

NAACP Leader Wins New Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the Los Angeles chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has won a new trial on a charge he interfered with police officers trying to arrest a Negro woman.

Municipal Judge Vernon W. Hunt ordered the retrial Thursday. But he refused to set aside Edward D. Warren's conviction on a second charge—that of failing to obey officers' orders to leave the scene.

Police said they were trying to arrest the woman on a drunk charge June 3 when the incident occurred.

Warren will be retried on the interference charge Aug. 29. He will be sentenced on the disobedience count Sept. 12.

DEAR ABBY

Fourth Time Is Charm?

DEAR ABBY: Please don't tell me to see a psychiatrist because I have already been to one, and he said I was sane.

I have been married and divorced three times since 1951—each time to the same man. I wish we had the money we spent on lawyers. Right now we are divorced, and considering marriage again. I feel like a crazy kid. We have no children, so that's not the reason we keep going back together. I can't get interested in anyone else, and he is the same way. If he doesn't call me up before going to bed, I call him, and we talk for hours. I really want to marry him again, but I am afraid of what people will say. Can you help me make up my mind? I am 34 and he is 37.

Yarborough Asks Death Penalty For Airliner Hijacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., has proposed that piracy of airplanes at gun point be made a crime punishable by death.

Shortly after learning of the attempt of gunmen to take over a Continental Air Lines plane at El Paso, the senator prepared a statement to make on the Senate floor.

"This banditry, if continued, will ultimately ground the American air fleet, because passengers will simply refuse to ride planes if communist bandits are permitted to seize them at will," he said in the statement.

Will History Repeat Itself With Flying Shotgun Guards? Possible But Not Likely

By The Associated Press
Is it possible that jet airliners soon will carry "shotgun" riders like stagecoaches of the Old West?

Possible, but not imminently probable. Most of the nation's hijack-harassed airlines indicate they would arm their crews only as a last resort.

Officials at the nation's airports where passengers are beginning to cast suspicious glances at their fellow travelers, indicate they're not sure what measures to take.

There have been no indications, however, that citizens are avoiding air travel simply because of fear they might find a hijacker in the next seat.

The Federal Aviation Agency Thursday authorized the arming of crews following the attempted hijacking of a Continental Airlines plane at El Paso, Tex.—the third such incident since May 1.

One company, American Airlines, stated it was flatly "against arming any members of our crews." The Airline Pilots Association also lined up against the suggestion.

Not quite so definite were Trans World Airways, Eastern Air Lines and Pan American World Airways. All said they were studying the FAA authorization.

Almost all told of stepped-up security measures. American Airlines said all pilots' compartments are being locked in flight. In addition, passengers are being scrutinized closely both on the ground and in the air.

Another airline, which declined to be identified, said it was studying the possibility of installing closed circuit television aboard planes to aid in detecting suspicious actions of passengers.

The nation's airports indicated they were looking to the federal government for a guiding hand. Forty of 50 airports reported they took no additional security precautions after the latest attempted hijacking.

LeMay Spurned Senator's Chair

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, once declined appointment as a U.S. Senator from Ohio, it was brought out in the Senate Thursday.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio mentioned the incident in paying tribute to LeMay on the Senate floor. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, later confirmed that when he was Ohio governor in 1945 he met LeMay at the Columbus airport and told him the appointment to replace resigning Sen. Harold Burton, was his if he wanted it.

LeMay said he wanted time to think about it and later told Lausche he could "best serve his country in the military, and not in politics," and turned down the appointment.

LUMP IN MY THROAT

DEAR LUMP: Don't marry each other again until you both sit down with a clergyman, or a competent counselor, and try to determine why your past marriages have failed. If you can discuss your past mistakes objectively, and profit from them, your chances for a shatter-proof marriage are excellent. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am eleven years old, and I don't have a boy friend yet. I have had my eye on a certain boy for a long time, but I am not making any headway with him. He is 12 and I think he likes me but is too bashful to show it. Everybody says I am cute and smart. He wears a ring, and I would like to get it. Can you help me?

DEAR CUTE: What's the rush? There is only trouble ahead for the girl who wants to get a hand on her finger before she gets the hand of her teeth. Slow up, Honey. You are much too young for such notions.

DEAR ABBY: My two small children and I live with my parents. My father tells my 6-year-old son that he must shake hands, instead of kissing him, before he goes to bed; that he may kiss women, but "big boys do not kiss men." Mother and I feel that my son should be allowed to kiss his grandfather, who must act as a substitute father in this case. My own father kissed his son (my brother) until he was in his teens, and I don't think there was anything wrong with it. How do you feel about this?

DEAR YOUNG MOTHER: There is no reason why a six-year-old child shouldn't kiss his grandfather.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAC: A "guilty conscience" doesn't always prevent people from doing things. It just prevents them from enjoying it.

Border Patrolman Disarmed Hijacker

By MARK DEERING and DON LUND
El Paso Times Staff Writers
Written For The Associated Press

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Leonard W. Gilman, 43, played the hero's role Thursday in subduing two gunmen who hijacked a continental Airlines Boeing 707 and held local and federal police at bay for almost 10 hours.

"The elder gunman was saying, 'I would sooner commit suicide than to turn myself into the authorities,'" Gilman said in an interview Thursday night. "He seemed to be getting hysterical."

"That's when I made my move. I caught him behind the ear and threw a full nelson on him to keep him from getting to the two guns in his hip pocket."

Francis Crosby, FBI agent in charge of the El Paso office, who was in the plane at the time, jumped the younger hijacker and it was all over.

TOLD STORY
Gilman, associate deputy regional commissioner in charge of operations of the U.S. Border Patrol out of San Pedro, Calif., told this story:

"When the two gunmen took over the plane they found out I was an officer and they searched me immediately for a gun. After that they kept a close watch on me."

"One of the women became hysterical and began crying. I told her we would see that she got off all right. That's when I talked the hijackers into letting the passengers off."

"I volunteered to be a hostage if they let the rest of the passengers go. When they started to take off from the field, they made the hostages move to the middle compartment of the plane. Then they made us fasten our safety belts."

Fantastic Plane Scheme Shocks Bandits' Homefolks

COOLIDGE, Ariz. (AP)—The fantastic scheme of an itinerant car salesman and his teen-age son to swipe a $5 million jet airliner and fly it to Cuba shocked their family and friends.

"Ordinary, likeable citizens," was the consensus of Arizona acquaintances of Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cody, 16. The two are held at El Paso, Tex., on federal charges of hijacking a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet and kidnapping its 67 passengers and six crew members.

Most puzzled of all by Thursday's escape was Bearden's wife, Mary Ruth, 36.

She told newsmen in her modest Coolidge home her husband never mentioned Cuba, expressed no interest in airplanes, jet or otherwise, and didn't have any guns around the house.

Father and son left Coolidge by Greyhound bus Wednesday night without telling her their plan, she said.

"I really didn't know where they were," she said. "I didn't even wonder. We don't have any secrets from each other."

"He's been such a good husband and a good father. He never runs around. He plays tennis with me and the children all the time." She said Cody is a regular boy

Fund Needed For Retired Teachers Town

AUSTIN (AP)—A kickoff sum of $200,000 is needed for a housing community for retired Texas teachers.

The Texas State Teachers Association budget committee heard a request for the money Thursday.

The housing project will cost $1 million. The request for one-fifth that sum was made by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson on behalf of the board of trustees of the Texas Retired Teachers Residence Corporation.

Wilson asked that the TSTA, either set aside $200,000 in its budget, or $1 per year from each member's dues for a 10-year period.

A government loan would finance the rest of the cost. A site for the project has not been selected.

"We are under an obligation to provide comfortable and secure surroundings for the people who have dedicated themselves to teaching our children," Wilson said.

Residents of the community will be retired Texas teachers and their wives or husbands who are 65 or older.

A registered nurse will serve full-time. Infirmary facilities will be built in.

The project is a memorial to the late Dr. Henry Stilwell, president of Texarkana Junior College and past president and legislative representative for TSTA.

GAMBLING

By T. E. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 30
P.O. Box 1383

In the curse placed upon Adam for his sin, we have our first teaching against gambling and idleness.

The Lord said, "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return to the ground; for out of it wast thou taken..." (Gen. 3:19)

Man is to earn his living. In gambling there is no fair exchange of values. The gambler does not give "value returned" for what he wins. The Bible principle of Gen. 3:19 is violated.

Experience has shown that the Lord's way is best. All civilized nations have, at one time or another, legislated against gambling; thus showing that they recognized it as an evil. Christians cannot afford to give their approval to that which is a proven evil, and that which is against Bible principles.

Christians are to let their light so shine that others may see their good works and come to glorify their God. (Matt. 5:16)

Barefoot Maharaja Leads Bride Around To Complete Wedding

By HENRY S. BRADSHER
BHARATPUR, India (AP) — The heavy gold sari that covered her face and draped her bare feet was knotted at one corner to the silk scarf of the Maharaja.

His emeralds, decorating his feather-topped turban and hanging from his ears and circling his neck, glistened in the flickering light as he led her around the fire. Hindu priests chanted prayers in sanskrit.

In the steamy night outside a Central Reserve Police band played British military tunes.

With the seventh step as they circled the holy, purifying fire, the marriage became irrevocable.

As the step was taken, an unshaven South Indian Brahmin priest said in sanskrit on behalf of the veiled bride: "Sir, today I gained the full object of human life as I secured the highest kind of friendship with you. I will remember the oaths just taken and adore you sincerely with my full heart."

Col. His Highness Brajendra Sawal Brijendra Singh, the Maharaja of Bharatpur, was thus wed to Kumari Sushila-Lakshamani-Avaru, daughter of Sardar and Sardar Rani T. B. Subba Rajurs of Mysore.

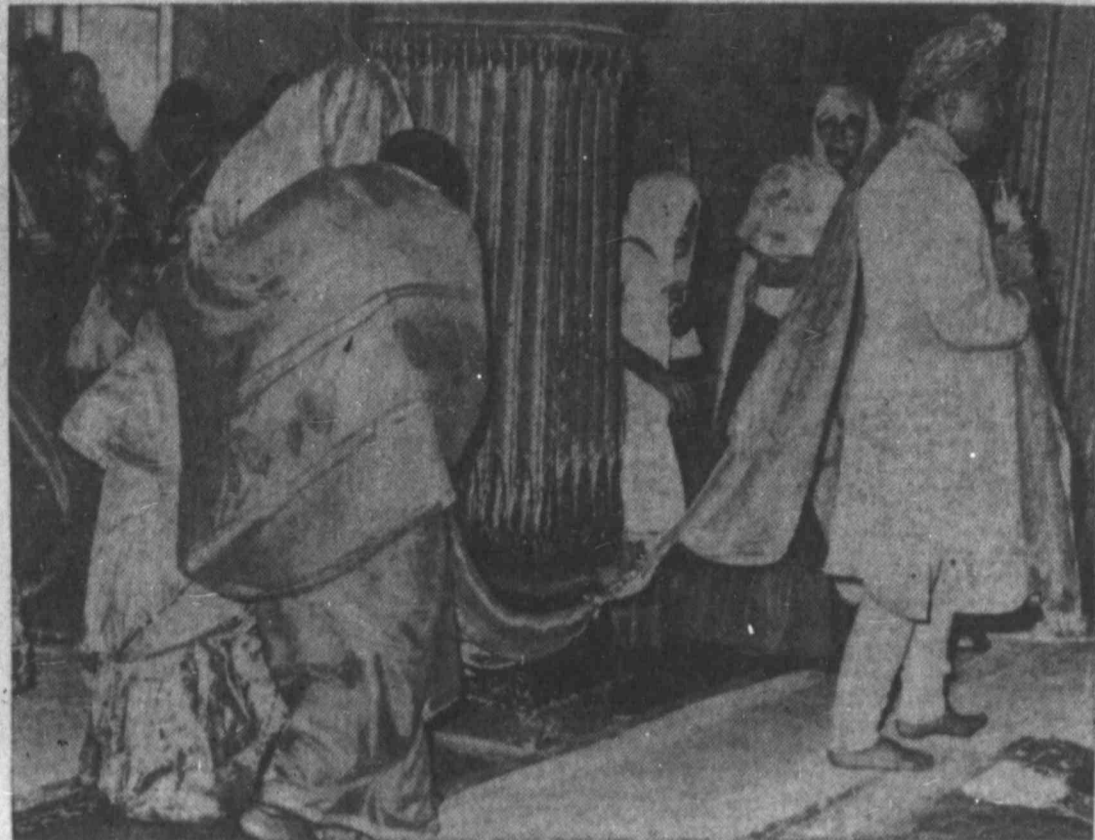

NO EASY MATTER
The two-hour, 40-minute marriage ceremony was only part of days of Hindu rituals. A Hindu wedding is a complicated undertaking, especially for a Maharaja.

Bharatpur State, 100 miles south of New Delhi, was carved out of the collapse of the Moghul Empire in India in the early 18th century. Like other princely states, it was absorbed into independent India in 1948 and the Maharaja no longer rules. He still looks and lives like a Maharaja however.

A 43-year-old widower, he has three daughters and one grandson. The Maharaja of Mysore arranged his second marriage to a 23-year-old member of the Mysore nobility.

FULL POTS
The day before the wedding, women of the Maharaja's household asked the gods for prosperity for the couple in the form of full pots. From the palace in the massive old Bharatpur fort, the women in bright saris went out to paint religious symbols on a potter's wheel.

The ceremony involved carrying

Marriage Is Final

The barefoot Maharaja of Bharatpur walks around the fire, his silk shawl tied to the gold sari which shrouds his bride, Kumari Sushila-Lakshamani-

Avaru, as a part of their marriage ceremony. The bride had to be led because of the sari which covers her face.

ing pots on their heads the way Indian village women bring water from the well, but the Maharaja's family never had to learn this chore. His sister had trouble balancing three stacked pots on her head. And, since their falling would mean disaster for the new-laws, men helped hold them up.

Out at one of two country palaces where the bride party was staying, priests from Mysore prepared the bride for future life with a two-hour ceremony. That evening the men of her family performed a ritual walk from the palace gate to the door to clear the area of evil spirits.

In India the bridegroom goes to the bride's house to be married, often to a woman selected by his parents whom he has never seen.

PURITY AND PIETY

On the wedding morning the Maharaja went through a symbolic purifying ceremony at his fort palace, received presents from the bride's family to ensure he did not decide at the last minute to forsake the worldly life for religious celibacy in Banaras, gave a holy cow to a Brahmin as an act of piety, and set out for the bride's house.

According to tradition he rode a horse. After 75 yards, however, the Maharaja switched to one of his Rolls Royces. After a long pause at another palace he arrived at the bride's palace in another Rolls—the 1920 one.

The astrologer, who governs all such events in India, had studied his and her horoscopes and said the most auspicious time to begin the wedding ceremony was between 6:43 and 8:43 p.m. The Maharaja, holding his sword in front of him, arrived at 6:15, touched the sword to the doorway as a sign of fighting his way in to claim his bride, and took his seat cross-legged on a cushion.

To his left was a neatly mustached Brahmin priest from Bharatpur, on his right the unshaven Mysore priest, in front a fireplace of painted bricks in which dried cow dung—the main fuel of village kitchens—was used to start a fire.

The bride arrived at 7:05, led blindly under her sari veil and awkwardly because of her Bharatpur skirt with 80 yards of material. The ritual began with her and the Maharaja standing with bare feet in pots of sand while a priest chanted invocations for them to step together.

STRANGE EARRINGS
Her veil, which shut out what little air was stirring and left her sweltering, was raised only three times by the Maharaja. At these times curtains were drawn around the ceremony. Priests and family members inside saw a large pearl piece hanging from the left side of her nose and connected by a jeweled cord to her left earring.

After the wedding a musical program was held for the guests. They included members of other princely families and a minister from the Indian government that succeeded Maharaja's rule.

Party Is Given For Bride-Elect

A dessert bridge party given Thursday afternoon in the K. H. McGibbon home, was a pre-nuptial hospitality for Sherry Lurtling, who is to be married Aug. 18 to Frank Bolen Powell.

Hostesses for the party were Kay McGibbon and Lynn Anderson.

Pink and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors were featured on the serving table and in the party appointments. A gift of crystal in her selection was the hostesses' presentation to Miss Lurtling.

A high score tie was made by Judi Simpson and Mrs. Jake Morgan in the games, played at five tables.

An out-of-town guest was Becky Fisher of Warsaw, Ind.

Parents of the engaged couple are Dr. and Mrs. Fred Lurtling, 608 W. 16th, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Powell, 900 Mountain Park Drive.

September Luncheon Discussed

First plans for the fall meeting of the Hyperion Council were discussed at the home of Mrs. John Taylor Thursday afternoon, when representatives from the six units met.

Tentative date for the luncheon was set for Sept. 28, with the place to be announced.

Responsibility for arranging the program lies with members of the 1946 Hyperion Club; members of the 1953 and 1958 Clubs will select the location and arrange for the menu.

Decorations will be under the direction of the 1905 and 1939 Hyperion Clubs.

Reservations will be requested two days before the affair is to take place.

Duplicate Games Will Be Played For Masterpoint

Masterpoint play in duplicate bridge games was announced for Aug. 10 at the games held in the Officers' Club, Webb AFB, Thursday.

Ten tables were filled with players, who were led in scores by Fern Wells and Mrs. Fern Durham, first in north-south play; Maj. T. C. Weil and Grover Cunningham, Jr., were second; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Anne Har- day, third; Mrs. Lloyd Nalls and Mrs. Rogers Hefley, fourth.

East-west winners were Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, first; Mrs. J. H. Holloway and Ralph Wilson, second; Mrs. Jim Chaney and Mrs. Leon Kinney, third; Andy Just and Jack Genewicz, fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cochran, 700 Nolan, are planning a three-week vacation. They will go first to Minneapolis, Minn., for the Eagles National Convention and then tour the Great Lakes area. They will stop at Niagara Falls and then go on to New York to visit their children, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant. Before returning home, they will take a tour of Washington.

Wesley WSCS Votes Daughter

Circle of the Wesley Methodist WSCS met Tuesday morning at the church for business. The group voted to accept Pat Dillon, missionary, as the conference daughter.

Mrs. W. D. Lovelace opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs. Royce Womack gave the devotion on brotherhood. Two members were appointed to fill vacancies caused by two resignations at the last meeting. Mrs. Womack was chosen as promotion secretary and Mrs. Richard Chase as youth secretary.

It was announced that Mrs. Darrell Wright will take the place of Mrs. Jerry Allen, president, who will go to France with her husband and reside there from two to six months. Announcement also was made that future meetings will be held in the church's new parlor. Mrs. E. R. Cawthorn dismissed the 13 attending with prayer.

Five Toes Variety Noted In Fall Footwear Fashions

Fashion is on its five toes this fall—in new shapes and elegant leathers.

Reflecting the first basic change in women's shoe fashions in three years, the shoes unveiled at the recent press preview of fall footwear, ranged from the still popular pointed toe to the broad square spade toe. Fall's five shoe shapes actually break down into three families: the familiar pointed toe silhouette; the crescent—

Peacetime Record Arms Fund Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today voted a peacetime record $46,948,292,000 for defense. The rollcall was a unanimous 85 to 0.

The bill now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate increases of more than $4 billion. The House had approved the annual defense money bill June 23, well ahead of the mounting crisis over West Berlin and before Kennedy's appeals last week to the nation and the Congress to toughen the combat forces.

The money is for the government fiscal year which began July 1. It also earmarked $448 million to press development of the huge jet B70, designed to fly three times the speed of sound and be an eventual successor to the B52.

District Committee Makes Medicine For Scout Program

District committeemen made medicine Thursday evening for a revitalizing of the Scouting program in the autumn.

Enrollment is at 1,110 boys in the district, down slightly from the 1,175 a year ago when Martin County, since detached, was part of the district. Joe Jackson, chairman of organization and extension, said his committee was seeking more manpower to press for organization of new units and in strengthening faltering ones.

The advancement picture was spotted, reported Elmer Tarbox, with Cubbing showing sharp gains and the Scouting gain in ranks falling off.

Whing Ding Begins Today

One hundred twenty-five Explorer Scouts from the Big Spring, Midland, Odessa district rolled into Webb AFB this morning for a three-day "Whing-Ding."

The schedule calls for a full day both Friday and Saturday. At 2:30 p.m. Friday, they will assemble on the line to watch the review of troops, and the parade.

Friday night, the Explorers will be the guests of the commander at the graduating exercises to be held in the Academics Auditorium for Class 62A.

Miss Bratcher Seeks Title

Following the graduation the graduates will go to the Officers Club for the class reception. The Explorer Scouts will remain at the auditorium for a talent show. Each troop will stage a skit for the entertainment of the visitors.

Miss Joan Bratcher, this year's Miss Big Spring, is in Beaumont this weekend competing with other beauties from across the state for the title of Miss Texas.

The winner will be selected Saturday night, and will join contestants from the 59 states and Puerto Rico later this year in Atlantic City, N.J., for the Miss America crown.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas folklorist J. Frank Dobie recently remarked to Editor Edward Weeks of Atlantic Monthly magazine that his banker would honor his check on anything—even a wooden roof shingle.

The other day Dobie received through the mail a 10x18-inch shingle with a note reading: "Try this shingle on your banker."

Dobie did, in payment for library books, and Capital National Bank honored it, as Dobie observed. "How the bank runs that check through its complicated bookkeeping machinery is the bank's problem."

Flight Of Refugees Gives E. Reich Economic Willies

By JOHN BAUSMAN
BERLIN (AP)—For the past 12 years police of Communist East Germany have been tramping up to abandoned homes, fixing a seal on the door and preparing to auction the household goods.

They are the homes of people who left just about everything behind to flee to the West.

Since 1948, when the Communist regime was set up in Soviet-occupied Germany, more than 2,600,000 persons have come to the West. They give continued evidence of discontent with Communist rule. They are key figures in recurrent Berlin crises.

The vast majority of these refugees funnel through West Berlin, a far easier escape route than trying to cross the tightly guarded iron curtain border that divides East and West Germany.

WESTERN ISLAND
West Berlin, still occupied by the Atlantic Allies of World War II, is an island of Western territory 110 miles inside that barbed-wire barrier. The refugee who makes his way to East Berlin has little trouble getting to the Western side via subway or elevated train. From there he is flown to West Germany, skipping border controls on the land route.

The Communists would love to close this escape route. For years the East Germans, with Soviet backing, have been seeking control of all routes to and from Berlin.

The flight of refugees makes East Germany the only modern industrial nation in the world with a declining population.

It has serious effects on the country's economy. More than half the refugees are between 18 and 45, the most active and productive years of a worker's life. Another 20 per cent are in the still important productive years of 45 to 65.

LESSER NUMBER
Children and people over 65 account for the remainder, with the older group amounting to less than 10 per cent.

The refugees are a cross-section of life, with industrial workers and laborers forming the biggest group. There are farmers, tradesmen, housewives, students and such highly trained people as doctors, engineers and teachers.

This last group of intellectuals and experts is a small part of the total refugee flood, but one that hurts the Communists. In the six-year period from 1954 to 1960, East Germany lost 35,000 intellectuals, including 14,000 engineers and 4,000 doctors and dentists. Western sources estimate the number of patients per doctor in East Germany is up to about 1,400 compared to 700 in West Germany.

And many a skilled worker refugee has amused himself with the thought of how tough it will be for his old Communist bosses to find a replacement. Besides being an economic drain, the refugee stream is an embarrassment to the Reds. It leaves no doubt that people are dissatisfied with communism.

VOTE WITH FEET
"These people can't vote in a free election, so they are voting with their feet," commented a Berlin refugee official, using a popular German phrase.

Heartening as this is to the West, official West German policy is not to encourage flight.

"We cannot strip that part of Germany of its best people. We say 'Stay as long as you can. If you can't stand it any longer, then we'll do all we can to help you,'" West German Chancellor Adenauer once declared.

Thus far prospering West Germany has easily absorbed the refugees. Each community earmarks a certain amount of new housing for them and a labor shortage leaves plenty of jobs open.

But life in the West is not soft. Refugees who dream of ease at times may have trouble adjusting to the competitive demands of free enterprise.

TRICKLE BACK
A significant percentage of refugees trickle back from West to East. West German government sources figure 35,000 returned in 1959 and 28,000 in 1960, making a return of 25 and 15 per cent respectively. Western observers estimate returnees might total 25 per cent above the government figures, but nowhere near the much greater count claimed by the East Germans.

Some of those who return find life in East Germany even more unpleasant than they remembered and flee for a second time. An official at Berlin's Marienfelde Refugee Camp figured as much as 1 to 2 per cent of the daily flow might be second timers.

And what happens back home when a refugee family flees?

"The word gets around quickly," said a young father who had come from Halle with his wife and two children. "The police come to seal up the house and then the word spreads. It is a good feeling to hear someone has left. You say, 'Fine, there's someone else who doesn't like Ulbricht (the East German political chief) any more than I do.'"

One secret of successful escape is to carry little. In spot checking trains, police are always suspicious if one carries much luggage or big packages.

This means a refugee leaves behind just about everything—his furniture, china, motorcycle, television set perhaps—all the things he has painfully accumulated over the years. Usually he cannot even try to sell before flight, since it would arouse suspicion.

Texas AFL-CIO Meeting Ends In Turmoil, Confusion

GALVESTON (AP)—The 5th Texas state AFL-CIO convention ended as it began, in turmoil and confusion.

A controversy over the manner in which a two-cent per capita membership tax increase was adopted brought threats of walkouts just minutes before the end of the stormy four-day convention Thursday.

Opponents of the tax hike claimed president H. S. Hank Brown had violated parliamentary procedure by failing to permit a roll call vote.

Until the two-cent proposal reached the convention floor, there had been some indication of harmony and rapidly healing battle scars from three days of debate on a power struggle between Brown and secretary-treasurer Fred Schmidt.

The tense atmosphere returned again, however, when the constitution committee proposed the two-cent boost immediately after Brown announced a four-cent increase had failed to receive a required two-thirds majority on a roll call vote, 58,404 to 64,276.

After an hour of parliamentary maneuvering, by both sides, the two-cent proposal was adopted, 394 to 189, on a count of the delegates present. On a roll call, delegates would have cast votes based on the membership of their union locals.
After the vote, officials of two of the state's largest unions admitted some of their members were ready to pull out of the state body.

"I say stay but it looks to me like it is going to be harder than the devil to keep them in," said Paul Gray of the communications workers union at Houston.

"It is emotionalism and anger and I don't know what the outcome will be," said J. Elro Brown, Port Arthur international representative for the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

Hank Brown gave no indication he was worried by the walkout threats.

"If they withdraw, we'll go out and get new affiliates," he said. "Our program will go forward."

After the convention adjourned, J. Elro Brown urged members of the new Texas Industrial Union conference not to walk out and asked them to continue paying per capita taxes to the state AFL-CIO.

Gray is president of the ICU, which is being organized by representatives of 21 industrial unions affiliated with the state body.
Roy Evans, the new secretary-treasurer from Austin, had told the convention during the Brown-Schmidt battle he believes the ICU is a rump organization. Much of Schmidt's support came from the ICU members.
In the final minutes of the convention Gray was unsuccessful in an attempt to obtain unanimous consent so he could present a resolution in which the ICU would have sought affiliation with the state AFL-CIO. Unanimous consent was required in that the deadline for filing resolutions was noon Monday.

The uproar over the two-cent tax hike began with the demand for another roll call vote. President Brown asked those delegates favoring the roll call to stand. He then ruled the roll call in order in that over 20 per cent of the delegates present, as required

36th Told No Call Expected Soon

NORTH FT. HOOD (AP)—Soldiers of the 36th Division have been told by the top Army command that they probably will not be called into regular service right away.

"I don't believe the 36th will be called in the immediate future," Gen. Herbert Powell, chief of the Continental Army Command, said Thursday.

The general came here to look over the 9,000 Texans of the division in maneuvers.
Powell did not rule out the possibility of mobilization of the National Guard division in the event of the world situation changes.

by the constitution, favored such a vote.

Brown's ruling was appealed from the floor. He polled the delegates on the appeal and ruled that majority of those present had ruled he was wrong when he ruled that 20 per cent favored the roll call.

After the tax hike was adopted, George Cowart of the oil workers union at Beaumont told Brown the parliamentary rulings by the chair had been fair until a majority of those present was permitted to overrule the 20 per cent provision of the constitution.
"I call to your attention the fact the 189 votes in opposition to the motion are more than 20 per cent of those present," Cowart said.

R. R. Bryant of the locomotive firemen and engineers at Austin later said he will appeal the rulings to the national AFL-CIO.
Boosting the per capita tax from eight to 10 cents a month will raise an additional $50,000 a year. All of it will go into the general fund. The unsuccessful four-cent hike would have been divided between the general fund and a special legislative and education fund to seek repeal of compulsory open shop laws.
"The open shop is a cancer that is going to kill you dead as a door-nail," President Brown said in a final appeal in behalf of the four-cent proposal.

COL. AND MRS. H. W. LINDSEY
... retiring from Air Force Monday

Col. Lindsey Retires Monday

Col. Howard W. Lindsey, commander of the 3660th Air Base Group up to recently, will retire from the Air Force on Monday, Aug. 7.

A graduate of the University of Florida, Col. Lindsey earned his commission in 1935 through the ROTC Program. He has 21 years and seven months of active service, plus five years of Active Reserve time.

Col. Lindsey is also a graduate of the Armed Forces School of Applied Tactics, Fort Leavenworth, Kans.; and the Command and Staff College, Air University, Ala.

He served in the Europe-Africa-Middle East theater, 1946-48; and in Europe once again, 1951-54. Among his major post-war assignments was a hitch in the Pentagon as deputy chief of manpower division at USAF Headquarters.

Prior to coming to Webb, Col. Lindsey commanded the 3560th Installations Group at Moody AFB, Ga. He replaced Col. Glenn A. Stell as Air Base Group commander here in June, 1960.

For awhile Col. and Mrs. Lindsey will be living in Jacksonville, Fla. Their younger son, Robert, is attending the University of Florida; and Von H. is married and living in Seattle, Wash.

Governor For A Day

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock became Texas' governor for one day today.

Smith, president pro tempore of the Senate, became governor for 24 hours when the governor and lieutenant governor said they were leaving the state. It is a tradition for each president pro tempore to occupy the governor's office for at least a day.

The occasion was marked with a big reception at the Capitol and banquet attended by many of the senator's home town supporters. Smith, a theater owner, was sworn in at 9 a.m. and spent the morning and most of the afternoon at a reception in the governor's office.

He and his family had lunch at the governor's mansion.

A banquet ends the festivities tonight.

Smith first came to the legislature as a representative in 1949. After three terms in the House, he was elected senator in 1956 and since has been re-elected.

5 Persons Killed

ALGIERS (AP) — Five persons, including one European, were killed and 53 injured in rioting at Bone Wednesday night when a mob of rampaging Europeans lynched two suspected Algerian terrorists and attacked other Algerians wherever they found them.

The violence followed the killing of a European by a grenade tossed into a crowded bar.

FAA Authorizes Airliner Crews To Carry Weapons

SGT. W. L. BROWN

Webb Sergeant Joins Col. Stell

Leaving Webb AFB this week for Aviano Air Base, Italy, is T. Sgt. William L. Brown, sergeant major in 3560th Air Base Group.

The sergeant, who will be serving under Col. Glenn A. Stell, wrote the former Air Base Group commander acquainting him of the overseas assignment.

"Will be glad to have you," was Col. Stell's reply, "and be sure to bring the family along." Sgt. Brown's wife, Ruth, and their three boys, Billy, Bobby and Michael, will travel with him.

Sgt. Brown joined the U.S. Air Force in 1948 and has had tours in Morocco and in Newfoundland. He reported to Webb in 1956. He was NCOIC of Personnel Services section before going up to Group Headquarters five months ago. His secondary duty for the past year has been theatre manager.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has authorized commercial airline crews to carry guns to prevent any more hijacking.

Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby announced the arming authority Thursday—soon after two hijackers, who took over a Boeing 707 jet airliner surrendered to federal officers at El Paso, Tex.

The immediate reaction of industry leaders was either indecision or outright rejection.

From American Airlines came a statement that it flatly was "against arming any members of any of our crews." Other airlines said they would take the matter under consideration.

Clarence N. Sayen, president of the Airline Pilots Association, said: "The association does not advocate arming of pilots."

John Carroll, of Kansas City, Mo., association first vice president, said pilots were unenthusiastic about the idea. He said the safety value of arming crews was doubtful because of great hazard involved in firing a gun in a pressurized airplane.

In making his announcement at a news conference, Halaby said crew members should be armed "only when they have recent training and demonstrable proficiency."

He also announced—and so did the Justice Department—that the federal government was offering a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons trying to hijack a plane.

Halaby also had this advice for crew members — keep your cockpits closed from the inside.

Halaby disclosed to newsmen that President Kennedy was the federal official who made the decision to turn down all deals and move in on the hijackers at El Paso.

At one point, according to Halaby, Leon Bearden, one of the hijackers, offered to release the jet liner hostages if he and his son, Cody, were guaranteed passage to Cuba in a DC7 propeller plane.

The President made his decision, Halaby said, because he "agreed with me that the plane commandeered by hijackers should not be permitted to leave the ground and that we should not make any deal with thieves and kidnapers."

This was confirmed by the White House.

After Kennedy's decision, Border Patrolmen and local police opened fire on the airliner, shooting holes in its tires and fuel tank and preventing it from leaving the airport.

Halaby agreed that the action had endangered the 67 passengers and 6 crew members.

"If anyone had been injured or killed it would have been a tragedy," Halaby said.

"But we are in the middle of a conflict between law-abiding citizens and law-breaking citizens and law-abiding nations and lawless nations, and it's up to us to manage it intelligently. To do so one has to take some risk, despite the anxiety."

At the White House, Pierre Salinger, the press secretary, said that while Kennedy refused a deal, he had "instructed all agencies involved to take every precaution to bring about the safe rescue of passengers and members of the crew."

Parliament Approves Talks On Common Market

LONDON (AP)—The Conservative majority in Parliament closed ranks Thursday night and overwhelmingly endorsed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's proposal to start negotiations for Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

A threatened revolt by dissident Conservatives fearing involvement with the continent failed to materialize. After two days of brisk debate, Macmillan's party handed him a 313-5 vote victory.

The Labor party abstained in the vote on the government motion. A Laborite amendment amounting to a vote of censure was defeated 318-209.

The House of Lords also rejected the amendment 86-17, then approved the government's motion without a formal vote count.

Thus Parliament endorsed Macmillan's move to end Britain's traditional isolation from the continent and give the island kingdom a chance at the prosperity the Common Market has brought its members—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Britain's decision promises to set in motion an economic realignment affecting nearly every country in Western Europe. Several of Britain's partners in the seven-nation European Free Trade Association set up by Britain to rival the Common Market plan to follow London's lead and line up with the market nations.

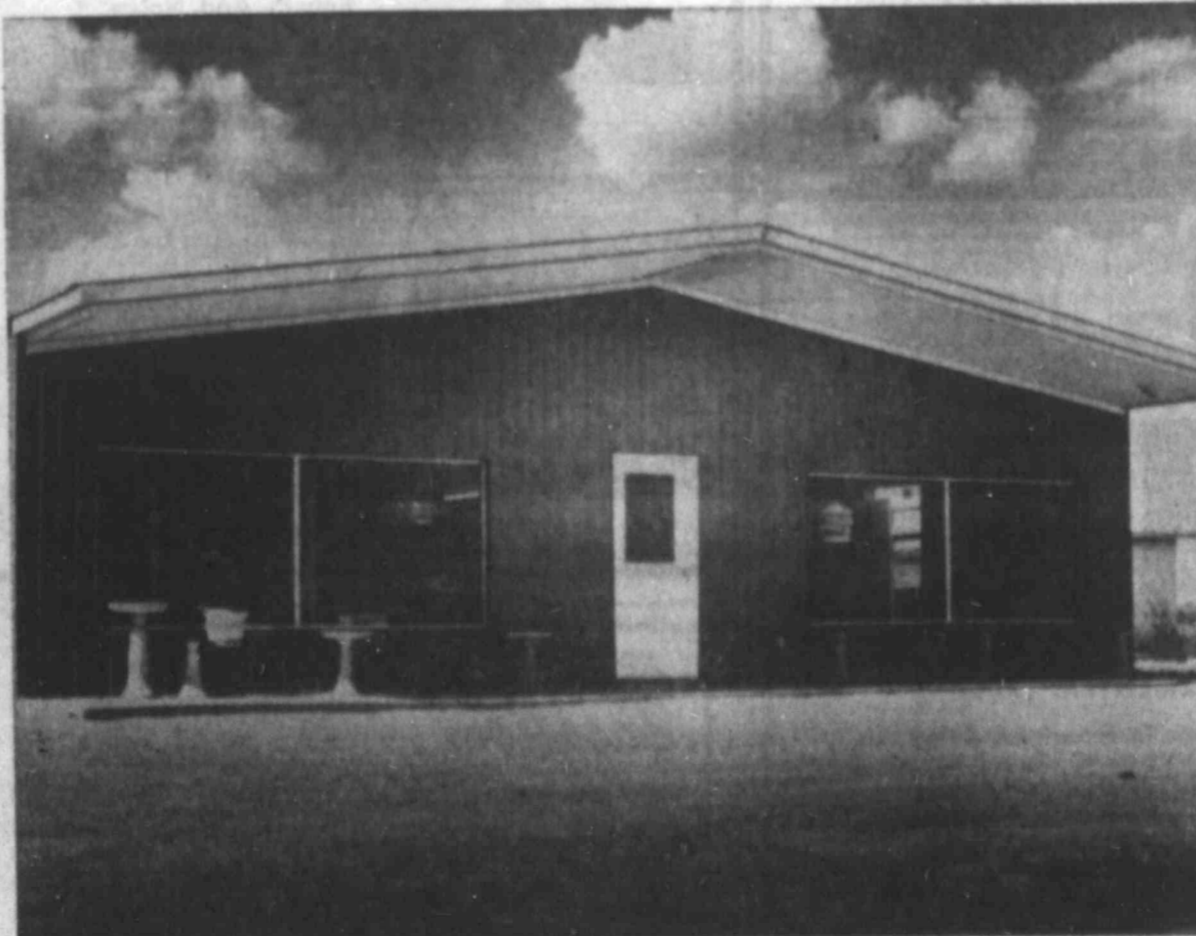

The British government will apply for membership next week, but this does not commit Britain to join. Talks on terms of membership will probably not get under way until October, and they are expected to be long.

SUMMER INTO FALL

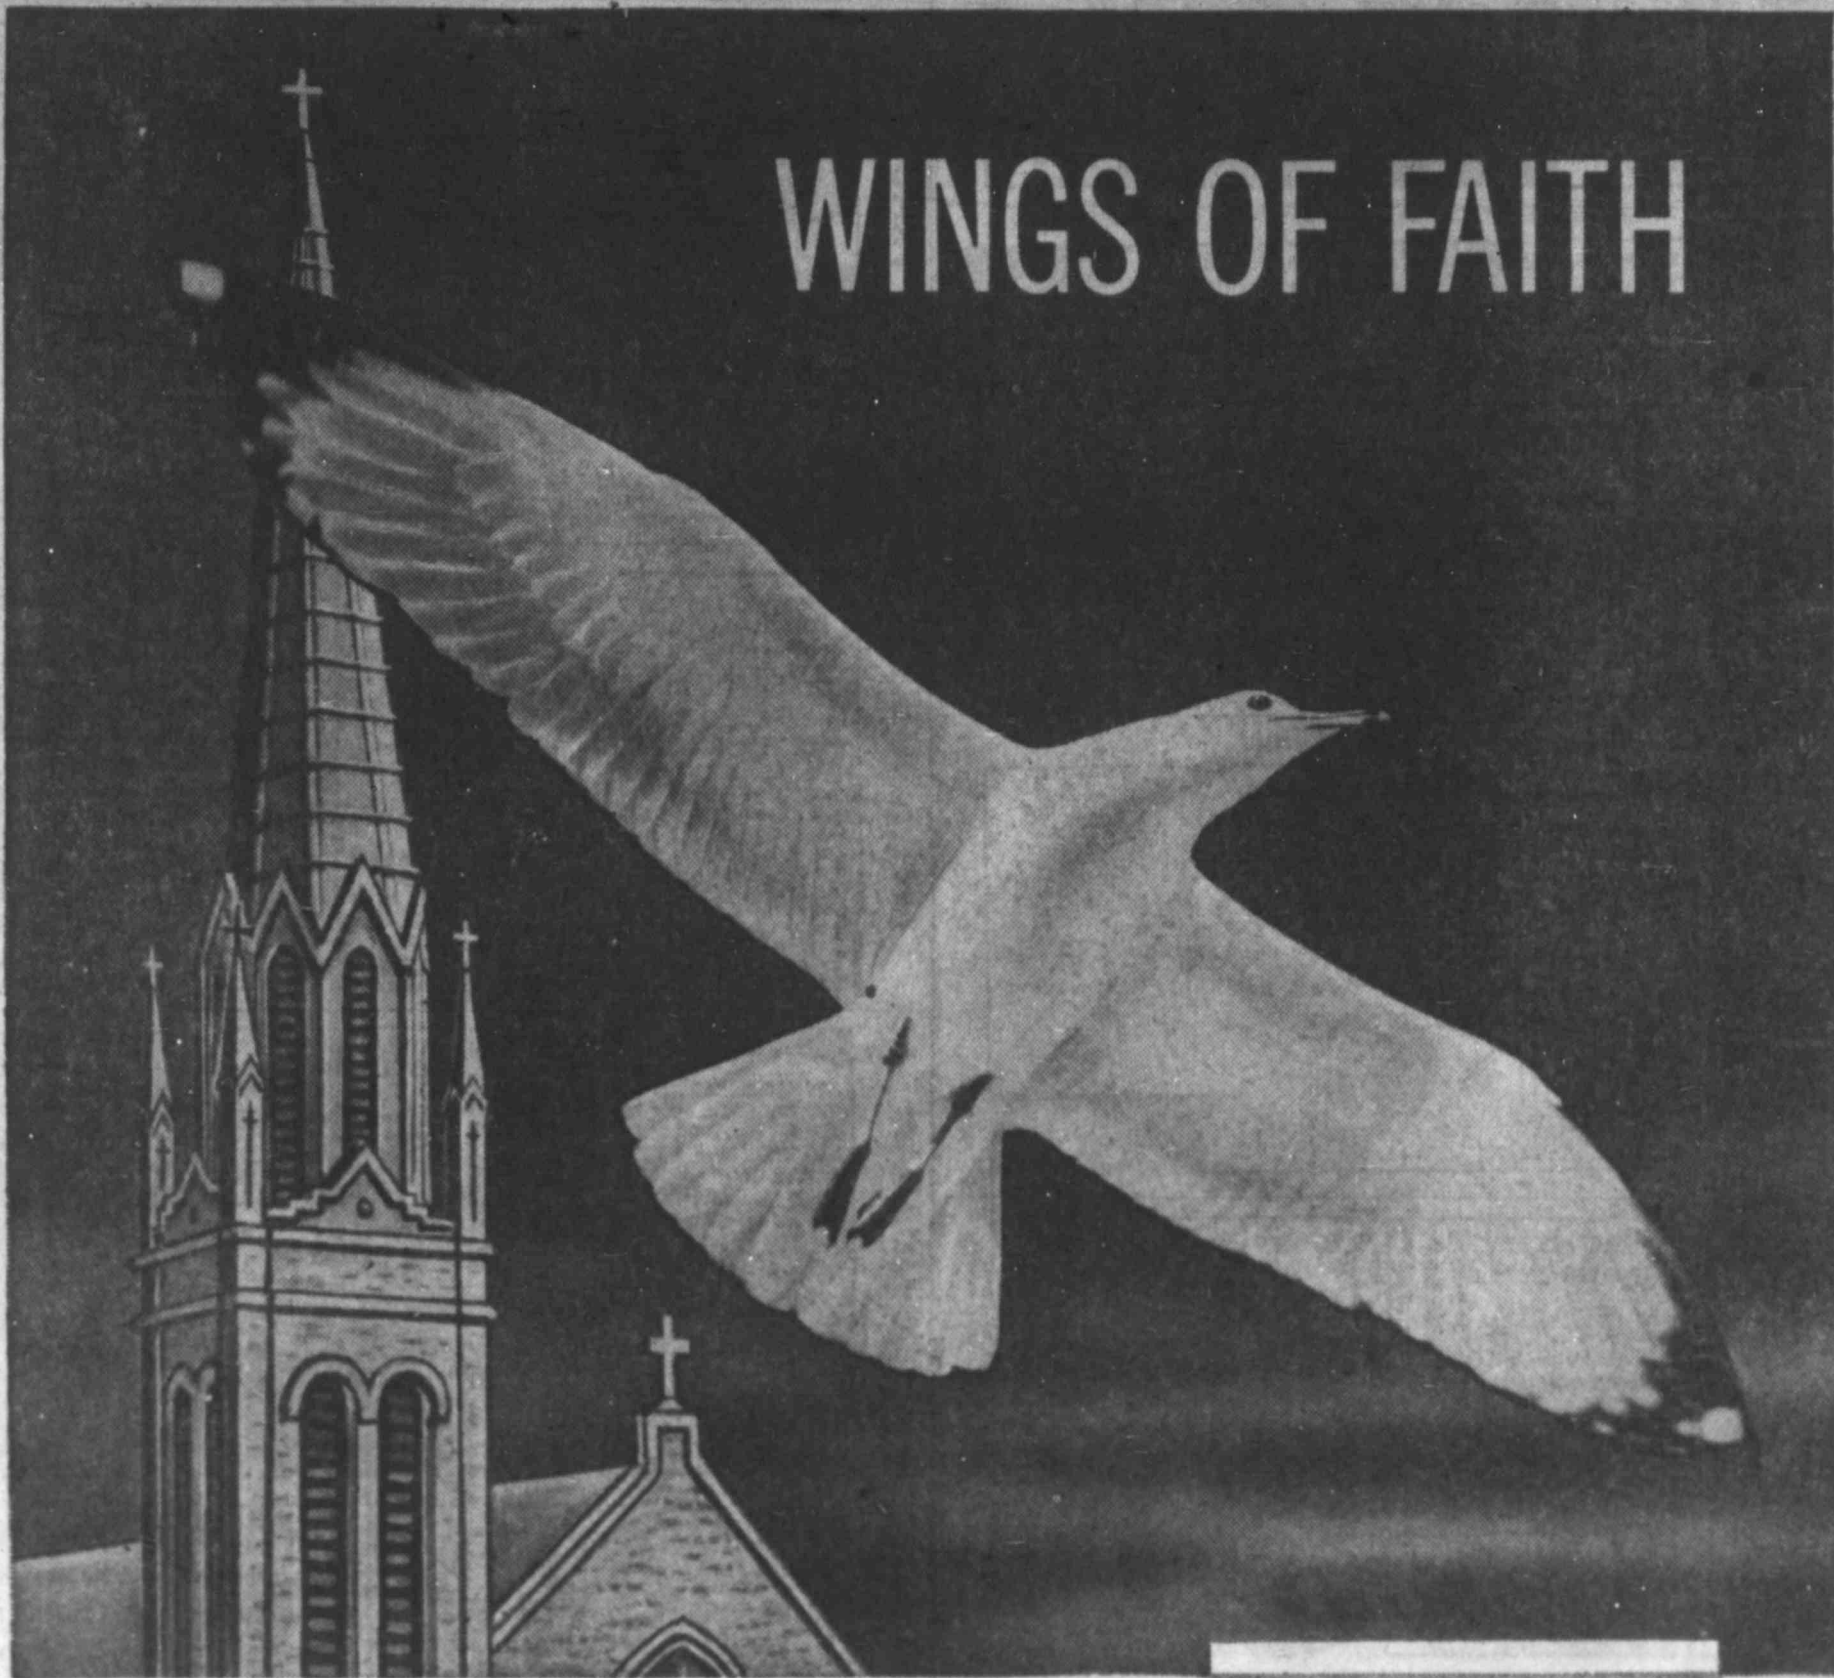

Jean's dark print sends her from summer right into fall. Created in a dressy, washable cotton just right for office, or maybe "going places." A shirtwaist bodice, longer sleeves and a "full blown" skirt reflect the very essence of the "so close" fall days ahead. Its designer chose black with toast and white for a most exciting color combination. Sizes 10-18.

WINGS OF FAITH

WHO does not marvel at the flight of a bird? The roaring jet does not seem such a miracle. It cannot fly with the same grace and beauty and ease.

Every bird must learn to fly. The mother bird pushes her fledgling out of the nest. The young bird falls helplessly until its wings discover the invisible support of the air.

If our lives are to rise beyond frail human nature, we too must learn to fly . . . on wings of faith. We must discover the invisible support of God's presence and power.

Come to Church next Sunday. You can find there the invisible support of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Safety Officer Is Transferred

Loyd D. Harp, civilian safety officer at Webb AFB for the past two years has accepted the safety officer job at Travis AFB, Calif. He leaves Webb Aug. 16.

Harp has completed 21 years as a civil service employee. He came to Webb following an 18 months tour as safety supervisor at the Air Force Academy. Prior to that time he has served as fire chief, and assistant to the safety officer at the Army and Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark.

Harp has completed courses in ground safety at Texas A&M College, Chanute AFB, Ill., and Holloman AFB, N. M. He has received numerous awards for superior and sustained performance in connection with his work.

Legislator Asks Parks Board Fund

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. Paul Floyd of Houston has urged the legislature to give the State Parks Board adequate funds to finance use of its recreation areas as civil defense centers.

The lawmaker prepared a joint resolution asking the legislature to act at once "to put this vital program into effect by reconsidering the meager funds recommended for the State Parks Board and by increasing the appropriations adequately to cover costs of developing our state parks."

Floyd proposed use of Texas' 60 state parks as concentration areas for big city evacuees in case of enemy raids.

Texas Driver Wins 6th Place

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas' entry in the national teen-age safe driver contest, Jeff Crossland, won sixth place.

Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crossland, also received $200 as the most outstanding state representative.

David Wood, 18, of Boulder, Colo., won the contest.

Kennedy Signs Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed Thursday a bill to authorize spending an extra billion dollars on missiles, ships and planes to bolster the armed services in the face of Soviet threat against Berlin.

The Senate prepared to act on an expanded $47 billion defense money bill including Kennedy's request for an extra $3.5 billion—some of it for items in the newly passed authorization bill. Passage appeared certain, with leaders of both parties endorsing the added funds.

Kennedy acted with rare speed in signing the authorization measure. He penned his name on the bill less than 24 hours after the House rushed it to him by a unanimous 403-0 vote.

Congress already has authorized Kennedy to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and to extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

Cotton Crop

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Farmers in Anahuac, Nuevo Leon, expect to harvest a cotton crop of 10,000 bales with a value of $2 million.

Another Caterpillar

Aviation Cadet William F. Wesson, scheduled to graduate from the pilot training program at Webb AFB next month, is pictured with Maj. Ernest Baumann, commander of the Student Squadron, following his induction into the mythical Caterpillar Club. Only men who have parachuted from disabled aircraft are eligible for membership. Cadet Wesson, originally a member of Class 81F, received severe injuries when his aircraft failed during a training flight. On his release from the hospital, he was reassigned to Class 82-B-2 scheduled to graduate Sept. 14.

Uruguay To Play Host To Legates

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Serious talk by economic experts and diplomats is replacing the chatter of gamblers in this resort town.

The economic and social conference opening here Saturday will meet in the Municipal Casino's main gambling room. By the time delegates arrive, however, the roulette and baccarat tables will have been carted away.

Punta Del Este, one of South America's swankiest beach resorts, has never been the scene of such an important meeting as the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference.

This small peninsula juts out into the green-blue waters of the South Atlantic. Acres of pine forests are dotted with thousands of picturesque cottages.

Well-to-do Argentines, Brazilians and Uruguayans have made Punta Del Este — East Point—their favorite summer playground. By December—start of the summer season in South America—they will begin flocking here. Right now it's chilly here. Travelers who have lolled on beaches along Europe's Riviera say this resort's golden stretches of fine sand are unequalled. Some compare it to Juan Les Pins, on France's Cote D'Azur.

In the winter, Punta Del Este hibernates. Many of the chic shops close and the native residents settle back to enjoy the summer season's profits. Only the fishing fleet comes and goes each day.

Punta Del Este was designed as a summer resort, and the problem of heating the conference rooms and delegates' apartments is proving a headache. The government has promised an ample supply of portable heaters and stoves but many doubt their efficiency.

Communications with Montevideo, Uruguay's capital, are not bad. Good telephone communications are available and officials have promised to increase the number of circuits. Delegates will live in the same building where the sessions are held. It was formerly a swank hotel.
