Abilene Man Gets Contract For Lakeview School Project

Boyd J. McDaniel, Abilene, submitted the low bid Wednesday and was awarded the contract for a new addition to Lakeview school. Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District opened 13 bids with a $200,000 spread between high and low bids. McDaniel's bid was for $132,821 for the 12-room addition, including a library. Because of the low bids, trustees did not find it necessary to consider the alternatives for a 10-room addition, deletion of terrace floors, etc. The district had approval for an addition totaling $146,822 from the Housing and Home Finance Agency, federal agency that is footing the bill. Earl Sherman, HHFA representative, was on hand Wednesday for the bid openings. He assured the board of HHFA approval of the bid. Two Big Spring firms were close in the bidding. Suggs Construction Co. bid $135,340 and A. P. Kasch & Sons bid $136,495. Other bids were Basin Construction Co., Midland, $146,000; J. W. Cooper Construction, Odessa, $144,000; R. G. Farrell Co., Odessa, $142,300; Jones Construction Co., Big Spring, $144,000; Robert R. Lacey, Midland, $144,500; J. W. Little, Big Spring, $139,671; Mid-West Lumber Co., Midland, $140,855; Rose Construction Co., Abilene, $137,900; Russell Construction Co., Midland, $144,307; Shiftet Brothers, Abilene, $152,700. The excess funds, difference between the bid and the federal allocation, may be used by the district. Sherman said the district can apply to use the extra money in equipping the building. In discussion after awarding the bid, Floyd Parsons, superintendent, pointed out that any alterations during construction would be referred to the architects, Atchison, Atkinson and Fox. Although the bids called for completion in 180 calendar days, the trustees asked McDaniel if the addition would be ready for school to open in September. McDaniel promised his work would progress according to the contract. He also pledged good supervision. Architect Jimmy Fox will be the construction inspector. Construction is expected to begin between April 15 and May 1. McDaniel has worked for the local school district in the past, building the additions at the Boydston and College Heights elementary schools. He is also a former city manager of Big Spring.

Schools Get $167,922 U.S. Fund To Offset Tax Loss

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has announced an entitlement of $167,922, in lieu of taxes, to the Big Spring Independent School District, but chances are that the district will receive only 85 per cent of this amount. An entitlement of $5,348 has been set up for the Forsan Independent School District under the same law, PL 874. The office advised Rep. George Mahon that $107,049 had been certified for immediate payment to Big Spring schools and $3,409 to the Forsan schools. Usually the final payment lags into the succeeding federal fiscal year. In making the announcement, the federal department noted that funds available for the fiscal year 1961 will require provision of payments at approximately 85 per cent of tentative entitlement. Thus, instead of the $167,922, to which the local district would be entitled, the payment would be on the order of $142,733.70, and for the Forsan district instead of $5,348 the total would be $4,545.90. The Big Spring district had budgeted $138,000 from this source. The funds are appropriated to compensate local districts for maintenance and operation costs of schooling children whose parents work for the federal government. This is because federal installations do not generate taxes and thus PL 874 payments take the place of taxes. They are made on the basis of $182 per federally connected child who lives on a federal installation or $81 for such children whose parents work for the federal government but live off the installations.

House Members Take Up Heated Fireman's Issue

AUSTIN (AP)—House members took up the hotly contested firemen's arbitration bill (HB14) today after being sharply chastized by Rep. Lloyd Martin for "dragging our feet this session." Before getting to the firemen's bill, by Rep. Robert Hughes, Dallas, another touchy subject was postponed until April 6. Rep. Steve Burgess, Nacogdoches, asked postponement of a House bill (HB61) setting stern standards for imported milk. A similar Senate bill kept the House upmost of yesterday. Martin's outburst over House action came when Rep. George Richardson, Fort Worth, asked approval of a resolution (HRR344) inviting television star Richard Boone to address the legislature. The measure previously was approved by the House Rules Committee. "This just congratulates Boone for playing his part as Paladin and invites him to speak to us while making a series of TV films at Bracketville," Richardson explained. "I'm a great admirer of this television personality but I believe we are indulging in more levity than is becoming to this body," Martin said. A crowd of about 100 League of Women Voters from throughout the state sat in the spectators' gallery. "We have reached the point this session where we are beginning to drag our feet," Martin said. He was interrupted by Richardson. The Fort Worth legislator asked that his resolution be withdrawn from further consideration. The Senate today passed and sent to Gov. Price Daniel two

Russ Censors Lift Cutters Just A Little

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today abolished censorship for foreign correspondents.

The Foreign Office press director made the announcement at a news conference.

The press director, Mikhail Kharlamov, said he expected the removal of censorship would create new troubles for correspondents circulating unfounded rumors about the Soviet Union. This appeared to be a direct warning that newsmen would be expelled if their reports were not satisfactory to the Soviet authorities.

Kharlamov warned that all correspondents must keep a copy of all their dispatches sent abroad so long as they remain in the Soviet Union. He explained that some correspondents had insisted that some copy published abroad under their names was not of their writing. By keeping a copy of what is sent out, the correspondent can always answer this question, he said.

Censorship is being lifted, Kharlamov said, to expedite the movement of copy of the foreign correspondents, who he said had increased from 15 a few years ago to 150 now in Moscow on a permanent basis. About two-thirds of these write for Communist and Socialist publications.

Previously all non-Communist correspondents have been required to submit their copy to censorship before it could be telephoned or telegraphed abroad.

Censorship has been in force in the Soviet Union since the revolution in 1917, except for two brief periods. It was suspended briefly during the summer of 1939 but imposed again when the Soviet-Finnish war started. Another brief suspension came after the war in 1946. It lasted only a few weeks.

Kharlamov said that censorship has not yet been lifted on movement of photographs and television film.

Telephone Rate Rules Up For House Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—A Houston official said Wednesday night Texas needs telephone rate regulations to keep charges down by holding phone company returns to "something reasonable." Clinton Owsley, director of public service for the City of Houston, backed a bill creating a telephone division within the Railroad Commission to regulate telephone service within the state.

Discussion before the House State Affairs Committee turned on differentials between rates for interstate long distance telephone calls and those within the state's borders. This is the main area of regulation outlined by the bill by Rep. Dan Struve of Campbellton. Struve and Owsley said Texas and Iowa are the only states without telephone regulation.

In a general way toll rates in Texas are higher than in states where rates are regulated," Owsley said.

H. Y. Price, president of the independent telephone companies in San Marcos, and Evans said he feels his companies do not abuse their position as long as they keep their rates under those of co-operative telephone companies.

"We are building lines" that could never be justified economically simply because we want to serve an area," Price said. Owsley said a 600-mile call within Texas costs $2.50 for the first three minutes and 30 cents for every minute thereafter.

Rank Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower again has his old Army rank of five-star general.

President Kennedy signed the legislation Wednesday and wrote to Eisenhower that it was "a reaffirmation of the affection and regard of our nation for you."

House-approved measures. One (HB265) allows the Department of Agriculture to fix fees for testing weighing devices used by farmers and the other (HB54) permits the Texas Water Development Board to invest about $250,000 it has now in cash in interest bearing deposits.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas got a 28-0 vote on the water bill and the agriculture bill passed on voice vote.

L. G. Ben Ramsey appointed a five-member Senate committee to meet with House representatives to work out differences on the bill (SB217) requiring out-of-state milk shipped into Texas to meet Texas standards.

The Senate adjourned until 11 a.m. Monday. The Hughes Bill (HB14) provides arbitration procedure in wage and hours disputes between city firemen and municipal gov-

U. S. Forces Set For Laos Action

Police Are Silent In Kidnap Slaying

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (AP)—Police maintained a tight silence today on the progress of their hunt for the kidnaper who roped 10-year-old Tommy McNevin to a tree by the neck and left him to die in the snow.

The biggest question mark hung over Tommy's scoutmaster, Warren Williamson, 41, a church elder and father of a son and daughter, who committed suicide Tuesday night after claiming the kidnaper had designated him to deliver the $25,000 ransom demanded.

Police refused to divulge the contents of Williamson's suicide note. But Crown Attorney (prosecutor) John Pringle said he had not believed Williamson's story of the ransom notes when he told it to him Tuesday and doesn't believe it now.

Tommy, son of a former alderman and creamery owner, left home Monday afternoon to play hockey and was not seen again alive. His body was found Wednesday. Corner Dr. J. Russell Scott said the boy died from exposure sometime Monday night. Bark on the tree was worn where Tommy had struggled to free himself.

Two sets of footprints—a man's and a boy's—led to the tree and the body, and police said they indicated the child walked trustingly to his death. There was a cut on Tommy's head and a deep cut said he had found a note in his car indicating he had tried to ward off a blow, perhaps from his own hockey stick.

Tommy's father, Daniel McNevin, received an anonymous telephone call Monday night saying his son had been kidnaped and demanding $25,000 ransom.

Williamson, a partner in a paper-gavel firm, came to the McNevin home Tuesday morning and said he had found a note in his car naming him go-between.

McNevin got the money but also informed police, who questioned Williamson twice Tuesday. That night Williamson's family heard a shot and found his body in the basement of their home. He had fired a shotgun into his chest.

West Edges Cautiously To Red Peace Plan

The West edged cautiously today toward a Soviet peace plan for Laos.

Britain, in a note delivered to Moscow partly on the initiative of the United States, accepted the Soviet proposal for an international conference on Laos—provided the Soviet Union first helps secure an effective truce in the torn Southeast Asia kingdom.

But the U.S. aircraft carrier Midway and two destroyers steamed out of Hong Kong on a few hours notice, raising belief they had been alerted for action in case of an East-West showdown.

Unconfirmed reports said other U.S. 7th Fleet units were heading south toward the Indochina coast. U.S. military officials said in Washington the anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization—whose military strategists are now meeting in Bangkok, Thailand—could throw about 4,000 battle-ready troops into Laos on short notice if Premier Boun Oum's pro-Western government needs urgent help in his battle against pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

The sudden departure of 2,000 U.S. Marines from Tokyo led to speculation they were being returned to their Okinawa base in preparation for any emergency.

A responsible source in Bangkok said a Marine maintenance unit is being stationed at Udorn, Thailand, to service helicopters supplying the Laotian army. Udorn is about 50 miles south of Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said a Marine maintenance unit is being stationed at Udorn, Thailand, to service helicopters supplying the Laotian army.

The Senate appropriation bill does not include pay raises for teachers, medical aid for the needy aged or other spending proposals included in separate bills. Generally, it continues state services at their present level with a few additions.

CITY BUDGET HEARING SET IN AUDITORIUM

Anticipating a large crowd, the city administration has decided on the city auditorium as the site for the public hearing on the city budget. It is set for 7:30 p.m. today. The city commission will go to bat for a $2,500,945.25 budget, coupled with revenues of $2,399,742 and a surplus of 138,796.75. Although expenditures are up about 4% per cent, the surplus expected is more than 200 per cent higher than last year.

The increased budget is largely attributable to increased personnel and payroll. The new budget becomes effective April 1, beginning of the fiscal year. It must be finally approved before that time.

Former Draft Director Dies

AUSTIN (AP)—Maj. Gen. Paul Wakefield, 65, state Selective Service director from 1949 to 1955, died here today.

Wakefield for many years worked for Interstate Theaters. A veteran of both world wars and the Korean War, Wakefield was one of three Texans appointed by Gov. Pat Neff to represent Texas at the burial of the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

He was press secretary to Gov. Ross Sterling in 1930 and was appointed by Gov. James Allred to the Texas Planning Board in Washington to recommend worthy PWA fund projects in the mid-1930's. He handled military press relations for Gov. Coke Stevenson.

He was named state Selective Service director by former President Harry Truman.

Beauvis Foresees Sound Plastic Industry Future

Les Beauvis ran the galaxy of plastics for the Downtown Lions Club on Wednesday and predicted a sound future for the field.

Beauvis, who is in charge of plastic technology service and is an engineer on the polystyrene unit for Cosden Petroleum Corporation, said that as plastics get lighter, tougher and cheaper they will invade many areas formerly the domain of metals.

Plastics are also self-competitive. For instance, the phenolic resins which came into the picture almost half a century ago are fading from the picture in the face of newer, better and more economical plastics. Only the introduction of polyesters has helped hold a portion of the market for such thermal-setting plastics.

The greatest advance has been in the thermal field where materials may be ground and remelted into useable forms. Cellulose, dating back to 1870 as the first plastic, is being replaced by cheaper and more flexible plastics. Among them are the acrylics,

Diplomats Seek Way Out Of Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy apparently began speeding U.S. military units toward crisis-wracked Southeast Asia today in the crucial hours of a diplomatic showdown with Russia over the embattled kingdom of Laos.

Kennedy is expected to issue a major U.S. policy statement on the Laotian crisis at a news conference tonight—6 p.m. EST.

Meanwhile the President awaited some reaction from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to an urgent appeal from Britain for agreement to a cease-fire in the civil war in Laos. Given a cease-fire, the Western powers would accept a Communist-backed proposal for an international conference on Laos.

This last-minute move on the diplomatic front was made by Britain after consultation with the United States. It kept open the road for a negotiated settlement and put the next step up to Khrushchev.

Meanwhile the reported military moves underscored Kennedy's determination to deal with the Communist threat by force if diplomacy fails.

One of the tightest secrecy clampdowns since the Korean War shut off Pentagon information on military moves. Authorities here said privately, however, that some of those moves were clearly precautionary steps, others were designed to begin a substantial increase in U.S. military assistance to the royal Laotian government.

At Hong Kong the U.S. aircraft carrier Midway and two destroyers suddenly departed for an undisclosed destination several days ahead of schedule. They were believed heading for the waters of Southeast Asia.

Speculation immediately broke out that other units of the U.S. 7th Fleet, ordinarily stationed in the Philippines—Formosa area were moving south.

COPTER UNIT The Marines were reported sending a helicopter maintenance unit of 100 to 150 men to Udorn,

A traffic island has been laid on 18th to allow east bound traffic to make a right turn south on Goliad. Much of the morning and afternoon traffic goes to the College Heights elementary and the Goliad Junior High schools, to the southeast of the intersection, which often caused traffic jams where left turns were being made.

The new lights are on the sides and will have straight through and direction signals to control traffic flow. Concrete for the island on 18th was poured Wednesday and the wiring will be completed for operating the lights Friday, Rogan said.

SHOTGUN DEATH OF ODESSA STUDENT PUZZLES OFFICERS

ODESSA (AP)—A high school athlete brought along a shotgun for a midnight date because the girl asked him to shoot her, officers said today in recounting the weird slaying of Elizabeth Jean Williams, 17.

"I kissed her goodbye," recounted her classmate, Mack Her-ring, 17, and related how she held the muzzle to her head while he pulled the trigger.

SEATO Power Could Hold Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southeast Asia Treaty Organization nations could throw about 4,000 battle-ready troops into Laos within a short time after any decision to help the royal Laotian army.

This conclusion was drawn from a check of military sources here today as concern deepened over the apparently deteriorating situation in the mountainous kingdom where pro-Communist rebels are advancing toward the capital of Vientiane.

Against the Pathet Lao rebels — estimated to number between 8,000 and 10,000 — a force of 4,000 disciplined, well armed men could be decisive if used to bolster the 20,000-man royal Laotian army.

ANOTHER KOREA

However, the danger some U.S. officials see is that such intervention might evoke a similar response from the Communist side and thus set off a Korea-type war.

If such a war should erupt, the United States would be at a disadvantage because its forces are thinly spread and it is short on airlift and sealt.

U.S. officials said Wednesday there was no serious thought, as of then, of direct American military intervention.

Pentagon spokesmen said U.S. forces had not been placed on any special readiness basis.

Not all U.S. officials were pessimistic—some said they still believe the royal Laotian army, whose will and readiness to fight has been brought into question, can hold the major cities even if the pro-Red Pathet Lao take more of the countryside.

There was some speculation that the eight-nation SEATO alliance, or some of its members, might decide on a joint move in Laos unless the situation were stabilized.

OTHER NATIONS

Besides the United States, SEATO members are Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and Pakistan. Meeting in Bangkok, SEATO military advisers declared Wednesday there is a need for continued military planning "to resist and repel Communist aggression" in the light of developments in Laos.

While Laos is not a member of SEATO, the embattled jungle kingdom comes under its protection.

In the past, Britain, France and New Zealand have shown reluctance to consider plunging into the Laos situation with military force. Pakistan, the Philippines and Thailand—which has a long common border with Laos—have been outspokenly for a firm stand.

Candidates Quicken Senate Race Speed

By CLAYTON HICHERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

With scarcely more than a week to work, Texas' 71 candidates for the U.S. Senate quickened the pace of their campaign Thursday, 65 lesser known aspirants almost drowned out by the so-called "big six."

A tired state Sen. Henry Gonzalez was back in Austin at his Senate duties after a roundtrip automobile jaunt to San Angelo that was delayed two hours by car trouble.

Also in Austin was interim Sen. William Blakley who planned to attend a reception in his honor and confer with Gov. Price Daniel, the man who appointed him to the Senate seat. Blakley planned to go to San Antonio later in the day.

Rep. Jim Wright spent most of the day in Dallas. An appreciation dinner, for which supporters said 10,000 tickets had been sold, was set for Wright Thursday night with the candidate's speech to be rebroadcast over a special statewide network. Channel 8 of Dallas will telecast the same speech Friday night at 6:30 p.m.

Republican candidate John Tower, joined by Rep. Bruce Alger, Dallas' GOP congressman, made plans to be in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Friday for a round of appearances capped by a downtown Brownsville rally Friday night. Tower spoke Thursday night at a $10-a-plate dinner in Abilene.

Blakley, Gonzalez and Murray Maverick Jr. all campaigned in San Angelo Wednesday. Blakley arriving first in his two-engine plane, Maverick next in his single-engine aircraft, and Gonzalez arriving two hours late in his crippled station wagon. Maverick and Blakley earlier had been at Abilene while Gonzalez attended a Senate session in Austin.

All three went through a round of appearances including hotel receptions, radio and television appearances, and banquets.

Gonzalez told San Angelo radio and TV audiences he would vote to make San Angelo College a four-year school. He said Atty. Gen. Will Wilson was his most serious threat in the race but that the San Angelo area needed Gonzalez to help keep the braces farm program from breaking down.

Maverick praised the Kennedy administration in general and the Peace Corps in particular. He said the Peace Corps would serve to get uncommitted countries in the cold war to side with the United States.

Blakley, who conferred with his Washington office by telephone while in San Angelo, told a meeting of bankers he was "definitely opposed to federal aid to education." He added that the Fed-

Wilson, campaigning in Southeast Texas, told Lubbock workers "We must not allow government regulations of fuels to cut our market for oil and gas." He said a "present move toward national fuels policy could well mean a loss of jobs in Texas refineries."

Wilson said he would "fight any move to impose such a policy with all my ability and all my energies."

Wright told an Austin press conference that his campaign was gaining strength "every day." He said he would be in "the almost certain runoff, but he would not predict that he would lead the race."

Sen. Ralph Yarborough notified a group backing Gonzalez that he was not taking sides in the campaign "because I have several friends involved." Both Gonzalez and Maverick have supported Yarborough in the past.

Blonde Martha Troway of Denison continued to pitch her campaign on women's rights. She said the major candidates in the race are "deliberately overlooking the rights of women in Texas."

"I wonder if the wives of the candidates are proud of them for what they are doing to the female sex." She said Texas had 44 laws which prohibit a married woman from conducting a business.

Lad Kisses Girl, Blasts Her To Death With Shotgun

ODESSA (AP)—A high school boy kissed his former girl friend goodbye, he told officers, and then blasted her to death with a shotgun she held to her temple. Local police and officers of neighboring Winkler County tried today to get more information from Mack Herring, 17, about the death of Elizabeth Jean Williams, also 17. But Winkler County Sheriff L. R. Eddins said at Kermit, Tex., that Herring only answered, "She asked me to do it." Eddins quoted the youth as saying the girl had asked others to kill her previously. The boy was charged by Eddins with murder with malice Wednesday night after he led officers to a farm pond and pulled the pajama-clad body of his classmate from four feet of water. She had a shotgun blast wound in the head. The pond was near the scene of the shooting, about 30 miles northwest of here in Winkler County. Young Herring was held in the Winkler County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond. Lead weights were tied to the body of Elizabeth Jean when Herring pulled her from the water. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Odessa, reported her missing from her bedroom at 8:45 a.m. Wednesday. Odessa officer B. R. McAlpine arrested the youth in a classroom at Odessa High School, the same school Elizabeth Jean attended, Wednesday morning. Herring told officers the girl went to bed about 11:30 Tuesday night and that he came to the house for her early Wednesday, less than an hour after she re-

Anti-Castro Groups Form Exile Regime

NEW YORK (AP)—The leader of two major Cuban exile groups pledges that the overthrow of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro will end firing squads and bring free elections within 18 months.

Jose Miro Cardona, 59, a lawyer who served six weeks as premier at the start of the Castro regime, Wednesday announced formation of a new "revolutionary council," with himself as co-ordinator-general.

The council consists of representatives of the Democratic Revolutionary Front, regarded as middle-of-the-road and favoring free enterprise, and the Revolutionary Movement of the People, considered left-wing but anti-Communist.

Cardona told a news conference the aim of the council is to "overthrow the Communist tyranny which enslaves the people of Cuba and to reestablish moral peace and harmony among all Cubans."

He gave no date for any invasion of the island but said: "The arms which we will have, will become known when Castro feels their impact." Cardona also called for aid from all exiled Cubans, including other revolutionary groups, "from Canada to Patagonia."

In Havana, Castro termed Cardona's movement "a government of puppets," and said "Cuba must remain alert" against "a group of mercenaries."

The Revolutionary Movement of the People is led by Manuel Ray, former Cuban minister of public works, while the Democratic Revolutionary Front is headed by Manuel Antonio de Varona. Both were present at Wednesday's session with newsmen.

De Varona said Cuba is being "infiltrated daily" by men and supplies, adding: "We have the forces necessary to overthrow Castro."

Cardona's program calls for a return to private investment and free enterprise in Cuba. The Communist party would be outlawed and traditional relations with "democratic countries" would be renewed. Also, members of Castro's armed forces who take part in an uprising would be retained in military service and promoted.

The new council plans to designate itself as "the government of Cuba in arms" rather than a government in exile.

If the council called itself a government in exile, it would violate U.S. law, which prohibits establishing a provisional government in this country without official consent.

Honest Man Gets $10,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An unemployed Negro handyman who returned $240,000 he found on the street is $10,000 richer today.

But his wife says: "I hope we never do find any more money."

Since finding the money two weeks ago life has been a hectic series of press conferences and telephone calls for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas William Johnson.

But Tuesday the Johnsons got a $10,000 check from Brink's, Inc., the armored truck company that lost the $240,000.

Brink's originally offered Johnson a $90-a-week job and a college scholarship for his eldest son, Richard, 16. Johnson said he didn't want the job and that his son wants to work his way through college.

"I have two other sons and I want to be fair to them, too," Johnson said.

Brink's then decided on the $10,000 check. The Johnsons want to buy a new house.

Johnson says he has been bombarded with job offers, letters and phone calls since finding the money — inadvertently dropped from a Brink's truck.

Not all of the letters were complimentary, he said. About one-fourth suggested he was insane for returning the money — in unmarked $10 and $20 bills.

Medic Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Howard C. Naffziger, 76, known internationally for his pioneering work in brain tumor and pituitary gland operations, died Wednesday night after a lengthy illness. He was a past president of the American College of Surgeons.

Y Committee Is Lauded For Work

The youth committee of the YMCA won praise from the board of directors Tuesday for what the board called an outstanding accomplishment in staging the annual spring youth conference here last weekend.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., reporting for the committee, reviewed the program for the event which attracted 500 participants. She said 288 Big Spring homes had been opened to these young people. Everett Taylor, Big Spring YMCA program director, was chosen as the outstanding youth leader of the meeting.

Dan Krause, president said he regretted to announce that the YMCA would be losing the services of Taylor at the end of April. He has accepted a similar post at the Longview YMCA. Starting his career here, Taylor has become one of the most sought-after program men in the Southwest area.

Death Toll

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — The known death toll of weekend tornadoes that swept four districts of East Pakistan reached 266 Wednesday. Official reports said more than 1,200 were injured.

although he is only now completing his final certification work.

The board referred to the long range planning committee recommendation for installation of a divider in the gymnasium in order to give it greater utility. A recommendation to increase the Southwest area council support from 3 to 3½ per cent of the local budget was referred to committee.

Various reports included one on membership which showed 3,201 enrolled, an increase of 673 or 23 per cent over a year ago and slightly above the year-end figure. The youth activities committee has scheduled two banquets, one for teachers, and one for vocational purposes. James Tidwell said the adult activities committee was working toward an expanded program. Bruce Dunn reported on plans for revamping and landscaping the building entrance. In this connection, it was announced the Green Thumb Garden Club has offered to do up to $200 in landscaping at the Y.

No One's Taking These Cops To The Cleaners

CHICAGO (AP)—Supt. O. W. Wilson, the one-time college dean brought in to give the Chicago police department a new look, plans just that this week. Some of the boys in blue will be issued smocks—and tan smocks, at that.

Wilson has announced that he plans to place the garments in squadrooms, vehicles once known as paddy wagons. Officers may don the smocks in handling drunks, bleeding street fighters or accident victims to avoid soiling their basic blue uniforms.

After two ill-fated stage shows at the County Armory, Graviss, the manager, was stuck with 90 pounds of hot dogs. He bought them for his wife and six youngsters.

The dogs are almost gone, and no one is happier than Graviss' son, 8, who asked: "Dad, will you get some hamburgers next time?"

CONVINCED AT LAST

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Five robberies have convinced Lillian White, 73.

"I guess I'm going to have to keep it in the bank," she said.

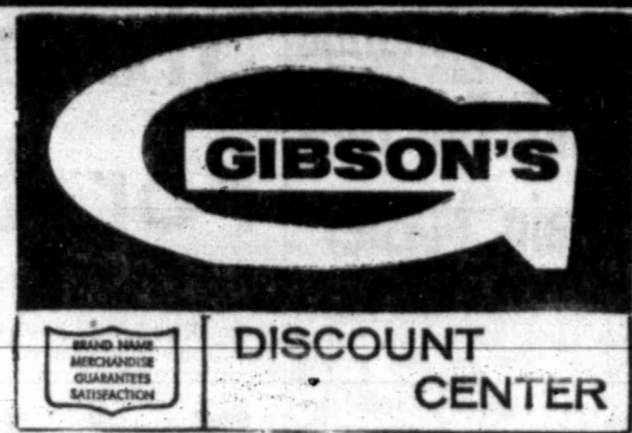

Mrs. White told police Tuesday a man knocked her down and took $1,044 concealed in her clothing. All told, she has lost $5,558 to robbers in recent years.

The money represented savings from her $38-a-week charwoman job at the County Courthouse, Social Security and proceeds from a property sale.

BOX CARS, TOO? LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A gas station owner in this desert gambling mecca has adopted a slot machine version of selling gas.

"Anyone who orders a full tank gets it free—if the price comes up with three similar digits," John Karas said today. So far, he has paid off three winners.

DEAR ABBY

HOLDS ON TO IT

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 37 and my new boy friend is 37. He is a very nice man and I expect he is going to propose any time as he sort of talks that way. He is not the extravagant type but he has a peculiarity I want to ask you about. He carries his money in a roll of bills with a rubber band around it. My Daddy says this is a sure sign of a stingy man. I would like some advice. CORA

DEAR CORA: If he just "carries it" and the rubber band never comes off and neither do any of the bills, your Daddy is right.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is very good natured, but he has one fault that drives me crazy. He is very untidy. I am not a fussy person about housekeeping, but it unnerves me to clean house and then have him come home and throw his coat on the couch, hang his tie on the doorknob, drop his shirt on the floor, drape his socks and underwear under the bed. He walks around the house barefoot, leaves newspapers all over the floor and anything he takes out of the refrigerator (milk or butter) just stands around. He throws himself (all 210 pounds of him) on my good bedspread and "relaxes." I've tried talking nicely to him (he calls this "nagging") and letting things pile up, but nothing works. Have you any suggestions? GOING CRAZY

DEAR GOING: Accept him for what he is. A big, good-natured slob.

DEAR ABBY: I am a ninth-grader taking biology. I love biology, but I can't stand the smell of the room. I know the remains of frogs, earthworms and crayfish have to be preserved, but does it have to smell like that? NAUSEATED

DEAR NAUSEATED: All biology labs smell like that. Ask your teacher if you may spray it with scented air purifier. (Aren't we lucky Darwin could stand it?)

Scandal, Race Hurt Schools

EDITOR'S NOTE — "Somehow we have to get our message across," says the superintendent of schools in St. Louis. The message: more money needed. But the city's voters turned down all last year. This is the last of three articles on school financing problems.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—St. Louis has found an enormous rathole and is busy shoveling dollars into it. In March, in May, and again in November last year, the voters turned down a $24.3-million bond issue to build new schools and modernize some of the old ones. They also rejected, three times, a $5.2-million bond issue for school fireprotection.

Because the bonds weren't passed, and the schools can't be built, the school system this year is chartering 70 buses to transport 3,600 pupils from their home neighborhoods to schools up to nine miles away.

The buses are costing the city $195,000 this school year, plus $40,000 in overtime pay for teachers who supervise the bus rides. This is $233,000 for the 1960-61 school year.

NO ARGUMENT
No one seriously argues here that the new schools aren't needed. Six elementary schools are at double their normal capacity; 2,000 elementary school pupils are attending classes in high school buildings; 525 elementary pupils are being taught in rented church quarters; some classrooms have as many as 60 pupils.

Then why did the bond issues fail? Apathy, ignorance, and resistance to taxes were major factors. But in St. Louis it was something more.

It was distrust of the St. Louis School Board, rocked by scandal and hint of scandal. A racial problem apparently was involved also.

Perhaps most of all, it was a state law requiring that school bond issues must be approved by a two-thirds majority. "We can get 60 per cent," one leading citizen declared, "but that last 6 per cent comes mighty hard."

SCANDALS
A school building commissioner, appointed by the school board, was removed from office by a circuit court on charges of gross misconduct in office. Several board members have resigned amidst charges they used school labor and materials on their own homes.

The voters are well aware of this state of affairs. One board member himself said that, under the circumstances, the people of St. Louis would be justified in turning down the bond issues.

Said one home owner: "Of course I voted against the school bonds. Why should I vote money into the hands of those people?"

St. Louis has a population of about 750,000, a drop of more than 100,000 since the 1950 census.

Much of the loss can be attributed to the flight to the suburbs, which many American cities are experiencing.

ATTENDANCE UP
But in that same 1950-1960 decade the average daily attendance in the St. Louis public schools rose from 80,626 to 90,581. Much of this increase has been in Negro pupils, who now make up about 45 per cent of the school population.

Many of St. Louis' problems can be traced directly to the slum clearance project in Mill Creek, a section in the near-downtown area. Negroes from Mill Creek moved en masse to North St. Louis, which had been a predominantly white neighborhood. There weren't enough schools to handle the influx of pupils, and it is these children who now are being taken by buses to other parts of the city.

"It's up north where they need the schools," said a housewife in conservative South St. Louis. "We don't need them down here. And if those colored folks think we're going to carry them on our backs, they've got another thing coming."

MAJORITY
In all three St. Louis elections the school bond issues carried by what, in suburban Parma, Ohio, would have been a comfortable majority. In February the vote was 62,236 for and 35,772 against (63.5 per cent approval). In May it was 35,828 for and 21,453 against (62.3 per cent approval). In November, it was 95,965 for and 64,755 against (59.6 per cent approval).

In March, the "no" votes of 11.1 per cent of the registered voters were enough to defeat the bonds. In May, it took only 6.7 per cent of the registered voters to block their passage.

In November, the "no" votes of 18.4 of the registered voters were decisive.

NO OPPOSITION
As in Parma, there was no organized opposition to the school bonds. Both metropolitan newspapers urged their passage, although both papers had serious reservations about the school board. Catholic and Lutheran church officials supported the bond issues wholeheartedly. PTA groups worked hard for them.

It was stressed that the bond issues would not be expensive. The average cost to home-owners: about $5 to $6 a year in increased property taxes.

"I voted against them," a white collar worker said. "I'll vote against them every time they come up. It means an increase in our taxes, and I can't afford it."

"Look, here are my tax bills. In 1949 my property tax was $43.50 now it's $106.12. That's more than a 100 per cent increase. How much do they want, anyway?"

HIGH ENOUGH
A housewife said, "our property tax is high enough right now. These people at city hall are just trying to stuff something down our throats. I don't trust them."

On April 4, St. Louis will hold a school board election. Shortly after that, the school bonds will almost certainly be put up to the voters again.

"We have to keep trying," said Philip J. Hickey, superintendent of instruction for the St. Louis schools. "We just have to. Things are going to get worse as we go along."

"Our transportation costs will be much higher next year. We expect at least 2,000 new pupils, perhaps more, next fall. We can't keep those elementary pupils in high school buildings, the high schools themselves need the room."

"Nearly half our schools are more than 50 years old. Some of them go back almost to Civil War days. Some of them are fire traps."

"We'll just have to try again. Somehow, somehow, we've got to get our message across."

Candidate Wages Pretty Campaign

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Seventy-one candidates are vying for the U.S. Senate seat formerly held by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

But the most eye-catching campaign is being waged for the special April 4 election by Delbert Grandstaff, West Columbia, Tex., teacher. Grandstaff is one of the 65 political unknowns in the race and has enlisted the aid of his daughters.

The girls are actress Kathy Grant, wife of Bing Crosby, and Hollywood model Frances Meyer, who have begun a 28-city bus tour with their father.

Borden Show Being Readied

GAIL — Everything is being squared away for the annual Borden County 4-H and FFA livestock show here Saturday.

Seven steers and a large number of lambs and swine will be entered by club boys in judging that will start at 8 a.m.

The sale is scheduled at 1 p.m., immediately following the luncheon served in the school cafeteria.

Jimmy Taylor, Howard County agent, will judge the steer class for the show.

Arrangements are in charge of Brent Murphy, president of the county 4-H Club, Sidney Long, Gail Vocational Agriculture instructor, and J. W. Holmes, Borden County agent.

People from neighboring counties are urged to attend the show and sale.

Jury Forming For Murder Trial

LUFKIN (AP)—Selection of a jury was expected to be completed today in the murder trial of Joan Franklin Brock, dark-haired former San Antonio convict charged with killing a Tyler druggist.

W. S. Carpenter, 43, was lured to his store on Nov. 8 and thugs stole drugs and kidnaped him. His beaten and bullet-pierced body was found in a secluded area of this East Texas city.

Eight jurors, all men, had been chosen by late Wednesday night and jury selection resumed this morning.

Attorneys expected testimony to start this afternoon.

Miss Brock, 28, and another former San Antonio convict, Dennis Woodbury, 30, were arrested in a San Antonio apartment. They were indicted together but Judge J. W. Summers ordered separate trials for the two.

Girl Ordered To Hospital Despite Protest Of Parents

FORT WORTH (AP)—An 11-month-old girl, suffering from bronchial pneumonia, was ordered taken to a hospital Wednesday by County Juvenile Judge Robert B. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith, parents of little Deborah Smith, protested the move.

An assistant district attorney said neighbors appealed to him after they had been unable to get the parents to provide medical care for the little girl.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Brady said, "They told me the girl's father had said the child needed no medical care because she would be saved through prayer."

'Fun While It Lasted,' Pope Gets 25-Year Prison Sentence

WACO (AP)—A former banker and weekly newspaper publisher, who said robbing banks and making the employees pose in the nude "was fun while it lasted," is under a 25-year prison sentence.

It took a federal district court only 35 minutes Wednesday to find Lawrence Pope, 43, guilty of bank robbery. Federal Dist. Judge Ben H. Rice promptly sentenced him to the maximum prison term.

Rice could also have fined Pope $10,000 in addition to the prison term but did not.

Five defense witnesses went to the stand in an attempt to prove Pope insane when he robbed the First State Bank of Thornton of $1,744 last November.

But as the jury filed from the courtroom, Mrs. Pope broke into tears. She had testified that she believed her husband insane since he lost a job as president of a Central Texas bank.

Pope's attorney, Pat Maloney, and Pope himself both told Judge Rice before the sentencing that they had nothing to say.

The government rested its case Tuesday. The trial was in U.S. District Court because the bank

Reds Gather

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—President Luis Somoza said Wednesday Communists based on the north coast of Honduras and Costa Rica, and supported by the Castro Cuban government, are preparing for a subversive movement against Nicaragua.

"We are ready to resist this new conspiracy," the president said, "and it is certain to fail as previous ones have."

at Thornton, 45 miles southeast of here, is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Pope faces a state court trial later in a bank robbery the same month at Schulenburg. The Schulenburg bank was not a member of the FDIC.

In both bank robberies, the lone gunman forced employees to pose for nude pictures. Agents of the FBI said Pope told them he intended to use such pictures to silence testimony.

Adolf Muska, insurance salesman from nearby West, Tex., where Pope formerly was a bank president, told of visiting Pope in jail at San Antonio after the FBI arrested the quiet-spoken publisher.

"When I asked Pope how he felt about what he had done," Muska testified, "he shrugged his shoulders and said, 'It was fun while it lasted.'"

Takes Technical Course

Ross Jenkins of Posey Tractor Co., Massey-Ferguson dealer in Big Spring, has attended a one-week advanced technical course at the M-F Training Center in Detroit. At the center, M-F offers a dealer personnel course designed to keep them informed on the latest service techniques in farm machinery industry, and to instruct them in the maintenance of recent additions to the company's line of agricultural and industrial machines and equipment.

TVA Testing Electric Auto

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority is testing a new electric automobile on the streets of Chattanooga. The federal agency thinks such cars might be widely used in the future.

A spokesman said TVA wants to know about the operation, maintenance and reliability of these cars, since they would use substantial amounts of electricity if they become popular.

The test car, which went into use Wednesday on public safety patrol, is powered by 12 heavy-duty, 6-volt batteries and cost TVA $4,400. It has a top speed of about 30 miles per hour and a range of about 40 miles.

The batteries are re-charged through a 110-volt electric cord, which plugs into an ordinary home outlet.

New Rocket

PARIS (AP)—Directors of the French space research program said Wednesday France has developed a new and more powerful rocket, named the Centaur. Officials at the defense ministry confirmed existence of the new rocket but said only that it is more powerful than the Veronique which the space research program has utilized up to now.

Schoolboy's Death Brings Life Term

ADEL, Iowa (AP)—Earl Edward Thompson, 26, was sentenced to life in prison Wednesday for the murder of a Des Moines schoolboy.

Judge Stanley Prall said, "It will be my recommendation that this young man will never be paroled or pardoned."

Thompson, of Wichita Falls, Tex., pleaded guilty Monday in the Jan. 31 slaying of Joe Dickson Jr. The boy was abducted outside a bowling alley in Des Moines and forced to drive west of the city.

Police said Thompson shot the boy and then stole his car.

Life Members Of P-TA

P-TA Life Memberships Are Awarded To Group

"Roses to the living" was the expression used by Mrs. E. L. Fannin as she introduced the group of members selected to receive life memberships in the Parent-Teachers Association at a luncheon Wednesday at Cosden Country Club.

The affair was part of the two-day conference of District 16, P-TA, which attracted approximately 200 delegates from the area. Mrs. Chesley McDonald of Sterling City, district president, presided for the conference, theme of which was "Homes, Develop Character for Tomorrow's World."

Places were marked with tiny bouquets of roses, windows and doors glittered, Spring flowers centered luncheon tables.

Entertainment at the luncheon was composed of two skills presented by the fifth grade of College Heights, one dealing with the lessons learned by a little boy who didn't want to go to school; the other dealt with 10 lost pennies that no one wanted individually. Combining forces, they formed a dime and purchased savings stamp, which the P-TA is sponsoring.

Tributes to superintendents, principals and teachers were expressed by W. C. Blankenship, principal of College Heights. An original poem was read by Mrs. Vernon Jackson of Grand Prairie, state chairman of cultural arts, who expressed appreciation of the P-TA in "36 Years and the Oak Tree."

Grandparents Visit Michigan Grandson

by Mrs. W. F. Miether, of Odessa, state president, who told of the number of years out of 70 years that one spends in various activities, such as reading, sleeping, trying shoe laces, eating, working and waiting on something or somebody.

"It's important," she remarked, "that we spend part of our time in being sympathetic, doing kind deeds, cementing friendships and being happy."

Included in the life memberships were those conferred on Mrs. Buford Hull, general chairman of the conference; Mrs. Kendall Wallace, Mrs. Dwight McCann, Mrs. B. P. Bolding, Mrs. W. C. Reed, Mrs. B. M. Keese, John Hardy, Mrs. Hollis Puckett and Mrs. Wesley Prinzing.

Philip Nolan P-TA of Sweetwater was presented the attendance award by Fred Salling, superintendent of Miles schools, for having the largest number of delegates present. Very Dognified

Plensed that his mistress is having her story in the paper, but quite bared with the whole thing, is Scrapy, the McIntosh's very dognified dog. Also pictured with this week's cook are, left to right, Mary Linda and Robert. Mrs. McIntosh's hobby is cooking and she knows some unusual and interesting recipes.

'Far Away Places' Provide Recipes For Mrs. McIntosh

By CAROL BARNES
Pizza, enchiladas, egg foo yung—sounds like a menu for the United Nations. Actually these are some of the dishes cooked by Mrs. C. L. McIntosh, 578 Chamute, who likes to cook anything that is different.
Mrs. McIntosh, wife of a captain in the Air Force, has traveled to several different places and has picked up recipes from other parts of the nation, as well as abroad. The couple lived in Okinawa, where their daughter was born, before coming to Big Spring, and Mrs. McIntosh has learned many oriental recipes.
In fact, oriental food is Mrs. McIntosh's favorite to prepare and to eat. Mary, her seven-year-old daughter, also likes rice. Other favorite oriental dishes are chop suey, chow mein and egg rolls. According to the cook, orientals prepare their own food excellently, but they can mess up American dishes.

From San Antonio, which is Mrs. McIntosh's original home, she has learned recipes for chaulupes, tacos and enchiladas and often cooks Mexican meals for her family, with all the added touches.
Dishes from "far away places" may appeal to Mrs. McIntosh, but Capt. McIntosh prefers a such American type meals as charcoal steak and barbecued turkey. The couple's 15-month-old son, Robert, doesn't seem to have a favorite, but Scrapy, the family's Okinawan dog, likes vegetables with soy sauce.
For someone to have such a wide repertoire of recipes, it is hard to believe that our featured cook keeps them all in her head. And she never measures. Mrs. McIntosh likes to create new dishes from recipes given her, which is one reason she seldom remembers where the recipe came from.
Here are some recipes that she figured out measurements for and they are some of her favorites.

floral arranging. Is another of Mrs. McIntosh's hobbies and she has a diploma from the National Floral Institute in California while in Okinawa. Mrs. McIntosh studied Japanese floral arranging. One of her dreams is someday to open a floral business of her own.

Hambone Soup Is Good Family Lunch

Different way with a hambone:
HAMBONE SOUP FRANCES
1 hambone with a little meat on it
1-3 cup (1 large) grated onion
1/4 cup (1 large) grated carrot
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup (1 small) cubed pared potato
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
2 (tbsp.) catchup
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 small bay leaf
6 whole cloves
Put all the ingredients in a kettle, tying the bay leaf and cloves in a piece (1 thickness) of cheesecloth. Simmer about 1 hour; remove hambone and spices. Cut any pieces of meat away from bone and return to soup.
Makes 4 servings.
If ham is very salty, you may need to reduce the amount of salt called for.

Pudding Topping

The butterscotch and chocolate sauces usually used for topping ice cream are also delicious served with a simple cornstarch pudding.

GARLIC DIP
This one was given to Mrs. McIntosh by a good friend in San Antonio, and she has never encountered another like it.
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
4 or 5 tbsps. tomato juice
1 or 2 cloves garlic, crushed
3 tbsps. dill pickle juice
Salt and pepper to taste
Mayonnaise
Mix all the ingredients except the mayonnaise. Add enough mayonnaise to make the cheese mixture to desired thickness for a dip. Keep chilled and serve with potato chips.
OKINAWAN RICE
4 cups cooked rice
4 to 5 slices bacon, diced
1/4 to 1 cup diced cooked ham
1 medium onion, diced
Soy sauce to taste
Brown diced ham in a heavy skillet. Remove bacon and brown the onions and ham in fat. Return the bacon to the fat and add the cooled rice. Add soy sauce and enough water to steam for 15 minutes. While steaming, be sure to cook over a very low heat or it will stick.

Friends Are Happy With Tanga Tuna

Planning a party and you can't think of a dish that will please all your friends during the Lenten season? Make a batch of tuna canapes—they're filling, attractive and easy to make.

All you need is:
1 can (6 1/2 or 7 ozs.) tuna
1 tbsp. finely chopped celery
3 tbsps. mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 tbsps. horse radish
32 toast points
Chopped celery
Drain the tuna, flake and add celery and mayonnaise; blend into a paste. Combine butter and horseradish and spread on toast. Top with tuna mixture. Garnish with parsley sprinkled over the top.
See how easy it is and you have enough to serve 32 guests, as long as they limit themselves to one canape.

Author Of Book Serves Dish

The co-author of the delightful new book, "Menus for Entertaining" served us this good main dish.

ELAINE ROSS'S CHICKEN CECI
2 cans (1 pound each) chick peas
1 red onion (diced)
6 ribs celery with leafy tops
Salt and wine vinegar
Salt, pepper and Italian seasoning
2 large broiler-fryers (cut in serving-size pieces)
Mix drained chick peas, onion and chopped celery with enough oil and vinegar (in equal parts) to cover; refrigerate overnight.
Next day, place chicken in one layer in shallow baking dish; cover with vegetables and marinade. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 2 1/2 hours.
Turn chicken occasionally, keeping covered with vegetables so meat doesn't dry. Makes 8 servings.

A Carousel Cake

A cake mix, designed with parties in mind, is big news for mothers who are planning a party for their youngsters. The colors of the cake, called Coconut Surprise, are so bright and say that they sparkled Carousel Cake as one idea for a treat that will be sheer delight for the younger set.

A Carousel Cake Will Delight The Children

What spells more magic for youngsters than ice cream and cake? The answer is a Carousel cake made with two layers of coconut surprise cake sandwiched together with an equally thick layer of chocolate ice cream.
On top, a simple sprinkling of confectioners' sugar serves as the ring for the paper horses that prance beneath the red and white canopy.
The cake itself helps set the theme, for the "surprise" is that the peach-golden cake, made from a brand-new mix just being introduced, is sprinkled with bits of moist coconut in exciting circus colors—red, yellow, orange and green. The mix is a coconut surprise mix, a cake designed with parties in mind.
CAROUSEL CAKE
1 pkg. coconut cake mix
1 1/2 qts. chocolate ice cream
Confectioners' sugar
Cardboard horses, striped straws and paper canopy (available at most local "dime" stores)
Make cake according to directions on package and bake in two well greased and floured 8-inch cake pans.
Cool on cake racks. Press softened ice cream into another 8-inch cake pan, lined with waxed paper, and cover with second cake layer. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar and decorate with horses and canopy, held upright by means of the straws.

Your Sweet Tooth Needs Angel Cake

You can buy the cake for this sweet dessert.

ANGEL FOOD NUGGETS
One 6-inch angel food cake
2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
6 tbsps. milk
1 tsp. vanilla or rum flavoring
1 1/4 cups ground Brazil nuts
1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 ozs) unsweetened chocolate

With a fork break angel cake into 24 pieces about 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

Beat sugar, salt, milk and vanilla until smooth; mixture will be thin.

Dip 12 pieces of the cake into frosting, scraping off excess into bowl; roll in half the nuts.

Melt chocolate over hot water; cool; gradually stir into frosting left in bowl.

Dip remaining 12 pieces cake into chocolate frosting, roll in remaining nuts. If frosting becomes too stiff to manage, beat in a little milk.

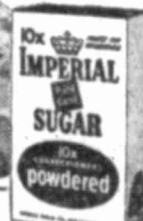

Allow frosted cake pieces to set on waxed paper.

Saucy Reminder

Cook books used to direct that white sauce be made in a double boiler. Nowadays with controlled surface heat and a heavy saucepan it can be made over direct heat; but the sauce will need your undivided attention and constant stirring.

Cheese Fantan, Favorite Dish

Something to come home to!
CHEESE FANTANS
1 pkg. dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup scalded milk
1-3 cup sugar
1-3 cup butter
1 tsp. salt
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
¾ to 4 cups sifted flour
1 egg (lightly beaten)
1 cup rolled oats
Grated Parmesan cheese and poppy seed
Soften yeast in warm water. Stir together milk, sugar, 1-3 cup butter, salt and cheese, until butter melts; cool to lukewarm.
Stir in 1 cup flour; add softened yeast, egg and oats. Stir in enough more flour to make a soft dough.
Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes.
Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening.
Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 hour.
Punch down dough; turn out on lightly floured board.
Cover and let rest 10 minutes.
Divide dough into 3 parts; roll one part to form a 9 by 12-inch rectangle.
Brush with extra melted butter; sprinkle with grated Parmesan. Cut into six 1½-inch strips; pile together. Cut into 8 pieces, each 1½ inches long.
Place cut side up in greased muffin cups. Repeat process with remaining two-thirds of dough.
Cover and let rise in warm place until nearly double in size, about 45 minutes.
Brush with extra melted butter; sprinkle with poppy seed.
Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Special For Cookie Recipe Collectors

Cookie collectors, from tots to grandpops, will love adding these two chewy, coconut-fig cookies to their collection!

The fact that a new kind of coconut—fine-grated coconut—is used in the recipes has a lot to do with their wonderful flavor; just try them and see!

COCONUT FIG BARS
¼ cups sifted cake flour
1¼ tps. double-acting baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 tbsps. melted butter or other shortening
¾ cup finely cut dried figs
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1¼ cups fine-grated coconut
1 tsp. hot water
Measure sifted flour, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add sugar gradually to eggs, beating thoroughly.
Add butter, then add figs, lemon rind, and 1 cup coconut. Mix thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with water. For a thin, chewy bar, spread mixture in two greased 8x8x2-inch pans.
Sprinkle with remaining coconut, and bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 30 minutes.
For a thick, drier bar, spread in one greased 9x9x2-inch pan. Sprinkle with remaining coconut and bake about 35 minutes.
Cool and cut in 2½x1¼-inch bars. Remove from pans.
Makes 3 dozen thin bars, or 1½ dozen thick bars.

FIG CHEWIES
1 cup dried figs, chopped
¼ cup water
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 tps. double-acting baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup packaged grated coconut
Pecan halves
Combine figs and water in saucepan. Place over medium heat and bring to a boil. Cook and stir until figs are tender (about 5 minutes). Cool.
Measure sifted flour; add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Then add figs and mix well. Add flour, a small amount at a time, beating well after each addition.
Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls into coconut and shape into balls. Place on greased baking sheet. Press a pecan half on top of each cookie.
Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 to 18 minutes, or until lightly browned. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Weight Watcher's Supper Snack

Refreshing low-calorie dessert.

ORANGE GELATIN
2 cups orange juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 oranges
Use frozen orange concentrate and dilute according to directions on can. Pour 1 cup of the orange juice into a measure; sprinkle with gelatin to soften. Heat remaining 1 cup orange juice until very hot—bubbles will appear around edge.
Pour hot juice into gelatin mixture; stir to dissolve. Pare oranges so they are membrane-free; cut sections away from dividing membrane. (Add any juice from oranges to gelatin mixture but no more than ¼ cup.)
Put orange sections into 5 individual molds (about ¼-cup size). Add gelatin mixture; chill. Unmold at serving time. Makes 5 servings.

Potted Shrimp Is A Real Southern Treat

By CECIL BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Talk to an English cook about favorite British dishes and you are likely to hear about potted meat or fish.

Generations ago some of our fine southern cooks adopted one of these dishes—potted shrimp—and made it their own. Recipes for it have been handed down in southern families ever since. We find rules for potted shrimp or shrimp paste, as it is often called here, in regional cook books from Savannah, Charleston and New Orleans.

These southern recipes may stem from England's Mrs. Beeton whose cook books were "certainly known to many 19th century American women. Or they may come from French forebears because Mrs. Beeton acknowledged that her recipe for potted shrimp was adopted from France's terrine de crevettes.

The name of this dish exactly describes the way it is made. Seasoned shrimp and butter are turned into a small earthenware pot and covered with extra melted (or clarified) butter to exclude the air.

Canned shrimp, we find, are perfect to use in the following recipe because of their texture—they can be lifted out whole and spread or they can be broken up easily as they are served.

The British are likely to serve potted shrimp on toast at teatime. Americans usually offer it as an hors d'oeuvre with crackers before a meal; it's a fine go-along for tomato juice.

POTTED SHRIMP
2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp
1 cup butter
1 tsp. mace
1 tsp. white pepper
¼ tsp. cayenne
Drain shrimp; rinse in cold water and drain again. Melt ¼ cup of the butter; mix in mace, pepper and cayenne.
Add shrimp and cook gently for a minute or two, stirring carefully so as not to break up shrimp.
Turn into a small deep attractive earthenware container. Clarify the remaining ¾ cup butter by heating it gently in a small saucepan until it foams; quickly skim off the foam and pour the clear butter over the shrimp; do not add any of the white residue at the bottom of the saucepan.
Refrigerate to allow butter to set. Before serving, let stand at room temperature until butter is slightly soft—1 hour or more.

Serve in the container as a spread. Makes about 2 cups.

NOTE: The shrimp should all be covered by the clarified butter; you may have to mash them down a bit to do so.

If you have an earthenware container whose top is somewhat smaller than its bottom, you may find it convenient to use.

SEASON TO TASTE
Southern recipes for shrimp paste vary in their seasonings. Mrs. Beeton used mace and cayenne, as does the above recipe, but she noted that a little nutmeg could be added "when liked."

Some Charleston cooks omit the mace and add nutmeg and celery salt. A Savannah cook comments that shrimp paste tastes delicious.

A Dainty Recipe For Ladies Lunch

Grated Parmesan is an extra ingredient that give extra-good eating!

NEW CHEF'S SALAD
4 cups torn pieces romaine or other salad greens
½ cup thinly sliced pared cucumber
1 large tomato (peeled and seeded and diced)
1 cup thin strips baked ham
¼ cup thin strips cheddar cheese
¼ cup minced parsley
2 tbsps. olive oil
2 tbsps. garlic - flavored wine vinegar
Seasoned salt and pepper
1 to 2 tbsps. grated Parmesan cheese
Just before serving toss all the ingredients together in a large salad bowl, adding seasoned salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste. (If chive salt is available, use it. If not, minced fresh chives or green onion may be added.) Makes 4 servings.

How To Bake Peeled Potatoes

Cooks sometimes ask us just how to bake peeled potatoes.

OVEN POTATOES
4 medium-sized potatoes (about 1½ pounds)
2 tbsps. water
1 tbsps. butter
Paprika
Pare potatoes and cut in half crosswise; place close together (but do not overlap) in a baking pan into which they just fit. Add water to bottom of pan.

Cover tightly with pan lid or foil. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes. Remove cover. Spread potatoes with soft butter; sprinkle with paprika.

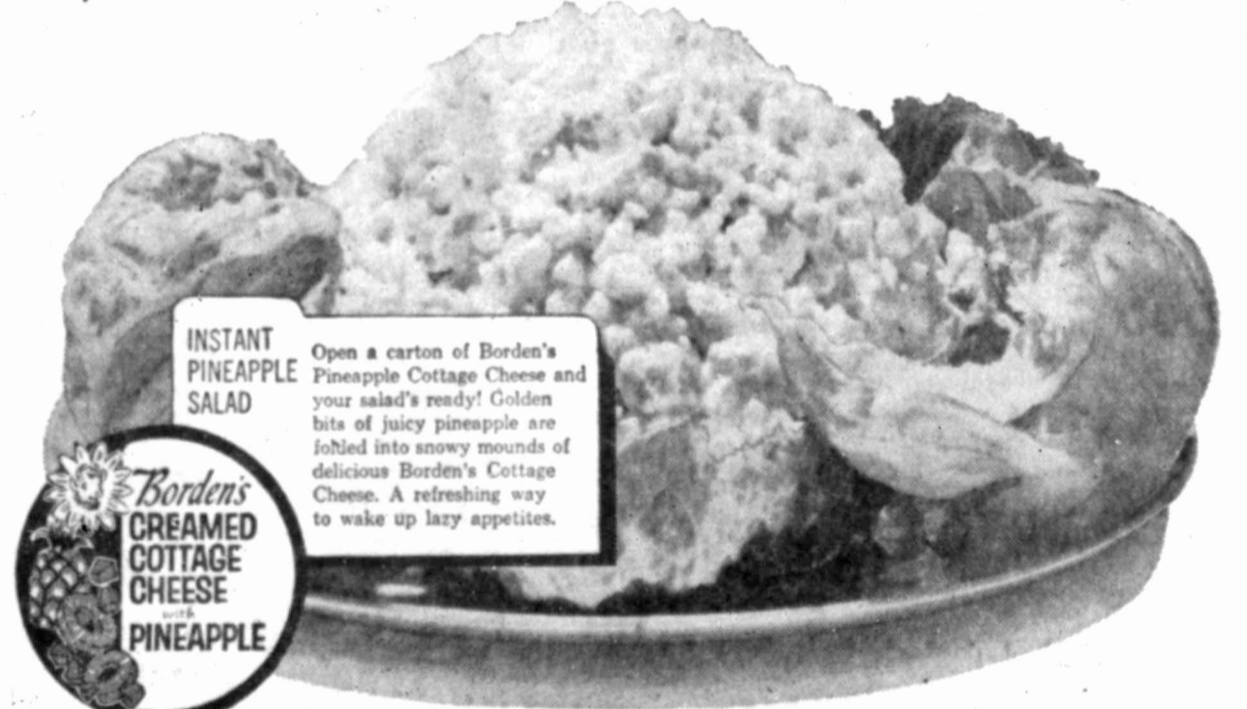

Continue baking uncovered, 15 minutes or until soft through. Makes 4 servings.

A Devotional For Today

I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. (John 11:25, 26).

PRAYER: Living Savior, I humbly pray Thee for grace to believe that Thou art the resurrection and the life. Grant me so to walk in newness of life that when I die I shall walk with Thee in the presence of the Father. In Thy name I pray. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

More Care At The Source

A bill proposed by Rep. Henry Fletcher of Luling as a constitutional amendment would put the weight of the law behind those transparent window envelopes most of us receive through the mail.

His proposal is for a garnishment of wages, in short the impounding of a person's salary for non-payment of debts.

Rep. Fletcher complains that he has lost more money to "deadbeats than most people save in a lifetime." Anyone with any experience in business is apt to agree with him.

On the other hand, Rep. Ray Bartram argues that those who take the risk of selling merchandise on credit should not ask the state to help them collect.

The merchant or others in business are entitled to protection by the law against fraud, misappropriation, misrepresentation and uncompensated delivery of goods or services made in good faith. Most of the conditions required to give the alert businessman a fair shake are on the statute books now. He can seek judgment for payment, a writ of sequestration to recover goods, and in some cases can impound bank accounts.

No doubt there are a lot of dead beats, but many honest citizens get caught in the old debt squeeze. Most of them will pay off eventually, given enough time. To garnish a man's wages might close the door on that possibility. Moreover, lack of prudence on the part of an individual or a merchant in permitting an impossible debt situation to accrue should not be sufficient reason for taking away bread and milk from the mouths of wives and children as a later punishment for the folly. If seizure of a man's pay envelope is the best way to protect the seller, why doesn't the seller obtain a payroll deduction agreement at the time of the sale?

The answer to that is obvious—it would not be so easy to sell. And herein we have perhaps the best answer to this problem—more care in the extension of credit. We hear much about the value of free enterprise and of getting the government out of business. Why bring big brother into the collection act?

Welcome To Visiting Club Women

Big Spring welcomes members of Texas Federated Women's Clubs here today for a two-day district meeting. We are proud that the ladies have chosen us as their hosts this year.

There is nothing snobbish in pointing up the quality of a meeting of this sort, for ladies who care enough to give volunteer service to innumerable projects and objectives as members of clubs are obviously the sort of individuals who give substance to our communities.

Moreover, many of the activities of the club women are directed to the beautification, cultural and intellectual attainments of our towns and cities. Without this leavening, we would either cease to grow or our growth would be lopsided.

Finally, these ladies demonstrate through the intermeshing of their specialized activities into a federated effort what can be accomplished by cooperative effort. The strength and influence of the whole is an extension of the strength and vigor of the individual club and its membership.

Marquis Childs The President Must Make His Stand

WASHINGTON—Except for those Presidents content to sit back and watch the drift of events there comes a moment in every administration when executive power must be used no matter what the turmoil and the tumult that may follow. Such a moment has come in the Kennedy administration.

THE PRESIDENT is rather like a swimmer posed on the bank. He is basking in the warm wind of personal popularity. The "image"—the ardent young President, his attractive family, his eloquent words—is an appealing one.

But, as he himself and those around him understand only too well, this cannot last forever if he is to do what he knows must be done. The moment of decision is coming in the message on national defense the White House will send to Congress probably next week. The long and often almost-anguished debate that has gone on between the President and his Secretary of Defense, Robert McNamara, is coming to an end.

BOTH MEN appreciate the radical alterations in the defense establishment that must be carried through in order to achieve economy and efficiency so long talked about in Senate debates and political campaigns. But they also appreciate that these alterations, which go along with recommendations for increased defense spending on conventional forces and in other areas, will arouse the determined opposition of some of the most powerful pressure groups in the country. This is evident from a listing of some of the principal alterations under debate:

A cutback in airplane production where it is clearly demonstrable that certain projects have no further value.

ELIMINATION of certain missile developments that have grown like Topsy largely because of pressures from industry, labor and the local community. The waste in at least one instance is in the order of hundreds of millions, if not billions, of dollars.

A cutback in the production of fissionable material in view of an overflowing inventory of the raw material and of megaton hydrogen bombs.

Economies in the Air National Guard where the waste and the dubious contribution to the nation's defense are glaringly obvious.

ANY ONE of these proposals would be enough in itself to start a roaring backfire generating powerful pressures applied to Congress to prevent any alterations. The President's political aides are recalling that the Republicans charged in the campaign last fall that the airplane contracts in Southern California would be cut back or transferred to New York State and other areas. They believe this is why the Kennedy-Johnson ticket lost that state.

Confronting the moment of decision, what the President—any President finding himself in this situation—must ask himself is whether the sum total of all pressure groups will not in the end add up to complete stalemate. It has begun already. The powerful truckers' lobby, angered by tax proposals in the highway message, is doing everything possible to block any change in this department.

IN NATIONAL DEFENSE and the spending of more than $40 billion a year the President comes up against a whole complex of built-in interests. To challenge them now with a recession on is to invite the charge that any cutback will increase unemployment and deepen the recession.

Yet to fall to make the challenge is to sanction past inefficiency and waste and thereby make it far more difficult to revitalize America's defenses. But also it bears directly on the effort to make some small beginning on disarmament if the interests involved can block any change for reasons of efficiency and economy, they will be in a stronger position to resist disarmament moves that might affect them adversely.

THE PRESIDENT'S message writers are looking back at the warning uttered by former President Eisenhower in his farewell message on January 17. While he waited until the last minute of the last hour, he did speak fateful words of warning about the "potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power" in the military-industrial complex and the danger "that public policy could itself become the captive of a scientific-technological elite."

That warning of the former President is a matter of deep concern to his young successor as he stands ready to take the plunge. He must commit himself to a greater degree, if one accepts the view of his biographer, James MacGregor Burns, than he has ever done before. And in grappling with the complex—the tangled interweaving of power and money about which Mr. Eisenhower spoke—he will inevitably sacrifice some of his personal popularity.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the name of illness and more mileage President Kennedy has proposed a new way of handling foreign aid. It's a disorderly mess now, with a history that goes way back.

Congress bought Secretary of State George C. Marshall's idea in June, 1947 when he suggested a program of aid to European countries to get them back on their feet after the war and save them from communism.

But when Congress set this foreign aid program in motion the next year it took it out from under Marshall's wing and created a new agency, the Economic Cooperation Administration, under Paul G. Hoffman.

THIS WAS JUST one more step in a story which started back in the war years: Taking more and more control away from the State Department in foreign dealings and scattering it around Washington.

In time Europe began bursting with prosperity and the aid program shifted course, with help going to backward countries. Marshall's original idea is now worldwide and there is no end to foreign aid in sight.

Since the end of World War II, the United States has spent $83.5 billion in such aid, of which $60.4 billion was in economic help, $25.4 billion in military assistance.

Just last week the Senate approved this country's joining OECD—Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development—a 20-nation group.

THROUGH IT this country and its friends and allies can work out their own economic and trade problems while sharing in aid to the underdeveloped nations.

The United States and its European allies have been spending about $7 billion a year to help the world's needy nations, with the American share being more than half. The Communists spend about $715 million a year.

Meanwhile, there was the problem, growing through the years, of scattered control over American efforts in the foreign field.

Last February a Senate subcommittee staff report complained of the Washington "foul-up factor." The result of the growth of so-called inter-agency coordinating committees.

These committees give dozens of departments and offices a hand in making policy. The report deplored the dilution of the secretary of state's responsibilities.

KENNEDY HAS been abolishing a number of committees and he proposed Wednesday that all foreign aid except the military kind—which would be handled by the Defense Department—be put under one agency.

And he proposed to Congress that the administrator of this agency should report directly to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the President.

Rusk would coordinate with the economic aid the military assistance administered by the Defense Department.

Millions of childless American couples ask themselves those questions.

Many have asked my wife, Frances, and me these same questions since we adopted a 5-week-old daughter, Tracy Ann, nearly eight years ago.

Our answer invariably is: "Don't worry about it being a mistake. If you have an urge to adopt a child, the biggest mistake you can make is to delay or dawdle. The sooner you set about making an adoption, the more years you'll have to enjoy the child."

People who have never adopted a child have some weird ideas on this subject.

For example, they often mistakenly praise you by saying, "That's a wonderful thing you're doing—to take a strange infant into your home and treat it as your own."

Actually, of course, it's just the other way around. It is the child that is doing you a favor by widening and deepening your life with a new sense of fulfillment.

Others ask dubiously, "Do you ever really quite get to think of an adopted child as your own flesh and blood?"

The answer to this is, "Yes, but it does take time." In our own case it took a full 24 hours.

Since then we have been blindly and positively and overwhelmingly certain Tracy Ann is our very own daughter in every way.

That is the greatest miracle of adoption. You don't wonder or doubt afterward. You are wonderfully, wonderfully sure you have done the right thing. You might kind of wish you had done it earlier except for one thing—if you had you might have missed getting the perfect child you now have.

"But aren't you afraid you might get a child with latent defects?" some people inquire.

Well, so far as I know every child born since the beginning of time had latent defects of some kind—of body, mind or temperament, which show up sooner or later. That's no sound reason either for fearing to have a child, or to adopt one.

Look at the world of groupies around you. Do you know of a single one without a defect, large or small? But most of them still find life worth living.

The truth is that those we love endeavor themselves to us almost as much by their small defects as by their shining virtues. And children do a wonderful service for blind preoccupation with our own adults. By letting us care for them they tend to cure us of our own defects of selfishness and blind, preoccupation with our own interests. They keep the world bright and young.

Living itself is a gamble, and if you want a child and can't have one, the best gamble you can take is to adopt one.

It isn't too big a gamble. Of the scores of parents I know who have adopted children, I have yet to meet one who regretted it.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I want to know something about marriage between first cousins. I am the offspring of such a marriage—there are three of us, two sisters and our brother.

"Our brother is married and is the father of two boys and a girl. My sister and I, though happily married for many years, have been unable to have children. Both of our husbands were married before and have children, so we feel that the fault rests entirely with us. There must be a very good reason. Can you enlighten us?—Mrs. E. S."

I wonder if the philosophers ever bothered to note or record what seems to me to be an important fact of life: Of all forms of life, only man shows a persistent insistence on worrying about things.

Yes, I know that in laboratories it is possible to drive rats or mice into some sort of jitter by subjecting them to intricately devised conditions under which they are kept in a constant environment of frustration and bewilderment.

But it's only people who insist on reaching out for things to worry about, I don't say this is necessarily bad. Maybe this is a basic reason why mankind holds increasing dominion over the earth, and some other species married later in life rather than early. And this I feel pretty sure, is a far more important aspect in childlessness than anything else you've mentioned.

It's wonderful to have children. But if you'll consider history, and think of the great spiritual, scientific, literary or other leaders who never had children, isn't it honest to recognize that we all can, if we live good lives, leave our lasting imprint on the world without being fathers or mothers?

"Dear Dr. Molner: In what way does pernicious anemia differ from leukemia?—Mrs. L. B."

Pernicious anemia is a deficiency in production of red blood cells; leukemia is a disorder in white blood cells. It is incidental that some forms of anemia are associated with a form of leukemia as a complication.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a grandchild who raises phlegm but does not expectorate. Where does this phlegm go? To the lungs, or to the stomach, thus passing on as foods do?—M. E. W."

Into the stomach. Phlegm is primarily mucus, that is, the natural secretion of the mucous membranes. There is no reason to worry about this. (The esthetics are another matter.)

Around The Rim This Is The Time To Be Heard

The Big Spring City Commission once again goes into public hearing with a thorough knowledge of its proposed city budget. It didn't take so much after hours work this year, because the commissioners were more familiar with details of the budget.

Last year, these same five men worked over 25 hours, as they studied every expenditure. This year, they covered the same ground in about 13 extra hours of work.

The major differences between the two fiscal budgets, other than the four per cent increase, is the number of salary increases and the large difference in the amount of surplus.

The surplus will run close to $140,000 for this year's operation of the city, compared with about $35,000 last year.

IN MANY INSTANCES, the city has been considerably behind private industry in salary scales. Several boosts this year will close that gap. Practically every department was touched by the salary hikes.

A notable exception is the operators at the water filter plant and the sewage treatment plant. The commission discussed the plight of these men but did nothing about it. These operators are charged with a 24 hour sentinel of our water and sewage treatment.

No matter how good the facilities or how much water is available, the quality of the water that flows through the taps at your house depends on these men.

They work seven days per week. They are paid about the same as a beginning policeman. The commission considered cutting the hours down to six days, but they didn't.

THE COMMISSION agreed to $14,000 for street maintenance in the new fiscal year, another area where money is desperately needed. Further development of the city parks received a handsome boost.

Tonight, the public hearing is scheduled. Whatever you have scheduled at 7:30 p.m., let it wait long enough to stop by city hall for this hearing. Regardless how you feel about the various expenditures, this is the time to be heard.

To those who say "it doesn't do any good," I remind them that last year the city commission decided against a water rate increase as the result of the public hearing. At least, it was immediately following the hearing that the water rate hike was dropped from the budget and was deferred until the bond election.

EVERY COMMISSION meeting is a proper time to sit in and advise with the properly elected officials. But the budget hearing is the meeting when funds are set up in the various departments to carry on the year's work. It is the time when the tax rate is firmly established. As a result, it is the most important single meeting of the year.

And it is the time when Big Spring citizens should show up in force.

Inez Robb Tourists In The Camel Market

BEERSHEBA, Israel — In an age when we reach for the stars what an ancient world of romance springs to life in the old Biblical phrase, "From Dan to Beersheba." The two villages spanned the rugged extent of many a man's world in the days of the Old Testament.

Dan still flourished in the north and Beersheba in the south where it marks the northern edge of the Negev Desert.

"YOU MUST see the camel market in Beersheba on Thursdays," every tourist is advised. "It is terribly picturesque, full of Bedouins buying and selling camels. The market hasn't changed in centuries."

Well, that is a bit of an exaggeration. The camels and the Bedouins are in the market per schedule on Thursdays, but it is very difficult to see them for the tourists.

It is my estimate that for every camel and Bedouin doing business under the most harassing circumstances there are a minimum of 100 tourists each. How a Bedouin ever manages to transact a deal for a camel, which looks contemptuously down on owner, prospective buyer and tourist alike, is beyond me. To this bystander it appeared that every time buyer and seller had about come to terms both were required to break off negotiations to pose in both black and white and color.

A BEDOUIN intent on buying or selling a camel must also be prepared to deal with the tourist who hankers to buy his dagger in its silver sheath. There is a lively tourist market in daggers—the switch-blade knife of the East. Camels are more difficult to ship home.

Cameras en masse do not seem to bother the male Bedouin, who bears absolutely no resemblance to Rudolph Valentino, and tourists have no trouble snapping him bargaining for a camel, an ounce of tobacco or a herbal concoction good for man or beast.

THE BEDOUIN with a sick cow, camel or goat comes to market to get advice and medicine from a Bedouin medicine man. The former describes the symptoms of the ailing animal to the latter and prescriptions to fit are run up on order. Then the bargaining over price begins and often terminates barely in time to save the patient.

But, as I said above, the male Bedouin makes no objection to snapping cameras in the old market on the edge of modern Beersheba. He does not even seem to object that his camel may be worn out and unfit for plowing for the next three days because it has been continuously kneeling and rising all day long so that tourists riding the ship of the desert can have their pictures taken by other tourists. Indeed, this is a lively source of income as it costs bakshesh to be pictured atop a camel.

WHAT THE BEDOUIN does object to is having tourists take a picture of his women, who are twice as picturesque as he.

Bedouin women are not veiled with a fluttering white mask across the face as are other Arab women. They wear a veritable curtain of gold and silver coins. I cannot quite figure out how the coins are secured at the hair-line but they fall from there like gold and silver drapery, down the face of the Bedouin woman.

I CAN ONLY guess that the woman I saw with a golden shower to her chin was the wife of a Bedouin banker. She was covered to her foot in a black robe from which she peered cautiously as she made her purchases in the regular street market some distance from the camel market of Beersheba.

As far as tourists were concerned, she was the belle of the bazaar. No other Bedouin woman could begin to match her coin for coin. I never saw so many cameras pointed in one direction toward her and so many camera owners nonchalantly looking in the opposite direction in my life.

David Lawrence Fallacies In Education Issue

WASHINGTON—Some fallacies are being spread around in connection with the program of federal aid to education now pending in Congress.

Fallacy No. 1 is that, if the main bill were to include any loans for construction of parochial schools at the elementary or secondary level, this could jeopardize the operation of the whole law, when passed, because of doubt about constitutionality.

THE FACT IS, however, that Congress for many years has inserted in various laws a section, usually at the end, which says that if any provision is held unconstitutional by the courts, this does not affect the validity of any other provision. It is known as a "separability clause."

Fallacy No. 2 is that federal funds are not being loaned to any church schools today for construction purposes because it would be unconstitutional to do so. Here, however, is an excerpt from a news dispatch which appeared a few days ago in "The Catholic Week," the diocese newspaper in Alabama, under the headline of Cullman, Alabama:

"A $400,000 LOAN has been issued to Sacred Heart College in Gullman, Ala., for construction and expansion, according to Mother Mary Susan Serrier, president of the college. The Housing and Home Finance Agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare approved the loan in February.

"Founded in 1940 by the Benedictine Sisters of Cullman, Sacred Heart College was the natural outgrowth of the educational institution founded in 1904 by the Sisters. Sacred Heart College is the only Catholic women's college in the three-state area of Alabama-Mississippi-Georgia. The college has trained faculty members who staff 14 elementary schools, three high schools and one college. All are Catholic schools in the Mobile-Birmingham diocese.

"SACRED HEART COLLEGE has also educated a large number of teachers in public schools in the state, especially in Cullman County."

Fallacy No. 3 is that there is a constitutional difference between aid at the elementary and secondary level, as distinguished from the college level, the argument being that attendance at elementary and secondary schools is "compulsory,"

while attendance at sectarian institutions at the college level is "voluntary."

Actually, there is no law anywhere that compels any child's attendance at a public school, either at the elementary or the secondary level. What is set forth in state laws is that children shall get an education for a stated period at an "accredited" school. Parochial schools are "accredited"—that is, they satisfy the education standards set by a state school board—and this is all that is required of any Protestant or Catholic school or of any other private school.

THE FEDERAL government, on the other hand, does not participate in any way in so-called compulsory education at the elementary or secondary-school level.

In the bill introduced in behalf of the Kennedy administration by Rep. Thompson of New Jersey, Democrats dealing with funds for construction and teachers' salaries, there is this provision:

"In the administration of this title, no department, agency, officer, or employee of the United States shall exercise any direction, supervision, or control over the policy determination, personnel, curriculum, program of instruction, or the administration or operation of any school or school system."

THIS MAKES IT plainly a bill by which the federal government is to provide educational facilities but is not to take any part itself in what is taught.

There may be good reasons why the federal government should let the states take care of all school problems, including funds for construction and any other educational facilities, but the moment the Congress begins appropriating money for education, the argument is made that, under the Constitution, it cannot permit any discrimination as between different kinds of religious schools or colleges, or impose any handicap on those parochial or private schools which satisfy state requirements in the field of general education.

Fire Trucks Out Of Red

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.S.—Twenty-five years ago most fire trucks were red but the trend recently has been to varied colors so that emergency vehicles will stand out from the many red trucks on the street, says a Seagrava Corp. engineer.

W. P. Breining says fire trucks now come in shades of white, yellow, gray, green, brown, orange, blue and even black. But if you want a red truck, you can still get one—in 25 shades from bright red to dark maroon.

Opposes Aid

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., takes the witness chair before the House Education Subcommittee which is holding hearings in Washington on proposed legislation granting Federal aid to public elementary and secondary schools. Goldwater told the group he was opposed to Federal aid for the schools and said such aid was unnecessary and unsound.

British Spy Case Stirs Security Row

LONDON (AP)—A major political storm with international repercussions was building up in Britain today over how a Soviet spy ring could operate five years in this tight little island without being detected.

Conviction Wednesday of a Soviet master spy, an American couple and two British lovers for stealing royal navy secrets still left missing links in the case. England's lord chief justice called "a thriller."

Strange Radio Moscow transmissions on a secret wavelength 10 days after the five were caught led security officials to believe that other Soviet spies at large in Britain were being alerted to change their call signs and codes.

OVERHAUL
Lord Carrington, first lord of the admiralty, ordered a world-wide overhaul of the British navy's security system and announced a board of inquiry would be set up to investigate gaps already disclosed.

British newspapers lashed the security services for "unbelievable slackness." Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express raised the question of "how much vital information had reached the Russians through the flagrant folly and incompetence of naval intelligence" before the spy ring was cracked.

There were fears here of the impact on joint British-American military and diplomatic planning.

The United States banned sharing atomic secrets in 1950 after Klaus Fuchs was caught giving the Soviets secrets credited with advancing construction of the first Soviet atomic bomb 3 to 10 years. The disappearance behind the Iron Curtain of British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean and of atomic scientist Bruno Pontecorvo added to American mistrust of British security.

HAD VALUE
The British navy said the secrets passed to the Soviets by the five spies convicted Wednesday had "marked value," including details of the atomic submarine Dreadnought, built with the help of U.S. blueprints. But Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was understood to have written President Kennedy that no U.S. naval or atomic secrets were compromised by the spy ring.

Chief Justice Sir Hubert Lister Parker underscored the seriousness of the spying, however, by imposing sentences of from 15 to 25 years when the normal maximum is 7.

The case was expected to bring closer cooperation between the Western allies in keeping tabs on suspicious persons.

Gordon Arnold Lonsdale, 37, who got 25 years as the "directing force" of the ring, claimed to be a Canadian and represented himself sometimes as an American but Scotland Yard said he actually was a Soviet citizen.

LONG ASSOCIATION
The American couple — Morris Cohen, 50, alias Kroger, and his wife Helen, 27, who were given 20 years, have associated with Communists since the Spanish Civil War.

Scotland Yard indicated in court they were connected with the cases of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Americans electrocuted in 1950 for stealing U.S. atomic secrets for Moscow, and Col. Rudolf Abel, Soviet master spy arrested in 1957 and now serving 30 years in a U.S. prison.

Yet for nearly 10 years the Cohens-Krogers traveled around the world to Canada, Tokyo, Singapore, Vienna, London, New Zealand and possibly back and forth through the Iron Curtain—without being suspect.

CINEMA COMMENT

By Bob Smith

The management recommends "The World of Suzie Wong" for adults and mature young people. This is sensible enough, but there is nothing in the film to snicker at. It is truly an adult approach to the film art.

Suzie's world, to put it bluntly, is one of prostitution. A Hong Kong Chinese girl, she is forced by threat of starvation into the most ancient of professions.

But Suzie is not a bad girl, basically. She likes to pretend that her body, mind and soul have separate, unrelated existences, this being the only way she can resolve her impossible situation. Suzie's pretenses go even further, to play-acting the role of a sweet young virgin from a wealthy and respectable family, during her holidays.

It is thus, on the Hong Kong ferry, that she meets an American artist who has thrown up his architectural profession and come to the Orient for a year to test his ability as a painter. Intrigued at first by the innocence of Suzie, and later by his discovery of her other identity, the artist, played with conviction by William Holden, takes a room in a cheap hotel in the Chinese quarter. Suzie, along with an assortment of girls in similar straits, works the bar on the lower floor.

Soon, Holden must decide between Suzie and an English girl who comes from an established Hong Kong upper crust family. His decision is based on a growing knowledge of both women—the English girl is nice enough, but a victim of transmitted social prejudice; Suzie, who works as the artist's model, remains untouched by him as he learns more about her true nature. The artist's decision is not without pain.

Motivations in the story are plain and simple and in line with human nature, following the rule that we are none of us entirely good or entirely bad, but are still responsible for what we do with our souls. Suzie's girl friends, for example, run the gamut from the sweet-natured lady of the evening who wears glasses and knits socks for people out of the kindness of her heart, to the hard-bitten battle axe with whom Suzie engages in a hair-pulling contest.

Even without the dramatic story, the colorful scenes of Hong Kong would be worth attending for.

Co-starring in "The World of Suzie Wong" is Nancy Kwan, who also was in the Broadway version. There's only one thing to be said about Miss Kwan—she's a wonderful actress.

Beautiful Texas Weather Prevails

By The Associated Press

Texas' siege of beautiful weather, bathing the state in sunshine since the first full day of spring, continued Thursday.

Forecasts indicated the balmy weather would continue at least through Friday with mild temperatures and no rain.

There was early morning fog at Corpus Christi Thursday and some cloudy skies from Laredo southward along the Rio Grande, but the rest of the state was cloudless.

Temperatures shortly before dawn ranged from 34 at Dalhart to 68 at Brownsville, a mite warmer than Wednesday's early morning readings. Wednesday afternoon temperatures ranged from 22 at Laredo and McAllen to 54 at Dalhart.

Kennedy Signs Bill To Cut Livestock Feed Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has signed into law his first major bill—an emergency program designed to cut down tremendous surpluses in grains used to feed livestock.

Kennedy signed the bill Wednesday less than two hours after the Senate, by a 59-31 vote, completed congressional action. The House earlier approved the compromise bill 231-185.

Before Kennedy's signature was dry, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman set the law's machinery into action. Their urgency was prompted by the season—spring is here and planting of this year's feed grain crops already has started in some sections.

Freeman immediately made public the national average price supports for feed grains — corn, sorghums, oats, barley and rye. All supports were higher than last year's.

Briefly, the law works this way: In order to get the new, higher price supports on corn and sorghums, farmers must cut their acreages for those grains at least 20 per cent.

In return, they would be eligible for the support price for half the average crop they would have produced on the retired land.

They can further reduce their corn and sorghum acreage up to a total of 40 per cent, and get a slightly higher payment for the second 20 per cent of land they retire. The retired land must be planted to conservation crops.

7 Persons Drown When Boat Flips

LOS MOCHIS, Mexico (AP)—Seven persons drowned Wednesday and four others swam safely to shore when a motor launch overturned near this West Coast port in the State of Sinaloa.

The accident was blamed on a heavy sea.

The Francisco Meza Escobar family were in a small launch on a holiday outing when heavy waves overturned their boat about six miles off shore. Drowned were Meza Escobar and five of his children, along with an adopted son.

Costly Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. advisory committee on budgetary matters estimated Wednesday that the world organization's Congo operations in 1961 will cost $120 million. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld previously had estimated $135 million.
