West Europe Cool Toward K Suggestion

LONDON (AP)—Much of Western Europe gave a cool reception today to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's suggestion for East-West talks on Berlin.

In the first official British comment, Foreign Secretary Lord Home said: "It is quite clear that Khrushchev is playing a game of political poker and we cannot and ought not to disclose our hand."

Home discussed the speech in Paris where he attended the weekend Western foreign ministers meeting.

"Should reason not prevail in this matter of Germany and Berlin we come close to a very dangerous situation and possibly war," Home told reporters.

Home said Khrushchev's invitation to new talks must be studied carefully but "if from the start there is no real hope of getting an agreement, then in this case negotiations are worse than no negotiations at all."

DISCUSSED

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was noncommittal, but Khrushchev's speech probably was under discussion as he met with the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Most British newspapers agreed with Khrushchev that it was time for East-West leaders to sit down at a table and negotiate the pressing issues of Berlin and Germany.

But in France and West Germany, there was caution and some suspicion of Khrushchev's motives. Some newspapers and politicians felt that the Soviet premier had not changed the crisis climate.

HIS BASIS

"Negotiation in his eyes can be conceived only on the basis of the settlement he envisages for solving the Berlin crisis," said Paris conservative Figaro.

Despite the urgency of the situation, many newspapers throughout Europe gave top billing to Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov.

Even the Communist party newspapers in London, Rome and Paris considered the space traveler the biggest newsmaker of the day. So did the London Daily Mirror and Daily Herald, and all early editions in Rome and Paris.

Copenhagen papers were too preoccupied with Titov to mention his premier editorially. West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev had done nothing to reduce East-West tensions. Brandt assailed Khrushchev's statement that self-determination for Germany was just a hypocritical Western slogan. The mayor said the Germans' elementary wish for self-determination cannot be passed off with the art of dialectics.

The London Daily Mail called for a summit meeting with Khrushchev "at the earliest moment to find out what his real intentions are." The London Times said the door on both sides is open to negotiation.

A BASIS

"Mr. K wants recognition for East Germany," said Britain's laborite Daily Herald. "The West wants copper-bottomed guarantees for the freedom of Berlin. Here is surely a basis for talks."

Lord Beaverbrook's Independent Daily Express also called for bargaining and indicated the West should give Khrushchev the recognition he demands for the Communist East German regime.

The Times compared Khrushchev's speech with President Kennedy's and found striking similarities.

"Both speakers," it said, "used language as tough as any that has been heard since the end of the war, but both came back to the possibility of negotiations."

Boys School Guards Ask For Armed Protection

AUSTIN (AP)—A group of 11 attendants from the Gatesville State School for Boys were told Monday night that their request for armed protection will be studied.

Dr. James Turman, executive director of the Texas Youth Council, told the delegation, "I will ask the governor and Col. (Homer) Garrison (director of the Department of Public Safety) if in their judgment, a unit of state police should be assigned to Gatesville for this reason."

The director added, however, "I am unequivocally opposed to arming any of our people."

The group was concerned with recent disturbances at the school, climaxed by the fatal beating of an attendant.

After first talking to Gov. Price Daniel, they were invited to Turman's office. Besides Turman, Louis Henna of Round Rock and Robert Kneebone of Houston were on hand to greet them. Both are members of the three-man council.

The attendants said they were afraid of losing their jobs because of the trip to Austin.

"We were afraid to talk," one said. "No attendant is allowed to 'discipline' an inmate."

James Kelly, who has worked for the school for 14 months, said that he had sometimes told a boy to clean up after a fight.

"Sometimes they do it all right," he said. "But at other times, they refuse, and if you try to force them, they say they will report you and you'll lose your job."

Turman said he felt "discipline" in this sense should be taken to mean corporal punishment of a boy.

Kelly said he dreaded returning to the school at night.

"You don't know if you're going to see your wife again or not," he said.

Tourist Outlook

MEXICO CITY (AP)—About 800,000 tourists will visit Mexico in 1961, the National Bank of Foreign Trade predicts.

Commission Faces Busy Schedule

A report, being prepared by Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers of Dallas, on alternate proposals for furnishing water to the Muir Heights Addition in south Big Spring, will be ready for consideration of the city commission at the regular meeting at 5:15 p.m. today.

A cost estimate of $110,000 was made in a previous report on providing water, and the commission felt that alternate proposals should be submitted. These include tying into the State Park system, or into the 12-inch water line from Section 33. The commission felt that spending money for temporary supplies would place a heavy burden on finances unless reasonable hook-ups could be provided, and asked the consulting engineers to make estimates on the alternate systems.

Other matters to be considered will include a consideration of the request from the Patriotic Committee to close North Fourth Street from Bell to Ayford Sept. 15 and 16 for the celebration of Mexico's Independence Day, and to hold a parade in downtown Big Spring on Sept. 16; report of the taxi cab committee concerning the installation of meters in all taxis operating in the city; consideration of a change order on the filter plant contract for improvements to water seal construction and joint material, to cost approximately $900; report of recommendations from the auditor on the 1960-61 audit of city books; report of the automotive committee, and consideration of an ordinance abandoning all unconstructed paving units under the assessment paving program.

Texas Cotton Estimate Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department forecast today this year's government-controlled cotton crop will be 13,918,000 bales.

The Texas crop was estimated at 4,600,000 bales, grown on 6,550,000 acres averaging 337 pounds.

The forecast, first of the year, is 354,000 bales less than last year's crop of 14,272,000 bales. It compares with the ten-year 1950-59 average of 13,553,000 bales.

The crop is being grown under federal planting allotments and marketing quotas designed to prevent overproduction. A reserve and surplus of about 7.5 million bales has accumulated from past crops.

Domestic and export markets are expected to require slightly more than 15 million bales during the 1961-crop marketing season.

The Census Bureau said 227,680 bales from this year's crop had been ginned up to Aug. 1 compared with 139,779 a year earlier.

The department forecast this acreage for harvest this year at 15,632,000 acres compared with 15,309,000 harvested last year and 18,737,000 for the 10 year average.

The yield per acre to be harvested was forecast at 427 pounds compared with 446 last year and 362 for the ten-year average.

The department said that if the ratio of lint to cottonseed is the same as the average for the past 5 years, production of cottonseed this year would be 5,770,000 tons compared with 5,886,000 last year.

The acreage for harvest, the yield per acre and the production, respectively, of cotton states included:

Arkansas 1,355,000 acres for harvest; 453 pounds per acre and production 1,280,000 bales; Louisiana 540,000; 400 and 450,000; Oklahoma 685,000; 308 and 440,000; New Mexico 194,000; 767 and 310,000; and California 810,000; 1,670 and 1,800,000.

Volunteers React To President's Call

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sustained surge of volunteers has followed President Kennedy's call for a buildup of U.S. armed forces and the announcement of higher draft calls.

Defense Department sources said today a sampling of enlistment trends in widely scattered areas showed there has been no letup in the increased rate that followed the President's speech two weeks ago.

Major emphasis is on the Army which is authorized to add about 133,000 men to build up to over 1 million men.

One of the first efforts will be to train manpower to fill out three present training divisions in the Strategic Army Force—STRAF—then convert those divisions into combat units. The three divisions are the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kan., the 2nd Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex.

A combat infantry division has an authorized strength of 13,700 men, an armored division 14,500. Present permanent strength—cadres of trained men—in those divisions is believed to be less than half of authorized combat strength.

The Defense Department and Army now are completing detailed plans for adding manpower, training men and converting the three STRAF divisions to combat units. Then they will be added to the 14 combat divisions now in the Army.

The threat of the draft is spurring voluntary recruiting for all services. Only the Army uses the draft, President Kennedy, in his July 25 nationwide address, said that draft calls might be doubled or tripled. Subsequently, the quota for August, which had been set on July 12 at 8,000, was boosted to 13,000.

Announcement of the September quota is expected within a few days. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said it will be at least 20,000.

Latest volunteer, first-enlistment recruiting figures are for June and those are still an estimate.

The Army estimate is about 12,000, compared with 6,400 for May. However, there is a normal sharp increase annually between May and June which results from the end of school years, when youngsters decide to enlist and get their military obligations behind them.

The estimated volunteers for the Air Force in June totaled 11,000, compared with 7,900 in May; the Navy, 11,405 compared with 4,700 and the Marines, 2,643 compared with 1,900.

But the trends now being noticed, since July 25, "are better than they would be seasonally," a Pentagon spokesman said today.

Expert Puts U.S. Ahead

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—The United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in the over-all space field says C. Stark Draper, head of aeronautical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Draper expressed his belief Monday after Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov landed from his space flight.

Speaking at the American Rocket Society's national conference, Draper described as "malarkey" reports that Vostok controlled the course of his Vostok II during his orbiting of the earth.

"That boy didn't do anything more than Shepard (Alan B. Shepard Jr.) did on his ride," said Draper. "He didn't have the thrust aboard to go out of his orbital path. I think what they (the Russians) mean was that he was changing the attitude of the capsule—just like Shepard (the American astronaut) did in the sub-orbital test."

Draper said the Russians concentrate their best scientists and technicians in a narrow field to get spectacular results.

"Years ago," he said, "we made the decision to build big, broad organizations which will have big quantities of production when they get going."

"We shouldn't be surprised or dismayed if this takes longer than the other way."

Deadlock Still On With Senate

AUSTIN (AP)—House tax bill writers decided to ask the House which way to turn today after repeated failures to agree with the Senate.

Speaker James Turman said he would present the deadlocked tax bill situation to the House as a whole.

Asked if representatives would get another chance to approve or disapprove the Senate-passed tax bill, Turman said:

"I imagine we will."

Turman spent most of the morning in conference with House leaders. Several times Rep. Charles Ballman of Berger, head of the House negotiators, conferred with Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, head of the Senate group.

"The Senate will not listen to any offer," Turman said. "They say they want House Bill 20 as originally passed by the Senate or House Bill 334, the tax bill passed by the Senate in the regular session."

Both Senate-approved bills have been rejected at least once by the House.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill he has threatened to make the subject of another special session—an abandoned property seizure act. The bill requires reports to the state on abandoned property and deposits, but it exempts banks which have bitterly fought the proposal.

Whether Senate and House negotiating groups will meet again before the midnight deadline was questionable.

"It was rather disappointing," said Ballman.

"I wouldn't say the meeting was too harmonious," said Lane. Several other members just shook their red faces and refused to say anything. "I'm going to take a slick elm club back to the next meeting," volunteered one.

Ballman said he and other House leaders would caucus, then he and Lane would set a time for another session of the joint conference committee.

Apparently only a last gasp miracle could keep Gov. Price Daniel from calling a second 30-day gathering on Texas' worsening financial status, probably Wednesday.

170TH DAY

Today was the 170th day that 800,000 workers and representatives, serving their first session as $4,800-a-year salaried workers instead of being paid by the day, wrestled with the money problems.

The final day of the special session arrived in much the same manner that the 140-day regular session ended. Senate and House negotiators have reached tentative agreement on a spending bill for 1962-1963 but have been unable to agree on the new taxes necessary to finance the appropriations.

Efforts to find a tax bill compromise continued despite Turman's pledge Monday there would be no more "of this Paul Revere midnight stuff" again.

Turman cast the 72-72 vote that kept the House from accepting a Senate-approved sales tax bill just minutes before the regular session ended at midnight May 29.

As early as noon Monday, Rep. Ballman said a tax compromise was possible "but I would not say it is probable."

Later two other negotiators said of the record they had no hope of a final agreement.

Pick Grand Jury Panel

A panel of 20 members from which the new Howard County grand jury will be selected on Aug. 28, was drawn by a special jury commission in 118th District Court today.

The commissioners are Hack Wright, Mrs. Jimmy Jones and Tom Rossom. They were selected by Judge Ralph Caton of the 118th District Court and instructed to report at 8 a.m. today. They finished their task at 11 a.m.

The commissioners are now required to draw panel members from which the grand jury will be selected. The other jurors are drawn from the county jury wheel.

Four extra deputies in the office of Wade Choate, district court clerk, have been busy for several days typing up 15,000 names on cards which are to be placed in the wheel in the next three or four days. The wheel must be ready before Aug. 15.

The names being typed are from the poll tax rolls and from the ad valorem tax rolls.

ABILENE (AP)—State police said today F. D. Price of Abilene was killed in a plane crash near Tye, about 8 miles west of Abilene.

Price's plane was overdue on a flight Monday night from Austin to Abilene.

Price, an experienced pilot, worked for the Boles and Grimes Oil Co. of Abilene.

Berlin Refugee Flow Highest In 8 Years

BERLIN (AP)—The flood of refugees from Communist East Germany today hit 2,021, the highest daily total for eight years, West Berlin officials said.

The flow continued despite reports East German police had reinforced patrols in disguised radio cars and were hunting down refugees trying to make their way through East Germany to Berlin.

The highest number of refugees registered previously for one day was 3,783 on May 28, 1953, during the unrest just before the June 17 revolt against Communists.

The actual number fleeing to day was probably much higher than recorded as many people did not register immediately.

Most of them must have begun their difficult journey to the Berlin escape hatch before Soviet Premier Khrushchev's television speech Monday night on Germany. There was nothing in the speech calculated to stem the flow.

Officials in West Berlin met today to plan financial help for commuters being squeezed by the Communists.

Beginning Wednesday persons living in Communist territory round the city who have jobs in West Berlin must register with the Communist authorities. Thereafter they will have to pay most of their living costs—rent, utilities and official charges—in hard West marks instead of the weak East currency. Although rated officially at one to one, the East mark is worth only a fifth of the West mark.

The Communist aim is to force the commuters to give up their jobs in the West and go to work for labor-short state concerns in the East.

Ike Greets Rally Of New GOP Group

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (AP) — The newly formed Republican Club of Lamb County at a rally Monday night heard talks from top GOP leaders of Texas and received greetings from former President Eisenhower.

About 260 persons turned out for the rally, including a number of residents who said they were former conservative Democrats. They were among a group of 120 who met July 24 and announced they were severing ties with the Democratic party and were joining the Republicans.

Jack Porter of Houston, former Republican national committee chairman from Texas, told the gathering.

"When we get the conservatives in the Republican party we can give the American people a clear-cut choice between conservatism and socialism."

Porter said the election of Republican John Tower to the U.S. Senate and "your action have given me more joy and hope than anything that has happened during my political career."

Eisenhower's telegram, read by club chairman Jack Barton, said in part:

"As a native-born Texan, proud of the state as well as our party, I am delighted to see this growing evidence of the two-party system generating in Texas. My warmest regards to you."

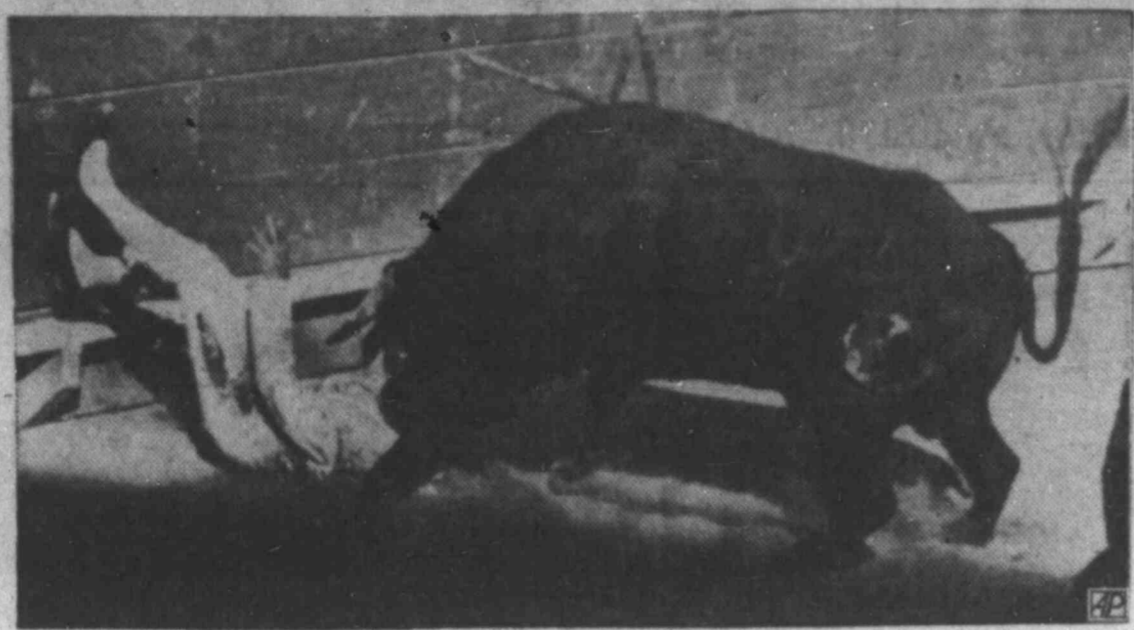

Republican state chairman Tad Smith of El Paso told the group it had sparked hundreds of inquiries to the state committee asking how the Lamb County Republican Club started.

He said Sen. Tower told him the new Lamb County group had caused some liberal congressmen to give more consideration to how they voted.

The 120 persons who met July 24 to organize the club included businessmen, ranchers and farmers.

They adopted a resolution which said there was strong sentiment in the county for the philosophies of Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Tower.

Let's Talk, Says K But Rattles Rockets

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev called Monday night for East-West negotiations on Germany but held to his demand for a peace treaty with Communist East Germany and East German control of Berlin.

In his 45-minute radio-TV speech delivered against the background of Soviet Maj. Gherman S. Titov's successful earth-orbiting space flight, Khrushchev accused the West of pushing the world toward war over Berlin. He threatened in turn an accelerated buildup of the Soviet military strength.

"It may be that we shall have to increase in the future the numerical strength of the army on the Western frontiers by moving divisions from other parts of the Soviet Union," he said.

In connection with this, we may have to call up a part of the reserves so that our divisions will have a full complement and be ready for any eventuality."

He called these "reply measures" to President Kennedy, who on July 25 pledged to defend West Berlin, and called for 217,000 additional men for the U.S. armed forces.

Kennedy's speech was a response to Khrushchev's threats at their Vienna meeting the month before that Moscow would end allied occupation rights in West Berlin by the end of the year through a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

In his speech Khrushchev told the United States, Britain and France: "Let's sit down around a table and negotiate in an honest way. Let's not create hysteria. Let's clear the atmosphere. Let's rely on sense and not on the strength of thermonuclear weapons."

The Soviet premier offered no change in his previous demands which the Western allies have rejected.

He again insisted East Germany must have a peace treaty to achieve complete sovereignty and that the issue of access routes to Berlin would have to be settled directly with the Communist East German regime, which the West does not recognize.

NO BLOCKADE
Khrushchev stressed anew that "we do not intend to infringe upon any lawful interests of the Western Powers. Any barring of access to Berlin, any blockade of West Berlin, is entirely out of the question."

But his insistence that the military occupation of the divided city must end indicated he did not intend any such guarantees for the 11,000-man allied garrison, the symbol of Western protection for the city.

Speaking in a moderate tone, Khrushchev said Kennedy displayed common sense in wishing to avoid war but added that expressions of common sense are not enough.

The Soviet Union will "strike a crushing blow at the territory of the United States" and at U.S. overseas bases and America's allies if war breaks out, he warned. He recalled last month's American, British and French notes to Moscow on Berlin.

"Again the Western Powers are trying to evade the conclusion of a peace treaty and counterpose to it the idea of the self-determination of the Germans and the reunification of Germany," Khrushchev commented.

Calling self-determination a slogan "constantly on the lips" of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the premier accused the allies of hypocrisy in proposing it. He said the Western Powers had kept down freedom-seeking peoples for centuries and were interfering in the internal affairs of nations all over the world.

"They tried to strangle the Cuban revolution," he said. Khrushchev asserted Adenauer's interpretation of self-determination was to swallow East Germany.

LAW PROCESS
The bill does authorize the secretary to confer with farm groups on commodity programs. The programs would have to go through the regular congressional law-making process before they would become effective.

The measure extended—and in some cases broadened—existing farm programs.

One of these was the agricultural trade development and assistance act, otherwise known as the food for peace program. The United States makes farm surpluses available to needy friendly countries for their own currencies.

Kennedy Signs Farm Bill As Attack On Surpluses Promised

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed today an omnibus farm bill giving the government authority to try to trim agricultural surpluses and to pump more money into farm incomes.

The measure was based on Kennedy recommendations. It does not give the administration all it wanted by a long shot, but enough to make an attack on pressing surplus problems.

The measure could help bring about a considerable increase in farm returns. It also could help stave off possible overproduction in livestock and a consequent sharp drop in prices of these vital farm income producers.

Agriculture is plagued by surpluses and low prices in three groups of commodities, wheat, feed grains and turkeys. The bill authorizes programs for dealing with problems of these products on a short-term basis.

Missing is a key administration proposal. It would have given the secretary of agriculture, working with farmer advisory committees, authority to draft programs for individual farm commodities. Such programs would have been subject to veto by Congress and approval of producers voting in referenda.

or donates them to countries badly in need and without financial ability to pay.

The government may dispose of $4.5 billion of surpluses to foreign countries under this program, but not more than $2.5 billion a year. It may donate $300 million a year to friendly peoples in distress.

The bill extends for four years a wool act under which the government makes incentive payments when market prices are below designated levels—to growers to encourage large production of wool. This country must import supplies to help meet needs. The payments have been running about $60 million a year.

LOAN PROVISION
The measure codifies, strengthens and expands authority of the Agriculture Department to make loans to low-income farmers and to farmers in distress because of natural disasters.

The measure extends a Great Plains conservation program under which farmers are offered assistance in establishing farming patterns best capable of resisting effects of droughts.

It extends for five years a program under which the government helps finance distribution of milk in public schools, the armed services and Veterans Administration hospitals.

Provisions extend and broaden authority of the government to use federal marketing orders—first put into farm law back in the 1930s—for helping stabilize production, supplies and prices of a wide list of farm products.

These orders may set up limitations on interstate movement of affected commodities by size, grade, quality, packaging and the like. Employed this way, they tend to control production and marketings and bring stability to producer prices.

NO NUMBER
Such orders have been limited largely to milk, fruits and vegetables. The bill permits their use on an estimated 200 or so products, but not on a number listed in the measure, including grains, sugar beets, sugar cane, wool, mohair, livestock, soybeans, cottonseed, cotton, honey, flaxseed, poultry, eggs, fruits and vegetables for canning or freezing. It permits use for peanuts on limited production areas, but not nationally.

The measure provides for taking grain land out of production. Wheat farmers will be required to cut present planting allotments at least 10 per cent. For doing this they will get payments equivalent to 45 per cent of the value of the production on the retired acres, figured on the basis of the wheat price support rate and recent acre yields. For retiring more land up to 40 per cent, they will get payments at 60 per cent of the value of the wheat which would have been produced. In addition, higher wheat price supports will be offered—perhaps $2 a bushel for 1962 wheat compared with $1.76 for this year's crop.

REQUIRE VOTING
The wheat program must be approved by farmers voting in a referendum Aug. 24. The farmers are expected to approve.

The bill authorizes an extension and expansion of this year's emergency feed grain program. Farmers will get payments and price supports for reducing acreages of corn, sorghum grain and barley at least 20 per cent. They may cut back plantings as much as 40 per cent.

The future economic as well as political value of the new legislation will be determined in large measure by the success of this year's feed grain program in cutting down production. This year's program will cost upward of $750 million in payments to farmers. A successful feed grain program would have wide implications and would do much to offset the refusal of Congress to provide controls in the legislation for livestock and poultry (other than turkeys). Many livestock and poultry groups oppose such controls.

A program that brought about a reduction in supplies and a modest advance in prices of feed grains could be expected to bring and maintain stability in livestock and poultry production.

Latest Soviet Man Orbiting Brings Varied U.S. Reactions

The latest Soviet earth orbiting brought reactions from the average American today ranging from fear to complacency about its importance to grave doubt and resigned acceptance that it actually took place.

A street survey showed that Americans across the nation ran the gamut of emotions in expressing their feeling about Maj. Gherman S. Titov's having circled the earth more than 17 times in slightly over 25 hours.

Some said they were scared, many were amazed. A few said they didn't really care. Others looked on it as a step toward solution of the cold war.

Some offered unqualified congratulations on the Soviet accomplishment but most did so reluctantly, wishing it had been the United States that had turned the trick.

Albert Lange, Waterbury, Conn. salesman—"I think it was a marvelous thing. I think we'll catch up just the same."

Al Rinaldi, Richmond, Va., high school coach—"It depresses me that they are so far ahead of us—I am not jubilant at all."

Mrs. Robert Fitch, Dallas, Tex., housewife—"I have no faith in the statements coming from the Soviet Union. I doubt the truth of this latest man-in-space story."

Mrs. Charles E. Derby, Boston housewife—"No doubt it's so, but I believe the U.S. will be out in front when things come to a head."

Youth Relieved At Life Sentence In Boy's Slaying
NEW YORK (AP)—Young Edward Vogt sighed with relief Monday when a judge sentenced him to life in prison for the 50-cent robbery-murder of a 14-year-old Christmas tree delivery boy.

General Sessions Court Judge Joseph A. Sarafite followed the jury's mercy recommendation, although he could have sentenced Vogt, 18, to death.

Vogt killed Robert Giuttari Dec. 23 as the youngster was delivering a Christmas tree for a half-dollar tip.

Anthony Giuttari, father of the slain boy, heard sentence pronounced and remarked afterward: "I still think he should have gotten the chair. He didn't give my boy a chance. Why should any one give him a chance?"

Jurors had found Vogt guilty of first-degree murder. Vogt admitted waiting in an uptown Manhattan apartment building where the youngster was delivering the tree. He said he demanded the child's money and the boy was stabbed in a resulting fight.

During the trial, Vogt contended his statement was forced from him by police.

Fifty-five fines, totaling $1,389, were levied in corporation court from Aug. 1 through Aug. 7. Three of these, amounting to $100, were appealed.

Fines appealed were for destroying private property $25, affray $50, and a drunk $25. Drunkenness, as usual, led the list with 28 paying $955 and the one appeal. Two were charged with being intoxicated and fined $80. One fine was levied for discharging firearms in the city limits, amounting to $50, and three for having no driver's licenses, $50.

Other fines levied included: Disturbance $25, four vagrancy $27, improper turn $10, two passing without sufficient clearance $20, failure to yield right of way $10, affray $50 (appealed), improper start from parked position $10, double parking $2, two following too closely causing accidents $20, two contest for speed $30, improper backing $3, running stop sign $5, and two for disregarding red lights $15.

to become sons of God. Believers are given power to become sons of God. So says this verse.
If believers were sons of God as soon as they believed, they would not need power to become sons. This is proof positive that they are not already God's sons as soon as they become believers. Thus it takes the "obedience of faith" to save people (Rom. 1:5; 16:26; and 6:17, 18, 3, 4).

Reaction To K's Talk Is Skeptical

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal to "negotiate in an honest way" on Berlin drew generally skeptical reaction from congressional and diplomatic sources. U.S. experts found little that was new on Khrushchev's plan for Berlin in the Soviet leader's radio-TV speech Monday. The White House left open the possibility that President Kennedy might comment after a translation can be studied. The State Department also was officially silent. U.S. officials, however, still expect the Berlin question to result in negotiations late this year, and not until then do they expect Khrushchev to reveal what concessions he might have in mind. Once again the Soviet premier said he planned to sign a peace treaty with the Communist East German government.

Also, as he has in the past, Khrushchev denied any intent to "infringe upon any lawful interests of the Western Powers" in Berlin. Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that Khrushchev was "more positive than he has been before" in his statement denying plans for a new Berlin blockade. "I believe he wants to negotiate about Berlin," Fulbright said. "Whether he wants to negotiate on the basis of what if yours is mine is another matter. Nevertheless, I don't see why we cannot take the position that these differences should be discussed." One problem in any negotiations is that Khrushchev and the Western Powers do not agree on what the West's "lawful interests" in Berlin are. Khrushchev has made plain that under his proposed treaty the West must seek its access to West Berlin from the East German regime, which the West does not recognize and which has threatened to shut down Western activities in the city.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Khrushchev appeared to be talking "in the language of both war and peace."

"It is to be devoutly hoped that, unlike the great Russian novel of that title, the balance this time is on the side of peace," Mansfield said.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Republican leader, said he felt the speech had a belligerent tone.

"If, God forbid, war should come, Khrushchev will be the aggressor. He knows it and the world knows it," Kuchel said.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said he believes the Khrushchev statements "open the way for negotiations" despite the threats the Soviet premier made.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said the Khrushchev speech should clinch passage of President Kennedy's foreign aid program.

The speech proved, he said, that "we are faced with an intensified Communist propaganda program filled with threats, with the possibility of war."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a member of the Foreign Relations Committee said, "I think Khrushchev took a good, long step forward in what he said about maintaining access to Berlin."

Aiken said he thinks it is "time for both sides to stop shaking missiles and start talking."

Missile Silo Lid Kills 5

DENVER (AP)—A 58-ton steel and concrete door atop a Titan missile launching silo slammed shut with an earth-shaking crash, killing five workmen and injuring eight others Monday.

Three bodies were recovered. Two others were pinned between the door and the edge of the huge silo. A spokesman at Buckley Field, scene of the tragedy 15 miles west of Denver, said "it may be as long as 72 hours before the door can be raised."

"It presents considerable of an engineering problem," said a spokesman for one of the civilian contractors on the $160-million construction job.

Buckley Field identified two of the dead as Jerry E. Brancio of Denver and George Graham of nearby Aurora.

Only two of the injured men were hospitalized, Charles W. Postle, 42, of nearby Aurora and Howard Hoffman, 56, of Littleton, Colo. The others were treated and released. Postle suffered a broken back.

Witnesses said some of those who were injured leaped into safety nets placed at intervals in the 165-foot silo.

The massive door was one of a pair which are raised hydraulically as a missile rides to the surface.

A spokesman at the missile complex said either a hydraulic failure or failure of a retaining cable caused the door to crash. It cracked and split with a tremendous roar.

The tragedy scene was the first of a Titan three-site complex to be turned over to military control. Each site on the Colorado plains will have a capacity of six missiles.

The prime contractor, Morrison-Knudson & Associates of Boise, Idaho, formally turned the missile complex over to military control last week.

Most heavy construction has been completed, but the Air Force still has its instrument system to install before the Martin Co. installs its Titan I missile.

Thundershowers Hit Coastal Areas

By The Associated Press
Thundershowers continue to concentrate on the Texas coastal country.

Early Tuesday a line of showers dampened the Victoria area.

During Monday showers fell at Beaumont and Corpus Christi, College Station had the heaviest fall, 1.24 inches. A trace of rain also fell at San Angelo.

Elsewhere over the state early Tuesday skies were clear to partly cloudy. Temperatures at dawn ranged from a cool 64 at Dalhart to a warm 81 at Victoria and Galveston.

Hot spots Monday were El Paso, Laredo and Presidio with a 101 reading.

Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies with widely scattered thundershowers and little change in temperatures through Wednesday.

BUILDING OR REMODELING?

INSURE CAREFREE WINTER COMFORT WITH FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEAT!

You'll enjoy new comfort, convenience and cleanliness when you heat your home the modern way—with flameless electric heat. Electric home heating is clean—as clean as electric light—which means less housecleaning and redecorating. Electric heat is thermostatically controlled, automatic and accurate. It provides gentle even warmth. Temperatures in each room can be controlled separately for economy and convenience. And you'll enjoy complete freedom of furniture arrangement because electric heating equipment takes up little or no living space.

Electric baseboard heaters are one of several popular types of electric heating equipment. Installed in place of normal baseboards under windows on outside walls, they direct warm air upward to block cold drafts. For information about this and other methods of electric home heating, telephone us or visit our office.

DEAR ABBY

He's Like Off Beat!

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a man my parents hate. I'll call him Joe. My father checked up on him, and now he won't let me go with him. Joe is a musician. He plays the drums. My father says a drummer is no musician; that a person who plays the piano or violin can call himself a musician—but a drum is no instrument. Is this true?

Also, my father found out that Joe is 28. He lied to me and said he was 24. I lied to my parents and said he was 20. (I am 17.) I want to know: No. 1—If you could call a drummer a musician? And, No. 2—if you think, as long as he is a gentleman, my parents should let me go with him?

JOE'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: No. 1: A drummer IS a musician. But what's all this jazz about his lying about his age? That is another kettle of drums! Tell your drummer boy to play it straight, or beat it!

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a boy who says the only reason he wants to kiss you on the lips is to taste your lipstick?

MADLINE

DEAR MADLINE: Turn your cheek to him, and tell him not to do you any favors.

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor, who is impossible to talk to, throws bread in his yard every day to feed the pigeons. The pigeons fly back and forth from his roof to mine all day long. They have nests in my chimney. I don't have to tell you what a couple of hundred pigeons can do. It is impossible for me to hang out my washing. And to enjoy sitting outside is out of the question. Every day more join the flock. Do you or any of your readers know any way to get rid of pigeons? Or do they do some good that I don't know about?

PIGEON HATER

DEAR PIGEON HATER: The most constructive function ever credited to pigeons was carrying messages, and Alexander Graham Bell put them out of that business years ago. But pigeons can still carry diseases. If your neighbor is "impossible" to talk to—talk to the Board of Health, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

A Devotional for Today

What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. (Psalms 56:3.)
PRAYER: We are deeply grateful, our Father, for Thy loving concern for each of us. We thank Thee for the blessed assurance that we cannot drift beyond Thy love and care. Help us to seek to know and do Thy will more faithfully. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen. (From The Upper Room)

Another Historic Achievement

Russia again has achieved a historic step in the conquest of space by putting a man into orbit around the earth for 25 hours and 18 minutes.
This not only reaffirms Russia's ability to hurl substantial payloads into orbit, something that had long been regarded as a dream, but it also confirms that the Soviets also possess a considerable degree of sophistication for their space craft. The flight of Yuri Gagarin on April 12 demonstrated an ability to put a man into orbit, but that of Gherman Titov removed it from a perfunctory mechanical category, for being able to orbit the earth 17 times and then return safely to a predetermined spot is a feat of great scientific skill.
This latest achievement is no great surprise, for if a man can be orbited once, the matter of continuous orbit is simply one of control as to when the space capsule will be made to re-enter the earth's atmosphere. Besides this, our record of having put two men into space for a few minutes seems to suffer by comparison. However, from the threshold into the realm of space itself is but one short step, yet it is a step that must be taken cautiously and unhurriedly. We also will take it in our own good time.

Meanwhile, there is nothing but scientific admiration for the latest Russian space adventure. It is inconceivable that in the space of a day, one hour and 18 minutes a man could travel 43,000 miles. We needn't speculate over what our grandfathers would have said about this, for even five years ago none of us would have dreamed it was possible in our time.

Perhaps What They Need Is A Fair Chance

The Association of American Railroads has issued what it calls a "Magna Carta for transportation." Essence of the declaration is that the rail carriers be given freedom from discriminatory regulation and discriminatory taxation, freedom from subsidized competition, and freedom to provide a diversified transportation service. In a shorter phrase, the railroads are asking for an even break.
Because railroads are almost totally regulated while other carriers are only slightly regulated, if at all, railroads are at a disadvantage. For instance, the cumbersome rate-making procedure makes it possible for other forms of transportation to merely examine rail rates, then to undercut in order to get the business. There are many commodities which are subject to rate regulation by rail, but not by other carriers. Rail carriers also contend that in most states rail property is assessed at a higher rate to actual value than is other property on tax rolls. At any rate, railroads pay taxes on their lines and terminals, whereas most water air and highway facilities are public water air and highway facilities are public supported if not publicly furnished. In the past 40 years, public investment in highway, waterway and airway facilities have amounted to 160 billion dollars. Where "use" taxes have been levied, such as gasoline and fuel taxes, still only about half of the public expense has come from this source. Most other forms of transportation can diversify, that is get into fields other than their own, but railroads are greatly restricted.

The rail carriers have outlined a 4-point program to correct the situation. Whether this is equitable in toto we cannot say, but as a matter of principle, all fair-minded people will agree it is time to take off the hobbles and see if the railroads can run competitively. There is little point in talking about saving the railroads until we see if they can't save themselves. Perhaps a fair chance is most likely what they need.

The Continuing Problem of Germany

PARIS—The Western foreign ministers, meeting here, have an unenviable task in trying to agree on a negotiating position on Germany and Berlin. They must cover ground that has been worked over again and again to the point of frustration and futility.
On the table around which they sit are the frayed pieces of the jigsaw puzzle known as a divided Germany. If there is one thing they agree on—and, for that matter, agree also with the Soviet Union—it is that this is the greatest existing danger to the peace of the world today.

It is on the basic formula of free elections that United States policy has been fixed during the past 10 years. In a far-ranging speech in 1959, a calling for an initiative by the West to broaden the area of negotiation, Sen. Mike Mansfield, now Majority Leader, called this a dead end which even for propaganda purposes had outlived its usefulness.
It is as if the two giants of the world—the United States and Russia—had to go into a slow waltz every time they heard the Berlin music between East and West. But what is commonly spoken of as "The Eden Plan" gets into a second category—reunification by free elections carefully supervised by the four powers.

BYOND THAT elementary point, disagreement in varying degrees of sharpness begins. The numerous plans out of the past for bringing the two halves of a divided Germany together indicate the lines of disagreement that seem sometimes to be frozen in hopeless rigidity. Yet these plans out of the past, as they have been reviewed and digested for the current conference, may still suggest a way out of the ice of 16 years of largely futile negotiation.
They tend to fall into several broad categories. Most of the proposals have been brought up repeatedly in one variant or another.
In the most sweeping—and also the most controversial—category are the several plans calling for a "denuclearized" or a "demilitarized" belt in Central Europe. The ultimate goal of most of these proposals is a neutral Germany removed from the European power struggle.

THE BEST-KNOWN plan in this category was advanced by the Polish Foreign Minister, Adam Rapacki, in a speech to the United Nations General Assembly in 1957. Elaborated in a note sent to the United States the following February, the Rapacki plan calls for the elimination of all nuclear weapons in the two Germanys, Poland and Czechoslovakia, with "adequate control machinery" exercised by the NATO and Warsaw Pact powers and also by a third and presumably neutral group of nations.
The prohibition on the custody or use of such weapons would include foreign troops stationed in this Central European belt, and it would, therefore, apply to American forces with their nuclear-rocket equipment in West Germany.

AT THE SUMMIT meeting in London in the summer of 1955, Anthony Eden, then Prime Minister of Britain, proposed consideration of "a demilitarized area between East and West. But what is commonly spoken of as 'The Eden Plan' gets into a second category—reunification by free elections carefully supervised by the four powers.

BOTH the Truman-Acheson and the Eisenhower-Dulles policy has been based on the belief that Germany could not be kept from rearming and that only through incorporating a rearmament Germany in a Western alliance could the peace be kept, and the balance of power maintained. It has been Acheson's almost pathological fear that a resurgent Germany would once again turn to the East in a deal such as that which helped to breach the Versailles covenant. In any event, reviving German nationalism has a familiar and an ominous sound.

A Lot Of Talk About Talking

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this point the average citizen in America and the Soviet Union may be wondering why the United States and Russia don't start talking about Berlin instead of talking about talking.
President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have talked repeatedly of their willingness to have American-Russian discussions on the German city but any start of such discussions still seems a long way off.
It's as if the two giants of the world—the United States and Russia—had to go into a slow waltz every time they heard the Berlin music played. They went through pretty much the same routine in 1958 and 1959.

SINCE KHURUSHCHEV started the rumpus last June 34 at his Vienna meeting with Kennedy—by demanding once again the allies get out of Berlin—there have been yards and yards of American notes, Soviet notes, allied notes.
So far neither side has made a direct suggestion to the other that they sit down together and get moving.
Khrushchev in his speech Monday night—addressed to the Soviet people but aimed at Kennedy played a kind of hot weather Santa Claus. He had a little of something for everybody.

As usual he warned the United States it would get its come-uppance if it started a war. But he also said "let's not create hysteria" and proposed: "Let's sit down around a table and negotiate in an honest way."
He complimented Kennedy for showing common sense in wishing to avoid war but at the same time said the United States and its allies "are pushing the world to a dangerous brink."
THIS SPEECH was in reply to one Kennedy gave July 25 on Berlin. The President's tough talk of that date reportedly angered Khrushchev. If so, it didn't show up in Monday's talk which was notable for two things:
1. It showed much more restraint than Khrushchev has used at other times.
2. It gave an impression—when he noted Kennedy's decision to build up the American armed forces—that this while thing might get out of hand.
Kennedy's July 25 talk was obviously intended both to show Khrushchev the allies would not back down on Berlin and to cool him off a bit.
Nevertheless, this situation is beginning to look like one in which one word could lead to another until both sides get in deeper than they wanted or expected.
Too much has been said on both sides now to remember it all without a file. But if you had such a file some of Khrushchev's performance at this point would look almost giddy in accomplishing what he said he wanted to avoid.
LAST JUNE 28 he said that if the West called for mobilization of its armed forces the Soviets would "take the necessary steps to strengthen our security."
Ten days passed in which the West did not mobilize. Then suddenly on July 8 Khrushchev said Russia had suspended troop reductions, promised a couple of years ago, would jump its defense spending 25 per cent this year.
In the face of this Kennedy on July 25 proposed building up the American strength a bit by adding 217,000 men to the regular forces, plus a call-up of an unspecified number of reservists, plus increased military spending.

How To Butter A Husband

NEW YORK (AP)—Lady, would you like to get on better terms with your husband?
This is the goal of many wives. But they don't know how to set out to charm that favorite beast in their lives.
Husband-pleasing has become a vanishing feminine art in many a U.S. home. It has too often been replaced by husband-baiting which some wives for some reason find more exciting.
But to get a husband to eat out of your hand, so to speak, all you have to do is to butter him up like a piece of toast. His little ego needs endless bolstering.
A husband usually thinks of life as a conspiracy against him. He feels everybody from the bus driver to his employer takes him for granted. What he secretly yearns for is someone who doesn't take him for granted—but instead goes to the trouble of making him feel important.
You can be that one. Here are a few simple sentences of the kind that are most likely to turn him into your loving little moon calf.
"Don't get up, Fred. I'll find some matches. I just love to light your cigars for you."
"How can I blame that little blonde for trying to monopolize you at the cocktail party? After all, you were the only real heman in the room."

"Now just lie there on the sofa and relax. Here, let me take off your shoes for you. See, I brought your slippers."
"I don't think it's fat. A lot of men thicken a bit and get more muscular as they grow older."
"Call me a fool if you want to, Fred, but I think it's beginning to grow back in again—right there on top."
"Well, maybe it is a little thin—but a man with a high forehead always looks more intellectual."
"I've saved enough for it. What would I want with a fur coat? They make a girl look so-so bulky."
"No, I don't want to go along on your fishing trip. I think you'll have more fun with the fellows. Besides, I don't believe in wives competing with their husbands, even in sports."
"Just because I'm on a diet doesn't mean you have to go on one. You have the steak and potatoes. I'll have the leftover tuna salad."
"You paid for the first honeymoon. Let me pay for the second. I've saved enough for it from my household budget."
"I wouldn't trade husbands with any woman in the world. It sure was my lucky day when you married poor dumb little old me."

Elderly Folk Should Keep Reasonably Active

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: I'd like to ask you what you think of a person—who is just plain tired of a house and yard work.
"I'd like to live in an apartment, be able to spend a little extra money once in a while, take a trip, etc. We, my husband and I, are both in our 70's and he just sits, watching TV, etc. Would you say, for being so old, I am wrong?
"We both have arthritis—sometimes pretty bad. But I still try to keep going. I would appreciate your writing about what is good for older people—Mrs. B.D.X."
"People weren't created to take care of houses. Houses are built for the use and comfort of people.
From your letter I take it for granted that your husband is a bundle of energy who must have the house and yard as an outlet for excess vigor.
So why hang onto the house? In the 70's (and 80's and 90's) it's best to keep interested and active—within reasonable capabilities. Activity helps keep you young—but this doesn't mean hard work to the point of exhaustion. It's in the nature of things for most of us to develop some arthritis as we grow older, but forcing our creaky joints to withstand strenuous work isn't going to help at all.
Activating, yes. Excessive effort, no. Stiffening joints will get even stiffer with each day we allow to pass without moving around. I said "moving." The joints should be moved to the fullest extent that they are supposed to move. That keeps them operating. It does NOT mean that they should be forced into exertion. Keep 'em moving, but don't wear 'em out!

There's nothing wrong with taking things easy when you reach the age of taking things easy. But don't ever confuse that with inactivity. Keep active and let it be a matter of pleasure—HOW active do you want to be? Don't vegetate, but don't feel that you are being "healthy" by forcing yourself into excessive exertion that you don't enjoy. Old Mother Nature is a pretty reliable adviser in such things.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there such a thing as a nervous bladder? And the cure, please—O.B."

the cause. It may be "nerves," infection, diabetes or some structural defect of the bladder or its outlet.
"Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause of psoriasis and is there a cure or treatment for it?—M.D.S."
Cause? It is not known, but it appears to occur in skin that in the past has been injured in some way.
Cure or treatment? Cure, sometimes. Treatment—yes, but the ailment can vary so much in intensity that the degree of success is unpredictable. The disease fluctuates with the seasons, and tends to improve in summer. Various treatments have been successful, but there is no single one which cures every case.
How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald for a copy of his leaflet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

More Than One Can Pull Those Wires

There is a second chapter to my little tale about how I nearly became a marine. The second chapter developed in 1953 when I was in Honolulu as guest of the secretary of the navy on a junket to Pearl Harbor.
One evening at dinner I was seated beside the general who was then commander of all U. S. marines in the Pacific area. I told him of how I was accepted for service in the corps, sent home and instructed to wait for orders. I related that this occurred in 1942 or 1943 and that since that date I had heard no further from the USMC.
"YOU SAID THE general sternly, "are some sort of deserter. I need men out here on the island in the corps. I'll have you uniformed up and in service before you sail for stateside."
I told him I didn't care for any, thank you, but he merely nodded his head. Marine generals can, as a lot of ex-servicemen will testify, be very, very stubborn.
The next morning, I was at CINCPAC headquarters in the office of Admiral Felix B. Stump, then CINCPAC commander. The admiral had been at the same dinner where I had talked with the general.
I ASKED ADMIRAL Stump where the general was.
"Oh," said the CINCPAC chief, "he got a call about midnight to take off for Tokyo for an important conference. I imagine he's well on his way by now."

A few minutes later, the general walked into the office. He had been delayed and was waiting for a plane for the trip to Japan.
"Ah, there you are," he said to me. "I've not quite got you fitted for a marine uniform but I'm working on it. I'll get it done yet."
I shook my head.
"Oh, no you won't, general," I said. "By the time you get back from Tokyo I'll be back in Oklahoma."
HE LOOKED startled.
"How did you know I was going to Tokyo?" he demanded.
I grinned.
"General," I told him, "didn't it seem a little odd you should get that sudden hurry-up order to go to Tokyo? And so soon after we had dinner together, too?"
He nodded.
"It just goes to show you," I said. "Show me what?" he demanded.
"That other folk on this tight little island can pull wires and wield influence just as much as a general," I said.
"Who do you think saw to it that you got this sudden summons?"

Communist Dreams Are—Just Dreams

There was a certain point in the new program of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, as I plowed doggedly through its interminable verbiage, when—faint and far-off—I began to hear the siren sing.
The music had a Pied Piper charm when I reached those sections that promised the Soviet citizen, in the sweet by-and-by, a fabulous day when rent, medical services, public utilities and transportation anywhere (maybe even to the moon) would be free for the asking.
NEVER MIND free boarding schools for all, as promised, I thought as I mulled the possibility of free rent. What a beautiful vision that is to be a New Yorker, in whose state rents are controlled and landlords take out their anger and frustrations on tenants, caught and ground between the upper and the nether millstones.
So maybe the state would be a lousy landlord, too. But at least, if the plaster fell down and the refrigerator died of old age and the landlord was as indifferent as the average New York variety, the tenant, as he went about making repairs himself, would have the consolation that the crummy and crumbling joint wasn't costing him a red (sic) cent.
IT WAS a dreamy moment, all right, and one to bring the self-appointed vigilantes of the far right pouncing. But as I read on the dream faded and the nightmare took over.
The paragraphs in the new manifesto that shattered the dream and kept me squarely in the democratic column promise eventually to abolish forever homeowning and replace it with a public contracting system.
SO COME this promised Soviet revolution in living standards, maybe all the comrades will eat strawberries. But I would hate them—those strawberries—if I had to eat them in a communal dining room. They would be as dust and ashes in my rosebud mouth if I had to consume them in the Red Star Dining Room with 250 or 500 or 1,200 other persons.

Ever since I can remember, that pause in the day's occupation, "Between the dark and the daylight when the night is beginning to lower," known as the dinner hour, has been, for me, the most treasured and joyous part of the day.
IN THAT amber hour, when the family is gathered around the mahogany, half-intoxicated by the wonderful smells from the kitchen, all the merri and terri of the day is washed away in the give-and-take of family conversation, the revivification of each day's small adventures, be they treasure or drudgery.
Here is the true in-gathering of the clan, relaxed and ready for the small confidences, the large plans that are the coin of family life. Rather would I sit at the family table with mine own, nourished with conversation and a cheese sandwich, than eat the greatest communal banquet of which Soviet chefs are capable.
TO ABOLISH the family dining room is a crime against nature, but to abolish the family kitchen is to abolish the family. There is the temple of the home; the cook its high priestess. What is a home without a kitchen? No icebox to raid? The civilized mind boggles before such awful prospects.
This is La Vila Dolce of the future? Spare me, I beg, the horrid joys of being fed by the Communist ravens, even for free.

Comments For Correspondents

WASHINGTON — George S. Schuyler, Pittsburgh, Pa.: Presumably because of my pro-Portugal references, you sent me a 30-page supplement, with over 100 photographs, covering your journalistic travels in Portugal and Portuguese West Africa in April and May of this year.
AS A NEGRO newspaperman of 40 years' standing, associate editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, you knew what to look for, recognized what you saw, reported what was there. I hope everybody interested in truth will send 20 cents to buy your supplement and read your entire story. Meanwhile, I thank you for the following observations on a subject to which Americans have hitherto been treated with brainwash instead of facts:
Schuyler: "The fraudulent uproar over Portugal in the U.S. has demonstrated once again the basic ineptitude, unreality and uselessness of that world organization... Portugal... has repressed with dispatch and severity an invasion of Red-led murderers... Any state will do it and should do it, any time it is threatened, and would be derelict if it failed to do it... Our State Department socialists immediately agreed (double-crossing their ally) in order to curry favor with the African-Asian U.N. members who come over here wheedling handouts... Amen, Brother Schuyler!"

Walker, some pro-Americans are still to be heard from.
JOHN FISCHER, New York City: As editor of "Harper's," you sent me an advance tear-sheet—for comment, I suppose—of Adlai Stevenson's piece "America Under Pressure" in the August issue. If I understand Mr. Stevenson (which isn't always easy) he has a low opinion of his own country and little knowledge of the burdens we are bearing for mankind. My comment is that a man should not be an American ambassador to 90-odd foreign nations at the U.N., feeling as Stevenson does. He writes:
"In France, the Court played at shepherds and shepherdesses while the peasants ate grass. Today we in America are the rich minority of world society. Are we any less prone than they to while away our most precious gift of time in pursuit of distractions as trivial as those..."

TO MAJOR GENERAL Edwin A. Walker, Headquarters, U. S. Army, Europe: Take heart! You have been shamefully treated, but relief is forming. I have before me a letter (not addressed to me) by another major general in response to some blunt questions. The officer confirms that you were investigated on the basis of an April 16, '61 story in "The Overseas Weekly" newspaper. The story alleged that you had called Harry Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dean Acheson "definitely pink," and had called Ed Murrow, Walter Lippmann and Eric Sevareid "confirmed Communists."
But wait! The Army has now interviewed many of the 200 persons at the meeting where you supposedly made the above remarks. The major general who signed the letter before me writes:
"NO SUBSTANTIAL evidence was revealed that Gen. Walker had referred to former President Harry S. Truman, Dean Acheson and Eleanor Roosevelt as 'definitely pink'... It was also established that Gen. Walker had mentioned 'certain commentators' as being leftist or Communist-influenced, but not 'confirmed Communists,' as alleged in 'The Overseas Weekly'... So, take heart, Gen.

Mr. Fischer, let me ask your comment. Is this the performance of a nation that is comparable to the court of pre-Revolutionary France? Is this Adlai Stevenson, whose portrait of America only her enemies would applaud, the right man for leadership in what his article calls "the crisis and challenge of our perilous days?"

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The State Division of Highways cleaned out its files recently.
The result: 43 tons of obsolete records sold as wastepaper.
GOING DOWN
CHATTANOOGA (AP)—Walter Parrish, a shoe repairman from suburban Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., got that sinking feeling as he drove his car along the edge of famed Lookout Mountain. His car plunged over a precipice and landed about 200 feet below the highway. Parrish was treated for minor injuries.

To Wed This Month

Mr. and Mrs. Covie Williams, Rouie I. Ackerly, announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Vonn, to Van H. Kountz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kountz of Balmorhea. The wedding date has been set for Aug. 26 at a place to be decided later.

ROUND TOWN With LUCILLE PICKLE

Included in the number of families fishing over the weekend were MR. and MRS. DON WILKINS and their daughters, Cindy and Kay, who dipped their hooks at Buchanan Dam.

MRS. GRADY WILBANKS and her son, Grady, and his friend, Richard Cauley, left to day for Chama, N. M., where they will spend the rest of the week fishing.

SHARON CREIGHTON and JUDY REAGAN who are in school this semester at Boulder, Colo., are enjoying the interesting places near Boulder during their times out of classes.

CLARENCE PERCY JR., spent the weekend here with his family. He is a summer student at Texas Tech at Lubbock.

A trip to Carlsbad Caverns was planned today by the guests of the J. E. SANDERS family who included MR. and MRS. FRED MCMINN of Lockhart, and MR. and MRS. HAROLD MCMINN, Dean and Darlene, of Corpus Christi. The group came Sunday for visits with Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carpenier, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Sanders and Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Sanders.

When they return from the Caverns they will return here for a short time before returning to their homes on Thursday.

A special guest of the HENRY CARPENTERS is their grandson, DONNIE HARRIS of Tulsa, Okla. His mother and father, MR. and MRS. CLARENCE FINKEL and Sandra, will come out Aug. 25 for a week before school starts.

A short note came from MAJ. and MRS. JAMES FRY who left Big Spring recently for a new assignment in Montgomery, Ala.

ARTHUR LEONARD, who recently underwent a corneal transplant, is resting well in room 970 Baptist Memorial Hospital at 602 Lamar, Houston. It will be several weeks before he will know if the operation was successful.

MRS. E. B. McCORMICK says that their daughter, PATRICIA, is back in Mexico City after a trip to Spain for some bullfighting engagements. She conferred in New York and in Chicago with agents regarding a prospective lecture tour. Her subject? Bullfighting? No sir—how to better U. S. and Latin American relations. Pat has lived in Mexico for many years now.

The figures are encouraging: Of 47 enrolled in the project, this year, 25 have been judged capable of working, either at home, in a sheltered workshop or in industry. They will go on to college and business or trade schools, or be trained by Federation supervisors for earning at home, or enter the Federation's instrument repair work division on a learn-and-earn training basis.

SECOND YEAR
Of the 22 remaining, 13 will go back in the fall for the second year of evaluation. Only nine were dropped from the program as unable to be considered for work.

The New York program, financed by city, state and federal funds, is an expensive operation loaded with psychiatrists, psychologists, therapists and training instructors.

A small community couldn't afford it. But what the group learns from its five years of study will be put into a manual that a small community could modify for its own needs.

What's a typical day in the project? In the morning the teen-agers discuss general areas of occupation: Job personality (you can't tell the boss off, for example) and how to write application letters. Employment interviews, which almost everyone is afraid of, are acted out.

In the afternoon the youngsters are given projects to complete, and their work is evaluated. The jobs include pasting, selected colored wires for electrical projects, and various tasks to show dexterity and possible aptitude for metal and jewelry lathe work, radio repair, mechanical drawing and clerical work—inserting, collating, typing, switchboard.

EMOTIONAL PROBLEMS
"Many have emotional problems as a result of their handicaps," says Miss Bloom. "We offer therapy to get over feelings of helplessness and depression and to encourage them to use their talents."

Some 17-year-olds couldn't leave their mothers, who had to come with them every time. After seeing psychologists for while, they became weaned, and made the trip by themselves in special buses.

"Mothers have had to take so much care of them, unless they're encouraged to be independent, the teen-agers often act more like babies."

Psychiatric counseling is given mothers, sometimes fathers on a limited basis.

Occasionally families won't accept the fact THEIR child is retarded or disabled.

At the other extreme is the parent who neglects the child. One lad in a wheelchair tells fantastic stories of how his father takes him out fishing just like a pal. Actually, the father rejects him and the submissive mother offers no protest.

Scientist Finds Time To Be A Housewife

By JOHN B. KNOX

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Nanniou H. Dieter is living proof that a woman can be a housewife, a mother—and an astronomer, too.

Furthermore, she is one of the world's relatively few radio astronomers.

A research assistant at Harvard University, she is now a full-time member of the staff of the Electronics Research Directorate, Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories at Hanscom Field here.

Besides her No. 1 project, bringing up daughters Amy 9 and Nan 3, she has kept busy determining positions of transmitting satellites both optically and by radio, and negotiating Air Force contracts in Europe and Chile for setting up tracking cameras.

How does attractive Dr. Dieter, just turned 35, manage to combine her multiple roles?

She says it's not very easy, and yet it's worth it and she loves it. "I'm just fortunate that I'm in a line of work that pays well enough so I can afford a housekeeper

Dr. Nanniou H. Dieter does some gardening with three-year-old daughter, Nan, after a day of studying the universe.

Visiting Pythian Official Is Honored At Banquet

Preceding Monday evening's meeting of the Pythian Sisters, Sterling Temple 43, the members honored Mrs. Elvira Lively of Brownwood, grand chief of the state, with a banquet at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Following the banquet, Mrs. Lively made her official visit to the local lodge.

At the banquet Mrs. Lively was presented with a white carnation corsage which commemorated her project theme of remodeling the Pythian Home at Weatherford. Mrs. Chock Smith, temple deputy, also was given a white gladiol corsage by the local members for her work with the lodge. Twenty attended the banquet.

Mrs. Lively opened the regular meeting at the Temple with a speech. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. L. D. Chrane, MEC. Appointed as pro-tem officers at the meeting were Mrs. Herbert Jackson Jr. and Mrs. Morris Robinson.

Visiting officers from area towns were introduced by Mrs. Robinson. They were Mrs. Eula Donovan, special deputy, Midland; Mrs. Leona Howard, district deputy, Odessa; and Mrs. Velma Bartlett, temple deputy, Larissa. Other visitors also attended from Lamesa, Midland, Odessa and Stanton.

It was announced that a district meeting will be held Sept. 23 in Odessa at Pythian Temple, 59 and a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Leon Cole, Mrs. Melvin Choate, Mrs. Billy Chrane and Mrs. Doyle Vaughn. Decorations were in Mrs. Lively's colors and the theme, "Winning Ribbons for Pythians," was carried out. A pale linen cloth, matching China and a centerpiece of white carnations were placed on the refreshment table. Marjorie McCormick won the capsule prize.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Dick Collier and Mrs. Kenneth Orr as hostesses on Aug. 21.

Substitute Presides At Church Meet

Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach presided in the absence of Mrs. Don Farley, president, at Monday afternoon's business meeting for the First Presbyterian Women of the Church. The meeting was at the church.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Schwarzenbach on evangelism. Mrs. W. G. Wilson reported for the Council of United Church Women and announced that there will be no council meeting in August. Next meeting will be at 10 a.m., Sept. 8, at the First Christian Church, according to Mrs. Wilson.

The meeting was closed with a reading of the Mizpah.

A Dog's Best Friend—No-Roach

The best friend a dog ever had is Johnston's No-Roach. This product can rid your dog of ticks and fleas. These pests not only make your dog uncomfortable,—they also carry disease and infections. Just brush liquid No-Roach on the area where your dog sleeps. This colorless, odorless coating will rid the area of all insects in a few nights, and your dog will be tick and flea free.

If your dog stays outdoors most of the time, you can brush No-Roach through his fur. This does not harm the dog. Be safe and be sure with Johnston's No-Roach. 8 oz. 89¢; pt. $1.69.

Alabamans Visit Knott

KNOTT (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Simmons of Dauphin Island, Ala., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson. Other recent guests of the Andersons were Mr. and Mrs. Don Holcomb and their son from Flower Grove.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Matthias is Mrs. Jim Pardue of Abilene.

Mrs. J. H. Hinson of Lubbock is visiting her daughter and family, the Larry Shaws.

Here Sunday from Elbow were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Nichols. They visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Harrell.

W. T. Bolin, Dana and Brenda of Lewisville are visiting the E. L. Romanes and other friends in this community.

Returning from a weekend trip to Brady are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cheatham, Diane and Randy. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nichols, Dick and Lonnie, are vacationing in Colorado this week.

The Rev. Jack Stringer of Hobbs, N. M., is the guest evangelist for a ten day revival at the First Baptist Church.

Attending evening worship services at the First Baptist Church Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson of Vealmoor.

Mrs. Bearden Gives Methodist Program

Mrs. Elvira Bearden opened the meeting of the Park Methodist WSCS Monday evening and directed the program. The meeting was at the church.

Members voted to sponsor Peggy Campbell as conference daughter. The Rev. R. L. Bowman, pastor, was a guest. The meeting was dismissed with a prayer read in unison.

Mrs. A. G. Eitzen Honored By Club

Mrs. A. G. Eitzen was nominated as Woman of the Year by the Scenic Chapter of ABWA Monday evening when the club met at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Mrs. Doris Carr opened the meeting with a prayer and the program was a talk by Wade Simpson and Terry Stanley on their recent world tour. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Alice Sellers, Mrs. Eunice Hicks and Mrs. A. C. Moore, of the Cactus Chapter; Mrs. E. B. Compton, Mrs. Mervil Click was welcome as a new member.

Delegates to the national convention to be held in Memphis, Tenn., in October were chosen. They were Mrs. Lambert Mizek, delegate, and Mrs. Carr, alternate.

It was decided that the chapter will make cookies to give to patients at the state hospital Nov. 15. The group also decided to raise money for a scholarship for a local student by selling tickets to the Cotton Bowl game.

Next meeting will be Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Flame Room. A Friendship supper will be held at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 12 at the home of Mrs. Carlson Hamilton, 708 W. 12th St.

Members of the Desk and Derrick Club met Monday for a buffet, swim party and short business meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbie Smith. It was the organization's seventh anniversary.

Theme of the party was a country supper. Tables were set with red, handkerchief print cloths and the buffet table was centered with a basket of zinnias and an oil lamp.

Mrs. George Thorburn was elected a delegate to the convention in Houston Sept. 22-23 and Mrs. Bill Boeckel was chosen as alternate. After the meeting old fashioned games were played.

Greybeards Assume Charge In Big Leagues

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris? Forget the kids. The home run sluggers of the moment are Stan Musial and Yogi Berra, a couple of old guys who may be on the way out, but who refuse to go quietly.

It was Berra, now 35 and put out to pasture, you might say, in left field, who broke up a tie with a home run as the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Angels 4-1 Monday night. That gave the Yanks a five-game streak and a three-game lead, their biggest bulge yet, over the Detroit in the American League race.

And it was Musial, still The Man at 40, who socked a three-run homer that boosted St. Louis to a 5-1 victory over Cincinnati and dropped the second-place Reds .066 percentage points behind the idle Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League race.

Berra's shot was his 14th of the season. Musial's was No. 11. Between them they have hit more than half the total of either Mantle 43 or Maris 41 as the two Yankee outfielders shoot for Babe Ruth's long elusive record of 60.

Musial's, however, was the 40th of his 29-year career—a total topped only by Ruth, Jimmy Fox, Ted Williams, Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig, and second to Ott's 511 in National League history.

Yogi's was the 332nd of a 16-year career with the Yanks, most of it spent behind the plate. It broke a tie with Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg for 14th place on the all-time list. Only Ruth,

MUSIAL BERRA GREENBERG DIMAGGIO FRIEND DITMAR MAZEROSKI WERTZ

Fox, Williams, Gehrig, Mantle and Joe DiMaggio have hit more in the AL.

In other games on Monday's slack schedule, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 3-1 in the NL, while Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-4 and Boston took a two-night pair from Minnesota, both by 5-4, in the only other AL games.

Mantle and Maris were held to one hit each, and got just one ball past the pitcher's mound between them against losing right-hander Ken McBride 9-8. But even when the Reds failed to cover first base, giving the Cards a 4-1 bulge, they breezed all surprise with a neat, two-out hunt that scored a run and made it 1-1 in the third inning. Maris and Mick then paired for the insurance runs in the eighth—when Maris walked and scored as Mantle's single got past center fielder Ken Hunt for an error. Mick came in on a wild pitch.

Bud Daley 9-15 became the first southpaw to go the distance against the Angels since May 21 and broke a personal losing skid at five games by holding Los Angeles to six hits, all singles.

Musial's sixth-inning shot, followed a hit batter and a sacrifice bunt by Bill White that went for a hit when the Reds failed to cover first base, giving the Cards a 4-1 bulge. They breezed all the way, starting with a second-inning homer by Carl Sawaloff off Ken Johnson 2-1 while right-hander Larry Jackson 5-8 won his fifth in a row. The Reds had seven hits, but were shut out until they got an unearned run in the eighth.

Right-hander Bob Friend, 11-13 making his first start since suffering an ankle injury last Wednesday, beat Philadelphia with a four-hitter. It was the 10th straight loss and 15th defeat in 16 games for the Phils, who scored in the sixth on Ruben Amaro's triple and a sacrifice fly by Johnny Callison. Singles by Bill Mazeroski and Bill Virdon scored the Bucs' clincher in the second off John Buzhardt 3-12.

Jackie Brandt drove in Baltimore's last three runs, putting it away with a two-run homer in the seventh inning. Jim Gentile also hit a home run for the Orioles, setting a club record with his 21st. Chuck Estrada 9-6 was the winner, with relief help, and Art Ditmar 2-7 the loser.

The Red Sox won the opener on Carl Yastrzemski's two-out single in the ninth, and pinch-hitter Vic Wertz bagged the nightcap with a two-out single in the eighth. Don Schwall 13-2 won the second game—for his seventh straight success, two shy of the rookie record in the AL. Mike Fornieles won the opener with five innings of two-hit relief. Don Lee 3-3 and Pete Ramos 6-13 were the losers. The Twins have lost eight in a row, the last five by one run.

Broyles Sees Top Football In SWC

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Frank Broyles, fast building Arkansas to dominance in Southwest Conference football, thinks the conference will have more strong teams this fall than in some time—at least for the period he has been in the league.

He bases his forecast on the abundance of top quarterbacks and halfbacks.

"Each of the four teams everybody is picking for the championship—Texas, Rice, Arkansas and Baylor—has two veteran quarterbacks and that is the first big indication of strength," he declared in an interview at the Texas coaching school where he is lecturing on football.

Broyles also said there was the best group of outstanding halfbacks of the past few years—three and four to the team—and at least four All-America possibilities among them. These he listed as Ronnie Bull and Ronnie Goodwin of Baylor, Lance Alford of Arkansas and James Saxton of Texas.

"The Arkansas coach, whose Razorbacks tied for the conference championship in 1959 and won it outright last year, said his 1961 team would be stronger offensively but certainly would not be up to standard on defense.

"We should be strong at all positions except linebacker," he declared. "Replacing Wayne Harris, our great defensive player who now is in Canadian pro football, is a terrific assignment."

He indicated he would pass most this fall than ever before. "John Bridgers at Baylor has convinced me that you can throw the ball and not get beat. I used to think you couldn't win with the forward pass but Bridgers showed me that if the passer is properly developed, throwing is a good part of your offense."

He said Arkansas planned to be more wide open this season. He has the most offensive passer in the Southwest Conference in George McKinney.

Broyles also said Arkansas would be bigger this season, with a line averaging about 200 pounds to the man—70 pounds more than last year. But, he added, there would be a loss in speed as a result.

Gentile A Big Help To Chuck Estrada

BALTIMORE Md. (AP)—Don't be surprised if pitcher Chuck Estrada of the Baltimore Orioles organizes his own fan club for teammate Jim Gentile.

The slugger first baseman has walloped 11 of his 31 homers this season while Estrada was the Baltimore pitcher, including all four of his grand-slam homers.

The two teamed up again Monday night, Gentile hitting a solo homer his first time at bat and Estrada gaining credit for a 5-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics. Estrada left the game in the seventh with a 3-0 lead, and eventually was charged with one run.

"He—Estrada—should be on his knees after every game, polishing Gentile's shoes," Oriole pitching coach Harry Brecheen said after the game.

"You ought to make him buy you something," catcher Gus Triandos urged Gentile. "How about a new suit?"

Gentile didn't take up the suggestion, but he thought it would be a good idea if Estrada pitched more often.

"If he pitched every day, I'd have a helluva year," he said. "Most fans would agree Gentile already has that kind of year."

His homer Monday night snapped a tie with Triandos for the all-time club home run record. It was his 100th run batted in, two more than the club record of 98 he set as a rookie last season.

Gentile now stands fourth in the American League in hitting, 333, fourth in homers, and tied for second in RBI, two behind Roger Maris of the New York Yankees.

Always a worrier while in uniform, Gentile, a former basketball All-American, can't even remember having such a frustrating time of it at the plate.

"When I hit the ball good, it's generally right at somebody," he said.

Gentile quickly brushes off suggestions that he and other Pirates waxed fat along the banquet circuit during the winter after their dramatic World Series triumph over the New York Yankees.

"I'm in better shape now than I've ever been," he said, patting his belt buckle.

Dick Groat Is Now Struggling In Buc Lineup

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dick Groat, the National League batting champion and most valuable player of 1960, is just another shortstop "scratching and trying to get along," this season.

For the first time since the peppery captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates came out of Duke University and joined the Bucs in 1952 the game has become a struggle instead of a joy.

"Everybody wants to know what's the matter," Groat said today. "I can't begin to tell them. I don't know. If I did I would do something about it."

The infielder who won the batting title with a .325 average last year, has been poking along about 75 points under that mark this season and it's reached the state where he admitted "becomes overwhelmed when I get two hits in a game."

"I thought I was out of that of that 250 class," said Groat, an over-300 batter in three of his previous seven campaigns. "But I suppose I was only kidding myself."

Groat went 6-4 Monday night, dropping his average to .256 as the Pirates defeated Philadelphia 5-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Friend.

Tulsa Nearer Lead In Loop

By The Associated Press

Less than a month remains in the Texas League race and second place Tulsa continued to nudge the circuit leader, Amarillo, Monday night by whipping Austin 6-2.

Amarillo split a doubleheader with Victoria and saw its lead trimmed to six games. The Gold Sox won the first game 5-3 but dropped the nightcap 5-2.

Ardmore suffered its fifth loss in the last 20 starts. San Antonio squeaked by the Rosebuds 7-6.

Lefty Hal Stowe maintained a perfect hurling record by posting his 10th victory in the opener. Richie Windle's three-run homer in the seventh inning was the deciding blow for the Gold Sox.

A five-run outburst in the first frame of the second game gave Victoria enough playing room. San Antonio weathered a five-run first inning for its victory.

Ardmore's Dennis Loudenback hit his 17th homer with two on in the first to pace the Rosebuds' first inning outburst.

The power behind the bat for San Antonio was outfielder Danny Murphy who slammed a three-run homer in the fourth and singled home the go-ahead run in the sixth. Catcher Ralph Holding hit a homer in the fourth.

Harry Fanok won his 14th game of the season in Austin. Although Ray Winthrow banged a home run with one on base, Tulsa offset it with a couple of blasts. Jack Damaska solved in the fifth and Al Herr broke a tie with a two-run four-bagger in the seventh.

Tuesday night's schedule and probable pitchers: Tulsa (Undecided) at Austin, Maxie (13-4), Schandevle (7-4) at Ardmore, MacLeod (8-6), Amarillo, Lasko (8-3) or Cullen (8-6) at Victoria, Johnson (9-8).

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Basketball squads that appear in the annual all-star game of the Texas coaching school held final practice Monday.

They clash Wednesday night with a crowd of 5,000 expected. The North continued to rate a mild favorite.

Both coaches were pleased with the progress made in Monday's workouts although there was some concern over injuries.

Tennis Tourney Set Wednesday

Singles play in the YMCA City Tennis tournament gets under way here Wednesday. The doubles teams wait until Thursday to launch competition.

Three courts will be used to run off the first round of competition in singles. Those are at the Couden Country Club, the City Park and Webb AFB.

After Wednesday, all singles activity will take place at Webb AFB.

Jerry Caddell and Jim Shattuck are seeded one-two in singles while Shattuck and Gary Sampson are top-rated in doubles competition.

The tournament is being run off by Robbie Robertson and Vincent Friedewald. Trophies donated by Zala's Jewelers and Dibrell's Sporting Goods go to the winners. Consolation play will take place in each bracket. The championship singles match will start at 3 p.m. Sunday at Webb AFB. The doubles title will be decided at 5 p.m. Sunday at the same place. Sampson and Friedewald are also given excellent chances in the singles division.

First round pairings: Jerry Caddell vs. Bill Mancill, Doc Reeves vs. Roy Thurston, Don Graham vs. Bennett Brooke, Gary Sampson vs. Jay LeFevre, Jim Shattuck vs. Bill Parsons, Dale Bullock vs. James Taylor, Zay LeFevre vs. Robbie Robertson, Vince Friedewald vs. Del Kirby.

Both coaches were pleased with the progress made in Monday's workouts although there was some concern over injuries.

Larry Franks of Nacogdoches, who turned an ankle Sunday in a North workout, wasn't doing as well as anticipated but coach O. W. Pollis of Lamesa said he thought Franks would be able to play.

Bill Ward of Belton suffered a cut over the eye in a South workout but coach Hal Lambert of Spring Branch said he didn't think the injury would knock Ward out of playing at full speed.

Record Number Of Entries Due For Junior Rodeo Production

A record number of entries are expected for the 16th annual Howard County Junior Rodeo by the time entry deadline arrives at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Already, boys and girls from wide section of the Southwest have sent in their entry blanks. Numerous others have telephoned they will be on hand. Bulk of the competitors are expected to enter when they reach town. Most of the out-of-town youngsters will register as they arrive in the city for the show which will be staged on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

night at the Rodeo Bowl west of the city.

Seventy-five entries have already been accepted and Jimmy Taylor, superintendent, anticipates a flood of additional ones during Wednesday.

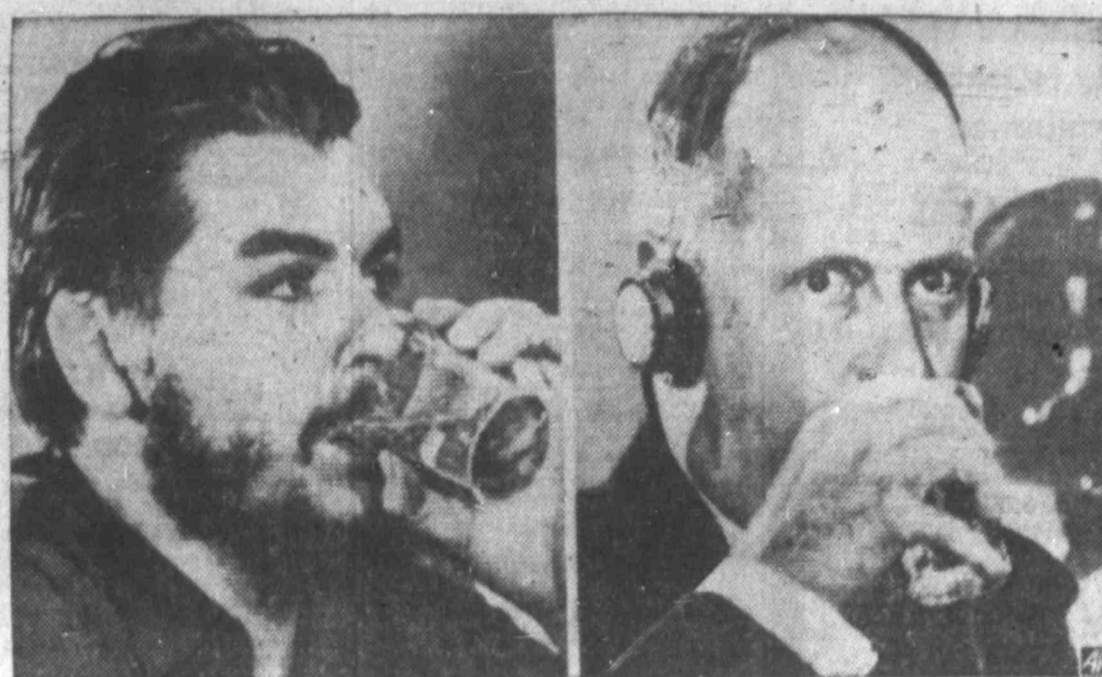

A parade at 4 p.m. Thursday will be initial event of the three-day show. The parade, in which every boy and girl in the area who has a horse is invited to take part, will form at 11th Street and Main. It will pass north on Main to Second street, then west to Scurry and back south to 11th.

Show time is 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The rodeo is sponsored and produced by the Howard County 4-H Club Rodeo Association. It is sanctioned by the American Junior Rodeo Association and all points scored here are acceptable to the AJRA. Taylor said that most of the top hands of the junior circuit will be here as this is one of the final approved shows before the national finals in Hutchins, south of Dallas, later this month.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Advance tickets are available at the office of the county agent in the courthouse or from 4-H club members.

Roping stock and bucking stock for the show arrived in Big Spring this week and is at the fair grounds.

Poetic Justice

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Springfield woman called police Monday asking that the owner of a lot in her neighborhood be forced to cut the weeds. She gave police the name of an attorney she said was responsible for the property's management.

Police told the attorney the weeds must be cut. The attorney said he no longer was responsible for the property because the lot had been sold.

Police found the new owner was the woman complaining about the weeds. She told police she had been dickered for the lot but was not aware the deal had gone through.

She was given five days to have the weeds cut.

Col. Ray Next In WAF Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former Texan, Lt. Col. Elizabeth Ray, 48, was designated Monday as the next director of Women in the Air Force (WAF).

Miss Ray is the daughter of Shaw Ray of Duncan, Okla., and was born in Winnboro, Tex. When she takes command Sept. 1 she will become a colonel, succeeding Col. Emma Riley, who will complete her tour of duty as WAF chief.

Moral Movement Founder Dies

FREUDENSTADT, Germany (AP)—Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman, 83, founder of the Moral Re-Armament movement, died here Monday night after a heart attack.

The Pennsylvania-born Lutheran clergyman died while resting in a suite at his hotel in this Black Forest resort where he first had the inspiration to found his movement. Dr. Buchman was here for a holiday and rest.

Orbital Flights May Be In Vicinity Of Big Spring

When the United States makes its first live orbital flights early in 1962, at least one of them should be plainly visible here if the weather is fair.

U. S. Project Mercury officials have mapped tentatively the three areas for the five-hour flight of an astronaut.

The first pass is due to be on a line from Del Rio to Austin, which would place the path about 175 miles south of Big Spring. On a clear day or night, the capsule might be visible from 500 miles.

Line of light for the second orbit is roughly on a line from Roswell, N. M. to Lubbock, which would place it about 100-110 miles north of Big Spring.

The third pass would hit this area almost on the nose. The line is from Carlsbad, N.M. to Waco, which would mean that it would be about 20-30 miles south of Big Spring on a northeasterly-to-northwesterly line. It would pass almost over Sterling City and between Midland and Slaton.

Prior to sending an astronaut on the orbital flight, it is now planned to send a chimpanzee around the world. The firings will be from Cape Canaveral, probably early in 1962, and will be in a west-east movement.

Tax Collection Totals Figured

Howard County Tax Collector-Assessor Zerah LeFevre said Monday that final collection figures for the 1960 tax roll show that 97.12 per cent of all state and county taxes had been collected in Howard County as of June 30.

County tax collections amount to $568,489.14. Total state collections are $207,060.94; Howard County Junior College tax collections $327,511.73; and Howard County common school tax collections $156,416.51. Grand total taxes collected $1,258,477.42.

Total taxes on the rolls are $1,294,820.29.

Delinquent taxes on the books as of June 30 include:

State tax $6,360.76. County $18,212.85. HCJC $10,616.13; common schools $1,192.49. Total delinquent taxes on the books as of June 30 was $26,382.23.

All taxes not paid by Jan. 31 became delinquent and carry a penalty in addition to the face of the taxes.

Woman Sought In Custody Fuss

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Police looked today for a Wichita Falls, Tex., woman who took her daughter in a child custody dispute.

Mrs. Norma Pettit, 22, took Karen Christine, 4, from her father.

The father, Lt. Herbert Staudenmaier of Travis Air Force Base, gained custody of the child in a divorce action last year.

Both parents have remarried.

Police said Staudenmaier took Karen to a Fairfield motel Wednesday to see Mrs. Pettit. Mrs. Pettit locked Staudenmaier in the motel and left with her daughter, officers said, and neither has been seen since.

Somber Reaction To Closing Of Met

NEW YORK (AP) — Music lovers reacted in somber tones to the announced closing of the Metropolitan Opera for the 1961-62 season and the cancellation of the Met's annual spring tour.

Words like "disgrace" and "irreparable blow" came from some of the world's greatest opera singers. One appealed directly to President Kennedy to help settle the labor dispute which the Met blamed for the closing.

More optimistic patrons of the arts recalled, however, that two other announced cancellations in recent years never went into effect. Labor troubles, blamed then too, were subsequently ironed out.

In making the announcement Monday, Met General Manager Rudolph Bing said "I see no hope" of saving the 1961-62 season. He was gloomy about prospects for the 1962-63 season.

The crux of the situation is that since July 30 the top stars and even the lesser ones have been free to make other commitments. "We cannot have a season without these singers," Bing said, adding that as many as two dozen of the more than 100 artists on the roster "already have been lost."

Soprano Anna Moffo is known to have made other arrangements for the season, but such operatic lights as Leontyne Price had been holding off in hopes of a settlement.

In all, nearly 700 employees—including singers, musicians, the chorus, the ballet, the administrative and technical staffs and backstage workers—are affected. Bing, calling the cancellation a "catastrophe," blamed Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, saying it had demanded a weekly salary for musicians of $248 for six performances plus other benefits, as against last season's rate of $170.15 for seven performances.

An official statement from the Met said the demands would have added $750,000 to the Met's prospective deficit, which last season hit $840,000 before contributions.

The Met has reached agreement with 14 other unions.

A spokesman for the Musicians' Union said: "The Met has presented its side. We want to study its statement very carefully. We will then present to the public our side of the story. We ask everyone to suspend judgment until then."

Mezzo soprano Rise Stevens sent a telegram to President Kennedy, saying: "This is an irreparable blow to the cultural prestige of our country."

Miss Stevens expressed a belief both the Met and the union "would welcome the interest of the White House."

Casa's Musical Gets Top Rating

Although I'm not an advocate of theatre in the round, I enjoyed every minute of "Texas, Li'l Darlin'" now playing at Fort Worth's Casa Manana.

As a veteran of Big Spring Civic Theatre productions, I didn't miss those props a bit. The speed of the prop department in changing scenes amazed me. They certainly worked with 100 per cent cooperation and skill.

The sound was perfect, and so were sound effects.

Guest star Danny Scholl just about stole the show. He was remarkably good as a slow-thinking, drawing Texan, with an excellent singing voice. Jet McDonald, who played his girl friend, was fine, especially in facial expressions (here, Scholl and Marc McCrary excelled, too) and she had a very good singing voice.

Don Wilson did a creditable job as Hominy Smith, a crooked country politician. Janan Hart was good in the role of Melissa, trying to steal Easy Jones (Scholl) from Dallas (Jet McDonald). McCrary was especially good as Brewster Ames, a mild-mannered reporter-scout for Trend Magazine, striving to become a junior executive by catering to his boss, Harvey Small, the owner of Trend and the man behind Smith's campaign against Easy Jones for state senator.

The cast and crew were uniformly good, the singing fine, the girls lovely, the dance numbers enjoyable — and it all added up to a most entertaining evening.

"Texas, Li'l Darlin'" plays at the Casa Manana through Saturday, and evening performances start promptly at 8:15 p.m.
