He's Out Of The Poultry Business

G. W. Webb, Howard County farmer, and a few of the 50 chickens killed on his farm by two blood-thirsty dogs early Wednesday morning.

Chicken-Killing Dogs Wipe Out Entire Cornish Flock

Two chicken-killing dogs, in the space of a few fleeting minutes, put G. W. Webb, Howard County farmer, out of the poultry business Wednesday morning.

When Webb went to bed on his farm two and a half miles north and west of town Tuesday night, he had 70 White Cornish fryers, eight weeks old and just about ready for the market. He had 15 or so big White Cornish hens, each of which would weigh eight or nine pounds.

When he awakened at 6 a.m. Wednesday and walked toward his barn, he saw a big black dog racing from the barn. He took a shot at the dog but missed. A little later he saw a second smaller dog run out of the barn. A shot fired at this dog also missed.

The area around the barn for an acre or more was dotted with motionless white objects. Of his entire flock of chickens, only three hens remained alive. All 70 of the fryers were dead — the bulk of them in a small pen where they were kept. The dogs had not eaten the chickens; they had been content to kill and kill again.

"This is the second time," said Webb. "Once before town dogs—have wiped out my chickens."

"I'm through. You can't have chickens. Folks who have dogs won't keep them penned up. They raid our farms and kill our chickens. It happens again and again. If we threaten to use poison to protect our flocks, folk protest that we are 'cruel.'"

"This raid cost me a lot of money and no one benefits at all."

He said that what had happened to him has happened to his neighbors. Dogs raid chicken pens regularly and as a result the average farmer, he said, has abandoned all efforts to raise chickens.

Czech Ready To Fly Home

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Czech U.N. Delegate Miroslav Nacvalac bowed to U.S. pressure today and arranged to fly home to escape deportation as a spy.

Navalac, 39, No. 3 man in his country's U.N. delegation, reserved space on a French airliner for himself, his wife and two sons.

The reservations first were made for an 11 a.m. flight but later changed without explanation for one leaving New York at 6 p.m.

Navalac, accused by the U.S. government of being Czechoslovakia's top spy in the country, had rejected an earlier U.S. demand that he leave the country.

He changed his plans after Washington announced it had revoked his status as a member of Czechoslovakia's U.N. mission, making him an alien in the country illegally. The United States said he could either leave voluntarily or be deported.

Czechoslovakia — and Navalac — denied the U.S. charges and accused the United States of violating the "headquarters" agreement between the United States and the U.N., which establishes the special rights and diplomatic immunity of foreign diplomats accredited to the U.N.

A spokesman for the Czechoslovak delegation said his government would continue to press in the U.N. to prove that the United States had no right to oust Navalac. The Communist bloc was expected to make extensive use of the incident in its campaign to move U.N. headquarters from New York to Vienna or some other "neutral" European city.

Czechoslovakia protested to the U.N. secretariat last weekend that earlier in the week two U.S. intelligence agents, at a meeting with Navalac in a New York restaurant, had tried to enlist

Exhibit A Comes In Extra Helpful

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Convicted in Criminal Court of picking the lock of a Miami Beach mansion, Alonis S. Stein, 34, appealed, and bond was set at $7,000.

Forms for the bond, however, were in a deputy sheriff's locked desk.

Deputy Court Clerk James Regan said Stein calmly borrowed exhibit A in his trial—the lock-picking tool — and opened the desk.

Then, with bond completed, he strolled to freedom.

Laos Princes Are Agreed

By ANDREW BOROWIEC ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—The three princes of Laos' warring factions agreed today to form a government of national union to be named by the nation's king.

The three princes—pro-Western Premier Boun Oum, neutralist Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Souphanouvong—said they would integrate the divided country's three armies into a single force.

At the end of their four-day summit meeting, they pledged their support to the future government.

A joint communique of the princes, signed in a salon of Zurich's plush Dolder Hotel, said the new union government would include representatives of the three parties and "will be of a temporary nature."

"The government will be formed according to a special procedure, by direct designation and nomination of his majesty the king without going through the National Assembly," the communique stated.

King Savang Vatthana, by Laotian tradition, refrains from taking a hand in politics. But he has been trying to get the rival factions together.

The statement added that the three princes would continue their discussions on national unity in the future. No date was set.

The three princes pledged to support the neutrality of Laos and to support all efforts for an effective cease-fire.

The Zurich meeting of princes thus ended without an agreement on the thorniest issue of the Laotian problem—how power should be divided among the pro-Communist, anti-Communist and neutralist factions.

It was expected, however, that in any coalition government the conservative faction friendly to the West would get less power than the neutralist and pro-Communist factions, both of which are backed by Red China and the Soviet Union.

Aggies Expect Giant Crowd

Aggie exes are expecting a full amphitheatre for the ninth annual barbecue at the city park at 6:45 p.m. today. Ralph Hughes, committeeman, said.

"Tickets will be on sale at the gate beginning at 6:30 p.m., at $1.50 for adults. Children under 12 are free," he said. "You can't eat all you want of the same kind of food at home for that price, and if you have two or more children, you come out ahead."

Close to 2,000 tickets have been sold in advance, Hughes said, and they can be bought from any Aggie up until time to go to the barbecue.

Hughes said the barbecue was the only fund raising activity the club had and that they were all well pleased with the way ticket sales were going. Funds are used for scholarships to young deserving Howard County youths going to college.

Barbecue and all the trimmings, including drinks, will be ready for serving when the lines form at 6:45.

Postal Request Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—An administration request for a $741-million increase in postal rates was turned down today by the House Post Office Committee.

The action apparently killed any hopes for action by Congress this year on a bill that had been strongly backed by administration leaders.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon urged the increase to help wipe out the Post Office Department's expected 1962 deficit of $843 million.

The administration had asked for these increases. First class letter rate from 4 to 5 cents and airmail from 7 to 8 cents. It also proposed that second-class mail rates be increased an average of 79 per cent and third class an average of 40 per cent.

The motion to table the bill had strong support from both Republicans and Democrats on the committee.

Commissioner Olin Culberson Dies At 74

AUSTIN (AP)—Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission since 1941 and long known as a champion of the independent oil man in Texas, died today at 74 from a heart attack.

The commissioner, called "Judge" by his friends, entered an Austin hospital Wednesday night. His doctor said he had been treating Culberson the past year for his heart. He spent several days in the hospital three weeks ago.

The vacancy on the 3-man board will be filled by an appointment by Gov. Price Daniel. Funeral arrangements are pending.

The commissioner was serving his fourth six-year term on the powerful regulatory agency. Several years ago he got out of the governor's race because of illness.

Culberson long was known as a champion of independent oil operators and doggedly fought the growing trend of passenger service abandonment by the railroads.

The blunt and plainspoken Culberson often was a one-man majority of the three-man board that regulates the oil and gas in-

Missing Degas In Collection

By SAM BLACKBURN

Three valuable paintings, including a Degas portrait worth $150,000, identified as having been taken on May 9 from a private home in Patterson, N. Y., were recovered in Big Spring today.

Curtis O. Lynn, special agent in charge of the Dallas office, Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced recovery allegedly stolen articles and said that Jimmie C. White, 29, formerly of Big Spring, but now of New York City, has been arrested in connection with the theft. The paintings, as well as other articles of art and personal property were stolen also.

The Degas portrait, identified as "Mrs. Rouart and Her Two Daughters," has a value of $150,000. It and a painting by an American artist, William Thon, entitled "Farm Building" were taken in charge by federal agents and local officers in a storage establishment here. A third painting, not described, was also recovered.

The three pictures, packed in heavy crates, were locked in a jail cell on the fourth floor of the court house pending their return to New York.

It was announced in addition to these three paintings, other stolen articles with a value of more than $25,000 have been recovered in

New York City. It was not known whether the recovery of the paintings here would up the search for the loot.

White is to be arraigned in New York today before the U. S. Commissioner for the Southern District of New York.

Lyman said White is charged with violation of interstate transportation of stolen property statute and it will be alleged by the government that he transported the articles recovered here in interstate commerce from New York City to Big Spring.

If White is convicted of this offense, he could receive a penalty of 10 years in prison and a fine of $10,000, the federal agent said.

The recovery of the paintings here today climaxed an intensive investigation by the FBI and the New York State Police in Brewster, N. W. area. The investigation has been underway since the robbery was reported.

It was not disclosed where the stolen articles were found here nor the clues which led the officers to Big Spring.

The crates in which the stolen paintings were shipped were officially sealed by the FBI agents as "evidence" and will not be opened until the court orders the seals broken, federal officers said.

Khrushchev Says Soviets Will Resume Tests Too

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev said Wednesday night that the Soviet Union has developed quite a few nuclear weapons that need testing and will resume nuclear tests immediately if the United States does.

In a militant televised Kremlin speech marking the 20th anniversary of the Nazi attack on the Soviet Union, the Soviet premier also vowed to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany "at the end of this year" if the Western allies do not join the Soviet Union in a German settlement.

It was the closest Khrushchev has come publicly to a specific date for such a treaty, which he has repeatedly threatened to sign.

Khrushchev's speech in effect replied to a U.S. state last week that blamed the Soviet Union for the deadlock in the Geneva nuclear test ban talks and hinted the United States might renounce the test moratorium in the United States. Britain and France have observed since the talks started in October 1958.

The premier said should nuclear testing be resumed, the "entire responsibility" would be on the Western Powers.

Wearing the uniform of a Soviet lieutenant general—the rank he held as a political commissar in World War II, Khrushchev told the rally at the Kremlin's Grand Palace: "As soon as the United States starts nuclear tests again, the Soviet Union will start testing its own nuclear weapons."

IMPROVE EFFICIENCY "Quite a few devices requiring practical testing have been developed in the Soviet Union. This will improve the efficiency of our atomic and hydrogen weapons and make our army's weapons more perfect."

He repeated his proposal to President Kennedy at their Vienna conference that the test ban talks be merged with the general disarmament negotiations that are to resume on July 31, a proposal rejected Saturday by the United States.

He also repeated his recent declaration that the Soviet Union is "ready to sign even tomorrow, an agreement on universal and complete disarmament with most strict international control. We shall insist on our proposals again and again."

GERMAN TREATY Concerning a German peace treaty, Khrushchev said: "We want to sign this treaty together with all the allies with whom we fought during the war. We urge them and call on them to sign this treaty. We do not threaten Berlin. We only propose the status of a free city. We are not going to limit its connections with the outer world."

Khrushchev claimed the Soviet proposals on Germany are opposed mainly by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

As though addressing Adenauer directly, Khrushchev declared: "I warn that the Soviet Union stands firm. If you forget the lessons of history . . . it will be suicide for you and your people."

Trial Date Set For Mack Herring

KERMIT—John Mack Herring, 17, Odessa, will go on trial here Sept. 18 in the death of Elizabeth Jean Williams, 17, on March 22.

Dan Sullivan, district attorney, announced the date after conferring with Judge G. C. Olsen of the 109th District Court. Herring, a former Permian High football player, made a statement to officers detailing how he fired a shotgun at the head of Miss Williams after she allegedly had begged him to kill her. Her weighted body was found in a stock pond near Notrees, across in Winkler County.

Gomez Turns Himself In

V. A. Gomez, under seven year sentence for receiving and concealing stolen property, turned himself over to the superintendent of the state prison system at Huntsville at 10 a.m. today.

Gomez was in Houston when the mandate of the state court of appeals was filed Tuesday in the local court and orders issued for his arrest and transportation to the state prison. He notified Sheriff Miller Harris he would voluntarily go to the prison today.

Harris dispatched all necessary papers to the prison by air mail and they arrived there early today.

Prison officials notified Harris at 11 a.m. that the prisoner had checked in and had been admitted to the prison.

15 PER CENT

Companies Want Increase In Automobile Insurance

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas automobile insurance companies today asked the State Insurance Board to approve rate hikes that would mean a yearly increase of about $34 million.

The increase, averaging about 15 per cent on all types of automobile coverage, was concurred in by both the board's actuarial staff and industry's representatives.

The testimony came at the annual meeting of the board to review insurance rates and decide whether adjustments should be made based on loss experience of the companies.

Chief actuary Angus McDonald recommended the 15 per cent. He noted there had not been a raise in auto insurance rates since 1958.

McDonald told the board that premiums decreased more than $28 million from 1959 to 1960. The need for the increase is entirely due to loss experience, he said.

Last fall the board refused to raise rates despite recommendations of its own staff. The recommended increases then were 12.3 per cent for liability rates, 19.6 per cent for medical and 4 per cent collision.

Statistics show that premiums for auto insurance dropped to $288 million last year from $308 in 1959.

Board Chairman Thomas Ferguson predicted rate hikes would be approved in all three types of auto insurance.

He estimated that liability rates would be raised 20 to 25 per cent, collision about 10 per cent and comprehensive insurance about 8 per cent.

The board rejected one requested rate increase early this year. Insurance men requested an average hike of 13.8 per cent in January.

Dedicates Water Project

President Kennedy pushes a key at the White House as he starts operations dedicating the first salt water development plant located at Freeport, Texas.

Freeport Is Using Converted Water

FREEPORT (AP) — A small plant was pumping converted seawater into the city's municipal water system today, something President Kennedy called an important enterprise of the nation.

Kennedy pushed a button in Washington Wednesday that started water flowing through a two-inch pipe at the $1.5 million plant.

A crowd of more than 1,000 persons cheered when the water flowed through the pipe at the dedication ceremonies.

The plant, finished in April, has been supplying water to Freeport and the Dow Chemical Co. for about a month.

The plant, which has 12 big evaporators that turn the salt water into steam and condense it into fresh water, is capable of producing more than a million gallons of fresh water a day.

It costs the government about $1 for each 1,000 gallons of pure water produced at the plant.

Freeport spends about 15 cents per 1,000 gallons to get well water into its distribution lines.

A platform full of federal and state officials were present for the dedication of the plant.

Stewart Udall, secretary of interior, cautioned against being complacent with the present plant, saying the plant will "appear as a model-T effort at best when a better method of conversion is found."

Johnson, recalling his recent trip to the Far East, said the people of other countries look to the U.S. for leadership.

"We must not sit out the 20th Century," he said. "We must provide the leadership the world wants."

He added that present scientific knowledge does not make it possible to produce water cheap enough for irrigation.

Oilmen Ask Taft-Hartley Act Be Used

HOUSTON (AP) — President Kennedy had before him today a request by Texas oil men that he invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to stop the nationwide maritime dispute.

Striking seamen have been picketing Gulf Coast refineries, hampering operations.

At least 30 ships were tied up in Texas ports, 9 each in Houston and Port Neches, 11 in Galveston and one at Freeport.

The North Texas Oil and Gas Association asked the President in a telegram to invoke the labor act to get an 80 day cooling off period.

The oil men said the strike, now in its seventh day, is threatening petroleum production and imperiling the national security.

N. A. Steed of Wichita Falls, association president, said the strike has cost producers in his North Texas group about one third of their normal market.

The Todd Shipyards in Galveston; the American Oil Co. at Texas City; and the Kellogg Construction Co., which is building an Amoco refinery addition, filed unfair labor practices charges against the National Maritime Union (NMU) and the Marine Engineers.

Pickets have appeared at gates at the refineries and at the shipyard. The National Labor Relations Board at Houston promised to investigate at once.

Sinclair Refining Co., which closed its Houston plant, filed a similar charge against the NMU.

The Oil Workers Union said it would picket the Sinclair plant also. The union has refused to cross NMU picket lines, although it is not on strike against Sinclair.

Judge Wants More Help

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Presiding Judge William F. Dannehower of Montgomery County has canceled his current courtroom schedule in a move court attendants call a demand for more judicial help.

Judge Dannehower said on Wednesday that "if we don't get more judicial help I'll clear up what I have on my desk and then retire."

The judge, who will be 71 next month, has been on the bench nearly 30 years. His term expires in January, 1964.

Right now he is staying in his chambers and writing opinions. The criminal cases he was to hear have been reset for other judges, a source in the district attorney's office said.

Judge Dannehower Wednesday made public a letter he had sent to Gov. David L. Lawrence asking the chief executive's help in getting two new judges.

Dannehower cited in the letter "increasing legal business, a congested court calendar, and a backlog of civil cases."

"Four judges cannot handle this great volume of business," he said.

There was no immediate comment from Lawrence.

Gnarled Old Oak Inspired Poem

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The gnarled old oak that inspired Joyce Kilmer to write his poem "Trees" is dying.

Kilmer, Oak nearly 300 years old, still stands proudly on the campus of Rutgers University, but age is taking its toll.

A dozen branches failed to bloom this spring and a large gash developed in its trunk.

"It's an out-and-out case of senility," says Dr. Edward B. Wilkins, director of Rutgers' campus planning. But he said the tree will not be chopped down.

And the Student Forestry Club has planted one of its acorns nearby.

Kilmer was killed in action in France July 30, 1918. The poet was born here in 1896 and attended Rutgers and Columbia University.

Newspapers said the Federal District Interior Department had issued such orders.

Virus Fells President, Appointments Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy came down with a "mild virus infection" today. His temperature hit 101.6 degrees.

But the President's temperature had been receding for a couple of hours, press secretary Pierre Salinger said when reporting the illness to newsmen at 9:35 a.m.

Kennedy canceled all of his appointments for the day but Salinger said his doctors believed he can resume his regular schedule Friday.

PRECAUTION As a precaution, Dr. Preston Wade, New York orthopedic specialist, was called down to examine the President to see if the virus infection has had any effect on his back ailments.

Wade was to see Kennedy in midmorning. Salinger said Kennedy's temperature reached 101.6 at 7 a.m. He added it had dropped to 100.2 at 8:30 a.m. and was down to 99.2 at 9:25 a.m.

Salinger called newsmen together for a special conference to report Kennedy's illness. He said Kennedy summoned Dr. Janet Travell, the White House physician, from her Georgetown home to the White House after awaking at about 1:30 a.m.

The President's throat hurt and he felt feverish, Salinger said. Dr. Travell called Dr. George Burkley, assistant White House physician.

ANTIBIOTICS Kennedy was given antibiotics, Salinger said. He said penicillin was among them but was unable to identify any other medication. Kennedy gargled to relieve the sore throat, Salinger added, and throat cultures were taken. Kennedy remained in bed this morning.

Salinger read a statement in which the illness was described as "a mild virus infection."

There was no immediate indication as to what caused the infection. Kennedy spent almost two hours Wednesday afternoon aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz, cruising on the Potomac River.

A heavy rain fell part of the time Kennedy was on the vessel, entertaining Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, but he remained inside until the end of the cruise when the rain had stopped.

NO CRUTCHES The President began walking without crutches Wednesday for the first time since June 9. He did not abandon them altogether but at intervals tried walking without support.

Salinger said he had talked with Kennedy by telephone at 11 p.m. Wednesday night and the President at the time said he felt very well.

"He told me it was the best day he had had as far as his back was concerned," Salinger said.

Kennedy injured his back while spading dirt in a tree-planting ceremony at Ottawa during his state visit to Canada on May 16.

An announcement of the strain was first made on June 8. Late that day Kennedy flew to Palm Beach, Fla. for a long weekend of rest.

STRAIN Dr. Travell diagnosed the ailment as a lumbar strain. It affected his lower back. The White House has declared the condition unrelated to Kennedy's previous back ailments, which led to surgery in 1954 while he was a Senator from Massachusetts.

The President began using his crutches on a regular basis June 8.

Dr. Wade was called to Florida to examine Kennedy on June 11. The White House said his findings concurred with those of Dr. Travell.

Among the engagements Kennedy had made for today was a further conference with Prime Minister Ikeda, and a meeting with U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson before Thompson's return to Moscow.

Kennedy called off his final meeting with Ikeda, which had been set for 11 a.m. He also decided against trying to attend a dinner that was to be given by Ikeda in his honor at the Japanese Embassy tonight.

BUT MORE COMING Racial Clashes Slow To Snail's Pace In South

By The Associated Press Challenges to Mississippi segregation slowed to a snail's pace today after a full day of legal haggling and momentary police action.

More "Freedom Riders" were on their way to Jackson today from Berkeley, Calif., via Los Angeles and New Orleans by taking the route of their predecessors they could reach Jackson no sooner than Saturday.

And in the legal division, two separate court cases are hanging. U.S. District Court Judge Sidney Mize is expected to rule by Tuesday on a writ of habeas corpus filed by Elizabeth Porter Wyckoff, 45-year-old white rider from New York.

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans told federal court there a request from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for an order to keep police from arresting riders would go before a three-judge federal court July 10.

Arrests during the 29-day siege of Jackson rose to 140 Wednesday. Nine Freedom Riders were arrested at the Trailways bus terminal after entering the all-white waiting room and then failing to obey officers' orders to move on. They were charged with breach of peace as were earlier arrivals. The only white man in the group, Henry Schwarzschild of Chicago, asked for permission to get a cup of coffee in the lunchroom and Police Capt. J. L. Ray told him to move on.

"I believe I have a right to get a cup of coffee," Schwarzschild replied, and Ray told him "You're under arrest." Less than 10 minutes later the terminal was cleared of riders.

Included among the latest arrested were the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of Atlanta, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, his wife, Theresa Ann Walker, and Dr. Milton Reid of Petersburg, Va., president of the Virginia Christian Leadership Conference.

Foreign Aid Gets New Look

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today the administration is taking a new look at its plans for economic and military assistance abroad.

Humphrey, the Senate's assistant Democratic leader, said revised programs have improved chances for congressional approval of a substantial part of Kennedy's $4.8 billion aid program.

Meanwhile, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., delayed Senate Foreign Relations Committee voting on the controversial measure until it hears from U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Fulbright is chairman of the committee.

A tentative date has been set for Stevenson to report on his Latin-American trip next Thursday, with Rusk to appear the following day with revised programs designed to meet congressional criticism.

House GOP Has Substitute

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans drove today to knock the multibillion-dollar administration housing bill off the legislative tracks with a low-cost substitute.

Their strategy was to offer a measure simply extending existing housing provisions for a year, without any of the new or expanded programs included in the catch-all Democratic legislation.

The Democratic program is priced at $4.9 billion by its sponsors and at more than $9 billion by the Republicans. GOP leaders say their measure would cost only $1.1 billion.

Democratic leaders already have made a major sacrifice, hoping to hold enough conservative colleagues in line to defeat the Republican measure. They ditched practically all President Kennedy's 40-year-mortgage, no-down-payment program for moderate income housing insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Rep. Albert Rains, D-Ala., chairman of the Housing subcommittee, said he would not oppose an amendment under which the houses, costing up to $15,000, would be financed with 3 per cent down payments under 35-year mortgages.

This would, in effect, apply to them the terms proposed in the new legislation for FHA-insured loans generally. The only special program for moderate income families left would be 40-year low-rent apartment buildings.

But Maybe Not

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro says good things are plentiful in his new Cuba, but stores at the international airport here do a booming business with crews of Cuban airlines just the same.

Cubana de Aviacion flights arrive each Monday and Friday from Havana. Invariably, the captain and his crew make a beeline for the airport drugstore.

FAITH

By T. H. Torbert, preacher Church of Christ, West Highway 30 P. O. Box 1382

When Jesus was on earth, many refused to believe on Him, in spite of the overwhelming evidence presented: for men often believe what they want to believe. Jno. 12:37.

Another group of people believed, and yet remained lost. "Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on Him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess Him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God." Jno. 12:42, 43.

The Bible says they believed. Yet they were lost. Heaven will not be filled with people who refuse to confess Christ (Matt. 10:32, 33; Rom. 10:9). These were lost believers. The saved believers are they that obey (Heb. 5:8; II Thess. 1:8). Saving faith is not faith alone (Jas. 2:14-26).

We preach Christ without trying to separate Him from His commandments. In every sermon sinners are told what to do to be saved. Welcome to our mid-week preaching service tonight, 7:30. —Adv.

Underwriters Divorce Salt Water, Regular Liability

AUSTIN—Liability for salt water damage is being divorced from general liability policies that insurance companies write for oil operators.

The State Insurance Commission has approved filings made by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau which would take damage to property caused directly or indirectly by a saline substance out of the various types of liability coverage. After July 12, each company's specific case will have to be insured under a special rate worked up by the insurance company and submitted to the board for approval in advance of its execution.

Companies asked for exclusion of the saline liability after a number of damage awards were made to farmers, whose wells are ruined by salt water from oilfield operations. The large awards made by juries in these cases were sustained by the appellate courts, creating a final liability by the underwriters.

Current policies held by companies may not be cancelled, but after July 12 they may be on the renewal or rating review date.

Meeting Cancelled

The regular meeting of the American Legion post, scheduled for this evening, has been cancelled in order that members may attend the Legion baseball game between Big Spring and Lamesa in Lamesa.

Wandered Home Just In Time

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Julian Anderson left class Wednesday and wandered toward home, the way an 8-year-old schoolboy will do on the first day of summer.

But he broke into a frightened run when he saw flames through the window of his home.

Julian raced into the smoke-choked kitchen and pushed his brother Frankie, 4, into the yard. Then he ran to an upstairs bedroom and carried his 18-month-old sister Eartha to safety. He returned once more to rescue Kevin 3.

Neighbors had extinguished the blaze in the living room with garden hoses when firemen arrived. Frankie tearfully admitted he had been playing with matches.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Anderson, were shopping at the time.

SPEBSQSA Holds Its 23rd Meeting In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—"Okay," says a hefty steelworker "round up" Al and Steve and we'll take another shot at woodshedding 'Dear Old Girl'."

"Will do," replies a pint-sized accountant, "and let's try to take it from the pitch pipe right this time, then really tag the tune. If we goof, there'll be no afterglow for us and the barber-teens when the parade is over."

That little exchange represents some of the refinements in the glossary of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., holding its 23rd international convention this week.

Woodshedding is impromptu singing by any four men. Pitch pipe is an instrument that gives singers proper pitch at the outset. Tag is a special zing at the end of a real show-stopping type song. Afterglow is a social shindig following a barber shop harmony performance. Barber-teens are adolescent children of society members. Parade is a public barbershop harmony concert.

The S.P.E., etc., likes to think of its 28,000-member organization in Canada and this country, as one of the most heterogeneous anywhere. That it appeals to just about all ages (18 is the starter for membership) and to many temperaments is obvious from the way this convention of over 6,000 is percolating.

Today is mainly warmup time for the host of contests later in the week, when top quartets vie for trophies, their tonsil talents further enriched by gay period costumes, luxuriant mustaches and bicycles built for four.

Nudist Raid To End In Court

TYLER (AP)—Sheriff Hoyt Ivy and other Fannin County officers faced a $50,000 suit today because of an arrest made at Bonham while investigating whether a nudist colony was operating.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell of Arlington filed the action in U.S. District Court. They alleged the sheriff and others conspired to interfere with, or destroy, the business of a health resort the Campbells said they operated near Bonham. The suit said the conspiracy had been in effect since June 21, 1959.

Ivy said that was the date he arrested Campbell on a charge of indecent exposure while investigating whether a nudist colony was operating.

Also named in the suit were Justice of Peace Hamp Harper, County Atty. T. B. Wright, Texas Ranger G. W. Burk, John Rouark and T. C. Dickey.

Padre Island May Get National Park Status

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Padre Island enthusiasts had the assurance today of Vice President Lyndon Johnson that he would do his best to have the long offshore finger designated a national park area.

Similar word came from Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, who saw the whole 110 mile stretch of the island from Corpus Christi to Brownsville during a helicopter tour. Every other Washington leader with the group expressed support.

"It is tremendous and more magnificent than I thought," said Udall, long a vocal supporter of the federal Padre Island proposal. "The island is a fantastic outdoor resource. There is nothing like Padre Island in the United States."

It is the longest barrier island in the country.

He said he is "1,000 per cent" in favor of a national park and asserted it would be a sad day for the country if a park isn't placed on Padre Island.

Some oil men, industrial and private real estate interests have opposed making the entire island a national preserve.

Johnson, Udall, congressmen and Washington officials in their party had a full day after dedication of the first salt water conservation plant up the coast at Freeport. Johnson spoke here. The group ate fish on Padre Island, took the copter tour, flew to Brownsville for a reception and then returned to Washington at dusk.

South May Rise Again, This Time In The Air

By R. F. KELLUM
MERCED, Tex. (AP)—The South may rise again—this time via the air.
When the U.S. in 1945 ordered destruction of some World War II fighter planes, it started one of the wackiest, tongue-in-cheek organizations ever created—The Confederate Air Force.
Mostly in the Rio Grande Valley, the force now numbers some 10 planes and 66 colonels. All members are colonels "so nobody can pull his rank."
LEADER
The organization does have a leader—Col. Jethro E. Culppeper, CAP, Mercedes, Tex.
Col. Culppeper gets mail, signs orders and other things but there is no such person.
Lloyd Nolen of Mercedes, one of the colonels, puts it this way: "We didn't want any chiefs in this tribe but we needed some sort of leader. Culppeper is a good old southern name and there was a Culppeper regiment in the Civil War. So we decided on Col. Jethro E. Culppeper."

Culppeper's mail comes to Nolen's office and he or some other member answers it.
YANKEE ORDER
"The order to melt down Warhawks, Lightnings, Corsairs and Mitchells was strictly a Yankee order with Union forces to do the job," Nolen grins. "We decided to start collecting them."
Most of the 66 colonels are former military pilots, many with several kills to their credit during World War II. Nolen, 38, was a pilot instructor during the war. He is now a crop duster and owns and operates the Mercedes Dusting Service.
Main object of the CAF? To have the national capitol at Washington turned around so it will face the South.
Other goals: Preserve the southern customs and traditions such as "good southern cooking, leisurely drinking, catfishing, pocket knife whittling, rocking-chair rocking and plain old shade-tree sitting."
The CAF is opposed to Boston bakers' ban, saying they are "poisonous."
OBJECTS
The real objects and goals: "It's kinda a hobby. The guys like to keep in touch," Nolen said.
Besides the fun of keeping the planes in top shape, the principal activity of the CAF is flying at air shows. The members make no charge for appearances. They just get expenses.

The group flew in six air shows during the past 11 months and had to turn down invitations to four more because so many of the pilots are dusters and had to work spraying cotton.
It does the CAF's collective heart good when a World War II pilot describes one of the CAF planes to his children as one "that daddy flew during the war."
The CAF has a few members all over Texas but most are from the Rio Grande Valley.
BRAINWASHED
A transplanted Yankee is taken in once in a while, but only after he has been thoroughly brainwashed and screened by the OSS (that's office of southern security).
The CAF now has one F51 Mustang, two P51 Bearcats, one F4U Corsair, one B25 Mitchell, one FM 2 Wildcat, one P40 Wildcat and three T6 Texans.
The group hopes to eventually have a complete line of World War II planes.
Why do they continue this sometimes expensive hobby?
"Just for the fun of it," Nolen said. "We have been enjoying ourselves for years and the public is just now beginning to notice us."

Eichmann Says He Tried To Save Jews

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann testified today he tried to save Europe's Jews by creating a homeland for them on the island of Madagascar.
The former Gestapo lieutenant colonel said he conceived the "Madagascar plan" that was jugged around in high Nazi circles in 1940 but never got past the paper stage.
Eichmann identified principal portions of the plan as his own, particularly a study of climate and living conditions on the French island off the East African coast.
The defendant, accused of a major role in the Nazi extermination of six million Jews, did not explain how or when the Madagascar scheme foundered. Israel has produced evidence that Hitler, Heinrich Himmler and Gestapo chief Reinhard Heydrich decided on mass extermination "as the final solution of the Jewish problem" early in 1941.
Hitler, in published accounts of his informal nightly conversations over tea, said he rather favored the Madagascar scheme for a while because conditions there would eventually wipe out the Jews.
On the witness stand for the third day, Eichmann insisted he always approached the "solution" to the Jewish problem by "trying to put some ground, some soil, under their feet."

The Madagascar idea was the first action Eichmann claimed as his own. Everything else, he said, was done under orders from somebody else. He contended he was in the Berlin headquarters of the Gestapo "against my will."

AFTER EXPLOSION

Rescued Men Lived On Beans

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Three men, rescued Wednesday from the "loneliest lighthouse in the world," said they lived on a couple of cans of beans since an explosion rocked the Stannard Rock lighthouse in Lake Superior Sunday.
Chances that a fourth man still was alive were remote, the Coast Guard reported.
Missing was William A. Maxwell, 34, Houghton, Mich., father of five. Maxwell, an engine room first class, reportedly was still inside the tower. A search for him was impossible because of fumes from a raging fire in the lighthouse's coal storage bin.
Seaman Walter E. Scobie, 22, Troy, Mich., and Richard A.

Wool Growers Can Expect High Payment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wool growers will get a larger government payment on their 1960 crop wool than on the previous year's production.
The Agriculture Department has announced the 1960 crop payment will be $47.50 for each $100 worth of shorn wool sold from the 1960 crop. This compares with $43.20 for each $100 worth sold from the 1959 crop. The department will begin making the payments about July 1.
Under a wool program, the government offers payments designed to encourage annual production of at least 300 million pounds of shorn wool. Production has not yet reached that level.
The incentive price is 62 cents a pound, the rate in effect since the program was started in 1954.
The 1960 payment rate is higher than that for the previous year's crop because market prices averaged lower—42 cents a pound for the 1960 crop compared with 43 cents for the 1959 crop.
No payment will be made on mohair because market prices averaged 89.7 cents a pound, far above the incentive rate of 70 cents.
To compensate growers for wool on marketed lambs, the department announced a payment of 80 cents for each 100 pounds of lamb sold during the 1960 season.

His gift is destined for Greece.

Captains Finish 'Space Flight'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two Air Force captains completed today a 17-day simulated space flight to determine if future spacemen can live on 100 per cent pure oxygen.
The flight, maintained at a simulated 33,500-foot altitude, was pronounced a success by Dr. Billy Welch, scientist in charge of the experiment.
Capt. Lewis C. Gang of Phoenix, Ariz., and Bernard L. Westfall of Iowa City, Ia., stepped from the space capsule at the Air Force Aerospace Medical Center here at 6:28 a.m.
After an examination, the men were pronounced in good condition. Westfall lost six pounds during the experiment and Gang three.
The men lived on pure oxygen the whole time they were in the capsule. They used two quarts of liquid oxygen a day for a total of 34 quarts during the 17-day test.
Dr. Welch said the experiment proved that we don't have any worries about carrying an oxygen supply into space.
The test was the second for the two captains. They went through a 15-day test last February.

Evidence

Wilson Checks Price Rigging

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson prepared today evidence for courts of inquiry he requested in Dallas and Austin to hear testimony about possible price rigging on school bus sales.
Wilson said that if testimony "substantiates the evidence we already have in hand we can file civil anti-trust proceedings."
He said he requested a court of inquiry in Dallas for next Wednesday and in Austin for Monday.
"We have substantial evidence that leads us to believe there is a conspiracy to rig bids and fix prices. A comparison of prices of school buses shows they are costing 10-25 per cent more in Texas than in some other states," Wilson said.
Seven companies sell school buses to the state, with sales totaling more than $4 million a year, Wilson said. Under Texas law, all schools under the minimum foundation program must purchase their buses through the State Board of Control through public bidding.

Clamor From Left Comparatively Still

EDITOR'S NOTE: New Deal reforms and domestic prosperity have deprived the militant left of many a burning issue. Despite this, there are lively voices still from that end of the political spectrum, and from other action groups as well. Fourth of five articles on today's militants.

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Staff Writer

While the thunder from America's far right political fringe rumbles on, where is the corresponding clamor from the opposite flank?

The fact is, the once strident voice from deep left field has been comparatively stilled in recent years. Authorities give three main reasons why:

REFORMS MADE

1. Social and economic reforms begun by the New Deal are now part of America's basic fabric to the displeasure of the right-wing militants. Enactment of labor laws, social security, minimum wage laws, and establishment of regulatory agencies have blunted or removed many a left-wing issue.

2. The nation's general prosperity. The utter discredit of the Communist party as an international arm of the Soviet Union. Economic stress traditionally breeds left-wing agitation, and much of the impetus is lost at times when the general economic welfare seems relatively secure, as is the case today.

REJECT COMMUNISM

Unlike 30 years ago, when Communism was still considered by some as the great untried social experiment, today the overwhelming mass of Americans have seen the handwriting on the blood-stained wall and rejected it—even impassioned liberals who also reject capitalism.

There still is Communist activity in the United States, though the evidence at hand hardly points to a "tightly organized conspiracy of nearly 40 million Americans" as conceived by the Birch society's Robert Welch.

National Secretary Benjamin Davis claims the U. S. Communist party has from 7,000 to 10,000 members—a fraction of the enrollment during the depression years.

SYMPTOMS

There are other symptoms of the party's decline. Three years ago, the Communist party newspaper, the Daily Worker, discontinued daily publication and became a weekly.

The tabloid subsequently grew thinner and thinner, now is conducting a crash effort to gain subscriptions or cash to keep it afloat. Since the drive began early this year it has produced only 5,000 new subscribers, according to a spokesman—a far cry from the goal of 50,000 by July 4.

The Worker claims a circulation of about 20,000. That's less than half, incidentally, of the estimated circulation of the Birch society's own weekly, "American Opinion."

MUST REGISTER

And just June 5, the Supreme Court upheld a provision of the Internal Security Act of 1950 requiring Communist action organizations to register with the government and the tribunal also upheld a clause of the Smith Act making it a crime to be an active member of a party advocating the violent overthrow of the government.

Short of the Communist party itself, deal a new jolt by these rulings, who are some of the major left-wing militant groups?

There's the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, a group formed two years ago to give stateside support to Fidel Castro's regime and combat the half-truths and phony liberal rhetoric being served up by the "business-controlled" American press.

FPCC claims 7,000 paid-up members $5 a year, $3 for students. Its headquarters is a two-story building on lower Broadway in New York. The group's executive secretary, and one of its founders, is Robert Taber, a former foreign correspondent who was fired by Columbia Broadcasting System because of his FPCC activity.

The organization also lists among its members C. Wright Mills, a professor of sociology at Columbia University. "I feel a desperate shame for my country," Mills telegraphed a San Francisco FPCC rally five days after the abortive April 17 invasion of Cuba. "Were I physically able to do so, I would at this moment be fighting alongside Fidel Castro."

WRITER

Another FPCC activist is Richard Gibson, a graduate student in Africa affairs at Columbia and former news writer who was dismissed by CBS along with Tabor.

Gibson, a Negro, was questioned by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee last April. Referring to the Cuban invasion, he said, "I can only express delight at the utter and dismal defeat of this act of international banditry."

In its literature, FPCC has referred to President Kennedy as "the Boston millionaire in the White House" and has recommended the United States solve its unemployment problems by methods suggested by Castro himself: "Nationalize the big monopolies . . . utilities . . . and banks."

INVASION

The Cuban invasion also provided a springboard for other, mostly left-of-center groups in America to launch a crusade.

One was the Nonviolent Committee for Cuban Independence, a banded coalition of four libertarian and pacifist groups: The Committee for Nonviolent Action, the War Resisters League, the Catholic Worker and the Peace-makers.

This group considered it "tragic that the economic and social advance of the Cuban revolution are the refusal of the United States to leave the Cubans alone," and staged a two-week fast in front of Central Intelligence Agency headquarters in Washington to demonstrate their "awareness of what is going on."

SINGLE ISSUE

Lacking a prolonged economic crisis, left-center in 1954 these days generally have only single-issue causes to rally around—like the Cuban question and assorted civil rights incidents.

The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee was formed, for example, to oppose the House Un-American Activities Committee; the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell was organized to appeal for a new trial for the convicted atomic espionage conspirator; and the National Lawyers Guild was organized to press for civil rights legislation its members felt the American Bar Association was derelict in not pursuing.

Through the "nonviolence" door comes a different group of crusaders—pacifists advocating unilateral disarmament.

NOT INCLUDED

These obviously do not include such groups as the Quakers and other religious bodies whose pacifism predates the nuclear era, nor even such organizations as the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy whose stated objective is inspected and controlled disarmament.

Rather they include groups like the Committee of Committees and the Committee for Nonviolent Action, to name two, which flatly reject deterrence as a strategy.

In turning the other cheek, such groups also turn their back on alternatives and announce plainly they have "no pat answers."

The Committee of Committees is mainly a discussion group of intellectuals. The Committee for Nonviolent Action, on the other hand, attracts fewer professors and more students to its ranks and specializes in demonstrations at missile centers, airbases and the like.

MIXED UP

Sometimes the end seems to get mixed up with means. For example, a recent CNVA bulletin reported that Dick Zink, a 20-year-old pacifist from Amble, Pa., "was happy to learn that Michael Nolan of Scotland had doubled the old record of 15 minutes for sitting on the tail fin of a Polaris submarine."

Illegal Practice Charge Lodged Against Midwife

STANTON—A 70-year-old Stanton woman, who asserts her business is that of a midwife and who says she has delivered more than 1,000 babies, has been charged with practicing medicine illegally.

The charge—a misdemeanor—was filed in the Martin County Court early this week by Ben Laney, Fort Worth investigator for the Texas State Medical Board, and John Wood, Texas Ranger from Midland.

The defendant is Mrs. Pearl Payton Shelburne. She has posted $750 bond set by County Judge Jim McCoy and has been arrested. Mrs. Shelburne was not arrested. The investigating officers advised her of the charge and she was advised to report to the court house the following morning.

Roger Brown, Big Spring, is her attorney.

City Hires A Water Douser

CORRUNA, Mich. (AP)—Having spent $3,500 on test wells in a futile effort, this central Michigan community is ready to return to the ways of its forefathers in finding fresh water.

The City Council has voted to employ a local resident who uses the ancient dowsing or so-called divining rod forked-stick technique in its search for a new water supply.

"This may sound like a joke, but it's not," said Councilman Howard Watson. "It has worked many other times, and it may work here."

Several Factors Set Dividends

WASHINGTON (AP)—How can the Veterans Administration pay such high dividends on its participating life insurance policies?

That question comes up repeatedly, especially this year as the VA is paying not only its regular annual insurance dividends but also will pay a special dividend amounting to 80 per cent of the regular distribution.

$500 MILLION
Together, the 1961 payments will total almost $500 million. The regular 1961 annual dividends were distributed or credited to policyholders by March 17—some $258.5 million to about 5.06 million veterans—instead of being spread as usual through the year.

The first special dividends since annual dividends were instituted in 1952 will total about $230 million. The first checks are to go in the mails late this month with completion of the payments now scheduled for about Aug. 1 instead of the earlier announced goal of Labor Day.

Officials say there are several contributing factors to the VA's ability to pay such dividends:

1. The laws which established the insurance programs fixed the mortality rates at high levels which prevailed in the 1860s and present death rates are much lower. Thus higher premiums are required and relatively large dividends are paid.

2. The government pays the administrative (overhead) costs of the programs and does not charge them to the insurance trust funds.

3. Claims arising from extra hazardous military duty ultimately are paid from appropriated funds and not charged against the trust funds.

POLICIES
The policies on which dividends are paid are largely U.S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI) primarily held by World War I veterans and National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) primarily held by World War II veterans.

No new NSLI or USGLI policies may be issued though lapsed policies may be reinstated by complying with requirements.

The VA has other insurance programs but they do not have general dividend participation policies.

It would take a change in the laws to change the premium levels for VA insurance. Such a possibility has been discussed in Congress but no serious move has been made.

CONTRACTS
Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., chairman of the House Veterans Committee, recently said Congress cannot make a mandatory change in the mortality tables because that would affect the contract the insurance represents.

The statutory tables in the insurance laws place the death rates at, for example, 8.43 per 1,000 persons covered at age 30, 13.78 at age 50 and 61.99 at age 70.

Actual experience shows the rates are running 1.08 at age 30, 6.72 at age 50 and 43.30 at age 70.

The difference in the two rates is roughly the dividend in dollars per $1,000 of term insurance," explained W. A. Poissant, chief actuary of the VA Insurance Department.

Under the VA system, 55 to 85 per cent of the premium on term insurance covering persons at ages under 45 is returned to the policyholders in the form of dividends.

"This is true because the rates were set too high at the start, by law," Poissant said. "It is not the fault of the nonparticipating insurance issued to veterans with Korean service because actual experience was taken into consideration in fixing those rates."

FIRST PAID

The first VA insurance dividends paid after the end of World War II were distributed in 1950 and 1951, to catch up on funds accumulated between 1940 and 1951. Annual dividends have been paid since 1952.

Over the years, while this was being done, VA followed a policy of holding back funds to meet contingencies. Last year this had reached about $465 million.

SPECIAL DIVIDEND

The special dividend to be paid later this year will reduce by about half the contingency fund.

At the end of 1960 the NSLI trust fund, the largest of four the VA maintains for its separate insurance programs, had assets of $1,209,202,465, including an $81,824,004 unassigned similar surplus.

NSLI insurance in force totaled 5,244,244 policies for $34,379,957,989 and there were 315,139 USGLI policies in force for $1,388,159,563.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Packages of Communist propaganda weighing at least four tons and intended for use here and in Brazil and Ecuador arrived at the airport from Cuba, the newspaper Ultimas Noticias said.

Hawaii Takes Look At Food Situation
HONOLULU (AP)—Gov. William F. Quinn met with his emergency food committee Wednesday to discuss plans in case the maritime strike becomes prolonged. Almost all food used here is imported from the U.S. West Coast.
Grocers usually keep four to five weeks' supply on hand, but supermarket operators said panic buying could exhaust stores in two weeks.
Grocers reported that sales of rice and canned milk have been heavier than usual and some stores are rationing these items. Foodstuffs could be shipped from Australia, New Zealand and the Orient on foreign ships, which have not been affected by the strike.

Ikedu, Rusk Pleased With 3-Day Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today a strong foundation for closer collaboration between Japan and the United States has been established as the result of top-level talks here.

Ikedu and Rusk made their statements to newsmen at the end of a 25-minute final session which substituted for a meeting between Ikeda and ailing President Kennedy.

FRIENDLY
"We have just concluded three days of most friendly and profitable talks," Ikeda said in Japanese. His remarks were translated.

"We have made a strong foundation for closer collaboration between Japan and the United States," he added.

"It is a foundation on which we can build still greater heights of friendship."

Rusk expressed the greatest of pleasure in looking back on 2 1/2 days of talks with Ikeda.

"The United States and Japan have laid the foundation for still more effective cooperation between our two countries," Rusk said.

A new chapter in U.S.-Japanese relations is opening, based on equality and partnership, Rusk said.

GRATIFIED
"We are gratified for the time Ikeda has given to these consultations," Rusk added.

Plans for a formal dinner at the Japanese Embassy tonight were left in force, with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, accompanied by his wife, representing Kennedy. Mrs. Kennedy still planned to attend.

Officials close to the talks between Ikeda and Kennedy said the ground they wished to explore had been covered in a two-hour meeting Wednesday and a session of one hour and 22 minutes Tuesday. Both Japanese and American officials expressed pleasure over the outcome of what they called frank talks on world-ranging problems.

A communique on his talks here was expected this afternoon. Friday he flies to New York for a meeting with U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

MIDDLE MAN
The prime minister has suggested that Japan act as a middle man for U.S. economic programs in Southeast Asia.

He advanced the idea of Japanese-American partnership in Asian economic development programs during a conversation on Wednesday with Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii.

Because of long associations, he said, Japanese understand Americans as few other Asians do. Ikeda appeared pleased with the warmth of his reception here and by his talks with Kennedy.

During a toast to the President at a state dinner, he said he had found "no important differences in our basic objectives."

"We are both determined to uphold our belief in a free world," he said.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was host at the dinner honoring the prime minister.

PARTNERSHIP
Rusk said that Japan and the United States have moved from a period of peace to an era of active partnership.

Ikeda and Kennedy completed the bulk of their consultations Wednesday in a two-hour conference about the presidential yacht Honey Fitz.

Chief topics were closer consultations between Japan and the United States, economic development programs for the Ryukyu Islands, where the United States maintains a major base on Okinawa, and international trade problems.

FATHER SAVES MEDICAL BILL
Bill Thomas, 2304 S. Monticello, didn't have time to be the nervous father when his 8-pound, 1-ounce son was born Tuesday morning. He delivered the baby.

Mrs. Thomas told her husband to take her to the hospital, but the couple never made it to the car. Tracy Kent was delivered at 1:45 a.m.

Mother and child are at home and doing fine. Thomas is an employee of Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

The Thomases have three other children, all born in hospitals. William Stewart, five; Marie Jantine, three; and Eldon Sherman, two.

Girls Not Hurt In Auto Wreck
Two accidents and a disturbance interrupted the 15 dog calls, and routine checks, of the police department in the past 24 hours.

Locations of accidents and drivers of cars involved were: Corner of Grafa and South Monticello, Billy McIntire, 1202 Grafa, and Joan Miller, 2611 Monticello.

Marcy Drive, east of National Guard Armory, Terry Jo Davids, 1212 E. 16th, lost control of her car which turned over, with passenger Mary Hepper. Both of the occupants were taken to Cowper Hospital and Clinic, where they were treated and released.

A call came to police at 3 a.m. Thursday regarding a shooting behind Uncle Tom's Liquor Store, US 80 West. Mrs. T. J. Higgins said someone came to the west door and fired a gun. Investigating officers found five bullet holes in the Higgins' car, which was parked beside the door of their living quarters.

A subject was later arrested after officers followed his car. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and with carrying a prohibited weapon. The subject was turned over to the district attorney on approval of Sheriff Miller Harris.

Safety Pays, Says Speaker
Safety pays Lloyd Harp, retired officer for Webb AFB, reminded the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting, and it pays in dollars as well as in prevention of injury and death.

He cited figures on how the simplest first aid injury represented a cost of $7 with permanent disability costs running up to $61,000 and $71,000 for military and civilian personnel. He cited other statistics showing the tremendous economic loss from failure to practice safety.

The worse loss, however, is in the physical realm with individuals permanently injured, he explained. With the aid of T. Sgt. Lovett Brown, he projected a film of how sight was lost in industrial mishaps because of failure to heed simple safety rules. Avery Falkner was in charge of the program.

Approval of a $100 grant from the club's crippled children's fund to the local crippled children's center was voted by the club.

Cherie Sabbato Also Entered
Left out of the listings Wednesday of contestants in the Junior Miss Big Spring Contest was Cherie Ann Sabbato, Miss Sabbato, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Sabbato, 100 Lincoln. She had special training in ballet and toe and plans to attend Colorado University after completing high school. She stands 5'4", weight 124, brown hair, green eyes, fair complexion, 25-24-36.

Twenty-five cases are tentatively slated to be aired by the grand jury at this session.

The 12 grand jurors will be chosen from the following:

Waitress Sues Newsom's Store
A Big Spring waitress, who alleges she slipped and fell on the floor of a food store, has sued the proprietor for $12,000 in 118th District Court.

Ann Scarborough, 44, claims that she was in the Newsom Food store on South Gregg on June 11, and while shopping, slipped on the floor. The fall injured her, she claims, and she is suing Don Newsom, owner, and the store for $12,000.

Zoning Board Meets Today
The Zoning Board of Adjustment was to meet today at 3 p.m. to study a request for variance from the new zoning ordinance, according to Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

H. M. Rainbolt has asked to establish a warehouse at the intersection of Benton and North First in the heavy industry district on the east side of Benton.

The ordinance calls for buildings to have a 15-foot setback from property lines and Rainbolt wants to set his building within four feet of the property line.

On the board are Bob Cook, chairman, John Davis, Harvey Clay, J. D. Elliott and H. W. Smith.

Charge Filed
Nestor M. Martinez, 35, of 405 NW 11th, was being held in the Taylor County jail Wednesday evening in lieu of $1,000 bond. He had been charged before the U. S. district clerk with possession of firearms illegally made and transferred. Martinez was arrested here and was transferred to federal authorities by Charles Bus, Dallas, of the alcohol and tobacco tax unit.

Longshoremen Return To Work; Seamen Still Out
NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen returned to the docks today after a one-day work stoppage that crippled the port of New York.

But the week-old nationwide maritime strike grew worse. The number of immobilized American-flag ships rose to at least 150 in 30 ports on the East, West and Gulf coasts.

Negotiations were in a stalemate as the impact of the strike deepened. More industries — especially oil plants — were hit.

Tshombe Freed From Congo Jail

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga was freed today after being held a prisoner of the Congolese central government for the past two months.

Smiling broadly and in apparent good health, Tshombe drove up to the residence of Premier Joseph Ileo of the Leopoldville government to hold a news conference.

With him was the Congolese commander in chief, Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

"He is free," Mobutu told newsmen as they entered the house. Tshombe confirmed his release and said he plans to return to his capital at Elisabethville immediately.

Smiling broadly, though noticeably thinner, Tshombe paid homage to Mobutu sitting at his side. "Because of men like him," Tshombe said, "the Congo crisis can now be ended. He is above them all, all, all."

Tshombe was arrested April 26 when he tried to walk out of a political conference. His release was a unity gesture by the central government in advance of this Sunday's scheduled meeting of the Central Congolese Parliament here.

U.N. and Congolese leaders have been working to have Katanga representatives attend the meeting and end the province's secessionist status. Leaders of other major factions have agreed to attend.

Interior Minister Cyrille Adoula promised Wednesday to release

City Manager Consults With Planners On Line

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer left Wednesday afternoon for Dallas to consult with Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers, regarding the cost of a proposed water line and pressure system for a new development in the south part of Big Spring.

E. C. Smith, who has asked for annexation of a new development known as Muir Heights, west of U.S. 87 and south of the new Catholic Church, requested the city's participation in overwidth pavements of streets and in water lines, after annexation.

The city commission, at the June 13th meeting, postponed action on the proposition until more detailed information on the cost of extending service into the area could be compiled by the city manager and the director of public works.

The property was considered too high in elevation to be served in its entirety by pressure from existing storage facilities and would require a pump to generate enough pressure to serve the area. The commission felt that the pump would be only a temporary means of supply and that future demands would require an elevated storage supply. Smith had agreed to pay the cost of the pump to be installed under city supervision.

Steinheimer is asking Forrest and Cotton to make an estimate on the cost and feasibility of the proposal, using a modern computing machine and to come up with figures. Demands of adjoining areas, which may later become a part of the city of Big Spring, would also be considered in making the estimate.

35 Students To Graduate At Webb Friday

dustry, railroads and motor transportation.

Culberson was chief examiner for the commission and was chief of its gas utilities division until 1909. He was first elected to the commission in 1941.

In his office at the commission, Culberson kept a motto hanging on the wall which read:

"Fact is for people who know they are wrong. My daily prayer is that neither public abuse nor private pressure shall ever cause me to abandon or waver in an honest opinion."

He was a leader in the fight against discriminatory freight rates in the Southwest.

Before he came to the commission, he was a railroad yard worker in Hillsboro, then deputy county clerk there.

After World War I service, he was elected county clerk and county judge of Hill County. There he uncovered a road bond fraud under which the county recovered $263,000. Later he went into the mercantile business at Edna and owned a large store there until two years ago.

He was chairman of the Railroad Commission three times.

He was a native Texan. His parents established the Culberson select school at Hillsboro and spent all their lives in the teaching profession.

He married Mary Lou Rochelle of Hubbard in 1912. They have a daughter, Mrs. Paul B. Wittman of Houston.

Culberson served as secretary of the Firemen and Fire Marshals Association of Texas for 40 years. He resigned from the job in 1959.

Texas Weather To Be Warmer

Warmer weather eased into North Texas Thursday.

The unseasonable cool snap was a delight to the state and set record lows for many places.

No rain was reported and none was forecast. Everywhere, Texas skies were clear.

Flood waters from the rising Guadalupe River lapped against a baseball park fence at Victoria and covered the parking lot Wednesday night, but 546 hardy fans stayed around to see their Texas League team lose to San Antonio, 4-3.

The river was expected to crest there at 30 feet during the afternoon, so there may be no ball game Thursday night. Flood stage is 21 feet. Victoria officials expected some light flooding in low sections but expressed no concern. Some families in low areas moved to higher ground.

The Colorado River surged on past Wharton where it crested Wednesday. The Rio Grande was falling, depositing its flood waters in Falcon Reservoir for use this summer by Valley and Mexican farmers.

Another cool front was moving toward Texas from the Pacific, but it wasn't expected to have much effect, at least for a few days.

Art Show Saturday

Plans for the regional Las Artistas art show are nearing completion, with registration at the HGJC gymnasium to be finished by 6:00 p.m. Friday.

At the final meeting of the Las Artistas Club Tuesday night members discussed methods for handling the expected numbers of paintings and other art work from Big Spring and surrounding cities, and a letter from Norman Whitefield, Abilene Christian College art department head, was read.

Whitefield is expected to arrive Saturday morning to begin judging the show. Top spot in the collection will receive a $100 purchase prize. There will be prizes and ribbons awarded other winners.

Names of prize winners will be published in Sunday's Herald, and the art show will be open to the public Saturday afternoon and Sunday until the works are picked up at 5:00 p.m.

Seven Employees Win Cash Awards

A total of $370 has been awarded to seven civilian employees at Webb AFB for sustained superior performance ratings and administrative improvement suggestions.

Elmer C. Bolte of Air Base Group's transportation section and James C. Ringner of M&S Group each received $150 for superior performance over a 18-month period.

Suggestion awards went to Clyde E. Huff, Transportation, $25; Jimmy Ray Smith, Pilot Training Group, $15; Mrs. Lois Hill, Air Base Group, $10; Mrs. Tommie S. Bryans, USAF Hospital, $10; and Joy Dugan, Civil Engineering Group, $10.

Milwaukee Moving In National Loop

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Are the Milwaukee Braves finally on their way in that National League race? Or have they just set themselves up for another flop?

At the moment, the Braves have edged back into fifth place by winning their third in a row behind complete game victories by Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette. The streak may not be much, but it matches their longest string of successes this season, and they've built it against second-place Los Angeles and third-place San Francisco.

What's more, Spahn and Burdette, the two aces of the pitching staff, have won in rotation for the first time in four weeks.

After losing four straight to San Francisco, the Braves made it two in a row against the Giants with a 5-3 victory behind Burdette Wednesday night. Spahn beat San Francisco 3-1 Tuesday night.

It was the fourth victory in five games for the Braves, but left them nine games behind the front-running Cincinnati Reds, who knocked St. Louis to sixth place by beating the Cards 9-2. Los Angeles shaved the Reds' lead to one game by taking two from the Chicago Cubs, 4-1 and 4-2. The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game was rained out.

Burdette (6-5) followed up a 2-1

five-hit victory over Los Angeles in his last start with a five-hit decision over the Giants, who now trail by three games. The big right-hander retired 11 batters in a row after the Giants broke a 2-2 tie with Willie Mays' 14th home run in the sixth inning. The Braves, coming from behind on Joe Torre's two-run homer in the fifth, finally nailed it against Jack Sanford (3-4) on a two-run double by Joe Adcock in the sixth.

The Reds took a 2-1 lead in the first inning against loser Ernie Broglin (6-8) and romped in as Gus Bell and Frank Robinson each hit a homer and drove in five runs between them.

Reliever Larry Sherry saved both games for the Dodgers. He struck out pinch hitter Ed Bouchee and Jerry Kindall with two on in the ninth inning of the opener, saving the victory for Stan Williams (6-6). Then he blanked the Cubs on one hit over 3-13 innings in relief of southpaw Johnny Podres (7-1) in the second game.

Gordie Windhorn's first major league hit, a three-run, fourth-inning double, won the first game for Los Angeles and beat Dick Ellsworth (2-5).

Long Way To Track

Rudy Krize (left), whose stable has had several winners at Ruidoso Downs, N. M., this season, travels a long way to and from the track. He hauls from Alaska. Pictured with him are two of the leading trainers at Ruidoso Downs, Marge and Richard Hazleton.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Charley Johnson, the local boy who signed to play football with the St. Louis Cardinals of the NFL a couple of weeks ago, was the Cards' tenth draft choice a year ago, at which time he still had a year's eligibility left at New Mexico State University.

In other words, he is a 'future' choice of the Cards, which is the reason he wasn't on the draft list the past spring. He went to a junior college (Schreiner) one year, then played three years at NMS, which made him eligible for the draft before he ever got out of college.

Charley finished third in the nation in total offense last fall with 1,634 yards in gains (1,511 of it passing and another 123 rushing), and fourth in the nation in touchdown passing, with 13 to his credit.

His overall record, for 30 regular season games in three seasons, included 311 completions out of 577 passing attempts, good for 4,115 yards.

One of his competitors for the quarterback job at St. Louis, George Izo (Notre Dame), underwent a leg operation not long ago and figures to be in top form for the first time since early in his career with the Fighting Irish. Another bidder for the job will be Sam Echeverry, who put in nine seasons in the Canadian Pro League. In that span, he played every game with the Montreal Alouettes and has set records which practically eclipse anything done by NFL quarterbacks in the history of that august circuit.

Of course, John Roach (SMU) is the returning regular at the quarterback spot for the Cardinals.

Of Johnson's chances, Card coach Frank Ivy remarked recently: "Our coaches and scouts have seen him in action and their reports have been great, that he is a fine passing quarterback with a good chance to make it, and that he is a high class, intelligent and aggressive player."

Not many know, perhaps, that John Floyd, the former head basketball coach at Texas A&M, recently was named a cage coaching aide at the University of Oklahoma.

Floyd is a graduate of Oklahoma State University, where he played basketball under Hank Iba. He's been in private business in Houston, where he worked as a manufacturer's representative for an air conditioning and heating filter firm. He resigned at Texas A&M in 1956. He's now 42 years of age.

Reports from Ruidoso Downs say the betting handle there is now down about eight or ten per cent from last year, when a new pari-mutuel record was set for the track.

Don Smith, onetime athletic standout at ACC, has been named head track coach at Cooper High School in Abilene. He's been serving as an eighth grade coach at Abilene.

Delnor Poss, the head basketball mentor at the local high school, is a cousin to Tommy Ford, the splendid all-around athlete for San Angelo High School a couple of seasons ago.

Tommy is now at the University of Texas, where he is threatening to become a football regular as a sophomore next fall.

Tommy's older brother, Jimmy, was valedictorian of his class at San Angelo High and is now a Baptist minister.

Delnor's brother, Wynn, who is quite a bit younger than Delnor, is coming up through the grades in San Angelo and may, in time, eclipse some of the athletic feats of his talented brother.

Par Will Take A Pummelling

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Chances were good that the 58th Western Open Golf Tournament starting today at Blytheheld Country Club could be accompanied by a shattering sound—broken par.

Western Golf Association officials say recent ideal weather has been 6,700-yard, par 36-35-71 course playing a little shorter than it was for the qualifying round Tuesday.

Estimates range from 270 to 275 as the winning score over the 72-hole four-day classic.

The forecast for only brief and widely scattered showers—late today and Friday—with a possibility they might miss the rolling golf acreage just northeast of Grand Rapids.

It was good news for the likes of National Open champion Gene Littler, muscular Arnold Palmer, South Africa's Gary Player, Sam Snead and other stalwarts in the 149-man field.

First prize means $5,000 to the winner plus, a gift of furniture to his lady.

Legion Team Opposes Lamesa At 8 P.M.

The American Legion baseball forces of Big Spring got an acid test in Lamesa tonight, starting at 8 o'clock.

By winning this one, Big Spring can go a long way toward clinching zone honors in District 19. However, Lamesa will be a big hurdle. The Dawson County team, made up principally of boys who performed in high school ball there last spring, won its first start very impressively, beating Tahoka, 4-2, although it was out-hit by a margin of 9-4.

Big Spring will carry a four-game winning streak to Lamesa with it, having beaten Denver City twice and Brownfield and Tahoka once each.

Tonight's contest was to have been played last weekend but had to be called off due to bad weather.

Lamesa got a late start in zone play, due to the fact that the high school season ran over-time there—the Tornados advanced to the semifinals in the state playoffs.

Either Bowman Roberts or Roy New will get the mound call tonight. Others who will probably start for the locals include Jeff Brown behind the plate, Jerry Tucker at first base, Coy Mitchell at second, Jerry Dunlap at third, Walter Fields at shortstop, Alf Cobb in left field, Tommy Young in center and Rickey Wisener in right.

Jim Wyatt could open on the mound for Lamesa, with Harvey Everheart as his battery mate.

Among the Lamesa players will be Aubrey Cox, who recently was named to the Class AAA all-state high school team. Aubrey will be in center field. Another hard-hitting outfielder for the Lamesans will be Sherrill Kidd, who delivered some clutch blows for Lamesa against Tahoka.

If Wyatt doesn't hurl, Donnie Lybrand will go to the pitching rubber for Lamesa.

Big Spring plays its next home game against Brownfield at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Frick May Quit Baseball Post

NEW YORK (AP)—There is talk in baseball circles today that Commissioner Ford Frick may resign his $65,000 job at the head of baseball before the end of his second term Sept. 29, 1965.

Says Frick: "I have no immediate plans to retire but I do not propose to work until I drop in my tracks. If I remain to the end of my contract it would carry me beyond the age that I think a man should work. But as of now I've got lots of pep."

Most frequently discussed as possible successors are former vice president Richard M. Nixon; Judge Robert C. Cannon of Milwaukee; Joe Cronin, president of the American League, and Warren Giles, president of the National League.

Baseball men think Frick will not want to step aside until baseball's current headaches are further along to solution. These are:

1. Expansion of the majors. The American League went to 10 teams this year, the National goes to 10 next year.
2. The wild bidding for untried young players through the bonus system, with offers to teen-agers of $100,000 and more.
3. Legislation to protect the reserve clause and remove the threat of antitrust action.

Frick was born Dec. 19, 1894, and thus would be close to 71 if he remained to the end of his second seven-year term. He is reputed to be eligible any time for a pension of $30,000 or more.

Frick, then president of the National League, was 57 when he succeeded Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, and the supposition is strong that baseball would probably seek as young a man to succeed him.

This would seem to rule out Giles, who is 65, and was a strong contender for the commissioner's job when Frick won out.

Nixon probably would not consider the job if he still has ambitions in national politics.

Colts Defeat Jets, 9 To 3

If a team in American Little League play here Wednesday night didn't get its runs in three-run clusters, it isn't score.

The Colts defeated the Jets, 9-3, by getting three tallies in each of the last three innings. The Jets didn't score in but one inning but ganged up on Colt hurling for three runs in that round.

Bill Burchett, who worked into the fifth inning, received credit for the mound victory while Bill Davis was saddled with the defeat.

Johnny Stone cracked three hits for the winners, all singles, while Johnny Arrick came through with a triple and a single.

Mike Clark had three hits for the losers while Gary Ham drove out two blows.

Bill Holden Likes Living Among Swiss

By BOB THOMAS
STOCKHOLM (AP) — William Holden, formerly of California and now a resident of Switzerland, finds himself the center of controversy for that reason. He has been attacked by Congress, lashed by his fellow film workers of Hollywood and criticized indirectly by the actors' union of which he was once an officer.

I think it best for me and my family," he says. "I'll continue to do so, no matter what laws are changed and what anybody says."

Holden is the most noted and the most articulate of the film personalities who have taken up life in Switzerland. Hollywood network unions have castigated him for allegedly aiding "runaway production" of American films abroad. The Kennedy administration, undoubtedly with an eye on Holden, has recommended eliminating tax havens overseas for the likes of wealthy actors. Certain senators have agreed.

So has Holden's own union, the Screen Actor's Guild.

NO BOTHER
Holden says, "What the senators and the Guild are talking about is their problem. It couldn't bother me less."

As far as he is concerned, it is much ado about little. "They talk about all the American stars who are living in Switzerland," Holden said. "Well, who are they? David Niven? He's English. Deborah Kerr. She's English. Peter Ustinov? He's English. Noel Coward? He's English. Audrey Hepburn? She's Dutch-English.

"Then they mention Ava Gardner. But wait a minute — she's living in Spain, isn't she? So who does that leave? Me. That's all."

MOVING AROUND
The actor remarked "It seems to me that Americans have always been noted for moving around, for being unafraid of new challenges, new frontiers. Now certain people are trying to tell us to stay at home and not work abroad. It's a form of isolationism."

DEAR ABBY

'Discreet' Is Same Old Story

DEAR ABBY: After twelve years of marriage, I have come to the conclusion that I don't love my husband. I have grown accustomed to him as you would to a pet I didn't realize this until I met Mr. R. He is the man I wish I were married to. I would not be foolish enough to break up my home because I love my children and they need me. Mr. R. also has a family and he feels the same way about his family. Our situations are similar in that he doesn't exactly hate his wife. He just doesn't love her.

Mr. R. and I haven't done anything to be ashamed of. We've met a few times and told each other our troubles. He says there is no harm in being "silent sweethearts" as long as we are discreet. I am tempted. Should I?

ON THE BRINK
DEAR ON: You have dressed up a shabby old theme in fancy language. A "silent sweetheart" is a guy on the side, and to be "discreet" under such circumstances, means to cheat behind locked doors. Direct some of that romantic energy toward your "pet." The adventure you are considering is loaded with dynamite.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about a man who makes a date with you several days in advance, and doesn't show up or phone to tell you he won't be there? This has happened to me twice with the same man. The first time he told me he fell asleep, and the second time he said he "forgot" we had a date.

He is a nice person, and has given me (and others) reason to believe he is very much interested in me. I cannot understand this treatment. I am 32 and he is 35. Neither of us has ever been married, and all our friends think we would make a wonderful couple.

CANT FIGURE IT OUT
DEAR CANT: Don't include this man in your plans for the future. A woman your age needs someone who sleeps less and remembers more.

DEAR ABBY: A certain relative just refurbished her place. It is no fun to go there any more. She follows you around like an FBI agent to see that you don't put a wet glass down anywhere. And the minute I light a cigarette she keeps her eyes glued on me to see that an ash doesn't fall on the rug. When she has a few people in she polices everyone every second. She makes me nervous. Should I tell her, as one sister-in-law to another, that she was a better hostess when she was more relaxed and didn't have all that fancy furniture? Or would she think I was jealous?

NERVOUS
DEAR NERVOUS: If your furnishings are not as fancy as hers, she will probably think you are jealous. Skip it, and be careful where the ashes fall or somebody will be burned up.

DEAR ABBY: This is for your readers who would rather not answer when someone asks them how old they are.

Just say, "I'm old enough to know the score — and young enough to play the game."

Showers Bring Relief To Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Scattered showers and heavy downpours brought relief this past week to Texas farmers and ranchmen in most sections of Texas.

There were exceptions. Moisture remains critically short in far West Texas and in portions of South Texas, said John Hutchins, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Brooks County, in South Texas, had a total rainfall of .09 of an inch in May.

W. W. Grisham Jr. of Amarillo said heavy rainstorms brought damaging hail to many sections of the Panhandle, leaving some areas with surplus moisture and others still needing rain. Most cotton and grain sorghum has been planted on irrigated land, but some replanting will be necessary. Harvest of small grains is under way.

The South Plains cotton crop is off to a good start, reported W. H. Jones from Lubbock. Though rain fell over most of the district last week, some counties still report dry spots. Generally, stockwater is plentiful, and cattle and rangeland are in good condition, Jones said.

From Vernon, J. G. Simmons said moisture was adequate in all but two counties in his district. Heavy rain showers and hail caused some replanting of cotton and grain sorghum in eight counties.

Harvest of North Texas small grains has resumed following scattered showers. Ted Martin reported from Denton. Yields generally are above average and elevator operators say quality of wheat also is above average. Cotton is making good progress.

From Ft. Pleasant, John Surovik said moisture was short in most East Texas counties except those bordering the Red River. Harvest of small grains and hay crops is almost complete. Tree-ripen peaches and plums are now going to market.

Scattered showers fell along the Pecos Valley, but most areas of far West Texas continue very short on moisture, said Ray Siegmund of Ft. Stockton. The Presidio cantaloupe crop is moving to market and other irrigated crops are making good growth.

Central West Texas field crops are making excellent growth as early grain sorghum is beginning to head, said Roy Huckabee of San Angelo. Fruit harvest is under way in Blanco County and Mason County's vegetable outlook is bright. Range conditions vary from dry in northern counties to very dry in the south.

The Central Texas oat harvest is near completion with good yields, reported by R. G. Burwell of Stephenville. Corn is tasseling and grain sorghum heading, but both crops need additional rain to mature. Cotton is in all stages and farmers are busy with cultivation and insect control chores.

Although spotted showers brought some relief in deep East Texas, a general rain is badly needed, said Walter Scott of Nacogdoches. All field crops and pastures need additional moisture, but early corn is in a critical condition. Milk production is lagging below normal.

From Gonzales in South Central Texas, Joe Glover reported good rains over most of the district, but moisture is still in short supply in some areas. Some late cotton and hay crops remain to be planted.

Scattered heavy showers fell on the upper Gulf Coast, but a general rain is still needed, said Silver Whitsett of Richmond. Cotton is fruiting heavily and early fields are blooming. Some corn is in the roasting ear stage, and grain sorghum is beginning to head. Rice is growing off well.

The South Texas cotton harvest is now under way with Hidalgo County claiming the first bale, said Joe Rothe of Weslaco. Scattered showers over most of the district improved prospects for dryland crops, but some areas remain critically dry.

DEAR ABBY: I think it best for me and my family," he says. "I'll continue to do so, no matter what laws are changed and what anybody says."

Holden is the most noted and the most articulate of the film personalities who have taken up life in Switzerland. Hollywood network unions have castigated him for allegedly aiding "runaway production" of American films abroad. The Kennedy administration, undoubtedly with an eye on Holden, has recommended eliminating tax havens overseas for the likes of wealthy actors. Certain senators have agreed.

So has Holden's own union, the Screen Actor's Guild.

NO BOTHER
Holden says, "What the senators and the Guild are talking about is their problem. It couldn't bother me less."

As far as he is concerned, it is much ado about little. "They talk about all the American stars who are living in Switzerland," Holden said. "Well, who are they? David Niven? He's English. Deborah Kerr. She's English. Peter Ustinov? He's English. Noel Coward? He's English. Audrey Hepburn? She's Dutch-English.

"Then they mention Ava Gardner. But wait a minute — she's living in Spain, isn't she? So who does that leave? Me. That's all."

MOVING AROUND
The actor remarked "It seems to me that Americans have always been noted for moving around, for being unafraid of new challenges, new frontiers. Now certain people are trying to tell us to stay at home and not work abroad. It's a form of isolationism."

Declaration Seen As Cold War Stepup

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials today viewed Soviet Premier Khrushchev's latest declaration on East-West issues as a stepup in his post-Vienna cold war campaign.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was slated to voice the U.S. government's views at an afternoon news conference.

At a Moscow rally Wednesday, Khrushchev said a peace treaty with Germany will be signed "at the end of this year." And he de-

Rites Friday For Judge C. N. Sullivan

Last rites for Charlie Sullivan, 70, for 10 years judge of the 118th Judicial District, will be said at 10 a.m. Friday in the Nalley-Pickle Chapel. The Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of Westside Baptist Church, will officiate.

Masonic graveside rites will be observed in the Masonic section of the City Cemetery.

Judge Sullivan, a native of and a resident of Big Spring for 33 years, died of a heart attack at Lake Colorado City Tuesday evening. He had served during World War I in the Army.

Having been admitted to the bar in 1917, he served as county attorney and county judge of Parker County before coming here in 1928. From 1937-41 he was Howard County judge, and in 1949 was appointed to the bench of the newly created 118th district. On three other occasions he was elected to the bench, resigning at the end of 1959 to take retirement.

He leaves his widow; one son, Charles Sullivan, El Paso, a daughter, Mrs. Preston Denton, Rockford, Ill.; six grandchildren; a sister, Miss Theo Sullivan, Big Spring.

Pallbearers will be Lee Porter, Ed Carpenter, Wade Choate, H. W. Wright, Judge Ralph Caton and James Little.

clared that if the United States resumes atomic testing, the Soviets immediately will do so too.

TIMETABLE

He set forth his Berlin timetable more precisely than he did during or since his talks at Vienna June 3-4 with President Kennedy.

Under Khrushchev's plan for a treaty with East Germany, the Soviets would give the Communist East German regime control over access to Berlin. The Western Powers, which do not recognize East Germany, regard this as a move to push them out of the Red-encircled city.

U.S. experts, still studying the text of Khrushchev's remarks, were of differing opinions as to whether the Soviet chief had served an "ultimatum" on the German question.

RECALLED

It was recalled that Khrushchev once before set a six-month deadline on a German peace treaty without going through with a separate pact with East Germany. Also, it remained to be seen how far the Kremlin actually would move to push the Western allies out of West Berlin if it did conclude an East German treaty.

Nevertheless, U.S. authorities took Khrushchev's warning on Germany with great seriousness. Discussions were under way with Western allies.

Khrushchev's threat to resume nuclear tests was similar to statements he has made before. U.S. officials believe he is not interested in getting a treaty outlawing atomic explosions.

BREAKING OFF

Kennedy strategists figure that Khrushchev wants to prod the United States into breaking off the lengthy Geneva conference on a nuclear test ban treaty and have the United States be the first to set off new atomic explosions.

Arthur H. Dean, top U.S. negotiator at the Geneva parley, returned to Washington Wednesday night for what he said would be a few days of consultation with Kennedy and others. He said he plans to return to Geneva unless Kennedy directs otherwise.

The U.S. negotiator said the West would not yield in its insistence on an effective inspection system to police any test ban accord. He professed to see some hope for progress at the deadlocked conference — provided the Soviets do some backtracking.

Coffee Firms In Merger

HOUSTON—Charles Duncan Jr., president of the Duncan Coffee Company, and Gilbert C. Swanson, president and chairman of the board of Butter-Nut Foods Company of Omaha, announced their respective companies had entered into an agreement to merge their businesses. Both companies are regional coffee producers. The Duncan Coffee Company markets its coffees in the Southwest, the Butter-Nut Foods Company marketing its coffees in the Middle-West and Far West.

Duncan stated, "The merger of the two companies, each being a producer of high quality roasted coffee and instant coffee, serving separate areas of our nation, will enable each company to more advantageously take care of its customers. Further, in this very highly competitive consumer food field, it will help each company prepare to meet the production and the marketing problems of the future, and in particular the competition of national brands."

Both executives said there would be no change in the corporate structures, personnel staffing, or distribution of the two companies. Duncan has plants at Houston, Corpus Christi and Birmingham. The Butter-Nut Company has plants at Omaha, Los Angeles, and Philadelphia.

Dr. McAvoy Appeals License Revocation

Dr. Eileen Bernice McAvoy, whose license to practice medicine was revoked by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners last Thursday, has filed an appeal in the 118th District Court asking that the action of the board be set aside.

At the same time, the plaintiff petitioned the district court to grant an order permitting her to resume practice pending outcome of her appeal to the court.

David Scarborough, Abilene, her attorney, filed the petitions in the court here on Wednesday and asked that Will Wilson, attorney general, and Gil Jones, district attorney, be cited in the case.

Dr. McAvoy is at liberty on bond for a number of misdemeanor complaints and for three indictments charging her with obtaining narcotics by false prescription.

The state board, in a hearing held here last Thursday, canceled and revoked her license to practice medicine.

The doctor in her petition appealing the case to the 118th District Court says action of the board was without justification.

An appeal of this nature, court officials said, establishes the hearing on the matter as a new case. The district court, when it hears the case, will in effect try the matter completely.

Suit Names Auto Maker

An insurance company has filed a damage suit against a motor car manufacturer in 118th District Court here alleging that the manufacturer was responsible for a fire which damaged the car extensively.

Chrysler Corp. is the defendant in the case and the Maryland Casualty Co., is the plaintiff.

The plaintiff, in its petition, recites that on Feb. 15, it issued a policy insuring a Chrysler automobile which had been purchased by T. S. Currie Jr. On April 23, the petition relates, at a time when the car had but 1,600 miles service against it, the car caught fire and was damaged $1,860.

The insurance company seeks to collect this amount from the manufacturer, alleging that the car was not properly made and that the fire stemmed from the corporation's negligence.

Market Reports Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed in moderate trading at the opening.

Most leading issues showed narrow changes.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) rose 1/4 to 44 1/4 on 3,000 shares. Eastman Kodak was down a point at 105 1/4.

District Successor Sought On State Education Board

The State Board of Education is now giving consideration to filling the vacancy on the Board created by the death of E. H. Boulter, Lubbock.

Boulter's successor will be appointed by members of the State Board of Education to hold office until the next general election.

To be eligible for membership on the State Board of Education, a person must have been in continuous residence in the district he is to represent five years prior to his election or appointment. He must be a citizen of the United States, a qualified elector in his district, and at least 30 years of age.

Counties in the 19th Congressional District include the following: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Haskell, Hockley, Howard, Kent, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mitchell, Scurry, Stonewall, Terry, and Yoakum.

The law provides that persons holding an office or receiving employment under the State of Texas or any political subdivision thereof, or receiving any compensation for services from the State or any political subdivision thereof, except retirement compensation, are ineligible to serve on the Board. Also, any person engaged in organized public educational activity is ineligible for Board membership.

Board members receive no salary but are entitled to reimbursement for actual expenses of attending official Board meetings.

Students Fight

MEXICO CITY (AP)—An estimated 400 teen-agers battled with rocks, clubs and water for almost two hours Wednesday in a residential area before police dispersed them. Five persons were injured and three rioters were arrested. Police said they did not know what set off the youths, students of rival schools.

Enjoy Dessert! Say Cook Book Writers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Petite and pert Helen McCully recently finished a most pleasurable task: She ate her way through hundreds of desserts, in preparation for writing a cook book, and didn't gain a pound. Co-author with Eleanor Noderer of "Just Desserts," (Obolensky, $4.95), Helen McCully explains, "I feel one dessert a day is my right—and I'm never guilty about enjoying it."

"America has the biggest sweet tooth in the world. And what's wrong with this appreciation of delectable desserts?" Miss McCully asks. "What gets us into trouble is our terrific guilt about enjoying sweets. So many women go round and round in a vicious circle of guilty feelings, crash diets and food binges."

"If you gain a few pounds, walk an extra mile, climb an extra hill, play an extra game of golf or tennis. Exercise is a weightwatcher's best friend."

"Unless you're on a doctor's diet, don't cut out your favorite foods. Learn the art of relishing small portions and give up second helpings." This is how Helen McCully keeps her own figure attractively trim.

Another trick this dessert expert has discovered: "If you serve Chocolate Fudge Pie—and the recipe for it in our cook book is very rich, very good—precede it with foods only reasonably rich in calories. Plan backwards! It's fun, and really a practical way of working out a well-balanced menu."

Now a food consultant, Helen McCully made a superlative contribution during the 13 years she edited the food pages of a well-known woman's magazine. Now, as then, her recipes have true distinction, invaluable clarity—and a side.

She says she started adding the recipes the day she watched a magazine beauty editor try to make it in between telephone calls, brewing coffee, lighting cigarettes and making up her eyes. That was when she decided to add precautions to recipes and rewrite a cake rule like this: "When you start mixing this batter, get going! Don't fool around!"

"Just Desserts" is every good cook's just dessert. The best lemon soufflé recipe we know comes from it.

Lemon Soufflé

Refreshing lemon soufflé is made by Helen McCully and Eleanor Noderer, authors of the new cookbook, "Just Desserts." The writers are two women who never worry about calories or gaining weight.

Iceberg Lettuce

If you've cored a head of iceberg lettuce and have used part of it, use the rest of the lettuce the next day.

Raphanus Sativus Increase Market

There's a good supply of Raphanus sativus these days. A good supply of what? "Raphanus sativus." That's the scientific name for radishes, one of the most common root vegetables in the country.

The word "raphanus" is derived from Greek. It means "quick appearing," or, loosely interpreted, "easily reared."

And that's exactly what radishes are. Any one can grow radishes in his home garden. They germinate quickly; grow well under a wide range of soil and climate conditions.

While radishes are grown in some parts of the country all year, peak supplies are available April through July. That's now. The market news branch of the Agricultural Marketing Service reports shipments are running high. Radishes are, in fact, one of USDA's plentiful foods for June in this area.

Radishes have been cultivated in China for thousands of years. That may be their country of origin because truly wild forms have been found there. But radishes were a common food in Egypt long before the pyramids were built.

Radishes came to England around the middle of the 16th century. In 1957, Gerarde in his Herbal mentions four varieties. He says some were "eaten raw with bread" but most were "used as a sauce with meats to procure appetite."

We also think of radishes as appetizers, eaten raw with a dash of salt, or in salads. But they also are delicious when cooked like turnips, or eaten with a cream sauce. In the Orient, pickled radishes and rice are a real treat. Arabs are fond of radish tops.

Add Brown Sugar For More Flavor

Brown sugar gives these cookies a flavor youngsters cherish. Press them thin so they will be crisp, rather than hard!

BUTTERSCOTCH COOKIES

1 cup sifted flour
1/4 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk solids
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/4 cups dark brown sugar (firmly packed)
1 tsp. vanilla
1 egg and 1 egg white
1-3 cup (about) finely chopped nuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in the dry milk. Cream butter and sugar; beat in the vanilla and whole egg. Stir in dry ingredients. Chill. Form into balls, using 1 tablespoon of the mixture for each.

Place several inches apart on greased cookie sheet; press down so cookies are thin. Brush with egg white; sprinkle with nuts. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until browned—4 to 8 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen.

Scrambled Eggs

Top scrambled eggs with creamed spinach for something good and different. Nice for lunch with baked sweet potatoes and broiled tomatoes.

For Barbecuing, Roast Is Especially Good

When it comes to outdoor cooking, the man of the house naturally dons his chef's hat and takes over. He has a wide variety of meat cuts from which to choose as any tender cut can be grilled out-of-doors. But the chef will agree that rib roast of beef, the king of roasts, makes any occasion special.

The brand with the two most trusted words in meat assures the chef of a tender, juicy roast which he will be proud to carve before his guests. Martha Logan, home economist for the world's leading meat packer, suggests selecting a short cut bone-in rib roast. For easy balancing and even cooking on the spit the roast should measure about 5 inches from the point of the chine bone to the end of the rib. The short ribs which have been removed would be ideal for the next night's meal on the grill.

Even balancing of the roast on the spit is best achieved by running the spit parallel to the bones as shown in the photograph. The spit may be inserted through the large round muscle or the "eye" of the roast if preferred, but the servings will not be as attractive.

A meat thermometer designed especially for rotisserie cooking may be inserted in the center of the roast. It is your best guide to a roast done just the way you like it. A three-rib roast will take approximately 3 1/2 hours to reach medium doneness over white hot briquettes.

As the rib roast revolves on the spit the eager guests will be watching for the final moment when the roast is carved. The chef can boast that he did it all himself when he serves the roast with blue cheese stuffed mushroom caps from the grill.

BEEF RIB ROAST

Yield: 6 to 8 servings
3 rib bone-in roast, cut short
1 lb. fresh large mushroom caps
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
6 tbsps. crumbled blue cheese
2 tbsps. dairy soured cream
Run a spit through the rib roast, parallel with the bone. Make sure the roast is evenly balanced. Insert roast meat thermometer into center of the thickest part of the meat, not touching the bone. Adjust spit into holder and start the spit revolving. Cook over white hot briquettes to an internal temperature of 140 degrees F. for rare, 160 degrees F. for medium, or 170 degrees F. for well done.

Wash mushrooms under cold running water. Separate the stems and caps of the mushrooms. Chop the stems finely and pan-fry in butter for about 5 minutes. Blend together thoroughly the blue cheese and sour cream. Stir this mixture into the pan-fried mushrooms. Stuff the upturned mushroom caps with the blue cheese mixture. Place mushroom caps on small tray made of foil. Heat on grill for 10 to 15 minutes or until mushroom caps are tender. Serve with rib roast of beef.

COOL CUCUMBER

Yield: 4 sandwiches
4 slices cooked rib roast of beef
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
2 tbsps. mayonnaise
2 tbsps. dairy soured cream
2 tps. wine vinegar
Salt
Pepper
1 tbsp. chopped onion, optional
4 lettuce leaves
4 slices rye bread
2 hard-cooked eggs
4 strips pimiento

Combine cucumber, mayonnaise, sour cream, vinegar, salt, pepper and onion. Place one lettuce leaf on each slice of rye bread. Place one slice of beef on top of each lettuce leaf. Spoon cucumber sauce over each slice of beef. Cut each egg into four slices. Place two slices of egg on top of each sandwich. Lay pimiento strip over the sliced egg.

Teen-Age Girl Has To Budget Hours To Fit Busy Schedule

Some people have the impression that all teen-agers spend their summer hours driving around in cars or staying at home and talking on the phone. Eighteen-year-old Karen Koger proves that it isn't so.

Although Karen admits she spends a great deal of the day on the phone, she also accomplishes other things such as teaching swimming, cleaning house and cooking.

Both Karen's parents work, which means that she must take on some extra household chores during the summer — and she doesn't mind a bit. Karen says she loves both cooking and housecleaning.

Karen's busy schedule includes teaching swimming at the Y in the mornings, attending cheerleader practice from 1 to 2 p.m. and teaching private swimming lessons from 2 to 3 p.m. for five days a week. She usually tries to get home and have lunch prepared for her parents, although there are times when the meals have to be neglected.

As a rule, Karen sticks to deserts when her mother does the cooking. Karen doesn't consider herself a good cook, but both parents say she is. No different from her teen-age friends who share her interest in cooking. Karen often prepares tasty dips or candies for parties.

The slender redhead, who says she is a hearty eater, has no particular food preference, but Karen's cooking specialty is dessert. Here are three of her favorite pies which are always a delight to her parents.

GREEN APPLE PIE

¾ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 tsp. grated orange rind
5-6 large green apples
1 unbaked 9" pastry shell
4 tbsps. butter or margarine
3 tbsps. II. corn syrup
Combine sugar, cinnamon, and orange rind; reserve. Pare and core apples; cut into ¼" thick slices. Layer slices into pastry shell, heaping them in center; sprinkle each layer with sugar mixture and dot with butter or margarine. Cover with aluminum foil. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 25 minutes; remove foil. Brush apples with corn syrup; bake 25 to 30 minutes longer or until apples are tender. Garnish softened with a small amount of milk, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

STRAWBERRY CHIFFON PIE

¼ cup crushed vanilla wafers
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
1 pt. (2 cups) strawberries
1-3 cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup water
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup heavy cream, whipped
14-15 whole vanilla wafers
Blend crushed wafers and butter or margarine; press mixture firmly into 9" pie plate. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 minutes, cool. Wash strawberries; save several nicely shaped ones for garnish; hull and slice remainder. Combine strawberries and 1-3 cup sugar; let stand 15 minutes until juices run freely; strain juice into saucepan. Soften gelatin in water 5 minutes; add to strawberry juice; heat until gelatin is dissolved; cool. Add sliced strawberries to cooled mixture; chill until mixture firm. Prepare pastry shell. Set oven to very hot (450 degrees). Pile peaches into pastry shell; sprinkle with lemon juice. Beat eggs; add 1-3 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, nutmeg, and sour cream; mix well until blended; pour over peaches. Combine butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, and 1-3 cup flour; blend with fingers until crumbs form. Sprinkle over top of pie. Bake 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees); bake 25 minutes longer, or until filling is firm.

PEACHES AND CREAM PIE

1 unbaked 9" pastry shell
4 cups sliced fresh peaches
2 tbsps. lemon juice
2 eggs
1-3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 tsp. flour
¼ tsp. nutmeg
¼ cup dairy sour cream
2 tbsps. soft butter or margarine
2 tbsps. brown sugar
1-3 cup flour

Prepare pastry shell. Set oven to very hot (450 degrees). Pile peaches into pastry shell; sprinkle with lemon juice. Beat eggs; add 1-3 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, nutmeg, and sour cream; mix well until blended; pour over peaches. Combine butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, and 1-3 cup flour; blend with fingers until crumbs form. Sprinkle over top of pie. Bake 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees); bake 25 minutes longer, or until filling is firm.

In August, Karen will be attending student council training school in San Antonio the first week and cheerleaders school at SMU the second week.

Never Too Busy

Cooking, cleaning or planning a party, Karen Koger is never too busy for a chat on the phone. Most likely it is one of her friends calling about cheerleader practice, a swimming student getting advice, or her steady boyfriend making a date.

Apple In Salad Accents Recipe

The fruit added to this salad may seem odd, but the combination tastes very good indeed.

LUNCHEON SALAD

6 hard-cooked eggs
Mayonnaise and pickle relish
Salt and pepper
1 can (3 ¾ ozs) bristling sardines
2 medium-sized red-skinned apples
Salad greens
Cut eggs in half and mash yolks with a little mayonnaise, pickle relish, salt and pepper. Stuff white cavities with yolk mixture.

Drain sardines. Quarter and core washed and dried apples; cut into small fan-shaped pieces. Arrange stuffed eggs, sardines and apple on salad greens.

Makes 4 servings. We like to serve this with Ersatz Sour Cream made by blending creamstyle cottage cheese with a little buttermilk and lemon juice in an electric blender.

Pepper Strips

Green pepper strips make a good munch for weight-watchers; a medium-sized pepper has only 16 calories.

IT'S LOVE AT FIRST BITE

Cooking Outdoors Is Fun, Whether On Patio Or Safari

Cooking in the great outdoors can be as close by as your garden patio or as far afield as your summer vacation safari. But near or far, it's good fun.

A big aid to the general deliciousness of any outdoor meal is bread. Big, round hamburger buns, slim-Jim frankfurter rolls, crusty French and Italian breads, rye, raisin, pumpernickel and other favorites. An outdoor meal is one meal and occasion on which to go really overboard on breads. People love 'em.

And that brings us to what to cook outdoors. Generally speaking, anything that can be grilled over coals or cooked in a skillet is a "natural." Consider, for example, these Apples and Sausages en Brochette. They're zesty. They're easy. They offer flavor and heft and good all round eating.

Canned apple slices, plump and juicy, alternate with baby sausages and tomato wedges on skewers. Grill until the sausages are brown and sputtering. Then slide the whole skewer fare onto toasted frankfurter rolls and pass to the waiting hungry horde.

APPLES AND SAUSAGES

2 ½ cups (1 can) apple slices
1 lb. small link sausages
4 small tomatoes
Few grains garlic salt
Few grains sugar
8 frankfurter rolls

Alternate on skewers, apple slices, sausage and tomato wedges. Sprinkle tomato wedges with garlic salt and apple slices with sugar. Grill over glowing coals until tender, turning to brown all sides. Serve on frankfurter rolls. Makes 8 servings.

As an accompanying drink, Apple Juice-Iced Tea is suggested. This new beverage combination has lively taste and is most refreshing and thirst-quenching.

APPLE JUICE-ICED TEA

2 cups chilled apple juice
2 cups strong tea
Lemon slices
Mint sprigs
Combine apple juice and tea. Pour into tall glasses holding ice cubes. Garnish each serving with lemon slice and mint sprig.

If desired, sweeten to taste. Makes 5-6 servings.

APPLE CON CARNE

2 tbsps. shortening
1 ½ lbs. ground beef
1 tsp. salt
2-3 tbsps. chili powder
1-8 oz. can tomato sauce
1 No. 2 can kidney beans
2 cups canned apple sauce

Heat shortening in 10" skillet; add meat, brown quickly, stirring with fork. Add salt and chili powder; mix well. Add tomato sauce, kidney beans and apple sauce. Heat. Makes 6-8 servings.

Club rolls are fine with this dish. So are the thick slices of French bread which can be used to "mop up" the savory sauce on the individual plates. Pass crisp celery and carrot sticks and plenty of hot coffee... and you have a meal!

Soak Onion Rings

Many good cooks like to soak onion rings in a cup of milk (in which two teaspoons of salt has been dissolved) before French-frying them. After the rings are drained, they're coated with flour and then popped into the frying kettle.

Fish Steaks

Sandwich large fish steaks together with a bread stuffing and bake. Adding a little minced pickle to the stuffing will contribute a flavor that goes well with fish.

SUMMERTIME DELIGHTS

Cookie Recipe Is Requested Often

Every time we decide every cook must know how to make the oatmeal variety of chocolate chip cookies, someone asks us for the recipe!

CHOCCHIP COOKIES

1 ½ cups sifted flour
1 tsp. each baking powder and salt
1 cup butter or margarine
¾ cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs
1 tbsps. warm water
1 ½ cups quick-cooking or regular-style rolled oats
6 ozs. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, with sugars and vanilla. Beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat well; stir in water, then oats and chocolate. Drop heaping teaspoons of mixture, several inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

A cablegram from Bentwaters, England, Wednesday morning told of the arrival of CINDY LOU SNYDER, daughter of IST. LT. and MRS. C. D. SNYDER (Mari-lou Staggs). The Snyders have been in England a year. Maternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. CHARLIE STAGGS, and the paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. FRED SNYDER of Hazard, Ky.

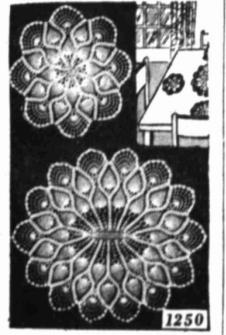

From Paris, France, comes word from MRS. BEULAH JOHNSON, who just loves the bright city. When she was in London, it rained the afternoon she went to see the "Bloody Tower." She had fun in London and was intrigued, but when she got to Paris she was captivated. She was looking forward to a boat trip at night down the Seine on an excursion boat. She had seen the high points of the city including the building where Mr. K. of Russia destroyed the Summit meeting. A trip to Versailles was also in the offing. At this point of her trip she is already sorry she doesn't have more time to spend in Paris.

MR. and MRS. G. C. GLENN have returned from Costa Mesa and Bakersfield, Calif., where they visited their daughters and their families. In Bakersfield they visited the O. O. JAMESSES and in Costa Mesa they were guests of the EDWARDS COUSINS. The Glenns were accompanied to Anaheim, Calif., by her sister, MRS. W. A. WILEY, who had spent some time here following the death of another sister at Lake Colorado City after a boating mishap. The Glenns have also visited in Weatherford with his mother, MRS. J. E. GLENN.

MRS. JOHN ADDISON and her children, Bobby and Susan, of Wayne, Neb., are visiting her mother, MRS. ANNA MAE BERRY. Mrs. Berry met the Addisons in Dodge City and brought them home with her.

MRS. JACK EWING and two of her three children, Diane and Stephen, are here to be with her mother, MRS. M. E. ANDERSON, who is undergoing a series of eye operations. Mrs. Ewing plans to be here several weeks and will be joined in July by Mr. Ewing and another daughter, Laura.

Mrs. Grimes Is Meeting Hostess

Mrs. Richard Grimes was hostess to a meeting of the Baptist Temple Horace Buddin Circle Tuesday morning in her home. Mrs. H. J. Cox conducted the short business meeting.

It was decided that the circle will provide refreshments for the GA at the District 8 encampment in Stanton next week. The circle also will serve for the July Royal Service program.

Mrs. C. L. McKinney was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. Neal Bryant as a transferee from another circle. Completion of the study on Intercessory Prayer was made by Mrs. Grimes.

WMU president, Mrs. H. M. Jarrett, was a guest and she reminded the group of the Fourth of July picnic at Lake Thomas for the WMU members and their families. Mrs. Monroe Gafford closed the meeting with prayer.

GIA Holds Last Meet Of Summer

A covered dish luncheon is planned for Sept. 20 for members of the GIA to BOLL, when they will entertain their husbands. The group met Wednesday for the last session of the summer season at Carpenters Hall.

Appointed to the table committee for the luncheon were Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. C. L. Kirkland and Mrs. L. N. Brooks. The food committee is made up of Mrs. L. A. Griffith, Mrs. R. C. Williams and Mrs. R. D. U'rey.

Thirteen were present for the meeting.

McKaskles Will Live In Andrews

STANTON (SG) — Mr. and Mrs. James Conrad McKaskle will make a home in Andrews following their marriage in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Saturday.

The bride is the former Sandra Beth Shipp, daughter of H. L. Shipp; the bridegroom's parents are the Etzelle McKaskles of Stanton.

Shipp gave his daughter in marriage; she was attired in white Chantilly lace over taffeta, street length, and her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums.

Ann George of Fabens was maid of honor; Rex Hale of Andrews was best man. Ushers were Bobby Shipp, brother of the bride, and Sherman McKaskle, brother of the bridegroom.

The new Mrs. McKaskle is an employe of the telephone company in Andrews, and the bridegroom works for the Texas Electric Service Company.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Warns Against Home-Bleached Hair

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Joyce Meadows appears on one television show after another, and she admits being offered more jobs than she can accept.

"What is your secret?" I asked for I know that competition is keen.

"I once met Sophie Tucker, who has had a long and successful career," she replied. "And she told me to remember, 'It's not what you can get out of a job but what you can give it that counts.' I've tried to follow this and I am grateful to her. It seems to me that a lot of people blame hard luck for their failure when most of the time it was a result of their own carelessness."

Joyce doesn't diet to keep her beautiful figure, but she dances hard.

"Exercise is almost the only answer to freedom from counting calories," she exclaimed. "So many people are careless about their figures, but they feel a well-made dress or a cinch will keep their figure flaws from showing. But if you get rid of the bulges, you can wear anything you want to, and you look better in your clothes."

We were having a cup of tea in a little sidewalk cafe at CBS Television City here in Hollywood,

Manpower Director Not Typical Career Woman

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—When you read that the new director of the National Manpower Council is a woman, do you immediately picture a formidable female armed with horn-rimmed glasses, statistics, Ph.D. degrees and no-nonsense efficiency?

Then Bryna Ball would come as a surprise. She's a small, trim brunette—feminine, friendly, and youthful-looking. She never studied economics; in fact, she never finished college. And her efficiency is the comfortable, cluttered-desk kind.

"I was lucky," she says. "The fact I was a woman and, among other limitations, didn't have a degree, didn't keep the council from recognizing what I could do and giving me a chance to do it."

She smiles, waves her hand to include the surrounding Columbia University campus visible through her office's open windows, and says: "It's fascinating, not having a degree in a world increasingly conscious of degrees, and to find oneself working in a setting where so much weight is put on them."

Miss Ball has been working with the council since 1953, two years after it was established by the Ford Foundation.

Three years ago she became associate director.

One and a half years ago she married her boss, Dr. Henry David.

"But no one can say I never gave spinsterhood a chance," she says. "I never had time to think about it, though. I was much too busy."

When Dr. David resigned as director recently to take over the presidency of the New School for Social Research, Miss Ball was appointed to succeed him by the council's 16 members, all distinguished people in the fields of industry, labor, public service and education.

As director, Miss Ball has to see to the publication of the last four in a 12-book set of the council's studies in manpower problems.

She also has to handle what she calls external relations. This includes making numerous public speaking engagements, working with various organizations to help them use council material, keeping the council's extensive conference program going.

"The council," she explains, "is a policy-influencing group. It studies important manpower problems and contributes to the better development and utilization of the nation's manpower resources. Our studies stimulate action by many kinds of groups."

Try One-Step Method For Canned Vegetables

The latest method for canning vegetables is a one-step cold-pack method, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists of the A&M College of Texas.

Directions are simple. . . As an example, take snap beans. Begin by washing all pint or quart jars in hot soapy water and rinse well. It is not necessary to sterilize jars since the pressure canner must be used in canning all non-acid vegetables.

Use only fresh, young, tender beans. The bean should just be beginning to form in the pod. Wash thoroughly; trim ends and cut into 1-inch pieces.

Thus far, there is nothing different from the old method of canning snap beans. Now you will note the fill is different.

Pack raw beans tightly into clean jars to 1/2 inch of top. Cover with boiling water, again leaving 1/2 inch space at the top of the jar. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints and 1 teaspoon to quarts.

Close jar with two-piece lid and place it in the pressure canner. Exhaust canner for 10 minutes, close petcock and process at 10 pounds pressure: pint jars 20 minutes, quart jars 25 minutes. Remove canner from heat; let pressure return to zero and remove the jars.

This one-step method can also be used for canning fresh lima beans, carrots, cream style corn, whole kernel corn, black-eye peas and summer squash.

A Devotional for Today

What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. (Psalm 56:3.)
PRAYER: Our Father, give us, we pray, such a close walk with Thee that our fears may be replaced by the comfort and joy of Thy holy presence. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
(From The Upper Room)

They Made Contributions

With less than a week we have lost two men who in different professions made contributions to our community. Both Dr. G. H. Wood and Judge Charles Sullivan died unexpectedly, adding to the shock of the loss.

So long as his health permitted, Dr. Wood had taken an active part in community affairs and he was one of the founders and early leaders of the YMCA movement here. It was during his tenure as president that the first bold step, a decision to acquire the old First Christian Church property as an operating center for the Y, was made and effected. From this springboard, the association ultimately gained stature and other leadership in attaining a completely new YMCA home. His work in his church also was significant and untiring until wretched health dictated that he maintain his strength for his practice.

Before he came to Howard County, Charlie Sullivan already had performed commendable public service as county attorney and as county judge at Weatherford. He also served four years as county judge here, and it was during this time that talk of a new courthouse was started. The war intervened, but after he was named to the district court bench, he revived the matter, calling for a grand jury study of conditions. Around this public sentiment crystallized and bore fruit in the new courthouse. Judge Sullivan was so proud of the court section that he demanded it be given the care of a sanctuary. He possessed a rare trait in that he had a judicial temperament. No matter what harsh words were spoken, he maintained the dispassionate equilibrium of a magistrate with a passion for justice. It was in this setting that he ruled, without hesitation or equivocation, in the state's first integration court tests. There were other instances where political expediency might have indicated a popular decision, but as the court, he ruled unwaveringly with what he interpreted to be the law.

An Urgent Matter

A year ago the matter of salt water pollution was spoken of in vague generalities, except in isolated areas where it had become an urgent problem. Now there seems to be a pyramiding in the awareness of the problem. As a result, developments indicate a greater degree of control, preventive caution, and even corrective action.

As a result of the approval of filings made by two national underwriters to take direct or indirect saline water damage out of general liability coverage, oilmen will be obliged either to submit to a special rating in this field or will have to make their own arrangements about liability. The filings were made because the number of substantial claims of salt water damage has jumped.

Hardly a month passes now that the railroad commission does not issue a show cause order for fields to halt pit or other unsatisfactory methods of brine disposal. With public as well as private water supplies at stake in many instances, the matter assumes such a degree of urgency that the governor would be well advised to submit a bill for coordinating pollution control for consideration by the legislature in the special session next month. Such a bill was killed on a technicality during the regular session. Perhaps with the emphasis that including it in the purview of the call would stimulate final legislative action.

David Lawrence New Notes On The Baltic States

WASHINGTON—A shameful chapter in American history now has been revealed after 17 years of secrecy. Documents just published by the State Department show that a President of the United States went to a "summit" conference during World War II and made a deal with the Communist dictator—Joseph Stalin—whereby much of Poland's territory was deliberately conceded to Russia and the way was paved for similar deals that permitted the Communists to grab small countries.

WHAT WAS EVEN worse, a President of the United States told foreign ruler that his own decisions were related to a fear he might not retain a bloc of votes of American citizens of Polish extraction and that, for this reason, the deal had to be kept secret—at least until a presidential election was over. Actually, these facts have not been disclosed until now.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was the President of the United States who participated in these secret negotiations in 1943 at Teheran (Iran). He disregarded the rule of the Constitution which says that the chief executive "shall have power by and with the advice and consent of the Senate to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur."

IT IS OUT of this clause in the Constitution that a President derives his power to conduct foreign policy. The right to make temporary agreements or understandings directly related to the military conduct of a war has never been questioned, but any pact which is as far-reaching as a division of territory after a war certainly comes within the category of a treaty. The Senate should have been consulted.

THE CARVING up of territory—utterly disregarding the wishes of the people and their future opportunities for self-government—is something associated usually with the absolute monarch. A President of the United States is supposed to be the champion of freedom and of the self-determination of peoples. The Polish people didn't start World War II. On the contrary, it was Hitler's attack on Poland that drew Britain into the conflict. Yet President Roosevelt was later a party to the partitioning of Poland so as to satisfy Communist Russia, which had seized a large part of Poland in 1939 while a partner of Hitler.

IT MIGHT be asked why a Democratic administration in Washington today makes public hitherto undisclosed documents that reflect so gravely on the conduct of foreign policy by a previous Democratic

Red Rain

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—"It's raining red paint!" exclaimed an excited citizen on the phone, complaining about his dripping red automobile.

An investigation by the city's Public Works Department showed that a workman scooping up red dye in a chemical plant was standing too close to a ventilator. The fan was drawing up dust and spraying it into the rainy outdoors.

"The dye has a high tinctorial value," said an official. "A little spot, when wet, goes a long, long way."

The prescription: a detergent, an auto wax, some elbow grease.

James Marlow Berlin Could Be Lost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The simple meat and potato question—WHY?—gets lost in the noisy East-West struggle over Berlin. Here are some of the answers.

Since the war the West and the Soviet Union have discussed unifying Germany. They've never agreed on how. The West insists on free elections to set up a single German government. The Russians have never bought that. The result: two Germanys.

The Western Powers are allied with West Germany. Russia is allied with Communist East Germany, which the West refuses to recognize as a legitimate government. The reason: It was not created through free elections.

BUT THERE are also really two

Berlins. West Berlin, with its 2.5 million people, is linked to West Germany. The Communists hold East Berlin as the capital of East Germany.

But the city happens to lie 110 miles inside East Germany. Therefore, all people and supplies, bound for Berlin from the West, must pass through or over Communist territory.

The West insists these supply routes must not be interfered with. And, except for former Soviet Premier Stalin's unsuccessful effort to blockade in 1948-49, the Russians have kept the routes open.

Russia has kept control of those routes out of the hands of the East Germans even though it recognizes the Communist regime in East Germany as a sovereign government. To have done otherwise would have created an awkward situation.

What would the allies do if the East Germans, whom they don't recognize, attempted to tell them what they could or couldn't send over those supply routes? It could have produced a mess.

BUT THE UNITED STATES, Britain and France keep troops in West Berlin. They're too few to mean anything militarily. Any all-out Communist attack would roll over them. They're not so much a force as a symbol.

But there's a main point involved here: The West insists it has a right of free access to Berlin for people and supplies and a right to keep troops in the city. It says those rights were agreed to by the Russians after the war.

But West Berlin has become a pain to the Communists, for various reasons.

This highly prosperous part of the city is a Western outpost and showcase in the middle of the Communist world. It is a refuge for East Germans fleeing Communism.

And the allies' troops there are a symbol of freedom—so long as West Berlin remains free it holds out hope to anti-Communists behind the Iron Curtain that they may in time become free too. The reverse of that would stifle hope.

And the Western troops there are a symbol of Western support to the West Berliners. And as long as the present situation endures, the attempt by Russia to make the East German government look like a power in its own right becomes ludicrous.

Once it agreed to Khrushchev's demands, it would yield its rights, could no longer claim them, and have toicker as best it could with the East Germans who might let supplies through as a concession but not as a right.

In the end such a Western retreat—together with all the hanky-panky the Communists could cook up in the years ahead to make Western contact with Berlin difficult—would almost certainly mean the loss of West Berlin to communism.

Hal Boyle Services In A Cave

NEW YORK (AP)—Hold church services in a cave?

"Why not?" asks the Rev. Lyman Riley, who believes he is the only member of the clergy in the world to operate a cavern.

An ordained minister of the reorganized Church of Latter-Day Saints, he owns and manages the famous Omundaga Cave at Leasburg, Mo., in the Ozark Hills, which has been described as one of the 10 most beautiful caves in America.

It was originally discovered by Daniel Boone and in size of rooms—one room is nearly half a mile in length—it is second only to Carlsbad Cavern in New Mexico," he said.

While the cave is primarily a tourist attraction, the minister-owner, as well as the clergymen of other faiths, periodically holds candlelit services there on Sundays and religious holidays, such as Easter, using a natural rock formation as a pulpit.

These devotional meetings are well attended, attract worshippers from hundreds of miles away.

"It reminds many of the occasions in Roman times when Christians held their services in grottoes to avoid torture," said the Rev. Mr. Riley. "The candlelight lends a reverential atmosphere."

Before combining theology and spelology, the study of caves, the colorful pastor, who is 43, had a brief career as a schoolteacher. He is still active as a youth leader in the Ozark area.

After losing a teaching job, he hitchhiked around the country for a while. Then, following a hitch in the Navy as a radio technician aboard a destroyer in the South Pacific, he became first a guide and then manager at the Meramec Caverns at Stanton, Mo.

According to his own testimony, in those days he was a bit of a rouser.

"I got into the habit of using alcohol as a crutch," he recalled. "I became a minister—I was ordained in 1954—primarily because of a need within myself. I realized I wasn't the man I wanted to be. I decided the only way a man can become immortal on this earth is to live in the minds of other people—but the only way to do that is to serve them."

Busy in half a dozen community philanthropies, he is proudest of the fact that the 23 couples he has married none has divorced or separated.

To Your Good Health True Acid Condition Requires Treatment

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about excess acid, the cause and cure—B. L."

In general, I am firmly convinced that the best thing people can do about "acid" is to forget it entirely.

This advice may strike you as strange, as you know that it is my daily aim to explain things, to make the workings of the human body understandable.

So why do I say forget about acid?

Because an acid condition which sounds so simple, isn't.

Acid, or acid stomach, or acid system, is a notion which got started many years ago, before we had any real idea of what we were talking about.

Mos of us, I dare say, have heard these words occasionally from the time we were children. The ideas we acquire in childhood stick, even if they are wrong.

Let's take acid stomach. The stomach is supposed to contain acid digestive juices. When the juices lack sufficient acid, special medication is needed. Some people, having digestive difficulties, are relieved only when they begin taking hydrochloric acid. The amounts are tiny, and the acid is greatly diluted to the proper degree. But the stomach needs a trace of it.

However, the phrase we learned in childhood still lingers. We worry about acid stomach, and are fearful lest acid foods may bother us—such things as citrus juices, tomato juice, rhubarb, etc.

Actually, the ash of such foods (what's left after the food has been digested) is alkaline, not acid!

To take another example, the blood of a normal, healthy individual is alkaline. There is a condition known as acidity, but actually, except in the rare and extreme cases, the blood doesn't really become acid. It is less alkaline. And, I might add, it is not in such cases going to be corrected, or even significantly changed, by the foods we eat or don't eat. The trouble lies much deeper, and treatment becomes decidedly technical.

To offer just one more instance, LACK of sufficient acid in the blood, through too much alkali, can and does occur, and this, too, is a condition that requires treatment.

Neither acid nor alkaline is automatically right or wrong. It depends on which of the bodily systems is involved, and on the degree.

Fretting about acidity is a waste of time, unless you go into the complex chemistry of the body. Let your physician do the worrying—if, indeed, you have an illness severe enough to cause a true acid condition of blood or other parts of the human system.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Capt. Marcy's Advice To The Traveler

Once you have decided where to go on vacation, the next question is what to take. It's pretty easy to load down the family bus with everything in the house and wind up with a miserable vacation, too much stuff and you can't find anything.

Faced with this problem, there are few better plans than to ask or consult an expert. Particularly, someone who has made a similar trip and knows what is needed. So, I turned to Capt. Randolph B. March, certainly one of the most learned on western exploration.

His advice, to anyone attempting to venture into the western portions of these United States, was:

Don't "overload... with everything except the very articles most important and necessary." He particularly hit at "champagne, East India sweetmeats, olives" as "not the most useful articles for a prairie tour."

CAPT. MARCY'S list of useful articles include "two flannel shirts, several changes of socks, four handkerchiefs, two pairs of walking shoes and two pairs of boots, three towels, one poncho, one broad-brim hat, a comb, a hairbrush, two toothbrushes, three bars of soap, and a toothbrush bag containing thread, needles and pins.

He stressed the importance of anawl and a supply of buckskin strings, for repairing shoes en route.

As for food, to beat the high prices of roadside restaurants, Capt. Marcy suggests taking along 150 pounds of flour or its equivalent in hard bread; 25 pounds of sugar; and a quantity of yeast powders for making bread; and salt and pepper.

OF COURSE, Capt. Marcy traveled the West many years ago and his plans of travel differ somewhat from those of today. Some of his advice would have to be updated. For instance, he urges the traveler to keep moving until an hour or two after dark, when in hostile Indian country. These days, the traveler had better bed down at the first vacancy sign on a motel after 3 p.m. Much later and there will be "no 'vacancy' signs."

Another thing, these days a vacationer usually makes about 300 miles per day and those in a hurry will go 500 or even more. Capt. Marcy considered 16 miles per day a good time with his ox or mule drawn carts.

Though often pestered by Indians, Capt. Marcy encouraged travelers not to be alarmed if a band descended upon the wagon train. First, he said,

"WHEN A PARTY is discovered approaching thus, and are near enough to distinguish signals, all that is necessary in order to ascertain their disposition is to raise the right hand with palm up in front and gradually push it forward and back several times. They all understand this to be a command to halt, and if they are not hostile it will at once be obeyed."

Perhaps with tongue in cheek, Capt. Marcy suggests flight if the Indian band does not halt.

Of course, in these days, the Indians more than likely will be rushing up to sell genuine Navajo pottery made in Japan and flight is still good advice.

I'm not so sure Capt. Marcy would change many chapters of his book, he wrote it again today. Civilization has changed many aspects of the West, but dangers still exist, even if clothed a little differently.

Holmes Alexander A New Force In Southeast Asia?

WASHINGTON—Page One of Pravda, June 9, 1961, featured a two-column photograph of Indonesia's President Sukarno and Comrade Khrushchev on the fore-castle of the Russian Cruiser Kirov, surrounded by the smiling officers and crew.

This may have been more than a casual ceremony, and it may signify that Russia has a new ally in the Far East while we have another enemy—or at least a problem.

FOR SUKARNO, although officially a neutral, has a foreign policy of his own. It is very simple. He demands that the Dutch-held western half of New Guinea (which Sukarno calls West Irian) become part of the multi-island Republic of Indonesia. The only way Sukarno can take this territory from the Netherlands is by the use, or the gesture, of formidable Navy strength.

There are scattered bits of evidence to build up the theory that Sukarno, although talking "peace" and "anti-imperialism" concerning Russia and Red China, is actually haggling for a deal that will give him usable warships.

LAST SEPTEMBER the Russian Navy Lt. Commander Nikolai F. Artamonov, a defector from the Russian Baltic Fleet, testified on his desertion before a House committee. He said that part of his duty at the Polish port of Gdynia was the training of Indonesian naval officers.

In November of 1959 a Russian fleet consisting of one cruiser and two destroyers paid a visit to Jakarta, Indonesia. The Soviet commander carried an invitation for a return visit by his hosts.

THESE EXCHANGES of personnel and visits are very much the same as those carried out by this country and some of its smaller allies, in Asia as well as Latin America. The recognized American policy is based not so much on the eventual use of these young trainees in battle, as on the hope that they will grow up to be military leaders at home, be friendly toward the United States and become stabilizing forces in their parts of the world.

But the whole Russian philosophy is revolutionary and anti-colonial. Almost nowhere does Communism advocate standing still. The idea of arming and training an emergent nation for a sea war of liberation against a European power would seem intriguing to the Russians. On top of that, Russia would be strengthening its hand against the rising rivalry of Red China.

SIGNIFICANTLY, Sukarno, in his Leningrad speech, declared that the Soviet and Indonesian peoples were "comrades" in the struggle. In referring to Kronstadt, the home of the Russian Baltic Fleet, Sukarno said that the city was known in Indonesia not only as a Soviet Navy base, but as the center of the revolutionary movement. Khrushchev responded in kind with the usual expressions of fraternity in the fight against colonialism.

OF ITSELF, West (Irian) New Guinea is not much of a grab. The people are primitive; the region is largely undeveloped; there is no ethnic kinship between Indonesians and Guineans. But any further move to drive the old colonial powers out of the Far East would certainly be a world event, and it might mean the beginning of something new—an aggressive neutral nation in an area where many factors are still unresolved.

"Indonesia is an island country," said Sukarno in accepting a model of the Kirov. "and therefore needs a strong fleet," according to Pravda.

J. A. Livingston Steel Prices May Not Follow Wages

During the prolonged wage negotiations of 1959-60, the steel industry spent a lot of money trying to condition the American public to an iron rule: If wages go up, prices must go up.

Today, 17 months later, despite increases in fringe benefits and wages resulting from that contact, steel prices are a bit lower than when the strike was finally settled through Richard M. Nixon's intercession.

AND NOW THE iron rule is restated again. At the recent meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute, steel executives let forth loud warnings. Wages will go up 2 1/2 percent to 3 percent this October. Therefore, prices will have to go up.

No sooner said than price-cutting broke out in the industry—in stainless steel, in oil well products, in bars, and even in automobile steel. Strange behavior for an iron law—with a wage boost less than four months away.

THE IRONY of the iron law is that it works some of the time. When buyers want steel at any price, a price boost can follow, precede, or accompany a wage boost.

But when steel companies are hungrier for business than buyers are for steel, as today, conditions are not propitious for a price rise. There are more reasons:

One: Profits. Steel has ceased to be a price-and-pauper industry. Prior to the war, it could properly be said that when production is good, profits are very, very good; when production is bad, profits are horrid. Now, 'tain't so.

ALTHOUGH PLANTS of United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown and Jones & Laughlin operated at half-blast during the final quarter of 1960, all five companies were in the black. And, in the first three months of this year—also a recession period—again they were in the black.

Two: Competition. The industry is not free to price as it pleases. Not only is there over-capacity, which impels price concessions to get business, but other materials inhibit freedom of pricing—aluminum, plastics, concrete, copper. Every time the price of steel goes up, some sales are lost to other products.

THREE: IMPORTS. The inflow of foreign steel, which the industry complains about, would be encouraged if prices were notched up again.

Four: Public opinion. President Kennedy has warned against "unjustified price increases." Though the President did not specify steel, his Council of Economic Advisers has been making a study to determine whether the forthcoming increase in wages cannot be absorbed without price advances.

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE Luther Hodges didn't wait for a study. On hearing that steel men were talking about a boost, he said: "I do not think any price increase would be received very well publicly or in the business community."

Hodges' comment isn't amen. If business improves between now and October, steel users may be begging for steel. Instead of trying to wring price concessions, they may be panting for prompt deliveries. Then the iron law could become effective.

YET, EVEN increased demand would not free steel executives to boost prices. If operations rise, so will profits. The industry couldn't excuse a price rise by "crying pauper."

And wider markets are at stake. We've had our postwar price-wage fling in the United States. Now it's necessary to consider steel's future five, ten, and 15 years from now.

U. S. companies will be competing not only against traditional rivals in foreign trade—companies in Great Britain, Germany, France, Belgium, Japan, etc.—but also against the government steel trust in the Soviet Union, which soon will have surplus steel for export.

Family Accident

INTERLAKEN, N.Y. (AP)—Theodore Tuttle was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after his automobile sideswiped another vehicle. The driver of the other car was his wife.
