Brazilian Army May Halt Leftist's Plans

BIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Tense Brazil was caught up in a power struggle Saturday night with the military reported determined to stop leftist Vice President Joao Goulart from assuming the presidency vacated by Janio Quadros and a Labor party leader threatening to form a separate government.
Three federal deputies told the National Congress in Brasilia that War Minister Gen. Odylis Denys was bent on vetoing Goulart as the successor to Quadros, who dramatically resigned Friday.
Within hours, Deputy Doutei de Andrade, a Brazilian Labor party official, declared his party would resist the military and might establish a government headed by Goulart in Porto Alegre, in southern Brazil.
Informants in Brasilia said the military might ask Goulart to resign to pave the way for elections within 60 days or take over the reins of government on the military's terms.
The terms would include breaking relations with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban regime and halting moves to re-establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, sources said.
Also under consideration by the military, the informants said, was a plan to put Goulart on a leave of absence until a legal solution to Brazil's quandary could be found.

Goulart's supporters rushed to his defense, warning there would be serious trouble if the military attempts to keep him from the presidency when he returns from a Far East tour.
In Sao Paulo, second largest city in Brazil, labor leaders reportedly called for a general strike to begin Monday and continue until Goulart takes office as president. Secondary and college students, often the explosive agent in Latin politics, were asked to join the strike, the privately owned Meridional News Agency said.
CABINET SET UP
Ranieri Mazzilli, speaker of the Chamber of Deputies and third-ranking government official who had the presidency dropped in his lap because Goulart was out of the country set up a cabinet meanwhile. He named Quadros finance minister and, perhaps significantly, kept Denys on as war minister.
The unrest that has been boiling since Quadros suddenly quit broke into the open after three federal deputies told the Congress Denys had lined up against Goulart.

Young Knife Victim Moved

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—A little girl, slashed five times on the throat with a razor blade in a washroom of a Southern Pacific Railway train Thursday, was transferred Saturday to a hospital in her home town, Long Beach, Calif.
Hospital officials here said Susan Jane Kipp, 8, was well enough to make the trip.
Facing charges of attempted murder and assault with a deadly weapon is Thomas M. Kelly, 18, of Carthage, Tex., an Army private stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif.
Kelly gave police a signed statement admitting he had pulled the girl into the washroom, tried to strangle her with his tie, then slashed her throat.
He said he had had an uncontrollable urge to kill and torture since he was 15 but had previously attacked only animals.
Lubbock (AP)—One of the nation's top scientists, Dr. Lloyd Berkner, said at Texas Tech Saturday night that the intellectual skills of college graduates will help put the next five million Texans to work.
Berkner, president of the recently established Graduate Research Center of the Southwest, Dallas, spoke to 478 Texas Tech graduates.

U.N. Talk On China Certainty

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States has dropped its 10-year fight to keep the U.N. General Assembly from debating whether to seat Communist China.
In the assembly's 16th annual session starting Sept. 19, the United States will not introduce the usual resolution to postpone consideration of the question for the session's duration.
Informed diplomats said the U.S. delegation advised others that to do so would be useless because the resolution could not get the simple majority needed for adoption.
But they added the United States was still dead set against substituting Communists for Chinese Nationalists in China's assembly seat and probably could forestall that, at least this year.
In each of the last 10 assembly sessions, the United States has put through what has become known as a moratorium resolution to keep the assembly from debating the issue that year.
But last year that resolution, prompted by a Soviet request that the question of Chinese representation go on the agenda, passed by only eight votes—42-34.

West Calls For End To Berlin Blocks

Allies Send Diplomatic Notes To Reds

BERLIN (AP)—The Western Big Three powers called on the Soviet Union through military and diplomatic protests Saturday to reopen border-crossing points between East and West Berlin that have been closed by the Communist East Germans.
Ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France assigned to West Germany demanded in identical letters that the Soviet ambassador to East Germany, Mikhail Pervukhin, "take the necessary steps" to clear away the barricades now blocking all but seven of the 30 normal crossing points.
This followed up a protest lodged with the Soviet Berlin command by the chief of the U.S. garrison in West Berlin, the chairman of the U.S., British and French commandants.
The Western ambassadors sent their letters to Pervukhin in East Berlin at just about the time the Western foreign ministers were challenging the Kremlin on the whole crisis, particularly the threats against unrestricted travel between West Germany and East Berlin.
The ambassadorial protests dealt with the restrictions in Berlin itself.
Of the reduction of crossing points to only one for the Western Allies and other foreigners, U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling declared: "I solemnly protest against the measures and insist that you take the necessary steps to insure continued unrestricted access to East Berlin without hindrance as to place and time."
Dowling's note objected not only to the single crossing point—the other six still open are for Germans—but also to an order that all persons had to remain 110 yards back from the sector boundary.
VIOLENT
These flagrantly illegal measures have their purpose further sealing off of East Berlin and East Germany from the free world," he said. "They are in clear violation of the quadripartite (four-power) status of Berlin."
The Allies told Pervukhin he has a responsibility for preserving "unrestricted access by Allied forces to East Berlin."
"In allowing the East German authorities to attempt to limit

GUARDING THE ROAD FROM THE EAST
U.S. soldiers stand guard duty near border point them to one crossing point," the protest said, "you have conditioned an action which violates a solemn agreement to which your government is a signatory."

In addition to demanding that Pervukhin intervene on access, the Allied notes urged that he "warn the East German authorities of the dangers of their pretension to prohibit movement within 100 meters—110 yards—of the Western side of the sector boundary."
"Any attempt to enforce this illegal prohibition could only have the most serious consequences."
Addressing of the notes to the Soviet ambassador in East Germany rather than the Soviet ambassador to West Germany was unprecedented in diplomatic usage.
Allied officials explained that use was simply made of an "open diplomatic channel to reinforce our notes of protest emanating elsewhere."
The ambassadorial warning obviously was intended to point out to the Soviet envoy that tinkering with the frontier, while Allied tanks and troops are squared away opposite East German troops, created a situation loaded with dynamite.
Thousands of angry West Berliners gathered along the border with Communist-ruled East Berlin and the Western police guard was strengthened to avoid incidents.
LARGE CROWDS
U.S., British and French troops also were on the alert as mild weather attracted large crowds to the medieval-looking barriers of concrete and barbed wire erected by the Communists.
Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in Berlin, personally delivered a protest to the Soviet commandant, Col. Andrei I. Solovoyev. He told Solovoyev that the reduction of the 30 crossing points between East and West Berlin to seven was illegal and endangered public order.
The colonel replaced a general as commandant four months ago in a typical Soviet gesture designed to slight the Western commandants, all generals. He does not act on such protests. He passes them along to higher echelons. A rejection is the usual result.
Watson's protest, made as the chairman for August of the Western command here, came as Washington, London and France fired notes to Moscow on a related issue—an implied Soviet threat to tamper with Western air corridors to Berlin.

Odessa Judge Sues Paper

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Judge C. V. Milburn Saturday filed a $250,000 libel suit against the Odessa American and also named publisher Vern DeBolt and editor Olin Ashley.
The publisher was out of town and Ashley said he had no comment to make. The suit was filed with the district clerk.
The action stemmed from an editorial carried in the newspaper Aug. 20, 1961, critical of working hours at the Ector County court house. The suit said the editorial alleged law working habits of certain judges.
Milburn, of the 70th Judicial District, charged that his reputation was injured by the editorial. The suit asked $125,000 in actual damages and $125,000 in exemplary damages.

Civilian Soldiers Told: No Families

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army said Saturday that National Guardsmen and Reservists who may be sent to Europe cannot take dependents with them during their travel overseas.
But later, families can be brought over under regular procedures.
In a news conference Friday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said, "Any augmentation of the forces in Europe will be made by forces without dependents." At another point he was asked, "If any National Guardsmen go they will not take along dependents?"
"That is right," McNamara replied.
BUT IT CAN BE DONE
When Army spokesmen were asked Saturday about this they said that apparently the explanation given at the conference was not complete. They said the situation will be this:
Dependents will not be permitted to accompany National Guardsmen or Reservists who will go to Europe under the "contingent travel" provision.
However, once the serviceman arrives, he will be entitled to apply for permission to bring dependents, if he qualifies. To do this, he must be of a grade at least corporal and have four years or more of service in a unit.
This also entitles him to apply for government transportation of dependents.
Upon arrival overseas, he may put himself on a waiting list for dependent order quarters. The wait varies from a few weeks in some areas to as much as 36 weeks in others.
If he does not want to wait or prefers housing other than government-provided quarters, he can rent a house. He pays the rent, although he does get some rental allowance to help out.
On other points concerning the dependents, McNamara said that no action or decision has been taken on returning dependents already in foreign countries. The dependents of regular military personnel who already are in Europe are continuing to move to join the servicemen.

Glasscock Votes Teacher Raise

GARDEN CITY—The Glasscock County school board Friday night voted to give teachers in the Garden City schools the full $10 per annum raise authorized recently by the state legislature.
The salary for a starting teacher in the system this was elevated to $4,414 a year.
The trustees also discussed the budget for the coming school year. The original budget amounted to $185,500, Supt. of Schools B. L. Murphy stated. The additional money to be received from the state will probably increase the budget to $166,500, he added.

College Value Stressed In Talk

Lubbock (AP)—One of the nation's top scientists, Dr. Lloyd Berkner, said at Texas Tech Saturday night that the intellectual skills of college graduates will help put the next five million Texans to work.
Berkner, president of the recently established Graduate Research Center of the Southwest, Dallas, spoke to 478 Texas Tech graduates.
"Not many of these five million who are expected in Texas in the next 15 years can be absorbed by the farms or in the basic production of natural resources," he said.
"The day is past when the casual inventor can found a major industry," Berkner said in stressing the need for intellectual skills.
"Texas Tech and other institutions like it in the nation represent the difference between a bleak scene of poverty and unemployment, and a rich scene of a busy, happy people with ever increasing opportunity."

Pranksters Aimed At Wrong Target

AUSTIN (AP)—Three water bomb tossing teen-agers displayed a poor choice of targets Friday night.
They let go with one of the home-made missiles as City Attorney Doren Eskew drove up a street intersection.
Eskew piled out of his splattered car and followed the youngsters to a nearby house. The three reported to the police juvenile division later for a stern lecture.

Inmates Stage Sit-Down Strike

MONROE, Wash. (AP)—From 100 to 150 prisoners at the Washington State Reformatory staged a sit-down strike Saturday night.
Ernest Timpani, superintendent, said the men refused to leave an auditorium where they had been permitted a "quiet hour" to watch television or play games.
He said a squad of about eight armed men was sent into the auditorium to bring out the prisoners in groups of 10.
The superintendent said his squad of guards was having no threat from the prisoners.
The reformatory and the Cascade Mountain foothills about 40 miles northeast of Seattle.
Kennedy gives visitors is that he can still relax, grin and enjoy the company of friends.
Nothing was said of this, but one evening this week he slipped out of the White House and boarded the presidential yacht, Honey Fitz, for a cruise down the Potomac River with Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Douglas Dillon.
With Mrs. Kennedy and their children sunbathing on Cape Cod, he often has an old friend in for late dinner, Rep. Torbert MacDonald, D-Mass., his Harvard roommate, is a favorite companion. Another is David J. Powers, the jovial White House receptionist who organized the Kennedy-for-Congress campaign in 1946.
Kennedy still weekends with his family at Hyannis Port, Mass., but even boating on Nantucket Sound doesn't get him away from it all. Special communications always link a chief executive with the rest of the world.
Last weekend, with U.S. soldiers traveling through Communist East Germany to Berlin, Kennedy delayed his takeoff for Cape Cod until Sunday. Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton, his military aid, briefed him on the troop movement at midnight Saturday, again at 8 a.m. Sunday.
Even with the tension mounting in Berlin, Kennedy has made weekends in Hyannis Port a habit. There could be two reasons. They offer the man with the Western a change of scene and air. And there's the theory that the image of a president too worried to leave his desk might transform public concern into public gloom.

Hail, Winds, Small Rain Hit Houston

Hail, winds and .09 of an inch of rain hit Houston Saturday afternoon knocking out electric power in the southern part of the city.
The hail was small and no injuries or serious damage were reported. A television station was knocked off the air for a few minutes. Lightning did minor damage to some power lines.
Official rainfall totals for the 24-hour period ending at 6 p.m. included Dalhart .34 of an inch, Alpine .02, Beaumont .06 and Houston .09.
High temperature was 100 degrees at Presidio and the low maximum was 92 at Dalhart. Low for the day was 54 at Junction.
Clouds thickened in the Panhandle and South Plains Saturday and a few light scattered showers fell in that area.
The rest of Texas generally was fair and cooler than usual for late August.
More of the same was in forecasts for Sunday.
ALGIERS (AP)— Europeans and Moslems were dining quietly in a restaurant Friday night when a grenade went off and a rebel band riddled them with submachine guns.
It was over in seconds: five persons lay dead, and 10 were badly injured.
The victims were among 10 persons killed and 17 injured during a day of terrorism by both the Algerian nationalists and European right-wingers that spread over the territory.
In addition, a delayed report was received that four French soldiers had been ambushed in their jeep and killed late Thursday near Boufarik.

Big Spring Week

Your help is urgently needed if the High School Bible Class is to continue as it has for the past decade and a half. The balance is down to less than $100 and $5,000 or more is necessary to finance it (since tax funds may not be used for the purpose). Of this amount, at least $3,500 will have come through volunteer subscriptions. School starts this week and five classes of students are looking to you for a chance to take the Bible course. Mail your check today to the Herald.

JFK's Health Humor Intact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man in the White House is living through dangerous days of crisis with his health and good humor seemingly intact.
His problems are more acute, his decisions more crucial. His working hours are longer. Unpublished conferences are more frequent.
Yet the impression President Kennedy gives visitors is that he can still relax, grin and enjoy the company of friends.
Nothing was said of this, but one evening this week he slipped out of the White House and boarded the presidential yacht, Honey Fitz, for a cruise down the Potomac River with Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Douglas Dillon.

Eaves Examining Trial Scheduled

BEAUMONT (AP)—Examining trial for James Virgil Eaves, charged with slaying golf pro Homer Widener, will be held Monday.
Eaves, 37, former peace officer of Eloy, Ariz., also is charged with robbery by firearms. The complaint filed by district attorney investigator Pat Hayes alleged Eaves robbed the dead man of $6,700 the night of the slaying.
Shot and critically wounded in Monday night's shooting was the golf pro's father, Ben Widener, 70, of Corsicana. The Arizona man was charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the elder man's wounds.
Eaves was arrested as he left Port Arthur by taxi for Beaumont.
Ben Widener told Hayes Friday he was shot first and did not see his son slain.

Castro Lashes 'Imperialists' In Brazil Crisis

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro said today that Brazilian President Janio Quadros' resignation resulted from "a treacherous stroke of imperialism's paw."
He praised Quadros as one who "firmly and tenaciously defended Cuba against the U.S. interventionist policy."
Castro said in a statement that in Quadros' resignation "the Americas lose one of the staunchest supporters of the principle of self-determination."
"Cuba feels a solidarity with (Quadros) and with the Brazilian people in this hour," Castro said.
The newspaper Revolution commented that Quadros made clear that "the national oligarchy and the North American imperialists" prompted his resignation.
"Quadros was referring to these forces when he mentioned groups inside and outside Brazil fighting against him," it said.
The event appeared to have shaken government circles. Cuba has been counting on Quadros' support in its differences with the United States.

Union, AMC Agree On Profit-Sharing Plan

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union agreed Saturday on a profit-sharing plan for production workers. It is the first such plan in the auto industry.
The three-year agreement also will give AMC a hourly-rated union-represented employee a share in the company's stock.
UAW President Walter P. Reuther said afterward: "We will submit this approach to General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. It ought to lay the economic basis for settlement with the other three."
Current contracts run out with the Big Three next Thursday and the union now is conducting strike votes at GM, Ford and Chrysler to bolster its demands. But Reuther told a news conference, "There still is plenty of time to get an agreement without a strike."
Asked if he would accept substantially the same agreement from Chrysler, which lost $15.7 million in this year's first half, as he got from money-making American Motors, the industry's fourth-largest producer, the UAW president replied: "Essentially, yes. Of course there would have to be some adjustments in the case of Chrysler. You can't share zero."
All the Big Three are on record against a profit-sharing wage package.
The profit-sharing agreement, which also carries pension increases and higher supplemental unemployment benefits among other fringe improvements, was announced by AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman and Reuther. They later met reporters at a news conference.
Reuther said the agreement "is loaded with new concepts in meeting human problems" and Cushman described it as non-inflammatory, saying most advances would be paid out of a so-called progress-sharing fund created in it.
After four days of marathon bargaining, they said they are at the halfway mark of reaching total agreement on a new labor contract.
Negotiators still are working on agreements at the plant level and technicians are writing the national agreement into contract language. The contract would require ratification by AMC's 23,000 employees in Wisconsin and Michigan.
The profit-sharing plan makes available to employees in cash or fringe benefits 10 per cent of the company's profits before taxes after deducting 10 per cent of the stockholders' equity. An additional five per cent of profits will be made available to employees in AMC stock. But no new stock will be issued to finance the program. The stock plan is subject to approval by the company's board of directors and stockholders.

New Minimum Wage Effective Sept. 3

Employers are being reminded that an advance in the federal minimum wage becomes effective Sept. 3. The minimum goes from $1 per hour to $1.15. This is in accord with amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act (Federal Wage-Hour Law) voted by Congress.

The wage-hour regulations apply to employees engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce, unless specifically exempt. It was noted by William J. Rogers, regional director in Dallas of the Labor Department's wage and hour division.

Coverage of the act has also been extended to employees of large enterprises engaged in commerce or the production of goods for commerce, Rogers said. These newly covered employees, mostly in the retail and service trades, will be due a minimum wage of at least $1 an hour. Also covered are employees of some gasoline service stations, local or interurban transit systems and construction enterprises.

He said that the act's overtime provisions will continue to apply to workers who are already covered. They require time and one half for all hours worked over 40 in a workweek. For employees who are newly covered under the act, overtime pay will not be required until 1963.

Exemptions continue to apply to such establishments as hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, movieland, and a few other service establishments. Rogers added that the retail or service establishments exemption now in effect will continue to apply to establishments which are not in a $1 million enterprise, or if in such an enterprise, have less than $250,000 in annual gross sales.

Employers or employees having questions on how the amended act applies to them may contact wage-hour offices in Dallas (251 North Field St., RI 8-5611, Ext. 334); or Fort Worth, (500 Main St., ED 5-5341, Ext. 291).

Driver Elected AJRA President

Skipper Driver has been elected president of the American Junior Rodeo Association.

He was named at the annual business session of the association made up of young rodeo performers under the age of 21 years. Most of the contestants who participate in the AJRA-sanctioned rodeos are high school or college students. The point system for national titles is patterned after that of the Rodeo Cowboy Association, to which most professional rodeo cowboys belong.

The annual junior rodeo sponsored here annually by the 4-H Clubs is one of the sanctioned shows in which points earned will apply to the contestants' standings in various events and for all-around cowboy.

Skipper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Driver. His father is secretary of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, and his grandfather, Ira Driver, was one of the founders of the senior rodeo.

Showers, Cool Nights Beneficial To Cotton

With the first bale of 1961 cotton already ginned, the time is rapidly approaching when cotton picking will become a top activity in this county.

Meantime, Jimmy Taylor, county agent, reported Saturday that cotton over the county continues to fruit heavily. The scattered light showers of last week were beneficial in some areas, he said. The unusually cool nights have been instrumental in keeping insect activity to a minimum. Taylor said the cool weather could be credited with the decreased number of insects found in most fields.

However, he pointed out, insect infestation in cotton this season generally has been the lightest in many years.

Fleahoppers accounted for the bulk of what insect damage was reported for the week. Some fields of younger cotton have been severely damaged by these insects which continue to prevent the setting of fruit. Control measures have been recommended and put in effect in a number of fields of late June cotton.

Bollworm infestations were very light, Taylor found. Some irrigated fields were poisoned for this pest but most of the cotton observed was free from this pest.

These two insects accounted for most of the damage noted in the fields. Occasionally, Taylor pointed out, he found cabbage loopers and leafworms in the fields. He recommended that fields be watched closely and prompt action taken if there is a sudden buildup of insect activities. Farmers reported that angular leaf spot continues to do considerable damage to many fields.

Drivers Ignore Girl In Trouble

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (AP)—Motorists merely glanced curiously at a group of screaming women. A girl lay near death, a three-quarter inch nail lodged in her throat.

Alma Gomez, 4, ran home from play, crying that she had swallowed a nail. Her mother, Carmen Gomez, had no telephone or car. She ran into the street, carrying Alma. Neighbor women joined her. None of them had cars or telephones.

When passing autos did not stop, one woman ran to a house with a telephone. A rescue crew rushed the youngster to a hospital. She was dead when they arrived.

Never Been On The Flight Lions?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Lloyd Dinkins heard a thunderous crash the other day while he was inside an Arkansas service station signing his gasoline bill.

"Good heavens!" said the Memphis traveler. "What was that?"

GOUND'S

HARD LIFE
By T. H. Tarbet, preacher,
Church of Christ, 309 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1382.

The Lord did not hide the difficulties of discipleship (Luke 14:25-33). The difficulties of the Christian life are not hidden today. Everybody knows about them.

But the thing men often lose sight of is the hard life of the transgressor. "... The way of the transgressor is hard" (Prov. 13:15).

"His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins." (Prov. 5:22).

The Christian has the Lord with him to help him over the difficult spots. As Paul said, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me" (Phil 4:13).

The non-Christian has to walk it alone.

To the faithful Christian, the Lord has promised, "I will be with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Matt. 28:20).

Sinner friend, why go the hard way, when the Lord has said, "Whoever will, let him come" (Rev. 22:17).

Welcome to our services today. Eddie Swinney of Okemah, Oklahoma will preach at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Bible classes at 9:30 a.m. Adv.

Rotating May Solve Leaf Spot Problem

Cecil Hyden, who operates an irrigated farm four miles north of Luther, has discovered a way to stay in the cotton business, says Ben R. Day, work unit conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

Hyden has been working on a soil improving program since he developed his first conservation plan with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District in 1949.

He has pioneered the establishment of blue panic grass for grazing and soil improvement, and the grass that he planted in 1953 is still furnishing grazing. About eight acres of it was plowed out two years ago and planted to cotton. The benefits of such rotation is still evident.

"The cotton on this land shows no signs of leaf spot," says Hyden. "Forty acres of grass will be plowed up this fall and put in cotton next year."

Hyden has planted other fields of blue panic and switch grass which will be grazed while the roots rework the soil for better cotton production in years to come.

He can show where cotton burrs benefited the land in a similar manner, he says. Hyden finds that perennial sudan helps the land somewhat but not as much as blue panic grass.

On land that has been in cultivation about 50 years with just ordinary care, Hyden estimates that his cotton yield will be cut one-third because of the damage from leaf spot, but he thinks that by keeping up his rotation of grass and cotton, he can avoid this loss.

UF Campaign Meetings Set

Chairmen and vice chairmen who will head up various divisions of the United Fund campaign this Fall are asked to attend a planning session Tuesday. The conference has been set for 4 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Marvin Miller is campaign director for the UF effort, which will work for subscriptions amounting to $102,484 for the operation of 12 welfare agencies.

He said that W. H. Wharton, secretary, and Angy Glenn, office manager, will have preliminary activity reports. Miller said all chairmen are urged to attend to offer suggestions for perfecting the campaign organization.

Comparative Laboratory Tests Prove

TSO Micro-sight CONTACT LENSES ARE THE FINEST MONEY CAN BUY!

Extensive and objective laboratory tests were made recently to compare the most costly contact lenses with those available at TSO for only $65.00 complete. Skilled technicians using the most exacting instruments performed the tests.

These tests proved that only a few of the higher priced Contact Lenses were as fine as those at TSO, but most were inferior. TSO Contact Lenses are precision ground from the finest quality lens plastic known. Then they are subjected to exhaustive quality checks that assure absolute perfection and a more comfortable fit.

So perfectly made are TSO Contact Lenses that adaptation to them by wearers is more easily accomplished. Thousands are now successfully wearing them all day long.

G. W. Dabney Ends Railroad Career

By SAM BLACKBURN
 Fifty-eight years ago, a youngster, barely 16, checked in as telegrapher-agent in the little station house of the L&N railroad at Mount Pleasant, Tenn.

Thursday morning a youngster—just a little older—checked out as ticket cashier at the station of the Texas & Pacific railroad here.

The youngster who checked in at Mount Pleasant, and the older fellow who checked out at the local station were one and the same—G. W. Dabney, who has now officially retired.

"It's the first time, actually," Dabney mused Friday, "that I have been out of a job since I was 13 years old. It feels sort of odd to be unemployed."

'MAYOR DABNEY'
 Actually "Mayor" Dabney, as everyone calls him, is still employed. He is president of the Security State Bank "I am, provided they haven't fired me," his honor speculated.

Dabney, who is now 74, was impelled to turn in his key and call it a day with the railroads as a result of a recent heart flury which struck him July 23.

"I feel just fine," said Dabney, "but I figured it would be better if I took it a little easier."

His job at the T&P station required that he get up and go to work at 3:30 a.m. His doctor and his family did not feel that such a schedule was the best thing for a fellow who had just tangled with heart disease.

Dabney, born Nov. 20, 1887, was left an orphan while yet a small boy. He was "farmed out" to relatives until he was 13. He took a farm hand job then at $7 a month plus "board and washing." A year later, he landed a job in a flour mill where he was paid $1 a day and lived the luxurious life of Riley. He began the study of telegraphy that year working with a brother who was telegrapher in the town. He qualified as brass pounder and won a job with the

GOOD JOB

"It was a good job," Dabney recalls, "seven days a week, 12 hours a day, and the pay, $45 a month."

He stayed with it for a year and a half and then, as he puts it, "I quit." Throughout his career, he very often did just that—"quit" and hunted out another job.

This time, he wound up in the Indian Territory working for the Frisco as telegrapher at Weleetka Junction. That was back in 1905.

In January 1906, he quit and moved to Dallas, where he signed up with the Texas and Pacific as telegrapher. He was sent to Atlanta.

October, 1907 found him in Monahan.

"Monahan was a town of 151 persons—counting me," he recalls. While there he met another orphan, Miss Willie Mae Chesney, who was just a bit over 17 years of age. They were married May 12, 1909 and in the meantime, Dabney had been sent to Toyah by the T&P. They established their first home there.

QUIT IN 1912
 "I quit the T&P in 1912," says Dabney. "I was offered a job in the bank. It looked like a good deal to me. Unfortunately, another bank opened in the town, there wasn't enough business for two banks, so there was a consolidation and in 1914 I was out of a job."

However, that was no grave situation. The good old T&P needed brass pounders and back to the old grind went Dabney.

What looked like opportunity loomed again and once more Dabney quit his railroad job and took a position with the Reeves Mercantile Co. of Toyah. That didn't last long, though, for the records show Dabney back on the T&P payroll effective Oct. 25, 1930, as clerk in the Toyah office.

The depression came along and the T&P retrenched and cut down on its personnel. Dabney was let out in January, 1931.

"We moved to Big Spring that month," he recalls and in a day or two was back at work, having "bumped" himself into a position as chief yard clerk.

TICKET CASHIER
 On Sept. 18, 1943, he became ticket cashier. He continued to hold this post until he resigned Thursday.

He doesn't plan to do anything, he said.

"Why should I do anything?" he asked. "If I wanted to keep on working, I'd have kept the job I had."

He suffered his heart flury as he sat in church on July 23. Actually, his last day of work for the T&P was July 21.

He plans to take it easy, and keep an eye on his beloved Big Spring. He was mayor for so many years that it was somewhat of a shock a few years back when he finally decided not to run for that post again.

Other than that, he has no plans.

"I'm just one of the unemployed," he explained. "And I like it just fine."

DR. DAN J. ANDERSON

Texan Elected To AVMA Post

DETROIT—Dr. Dan J. Anderson, Fort Worth, has been named president-elect of the American Veterinary Medical Association, the 15,000-member professional society of the nation's top animal medical doctors.

Dr. Anderson was voted into his profession's top position at the first session of the Association's 96th annual convention. He was unopposed, and was elected by acclamation. Dr. James R. Saunders Jr., of San Antonio, official delegate from the Texas Veterinary Medical Association, placed Dr. Anderson's name in nomination.

Dr. Anderson, 45, was born in Rockwall, and obtained his DVM at Texas A&M College in 1938. His professional career has included military service, animal pathology, and service with the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission. Since 1946 he and Dr. J. W. Heaton have operated the Haltom City Animal Hospital in Fort Worth.

In 1954, fellow veterinarians voted Dr. Anderson the outstanding veterinary practitioner of Texas.

Ballots To Be Mailed Out For ASC Committee Voting

Ballots will be mailed this week to farmers, their wives, land owners and all others eligible to ballot in the annual community committee member elections. The Agriculture Stabilization Committee office will mail the ballots, Gabe Hammack, manager, said Friday.

The nominees for each of the community committees were announced by the ASC office at that time. There are five community committees, classified as A, B, C, D and E. Five members are to be selected for each committee.

The ballots should be voted and returned to the ASC office not later than Sept. 15. They will be tabulated at the office on Sept. 18 at 2 p.m. and the community committees elected announced.

Any eligible voter who fails to get a ballot by Sept. 8 is urged to come to the ASC office and get his copy.

Candidates for the five posts open on Community Committee A are: Paul Adams, Donald Allred, J. W. Fryar, Joe MacGaskin, R. A. Merrick, Algie Nichols, Ralph Proctor, Fred Roman, Verl Shaw and J. H. Wood.

Open House Planned Today By Legion Post

Open house will be held at the American Legion Home on the San Angelo highway, Sunday, 2-6 p.m. The come and go visitation is being held to show the new addition to the building and other improvements.

Hosts for the afternoon will be Commander J. G. Littlejohn, the past-commanders, and Joe Benfield with members of his 1962 membership committee.

Membership in the Post reached 367 during the past year, an all time high since the post-World War II days, and a broad field of activities in various civic, youth and patriotic programs completed a banner year.

Retiring Commander Joe Pendleton will be honored for his services during the past year. Pendleton assumes chairmanship of the Post Executive Committee.

All members of the Post, former members, eligible veterans and their families are invited to drop by during the afternoon. Members are asked to register as the Post is aiming at a 100 per cent visitation.

For the Auxiliary, Mrs. T. P. Musgrove, president, will head the committee of hostesses. Wives of members of the Post as well as Auxiliary members are invited. Refreshments will be served by the Auxiliary.

Completed during the year was a 24 by 33 foot addition to the south end of the building. It is housing the recreation room, allowing the main room to accommodate larger meetings. Also completed was painting and installation of new lights in the old building.

Atrocities Claimed

TUNIS (AP)—The Tunisian government claims France summarily executed 100 persons—many of them women—during last month's bloody fighting for the Bizerte naval base. France has denied Tunisian charges of atrocities.

CRMWD Directors To Authorize Bids

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are due to authorize bids for a headquarters building in Big Spring when they meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Settles Hotel.

Plans for the structure are complete, and the district has a quarter-block site at Third and Lancaster, a block and a half of the courthouse in Big Spring.

Although previously authorized, a contract with Standard Oil Company of Texas and Sinclair Oil & Refining Company is due to be formally approved. The document will call for furnishing up to 1,468,000 gallons of surplus water daily. Primary source would be from the Moss Creek and Powell Creek reservoirs, although the district plans to maintain stability with water from Lake Thomas as required.

The City of Big Spring has filed for amendment of the permits to cover mining for the water impounded under permits No. 1272, No. 1277 and No. 2199. The three provide for an annual use of 2,100 acre feet, or roughly 700,000,000 gallons.

Progress reports are due on studies looking toward control of salt water pollution of the Colorado River shed above the point near the Mitchell-Coke County line where the district plans to impound a new lake about twice the size of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Tech Degrees To Go To 12 Area Students

LUBBOCK—Twelve of the 475 men and women receiving degrees from Texas Tech next week live in this area; seven from Big Spring, two each from Lamesa and Snyder, and the other from Colorado City.

Commencement exercises will be held at 7:15 p.m., Saturday in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

In the School of Business Administration, there are 89 candidates for degrees, including Robert Lee Roberson, Big Spring, and Linda Frances Hamilton, Lamesa.

Alice Daniel Doelp, a Big Spring food and nutrition major, is one of 18 candidates for a degree in the School of Home Economics.

Among 169 candidates for degrees from the College of Arts and Sciences are Charles Norman Rainwater, and Lewis Ashley Porter, both of Big Spring.

Engineering school graduates include Dennis Heinrich Jones and James Thomas Gill, both of Big Spring, and Thomas L. Jamison, Colorado City.

Morris Wayne Williamson, Snyder, will get his physical education degree. In the music major field are Jarrett Kenneth Eriden, Big Spring, Hubert Owen Murphy, Lamesa, and Alice Jane Patterson La Grone, Snyder.

Sanders Gets CSC Degree

GREELEY, Colo. — The degree was conferred upon Darrell E. Sanders at the summer quarter commencement of Colorado State College last week by Dr. William R. Ross, president of the college.

The commencement address, "Ideas Are Weapons," was given by Dr. Albert H. Rosenthal, regional director, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Degrees were conferred upon 746 candidates—49 for the doctor of education degree, three for specialist in education, 438 for master of arts degree, 245 for the bachelor of arts (teacher preparation), and 11 for bachelor of arts in liberal arts.

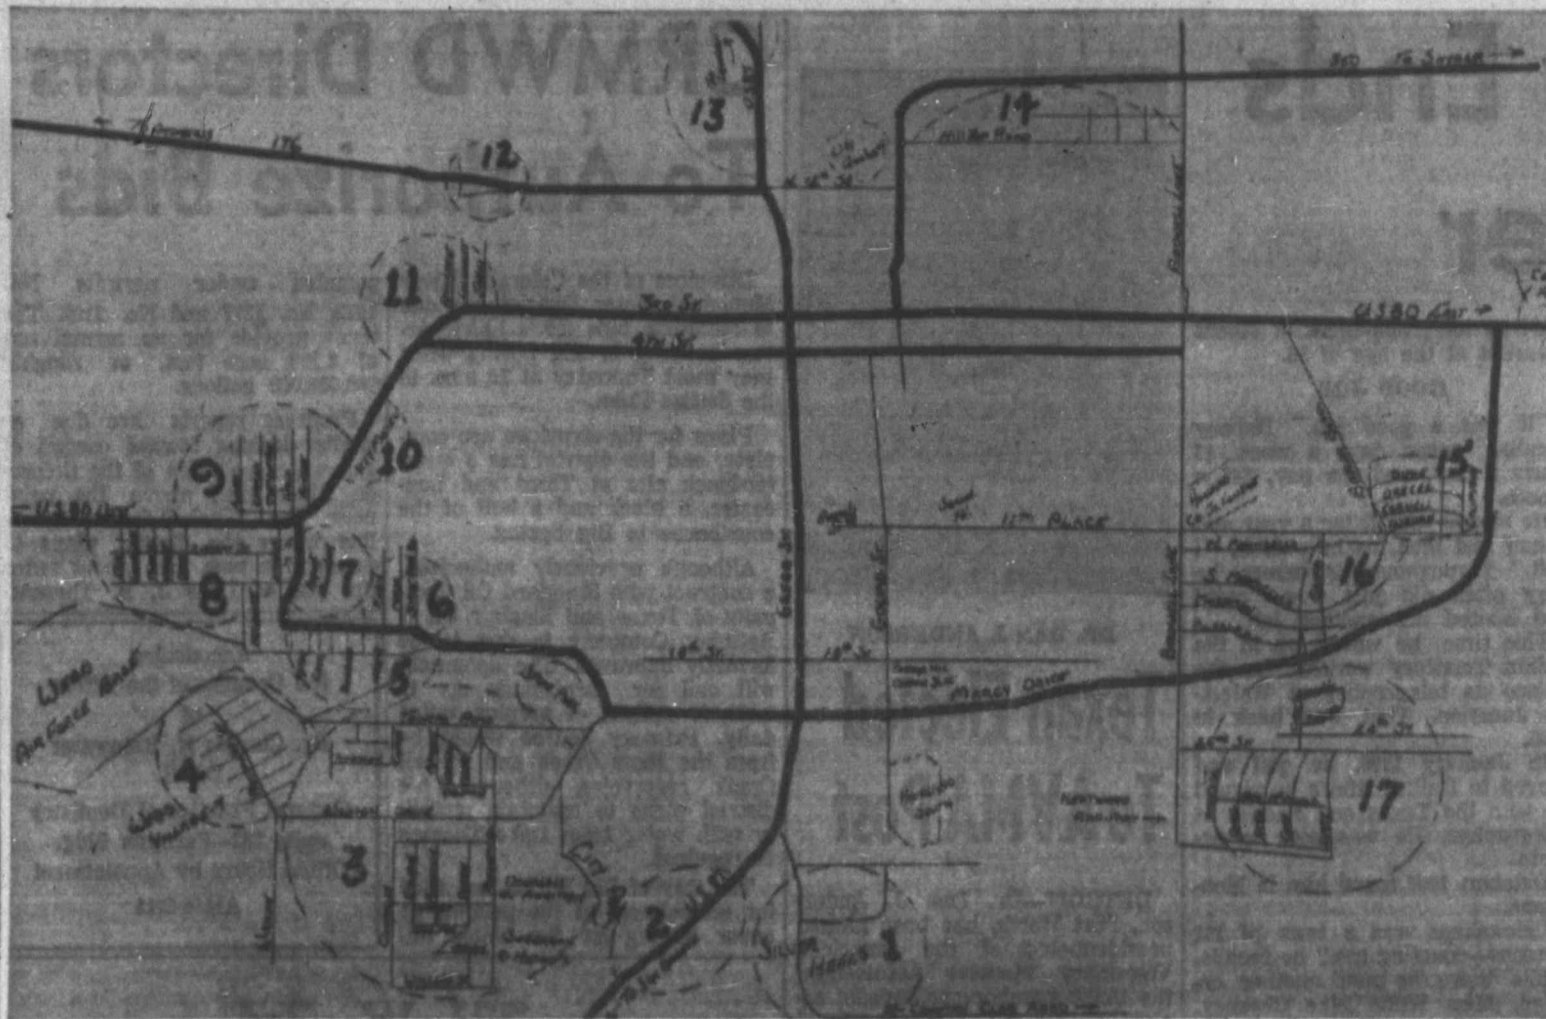

Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Sanders, 1701 Johnson, received his degree in physical education. He is married and has one child.

City Swimming Pools Close Today

Swimming in the city pools in Big Spring will come to an end with the regular closing time Sunday night, Bruce Dunn, director of public works, has announced.

"School starts Monday and the swimming pools will close because of that," he said. "Kids won't have time for day-time swimming and the cost of operation will not allow us to keep them open just for evening and night use."

Dunn said that the pools saw no increase in usage this season. He said the two on the north side were used infrequently. The city park pool had about average use.

BUS ROUTES
 Check accompanying story for details on school bus routes during the coming year

School Bus Routes Remain Similar To 1960 Schedules

Six regular school buses plus two special education carry-alls will begin schedules Thursday. The six buses will make nine separate routes, and school officials have announced that the service for this year will be identical to last year's with these exceptions:

Suburban Heights: Junior and senior high students will have bus service to Goliad Junior High and senior high. This is a continuation of the present service in the Douglass Addition.

This is served by a two trip bus, making it necessary to board the bus at an earlier hour than single route buses. Students will begin to arrive at school by 7:30 a.m. and will arrive home in the afternoons at corresponding early hours.

Kentwood Addition: All secondary and elementary students will be served from this area, and Goliad Junior High, senior high and College Heights will receive these students. This is the same route as last year, only somewhat expanded. It is also a two trip route, necessitating early hours.

Silver Heels Addition: All secondary and elementary students will be served. The bus will travel through the area on the Country Club Road to within approximately one mile of the Country Club. It is a two trip bus.

US 87 South: All secondary and elementary students will be served. The bus will travel south on US 87 to a point approximately 1.8 miles from the intersection of the highway and Marcy Drive. It is also a two trip bus.

Bus schedule routes as viewed on the accompanying map:

No. 1 and 2—Bus will travel 1.8 miles south on US 87, will arrive here at 8 a.m. Same bus will enter Silver Heels at 8:10 a.m., picking up students along paved route to Country Club.

No. 3—Bus will arrive at Cactus Drive and Thorpe about 7:30 a.m., will proceed to Douglass Addition after making regular stops along Thorpe to Clanton and other points south to Wesson Drive. Bus will pick up in Douglass Addition beginning about 7:35 a.m. and continue on to Suburban Heights. Students served by this bus will attend Goliad Junior High and senior high.

No. 4—Webb Village will be assigned three buses again this year, and the schedule will be the same as last year.

No. 5—Students will be picked up at Lark and Marcy Drive at 7:30 a.m. Bus will proceed to the Thorpe Road area and take same schedule as students in Area No. 3.

No. 6—Students involved here will board the bus at Marcy Drive and Robin around 7:35 a.m. and will proceed in the same manner as those students in Areas 3 and 5.

No. 7—Students in the Ellis Homes and part of the Avion Village area will board the bus in front of the Airport Elementary School at 7:35 a.m. They will attend Goliad Junior High and senior high.

No. 8—These students will board the bus along US 80 at the same points used last year. First pick-up in this area will be about 8:10 a.m. Students will attend Goliad and senior high.

No. 9—Students will board the bus at the intersection of Marcy Drive and US 80 at 7:25 a.m. They will attend Runnels Junior High.

No. 10—Pick up in this area will be around 7:25 a.m. and these students will attend Runnels.

No. 11—A pick-up for these students from Jones Street west and Center Point Begins Tuesday

First day of classes at the Center Point school will be Tuesday. Registration for students in grades one through eight, who are served by the school, is set for Monday.

On Monday, an assembly will be held at 8:30 a.m. at the school. The buses will pick up and deliver students, but the cafeteria will not operate.

All vacancies on the faculty have been filled, M. G. Kilgore, principal, has announced, and about 90 students are expected to register.

The teaching staff includes Mrs. J. W. Arnett, 1st and 2nd grades; Mrs. C. T. Clay, 3rd and 4th grades; Mrs. Charles Hodges, 5th and 6th grades; and M. G. Kilgore, 7th and 8th grades.

Students will be dismissed Sept. 4 for Labor Day.

Dyess Airman Drowns In Concho

SAN ANGELO (AP) — John Perry, 26, an airman at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene, drowned Saturday in the Concho River when his boat capsized.

Four airmen with Perry said he could not swim. They were running a trot line.

Lyndon To Note 53rd Birthday

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Vice President Lyndon Johnson will continue a long-standing custom today when he celebrates his 53rd birthday with the homefolk.

Whenever circumstances permit, Johnson spends his birthday with relatives and friends in this Central Texas area where he was born.

Johnson was born at Stonewall, Tex., just seven miles from his ranch.

It was indicated the celebration will be simple.

Johnson flew to his LBJ ranch Thursday night from Washington.

U. S. Files Suits On Income Taxes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has filed civil suits alleging insufficient payment of 1959 federal income taxes against:

Comedian Ernie Kovacs and his wife Edith Adams, for $13,401; singer Billy Eckstine and his wife, Carole, $16,099; comedian Ken Murray and his wife, Bette, $7,264; comedienne Marie Wilson and her husband, Robert Fallon, $4,130; accordionist Dick Contino and his wife, Leigh, $1,745; music director Max Steiner and his wife, Leonett, $22,388.

Maybe They Don't Trust Our Morals

TOKYO (AP) — Prince Yoshi, 25, youngest son of Emperor Hirohito, must get married before even thinking of accepting an invitation to study at Harvard, a palace spokesman said.

"Wide knowledge of the world is required, and it would be appropriate for him to go abroad with his wife," the spokesman said.

The studious prince, who has never been out of Japan, doesn't have a wife. And as far as the public knows, he hasn't even got a girl friend.

Busy Schedule Set For School Staff

School days are approaching rapidly for the elementary and secondary grades in Big Spring, and feverish preparations are taking place in the school administration office and the offices of the various principals for the opening of classes Thursday.

During the past weeks Supt. Sam Anderson has hired 68 new teachers and four new office workers for the schools.

There are five vacancies left to be filled, including elementary music, math at Goliad Junior High, girls' PE at Rummels, drivers' education and elementary PE director. Anderson anticipated little trouble in filling elementary vacancies, but some difficulty is expected in finding teachers on the secondary level.

71 NEW STAFFERS

The 71 new personnel added to the staff at this time brought the number of professional workers in the schools to 345. This number includes administrative staff, vocational workers, school nurses and special education teachers, as well as teachers.

Anderson reported that the 10 portable classrooms that have been added to the system this summer are ready for use. Four elementary schools have one each of the classrooms while Goliad Junior High is equipped with six. Construction on the Lakeview School is continuing, and school officials hope to be able to use the new building by the middle of October.

A teacher preparation program has been set up for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with regular classes beginning Thursday. On Monday at 10 a.m., a new teacher orientation and welcome will be held in the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building. An invocation will be worded by W. C. Blankenship, superintendent emeritus. Anderson will give the introductions.

At 11 a.m. that morning, Bill Daves, principal at Marcy, will speak on "Big Spring — Where It Is and How It Got This Way." Beginning at 11:15 a.m. group meetings of elementary teachers and secondary teachers will be held until noon. At 2 p.m. all teachers will report to the buildings to which they are assigned.

TUESDAY

Beginning at 9 a.m. Tuesday morning in the HCJC Auditorium, a general faculty meeting will be held with Supt. Anderson presiding. The Rev. Donald N. Hungerford of St. Mary's Episcopal Church will give the invocation, and greeting will be extended by A. K. Steinheimer, city manager; Horace Garrett, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Col. Wilson Banks, commander of Webb Air Force; Mrs. Buford Hull, president of City Council P-T-A; Clyde McMahon, president of the Board of Education; and Ben Johnson, dean of HCJC.

Main speaker for the morning will be Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Big Spring Herald. Title of his talk is "Garbled." Floyd W. Parsons, superintendent of the Little Rock Public Schools, will give a short farewell talk.

At 11 a.m. faculty, TSTA and CTA business meetings will be held, and at 2 p.m. teachers will report to their respective buildings.

WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday morning at 9 a.m., all personnel of the Big Spring Public Schools will meet in the Big Spring High School Auditorium for a briefing on the Social Security program. During the morning and afternoon teachers will meet by sections for a study of the Blue Cross program.

At 3 p.m. in the senior high school cafeteria, teachers in grades 4, 5, 6, and teachers of social science in grades 7 and 8 will convene for a demonstration by Richard Wulfert, educational consultant for Nystrom Maps and Globes. He will illustrate the "Use of Maps and Globes in the Social Sciences."

Regular classes begin at all schools Thursday morning.

Found Hanged

DALLAS (AP) — Minnie Helen Calvert, 20, was found hanged Saturday in the bathroom of her apartment in Highland Park. Police said a note was found, written in shorthand.

5 Workers Die In Explosion

INDIAN HEAD, Md. (AP) — Five civilian workers were killed Friday night in a blast that shattered a reinforced concrete building at the naval propellant plant here.

The blast was the third accident this year at the plant, which makes fuel for rockets and missiles, and the eighth explosion since January, 1959. At least nine persons have died in the accidents.

Parts of the victims' bodies were scattered over a 500-foot area. The building was virtually destroyed. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

Cause of the blast was not known immediately.

A Navy spokesman said research in manufacture of high-energy propellants was being conducted in the building where the blast occurred. Those killed were the crew working in the building at the time.

Mt. Etna Bubbles, Pours Out Lava

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Volcanic Mt. Etna is bubbling again, with rumbling explosions coming at the rate of 10 a minute from the northeastern subterminal crater of the 10,740-foot volcano. A stream of lava, about one mile long, poured down the mountain-side Friday night. Experts from the nearby volcanology institute at Catania said villages down the slopes were in no immediate danger.

Unemployment Insurance Meeting Slated In Midland

New developments in the unemployment insurance system, unemployment compensation and employment services will be explained to employers in a conference at Midland on Sept. 6.

Employers in this area are invited to the conference, which is being conducted by the Texas Employment Commission, and under joint sponsorship of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The conference will be at the Scharbauer Hotel, beginning at 9 a.m. Texas Employment Commission personnel from Austin, including J. J. (Jake) Pickle, employer representative on the Commission, and top staff members from the state office will present the major part of the program. Time for questions from those attending has been scheduled throughout the day.

Information to be discussed will include means for the employer to protect his tax rate, how employers can benefit by using placement services of the TEC, procedures in appealed cases and processing of claims for benefits.

Similar conferences have been held over the state, and have resulted in considerable benefit to employers. All those in this category are invited to attend the Midland party. There will be a similar conference in Abilene at the Windsor Hotel starting at 9 a.m. on Sept. 7.

All students in both elementary and secondary schools will be dismissed at 3 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1, for the Labor Day weekend, and classes will resume at regular times Tuesday morning, Sept. 5. On Thursday morning Goliad Junior High students will convene in the gym before dispersing to their scheduled classes.

Parents of first grade students will be required to present a birth certificate as proof of legal age, six years old before Sept. 1. School officials will accept a baptismal or other certificate as temporary proof until a birth certificate can be obtained. All elementary students must have proof of having received required immunization—smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

Supt. Sam Anderson has announced that all first grade students will be dismissed at noon every day from Aug. 31 through Sept. 15. Beginning Monday, Sept. 16, first graders will go on their regular day schedule.

The cafeteria schedule for the various schools is set up as follows: Washington Place cafeteria begins serving at 11:30 a.m.; senior high cafeteria will serve the sixth grade of Washington from South

Ward at 11:30 a.m. Senior high students will be served at 12 noon.

Goliad Junior High cafeteria will serve College Heights students at 11 a.m. and will begin serving Goliad students at 11:40. Rummels Junior High cafeteria will begin serving at 11:40. Special Education students will also be served at 11:40 a.m. Park Hill students will be served at 11:55 a.m. and Airport students at 11:45 a.m.

Price of meals is 35 cents for students and 45 cents for teachers. The menus will consist of one meat, two vegetables or one vegetable and one salad, buttered hot rolls, dessert and milk. Milk is offered at all schools at three cents for one-half pint or one pint for five cents.

Snack bars at senior high, Goliad Junior High and Rummels Junior High will serve homemade pies, cakes, dairy cones, hamburgers, chili dogs, cold drinks and milk according to the demands of the students.

Negro Cited For Heroism

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A Negro who gave his life fighting an oil truck fire won high praise Friday from the Mississippi House of Representatives.

House Speaker Walter Sillers of Bolivar County offered a resolution commending Alfred D. McNair's heroism and offering sympathy to the wife and children "of this brave and unselfish citizen."

The House adopted the resolution by unanimous voice vote. McNair, 35, suffered burns over more than 70 per cent of his body last week when he took a fire extinguisher and waded into the flames pouring from a burning oil truck owned by his employer. He died Thursday.

MAN SOUGHT

Police Investigate Two Child Molesting Reports

Big Spring police received two calls Friday afternoon regarding attempts at child molesting. One call came from the driver of the car. The driver of the car driven by a man who attempted to lure two children into his car. The second call reported indecent exposure by a man driving a car fitting the first description, plus the license number of the car. The two calls came from different persons.

The first caller contacted Capt. Walter Eubanks and said the attempt happened Thursday but he did not call until he had read a story in The Herald on child molesting.

"We got another call this morning," Jay Banks, police chief, said Saturday. "We can definitely follow this lead."

Banks said that the thing most feared by persons who are child molesters is apprehension. "We cannot always get a conviction on those apprehended," Banks said, "but we can make it so tough on them that they will leave town. The main thing that makes conviction difficult is the reluctance of the victims to testify and identify. If we can once get charges filed, either in the justice or district court, the names of the accused can be used. Names of juvenile victims are not used unless the case goes before a jury, and few of those accused, and who are actually guilty of the offenses, ever wait for a jury trial. They plead guilty and take their sentences."

"We appreciate the calls coming in and will follow up on every one. We can reduce the number of incidents, and perhaps stop it all, if we can get the cooperation of parents in letting us know when something happens. We hope parents will impress upon their children that a good description of the person, and the license number and make of his car are important," he said.

100 Years Too Late

If this P-51 and several others belonging to the Confederate Air Force had been available 100 years ago, what a boon to the Southerners they would have been. But they weren't. This one, which landed at Howard County Airport early in the week, a Wildcat, a Hellcat, and a Corsair, all belong to a firm at Garden City, and all carry the same label.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

South Rises Again, But This Time In An Airplane

By M. A. WEBB

A lot of excitement was stirred up this week when a P-51 Mustang fighter plane, of World War II vintage, steamed into Howard County Airport, tied down, and spent several hours.

Cause of the excitement? It carried in black paint the words: "Confederate Air Force." It also hoisted a colored confederate flag on the side. No guns were visible.

Came to find out though that it was one of four WWII fighter planes owned by Gardner Bros. of Crystal City, the crop duster and sprayer firm doing lots of work in this area earlier in the year.

It was flown in by Col. Harvey (Lefty) Gardner, Confederate Air Force, and accompanied by his mechanic, a gentleman named Taylor. Col. Gardner was here on business and came in the P-51 because of its speed.

But the aircraft, along with several other Mustangs, Wildcats, Hellcats, Corsairs, B25s, B28s, etc. will take part in an air show at the Midland Terminal Sept. 17. The entire Confederate Air Force will take part in the show which bodes fair to be a humdinger. There will be more about it later as show time nears.

Another Fly-in, of the Civil Aeronautics Agency, will be held in Carlsbad, N. M., Sept. 10 at 6 a.m. A spot landing contest on initial approach will be held. Breakfast will be served to those flying in—at a buck a person that is.

Business continues good at Howard County Airport, what with fine weather, and business and pleasure trips being made by local, and transient fliers. Ted McClung, airport manager, said Thursday. There are between four and seven flights daily of business aircraft.

A big twin-engine plane from Dallas flew in Thursday, with some coming to Big Spring on business. One man, a ranchman from LaSalle County, Russell Garwood, came to attend the funeral of Tom J. Good. The plane was owned by the Marchison Bros. Another plane, a Tri-Pacer, brought John Dandell from Fort Sumner, N. M. to the funeral.

Local pilots, doing flying during the week, were Clayton Beddie, who flew to Amarillo; C. A. Ross who flew Clyde McMahon's plane to Odessa to pick up truck parts; Dr. F. W. Lurting, Dr. B. Broadrick, Bert Andreas, Bill Largent, Leroy Tidwell, Roger Brown, George Peacock, Joe Clark, Dr. M. W. Talbot Jr., and J. R. Henderson who made a business trip. The Aero Club members also did some flying this week.

How well do airplanes serve businessmen? Taking A. P. Kasch & Sons Contractors, as one example, the time saved in going long distances to look after construction contracts, means money saved and work speeded up. They have work going in Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Andrews, and Marlin.

The round trip, flying from Big Spring to Marlin, then to Wichita Falls, to Lubbock and to Andrews and back to Big Spring, covers over 800 air miles. Flying at 180 miles per hour the flying time would be around four and three-quarter hours. Allow 20 minutes for landing and take-off at each of the four stopping points and it adds up to one and three-quarter hours, shaving off a little.

Then allow the pilot an hour and a half at each place to talk with his superintendent, inspect the project, and go over the problems, and it adds another six hours. He could leave Big Spring, go to the four projects, and arrive home between daylight and dark. By car he would have to spend at least three days away from home to cover the entire circuit.

"If one of our projects needs some special attention," Paul Kasch said this week, "the superintendent can pick up the phone and call and we can be at the farthest place in less than two hours. If he needs some small item we can get it to him. It simply enables us to keep closer contact with all projects and certainly saves a lot of time and money. Where we used to have to send a man to each job on a certain day we can now let one man cover all of them and not be worn out when night comes.

"About the only thing that would prevent our going would be a weather close in, and that would slow down the work anyway," he said. "It costs more to operate an airplane than it does an automobile but the time saved and the wear and tear on nerves will speed up our business and make us money."

Chamber Plans Sales Tax Talks

Several anticipated questions concerning the new Texas sales tax have been answered by the State Affairs committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to Carol Davidson, local Chamber manager.

A retail committee meeting of the Chamber has been called for 10 a.m. Thursday at the Chamber office, according to Gilbert Gibbs and Jim Lewis, co-chairmen. This meeting will answer problems presented by local merchants.

The WTCC committee estimates a man with a $5,000 annual income will spend about $1,200 on taxable goods which will represent an annual tax expenditure of $24. The tax rate is two per cent on certain items and becomes effective Sept. 1.

The primary things that will be taxed are furniture, household and kitchen appliances, most clothing, household supplies, toys, restaurant meals, electric and gas utilities. Not included in the sales tax are groceries, housing (whether you own or rent), medical and dental expenses, insurance, telephone service, car and gasoline.

Motor vehicles are not included because they have been taxed since 1941. That tax is 1 1/2 per cent and will not be increased by the new tax. Cigarettes, gasoline and beer are already taxed and will not be affected by the new sales tax.

The new tax will cover television sets, radios and air conditioners, but will make the rate lower. These items were already being taxed three per cent, which was repealed and the new rate of two per cent will be applied. Likewise, the tax on cosmetics will be reduced from 2.2 per cent to two per cent.

Purchases under 25 cents will not be taxed when you make a purchase. The retailer will add the tax to purchases above that amount. If the purchase is between 25 cents and 74 cents, he will add a penny. If between 75 cents and $1.24, he will add two cents, and so on.

This tax will be allowed as a deduction for income tax purposes and the International Revenue Service is expected to issue instructions for an easy way to determine how much can be deducted each year.

Another increase is the fee for driver's licenses, which was jumped from $2 to $3 for a two year period. For commercial licenses it goes up from $3 to $4.50 and for chauffeur's licenses, from $4 to $6.

This hike is also effective Sept. 1. The fee for a duplicate license, in the event one is mutilated or destroyed, remains the same at 25 cents.

Homer Garrison, Department of Public Safety director, said the new rate is still lower than fees of 12 states and is the same as fees in five other states. He said Texas has 4,838,000 currently-licensed drivers.

"We urge all drivers to be sure they send the right amount in with their renewal applications," he said. "Those accompanied by the old fee after Sept. 1 will have to be returned to the sender, causing unnecessary delay and inconvenience."

New Blue Flame Residence Has Several Unique Features

A stereophonic inter-com system, sunken fireplace and bath, and indirect lighting are features of Jack Cathey's Blue Flame home, located at 2825 E. 25th St. in the Kaham Addition. It is open to the public today.

The house is reached by going south on Birdwell to 25th, turning east, and proceeding eastward on 25th for one mile.

The comfortable home has

2,400 feet of living space and consists of three bedrooms, two baths, a living room, den, utility room, kitchen, patio and double garage.

Many items of luxury and decoration have been included in the home. The entrance way of screen tile features a canopy shelter and the 20 x 12 foot patio includes a built-in broiler. The gas kitchen appliances — oven, refrigerator, dishwasher—are also built in.

The color scheme ranges from ash paneling stained blond in the den, with exposed beams in orchid and charcoal, to white kitchen appliances and stained ash walls, to variations of beige in the living room and three bedrooms.

Blue is featured in the large 12 x 15 bath off the master bedroom. The smaller bath is done in white; both are constructed of ceramic tile and both have dressing tables.

Closet space in the house is abundant with six closets. One of these is a 6 x 6 foot walk-in, and the other five range from 3 x 3 to 3 x 12.

Cathey has carpeted the home throughout with a nylon carpeting, and Elrod's Furniture store has furnished the home. Drapes have also been provided by Cathey.

Police Department Costs Are Below The National Average

The Big Spring Police Department, operating with above the average number of officers per 1,000 population, is also operating below the average per capita cost of running departments in cities from 25,000 to 50,000 population in the nation. The information is gleaned from the 1961 yearbook of the City Managers Association.

With 1.5 policemen per 1,000 persons, the Big Spring department is operating at a cost of $6.87 per capita per year. This includes also 25 per cent each of the city electrician and his assistant's salaries, traffic light purchases, and repairs. Take off the amount set up in the police budget for these services and the cost per capita falls off to $6.70. The national average cost per capita in the same population brackets is $8.68.

The starting salaries for patrolmen in Big Spring is $3,900 per year, and the maximum salary is $4,260. This compares to the national median starting and maximum salaries of $4,411 and $4,992 in this population bracket.

The work week of police here is 48 hours, which is the maximum work found in any department included in the annual report.

The local department operates with eight patrol cars and four motorcycles. Two of the motorcycles are used for utility purposes such as escort and transportation—one being a three-wheeled vehicle. The other two are used by the traffic division for patrolling and fast coverage of accidents. The average number of patrol cars is seven and motorcycles one.

The police chief's salary is slightly below the average at $7,500, the average being $7,675.

With a population of 31,230 in 1960, the City of Big Spring handles its work with a total of 48 employees, including four civilians. These employees draw straight time pay for overtime work.

A survey was made of cities conducting work needs for 1961. The CMA annual reported that 75 of the surveyed group reduced the work week in 1960, compared to 99 in 1959. Nineteen of these were in Texas. San Angelo bucked the trend by increasing the work week from 40 to 44 hours. Thirty-four cities reduced the work week to 40 hours, 37 cities to between 42 and 44 hours, and three to 48 hours. Most of them pay overtime in various forms: some time and a half, some straight time, and 117 utilize methods such as taking time off. Straight time pay is most common.

The annual fixed no cost per capita for individual cities, but did give the average of $8.68.

The 1961 budget has set up $212,640 as salaries for police, clerical, maintenance labor, extra labor, retirement and social security. The total budget figure for operating the department is set at $284,226.

Band Boosters Elect Officers

STANTON (SC — Mrs. John Wilkes was elected president of the Stanton Band Boosters Club Friday during a meeting in the band hall. Mrs. F. C. Wheeler was named vice president.

During the business session, the group decided to build additional counters and shelves in the concession stands. Taylor Stephenson, band director, discussed band plans for the year. The club will meet on the second Tuesday of each month.

Catholics Schedule Annual Fall Festival Sept. 30

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church will hold its 4th Annual Fall Festival on Saturday, Sept. 30.

General Chairman, Jack Turner, received committee reports that preparations are being made to accommodate approximately 600 persons at the barbecue. Wayne Basden, ticket chairman, distributed tickets to workers and stated that serving will be from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 each and children under age 12 will be admitted to the supper free if accompanied by their parents.

The Festival will begin at 4 p.m. that afternoon and will be held in the new school area adjacent to the Church and Nuns' Convent. Visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the recently completed parish plant. Children's games will include grab bag, bottle throw and fish pond. There will also be a cake walk and food booths. Lee Schattel will oversee the barbecue preparation. William Sneed stated that the drawing for the 21 inch portable RCA-TV will be the final event of the evening.

Past Fall Festivals have attracted neighbors from the towns surrounding Big Spring. The committee expects a much larger crowd this year since parking and seating facilities at the new site are much better. Many Big Spring merchants are contributing to the Festival with donations of food and prizes. The committee invites the public to attend the festival.

New Catholic School Opens

Children from the kindergarten through the third grade level will be able to attend school this year at the new Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church school. Classes are scheduled to begin Sept. 5.

The school is located adjacent to the new church on US 87 south. Four sisters will handle the classes at the school. The Sister Superior is Sister Rose Claire of New Jersey. Other teachers are Sister Thomas Ann and Sister Mary Ellen, also from New Jersey, and Sister Beatrice Claire of Midland.

Band Boosters Set First Meeting

The first meeting of the Band Boosters Club has been set for Sept. 11 at the high school band room.

However, project committees already are at work mapping activities for the year. These include cushion sales and other activities attendant upon the first game of the football season, set for the evening of Sept. 8 at Memorial Stadium.

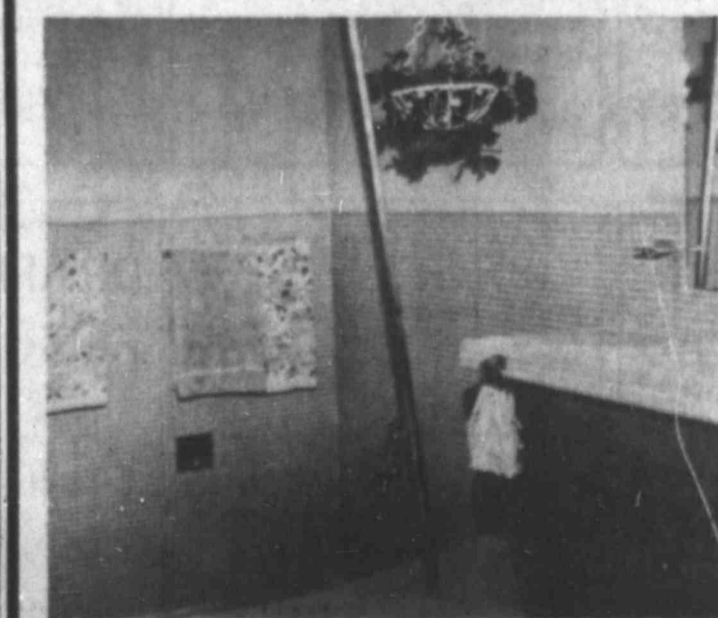

Boosters are especially anxious to have parents of all children in the band program on hand for the initial meeting.

The club has underwritten the purchase of new uniforms for the Runnels Junior High Band in order that all three of the bands will be brightly arrayed for various functions. Previously the club did this for Goliad Junior High.

Midland Man Files Suit Here

Billy C. Davidson, a resident of Midland, has filed suit for $40,000 damages against Roy C. Bell, Big Spring. Davidson's petition was filed Friday in 118th District Court.

The suit resulted from a car accident on June 15. The mishap occurred on US 80 in Midland. Davidson alleges he was injured in the accident and that he is entitled to $40,000 damages to compensate him.

BLUE FLAME HOME

Constructed by JACK CATHEY

2727 EAST 25th
OPEN 1 P.M. - 6 P.M.

Constructed by Jack Cathey, who considers building an art. No detail has been spared to make this beautiful brick home the most livable, the most likable home of the year. The modern architecture lends an air of distinctive charm which begins with the gas lawn lights and pervades the entire house. For something delightfully different, be sure to see the sunken fire place in the family room.

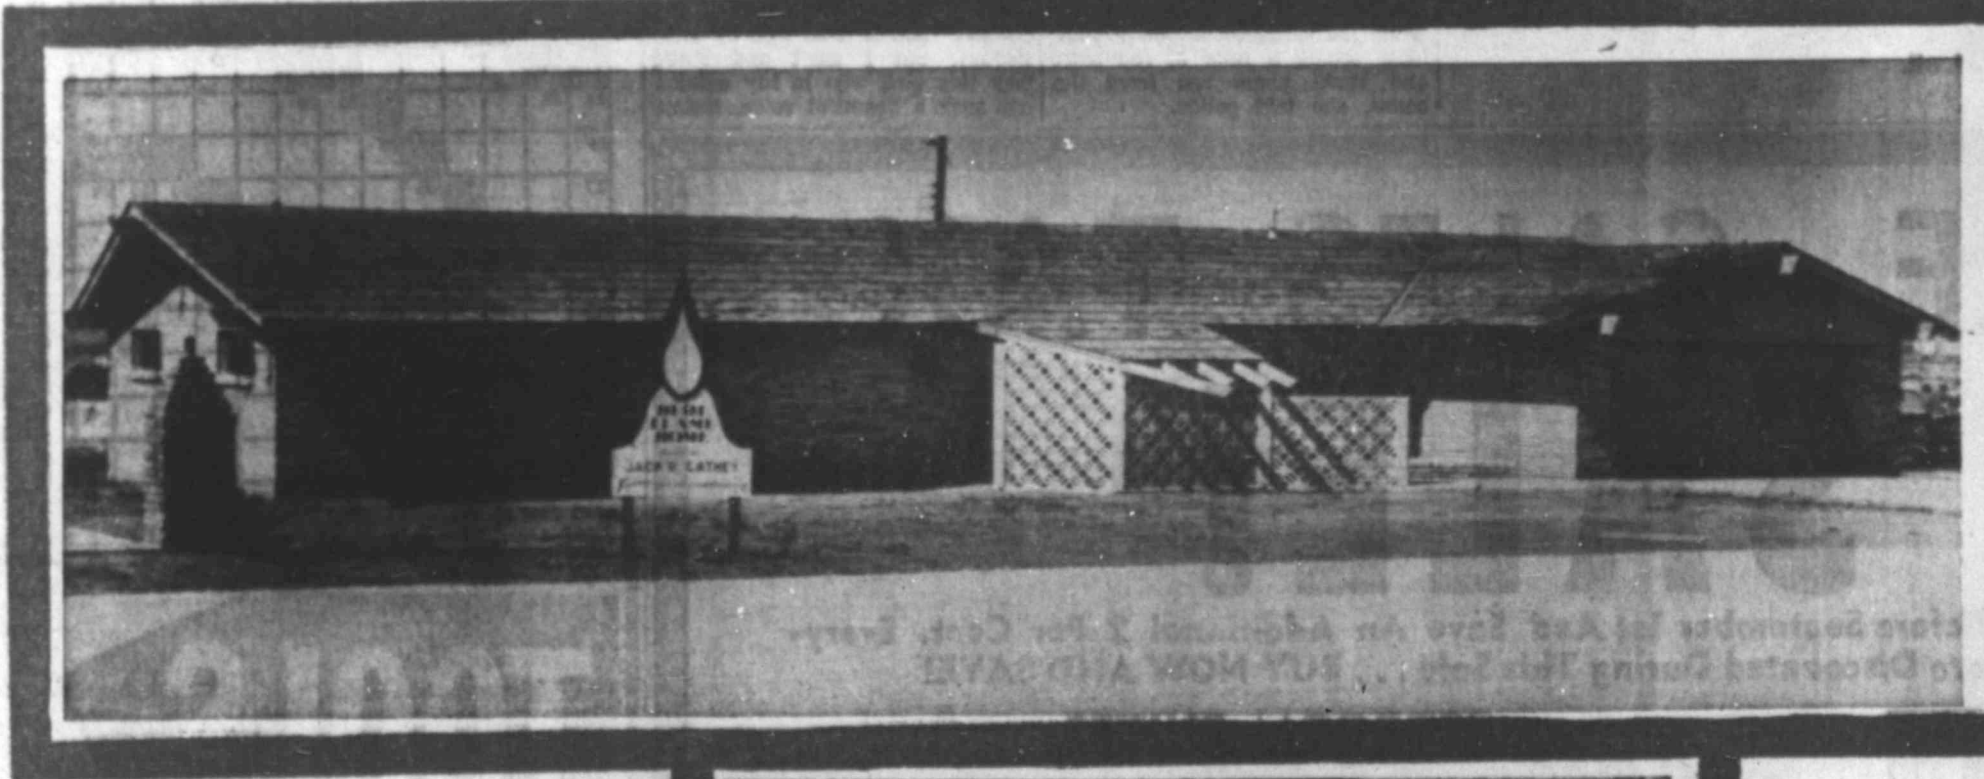

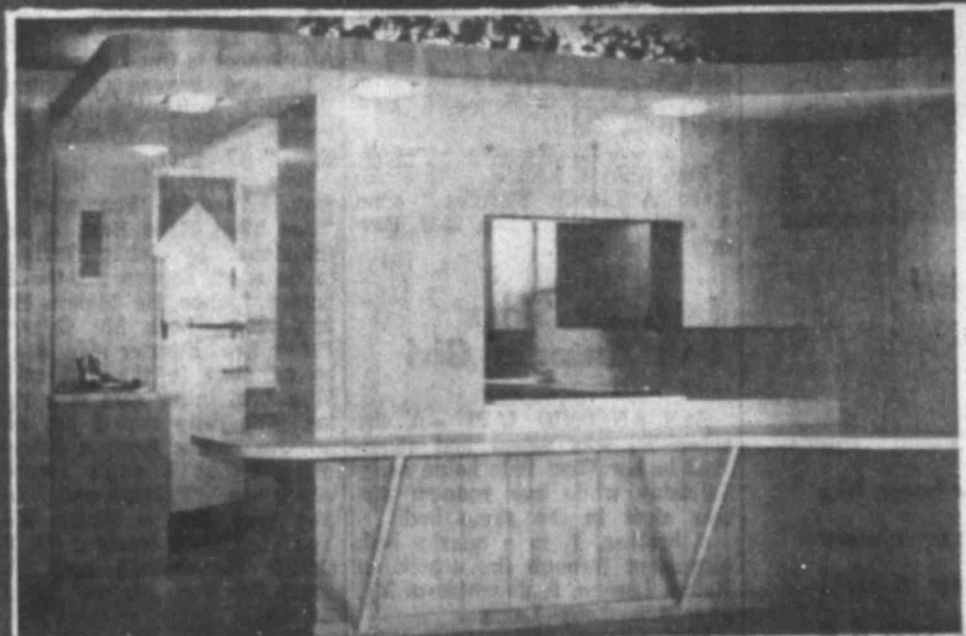

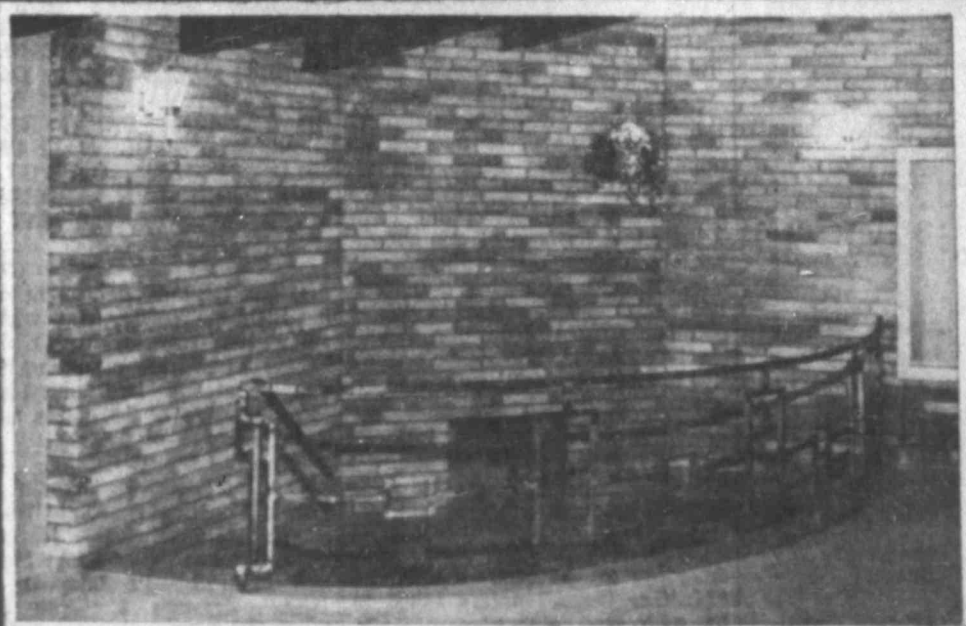

This lovely Blue Flame Home has a formal living room; family room; three bedrooms; one and one-half baths; an office-at-home; a utility room; there are closets literally everywhere; and an ultra-modern gas kitchen that will please any busy housewife.

The beamed-ceiling family room is made more cheery with wood paneling and cut stone walls, there is the sunken fireplace and glass sliding doors opening onto the beautiful back yard patio . . . equipped with a gas char-rock broiler.

Soft music pervades throughout this masterpiece on the AM-FM high fidelity radio and intercom system.

You are cordially invited to come in and see for yourself how something wonderful can happen when there's a combination of imagination, expert construction using only quality building materials . . . and the magic of up-to-date, economical Gas appliances.

DEAR ABBY

Don't Wash Him Away

DEAR ABBY: Sunday is the only full day my boy friend and I have together. It is also the day I like to wash and set my hair.

He told me one time that he didn't like to see me with a "headful of iron," as he put it. My hair is very straight, and I have to use those large rollers. Well, last Sunday he blew his stack. He came over and I had those rollers in my hair, so he left early and went bowling with a boy friend.

Abby, we are getting married in four months, and he will have to get used to seeing me with a headful of iron. He thinks my hair looks beautiful when it is all done, so I can't understand his objections. We are both very stubborn. Is there a solution to my problem?

"IRON HEAD"
DEAR IRON: Wash and set your hair in the morning when your boy friend isn't around. And use one of those portable electric hand dryers (they aren't expensive) to dry it quickly. DON'T insist on showing those rollers down his throat or you'll be the prettiest old maid on the block.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is very upsetting one. I can't match colors for the life of me. I thought I could match colors pretty well, but I guess I can't, because almost every time I go out in public, someone says something about the way my colors clash. Is there some rule I can go by? I am getting so self-conscious about this that I don't want to wear anything but all black.

"COLOR BLIND"
DEAR COLOR BLIND: Perhaps you ARE "color blind." Have your eyes tested for color perception. If they are all right (even if they are not), buy "ensembles" with the guidance of a sales person, and wear the outfits together, as you bought them.

DEAR ABBY: We have trained our children never to address an adult by his first name, but always by "Mr." or "Mrs." We have some neighbors who have a little girl the age of our daughter. Our daughter is at their home a great deal. The child's mother has asked our daughter to please call her HILDA. Now our daughter is confused. She doesn't think it is right to call this woman HILDA, but when she calls her MRS. F., the woman corrects her and asks her to please call her HILDA. How should we handle this?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: Tell your daughter to address adults by "Mr." or "Mrs." unless asked to be addressed otherwise.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Several Local Students On Way Back To College

By KAY LOVELAND
Senior girls, don't forget that the time is drawing nigh for you to have your pictures taken for "El Rodeo" or else become resigned to the fact that your face won't grace the pages of this year's annual when it comes out next spring.

Leaving last Wednesday for Saginaw, Mich., to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. John Ray and family was JOAN BRATCHER. She will go from there to Lamoni, Iowa, where she will be a sophomore in Graceland College.

Also on their way back to college last week were LYN ANDERSON to the University of Texas, and PAUL HATHAWAY to the University of Oklahoma medical school.

KAYE CHADD and BEVERLY ALEXANDER received their majority pins in the Rainbow Girls last Tuesday evening.

ROBERT STRIPLING and GEORGE PEACOCK hosted a party at the Stripling home Tuesday night, and guests were served barbecued chicken. Following the barbecue, some of those present danced while others joined in gab sessions and still others paired off for games of bridge and canasta. Among those at the party were WESLEY GRIGSBY, KAY MCGIBBON, DELORES HOWARD, BILL HENSLEY, BOBBY SEAGO, BEVERLY ALEXANDER, MARIE HALL, DOUG DAVIS, WYNNE VAUGHAN, KAYE CHADD, LINA PAIGE RANDY HENSLEY, PAUL HATHAWAY, BILL ENGLE, CAROLYN THOMPSON, LYN ANDERSON, MIKE JARRATT, and RAY ALEXANDER.

A pat on the back is in order for ROY NEWSOM, who, with his wife, the former MARY OLIPIANT, has been attending North Texas State. He maintained a fall term average of 2.8 and a spring term average of 2.5.

The top ten: 1. "Tossin' and Turnin'"; Lewis; 2. "Wooden Heart"; Dowell; 3. "Michael, Highways"; 4. "Last Night"; Mar-Keys; 5. "I Like It Like That"; Kenner; 6. "You Don't Know What You've Got"; Donner; 7. "Pretty Little Angel Eyes"; Lee; 8. "Dum Dum"; Lee; 9. "Let's Twist Again"; Checker; 10. "School Is Out"; Bonds.

Up and coming: "You're the Reason," South; "Kissin' on the Phone," Anka; "Look in My Eyes," Chantels.

New records at the Record Shop: "Sorrow Tomorrow" and "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby" by Bobby Darin—sure to be a hit because of the Darin name; "When He Makes Music" and "Hey, Look Me Over," by Peggy Lee. Former side is a nice ballad done in the soft style of Miss Lee, latter side is a rollicking little ditty that I am almost positive comes from a Broadway musical but I can't remember which one; "Frankie and Johnny" and "It's Just a House Without You" by Brook Benton; "A Place Called Happiness" and "Lonesome for You, Mama" by Anita Bryant.

"Place" is from the movie "Snow White and the Three Stooges" and is done well by Miss Bryant; but I can't understand why this girl, who in my opinion has such a beautiful voice, insists on desecrating it so by singing songs in the style of "I Can't Do It By Myself." "Mama" is done in a like manner.

Other new ones: "English Country Garden" and "A Little Dog Cried" by Jimmie Rodgers; "English" is a nice tune; "Turn Me On" and "Lonely Island" by Mark Dinning; "Sentimental Journey" and "American Beauty Rose" by Frank Sinatra—repro-

Police Check On Complaints

Thefts, prowlers, night salesmen, speeders, and open doors, were investigated by police after noon Friday in widely separated parts of the city.

W. C. Mitchell, Mitchell's Second Hand Store, 1011 W. 3rd, told police that two Latin American women and a man came into his place Friday and shoplifted one shirt. He said they left headed west.

A caller from Wasson Drive told police there were prowlers in the neighborhood. They were gone when police arrived.

A resident of the 3200 block of Auburn called police Friday night at 9:15 and said a book salesman had been ringing her doorbell. She thought it was rather late for salesmen. Capt. Walter Eubanks, accompanied by a police sergeant and Detective Jones talked to the salesman and advised him to talk to chief Jay Banks before ringing any more doorbells at night.

George W. Holden, 405 Dallas, called police at 11:45 p.m. Friday and said he could not sleep because of speeders on Gregg and Lancaster.

Patrolmen found gates and doors open after 4 a.m. Saturday at the Reed Roller Bit Co., 100 Bell, and at Driver Implement Co., Lamesa Drive. Officers reported that they were apparently left open at closing time.

ductions of songs on one of his albums; "Great Imposter" and "Poor Little Girl" by the Fleetwoods; "Baby Clementine" and "Yellow Bird" by the Mills Brothers.

In a teen magazine called "In-génue," which my younger sister receives every month, there is an article on friendship — including what real friendship is, what it means and the types of friends one can come upon. Of course, most of us have considered what real friendship means.

As the article points out it is a giving and taking relationship which leaves room for each person to grow, to pursue his own interests and to have other friends. It means trust, dependability and compassion, and a knack for being at ease with each other and sharing a real concern for each other's problems. After stating this, the article goes on to list the types of friends to avoid—"enemies in friends' clothing" it said. Here are a few of the types it listed:

The smotherer — she wants to make all her friends dependent on her; she makes all the decisions and gives volumes of free advice on how her friends should act, think and talk.

The magnet — she pulls all her friends into her world, forces them to accept her interests and leaves no room for them to develop their own.

The rebel — she ignores good behavior standards, snickers at her friends' values and insists they accept hers.

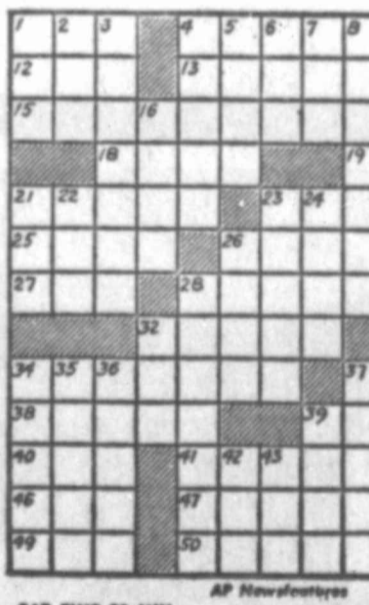

These are people who don't view others as individuals to respect and like, but only as extensions of themselves. It is an article worth reading.

Pipeline Puts Libya In World Market

HOUSTON (AP)—New pipelines soon will be moving oil from Libya's fabulous new fields to world markets.

Idle productive capacity available for the new pipeline outlets to the Mediterranean coast already exceeds 100,000 barrels a day.

Some estimates indicate twice that much Libyan oil may be available for the crowded world market by the time tankers begin moving crude on a full-scale basis from terminals now building on the Gulf of Sirte.

Opening of the pipelines will mark the second time since 1959 for new flush production from North Africa to enter the world market.

Algeria last year offered a graphic example of what pipeline outlets will do for new discoveries in remote areas.

Algerian production in 1959 averaged only 25,180 barrels a day. A 410-mile pipeline from the Hassi-Messoud Field to Bougie on the Mediterranean began operation late that year. Production in 1960 promptly jumped to 183,674 barrels a day.

Eso International Inc. has just completed a 100-mile line with Marsa el Brega. It will take several months to get the line and the unfinished storage terminal into full operation.

Eso has posted a $2.21 a barrel price for the crude moving to Marsa el Brega. The French controlled posted price for Hassi-Messoud crude at Bougie is $2.65.

Libyan crude output has been limited to little more than test production. The August World Oil magazine said producibility of all Libya's oil wells on Feb. 1 was about 112,500 barrels a day.

"Even this figure is expected to climb by the end of 1961 with continuing reports of new producing wells being completed by many of the operators," the magazine said.

Operators Pick Out Eleven New Sites

Area oilmen staked 11 new projects, according to the Saturday report, and an amended project was filed in Martin County. The new ventures are scattered through Borden, Dawson, Sterling, Martin and Garza counties.

GARZA
Texaco Seaboard No. 1 George Beggs is a Post (Glorieta) field location 15 miles southeast of Post and slated for a 2,850 foot bottom. Location is 1,650 from south and 330 from west lines of section 123-4-H&GN survey.

STERLING
Humble Oil and Refining Co. 1-E Reed is a Howard - Glasscock field location about 15 miles south of Coahoma and slated for 1,800 feet. The site is 2,110 from north and 330 from east lines of section 152-29-W&NW survey.

MARTIN
Conoco No. 1 D. Burns is an Ackerly (Dean) field location about two miles west of Ackerly set for 9,000 feet. It is 660 from north and 1,000 from east lines of section 8-34-3n, T&P survey.

DAWSON
Santiago Oil and Gas No. 1 Mahaney - Brown is a re-entry in the Ackerly (Dean) field about five miles north of Ackerly. It will go to 8,500 feet, spotted 660 from south and west lines of section 27-34-4n, T&P survey.

STERLING
Conoco No. 1-A Womack is an Ackerly (Dean) field project about three miles northwest of Ackerly slated for 8,900 feet. It will be drilled 660 from south and 1,980 from east lines of section 40-34-4n, T&P survey.

MARTIN
Conoco No. 1 G. W. Martin is an old well to be drilled deeper in the Ackerly (Dean) field and located four miles northwest of Ackerly and 660 from north and east lines of section 41-34-4n, T&P survey. It is projected to 8,850 feet.

MARTIN
Conoco No. 1 J. H. Reese is an Ackerly (Dean) field location about three miles northwest of Ackerly and slated for 8,950 feet. Drillsite will be 660 from north and east lines of section 41-34-4n, T&P survey.

MARTIN
Conoco No. 1 W. G. Reed is an old well workover in the Ackerly (Dean) field about five miles northwest of Ackerly slated to dig to 8,500 feet. The site is 2,170 from south and 467 from west lines of section 35-34-4n, T&P survey.

MARTIN
Pan American No. 20-B F. D. Breedlove has been amended. It is a Breedlove field location, 8,677 from north and 1,812 from east lines of labor 71-258 Briscoe CSL survey. It is eight miles southwest of Patricia and projected to 12,500 feet.

BORDEN
John J. Eisner No. 3-HB R. H. Jordan is a Fluvanna (Strawn) field location about five miles northwest of Fluvanna and slated

Hargis Closes Second Career

When Jewell Bryan Hargis retires from Cosden Petroleum Corporation Aug. 31, he will be closing his second career. The long-time billing clerk at Cosden's products terminal at Arlington had initially spent almost 20 years in the teaching profession.

He was born at Dawson, Texas. After collecting his high school diploma there, he entered Baylor University to earn a B. S. degree which he followed with graduate study at the University of Texas. Science was his specialty. It still pleases him to visit with people he taught in schools at Corsicana, Willsboro, Maypearl, Bartlett, Summerville.

Hargis joined Cosden on June 14, 1943, at the bulk plant it was then operating in Dallas. As he phrased it, he was "manager, loader, billing clerk and general rouabout." When the Arlington terminal was established four years later, he was transferred there as billing clerk. In the past he has won the unanimous commendation of employer and jobbers alike. Commuting from his home in Dallas has not kept him from getting to his desk early and has made him ignore the 5 o'clock whistle.

The Hargises reside at 2638 Wilton in Dallas. Mrs. Hargis, the former Laura Lane, was a fellow teacher in the Corsicana school system when the couple met. They were married July 14, 1921 in her home town, Valley Mills. Joel is the only one of their three children whose home is in Dallas. Mrs. Marilyn Thorn lives in Victorville, Calif. and Louis is a senior at Texas A & M College.

Hargis, who is a member of the American Legion, is active in Brandon Avenue Methodist Church at Dallas, where he has been teaching a men's class. Now that he will have more time, he expects to intensify his interest in two hobbies—fishing and gardening.

Drillers Report 231 Completions

AUSTIN (AP) — Drillers completed 231 oil wells last week, the Railroad Commission said Saturday. This brings the year total to 6,142, compared with 6,519 in 1960.

Howard County Accounts For Most Of 12 Area Completions

Operators added 12 projects to the area completed columns on Saturday's report, sprinkling them through Howard, Mitchell, Dawson and Garza counties.

HOWARD
Elmer J. Boske No. 28 TL&M is an Iatan-East Howard field completion, with an initial pumping potential of 120 barrels of 29 gravity oil and two per cent water. There were no gas traces and operator fraced with 10,000 gallons. Total depth is 2,709 feet, the 4 1/2 inch casing goes to 2,623 feet, and the open hole section is between 2,623-709 feet. COSDEN SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Cosden Petroleum Corporation reported $1,151,743, or 38 cents a share, in earnings for the first quarter ended July 31, 1961. This was an improvement of 13 per cent over the like period in 1960, when net income was $1,016,100, equal to 34 per cents a share.

Net sales and operating revenue for the first quarter under review increased to $21,858,557, which was 6 per cent over the comparable period in 1960. Cash flow, at $2,874,512, was up 5 per cent.

President R. L. Tolleit said a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share had been declared payable Sept. 29, to stockholders of record on Sept. 8.

Active Rig Total Drops

Reed Roller Bit Co. Friday counted 253 rotary rigs in operation in the Permian Basin Empire.

This is a decrease from last week's 259, but well ahead of this time last year's 227 units.

Lea County, N. M., with 45 rigs making hole, led West Texas and Southeast New Mexico activity. Other more active counties included Crane, 17, and Ector and Andrews, each with 16.

The county-by-county survey, with previous totals in parenthesis, includes:

Andrews 16 (12), BORDEN 6 (6), Coke 3 (4), Concho 3 (2), Crane 17 (17), Crockett 8 (9), Crosby 1 (1), DAWSON 7 (6), Dickens 1 (0), Ector 16 (20), Eddy 14 (16);

Fisher 3 (3), GAINES 7 (7), GARZA 3 (5), GLASSCOCK 1 (1), Hale 1 (1), Hockley 0 (2), HOWARD 3 (4), Kent 3 (3), Lea 45 (41), Loving 3 (3);

Lubbock 2 (1), Lynn 0 (1), MARTIN 5 (4), Midland 5 (5), Menard 1 (1), MITCHELL 1 (1), Nolan 5 (4), Pecos 11 (18), Reeves 6 (4), Roosevelt 11 (11), Rnels 2 (3);

Schleicher 2 (1), Scurry 3 (4), Stonewall 3 (3), Terrell 5 (5), Tom Green 2 (3), Upton 9 (9), Ward 5 (5), Winkler 9 (8), Yoakum 7 (5), TOTALS 255 (259).

GARZA GETS 2 WILDCATS

Two wildcats have been staked in Garza County.

Humble Oil & Refining Company will drill No. 11 Birdie R. Alexander, a 6,000-foot Wichita-Albany test, on the west edge of the Dorward field. Site is eight miles southeast of Justiceburg and 1,900 feet from south and east lines of section 139, block 5, H&GN survey.

Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Company has filed application to drill a 5,200-foot Wichita-Albany wildcat, No. 1 Laredo Hagins and others, 12 miles northeast of Post. It spots 5 1/2 miles north of the Post field and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 38, block 8, H&GN survey.

Cosden Plans Higher Testing

Cosden Petroleum Corporation will plug back from 3,370 feet to 2,880 feet to test an unidentified formation in No. 1-B Roy Miller, recently completed project in the Refoil (3,200-foot) field of Crockett County.

It was completed July 18 for 95.21 barrels of 31-gravity oil daily from perforations at 3,265-3,302 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 501-1.

Site is eight miles southwest of Ozona and 340 feet from south and 490 feet from west lines of the east part of Sallie Renshaw survey 38 1/2.

Area Charged With Failures

Three failures were reported in the area at week's end, all explorers that have been abandoned.

J. Paul Karcher No. 1-A Post Montgomery, a wildcat in Garza County, was plugged after drilling to 3,249 feet. The project was in section 1,218 of the TTRR survey. In Dawson County, Sinclair has plugged No. 1 Kent at total depth

Conoco Reports On Four Projects

Conoco had filed reports on several of its projects in Dawson County Saturday. All are in the NW Ackerly (Dean) field.

No. 1-A Archer is digging at 8,740 feet. It is C NE NW of section 39-34-4n, T&P survey. No. 1 White is making hole below 8,461 feet at C SW NW of section 9-34-3n, T&P survey.

No. 1 Toole is below 6,535 feet and is C SW NW of section 39-34-4n, T&P survey. No. 1 White is making hole below 8,461 feet at C SW NW of section 9-34-3n, T&P survey.

2 Girls Killed As Jet Falls

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two little girls, 2 and 4 years old, lost their lives Friday when a burning Air Force jet fighter plane crashed in a residential area near Tinker Air Force Base.

The pilot of the plane tried unsuccessfully to land the craft.

1st Lt. W. H. Barbour bailed out safely moments before his F100 slammed into the rear of the Donald Tuttle residence and disintegrated in a block long ball of fire. Seven frame homes erupted in flames while residents on Ferguson Street in suburban Midwest City fled in confusion through falling debris.

Most made it to safety, but firemen found the body of Tibbie Tuttle, 2, inside the wreckage of her home.

Her sister, Judy, 4, died in Tinker AFB Hospital of burns. The children's mother and a brother, Donald Ray, 6, were hospitalized with burns. The father, Donald Tuttle, who was not at home at the time of the crash, was under treatment for shock.

Barbour's was one of 16 jets flying from his base at Myrtle Beach, S.C. to Nellis AFB, Nev., on a gunnery training mission.

'Americanism' Cited in Ruling On Peace Corpsman

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami draft board has refused to defer a member of President Kennedy's Peace Corps and said he should be taught Americanism rather than teach it.

Local Board 46 voted unanimously Friday to refuse deferment to Charles Kamen, 21, and declared, also by unanimous vote, that Kamen would be better off in service where he would be taught Americanism rather than in the Peace Corps where he would teach it.

Roy Lee Jones, draft board chairman and an assistant state attorney, reported the action and said refusal of deferment will keep Kamen out of the Peace Corps but he probably will not be drafted immediately.

Kamen has been in the news since Dec. 2, 1960, when he heckled the showing of the film, "Operation Abolition," at a Miami Rotary Club meeting.

Kamen is in training at Penn State University for a teaching assignment in the Philippines and could not be reached for comment.

CAL Makes Bid For Extension

Continental Airlines, which serves Big Spring, asked the Civil Aeronautics Board Thursday for an extension of its system and the right to fly routes between Chicago, Cleveland and New York, between Cleveland and Philadelphia, and between Philadelphia and Detroit. This was a major move to extend its system to the East Coast.

An application, filed with the CAB in Washington, said it would serve the cities with pure jet equipment if Continental is granted the new routes.

Robert F. Six, president, said from his Denver office, the Continental is the carrier best qualified to provide the competitive regional service that is needed between the cities. The CAB recently opened the Chicago-East case to determine what new service is required on the routes named to fill the competitive gap created by the merger of Capital Airlines into United Air Lines.

Chicago is the easternmost terminus of Continental's present 7,000-mile system which extends to 26 cities in nine states.

Bidding For Regular Jobs

H. K. Elrod, Jim Alexander and Danny Henry. At the top are Harry King, Kenneth Seles and Larry Stroud. The Buffs launch play against Wellman at home Friday night.

Some AAA Teams Open Play Next Weekend

By The Associated Press

More than 350 games launch the Texas schoolboy football campaign this week. From Panhandle to Gulf they'll be at it hot and heavy in six classes of the gigantic gridiron campaign.

Class AAAA, the top one, does not swing into action until next week but Classes AAA, AA, A, B, Six-Man and Eight-Man are privileged to begin the long march come Friday.

There are only a smattering of games in Class AAAA—just 14 in fact—with Brownwood, the defending champion, not among them.

Denver City, the 1960 king of Class AA, blasts off with an intersectional test. Denver City plays Lovington, N.M.

Albany, the champion of Class A, will be mixed in one of the feature games. It plays Olney, a Class AA toughie, and might well take a licking its first time out—as it did last year. Olney beat Albany 38-12 and that was the only defeat suffered by the Class A team all season.

There will be 212 games in the three classes that play to state championships—AAA, AA and A. Classes B, Six-Man and Eight-Man will chip in with about 150 games.

Classes AAA has these games: Hereford at Brownfield, Pecos at Fort Stockton, San Angelo Lakeview at Winters, Nacogdoches at Brenham, Grand Saline at Athens, Dickinson at Clear Creek, Liberty at Deer Park, Alpine at Del Rio, Uvalde at Pearsall, Otero at Refugio, Sinton at Aransas Pass, Mercedes at Edouch-Else, Rio Grande City at Donna, Burk Burnett at Graham.

There'll be a once-familiar name back in the championship race this season. That's Stamford, a four-time state titlist which had to lay out of championship competition last season because of recruiting trouble. Its title of 1959 was forfeited to Brady.

But Stamford is back in the Interscholastic League's good graces and will be contending for the District 6 crown in Class AA once more. Stamford takes on Quannah, another AA team, in its opener Friday.

Class AAAA will open full blast Sept. 8 with Wichita Falls, the championship favorite, meeting Ada, Okla., in its first game.

Futurity At Ruidoso Tops Most Of Biggest Events

RUIDOSO, N.M.—This Shangri-La of the Sport of Kings and quarter horse racing in particular has every right to be proud of Ruidoso-Downs general manager Gene Hensley.

In three short years, Hensley has pioneered the All-American Futurity into the first $200,000-plus stakes in quarter horse racing history—topping all of thoroughbred racing's triple crown events both last year and this year.

The third running of the All-American here Labor Day,

September 4, was guaranteed a gross value of more than 200 grand when 36 of 71 remaining eligibles passed the entry box for yesterday's trials, to be contested in four divisions of nine each.

Including the All-American, here is a comparative table listing the richest thoroughbred stakes offered thus far this year:

RACE	Gross Value
1. Arlington Futurity	$211,750
2. All-American Futurity	202,425
3. Preakness Stakes	179,700
4. Santa Anita Maturity	167,370

Grade School Grid Coach Is Injured

WHITE DEER, Tex. (AP)—Kelfer Butler, grade school football coach at nearby Skellytown, was critically injured Friday while coaching.

Attendants at an Amarillo hospital said Saturday that Butler was paralyzed from the neck down after suffering an injury when he was tackled by one of the high school players.

Three schoolboys have died following fall workouts since practice began this year. The fatalities occurred at Falls City, Crowell and Winters.

Tigers, Midland Tangle At 3:00

The Big Spring Tigers, 13-13 on the season, visit Midland today for a single baseball game with that city's Latin-American contingent. Game time is 3 p.m.

Charley Fierro probably will mount the knoll for the Bengals. Lefty Chubby Fierro will probably be available for relief duty on the pitcher rubber.

Baylor Mentors To Greet 70 Gridders On Friday

WACO — Coach John Bridgers and his staff expect to greet a squad of some 70 football candidates, including an "A" squad of 50, when the Baylor Bears turn out Friday, Sept. 1, for the start of 1961 fall training.

The returnees will include 19 lettermen from 1960, plus two 1959 lettermen. Senior tackle Jon Markham of Odessa and senior halfback Dean Blair of Spokane, Wash. A 20th letterman from 1960, expected starting guard Bobby Manasco, was recently stricken with infectious hepatitis, will miss the 1961 season.

This will be Coach Bridgers' third season at Baylor. The red-headed Auburn product took over after a 1958 Southwest Conference cellar finish and aided by a star sophomore group moved to a surprise 4-5 record and fifth-place finish in 1959. In 1960, he took his club to a 8-2 season, second-place Conference tie and No. 12 national ranking.

His sophomore leaders of 1959 and juniors of 1960 will be 1961 seniors, including such as Tri-Capt. Bill Hicks at center; Herby Adkins at guard; Tri-Capt. Ronnie Stanley and Bobby Ply at quarterback; Ronnie Bull and Tommy Minter at halfbacks, as a nucleus.

FORCED TO FLEE WITHOUT THEIR BABY

...NOW SHE'S HOME

When Mr. and Mrs. Varga fled Hungary for their lives, they had to leave their daughter, Ester Ilona, with relatives. For four years, the brutal Kadar regime refused the child an exit visa. But continuous beseeching by dedicated agencies finally obtained the child's release—the first since the 1956 revolution.

Ester's present happiness is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs.

The work goes on, day in and day out... and it must continue. These religion-sponsored endeavors often provide the only hope for the free world's destitute. The next time you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember that your contribution will make it possible for other lives to be free from fear and terror.

The Coaches

As football season approaches, you become familiar with the names of those who direct the fortunes of the local grid teams. There are "helping hands" behind the coaches—wives and youngsters—who are ready to cheer when things go winningly, and to console when victory is elusive. Meet the families of the Big Spring grid coaches.

Rings, Vows Are Exchanged By Judy Pearce, Wendell Brown

In a twin-ring ceremony Friday evening, Judy Lee Pearce and Wendell Gene Brown exchanged wedding vows in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Frank Polard of Seagraves read the nuptial rites.

Parents of the bride are Clyde E. Pearce, 1602 Sunset, and Mrs. Glens Pearce of Houston. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. E. Brown, 1606 Wood, and the late Mr. Brown.

Palms, interspersed with baskets of white gladioli and flanked by tapers in candelabra, made the setting for the wedding party.

Mrs. Jake Douglas, accompanied by Cleo Thomas, sang "I Love Thee"; as the couple knelt on a white prie dieu, she sang "The Wedding Prayer."

For her wedding gown the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose white Chantilly lace over taffeta and tulle. From a high yoke of tulle, the back extended into a V; the full skirt was fashioned with fagot panel of tulle with the lace completing the back.

Something borrowed was the veil, which is the property of Mrs. Bill Thompson of Houston; a blue friendship garter had been worn by six of the bride's friends; something new was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and something old was the wedding ring of her mother.

A tiny half hat of leaf design, encrusted with sequins and pearls, held the waist-length veil of silk illusion, and the bride carried white roses and agapanthus with satin streamers.

Judy Foster was maid of honor, while Fredda Bonfield, Anne Homan and Elena Patterson attended as bridesmaids.

All attendants were dressed in coral silk organza over taffeta, with full skirts and fitted bodices; their hats were of white net topped with white blossoms.

Roger D. Brown attended his brother as best man; guests were seated by Calvin Clark of Longview and Horace Battenfield, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom; groomsmen were Johnny Roy Phillips, Tommy Buckner and Charles Morris. Tapers were lighted by Bruce and Larry Moore.

Mothers of the couple and the feminine attendants assisted the couple in the receiving line during the reception in Fellowship Hall of the church. Nancy Moore registered the guests.

On the refreshment table, laid with lace over white satin, was an arrangement of coral gladioli and coral tapers. White roses and wedding bells decorated the top of the three-tiered cake, frosted with confection roses.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Robert Gruver of Houston, sister of the bride; Kathy Johnson, Cheryl Jones, Wanda Boatler, Jean Roberts, Joann Horton, Mrs. Battenfield and Mrs. Clark, sisters of the bridegroom.

Here from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellzey of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Houston; Jerry McPeters of Hobbs, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sneed of Seminole; Mr. and Mrs. V. T. McCabe of Colorado City.

The bride was attired in a silk shantung suit of toast shade with matching hat and accessories of orchid for a trip to the Northwest and Canada; the corsage from her bridal bouquet was pinned to her jacket.

The Browns will make a home in Denton, where he will be a junior student in interior design in North Texas State University. Both are graduates of Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College. Until her marriage, the bride was employed in the county tax appraiser's office.

Mrs. Meador Is Graduate of Tech

Mrs. Sammy Meador received her B. A. degree at graduation ceremonies at Texas Tech Saturday night, and upon her graduation she became eligible to teach in the elementary and secondary levels of the public schools.

Mrs. Meador attended Howard County Junior College for two years on a City-Council P-TA scholarship, which is awarded only to students who plan to become teachers. She graduated valedictorian of her class at the junior college and majored in zoology at Tech.

At Texas Tech she was named on the Dean's List every semester she was enrolled. Attending the ceremonies Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Meador, her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith and Mr. and Mrs. James Tibbs, her husband's sisters and their husbands.

Choir Is Entertained

The First Baptist Church choir was entertained with a patio supper at the J. C. Douglass Jr. home, Thursday evening, with husbands and wives who are not members of the choir included as guests.

The buffet serving table was covered with a red and white cloth as were the individual tables for four, at which the 75 guests were seated.

Introduced as new members of the choir were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Devenport, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler. Mrs. Billy Watson was a special guest.

Wayne Nance, director of the choir, presented a farewell gift to Hubert Murphy, who is leaving for service in the armed forces. Murphy is youth director and director of the Young People's Choir. Arrangements were in charge of the social committee; Mrs. Wayne Nance, chairman; Mrs. Marshall Cauley, and Bob Capps.

Overtons Will Move To Welch

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Overton will leave soon for Welch, where they will make a home.

Mrs. A. J. McCall has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy in Andrews.

Guests of the Donald Murphys and the Paul Kennedys have been the James Kennedys of Seminole; the Sam Kennedys of DeKalb and the Mackie Scogginsses of Midkiff.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overton and Lanell and Mr. and Mrs. Mac Robinson and Tammy of Waco are vacationing in Colorado.

The Elmer Pattens have as their guest his mother, Mrs. E. Patton of Tye.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Girdner of Spur have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shoults. While Mr. and Mrs. Hood Jones of Kermil are in California, their daughters, Cindy and Karen, are staying with their grandparents, the A. O. Joneses.

Food Costs Less Than In Past

Food is a bargain! You are using less of the family take-home pay to buy your groceries than you did 10 years ago.

Facts and figures added up by the U.S. Department of Agriculture show that the average family grocery bill today is only about a fifth of its take-home pay compared with a fourth just after World War II.

Also, you're getting more marketing services for your food dollars. This includes more processing, distribution and transportation services. These services give you the benefit of year-round production in distant, specialized farm areas so that fresh fruits and vegetables, for example, are at your market all the time. You can shop the entire country and many foreign lands in your local market.

Do you have a maid or cook? Most homemakers don't, but they buy built-in-maid-services in convenience foods such as ready-mixes, heat-and-serve meals, frozen fruits and vegetables and other items.

So, you see, although food prices have gone up, you get more for your money. About 61 cents of your food dollar goes for processing, transporting and distributing costs. The farmer gets only 29 cents or a dime less than he got 10 years ago.

Here's why USDA says food is a bargain. An hour of factory work 10 years ago bought 2.3 pounds of chuck roast—today it will buy 3.3 pounds. Ten years ago an hour of factory work bought 6 1/2 quarts of milk—today it buys 8.1 quarts.

Food costs have gone up only 15 per cent in the last 10 years—much less than other living costs.

Halibut Is Easy Under Broiler

This main course is easy to fix because it's cooked under the broiler.

HALIBUT
1 1/2 lbs. halibut steaks
2 tbsps. butter
Salt and pepper
2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
4 small tomatoes
Buttered crumbs

Arrange steaks on broiling pan; dot with half the butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil about 3 inches from source of heat for about 10 minutes.

Turn steaks; dot with remaining butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spoon potatoes around fish; place tomatoes (tops cut off and sprinkled with buttered crumbs) at sides of pan.

Broil until fish flakes easily—about 10 minutes longer.

NOTE: Have the halibut cut into 4 thick steaks.

Golf Association

'Little Red Schoolhouse' Means Something To These Newcomers

When people speak of the "little red schoolhouse," they are talking about a subject close to the heart of A. L. Marple.

He and his wife with Dian and Kemper, moved to Big Spring this past week, just in time for him to take over his duties as fifth grade teacher at Marley Elementary.

Marple is looking forward to his job as he begins his 24th teaching term, 15 years of that time spent in instructing students from the first through the eighth grades in one-room school houses back in the hills of West Virginia.

Eight years was spent in Channing, Tex., where he taught the third and fourth grades for three years before becoming high school principal—a job he held for five years prior to coming to Big Spring.

He feels that a teacher is "under less pressure" teaching all grades in one room than he is teaching in the big modern schools of the towns and cities.

It was while he was teaching in West Virginia that he met his future wife while boarding at her family's home. During the 33 years of their married life, they have reared 10 children; two of them, Dian, 13, and Kemper, 11, are still at home.

Marple attended school at Davis and Elkins College and Fairmont State Teachers' College, both in West Virginia, but received his bachelor's degree at Panhandle A&M in Goodwell, Okla. He took his master's at West Texas State College in Canyon.

The Marples' children are scattered over the South—a prime consideration in their move to Big Spring, where two of their daughters, Mrs. Ed Wright and Mrs. Bobby Blacksheer live. Another daughter lives in Dalhart; two live in Sunray, and one teaches school in Montgomery, Ala. One of their three sons resides in Elk City, Okla.; another is a student at Texas Tech.

Rearing a family of 10 was a fulltime occupation for Mrs. Marple for many years, but with only two at home now, she has found time for a hobby—making hooked rugs. Just last Thanksgiving she decided to try her hand at the work, and since that time, she has hooked 11, but she has given them all away.

The teacher is an avid fisher when he can find the time, but at the moment his spare minutes are spent in another of his avocations, carpentry work. He has been helping a son-in-law enclose his carport.

Dian, who will be in the eighth grade at Goliad, is interested in such scholarly pursuits as stamp collecting and reading, an enthusiasm she acquired from her mother and father who both enjoy reading.

Guns fascinate sixth grader Kemper. He states that he likes to hunt, although he has "only hunted once," and he is constantly trying to learn more about the many different guns.

The family also takes an interest in music, and Mr. Marple is toying fondly with the idea of an organ.

The Marples think they will enjoy living in Big Spring, where they can be close to some of their eight grandchildren, and where they have already discovered "many friendly people."

Potato Pancakes For Sunday Supper

Serve these pancakes with applesauce and sour cream (or both) plus Canadian bacon for Sunday night supper. If you have an electric skillet, cook them right at the table.

POTATO PANCAKES

1 large egg
 1/2 tsp. baking powder
 1/2 tsp. salt
 3 medium-sized potatoes (pared and quartered)
 1 medium-sized onion, sliced
 1 1/2 tbsps. flour
 6 tbsps. butter or oil
 Drop the egg, baking powder, salt, potatoes and onion into the blender container; blend until mixture is combined; add flour and blend to combine.

Add a couple tablespoons of the butter to a skillet and heat; brown tablespoonsful of the mixture on both sides in the hot butter; add more butter as needed. Use moderate heat.

Makes about 2 1/2 dozen small pancakes. Serve at once or keep hot in slow oven or on electric tray.

Irwins Have Arizona Guests

Doyle Irwin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Irwin, returned Thursday from a summer-long vacation in Arizona. He was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parsons, who will visit here briefly and proceed to San Angelo. There they will be with Mrs. Father Templeton, mother of Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Irwin.

Mrs. Ray White entered Medical Arts Hospital on Wednesday and is expected to be there for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Alsbury are vacationing in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. H. H. Stevens, mother of Mrs. Julia Bonifield and Mrs. Marvin Miller, is visiting in Fort Worth this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff Peters of Tulsa, Okla., have been guests this week of his father, Otto Peters, and his brother and family, the Otto Peterses, Jr.

Tito Arencibia, who sustained a broken knee cap in a ball game a few weeks ago, was moving around the office on crutches one day this week to say hello to his associates. He is hopeful of returning to work next week.

Jack Y. Smith and Johnny Hill conducted a meeting for personnel supervisors of various firms Friday at Cosden Country Club. Personnel men attended from West Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

Amounts Of Flour Wrong In Recipes

Oops! The flour is wrong. In the recipe run in Thursday's Herald, the amount of flour given for Red Velvet Cake frosting should have read 1/2 cup.

For the old fashioned tea cakes, use 3/4 cups of flour, instead of the amount listed.

The recipes were given by Mrs. Ray Boyd, 2501 Morrison.

Son, Family Are Alexanders' Guests

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Alexander, 1010 Bluebonnet, have been their children, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Ernest W. Alexander Jr., Patricia and Scott.

The colonel has been with the office of Inspector General, Norton AFB, San Bernardino, Calif., for three years. He and his family will be in Ankara, Turkey, for a three-year tour of duty.

Bride's Uncle Reads Rites For Wedding In Abilene Church

The Rev. J. Lester Davenport of Fort Worth read the double ring ritual which united his niece, Marilyn Moore, and Bobby Joe McMillan in marriage Saturday evening at St. Paul Methodist Church, Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McMillan, 605 Bell, are parents of the bridegroom; the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moore of Graham.

Arrangements of white gladioli interspersed a setting of greenery in which stood two candelabra holding 14 tapers each.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Wiley Caffey, organist, presented selections of nuptial music and she accompanied Breese Westmoreland as he sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee".

BRIDAL GOWN
The bride's father gave her in marriage; her floor-length gown of white taffeta was fashioned with a bateau neckline with scallops at the hem of the skirt, which extended into a chapel train. Flow-ers of applied embroidered or-gandy enhanced the bodice sleeves and points of the scallops.

Lace and taffeta roses, trimmed in seed pearls, made the head-piece which held a fingertip veil. The bride carried white roses and stephanotis on a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom; she wore a gold bracelet, over 50 years old, which belongs to an aunt.

Carolyn Moore attended her sister as maid of honor; bridesmaids were Evelyn Coason of Weatherford and Mrs. B. L. Moore of Abilene, sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Moore wore a yellow silk organza frock over taffeta, with fitted bodice and bateau neckline; her flowers were yellow carnations and English ivy. The brides-maids were dressed in the same fashion in dresses of turquoise.

Serving as best man was Roy

Lee McMillan; B. L. Moore, Barton Grooms of Amarillo, Bill McKinley of Corpus Christi and Joe Lukonic of Abilene were ushers.

The mothers of the couple and the bride's attendants assisted the couple in receiving guests at a reception held in the church parlor.

HOUSE PARTY
Members of the house party were Mrs. Lukonic, Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Don Minor, Mrs. Berkeley and Valerie; Deanna Thomas of Roswell, N.M.; Mrs. Olive Watt of Weatherford; Mrs. Robert Chambers of Denton; Mrs. John C. Webb and John Jr. of Crane; the Rev. and Mrs. Jordan Grooms and Telle of Amarillo.

Also, Mrs. R. L. Baber, Mrs. Edward Shive, Mrs. Felix Jarratt, Mrs. Eula Ashbrook, Twila Lomax, Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, Mrs. Max Fitzhugh and Mrs. H. H. Fryar, all of Big Spring.

The wedding cake, all-white, was in two tiers with the lower tier in scallops and surrounded with love birds and wedding bells. The top held three satin bells, and confection roses decorated the sides.

A black faille sheath was the choice of the bride for a trip to points in East Texas; She wore black suede shoes and bag with red accessories.

The couple will make a home in Dallas, where the bride will attend Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University; she is a graduate of Abilene High School and attended McMurry College and Weatherford College. Un-til her marriage, she was em-ployed by the Abilene Savings As-sociation.

The bridegroom is a Big Spring High School graduate and a 1961 alumnus of McMurry College; he was a member of the Forum, a ministerial organization, and was a senior senator.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Members of the wedding party were entertained at Arthur's Cafeteria Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. McMillan were hosts for a rehearsal dinner.

Family Reunion
Fifty-one attended the reunion of the Lawdermilk family Sun-day held in City Park, with relatives coming from Andrews, Midland, Clyde and Odessa. Horseshoes and 42 were the en-tertainment during the afternoon.

TEEN-AGERS TO DANCE AT CLUB
Teen-age members of the Big Spring Country Club and their guests will be entertained at a Back-to-School dance Wednes-day, from 8 p.m. to 12 mid-night, at the club.

Mrs. Marjorie Ramsey has announced that guests do not have to be accompanied by their hosts. Price of the dance is set for $1.50 per person and $1.00 for stags.

Music will be furnished by The Classics of Odessa.

WEBB WINDSOCK

Thursday is all-bridge day at the Officers' Club. Plan to be there with your own partner and have a lot of fun. Playing starts promptly at 1:00 p.m.

Even though the weather has cooled down some, we can see that visiting time isn't over. L. and Mrs. J. W. Damschroder have had her sister, Peggy Marshall of Miami, Fla. here for a visit.

L. and Mrs. B. J. Gough have had friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ver-non Simey of Norman, Okla., as houseguests.

From just down the road, San Antonio, comes Mrs. Downs to visit her son and daughter-in-law, L. and Mrs. James Downs.

L. and Mrs. Gaylord Hayden had her mother Mrs. Kirchoff of East St. Louis, Ill., for a visit.

L. and Mrs. David Sweeney had Mimi Schultz of McAllen as their guest.

This will be the last reminder of the bowling roll-offs to be held at the Bowl-a-Rama Wednesday. We would like to see a lot of girls out there as it will be fun. Be there at 12:30 p.m., but if you can't make it call Mrs. Jack Vickard, AM 3-3387 or Mrs. Cecil Peters, AM 3-6133.

Visiting Capt. and Mrs. Glenn Fletcher have been her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Lea of Abilene.

Recent houseguests of L. and Mrs. Floyd Kendrick were her mother, Mrs. Gaines Long, and her brothers from Gainesville, Fla.; his father, Carl Kendrick, and sister from Plant City, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Brindley of Birmingham, Ala., have been visit-ing their children, L. and Mrs. Gary Brindley.

Back home from Chicago are L. and Mrs. Ray Bomkamp and family, who were guests of his family.

Mrs. Tom Nelson and Mrs. Jim

Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman were hosts for an ice cream supper Friday evening when mem-bers of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club and their families were en-tertained.

During the evening the group played games of 42. The next hostess will be Mrs. Dick Hooper, 1703 Ownes, who will have the club at 2 p.m., Friday.

MRS. BOBBY JOE McMILLAN

Lady Takes Stock Of Business World

By MARY LOU LOPER
Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Mar-jorie Fisher asks big business ex-ecutives—acquaintances she hap-pens to meet on plane trips to New York—"Why did your stock sell off today?" they do double takes.

But when she gets elected president of the Los Angeles Society of Security Analysts by 190 men and three women, none of her fellow analysts is surprised.

Marjorie Fisher, a bright-eyed, vivacious woman who wears hot pink suits with the flair of a Chanel model, is the first woman to be elected president of such a so-ciety in the United States.

WAY UP THERE

She is also vice president of a company which does investment research for four mutual funds. Assets of the companies total 400 million dollars.

Miss Fisher lives in Parklarea, loves cats and hopes to get to Hong Kong "before the tourists ruin it." She grew up in Toronto and heard stocks and bonds dis-cussed "Since I can remember."

ALWAYS TREASURER

Her economics professor at Mt. Holyoke College should have guessed she would become an analyst: she was treasurer of every-thing she belonged to, including the International Club.

Her first job upon graduation (1942) was the "Dun's Review," published by Dun & Bradstreet in New York. She wrote business reviews for the experts on Wall Street. Looking back, she says, "I'm amazed that I had the nerve to do it!"

She made $30 a week. Next she spent two years as an assistant field director with the American Red Cross in the Philip-pines. Then she joined Babson's Report, investment advisory serv-ice. In 1951 she became a junior analyst for the firms she is now with.

She is the only woman analyst among eight, in her company. "I work with common stocks, learn the financial situations of companies, where they stand, and their competitive positions within their own industry."

Marjorie Fisher specializes in chemical, drug, food and insurance stocks. And four times a year she calls on top financial officers to investigate companies her mu-tual funds are interested in.

She always arrives for inter-views well-briefed, and armed with annual reports and lists of ques-tions.

TIMING DIFFICULT

The difficult part of the current market is the question of timing, she maintains.

"An analyst may have a very comprehensive analysis, but when it comes to the question of buy, sell or hold, that's the hard part. This is an art, I guess you'd say, not an exact science."

What does it take to be a security analyst? A good background in econom-ics, ability to communicate easily, write concise reports, ferret out the important facts in a mass of information. In addition, says Miss Fisher, the analyst needs curios-ity and a knack for evaluating new products.

"You've got to be feminine, yet talk their language," she said. "There's no place for the cute and the coy. You're dealing with large sums and busy people."

New Series Starts In Bridge Play

In the games of duplicate bridge played Friday afternoon at Big Spring Country Club, the Back-to-School Series was begun. Scores will be based on the best five out of six games, it was an-nounced.

Also announced was the session for Friday, which will begin at 1 p.m., since there will be no luncheon of the Ladies Golf As-sociation.

Winners included Mrs. Fred Kasch and Mrs. Pete Harmonson, first in north-south position; Mrs. Obie Bristow and Mrs. Don Newsom, second; Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. Ben McCullough, third; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. C. A. Jones, fourth.

In east-west position, win-ners were Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, first; Mrs. Gerald Harris and Mrs. Ladd Smith, second; Mrs. Renton Reneau of Farmersville and Mrs. George McGann, third; Mrs. Holt Eastland of Kermit and Mrs. Anne Hardy, fourth.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

When MR. and MRS. RANDALL HOWIE and their son, J. W., planned a short visit with relatives here last weekend from their home in Pecos, they didn't plan on stretching it over a week... and what a week. MRS. HOWIE, the former Ethel Holmes, has been in Cowper Hospital for the past week suffering from the effects of a rattlesnake bite. The family had come here to visit Howie's mother, MRS. MARY HOWIE, and his sister, MRS. MORRIS CRITTENDEN, and her family at the farm home 13 miles south of Big Spring. Mrs. Crittenden and the Howies were walking down a cotton row when Mrs. Howie was bitten on the foot by the rattler. Howie immediately administered first aid and brought her to the clinic where she spent the week.

Friends here have received word from J. B. (BLOUNT) MULL, a former vice president of Caden who is now in retirement at San Rafael, Calif., that he is convalescing after a heart attack. He is in room 403, Marin General Hospital in San Rafael. Mr. Mull suffered an attack 11 years ago and this is his first difficulty since then.

MARILYN MULL is in Italy, and GILBERT is in Alaska with the Richfield Petroleum Company.

MR. and MRS. FRANK HARD-ESTY, and their daughter, NANCY JANE, were accompanied home Friday from Denton by their son and brother, Frank Jr., who received a BA degree in sociology from North Texas State University. The summer commencement exercises were held Thursday night at Fouts Field. Frank plans to return to Denton in the fall and do his practice teaching and complete further study in sociology.

We enjoyed the 50th anniversary party of BS Troop 1 Thursday night at Caden Club because of the accomplishment of this troop; but the occasion also afforded a visit with MRS. J. M. MANUEL whom I hadn't seen in many years. Her husband was one of the early day scoutmasters in Big Spring.

MR. and MRS. MELVIN NEWTON and their sons, DAVID and JEFF, have returned from a vacation trip to points in New Mexico. They were guests of her sister, MRS. R. E. SMITH, and her family in Las Cruces. Mrs. Smith, the former Bonnie Sue Harrison, received her BS degree in education from New Mexico State University this summer and plans to teach the first grade in one of the elementary schools this fall.

The Newtons also visited in Albuquerque before returning here. They concluded their vacation period with a trip to Abilene, where they spent several days with Mrs. Newton's parents, MR. and MRS. O. B. HARRISON.

MRS. ELMER ATWOOD and her son, Steve, of Belen, N. M., left Friday morning after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor. Mrs. Atwood and Steve came here from Roby where she had visited her sister and her family and planned to visit in O'Donnell with her brother before returning to New Mexico.

MR. and MRS. HORACE REAGAN are in Las Vegas, N. M., for a short visit in the home of the SETH PARSONSES before continuing to Boulder, Colo., where they will get their daughter, Judy, and Sharon Creighton, who have been in school there.

Weekend guests in the home of MR. and MRS. JUSTIN HOLMES are his aunt and uncle, MR. and MRS. N. A. LEWIS and their son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. ALLEN LEWIS, all of Sweetwater, Ala.

MRS. FANNIE MAE HELLMUS of Rotan is visiting her daughter and grandson, MRS. MARGARET COOPER and David. During the summer Mrs. Cooper has been in Austin doing extra school work and has been visiting her sister, Frances John Hellmus.

MR. and MRS. PREACH MARTIN are in Las Cruces, N. M., to see their newest grandson whose name they hadn't learned when they left here Saturday but they do know he had red hair. The little boy is the third son of MR. and MRS. DAVID WILLIAMS (MARY MARGARET MARTIN) and he has two sisters, Mrs. Martin plans to stay a week or more, but Mr. Martin planned to return today.

Miss Bryant Is Bride Of Billy Ray Buchanan

Dorothy Pearl Bryant and Billy Ray Buchanan repeated double ring wedding vows Friday evening in the Vincent Baptist Church, with the Rev. Woodrow McHugh officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Morgan of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Buchanan of Luther.

The altar was marked with a sunburst arrangement of gladioli and lighted with lamps. Music was by Mrs. Hap Wilson, pianist.

J. W. Gray gave his sister-in-law in marriage. For her wedding, she chose bridal lace over white taffeta, formal length, with a full flared skirt. The scalloped neckline and the bodice were sprinkled with sequins, and a white taffeta band on the bodice ended at the side with a bow.

The bridal veil floated from a tiara of tiny blossoms.

White french carnations and agapanthus formed the bridal bouquet, carried on a white Bible, which was named as the something old. New was the wedding attire, and borrowed was a strand of pearls, property of Mrs. Howard Brooks, aunt of the bride. She wore a blue garter and carried two birthdate pennies in her shoe.

Mrs. Gray was her sister's matron of honor; she wore a sheath of yellow knit and a corsage of white carnations.

Tina Cockerham served as best man.

The bride and bridegroom, assisted by their parents and the bridesmaids, received guests at a reception in the recreation center of the church.

White lace over blue covered the table, centered with blue candles and an arrangement of gladioli. The cake, in four tiers, was trimmed with blue and white roses and a bridal couple figurine.

Linda Perry was at the bride's book; members of the house party included Mrs. Lura Perry, Mrs. Coy Ford, Mrs. Brooke, Mrs. Eugene Bryant and Mrs. Melvin Bryant.

A black sheath with white top was the bride's traveling costume when the couple left for a wedding trip. They will make a home in Vincent upon their return, and the bride will continue her studies at Borden County High School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the high school and is studying electronics.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bryant and Mrs. Dora Taylor of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Brooks of Loop; Mr. and Mrs. Alvey Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Artie Bryant, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Minton of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Melton Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Skelton and Mr. and Mrs. Holley Brown, all of Knapp; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Buchanan of Plainview.

Kountz-Williams Vows Taken In Ackerly Home

The Covie Williams home, Ackerly, was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Shirley, and Van H. Kountz, Friday evening, with double ring vows heard by the Rev. J. D. Mabry, pastor of the Ackerly Baptist Church.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kountz of Balmorhea.

An improvised altar was arranged before a picture window with baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Mrs. Nell Buckalew of Lamesa, sister of the bride, was at the piano for the wedding music and she accompanied their sister, Dorothy Williams, as she sang "A Very Special Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal gown was of white satin and lace with the neckline and the hem scalloped; a large satin rose marked the waistline at the back, which was fastened with satin-covered buttons.

waist-length veil of illusion, and the bride carried a bouquet of white roses.

The couple was unattended. Following the ceremony, refreshments were served from a table laid in white cutwork over coral. White chrysanthemums centered the table, on which was the wedding cake in white with a bridal figurine on the top tier.

Serving was done by Dorothy Williams and Wanda Buckalew.

Coming from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kountz; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kountz of Garden City; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Morris of Lubbock and Ansel Harry of Big Spring.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a suit of light wool in aqua shade with black accessories.

The couple will make a home in Post, where the bridegroom will teach in the junior high school and will coach girls basketball in the high school. He is a graduate of Texas Tech and has been teaching in Sands High School.

The bride is a graduate of Sands High School and has attended the summer sessions of Howard County Junior College. She will be a student in Tech this fall.

MR. AND MRS. E. V. CORNETT

Reception Slated Today

LAMESA (SC)—A reception will honor Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Cornett during their Golden Wedding anniversary celebration from 3 until 5 p.m. today in their home here. The Cornett children and their families will host the event.

Cornett and the former Sallie Shaw were married in a buggy at noon on Aug. 26, 1911, in Haskell County. The bride wore a white eyelet embroidered wedding gown, and the couple was attended by Laura Shaw and Walter Touchstone.

The couple has lived in Haskell, Munday, Seagraves and for 25 years in Lamesa. Cornett is a retired farmer.

They are parents of four children, including a daughter, Mrs. G. R. Elliston Jr. of Houston, and four sons, Clarence of Brownfield; W. H. and M. M., both of Lamesa. They have seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Members of the house party will include Mrs. Donald Godwin of Brownfield; Mrs. Charles Zeeck of Tulsa; Mrs. Bill Howard of Lamesa and Florence Cornett, Knox City.

The table will be laid with a lace cloth over gold. Gold candles in double crystal candleholders will center the table. An open book wedding cake with bells and the date of the marriage inscribed will be served.

Give Beans 'Snap' With Crisp Bacon

BEANS 'N' BACON

1 lb. snap beans
1 tsp. salt
4 to 6 slices bacon

Cut tips from snap beans; scrub in cold water; drain. Turn into 2-quart saucepan with the salt and 1-inch of boiling water.

Cook whole, covered, just until beans are tender—10 to 15 minutes; keep water boiling gently and lift cover a few times to help keep beans green.

Meanwhile cook bacon in large skillet until crisp; drain on paper and crumble. Add bacon and 2 tablespoons of the bacon drippings to the drained cooked beans.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Has Surgery

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stewart are in Marshall, where he recently underwent surgery in the T&P Hospital; his room number is 228.

Pound Of Flour

A pound of all-purpose flour measures about 4 cups; a pound of cake flour measures about 5 cups.

Ladylike Season Set

This will be a ladylike season for campus belles. Blouses and princess-style dresses in blues, reds, browns and yellows, solids and plaids are on the hangers of high school and college girls.

The no-sleeve and short-sleeve look is popular, and will probably last until snows blow. Show-the-arms may work its way into the after-school wardrobe. And don't be surprised if brave types go sleeveless on the ski hill. It beats the roll-up-ski-shirt look popular on cold, sunny days.

A fashion-minded girl may invest in some of the high-style fur trimmed or lined coat popular this season, hardly the dish-of-tea for limited budgets. Many have invested in big dramatic colorful capes and coats with enormous pockets.

Height will disappear in hairdos gradually this fall, and by winter there could be a definite trend to flat-top, neat hairdos. Sweaters are still long, but are smooth. Woolknits and mohair reflect the trend to casual rather than a careless look. Slacks are in interesting weaves, such as herringbone designs.

Pearls reflect the good taste that has come over young people. The luminous lustre of pearls provides complexion flattery and offers special beauty magic when worn with black.

Do-it-yourself burlap skirts are fun for football games. But line the burlap for a bouncier fit without a scratch.

School colors will go to the fingertips with new nail polishes that include azure, buttercup, violet and yellow for coordination. Brown lipsticks are another forecast. And dyed shoelaces in school colors will highlight white sneakers.

Hors d'Oeuvres Are Easily Made

CHEESE SNAPPIES

1 roll (6 ozs.) soft cheddar cheese
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup flour
Cayenne and paprika

Mix cheese, butter and flour with a dash of cayenne until combined. Shape into two rolls, each about 1½ inches in diameter.

Wrap in waxed paper; chill several hours or overnight. Slice ¼-inch thick; sprinkle with paprika.

Bake a couple of inches apart on greased cookie sheet in a hot (400 degrees) oven 5 to 10 minutes. Make about 36.

This Recipe Is Good For Crowd

SPECIAL CUSTARD SAUCE

½ pint light cream
1 pkg. (3½ ozs.) vanilla-flavored instant pudding

1 egg white
2 tbsps. sugar
¼ cup medium-sweet sherry

Slowly beat together the milk, cream and pudding just until blended. Beat egg white until stiff, gradually beat in the sugar; fold into pudding mixture.

Chill; just before serving stir in sherry. Serve with fresh fruit cup as a different and delicious addition and combination. There should be enough sauce for about 2½ servings of the fruit.

Cream Puffs

Fill cream-puff shells with peppermint ice cream and serve with chocolate sauce. Teen-agers like this!

Two Cafeterias Arrange Menus

Cafeterias at Midway and Coahoma schools, which will be open Aug. 30, have announced the following menu:

Wednesday: Ham and sweet potatoes, green beans, congealed salad, hot bread, milk, butter, chocolate pudding.

Mailing China?

If you are mailing a fragile piece of china or ceramics, wrap the item in latex foam sheeting before packing. It absorbs shock more than any other material.

Pretty Pancakes

If you want your pancakes to be well-shaped, round and even-sized, pour the batter from a small ladle or a one-quarter cup measure.

Raisins Look Good

Muscat (cluster) raisins added to a bowl of fresh fruit and nuts in the shell help to make a most attractive dessert.

Long Torso Design

From SPADEA'S American Designer Series

Chosen by America's most fashionable young woman for her much publicized wardrobe, the destiny of this strikingly simple two-piece dress is easy to predict—unlimited chic wherever it goes.

The long torso top buttons in back, is gently eased through the waistline and dropped to a new low over the pencil slim skirt.

The pure neckline and omission of sleeves make this a dress that takes on daytime informality as easily as after-dark drama, depending on your fabric.

Plain or printed rayons and silks, silk and wool faille, brocaded silks, shantung, linen, pique or novelty cottons.

Twenty-Two Felony Cases Await Grand Jury Action

Howard County grand jurors, to be organized for the new term of 118th District Court Monday morning, will consider 22 felony matters at the initial session.

One of the cases they will review alleges murder by automobile—a charge stemming from a two car accident last June 25 which took the lives of three persons.

Another alleges incest and one case accuses a defendant of assault with intent to murder. There is one narcotic possession complaint to be heard.

The other cases are classified by the district attorney's office as "mill run."

A panel of 20 has been summoned by Judge Ralph Caton to report for grand jury duty. From these 20 persons, the court will select the 12 who are to comprise the grand jury.

PANEL MEMBERS
Members of the panel are: Jerrie Currie, James R. Shannon, Juanita Edwards, Mrs. Buel Fox, Mrs. James Duncan, Frank Whitaker, Lloyd Johnson, George W. Elliott, Mrs. Tom Buckner, Tommy Gage, Bob Rodgers, Cecil Leatherwood, Horace Garrett, E. P. Driver, J. D. Gilmore, Robert Cline, C. H. DeVaney, J. E. Fort, R. H. Boykin, and Joseph Clark.

Cases which are to be laid before the grand jury include: Charles Glenn Connelly, accused of incest; Dazel M. Cress, forgery; Melvin Robinson, theft from the person; Raymond Lewis Specter, forgery; A. L. Lancaster, forgery.

Joe Taylor, Clara Lucky, Billy

Jean Rose, Luther Dorsey and George Curry, theft over $50. Some of these defendants have not been apprehended. They allegedly stole several hundred dollars from the Newsom Food Store here on July 11.

River C. Williams, using credit card of another person; Amos Tomlin, car theft.

COLLISION
Jim Buck Matthews, murder with an automobile. Matthews is accused as a result of a two car collision last June 25 in which three persons died.

W. C. Jackson and Evelyn Jackson, swindle, forgery and worthless check over $50. The Jacksons are now in custody in Hot Springs, Ark. Sheriff Miller Harris has announced he will return them to Big Spring.

Robert H. Self, worthless check; John David Strickland, DWI second offense; Orville H. Thomas, car theft; Mary Nell Machin, theft over $50.

Alex Gonzales, possession of narcotics. The state alleges that the defendant had marijuana cigarettes in his possession when he was arrested July 3 by city police.

W. L. Land, exposing himself to a minor; Roy Harrison, car burglary; Floyd Wayne Black, Louis Kubat and Johnie Brison, attempted burglary; J. N. Lane, DWI second offense; Catarino Silva Sr., DWI second offense; Manuel Losoya Jr., DWI second offense.

ASSAULT
Raymond Mendoza, assault with intent to murder. The state alleges that Mendoza seriously wounded Raymond Olivias with a knife on the night of Aug. 18.

It was said that the initial list of cases which will be presented to the jurors for consideration may be supplemented.

The grand jury should complete its investigation of these cases within two days and be able to report by Tuesday afternoon.

Move To Big Spring, Escape Ragweed Pollen

By SAM BLACKBURN

It is time once again to call attention to a unique characteristic of Big Spring — an attribute the town needs to publicize each year at this season.

It boils down to this simple statement: If you have hayfever and dread the arrival of ragweed season, the place for you to spend that season is in Big Spring.

A survey has been made of 10 communities in Texas to ascertain if any are relatively free from the ragweed evil.

'GOOD RATING'

That community is Big Spring.

This means that hayfever sufferers would do well to pack their suitcases and come here from whatever other part of Texas they may live. Here they can stay for the hayfever season with assured minimum discomfort. Or so the survey booklet says.

It is true there are those who disagree with the findings of the experts making the survey.

Certain residents of Big Spring, who are victims of hayfever, are inclined to sneeze at the idea this city is pollen free.

"If it is so," demands one such citizen, "how come I have hayfever each fall?"

The only reply is to suggest that any local sniffers and sneezers owe their unhappily plight to some other evil influence than ragweed.

It's ragweed that the survey experts dug into and, according to reports, it is the pollen of the ragweed which causes most distress to hayfeverites.

REVEISE
Therefore, if the statement needs revising, let it read thusly: "If you are a sufferer from hayfever — originating from the pollen of the blankety-blank ragweed—pack your suit case, etc. and etc."

The hayfever season, as every little sneezer knows, begins about Sept. 1 and holds until the first real frost of winter. It is during this interval that pollen from the ragweed infiltrates the air and it is during these weary weeks that the hayfeverites weep copious tears, swab streaming noses and sneeze ceaselessly.

For some happy reason there is very little ragweed in this area and as a result the air is nearly free of pollen.

"Most of Texas," says the report, "is badly infested with ragweed."

TAKE SHOTS
Allergists suggest that hayfever victims who cannot get to Big Spring in time, take de-sensitization shots to build up resistance well before the pollen begins moving around Sept. 1.

There is one other faint hope held out for the sneezers: Experiments have shown that a single shot of emulsified extract of ragweed given three to six weeks ahead of the season will nullify the pollen's attack. Unfortunately, this new boon is still in the testing stage and has not been fully proven for safety and effectiveness.

Therefore about the only thing that a Texas hayfever sufferer can do at this season of the year is pack up and move to Big Spring.

Dancers Visit ABC Meeting

Mary Anne Hopkins, owner of the Academy of Fine Arts at Odessa, presented and emceed the program for the American Business Club at that organization's luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Members of the Academy's classes, ranging from ballet dancers to baton swingers and impressionists, were presented to the gathering.

Miss Hopkins told the ABC members that she was in the process of opening a similar school for the training of young dancers here and felt that it would be well received, having judged the reception the entertainers got from the club.

Garner McAdams, president of the club, said a new attendance campaign launched by a committee headed by Bob Rogers was "about to go into orbit" and predicted it would be successful.

McAdams also announced that Emmett McKenzie, head football coach and athletic director at the local high school, would head the program for next Friday at the club.

Charles Houston was introduced as a new member of the service organization while guests present included Jim Patton, Dr. Charles Rainwater, Glenn White, Dr. Charles Warren, Harry Blomshield, Dan Krausse and Rad Ware.

Police Officers See Traffic Film

Big Spring police were given an opportunity Friday to view two training films on traffic problems. Chief Jay Banks said the film, produced for the Texas Police Officers Association, was to be shown three times during the day so that all shifts would have an opportunity to see it.

He said they might hold it over for a day or two in case some could not be present. One film dealt with traffic signals and directions and the other on hit-and-run investigations.

Water Tap Work Begins Next Week

Permits were being completed Friday afternoon for 124 water and sewer taps in the Wasson No. 1 Addition in South Big Spring. Lloyd Curley, developer, authorized the city installation of the taps in a letter Friday.

The forms were being completed in the offices of the building and plumbing inspector late Friday. The work of installing the taps will begin early next week. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said.

A Devotional for Today

He bringeth them unto their desired haven. (Psalms 107:30.)

PRAYER: Help us, Lord, to understand that the deepest sea is in the hollow of Thy hand, that by grace heaven is ours. Strengthen our hand to steer for that desired haven; through Christ, the captain of our souls. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Today's Necessity

The beginning of school, like Christmas, always comes before anyone is really ready for it. Thus, we invariably become embroiled in the bustle and bustle of the materials and the mechanics of preparing children, the staff and the plan for another term that we sometime fail to give proper consideration to the objectives and the prognosis.

By reason of the recent special session of the legislature, in which the state advanced basic salaries by $810 per annum for classroom teachers, more people have become cost conscious. They know there has been a 25 per cent hike in the minimum salary for a beginning degree teacher, and they will be consciously or unconsciously asking what will bring this. To the teacher, this is simply belated economic justice. But whether from the public or from the teacher point of view, the situation is conducive to better results.

The demands upon schools today, however, are not those created by increased salaries and increased costs, although these make better teaching desirable as an evidence that the action was wise and proper.

Better teaching is not desirable. It is necessary. Things happen so rapidly now that we must be better at all things, and nowhere is this more urgent than with the processes of the human mind.

Some say our salvation is in the 3-Rs. Certainly some things are basic in education, just as blocking and tackling are in football. Yet to stop there and shut your eyes to new methods which accelerate the learning processes and strengthen retention would be as fallacious as a football coach ignoring new methods of finesse, timing and formations.

The challenge is to do a sound job in the basics, for these are educational building blocks. Then go on from there in increasing interests and effectiveness in order to whet an edge to mental potentialities that can no longer be placidly provincial in outlook. If we let today zoom past us in the classroom, it will be too late to worry about tomorrow.

A Worthy Record

Boy Scout Troop No. 1 celebrated its 50th birthday last week. This is the oldest Scout troop in the state, and there is a lot more tradition wrapped up in this unit than non-members can imagine—tradition that demands excellence.

In its first half century, some 1,500 boys have been exposed to the influence of this troop. A casual check of incomplete rolls shows that the number of outstanding community, business and professional leaders rising out of the troop is far, far above its ratio to the total population. Less dramatic, perhaps, but of greater significance is that the vast majority of the boys have become better and steadfast citizens. Our community and nation have benefited tremendously.

It has been a good experience for the boys, too, for they have found an outlet and thus avoided the heart-break and expense of juvenile trouble for hundreds.

In addition, this troop—which is but a symbol of multiplied thousands across the nation—has been a means of creative activity for men and women who help as well as the boys who participate as members. These are people, who, while eagerly meeting their responsibility, possess a peace of mind and serenity of soul that contribute so much stability so desperately needed today.

A New Germany Coming Into Being

WASHINGTON—That the Germany of Adenauer is at an end seems an inescapable conclusion after the events of recent days. American policy has for so long been based on the presence of the venerable Chancellor that the change now in prospect is likely to mean a painful reappraisal.

The 85-year-old Adenauer, symbol of the resurgent Germany that has developed a productive power ranking after that of the Soviet Union and the United States, will be overwhelmingly re-elected as Chancellor next month. Short of one of those great subterranean upsets, the only question is the size of the majority of the Christian Democratic party.

get—all the raw materials they want out of Eastern Germany by the channels of trade. More or less openly they are now talking about accepting the facts of life and putting an end to the illusions of the recent past.

Adenauer is shrewd and adaptable and he may himself be able to survive the Adenauer era. But his personal fortunes to one side, what comes after that era is the vital question for the West.

IN THE PRESENT moment of troubling uncertainty several courses seem open. With the rise of a new nationalism leaders may emerge who seek to take Germany on a "go it alone" road. You see, so the line would go, we can't trust either the West or the East and now we must make our own future. And first and foremost we must get on with producing our own nuclear weapons.

Some observers believe that a candidate for this role is waiting in the wings in the person of the Minister of Defense in the Adenauer cabinet, Franz-Joseph Strauss. Strauss has a fantastic drive compounded of both energy and ability. He will probably be Adenauer's successor after a transitional period, likely to be short, filled by Ludwig Erhard, Minister of Economics.

ADENAUER'S fiercely partisan campaign is directed at winning an outright majority of 52 to 53 per cent of the vote so that he and the other Christian Democratic leaders can rule without benefit of coalition. Adenauer's shrewd managers tell the visitor that they fully expect that he will serve out the four years of his next term as Chancellor. The spate of stories about his unyielding grip on power are being revived. One such story goes as follows:

"Oh, yes," the Chancellor is supposed to have told a visitor, "I have become a good friend of President Kennedy in whom I have the highest confidence. He will serve for eight years. Then next it will be the turn of Lyndon Johnson and I am a good friend of Johnson, too, so, you see, everything will be all right."

BUT WHETHER he serves out his term to the age of 89 or not is in a sense irrelevant. For the policy identified with the Chancellor—the prospect of a quick reunification and a return of the eastern territory lost at the end of the war—is already undergoing a rapid shift.

While policy-makers in Washington have apparently been unwilling to recognize it, reunification in the foreseeable future by a self-determining vote has for some time had little basis in reality. Even its propaganda value has been questionable. Neither the French nor the British have wanted a united Germany which would then unquestionably dominate Western Europe.

PERHAPS even more important powerful elements in Germany, including many of the Ruhr industrialists who are among the Chancellor's principal backers, have been doubtful about reunification. They have been getting—and continue to ALREADY WILLING spokesmen for the nationalists are coming forward to say that if the West does not give Germany full backing—to the extent of an implacable showdown on the brink of nuclear war over Berlin—Germany will turn to the East and make a deal with Moscow. This recurring threat is not now taken seriously in Germany. Nor, in the view of Western diplomats, is Strauss the bogeyman that some would make him out.

At the other extreme it is conceivable that with an adjustment to the realities of reunification, a de facto recognition of the existence of East Germany and the present eastern boundaries, the basic policy of a strong and united Europe can be pursued. With Great Britain added to the six powers in the Common Market a long stride would be taken in this direction. This depends in large part on the willingness and the capacity of Adenauer, Erhard, Strauss and the others who have so long dominated the scene to talk sense to the German people.

THE CRISIS precipitated by the closing of the border presented the Kennedy dilemma. Intervention was ruled out as almost certainly meaning war over an issue that did not directly involve the security and freedom of West Berlin. But at the same time the fear and the uncertainty of West Berliners and the possibility they might begin to flee to West Germany was a serious threat. The answer was Vice President Johnson and the token movement of more troops into the city.

To one observer the situation seems to have been handled with wisdom and restraint given the need for both a cold and a hot response. Now the way must be found to negotiate with the realization that a new Germany is coming into being.

Giant Christmas Cards

KEYPORT, N. J. (AP)—Harry J. La Douceur, 74, is composing mosaic pictures from old Christmas cards. He calls his creations "giant Christmas cards."

La Douceur says he used pieces of 336 Christmas cards to make one big card, three by five feet.

WAITING FOR HIS RUSSIAN SHIP

Beware The Nutrias They're Eating Their Way Through Texas

BEAUMONT (AP)—A big ugly animal that looks like a giant rat is threatening to eat its way—and almost everything in its way—across a big part of Texas.

The enthusiasm that sportsmen had a few years back for nutria, a native of South America, has turned to the fear that the docile, hungry animal is going to become the state's No. 1 menace to wild-life, crops and timberlands.

To curb the zooming nutria population, nutria rodeos have been organized to encourage their mass slaughter. Texans are being encouraged to eat them barbecued, dog food manufacturers are being wooed to join in the hunt, and an S.O.S. has gone out to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

When first introduced to Texas only seven years ago, nutria promised income for their furs and valuable aid in cleaning up vegetation that was ruining ponds and lakes for fishermen.

Three females and two males were released at Eagle Lake near the Southeast Texas Gulf Coast in 1954. Nutria enthusiasts were soon disillusioned on both scores.

First, while the nutria did a fine job of cleaning up vegetation in the lake, they multiplied so fast and had such voracious appetites that they soon were stripping rice fields and devouring pine seedlings planted to restore timberlands.

To sportsmen's chagrin, they even ate the paint off duck decoys and gnawed the stocks of shotguns left in duck blinds.

Secondly, to the dismay of some who paid fancy prices for breeding stock, the fur of the Texas-reared nutria was too coarse. It brought such low prices that they could not be raised commercially at a profit.

Two years after the original family of five was released, the owners of Eagle Lake hired a professional hunter to help get rid of them. In one year he killed more than 6,000 of the animals—up to 165 in one day. One time he shot 65 without moving his boat.

Eagle Lake was too small to hold the nutria. They spread to the Texas coast and started working their way up almost every stream and river.

They have been spotted along the Red River on the Oklahoma border, 300 miles to the north, and heading up the San Antonio River toward West Texas.

In the mid-1950s a booth at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas did a thriving business charging 25 cents a head to let the natives gaze at the "giant rats." Today there are tens of thousands of Texans who wish they had never seen a nutria.

Although nutria have been compared to rats in appearance, except for their long, scantly-haired tails that bear a resemblance to badgers. At maturity they weigh up to 25 pounds. Their large yellow teeth, which they use like chisels, have terrified many a person seeing them for the first time.

The Texas Game and Fish Commission, joined by the Louisiana Game and Fish Commission which also has a nutria problem, has called on the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for help in eradicating the pest. Since a meeting of the three agencies was held here, a biologist has been put to work full time on the problem. Texas A&M College is seeking legislative funds for special studies in controlling nutria.

Female nutrias can become mothers when they are only six months old and have litters of 3 to 12 with alarming regularity. This means a population explosion prompting emergency measures as well as long-range planning.

To help thin their ranks, the Sabine-Neches Sportsmen's Club recently staged the first nutria rodeo ever held in the Southwest. Prizes went to marksmen who shot the most nutria and to those who could eat the most barbecued nutria.

Pointing out that in some parts of the North canned barbecued nutria was considered a delicacy, selling as high as $3.85 for a 14-ounce can, the Sportsmen's Club urged contestants to eat their fill.

Stocky L. A. Desorreaux of Port Neches took the eating championship by putting away 3 pounds and 14 ounces of barbecued and fried nutria in two and one-half hours.

While the officers of the sportsmen's club considered the first rodeo a great success, they admitted it was going to take a lot more shooting and a lot more eating before they could even start to make a dent in Texas' nutria problem.

What Others Say

The admission of Alaska and Hawaii to statehood has stimulated agitation in Puerto Rico to become the 51st state. In the island's general election two parties which favor a strong tie to the United States polled 90 per cent of the votes. Advocates of independence received a mere 3 per cent of the vote.

Luis A. Ferré, Republican gubernatorial candidate, cited these figures in a resentful retort to a recent statement by Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet ambassador to the U. N., demanding the liberation of all "colonial possessions" and listing Puerto Rico as one such. Ferré said, was "an insult to the intelligence of the world." The recent election, he said, was "another clear proof of his people's allegiance to the United States."

Whether Puerto Rico will press for statehood in the 1961 Congress remains to be seen. Hilberto its people have been happy with their territorial status. Of late they have suffered a business slump, with a high and rising rate of unemployment. Ferré argues that assurance of a definite advance toward statehood would boost confidence and improve the island's economy. On the other hand, Gov. Luis Muñoz Marín has countered the statehood argument with the contention that the federal taxes Puerto Ricans would have to pay if the island should become a state would hurt too much.

Pending the final determination of the question, the heavy migration of Puerto Ricans to the United States will be stimulated to flood by their economic slump. — HOUSTON POST

To Your Good Health

Fainting Is From Decreased Blood To Brain

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes fainting? The other night I woke with a cramp and went to the bathroom. I went to take a drink of water and when I came to, I was on the floor.—Mrs. C. S."

I suppose from your letter that you began to feel a bit faint and started to get the drink of water. Next time, if it ever happens again, don't go to the bathroom; instead, sit and put your head down to your knees. Or even lie down on the floor for a couple of minutes. I'll tell you why.

Fainting is caused by insufficient blood reaching the brain—or, more precisely, insufficient oxygen being supplied to the brain. But since the red cells of the blood carry the oxygen, you can state the fact either way.

We know that the emotions have a very powerful effect, although the exact, complicated mechanism may someday be clearer to us than it is now. Anxiety, fright, fear, pain or shock causes the blood in our vessels to tend to gather in the mid-section of the body, leaving less to be pumped up to the brain.

As a fanciful guess, I suspect that this might be a gradually-developed instinct, from thousands of years ago. For example, when a man had an arm snatched off by a sabre-tooth tiger, perhaps an instinctive means of self-preservation was for the body to retain the blood supply in the trunk, until the stump of the arm had a chance to let the blood clot and stop the bleeding. That's just my guess.

Anyway, whatever causes a decrease in blood supply (and oxygen supply) to the brain leads to giddiness or the next stage, actual loss of consciousness, or fainting.

The most frequent cause is nervousness; shock, fright, etc. Anemia also can be a cause—either from sudden loss of blood, or from some slower loss. People with bleeding ulcers sometimes have these giddy or even fainting spells when the blood count (number of red cells, which carry oxygen) gets too low.

Among older people, a sudden change of position (i.e., suddenly standing up) can cause a brief reduction in blood reaching the brain. That's logic enough. And getting up after a sound sleep makes the difference that much greater: When asleep, the circulation is at its lowest ebb, since we don't need much, and the blood pressure subsides to a low figure. Waking, and then getting up abruptly, may not allow the brief time needed for the system to resume normal pressure. And a faint can easily result.

Anemia of one sort or another naturally makes fainting a bit more likely. Certain types of heart trouble (those which involve a "heart block," and occasionally leave a long-than-normal interval between beats) also can do it. Under stress or pain we are more subject to a faint. And that's the story.

Best first aid: Get the head down. If you can, try to tighten the abdominal muscles to help force blood out of the trunk. Best: Lie down, so blood can flow to the head as easily as to any other area.

Some people faint more easily than others. This is probably psychological. But we all know that a person can go through the stress of an accident or emergency—yet faint after the real trouble is all over! Oh, your unpredictable nerves!

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can a woman 36 or 37 years old begin the change of life?—Mrs. A. A."

It's possible. It can happen even earlier than that, but it isn't usual.

NOTE TO MRS. C. S.: The spine is supposed to be curved, of course. Some excess curvature is seen fairly often without having any significance, and since (on your doctor's advice) you know your health is good and there's no trouble from the curvature, just forget it.

"Don't Quit Because Of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover the cost of handling.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim

A Lotta Kids—And Women In Pants

Random comment after a tour around parts of Texas:

That population explosion one keeps hearing about is highly evidenced on the summer tourist trails. It would seem that every other vehicle is a station wagon, and it loaded with from three to nine kids, not to mention dogs and assorted other animals.

AT THIS TIME of year, the areas around the swimming pools at motels look like a schoolground at recess.

From toddling tykes to teen-agers, the kids have been packed up for the family vacation, it's really togetherness.

No fault-finding, you understand. It's just that if you're of the temperament of Mr. Wilson in "Dennis the Menace," August is a good time not to take your vacation.

AND, IT MAY BE foolhardy to comment on such an accepted way of attire, but to an old fuddy-duddy nothing is more fantastic than the array of pants styles that women can get themselves into while touring.

This type of garment comes in all lengths, from clear to the instep, up to the top of the thigh. And in all colors and shapes and modes of trim. It seems to me that the lady tourists with the broadest aspect are the ones who sport the tightest, shortest pants. I suppose they wouldn't be caught dead in the things in their own neighborhood, but the gals get on the road, and any kind costume goes.

Here again, I don't object on grounds, except the esthetic.

TEXAS HAS been 'way behind in developing tourist interest in what unique attractions the state does have.

A few of the major attractions, of course, draw 'crows—here again, youngsters. Such shrines as the Alamo, the San Jacinto monument, the beautiful Capitol building in Austin; such interesting places as Galveston, Corpus Christi and Padre Island.

THERE ARE other spots that are coming along, by virtue of man's enterprise. Not the least enchanting place on tourist family's route is the aquatic spectacle at Spring Lake, San Marcos, where real theatrical know-how has been put to work. There are glass-bottom boats and an underwater show with highly proficient young swimmers. The whole thing is delightful, and, with some help in vertising and promotion, would be a great drawing card for Texas.

The same can be said of some of the beautifully wooded parks in East Texas and of course the great natural phenomenon that is the Big Bend Park.

AND, IN THE years just ahead, you are going to hear plenty of the spectacle of "Six Flags Over Texas," a far-flung presentation that combines carnival, stunts, fair, historic pageantry, and vaudeville. This is worth another column, yet to come. Point is, there's a lot to be seen in Texas.

Anti-Communism In Berlin

IN BERLIN—Last week the U.S.A. conquered Berlin. As history runs, it may be that the weapon of conquest will prove more important—and is surely more important to remember—than the conquerors.

The weapon which brought out a million or so Berliners, all of them waving and many of them weeping for joy, was there for all to know—the weapon of anti-Communism.

THIS IS A FACT which cannot be overstated in a story which cannot be over-written. Virulent loathing of Communism lined the windows for miles and miles, filled the windows of nearby apartment houses, lifted voices in roar after roar, pressed flowers upon the American paraders.

Anti-Communism overthrew West Berlin with such swiftness and totality that I wondered as I rode through the crowds, and got out and ran beside the distinguished visitors—I wondered if anti-Communism could not conquer everywhere else on earth.

TO ONE only a few hours from Washington, and only a day or two from Senate debates on whether we should teach anti-Communism to soldiers, students and citizens, it was as if the heavens had opened and presented a revelation.

Lyndon Johnson and Lucius Clay brought this weapon to West Berlin and that is how they conquered.

After a so-so reception in Bonn, where Chancellor Adenauer and the Federal Republic are not displeased that the refugee flood has been stemmed and not all as disposed to take up arms against Communism, we did expect to find a warmer welcome in Berlin. But nothing like this was anticipated, or could have been reasonably imagined.

MANY WERE USING the same handkerchiefs with which they waved to dry the tears. Many faces, mostly of middle age and beyond, were contorted and flushed. Johnson rode in a closed car, so that only the flapping of a big handkerchief was visible to those on his side of the street. We heard them shouting in German. "Bravo!" and "He comes here!" almost as if they spoke of the Resurrection.

Johnson's familiar comports and coronet manner, the combination of hands acting and ducal dignity, made him magnificent. But he might not have shone so superbly if he hadn't had Gen. Lucius Clay in the supporting role.

CLAY, compact and restrained, while Johnson is rangy and outgoing, completed a perfect team. To Berliners, Clay is Herr Aliflirt (1948-49), the militant anti-Communist who wanted to run an armored train through the Russian blockade, the commandant of the city who showed neither bluster nor concern at the ragings of the Reds.

The crowd shouted again and louder still in worship of the American image as personified in Clay.

But men and the offices they hold will change. The weapon of anti-Communism remains. We must use it at home and abroad.

Improving Our World Relations

EN ROUTE FROM EUROPE—The most important problem that faces the United States government today is how to communicate with other people around the world.

There is no lack of radio or mail or press facilities. It is not a matter of funds, nor altogether a problem of getting the right personnel for such an institution as the United States Information Agency. It is a matter of constructive and well-thought-out policy and concentration in a courageous way on simple objectives in the great crusade to win the hearts and minds of people in other lands.

THE OVERSEAS broadcasts today from America are defensive and often seem to be in the pussyfoot category, instead of the militant kind. This isn't the fault of the "Voice of America" but of some misguided policy directives of past years.

Consequently, the "Voice of America" is inadequate and not as effective as it could be. It is doing some things well and others poorly. It, of course, needs more funds from Congress to improve its work—the Russians spend millions where we spend pennies. But, above all else, it needs a recognition by the President and Congress that the task cannot be left to subordinates to fulfill on the basis of directives fitfully supplied in a sort of haphazard way through a fluctuating diplomacy.

WHAT THE United States government needs is a man of cabinet stature to sit alongside the President and spend his whole time on what might be called "the public relations of the United States."

Nor is communication a problem altogether of mechanical facilities. As such, if not more, can be accomplished by indirect contact with foreign countries through word-of-mouth—by conversations with key persons in other lands. This means more contacts by our own diplomats with important persons not only in the press but in other walks of life in each country. It means an organized and not a casual effort. In a total sense, it means reaching through to the heart of the people whose friendship America seeks.

IMPROVEMENT OF the "Voice of America" broadcasts is imperative. One wonder why so little time is given on these programs to news and serious subjects in the news, and why so much time is consumed on rock-and-roll music or highbrow lectures, some of which seem to apologize for America's free-enterprise system.

The Communists, of course, repeat and persist with their points day after day, and they broadcast in simple English that can be readily grasped. Much of the broadcasting on both sides is, to be sure, done in foreign languages, and here the matter of simplicity is especially important.

THESE CRITICISMS are not new. They have been made by this writer for the last decade to public officials, particularly on the wording of the broadcasts, which still are often hard for the average listener abroad to catch. Simple expressions are better for the radio than the phraseology and big words of overcondensed press-association dispatches.

As for editorial commentaries that are supposed to reflect American public opinion, the selection by the "Voice of America" is not representative of the American press at all. Rarely are any newspapers in the Midwest quoted, and rarely are some of the best pronouncements in Congress spread around the world.

THERE IS sometimes, moreover, a tendency to give a "left wing" twist to many items and there is at times an indifference to the conservative point of view in America. There is constant apology, too, for various defects in the American system, without an effort to explain that even racial problems must be handled by constitutional law and not by mobs. It is tragic that American ideals are so little expounded, while American shortcomings are so much emphasized. The whole problem of communication in foreign policy needs a new look.

Danger Signals

ORONO, Maine (AP)—Plants flash colorful distress signals when they are victims of malnutrition, horticulturists at the University of Maine report.

They say most plants need varying amounts of 17 nutrients, but lack of the major dietary needs produce these changes:

Nitrogen: leaves become light green, gradually turn yellow and die; phosphorus, leaf margins become reddish purple; potassium, young leaves become finely crinkled, turn ash grayish green.

Oscar Candidate, Good Re-Runs On Film Playbill

A leading contender for Academy Awards next year plus several returning films of special appeal top the week's playbill. "Guns of Navarone," which has drawn rave reviews and has played to packed houses all over the country, opens Saturday at the Ritz.

Gregory Peck, David Niven and Anthony Quinn are top-starred. The multi-million dollar Columbia production, based on Alistair MacLean's novel, also stars Stanley Baker, Anthony Quayle, Irene Papas, Gia Scala and James Darren.

It is a story of Allied commandos and Greek resistance fighters in a desperate raid on a German-held Aegean Sea island. Key to the film are the guns themselves. They command a vitally-needed Aegean Sea channel; they cannot be destroyed by land, sea or air and so they must be destroyed by suicidal stealth. Chosen for the sabotage assignment are the film's male stars and co-stars. Once on the island of Navarone, they contact two women leaders in the Greek resistance movement.

DARREN, NIVEN & PECK
Captured because of a child

"Navarone," a film which was seven months in the actual making had the full co-operation of the Greek government. Peck is seen as the mountaineer who commands the Allied commando team. Niven is an explosives expert with an all-consuming distaste for war and of the part he must play in it. Quinn is a Greek resistance fighter who hates Germans, and Peck plays a man who fought fascism in Spain; after seven continuous years of soldiering, he is sick of killing. Quayle is seen as a British commando major, and Greek star Irene Papas and Hollywood's Gia Scala play the resistance fighters who team up with the commandos; Miss Scala as a girl made voiceless by German torture. Darren is seen as a Greek-born youth who, on the sidelines of New York, learned to enjoy killing.

Screenplay for "The Guns of Navarone" was written by producer Carl Foreman, who was responsible for "High Noon," "Champion," "The Key" and a flock of other highly-honored films. Dimitri Tomkin, four-time Academy Award winner, penned the music for the film and J. Lee Thompson directed the Highroad Presentation for Columbia Pictures.

Quinn's zest for the film led to his signing for the role a full year before shooting started, without knowing or caring who would be his co-stars or even what Foreman's production plans were. Quinn's two Academy Awards were received for his performances in "Viva Zapata!" and "Lust for Life." In 1950 he became a truly international star, when he appeared in "The Brave Bulls" and won his first Academy Award with "Viva Zapata!"

He starred in director Federico Fellini's "La Strada," which won the Venice Film Festival Award in 1954 and in 1957 was voted the Best Foreign Picture by Hollywood's Academy of Motion Picture Arts.

In Mexico, Quinn starred in "The Magnificent Matador." In addition, Quinn recently was starred on Broadway with Lawrence Olivier in "Becket." An erstwhile professional soldier turned actor, Niven was one of the first screen notables to quit Hollywood for England and World War II; he served with the infantry through Dunkirk, joined the commandos and, later, the highly-secret Phantom Reconnaissance Regiment.

An Academy Award winner as best actor of the year, for his performance in "Separate Tables," Niven first turned to acting after several unsuccessful ventures. Born in London, young Niven failed his entrance examination to Dartmouth Naval College and decided to try for the Army. He joined Sandhurst, was commissioned in the Highland Light Infantry, served in Malta for two years, then resigned his commission and sailed for Canada. After working for several months in a lumber camp, as a waiter and a barman, Niven sold a series of articles on fox hunting to a Toronto newspaper. With the proceeds, he moved to New York and became a wine salesman; this job terminated abruptly when he accepted a phony check.

Niven had friends in Santa Barbara, so off to California he went. In the light of his subsequent success, it is interesting that Niven always derived comfort in extremis from the belief that if all else failed he could become an actor. He worked in small parts, achieved a great social success and, in time, established himself as a screen favorite. Niven has

He worked in small parts, achieved a great social success and, in time, established himself as a screen favorite. Niven has resistance fighter and who, therefore, is tapped to head a commando mission considered suicidal by everyone, including himself. During his film career, Peck has won three Academy Award nominations—for "Keys to the Kingdom," "The Yearling" and "Twelve O'Clock High." The latter film also won him the New York Film Critics Award for the best performance of the year, and the "best foreign actor" award at the Paris Film Festival.

In the course of his screen career, Peck has also been able to realize his desire to travel. He has made films on location in India, Rome, Australia, on a whaler in the Atlantic, more mundanely in London and on the island of Rhodes for "The Guns of Navarone."

Because of the close-in action which had to be filmed for storm sequences, Foreman cooked up a studio storm to match the unique footage captured in CinemaScope and Eastman Color on location in the Aegean Sea. The studio storm exceeded all expectations; it almost sank the entire production.

In the studio, as a replica of the fishing boat was impaled and shattered on a fringe of rocks, 16 tons of water cascaded down four giant chutes to strike the shipwrecked commandoes, struggling to save themselves and their equipment amid the break-up of their boat. Huge wind machines added excitement and fury to the scene, and rain poured down with torrential power from six super-jet overhead spouts.

So powerful was the force of the man-made waves rolling up against the actors that they were repeatedly thrown back against the sides of the boat with punishing impact. In a single day Peck gashed his forehead, Niven twisted his back, requiring weeks of massage and treatment, and Quinn incurred a sacroiliac injury which left him working in heavy braces and special protective tape for the rest of the picture. Darren was knocked out and almost drowned as one of the giant artificial waves hit him, and Baker wrenched his neck.

Aside from those incurred in the storm scenes, the movie-makers suffered a number of serious injuries as well as a series of lacerations and bruises, strained ligaments, sore muscles, burns and sundry other unpleasantnesses. "The Guns of Navarone" is a multi-million dollar epic, but it was made by people and they had to climb cliffs, move cumbersome equipment, work with explosives, sail a fishing boat into a storm and a shipwreck, engage in hand to hand combat, battle over rocky terrain and otherwise confront themselves in a manner rarely demanded of stars.

Also on the "big sick" list were Stanley Baker whose neck was twisted severely, and Gia Scala who got too close to a "shrapnel" explosion and sustained a severely-burned hand.

Starting off the movie week at the Ritz is "By Love Possessed," a tear-jerker based on a novel by James Gould Cozzens. Starred are Lana Turner, Efrim Zimbalist Jr., Jason Robards Jr. and Barbara Bel Geddes. The theme is that of a staid lawyer whose wife wants to leave him for another man, yet doesn't want to do wrong.

Although The Herald doesn't carry it, some local residents have kept up with the adventures of Dondi in the comic strip of that name. Starting Thursday at the Ritz, the first movie version of "Dondi" will be screened. It has a boy-dog theme.

Stamps In The News

Fiji
The beautiful islands in the South Pacific about which romantic novels have been written, has just issued eight new stamps to improve its current definitive series.

The first of the new designs is an 8 pence stamp in four colors, reports the British Crown Agents. It depicts the exotic hibiscus flower symbolic of the South Sea Islands. In the top left corner is a vignette of the Anziconi portrait of Queen Elizabeth. The designer of the stamp is Michael Goaman who also was responsible building, 10 shilling emerald and sapphire showing farmers cutting sugar cane, 1 pound black and orange featuring the Coat of Arms of the territory.

West Germany will issue a commemorative stamp depicting a "Nuerenberg Messenger," reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The attractive 7 pfennig stamp is a tribute to the early mail carriers in Nuerenberg and will commemorate an exhibition portraying five centuries of mail service.

It is interesting to note that the courier on the stamp is wearing a greatcoat, wide brimmed hat, breeches and stockings. He is shown carrying a lance for defense of the mail and a posthorn to sound his arrival.

The design was by Reinhard Heinsdorf of Munich and the printing was performed by the Government Printing Office in West Berlin.

The United Arab Republic has issued a set of five stamps and a miniature sheet to celebrate the ninth anniversary of its revolution and to pay tribute to its socio-economic plan. The 10 mill maroon is for transport and communications. The 10 mill rose is for industry and electricity. The 10 mill blue is for housing. The 35 mill green is for agriculture and irrigation. The 35 mill violet is for public services.

Stamps Magazine reports that Czechoslovakia has issued five commemorative stamps depicting marionettes and puppets. The stamps feature puppets and puppet shows. Also reported were two airmail stamps honoring the visit of the Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin to Prague. One of these stamps shows Gagarin arriving at Prague and the other stamp depicts a portrait of Gagarin, his space ship and a dove of peace.

for the current Fiji 4 shilling which won the award at Monaco for the most beautiful stamp of Oceania.

Other stamps in this set will include the 1/2 pence green and 2 pence red showing the Anziconi portrait of the Queen, the 6 pence magenta and black illustrating a Fijian beating a drum, 1 shilling blue depicting a map of the islands, 3 shilling 6 pence black and purple picturing the next international airport and terminal

MEN IN SERVICE

Three Big Spring servicemen are undergoing basic infantry training in the U. S. Army at Fort Ord, Calif.

They are Pvt. Warren C. McCreary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie F. McCreary; Pvt. Joe D. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, 1606 Oriole; and Pvt. Ronald J. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Carlson. Henderson is a 1960 graduate and McCreary is a 1959 graduate of Big Spring High School. Carlson attended Howard County Junior College.

The eight week program consists of such subjects as rifle marksmanship, infantry tactics, first aid, military justice and the conservation and maximum utilization of military supplies. Upon completion of basic training, the soldiers will go on to either advance infantry training or to one of the Army specialist schools.

Undergoing plebe summer training with midshipmen in the class of 1965 at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., is Midshipman John P. Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Flynn, 1201 Johnson. The class, which was sworn in, June 28, is receiving the training in preparation for entering the academy's Brigade of Midshipmen in the fall.

The two-month military indoctrination includes marching, correct wearing of the Navy uniform, Navy terminology and some academic work. Midshipmen undergo four years training at the academy, including three summer cruises. Their curriculum, consisting of 160 semester hours, leads to a bachelor of science degree.

Wilson G. Fuller Jr., whose parents live at Lamesa, recently was promoted to specialist four in France, where he is assigned to the 39th Ordnance Company. Fuller, a demolition specialist in the company in Vassincourt, arrived overseas in December, 1960. The 22-year-old soldier attended Lamesa High School.

Trailer Company Plans Open House At New Headquarters

D&C Sales, a Big Spring business establishment since October, 1958, has moved into its new home at 3919 W. 80 and will hold open house Sunday afternoon to enable its friends and customers to inspect the new quarters.

N. D. Marsalis, who with his wife, Johnnie, are owners and operators of the D&C Sales, said that the doors of their new building will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. There will be free soft drinks for all visitors. Opportunities will be offered to callers to go through the new hardware and furniture store, look over the grounds and inspect the wide assortment of mobile homes which will be on display.

The new home of D&C Sales replaces the one which had served the firm for the past two years. The change was made to provide room for the company to handle hardware and likewise carry a complete line of trailer parts and accessories. The new grounds encompass a full acre, all surfaced. In addition to the attractive store building, the company has a repair shop for mobile home sales and service needs on the grounds.

D&C is distributor for such famous lines of mobile homes as Great Lakes, Hockett, Fleetwood, Spartan, Chickasha, and Travel Trailers. The firm is thus able to offer the potential mobile home customer a complete assortment to select from. D&C has the most luxurious of trailer homes; units of less luxury and lower cost and even the camper type trailer which fits on the bed of a pickup truck for the man who wants the minimum in mobile home convenience.

In addition to the hardware, furniture, mobile homes, mobile home parts and accessories, the D&C Sales also operates the OK Rentals, Inc., a service which provides tractors for moving mobile homes from one location to another.

D&C Sales also is now dealing in real estate. Marsalis has just been licensed by the state as a realtor. He explained that mobile homes purchases frequently involve the trading of real estate. This has become of sufficient importance to the company to make it worthwhile to set up a real estate division.

The D&C Sales also is operator of the OK Trailer Courts at 2505 W. 80. Bobby Goode and Mrs. Goode are in charge of this phase of the company's activities. Goode also assists in maintenance and repair at the main offices.

The Marsalises also have two able assistants in their son, Denny, now 18 and enrolled in college, and Carolyn, 15. It is from the names of Denny and Carolyn that the firm derives its name—D&C Sales. Denny, when he is home from school, works with his father, and Carolyn acts as assistant bookkeeper, helping Mrs. Marsalis with the office work.

Marsalis is proud of his staff. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Goode, others on the staff are Junior Goode and T. J. Forman. Marsalis declares, both are experts in the field of mobile home maintenance and repair.

The Marsalises live at 101 W. 17th. Both extend a cordial invitation to their friends and customers to be their guests at the open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mexican Population Nearly 36 Million

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government statistics bureau says Mexico now has a population of almost 36 million.

The 1960 census showed 34,635,908. Another check last June showed the count had climbed to 35,800,000, officials said.

Mexico's population is reportedly growing at a rate of 3.43 per cent a year, the fastest in the world outside Israel, Costa Rica and Hong Kong, the bureau said.
