Loses Clothes In Scuffle

An unidentified youth loses his clothes in a row with Fort Lauderdale, Fla., police when they jailed more than 100 young persons for disturbing the peace and being drunk in public. It was the second of such demonstrations with the entire police force called on to handle thousands of vacationing college students protesting the early closing of public beaches.

Large State Areas In Storm Warning

By The Associated Press
Large areas of Northeast and South Central Texas were included Wednesday afternoon in a severe thunderstorm forecast.

It was the fourth day in a row that the Weather Bureau had warned of severe weather in Texas, but this time no mention was made of tornadoes, as was the case in the other forecasts.

Wednesday's forecast was a two-part alert.

One was for an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from Tyler, Tex., to 40 miles northeast of Monroe, La.

The other was for an area along and either side of a line from Laredo to 20 miles northwest of Houston.

Both warned of thunderstorms with the likelihood of large hail and damaging winds.

The forecast was effective from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The forecast was issued as a pre-Easter spell brought sleet and freezing drizzle and a threat of snow to the Texas Panhandle.

The Weather Bureau reported freezing drizzle at Amarillo and Dalhart. Pea-sized hail fell at Pampa during most of the morning.

SNOW FORECAST

The agency also forecast snow Wednesday night and Thursday morning in the western Panhandle and northern High Plains.

Temperatures hovered around the freezing mark in the freezing drizzle and sleet sections. Forecasts called for temperatures only slightly below freezing during the night.

Muggy thundershowers fell downstate.

Sandwiched in between the two weather extremes was the leading edge of a cold front that intensified during the night and stalled before dawn along a line from Shreveport, La., westward to near Midland and Wink in West Texas.

Conditions were ripe for more tornadoes or violent thunderstorms like those which swung new blows over a big stretch of North Central Texas Tuesday night.

BARNS WRECKED

A tornado whipped through the Northeast Texas community of Hainesville in Wood County and another funnel cloud which stayed aloft appeared northwest of Waco State police reported the Hainesville twister wrecked three barns but they found no injured persons in that rural area.

Hail stones varying from golf ball to tennis ball size battered parts of Dallas and neighboring Carrollton, leaving a broad trail of shattered windows and other damage. Lighter hail pelted Fort Worth, Grand Prairie, Farmersville, Plano and other points in the vicinity.

At Greenville, northeast of Dallas, a 1 1/2-inch deluge in 45 minutes washed a car into a ditch and a man nearly drowned trying to rescue a couple in the auto.

NEARLY LOST

The rushing water swept Jimmy Joslyn, 20, of Roysie City beneath a culvert and carried him submerged for more than 40 feet. He was revived and taken to a Greenville hospital. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Carson, whose car ran into a ditch filled with four feet of water, got out safely.

In North Dallas, the hail smashed about 400 window panes at Thomas Jefferson, Edwin H. Cary and Walnut Hill schools. There also was some water damage. Residences and stores in parts of South Dallas, Richardson, Irving, Carrollton and Grand Prairie took a similar pounding. Thunderstorms carrying the hail drenched areas from Cleburne, Fort Worth and Denton northeastward toward the Red River.

The cold front swept southward after cloaking the Rockies in Wyoming and Colorado with snow Tuesday. Chill drizzles in the Texas Panhandle sent the mercury nosediving from 60 to 39 degrees at Amarillo as the front passed during the afternoon.

State Supreme Court Slaps Down Gas Severance Levy

Senate Passes Bill To Allow Hospital Talks

Another step has been taken and final legislative action was apparently near this morning that would allow the Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools to negotiate with the City of Big Spring for a new water rate.

The State Senate approved a bill today, according to Sen. David Ratliff, "authorizing" the board to negotiate with the city. Previously, the House, had approved a measure "directing" the board to negotiate.

Representative David Read said the two bodies were meeting in joint session this morning and that the difference in wording would probably be worked out, clearing the way for final action. Ordinarily, the bill would be sent back to the House for consideration again, as a bill must be approved by both houses in like language.

The current contract, written in 1957, calls for the city to sell water to the Big Spring State Hospital at 10 cents per thousand gallons. The city has asked for an opportunity to negotiate a higher rate, due to increased costs.

County Rejects All Moving Bids

Howard County Commissioners Court Wednesday had to reject all bids submitted to remove and renovate two residences on the Big Spring State Hospital property to make room for improvements on U. S. 87.

The bids offered were in excess of the amount of money the state had specified for the jobs.

The state estimate on the two removal projects was $7,400. Minimum bid offered for the job was $7,751.54. Maximum bid was $13,403.71.

The commissioners decided not to act on any of the bids offered but to contact the State Highway Department and determine if additional funds can be earmarked for the job.

The two residences are to be relocated back of the right of way line of the road.

John Durham, Big Spring, submitted the $7,751.54 bid.

Other bids were: Ezell Construction Co., Colorado City, $13,403.71; T. A. Welch, Big Spring, $11,725; J. R. Garrett, Big Spring, $11,945.25.

When the problem is discussed and settled with the State Highway Department the commissioners will ask for new bids.

Still No Grand Rush

Office of the Howard County Tax Assessor was only moderately busy on Wednesday morning despite the fact that only three days remain in which to buy current year car plates. This was the largest crowd of the morning. Most of the time, only one or two customers were at the counter. Deadline for new car plate purchase is April 1.

Saving In Bond Issue Money Reflected In Yarbrough Bid

By M. A. WEBB

A saving in bond issue money of approximately $17,000 was reflected in the apparent low bid of $51,662.15 by Clyde Yarbrough Construction Co., of Odessa, for water and sewer line extensions in Big Spring. Bids were submitted to the city commission Tuesday night.

Engineering fees and contingencies, added to the bid price would make the approximate total cost run to $67,000, well under the original estimated cost of $83,000. To make the price still lower, an additional 10,000 feet of line had been tacked onto the original estimate.

Clyde Yarbrough, well known contractor in the Big Spring area, was apparently low on the projects when bids from 12 firms were opened and read. The work will cover the first phase of the Master Plan expansion program voted in the original bond program, $671,000 was set aside for this portion of the capital improvement.

The highest bid, $85,565, was submitted by Bland Construction Co., Austin, and the difference between his and Yarbrough's bid was $283,720.88.

The engineers and the city commission will study the bids for a week and will meet April 4 to consider awarding the contract.

If Yarbrough gets the contract, he will probably start work within three weeks and has 210 calendar days in which to complete it.

Bidders covered two sections of the contract, designated at Section 1 and Section 2—water and sewer. Only one bidder, Glade Construction Co., Fort Worth, covered water only, and most of the firms stipulated that there would be no splits in the two.

Yarbrough's bid on laying water mains and lines was $329,907.40, and on sewer lines, $221,954.75.

Other bidders, with total amounts on both water and sewer, were Anderson Construction Co., Abilene, $643,783; Bland Construction Co., Austin, $835,585; Brodie Construction Co., Amarillo, $634,513.89; Brown-Olds Plumbing & Heating, Odessa, $563,794.31; Elm Fork Construction Co., Dallas, $695,677.75; Ford-Wagner, Inc., Austin, $778,947.25; Glade Construction Co., Fort Worth, water only, $358,151; R. B. Hodgson & Co., $580,131.90; Panhandle Construction Co., Lubbock, $593,270.50; Texas Construction Co., Houston, $619,744.20; H. B. Zachry, San Antonio, $586,943.75.

Water distribution mains, under the contract, will be laid in Wright Airport, Settles, and Clanton Additions, Jones Valley, Kennebeck Heights Subdivision, Lockhart Addition, 18th and Settles Street area, East 4th, Northside, Austin at 14th, 4th Street and business area, West 3rd and 4th Streets area, interstate highway crossings.

Appellate Ruling In Case Upheld

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court agreed today with lower courts that the natural gas severance tax passed by the last Legislature is unconstitutional.

The decision favored more than 80 gas pipeline companies which attacked validity of the 56th Legislature's $15 million dollar revenue measure aimed at taxing exported natural gas.

The Supreme Court refused to grant a writ of error against the ruling of the Third Court of Civil Appeals that the tax was invalid. This refusal to review in effect upheld the lower court's judgment.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals had agreed with Austin District Judge Jack Roberts that the tax is unconstitutional because it is a levy on interstate commerce.

The so-called "severance beneficiary" tax was challenged by the Transcontinental Pipeline Corp. and the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. Some 29 other cases were consolidated into the suit testing validity of the act.

The court issued no written opinion in refusing to review the lower court judgments. Associate Justices Zollie Steakley and Frank Chilver Jr. did not participate in the ruling.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals struck down the gas tax 2-1 last Dec. 14.

The case seems almost certainly headed for a final decision in the U.S. Supreme Court which had invalidated a natural gas "gathering tax" passed by the Texas legislature several years ago.

New efforts to put a tax on natural gas produced in Texas and shipped out of the state by the long-line transmission companies are taking shape in the current session of the legislature.

The levy invalidated by today's high state court action was 1 1/2 per cent of the market value per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas at the wellhead. The tax under the questioned law must be paid by the last "taker" of the gas, usually the pipeline companies.

Money collected under the tax is being paid under protest and cannot be used pending final outcome of the litigation. The tax was written to yield $15 million every two years for the state's general revenue fund—now in deficit by more than $100 million.

Dunlap Submits Low Bid On Church Improvements

Ray Dunlap, Big Spring contractor, submitted the low base bid of $26,663 and additive alternate bid of $2,663 Tuesday for improvements at the Wesley Methodist Memorial Church.

Bids were opened Tuesday at a 3 p.m. meeting in the church. Dunlap listed 125 calendar days as the time required to complete the work.

The bid will probably be awarded at a meeting today at 3 p.m. after negotiations are completed on changes in the alternative bid. Work will begin in about 10 days.

The base bid includes building a new classroom wing, consisting of three nursery rooms and two classrooms, remodeling the old sanctuary and constructing a new concrete terrace. The alternate bid is for remodeling portions of the existing two-story classroom wing and scout hut.

A $30,000 grant by Dora Roberts Foundation is making the construction possible.

Nine contractors bid with the highest at $34,164 for the base bid and $3,461 as the additive alternate bid. They were Pioneer Builders, Inc., J. W. Little Construction Co., J. D. Jones Construction Co., Lange Construction Co., Jimmie D. Jones Co., A. P. Kasch & Sons, and F. C. Mote, all of Big Spring, and G. A. and S. L. Jones Co. of Lufkin.

Architects for the project are Gary and Hohertz, Big Spring.

City Commission Approves Budget

City commissioners made "only one change in its proposed 1961-62 budget, then gave it approval during its regular meeting Tuesday.

Operators in the city's sewage treatment plant and water treatment plant will be reduced from a seven day work week to six days. As originally proposed and before the public hearing, these men were to be left with a seven day week. But the commission approved employing a "swing man" which should enable the operators to have a six-day week.

With this adjustment, the final budget expenditures are listed at $2,265,145.25. The commission estimated that $4,200 would be necessary to employ the extra man for the two plants.

ed surplus at the end of the budget year of $137,596.75.

The only discussion, before final approval was given the proposed budget, concerned the treatment plant workers and a minimum wage. No action was taken on the minimum pay scale, which was discussed at length during last week's public hearing.

John Taylor's motion concerning the treatment plant workers was that "the city manager and two plant superintendents be authorized to work out a suitable plan to reduce the hours of the men, in the two plants, maintain the present salaries, and increase the budgets of the two departments by not more than $4,200."

Tom South gave the second and it was approved unanimously.

The budget was approved on Paul Kasch's motion, seconded by Taylor.

Kennedy Offers Home Loan Plan To Fight Slum Growth

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today proposed government insurance of 25-year home improvement loans as a new way of rebuilding rundown neighborhoods without federal handouts.

This was the surprise item in a $3.2-billion housing bill which Kennedy sent to Congress.

Also called for were step-ups in low-cost public housing, urban renewal and housing for the elderly, plus experimental 40-year, non-downpayment FHA mortgages for families of moderate income.

Most of the items were spelled out in Kennedy's special housing message to Congress on March 8. However, only a vague hint was given them of the far-reaching character of the improvement loan proposal.

The 25-year loan would carry a maximum interest rate of 5 per cent and could total up to $10,000 per family living unit. Present improvement loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration run for only five years, carry a rate of 9.4 per cent and are subject to $3,500 ceiling.

Improvement funds could be advanced in the form of first or second mortgages or other types of loans and would be available in all sections, although basic terms would be the same everywhere.

Officials are hopeful that if Congress approves, the program will become the major weapon in attacking urban blight, without federal subsidy.

Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, in a memo to Kennedy, said: "We sorely lack today the financing devices that are needed to support and encourage the upgrading of good homes and neighborhoods to preserve our cities and protect the living standards of our people."

Weaver said the entire housing bill emphasizes "the improvement of our existing housing supply instead of relying primarily on new housing construction for better homes, as we have been doing."

NO PRICE TAG
Kennedy's special message put no price tag on the total housing program. Weaver said the bill calls for new spending authority of $3.19 billion. Of that amount,

$1.05 billion would be spent by June 30, 1965, and $311 million in the 1962 fiscal year which begins July 1.

All these outlays would be in addition to those already authorized. The amount previously authorized for fiscal 1962 is $728 million.

The biggest new item would be $2.5 billion in authority to commit federal funds for urban renewal projects. The commitments would extend over four years but actual spending would continue for 10 years or longer.

Weaver said this would "make it possible for our cities and urban areas to plan and develop their growth over a reasonably long period, instead of a year-to-year basis."

BROADENING
Congress never has authorized urban renewal commitments for more than two years in advance. The proposed 40-year loans for moderate income families would represent a broadening of the present program available only to those displaced by urban renewal projects or other government action.

Kennedy would make such loans available, on an experimental basis, to all those who can't afford regular FHA mortgages but earn too much to be eligible for public housing.

The program initially would be authorized for two years expiring July 1, 1963.

The 40-year loan would carry the regular FHA maximum interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent and would be available for housing on sale or rent. Mortgages would be subject to a ceiling ranging, on a single family house, from $9,000 to $15,000—depending on local building costs.

DEFAULTED LOANS
To entice private lenders into the program, FHA would have authority to pay off defaulted loans in cash.

Other items in the bill would provide:

Extension of the regular FHA mortgage insurance program until Oct. 1, 1965, considerably longer than Congress ever voted in the past.

Extension of the regular home improvement loan program for two years until Oct. 1, 1963.

100,000 additional public housing units.

Increase by $10 a month the federal contribution toward rent payments of elderly and disabled tenants in public housing projects.

Increase the spending authority under the present program of direct housing loans for the elderly from $50 million to $100 million.

CO-OP UNITS
FHA-insured mortgages for units in cooperative apartments and for experimental housing using new materials, techniques or designs.

Low-interest insured loans on rental and cooperative housing built by nonprofit organizations for low and moderate income families.

Increase funds for urban planning aid from $20 million to $100 million and increase the federal contribution toward the cost from one-half to two-thirds.

Authorize $200 million for public facility loans instead of the present $150 million. This program covers everything from sewers to city halls.

Senate Candidates Get Down To Issues

By FINIS MOTHERHEAD
Associated Press Staff Writer

The question of who's a Democrat and who's a Republican, the Peace Corps program, validity of some political literature and what has happened to the oil industry figured in the Texas senatorial campaign Wednesday.

These and a wide variety of other topics received attention from candidates in a bulky 71-man field actually divided a bit, although names of all will remain on the April 4 special election ballot.

Frank Maters, a San Antonio paper company executive, said Tuesday he's quitting the race for lack of money to finance a statewide campaign. He said he expects to endorse one of his former rivals.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert figured 2,633,519 persons are eligible to vote on a Senate successor to Vice President Lyndon Johnson. Sen. William Blakley, Dallas financier, presently holds the post by interim appointment.

POLL TAXES

Calvert based his total on poll tax receipts and exemptions, plus estimates for five counties which have not filed final reports. It was Mervyn Dymally, San Antonio, who brought up the question of party affiliation. Speaking in Galveston at a rally in the National Maritime Union hall, Mervally asserted Tuesday night he had "three Republican opponents inside one."

In addition to Republican candidate John Tower of Wichita Falls, Mervally said the other two are Blakley and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. He quoted Blakley as claiming a 100 per cent voting record in favor of the Eisenhower administration while also serving as interim senator in 1947.

A DEMOCRAT?

"That would be all right for John Tower," Mervally said, "but Blakley is supposed to be a Democrat—or is he?"

At the Wilson, Mervally said he thinks the attorney general is "just as Republican as Blakley" because of Wilson's attitude toward parts of President Kennedy's program.

Blakley spoke out sharply in Houston, before flying to El Paso, against the Peace Corps and proposed area programs of Kennedy.

"The Peace Corps is the greatest opportunity for Communist infiltration anywhere it is applied," Blakley asserted. "The depressed area program is a blueprint for socialism."

Blakley also declared "The Supreme Court is infringing upon the legislative branch of government and has gone so far as to move into the executive branch with some of its rulings."

GATEWAY

Speaking at a Wednesday morning breakfast in El Paso, Blakley called the border city "a gateway to Texas from the south and west." He planned other appearances at a civic club luncheon and a public reception before switching back to the Gulf Coast for more campaigning at Beaumont and Port Arthur.

In Austin, Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith of the Texas Supreme Court announced he is backing Blakley in the campaign.

Wilson directed a complaint to Tower while campaigning in Houston. In a telegram to Tower's campaign headquarters, the attorney general said unsigned political literature circulating in San Antonio and Houston falsely states the U.S. Supreme Court reprimanded Wilson for "unprofessional and disrespectful" conduct.

Tower, who said he didn't sanction the distribution of any such matter, and Wilson did not elaborate on the matter.

SUPPORT

Support for Wilson was announced by Wortham rancher Bobby Thorne, who once said he was another of the Senate candidates but did not pay a fee to file for the race.

Campaigning in Austin, Tower once more questioned Wilson's service on the board which canvasses returns of an election in which the attorney general is a candidate.

Tower called for Wilson "to resign your position on the Election Canvassing Board in the interest of fair play and clean sportsmanship, so there can be no repetition of your conduct following the general election last year."

Aides of the Wichita Falls man said leaders of Students for Tower Clubs at a dozen colleges have joined in a closing push for the

Alert Sleep, Dust In Medical News

By The Associated Press

Alertness in your sleep, the allergy to old dust, tooth decay and teen-age drinking are subjects with a focus on health:

ALERT SLEEP

Part of your thinking brain may be wide awake, while you're asleep.

British researchers ordered a group of sleep volunteers to raise their hands whenever they heard their own names. Then a tape recording of 56 names in random order was played. The volunteers fell asleep listening to the recording, but many awoke with automatic hand movements when their names came up on the record.

Some subjects, told to listen for a name other than their own, also awoke when the chosen name was called out, signaling it out from the other names in their sleep.

GARDEN TALK

Mix Vegetables, Flowers In The Same Garden Area

Spring garden planting time is upon us and here are some tips on vegetable gardening.

Most of our vegetables should be in the ground as soon as possible after the last frost, but because it is hard to know when the last frost will come, no one is quite sure when the best day for planting will be. Some say plant on Good Friday and others go by signs in the moon.

Tomato plants are always available at the stores and the varieties that do best in West Texas are the little cherry type of tomatoes. There are several on the market, and while they are not so large as some other varieties, they are more dependable during our hot dry summers.

Onions may be set out, though they do well in most of our winter weather.

English peas do well when the season is cool and if they are planted early enough. Black eyed peas seldom fail to make and another old faithful is okra. It is a near relative of cotton, and it loves our climate and soil. Squash and melons may be planted and they require much space and one can expect an early crop, but later on the insects usually take over. To raise sweet corn or peas, ears it is well to remember that corn needs to be crowded to insure proper pollination, and it is better to have several short rows than one or two long ones. The pollen comes from the tassels and

Mrs. Brock Convicted

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Jean Brock stood rigidly erect Tuesday night and heard a district court jury declare her guilty of murder with malice.

Her penalty was fixed at life in prison for the notorious robbery-slashing of a Tyler druggist. The jury recommended to parole for the outwardly calm woman.

Still awaiting trial in the case is her former sweetheart, Dennis Woodbury, 36. Both were accused of beating and shooting W. S. Carpenter, 43, last Nov. 9 after robbing him of narcotics.

Carpenter's bullet-riddled body was found in a weed patch outside this East Texas city.

The state offered a statement which it said Mrs. Brock signed admitting she fired the shot that killed Carpenter. During several hysterical outbursts in court, she contended that she was mistreated and tortured into signing the statement.

FEEL GOOD FAST

Worried? Feeling low? Have a good brushing medical check-up.

Regular checkups, besides being a good way to prevent trouble, make you feel healthy as well, a British doctor suggests.

Few of us—even the healthiest in mind and body—come out of a good medical examination without a feeling of elation, he says. Reason: "We've been assured that our body's complex parts are intact and functioning well."

"For we so frequently harbor fear—varying in intensity from a stifled, nagging doubt to a positive phobia—that all is not well," says Dr. George Day. "Fear is humanity's commonest disease."

TOOTH DECAY

With fluoride dentifrices, good brushing technique and the amount of time the teeth are exposed to the dentifrice are factors in how effective they will be in preventing tooth decay, researchers report.

In addition, brushing with fluoride dentifrices will enhance the efficiency of fluorides applied to your teeth by a dentist, a recent dental research meeting was told.

Christian Fathers

By T. E. Tarbet, pastor
Church of Christ, West Highway 10

"And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." (Eph. 6:4.)

"Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not discouraged." (Col. 3:21.)

"He that speaketh his rod harshly his son, but he that loveth him chasteneth him belittles." (Prov. 13:24.)

It would be very wrong for us to fail to chasten our children; yet one can easily go to an extreme and discourage them. It is not an easy thing to be a good father.

The dedicated Christian makes the best father.

Our children need more than financial security, good health and a good education. They need to be nurtured in the admonition of the Lord. They need spiritual security, and the best opportunity we parents can give them is to let them hear the Lord's voice.

Tomorrow: "Christian Servants."

Defendant Wins Suit By Ex-Coed

FORT WORTH (AP)—A $300,000 damage suit by a former coed from Kermit ended Monday in a verdict for the defendant, Francis Marion Webb of Fort Worth. Jurors found Mrs. Rita Clark Mickel, 20, was not entitled to damages. Mrs. Mickel claimed brain injuries suffered in a car wreck Dec. 4, 1959, near Ballinger, changed her personality. Mrs. Mickel was then at Howard Payne College at Brownwood. Two other coeds were killed when their stalled car was hit by an auto driven by Webb. The jury found Webb guilty of negligence in exceeding the 55 m.p.h. night time speed limit but ruled Mrs. Mickel also was negligent in not abandoning the stalled car.

FBI Agents Nab Slaying Suspect

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N.M. (AP)—Oscar A. Kernohan Jr., 33, sought for questioning about two Texas slayings and the disappearance of his wife and son in San Antonio, was in jail today. FBI agents nabbed him at a motel here Tuesday night. They said a hunting knife was the only weapon he had. Kernohan was charged with murder Feb. 28 in the shooting of Norman Cox, 21, of Benton, Ark. Cox's body was found Feb. 25 in a culvert on U.S. 80 near Pecos, Tex. Sheriff A. B. Nail of Pecos said Cox was killed Dec. 19 or 20. Cox was hitchhiking home from California, where he had visited relatives.

Kernohan also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of William R. Leonard, 28, of Dardanelle, Ark. Leonard's body was found Feb. 17 near Nickel Creek Station, near Van Horn. Kernohan's wife, Jo Ann, 37, and stepson, Roger, 2½, disappeared from their San Antonio home Dec. 19. Nail said San Antonio detectives reported Kernohan, his wife and stepson left their home the night of Dec. 18. He said the lights on the Christmas tree were burning, presents were still under the tree and fires had been lit. No clothing was taken. The wife and stepson haven't been seen since. Kernohan had a car wreck the next day at Van Horn and they weren't with him. FBI agents said they were taking Kernohan, also a deserter from the Army at Ft. Knox, Ky., to Albuquerque and he would be arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Owen Mowrey. Kernohan also is accused of passing bogus checks in New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. Officers found in his car, abandoned in Van Horn, a wallet belonging to Cox, a rifle, a brassiere with dry blood and a woman's dress.

High Bids Made In Lease Auctions

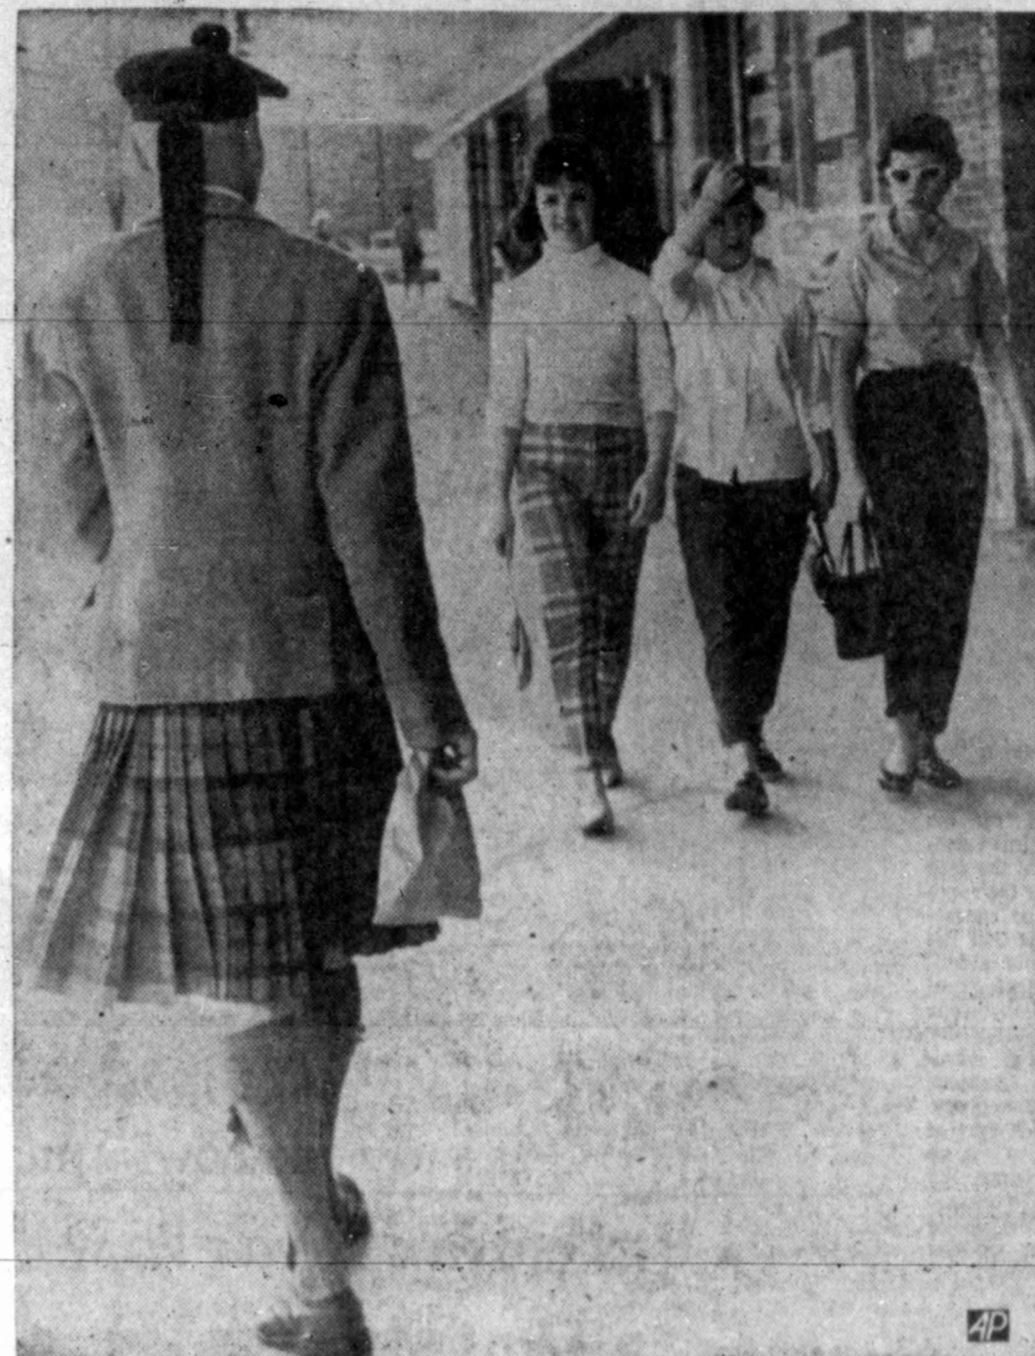

AUSTIN (AP)—The General Land Office has made public high bonus bids totaling $1,837,000 at the 43rd auction of University of Texas land leases. Sale of the leases on 118 tracts was "satisfactory," Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said Tuesday. Top purchaser was Humble Oil & Refining Co. with seven Ward County leases for bonuses of $28,000 to $140,000. Humble posted the second highest payment, $125,000 for a four-section drilling block in Crockett County. Bids on the 35,768 acres raised total oil and gas receipts from the university's West Texas domain to $337,866,837. Union Oil of California paid bonuses of $95,000 each for two tracts in Crane County.

Stock Dividend

GALVESTON (AP)—The Santa Fe Railroad Tuesday declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share of common capital stock, payable June 1 to stockholders of record April 28.

Woman Slain, Husband Wounded

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Taylor, 25, of Monahans was shot to death and her husband, Don, 28, critically wounded Tuesday as they sat in a car in front of her mother's home. The couple had been estranged. Police said Mrs. Taylor died of several .22 caliber bullet wounds. Taylor was shot once just above the temple. He was taken to Lubbock for surgery.

Reverse Costumes

Some people think the world is all mixed up and they may have a point. However, Robert Nicholson, visiting relatives, provoked a number of stares as he went on a shopping tour of Dallas and the three girls are authentic Dallas teen-agers, which should explain the costumes. 'Behold Thy Son' More Than Personal Wish

EDITOR'S NOTE—At first glance Christ's words from the Cross to the two persons he loved most appear personal, almost private. But there is a deeper meaning in them, and a precious lesson for each of us today. Third of five articles on Christ's last message.

By THE REV. DR. EUGENE CARSON BLAKE
Written For The Associated Press
"Woman, behold thy son . . . behold thy mother."

Unlike the other words which fell from the lips of Jesus in those last hours of his earthly life, this one—directed to his beloved mother and his equally beloved disciple—appears, at first glance, to have no deep religious or theological implications.

It has to do only with the future care of his mother and his friend, which, although important enough in itself, seems to be almost an aside and quite apart from the profound insights of the other utterances from the cross.

And yet, we make a grave mistake if we question too seriously the appropriateness of this apparently private and personal word uttered amid those other words of universal import. For, certainly, a prime insight of the Christian gospel is this: The relationship between any two human beings is always of universal significance. And, further, it is demonstrated here at the cross, and in a new way, that the only right relationship with all men is the family relationship at its highest and best.

Recall the event. Three men are being executed. One of them is Jesus of Nazareth. A group of people is watching; some gloating, others—a lesser number—mourning. Among the mourners, at a little distance from the foot of the cross, Jesus sees standing together the two whom he loves most intimately in all the world: A woman and a man, his mother and his most beloved disciple, John.

We need not harrow our hearts by entering too deeply with our imagination into the feeling that must have been torturing these three.

No loving mother needs to be told what Mary must have felt as she watched her son in the agony of the crucifixion.

No faithful student who has ever had a teacher who became as well his close friend, needs to use much imagination to know what John was feeling as he looked at Jesus on the cross.

No loyal son needs to be told what Jesus' feelings must have been as that extra bitterness was added to his woe: that of seeing his mother's and his friend's grief and suffering for him.

But, Jesus was not one to dwell on the sadness of the present moment. He looked instead to the future, and he knew that both those whom he loved would be lonely and lost without him. So he told them in as few words as possible—for the effort to speak at all must have been great—"My mother, and my friend, you will need each other as the days go by. Mother, you will find a son in him, friend, you will find in mine a second mother."

It is true, of course, that Jesus felt his love and duty to God were first. That is the essence of religion. But those who know Jesus can understand that the lesson he taught from the cross was that religion, with all of its call for commitment and obedience to God, does not give excuse for callous treatment of one's loved ones.

This word, spoken in the agony of death, is final proof—if such is needed—that he who so loved all men as to die for them was not forgetful of his special love and responsibility for his stricken mother and his distraught friend.

This is as it should be with us. One half of the essence of Christianity is love and concern for another. And where can any of us better begin than within the circle of our families? If love is not shown within that narrow circle, can we ever hope to find it spreading further?

To all of us, Jesus speaks from the cross: Love those near you, do out your duty.

"For through such love alone, God stooping shows sufficient of his light for us in the dark to rise by."

Italy Council Spurns U.S. Aid

ITALY, Tex. (AP)—Residents of tornado-battered Italy, a central Texas town of 1,500, said no thanks Tuesday to an offer of federal aid.

The twister struck Sunday night, inflicting losses estimated by city officials at $750,000. Not a business house in town escaped damage.

Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., offered to seek federal disaster relief if the city council wanted it. In reply the council sent Teague this telegram, drafted by editor Russell Bryant of the Italy News Herald:

"City council authorizes me to thank you for offer of federal disaster funds. We feel the federal treasury is in worse shape than Italy and suggest that any allocation set up for Italy be applied to the national debt."

A Devotional For Today

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? (Mark 15:34.)
PRAYER: God of the pilgrim way, we thank Thee that Thou art never far from us. When the way is dark and hard and our hearts are lonely, give to us the inward assurance of Thy gracious presence. Go with us throughout the course of this day and strengthen us for the work Thou givest us to do; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

We Must Be Equally Constant

How times have changed! Or have they?

Thus Marshall D. Shulman, writing in the New York Times Magazine, gets to the heart of a question raised on the eighth anniversary of the death of Joseph Stalin, the Georgian dictator who held Russia in his iron grip.

Mr. Shulman cites many evidences of easing of pressures and of a liberalization of emphasis on the industrial and technological in favor of slightly more on consumer goods, but he warns that it is dangerous to assume that there is a trend toward radical change or democratization of the Soviet system.

"There are several reasons for believing that this is not so," he observed. First, there continues to be a monopoly of control by the government (Communist party) in all aspects of Soviet life—economy, police, army, etc. Even the modifications are not concessions to pressure for a share of the better life but calculated incentives to obtain desired results. There are evidences that the feared coercion of Stalin has been replaced by an acceptance of things as they are, even a sort of indoctrination through performance. The average Russian, who may not be concerned with the machinations of the hard core of the party, figures that the system works and he is no worse and perhaps better off than he was. So he goes along. Nor is there any sound ground to believe that a challenging society will come from the intelligentsia or managerial class. Perhaps the most noticeable change has been in the direction of flexibility under Khrushchev. Whereas Stalin applied force and used militant minorities, Khrushchev has been content to play upon the ferment of the new nations and the melting of the colonial states. He has been willing to play footsie with non-Communist groups so long as it means trouble for the West. In the end, he plans to consolidate his advances.

There may be some advantage in that Khrushchev appreciates the dangers of cataclysmic warfare, and thus will be inclined toward a continuation of his "peaceful coexistence." Mr. Shulman concludes that the United States and the free nations can, if they appreciate their potentials and peculiar abilities, so successfully compete with the Russians that the Soviet Union will be forced into indefinitely prolonging its interim strategy of "peaceful coexistence." Dedication to our own ideals and sacrificial competition for our system might someday oblige Khrushchev's successors to share a more peaceful coexistence without the quotation marks. It will take unselfish service and real devotion on our part to not be taken in or veered from our course. We will need to understand no fundamental changes have taken place in the Soviet aims, and then see to it that we are equally constant for our free society.

What Your Easter Seal Purchases Do

More than ever before there is a need for your support of the Easter Seal campaign. Bulk of the funds go to the county society, and these are more and used up in support of the crippled children's center.

In a remarkable demonstration of generosity by individuals, labor unions, contractors and organizations, we were able to come up with a permanent, well designed plant last year, and to gather a considerable volume of equipment. Yet the usefulness of this property depends upon the financial support needed to sustain it. In so many words, the effectiveness of the center depends upon the degree of support you give it through your purchase of Easter seals. Give these children a break—mail in your check today.

David Lawrence The Million-Dollar Mistake

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy made a serious mistake at his press conference last Thursday which ought to spell trouble for the future of the country, and these are more and used up in support of the crippled children's center.

"I FIND IT DIFFICULT to know why anyone would oppose seeing somebody by 1963 paid $1.25 in interstate commerce, and in the new coverage we're talking about businesses which make over $1,000,000 a year, and I find it difficult to understand how anybody could object to paying somebody who works in a business which makes over $1,000,000 a year by $1.25, $50 a week."

It will be noted that the President twice used the phrase "make over $1,000,000 a year." Probably most businessmen agreed immediately with the President that any company making such a profit could well afford the increase from $1 an hour to $1.25 and that those opposing such an increase would just seem to be cruel-hearted, selfish business men. This is the kind of innuendo which adds to class antagonisms and it is the sort of argument on which labor demagogues thrive.

BUT WHAT ARE the facts? The legislation now pending in Congress doesn't make any such classification of businesses with profits of $1,000,000 or over per year. Instead, the bill sponsored by the President—and which was defeated last week by the House of Representatives—called for measurement by gross receipts of sales of $1,000,000 and not by profits. The language in the bill read "$1,000,000 gross annual volume." There's a vast difference, of course, between what a business takes in and what it has left after paying wages and other expenses as well as all taxes.

Indeed, out of the total number of businesses in the United States, at least 90 per cent do not make as much as $1,000,000 a year after taxes.

THE BILL AS FINALLY approved by the House last week would exclude a lot of service trades altogether and would continue existing exemptions for employment agencies, etc.

They Couldn't Care Less

WASHINGTON (AP)—What do the Laotians themselves think about the power struggle between those two far-away giants, the United States and Russia, over their tiny land?

For a lot of them, not much. Report after report from these parts of great indifference to the civil war between the Russian-backed rebels in the north and the (American-supported) right-wing government in the south.

The greatest popular support is for neither side but for Prince Souvanna Phouma. He's neutral.

TO A LOT OF Laotians, therefore, the United States and Russia must look like a couple of busy-bodies. Yet the Laotians have to depend on someone. The country earns only a fraction of its expenses.

In 1960 its exports totaled $1.6 million while its national deficit was $33 million, about 20 times its export figure. Since 1954 this country put $310 million into Laos, most of it for the military forces.

Yet The Associated Press reports even the combatants are devout Buddhists who don't like to kill and have to be coaxed into fighting by their big-power backers.

The Laotians don't even think of a nation. Many of them are split into tribes. One official said to most Laotians the civil war is just another family fight.

YET RUSSIA wants the Communist-led rebels to win. A Red Laos would be a foothold for a take-over in the rest of Southeast Asia. For that reason the United States is determined to block them.

So the Laotians are caught in the middle. If there is peace in Laos—and it probably will be, since the Reds don't usually yield any ground—both sides will have to work to win support.

Since both the West and communism will propagandize the people in their area, in due time maybe the Laotians on both sides will learn to get angry enough at each other to fight in earnest.

ALL THIS sounds a little reminiscent—although the cases are not identical—of Indochina, half of which the French lost to communism in 1954.

The French had held all of Viet Nam from back in the 19th century. Being colonial-minded, they didn't train the Vietnamese for independence. Eventually, the Communists in the north revolted.

From 1946 to 1954 the French fought them. But the French were so dainty they didn't send any draftees to Viet Nam, just volunteers.

One thing was sure: They weren't getting many volunteers from among the Vietnamese who simply wanted the French out. If they volunteered it was usually with the Communist-led rebels in the north.

Eventually the French had to give up the northern half. Now, seven years later, the Communists are on the move again, sending their guerrillas into South Viet Nam.

If Laos is split in half the time will probably come when the Reds from the north put the heat on their southern brothers and there'll be a crisis of some kind all over again.

Hal Boyle A Corduroyed Life

NEW YORK (AP) — "Well, guess what," said my wife. "Corduroy is back in style." I demanded, "People or women?"

"Both," she replied. "Well, I had to ask her in all honesty why didn't women leave corduroy alone."

"It's an ecstatic fabric," she said. "It comforts a rippled and velvet excitement. It is a wrinkled magic—it sends one."

As a man I had a sense of profound depression. In 1946 on a trip around the world I bought a blue-green corduroy coat in Sweden for about $25 or so. I wear it in alternate years. I heard it. It is a wealth to me.

"That jacket of yours is back in fashion — and after all these years," said Frances. "Imagine that! I think I'll buy something in corduroy for me and for Tracy Ann, too."

"Tracy Ann is our daughter, who is nearly 8 years old. 'Corduroy is getting popular.' 'Well, I'll tell you why,' I said. 'I don't want corduroy to be popular—except with me.'"

"For four years or more I wore Army khaki around the world, and while I loved the many associations of service that color involved, I wearied of it. "So when I had a chance to go to Sweden, and saw that beautiful blue-green corduroy jacket I had to buy it. It was something different. It was a kind of new freedom."

"I understand," said my wife. "But she really doesn't recall that once I told her the only color I didn't appreciate was brown. Frances reacted by flooding our home with brown from the bedspreads to the draperies and the towel on the bathroom rack."

I got to the point where if I didn't see something brown I felt lonesome. Wives work in this way, their wenders to perform. Now I know the next step.

Corduroy will cloud my being. My wife will wear corduroy, my daughter will wear corduroy, the cat will knock her clipped claws on a corduroy couch. A spaghetti dinner will look like corduroy with meat sauce.

My life will be enveloped in a canopy of corduroy, just because I sentimentally cling to that corduroy coat I bought in Sweden long ago—in the desire to be different.

"Why not?" asked my wife. "Corduroy is getting popular." "Well, I'll tell you why," I said. "I don't want corduroy to be popular—except with me."

To Your Good Health Carbon Monoxide A Dangerous Poison

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: My sister lost her husband as a result of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning. Just how long does it take for a person to die from this? Why does a victim change color, or lips swell, as in his case? My sister found him in his car. The coroner said he had been dead from five to six hours.—L.K."

This is one of those letters which depress us—to think that a human life has been sacrificed because of a needless accident. For monoxide poisoning is one of those dangers which can in almost all cases be avoided if only we understand it.

We simply must, all of us, keep permanently in our minds the essential facts that we cannot smell carbon monoxide, nor see it, nor taste it. But we know positively that carbon monoxide will be created whenever anything is burned in a situation in which there is any scarcity of oxygen. Air, that is.

This is true with an automobile, for the only air present when the gasoline burns is the little bit that has been compressed into the engine along with the gasoline vapor.

It is true with a furnace—we "check a fire" by shutting off the draft, meaning that we limit the amount of air reaching the burning coal. A pile of burning leaves or a heap of rubbish will smoulder because not enough air is present at the point where the burning takes place. It doesn't matter what is burning—gas in a hot water heater, oil in a stove, anything that burns in an enclosed place. This we must realize thoroughly.

Tending a pile of burning leaves out in the open, we have plenty of air to breathe and the amount of carbon monoxide is too small in proportion to hurt us. But if the fire (or engine, or furnace or stove or whatever) is in the house, or garage, or any enclosed place, the concentration of monoxide increases swiftly.

How much is harmful? Air with 50 to 100 parts of monoxide in a million parts of air will give most adults a headache in from four to six hours. At 200 per million (one in 5,000) a headache will come in about an hour.

At 4,000 parts per million (which is only 4 per cent) death will come in less than an hour. And at "high" percentages, such as a few per cent, as can happen in a few minutes in a garage, a person can lose consciousness almost at once and death follows in a matter of minutes.

Men can stand a little more than women and children—but this is measuring death in fractions. People who die from a "high" concentration often look pink because of chemical changes in the blood which turns bright red from the carbon monoxide's effect. Those who are unconscious but linger for several hours before death comes, often appear to have "bruises" on arms and legs or elsewhere because the very tiny blood vessels break down and there is a leakage of blood—just as in a real bruise.

As to what caused the swollen lips, I cannot say. Perhaps it was from the above cause. But the important thing remains: The one true way of being safe, in this regard, is to know how carbon monoxide is formed, and where it is likely to collect. Then stay away from it.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that honey is very hard on the kidneys.—S.S."

I know of no such thing. There's no reason why you shouldn't use honey as sweetening if you like it. But I'm getting rather tired of people also asking me what I think about honey, either alone or mixed with things such as vinegar, as a cure for this or that. Honey isn't medicine—it's a good food made by busy bees.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of his leaflet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. Around The Rim

You Name It, They've Got It

Mail order catalogues have been given the sobriquet of "wish books," but they have nothing on the tiny ads that you'll find in your newspaper, magazine and supplements.

Let me cite a few of the things which could satisfy your every want if you merely peruse the ad sections and loosen your purse strings.

You can pick up a 4-inch hand carved chess piece for only $5.98. Or maybe you'd rather have a gadget which will instantly crack an ice cube. You can pick up some Piscine Beauties, fish figurines as I make it out, or some model clipper ships at a bargain rate.

THEN THERE ARE some imported white doves as well as an assortment of pets. A glo-pen will write so you can see it in the dark (better than under water, isn't it?). A see-brella is a transparent parasol. Hammer-toes will straighten out your pinjles and give you relief. Maybe you need a doll clothes sewing kit, or a sack of personalized golf balls, a pair of imported lights, piccolo pencils, cane bottom chairs, virgin olive oil, whole yellow cornmeal, gingerbread house, or a pizza porter to keep your pizza warm.

If you run more to the esthetic you can get rock-bottom prices on silver and gold plating, have an oil portrait done by mail, get some fancy driving gloves, personalized name plates, family trees for hanging portraits, a rustic pine bench that will double as a coffee table, a gusle and bow (a sort of one string fiddle), fancy wine bells, plants or seed for growing

Bird of Paradise flowers, a fireplace bellows, a hearth cricket, fog caddy, a witch broom.

YOU CAN GET a special button that will ease-tight collars and keep your eyes from buging out, or the mildest cocoa butter soap, magnetic hooks, a gadget for counting and wrapping coins, an electric cigarette lighter, lifetime social security card, a magic liquid which somehow magically housebreaks your dog, a sprinkler made to resemble a small waterboy, a contraption that sprays air and a sealant into a flat tire and spare you the back-break of changing the spare.

Then there's the little night light that is supposed to last 100 years (better get this young in order to get your money's worth). You can get a pocket-sized calculator, a cigarette lighter-computer, perpetual calendar, wire loops for keeping paper bags neat, a spray to destroy your refrigerator, a gadget to slip on your closet pole to maintain space between hangers, a personalized den-sur-cup to keep your choppers safely, an escape ladder for your second story room, a mirror that sits upon a sort of music stand contraption, a do-it-yourself kit for painting your own murals.

THERE IS EVEN a money machine. Alas, it is simply a device which helps you keep tab on what you are spending simply by pushing the buttons as you make each purchase in the supermarket or department store. What I'm interested in is a machine that turns out money, not totals, when you mash the button.

Man's Differences In The Holy Land

JERUSALEM, Israel.—In childhood, I developed a firm resolve someday to visit Jerusalem. That determination rested half on Sunday School and half on the long, determined warbling of a thwarted soprano, who lived next door, about the Holy City.

It has taken me a long time to reach the Holy City, only to find at the end of the journey a mixture of exaltation, frustration and exasperation.

THERE IS exaltation walking up the steep slopes of Mount Zion to the spot where tradition says the Last Supper was served and in visiting the church built on the site where the Mother of Jesus lived out the final years of her life and sank into eternal sleep.

But there is only frustration in looking from Mount Zion across to the old, walled city of Jerusalem, toward the Holy Sepulchre, Golgotha and Gethsemane and knowing that it is impossible to bridge the short distance. Jordan, which holds the Old City with its memories and monuments sacred alike to Christian, Jew and Muslim, will allow no tourist to Israel to cross the border.

THE AMERICAN EMBASSY was able to arrange for an American visitor of such eminence as Robert Frost to visit Old Jerusalem, but such exceptions are rare, indeed. The Christian who comes first to Israel and hopes then to go on to Old Jerusalem and to Bethlehem, also in Jordan, must arrange for the Israeli authorities not to stamp his passport.

Then, from Israel, the visitor must fly to Cyprus and, if there is no Israeli stamp in his passport, he is permitted to fly into Jordan to visit the shrines where Christ was born, crucified and buried.

IT IS EVEN MORE difficult for the Jew whose most sacred shrine is the Wailing Wall in Old Jerusalem, the site where Solomon built his temple. He cannot cross the border any more than the Arab, forbidden by his own authorities, can cross into New Jerusalem to visit Muslim holy places.

It is more than exasperating—it is insane that man in the last half of the 20th Century cannot settle his differences to permit men to visit places that are holy to them, no matter what their religious beliefs.

The matted barbed wire, only 75 feet from scene of the Last Supper and the Tomb of King David, is a constant affront and a reminder of violence that should be banished forever from such places.

IT HELPS RESTORE one's faith in man and his sanity that the Gothic room, built by the Crusaders on the site of the Last Supper, is just above a room of identical shape that leads into the Tomb of King David, which by force of circumstance has become to modern Jewry a substitute for the Wailing Wall.

The dull, brown paint and plaster are peeling from the vaulted ceilings of the room built to commemorate the Last Supper, and I could not help but wish for a pall of whitewash and a brush. One of the three windows of the Crusaders' room is now blocked by a white marble Muslim prayer alcove pointing to Mecca and built there in the years of Arab occupation.

THERE IS negotiation now going on toward its removal, but why not leave it? Either men will learn to be brothers or they may well destroy themselves before this century ends.

In the anteroom to the Tomb of King David, a Jewish family was quietly enjoying a "thanksgiving" picnic. Months before, it had come to the tomb to pray for the recovery of a lively little girl of eight who was desperately ill at that time.

Now the family had returned with the child, to celebrate her recovery and to offer prayers of thanksgiving.

Holmes Alexander What's The Real Story Of Cuba?

WASHINGTON — Generals who lost battles during critical periods of the Roman Republic, and the French Revolution, were put to death—not a humanitarian practice, but better than the practice of promoting the losers of cold war battles, as we often do today.

William Arthur Wieland, who headed the State Department's Caribbean-Mexican Division, was one of the commanders in the 1959 Battle of Cuba. His strategy was to get rid of the pro-American dictator Batista, and bring in a better man.

THE STRATEGY followed by Wieland, I am inclined to believe from internal evidence, was partially inspired by Milton Eisenhower, for years never mentioned in newspapers without the expletive "Latin-American expert." The ex-President's brother, like meddlers and zealots since the dawn of history, thought he knew what was best for other people. He seems to have conceived, and certainly he promoted and popularized, the nobler-than-thou idea that we should embrace Latin-American "democrats" but give only the formal handshake to "dictators."

This sounds fine, but idea carries within it the dictatorship concept. It envisions that we pick the leader of another country. It is so un-American in principle that it instantly recommends itself to dishonest, disloyal and dimwitted persons at odds with the American cause.

WE KNOW NOW that the American diplomats who picked Fidel Castro lost this country a major battle. Our recovery from that disaster is not in sight. Indeed, if the worst happens, if Cuba becomes the first of many Latin-American nations to go Communist, if the U. S. A. has to fight a war of liberation for the Western Hemisphere, the decision to pick Castro will become one that literally changed the world—and not for the better.

AND WHAT OF William Wieland, a man very closely connected with this tragic business? Well, he was promoted. In March, 1960, Wieland was raised to the rank of consul general. He told somebody who told me that he expected to be assigned in his new capacity to our diplomatic corps in Switzerland. To that end, Wieland was placed by the State Department in the language school of the Foreign Service Institute at Arlington Towers, Arlington, Virginia.

But Switzerland? Of all places! When we broke off diplomatic relations with Cuba and withdrew Ambassador Bonsal, we asked the Swiss embassy in Havana to look after our interests there. Thus, if Wieland were assigned to Switzerland, he would be, once more, in a position to masterminding our Cuban policy.

THIS DANGER, I am glad to say, has been temporarily suspended. It may be that President Kennedy and his associates are reading the right newspaper columns. In any event, the State Department tells me that William Wieland is still studying German in Arlington, but he has not been assigned to Switzerland or anywhere else. The Kennedy Administration, I am told, is undertaking a full-fledged investigation of the persons and events that relate to the fall of Cuba.

We must not be impatient, but neither need the American people be ashamed of their concern about Cuba. There are newspapers and commentators who make it sound like something shameful to find out why such a battle was lost. But there is every reason why the American people should care enough to find out—and every reason why they should be told. Let the Kennedy Administration, not irresponsibly but with all deliberate speed, tell us about the fall of Cuba.

Attack Stops Train

SEATTLE (AP) — The mandatory "red block" stop signal gleamed ahead down the tracks.

The engineer of the southbound "International" from Vancouver, B. C., braked his train to a stop. Minutes passed. A train crewman was sent ahead.

He found brigetender Ole O. Brokken, 63, of Maryville, fatally stricken with a heart attack.

Broken had opened the bridge for a passing boat on a slough north of here. He was unable to close it completely, and the automatic "red block" signal stopped all trains.

New Home Accessories Have Pleasing Culture

By VIVIAN BROWN

New home furnishings look important, even in lower-priced home accessories, one pleasing feature of the recent International home furnishings show in Chicago. Wall accessories are an example. Cheap prints, gaudy brackets, and planters have been replaced by handsome wood, metal and tile wall accessories in 18th Century, modern or classical designs. Old tavern signs, cookie cutters and silhouette prints are found in Colonial settings. A pair of hand-painted wooden plaques shows old Chinese figures on a background of antique silver leaf. A collection of Danish Modern wall art features a stylized vertical tree with sculptured doves on berry-laden branches; a Viking barge; a set of four trees, representing the seasons. Key and fish still go to the walls. Wood figures are popular wall sculpture. Mirrors include copies of Chippendale and Louis XV designs. A wall planter is in a cornucopia design inspired by a Renaissance original. It is finished in gold leaf. A series of humorous floor planters includes whimsical sculptural figures made of decorated aluminum. Floor coverings feature more floral patterns to complement the trend to Early American and 18th Century furniture. Solid carpet colors include those that will harmonize with this new trend—a red-rust, gold, green and yellow. New rug designs include tapestry weaves and monochromatic designs. Area rugs continue to be popular, and new techniques have made strong advances. Tuft-dyed multi-colored patterns in broadloom are made possible by forcing the tufts into shaped dyewells of a pattern mold. Hard floor coverings are growing in stature. The planks and squares of oak, oak, cherry and walnut vinyl are dressed lumber-deep, shaded into random striations to give the appearance of real wood. One flooring and style topping is in Byzantine style tile art forms. Lamp designs follow the Early American, Italian Classical and Modern theme. Classic forms of bottles, vases and urns are lamps. Ceramic bases in brown and rusted are hand decorated with patterns of fruit or abstract themes. Post, banister-turned and candlestick shapes are in antique finishes to harmonize with Early American designs. Lamps for patios, gardens and entryways, designed by George Nelson, include a hanging beehive design, a pyramid-shaped hood on a table-like frame recommended for lighting paths.

Kentwood WSCS Makes Reports

Reports on the Northwest Texas Women's Conference were made at Monday's meeting of Kentwood Methodist WSCS with Mrs. C. W. Farmer. Mrs. Raymond Hamby conducted the business session. Plans to attend a district meeting in Midland April 25 were made. The program, which was the first lesson on Basic Christian Beliefs, was presented by Mrs. Cliff Hale. Assisting were Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. Weldon Nuckols and Mrs. Frank Arner. Mrs. S. C. Dunn dismissed the 12 members present with a prayer. Hostess for the next meeting, April 10, will be Mrs. Dunn, 1901 Alabama.

Faculty Ma'ams Plan Picnic

Faculty Ma'ams met with Mrs. L. L. Lewis Tuesday with 18 members present. Plans for the annual picnic in April were made, and it was announced that the social committee of HCJC faculty will make the decorations. The picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Bruce Frazier. Final plans will be made at the April 25 meeting with Mrs. Paul Vagt, 606 George.

Banquet Planned By Baptist WMS

Preparations for a junior-senior banquet were made by members of the Baptist Temple WMS, Tuesday morning, at the church when all circles met for a business session. The banquet, a courtesy for the church young people, will be served April 21. Mrs. Jim Leath offered the opening prayer, after which reports were presented by various chairmen. Mrs. Otto Couch dismissed the group of 13 with a prayer.

Methodist WSCS Continues Study

Wesley Methodist WSCS met yesterday at the church for a continuation of the study, "Basic Christian Beliefs," by Mrs. Royce Womack. Mrs. Paul Mosley gave the devotion. Also on the program was Mrs. Rita Prater. A question and answer session was led by Mrs. Womack with 15 members present.

FORUM UNITS

Community Improvement Interest Of Local Clubs

The community was the topic of study for forum units Tuesday, with the master plan explained for one group and the other members interested in the school for exceptional children.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S FORUM

Continuing their study of Big Spring, members of the Junior Woman's Forum met in the conference room at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon. Their speaker was Marvin Springer of Dallas, who discussed the master plan for the city, and told the group that the growth of Big Spring has been about 35 per cent in the last decade. The increase offered opportunities for the city, he remarked, and recounted the items needed now for the improvement such as thoroughfares to connect the community; the correct plan for the settlement of residential, hospital and school land, and the importance of improved housing and the downtown section. Citizens should be informed of needs and should work to keep neighborhoods improved, he stated; assistance in the development and maintaining of parks and playgrounds is needed, as it helps with the welfare program. With the master plan interested in the physical aspect of growth and the various clubs working for the social element, a combined effort can be made on the part of both, the speaker reminded his listeners, for the good of all concerned. Hostesses for the gathering were Mrs. Bob Newton and Mrs. Jackie Touchstone. Guests were Mrs. Don Williams, Mrs. Joe Wright, Mrs. R. R. McCann and Mrs. Bob Darland. Mrs. Ernest Welch announced that the executive board will meet in her home, 605 Bucknell, at 1:30 p.m., April 6. The next meeting of the forum will be a tour of Cosden Refinery, with members meeting at 1:30 p.m. April 11, at the refinery's personnel office.

SPOUDAZIO FORA

Members of the Spoudazio Fora were reminded of Thursday's Easter egg hunt for the exceptional school children at Tuesday's meeting with Mrs. Bill Lansing and Mrs. Charles Lusk, cohostesses. Club members will furnish baskets and eggs for the small children at the school and cupcakes and punch will be served to the older children. The hunt will be at Birdwell Park. Mrs. Ennis Cochran, president, reported on the district convention held last week, and Mrs. Oliver Cofer gave a program, "Because Women Care," stressing the importance of the home in interesting children in community affairs. Members were encouraged to investigate the elections on the local level and try to find out why there are no voting booths for local elections. Mrs. Ben Erwin won the door prize.

Mrs. Stell Is Honoree For Coffee

Friends gathered Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Akin Simpson to say their farewells to Mrs. Glenn Stell, who will leave soon for Italy, where Col. Stell will be stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

Fruit cups were served from a tea cart, with coffee and other refreshments on a table centered with a model of an F-105, plane of Col. Stell's squadron, and spring blossoms.

An orchid corsage was presented to the honoree by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Chris Watson and Mrs. Odell Womack in receiving guests.

At the coffee table were Mrs. Clifford Bray, Mrs. J. E. Hogan and Mrs. Henry Victor, who alternated in serving the 35 guests.

Making Jewel Box Is Demonstrated For Forsan Club

A demonstration on making jewel cases from cigar boxes and shell macaroni was given for members of the Forsan Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. G. Patton.

As a roll call, members described a room they would like to add to their homes. Mrs. Patton presented the devotion for 15 members and 2 guest, Mrs. J. M. Wright of Durban.

At the next meeting, April 11, the group will meet at 10 a.m. at the Forsan club house for an all-day session and workshop. The affair, to which all women are invited, will be a covered dish luncheon, with work done in plastics and making flowers.

Bridal Shower For Mrs. Page

The Pages were wed March 11 at Villa Acuna, Mexico. Mrs. Page attended Big Spring High School, and the bridegroom was graduated from high school in Tennessee. Currently he is employed with Homan Service Station.

Cake and punch were served to the guests, all classmates of the bride. Green and blue decorations were used.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Burns, 1526 E. 17th, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Page, Cottonwood Trailer Park.

Rebekahs Initiate New Member

A candlelight ceremony initiated Mrs. Beulah Crabtree into the Rebekah degree at the John A. Kee Rebekah meeting held Tuesday night. Hostesses were Mrs. T. F. Horton and Mrs. Ted Brown.

James C. Lamar was introduced as grand officer of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas. He was elected as grand messenger at the grand lodge in San Antonio, Mrs. Gladys Burnham, past noble grand, was a guest from Freedom Rebekah Lodge, Freedom, Okla.

Resolutions of respect were read for Mrs. G. E. May, mother of Mrs. Ollie McDaniel; and Mrs. Mamie Schubert, mother of Mrs. Homer Petty.

B&PW Club Director Speaks Here

Mrs. Claudia Hazelwood of Midland was speaker for the Business and Professional Women's Club at a dinner meeting held Tuesday evening in the Settles Hotel.

The speaker is director of District 8; her topic was a discussion of the duties of the public affairs committee. Telling the group that each member should be considered on that committee, she encouraged a more intensive campaign to get all votes to the polls during elections.

Edith Gay offered the invocation for the dinner, served at tables in an Easter theme. Awards of membership certificates were presented to new members of the group.

Hostesses for the affair were the public affairs committee, headed by Ruth Dyer. A guest was Fannie Taylor of Midland.

City Commission Backs Police Chief, Delays Dance Permit

The several occasions on which violations of this ordinance and other ordinances have been reported and observed would indicate that a delay in issuing the permit is best. The commission agreed with the chief and instructed Mendoza to acquaint himself with all provisions of the ordinance.

Mendoza had asked for a permit to permit dancing at his cafe, following its enlargement recently. Chief Banks told the commission, and presented police records, that he felt the records were not of such nature as to justify the permit now.

of a proposed "Big Spring Professional Center," which he said he planned to build on Johnson Street at 8th, said he believed that Johnson Street and others paralleling it to the south of the business area, should not be zoned commercial. "I don't think Big Spring will ever be big enough to justify the size lots and type construction suggested, I think you dream the area when you put in that kind of zoning. I believe the commission should have control over the kind of business put in, but also believe that the area I have mentioned should be kept in commercial zoning area."

Small Hope For Magee

There appeared small hope today that Lt. R. W. Magee, one of those aboard a C-47 transport plane which went down over rebel territory in Laos, survived the crash. The plane was said to have been shot down, and unofficial reports indicated that only Maj. Lawrence R. Bailey of Laurel, M. D., may have survived.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

New Attire Added To Baseball Scene

Three teams will be sporting new attire in the American League this season—due to the expansion to 10 teams. They are the Minnesota Twins, Los Angeles Angels and the Washington Senators. Washington is a new setup because last year's team moved to the twin cities of Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Here are the official insignia and uniforms for each of the three teams:

baseball players, one with M on right sleeve, other with letters ST. P. on blouse, shaking hands across river; superimposed on baseball and outline of state of Minnesota. Uniform—home, white with navy blue pin stripe; Twins in script across chest in navy blue with scarlet trim; twin insignia on left sleeve. Road uniforms gray, otherwise same as home; cap navy blue with white T superimposed with a red C; solid navy blue socks.

High style letters with blue border. Solid navy blue socks. Road uniforms gray with navy blue letters "Los Angeles" with scarlet stripe.

Redhead Still Thinks He Can Maintain Pace

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A fellow asked Red Schoendienst what he was trying to prove.

"Is it the money?" the guy asked. "Is it your pride? You're 38. Only two years ago you were in a hospital battling tuberculosis. You haven't played 50 full games in the last two years. You've put 19 years in the game, 16 at top speed in the big leagues. Don't you think you've had it?"

If the freckle-faced veteran, once the finest second-baseman in the game, was annoyed by these blunt, searching questions, he gave no sign.

"I feel I haven't had it," he said today. "I think I can still play ball. I may not be able to play every day and I'm not as fast as I used to be, but I know I can help the Cardinals."

Schoendienst appeared in only 68 games last year, a majority of them as a part time performer. He batted a career low .257, with only 11 extra base hits. His fielding percentage was next to the lowest among the second basemen in 50 or more games. Wasn't that an indication that he might be all washed up?

"I don't think so," said Red. "I feel I could have done better had I played more. The manager just didn't have any confidence in me. He couldn't forget that I had been ill."

"I'm ready for the firing line. When the season opens, I'll be out there swinging."

Perhaps the best player the Steers faced on the trip south was Robert Zamora, who came on as a relief hurler for South San Antonio.

Zamora is better known as a basketball player. He "bums that pea" in baseball, as the local boys who had to face him will attest.

The Saturday night TV fights, which now can be seen over the Midland station, will be continued at least until September, 1962. A new contract was recently negotiated between ABC-TV, Madison Square Garden and the sponsoring firm (Gillette).

I, for one, would like to see the annual Howard College Basketball Tournament start on a Tuesday or Wednesday and end on a Friday night. It usually winds up on a Saturday.

The meet is timed for the Christmas holidays. A lot of the holiday tournaments are now being scheduled for the middle of the week.

Texas A&M recently joined the All-College Basketball Tournament field, which is held in Oklahoma City annually, and will be one of three Texas schools competing there. The other two: Houston and Texas Christian.

White Sox Hill Staff Looks To Advantage

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox pitching staff, which cost the club the American League pennant last year according to Manager Al Lopez, is fast erasing the memory of the senior's worst finish in 11 years as a major league skipper.

Southpaw Billy Pierce wiped out another hunk Tuesday in a 3-1 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers as he limited the National Leaguers to two hits in a six-inning workout and became the fourth White Sox starter in succession to hurl low-hit ball.

Pierce's performance followed similar outings by Early Wynn, Frank Baumann and Herb Score — key members of the mound corps that also includes such proven holdovers as Bob Shaw, Turk Lown and Gerry Staley, along with newcomers Cal McLish and Juan Pizarro.

The pitching must do it for the 1959 pennant-winners, says Lopez, who blames last year's, third-place finish on the staff. "We led the league in batting, fielding and stolen bases," says the senior. "So, it must have been the pitching."

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have lost ace right-hander Larry Jackson for at least a month with a fractured jaw, got a boost when replacement Al Ciochetti combined with Art Kay and Mickey McDerott to shut out Milwaukee 1-0 on four hits.

Pittsburgh right-hander Bob Friend also turned in an outstanding job as he went the distance, scattering eight hits in a 9-2 triumph over the New York Yankees and gaining a measure of revenge for the two losses he suffered in last year's World Series.

In other games, San Francisco edged Boston 2-1, Minnesota nipped Philadelphia 3-2, Baltimore beat Kansas City 8-7 in 11 innings, and Washington whipped the Reds and Cleveland 7-5. The Cleveland-Los Angeles game was rained out.

Roy Sievers drove in two White Sox runs and that was all Pierce needed to snap the Dodgers' seven-game winning streak. Jim Gilliam accounted for the Los Angeles run with a single in the seventh.

A single by Hal Smith, an error and Bill White's wind-blown double in the fifth brought across the game's only score as the Cards whipped the Braves with the unearned tally. Carl Willey and Don McMahon spun a six-hitter for Milwaukee.

Dick Stuart's homer with one aboard and Roberto Clemente's solo shot gave Friend the support he required while becoming the first Pirate pitcher to go the route. Roger Maris homered for the Yankees, mired in the exhibition cellar with a 6-13 record.

Home runs by Bob Schmidt and Felipe Alou backed Sam Jones' three-hit pitching in a seven-inning stint for the Giants' victory over the Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew's one-on-one round tripper in the ninth brought the Twins from behind against the Phils.

Ron Hansen's fourth single drove in the clincher for the Orioles in their extra-inning struggle with the A's. Homers by Steve Beres, Rocky Colavito and Harry Chitt powered the Tigers to their win over the Reds, who got circuit blasts from Ed Kasko and Wally Pate.

Gene Woodling's sacrifice fly chased across the winning tally in the eighth inning as the Senators edged the Reds B squad.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Umpires toiling in last week's Uvalde High School Baseball tournament, some of whom were active in the Soph League, said no entry showed the hustle that Big Spring did.

That, understandably, made coach Roy Baird feel proud. He feels like his horsehide gang is coming around just in time for the District 2-AAAA race. The Steers may yet be heard from.

The arbiters were particularly laudatory about the effort made by Jerry Tucker when Jerry worked behind the plate for the Steers. If all baseball players used Jerry's interesting approach toward the game, baseball would be a more interesting sport. He and South San Antonio's Leonard Sanchez (who socked the homerun that beat Big Spring in the second game) drew praise as the best catchers among those present for the tournament.

Baseball tournaments have grown very popular in that section of the state and should be tried in this area. Baird would be tempted to stage one, if Big Spring had more than one diamond. Snyder, with three playing fields, perhaps would be West Texas' most likely spot for such a meet.

Baird is already making plans to take his 1962 team back to the Uvalde meet. Housing was furnished for the athletes and the local school wasn't out very much money on the trip. The kids reacted to the challenge, too, and played very creditable baseball.

Perhaps the best player the Steers faced on the trip south was Robert Zamora, who came on as a relief hurler for South San Antonio.

Zamora is better known as a basketball player. He "bums that pea" in baseball, as the local boys who had to face him will attest.

On March 18, racing fans at Sunland Park were treated to a rare finish when W. C. Tompkin's Novafan won the Cleveland Recreation Center Allowance, the co-feature on the ten-race program.

The order of finish coincided in exact order with saddle cloth numbers worn by the six entered. The only number missing was No. 6, assigned to Teda Neal—which was scratched.

DEAR ABBY

Mature Help Is Needed

DEAR ABBY: My son is only 17 but he is big for his age. He is running around with a woman who is far too old for him. She has given him money, bought him gifts, and lets him drive her car. Is it any wonder he thinks she is wonderful?

A young man. Last night he went out with a married woman (she has two small children), and they went parking. He says he had to find out if he still loved her. He came back and told me he didn't love her any more and he loved me. He promised not to see her again, but he lies so much, how can I believe him?

I would like to write to her husband (he is overseas) and tell him what his wife is doing to him, but I hate to hurt their children. Should I get in touch with this woman and tell her if she doesn't keep her hands off my fiance she will have to answer to me? Should I write to her husband? Or should I forget the whole thing?

IN DEEP

DEAR WORRIED: You obviously have no control over your son, so perhaps a mature friend, relative or pastor will come to your rescue. The woman should be investigated. There could be legal as well as moral involvements. If the woman is guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

DEAR IN: DON'T get in touch with the woman. DON'T write to her husband. But DO yourself a big favor and give your fiance the gate. He sounds like a shifty character and the worst kind of husband material.

DEAR ABBY: What does a girl need to have friends besides beauty, personality, brains, clothes, talent, poise and charm? COOKIE

CONFIDENTIAL: TO "DOWN AND OUT": You may be "down" but if you can write, you are not "out." Wander into an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting. There will be no questions asked, and you will meet the most wonderful people in the world—those who are trying to regain their self-respect.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Love Those Exemptions When The Tax Man Calls

EDITOR'S NOTE: The biggest break an income taxpayer gets when it comes time to shell out for Uncle Sam is something called exemptions. Every taxpayer has at least one and some have many more. This is the third of five articles, explains exemptions and may help you find some that you have missed.

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Staff Writer

The people who caused you financial woes in 1960 are apt to prove a blessing at income tax time.

If you strained the family budget to support a mother-in-law, or worried about financing a child's education, this is the season for claiming dollars-and-cents relief from Uncle Sam. Each of these financial problems now becomes a $600 exemption.

The exemption is the biggest tax-cutting device of all. Each one places $600 of income beyond the reach of the tax collector.

You can claim one for yourself and one for each of your dependents. Be sure to study the rules carefully, however, because someone you regard as a dependent might not qualify under the law.

First of all, each taxpayer gets at least one exemption for himself. And a taxpayer who was 65 or older on or before Jan. 1, 1961, can claim a second. Any blind taxpayer is entitled to still another.

On a joint return, you also get an exemption for your husband or wife—two if your mate is 65 or older.

Others who may qualify as exemptions on your return are your children, members of your household (not counting servants) and dependent relatives. They must meet these five tests:

- 1. Have received more than half their total support from you.
2. Not have filed a joint return for 1960 with their husband or wife.
3. Be a citizen of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama or the Canal Zone. This does not apply if an alien child is adopted by and living with a U. S. citizen abroad.
4. Either have been a member of your household for the entire tax year or be related to you, or to your husband or wife if you file jointly.
5. Have received less than $600 in total reportable income during 1960.

The fifth requirement sometimes doesn't apply in the case of your children, stepchildren or legally adopted children. You may claim one exemption for each of these regardless of his or her income.

Air Force Plans To Draft Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force needs 250 doctors. And for the first time since 1957 the Defense Department plans to call on the draft to get the physicians.

The Pentagon said Monday the draft call was made necessary by the failure of this year's intern group to volunteer for active duty, beginning in July 1961, in sufficient numbers to meet the requirements of the military medical service.

provided the youngster was under 19 for the entire tax year or was a fulltime student.

A student, under the tax laws, is one who was enrolled fulltime in an educational institution or certain institutional on-farm training courses for at least five months during 1960.

The value of any scholarship can be ignored in figuring whether you provided more than half the total support of a son or daughter who was a student. However, you must take into account benefits under the GI Bill.

Relatives who may be claimed as exemptions, even though they're not members of your household, are: mother, father, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother, sister, stepbrother, step-sister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepmother, stepfather, grandparents, grandchildren and, if related by blood, aunt, uncle, niece or nephew.

Sometimes several members of a family pool their resources to provide more than half the support of a relative. This often happens when a widowed mother divides her time among her sons and daughters spending part of the year with each.

Although no one person provides more than half the support in many such cases, each may take a turn claiming an exemption if:

- 1. The supported person meets the five tests of a dependent, except no one person provides more than half the support.
2. The person claiming the exemption contributes more than 10 per cent of the dependent's support.
3. Each other person in the contributing group files a statement with the Internal Revenue Service, on form No. 2120, declaring that he or she is not claiming the same exemption for the same year. Statements must be filed with the return of the person getting the exemption.

Tomorrow: Your deductions.

Maverick Identifies Self With Great Texas Liberals

Editor's Note—This is one of a series on the most active candidates in the April 4 Senate race.

By JOE BENHAM
SAN ANTONIO (AP) — When Maury Maverick Jr. announced for the Senate in December, he called it a liberal vs. conservative fight and said he expected to face Republican John Tower in the runoff.

Three months and thousands of miles of campaigning haven't changed the mind of the bachelor lawyer and former state representative of either issue.

"These are indeed perilous times," Maverick, 40, said in an interview. "The world is turned upside down, and namby-pamby, middle-of-the-road thinking cannot save America."

"I stand with the great liberals of Texas — Sam Houston, Jim Hogg and Jimmy Allred."

In his fast-moving campaign, Maverick mentions Houston, Hogg and Allred often in his speeches, along with Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson and Woodrow Wilson, saying he draws inspiration from the careers of all of them.

His most frequent references to Democratic leaders come at the beginning and end of his speeches, which total as many as 16 per day, when he tells his listeners "I'm a Franklin D. Roosevelt - Ralph Yarborough - John Kennedy Democrat."

Maverick says he is the only candidate who has endorsed wholeheartedly all of the major proposals in President Kennedy's New Frontier program.

Support of the administration is the major issue in the campaign, Maverick says.

"Help me to help Jack Kennedy," has become the rallying cry of his campaign.

The stocky, direct Maverick says he believes he and Tower will be in the runoff after the April 4 balloting, with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson or interim Sen. William Blakley of Dallas third.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

The Piano Teachers Forum is planning a piano festival May 6, apparently the first of its kind here.

Two judges will work throughout the day, a Saturday, winnowing the expected 100 or more contestants, and narrowing the field down to two prizes with ribbons.

The judges will be from college music departments, and remain to be selected.

Winners in the contest will be presented in a special recital the following week.

The festival will be held in the auditorium and music building at HCCJ. Deadline for entries is April 1.

There is a reported shortage of piano teachers in Big Spring. In earlier years, as far as this writer can determine, there was no major lack in this field.

It may not, however, be so much a shortage of teachers as an increase in would-be pupils. The community is more musical-minded, according to some of the presently busy instructors.

Another partial explanation might be in the fact that nearly all piano teachers are women, most of them are married and most of those have children. More women are married and rearing families these days than in previous decades, generally. Thus, the teachers must limit their hours more.

Several piano teachers report a

Student Riots Stop, Resort Owners Angry

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Vacationing collegians stopped rioting, but ocean-front resort owners fumed today that restrictions on them also were stifling business.

City authorities—thankful for a breather in mob action—contemplated asking Gov. Farris Bryant to help turn back some of the Eastern vacation student crowd still to arrive. Mayor Edward Johns said the City Commission may ask Bryant to have Florida State University and University of Florida officials urge their students to stay away from Fort Lauderdale when classes break Thursday.

A five-block outdoor dance, organized with city help, kept perhaps one-tenth of the 25,000 collegians here occupied Tuesday night.

Even so, police collared 150 for public drinking or disorderly behavior. They will have their day in two simultaneous sessions of municipal court, already clogged with cases from Sunday and Monday.

No crowd disorders occurred Tuesday night. Police kept every-one moving on the hotel and night club-studded beach strip and screened everyone traveling there from downtown.

The ocean-front area presented a strange sight of thousands of college boys and girls sauntering up and down the pavement, barred from the darkened beach itself and unable or unwilling to patronize the luxury resorts that line it.

Police used nightsticks and loud speakers to prod along any strollers who wouldn't move on.

"Keep moving and keep your mouth shut," blared over one police horn.

Fatally Injured

BEAUMONT (AP) — Richard Watson, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Watson of China, was fatally injured Tuesday when he was struck by a truck as he toddled across U.S. 90 at nearby Nome.

Michigan Puts Hell On Its Map

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Highway Department shows the tiny community of Hell on its official maps this year for the first time.

"We decided to put Hell on the map because so many persons wrote asking where it was and how they could get there," said Commissioner John C. Mackie.

It's about 15 miles southwest of Howell in southeastern Michigan. The department also recommended motorists visit Paradise, about 50 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

Mass Services For Fire Victims

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mass services will be held here Friday for the 12 members of one family who died when a pre-dawn fire destroyed their home in the nearby Dotsonville community.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Whitehead, their nine children and Mrs. Whitehead's father, Albert Gibbs, who lived with the Whiteheads. The children ranged in age from 13 years to nine months.
