The Winner

Sharon Brown of Minden, La., was a double winner today. She was chosen over other American contestants Thursday to win the title of Miss U.S.A., in Miss Universe contest preliminaries at Miami Beach, Fla. Previously, she had been elected "Miss Photogenic" by photographers assigned to taking pictures of all contestants. More information on the Miss Universe contest is on page 14.

Man Quizzed In Slaying But 'No New Data'

EASTLAND (AP) — Sheriff Lee Horn today said questioning of a 48-year-old yard man in the strange slaying of a respected church secretary resulted in no new information.

"I know there is nothing to it," said the sheriff after the yard man was questioned Thursday.

Officers said the yard man—described as a "half drunk"—approached Mrs. F. P. Curry and said he had information in the case. Her son, Nathan, 15, is being held in the slaying.

She turned the yard man over to the family lawyer, Allen Dabney Sr., who in turn advised Horn. A private investigator hired by the defense, Hugh M. Hartson, scheduled a lie detector test for the yard man today.

Young Curry, a good looking Cisco High School youth, is in jail here virtually incommunicado. He lives with his prosperous parents two doors from the home of the slain woman, Mrs. Florence Hussey, 53, a divorcee.

Horn and Dist. Atty. Earl Conner insist that the crew-cut youth signed a confession, but that document never has been made public. Curry's kin say the boy is innocent.

Mrs. Hussey was stabbed 14 times and left dead and beaten in her neat house, clad only in a flimsy nightgown, the night of June 29. The body was discovered by the pastor of the First Baptist Church for which she worked.

Nathan was arrested July 4, and questioned six hours.

Sheriff Horn and Curry's mother were in the sheriff's office Thursday night and Nathan was in his cell.

Mrs. Curry and a pretty sister of Nathan have been permitted to visit the boy, but reporters and others have been strictly barred.

Child Dies After Lawn Mower Injury

Gary (Dusty) Weldon Brown Jr., 16 months old, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brown, 1303 Sycamore, died at a local hospital at 8:30 p.m. Thursday after being injured when he ran in front of a power lawn mower.

The child, born on Feb. 29, 1960 in Honolulu, has been making his home with the Browns here since April 23, 1961.

The accident occurred at 3:45 p.m. The little boy ran in front of the mower being used by his grandmother and his left foot was badly mangled. He was removed to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital in a private car.

Attendees said that surgical repairs were being made to the injured foot when the child suddenly went into extreme shock. Efforts to pull him out of the shock failed and he died around 8:30 p.m.

The body was removed to Nalley-Pickle Funeral home where arrangements are pending.

The child's father Seaman I.C. Gary W. Brown Sr., in the U. S. Submarine service, New Orleans, reached Big Spring Friday morning. The mother, Mrs. Sylvia Brown, Honolulu, was notified of the death last night but it is not known if she will attend the services here.

Other survivors include his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brown, Big Spring; his maternal grandfather, George Galardi, Maui, Hawaii; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ann Molino, Honolulu; and the paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Underwood, Big Spring.

AF In Snag Over Call-Out

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An Air Force captain, who declined to be named, said Thursday he had been ordered to appear in civilian clothes with his family Saturday to help greet Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

The executive will pause here briefly en route to Johnson City and a visit at Vice President Lyndon Johnson's ranch, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be in the party.

Air Force commanders asserted they urged, but did not order, their men to turn out to meet Ayub Khan.

An enlisted Air Force man said a directive was read to him saying Saturday would be considered a duty day, that roll call would be taken at designated muster points and that any personnel not reporting would be considered absent without leave. Top Air Force officials denied that military personnel or civilian employees of the Air Force have been ordered to attend.

County Reviews Road Situation

Howard County Commissioners Court devoted Friday to a review of the road situation in the county and announced that starting Monday the entire road and bridge crew would be assigned to repairing the damages caused by recent rains.

It was pointed out that a considerable number of the road and bridge crew members have been on vacation. The vacation periods will be over this weekend and the full crew will be back at work on Monday.

More Showers Splash Nation

By The Associated Press
More showers and rain splashed across broad areas of the nation today in the wake of heavy rain and stormy weather in some sections.

The wet belt extended in scattered sections from the mountain ranges in the east to New York State.

Thunderstorms and showers hit along a cold frontal trough in the upper and middle Mississippi Valley, western Arkansas and in Oklahoma. Heaviest rainfall was in western Arkansas and Oklahoma. More than two inches of rain fell in Norman, Okla., in a six-hour period. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds hit some Midwest areas.

Rain doused Texas for the fourth straight day. At least seven persons have died in storm-related accidents or drownings.

Nine Girls Enter FB Queen Contest

Nine girls have signed thus far for the Howard County Farm Bureau Queen Contest slated Aug. 5 in Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

Farm Bureau officials are urging all girls between the ages of 15 to 21 who come from farm families to register for the contest with the next two weeks.

Daniel, Wilson Clash Over Sales Tax Plan

Pennsylvania Law Is Argued

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson clashed head-on today over the administration's compromise sales tax plan.

Daniel told the House Tax Committee that Wilson's objections to the Pennsylvania type tax plan are based on "superficial treatment and gross misconceptions."

Wilson challenged the governor to stop "face-saving" and call the administration plan (HB20) a general sales tax.

"I call upon the governor to rise above personalities and face the issue squarely," Wilson said in a press release today. He also testified before the House committee Thursday.

Daniel made his comments in a letter read to the committee at its session today. He scheduled an afternoon press conference.

The governor said the Pennsylvania type tax was proposed two years ago by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, and thoroughly studied during the recent regular session "with no word of comment or objection heard from Atty. Gen. Will Wilson."

In addition, it was publicly known that the governor's office was giving serious study to this plan. At no time has the attorney general made any of these comments or objections known to me or my staff.

In fact, it was only day before yesterday that the attorney general's office obtained a copy of House Bill 20, which may in itself account for the superficial treatment and gross misconceptions evident in his statement before the committee.

"Pennsylvania lawyers are no smarter than Texas lawyers. If the Pennsylvania attorney general and his staff can enforce the law in that state, I believe it can be done in this state."

Daniel said Wilson's main argument was that an "all-inclusive" sales tax would require fewer legal opinions, fewer court cases and less work for his office.

"This brings us to the question of whether our first duty is to the people, to relieve them of taxation on the basic necessities of life, or to tax them on everything so as to lessen the work of the attorney general and the tax collectors," Daniel said.

"In this choice, my first consideration, and I am sure this applies equally to members of the Legislature, shall be the people who pay the taxes."

Daniel told the committee he hoped in that regard more consideration to information obtained from Pennsylvania where the law is effective "than to the hasty expression of anyone who lacks knowledge of its operation."

There was no comment from the committee as the letter was read.

In his statement, issued after an unscheduled and unsolicited appearance before the committee Thursday, Wilson said:

"I ask Gov. Daniel this question: If this in fact is a general sales tax, why not be honest and call it that?"

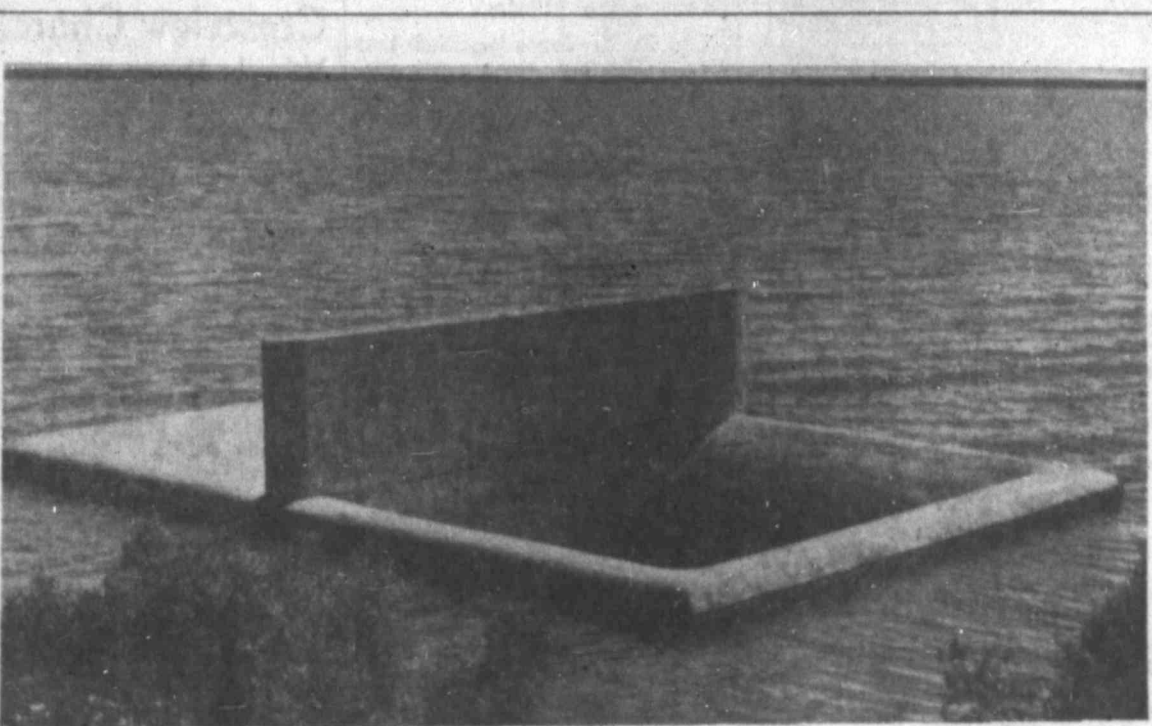

"My concern is with the cost to the people of Texas of administering this tax and not with the fact that it may cause more work on the attorney general's office," he said.

"This bill will make inevitable an expansion of state departments. Somebody ought to say something about the cost of administering this tax, not only to the state but to all the merchants."

WHAT DOES POGO SAY TODAY?
"YOWP!"

Another warm and humid day was in store for all of Texas. Temperatures Thursday ranged up to 106 degrees at Presidio. Rain in the Lower Rio Grande Valley critically injured a McAllen carpenter, A. A. Free, 50, as he worked on a new high school building. His shoes were torn off and his clothing was shredded. Five men standing nearby weren't hurt.

Lapping At The Spillway Again

Water was lapping at the edge of the service spillway again Friday at Lake J. B. Thomas as the elevation climbed to 2257.78, just .22 of a foot from the top. This picture was taken Thursday afternoon looking to the southwest across the lake, and Friday morning water was actually splashing into the big drain, the first time since last October when the Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir overflowed for the first time. Thursday rains produced 2.29 feet rise (18,000-acre feet) and the flow was continuing at about .63 per hour. Lake Colorado City was at 2065.10, a gain of .40 of a foot, and Champion Creek Lake was at 2038.50, also up .40 of a foot.

Gulf Sees 1st Wade-In

By The Associated Press
Negroes took part in the first wade-in of the season on a Gulfport beach and staged a sit-in at a Jackson, Miss. variety store as another group of "Freedom Riders" rolled across Texas on the way to the Mississippi capital.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol, sheriff's officers and Gulfport city police were on hand Thursday when about two dozen Negroes—most of them children and teen-agers—waded and swam on a beach normally reserved for white persons.

Sheriff Curtis Dedeaux said he was unable to label the wade-ins organized "unless another big group comes along later." He termed the swimmers "just a bunch of colored kids."

No trouble was reported in contrast to last year when a wade-in near Biloxi was followed by violence. At that time several Negroes and white persons were injured.

Four Negroes made an unsuccessful attempt to obtain service at a variety store lunch counter in Jackson. They were arrested on breach of peace charges two minutes later. Two Negro teenagers were arrested for a sit-in at the same counter Tuesday.

A band of Freedom Riders went across Texas in a bus en route from Los Angeles to Jackson, apparently the first such group to carry the anti-segregation campaign into Texas.

The riders ate at a bus station restaurant at El Paso without incident. The 17 Negroes and 13 white persons, including two women lawyers, planned to go on to New Orleans and then to Jackson.

At Little Rock, four Freedom Riders were given suspended $500 fines and six-month jail terms when they agreed to stop attempting to test segregation in Arkansas.

The Rev. B. Elton Cox, a 30-year-old Negro from High Point, N.C., and a field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), said the agreement did not prevent other riders from entering Arkansas.

Meanwhile, a group seeking better jobs for Negroes in New Orleans called for a boycott of city buses and gas and electric service in that city starting Aug. 22.

The Rev. Avery C. Alexander, chairman of the Consumers League of New Orleans, a Negro group, said the boycott was necessary because of the refusal of New Orleans' Public Service, Inc. (NOPS), to employ Negroes above menial tasks.

NOPSI is a subsidiary of Mid-South Utilities and holds the franchise for New Orleans' transit system and also provides gas and electricity.

Derby Officials Hope For Finish
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Officials of the twice-extended Powder-Puff derby were hopeful today that the Transcontinental Air Race for Women would end at 1 p.m.

Two 24-hour extensions were ordered after not one of the seven aircraft of 135 horsepower or less managed to cross the finish line here.

Fly-Swatter For Baton In Bee Number

LENOX, Mass. (AP)—Comedian Danny Kaye, who says leading an orchestra gives him a feeling of power, conducted the Boston Symphony Orchestra through "The Flight of the Bumblebee" with a fly-swatter Thursday night.

Dr. Charles Munch, august music director of the famed Boston Symphony, was relegated to the piano. Kaye, who called Munch "Chuck," sent him there.

Kaye's conducting came at a benefit performance. He made his grand entrance with four batons. He walked onto the stage, across and out the other side.

Pretty soon he found the podium. He formally shook hands with the first violinist, and kissed lady members of the symphony. Then he gave two of his batons to orchestra members, and broke the other two.

Some 6,000 music lovers crowded the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood to watch Kaye and the orchestra. The comedian advised them he can't read a note of music. The performance raised more than $25,000 for the musicians' pension fund.

The 104 members of the orchestra were formally clad. Kaye arrived in a sport jacket.

6th Straight Day Of Rainy Weather

By The Associated Press
Texans braced Friday for their sixth straight day of weather turbulence that already has caused many millions of dollars damage to crops and property and taken seven lives.

Rains in the northeast and southeast ushered in the day. Thundershowers were forecast for every section of the state, reeling under floods in the south and fresh rains of four inches or more.

The most punishing rains were at Victoria, where 5 inches caused some lowland floods; and at Austin, where a 4.16 inch downpour in parts of the city caused $100,000 damage at the Bull Creek lodge alone. Debris clogged Lake Austin at points.

Snyder in the West Texas oil fields had an even heavier downpour of 5.30 inches, but no damage was reported. A 3-inch rain closed busy Texas 337 for awhile west of Lubbock.

West Texans welcomed the rain. That was in sharp contrast to the complaints of farmers on the coastal plains. Matagorda County, for instance, had a cotton crop loss estimated at $4 million by an assistant county agent, and that was only one flooded county.

Near dawn scattered thundershowers were falling in North-east Texas and along the upper coast. Skies were partly cloudy to cloudy in East Texas and generally clear to partly cloudy elsewhere.

Night-long rains along the Red River north of Paris measured up to 2.4 inches at Chisota and 2.22 inches at Arthur City. Paris received .84.

Marvin Miller To Guide United Fund Campaign

The United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County drew its 1961 assignment Thursday, as trustees of the organization met to approve a budget for the fall campaign.

The trustees approved a goal of $102,484, for distribution to 12 participating agencies. The figure also includes a reserve item for non-payment of pledges, and allocations for campaign expenses and handling accounts through the year.

It was agreed unanimously that the campaign will be operated without paid professional help this year, and local volunteers will handle the whole effort.

The UF people warmly accepted the services of Marvin Miller, who has consented to serve as campaign director this year. And Miller already has named as three vice chairmen, Clyde McMahon, Randall Poik and R. L. Tollett. This makes up an experienced leadership team in civic activities.

It was announced that Miller has obtained the services of Amy Glenn, who will devote his time to the United Fund as office manager for the campaign.

John Currie, UF president, had words of commendation for all these men who have lined up for the 1961 task.

The trustees also expressed formally their thanks to the budget committee headed by Ike Robb. This group met for several nights, receiving requests from member agencies, then trying to arrive at a figure to sustain the organizations and keep the total within

Probe Plane Crash

Firemen and volunteer workers probe the wreckage of a United Airlines DC-8 jet passenger plane that crashed and burned while landing at Denver municipal airport. The plane carried 109 passengers and a crew of 7. Eighteen persons lost their lives in the crash and many more were injured.

Sheriff Ouster Suit Near End

LONGVIEW (AP)—A suit against Sheriff Noble Crawford neared a jury today. Judge A. R. Stout of Waxahachie, presiding, overruled a defense motion for an instructed verdict shortly after the defense rested.

Crawford is accused of misconduct and incompetence. He has testified for more than six hours.

The defense presented a dozen character witnesses. They swore Crawford is truthful and a competent peace officer.

Dr. E. L. Jones testified that Mrs. Crawford underwent surgery in Dallas in April and that the sheriff had been very nervous ever since. Jones said he prescribed a tranquilizer and that the sheriff took some before appearing before a grand jury in April.

Crawford had testified he could remember nothing about his appearance before the jury, which questioned him about gambling and other conditions in Gregg County. The jury indicted him for perjury.

Judge Stout was expected to present his charge during the morning and the jury of six women and six men were expected to start deliberations at about noon.

LT. G. W. BRINDLEY

Lt. Brindley Is June Honor Pilot

The honor of June "pilot of the month" for the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB has been won by Lt. Gary W. Brindley.

Lt. Brindley, a member of "B" flight received a score of 90 per cent on missions flown during the month, scoring against simulated hostile target aircraft.

The F-102 pilot holds the Air Force rating of "Skilled", having flown over 1,000 hours.

Lt. Brindley received his commission in the U. S. Air Force upon graduation from the University of Auburn. He won his wings at Laredo AFB and received advanced training at Moody AFB, Georgia.

Prior to his assignment to Webb, Lt. Brindley was stationed at Ethan Allen AFB, VT.

Crestview Church Work Progresses

Construction on Crestview Baptist Church, located one and one-half blocks off Hilltop Road, is moving rapidly with the donated labor of members of the Northside Baptist Church who will move into the building when it is finished.

Workers have readied the first wing for roofing, and all floors have been put down. The work was begun a month and a half ago and will probably be completed by Oct. 1.

The present Northside Baptist Church will be turned into Mexican Mission sponsored by Crestview Baptist when the new church is completed.

Carnegie Commission Cites 3 Texans As Heroes

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has recommended three Texans for citations for heroic acts.

Two of those named are Laredo peace officers who saved two airmen from drowning.

The third is Ronnie Dell Freeman, 24, Trent, Tex., oil field worker. He saved Ronnie S. Gilbert, 9, and attempted to save Danny G. Isemberg, 11, from drowning at Trent Jan. 29.

The boys broke through the ice on a pond and floundered 35 feet from the bank. They secured holds on the ice at the edge of the hole. Nearby adults who could not swim summoned Freeman.

He broke a path through the ice to the boys and a rope was thrown them. Thirty-five feet from the bank, they lost their grip. Freeman swam to the boys both grasped Freeman and all were submerged.

The boys released their holds. Freeman found Ronnie and saved him, but was unable to find Danny.

The Laredo incident April 1 involved Deputy Sheriff Oscar R. Villarreal, 35, and border patrolman Byron T. Kilmer, 29.

During the night, a boat carrying Raymond J. Urgan, 45, and Henry P. Bollinger, 26, both Air Force sergeants, capsized and sank in Lake Casa Blanca. They hung to a treetop 400 feet from shore. The treetop sagged until their heads were barely above water.

Villarreal and Kilmer swam to the tree. Villarreal then swam to shore and got a spare tire. The rescuers floated Urgan to shore. Kilmer was too exhausted to make another trip, but Villarreal swam back with the tire and saved Bollinger.

Rancher Puzzles Over Missile

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Army is trying to learn how a rancher happened to buy a surplus storage tank that contained part of a Nike Ajax missile.

The rancher, H. E. Blythe of Paso Robles, Calif., would like to learn the answer too.

He bought the tank—used for missile storage and shipment—from the Ideal Metal and Salvage Co. of nearby Culver City. The company said it bought 50 tanks from the Douglas Aircraft Co., which couldn't shed any light on the matter either.

Blythe intended to use it as a water tank. Inside he found the airframe section of the missile.

He called the Army, which rushed demolition experts to his ranch.

Investigators said the missile section was harmless and contained no warhead, no fins and no electrical components and that there was no danger of classified information being disclosed.

Graham Film To Be Screened

"Miracle in Manhattan," the documentary film account of Billy Graham's New York crusade will be shown at the College Baptist Church, 1105 Birdwell Lane, tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Jinx Falkenburg and Tex McCrary report the 16-week crusade. Among the high points of the film are the overflow crowd that jammed Yankee Stadium, breaking every attendance record in the park's 54-year history, and the final service held on Times Square.

The doors to the church will open at 7 p.m. All seats will be on a "first come" basis, with no admission charge.

Dies Of Injuries

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A piece of metal hurled by a farm machine killed Leon Strickland Jr., 14, of nearby Knox City. The boy died in a hospital Thursday, two days after the accident on a weed shredder.

CAPT. S. L. RULE

Former Academy Instructor Joins 331st FIS

Capt. George L. Rule, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, has joined the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB.

Capt. Rule has been instructing at the U. S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo. for the past four years as an assistant professor of English. After an absence of five years, he is returning to the Air Defense Command and is presently checking out in the F-102A "Delta Dagger."

After graduating from West Point in 1952, he received pilot training at Hondo AFB, Texas and Williams AFB, Ariz.; and advanced training at Nellis AFB, Nev. and Tyndall AFB, Florida. Returning to school, he attended Stanford University and received his MA degree in English in 1957.

At the 331st dining in Wednesday, Capt. Rule was presented with the Air Force Commendation Medal which he received for his outstanding work at the Academy. As one of his additional duties Capt. Rule was officer in charge of the "Polaris"—the yearbook of the first graduating class at the Academy.

Good And Pleasant

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
 Church of Christ, West Highway 88
 P.O. Box 1288

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" (Psalms 133:1).

This statement requires no proof.

Christ prayed for unity (Jno. 17:20-23). If we follow Christ, so will we pray for it. Though we love the people in all denominations and glory in their zeal for God, yet we cannot say, we thank Thee, Lord, for all the different churches. We must pray for unity.

We must also work and live in a way consistent with our prayers. Let us not be sectarian, nor work for a sectarian cause.

In seeking to "practice what we preach," we are only trying to be Christians, and working to make Christians of everyone else.

That is our interest in you. We not only invite you to come and hear the gospel; we offer to mail you the gospel in tract form if you will write us (no obligation to you); we also offer to come into your home with nothing but the Bible to help you find the Lord's way.

Call on us; our only desire is to help you be a true and faithful Christian. —adv.

We've gone wild, with the boss away! Getting rid of all kinds of things—a clean sweep, to make room for all the new stuff he's going to buy. Take advantage of our mood—and the really fantastic prices we're offering. Hurry down today!

U.S. Plans White Paper To Dramatize Berlin Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is preparing a "white paper" on Berlin to dramatize before the world the repeated efforts of the Western Powers to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a German peace settlement.

As U.S. officials presently see the Berlin crisis, the dispute between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union over the future of West Berlin is now in a propaganda warfare phase with both sides using public speeches and statements to influence world opinion.

One of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's insistent arguments has been that action is long overdue to eliminate what he calls the vestiges of World War II in Germany.

He has proposed that the Western Powers withdraw their force of about 11,000 men from West Berlin and give it the status of a "free city"—that is, a city without Western troops in it. Failing that, he has threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany by the end of this year with the claim that this would wipe out Western rights with respect to West Berlin.

The United States, after weeks of consultation with Britain, West Germany and France, plans to send a note to Moscow by the middle of next week rejecting Khrushchev's demand.

Electoral College Changes Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senators said today that testimony disclosing an Oklahoman's attempt to block President Kennedy's election in the Electoral College last year improves prospects for a constitutional change in presidential election procedure.

Sens. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said they favor abolishing the office of presidential elector altogether. And they said if that is not done, electors should be legally bound to vote for the winning candidate in their states.

Kefauver is chairman and Keating a member of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that concluded extensive hearings Thursday on proposed constitutional amendments to overhaul the presidential election system.

The final witness, Henry D. Irwin of Bartlesville, Okla., told of his efforts after Kennedy's slim victory over Richard M. Nixon in last November's presidential election to line up electors for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., for president and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for vice president.

Although Irwin ran on the Oklahoma state Nixon carried, he voted in the Electoral College on Dec. 19 for Byrd and Goldwater. He tried without success to persuade other GOP electors to go along with him.

His hope, he testified, was that Southern Democratic Conservatives would team up with the Republican electors to block Kennedy's election in the Electoral College. He said he undertook the move after being invited by R. Lee Harris of Montgomery, Ala., to meet with Southern electors. In the Electoral College, Byrd got 15 votes for president—Irwin's and 14 from unpledged electors in Mississippi and Alabama. While Irwin voted for Goldwater for vice president, the Southerners voted for Sen. Strom Thurmond, D.S.C.

Irwin claimed that he had "the tacit support" of the Republican National Committee in his move to put over a Byrd-Goldwater ticket in the Electoral College.

Both Kefauver and Keating told him, however, that they felt this was not supported by the evidence he offered.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who was the GOP national chairman at the time, later told a reporter he had never heard of the move prior to Irwin's testimony.

"If he had any support of the Republican National Committee, I knew nothing about it," Morton said.

Although the plan misfired, Kefauver said it seemed from the testimony that Irwin had made "a rather substantial effort" to upset the outcome of the presidential election in the Electoral College.

He described the testimony as "a most live example" of what might happen under the present electoral college system. "I feel we are running a great danger of the peoples' will being miscarried," he said.

Kefauver said that aside from any moral responsibility, Irwin undoubtedly was legally right in taking the position that a presidential elector is permitted by the Constitution to vote for anyone he wishes.

Soblen Convicted On Spying Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen—already doomed by blood cancer—has been convicted on a spy charge that could bring a death chair sentence.

But the judge who presided at his trial plans to send the 61-year-old psychiatrist to some institution that "is able to afford humane and decent medical facilities."

"Justice must be just," says Federal Judge William B. Herlands.

The judge directed medical specialists to recommend to him today where to send Soblen. The psychiatrist closed his eyes and turned chalky-white as the jury found him guilty Thursday of spying for the Soviet Union during World War II.

He writhed on the reclining chair he had used much of the time during his four-week trial. Soblen, who had taken pills frequently during the trial and sucked on ice cubes, did not take the witness stand to defend himself.

Doctors testified for the defense that he has lymphatic leukemia and has less than a year to live. A key witness against Soblen was his brother, Jack Soblen, 57, who was sent to prison for 7 1/2 years in 1957 for espionage. The brother, who spells his name differently, pleaded guilty to heading an espionage ring that was closely connected with Soviet embassies in many countries. The brothers, born in Lithuania, came to this country in 1941 and became United States citizens in 1947.

Soblen, accused of being a member of his brother's spy ring, was arrested last Nov. 29. He was employed at the time as supervising psychiatrist at Rockland State Hospital at Orangeburg, N. Y.

He was convicted of providing secret information to Soviet agents over a 20-year span. This included information from the New York bureau of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS), the Soviet secret World War II agency.

After the verdict, Soblen's wife Dina, also a psychiatrist, sobbed convulsively and told newsmen, "My husband is innocent."

Jack Soblen is serving his sentence at the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Conn.

Salk Lashes AMA For Live Virus Advice On Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed the first effective vaccine against poliomyelitis, says the American Medical Association has failed "to acknowledge scientific facts" in recommending a changeover to a new type of vaccine.

Salk told a news conference Thursday the AMA had blindly followed "old medical dogma" in urging at its convention June 28 that a live-virus type vaccine not yet developed be substituted eventually for his vaccine.

The Salk vaccine uses dead virus to give immunity to polio. It is administered in three injections. Another type of vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati makes use of live virus in a solution that would be administered orally. The Sabin vaccine is expected to be cleared for use later this year.

The AMA's June 28 action called for mass vaccination with live vaccine when it becomes available, including revaccination with live vaccine of persons who had already received Salk shots.

Salk told the news conference he was not implying any competition between the vaccines—for which neither he nor Dr. Sabin collects any royalties—nor was he saying that the Sabin vaccine is not effective.

But Salk did say he saw no reason for revaccinating everybody with the new vaccine, and he suggested that his own vaccine had set up a new principle that could eventually lead to a single vaccine that would grant immunity to up to 100 diseases.

Had the AMA shown the same enthusiasm for mass administration of the Salk vaccine that it is now showing for the live virus vaccine, Salk said, polio in this country would be virtually eliminated.

Why has the AMA favored the live vaccine.

Salk laid it to what he termed

"old medical dogma," which holds that live vaccines are better than dead ones. He said the dogma got started partly because live vaccines were the first ones ever used, as against smallpox and yellow fever.

He said he was taking issue with the AMA "for adopting as official a medical dogma that can no longer be maintained in the light of scientific study and application in practice."

The AMA in Chicago issued a reply to the Salk critique, saying the Pittsburgh scientist had misinterpreted the AMA's report and adding:

"The report's first recommendation was: 'Physicians should encourage, support and expand the use of Salk vaccine on the widest possible scale at least until the oral polio virus vaccines currently under development and clinical trial become available. All individuals below the age of 50 should be protected with Salk vaccine.'

Encyclical Hits Social Problems

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII in a mammoth new encyclical on the social problems of the present-day world called today for cooperation between the advanced and underdeveloped nations.

The encyclical, longest in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic Church, described as "perhaps the major problem of the modern epoch" relations between political communities that are developed and those on the way toward development.

The pontiff also:

Called for greater participation by labor in the productive organization.

Reaffirmed the rights of private property, describing it as an element that cannot be substituted in an ordered and productive social life.

He made a plea for social justice between different economic sectors within nations.

Titled "Mater and Magistra"—meaning the church as "mother and teacher"—the encyclical was issued in commemoration of the 70th anniversary of the "Rerum Novarum" (Of New Things) issued by Pope Leo XIII, Pope Pius XI and Pope Pius XII.

The second section is devoted to private property and the intervention of public powers and organizations in the economic field; the processes of socialization and economic development, and the "active presence of laborers in productive organization."

The third section considers social questions in broad terms, with the plea for social justice between different economic communities and a call for cooperation between developed and underdeveloped countries. In the former category agriculture was particularly cited, the Pope saying that it today is in depressed state in nearly all of the world.

The encyclical, getting its first name from its first words, opened:

"Mother and teacher of all nations, the universal church (Roman Catholic) has been instituted by Jesus Christ so that all who in the long course of centuries come to her loving embrace may find fullness of higher life and a guarantee of salvation."

The Pope directed his message not to Catholics alone. Previously he said it was "directed to all Christians, without distinction of class."

Texts of the encyclical were made available today in its original Latin, and in Spanish, French, German and English translations.

In succeeding days texts will be available in other languages and eventually it will be distributed in all spoken languages of the world including Russian, Polish, Chinese, Japanese, Arabic. No other document in the history of the Roman Catholic Church has ever had such distribution.

Calling upon the people of the world to cooperate, Pope John said that a "fruitful and lasting" peace is not possible if there is too great a difference between the social and economic conditions of people.

In one of the encyclical's most important pleas, the pontiff warned that in helping underdeveloped nations there must be no effecting of plans of predominance.

Wherever this is done, he said, it would be a "new form of colonialism that would constitute a menace and peril for world peace."

The Pope pleaded for "sincere and disinterested political help."

DA Defends His Record

BEAUMONT (AP) — Suspended Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin returns to the stand today to refute charges of misconduct in office. He testified six hours Thursday in the suit seeking his permanent removal.

Questions from prosecutors sought from Griffin answers to why places of drinking, gambling and prostitution operated in Jefferson County, and why he didn't start action to close them.

Griffin and his lawyers answered time and again that Texas law prohibits the district attorney from instigating action, and that these must originate with peace officers.

Griffin was suspended soon after the House General Investigating Committee exposed vice conditions here and in nearby Port Arthur. Several other officials lost their jobs after the hearings. Griffin, though suspended, still is on the county payroll.

A jury including four women is hearing the removal suit in 138th District Court. Half the jurors are Negroes.

Griffin denied knowing any women running bawdy houses in Beaumont or Port Arthur. He said he first heard of such houses in the county when the legislature's committee exposed them. He testified:

"Prostitution has been going on since Biblical days. In any seaport town you've got it, and not only in seaport towns. I think it should be government-supervised.

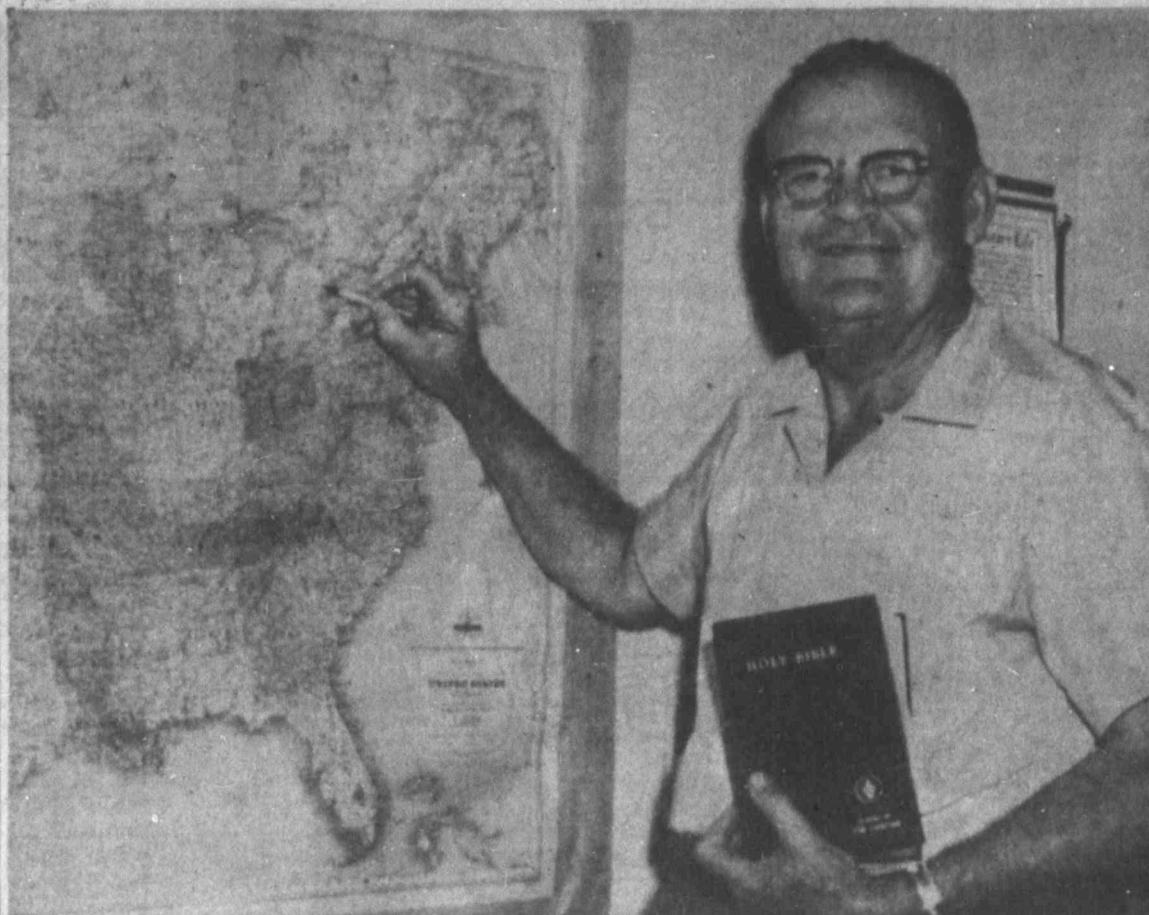

"Prostitution is illegal. Anyone who files a complaint, I'll prosecute it, even though my sentiments lean toward legalized prostitution.

"I don't think you can wipe out prostitution as long as there is a demand for them (houses). To try only scatters them out and I think now they are scattered around.

"I don't know that you can rationalize it in the eyes of religion but as a practical matter I think it better to legalize them so police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation know where they are."

G. G. Morehead points out Toronto, Ontario, on a map. The city in Canada is the site of the 62nd International Convention of the Gideons that Morehead will attend next week.

Local Gideons Plan To Attend National Confab In Canada

By MRS. LOUIS ALEXANDER
Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Morehead, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien, are leaving today for Toronto, Ontario, Canada to attend the 62nd International Convention of the Gideons.

For Morehead, who is serving his second year as president of the Texas Gideons International, this convention will mark 15 years of affiliation with the Bible-distributing group. The two couples will join 1,500 other Gideons from 58 countries of the world in Christian fellowship July 19-24.

First invited to attend a Gideon breakfast by O'Brien, Morehead has become an enthusiastic member of the local camp. Each Thursday morning the group of 20 local members meets at the First Methodist Church at 7 o'clock for a devotion and then breakfast. This weekly meeting has been held by the group for 18 years.

What is their main objective? "We want to win the lost to Christ," says Morehead.

This program is carried out through placing the Bibles in public places—hotels, motels, hospitals, ships, trains, airplanes, and penal institutions. The Gideons place copies of the full Bible in these places, while copies of the New Testament, Psalms and Proverbs are given to every member of the Armed Forces and to school children.

For the wives of Gideons there is an auxiliary. The Auxiliary is responsible for giving nurses copies of the New Testament so that they may also minister to their patients' spiritual needs. The Auxiliary will have its convention at the same time as the men in Toronto. Mrs. Morehead has served in the past as a zone trustee, and Mrs. O'Brien is now the president of the Texas Auxiliary.

BIBLE FINANCING
A total of 46 million Bibles have been placed by the Gideons since they were first organized by three men in 1898. These Bibles are placed through the financing of churches and individual offerings. Every donation made to the Gideons is used to purchase Bibles.

Of the donations received, 30 per cent is used in foreign countries. Gideon camps have now been established in 58 countries.

In order to join the Gideons, explains Morehead, a prospect must be a business or professional man. He must also be a Christian in good standing with a church. But usually fellow Gideons will know the denominations of each other. No church affiliation is mentioned at meetings, for the organization is interested only in its purpose.

Morehead, who is owner of the Morehead Transfer and Storage, is a member of the First Baptist Church. He is also an ardent fisherman, gardener, and grandfather of four.

But more than anything else, he is a Christian layman, interested in his Gideon work.

Parents Await Return Of Missing Son

GRANADA HILLS, Calif. (AP)—It's a year now since Bruce Kremen, 8, set out enthusiastically on a YMCA hike from which he never returned.

The youngster disappeared in the vast reaches of the nearby Angeles National Forest, where three other children have vanished in recent years.

But his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kremen of Granada Hills, have clung to the hope that somehow he may still be alive.

"We haven't lived a normal day since Bruce's disappearance, but we are sure someday he will rejoin us," said Mrs. Kremen.

The Kremens, parents of another child, Jeffrey, 13, believe their younger son was kidnapped.

"What else can we believe when no other clues were uncovered in a year's time?" the mother asked.

Bruce, whose ninth birthday is July 21, was reported missing by YMCA officials July 13, 1960.

He was last seen by two companions on a trail about half a mile from the Buckhorn Flats area after the three boys decided to leave their group and return to camp.

Capt. C. D. Fontaine, commanding officer of the Los Angeles County sheriff's juvenile bureau, said more man-hours have been spent on Bruce's case than on any other lost person in this state.

An 11-day search, including volunteers, was called off after no clues were found last July.

"We have sent crews back many times," Fontaine said, "but it's just like the three other unsolved cases in the forest."

The reference was to Brenda Howell and Donnie Baker, youngsters who rode their bicycles into the forest in August of 1956, and never returned; and to Tommy Bowman, who disappeared while hiking with his father a year later.

The forest, mountainous and heavily wooded, covers 691,932 acres.

A Devotional for Today

Whoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst. (John 4:14)

PRAYER: Grant, good Lord, that in the darkest day memory may gladden us and lead us forward in confidence in all that Christ has won for us. In His holy name we pray, thankful for His love and forgiveness. Amen.

(From The Upper Room)

Abusing A Trust

A newspaperman with years of service in West Texas has been charged with burglaries in several areas. Although he had not been actively associated in the profession for several weeks, most of the alleged offenses did occur during the time he was working as a reporter.

He blames personal finances and pressure of creditors as the root of his troubles. Most of the things he allegedly look seemed pointless, especially from the angle of relieving financial distress.

We can sympathize with him, but we can in no wise excuse or condone what he did. He has hurt himself, his family and his profession by his foolish course. Those in the profession of gathering and reporting the news are almost in positions of public trust and it hurts us to see it abused or prostituted.

He Tried To Set His Mistake Right

The death of Whitaker Chambers, who spied for the Communists and then sought atonement by exposing others who had taken part in the conspiracy, was somewhat shrouded in mystery as had been his life. Not until his body had been cremated was the news of his death (according to his directions) announced to the Associated Press.

To understand this, one had to understand Chambers' flair for the dramatic. This led him in part into his cloak and dagger experience as a Communist spy. It led to his having produced the famous "pumpkin papers," the microfilm which played such an important part in the conviction of Alger Hiss for perjury. There were other examples of a penchant for the dramatic. These things were mostly in the window dressings.

sought to set it right by not only fingering those whom he said had been involved, but also by his lucid and powerful writings which exposed the Communist techniques and helped open the eyes of Americans as to how other native traitors were eating away at their motherland.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon, who rose to prominence through his role in taking Chambers' confessions at face value and staying doggedly on the trail of Alger Hiss until that State Department official was behind bars, observed that "one of the tragedies of our time was that a man of Chambers' extraordinary abilities became involved in the Communist conspiracy. But the courage which led him to break with that conspiracy and the inspired eloquence with which he fought it, more than atoned for his earlier mistakes. His book 'Witness'... should be required reading for every American who is concerned by the threat of communism." Mr. Nixon has summed it well.

David Lawrence General Taylor To Wield Influence

WASHINGTON — Something experimental and novel has been added to the executive system of the United States—a military statesman in the White House alongside a civilian President.

Throughout military circles, here and abroad, there is widespread curiosity, if not some concern, as to how the new arrangement will work out. Will it eventually mean a single military chief for the United States reporting directly to the President? Will it mean a new supervisor of the whole defense operation, both civilian and military?

sources in the government as they affect the military. He probably will have little or nothing to do with arms production or the Defense Department as such. But he undoubtedly will act as the principal adviser of the President on defense policy and, in a sense, will be somewhere in between the Secretary of Defense and the President when it comes to broad questions of policy-making. This is much to be preferred over the system whereby the Secretary of Defense enters into a constant debate with the Secretary of State as to what should or should not be defense policy, with nobody to decide differences that arise between them.

THESE QUESTIONS have arisen because President Kennedy has selected General Maxwell D. Taylor, formerly Chief of Staff of the United States Army, to serve in a special post at the White House covering duties which have never before been entrusted to any single military man.

GENERAL TAYLOR'S job basically will be to co-ordinate the views of all those concerned with the military services as well as with the diplomatic side, but the final decision upon the recommendations he makes will, of course, be up to the President himself. Mr. Kennedy, on the other hand, will feel better off with an expert analysis of all the information on a controversial subject than he would if he tried to make the decision after listening himself to the contending parties.

Fears and suspicions that all this will make a change in the functions of the Joint Chiefs will continue for a while, and much will depend on the exact manner in which General Taylor performs his duties. It will be up to him to win the confidence of the Joint Chiefs, as well as of the Secretary of Defense and Secretary of State, in his job as liaison man between all of these services and the Chief Executive.

Naturally, in the armed services themselves there is a bit of worry as to what changes will come. Assurances have been given officially by the President that the Joint Chiefs of Staff will still have direct access to him and that the presence of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs at National Security Council meetings will not be in any way of less importance than before.

What Others Say

YET, FROM a practical point of view, General Taylor is bound to become the most influential man in the shaping of military as well as international policy. For obviously, while the Department of State can express its views on what ought or ought not to be foreign policy from a diplomatic standpoint, all too often the final decision rests upon what military forces are available to back up a decision and what military problems may be introduced if a certain decision is made.

The recommendations made in the 282-page report of the Committee on Economic Development's special Commission on Money and Credit, based on a three-year, $1.3 million private research effort, undoubtedly will have a profound influence on federal economic policy in the years ahead.

General Taylor is an outstanding military man. He has the respect of his colleagues. He also is thoroughly familiar with the work of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, because he served on it and met certain frustrations there. The functioning of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has not been as satisfactory as the sponsors of the legislation had hoped when this system was officially created by Congress after World War II.

The business-supported CED enlisted an impressive study group of national leaders in industry, finance, public administration, labor and professional economics who reached a remarkable degree of accord. Broadly, the recommendations propose closer coordination of, and more discretionary presidential supervision of, the federal government's tools—taxing, spending and credit controls—for achieving economic growth, full employment and price stability. In detail, the proposals will afford debate material for several sessions of Congress.

BUT, EVEN DURING the last war, the Joint Chiefs though not an official body, participated informally in conferences with the President, who as Commander-in-Chief made the final decisions. Problems arising in a "cold war" are very different from those in a hot war. The strategy that must be followed in order to avoid a "shooting war" is often more complex than the military operations involved in defending against attack.

The most unorthodox and politically controversial proposal, and the one most likely to be rejected by a Congress jealous of its power over the nation's purse-strings is theoretically logical economics. It would give the President authority, subject to congressional veto, to temporarily lower or raise the basic federal personal income tax rate to combat, respectively, recession or inflation. A tax cut would release purchasing power to relieve recession, and a tax hike would curtail purchasing power to dampen inflation.

GENERAL TAYLOR'S task, in serving the President, is likely to be one of examination of the reports that come from "all

K Begins To Gag On Own Words

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suddenly the West is beginning to belt Premier Khrushchev, gag him on his own words, put him on the defensive. It's a switch. He's been doing the pitching, the West the catching.

If this is a put-up job — agreement between Western allies to turn the tables — this writer hasn't been able to nail it down. But they've conferred steadily on his Berlin rumpus. Now together they're potshooting him.

For weeks he's acted like a loudmouth, threatening to push the Allies out of West Berlin.

bragging of Soviet power. It's kept the Allies jumpy, defensive, apparently uncertain how to handle him.

Then this week the blasts from French President Charles de Gaulle, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Lincoln White, State Department press officer and spokesman, and even Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat.

DE GAULLE, WHO doesn't talk often, said the West won't let the Soviets settle Berlin's fate by themselves, warned they'll be responsible for any "grave consequences" of a Berlin crisis.

Refugees from Communist East Germany are fleeing into West Berlin at the rate of 1,000 a day. Adenauer said it "proves conditions over there have become unbearable" and a "panic seems to have broken out."

This kind of psychological assault can't help but hurt Khrushchev with satellites and neutrals. Major cause for the refugee flight seems to be food shortages — for instance, in potatoes and butter — and stepped-up Red pressure on the East Germans to support communism more actively.

Khrushchev, in his signaling on Berlin, called for signing separate peace treaties with West and East Germany, an unthinkable situation for Adenauer, who wants a single, unified Germany.

BUT ADENAUER'S Bonn government used this against Khrushchev, with a twist to hurt. It pointed out that the Soviet Union, in joining the United Nations, had agreed to the principle that all peoples should have the right to determine their own future. West Germany called on Khrushchev to live up to the pledge, told him:

Sign a peace treaty with a single German government elected by all Germans, East and West. Since letting the East Germans vote on a single German government is the last thing Khrushchev wants, he won't permit it.

But it was good propaganda against him. Rusk put the whole blame for present world jitters on Communism, said, "The underlying crisis of our generation arises from the fact that the Soviet Union did not join the United Nations in fact as well as in form... The possession of power has transferred to it ambition for more power."

HUMPHREY HIT Khrushchev a lick which must hurt around the world, raise suspicions of Soviet successes. He said Khrushchev was plagued by food shortages of staggering proportions. He said the entire Communist empire is on short rations.

Flat Salary For Round Wives?

NEW YORK (AP) — Should a man with a round wife put her on a flat salary?

The answer is a resounding yes except for one problem—what will you do with all the money she makes? Hide it in the corners? There are other problems, too.

Often housewives sigh and say they would like to be on a pay-as-you-do basis.

Often many a husband would also like to fine those same girls on a pay-if-you-don't basis.

Would it work out any better? For instance:

You start by giving your wife a fair salary for running a neat house—cooking, cleaning, etc. — at 75 cents an hour, four hours a day. That would be $3 a day or $21 a week.

Then, naturally, there would be a surcharge for the time she spent listening to her lord and master brag about his troubles in bringing home her and his bacon.

At the same rate of 75 cents an hour, it might break down to this:

Three hours a day listening to husband praise himself seven days a week—$13.75.

Five hours a day listening to husband criticize his boss and pointing out the errors of that man's ways: At 75 cents an hour, $36.25.

Now if you add these reasonable recognitions of a wife's endeavor you get this summary financial picture:

For taking care of your household, listening to your self-praise and your denunciations of your employer, the dear girl has earned a welcome weekly total of $63.

This isn't had money for a girl who naturally has no problems but your own welfare on her hands.

Here the other side of the story enters. You have to fine her for what she doesn't do.

Major citations:

Debit: Looking after her at 5 cents a glance every morning when she shows up frizzled and without makeup—35 cents a week.

Debit: Time lost from cleaning fingernails while listening to her explain your loss of character: Her expenditure, 77 hours, your expenditure, one yawn. Price of your time: 12 cents.

Debit: Time spent explaining to her why you'd rather spend the evening at home than squire her on: the town: Two hours a night, 16 hours weekly. Total waste of breath, figuring any attempt at life-wise explaining at $5 an hour, $70.

Debit: Luncheon money demands and borrowings based on the idea that a wife with eyes that close together can't be financially trusted anyway: $3.50 weekly.

Well, now, there you are. You put a round wife on a flat salary of $63 a week and the first thing you find is, she is living at a $73.97 scale.

What do women do with money anyway? Why is it they can't make it go from here to there?

With special emphasis on getting adequate protein, fruits and vegetables. This is essential. If there is an iron deficiency, iron taken by mouth is inexpensive and effective. Iron may be called for, to find the form of iron that absorbs best. Perhaps some thyroid may be needed to perk up metabolism and improve absorption of iron.

If pernicious anemia is found, vitamin B12, rather than iron, is necessary—and effective. It goes without saying that if chronic infection is causing the anemia, the infection must be cleared up. Nothing else is going to bring you back to robust health.

The same is true if excessive bleeding is keeping the red count at low ebb. Menstrual flow can usually be corrected without too much difficulty, often by medication. If the bleeding is from hemorrhoids, ulcers or other causes, appropriate treatment to stop it is in order.

There is a form of anemia which sometimes occurs only during pregnancy. In such cases there is usually improvement after the pregnancy. If the condition continues after pregnancy, look for the common causes of such persistent anemia: Excessive menstrual flow, faulty nutrition, low metabolism.

The type of anemia is identified by blood tests. Treatment then may be: Regularity of eating, Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. ## Around The Rim The Unfolding Of A Planet

A blinding, searing sun reflected its light off the dark cloud layers that obscured the surface. In the clouds were ammonia and methane and all other chemical substances that would boil away from a molten surface.

But the planet was light, with little gravitic force, and gradually the dark clouds drifted out into space, letting the sun shine upon the surface for the first time since the planet's birth. But the heavier substances, as the surface cooled, congealed and rained downward.

THE PLANET took a short time—a few million years or so — to cool, and the clouds stayed perhaps a bit longer before leaving forever. Eventually, the tiny planet dried up, leaving a barren waste of rock to scorch under the sun.

But a million years is a long time for living creatures. During the time that the hot rains spattered and sizzled against the molten rocks and gradually cooled the surface, during the time that the warm seas, heavy with their minerals, lasted, processes were continuing that had been born in the birth of the sun.

THE SEAS and the heavy - laden atmosphere were bombarded by ultra-violet rays, and strange chemicals were formed. Out in space, while the sun was forming from a cloud of gaseous matter, other, even stranger, chemicals came into being, and many were trapped in the rocks that collected independently, building up from dust particles within the solar cloud.

When the tiny planet had cooled, but while it still retained part of its air and ocean, thousands of these rocks crossed in orbit with the tiny planet, and several parallel streams of meteorites etched odd patterns on its surface. Most prominent was what seemed to be the outline of a smiling face.

Some reached upward toward the sun, and others began to move about... Their descendants are waiting for... —BOB SMITH

No Communist Threat In Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico. — Doubtless a great many Americans are puzzled, as I was, by the selection of Puerto Rico as a training ground and school for the initial overseas Peace Corps brigades. (The first Corpsmen will arrive here for a 25-day training period around Sept. 1.)

OUR PUZZLEMENT, I'm afraid, is a by-product of our ignorance of the transformation, since 1940, of this once poverty-stricken, ill-housed, ill-clothed and ill-fed nation into a prosperous community dedicated to democracy and its ways.

Members of the Peace Corps will find Puerto Rico a lively laboratory in "how to" and "know-how" in raising the economic, living, health, educational and cultural standards in new, underprivileged and backward nations. Corpsmen have only to look around the island to see what miracles can happen when a determined people with dedicated leaders grab their own bootstraps and start to pull.

PUERTO RICO still has a long way to go, but the success of her agrarian reforms and industrialization in the past 21 years is such that she is coming more and more to be regarded as a bright and hopeful bridge between the United States and Latin America.

This "bridge" concept is one that we mainlanders are going to hear more and more about in the future as men not only in this hemisphere but in Asia and Africa examine Puerto Rico's peaceful revolution and ponder its "exportability." Puerto Ricans, including Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, one of the originators of Operation Bootstrap, believe that "many elements" of the island's continuing revolution can serve as a guide to other nations longing to throw off the shackles of poverty and disease.

BUT IT IS NOT just the economic success of the island's revolution that fascinates men of good will in other emerging countries. They are doubly attracted by the hard political fact that Communism has no appeal for the Puerto Rican. In the Senatorial election of 1956, a registered electorate of 700,000 persons produced only 83 Communist ballots.

"Communism is so weak here because our economic and social reforms are peaceful and within the framework of democracy," Gov. Munoz told the Inter-American Federation of Working Newspaper Men at a reception for this organization at La Fortaleza, Puerto Rico's lovely, 18th Century White House.

"THERE IS NO danger of Communism from within. The few Communists here are powerless and the Puerto Rican people themselves are not interested," Munoz continued under cross-examination by members of the strongly anti-Communist Federation.

"There is a world threat from Communism from which Puerto Rico could suffer as the rest of the world might suffer," the governor said. "But in my mind there is no question of any threat from Communism that would originate in Puerto Rico."

"IN PUERTO RICO, the Communist party is not outlawed. It could muster signatures representing ten per cent of the registered voters, it could get on the ballot. But the Communists do no control one-tenth of one per cent, or even one-hundredth of one per cent, of that figure."

The fate of the old Independence party, so active in the 'twenties and 'thirties for nationhood for Puerto Rico and complete independence from the mainland, is much the same. With the swift rise in living standards and the establishment of commonwealth status in 1952, the Puerto Rican found an economic and political dignity to his liking. And he is acutely aware of the tremendous benefits of association with the United States.

Russia, China Would Join Against Us

WASHINGTON — A compound of conjecture and wishful thinking, stirred together with available facts and the familiar mystification of the Kremlinologists, has touched off a wave of speculation about the relationship between Soviet Russia and Communist China.

At one extreme it has raised the hope of an eventual break between the two giants of the Communist bloc over the leadership of the Communist world. And for the wishful thinker that hope can be jacked up another notch to envisage a clash between Russia and China that will neutralize the Communist threat to the West.

THE REALITY would seem to have little resemblance to this mid-summer fantasy. There is unquestionably a deep and increasingly bitter rivalry between Peiping and Moscow over leadership of the Communist bloc and over the rival ideologies — peaceful coexistence versus the inevitability of war with the capitalist powers — of the two centers.

But because this rivalry compels Premier Khrushchev to show that he can get what he wants short of a shooting war, as in his demand on Berlin, the net effect is to enhance the danger of the present moment. He must prove to all the members of the bloc that his way is the right way and that by flexing his military muscles and making imperious demands he will prevail and Communism will triumph without nuclear war. In the process he threatens to precipitate the war he says he intends to avoid, since that war must mean destruction of all civilization.

THE RIVALRY between the two Communist centers is evident in many ways. The basic aim of both Moscow and Peiping is to dominate other Communist parties and win over neutrals or so-called neutrals.

The sharpness of the rivalry is seen particularly in Asia. Khrushchev has gone so far as to sign a defense pact with North Korea, although normally the Communist regime in divided Korea would be in China's orbit. It was the Soviets who supplied military material to the Communist Viet Minh in their infiltration of Laos.

IN EUROPE Moscow can dominate if only because Moscow's economic and military power is so overwhelming. Dissident factions in Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria may mutter about the wrongness of Khrushchev's interpretation and Marxist-Leninist doctrine. But since the European satellites are dependent on Moscow when the showdown comes the dissent, is suppressed in favor of the harmony line. Even in Europe, however, there is one Communist bloc country, Albania, that has dared to defy Moscow and join Peiping in the hard "war is inevitable" line. The Chinese are said to be supplying Albania's ruthless dictator, Enver Hoxha, with $130,000,000 of agricultural produce despite China's dire shortages.

AS LIMITED as in the power of this primitive country it nevertheless appears to be a thorn in Khrushchev's side. One proof is that he has invited Koca Popovic, Foreign Minister of Yugoslavia, Albania's hated neighbor, to visit Moscow with full honors. China and Albania have concentrated their propaganda attacks on Yugoslavia's "revisionism," meaning the conviction of Marshal Tito that there are ways to achieve socialism other than the orthodox communism of Moscow or Peiping.

A meeting of 20 so-called neutrals is to be held in Belgrade in September at the call of Tito. These neutrals include most of the Asian and African powers that both Russia and China are wooing. One leader active in bringing about this meeting is President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who has been quarreling with Khrushchev despite the fact that Moscow has pledged hundreds of millions of dollars to construct the Aswan Dam on the Nile.

THIS SUGGESTS that just as the United States cannot impose its design on newly aspiring nations neither can the Soviets. But it also indicates one of the great rivalries between Peiping and Moscow. Each side is trying to convince the neutrals that it has the right path to the Communist millennium — the Chinese with their thesis that former colonial peoples must line up against the West and be prepared to join in an inevitable war, the Soviets arguing for a halfway house in which by peaceful means Communism will win the struggle.

BY INVITING Popovic to the Kremlin Khrushchev surely knew that he would infuriate the Chinese, who continually denounce the treasonous revisionism of the Yugoslavs. But he must also have hoped to exert some influence on the conference of Asian - African neutrals.

Recent public statements by the Chinese Foreign Minister, Marshal Chen Yi, and news stories in Pravda have denied any differences between the two Communist capitals. The effort to paper over the cracks is one of the surest evidences that a crack exists. The important fact for the West, however, is that for the foreseeable future the two Communist powers in any showdown with the West will make common cause.

4-H Club Dress Revue Winners Are Selected

Karen Jackson and Martha Robinson were selected senior and junior winners, respectively, in the 4-H Club Dress Revue for Howard County, staged Thursday afternoon at Couden Country Club.

Parents of the two, who will represent Howard County at the District Two contest in Lubbock, are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Robinson, all of Knott.

Runners-up in the senior division were Marilyn Bedell of the Coahoma 4-H Club, second, and Arveta Fryar, Countywide Club, third; junior runners-up were Robbie Brown of the Knott Club, second, and Elaine Langley, Center Point Club, third.

Commentator for the revue was Mrs. Delaine Crawford, and judges were Jo Crabtree of Lamessa and Mrs. Cricket Taylor of Colorado City.

About 30 girls have taken part in the workshops which have been conducted in clothing construction; 27 entered their work in the contest Thursday.

Theme of the parade of fashions was "Back to School", and stage decorations followed the idea with large textbooks, pencils, pens, compasses and other school essentials.

Entries were judged on the basis of posture, grooming, clothing construction and records which the girls have kept through the year.

Blue ribbons went to the winners and to Linda Shaw, Carolyn Crawford, Deborah Chapman, Kathy Shaw, Margie Newman, Glenda Conley; red ribbons were awarded to Olive Jean Cauble, Lonnie Fulbright, Ann Harrell, Marsha Kirkpatrick, Mary Lewis, Carolyn Bedell, Penny Frazier.

Also, Laura Lynn Madison, Patricia Chapman, Elsie and Dora Gomez, Jackie Cauble, Sharon Lewis, Linda Hodnett and Sherry Kirkpatrick.

Six new sewing machines were provided, free, by the Singer Sewing Machine Company; decorations were furnished by Hemphill-Wellis Company.

During an intermission, refreshments were served to the parents and friends who had gathered for the revue.

4-H Club Winners

Representing Howard County 4-H Clubs at the district dress revue will be Martha Robinson, left, and Karen Jackson, who were selected from a group of 27 contestants Thursday afternoon. The parade of models, who had made their dresses, Bermuda shorts and blouses, was held at Couden Country Club after a month of sewing workshops in which the girls participated. The frock of Miss Robinson, who was entered in the junior division, is a plaid in orchid and purple with flecks of gray, made shirtwaist style. Miss Jackson, senior 4-H'er, chose orchid cotton for her dress, fashioned with pleated skirt and high square neckline with a deep V.

Choice Of Meats Wide At Markets

By The Associated Press

Midsummer meat menus are mixed at supermarkets this week—a few fryers, a little lamb, a bit of beef and some smoked ham.

Fryers are featured in the East and Midwest, with prices as low as 25 cents a pound, while leg of lamb is at bargain levels in New England, New York, the Midwest and Far West. Lamb chops and a 29-cent a pound combination of lamb chops and stew meat also are available in scattered areas.

Beef is about evenly divided between such bargain cuts as chuck roast and steak and the more expensive rib roasts and round steak. Ham sales are mostly in the East.

Steak is higher in a few places, but the real items to watch out for this week are pork chops and eggs. The former are up 4 to 10 cents a pound.

Eggs, up for the third straight week, are 2 to 4 cents a dozen higher.

More and more fresh fruit and vegetables keep coming to market.

Best buys among vegetables are beets, broccoli, carrots, celery, cucumbers, endive, escarole, onions, radishes, miscellaneous leafy cooking greens, lettuce, parsley, peppers, potatoes and fava beans (king-sized snap beans).

Good buys are the regular size snap beans, cabbage, corn, eggplant, okra, watercress and peas. Cantaloupes, mangoes and sour cherries are rated outstanding among fruits, while the good buy list includes watermelons, blueberries, honeysuckles, Persian melons, limes, peaches, strawberries, blackberries, red currants, gooseberries, grapes, plums, nectarines and bananas.

Bridal Tea Given For Miss Moore

A bridal tea honored Marilyn Moore of Graham, bride-elect of Bobby Joe McMillan, Thursday night at the home of Twila Lomax.

Cohostesses were Mrs. R. L. Baber, Mrs. J. T. Baird, Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, Mrs. J. H. Fryar, Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, Mrs. Felix Jarratt, Mrs. Edward C. Shive and Mrs. Charles A. Weeg.

The bride's colors of pale pink and aqua were used in the centerpiece of daisies. A white organdy cloth trimmed with lace over aqua covered the table and three candelabra were placed at the ends of the table.

Guests were greeted by the honoree, and Mrs. R. D. McMillan Sr., the future bridegroom's mother. At the register was Mrs. McMillan Jr.; Eula Ashbrook, the future bridegroom's aunt, displayed gifts.

Daisy corsages were presented the bride-elect and Mrs. McMillan. Approximately 110 guests attended.

Parents of the bride-elect are Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moore of Graham.

Duplicate Players Get Masterpoints

Masterpoints were awarded in the games of duplicate bridge played Thursday evening at the Officers' Club, Webb AFB.

Winners were Mrs. Doug Orme and Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., first in north-south play; Mrs. J. J. Havins and Mrs. D. A. Brazel, second; Mrs. E. G. Patton and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, third; Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. Charles Tompkins, fourth.

Mrs. Arlis Radliff and Mrs. Glenn Riley, both of Garden City, tied for first and second places in east-west play with Mrs. George McGinn and Mrs. D. W. Wall; Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. B. B. Badger were third; Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Fish, fourth.

Frisbies Honored Wednesday Night

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Frisbie of Bay City were special guests Wednesday night when the family of the late Mr. E. M. Newton met with Mr. and Mrs. Troy Newton for a chicken barbecue.

Approximately 44 guests attended the backyard affair. Also from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Harwell of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. John Warren of Goldsmith.

The Frisbies will return to their home the first of next week.

BPO Does Meet

Members of the BPO does met Wednesday evening at the Elks Hall, with Mr. Bill Ragsdale serving as first counselor pro tem.

Mrs. W. C. Rogers missed receiving the attendance prize, and the next meeting was announced for Aug. 8.

Altrusans Meet For Salad Supper

Mrs. Claud Miller was presented a farewell gift by members of the Altrusa Club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass, when the group met for a salad supper.

Mrs. Miller, a former member of the club will leave soon for Snyder to make a home.

A supper, served buffet style on the patio, was followed by a brief business session; 21 were present.

The next meeting was announced for July 27, at noon, at Coker's Restaurant.

Depends On Diet To Overcome Nibbling

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "If you can't lick your emotional eating, the next best thing is to have a delectable diet," Kay Elhardt declared. "I am very moody, and when something depresses me, I find myself raiding the ice box. It's usually something terribly fattening like pastries or bread and butter. I know I shouldn't, but it doesn't seem to make any difference."

We were lurching in the Green Room at Warner Bros., where Kay has worked in eight "77 Sunset Strip" episodes.

"I'll have half a grapefruit and two poached eggs and coffee," Kay said to the waitress. "I'm not very fond of eggs, but they help me to reduce better than meat. I fooled around a lot with different diets, but I can depend on losing a pound a day with this one—though I never stay on it more than four consecutive days. I think you have to shop around for diets until you hit the one that suits your body chemistry."

"One thing that helped me maintain my weight," Kay continued, "was to eat often but only a little at a time. This shrinks your stomach and allows you to be satisfied with much less. It's healthier, too, because I can't handle a lot of courses now. And who needs all that food anyway?"

"What did you have for breakfast?" I asked.

"I had half a grapefruit and one boiled egg, and then about 10 I had another hard-boiled egg. And for dinner I will have a Spanish omelet made with two eggs, stewed tomatoes and no-calorie oil. I will also have a half grapefruit and coffee."

"Aren't you sick of eggs and grapefruit after four days?"

"I don't mind," Kay exclaimed.

"I'm so glad to be able to drop the pounds."

FOR THE MATURE Designers At Last Bow To Those Not So Slim As Model

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AF Fashion Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Until Thursday America's forgotten women of fashion were the middle-aged, the wide in girth, and the slim of purse.

Some of these were among the more than 200 news writers here for the New York couture group's semiannual Fashion Press Week.

Earlier this week, while watching a continuous parade of skinny girls in winter styles, they pondered how these bust-less, pencil-slim suits and dresses would look in size 44.

Or they contemplated how blazing, bejeweled, tightly wrapped, décolleté cocktail dresses would look on gray-haired grandmas with sagging figures.

But things took a turn for the better Thursday. A session was dedicated to the beauty problems of the nation's 25 million silver-haired ladies. A hair-coloring firm admitted that since it has failed to lick 68 per cent of these women who stubbornly refuse to dye their tresses, it has joined them. The company is now making products to improve sheen, tone and manageability of gray hair.

Later in the day, gaunt, slumped-shouldered models without a need to hide big hips, thighs or thick waistlines lined the runway in Larry Aldrich dresses that obviously translate flatteringly to a woman with meat on her bones. The long casual lines were waist-slimming, and the swingy, bias-cut skirts provided plenty of sit-down room.

Crisply tailored gold and silver metallic shirtwaist dresses, Aldrich's idea of cocktail dresses, a mature woman could wear one without feeling like the star in a Las Vegas night club act.

Although buyers told Aldrich American women want sleeves, the man who started the collarless, sleeveless "nothing dress" refused to do more about it than compromise. He still makes the sleeveless, but sends sleeves, to be sewn in if women insist.

Harry Frechtel also believes in roomy, slightly flaring skirts as figure flattery. He tops these with little coats and suits with tiny notched collars or shoulder-framing stoles.

That tent-like coat popular last season has been dieted down by Frechtel to peasant proportions that hide a multitude of figure sins.

Black, guaranteed to reduce an ample figure to a mere shadow, is a part of Aldrich's Frechtel's and Luis Esteve's collection.

First Service Set For Mormon Church

Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold first services in the new chapel Sunday. The chapel is the first step of a four phase program leading to the building of a new church by the group.

Begun in February, the chapel was built almost completely by volunteer labor at a cost of $50,000. It will seat 150 persons. Construction on the building at 1803 Wason Drive will continue under volunteer labor until complete worship and study facilities have been built. The complete church, designed by Church architects in Salt Lake City, Utah, will cost an estimated $350,000, and the sanctuary will hold some 600 people.

Robert Allen, branch president of the Church, said that most of the work had been done by Webb Air Force Base personnel, and he gave special recognition to Dieter Uchtdorf, a German exchange student pilot in Class 62-P at Webb, who spent most of his free time in working on the chapel.

Supervisor of the project is Rulon Derrington, one of 600 construction superintendents sent out by Church headquarters to oversee work done on churches throughout the country. Local contractors are Musgrove Electric, Jeter Sheet Metal, Crowell Masonry and Gross Plumbing.

Allen has announced that the new building is open for public inspection at any time. He also announced that Sunday school classes will be at 10 a.m., sacrament meeting at 5 p.m., and priesthood at 8:15 p.m. Further information may be obtained from Allen at AM 4-7860.

PROPOSED U.L.C.A. MISSION

The United Lutheran Church, as a general body, came into existence in 1918 as a reunion of three bodies: The form of General Synod, The General Council and of the United Synod, and of the United Synod South.

The Membership . . . Budgets at present Baptized members (1958) 2,439,792; pastors, 4,774; congregations, 4,552; Sunday School enrollment, 834,470; vacation church school enrollment, 250,379; weekday church school enrollment, 48,357; valuation of all church property, $97,298,458; congregational expenses, $86,328,504; total benevolences (1958), $109,973,613. The United Lutheran Church is the largest Lutheran church body in North America. Its budget for 1960 was $12,380,160; for 1961, is $14,216,400.

JOINT COMMISSION ON LUTHERAN UNITY

Four Lutheran church bodies—including the United Lutheran Church in America—are presently engaged in negotiations looking toward the formation of a new 3,000,000-member Lutheran church body—possibly by late 1962 or early 1963. Representatives of the United Lutheran Church (2,439,792 baptized members), the Augustana Evangelical Lutheran Church (591,107), the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church of America (35,963) and the American Evangelical Lutheran Church (23,571) are planning for organic union through the Joint Commission on Lutheran Unity. At present Pastor Kenning is conducting a city-wide religious survey. Forty-one prospective Lutheran Families have been found and many unchurched.

Matthew, Converted Publican

HOW THE AUTHOR OF THE FIRST GOSPEL BECAME AN APOSTLE

Scripture—Matthew 9:9-13; 10:1-4; Luke 5:27-28.

By N. Spear Jones

THE LESSON today first depicts Christ's calling of Matthew to become one of His twelve disciples. The time ascribed to this event is the summer of A.D. 28, less than two years before Christ's crucifixion.

It is often forgotten that Christ's entire ministry lasted only a little over three years. He did not begin to call His disciples until May of 28, and He apparently called some, such as Simon Peter, Andrew, James and John, before Matthew.

According to Alexander Whyte (in "Peloubet's Select Notes"), Jesus had long known Matthew. By this time He and His widowed mother had moved from Nazareth to Capernaum, where Matthew was publican, or tax-collector. To him, Whyte suggests, Christ had often given His carpenter's wages to settle accounts of the poor neighbors.

GOLDEN TEXT
He forsook all, and rose up and followed Him. Luke 5:28.

This occupation of Matthew is worth pausing over. Much later, British usage of the term "publican" meant a tavern-keeper. In Christ's day, however, it meant one who collected the taxes in the Roman Empire.

In our day the occupation is not despised; then, it was, and with good reason.

It was the practice of the Roman government to farm out the dubious privilege of collecting the taxes to the highest bidder. These men then paid the government out of their own pocket and set about re-imburasing themselves by collecting from their constituents—often with quite a profit.

In the earlier Empire days, in Matthew's time, these posts went chiefly to men of the upper middle class—the "smart businessmen" of the day.

Later, as the wars and extravagances of the far-flung empire impoverished the exchequer, the Roman government turned to the critical Pharisees, who, living by the letter of the Jewish law, considered as polluting all contact with those who did wrong by their standards. Jesus takes the Pharisees' word for it that they are "righteous," but subtly indicates that they may be no more perfect than the sinners they criticize, as they lack mercy and understanding.

WHAT GOD HAS JOINED TOGETHER

The language of Matthew 19:6 is so important to those who desire to live right before God, "—what therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." Married people who become impatient with each other need on their walls this motto: "This problem when solved will be simple." Someone once said, "The years teach us much, which the days never know." It is so easy for this generation, with their mind unregenerated in Christ, to cut marriage asunder almost at will, lowering ones self to the level of a brute beast instead of respecting the impulses of sex as from God with the divine purport of procreation. What God has joined together is ours to either sweeten by love or to sour by neglect; marriage is "Physical" but it cannot succeed if left to the physical alone, or if the spiritual, ethical, moral side is ignored. There must be the spiritual and intellectual manifestations, which lead to creative love and one is as sacred as the other. What God hath joined together, was not intended to end by hatred, aversion and laxity in a civil divorce court! For what God hath joined can be broken only by death or the guilt of adultery. It cannot, as a law of God be broken before God by a decree of human law. It cannot be broken by trying to go back at the beginning of the marriage and complain that perhaps God did not "Join" it in the first place. It cannot be broken by the "Lie" of mental cruelty when no adultery is involved; Nor can marriage be broken by disgust, anger and infatuation with some other silly person. What God hath joined together is "One" husband and "One" wife. Marriage is not the product of man's experimentation, as though he, by the process of "Evolution" could evolve to his present state of marriage to one person as against "Polygamy" or "Polyandry." People have sometimes descended to those states but man started in the "Garden of Eden" with marriage and this has been and will be his only "Happy" condition unless of course he mars his own joy with SIN. Like it or not friend, this is where we are because God made us this way; rebel as we may or try to make infidels out of man as some will, the facts of man will remain.

Elbert R. Garretson, Minister

Homer Twins Lift Yanks Into Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
No longer can anyone take lightly the twin challenge of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle for the most coveted of Babe Ruth's records—his 60 home runs in 1927.

ered Thursday night in New York's 6-2 triumph over Chicago. The victory boosted the Yankees into first place by four percentage points over idle Detroit in the red-hot American League race.

2 Defending Champions May Be In Swim Meet

The possibility of two defending champions, both in the girls division, looked good today for the annual YMCA swimming meet and water carnival.

In other AL games, Minnesota defeated Cleveland 9-6 and Boston nipped Baltimore 3-2. Rain postponed the game in Washington between the Kansas City Athletics and Senators. Los Angeles and the Tigers were idle.

In the National League, Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3. The Dodgers routed the Philadelphia Phillies 7-2. San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 2-1, and Milwaukee downed St. Louis 6-3.

The Twins finally gained revenge on their chief tormentor, Cleveland's Jim Grant. They bombed the Indians right-hander with three home runs to beat him for the first time this season. Ted Lepcio rocked Grant with a grand-slammer in the first inning and Harmon Killebrew and Jim Lemon also homered.

A spectacular all-around performance by Boston's Carl Yastrzemski helped Red Sox rookie Don Schwab beat Baltimore for his eighth triumph in 10 decisions. The rookie outfielder singled in the fourth and raced home on a double by Jim Paggiaroni. Jackie Jensen singled Paggiaroni, Jack

Writers To Honor Mexican Luminary

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Roberto Avila, hailed as Mexico's greatest baseball star of all time, will be given a special night Aug. 27 by the Mexican Association of Sports Writers. Avilan, retired, played for years in the U.S. major leagues, where he was a leading batter.

They're All Very Sorry

MEXICO CITY (AP)—There were a polka all the way around today for that rock-throwing by the fans in the Ardmore-Monterrey Pan-American Association game Tuesday night.

First Anuar Canavati, president of the Monterrey club, apologized to the Ardmore club. Then Eduardo Orvananos, president of the Mexican League, sent his apology to President Dick Butler of the Texas League.

Ardmore was leading 3-0 when the Monterrey fans began throwing rocks at Ardmore players. Later they chucked at the Ardmore bus.

The umpires forfeited the game 9-0 after warning the fans to stop the pelting.

Nobody got hurt and the only one to come out ahead in the deal was Ardmore.

Pete Gets Plaudits

HOUSTON (AP)—They told Pete Cawthon just how good he was Thursday night.

A testimonial dinner for the former coach was attended by 300.

Ross Clarke of Houston, long-time friend of the man who coached at Beaumont High School, Terrell Pre, Rice, Austin College, Texas Tech and Alabama and with the pro Detroit Lions and Brooklyn Dodgers, presented Cawthon with a silver plaque.

On it was inscribed: "To Pete Cawthon, a true sportsman but above all a true man."

Louis Jones, dean of men at Texas Tech, described Cawthon as a man "who always had a kind word at the right moment and could take your hide off at the right moment."

College Trio In Publix Semi-Finals

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
DETROIT (AP)—Mix a leathery 40-year-old Navy lieutenant commander with three wide-eyed collegians and you come up today with the semifinals of the National Public Links golf meet.

"The old man" of the 36th annual tournament over the par 35-70 Rackham course, which is as wide open as the horizon, is Lou Gifford, a veteran of World War II and Korea.

Gifford never has been in a big tournament. He is from Huntington Beach, Calif., and now is stationed in Jacksonville, Fla., as a safety officer working for Uncle Sam on accident prevention.

A year ago Gifford was assigned to shore duty after flying jets since 1950.

In today's 36-hole semifinals, Gifford faces a local hero, John Molenda, 22, Detroit Tech junior.

Dick Sikes, the bag-toting ex-caddy who played for the University of Arkansas and now is seeking an airplane factory job in Wichita, Kan., meets John Schlee in the other semifinal match leading to Saturday's 36-hole finals.

Sikes, 21, a native of Springdale, Ark., is trying to become the third medalist in the tournament's history to grab the title. He is a putting marvel, having fashioned 35 one-putt greens in 98 competitive holes by a system of using five putters.

He keeps two of them in his bag at one time. An ex-caddy, he shoulders his own clubs.

Schlee, 22, playing with a fever from a headcold, is a husky pug-nosed blond who left his Seaside, Ore., home to migrate to Memphis State on a golf scholarship.

In Thursday's two rounds, with the afternoon quarterfinals played in a steady rain, Sikes disposed of Len Pietras of Toledo, Ohio, 4 and 3, and Bill Delley of Coraopolis, Pa., 3 and 1.

Schlee ousted Jay Law of Haper Woods, Mich., 2 up and Frank Campbell, the 1959 runnerup from Leeds, Ala., 2 and 1.

Molenda defeated Negro Bill Wright of Seattle, 1959 champion, 2 up and 16-year-old Bob Lunn of San Francisco 2 and 1.

Gifford advanced with a 2 and 1 victory over Gary Peterson of the University of Minnesota and a 1 up last-hole struggle with Mike Anderson, Pontiac, Mich., high school math teacher.

er off loser Bob Friend gave the Giants' Stu Miller his seventh victory.

Veteran Joe Adcock and rookie Mack Jones paced a 13-hit Milwaukee attack against three Cardinal pitchers. Adcock wallowed his 15th home run, off loser Bob Jones, playing his first game for the Braves, cracked four hits in five times at bat.

Warriors And Pirates Win

The Warriors routed the Royals 74-47 and the Pirates took the Celtics 69-53 in YMCA Summer Basketball League play Thursday evening.

Dick Ebling, Jay LeFevre with 29 each and Ross Reagan with 30, set the scoring pace.

For the Warriors the rebounding of Albert Fierro and Jeff Brown helped set the pace, and for the Pirates Reagan and Rip Patterson looked good on rebounds.

The Warriors led 31-20 at the half and the Pirates were ahead 35-23 at the half.

Scores by games:
WARRIORS: Ebling 13-20; Fierro 1-1; Patterson 6-11; M. Fierro 1-1; Brown 7-11; Goodlett 1-2; Minter 1-2; Totals 74-47.
ROYALS: Schumaker 9-17; Nichols 3-4; Hanson 3-6; Wiener 2-4; R. Peters 1-0-1; Bethel 2-4; Totals 47-74.

PIRATES: Reagan 13-20; R. Patterson 6-11; Minter 1-2; Patterson 6-11; Minter 1-2; Totals 74-47.
CELTICS: —; LeFevre 14-20; Ebling 1-2; Don 1-2; Thompson 2-4; Totals 53-69.

Shirley In Star Game

Shirley Walker, star girl athlete of Sands High School at Ackerly, will be playing in the all-star basketball game Saturday evening in the Hardin-Simmons University gymnasium.

Van Kunitz, Sands coach, is attending the girls basketball coaching school which begins in Abilene today, and which will be climaxed by the all-star game Saturday evening.

Shirley, who also excels in track, plays guard in basketball. She is entering Howard County Junior College this autumn.

City Little League Title To Be All-American Affair

The city Little League championship today settled down to a battle between the winner and runnerup in the American League.

While the Prates, winner for the American League were pounding out an 8-3 victory over the T-Birds, the pace-setters of the International League, the Colts, American runnersup, put together a storybook 1-0 victory over the Cardinals, winners of the National League.

The championship game is set for 8 p.m. today in the International League Park at Webb AFB.

Randy French of the Cards and Johnnie Arrick of the Colts locked in a pitchers duel and both had excellent control. French allowed 4 hits, Arrick 3; French gave up one walk and hit two batters, while Arrick issued a walk and nipped one batter.

In the end it was a tricky bouncer that decided the game. R. J. Englert had opened the bottom of the sixth with a single and advanced on Bill Burchett's single. John Stone was out and John Carter was hit by a pitched ball in load the sacks, but Ray Hattenback was out. Randy Peterson slammed a grounder to Ford Farris, but the ball turned into a scooter before Farris could bend low enough to get it. Englert came home with the winning run.

The Cards has threatened in the first when French opened with a double, advanced on a fielder's choice then was forced at home. Arnold Palmer, the American hope, was poised one stroke off the lead.

Palmer, 29-year-old pro from Latrobe, Pa., shared a 143 spot with Kel Nagle, the Aussie who beat him in the 1960 British Open.

In front of them at 142 were Harold Henning of South Africa and Dai Rees of Wales.

The crowd naturally is hoping Rees can become the first Briton to win the Open in 10 years.

But, patriotism apart, the galleries are pulling for Palmer almost as much as they are pulling for Rees. Palmer has picked up fans with his friendly and easy-going manner as well as the shattering skill that marks his golf.

The crowd loved the way Palmer came off the home green with a look of worry Thursday and told a 7-year-old fan raising an autograph book, "Stay right there, sonny, I've got something important to do first."

What Palmer had to do was confer with the championship officials on whether he should take a penalty stroke for hitting a ball that moved in a sand trap as he made his down swing on the 16th hole.

After a 15-minute consultation, officials announced Palmer had to suffer a penalty stroke. That gave him seven instead of a six for that hole, and knocked him out of a tie for the lead.

The only other U.S. entry among the 48 golfers who went into the last two rounds over the 6,844-yard, par 36-72 course was Paul Runyan, 52, of La Jolla, Calif.

Runyan had 152 — two strokes behind Gary Player, the 25-year-old South African who was a pre-tourney favorite to stink it out with Palmer for the title.

Sports Car Meet Set For Sunday

The Big Spring Sports Car Association is having a gymkhana Sunday afternoon, it was announced today. The events will be run off at Webb AFB.

INCLUDES SNYDER HORSE

Strong Field Is Aligned In Quarterhorse Futurity

RUIDOSO DOWN, N. M.—The 18th running of the Ruidoso Open Quarter Horse Futurity, for two-year-olds at 400 yards, will find 10 of the fastest juveniles in the nation facing starter L. G. Crockett in the 11th and featured race of the day.

A total purse of approximately $83,000 waits for the first eight horses to finish. The winners' share will reach nearly $13,000.

This race, one of the richest Quarter Horse races in the world, (second only to the All American run on Labor Day) will find the unusual pure division of eight monies being paid. The winners share here is 49 per cent of the total, while the eighth horse to finish will receive one per cent. Since five of the qualification trials were run in the time of 20.4 and every horse in the race was clocked in AAA time, this looms as a wide open affair. So closely matched is the race that a favorite probably will not be decided before post time.

The field includes Direct Gates, from the stable of N. W. Gates, Batesville; She Kitty, J and X, Casement, Padroni, Colo.; Miss Hi Jo, Gills Ranch, Snyder; Bobbie Coca, Hays Bros. Tucson, Ariz.; Paili Tabu, Bill Finner, Eagle Pass; Art Bar, James Hunt, Soell, Okla.; Goldseeker, R. D. Stanfield, and M. G. Astleford, Broken Arrow, Okla.; Speaky Bar, J. Elmer Decker, Hesperus, Colo.; and the lone New Mexico entry, Dell Hairpin, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Simpson, Santa Fe.

This race, the oldest traditional race at the track, originated one year before Ruidoso Downs became a recognized course, and has fast become one of the most popular two-year-old events in the nation. A total of seventy-five were named to go in the trials making this the largest field ever to remain eligible for the race at trial time.

One of the strongest supporting cards of the season will be offered with both the thoroughbreds and the Quarter Horses drawing equal billing.

Bizarre Double Shooting Is Called Murder-Suicide

PLAINS, Tex. (AP)—Texas police called a bizarre double shooting murder-suicide and closed their books today on the case.

Yoakum County said Mrs. Barbara Mills, 35, of Plains was apparently kidnaped and killed Thursday by a Mexican farm worker, Guadalupe Carrio, 35, who then shot and killed himself.

Heath reconstructed the crime from the time Mrs. Mills left her farm at about 9:30 a.m. until the station wagon driven by Carrio plowed into another car at Bronco, Tex., and set off an incredible chain of events that ended after two other cars and an airplane had been involved in the accident.

Rain was pouring down in this small Texas town when Mrs. Mills started to the postoffice.

Heath said Carrio probably was hiding in the car. His clothes and shoes were dry and not muddy, as they would have been if he had stopped the car.

The car went north about three miles and then came to a stop under some trees next to a deserted farm house.

The shooting took place there, it seemed. Hospital tests showed Mrs. Mills was not raped, but Heath said he believes Carrio tried to attack the attractive woman. When she was found at the wreckage scene a short time later she was wearing only a blouse and bra. Her capri slacks were on the floorboard of the car.

Beauties Display Form

Miss Universe beauties from the United States and foreign countries pose at Miami where they are competing in the annual beauty pageant. They are, left to right: Dixie Lee Cook, Miss Kansas; Patricia Lynn Squires, Miss Michigan; Yvonne Quick, Miss South Carolina; Ranjini Nilana Jayatilke, Miss Ceylon; Judy La Rae Walton, Miss Wyoming; Mickey Lambert, Miss Arkansas; Lella Antaki, Miss Lebanon; Khin Myint Myint, Miss Burma and seated is Irene Grosse, Miss Morocco.

Louisiana Girl Eyes World Title After Winning Contest

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"My daddy will probably faint when he hears this," said Sharon Brown moments after she was crowned Miss U.S.A. "He thought I should improve my carriage. That's why I went to modeling school."

Roy Brown, a contractor, had not come to watch his daughter compete in the beauty pageant, and Sharon was anxious to break away from the well wishers to phone home the news.

"I think I'll call collect," she said and laughed through her tears at her joke.

The 16-year-old brunette from Minden, La., won the right Thursday night to represent the nation against 47 foreign entries for the Miss Universe title. The last 90 minutes of the two-day competition will be televised nationally Saturday night.

Sharon, at 5-feet-7, was one of the tallest of the 43 girls who competed in the Miss U.S.A. contest. At 36-23-36, she also was one of the most plentifully endowed.

She has been a model and beauty contest winner since February 1960 when she won the "Miss Stock Show" crown at Waterproof, then her home town.

"The Rotary Club entered me," Sharon said. "I was a senior in high school. I won, but when the contest was over they told me not to enter another without some training."

"My parents thought it would be a good idea; my father thought I didn't walk properly, so I was entered in a modeling school at Monroe. I drove the 100 miles every Tuesday after chemistry class."

The school paid off in two more queen titles and several Miss Congeniality crowns. She also modeled in department stores and now she teaches at the modeling school where she received her training.

erators, but I'd probably get my thumb jammed in the door," she said. "I'm going to finish college first."

Sharon has just completed her freshman year at Louisiana Tech, where she is majoring in speech and drama. She expects her parents, and possibly her three younger brothers, to fly here for the Miss Universe judging.

A newsman asked her what she was going to do with the $1,000 she had won.

"What," she cried, "you mean I've won $1,000. I didn't read about that. I have no idea what I'll do with it."

Sharon was chosen to succeed Linda Bernert of Salt Lake City, Utah, last year's Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe, from five girls who reached the finals.

The four runners-up, in this order, were Pamela Stettler, 18, of San Rafael, Calif.; Karen Weller, 18, of Las Vegas, Nev.; Alexa Currey, 22, New York City; and Suelen Robinson, 19, of Fairfax, Ala.

DEAR ABBY Keep Eye Out For Another

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I became a widow. I was left with two children to raise. I met a man my age. He was in the same boat. His wife died and left him with two little ones. We were getting along fine until his deceased wife's sister got a divorce. Then she started calling him up and telling him her troubles. Her mother (his former mother-in-law) has been helping matters along by inviting him over and throwing these two together. She figures he was such a good husband to one of her daughters, it would be nice to get him in the family again.

The divorcee is very aggressive. I am on the shy side. He now spends more time with her than he does with me. I've refused other dates to be available in case he calls. Should I give up and let her have him? Or should I hang on and risk getting hurt?

SECOND PLACE DEAR SECOND: Don't count too heavily on winning this man. The divorcee has the edge on you here.

cause of old family ties, and her mother's cooperation. Date others for the present, but don't be too quick to run up the white flag.

DEAR ABBY: Will you settle a dispute, please? Should the floor be swept, then the furniture dusted? Or should you dust first and then sweep the floor?

DEAR RLM: Sweep the floor—then dust. If you dust first, you will raise more dust when you sweep. P. S. How old are you?

DEAR ABBY: My problem is very serious. My mother reads my diary. No matter where I hide it, she manages to find it. I am 14 years old and think I should be able to keep my diary personal. It is getting so that I am afraid to write down the true facts, and what good is a diary if it doesn't have the true facts? What can a girl do about a mother who doesn't trust her? Please print your answer in the paper because if a letter came to the house for me my mother would probably open it.

NOT TRUSTED DEAR NOT: Many mothers "snoop" out of curiosity rather than mistrust. But reading another's diary and mail is inexcusable. If you, at age 14, are reluctant to put down the "true facts," you and your mother need to have a heart-to-heart talk. You could both profit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "KEEPING MY MOUTH SHUT": Tell your employer. There is nothing noble about protecting a thief.

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Water Control Bill To Get Second Chance

Gov. Price Daniel has allowed the consideration of a water pollution control bill at this special session, and Rep. Dick Corey, author of a bill which almost passed in the regular session, has reintroduced his bill.

Public hearing has been set for 2:30 p.m. Monday by the House Conservation and Reclamation Committee. Co-authors with Rep. Corey on HB 22 are Rep. Ben Glusling, Kingsville, and Rep. J. W. Buchanan, Dumas.

The measure would set up a water pollution control board, which, together with representatives from the State Health Department, the Board of Water Engineers, and the Game & Fish Commission, would have the power to grant permits for water disposal or to prevent pollution of streams and ground waters.

Rep. Frank Owens of El Paso "tagged" the bill in the closing hours of the regular session when it reached the Senate. Behind the move was the State Health Department which objected to removal of sewage disposal from its control. Gov. Daniel quieted this objection, but time on the session had run out.

Many areas in the state are showing special interest in the proposed measure due to pollution problems affecting present or potential water supplies.

Local Vets Attend Department Meet In Fort Worth

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eaker and R. R. McKinney are in Fort Worth today for the state department meeting of the Veterans of World War I.

Eaker is commander of the local barracks No. 1474, and Mrs. Eaker is president of the auxiliary. McKinney is a senior vice commander of the Department of Texas.

Sunday they are due to be joined in Fort Worth for the concluding sessions of the state party by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Swindell and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moren.

The local barracks is seeking more members. Eaker emphasized that any veteran of the First World War is eligible, regardless of branch or place of service.

Bus Fare Hike To Be Sought

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Electric Bus Lines will argue or a 10 per cent increase in intrastate passenger fares at a Railroad Commission hearing July 25. The commission said Thursday the company is a party to a request made earlier by 17 Texas bus companies for a 5 per cent intrastate increase.

Texas Electric said in its application that it did not take a 10 per cent increase in 1958 as did the other bus companies now asking the 5 per cent increase.

The application said Texas Electric would take the 10 per cent increase asked Thursday plus the 5 per cent asked on the application with the 16 other companies to put the company in the same fare bracket as other Texas carriers.
