ONE-WAY STREETS DISCUSSED
Traffic Commission hears the pros and cons

Both Opposition, Praise At 1-Way Street Hearing

About 75 residents, most of them downtown businessmen, were on hand for Thursday's public hearing on one-way streets. Of those attending the meeting in city auditorium, 22 spoke out against the system and 12 spoke in favor of it.

Following about two hours of comments, opinions, and reasons by those attending, Traffic Commission Chairman George Oldham said the commission would weigh the results of a mail survey with the results of a mail survey, then make a recommendation to the city commission at its April 25 meeting.

Oldham opened the meeting with a short history of one-way streets in Big Spring, pointing out the number of meetings which have been held previously and the results. He said a mail survey conducted in 52 per cent opposed to one-way traffic and 48 per cent favoring it.

He encouraged everyone attending the hearing to speak out on the matter and about half of them did. One development was that several businessmen opposing the system, suggested that one-way streets might work in Big Spring, but not in its present form.

J. R. Stanley commented that he believed the commission was trying to help downtown, but the present one-way system has not helped. He mentioned it might be extended, if it is kept at all.

Darrell Wright said his customers complain of the confusing streets, especially those from out of town. This same comment was made by several businessmen.

Sam Burns reported that his business is completely stymied by the system. D. W. Jones echoed the report about confusion, pointing to the difficulty of reaching the T&P railroad station.

H. B. Clay said the new system did not help his business. Roy Bruce pointed out that the system, as presently installed, is a detriment to downtown.

Many of those speaking against the system suggested changing certain streets to go the other way. This was mentioned regarding Scurry and Runnels. Some criticized the safety factor of meeting head-on traffic where one-way street merges with a two-way street, for instance at 3th and Runnels.

John Currie spoke in favor of the system. He said he had heard a minimum of complaints and that most customers favor the change. He said it had been very beneficial on 2nd St. and in the post office area.

Thelma Montgomery said the system turned out to be good and that it is much easier to find parking downtown now. She said

If You Don't Have Your Inspection Tag, Be Wary

Several thousand motorists in Howard County had better drive with a wary eye out for highway patrol officers, policemen and deputy sheriffs come Sunday.

If they spot such officials, it would be wise for them to go "way round."

These are the car owners who have neglected to acquire the required 1961 safety inspection stickers for their automobiles. Deadlines for attaching such stickers falls on Saturday and at last report there were four or five thousand cars in this county which had not been so equipped.

Assuming that a majority of those who were delinquent at that time have made amends since, it is reasonable to believe that a considerable number still are stickerless.

Saturday is the last day. Sunday, the officials will begin checking cars for 1961 stickers. Those found without will be duly checked out and their owners will have an opportunity to tell the judge about it. Talk with the judge, it was warned, is usually expensive.

A grand rush of belated motorists to get their inspections is expected at the numerous official inspection stations in the county on Saturday. The fee for the inspection is $1. If it is found on inspection, that brakes are faulty, lights out of kilter or other safety factors not functioning, the stamps will not be attached until these repairs are made.

Eichmann Aide To Demand West German 'Protection'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's defense attorney said today he would demand that the West German government "protect" the former Gestapo colonel from the judgment of Israel's right to judge Eichmann on charges of having major part in the mass murder of Jews under Hitler, defense counsel Robert Servatius declared.

"Eichmann has a claim against the German state to protect him. If the state remains impassive, he can sue the state and he will do that."

Servatius warned the special Israeli court trying Eichmann that "intervention is still possible" by West Germany in the case.

The chief defense counsel made the statement as he heatedly contended that Eichmann should be tried by a German court. He asserted that appropriate German courts and laws are available to handle the case and denied that Eichmann came freely to Israel to stand trial.

ARGUMENTS END

Servatius' announcement came after he and Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner made their concluding arguments on the right of the Israeli court to try Eichmann with the prosecutor refuting the defense challenge.

The fifth session of the trial lasted only an hour and 45 minutes and then recessed over the weekend.

Supreme Justice Moshe Landau, who is presiding over the special court of three Israeli judges, announced that its decision—on whether it is competent to try Eichmann—would be delivered Monday.

Eichmann, wartime chief of the Jewish affairs section of the Nazi Gestapo, is charged with responsibility in the death of six million Jews during World War II and other crimes.

After long hours of discussion on disputed points in international law, the proceedings suddenly exploded into high drama when Servatius rose to reply to Hausner.

GERMAN TRIAL

Servatius came quickly to the question of trying Eichmann in West Germany.

He said that relations between West Germany and Israel "are cordial and friendly."

But then he said: "Intervention is still possible and may still arise at any stage of this trial."

"The accused has a claim for protection and for intervention from his country."

Justice Landau broke in to ask, "Is he a German citizen?"

"Yes," Servatius replied.

"No," Servatius answered. "His father gave up his Austrian citizenship."

Servatius returned to the attack on the competence of the Israeli court on two other points:

1. The assertion that Eichmann was kidnapped in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and did not come to Israel of his own free will.
2. That the order for the kidnapping "was done by order of the Israeli government."

SHARP RETORT

This latter claim brought Hausner to his feet with a quick and sharp rejoinder.

"The prime minister (David Ben-Gurion) told the Knesset (Parliament) that Eichmann was arrested by members of the security forces of the state," Hausner said.

Judge Benjamin Halevy broke in to say, however, "The security forces revealed the place where the accused was found, and nothing more."

Servatius then demanded that the two employees of the Israeli airline, El Al, be brought to court to testify about the circumstances of Eichmann's removal from Argentina to Israel. They are Yehudi (Jack) Shimon, chief of operations; and Zvi Tohar, who allegedly piloted the plane. The court has placed both men on notice that they may be summoned to the hearings.

State Gives Up Fight On Gas Severance Tax

Welch Sees JFK As Soft On Reds

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Robert Welch, head of the John Birch Society, says President Kennedy appears "less a captive of Communist influences" than former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"Kennedy has done many things considered soft on communism in a political way, such as his speech as a U.S. senator in support of the Communist-controlled Algerian rebels. I was sorry to see anyone in our government take such a stand," Welch said.

In 1957, Kennedy made a Senate speech critical of French policies in Algeria and U.S. support of those policies. He urged that the United States use its influence "in shaping a course toward political independence for Algeria."

Kennedy was a Democratic senator from Massachusetts then.

"No amount of mutual politeness, wishy thinking, nostalgia or regret should blind either France or the United States to the fact that, if France and the West at-large are to have continuing influence in North Africa—and I certainly favor a continuation of French influence in that area—then the essential first step is the independence of Algeria along the lines of Morocco and Tunisia," Kennedy told the Senate in the 1957 speech.

Welch appeared on a local TV panel show to end his Southern California stay. He refused permission to have the taped program shown on networks. He said the society would have no control over fragments taken out of context.

Welch said he opposes efforts to form a third party.

"We have no interest in a third party," he said. "I refused to go out to a meeting in Chicago because of the third party overtones to it."

He emphasized, however, that the third-party advocates convening in Chicago includes many "good" people with good purposes.

Welch said he supported Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for the 1960 presidential nomination. But he said the society has never "taken any position in politics nor intends to take any."

He refused to single out persons in government he considers Communist sympathizers.

Daughter Tells Of Death At Cooley Hearing

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — "You're going to watch me kill her, Melody. If you don't I'll kill all of us."

Spade Cooley's daughter, Melody, 14, on the verge of tears, so testified at an inquest Thursday in the slaying of her mother, Ella Mae Cooley.

Cooley, 50, onetime Western bandleader star of television, is held on suspicion of murder. A coroner's jury of nine men took only 11 minutes to find Cooley responsible for the April 3 slaying.

Cooley, sitting in a wheel chair, bowed his head and shuddered as his daughter told how she saw her father pull the nude body of her mother from a shower at the Cooley ranch home.

Melody said she watched in terror as her father pounded her mother's head against the floor, stomped on her stomach and put out a burning cigarette on her mother's flesh, saying: "We'll just see if you're dead."

Melody said she ran from the house after her father made improper advances to her.

Cooley has been held in the prison ward hospital for a heart condition. After the brief hearing, his attorney, Morris B. Chain, said: "He was definitely insane at the time of the crime."

County pathologist Dr. Robert W. Huntington testified: "While death could have been caused by stomping there is a good deal of evidence of forceful strangulation."

Sheriff's deputies charge Cooley beat and stomped his wife to death after accusing her of infidelity.

Supreme Court Appeal Hopeless

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said today the state will not attempt to salvage the natural gas pipeline tax by an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The tax, labeled the severance beneficiary tax, has been held unconstitutional by all state courts including decisions this month by the state Supreme Court.

"After careful study of legal questions involved, I have concluded that an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court from the decision of our Texas courts declaring the severance beneficiary tax on natural gas unconstitutional has no chance of being successful," Wilson said in a statement.

"The U.S. Supreme Court is bound by the construction placed upon a Texas statute by the Texas Supreme Court. In view of this I cannot in good faith expend further state funds and the time of our office in perfecting what appears to be a useless appeal."

The success of the test cases filed against the 1959 tax means the loss of $15 million a year to the state in revenue. The tax was challenged by Transcontinental Pipeline Corp., Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., and about 80 other firms that paid the tax under protest.

The levy called for a 1 1/2 per cent tax on the market value per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas at the wellhead. The tax was to be paid by the last taker of gas or severance beneficiary, usually the pipeline companies.

Taxes paid under protest according to the act will be returned to the companies but the details will have to be worked out later between the state and the firms.

Salazar Is 5th Fatality

Clemente Salazar, 37, of Elmoreford, became the fifth traffic fatality of 1961 in Howard County when he died Thursday evening in a local hospital.

He had been in critical condition since he was injured in an automobile accident on North U.S. 87, about 18 miles from Big Spring, Sunday morning.

He was born in Elmoreford on July 23, 1923 and at one time lived in Lamesa for two years. Mrs. Salazar and his family were living in Elmoreford at the time of the accident.

The body was taken to San Antonio by River Funeral Home for funeral services and burial.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Dominga Salazar, Elmoreford; two sons, Rosende and Crisosta; two daughters, Linda and Angella; three brothers and three sisters.

Losers Contest Coahoma Vote

COAHOMA (SC)—Three defeated candidates in the April 4 election protested the legality of the election at a council meeting here Thursday night.

The protest was made by Lawrence Abernethy, defeated candidate for mayor, and Clifton Harrison and Travis Greenfield, losers in the alderman race. Mayor W. C. Hutchins said the matter would be turned over to Gil Jones, district attorney.

Election returns were canvassed at the meeting and W. C. Hutchins was declared re-elected mayor; Robert Miller re-elected alderman, and Paul Allen declared winner over former-alderman Fred Adams.

Other matters discussed were the opening of a street in the Saunders Addition and financial attendance to the volunteer fire department for an attendance award. The council decided against opening the street.

Grace Plant Overpass Set

An overpass, estimated to cost $55,000, will be the first construction project in connection with the W. R. Grace & Co., new ammonia plant to be built near Coaden refinery.

Howard County Commissioners' Court, in company with officials of the Coaden Petroleum Corp., conferred Friday on the projected overpass. The county owns a part of the land on which some of the fill for the overpass will have to be built.

The commissioners and the Coaden officials were working out an agreement to clear the way for the overpass to start as quickly as possible.

It was indicated that the Grace interests are eager to get work started on the overpass as quickly as possible.

The road will lead north from U. S. 80 into the site of the new plant. It will cross the T&P lines near the northwest corner of the Coaden refinery.

Russians Go Wild Over Spaceman

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow took Soviet government has been fulfilled.

"The world's first manned space flight took place April 12. All the technical systems worked well, and I felt fine."

"I am ready to fulfill any new tasks for the homeland."

The short, pudgy Soviet leader wrapped his bulky arms around the hero—who is only about the same height—kissed him squarely on the mouth, and then several times to the right and left of the mouth.

More kisses followed, this time from Gagarin's wife, Valentina, smartly dressed in a fur-collared coat and a fashionable blue spring hat, from his plump, beaming mother, Anna, a wooden shawl over her head, and from his father, Alexei, who looked as if he'd stepped from a Chekhov play, in a dark blue overcoat, a blue worker's cap, and walking with a stick. The father broke into tears.

Speaking to the cheering thousands jamming Red Square, Gagarin gave his first thanks to the Communist party for giving him the "opportunity to carry out the first flight into space."

"As I was about to be launched into space," he added, "I was thinking about the party, the people and my country."

Soviet Union's new hero to the most honored spot in the Soviet Union, the top of the Lenin-Stalin tomb. With members of the ruling presidium around them, they waved to the cheering thousands jamming the square.

Flown to Moscow from an unidentified airfield near the landing point of his space flight, Gagarin stood to attention before his premier, saluted and reported completion of his mission and his readiness for new orders.

"Comrade, first secretary of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, chairman of the council of ministers of the U.S.S.R.," he said, "I am happy to report that the task assigned by the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the

Tax Returns Filtering In

A lot of letters addressed to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, were being dropped into the mail slots at the post office Friday.

A lot more, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, says, will be deposited in the mails on Saturday.

Technically, Saturday is the final date to dispatch income tax returns to the Dallas office of the Internal Revenue service. Actually, because April 15 falls on Saturday, the taxpayer has until Monday without getting into a federal jam.

However it appears that not too many taxpayers are aware that the extra days are in effect so the rush to get the letters in the mail by midnight April 15 is definitely in effect.

Boatler said that the Dallas bound letters have been hitting the postal slots regularly all month and gradually stepping up in number.

"There is no really big rush today," Boatler said, "just a steady business. We look for a pretty fair sized rush on Saturday, though. And there'll be a sizeable overflow on Sunday."

Bishop Challenges Welch On Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy Thursday wired this challenge to Robert Welch, head of the right-wing John Birch Society: "Get specific or else admit that you really do not know what you are talking about."

The Protestant clergyman was referring to Welch's charge in a Los Angeles speech Tuesday that there are 7,000 Communists or Communist sympathizers among the Protestant clergy.

Boy, Woman, Gun Make Tragic Story

By DALE NELSON SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — This is the story of a boy and a woman who saw each other for the first and last time in a little corner grocery store.

His name is Michael Andrew Olds. His mother was 15 and unmarried when she bore him. He has lived in 17 foster homes in his 16 years. A psychiatrist once said he had been "damaged more than the human personality can stand."

The woman's name is Blossom Alta Braham. She was a former night club dancer who married a man she dated once, and corresponded with, throughout his wartime service in the Navy. At 33, and with two children, she still was a pretty woman.

On the night of March 28, Mrs. Braham entered Al Turner's grocery near her home on Seattle's Queen Anne Hill to pick up some tidbits for her husband.

Young Olds came in right behind her, brandishing a pistol. He directed Mrs. Braham and Turner behind a counter, forced Turner to put the money from the till into a brown paper bag and then said, "I'm getting out of here fast."

As he left he fired two shots. Both hit Mrs. Braham and killed her. Later, in his confession, the youth said he pulled the trigger because he believed he had seen Turner's hands move.

Then Olds ran through alleys to the home of his mother's third husband, Arne Richstad, where he had been living, and watched television for a while.

This project is still under review in the Kennedy administration. He and Adenauer were reported to have reached no final conclusion, although Adenauer was understood to have expressed support for such an undertaking.

The Kennedy administration takes the position that beefing up of NATO's conventional forces has priority over the planned independent nuclear striking force for the alliance.

In the communique Kennedy and Adenauer reaffirmed their support of NATO as the keystone of the common defense of the North Atlantic area.

This was their reference to NATO weapons: "They underlined the conviction of their governments as to the necessity for the alliance to maintain and develop further all military means required to enable them to deter effectively a potential aggressor from threatening the territorial integrity or independence of any ally."

At the same time, the leaders of the two NATO members challenged the Soviet Union to join in disarmament and other negotiations to lessen the danger of war and work toward a general and total peace.

And, Kennedy and Adenauer "renewed their pledge to preserve the freedom of the people of West Berlin pending the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom and the restoration of Berlin as the capital of a reunited country."

Agreement was expressed, also, after making his confession. "I guess I have only myself to blame," he said.

M. A. Harmon, chief of Washington's State Bureau of Juvenile Rehabilitation, has another answer. "The boy pulled the trigger," says Harmon, "but the background of the whole sordid mess began the moment he was brought into the world."

Records show that six months after he was born Olds was found to be so neglected and undernourished that he had to be taken to King County Hospital for treatment.

WANTED MOTHER After that came the many foster homes. The records show, he ran away repeatedly, looking for his mother. When he was 11, he accidentally met her on a bus. She promised to come see him, but she never did.

However, six days after the boy's arrest, Mrs. Arnold C. Sleepness, 34, a housewife in nearby Edmonds, identified herself publicly as Michael's mother and said they would "never be parted again."

Mrs. Sleepness bitterly blamed society for her son's plight and her troubled years which followed his birth in a home for unwed mothers. She said the birth resulted from a rape committed when she was 14.

On these points: The North Atlantic alliance should coordinate the aid policies of Western nations while aid itself should be administered by the prospective Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development and by the Development Assistance Group.

They would welcome Britain's joining the six-nation European Economic Community provided such a step would not interfere with the community's ultimate goal—Europe's political integration.

"Continuing attention" will be paid to the problem of the balance of payments. In recent years the United States has been spending more abroad than it has been taking in.

The two leaders also were reported to have agreed that there seems to be no immediate danger that the Soviet Union will renew its 1958 threat on West Berlin and Germany.

U.S. Premier Khrushchev at that time threatened to make a separate peace treaty with East Germany and abandon the Soviet Union's responsibilities, dating back to 1945, for upholding the rights of access of the Western Powers between West Berlin and West Germany.

Kennedy made it clear to Adenauer in their talks that the United States would not hesitate to defend the city with all its might should the Soviets try to incorporate West Berlin into Communist East Germany.

GOOD WORK Diplomatic observers feel that one of the most significant results of the Kennedy-Adenauer meetings was that the two leaders found that they could work smoothly together. The communique referred to their talks as "a most cordial and useful exchange of views."

The official phase of Adenauer's visit ended Thursday afternoon. He will remain in Washington until Sunday, when he flies to Texas to stay at the ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Before going to Texas, the chancellor will have a series of semi-official conferences with U.S. legislators and will renew acquaintances with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and with Eleanor Dulles, sister and former adviser on German affairs of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

He was committed to the King County Juvenile Court. The court's consulting psychiatrist, Dr. Richard B. Jarvis, said then: "I am doubtful that Mike ever will be able to make a better than marginal adjustment, for he has been damaged more than the human personality can stand without permanent scarring."

UNTREATABLE Olds was placed in a custodial school on nearby Mercer Island. He was paroled last May to Richstad. But, says Harmon, he had been "untreatable" by the time the school received him.

"He was starving for the things we take for granted. He never had a chance for the decent things in life.

"In a day when we are thinking of shooting rockets to the moon, we should not allow conditions to exist where a child is starved emotionally and shuttled about helplessly."

Kiwanis See Film On Flag

A film, recently introduced in Big Spring by the Kiwanis Club boys and girls work committee which has been seen by more than 2,000 residents in the past 10 days, was screened for the Kiwanis Club members Thursday noon.

The film, "Stars and Stripes on Review," illustrates the proper and accepted marks of respect which the nation's flag is entitled to receive. It demonstrates how to fly the flag; how to honor it and emphasizes why full respect should be paid the nation's banner at all times.

The film has been shown in classrooms of the schools for the past week in addition to a number of other screenings at various meetings.

Floyd Parsons and the Rev. Ward Jackson have had charge of booking the film, assisted by Capt. Walter Eubanks.

Announcement was made Thursday that a clothing drive is to be waged for the benefit of the Salvation Army on April 29. The drive is to be waged from 2 to 5 p.m. Ward Jackson is in charge.

Members of the club were also urged to make arrangements to be at the Couden Country Club on the evening of April 27 for the annual Ladies Night Party.

No formal program is planned for this event—good food and informal fun is the committee's promise.

WORDS TO LIVE BY

FOOLISHNESS

By T. H. Farber, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 20
P.O. Box 1383.

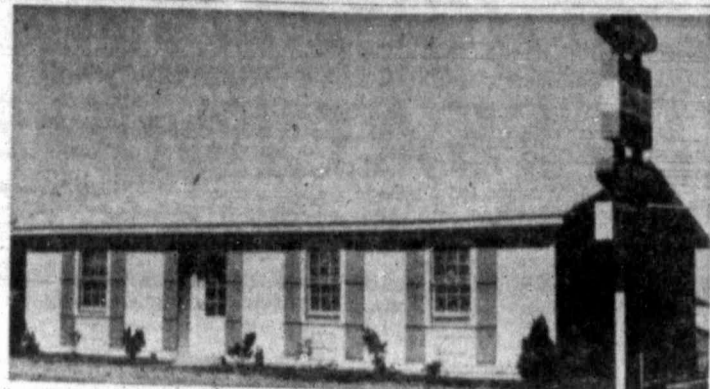

This preacher shall do a foolish thing again this Sunday.

For the purpose of saving lost men and women, in spite of television. New attendance records are being set often on Sunday mornings, and there are baptisms almost every week. The secret: Instead of entertaining the people when they come, we feed them on the word of God by preaching it faithfully.

We dare to do this foolish thing. We believe "the foolishness of God is wiser than men" (1 Cor. 1:25).

Plan to be with us Sunday. —Adv.

NEW CONCEPT IN HOUSING
Model home is on display

Low-Cost Idea Is Displayed In Open House

Wm. Cameron & Co. has been named the authorized dealer in the Big Spring area for the Institute for Essential Housing. W. S. Crook, manager, announced today.

The institute has a new concept in low-cost, complete home building.

One of the Institute's modern designed homes has been built by the Cameron yard and is on display at the corner of Gregg and W. 7th. Open house for this model home will be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1 to 6 o'clock said Crook. Open house will be continued through next week.

The Institute for Essential Housing is an organization formed by cooperating manufacturers, and utilizing private capital, has been established in Princeton, N. J., to fill the need for low-cost homes now covered by conventional building and financing practices. As it is equipped to maintain complete research, architectural and production supervision services, as well as total financing for essential single family dwellings on any accessible, suitable land to which the prospective home owner can show clear title.

According to Walter Cramp, director of information for the Institute, there are over five million homes of their own, but who can find nothing that fits their pocket-books in the rural, low-cost land areas adjacent to their place of employment.

Cramp said that the Institute's basic belief is that the young working man needs his own home while he is raising his family (and not after he has had time to save up the proverbial nest egg), and has the equally strong conviction that the average young working man is an excellent business risk and fully capable of putting a lot of his own energy and skill into the decorating and landscaping of his own home.

Thus, the institute will specialize in providing and financing these homes in various stages of completion as the buyer desires. Typical stages are: the "basic" (or shell house); the "basic" plus materials and equipment package; the "ready-to-live-in" and the "finished" in which the house is completely finished and decorated. These Institute houses provide generous living space and extra large closets, giving the buyers a lot of extra square footage for their money, but leaving the interior finishing, decorating, painting and landscaping to the new owner, if desired.

Unlike the so-called "shell" houses, the institute will supply and finance the complete "package" even including the kitchen appliance when desired. And under the new financing terms (without a down payment if the prospective buyer owns his own lot), the monthly payments are still lower than those being offered for the "shell" alone. A special five-year paid-up insurance policy is also part of the package at no additional cost. The institute will, of course, also build just the basic house, or "shell" stage alone, for the man who can finance his own plumbing, heating and electrical equipment and do his own work.

According to Crook, the prospective home owner can build on attractive rural land, at lake or river, or farm or by-way, just assuming reasonable accessibility for building purposes.

Although the financing plans may extend over a 10 or 12-year period, the owner may, if desired, convert at any time to a conventional mortgage if regular mortgage funds become available to him.

Texas has been selected by the institute as the locale in which to launch its national program.

It's Not Really Murder, But Students Learn Of Courts

Murder will be for learning Saturday in 118th District Court when scores of Big Spring high school students will be exposed to a close look at a murder trial and justice as it works in America.

In fact, the students themselves will have a big part in this justice. A dozen of them will be jurors in the case; all of the youngsters who are in the court room will be regarded as a special venire and questioned as to their qualifications to serve as jurors.

The occasion will be a part of the Big Spring High School's observation of "government day" and the trial will be a re-enactment of an Austin Junior Bar production of "Trial by Jury . . . U. S. A." This is a mock trial in depth designed to teach more respect and greater knowledge of the American system of justice.

It will be reminiscent of the old mock trials sometimes held for the entertainment of the communities in school houses. In these trials, the men of the community who had participated as jurors, witnesses, even as defendants in real trials, had great fun at the mock trials. Nowadays few people have any close acquaintance with trial procedures.

It is to counter this lack of information that Judge Ralph W. Caton, 118th District Court, has spearheaded this experiment Saturday.

In Nov. 1960, the Junior Bar Association of Travis County first conducted this experiment with youngsters as participants.

A 1955 Dallas case was selected as the plot for the trial. In this real case, the husband of a Dallas woman was tried for her murder. It had all of the excitement and unusual twists of a Perry Mason TV drama. The neighbors heard the couple quarreling. When the husband later came home and found his wife dead, he reported her death to the police. He also said that a radio, a clock and two rings were missing from the house. All of these items were later found in the husband's possession. Despite this, he stoutly maintained that he was innocent of his wife's death.

"Can't students see such things any night of the week on television?"

Not the way it will be done on Saturday.

In the mock trial set for 9 a.m., in the 118th District Court room, Judge Ralph Caton will preside. Carol Smith, Big Spring attorney, will represent the defendant. Roger Brown will be the state prosecutor. A defendant will be selected from the student body. Witnesses will be police officers, sheriff's deputies and others whose daily business is to deal with justice.

such instances of violence as involved in the case. There will be diagrams of the murder house; photos of the interior, clocks, radios and rings—the physical properties involved in the story.

A professional pathologist—a doctor whose task it often is to testify in real trials—will detail to the jurors the nature of the victim's fatal injuries.

The jurors will be asked by the state to find the husband guilty and assess his punishment at death in the electric chair. The defense will plead for the acquittal of the defendant.

Every step in the proceedings will be exactly as in a real trial. The purpose is to show the boys and girls how the American system assures full protection for all citizens charged with any crime and how the jury system works to bring about just decisions in criminal cases.

In the real case on which the script to be used on Saturday is based, the verdict of the jury was real, and the result vital to the defendant and all concerned.

In the mock version to be enacted here Saturday, no one knows how it will terminate.

The jury, when it has heard the evidence, been charged by the judge and listened to the argument by attorneys will adjourn to consider its verdict. And when it has been decided the verdict will be read and the entire proceedings completed as it would be in a real trial.

Government and civic classes of

Youths Take Over Government Today

City, county and district officials will host high school student counterparts Saturday for Student Government Day.

The students will spend a part of the day with the officials to get first hand information about work done by the officeholders.

Last year's Student Government Day was restricted to students from local high schools, but this year Forsan, Coahoma and Sands will have representatives for some of the offices.

The 1961 program got under way last month when students first paid filing fees and started campaigning for election. The primary election was held April 5 with the runoff election April 7. The general election was held April 12. There were two parties in this year's election while last year there was only one.

Student Government Day will begin with a breakfast at 7 a.m. at the Settles Hotel. Student officeholders will be hosted by their official counterparts. Judge Perry Pickett, 142nd Judicial District, Midland, will be guest speaker at the breakfast.

A mock trial has been set for 9 a.m. in the District Courtroom and a mock City Commission meeting may also be held. In addition, each official will show his student the nature and scope of his office.

Student Government Day is a co-operative program between the Student Council at Big Spring High School and the Chamber of Commerce. At a meeting of the officials Thursday afternoon in the conference room of the Chamber, each official was given the name of his student.

Students elected to city positions are Lyn Clawson, city manager; Sara Manuel, director of public works; Steve Kite, city attorney; Carolyn Thompson, city judge;

Marilyn Gum, tax assessor; Ricky Wisener, chief of police; Robert Lebkowski, fire chief; and commissioners Ross Reagan, Mayor, Mary Locke Croland, Ronnie Hamby, Tommy Wilkinson and Elena Patterson.

Among county officials are Carla Hughes, Forsan high school, county superintendent; Lillian Burnett, juvenile officer; Ronnie Crowover, county engineer; Joe S. Jith, sheriff; Ronnie Clanton and Jerry Dunlap, justices of the peace; Judy Foster and Chip Taut, civil defense; Chap Smith, school superintendent; Alice Long, health nurse; Janie Harrington, welfare department; Wayne Griffith, county judge; Katherine Hopper, tax assessor and collector; Sharon Agee, treasurer; and Linda Morton, county attorney.

Others holding county positions are Ilameta Carr, county clerk; Martha Burrow, Sands High School, agricultural agent; and county commissioners Pete Harmonson; Darla Dunagan, Forsan High School; Edward Reeves, Coahoma High School; and Johnny Ochoa, Sands High School in Ackerly.

District officeholders are Dick Combs, court reporter; Jodeli Hudgins, district judge; Gary Pickle, district attorney; and Kay Crowover, district clerk.

the school are being especially urged to attend the trial but it is open to all boys and girls in the high school. The Bar Association and the district court are extending a cordial invitation to all youngsters interested in the experiment to be on hand.

Man Charged With Burglary

Debout Commodore Foster, 44, who was arrested by Midland police Wednesday, was brought to Big Spring by Police Detectives Aubrey Hurley and Jack Jones Thursday, and charged with burglary. He was lodged in the Howard County jail Thursday afternoon.

Burglary charges were filed against Foster in connection with breaking and entering, and theft of several articles from the offices of Thomas & Smith, Attorneys, in the First National Bank Building Tuesday night. Approximately $36 in cash, a man's overcoat, a .25-caliber pistol, a mahogany and a leather brief case, attachment dictaphone equipment, a camera attachment, a clock, and a notary seal, were all recovered.

Foster took the articles to Midland and waited for a pawn shop to open Wednesday morning where he pawned the overcoat and one of the brief cases. He told the operator that he had a .25 caliber pistol he also wanted to pawn and that he would go and get it. When he returned, Midland police were waiting for him.

In his room, officers found the other missing articles and some bed sheets from a Midland hotel.

Police said the door to one of the offices in the First National Bank had been forced open, and that a desk and filing cabinet against it were pushed out into the center of the room. All other offices were entered and desk drawers pulled out.

Foster gave his home as Fort Worth, but he had been renting a room in Midland for several days.

Referee Frees Parr Tax Fund

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Federal tax claims totaling about $1.3 million against the bankrupt estate of Duval County political leader George B. Parr were virtually wiped out in an order filed by bankruptcy referee James M. Easterling.

Easterling held, however, that government claims totaling about $68,000 should be allowed. He also determined that the trustee for Parr's bankrupt estate is entitled to an offsetting refund or credit of about the same amount, plus interest as a result of "erroneous" internal revenue tax collection, on Parr's 1945 income.

Stopped Stuttering

Joan Swift tells her way of overcoming stuttering. "No matter how beautiful you are, you are bound to be self-conscious if you don't speak correctly," she says. She is in CBS-TV's "Malibu Run."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

She Found A Way To Stop Stuttering

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Joan Swift was born in Pasadena, Calif., of a theatrical family, and it was natural that she should look toward Hollywood for a career.
 "I think anyone should think twice before she decides on becoming an actress. The competition is staggering. Only about two per cent ever reach the top, and there are many disappointments for those who don't."
 We were chatting on the "Malibu Run" set at CBS, and Joan was disturbed because she knew her waitress at lunch had come to Hollywood as a beauty contest winner.
 "She looked so sad," Joan said, "and she's too proud to go home."
 "Yes, there are many in the same situation out here. But tell me, what do you think has become your most gratifying accomplishment?" I asked.
 "I overcame stuttering," she replied. "I started stuttering after my parents got a divorce. And it would have ruined my life, but I licked it by reading aloud for an hour every day. At first it was a terrible chore, and I really hated it. But then I became interested in the stories, and I discovered that I enjoyed it.
 "As I listened to my voice, I became calm. I realized that I had been stuttering because I was nervous. And because I became interested in what I was reading, I had something to talk about to other people.
 "I think people who stutter are often shy. And no matter how beautiful a girl is, if she has a speech impediment, she's bound to be self-conscious.
 "When I overcame my difficulty, I felt like a new person," she added.
 Joan has lovely skin, and I asked if she had a special secret for keeping it beautiful.
 "It hasn't always been clear," Joan revealed. "It has improved since I've added yogurt to my diet. I eat a small jar of it every morning with frozen fruit. It's delicious. It isn't my imagination that it helps my complexion. When I went on location and couldn't get yogurt, my skin wasn't nearly as clear."
SPEECH HELPMATE
 You can improve your speech with M-6, "Exercises to Improve Your Speaking Voice." You'll find exercises to develop resonance and to lower your voice, exercises to develop flexible lips, exercises to develop a flexible tongue and many other suggestions. You'll want this aid to a lovelier voice, and your copy will be on its way to you when you send 10 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Pro-Trujillo Mobs Drive Bishop From His Residence

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic (AP)—Pro-Trujillo mobs have driven a Roman Catholic bishop to his capital after wrecking his diocesan residence 100 miles west of here. Nuns and priests are also fleeing the district.

Bishop Thomas J. Reilly, 52, in trouble before with Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo, said police and soldiers put him in protective custody for a while Thursday after terrorists ransacked his home.

"I am going to deal with the government over these acts of terrorism," the prelate from New Bedford, Mass., said after arriving in Ciudad Trujillo to take refuge in a Catholic school.

He said he will demand that the government guarantee the safety of priests and nuns in the western part of the country, where his diocese of San Juan de la Maguana is located. Attacks on parishes there are forcing priests and nuns to come to the capital, the bishop said.

Two priests reportedly were attacked and their robes ripped off, but the bishop said he understood no one was seriously hurt.

The Trujillo-church dispute started last year with a pastoral letter in which the bishops urged Trujillo to ease repressive measures. The hostility increased when the bishops rejected Trujillo's demand that the title "benefactor of the church" be added to the long list of titles he holds.

Last week Trujillo's military intelligence service announced that three terrorist bombers confessed to working for Bishop Reilly with the aim of discrediting Trujillo.

"Of course the charges are untrue," the bishop said, adding that he would also discuss these accusations with the government.

Bishop Reilly, a member of the Redemptorist Fathers, was consecrated a bishop in 1956. His mother, 86, and a sister live in Boston. His diocesan area is, like the entire Dominican Republic, about 90 per cent Catholic.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference said in Washington that two aides of the bishop—Fathers John Schomber of Buffalo, N. Y., and John Kelly of Pittsburgh—have been ordered expelled from the Dominican Republic as undesirable aliens.

The bishop's sister, Kathleen Reilly, said Thursday night in Boston that her brother does not want to leave the Dominican Republic because he might not be allowed to return.

Miss Reilly said she had no doubt that "hired thugs seeking to intimidate him" made the attack on Bishop Reilly's residence.

"He has been subject to vicious attack both in the newspapers and radio and they even accused him of learning how to make bombs while he was a chaplain in the U.S. Army during World War II," she said.

"The people are not angry at the actions of my brother," she added. "In his last letter he said the churches in the Dominican Republic were filled during Lent."

Texans Ask Defense Dept. Air Base Not Be Shut Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of Texans urged Defense Department officials Thursday to cancel plans for closing Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio.

The department has said Laughlin will be closed by June of 1962. Dwayne Leonard said one-way streets had been an asset to his business and the congestion at the post office had been cleared up.

John Coffee favored the one-way system, but said there may be some mistakes in the layout. He suggested that many towns smaller than Big Spring have incorporated one-way streets and they have been successful. He suggested that consideration be given to what is best for Big Spring rather than for a particular business house.

Miss Pearl Cole said the system is much better than the old way, that it had solved many problems on the downtown streets.

Frank Rice said the system saved his Continental Bus terminal, which almost moved until the streets were installed. He suggested that a bigger sample of opinion be obtained.

DEAR ABBY

Imposing Double Punishment

DEAR ABBY: Our upstairs neighbor has a 12-year-old son who takes piano lessons. She uses "piano practicing" as a punishment. The poor kid lost his over-shoes, so she made him stay home all day Saturday and practice the piano for three hours! I can hear "The Blue Danube" in my sleep. Would it be all right if I, and the neighbor next door to her, told her she should think up another punishment?

DEAR LADY: Tell her, if the boy has any desire to play the piano, the mother couldn't find a better way to destroy it, she has a right to "punish" her son, but not the neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and I guess you could call me a "good girl." I mean I obey my parents, get good grades and have nice friends. I am corresponding with a boy who is in the Air Force. It is sort of my hobby. I like him very much and he writes interesting letters. He doesn't write "love letters" (but he signs them "Love"). My problem is this: My mother reads his letters while I am gone. I don't lock them up. I keep them in a shoe box in my drawer. If she asked if she could read them, I would let her because there is nothing in his letters I have to be ashamed of. She even asked me if I would please ask this boy to print because his writing is hard for her to read. I think she is wrong to read his letters without asking me first, but how does a respectful daughter tell her mother this?—LETTER WRITER

DEAR LETTER WRITER: In a respectful way.

DEAR ABBY: Our son (24) is engaged to marry a very beautiful, but mixed up, young lady. She is 20, spoiled and moody, and has already broken two engagements

Volunteers Get Boost

The Junior Volunteer program of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools received a tremendous boost at the spring meeting of the Volunteer Services Council held in Austin, according to Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital.

Dr. Harrison attended two meetings of the session April 11 and 12. He felt a forum on the "youth of teen-age volunteers" produced excellent results.

"Junior volunteers are the finest thing which has happened since adult volunteers were begun," he said.

The program is still new and Dr. Harrison said all the hospitals now have a better understanding of the potential in the Junior Volunteer program.

"I feel that the hospitals will now be able to make better use of Junior Volunteers and the program will grow," Dr. Harrison said.

Others attending the meetings in Austin were Mrs. Lou H. Bonin, volunteer co-ordinator; Jack Y. Smith, director of industrial relations at Cosden and vice-chairman of the Volunteer Council; and five volunteers from Midland.

HCJC Faculty Is Re-Elected

Faculty members at Howard County Junior College were re-elected at the regular monthly board meeting Thursday.

The action did not involve the salary schedule, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, explained the state appropriation might have a strong effect on this. Two of the faculty members are planning on graduate work, but plans in this direction have not solidified.

'Teahouse' Goes Over Big As High School Play Begins Run

"Teahouse of the August Moon" had a receptive audience Thursday evening as the three-act comedy began its run at the high school auditorium. It was, in fact, one of the best audiences the young thespians have yet had.

The laughs were well earned. A large cast led by comparatively experienced lead actors romped and adlibbed its way through the hilarious tale of a meeting of minds between Oriental and Westerners.

Tommy Wilkinson and Gary Pickle, the experienced thespians and James Farris, a newcomer, started the play off with a bang in the first scene—which is unusual even for Broadway, since most plays must by their very nature spend some time establishing the background before proceeding with the action.

A short narrative by Farris as Captain Fishy (Pickle) as he attempts to enjoin Washington's Plan B upon the inhabitants of the village of Tokibi on the island of Okinawa following World War II.

Fishy is lovable but inept, and before he knows it, Plan B has been lost, material intended for a Pentagon-shaped schoolhouse has been used in erecting a teahouse, and the colonel (Wilkinson) descends upon Tokibi in righteous wrath.

In the background but very much in the picture is Sakini, the interpreter, whose diplomacy has a lot to do with Fishy's eventual but highly unorthodox success. Before the plot reaches its happy-go-lucky ending, Fishy has learned that geisha girls are not bad girls, and has set up a profitable moonshine business to help the village into prosperity.

Dale Phillips, as Capt. McLean, also evokes laughs as the psychiatrist sent to analyze Fishy when the colonel suspects his subordinate (and village) into prosperity.

Ronnie Hamby as the sergeant who breaks up the stills and puts some of the products into himself, and Dennice Nicholson as the geisha, add considerably to the comedy.

The top three actors leaned heavily upon burlesque with some hamming, but showed they also are capable of subtlety. Others, even down to the bit players, fared well onstage, as witness the comic by-play of the villagers while the main actors are carrying on the plot nearby.

All of the young thespians showed improvement from previous plays in one respect—holding for laughs, instead of continuing (and losing) the next lines of dialogue.

The set was colorful and imaginative, and the auditorium's new lighting system, installed in the nick of time, helped tremendously. Spotlights were helped even more, but these were not available opening night.

Most people noticed the painted backdrop, but few of those recognized the cactus peeping from behind the Okinawan teahouse. The backdrop is a picture of Big Spring's big spring. Except for the cactus, it looks like it might well be Oriental.

The audience, mostly teen-age, loved "Teahouse of the August Moon." They were highly attentive, a seldom thing with younger viewers.

And while we're on the subject, onlooking students gave evidence that maybe they're not so badly educated as some critics would have it. One scene had Pickle mentioning "A Tale of Two Cities," with Wilkinson responding that he always had enjoyed Victor Hugo's works (the author was Dickens). This comically drew an immediate laugh.

"Teahouse of the August Moon" will continue tonight and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in Big Spring High School Auditorium. See it—you'll get a charge out of it.

Wright Gives Blakley Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., who ran third in a recent special U.S. Senate race, said Thursday he will support interim Sen. William Blakley in the election.

Blakley, a Democrat, trailed Republican John Tower in the election.

"I believe there is a clear preference between the two candidates with respect to party affiliation, proven ability, personal qualifications and general outlook," Wright said.

"Certainly it would not be in the best interest of Texas to send an extreme right wing Republican to represent our state's needs before the Democratic administration and the Democratic Congress," Wright said.

"I shall vote for Sen. William Blakley in the runoff against his Republican opponent."

Search Resumed

PECOS (AP)—A search was resumed today for the body of Claude James Jr., 34, of Odessa who disappeared Thursday while skin diving in Red Bluff Lake, 35 miles north of Pecos.

Gets Promotion

AUSTIN (AP)—W. O. Bowers of Austin has been appointed an assistant secretary of state. He has been director of the corporation division of the secretary of state's office since 1957 and formerly practiced law in Beaumont.

Maxwell Is A Stroke Back At Greensboro

By KEN ALYTA
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Charlie Sifford carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $22,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament, and if the Los Angeles Negro professional continues his daily improvement pattern over the Sedgfield Country Club course he will be hard to catch.

Sifford shot a three under par 68 to lead a field of 115 by a stroke in Thursday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament. Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., was next at 69.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., and Greensboro amateur Bill Harvey, paired together, posted 70s to share third place.

Six pros carded par 71s to tie for fifth place. Heading the lot was Sam Snead, defending champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and seven-time winner here. Tied with him were Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif.; Carolinas PGA champion Avery Beck from Kingston, N.C., and Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Buddy Sullivan, Yuba City, Calif.; and Bob Shave, Willoughby, Ohio.

Sifford, the first Negro to play a major PGA tournament in the Deep South, is 38 and has been a part-time touring pro since 1952. A sturdy 175-pounder, he takes great pride in his long drives, but his short game was the key to his first round success. He had 12 one-putt greens, matching the year's low in PGA circuit play, and used only 24 putts.

Playing in 19 PGA tour events last year, he won $8,800, missing the money only once and the 36-hole cut only once. This year he picked up $4,000 in six California and Southwest tournaments early in the year before dropping out for six weeks when the caravan headed into the Deep South.

FRASER'S POWERFUL SERVICE was no broken as he defeated Holmberg, ranked fifth nationally, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. The third seeded Emerson, clinching the second set on two double faults, won over Richardson, former Davis Cupper, 6-4, 6-6, 6-1.

Holmberg defeated Fraser, 17-15, 6-4, earlier this spring in the San Juan tournament.

"I've had more play now and I feel better," Fraser said. "I tried to serve well against Holmberg and I did."

Emerson said Richardson lost some big points because he was out of practice.

Betty Ellison has yet to lose a singles match, having prevailed against six opponents. She has won 82 games, compared to 33 for the opposition.

Lopez has won eight times in nine starts and had gained the upper hand in 102 games while losing 37.

Griffin has won three and lost three and has the slight edge in games won, 36 to 54.

In doubles competition, Ellison and Lopez have teamed up to win five of six matches. They've won the Chicago Cubs again, 5-2, alone on top.

San Francisco made it two in a row over the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, winning 6-5 in 12 innings for the Giants' first decision over relief ace Elroy Face in three years. The Milwaukee Braves went 11 innings before downing the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4.

The Cardinals, who split the two-game series at Milwaukee, open their home schedule tonight against Cincinnati with Curt Simmons facing Jay Hook of the Reds. The Cubs open their Wrigley Field season in an afternoon game against Milwaukee as Bob Anderson opposes the Braves' Bob Buhl. The Giants and Dodgers swap foes.

The American League's expanded schedule, so far restricted to just five games because of bad weather, counted another complete loss Thursday with rain, snow and cold barring play. Only three games are scheduled today. Cleveland moves to Washington and Minnesota to Baltimore for night games with the Chicago White Sox at Detroit this afternoon.

After blasting from behind on two-run homers by Pancho Herrera and Tony Gonzalez, the Phillies dropped back again in the seventh at Los Angeles when the Dodgers scored three for a 6-4 lead. The Phils then moved ahead again with three in the eighth on a double by Tony Curry and a single by Gonzalez.

The Dodgers tied it 7-7 in their eighth on an unearned run. The Phils then put it away when winning reliever Dick Fawcett singled and scored on a two-out error by losing reliever Ed Palmquist in the ninth. It was the first decision for each.

Duke Snider drove in the first three Snider runs off Phillie starter John Buszarth with a home run and a double. The homer was the Duke's 389th, giving him a tie with Ralph Kiner for seventh place on the all-time list.

Both Phillie home runs came off Dodger starter Roger Craig. The Giants finally won it when winning reliever Jim Duffalo doubled in the 12th and Felipe Alou and Harvey Kuenn followed with singles Duffalo forced in a run in the 11th with a bases-loaded walk, but Hobie Landrith pulled the Giants square again with a home run in their half. Ed Bresnold smacked a three-run homer off Pirate starter Harvey Haddix and Rocky Nelson homered off Jack Sanford, the Giants' starting pitcher.

Lindy McDaniel, the Cards' reliever ace, forced in the winning run at Milwaukee by walking pinch-hitter Mel Roach on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded in the 11th. Seth Morehead was the winner. Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham, who drove in three runs, homered for the Cards.

BS Hurler

Ernie Hanson (above), who attended Pecos High School last year, is one of the pitchers on the Big Spring High School staff. He's won his only game to date in which a decision was reached.

Steers Host 'Dogs At 2:00 Saturday

Big Spring seeks to return to winning ways in a District 2-AAAA baseball game with Midland High here at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Steers are 1-2 in conference play. Midland is tied for the lead with a 2-1 record.

Midland's lone defeat came at the hands of Abilene. Big Spring clobbered Abilene, 25-11, but lost one-run decisions to San Angelo and Odessa High.

Midland, coached by Glen Selbo, is the defending champion in the race. Selbo will probably call on either Mike King (4-1) or Sammy Vaughn to pitch Saturday.

Ray Baird, the local coach, will counter with Roy New (3-3), in all probability, although Lefty Dexter Pate could get the call.

Overall, Big Spring has a 7-9 won-lost record. Midland reeled off ten victories in a row before Snyder took the Bulldogs in a doubleheader.

Earlier this week, Midland topped Odessa Permian, 8-7, in a six-inning contest.

Baird will probably go with a lineup composed of Jerry Tucker or Jeff Brown behind the plate, Tucker or Charles Boadle at first base, Roy Suggs or David Maberry at shortstop, Jerry Dunlap at third, Jack Irons in left field, Ricky Wisener in center and Al Cobby in right.

At 3:05, Dunlap is the heaviest hitting regular on the Steer club. He has also crossed the plate more times than any other Steer — 18 times — and six of his 19 hits have gone for extra bases. Irons has powered home 16 runs, tops in that respect, while Tucker and Maberry lead in home runs, each with four.

This is the first of three straight home games for the Longhorns. They play Permian here next Tuesday, then start the second phase of the double round-robin against San Angelo here a week from tomorrow.

Montgomery, Ala. (AP) — Ray Harrison, an ardent football fan, thinks missing the Texas-Alabama Bluebonnet Bowl game last Dec. 17 was worth $10,000.

He sued the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, claiming the railroad failed to keep its contract and get him to Houston the night before the game.

Harrison said he was forced to travel in New Orleans and it was impossible to get to Houston more than a few hours before the game. So he returned to Montgomery at his own expense, missing the game.

Softball teams representing Charley's Package Store and Newsom's Foods clash at 7:30 o'clock this evening on the City Park diamond.

Billy Paul Thomas will probably pitch for Newsom's team while both Lonnie Crosby and Cotton Mizel are apt to see action for Charley's Package Store.

The game is free to the public.

EL PASO — The Shareholders' Purse, featured event on Saturday's card, drew a swift field of eight speed merchants, three-year-olds and older, prepared to test their speed in the 5/8 furlong dash.

Several of the contestants were outstanding stakes prospects before injuries sidelined them last year.

year Dixie D., owned by J. T. Dillard of Big Spring, winner of the Ruidoso and Raton Futurities, was considered Derby material before she was taken out of training. She has been burning up the track in her morning trials and her conditioner, Gerald Bloss, expects her to return to her brilliant two-year-old form. She will carry 111 pounds and Joe Sherman for her return to the races.

Another on the comeback trail is A. P. Frazzini's Ellwillow, a classy four-year-old gelded son of world's record holder El Drag Ellwillow won five out of 7 starts last year and defeated Maclean before she was taken out of training. She has been burning up the track in her morning trials and her conditioner, Gerald Bloss, expects her to return to her brilliant two-year-old form. She will carry 111 pounds and Joe Sherman for her return to the races.

Jolly Driskill is starting Tarkhawk for his second start of the meeting. The tall Stained color yearling was out of the money in his lone effort but is expected to benefit from his lone outing.

Jack Brown drew the riding assignment on Little Mormon who is also making his second start. The swift five-year-old holds a victory over Sleepy Ned accomplished last fall. He has had a tighter struggle but he was defeated in his first attempt this year.

Also given chances in the wide open contest are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Felner's Miss Independent, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hallmark's Will Return. The former has been tuned up in an $70 race while Miss Independent ran a good third behind Social Blunder and Winshaw Lad in the Charras Purse Sunday. The Shareholders' has a purse value of $1,500.

The co-feature Skyriders Purse goes as the 8th race on the program and has drawn a full field. The ten starters have a claiming tag of $5,000 and will be competing at six furlongs.

The entries include the recent winner, Eiffel's Order, and E. T. Springer's Frank's Brook. In post position order: Lonesome Dream, Top Judge, Frank's Brook, Lora Licht, Eiffel's Order, Blue Date, Fanny's Sister, Lucky Genius, Sissy Gaines.

Stockholders of the Fortuna Corporation, owners and operators of Sunland Park, will hold a meeting at 10:00 a.m. in the clubhouse and will be guests of the management for the afternoon's racing program. The weekly turf symposium will go on at 12:00 noon with the first post at 2:00 p.m.

the key to his first round success. He had 12 one-putt greens, matching the year's low in PGA circuit play, and used only 24 putts.

Playing in 19 PGA tour events last year, he won $8,800, missing the money only once and the 36-hole cut only once. This year he picked up $4,000 in six California and Southwest tournaments early in the year before dropping out for six weeks when the caravan headed into the Deep South.

FRASER'S POWERFUL SERVICE was no broken as he defeated Holmberg, ranked fifth nationally, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. The third seeded Emerson, clinching the second set on two double faults, won over Richardson, former Davis Cupper, 6-4, 6-6, 6-1.

Holmberg defeated Fraser, 17-15, 6-4, earlier this spring in the San Juan tournament.

"I've had more play now and I feel better," Fraser said. "I tried to serve well against Holmberg and I did."

Emerson said Richardson lost some big points because he was out of practice.

Betty Ellison has yet to lose a singles match, having prevailed against six opponents. She has won 82 games, compared to 33 for the opposition.

Lopez has won eight times in nine starts and had gained the upper hand in 102 games while losing 37.

Griffin has won three and lost three and has the slight edge in games won, 36 to 54.

In doubles competition, Ellison and Lopez have teamed up to win five of six matches. They've won the Chicago Cubs again, 5-2, alone on top.

San Francisco made it two in a row over the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, winning 6-5 in 12 innings for the Giants' first decision over relief ace Elroy Face in three years. The Milwaukee Braves went 11 innings before downing the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4.

The Cardinals, who split the two-game series at Milwaukee, open their home schedule tonight against Cincinnati with Curt Simmons facing Jay Hook of the Reds. The Cubs open their Wrigley Field season in an afternoon game against Milwaukee as Bob Anderson opposes the Braves' Bob Buhl. The Giants and Dodgers swap foes.

Only three games are scheduled today. Cleveland moves to Washington and Minnesota to Baltimore for night games with the Chicago White Sox at Detroit this afternoon.

After blasting from behind on two-run homers by Pancho Herrera and Tony Gonzalez, the Phillies dropped back again in the seventh at Los Angeles when the Dodgers scored three for a 6-4 lead. The Phils then moved ahead again with three in the eighth on a double by Tony Curry and a single by Gonzalez.

The Dodgers tied it 7-7 in their eighth on an unearned run. The Phils then put it away when winning reliever Dick Fawcett singled and scored on a two-out error by losing reliever Ed Palmquist in the ninth. It was the first decision for each.

Duke Snider drove in the first three Snider runs off Phillie starter John Buszarth with a home run and a double. The homer was the Duke's 389th, giving him a tie with Ralph Kiner for seventh place on the all-time list.

Both Phillie home runs came off Dodger starter Roger Craig. The Giants finally won it when winning reliever Jim Duffalo doubled in the 12th and Felipe Alou and Harvey Kuenn followed with singles Duffalo forced in a run in the 11th with a bases-loaded walk, but Hobie Landrith pulled the Giants square again with a home run in their half. Ed Bresnold smacked a three-run homer off Pirate starter Harvey Haddix and Rocky Nelson homered off Jack Sanford, the Giants' starting pitcher.

Lindy McDaniel, the Cards' reliever ace, forced in the winning run at Milwaukee by walking pinch-hitter Mel Roach on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded in the 11th. Seth Morehead was the winner. Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham, who drove in three runs, homered for the Cards.

Maxwell Is A Stroke Back At Greensboro

By KEN ALYTA
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Charlie Sifford carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $22,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament, and if the Los Angeles Negro professional continues his daily improvement pattern over the Sedgfield Country Club course he will be hard to catch.

Sifford shot a three under par 68 to lead a field of 115 by a stroke in Thursday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament. Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., was next at 69.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., and Greensboro amateur Bill Harvey, paired together, posted 70s to share third place.

Six pros carded par 71s to tie for fifth place. Heading the lot was Sam Snead, defending champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and seven-time winner here. Tied with him were Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif.; Carolinas PGA champion Avery Beck from Kingston, N.C., and Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Buddy Sullivan, Yuba City, Calif.; and Bob Shave, Willoughby, Ohio.

Short, But Important

While the achievement of Russia in sending a man into space and safely returning him is being saluted, it is proper to keep in focus some of our own potentialities.

The headlines, for obvious reasons, went to the man-in-space story, and to the stories back of it which meant that the Russians had developed rocket engines capable of great thrust.

Out of Los Angeles on the same day came a three paragraph Associated Press story which bears significance all out of proportion to its lack of prominence.

Crux of it was this: The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that Rocketdyne's new FL liquid propellant rocket engine fired at the level of 1.64 million pounds of thrust, making it easily the most powerful single-chamber rocket engine of this country. This level was maintained for a period of 13 seconds last week. While there is manifestly a considerable gap between the test station and an operational engine, the test clearly demonstrates the engine's capabilities.

Such an instrument is within itself able to perform well beyond anything we now have on the launching pads. Combined in a cluster, the United States is on the brink of possessing power to hurl substantial tonnage into space. Engineers envision something on the order of 6 to 9 million pounds of thrust.

While this does not take anything away from the feat of the Russians, it does offer promise that in one important area we may be on the threshold of matching power.

Give Them A Pat On The Back

An El Paso youth, of Latin American extraction, has just returned from the experience of a lifetime—an audience with the President. He was chosen from among the membership in Boys Clubs across the country because of his outstanding record in "juvenile decency."

We like the phrase because it seems an antidote for the shopworn phrase of juvenile delinquency, and because it takes a positive approach to the problem.

Being a national promotion, this naturally has focused attention on the wholesome side of youth activity, but in an abstract sort of way.

The positive approach is by no means a novel suggestion, but sometime we deplore the negative and give only lip service to the positive. Where could there be a better opportunity to make constructive use of the positive than on the local level.

Recognition left to the general percentage of chance may not be meted out, but if some specific means or standards for special recognition are set up, we will get around to it. The normal, wholesome kids are due a public pat on the back.

Marquis Childs Those Fire-Eating Speeches

WASHINGTON—Another round of the admirals versus the White House and official authority has come to light. It proves, as though any proof were needed, that on the right to make fire-eating speeches an admiral never says die.

The admiral in this instance is Rear Admiral Samuel B. Frankel, deputy director of naval intelligence. Frankel, who spent four years in Murmansk in Russia's far north during the war supervising lend-lease shipments and has since then been to be delivered in Texas.

IN THE NORMAL routine the draft was submitted to Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs Arthur Sylvester by Rear Admiral Daniel F. Smith Jr., Navy Chief of Information. The first three-fourths of Admiral Frankel's speech was little more than an exposition of the nature of the Communist conspiracy such as is familiar to anyone with a rudimentary knowledge of world affairs.

It did say, however, that the "one world" concept was a Communist idea. Sylvester pointed out that this was a reflection on the late Wendell Willkie, who fathered that concept. In the discussion of the Yalta Conference Franklin Roosevelt came out badly as compared to both Stalin and Churchill.

BUT THE KICKER was in the last three pages. There Frankel said, in effect, that anyone who undertook to negotiate with the Russians was obviously deluded. Sylvester pointed out that this was a serious reflection on the President, who has repeatedly expressed his belief in negotiation and whose negotiators are in Geneva trying to reach a nuclear test-ban agreement with the British and the Soviets. Moreover, as he also pointed out, this was a slur on former President Eisenhower, who twice met with Premier Khrushchev for firsthand negotiation.

ANYONE thinking this would end the matter obviously does not know the Navy. In fact, the speech had already been sent to the White House in hope of getting clearance from on high.

More surprising was the fact that Under Secretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay Jr. wanted to argue the case with Press Secretary Pierre Salinger. Fay, a long-time friend of President Kennedy, demanded to know why an admiral should not have the right to express his opinions.

"But, surely, you should see that this is a serious reflection on your friend, the President," Salinger said.

IN THE END, with the President's approval, Sylvester's authority was upheld. The Geneva test-ban talks happen to be in a singularly precarious and uncertain status, when any loud and irrelevant voices raised from this side of the ocean could do more than ordinary damage.

Under the President's direction a great effort was made to get all elements—the State Department, Pentagon, Atomic Energy Commission—to agree on a unified position for the test talks when they resumed on March 21. This meant enforcing at least a truce in the internecine warfare that in the past has divided the government and made the task of American negotiators difficult, if not impossible.

THE NEXT STEP was to concert the American position with that of the British, who have all along been more confident of an agreement and more willing to compromise. This, too, was achieved and the West went into the resumed talks with a comprehensive proposal, including several important concessions.

What the Western negotiators came up against almost at once was the Soviet demand for a three-man control and inspection system, paralleling the demand for a tripartite direction of the United Nations. This would mean a built-in veto and is, therefore, wholly unacceptable.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY understands not only that it may be necessary in the near future to break off the Geneva talks but also, it can be said on the best authority, he knows that not long after that he will have to order new underground nuclear tests. What becomes supremely important is to make the neutral and uncommitted world understand that the West at Geneva has sought in all good faith to get a test ban with proper inspection and that failure, if it finally comes, is due to Soviet intransigence.

IN THIS CONTEXT the propaganda value of an American admiral saying that anyone negotiating with the Soviets is deluded should be obvious enough. It would be carried to the far corners of the earth by the Soviet's vast propaganda system to try to prove that the United States really wanted to sabotage the Geneva talks.

When this reporter was in the Soviet Union in 1952 Admiral Arleigh Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, made a fire-eating speech that got big billing in every Soviet newspaper. Here was proof the Americans were warmongers. It is to try to prevent giving the Communists such generous propaganda handouts that the Kennedy Administration is restraining the generals and the admirals.

Attendance Record

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Irvin G. Hildebrand, 90, probably holds some sort of record for attendance at school board meetings. Since 1918 Hildebrand has attended some 595 monthly sessions of the Cornaugh Township School Board, missing only about five times.

A retired steelworker, Hildebrand explains that "Besides keeping up on school business, I just like to go to the meetings." He has 8 children, 12 grand-children and 9 great-grandchildren.

Odd Sheep

CHURCHVILLE, Va. (AP)—W. W. Ashby, Augusta county farmer, has one of the oddest flocks of sheep in the country. They were captured in 1958 on an island off the North Carolina coast and are thought to be survivors of a ship wreck. Ashby says they have extremely small horns and can run like deer.

Deer Rescue

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—A frightened little deer on a floating ice cake in the Potomac River caused a lot of excitement. The Navy responded to civilian calls and "tried to blow" the ice to shore with a helicopter. Then a Coast Guard tug rescued the animal. The Washington Animal Rescue League gave it shelter before releasing it on a Virginia farm.

DON'T PROCRASTINATE . . . INNOCULATE

Sam Dawson Big Business Under Glass Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The very bigness of big business is again under the glare of the U.S. Justice Department. Size fascinates the public, too.

The government charges that General Motors by the size of its freight business with the railroads was able to get them to buy its locomotives rather than those of its competitors.

GM denies this. But the public as well as Washington is likely to give the virtues and faults of big business another going over.

What the Justice Department is concerned with is the concentration of power which the giants in one industry may achieve — and how they use it.

THE PUBLIC HAS been fascinated for years by the growth rate and the size itself of the giants. It also notes that they seem to grow, or at least hold their own, in slack times, while smaller firms falter. And many debaters question the chances of small firms to start or prosper in fields conspicuous for giants.

Bigness in business can be measured in three ways—assets, sales, or profits. Many companies show up near the top in all three. But the measures produce different ratings and sometimes radically different lists.

GM led in sales in 1960, for example. But it was topped in assets by American Telephone & Telegraph, and Jersey Standard Oil, and in profits by AT&T, with the Jersey company third.

HERE ARE THE top companies in the nation, as reported by Standard & Poor's:

In sales: General Motors, $12.74 billion; Jersey Standard, 8.69 billion; AT&T 7.92 billion; Ford Motor, 5.24 billion; A&P 5.09 billion; General Electric 4.19 billion. The same companies were in the same order the previous year.

In assets: AT&T $27.81 billion; Jersey Standard 10.09 billion; GM, 7.84 billion; U.S. Steel 4.63 billion; Gulf Oil, 3.94; Ford, 3.76 billion. In the previous year the order was the same except that Ford then led Gulf.

In net profits: AT&T $1.21 billion; GM, 959 million; Jersey Standard, 688 million; Ford 428 million; Texaco 392 million; Du Pont 389 million. The first four held their positions from the previous year, but in 1960 Texaco pulled ahead of Du Pont.

So Much For Girls

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor John Forsythe says his "Bachelor Father" TV series has swung away from the pure girl-chasing theme that dominated it at first.

"After 10 episodes we discovered we had no place to go," the actor says. "We encountered all kinds of problems.

"I won't rap other shows, but I watch Tab Hunter in his series and I have to feel sorry. We found out early that chasing girls—fun for fun's sake—isn't the answer on TV, unless you leaven it with a little reality."

Forsythe says his series now searches for "an element of sweetness, plenty of comedy—but still now and then a nice touching moment, a mood, an aura, an unspoken concern among those who feel something for each other."

To Your Good Health There Are Two Types Of Heart Block

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: How does a heart block act and how can it be alleviated? Does a burning sensation from the knees down result from it?—G.H."

Each time your heart beats, thousands of times a day, it beats because your body transmits a signal to the heart. This is true of anything the body does—whether you breathe, cough, itch, hiccup, yawn, get hungry, etc. Don't worry about this wonderful system. It's as automatic as pulling your hand back when you touch a hot stove. It's so fast that you can't possibly influence it voluntarily.

In the case of heart block, the impulse which tells the heart to beat is delayed. There are two types of it—and let's not spend time distinguishing between them technically. Leave that to the hard-working medical students.

For practical purposes, let's just say this: One type can cause symptoms of which the patient is aware. But modern medical knowledge can help this type in most cases. The other type, while present, does not produce any symptoms which the patient can notice.

Cardiograms can tell them apart. After that, it's up to your doctor to do the work—and these days, he can, even though a few years ago he was helpless.

Neither type, however, can cause a burning sensation in the legs. That must be from something else.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old daughter has a sore throat and colds all winter and spring. Is she too young to have her tonsils out?—A.C."

Not as a rule. In fact, the ages from three to five have been recommended for this type of operation—provided, of course, that it is necessary.

"Dear Dr. Molner: This is the third time I have asked this question. Please answer as I am awfully worried. My hair falls out on the lower back part of my head. Can you tell what causes this? And what can I do?—J.B."

I've said more than three times in this column that there isn't any possible way I can even guess what causes hair loss in any particular case, just from a description.

If some skin disease is present—and this is a real possibility—the only wise and effective thing for you to do is to have a skin specialist identify the trouble, and then decide what treatment will correct it.

In many cases of baldness, indeed, in most cases, it's a matter of heredity and there's nothing to be done. If the loss of hair occurs in an unusual pattern, sometimes it is an incidental matter which presently corrects itself. And sometimes it's the result of a skin disease. For that, there is no substitute for going to your doctor or having him refer you to a skin specialist.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes a double chin and what should be done about it?—A.B."

You're kidding me, I suppose. But if you're serious—excess weight is the cause. Losing weight may, or may not, correct it afterward, because the skin and muscles, stretched by the fat, may not spring back into their old position. If it's severe enough to warrant it, and you want to spend the money, plastic surgery can help.

NOTE TO MRS. C. M.: There is no reason whatsoever why you should not marry after having had a hysterectomy. You can't have children, of course, but that is the only difference.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his leaflet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great number received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Hard Lesson On Extremes

Many years ago, I had the privilege of working for a fine citizen who was a liberal, the sensible kind who could be counted on to be sensibly conservative should the occasion call for it.

Rightists, naturally, were against my candidate. The ultra-rightists were very much against him, and it was they who bent every effort, no matter how crude or dishonorable, to defeat him. He was, of course, charged with being a Communist, which was not true. When he discovered a few Reds had sneaked into his organization, he quietly gave them the boot.

A HARD LESSON came just before election day. The Communists are a rule-or-ruin bunch of plotters. If they cannot control or influence a man, they seek to ruin him, and the best way to do this to a liberal is by the "kiss of death" technique.

The Daily Worker published a front page editorial in which my candidate was praised as one of the leading champions of the "socialist" cause. The lesson I learned was that Communist and fascist will work together when it profits both. The Reds made hundreds of thousands copies of their paper available to the super-rightists, who left them in East Texas farmers' mailboxes the day before election.

That the extremists will work together was illustrated early in World War II when the Nazis and Communists were close allies, before Hitler got ambitious and tried to knock off Stalin. As the victorious Russians advanced through Eastern Europe, they recruited largely among the fascist elements, for both were authoritarian and it was a simple matter of switching only a few dogmas to change from one to the other.

WE HAVE HAD various ultra-right movements in this country, but few have shown their colors like the latest. This one is frankly and admittedly authoritarian.

The objective of attempting to restore a morality which allegedly has been lost may be commendable, but the morality is suspect when it makes use of some of the basic Communist methods in fighting communism.

The fallacy is in failing to perceive that some technical methods might well be copied without hurting ourselves, but these are better used by the FBI and counter-intelligence agencies. These trained and skilled servants are not naive and are well schooled in Communist methods and objectives and are proficiently analytical in their approach to it.

Authoritarianism is manifestly totalitarian, and to embrace it is to run the danger of becoming part of it.

Practical Jokes Always With Us

For the life of me, I cannot figure out why a practical joke is called "practical." Off and on for a good many years, I have given this matter my serious attention, and I still have not come up with a sensible answer. But, again, it is just possible that I have been going about wrong and to that "serious" and "sensible" precludes any intelligent approach to the practical joke.

ANYWAY, I have just been made privy to a practical joke that is rousing ghoulish hilarity or atavistic rage, depending on whether you are on the receiving or the sending end of the gag. Some persons have gone to the expense of having a record cut, which they play into a telephone once they have chosen a number at random from the phone book and dialed it.

When the victim answers with a hearty "hello," the canned message he hears, in treacle tones, is:

"THE NUM-BAH you have just reached is a wrong num-bah. Will you please hang up and consult your telephone directory for the proper use of your telephone. Thank you-u-u-u. The num-bah you have just reached—"

And so it goes until the victim slams down the telephone, with evil imprecations upon the instrument.

Naturally, any right-thinking citizen would be filled with raging indignation at such a scurvy trick, particularly when the victim is called to the phone 20 minutes later, only to hear the same honeyed message.

BUT INSTEAD of filling me with indignation, it filled me with recollection of my sweet, misspent youth and the long ago.

To begin at the beginning, when I first came to New York more than 30 years ago, Westbrook Pegler, then the greatest sports writer and columnist of the day, and his Julie took me under their protective wings and were kindness itself to me.

It was from Peg, in those far-off days, that I first heard about The American Disturbance Corporation, formed by a group of his acquaintances. It was the custom of the directors and stockholders of this corporation, when they called it a day at 2, 3 or 4 a.m., to flip open the telephone directory, choose a number at random and call it.

WHEN THE victim answered the phone, he heard, in dulcet tones:

"This is your friendly American Disturbance Corporation. We have been employed by a client to disturb you at your convenience. Are we disturbing you, sir?"

Then, while the victim gathered his strength and his rage, the patter went: "If memory holds—no—somehow like this—Do you find our service satisfactory, sir?"

AT THIS POINT the victim was usually bellowing like the bulls of Bashan, and the director of the friendly American Disturbance Corporation would inquire, eagerly:

"Oh, you do, do you, sir? Then would you recommend our services to your friends?"

By this time, if the fall guy hadn't already shattered the night and his tormentor's ears by slamming down the receiver or pulling the phone out by its roots, the parting shot was:

"AND NOW, SIR, this is your friendly American Disturbance Corporation wishing you a pleasant good night and sweet sleep. Be assured of our friendly interest and that our efficient service will soon disturb you again."

Sometimes the directors and stockholders of the corporation let their victim have a 20-minute respite in which to drop off to sleep again before putting in the second call. Sometimes, they just let him doze fitfully through the rest of the night, waiting for the call that never came.

It sounds awful now. But in my unregenerated youth I laughed and laughed like little Audrey. The only moral, as far as I can see, is that practical jokes like everything else in life, run in "822" cycles.

David Lawrence Wait Till JFK Gives His Tax Plan

WASHINGTON — Within a few days the American people will get for the first time some basic information which will enable them to begin to make up their minds whether or not they like their new President.

FOR WHAT has happened thus far hasn't really been decisive. It doesn't matter much whether the Kennedy household hires a French chef or whether the "Peace Corps" is going to convert native Africans to civilization. What does matter is whether the federal government is going to collect more tax money out of the worker's take-home pay.

The President is planning to send his tax message to Congress next week. It has been delayed for unexplained reasons, though it is widely suspected that the drafts of the message proposed by the President's "task forces" and advisers—the "theoretical" boys—have run into some penetrating criticism from members of Congress—the "practical" boys.

TAX RATES and regulations are at present a complicated affair that cannot be defended as either equitable or productive of adequate tax revenues. There isn't, to be sure, any tax system that will yield enough revenue for the "spenders." But the important fact today about new taxes is not whether they are going to be made more equitable as between different classes of taxpayers, but whether forthcoming changes will disrupt the economic stability of the country for a long time to come. Far from being a cure for recession, tax changes can prolong a recession by producing a disequilibrium in the economy.

THE AVERAGE citizen, will be affected in many ways and particularly in his purchasing power. It seems ironical that, with all the talk about increasing consumer power to buy, the government should be considering a tax program that will curtail incomes for many people and many businesses.

Take, for instance, the Social Security taxes which affect almost everybody. Some will go up in a few months, and some will be further increased at the end of next year. If Congress goes ahead with pension changes and medical care for the aged, the Social Security taxes on the whole program will go up by nearly 33 per cent on a person who makes a little less than $90 a week. Thus, the man who earns $4,800 a year or more now pays $144 a year in Social Security taxes, but the amount the federal government will take from him will go up to $193.75. This means that the employer and the employee together will pay nearly $100 a year more than they do now. This may subtract billions of dollars in purchasing power.

PERHAPS the most irritating change is coming in the plan to withhold taxes on interest and dividends at the source. Low-income persons, especially retired people who do not have much income, will find their regular monthly stipend decreased. Also, if the companies have withheld more than later will be found due in taxes on certain individuals, a lot of red tape and plenty of time will be necessary before the money improperly collected will be refunded.

There's another item that will cause much controversy. It is the proposal to remove the limited tax credit on dividends. The argument against full taxation of dividends is that the citizen is taxed doubly if he puts his money in a corporation but not if it is invested in a partnership or a proprietorship. The argument being made here in favor of it is that "double taxation" is a myth.

ANOTHER PLAN of the administration calls for an increase in certain taxes which will add to the cost of tires, tubes and the like. This isn't going to help business, either.

All this adds up to painful change—an impact on the economy which may not be felt for some months but would appear to be inevitable.

Once the tax message of the President is sent to Congress, it will be interesting to see what happens to the popularity curve of the President in the Gallup Poll. (Copyright, 1961, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Pardon Waiting

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Lewis Bennett, ordered freed from prison after another man confessed to the crime, kept waiting for his pardon from the governor. And, the governor kept waiting for him to pick it up. It took a news story to bring them together.

Capt. Price Is Honor Pilot

Capt. Bowman A. Price, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, was selected as Pilot Training Group's instructor of the month for March. He was among those honored at the monthly group dinner at the Webb AFB officers club recently.

Capt. Price served in the enlisted ranks from June, 1950 until April, 1953 when he received his commission. He completed aircraft and engine mechanic school at Sheppard AFB and served as a B-36 mechanic at Rapid City, S. D., before going to James Connally AFB, Waco, for cadet training.

He earned his radar observer rating at James Connally, and served in F-94C and F-89D outfits at Oxnard AFB, Calif., prior to entering pilot training. He won his pilot's wings at Webb in August, 1957.

Capt. Price has taken the U.S. Air Force's off-duty courses to complete the squadron officer school, intelligence officer, and military affairs correspondence courses and is presently working on the Air Command staff course.

U.S. Keeps Silent On Data From Russian Space Shots

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is keeping a tight lip on information about Soviet space shots and Pentagon officials said today the aim is to avoid giving the Soviets an idea of the effectiveness of U.S. tracking facilities and intelligence.

Officials, who told this to a reporter, said another purpose was to deny the Soviets what was termed advertising on their space achievements.

A Defense Department spokesman said that, among other things, there would be no public disclosure when U.S. tracking stations pick up a Soviet rocket launching until after the Soviets announce it themselves.

The policy was described as an extension of one formed late in the Eisenhower administration. NASA then was assigned as the outlet for unclassified orbital information on satellites.

There was considerable confusion Wednesday when news outlets sought information from NASA on the Soviet manned space flight.

Space agency officials said they had been tracking an object in the approximate path of the satellite, but that it presumably had burned out casing of the rocket that carried the craft into space. The first contact they returned to earth in his case.

To newsmen, this pointed to the Pentagon, since the Navy and Air Force do most of the tracking work.

Only then did the Pentagon say it had been aware, in advance of the Soviet announcement, that there had been a Soviet space launch. But it would not say how the information was obtained.

Later in the afternoon, a NASA spokesman said he had learned that the capsule as well as the rocket case had been tracked, although not by NASA's own stations. The vehicle, he said, was tracked by "other facilities available to the government," presumably a reference to Defense Department trackers.

Hospital Leads Safety Race

Webb's 3560th USAF Hospital, holders of the 1960 Fire Prevention plaque, topped all base units in Accident Prevention during the year.

With organizations assessed weighted points (according to the gravity of incidents and persons involved), the medics finished the quarter with the highest rating. The unit is to receive the symbolic flag.

The Medics were charged with one airman incident (50 points); one NCO incident (100); and one officer incident (100). If these had not been reported, the penalty would have been doubled, Lloyd D. Harp, wing ground safety officer, reminded. And that, he added, would put the hospital in third or fourth place. Most incidents, Harp said, were moving traffic violations. Officers in Wing, M.A.S., Civil Engineering, Weather, AACS and FTD had clean slates for the three months.

Little Girl Has Lots Of Brothers

By DOROTHY HAMILL

Johnson City Press-Chronicle
JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP)—You might find a little girl with fancier frocks, or with more toys, or even with bluer eyes.

But you'd have to search a long time to find a little girl with more brothers.

Barbara Anne Harrison has 13, and all of them are her big brothers.

Barbara Anne was born April 28, 1958, the first daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Emory Harrison, Rt. 5, Jonesboro.

The Harrisons had 14 boys—one died—before Barbara Anne was born.

How does it feel having a girl in the family after all this time?

"Why, the boys all worship her," Mrs. Harrison exclaimed.

"And she's crazy about her brothers. Only, her daddy is tops.

As for him, he's just foolish about her. He always did want a little girl."

The flaxen-haired, blue-eyed tot, so rich in brothers, has eight of them living at home with her. They are Bob, 20; Ray, 17; John, 14; Richard, 13; David, 12; Gordon, 10; Foy, 9; and Houston, 7.

The other five are married—Guy, 24; G.N., 23; Carmel, 22; Sam, 21; and Haskell, 19. All of them are farmers like their daddy.

Asked how they felt about the appearance of Barbara Anne, John had a succinct answer: "It was nice to have a little sister. It was—different!"

When Barbara Anne was born, her parents couldn't believe they had a girl.

"I couldn't sleep right after she came and the nurse asked me why," Mrs. Harrison said. "I told her I just couldn't believe I had a girl. She promised to bring her in the next morning, and when she did, I still wasn't sure. She didn't have a bit of hair and looked exactly like a boy."

"I'll tell you one thing, though, a girl's a lot rougher on clothes and shoes than boys."

"But no bristles on her," Harrison stated firmly. "We had enough bristles on boys. We're going to keep her in dresses!"

Randolph Rubin To Visit Guild

Rubin will critique photos brought in by guild members and will conduct a question-and-answer session. The meeting is open to all military persons and civilian guests.

Air Force Band Schedules Big Spring Concert Tonight

The U. S. Air Force Band is in town and making some fine music. Arriving Thursday aboard two C-54 transports at Webb AFB, the 55 members went about their tedious chores preparing for two concerts here today. The first concert was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in City Auditorium, with an evening performance at 8 o'clock tonight.

The band is under the direction of Col. George S. Howard, and features the famous Singing Sergeants, vocal group.

The appearance here is sponsored by the Big Spring Shrine Club. Ticket prices for tonight's concert are two dollars each. Big Spring is the first stop on the band's 1961 spring tour. From here, the musicians go to Brownwood and other points east in Texas, coming back next week through San Angelo, Abilene, El Paso and Monahans.

The program for the matinee today included a selection from Wagner's "Lohengrin," followed by "Without a Song" by tenor Brown Bradley. Other instrumental numbers included "The Washington Star March" by Col. Howard, "Candide" by Bernstein, "The General Spaatz March" by Col. Howard, "In an 18th Century Drawing Room" by Mozart, "Brassman's Holiday" by Armentj and "The Stars and Stripes Forever March" by Sousa.

"The Worried Drummer" by Schreiner was portrayed by Robert Moore, percussionist.

Ending the matinee program were the songs "Cowboy Medley" and "Air Force Portrait" by the Singing Sergeants.

The program for the evening performance:

"Princess Jaune Overture" by Saint-Saens, "Flirtations" by Clark (trumpet trio by Arthur Will, Jack Farby and Legh Burns), "La Fiesta Mexicana" by Reed, "This Is Show Business" and "Gallia" by the Singing Sergeants with William Dupree, tenor.

After the intermission:

Third movement of "Symphony in C Minor" by Williams, "Una Purfiva Legrima" by Donizetti, sung by Dupree, "Fireworks" by DeGastyne, four contrasting marches, and the Singing Sergeants with "Air Force Portrait" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

The National Anthem opens all Air Force Band programs.

Report General Pushed Birch Ideas Among Troops

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker could not be reached for comment today on a report he promoted the ideas of the John Birch Society among American troops under his command in Germany.

The report appeared in the Overseas Weekly, a privately-owned newspaper published in Frankfurt for circulation among U. S. servicemen in Europe.

The society's tactics in campaigning against communism have aroused controversy in the United States.

The Overseas Weekly said Walker, commander of the 24th Infantry Division in Augsburg, set up a "special warfare" office that distributed literature of the society throughout the division and that the division newspaper "Taro Leaf" reprinted material put out by the organization.

The service newspaper, which has no official connection with the Army, also reported that Walker had charged in a speech before an American PTA group in Augsburg that 60 per cent of the American press and radio-TV industry were Communists and that former President Harry S.

Truman, Dean Acheson and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt were "definitely pink."

A Pentagon spokesman in Washington said the Army had "no knowledge of any such activity" by Walker, who is a combat veteran of World War II and Korea.

The Army announced last Sunday that Walker is being shifted to the United States in August to take over the 8th Corps in Texas.

An Army spokesman said Thursday the move was routine and any idea that it was connected with the story in the Overseas Weekly was "absolutely false and without foundation."

When the Righteous Suffer

HOW A CHILD OF GOD REACTED TO AN EXPERIENCE OF GREAT LOSSES AND SUFFERING ALLOWED BY GOD TO COME INTO HIS LIFE

Scripture—Job 1-2; 19:13-26; James 1:12-15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"THERE WAS a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect; upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil."—Job 1:1.

He was a rich man—owning many sheep, camels, oxen and asses, "and a very great household"—and a great man in the East.

He had seven sons and three daughters, and they were apparently a congenial and happy family.

"Now there was a day when the sons of Job came to present themselves before the Lord, and themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them. And the Lord said unto Satan, 'Hast thou considered My servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?'"

Satan answered, sarcastically, "Doubt thou, God fear God!"

GOLDEN TEXT

"Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love Him."—James 1:12.

Satan also said that the Lord had "hedged Job about" so that he had prospered. "But put forth and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil."—Job 1:10-11.

"And the Lord said unto Satan, behold, he is in thy hand; but save his life."—Job 2:6.

Satan "smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown."—Job 2:7.

Job felt that he had no friends left, and even his wife told him to "curse God and die." But Job said, "What? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil?"—Job 2:9-10.

Three friends heard of Job's misfortunes and came to comfort him—Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar. They stayed with him seven days and seven nights, but did not speak to him, "for they saw his grief was very great."—Job 2:11-13.

SUNDAY SCHOOL Attendance Is Up And Climbing

With all the special services that have been conducted in local churches since Easter, and the many revivals concluded, one would think this would be a rest time for Big Spring churches.

But now the work really begins and church workers are preparing to keep Sunday School attendance up during the oncoming summer months. Sunday school attendance during the past year was reported favorably as Sunday School attendance during the past year.

March was a good month Sunday School wise and the upward trend is expected to continue through Spring. A drop in attendance is anticipated as soon as summer vacation arrives. On average during the summer months, families are easily tempted to skip church and Sunday school for a trip to a nearby lake.

A campaign to encourage Sunday school attendance currently is being conducted by the East Fourth Baptist Church, which has set an attendance goal of 450 and an enrollment goal of 867. For the past three weeks attendance has surpassed 400; last year's average was 300.

Phillips Memorial Baptist also reports an increase in attendance with more than 200 the past two Sundays. Last year's average during March was 127. Wesley Methodist Church hit a peak of more than 300 this Spring as compared to 264 during March of last year. In a six month period of this year, Baptist Temple Church nearly surpassed last year's attendance average of 333. The six month average is 321.

"We are always doing things to encourage more people to attend Sunday School," expresses the secretary at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The average attendance for the year has been 350, which is much more than last year's attendance.

A general consensus of opinion of church workers is that Sunday

"IN THE BEGINNING GOD CREATED—"

Time, power, space, action and matter and five basic entities with which man has to do; this or with these is the sum total of his physical life. These five and all contained in the first book, chapter and verse of the Bible: Beginning—Time. God—Power. Created—Action. Heaven—Space. Earth—Matter. All design must have a designer. What ever is made must have a maker. All law must have a lawgiver. Creation must have a creator. "That which may be known of God is manifested" unto man "for God hath showed himself unto them"—Romans 1:19-22, but men have become fools while professing themselves to be wise; Man by nature is a worshipper; he either worships the true God of heaven by the scriptures of the Prophets and the Apostles "in spirit and in truth, or else he deifies an animal, a crocodile, an eagle or even deifies his own thinking, some have stupidly made a god of themselves." "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God," Psa. 14:1. The fool says all there is in the physical realm is accidental. And what ever cannot be explained by man is but a myth, thus in the song of the fool he exalts his own feeble mind and strives to make rationalism supreme. "The greatest shock would be to find that it all happened by accident" so said an expert on the star systems from Columbia University. "What is behind the origin of life? For me I prefer the belief in a creator-supernatural" so spoke a professor on Anthropology from Wayne University. An outstanding Mineralogist from Columbia said, "I cannot believe the facts of science are mere accidents. The more we study the earth, the more sense it makes. Our findings give us more of a background for our faith. I do not believe as some do that our faith is becoming vague."

"Without faith it is impossible to please God, for he that cometh to him must believe that he is and that he is the rewarder of them that diligently seek him"—Heb. 11:6. "Listen, it is the eternal speaking—Be not too proud to hearken; Do honour to the eternal, to your God, before the darkness falls; before your footsteps stumble on the twilight hills, before the gleam you look for turns to dense dead gloom. "If you will not listen, then I must weep in secret for your pride. Mine eyes streaming with tears, for the Eternal's flock borne off to exile."
Amer. Translation of Jer. 13:15-17.

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

MY WISH

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	18	1-6
Monday	Psalms	144	11-12
Tuesday	I John	4	4-7
Wednesday	Proverbs	14	1
Thursday	Ecclesiastes	1	15-16
Friday	I Samuel	2	1-3
Saturday	John	15	5-8

Three is such a tender age. Sue isn't a baby any more, yet she's a long way from being a big girl.

When I watched her blowing out the candles on her cake, I felt a surge of that certain kind of love reserved for mothers. And, while she made her wish, I made mine.

I wished, first, that I might be given the gift of memory, so that I would never forget a child's point of view—the importance of even the littlest promises, the oldest dolls, the smallest nothings.

I wished that I might be given the wisdom to care for Sue's body, mind, and soul. And I was deeply grateful that I had the Church to help me teach her right from wrong, and to aid me in endowing her with a rich measure of faith, of love, and of tolerance toward her fellow man.

Thinking it over, I guess that my wish for Sue might be called a prayer. Each Sunday, in church, I find myself repeating it.

Variety Is Word For TV Viewings

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP TV - Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP)—Variety is the word for television programs of special interest during the next week. The variations range from the motion picture Oscar award ceremonies to an original drama about a Sicilian outlaw.
 Tonight, in addition to the regular musical Telephone Hour (NBC 9-10 EST), there is another edition of ABC's "Close-Up" (10-10:30-11), this a timely reminiscence of Nazi death camps by Simon Gutter, who survived eight of them.
 On Saturday afternoon British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery and American historian Henry Steele Commager continue their conversations about the Civil War on CBS' "Accent" (2:30-2:55). NBC's final "Omnibus" of the season on Sunday (5-6 p.m.) will be a study of the Western Hemisphere. Comedian Bud Abbott makes his debut as a dramatic actor on GE Theatre (CBS, 9:30-10) in "The Joke's On Me," and there is another NBC "White Paper" (10-11) called "Anatomy of a Hospital."
 Big TV event of Monday is the Oscar awards show on ABC-10:30 p.m. until the last golden statuette is handed out. Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies. The usual number of stars will be on hand.
 "Cry Vengeance," with Ben Gazzara and Sal Mineo, will be NBC's Tuesday night special (10-11) and is a tragic tale of a Sicilian Robin Hood. It conflicts with ABC's "Close-Up" (10-10:30), another study of communism in Cuba.
 Arthur Godfrey will be ringmaster on Thursday night (8-9) in CBS' special "Highlights of the 1961 Circus." There is also a Pat Boone musical special on ABC (8:30-9:30) and Ernie Kovacs will have a comedy special in place of the usual "Silents Please" (ABC, 10:30-11).
Mother's Day Contest Slated
 A Mother's Day letter contest has been announced by the John H. Lees Service Club. Prize will go to the airman writing the best letter to his mother for the occasion.
 Airmen must send to the Service Club a copy of the letter entry and outstanding letters will be published or posted on the club bulletin board. Final day for sending in entries is May 5.
 The three judges will be Mrs. George C. Moench, assistant club director; Mrs. George E. Ray, of the Servicemen's Wives Club and a member of the Wing Information Office staff.

Safest Airmen To Get Awards
 the quarterly ground safety meeting will be Wing Commander Col. Donald W. Eisenhart. Due for a $100 incentive check at the meeting is the 3560th USAF Hospital, safest unit at the base as of the first quarter of the year. The Medics will also receive the base safety pennant.

That's How I'd Do It
 Airman E.C. Herman "Red" Elitzky wields a massive bass fiddle, for the forthcoming talent contest at John H. Lees Service Club. He does not play, but the variety show, scheduled for April 21, is to include 15 big acts. Winners will go to the Command eliminations at James Connally AFB, Waco, in May.
