U. S. Missile Try Is Spectacular Failure

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—The United States' first attempt to launch a missile-alarm satellite into an orbit that would have taken it over Russia failed spectacularly today when the 96-foot projectile failed to lift from its launching pad.

The launching of Midas III fizzled at 8:59 a.m. Observers on a hilltop 10,000 feet away saw a great sheet of flame burst around the base of the projectile. This died out a second later and was followed by a huge puff of black smoke, indicating that ignition of the powerful 360,000-pound thrust rocket engine had failed.

A great plume of white smoke erupted from the nose of Midas III's first stage Atlas booster as technicians began purging it of highly explosive liquid oxygen, apparently in an effort to prevent a disaster.

It worked. As the smoke and fumes cleared away, the bird could be seen resting apparently undamaged on its seaside launching pad 150 miles north of Los Angeles.

If the launching had been successful, the 30-foot-long Midas satellite would have gotten its first look at Soviet territory in about three hours. The second stage of the projectile, all of which was designed to go into orbit, contains an infra-red eye to sense the heat from a missile's exhaust hundreds of miles below.

Eight minutes after the launching failed, the Air Force said the attempt had been canceled for today and might be rescheduled for Tuesday.

This was the third, straight instance of difficulty with the new sky-spy. Midas I, launched Feb. 26, 1960, failed to orbit. Midas II orbited May 24, 1960, but its radio failed.

Pup Helps Pipe Work

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP) Surveying storm drains used to be hard work.

Workers had to throw or shake a survey tape through underground pipes to determine their length.

Then along came Gretchen, a 15-pound, black and brown dachshund.

With a tape measure attached to her collar, she patters through the drains while measurements are taken from the length of tape paid out.

Dean Salazar of nearby Torrance, owner of the dog and head of survey work on installing drains, merely lowers Gretchen into a hole and she takes over. He claims the dachshund does the job 75 per cent faster than men used to do it.

Gretchen's pay: A heaping dish of ice cream.

Salazar checks the dog's measurements against the contractor's figures to determine the exact amount of pipe to be paid for when drains are installed or improved.

Gretchen has been used on about 20 projects and her figures have been proven to be accurate. Once, however, Salazar watched the tape reel out and decided Gretchen's measurement was a bit extravagant.

That was the time she chased a field mouse through a half-mile of drain.

More Applicants Meet With Board For Lake Post

Fifteen applicants for the job of caretaker at Moss Creek Lake were interviewed last week and 12 were scheduled to meet the board today, according to A. K. Steinhilber, city manager.

"We have four excellent prospects already," Steinhilber said this morning, "and the interviews in the afternoon should give us enough candidates to make a choice."

Wives were asked to be present for the interviews since their part in the job is quite important, Steinhilber said. Interviews were by a board made up of Roy Anderson, assistant city manager; Skeet Forsythe, public works; Roy Hester, water filter plant superintendent; and Bruce Dunn, director of public works.

The board members will make their recommendations and Steinhilber will pick the new employees.

Interviews were to be held between 2-4 p.m. today.

"The vacancy was created by the death of Frank Covert, who had been in charge of the lake since 1939.

Moss Survives Crash Landing

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, and his son Gordon, 11, survived a crash landing on the Idaho Falls airport Sunday. So did the other four in the twin-engine plane. Nobody was hurt.

Marine Held In Tiny Cell, Aide Protests

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The defense attorney for court-martialed Marine Pvt. Stobo C. West says the Marine was confined 43 days on Okinawa in a concrete building, five-by-seven feet and six-to-seven feet high.

"Unbelievable, sadistic and barbaric," Lt. Col. James E. Stauffer declared Saturday in appealing West's conviction a year ago by general court-martial on a black-marketing charge.

West, 31, is in the brig at the Navy's Treasure Island base in San Francisco Bay. The South Carolina Marine is serving a five-year sentence and is being held at Treasure Island pending the result of his appeal.

The Navy's judge advocate general's section at nearby San Bruno has asked the prosecution to present its side July 18 at a public hearing in San Bruno.

Stauffer said that the period in the solitary cell was served by West prior to his trial on Okinawa. At Spartanburg, S.C., West's wife, Barbara McGowan West, declared that Marine authorities have not allowed her to talk to her husband by telephone. The Wests have a two-year-old son, Clifton.

Reds Reject British Plan

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union has rejected a new British compromise proposal aimed at breaking the deadlock that has all but halted the 14-power conference on Laos.

Now in their eighth week, the talks have bogged down over Communist demands that the neutrality of Laos be proclaimed immediately and Western insistence that an effective cease-fire in Laos must be assured first.

Malcom MacDonald, British co-chairman of the conference, told today's meeting that he made his new proposal on Saturday to the Soviet co-chairman, Georgi Puskhin, who immediately rejected it.

MacDonald said this was his plan: "We should discuss both matters simultaneously. We could discuss neutrality the first day, cease-fire control the second day, and then continue with both problems on alternate days."

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk says the king of Laos now is the key figure in settling the Laotian problem.

In a statement issued after his return from the Geneva conference and meetings with leaders of Laos' three feuding factions, the Cambodian chief of state said the conference also had resulted in stabilization of the military situation and surface reconciliation of all three of the warring Laotian princes.

"I believe the king of Laos can now play the role of mediator to bring about a deeper, and more sincere reconciliation," Sihanouk said.

Judy Garland Leaves Hospital

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Singing star Judy Garland returned to her rented summer home Sunday night following a one day bout in Cape Cod Hospital with what was described as abdominal trouble.

Dr. Robert B. Watt, her physician, said Miss Garland's condition was "greatly improved." She underwent several diagnostic tests during the 24-hour stay, he said.

237 May Be Dead In Ship Disaster

Portuguese Craft Goes Aground

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — The Portuguese Maritime Ministry announced today 237 persons are dead or missing and presumed dead from the grounded and burning Portuguese ship Save. Most were African Negro passengers.

The 2,037-ton transport was swept onto a sandbar in a storm Saturday in the Mozambique Channel, off Southeast Africa, and a series of explosions ripped the hull and engulfed her in flames.

The ministry said there were 490 persons aboard the ship, including a 44-man (correct) crew, and that 237 were saved, some of them suffering injuries.

Estimates of the total aboard previously had ranged above 500. Some of the passengers were troops, others were mine laborers.

The disaster struck near the Linde River estuary of northern Mozambique.

LITTLE INFORMATION It was thought many of the missing swam safely ashore but landed at various points and would be hard to round up.

The Portuguese army still had not issued an announcement giving any official information.

Helicopters were ferrying the injured and other survivors to Beira and Lourenco Marques. Light aircraft were trying to land on the beach at low tide, and small boats were searching the area for survivors.

Rescue parties also were making their way overland to the isolated area.

The Save, named for a river in Mozambique, had sailed from Lourenco Marques with troops, laborers and military supplies for calls at northern ports in the sprawling East African colony.

POURING TROOPS Mozambique is largely under military control and Portugal has been pouring troops into the country to prevent a nationalist uprising like that raging in the sister colony of Angola.

One report from Lourenco Marques said about 200 Portuguese soldiers and 300 Africans were aboard the Save. But other reports said as many as 700 persons might have been aboard.

The transport ran into a storm off the mouth of the Linde River, 10 miles south of Quelimane on the coast of Mozambique. High winds and heavy seas blew the ship onto a sandbar within sight of the beach.

Radio messages received in Beira, port in central Mozambique 450 miles northeast of Lourenco Marques, said an explosion in the forward hold touched off a fire. The flames raged out of control and a series of explosions—apparently among munitions aboard—followed.

A tug raced from Beira but could not get across the sandbar to reach the burning ship.

Portuguese military planes picked up many of the injured, however, and flew them to hospitals in Beira.

Difficult communications and censorship controls imposed by Portuguese authorities delayed word of the disaster getting out. Rule in Mozambique is largely in control of the military because of the restlessness of the natives. All reports on movements of troops are heavily censored.

Weather Halts Femme Derby

DALLAS (AP) — Threatening weather delayed the start Sunday of the second day of flying in the 2,709 cross-country Powder Puff derby.

A heavy overcast covered the sky around Dallas, the first of three mandatory stops on the flight from San Diego, Calif., to Atlantic City, N.J.

The first planes landed here at 7 p.m. Saturday. Early today six planes remained at Addison Airport and 15 had flown on.

The distance leaders reached Montgomery, Ala., Sunday.

The rest of the women were spread out from El Paso to Abilene, held back by rain and low clouds.

The entries must reach Atlantic City before noon Wednesday to qualify for the $4,000 in prize money that awaits the handicap winners. The winner is decided on a handicap basis.

LEGISLATORS ELECT

Lubbock Solon Is State Senate Head

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas senators today named Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock as their president pro tempore for the first special session of the 57th Legislature.

The pre-session caucus to elect a member to serve as head of the Senate in case of the absence of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey cleared the way for the 3 p.m. official opening of the session.

Smith, 49-year-old Lubbock theater owner, will serve as governor of Texas if both Ramsey and Gov. Price Daniel happen to leave the state during the special session.

"I am very happy with the honor," Smith said. "It was all a surprise to me. I didn't know anything about it until this morning."

The voting on president pro-temp is secret. Other senators who were eligible for the honor, on a seniority basis were Sens. Charles Herring, Austin; Culp Krueger, El Campo; Hubert Hudson, Brownsville; Bruce Reagan, Corpus Christi; Henry Gonzalez, San Antonio; and Doyle Willis, Fort Worth.

Capital city sentiment on the eve of the gathering at 3 p.m. pointed toward enactment of some sort of retail sales tax to ease Texas' financial woes.

What type was the big question.

Unconfirmed reports said Gov. Price Daniel spent Saturday and Sunday drafting a tax bill recommendation that will include features of the Pennsylvania sales tax plan.

The governor's recommendations apparently will include also a revised attempt to put a natural gas pipeline tax on out of state users. Two natural gas taxes passed by recent legislatures—gas gathering and severance beneficiary taxes—were voided by court decisions.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston said his latest gas tax version will be introduced today as soon as opening ceremonies are completed and he will ask a hearing tomorrow if possible.

The opening of the legislature was delayed today from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. to allow legislators to attend the morning funeral of Rep. Marshall Bell in San Antonio. Bell was dead of the house in length of service.

When legislators do get to the capitol this afternoon, they will be greeted by anti-sales tax pickets. The demonstrations were called by the Democratic women's state committee organization which also is sponsoring a rally here tonight.

In calling today's special session, Daniel limited the order of business to "the general appropriations bill, public school improvements and sufficient economy and revenue measures to provide these expenditures, including the escheat (abandoned property) bill." He said Sunday he also definitely plans to ask the special session to tighten Texas' lobby control laws.

Daniel has also said he considers the abandoned property act and regulation of loan sharks as subjects for a special session, now or later.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert gave an estimate last week of the 1962-1963 revenue that was $20,386,417 less than the estimate he made last January for the same period. A spokesman in the governor's office said the difference in revenue estimates means only about $14 million difference in new money needs.

At the beginning of the regular session ranged between $200 million and $300 million. During the regular session Daniel and legislators talked mostly of new money needs around $360 million.

Now, unofficial estimates place the figure at between $365 million and $370 million. Daniel is expected to name a definite figure.

Surveys Started To Lower Lines

Engineers for the City of Big Spring and the Colorado River Municipal Water District were running lines on a supply line lowering job in eastern Big Spring today.

As soon as the right of way easement lines are established, profiles will be run to chart the depth to which the line will be lowered at the request of the CRMWD. The line, which connects the filtration plant with Moss Creek Lake, is virtually suspended on a high, narrow strip of land due to excavations for gravel on either side. The district made the request to the city recently because the line was deemed unsafe for operating conditions.

$100,000 Fire Strikes In Alvin

ALVIN, Tex. (AP)—Fire swept through a cafe and two stores in the business district and did an estimated $100,000 in damage, on Sunday. The flames badly damaged the cafe, a building upstairs that used to be a pool hall and an appliance store next door.

The fire also burned the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s main cable for Alvin, cutting telephone service from Alvin to other cities. It also disrupted service from Houston south to cities beyond Alvin such as Freeport, Angleton and other areas in Brazoria County.

Suit Asking Halt In Race Battle Arrests Postponed

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A three-judge federal court postponed today a suit asking for a halt in the arrest of segregation-testing Freedom Riders, a maneuver involving the Justice Department as a friend of the court.

Over the objections of Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, the panel postponed the case until Aug. 7 because of the illness of a Mississippi assistant attorney general.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed the suit asking for an injunction to stop Mississippi from applying breach-of-the-peace laws and arresting the Freedom Riders.

Moments before the postponement was announced, the Justice

Department filed its brief as a friend of the court claiming such state laws were clearly unconstitutional.

The Mississippi attorney general's office asked for the delay on the hearing scheduled for today because of the illness of Asst. Atty. Gen. Dugas Shands who has been handling race cases.

Federal District Judges Sidney Mize of Gulfport and Claude Clayton of Tupelo voted to postpone and Tuttle disagreed.

Cadets To Be Honored

The annual barbecue and swimming party, honoring the AFROTC cadets in summer training at Webb AFB, will get under way at 6 p.m. today.

A swimming party will begin activities and the barbecue will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Cosden Country Club.

Sponsored by the Base-Community Division of the Chamber of Commerce, local businessmen will play host to the cadets. Institutional representatives from the cadets' various schools were honored last week at the Officer's Club.

McNamara Announces U.S. Taking New Look At Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, noting that the Soviet Union intends to increase military spending, announced today the United States is taking another look at its defense program.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced in Moscow last week that the Soviet Union has suspended plans to cut Soviet armed forces by more than one million men in view of the world situation.

McNamara said that "the simplest precaution calls for still another examination of our defense posture." He added:

"Currently we are as strong—if not stronger—than any potential aggressor.

"But in the fear of the inescapable realities that confront us, such as threats to dispossess us of our rightful presence in Berlin, we can do no less than re-examine our needs. This we are doing."

McNamara's statement gave no indication of what new steps the Kennedy Administration might take to bolster defenses.

Shortly before McNamara's announcement, Roswell L. Gilpatrick, deputy secretary of defense, had informed a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that President Kennedy had called for a new appraisal of U.S. fighting power in the light of the Berlin crisis.

Ever since the Berlin crisis began heating up again a month ago, there has been speculation that Kennedy might order some form of mobilization to alert the American people to the gravity of the situation and to warn Khrushchev that the United States intends to back up its firm stand against being ousted from West Berlin.

Over the weekend, the House Foreign Affairs Committee made public testimony from Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander of allied forces in Europe, that he feels the time has come for a quiet building up of strength "that would go a long way toward passing the Berlin ball back to Mr. Khrushchev."

Gilpatrick said that Sunday's display of Soviet airpower in Moscow was another factor behind the President's order.

The deputy secretary declared emphatically that the United States has adequate fighting power to meet its needs through the 1960's on the basis of what is known now.

Gilpatrick said the Soviet air show in Moscow merely confirmed what the Pentagon had believed—that the Soviet Union still views the manned bomber plane as an essential part of its aerial weapons the same as does the United States.

For the first time, Gilpatrick confirmed what has been generally believed, that the U.S. program now calls for a force of 700 B52 bombers, backed by the Hound Dog and Sky Bolt missiles, as "sufficient to give us adequate bomber strength in the 1960's."

Gilpatrick said the reappraisal Kennedy has ordered will determine whether the administration will ask Congress for additional appropriations for military and defense purposes this year.

Rusk Slaps Red Drives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today accused the Soviets of plunging the globe into a long-term crisis by seeking to "impose a world of coercion" upon all others.

Rusk said: "The underlying crisis of our generation arises from the fact that the Soviet Union did not join the United Nations in fact as well as in form, and lend itself to the (peaceful) commitments they and the rest of us made in the midst of a great war.

"The possession of power was transformed once more to ambition for more power."

Rusk laid the blame for post-war international tensions on the Kremlin in a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon.

The secretary of state had conferred with President Kennedy over the weekend and again today amid a mounting feeling of disappointment within the Kennedy administration at what it regards as an uncompromisingly tough line being pressed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

At the same time, Rusk said the United States "can move on with confidence if we are prepared to do what has to be done."

He said Kennedy is moving to strengthen "the free world's capability" to meet "the variety of dangers which have to be confronted."

He called for building a world community as designed by the U.N. charter, strengthening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and passage of Kennedy's now before Congress.

County Buys Mower, Grader

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday morning purchased a new road maintainer and a power mower for the road and bridge department.

Patton Machinery Co., Abilene, was awarded contract for the mower. Their bid was $4,900. The only other mower bid was submitted by Plains Machinery Co., of Odessa, its bid was $5,555.

Plains was awarded the contract for the road maintainer. Its bid was $11,500. Western Machine Co., Abilene, submitted the other road maintainer bid of $11,908.

Sudden Showers Spatter County

Sudden showers of terrific volume and force pattered down on the county late Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Big Spring was given a soaking by a midnight rain which dumped from an inch to more than two inches on the town in the space of half an hour.

Similar sudden rains struck in most parts of the county. U. S. Experiment Station here reported 1.09 inches gauged in the brief deluge. Elsewhere in the city heavier rains were reported. The Texas Electric Service Co. downtown plant measured 1.95 inches. The switching plant on the east side of town had 1.33. There were some gauges in the southwest part of town where more than 2.5 inches was trapped. Hilltop Road, northeast of town had 1.50 inch.

Northeast of town, at the L. J. Davidson farm, only half an inch fell. Rufus Stallings, who lives in the Knott community, had 2.30 on his farm but said that other farms in the area had amounts which ranged widely in volume.

Webb AFB gauged 1.16 and Fortsan had .50 inch. Lomax reported up to .50 inch. Coahoma had 1.50 inches. Ralph White reported.

Chalk, in the extreme southeast part of the county had .40 inch. Fairview, north of Big Spring had a light rain, possibly half an inch. Knott community reported rains from one to two inches.

West of town, the Wilkinson ranch had an inch of rain. No major damage seems to have resulted from the rains.

TESCO said that its stations at Eskota had .06; and Morgan Creek, .38.

Colorado City had .63 inch. The 1.09 inch report at the U. S. Experiment station brought the year's total to 11.96. Many parts of the county have had far more than this total. Vincent community, for example, has gauged as much as 18 inches so far this year.

At this time last year, the rainfall total at the U. S. Experiment Station stood at 5.57. Average rainfall for the first six months based on 60-year records is 8.60.

Korean Housecleaning Leaves Pak In Power

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A wholesale housecleaning of rival officers appeared today to have strengthened considerably the position of South Korea's military ruler, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi.

Pak clinched his purge Sunday by accusing Lt. Gen. Chang Do-Young, ousted a week ago as premier and head of the ruling junta, and 44 other officers of plotting to assassinate him in an effort to seize control of the government.

Pak, moving spirit of the May 16 coup, forced Chang out last Monday, supplanted him as chairman of the junta, and named Defense Minister Song Yo-chan premier. Informed sources contend, however, that Pak's position as No. 1 man in the government still is not as strong as he would like.

The ruling inner circle, called the Supreme Council for National Reconstruction, now consists of 21 army men, 11 of the colonels and lieutenant colonels, 3 marine generals and a marine colonel, a vice admiral and an air force brigadier general. These men represent different backgrounds, especially in their military ties, and there is evidence they have different ideas on how to restore their nation.

Treason charges that could carry the death penalty were leveled against Chang and the other officers at a news conference called Sunday by the junta.

An intelligence officer said Chang and the 44 others were caught scheming to assassinate Pak and "other persons in the central force of the revolution."

The officer said the accused, including five former junta members, were picked up last Monday after failing in one attempt to stage a counter-coup and while planning another.

Heavy Deluge Causes Flood In East Part Of Austin

By The Associated Press

Rain that measured up to 5½ inches flooded low sections of East Austin before dawn Monday, routing 50 persons from their homes for awhile.

But Boggy Creek by daybreak had returned to its banks and the lowlanders were returning to their homes. The refugees for much of the night were sheltered either in homes of friends or relatives, or in Anderson High School.

Rain still fell lightly early Monday morning, but police said all flooding conditions in Austin have passed. The heaviest downpour was in the 6 hours to midnight when 4.81 inches of rain cascaded down, most of it after 9 p.m.

Water collecting on the end of the runway near Austin's new air terminal kept planes from landing until firemen pumped it clear.

The downpour came in six hours to midnight, most of it after 9 p.m. The rain continued early Monday, and more was forecast.

It was the latest outbreak of unruly summer weather in Texas.

Earlier violent thunderstorms hit the Houston and Galveston areas and pushed in a boisterous and threatening line down the Texas coastal plains through the Victoria area.

Numerous other parts of Texas had drenching rains, some of cloudburst caliber. Gatesville in Central Texas had four inches in six hours.

A tornado funnel writhed amid black clouds near the village of Olivia, 15 miles south of Palacios on the middle coast. Apparently the funnel broke up before it hit ground.

The Palacios airport measured nearly two inches of rain in less than 30 minutes. A blinding rain stopped traffic near Port Lavaca at Indianola.

Victoria had an electrical storm and an inch of rain in 18 minutes.

Water filled Houston's freeways curb deep and forced motorists to abandon scores of stalled cars.

Up to three inches of rain doused Houston and caused minor flooding downtown.

Lightning injured three Houston youths who took shelter in a wooden shed on Galveston Bay. Slight burns were suffered by Howard Louvier, 15; and Edard Zycik, 21. Kenneth Tinsley, 15, was treated for shock.

Winds that reached 44 miles and hour upset two boats and spilled two Houston men in the Gulf. A fishing boat rescued C. M. Craft and O. O. Ellison.

An unidentified woman was rescued in Houston by H. E. Taylor, who saw her car slide into a deep ditch and submerge.

Rushing water swept Jimmy Small, 18 months, through a culvert beneath a driveway. Harold Small, the father, pulled the child to safety.

Reds Show Air Might

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union showed off its air might Sunday in a dazzling display that struck Western diplomats as a gesture designed to strengthen Kremlin demands on Berlin.

Premier Khrushchev and Cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin watched side by side along with a crowd of 50,000 while the Soviet air force paraded a spectacular array of new craft at Moscow's Tushino Airfield.

Western experts watching the show — first the Soviets have staged since 1958—said the United States has nothing to match several of the entries, including a jet fighter that can light up a liquid rocket engine booster in flight to gain a tremendous rate of climb.

The most spectacular attraction shown publicly for the first time was a delta wing bomber the announcer said had a speed several times that of sound. The plane looked bigger than the eight-engine U.S. B52 and had four jets, two on the wing tips and two inboard below the wings.

Western air attaches showed keen interest in a flypast of 10 heavy supersonic bombers which also made their first public appearance. This new model's two engines were mounted on the rear atop the long, slender fuselage. It had high swept wings and was comparable in size to the U.S. B58, whose publicly admitted speed is 1,500 miles per hour.

"A very impressive show," said the U.S. air attaché, Col. Melvin Nielsen. "It's evident the Russians have continued with the development of all classes of aircraft."

Western observers said the show made clear the Soviets are not pinning all their faith on long-range missiles alone.

The fighters carried air-to-air rockets instead of conventional cannons. The new bombers were armed with air-to-surface missiles instead of bombs.

The Soviets gave advance billing to a vertical takeoff plane that does not depend on a jet thrust to get it aloft. Called a "screw wing plane" it was a cross between a plane and a helicopter.

Two engines were mounted at the end of each wing, and it had two rotors atop each wing making it highly maneuverable and able to carry either troops or freight.

Another new model was a three-tail jet-powered helicopter that landed and unloaded a cargo of rockets.

One novelty was a giant helicopter capable of hauling 100 men. It appeared carrying a wooden house under its belly and landed it on the field. The house was about the size of a large car trailer in the United States.

The Soviets spiced up their show with a flypast of 15 helicopters each carrying a trapeze on which sat a pretty girl each dressed in the national costume of one of the 15 Soviet republics.

Another crowd-pleasing feature was a mass drop of 600 men with brightly colored parachutes.

Air Marshal Konstantin Verzhin who directed the show said in an aviation day article in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda that many of the Soviet air force's jets have no equal in the world for speed, altitude and flight range.

Nixon To Talk With Party Chiefs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon plans to meet with California Republican leaders here Tuesday to discuss party strategy in the state.

He has said the conference would not consider the possibility of his candidacy or the candidacy of others. Nixon, mentioned as a possible gubernatorial candidate, repeatedly has said he does not plan to seek state office.

Nixon said last week the group would discuss state reapportionment, fund raising and other party activities.

UNITY OR MIXTURE

By T. H. Yarbok, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 25
P.O. Box 1187

We are very much interested in bringing about unity. In view of our Lord's bringing about unity, we must be! He prayed that His disciples down through the ages, might be "one; as Thou, Father, art in me, and I in Thee."

Since there are no differences between the teaching of the Father and the Son; so we must all come to espouse the same teaching. It is not enough to have a merger of different groups when neither has had a change in personal convictions. Such would be a mixture; but not a real unity; certainly, not the kind Jesus prayed for.

There is "one faith" and one gospel to be preached (Eph. 4: 4-5; Gal. 1: 7, 8). God is not the author of the conflicting doctrines being taught, "for God is not the author of confusion, but of peace" (1 Cor. 14: 33). When we are agreed with the Bible, we will be agreed among ourselves.

The road to unity is that of Bible study, and discussion. That is why we are taking this road.

Delinquency Problem In Congo Capital

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—A 14-year-old African girl was seized at a Leopoldville bar, hustled off to a hideout and kept captive 14 days as a plaything for young mobsters.

Similar kidnappings occur frequently in the Congolese capital. During the 12 months since independence, gangs of juvenile hoodlums have roamed almost unchecked by police.

Social investigators at Leopoldville's Lovanium University have made contact with 250 gangs. One is called "United Nations." Its leader goes by the name of Dag Hammers. Nick Khrushchev is boss of a rival gang known as the Russians.

Then there are the Jokers, the Kidnapers, the Indians, the Nelsons, the Bolosis, the Lofars and the A.J.A.M., which, in the local language of Lingala, stands for the Association of Young Lovers.

With 25,000 boys between the ages of 12 and 23 either unemployed or failing to attend school, juvenile delinquency in Leopoldville is a grave and mounting problem. A United Nations report says attempts to cope with the problem have to date been largely unsuccessful.

Many gangs specialize. Some make a practice of grabbing girls, others make nightly forays into the European sector to rob houses, one gang has got bag-snatching to a fine art. There are gangs that trade in pornographic pictures and others who meet to smoke marijuana cigarettes. Sometimes girls are kidnaped and their clothes kept in a bucket of water to prevent them leaving the mobsters' stronghold.

Parents rarely complain to the police for fear of reprisals.

And even when they do complain the police seem powerless to crack down on the gangs.

"The population of Leopoldville has multiplied 3 1/4 times in the last 12 years," said Dr. L. W. Langrod, social affairs adviser to the United Nations in the Congo. "This means that thousands of youths have flocked to the city from their native villages."

Dr. Langrod sees a solution to the problem only in a long-term provision of more employment in Congolese cities, a scheme to make the villages more attractive — such as by providing mobile cinemas — and by sponsoring new youth movements.

Don January Has Sizzling Final Round

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Don January, the man who scored the $50,000 ace at Palm Springs, Calif., early this season, had his first golf tournament victory of the season today.

The lean Texan from Dallas shot an 8-under-par 64 on his final round Sunday for a 15-under-par 269 to win the $30,000 St. Paul Open and $4,300.

January started the day four shots behind Buster Cupit, the club pro from Fort Smith, Ark., who was second with 270. Dave Hill of Denver finished third with 272.

January pulled away from the field in the middle holes, where he rapped in four birdies and chipped in for another from the 9th through the 15th.

Most of the younger pros and a few of the more seasoned veterans headed for Winnipeg, Man., after the St. Paul tourney ended. They will play in the Canadian Open this week. January, however, will skip the Canadian and rejoin the tour at Milwaukee, the last tour stop before the National PGA at Chicago.

Battered Frank Robinson Belts Reds Past Dodgers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson didn't make the starting line-up for the All-Star game, but after his ups and downs against Los Angeles right-hander Don Drysdale, there's no one to say he isn't the big gun for the Cincinnati Reds, as they shot for their first National League flag in 21 years. Drysdale knocked Robinson down twice on two pitches and then plunked him off the arm with a third.

Net result: For Drysdale, a heave-ho out of the game and a possible stiffer fine or suspension, by NL President Warren Giles, after receiving an automatic $50 fine for a warning by umpire Dusty Boggess after the first knockdown.

Cleanup Man

Jim Gentile, slugging first baseman of the Baltimore Orioles, holds four bats—one for each grand slam homer he has hit this season. He hit the fourth as a pinch hitter against the Kansas City Athletics in Baltimore, tying an American League record for the number hit in one season. Celebrating with him are, from left, Ron Hansen, Whitey Herzog and Hank Folles—who were on base when Gentile hit the homer. Baltimore won 6-2. (AP Wirephoto.)

For Robinson, seven runs on a pair of homers, a double and a single for a perfect 4-for-4.

For the Reds, a 14-3 victory and a five-game bulge over the second place Dodgers.

Third place Pittsburgh made it three straight over Milwaukee, by beating the Braves 5-4. San Francisco split a pair with St. Louis, the Giants losing 6-3, in the opener, before beating the Cards 6-1. The Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 9-8 and 6-5.

Robinson hit the first of his homers against the Dodgers in the first inning of loser Roger Craig. His run-in with Drysdale came in the sixth, and he then tagged Dick Farrell for his second homer, in the eighth inning.

Gene Freese also homered while right-hander Joey Jay (12-4) checked the Dodgers on five hits, two of them home runs by John Roseboro and Charlie Neal.

A pair of homers by Walt Moryn drove in the Pirates' first three runs against Lew Burdette (9-6). Al McBean (2-0) was the winner in relief.

The Cards wiped out a 3-1 lead by the Giants and won the opener on a two-run homer in the eighth by Ken Boyer. But the Giants bounced back behind the four-hit pitching of Jack Sanford (4-5) and reliever Sam Jones in the nightcap. Lindy McDaniel (5-3) won the opener and Juan Marichal (6-7) lost it, both in relief.

The Cubs overcame seven errors with 28 hits in their sweep over the last place Phils. Ed Bouchee, hit two home runs and Al Heist one backing Glen Bobbie (6-9) in the opener and reliever Dick Ellsworth (4-6) in the second game. Art Mahaffey (7-10) and Chris Short (2-4) were the losers.

Tigers Win Pair To Regain First

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers figure the scrap for the American League pennant is strictly a two-team tussle between themselves and the New York Yankees, and at the moment, they've proved their point—by a point.

That's the margin, just .001 in the percentages, the Tigers have over New York as they now join forces with the Yankees for the AL's battle with the National in Tuesday's All-Star game at San Francisco.

With Frank Lary, the league's ace right-hander, allowing only three singles and winning No. 13 in the opener, Detroit climbed back into first place by beating the Los Angeles Angels 1-0 and 6-3 Sunday while New York split with Boston. The Yankees won the first game, 3-0 behind the five-hit pitching of rookie Roland Sheldon, but dropped to second in a 9-6 nightcap defeat by the Red Sox.

Baltimore gained control of third place, seven games behind, by whipping Kansas City 8-0 on Steve Barber's four-hitter. Cleveland dropped to fourth when the Chicago White Sox thumped the Indians twice, 7-5 and 9-8. Minnesota beat the Senators 7-1.

Lary (13-4) walked just two and struck out 19. The Tigers handed Eli Grub (5-9) his fifth loss in a row with a second-inning run when Norm Cash walked, Steve Boros was hit by a pitch and Mike Roarke singled. Boros, felled by a pitch that struck his helmet, spent Sunday night under observation in a hospital.

Detroit wrapped up the nightcap on a two-run homer by Billy Brant in the seventh inning. Jim Bunning (9-6) won 2 with ninth inning relief help. Ryne Duren (3-9) was the loser.

Sheldon, (6-2) allowed Boston nothing but singles. He walked no one and struck out seven for his sixth straight victory and second shutout in a row. Elton Howard doubled home the first run off loser Bill Monbouquette (9-7), who also gave up Roger Maris' 33rd home run.

The Red Sox broke loose for 13 hits in the nightcap. Two unearned runs in the first inning tagged the loss on Ralph Terry (5-1). Rookie Don Schwall (7-2) was the winner, with relief help from Arnie Earley.

Barber (10-6) collected his fourth shutout of the season—tops in the majors—for the Orioles. The Birds beat Bob Shaw (5-8) in the first inning when Jackie Brandt's triple followed a double by Brooks Robinson.

A pinch-hit base-loaded homer by Sherril Lollar with two out in the ninth won the first game for the White Sox and best reliever Frank Funk (9-7). Willie Kirkland hit three home runs for Cleveland, but J. C. Martin's two-run homer in the seventh inning provided Chicago's edge in the nightcap as Cal McLish (5-8) defeated Jim Perry (7-7). Ray Herbert (7-8) was the first game winner.

Earl Battey belted two home runs and Ted Lepcio one as the Twins won their first at Griffith Stadium in six tries. Camilo Pascual (7-11) was the winner. Tom Cheney (1-1) lost it.

Smith Beats Lubbock Club

E. G. Smith Construction Company captured the first end of a double-bill over Food-Pac in Lubbock Saturday night but surrendered to the rain in the second.

Smith measured Food Pac 2-1 in the opener, leading all the way. Ted Gross walked, was sacrificed to second and came home on successive passed balls. Spec Franklin, winning pitcher, scored what proved to be the winning run on Marion Treadway's sacrifice fly.

Hardly half an inning had been played on the second game when a deluge washed out the tilt, and it rained all the way home on the Big Spring team.

Wednesday evening Smith plays here, probably against Coors of Midland. Saturday night the team is scheduled against Personality Homes, and then is entered in the Odessa Invitational on July 17-22.

The district No. 7 ASA tournament is scheduled here July 23-29, and of course Smith is entered in it.

Palmer Has Good Qualifying Round

BIRKDALE, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who is favored to win the British Open Golf championship, shot a steady 34-37-71 today in the first qualifying round despite rain and a lift with a movie cameraman.

Palmer complained that the cameraman bothered him on the 10th hole where he shot a six, two over par. He more than made this up, however, to come home one under par on the Hillside course.

There are 350 golfers in the field. Each shoots a round of 18 on both the Hillside and Birkdale courses, with the leading 120 starting tournament play Wednesday.

WHO'S BOSS?

Ruffled Feelings Soothed, Yanks Prep To Meet Russia

LONDON (AP)—Jim Elliott, head coach of the touring United States track team, today was assured he had complete command of his troops and promptly withdrew his threat to head home.

"We have things straightened out," said Elliott as he prepared to lead the main portion of the team into Moscow for a meeting with the Soviets next weekend. "We all know where we stand."

A dispute arose Sunday when the team set down here. Manager Joe Mangano announced that White City Stadium had been engaged for a practice as soon as the 31 men and 17 women could get there. Then he asked for a show of hands on whether the group wanted lunch.

Elliott demanded to know whether "the managers or the coach is running the team, and why was I not consulted on these matters. I need this coaching job like a hole in the head."

Then he threatened to quit.

"It was all a misunderstanding," said

Pinky Sober, chief of the AAU track and field committee, nervously. "Each man has his own duties and they were defined to all concerned."

Elliott had the team up at almost the crack of dawn today and took up the White City offer which was made by Jack Crump of the British AAU. After the workout, the team was scheduled to board its chartered airliner for the trip to Moscow.

"I like what I've seen so far," Elliott. "The boys looked very eager. But, on the other hand, I haven't seen one fourth of the squad."

He was referring to the fact that 10 members of the team, along with AAU chief Dan Ferris, are waiting in Moscow. They were sent ahead for earlier meets. The main body was supposed to get to Moscow Sunday night, but the Soviets closed the airport because of an air show.

Capacity Crowd Expected For All-Star Game In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National League was cheered today by the news that Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's hard hitting third baseman, would be available for duty against the American League in Tuesday's 50th All-Star game, second in California and first in San Francisco.

It was feared that Mathews might be forced to pass up the spectacle because of a knee injury sustained in a collision with Los Angeles' Daryl Spencer last week. The big Californian returned to the Braves' lineup Sunday and assured NL Manager Danny Mortuagh he would be ready to play.

A capacity crowd of more than 42,000 was expected to attend the first of this year's two All-Star games, which will be televised nationally. The second game will be played July 31 in Boston.

San Francisco fans were awaiting their first look at the American League slugger, especially Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, the New York Yankees' home run twins.

Patterson's Manager Says NBA Ratings Are 'Asinine'

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Bolan, promoter of Floyd Patterson's proposed fall heavyweight title defense against Boston's Tom McNeely, charged today the National Boxing Association's ratings are "asinine" and said Patterson "is no going to lose (his title) to a bunch of armchair schemers."

Bolan replied in a lengthy statement to the NBA threat last week to strip Patterson of his championship unless he signed within a reasonable time for a defense against a fighter listed in the top six by the NBA.

McNeely, unbeaten in 23 pro bouts, is not ranked by the NBA. Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., has said he hopes to announce a date for the Patterson-McNeely bout some time this week. The fight tentatively is listed for September in Boston. Bolan has applied for a matchmaker's license in Massachusetts to be able to promote the fight.

"The NBA," Bolan said, "has continuously attempted to downgrade Patterson, and last week's feeble beat regarding McNeely is another bid to steal the title from a man who won't bow to their ridiculous rules."

"Patterson is the only man in ring history to regain the heavyweight title and he is not going to lose it to a bunch of armchair schemers. A fighter should be rated only on his achievements in the ring and not by his connections with the NBA."

"McNeely's unbeaten record in 23 bouts, including 18 knockouts," Bolan claimed "is far more impressive than most of those ranked by the NBA as top challengers."

Legionnaires are seeking to organize a good crowd of supporters to follow the local juniors to Lamesa Tuesday. Admission is 50 and 25 cents.

The balance of the schedule follows:

Two games are scheduled for this evening in the YMCA Church Softball League. First Baptist meets Baptist Temple at 7 o'clock and East Fourth Baptists meets Phillips Baptists at 8:30.

HAD TOO MUCH STUFF ON IT

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Throwing a curve ball in baseball game proved hazardous indeed for Bob Collins, Texas A&M pitcher. It may have ended his college career.

As he was pitching for the semi-pro Brenham Colts, he tried a curve. There was a loud pop and he never could complete his follow through. The ball went behind the batter. The right arm was broken between the elbow and shoulder.

TRIO EMERGES AS BEST OF 3-YEAR-OLD RACING CROP

By The Associated Press

In racing, some customers look back sadly to the losers, while others peek ahead hopefully and wonder where the winners are hiding.

This is a brief report on what happened Saturday, and a squint at next Saturday's $100,000 month Park handicap minus Kelo, and the Brooklyn Handicap a week later at the same dollar value—plus Kelo.

Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster, who cost $80,000 at the Saratoga yearling sales, proved to be one of the top 3-year-olds in the land when he came up in the last stride Saturday to best a 70-1 outsider, Editorialist, by a neck in the $108,900 Arlington Classic.

Wet grounds forced cancellation of the doubleheader between the Big Spring Tigers and Pecos Cats here Sunday.

Tiger officials checked the diamond after the early Sunday downpour, and they called Pecos to cancel out. Another doubleheader will be slated this weekend, possibly against Lamesa or San Angelo.

League Leaders Increase Leads

By The Associated Press

Leading Amarillo of the Texas League and Veracruz of the Mexican League increased their margins Sunday as the two circuits split even in the Pan American Association interlocking schedule.

Amarillo moved to a 2½-game bulge by trimming Pecos 3-2 while second-place Tulsa was losing to Veracruz, 2-1. Veracruz increased its lead to a full game when runner-up Puebla in the Mexican League split a doubleheader with Austin.

ON THE LANES

By Harold Fischer

The motion of the arm in good bowling form is like the pendulum of a clock... and it should be a straight, smooth arc, just an old pendulum clock, see what happens when you give the pendulum a little push out of line. Much the same thing can happen when you bowl!

For that correct "pendulum swing," start your delivery with the ball carried fairly high and held to the right, so it's already in line with its swing.

Don't start with the ball held straight in front of you and then try to push it out to the right after you begin to move. Keep that pendulum in mind!

Speaking of clocks, it's "high time" you discovered the bowling habit. Everyone's doing it, from toddlers to retirees. Bowling hits the spot with young and old. Try it, at

Roaches Can Spoil Image Of A Well Kept Residence

A roach on view is quite embarrassing. It is apt to spoil the image of a well taken care of home. Here is a hint that may be helpful to readers who have been bothered by these pests. Humid weather is buggy weather, but it doesn't take long to figure out a way to get rid of these vermin. Johnston's No-Roach is the modern way to control cockroaches and ants. This brush-on liquid is by far the best. One easy application lasts for months. The coating is colorless, odorless, and stainless. There is no need to move dishes and food, or breathe harmful sprays. It's safe to use around children and pets.

PEST CLOSE-UP
No-Roach can rid your house of him

Just brush No-Roach liberally on cabinets, and baseboards, window sills and door steps, on cracks, around drainpipes, and under sinks—wherever crawling insects might appear. Once an insect approaches this invisible film, it is doomed to die, as No-Roach affects its delicate nervous system. No-Roach can also rid your dog of ticks and fleas. Just apply No-Roach in his kennel or where he lies. Brush a few drops on his fur. This will not harm the dog, and he will be free of these pests. No-Roach works where other products fail. So be safe and sure with Johnston's No-Roach. It's available at your favorite drug store or supermarket.

Long Shot

An Atlas intercontinental range missile blasts off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on the start of a successful 9,500-mile flight—the longest surface-to-surface rocket flight on record. The Atlas nose cone plunked on target in the Indian Ocean about 1,000 miles southwest of Capetown, South Africa.

AF Capsule Netters Hope For Wiggler

HICKAM AIR FORCE BASE, Hawaii (AP)—Air Force fliers who plucked another Discoverer nose cone from the sky on its return from space hoped today that the next aerial recovery "gives us something that wiggles."

Airmen at this mid-Pacific base said they were confident they could retrieve any capsule that could be brought back into the earth's atmosphere. "But next time," said one, "please, let's have something alive in there. These instruments are getting routine."

Discoverer XXVI's instrument-jammed nose cone was snagged in the air by a C119 recovery plane Sunday as the space pack parachuted 270 miles northwest of Hawaii. The twin-engine plane, one of eight circling over the impact area, made the catch on its first pass with its trailing trapezoidal hook. The recovery came just 29 minutes after the capsule was nicked loose from space over Kodiak, Alaska.

It was the fourth aerial grab of a Discoverer cone. Two others were fished from the sea.

The gold-plated capsule, sealed in a gray ennisiter, was flown to Sunnyvale, Calif., Sunday night for examination by space scientists. It had circled the globe 32 times on a polar orbit since its launching Friday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Contents of the capsule were not disclosed but an Air Force spokesman said nothing aboard was alive.

Greeting the pilot, Capt. Jack R. Wilson, 37, of Toledo, Ohio, were the two other pilots to effect aerial recoveries. Capt. Harold Mitchell of Bloomington, Ill., who made the first catch 11 months ago, and Capt. Gene Jones of Dayton, Wash., who snagged two capsules, presented cigars to the beaming Wilson.

Wilson said the nose cone "looked like it was twinkling. Like it had a battery of lights on it" as it floated down through a layer of clouds. "We first spotted it about 20,000 feet above us," he said.

The nose cone spent 50 hours and 36 minutes in space attached to the 25-foot-long second stage of the Discoverer rocket. The release was triggered at Sunnyvale, the Air Force disclosed.

It was originally reported the capsule would remain in orbit four days. There was no formal explanation why it was brought back earlier but an Air Force officer said: "The nose cone was in an ideal position for a recovery attempt. Anyway, the scientists had probably gotten all the space data they could out of this one."

Hemingway Widow Calls Death 'Incredible Accident'

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP) — Ernest Hemingway's widow said the Nobel Prize-winning author was in such good spirits before his death that she feels "quite certain that this, in some incredible way, was an accident."

She also told newsmen in a special interview Saturday, that he did indeed have several works not yet published—a novel cached in a Cuban bank, another manuscript in a bank at Hailey, Idaho, which he was going to work on this week, and some poems.

Hemingway, 61, died of a shotgun blast in his head July 2, at his mountain home retreat near this southern Idaho Community.

The coroner said it was self-inflicted but maintained that no body could ever know for sure whether it was accidental or on purpose.

In a copyrighted story in the Minneapolis Tribune Sunday, Professors Leslie Fiedler and Seymour Betsky of Montana State University were quoted as saying after a visit with Hemingway last November that the author "was very, very depressed" and "quite unsure of himself and quite unsure he had written anything worth anything."

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Eighty-five beautiful contestants for the title of "Miss Universe" paraded in Miami Sunday night in a variety of costumes.

Miss China wore a flowered kimono, Misses California and Nevada had on cowgirl outfits, Miss Tennessee wore a steamboat on her head, Miss Missouri wore a bright red basketball uniform and Miss Alaska wore furs.

They are among those competing for the title currently held by 19-year-old Linda Bement of Salt Lake City.

The finals are scheduled for Saturday night.

Steps Planned On Dam Project

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Preliminary steps will be taken by mid-August on the $60 million Toledo Bend dam, a joint Texas-Louisiana project which will create one of the South's largest man-made lakes in six years.

The dam will be built on the Sabine River, southern boundary line of the two states, about 17 miles northwest of Leesville. The lake will cover 181,000 acres.

Claude Kirkpatrick, Louisiana public works director, said soil borings would be underway by Aug. 15 to get information for the design of the dam, spillway and powerhouse. Surveys then will be taken to determine the contours of the lake.

The dam is expected to be completed within 18 months. Electricity generated by the project will retire revenue bonds issued by the joint Sabine River Authority.

A Devotional for Today

This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Matthew 3:17.)
PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for showing us the pathway that leads us home to Thee. Help us to have courage and faith to follow in Christ's footsteps. In His name we pray. Amen.

The Principle Is Important

A four-paragraph story the other day told matter of factly how the government wound up its bookkeeping year with the federal debt at $229,311,154,000, the highest level of any fiscal year-end in history. This was about 2.7 billion dollars more than the previous year due to higher spending and revenues less than anticipated.

This is a pretty important piece of news and one that should have a sobering effect on Americans concerned about fiscal responsibility. During the previous eight years the debt increased by 12 billion, and at the rate the administration is pressing domestic spending, there is every prospect that the gap will grow.

Yet it ought not to grow. Times are good enough that we should balance the budget. If we can't come out with a surplus in good years to apply to the debt, what can we hope to do in the tight years?

There is pending a measure (HR 2471) which would require 10 per cent of the net budget receipts to be used for reduction of the federal debt. We do not know if this a proper or feasible figure, but the principle of funding the federal debt seems to us to be wise and urgent. Were the 10 per cent factor applied now, that would mean about eight billion a year for debt retirement, or about a 40-year amortization. If we could establish some systematic pattern for repayment, it would do two things immediately. The first is to throw up a barrier against deficit spending; the other is to do some cutting in spending elsewhere in order to meet the commitment to debt retirements.

Not Good For Big Ivan

Arthur H. Dean, U. S. delegate to the three-power nuclear test ban talks in Geneva, recently challenged the Soviet negotiator, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, to make available to Russian citizens a full report on the American-British plan to ban nuclear weapons tests.

"I hope that henceforth the citizens of Moscow will have an equal opportunity to acquaint themselves with the proposals of each side at the U. N. office in Moscow," he said, adding that this would enable the Soviet public to form an independent judgment on the Geneva negotiations.

Of course Mr. Tsarapkin didn't rise to the bait. Instead he took off on another diatribe on the draft, declaring that it was "nothing new."

And of course, Mr. Tsarapkin couldn't accept the challenge for the simple reason that the Soviet government isn't about to let the people have all the facts. The stock answer is that only the party represents the true interests of the people and that only the party line is the right line. Big Ivan knows best, besides if the average Russian had all the facts, he might get ideas of his own, and that wouldn't be best for Big Ivan.

We Have Rights In Berlin

WASHINGTON—Signs are coming over the international horizon that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is not ready to force any sudden end to the debate over the future status of Berlin. It may go on for years.

Indications from Communist diplomats in London are that the Soviet dictator wants a "summit" conference in October or November next before he reaches any decision.

THIS IS BUT another way of saying that he might be content with a few official communiques on Berlin or with a stalemate, which is what he fostered in the four-power conference at Geneva two years ago.

Maybe the Soviets are beginning to see the weakness in their argument. For if the Soviet contention about Berlin is correct, then the Western Allies, too, can at any time it suits them re-open all wartime agreements.

International law has long recognized the principle that, when nations sign an agreement, it is binding upon all of them and cannot be altered by one party in disregard of the will of the others.

MOSCOW may not like it, but to apply its own rule would justify a re-opening of the wartime understandings whereby Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia were incorporated into the Soviet Union. Each of these countries was an independent state before World War II. They have a right to "self-determination." They are today colonies of the Soviet government. Despite all the pious observations by the Communists concerning "colonialism" in Asia and Africa, there are flagrant examples of a disregard of the right of self-determination right at the backdoor of the Soviet Union itself.

ONE OF the unfortunate aspects of the whole controversy is the tendency in some American quarters to concede that the wartime agreements concerning Berlin are not based upon firm and explicit understandings. In some quarters this is merely a way of starting a chain reaction toward appeasement through negotiations.

But the record bears out that the United States and its allies obtained broad rights in Berlin and are entitled to respect for those rights today by the Soviet Union.

Perhaps the most interesting documents on the whole subject are those furnished in a book by General Lucius D. Clay, who was a participant in all the big-power conferences from 1945 to 1949—at Potsdam, Washington, London, Paris, Moscow—at which the agreements concerning the disposition of former German territory were arranged.

GENERAL CLAY was deputy military governor of the U. S.-occupied Germany in 1945 and 1946, and commander of U. S. forces and military governor of the U. S. zone in Germany.

THE WESTERN WORLD is not going to accept the theory that a party to an agreement may alter it at any time without the consent of the other. To concede such a principle is to invite chaos in the world. Hence Berlin means more than a mere debate concerning who should or shouldn't govern a particular region. It's a question of the obligation of allies who fought a war together to decide in unity what should or should not be done. For sacrifices were made by the West as well as the East.

The Reds Act—The West Reacts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communists act, the West reacts. It's been that way for years. It's that way now. It was true under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower. It's true today under President Kennedy.

It raises a question: When will the West take the initiative to put the Communists on the defensive, give them the message?

First it was Greece and Turkey, then Indochina, then Czechoslovakia, then the Berlin blockade.

then Korea, then Formosa, then Berlin again, then Cuba and riots in Latin America and now again it's Berlin.

In each case the Communists called the tune and the West danced, trying to offset them. The West has created no crises for Russia or Red China. It's been the other way around.

1. Right after the big war Russia stirred up civil war in Greece. The Communist rebels there, brought pressure on Turkey to get concessions and bases in the Straits.

TRUMAN REACTED with the Truman plan—aid to Greece and Turkey—which not only was successful but once and for all threw off American isolationism, put the United States neck-deep in Europe's problems, shaped the future.

2. Indochina began to fall apart in 1946, although no one realized it at the time. Indochinese, led by Communists and sick of French colonial rule, began civil war. It lasted eight years. The French fought a half-hearted war, wouldn't let go.

In the end the United States helped the French. Too late. The Communists got half of Indochina. The result of all this: The United States set up Southeast Asian alliances to try to save the rest of the area from the Reds.

3. In 1947—when Bulgaria, Romania, Poland, Hungary had been taken over by Communists, when Communists were the second most powerful political party in France, when Communists were rioting in Italy, when all Western Europe was in danger of economic collapse—the United States came up with its Marshall Plan.

THIS ECONOMIC aid program saved Europe. The United States, learning the lesson, has continued the aid ever since, shifting to backward countries as time passed.

4. The West suffered a smashing blow in 1948 when Communists grabbed Czechoslovakia from within and Stalin tried to steal West Berlin with a blockade. The United States couldn't help Czechoslovakia, but it rescued Berlin with an airlift.

5. That year, 1949, was momentous by itself: The Red Chinese took over mainland China, drove Chiang Kai-shek to the island of Formosa, 100 miles off the mainland. Truman said hands off, that Chiang was on his own, wouldn't protect him.

6. Late in 1958 Premier Khrushchev picked up where Stalin left off, threatened Berlin anew, really put the heat on in 1959, threw into convulsions the West which didn't seem sure it wanted to fight for the city, set a six-month deadline.

Creating Drier Condition May Kill Itch

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: What is pruritis ani? What causes it and what does one do to treat it?"—Mrs. M. G.

A good question, and one that has good answers; now that some of the prudishness of the past is fading from polite society.

"Pruritis" means itching, and "ani" means it is in the anal, or rectal, area.

When a patient complains of rectal itching, and the doctor says, "pruritis ani," he is, in reality, just saying the same thing in different words.

This isn't deceitful, because pruritis (or itching) isn't caused by one thing. It is necessary to find, often by trial and error, the cause. Then the treatment may be easy. In fact, the cause sometimes becomes apparent because a certain remedy works.

Principal among the varied causes of this frightfully prevalent problem are these:

Simple errors in hygiene: Inadequate cleansing; use of coarse toilet tissue which can cause tiny scratches in sensitive skin, which may heal slowly—while new scratches appear.

Excessive moisture, due to perspiration.

Chafing from tight undergarments.

Diseases, including hemorrhoids, fissures, fistulas, chronic infection of the anal canal, can produce bloody or pus-laden discharge which is irritating.

Irritation from whatever source causes the skin to thicken, and excessive folds to develop which in turn trap moisture or irritating material, redoubling the irritation and itching.

So what sort of treatment? Very simple measures are often the answer, but if fissures, infections or other such conditions exist, there is no point in expecting relief until the basic faults are treated and corrected.

For simple cases of pruritis, creating a drier condition is more effective than most patients are willing to believe—until they try it.

Too often the tendency is to apply salves to allay the itch. And all too often the salves keep the skin too soft and moist and actually delay or prevent healing of tiny cracks in the skin.

It is usually more effective to take extra care in cleansing (there's nothing wrong with a cloth and soap and water, and rinsing!) then drying thoroughly, and placing a small pad of soft tissue, or even a pledget of dry cotton against the anal opening.

It sounds too simple? Well, it won't do much for allergies, or for infections, or fistulas or hemorrhoids or fissures, but for many and many a frantic patient, such simple treatment brings relief.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am expecting my sixth child, yet I never have breast-fed one of them. My doctor didn't advise it because I was run down. However I feel much stronger this time. I understand that diet, etc., before the baby is born is important.—Mrs. W. W."

A balanced diet, often supplemented by vitamins, is essential during pregnancy. I question whether any special diet is necessary or will help so far as breastfeeding is concerned. By all means so feed the baby if the milk supply is adequate. If it is NOT adequate, don't hesitate to give supplementary bottle feeding.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his leaflet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Little Davey Makes A Discovery

Little Davey was a bright boy. By the time he was seven months old, he was already walking and talking; he had a curious, inquisitive mind and big round all-seeing eyes. As he grew up, he wanted to know everything about all things. Davey was constantly asking, "Why?"

This characteristic very often got him into trouble since he frequently asked questions about facts that were absolutely unquestionable, or so his mother and father told him. Everyone told him that he just did not question certain matters. He must accept them as facts. And Davey would reply, "But, why?"

One thing continually puzzled Davey. He often asked about it, but it was the one question that no one ever even tried to answer for him. When he asked it, his parents said: "Davey, you just don't ask that question. You can't use your right hand for anything but cutting your meat. It has been done that way for years and years; you have to do it that way."

FOR THE LIFE OF him, Davey could not understand why. He looked at his right hand every day, he scrutinized it very carefully to find what was so different about it. Look as hard as he might, however, he could find no difference other than that he had a wart on the third finger of his left hand. Since everyone told him the rule was absolute, though, he figured that he must do as others did. He used his right hand when cutting his meat. At all other times it hung limply at his side.

Once in a while, however, his curiosity would get the better of him, and he would stealthily hold his fishing pole or some similar object in his right hand. Always afterwards he would be overcome with remorse and guilt and vow never to do it again because his mother had warned him that "you will be sorry if you continue to disobey the rule."

Sometimes, terror-struck, Davey would ask his mother what would happen to him if he did break the rule, and his mother would reply: "No respectable person breaks the rule, and you want to be a respectable person, don't you?"

THE OLDER DAVEY grew, the more he questioned the rule. He began to search for the beginning of it; who started it and why, he wondered. Of course, everyone told him that it was useless to search. The rule had existed since the world began.

One day when he was digging in the cellar, he stumbled upon an old, battered book. Carefully he opened the book and began to turn the pages. The date, he saw, was 1961—almost 300 years ago! There were hundreds of pictures in the book, pictures of people in action. And most astonishing of all, these people were doing things with both hands.

He sat dumfounded. Then suddenly, he felt free from all bonds, all fear, all guilt. The rule did have a beginning! It was not infinite after all.

Consciously he lifted his right arm and slammed the book shut. He placed it under his right arm and pushed open the cellar door with his right hand, surprised as the ease with which he did it. Outside, he picked up a smooth rock in his right hand and hurled it forcefully. It soared far out in an arc, farther than any he had ever thrown in his life.

WITHIN A FEW HOURS the story had spread throughout the town. Davey was using his right hand for everything. The people of the town rose up in indignation and fear against Davey. He was ostracized, cursed, laughed at, pitied, but he had found what the townspeople had not found—freedom to do something differently. He was happy in the face of it.

Davey had the courage to question, to find his own answer, his own truth, and to use what he had discovered.

Are you still a left-hander?

Some Major Omissions

WASHINGTON — On July 3, 1961, the Washington Post managed to run some eleven columns of prose about Ernest Hemingway without mentioning Cuba.

The point is worth laboring, I think, because this is the same newspaper where I first read that Stephen Smith, the President's land-locked brother-in-law, became "an expert on Asian affairs" when he reached Hawaii on the recent Southeast Asian trip with Lyndon Johnson.

A NEWSPAPER that makes a practice of propaganda and brainwash is something that Americans ought to hear about. Hemingway's long association with Cuba, as well as his early but soon disillusioned enthusiasm for Fidel Castro, are common knowledge. It amounted to an imposture on the American public for the Post, in four separate stories, to write about a well-known fact that is pertinent to current history. But brainwashers the world over are nothing if not brazen.

The Post's page one story of the edition which reached my home was a UPI report, dated Ketchum, Idaho, by James C. Anderson. A quotation on an inside page made the point that Hemingway had "lived there for the past three years or so."

BUT IN Who's Who, 1960-61, Hemingway gives the home address that everybody knows — San Francisco de Paula in suburban Havana. In March, 1960, the Post carried a Joseph Alsop column about attending a cocktail with Hemingway in or near Havana. Every other morning paper available to me mentioned Hemingway's long residence in Cuba, along with his Idaho home.

ON ITS OBITUARY page, the Post ran a biographical story by Phil Casey, staff reporter. This year traced the Hemingway career by specific mention of Idaho, Illinois, Kansas City, Toronto, Paris, New York, Spain, Africa, Georgetown, Chevy Chase and the Stork Club. But not Cuba!

A literary story on the same page by Glendy Culligan, Book Editor, discussed Hemingway's heroes seeking their moments of truth, "on safari, in gangland and in the bullring." Some of his friends and many of his titles got mentioned, including the short novel, "The Old Man and the Sea," which brought Hemingway belated recognition with the Nobel Prize for Literature. This book is evidently laid in Cuba, and for years Hemingway's writing, drinking and fishing habits in Cuba have been all over the newspapers and magazines. But the Book Editor of the Post — or possibly her editors — managed to produce the three-column spread entitled "Farewell to Hemingway" without mentioning Cuba.

THE POST's top editorial of the day was a eulogy to Hemingway. It mentioned Idaho, Michigan, Illinois, Canada, Kansas City, but — again — not Cuba!

Every journalist or his editor has to judge the newsworthiness of each subject in the daily flow of events. Not many city editors, and not many columnists, I suppose, would think omissions to be worth writing about. Hemingway was a near titan whose magnificent works were interspersed with a few duds and whose productivity petered out toward the end of his life, much to the loss of us all. His place of residence was his own business.

He was great a man that we have to forgive his being an expatriate most of his life. You can't expect a world figure, as this man was, to take responsibility for his country's welfare and survival.

BUT YOU DO HOLD newspapers, journalists and all public individuals responsible. An omission, which is deliberate and flagrant, can be as significant as a commission of the same sort. There is a similarity in deceit between the plug for Stephen Smith as an "expert on Asian affairs" and the dissociation of Hemingway with Cuba. What goes on here, anyhow?

Don't Be Dead - Dye!

The multiple-choice examination paper is an educational device that has come into widespread use since my alma mater turned me loose on the world. Now a passing grade simply depends upon X marking the right spot.

In my day the only choice was to write what you knew on the subject under examination and hope for the best. It is possible that the multiple-choice examination is one of the major influences in lowering the standard of written and spoken English, so deplored by educators among high school and college students?

BUT THE MULTIPLE-choice gimmick was too good and too easy to be confined to examination papers. It has now slipped over — and I use that phrase advisedly — into a great deal of magazine writing.

One can scarcely pick up a magazine today without being confronted by 20 (just why the number should always be 20 escapes me) multiple-choice questions that will tell the reader whether she is the perfect wife, mother, PTA chairman or straw boss, or reveal to him whether he is best suited to be doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief or patsy.

THE LONG and short of it is that I came recently on one of these multiple-choice magazine pieces dealing with the validity of old superstitions. The first question asked the reader whether he believed that hair could turn white in a single night from fear or other causes.

La, with all-night beauty shops springing up all over the nation, I did not have to turn to the back of the book to know the answer to that one, which is "YES." Rather, and I am now speaking of my sex, the hair does not turn so much white as light in a single time capsule, be it before or after sunset.

AND FEAR usually does it, all right—fear of that first gray hair, especially if one has turned 40; fear of that new sniplet in Daddy's office; fear of middle-aged megrims; or fear that one may never really know why gentlemen prefer blondes.

A VERY PERCEPTIVE woman, Barbara Stanwyck, once said that "only the young dye good." While there is a large grain of truth in Miss Stanwyck's observation, it is the more mature who dye determinedly. Today, silver threads among the gold can be regarded as purely accidental or a just cause either for one's money back or a new color job on the house.

I don't want to be accused of running a bucket shop, but if I had money to invest in a long-term gamble, I would begin to accumulate stocks for the long haul in firms that manufacture beauty products, especially stuffs to "tint" the hair. "Dye" is a dirty word in the trade.

MY DECISION is based on a report of the International Committee for Demographic Studies, which reports that real blondes are rapidly disappearing. Even in such countries as Sweden, real blondes will be all but extinct by 2100. So the situation elsewhere is apt to be critical much earlier.

Far from seeing a "brunette cycle" in the offing, as the committee predicts, I see a more determined rise in the synthetic as the real thing becomes more and more scarce.

Nature, said Oscar Wilde, imitates art, and the truth is that it is getting harder and harder to tell one blonde from t'other, banded or bottled.

Advice On Posture

Donna Atwood, known as Queen of the Ice Capades, has been studying dramatics and is making her TV debut soon. She has good ideas on securing correct posture.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Idea For Energy May Appeal To Few

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — As queen of the Ice Capades, Donna Atwood skated in over 300 shows a year. She was constantly moving from city to city, but she always looked refreshed and full of pep.

"What did you do for energy?" I asked the other day. She had come by to see me and announce that she was now going to work toward an acting career on TV. "Nothing gave me a boost like a tartare steak. I kept a piece of raw tenderloin in my dressing room ice box, and I would shave thin slices onto crackers. I know some performers turn to honey, but I always find protein sustains me more."

Donna's twins are 14 years old now, but her figure is just as delightful as when she was younger. "It's not difficult," she confessed. "Your body responds so quickly to exercise. You don't have to spend hours working out. Just a few minutes a day will do because it is the regularity that means the most."

"A good figure begins with posture," Donna continued. "Slumping not only makes you look unattractive, but fat forms where the circulation slows down. When people fail to keep their upper torso separated from their lower torso, they lose their waist and a roll of fat accumulates right in the middle."

"This can be corrected by a simple posture exercise. You have to think and feel what you are doing at first. Later it becomes a habit, and you feel cramped when you are not sitting or standing straight."

"Every day, stand straight and raise one arm above your head. Push as high and as firmly as you can so that you feel a pull all the way down to your waist. Raise the other arm and push it firmly, too. Then alternate, first the right and then the left, lifting that middle section. Straighten your spine and keep it that way. If you are not used to exercise, don't overdo it, but work up slowly. After a while you can work up to 10 times every day."

"Is that the only exercise you suggest?" I asked. "It is better to concentrate on one thing and see the results than to scatter your efforts," Donna advised.

CHIN EXERCISES

One of the first signs of age is a double chin. And one of the reasons a double chin forms is the formation of fat from lack of exercise. Let the exercises in Leaflet M-21, "Prevent That Double Chin," help you. For your copy send only 10 (ten cents) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Author, Wife Never Quarrel-Disagree When Writing Book

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Jean and Irving Stone never quarrel over who's boss.

That was settled years ago. The Book runs their household, and all personal preferences give way before it.

The Book is whatever biographical novel Stone is working on. "He's absolutely singleminded," says Mrs. Stone. "The Book comes first, and everything else falls into line after it."

The first was "Lust for Life," about the painter Vincent van Gogh. When a publisher finally accepted it, in the mid-thirties, they got married and went on their honeymoon.

Now, about 10 Books later, "The Agony and the Ecstasy," about Michelangelo, is fresh off the press. And the Stones are rolling along merrily—if briefly—on what Jean Stone calls "The good time between Books."

"We live a black and white existence," she says. "It's all play or all work."

PART OF THE TEAM

This doesn't mean that while Stone is in the throes of literary creation his loyal wife contents herself with shielding him from distracting contacts with the outside world.

Jean Stone, a slim, brown-eyed brunette and the mother of their two children, is a vital part of the best-selling team. She edits his books. It's probably the supreme compliment that all of them, except "Lust for Life" written for his mother, are dedicated to her.

CAREER OF EDITING

"I've made a career of it," she explains. "It works this way: I'm doing it for him. He's doing it for literature."

But if you think editing a husband's work is all sweetness and light, ponder her role in the latest novel.

"I got 1,000 pages of manuscript, 1,004 pages were delivered to the publisher. I cut the difference. Of course, every author fights for his words, and when I say to him 'You've already said this four times and this is dispensable,' he says: 'I don't see how you can reason this way.' 'I'm rather cold-blooded when he complains. Is there nothing in this book you like?' he always asks. I tell him 'I'm not there to flatter but to help.'"

NOT JEALOUS

"And at least once in every book he accuses me: 'You don't like my hero,' or heroine. 'He just worshipped Jessie Fremont, in 'Immortal Wife.' He accused me of all sorts of things, including jealousy. But usually I was right. I have a leaner sense of values than he."

"Some people, after they see how I've cut and moved pieces around, ask why I'm not mentioned on the jacket too. I have a stock answer: 'I never face the blank pages.'"

DOES MARKETING

Irving, she admits proudly, identifies with struggle and the surmounting of odds. "He feels that if he's had a book that's well read, he can put one over for love. 'They Also Ran,' about defeated presidential candidates, and books on Eugene V. Debs and

Youngs Given Party

Capt. and Mrs. Nolan Young were honorees at a farewell coffee given Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards on Eleventh Place. Members and friends from St. Paul Presbyterian Church called during the evening in order to wish the Youngs well as they leave for a new assignment at the Laredo Air Base.

Receiving guests with the Youngs were Mrs. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Birt Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Peters and Jim Layman.

Arrangements of summer flowers, provided and arranged by Mrs. Leon Moffett, were placed in the reception rooms and the serving area.

The refreshment table was decorated in mauve and white with a white linen hand cutwork cloth. Huge mauve colored dahlias enhanced with bells of Ireland formed the centerpiece which was flanked with tiered tall white tapers. Silver and crystal appointments were used. The crystal punch bowl containing a mauve colored punch was on one end of the table with the silver coffee service at the other.

Mrs. John Fariss and Mrs. J. W. Tipton alternated at the coffee service and Mrs. Thos. Lane and Mrs. Robert Mason served punch. Mrs. Vance Kimble was at the guest book. Approximately 50 friends were present during the evening.

Co-hostesses for the coffee with Mrs. Edwards were Mrs. Moffett, Mrs. Layman, Mrs. Gene Peters, Mrs. Al Seddon and Kathy Seddon.

Games are open to all bridge players each Sunday with master-point play on the fourth Sunday of each month.

Clarence Darrow, were written for sure love."

Jean, from Minneapolis, and Irving, from San Francisco, met in New York City while she was attending New York University and he was working on "Lust."

Since their marriage they've lived in Beverly Hills, Calif.

She shops once a week, doing all the marketing herself—gladly. "He can work within a room happily," she says, "but I'm gregarious and I rebel. I want to see people."

Their children are Paula, now 23, a juvenile probationary officer in Alameda County, and Kenneth, 18, in first year veterinary science at the University of California at Davis.

The children grew up in the shadow of the Book. Sometimes both the part-time typist and Mrs. Stone would be typing frantically to make a deadline and Irving would be making lunch and diapering a boy. "With him it all pointed toward the Book, so it was all right."

"One day my small daughter came to me and said 'I wish Daddy was a butcher so you both could take Sunday off.' She used to sit under the kneehole desk to play by the hour while I typed."

But Mrs. Stone didn't neglect her community duties. She took her turn at being den mother of Cub Scouts and working in the P-TA. "These things you have to do when you do them. You can't wait to be between books."

LOVED ITALY
For research on the Michelangelo book, the Stones spent two years in Italy, where Mrs. Stone fell in love with the people's approach to life.

"They never could understand our machine-age consumption and packaging. They would pick up a magazine and see all the American women in the ads smiling seductively and talking about soap."

"Then they'd ask me: 'Senora, why are American women so preoccupied with soap? Why have a newer soap or whiter soap? We have soap. Do all rich American women stand at their clothes lines all day?'"

It was a good question, Mrs. Stone admits, and she thinks maybe it was one of the reasons she wasn't ready to come home.

Gilmores Attend Family Reunion

SLEEVELESS TUNIC By Sylvan Rich

NA-2106

From Spadea's Personalized Pattern Series

Sylvan Rich enhances the tall figure with his sleeveless tunic top riding on a wave of rippling pleats. The slip-into easy top is back buttoned, with released darts shaping the belted waistline. A separate skirtful of one way pleats creates an exciting whirl when in motion.

A success for summer in linen, novelty weaves, cottons, shantung, any silk or rayon that takes a pretty pleat. In silk crepe, faille or sheer wool, it has after-five elegance for fall; in wool flannel, jersey or fine gabardine, it goes back to school. From these corresponding body measurements select the one size best for you.

Texas Cotton Estimate Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1961 cotton planting in Texas at 7.1 million acres, up 4 per cent from last year. The nation's cotton acreage was set at 16,561,000 acres, or 3 per cent above that of 1960. This estimate compares with the 10-year (1950-59) average of 20,800,000 acres. The department made no forecast on production. But should the acre yield equal that of the last two crops, production would be about 14,200,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. Production was 14,272,000 bales last year and 13,710,000 for the 10 year average.

Ackerly Cutout Is Reserve Champion

LUBBOCK—A Hampshire slaughter hog shown by Marvin Hill, Crosbyton, had the best carcass cutout displayed during Texas Tech's annual Swine Breeders Short Course July 6-7. Reserve champion in the carcass cutout, also a Hampshire, was shown by Melvin Smith, Ackerly. Champion in live hog carcass evaluation was Leonard Wilson, Tahoka, with 27 points. Runner up was E. G. Gaston, Earth, 234, followed by Monte Griffin, Lamesa, 222, and Smith, 221. The awards were announced at the closing session of the short course Friday afternoon in the Tech Meats Industry building. More than 130 swine breeders attended the course to learn of latest developments in their work.

Martin County Old Settlers Reunion Set For Tuesday

A downtown parade will kick off the annual Old Settlers' Reunion for Martin County residents in Stanton Tuesday. It begins at 4 p. m., according to Dan Saunders, president, and all interested persons are invited to ride and participate in it. The old fiddlers' contest will follow the parade. It is to begin at 5 p. m. in the city park. The barbecue will be served at 7 p. m. in the park, and a steer roping event will begin at 8 p. m. in the Sheriff's posse arena. There is no admission charge for the roping event. Saunders said Alton Turner will be in charge of the fiddlers' contest. Entries in this contest must be non-professional and can be either male or female of any age. They must live either in Martin County, or an adjoining county, Dawson, Howard, Borden, Glasscock, Midland, Andrews or Gaines. Each contestant will be allowed to play two tunes of his own choice.

Showers Delay Texas Harvesting

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Showers and in some cases heavy rains continued to delay field work and harvesting and caused insect infestations to increase in most sections of Texas during the week. On the other hand, said director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, soil moisture remains adequate to excessive in all areas except in spots. Reports from district agents, he said, showed ranges making a rapid comeback and livestock generally in good condition. The wheat harvest is about over. Late crops have been materially benefited and most cotton, grain sorghum and peanuts are planted. Cotton made good growth in most sections, he said, but insects were on the increase because farmers have been kept out of their fields by wet weather. In the Panhandle, W. W. Gris-ham from Amarillo said surface moisture ranges from adequate to short. Ranges and livestock generally are in good condition. Asocoyah blight continued to damage cotton in some South Plains counties where rains and showers have continued, reported W. H. Jones from Lubbock. He said the wheat harvest is 90 per cent complete; potato and onion harvests had started; moisture is adequate to excessive in all except parts of two counties and cattle and ranges were in good condition. Grain sorghum is off to a good start. More rain was received in several rolling plains counties and moisture is adequate in all except Hall County, said James Simmons from Vernon. He reported some cotton and grain sorghum acreage remained to be planted and thrips and fleahoppers were causing damage to cotton in some counties. Grasshoppers are also damaging crops and ranges in several counties. Moisture is adequate in North-east Texas, advised John Surovik from Mt. Pleasant. He said the wheat harvest is about over and yields are good. Cotton is nearing the bloom stage and insects have been fairly well controlled. Cantaloupes and watermelons are beginning to move to market as are sweet corn, peas, tomatoes and other vegetables. In Far West Texas, Ray Sigmund from Ft. Stockton said moisture is adequate in all except the far western counties. Cotton and grain sorghums are making good growth. Cloudy, showery weather continued to hamper farming operations in Central Texas where R. G. Burwell from Stephenville reported soil moisture is adequate. Corn and grain sorghum made good progress and cotton can be found in all stages of growth. Moisture is adequate in East Texas and all crops and pastures are continuing to make good progress, said Walter Scott from Nacogdoches. The watermelon and pea harvests were beginning. Cotton is fruiting well but insects are increasing as sowers kind pea harvests were beginning. Cotton is fruiting well but insects are increasing as sowers kind pea harvests were beginning. Shaky Eichmann Obtains Rest From Trial Tension

JERUSALEM (AP)—Shaking from lack of sleep and nervous tension, Adolf Eichmann asked for and got a morning recess today to sleep off the rigors of his long trial. He returned to the witness stand in the afternoon, staring straight ahead with normally impassive demeanor. Eichmann underwent rigorous cross-examination by Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner during the last court session Friday. This was to have continued this morning but was suspended until the afternoon at Eichmann's request. He slept during the morning on a narrow cot in his solitary confinement cell. The former Gestapo officer, impassive until Hausner cracked his shell last Friday afternoon, was trembling and twitching when he entered his glass-enclosed cage in the courtroom this morning. He sent a note to the tribunal though his defense counsel reporting he had spent a sleepless night and was suffering nervous tension. The prison doctor examined Eichmann and said he was "perfectly fit but tired due to loss of sleep." His guards said Eichmann had a bad weekend. "He's got the jitters," one officer said. Eichmann has endured a year of confinement since his capture in Argentina and 13 weeks on trial with seeming calm. He suffered an attack of nerves, described as a momentary heart flutter, the day the trial opened April 11 and a similar attack a month later. But otherwise he presented a rock-like mien.

Legion Delays Officer Election

Election of officers for the Howard County Post of the American Legion has been postponed a week. The meeting was called off in favor of the American Legion 19th District baseball play-off in Lamesa, scheduled Thursday, the regular meeting time. Big Spring plays first Tuesday night in Lobo Stadium at 8 p. m. If they win this game with the Lubbock auto team they will play again at 8 p. m. Thursday. If they lose the Tuesday game, they will play Thursday at 6 p. m. Commander Joe Pendleton, in announcing postponement of the regular meeting, urged members to be in Lamesa for the ball games. Admission for the games is 50 cents and 25 cents. Six teams are competing for the District Championship. The annual election of officers will be held at the July 20 meeting.

Farm Safety Week Proclaimed

LAMESA (SC)—Dawson County Judge R. F. Sprabery has officially proclaimed the week of July 23-29 as "Farm Safety Week." Bob Koger, president of the local Farm Bureau, indicated that the week had been proclaimed by Sprabery and President John F. Kennedy to provide a vigorous farm accident-prevention program.

Final Program Of Film Festival Set

The final film offering for the YMCA's Summer Film Festival will be screened at 7:30 p. m. today in the all-purpose room. It is "Fountainhead," starring Gory Cooper as Howard Roark and Patricia Neal as Dominique Francon. An unusual role for Cooper, it was one of his few attempts at a seriously dramatic part. The film was taken from the best-selling book of the 1920's written by Ayn Rand. Previously, she had written "We, The Living" and recently her longest novel, "Atlas Shrugged," was published. Besides these three novels, she has published one short story, a play, and a collection of essays. Her works champion the conservative point of view, lauding the worth of the individual vs. the collective. Refreshments will be served during the program. All season ticket holders are urged to attend this final offering of the season.

New Chamber Club To Meet

Members of the newly created "contact club" of the Chamber of Commerce, will meet at noon Tuesday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, according to J. O. Tolson, president. The club meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Tuesday will be a report meeting as well as a chance for members to bring up and discuss future activities of the organization.

Mae Returns To Panay Island

HOLO CITY, the Philippines (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, traveling this time in style, today returned to Panay Island in his tour of battle-grounds in the Philippines he made famous in World War II. He was accorded a 19-gun salute as he stepped ashore from the presidential yacht, Lapu Lapu and cheered by thousands during his five-hour stay.

It was the last scheduled stop on his journey through the young Southeast Asian republic that reveres him as its liberator from the Japanese.

Civilization Is Too Complicated

NEW YORK (AP)—Columbia College has taken its advanced course in contemporary civilization off the compulsory list for sophomores. The reason: Contemporary civilization has become too complex.

A report issued by the faculty committee noted regretfully that the course was a casualty of the trend of the social sciences toward becoming so technical and specialized as to defy "translating technical language into ordinary discourse."

Fidel's Friends

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Cuban dictator Fidel Castro received three votes for a Mexico City congressional post, a count of ballots cast in last Sunday's election showed today.

Gina Didn't Snub Niki; She Just Wanted A Bath

MOSCOW (AP)—Gina Lolorigida says she meant no snub by walking out on Premier Khrushchev at the opening of the Moscow Film Festival. She just wanted to take a bath.

In her own words, "I looked like a gypsy."

American film producer William Perlberg, who sat nearby, said she was "sore as hell" about not being given a chance to take a bath, make up or change her clothes before being taken to the festival.

Gina told newsmen that Perlberg apparently was "sorry for me" but that she went direct to the stadium willingly. "Nobody can force me to do something if I don't want to," said the fiery actress, adding: "I agreed to this gesture. I did it to please the Russian people. Nobody expected me to stay all evening."

"After all, when you come to a city you need to go to a hotel to wash and to change your clothes."

No incidents were reported in San Luis or other points in Mexico, as the counting of the votes to elect a new chamber of deputies, five governors and other minor officials progressed slowly during the day.

Everywhere, candidates of the official Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI) were leading overwhelmingly over the opposition Party of National Action (PAN) and other minor parties.

DEAR ABBY

High Society, Lower Level

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss invited us to their home for an evening. We were told "not to dress up." I almost fainted when they greeted us at the door. The wife was wearing shorts and a halter top. The husband was completely bare on top, and was wearing shorts. Both were barefoot. They are in their late fifties, and weigh over 200 pounds apiece. I found it revolting to look at them. Him, with his big stomach hanging in layers over his shorts, and her with rolls of fat flopping around. In addition to this, the veins in her legs stood out in red and blue knots all over. I tell you I couldn't wait to leave. Are we old-fashioned? Or is this the way "high society" entertains the working stiff?

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow about to marry a widower. We have each other very much, but I am very hurt because of his attitude toward his deceased wife. On Memorial Day he bought the most expensive spray of flowers, took it to the cemetery and placed it on her grave. I've mentioned this, and he says no one else remembers her and he feels it is his duty. I think it is nice to remember the dead, but why overdo it? I have found a new life and am willing to forget my loss. Can't he do the same?

LIVING TODAY
DEAR LIVING: You should consider yourself very fortunate to get a man who is so generous, sensitive and kind. Doesn't it give you pleasure to know that, should you go first, he will cherish your memory and not "forget his loss" quickly? Think it over.

DEAR ABBY: I went out with a clod—and I mean a first class drip—because he pestered me for a date for months. I had a miserable time. I couldn't even stand to let him hold my hand.

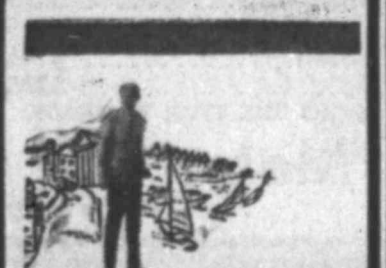

He has been bothering me for another date ever since. I don't want to go out with him again. Every time he calls I tell him I am "busy," but now he says, "YOU name the time when you are free. I am stuck for an answer. Please tell me how to discourage this guy without coming right out and telling him he nauseates me."

MUCHACHA
DEAR MUCHACHA: Tell him you think too much of him to let him waste his time and money on a girl who thinks of him as a "brother." This will cool off the most amorous amigo.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SYL: Don't be a ssp. Let him do his own laundry. He has plenty of soft soap handy.

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
