Kennedy Tells Congress $5 Billion Deficit Looms

May Put National Debt At New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy broke the bad budget news to Congress today — two years of red ink financing for an apparent combined deficit of $5 billion, sending the national debt to new records.

In a special budget message, Kennedy discarded as "over-optimistic" the January estimates of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who forecast a slim $80 million surplus this year and a $1.5 billion surplus in fiscal 1962, starting July 1.

There is no surplus in the inherited Eisenhower budget for 1961, Kennedy advised Congress. It is "over $2 billion" out of balance, he said. The actual estimate is $2.2 billion. It means the debt limit must be raised again, the President said.

The surplus heralded for fiscal 1962 has become a $1.8 billion deficit on the civilian side alone, Kennedy announced. He said the Eisenhower administration, which never admitted there was a recession based on its revenue estimate on "a much rosier economy."

Officials said Kennedy's military program, plus revised estimates of the cost of defense programs, will send the total 1962 deficit beyond $3 billion and swell the public debt by mid-1962 to a record of about $290 billion.

Nowhere in this message was there the slightest indication of a possible temporary tax cut to combat the business slump.

As Eisenhower had done, Kennedy asked a $843 million postal rate increase to eliminate the Post Office deficit.

The President's defense program is due to reach Congress next week. Today's 4,000-word message dealt only with civilian matters. Many paragraphs were devoted to documenting Kennedy's pledge—made in his State of the Union message—that the points of his program would not unbalance the budget "of and by themselves."

PRUDENT STEWARD

"It is my determined purpose to be a prudent steward of the public funds—to obtain a dollar's worth of results for every dollar we spend," the President said.

His 1962 budget is precisely balanced at $83.2 billion of income and outgo, Kennedy said, if the Eisenhower estimate of defense spending and tax collections is accepted. But a "more realistic" judgment of the impact of the business slump reduces receipts to $81.4 billion, he added.

The 1962 fiscal figures in brief: outgo, $83.2 billion; income, $81.4 billion. The totals compared with Eisenhower's proposed $80.9 billion of outlays and proposed $82.3 billion of revenues.

But the totals didn't mean much with the military proposals still to be heard.

Administration men explained the two-part budget message in this way: Kennedy wanted to show Congress and the country that his civilian programs were not budget-busters, that he has real respect for prudent budgeting. But defense needs get overriding priority, and national security programs won't be cut to fit budget ceilings—as many Democrats claimed was done in the Eisenhower administration.

BIGGEST INCREASE

The biggest increases from Eisenhower's budget asked by Kennedy were these: Agriculture Department, $478 million more; Commerce Department, $48 million more; most for aid to depressed areas; aid to education $50 million; aid to children of the jobless, $215 million; temporary jobless pay, $440 million; space projects, $85 million.

Today's message was so skimpy on details that newsmen had to draw on other sources—administration aides and Democratic leaders in Congress—to discover many of the fiscal facts which the message itself merely implied.

Congress therefore got no explicit statement from the White House on the actual estimated 1962 deficit, on the new estimates of 1961 income and outgo, on the actual appropriation requests (as distinguished from planned spending), or on the outlook for the federal debt. However, the figures were clearly implied and provided on a non-attribution basis by responsibly officials.

Kennedy announced the federal debt "will exceed $253 billion on June 30." That is the date on which the present temporary ceiling of $293 billion reverts to the permanent ceiling level of $285 billion.

Ike Approves Laos Policy

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today expressed satisfaction with President Kennedy's policies in the Laos crisis.

Eisenhower told newsmen Kennedy telephoned him this morning and they discussed the situation.

He said Kennedy asked if the Laos situation would come up in a news conference Eisenhower had set, and then outlined his position.

"His idea seemed to conform exactly with what he had tried to do the last few years, so I went along with him," Eisenhower said.

The former chief executive interrupted a vacation in this desert resort to call his first full-scale news conference since he left office last January.

Eisenhower looked tanned and hearty as he addressed about 20 newsmen at the Tamarisk Country Club.

Doctor Charged In Tax Evasion

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas officials of the Internal Revenue Service have filed an information with U.S. Commissioner R. C. Van Orden in Fort Worth charging a San Angelo physician with income tax evasion.

Named in the charge is Dr. A. Q. Shirley, 72, who has practiced medicine in San Angelo 40 years. The information alleges that he reported an adjusted gross income of $2,736 with tax of $13 owing in 1954 when in fact he should have reported $23,609 with a tax of $4,761 owing.

MRS. HARRY GRIFFITHS

Women's Speaker Lauds Learning

Mrs. Harry Griffiths, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, told about 100 delegates to the Western District Convention that it is foolish not to believe that, "regardless of how old one is, he is never too old to learn." The assembly was held in the Settles Hotel ballroom.

"Nothing great was ever accomplished without enthusiasm," she said. "So let's work first for self improvement and then help others. My administration theme is 'Applied Knowledge Is Power' and to obtain this knowledge we must continue to study, as we must keep abreast of the times and continue to learn."

Mrs. Griffiths said that comparatively few women in Texas clubs had entered community improvement work. In many areas clubs and club women take part in movements for hospitals, libraries, special schools and clinics.

"It breaks my heart," she said, "when I find only 32 Texas women taking active part in such projects. You will find that the reward is not in just winning a prize, but in the joy of doing a job."

She emphasized the importance of reading in the home and in groups, as well as in school. "I believe that our world will

DPS Officer Tells Needs In Government, Youth

"Our responsibility is to light the path to better government and to direct the country's youth into the right course," members of the Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs were told Thursday evening by Maj. W. E. Speirs of Midland of the Department of Public Safety.

The occasion was the public affairs dinner, given for delegates and local club members at a reception at the Big Spring Country Club.

The speaker commended the federation for the part taken in bringing about traffic safety and added that the work is not to be done "just for today, but it must be constant."

Maj. Speirs struck at the complacency of the American people and mentioned the enemy within who would destroy our way of life. We should realize the strength of communism and be ever alert to its workings, he said.

Hostesses for the dinner were members of the 1961 Hyperion Club, with Mrs. W. A. Hunt serving as leader of the group. Special music was presented by Mrs. Don Newson and Ira Schantz, who sang, "Two for Two," and by the Howard County Junior College "Jaysquawkers," men's quartet. Plaques were presented to Mrs.

New Front May Kick Up Dust

By The Associated Press

A new Pacific front was expected to move into Texas Friday, kicking up dust and triggering thunderstorms in the western part of the state.

Increasing cloudiness and showers are expected to spread into the eastern section Saturday.

Skies were cloudy in the El Paso area and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley early Friday and fair elsewhere as pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 39 degrees at Dalhart to 69 at Brownsville.

Forsan Voters To Elect First City Officials

FORSAN—Forsan voters go to the polls Saturday to select a mayor, five aldermen and a city marshal to serve their newly incorporated town.

It will be the first municipal election in the town's history. Voting is to be at the Forsan High School. Joe Holladay, superintendent of the Forsan schools, is judge of the election.

He said that he would have the polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. It is estimated that somewhere between 60 and 100 voters will ballot in the election.

C. J. Lamb is unopposed for mayor of Forsan.

There are eight candidates for the five alderman positions to be filled. The five high men, when the voting is over, will be declared elected.

The alderman candidates are Ray Wilson, J. B. Anderson, Frank Phillely, C. B. Long, A. P. Oglesby, Woodrow Scudday, L. T. Shoultz and Bob Wash.

Four candidates are listed for the post of city marshal. They are Leland Camp, Jim Miller, Joe Hoard and S. J. (Strawberry) Willis.

SEATO Chiefs Stress Unity

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Military chiefs of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today emphasized the need for continued solidarity in strengthening their armed might against the Communist threat in Laos.

Communist support to the Pathet Lao rebels in Laos has created "a dangerous situation" in that neighboring jungle kingdom, the SEATO military strategists charged.

C-City Man Hurt In Crash

COLORADO CITY (SC)—A Colorado City man was seriously hurt in a two-car collision on the east edge of the city Thursday night.

Howard Rogers, 66, a meat wholesaler, is in Root Memorial Hospital this morning, being treated for six fractured ribs and a concussion. His condition was described as improved and he is not in a critical condition, attendants said.

Apparently, Rogers was north bound on SH 208 and was involved in the wreck as he attempted to turn onto a side road. Driver of the other car, Dozier Dillard, 62, of Lubbock, was southbound on SH 208. Police said he was not injured.

Both vehicles were total wrecks and police said the collision was almost head-on. There was some damage to a pickup truck being towed by Dillard.

Dummy Rides Space Capsule

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Redstone missile carrying a dummy man in space capsule was launched successfully today in a test of the rocket's readiness to hurl aloft a human astronaut.

The success could help clear the way for an American to take a brief suborbital rocket ride into space within six weeks. However, the manned launching must await at least one more test firing of a capsule from Wallops Island, Va.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced 15 minutes later that the rocket had flown its prescribed course, reaching an altitude of 115 miles and landing, in the Atlantic Ocean 311 miles downrange. The Redstone and capsule both sank as planned.

These figures are very close to the 100-mile altitude and 300-mile range intended for the flight.

An announcement said the rocket reached a maximum speed of 5,110 miles an hour on the 15-minute flight.

Two of the three astronauts training for the first manned flight—Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.—were on hand for the launching.

The flight was primarily a development test of the Redstone and no effort was made to separate the mock capsule from the booster, nor was recovery planned. The capsule was empty and carried no instrumentation.

Gloomy Jobs Report Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that a record two-thirds of all the major industrial areas in the nation are now experiencing substantial unemployment.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said 25 more such areas have been added to the list of labor markets in which 6 per cent of the local work force is without jobs.

The additions include such large centers as Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, San Francisco-Oakland, Seattle, Syracuse, New Orleans, Miami and Boston.

At the same time the Labor Department's latest survey of job conditions in 150 major industrial areas showed that employers expect a hiring pickup from now to mid-May. The rise was forecast to be largely seasonal but to produce gains somewhat larger than in the corresponding months of the 1958 recession.

BRIGHT SPOT

This was the one bright spot in the otherwise gloomy spring outlook. Employers in 9 out of 10 of the areas expect at least some job gains between March and May.

Shortly before the breakdown was released President Kennedy signed into law the first of his anti-recession measures to get through Congress — a program that will begin channeling $1 billion extra unemployment compensation aid to jobless workers in two weeks.

The new law provides for additional payments up to one-half the duration of original benefits for those who exhaust their unemployment compensation in the two years beginning July 1. The maximum extension will be 13 weeks, since the longest basic program in any of the states provides for 26 weeks.

TAX INCREASE

The government will advance the money to the states and get it back through a four-tenths of 1 per cent increase in the tax on em-

Another Big Headache Is Set For Debate

AUSTIN (AP)—Another of the 57th Legislature's big headaches was being prepared today for debate next week, probably Tuesday or Wednesday.

Late Thursday the House Banking Committee gave a voice vote of approval to a compromise plan (HR7) to license and regulate small loan lenders. The measure, compiled from five original bills, sets a maximum interest rate that ranges from almost 40 per cent for $100 for one year to a little over 11 per cent per year for $3,000.

"I believe we have something here that members will vote for," said Rep. Vernon Stewart, Wichita Falls, head of the subcommittee that drew up the bill.

Both houses were in adjournment until 11 a.m. Monday.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee worked during the weekend in an effort to complete the House version of the big spending bill before the Easter recess, expected to begin next Thursday.

If approved by both houses, the small loan regulation act would put into effect a constitutional change voted by Texans in 1960. However, until, and if, the regulatory measure is approved, the present 10 per cent maximum interest rate remains in effect.

The committee bill, which will be sponsored by Rep. Criss Cole, Houston, covers all loans of $3,000 or less. It exempts banks, credit unions and loan associations, building unions and other financial institutions.

"Reasonable insurance coverage," governed by credit insurance rates set by the State Board of Insurance, would be allowed. No other charges could be made in connection with making a loan. The bill outlaws splitting loans, requiring liens on real estate, or having borrowers sign confessions of judgment or blank contracts.

A separate listing of smaller areas having substantial unemployment exceeding 6 per cent increased during the January-March period from 132 to 184.

Not a single area covered by the study showed job improvement. Some that had already been classified in the hard-hit category last January were shifted to ratings indicating even heavier unemployment.

Officials said in advance that since unemployment rose by 320,000 in February to a nationwide total of 5,793,900, a considerable increase in the number of hard-hit areas could be anticipated.

The new survey provides a community breakdown of the worsened unemployment situation already reported nationally for February.

Actually, administration officials have been reporting some signs of improvement. But Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday night the question is whether the usual spring uptick will be strong enough to reduce unemployment to "an acceptable level" and restore production more nearly to capacity, both on a sustained basis.

Parents, Students Express Conflicting Views In Slaying

ODESSA (AP)—The "kiss-and-kill" slaying of pretty Elizabeth Jean Williams, 17, has brought expressions of disbelief from her parents and conflicting reports from fellow high school students.

Mack Herring, 17-year-old classmate of Miss Williams, was released on bond from jail Thursday.

Winkler County Atty. John H. Banks said he will recommend to Dist. Atty. Don Sullivan that the death penalty be asked when the case comes to trial.

Said Banks, "I understand he got his shotgun, his lead weights and rope and then picked the girl up. This constitutes murder with malice aforethought."

Herring, who has been charged in the slaying, refused to discuss the case further or to take a lie detector test. He did so on the advice of his family's lawyer.

Wednesday Herring led officers to a shallow pond, waded into it and dragged out the body of Miss Williams. He said she held the muzzle of his shotgun to her head while he pulled the trigger.

"I kissed her goodbye" before firing the gun, he told officers and newsmen.

The handsome high school athlete described his classmate and occasional date as a person consumed with a desire to die. He said she was preoccupied with thoughts of heaven and an after-life.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, in an interview in their home, said her death left them "dumbfounded and shocked."

Both pictured the girl as sensitive and deeply religious, and said she was not the type to plead to be slain.

But conflicting evidence was found when the Odessa American interviewed some of her schoolmates.

"She asked me to do it (kill her), she said she would pay me to do it. She asked me for several methods of committing suicide. She told me, 'I want to die.' " a sophomore said. The American did not name him.

Another classmate said he had a date with Miss Williams Tuesday night, when the chain of events began. The American said he told police he and Miss Williams were parked in the alley behind her house when a car resembling the one driven by Herring entered the alley.

"Oh, my God. I didn't think he would come," he quoted the victim as saying. She told him she and Herring had agreed to meet at midnight at her house, that she had asked Herring to kill her and that he was going to do so.

The youth quoted her as saying, "I've got to call his bluff, even if he kills me." He said Miss Williams, clad in shortie pajamas and a dressing gown, left his car and entered the one that resembled Herring's.

He said Kennedy asked if the Laos situation would come up in a news conference Eisenhower had set, and then outlined his position.

Campaigns For Daddy

Mrs. Bing Crosby, known in the movies as Kathryn Grant, talks with Houston longshoreman Joe Benevides on a visit to the International Longshoremen's Association. Clad in coveralls, Kathy made the early morning visit during the campaign trail she is making in behalf of her father, Delbert E. Grandstaff of West Columbia. Grandstaff is one of the many candidates in the special election to pick a successor to the Senate seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

Senate Voting Will Be Hard On Pencils

DALLAS (AP)—A lot of pencils will be worn down to nubs 10 days from now when a million and a quarter Texans scratch 70 names in the special race to select a senator to succeed Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

It's the greatest number ever entered for one race in the state. The entry fee is only $50.

At that some refused to pay the filing fee and announced as write-in candidates. One of these said he joined the mob to give voters a little more choice. The 71 on the ballot are those who paid their $50.

The voter by law must scratch out the names of all candidates except his choice. A few cities, however, have voting machines.

The Texas Election Bureau, the unofficial tabulating agency organized by Texas newspapers and financed now by newspapers, radio, and TV, faces special problems.

The bureau's employees must take by telephone 71 names and votes from each of 254 county correspondents several times during the election night April 4.

The citizen with a special case can pretty well find a champion in the list.

H. P. Holland, for instance, is leading an expedition against Cuba, using shrimp boats.

Charles Otto Forster Jr. advocates backing up the nation's currency with titanium, thus, he says, paying off the federal debt in three years.

Harry Diehl insisted on being listed as Harry (Republican) Diehl and tried to pay his $50 filing fee on the installment plan "to show I am conservative."

Martha Tredway is a handsome platinum blonde of 40 who is indignant at legal discrimination against women and has pegged her campaign solely to that issue.

Eristus Sams is the first Negro in modern history to run for the Senate in Texas. His is not a racial issue, however he wants the government to license professional farmers and thus stop city men from farming as a hobby.

The Rev. M. T. Banks became a write-in candidate when the Postoffice Department didn't deliver his application and filing fee by the deadline. The post office offered to refund his postage.

Actually, six candidates are waging campaigns of major proportions. Only one, Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, has won a statewide race of any kind although some others on the list have tried. The others are John G. Tower, a college professor supported by the Republican organization; interim Sen. William A. Blakley, majority stockholder of Braniff Airways and other extensive property; State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez; Maury Maverick Jr., son of the late, fiery congressman; and U.S. Rep. Jim Wright.

All except Tower are Democrats.

Although there are shadings between them, most observers classify Tower and Blakley as conservatives; Wilson and Wright as middle of the road; and Gonzalez and Maverick as liberals. Some of the candidates deny that any such label can be placed on them.

Unlike previous Texas special Senate races, this one will require a runoff unless one candidate gets more votes than the 70 others combined. Such a runoff would be held about a month after the first voting.

Pickle Attends Journalism Meet

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Students from 15 schools meet today with Texas newspapermen at the Southwestern Journalism Congress at Hardin-Simmons University.

Speakers include Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald; J. Q. Mahaffey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette; and Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Big Spring Herald.

Pickle will deliver the keynote address. McKnight speaks at the luncheon and Mahaffey at the annual banquet.

Others on the program for addresses and panel discussions are: Houston Harte, president of the San Angelo Standard-Times; L. B. Smith, publisher of the Brady Standard; Ed N. Wishcamper, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News; James N. Allison Jr., vice president of the Midland Reporter-Telegram; Donald L. Coppedge, managing editor of the Brownwood Bulletin; and Roy M. Craig, publisher of the Stamford American.

Engineering Is Started For Carver Heights

Engineering is under way on paving, curb and gutters and utility lines for Carver Heights, a development proposed for north-west Big Spring.

James Bruce Frazier, who is undertaking the project with his mother, Mrs. Nell Frazier, said that he hoped that the first homes could be built there by June.

A local company, (William Cameron) is constructing two housing units of the type proposed for the area, and these should be available for inspection within a few weeks, said Frazier.

They are destined to range in costs from $40 to $75 a month and can be financed without a down payment if the purchaser has a clear title to the lot.

The housing area is named for George Washington Carver, noted Negro scientist, and the Fraziers are planning on the new development as an experiment to see if the people in that part of town will avail themselves to better housing in good surroundings if it is made possible within their means.

Recently, the city planning and zoning board granted basic approval of the plat plan for the addition.

The housing area is named for George Washington Carver, noted Negro scientist, and the Fraziers are planning on the new development as an experiment to see if the people in that part of town will avail themselves to better housing in good surroundings if it is made possible within their means.

Recently, the city planning and zoning board granted basic approval of the plat plan for the addition.

Hendrix To Judge Piano Auditions

Jack Hendrix, chairman of the music department of Howard County Junior College, will be in Lubbock this weekend to judge piano auditions in conjunction with the Federated Music Festival.

Assisting in the auditions will be Rodney Hoare, San Antonio, who will hear the vocal solos as well as working with Hendrix. The auditions will be held in the auditorium of the Lubbock City Library.

Recently Hendrix served as adjudicator in the annual piano competition festival sponsored by West Texas State College at Canyon.

His appearance at Lubbock will be his sixth consecutive engagement for the function.

Venus Spotlited In Science News

Life or death on planet Venus, a hotlook inside the earth, and trouble at sea are subjects for science at work.

MYSTERY IN SPACE

Life or death on the planet Venus? That is the question. Answers vary.

Dr. Harold Urey, Nobel Prize winner, says he thinks it possible that once there was life on both Venus and Mars. But now temperatures are so high on Venus—some 570 degrees Fahrenheit—that life is impossible. Carbon compounds associated with life would be charred by the temperature—nearly hot enough to melt lead.

A Soviet scientist believes some sort of life may be possible on Venus. It might possess other chemicals other than those which make up life on earth. Soviet astronomers say they have confirmed that both nitrogen and oxygen gases necessary to life, exist on Venus. A Soviet rocket is expected to pass the neighborhood of Venus in May.

AIM TO MISS

The United States is expected to fire a rocket to Venus in 1962—but the rocket will be a failure if it hits that relatively tiny target in space. Aim is to pass some 12,400 miles from Venus.

From a distance the rocket will measure by radio the planet's temperature, the presence of water, oxygen, nitrogen and ozone. It will also photograph the planet in the hope a fortunate break in the cloud cover will permit a view of the surface of Venus.

HOT SPOTS

Where does the flowing molten rock that pours forth from volcanoes come from?

Perhaps from hot spots in the solid mantle of the earth—places hotter than the earth is generally. Measurements indicate that the earth's mantle is hotter in volcanic areas than elsewhere.

This clue comes from the study of volcanoes—one of the ways science hopes to learn more about the earth's interior. Man's deepest hole so far has penetrated less than three-tenths of one percent of the distance to the earth's core. This barely scratches the earth's crust, which is the thin shell on which we live. Below the crust, the mantle extends some 1,750 miles down to the core of the earth which many believe to be liquid.

NEVER GO TO SEA

Prime problem of survival for the shipwrecked seaman? Seasickness adrift in stormy oceans.

British tests last month to probe survival problems had to be stopped because of heavy seas and gale force winds. But not before it was discovered that volunteers in an enclosed raft, buffeted by 30-foot waves, became so sick they were nearly incapable of helping themselves.

Traffic Court Conference Set

A conference on traffic courts will be held at the University of Texas April 12-15, at which representatives of the State Bar of Texas, and Texas Safety Association will speak on the various problems of traffic courts. The University Law School is a joint sponsor.

Some of the topics to be discussed will be causes of traffic violations; problem of the traffic judge, driver education, and current traffic legislation in Texas.

Representatives from Big Spring attended a similar meeting last year, but will not attend this year. John Burgess, city attorney, said.

A Devotional For Today

The word of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us who are saved it is the power of God. (1 Corinthians 1:18. ASV.)
PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Jesus Christ, our Savior, who gave Himself on the cross that we might have eternal life. We rededicate ourselves to Thee at this season of the year. Help us to bear our cross this day and follow Him. We pray in the name of Him who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

More By Attrition Than By Understanding

Dr. James H. McCrooklin, president of the Texas Municipal League, has declared that "the old myth of a rural-urban conflict of interest on Texas public policies is dying out rapidly at the present time."

He goes on to say that urban and rural interests are more inter-dependent, not less so. Perhaps where he puts his finger most accurately on the matter is in pointing out that the preponderance of population is now urban centered.

Another set of figures sheds some light on this, too. The 1960 census showed only about 16 million people living on 3,700,000 farms across the country. This is a decline of 30 million people from the 1940 figures. Moreover, only about 1,800,000 of the total units classified as farms were actually commercial farms in the sense that we refer to farming as an occupation or industry. In our colleges, of 411,000 enrolled, only 31,000 are studying agriculture. Other statistics show that more and more farmers are having to supplement their incomes off the farm or their wives are taking off-the-farm jobs. The number of farm workers has declined 40 per cent within the past decade.

Thus, the problem is being resolved by attrition even more by understanding. And while there is a feeling of relief from a lessening of this old bogey, which should not have been there anyhow, a greater headache is developing for the municipalities as more and more people drift to them.

He Got What Was Coming To Him

A federal district judge in Waco lowered the boom on Lawrence Pope for having robbed a bank. Pope, a former banker and former newspaperman, drew a sentence of 25 years after pleas of insanity fell on deaf ears in the court. One psychologist testified that he was "crazy like a fox." Another witness testified that the defendant had shrugged off the incidents (more than one bank was robbed) with: "It was fun while it lasted." The judgment of the court was that Pope had taken the cheap way out of a lot of financial troubles by robbing banks. As publisher of a weekly newspaper he should have been standing on the side of honesty and morality. And if he was, his act was the height of hypocrisy. In that sense, we feel that he was a betrayer of a trust and that what he got at the hands of the law, he richly deserved.

A New Look At Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON—When are the people of the United States really going to be informed about the issues involved in spending billions of dollars for "foreign aid"?

President Kennedy is planning to pursue the same formula, with some minor modifications, that was used by the Republican and Democratic administrations preceding him. The idea is to grant funds and lend money on the theory that the United States has a humanitarian obligation to the poverty-stricken countries of the world. There is also an implication that, unless the United States helps these various countries, Soviet Russia will move in and take over.

THE TIME IS approaching, however, for a showdown on just how far the United States should go in extending foreign aid and what it should expect in return from the countries aided.

The biggest single factor that calls for full and thorough exposure is what may be termed "official blackmail." Government after government takes money from both sides. The moment the United States slows down its aid, there is a noticeable manifestation of interest in what the Communists may have to offer. High officials of such a government promptly arrange to visit Moscow, or threaten to do so. This is perhaps the favorite of all the tricks to impress America.

JUST WHY ANY government would want to be "neutral" as between communism and democracy is difficult to understand, but the word "neutralist" has suddenly become a most respectable term. There was a time when the difference between freedom and tyranny was clearly understood, and no persuasive reason was offered why any country should be neutral as between the two.

The fact is, moreover, that many countries in Latin America, as well as in Asia and Africa and even in Europe, today are convinced that, if they adopt a "neutral" position, the United States will come through with large sums of money.

CONGRESS HAS BEEN bewildered by the growing scope of America's "foreign aid" program. It is recognized, of course, that some appropriations should be made to strengthen the military position of the United States and of the Western countries in the so-called "uncommitted" areas. In certain instances money spent to help a national economy or to build up local military forces is a good investment in security for the United States. But when the program reaches into the broader aspects of "culture and education," it becomes far more controversial.

If America did not have a national debt of nearly $300 billion and were operating under a balanced budget, and if taxes in the United States were not so burdensome, and if there were no recession in America with more than five million persons unemployed, it might sound reasonable for a part of the surplus bounty of the American people to be given away. But the question now is whether the United States can afford to be as generous in its foreign-aid program as it has been in the past.

UNDOUBTEDLY the Marshall Plan "paid off." It gave the nations of Europe needed support in recovering after the war. But this was, in a large sense, a military proposition. It was important for the United States to build allies in Europe. There is no such justification for the building up of "neutrals," for instance, in Africa among countries who never will ally themselves with the United States or the West.

Under the circumstances, America may well be paying out funds to countries which will soon be strong enough to become important adjuncts of the Communist apparatus. This is the chance which the American people are taking. The idea now is being advanced that the Washington government should exact some assurances as to how the money will be spent and as to whether the countries will put their military forces at the disposal of the United States in the event of serious trouble with the Communists.

UNLESS THE taxpayers' money is being spent for the defense of the people of the United States, it is difficult to see how, in the long run, huge expenditures to countries which are playing both ends against the middle can be justified. There are countries like Egypt, for example, which permit the Communist apparatus to function inside their borders, and yet who want financial assistance from this country. The real question is whether the countries that are being assisted are truly friends of the United States or whether they are now or may later become a part of the Communist apparatus.

It is upon these fundamental issues in the "foreign aid" problem that Congress is being urged to require a great deal of information before embarking upon the programs being recommended to it by the Kennedy administration.

Rest For Legislators

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Members of the Iowa Legislature can get 40-wink snoozes at noonday if they wish, but they have to climb 40 steps to do it.

Cots have been provided in an empty room above the Statehouse House chamber. One legislative employe observed: "You'll really need a rest after the climb."

Dangerous Cotton

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A Hartford woman was awarded $600 for injuries received after she bit into a piece of cotton. The victim said there was a piece of cotton in a doughnut she bought at a local bakery. She claimed that when she took a bite of the doughnut, the cotton lodged in her throat causing her to choke and fall down, injuring her back and shoulders.

On The Double

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Edgar D. Fisher's car was stolen in May, 1960. Police recovered it within 24 hours. It was stolen again in February, 1961—or so he thought. Turned out a policeman, who knew about the 1960 theft, noted it parked and had it towed to headquarters.

Printer's Error

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—The whole batch of directories for the 1961 season of the legislature had to be hurriedly collected and reprinted. Pat Comfort, Republican representative from Pierce County, was listed as a Democrat.

Three Big Problems In Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has three gigantic problems in trying to save Laos—an unproductive country of 90,000 square miles and two million easy-going people—from communism.

In his news conference statement on Laos Thursday night he avoided a shrill note. But two of his problems, the immediate ones, are danger-loaded. The third, long range and simple-looking, is just as baffling.

1. How peacefully to get the rebels, Red-led and Red-supported to stop trying to take over the country by force. Kennedy has called on Russia, which is giving supplies to the rebels, to agree to a cease-fire.

2. WHAT IF THIS fails? Use force, which would be mainly American force, to stop the rebels? It could be another Korea, but worse—a war with Red China or Russia, or both.

3. Suppose a showdown is averted now and Kennedy gets what he says he wants. A neutral Laos (led to no outside power) How can it be saved from a Red take-over eventually anyway, from inside if not outside?

Laos borders on two Communist countries: Red China and Red North Viet Nam. China stayed out of the Korean War until Gen. Douglas MacArthur took his forces close to the Red Chinese-North Korean border.

LAOS HAS FOUR non-Communist neighbors. It is therefore a key place in Southeast Asia. Once Laos goes, the pressure will begin on the neighbors.

Unless the Reds are stopped in Laos, they will take it as a sign of American weakness and push ahead to the next step. But even if there is a truce and Laos becomes neutral, then what?

It can't stay neutral. That's simple. The United States and the Communists will both be busy in Laos trying to influence it in one way or another. This struggle would go on for years.

Since 1954 this country has poured $314 million into Laos. But—85 per cent of that money went into the Laotian army, the police force, and financial support of the Laotian civil budget.

THE ARMY IS equipped, trained, paid and even fed by this country. Laos' own expenses, its exports in 1960 totaled only $14 million while its national deficit was $33 million. It would need outside help even if there were no East-West contest over it.

If Laos were neutralized, neither the West nor East would permit the other to build up the country's military forces. It wouldn't need much of an army, anyway, if it were truly neutralized.

But the West and communism would compete with each other to help the Laotians in other fields and try to influence them, openly or otherwise.

Around The Rim

Is Life The Universal Rule?

Some of the latest evidences of the presence of life come from studies of meteoritic fragments. Scientists have found that these rocks from space contain traces of those chemical substances which were earlier determined to be necessary to start the chain reaction that began with virus-like particles and ended in the crowning glory of man.

Earthly rocks had long since been leached of their more volatile elements, and whatever chemicals they contained in the beginning are seldom if ever detectable now. But the existence of these substances in the spatial debris supports the evidence from other fields of science that they also existed four billion years ago when the earth was without form and void.

THEORISTS NOW HOLD that the chemicals which are basic to the generation of life existed in mass quantities soon after our planet was born. These substances flooded the newly-formed oceans and permeated the atmosphere, exposed to heat and pressure at the planetary surface, and ultra violet light from the sun in the atmosphere. There was no free oxygen then, hence no-ozone layer in the upper air to screen out the deadly radiations.)

Research in space has already uncovered the presence of many chemical compounds which are extremely difficult if not impossible to produce in earth laboratories. Chemical reactions seem to work differently in space in some particulars, probably because of variations in pressure and radiation conditions from those on earth.

IT THUS WOULD seem that life is generated by and from space, with a large planetary body acting as incubator. It is not entirely inconceivable that life could be generated on any planet large enough to hold a body of water for a period after the planet's birth, before the moisture is boiled away by a hot sun and low gravity.

But the most important consideration arising from the latest findings is, bracing of the theory that life is the rule, not the exception, throughout the universe—that life will spring spontaneously where the conditions are right, and not be merely a once-in-a-billion result of pure chance.

The 'Exodus' Influence On Israel

TEL AVIV.—A sore problem here is how in the midst of growing prosperity, ease and industrialization shall it live up to the image of heroism, privation and hardship created by Leon Uris in his book, "Exodus," and futhered by the movie?

THIS PROBLEM and the alarming prospect of disappointing tourists who expect to see every Israeli packing a gun and dressed in homespun is examined in a lighthearted column by an unidentified writer for the Jerusalem Post who journeyed to Tel Aviv to inspect the new Sheraton-Tel Aviv Hotel. This is a splendid $4,000,000 American-Israeli venture on the shores of the Mediterranean, where every prospect pleases and even man seems improved.

It is fairly ethical to steal from another newsman, so I shall borrow a paragraph or two on the Exodus problem from the Jerusalem Post.

"THE SHERATON HOTEL is large," the article begins. "There is plenty of space for people to sit about, both where everybody will see them and in corners where they won't be bothered even if they are well-known."

"The hotel also says its services will be good. That is all one can reasonably ask, and if we feel at home here then the tourists will have been reading 'Exodus' will be most disappointed."

"This is it, of course," the story continues. "And not too many of us make enough effort to live up to Exodus well."

"EXODUS HAS had a heavy responsibility on Israel. There is even discontent among the guides here in the Holy Land. Tourists no longer ask to see the great Biblical sites that attracted tourists for thousands of years and for which they risked their lives in arduous journeys and in long wars."

"Now they fly in by El Al jets," a friend explained to me, "and I have the car all gassed up to take them to Nazareth or Jerusalem or even from Dan to Beersheba. But they say take us out to that place where 'Exodus' was filmed."

TO BE HONEST, "Exodus" has set a standard not too difficult to meet. Side arms may be passed and the girls on Allenby Street interchangeable with those on New York's Fifth Avenue (at the hairdresser's yesterday a poodle came in accompanied by a woman), but underneath the veneer there is still plenty of "Exodus."

This is an American's Robert Frost says, a land of waifs and one can't help being touched, very touched.

There is something touching and truly terrifying to someone like myself, who has never lived in danger of his life, to walk along the street these warm, sunny days and see on the bare arms of men and women the tattooed numbers of the concentration camp. One can only thank God that these men and women are smiling and animated and that they can laugh at themselves. Because tourists may be disappointed that the Exodus days are fading and that some of the pioneering hardships are ending.

I WENT to a charity ball in the Sheraton-Tel Aviv the other night and it might have been a similar soiree in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. Shades of Exodus! Still they can laugh at themselves.

The Jerusalem Post, after noting that the new hotel is the first in this country to provide good linen, silver, cutlery, and handsome china for its tables together with comfortable chairs, concludes, "but that is part of American bookkeeping, not of Exodus, where nobody had time to eat with anything but his fingers."

It may be a blow to Exodus partisans, but in Israel today folks definitely come before films.

The Two Traveling Politicians

WASHINGTON—The middle initial in the names of Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey and Republican Senator Barry M. Goldwater might as well stand for "migratory"—they are both birds of that feather.

On any given night or weekend, Bailey and Goldwater are the most likely officials to be out of town. The reason is the same in both cases: Party politics.

JOHN BAILEY, a big and rugged politician, talks better with his feet on the desk than under it. The subject of the discourse doesn't matter—just so it bears upon the fortunes, past and future, of the Democratic party. Bailey is a near-perfect synthesis of the Kennedy product—a Catholic politico and a Harvard Law School graduate. He has been on the losing side often enough to hate the idea, and to take infinite pains to avoid repetition. He got beaten in 1949 when he was a candidate for Judge of Probate Court in Hartford (Conn.), his only shot at elective office. Since then he has been a fight manager, not a fighter.

He missed with John F. Kennedy, whom he tried to nominate in 1956 for Vice President, but did better last year. The reason Bailey criss-crosses the country for political meetings and speeches in this off-election season is to keep his recent winning streaks intact.

"ELECTIONS aren't won in Washington," he says. "And what is federal patronage compared with state patronage?"

The history of election trends shows Bailey that a victorious party's most vulnerable hour is just after it has captured the White House. No sooner had the Republicans won with Dwight Eisenhower in 1952 than their majorities began to melt in Congress, State Houses, City Halls and Legislatures. Presidents Wilson, Roosevelt and Truman all saw their Capitol Hill support dwindle. Mr. Kennedy's victory last year was close and spotty. Only three of the smallest Western States—Nevada, New Mexico and Hawaii—went Democratic.

AT THE MOMENT, the President is pleasing the country by his display of energy and action, but this is not the same thing as sharing the plunder with the troops. Federal civil service laws have played havoc with patronage. The President has approximately 200 personal appointments. At least one-third of them, such as nominations to the Atomic Energy Commission and Federal Aviation Administration, are made almost wholly on technical proficiency. What's left doesn't go far in 50 states. Even the pork barrel contents of the federal judgships means no more than a judge-and-a-fraction per

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Our Town was certainly made more beautiful by the influx of pretty P-TA workers from over the district when they met here Tuesday and Wednesday. At the opening session at Couden County Club Wednesday morning, the building took on the appearance of a salon for previewing what the attractively dressed mothers, and teachers will be wearing this spring.

It seemed to me, as I viewed the women attending the meeting, that mothers are getting younger and prettier all the time. The officers seemed so much older when I was in the thick of P-TA 12 years ago. Time, indeed, has passed on.

MR. AND MRS. LOYD BRANON have returned from Lubbock where Mr. Branon got a good report from his medical checkup.

MR. AND MRS. DOUG DAVIS and their children, Scott and Linda, visited recently with her parents, MR. AND MRS. CURTIS REYNOLDS.

MRS. GRANVILLE GLENN, who has recently returned from New York, is still enjoying the memory of the wonderful time she had while attending a cosmetic school. Mrs. Glenn was taking the advanced course offered by the company. The women were royally entertained with luncheons, visits to night clubs and theatres as well as a trip to the company's manufacturing plant in Norwalk, Conn. The women attended a performance of "Sound of Music" and heard Bobby Darin at the Copacabana, as well as going to Radio City Music Hall to see the Rockettes.

of the 1941 Study Club, Coahoma. Judges for the show were Adolph Swartz, Mrs. Claud Miller and Mrs. Marie Westerman from San Angelo Junior College. Windup of the contest was the achievement luncheon and fashion show at the Couden Country Club at 12 p. m. today, when winners were announced.

District winner in the high school and adult division will go to the state contest in Midland, according to Mrs. Dewitt Chandler of Big Lake, contest chairman.

Each federated club was allowed to select one contestant for the high school division and the adult division. Contestants wore ensembles which they made for the contest and were judged on their appearance at the luncheon.

Hostesses were members of the 1963 Hyperion Club, with Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Mrs. Pats Cook and Mrs. James Duncan serving as the hospitality committee.

Assisting at the tea table, decorated with an arrangement of spring blossoms, were Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Ralph Cook and Mrs. James Duncan. Mrs. Darlye Hohertz and Mrs. Fred Stitzell alternated at the register.

Members of Texas Federated Clubs began the day in small groups at breakfasts this morning, with local clubs serving as hostess groups.

JUNIOR CLUB The Sands Restaurant was the setting for the breakfast of junior federated clubs, with hostesses from the Junior Woman's Forum. Mrs. Billy Watson, district junior club director, presided at the meeting.

The speaker was Mrs. Todd Anderson of El Paso, state co-ordinator of junior clubs; her topic was based on the work and importance of the Federation.

Three guests from El Paso were Mrs. Walter Stove, Mrs. H. W. Streeter and Mrs. Philip Parker. The speakers' table was decorated with a large butterfly net of lilac filled with daisies and dotted with butterflies in various colors.

Small tables held sprayed branches on which perched tiny net butterflies; the same little insects were favors.

PAST PRESIDENTS Mrs. J. C. Cunningham of Fort Stockton was elected head of the district presidents' group Friday morning at a breakfast in the Settles Hotel. Mrs. R. R. Payne, also of Fort Stockton, became secretary of the organization.

Ten attended the affair, with special guests, Mrs. Max Jacobs

Altrusa Club Hears Guest Speaker

Dr. Preston Harrison was guest speaker for members of the Altrusa Club at their regular luncheon Thursday at Coker's Restaurant.

Choosing as his subject, "After-Care of Mental Patients," Dr. Harrison told the group that our civilization is breeding mental illness, and the public needs to be educated along lines of care for those affected.

Re-admissions to mental hospitals amount to about 35 per cent of the patients, he remarked, adding that the main cause is the treatments of the patient from his family and friends.

Three divisions of the public affect the patient, the speaker said; they are the local group, composed of family and friends; the professional people and the heterogeneous group, made up of strangers who do not know of his condition.

Twenty-three attended the luncheon. Announcement was made of the book review to be given Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Coy Nalley, when Mrs. Clyde Angel will be the reviewer.

FEDERATION FASHIONS

By Mrs. Ennis Cochran

A sneak preview of Easter and all its finery have been displayed the past two days as delegates to Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs visited in our city. A riot of colors in spring flowers brightened hotel headquarters, clubs and women's hats.

MRS. J. C. CUNNINGHAM, Fort Stockton, perky in a hot pink hat and beige silk frock, was in a spow storm here when Big Spring was host to this group 19 years ago—that delegation of 65 was topped this week by more than 200 delegates.

Hats to thaw any feminine heart were abundant Thursday at the tea honoring the state president, MRS. HARRY GRIFFITHS, Austin, and the district president, MRS. PAUL JACOBS, Big Lake.

Big and important was the hat worn by MRS. PHILLIP ROBBINS, Fort Stockton. The deep crown and wide brim of pale beige straw were overlaid with black lace to complement a simple black sheath dress.

MRS. SHINE PHILIPS, Big Spring, topped a plum suit with a hat of giant watermelon pink roses. MRS. J. D. ELLIOTT's hat appeared to be a simple flower of blue, capping the head and accenting a matching blue suit.

El Paso guests made a flower garden at their table in hats of orchid, blue, pink and green with one topper a single giant, white cabbage rose.

MRS. BILL COLEMAN, Big Spring, chose a beige check suit and apple green straw toque—MRS. J. W. DICKENS wore classic.

Lamesa Sorority Has Model Meet

LAMESA (SC) — Lambda Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held its model meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Pat Green.

Mrs. George Hart presented a program on art, climaxing her remarks with a chalk talk during which she drew the Easter scene with organ recordings of Mrs. Lavy Miller for background music.

Announcement was made that the preferential tea is to be held March 26. Mrs. Vernon Holt is to serve as director for the chapter.

navy and white topped with a giant, white wide brimmed hat. At the Public Affairs dinner of the evening, the Big Spring Country Club was resplendent in orchid and yellow flowers blending with the club deco-matching in brilliance the gowns of the guests.

MRS. EVA PYEATT, Big Spring, dashing in a full skirted beige after-five frock applied with matching lace flowers, was contrasted by MRS. OBIE BRISTOW's black lace frock of simple smart lines.

MRS. CLYDE ANGEL, Big Spring, chose a hot pink embroidered brocade for her dress and matching shoes. MRS. GRIF-FITHS matched her green brocade sheath with shoes and bag.

MRS. JACOB'S after-five dress of American Beauty red had a cowl neck and full skirt. Her matching satin shoes were jeweled.

Jeweled white shoes were the choice of MRS. P. B. STORIES, Andrews. With them she wore an Alice blue lace frock. MRS. B. I. SEAY, Andrews, was a study in blonde. Her lace trimmed blonde sheath was accented with a chiffon drape and turquoise jewels and shoes completed the ensemble.

MRS. DON NEWSOM, Big Spring, was radiant in white chiffon, full skirted and topped with sequins.

The achievement winner, MRS. GLEN BROWN, Stanton, wore a satin cloth-of-gold shirtdress with matching shoes. Equally dashing was the blue lace dress of MRS. J. A. DeVUTO, El Paso.

Always a big favorite, black was a pleasing contrast to the flower colors. MRS. A. T. CARLTON, Houston, chose beaded black crepe, and MRS. L. L. PAYNE's smart and simple frock was black lace.

Sanctuary To Be Dedicated Sunday

A close-up view of the front of the new sanctuary at the East 4th Baptist Church shows the well lighted, anti-glare glass as a modern trend in new buildings. The new sanctuary is on ground level and the seating capacity is 1,000 persons. The dedication service will be held Sunday.

East Fourth Baptist Church To Dedicate New Sanctuary

Members of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church will enter their new sanctuary Sunday. The new building was constructed at a cost of $250,000, and was financed through a $235,000 bond issue. Services will begin at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, which is fifteen minutes earlier than the regular Sunday morning services. Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a.m. The pastor, Jack L. Stricklan, will preach the dedication sermon and there will be a week of dedication activities beginning with the Sunday morning service and continuing through Saturday night, April 1.

SPEAKERS

Several former pastors and interim pastors will speak during the week. Chaplain C. O. Hitt of the Big Spring V. A. Hospital will be the guest speaker for the Sunday evening service at 7:45. Other speakers will include A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the Crescent Park Baptist Church, Odessa; Ernest D. Stewart Jr., pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Mineral Wells; Maple L. Avery, pastor of the University Baptist Church, Abilene; and Chaplain James S. Parks of the V. A. Hospital, McKinney. Also included in the program are Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Big Spring, and J. William Arnett, Missions Secretary for Dist. 8, Texas Baptist Convention.

Other highlights of dedication week include the coming of the church's new associate pastor, and presentation of a dramatic play by the Young People. Rev. Billy D. Rodd will begin his services with the church this Sunday. He will direct the education and music program of the church. The play, "Simon, the Leper," is being directed by Horace Whiteside, who was interim pastor of the church before the coming of Rev. Stricklan.

CONTEMPORARY

The new building is of modified contemporary design utilizing the latest techniques in esthetic values, structural and mechanical systems. It has a structural steel frame, face brick exterior with concrete masonry unit back-up tile, concrete grade beams and drilled pier foundation, four-inch concrete slab on grade floor system, two-inch precast metal edge gypsum slab roof deck, asphalt shingle roof, asphalt tile and carpet floor coverings, ceramic tile in the baptistry, five-foot, eight-inch high Ash Wood wainscot in the auditorium with plaster to ceiling over concrete masonry units, acoustical plaster ceilings in the auditorium and vestibule, and year-round heating and air-conditioning equipment to serve all areas of the building.

Also in the building is a basement containing 2,856 square feet of floor space consisting of mechanical room, six classrooms, kitchen, assembly room which will be used for church fellowship activities, and rest rooms.

SEATS 1000

The main auditorium contains 8,046 square feet of floor space with a seating capacity of 665. The balcony has 2,046 feet of space, seating 285. The choir loft is designed with 50 individual opera seats.

Furniture in the auditorium is made of light oak and the choir chairs and pews are padded and upholstered (seat and back) in dark turquoise blue material. The carpets are a pale gold to highlight the ash paneling and light oak furniture, as well as to complement the blue upholstery. This main auditorium is on ground level, thus making it convenient for those who have difficulty in climbing steps.

An unusual fact about this auditorium is that every resident member of the church could be seated should they all attend at any one service. Materials and methods of construction in the building are all of permanent type which will place it in the semi-fireproof category for insurance purposes.

Members of the building committee for the new building are: Roy J. Hester, chairman; Lee Nuckels, R. B. Hall Sr., George E. Kunkle, Gilbert E. Webb, Howard Shanks, A. J. Allen, and Gilbert C. Hagdale. Others who have served on the committee at various times are Jackie D. Mallock, Robert J. Smith, David A. Rhoton, and Loy H. Anderson. Gary and Hohertz are the architects on the building, and Pioneer Builders (B. T. Faulkner) were the general contractors.

First Hand Information

Dwarfed by a giant tractor, Rep. Virginia Duff chats with Robert O'Brian as he pauses during spring plowing on his farm near Ferris. The tiny representative from Ellis County dons her sun-bonnet and travels around the farms in her district getting first-hand information on the problems that confront farmers.

Lady Lawmaker Is Well Informed

FERRIS (P)—Eleven years ago pretty Virginia Duff decided to throw her hat in the political ring and run for representative of her native Ellis County. Ever since she's been throwing male political opponents for a loss.

In her first try she defeated two men—one in a runoff. In the 1960 election she was opposed by four men... three fell by the political wayside in the regular election and the remaining opponent was defeated in the runoff.

The 40-year-old farmer, lawyer and laboratory assistant commands respect of all her fellow representatives, men and women—there are two others beside Miss Duff—in the 57th Legislature of the State of Texas where she is now serving her sixth straight term.

The tiny, blue-eyed brunette regards her position as one of service to the people she represents and is not one to mince words when it comes to supporting a bill she regards as good for all the people of Texas or opposing one she feels will not benefit them.

She feels that this is an all-important part of the job she aspired to since the age of 12. It was at that tender age she decided she wanted to follow her great-grandfather, a pioneer who attended the first Texas Legislature and one of the founders of Ellis County.

Working her way through Trinity University and Southern Methodist Law School, she received her degree in 1948 and taught school at Hutchins two years before taking a position with Mobil Oil Co. in Dallas. Still with Mobil, Miss Duff uses her vacations to campaign for office and takes leave of absence without pay when attending sessions of the Legislature.

Representing a primarily agriculture district, Miss Duff travels about 4,000 miles a year around the countryside talking with farmers and ranchers and listening to their problems.

PCA Week To Be Observed

STANTON — The Western Production Credit Association is joining with 85 other PCA units in Texas to observe March 28-April 1 as PCA week in Texas.

Western was chartered under the Farm Credit Act of 1933 and serves an area composed of 12 counties. The central office is in Stanton under the direction of General Manager David K. Workman.

From a handful of stockholders at the start, PCA has grown until it had a total of five million dollars in loans in force during 1960. Directors are Jim Franklin, president; E. G. Branch, vice president; Walton Poage, George Clark and B. W. Golladay. During the past 27 years over the state, PCAs have provided three billion dollars of credit to farmers, ranchers and dairymen. Gov. Price Daniel, in proclaiming the week, said that many of the readjustments made by producers could not have been made without PCA help.

Sgt. Boerner Is Transferred

T. Sgt. Charles E. Boerner Jr., NCOIC of retention and counseling section at Wing Headquarters, leaves Webb AFB in April for Rhein Main, Germany. He came here in March, 1957.

The Durant, Oklahoma-born airman has almost 19 years of continuous Air Force duty. He went over to the Infantry during the war while serving with the Eighth Air Force in England.

He wears the Army Commendation Ribbon, and his European Theater ribbon shows battle stars for four major campaigns. He is also a combat veteran of the Korean conflict.

Delay Expected Before Red Atom Ban Reaction

GENEVA (AP)—The marathon three-power nuclear test ban talks are expected to carry on another week before the Soviets give any official response to the new Western plan to break the stalemate.

Western delegates, Semyon K. Tsarapkin so far has showed a distinct coolness to the joint U.S.-British compromise proposals but he said he would hear them out without saying an official word.

Tsarapkin was chairman of today's session—the 27th since the negotiations began 2½ years ago. U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean has taken the initiative since resumption of the talks Monday after a three-month recess. Each day he discussed in detail another point in the program.

Western sources say it will take Dean at least eight more days to spell out the new Western proposals for a treaty banning testing of nuclear weapons.

Talking with newsmen outside the wood-paneled conference room of the Palace of Nations, Tsarapkin said he detected "a slight advance" in some aspects of the Western proposals. But he asserted that they contained "too many conditions, too many ifs."

The general belief is that the Soviet delegate is waiting for word from Moscow before taking a definite stand, leaving Premier Khrushchev room to maneuver on the Soviet position until the last minute.

"We are now in the position where we have to listen, listen, listen to one American proposal after another," Tsarapkin said, adding he would have "nothing to say" in the conference until the Western proposals are completely unveiled.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

Richard A. Goodson

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

How Texas telephone people, modern science will keep improving your service in 1961

As you talk on the phone, you don't see the amazing technical wonders shown here. But they—and a whole lot of other things—work "behind the scenes" to make telephone service in Texas better year after year.

Where do these technical advances come from?

"The great majority result from full-time research by telephone scientists in laboratories," Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell vice president and general manager for Texas, told me in an interview. "But," he added, "telephone people right here in Texas contribute their share of good ideas toward achieving service improvements."

This teamwork between telephone people on the job and scientists in laboratories makes an unbeatable combination, Mr. Goodson said.

"The goal of all telephone people," he said, "is to give you service this year that's better than last year's. That's why we have a continuing program of service improvement and expansion, which in 1961 amounts to nearly $115 million in our state."

ELECTRONIC "VOICE BOOSTERS," attached to trunk lines that run between telephone central offices, keep voice volume at a strong, clear conversational level, prevent fade-out caused by distance. Latest "boosters" use Bell transistors, permit you to hear even better on your calls.

NEW MICROWAVE TOWER supports "cornucopia" antennas that beam Long Distance messages, television programs across Southwest. Capacity of many present microwave antennas is also being expanded to provide additional pathways for growing volumes of Long Distance conversations.

Jesus Gives His Life

HOW THE INSTIGATION OF SATAN, THE WICKEDNESS OF MEN'S HEARTS AND PERSISTENT UNBELIEF, BROUGHT ABOUT THE CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST

Scripture—John 18:19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. WHEN JESUS had spoken the words of love of our last lesson, "He went forth with His disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into which He entered, and His disciples,"—John 18:1.

That disciple was known to the high priest, and went in with Jesus to the palace of the high priest. "But Peter stood at the door without. Then said the damsel that kept the door, '... Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith I am not.'—John 18:15-17.

"Judas also, which betrayed Him, knew the place, for Jesus oftentimes resorted thither with His disciples. Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons."—John 18:2-3.

"Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon Him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?" "Jesus of Nazareth," they answered. Christ said, "I am He."—John 18:4-8.

Simon Peter tried to protect Jesus, as he had a sword, but Christ told him to put it away. "Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound Him."—John 18:12.

Simon Peter followed Jesus and so did another disciple. "His enemies, however, insisted on the death of this Man who was faultless. So He was crucified, with a crown of thorns on his brow. He arose from the dead, however, appearing first to Mary Magdalene, who was weeping before the sepulchre which she found was empty, with Jesus' burial clothes laid aside. When Mary told the disciples that He had risen and she had seen Him, they did not believe her until He appeared among them."—John 18:23-38.

"I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."—John 10:11.

"BAPTIZING THEM"

Parents have authority over their children, it is for the child's good. God exercises arbitrary authority and it is not for man to question; the first and best reason for doing anything in religion is because God says to do it and not because we see through it! Two people in the garden of Eden questioned God's absolute authority and death is universal even today as a result. Christ commanded his Apostles to go "teach all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit." God invented, or devised baptism, it is divine, it is not human! It is not in the realm of man's rights to discard nor minimize. "Baptizing them" Whom? Those who are taught. Taught what? The Gospel, the good news of Christ, when belief follows teaching then baptism follows belief. Mk. 16:15-16; People were commanded to be baptized, Acts 10:48; Saul was told "And now why tarriest thou, arise and be baptized and wash away thy sins;" "Baptizing them" as a condition precedent to salvation from past sins; Acts 2:38—"Then Peter said unto them repent and be baptized for the remission of sins—;" "Baptizing them" into the likeness of Christ's death, burial and resurrection, so reads Rom. 6:3-6 "Baptizing them" into Christ, "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ—so reads Gal. 3:26-27. "Baptizing them" that they might be saved, "—wherunto even baptism doth also now save us" 1 Pet. 3:27 "Baptizing them" by burial, immersion, by dipping, plunging them beneath the water, covering them up, this is not only the Greek meaning of "Baptizo" it is the bible description. Neighbor, shall we believe what God says as we live out our span of life?

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

Frustration

and

Faith

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	John	18	4-9
Monday	John	18	10-14
Tuesday	Luke	23	13-21
Wednesday	Mark	15	15-20
Thursday	Matthew	27	33-38
Friday	Philippians	2	1-8
Saturday	Timothy	2	1-6

Do you gain any real comfort from that old cliché about dark clouds having silver linings? Who can peel a cloud to find its happy lining?

But frustration has been a blessing to many men. It has driven self-centered souls to seek a new fulcrum for life. It has brought men to God . . . acknowledging human failure . . . seeking divine strength.

And as they have found in the Church comfort and courage they have learned anew the spiritual meaning of defeat and victory.

The One that this world crucified is King of kings. Beyond a cross and a crown of thorns our greatest aspirations await us.

Headed For The Dump

A reporter looks over some of nearly 600 tons of discarded California state textbooks—some in nearly new condition—which spilled out of a Los Angeles warehouse following a fire in the building. Officials say the books, which are headed for the dump, are either obsolete or damaged.

City, County Mull Firefighting Cost

An atmosphere of mutual cooperation prevailed at a joint meeting Thursday of the Big Spring City Commission and the Howard County Commissioners... The meeting was originally called to iron out a misunderstanding regarding county participation in the cost for fire fighting and welfare work.

cluding City Manager A. K. Steinhilber, City Commissioner John Taylor, Judge Carpenter, and County Commissioner Ralph White, were named to work on this problem. In general, the city spokesmen agreed that the city might help in distribution of surplus food to needy families...

Probably the problem was solved, but the county officials said they would like to consider the agreement for a few days before final acceptance. It was indicated the county might agree on a two-year contract at $6,000 per year.

Others who attended the luncheon meeting at the Cosden Country Club included Mayor Lee Rogers, who presided; city commissioners George Zachariah and Tom South; County Commissioners Rufus Stallings, L. J. Davidson, Joe Hayden; County Attorney Wayne Burns, City Attorney John Burgess.

Hospital Staff Members Attend Meeting In Abilene

Four representatives from the Big Spring State Hospital went to Abilene Thursday to meet with the Abilene Mental Health Association at 7:30 p.m. in the Health Building.

He cited the New Orleans organization of this type. Another function served by the volunteer is to help improve patient-community relations. They can teach community members to accept mental patients just as they would someone who has recovered from a broken leg or an appendectomy.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the hospital, announced that Dr. Paul C. Young, chief psychologist, Mrs. Lou Bonin, volunteer coordinator; Shirley Williams, an intern; and a patient made the trip.

Mrs. Bonin spoke about the work of volunteers and help which they can give patients and their families. She discussed visiting, gifts, and other benefits which are derived from volunteer service.

"Possible Aid for Returned Patients" was the title of a talk by Dr. Young. He pointed out four important aspects of the volunteer's relation with the patient.

Dr. Young discussed the possibility of volunteers visiting the homes of patients while they are in the hospital to help acquaint the family with the situation and with what to expect upon the patient's return.

Another aid which volunteers can perform is to make occasional visits with the patient after he has returned home. The visits can be no more than friendly chats or they may serve for talking over problems which may exist.

A variation of the service would be to form an organization of former patients. Those in the Abilene area could meet for social gatherings or to discuss their problems with someone who has perhaps experienced the same ones and has found a solution.

Stiffness Develops In Liz' Left Leg

LONDON (AP)—A stiffness has developed in Elizabeth Taylor's left leg, but her doctors say it's not serious.

The leg ailment was believed to be the result of the massive doses of antibiotics pumped into her to combat her acute pneumonia early this month.

Studio Star Just Hangs Suspended

By BOB THOMAS
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Where for art thou, Juliet?

"I'm on suspension," said Miss Prowse, who doesn't like it a bit. But if she had it to do over again, she'd do it all over again.

Certain teen-agers might suspect the actress-dancer has lost her marbles in rejecting a movie with Elvis Presley. She has nothing against Elvis. Matter of fact, she sometimes dates him, as well as another singer named F. Sinatra.

"And appearing in 'G.I. Blues' with Elvis did more for my career than anything, even 'Can-Can,'" said the gal who burst to fame with the latter film. "All of my fan mail is the result of 'G.I. Blues'; it gave me a big and important audience."

Then why did she turn down "Blue Hawaii" with E.P.? Principle is principle, she said.

"It all started with two requests," she explained. "First, I wanted my own makeup man on the picture. I have a face that is difficult to make up; I wanted someone who knew me.

"Second, I wanted to take my secretary along. If they would pay her fare, I would pay her salary. I wanted a companion, I didn't know anyone else in the company except Elvis, and he's always surrounded by a dozen buddies."

The answer of producer Hal Wallis was no on both counts. Juliet asked if she could make a screen test with his makeup man. After much protest, this was granted. Juliet thought the test was okay.

"But then I took another look at the script," she said. "The part had no character. I was only one of three girls in Elvis's life, and one 16-year-old had a more interesting part than mine."

So she tendered her regrets. This started a chain reaction of stacks blowing from Paramount to 20th Century-Fox, where Juliet is under contract.

"Naturally Fox was mad because they wouldn't be making their profit on my loanout," she said.

It's not so much that she doesn't like working at her relatively modest salary while the studio collects nicely on loanouts. She earns $10,000 per TV show but doesn't see it, she says. Being under contract to 20th-Century-Fox she gets nothing additional for outside appearances. What hurts most is lack of studio backing up.

"You'd think they'd realize if a new player is in enough poor pictures her career will go out the window," Juliet said. "They seem only concerned with getting their money out of me."

In the interests of fair play, producer Wallis was offered equal time.

While reluctant to enter controversy, he said this: "Miss Prowse received her copy of the 'Blue Hawaii' script on Feb. 23. Since that time, she has come in for makeup tests, wardrobe and wig fittings as recently as two weeks ago. It is difficult to understand why she did this and why so much time and effort should be expended before she reached her decision."

Twentieth Century-Fox's comment: "We do not wish to comment."

Hurrying Senate Candidates Bumping Into Each Other

By The Associated Press

Candidates in the special U.S. Senate race, stepping up their campaigns to make the most of the remaining 11 days, are crisscrossing Texas at such a fast pace that have started bumping into each other.

Republican John Tower and State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez speak from the same platform at a public forum in Alice Friday. There was a possibility that the paths of Tower and interim Sen. William A. Blakley would cross when both visit the Rio Grande Livestock Show at Mercedes Saturday.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson carried his drive for votes to Corpus Christi, U.S. Rep. Jim Wright was in Fort Worth preparatory to an East Texas tour and former State Rep. Maury Maverick Jr. was invading Fort Worth.

The field of candidates was narrowed slightly Thursday when State Rep. Wesley Roberts announced he was withdrawing in favor of Blakley. However, his name will still be on the ballot containing 71 names in the April 4 election.

Blakley, who Thursday also received endorsements from Gov. Price Daniel and U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore, said at Laredo Friday that the United States would not be faced with the present situation in Cuba had it not been for this nation's foreign policy.

"I think we have fumbled the ball already. If we had been paying more attention to the Monroe Doctrine, we would not be faced with the situation that exists in Cuba today," he said.

Wright, addressing a rally of 3,500 supporters in Dallas, said "The administration deserves better than carping criticism from its United States senator. It would be to Texas' advantage—and to our nation's advantage—to have a United States senator from Texas who gets along with the administration of President Kennedy and with the rest of the Texas delegation."

Wilson said in Corpus Christi

Testimony Due in Murder Trial

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP)—Testimony was due to start today in the murder trial of Joan Franklin Brock, 28, charged with the brutal beating and shooting of Tyler druggist W. S. Carpenter.

Selection of the jury was completed late Thursday.

The state is asking the death penalty for the San Antonio woman, who once served a prison term on a narcotics charge.

Sesame Crops Are On Agenda

GARDEN CITY — A meeting has been called for 8 p.m. Monday at the St. Lawrence Community Hall to discuss the possibility of growing sesame.

Bob Parker from the Sesame Seed Growers Association is to lead the discussion and show a movie on sesame production. He also will have marketing agreements with him.

Oliver F. Werst, Glasscock County agent, said that several farmers had indicated an interest in planting sesame and that it appeared that some 500 acres might be put to the crop, some 300 of it under irrigation.

Considerable sesame is grown in North Texas and in the high plains. In the latter area, some producers have grossed over $100 an acre from the crop.

Crime Probe

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Vice and crime conditions in Jefferson County will be probed in at least two sessions of the grand jury next week.
