Bond Granted In Slaying Case

SAN SABA, Tex. (AP)—Edmond Robertson, 24, held in the gun slaying July 30 of Lewis Warren Woods, 19, of San Saba, was freed on $5,000 bond Thursday. Woods was killed during an argument between six members of a Brownwood fishing party and six San Saba youths on the San Saba River.

Dies Of Injuries

AMARILLO (AP)—Lee Cox, 10, died today of injuries sustained Thursday when a car struck his bicycle at the east edge of Amarillo. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox.

Reds Already Negotiating For German Peace Treaty

LAW OF WAR ARE 'CRUEL'

K Claims Atom War Would Kill Millions

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev, in a shouting and arm-waving speech, declared today hundreds of millions of persons will die if a new war is touched off.

He said Western leaders who claim that only seven million will die are talking nonsense. "He made the declaration at a friendly rally" in the Kremlin for Romanian Communist party boss Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej who has been visiting the Soviet Union since July 31.

Khrushchev said talk about low casualty figures is imperialist propaganda to prevent the Soviet Union from taking action on the German question. He reiterated his intention of signing a peace treaty with East Germany.

He said, "sign a peace treaty with Germany."

BRITISH LION

He shouted that "lies and shouts" on the part of the West will not stop the Soviet Union. For example, he said, the roars of the British lion no longer frighten anyone.

The imperialists, he said, have "short hands"—a Russian expression for somebody who has very little power.

Khrushchev said the laws of war are "terribly cruel" and then mentioned the recent visit to the Soviet Union by Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy. He said he asked Fanfani where the North Atlantic Treaty Organization rocket bases were located in Italy and, according to Khrushchev, got the reply that they were located in orange orchards.

Khrushchev said the Soviet people like Italian oranges but that if war came and Italy is "pushed" against the Soviet Union, he would not hesitate to send rockets raining on the orange orchards of Italy.

SAME THING

He said the same thing would happen to other small countries that harbor NATO bases, such as Greece and Norway.

Khrushchev, however, reiterating he is ready to negotiate, welcomed President Kennedy's expression of hope for a peaceful solution in Germany. "We believe common sense will win," he said.

The Soviet premier departed from his notes and launched into a table-thumping display of disdain and ridicule directed at the United States.

President Kennedy, he said, is having a difficult time reassessing his nation's values. "There, a person may be a beggar or king as he chooses," he said.

Khrushchev said the United States is "accustomed to have people speak to them with downcast eyes—fastened on their shoes or trousers."

He said this was because the Americans had gotten used to thinking of themselves as the most powerful nation on earth.

TOO POWERFUL

"But we too are a powerful country," Khrushchev continued and demanded respect from the United States for "his majesty, the working class."

He harked back to the Paris summit conference of May 1960, which broke down before it got started, and said Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain tried to make peace between Khrushchev and then President Dwight D. Eisenhower after the Soviet leader demanded an apology because of the U2 spy plane incident.

Khrushchev quoted Macmillan as saying: "You must understand this is a powerful country and you cannot expect them to apologize."

Sharply striking the speaker's rostrum, Khrushchev said he replied: "We too are a great country and we demand an apology when we are insulted."

Khrushchev made it clear that at stake in the Berlin crisis is the question of Western recognition of Soviet prestige and power. The Soviet leader emphasized this point by shaking his fist and shouting unrestrainedly to his delighted audience.

NEGOTIATION

He again appealed for negotiations to bring a German peace treaty, repeating his assurances that people of West Berlin would not be disturbed and that access to the city by Western countries would be guaranteed.

He said that if the West would not participate, "We will be forced to sign a peace treaty without them."

"Let's not threaten, let's not do things which widen the gap between us, let's sit down at the table and discuss things quietly," he said.

"Today I read about President Kennedy's press conference. He said he hoped to achieve a peaceful solution. Such a statement we hail. Toward that the efforts of the Soviet Union are directed."

"We believe that common sense will win. We hope the Western powers will decide that the conclusion of a peace treaty will bring better results than sabre rattling or playing with fire."

Man Dies From Concussion

Don Harley Lockhart, 27, Lubbock, died at 5 a. m. today in a Lubbock hospital following emergency surgery for a brain concussion received in a recent fall.

He was an employee of B&B Neon Sign Co., Lubbock, and fell about 12 feet Friday of last week while checking a transformer on a neon sign.

Mr. Lockhart was born April 15, 1934 in Big Spring and attended the Big Spring public schools. He has been living in Lubbock the past 14 months.

He was married to Wilma Moore Jan. 30, 1959 in Big Spring, and was a member of the Bethel Baptist Church at Luther.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 4 p. m. in the Nalley-Pickel Chapel with the Rev. Earl Hoard, Muleshoe, officiating, assisted by T. E. Cudd, minister at the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ. Burial will follow in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of the Nalley-Pickel Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be R. L. Collins, James Foster, Jake Schornberg, Bud Newell, J. C. McGee and Jim Barrier.

Survivors are his widow; two daughters, Deborah Kay, Lubbock, and Donna Denise, Big Spring; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carl Lockhart, Big Spring; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lockhart, Big Spring, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Barber, Big Spring.

Jones Low Bidder For Highway Plant

Texas Highway Department's new maintenance warehouse and district engineer office, to be located at North 12th street and SH 350 will be built by Jones Construction Co., Big Spring.

A contract for the building, reported to include 9,000 square feet of floor space, was awarded to Jones on a low bid Thursday of $68,919.

There was no information available as to when construction was to start.

Workers have been grading the site and getting the ground ready in preparation for the building. The contract was awarded at Austin by the Texas State Highway commission.

Allies Expect Berlin Talks, Rusk Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the major Western powers all expect negotiations with Russia over Berlin but at this point have no timetable for such an East-West meeting.

After reporting personally to President Kennedy on the week-long consultations in Europe from which he returned Thursday night, Rusk told newsmen he had found "a high degree of unity among the Western Allies on the Berlin problem."

He minimized reports that France and the United States differ on the timing of any approach to the Soviets toward an East-West conference aimed at a peaceful solution of that crisis.

European reports had it that the United States proposes that the West take an early initiative while France believes no move toward negotiations should be made for some time.

APPARENT GAP

Rusk said this is a matter "on which the gap may be more apparent than real."

He added: "We all understand that negotiations will occur."

Rusk was reported encouraged not only over the signs of policy unity but over prospects of a military buildup by other NATO nations paralleling that ordered by Kennedy in this country.

Kennedy and Rusk, however, were reported increasingly concerned over what they consider the rigid, threatening attitude being displayed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in public statements and private meetings with Western diplomats and visitors.

There is a growing conviction that Khrushchev's present position offers no real hope of successful negotiations, in spite of his demand that the West seek a peaceful settlement of the Berlin dispute he has created.

TENTATIVELY, THEREFORE, U.S. OFFICIALS HAVE CONCLUDED THAT FURTHER STEPS IN THE MILITARY BUILDUP CHARTERED BY KENNEDY RECENTLY, AND DISCUSSED BY RUSK IN EUROPE DURING THE PAST WEEK, WILL HAVE TO BE TAKEN BEFORE KHRUSHCHEV REALIZES THE RESISTANCE HE IS UP AGAINST.

LONG TALKS

Rusk went to the White House at noon. Kennedy aides reported the President expected his conversations with his foreign policy chief and other top advisers would run on through the afternoon. Kennedy was ready to delay, if necessary, his departure for a weekend at Hyannis Port, Mass.

In Europe, Rusk had seen the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany and government chiefs of West Germany and Italy—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Premier Amintore Fanfani.

Flying back from Paris, Rusk brought with him Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. envoy to Moscow, to join in the planning sessions.

Officials intimately familiar with Rusk's work in Europe said he was able to report to Kennedy that:

1. He is confident the NATO allies in Europe will take prompt steps to build up their military forces toward the goal of 30 combat-ready divisions which NATO is supposed to have on its Western front.

2. The secretary of state and the British, French and West German foreign ministers made substantial progress on working out "contingency plans"—plans specifying how to meet a variety of anti-Western moves which the Soviets may make with respect to Berlin and its access routes.

3. Rusk got agreement with the other foreign ministers, including France's Couve de Murville, that at some point there should be negotiations with the Russians for a peaceful way out of the Berlin crisis. But apparently it was also understood that Khrushchev's present Berlin demands offer no basis for negotiation; the ministers, therefore, agreed this was not the time to make proposals, and the question whether the Western powers should take the diplomatic initiative was left for later decision as Khrushchev's campaign develops.

Negroes Turned Away At Sit-In

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—Police said five Negroes got off a bus here Thursday and tried unsuccessfully to get service at a cafe catering to white persons.

The cafe manager called police, who said they told the Negroes to return to the bus. The Negroes did.

Signing Before Year's End Seen

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany announced today that negotiations already are under way in Communist capitals for the German peace treaty demanded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Sterner measures were also promised to halt the tide of refugees through West Berlin.

The announcements were made to a special session of East Germany's Parliament in East Berlin by Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz and Deputy Premier Willy Stoph.

Parliament approved a resolution endorsing all measures already taken to stop the flight of refugees. The vote was unanimous, as always.

The resolution also welcomed the recent statement of the Communist Warsaw Pact countries calling for a peace treaty without delay. But it added nothing about negotiating it.

Bolz said the foreign ministers of the Soviet bloc will meet late in the fall—exactly when or where he did not say.

Khrushchev has demanded that peace treaties be signed with East and West Germany. Since the West is firmly against signing a treaty with anything but a reunited Germany, it appeared the projected conference would draw up a treaty, the West would reject it and then Khrushchev would go ahead and sign it before the end of the year, as promised.

As part of the campaign against the West on Berlin, Khrushchev named Marshal Ivan S. Konev, former military commander of the Warsaw Pact, to command Soviet forces drawn up against the West in Germany.

The Communist press made no fuss about the appointment. Neues Deutschland, the official party organ, carried the one-sentence report in bold type, on page one, under a small headline.

Bolz told Parliament Berlin would remain a free city—but under Communist definition this would mean withdrawal of Western garrisons posted against such

Communist devices as "spontaneous demonstrations."

With Berlin in Communist hands, East Germany would be virtually sealed off from the West and its people would be unable to flee.

Stoph warned that new measures might be taken to stop the refugee flow, now approaching 150,000 for this year, and he hinted they might be taken even before a peace treaty is signed.

"The generosity of the state organs of the German Democratic Republic over travelers has been shamelessly missed by the traders in humans for their dirty aims," Stoph said.

He gave no details but it appeared that some form of ban on travel to Berlin and West Germany is in the works, perhaps a decree that special permits will be required for East Germans. That would enable the police to turn back those without the permits—which undoubtedly would be given only to the politically reliable.

Today's total of refugees registering at the West Berlin reception center was 1,573, about normal during the currently increased flow from the East.

Red police were reported busy turning people off trains headed for Berlin. But nevertheless thousands still reach West Berlin, spurred by the increasingly belligerent speeches of Khrushchev and other Communist leaders threatening to close off their escape route.

Border Closure Could Bring Revolt

Closing the border might result in an uprising that could run out of control and provide even greater dangers to world peace.

A West Berlin paper, Morgenpost, commented today in an editorial: "The mood in the (East) zone is near the boiling point. If the safety valve provided by Berlin is shut, it can come to an explosion."

Bolz concentrated in his speech on the international aspects of the planned peace treaty, but he made clear it would give East Germany what it regards as the right to keep refugees from making the final and decisive step of their journey—a flight through Western air corridors to West Germany.

He said a peace treaty would open the way for "the military neutrality of both German states and so to a neutral, peacefully unified Germany."

Thus it also was becoming increasingly clear that one of the Communist aims in provoking the Berlin crisis is to force Western recognition of the East German regime.

The West has withheld recognition on the ground that such a move would help perpetuate the postwar division of Germany, represent acquiescence to Soviet power in the nation's Eastern half and help persuade Germans in the East that they must get used to Communist rule rather than hoping it may eventually disappear.

Konev's appointment as commander in chief of Soviet forces in East Germany was disclosed as East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht, just back from Moscow, called for Soviet aid in the defense of East Germany's borders.

Konev's appointment underlined the mounting East-West tension in the struggle over divided Berlin. It was announced just three days after Soviet Premier Khrushchev threatened to mobilize Soviet reserves.

New Commander Is Top Soviet General

Konev takes command of an estimated 20 divisions or more amid mounting Communist charges against Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German government and the major NATO powers are threatening war over Berlin.

Ulbricht told workers in an East Berlin factory: "The borders of the German Democratic Republic must, if necessary, be defended militarily against the militarists in Bonn, and by the forces of the Soviet Union as well as the national people's army."

Ulbricht said strengthening East Germany "in all fields" would warn the West against what he termed "war hysteria ignited in West Germany."

A few hours later ADN, the official East German news agency, casually told of Konev's appointment. It said Ulbricht received the marshal "who has been named by the Soviet government as supreme commander of the Soviet forces temporarily stationed in the German Democratic Republic."

Konev succeeds Col. Gen. Ivan I. Yakubovskii, who held the command more than a year. There was no word on what happened to him.

Konev, 62, has long been a top Soviet general and an important Communist party functionary.

Stock Proves Saltier Than Some Juniors

By SAM BLACKBURN

First night confusion, salty stock and bad luck for some performers got the annual junior rodeo off to a slow start at the rodeo bowl here last night.

There were occasional sparks of brilliance, and a 7-year-old lad, Joe Cooper, Odessa, brought the house down with a game ride in the pole bending event.

Attendance last night was fair, but sponsors hope for a bigger turnout at 8 p. m. tonight and again Saturday at the same time for the concluding performance. Silver belt buckles will be awarded to event winners and a saddle to the all-around champion of the show.

Thursday a big downtown parade at 4 p. m. touched off the rodeo festivities for the junior performers.

The entry list was so long and the opening performance dragged badly from the opening to the final curtain. However, 4-H Club leaders hoped to have the kinks out of the production by this evening and have performers on hand when their names are called.

BAD BUCKERS
Few outstanding times were scored, possibly because the livestock was rough and tough. The bulk of those who tired their hands at bull riding and bronc riding wound up eating arena dirt.

There were tie rides for first place and tie rides for third place in bull riding.

Broncback bronzes were equally hard on their riders and kept even outstanding young hands like J. Bassett Smith, Plainview, currently leading the national field for world champion all round cowboy in a tie for third place.

Fred Cagill, Plainview, was best rider of the bareback bronc group, closely pushed by Barry Burk, Wagner, Okla.

Smith, although he failed to do so well in bronc riding, took first honors in calf roping from a crowded field with a time of 17.1. He would not have been so fortunate, however, if Butch Edwards, Odessa, had not had the hard luck to break the barrier. This ruined his good time of 15.5 when a 10 second penalty was added. Amy Harper, Marfa, currently a top girl rider in the national junior Rodeo competition failed to place. She scored 25.5.

BARREL RACING
Donna Kincaid, Tucumcari, N.M., with 18.7 took first round of the barrel racing. Tana Harper, who is Amy's older sister, and who is top junior rodeo girl performer nationally in the 16-19 year bracket, had to be content with a three-way tie for fourth place.

Amy did better in the ribbon roping, though, turning in a very respectable 11.8 for an easy first place. Bill Davis of Sterling City was second in this event and Handley Driver, Big Spring, third. J. Bassett Smith, wound up in fourth spot.

Angel Blount, Midland, last rider in the pole bending, turned in an 18.5 time, which was enough to give her first place over Libby Shullis, Andrews who had 18.9. Biggest hit of this event was the brisk effort of Joe Cooper, Odessa. Joe didn't do so well in the matter of time—he turned in a 25.5—but the lad, got the biggest hand of the evening.

Joe is 7 years old.

FAST TIME
Butch Edwards, Odessa, who is a famous figure where ever junior rodeos are held, whipped up a fast 11 second score in the goat hair pulling race to easily lead a field. Nearest to him was Ronnie Flenniken, with 16 seconds.

Most of the bullriders fared badly on the big animals they drew. (See RODEO, Page 2-A, Col. 5)

Rodeo Fan

The junior rodeo has its junior-junior fans, too. No one got a bigger charge out of the parade Thursday afternoon than Jim Bob Phillips, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phillips, and he didn't mind pointing out the fine points of horsemanship. The junior rodeo continues this evening and Saturday at the rodeo bowl. (Photo by Keith McMillan.)

Byrd Leading Hopeless Fight Against Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., leads an apparently doomed fight today against President Kennedy's request for authority to borrow money to finance five years of economic development loans abroad.

Byrd's amendment requiring the President to come back to Congress each year for appropriations was set for a Senate vote tonight after seven hours of debate. Each side will have 2 1/2 hours to discuss the amendment with debate to start shortly after disposal of routine business. The Senate arranged to meet an hour early.

WORKED OUT
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana worked out this arrangement Thursday with unanimous Senate support. Under the agreement, the Senate will remain in session as late as necessary to vote on the Byrd amendment.

Kennedy's request for borrowing authority for a five-year, $8.1-billion program of loans to struggling nations is the chief item of controversy in the pending foreign aid bill.

The bill provides $4,325,500,000 in foreign aid this year, including $1,187,000,000 in loan funds.

In a prepared Senate speech, Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and a spokesman for the Senate's economy bloc, declared: "This is no time to relax control over any public spending, or to increase the public debt unnecessarily."

Byrd charged the Kennedy program would promote "poor risk" loans with no certainty of repayment.

He estimated that if no repayments are made over the maximum 30-year loan span, the added compound interest on the federal debt would total $29.7 billion.

Echoing the major contention of opponents of the proposed loan system, Byrd said all the money for the loan fund would come from the backlog of the Treasury, "outside of effective annual appropriations control."

Administration leaders claimed they would turn back the Byrd amendment by a margin of 5 to 7 votes. They are counting on at least 6 of the Senate's 36 Republican votes. Byrd claimed he had the support of 45 to 45 of the Senate's 100 members.

"A strong Senate vote against this borrowing authority," Byrd told reporters, "should strengthen the fight against it in the House when the foreign aid bill comes up in that body."

CARRY OVER
Mansfield said the Senate would carry over all other fights in the foreign aid bill until next week after voting on the Byrd amendment.

If Byrd loses, new efforts will be made to reduce the borrowing authority to two or three years and to make sharp reductions in the totals. Many other amendments have been offered.

"With a lot of luck, we can complete action on the bill by the middle of next week," Mansfield told newsmen.

Angelo Woman Held On Checking Count

Mrs. J. W. Powell, 22, San Angelo, charged with writing a worthless check, pleaded guilty on Thursday in Howard County court. Judge Ed Carpenter ordered her to pay a fine of $100 and costs. She was unable to pay the fine and is being held in the Howard County jail. The woman was picked up in Odessa on a local warrant and returned to Howard County to stand trial.

Appropriation May Relieve Hospital

Some of the constructions of operation may be relieved under the appropriations for the Big Spring State Hospital.

The spending bill approved by the legislature in the closing moments of the first special session included $1,385,000 for each year of the biennium. This would be a 15.6 per cent over the current allowable of $1,186,000 and Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, while withholding comment pending a study of the detailed bill, indicated that this would afford some needed relief. The hospital board had recommended a $1,500,000 annual budget for the hospital.

In addition, BSSH is due to receive $730,000 in construction funds for two buildings. One would be a rehabilitation building for about $280,000. The other would be a new general hospital, with $450,000 to apply on this, the state could acquire a matching amount in Hill-Burton funds so that the hospital would approach a million dollar project.

Under the appropriation bill the Abilene State Hospital will receive $2,383,605 in the first year of the biennium starting Sept. 1, 1961, and $2,664,761 the second year. McKnight (tuberculosis) Hospital would get $1,204,602 each of the two years, and Kerrville State Hospital $1,500,000 each of the two years. Abilene has a construction allotment of $500,000 for ward buildings and general hospital and infirmary as well as conversion funds, a central kitchen and dining room.

The second year it would get $900,000 for hospital work and ward repairs. McKnight would get $100,000 for renovations, Kerrville $194,000 for hospital air conditioning and replacement of heating in four ward buildings.

Other state appropriations generally will provide more for higher education aid. Howard County Junior College is due to get $135,000 each of the two years, an increase of 33.3 per cent over its present $99,803.

San Angelo College will get $235,000 each year, up from a present $139,846; Cisco will get $113,400, up from the current $75,550; Odessa will get $248,000, up from $176,473; Ranger $32,150, down from the current $65,775.

Should the hospital construction project go through for Big Spring State Hospital, Dr. Harrison said that the present hospital (which has been used partially for seniles and other purposes due to lack of space and facilities) will be converted into a receiving hospital. Many entering patients might be treated there and released without necessity of further therapy at the hospital.

Two Entered In Rodeo Now Entered In County Pokey

Robert J. Mayo, 17, Grinnell, Iowa, and Danno E. Hess, 18, Moberly, Mo., rode in one event each at the Howard County Junior Rodeo on opening night Tuesday.

They were doing their riding today from a cot in county jail.

They have, according to officers, made statements about a series of saddle thefts. As a result of their arrest, four saddles missing from Odessa earlier this week and three taken here on Wednesday have been located and will be returned to their owners.

The youths, who were at the rodeo arena waiting their turns in the contests, were arrested by Sheriff Miller Harris and his deputies last night. A third member of the party, said to be around 21, has disappeared. A search is being made for him.

Fern Cox, deputy sheriff, said that one of the saddles reported stolen here was found in the motel room occupied by the trio. Two other missing saddles were sold in Abilene on Thursday for $45 each.

The four saddles reported stolen from Odessa were sold in Stanton. The buyers in each instance have been identified and the saddles will be returned.

Mayo was named in reports relative to the rodeo Thursday as being the contestant from the most distant point in the show.

Both Mayo and Hess rode in the opening events of last night's rodeo—the bareback bronc contest. Neither scored highly. Both were already under arrest at the time they rode, Cox said. He said the two were permitted to go ahead with the ride in hope that their companion who could not be located would be lured back to the arena.

A deputy sheriff from Ector County was here today endeavoring to get statements from the pair relative to the Odessa case. Youngsters who follow the junior rodeo circuit said they had seen the two at other shows this summer but that they were not regular participants.

More Added To Contact Club

Two members of the Chamber of Commerce Contact Club were added to the Ambassador's Club at a dinner Thursday evening at Corden Country Club, according to Carroll Davidson, manager.

Bob Travis and J. O. Dotson joined Oscar Glickman, Jeff Brown, Don Hitchcock, Jerry Manicill and Rod Ware as members of the Ambassador's Club.

The Contact Club serves as a membership relations committee seeking new memberships to the Chamber and encouraging participation in Chamber affairs by its members. Contact Club members who have sold five or more memberships since July 1 qualify for the Ambassador's Club, which is the official host group for Big Spring.

At the time of the meeting, 49 new members had been added to the Chamber. Since then 18 additional memberships have been turned in, Davidson said.

The meeting began with a dinner for members and their wives at 8 p.m. Special guest speaker was Ed Foreman, Odessa's Outstanding Young Man of the Year in 1960. J. O. Dotson, president of the Contact Club, then welcomed three new members to the club and announced the names of persons qualifying for the Ambassador's Club.

Additional Street Lights Authorized For Thorpe Road

Seven more street lights, which will complete the lighting on Thorpe Road, from Wason Drive to a dead end next to Webb Village, have been authorized by the city, A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, said Friday. Letters of authorization were mailed Friday.

The lights will be of the 6,000 lumen type like those already installed. They will be on 15-foot brackets which will provide ample light for the street.

The lights to be installed by Texas Electric Service Co., are a part of the community progress move to make Big Spring one of the best-lighted cities in West Texas," Steinheimer said. He also said that new lights will be added in another area, recently developed, as soon as easements and details are completed.

To Open Mission

Trinity Baptist Mission, a new church at the corner of Warren Street and Wason Road, will open Aug. 13.

Sunday school will be at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship at 7:30 p.m. A special service has been set for 2:30 p.m.

Beginning Sunday a week-long revival will be held with the Rev. J. E. Whisenant preaching. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m.

Goldwater To Be At Webb

Brig. Gen. Barry Goldwater, U. S. senator from Arizona and one of the leaders in the Republican party, flies here Saturday on a military mission.

He is scheduled to address a Wing Dining-in Saturday evening and will be the guest of Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, wing commander. Sen. Goldwater, who is a general officer in the Air Force reserve, will be one of his periods of duty as a reservist. The schedule calls for him to fly here by jet from Boise, Idaho.

Commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry reserve in 1930, he was assigned to the Army's air corps at Luke Field, Ariz., on Aug. 1, 1941, and was rated a service pilot the following May. He became captain in 1942, major in 1944, lieutenant colonel in 1945, colonel in 1951 and general in 1959. He transferred from the Air National Guard to Air Force Reserve in May 1963.

His assignments have been varied, including time as a group commander in gunnery school at Luke AFB and director of ground and gunnery training operations officer for the 27th Flying Squadron and ferried aircraft in the U.S. and overseas; served as chief pilot for the Air Transport Command in the Azores, Casablanca, Karachi and India; was organizer in training for combat operations with the 318th fighter wing before being relieved from active duty late in 1945. He holds decorations in the China Defense, Asiatic Pacific, American, European theatres, plus the Army Commendation medal, the Air Medal and other decorations. Gen. Goldwater has flown approximately 50 types of aircraft, including 10 trainers, three observation, 10 transports, 10 bombers, and 15 kinds of fighters including the F-104 and F-105.

Under the new agreement, the FAA will pay $16,275 of the bill and the county the remainder. The increased allocation was requested of the FAA by Ed Carpenter, county judge, when the bids opened on Thursday were found to be substantially higher than the engineer's estimate on the job.

Low bid was that of W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring. He bid $25,693 for the job. Contract has not as yet been awarded as certain formalities have to be completed in order to satisfy requirements of the FAA. It is probable the contract will be awarded Monday.

The job calls for the construction of a paved island in the vicinity of the airport hangar and for the building of warmup pads on two ends of the runway. The project will involve considerable dirt moving and will make it necessary to replace some of the lighting equipment.

The bill repeals Article 696-B of the criminal statutes making it a misdemeanor offense to dump waste of any kind into a public stream or water course, and vests control of state rivers and streams in a six-member water board.

Leonard Ware's Brother Succumbs At Sweetwater

Funeral services were held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Lamar Street Baptist Church in Sweetwater for G. E. Ware, brother of Leonard L. Ware, Big Spring. Burial was in Sweetwater Cemetery.

Mr. Ware, 59, died suddenly Monday night as a result of a heart attack while closing the grocery store he operated in Sweetwater. Born in Anderson County, he had been a resident of Sweetwater since 1929.

Survivors include his widow, Jennie; two sons, Ernest Ray and Wayne S. Sweetwater; one daughter, Mrs. John L. Byrne, Sweetwater; seven brothers, Leonard L., Big Spring; R. H., Charlie, Ed and Henry, Sweetwater; A. D., Long Beach, Calif.; and Jeff, Tucson, Ariz.; six sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver, Nolan; Mrs. Ethel Essery, Ray; Winnie Scooby, Mrs. Verdie Mae Esnangring, Sweetwater; and Mrs. Eulalia Lindely, Sweetwater; and two grandchildren.

Rites Set For Mrs. Davis

Services for Mrs. Mary Agnes Davis, 82, who died Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Gorman, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the River Funeral Home Chapel. The Rev. Dewitt Senzo will officiate and interment will be in City Cemetery.

Mrs. Davis had been in ill health for six weeks. Born March 2, 1879, in Arkansas, she moved to Howard County in 1909 and lived here until 1956 when she moved to Gorman.

She was preceded in death by her first husband, Sam Hanson, on Aug. 12, 1945, and was married to W. W. Davis on Sept. 23, 1953. She was a member of local First Methodist Church here.

Survivors include her husband; three sons, P. D. Hanson, Gorman; W. E. Hanson and Marvin Hanson, Big Spring; 12 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren. Two daughters preceded her in death.

Airman Escapes Serious Injury

Luke Kesner, stationed at Webb AFB with the 3560th squadron, escaped serious injuries when his motor scooter and a car were in collision Thursday at 18th and Gregg.

The mishap occurred at 9:51 p.m. and Kesner was rushed to the base hospital in a River ambulance. His condition was not considered serious. Driver of the car was listed as Lorene Hollis, 408 Westover Road.

Other activities checked by police included: Charlie Scroggins, 1904 1/2 Scurry, reported the theft of four flipper type hub caps from his car while it was parked at the Ritz Theatre.

Other calls coming in included a report of reckless driving on E. 6th Street.

H. L. Gist, manager of a beer distributing company, reported to police that a man brought two beer kegs to him, asking for a refund, which he refused because he believed they were missing ones.

House Takes Up Teacher Pay Raise After Senate Passage

AUSTIN (AP) — The House quickly took up the Senate-passed $139 million teachers' pay raise bill today.

Rules requiring a three-day waiting period for consideration of measures were suspended by a 139-3 vote. Actual debate was postponed until 2 p.m. to allow members to draw amendments.

The action came shortly after the House Education Committee had approved the measure following only a few minutes consideration.

Rep. Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi prepared to fight off amendments to the measure as his counterpart in the Senate, A. M. Aikin of Paris, did during the long session last night.

The Senate haggled over the measure until nearly 1 a.m. before finally passing it 30-0. Final action came only 11 hours after the second special session began.

The unanimous vote was deceptive. No fewer than 10 proposed amendments—most of them hotly contested—looked up nearly five hours of debate.

The measure would raise public school teachers' salaries $810 a year and add more than $30 million for transportation and operation.

The House Election Committee scheduled a meeting today. As the teacher pay bill passed the Senate, it included these major provisions:

Total cost: $196,187,000; of this total, $139,102,000 would come from the state and $57,085,000 from local funds.

A minimum schedule for teachers with a bachelor's degree of $4,014 to $5,064, and with a master's degree of $4,238 to $6,075.

Additional administrative increments for principals and superintendents.

An increase in the transportation item providing $380 more per bus.

And the 1 per cent, or $14 million transfer from the permanent school fund income.

Two attempts were made to substitute the entire bill. Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi presented a substitute to raise teachers' pay $600 this biennium and then $200 in each of the next two bienniums. His bill was tabled 25-5.

Sen. Ray Roberts attempted to substitute the Hale-Aikin bill of the special session, but lost out 24-6.

Daniel promised the legislature Thursday that there would be "a completely balanced budget" and no deficit on Aug. 31 of next year.

He provided the educational program was passed with his recommendations on financing.

Chief among his recommendations was the transfer from the permanent school fund which barely missed death in the Senate.

"The governor issued a 'press memorandum' today saying he wished to clear up two portions of his message to the legislature yesterday.

First, Daniel said, "The Hale-Aikin program and financing arrangements which I recommended were worked out and agreed to in conference with the Texas State Teachers Association representatives and other school teachers. The entire proposal was not only developed by them but part of it, including the deferred payments plan, was suggested by them to meet my desire to time our expenditures to coincide with our new revenue collections and thus avoid increasing the present deficit."

Second, he said, it was not suggested that local districts carry the burden of the additional salary increase until the state made its first lump sum payment on March 1, 1962.

"That is a matter which we intended to leave entirely open for local districts to decide whether they would pay the additional salary increase monthly or make them in lump sum payments to the teachers in March and August," Daniel said.

A Devotional for Today

I life up my eyes to the hills. From whence does my help come? My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. (Psalms 121:2, 2, RSV.)
PRAYER: O God, "let the power of the Holy Spirit be present with us, that He may both mercifully cleanse our hearts and protect us from all adversaries." We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

Puerto Rico Sets An Example

The leaders of the 21 Latin American republics meeting in Uruguay are having to face head-on the real barrier to their economic growth.

The central question is no longer whether the United States will help; we will help substantially. The issue is whether the Latin American countries themselves will carry through the economic and social reforms without which new investment simply perpetuates injustice.

There has been a lot of self-righteous breast-beating in Latin America about how the U. S. has neglected the Western Hemisphere. President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress—with large U. S. aid behind it—mutes this complaint.

The practical question with which the Montevideo conference deals concerns the willingness of many of the Latin American countries to make good on their plans to bring about land reform for the benefit of the peasants, tax reform so that their wealthy do not escape their fair share of the burden, and fiscal reform to control inflation.

The political leaders of the Latin American republics would do well to ponder the remarkable achievements of Puerto Rico as a case study of how an underdeveloped area has lifted itself largely by its own bootstraps. It has done it with a stable government dedicated to steady social reform.

Per capita income in Puerto Rico has been raised from $21 a year in 1949 to $600 in 1961. Illiteracy has been cut from 35 to 10 per cent and is steadily declining. Total net income rose 9.4 per cent last year and for four years new investment in plant and equipment has been exceeding 20 per cent of gross national product. That is the stuff out of which economic progress is made.

One reason why Puerto Rico has been able to maintain such political stability and has remained almost totally immune to Communist penetration is the fact that its workers receive a higher percentage of net income than those in any country of the world except Great Britain and the United States. Britain's figure is 68.9, the U. S., 67.6, and Puerto Rico, 64.4.

Because Puerto Rico's workers so visibly receive the fruits of their labors, Communism has been unable to get any hold on the labor movement in the Commonwealth—and Castro's propaganda has fallen on deaf ears.

Obviously the pattern of Puerto Rican economic growth will not precisely fit every other underdeveloped country. But Puerto Rico has demonstrated that with the will to work, with justice an objective of government, and with some outside help, a peaceful revolution can succeed in a completely democratic framework without recourse to dictatorship.

But the Latin American foreign ministers and economic ministers will need to realize most of all that economic growth will not of itself insure political stability and ward off either Castroism or Communism.

What is needed is to identify economic growth with democratic government in the public mind.

Moral Strength

William Shakespeare, speaking through Julius Caesar, expressed in these words: "The fault, dear Brutus, lies not in the stars, but in ourselves."

Bernard Baruch has given it a modern context in these words: "Too often, we blame the nation's troubles on others—Russia, the government, labor, business—whatever our favorite whipping boy may be. But it is far more likely that we will find the source of our national trials in our own failure as individuals to discipline ourselves to do what the nation's well-being demands . . ."

Victory in the long and bitter struggle that looms before us depends on the very qualities that made this nation great: Moral strength, a willingness to work hard and long, a willingness to sacrifice today's pleasure for tomorrow's security, and the unequalled ability to translate scientific developments in to mass-produced products.

First and foremost is the economic challenge, with the exposition of ideas a close second.

The human and economic resources of the West must be mobilized just as Communist resources have been mobilized against us. This will require the dedicated energies of every American. It will require a physical and mental discipline to which our relatively comfortable lives have not accustomed us. If we fail, we will have no one to blame but ourselves.

It is a stern and exacting challenge that faces us. But who would say that we are not equal to it? And who would say that in meeting it we cannot restore that brilliant image of America which shone so steadfastly in the earlier years of our country?

Allies Have Own Differences

PARIS — While an official spokesman Sunday night announced complete agreement on the approach to the Berlin crisis and the German problem among the three Western partners and German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, the atmosphere on Monday was hardly cheerful. For one thing, the headlines of the European press were completely dominated by a hitherto unknown Soviet major named Gherman Titov and his repeated orbiting of the earth. Then, too, the ministers were awaiting the speech of Premier Khrushchev, scheduled for Monday night and billed as a reply to President Kennedy's address on the crisis and the means America is taking to meet it.

BUT QUITE APART from the Soviet facility for taking the play in world attention, the Western Allies must contend with differences within the partnership that have been frankly aired at this just-concluded conference but have not been reconciled. On the question of military contribution from the European partners to match the steps being taken by the United States progress has been made. The British are expected to announce shortly that they are sending three additional air squadrons to Germany. They will also move rapidly to make up the full complement of 35,000 men that is their pledged contribution to the Allied force in Germany.

THE FRENCH are talking of returning another French division from Algeria and putting it at the disposal of NATO. But with the Algerian peace talks broken down and the clash with Tunisia over the Bizerte base still unresolved this is far from certain.

But it is on the question of the need for negotiating with Soviet Russia that the real difference exists. The French persist in refusing to take the Berlin crisis with anything like the seriousness with which it is taken by the Americans. They believe that merely by standing firm and not yielding to Khrushchev's threat on Berlin the Soviets will back down and the crisis will disappear. Therefore, any initiative taken toward negotiation would be regarded by Khrushchev as a sign of weakness.

THE AMERICANS appear for the time being at any rate to have yielded to this view and there will be no sign out of this Paris conference of any future diplomatic initiative. Recently the idea of a Western summit to formulate such a negotiating position has been downgraded, with talk now of the foreign ministers coming together at the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly in New York next month when they may also get together informally with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk met Tuesday evening with President De Gaulle. Presumably he stressed the need for a compromise solution of the Bizerte crisis and a firm initiative by the West on a negotiating position for Berlin.

RUSK WILL ALSO confer with Chancellor Adenauer at the Chancellor's vacation retreat at Caddenabbia on Lake Como following his meeting with Italian Foreign Minister Antonio Segni. The current two-day visit to Italy had originally been considered as a brief respite for Rusk who, according to his aides, has not taken a single day off, including Sundays, since he assumed the office on January 20.

Although they have not come up with a negotiating position in concluding the German-Berlin phase of the conference, the official spokesmen for the American delegation expressed the conviction that the crisis would be resolved by negotiating if the Soviets were ready to take a reasonable position. The three ministers reaffirmed their stand that Berlin could not be settled by "menace and the threat of unilateral action."

WITH RESPECT to a negotiating base the current conference has fallen back on the position put forward by the Western foreign ministers on May 14, 1959. This called for a phase reunification of the two Germanys under the guidance of an all-Germany council to be made up of representatives of East and West Germany, with a three-fourths vote required for any decisions taken. In the final phase free elections would be held throughout all of Germany under terms worked out by the council.

This can hardly be considered a realistic negotiating position, since Khrushchev has announced that he will reject any plan calling for free elections. He knows, of course, that such elections would go overwhelmingly against the Communists in the East as well as in the West.

Something Congress Should Have Decided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twice now American presidents and their vice presidents — because Congress wouldn't do anything on it — have had to agree between themselves on how a vice president takes over for a disabled president.

President Kennedy said Thursday he and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson have made such an agreement. It turned out to be, word for word, the same as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower made with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon on March 3, 1958.

There's a big hole in it but it's

Watch Those Wills, Man

NEW YORK (AP)—If you have not inherited any money late, count yourself lucky.

You may be better off. Most of us tend to think the other way. Few of us shrink in horror from the prospect of being enriched by the passing of a distant relative or, for that matter, a total stranger.

It is a heartwarming hope to us all that somewhere, somehow, someone has mentioned us favorably—and remembered us financially—in his will, and that in the fullness of time the money will drop from the sky like a ripe plum. Even orphans, gypsies and Bowers bums cling fondly to this hope.

We all have the idea, too, that an unexpected inheritance would in some mysterious way solve all our problems and cure our present defects of character.

Yes, it would enable us to become patrons of the arts and sciences, and give us the leisure to pursue learning for its sweet sake and dedicate ourselves to the service of mankind. We would automatically become nobler, kinder, more generous and open-hearted.

But would we, really? Actually, inherited money is just as likely to ruin as to enhance the character of its recipient.

Let me cite the terrifying experience of a friend of mine whose wife received a letter from a lawyer notifying her she had inherited a small bequest from a relative. The letter contained a form for her to sign.

"At first I was tremendously pleased," said my friend. "Then I got suspicious. 'Sign nothing,' I told my wife. 'We'll hire our own lawyer.'"

"My initial feeling of gratitude had been immediately replaced by one of doubt and mistrust. I suspected a plot, a conspiracy to cheat my wife of her rightful due."

"My whole nature had changed at the mere possibility of inheriting money."

"I hired a lawyer and sent him out West to investigate the situation. Each night I tossed, sleepless in my bed, wondering how wealthy we'd be. I grew greedier and greedier and greedier."

"I became suspicious of panhandlers in the street who asked for a quarter, or friends at the office who wanted to borrow a couple of bucks for lunch money. Had they somehow heard of my wife's inheritance? Were they trying to muscle in on our windfall before we even got to count it ourselves?"

"I tell you I was a greedy, grasping physical wreck when our lawyer finally returned after the estate was settled."

"How much did you get?"

"Well, after paying off our lawyer," my friend replied, "My wife and I found we were out exactly $137.42."

"But I learned a good lesson: Beware the possibility of inheriting money. It not only can destroy your character—it also can cost you dough!"

So the next time anyone tells you you've inherited a million dollars, back away fast.

It could ruin your whole life! Earn your own living and stay normal.

the kind of hole which may never have to be filled.

The Constitution says that, in case of a president's inability to discharge his powers and duties, the vice president will take over. But it doesn't say what an inability is or who decides when inability exists and when it ends.

THERE HAS BEEN argument over this constitutional clause since the Constitution was put together. But Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955 alerted him and the country to the need for some clarification — just in case.

His two attorneys general—Herbert Brownell and then William P. Rogers—with the help of their Justice Department lawyers examined the problem and proposed to Congress, in 1956 and 1957, that it act on a constitutional amendment. It didn't.

So Eisenhower, with the help of Rogers and the best advice the latter could get, made an agreement with Nixon—an agreement now duplicated by Kennedy and Johnson with the help of the President's brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

Robert Kennedy sees eye-to-eye with Rogers on the wording of the agreement and the constitutional thinking behind it. A lot of questions can be raised about it.

BUT THE TWO attorneys general thought they had reached a reasonable solution. It should be noted these two agreements applied only to the four men involved. No future president or vice president is bound by them.

1. If the president becomes unable to carry out his duties he will—if he's able to—notify the vice president who will then act as president until the president's disability ends.

Note: This doesn't say the vice president becomes president during a period of presidential disability but only acts as president.

2. If the disabled president for some reason can't tell the vice president to take over for him temporarily, the vice president will consult with people he considers "appropriate" about taking over the presidency until the disability ends.

Learn To Relax To Enjoy Peaceful Sleep

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Your recent remarks about a person who was unable to sleep interested me. I went through a long period of sleeplessness. Reading, crossword puzzles, etc., finally tired me but they cut down on hours of sleep."

(Through) an article on relaxation I learned to rest at odd moments, even in noisy, crowded surroundings, by the practice of withdrawing myself, 'shutting my mind off.' Prominent persons do this.

"I began using this principle at night. I reasoned with myself thus: 'These worries can wait until morning. I can't do anything about them tonight anyway. After I am rested I can cope with them better anyway.'"

"It takes some practice but it works.—Mrs. S.L.S."

Thank you, and I suspect your method will work for just about anyone—anyone, that is, who will read your last sentence. Usually people who have trouble sleeping are by nature impatient and want results right away.

That's why so many of them demand sleeping pills, or insist on some other remedy that will work immediately.

Reading, crossword puzzles and the like often help—but not always. Sleep is a matter of relaxing, just as you say in your letter.

Hard work during the day leaves the body ready to relax. The same is not necessarily true of the mind. "Heavy" reading often brings relaxation rather quickly—you just get tired of the intricate thinking the book demands.

On the other hand, if you happen to like crossword puzzles, or if you get into a book that engrosses you so that you "can't put it down," the result is that your mind does NOT relax, and you may even stay awake reading even though you are so physically weary that you can hardly keep your eyes open.

The same thing can be true if you aren't doing anything except lying awake and thinking. If your mind keeps racing, it certainly isn't relaxing—and you won't go to sleep.

Learning to relax deliberately takes some practice, but it is well worth it. Once learned, it becomes a habit.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause of epileptic seizures? Head injury, born with them, or what? Our son, 22, has had them since a fall from a truck a year ago. He is under medication but still gets seizures at intervals."

"Have diet, smoking, drinking beer and lack of rest anything to do with bringing on attacks? Is there any medication which will prevent having them at all?—Mrs. A.W."

There are different causes of epilepsy: old or new injuries, infections, and in some cases they are not known.

There are several medications

(and combinations of drugs) which can lessen or often prevent seizures, but in some cases they cannot be prevented completely.

Since causes vary, there also can be differences in factors which induce attacks. Hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) sometimes can, and in such cases regularity of eating, and maintaining a high-protein diet, are helpful. Excessive tobacco or alcohol, and lack of sufficient rest can conceivably be harmful.

"Dear Sir: What causes hysteria in a woman of 60? Is this due to menopause? Is there any medication for it?—A.D."

Menopause, especially at that age, is a most unlikely theory. More probable are such things as anxiety, nervous strain, a yearning for sympathy and attention. Have you discussed with your doctor the possible benefits of tranquilizers?

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful new booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

One Way To Judge A Man

My Uncle Bob Gately was a non-conformist. He also was a very wise man. Even though he was a landowner and slaveholder, he was not known for cruelty, and was one of the few of the Tennessee elite whose Negroes did not desert when Union armies came through. In fact, they helped him move his cotton bales into hiding in a stream bed, and said many a word to passing Federals.

Later, Uncle Bob slipped the cotton into Northern territory to be traded for gold.

AS A NON-CONFORMIST, he refused to join the Confederate army, and spent the war years smuggling cotton to the Federals, refusing to take Confederate money. In the latter phases of the war, he bought up land from impoverished neighbors, increasing his estate from the original 10,000 acres to a postwar 18,000. Uncle Bob's always been my family hero.

His wisdom is illustrated by a bit of wisdom he spoke once, with an obviously critical eye on his uppity fellow planters.

"IT AIN'T NO USE tryin' to judge a man by the way he treats you," he observed. "You can always tell a man's character by the way he treats his inferiors."

All this is by way of bringing Uncle

Bob's wisdom up to date. There are still people around whose egos require constant inflation, usually by way of boasting the wife and kids, or an employee, or a visiting advertising salesman.

Such a person generally is kind, considerate and extremely polite to those whom he considers to be his equals, and is even fawning to his superiors. He is also, as Uncle Bob further noted, the kind of man who will knife both equals and superiors the moment it becomes advantageous to do so.

MODERN PSYCHOLOGISTS know today what Uncle Bob knew intuitively—that a person haunted by his own immaturity and feelings of inferiority erects defensive mechanisms which, in a supervisory or executive type, often take a tyrannical form.

Actually, since such people are emotionally insecure, they are more to be pitied than clobbered. Those who take violent umbrage in reaction to these egotists often are themselves immature, although there are times when a counterattack is justified.

The best weapon to use against these tyrants is a subtle (or not so subtle) reference to their inflated egos, childish manners, or feelings of inferiority.

One Solution To School Problem!

It is a sad commentary on our life and times that it takes a columnist—me—to come up with a solution for our current school problems.

In Washington, D. C., experts agree that the Federal aid to education bill is kaput in this session of Congress. And in little old New York, the electorate is rockin' with indignation and shock over the ever-mounting scandal, mismanagement and graft in the public school system.

ALL OVER the nation, citizens seem dissatisfied with the public schools. They don't teach Johnny to read, they are overcrowded, they cost too much, they don't always turn out winning football teams, the parking lots are shockingly inadequate, etc., etc., etc.

Well, sir, there is a very simple solution to all this storm and strife: Simply abolish the school system, lock, stock and barrel. Prince Edward County in Virginia has shown the way. It has abolished its public schools, and very effectively, too, for colored pupils. And it's rigged private classes for white students aren't rated as much.

HOWEVER, both public and private schools must be abolished if we are "to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity" as set out in the Constitution. Schools, perish forbid! develop intellectuals. And as any thinking individual knows, who reads or listens to the angry old men who lead the loyal opposition to the Kennedy Administration, the nation's intellectuals constitute the gravest peril to this embattled nation.

NOT KHRUSHCHEV, not the menacing abstractions of international communism, not even the threat of atomic annihilation constitute so grave a danger to the United States as her intellectuals, her men of brains. Listen to the A. O. M. and

Khrushchev Wants West's Surrender

IN EUROPE — All that Nikita Khrushchev wants is the surrender of the West on the Berlin issue without war. This, he is confident, would do away with the "war psychosis," and he frankly declares that the further development of communism would thus be assured, not only in East Germany but in the satellite countries as well, which, he confesses, might otherwise succumb to Western influence.

A READING of the full text of the speech of the Soviet premier on Monday night reveals a bold demand for surrender, couched in argumentative but seemingly conciliatory language. Parts of the speech could well have been uttered by President Kennedy or by any other Western statesman. For example, Mr. Khrushchev says:

"Life demands that statesmen should not only say reasonable things but also should not permit themselves in politics to cross the line when the voice of reason falls silent and a blind and dangerous game with the destinies of peoples and states begins . . ."

"LET US honestly meet at a round table conference. Let us not create a war psychosis. Let us clear the atmosphere. Let us rely on reason and not on the power of thermonuclear weapons."

But such passages were interwoven with denunciations of the alleged war passions of the West, and with boasts that the Soviets can destroy not only the United States, but Western Europe, with thermonuclear weapons. Mr. Khrushchev blandly reverses himself again and again, and instead of using the voice of reason, employs the voice of the bully as he says:

"IF THE WESTERN powers persist in their refusal to sign a German peace treaty, we shall have to settle this problem without them. It goes without saying that in that case the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) would attain full sovereignty and, therefore, the question of the use of communications with West Berlin running across its territory would have to be decided by agreement with the GDR (East German) government. As to the agreements between the Soviet Union and the Western powers on the question of access to West Berlin concluded during the occupation period, they will become null and void. It would seem that all this is natural and quite fair and should not evoke objections or discontent on any one's part."

THIS IS AS plain-spoken a demand for surrender by the West as could be written. Then, as a kind of face-saver for the West, the Soviet ruler promises that, as a matter of practice, East German authorities will be kind and cooperaknow that a professor is nothing more or less than a black sheep in a wash-and-wear mark-down.

All this nonsense about beefing up the school system with more money, buildings and teachers is just so much sly, subversive claptrap to increase the national debt and bankrupt the nation. And all this yak-yak about the need for intensified training for scientists to overtake the Russians in space is anti-American. Hasn't one of the angry old men just written that there is no proof whatever that the U. S. S. R. has ever put a man in space?

BUT HALF-MEASURES are not enough. Safety does not lie in lopping off a branch or two. The proper course is to pull the evil—education—out by the roots. Close the schools, public and private, and turn them into public garages. The streets of most communities are shockingly congested as it is. Closed schools would not only ease the parking problem, but would banish forever the taint of intellectualism from American life.

Private schools must be closed, too. It would not be fair to allow parochial pupils, for instance, to be handicapped by education and creeping un-Americanism.

FURTHERMORE, as a measure of safety and financial security, let the United States expropriate all the lands, properties and endowment funds of private schools. (The states and local communities would, of course, get the public school swag.) Why that den of intellectualism, Harvard, alone has endowment funds of approximately $70,772,000 not counting buildings and ground.

Let us go onward unafraid, fortified by the knowledge that ignorance is bliss and intellect anti-American in a Democratic Administration. Forward, the Blight Brigade!

with Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Moore. At the register, Mrs. Fred Overton and Mrs. Jimmy McEford, hostesses, alternated in securing names.

Gifts were displayed by two of the hostesses, Mrs. B. M. Stroup and Mrs. Charles Arbuckle; Mrs. Bob Wren and Mrs. A. W. Page served refreshments.

On the tea table, the group arranged a wedding bell with pink and white ribbon streamers on a reflector, with love birds at the base. White tapers burned on each side of the arrangement. Other hostesses joining in the affair were Mrs. J. D. Thompson, Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Mrs. Opal Brown, Mrs. Ira Bigham and Mrs. W. A. Stephens.

Miss Arnold Is Honored

Friends of Patricia Arnold gathered in the home of Mrs. Garland Sanders Thursday evening to present gifts to the honoree, bride-elect of David Michael Moore.

Parents of the couple, to be married Sept. 1, are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Arnold 1610 E. 6th, and Mr. and Mrs. William O. Moore, 104 Lincoln.

Mrs. Sanders greeted guests and presented the bride-elect, along

Africans To Receive Fellowships

Fellowships for women teachers of five African countries are being offered by the American Association of University Women educational foundation for 1962-63, according to Mrs. Keith McMillin, president of the local group. One teacher will be selected from Ethiopia, Ghana, Liberia, Nigeria and Sudan.

Funds for the project have come from contributions by local branches and state division of AAUW and from special gifts. Each year the local branch has a special project to earn money for the fellowship fund. In addition to this fund, the local AAUW offers a scholarship to a worthy student from high school or junior college.

The awards to the African teachers have been established for a year's study in the United States to help the holders obtain fuller preparation for teaching and leadership in their own countries. Each fellowship will be for $2,500 to cover living and incidental expenses during the academic year. In addition, the association will pay any required tuition costs.

Applicants must be citizens of the countries listed; should have four years or more of teaching experience or a bachelor's degree or equivalent. They also should be proficient in understanding, speaking, reading and writing English.

Delegates Are Named

Mrs. M. J. Stratton will attend the conference of Altrusa Clubs, District 9, in El Paso as a delegate. It was decided at a meeting of the local group Thursday noon at Cokers Restaurant.

Going as alternate will be Mrs. A. C. Bass; the conference is set for Oct. 20-22, and it will be made up of workshops along various activities of the club.

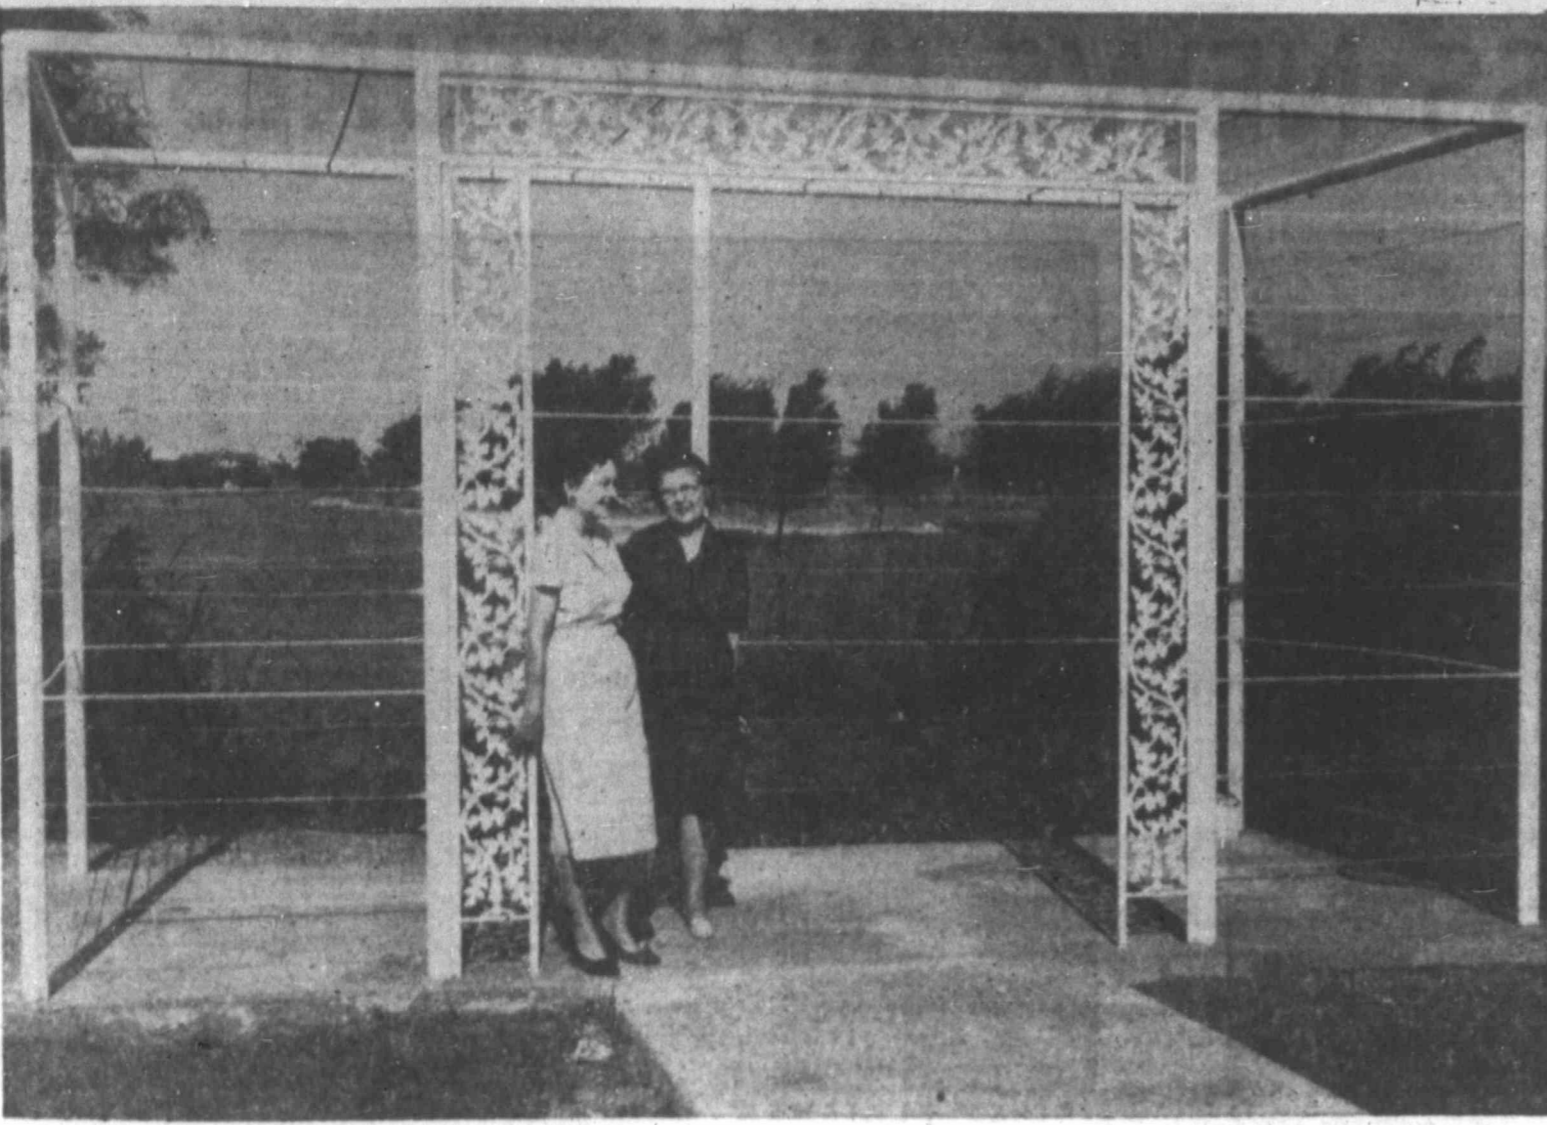

Twenty-two were present, including a guest, Belle Schwarzenbach. Members selected May, 1962, as the date for giving a birthday party for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital, when refreshments will be served by volunteers and cards will be distributed to those having May birthday anniversaries.

Bridge Players Get Masterpoint Awards

Masterpoints were awarded in the games of duplicate bridge played Thursday evening at the Officers' Club, Webb AFB.

North-south winners were Mrs. J. D. Robertson and Mrs. E. G. Patton, first; Mrs. Fred Haller and Jackie Jernigan, second; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Anne Hardy, third; Mrs. Pete Harmonson and Mrs. Fred Kasch, fourth. In east-west play, Mrs. Bill Emerson and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins were in first place; Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. J. H. Parks, second; Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Hudson Landers third; Mrs. Glen Riley and Mrs. Arlis Ratliff, both of Garden City, fourth.

Plans for the beautification of the spot include benches with the arbor, which stands on the west side of the garden. Mrs. Elliott is president of the garden club, and Mrs. Read is chairman of the project. The rose garden, started in 1960, is sponsored by the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs.

Start Of A Beauty Spot

Mrs. J. D. Elliott, left, and Mrs. Norman Read stop in the newly-built arbor in the rose garden in City Park, which will be covered with rose vines next year. The arbor is a project of the Big Spring Garden Club and was constructed with the assistance of the city; plans were drawn, free of charge, by Gary and Hohertz. Future

Vegetable Coagulant Helps Cheese-Making

LUBBOCK—Spanish conquerors brought the milks, but it took the Indians to add asadero, "little cheeses," to the list of colorful and tasty foods in the Southwest.

Dr. Mina Lamb, head of the food and nutrition department of Texas Tech's School of Home Economics, and Mrs. Gladys Keen Holden, assistant professor of food and nutrition, have traced some of the history of the tortilla-shaped cheese that has a flavor similar to well-drained cottage cheese.

The asadero study is in connection with a broader project on the history of food in the Southwest. Publication of the three-part report is pending.

Many Anglo-Americans are familiar with the cheese which is heated with chopped, peeled green chili peppers and served with beans and tortillas. It is sold commercially in at least one area of Texas by a woman living just across the border in Mexico.

"One of the most interesting factors is that a vegetable coagulant comparable to rennin is used in making the cheese," Dr. Lamb says. Usually the secretion from the stomach of a young animal is necessary to make milk coagulate.

"Evidently, it was an accident that the Indians found the extract from the yellow, cherry-shaped berry produced by the grey-foliated whiteweed could be used to cause coagulation. No animals are known to eat the plant which grows in alkaline soil. It is considered a poisonous weed by many.

"Use of the whiteweed berry extract as a coagulant shows blending of the Indian and Spanish cultures," says Mrs. Holden. "If the Spanish had not explored the area and brought cattle with them, the Indians would not have had milk with which to make the cheese. The Spanish never did much cooking themselves."

The plant with the scientific name is Solanum elaeagnifolium. It has purple, star-shaped flowers and is in the same family as the tomato, herbaceous pepper and tobacco.

The only other place in the world where a vegetable coagulant is known to be used is Majorca Island, one of a group of Spanish islands in the West Mediterranean Sea.

Mrs. Holden first became interested in the unusually made cheese while living in Mexico. Later she found three of the cheese recipes which were similar except for amounts. She and Dr. Lamb have tested the recipes themselves by using the whiteweed berries in the process of making the cheese.

Extract from the plant, considered a weed by many farmers, can withstand higher temperatures than rennin commonly used in cheese-making. Also it does not need the presence of the sulf-hydri chemical group as does rennin. Cost of producing rennin is higher

Mirrors A-Plenty Are Beauty Necessities

If you would like your grooming and make-up application techniques to be stepped-up into a more beautifying, high-fashion realm, make sure your mirrors are revealing your true reflection, says Max Factor, Hollywood's beauty authority. When mirrors distort color and line, or when you are not able to see all the details, your make-up and grooming lack perfection, he states.

A magnifying mirror, a three-way mirror and a full-length mirror are important to acquiring the look you desire. Each should be clear, unframed and strategically placed in your boudoir or dressing room so that light floods your face and figure.

The magnifying mirror should be used for the application of all make-up. With your features enlarged, this mirror will enable you to see the most minute details so that you may apply color and line with accuracy. Use it to apply your foundation make-up smoothly; to sketch on your eyebrows; to sketch eye shadow, and to brush eye-liner and mascara into their high-fashion patterns.

A three-way mirror will enable you to see yourself from every angle. This mirror consists of a center mirror with two side mirrors which may be turned to reflect a side, back and three-quarter view. Do not go through life not knowing how glamorous you might have been for the lack of seeing every angle of your face, head and shoulders.

A poorly-proportioned head and face may be made to look beautiful when the coiffure is styled from every angle and the necessary adjustments made. Likewise, a collar, from the position of jewelry, the height or depth of a neckline or the length of bangs, earrings or an eyebrow may make a world of difference in your appearance. Only a three-way mirror will reveal the facts so you may correct them.

Just as you would never think of buying a new dress without looking at yourself from head to toe, neither should you think of leaving your boudoir without the same privilege. Therefore, a full-length mirror should be a part of your grooming equipment.

With dresses getting shorter by the hour, legs becoming more and more important and accessories changing in proportion, it is necessary to give yourself daily full-length mirror attention. Until you stand back from your mirror and see yourself as a single unit, you are never sure that the amount of lipstick and rouge you have applied is sufficient to enhance your over-all appearance.

Attending were Mrs. O. D. Engle, Mrs. Frances Zant, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. J. F. Skalkisky, Mrs. J. L. Metcalf, Mrs. Ray Swann, Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel, Sr., Mrs. Vera Vigar and Mrs. Delaine Crawford.

Speakers at Wednesday morning's session were J. E. Hutchinson, director of extension, Texas A&M; and Dr. C. L. Kay, vice president for public relations, Lubbock Christian College.

During the afternoon sessions, the group divided into sections to attend workshops on civil defense, citizenship and recreation.

Colorado Attracts Westbrook Folks

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lanford and Darlene left Sunday for a vacation in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones have returned from a vacation in Colorado.

Mrs. J. S. McKenney has returned home after spending several months in Tulsa, Okla., with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Green and family. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Green and her son, Joe. They plan to stay in Westbrook about a month before returning to Tulsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brackeen of Andrews and Mrs. Betty Oglesby of Roswell, N. M., were visiting in Westbrook last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Clemmer were in Lubbock Sunday as guest of the E. E. Fergusons.

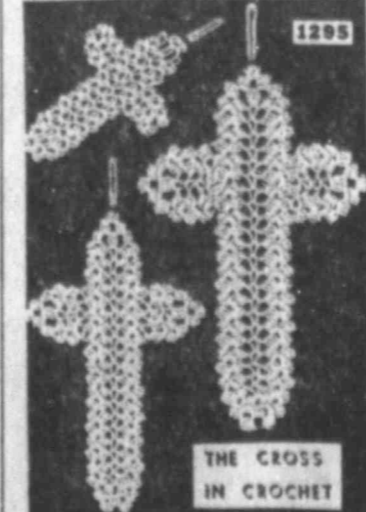

The Westbrook WMU met Wednesday morning at the church for Royal Service program on tithing. Mrs. Kenneth Andrews was in charge of the program. Mrs. Charles Gressett gave the call to prayer with Mrs. Willie Byrd and Mrs. Alvis Clemmer leading the prayer. Seven women were present.

French Actress Dislikes Fast Pace

By LYDIA LANE
PARIS—I drove out of Paris through the beautiful Bois de Boulogne to the new Bologno studio where "Gigol" is being filmed for 20th Century-Fox. The set was a bedroom, and the scene was typically French as Gene Kelly directed cute Yvonne Constant.

"Where did you learn your English?" I asked Yvonne, when the set was being struck.

"I was in New York for two and a half years with 'La Plume de ma Tante,'" she told me. "I love New York, and I hope to go back this fall with my night club act. Even here in Paris," she confided, "I try to have American-type meals."

"Frenchmen seem to like curves more than Americans, because when I arrived in New York, I was sent to a doctor with orders to lose 15 pounds. That was the first time in my life," Yvonne confessed, "that I had thought about making a diet. He gave me strict meals to follow and told me not to drink anything when I was eating and not to have any salt. I lost the weight and I have not allowed it to come back."

"Is there anything about my country you didn't like?" I asked.

"Yes," she told me. "It is the pace. People are always asking you what you are going to do next. If you do not have a job, they feel sorry for you. A Frenchman does not want to work so hard that he can't enjoy a vacation."

"Sometimes I had to stay in my room all day and not speak a word or do anything but try to relax. In Paris, I would have no need for this, because I would never get so many tensions."

As Gene called Yvonne back to work, I said I hoped we would meet in Hollywood sometime.

"That is my dream!" she said as her eyes got large. "It is every actress's dream, n'est ce pas?"

Bearkats To Build Around 7 Veterans

GARDEN CITY—The Garden City Bearkats, who experienced a 4-41 eight-man football season in 1960, will try to improve upon that record with a club built around seven lettermen.

The returning veterans are: Gary McDaniel, senior halfback, 180 pounds, three-year letterman.

Bernard Seidenberger, senior center, 180, two-year letterman and Denny Cypert, quarterback and

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Three of the four boys from this immediate area on the 1961 Rice University football team are guards. The other is a center.

The guards are Larry Anthony, Lamesa; Kenny Simmons, Colorado City; and Dickie Woods, Sweetwater. The center is Pat Gerald of Sweetwater, who started out as a guard and later was tried out at end.

Pat's chief trouble is that he doesn't weigh enough. He'll come in this fall under 180 pounds.

If the Cleveland American League franchise is moved to the West Coast, and there's talk it will, the National League could take over the Cleveland territory and make a barrel of money.

The Cleveland fans have become disenchanted with the front office hi-jinks of the Indians. They're still baseball-hungry, however.

The chasm between the Milwaukee patrons and the Braves is getting wider, too. And it all came about over a minor issue—the fact that the nickel-nursing management, afraid of losing some revenue, barred the fans from bringing their own beer into the park.

Milwaukee, of course, has long been famous as the beer capital of the nation. Some of the fans liked to take their own suds into the park and bend down for a cool one occasionally. The management allowed as how that was being unpatriotic to the cause—the cause of putting more loot into the pocket of club owner Lou Perini, that is.

I think the Milwaukee club could resolve the issue by removing the ban on imported beer, but it probably won't be done.

Perhaps the sensible thing to do would be for the two leagues to swap franchises. Such a radical approach could save baseball in both cities.

For a while there, the St. Louis Cardinals of the NFL thought they'd acquired a lemon in quarterback Sam Etchiverry, down from the Canadian pro league, but latest reports had a sore arm he had acquired improving.

Big Spring's Charley Johnson (now with the Cards) apparently was used sparingly in the contest in Canada recently.

The Dallas Texans of the AFL stand a better chance of making some money on their exhibition game with Denver in Midland tomorrow night, mainly because they came down on their admission price.

Last year, when they showed in Abilene, they asked $5 across the board for ducts. The fees for the Midland game will be $4.40 and $3.30.

N. E. Stephens of Midland has the reputation for being the finest softball flinger in this part of West Texas but Smith's Construction Company of Big Spring has had the satisfaction of beating him three times in five decisions this year.

Alf Cobb, Big Spring's representative in the Oil Bowl football game at Wichita Falls next week, leaves Saturday to begin training for next week's game.

Cobb has been working with an oil well service concern in Coahoma.

The all-stars have to report for initial instructions at noon Sunday in Wichita Falls.

The top money winners on the pro golf circuit are given Pontiacs to drive, at no charge, and the insurance on the vehicles is paid. The linkers aren't required to pay for the repairs to the vehicles, either. All they have to do is keep the vehicles in gas and oil.

The autos are replaced every several months. The Pontiac people reason the promotion pays off.

Sell-Out Crowd May See Battle

MIDLAND—A sell-out crowd is predicted to be on hand here Saturday night, when professional football makes one of its rare appearances in West Texas.

Pre-game ticket sales were near the 6,000 mark early Thursday to the game between the Dallas Texans and the Denver Broncos in Midland Saturday. Daily receipts have been growing as the game draws near, according to Martin Allday, chairman of ticket sales for the Midland Jaycees.

The exhibition contest between the two American Football League teams is to unfold at 8:30 p.m. in Midland Memorial Stadium, which has a seating capacity of about 15,000 people. It is the first professional game to be played in Midland.

The Dallas Texans go into the game as the favorite, and the predicted 1961 AFL Champions, after winning their exhibition season opener against the New York Titans last week. The Denver Broncos, opening their exhibition season with the Midland game, are the dark horses. New talent added this season to give depth to their fine starting team of last season is expected to put the Broncos among the top contenders for the AFL championship in 1961.

If the teams play their usual style of football, West Texans are in for a game packed with thrills. Denver is expected to stage an aerial circus, featuring the throwing arm of Quarterback Frank Tripucka and End Lionel Taylor. This duo set all-time professional football records for passes and completions last year.

Cotton "The Rifleman" Davidson will be the Texan counterpart of Tripucka. He tossed the ball for three touchdowns against the Titans last week. A native of Gatesville, Davidson is a former Baylor University grid star.

Dallas' fabulous halfback, Abner Haynes of North Texas State, and Jack Spikes of Snyder and JCU, will be among the big starting his second season as coach of the Kats, had another letterman, Tommy Grant, returning but the young quarterback and his family have moved to Coahoma.

Boys who didn't win varsity letters last year but who are expected to play a lot of football with Garden City include:

Richie Reynolds, junior guard, 145.

Wayne Low, junior end, 160.

Sonny Phelps, junior halfback, 140.

William (Babe) Shields, senior halfback. The exact time he will become eligible isn't known but he'll be available for play in all conference games.

Ralph Cline, senior center-guard, 170. Hasn't played before.

Ronnie Houston, senior halfback, 130. Another new boy, has good speed.

Donnie Thompson, sophomore guard, 140.

Several boys coming into high school from junior high may add strength to the Bearkats. Their number include Denny Seidenberger, 130-pound halfback, with good speed; Gary Pagan, 145-pound end, destined to be a very big boy—he now stands 6-foot-2; and Walter Lowe (no relation to Wayne Low), 140-pound halfback-end.

Any boys wishing to play football this fall should report to the high school gymnasium anytime Monday, said coach Richardson said.

Present plans call for the squad to stage workouts in late evenings, probably 5:30 p.m. on.

Richardson also stated he would use seniors as temporary captains this year, then have the boys named permanent leaders at the end of the campaign.

In conference play last year, Garden City finished with a 2-1-1 record, back of champion Sterling City and tied with Forsan for second place.

The Kats will scrimmage Flower Grove in Garden City Aug. 25, working at eight-man ball the other half and six-man ball the other half.

Richardson will be assisted this fall by Russell Coalsen.

The Garden City schedule:

Sept. 8—Wellman at GC

Sept. 15—Bourke at GC

Sept. 22—At Jartson

Sept. 29—At Gal.

Oct. 6—Open

Oct. 13—Imperial at GC (C)

Oct. 20—Purman at GC (C)

Oct. 27—Purman at GC (C)

Nov. 3—At Gal.

Nov. 10—Kendrick at GC (C)

Nov. 17—Conference games.

South Finally Shades North

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The worm finally turned Thursday night and the South broke an eight-year jinx to beat the North 14-7 in the all-star football game of the Texas Coaching School.

A future Aggie — Budgie Ford of Taylor—led the devastating ground attack of the South as it reached the promised land for the first time since 1953.

Ford made 37 yards of a 66-yard drive for the South's first touchdown and his clutch 10-yard dash set up the second touchdown, scored with only 3:33 left on the clock.

As predicted, the speed and power of the South won the game. Another important part of it was Ernie Koy, the big man from Bellevue, who crashed over from the one-yard line for both of the South touchdowns.

Knox Nunnally of Midland was the hero for almost 45 minutes of the game. He put on the block that shook Pete Lammons of Jacksonville clear for the North touchdown, scored on a 47-yard pass play from Bobby Maples of Mount Vernon to Lammons, and kicked the extra point that put the North ahead 7-6.

But with only two seconds to go, Nunnally dropped a pass in the clear that could have given the North a chance at a tie or victory. "I would have fallen anyway, had I caught it," said Nunnally.

However, dropping the pass probably cost Nunnally the most valuable lineman award. Instead Russell Wyatt of White Oak, an adept blocker and outstanding defensive star for the South, was picked for the honor.

Lubbock Ousted In Legion Meet

AUSTIN (AP)—Denton extended its string of season victories to 27 Thursday night by bombing Rockdale 16-1 in the double elimination American Legion state baseball tournament.

Austin blanked Lubbock 4-0 in the losers' bracket, eliminating the West Texans.

BILL RODEN IS NAMED CAPTAIN OF VISITING COSDEN CUP TEAM

Bill (Red) Roden, Odessa, one of Texas' best known amateur golfers, has agreed to serve as visiting captain in the Sept. 1 Cosden Cup matches, which will be played as a prelude to the 30th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament.

The announcement was made Thursday jointly by Obie Bristow, the local captain, and M. R. (Frog) Koger, chairman of the tournament.

Roden, who formerly resided in Big Spring and who has won the tournament title himself more than any other individual (four times), will select his own team in his own way. Seven other golfers, in addition to Roden, will make up the squad.

The local team will be composed of men who turn in low qualifying scores over 72 holes of play. Any one residing in Big Spring is eligible to try for the team.

Spahn Goes For 300th Victory Against Cubs

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a southpaw's world at the moment in major league baseball. Left-hander Warren Spahn shoots for a rare 300th victory. Spahn, pitching in his 17th season at 40, goes for the big tonight for the Milwaukee Braves against the Chicago Cubs.

NOW AN L.A. COP

Hobson, Former Player, Visits

Dick Hobson, one-time shortstop for a Big Spring professional baseball team, reasons this city would still be choice minor league territory if it had proper playing facilities.

Hobson, who performed here under such managers as Charley Barnabe and Tony Rego in the latter part of the '30's, is now a 20-year veteran of the Los Angeles (Calif.) Police Department, assigned to radio patrol car in the heart of the downtown section.

Dick, his wife and younger daughter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schattell and other friends here.

When Hobson wore a local baseball uniform, the Big Spring baseball park was located at Fifth and San Antonio Streets in the west part of Big Spring.

He performed here much of two seasons and later was traded to Tampa. Both teams were in the West Texas-New Mexico League at that time.

Among his team-mates while he was here were Al Berndt, Johnny Soden, Clarence (Peavine) Trantham, Frank Jact, Harry Siebert, Bobby Decker, Mel Steiner and Tex Walton.

In California, Hobson is an accountant in his spare time and, during the past several years, has been an affiliated member of a football officiating organization.

One of his favorite baseball personalities when he performed here was the late Grover Selz, one of the most colorful players and managers the WT-NW League ever had.

Once, while on traffic patrol in Los Angeles, Hobson stopped Seitz and approached him on a variety of violations before identifying himself as a former member of Seitz's profession.

Grover failed to recognize Hobson immediately and could see seven hits, including two each by DewHobby Gartin, Robert Wilson and Richard Bethel and a run-scoring triple by Baxter Moore.

In all, 17 boys made the trip from Big Spring. The team is in charge of D. R. Gartin and Bob Andrews.

Big Spring earlier had beaten Waco, 3-2, in tournament play after shading Fort Hood, 1-0, in a two-inning exhibition game to officially open the meet.

The Big Springers' game against Waco went three extra innings. Big Spring is the defending champion in the tournament.

Over 100 players in the 15-16 age bracket are present for the tournament. Both the winning and runner-up teams earn trophies. Action is taking place at Red Lindsey Field.

Special service facilities on the base, including swimming pools and movie theatres, are being made available to the players.

The players were greeted by Maj. Gen. W. H. S. Wright, Fort Hood and 2nd Armored Division commander, after their arrival. Wright later threw out the first ball in the Big Spring-Fort Hood clash. All the players have quarters on the base.

Cities represented in the tournament, in addition to Big Spring, include Waco, Temple, Lampasas, Belton, Gatesville, Sweetwater, Valley Mills, Killean and Copperas Cove. The three Fort Hood teams are the Red Sox, All-Stars and Hoodtums.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Controversial umpire Frank Dascoli was fired Thursday by National League President Warren Giles in an action unprecedented in modern-day major league baseball.

A spokesman for the National League said he could recall no instance of an outright dismissal of an umpire during the season play.

Giles said Dascoli's dismissal came about because recent remarks attributed to the umpire "makes his continued employment incompatible with the best interest of our umpiring staff, our office and the league."

Back in 1952 umpire Douglas (Scotty) Robb quit after it was reported he was fined more than $100 by St. Louis Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky and Solly Hemus, then a Cardinal player, after a ruckus over a called third strike on Hemus. Robb later joined the American League.

Hemus also has figured in Dascoli's troubles.

Gary Sampson Upset Victim In Net Meet

Third-seeded Gary Sampson was ousted from the YMCA City Tennis tournament Thursday by Bennett Brooke, who won by a score of 6-4, 6-4, in a singles match played at Webb AFB Thursday.

Brooke now becomes eligible to play the winner in the Jerry Caddell-Doc Reeves match at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Webb. Caddell, seeded No. One in singles play, plays Reeves at 5 p.m. today at Webb.

In another singles match unrec'd Thursday, Jim Shattuck overpowered Dale Bullough, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2. Shattuck is seeded immediately behind Caddell.

Shattuck now plays the winner of today's match between Robbie Robertson and Vince Friedewald at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Webb.

Here are the results in doubles play which occurred Thursday at Webb:

Jerry Caddell and Johnny Grubbs (subbing for Julius Glickman) over Roy Thurston and Bill Parsons, 6-3, 6-3; Glenn Wells and O. F. Priest over Jay and Zay LeFevre, 6-1, 6-2; Bill Reynolds and Bernard Young over Robbie Robertson and Billy Engle, 6-4, 7-5; Vincent Friedewald and Robert Stripling over Glenn Rogers and Wade Simpson, 6-0, 6-0; Dale Bullough and Bennett Brooke over Sam McCaughy and Gary Sampson, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Consolation round play in both brackets also begins today. The tournament winds up Sunday, with both finals scheduled to be played on the Webb courts—the singles at 2 p.m. and the doubles at 5 o'clock.

Ford (20-2), last a loser on June 29 at Boston, allowed eight of the Angels' nine hits before giving way to the heat and Arroyo in the eighth inning. It was the fourth victory Arroyo has saved for Ford, and he has been the finishing pitcher in six others.

Bobby Richardson, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron homered for the Yankees

JOHN D. SCOTT

New Man On Force

John D. Scott, 21, of 2614 S. Monticello, assumed his duties on the Big Spring police force Thursday. He was on the eligible list following examinations given by the department several weeks ago.

Tracy Kupper, 1009 E. 3rd, a former patrolman who resigned from the department Jan. 27, was reinstated and is back at work.

Chief Jay Banks said that Kupper left the force for personal reasons which had to be solved, and that he was a good officer.

Scott, a native of Doylestown, Pa., has been in Big Spring for five years. He was separated from the Air Force, at Webb AFB July 28, 1960, and was employed as a mechanic at Western Car Co. He has had no experience in law enforcement but served as an air policeman at Webb.

Curved Egg Layer Dies

POOLE, England (AP) — Adelaide, the hen that laid curved eggs, is dead.

Between 1957 and her death this week Adelaide laid hundreds of eggs, every one of them as curved as a banana.

Her product amazed naturalists and won her fan mail from all over Britain and the United States.

She made television appearances and collected more than 1,000 pounds—$2,500—for charity.

Adelaide died quietly on the nest in this Dorset town after laying an egg—curved as always.

Broad Areas Get Rain

By The Associated Press

More rain fell across broad areas from the southern Plateau region into the Ohio Valley today, with heavy falls and possible flash floods in sections of the Midwest.

Rains during the morning in northeast Missouri and west central Illinois followed Thursday's downpours in southern and west central Illinois which caused flooding of rich lowland farm sections and homes.

Most widespread showers and rains during the night were in the eastern Great Lakes region and in the Ohio Valley. Strong winds and heavy rain hit the Indianapolis area. More than three inches of rain doused the Columbus, Ohio area and more than two inches in Dayton, Ohio section.

Afternoon and evening showers were indicated in the warm and humid air in sections of the East and South as well as from the Far West into the Midwest.

Temperatures ranged from 95 at Blythe, Calif., to 52 at Dickinson, N.D.

No One Believed Cadon's Boasts

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Albert Charles Cadon boasted he might hijack a plane and make it fly to Cuba. But no one believed him.

Officials have traced the activities in Mexico of the Frenchman who forced a Pan American pilot to detour his jet from Guatemala to Cuba.

Cadon reportedly came to Mexico after an argument with his wife.

He arrived at Laredo and entered Mexico at that port city Aug. 7.

While stopping over in Monterrey he told acquaintances he planned to continue to Cuba. He was informed flights had been cancelled while Fidel Castro changed old pesos for new.

"Well," he said, "I'll make them fly me to Cuba."

No one took him seriously.

Cadon continued to Mexico City by bus, and registered at a hotel. Later he bought his plane ticket to Guatemala.

Soon after the takeoff he pulled a pistol and ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba.

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—More than 400 bars of silver valued at $400,000 have been shipped to West Germany aboard the German freighter Freiburg.

CARL CALL

Carl Call Re-Assigned

Airman I.C. Carl E. Call, an old timer at Webb, is slated for reassignment to Chanute AFB, Ill., on August 17. He has been on duty here continuously for seven years and eight months. Reporting for duty at Webb in January 1954, he was on hand for the dedication of the Base Chapel in March, 1954.

This will be his second trip to Chanute, for Airman Call attended welding school there in 1952. He served with the 18th Fighter Wing at Osan, Korea in 1953.

He is a native of Portsmouth, Ohio, is married to the former Miss Mary Legg of Lucasville, Ohio, and they have two children, Vicky and Candy, both born at Webb. Airman Call is scoutmaster for the oldest troop in Texas; Troop 1 of Big Spring. He is a member of the Optimist and Rotary Clubs.

Durante Passes The Acid Test

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — When comedian Jimmy Durante made a few hopeful references to what Federal Communications Commission Chairman Newton N. Minow might think of the Durante television special on Wednesday night, he had a special audience.

For his information, Minow thought the show was fine. The FCC chairman, whose remarks on the "vast wasteland" of television entertainment upset the industry recently, said of the Durante special: "A real delight in every way—a real uplift in the summer doldrums."

Minow saw the show while visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Minow.

Coast Rains Taper Off

By The Associated Press

Heavy showers from thunderstorms along the Texas coast the past few days tapered off Friday as the shower belt switched to West Texas.

Widely scattered showers fell during the early morning in the Panhandle southward to about 25 miles north of Lubbock. Most of these were very light.

The letup along the coast came after another day of heavy rains. Rainfall up to 2.50 inches was reported. Galveston gauged 1.82 inches while Victoria had an even inch. Numerous other coastal points had showers.

Victoria spotted its third tornado funnel of the week, but again the funnel disappeared without causing any wind damage.

A lightning bolt struck a Southern Pacific building at Victoria, stunning a telegrapher. J. E. Goode Jr. Goode, a heart patient, was taken to a hospital for observation.

Alice, near Corpus Christi, had ground fog early Friday. Skies were partly cloudy to cloudy in the San Antonio, Austin and Waco areas and generally clear to partly cloudy elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 69 degrees at Lufkin to 82 degrees at Corpus Christi. Presidio again had the highest reading Thursday, 105 degrees.

Forecasts called for fair to partly cloudy skies and widely scattered thundershowers through Saturday.

De-Germing Is Meat Preserver

CHICAGO (AP)—Scientists and medical men have found how to preserve meat indefinitely without refrigeration. They de-germ it.

Maj. Gen. Webster Anderson, new quartermaster general of the U.S. Army, said Thursday the preservation technique is to bombard the meat with rays from radioactive cobalt or from atom smashers.

The rays kill micro-organisms that cause food spoilage. Anderson said he told newsmen the germless meats have been proved safe for human consumption by scientists and medical men.

The only drawback, Anderson said, is that bombarded meat loses some flavor. The scientists are working on that.

Completes Term

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Enrico Sampietro Belmont, probably the most notorious counterfeiter ever caught in Mexico, has completed a 13-year sentence. He will be deported to his native France.

RUBEN B. REAVIS

Tools Designed By Mechanic

Three new tools designed by Ruben B. Reavis of Big Spring, have been adopted at Webb AFB for maintenance work on J-69 jet engines. Reavis was paid $45 in cash awards for his diligence and ingenuity. All three tools are torque adapters and are designed to promote safety for maintenance crews.

One adapter is for removing and installing the front turbine lock nut; another, a variation, takes care of the rear lock nut. Reavis' other safety device is for removing and installing the turbine rotor to the compressor rotor.

Up to a few weeks ago Reavis was an aircraft jet mechanic in the 3560th M & S Group. He is now an air conditioning and refrigeration servicier in the Civil Engineering Group.

Reavis has been employed at Webb since December 1955, and he lives with his wife and daughter at 1614 Avion St.

Sands Bonds To Be Sold, Tax Rate To Be Set

ACKERLY—The Sands Consolidated School District trustees have scheduled a meeting for Monday evening to open bids on the recently passed $225,000 bond issue.

At the same time, the board will set a tax rate for 1961 for the school district, which comprises the former Ackerly and Knott districts.

Proceeds from sale of the bonds will go toward financing construction of a gymnasium, science and home economics lab at Ackerly and elementary school additions at Knott.

Border Patrol Is Energetic Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy tapped a well-trained energetic bunch with pride in its work—the Border Patrol—in efforts to stop plane hijacking.

The patrol itself wasn't giving any details about its new assignment, announced Thursday by the President, to put border patrolmen aboard some planes.

One of its men, Leonard Gilman happened to be a passenger on the plane hijacked at El Paso last week. Gilman ended the incident with a wallop to the jaw of one of the hijackers.

"I'm a trained officer," Gilman explained later in brushing aside any idea of his being a hero.

The Border Patrol has about 1,500 men with the principal duty of guarding the borders of the United States against illegal entry of persons.

Border patrolmen wear uniforms of khaki-green trousers and shirt and a Sam Brown belt with holster and gun.

They use their feet, horses, jeeps, boats and airplanes—some are pilots—to carry out their duties. They're crack shots, too.

The Border Patrol was established in 1924 under the old Bureau of Immigration in the Department of Labor. In the re-grouping of government agencies in 1940, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, including the border patrol, was transferred to the Department of Justice.

As far back as 1904 mounted inspectors patrolled the Mexican border in an effort to check the smuggling of Chinese into the United States.

Lt. Gen. J. M. Swing, U.S. Army (Ret.) is the service head. Under him is James F. Greene, a long-time border patrolman, whom the border patrolmen call their national chief.

All positions in the border patrol are subject to civil service rules and regulations.

Applicants must be at least 21,

5-foot 8, weigh at least 140 and be in good physical condition.

They must take a written test lasting about 3½ hours and then appear for an oral interview.

Those selected for appointment are sent to the Border Patrol Academy for 13 weeks training. The academy has been in temporary quarters at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Tex., but now is being moved to permanent quarters at a surplus naval air station at Port Isabel, Tex.

At the academy, they are taught the history and responsibilities of their job, instructed in immigration and nationality laws, Spanish, physical training, marksmanship and other courses—such as jujitsu and first aid—pertinent to the work of the patrol.

Their basic entrance salary is $5,355 a year.

57 Feared Dead

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine News Service said today an inter-island motor boat carrying 57 persons has been reported missing since Monday and is believed to have sunk in heavy seas.

School Budget Boosted By SS, Pay And Classrooms

(This is the first in a series of three articles on the proposed 1961-62 budget of the Big Spring Independent School District. Trustees have approved the budget tentatively and a public hearing is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the administration conference room.)

The $2,638,591.25 budget proposed for the Big Spring Independent School District for 1961-62, largest in the history of the system, represents a 10 per cent increase over last year. It is $248,536.50 above a year ago.

Expected enrollment is projected to possibly surpass the 7,200 mark this year compared to an average of 6,886 pupils attending the Big Spring schools on the average last year. (Peak enrollment was 6,994.) However, only $88,139 of the quarter-million dollar increase can be attributed to instruction costs.

BIG DIFFERENCE
One other big difference comes in fixed charges which went up from $13,650 last year to $51,700 for the coming year because teachers are being placed under Social Security. This adds $35,000 to the school expense.

Capital outlay took a sizable increase of $63,732. All of this represents the 10 new portable buildings (one classroom each) added during the summer to ease crowding in some areas. Total costs for the buildings were $99,325. Sites cost $29,500; buildings, $55,000; hook-up, $3,000; interest, $3,000; furnishings and equipment, $8,000, and architect fee, $825.

Another figure which boosted the budget by $50,000 is money set aside for the local portion of an increase in teacher salaries which might be forthcoming from the special session of the Legislature which opened Thursday in Austin. A proposed bill would increase salaries of Texas teachers by $810.

Breaking down the proposed budget into the various expenditures, it looks like this (current year's budget in parentheses): Administration and Business $98,436 ($111,461); instruction $1,710,699 ($1,627,862); attendance service $14,410 ($11,825); health service $19,640 ($14,580); transportation $12,850 ($12,050); operation of plant $185,000 ($180,977); maintenance of plant $74,000 ($67,500); fixed charges $51,700 ($13,650); athletic expense $32,500 ($30,000); community service (citywide summer recreation) $1,000 ($1,000); total operational expense $2,200,235 ($2,072,525); debt service $192,675 ($128,923); debt service $195,681.25 ($188,606.75); total expenditures $2,385,591.25 ($2,230,054.75); local share of state salary increase $50,000.

BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS
Administrative and business expense totaled $98,436, down $13,025 from the current year. Salaries total $71,036; $8,650 for contracted services, and $18,750 for travel, car allowances, office supplies and other administrative and business expenses.

The superintendent salary decreased from $15,248 to $13,500. Miscellaneous salaries went from $500 during the current year to a proposed $1,500. This increase is for extra help in the tax department to assist in delivering statements which are returned. Most other increases in salaries were for increments (for continuous service).

Travel allowance for the director of curriculum was boosted from $600 to $900 and travel allowance dropped from $1,500 to $1,000. Printing decreased from $5,000 to $750 and other expenses for the board of education rose from $400 to $1,000. Most of the latter increase is for interviews, if required, upon expiration of the contract of the superintendent.

OTHER EXPENSES
INSTRUCTION totaled $1,710,699. There were 21.5 teachers added to the payroll. Teachers added are: elementary, five; elementary music, one special education; four: Goliad Junior High, three; Runnels Junior High, three, and Senior High School, 5.5.

ATTENDANCE SERVICES $14,410. This includes salaries and car allowance. An expense of $2,400 for the Juvenile Board was added to this account.

HEALTH SERVICE $19,640. Salaries totaled $17,000 as one nurse was added. Supplies and car allowance are $2,640. Travel allowance was increased from $20 to $30 a month.

TRANSPORTATION costs were $12,850. The only increase here is in gas, oil, etc. The figure was raised from $6,200 to $7,000 because of expansion in the district.

OPERATION OF PLANT $185,000. Salaries are $99,000; heat, $18,000; water, $12,000; electricity $38,000; telephone and telegraph, $7,000 and supplies $11,000. An increase of $500 in heat, $1,000 in water and $3,000 in electricity was attributed to increased facilities and a 3.6 per cent increase in the electricity rate.

CLASSROOMS
MAINTENANCE OF PLANT $74,000. Salaries are $48,500; maintenance supplies, $22,500, and roof repair $3,000.

FIXED CHARGES $51,700. Social Security totaled $35,000; property insurance, $16,500, and fidelity bond premium, $200. The figure for Social Security is not in the current year's budget.

ATHLETIC EXPENSE $32,500. The figure is an increase of $2,500 over the current year. That amount had to be transferred to the present budget.

CAPITAL OUTLAY $192,675. Expenses connected with the purchase of 10 new portable classrooms totaled $99,325. The previous year's figure for that item was $750. Two new buses for special education (disabled children) increased the cost of that item from $2,500 in the present budget to $10,000. These will be light vehicles especially for carrying the children to eliminate the need to ride long distances. Two new 60 passenger buses were also added to the system at a cost of $12,000. Safety signs, paving and parking lot improvement have been deleted from the proposed budget.

DEBT SERVICE $192,681.25. These costs are approximately the same as in the present budget, with retirement of serial bonds increasing from $23,600 to $92,000. Interest on serial bonds is $103,381.25 and other expenses are $65,681.25.

The final item in the budget is $50,000 included in the budget in the event a state salary increase is passed by the Legislature. This represents the local share of an $810 increase.

Spaceman Arrives

Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov is escorted by Premier Khrushchev who carries flowers on Titov's arrival at Moscow airport. Behind Titov is Russia's first spaceman, Maj. Yuri Gagarin.

Titov Tells Of His Flight

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov said today he was ejected from his space ship at the end of his epic 25-hour orbital flight and parachuted to earth.

The second Soviet spaceman told a jammed news conference his spaceship Vostok II came down separately by parachute "but if the need had arisen, I could have landed it myself."

Titov said there were two landing systems available—either to remain in the space ship and parachute down with it or to descend separately. He said he had permission to use either system.

"I felt well and decided to test the second landing system," he said.

The ship landed safely nearby, he added.

The space flier said he experienced no ill effects—from the acceleration forces, noise and vibration of the takeoff, from the prolonged weightlessness or from the transition from weightlessness near the end of his 17 trips to the globe.

NO CHANGES
Titov said after landing neither he nor medical experts could detect any changes in his physical organism.

The self-assured young major reported one variation from normal. He said he wasn't hungry for his first two meals although he ate them on schedule.

"Frankly speaking, I had no particular appetite," the 26-year-old cosmonaut said. "This was probably due to the sustained weightlessness and excitement."

Titov spoke at a news conference held at Moscow University for more than 1,500 Soviet and foreign newsmen, scientists and diplomats.

Mstislav Keldysh, president of the Soviet academy of sciences, introduced the Soviet Union's new space hero and said his 25-hour flight had produced a wealth of scientific information that will be published and shared with scientists all over the world.

The flight, Keldysh added, opened the way for manned flight "to Mars, the Moon, Venus, and even further into the depths of the universe."

TO WATCH
Keldysh said foreign newsmen will be permitted to watch launchings of Soviet space ships in the future but gave no indication when this would happen.

"You realize carrier rockets are not only peaceful instruments, and if the Americans had such advanced carrier rockets you can be sure they wouldn't be showing them either," he said.

The Soviet academician said Titov had demonstrated that a human pilot is able to control his space ship manually, make scientific observations and land his craft on any spot on earth.

Titov told the newsmen he regarded his historic flight round and round the earth as "something natural," that it did not seem like anything extraordinary because he had trained so thoroughly for it.

He said his training as a fighter pilot had been most important in preparing him for his space assignment and that he was morally inspired to carry out his task by love of country and the Soviet people.

Going into a detailed account of his flight from the moment he blasted off at 9 a.m. Aug. 6, Titov said that he experienced no ill effects from the acceleration forces, noise and vibration of the takeoff.

Once in space, he continued, the cabin of his spaceship Vostok II was flooded with sunlight and he could see the bright, sunlit surface of the earth and at the same time the stars—"clear and bright points on a black background."

Both his instruments and information transmitted from earth confirmed that he was in the predetermined orbit, he said.

At 10 a.m., an hour after blast-off, Titov said, he switched to manual control of the ship. He said he had complete control over the craft, could orient it in any direction and could send it on any course he desired.

He next used the manual control in his seventh orbit, Titov said.

Throughout the flight "reliable communication with the ground" was maintained on short wave and ultra short wave radio.

Even at his farthest point from earth he established contact with the ground with no difficulty, he said.

He said his radio apparatus also picked up ordinary longwave radio broadcasts from stations all over the world.

Crowd Welcomes Hijacked Crew

HOUSTON (AP)—A cheering crowd of 2,000 welcomed back to Texas Thursday the crew of the hijacked Pan American jetliner that was forced to fly to Cuba Wednesday.

All nine crew members are based in Houston.

Included in the crowd was a group of 48 from Capt. Carl Ballard's hometown of Huntsville. The Huntsville friends chartered a bus for the trip to Houston to greet Ballard, who was in charge of the hijacked airliner.

Phoebe Rice At Youth Conference

One Big Spring young person is among the 1,200 high school-age youth which swarmed Texas Christian University campus this week for the eighteenth annual Texas Youth Convention of Christian Churches.

Highlighting the convention are addresses by Frank Mabee, minister of the First Christian Church in Lake Charles, and a concert by Mrs. Rosa Page Welch, internationally known singer and lecturer.

The youth Thursday attended, the Casa Manana's production of "Texas Little Darlin'" in which Don Wilson and Danny Scholl starred. Preceding the show Wilson and Scholl were members of a panel which will answer questions about the problems of Christian witness today. Attending from Big Spring was Phoebe Ann Rice, with Mrs. Jimmy Nix as sponsor.

'Work' Tower Tells Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Work like a dog...talk to as many people as you can," Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., told John Goode, who Republicans hope will succeed Rep. Paul Kilday, D-Tex., when Kilday becomes a member of the Military Court of Appeals.

Goode, 38, San Antonio lawyer, is a candidate for the special election to name Kilday's successor. He visited GOP leaders in Washington Thursday.

Tower escorted Goode on a tour of the capital and said that he hoped Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., would go to Texas and help Goode with his campaign.

Correction

The price of fryers carried in Thursday's Furr Food advertisement was incorrect. Instead of 29 cents a pound, as listed, the price should have been 23 cents a pound, the quotation in effect today and Saturday.

THE DOOR

By J. H. Terbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Hwy. 30, P.O. Box 1383.

Christ is the door to eternal life and heaven, and we can go up no other way (Jno. 10:1-7). But, what is the door to Christ?

The door to Christ, is the same as the door to the church of Christ, which is His body. (Col. 1:18). To enter His body is to enter Christ.

Christ is the Saviour of the body, the church (Eph. 5:23). He purchased the church with His blood; hence to be in the church is to benefit from His blood (Acts 20:28). As is generally admitted, the door to the church is baptism. The Bible says we are baptized into one body (1 Cor. 12:13).

The door to Christ is the door to the church, which is Scriptural baptism. Thus, the Scriptures say we are "baptized into Christ" (Rom. 6:3; Gal. 3:27).
We will conduct an open-air revival in the Lockhard Addition for one week, starting Sunday at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited. —Ad.

Church Club Holds Meet

The women of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Edwards, 1413 Eleventh Place, with the members of the Evans-Moffett Circle as hostesses.

Mrs. Jim Layman presided during the business session during which time circle responsibilities were assigned for August. Mrs. Edwards reported on the birthday party given at the State Hospital for 900 patients. Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson reported that the Peggy Potter Circle served 65 children at the Westside Community Center.

Mrs. Joe Wright presented the Bible study from the Epistle to the Philippians, pointing out that Paul's teaching was that he who lives in Christ is able to be in harmony with his fellows, to be released from anxiety, to think and speak nobly, and to be content no matter what the outward circumstances.

Mrs. Layman reported on the conference of the Women of the Church held at Mo-Ranch near Hunt, at which more than 300 Presbyterian women were present for study, inspiration and fellowship.

New Airport Pastor Here

The Rev. Curtis W. Smith, new pastor of the Airport Baptist Church, is to be in the pulpit for both morning and evening worship services Sunday.

He and his family were due to arrive here Friday from Wells, in Southeast Texas, where he has been serving as pastor in the Calvary Baptist Church. The Rev. W. A. James, previously the Airport pastor, accepted a call to be minister of the Second Baptist Church in Seminole.

Rev. Smith is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

His wife is the former Jeanne Jowers Smith, formerly of Colorado City and Abilene, and they have a daughter, Rae Anne, and a son, Steve.

Prior to his pastorate at Wells, Rev. Smith served a church in Porterville.

John Mark, Young Missionary

EXPERIENCES OF A LAD OF AVERAGE ABILITIES WHO IS CALLED INTO CHURCH SERVICE

Scripture—Acts 13:13, 25; 13:4-5; 13; 15:36-39; Colossians 4:10-11; II Timothy 4:11; I Peter 5:12.

By N. SPEER JONES
 THE SUBJECT of this lesson is the author of the second gospel. He never refers to himself in that gospel, but we learn about him from the book of Acts, from some of the letters of the apostle Paul and from a reference in Peter's writings. He fulfills an important role in early church history in that he is younger than the apostles and thus bridges the gap between them and later leaders.

John Mark was the son of a Jewish convert named Mary (or Miriam), a well-to-do resident of Jerusalem. That she was important in the Christian community there is indicated by the fact that Peter, leader of the apostles, went to her house after his release from prison as that was a meeting place of the early Christians.

Thus Mark was well known to Peter. Barnabas, leader of the Christians in Antioch, had an even closer connection with the young man in that he was a cousin.

In the opening of our lesson, Barnabas and Paul (Saul) are about to return to their headquarters at Antioch, in Syria, after a trip to take alms to the Christians in Jerusalem. Barnabas, as head of the church, was undoubtedly seeking new potential leaders.

Our lesson demonstrates that he was indeed a shrewd judge of character and that in the end his faith in Mark as a potential leader was more than justified.

Mark, as a trainee, was assigned minor duties. When the Holy Spirit dictated the first missionary journey to Paul and Barnabas, they took Mark along "as their attendant."

had taught him greater patience, continued to see promise in the lad.

Thus Mark was the cause of a rift between Barnabas and Paul, and Barnabas is not mentioned again in the New Testament history.

The references from Colossians and II Timothy reflect Paul's two imprisonments. In the first we see that Mark has redeemed himself completely in Paul's eyes—to the extent of being one of only three loyal friends. He also indicates that he had sent Mark as his personal representative to the Colossians.

Our lesson's final reference shows what favor the young Mark eventually found with the great apostle Peter, who considered him such an apt pupil that he called him his son.

Elbert R. Garretson, Evangelist
 "DANCING"

Anciently there was a kind of dance which was before and to the Lord, but as a modern day amusement it is a dissipation before the devil and to him. Embellishing exercises and graceless motions, we are for these BUT the dance does NOT give them. Dryden about covered it thusly "A dancing, drinking, quaffing unthinking time" and so did Sir Joshua Reynolds, "All the gestures of children are graceful; the reign of distortion and unnatural attitudes commences with the introduction of the dancing masters". Christian consideration tells us that we ought always to be prepared for death and thereby both life and death will be sweeter. When we think often about death and the judgment to follow, Heb. 9:27 and about heaven or hell to follow and about our present usefulness, cleanliness and purity, most questions as to dancing will be solved already through earnest and truthful thinking. If you have respect for the Bible here is what faces you: You are the salt of the earth and the light of the world—Matt. 5:13-16. Can this be true of you if you dance? Be not conformed to this world, be transformed and have your mind renewed—Rom. 12:1-2. Does this fit the influence of a dancer? As a Christian, you are dead to sin, having been buried in baptism and raised to walk in the new life, with the old man of sin crucified with Christ, hence, sin must not reign in your mortal body—Rom. 6:1-11. Try this pattern on the dancer? We must be crucified with Christ and live our lives in the flesh by faith of Christ—Gal. 2:20. Where in this thought can dancing come in? We must avoid the very appearance of evil.—1 Thess. 5:22. Does dancing have the appearance of evil? Every servant of God must keep himself unspotted from the world, James 1:27. Does dancing spot a person with the world of lust of flesh and lust of the eye and the pride of life? Abstain from fleshly lusts which war against the soul? How about dancing on this score? The man of the world, unregenerated by the gospel, will call the professed Christian a "Hypocrite" for dancing. He, too, senses the inconsistency! A professed Christian who dances divests himself of the ability to be a soul-winner. Jovial festivity with music and dancing, this is "Reverly" which is specifically condemned in Gal. 5:19-21. A Christian is to deny himself—ungodliness and worldly lusts and live soberly, righteously and godly in this present world. How can he do this and dance? Modesty destroys dancing, immodesty helps it. Choose you this day, will you serve the God of heaven or the god of this world.

Elbert R. Garretson, minister

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Isaiah	43	1-10
Monday	Isaiah	44	1-8
Tuesday	Psalms	121	1-8
Wednesday	Proverbs	3	5-12
Thursday	II Timothy	3	10-15
Friday	John	4	7-26
Saturday	John	4	27-42

The carefree may call this entertainment. The discouraged might call it life!

We feel often as though we're not getting anywhere. Many of us recall a long succession of up and downs—coming in a vicious circle.

To get anywhere, our life must have direction!

Not just ambition, mind you. Ambition is simply a restless yearning to reach another plateau.

Direction is a course of forward progress.

It may lead to one's ambition . . . or beyond. And sometimes it bypasses an unworthy ambition to bring within our reach a worthy goal.

Set a time in your week when you will forego both entertainment and ambition—to insure for body, mind and soul a right direction. Begin next Sunday morning!

Music Camp

Rufus Don Rowland, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rowland, is enrolled in the summer music camp which will be held Aug. 14-25 at Lubbock Christian College. Rufus plans to enroll this autumn at LCC to begin studies toward law, with a music minor.

New X15 Joins Space Assault

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A new X15 rocket ship and pilot Thursday joined in manned assault on space.

Navy Cmdr. Forrest Peterson hit 2,720 miles an hour in a check-out flight at half throttle.

His flight brought a second X15 into the program to test ways of returning men from space. With two planes on tap, the National Aeronautics and Space Agency hopes to advance the day X15s will rocket 50 miles high at 4,000 m.p.h.

It was the first time Peterson, 39, had flown an X15 with the big engine that set a winged-plane record of 3,693 m.p.h. in June. He flew the plane twice when it still had a small, temporary engine.

Future X15 re-entries into the atmosphere expected to help solve some of the problems spaceships will meet.

Peterson cut loose from the B52 mothership and landed 18 minutes later.

Horace Goodman In Retirement

Dr. Horace Goodman, former Big Spring pastor, has announced his retirement after 40 years in the ministry. He and Mrs. Goodman will live at Austin Lake Estates near Austin, and he will be available for supply and revivals. A graduate of Southwestern Seminary, he held pastorates in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico, California. He served one term on the executive board of the Baptist General Convention and served in associational capacities. He was pastor at Fort Davis and Mount Pleasant when new plants were built.

Loan Granted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $330,000 loan to finance construction of a two-story men's dormitory at Lubbock Christian College at Lubbock, Tex., has been approved by the Community Facilities Administration.

More Favorable

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The newspaper Novedades said today stories appearing recently in American publications have been more favorable to Mexico than in the past.

Formby Lashes Insurance Board For Car Rate Hike

ODESSA (AP)—"Texans are hopping mad about the increased rate in car insurance and the blame can be laid at the door of the State Insurance Board," Marshall Formby said today.

Formby, Plainview attorney and candidate for governor, is in Odessa attending the annual convention of Texas Associated Press Broadcasters Association.

In an interview, Formby said,

"The confusion and injustices caused by the so-called merit insurance plan has caused the increase in car insurance rates and is causing many Texans to drop their car insurance." He added: "The insurance board's determination to keep in force this unfair so-called merit plan is a violation of all the principles of justice."

36th Division Is Top Scorer

DALLAS (AP)—The 36th Division made top grades during its recent summer maneuvers at Ft. Hood.

Maj. Gen. Carl Phinney, the commander, said 3 superior and 84 excellent ratings were given division units by the 4th Army evaluation board. This gave the division its highest rating since World War II.
