Curry Ruled Delinquent By Court In Eastland

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — Nathan Curry, 16, crew-cut teenager accused of slaying a church secretary, today was declared a juvenile delinquent on a charge of burglarizing her home.

Court officers, bound by County Judge John Hart not to discuss the case, refused to say what will be done with Curry.

But Dist. Atty. Earl Conner Jr. said to newsmen in answer to a direct question whether Curry will be sent to the Gatesville school for delinquent boys:

"There is just one thing to do to him, and you know what that is."

Curry originally was charged with murder, but this later was changed to burglary.

State officials would not say why. But informed observers believed it was done so Curry can be charged with murder and tried as an adult when he reaches 17, a little less than a year from now.

His attorneys could raise the question of double jeopardy had he been tried as a juvenile delinquent on an accusation of murder. Under the law a person cannot be tried a second time for the same crime.

Judge Hart made this formal announcement to newsmen waiting in the corridor of the tan and white Eastland County Court-house.

"Nathan Curry has been declared by the court to be a delinquent child by reason of having committed an act of burglary on or about June 28, 1961, at the private residence of Mrs. Florence Hussey.

"All attorneys and all witnesses in this case have been instructed by the court to make no comment other than what has been indicated above.

"No pictures will be made."

Conner, asked if Curry will be sent to Gatesville, first replied, "I cannot say. I am bound by the court to answer no questions."

He added when pressed, "There is just one thing to do to him, and you know what."

Asked if Curry will be charged with murder when he is 17, Conner said, "It certainly is a possibility. The possibility is always open."

The trial was held in secret behind locked and guarded doors. Conner said the secret trial "is the usual policy in cases of this nature." The court records were sealed.

The badly beaten and stabbed body of Mrs. Hussey, 53, a divorcee, was found by the Rev. Jesse Cassle, who went to her home after she failed to report for her secretarial duties at the First Baptist Church of Cisco, in this county.

The city commission authorized City Manager A. K. Steinheimer to call for bids on three new automobiles for the police department at Tuesday night's meeting. Two cars will be traded in and one police car, recently wrecked, will be sold for high bid of $285. Three new radios for patrol cars were purchased at a cost of $1,436.40 to replace three old radios. The old units will be retained for use in Civil Defense work and in other city departments.

New cars are to be of heavy duty type. Flashing red lights, sirens, and spot lights will be installed by the city garage.

Bids on radios, received from DuMont, Motorola, and General Electric, showed GE low. Unit cost was $440, conversion kits $3.80 each, and installation costs, $35 each. Trade-in offer on one unit was listed as $50, which led the commission to authorize repair and use on vehicles without the strain of police cars.

DuMont's bid on the three units, including conversion kits, and installation, was $1,567.50, and Motorola's bid was $1,758.75.

Legislature Passes Sales Tax Measure

Daniel May Call Solons Back Again

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel's office said the governor will issue a statement this afternoon on the date of a special session to consider teachers' pay raises.

The $144 million teacher pay hike bill was the only one of three pieces of major legislation not acted on before the end of the special session Tuesday night.

A $363 million tax bill and a $2.6 billion general spending bill—both the largest in Texas history—steamed through the speed-minded legislature only minutes before the session ended at midnight.

Daniel gave notice shortly after the session ended that he will call another special session shortly to deal with the proposed $810 annual base pay raise for public school teachers.

Angry teachers stormed the governor's office as soon as they saw the $144 million pay bill was stymied in the Senate, where the bill has been since July 17.

"There will be a special session to pass the Hale-Aikin school program, including the teachers salary increases," Daniel said at a 1 a.m. press conference.

"I want to see and read the tax bill and the appropriations bill which passed last night before commenting on them and before deciding the date on the school program."

Daniel must sign the gigantic taxing and spending bills within 10 days. Otherwise they will become law without his signature. In the regular session the governor threatened to veto a sales tax bill. The revenue bill passed Tuesday night is based heavily on a 2 percent retail sales tax.

The tax bill goes before Daniel as a result of a 23-8 Senate vote and a 100-45 House vote approving a conference committee report on differing tax legislation passed by the two houses.

A moment later a conference report on the appropriations bill got 73-72 approval in the House after winning Senate endorsement. It calls for $398.5 million from the general revenue fund. Deficits in this fund have faced legislatures since 1957.

Lawmakers glanced at the clock frequently as the hour approached the midnight deadline. The tax bill passed the House at 11:55 p.m., the appropriations bill at 11:58 p.m. Midnight marked the end of 170 days of legislating this year.

Several representatives charged the spending bill had been sneaked through past the midnight deadline. Read Granberry, House parliamentarian, said, however, this was not true. He said the closing minutes were timed accurately.

A rule that bills other than appropriation measures must pass by a two-thirds majority to go into immediate effect forced House members to vote twice on the tax bill.

The conference tax report was first adopted 83-62. This vote was taken back and the measure finally cleared 100-45.

Just after the midnight cut-off point, Rep. DeWitt Hale, sponsor of the teacher pay bill that cleared the House July 13, said senators told him, "It is impossible to pass this bill tonight. I asked the lieutenant governor about it and he said-quote-it's after midnight-unquote."

JUST PASSED

The tax bill passed the House only 40 minutes after debate began and only 30 minutes after the conference report was laid on members' desks. The final speaker began his speech by noting the bill had just passed the Senate.

Arguments centered on the concessions made by both houses in order to get a tax bill passed in the called session.

Speaker James Turman pinned the blame for leaving the teachers without a pay raise directly on the Senate.

"It certainly was not our fault," he said. "Our hands are clean. All the Senate had to do was to pass our bill. They passed it in three minutes in the regular session."

The president of the Texas State Teachers Association, Richard Bowles of Austin, told reporters in Daniel's office "We are shocked and disappointed" at the failure to raise teacher pay.

ANOTHER SESSION

"We feel our only salvation is another special session without delay," said Dana Williams, Corsicana, TSTA legislative chairman.

A Pan American spokesman estimated that the plane would reach Havana by 3:30 p.m. EDT. It was a DCS jet with 72 passengers and a crew of 9.

Girl, 5, Kills Sister With Toilet Seat

WALTON, N.Y. (AP)—A 5-year-old girl clubbed her younger sister to death with a toilet-seat cover less than a month after the younger child had been found crammed in an earthenware crock, a district attorney says.

Dist. Atty. Richard Farley said Patricia Kirk may have been jealous of her 2½-year-old sister, Lois, or have held a grievance against her. Lois' crying often annoyed Patricia, he said.

Lois died in a hospital Sunday, nine hours after her parents found her unconscious in a bed she shared with Patricia and a brother, Wesley, 3½, in the family's trailer home in this Catskill Mountain community.

BULLETIN Junior Rodeo Entries Grow

More than 80 boys and girls have filed entry blanks for the 16th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo, yet the office of the county agent was teeming with activity as additional competitors signed up. Deadline for the entry list is 5 p.m. today.

Many of the entries are being made by telephone and telegram. First performance of the rodeo is set for 8 p.m. Thursday at the rodeo bowl west of town. Initial event of the 3-day show will be the big downtown parade which will move on Thursday at 4 p.m.

Jimmy Taylor, superintendent of the show said that the 5 p.m. Wednesday deadline on entries was necessary to enable the books to be set up for the three nights of the show.

The local rodeo is an official unit of the American Junior Rodeo Association circuit and a large number of the contestants who are to be here are competing for the national honors. This will be the final junior show before the finals. Thus, points scored here are of great importance to the young contestants in their bid for national titles. Some of which are still in the balance, where leaders are extremely close in points.

Stock for the show is on hand. It is provided by Alvin Koonsman, Snyder, and is described by veteran rodeo men as excellent.

The bowl has been put in tip top shape for the show. All arrangements are completed. Tickets have been on sale for several days at the office of the county agent and from 4-H club members. The show is produced by the Howard County 4-H Club Association.

Toots Mansfield, one of the most colorful veterans of the rodeo world, will be the field judge for the event.

Nearly 2,000 East German Refugees Flood W. Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—A total of 1,926 refugees from East Germany flooded into West Berlin's overcrowded reception center the last 24 hours despite strenuous efforts by the East German police to dam the flow. Hundreds of persons were turned back by increased patrols.

The figure announced late today was nearly 200 more than for the previous 24 hours, and compared with 1,110 for last Wednesday.

The flow gained impetus from Premier Khrushchev's speech of Monday indicating Soviet firmness on the Berlin problem. Many of the refugees fear that their chance to flee from the Communist regime soon will be cut off altogether.

The exodus of refugees at the rate of almost 2,000 a day is the heaviest since the abortive East German revolt eight years ago.

Rationing of the autumn crop of potatoes was announced in East Germany today. At the same time officials there reported that production of consumer goods such as shoes and refrigerators had fallen short of the goals in the first six months of this year.

An East Berlin official said the regime may order stern measures against East Berliners who work in the West sector of the city.

Waldemar Schmidt, deputy mayor of East Berlin, was asked by an interviewer from the Communist paper Berliner Zeitung whether the commuters would eventually require state permission to work in the West.

Schmidt said registration was all that was being undertaken "for the time being." He said the campaign to register the estimated 80,000 commuters would help them "realize their mistake," switch jobs to the East and help boost East Germany's dwindling manpower supply.

Registration is part of the campaign directed against the commuters. It was ordered so authorities could keep track of all who work in the West but live in the Eastern sector and now must pay utility and other government bills in Western marks. Payment in West Germany currency, worth almost five times more than the Communist money, was ordered last week.

Schmidt claimed several hundred had already switched jobs. But hundreds of others have made another decision and joined the Westward flow of refugees. They preferred to abandon their homes in the East rather than give up job and seniority rights most had held for years.

A private Western intelligence agency reported that 28 people had been sentenced to prison in the past 10 days for inciting or helping refugees. They were accused of "turning away the labor force" and "organized head-hunting."

The hunt by strengthened Red police patrols for refugees went on. Many were detected and turned back before they could reach the West Berlin escape hatch.

The flight of an East German high court judge, Horst Hetzar, was reported today. The League of Free Jurists, a West Berlin group documenting legal affairs in the East, said he arrived with his wife, children and several relatives—a party of 10 in all.

Soviet Spaceman Gets Hero's Welcome In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov returned to Moscow today for a hero's welcome. He was greeted by a Russian military band and a crowd of thousands of people.

The first Soviet cosmonaut, Maj. Yuri Gagarin, stood nearby and shared in the plaudits.

Speaking extemporaneously and waving his arms and shouting, the premier declared: "We were the first to build socialism, we were the first in space and we will be the first to build communism."

"The most sober-minded leaders of the West cannot help understanding that socialism is the launching pad from which these flights began," he said.

He awarded Titov the titles "Hero of the Soviet Union" and "Pilot Cosmonaut," already awarded to Gagarin. Gagarin, who accompanied Titov through the ceremonies, stepped over and shook his comrade's hand.

At the end of his speech, Khrushchev gave Titov a bear hug and kissed him on the cheek.

Tamara, since the weekend space flight. They barely had time for a brief embrace before being swept off to Red Square. Mrs. Titov, 24, clad in a stylish, tight-fitting light blue summer dress, turned away in tears.

The central decoration at the airport was a cluster of three huge portraits—Khrushchev, Lenin and Titov. Titov's picture was in the center.

Before the embracing began, Titov delivered a brief report to Khrushchev.

"Comrade first secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics—I report that the assignment of the Central Committee and Soviet government has been completed," Titov's report said.

"All the space ship's equipment worked without fault. I feel in excellent health and am prepared to carry out any assignment of the party and the government—Titov, major."

Titov and Khrushchev grabbed each other, grinning broadly, and the spaceman got the jump on the premier with an enthusiastic kiss on the mouth. When Gagarin made his triumphant return, Khrushchev did the kissing.

Titov had been flown to Moscow from Saratov, a Volga River city 400 miles southwest of Moscow. His space ship Vostok II was reported to have landed near there Monday after orbiting the earth 17½ times in just over 25 hours.

Smiling and trim in his air force major's uniform, the 26-year-old spaceman climbed into an open car covered with flowers. As Russians watched on television, Titov, his wife and Khrushchev rode at the head of a motorcade down the highway to Moscow, renamed today the "Road of the Cosmonauts."

As thousands of marchers formed up as much as 2½ miles from Red Square, the spaceman's motorcade made its slow way into the city past densely packed, cheering throngs.

Flowers carpeted the route, and the car carrying Titov and Khrushchev was repeatedly slowed as the eager Muscovites pressed forward.

The police blocked off the whole midtown area. Buses, trolleys and auto traffic were barred from the center.

Red Square was filled with thousands carrying banners and flags. Bunting with huge Communist slogans was draped from the buildings. As the motorcade neared Red Square, a flight of helicopters released a hail of small flags bearing Titov's portrait.

East German Refugees

Women and children from East Germany sit outside Marienfelde camp for refugees in West Berlin amid possessions carried from the Communist controlled zone. The day's count of refugees hit 2,021, the highest daily total in eight years and may be higher since all those fleeing did not register immediately.

Speaker of the House of Representatives Sam Rayburn acts as a spokesman for Democratic leaders after a meeting with President Kennedy. From left: Vice President Lyndon Johnson; Rep. He said Congress probably will amend the measure.

Sen. Goldwater Advises Against Fulbright Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said today Republicans would be wasting their time if they tried to defeat Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., next year.

Republicans and some Democrats have been putting political heat on Fulbright, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for a memorandum they contend influenced a Pentagon directive "muzzling" generals and admirals on foreign policy matters.

Fulbright protested to Secretary of Defense Robert S. Mc-

Namara about military sponsorship of public forums featuring what the senator called "radical right wing speakers."

Asked if he thought an attempt was being made in the criticisms of him to provide ammunition for a prospective 1962 senatorial opponent, Fulbright said he attributes no such motive to Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., his chief Democratic critic.

"But I hear reports that the Republicans may have some idea of trying to duplicate in Arkansas what they did in Texas," Fulbright said.

Sen. John G. Tower, a Republican, won a special election to fill the seat vacated by Lyndon B. Johnson when he became vice president.

Goldwater, who heads the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee and who helped Tower in Texas, scoffed at the idea that Republicans are gunning for Fulbright. Goldwater has joined in the criticism of the Pentagon directive.

"Why should we want to beat Fulbright?" he asked. "We'd just get another Democrat. We don't have anything against Bill and we certainly haven't got any chance to elect a Republican to the Senate in Arkansas."

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., also critical of the Defense Department directive, said there is no politics in it as far as he is concerned.

"All I'm interested in is getting a change in this order, so that our military men can speak out about the menace of communism at home," he said.

However, GOP National Chairman William E. Miller said Republicans are going to keep on talking about the Fulbright memo because they don't think it is popular with the people to cut off discussions by service personnel of the threat of Communist infiltration.

Forest Fire Nears 3 Towns

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—A two-month-old forest fire blazed less than five miles from three Bonavista Bay communities today. Residents fled by helicopter and boat.

Firefighters in smoke masks fought to keep the flames from Musgrave Harbor, Boating Cove and Ragged Harbor on the east coast bay 90 miles north of St. John's.

A slight shift in wind could bring the fire roaring into the communities just a few miles apart. With no rain in sight there was no immediate prospect of help from the weather.

Invalids among the 2,000 threatened residents were flown by Canadian air force helicopters Tuesday to Gander 30 miles away. Women and children boarded coastal steamers for Fogo Island off the coast.

A fourth community on the edge of the fire, Carmanville, also was threatened but residents there were not leaving yet.

The fire started June 12 and spread over a 400-square-mile area of fir and spruce pulpwood. A section of the community of Hara Bay already has been destroyed.

Premier J. R. Smallwood flew over the area and called the fire "just about the most horrible thing that has ever happened to Newfoundland."

5 Latin American Nations Call For Kennedy Plan Support

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Five major Latin American nations called on the United States and other foreign aid sources to funnel $20 billion over the next 10 years into President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program. They urged the continent's governments to get their long-range development programs ready in the next 18 months.

The $20-billion resolution was introduced after a night session of the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference at which Cuban economic chief Ernesto Guevara lambasted Kennedy and accused the United States of plotting to assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brother Raul.

When Guevara finished speaking, several Cuban exiles in the audience screamed "assassin" at him and two leaped on the stage shouting. Fists swung as security guards hauled the demonstrators from the packed chamber.

The $20-billion resolution was submitted by Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico and Peru. It differed from U. S. proposals on two major points.

First, the resolution watered down the U. S. proposal for a powerful committee of "seven wise men" to coordinate economic planning for Latin America. The five nations made clear they intend to plan their own economic programs and substituted a proposal for an inter-American planning staff with advisory powers only.

The five also junked the disputed American scheme for an elaborate information and cultural campaign to publicize the economic and social reforms that are the aims of Kennedy's program.

An Argentine delegate said privately the United States was "largely in agreement" with the resolution, which is expected to form the backbone of a joint declaration to be signed at the close of the conference.

The resolution declares that Latin America's economic ills require "a supply of capital from all external sources during the coming 10 years of at least $20 billion—the bulk of which should be in public funds."

This was the figure Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon mentioned in his address to the conference. Dillon stressed, however, that the size of the aid would depend largely on whether the Latin-American countries take the "necessary internal measures" to insure rapid economic growth and development.

The United States already had promised to contribute more than a billion dollars a year to keep the program going. Dillon mentioned Japan and nations in Western Europe as potential sources to make up the balance.

Calm Weather On Coast After Damaging Storms

By The Associated Press

Calm weather returned to the Texas coastal area Wednesday after Tuesday's damaging storms at Houston and in sections of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

For the first time in a week no early morning thunderstorms or thundershowers were reported along the coast.

The Weather Bureau reported showers early Wednesday were confined to scattered areas of the northern Texas Panhandle. Elsewhere skies generally were clear to partly cloudy.

Early morning temperatures varied from 70 degrees at Lufkin to 80 degrees at Galveston and Wichita Falls. Presidio was the hot spot Tuesday with 104 degrees.

Widespread damage was done at Houston by a thunderstorm that ripped into the city Tuesday afternoon. Five persons were cut by flying glass when a large window was smashed at the airport. A few utility lines were knocked down.

At Victoria, 120 miles southwest of Houston, a tornado cloud was sighted but it vanished without touching ground.

Thundershowers were blamed for one death in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Roy McDonald, 24, of Harlingen, a construction firm employee, was crushed to death when a tractor overturned as a rain-weakened ditch bank collapsed.

Heavy rains accompanied the storms. Some highways were blocked for a short time. Winds up to 50 miles an hour raked the Brownsville area.

The rains further delayed harvest of the valley cotton crop, now about half completed.

Numerous other coastal points were damped by scattered showers.

Forecasters called for clear to partly cloudy skies and widely scattered thundershowers through Thursday.

44 Embassies.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—With the promotion of its delegation in the Philippines to embassy status, Mexico increased the number of its embassies to 44, the Ministry of Foreign Relations said today.

THE GREATEST INSTITUTION

By T. H. Tackett, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 30
P. O. Box 1283

The church is the greatest institution in the world. I am not speaking of "my church," nor "your church," should either of us have one. I have not.

I am speaking of the church of which we read in the New Testament, the church of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The greatness of the church is seen in the important place it has always occupied in the mind of God. The church was in the eternal purpose of God (Eph. 3:10, 11).

Again the church is great from the standpoint of the length of its duration. It has existed from eternity in Divine purpose. It has existed from the days of the ancient Jewish fathers in Old Testament prophecy. It existed in the stage of preparation from the days of John the Baptist; and it has existed in fact from the first Pentecost after the resurrection of Christ, which was well over 1900 years ago.

The price paid for the church proves it to be the greatest institution on earth. It was purchased with the blood of Christ (Acts 20:28). This is the greatest price ever paid for anything. —Adv.

Cargo Planes Make Thunder During Army-AF Exercise

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Heavy cargo planes thundered regularly into the Darlington, S.C., airport today in a gigantic supply operation of joint Army-Air Force Exercise Swift Strike.

A majority of the cargo and fighter support aircraft were manned by Air Reservists and Air National Guardsmen, many of whom already have been alerted for possible recall for active duty in the tense Berlin situation.

That, plus close observation of the quick-striking abilities of the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC), made the exercise doubly important.

The job of the Air Force was to furnish air cover and bring supplies to the 82nd Airborne Division which dropped 4,100 men and their equipment near Camden, S.C., Monday in what ranking officers called a near-perfect operation.

The exercise is being held in an eight-county area of North Carolina and South Carolina stretching 100 miles south-eastward from this military reservation.

The 82nd, one of three crack STRAC divisions, is acting as a United States force sent to a theoretical small foreign country which has been invaded by unfriendly forces.

The 101st Airborne Division, another STRAC unit, is expected to drop about 5,000 paratroopers Thursday in an effort to repel the 82nd.

Today's schedule called for C119s, C123s and C130s to make 310 air landings at Darlington.

Air Force planes flew 153 sorties Tuesday and 26 reconnaissance missions. To support today's action, 250 fighter sorties and 36 reconnaissance missions were planned, depending upon the requirements of the 82nd's field commanders. The fighters include four supersonic F105s, considered the world's most versatile one-man fighter-bombers.

Maj. Gen. Maurice A. Preston, commanding general of the 19th Air Force, praised Air Reservists and Air National Guardsmen for doing "their work in a proficient and highly professional manner."

Lt. Gen. Paul Adams, commanding the 3rd Army, at Ft. McPherson, Ga., said the operation thus far has progressed "very handsomely." The 82nd's jump was made on a clear, almost day, ideal for the paratroopers. Of the 4,100 who dropped there were 40 minor injuries. Eight of those required hospitalization.

Pair Born, Aren't Twins

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The odds on Mrs. Leonard Shaffer giving birth to two children not twins—at the same time—were anywhere from 608,503 to a million or more to one—depending on whose statistics you use.

Last Saturday Mrs. Shaffer gave birth to a boy and a girl, two minutes apart. They are not twins.

The pediatrician said the babies were conceived at different times and were not from the same egg.

Her doctor said the case was rarer than the birth of quadruplets. According to the World Book Encyclopedia one theory says quads are born once in 608,503 births. Another theory says they are born less than once in a million births.

The girl, Michelle Lynne, was an eight-month baby and her brother, Michael Lee, was a nine-month term.

Michael weighs 6 pounds, 11 ounces. His sister, who weighs 4 pounds, 3 ounces is in an incubator.

The children were born on the fourth birthday of Leonard Jr., the Shaffers' first born.

Jaycees Plan For Seminar

Preparations for a freedom seminar will be made Aug. 17 at the Kiwanis Club meeting.

Jaycees will sponsor the seminar, which will be conducted by Dr. C. L. Kay, Lubbock Christian College. Members of the Jaycees in the meantime will ask community leaders for their suggestions on how to encourage participation in the seminar. James Cape is the chairman of the activity.

The Monday program featured Wade Simpson, who told of his experiences on a world tour which he and Terry Stanley took the latter part of 1960 and the forepart of this year. With minimum reserves, they worked their way around the world.

He was introduced by Gordon Cizon, program chairman. Guests included Dr. Gene Hightower, Joe Davis and Julius Glickman.

Paper, With Later Famous Editor, Tells Of Armistice

When Ben Daugherty, 613 Herbert, was in Italy during World War II, one of the souvenirs he brought home with him was a fading and somewhat tattered copy of the newspaper, "Il Popolo D' Italia."

Daugherty found the yellowed copy of the Italian journal in a packing case through which he was rummaging. That was in 1943 and he has kept it since as a souvenir of his service in Italy.

He found the paper in Rome and noting its date—Nov. 13, 1918—kept it as a memento. The headline that date was "La Consacrazione Della Disfatta Tedesca E Della Nostra Vittoria."

No one has translated the Italian for Daugherty but it is obvious from the date and from other recognizable words on the page that the big item was the Armistice which terminated World War I. That Armistice had been signed on Nov. 11, just two days before the date of this paper.

It is also interesting to note that the editor of the paper was a man who became internationally notorious some 25 years later.

His name was Benito Mussolini and not too many months after Daugherty acquired this ancient newspaper, Mussolini, then the head of the fascist state and an ally of Nazi Fuehrer Adolph Hitler, was lynched by a mob of his fellow countrymen.

Daugherty speaks no Italian and has often wondered what the stories in his souvenir of the first World War are about. If anyone speaks Italian and wants to scan the paper, they are asked to get in touch with Daugherty.

The word "armistizio" occurs numerous times on the front page.

One story is captioned "Il Presidente Wilson Com'entra Le Condizioni Dell'armistizio" — the translation of which is obvious.

Still Not Fragrant

The caudal nature of offering to barter human lives put an onus on the proposal of Fidel Castro to swap rebels for tractors. Although there was sympathy for freeing patriots who had sought to liberate their homeland from the new regime, the chief reaction in this country was one of revulsion and of stubborn determination not to pay ransom.

The element of life is out of the episode of exchanging a hijacked Eastern Air Lines plane for a boat, but it occurs to us that a good deal of the principle remains. So far as terms are concerned, the $3,500,000 value on the Electra as opposed to the $40,000 for the boat makes it a pretty good deal. But bear in mind that the plane was hijacked (stolen, if you please) so what the Cuban government is proposing to do is to take something it has stolen and swap it for something of value. There is a lingering odor of the tractor deal in it, and it still doesn't smell good.

Can't Explain It Away

The tide of refugees flowing into West Berlin has been rising steadily and is now at its highest peak in eight years. Every day nearly 2,000 are slipping across the border and saying goodbye to their former homeland.

This is the face of stringent steps taken by East German police. Registration laws for those working in West Berlin have been tightened. Cars with mobile radio units are patrolling the dividing lines; people are being jailed for suspected flight.

On the eve of the East German Revolt, back on May 28, 1953, a peak of 3,973 refugees in one day was reached. Although the volume has varied with the degree of crisis since then, a steady stream has continued.

Now that the Berlin situation has become increasingly touchy, the volume has stepped up. Manifestly, thousands are wanting to flee while there is yet time.

No wonder Berlin is a "bone in the throat" of Khrushchev.

There are no free elections in East Germany, but every day hundreds vote with their feet, as someone has described it. They vote with their lives and fortunes in favor of freedom, and no amount of propaganda can explain that away.

Russia And The 'Revenge Spirit'

IN EUROPE—What causes wars? What was the public passion that helped to cause World War I in 1914 and World War II in 1939? Curiously enough, the latest Soviet note in the United States government raises unwittingly the very point that could someday give motivation to World War II.

For underlying the public opinion of France in 1914 was a spirit of revenge aroused by the seizure of her Alsace-Lorraine provinces when German armies triumphed in 1870. A vengeful feeling kept building up in France for generations thereafter.

LIKEWISE, IN 1939, the same spirit of revenge had festered for 20 years inside Germany over the terms imposed after his defeat in 1918. It was this that gave Hitler his chance to rally an embittered people.

Today the Soviet government apparently is not yet aware of what the spirit of revenge can do inside a defeated nation. For the latest Soviet note uses at least a half-dozen times the French word for revenge—"revanche"—in seeking to bolster an argument that really should be turned around.

FOR WOULDN'T a divided Germany give the German people in the next several years a constant reminder of their defeat and keep burning the fires of revenge against Russia? France, in contrast, does not fear West Germany but is actually forming an economic and political union with the free government at Bonn.

The Soviet note, however, points out that "militarists and revanchists are again growing strong in Western Germany," and then adds:

"Before everybody's eyes, Western Germany is becoming a seat of war danger in Europe. . . . The Bundeswehr (militia) is being trained as an army being formed and designed to wage a rocket-nuclear war. . . . The work of scientific-technical laboratories has been placed at the service of the Bundeswehr. But it is general knowledge that in our times some laboratories are much more dangerous than military barracks. . . .

"IF WE MULTIPLY the military-material bases of the federal republic of Germany by the militarist and revanchist spirit which, like a quarter of a century ago, permeates all spheres of the state and public life, the gravest danger of the present developments in the federal republic of Germany will become self-evident. The population of West Germany lives in an atmosphere of rampant revanchist passions. . . .

But the Soviet Union overlooks entirely the deep-seated feeling which arises within every patriotic people when 17,000,000 persons of the same flesh and blood are kept in bondage by a foreign government. All the sympathy which the Soviets profess to have for the colonial peoples in Africa and Asia seem hypocritical when the feelings of a civilized and efficient people like those in Germany are disregarded as they yearn for the restoration of their homeland.

INSTEAD, the Soviet note now attempts to justify a perpetuation of the division of the German people by claiming that East and West Germany are already two different nations—one Communist and the other capitalist. The note says on this point:

"They (the two Germans) are separated by deep-going differences in the internal way of life, in other words, by deep-going social differences. To try and counterpose the slogan of self-determination to the struggle inside a nation for social progress means to juggle with concepts. If we are to speak of the social system, and this is precisely the matter to be discussed, in connection with the formation of two independent states instead of former Germany, both these states have long since made their choice."

AND WHO MADE the "choice" for them? The Soviet Union stands convicted before the world of having given in our times the biggest simple impetus to "revanchism"—the spirit of revenge against Russia—that modern history can record.

The technical and legal points which the Soviet Union offers also as a justification for a separate peace treaty are plainly inaccurate. Separate peace treaties, to be sure, are not in themselves unknown in history because the existence of varying conditions has always been recognized among belligerents. But rarely have a set of Allies countenanced or acquiesced in a separate treaty which puts a substantial part of the vanquished territory into the hands of a conquering Ally without first obtaining the consent of the victorious partners in the war.

UNFORTUNATELY, in this instance, the signing of a separate peace treaty with East Germany would prolong, in effect, a wartime occupation and continue the domination of 17,000,000 German people by a foreign government. It would attempt to crown down their throats a way of living which denies them a voice in their own government or in the kind of economic system under which they would prefer to live.

The situation indeed may someday be ripe for another dictatorship to count on rallying this very patriotic feeling to start a war of revenge against Russia. It would be far better to give the West German republic the opportunity to foster and develop in East Germany the spirit of democracy and freedom which the Bonn government has instilled in the people of West Germany since 1945. For this is the best way to build a bridge of friendship and peace across the borders between Germany and the Russian bloc, so many of whose members would likewise appreciate a chance for self-determination and a truly democratic system of government.

Long Chess Match

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—The MacLennan-Grant chess match is inching toward its end—after 24 years.

Dr. Munro MacLennan and Laurence Grant started the game while both were students at Glasgow University. Dr. MacLennan is now retired and lives in Sydney, Australia. Grant is still in Glasgow.

They move their pieces by mail at Christmas time—one man's move a year. It's Dr. MacLennan's move this year. Both expect the game will be over in about 15 more years. "Ye cannae hurry these things," explained Grant.

Surprise Reunion

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Tambellini, a 30-year-old bartender, was telling one of his customers recently that he hadn't seen his father since leaving Lucca, Italy, almost 10 years ago.

Pointing to another man who just walked in, Tambellini commented casually: "See that fellow over there, he looks like my father."

"My God, it is my father," he shouted seconds later, leaping over the bar to embrace the man.

Seems one of John's uncles arranged for the elder Tambellini to pay a surprise visit to the United States.

Two Frustrated Hypnotists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia and the West keep mulling the same old words over and over in their Berlin dispute like two frustrated hypnotists trying to put each other in a trance.

Since neither listens to the other, neither gets sleepy.

The West demands what it knows Russia won't yield. Russia promises what it knows the West won't buy and can't trust. This can go on for months, and already has.

Russia wants the West out of West Berlin—which lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany but is loyal to West Germany—and the West replies by demanding the unification of the two Germanies in free and open elections.

SUCH FREE and open elections, to choose a single German government, is exactly what Russia doesn't want since the two Germanies would almost certainly vote for a non-Communist government.

Besides losing so much territory Russia once again would face, on the edge of its satellite world, a single, powerful Germany which, if united with the West as it would be, would destroy the Communist dream of taking over Europe.

It would not only give the West the balance of power in Europe but worse still, from the Communist view, weaken the Soviet grip on the satellites which would have a new incentive and new encouragement to revolt.

Six years ago the Russians, after the first summit conference, went through the motions of considering the reunification of Germany. Now they don't even bother doing that. The other night Premier Khrushchev belittled the whole idea.

Unfinished Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody has unfinished business in his life. It consists of all the things he'd like to do or get—but somehow, for one reason or another, never does.

Some of the things may seem quite important and, unachieved, may leave a visible scar. Others are only foolish wishful daydreams—vagrant yearnings, zany impulses, small vanities unexpressed. Their defeat impels us to no regret beyond a dry sigh and the philosophical observation: "Well, that's life for you."

Each man builds up his own file of unfinished business—his private portfolio of the wished-for but unattained—as he goes along from childhood through adulthood, and if he keeps his nest for living the file gets bigger and bigger.

For example, somewhere along the way I've wanted to do such things as:

Climb the Empire State Building and the Statue of Liberty.

Eat a second garlic-buttered snail. The first one seemed awfully filling at the time.

Show Brigitte Bardot the Taj Mahal by moonlight.

Attend an informal dinner party at the White House.

Tie a bow tie just once that didn't look as if it had been assembled by a man with 10 thumbs and the palsy.

Find cures for the common cold and the uncommon hangover.

Talk to Socrates, Voltaire and Emily Dickinson at a spiritualist's seance.

Grow a beard, without winding up looking like a beatnik.

Grow a mustache without looking like a 19th century bartender, or John L. Sullivan gone to pot.

Learn to carry a tune, any tune, any time in the whole wide world.

Become proficient in one other language besides English and pig Latin.

Find a really satisfying new food that would taste like strawberries, ice cream, corn on the cob, mashed potatoes and gravy—and wouldn't have a calorie in a carload.

Own a house by the sea with three bedrooms and 97 bathrooms—one more than any wife can fill with dripping stockings hung up to dry.

Find a potion that would make short, balding, middle-aged fat men absolutely irresistible to all women under 40. I wouldn't market it; I'd keep it all for my own use.

Write one phrase or line of poetry that would sing in the heart of man forever.

Wake up each morning feeling like a child setting out for its first day in kindergarten.

What's in your own portfolio of unfinished business?

Little To Be Done For Broken Capillaries

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Can anything be done for women who are beginning to have broken capillaries in their legs and ankles? Is this a vitamin deficiency or just poor circulation?—Mrs. B.C."

These broken capillaries, or tiny surface blood vessels, aren't as ugly as the owners often think; nevertheless it's human to become overly aware of such flaws.

I suppose this is feeble consolation, as is the fact that the complaint is relatively common as we grow older, varying in degree from one person to another.

Regrettably I must say that I have little to offer in the way of correcting the problem. Neither vitamin deficiency nor arterial circulation is involved.

On the other hand, if varicose veins are present and appear to be the cause of the broken capillaries (and this can be true) their correction lessens the chance of more of the tiny capillaries becoming visible. In fact, that's one more reason why varicose veins should be attended to without too much delay.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Five years ago my husband started sucking a tooth when under the strain of impossible working conditions. Although now he has other employment, the tic is still with us. Dental examination was O.K.—Mrs. F. L."

It's a habit, ingrained for several years. Time is required to break a habit. One suggestion is that, off and on, he place a bit of wax, chewing gum or whatever on the tooth to remind him that he's trying to stop sucking it. Gradually he'll begin to acquire the habit of NOT doing it.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a woman, 22, and 5 feet, 10 inches tall. I weigh 125. I would desperately like to gain weight. There is nothing physically wrong with me.

"I eat constantly to put on pounds but have made little progress. I've been told that exercise is good for gaining weight as well as losing. What do you think?—J. M."

It's generally true that exercise will help the underweight person—by building muscle as well as appetite. And exercise for the overweight person tears off some of the excess fat.

Yes, I recommend exercise. But a tall, slim type of girl such as you isn't going to acquire the shape of a short, curly-poly girl as a result of exercise. This turns out to be a blessing for most tall girls, but apparently you aren't ready yet to count your blessings.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I read in your column about a man having his larynx removed. My husband had it done seven months ago and is able to speak very well and is now becoming an instructor.—Mrs. J. S."

Yes, and thank you for writing. Those who really accept the fact that it can be done are able to learn to speak quite soon. And—as in your husband's case—even become instructors in a few months.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My mother has a scaly place on her forehead next to her eyebrow. The doctor told her it was a skin cancer but not to bother unless it started growing. I wonder if this was good advice. She is 67.—I. G."

Yes, I think so. But a question or two: Did he say it was "cancer" or a "pre-cancerous lesion"? Has there been any apparent change in the lesion? When a biopsy been taken? When a lesion is on the surface, where it can be watched, the "wait-and-see" approach makes good sense. It should be removed, of course, when or if the spot begins to show distinct changes in the wrong direction.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim

With Music To Match

The story about the death of Jimmy Willson in Little Rock, Ark., last week-end will stir a lot of memories here.

Practically everyone used to know Jimmy and call him by his first name. They saw his silhouette against the faintly lighted keyboard of the piano and later the console of the organ at the old Lyric Theatre where the Third Street section of Anthony's store is now located.

An astute operator, the late J. J. Robb had put into the Lyric one of the best pianos that money could buy. This was a multiple player piano on which the theme music could be switched from one roll to the other, and which also had special attachments for cymbals, shrieks, drums and assorted sound effects.

IN TIME, however, this became passe and an artist was required to furnish theme music because this could be done so much more smoothly and with a degree of feeling.

This is where Jimmy came in. He furnished the theme music for the Lyric, first on the piano and then on a small pipe organ.

He was relatively small in stature, wore hand tied bow tie—usually polka dots—and had an unruly forelock which tumbled down over his forehead. His square set jaw, crinkly eyes and general demeanor sort of reminded one of Richard Dix, then the matinee idol.

WHEN THE SCENES changed in the movie, Jimmy was there with appropriate music. He had a cue sheet which filled him in on what was happening, and on the lines which would be flashed on the screen at a particular time. By glancing at this and at the screen, he knew what tunes, tempo and feeling to employ. Yet, hovering over the keyboard, he looked utterly unconcerned except when putting on flourishes for a tender scene or bouncing about like a cork to parallel lively action.

If the story carried to the race track, there was always an outburst of "Horses, Horses!" If the actors went down to the sea in ships or the newsreel showed a battle ship it was "Anchors Aweigh," "Sailing, Sailing," or "Blow the Man Down."

IF SADNESS prevailed, "Hearts and Flowers" flowed like a river of tragedy. If there were sad partings, "None but the Lonely Heart" brought tears to the customer's eyes. If young love blossomed, "Moonlight and Roses" caused the breast to heave; if old love was requited, "Silver Threads Among the Gold" choked up the folks.

For those moments of nostalgia, there was "Somebody Loves You"; for separation "Come to Me My Melancholy Baby"; for the charge of the cavalry against the marauding Indians the overture from William Tell; for pastoral scenes a few bars of balm from Mendelssohn's "Spring Song."

Those were great days, and the hero was quite as apt to be the man at the console as the idol on the screen. Especially when big pipe organs came into vogue and with the spotlight playing on the artist—as it did on Jimmy Willson in the early days of the Ritz. But the talkies were born and where Jimmy and all the others like him sat was a dark, lonesome spot down front.

Russians Take Over All Home Life

To one who has been in Russia for even a brief time, as I was two years ago, this new Red Gospel or Bible (the new program of the Communist party of the Soviet Union) is fascinating as much for what it doesn't say as for what it says in its interminable whine.

UNDER ITS glowing words about the new and better life that will unfold for Russians by 1980 (just four years short of the totalitarian predictions in George Orwell's ominous novel "1984") are ill concealed plans for the final dissolution of family life in the U.S.S.R.

Oh, sure, it promises new and better housing for all, as what Soviet document has not in the past 40 years? But what kind of housing and how much, even rent free (another promise)?

IT IS OBVIOUS that a Soviet family, accustomed to living two, three and four families to a small apartment, and even two and three families to a room, would find it sheer heaven to move into an apartment of its own, even such as a rickety new two- and three-room apartment I saw a-building in the university area of Moscow. And, even with the most desperate building program, can the Kremlin masters keep ahead of the increase in Soviet population?

But Khrushchev and Co. promise not only that, but the state apparatus will withdraw after the 20th Century also the kitchen. The Russian woman will be freed of the alleged drudgery of cooking and all Russians will be fed communally by the state.

OLGA AND NATASHA will be freed for what? It is not unfair to ask. So that there will be more of her to do all the hard, dirty work of the state, as she now does? Freed to swell the legions of women who clean the streets, repair them and lay asphalt, and hose them down at night? Freed to build railroads, and put down track and ties? Freed to dig ditches and canals?

The destruction of the home and family life has been a slow, if continuing, process under communism. Communal feeding speeds it up. But the real coup d'etat to the home in the new Communist program is the further take-over of the child by the state and its further estrangement from its parents and home.

AS IT IS, the Soviet child, at least in a great center like Moscow (there may be a few escape hatches in the country), spends more time with state nurses, teachers and experts from the age of one year than with its working mother. The child sleeps at home, and may have breakfast and dinner there.

But under the new program, the Soviet "promises mass free boarding schools and free maintenance of children and introduction of extended school hours with free but dimmers for schoolchildren." In addition, "state and community children's institutions will be able to accommodate the bulk of children under school age in the next few years."

THE CHILD, under this program, will become more than ever the property of the state. Parents will have visiting privileges, or vice-versa. But when 1980 comes, the state to all intents and purposes will take the child and rear it. The mother will be free all right—free from the awful trials of cooking and child-rearing.

And home—what will the Soviet home be like in 1980? It will be a space in which a Soviet man and wife, in thrall to communism, can "sleep, perchance to dream"—unless the Kremlin by that date has invented a machine to lay bare even dreams, as did George Orwell's repellent totalitarianism.

OLGA AND NATASHA will be freed for what? It is not unfair to ask. So that there will be more of her to do all the hard, dirty work of the state, as she now does? Freed to swell the legions of women who clean the streets, repair them and

A New Proposal For Europe

WASHINGTON—There has been offered to me, by a Government official who is extraordinarily knowledgeable and passionately anonymous, a European peace plan which is sufficiently different from most—in that it might work.

I write European rather than German, although the plan solely rests upon German soil. It envisions what my friend calls a "scientific Switzerland" in Central Germany, although such analogies are always faulty and frequently misleading.

MY OWN CONVICTIONS are that "peace" is a myth word, that we are universally at war with Communism, that our generation or the next will have to shoot it out, and that there is a very good argument for do-it-now.

Still, this is a plan which concedes nothing and has some positive gains for our side. Its very first proposition is that we get the United Nations out of New York and relocate it in a united Berlin. This city, as we should more often remind ourselves, the center and symbol of German aggression which lashed out at its neighbors in 1864, 1866, 1914, 1939. Germany's aggressive nature is to this day a matter of genuine concern in East and West Europe. These, as well as its geographical location, its definite charm and superb transportation systems by land, air and sea, make Berlin a logical UN site.

THE ADVANTAGES to our side are that we would get the UN off American soil, get our UN Ambassadors out of the Waldorf Astoria and possibly de-emphasize, I would hope, our daft obsession with every nation that emits a growing pain or suffers from the aching joints of old age. If the UN capital never returned to the USA, that would be soon enough. And the prosperity which its new construction and free-spending delegates would bring to East Berlin would remove an unnecessary slum and eyesore.

BUT THE PLAN, while benefiting the USA and the West, is remarkable in that it offers Khrushchev some harmless attractions, too. He, like many Americans, would like to have the UN moved. He would welcome the economic uplift in the Soviet sector, which was still a shambles when I last looked. Finally, if Berlin were made a capital city, like Washington, it could be run by a commission government. The bothersome matter of whether or not the city would be "free" could be circumvented. Berliners, like Washingtonians, could vote in national elections, and could occasionally vote on bond issues and the like—but as a UN capital it would not have self-rule.

This much of the plan merely leads into the rest of it. Most ideas of "neutralizing" or "denuclearizing" Germany are rejectable because of their sterility. But it would be something quite different if Germany were rearmad as the garrison of a small UN standing force.

I NEVER BELIEVED in UN police work until I visited Israel and saw the white-painted UN jeeps scotching to trouble spots and stopping trouble before it could grow. I see no reason why some of the old Prussian-type drillmasters whom I've met in Germany couldn't organize a division or two of unemployed Africans, Asians and Latin Americans to act as security guards and as flying riot-squads which would not be permitted, however, to interfere with any nation's sovereignty.

BUT THE MAIN body of the peace plan calls for an establishment in such East German cities as Leipzig, Erfurt, Weimar, Jena, Magdeburg and Dresden of a Russo-American scientific research center. I am not talking about "disarmament." Both nations could and would go on making bombs. They could go to war at will. The "partnership" in research would be on a while-it-works basis and could be instantaneously dissolved.

The plan is not utopian, but in the autumn of 1959 there was a series of joint press conferences which suggest that it might be feasible.

Alternate Proposals For Water Extension Studied

By M. A. WEBB
The city commission discussed at length Tuesday night the possible means of providing water for the Muir Heights Addition west of U.S. 87 and south of the new Catholic Church. Three proposals had been made by Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers of Dallas, each designed to serve all the area, instead of a 34-acre tract which E. C. Smith proposes to develop.

The group reviewed the reports from the engineers and discussed costs. The elevation of the area is above the present water service system. The city does not have funds available to provide a water system at present, and the developer feels that he can not wait until a future South Mountain storage system is put into service.

One possible plan was for the group of developers and owners of all the land in the area to provide funds for building a water system to take care of all demands. Costs would be refunded by the city without interest, as the money from water usage came in.

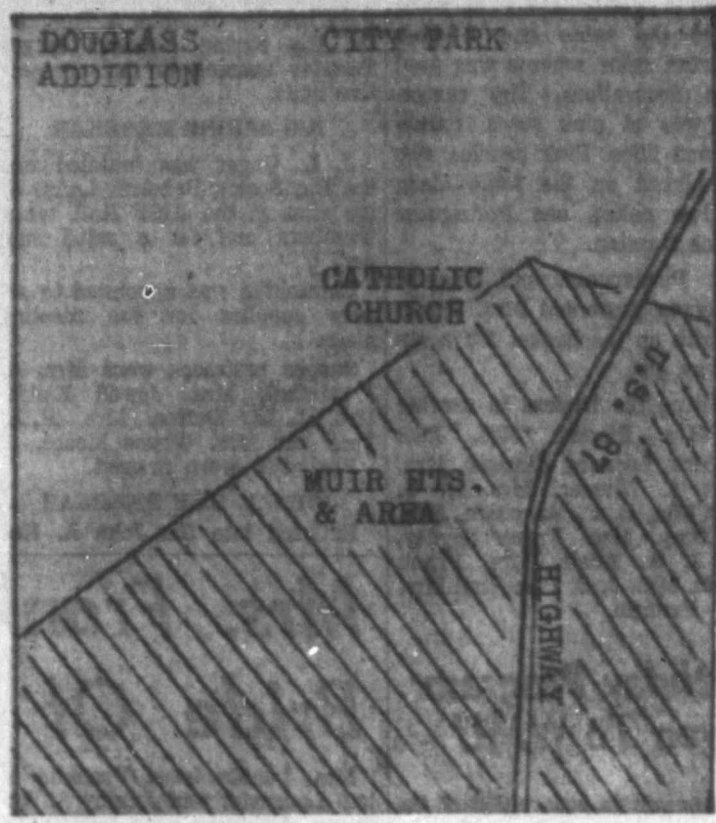

The second was to provide a pump and small storage reservoir to handle the 34 acres proposed by Smith.

Any system installed, Smith was informed, would have to meet the standard fire protection requirements.

AUG. 22 DECISION
Further study will be made, by Smith and the city engineering department, and the commission will decide, at the Aug. 22 meeting, whether to provide water for the development or not.

The first recommendations, made by Forrest and Cotton, included a new 200,000-gallon elevated storage tank to provide water to the entire area, including approximately 450 acres, which could possibly have a future population of 1,900 persons. It is bounded on the east by the municipal golf course, on the south by the divide limiting gravity sewer service into the existing system, and on the north and west by the upper limit of the high service water system.

The present service available to customers now living in the adjoining area, is described by Forrest and Cotton, in the recommendations to the city, as follows:

"The existing 14-inch O'Bar line is presently connected to the high service system and serves as a distribution main for an area along its length. This line now serves an approximate ground elevation of 2,540 feet. The O'Bar line is used, during periods of high water usage, as a supply line from the well fields south of the city.

PROPOSAL
"A one million gallon storage tank is located in the city park which is on the low service system with a high water elevation of 2,604 feet. Two 750 GPM booster pumps are located at this tank, and are used to deliver water into the State Park system with a high water elevation of 2,710 feet. This is not, however, the major supply line to the Air Base tank located in the State Park, but rather is used for peaking. These pumps discharge into a 12-inch line used as a distribution main in the park system.

"The system considered most practical," Ross Jacobs of Forrest and Cotton said, "would require the installation of two 600-gallon-per-minute booster pumps at the City Park storage tank to deliver water through new 12-inch and 10-inch mains into a 200,000-gallon elevated tank located approximately 6,000 feet south of the City Park tank along U.S. Highway 87. The water level of the tank is being set at 2,790 feet.

COSTS
"If this method is used it will be necessary to install a booster pump at the Lancaster reservoir to deliver water through the existing 8-inch and 12-inch lines into the City Park storage tank. Since this construction would be required until additional development takes place in the southwest section of the city, the cost of this pump has not been included in the following cost estimates: "New 200,000-gallon storage tank, elevated, $40,000; foundation for tank, $5,500; two booster pumps, 600 g.p.m., installed, $11,000; 12-inch cast iron pipe, 4,000 feet, $34,500; 10-inch cast iron pipe, 2,000 feet, $14,000; booster pumps at Lancaster reservoir, $10,000; total cost to provide water to Muir Heights, $115,000."

Supplementing the first recommendations with alternate possibilities at the request of the city commission, Jacobs presented the following for study:

ALTERNATES
"Alternate No. 1. This method would be an extension of the State Park system and would consist of a connection to the existing 12-inch line serving the system, using the two 750-g.p.m. pumps at the City Park reservoir, together with the elevated storage tank located in the State Park and the construction of the 12-inch and 10-inch lines to the area.

"According to the requirements of the Fire Prevention Bureau, the system should be based on supplying the entire maximum demand from the State Park elevated storage tank which would provide adequate fire protection only to a ground elevation of approximately 2,660 feet. This system could be installed for approximately $60,000, however would serve only approximately 180 acres of the area outlined.

"Alternate No. 2. This system involves the construction of additional ground storage to be filled from either the 14-inch O'Bar line or the 12-inch supply line from Section 33. Inasmuch as it would be necessary to take water from either line at such a low rate, the ground storage tank should have a minimum capacity of 500,000 gallons. This tank, together with the pumps necessary for a pressure system and the mains to the area, would cost approximately $125,000. It is our opinion that neither of these two alternates would provide as flexible a system as that outlined in our original report."

Limit Placed On Return In Cuba Exchange

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government will return a maximum of only 10,000 pesos each to most Cubans who turned in large sums during the currency exchange he ordered over the weekend.

The prime minister announced in a TV address Tuesday night that cash turned in above that amount has been confiscated because it was hoarded in violation of a law issued in May.

Castro said an exception is being made for old persons and cripples who would be allowed to draw up to 20,000 pesos.

The Cuban government values the peso officially at $1, its value before Castro revolutionized the economic system. It is worth about 20 cents on free money markets abroad.

The government last weekend suddenly closed Cuba's borders to all travelers and ordered all Cubans to exchange their pesos for a new currency issue. Heads of families were allowed to exchange 200 pesos at the time. The balance of their old money was deposited in special accounts.

Castro said 1,000 pesos now may be withdrawn immediately and the balance of the accounts may be withdrawn — up to the 10,000-peso maximum — at the rate of 100 pesos a month. The aged and crippled may draw 300 pesos a month.

Castro estimated that 3,000 persons deposited more than 10,000 pesos each. It was believed many others who had amassed large sums of cash did not declare it for fear of legal action.

Castro said the limits on deposits and withdrawals applied only to money turned in during the weekend currency exchange. All bank deposits made before the money exchange will be handled normally, he said.

Police Check On Vandalism Case
Police were called to investigate vandalism at a hotel billiard room and a disturbance over a telephone, during the past 24 hours.

The manager of the Silver Saddle Motel, told police that a woman and two children left the motel Monday night without paying a $33.99 room bill and a 60-cent telephone bill. The case was referred to the county attorney, Lawrence Robinson, 602 E. 17th.

He reported that the back door glass was broken, light fixtures damaged, 12 windows broken out, a wall kicked in, and a white bath tub and a lavatory stolen from a house at 609 E. 17th.

Charge of disturbance over a telephone was filed against a woman who was arrested and brought to the police station at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

COLORADO CITY (SC)—A revival will begin this evening at the Payne Baptist Church with services scheduled nightly at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Cecil Rhodes, Big Spring, will be the evangelist, and Bill Kenney, Cleburne, will lead the singing, said the Rev. Fred Smith, pastor.

This Was First Sales Tax Ever Voted By Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—The first retail sales tax bill ever passed by a Texas legislature went to Gov. Price Daniel today.

He can veto the measure, sign it into law, or let it become law without his signature. "I want to see and read the tax bill and appropriations bill which passed last night before commenting on them and before deciding on a date on the school program (special session)," Daniel told a 1 a.m. press conference.

Two previous tax bills passed in the regular session were threatened with the governor's veto.

When the current tax program originated in the special session Daniel told legislators that they knew his feelings on sales taxes and said he would say nothing until they had acted.

Here briefly is the tax package approved 100-45 by the House and 23-8 by the Senate:

Limited excise, sales and use tax; 2 per cent levy on sales and use of tangible personal property of 25 cents and over, exempting food, work clothing under $10, medicines, power and fuel for manufacturing, farming, and irrigation, animals, feed, seed, fertilizer, and farm machinery, $319 million.

Corporate franchise surtax: An extension of the present $2.75 rate in 1962-1963, $20.5 million.

Equalization of tax on coin-operated machines, no gain.

Increased drivers license fees by 50 per cent including from $2 to $3 for the average motorist, $7.3 million.

Bookkeeping transfer of motor fuel tax revenue from one fiscal year to another, $3.9 million.

Dedicated reserve gas tax of one penny per 1,000 cubic feet minimum, $3.3 million.

An expected $3 million income from the abandoned property seizure bill sent to the governor Tuesday and $4 million from a previously passed tax on private clubs would raise the total new revenue to about $91 million.

In the final tax bill negotiations the sales tax was changed to drop a provision that limited the $10 clothing exemption to outer garments made of cotton.

The final talks produced a change in the gas pipelines tax that lowered the estimated income from $18.5 million to $3.3 million. The change, approved by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, attempts to exempt all gas processed in gasoline plants. Wilson said the original language might cause the entire gas tax to be declared void by the courts.

A Senate proposal that gross receipts taxes for utilities be equalized with a resulting decrease of $4.7 million in revenue was removed. At the same time a change was made to exempt telephone and telegraph service from the 2 per cent sales tax.

Tip On Escapee Proves To Be Dud

What looked like a "hot" tip on the whereabouts of Frankie Lee Bean, 30-year-old fugitive, proved a dud Wednesday morning.

Sheriff's deputies checked out an anonymous phone call which hinted the man, wanted for habitual burglary and for breaking out of the Big Spring State Hospital, was hiding at a house in Big Spring.

The house number given by the mysterious caller proved non-existent. The officers checked out the area but found no evidence that Bean had been in the neighborhood.

Bean, who had been committed to the state hospital for observation, pried a heavy mesh screen off a second story window and made his escape from a ward at the hospital early Sunday morning.

Pre-Game Feed Planned Again By Evening Lions

Plans for a barbecue before the first home football game Sept. 8 are already in the making, according to Bob Tawater, president of the Evening Lions Club. This is not to be confused with the Quarterback Club barbecue honoring the squad and coaches.

Last year, the first time the barbecue was held, more than 700 persons turned out. At least 1,000 persons are expected this year. The event will be held in the High School cafeteria from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

"Many persons have asked if we will have the barbecue again this year," Tawater said. "We certainly plan to."

Advance tickets will be on sale Monday at various business establishments and from members of the club. Proceeds go to the general fund which provides glasses for local needy persons and for the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

A single car mishap was on the police reports today. An accident, in the 500 block of Gregg, involved drivers, May Hines Saifer, 1958 Lancaster, and Mattie Grantham Duke, 2504 Tierney Road, Fort Worth. No injuries were reported.

Zoning Change Is Rate Analysis Started By Council

City commissioners Tuesday passed on first reading an ordinance changing the zone designation of Cole property in southeast Big Spring to permit apartment dwellings. The council also arranged for a drainage problem in the southwest area.

The Cole property is located east of Goliad near the Goliad Junior High, and north of Marcy Drive.

A study of recommendations for a water seal on construction at the addition to the water treatment plant and the clear-well, resulted in the commission's authorization to approve a change order in the contract. Harold Johnson, superintendent in charge of the construction, said the new type seal would prevent leakage of water at joints in the concrete structure. Additional cost of the new seal will amount to approximately $908.

W. D. Caldwell was employed by the city to level and pave approximately 300 feet of Wesson Road to provide adequate drainage of the new development of Wesson Place No. 1. It was pointed out that water now stands about a foot deep at the intersection of Alameda Drive and Wesson after a heavy rain, resulting in damage to the pavement, and a problem of erosion.

Caldwell's bid on the project was $1,300.50 and includes 867 square yards of paving, plus lowering portions of the street and providing a drainage channel in the center. The paving will be one and a half inches of hot mix over a six-inch compacted base.

"The city had planned to do this construction in January or February of 1962 with our own forces," Steinheimer said, "but Mr. Lloyd Curley's progress in this subdivision has been much faster than anticipated and he has now requested that this work be done immediately."

Blaz G. Bailon, chairman of the patriotic committee in the northwest part of town, appeared before the commission asking permission to close NW 4th Street from Bell to Ayford Sept. 15 and 16, for the celebration of Mexico's Independence Day. The committee also requested permission to hold a parade in downtown Big Spring Sept. 16. The commission granted the request with instructions for the committee to work closely with the police department to maintain order.

An ordinance was passed abandoning all paving units not constructed under the assessment paving program of 1960, to clear title and release liens on property abutting the abandoned units.

Mayor Lee Rogers appointed Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, to serve as United Nations Day chairman to arrange the observance of U.N. Day Oct. 4.

Rogers also appointed Commissioners John Taylor and Paul Kasch as a committee to work out an agreement between Lloyd Curley and the city, regarding water and sewer taps in the Wesson No. 1 Addition, and to report back to the commission Aug. 22.

Reds Suggest Pastor Hurt By Rivals Of West

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists suggested today that the Rev. Martin Niemoller, seriously injured when he drove his car into a tree in Denmark, was the victim of a "cumulative, disguised assassination attempt" by enemies in the West German government.

Referring to political differences the famous Lutheran clergyman had with West German authorities, the East German radio said the "mysterious circumstances" of the accident Monday night strengthened suspicion that enemies in Bonn had tried to kill him.

Niemoller is an outspoken opponent of German rearmament and heads the German Peace Society, the country's largest and most influential pacifist organization.

In 1959 the Defense Ministry filed a slander charge against him for saying there was little difference between soldiers and professional criminals. The charges eventually were dropped.

The pastor also has frequently criticized West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and made a speaking tour of East Germany during the recent big Protestant rally in West Berlin. Niemoller said he stayed away because he felt the rally—which the Communists opposed—would add to cold war tensions.

Niemoller failed to make a turn while driving Monday night and crashed into a tree, killing his wife and housekeeper. Danish police said because they found neither skid marks nor signs he had applied his brakes, they thought he became ill just before the crash.

The 69-year-old pastor suffered a brain concussion and was in a coma for 24 hours. He regained consciousness Tuesday night and his doctors said they had good hopes he would recover.

Practice Date Set

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Dwight Toomb and Bob Newman, co-directors of the Colorado City school bands, have pegged Monday as the starting time for high school rehearsals.

This year grades nine through 12 will be in the high school band, and the four-grade arrangement should make the band the biggest in the school's history.

Plans are shaping for precision marching at half time at football games.

Giant Door Slams, Killing Five
This 35-ton steel and concrete door atop a Titan missile launching site near Denver, Colo., slammed shut, killing five workmen and injuring eight others. The massive door is one of a pair which are raised hydraulically as a missile rises to the surface. A spokesman said either a hydraulic failure or failure of a retaining cable caused the door to crash. Lt. Col. William E. Martin, an Air Force public relations officer, stands beside the door.

Proxmire Ends Talkathon Against O'Connor Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., ended a marathon protest in the Senate against the nomination of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. to the Federal Power Commission at 11:05 a.m. EST, today.

At the time, the Wisconsin senator had held the floor 32 hours and 45 minutes since he began Monday. He had several breaks, however, when other senators spoke.

Proxmire kept the Senate in session around the clock since 9 a.m. EST Tuesday.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana took the floor immediately to say that Proxmire had not been conducting a filibuster.

"I think he has performed a service and has acted wholly and entirely within the rights of a senator," Mansfield said.

Proxmire told the Senate over and over again that he did not believe O'Connor was qualified for the appointment because of close association with and financial holdings in the gas industry.

George Curry, another of the Negroes in the case, is also free on bond. Curry recently made a statement, according to local officers, in which he admitted his part in the incident.

DEAR ABBY They've Hit The Payoff

DEAR ABBY: I can't mention any names, but I would like your opinion of the following situation: A well-to-do, recently retired man complained that he didn't appreciate sitting home alone five afternoons a week while his wife went out and played cards. She told him she loved playing cards, and refused to give it up. He asked her how much she could win in a good day. She told him about $10. So now he pays her $10 a day for every day she stays home with him.

DEAR GRANDMA: What makes you think you have to tell them anything? A married woman needs no "excuse" for having a baby.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a thick head of hair of which he is very proud. But he refuses to shampoo it more than once every six months. He uses a lot of hair oil, and claims that water will make his hair fall out. We have quarreled about this frequently, and I can't get anywhere with him. Our pillow cases are stained, and his head smells of rancid oil. Can you help me convince him that he should wash his hair more often?

TIED OF ARGUING
DEAR TIED: A grown man should know that if he wants to keep his hair, he has to keep it clean. If he is too stubborn to take your word for it, urge him to ask his barber.

CONFIDENTIAL TO TOM:
Young men with mathematical minds usually like figures.
Everybody has a problem. What is yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: A man who has to "pay" his wife to stay home with him is in pretty sad shape. But if she is satisfied, and he is happy, why don't we keep our noses out of their business?

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman, 42, and am expecting my tenth child. The trouble is that my eldest is expecting her second child. And, Abby, the whole town is talking. They are saying I don't want to get old, and that the only reason I am pregnant is because my daughter is. This is not true. My husband and I love children, and have always wanted a big family. People say that now that we are grandparents we should leave the business of increasing the population to the younger generation. We are able to support our children. What should I tell my jealous friends?

Scientists Reveal Marsglow Theory

BLACKBURG, Va. (AP) — Scientists have gone the earthy songwriter of "moon glow" one better, possibly two, with the discovery that there may be a Venus glow and a Marsglow as well.
Romantic aspects aside, space researchers think they have found a way to determine the composition of the atmosphere—whether earth's or another planet's—by examining the spectral or color lines of carbon dioxide gas as its constituent atoms break down and recombine with others in the upper atmosphere.

Reagan Serves As Pro-Tem

AUSTIN (AP) — Lanky Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, former star basketball player, was elected president pro tempore of the Senate Tuesday night. He will serve until the next session.

The South Texas senator played center on the Athens high school basketball squad that captured three state titles and national championships in 1929 and 1930. He walks slowly and stiffly now, because of an injury received during a World War II bombing raid.

He is now next to Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey in succession to the governorship.

In his nominating speech, Sen. Jop Fuller of Port Arthur said, "He has done a great job" in the Senate. "He is not obligated to take into consideration the problems of the entire state as well as his district," Fuller said.

Election as president pro tem is the highest honor that can be bestowed on a member of the Senate. If custom is followed, Gov. Price Daniel and Ramsey will both formally leave the state sometime during his tenure, permitting Reagan to serve as governor for a day.

Reagan, 47, was first elected to the Senate in 1956. He was re-elected in 1960. He served as executive assistant to the president of the University of Corpus Christi until his resignation last spring.

His wife is Mrs. Bobbie Womack Reagan. They have two daughters, Mrs. Michael Rateliff of Houston and Jan Reagan.

Small NATO Nations In Poll

PARIS (AP) — NATO Council members from the smaller Western allies today began polling their governments to determine what they will do to help the allied military buildup to meet the Soviet threats to West Berlin. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the 15-nation council Tuesday what measures he and the British, French and West German foreign ministers had decided should be taken.

Rusk's report included a proposal to push allied military strength in Western Europe to its long-standing goal of 30 divisions with an additional 75,000 to 80,000 men. Most of the reinforcements would come from Britain, France, West Germany and the United States. Lesser increases are needed from the various other governments.

Election Alerts Police In Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—A bitter election campaign, with Communist influence an issue, has security police in this British colony on the alert for possible violence.

Leaders of three rival parties express doubt that there will be trouble before or after the election. A Legislative Assembly on August 21 but police authorities indicate they are ready, just in case.

Among many unconfirmed rumors circulating is one that a member of Cheddi Jagan's far-left People's Progressive Party went to Cuba to negotiate a deal for arms with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

AVOID VIOLENCE

British authorities indicate they will act only if there is bloodshed and rioting on a big scale. They make it plain they want to avoid a repetition of their previous attempt to check Jagan's power in 1953.

In that year the PPP won 18 of 24 seats in the Legislative Council and formed a government. Authorities then suspended the constitution and relieved the ministers of their portfolios, with a shipment of British troops standing by, charging that the ministers were subverting the state, inciting the workers to strike and vilifying the governor, Sir Alfred Savage.

Four years later Jagan and his PPP won again, this time 91 out of 144 seats in a reduced legislature. Jagan, who became minister of trade and industry, showed a more moderate tendency, however.

Now he is out to head the government again, as premier under a new constitution. For that his party needs a majority of the 35 seats in the new Legislative Assembly.

WANTS ORDER

The present governor, Sir Ralph Gray, has let it be known he hopes for an orderly election with establishment of a democratic government that will work in a responsible way toward independence within the British Commonwealth.

Jagan's two opponents, Peter D'Aguiar, a successful businessman, and Forbes Burnham, a lawyer who split with Jagan in 1955, call him pro-Communist. Jagan, an avowed admirer of Castro, calls himself a Socialist with a policy of "active neutrality" in the global cold war. Many expect Jagan and his PPP to win again, with the support of the East Indians who make up 49 per cent of the population.

"If we lose the election, it will be because of the distribution of seats," Jagan said. "Three or four seats could mean the ability or inability to form a government."

Neither of the opposition leaders seemed overconfident of victory but each expressed hope they could keep Jagan from getting a working majority.

"I see difficulties of winning but I believe we can succeed," said D'Aguiar, leader of the anti-Communist United Force.

His party is considered better organized than Burnham's, but not a likely winner if the voting is along racial lines. D'Aguiar is of Portuguese parentage.

Burnham, who looks mainly to the African vote for his People's National Congress, says it is about equal to the East Indian vote.

"If we lose," he said, "it will be only because D'Aguiar's party split the vote."

His party has had some internal trouble, too. Sydney King, the party secretary, was expelled last month for antiparty activities.

Jack Cox May Run For GOP

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram quotes Jack Cox of Breckenridge, who ran for governor as a Democrat in 1960, as saying he is "seriously considering" making the race in 1962 as a Republican.

The newspaper said Cox, reached in Midland by telephone, would not confirm he had made up his mind, explaining he would have a public statement to make next week.

"I have talked to conservatives in both the Democratic and Republican parties," Cox said. "You can say that I am considering making the race as a Republican."

Nuclear Mishap Blasts Remote

The danger of atomic blasts from accidents involving crashes of planes carrying nuclear devices is remote, news men and security officials were told at Webb AFB Tuesday. Nevertheless, knowledge of how to deal with the problem is the key to minimizing damage.

About 40 visitors from the area attended a special orientation on nuclear safety at the wing headquarters. Representatives from the police, fire and sheriff's departments, Civil Defense and news media assembled to view a film entitled "Atomic Weapons and Fire" and to hear Webb personnel discuss safety procedures.

Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, in a brief message to greet the visitors, told the purpose of the briefing.

NEED TO KNOW
"Citizens need to know about the potential danger for preparedness in case of atomic attack and they must know how to protect themselves in the event of an accident involving aircraft or vehicles carrying our own weapons," he said.

To Tour Europe
MEXICO CITY (AP)—The symphony orchestra of Mexico will tour Europe toward the end of this year in a series of concerts devoted to Mexican composers, the government said today.

disaster control officer, pointed out that although an atomic explosion is possible if a nuclear device-carrying vehicle crashes, the chances of it happening are very slim.

"There may be minor explosions which spread radioactive or explosive materials, but in all likelihood, no atomic explosion would result."

The film showed fires of craft carrying nuclear weapons and procedures, equipment and precautions which must be taken in handling this special kind of potential danger.

It is pointed out that properly informed and appropriately dressed firemen can handle any fire involving atomic explosives. When they know what they are fighting and what precautions to take, the task can be no more difficult or dangerous than dealing with any routine fire.

BLAZE PUT OUT
The visitors watched crews extinguish a blaze in a simulated crash of a nuclear device-carrying aircraft. A special helicopter was used to lower men and equipment near the fire and then the down-draught caused by the propellers was used to blow the fire in whatever direction helped the men reach the source of the blaze and extinguish the fire.

Some 30 Webb personnel participated in the mock crash and rescue. Included were teams for fire fighting, crash and rescue, emergency ordnance disposal, radiation monitoring, medical aid, damage control and command personnel.

The demonstration was followed by a luncheon at the Officers' Club.

Among the visitors were representatives from Midland, Colorado City, Odessa, Stanton and Big Spring.

C. E. Wall, president, stated that the net income for the first six months of 1961 amounted to $3,105,575, or $3.90 per share on 3,466,749 shares outstanding on June 30, 1961. Prosecutor Sees Eichmann As Man With Lust To Kill JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's "true form and image" as a man with a lust to kill Jews is clear beyond doubt from testimony in his 16-week trial, Israel Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner declared today.

Hausner, continuing his summation of the prosecution's case against the chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section, charged Eichmann's evil appeal against orders from Hitler's headquarters to let up in the relentless slaughter toward the end of World War II.

"The lust to send Jews to their deaths, even though he was not ordered to do so at the time, offers us a picture of the true Eichmann," Hausner said. "His true form and image rises before us beyond a shadow of doubt in the testimony from witnesses and from accessories still alive which has been presented here."

The three judges trying Eichmann as a criminal accomplice in the Nazi massacre of an estimated six million Jews listened gravely as the prosecutor slashed at Eichmann's plea that he was only a minor official in the SS apparatus.

Hausner cited captured Nazi documents showing that requests for Jewish skulls and skeletons for the Nazi racial research institute at Strasbourg were sent directly to Eichmann.

Presiding Judge Moshe Landau announced that the court would recess for the afternoon and that Hausner would complete his summation Thursday morning.

The court will then recess again until Monday when Robert Servatius, Eichmann's West German counsel, will present the defense summation.

The judges are expected to retire late Monday to begin considering their verdict, which probably will be announced in October.

Slightly Larger Lamesa School Budget OK'd

LAMESA (SC)—An increased budget of $1,132,945 was approved by trustees of the Lamesa Independent School District here Monday. The new financial estimate is $14,000 higher than the one set for the 1960-61 school term.

Officials attributed the increase to a $15,000 expenditure in the revaluation program, currently underway in the school district. Budget totals include $55,200 for administration, $731,905 for instruction, $79,860 for operation of the plant and $49,500 for transportation.

Estimated revenue included $487,500 from local sources, $547,300 from the state, $4,000 from Dawson County and $185,067 from unencumbered balances. The total listed for current operation was $965,341.

Trustees approved the transfer of $32,000 from debt service to the maintenance tax fund and approved teacher resignations and appointments at the regular meeting.

Middleton Oil Co. of Lamesa was awarded a gasoline supply contract and Oak Farms was given the contract to supply milk for the first semester.

A five per cent increase in salaries of cafeteria helpers and a flat $10 a month raise for the supervisors of the various school lunchrooms was also approved.

Optimists Hear Schools Discussed
Wendall Parks, trustee of the Big Spring Independent School District, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Optimist Club at 7 a.m. today at the Sixty Six Cafe on US 80 west.

He discussed a public relations brochure being distributed by the school system and answered questions of Optimists.

Another guest for the breakfast was Carroll Davidson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. There were 24 members present.

C. Guard Tried To Save Navy
HONOLULU (AP)—The Coast Guard fared forth to rescue the Navy but found it wasn't needed.

Two telephone callers reported to Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters that a boat had capsized off Waikiki Beach and eight sailors were in the water.

It turned out to be a Pearl Harbor-based submarine, low in the water, with sailors standing on deck.

'Inward Beauty' Is Stressed At Pageant

By KAY LOVELAND
"It was a very, very enjoyable and revealing week." This is how Joan Bratcher, Miss Big Spring of 1961, describes her trip to Beaumont to the Miss Texas Pageant.

Joan left here July 31 with her mother, Mrs. H. T. Bratcher, to attend the contest and she returned Sunday after the finals were held on Saturday night.

Although there were many physically beautiful girls at the contest, the stress was placed on inward beauty, Joan said.

"As the week progressed, this type of beauty became more important. Emphasis is placed on good grooming, manners, congeniality—everything that makes a lady—and a girl has to possess these things to win," she elaborated.

Joan found all the girls competing in the contest "wonderful," and by the end of the week many good friendships had developed. Each day all the contestants ate their meals together and between meals they took excursions to various points around Beaumont.

A press party was held on Tuesday afternoon for the girls to have their pictures taken. That night was the first big rehearsal for the pageant, following earlier sectional rehearsals. On Saturday another big rehearsal was held for the grand finale that night.

Among the activities planned for the contestants were a Pepsi party, picnic at a ranch, tour of one of Beaumont's big shopping centers, a parade through downtown Beaumont with the girls riding in convertibles and a reception for the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lewis Timberlake.

Special guests at the pageant were Nancy Anne Fleming, current Miss America; Mary Cagle Moore, Miss Texas of 1960; and Miss Lenora Slaughter, executive director of the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N. J., for over twenty years.

"Miss America and Miss Texas were two of the sweetest persons I've ever met," says Joan. "They just seemed to glow and were both so gracious that they made one feel right at home. While commanding respect and attention, they didn't make anyone feel inferior. Miss Fort Worth, who was chosen Miss Texas, was also that type of person."

According to Miss Slaughter, the pageant was one of the best she had ever attended with the talent on a plane equal to that seen at the Miss America pageant. Joan and her mother agreed that the talent and stage presence were outstanding.

A close check is kept on the girls of the week. Their chaperones—whether mothers, aunts or sisters—had to be with them at all times, and the girls were not allowed to speak to outsiders on penalty of disqualification.

"Not even your own father or brother could speak to you, nor you to them," Joan said. "The only men allowed to speak to the girls were their business managers. That made it a little difficult on the boy friends who were there."

In further observations, Joan said she was surprised at the prestige a town gets by having a girl in the contest and she thought it well worth any community sending a girl to the pageant. Also, she found that the problem of getting contestants for the senior division of local contests is not just a problem with Big Spring but with most towns who send girls to Beaumont.

"I also learned that the primary purpose of a girl's entering the contest is not to win but to represent her town to the best of her ability," said Joan. "If she does so well enough to win an award, she will get one. The contest is not fiercely competitive; there are no hard feelings. All the girls are pulling for each other and it is more like they are working together to stage a show for the public."

The majority of the girls had business managers, she said, who helped with publicity—almost essential to a girl's winning. Although she doesn't feel that the judges are swayed by publicity, she does think that it results in the girl being watched more closely.

The pageant over, Joan will journey to Michigan on Aug. 23 for a few days before returning to her sophomore year at Graceland College in Lamoni, Iowa. She is an executive secretary science major, but is continuing private study in organ, her entry in the talent competition.

"I certainly want to thank the Jaycees and others who made it possible for me to go to the pageant," Miss Bratcher said. "It was well worth being a part of such an experience. I hope that in future years Big Spring will give other girls the same opportunity."

Nixon, Goldwater Plan Speeches
SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona are scheduled to address the Republican Western Conference here Sept. 28-Oct. 1.

The arrangements chairman, Ray Robbins, said Goldwater will speak Sept. 28 and Nixon Sept. 30. National GOP chairman William Miller will speak Sept. 29.

Students Out
MEXICO CITY (AP)—More than 80,000 students won't be able to enroll in high school next year because of a shortage of schools and teachers, the Ministry of Education said today.

Girls competing in the Miss Texas pageant at Beaumont last week attended a press party to have pictures taken and interviews given. At back left is Joan Bratcher, Miss Big Spring. Miss Abilene is on her left, nothing but her hairdo showing. At back right is Miss Grand Prairie. In the foreground left is Miss Snyder and on the right is Miss Fort Worth, Linda Loftis, who was later named Miss Texas 1961.

Joan and her mother, Mrs. H. T. Bratcher, couldn't find enough space in their hotel room to prepare Joan for the evening gown contest so they stepped into the hall to add the final touches.

Area Students To Get Degrees
ABILENE—Dr. Law Sone, president of Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, will be the commencement speaker Aug. 18 when Hardin-Simmons University awards bachelor's and master's degrees to about 75 candidates, Dr. Evans A. Reiff, H-SU president, said.

Baccalaureate speaker will be the Rev. Maple Avery, pastor of University Baptist Church, Abilene. The baccalaureate service is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 16. Both programs will begin at 8 p.m.

Dr. Sone, a native of Dickens County and TWC president for 25 years, has been prominent in Texas educational circles for more than 35 years.

The Rev. Avery, pastor of University Baptist Church since October, 1959, is a graduate of Baylor University. He has held pastorates in Colorado City, Big Spring and Levelland, as well as in Abilene.

Candidates for degrees include Elizabeth W. Reeves, Conahoma, bachelor of science; Earline Webster, 332 Chestnut, Colorado City, bachelor of science; Ray A. McGregory, Knott, bachelor of science.

Official Urges End To Stalling By Court's Foes

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Solicitor General Archibald Cox today called for an end to stalling tactics by those who disagree with U. S. Supreme Court decisions.

Without mentioning Southern foes of the court's antisegregation decisions, or any other group, the Kennedy administration official told members of the American Bar Association:

"The rule of law depends on voluntary acceptance. Those who disagree—or stall—by obvious evasion—the decisions of the court, are endangering the rule of law scarcely less than those who invite mob violence; and this is true, I think, whether the decisions be flouted by private citizens or public officials."

"Similarly, one must mark the line between criticism of decisions and attacks upon the integrity of the justices and the processes of constitutional adjudication. To disregard this line, however fine it sometimes seems, and thereby to attack the rule of law is a gross disservice to the nation."

LEGAL NOTICE
The Commissioners' Court of Howard County will receive bids at 10:00 A.M. on August 21, 1961, in the Commissioners' Courtroom of Howard County Courthouse, Big Spring, Texas, for supplying of gas, oil, diesel fuel and oil for the Road Building Department. Tame Rocket Would Make Pilot Driver

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — "Tamed down" space rockets that will allow man to be driver instead of a rider were advocated to a group of the nation's top space scientists meeting Monday at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The 30 per cent failure rate of the Atlas booster rocket, used to launch the Mercury astronauts into orbit, could be reduced if the man in the space capsule had control of his space vehicle, said research scientist George S. Schairer of Boeing Aircraft's Seattle, Wash., division.

Schairer predicted future spacemen will fly their booster rockets in much the same way that planes are flown today. To accomplish this the rockets will have to be "tamed down a little bit" to where man will have time to react to changes in the behavior of the rocket and to make whatever corrections are necessary, he said.

This means redesigning the rocket to increase its stability in flight to the point where manual control is feasible. Today's rockets, for example, have a tendency to turn end over end, and a correction for this requires micro-second timing that only a machine can do.

With a man in control of a properly designed space vehicle, Schairer believes that something could be done about guidance failure and power failure, the two main causes of trouble in the Atlas now.

The difference in a manual spacecraft is that man is capable of making decisions, utilizing judgment and intuition to "fly by the seat of his pants." If a relay conks out in the machine-controlled rocket, the entire system goes.

"It is not necessary to accept a chain type of reliability," Schairer said. "A man can do almost as good a job as automatic controls and he is more reliable."

However, getting a manually controlled rocket into outer space is only half the problem, Schairer said.

Full control of the vehicle depends on instruments we haven't got—instruments that will tell the astronaut where he is, how fast he's going, and what his altitude is.

This information could be radioed from the ground, but only after a time delay which might be the difference between life and death for the astronaut.

BREAKDOWN ON THE TAX BILL

AUSTIN (AP)—Here in brief is how the tax bill passed by the Legislature would add $354,365,519 to the general revenue fund in 1962-1963:

Limited excise, sales and use tax, $319,326,240.
 Corporate franchise surtax, $20,488,668.
 Coin-operated devices tax, no gain.
 Driver license fee increase, $7,258,944.

Bookkeeping transfer of motor fuel tax funds, $3,958,417.
 Dedicated gas reserves tax, $3,333,250.

In addition an expected $3 million income from an abandoned property seizure bill and $4 million from a previously passed tax on private clubs would raise the total net revenue to about $361 million.

Russian Predicts Flights To Moon

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Russia's ambassador to Mexico, V. I. Bazkin, says his countrymen soon may be flying to the moon.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

We had our spies down Fort Worth way to take in and report on a Casa Manana production recently, since your critic couldn't make it, and while they were in the vicinity they decided to take in the giant new amusement park between Dallas and Fort Worth.

The place is called 6 Flags Over Texas (6-Flags for short), and is located in the industrial area between the two cities. It was built with an outlay of some ten million dollars.

The local visitors were Roy and Sydney Rosene, on vacation. Here is what Sydney had to say about the place:

"My definition of 6-Flags would be that it's a four-hour version of Disneyland only much less awe-inspiring. For those who have never been to Disneyland, I'm sure this is a fairly wonderful, and we can certainly be proud to have it in Texas. It will be a great attraction, and make many kids happy.

"You'd enjoy the shows at the Crazy Horse Saloon at 6-Flags (they sell only soft drinks, incidentally). Every 30 minutes there is a show 15 minutes long. Don't know how they are going to keep it up, but two men and two pretty girls sing and dance all day. Third girl plays piano. The male tenor is terrific!"

One of the more mundane attractions that caught Mrs. Rosene's fancy was the transportation system between the parking lots and the entrance. Two tractors pulling three cars, capacity 420 persons, between the rows of parked cars and into 6-Flags. "Certainly impressed me favorably—most especially my feet," she opined.

6 Flags over Texas lies upon 105 acres, and has a staff of 1,000—including an operating crew of 500 and a "cast" of 500, the latter for the re-enactment of various Texas historical periods.

If you're going that way come vacation time, it might be worth looking into—and you don't have to cop the plea of having children to show the place to. Adults probably will get as much fun out of it as the kids.

Tower Opens Austin Office

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. John Tower has opened an office in the federal building here.

The Wichita Falls Republican says he expects to spend "considerable time" at his Texas office between sessions.

"I hope all Texans will make use of our Austin office in matters of business or in inquiries," the senator said. "My Texas staff will welcome the opportunity to be of service."

Tower named Ed Munden director of the office. Munden has moved from Houston to take the post.
