The Same Old Story - It's Dry

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The hot, open weather dried top soils last week and the rapidly growing crops and plants on ranges suffered.

General conditions were favorable for so late in the year, but a general rain would be welcome in all sections of the state. Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Service says.

Ranges and livestock are in good to excellent condition but screwworms are a real problem in most areas. The harvesting of major crops is moving north and yields of grain sorghum and corn have been good. Cotton is opening north in the blacklands.

The cotton harvest has reached the peak in far South Texas with yields fair to good. Insect damage has been heavy in some areas and showers which made control difficult are a major cause of the low yields. Only the coastal and Winter Garden counties have adequate moisture. Major activities are stalk destruction, plowing and insect control on citrus.

DETERIORATING

Cotton deteriorated due to the excessive rains in the upper Gulf coastal area. Insects were increasing. Cotton was shedding. Corn, rice and sorghum yields generally are good. Haymaking is continuing and good weather is needed. Pecans, vegetables, pastures and cattle are in good condition.

Moisture is adequate in South Central Texas and ranges and livestock are in good condition. The open weather has permitted farmers to apply insecticides to cotton, speed the sorghum harvest and wind up the broomcorn and watermelon harvests. Cotton and peanuts are being harvested.

Moisture ranges from adequate to short in Central Texas where the sorghum harvest is increasing and cotton opening. Sorghum yields are good. Cotton insects are numerous and root rot, grass and weeds are troublesome in some counties. Peanuts are making good progress but insects and diseases have left the pecan prospects spotted. Pastures are good, as are livestock, but a rain would help. Some goats are being sheared.

Moisture is adequate in most Central West Texas counties and pastures and ranges very good. A general rain is needed. Sorghums are being harvested; boll weevil infestations are spotted; and screwworms are keeping stockmen busy. Goat shearing is underway.

Irrigated cotton in far West Texas is fruiting well and insect damage has been relatively light. Moisture was adequate except for the far west counties. Range conditions are average; livestock are in good condition; screwworms are a major problem; and lamb marketing, with prices low, and goat shearing were ranch front activities.

Moisture is getting short in Northeast Texas and late corn and sorghums are being cut for silage or hay. Hay baling is in full swing with some producers reporting more than 100 bales of coastal bermuda per acre. The watermelon and cantaloupe harvest is near the peak. Sweet potatoes look good and peanuts are in full bloom but need rain as do the good pastures. Cotton is making good growth but weevils and bollworms have caused some damage.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

Late season cotton insect control, silage making and hay baling were the main farm activities in North Central Texas. Corn and sorghums were maturing, cotton was making good growth, livestock were in good condition, and ranges were fair to good. Cotton bales in the Rolling Plains (Vernon) District need rain. Moisture is adequate in all others. Silage making and hay baling were general over the area. The first sorghum had been harvested. Boll weevils have caused light to heavy damage to cotton. Ranges and livestock are in good condition.

DEAR ABBY

Each One Has Role To Play

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I run a very successful little cafe. I keep my eye on the help and, when I see them abusing the equipment or getting careless in their work, I speak to them about it. I think it is my husband's place to lay down the law, but he likes to be jolly and well-liked, so I have to do the dirty work. I am tired of being the crabby old lady while my husband is the good-natured guy. Any suggestions?

DEAR O. C.: Every successful operation needs a "heavy"—and you are it. You and your good-natured husband make a good team, and share equally in the profits, so don't harness your husband with a halter that doesn't fit him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of parents (they are also grandparents) who are too lazy, or lacking in imagination, to buy gifts for birthdays, anniversaries and even Christmas. Just before the children's birthdays (and Christmas, too) they slip me the cash and say, "Buy them something nice. You know better than we what they want."

We are not hard up, and these gifts of cash and checks seem very cold to me. How should I (the daughter-in-law) let them know that their "gifts" have no sentimental value?

DEAR ANNOYED: I think your in-laws are being very practical and considerate. Many would appreciate the opportunity to select their own gifts. Shame on you. Be grateful that you are remembered, and quit finding fault.

DEAR ABBY: I have been happily married for three years, or at least I thought so. My problem is getting my husband to wear his wedding ring.

The first year of our married life he lost three wedding rings. The first one was expensive, but the next two were cheap. Then I bought him a fourth ring and, after he lost that, I began to believe that he wasn't losing them at all—he was throwing them away.

He wears his wedding ring when he is with me, but every time he goes out by himself he comes back with it in his pocket. Do you think he is looking for a girl he can fool into thinking he isn't married? I wear my ring all the time.

RING PROBLEMS

DEAR PROBLEMS: Regardless of whether your husband loses his wedding rings or ditches them, it is obvious that he doesn't enjoy wearing one. Take a load off his finger and try to make him FEEL married. Then perhaps he will ACT more like a married man.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

This Rancher Takes Coyotes

KERMIT, Tex. (AP)—If rancher J. M. Waddell had a choice he would take coyotes in preference to rabbits.

Waddell, whose ranch spreads over 57 sections, estimates he is grazing 28,500 jackrabbits and that 19 rabbits eat as much grass as a cow.

The unwanted boarders prompted Waddell to write to the Department of Agriculture.

He says the department advised: Be patient. The rabbit population will build up to a certain size, then a disease will wipe out the problem.

For the past 10 years Waddell says he has shot 6 to 10 rabbits every time he drives a 2-mile road from the highway to his ranch. "I guess the few I've shot keep the population from growing up to that figure they're talking about," he said.

WHY? OH, WHY?

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 2800 West Hwy. 28, P.O. Box 1382.

If every church can justify her doctrine by the Bible, then let someone explain the following. Last March there appeared in this space, an earnest request for Bible proof for eight popular doctrines. We received two letters listing Scripture which supposedly justified three of these doctrines; and we examined the Scriptures given, fairly and openly before the public.

The other five doctrines, no one has attempted to justify. Unheeded went our pleadings for Scriptures to justify the following doctrines: (1) "one church is as good as another", (2) "the church does not matter", (3) "salvation is by faith only", (4) "infants may be baptiz-

Top Carcasses To Be On Display

FORT WORTH — For 66 years, blue-ribbon beef on the hoof has held the spotlight at Fort Worth's great Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

Now, in 1962, visitors will get a chance for the first time to see prize-winning beef . . . as it looks to the housewife shopping for a tender steak for Sunday dinner.

Four champion carcasses, winners in the first carcass steer judging contest ever conducted in the Southwest, will be displayed in a refrigerated case on the Fort Worth Stock Show grounds, President-Manager W. R. Watt has announced.

CC Agriculture Panel To Meet

A meeting of the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been called for 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Chamber conference room, according to Wesley Deats, chairman.

The main reason for the meeting, Deats said, is to determine how much has been contributed toward the $500 prize to be given the producer of the first bale of cotton in the county.

Other business will include proposals on ways to improve urban-rural relations.

MRS. T. P. MUSGROVE J. G. LITTLEJOHN

Legion, Auxiliary Install Officers

The American Legion and Auxiliary have begun a new fiscal year under the leadership of J. G. Littlejohn and Mrs. T. P. Musgrove.

Littlejohn, civilian head of the parachute section at Webb AFB and a veteran with 20 years of military service, assumed command of the post. Mrs. Musgrove was installed as auxiliary president in joint ceremonies conducted Thursday by Mrs. Byron Hill, 19th district president, and Raymond Andrews, retiring 19th district commander.

Byron Hill, recently named district vice commander, assisted.

Other new officers installed were: M. K. Britton, second vice commander; R. O. Carrothers, third vice commander; Chester Cathey, adjutant; George Zachariah, finance officer; M. C. Grigsby, service-welfare officer; C. Vasquez, sergeant-at-arms; Clarence Daves, chaplain; and Carl Strom, historian.

New members of the executive committee are Chester Cathey, Jack Pearson, Ward Hall, Roscoe Cone and retiring commander, Joe Pendleton.

Auxiliary officers also include Mrs. Archie Segrest, first vice president; Mrs. W. A. Bynum, second vice president; Mrs. Roscoe Cone, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. G. Littlejohn, historian; Mrs. H. D. Bruton, sergeant at arms and Mrs. E. G. Britton, chaplain.

Joe Pendleton, retiring commander, served as presiding officer and charged the membership with increasing civic responsibilities due to increased membership and activity of the post.

"An improved financial structure will allow a greatly increased activity in civic betterment and welfare work," he said in calling for more active members to carry out the program.

Raymond Andrews, only Legion member to serve two terms as commander of a district, was honored by Pendleton. Andrews was drafted for a second term when the convention refused to elect a successor thereby making it mandatory that he serve again. He appeared in the traditional blue cap, insignia of a post level member. His election was effected by the Big Spring delegation at the 1958 convention for a two-year term. His record shows more mileage covered, more posts visited, larger membership gain and greater activity of posts than any other district commander. He charged the officers with the broad responsibility of maintaining the American Legion programs of patriotism, community service and welfare. Refreshments were served by the Auxiliary.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Opposed To Foreign Aid

To the editor:

Have you ever bought one real friend? And neither has our Republic. Yet we have spent over $5 billion since WWII under the guise of foreign aid trying. Much of this money has actually gone into the treasuries of Tito of Yugoslavia, Sukarno of Indonesia, Dictator Castro and a dozen other stooges of the Kremlin.

The whole scheme of foreign aid is of Communist origin. Joe Stalin in "Marxism and the National Question" copyrighted in 1942 by International Publishers Co., states—"It is essential that the advanced nations (countries) render aid, real and prolonged aid, to the backward nationalities in their cultural and economic development, to bring about peaceful coexistence of the toilers of the various nations within a single world economic system — this is essential for the triumph of socialism."

Foreign aid was sold to us as a means of fighting Communism. A line which many of us have swallowed, but what are the facts? The few people who sold the idea were the Communists and a few dupes. Among the earliest supporters of foreign aid were such traitors as Earl Browder, Alger Hiss and Harry Dexter White. It has never been opposed by the commons, and they know what they are doing.

Mr. Kennedy's foreign aid bill will be presented for final passage probably before the month is over. If you are opposed to the use of your tax money in this manner then stand up and be counted. Write your congressman and senators, House Office Bldg. or Senate Office Bldg. in Washington, D. C.

Lamesan Thinks Russians Are Not Ready For Nuclear War

LAMESA (SC)—A Lamesan who had modern combat experience against Soviet Union troops believes that the Communists are not ready for a nuclear war. He is convinced, however, that the Reds will fight for their ideals.

Sam Richardson, president of Lamesa Federal Savings & Loan Assn., a sergeant in the U. S. expeditionary forces sent to Siberia in 1918 to support the counter-revolutionary forces in the great Bolshevik revolution, became a close student of the Russian people since his 14-month tour and knows what communism is about.

Actually, Richardson is satisfied that the Western Allies and the United States could have dammed the flow of Bolshevism when it began in the USSR during the revolution.

The Allies wanted to occupy most of Russia and seal off the rebel forces. Since the United States was just emerging from the first World War, President Woodrow Wilson and Congress discounted the plan, feeling that the general public would demand a return of all troops.

COULD HAVE HALTED

"With the proper amount of financial and military support to the counter-revolutionaries, I believe we could have stopped communism then," Richardson said.

At that time he indicated that the Russians were poorly trained and had only what equipment that was stolen from the czar.

"Peasants and serfs made up the revolutionary movement," he recalled.

He returned to Russia in 1959 and acknowledged "a tremendous change in the field of education."

Richardson made no comparison of military strengths but noted that a Soviet militarist told him in 1959 that Russia could fight a 20th century war—"and the United States can too."

It would be a mistake to discount their military or scientific abilities, Richardson added, and warned that preparedness including that for nuclear war, if needs be, should be our policy.

He does not believe that Berlin will precipitate a war, adding that "I think the United States, its Allies and the Soviet Union will compromise. The Soviets have instigated various world crises for propaganda only."

The hope for revolution in Russia is a vain one, he thinks, for communism as an Utopian idea has been so deeply instilled with religious fervor that it's an obsession.

Open House For New Development

Digging will start at 1:30 p.m. in the area of 3710 Connally Street Sunday when children under 11 years of age dig for $300 in silver buried in the surrounding lots. At the same time an open house will be held by Thomason Enterprises, in the Douglass Addition No. 2.

The open house will be held at 3710 Connally where a completely furnished model home, which will be used as an office for the developer, will be open to the public. It is a three-bedroom home, with one and a half baths, modern, factory finished walnut cabinets, built-in range, oven, and vent-a-hood. The home is built to FHA specifications and is completely insulated.

Jack Henderson, project superintendent for Thomason Enterprises, said that approximately 135 homes were planned for the development which is bounded by Wasson Road on the west and north, by Connally on the east, and extends to a few lots south of Wasson Street. Thomason Enterprises began development of the addition about a month ago and the model home is one of the first completed.

The company is owned by a father and his two sons, Raymond Thomason Sr., Raymond Jr. and Monty. The partnership was organized in 1950 and since that time the men have been building homes and developing additions and shopping centers. The home office and residences of the three men are located in Abilene.

Some of the developments handled by Thomason Enterprises include Abilene, where they built River Oaks, a highly restricted area with homes ranging from $16,000 to $100,000; Wychwood Addition, with homes from $15,000 to $35,000; Wyndroch Addition, Southland Park, some in Elmwood West Addition; River Oaks Village Shopping Center (one of the largest shopping centers in West Texas); Sands Bowl, 24-lane bowling alley; Sands Hotel, a 100-unit ultra-modern hotel, all of the last three being owned and operated by the Thomasons; Midland, where they developed approximately two sections of land known as Permian Estates and Casa Loma, and Sands Hotel, 125-units which they own and operate; Amarillo, developed an addition known as Hillcrest Housing Development; Andrews, where they have built several new homes.

"The Thomason Enterprises have built over 2,500 homes in West Texas," Henderson said. "This is in addition to shopping centers and hotels."

Raymond Thomason Sr., who was in Big Spring Thursday to see that plans for the open house were completed, said that the residences in Douglass No. 2 Addition in Big Spring, would all be built to the same rigid specifications used in their other developments.

He also stated that zoning had been approved, and work started, on two more shopping centers at Midland and Abilene.

City Building Inspector Cites Permit Need

Big Spring's building inspector, Thomas L. Newton, has been faced recently with a few problems brought about by property owners who have started construction of additions, or have moved buildings on to lots, without building permits. A city ordinance, passed in 1929, requires a permit before the erection, construction, alteration, additions or moving, of any building within the city limits.

"I have come across some of these projects in covering the city," Newton said Friday, "and have notified owners of the ordinance. It is hard for me to know what is going on in every part of Big Spring. I feel that a great deal of embarrassment and expense could be saved property owners if they will make certain that they have permits for construction which meet the requirements of the ordinance and zoning."

A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, in citing the ordinance said that the city tries to take a realistic view of problems faced by property owners and that the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Zoning Board of Adjustment will view any request where problems arise, in the same realistic manner, where variances are asked for.

"There is just one thing that every owner needs to consider," he said. "If he plans to build, alter, move, or make an addition, he should first secure a permit. If the building inspector sees that requirements cannot be met, then the Planning and Zoning Commission should be approached if a zoning change is needed. If no zoning change is needed, but a variance is necessary to permit construction, the permit should be taken out and the problem brought before the Zoning Board of Adjustment."

The building ordinance gives the city the authority to stop construction, and even to force removal of the part already constructed when an owner begins work without a permit and the construction is not as it should be. If it is necessary to ask the owner to remove construction started, reasonable time is given. If the removal is not completed within the time given the ordinance states that each day thereafter constitutes a separate offense which can be costly.

"We strongly urge, and sincerely hope," Steinheimer said, "that every property owner makes an effort to be sure he is right before starting work, because the city authorities do not want to have to take action to punish violators."

Newton said that if a person is not sure of what he can do, the inspector's office would gladly explain the steps necessary.

"We are here to help build a better city," he said, "not to hinder progress. But it makes it hard on us when the ordinance is not observed."

Campaign Panel For Sen. Tower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., was appointed Friday a member of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

The committee's purpose is to work for election of more Republicans to the Senate. The appointment was announced by Sen. Barry Goldwater, chairman of the group.

Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Tower "is in greater demand as a speaker than any other member of the Senate and he is filling a great many such requests, despite his Senate duties, to further the Republican cause."

He said the addition of Tower to the campaign group "will enable us to make even greater use of the assistance he has to offer in the winning of additional Senate seats for the Republican party."

Water Has Ups And Downs

Treated water use in the City of Big Spring has had its ups and downs this year. The high day of the year so far was 9,945,000 gallons on June 1, and the low was June 16 with 2,553,000 gallons. At one time the average daily use was lagging by five million gallons. A recent upsurge has reduced this average daily deficit by two million gallons.

July water usage for the city showed 150,847,000 gallons, and that used by Cosden and Cabot 46,801,000 gallons.

Water usage for the calendar year is running far behind last year's. Through July 1960, city users had taken 1,127,662,300 gallons, while for the same period of 1961, only 988,354,000 had been used.

Total usage through July 1960, including city and Cosden and Cabot, was 1,405,136,000, and through July 1961 was 1,276,719,000 gallons, or a decrease of 128,220,000 for the same period last year.

The heavy rains covering the area this year has lessened the need for lawn watering, but City Manager A. K. Steinhilber said if the usual trend is followed usage will go up during the remainder of August and early September.

Lot Cleaning Goes Slowly

The weed-cutting and lot cleaning program started by the city three weeks ago is going along slowly, but still making progress. Fire Marshal A. D. Meador, said Friday. The city has crews cleaning its property, along with street borders to the owners' lines.

"We sent out letters asking property owners to rid their lots of the weeds and trash," Meador said, "and we have had, up to now, about a 50 per cent compliance. We have just turned over names of several owners to the city attorney who will file an owners' failure to comply with the city ordinance. We have a few more on whom we will file."

"We have received letters from some who have apologized for being negligent in keeping their property clean, and who have taken immediate action. A few non-residents have asked us to have the work done and send them bills. We believe most owners want to see a clean city, and are hesitant to take action. But the property in some areas is unsightly, constituting fire hazards, insect breeding places."

Meador said that costs of hiring someone to clean property for owners will constitute liens on the property if the city had to take action.

Sheriff Seeks Local Teller Of Tall Tales

STERLING CITY — Sheriff F. J. Cantrell would like to get in touch with John E. Messer, 46, Big Spring.

"If I can get my hands on him, I'll charge him with giving an officer false information," the Sterling County sheriff said.

Officers in Abilene would like to find Messer, too. They hold a felony warrant for him.

Messer caused a lot of extra work for numerous peace officers on Saturday afternoon.

Cantrell said the man came into the sheriff's office at Sterling City around 4 p.m. He had been beaten up and was bloody and weary.

He told Cantrell that he and his wife had picked up a hitchhiker and that, 12 miles from Sterling City on the Robert Lee highway, the hitchhiker had attacked him.

He had been thrown from his car, he said, and the hitchhiker drove away in the car with Mrs. Messer. That was about noon, he said.

Cantrell called Big Spring and a search for Mrs. Messer was initiated. Last night, Capt. Walter Eubanks of the Big Spring police found Mrs. Messer quietly at her job as a waitress in a Big Spring eating place. She knew nothing about the kidnapping episode, she told Eubanks.

Messer had described the car which he told Cantrell the hitchhiker had taken. Big Spring officers found the car parked in front of a house in Big Spring. It had no gasoline tank and could not be driven anywhere, the police said.

Meantime, Messer had left the sheriff's office in Sterling City. He had not been located at 11 p.m. Saturday.

First Load Of Howard County Maize

The first load of Howard County grain for 1961 came in to Big Spring Grain Co. elevator at 401 E. 1st, at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. It was raised on the J. F. Winans farm, a half mile south of Vealmore and was brought to the elevator by H. N. Vance.

The 25-acre tract is yielding approximately 3,000 pounds per acre. The price Saturday was $1.60 per hundred pounds of dry grain. The moisture content of the load was not known. Last year's price at the same time ran from $1.35 to $1.40.

Action Swift In Friday's Rodeo

Action was swift and spills sudden in Friday night's events at the 16th annual Howard County Junior rodeo. Ten riders in the two sections of the bareback bronc riding event left the chutes but failed to make a ride, leaving a 100 per cent score for the broncs.

Spectators were treated to a couple of unusual sights during the evening's performances. In the ribbon roping contest, where the roper had a girl as a partner who grabs a ribbon from the roped animal's tail and runs to a judge, J. L. Keenley of Crane roped his calf quickly and the young lady raced past the calf without a stop, grabbing the ribbon and making it to the judge with a time of 10.9 seconds. This was three seconds longer than the next best time.

In the goat hair pulling events—where a roper was to loop his goat and a girl grab a handful of goat hair and race to the judge—one roper had an educated goat to contend with. The animal quickly circled back as he left the pen, jumped through a partially open gate and out of sight. He was brought back to the arena where he went to the wall, leaned against it and slowly wormed his way down arena where he went into a hole and under the stands.

3 Per Cent Hike

AUSTIN (AP)—Forty more people have died on Texas highways this year than last, an increase of 3 per cent.

South Vietnamese Cut Red Supplies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Crack South Vietnamese troops are operating in southern Laos to cut the flow of Communist supplies and guerrilla reinforcements moving down from Red North Viet Nam, highly informed sources here say.

There are also strong indications that even U.S.-trained units are working in Communist North Viet Nam.

Some observers feel these could be the beginning steps in a program to turn the tables against the Communists who for almost seven years have sent a steady flow of guns and men to feed civil war in South Viet Nam.

Government officials here smile and then deny that any South Vietnamese troops operate outside the nation's borders. U.S. officials also have denials or no comment.

But highly reliable sources report that special troops have taken up strategic positions along the routes the Reds use through southwest Laos—known in Saigon as the Ho Chi Minh trail.

This pathway of subversion is named for North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh. It begins far to the north and moves down through the unguarded mountains of Laos, skirting the well-patrolled 17th parallel border that separates the Communist North from pro-Western South Viet Nam.

Along this route, the Reds have been able to move men and guns in relative safety right into central South Viet Nam. High South Vietnamese officials say there has been a sharp upswing of Communist activity recently in that thinly populated region.

Intelligence reports show that forest where it belongs," he said. He did not elaborate on this statement.

Goldwater said he would be glad to help any Republican candidate in Texas in future elections, but only if invited to do so. His aid is mostly in organization, he said, and not in getting votes.

Sen. Barry Goldwater spoke in his figurative senatorial toga instead of under his star as a brigadier general as he addressed the Texas AFB dining-in Saturday.

Some 500 officers, together with half a dozen guests represented in the Chamber of Commerce base-community division, were on hand for the formal affair held in the Officers Club.

He paused to remark about the reports he had received of exceptionally good base-community relations here and said that this was more important to the military than could be imagined.

In characteristic manner he spoke crisply, testily and without misunderstanding, stressing the rights and obligations of good citizenship regardless of career or profession. In a question and answer period he handled a barrage of hot questions with the aplomb of a good third baseman.

Sen. Goldwater, who was putting in flying time, and Col. Edward Witzemberger of the Legislative and Liaison Office in Washington, D. C., hastened off to their T-33 to fly back to the national capital in order to try to catch up with work today.

"I can't dictate like a lot of these fellows," he said. "My correspondence comes the hard way—hunt and peck typing."

It had been a busy day with visits first at Craig AFB and then at Williams AFB before arriving here late in the afternoon to be met by Col. Donald Eisenhart, wing commander, and Deputy Commander Col. August Taute.

Daniel Signs Closure Law

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel has signed into law the new Saturday or Sunday closing law.

The governor signed the bill late Friday. It prohibits sale of certain articles on either Saturday or Sunday, according to the merchant's religious beliefs. Most articles are commonly sold by discount houses.

The articles include motor vehicles, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils, home appliances, air conditioners, radios and television sets, cameras, hardware, jewelry, toys, mattresses, floor coverings, draperies, building materials and lawn mowers.

Each sale would be a separate offense. Violators will be fined $100 on first conviction, with penalties up to $500 fine and six months in jail for subsequent convictions.

The bill was finally passed Aug. 7. The bill goes into effect Nov. 6.

calls by the Honorable (Speaker) Sam Rayburn, and others asking him to include this in this session?"

Another block to adjournment of the session, which once seemed just minutes away about 3:30 p.m., was the differences over a measure (HB 2) letting the state delay contributions to the teacher retirement fund. Rep. Dewitt Hale, head of the second set of House negotiators, said he will try again Monday to get agreement on the issue.

The major task of the special session was accomplished Friday night when the Senate accepted House amendments and sent to the governor the $810 annual pay raise for public school teachers.

The governor's office said the pay raise measure is being checked by the state comptroller and will not be ready for signing until next week.

Few names were mentioned in floor debate but members of both houses made informal comments about telephone calls and wires from the offices of Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Texas' top Democratic office holders, and from Sen. John Tower, the new Republican.

Texas Republicans claim the runoff proposals were inspired by Democrats who want to assure that the final balloting in two upcoming congressional elections will pit a Democrat against a Republican. The elections, not yet scheduled, will be for successors to U. S. Reps. Paul Kilday of Wichita Falls. Both are expected to resign to take other jobs.

Saturday was the 172nd day the legislature has been in session this year, most of the time being spent on spending and taxing issues.

The big sales tax bill and appropriations bill finally passed just before the first special session deadline last Tuesday midnight. Two other controversial issues of that session were signed into law Friday night and Saturday by the governor—a so-called Sunday closing law and an abandoned property seizure act. Neither will be effective until Nov. 6.

Flood Damage At Albuquerque

By The Associated Press
Thundershowers broke out Saturday in the warm, humid air over the Deep South and heavy rains at Albuquerque, N. M., caused some flood damage.

Mounting humidity and a drop in wind velocity in western Montana aided fire fighters in their battle against the Northwest's biggest forest fires in a quarter of a century.

Aid Pledged

July New Potential Keeps Area Ahead Of Year Ago

Drilling activity in the eight-county area continued steadily during July, keeping the total ahead of a year ago in almost every category.

At the end of July, 247 new wells totaled 29,864.34 barrels of new oil and 2.3 million cubic feet of gas compared to 221 completions for 27,226.96 barrels of new potential last year.

In July, 35 field wells and one wildcat brought in 4,673.52 barrels of new oil, only 501.54 barrels below June, which was the highest month of the year. There were 68 new sites staked, 12 being exploratory projects. In June there were 45 field locations and nine prospectors staked.

Dawson County, with 1,511.99 barrels of new potential, took the lead from Martin County for the first time since February. Martin County trailed with 1,246 barrels.

Four counties tied in the number of completions. Garza, Howard Martin and Mitchell counties had seven each. Dawson County had six and Borden and Glasscock counties, one each. Sterling County had no new wells.

Glasscock County registered its third discoverer of the year. It was an oiler flowing 260 barrels of oil on initial potential. The Wolfcamp pay was added to the Strawn and Ellenburger in the Red Loflin, North field in Garza County.

Howard County led in location with 25 field sites and one wildcat location. Mitchell County had 13 staked in the field and one prospector. Dawson County registered 11 field sites and two explorers.

BORDEN

One new well in the Good field registered 261.12 barrels of new potential to account for all the production in this county during July. Last month there were two completions for 654 barrels.

Three wildcats were dusters and three new sites were staked. Two were explorers and the other was in the Good, Southeast field.

DAWSON

Although several other counties were credited with more completions, none surpassed the 1,511.99 barrels of new potential registered by six wells. Three were in Ackerly, Northwest field and there was one in each of the Felken, Welch and Wells fields. Biggest producer was Ard No. 3 Jones, which flowed 498 barrels of new oil in the Wells field.

Thirteen new sites were filed. Six were in the Ackerly, Northwest field. There was one in the Felken, Lamesa, West, Spraberry Trend, Welch and Wells fields. Two sites were explorers. One wildcat was a duster.

GARZA

General American Oil Co. No. 3-743 Koonsman shared the spotlight this month as it added the Wolfcamp to the Strawn and Ellenburger pays of the Red Loflin, North field. The well was completed for 158 barrels of new oil through perforations between 6,043-49 feet.

Total new potential was 568.40 barrels from seven field completions. There were two in the Post, and one in the Koonsman, Huntley, East, Red Loflin, North, Justiceburg, Northwest and Dorward fields. One explorer was a duster. Three new wildcats were staked and the Kirkpatrick and Justiceburg fields each gained a new site.

GLASSCOCK

Texas National Petroleum Co. No. 1 Edmund Tom flowed 260

barrels of new oil from Wolfcamp between 5,680-79 feet for the biggest discovery of the month. No other completions were logged and there were no new locations. One wildcat was plugged and abandoned.

HOWARD

After 11 or more new wells each month during the previous three months, the county dropped to seven oilers for a total of 391.25 barrels of new potential. Four wells were in the Iatan-East Howard field and three were in the Snyder field.

The Howard-Glasscock field gained 15 new sites, the Snyder field, 10, and there was one wildcat staked. The county led in locations with 26, almost twice that of Mitchell County, which registered 14 new sites.

MARTIN

For the first time this year Martin County played second fiddle in new potential production. Seven field wells had a total of 1,246 barrels of new oil.

The Mabee field led with three new wells. There were two in the Spraberry Trend area and the Breedlove and Billington fields each had one. One Breedlove test was plugged and abandoned along with one wildcat.

Two wildcats, two projects in the Spraberry Trend area and one in the Breedlove field were staked by operators.

MITCHELL

Seven field wells brought in 434.76 barrels of new oil on initial potential. Five were in the Turner - Gregory field and there was one in each of the Westbrook and Sharon Ridge (1,700) fields.

The Sharon Ridge (1,700) field gained eight locations; the Iatan - East Howard, three and Westbrook, two. One prospector was filed.

STERLING

The county was blanked for the fourth time this year as no completions were reported. There was one location in the Clark field and one explorer.

Watkins Is New Trustee

Roy Watkins, president of local No. 826 of the International Union of Operating Engineers, has been named regional trustee for oil and allied industries.

He was named to the post at the regional meeting held recently at Galveston. Watkins will serve on the general board along with trustees to represent the hoisting and the stationary divisions. His territory will encompass Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. Watkins has been active here in civic as well as in labor affairs.

Leases Down Second Time In Past Year

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Oil and gas acreage leases in the United States declined by nearly two million acres last year.

The decline was the second for the domestic industry since the end of World War II.

The industry had 422.3 million acres under lease Dec. 31, compared to a record 424.2 million at the end of 1959.

All of the decline resulted from leases held in unexplored or non-productive areas.

Leases in proven areas climbed 700,000 acres to a record 25.8 million but non-productive leases declined 2.6 million to 396.5 million acres.

The figures reflect the industry's problems of oversupply. The world surplus of crude oil has caused many domestic operators to place more emphasis on less expensive development wells and pour less money into risky wildcats in unproven areas.

The 1960 figures were released this week in the latest edition of "The Oil Industry in Your State," a biannual publication of the independent petroleum association of America begun compiling in 1951.

The seven editions published so far reflect impressive growth by the industry the past decade despite recurring problems of too much oil.

Completions Lag Behind Last Year

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission reported Saturday 220 oil wells were completed during last week. It boosts the total for the year to 5,767, compared to 6,133 last year.

There were 39 gas well completions, bringing the gas total for the year to 1,877. There were 1,192 gas wells completed this time last year. There were 133 dry holes and 198 wells plugged. Wildcats drilled were 6 oil and no gas wells.

The total average calendar day allowable was 2,651,384 barrels as compared with 2,638,316 last week.

Howard-Glasscock Field Gained 15 New Sites

The Howard-Glasscock field gained 15 new sites, the Snyder field, 10, and there was one wildcat staked. The county led in locations with 26, almost twice that of Mitchell County, which registered 14 new sites.

Paint Manufacture Is An Exacting Process

Most of us have taken a brush or roller in hand and applied a coat of paint to a wall or a piece of furniture. Probably few have stopped to wonder what goes into the preparation of that paint so that it will meet our requirements.

Paint manufacture is more than mixing together the proper materials, according to Anthony Bozich, chemist at the Cactus Paint Manufacturing Co. on US 80 east.

First a small sample is made in the laboratory. This is tested for viscosity, ability to hide the object being painted, grind of its components, color, ability to dry in the required time, gloss, weight per gallon, and for water paints, the PH factor. This PH indicates the proper balance between acidity and alkalinity to keep the paint at the proper consistency.

Once the chemist has determined that the paint is right for the purpose it is intended, he calculates the quantity of each substance for a required amount of paint. These materials then go through a process of dispersion and color mixing.

Again the paint must be tested to insure that it is the same as the laboratory sample. Finally it is ready to be canned.

Despite the beauty which the finished product is capable of rendering, the production points are far from glamorous — huge containers, mixers splattered with paint of many colors and rows upon rows of cans. But they get the job done, according to Rodney Roberts, production manager.

The basic components of paint are a finely divided powder called pigment and a liquid called the vehicle. In addition fillers are added to prevent hard settling of pigments during storage. Talacs give smoothness; and tints provide color. These components vary depending on uses of the paint.

Special problems peculiar to this area must be considered when making paint for West Texas, Bozich said.

Paint must dry quickly or it becomes contaminated by sand. Lead frequently cannot be used as a pigment because it turns black from exposure to hydrogen sulfide gases present in the area.

Extended sunny periods expose paint to ultra violet light which may cause it to break down and flake. One of the most difficult elements to combat is fading in the sun.

Many persons cannot distinguish between differing yet close shades of color, but wish an exact match for furniture, drapes, etc. In cases where the exact color is not in stock it must be made. Mickey Russell is the tinter for the plant.

"He has a marvelous eye for color," Bozich said.

About 2,000 gallons of paint are made each week at the plant. The firm serves an area as far away as Abilene, Amarillo, Dallas and parts of New Mexico. The company makes full lines of architectural (building) and industrial paints.

Owners of the corporation are E. B. McCormick, president; C. E. Campbell, vice president; Don Campbell, sales manager, and W. K. Jackson. McCormick is chief engineer at Cosden's Big Spring refinery.

Mitchell Has New Project; Others Drilling

Mitchell County gained a new site and projects in other counties were reported making hole.

The new site is A. L. Holley, et al, Big Spring, No. 7 W. L. Foster Estate in the Iatan-East Howard field. It spots 2,317 feet from the south and 1,664 feet from the west lines of section 46-22-1n, T&P survey, seven miles southwest of Westbrook and is projected to 3,500 feet by rotary.

A Borden County project, Conoco No. 1-4 T. S. Good is making hole below 5,828 feet. It is in the Good, Southeast (Fusselman) field and is 550 feet from the north and 77 feet from the east lines of section 4-32-3n, T&P survey.

Progress on six Conoco projects were reported in Dawson County. The No. 1-A J. Archer, spotting C NE NW, section 45-34-4n, T&P survey, in the Ackerly, Northwest (Dean) field, is drilling below 4,715 feet.

No. 1 Odessa Davenport, C SW NE, section 11-34-3n, T&P survey, in the same field, has bottomed at 8,530 feet and fractured perforations at 8,327 feet, 8,352 feet and 8,421 feet with an unreported amount.

Their No. 1 N. J. Etheridge is making hole below 6,660 feet. It is C SW NE, section 33-34-4n, T&P survey.

No. 1 J. L. Toole, a one-mile northwest outpost to the Ackerly (Dean) field, is digging below 3,915 feet. It is C SW NW, section 39-34-4n, T&P survey.

The No. 1 L. C. White is drilling below 4,641 feet. This Ackerly, Northwest (Dean) site is C SW NW, section 9-34-T&P survey.

The final Conoco project is No. 1 J. M. Womack, spotting C NE SW, section 40-34-4n, T&P survey. It is digging below 4,915 feet.

Another Dawson County site, BTA Oil No. 1-AT T. M., is in rotary. The Pennsylvania wildcat is C SW SW SW, section 33-34-5n, T&P survey, four miles southwest of Midway.

Man-Size Mixer

During the first mixing step in preparing paint, the pigments are mixed with just enough liquid to provide adequate dispersion. The "pony mixer" shown above is then used to stir in the remaining resins and liquid vehicles which keep the paint in suspension so they can be easily applied to a surface. The mixer is one of several employed by the Cactus Paint Manufacturing Company.

Area Rigs Up Five For Week

One Million Gallon Container

In an area where often the only economic supply of usable water is rainfall, farmers and ranchers must provide adequate storage. Diversionary terraces guide rainwater into this tank on the Griffin Ranch in Borden County. The tank will hold 7,000 cubic yards of water, or about 1,310,400 gallons.

Ponds And Terraces Answer Some Ranch Water Problems

Farmers and ranchers in this area are continually working toward solutions to water problems. Where the only water available is rainfall, they build tanks to catch the water and store it for dry years.

Three such projects have recently been completed through the Great Plains Conservation Program, according to Ben Day, work unit conservationist.

The largest project was building two farm ponds for watering cattle on the T. L. Griffin Ranch in the southeast portion of Borden County. Each pond is a container for 7,000 cubic yards of water. This is approximately 1,310,400 gallons.

"Figuring each animal will require 10 gallons a day," Day said, "Griffin estimates each hole will give about a three year supply of water."

Building a storage tank is more than merely digging a hole in the ground, according to T. R. (Blackie) Morris, conservationist. The tank must be in a location where it can catch water, and it must be able to retain the water long enough for cattle to use it.

The ponds on the Griffin ranch were built with varying slopes on the sides. The upstream side, where the water enters the pond, slopes more gently than the other sides. This allows cattle to drink easily no matter what the level of the water.

Diversionary terraces were used to direct drainage water. In the area drainage is fast and normally only a small amount would be caught in the pond. Diversionary terraces make a great funnel to bring in water which falls over a wide area.

Redbeds, out of which the pond was constructed—provide an excellent container which will lose very little through absorption and seepage.

The tanks are 20 feet deep, giving a minimum surface area for costly losses through evaporation. The depth also keeps water from freezing during the winter and at the same time keeps it cool during summer months.

The tanks on the Griffin ranch cost $675 each and diversionary terraces cost $64 each.

A similar pond was completed Saturday at the Kent Morgan ranch, 10 miles northeast of Big Spring. Morgan is putting in a 5,000 cubic yard tank and diversion terrace to catch drainage water.

Another project recently completed is a 5,000 cubic yard pond on the Horace Garrett ranch near Forsan.

All these projects were finished with the help of the Great Plains Conservation Program whereby 50 per cent of the cost is defrayed with government funds.

Findlater To Receive Degree

Fifty-five Master's and 92 Bachelor's degrees will be awarded by Sul Ross State College at the summer convocation, Aug. 20, bringing the total number of graduates for the school year 1960-61 to 238.

Student from this area who will receive a degree is John Findlater, B. S., Big Spring. Emil C. Rassman, Midland attorney, and member of the Texas Teachers College Board of Regents will deliver the commencement address.

New 'Railroad' Goes Into Operation Here

The day of new railroads is not exactly passed. In fact, there's a new one around here—a miniature one, that is.

Park Lane Railroad has at last received its engine and three cars for their run over the 400-ft. track at Park Lane and Thorpe Road.

The engine is a 26 h.p. V-4 Wisconsin air-cooled type but the locomotive is designed to look like a T&P Diesel. In fact, the T&P Eagle colors are used on the engine and cars. The rolling equipment is 47 feet long and has air brakes. The cars are large enough to accommodate parents as well as youngsters.

Susan Doerr Sets Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Susan Doerr, 16-year-old Philadelphia schoolgirl, cracked a five-hour world record Saturday in winning the 100-meter butterfly title of the Women's National AAU outdoor swimming and diving championships. She was clocked in 1:08.2.

The high school junior from the Vesper Boat Club came from behind in the last 25 meters to beat Kathy Ellis, 14, of the Indianapolis A.C. and Mary Stewart, 15, the Canadian champion who had first smashed the listed world record of 1:09.1 in the qualifying heats.

Miss Ellis was second in 1:08.5, also under the record, and Miss Stewart third in 1:08.5.

The Canadian girl was clocked in 1:08.8 in leading the eight qualifiers for the final. This clipped three-tenths of a second off the elapsed world mark of 1:09.1 set by Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., at Chicago Sept. 2, 1959.

Miss Doerr, a member of the 1960 Olympic team, was crowned shortly after Barbara McAlister, 20, of Los Angeles won the platform diving title. She clinched the title with brilliant exhibitions on her final three dives.

Carolyn House, 15, from the Los Angeles A.C., became the first double winner of the meet, when she captured the 400-meter freestyle to go with her 1500-meter title. Miss House's time was 4:52.3.

Donna De Varona, 14-year-old Olympian from Lafayette, Calif., also became a double champion when she captured the 200-meter individual medley in the American record time of 2:35.0. Donna won the 400-meter individual medley Friday night.

Dale Barnard, an unknown from Washington, D. C., celebrated her 14th birthday by taking the 100-meter breaststroke crown in a rousing upset. She swam almost unnoticed in the eighth and outside lane and lead all the way to win in 1:22.6.

The Vesper Boat Club led all the way to win the 400-meter freestyle relay final by about seven yards over the Multnomah A.C. quartet in the meet record time of 44:17.

In the team scoring, the Los Angeles A.C. led with 42 points. The Vesper B.C. was second with 41½ followed by Santa Clara's defenders, 27. Northern Virginia A.C., 20. Multnomah A.C., 18. Indianapolis 17.

Thinking Man Is Chicago Winner

CHICAGO (AP) — Thinking Man, owned by Theodore D. Buhl of Lexington, Ky., defeated Bushel-N-Peck by a head in the $2,000 Olympia Handicap at Arlington Park Saturday.

Mrs. Mary H. Hunter's Bluecock, the favorite at 2-1, was two lengths back for third in the 7-furlong race for 3-year-olds.

Thinking Man, paid $18, $6.80 and $4.20. The time was 1:22 2/5.

Cash Would Emulate Runnels' Feat

Minoso Blast Boosts Sox Past A's

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnie Minoso's No. 12 homer in the fourth inning Saturday stood up as the winning blow in the Chicago White Sox's 2-1 victory over the Kansas City A's.

The against-the-wind blast, which barely cleared the left field wall, assured ex-Athletic Lee Herbert of his 8th triumph and pinned ex-White Sox Bob Shaw with his 11th loss.

Herbert, who has 10 defeats, delivered 10 hits, striking out two and walking 3.

Luis Aparicio scored for the Sox in the first inning, leading off with a single to hit safely in his last 14 games. He stole second for his 39th theft of the season, was sacrificed to third by Nellie Fox and came across on Floyd Robinson's single.

The A's only run came in the opening inning when Dick Houser led off with a double. He went to third as Jim Rivera was thrown out and scored when Wayne Causey came at first on an unassisted play.

ASA Tournament A 24-Hour Show

BROWNWOOD (AP) — Die-hard softball players pitched and batted around the clock during the night in the marathon that is the Annual American Softball Association state tournament.

The games were scheduled to halt during the week morning hours, but night games ran head-on into Saturday morning's games.

Twenty teams are playing in the double elimination tournament at two parks here.

Seven games were scheduled at each of two parks beginning at 6 p.m. Friday. At Daniel Baker park, the schedule was completed at 4:30 a.m. today.

But at Sportsman Park, three games went extra innings — one for 9, another for 10 and one for 15. Softball games normally are seven innings. The final game still was under way at 7:40 a.m. when day games were scheduled to begin.

Games are scheduled for as late as 11 a.m. Sunday, but softball fans are preparing for another probably all-night session.

It'll Be Yanks, Dodgers In Series, Poll Reveals

The New York Yankees will meet and beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1961 World Series, according to 64 per cent of the nation's sports editors.

The annual sports editor poll was made by the producers of the fall TV sports spectacular "World Series Special" (October 3, 10:30 p.m. (ET), ABC-TV) and sponsored by the makers of "Preston" anti-freeze.

In the American League race, 85 per cent of the press sports experts guess the Yanks would capture the pennant while Detroit, the current runner-up, was selected by only 11 per cent.

Los Angeles, now number two in the National League, was picked by 69 per cent of the experts to gain top spot in the league while Cincinnati was named by only 23 per cent. The San Francisco Giants and the Milwaukee Braves tied, each receiving less than 2 per cent of the votes for league winner.

Poll was taken to help the TV

Richardson Impressed With Ramsey

Bill Richardson, who helped coach the victorious West Texas team in the Eight-Man All-Star football game at Huntsville last week, says Gail's Carroll Ramsey was a defensive wizard in the contest, good enough to figure where the opposition was going with its plays in advance and quick enough to invariably meet the foe at the line of scrimmage . . . Richardson also says he could take a boy like Big Spring's Keny Kesterson, who didn't play high school football but who starred in the Steer-Exes game the past spring, and win the District 5-B championship with him . . . Kesterson chose track over football and has accepted a scholarship at HCCJC this fall . . . That recent exhibition between the Dallas Cowboys and the Minnesota Vikings in Sioux Falls, S. Fuller Is Named A Coaching Aide Leon Fuller, a 1961 graduate of the University of Alabama, has been named to the Big Spring High School coaching staff. Head coach and athletic director Emmett McKenzie made the announcement Saturday.

Fuller, a native of Nederland, Texas, played football at both Tyler Junior College and Alabama. As a member of the Crimson Tide club, he appeared in two bowl games, the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia as a junior and the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston last fall.

The new member of the Steer staff was coached in both junior high school and high school by McKenzie.

As a grinder in college, Fuller was recognized as one of the outstanding defensive players in the Southeastern Conference. He will work principally with the defense here.

He played both offensive half-back and defensive safely under coach Bear Bryant at Alabama. In addition to his bowl appearances with Alabama, Fuller performed on one of Tyler JC's bowl teams and appeared in an all-star game in the South following last season.

He succeeds Neal Morgan as a coach here, Morgan quit recently to become a classroom teacher in Nederland.

Fuller will arrive in Big Spring Wednesday to assume his duties. He would be here sooner, but for the fact that he has to take an Army physical at Houston. He is married but has no children.

McKenzie has also announced the resignation of Bill Tindol, seventh grade coach at Goliad Junior High here for one year. Tindol is working for an oil company in Green River, Wyo., and informed McKenzie he planned to stay with that position.

Ryne Duren Tames Tribe Behind Angels, 3 to 0

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ryne Duren pitched a three-hitter and a rookie Tom Satriano hit a two-run homer — his first major league hit — to give the Los Angeles Angels a 3-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians Saturday.

Duren had a one-hitter until Don Dillard singled and Jim Piersall beat out a hunt. But Duren retired Tito Francona to salvage his shutout and his first complete game in the majors.

Ted Kluszewski hit his 13th homer of the year in the fourth inning in putting the Angels ahead 1-0. Satriano's came in the ninth, also scoring Del Rice, who had singled.

After walking leadoff batter, Johnny Temple, Duren retired 14 straight batters until Power got the first hit, a single through the middle in the sixth.

Duren (5-10), acquired from the New York Yankees in May, struck out seven and walked only one.

Milwaukee Slams Chicago, 8 to 6

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Frank Thomas cracked a three-run homer with two out in the ninth to boost the Milwaukee Braves to an 8-6 comeback victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

The blast came after Eddie Mathews had walked and had moved to third on a single to sharp right by Joe Adcock with two out. It wiped out a Chicago lead picked up on four walks by Milwaukee relief specialist Don McMahon in the top of the ninth.

The Cubs drove Milwaukee starter Bob Hendley from the mound with a four-run sixth featuring a home run with two on by George Altman and a solo shot by pitcher Don Cardwell. That gave the Cubs a five-run lead.

The Braves narrowed the count in their half of the sixth as Hank Aaron unloaded his 30th homer, Eddie Mathews had walked. Milwaukee tied the game and drove out Cardwell with two more runs in the seventh.

15-Year-Old Breaks Mark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mary Stewart, 15-year-old Canadian champion, broke the world record by three-tenths of a second today in a qualifying heat of the 100-meter butterfly in the women's national AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving Championships.

The Vancouver, B.C., girl was timed in 1:08.8. This bettered the listed world mark of 1:09.1 set by Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., at Chicago Sept. 2, 1959.

Phillies Lose 15th In Row

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies lost their 15th straight game Saturday — a new club record — as the Pittsburgh Pirates shut them out 4-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell.

The Phils' previous record losing streak of 14 was set by the 1963 club and matched by the 1956 team. Their current string of 15 is the longest in the majors this year.

In failing to score, the Phils stretched their string of scoreless innings to 25 1-3.

Mizell gave up only five singles, struck out one and walked only one as he won his sixth of the year against eight losses. Jim Owens (1-7) was the loser.

Smoky Burgess, Pirate catcher, got the 1,000th hit of his major league career in the seventh when he singled. He also drove in a run with a single in the fourth.

Beau Prince Again Wins

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Beau Prince kept alive his hopes for the 3-year-old title Saturday as he carried Calumet Farm's silks to an easy victory in the 92nd running of the $83,400 Travers — America's oldest horse race.

Under Steve Brooks, the son of Bull Lea took the lead heading into the backstretch after taking advantage of the slow early pace, quickly opened up a wide margin and coasted home for his second straight stakes triumph. Last Saturday the Calumet ace won the American Derby at Arlington Park.

Beau Prince, kept out of the early spring stakes by illness, stepped the 1¼ miles in 2:03 with 126 pounds in the saddle to give Calumet its first victory in the ancient stake since Whirlaway carried off the honors in 1941.

The Calumet colt finished ½ lengths in front of Mrs. Robert Dotter's stretch running Gudacanal, who just beat out Robert Lehman's Amibiopole. They came hitting away, with ran closest to Beau Prince for nearly a mile, Tutankhamen, the favorite Ring Around, Injun and Orleans Doge.

For his fifth victory in 13 starts this year, Beau Prince picked up $51,210 and boosted his 1961 bankroll to $188,347. His backers in the mutuels were paid off at $10.20, $4.80 and $3.10.

Ventnor 'Cap Win To Merry Ruler

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Merry Ruler scored a neck victory in the $32,050 Ventnor Turf Handicap Saturday at Atlantic City race track with the stretch run of the 1-16-mile grass course test resembling a cavalry charge as 16 three-year-old horses drove for the finish line.

Wilshire Farm's Niksar finished second in the blanket finish, a half length before Eikcam Stable's Opus.

The English-bred winner negotiated the distance in 1:43. His backers received $10.80, $6.00 and $4.80.

Louise Suggs Is Women's Leader

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Louise Suggs finished with two birdies and an eagle Saturday for a two-over-par 76 and a total of 223 strokes for the third-round lead in the $7,500 Kansas City Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Suggs had played poorly for 15 holes and apparently was about to go out of contention when she made her great rally.

The veteran from Atlanta will enter Sunday's final round with a two-stroke lead over Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., who flared to a 78 Saturday for 225.

Miss Suggs and Miss Rawls started the third round as coteleaders with 147.

Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., shot a 73 to move into third place with a 226.

Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., and Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., shared 4th and 5th positions with 230s.

Action At Fort Hood

An unidentified Fort Hood player takes a swing at a pitch in a two-inning exhibition game between Fort Hood and Big Spring, which officially got the YCAA Junior Invitational Baseball tournament under way at Fort Hood the past week. Big Spring won the abbreviated contest, 1-0. The catcher is Al Clanton, who performed for the Cosden Oilers during the season.

Tigers Play Double Bill In BS Park

Idle the past couple of weeks, the Big Spring Tigers return to play here at 1 o'clock today in Steer Park.

The Bengals, 12-13 on the season, play two games but meet different foes in the doubleheader. The locals open play against Midland, then catch Grandfalls in the second joust. Admission price has been pegged at a modest 50 cents for the twin attraction.

Chubby Moser (6-1), Danny Valdes (4-3) and Charley Fierro (1-2) shoulder pitching duties for the Tigers.

Other starters are due to be Pat Martinis at first base, Andy Gamban at second base, Charlie Fierro at third base, Jimmy Fierro at shortstop, Lonnie Rivers in left field, Bob Bellamy in center field, Billy Weatherall in right field and Robert Dutchover behind the plate.

Manager Dutchover will probably shuffle his lineup quite a bit in the second engagement.

Dutchover said the team had not been playing because he had been unable to line up suitable opponents and due to the fact that several of the players had been on vacation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Helping Hand Is Needed; LL Prexy Extends Thanks

Dear Sir: Not so many years ago our forefathers were looking forward to going to a little school house where they taught reading, writing, and arithmetic with great pride and with the desire to learn. Today most towns have fine schools and fine teachers for their children to get a complete high school education.

Do parents take the interest, time and pride enough to go to school and see for themselves what the teachers are trying to do for their boys and girls—or is it taken for granted? Our schools are the backbone of our nation and the men and women of tomorrow depend on what we do as parents today.

Mr. and Mrs. Big Spring, when our school doors open August 31, let's get the spirit that Big Spring schools are the best, that we have the best teachers, that we will take the time to visit and help with the many school activities that require the parents help and support our physical education program. Our President of the United States asked us to promote and support the building of strong and healthy bodies in our boys and girls. We need to support our athletic program; our coaches need your support.

ROY BENNETT, JIMMIE FELTS (Co-captains, Big Spring Quarterback Club)

Dear Editor: On behalf of The National Little League of Big Spring, Texas, I would like to express my appreciation to you and your wonderful staff for the fine coverage of our baseball games in the Little League program this year and in years past.

Your coverage of these games has made it possible for some 240-250 boys to read their names in print in the box scores each week, and maybe see a picture of themselves or their coach. This is a very encouraging thing to a youngster of 8-12 years of age, and I am very grateful to you and your staff for the great interest you have shown in our program.

JAMES R. HORTON, Pres. National Little League

ninth flight. All four of those golfers are Big Spring residents.

Jack Wilson of Big Spring and Tommy Noel of Weatherford, formerly of Big Spring, were among other players entered in the tournament, which attracted 152 players, in all—enough for ten flights.

The champion won a set of irons, as well as a trophy. Other flight winners got sets of woods. Consolation winners earned umbrellas.

Purses Bigger At Sunland Pk.

EL PASO—Applications for stall space for Sunland Park's third fall-winter meeting, which opens a 47-day stand September 29, are being accepted by General Manager Wood Erwin.

Requests for Sunland's $16 stalls have been heavy as America's newest turf resort will offer more than one million dollars in purses for its 1961 racing season.

Of particular interest to horsemen is Sunland's coordinated stake program with Arizona Downs and Turf Paradise. Horsemen will have an opportunity to ship between the sunshine communities of Phoenix and El Paso (only overnight van service distant) to take advantage of the fifty-five alternating stakes offerings.

Sunland's stakes book, which has been distributed to horsemen, calls for a minimum Sunday feature of $2,000, topped by the $15,000 Sunland Park Handicap at nine furlongs closing day. Saturday headliners will carry a minimum $2,000 purse, with Friday features tagged at an $1,800 minimum. Extra purses for supporting races will be offered each race day.

Golfing Cupits Hits It Big On The Professional Tour

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer GREGGTON, Tex. (AP)—Those Cupit boys—Jacky and Buster—you see so often among the money-winners along the tournament trail these days are members of Texas' biggest golfing family.

How they got to be such fine players is a good story.

Jacky won the Canadian Open July 15, pretty good for a guy who was a collegian only last year. At one stretch Jacky won money in four straight tournaments, including $4,300 first money in the Canadian Open. He racked up more than $7,000 in three weeks.

Buster Cupit, at the same time, was also winning money—over $5,000—although second was his highest finish. He was runner-up to another Texan, Don January, in the St. Paul Open.

It's not surprising to Texans to find the Cupits doing well on tour although both are just making their start. These fellows have been playing golf since they were knee high to Ben Hogan.

There are seven boys in the family and five are golf professionals. There is Buster, 34, for 12 years a pro, currently at Hardscrabble Country Club in Fort Smith, Ark.; Bobby, also a pro at Hardscrabble; David, 26, for five years at Magnolia, Ark.; Jerry, 25, pro one year at Lions Country Club, El Dorado, Ark.; and Jacky, 23, who plays unattached on the tour.

Some 30 years ago the Cupit family came here from Shawnee, Okla., settling in a small shack on top of a hill. It was a fairly large family then and was to grow larger. The financial burden increased.

The golf rise of Jacky and Buster isn't unique but the way they did it certainly is. Some years after the family moved into the "shack," as Mrs. J. W. Cupit, the mother, calls it, construction began on a golf course at the bottom of the hill. Naturally, the boys were attracted to it.

A man named Pop Boone, who built the course, took a liking to the Cupit boys. They helped him build the layout and he reciprocated by teaching them the game and making the course available to them.

"They made their own spending money by caddying," Mrs. Cupit recalls. "It took all their father had to keep the family up. Some of the men at the course gave them old clubs and the boys would run the fields or wade the water to find golf balls. That way it didn't cost them anything to play."

"She said she couldn't keep them off the course long enough to change clothes. And they missed many a meal." And she had a strong suspicion that they skipped school to play golf.

"Years later, when Jacky won his first amateur tournament, his sixth grade teacher called him and told him: 'I knew you were going to make a great golfer, because you skipped school to do it.'" Mrs. Cupit declares.

"But I wouldn't take a million dollars for all this. It's just unbelievable what the game has done for them."

It's the savingest time of the year on the trucks with the workingest ways

SAVE! You just can't beat August buys for saving. It's the time of year when Chevrolet dealers traditionally pull all the stops. You'll find sweeter-than-ever savings waiting for you on every '61 Chevy truck—from the nimble Corvair '65's, through the easy-haulin' Fleetside pickups, right up to the mighty medium-and-heavy-duty jobs. Come in and save a bundle!

SAVE! You just can't beat Chevy trucks for working. With easier riding Independent Front Suspension, Chevrolet trucks work harder and stay young longer. And that adds up to more savings for you. Loads ride easier, drivers stay fresher, the truck lasts longer—because Chevy I.F.S. filters out shock that racks other trucks. You get more work, more hauls, for your truck dollars!

SAVE! And for the frosting on the cake—you just can't beat Chevy trucks at trade-in time, either. The intrinsic value, the superior worth, that Chevrolet builds into every truck, shows up big when it's time to trade. Latest official industry reports prove that Chevrolet trucks lead in trade-in value, week after week after week, over every major competitor in Chevy's price range.*

Packers Rip Dallas, 30-7

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Green Bay Packers, a stand-pat club with four aces, began the exhibition phase of the National Football League season by whipping the opposition with the same stacked deck that carried them to the Western Conference championship last year.

The Packers, one of three NFL clubs that did not acquire any veterans in off-season trades, relied on quarterback Bart Starr and running mates Paul Hornung, Jim Taylor and Tom Moore to overwhelm the Dallas Cowboys 30-7 last night.

In other NFL pre-season tests, the Detroit Lions blasted the Cleveland Browns 35-7 and the Los Angeles Rams defeated the Washington Redskins 26-7. Houston trounced Oakland 35-17 in the only American Football League tuneup scheduled.

Starr, designated the Packers' No. 1 signal-caller when Lamar McHan was traded for a future draft choice, responded with a five-yard touchdown pass to Hornung and set up two more with his accurate aerials.

Taylor scored on a two-yard plunge, kicked a 16-yard field goal and booted three extra points. Moore added two touchdowns on runs of five and six yards against a Dallas club that tailed on an 80-yard pass play from Eddie LeBaron to Frank Clarke.

Earl Morrill replaced Jim Ninowski at the quarterback post for the Lions in the second period and immediately beat the Browns with three TD losses. Terry Barr pulled in 39 and 22 yard heaves while Jim Gibbons grabbed a 16-yard flip.

Danny Villanueva kicked field goals of 15, 30, 37 and 42 yards to give the Rams a 12-0 edge before the Redskins hit the scoreboard with a 25-yard pass from Ralph Guglielmi to Fred Durgan. Los Angeles then iced it with two fourth quarter TDs.

The AFL champion Oilers led the Raiders only 14-10 at the half, but pulled away in the final two periods.

Five Are Named To Hall O'Fame

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The election of Francis T. Hunter and Vincent Richards, two modern era tennis stars, and three old-timers, Harold H. Hackett, Fred B. Alexander and Malcolm G. Chace, to the National Lawn Tennis Hall of Fame, was announced Saturday.

They will be enshrined at a ceremony Aug. 19 during the Newport Invitation Tournament. Hunter and Alexander are living.

None of the five won the national singles title but all were national doubles champions and all but Chace were Davis Cup Team members.

Race Driver Dies Following Mishap

AUSTIN (AP)—Charles Petree, 27, San Antonio race driver, died Friday night in an accident at the Austin Speed-o-Rama track near here.

Petree's car ran into the barrier on a turn, flipped over and threw him free.

Coan Probably Won't Perform
KANSAS CITY (AP) —Halfback, Bert Coan, who transferred from TCU to the University of Kansas, probably won't play football this fall because of a leg fracture he received in spring training, a doctor says.

Coan, of Pasadena, Tex., fractured both bones in his right leg below the knee. The second cast was removed Friday and a third put on.

Dr. Lynn Litton said this cast will be left on for six weeks and it would be almost miraculous if Coan could get in shape to play late in the season.

Even if Coan wasn't injured, he wouldn't be free to play until mid-season this fall because Kansas was placed on probation by the NCAA last year on grounds that Coan was recruited illegally. The suspension ends at Mid-Season.

Silvester Shades Discus Record
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The 60-meter barrier has been broken in the discus throw.

Jay Silvester, 23, a United States Army lieutenant from Trementon, Utah, threw the discus 198 feet 8 1/4 inches Friday night—more than 2 feet beyond the listed world record. He made the throw during an international track and field meet.

Stephens Named Pro At Odessa
ODESSA — Vern Stephens, 34, has been named club professional of the Odessa Country Club.

Stephens replaces Charlie Tims, who resigned recently.

The new pro is a native of Kerrville. He has been serving as an assistant to Tims the past three years. At one time, he was teaching pro for the Metropolis Country Club in White Plains, N.Y.

Spahn Laughs At Time, Registers 300th Win

By DAVE O'HARA
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Warren Spahn, the Milwaukee Braves' pitching marvel, laughed at Father Time and set his goals higher today as a member of baseball's exclusive 300-victory club.

The 40-year-old southpaw wonder became the 13th hurler in major league history to achieve victory No. 300 Friday night as he edged the Chicago Cubs 2-1 on a masterful six-hitter.

"I'm going to stay active as long as possible," Spahn said before heading for a party attended by teammates and friends. "My next goal is to win 20 games this year—and I'm going to have to go with only 12 so far."

"This was the toughest game I've ever pitched," he said. "I've never had anything so tough. This thing was built up to a great degree. I couldn't help but feel it."

"Maybe I'll try for 400, but it seems awfully far away right now. Maybe I had better shoot for Eddie Plank's record of 325, which is the most ever for a left-hander."

Spahn joined Plank and Lefty Grove, the only living member of the "300" set, as the only southpaws to reach the lofty mark. Grove, reported seriously ill, was the last pitcher to win 300.

Spahn said that the tension mounted as he received scores of calls and telegrams throughout the day.

"About six o'clock tonight I wished it was game time," he said. "Then along in the late innings I knew they were saving Ernie Banks for me. The tension mounts and after a while it begins to get you. I was never happier than when that final out came."

Spahn finally faced Banks, pinchhitting in the ninth. Ernie hit a bouncer to Eddie Mathews for what appeared to be the last out, but the Braves' All-Star third baseman overthrew first for an error. Spahn, unfrustrated, then got pinch-hitter Jim McAnany to fly to short right to end the game.

Spahn said that when he took a look at the crowd of 40,775 he was reminded of opening day in 1953 after the Braves' move from Boston.

"How did I feel? About nine years older," Spahn said with a grin. "After that, though, I first thought of a no-hitter, then a shut-out and then had to say the heck with it and tried for the win."

THE M. B. SMITH FAMILY arrived in Big Spring before their furniture did, which meant eating on the washing machine for a few days. Now everything has arrived, including Mrs. Smith's organ, and the family is happily settled at 1706 11th St. The Smiths came to Big Spring from Pampa where the Rev. Smith was pastor of Highland Baptist Church. He currently is pastor of College Baptist Church. Pictured with their parents are Herbert, 10; David, 13; and Philip, 14. A daughter, Marilyn, is attending Baylor University where she is majoring in music.

A LOT OF MOVING was in store for Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rupel, 2611 Carol, and their six children when the family came from Lubbock, July 6. Probably the biggest moving problem was getting all the children together. After counting noses, the Rupels were satisfied that all were present. Pictured are, left to right, (first row), Ray, seven; Patrick, eight; (second row), Kay, five; Anne, three; Rosemarie, 14; and (standing), Larry, 13. Hunting is the main interest of the boys; Mrs. Rupel and her oldest daughter enjoy sewing and music. The family belongs to the Catholic Church. Rupel is a civil engineer.

I SWEAR TO TELL THE TRUTH seems to be the confession of six-month-old Tracy Renee. Whether she is taking the fifth amendment or accepting a public office, Tracy is the center of attention around the Tom Enloe home. The Enloes come from Midland, where he owned Enloe Tile Company.

They made Big Spring their home and place of business three weeks ago and are living at 2701 Lynn. Main interests of the Enloes are their children, Clovis Wayne, three, and Tracy, but they also enjoy playing bridge and golf.

FINDING TIME TO RELAX is important to the D. J. Smith family and they do this by reading and listening to records. Since their arrival in March from Albuquerque, N. M., the Smiths have joined the East Fourth Baptist Church and the YMCA. Their

Twin Ring Ceremony Unites Kay McNew, J. Clay Friday

T. H. Tarbet, pastor, and Roy Phemister performed the double ring ceremony that united Kay McNew and Airman 2C, Jimmy Clay of Gila Bend, Ariz., in marriage at 7:30 p.m., Friday. The wedding was performed at the West Highway 80 Church of Christ.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McNew, 121 Wright, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clay, Portales, N.M.

The bride was escorted to the white wrought iron arch by her father. White wedding bells decorated the arch and white wrought, seven branch iron candelabra were placed on each side. Emerald fern banded the candelabra along with baskets of white gladioli. Pews were marked with white satin bows and emerald fern.

A bridal gown of embroidered nylon organza over taffeta was worn by the bride. The sculptured bodice was designed with a deep sash neckline and long tapered sleeves ending in calla lily points over the wrists. The bouffant intermission length skirt fell in graceful folds from the torso length waistline and fell to the floor in the back in a sweeping brush train.

Accenting the train was an Empire style belt of satin, tying in a small bow in back and extending in tapered streamers to the hem. A wide band of scalloped embroidery edged the neckline, covered the upper portion of the sleeves and edged the skirt.

BRIDAL VEIL
The bride's circular fingertip length veil of imported bridal illusion was held in place by a half hat of lace and tulle. It was sprinkled with glittering iridescent seed pearls; a large pearl drop was centered in the front. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

The bride also wore birthdate pennies in her shoes; something old was a locket belonging to her mother; something new, a pendant, which was a gift from the bridegroom; something borrowed, a tiara belonging to Mrs. B. J. Hickman; and blue was a garter.

Nancy Clay, the bridegroom's sister, was the maid of honor and wore a pastel blue cotton, satin dress with puff sleeves and a full gathered skirt. She carried a nosegay of orchids.

Janice Chapman, the bridesmaid, wore a dress identical to the maid of honor's and also carried an orchid nosegay. The maid of honor and bridesmaid both wore necklaces, gifts from the bride.

man, Gerard Bradford, Portales, N.M., was the groomsmen. Ushers were Dub McMeans and Gary Richardson.

Karen Cox was the flower girl, and Kenneth Cox, Jr. carried the rings on a white satin and lace pillow.

Candlelighters were McMeans and Nedra Clay, the bridegroom's sister.

A recording of "Because," "O, Promise Me," "Faithful and True," and the "Wedding March" by the Harding Christian College capella choir was played during the ceremony.

WEDDING TRIP
For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the bride wore a sheath of aqua blue acetate with a matching sheer overskirt. She also wore black patent accessories, and her corsage was taken from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Gila Bend, Ariz.

A 1961 summer graduate of Big Spring High School, the bride was a member of FHA, the Bible Club and was a reporter for the school paper.

Clay also was graduated from Big Spring High School; he joined the Air Force in 1959.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony and the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and members of the wedding party.

The refreshment table was decorated with arrangements of assorted orchid and blue stock and fern. A white floor length organza cloth over orchid covered the table. Also placed on the table was the three-tiered wedding cake and blue candles.

Beverly Clay, the bridegroom's sister, was in charge of registering guests. In the houseparty were Mrs. Jim Mullican, Mrs. K. L. Cox, Sr., Mrs. Preston Daniels, Gwen Hughes, Pat Turner and Koleta Wiltcher.

From out of town were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wallin, Morton; Mrs. E. L. Bushea, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Walling and Mr. and Mrs. A. Dials, Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bryant, Abilene; Mrs. Don Miller, Midland; and Mrs. C. B. Walker, Jackboro.

REHEARSAL
Following the rehearsal Thursday evening, the bridal party and guests were entertained with an ice cream supper at the church.

Gifts were presented to their attendants by the couple; about 20 were present for the festivity.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. O. McMeans and Mrs. Kenneth Cox.

Bridal Tea Features Blue, White

Blue and white were the shades featured in the bridal tea given Friday evening in the home of Mrs. M. R. Turner in honor of Martha Jane Smedley, who is to be married to Bill Coats.

Mrs. Turner presented the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Vergil Smedley and the mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. W. P. Hims, to guests as they arrived.

Blue underlaid the white cut-work cloth on the tea table, which held an arrangement of white asters and mums with blue tapers. Napkins bore the names, "Jane and Bill," with tiny wedding bells.

Mrs. R. M. Stroup, a hostess, served and other hostesses alternated at various duties. Joining to give the party were Mrs. A. C. Kloven, Mrs. R. H. Harter, Mrs. Bill Gage, Mrs. W. E. Napper, Mrs. D. W. Powell, Mrs. Tom McAdams, Mrs. S. A. Walker and Mrs. Ray Cantrell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown fashioned with a bouffant skirt of tulle over taffeta with Alencon lace inserts. The dress featured a fitted bodice and sash neckline of seed pearls and sequins. Short sleeves were enhanced with long tapered mitts. Her veil of silk illusion was encrusted with a tiara of seed pearls.

The maid of honor was Venita Vasquez of Sparenberg. Carlos Mojica of Lamesa was the best man.

MRS. WILLIAM LEE THOMPSON

Thompson-Sneed Vows Exchanged Saturday

In a ceremony read in the First Christian Church Saturday evening, Carolyn Sneed became the bride of William Lee Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson, 1608 Stadium.

A former student at Howard County Junior College the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forris L. Sneed of Seminole.

The bridal party stood before a background of emerald fern and palms interspersed with sunbursts of white gladioli and flanked with candelabra holding white tapers. A bridal aisle of tapers was marked with white satin bows and huckleberry foliage.

Mrs. Champ Rainwater at the organ accompanied Mrs. Don Newsom as she sang "How Do I Love Thee?", a poem of Elizabeth Barrett Browning which had been set to music by Mrs. Delbert Shirey of Lubbock, who served as matron of honor. Also included in the vocal selections was "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Attired in Chantilly lace over taffeta and tulle, the bride was given in marriage by her father. From a high yoke of tulle, the back of the fitted bodice extended to a low V of the sheer fabric; with a front panel of lace and tulle, the full skirt was of lace and taffeta worn over hoops.

A tiny hat in leaf design, fashioned of pearlized sequins and pearls, held a waistlength veil of silk illusion.

The bridal bouquet was a semicascade of white agapanthus, with hand-styled leaves of satin showered with picoté ribbon streamers.

veils attached, and sunbursts of white gladioli were carried as bouquets.

James Howard Stephens served as best man; groomsmen were F. L. Sneed of Seminole, brother of the bride; Pete Green, Mike McRea and the uncle of the bridegroom, Jim Parker, both of Midland.

Guests were seated by Kenny Johnson, Benny McCrary, Frank Lin Williamson of Kerrville, and Kenny Simmons of Colorado City.

RECEPTION

Receiving guests with the couple in Fellowship Hall were their parents and the bride's attendants, while Sybil Ann Sneed of Seminole, a cousin of the bride, was at the register.

On the refreshment table was a silk organza cloth with floor length skirt of all-over embroidery. An all-white cake, in three tiers, was decorated with roses of frosting; a low crystal bowl of white gladioli centered the table, matching the serving appointments of crystal.

Big Spring friends who served in the house party included the Jerry Curries, the V. L. Perkins, the L. S. Hansons, the Melvin Choates, the J. D. Robertsons, the Bruce Fraziers, the Doyle Vaughns, the Bill Kuykendalls, the L. J. Davidsons, Beverly Jones, the Jimmy Sinclairs, the Leon Byrds and Judy Pearce.

Coming from Seminole to assist with the hospitality were the J. E. Clantons, the L. F. Stanleys, the R. O. Sneeds, the Norris Sneeds and the Boyce Sneeds.

Others were the Robert Andersons of Andrews; the M. G. Wiswells of Big Lake; the Paul Turners of Brownfield; the Frank Martins of Terminal; the C. V. Parkers of Dallas; the Sidney Parkers of Brownwood; the E. M. Herrings of Odessa; the B. D. Masons of Colorado City and the Frank Lewises of Borger.

A pure silk suit in toast shade was chosen by the new Mrs. Thompson for a trip to points in New Mexico; buckskin shoes and bag were accessories, and she wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Houston will be the home of the Thompsons, when they return from the trip; both will attend school, the bride to complete her senior year at the University of Houston, and her husband will attend Rice University.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of Seminole High School and attended Texas Tech; he is a Big Spring High School graduate.

Couple Weds, To Teach In Local School System

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Walter Baker Jr. who were married at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Buna make their residence in Big Spring Aug. 16, where they will teach in the high school.

Formerly Virginia Nell Shannon of Buna, Mrs. Baker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albert Shannon. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Walter Baker, of Santa Monica, Calif.

The Rev. Wilburn Ansley officiated for the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Rayford Clark, Buna, was the organist and Joyce Durham, Lufkin, the bride's cousin, was the vocalist.

Altar decorations included a wedding arch of white gladioli, white daisies and greenery flanked by baskets of gladioli, daisies and greenery.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin which was fashioned with a drop yoke of natural illusion. Pearl-etched re-embroidered Alencon lace traced the yoke above the sculptured bodice; the sleeves were long and tapered. From an elongated line of the bodice, lace motifs accented a lowered V at the center of the back. The flowing skirt swept into a chapel train. A Marie De Medici cap of imported pearlized orange blossoms and buds held her bouffant veil of illusion. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of daisies and ivy.

Lewine Germany of Buna was maid of honor; bridesmaids were June Reynolds, Springhill, La., and Mrs. Benace Leggett, of Belaire.

Joan Smith and Johanye Wood of Buna were the candlelighters. Fred Fox of Denton was best man, and groomsmen were Herbert Horn, Hubbard, and George Lindemayer, Groves. Jack Shannon of Pasadena, the bride's brother, and Richard Hyden of Buna were ushers.

For a wedding trip the bride wore an aqua and beige silk dress with matching jacket and beige accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The Bakers will reside at 502-B Eleventh Place in Big Spring.

Both are graduates of Baylor University. The new Mrs. Baker was a member of Delta Psi Kappa Sorority and Angel Flight, Baker, who graduated from Baylor in 1957, has been teaching for the Borden County School system at Gail.

BRIDAL TRADITION

In the traditional manner, the bride named her mother's wedding band, which she wore, as something old; her wedding dress was new, and she carried a lace handkerchief borrowed from her grandmother, Mrs. Ellie Mason of Big Spring. A friendship garter was blue, as was a garter presented to the bride by Mrs. Frank Martin of Terminal. Birthdate pennies and a sixpence from England were in the bridal slippers.

A Devotional for Today

Be still, and know that I am God. (Psalms 46:10.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we would keep silent that Thou mayest speak to us. Forgive us for our much speaking and our refusal to listen for Thy still small voice. May we never be guilty of the sin of talking when we should be listening. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Up, But Hardly Out Of Line

Public hearing comes up Tuesday evening on the 1961-62 budget for the Big Spring Independent School District. The fiscal guide at $2,638,000, is at a record high and is about 10 per cent above the current budget.

This is a rather substantial increase. The major portion is to be charged to instructional costs, though the accounting distribution does not precisely reflect this. Some $50,000 has been set aside as the district's share of anticipated salary increases under the state minimum which the legislature has just passed. The other part is $35,000 estimated as the district's contribution to the Social Security system, which goes to fixed charges. Nevertheless, this is a charge generated by the instructional force and thus in a general sense might be considered an instructional cost.

The other substantial increase is in capital outlay, represented in appropriation for 10 portable classrooms. These are not being amortized as a long time capital item. Yet the step could prove a considerable saving, not alone in finance charges, but in helping bridge overcrowded conditions until population pictures are stabilized. These conceivably could relieve pressures on the board to allow it to move deliberately so as not to overbuild at one location and underbuild at another.

But expenditures now to effect future economy can be questionable if they get out of line or beyond means.

In comparison with efforts in the nation as a whole, it is not out of line. Although we have made some sacrificial efforts in recent years, our per capita expenditure for operations of schools still lags behind the national figures. In the year 1958-59 the national per capita was $238; we spent $255; in 1959-60 the national average was $305; we budgeted $257; in 1960-61 the national figure was $317; we have budgeted $286. The proposed budget is for $290, and if the national figure continues, this figure will be around $325. The national curve is steady—almost a straight line; ours tends to be flat, sharply accelerating, then flat again. The gross result is that we aren't materially closing the gap.

While in relation to national averages there are some substantial variations in specific departments, most of these are due to a bookkeeping distribution of costs. In the aggregate, the proposed expenditures are not only pretty well in line but also well under the line.

Our Honored Guest

Big Spring and Webb AFB are honored to have had as an overnight guest Barry Goldwater, the distinguished United States senator from Arizona.

This time he came not as Sen. Goldwater, however, but as Gen. Goldwater, for he holds the rank of brigadier general in the U. S. Air Force. His period of service dates back to 1930, and it includes five years of active duty during World War II. Like many other dedicated Americans, Barry Goldwater kept up his reserve training, realizing the importance of readiness and strength as basic elements of survival.

Whatever he does, he does unreservedly, and this has characterized his career in public service. Able and tireless, he has had no opportunity to speak out on issues and has become one of the most intelligible leaders of conservatism. None knows what the future holds, but it is a safe bet that Barry Goldwater will continue to play an important role, if not a more important role, in the affairs of the nation.

Our community is honored by his visit.

PARIS—Depending on whether by temperament you are an incorrigible optimist or a confirmed pessimist, two diametrically opposed views of the state of the Western alliance are readily at hand. They are as different as night and day, black and white.

THE PESSIMIST has no trouble in finding material to put together his picture. The dark doubt is with respect to a unifying and directing force in the face of the Berlin crisis. Or, to put it another way, the question is whether there is a sufficient appreciation of the gravity of the crisis among the Western partners to enable them to submerge their differences and unite on a common position both for strength and eventual negotiation.

The enigma is France. Somewhere above the earth—not in a space capsule but in a gently floating free balloon—is a presence, a great presence, called Charles de Gaulle. In his lofty isolation President de Gaulle has become increasingly removed from public opinion in France and in the world and from the lesser men who are the ministers in his government.

FROM HIS VANTAGE point the Berlin crisis appears to have been greatly exaggerated.

De Gaulle may be right, he has often been right in the past when others were wrong. But the consequences if he is mistaken could be so very grave that steps for meeting both force and an ultimate confrontation with the Soviets are vital. This is the argument the Americans put up at the conference of the Western Foreign Ministers.

DE GAULLE'S detachment from what seem to be the glaring realities of the situation in France and North Africa is also a cause for concern. He has thus far refused to consider a compromise of the Tunisian dispute by agreeing to negotiate on the basis of a future date for giving up the French base of Bizerte although that base, just as with the British in Suez, can hardly be held in the midst of a hostile population. Tunisia is in the meantime moving increasingly away from the West, where it was once oriented, and into the Soviet orbit.

SERIOUS NEWSPAPERS, such as Le Monde and Figaro, have begun to discuss possible dates for a new patch by the army and the ultra rightists to overthrow de Gaulle. The financial community is

J. A. Livingston

Convert Our Genius For The Practical Into Strength

Is there a connection between the tension over Berlin, the second circling of the earth by a Soviet astronaut, Premier Khrushchev's boast of a superbomb, and the character of American society?

Has the American genius for the practical been out of phase with the imaginative demands of international leadership in the second half of the 20th Century?

When Winston Churchill wanted to invade Europe through the soft underbelly of the Balkans, American tacticians would have none of it. They were determined to crush the German army as speedily as possible, not to strategically employ troops between Soviet Russia and Western Europe at the peace table.

Again, toward the end of the war in Europe, when American soldiers were overrunning Germany, Churchill wanted General Eisenhower to push to Berlin ahead of the Red Army. But to Eisenhower, Berlin was no longer a "particularly important objective." Besides, political leaders had already set the line at which the troops of East and West should meet. It was too late for Metetranean subtlety.

So Berlin was cut up into four zones, American troops withdrew more than 100 miles westward, and today Khrushchev has cooked up a crisis over Allied rights there.

20TH CENTURY COLUMBUS
Again, on the launching of man into space, the practical governed American operations. Since tiny nuclear warheads carry vast destructive power, Pentagon planners were content with miniature motors to get "payloads" into space. Propaganda—winning the minds and hearts of men—was a separate department.

In contrast, in the Soviet Union, necessity fused with imagination. If they were to attack the United States, Soviet militarists would need weapons which could over-span oceans. Stalin and Khrushchev fostered research which gave them powerful rockets, and they didn't overlook the propaganda returns to the nation that offered the world a space-age Columbus. How does it happen that the nation which produced the steamboat, sewing machine, paper bag, telephone, phonograph, harvester, airplane, and mass-produced automobiles muffed the sputnik? Were our horizons in diplomacy, space, and propaganda limited by way of life?

PROFITS AND THE PRACTICAL
The Count Alexis de Tocqueville, of France, said of the United States in the 1830's:
"These very Americans who have not discovered one of the general laws of mechanics have introduced into navigation an engine that changes the aspect of the world... If the democratic principle does not on the one hand induce men to cultivate science for its own sake... the social condition and institution of democracy prepare them to see the immediate and useful practical results of science."

Was that because the colonist who came to America from Europe had to be practical to survive? As a consequence, did the United States become a business-oriented society? The man who made profits made good.

In education, an emphasis on the practical is today a recognized deficiency. Americans knew they could use English anywhere on earth. Why labor on French, German, Spanish, or Russian when you could always hire a translator? Better to learn engineering or chemistry—something practical. So, caught up in international leadership, we're caught short for linguists.

When the U. S. was more powerful militarily than the USSR, Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, and Eisenhower were guided by the immediate. Roosevelt looked on Stalin as a wartime buddy whom he could handle, rather than as a canny competitor for long-term geo-political advantage.

ENGINE OF OPPORTUNITY
American mothers and fathers couldn't wait to bring the boys home. The soldiers wanted to get back to their jobs. To us, war was an unpleasant interruption. To Stalin, it was opportunity.

Was this because Americans have been trained by heritage to cooperate—in schools, in business, in corporations?

The basic question for President Kennedy, for all of us, is this: How can our genius for the practical (which served America so well up to the peace table of World War II and then became a hindrance) be converted into strength?

Now, we've got to look beyond production, profits, and prosperity. We've built up the world's greatest industrial machine through the practical genius of providing goods people wanted—at a profit (see chart).

We've got to mobilize industrial strength to new purposes—not for profit—and loss, but for utility to mankind outside our borders. And we've got to learn while doing.

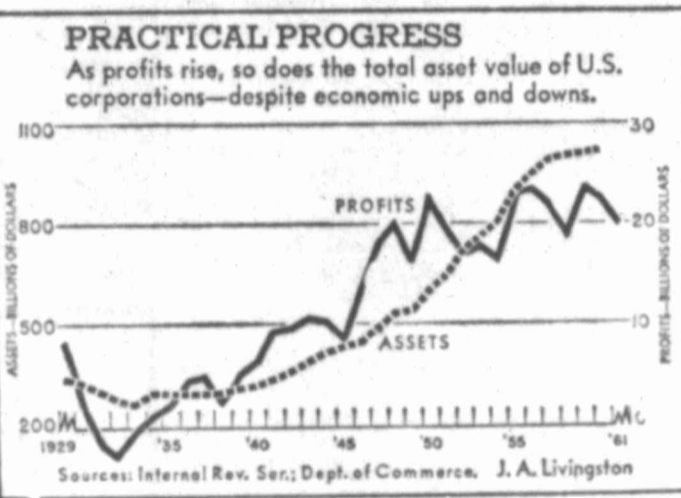

Perhaps Berlin and Cuba, where we've made mistakes, will provide us with opportunity. From both places, people are fleeing economic tyranny. Our job, now, is to show that freedom is practical—materially and spiritually—so that men everywhere, including the USSR, will want it.

No, not harmful. Don't be misled by the chemical names. Remember that ordinary table salt is sodium chloride, baking soda is sodium bicarbonate, the bubbles in soft drinks are carbon dioxide, and so on. Sodium nitrate in the amounts used to retard spoilage will do no harm and will do a great deal of good. Foods containing sodium nitrite should not be used by persons on a low salt or salt-free diet because of the sodium.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What's your opinion regarding an operation on the first joint and a finger for degenerative rheumatoid arthritis. The joint is badly swollen and deformed. It would mean fusing the bone together with pins, as is done with a broken hip, and the joint itself would be stiff.—F.N."

The movement of an arthritic joint is painful. Fusing means giving up the bending of that joint in return for more comfort and, probably, relief from the swelling. I'd think it over carefully: if the benefits are worth the sacrifices, all right. The joint will be rigid from then on, but the result might be worth the operation.

How About Giving The Groom A Break?

Before the summer wedding season is cut in the left lapel. There were three fancy ceremonies from the man's standpoint.

Agreed that the bridegroom doesn't amount to much, and will amount to less as the years go on, still and all, you must admit that the long and flowery pieces in the paper are certainly weighted in favor of the bride. Why shouldn't the groom have his inning, some time, like if he wanted to paste up a clipping of the wedding in his scrapbook? Well, can you imagine this:

"OTTO FURSTENKURCHER and Wilhelmina Glockenspiel were married last evening at the Second Baptist Church, with the minister reading the vows... A double ring ceremony was read... The bride wore white..."

"Financed in the entire proceeding by his father, the bridegroom was tastefully attired in a suit of dark blue, with darker blue tie with a small white-figure pattern in it."

"HIS SHOES were black, fashioned in the four-eyelet blucher design with plain cap. His sex wore of matching black, and this time he saw that they were pulled up tight."

"The trousers of the suit extended from waist to ankles, with a slight break at the instep. Cuff of 3/4-inch depth formed a trim at the extremes, while at the waist, the trousers were gathered with pleats in the front. Eight belt loops held the black alligator belt, a gift from the best man."

"In addition to two side pockets, there were two hip pockets, the left one with a button-down flap."

"THE COAT was of single breasted design with slim lapels, and no buttonhole cut in the left lapel. There were three buttons down the front, and also three smaller, matching buttons on each cuff. Sleeve length was to the wrists. The coat was of low hip length."

"It also had pockets, two on each side, with flaps of self-material, and two inside breast pockets."

"THE SHIRT was all white, with French cuffs which were clasped with gold links with a black-enamel design, the gift of the bride. It was caught at the collar with a button and buttonhole, and six more white buttons down the front gave a closed effect."

"The groom was hatless, but had gotten a fresh haircut, and looked neat about the back of the neck and the temples."

"FOR SOMETHING old, he had on an undershirt which was his father's and which he had been wearing all summer anyway; the something new were the cuff links; something borrowed was a shoe-lace, from one of the ushers, on account of he had just broken his in the excitement of getting dressed. Something blue was the border of his handkerchief, worn in his hip pocket."

"To keep from limping too one-sided, he had a penny in each shoe."

"THE GROOMSMEN wore suits of almost identical styling."

"As a going-away costume for the motor trip, the bridegroom was attired in gray slacks with harmonizing gray sports shirt, and wore black loafers. In his hip pocket was a brown billfold, which contained the check which he forgot to give the minister."

The Gallup Poll

GOP Faces Uphill Fight In 1962

PRINCETON, N. J., — Early warning that the Republicans may be in for trouble in the 1962 Congressional elections comes to light in the latest test of basic voting strength across the nation.

As of now, GOP Congressional strength is below what it was at a comparable point four years ago before the last off-year elections in 1958.

AS REPORTED by the Gallup Poll in the summer of 1957, the two-party vote across the nation then split 53 per cent for Democratic Congressional candidates to 47 per cent for GOP contenders.

Today, the vote divides 57 per cent for the Democrats to 43 per cent for the Republicans—or about the way the country actually voted in November, 1958 when the GOP suffered its worst Congressional defeat in 20 years.

Since all 437 seats in the House of Representatives will be at stake in 1962, the Congressional preferences of the nation's voters constitute one of the best measures of basic party strength.

IN RECORDING these preferences, Gallup Poll reporters put the following question to a cross-section of U. S. voters:
"If the elections for Congress were being held today, which party would you like to see win in this state—Democratic party or the Republican party?"

The vote at present:

VOTE FOR CONGRESS
—1962 Elections—
	per cent
Democratic	57
Republican	43

In the last off-year elections—when the Democrats won 283 of the House seats at stake—the popular vote divided as follows:

VOTE FOR CONGRESS
—1958 Elections—
	per cent
Democratic	56.5
Republican	43.5

In the 1960 election—when the Presidential vote split virtually 50-50—the Congressional voting went as follows with the Democrats winning 263 House seats:

VOTE FOR CONGRESS
—1960 Elections—
	per cent
Democratic	55.3
Republican	44.7

As they plan for 1962, GOP leaders can, of course, take some comfort from the fact that the party in power traditionally loses some seats in the off-year voting.

On the other hand, if the Democrats continue at their present strength, or increase it, they could well duplicate their 1958 success—the only time in recent history that the party in power has gained seats in an off-year election.

ONE OF THE MAJOR problems facing the Republicans in their bid for control of the House is their inability thusfar to crack the Democrats' hold on the "Solid South."

Indications are that—at the Congressional level—the GOP is no better off in the South today than it was in the 1960 election.

Economic Sword Hangs Over Nikita's Head

IN EUROPE—Nikita Khrushchev's real dilemma doesn't stand out clearly because no single event points it up, but it is real just the same. He is up against a problem in East Germany which will never be solved his way—by trying to make Communists out of the majority of the German people.

All the world fears a nuclear war, because one is, of course, possible. But it isn't probable. This is recognized by the foreign ministers who have been meeting in Paris and by the Communist spokesmen who have been broadcasting their propaganda threats from Moscow. Mr. Khrushchev himself is somewhat dumfounded by what he now calls the "war psychosis." For he knows the West wouldn't start a nuclear war, and he himself doesn't dare to do so, either. He is well aware that his 20 year plan and the aspirations of Communism to dominate the world cannot be realized on the debris of a devastated humanity.

What, then, is the international sparring match about? The Soviet premier is desperately trying to save East Germany from being absorbed some day by a prosperous and efficient West Germany. Communism is far from a success in East Germany, as evidenced by the steady flow of refugees to West Germany.

ALSO, POLAND is restless. So is Czechoslovakia. So is Hungary. The fate of Communism is at stake in East Germany, and Mr. Khrushchev will try in any way he can to get that separate peace treaty signed, even if it finally means letting West Berlin itself alone.

But the test will not come—as has been so often assumed—by a deliberate or major attempt to block the Allied routes of access to West Berlin. It will come in gradual stages, and at a slow and exasperating pace, after a peace treaty with East Germany has been signed later this year. Climaxes will arise one after another as East German customs guards or troops delay or block traffic here and there, only to remove the obstructions when a real fuss is made about it by the Allies.

Western troops will continue to be in readiness nearby, but the Soviets will never give them an opportunity to do any fighting. Also, on the Western side the futility of a military operation to stop interferences with allied traffic will sooner or later become apparent. Instead, other measures, primarily in the economic field, may have to be undertaken.

IT IS SIGNIFICANT that the state department in Washington announced on Aug. 4 that for the time being a total trade embargo on the Communist bloc as a counter-measure to Soviet pressure on Berlin had been shelved. But the exact words of the announcement are worth noting.

"It is only natural that Soviet threats with respect to Berlin should have stimulated considerable speculation concerning counter-measures, including action in the economic field. Now it is possible that if the Soviet government continues its threatening attitude toward the vital interests of the United States and its allies, we will be obliged to reconsider all aspects of our relations, including economic, with the Soviet Union and the countries of the Soviet bloc."

Those few words have more meaning to the Moscow government than all the talk of more military divisions in NATO or the calling up of reservists. For the economic weapon can be the most powerful of all in forcing the Kremlin to abandon its harassment of Allied routes to West Berlin.

CRITICS OF THE economic-warfare idea are saying that the same thing was tried in the 1930's before World War II, and failed due to disagreements among the anti-Hitler Allies. But the threat of a conventional war in those days aroused less interest in an economic blockade than does the fear of a nuclear war today. The world hasn't yet been right up against a nuclear war, and, if such a situation should really materialize, economic blockades will come promptly as a matter of course. At present, such measures are only in the "contingency planning" stage which is the correct way to deal with this weapon at the moment.

The Western foreign ministers discussed the problem at length in Paris this week, but gave only vague hints to the press as to the nature of their studies.

The potential danger to the Kremlin of an economic blockade is the impact it might produce inside the Communist bloc countries. There would be little chance of holding East Germany together. The demoralizing effect it might have on Poland and the other Communist bloc countries cannot be overestimated. The exodus of refugees to the West would be multiplied, factories would close down, unemployment would ensue.

Damage would be done to Allied trade, too, and the so-called "neutral" countries would have a hard time of it because the demand would naturally arise also to cut them off from essential trade with the West if any of them played ball with the Communists. Any blockade is a last-resort measure, but it is possible—and Nikita Khrushchev knows it (Copyright, 1961, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Anemia, High Blood Pressure Can Go Together

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can you explain how one can be anemic and still have high blood pressure? —Mrs. R.R."

Yes. There are various reasonable explanations for such a condition, even though at first glance they may seem contradictory to you.

Let's take anemia which is caused by serious blood loss, say from an accident. What happens? The body promptly tries to restore the normal blood VOLUME by transferring body fluids into the bloodstream.

The system can do this more rapidly than it can replace the important ingredients of the blood, the red cells, for example. The result? The total amount of blood will return to normal before the rich ingredients have been restored. In a word, the blood is diluted.

For another explanation, some kinds of anemia have little or no effect on volume, but there are insufficient numbers of red cells, or the cells may not contain an adequate amount of iron. There's no change in the AMOUNT of blood, but a decline in the quality. In fact, this tends to be the common denominator of all anemias: A decline in the quality of the blood.

Now let's look at a quite different aspect. High blood pressure isn't simply a matter of having too much blood. If that were the case, it could be cured—as was attempted years ago in our scientific ignorance—by "bleeding" a patient.

No, that isn't the cause of high blood pressure. Rather, it depends on the amount of force which the body applies to the circulation. If, for instance, the blood vessels go into spasm and contract unduly, more force is required to drive the necessary amount of blood to the various parts of the body.

We know that in some people nervous tension increases the blood pressure, and this can occur in instances in which the individual is in thriving good health. During the war there were vigorous volunteers who, from sheer force of nerves, had high blood pressure at the time of physical examination. Sometimes these self-same young men, having their blood pressure taken immediately on waking in the morning, finally passed the test. (Afte that, with the nervous tension relaxed, they apparently had normal pressure again.)

There are other technicalities which I could offer on this question, but I think the foregoing points make clear the reason anemia and high blood pressure are not contradictory.

Dorough Is To Manage Midland's Petroleum Club

Ruel Dorough, former manager of the Big Spring Country Club, has been named manager of the Petroleum Club in Midland.

Dorough came here last year when the Big Spring Country Club opened its new home in the picturesque area southeast of town. More recently he has been managing the Petroleum Club in New Orleans and was selected Friday afternoon for his new assignment. He said he was anxious to get back to West Texas.

July Fire Losses Amount To $3,089

Total fire losses for Big Spring listed by Fire Marshal A. D. Meador for July ran to $3,089.03. Thirty-three calls were made, with six being outside the city limits. This figure brings the 1961 losses through July to $82,054.05, as compared to $99,944.91 for the same period of 1960.

Heaviest losses came in May of 1961 when two residences and contents accounted for most of the month's total of $60,509.92. The heavy month for 1960 was July with $60,776.91.

Meador's records showed building loss for July at $1,943.74, and content loss at $1,145.29.

County Court Cases Slated

Sixteen of the original 17 cases set down a week ago for trial this week before a jury in the Howard County Court are still on the docket and set for trial.

Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that he had heard that some of the defendants intend to enter pleas during the week and that so far none of the attorneys for the defendants have asked for a continuance.

The docket will be officially sounded at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the county court room. At 9 a.m. Tuesday a panel of jurors will be on hand to serve the court and the first case will be called up for trial.

Ten of the remaining 16 cases on the docket are for DWI. Defendants charged with this offense whose cases are slated for trial this week include: John R. Asbury, Sarah Weeks Miller, Rufus Wright, Joe Robinson, Jackie Rhea Snow, Julia Bonfield, Robert C. Lawson, George T. Thomas, Kenneth D. Foster and Earl P. Stark.

O. B. Godwin, who had been charged with DWI, entered a guilty plea early this week.

Other cases set for trial: Johnnie Russell Lott, driving with drivers license suspended; George T. Thomas, carrying arms; Mahle Reed, transporting liquor; Valentin Carrisalez, transporting liquor; Winfred B. Stafford, carrying arms; and Elbert E. Lawson, shoplifting.

Favorable Weather Lessens Threat Of Cotton Insects

Cotton insect threat in Howard County is diminishing, according to the weekly report issued Saturday by Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent.

Favorable weather conditions and the lack of serious insect problems has allowed cotton to make satisfactory growth over most of the county all of this week.

Taylor said that the insect report from the area entomology office in Lubbock, just released, has indicated the insect situation throughout the South Plains as the lightest in several years.

Fields which Taylor checked this week were relatively free of insect damage, he said.

Only two insects were noted in any important quantities. These were fleahoppers which are still abundant and bollworms which continue to appear in scattered fields throughout the county.

The fleahoppers are not considered dangerous except to small cotton and cotton which was planted extremely late. They can cause cotton to fail to fruit satisfactorily.

Older cotton and fields which are fruited or are fruiting rapidly are not being hurt by the fleahoppers.

Taylor said there is no indication the bollworm problem is increasing. No widespread infestation by this pest has been shown.

None of the fields checked last week by the county were sufficiently threatened to justify poisoning.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — L. V. Newcomer, chief engineer and director of the Kansas Turnpike, says he has received only one letter of protest since turnpike toll rates were increased 10 percent on Aug. 1.

The letter was from an outraged citizen near Bonner Springs who wrote: "I haven't used your turnpike for five years, and now I don't ever intend to."

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

Richard A. Goodson

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

Southwestern Bell expands its services to offer you full line of communications

Telephone engineers can provide communications ranging from nationwide voice-and-data systems to extension phones

It's a real eye-opening experience to hear Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell vice president and general manager for Texas, tell of the varied communications services his company offers.

Some of these services are so complex that you almost need to be an engineer to fully understand them. Others are fairly simple, such as extension telephones. There is, in other words, a Southwestern Bell service to meet a wide range of communications requirements of business and residential telephone users.

OUR BUSINESS IS MORE THAN TELEPHONES

"It's a strange thing," Mr. Goodson said during an interview, "but a number of people think of us as being only in the telephone business. Well, that's not true. We're in the communications business, which includes many different services."

Mr. Goodson then gave many examples of services. Here are just a few high lights:

• CALL DIRECTOR BUSINESS TELEPHONE : : : for fast, easy handling of outside and interoffice calls.

• FARM INTERPHONE . . . for calling from the barn or other outside buildings to the house, talking from room to room in the house, checking on farm activity at various locations through a 24-hour-a-day monitoring service.

• PRINCESS PHONE : : : for space-saving convenience, smart styling, with the dial that lights up.

• DATA-PHONE : : : for rapid transmission of information between computers and office machines in scattered locations.

Mr. Goodson points out that the telephone company has a continuing program of research and development to keep making new and better services available to you. That's why he feels so confident that his company can offer future generations the same assurance of complete communications service as it does the present one.

PRINCESS PHONE—It's little. It's lovely. It lights.

FARM INTERPHONE—This new service now being introduced saves valuable man-hours, improves efficiency, provides families greater convenience and more time for pleasure.

Suspense, Sex, Westerns Top Movie Fare This Week

The late Gary Cooper's last movie is available to his fans this week and, as one might expect, it is among the year's best.

Name of the film is "The Naked Edge," playing through Tuesday at the Ritz.

Since Edgar Allen Poe fathered the modern mystery story, the suspense thriller has become one of the most popular prose forms. And, in the adaptation of entertainment trends toward motion pictures as a partial replacement for books, the thriller has held its own. Not even the hardy western, though numerically stronger, has been able to topple the "who-dunit" from its place.

In part, this has been because of a succession of great motion pictures in the suspense milieu—pictures like "Rebecca," "Suspicion," "Witness for the Prosecution" and the recent "Psycho."

Now, Pennebaker-Baroda Productions has come up with the newest entry in the suspense sweepstakes, "The Naked Edge."

Max Ehrlich's novel, "First Train to Babylon," is the source of the United Artists release, which has its pegs a blackmail letter in a mail sack stolen by train robbers. It is recovered five years later and delivered to the original addressee—and opened by his wife.

From this beginning, Joseph Stefano, who wrote "Psycho," has fashioned a story that unfolds with growing suspense under Michael Anderson's direction.

Executive producers George Glass and Walter Seltzer cast Gary Cooper and Deborah Kerr in top roles and surrounded them with co-stars Eric Portman and Hermione Gingold and such distinguished British performers as Michael Wilding, Diane Cilento, Ronald Howard, Peter Cushing, Wilfrid Lawson and the Abbey Theatre's Ray McAnally.

The blackmail letter accuses Cooper of the robbery and murder of his former employer, Miss Kerr, as Cooper's wife, suddenly realizes that she never knew the source of the money which Cooper had suddenly acquired shortly after the murder and which enabled him to form a flourishing international freight business.

"The chilling fear that the blackmailer may be telling the truth forms the foundation of our suspense," Anderson explains. "And Stefano has written 'The Naked Edge' in such a way that the truth isn't really clear until the last 90 seconds of the film."

To protect the surprise ending, Anderson went to unusual precautions during the filming in London. Only those members of the chinery, and an idealistic man's victory over the windmills. Started as Efrom Zimbalist Jr. as a judge who gambles with men's lives, but who is honest anyway; Angie Dickinson as a senator's wife who once loved the judge; Jack Kelly as the evil DA; and Don Ameche as a too-ambitious senator.

Rhonda Fleming's fall from stardom is evident in "Revolt of the Slaves," another of that endless series of extravaganzas (mostly dubbed) that pour in from Italy.

One can nearly always predict the arrivals of such movies; this one has an exterior glitter that makes it superficially similar to "Spartacus." It's not.

But those who like a Roman version of the wild west plot may see "Revolt of the Slaves" beginning Thursday at the State.

Topping the list of returnees is "East of Eden" with James Dean and Julie Harris, one of the finer movies of its class. It is the story of a wayward son and a hard, emotionally blind but well-meaning father.

Also a champion in its field is the double-bill with "Eden," a western called "The Bravados," with Gregory Peck. Both films begin Wednesday at the Jet.

cast actually involved in the final scenes were given copies of the last pages of the script. On the day the scene was shot, the set was barred to all except the hard core of absolutely necessary technicians. Even the makeup and hairdressing departments were, for the first time, banished to offices off-stage where the actors were made up and to which they returned, when necessary, between shots.

Even Cooper's laconic personality was utilized to keep the ending secret. Entertaining British newsmen besieged Cooper during the shooting, endeavoring to trap him into a statement that would give away the ending. Cooper avoided the trap. He discoursed at length on the advantage of shooting a thriller in London, whose very atmosphere helps create an aura of suspense, on his reactions to playing a businessman rather than a cowboy, and on any one of a dozen subjects—except the twists and turns of "The Naked Edge" plot.

Finally, in desperation, one newspaperman asked him point-blank: "Coop, are you the killer?" "Dunno," the star responded with a grin, "they haven't shown me that part of the script yet."

Coop, always the philosopher, commented that it's one of the bitter facts of life that people are always ready to believe the worst. "I don't like the idea any more than anyone else does," he noted, "but I gotta admit—that's what gives this picture its wallop."

Referring to the blackmail letter in the plot, Cooper mused: "This is exactly the kind of thing I mean. Even a guy's wife can be bitten by the bug of suspicion."

The effects on a seemingly normal life of the letter provides the mounting tension—for a Miss Kerr doggedly searches for evidence that will refute the letter, she becomes more and more convinced that there is fire behind the smoke. The end result develops into a screen wallop.

"That's fine in pictures," Cooper pointed out, "but look at the havoc this could cause in real life. Sometimes there's no way in which a man can refute charges that have been made about his past life."

"Now I'm not suddenly trying to influence lives. I'm just a performer, not a reformer. But now and then you get involved in a situation which points a big moral. And this is one of those cases."

"Maybe in addition to providing entertainment, we can get people to think a little more before they automatically accept this 'where there's smoke' routine. We in the movie business have seen it happen many times—people judged on the basis of nothing more than accusation."

"But," he added with a grin, "it sure makes a helluva movie."

It's the old Comanche-swipe-white-woman plot beginning Wednesday at the Ritz. The movie is "Two Rode Together," and stars James Stewart, Richard Widmark and Shirley Jones.

John Ford, whose Academy Award-winning Western, "Stagecoach," remains a highwater mark for ambitious directors to shoot at, joins forces in "Two Rode Together" with such old Western hands as Stewart and Widmark.

"Two Rode Together" co-stars Linda Cristal, Andy Devine and John McIntire.

Stewart is a veteran of the Western wars in such top-rank productions as "Broken Arrow," "Winchester '73" and "The Man

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH AP Newsfeatures
Naval air wings and a silhouette of the first naval airplane will be featured on the 4-cent U. S. commemorative stamp to be issued Aug. 20 at San Diego, Calif., to honor the golden jubilee of Naval Aviation.
The new stamp printed in blue will also include the dates "1911-1961" and the words "Naval Aviation."
The design was by John Maass of Philadelphia, a member of the Postmaster General's Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee.
Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 4-cent Naval upper right corner indicating the number of stamps to be affixed. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be clearly marked "First Day Covers Naval Aviation Stamp."

Collectors are reminded that orders for first day covers must be postmarked before midnight Aug. 15, 1961.

A couple of weeks ago, this column mentioned that the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee would soon announce the last of the 35 commemorative stamps for 1961. One reader in Pleasant Valley, N.Y., who is an avid collector and would like to see more U.S. stamps issued annually writes: "In my opinion there is no need for the self-imposed 15 stamp limit. No one is compelled to acquire all stamps issued and if the Bureau of Engraving can no longer handle more than 15 stamps, competent outside sources are available."

Denmark has issued two new Frederick IX type. The 50 ore is blue green and the 80 ore is orange, reports the Danish Postal Philatelic Agency in Copenhagen.

Afghanistan has issued a new set of stamps honoring Children's Protection. The 2 pous, 5 p, 25 p and 50 p, shows wrestling scenes. The 2 p, 15 p, and 150 p depict fencing. The 175 p illustrates ice skating. The 10 p and 100 p pictures a game.

Somalia issued eight new stamps showing girls harvesting crops. The crops being harvested are papaya, dourah, cotton, sesame, sugar cane, bananas, peanuts, and grapefruit. This is the first definitive set by Somalia since its independence. In August Somalia will issue an airmail set featuring butterflies. Later in the year there will be a Somalia Fair stamp and a set for UNICEF.

Texas' Draft Quota Doubles

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' draft quota for September is almost double the August call, selective service headquarters reports.
The September call for the state's 137 draft boards is 1,112, compared to 561 for August.
The September induction call is the largest received by Texas since January, 1955, when the quota was 1,249.
Col. Morris Schwartz, state draft director, said local boards will be directed to send 5,004 men for pre-induction examination next month, compared to 3,655 for August.

Younger Set Occupied With Junkets, Elections, Nuptials

By KAY LOVELAND
What little information I've come across this week I'll pass along to you:
The Webb Teen Age Club elected new officers last week. CANDY HARRIS was named president; MIKE HALVERSON, vice president; SHARON HOMBERG, secretary; and SAM DEIGHTON, sergeant at arms. The next business meeting of the Teen Club is slated for Aug. 23 at the Youth Center at 7:30 p.m.

I hear by the grapevine that DOYLE PHILLIPS has joined the Army in the past few weeks, beating his draft call by perhaps a month.

JULIUS GLICKMAN left for Austin Thursday to join the group of University students who are part of an exchange program to the University of Santiago in Chile. He was to go to Houston on Saturday to catch a plane for South America. Never can tell, he might end up taking a side trip to Cuba.

Speaking of hijackers, I took my first plane ride last weekend back home from Springfield, Mo., and kind of thought I might get to be the Herald's foreign correspondent from Havana, but as usual, nothing exciting ever happens to me. Shucks!

Several couples are booking passage for a sail on the sea of matrimony this week. Married Friday at the West Highway 80 Church of Christ were KAY McNEW and R. Z. C. JIMMY M. CLAY. CAROLYN (COOKIE) SNEED and BILL THOMPSON exchanged vows in the First Christian Church yesterday.

Marrying later in the week are SHERRY LURTING and FRANK BOLEN POWELL in the First Presbyterian Church, Aug. 18. Aug. 19 will be a day of weddings. JULIAN THOMPSON BAIRD JR. will take CAROL FRIEDEL as his bride in ceremonies at the Harvard Chapel in Cambridge, Mass. WESLEY PHILLIPS and JAN HAIR wed at the Highland Park Methodist Church in Dallas. JO ANN EBLING and ROBERT A. FULLER will marry at the First Presbyterian Church.

Just returned from the fifth annual summer student council workshop at Trinity University in San Antonio are Big Spring High School council officers BOB MOORE, president; KARON KOGER, first vice president; COY MITCHELL, second vice president; DIANE BELDA, recording secretary; and KATIE BESS MORGAN, corresponding secretary.

Attending from Coahoma High School were DONNIE REID, president; DWAYNE FRASER, vice president; MARGIE ANN APFLETON, secretary; and KAY PORTER, treasurer.

Returned this week from Dallas, where they spent a week are JACIE CLARK and JUDY JOHNSON.

Back from a trip to Fort Worth, where they attended the Texas Christian Youth Fellowship convention on the TCU campus are PHOEBE RICE and JOHN FISH.

Junior Volunteers in their last weeks of work at the VA Hospital are CAROL ROBERTS, nursing service; CHARLOTTE VOIGHT, registrar and nursing; and SHARON HOMBERG, engineering, laboratory and chaplain's office.

Two books I recommend for anyone who is not opposed to thinking a few serious thoughts once in a while are "The Fountainhead" by Ayn Rand and "Messiah" by Gore Vidal. Both have rather startling points of view.

Once again, the Top Ten ac-ording to Billboard: 1. "Tossin' and Turnin'"; Lewis; 2. "I Like It Like That"; Kenner; 3. "Last Night"; Mar-Keys; 4. "Dum Dum"; Lee; 5. "Hats Off To Larry"; Shannon; 6. "Together"; Francis; 7. "Pretty Little Angel Eyes"; Curtis Lee; 8. "Let's Twist Again"; Checker; 9. "Wooden Heart (Muss I Denn)"; Joe Dowell; 10. "Michael"; Highwaymen.

Billboard's up and coming list includes "A Little Bit of Soap" by the Jarmels; "Lovers' Island" by the Blue Jays; "Bless You" by Tony Orlando; and "Starlight" by the Preludes 5.

New records at the Record Shop: "We Kiss in a Shadow" and "Little Red Rooster" by Sonya, on Dot. The former is a fairly good ballad; "Rooster" is typical rock 'n' roll; "For the First Time" and "Souvenir D'Amour" by Lolita on Kapp. I don't think this Lolita is the same one written about in the famed novel. She sings "First Time" in English, with a German accent, and "Souvenir" in German—but not with an English accent.

Elvis has a new 45 out this week. One side is "Little Sister"; on the flip is "His Latest Flame." Done, of course, in typical Elvis style, they will probably hit the big time in a few weeks. Another well-known name, Marty Robbins, has a new Columbia disc out. One side is "It's Your World," which sounds to me like he's aiming for the country and western top ten. The other side is "You Told Me So," more in the pop field.

Still another big name, Pat Boone, has a new release this week: "Big Cold Wind" backed by an old one, "That's My Desire." "Cold Wind" is a good follow up to his "Moody River" and will probably make the top numbers. Some other new releases are: "Meek Man" and "For Sentimental Reasons" by a singer (I think) with the unusual name of Pookie Hudson, backed up by the Spaniels. With "For Sentimental Reasons" they have done the same thing other vocal groups have done to some of the better "oldies," jazzed it up and, in my opinion, ruined it. Bobby Vee has "Bashful Bob" and "Take Good Care of My Baby" out on Liberty.

HURRY TO ANSWER CHARGE BRINGS ON STILL ANOTHER

A 17-year-old Castorville, Calif., youth, who identified himself to Kell Davis, highway patrolman, as a "freedom rider" facing trial next week in Jackson, Miss., made the mistake of trying to turn U.S. 90 into a speedway early Saturday.

As a result, he found himself in difficulty with Texas lawmen and for a time faced the probability of going to jail. He was charged with speeding and at first told Justice of Peace Walter Grice he intended to fight the case. When he decided that posting a bond would be both costly and difficult, he changed his mind and pleaded guilty.

Fine and costs totalled $40.50.

The youth identified himself as Paul Duncan McConnell, and he told Davis he had to be in Jackson this week to answer charges of peace disturbance. He said he had been a member of a "freedom rider" group apprehended in the Mississippi city and charged.

There were three others youngsters with McConnell. Davis did not know if they were actually implicated in the freedom rider episode or not.

ASC Seeking Community Committee Nominations

Nominations are being invited for community committee elections, Gabe Hammack, Jr., office manager for the Howard County ASCS, said Saturday.

Ballots will be mailed about Sept. 5 and must be returned to the ASC office on or before Sept. 15. The county committee will meet at 2 p.m., Sept. 18, at the office to canvass the returns, and the tabulation is open to the public.

Election procedure provides that nominations may be made by petitions signed by at least 10 eligible voters. The petition must be filed in the ASC office by Aug. 24 for a determination of the eligibility of the nominees. If a person is found ineligible, he will be notified of this finding prior to completion of the slate of nominees and he may appeal, if he desires, to the county committee any time prior to Aug. 30, the date set for completion of the slate of nominees.

The community committee has the power to make additional nominations as it may determine are desirable.

The present community committee members are:

leads 32 Chinese "slaves" to new life

Li Sing-sui led 32 Chinese laborers from Red China's torturous slave farms to Hong Kong. Though they knew they would be joining hundreds of thousands of jobless, destitute refugees, they risked their lives for freedom. Fortunately, they were discovered by the Chuk Yuen Refugee Rehabilitation Program. And they are now self-supporting and building their own terror-free futures.

The Chuk Yuen Center for refugees is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this endeavor is Protestant, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain far-reaching aid and relief programs.

This work goes on, day in and day out . . . and it must continue. Those religion-sponsored programs often are the only hope of survival to countless millions of all ages, colors and creeds. Next time you're asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember the needs of others like Li Sing-sui and his friends, who have no other place to turn for help.
