

Judge Murder To Bring Mass Of Testimony

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-seven of the state's original 40 witnesses have yet to testify in the murder trial of Joseph A. Peel Jr., charged in the mysterious disappearance six years ago of Circuit Court Judge C. E. Chillingworth.

Main testimony during the first week came from Floyd A. Holzappel, confessed killer of Judge Chillingworth and his wife; and from P. O. Wilber, bondman and state undercover agent.

Holzappel said he was in partnership with Peel, former West Palm Beach attorney and city judge, in gambling and moonshine rackets. He testified that Peel ordered Chillingworth slain because he feared he was about to expose the operations.

Wilber said he was retained by Peel to bail out any of his numbers sellers and moonshine peddlers whenever they were picked up by police.

He suspected Peel in the 1955 Chillingworth killings, Wilber testified, and asked him, "Why he had done the job on the judge." The reply, Wilber said, was "it was either that S.O.B. or himself."

Holzappel related the Chillingworths were drowned in the Atlantic Ocean. The Judge's wife was taken when she saw the killers and became a potential witness against them.

State Attorney Phil O'Connell has two more known major witnesses—Bobby Lincoln, Negro kingpin of the moonshine and numbers rackets, and James Yenser, former friend of Holzappel.

Lincoln has confessed that he went with Holzappel when the Chillingworths were drowned.

A Tree Point Landing

What goes up must come down—usually in a tree when you're speaking of kites, according to these youths in Dallas. But with 17-year-old Patti Hober, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hober of Dallas, around to climb trees and salvage the kites, things aren't so bad in March, after all.

5 Plead Innocent At Espionage Trial

LONDON (AP)—An American couple and three others charged with stealing naval secrets and passing them on to the Soviets pleaded innocent today at the opening of Britain's biggest spy trial since atom spy Klaus Fuchs was convicted a decade ago.

The famed main courtroom of the Old Bailey—where Fuchs was found guilty of giving the Soviet Union the keys to the atomic bomb—was filled as the case opened before Lord Parker, the chief justice.

The accused are: Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, company director holding a Canadian passport but believed by the government to be a Russian.

Peter John Kroger, 30, book-seller and his wife, Helen, 47, who the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation says are Morris Cohen and his wife, Lola, American citizens and former residents of New York City.

Harry Frederick Houghton, 55, and his fiancée, Ethel Elizabeth Gee, 46, both British civil servants.

The government claims they stole secrets from the British Navy's underwater weapons base at Portland—where Miss Gee worked—and passed them to Moscow over a high-speed radio transmitter hidden in the Krogers' home.

Among the secrets which came into their hands, the prosecution claims were drawings of Dreadnought, the British nuclear submarine based on designs supplied by the United States.

The attorney general, Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller, headed the prosecution. The government contends that Houghton and Miss Gee passed secret information to Lonsdale who relayed it to the ring's communication center—the innocent-looking bungalow in suburban Ruslip occupied by the Krogers.

The trial is expected to last a week. Conviction carries a minimum penalty of three years and a maximum of seven. The five were arrested Jan. 7. At a preliminary hearing last month the prosecution told of elaborate espionage apparatus including devices for producing microscopic copies of messages and Chinese scrolls containing secret compartments.

Morton Seeks Successor As GOP Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thurston B. Morton, Republican national chairman, is stepping up his search for a successor with the hope that he can bow out of office within the next few weeks.

Morton is being pressed by Kentucky friends to resign the chairmanship so he can devote more time to the tough job of trying to win reelection to the Senate next year in a state normally regarded as Democratic.

On a recent visit here, the Kentucky national committeeman, John T. Diederich, told reporters he thinks Morton has a good chance to win in 1962, "but he's got to get started pretty soon."

If Morton is reelected, some Republicans think he will be a man to be reckoned with when the party gets around to picking its 1964 presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Morton's search for a new chairman acceptable to all factions of the party was reported centering around four men. A number of Republicans think the leading prospect for the job is Rep. William E. Miller, 47, a Roman Catholic from Lockport, N.Y. As chairman of the Republican campaign committee he is given a large share of the credit for the GOP's gain of 22 seats in the House.

Miller was for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination last year even while New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who later bowed out, was considered a contender.

THE UNDENIABLE

Count The Cost

By T. H. Tarkenton, preacher Church of Christ, West Highway 26
... Before becoming a Christian, one should pause to count the cost. He should go into this with his eyes open, realizing that it will cost him something to be a Christian. He should come in with his mind made up definitely that he is going to be faithful to the end. On one occasion, when great multitudes went after Jesus, he turned and said to them, "Which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? ... So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple" (Lk. 14:28-33). It is not a question of whether it is possible for one to live the Christian life. We all have the promise that it is possible (1 Cor. 10:13). It is a question of whether one is WILLING to pay the price. Write Box 1383 for free Bible correspondence course. —Adv.

Texan Working On Biography Of Rayburn

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — D. B. Hardeman, 46, former Texas state legislator who now works for Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., is writing a biography of his boss.

Hardeman doesn't know when he'll finish. He's already devoted four years to the project.

"When someone asks me when it will be published," he said, "I reply with a question as to where would you cut off the story of a man who is still so much in on the making of history."

A native of Goliad and a newspaperman in Austin before settling in Denison to become state representative from that area, Hardeman began his research into Rayburn's long career in 1956.

AT LIBRARY

With the close of that year's presidential campaign, in which he had served on Adlai Stevenson's staff, Hardeman obtained a cubbyhole at the Library of Congress. There, for 13 months, he pored over books, magazines, newspapers and correspondence that touched on happenings relating to Rayburn.

A bachelor, Hardeman roomed near the library and spent most of his time in study. His savings from free lance writing about exhausted, he then joined Rayburn's staff as a research assistant in 1957.

The $10,000-a-year-plus job keeps him busy most of the time checking on current legislative matters and other day-to-day problems, but he continues to devote most of his spare time to the biographical project.

From time to time Rayburn gets in a reminiscent mood. That night Hardeman jots down something new to be added to the voluminous data and script which is about ready for editing.

"For example," Hardeman said, "the other day the Speaker recalled the only time he had ever seen Teddy Roosevelt. It was in 1911, when Mr. Rayburn was Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Roosevelt addressed the University of Texas student body."

LONG INTEREST

Politics and government have always interested Hardeman. He did graduate work on these studies at the University of Texas after receiving his B. A. degree there in 1933. Entering the Army Dec. 17, 1941, as a private, he came out in 1946 as a major and became campaign manager for Dr. Homer P. Rainey (former University of Texas president now a professor at the University of Colorado) when the educator made an unsuccessful bid for the governorship of Texas.

"Dr. Rainey was a prophet before his day," Hardeman said. "Most of the things he advocated, such as higher teacher salaries, have been adopted."

His hobby, when he's not researching, is collecting phonograph records. He now has more than 10,000 indexed and stacked away in corners of his "Q" street apartment in Georgetown.

The prospect is that the 21-nation steering committee of the 99-nation assembly would meet Wednesday or Thursday to fix a closing date for the session, which resumed last Tuesday. There was talk of closing on April 21 and leaving all unfinished business over to the 1961 regular session, which starts Sept. 19.

Odd Factors Make Weird Case As Theft Trial Nears

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A penniless Italian immigrant who became a millionaire. A shapely chorus girl who became a night club owner. A burglary which police say netted $478,000 but the man robbed says cost him only $20,500. A gangland-style murder.

Rich, born Giovanni Battista Recchione, arrived in the United States in 1906 and came to this hard coal region of northeastern Pennsylvania, 100 miles from Philadelphia. His rise toward wealth started when he formed a tunneling contracting business—the dangerous task of clearing working areas for miners.

John C. Berkery, 30, a salesman from Haddon Township, N.J., near Philadelphia; Ralph Staino, Jr., 27, manager of the Celebrity Room; and Miller also are under indictment. After the grand jury here returned indictments in the summer of 1960—Poulson, stabbed, shot and beaten was found in a Camden, N.J. hospital parking lot. Police say Poulson, whom they regard as previously as a possible cooperative witness, wouldn't tell who did it.

Blaney was led into a marine basin in Egg Harbor, N.J., by Berkery and Joseph Dillon, a Philadelphia and was shot by one of them as he tried to run Augustine Repetto, assistant Atlantic County prosecutor, said Russell told of seeing Lillian Reis and several others there. Russell was put in an unnamed jail but disappeared several nights later.

Congo Leaders Agree On Plan For A Loose Confederation

TANANARIVE, Malagasy Republic (AP)—Anti-Communist political leaders of the Congo have agreed to replace their centrally controlled parliamentary government by a confederation of semi-independent states headed by Joseph Kasavubu.

The action of the political conference, which ended Sunday raised hopes in Leopoldville that the way had been opened to an eventual end to the chaos and warfare that has plagued the Central African territory since it won independence from Belgium last summer.

The conference's final communique made no mention of pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga, whose forces control the eastern provinces of Oriental and Kivu. He was the only major leader absent from the talks. Kasavubu told newsmen that if Gizenga refuses to go along with the conference decision, he will be declared an outlaw. Presumably military measures then would be taken to supplant him.

Yank Buried In Crypt After Cuba Execution

HAVANA (AP)—William A. Morgan, American soldier of fortune who fell from national hero to traitor in the eyes of the Fidel Castro regime, was buried Sunday in a crypt beside the Cuban major executed with him.

Friends of Morgan's Cuban wife attended the rites in Colon Cemetery, and a Catholic priest officiated. Mrs. Morgan, in hiding to escape captivity, did not attend the funeral. She and 10 others were convicted of treason along with her husband last week, and she was declared a fugitive.

The five-man court at La Cabana Fortress sentenced Morgan and Maj. Jesus Carreras to die Saturday after convicting them of aiding anti-Castro rebels in the mountains. A firing squad shot them in a dry moat outside the ancient fortress a few hours later.

The military tribunal acquitted three of the defendants, Saturday, gave Morgan's former driver 15 years in prison after he had turned state's evidence, and ordered seven defendants to 30-year jail terms.

Luis Carro, the Cuban lawyer who defended Morgan, described the final moments before Morgan and Carreras became the 300th and 300th unofficially listed victims of revolutionary firing squads.

Morgan wore his military boots and faced death calmly, Carro said. Witnesses told the lawyer that Morgan joked with his executioners and embraced the soldier in charge.

Carro said he telephoned Morgan's mother, Loretta, in Toledo but "she was so upset she couldn't finish the conversation." The mother had appealed to Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos for mercy. He ignored the request.

Morgan, 32, from Toledo, Ohio, got a dishonorable discharge from a U.S. paratrooper unit in Japan and in 1957 joined Castro's revolution and after the overthrow of Dictator Fulgencio Batista stayed in Cuba.

Two years later he lost his American citizenship for fighting in a foreign army. But at the time he was enjoying a hero's stature for helping to decoy a group of anti-Castro plotters into a trap.

Later he was demoted to running a government frog farm. He told newsmen last fall that he was a staunch anti-Communist and didn't know how long he would last in his job.

Jail Victim May Forget Illegal Lockup

FORT WORTH (AP)— Jesse Marshall, a slightly built unemployed janitor due for a tuberculosis checkup today, says maybe he'll just forget he was kept in jail six months too long.

Marshall, 37-year-old Negro, was indicted last July for robbery. But the complaining witness dropped charges and the complaint was dismissed on Aug. 31.

Probation officer Cecil Stoker said a report on the dismissal, which would have resulted in Marshall's dismissal, presumably was lost en route to the jailer.

Marshall finally was dismissed last Thursday, "just grateful they turned me loose when they did."

"I didn't know what to do," the former janitor at Texas Christian University said. "If you ain't got nobody on the outside—what can you do?"

"Just a goof someplace," said Stoker. "We'll never know what happened, and you can't blame any one person—we're subject to error like anyone else."

Marshall said that he was accused of taking $17 from a friend. "The whole thing was kinda goofy," said Marshall. Actually he took $19, he said, but "my friends paid it back, anyway."

The worst thing about the ordeal, he added, was "being sick in that jail most of the time." He said a doctor gave him some pills that "helped check my gettin' sick all day."

Is he going to do anything about being held so long?

"I need a job," he said, "but I don't know where I can get one now... I don't know nothin' to do."

"They told me they was sorry for keepin' me in jail so long, so maybe I'll just forget about the whole thing—maybe."

Short Temper Leads To Trouble

WICHITA FALLS (AP)— A woman living at Gay Bryan's trailer court here filed aggravated assault charges against Bryan's wife following an argument between the women.

When she refused to drop the complaint, Bryan turned off the water and electricity for 22 families living in the trailer court.

District Judge Arthur Tipps ordered Bryan to restore the utilities. Bryan refused and went to jail for a night for contempt of court.

But Bryan had turned on the utilities by the time he was arrested and was to appear before Tipps today on formal contempt of court charges.

Laos Peace Linked With Neutralism

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)— Ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma of Laos said today that peace in his war-torn homeland depends on whether the U.S. government will truly support real neutralism in Laos.

DEAR ABBY

POINTED TOES

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am sick of hearing the heels about pointed shoes for women. The reason we sell so many is because you women must WANT them.

DEAR SHOE SALESMAN: Please don't tell me what we women want. We take what we can get. I am convinced that the sack dress, those goofy mile-high hair-dos (that no woman can comb herself) and those hideous, pointed-toe shoes were designed by men who hate women and want to make them look as ridiculous as possible.

DEAR ABBY: My husband can tell you how much women suffer

Storm Rakes Midwest After Tornado Seige

A turbulent storm raked the Midwest with damaging winds and heavy rains today after spawning more than a score of tornadoes which smashed paths of destruction through Missouri and Arkansas.

One woman was killed and at least 57 persons were injured Sunday as swirling winds crumpled homes, toppled radio towers and blew automobiles off highways.

Property damage was extensive in the two-state area. Repairmen struggled to restore communications disrupted by downed lines. Felled trees barricaded roads. Heavy rains, flash floods and hail impeded rescuers.

A tornado swirled out of the darkness near West Plains, Mo., and shattered the little frame Friendship Baptist Church in which 30 persons were attending Sunday evening services. Frances Huddleston, 42, was killed. Her husband, Dr. J. A. Huddleston, 43, was seriously injured while 10 other churchgoers suffered lesser hurts.

The twister destroyed a filling station and damaged several other buildings near the church. Earlier, the same tornado destroyed a store, filling station and home at Hardenville, about 25 miles southwest of West Plains.

Six persons were injured near Tipton Ford, about seven miles south of Joplin, Mo., where a twister destroyed at least two homes, damaged several others and hurled a pickup truck against a tree.

Three of four radio towers of station KWTO were blown down by a tornado that struck about three miles south of Springfield, Mo. Several farm buildings also were damaged.

Other twisters were sighted near Branson, Missouri and Nevada, Mo., and several automobiles were blown off U.S. 71. Considerable damage was reported in the tornado-struck Arkansas community of Busch, near the Missouri border, where at least 14 persons were injured.

At least two tornadoes were sighted in the Clarkville, Ark., area. One struck the nearby community of Woodland, injuring at least 12 persons. Also hit in that area were the small towns of Hunt, Hartman, Woods Mountain and Mt. Zion. National Guardsmen were rushed to Woodland to assist rescue efforts.

Tornadoes leveled several houses at Augusta, Ark., injuring four persons, and destroyed a trailer at Sheridan, injuring a man.

Five tornadoes were sighted in the Harrison area by Civil Defense workers and State Police. Other twisters were reported at Kingston, Plainview and Berryville, Ark.

The violent center of the broad storm front moved across Missouri into Illinois today.

from pointed shoes — especially young girls whose feet are still developing. They are making themselves candidates for bunion surgery and a multitude of other foot disorders.

DEAR ABBY: The pointed toes are bad enough, but oh, those heels! I have to walk "tippee toe" so I won't get my heels caught in gratings, between cracks in the sidewalks, or even on shag carpets. Please, please help us get some sensible shoes before I break my neck.

DEAR ABBY: This will kill you! Now they have pointed-toe shoes. A letter (or postcard) to this column will help—and I lead all the rest.

DEAR ABBY: I am with you all the way in your campaign to get rid of those homely Wizard of Oz witches' shoes. I have a long and narrow foot, (nine) and you can imagine what my feet look like in the new spring shoes. I refuse to wear gray shoes because they look like gun boots!

DEAR ABBY: The woman who complained about pointed shoes is no doubt wearing cheap shoes. Also she is probably one of those peacocks who needs a size 8 B and fights with the shoe clerk to make him give her a 7 Double A. The new, pointed shoes are beautiful and comfortable when you get the proper fit.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "FOOTSORE AND WEARY" you said, "I have been told the women LOVE the new pointed-toe shoes." Please tell me EXACTLY WHO told you that women love these asinine, ridiculous, pointed atrocities?

DEAR ABBY: I beat the fashion experts and ruined my feet years ago when it was stylish to cram your feet into a pointed shoe. Now I wear leather moccasins just like the Indians did.

Too Pretty For Teaching, Chinese Star Turned Down

LONDON (AP)—Movie star Nancy Kwan offered to teach British soldiers Chinese and chopsticks, but the army turned her down.

"Miss Kwan is too beautiful," said Capt. Anthony Hare of the movie version of "The World of Suzie Wong."

To prepare the King's Own Yorkshire regiment for duty in Malaya, Hare had the idea of after-hours instruction in the Chinese language, the use of chopsticks, and other local customs.

Miss Kwan cabled Hare from Hollywood: "Please consider me a candidate as Chinese teacher for Yorkshire light infantry regiment. I am fluent in Chinese, fabulous with chopsticks and fond of uniforms."

"Furthermore, I am half English. My other qualifications? I can only suggest you see the World of Suzie Wong."

"At first I thought the cable was a hoax," said Capt. Hare. "Then we checked and found it was genuine."

"But I think that Miss Kwan—if she is serious about the whole thing—would be too much of a distraction."

Hare said he had already engaged a Chinese woman teacher. But he is sending an invitation to Nancy to look in on the regiment when she visits England again.

Mitchell, American Musician, Leads Concert Here Tonight

Howard Mitchell, conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra, which will play here at 8 p.m. today at city auditorium, is American-born and American-trained. His love of American music gives a genuine American stamp to the orchestra he leads.

Mitchell was born in Nebraska in 1911, and grew up in Sioux City, Iowa. Although all six Mitchell children were musical, young Howard's special virtuosity was apparent early. At 12 he was earning money playing the trumpet at dances. Before he finished high school, he had mastered four instruments.

At the persuasion of his high school orchestra and band leader, he took up the cello at 15. In a few months he was winning cello prizes, and at 16 astounded his home city by winning the Sioux City golf championship as well.

Mitchell decided on a musical career and from there on his combined talent, drive, and leadership have carried him to the peak of success as music director of the National Symphony. Mitchell won scholarships first to Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, then to Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, from which he graduated with honors in 1935. In 1933, while still at Curtis, he joined the National Symphony as first cellist. The orchestra has been his career. In addition to his duties with the ensemble, he appeared regularly as soloist and in 1941 was appointed assistant conductor. He succeeded Hans Kindler as permanent conductor in 1949.

Mitchell has featured the performance of contemporary American music and his work in this field has won him important national music awards, which specifically have cited his "distinguished services to American music."

Married in 1931, Howard and Alma Mitchell have five children. They reside in Washington and spend summers at their home on Lake Champlain in Vermont. Mitchell's heavy conducting schedule has forced him to give up the cello, but he still shoots golf in the seventies.

This season, at the close of the Orchestra's Latin American Tour, Mitchell conducted almost 200 concerts. (The Orchestra had among its guest conductors last season, Sir John Barbirolli and Antal Dorati. Lloyd Geisler, assistant conductor, takes the podium for all the orchestra's "pop" and many of its youth concerts.) As one of the world's busiest conductors, Mitchell has covered a lot of territory since taking over the podium in 1949. In addition to guest appearances with major American orchestras, he has appeared extensively in Europe and Central and South America.

Nixon Won't Enter Governor's Race

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon invited a scramble for the Republican nomination for governor next year when he said over the weekend:

"I am not a candidate for governor. I have no intention to be a candidate or institute a draft."

In private conversations Friday and Saturday, Nixon declined to say he wouldn't accept nomination and wouldn't serve if elected.

Mundt Reports Ike Isn't Angry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., gladly reports that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower isn't mad at him. Mundt says he has a "Dear Karl" letter from Eisenhower to prove it.

Mundt created some fuss two weeks ago when he reported in a newsletter to constituents that Eisenhower was critical of the way President Kennedy's administration was going.

Eisenhower disavowed that. In this week's newsletter, Mundt said Sunday "President Eisenhower's assurances last week to a national TV reporter that my report summarizing our visit is a closed incident and that our friendship remains unimpaired" was reaffirmed this week by a "Dear Karl" letter from Ike reaffirming the fact."

Mrs. Lamar Honored At Tea By Rebekahs

A tea, given Sunday afternoon by members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge, honored Mrs. Jones Lamar, who will leave soon to attend Grand Assembly in San Antonio. The convention is set for March 18-21.

Mrs. Lamar is a member of the state committee on mileage and per diem.

Roses decorated the hall, where guests were received by Mrs. Irene Dempsey, noble grand, and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Lamar and Mrs. Horace Smith, vice grand. Alternating at the guest register were Mrs. L. S. Bonner and Mrs. Zula Reeves.

Pink net made an overlay on a pink cloth for the serving table, centered with an arrangement of silvered foliage and pink carnations. A small doll, representing Mrs. Lamar, held ribbon streamers to a miniature car, plane and train; this was placed before a styrofoam map of Texas on which San Antonio was marked.

Guests of the lodge included members from the Big Spring Rebekahs, from the lodges at Knott and Lamesa. About 90 attended the tea.

Hostesses were Mrs. C. A. McDonald, Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Grace Martin and Mrs. Leon Cole.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Ex-Teacher Tells Changes She Made

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Jacquelyn McKeever, who starred here in "Show Boat" with Joe E. Brown, left the classroom for the theater. While teaching in New York, she sang at charity events. An agent who heard her sing, suggested she audition for the Broadway musical, "Oh, Captain," and although she had no professional experience, she won the lead. After a year in this hit production, she was on her way to the top. "What changes occurred when you switched from teaching to acting?" I asked.

"Almost everything," she replied. "While teaching, I used hardly any make-up. I had to learn how to put a liner on my eyes, apply a base smoothly and use a lip brush."

"I had always worn my hair parted in the middle with a bun at the nape of my neck, and I had never changed its color. But I had it cut and bleached it platinum. I found that the upkeep was too expensive and the processing too hard on my hair, and so I chose a softer shade and learned to do it myself. I do my hair once a week, and so you see the money I've saved by not going to a salon."

"You've done a very professional job," I told her.

"There is one difficulty, and that was learning to bleach differently on different parts of my scalp. But once I discovered which spots take quickly and which are stubborn, I had no more trouble. And I am careful to give myself an oil treatment with every other shampoo."

"What other changes did you make?"

"My figure." Miss McKeever replied. "For three weeks I lived on eggs three times a day. I dropped 10 pounds, but now I can't stand the sight of an egg. And this type of diet is not good for a person. One should eat other things when dieting."

"My problem is that I have a sweet tooth. I just love chocolate milk shakes and all kinds of desserts. One of these days I'm going to have to learn to eat more sensibly."

We were lunching at Jacquelyn's hotel when the waiter went by with a pastry cart, and from the way she looked at the display of sweets, I know it will take discipline for her to follow a diet.

HIGH PROTEIN DIET

One of the best ways to lose weight is by eliminating sweets, starches and fats. In Leaflet M-1, "Two-Week High Protein Diet," there are two weeks of carefully planned menus that will allow you to eat well and maintain your vitality and strength. If you follow the menus exactly, you should lose on the average of one pound a day. For your copy of this important leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Ex-School Teacher

Jacquelyn McKeever, ex-school teacher, divides her time between TV and the stage. In today's Hollywood Beauty, she discusses bleaching hair and diet.

Mesh And Fan

This beautiful scarf for chest or dresser is easily crocheted in the mesh and fan design. Pattern No. 1180 contains complete instructions. Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern to, MARTHA MADISON, Big Spring Herald, Box 1490, New York 1, N. Y. Add 10 cents for each pattern for first class mailing.

Shower Honors Mrs. Clevenger

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Rusty Clevenger was honored recently with a stork shower in the home of Mrs. A. O. Jones. Other hostesses were Mrs. Vera Harris, Mrs. Paul Kennedy, Mrs. Bobby Calley, Mrs. W. F. Shannon, Mrs. W. O. Fletcher and Mrs. George Fowler.

A corsage, made of three pair of differently colored baby socks, was presented to the honoree by the hostesses.

Mrs. Jones presided at the register, and Mrs. Fletcher assisted in opening gifts. Presiding at the refreshment table were Mrs. Calley and Mrs. Kennedy.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of small clusters of pink roses in a crystal container. Silver and crystal appointments also were used.

Liz Breathing Naturally After Pneumonia Bout

LONDON (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor was breathing naturally today, minus the special throat tube she used for eight days in her fight against double pneumonia. Removal of the tube in a five-minute procedure Sunday at the London Clinic was a sign of further progress in the movie star's recovery. Her critical illness had made necessary an oxygen-pumping electronic lung machine, a blood transfusion and intravenous feeding, now ended. "Miss Taylor is now going along very nicely," said a spokesman at the exclusive hospital. Miss Taylor, 29, conversed freely during the day with her husband, singer Eddie Fisher, and her parents.

Jayne Mansfield takes her first ride on the newest addition at the Mansfield estate in Hollywood, Calif. Now occupying the pink palace and three acres are one blonde, one ex-Mr. Universe, three children, nine dogs, two monkeys and the new burro. "We don't keep her in the house," the actress explained to newsmen. Husband Mickey Hargitay, the ex-Mr. Universe, bought the burro, 5-months-old Gracie, because the household lost another pet, a bulldog.

Can't Compete With Sports

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Metropolitan Opera star Rise Stevens interrupted her aria, slapped a gloved hand against the piano, and snapped:

"I'm sorry, ladies and gentlemen, but there are two girls in the audience who have been giggling during the entire thing. They are driving me out of my mind."

Quiet was restored. But Miss Stevens never noticed another distraction during the concert.

Several patrons had brought along transistor radios to listen to the broadcast of a nearby high school basketball tournament.

Maybe Debate Is What TV Needs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy-Nixon debates certainly started something.

If tonight's Ed Sullivan-Jack Paar match gets a big audience, debating may yet turn out to be a TV entertainment form as important as westerns and wrestling.

The two personalities will argue their viewpoints on the NBC Paar show. The only flaw in the idea—and it may be a fatal one as far as TV is concerned—is that there can never be any clear cut outcome: no winner can be declared, always an unsatisfactory climax. At least after the Kennedy-Nixon jousts, an election was held, more or less indicating who came out ahead.

Incidentally, Sullivan's complaints were demonstrated perfectly by Robert Merrill on Paar's Thursday night show. Merrill came on the show, sat down and chatted awhile with Paar and company. Presumably, if Merrill had confined his appearance to sitting around swapping jokes and stories, he would not have been "performing," as Sullivan defines the word.

But then, professional singer Merrill went over to the piano and sang a solo. Then he was performing. And when Merrill sings a solo on Sullivan's show he receives a fee much, much larger than the minimum union wage—$320—which the Paar show pays its guests.

Sullivan says that if performers perform for $320 on Paar's show, hereafter they will get the same fee on his show. This decision could present some delicate problems.

There are so many borderline cases that many established performers might well think twice about appearing on the Paar show. Others, who benefit more from Paar's "exposure" than from an occasional well-paid Sullivan appearance, undoubtedly will continue to throw in where it does them the most good.

Blue Law Report Due In Today

HOUSTON, (AP)—A Houston police captain, in charge of a special blue law squad, said he will turn more than 40 reports of Sunday closing violations over to the city legal department today.

Capt. H. L. Ellisor said the special police blue law squad, and citizen N. Elmer White, reported the violations after they checked Houston business yesterday.

"It was the same as it has been in the past," White said. "They were open and doing a landslide business."

The reports covered nurseries, auto supply stores, an auction house, department stores, and car dealers, Ellisor said.
