associates introduced a tongue-in-cheek resolution which noted that the Legislature had memorialized Congress "To do us this and to do that—to raise taxes and to lower taxes; to balance the budget and to increase Social Security benefits; to abolish the income tax and capital punishment."

These resolutions "have induced in Congress a state of great confusion," the new resolution declared.

It concludes that Congress "is herewith urged and respectfully memorialized to pay little or no attention to the resolutions heretofore adopted by this General Assembly."

Mrs. Al Seddon displays a platter from Uruapan, Mexico, which was made by the Tarascan Indians. A special lacquer used on the wood platter gives it a plastic look. The many articles displayed in the room, along with the furniture, come from Mexico where the Seddons lived two years.

Memories Of Mexico

Pie-Making Is Method Of Forming Friendships

A pie is a rare thing in Mexico, according to Mrs. Al Seddon, 1519 Tucson, and during her two years with her family in that country it wasn't unusual for the Mexican women to want the American to teach them the art of baking pies.

So she did. During the two years Mrs. Seddon was in Mexico with her husband, a missionary, she taught English to adults in a private school and one of her methods was showing the women how to cook pies, giving all the instructions in English. Not only did they learn to speak English, but they also learned to bake Dutch apple pie, a Latin-American favorite.

Mr. and Mrs. Seddon and their 14-year-old daughter, Kathy, lived in Morelia from 1957 until 1959. Morelia is a city of 100,000 population, located approximately 200 miles west of Mexico City. Their son, Ned, lived with them during the summers, and attended the University of Texas during the winter months.

Although the family lived in a Mexican neighborhood and most of their friends were Mexicans, the Seddons didn't believe they were expected to conform entirely to the Mexican way of life.

"We respected their customs. For instance, there are some things that we are used to doing that aren't acceptable for women in Mexico," explains Mrs. Seddon, "such as gardening or bicycle riding—so I didn't do them."

LARGE HOME

While in Morelia the Seddons lived in a three-bedroom, two-bath home with a living room large enough to accommodate a dining area at one end and table tennis at the other end—all for approximately $57 a month.

Seddon, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church and Spanish teacher at the high school, was the only member of the family who spoke Spanish fluently before arriving in Mexico. It took only a few trips to the market before Mrs. Seddon could shop with the ease of a full-blooded senora. Mrs. Seddon also studied Spanish at Universidad Michoacana and with a private tutor.

Although Mrs. Seddon learned to shop in the open markets in true Spanish fashion, she never became adjusted to bartering, and always paid the first price or did not buy. When the family returned to the states, it was hard for Mrs. Seddon to readjust to shopping in super markets and often she would find herself staring at the many products displayed.

"We learned to appreciate the siesta," comments Seddon, "but we never had time to participate, and we learned to wait on the

Oatmeal Cookies For Saturday Tea

OATMEAL COOKIES

1 1/4 cups rigid rolled oats
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/4 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 tbs. milk
1 tsp. vanilla

Grind oats fine. Sift together the flour, soda and salt into a mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients in order given and ground oats. Mix until smooth, about 2 minutes. Roll out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth to 1/8 inch thickness.

Cut into rounds with floured cutter. Bake on lightly greased cookie sheet in hot (400 degrees) oven until lightly browned, about 8 minutes. Sandwich cookies together with date or other filling.

Mexican people. Manana doesn't necessarily mean tomorrow to the Mexican, it may mean anytime after tomorrow.

During the two years spent in Morelia, Kathy and her mother spent three-fourths of the time left alone in their home, while Seddon traveled about the country teaching the people and living with them in thatched huts. While on these trips, the missionary's diet often consisted of tortillas and frijoles three times a day, and he verifies that they are the most healthful foods you can eat.

NEW METHODS

Rather than trying to change the Mexican people's culture, the Seddons concentrated on teaching the Mexicans about things that would apply to their own situations. Seddon wouldn't suggest to a farmer that he should buy a tractor; instead he would try to teach him new methods of plowing by hand.

"The people don't realize that the American housewife works," says Mrs. Seddon. "They think that she has gadgets and nothing to do. One day a delegation of neighborhood women came by to ask how I got my sheets so white. They had noticed them drying on the roof. When I explained to them that one reason was that they dried in the sun, one of the women, whose maid had been drying the clothes on a shaded patio, asked if she could put them on my roof."

Mrs. Seddon explains that she never had time to learn to cook

Creole Heritage From Spanish New Orleans

In the days when New Orleans was a Spanish colony, the cooks of the pleasure-loving city added many Spanish tricks to their already-famous cuisine. Olive oil from Spain was sold in barrels beside kegs of wine from France in the colorful Cathedral market place of the old city. They even imported the distinctive Spanish sausage, chorizo, for use in the Jambalaya, a rice dish which bears close resemblance to the Paella of Spain.

JAMBALAYA

Cube 1 pound lean pork and one center slice of ham. Saute in 2 tablespoons Spanish olive oil until lightly browned. Push to one side. Add 1 lb. chorizo (sausage flavored with paprika and garlic), brown on all sides; pour all but 1 tablespoon fat. Add 2 chopped onions, 2 cloves garlic, minced, a pinch of thyme and a teaspoon of minced parsley and cook until onion is soft but not brown.

Add 1 1/2 cups long grain rice, stir to blend, add a pinch of powdered cloves, a pinch of cayenne pepper and 4 1/2 cups water mixed with 5 bouillon cubes (or use 3 cups water, 3 bouillon cubes and a 1-pound can of tomatoes).

Bring to boil, lower heat, cover, simmer until all liquid is absorbed.

TROPICAL MEAT BALLS Soak 2 cups soft bread crumbs in 1/2 cup milk for 5 minutes. Meantime, saute 2 tablespoons minced onion in 1 tablespoon Spanish olive oil until light brown.

Add onion to 3/4 pound ground beef and 1/2 pound ground lean pork along with 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and 1 teaspoon Angostura bitters.

Combine with soaked bread crumbs and 1 lightly-beaten egg; blend well, then chill.

Form mixture into small balls and saute in small amount of olive oil until well browned on all sides. Four servings.

SAVORY SALAD

For a hearty and flavorful vegetable salad, toss 2 cooked cubed potatoes, 1 cup of cooked string beans, 1 teaspoon grated onion, and 1/2 cup of celery in 1/4 cup Spanish olive oil.

In true Mexican fashion because the women spend hours seasoning and preparing their meals. It was necessary for the American to disinfect all the vegetables in a chlorine and water solution before preparing them.

"Cooked germs are good," was the advice given Mrs. Seddon by a doctor before leaving for Mexico, which explains why she never feared cooking the meats bought in the market.

Here is the pie recipe that impressed the Mexican señoras:

DUTCH APPLE PIE

Line a 9-inch pie plate with favorite pastry recipe. Pour in one can of sliced pie apples; mix 1/4 cup sugar and 1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon and sprinkle over apples. Dot with small pieces of butter. Prepare a mixture of 1-3 cup butter (softened), 1/2 cup flour and 1/2 cup sugar until in a crumbly state.

Spread mixture over apples and place in oven heated to 425 degrees. Bake for 10 minutes, lower temperature to 375 degrees and continue to bake for 45 minutes or until done.

"We got to know the country and love the people," explains Mrs. Seddon. "and I wish every person from the states could go and stay a while so he could have a better appreciation of the Mexican people."

Seddon, who writes for a quarterly distributed to Mexico's Presbyterian churches, feels that after their daughter finishes high school they may have a chance to return to Mexico.

table salad, toss 2 cooked cubed potatoes, 1 cup of cooked string beans, 1 teaspoon grated onion, and 1/2 cup of celery in 1/4 cup Spanish olive oil.

Soup Dressed Up With Seasoning

New seasonings for an old favorite.

CURRIED MONGOLE SOUP
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed tomato soup
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed green pea soup
1 chicken bouillon cube
2 cups water
1/2 tsp. curry powder
1 tsp. dried crushed thyme
Garlic powder
Turn soups, just as they come from the cans, into a saucepan with the bouillon cube, water, curry powder, thyme and a pinch or two of garlic powder.

Heat slowly, whisking or stirring with a fork occasionally, to make smooth and blend flavors. Makes 6 servings. Less curry powder may be added for mild flavor.

Good Breakfasts

The extra minutes of shut-eye do not make up for the "black coffee menu, only" at the breakfast table. It's smarter to start the day with a nutritionally sound, high protein meal that will satisfy those hunger pangs until lunch.

Veal, Ham Make News

Is veal included very often in the meals at your house? If not, try serving it soon for a refreshingly new main dish. The mild, delicate flavor of veal will be a real treat for many occasions.

Veal Divine is an appealing version of veal round steak which is cooked in a sauce of mushroom soup and cheddar cheese. It's bound to be popular with your family. The round steak is cut into serving-size pieces, or cutlets, and breaded.

This veal dish is first browned, then braised in mushroom soup. Cheese is sprinkled on top of the meat near the end of the cooking time.

VEAL DIVINE

2 veal round steaks, cut into 6 pieces (6 cutlets)
1 egg, beaten
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2-3 cup dry bread crumbs
3 tbsps. lard or drippings
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed mushroom soup
1/2 cup water
3 slices "boiled" ham, cut in half
1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese
Paprika
Pound steaks on both sides. Mix together egg, salt and pepper. Dip veal in egg mixture and then in crumbs.
Brown in lard or drippings. Add water to mushroom soup and mix well. Pour soup over veal.
Cover tightly and simmer on top of range or bake in a slow oven.

Put Chinese Touch Into Roast Duckling

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

You're right in style if you want to give your cooking a Chinese touch. All over the country cooks are using tricks from this fascinating cuisine to vary everyday dishes.

So here comes roast duck with a Chinese-type fruit sauce to pique appetites.

Even though we suggest roasting the duck at a low temperature its skin will be crispy as can be if you follow our recipe directions.

Serve the duck with lots of steamed rice—there's plenty of sauce to give zest.

ROAST DUCKLING WITH MANDARIN SAUCE

1 4 to 5 lb. duckling
Salt and pepper
1 clove garlic (crushed)
2 tbsps. honey
1 tsp. brown gravy flavoring
Mandarin Sauce
Thaw duck if frozen; wash, drain and pat outside and cavity dry.
Rub cavity with salt, pepper and garlic. Skewer neck skin to back. Tie drumstick ends together.
Place on rack in shallow roasting pan—have rack level or slightly higher than top of pan.
Roast in a slow (325 degrees) oven until drumstick is soft to touch—2 1/2 to 3 hours.
Remove duck; pour off drippings. Increase oven temperature to hot (400 degrees).
Brush duck skin with honey mixed with gravy flavoring. Line pan with foil and return duck (on rack) to oven for 30 minutes, basting occasionally.
Serve with Mandarin Sauce.

Makes 4 servings—with plenty of sauce.

MANDARIN SAUCE

1 can (13 1/2 oz.) pineapple chunks
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges
3 tbsps. cornstarch
1 tsp. soy sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
2 tbsps. cider vinegar
1/4 cup dark molasses
1/2 tsp. ginger
Drain pineapple and oranges; add enough water to their syrup, if necessary to make 2 cups. Gradually stir syrups into cornstarch to make smooth.
Stir in soy sauce, mustard, vinegar, molasses and ginger.
Cook and stir over moderate heat until thickened and clear.
Add drained pineapple and oranges.
Simmer about 5 minutes to blend flavors and heat thoroughly.

Double Sandwich

Combine a plentiful fruit with heat for an unusual open face sandwich. Place a lettuce leaf and two "boiled" ham slices on toast bread. Then spread each sandwich with a mixture of 2 table spoons whole cranberry sauce and 1 teaspoon mayonnaise.

Special Stew

Serve beef stew topped with biscuit "hearts." Cut the biscuit dough with a cookie cutter and bake them on the stew.

Doesn't Mind Height

Marie Windsor believes that if nature makes you taller than average, you should make the most of it.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Actress Makes The Most Of Height

BY LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — A producer once told me that if Marie Windsor was of average height, with her personality and talent, she would have been one of the top-name stars in Hollywood. Not until he made this remark was I aware of Marie's height.

"Did I ever worry you being tall?" I asked her the next time we met.

"When I was in high school and towered over the boys in the class, they didn't like it and neither did I," she replied. "But, fortunately, my family sent me to dancing school and I handled my body well. At first I made the usual mistakes, I tried to play down my height with flat shoes, which only calls attention to being tall.

"A producer gave me wonderful advice. He said, 'Marie, if your height doesn't bother you, it won't bother other people.' After that I had no more tall-girl problems. I picked out my clothes, buying what I wanted to wear and not asking myself if it would make me look taller. I prefer sheaths. I know the rule says a tall girl should break her line, but I feel that full skirts are for hiding large hips."

We were chatting at CBS and near us was a little actress who complained that she found a lipstick brush difficult to use.

"I got a crooked mouth," she said. "A brush is worth working with." Marie offered, "You get a much neater line. I remember at first I had trouble, too, but someone told me to hold my head back and look in a mirror at the upper lip and to hold my head down for the lower lip. This is a sure way

Garden Clubs Meet For Varied Programs

Garden Clubs met Wednesday in the homes of members for programs based on planting and on arranging. Announcement was made of Flower Show School, No. One, slated for April 11-13 in the old Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College.

OASIS GARDEN CLUB

"Planting for the Summer" was the subject of a discussion brought for members of the Oasis Garden Club when they met Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. M. C. Stelling.

Mrs. C. D. Martyn gave pointers in planting bulbs and corms, stressing the importance of proper preparation of the soil and the use of bone meal. She suggested dusting gladiolus corms with chlordane be-

Police Chief Is Speaker

Jay Banks, chief of police, and Bob Darland, juvenile officer, were guest speakers at Wednesday's meeting of the Child Study Club with Mrs. David Hodnett, 1407 Wood.

A question and answer session was held, and the officers pointed out that most of the trouble they encounter consists of vandalism, property destruction and minor theft. According to Banks, the rate of delinquency in Big Spring is lower than in most cities. He also mentioned that there are 130 million juveniles in the nation and only 30 million delinquents.

It was reported that the federation of city clubs has voted to return the club's money through a certified accountant. Mrs. Luther McDaniel, Mrs. Tommy Hubbard and Mrs. Zack Gray were appointed as a nominating committee.

Sixteen members were present, and Mrs. Landon Burchell was co-hostess.

Next meeting will be April 12 at the home of Mrs. Gray, 1305 Pennsylvania, with Mrs. Bob Tawar, cohostess.

fore planting to lessen the danger of disease and pests.

"Propagation by Layering" was the topic of Mrs. J. D. Leonard's talk; she told members to bruise or cut the stem of a shrub before covering it with soil and sever the growth from the parent plant after roots have formed.

Air layering was explained by Mrs. Jimmy Beale, who uses the method on a fiddle leaf fig, by making a cut in the stem, inserting root hormones and wrapping in damp sphagnum moss and a covering for about four or five weeks.

In round table of questions and answers on gardening problems was conducted at the close of the program.

Mrs. W. F. Taylor will be the next hostess, when a program on drying and arranging flowers will be presented by Faye and Myrtle Harrel of Snyder.

PLANTERS GARDEN CLUB
Mrs. D. H. Hines was speaker for members of the Planters Garden Club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. C. Martin.

In preparation for the flower show school slated for April, Mrs. Hines discussed the three basic points of flower arranging, design,

Club Study Is Music Of Texas

A program of Texas music and music by Texans was presented for members of The Music Study Club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jake Douglas Jr. Hostesses were Mrs. Rene Brown and Mrs. W. J. Leach.

Elsie Willis was leader of the program, and she discussed not only Texas composers, but symphonies and other forms of music which have been written by Texans.

"Mary Alone" by David Guion, was sung by Mrs. Don Newsom, and "Pique," by Bach, was played by Mrs. Douglas Weibe. The composition had been transcribed by Samaroff, a Texan.

Guion's arrangement of "The Lord Is My Shepherd" was sung by Mrs. Carl Marcum; Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, pianist, presented "Texas, Our Texas."

The club will meet next in the home of Mrs. Royce Womack.

Measurements Are Getting Larger Among Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese women are no longer the tiny kimono-clad dolls that prewar Japan was noted for. They're growing into big girls.

Recent statistics compiled by an education ministry survey shows that the average height of 15-year-old girls between 1909 and 1959 has increased from 53 to 61.04 inches.

Measurements for 20-year-old women during the 60-year period: height — 60.44 to 61.24 inches; weight — 105.5 to 111.70 pounds; chest — 31.64 to 32.74 inches.

Experts attribute all this to marked changes in the Japanese way of living, such as better diet, popularization of sports, and improvement of dwelling facilities and environment.

Today's children in primary and junior high schools are larger than youngsters were before World War II.

Striking features: Legs of 16 to 13-year-old Japanese children have grown remarkably longer and girls have bigger chest measurements. Some schools in Tokyo are already complaining that old desks and chairs will need replacements for the new generation.

What about the Japanese male? According to the education ministry survey, he is keeping pace with the Japanese female.

Garden Club Plans Park Workshop

A park workshop was planned by Mrs. Guy Cook at the meeting of the Four O'clock Garden Club Wednesday with Mrs. Glen Shepard, Sand Springs, hostess.

A membership tea for next month was discussed, and Mrs. Bill Tubb presented a program on Garden Club Federations, outlining their history.

1941 Study Club

Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser presented the program for members of the 1941 Study Club of Coahoma, Monday evening, in the home of Mrs. H. B. Beard; cohostesses were Mrs. Ruth Smith and Mrs. James Renfro. "Music Appreciation" was the subject of Mrs. Houser's discussion, which was heard by 17 members and four guests.

AAUW Unit Has Meeting

Mrs. Keith McMillin was hostess for the Mental Health Study Group of AAUW Wednesday evening at her home, when reports on projects of the unit were heard.

At the present time, Nell Brown is teaching Sunday school lessons each week to the patients at the hospital. Helping with the recreation are Mrs. Bruce Dunn, Mrs.

ROUND TOWN With LUCILLE PICKLE

Even if the green wasn't coming out on the shrubs, grass and trees, I would know I was getting along toward spring without the aid of a calendar. It's the magazine and other publication salesmen that come to the door by the score. There are any number of excellent reasons why they are making this particular approach, and I believe them all but if a housewife subscribed to them all and helped all the worthy causes there would be little room in any home for anything but magazines and papers.

Yesterday there was a salesman for another paper that I haven't been asked about before. I told him no but he didn't seem to hear that one, so I told him I wasn't interested but that sailed by and before I could tell him anything else, he was asking me if I sewed.

Now that I could have opened a storehouse of words because there are few people in town, or anywhere for that matter, who have had one mealy sheath type dress partially sewed together for the past four years. Because I can't sew it is still neatly wrapped in another half-sized piece of material and stored in a closet. I have recently taken it from its resting place again and looked at it, fitted it together by hand and decided I haven't learned to sew any better during the winter months.

Can I sew, he asks. The no only brought a new flow of words from him... with the wonderful instructions I can get from his paper, sewing will be easy. I've had experts shake their heads in defeat. I don't think I can learn to sew and with or without his publication. I don't think I'm going to catch on. This is a sad plight, but I didn't tell him the salesman about it. I don't think he was selling many subscriptions anyway, even if he was selling 10 years worth for the price of Palm Sunday is the day for the 25th annual breakfast for members of the Bykots Sunday School Class and other interested people of the area. The First Baptist women's class is having their affair at Cosden Country Club at 8:30 a.m. on March 25. They are issuing an open invitation to all who would like to join them for the breakfast, which will cost $1, and to hear the Sunday school lesson, which will be taught by the former teacher Mrs. W. J. LLOYD of Plover who will come here especially for the occasion.

Reservations should be in by March 24 and may be made by telephoning Mrs. A. R. M. O. U. R. LONG, AM 4-5343.

We had a delightful visit with Mrs. JOE BLUM downtown recently. The Blums are back home again after living in Lubbock for several years. They are getting their store ready to go back in business and all of us are glad they're back. They are living in the George Brooks home in Washington Place.

MR. and MRS. ROSS PHILLIPS of Long Island, N. Y., are visiting in the home of his sister and her husband, MR. and MRS. PREACH MARTIN, Phillips is a former pilot for the Venezuelan government.

MRS. GENE BEST, Mrs. P. W. CLOUD and MRS. RICHARD BRUCE were over Saturday for the Tasting Tea and hoped to get pointers on putting on one for their Snyder Garden Clubs. The Big Spring women could give them a lot of good advice on what to and what not to do—experience is a dear teacher.

Stiff Task

Try starching only the ruffles and tie backs on curtains. They'll be easier to iron and fall more gracefully when hung.

GS Troop Has Cookout, Elects

Chosen vice president was Ann Heath; secretary, Judy Canler; treasurer, Judy Houston, and reporter, Laura Thomas. Diane Morris will be hospital chairwoman.

Plans were discussed for the cookie sale, which will begin Friday.

Baptist WMS Notes Prayer Week

Frankfurters Are Quick Main Dish

Time was when frankfurters were only picnic fare. But today frankfurters, or "hot dogs," as known by many, have gone modern.

Frankfurters have met the demand of the modern homemaker for time-saving meats. Whether they are served in casseroles, main-course salads, sliced for sandwiches, or broiled with various accompaniments, franks can satisfy this ever-present need for speedy meat dishes.

Here is a quick oven dish. . . Frankfurter -Spaghetti Casserole. The subtle blending of the flavor of the meat with the spaghetti, along with the nippy and colorful additions of chopped pimiento and green pepper, creates a dish your family will relish.

FRANKFURTER - SPAGHETTI CASSEROLE

- 1 lb. frankfurters
 - 1 pkg. (8 ozs.) long spaghetti
 - ¼ cup butter or margarine
 - ¼ cup flour
 - 2 cups milk
 - 2 tps. salt
 - 2 tps. chopped pimiento
 - 2 tps. chopped green pepper
 - ½ cup grated cheddar cheese
- Slice frankfurters crosswise in ¼ inch thick slices. Cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water. Drain and rinse.
- Melt butter or margarine. Add flour, stirring until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly until thickened. Add salt, pimiento, green pepper and drained spaghetti.

Arrange a layer of frankfurter slices in the bottom of a greased casserole, and alternate with a layer of spaghetti mixture.

Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. 6 servings.

Casserole Is Easy

To make this a complete dinner in a dish, add the vegetables to the ingredients and offer a choice of vegetables.

QUICK AND EASY TUNA-CHIP CASSEROLE

(Makes 4 servings)

- ½ tsp. salt
 - ½ tsp. pepper
 - ¼ tsp. marjoram
 - ¼ tsp. dry mustard
 - 1 2-3 cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk
 - 2 tps. lemon juice
 - 3 cups slightly crushed potato chips
 - 1½ cups cooked asparagus, broccoli or green beans
 - 1 cup well-drained tuna
 - ½ cup sliced almonds
 - 1 cup grated, process-type American cheese
- Combine salt, pepper, marjoram, dry mustard and milk. Slowly add lemon juice. Stir constantly, to blend.
- Place 2 cups potato chips in 8-inch square pan. Arrange vegetables, tuna, almonds and grated cheese in alternate layers.
- Pour milk mixture over all. Top with remaining potato chips. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes. Serve immediately.

Garlic Not Needed For Shrimp Meal

Use another seasoning if you don't like garlic.

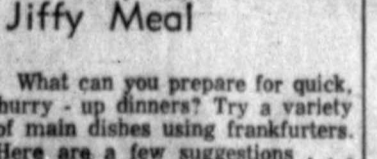

SKILLET SHRIMP

- 1 lb. medium shrimp (about 28)
 - 2 cups water
 - ¼ tsp. salt
 - ¼ tsp. each peppercorns and whole allspice
 - 1 bay leaf
 - ¼ cup butter
 - 1 clove garlic (crushed)
- Wash shrimp in cold water; drain. In a 10-inch skillet slowly bring shrimp, water, salt, peppercorns, allspice and bay leaf to just boiling; cover and simmer about 5 minutes or until shells are pink. Shrimp can be turned once with a large slotted spoon.
- Drain; shell and devein shrimp; cut in half lengthwise. Melt butter with garlic in same clean dry skillet; add shrimp and toss to coat with seasoned butter and to heat. Makes 3 servings.
- Note: If shrimp are frozen, thaw before using.

Jiffy Meal

What can you prepare for quick, hurry-up dinners? Try a variety of main dishes using frankfurters. Here are a few suggestions . . . slice them for casseroles or salads, bake wrapped in biscuit dough, or split lengthwise and broil topped with mashed potatoes. Frankfurters come ready to eat. They need only to be heated when you want to serve them hot.

A Devotional For Today

This my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. (Luke 15:24.)
PRAYER: Eternal Father, we thank Thee that in Thy wisdom Thou hast placed the solitary in families, and that Thy loving-kindness provides for our every need, comfort, and counsel. Guide us as we go through the growing pains of becoming mature members of Thy family. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

A Riddle With A Tough Solution

An economic paradox is evident in the report of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg on employment and unemployment. Both established new records simultaneously.

The report showed 5,705,000 jobs as compared with the previous post-war peak of 5,437,000 in 1958. But in 1959 the ratio of jobs to total work force was 7.8; the current ratio is 6.8.

At the same time the report showed 64,655,000 employed, which easily outstrips previous reports.

The illogical has a logical explanation — the population is increasing more rapidly than new jobs are being created. In this is the heart of the riddle, for it takes jobs to produce goods and to generate the payrolls to buy goods.

While there has been pressure for more and more job opportunities, there has been a corresponding pressure to reduce costs through mechanization and automation. Many business heads feel they are doing well to sustain the work force at its present level, let alone increase it, especially with scales constantly rising. The answer has been to find increased productivity per worker other than by human means.

An upturn in business will doubtless ease a great deal of the tensions (and there are increasing signs among basic industries that the upturn will not be long in making itself felt), but the eventual mitigation of the problem will have to be found in new goods and new services, new marketing techniques, new ways to increase personal productivity which in reality is new wealth.

How Times Have Changed

To those who can remember creeping along in a wagon behind a span of mules trudging down lonesome ruts that snaked across virgin pastures, the accomplishment of Maj. Bob White this week seems a little weird.

In the old days, the prairie schooner maybe made a couple of miles an hour. In the X-15 equipped with its new 77,000-pound thrust engine, Maj. White streaked through the blue at 2,650 m.p.h. or possibly even 2,800 m.p.h. if instruments bear out conjectures of the technicians. The spread was great enough to blister the paint on the sleek experimental craft.

But wait! Maj. White only gave it two-thirds of the throttle. He had no doubt that the mission (4,000 m.p.h. an hour and 50 to 100 miles of altitude) will be attained easily.

Of course, a fuel capability for more than seconds or a few minutes of flight is not even remotely in sight at the moment, but if ultimately some breakthrough is found in this area, it is not inconceivable that such a craft could circle the globe in less time than it took to travel by horseback a generation ago from Coahoma to Big Spring. If your age has more problems than any in history, it also has produced far more wonders which strain the imagination.

David Lawrence

What's The Deal On RB-47 Airmen?

WASHINGTON—A mysterious silence hovers over Capitol Hill. American lives have been lost through the wanton act of the Soviet government, but nothing is being done about it. The RB-47 was flying over the high seas at least 50 miles from land when it was shot down by the Communists last July 1. Yet the Moscow government gets away with a flagrant violation of international law.

It was to vindicate this very principle—freedom of the seas—that the United States entered World War I after similar attacks on American ships by German submarines.

WHEN THE U-2 was forced down last May over Russian territory, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee rushed into a public inquiry. This made headlines for several days, and the Russian press exploited the hearing and got considerable comfort out of it. The committee's objective, of course, was merely to discredit the Republican administration. Now the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is dominated by a majority of Democrats—would have to be in the position of criticizing a Democratic administration. So no such investigation of what happened is being ordered. Nor is there to be any formal report apparently on the failure of the State Department to pursue its protests.

THERE WAS justification perhaps for silence during the period that the two surviving American airmen were in jail. Negotiations for their release were successfully undertaken by the Kennedy administration after such efforts were rebuffed during the previous months. When the fliers were returned to the United States, a curious set of developments occurred. First, the fliers were met at the airport by the President himself and told to keep mum for the time being about what had happened. They were forbidden to talk to the press. Then, after the lapse of a month, they were allowed to be interviewed. But only a limited amount of information has been revealed.

THE ESSENTIAL point disclosed, however is that the plane was over the Barents Sea at least 50 miles from the Soviet coast. This confirms that the American rights were plainly transgressed, the impression prevails that the Kennedy administration even made some concessions to obtain the release of the two fliers.

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, Republican, has just asked Congress to investigate this point so as to determine what ransom price, if any, the American government paid for the release of the fliers. Circumstantially, suspicion has been aroused by the decision of the administration here to resume negotiations with the Soviet government for the inauguration of a commercial air service between Moscow and New York—something anxiously sought by the Russians so as to enable them to send more quickly to Moscow their spy information obtained from agents in this country. It's being asked whether the concession for the release of the fliers was a promise to reopen negotiations for the commercial air service.

THE ARGUMENT probably will be made by the Soviets that they have a right to attack any plane or ship that approaches their shores. In time of war this is conceded to be an enemy's privilege. But the United States and the Soviet Union today are supposed to be at peace. If the "cold war" means that the rules of "hot war" are to be applied, then the United States and other Western countries are missing a bet in allowing Russia's trawlers to "fish" in waters so close to American submarine bases here and abroad. A Soviet fishing vessel approached New London when one of the latest American submarines was launched last year. When the new submarine tender from the United States was arriving at a port in Scotland last week, a Russian trawler was in the same vicinity taking pictures. Would the Americans have had the right to fire on the trawler? Under the current concept in Moscow, any vessel engaged in military observation can be attacked without warning and destroyed, no matter where it is on the ocean.

THERE WERE four other airmen aboard the ill-fated American plane. The body of one has been recovered. But what happened to the other three? The American government says it doesn't know, and the Russians profess also not to know.

The principle is clear—the Russians are responsible for the loss of four American airmen. Will the administration insist upon redress? Will it ask for clarification of the issues involved, so that further incidents may be avoided? Or will the hush-hush policy that began recently be continued, in the hope presumably of avoiding any sharp talk with the Soviets on any subject whatsoever? If so, then the treaty will gain ground that appeasement is a better way to run foreign relations than with firmness and resoluteness.

The American people are, of course, entitled to know just what the Kennedy administration's attitude is toward the loss of American citizens on the high seas resulting from a deliberate attack without warning on American lives and property.

Kennedy Has Subtle News Technique

WASHINGTON (AP)—On TV screens around the country President Kennedy's news conferences look quick and simple. They're quick. But they are not simple.

He's now had six meetings with the press, enough to show at least this much: He follows a deliberate pattern which he established himself; and his technique, much more subtle, is still developing.

THIS IS the pattern: From the very beginning, Kennedy to win election by a squeak, has used his news conferences to get across an impression of himself as a man in motion.

Example: The series of announcements he makes at the start of each conference.

Wednesday there were eight, ranging from plans for a White House reception to orders he has given to relieve hardship among Indian and Eskimo children. All could have been announced by his press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

By doing this himself Kennedy stays in the public eye as a very busy President. He is, indeed, busy as his various programs and messages testify.

The news conference announcements, even though many are of secondary importance, add to the total impression.

HIS TECHNIQUE:

He handles himself easily, fluidly, and fluently. He's relaxed. He's not nervous because he did his homework, knows what he's talking about, took the trouble to inform himself before confronting questioners.

Two hallmarks of President Eisenhower's news conferences were vagueness and generalities. This was particularly true in his early White House days. Kennedy at most times is specific.

Eisenhower, because of his lifetime in the Army, didn't know government details well when he took office. Kennedy has an advantage here: Because of his 14 years in Congress, he knows government pretty much inside out.

A good example of Kennedy's specific knowledge was in his statements Wednesday on federal aid to education. But his technique began to show a change Wednesday. The best example, again, was on federal aid to education.

WHILE EISENHOWER rambled, Kennedy usually has been direct and terse. Wednesday he was for the most part direct but less terse. He not only explained his thinking on federal aid at great length, but did it repeatedly.

It looked like a deliberate, planned effort to educate the public, through press and radio, on the problem as he sees it. That, while federal aid to public schools is needed, similar aid to parochial schools hits constitutional blocks.

This change in technique—long explanation which took up a lot of time—gave newsmen less chance to ask varied questions and cover more ground. The result, from a news standpoint, was pretty dull.

That ought to give Kennedy something to chew on. He can defeat his purpose—educating the public on his viewpoint—if, by long explanations, he winds up diminishing public interest in what he has to say.

It Is To Laugh

NEW YORK (AP)—Get your funnybones tuned up, folks. You'll want to be ready for the big event coming up April 3-10: National Laugh Week.

Some of you may be out of condition for this, for lack of enough things to laugh about these days. In that case, you'll doubtless want to prepare for the big hi-ha fest. So here is our handy program of easy exercises, especially designed to ginger up your guttural by April 3:

For the rest of this week: Try smiling for a minute or two once an hour—while working on your income tax return.

Second week: Turn on a big grin at assorted moments—such as when you keep getting threatening letters about overdue bills.

Third week: Practice giggling—prepare for the big hi-ha fest. Junior spilling a gallon of molasses on the living room rug.

Fourth week: Time now for the restrained belly laugh. An excellent occasion would be upon learning you've got to have a new roof put on the house.

Fifth week: You should be ready now for the big showdown test: The howler. Do it while considering that your rich uncle has cut you out of his will.

Friends, if you can do all that, you are obviously ready for National Laugh Week.

National Laugh Week is a project of National Laugh Enterprises of New York. A memo from the NLE says:

"The National Laugh Enterprises was formed in 1945 to promote a national sense of humor. It represents the National Association of Gagwriters, which tries to discover, develop and encourage creative performers and writers in the Seven Lauffing Arts—radio-TV, stage, screen, cartoons, literature, music and dance."

The NLE also sponsors meetings at which people get together and laugh, anytime and anywhere they feel like it.

Furthermore, it has a broad program to try to keep people chuckling all the year round: Save the Pun Week in January, National Lauffing Week in April, National Humor Week in June and Pass the Laugh Week in October.

Between times, the NLE tries to maneuver the mirth movement with a number of projects.

One of these is, according to the NLE, a "humor report to the press," presented annually to Congress.

"Remember," says the NLE memo, "humor is therapy. Won't you join our crusade for a happier world through humor? Laugh. It's good for you."

Diabetics Have Many Choices In Drinks

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Your column about excessive drinking of sodas, beer and liquors by diabetics was very interesting. What is desirable for them besides skim milk?"

"I was also interested in your advice as to seeing a doctor at once. I know a great many people who say diabetes is a disease as old as the hills; you just have it, and probably give it to the next generation, etc.

"I hope you will write more about this—M. L."

Finding liquids is no great problem for diabetics. They can drink milk, water, tea or coffee (with-out sugar, or sweetened with saccharin), and even a great variety of soft drinks which are sweetened that way.

The purpose is to keep the amount of sugar in the system down to a level that the person with diabetes can handle, either with or without insulin, depending on the particular case.

Alcoholic drinks, from the standpoint of being converted into calories, thus are bound to be harmful to a diabetic quite aside from the dangers of alcohol itself. Sodas are bad for the same reason candy is bad: sugar content.

Yes, it's true that diabetes is as old as the hills. But so are most of the diseases known to man. A diabetic can't be cured by going to the doctor but you can add years to your life, avoid the serious risk of blindness and of having small wounds or injuries turn into chronic sores, and you can retain your full physical vigor.

I'll agree, however, that "you probably give it to the next generation." As a generality, that is true.

That very fact is one of the difficult problems for which we must find answers. Thirty or 40 years ago, people with severe diabetes died quickly, sometimes within a few months of the time the disease was discovered. (It's a difficult disease to detect early, except by analysis to disclose sugar in the urine, or a blood-sugar test.)

The result was that, until the discovery of insulin, people with severe diabetes didn't often live long enough to have children. Now they do.

If husband and wife both have diabetes, or both come from families in which diabetes has been frequent, there are several times as much chance of having diabetic children than if only one of the parents carries the tendency.

Thus one thing we can do is spread this knowledge.

Otherwise, unless we can devise some other method of preventing family transmission of diabetes, it looks as though we must expect this to be an increasingly prevalent problem.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a little granddaughter who doesn't have bowel movements for a week—once she went for a week and four days. I would appreciate any information.—Mrs. C. L."

While I have frequently warned against insisting that a child have movements daily or even often (it is perfectly normal for some of us to have a slower "schedule" than others), such delays as you cite are occasionally found. They give rise to the possibility of a redundant (that is, excessively large) colon, or Hirschsprung's disease, which involves the motor function of the colon. And X-ray (barium enema) may be required to establish the diagnosis, after which your doctor will be able to suggest such treatment as may be warranted.

Note to H. B.: "Peeling" usually occurs with scarlet fever, but this is not a positive sign. Mild cases of scarlet fever, as we see them these days, can be confused with roseola, German measles, allergy rashes, virus infections, etc.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim

Custom That Needs To Be A Requirement

It was recently discovered, I understand, that the City of Big Spring is not obligated to hold public hearings on the annual budget. Apparently, the city charter does not require that a hearing be held on the budget before it is adopted.

In spite of this, the city commission and city officials plan to hold a hearing anyway, as has been the custom these many years. To miss a hearing on a city budget would probably be the first in the city's history and an unhealthy precedent.

The next step might be to correct this situation. If there is no provision to make a public hearing mandatory, then such a provision should be adopted. The public's business should be conducted in the public eye. And of all public affairs, the budget certainly should be well-aired for all to see and hear. Then, if they do not appear, silence gives consent.

IN THE PAST FEW YEARS, the public in Big Spring has thrown full support behind the city commission and city officials. Many programs have been developed and most of them have been endorsed by the public. This is particularly true of the record setting 4.3 million dollar capital improvements program, the master plan, etc.

Without proper explanation and good public airing before-hand, it is doubtful that the voters would have endorsed this program. But public explanation pointed out its value and the people approved the program for their own benefit.

The annual city budget is the same. It should find favor with the people every year, before it is adopted.

Last year, the city commission established some sort of record with a marathon study of the budget that continued into the wee hours of the night and most of a day one Sunday. Every single figure in the budget was questioned and every single figure was supported.

THE COMMISSION MAY have been the best informed, regarding their proposed expenditures, of any in history. City business in general has been conducted in the open, with ample notice given on proposed changes, no matter how controversial. And this is as it should be.

All of which sets a precedent for setting this technical matter of a public hearing on the budget right. Whatever steps are necessary should be taken simply to spell it out as a requirement.

And the only way to be sure that this is the case is to make it law.

Sharing The Minimum Wage Burden

WASHINGTON — Ghandi once proposed that we destroy all industrial machinery to insure more full employment—and I'm at the point of suggesting we destroy all statistics to restore honesty in political thinking.

It is a little-headed axiom in this town that you can prove anything with figures. Do we have a recession? Is unemployment alarmingly high? Where's the cost of living? Is forced integration good for real estate values? Well, you can take your pick of answers. Statistics can be found to back you up.

THE ALTERNATIVE to taking bogus answers is to fall back upon the witness of common sense and experience—and this may be what Congress will have to do on a minimum wage bill. The statistics are so contradictory, and ignorance is so dense, that senators and representatives may be forced to think the matter out for themselves — of all things! The pros and cons of the argument are statistically defended somewhat as follows:

Demo — Laborites who favor a bigger and broader minimum wage (raising it gradually from $1 an hour to an eventual $1.25 for 4.3 million additional workers) say that this means more jobs — and that several statistical surveys prove it. An AFL-CIO witness before the Senate Labor Committee cited Labor Department studies of six areas in the period following the 1956 hike of minimum wage (from 75 cents to $1). He said the hike was followed by a business boom and increased jobs in these communities.

CONSERVATIVES who favor a milder bill or none at all declare that raising minimum wage by 25 per cent will hurt small business, which cannot afford larger payrolls and marginal workers whose skills are not worth as much as $1.25 an hour. The passage of a strong bill ($-95 by Senator McNamara) instead of a mild one ($-256 by Senator Dirksen) would result in stepped-up automation and price increases. It would disemploy 500,000 persons within six months of enactment.

Well, what is the truth? A truth-seeking congressman, I believe, would have to fall back upon his own gumption. He might reason somewhat as follows:

HUMANITARIANISM is said to be one reason for minimum wage. Nobody in our society can maintain health and decency, it is said, on less than a wage of $50 per week (40 hours at $1.25). Well, if this be true, it amounts to a social obligation. The burden should not be borne by one segment of the nation, the small businessmen, who would pay nearly all the new wage increases. The burden ought rightly to be borne by the whole society, in the form of a sales tax.

Economics is said to be another reason for a higher, broader minimum wage. Its advocates contend that the additional purchasing power will stimulate sales. But, again, if such a boon can be bestowed upon the nation by a $10-a-week pay raise of low-income persons, why not take it out of the public till? Why should the bosses of these workers be made to pay for something that will benefit the whole country? Again, why not a tax-supported subsidy for the underpaid?

ANY CONGRESSMAN who thinks out minimum wage along these lines will find himself in trouble with the Demo-Laborites. They want to do something nice for the working man, but not out of their own pockets. It is the same with Liberal politicians. They promised last election year to get increased wages for the underpaid who have a lot of votes. But it was a something-for-nothing proposition, obtainable by soaking the profit-making businessman. The proposition would not be nearly so popular, not a bit popular, in fact — if everybody were asked to dig down and pay his share.

This, I say, is how the thinking, truth-seeking congressman might work the matter out.

Problems Of The Peace Corps

WASHINGTON—The overwhelming response to the Peace Corps shows once again the deep strain of idealism that is an important part of the American character. Americans, particularly young Americans, are earnestly searching for some "moral equivalent of war" that will challenge their abilities and give them the sense of joining in an enterprise larger than personal gain.

THE SPIRIT is there and by the thousands young people are coming forward who want to put their talents to use in the difficult and demanding situations created by the tide of nationalism in Asia and Africa. But while this is a magnificent concept it is also full of the most perilous pitfalls. And unless it is administered with the utmost care and conscientiousness the net result can be almost more harm than good.

Those already familiar with volunteer efforts to send teachers and technicians to underdeveloped countries stress above everything else the problem of acceptance. They must be wanted and wanted not as saviors and innovators but as modest and devoted servants of the new national order.

THE DEPENDENCE of an ex-colonial nation on the talents of its ex-colonial masters and on others of the same race and culture acts as a constant irritant on the sensitivity and pride of even the most levelheaded persons in those nations where freedom is raw and new.

Even after members of the Peace Corps have been invited in they will have to realize that a great many people in the country to which they are assigned will regard them with suspicion and hostility.

The campus wonder boy will not necessarily make the best Peace Corpsman, according to those who know the problem at firsthand. Those with experience put the prerequisites in the following order: adaptability and flexibility, maturity, professional qualifications and motives.

THOSE WHO SEE themselves in the role of noble Messiahs had better stay home. They will only be frustrated, while they alienate those they are seeking to help. The ideal candidate for the Peace Corps must have the patience of Job, the forbearance of a saint and the digestive system of an ostrich.

The first question in putting the Corps together is whether the screening process will be sufficiently effective to weed out the misfits and detect the young who are intellectually and emotionally equipped for an exacting assignment.

IF THE CONCEPT of the Corps can be expanded, as President Kennedy has suggested, to cover services in this country it will help to win acceptance overseas. For, according to those working intensively at making the experiment a success, this will answer the sensitive and suspicious in the newly developing nations who say, "You have some bad spots right at home and wouldn't you do better to stay there and clean them up?"

One idea put into the hopper is for the President to propose a United Nations Peace Corps, of which the American Corps would be part. This would do away with any problem of acceptance. Individual countries could then decide what Peace Corpsmen they would invite in, and in that way there would be no question of the Corps becoming a mask for Communist agents using it as a means to get entry.

WHILE THIS IS still in the tentative idea stage there is something so yeasty and exciting about the whole concept that it cannot be ruled out. Once these things get started they tend to run away with even the boldest innovators.

'Mary, Mary' Slick Trifle Marked By Busy Acting

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—The gas have all the lines in "Mary, Mary," the new show at Broadway's Helen Hayes Theater. And maybe that's enough.

Whipped up by best-seller author Jean Kerr, the slick trifle arrived Wednesday night with a cast headed by Barbara Bel Geddes, Barry Nelson and Michael Rennie.

Giving a slight twist to the old romance triangle, the frolic concerns a couple reunited instead of separated by the ardent wolf at the door.

Since the outcome is obvious almost as soon as the curtain goes up, "Mary, Mary" pads along to finale with an assembly-line assortment of those topical jokes that raise howls of glee at a cocktail party.

Miss Bel Geddes, as the wife, Nelson, the husband, and Rennie, the interloper, behave, however, as though they were more than cartoons.

Also present are Betsy Von Furstenburg, a rich girl more interested in health diets than compatibility, and John Cromwell, an elderly adviser on taxes and tangles.

Seriously Ill

Actress Elizabeth Taylor has pneumonia and is seriously ill in London. She has been ill with influenza and was treated for a lung congestion.

Liz Needing Doctor To Let Her Leave

LONDON (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor felt so much better today that she needed her doctors to let her leave the hospital.

"Her doctors took this as an excellent sign," said one of her close friends at the London Clinic.

"She's virtually off the danger list," said the film beauty's personal physician, Dr. C. H. Goldman, "and will probably be taken off it tonight."

"She complains about being in some pain," he added.

This was also looked on as a good sign that her reactions were returning to normal.

Goldman said the stricken star—making steady progress in her fight against pneumonia in both lungs—may be able to leave the hospital in "about two weeks."

Encouraged by her progress, Miss Taylor's physicians stopped feeding her through a vein in her ankle.

She was still unable to eat, however, and this morning was being fed through a "gastric tube" in her nose.

Dr. Goldman said the star's condition is so much better that she also is having much less oxygen than before. She began breathing Wednesday without the aid of the electronic lung that had synchronized the flow of oxygen with her own breathing, but oxygen was still being given her through the tube inserted in her windpipe last weekend when she was rushed to the hospital.

Miss Taylor, 29, sent three notes from the London Clinic Wednesday to her three children by her previous marriages to Michael Wilding and Mike Todd.

The notes—one each to Michael Wilding Jr., 8, Christopher Wilding, 5, and Liza Todd, 3—said: "You'll be able to come and see me soon."

They were taken to the children in the family's Dorchester Hotel suite by Miss Taylor's husband, singer Eddie Fisher. It was the first time Fisher had returned to the hotel since his wife was rushed to the London Clinic Friday night.

Pope Is Ruled Sane, Trial Set

WACO (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Rice Jr. has found Lawrence C. Pope sane and set his trial on a bank robbery charge for March 20.

Rice ruled Wednesday at the end of a sanity hearing asked by Pope's lawyers, who contended their client was insane at the time of the robbery.

Dr. W. W. Goode, staff psychiatrist at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Waco, testified that Pope, 42, a weekly newspaper publisher from Giddings, Tex., was "crazy like a fox."

Goode said that after three examinations of Pope he believed Pope's behavior does not always agree with his reasoning.

Pope will stand trial on a federal charge that he took $1,744 at gunpoint Nov. 8 from the First State Bank at Thornton.

He is under a state charge of holding up the Farmers State Bank of Schulenburg Nov. 12 and taking $15,000 in cash and government bonds.

Pope attended the trial and listened quietly. He has been in jail in San Antonio since his arrest Nov. 17.

Two other psychiatrists, Dr. Herman Davis and Dr. Alfred Hill, both of San Antonio, testified Pope is mentally ill and possibly could benefit from treatment.

Finalists Report

Air Force dependents who have completed the National Merit Scholarship Corporation tests and have been designated as finalists are asked to contact the education services office at Webb AFB for further details. It is essential that Headquarters, USAF has this information by March 14.

Longest TV Joke Tribute To U.S.

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The balding little man with the hangover tummy enters the picture at the crucial moment—a second's delay might bring mayhem—and gleefully announces, "You're on television!"

The victim, a person who has been goaded to a point just short of murder, begins behaving like an embarrassed bridegroom.

This is another climax in the most extended practical joke on record: "Candid Camera."

Great tribute belongs to the suffering American public—the public that plays foil in these Sunday shenanigans—rather than to Allen Funt, the inventor and proprietor. It's amazing that week after week so many people should be fooled and take it in good spirit. If the rest of the world needs evidence that Americans are patient and cooperative—even eager to get along with the most difficult people extant—they need only look at a few of the shows.

Placing people in trying circumstances without their knowing that the whole thing is supposed to be a gag calls for a great deal of faith and luck. Sometimes the circumstances are the quintessence of humor, and sometimes they border on the sadistic. The long odds are that somewhere along the line Funt and his funny men are going to run out of luck and come face to face with an unstable character who will blow up before anyone can stop him. Telling this kind of squirrel he's on TV might start more shooting than could be seen in a month of "Untouchables."

This immensely popular CBS show can be almost cruel on some occasions and inspired on others.

ACAPULCO (AP)—A full report on press freedom, or lack of it, in Cuba was to be made today by the press committee of the Inter-American Press Association.
