CROWD ON HAND FOR FREE GROCERIES . . . grand rush at county surplus commodity distribution center

County's First Experience In Food Distribution Hectic

Howard County's first day experience in the distribution of surplus foods to its needy residents was somewhat chaotic and hectic.

How many of the family heads, certified to receive the free foods, served during the initial day was not available. Lack of experience in handling the commodities and the crowd posed a problem which the county commissioners, court and the county welfare department hopes will be eliminated at future operations.

The 12 tons of surplus foods assigned to the county for its first month's supply was holding out well. Only the stock of peanut butter seemed likely to be inadequate to the demand.

Children Crowd In For Shots

Some 220 to 230 elementary-school-age children received inoculations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, polio and smallpox at the Howard County Health Unit Tuesday afternoon.

All available parking space in front of the distribution building on North Lancaster was occupied. A large number of applicants for aid were on hand, waiting their turn to be served. Bulk of those on hand were Latin-American and Negro.

Plans call for the center to be operated on each Wednesday. The welfare department hopes to organize the activity in such a way that the total number of certified recipients can be handled in some orderly fashion so as to eliminate the confusion which prevailed today.

Castro Hedging On Tractor Deal

DETROIT (AP)—Leaders of a citizens' movement today studied a cable from Prime Minister Fidel Castro giving his latest conditions for further negotiations on swapping 1,200 Cuban invasion prisoners for 500 American tractors.

Castro indicated he still stood by an offer he first made May 17 for such a deal. But his cable—described as verbose as his speeches—hedged on details.

Competitive Sports Going Out For 7th, 8th Grades

Competitive athletics will be eliminated from the seventh and eighth grades in all Big Spring Junior High Schools by 1963.

Effective Sept. 1, 1962, the seventh grade program will be eliminated. In 1963, the 8th grade will go too.

Johnny Johnson, the only board member to vote against the motion, brought up the question of detriment to high school athletics.

E. S. "Pat" Murphy, assistant superintendent of business and a former coach, stated competitive athletics did not do enough good to justify their expense and the time they took away from scholastic pursuits.

"You cannot teach boys that young the fundamentals of football or any other sport," he said. "All they want to do is play and there are other ways to achieve the benefits of recreation."

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

To salute the new Republic of South Africa (formerly the Union of South Africa), that nation is issuing its first set of stamps which were designed after a world-wide competition. There are 13 stamps in the set. Eleven show birds and animals. The remaining two depict the docks at Capetown and the pouring of gold, symbolizing one of South Africa's major industries.

The wording on the stamps is in Afrikaans and English. Values range from the half-cent South African to the 1 rand ($1.40 U.S.).

Court Reverses Record Award

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The biggest award ever made by a Florida jury in a contested damage suit has been reversed by the District Court of Appeals. A $473,000 judgment was given Lawrence Keegan, 18, after he was paralyzed from the neck down as a result of a dive into shallow water at Miami Beach in 1958. The St. Paul, Minn., youth claimed the Biltmore Terrace Hotel was negligent in not warning guests that the water was shallow below a four-foot seawall. But the appeals court Tuesday said "to require a warning under such circumstances would be as ludicrous as requiring a sign on the top of an office building reading, 'Don't jump off here.'"

Bobby Hopes For End To Race Violence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy today expressed the hope that the United States will never again see the kind of racial violence which forced him to send a task force of U.S. marshals into Alabama.

"We cannot expect that our problems and difficulties in connection with civil rights in the South will be solved without discord and disagreement. But we do have a right to expect that local law enforcement officers will do their jobs at all times; that they will preserve law and order."

Speaking to police officers from across the nation who have just completed the FBI's special training course, the attorney general developed the theme that the roots of justice lie in local law enforcement.

He has charged that police officials at Birmingham and Montgomery were less than diligent in anticipating the bloody mob violence which broke out when white and Negro "Freedom Riders" tried to test racial segregation practices on interstate bus facilities in Alabama.

TWC Designated For Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas Western College of El Paso has been designated as the training site for the Peace Corps Tanganyika project.

"We had to find a university with a good college of engineering, where Swahili was taught and where the climate and terrain was like that of Tanganyika," Shriver said.

Lyndon Says U.S. Beefs Up Anti-Guerrilla Forces

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said today the Kennedy administration is beefing up counter-guerrilla forces to snuff out brush fire aggression without risking nuclear war.

"The Communists will find that a nation which produced Davy Crockett and Daniel Boone and Jim Bowie is afraid on no forest, no swamp, no game of fighting however toughly it is played."

"The administration's goals is to produce through research and development 'all those weapons of conventional warfare which will give us the utmost conventional advantage over any enemy in order to deter aggression without inviting annihilation through ultimate war with ultimate weapons.'"

He added that in response to the threats against friendly or neutral countries, "we are stepping up the training of forces adapted to the most effective counter-guerrilla operations."

BUCKET SEATS ALONE DO NOT A MONZA MAKE

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know, when we introduced the Corvair Monza last year, that we were starting a Big Thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that treats you, the driver, like you want to be treated. ■ The bucket seats, of course, are the most obvious evidence of our desire to please you. But they're not the most important thing. No sir. What's really vital is the way a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. has yet copied. Or can copy. Because Corvair is the only rear-engined car made in this country, and you know what that means: steering light as thistledown. (You even park this one more easily, it steers so briskly.) Beautifully balanced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you'll never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more: a fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can ruffle you. Clean, crisp styling. Thoroughgoing economy, from purchase price to operating cost. ■ You're not going to be satisfied with bucket seats alone, are you?

Dress Turns Inside Out

If your wardrobe has its reverses you are probably better off. For the new idea in stretching it twice as far is to include dresses that turn inside out to reveal an entirely different personality. The situation is ideal for the city slicker who packs herself off (but lightly) to the country. It also has its benefits for the country cousin who must whisk to the big town for some important shopping. Typical is the one dress above shown twice. At left, it is as rural as a hoodown with its calico side out and with the wide straw hat and tote bag. Same girl is in same dress at right, but this time its city side is up. The black and white pin stripe print is as urban as uptown.

Hat A Secret

Carol Heiss, who won the Olympic medal for figure skating, tells her energy secrets and her favorite exercises in today's Hollywood Beauty. Carol is making her film debut in "Snow White and the Three Stooges" for 20th Century-Fox.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Skater-Actress Has Tips On Health

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Four years ago, when Carol Heiss was 17, she turned down a contract offered by 20th Century-Fox, the studio where Sonja Henie had made so many successful skating pictures. Although Carol had been acclaimed World Ice Skating Champion many times, her dream of winning the Olympic championship was not accomplished until last winter.
"I worked 14 years for that gold medal," this beautiful champion told me, "and as soon as I had won it, I felt I had reached my peak and I didn't mind becoming a professional."
Carol started skating at five and at 11 was National Novice Champion.
"That medal encouraged me to go on, and sometimes I worked seven hours a day to perfect myself," Carol revealed.
She has transferred this same dedication to learning to act as the skating star of "Snow White and the Three Stooges" for Fox.
"Acting has not been a hard adjustment," Carol confessed. "I need the same concentration, discipline and timing I used in the rink."
"When you were skating so many hours, how did you maintain your energy?"
"I had three well-balanced meals a day, extra vitamins and eight hours sleep every night," Carol replied. "For quick energy in the winter, I ate real chocolate—not the kind made with substitutes. And in the summer I drank milkshakes made with orange juice, egg yolks, honey and half and half."
"Have you found it difficult to adjust to a life without exercise?"
"I still skate every day," Carol said. "And when I can't swim or play tennis, I exercise with some of my old ballet routines. I have been getting up early for years in order to skate before going to school, so it isn't a hardship for me now. I like to take time for a morning workout."
Since Snow White was a brunet, Carol had to dye her blonde hair black.
"But we will get the dye out before I go back home," Carol remarked. "My husband likes me best as a blonde." She is married to Olympic champion Hayes Allen Jenkins, who is now practicing law in Akron, Ohio.
We were chatting in Carol's dressing room, and I remarked about her lovely complexion.
"I've spent most of my life out-of-doors, and so I use a wonderful cream to keep my skin from getting chapped. And in the summer, I'm always careful to use a suntan lotion."
Carol is a soap and water girl except when she is before the cameras.
"The studio gave me an oil to use when removing my make-up. But when I'm not working, I don't wear any foundation on my skin. I am the natural type."
We talked about clothes and Carol said that she loved simple, tailored things.
"Clothes have to be comfortable," she exclaimed. "No matter how beautiful a dress is, if I can't move freely in it I don't want to wear it. I really don't follow fashion too closely, but I like the current suits with the short box jackets. I have them in red, blue and black and simply live in them when I'm traveling."
"I think bad posture detracts from the way you look in clothes," she went on. "If you practice holding your stomach flat and tighten your buttocks at the same time, you'll lift yourself higher and keep from slouching."
"When I get up in the morning, I stretch to the ceiling and then flop over and touch the floor with the palms of my hands. As I come up, I take a deep breath. This is a wonderful way to wake up your body and begin the day."
In parting I asked Carol her success formula.
"I couldn't have done it alone. My mother, my coach and I were a team," she confessed. "My goal seemed so remote that without them I might have become discouraged. You have to enjoy your work. I spent at least five hours a day for a whole year perfecting one skating turn. When perfection is your goal, you can't be impatient."

City Dads Vote Changes In Filter Plant Pay Scale

City commissioners wrestled with the pay problem of water filter plant employees during a special meeting Tuesday, and finally agreed on a plan that will cut operator paychecks by $15 a month in return for a six-day work-week.

This matter was first brought up during the March budget hearings when it was pointed out that filter plant operators worked a seven-day week. The commissioners authorized the administration to reduce the work-week to six days and hold the salary level as near the same as possible.

DEAR ABBY

Now Try For The Gold Ring

DEAR ABBY: I am 19. For the past three years I have been having a love affair with a man 52. He had a business close to my home so it was easy for me to see him every day. Someone told his wife about us, and he sold out and left town. He didn't even say goodbye.

I know he loves me because we were so happy when we were together. His wife is just hanging on to him for his money. Young men laugh at me because I am large—195 pounds. Can you help me?

DEAR ABBY: I am having trouble convincing my boy friend that he cannot run for any office in our trade union (especially president) because he got a dishonorable discharge from the service. Isn't it true that he cannot vote or run for any office, public or union?

THE GIRL FRIEND DEAR GIRL FRIEND: Your boy friend can learn the qualifications required to run for a union office from the Union Constitution. And the Secretary of State in the state where you reside can tell him whether or not he qualifies to run for public office.

DEAR ABBY: I am a refined woman over 50, have a good income and own my own home and car. I have been seeing a gentleman for the past two years. He's sort of retired. He plays cards and loafs, but is a good dresser, wonderful company, and is well-liked. I have discovered that I am getting only half of him. And I do not care for the half I am getting. He devotes Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and half of Thursday to me. But the rest of the week he is busy with a "companion" he has had for 20 years.

Knowing his income was limited, I have been paying both his way and mine when we go anywhere. He didn't buy me a valentine, saying it was just a man-made holiday for the benefit of the merchants. But he gave her one. I am very hurt over this and wonder if I shouldn't drop him for good.

HURT DEAR HURT: With your qualifications you should be able to attract other friends but, if you enjoy his company, don't "drop him" for good. Remember, half a loaf is better than none.

Baptists Rule Out Federal School Funds

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Baptist schools have been told to stop borrowing money from the federal government. The executive board of the Texas Baptist Convention made the policy changes Tuesday. Its statement was an interpretation of church-state separation and it opposed government grants and loans for construction at religious institutions.

OPPOSITION Final action will be taken from messengers to the annual Baptist Convention of Texas in Austin Nov. 7-9. The statement opposed the following as a violation of Baptist views on church-state separation: Outright government grants or direct aid to religious institutions; loans for building construction; and government surplus property offered to religious groups at a reduced rate.

The board said loans and grants to individual students was not a violation of the principle. Research grants in which the government contracts for the services of individuals within religious institutions also do not violate the principle, the board said. A 13-member church-state relations committee presented the report to the statewide Baptist board after a two-year study.

"Baptists would reject any unconstitutional any loan program for the construction of houses of worship, and that a church and its institutions cannot be separated," "It is clear," the committee said, "that the use of public credit for building church institutions is in effect using public taxes for religious purposes."

ARGUMENTS Opponents of the resolution argued that refusing to accept government loans would force the schools to use 20-year commercial loans instead of the 40-year government loans, and it would either boost room and board prices so high that students couldn't afford them or would keep the schools from building any more dormitories.

A survey by the Texas Baptist Christian Education Commission showed that within the next four years nine Baptist schools will need 15 dormitories to house 1,920 students. Estimated cost would be around $6 million, said Dr. E. N. Jones, secretary of the commission.

Baylor, Hardin-Simmons, Howard Payne, and the University of Corpus Christi have, since 1953, accepted 11 loans from the Housing and Home Finance Agency totaling $9,506,000. The resolution will not be retroactive. But it would cut off any future loans, usually at 3 per cent interest from the federal agency.

Texans Ask Fund For Water Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texans asked a House Appropriations subcommittee for $1.5 million Tuesday to be added to $45 million for work on water projects in Texas for the year starting July 1. Opposition to only one project, the LeFeria Water Control District, was voiced.

Other Texans were to appear before the committee later on other projects. Rep. Joe Kilgore asked approval of amounts recommended by the budget for these five projects in this area: $560,000 for the Brazos Island Harbor; $2,639,000 for Port Mansfield; $1.5 million for the Donna irrigation division rehabilitation project; $1,851,000 for rehabilitation in the Mercedes division of the Lower Rio Grande project and $67,000 for a survey of the proposed valley gravity diversion canal which would extend from above Rio Grande City downstream for about 150 miles to bypass salt bearing areas.

SUPPORTER Supporting Kilgore in the Port Mansfield request was Charles Johnson, port director. Aaron Godfrey of Harlingen opposed the LeFeria project. This project, to cost $6 million, is in the budget for $1.2 million. Godfrey said the project would increase the water supply only about 10 per cent and $6 million is too high a price to pay. Kilgore asked the subcommittee to consider allowing funds to start widening Brazos Island Harbor turning basin. This was not in the budget.

Rep. Lindley Beckworth asked adequate funds for surveys, now under way, on the Sabine and Neches Rivers. The budget recommends $75,000 for the Sabine survey and $100,000 for the Neches. Beckworth said engineers indicated they can use $75,000 for the Sabine and $140,000 for the Neches and asked that these amounts be allowed.

With Beckworth was A. M. Willis of Longview, who supported the request for the Sabine River study. Reps. Albert Thomas and Bob Casey asked approval of $3 million for work on the 36-foot channel for the Houston ship channel. Rep. W. R. Poage headed one group asking $300,000 rather than $500,000 as recommended by the budget to initiate construction on the Stillhouse Hollow Dam on the Lampasas River.

With him were Byron Skelton of Temple, Democratic national committeeman for Texas, and Frank Maybourn, Temple publisher. THREE DAMS Poage, Rep. Omar Burleson and others also asked approval of four other budgeted amounts—$4.5 million for Proctor Dam and $500,000 for Somerville Dam. James Fynn of Waco said Proctor Dam would provide both flood control protection and storage for water supply.

A group headed by Rep. Jack Brooks asked approval of 9.6 million for McGee Bend Dam, $15,000 to complete a restudy of the Sabine-Neches Waterway and $75,000 to continue the Sabine River study. Rep. Clark Thompson and E. A. Brinkman urged an increase in the budget recommendation for the Matagorda ship channel, Calhoun County. The budget calls for $405,000. Thompson and Brinkman asked this be hiked to $1,057,000.

State Deficit Dropped In May

AUSTIN (AP)—The state's general revenue fund deficit dropped $24 million during May, the state treasurer said Monday. Corporation franchise taxes helped lower the deficit to $78,848,137 on May 31, about $15 million more than the deficit is estimated to be at the close of the fiscal year, Aug. 31 million. The deficit was $102,646,220 on April 30.

4 U.S. Attorneys For Texas Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Tuesday nominated four U.S. attorneys to four-year terms for Texas districts.

They are: William W. Justice, Athens, for the Eastern District; Ernest Morgan, San Marcos, Western District; Woodrow B. Seals, Houston, Southern District; and Harold Barefoot Sanders Jr., Dallas, Northern District.

Sanders, Seals and Morgan will receive $17,500 annually. The post to which Justice was appointed pays $14,700.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., issued a statement praising the nominations and saying each of the four "supported all the Democratic nominees for the presidency since they reached the voting age."

IMPASSE? The White House secretary, Pierre Salinger, was asked whether the nominations indicated an end to an impasse in Texas Democratic patronage. Salinger replied that he never recognized there was any impasse.

Seals, 43, was elected last year to a second term as Harris County (Houston) Democratic chairman. He has the support of the liberal-loyalist wing of the party. Seals has been active in the Houston and State Bar Association.

Born in Louisiana, Seals received a law degree from the University of Texas. He was a pilot in the European theater in World War II. Sanders is a young Dallas attorney and former Texas Legislator. He lost three years ago to Rep. Bruce Alger, Rep-Tex., and is well known in Dallas politics.

Justice, 40, is a partner in the law firm of Justice, Justice and Kugle in Athens and is chairman of the Henderson County Democratic Executive Committee.

He graduated from the University of Texas School of Law in 1942. He was state vice president of the Young Democrats of Texas in 1948 and was a presidential elector in 1960.

Justice was a member of the advisory council of the National Democratic Committee in 1954 and an alternate delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 1956.

CITY ATTORNEY Morgan, 48, also a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law, is city attorney in San Marcos. He has campaigned actively for both Lyndon Johnson and Sen. Yarborough.

At Houston, U.S. Atty. William Butler appeared surprised at Seals' nomination. "It so happens," Butler said, "that I also was appointed for a four-year term that has not expired yet."

"Of course, the administration can remove a U.S. attorney at any time."

Wreckage Found

STRATFORD, Tex. (AP)—Wreckage of a light plane and the body of its pilot were found near this Texas Panhandle town Tuesday. The pilot was David Meagher, 28, St. Cloud, Minn., oil man. Investigators said the plane may have crashed during turbulent weather Tuesday night.

JFK, After Parley, Calls War Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says neither he nor Soviet Premier Khrushchev won a victory over the other at Vienna, but chances of war should be less now that each leader knows better where the other stands.

Kennedy reported this to the American people Tuesday night in a 23-minute radio-TV speech in which he talked "candidly and publicly" about "a very sober two days" with Khrushchev.

In balance, the President found his first personal meeting with the Soviet leader "immensely useful"—even though, he said, a result was to expose more clearly the prospects of a long-term struggle between East and West. On specific cold war issues, Kennedy saw some hope that his Vienna encounter would break the deadlock at the Geneva conference on Laos over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspectors freedom to check violators.

But he said Khrushchev struck a "serious blow" at the lengthy Geneva talks on a ban on atomic tests. He hinted that the United States, while not abandoning the talks, might soon feel free to resume testing.

"Our most sober talks," Kennedy added, "were on Berlin, where Khrushchev wants to boot out the Western allies. Kennedy said he made clear America is determined to maintain its rights there 'at any risk.'"

To any who might suspect secret deals, Kennedy added in reporting on his overseas trip: "No advantage or concession was either planned or taken. No new aims were stated in private that have not been stated in public on either side."

"Generally, Mr. Khrushchev did not talk in terms of war," Kennedy said. "He believes the world will move his way without resort to force. Most of all, he predicted the triumph of communism in the new and less developed countries."

SUPPORT
Denying this inevitability of the Communist victory, Kennedy appealed for national support of his $4.8-billion program of foreign aid for the coming year, much of which is earmarked for newly developing lands. "We have no more crucial obligation now," he said.

The youthful President spoke earnestly and somberly and partly without text as he recounted the high spots of his 9,120-mile week's trip to Europe from which he returned Tuesday morning. During the afternoon, before going on the air at 7 p.m. EDT, he spent 1 1/2 hours briefing congressional leaders at the White House.

He was most enthusiastic over his stops at Paris and London. There, he said, he accomplished his goal—"to strengthen the unity of the West."

During his May 31-June 2 visit with French President Charles de Gaulle, Kennedy said, "certain doubts and suspicions were removed on both sides."

CORDIAL
"Gen. De Gaulle could not have been more cordial, and I could not have more confidence in any man, in addition to his individual strength of character."

The June 5 stopover in Britain on the way home, where Kennedy saw Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and the royal family, "was a strong reminder at the end of a long journey that the West remains united in its determination to hold its standards."

"But we are glad to be home," Kennedy concluded. "No demonstration of support abroad could mean so much as the support which you, the American people, have so generously given to our country."

Congressmen of both parties joined in praise of Kennedy's unvarnished report. They generally agreed that little had been accomplished beyond putting Kennedy and Khrushchev on a first-hand basis for the future, but they figured this at least was a step forward.

COMMUNICATION
In telling of his June 3-4 meet-

Solons Praise Kennedy's Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's crisp description of the bleak realities of a divided world seeking a nuclear war won praise today from members of Congress.

Following a nationally televised report to the people Tuesday night on his European trip, the young President rode a crest of bipartisan support for the hard tasks he said lie ahead of the West to win an ideological battle with communism.

There was general recognition among Republicans and Democrats that nothing really had been accomplished in Kennedy's informal talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna except to put the participants in a position to deal with each other on a first-hand basis.

But even this was recorded as a gain, along with the yet unfulfilled promise of the Soviet leader to work toward the establishment of a truly neutral government in Laos.

EVENTUAL REACTION
There was no determining, at the moment, the eventual congressional reaction to Kennedy's appeal to the American people to support his new concept of foreign aid. His program is geared to lifting the living levels of developing countries he said could only be saved from communism if the free world offers a better way of life.

In Anaheim, Calif., former Vice President Richard M. Nixon described Kennedy's report as an "objective appraisal" and added, "He came back with a deep realization of the problems with which we are confronted."

Nixon told a news conference, "I hope he will give the country a sense of the urgent. You can't do that by telling them they have to sacrifice and then telling them what the country is going to do for them."

Rennie Has Nice Things To Say About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP TV - Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Rennie, the tall, poised Scotsman who plays the title role of Harry Lime in a widely syndicated TV adventure series, has only the nicest things to say about a medium so often criticized by its performers.

 "It has been very good to me," said Rennie.
 A successful British actor, Rennie has been enjoying a busy but quiet career in motion pictures in Hollywood for 11 or 12 years. He played substantial but not star roles: He rarely got the girl in the last reel.

Then along came television and Rennie, an experienced pro, became much in demand for dramatic roles.

When an English company had the bright idea of adapting the Orson Welles' movie, "The Third Man," to TV purposes, Rennie starred in a season of shows.

The series now is playing on more than 200 stations. Then he won the lead in this season's entertaining adaptation of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" in the Family Classics series, focusing more attention on himself.

Upshot was that he won a starring role in Jean Kerr's hit Broadway comedy, "Mary, Mary," still playing in standing room. This in turn is leading him back to much bigger and better parts in motion pictures. He has been picked to play the Melvin Douglas role in the Frank Capra production of "The Best Man," a real plum.

"If it hadn't been for television, particularly 'The Scarlet Pimpernel,' I might not ever have had a chance to do comedy on Broadway," he said. "If I had not had a chance to do comedy on Broadway, I'd never have had a chance to do comedy in motion pictures."

Rennie expects to remain in the Broadway show until his commitments force him to leave. "Harry Lime" will go on for at least another season — but the new batch will be ground out of the Hollywood mills, not English studios.

"It has worked out very nicely for me," Rennie conceded. "I like television very much indeed."

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT) — Window show of the season with Perry's production staff as guest stars: "It Could Be You," NBC, 10-10:30 — night-time debut of a day-time audience participation show.

Graham Standing Up Well To Strain

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Physicians have reported that evangelist Billy Graham, who has been suffering from a throat infection, is standing up well to the strain of addressing his meetings. He has not recovered his strength fully, but they said he is not bothered by his throat. He rests afternoons before the nightly meeting at the soccer stadium here.

Photographic Art

"Antarctica," by Emil Schulthess, a dramatic example of framing, composition and backlighting, is in the third exhibition of "Photography in the Fine Arts" at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts. It received unanimous recognition by the 10-man jury, a rare tribute to any photograph.

LBJ Urges 'Image' Clue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson has urged advertising men to find out why the United States seems to be lagging behind the Communists in projecting its image to the world.

Johnson said in a speech prepared for the Washington conference of the Advertising Council that this country has not put across to millions of people its "desires and real objectives."
 "It is a sad but true fact," he said, "that our Communist adversaries have been able to convince many that humanitarian projects like Point Four are instruments of imperialism; the simplest moves to defend ourselves are moves of aggression; and honest and open-hearted efforts to secure arms control are merely intended to obscure issues."

Atomic Plant

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The National Commission of Nuclear Energy reported a development plan will be built in Chihuahua to promote Mexico's uranium production. Scientists believe uranium can be found in several areas.
