Fire Destroys Block-Long Building

A spectacular fire that roared out of control for several hours in downtown Dallas left this block-long building with only part of the roof and walls remaining. Six firemen were injured when the ceiling collapsed on them and 14 others were treated at the scene for smoke inhalation. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

France Is Accused Of Violating Truce

TUNIS (AP)—Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba accused France today of violating the U.N. Security Council's Bizerte cease-fire order by refusing to withdraw to their pre-battle positions and by extending their hold on Tunisian territory.

Bourguiba warned at a news conference that fighting may break out again. He said he had told nations that had offered volunteers to help Tunisia that he needed trained guerrilla fighters, planes based in Tunisia or other countries, arms and mobile anti-aircraft batteries.

Bourguiba did not accuse the French of renewing the attack. But he said if they did not withdraw from Bizerte city into the naval base enclave, "fighting is bound to start again."

"We have decided to resist until the end and we are prepared for new hostilities," the president declared.

CAN'T CONTINUE

"We have decided to inform the Security Council that this cannot continue. This situation cannot last indefinitely."

While Bourguiba spoke, U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld conferred with Tunisian officials in an effort to keep the crisis from reaching bigger proportions.

Hammarskjöld, who arrived in the Tunisian capital Monday at Bourguiba's invitation, was studying Tunisia's case against France in one of the thorniest and most difficult tasks of his career.

A number of Tunisians doubted that the U.N. official would produce a solution that would satisfy Tunisia, which wants total unconditional French withdrawal from the Bizerte base.

Hammarskjöld had a three-hour session Monday night with Bourguiba which a Tunisian official described as exploratory.

The U.N. chief was tight-lipped when he emerged from Bourguiba's seaside summer palace 10 miles outside the capital. His only comment to newsmen was that he had not scheduled a visit to the city of Bizerte, which the French in four days of bloody fighting captured before a cease-fire call from the U.N. Security Council stopped the shooting.

URGENT MATTER

The secretary-general, who described the crisis as "a matter of urgency," was reported to have told officials he could not foresee how many days his mission would take. U.N. sources in New York said Hammarskjöld was expected to return Thursday.

A Tunisian delegation source at U.N. headquarters in New York said another Security Council session on Bizerte was virtually certain late this week.

The Tunisians accused France

of flouting the council's resolution, which also called on both sides to return to their prebattle positions in Bizerte. French government sources have said France would not pull back until the Tunisian government guarantees her free communications to and between the various installations of her huge naval and air base at Bizerte.

Bourguiba has demanded that France give up the base immediately and also give Tunisia a piece of the French-held Sahara. The fighting erupted last week after the Tunisians laid siege to the land approaches to the base and sent a flag-planting expedition into the Sahara beyond the Tunisian border.

UP TO TUNISIANS

An aide said Hammarskjöld's itinerary in Tunisia, including any inspection of Bizerte, was up to the Tunisians who asked him to come here to discuss the crisis.

An inspection of the battle-torn city could antagonize the French government, which did not invite Hammarskjöld to intervene and insists the Bizerte dispute is a private matter between France and Tunisia.

The French and Tunisians continued to swap charges and still had not agreed on a site for meeting to negotiate a permanent cease-fire.

The Tunisian government radio and press accused France of "a new buildup and provocations." France charged Tunisia was evacuating Bizerte's native quarter—still held by Tunisian troops—to turn it into an armed bastion overlooking the ship channel to the naval base.

Tunisia's cause was bolstered by still more expressions of support and sympathy from Asian-African countries, many of whom had opposed Bourguiba previously because of his pro-Western sympathies.

The Newburgh plan, aimed at cutting relief payments, went into effect July 15.

Press Blamed For 'Politics'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said today that he acted "as an individual, not as a senator" in commending the controversial welfare restrictions imposed in Newburgh, N.Y.

"The only way that it got political," he said in a letter to the New York Times, "was through the members of the press who chose to interpret it that way."

He also said that Newburgh City manager Joseph McD. Mitchell's call on him in Washington, D.C., was "a purely personal visit. Again the press interpreted it as political. I did not, nor do I now."

The Newburgh plan, aimed at cutting relief payments, went into effect July 15.

Daniel Opens Session To More Legislation

Controversial Items Among New Subjects

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel let the bars down Tuesday, opening the special session to a flood of new subjects including many controversial ones.

Daniel called for election code amendments including a law to require a majority vote for the winner in special elections for the legislature and U.S. House of Representatives. This would match the new law requiring such majorities in special U.S. Senate races.

The governor asked for an increase in the present $28 maximum payment under the unemployment compensation law, with other changes which he said would save off federal plans to "pre-empt and replace" state responsibilities in this field.

Daniel suggested legislation on eight points relating to "law enforcement and protection of life" including changes in the Sunday blue laws, revision of the driver license law, and a series of bills long urged by the Texas Law Enforcement Study Commission for penal code improvements.

The special session was called primarily to solve the state's financial problems, including retirement of the general fund deficit, providing desperately needed new money, appropriating state service funds for the next two years, and providing for increased public school teachers pay.

None of these issues has been settled. A special session may not consider legislative topics except those submitted by the governor.

Other new subjects brought into the purview of the session included municipal annexation law changes, creation of a commission to study state government and fiscal system reorganization, and numerous categories of local bills.

The governor's message broadening the session's scope came as lawmakers spent a day of legislative thumb-twiddling with neither house ready for floor action on any major bill.

Other legislation included in the governor's request were a medically-accepted chemical test law for use in case of driving while intoxicated; "more adequate salaries for district and county attorneys"; authority for game wardens to enforce laws against trespassing; safety standards for mobile homes; child support in divorce cases where handicapped children, regardless of age, are involved.

Also rehabilitation districts for the handicapped; amendments to the Good Neighbor scholarship law; Harris County municipal retirement program; trademark legislation; county road laws; non-profit corporations for charitable and public service purposes; use and control of causeways for public fishing piers when abandoned by the State Highway Department.

ROUTINE MATTERS

With the appropriations bill headed for a conference committee and Senate committee hearing on the tax bill not scheduled until Wednesday, both houses only had routine matters on tap.

One of the more important actions scheduled was appointment of House Conference Committee members to meet with their Senate counterparts to study a spending bill.

The conference committee was made necessary Monday when the Senate took only a few seconds to reject the House version of the appropriations bill.

The House amended the original Senate measure to spend about $16 million more from the state's general revenue fund.

The Senate version of the $2.5 billion bill provided for $364.3 million to come from the general revenue fund, but the House upped the figure to $380 million.

NO ACTION

No action on the tax bill can come today. The House, after two weeks haggling, passed the measure and sent it to the Senate Monday. Any action by the Senate can come only after Wednesday's public hearing.

The House Rules Committee was scheduled to consider a resolution asking the State Board of Insurance to postpone effective dates of the new automobile insurance rate hike.

The hearing was set for Monday but was postponed until today for lack of a quorum.

The Senate Nominations Committee scheduled a secret meeting this morning to consider several nominations made by Gov. Daniel.

HIJACKED AIRLINER

Castro Releases Passengers, Crew

REPORT PRO-CASTRO PLOT TO SEIZE U. S. AIRLINERS

NEW YORK (AP)—New York police said today they were told supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro planned to hijack five commercial planes here today and fly to Havana.

The plot was reported to the police by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It called for placing two gunmen aboard each of the five planes and divert them to Cuba.

Police said the airlines involved were Eastern, National and Northeast.

A gunman hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane Monday and forced the pilot at gunpoint to fly to Havana. Thirty-three passengers and five crewmen were aboard.

Police said the FBI told them that members of the pro-Castro movement met Sunday night here at the Casa Cuba and made plans for 10 men, all armed, to board the airlines some time today either here or in Tampa, Fla.

The FBI also notified the Port of New York Authority, which operates airports here and the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Police immediately took precautionary measures here to thwart the plot.

vana radio account of the fact that the pilot was forced to make the flight here at gunpoint, nor did the radio give the passenger's name. It said he feared reprisals against his relatives in the United States.

The Eastern Air Lines prop-jet Electra was on a flight from Miami to Tampa, New Orleans and Dallas with 33 passengers and a being held under close police guard and newsmen were prevented from talking to them. Reporters saw them from a distance when they landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport. No one appeared to have been injured in the incident.

One of the passengers was Luis Rodriguez, No. 1 contender for the world welterweight boxing championship. He was en route to Dallas for a fight Thursday night with Curtis Cokes.

Switzerland has represented the U.S. government in Cuba since Havana and Washington severed diplomatic relations.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Florida was the first to sense something wrong aboard the Electra when the agency's radar-scope showed the plane make a sharp turn off course about 20 miles southwest of Pahokee, Fla.

The agency's report was picked up by the North American Air Defense Command (CORAD) at Colorado Springs, Colo., and the Homestead, Fla., Air Force Base was ordered to send up a fighter to intercept the $34-million airliner.

Capt. W. G. Hayes, flying an F102 Delta Dagger, intercepted the airliner and waggled his wings in a futile effort to turn it back. He turned back to his base when he reached the three-mile limit of Cuban waters.

The passengers and crew were

State Approves Interstate Funds

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Highway Commission has authorized purchase of more than $8 million worth of right of way for interstate highway construction.

Full purchase of right of way was approved Monday for 47 miles of Interstate 20 in Ector and Midland counties ($1.6 million).

On other actions Monday: Authorized the up-dating of a plan for highway development in Jefferson County. The plan originally was done in 1954. County officials requested the up-dating.

Agreed to improve or replace the South Chabourne bridge in San Angelo. The bridge crosses the North Concho River on U.S. 87.

Agreed to widen 2.3 miles of U.S. 60 and U.S. 66 in Potter County from Lake Street in Amarillo to the old location of U.S. 66.

Agreed to widen seven-tenths of a mile of U.S. 79 in the City of Taylor from Bull Branch bridge east.

Virus Halts Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said today that two of the five major manufacturers of Salk polio vaccine have temporarily suspended production because of the presence of a virus in their product.

The virus, a newly discovered one, came from monkey kidney tissue, used to make the vaccine. Although production was halted, officials stressed there was no evidence the virus would sicken man.

The service said that all Salk vaccines released during the last two months had been tested for presence of the virus, designated SV40, and only those which were free of it were cleared for general use.

Under law, the service does not identify the manufacturers involved, but it was learned that the firms which have suspended production are Merck Sharp & Dohme, a division of Merck, Inc.; and Parke, Davis & Co.

The two firms together have accounted for something like 25 per cent of the nation's total output of Salk vaccine.

However, a service spokesman said it is not expected that withdrawal from the market will cause a general shortage of the vaccine.

In Philadelphia, Merck Sharp & Dohme confirmed it had stopped production.

Soviet Spaceman To Lead Cuban Celebration Parade

HAVANA (AP)—Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin was to lead an hours-long parade of 70,000 athletes and dancers through the streets of Havana today in celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolutionary movement.

It was the second day in town for Gagarin, 27, who got a rainy hero's welcome Monday on his arrival for the four-day celebration of the 26th of July Movement.

Prime Minister Castro personally escorted the Soviet major through a round of social functions. Wherever they went the Cubans cheered wildly.

A dreaching thunderstorm broke as the Soviet plane bringing Gagarin landed at flag-decked Jose Marti Airport outside Havana.

Gagarin and the welcoming delegation were soaked to the skin. Castro, dripping, threw his arms around the smiling spaceman and gave him a clammy bear hug.

Gagarin flashed his wide grin at the spectators, then rode with Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos into Havana in an open-topped car. In some places along the 10-mile route cheering crowds stood knee-deep in water.

Thousands more crowded the

Smelly Horse Causes Complaint

A horse which neighbors said was smelling up the neighborhood was called to the attention of police Monday. Twelve dog poisons and four cats were also referred to the animal ward.

Stray dogs were reported at the Guard House at Webb AFB, 1324 E. 17th, 407 1/2 W. 9th, 1205 E. 3rd, 600 N. 11th, 2505 U.S. 80 West, 1700 W. 4th, 110 E. 15th, 2110 W. 3rd, 1501 Lincoln, 610 Main and in the 700 block of San Antonio.

Cats were at 900 E. 4th, Eighteenth and Austin, Fifth and Aylford and 814 W. 18th.

Congress Defense Support Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appears ready to support an expected request by President Kennedy for an increase of $3 billion or more in defense spending.

But there is a sharp difference of opinion among members on whether action should be taken at this time to increase taxes.

Kennedy outlines to the nation in a television-radio broadcast tonight the grave challenge raised by Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threat to try to squeeze the West out of Berlin.

The President will follow this up Wednesday with a message asking Congress for funds to bolster the nation's defense capabilities.

The general belief among the lawmakers is that Kennedy has ruled out any crash program and will ask for an orderly step up in the strength of Marine and Army ground forces, plus more intensive training for National Guard and reserve units.

To pay for all of this, some members of Congress have argued that Kennedy should ask for an immediate increase in corporation and personal income taxes.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, said he is one of those who personally urged Kennedy to seek new taxes.

"I think the President should lay the Berlin situation before the people bluntly and should ask for the taxes needed to pay for strengthening our defenses," Humphrey said, however, that the President had been urged by other members to defer any tax request until it can be determined later whether present tax rates

National Guard Pilot Honored

AUSTIN (AP)—A Texas Air National Guard pilot who sacrificed his life in a crashing plane to save the lives of others was honored in ceremonies today in the governor's office.

The pilot was Capt. Gary Herod, who stuck with his disabled jet plane while it was over densely populated Houston, to maneuver it down into a rural area.

It was too late for Herod to parachute when he had cleared the heavily wooded area.

Herod, of San Antonio, was killed in March. His wife, Mrs. Orrena Herod, now of Dallas, accepted the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Texas Meritorious Service Medal and the National Guard Association's K. L. Perry Award.

Another Bad Wash

Rains of almost monsoon proportions have washed various areas of the city badly in recent weeks. Latest major damage is in front of the YMCA, Eighth and Owens, where the street and sidewalk has moved in. This area is on the same hill that washed under the Crippled Children's Center. The Y building does not sit on the hill and engineers say there is no danger of it being damaged.

The Senate Nominations Committee scheduled a secret meeting this morning to consider several nominations made by Gov. Daniel.

Draft Board Calls More For Physicals

Thirty-five Howard County men—five times the original seven slated for the month—will be called to report for preinduction medical examinations in August, Local Board No. 71 of the Selective Service System of Texas announced Monday.

These 35 men will be this county's share of 3,655 Texans who are to be instructed to take preliminary physicals next month.

A Healthy Body

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

The chiropractor's creed is to locate the root of the illness, then apply the adjustments to the nerve center.

The nerves, as the chiropractic science points out, are the local point for most of the ills of the human body.

For instance, suppose the chiropractor, upon examination, locates the illness in the stomach.

He knows immediately where the nerves are pressed upon to produce that condition.

He locates that part of the spine and finds how that pressure is produced.

Then he re-places the small bones in their natural position and when this is accomplished the trouble no longer exists.

However, a nerve does not need to be cut to lose part of its ability to carry life force.

If it is squeezed at any point along its course, the life force will be cut off in just that proportion.

This is exactly what happens to produce disease and sickness.

The chiropractor's work is done with his hands, and the small bones are adjusted back into their proper position for the purpose of relieving the pressure on the nerves.

This corrects the real cause of the disease and it is for this reason that the chiropractor's patients get well and stay well.

Five Howard County men will be inducted into military service in August.

Texas is inducting 345 men during August. This number is unchanged from the original announcement some weeks ago.

Announcement was made in Dallas last Friday that draft boards of the state would materially increase the number of men they would call for preinduction physicals.

The announcement was made by Major Boyd Sinclair, chief of the administrative division of the Selective Service of Texas.

He said the original August quotas for physicals in Texas would be multiplied by five.

The 3,655 Texans to take preinduction physicals will be the largest number in several years.

The 35 to be sent from this county is by far the biggest group handled by this office in a long time.

In July only three Howard County men were inducted.

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ . . ." (Rom. 1:16). Some religionist seem to be ashamed of their religious affiliation.

This week I received an envelope containing tracts. The donor did not reveal his name. This may have been an oversight. But it was surely not an oversight that the writers and publishers of the tracts (there were four kinds of them), did not reveal their religious affiliation.

It made me wonder what they had to be ashamed of. I wondered if it was the doctrine which they advocated, to the effect that the sinner is saved immediately upon believing on Christ. The Bible no

Leaves For Tunis

Zapata County Grand Jury Continues Closed Bank Probe

ZAPATA, Tex. (AP)—The Zapata County grand jury today continued its probe of the closing of the county's only bank after hearing its president testify he "just closed the doors and left town because the bank ran out of money."

"I am the only one responsible for the operation of the bank and I made the decisions," grey-haired Manuel Medina told a packed court room of depositors at a receivership hearing before Judge James Kazen of Laredo.

He told George Byfield, court appointed receiver, that deposits at the privately-owned bank fell off some $200,000 the past few months.

"The people just withdrew their money," he said.

The bank, one of the few privately-owned in the nation, closed its doors last Tuesday.

Medina was found at a motel in Nuevo Laredo by a Laredo Times reporter and appeared voluntarily at Monday's hearing.

Medina, dressed in a grey suit, red tie and a western hat, answered questions in a loud, clear voice but appeared nervous at times and frequently chewed on his horn-rimmed glasses.

He said deposits amounted to $600,000 to $700,000.

Medina invoked the Fifth Amendment on at least three occasions in dealing with questions from Byfield in connection with the condition of the bank.

He refused to answer when asked if he thought the bank was insolvent. He acknowledged overdrafts amounting to approximately $275,000, given by Medina and members of his family, but he refused to comment further on them.

Medina said he had no appreciable cash and testified that the only property owned by the bank was that on which the institution was located and some nearby property which he estimated to be worth $50,000.

The president was on the stand an hour and 20 minutes. His attorney, Gerald Weatherly of Laredo, said Medina would appear again if ordered by the court. Weatherly said he would also appear voluntarily before the grand jury.

"We have nothing to hide," Weatherly told newsmen. "Mr. Medina will cooperate fully with the receivers."

McDonald Says Surety Rate Hike Is Re-Balance

AUSTIN (AP)—A House committee heard Monday an assertion that the $30 million more Texans will pay in auto insurance premiums because of the recent rate increase will not enrich insurance companies that much.

Angus McDonald, chief actuary of the rate-making State Insurance Board, testified Monday before the committee inquiring into the recent increase in auto surety premiums.

Rep. Will Smith asked if insurance companies "broke even, does this mean the companies will make just that much additional profit?" McDonald replied "Absolutely not."

"They will not make any more money than on Jan. 1, 1960, the day the safe driving insurance plan went into effect," McDonald said. The plan raises the premiums of drivers with traffic violations on their record and lowers the rates of drivers with no violations. The actuary said the penalties and bonuses have not balanced out as expected.

McDonald said the board allows for a 5 per cent profit before taxes in figuring company expenses as a factor in rate-making. "If everything comes out like you expect," the companies should net 24 per cent after taxes, he said. Most states also figure 5 per cent profit, McDonald added.

McDonald said auto surety experience in World War II proves safe driving can reduce auto insurance rates.

"Drivers themselves can control the frequency of accidents. In World War II we all began to drive more carefully because we knew that if we wrecked our car we would start walking," he said.

The actuary said this attitude was reflected in fewer accidents and insurance claims. He said insurance rates are based on the loss experience of companies.

The committee is to report back to the House when it completes its investigation. It was set up by a House resolution to determine whether the rate increase, effective Aug. 1, is justified.

Privately-Owned Moons Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a statement of policy, has announced that a U.S. communications satellite system should be owned and operated by private companies—if certain requirements are met.

Among the requirements he laid down was "maximum possible competition."

In his statement Monday Kennedy again invited all nations to join in the space network "in the interest of world peace and closer brotherhood among peoples throughout the world."

He drew up guidelines for business requirements and government responsibility in the program which is still in the research and development stage.

With these guidelines, he said, "I am anxious that development of this new technology to bring the farthest corner of the globe within reach by voice and visual communication, fairly and equitably available for use, proceed with all possible promptness."

The President noted that science and technology have progressed to a degree that communication through the use of space satellites has become possible.

"Through this country's leadership, this competence should be developed for global benefit at the earliest practicable time," he said.

Both industry and government have pressed for a communications satellite, calling it an urgent national objective.

Kennedy said private ownership and operation of "the U.S. portion of the system is favored, providing that such ownership and operation" meet policy requirements.

These include:

A new and expanded international communications system, including service to unprofitable areas; opportunities for foreign participation in the system; effective competition in buying of equipment; structure of ownership or control which will assure "maximum possible competition" and development of an economical system.

The federal government for its part, Kennedy said, will, among other things, conduct and encourage research and development in the field; handle international agreements; provide technical assistance to newly developing nations to help maintain a global system.

Kennedy put policy coordination in the hands of the National Aeronautics and Space Council.

Seattle, Wash. (AP)—"I've been looking for one all my life," said the man credited with discovering Comet Wilson while flying at 29,000 feet off the Oregon coast.

A. Stewart Wilson, 34, of Seattle, second officer on a Pan American World Airways flight from Honolulu, said he was looking casually for the planet Mercury with his binoculars.

Then a wedge of light appeared and narrowed to a point—the head of a comet.

At San Francisco, other airline pilots also reported seeing a mysterious light Sunday and Monday mornings, but Wilson, an amateur star gazer, apparently was first to report it.

When Wilson got home he tried to telephone Harvard Observatory. He couldn't raise anyone so he wired, Monday Harvard reported the discovery and said the name would be Comet Wilson.

The new comet has a long tail and third magnitude brightness, which makes it two to three times dimmer than the North Star but much brighter than the Milky Way.

Harvard said it can be seen in the northeastern sky in early morning.

Midland Woman Describes Events Leading To Deaths

FORT WORTH (AP)—A heart-broke West Texas farm woman, Mrs. Vera Kinsey of Midland, Monday night bared details of a tragic chain of events that led to the death of her ex-husband and four of their five children.

The trouble began, she sobbed to newsmen, when she became pregnant by another man.

This caused Kinsey to sue for a divorce. The 41-year-old Mrs. Kinsey came to a Fort Worth maternity home to have her child which she said had been placed for adoption.

Her anguish was almost unbearable as she waited on a platform for a train to take her back to Midland and her surviving daughter, 15-year-old Vera Louise Kinsey.

Vera Louise was shot in the stomach early Monday when her three brothers and sister were shot to death by their father who then turned the gun on himself.

The girl was reported in good condition at a Midland hospital.

Asked if she would like to get back the baby that was placed for adoption, Mrs. Kinsey said tearfully: "I surely would."

"Mrs. Kinsey related that she had spoken with members of her family on the telephone Sunday night and that she thought, she was going home to a reconciliation with her husband of 20 years.

"We had agreed to be remarried," she sobbed.

She said that in a telephone conversation with her 17-year-old son, James David Kinsey, one of the four children who died in the shooting, the youth told her that her former husband wanted to know if she could bring the baby home with her.

"I told him no, it was too late. The baby had already been placed for adoption," she related.

She then quoted her son as telling her: "Daddy said he would give every penny he has to have that baby."

Mrs. Kinsey then wondered aloud if the knowledge that she was not bringing the baby home with her was the emotional trigger that led to the shootings.

She noted that her ex-husband, Fred Milton Kinsey, had been a mental patient in 1956 or 1957.

Before going to the station for her sad journey home, Mrs. Kinsey spent the day and evening in seclusion at the Fort Worth YWCA with a friend, Mrs. Corine Gray of Llano.

Mrs. Gray, in Fort Worth visiting, said friends in Midland called her and asked that she break the news of the shooting to Mrs. Kinsey.

"I decided that the best thing to do was to take her to a doctor's office to break the news," explained Mrs. Gray.

Mrs. Gray described Mrs. Kinsey as "a hard working honest person who has never had any opportunities."

She explained that much of the family's hardship stemmed from crop failures and economic setbacks. She said Mrs. Kinsey worked at various jobs, including scrubbing floors, to help support her children.

After the breakup of the marriage, she was forced to seek welfare help in Midland, Mrs. Gray said.

More Viet Cong Rebels Slain

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 80 Viet Cong rebels were reported killed in the past week in clashes with government troops.

Thirty-four were killed in a single battle 30 miles east of Saigon. A total of 50 more dead were reported from other sections of the country.

The South Vietnamese liaison mission reported six government patrol boats routed a flotilla of 20 motorized sea junks from Communist North Viet Nam on July 9.

Electric Plant

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Work has begun on a new electric generating plant in Tampico which will have a capacity of 10,000 kilowatts.

Rock-N-Roll Ban Request Rejected

PARIS (AP)—Interior Minister Roger Frey has rejected a request by a Gaullist member of the National Assembly for a ban on rock 'n' roll in France.

Five policemen were injured recently when a rock session got too enthusiastic. The deputy complained that the teen-age craze sometimes caused rowdiness, but Frey said he could see no valid reason for a general ban.

Editor Dies

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—Juel Mosley, 61, managing editor of the Southeast Missourian at Cape Girardeau, died Monday night. He had been ill for some time with throat cancer. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Howard Robb, Orange, Tex.

Shooting Victims

Five Midland County farm children were shot, four fatally, at their home near Midland, apparently by their father, who was also found shot to death. The children are, top left, J. D. Kinsey, 17, and his sister Louise, 15, right. Bottom, left to right: Jay, 8; Johnny, 13; and Lilly, 7. Louise ran wounded to a neighbor's house to tell of the shooting and was taken to the hospital where she is recovering. Police found her brothers, sister and father, Fred Kinsey, dead of bullet wounds.

DEAR ABBY

It's A Long, Tough Grind

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I can remember I have wanted to be an actress. I am 16, and I know I have as much talent as anyone I have seen in the movies. But I can't get anyone to give me a break. Some people say you have to have lessons in dancing, singing, speech and even tumbling. I have read the success stories of all the big stars, and none of them took any lessons. They are just natural-born actresses who were discovered and got a break. Just what does it take to make the grade in Hollywood? I'll do anything. WANTS TO BE A STAR

DEAR WANTS: Don't you believe that all it takes to be a star is a break. Years of hard work and study are required. The dancing, singing, and speech lessons will help you—if you have talent. If you haven't—the tumbling will prepare you for the fall.

DEAR ABBY: My beloved mother passed away a few months ago. From that awful day to this I have not shed one tear—in public. But, oftentimes when I am alone, my grief is uncontrollable.

All along, even at the funeral, I was able to talk about her without becoming emotional. I was the one who comforted my father and the rest of my family while I was being torn apart inside.

I am not looking for sympathy, but some people have said that I am hard and cold and could not have loved my mother very much. Abby, this is not true. I wish people would understand that it is possible to have very deep feelings without making a public spectacle of oneself. Whether you print my letter or not, I want to thank you for giving me someone to tell this to. Just writing this letter has helped me tremendously.

A PRIVATE AFFAIR

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of the following: Am I just old-fashioned, or is it all right for a dog to lick and kiss a small baby in the face and mouth? The baby is so small at present he isn't able to turn his head to protect himself.

I like dogs, but I can't stomach this. I was told by the baby's parents that there is nothing wrong with it. That a dog heals its own wounds this way. This may be true, but am I wrong in feeling this way?

DEAR K.M.: I think you are right. It is a disgusting sight, and who can say at any moment how healthy the dog (or baby) is?

CONFIDENTIAL TO RUTH: If the shoe fits, put it on, take a long walk and think it over.

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cold Vaccine Is A Possibility

LONDON (AP)—The British Medical Research Council reported today a vaccine against the common cold is now a possibility following a scientific breakthrough.

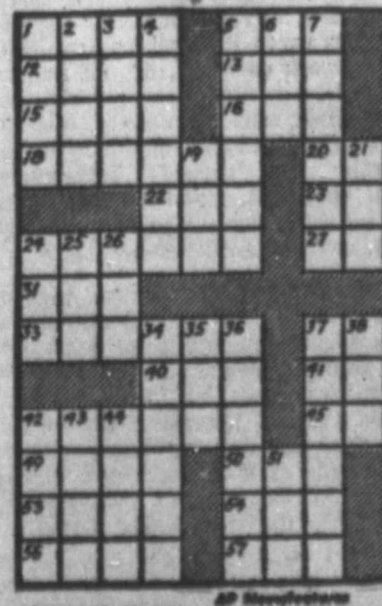

The council said it is collaborating with three commercial drug manufacturers who are working on a vaccine.

Scientists working at the Common Cold Research Laboratory at Salisbury discovered that with modification of the technique of tissue culture, viruses of the common cold could be grown consistently.

But the council cautioned that if many types of cold virus exist, prospects of developing a reliable single vaccine are not so bright.

Old Uzbek Still Shabby, But At Least They Can Cook

By PRESTON GROVER
TASHKENT—Four hours of fast travel aboard a Russian jet brings you from chilly Moscow to this oasis country filled with flowers. And the other differences are greater than the differences between frost and flowers. This actually is a part of the Middle East, although thickly buttered over with Russia.
 On the plane, breakfast was served—roast chicken, canned peas and fried potatoes. That night, in the Europeanized Hotel Tashkent, the dish promoted by the waitress was—roast chicken, canned peas and fried potatoes—all dreadful.
 But next morning it was different. I had been told that the guide didn't like taking foreigners into the old city because it isn't new and shiny. My guide didn't hesitate a second, and off we went. Everything was made of mud, streets were narrow, and many women and men were dressed in the costumes they have worn for centuries.

 The women like bright silk or cotton gowns, Middle East style, and they wear them all the time, bright pinks, bright blues and reds, with their heads covered with gay silk kerchiefs.
 Then we hunted out a place to eat and found a massive difference between the new and the old. The new is Russian. The old is Uzbek, and Moslem in tone.
 Today 60 per cent of Tashkent is Uzbek and this restaurant was Uzbek—and Middle East—unlike the hotel.

 In a sort of open pavilion, just inside where the rain or sun wouldn't reach, were the kitchens. These consisted of shallow metal troughs filled with glowing charcoal. Over the coals was cooked the shashlik, bite-sized pieces of mutton dipped in a dry mixture of mashed grain and finely chopped vegetables and strung on spits.
 In the pavilion only shashlik was served. From a nearby shop we got a pot of tea and wheels of Uzbeki bread, delicious and chewy.
 Such bread begins as a slab of dough; during the baking, a hot iron or brick is pressed into its center. The result is something shaped like a disk wheel on an automobile, the outer bulbous and softish, and the inner baked crisp. In one loaf you get both toast and bread.
 The restaurant was jammed. Every time we went there it was the same. People stroll in and eat at all hours.
 Almost no Russians live in the old city. Almost no Uzbeks live in the new city. It is the new city which runs the business and industry of the place. Under the Communist regime there has been a serious effort to get the Uzbeks into the new atmosphere and it has in part succeeded.

 But this is a Moslem population and it doesn't change fast. There are few women on the streets and most of these are either very young, those who have been emancipated, or very old, and they don't care.

New Idea, Vegetable Sandwiches
 A new idea in finger foods is sweeping the backyard barbecue circle this summer—vegetable sandwiches.
 How delectable they are, offering many combinations of textures and flavors that completely transform ordinary vegetables with little effort.
 This is a good time to exploit your imagination with vegetable sandwiches for "August is Sandwich Month"—a tribute to the farmers who grow wheat and other bread grains as well as a merchandising event designed to help increase the use of man's most basic food—bread.
 You'll find the secret in making sandwiches is in your choice of the right bread, points out the Agricultural Marketing Service.
 For instance, pumpernickel bread, with its sour flavor, dark color and compact texture, is the right foil for green or yellow beans. Use the canned whole beans. Drain and marinate for several hours in an oil and vinegar dressing. Arrange on the bread and sprinkle with sesame seed. Serve open face or topped.
 Whipped mayonnaise, spiced with dill seed, makes a delicious binder for beans, too. Also, it's good with canned and drained asparagus tips on pumpernickel bread.
 Grated carrots, bound together with mayonnaise or cream cheese and spread on plain or toasted white bread make a colorful and crunchy open-face sandwich.
 Nearly all dried beans—pintos, red or navy—simmered until tender, make a good sandwich. Mix the beans, hot or cold, with chopped onions or relish and bind together with catsup.

Paris Shows Longer Skirts

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP)—Longer, flaring skirts and dark browns opened the Paris fall and winter fashion showings Monday when Gres led off the collections.
 Diagonal draping is the main idea of the new Gres show, which she calls the "oblique line." The show failed to live up to its exciting billing as a revolt, almost a revolution. "It was hardly an uprising."
 The skirt drop amounted to no more than two or three inches, and Gres clothes, as always, are anything but eccentric. The tiny, elderly designer who invariably wears a tight-fitting turban, is as much a classicist as Coco Chanel. In effect, Paris is still in the dark about new fashion trends to emerge in the next few days.
 The most original part of the Gres show was provided by the lead-off numbers called "intimacy dresses, created for the secret." This sounded as if it would turn out to be maternally wear but it was dressy at harem harem skirts and pants covered with a sort of brocade sandwich board suspended from the shoulders. Other versions were loosely covered with short capes like priests' vestments.
 Suits were a bit Sloppy Joe, with long unfitted jackets and flaring or wide-pleated skirts. Draped jersey dresses were slim and trim by contrast.
 Gres is crazy about leather ensembles, two colors of fur used together—invariably brown and beige—hoods, and a barely softened version of men's fedora hats. These were worn straight on the back of the head, with slightly rolled brims and flattened crowns.
 Just as Chanel is famous for suits, Gres is renowned for coats. This time they are usually pyramid shaped, fitting only on the shoulders but not really vast. Some are penguin-sleeved, and others have elbow-length tube sleeves.

Couple Leaves Sunday For Trip To Alaska

LAMESA—Mr. and Mrs. H. Carl Hogue of Patricia will embark on a 12,000-mile journey to Alaska on Sunday culminating three years of extensive planning. The trip will be made in a Roamer Coach fitted in the rear of a long-base pickup truck especially purchased for the trip.
 Hogue is a veteran mail carrier, having just begun his 27th year. Mrs. Hogue is a substitute teacher with over 20 years experience, which accounts mainly for at least a year of delay. The trip was planned last summer, but she was called upon to substitute on a route and the journey was postponed.
 The coach contains a double bed in the part built over the cab of the truck and has three windows for ventilation. The living area utilizes every inch of usable space and takes any woman back to the days when she dreamed of a dollhouse.
 A three-burner butane stove is complete with oven and broiler and the miniature butane refrigerator features two doll-size ice cube trays holding enough for two glasses.
 A sink on the opposite wall draws water from a 12-gallon tank or it can be hooked up to regular faucets on overnight stops. Storage space is limited.
 A national magazine has asked to see an article and pictures when the Hogues return. They will keep an itemized expense account for this purpose.

 The couple will turn on to the Alaskan Highway at Dawson Creek, British Columbia. Extra tires and replacement parts for the truck have been packed in case of trouble along the rough stretches of Canadian Highway.

ROUND TOWN With LUCILLE PICKLE

Have you been enjoying the pretty zinnias at the intersection of Marcy Drive and the old San Angelo highway? In the parkways the colorful flowers are in full bloom and make the area much more attractive.
 Progress is certainly noisy. The city street light project is going on behind us, digging post holes and the ditch digging machinery has moved in for the sewer project on our front street. This is only slightly less noisy than last week's activity which was blasting the rock preparatory to the digging.
 But all of our vacation time hasn't been so rowdy. We spent several very quiet days at Mineral Wells and had pleasant visits with hometown folks that we don't see nearly enough. During our visit we learned the OSCAR NABORSSES and the OLLIE ANDERSONS were at our hotel but never saw anyone but Mr. Nabors. Later we had good times with MRS. SHINE PHILIPS and her daughter, CHAMP who lives in El Paso, and MRS. W. W. INKMAN and BILL who were spending several days at the resort before going to Dallas to visit MR. and MRS. BOBBY BOYKIN. They were also planning to attend a performance of Brigadoon.

Their son, BILLY GARDNER, has returned to Idaho where he is working at the research station out of Malia, Idaho, working on his masters degree on agronomy. Billy was with his parents a month before he left. He is a long term student in the University of Idaho at Moscow. He completed work for a BS degree from Texas Tech in 1960 and has worked at the research station on a fellowship last summer and this summer and expects to complete the requirements at this period next year. His project is in range management.
 MR. and MRS. BERT SHIVE and Don have returned from a vacation trip to New Braunfels. During our stay in Mineral Wells we visited briefly with former resident, MRS. T. C. # Par A Major PGA Hurdle

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Par should be highly respected when a field of 169 pros start taking a crack at it Thursday in the 72-hole, stroke-play National Professional Golfers Association tournament.

The 35-35-70 standard over the wooded terrain of Olympia Fields North Course has stood up well in previous big tournaments.

In practice, there are few, if any, golfers who boast of shattering par on the 6,722-yard layout.

Arnold Palmer shot a 69 June 6 to defeat defending PGA champion Jay Hebert by four strokes in climactic National Golf Week. The rough has been allowed to grow since then in a gradual toughening-up process that will put a premium on accuracy.

Palmer and Hebert agreed then that anything from 277 to 280 might be the winning total.

An idea of the trouble the North Course can provide is the 294-14 over-par — aggregate that locked Johnny Farrell and Bobby Jones in a first-place tie of the 1958 USGA Open, Farrell won the 36-hole playoff by one stroke with a 143.

"Of course the wedge wasn't in use in those days," says Olympia Fields veteran pro, Chuck Tanis. "But we've got a lot of trees and they've all grown since then."

Only once has par taken a real whipping on the North Course, Lawson Little did it in 1940.

Palmer is regarded the man to beat in a field which includes champions of 42 of the PGA's co-sponsored tournaments, 15 former PGA winners, 20 leading money winners of the year, 81 National

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT TO STUDY ALL TELEVISION SPORTS PACTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department said today it is undertaking a study of all package television agreements involving organized sports.

The move stems from last week's ruling of Federal District Judge Allan K. Grim of Philadelphia, invalidating the National Football League's $9.3 million, 2-year TV contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Judge Grim said that under the format in which the NFL television rights were delivered to CBS as a package, the individual member clubs "eliminated competition among themselves" in the sale of such rights and so violated a 1951 anti-trust judgment against the league.

In announcing the study of other package TV arrangements, justice officials emphasized that it would be a mistake to attempt to generalize the Grim ruling in relation to other TV contracts.

They noted that although all of these contracts are similar, they are far from identical. Hence the study.

'C Men' Keep Tigers Out Front In Race

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's "C men" — Cash and Colavito — are giving New York's "M men" — Mantle and Maris — a run for batting honors in the American League while Cincinnati's Frank Robinson continues his reign of terror against National League pitchers.

On Sunday it was Norm Cash who supplied the major fireworks in Detroit's double sweep over Kansas City to move the Tigers into first place and Monday night it was Rocky Colavito's turn to supply the heroics.

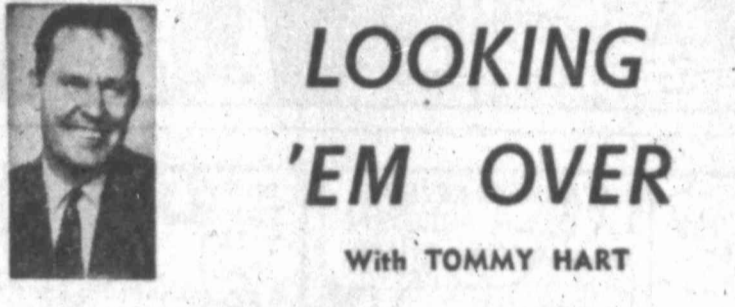

These were the only two regular championship games as most of the major leaguers took time out for the annual Hall of Fame contest at Cooperstown, N.Y. The Dodgers bombed the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2, in the exhibition.

Cash is leading the American League in batting (.363) and RBI (91) and is tied for fifth in homers with 27 in his bid for MVP laurels. Colavito is tied for fourth in RBI with 36, fourth in homers with 28 and is batting .283. Mickey Mantle is third in hitting (.333), first in homers (37) and tied with Colavito in RBI. Roger Maris is second in homers (36), third in RBI (68) and is batting .272.

Robinson, who stretched his consecutive batting streak to 19 games — a National League high for the season — took over the NL's first place in homers (29) and RBI (87), and closed in on batting leader Roberto Clemente with a .349 mark to the Pirate's .358.

The Tigers were trailing 1-0 when Colavito blasted his homer off Jim Donohue (4-4), a former Detroit right-hander. The Angels scored one run in the first on Leon Wagner's sacrifice fly and the other in the seventh on a walk, two singles and an error.

Cash opened the second with a triple but was stranded. In the ninth he walked and scored on Colavito's fifth homer. Al Kaline, another roaring Tiger, singled to extend his batting streak to 17 games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue: RED HICKEY, a member of the San Francisco 49er coaching staff since 1955, now head coach:

"The best ball club we've had since I've been here. They picked us last in 1959; we tied for fifth last year; we tied for second after knocking for the title until the next-to-last game. One of the magazines has us fourth again. We'll see. I'd rather be picked first. They pick you first, it means you got something under the helmets and inside the shoulder pads. In other years, we go into camp looking for help in lots of places. This time we go in solid. These are the guys that won four of our last five. If a rookie breaks in, fine. But they'll have to beat out good men. We're only taking 54 men to camp, instead of the usual 60 or so."

HAROLD (RED) GRANGE, former football All-American: "Athletics should be emphasized in college and athletic scholarships should be restricted. I never received a thing from the University of Illinois, not even a free meal."

LOOK Magazine: "The Little League World Series, any play beyond the local level, should be banned. Playoffs tend to put too much emphasis on competition and gives the youngster a dangerous sense of importance. Among the abuses which have arisen are (1) Juvenile behavior of parents in emphasizing victory at all costs; (2) Little League coaches who desire to win overrides any consideration of sportsmanlike conduct; (3) Too much instruction in playing techniques which tend to turn a youngster into a robot, incapable of thinking for himself."

DANNY McDEVITT, shortly after he joined the New York Yankees as a pitcher, following a tenure in the National League: "I thought Willie Mays was the best; I saw him do it all, but after watching Mickey Mantle, I'm not so sure he isn't better."

COOKIE LAVAGETTO, former Minnesota Twins manager: "When you see a home run decide a game with one swipe of the bat, you wonder if it's worth all the strategy... whether a manager is really necessary. There's too much jackrabbits in the modern ball."

RALPH HOUK, manager of the New York Yankees: "I think our pitching will be better the last half of the season. We're getting adjusted. I look for Bud Daley to do a lot for us. He's a pro. He wants the ball and he wants to keep it and he knows that with a better team behind him, if the ball goes by, they can make the double play. He doesn't feel the pressure anymore of trying to pick perfect ball."

DON TRENARY, Milwaukee scribe: "Nowhere else in sports is there anything quite like a golf crowd. The golf spectator is part mountain goat, part judgment passer and all fan. In the entire sphere of the lively arts, no audience labor harder for its pleasure, nor savors that pleasure more fully. Others sports compress their action into a small, easily seen space. They beguile his spine with comfortable seats. Tournament golf makes no such concessions. The spectator sees what he can from where he can — and many of the best shots are harrum from him... Unless he is content to see only dubs and dabs of action, the golf spectator must be on the move. Baseball fans grumble at a 300 yard walk from a parking lot. If the golf tournament spectator wishes to follow his particular hero, he is expected to — and cheerfully does — hike seven miles a day, often at a dog trot over rough and mosquito-plagued ground."

Warriors Defeat Bucs, 73-56, In Title Game

The Warriors, composed of players who still have eligibility at the local high school, poured on the coals to defeat the Pirates in the YMCA Summer Basketball League championship game in the Goliad Junior High Gymnasium Monday night, 73-56.

The Buccaneers were playing without the services of Ronnie Hamby, one of their leading rebounders, out with an ailing back.

Dick Ebling, leading scorer in the circuit, was limited to four field goals but added 13 gratis pitches to tie a teammate, Jeff Brown, for point-getting honors. Each collected 21 points.

Brown hit 14 of his last 16. Ross Reagan paced the Corsairs with 18 points while Bob Andrews contributed 13.

The Warriors built up an 18-point lead at half time but the Bucs started a comeback after the intermission and cut the deficit to ten points.

Walter Minter and Albert Fierro played standout ball on the boards for the winners. Ebling glided on defense, as did DeeRoby, Gartman, Gartman hit two left-handed hook shots in the last half that were real nifties. He wound up with 15 points.

For the Bucs, Reagan and Andrews rebounded well while Randy Cotton and Rip Patterson were impressive on defense.

The league tournament gets under way this evening, with four teams involved.

The Warriors oppose the Celtics at 7 p.m. while the Royals clash with the Pirates in the 8:15 p.m. engagement.

Finals and the game for third place will be played Wednesday evening, according to present plans.

Grid Annuals About Ready

LUBBOCK — Distribution of Texas Tech football pressbooks to Red Raider Club members will begin Aug. 1, according to Robert (Bob) Walker, president of the organization helping support Texas Tech athletics.

Red Raider Club members are the only persons expert for sportswriters and sportscasters scheduled to receive the 1961 pressbook, Leete Jackson, executive vice president, pointed out. Receiving the 52-page booklet containing the Texas Tech roster, sketches of players and coaches, data on opponents and similar material, is just one of several privileges accruing to Red Raider members, Jackson added.

Among other activities are noon luncheon meetings with the coaches during the football season, a weekly letter from the head coach after each game, and social gatherings.

Contributions from Red Raider Club members help finance athletic scholarships — consisting of tuition, board, tuition, books, and laundry money — and are administered by the college. Details on joining the club — which lists members from several states — may be obtained by writing Box 456, Lubbock, Tex.

Track Team Shows Big Improvement
WARSAW (AP) — The medical report on the crippled United States track team which meets Poland here this weekend began to improve today.

The Poles were almost as happy about it as United States coach Jim Elliott.

"We don't want to go against a team that has a lot of injuries," said one Polish athletic official. "We have been hearing about the troubles the Americans have been having and have been hoping that they would come around."

"If we lose, we want to lose to a good team, and if we win we want to beat the best."

Elliott said he was amazed that the Poles showed such interest in the welfare of his squad.

"Every place I go," he said, "people buttonhole me and ask how our team is doing, if we'll be all right for the meet Saturday and Sunday.

"I tell them all I hope so. We couldn't be in any worse shape than we were against Great Britain last weekend. When the mile relay (the last event on the program) came around, I wasn't worrying so much about winning but just about getting four guys who could stand up."

Kennedy To Unveil U. S. Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy unveils to the nation tonight a broad plan for stepping up defense against the Communist threat to Berlin and throughout the world.

In advance of his 9 p.m. EST radio-TV broadcast, Kennedy scheduled his usual Tuesday morning White House meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

He gave them an opportunity to brief his legislative chiefs on points he will cover in his speech and in a formal message to Congress Wednesday.

But House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., told newsmen after the meeting that the President "didn't tell us what he is going to say tonight." He added that of course he wouldn't tell you "even if the President had discussed his speech.

Informed sources said Kennedy's strategy was set to provide for a step-by-step Western strengthening as Communist pressures mount on Berlin and a long-term increase in ability to counter the Reds should they turn on the heat elsewhere.

This involves a boost in the U.S. preparedness program above the $43 billion Kennedy has already asked for the military this year, bigger arms contributions by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, and further teamwork among the allies in diplomatic, political and economic tactics.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who has announced a big arms build-up, says he will sign a treaty with Communist East Germany at the end of this year. This treaty, the Kremlin chief says, will wipe out the rights of the United States, Britain and France to Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy himself did most of the speech writing as the President and his aides worked on tonight's address.

Among those stopping off at the White House Monday were Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson, who will be in Berlin this week to study the situation there, and other officials.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

The attendance of Dillon and Heller led to speculation that Kennedy might want to raise taxes to cover the expanded program. The President has been reluctant to seek further taxes, on grounds this slows recovery and the economic pickup already under way will bring in added revenues.

One major item in the Kennedy package is civil defense. Informants said the chief executive wants to raise to around $300 million—triple his present budget—the federal outlays for preparedness against any Soviet attack on the United States. This apparently would include large scale installation of shelters against radioactive fallout from atomic blasts.

Military proposals prepared for White House consideration reportedly included stepping up the regular armed forces by 100,000 men or more, including a couple of Army divisions and a Marine division; a higher state of National Guard and reservists preparedness and some rise in weapons production. The Army now has 14 divisions, the Marines 3.

Presumably some of the U.S. military increase would be assigned to toughening West Europe's defenses in concert with the NATO allies.

At present only 22 of the 30 NATO divisions programmed for the central defense of Western Europe are at their positions.

Flow Of German Refugees Slashed

BERLIN (AP)—A Western official said today tightened control by Communist police has succeeded in cutting down the flow of refugees into West Berlin.

"More people are trying to come now," he said, "but fewer are getting through. It used to be that one was stopped by every two that made it, but now it's nearer one-for-one."

Other sources, however, minimized the role of police controls in checking the refugee flow. They pointed out that many who had planned to flee after school ended July 8 have probably made it by now. A large number of young people are among the refugees.

The official, who watches the refugee flow carefully for a Western mission in Berlin, said the numbers arriving are still somewhat above normal even for this peak vacation period.

Over the weekend—Saturday afternoon to Monday afternoon—the arrivals numbered 2,575, but it was nearly 3,000 the weekend before.

The Western official said Communist police seem to be doing everything short of actually stopping trains to check the stream.

Their difficulty is compounded by the fact that Berlin is a main rail transfer point for East Germany and would-be refugees can buy tickets within the country, then flee when they reach there.

Hundreds of subway and elevated trains go from East Berlin to West Germany everyday, and it is virtually impossible to check every passenger on each one.

In addition to troubles with the youth, the Reds are also having difficulties with farmers who insist they want to get out of collectivization.

News Deutschland, the official newspaper of the East German regime, told today of a meeting at Bruenshagen, northwest of Berlin.

The body of Denny Dalrymple, 16, of Waco was recovered Monday night from a flooded creek at San Antonio. He was swept into the stream during a flash flood that followed a Sunday night storm.

Forecasters called for clear to partly cloudy skies through Wednesday with widely scattered afternoon and evening thunder-showers.

Little change in temperatures was expected.

Storms Hit Midwest Areas

Stromy weather hit areas in the Midwest and thunderstorms broke out in scattered sections in the East and South today in the wake of heavy downpours in parts of Texas and Arkansas.

Warm and humid weather clung to wide areas in the eastern third of the nation.

Most severe weather during the night was in northern Missouri, and central and southern Illinois. Heavy rain, hail and high winds hit wide sections as a belt of thunderstorms moved into the region. Tornado winds were reported in the Chester, Ill., area southeast of St. Louis.

Flash flooding was expected along some rivers and streams in southern Illinois and eastern Missouri.

Thunderstorms also rumbled across extreme southern Indiana and northern Kentucky, in scattered sections in the Northeast and in the west-central Plains states.

Rainfall during 24 hours at Dierks, in southeast Arkansas, measured 10.67 inches and 9.4 inches at Carter's Valley, Tex.

Temperatures were 70 or higher in the muggy air in most of the eastern third of the nation, excluding the Great Lakes region. Similar readings were reported in the Plains states.

Mayor Subjected To Abuse By Mob Over Parking Issue

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An angry, jeering crowd of 2,000 persons hurled rocks and eggs and shouted profanity at Mayor Richard Dilworth Monday night at a trial to defend his controversial 40-a-year parking fee plan.

Several persons were injured, including Councilman Gaetano P. Jordano who opposes the plan. Jordano, a Democrat as is Dilworth, represents the South Philadelphia district where the mayor wants to set up the experimental plan. He pleaded with the crowd to hear the mayor out. He suffered a cut eye when hit by either rock or flying glass thrown in the school auditorium where the mayor spoke.

Some of the crowd smashed the rear window of a police car in which two boys who had been arrested were placed. Several persons smashed five windows of the car of Edward Lain, 21, a newsman for television station WRCV. All available highway patrolmen were sent to reinforce 40 regular officers who had been detailed to the meeting.

Dilworth was led from the stormy meeting by police and driven to his Society Hill home where officers stayed on guard overnight. He said "a small core of about 10 to 12 young fellows seemed to trigger it all."

The outcry of "Let's crash it" by a group of 10 husky youths reportedly touched off the violence outside the auditorium. There were about 500 persons inside the auditorium and 1,500 others outside in the schoolyard.

From the outside crowd came a barrage of rocks and bottles which crashed through panes of glass in the auditorium. Radio stations WRCV and WCAU were cut off from their remote broadcasts when telephone lines were ripped off. One group tried to overturn a mobile radio car. Dilworth's wife standing by him, declared that he was "going to say what I've come to say regardless of what you do."

"Down with Dilworth," shouted the crowd.

The mayor shouted himself hoarse and never did finish his prepared text in which he defended his plan by saying that "the problem with which we are faced is the problem of the automobile threatening to engulf our city."

Protests have mounted since Dilworth announced his plan for an area covering 16 streets. Car owners would have to pay the fee to park their cars either on the streets or in a municipal parking lot. Parking is free in the area now, but prohibited on one side of the street.

Grady, The Silo-Loving Cow, Dies At Age Of 18

YUKON, Okla. (AP) — Grady the cow, a 1,300-pound Hereford who jumped through a 17 by 25-inch silo feed door into national prominence 12 years ago, died Monday not far from the silo where she spent four confusing years.

Her owner, Bill Mach, said the 8-year-old cow "just got tired and died of old age." Mach found Grady dead in her corral on his ranch Monday night.

Grady jumped into the silo on Washington's Birthday in 1949, after having a hard time giving birth to a calf which died.

For the next four days, Grady paced inside the silo, John Randolph, Associated Press staff member at Oklahoma City at the time and now AP general executive for Asia, was one of the first reporters on the scene.

"From the time Randolph wrote 'Fiddle diddle, the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped into the silo,' until Grady oozed her way out of her prison, the 6-year old bovine held the nation's attention.

Before Grady was freed, Mach heard from folks in 45 states and several foreign countries.

"she can be relaxed and put back through the little door."

An Air Force officer said the Army had a helicopter that could lift Grady out of the silo. This plan didn't materialize.

Some people wanted to dismantle a portion of the silo. There were a block of advocates of greasing Grady so she could squirm through the opening once a little pressure was applied from behind.

One of the grease advocates was Ken Toolil, executive editor of the Toledo (Ohio) Times. Toolil, who was appointed Times' cow editor during Grady's hectic experience, added a new twist by suggesting she be put on a strict diet for a few days before greasing.

The greasers won. Ralph Partridge, Denver Post farm editor, flew here and smeared the fidgety cow with about 10 pounds of axle grease. A veterinarian gave her a sedative to calm her nerves.

A larlat was looped around her dehorned head and manpower was supplied from behind. After a few minutes, Grady caught on, wiggled her hips a couple of times and squeezed through.

Grady settled down, lived quietly afterwards and gave birth to several healthy calves.

She also stayed away from silos.

Water Service To Get Study

A study and consideration of a report, prepared by Forrester and Cotton, consulting engineers, concerning water service to the southwest area of Big Spring, will take a go-round of the city commission's time at the regular meeting today at 5:15 p.m.

The proposed development, being handled by E. C. Smith, lies above the high service area for water, and poses a problem for the city and the developer.

The commission will also consider a request to sell two acres of land out of the Boy Scout lease in Section 18, southeast of Big Spring, to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the purpose of erecting a general assembly building and service area.

The fourth and final reading of an ordinance annexing a portion of Wason Drive in Southwest Big Spring, will also come up at the meeting. The city proposes to annex the area to provide right of way for a new water line.

MANZANILLO, Mexico (AP)—Four Japanese coast guard vessels have arrived here for a courtesy visit. They also will visit Acapulco.

Cop Wants His Job Back

BEAUMONT (AP)—Beaumont's dismissed chief of detectives, Jim Stafford, takes his turn in district court today in an effort to get back his job with the police department.

Chief of Police Willie Bauer suspended Stafford Feb. 10 on charges of neglect of duty and conduct not prejudicial to good order.

The following month the Civil Service Commission upheld the suspension and ordered Stafford dismissed. Stafford appealed his case.

The case is being tried in Judge Harold Clayton's court without a jury. The jurist explained that the "question involved is one of law, not of fact."

The City Civil Service Commission Monday rested its case after calling five witnesses. M. H. Oldham, attorney for Stafford immediately made a motion for re-instatement, but Judge Clayton overruled it.

Much of Monday's testimony was repetition of testimony presented during the civil service hearing March 3.

Stafford's attorney has subpoenaed 17 witnesses, including three former Beaumont mayors, Jimmy Kokinos, Elmo Bear and Otto Plummer.

William Hubbard Jr., a student at Rice University doing summer research work at the McDonald observatory near Fort Davis, saw the comet while watching the satellite Echo through a telescope.

Stewart Wilson of Seattle, Wash., first reported it July 23.

Federal Grants To Texas Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Urban Renewal Administration said today the Texas State Department of Health will receive $14,820 in federal grants to aid 20 Texas communities, Orange and Post, in the preparation of plans for their growth and development.

The federal grants, $8,070 for Orange and $6,750 for Post, with an equal amount of local funds will finance necessary planning work.

Just Out Of The Machine

C. B. South, an owner of Quick Clean Center, 1208 Gregg, demonstrates the proper procedure customers should follow when removing clothes from the dry cleaning machines in the establishment. To avoid wrinkling, clothes should be hung up immediately after the washing cycle has stopped.

The new machines, which clean fabrics in a dry solvent to remove grease and dirt, are the first of their kind to be installed in Big Spring. The center will have eight. Each machine will clean up to a 10-pound load at a cost of $1.75 per load.

Cops Cut Up Cuties' Capers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bongos and beer negot a bit of bodiam by the bay Sunday.

Barefoot and bearded, 30 beatniks were lounging at Aquatic Park, sipping suds and thumping their bongos.

When six gals clad in bikinis started dancing to the bongos, hundreds of spectators mobbed the area. Outraged housewives phoned police.

The mob dispersed as police squad cars arrived, leaving three bongo drums, eight froggy sun-bathers and hundreds of beer cans. The eight were booked on charges of drunkenness, profanity and interfering with the law.

Win Doubles

Major Crime Every 15 Seconds, Is FBI Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were more serious crimes in the United States last year than in any year in history, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported. The surge of lawlessness reflected an astounding 98 per cent increase over 1950, he said.

By the FBI's crime clock there was a murder every 58 minutes. A forcible rape every 34 minutes.

An aggravated assault every 4 minutes.

A robbery every 6 minutes.

These chilling statistics shaped the pattern of violence in 1960 with a serious crime committed every 15 seconds or a total of 1,961,300.

Hoover noted in the big rise in crime over 1950 that the population increase for the decade was only 15 per cent.

The FBI data, published in the annual "Uniform Crime Reports," covered information supplied by more than 7,700 police agencies, and showed that 1960 topped 1959 by 14 per cent in murders, forcible rapes, robberies, aggravated assaults, burglaries, auto thefts and larcenies of $50 or more.

Crimes against property, Hoover said, were in general even more frequent, with a burglary every 39 seconds, a major larceny every minute, a car theft every two minutes.

By major categories, robberies and burglaries were each up 18 per cent over 1959, larcenies 14 per cent, auto thefts 9 per cent. Murders had a sharp 6 per cent rise. Aggravated assaults increased by 5 per cent and forcible rapes by 3 per cent.

There were 3,640 arrests for each 100,000 persons during the year with city arrests running at about three times the rural rate.

In this connection, Hoover said, police last year cleared 70 per cent more cases by arrest than they did in 1959, and court convictions mounted by 42 per cent. Also, he said "effective police work" resulted in the recovery of 32 per cent of the estimated $570 million in loot taken by thieves in 1960.

The FBI director said these results were obtained in spite of the fact that the number of police employees remained at about the same level last year as for the year before. He appealed to every community to provide local law enforcement with "sufficient manpower, adequate salaries, professional training and men who have the respect of the community and pride in their department."

The report listed 48 police officers killed in the line of duty last year, 38 of them at the hands of killers.

The report showed that arrests of juveniles have more than doubled since 1950 while the population between the ages of 10 and 17 increased by less than half.

Entry Applications Out For Annual County Junior Rodeo

The Sixteenth Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo, sanctioned and approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association, will be staged at the Rodeo bowl west of town on the nights of Aug. 19, 20 and 21.

Jimmy Taylor, county agent and general superintendent for the annual show, said that application blanks have been dispatched to performers and that initial entries are expected to begin arriving.

The rodeo will be divided into sections determined by the ages of the contestants with like events in each age bracket, Taylor said.

Three added events for youngsters 14 years of age and younger will be included on the program.

Only in the boy's division, ages 16 through 19, will bareback bronc riding and bull riding be included.

Entries will be closed at 5 p.m. Aug. 9. Entry fees must accompany the entry forms and each youngster is required to attach an affidavit by his parents affirming the information included in the entry application is true and releasing the association from all responsibility in event the young contestant meets with an accident or injury.

Two go-rounds are slated in all roping and racing events and one go-round in riding events. The all-around champion will be determined by the boy or girl winning the most points in two or more events.

All entry fees will be paid back. Buckles will be given the riders with the best average time and highest score in each event and a saddle will be presented to the all-around champion.

County Makes One ROW Deal

W. D. Burks, owner of 566 acre of land adjacent to US 87 and needed for right of way, Monday reached an agreement with the county commissioners. An easement was signed and Burks was paid $675 for his land.

This is the only agreement reached on right of way tracts on the road.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, said that he was endeavoring to organize a special commission of appraisers to set values on the land yet to be acquired. Condemnation proceedings have been prepared against the owners.

Carpenter said that one commission would be asked to act on all of the tracts yet to be signed with the exception of the Big Spring State Hospital.

Carole Undergoes Surgery For Tumor

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—Carole Tregoff, 24, convicted with Dr. R. Bernard Finch of the 1959 murder of his wife, has undergone surgery for removal of a tumor. The operation was performed 11 days ago.

The superintendent of the state institution for women here, Mrs. Irvine Carter, said Monday the tumor was non-malignant. It was discovered during examinations of Miss Tregoff when she entered the prison last April to begin a life sentence.

Finch, Miss Tregoff's lover, is serving a life term at San Quentin.
