SPINS AROUND EARTH 17 TIMES

Cosmonaut Stays In Orbit For 25 Hours

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov landed safely today after more than 17 circuits of the earth in his space ship Vostok II and reported to Premier Khrushchev "I feel splendid."

The premier promised a tremendous welcome to Moscow for the 26-year-old major, who traveled more than 700,000 kilometers (about 435,000 miles), roughly far enough to reach the moon and return. He was in the air 25 hours and 18 minutes.

"We shall congratulate and thank your parents at a personal meeting in Moscow," Khrushchev said in a telephone conversation from the Kremlin to Titov somewhere in the interior. "We shall give you a worthy welcome in Moscow, as a whole people, as a whole country."

As the first of the Soviet honors sure to follow, Khrushchev told Titov he was being promoted to full membership in the Communist Party. The handsome major has been a candidate member.

MANUAL CONTROL

Titov, son of a retired school teacher in Siberia, manually controlled his five-ton space ship for periods up to an hour, slept more than eight hours, and ate three meals while enduring the space phenomenon of weightlessness, Moscow Radio said.

He circled the globe every 88.6 minutes in an orbit that reached a maximum altitude of 159.59 miles and a minimum of 110.5 miles.

Moscow Radio said Titov landed in a predetermined area near where the first Soviet spaceman, Yuri Gagarin, touched down after his pioneer flight April 12. Gagarin, who made only one orbit of the earth, is believed to have landed about 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

Titov told Khrushchev that "after the landing, I drank a little water, and I feel splendid."

Before the telephone call Khrushchev sent Titov a message of congratulation on his "heroic deed," saying the feat "has shown once again what Soviet man, educated by the Communist Party, is able to do."

"Until we meet soon in Moscow," Khrushchev concluded, indicating the government was planning a triumphal welcome to the capital for Titov like the one that greeted Gagarin after his space flight.

The Soviet Cabinet and the Presidium and Central Committee of Parliament, in a message to the peoples and governments of the world, said: "The time is not far away when the way will be paved to the moon, Mars and Venus, and new perspectives will open to mankind in the mastery of the cosmos."

Circling the globe every 88.6

minutes, Titov swung in an orbit that reached a maximum altitude of 159.59 miles and a minimum of 110.5 miles.

LONGER ROUTE

Gagarin's route was longer with a minimum height of 110 miles and a maximum of 188 miles.

Over and again Titov kept sending word back to earth that he was in great shape—"Am feeling fine. I feel excellent under conditions of weightlessness. Shipshape order on board."

The historic flight proved that a man can undergo the rigors of a flight to the moon without excessive ill effect.

The Soviets said the purpose of the flight was to study the effects on a human being of prolonged orbital flight and the descent to the earth's surface.

(Many Western observers surmised that the flight had been timed to reinforce Khrushchev's drive to end the Western Allies' occupation of West Berlin and particularly the threats to Berlin Khrushchev is expected to make in a major broadcast tonight.

Like Gagarin's flight, Titov's was greeted in both the Western and Communist world with praise for the Soviet scientific achievement. Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, termed it "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

MORE EVIDENCE

Several West European newspapers said the flight was more evidence of the Soviet lead over the United States in the space race. But the news of Titov's flight was accepted calmly in Washington. Space officials and others showed no surprise.

Throughout his flight, the Soviets said, the handsome, wavy-haired Titov was kept in view from earth by television and while awake he maintained constant two-way radio communication.

He was in a smiling, happy-go-lucky mood throughout the trip, once wisecracking in a message to Muscovites: "I wish you had it so good."

"I am eagle—I am eagle," he said exultantly. Recorded excerpts from his conversations were broadcast to Moscow listeners.

Titov blasted off from an undesignated launching site at 9 a.m. Sunday. His craft weighed 10,407 pounds, only 13 pounds more than Gagarin's Vostok I.

During much of the flight, the Soviet news agency Tass and Moscow Radio gave almost play-by-play reports on the trip and announced ahead of time cities over which it would pass. The space ship was seen by many as a bright star traveling rapidly across the sky.

HEARD BY MANY

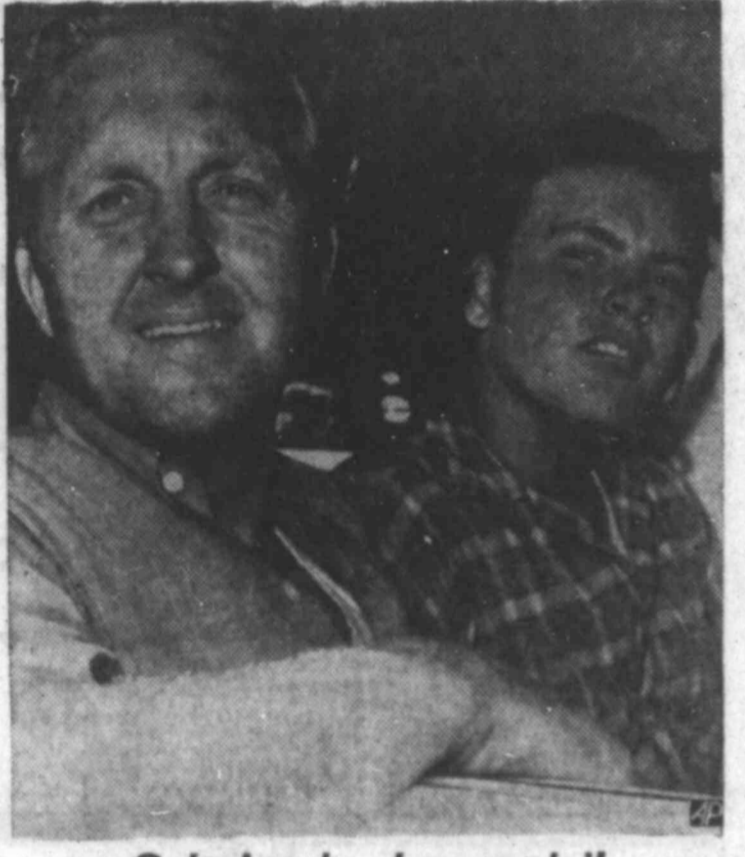

Giving his radio wavelengths, the Soviets invited the people of the world to listen in to the astronaut's broadcasts. He was heard—and recorded—by many listeners. Radio transmissions in code from the space ship also were picked up by Western monitors.

While Titov was in flight, Moscow Radio said there were "biological objects on board." This suggested that he might have had insects or animals as traveling companions.

The announcement said the cosmonaut took scientific data from the large number of devices in the cabin of the spaceship and observed the earth through three portholes in the ship.

Trustees Study Brochure About City's Schools

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District held an informal meeting at noon today to discuss portions of the public relations brochure which they will be explaining at meetings of local service clubs.

"This was not a regular meeting," Clyde McMahon, chairman, pointed out. "It will give trustees an opportunity to discuss the budget with each other in more detail than they have been able to do until now."

As part of a program to inform the public of what school administrators are doing, a public relations brochure has been published and trustees will speak before gatherings of service clubs to expand on the brochure.

Johnny Johnson has already spoken to the American Business Clubs and Dan M. Krause is scheduled to speak to the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Survey Crew Is Staking Site Of Highway Office

A survey crew out of the Colorado City office of the State Highway Department district engineer is in Big Spring today staking the site of a proposed highway department building to be erected between 12th Street and the City Cemetery on IS 26 loop.

Joe Price is heading the party which is preparing the site for grading in preparation for the start of construction on the building.

A contract will be awarded on Thursday at Austin for the structure. The city of Big Spring made the site available two years ago.

House Negotiator Speaks Cautiously

German Reds Claim Workers Quitting West

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists claimed today large numbers of commuters are giving up their jobs in West Berlin and looking for work under Red rule.

The Communists have been putting commuters under heavy pressure. People who live in Communist areas and work in West Berlin now have to pay rent and many other bills in Western currency, instead of Communist-issued money worth only one-fifth as much.

Junge Welt, the Communist youth daily, said that since early Saturday calls have been piling up at East Berlin factories from commuters who want new jobs. It reported that East Berlin's biggest department store, run by the state, is taking on salesgirls who used to work in West Berlin.

Poor service in shops, due largely to lack of sales help, is a cause of complaint in all Communist countries—especially East Germany.

Refugees are still coming in large numbers from Communist East Germany, though the flow ebbed in comparison with last weekend. Between 8 a.m. Saturday and Monday at the same time, there were 2,740 who registered in West Berlin.

The figure was 3,158 for the same period last week. Additional hundreds are flown out to West Germany every day without registration.

Camp authorities said many of the refugees are commuters and their families.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev Sunday night not to let East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht push him into taking drastic action on Berlin.

"Form your own opinions of the Berlin situation," Brandt said in a broadcast remark aimed at Khrushchev, "so you will recognize into what kind of a predicament Ulbricht can bring you if you don't."

He declared Khrushchev was playing with fire if he follows Ulbricht's advice and signs a separate peace treaty which would give the East Germans control over supply routes to West Berlin.

CRMWD Pollution Bill Is Signed

The bill which broadens powers of the Colorado River Municipal Water District in dealing with salt water and pollution has been signed into law.

Sen. Preston Smith, Lubbock, signed it (SB31) Friday while he was serving as acting governor. The bill extends the district's power to prevent and correct pollution on its present and potential watersheds, spells out authority in correcting oil field brine pollution, and gives the CRMWD power to develop well and surface salt water supplies for industrial, mining and other purposes. Within 10 days of the time the bill is introduced, the bill became effective law.

Big 4 Willing To Negotiate Settlement On Berlin Issue

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Four foreign ministers made clear today they are willing to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but left the next move to the Soviet Union.

After a two-day review of the crisis resulting from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new drive to end the allied occupation of West Berlin, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany said they would talk with the Soviets "only on a reasonable basis" but that the Soviets have done nothing so far to provide for such an approach.

The talks must be conducted on a "plane of mutual respect," a French spokesman said. A British spokesman said Moscow's last notes to the four allies, threatening a separate peace with the East Germans and demanding a new status for West Berlin, amounted to "abuse which does not provide reasonable basis for negotiation."

The Western powers decided to await further developments before taking any initiative toward an East-West conference. One of these developments will be Premier Khrushchev's speech tonight.

Khrushchev, reportedly angered by President Kennedy's speech on the Soviet challenge to Berlin, is expected to reply when he goes on a nationwide radio and TV network. The Soviet leader reportedly told visiting Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani he considered Kennedy's speech excessively belligerent.

Leaders of the Communist Warsaw Pact nations disclosed Saturday night they had decided in a secret three-day Kremlin meeting to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year. The eight-nation group asserted that delaying a German treaty indefinitely would "contribute to an intensification of the threat of a new war in Europe and not only in Europe."

Khrushchev stated in notes to the Western powers last week that he is ready to negotiate a settlement on the future of Germany and Berlin. But he apparently left it to the West to take the initiative.

The ministers issued no communiqué after their review of the Berlin situation, but their spokesmen gave this summary:

1. The conference agreed the

AUSTIN (AP)—The head of the House tax bill negotiators said today he thinks it is possible to get a revenue bill before midnight Tuesday "but I would not say it is probable."

Rep. Charles Ballman, Berger, chairman of the House members on the joint conference group, made the comment to reporters after sharply-divided conferees failed again today to find a compromise.

Ballman paid a visit to Gov. Price Daniel's office before making the statement.

However, Ballman said he would not ask that the present negotiators be discharged and a new group named to make a last-minute effort to resolve the tax crisis.

"After all, we do have another meeting at 2:30," Ballman said. "We're still talking," said Sen. Wardlaw Lane of Center, chairman of the joint committee wrestling with legal aspects of a proposed natural gas tax and the measure's chief prop. A 2 percent levy on sales over 25 cents.

FIRM SPLIT

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, after an hour and half huddle with the negotiators behind closed doors, said it is apparent there is a firm split in the committee.

There were also reports that committee members are at odds on some aspect of the franchise tax action. A progress report was scheduled for later today at the special session crawled toward its closing hour, midnight Tuesday.

The attorney general went before the conferees early today as they tried to untangle legal snarls in the $360 million revenue measure.

Passage of a revenue bill and an appropriations bill remain as the principal unfinished business for the closing hours of the special session. It was called originally when the regular 140-day session gave up without solving the state's financial crisis.

The joint House - Senate conferees met fruitlessly until late Sunday night, then agreed with a request from house members of the 10-man panel to ask Wilson for his ideas.

CAN BE WRITTEN

Wilson told newsmen as he went into the closed door session: "I think a legal natural gas section can be written. I will help if I can."

The attorney general said in an opinion requested last week by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee that some parts of the measure would be difficult to defend in court as now written.

The revenue conferees met under pressure to get a report back to the legislature which went into its next-to-last day today.

Controversial blue law and election law proposals, plus a toughened lobby control measure, elbowed the taxation and spending issue for the spotlight before the fast-paced special session.

A House-passed economy bill which included abolition of the State Parks Board and merger of its functions into the Game and Commission, got an apparent death blow today.

Sen. Bob Baker of Houston demanded a public hearing on the measure requiring 48 hours notice. Since the session ends Tuesday, that in effect killed the bill by Rep. Ballman. Baker said his move was aimed specifically at the section affecting the parks board.

The tax committee, like all conference committees named to iron out differences in conflicts between House and Senate legislation, is meeting behind closed doors and only a trickle of information leaks out. The tax committee is under pressure to report at the earliest possible moment.

ANOTHER SESSION?

The special 30-day session ends at midnight Tuesday. If it does not pass a revenue bill to provide around $360 million new money for the general fund, the appropriation bill will also be stalled.

The new fiscal year begins Sept. 1, and if the money problem is not worked out by Tuesday.

U.S., Russia Set Air Line Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department today announced "basic" U.S.-Soviet agreement has been reached on setting up an air route between the two countries.

A final agreement for commercial air flights to link New York and Moscow should be signed shortly, the department said.

Talks have been underway here since July 18 on establishing a route which would be the first direct passenger air line service between the two nations.

Travelers going from one country to the other now have to transfer at in-between points. U.S. officials said a number of technical details still must be worked out before final agreement is reached.

They expect flights on the 5,000-mile New York - Moscow hop to begin next spring.

Pan American World Airways is slated to be the American carrier on the route and Aeroflot, the Soviet-owned civil airline, will be the Soviet carrier.

Representatives of the two airlines are scheduled to continue technical talks before buttoning down the agreement.

The State Department reported the progress of the talks in a statement coordinated with a similar one being issued by the Soviets.

The talks, conducted by presidential adviser James M. Laddis for the United States and Aeroflot chief Yevgeni F. Loginov, have been held quietly amid the cold war storm. Officials said no major political issues were involved.

BULLETIN

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev told the Big Three Western Powers today: "Let us sit down honestly at a round conference table, let us not fan up war psychosis."

In a TV and radio address to the Russian nation on the Berlin crisis, the premier declared: "Let us clear the atmosphere, let us rely on reason and not on the force of thermonuclear weapons."

Explorers Have Successful Event

Big Spring, Midland and Odessa posts split most of the honors at the first annual Explorer Whing Ding at Webb AFB Saturday.

The affair for senior boys, which drew more than 100 boys and leaders from Midland, Odessa, Monahans, Kermit, Andrews, Big Spring and Coahoma, terminates with church services at 9 a.m. today, Saturday evening, after a busy day of contests and meetings, the Explorers and their dates had a delightful party at the Officers Club before hitting the sack at 10:30 p.m.

Explorers registered Friday afternoon, took in the wing review with its jet plane fly-over, then heard Maj. Gen. H. C. Donnelly speak to a graduating class. Following this they staged a talent show in the academic building.

There was a tour of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron during the afternoon. In between they worked several contests.

Doug Orme, general chairman of the Whing Ding, was elated at the response by the boys. Many declared it better than the national gathering at Oklahoma City recently.

Contest winners were:

Navigation — Tom Wilkinson, Carl Giles, Ronald Eger, all of squadron No. 236, Big Spring.

First aid — Ship No. 136, Big Spring; post 1, Big Spring; squadron 236, Big Spring.

Nasser Holds Reins On His Nation's Purse

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — After nine years in power, President Gamal Abdel Nasser today holds complete control of Egypt's economy.

In the past two weeks decrees, orders and clarifications have been issued from the government aimed at sweeping away the last important vestiges of free enterprise.

Editorial writers of the national press have been equally busy explaining to the public this is Arab socialism, not communism.

Whatever label is applied, the Egyptian economy is now one of the most tightly controlled outside the Iron Curtain, with the exception of Prime Minister Fidel Castro Cuba.

Decrees on the ninth anniversary of the revolution all but completed the process, which began with seizure of foreign firms, nationalization of the Suez Canal, and now is finally overtaking all remaining important domestic enterprises.

Government spokesmen take pains to point out that the Egyptian course — into Soviet communism and Castro Cuba — is not motivated by revenge and previous owners have been reimbursed.

The newest measures, however, fell most solidly on the country's remaining stockholders and investors.

Since the decrees, gold has been in such demand it is virtually unobtainable on the local market. There also are recurring but completely unconfirmed rumors that some form of currency reform will flush out any hidden stores of wealth.

There also is fear new labor regulations will result in inflation. One of these regulations, for general application within a year, orders a 42-hour week in place of 48, with production to be maintained by hiring new workers to take up the slack.

The government has also ordered an end to the wide practice of Egyptians holding two jobs. Consequently many Egyptians find themselves with their incomes halved.

Ground Work

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon watches as his assistant, Dixon Donnelly, works on the runway at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C., in making a last-minute revision in the secretary's departure speech. Minutes later, Dillon left for the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference which convened in Uruguay.

Ex-Rough Riders Blast Castro For Commie Path

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Seven men who fought for Cuba's independence in 1898 blasted Fidel Castro Sunday for leading the "unknowing Cuban people into the hands of Russian Communist imperialism."

The men are survivors of the Teddy Roosevelt Rough Riders who concluded their annual reunion in Las Vegas, N.M.

Judge Frank Roberts of Breckenridge, Tex., the group's president, stated, "We are disturbed by the absurd falsehoods of Fidel Castro. He charges that American imperialists are endeavoring to conquer Cuba. This is an appeal to ignorance."

"The United States is not, and never has been, an imperialistic government. The truth is that Castro is making these false charges while he is making himself dictator of Cuba and is endeavoring to deliver the Cuban people as helpless victims into the hands of Russian Communist imperialism."

"Instead of freeing the Cuban people, who were freed by the Americans 63 years ago, in 1898, Castro is endeavoring to enslave them."

NASA Says U.S. Is Moving Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, abashed though it may be at the Soviet Union's newest manned satellite triumph, is moving ahead with a program that could place a Mercury astronaut in orbit by next December or January.

The NASA plans to attempt within a month to launch an unmanned Mercury spacecraft into orbit, and then bring it back to earth again.

Officials said the Mercury program—which has sent astronauts Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom on 15-minute suborbital rocket flights — is moving forward as rapidly as possible.

George M. Low, chief of NASA's manned flight program, said Sunday the Soviet feat had been anticipated by U.S. space officials, but probably could not be duplicated by this country for "quite some time."

The attempt expected this month to orbit an unmanned Mercury capsule would employ an Atlas rocket more than four times as powerful as the Redstone used in the Shepard and Grissom flights.

If the craft is launched successfully and recovered after one or more orbits, the next Mercury-Atlas shot—according to present plans—would have a chimpanzee aboard.

Only after the effects on the animal have been observed does NASA plan to risk a human life. The manned orbital flight is still on the agency's calendar for late this year, but officials privately have been dubious that it could be achieved before early 1962.

Low said the United States has more ambitious plans for its Apollo program, which would follow Mercury. Apollo is designed to land at least one man and possibly three on the moon "within the decade." The Apollo capsule is not yet built.

Another NASA official, Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., said NASA hopes to launch the first manned Apollo vehicle in late 1964 or early 1965. The mission would be to launch up to three men at a time in the capsule, which would make a prolonged orbit about the earth, with a maximum of two weeks.

Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, head of the U.S. military space effort, said after Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov reportedly landed safely that the flight was "quite a feat."

But Schriever said it was to be expected in view of Soviet achievements to date.

Soviet Tracking Ships In Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet tracking ships are again in the Pacific, apparently helping keep tabs on the Soviet Union's latest manned space flight which ended today, authoritative sources report.

The informants said the vessels were extended on a line from the Kamchatka Peninsula toward the Marshall Islands.

WOMEN TEACHERS

By T. E. Verbot, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 38
P.O. Box 1282

In the curse placed upon mother Eve for her sin, we find one of for not approving of women preachers and church officers. When Paul forbade woman to be man's teacher or ruler, he said, "And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression" (1 Tim. 2:12-14). He gave this as one reason for saying, "But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence" (v. 12).

In 1 Cor. 14:34, where the apostle forbade the woman to teach in a situation where she would be teaching over the man, he referred to this curse again. He said, "Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law."

We ask, where did the law say so? The answer is, In Genesis 3:19, where the Lord said, "Thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee."

Thus it is in her relation to the man that woman is restricted in her teaching. There is no restriction concerning her teaching other women, or children. —Adv.

Farmers Made Hay Under Texas Sun

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas farmers made hay while the sun shone last week with the best week of weather for field work in some time, director John Hutchinson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reports.

Moisture is good throughout the state with only limited areas reporting areas reporting a shortage. Crops, pastures and ranges responded to good conditions. Range and cattle conditions in many sections were about the best in many years for so late in the summer.

Moisture is generally adequate over the Panhandle. A few counties are on the short side. Onion harvest is about over; the potato harvest is beginning. Livestock and ranges are in good condition.

Moisture is adequate over most of the South Plains but dryland cotton and grain sorghums will need rain within 10 days. Cotton made excellent progress. The onion and potato harvests were about over. Livestock and ranges were in excellent condition. All irrigation wells will be going shortly.

Moisture is adequate over the Rolling Plains (Vernon). Cotton and sorghums are making good growth but boll weevil infestations range from light to heavy. Ranges in several counties are the best in many years for this season.

The moisture situation is favorable in North Central Texas where farmers were busy poisoning cotton, baling hay and putting up silage. Corn and sorghums look good and cotton is making good growth but some insect damage is reported. Pastures are very good.

Only El Paso and Hudspeth counties in far West Texas are short on moisture. Ranges are excellent and livestock are doing well. Pink eye and parasites are creating problems. Cotton and sorghums were excellent. Insect damage was light on all crops.

Moisture conditions were good in Central West Texas. July rains were the best that most can remember. Cotton and sorghum prospects were good and insects few. Livestock marketing is slow. Some goat shearing has started. Screwworms and flies are bad.

Moisture is adequate in Central Texas but boll weevil infestations are heavy and grasshoppers are causing damage. The sorghum harvest has started and hay baling is heavy. Livestock are in excellent condition with a few goats being sheared. Ranges and water supplies are above average. Cotton is being poisoned and root rot is showing up.

Moisture is surplus in East Texas. An excellent hay crop is being baled between showers but some has been damaged. Livestock and pastures are in excellent condition. Farmers played catch-up in the upper Gulf coastal area. Scattered showers slowed the drive in some areas. Cotton is opening. Insect damage was moderate and spotted. Rice and sorghums were being harvested. Some rice was grassy. Corn is maturing. Cattle and pastures are good.

Showers slowed the sorghum and broomcorn harvests in South Central Texas. The cotton harvest has started. Peanuts were making good growth but with some leaf spot showing up. Ranges and pastures are very good, cattle are doing well, some calves are being marketed but screwworms are bad.

Showers over most of far South Texas improved the moisture situation but heavy rains in the mid-Valley caused some damage to cotton. The cotton harvest was near the half-way mark in the Rio Grande Valley and fall vegetables were being planted in the Valley and Winter Garden areas. Pastures and livestock are excellent.

Stickers Appear

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Black and red stickers of the right-wing extremist underground appeared overnight on the streets of this capital city, where a broadcast on Radio Algiers wave-length called Saturday for a rising against President Charles de Gaulle.

Paris, a mecca for American tourists for many decades, estimates a drop of at least 10 per cent. The figure is given by W. L. Windler, American Express travel manager. He expressed doubt that uneasiness about Berlin and Algeria had discouraged many of the missing tourists. He noted that most travel plans were made in February and March, before Berlin became a hotspot.

He said such special attractions as the Olympic games in Rome, Italy, where American tourism has been climbing steadily every year, showed somewhat inconclusive figures. As in most lands, the first four months showed an increase of 15 to 20 per cent in tourists over last year. American tourism went up 5 per cent. But in June the over-all tourist influx increased only 10 per cent.

American Express officials in Geneva said there were from 15 to 20 per cent fewer American tourists in the mountainous wonderland this summer. The drop started in June, with the development of the Berlin crisis.

Officials suggested President Kennedy's call for dollar savings clearly was a factor. Hotel keepers in the main Swiss summer tourist spots reported a wave of cancellations from America. One estimate was as high as 30 per cent.

West German officials said they had no means of judging whether U.S. tourism has dropped off. The last figures were for March, which showed a 12.6 per cent increase for all foreigners and 1.1 per cent for Americans.

In the Netherlands, the official tourist agency reports a drop in American tourists, but a rise in European visitors.

Danish tourist associations say there has been a slight decrease in the number of American visitors. One agency estimated the decrease at 10 per cent.

Kennedy Arrives

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Edward Kennedy, younger brother of President Kennedy, arrived Sunday for an unofficial visit, and was greeted at the airport by members of the U.S. Embassy and Chilean officials.

Feeling The Pinch

If this lady had watched her waistline she wouldn't have found herself in this embarrassing predicament. Briska, 15-year-old female elephant at the Munich, Germany, zoo, wound up in this position after falling into the moat surrounding her enclosure. Workmen rigged a crane and lifted her out unharmed.

U.S. Tourism Reported Dropping Off In Europe

LONDON (AP) — The familiar figure of the camera-carrying American tourist isn't seen as often this summer as in former years at most of Europe's resort spots.

Early reports from hotels and tourist agencies show a definite dropping off of visitors from across the Atlantic. The falloff ranges around 10 per cent.

Among reasons advanced are:

1. President Kennedy's appeal to Americans to save dollars for America by spending their vacations at home.

2. The Berlin crisis. The average American tourist is highly sensitive to international trouble.

3. Tanks in Paris streets during the recent Algerian troubles.

The official figures for May — the most recent ones available in Britain — show a 10 per cent decrease from last year, although the number of visitors from other countries went up 10 per cent.

One Scottish tourist agency man estimated the American fall-off at as much as 40 per cent.

Paris, a mecca for American tourists for many decades, estimates a drop of at least 10 per cent. The figure is given by W. L. Windler, American Express travel manager. He expressed doubt that uneasiness about Berlin and Algeria had discouraged many of the missing tourists. He noted that most travel plans were made in February and March, before Berlin became a hotspot.

Few Dire Notes In U.S. Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington took the Soviet Union's second manned spaceship flight in stride. The general attitude was let's get on with our own space program.

Here and there an ominous note was struck—that the Soviet space success possibly portends a military threat to the United States.

The consensus was that the Soviets had scored a major accomplishment.

Typical of the let's-be-calm mood was the remark of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

"We shall do it in due course in equal and even larger degrees. Our space progress has been excellent and will pick up steam as it goes along," Dirksen said.

Among those looking at the dark side of the Soviet feat was Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"There are some indications that a satellite of this size could be utilized as a very dangerous weapon," Russell said.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said at Hyannis Port, Mass., after conferring with President Kennedy on U.N. matters "Russia's scientific contribution to the conquest of outer space commands our admiration."

"Orbiting a new astronaut for a longer period is another step forward. Let us hope the capsule is recovered and the life of this brave man saved."

Stevenson told newsmen he was sure these were also the views of the President. He added that he and Kennedy shared the view that space control was necessary and that they hoped the Soviets will "no longer delay in joining us in cooperative regulation in the use of outer space."

George M. Low, chief of the National Aeronautic and Space Administration's program, said the Soviet achievement had been expected by American space officials.

"Low said it would be 'quite some time yet' before the United States could hope to duplicate it. The U.S. program, he said, was 'being pushed hard and has been pushed hard,' but cannot go faster than it is going."

At Langley Air Force Base, Va., announcement of the Soviet achievement was received with typical calm by the U.S. Mercury astronaut. A spokesman, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, said: "None of us are particularly surprised."

Gordon B. Myrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Myrick, 209 NW 10th, wed Patricia Ann Winterrowd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Winterrowd, Pecos, at 2:30 p.m., Sunday in the First Baptist Church of Pecos.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Glen Edwards, pastor, before an altar flanked by red, orange and white gladiolus, two baskets of flowers and three candelabras. The couple knelt on a white kneeling bench. Nancy Bingham sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer" and was accompanied by Mrs. Jackie Tucker of Big Spring on the organ.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown with the bodice of chantilly lace over bridal satin. Attached to the back was a train of chantilly lace; the skirt was all bridal satin. Seed pearls trimmed the scalloped neckline and the bodice. Long sleeves came to points at the hands.

A large white orchid surrounded by pale yellow sweetheart roses was carried on top of a white pearl Bible by the bride.

Mrs. Leon Byrd of Big Spring, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Gilene Pfluger. Both wore identical coral organza over taffeta dresses with puffed sleeves and bouffant skirts. Each carried a single yellow rose and wore matching coral shoes, short white gloves and a small pearl drop.

Derwood Myrick of Big Spring, the bridegroom's brother, was the bestman. Ushers were Bill Lovelace, Travis Anderson, Dick Madison, all of Big Spring, and Curtis Winterrowd, the bride's brother. Leon Byrd, the bride's brother-in-law was the groomsmen.

For a trip to Dallas, Galveston and New Orleans, the bride left in a light grey suit, with fitted long sleeves and a box jacket.

The top of the dress was silk with gold and black horizontal streaks. She also wore a black

The bride is a graduate of Pecos High School and attended Draughon's Business College in Lubbock. Myrick is a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College and presently is employed at Heaters Supply Co.

Home of the newlyweds will be in Big Spring.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. In the receiving line with the couple were their parents, Gwen Byrd and Miss Pfluger.

The reception table was covered with a lace over coral cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was a silver candelabra entwined with roses. Coral-colored fruit punch, mixed nuts and mints were served along with the three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Registering guests was Barbara Joplin. Members of the houseparty were Mary Lane Lackey, Vicki Clark and Mrs. Julene McGuire.

Georgia Rutledge Hanson, 38, is shown being interrogated by Watsonville, Calif., Police Chief Frank Osmer after she confessed to him to murdering two children and her mother-in-law in Texas. Osmer said the 219-pound barmaid confessed to the three murders after being advised by a Watsonville priest.

Aid Clause Fight Victory Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today the Kennedy administration has the votes to defeat a coalition effort to require yearly congressional approval of long-range foreign aid lending.

"We are very optimistic about Senate passage of this provision," Humphrey said. "We are not going to compromise on it. We don't have to, since we have the votes."

After time out for argument over the nomination of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr., of Houston, to the Federal Power Commission, the Senate will plunge back into debate on its $4,326,500,000 version of a foreign aid authorization bill.

would be won or lost on the Byrd amendment.

Sens. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., have proposed that Congress be given a veto over all loans of $10 million or more. They would require that all loans above this minimum be reported to Congress, with either house permitted to reject them by majority vote within 30 days.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he couldn't predict when the Senate will reach a vote on the Byrd amendments. He said he hopes that action on the bill can be completed this week.

The House, engaged in routine matters, may reach by midweek a showdown vote on the Senate's action in adding $95 million to a money bill to finance an electric power producing installation at the Hanford, Wash., plutonium plant.

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he is confident administration forces can scuttle a proposal by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require annual congressional appropriations for a proposed $8.8 billion development loan fund.

President Kennedy asked for five-year authority to finance such loans through Treasury borrowing, a method which would bypass congressional control of the pursestrings in future years. Loan authority of $1,187,000,000 for the first year is included in the pending bill.

African Labor Merger Planned

TUNIS (AP)—Three major labor movements in North Africa Sunday announced plans to merge. The move was seen here as another step toward unity of the three Maghreb (North African) nations.

Leaders of the Tunisian, Moroccan and Algerian nationalist unions are meeting here to draw up the new group.

President Kennedy asked for five-year authority to finance such loans through Treasury borrowing, a method which would bypass congressional control of the pursestrings in future years. Loan authority of $1,187,000,000 for the first year is included in the pending bill.

Byrd made no victory claims in a separate interview. He said only that he believes the critical vote will be close and he has a chance of winning it.

Byrd said he had been informed that 22 of the Senate's 36 Republicans would support his amendment, which is backed by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Byrd said Southern and some Western Democrats had promised backing.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he fears at least six Republicans will vote against the Byrd proposal. He said he hasn't too much hope that it will be adopted.

Several proposed compromises for keeping congressional strings on the loan fund may be offered. The consensus was the battle

India Sets Forth Her 5-Year Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government today set forth its third five-year plan, designed to boost the per capita income in this poverty-plagued nation from the present $89.30 a year to $98.85 by 1966.

The 77-page plan presented to Parliament contains the most sober analysis Prime Minister Nehru's government has yet presented of successes and failures under its two previous development plans.

It scaled down some goals, such as the previous hope that the per capita income for India's 436 million people would reach $83.16.

The plan also postponed the target date when India expects to stand on its own feet in economic development. It said that by the end of the fifth five-year plan in 1976, India will be able to progress without foreign aid.

The government had once expressed hope it would reach this goal in 1966. Later it moved the date to 1971.

Reunion Is In Black

The Old Settlers Reunion will come out all right following its annual get-together, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, secretary, said Monday.

Besides settling all accounts for the barbecue and other food, traditionally a part of the gathering, the Old Settlers also financed a major enlargement of the pavilion in the City Park. The addition about doubled the size of the shelter.

The association went on record expressing thanks to all that made gifts to the affair, or who in any way had a part in helping stage the celebration or enlarge the pavilion. Officers are Jess Slaughter, president; Paul Bishop, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Wilson, secretary.

Referendum Date On Wheat Quotas Set For Aug. 24

Wheat producers will determine whether or not wheat marketing quotas will be in effect on the 1961 wheat crop on Aug. 24.

"The decision farmers make is extremely important to them and to the rest of the nation not only for 1962 but also for many years to come," said Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman when he announced the referendum date.

If two-thirds of the referendum voters favor quotas, cooperators will be eligible for full 1962 wheat price support. Although the level of support has not definitely been determined, it will be higher than the present level of $1.79 per bushel if proposed legislation now before Congress becomes law.

At a recent press conference, Secretary Freeman said that the national average support for wheat would likely be in the neighborhood of $2.00 per bushel.

If farmers decide in the referendum against quotas, there will be no limit on marketings, price support would be at 50 per cent of parity (wheat parity is now $2.37 per bushel) and would be available to those farmers who plant within their acreage allotments.

On May 12, Secretary Freeman proclaimed marketing quotas and a national acreage allotment of 55 million acres for the 1962 wheat crop on the basis of the limited supply and utilization of wheat. At that time he deferred setting the date for the referendum pending action to provide an improved wheat program for next year's crop.

Children Hurt In Scooter Crash

David Lawrence Taylor, 13, suffered a broken left arm, and Donna Gale Carter, 9, Seminoles, a concussion, when a motor scooter on which they were riding was in collision with a pickup truck driven by John David West of Coahoma. The accident occurred at 9:50 a.m. at the intersection of Austin and E. Twelfth.

Both were taken to Cowper Hospital and Clinic by River ambulance, and their conditions were reported as satisfactory.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Taylor, 510 E. 16th, and Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Carter of Seminoles. Donna was in Big Spring visiting her grandmother.

Man Is Knocked Through Window

Police were called to the Avant Grocery, 510 Lamesa Highway, where a man was injured when he was knocked into a plateglass window. Anastacio Escobar, 565 N. Johnson, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation where he was treated for minor cuts and released. Damage to the window was estimated at $75.

Several reports of vandalism were made to police, including windows being broken where an old house was being torn down, in east Big Spring, glass broken from a car on the Ritz Parking lot, and youngsters throwing rocks at cars on two occasions.

Shopping Center Dirt Work Begun

Work was started Monday morning on the College Park Shopping Center, east of Birdwell and south of E. Fourth. The grading, drainage, and retaining wall on the south side of the site, is being done by Cecil Ruby, Austin.

The shopping center which has been in the planning stage for several months, directed by John Little, will take in the area bounded by Birdwell, E. Fourth, Tulane, and the alley between Tulane and Purdue.

The company will do all the grading, drainage, and leveling work leading to the letting of a contract for building the center. Plans for the center had not been made available Monday.

Jury Is Called In Air Banditry

EL PASO (AP)—Federal Judge R. E. Thomason has called a special session of the federal grand jury today to hear testimony for possible indictment and trial against the Arizona father and son who hijacked a Continental Airlines jet over El Paso last Thursday.

Thomason said if an indictment should be returned, Leon Beardson, 50, and his son, Cody, 16, would probably be arraigned in U.S. district court either Thursday or Friday.

Latin-American Leaders Ask Support For Anti-Red Drive

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Latin-American leaders today pictured the hemisphere as boiling with revolutionary ferment and appealed to all classes to support the U.S. program designed to secure the area against assault from world communism.

The United States unveils the broad outlines of its alliance for progress program later to the Inter-American conference here.

Speeches, including a key address by U.S. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon launch a schedule of digging and probing for the most effective methods of putting President Kennedy's program into action.

Underlining the atmosphere of urgency, Felipe Herrera, president of the Inter-American Development Bank, said:

"In this age of popular and national revolutions, alliance for progress will be significant to Latin America only if it receives direct support of the great masses of workers and farmers, businessmen and endorsement of intellectuals and technicians."

Dillon will tell delegates to the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference how the United States proposes to help Latin America tackle its age-old problems of poverty and illiteracy and approach the goal of economic stability.

Viewing this program as a common concern of the Western alliance against communism, the United States will invite Europe's developed nations to join in the drive to secure Latin America.

The Kennedy administration is prepared to commit itself to a 10-year crash program to bolster Latin America. It is ready to start the program rolling with a billion-dollar push in the first year.

Some Latin American delegates already were complaining that the billion dollars was not enough and included sums previously approved.

President Eduardo Victor Haedo of Uruguay and other Latin American leaders at the conference also were reported urging that President Kennedy reconsider his decision not to attend the conference because of the press of world affairs. These Latin

Scientists See Next Red Step As Journey To Moon

LONDON (AP)—Some Western scientific sources today saw the Soviet Union's next target as the moon as the world applauded Maj. Gherman Titov's epic space flight.

Kenneth Gatland, vice president of the British Interplanetary Society, said he expected the Russians to land a man on the moon between 1966 and 1967. He added that they may put a dog in a space ship and send it on a reconnaissance flight to the moon.

"What is so interesting about this latest Russian success is that Vostok II (Titov's space ship) had enough aid and food provisions in it for a round-the-moon reconnaissance flight which would last for about five to eight days," Gatland said.

Titov was in orbit a little more than a day.

Congratulations were issued by various governments, including those of Italy, Sweden and the Netherlands in Western Europe.

In Paris, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said "I am glad to know that he (Titov) came back alive. This is a fine ending."

Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain, also in Paris for the Western foreign ministers' meeting, remarked: "It is a great realization. I am glad I was not up in the vehicle with Titov."

Hugh McLeave, one of Britain's top scientific writers, said in the Daily Mail that the Russians' "second man-in-space coup has proved that they have already beaten the Americans in the race to the moon."

Rome's independent Il Messaggero said "beyond all nationalistic considerations, humanity today salutes the intrepid astronaut as one of its representatives and congratulates itself because Titov's exploit does not belong to Soviet scientists alone but to all peoples of the world who are seeing realized a grand dream."

Red China and the rest of the Communist world went into ecstasy over the Soviet achievement.

Factory sirens sounded in Communist East Berlin when the Soviet space ship passed over that city.

The crippled Children's Center is back in operation at its former location, according to Jim Thompson, therapist.

Equipment was moved this morning and treatment continued on a regular basis with little interruption, he said. Much of the equipment still needs arranging.

During the period in which the building was being repaired treatment was continued in a room at the YMCA. At present there are 10 children and six adults who receive regular treatment.

"The men certainly did an excellent job repairing the building," Thompson said. Cracks caused when the building settled have been repaired and only close inspection reveals where they were.

The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each Monday through Friday.

Bus Which Carried 16 To Death

The bus which carried 16 American tourists to their deaths in Switzerland's Lake Lucerne is hauled from the depths at Hergiswil. Seven bodies were recovered from the bus. Eight persons are missing. One body was taken from the lake immediately after the bus plunged into the water after a collision with a truck. Twenty-two persons survived the accident.

Nuclear Safety Clinic Stated

Thirty to 40 local area police chiefs, fire chiefs and newsmen are expected at Webb AFB tomorrow morning to attend a special orientation and briefing on the subject of Nuclear Safety.

This special program will start at 9:30 a.m. in the wing headquarters conference room with a film and talks on some of the aspects of the procedures and safety measures to be followed should a nuclear device-carrying aircraft have an accident in this area.

"While such an occurrence is possible," Maj. Russell J. Gradel, Webb District control officer said, "it is nearly impossible for a nuclear explosion to result. However, there are other safety factors that should be discussed."

Following the briefing," Maj. Gradel continued, "we will simulate an accident of a nuclear device-carrying aircraft on the base at Webb and demonstrate to the visiting officers and newsmen our procedure for handling the situation."

After the briefing and demonstration, the visiting officers and newsmen will have lunch at the Officers' Club to conclude the Nuclear Safety activity.

Driver Course Signs Up 208

A total of 208 students had registered for the lecture portion of Driver Education by noon today, according to Sam Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District.

Pre-registration was held today at Goliad Junior High for students who wish to complete the lecture portion of the course before school begins. Students are required to have 34 hours of lecture and nine hours of driving experience.

"Those who are willing to come in now can begin driving as soon as school begins," he said.

The number of classes will depend on the enrollment. Plans now call for four sections with two sections holding classes from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and two more from 10 a.m. to noon.

C. W. Tanner and Dan Bustamante are now scheduled to teach the courses.

"If enrollment justifies it, a third teacher and other sections may be added," Anderson said. Classes begin Tuesday at Goliad Junior High School.

VA Hospital Is Now At Capacity

Extra beds have been put up at the Veterans Administration Hospital today as the patient load exceeded normal capacity.

Normally, the hospital will accommodate 250 patients but during the morning the registration rose to 259. Officials say that running a full load is not unusual during fall and winter months, but that it is a seldom occurrence in the summer.

Titov landed at 10:18 a.m., one full day plus an hour and 18 minutes after the huge rocket had blasted him into space, presumably from the same cosmodrome near Bakumir from which Gagarin was launched.

This is about 700 miles east of the Caspian in the virgin land area and not far from the path chosen by U.S. pilot Francis Gary Powers for his ill-fated U2 flight over the Soviet Union.

Moscow Radio proclaimed that the "Soviet people congratulate and embrace Gherman Titov on his happy return."

Gagarin, whom Titov called "my great friend," cut short a visit to Halifax, N.S., to rush back to Moscow to greet his fellow cosmonaut. He told newsmen he knew in advance about Titov's flight and had personally checked out the Vostok II space capsule.

day midnight, another session is expected immediately.

The House last week advanced but failed to take final action on a bill designed to close so-called discount houses on either Saturday or Sunday. If the House finally passes it as amended, it will have to return to the Senate for further action.

Also ready again for Senate action was House-passed bill (HB63) to require a majority vote in special elections for legislative and congressional posts.

It was revived Saturday in the Senate after it apparently had been killed for the session, with national Democratic leaders reportedly pushing hard for its passage.

CHANCE BILL

There were weekend reports that an effort will be made to change the bill so that it will apply only to congressional races. Even if so changed, it does not now have enough House votes to make it effective in time for an impending special, San Antonio congressional election.

There were reports, however, that Democratic leaders in Washington were putting pressure on legislative leaders here in view of several other prospective national House elections in Texas which Republicans could win if the majority rule is not applied.

LOOKING EM' OVER

By TOMMY HART

The face and figure of a one-time Big Spring youth who played his high school football in Amarillo decorate the cover of the University of Oklahoma football brochure this year. They belong to Billy White.

For the first time in 15 years, the OU football team has only one player as a captain and White holds that distinction. He'll be at left tackle for the Sooners.

Last year, he was the only OU player chosen on the all-Big Eight conference eleven.

Missouri's Tigers, which played against both boys, picked White over Colorado's Joe Romig by an 8-7 margin as the best lineman they faced all season and Romig made several All-America eleven.

In the game against Missouri, Billy gave OU a 7-0 lead when he came clear across to block out Norm Beal, ace Tiger defensive back, permitting Mike McClellan (another Texan) to run 70 yards for a TD.

Oklahoma's coaching staff also voted White the "Ug" Award as the Sooners' outstanding defensive player in five 1960 games. Those included four rugged tests—Northwestern, Kansas, Colorado and Missouri.

White now stands six feet and weighs 202. He's quick and has fine lateral speed. He twice tackled Teddy Woods, Colorado's Olympic sprinter, for no gain on strongside sweeps. He twice got Tom Watkins of Iowa State on weakside sweeps away from him to the other side of the line. He pursues well, as he proved in catching Jack Richardson, Kansas State halfback, from behind after Richardson ran back the opening kickoff of the game to OU's 30.

Billy's blocking ahead of OU's left half handoff play is considered good and his downfield blocking, if not great, is considered better than average. He's learned his position well under a former All-American, Gomer Jones, now the OU line coach.

He is good at hitting the opposition and not letting him off the line of scrimmage. He keeps leverage well, keeping an eye peeled for drop-back passes and staying in position to stop reverses and sweeps coming his way. His hustle, more than any other factor, impresses his coaches.

Billy's father is Wes White, a salesman who moved to Amarillo not long after Billy had put in a couple of years of Little League ball here. At Amarillo, he played football under Joe Kerbel, who made inquiries about coming here as coach at one time.

He's studying to become a pharmacist. His team-mates call him "Claw" because of his curved eyebrows, but he's all business on the field. He could become OU's next All-American.

Billy perhaps is too small for pro football, unless he puts on 20 or 30 pounds. Added weight, however, could reduce his speed.

Bud Wilkinson, the OU coach, could field a powerful team composed exclusively of Texas products.

Such a lineup would have Monte Deere (Amarillo) at quarterback, backed by Bob Page (Borger); Mike McClellan (Stamford) and Jimmy Carpenter (Abilene) at halfbacks, backed by Gary Wylie (Whitesboro) and Geary Taylor (Amarillo); Don Dickey (Phillips) at fullback, backed by Bud Dempsey (Fort Worth); Danny Jordan (Amarillo) backed by Jim Byerly (Stamford); Karl Milstead (Athens) and Tom Cox (Amarillo), backed by Jimmy Giustrap (Abilene); White and Duane Cook (Amarillo) at tackles, backed by and Ronny Payne (Breckenridge) and John Keller (Terrell), ends.

White and his team-mates get to face Syracuse, Notre Dame and Texas this fall, in addition to seven conference foes.

Mantle Bears Down On Ruth's Record

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle can match Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in a season if he hits as many home runs in the next seven weeks as the Babe hit in the final four of his record-breaking year in 1927. Mantle, in a murderous hitting mood Sunday, smashed three home runs as the New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from Minnesota, 7-6 in 15 innings and 3-2. They boosted his season total to 43, the same number Ruth had on Aug. 31, 1927. The Babe finished with a flourish, socking 17 in September to break his win record of 59, set in 1921.

DEAR ABBY
You Picked
A Loser

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who is so broke he has even considered selling his body to a medical school when he dies for a little cash today. He earns (believe it or not) $18,000 a year, but we can't break even because he has to support three families! He was married twice before, and has six children. So he has to throw his money away on wives and children he never sees. It is like buying oats for dead horses. I don't believe in letting ex-wives and children starve to death, but both his ex-wives are staying single and bleeding him for everything he has just to be spiteful. Is there any way my husband can get his alimony and support money reduced? Don't suggest a lawyer. We are broke because of them.

THIRD WIFE

DEAR THIRD: Sorry, but when you want legal advice, a lawyer is still the best buy. The "horses" for whom your husband must buy "oats" are very much alive. And when a man chooses to change horses (three times yet!) in the middle of the stream, he had better have enough oats to stock Churchill Downs. You picked a losing out-burner, sister.

DEAR ABBY: I am almost twelve years old. When I was younger, my mother clobbered me. Now that I am older, I get restricted. I would rather get clobbered. What is your solution?

RAT

DEAR RAT: Rats can't choose their poison. Behave yourself.

DEAR ABBY: I want to know what is so good about having a marriage license? I am sick of married women turning up their noses at me. I have been a mistress for 12 years, have two children by the man, and he hasn't left me yet. He lives with his folks, and I rent a house. He comes to see me every chance he gets. He can't take me or the children out in public on account of his folks and friends, but a lot of married people don't go out together either. I am just as good a mother as any married woman, so what's the difference?

NOT MARRIED

DEAR NOT: If you don't care whether your children are legitimate and have a normal home life, and if social acceptance and respectability mean nothing to you, then there is nothing the matter with your arrangement.

36th Division Soldiers At Home

NORTH Ft. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—Civilian soldiers of the 36th infantry division were back home today under orders to keep themselves in a state of readiness. Unit commanders were instructed by Maj. Gen. Carl Phinney, division commander from Dallas, to stress "more realism in training" at home drills.

He called his officers to work on development of individual initiative among their men.

Phinney praised the T-patchers in their conduct of training, noting that every squad in the division was tested under the Army training test program.

The National Guard division finished two weeks of summer training Saturday.

Third Prelate Of Roman Church Is Taken By Death

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Joseph Ernest Cardinal Van Roey, 87, the third prince of the Roman Catholic Church to die within a week.

The Belgian prelate died Sunday after a lingering illness.

Cardinal Van Roey was known as "the rhinoceros of Malines"—the name of his archiepiscopal palace—because of his strong personality and forthright stand he took on political questions.

Before World War II he openly opposed Belgian fascist leader Leon Degrelle. During the German occupation he criticized Nazi occupation policies and objected to allied bombings of Belgium. In postwar years he fought socialist movements and frequently came under fire from the left-wing press.

Pope John XXIII officiated at Mass today for the late Belgian Cardinal at his summer residence in Castel Gandolfo.

The Belgian prelate's death reduced the College of Cardinals to 81 members.

13th Satellite Launched By Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vostok II was the 13th earth satellite successfully launched by the Soviet union and was her second manned spaceship.

The United States has sent up 45 unmanned satellites. Twenty-eight of them are still orbiting the earth.

Two of the Soviet earth satellites are still aloft. So are two Soviet satellites sent into orbit around the sun.

Tower Thinks Occupation Of Cuba Is 'Desirable'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says he thinks "the time is already here when military occupation of Cuba is desirable."

"Cuba," Tower said Sunday, "has become a staging area for the Communist infiltration of, subversion of, invasion of other Latin American countries." He added:

"I think we may be in danger of waiting too long to do this, because there may be a time when Mr. Castro has missiles neatly placed and aimed at some of our Florida cities. And then if we find it necessary to go into Cuba to prevent the invasion of another country, he may well say 'all right then, if you do this, I will destroy Miami.' Then what shape are we going to be in?"

Tower was asked on a TV interview program whether armed occupation of Cuba would arouse the rest of Latin America against the United States. His reply:

"There may be a backlash of opinion in Latin America, but Latin Americans could rest easier in their beds at night as a result of our having done so. And I think that this backlash would subside. And, too, we should make it plain that this action would not be against Cuba. It would be against Castro, a petty Communist tyrant."

Texas Weather Calms Down
By The Associated Press
The weather in Texas calmed down considerably Monday after a rather stormy Sunday in widely scattered areas.
Hardest hit was the Texoma Lake area along the Texas-Oklahoma border where one life was lost and damage estimated at $250,000 was caused, mostly to boats on the sprawling lake.
The Texoma storm struck before dawn Sunday. The Houston and Abilene areas were raked by thunderstorms Sunday night.
Early Monday scattered thunderstorms fell along the upper Texas coast and in the Abilene and San Angelo sections. A cool front that moved across the state Sunday dropped temperatures considerably. Readings at dawn Monday range from 65 degrees at Dalhart to 76 degrees at Fort Worth, Waco, Galveston, Brownsville and El Paso.
A search continued for the body of Charley Lay, 25, of Shawnee, Okla., believed to have drowned when a boat from which he was fishing was swamped by the Texoma storm. Three companions managed to reach safety.
More than 60 boats were sunk by slashing winds of up to 100 miles an hour. Several hundred other boats were damaged, including a large number of cruisers.
Anchor cables on many boats were snapped, trees were uprooted, power lines cut and at least one boat dock washed away in the two-state area. Fire broke out on the Island's Vie resort's dock after it was yanked away from shore.
Power failures occurred in parts of Houston as a vicious thunderstorm struck late Sunday night. One television station was knocked off the air for 30 minutes. The wind blew in gusts up to 32 miles an hour. The temperature dropped from 82 to 70 degrees within an hour.
The Abilene storm broke shortly after 11 p.m. Winds of 25 to 30 miles an hour raked the city. No damage was reported. Rainfall of 2.2 of an inch was gauged.
Forecasts called for fair to partly cloudy skies and widely scattered thundershowers through Tuesday.
Shot To Death
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Millionaire tin miner Foo Yet Kai, 35, who always slept with a loaded gun under his pillow, was shot dead as he grappled with two intruders in his luxurious home Sunday. Police believe Foo was resisting an attempt to kidnap him.

Western Europe Cheers Russ Space Flight Accomplishment

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe today cheered the scientific accomplishment of Maj. Gherman Titov's space flight. Some voiced fears the Soviet Union will use it as a military weapon. Others considered it a normal development that should cause no undue alarm.

The flight only hours before Premier Khrushchev was to make a major radio speech was widely assumed to have been timed to bolster the threats to West Berlin expected from the Soviet premier.

The political implications did not detract from the fulsome praise for Soviet scientific genius and a widespread feeling that the Soviet Union is well ahead of the United States in the race to the moon.

Britain's top space watcher, Sir Bernard Lovell, warned: "I am far from being pro-Russian in the political sense—on the contrary. But I think one of the greatest dangers in the world today is to doubt their strength in science and technology."

Lovell, director of the giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank in northern England, called Titov's flight "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

Britain's most widely read columnist, Cassandra of the Daily Mirror, noted Khrushchev's speaking tonight and summed up what many feared:

"The tragedy of this magnificent feat, with the Russians peering down in orbit over London and Washington and riding the heavens as no living being has ever done before, is that the wonder and greatness of it is deliberately timed to intimidate the West and to hearten and encourage the Communist world to new acts of aggression."

Titov's flight came with Britain and most of Europe enjoying an August holiday. Millions kept their ears tuned to their radios for news of the space man's progress.

One British Nobel-prizewinning physicist, Sir George Thomson, took the new Soviet achievement calmly. "This thing has been done once," he said, "and to do it several times is not all that difficult if you have done it once. We should thank the Russians for arranging it on a holiday."

Norway's Socialist government organ, Arbeiderbladet, posed this question:

"What the whole world asks

Search Is On For Ex-Convict

SANGER, Tex. (AP)—A widespread search is on in North Central Texas for a Fort Worth ex-convict identified as the gunman who shot and wounded a Sanger service station employe during a $393 holdup early Sunday.

Authorities said the wounded man identified the robber from a police mug shot as Arthur Stepp, 26.

The wounded man, R. L. Odom, was taken to a Dallas hospital for surgery after first being treated in a Denton hospital. He was shot in the face, chest, arm and hand.

Shortly after the holdup state police engaged in a running gun fight with a car occupied by a man and a woman before it overturned on a farm road a mile south of Denton. The pair escaped on foot in the early morning darkness.

The robbery occurred at the GI Oil Co. station in Sanger, 14 miles north of Denton, about 12:30 a.m. The gunman took $360 from the station and $33 from Odom.

Police obtained a picture of Stepp from Fort Worth and showed it to Odom after learning the wrecked car belonged to a relative of the ex-convict.

Twelve hours after the holdup officers reported a man fitting the description of the ex-convict stole a car at the Owens boat dock at Lake Dallas.

A helicopter and bloodhounds from Palo Pinto County joined in the search for the fugitive.

Viet Nam Bares Communist Ring

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem's government announced today it had uncovered a Viet Cong Communist ring in Saigon, arrested about 50 agents and seized a quantity of hand grenades.

Ngo Trong Hieu, minister for civic action, said the ring was uncovered after a military policeman was killed by a grenade thrower July 30.

Yanks Are Feted By S. Koreans

Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, the junta chairman, entertained Ambassador Samuel D. Berger, Gen. Crey S. Meloy, the U. N. and U. S. 8th Army commander, and Dr. Raymond T. Moyer, outgoing director of the U. S. aid program.

A Devotional for Today

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Psalms 46:1)
PRAYER: Dear Father, Thou hast been our refuge and strength through the years. Help us to look to Thee always, because Thou art our guide and inspiration. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who are in heaven . . . Amen."
(From The "Upper Room")

Meting Out A Sterner Justice

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is alarmed over the wide increase in the rate of crime. He is alarmed also that too many who run afoul of the law are dismissed with a slap on the wrist.
Nothing discourages law enforcement officers more than a knowledge that their efforts in catching criminals often come to naught through promiscuous resort to suspended sentence, parole, probation, etc., he pointed out.
"In the August issue of FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, he wrote that "of almost 30,000 individuals arrested for lottery, numbers rackets, gambling, book-making, prostitution, and operating disorderly house, 73 per cent were discharged by magistrates! Out of well over 800 gamblers who pleaded guilty, only 12 per cent ever went to jail. Fifty-eight per cent were ordered to pay fines (nothing more than license fees for gamblers);

250 others were given suspended sentences or placed on probation."
He hastens to say "America is not a vengeful land, it is not a cruel land; but certainly something must be done to make it an internally peaceful land. Crime in 1960 rose 12 per cent over the previous year; the first quarter of this year shows an increase of 10 per cent in American cities (9 per cent in murders). Of the 154 individuals on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted Fugitives' list, 130 previously received either suspended sentences, parole or probation.
"For a peaceful and wholesome society, it is imperative that the rights of law-abiding citizens be given at least the same respect and consideration as the rights of lawbreakers. . . . Only stern action in our courts, involving a philosophy of making the punishment fit the crime and realistic administration of rehabilitative measures can force back the criminal plague."

Hope For The Alcoholics

Because it functions with anonymity, the AA (Alcoholics Anonymous) does not reap the harvest of recognition that it deserves. Thus, we fear that the open house affairs, such as the one held Saturday evening, are not as widely attended as they should be.
The secret of AA is not its anonymity, but it could not function as it does except that its members respected this anonymity as an expression of humility and selflessness. Just as the heart of religion is one sinner saved by grace telling another, the essence of AA is one dry alcoholic helping another to cope with a problem that has become overpowering and consuming.
There is a message of hope in AA for any person who sincerely wants to come to grips with the affliction of alcoholism. Here are people from every walk of life who have a common tie—they all were once powerless to resist the insatiable desire for escape through drink. They all have the genuine honesty to admit that they once were drunks and couldn't do anything about it. But through the help of an AA member, who is never too busy to aid and help a struggling soul in his or her darkest hours, they have done something about it one day at a time.

Having found a way out, they know all the answers to the excuses and justifications and the resignations which an alcoholic uses. They find their salvation in helping as they were helped. Their anonymity is their badge of sincerity.

Russia May Accept 'Common Market'

IN EUROPE—What does Russia think of the "common market" idea? What effect will Britain's decision to work closely with the continental countries have on Moscow? What impact will it have on the satellite countries which are left isolated as they see their former associates in Europe moving toward a stronger and stronger economic position?

THESE QUESTIONS are even more important today here in Europe than the special problems that Britain faces with her Commonwealth associates, or the dilemma confronting Sweden and Finland, which dislike to become entangled in any kind of political union that might be resented by the Soviets. Neither country has joined NATO.

Is Moscow, however, irreconcilably opposed to the enlarged common market plan? While hostile propaganda against it continues over the air waves, the Russians have never pinpointed their objections except from the political viewpoint. In fact, it is conceivable that in the long run the Soviets may find a united economic entity in the Western part of Europe easier to deal with than the present setup of two rival organizations.

FOR THE MOMENT, Moscow keeps hammering away that Britain, in joining the European Economic Community, is making a mistake and is diminishing her influence in Europe. But these tactics are obviously designed to embarrass, if not discourage, the whole common market movement. The Communists are well aware that the European Economic Community is destined to develop successfully, and hence it may be that, when the new organization finally gets firmly established, the Moscow policy will be changed to one of friendliness, instead of hostility. Indeed, there may come a time when the Soviets will be maneuvering to build up more trade for the satellite countries as well as for themselves.

THE SOVIETS are well aware of the fact that a consolidated market in Western Europe comprising 300,000,000 people means a huge industrial capacity and rapid progress in living standards, along with improvements in social conditions. Despite all the Utopian promises in the new 20-year Communist party program, the fact remains that the peoples of East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the other satellite countries in Eastern Europe will be hearing every day of the realistic growth of the Western countries. News like this travels across international boundaries despite censorship of the press and radio. In a political sense, therefore, the Russians have much to fear and, if they find they cannot really block the movement, they may in the long run try to associate themselves indirectly with it.

RUSSIA EVEN gave permission to Finland within the last two years to join the European Free Trade Association—known as "the seven"—as an "associate member," and offered no objection to Sweden's action in becoming a full-fledged member. Nor was any effort made by Moscow to stop Austria from joining. This does not mean that the Soviets acquiesce in everything "the seven" have done. In fact, the Russians demanded of the organization that the so-called "most favored nation treatment" be granted on certain exports which are part of the Soviets' trade arrangements with all Western countries. Britain and other countries objected. Only Finland had heed to the Russian request.

The Russians are not likely, of course, to abandon right away their efforts to cause embarrassment. They are already trying to persuade Sweden to take only a limited participation in the enlarged common market plan. Norway and Denmark will seek full membership, so it may be that Sweden will find it hard to satisfy the demands of Russia.
THE SOVIETS, on the other hand, it is pointed out by some economists, have always respected strength, especially in the economic field, and if their propaganda tactics fail, they may suddenly decide to try to make a deal with the big common market operation. The merger of the two common markets appears to be the only development that promises to create a counterweight against Soviet dominance in Europe. Faced by this fact, Moscow may well try to come to terms with the group in order to get the heavy machinery and equipment, as well as consumer goods, it will need to carry out Soviet economic expansion plans.

ECONOMIC STRENGTH, to be sure, sooner or later spells political power. That is why, incidentally, the Scandinavian governments would like to see the political aspects soft-pedaled at this time and only the economic factors stressed as the enlarged common market organization takes in new members and plans its future. This is one of the main reasons for the recent conference of the prime ministers of Norway, Sweden and Denmark. The fact is that, in the long run, if there is economic unity and economic prosperity, political strength will inevitably follow anyhow.
It could even be that at some future time a sensible premier in Moscow will himself be applying for membership in the European common market. He might discover that some of the objectives of the Communist 20-year plan would have more chance of attainment during an era when armament spending is curtailed, and political crises are not chronic, than under the dangerous conditions that prevail internationally today.

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — Chief Custodian Willis Benz is worried about the Xanthoxera sorbiflora Bunge on the courthouse square.
Word got around that it is the only one of its kind in Colorado, and souvenir hunters have been stripping its lower extremities.

Kennedy's Biggest Tests Coming Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's biggest tests in dealing with Congress come in the next few weeks.
So far he has relied heavily on President Eisenhower's method of avoiding temper tantrums on either side. He has done pretty well.
But his programs which Congress approved have been fairly conservative and, in the main, noncontroversial.

The real tough ones — foreign aid, federal aid to education and medical care for the aged — are in serious trouble. The medical care bill is in such distress it looks dead for 1961.
KENNEDY HAS given the impression of more determined follow-through than Eisenhower, although whether this is true will be shown in the way he handles himself with Congress from now on.

Eisenhower from the beginning acted as though his White House leadership job were to keep down conflict, not only abroad but at home.
This may be considered in the end his greatest contribution. When he took over, the country was split by McCarthyism and all that implied: harshness and suspicion.
Eisenhower sweated it out, stayed calm, kept hands off, and in the end Sen. McCarthy destroyed himself politically.
But this business of staying above the strife-in dealing with Congress—when important legislation runs into serious opposition — could be and was at times fatal.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.
Do you feel more worthwhile? You should. The chemicals in your body used to be worth 87 cents, now they're worth about 98 cents.
Today's college man is no Beau Brummell. He has an average of only 2.9 suits.
New is the time to be careful. Accidents hit a peak in the summer months, are lowest in the months of January, February and March.
Worth repeating: Half the world's miseries are caused by hardness of heart—the other half by softness of head.
Odd items about famous folk: Singer Polly Bergen modeled bathing suits as a teen-ager, didn't learn to swim until last summer. Sigmund Freud, the father of psychoanalysis, smoked 20 cigars a day. Thomas Jefferson, who drafted the U.S. Declaration of Independence, studied up to 15 hours daily as a college student.
One reason doctor's bills are getting higher: It now takes $67,000 to train a specialist.
Many soldiers would be surprised to know the rocket gun isn't new to military science. The Chinese invented it some 3,000 years ago.
Long-winded: The oldest president at the start of his term in office, William Henry Harrison (68 years, 23 days), delivered the longest inaugural address—more than 8,000 words. Wearing neither hat nor great coat he rode on horseback through a storm to the ceremony, caught a cold and died a month later. Pride led him to his tomb.
While we're on this subject, we might as well admit Harrison (a general) in that speech used the personal pronoun "I" record 45 times—a colonel, Theodore Roosevelt, was the only president who never used the word "I" in his inaugural address, yet he was one of the most magnetic and forceful of our national leaders.

News in its nose: A bloodhound doesn't trail just footprints. It follows the entire body scent of a lost or fugitive person, and can in damp weather smell him half a mile away, or follow him 10 days later along his path.
The growth of an industry: The number of aircraft produced in America increased from a known 45 in 1912 to an estimated 10,881 in 1960. But wartime 1945 was the fabulous year: The U.S. built 95,272 military planes, contrasting with 1909 when it produced one.
Wisecrack of the week: Divorcees are getting so friendly, says Tom Jones, that alimony should be called "palimony."
Harrier: Beecher Stowe helped influence the course of a nation with "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Her first literary effort at the age of 12 was an essay titled "Can the Immortality of the Soul be Proved by the Light of Reason?" For some reason it never became a best seller.
Coals to Newcastle: The Irish are rich in lions. Some 550 lion cubs have been born in the Dublin Zoo during its 127-year history. Many have been exported all over the world, including — of all places — Africa.
We all start small. The whale and the mouse begin from an egg of approximately the same size.
It was Anatole France who observed, "We do not know what to do with this short life, yet we want another which will be eternal."

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
In front of me is a six-page letter which starts out: "I have had a certain painful condition for almost eight years. It comes every now and then but it is with me most of the time. For a while I didn't have a doctor, treat me because I thought it might be cancer, in which case treatment is only useless and prolongs suffering."
At this point, my friends, I felt a lecture coming on, but I went ahead and completed the letter anyway.
It recounted visits to three doctors, along with the complaint that they all demanded urine samples and other tests: that "a certain painful condition" still goes around from one place to another, and not one of the doctors has cured it; and "eight years ago I ate eggs three times a day for two months to lose weight." Could that have anything to do with it?
Now let's not laugh unless we are sure that we haven't done about the same blasted thing—fitting from doctor to doctor.
As to cancer, sure, we're all hoping that it won't happen to us—but let me lay down two important facts. First of all, one of every three cases of cancer is now being cured, and the percentage would be substantially higher if all of us would have our "suspected cancers" looked at as soon as we notice them. (Most won't be cancer anyway!)
Second, and this hasn't been emphasized nearly enough, there are mighty few cancers which cannot be treated to the extent of extending life materially, and reducing discomfort substantially, with the exception of those which have progressed much too far before being treated.
There are any number of cancer cases in which the patient remains active, useful, happy and comfortable for months and years and may, indeed, require drug relief only at the end. I could go even farther and point out that, among elderly people especially, cancer often progresses so slowly that it isn't too unusual to find some that have existed for 10 years, or even a lot longer than that, without doing any damage.
However, I particularly don't want the foregoing to be used as an excuse for not having a suspicious sign reported to the doctor at once. But I DO want to explode the widespread idea that nothing can be done, or that treatment "just prolongs suffering."

To Your Good Health

Don't Flit From Doctor To Doctor

That IS NOT SO.
For a short reminder, I want to repeat, for the umpteenth time that the best and most economical form of health care is to stick to the same doctor.
Leaping from one to another is costly and frustrating, and while usually an acute illness can be diagnosed at once, many of the minor but nagging ailments (or combinations of them) can't be sorted out until a doctor has had a chance to get to know his patient.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Does constipation cause hemorrhoids or vice versa? A doctor gave me suppositories, but they did not provide any relief. I have some internal hemorrhoids that are troubling me.—Mrs. D. J."
One can cause the other, and the opposite. If internal hemorrhoids are the real cause of your distress, a hemorrhoidectomy (surgical removal) should be done. The constipation can be corrected by proper diet, enough fluid intake, and better timing of bowel action. Note that I am pretty positive about that: IT CAN BE DONE.
MRS. J. W.: No, I don't think water, etc., tend to produce high blood pressure.

Around The Rim

Middle Age—And Headaches, Too

This and that:
Middle age, a University of Illinois professor insists, starts as early as 26.
Thomas H. Cureton Jr. insists that's the age when the powers of the body start to decline if a person allows himself to go on living as usual.
There was a time in my life when I thought a person of 26 was in doddering old age.

IF YOU NEVER have headaches, you are in the minority.

The Louisiana State University school of medicine, after conducting a survey among 5,000 persons not long ago, deduced that 60 per cent of the general population has headaches.

Medical students led the list, more than 80 per cent of them had recurring headaches. Business executives came second, with 77 per cent. Next in order were professional people, with 70 per cent; housewives, with 69 per cent; clerks, with 68 per cent; salesmen, with 58 per cent; manual laborers, with 55 per cent; and farmers, with 50 per cent.

AGE IS A FACTOR, the study showed; 78 per cent of those under 20 had headaches but only 23 per cent of those over 60 suffered such pain.
Women are more frequent sufferers than men; 71 per cent of the women surveyed had recurring headaches and compared to 50 per cent of the males. Single and separated persons suffer more generally than do married, divorced or widowed persons.

IN THE SINGLE and separated categories, 70.8 per cent had headaches; 68.5 per cent of those divorced needed aspirin. The percentage for married persons was 61.5 per cent—for widowed persons, 52.3 per cent.

The most likely person to escape a headache then, one would assume, would be a male farmer, over 60, who has lost his wife.

A CIGARETTE that lights itself will appear on the market next year.
The cigarette has a special tip at the front end that is ignited by rubbing it against a striking surface on the package and it ignites without producing a flame.

EVER WONDER HOW, when motorizing along a highway, to draw attention to the fellow who has his car's directional light winking and doesn't realize it?

The idea is now to extend the thumb and four fingers and moved them toward each other several times.
It's an official wigwag suggested by the AAA.

The Angry Old Men

Almost every sector of the Western world has, since World War II, produced a stunningly articulate crop of angry young men. In England, the angry young men are sufficiently numerous and windy to have produced a literary movement.

Contrarywise in the United States (whose youth, Oscar Wilde once said, is its oldest tradition), we specialize these days not in the production of angry young but of angry old men.

BESIDE THEIR rage, the angry young of Europe and the angry Nestors of the U. S. A. have one overweening hate in common: they despise the 20th Century. Of course, the two groups repudiate it for different reasons.

The mad young men hate the 20th Century because—in their view—it is crass, vulgar, materialistic, pretentious and atomic. The mad old men of the U. S. A. fulminate against the 20th Century for a much more simple reason.

THEY REJECT it because it is not the 19th Century, that century so beautiful, so enshrined in their hearts because it was sans that root of all evil, the income tax, and sans strong labor unions, Social Security, the United Nations, NATO ("foreign entanglements"), New Dealers, Fair Dealers and now, God forbid!, New Frontiersmen.

So the angry old men of the United States, furious that the sun dial did not stop with the 19th Century, form into John Birch and other vigilante societies. And, beating their collective chest, they cry aloud that they are fighting communism when what they are really fighting is the evolving social and economic system of the 20th Century that would insure a squarer shake for all citizens rather than a lucky few.

IN ENGLAND the angry young men have turned out a library of protest in the form of plays and novels.
In the United States, the chief literary output of the angry old men is columns in which they thunder against a modern world they did not make and which has long since passed them by. Their fury is multiplied by the fact that they are no longer in the main stream of life, if they ever were.

They are "agin" everything, smiting the 20th Century hip and thigh. And they are never so transparent or so pitiful as when they are denouncing the present Administration for (1) its youth and (2) its intellectual associations.

THE MAIN INTEREST in all they write is that the terrible 20th Century is the invention of the Democrats, probably with the help of the devil, and that it would go away if only the Democrats and their ally could be excoriated.

At that moment, the angry old men are demanding that the Administration throw the rascals, that is, the intellectuals, out of Washington. As far as the A. O. M. go, the definition of an intellectual is anyone in possession of a Phi Beta Kappa key, a degree summa cum laude, a Harvard diploma or the ear of John F. Kennedy. Or who has read a book.

THESE ARE horrendous charges, the A. O. M. insist, and are surely leading to the destruction of the American way; at least their American way. The most serious accusation in their book (if they will excuse the expression) is intellectualism.

But this is nothing new. Ever since 1853, there have been recurrent revivals of the old Know-Nothing party in the U. S. A. The Founding Fathers did not object to brains or suspect its intellectuals. But for more than a century, both have been the objects of distrust with guardians of the status quo.

The United States has always survived the recurrent spasms of the Know-Nothings. I have a hunch that the 20th Century will survive not only the current resurgence but outstay the angry old men.

Defense Of Military Expression

WASHINGTON — Something like five hours of serious Senate discussion on a dead-serious subject recently got little or no mention in the metropolitan press—but the senators involved intend to keep on shouting till they are heard. The matter was summarized by Sen. Mundt (R-SD) last Monday, July 31st:

"TODAY," SAID MUNDT, "I received in my office two calls from persons who wanted to get more information about the matter. . . . There was not a single word about it in the Sunday editions of the Washington newspapers. . . . not . . . a single word about what occurred on the floor of the Senate during those several hours of informative discussion on Saturday."

What is this taboo subject? Well, it relates to an attempt by three senators—Mundt, Thurmond (D-SC) and Goldwater (R-Ariz) to show that there exists a brute force effort to muzzle the anti-Communist military. Since so little about it has reached print, I think a foreshortened blow-by-blow account is in order.

JULY 25: Thurmond, a member of the Armed Services Committee and a combat officer in World War II, learned that Sen. Fulbright, chairman of Foreign Relations, had fired off a memorandum to the Secretary of Defense against military officers indoctrinating their troops, or groups of civilians, against the dangers of Communist infiltration. Thurmond demanded, but did not get, a satisfactory accounting from Fulbright.

JULY 26: Thurmond made a lengthy and furious attack against the administration for hounding its military officers. He also entered into the Congressional Record several samples from the Communist newspaper, "The Worker," showing that the latest attack upon our military leaders had first occurred in this enemy journal.

JULY 29: Thurmond came back with another speech on the same subject and new samples from "The Worker." This time, in an issue predated July 30th, "The Worker" was much more specific. It revealed that the Kennedy administration was in the process of removing the last vestiges of a 1958 Eisenhower policy, which officers were authorized to participate in anti-Red information programs, such as defense strategy seminars and the showing of documentary educational films. "The Worker" excoriated some of our finest officers by name—Admiral Burke, General LeMay, General Van Fleet, General Taylor and Lt. Gen. Trudeau, now chief of Army Research and Development, but the candidate of many senators, congressmen and military writers to become the new head of the Central Intelligence Agency, or some equally responsible job in direct conflict with Communism.

JULY 28: Sen. Goldwater made a rousing speech on the subject of military muzzling in Houston, Texas. Addressing the state convention of the American Legion, Goldwater got after Fulbright for the latter's alleged charge that "the virus of right-wing radicalism" was rampant and ruinous in the Armed Services. Goldwater added several outside examples to show how upper echelon officers are being silenced. Among his examples: The Aviation News, April 20, '61: "The trend today toward one-man censorship of all information from the Pentagon continues to accelerate. . . ."

THE ARMY, NAVY, Air Force Journal, May 13, '61: "Professional military thought and expression (are) under attack at the Pentagon. . . . They undermine official policy."

The Chicago Sun-Times, July 20, '61 reported that "a dangerous movement is afoot to 'get' LeMay as a means of undermining a 'hard line' on Berlin."

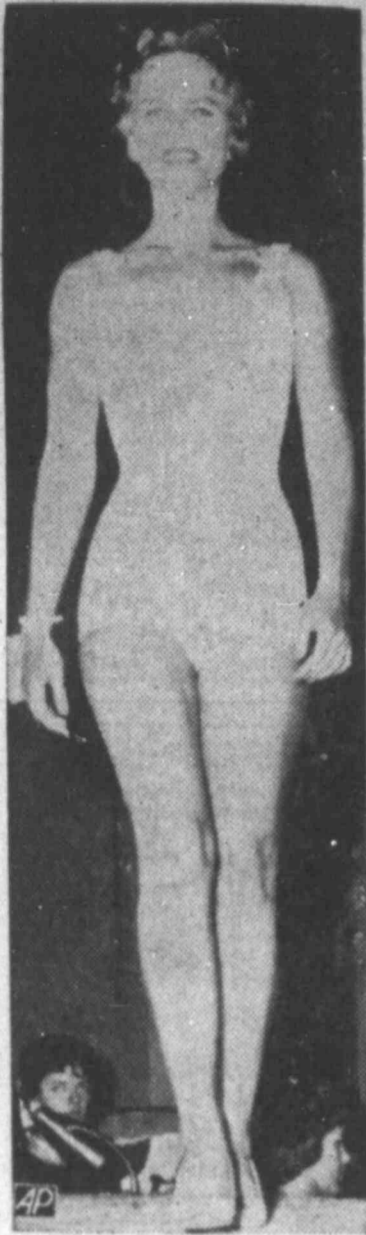

IT ALL ADDED UP to the Thurmond-Mundt-Goldwater effort of July 31st to put the news across to the public—news that one of the strangest retreats of the Cold War is being conducted by the New Frontier.

Bears Eat Signs

SKYLAND, Va. (AP) — A Shenandoah National Park visitor suggested to rangers that the park's bears should be educated so they could read a sign saying: "Please don't eat the signs." The bears have been eating the park service signs, even when they're soaked in creosote. Barbed wire around the edges helps but rangers fear people will tear their clothes or stick a finger on the bars.

Titov Refers To Himself As 'Eagle'

MOSCOW (AP) — "I am an eagle."

That's how Soviet spaceman Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov described himself as he whirled in orbit around the globe.

Son of a retired Siberian school teacher, Titov, 26, is a year younger than his "great friend" Maj. Yuri Gagarin, who made the first space flight.

Titov's picture, flashed on Soviet television, showed him to be a handsome, wavy-haired pilot with lines of humor on an intelligent face.

His father, Stepan Pavlovich Titov, described his son as "obedient and industrious" with an enthusiasm for anything aeronautical since childhood.

"He liked to make things, especially to build model aircraft and to launch gliders," the elder Titov said. "Gherman used to read a lot, and like all boys of his age was keen on adventure stories."

"We wanted him to go to a university, but he decided to become a pilot and his dream came true."

The youthful spaceman was born in the village of Verkhneye Zhilino, in western Siberia.

He went to Stalingrad flying school in 1955, won his wings in 1957 with top-flight grades and then signed up for the air force. Friends described him as an athletic type with a fondness for gymnastics and a bicycle champion.

Like Gagarin, Titov is married but the biography released by the Soviet news agency Tass made no mention of his having any children. Gagarin has two.

Both Titov and Gagarin are dedicated Communists. Gagarin is a full-fledged member of the party. Titov joined the Young Communist League at the age of 14 and is a candidate member of the party.

One of Titov's first messages from outer space was to dedicate his flight "to the 22nd congress of our Communist party," which will be held in October.

Head Hunting

This workman seems to have lost his head temporarily. The Danish laborers, one on pavement level and the other deep in a street excavation, indulged in this whimsical relaxation to break up a tedious street digging chore.

Hair-Pulling Next In TV Westerns?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD. (AP) — Robert Fuller isn't happy; congressional hearings and pressure groups have ruined Jess Harper's aim.
Bob, as lovers of TV Westerns well know, plays Jess in NBC's "Laramie," now going into its third season.
"And this year, you can't kill a villain," Fuller said sadly. "The worst you can do is wound him—and you're allowed one shot. If this goes along any further our fight scenes with the heavies will be hair-pulling and scratching."
Fuller, it should be noted, reflects a popular Hollywood viewpoint but one rarely seen in print. The official position of the three major networks, really scared by high-level condemnation of TV for its violence, appears to be one of never admitting excessive violence but promising to mend their ways.

"I think that Westerns are the only real escape entertainment today," Fuller said. "You can pick up any newspaper and read cops and robber stuff. You can identify with almost any family in the situation comedies. But you can really get away watching a Western. I just don't think the audience is going to be satisfied when, at the end, the villain's retribution is just getting pinked in the shoulder."
The new order, apparently, is spoiling the aim of all of TV's quick-drawing, straight-aiming heroes of the sagebrush. During the past week I've visited sets of four or five horse operas and so far have not heard the sound of a shot.
On the "Wagon Train" set Robert Horton was wringing out cold compresses to help break the fever of a sick—not wounded—man. The "Laramie" heroes, Fuller and John Smith, were holding a discussion with their new housekeeper, Spring Byington, once of "December Bride." The closest thing to violence was on the "Wells Fargo" set where a wounded man was being brought into town slung across the saddle of his horse.

Berlin Barbed Wire Repaired

BONN, Germany (AP) — East German workers are busy repairing rusty and damaged barbed wire marking the 69-mile East zone border around West Berlin, a refugee organization's publication said Sunday.
Deutsche Ostkune (German Eastern Studies) said the 150-foot wide "death strip" also is being cleaned of grass and bushes. An identical strip on the East zone border with West Germany is plowed almost daily, making it easier for border policemen to spot escapers.

Earthmen Describe Red Star Crossing The Sky

By The Associated Press
"A very bright star" and "a marble."
These were among the ways earthbound spectators described the manned space satellite carrying Soviet spaceman Gherman Stepanovich Titov as it whizzed over this section of the globe.
A Moonwatch team at Allegheny Observatory in Pittsburgh sighted the satellite twice and reported it looked like "a very bright star."

In Charleston, S.C., radio newsmen Bob Townsend stepped out of the WTMA newsroom and sighted Vostok II through patch clouds. It "looked about the size of a marble," he said.
In Arlington, Va., M-Sgt. James A. Duffy tuned his radio to one of the frequencies given for the spaceship "just for the heck of it."

There will probably be a number of stories about airplane hijacking on TV during the fall and winter. But Eric Ambler, creator of "Checkmate," was ahead of the first hijackers: a plane-napping is the opening scene in his most recent screenplay, "Night Must End."

Father Drowns In Rescue Attempt

DRUMRIGHT, Okla. (AP)—A crippled father, who threw down his crutches to try and rescue his two children, drowned with them Sunday night during a family outing along the Cimarron River.
The victims were Charlie Moore, 56; his son, Stephen, 7, and daughter Lila, 5.
Police said Moore was fishing on the river bank five miles north of here when he saw the children wade into deep water. Moore dropped his crutches and tried to swim after them.
