Waiting On Orders

With unofficial notice that the local National Guard unit is being called for active duty, Capt. Dewie Stevenson, left, and M.Sgt. Douglas Hedges are getting everything in shape for when orders come through from the Adjutant General's office.

Local Guardsmen Await Official Word

No word yet. After unofficial notice that the men in the local National Guard unit were being called for active duty, 81 men in Big Spring and Colorado City have waited for the word to become official. "We have not received official word yet," Capt. Dewie Stevenson, commanding officer of Battery A of the 3rd Artillery Howitzer Battalion, 132nd Artillery of the 49th Armored Division, said. "When we do each man will be mailed his orders." The unofficial report was that mobilization is about 30 days away and that sergeants would probably be called in advance for training. The place of assignment for the men will be Ft. Polk, La. No time has been specified for their length of service. A breakdown of the men shows there are 15 from Cosden, two from Colton, four postal employees, three firemen, two telephone company workers and one printer among them. More information about each man will be furnished whenever that information can be obtained. At present detailed information about the unit cannot be released. Of the four employees of the City of Big Spring, three are in the fire department and one of the police force. They are Jerry Ford, the central fire station; Donald Barber, north side station; Ralph Murphee, Eleventh and Birdwell station, and Patrolman Hubert W. Tollett, police department. Two are Korean veterans and three are veterans of World War II. World War II veterans are Capt. Stevenson, who was in the Navy, Sgt. Ray Sweett, Big Spring and Sgt. Earl Taylor, Colorado City.

Other Units To Ft. Polk

DALLAS (AP) — The 49th Armored Division of Texas, ordered Tuesday to active duty by the Defense Department, will report to Ft. Polk, La., beginning Oct. 15. Gov. Price Daniel said these other military units also were placed on active duty: The 122nd Transportation Company (medium helicopter), Houston; 27th Engineer Company and the 349th Military Intelligence Company, both of Dallas; the 49th Civil Affairs Detachment of Abilene; and 347th Military Intelligence Platoon, Fort Worth; the 98th Engineer Battalion, Wichita Falls; and the 974th Quartermaster Company of Galveston. The 49th Division was alerted Sept. 5 and told that it had a high priority for a call to active duty. Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas, division commander, said the division largely will be boosted to combat strength of 14,000 men

Japan Protests

TOKYO (AP)—Japan advised the Soviet Union today "the first signs of danger" have already appeared from what it called reckless Soviet atomic blasts in central Asia. The Foreign Ministry summoned Soviet Minister Sergei P. Suzdalev and handed him a sharp note. "As a nation which has directly experienced the frightening ravages of nuclear explosions, Japan positively cannot approve of any nuclear development for military purposes which could lead humanity to destruction," the note said.

Storm Skips Carolina, Aims For New England

New York Area In Wind's Path

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Hurricane Esther withdrew a threat to the North Carolina-Virginia coast today but rumbled offshore on a course which forecasters said would take it close to southeastern New England Thursday morning. At 11 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, hurricane warnings were hoisted from eastern Long Island, N.Y., to Provincetown, Mass. Winds will increase to gale force tonight and hurricane winds are likely by Thursday morning in the display area, pushing tides three to six feet above normal, the Weather Bureau at Washington predicted.

The buttoned-up southern coastal communities relaxed in relief. Hurricane warnings were lowered at 11 a.m. from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to the Virginia Capes. The Norfolk Weather Bureau said the storm was centered at that hour 190 miles east-southeast of the Virginia Capes, moving on a course between north and north-northeast at 14 miles an hour. "This eliminates any possibility of hurricane force winds on the Virginia and North Carolina coast, though winds may briefly reach gale force during a few rain squalls this afternoon," the bureau said.

Forecasters estimated highest winds to be about 120 m.p.h. near the storm center, with gales extending outward about 350 miles in the eastern semicircle and about 200 miles to the west. "This track," the Weather Bureau reported, "lessens considerably the danger to coastal sections from central-New Jersey southward to the Maryland coast but interests in these sections should continue to check later advisories until this evening. Heavy rain is expected to extend about 250 miles to the north and 150 to the west of the hurricane."

Gale warnings and a hurricane watch continued in effect from north of the Virginia Capes to western Long Island and also for the portion of Massachusetts not covered by hurricane warnings. Gale warnings were ordered from north of Massachusetts to Eastport, Maine. Virginia and Carolina coasts apparently were spared as the hurricane changed to a more northerly path. Tides were four to six feet above normal along the North Carolina coast and the weather bureau said tides along the coast north of Hatteras would continue to rise as the hurricane approached.

The sheriff's office said roads on North Carolina's Outer Banks suffered the major damage. About 300 residents of various fishing communities spent the night in the Buxton School on the Outer Banks.

Word has come to the local Salvation Army Post that most of the needs of persons in the coastal disaster area have been filled, according to Mrs. Maj. Robert L. Short. "There will be more furniture needed later on when the people re-establish their homes," she said. The post has an adequate store of items for the disaster area at present and is waiting for further word about their disposal. Most of this is in the form of clothing which is already packed and ready to go on a moment's notice, Mrs. Short said.

Metropolitan Regions Get Ready For Blow

NEW YORK (AP)—The sprawling metropolitan areas of the Northeast girded today for a battering by winds and floods wrought by vicious Hurricane Esther. Thousands already have fled coastal areas in the path of the storm.

Esther slapped the North Carolina coast with 33-foot waves and high winds during the predawn hours as she plodded on a course that could send her inland anywhere from the Virginia coast on up.

Regardless of where she lands her deadly punch, the nation's most densely populated area appears certain to take a beating. City, civil defense and military officials in the New York, New Jersey, Connecticut metropolitan area of some 16 million people—almost one-tenth of the nation's population—urged citizens to prepare for a possible emergency.

New York City's Mayor Robert F. Wagner called an emergency meeting of a host of city agencies. Civil defense officials in the city had cots, blankets and food in readiness, and 35 schools were designated as temporary shelters.

Two Texas Towers off New England have been evacuated by the Air Force, mindful of the disastrous collapse of a similar rare warning structure in a storm last January off New Jersey. Aircraft at Air Force bases throughout the threatened area were sent flying to safety at bases far inland—some going as far as Wright-Patterson and Lockbourne Air Force bases in Ohio.

Error Made In Gift Report

The Red Cross fund to aid Hurricane Carla victims had reached $1,405 today. A revision of tabulation accounted for $400 additional. This was brought about through an error made by The Herald yesterday.

Other gifts reported today: Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Aken $10, Garner McAdams $75, F. C. Tibbs $10, Mrs. Bertha D. Mullins $20, The Herald $50.

The local Red Cross chapter has been asked to raise $3,960 of a million-dollar quota set up for Texas. The Red Cross will be busy for many months to come, handling loans and grants in the rehabilitation of the devastated area.

Those who wish to help in this cause may send checks either to P. O. Box 626, or to The Herald. Make them payable to the Red Cross.

City May Sell Bonds Early

Bonds for the 1962 program of capital improvement under Big Spring's Master Plan may be sold earlier than anticipated, if the advice of the city's fiscal agent, First National Bank of Dallas, is followed.

A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, received a telephone call Wednesday morning from John Clayton, vice president of the bank, asking that the city consider expediting the sale of the bonds at an early date because of the excellent condition of the market.

An Unexpected Reward

Mrs. Ruth Rutherford received a surprise note of thanks from the Park Hill P-T-A at a meeting Tuesday night. She has been a principal with Big Spring schools since 1946. Currently she holds that position in both the Park Hill and Cedar Crest schools. She received a plaque with her name, the school, and the year inscribed in gold. Two former pupils, John Currie and Hayes F. Stripling Jr., were among those present for the occasion.

School Principal Honored By P-TA

Mrs. Ruth Rutherford, principal of the Big Spring Independent School District since 1946 when she took the helm at the old West Ward School, was honored Tuesday night at a meeting of the Park Hill P-T-A.

She is now principal of Park Hill Elementary School and Cedar Crest, formerly West Ward. At present she is the only woman principal in the school system. She has also been principal at Airport Elementary.

Mrs. Rutherford lists 33 years of service with the school system. Most of this time was spent teaching elementary grades until she became a principal. For many years the job of principal was an extra task performed in addition to regular teaching duties.

"She is an excellent teacher and has been an excellent principal," according to W. C. Blankenship, superintendent emeritus of the schools and now principal at College Heights. "Mrs. Rutherford has the ability

Bible Fund Takes Another Big Step

Although the formal appeal has passed, contributions to the high school Bible Class continue to be received by The Herald.

A total of $165 was received today, making a total of $3,683.19 given by volunteer supporters of the program. The latest donors were Mrs. William T. McRee, $10; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith, $10; St. Mary's Episcopal Guild, $25; Mary J. Edwards, $25; Tate, Bristow & Parks Insurance, $25; Bethany Sunday School Class of East Fourth Baptist, $10. The Herald expresses its appreciation to all who have had a part in this most worthy undertaking.

Auto Labor Pact Agreed

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and the United Auto Workers Union agreed on a three year national contract today for GM's 350,000 hourly employees. UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he was confident the union's national GM Council would approve the settlement at its meeting later in the day. When approved the contracts will bind all 129 UAW locals at UAW locals at General Motors plants, even though some 25 of these locals have yet to settle local issues.

Reuther said the local unions will be bound by the majority decision of the 280 delegates making up the council. Local strikes in the wake of agreement on economic matters

NEWS BRIEFS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The U.N. General Assembly quickly elected Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim as its president today, but no agreement was in sight on the critical problem of choosing a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe today demanded the immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops from his secessionist province. This snagged truce talks, for the United Nations had previously rejected such an idea.

UNITED NATIONS — The United States and Russia reported to the United Nations today that they have failed to reach agreement on a formula for resuming disarmament negotiations but they have agreed on a statement of principle to guide negotiations.

DETROIT (AP) — Episcopal bishops today gave quick and astonishingly unanimous approval to a plan to seek a broad-scale merger with four other Christian denominations. "I'm quite speechless," said the church's presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, after the bishops affirmed the action without debate or a dissenting voice.

The move calls for talks looking toward "an eventual united church truly catholic, truly reformed and truly evangelical."

The Polish National Catholic Church as well as possible others, were added to the original proposal for negotiations with Methodists, United Presbyterians and the United Church of Christ.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union fired another nuclear blast in the atmosphere today — the 14th since it resumed atomic testing Sept. 1.

Goldwater Wants Use Of A-Weapons

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says the United States should use low-yield nuclear weapons on enemy airfields to preserve Berlin and West Germany if they are invaded. And he believes President Kennedy should warn the Soviet Union of the plan.

"Let Khrushchev know what to expect, and name the bases that we would attack," the Arizona Republican said Tuesday at a news conference.

STRAY HOG VISITS CITY

She couldn't had some fresh pork. Lady called the animal warden Tuesday around 11 a.m. and said there was a stray pig on her front porch on Algeria Street and she was afraid of it. Sam Fuller, warden, said it wasn't a pig. "It was about 600 pounds of boar hog which drifted down the railroad track from the west end of town. We got it back to its owner OK," he said.

73,000 More Answer Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has called 73,000 more reservists and National Guardsmen to the colors to give the United States a bigger stick in the days of crisis. But Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says there are no plans to send any more Army divisions to Europe now.

McNamara described the action as another readiness measure in the light of world conditions. Asked if it indicated a worsening in the Berlin situation, he replied: "No, I think not."

Patient Kills 1, Wounds 2 Officers

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP)—A man who only went along for the ride died in a blaze of gunfire between three officers and a mental patient today. Two officers suffered wounds, as did the mental patient.

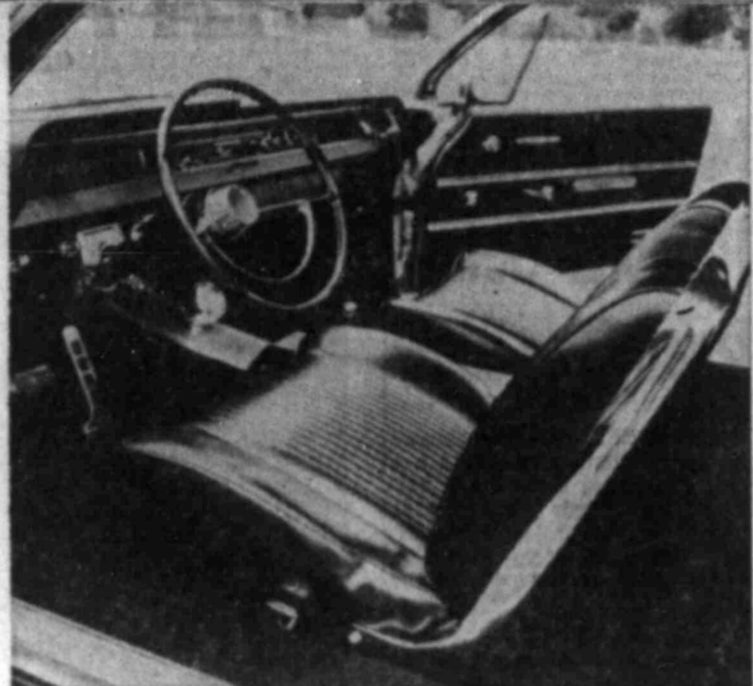

Killed was Bobby Parks, 45, a Santa Fe Railroad employe who often rode with officers. He died trying to protect Leo Hickman, 35, a highway patrolman who was critically wounded. Parks was married and had four children. Also wounded trying to help Hickman was Deputy Sheriff Ira Moore, 36.

New Design

Pontiac's popular Catalina four-door hardtop (top photo) becomes more impressive in 1962 with an entirely new front and rear end design, a crisply styled roof and 15 new paint finishes that harmonize with decorator interiors. The 1962 Pontiac line goes on display Thursday, and is to be seen at McBride Pontiac, 504 E. 3rd. An addition this year is Grand Prix, a sport model. The photo at right shows bucket seats and special console, with tachometer and shift lever, which highlight the interior of the Grand Prix.

ON DISPLAY THURSDAY

Imposing Design Changes Mark Pontiac For 1962

Pontiac puts stress on leadership in the medium price class with an imposing lineup of new cars for 1962. These go on display Thursday, locally at McBride Pontiac, 504 E. 3rd.

In addition to the luxurious Bonneville models, distinctive Star Chiefs and the lower priced Catalina line, Pontiac offers an expanded line in the compact Tempest—there'll be five models, including a convertible. And, new this year, is the Grand Prix, a smart sport job.

The 1962 announcement puts stress on new styling, improved V-8 engines, extended lubrication limits up to 35,000 miles, the Circo-Aire heater standard for all series, more rugged suspension and smoother operating Hydra-Matic transmissions.

A spectacular V-shaped front end, sweeping side sculpturing, an expansive rear end design and new custom roof styling are major contributions to the car's new exterior appearance.

Completely new Pontiac interiors are designed for operator and passenger comfort, safety and convenience. Richly appointed instrument panels feature cushion pads and distinctive ornamentation for each series. Attractive seat covers are color keyed to harmonize with exterior finishes. All models include deep loop pile door-to-door carpeting.

Power for the new line is supplied by Pontiac's renowned Trophy 425 engine. The big 389 cubic inch V-8 is offered in a broad selection of model variations with horsepower ranging from 215 to 348. Standard with synchromesh transmission in Catalina and Star Chief models is an 8.6:1 compression ratio engine equipped with two-barrel carburetor. An 8.6:1 engine with four-barrel carburetion is standard with synchromesh in Bonneville. Both standard engines as well as the 425 E economy V-8, a no-extra-cost option with Pontiac's using Hydra-Matic transmissions, can operate on regular fuel.

The longer new Pontiacs, with the exceptions of the three Safari station wagons, measure 211.6 inches in the Catalina series and 218.6 inches in the Star Chief and Bonneville series. The Safaris have an overall length of 212.3 inches. Heights range from a low of 54.5 inches with sports coupe models to 56.9 inches for the Safaris. All new Pontiacs measure 78.6 inches in width.

In the Catalina sedan, hardtop and convertible models the wheelbase has been extended to 120 inches. Star Chiefs and all Bonneville, except the Safari, are built on a 123 inch wheelbase. All Safari wheelbases measure 119 inches.

Pontiac's new 1962 Bonneville series, offering the ultimate in luxury, performance and riding comfort, is available in two-door sports coupe, four-door Vista hardtop, convertible and four-door, six passenger Safari station wagon models.

Bonneville are readily identified by exclusive full car length side moldings, gold block letter series names on the left grille, front fenders, and lower rear end panel, and by gold and white enamel crests located on the rear fenders and under the grille series name.

New Star Chief models, a four-door Vista hardtop and four-door sedan, offer big car comfort with outstanding road performance. Attractive interiors of colorful pattern cloth and Jewel-tone Morrokide, distinctive instrument panel with electric clock and dual ash trays, custom steering wheel, dual bulb tail lamps and deluxe wheel discs are among standard Star Chief equipment.

The perennially popular Pontiac Catalina, distinctive with its clean cut simplicity of styling and ornamentation, features seven different body styles for 1961. Comprising the versatile series are: A two-door sports coupe, four-door Vista hardtop, two and four-door sedans, convertible and four-door six and nine-passenger Safari station wagons.

The Catalina is equipped with many standard items usually offered only with the industry's higher priced models.

All new models will be lubricated with a special grease during assembly, permitting extension of the chassis lubrication interval up to 35,000 miles under normal driving conditions. The crankcase oil drain interval at new car driveout is advanced to 4,000 miles under favorable conditions.

Northern Race Barrier Tested

DETROIT (AP)—"If we're going to test racial barriers in the South, we also ought to do some testing here," says a Negro Episcopal priest who claims he was refused a haircut by a local hotel barbershop.

The Rev. Robert S. Chapman, vicar of St. John's Church, Hempstead, N.Y., said he was refused a haircut Tuesday at the barber shop in the Fort Shelby hotel in downtown Detroit.

Bob Holmes, owner of the shop which leases space from the hotel, said 75 per cent of his business was by appointment. He said the incident apparently was the result of a misunderstanding as his barbershop has "no discrimination policy."

U.N. Will Fly Dag's Body Home

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations is sending a plane to Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, to fly the body of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold back to Stockholm, a spokesman said Tuesday night.

The plane also will carry home the bodies of other Swedish victims of the plane crash that took Hammarskjold's life. It will leave Ndola Friday or Saturday.

Space Officials Reveal Details Of Houston Lab

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space Agency officials Tuesday announced details of facilities planned for a manned space flight laboratory to be located in Houston, Tex.

The agency is planning to "fly" men to the moon and back—under virtually all the rigors of space flight—without having them leave the neighborhood of Houston.

James E. Webb of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made the announcement of the selection of Houston as the site for the lab.

In the laboratory, as major part of the Apollo program, both empty and manned capsules will be exposed to such rigors as:

1. The vibration and thunderous noise expected when a mammoth booster rocket, packing up to 20 million pounds of thrust, shoots a capsule toward the moon in an actual flight.

2. The high-gravity conditions to which the moon vehicle would be exposed during blast-off from the earth, and subsequent re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

3. Heat of the intensity of the sunlight that would bathe the capsule during flights to and from the moon and on the moon's surface itself.

4. Various types of pressure to which a capsule would be subjected at some stages in flight—and also the vacuum-like conditions of outer space.

Various types of equipment will be available to simulate the conditions of actual flight.

All such make-believe flights will be carried on in an environmental testing laboratory—one of four integrated facilities in the big $60 million laboratory.

Lady Bird Plans To Sell Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission reported Tuesday receipt of an application for the sale of a radio station by the LBJ Co., owned by Lady Bird Johnson, for $1.4 million.

The wife of Vice President Lyndon Johnson asked approval to sell KRZG at Weslaco, Tex., by LBJ Co. to Kenco Enterprises, Inc., for that amount.

Kenco stock is owned by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kennedy whose family owns the Sioux Falls, S.D., Arthus-Leader.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

Richard A. Goodson

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President for Texas

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

How Texas telephone people, modern science will keep improving your service in 1961

As you talk on the phone, you don't see the amazing technical wonders shown here. But they—and a whole lot of other things—work "behind the scenes" to make telephone service in Texas better, year after year.

Where do these technical advances come from?

"The great majority result from full-time research by telephone scientists in laboratories," Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell vice president for Texas, told me in an interview. "But," he added, "telephone people right here in Texas contribute their share of good ideas toward achieving service improvements."

This teamwork between telephone people on the job and scientists in laboratories makes an unbeatable combination, Mr. Goodson said.

"The goal of all telephone people," he said, "is to give you service this year that's better than last year's. That's why we have a continuing program of service improvement and expansion, which in 1961 amounts to nearly $115 million in our state."

ELECTRONIC "VOICE BOOSTERS," attached to trunk lines that run between telephone central offices, keep voice volume at a strong, clear conversational level, prevent fade-out caused by distance. Latest "boosters" use Bell transistors, permit you to hear even better on your calls.

NEW MICROWAVE TOWER supports "cornucopia" antennas that beam Long Distance messages, television programs across Southwest. Capacity of many present microwave antennas is also being expanded to provide additional pathways for growing volumes of Long Distance conversations.

Headaches For Berliners

BERLIN (AP)—The Communists have brought a new weapon into their war of nerves against West Berlin.

All along the concrete and barbed wire barriers of the divided city, they have opened up with a barrage of loudspeakers turned at full strength toward West Berlin.

They blare out propaganda, threats, scorn and flattery—interspersed with American jazz and German waltzes.

Some of the loudspeakers are mounted on trucks. Others are hung in trees overlooking the border or fixed to the boundary fence.

The loudspeakers are guarded by People Police and Communist army patrols with submachine guns and hand grenades.

The Communists call this free entertainment for West Berliners "Radio August 13."

Aug. 13 was the day the East Germans sealed off West Berlin to stop the flood of refugees fleeing from Walter Ulbricht's Communist rule.

The programs usually open at 5 a.m., startling thousands of West Berliners out of their sleep. At most points, the noise continues throughout the day.

"This is the real voice of the German people," the announcer says.

"We are Germans like you, and soon we will be reunited. But we are soldiers too, and if we are attacked we will not hesitate to shoot, even at Germans."

Soviet U. N. Demand Has A Way Of Retreat

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union has thrown down what appeared to be a quick challenge to the United Nations to change its basic structure. But on close inspection, the Kremlin's move seems a cautious one.

That is the watchword at the United Nations as its assembly opens its 16th regular session in a strange brooding atmosphere produced by the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

The delegations seem carefully measuring one another, almost like gamblers trying to gauge the odds on success or disaster.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko announced the Kremlin's insistence that there be a three-man secretariat to succeed Hammarskjold. With a built-in veto, that would mean paralysis for the United Nations' ability to put out dangerous fires.

But Gromyko added that it was not possible to change the charter to set up such a structure until Red China was admitted to membership. That seems unlikely in this session, at any rate. And it gives the Soviet Union an out—should it feel it needs one. If pressing its demand should become too dangerous, politically or otherwise, the Kremlin has a ready-made avenue of retreat.

Gromyko's statement, however, did little to relieve the tension in U.N. halls. It can burst suddenly into ominous crisis.

The U.S. delegation gives the impression its cue for the time being is watchful waiting and listening. There is no inclination to telegraph any punch the United States may be intending to throw in the great diplomatic struggle now shaping up.

There is lively speculation about what the United States might do in the light of the Kremlin's intention to go ahead with its demand for a three-headed secretariat made up of a Communist, a Westerner and a neutral.

Widely discussed is the possibility that the United States intends a counter-offensive involving a demand that the nations of the world stand up and be counted for or against an effective peace organization.

A firm United States stand behind the United Nations as the last hope of peace, so the speculation goes, could generate pressure from weaker countries on the Kremlin. Implicit in the approach would be a U.S. threat to pull out of the United Nations if the Kremlin should succeed in extracting the secretariat's teeth.

Representatives of the so-called neutral nations here complain, however, that it was the United States and its policies in the past which placed them in their present position in many instances. They complain about a lack of a straight-line American policy which states clearly where the United States stands and avoids deviating from that line.

The uncommitted nations, and many others among the 99 represented here, now seem to be waiting for a firm expression of U.S. policy.

Yarborough Cites Need For Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., said Tuesday the need for a federal flood insurance program is emphasized by the damage inflicted by Hurricane Carla.

The senator said such a program was adopted by Congress in 1956 but no funds were appropriated to implement it.

He urged the Kennedy administration "to throw itself with vigor" into the problem.

Rusk Decides On Stern Face In Coming Gromyko Talks

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will meet Thursday in the first of a series of showdown talks on the crucial East-West dispute over Berlin and the parallel crisis in the United Nations.

Rusk is reported to have decided on a stern approach to the talks, including a warning to the Soviet government against believing that the United States and

Pioneer Day Looking Big

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Some 1,200 persons are expected to attend the second Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneer Day scheduled here Oct. 27. Roy A. Minear, general chairman, said Tuesday.

Minear based his estimate on advance registrations. He said more than 1,500 invitations have been mailed for the event.

Pioneer Day is jointly sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce and a group of Midland oil pioneers.

The designation "Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneer" is given to those men and women who, 30 years before or earlier worked within the Permian Basin empire on some job connected with the petroleum industry. The eligibility date for this year's event is Oct. 1, 1931.

Widows of men who would have qualified as pioneers will be designated "pioneer widows."

This classification, Minear said, includes those widows who lived with their pioneer husbands in the Permian Basin prior to Oct. 1, 1931, and were married to them at the time of the pioneer's death and who have not since remarried.

E. D. Brockett of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of Gulf Oil Corporation, will be the speaker at the celebration.

Storm-Damaged Road Repairs Set

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Highway Commission announced a $3 million emergency program Tuesday to repair the state's highway system damaged by Hurricane Carla.

The commission said the Highway Department has surveys of damage to the system under way and these surveys may reveal the need for further expenditures.

No 'Teen Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted 38 to 36 Tuesday against lowering the voting age in the District of Columbia to 18.

OUR CHILDREN

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80, P.O. Box 1355.

"He that spareth his rod hateth his son; but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes" Prov. 13:24.

"Withhold not correction from the child; for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die" (Prov. 23:13).

Juvenile delinquency today is a major problem. A part of the trouble is, parents have ceased to discipline their children.

On the other hand, some parents are extreme with their chastening. This can discourage or embitter a child, and make a delinquent of him.

"Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged" (Col. 3:21).

The best thing we can do for our children is to bring them up to be faithful Christians. We can do this by bringing them (not sending them) to Bible study and worship, by teaching them God's word at home, and by setting the right example before them.

"And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" (Eph. 6:4).

—Adv.

Guard Officer Seeks Justice

HOUSTON (AP) — An officer of a National Guard unit is trying to get back the jobs and pay some of his men lost while on Hurricane Carla disaster duty.

Eight of the men lost their jobs and about 35 or 40 others lost a week's pay, Col. Richard Burrage said.

He is executive officer of the first battle group of the 143rd Infantry.

Five of the eight had their jobs back last night, he said.

"Most of those who lost pay, ironically, are either federal employes or men who work for people making their livings from defense contracts," Burrage said.

He said most of the top bosses didn't know the guardsmen's supervisors fired them for not showing up to work.

Each man left word he was being called to duty, Burrage said.

"The guard pay is $3 a day," he said. "This means in one week the men got $21. Most of these men are married and some have large families."

Burrage said one boss told him he would be willing to give a pay-docked employe a week's vacation credit.

"Frankly, I told him this was a hell of a way to treat a man who spent a long, hard week raking his neck," Burrage said.

to newsmen Tuesday that he intends to take advantage of the situation created by the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to insist on acceptance of the Soviet Union's "troika" proposal.

Under this plan, Hammarskjold would be succeeded by a three-man board—"troika" means three in Russian. Each of the three—a Westerner, a neutral and a Communist—would have a veto power over the functioning of the U.N. administration.

The Western powers and many other U.N. members rejected the "troika" last year when it was first presented by Khrushchev. The West said he wanted to cripple the United Nations, and that view is unchanged.

Due to the tragic death of Hammarskjold, the Soviet Union is now in position to cripple U.N. operations anyway, except for one possibility. The United States and its allies, with some support from other nations, believe that the General Assembly, where the Soviet Union has no veto, can assume the power to make temporary arrangements for an official to carry on Hammarskjold's work.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred Tuesday with Ambassador Mongi Slim of Tunisia, the prospective new president of the General Assembly. Rusk and Stevenson and some other delegates would like Slim to assume Hammarskjold's duties in addition to those of the assembly presidency. He was reported reluctant to undertake such a task in the face of Soviet opposition.

Big Spring Savings Slates Open House

A formal "open house" observance, featured by gifts, souvenirs and refreshments, has been announced for Thursday by the Big Spring Savings Association in its new home at 419 Main St., formerly occupied by Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Although the Association actually began operations late last month, the formal public presentation has awaited arrival of some furniture.

The concern's office has been completely remodeled and redecorated.

Public calling hours Thursday are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"We cordially invite everyone to come in during the day for a look around, and to get acquainted," said Russell W. Bennett, president. "There is no obligation of any kind—we just want to say

"Hello" to as many Big Springers as possible."

During the day, visitors may register for a large console television set, to be given away on Nov. 28. There will be no obligation to register, said Bennett, and none to be present for a drawing. He said people may register as many times as they wish.

Special souvenirs also are to be given during the Open House day, with gifts for depositors and favors for all.

Firm Organized Here This Year

Organizational work for the Big Spring Savings Association, which has its formal "open house" Thursday, dates back to the first of the year.

The Association operates under a state charter, and is incorporated under Texas laws. It also is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, and its savings are insured up to $10,000 each by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Forty-five individuals in Big Spring subscribed stock for the organization, which has $150,000 stock and $75,000 paid-in surplus for a total capital structure of $225,000.

Work of obtaining the state charter, and then of approval of membership in the Home Loan Bank System, and for deposit insurance, has occupied a number of months. Meanwhile, extensive work was done to renovate the building at 419 Main.

Russell W. Bennett, who had a number of years experience with the Home Savings & Loan Association in Odessa, came to Big Spring a couple of months ago to assume the presidency of the local institution. He is its executive manager. Other directors are R. W. Whiskey, board chairman; Adolph Swartz, vice president; E. P. Driver, secretary and treasurer; and John Davis, L. B. (Bill) Edwards, Joe Foss, H. W. Smith, and Jess Thornton Jr.

Big Spring Savings is being set up to pay established rates on savings accounts, Bennett said, and will deal in the mortgage loan business. He said a substantial number of savings accounts already have been opened, and also that the association has made several home loans.

Almost Like Home

Room to chat, figure interest rates, or just plain rest is provided by this customer lounge area, at the front window of Big Spring Savings Association. Tastefully featuring contemporary furnishings, the financial institution theme is carried out through a coin decoration on the lamps.

NEW FIRM

Modern Office Greets Visitors

A modern, tastefully furnished office, sprinkled with a coin theme, will greet visitors Thursday to Big Spring's newest financial institution, Big Spring Savings Association, 419 Main.

The coin theme first catches the visitor's eye on a screen at the rear of the office. Huge replicas of old coins are mounted on a field of olive green felt, mounted on a solid walnut frame.

The color green also acts as a carrier for the theme, used as a basic color throughout the completely remodeled building. The interior decorating was planned and arranged by Lucelle's.

Olive green carpet islands carry a customer lounge area, near the front of the office, and the president's office area, near the rear. Elsewhere, the flooring is a blending green vinyl tile with gold flecks.

The large office area consists of one room, with President Russell W. Bennett's office nestled on one of the carpet islands.

"I like to be out here where I can meet our customers and become acquainted," Bennett said. His desk commands the entryway and will give him ample opportunity to greet and meet all who come in.

Just back of his desk, behind an unusual art glass wall of sauterne framed in olive green, is the meeting room for the board of directors, also tastefully furnished.

Furniture throughout the new offices is contemporary in design. In the customer lounge area, the sofa is a textured fabric of lemon yellow with persimmon and brown contrasts. There are two matching chairs.

Other chairs in the office are of persimmon leather or lemon yellow. Two lamps in the lounge area have imported bases which have a Roman coin motif.

The front of the building remains all glass windows. Drapes covering them are of gold and persimmon in dacron and cotton. A laminated shade was provided for the door, matching the drapes. These have a coin dot pattern. The south and east walls feature an imperial silk vinyl in sauterne shade. The north wall has a wood treatment of African walnut.

A walnut service counter dominates the southeast corner of the offices and a small storage area was provided back of it. The ceiling has a soundproof covering.

Lighting is indirect with recessed fixtures. The entire building is air conditioned.

President

Russell W. Bennett is manager of the city's newest savings and loan organization. It is Big Spring Savings Association, located at 419 Main. Open house will be held Thursday, 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Young Investor Is Considered

Particular attention has been given to the "young investor" at the new Big Spring Savings Association office.

With this in mind, a stair-step platform, complete with hand railing, was installed for tiny investors who can't reach the normal counter height. By taking four steps, youngsters can lean on the counter and transact their own business at the new firm.

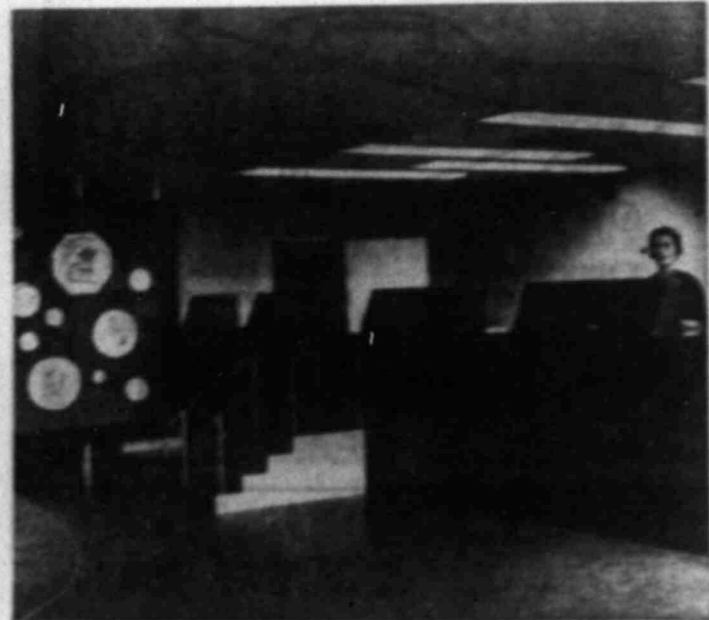

"We think it will help a lot toward teaching youngsters thrift," Russell W. Bennett, president, said. "Youngsters learn by doing." On this note, "young investors" were given a special invitation to take their savings accounts to Big Spring Savings Association.

Anti-Castroite Is Executed

HAVANA (AP) — Anti-Castro leader Nelson Figueroa Blanco died before a firing squad Tuesday. He was the 12th person executed in Cuba since Sept. 9.

Figueroa Blanco was shot a few hours after a revolutionary court convicted him and nine others of counter-revolutionary activity. The others received prison sentences of six months to seven years.

Legates Exempt From Sales Tax

Calvert said the senior officer in each consulate will be responsible for making application for special exemption certificates to be used by the consulate's officers and employees.

Flier Belies Jet Attack Idea

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A senior officer in the Katanga air force said Tuesday night it would have been impossible for a Katanga jet fighter to shoot down Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's airliner near Ndola in darkness Monday.

Commandant Josh Puren, on leave in Johannesburg, said the Katanga air force's one jet fighter did not have the range to fly to Ndola and was not equipped for night flying.

RED CROSS MOVES IN TO AID STORM VICTIMS

AN IMPORTANT AND THOUGHTFUL SERVICE is provided to victims of Hurricane Carla in Galveston by Junior Red Cross volunteers Susan Pinkerton and Sarah Sparks. These girls along with others, provide nursery service at the Red Cross Shelter for infants while their parents begin the heartbreaking job of cleaning and rebuilding their homes.

In the wake of one of the most destructive hurricanes of all time, the American Red Cross has moved in, fulfilling its traditional role of mercy—with practical relief and rehabilitation. Still ahead is the gigantic task of rebuilding—and here the Red Cross is officially charged with the responsibility of making loans and grants, of aiding every family and every individual to get back on their feet.

Texas Red Cross chapters have been asked to raise a million dollars to help finance this long-range rebuilding program. The Howard-Glasscock chapter has been called on for $3,960.

A preliminary Red Cross survey of 14 coastal counties of Texas now shows an estimated 40,200 homes damaged or destroyed by Hurricane Carla in an area stretching from Port Arthur to Corpus Christi. Survey teams traveling by car and helicopter also counted more than 900 farm buildings, 875 other buildings, and 340 boats and house trailers destroyed or damaged.

The survey teams reported the most severe damage in the counties of Victoria, Calhoun, Matagorda, Brazoria, Galveston, Harris, and Chambers, and said that some houses in the Freeport area are believed still covered with water. Other counties included in the preliminary estimate are Nueces, Aransas, San Patricio, Refugio, Jackson, Jefferson, and Orange. Registration points are being opened in the counties listed above, to provide long-range rehabilitation assistance to disaster sufferers.

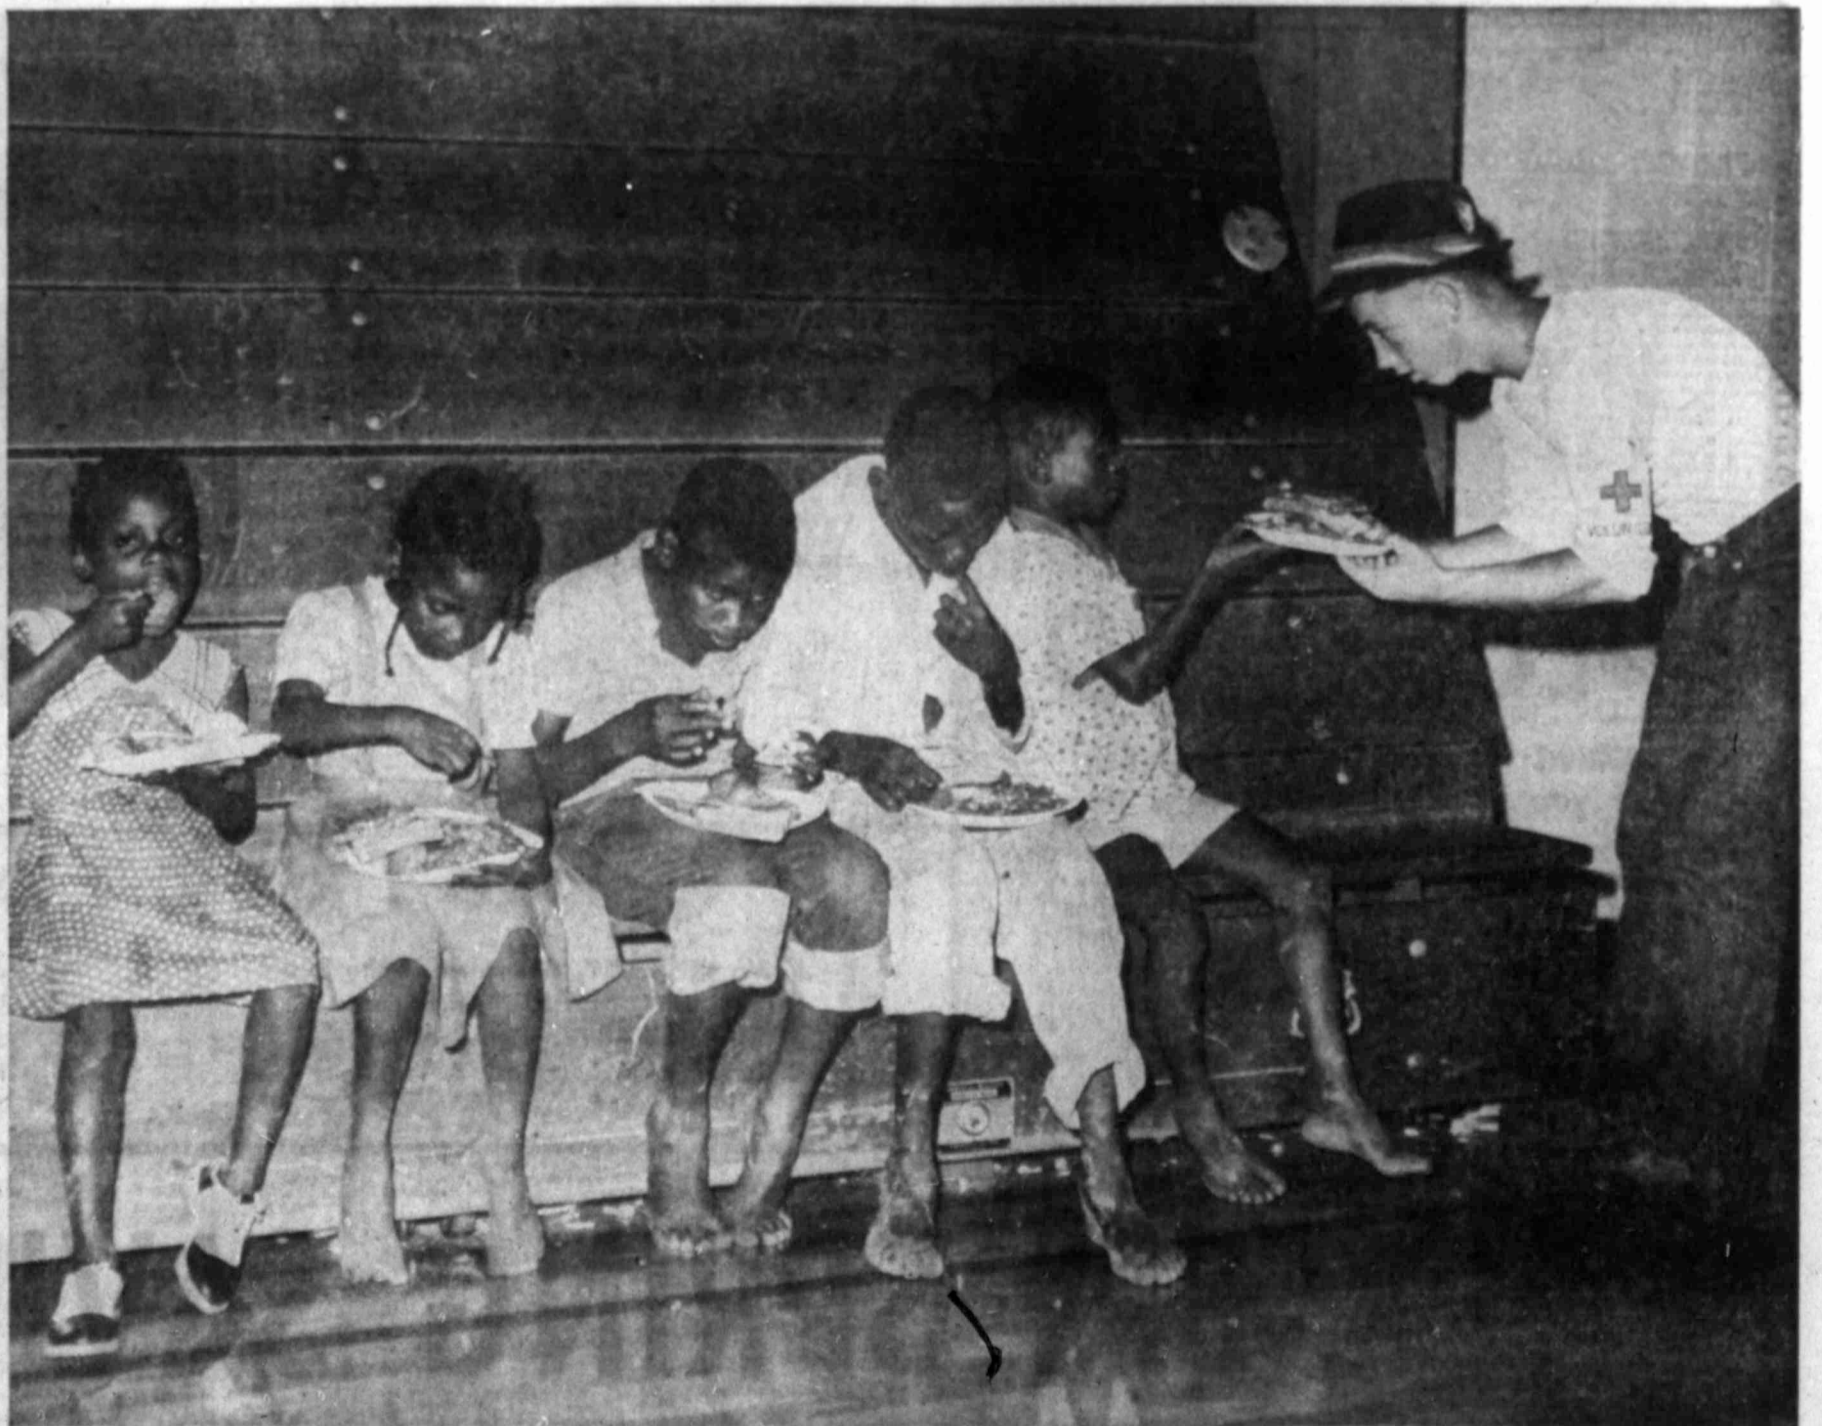

A HELPING HAND IN TIME OF NEED—the sum total of the story of Red Cross assistance. Here in a Red Cross shelter and feeding station in this Texas Gulf coast community pounded by the heavy seas and mighty winds of Hurricane Carla, Mrs. Rudy Patrick, 1922 Algee Drive, Port Lavaca, gives her "helping" hand. Encarnacion Martinez, age 24, an employe of the W. S. Cold Storage Company of this city needs Mrs. Patrick's hands as he and his seven children eat a hot meal at the Red Cross shelter. The Red Cross shelter and feeding station was operated at the Calhoun High School.

FOOD FOR STORM VICTIMS is delivered by Don Crow, a Texas A&M student from Victoria, to Gene Meador of Tulsa, Okla. They're volunteers making use of a large, completely equipped mobile canteen unit, made available to the Red Cross by its owner, Severs Smith Thornton of Tulsa. Thornton and two other men accompanied the mobile unit to the Port Lavaca area, to join other Red Cross volunteers in immediate relief.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE a good hot meal to keep your mind off the effects of Hurricane Carla. These children, from families stricken by the force of Carla, find mealtime at the Red Cross shelter in the Calhoun High School in Port Lavaca a time for sampling the good, hot and nourishing food being served from the hands of Leroy Manne Jr., Red Cross volunteer from Port Lavaca.

Farmers Help Stricken Town

PORT LAVACA, Tex. (AP)—Farmers in Gould, Ark., provided $3,037.50 Tuesday for Port O'Conner, a fishing community on the Texas coast that was hit by Hurricane Carla.

Six farmers drove to Port Lavaca from the Arkansas community of 1,200 and presented a check to Port Lavaca officials.

Mayor Frank Kinsey of Port Lavaca in turn donated the money to Port O'Conner, 15 miles away, because "they need it worse than we do."

Howard Holthoff of Gould said 54 farmers each donated 25 bushels of soy beans to raise the money.

Survey Discloses Phone Tapping In U. S. Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Big Brother may not be watching you, yet, but his secretary probably is listening in on your telephone calls to government agencies."

That's the conclusion of the House Government Information Subcommittee after a survey of telephone monitoring practices of 37 major government agencies.

The report, issued today, said 33 of the 37 federal agencies permit some kind of telephone monitoring—if you include having a secretary make notes of dates, numbers, future engagements and the like.

It added that 21 agencies have no regulations on telephone monitoring, and 17 do not always require that the other party be warned that what he is saying is being taken down.

The report said most agencies "rationalize it as an aid to efficiency. When monitoring is done secretly and becomes eavesdropping, however, the bureaucracy is sacrificing principle on the altar of efficiency."

N. M. Rejects Amendments

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—New Mexico voters Tuesday apparently rejected 7 of 12 proposed constitutional amendments.

Returns early today indicated amendments, proposing absentee balloting, four-year terms for state officials, annual sessions of the legislature and allowing the legislature to set its pay scale were defeated.

Three of the four amendments leading in approval votes dealt with the authority of the legislature to establish qualifications of various public officials.

The one amendment in doubt was the proposal to merge the elected State Corporation Commission with the appointed Public Service Commission, with 160 of 678 voting divisions unreported, the vote for the merger was 20,671 to 20,968 against it.

Also running behind were proposed constitutional changes which would make the state auditor an appointive instead of elective state official, permit members of the legislature to serve on various state boards and allow the deduction of administrative (court) costs from fines and penalties before the money is turned over to the school fund.

Receiving approval was an amendment which will permit the governor to re-submit names of Highway Commission appointees to the state Senate if the Senate failed to give consent to the governor's appointees.

Cubs Work On Pack Costumes

Cub Scouts of Den 4, Pack 14, met at the home of Mrs. L. D. Thornton, Den Mother, Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance.

ping, however, the bureaucracy is sacrificing principle on the altar of efficiency.

No matter what the excuse, there is something mean and unprincipled in a government's official's arranging for a secretary—or a transcribing machine—to eavesdrop on telephone calls.

The report said there were indications of "a dangerous drift toward a huge bureaucracy peering over the shoulder of the citizen."

The survey was conducted by the staff of the subcommittee headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif. The subcommittee has a 50-hour five-year study to make information on government business more accessible to the public.

The report said it found 363 transmitter cutoff switches and 240 listening-in circuits on telephones going through a switchboard operated by the General Services Administration. It said the great majority of these were on phone lines of the Welfare Department.

A transmitter cutoff switch is a button that shuts off the transmitter part of a telephone, so someone can hear but cannot be heard. A listening-in circuit is another method of hearing without being heard.

The telephone company charges extra for both devices, and the report estimated that "many thousand of dollars a year are spent on the listening-in devices."

The report included answers to the subcommittee questionnaire from each of the 37 departments involved. Most of them said that secretaries listened in on calls

No Session Date As Yet

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel told a press conference Tuesday that he could not yet name a date for the next special legislative session, but added it would not be before Oct. 15.

"Chances are the session will be the latter part of the year or the second of January, unless something comes up," he said.

Daniel did promise to ask the legislature—when he calls it back—to increase state preparation for disasters such as Hurricane Carla. This added at least a sixth topic to be considered by a special session.

"I can see now that we need to provide more money for the National Guard," Daniel said in discussing the effect of Hurricane Carla on the special session. "We need to provide more highway patrolmen, too. I'm sure I'll add those to the call of a special session."

On other subjects Daniel said: "I'm still trying to set the Bexar County special election at a time when it would coincide with another election. I think I will call the other three elections (for legislative vacancies) right away."

Cool Air Mass Is Hesitating

Cool air hesitated along an indefinite line from El Paso to Wink early Wednesday as Texas' pattern of pleasant weather seemed likely to continue.

Skies were cloudy from Austin and San Antonio northeastward into the Fort Worth-Dallas area and around Wichita Falls. It was partly cloudy along the coast but clear in Northeast Texas and the Panhandle area.

The only two cities reporting measurable rain early Wednesday were Austin with .71 of an inch and Wichita Falls with .65.

Only three Texas towns reported precipitation Tuesday but lightning cracked in a brief and noisy thundershower causing power failures for parts of Pampa in the Panhandle.

One death was attributed to the weather as Mrs. Chester Nicholson, 48, of Pampa died when her car skidded on slippery pavement and plowed into an embankment near Skellytown.

Temperatures Wednesday generally were in the 60s or low 70s. Palacios had the high with 78 and Texarkana the low with 58.

She gets along well with adults, as well as with children, and everyone welcomes her into their homes. My problem is one nosy neighbor who makes it her business to know everybody else's. She asks my daughter questions about who visits us, what we served, what we talked about, and so forth. You know, Abby, 11-year-olds don't always have the best judgment... therefore this old buttinsky gets a lot of information I would rather she didn't have. Should I call on this busybody and set her straight? Or should I tell my daughter not to go over there any more? FREDERICK DWELLER DEAR DWELLER: Tell your daughter that it isn't "nice" to tell neighbors what goes on at home. And if this neighbor asks questions that are none of her business, your little girl should avoid her or reply, "Why don't you ask my mother?" DEAR ABBY: I am a bachelor and I have heard that marriage is a 50-50 proposition. I would like to know if the bride has to match bank books before the marriage, since the husband has to support her for the rest of her life? POOR FISH: She doesn't, and she shouldn't. But a woman contributes more important things than money to marriage. I'd like to see a man have a baby! DEAR ABBY: I recently lost my precious mother. Although she was ill a long time, when she finally passed on I was shocked and heart-broken. Out of respect to my mother's memory I want to wear black and refrain from entertainment for at least three months. My husband and friends tell me I am foolish and old-fashioned, and that nobody does this any more. I need an outside opinion. IN MOURNING DEAR IN: Pay no attention to what your husband and friends say. Do what your heart dictates. P.S. Many people go into mourning for a full year. "Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3385, Beverly Hills, Calif. For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3385, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Daley's Effort Clinches Tie For Yankees

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

An asterisk looms large in Roger Maris' destiny. Held to an infield single while the New York Yankees clinched at least a tie for the American League pennant Tuesday night by splitting a doubleheader with Baltimore, Maris must hit two home runs tonight against the Orioles to tie the Babe Ruth's home run record.

If he doesn't, he'll have eight more regularly scheduled games in which to tie or surpass the Bambino's 60-homer record of 1957, but will have to take the asterisk along with any record under the edict handed down by Commissioner Ford Frick.

That's the prospect facing Maris, who has 58 homers after failing to connect in nine tries against the Orioles' sharp pitchers, as he prepares to take his final official shots against right-hander Milt Pappas (12-8) if Hurricane Esther doesn't intervene.

The honor of clinching the tie for the Yankees 26th pennant, their 11th in 16 years and the first under rookie manager Ralph Houk, went to left-hander Bud Daley who beat the Orioles 3-1 in the nightcap with a five-hitter.

Steve Barber won the opener for the Birds 1-0 with a four-hit job for his eighth shutout, tops in the majors. Maris walked in the first, then failed to get a hit in three other at-bats.

In the second game, Maris fouled out in the first, got an infield single in the third, grounded out in the fourth, hit a long foul in the seventh before flying out to center and struck out in the ninth for a 3-for-36 performance at Baltimore this season.

Bill Skowron took up the homer slack for the Yankees, cracking his 27th, but one on the fourth, for a 3-1 New York lead that stood up and reduced their magic number to one over the second-place Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers, who play an afternoon game against Los Angeles today, maintained a mathematical chance to tie for the pennant by beating the Angels 5-2 Tuesday. Cleveland and Kansas City split the A's winning the opener 6-0 and the Indians taking the nightcap 6-2. Chicago whipped Boston 5-1 and Minnesota defeated Washington 3-1.

Skowron's homer, with Elston Howard on base against Baltimore starter Skinny Brown (10-6), gave Daley his 12th win against 17 defeats. The lone Baltimore run came on Ron Hansen's homer leading off the third.

In the opener, Barber (17-11) had the Yankees completely in control while Baltimore's first-inning run stood up and made Whitey Ford (24-4) the loser. The Orioles scored when Brooks Robinson singled, reached second as the ball got by Hec Lopez and scored on Jerry Adair's double.

Texas Picked To Nip Rice In Grid Poll

FORT WORTH — University of Texas is the choice to edge Rice University for the 1961 Southwest Conference football championship as voted in the 27th annual TCU Sports News poll.

The Lone Star's 138 "experts" — most to ever vote in the poll — pointed the finger at the Longhorns as one of the most-heated races in the great League's history was forecast. The Orange and White picked up 47 first-place votes and didn't receive a vote lower than fourth, giving it a total of 272 1/2 points. The points are based on one for first, two for second, and etc.

Picking the Longhorns for the title has become a habit with the Southwest news media, as they were the choice for the 1960 crown and with this year's "honor", it marked the ninth time to be named the probable champion — most for any SWC eleven.

As most always the case, the comments were interesting. Most of the Texas backers saw the game between the Orange and Rice at Austin on October 28th, as the biggest hurdle en route to the crown.

"I think it boils down to Texas vs. Rice. They play in Austin where Rice hasn't won since 1933" — Spec Garmon, Odessa American.

"This is the season that Darrell Royal was being building for at Texas. Lady Luck doesn't want anything to do with Baylor." — Putt Powell, Amarillo News and Globe Times.

"Probably the greatest race in the SWC's long history, I'll take Texas." — Dan Cook, San Antonio News.

"Texas has everything: Speed, experience, depth and great soph crop. Rice has a top line, only average backs. Baylor great backs, but line problem." — Dub Brown, San Angelo Standard-Times.

"And then there were the Rice folks. 'Jess Neely's senior plan will give the Owls a National championship.'" — Ray Boyd, Station KHUZ, Borger.

"Falling hurts less those who fly low — but the Owl is equipped to soar; not so the Mustang." — Tommy Hart, Big Spring Daily Herald.

"Rice won in 1949, 1953 and 1957. So it's that time again." — John Ellis, Lufkin News.

"All those tackles at Rice!" — Harold Scherwitz, San Antonio Light.

"The Orange is rough; the Hog's not muzzled; the Bear is hungry; that makes me puzzled. . . So to save my soul from grunts and growls, I'll have to go with Jess' Owls." — Joe Kelly, Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

Baylor hasn't won since 1924, but many think this is the Bears' year.

"A Bull should be able to outlast a Steer any day." — Jerry Jackson, Snyder Daily News.

"Never been right in the poll yet, might as well go with the team that hasn't been right in the Conference." — Dan Jenkins, Fort Worth Press.

"If Baylor is ever going to win it, it should come this year. The Bears have everything it takes, including an incentive. Every jinx must fall sometime." — Harold Ratliff, Associated Press.

"Arkansas is bidding for a third-straight crown, and many believe the Ozark will achieve that goal." — Arkansas will win because it is the least logical choice among the four contenders, bucking the third term tradition and a questionable defense. But the Hogs have Alworth and Broyles." — Mickey Herskowitz, Houston Post.

"There was a lone pick for the TCU Frogs in the race. 'A strong, determined FROG is always a threat regardless of which way he jumps. I'm looking for some 'Sonny' Saturday afternoon.'" — Williams, Station KCUL, Fort Worth.

In the second game, Maris fouled out in the first, got an infield single in the third, grounded out in the fourth, hit a long foul in the seventh before flying out to center and struck out in the ninth for a 3-for-36 performance at Baltimore this season.

Maris Falls Behind In Bid For Crown

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP)—Tonight is zero hour for Roger Maris. Or is it?

The crew-cut slugging star of the New York Yankees has just one game—four or five at-bats—in which to slam the three home runs he still needs to eclipse Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in a season.

The 27-year-old right fielder's bat was almost completely muffled Tuesday night as the Yankees assured themselves of at least a tie for the American League pennant with a doubleheader split against Baltimore.

New York won the second game 2-1 after Steve Barber of the Orioles had outpitched Whitey Ford 1-0 in the opener.

Maris, with 58 homers in the bank, came to bat nine times. The closest he came to hitting a home run was a long drive into the right fielder bleachers—fouled by some 20 feet—in the seventh inning of the nightcap. His only safety was an infield single in his sixth at bat. In his other tries, he walked, fouled out twice, grounded out twice, flied out twice and struck out.

"Well, I've got to be a Houdini now to do it in 154 games," Maris said.

"I had a bad night," he admitted, "and when I'm bad, I'm really lousy. I've got nobody to blame but myself. I was over-anxious. I had some good pitches to hit at but I also swung at some bad ones. Those pitchers (Steve Barber, Skinny Brown and Hoyt Wilhelm) had me swinging at their pitch. I should have waited them out a little more and forced them to come in with my pitch, but I was too anxious."

Commissioner Ford Frick has decreed that if Ruth's hallowed homer mark is equalled or broken, it must be done in 154 decisions. That was the number of games which constituted a season in 1927, when the Babe set his record. The current American League season runs 162 games. The commissioner does not have 100 per cent support in this unprecedented decision. In fact, there are many dissenters.

Among them are Joe Cronin, president of the American League; Hank Greenberg, the last to hit 58 home runs one season and Ralph Houk, the Yankee manager.

Another strong dissenter is Roger Maris.

"As far as Mr. Frick is concerned," Maris told reporters Tuesday night, "I've got only one game. But physically, as far as my body is concerned, I've got nine more to play."

Houk, whose prime interest, of course, is in clinching the pennant, supported Maris.

"I just can't go along with the commissioner's thinking," he said. "If 154 games make a season, does that mean if we don't clinch the flag tonight, it doesn't count? A crowd of 31,317, unleashing warning signals sent ahead by Hurricane Esther, came out to see whether Maris could break the Municipal Stadium jinx which has held him homerless in six previous games. The turbulent lady, true to her gender, was late but there was enough wind blowing in from right field to make Roger's job tougher. Roger, a left-handed hitter, was able to hit only two balls out of the infield all night.

Incidentally, each Red Lewis of HCJC may have another national disc-throwing champion on his team in the person of Big Spring's own Gary Walker.

The crew-cut slugging star of the New York Yankees has just one game—four or five at-bats—in which to slam the three home runs he still needs to eclipse Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in a season.

The 27-year-old right fielder's bat was almost completely muffled Tuesday night as the Yankees assured themselves of at least a tie for the American League pennant with a doubleheader split against Baltimore.

New York won the second game 2-1 after Steve Barber of the Orioles had outpitched Whitey Ford 1-0 in the opener.

Maris, with 58 homers in the bank, came to bat nine times. The closest he came to hitting a home run was a long drive into the right fielder bleachers—fouled by some 20 feet—in the seventh inning of the nightcap. His only safety was an infield single in his sixth at bat. In his other tries, he walked, fouled out twice, grounded out twice, flied out twice and struck out.

"Well, I've got to be a Houdini now to do it in 154 games," Maris said.

"I had a bad night," he admitted, "and when I'm bad, I'm really lousy. I've got nobody to blame but myself. I was over-anxious. I had some good pitches to hit at but I also swung at some bad ones. Those pitchers (Steve Barber, Skinny Brown and Hoyt Wilhelm) had me swinging at their pitch. I should have waited them out a little more and forced them to come in with my pitch, but I was too anxious."

Commissioner Ford Frick has decreed that if Ruth's hallowed homer mark is equalled or broken, it must be done in 154 decisions. That was the number of games which constituted a season in 1927, when the Babe set his record. The current American League season runs 162 games. The commissioner does not have 100 per cent support in this unprecedented decision. In fact, there are many dissenters.

Among them are Joe Cronin, president of the American League; Hank Greenberg, the last to hit 58 home runs one season and Ralph Houk, the Yankee manager.

Another strong dissenter is Roger Maris.

"As far as Mr. Frick is concerned," Maris told reporters Tuesday night, "I've got only one game. But physically, as far as my body is concerned, I've got nine more to play."

Houk, whose prime interest, of course, is in clinching the pennant, supported Maris.

"I just can't go along with the commissioner's thinking," he said. "If 154 games make a season, does that mean if we don't clinch the flag tonight, it doesn't count? A crowd of 31,317, unleashing warning signals sent ahead by Hurricane Esther, came out to see whether Maris could break the Municipal Stadium jinx which has held him homerless in six previous games. The turbulent lady, true to her gender, was late but there was enough wind blowing in from right field to make Roger's job tougher. Roger, a left-handed hitter, was able to hit only two balls out of the infield all night.

SOUTH PACIFIC JOURNEY

Australian Ranch Country Has Successful Operators

By HOUSTON HARTE
ST. GEORGE, Queensland, Australia—A number of West Texas "grazers" as ranchmen are called on this island, may recall the three visits Colin Chandler made to San Angelo in 1949 and the '50s to study the sheep business. Al Sledge of the Standard-Times staff drove him to a number of ranches in the San Angelo area.

Later Chandler came back with his friend Michel White, whose family has one of Australia's leading Aberdeen Angus herds. They spent a day with the late Jamie Brook at Brady.

Chandler last visited in San Angelo in 1955 when he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKinney, 1515 S. Jackson. McKinney and Chandler became friends during World War II when McKinney was on the staff of Gen. Frederick H. Smith in Australia. McKinney often visited in the Chandler home while stationed in Australia.

RAINFALL
Chandler met us on the pier at Sydney. The first day out we drove to the White property, 18,000 acres along the Hunter River in beautiful rolling land of strong grass, alfalfa, clover and oats. It was spring and raining gently. It was a drizzling, muggy spring day which every man who lives on the land, no matter where he dreams about. Two inches fell in the 18 hours we enjoyed at Belltrees Station.

Belltrees once was an enormous ranch. At one time it carried 190,000 sheep. Most land in Australia is leased from the state. Now Belltrees is back to 18,000 acres of freehold, as the owned land is called. The rainfall here is 35 to 40 inches and the soil rich and deep. The shearing shed at Belltrees has 40 shearers' drops. Only a half dozen are used today, but the building speaks for an era that has moved hundreds of miles west.

ACRE RATIO
Today on this 18,000 acres are 10,000 sheep and 4,000 Aberdeen Angus cattle of various ages. This is a "beast" as cattle are called here, to every 4½ acres and a sheep to a little over 1½. It works out a sheep or a beast to a little over 1½ acres. The day we were there 20 bulls were being shipped to Melbourne at 200 guineas ($500) each. The hills were terraced and the white clover and lucerne (alfalfa) were as good as you'd see on any bottom land in Texas. Belltrees has a purebred Angus herd and Michel is one of the few Australians to judge the Angus classes at Perth, Scotland, but it is primarily a commercial operation.

We arrived at Keera, a station of 56,000 acres, 150 miles north, about sunset. Keera is owned by one of the branches of the Munro family, of which Colin Chandler is a member, and is managed by Gordon Munro. Under the laws of Queensland, limiting the number of acres of land any one person can lease, Keera is divided among the members of the immediate Munro family and is managed by Gordon Munro as a unit.

Keera was purchased by Donald Munro of Dingwall, Scotland, in 1858. He was the father of the Munro clan in Queensland. The sons of Donald Munro divided their property.

PRIZE WINNERS
It consisted of 250,000 acres of government lease and 4,000 acres of freehold. Keera is the home of the Booroomooka herd of Aberdeen Angus cattle which has been winning prizes at the fairs at Sydney and Brisbane for the last 20 years. This herd has never failed to win a championship, grand championship or supreme championship in one or both of these shows since 1942.

Besides the show herd Keera runs 8,000 cattle and 24,000 sheep. It was lambing time in New South Wales and Queensland the last of August and eagles were pillaging the sheep. On the day we were at Keera 18 eagles were trapped or shot. It was expected 150 would be killed before the lambing season was over.

Keera, like Belltrees, has its own school where the children of all the families on the station are given a good solid education to two grades beyond our grade schools. Both have chapels. Religious service is not provided by a minister except about once a month. On other Sundays it is conducted by some competent man or woman on the station.

CHAPEL
The Chapel, with its burial ground nearby, is used for most of the marriages in the families of the station owners and all the people on the place. There are 50 to 75 buildings at Keera but not so many at Belltrees.

Electric lights and power are provided at both these larger stations by a pair of good diesel engines. The power is usually 110 volts. There are many different voltages in Australia, but the predominant voltage is 240. Most stations provide a motion picture show each Saturday night for everyone on the station. Often the people from nearby stations come for the show.

It was a long drive over dirt roads from Keera to Kurray in Queensland. It was starting to get constable headquarters on each side of the line between New South Wales and Queensland. Once duty was collected between the Australian states as though they were foreign countries.

Kurray is Colin Chandler's station of 4,000 acres of deeded land and a 9,000 acre lease. Colin took it 15 years ago when Queensland, once duty was collected between the Australian states as though they were foreign countries.

reflect his visits to the United States. Queensland is the natural home of the termite. It presents a frightful problem here. His buildings are on concrete slabs. He uses cypress-pine for construction. Roofs in Queensland in city or country are made of corrugated galvanized iron.

Kurray's residence is a low Texas ranch-style home, with a 60-foot long wide screened-in porch. Two breezeways which can be kept open or closed. All his roofs are guttered to conserve rain-water for domestic household purposes. Water from a nearby tank provides for all other uses except cooking, drinking and bathing. A pump puts the rain water into a high tank.

CLEAR MORE LAND
This station in the average 20-inch rainfall belt, is running an animal to the acre with the help of 700 acres of tilled land. It is operated with the owner and two regular employees. One man farms with the tractors and the other supervises the livestock. All use their spare time clearing additional land.

In the Kurray area there are a number of stations where the "living area," as it is designated by the government, consists of approximately 16,000 acres of leased land. Universally these stations run 4,500 to 6,000 ewes, shear 45,000 to 60,000 pounds of wool. As the sheep numbers are cut down, the cattle numbers go up to 500 or 600 head. The number of cattle depends on the cultivation.

FEED CROPS

station, would produce feed crops which would make it possible for him to increase the productivity of his station. In the years since he came to America the idea has taken hold all around him. His neighbors thought he was out of his mind. We visited but one station in the St. George area that did not have from 200 to 1,000 acres of crops.

The rainfall up to Sept. 10 this year was a little over nine inches. His wheat and oats were green and he hopes, as all those who operate in the 20-inch rainfall belt, spring September and October rains will make a grain crop as well as provide green feed for his cattle and new lambs.

Last year's rainfall was about 14 inches. The year before only a little more. Each year his crops saved him. An over 20-inch rainfall year and he will fatten an extra 150 bullocks, as steers are called. But at nine cents an acre on a 28-year lease he gets a pretty good home for his livestock for $560 for 9,000 acres.

Red Cross Board Meets Thursday

A meeting of the advisory board of the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter has been called for 5:15 p.m. Thursday. The session will be in the Commissioners Court Room, on the second floor of the courthouse.

Several vital policy matters must be considered, said Chapter Chairman R. W. Whipkey, in urging a full attendance of the board. The chapter must arrange to meet its requirement in the Hurricane Carla rehabilitation program. There also is to be a decision on the chapter's role in assisting smaller chapters in the West Texas area—in programming and in advisory personnel.

Radioactivity Is Up In France

PARIS (AP) — Atmospheric radioactivity has slightly increased in France during the past 48 hours, official sources said Tuesday. The increase, apparently due to a renewal of nuclear testing by the Soviet Union, is not alarming, the sources said.

MEN IN SERVICE

Donald F. Carlisle, airman, has completed his five weeks basic training at Lackland AFB and is to serve 16 weeks at Chanute, Ill., his mother and father, Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph M. Clark, 1609 Gregg, had been advised. Their son, a former student of Big Spring High school, is already in Chanute. He is 19 years old and attended college at El Paso on a scholarship before entering the service. His father is an airman at Webb AFB. In addition to his parents, his sister, Nina, lives here.

DONALD F. CARLISLE

Army Pvt. Roger L. Clark, 17, completed the general supply course under the Reserve Forces Act program at The Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va., Sept. 2. He received basic training at Fort Ord, Calif. His father Leo R. Clark, lives at Colorado City.

WTCC President Hits Acreage Plan

ARILENE, Tex. (AP) — The president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said Tuesday he saw no reason for reducing the present cotton allotment acreage in 1962.

He said his organization was also opposed to the reduction. J. Carter King, of Albany, said information from Washington indicated the Department of Agriculture was considering such action before Oct. 15.

The present acreage allotment is 18,500,000.

Attempt To Aid Friends Results In Anniversary

When W. C. Mattingly drove his horse and buggy to the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hodges one day back in 1906 his idea was to join some friends to aid Mrs. Hodges in getting her bees to behave in the hive. What he got was a bee stung horse and the first glimpse of the girl he would later marry . . . and stay married to for 50 years.

MR. AND MRS. W. C. MATTINGLY

Sunday the Mattinglys will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary here with an open house for relatives and friends from 3 until 5 p.m. at their home, 805 E. 15th. Their three children, five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren will be with them for the day.

The day the couple met will always be remembered by Mr. Mattingly. He had driven his horse and buggy to the Hodges place near Nubia in Taylor County, accompanied by friends who drove their rigs. When the bees got upset they stung both horses and the horses responded as any self respecting bee stung horse would respond.

There was no time for the young farmer and his bride to have a honeymoon. They went immediately to their farm home in the Noodle Community in Jones County, and here they lived until 1934, when they moved to Tarzan in Martin County. When Mr. Mattingly retired in 1944, he and his wife bought the house at 805 E. 15th St. in Big Spring, where they have continued to make their home.

They have two lots which they have fenced in and their lots contain a lot . . . 57 fruit trees.

plum, peach, apricot and pear. Mrs. Mattingly has canned enough fruit and garden vegetables to last until the next crop comes. The couple has always had enough

'20's' Is Theme Of Party

Twenty-nine members of Lawettes in dress of the "Roaring 20's," were entertained Tuesday evening in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Gas Company.

Hostesses were Mrs. Claude Morris, Mrs. Irma Bailey, Mrs. J. R. Hall, Mrs. Jack Thurgamer, Mrs. Josh Messenger and Edna Owens.

Mrs. Bob Husson received a prize for the best-dressed member and was also chosen for the best Charleston performance, accompanied by music of the "20's." The group voted to provide cookies for the State Hospital on Oct. 18 and 25.

Mrs. Nanny Elected H.D. Club President

New officers elected by the College Park Home Demonstration Club, meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Douglas Chambers, are Mrs. A. D. Nanny, president; Mrs. Gordon McHurin, vice president; Mrs. David Hodnett, secretary-treasurer.

Members voted to make foot-lets as Christmas gifts for patients of the Big Spring State Hospital, after which Mrs. McHurin gave a demonstration on making draperies.

Five members answered to roll call, giving their favorite Bible verses. Two visitors were introduced and Mrs. Hodnett was presented as a new club member. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bill Davis, 1506 Lancaster.

SS Class Honors Two Members

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the Intermediate Girls Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Herman Parsons, Monday night to honor those who are to be promoted to the Young Peoples Class Sept. 24.

Honorees, Louise Lewis and Donna Henderson, were presented gifts from the class. Mrs. Parsons showed films of the Turnblessed Parade held in Colorado City in July and a film of the Parsons' vacation in Florida. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Rebekah Lodges Will Aid Storm Victims

At their respective meetings Tuesday evening, members of the Rebekah Lodges voted to help victims of Hurricane Carla.

JOHN A. KEE An anniversary program was presented Tuesday evening to members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge, honoring Schuyler Colfax who in 1851 founded the Rebekah Degree. Mrs. O. G. Burns gave the Biblical meaning and Mrs. Leon Cole, the historical background of the degree. "The Anniversary Song" was played by Mrs. Charlie Boland who also played her own accompaniment as she sang "Not One Forgotten."

During the business session Mrs. Horace Smith reported on a cosmetic party from which the lodge netted more than $40. Mrs. Laverne Rogers gave an attendance prize to the lodge and the ways and means committee submitted plans for a chili supper. A gift of $25 from the silver drill will be used for relief to victim of Hurricane Carla. Also clothing, bedding, linens, etc., were contributed for use in the disaster area.

Mrs. Letha Massie, lodge deputy, announced a school of instruction to be held Tuesday night. Members were asked to submit questions for discussion. Thirty-six members and a guest, Mrs. Joe Benefield of Big Spring Rebekahs, were present.

BIG SPRING LODGE Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284, meeting Tuesday night in Odd Fellows Hall, in response to a letter from the state president, Elfrida Schreiber, voted to bring clothing and linen to a meeting Tuesday night, when a box will be prepared for the disaster area. Members also agreed to make a "love" offering for the cause.

The lodge charter was draped in memory of a deceased member, Mrs. W. A. Majors. Thirty-two members were in attendance and Mrs. Minnie Unger was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Hyre Is Speaker

Volunteer work at the Big Spring State Hospital was discussed at a meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. A. Langley.

Mrs. Lou Hyre of the hospital staff discussed the help that volunteers can give in the sewing room, in the recreation room and by making garments for the patients.

As part of their work this year, the club voted to make terry cloth footlets to be worn by the patients.

Ten members attended with Mrs. Hyre and Mrs. Emmett Grantham of the Knott HD Club as guests.

A devotion was brought by Mrs. Langley, and the group answered roll call with the favorite Bible verse of each.

The next meeting is slated for Oct. 3 in the home of Mrs. L. A. Griffith, 712 Wills.

Junior Tri-Hi-Y Plans Bake Sale

Junior Tri-Hi-Y members, girls of Goliad School eighth grade, held their weekly meeting Monday at the YMCA. Seventeen members and two leaders were present.

Pam Luring, president, presided and plans were made for a bake sale to be held September 30. The program committee discussed plans for the coming school year and an invitation extended to all girls of Goliad School to become participating members of the club.

The group was dismissed by repeating The Lord's Prayer in unison.

Tri-Hi-Y Elects New Officers

Meeting Monday afternoon, the freshmen Tri-Hi-Y of Goliad School elected the following officers:

Anne Howard, president; Suzanne Gentili, vice president; Cheryl Wilbanks, secretary; Karon Casey, treasurer; Brenda Gray, parliamentarian; Nancy Thomas, chaplain; Salema Yanez, reporter; Barbara Campbell, historian; and Sue Knox, song leader.

Plans were made for a cake sale to be held Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Newsom's. Also a hay ride was planned for the following Saturday.

Mrs. Brown Leads Vincent Study

Mrs. Jack Brown was leader for the mission study when members of the Katharine White Circle of the Vincent Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. J. M. Wilson Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Wilson read the prayer calendar and led the opening prayer.

The Sept. 26 meeting will be a Royal Service program at 9 a.m. at the church.

Mrs. Luther Streetman led the closing prayer for the six who attended.

Local Residents Attend Convention

Mrs. Bristow Is Club Speaker

Tips for the flower show were given by Mrs. Gordon Bristow for members of the After Five Garden Club Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Harold Bell.

Mrs. Roy Brooks was cohostess for 18.

The next meeting is set for Oct. 17 in the home of Mrs. Perry Chandler.

MILDRED WEBB

Wedding Date Set By Couple

LAMESA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Otis Webb of Sylvia, Kan., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mildred, to Kenneth Medlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Medlock of Lamesa.

Miss Webb is a graduate of Oklahoma State University and Texas Tech College. She is employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock as area home management specialist. Medlock is engaged in farming in Gaines County. Vows will be exchanged at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 4 in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Ruth Circle Resumes Meetings

Ruth Circle of the First Christian Church resumed meetings Tuesday evening in the church parlor, with seven members reported present. Guests were Mrs. Don Wiley and Mrs. Frank Rice.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Pech Martin, opening the meeting. Mrs. J. C. Thames led a group discussion on plans for a work project during the ensuing year. After a business session, Mrs. Martin presented the subject for Bible study on the Book of Revelation.

Mrs. Rice introduced the "Blessing Box" which will be used for contributions toward mission work. Hostess for the social period was Mrs. Thames.

Grady Granthams Move To Knott

KNOTT (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Grady Grantham and their children have moved to the Knott community where they will make their future home.

Barbara McGregor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McGregor, and Pat Fortune, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Fortune, have registered at Howard County Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owen of Seminole were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roman.

Cotton harvesting is under way in the community and all gins are prepared for handling the ginning.

Lakeview P-TA Meets

Lakeview P-TA held its initial meeting of the school year, last evening at the school with the new president, Mrs. Albert McManus, presiding. A large number were reported present and four new members announced.

The agenda included selection of a banking committee; health and safety committee; committee for year's program; school projects committee.

E. S. Morgan, principal, talked on "The Necessity of Home Room Mothers for the Elementary School" and reported on school enrollment. He stated that a room count would be taken at each meeting. The teacher having the most parents present is to receive a gift for her room. Room count award last night went to Mrs. Essie L. Person.

Plans were announced for an open house to be held upon completion of the new school building.

Guest speakers for the evening were Bo Bowen, the county nurse, and Francis Flint, program director for the YMCA. Miss Bowen talked on "Health and Safety," and "Y Indian Guides" was topic for discussion by Flint.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 3.

Mrs. Bishop Hostess To Church Circle

Mrs. Jake Bishop entertained members of the Mary Zinn Circle, First Methodist Church, Tuesday, in her home.

After prayer by Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. W. A. Laswell, program leader, was in charge. The call to worship was given by Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Laswell, assisted by Mrs. T. G. Adams, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Felton Smith, presented a skit.

Mrs. Mary Gulliams discussed "Buildings in Mission Fields," illustrating with pictures from Brazil and Mexico and Japan. "Membership and Contribution of WSCS and the Guild" was subject for discussion by Mrs. R. L. Warren. Following the talks, three letters were read by Mrs. C. E. Shive, Christian social relations secretary.

The next meeting was announced for Oct. 3, at the home of Mrs. D. F. Bigony, after which Mrs. Bishop served refreshments to 16 members.

Parents Visit In Hapgood Home

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hapgood, 1022 Bluebonnet, have been his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perley Hapgood and a family friend, Bernard Curtis, all of North Stratford, N. H.

The main object of the visit was to meet Cynthia Lou Hapgood, who was born July 24. While the visitors were here, the group toured Carlsbad Caverns.

A Devotional for Today

Now we believe, not because of thy saying; for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world. (John 4:42.)
PRAYER: Dear Lord, we know that Thou canst transform our lives when we surrender our hearts to Thee. We pray that Thou wilt make us good witnesses for telling our friends of Thy love. Help us in all our work for Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.
 (From The 'Upper Room')

Takes More Than One To Hold The Line

Steelmakers apparently have not resolved their dilemma. On the one hand they must increase steelworkers wages by an average of 8 cents an hour on Oct. 1. On the other hand they have received presidential and congressional warnings against the inflationary effect of steel price increases.

Bethlehem, one of the major producers, has refused to commit itself to a "hold-the-line" policy. In a letter to President Kennedy, Bethlehem Chairman Arthur B. Homer warned that "the present squeeze on profit margins has weakened our steel industry's ability to remain sound and to continue progress and serve the nation."

The letter was in answer to one from the President pointing out the danger of inflation through steel price rises.

A number of senators, including Frank Church of Idaho and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, have taken the floor of the Senate to demand that steelmakers hold the line. Those senators have quoted from administration studies which purport to show that the steel industry can absorb the wage increases without price advances and still show comfortable profit margins.

Under pressure from Congress and the administration steelmakers are unlikely to announce general price increases. Instead, they are likely to resort to higher prices for certain grades that are in good demand. The overall profit figure could then be supported to a substantial degree.

Perhaps never before have steelmakers faced such united opposition to price increases. Steel users, as well as Congress and the administration, have been putting pressure on producers to hold the line—the threat of greater use of other materials, such as plastics and aluminum, has been used by some manufacturers.

Certainly no one interested in the economy of the nation can be complacent over the possibility of higher steel prices. Most industries would be directly or indirectly affected by such a move. A new and dangerous inflationary spiral would be the result.

Yet it is not enough just to call upon manufacturers to exercise price restraint. Control of inflation also requires restraint on the part of workers—and on the part of the government. Price control and wage control are essentially indivisible.

FIRST YOU CATCH THE TIGER—

Clear Look At The Problem

The U. S. Census Bureau has come forth with a statistical comparison which shows that the population of Latin America is growing at a faster rate than that of the United States. The report should be viewed with clear perspective.

The Census Bureau figures show that Latin America now has about the same population as the United States and Canada combined, which is close to 200 million, but in a much greater land area. Except for a half dozen small Caribbean and Central American countries, population density in Latin America runs much less than the United States' 49 to the square mile. And Latin America's aggregate annual average population increase, 2.5 per cent, while among the world's highest, is not greatly above the United States' 1.7 per cent.

Admittedly, Latin American population is a long way from outrunning the region's potential land resources, but it must be kept in mind that vast areas are mountains, jungles or coastal lowlands that are cruelly difficult to develop. And far too much of the productive land is held in huge semi-feudal estates indifferently worked.

Furthermore, generally throughout Latin America the population increase is cutting at least in half the impact of rising productivity. And population growth is outrunning the capital available for development of human and natural resources for higher living standards. Finally, regionwide averages tend to veil vast pockets of unrelieved poverty.

A catch phrase like "population explosion" does lend itself to the exaggeration and over simplifying of problems. But the realities it is meant to describe in Latin America are obvious and challenging enough.

K Went And Reversed Things

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guerrillas were used to be fought by having in jungles while diplomacy was the province of well-dressed and solemn gentlemen who discoursed on a high level and issued opaque communiqués.

Then the Russians, as usual, had to come along and spoil things. Now Premier Khrushchev is using guerrilla tactics for diplomacy and diplomacy for guerrilla tactics.

It's simple, too. Guerrillas hit and run, do some damage, bewilder the opposition which does not know what to expect next, disappear for a while, and strike again somewhere else.

For instance: in the midst of all his rumpus about Berlin—perhaps because of it—in the past few months he has given three distinguished and widely read American newspapermen lengthy, separate interviews.

They reported what he said in great detail, and much length. So he reached millions of Americans repeatedly with his views on a host of issues.

It seems that almost daily—this is an exaggeration, but not much—he has something to say on war, peace, disarmament, or nuclear testing.

ALL OF THIS not only gets duly reported over the air and in the press of America but in Western Europe and around the world. In short, he has made out news with whatever tactic he wanted to use for months.

By contrast the Western leaders have seemed hush-mouthed. President Kennedy, for instance, could but didn't make broad use of TV to talk to the people. He falls far short of making maximum use of other news media either to answer Khrushchev or turn the tables on him by putting him on the defensive.

What Khrushchev has been doing apparently finally sank in on the Kennedy administration. Last week the White House revealed Kennedy has set up a group of advisers on psychological and political warfare. It has met eight times.

The most recent example of how Khrushchev is by day tries to keep the West guessing and off balance came Tuesday at the United Nations when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked to reporters.

RUSSIA HAS long insisted that U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld—killed this week in a plane crash—should be replaced by three secretaries-general, one of whom would represent the Communist world and could veto anything the other two wanted to do in any emergency anywhere around the world.

This would in effect paralyze the United Nations. Gromyko repeated the Russian demand for three secretaries. But now he managed to couple this with another old Soviet demand that Red China be admitted to the United Nations.

If Russia sticks to this, it will turn this U. N. session into chaos.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

No one has counted the number of left-handed people in the world, but they may number 200 million. The chances against having a southpaw child in the United States are estimated at about 24 to 1.

Ever worry about being struck by a falling meteorite? You are more likely to be hit by a falling airplane. Scientists estimate at least 75 million meteoric particles enter the earth's atmosphere every day, all but one or two of which are burned up before reaching the ground.

We take handkerchiefs for granted now, but once they were an ornament worn only by the wealthy. The penalty for stealing a handkerchief in Elizabethan England was nothing to be sneezed at—it was death.

The first "air mail" was carried by homing pigeons. Egyptians and Persians used racing pigeons to deliver messages more than 3,000 years ago.

The nation's motor vehicle owners now pay gasoline taxes at the rate of $182 a second.

If your pet pooch is missing at mealtime in San Francisco, you can dial L-O-S-T: D-O-G on your telephone and listen to recorded descriptions of missing dogs brought to the ASPCA.

Can you name a U. S. president who was taught to write by his wife? He was Andrew Johnson, who never went to school. Eliza McCord, whom he later married, taught him when he was about 17.

You and your wife probably have 32 teeth each — or did! But it's different in the horse family. The horse has 40 teeth, the mare usually has only 36.

The last words of Henri Toulouse-Lautrec, were "The old fool!" They were addressed to his father. As the famous painter lay dying, his eccentric, heedless parent was busy himself shooting owls from a tower.

In the century before the World War I erupted, between 30 and 40 million people from Europe left what they had behind to come here to find something else. What are those of us here now looking for?

The white donkey in Saudi Arabia, known for its sturdiness, can tote for long distances loads equal to its own weight. Many an American father, worrying about how to finance two kids through four years of college, would regard the animal as an amateur.

It was Mark Twain who observed, "The only way to keep your health is to eat what you don't want, drink what you don't like, and do what you'd rather not."

Check The Arches In Bunion Cases

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Mrs. M. S., obviously a bright woman, has eliminated the usual answers. She wears shoes in which she likes to walk. Rounded toes, walking heels. I shortened her letter, but she's 115 pounds and five feet, six, and that certainly isn't obese! She has short-circuited all my ready answers which ordinarily fit such a case.

So what else can cause bunions? Well, they don't result without a cause. People who go barefoot all their lives (not a bad idea, at that, if it weren't for hard sidewalks and cold weather!) don't have bunions. Irritation from continued pressure is the cause.

I have but one answer in this case (unless, perchance, and I doubt it is in the fact, she wears shoes that are too small despite being of rounded toe and sensible heel).

You can with good reason, call bunions "bursitis of the big toe." One way or another there is irritation (pressure, that is) at this point. The joint thickens and becomes deformed. An enlarged bursa, or fluid sac, forms.

Now, the usual causes of bunions are being overweight (putting too much pressure on the important big toe), or wearing shoes that are too short, or too tight, or too narrow, or of a shape that doesn't fit and thus puts excess pressure on that part of the foot.

Correct the pressure which is causing the bunions to grow.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes long raised ridges in the finger-nails? — R. M. P."

Usually some defect in the growth zone of the nail bed—where the nail is formed. Often this may be the result of some minor injury in manicuring. Ridging occurs as we grow older.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My problem is a rash. It starts at the hair-line and spreads over my face and neck. It lasts for a couple of weeks. It always reappears again. I am very nervous when I have it. —Miss T. C."

A rash that recurs leads one to suspect an allergy to some preparation—material used in waving, or setting a wave, or something in a shampoo. Watch to see whether there is some such connection.

For another thing, the nervousness may have a bearing, suggesting a neurodermatitis, or skin condition which is touched off by periods of nerves or being upset. (Of course, it also raises the question of which comes first, the nerves or the rash? Do nerves trigger the rash? This is possible. Or does the rash upset the nerves?)

Around The Rim

Whatever Have They Done To My Post?

When it comes to my Saturday Evening Post, I feel sort of like my sister-in-law after her operation. She looked like death warmed over when we asked her how she was getting along.

"They tell me," she said with complete detachment, "that I'm doing better."

They tell me that the Sat'VePost with its new look is bigger, brighter and better than ever. That's what they tell me, but I have a smelking suspicion that they've simply succeeded in messing me up.

NOW I DON'T hold to the thesis that the old formats are necessarily the best. If that were the case our makeup would still be two steps removed from the latest publication of the broadside ballads. Usually, however, changes are accomplished with such gentle transition that you are hardly aware of them.

Maybe the Post experts didn't want it to be gentle. In this, they succeeded admirably, for the change from the old to the new was about as subtle as having a leg amputated.

The new package, we are told, is more readable and more accessible than the old. The reader starts a story and he reads it right through—none of this monkey business of a good start and "please turn to page 78."

HORSEFEATHERS! This didn't even last through the first issue. Right in the middle of the thing, here was this story which jumped right to the rear of the magazine. The second issue under the new format is now out and shows no signs of overcoming the chaos.

New layouts are supposed to make the stories more enticing, the pictures more dramatic and compelling. Few can quarrel with this objective, but the whole aim of layout—whether magazine, newspaper or brochure—is to be attractive, orderly, and easy for the eye to get hold of.

THE REVOLUTIONIZED format of the venerable magazine looks like all these young staffers, about whom the editors boasted so freely, were turned loose to experiment with all the elements of design except the most compelling of all—simplicity.

Perhaps I could forgive them for stacking ads up front until I despair of reaching article No. 1. I could even overlook shoving the editorials right back to the rear (does memory serve me correctly that the old Collier's did this very thing?) I could calm my queasiness at seeing the hideous messes of ugly black type on cluttered tint blocks, a la McCalls.

BUT WHEN THEY go to ripping those cartoon panels out of page after page of the rear section of the Post and jamming them together like so much salami between the Postscript section, that's going too far. These little brighteners used to be an oasis amidst a desert of reading—funny and with a sense of timing. Now they're stuck right together as if to see which is the funniest. You want to know something? None of them are. They seem in sort of flat competition.

Maybe I'll get used to the new Post, but by thunder I won't like it.

—JOE PICKLE

Another Look At Aid-To-Education

President Kennedy and his Administration really have no one but themselves to blame for the failure of Congress to pass the prime Federal aid-to-education measure designed to bolster the New Frontier.

The more I ponder the original bill, the more I realize that the Kennedy Administration tackled the problem wrong-end-to. The original bill would have appropriated a hefty sum (1) to help communities with the actual construction of new and improved schools and (2) raise teachers' salaries.

CONGRESSMEN, like the public, showed a bored apathy toward those two goals. In my experience, everyone wants better schools and teachers paid at least as much as truck drivers. But at that point the situation takes on the complexion of Mark Twain's experience with the weather: lots of talk and no action. It would surely be nice to have better schools and more pay for teachers, if only George would do it.

Congress caught its boredom and apathy from the public, and — in the absence of a George to do it — is about to go home and start mending fences.

WHAT WAS WRONG with the Administration bill was its lack of oomph and grass-roots appeal. The President, coming out of Harvard, where football is strictly for amateurs, didn't have the cunning to frame an aid-to-education bill that would have charmed the public and legislators, too.

For a sure-fire aid-to-education bill, the President need only have proposed a multibillion-dollar measure for the construction of much bigger and better all-weather stadiums and gymnasiums, coupled with a proviso to increase the purchase price and monthly pay of gifted muscle men or athletes, as well as funds to provide ever-scantier costumes for drum majorettes.

SUCH A BILL would doubtless have passed by acclamation in both House and Senate. It is in these three areas that aid to public education is best understood and the need appreciated.

Every citizen can appreciate the fact that it is undemocratic to expect rich alumni to continue to fork out the cash for football and basketball players to beef up the respective squads of a variety of dear old alma maters. We all ought to be willing to assume some of this burden. What is more equitable than equal taxation to buy a good backfield for old St. Swish or provide it with a 100,000-seat stadium?

ALL OF THIS loose talk about the need of scientists in the future and the necessity of modern laboratories is corny if not downright subversive when it is a well-known fact that what schools on all levels need are better athletic fields, more expensive athletes to stock them, and a babble of drum majorettes in bikinis to raise school spirit.

After all, teachers are used to being underpaid. They can always go into some other kind of work, can't they? And who needs better laboratories if the stadium is full on Saturday afternoon? The Administration simply misjudged where the actual need for Federal subsidy to education lies. Let it ask for money for more and better quarterbacks and it shall be given.

Holmes Alexander

Sees The GOP Moving South

Holmes Alexander has left on a brief European vacation. During his absence a number of prominent and interesting guests will contribute columns.

By REP. WILLIAM C. CRAMER (R) (Florida, First District)

WASHINGTON—Republicanism in the 12 states of the South today is a dynamic force. After nearly a century of token opposition, the Republican party today is undergoing a resurgence in the South, which is stimulating an all-out effort in selected Congressional races during 1962.

A ground-swell of opposition to the welfare-state New Frontier is growing—and it is becoming clear that only the Republican control of the House can stop the barrels of big spending with expanding Federal control.

RATHER THAN scattering their fire, Republicans are selecting "target" districts wherever the soft underbelly of Democratic dissent has shown itself in Dixie.

Chief targets will be in Florida and Texas but other states also will come in for close attention. In the Sunshine State, four new Congressional Districts will give Republicans an opportunity to pick up two seats in mid- and Southern coastal areas of Florida to add to the one now held in Texas, the GOP is accelerating the momentum generated by the stunning victory of Sen. John Tower, and now has its eye on two additional Congressional seats to add to that held by Bruce Alger. Republicans already have a strong candidate for this November's election to pick a successor to Democratic Congressman Kilday, who is resigning to accept a judgeship.

OTHER KEY areas will include North Carolina, where Republicans hope to re-elect Charlie Jonas of Charlotte and to pick up two more seats in an at-large free-for-all. Chances are considered excellent to add to the two-man GOP Congressional delegation from the State of Virginia.

In South Carolina, the election of Charles Boineau to the State legislature as the first GOP member since Reconstruction days and the fact that the state was nearly carried by Richard Nixon in 1960, is encouraging strong GOP efforts to seize a Congressional seat there.

Tennessee's two-man GOP Congressional delegation also would be increased in the 1962 campaign. In another border state, Kentucky, the spirited campaign expected between Sen. Thurston B. Morton and Lieutenant Governor Wilson Wyatt, will add Republican enthusiasm to the northern portions of these states.

Republican optimism is not built on a Pollyanna complex. President Eisenhower, in 1952 and 1956, showed that Southern voters will vote for Republicans. Vice President Nixon received 48 per cent of the Southwide vote in 1960.

DISENCHANTMENT with the Democratic Administration is running high in the South. The recent local election successes of Republicans indicate that the South sees through the New Frontier termination to brush off Southern influence and its opposition to long-held Southern beliefs.

Republicans are going about their Southern assault with cool, vigorous and effective methods. Emphasis is put on local organizations, selection of candidates, careful development of issues and considerable help from the national level.

THIS GOP ground-swell is reflected in the number of Republicans who are standing for office at every level in the South, in financial contributions, and in requests for information and responsibility in conducting future campaigns.

Republicans hold no illusions that the South will suddenly turn from a century of blind devotion to a party which nationally opposes Southern principle. But, the Kennedy Administration, with its big spending Federal control programs, indiscriminate foreign policy, cavalier treatment of the South and its Congressmen and customs is generating opposition among Southerners. On the other hand, we find enthusiasm among Southern Republicans and unprecedented hopes in the high command at Republican Party Headquarters in Washington.

PARTY LEADERS recognize the increased desire for two-party competition, which means Republican growth in the South. They have—for the first time in history—scheduled two major party meetings in Dixie. In Atlanta, in November, a regional conference of the party is planned. In addition, a "Southern Belles" women's meeting, also in November, will be held at an as-yet undesignated location.

To Be Presented At The Municipal Auditorium

GRANT JOHANNSEN

"One of the first pianists of the world." This the way Robert Casadesu regards Grant Johannsen, and everywhere critics have concurred in this appraisal. Johannsen's name has become a household word through his many appearances on the Telephone Hour telecasts. Last summer he made his first trip to Australia and on the way back appeared in Calcutta, Bombay, and with the Oslo and Liverpool symphonies. He also was rushed to Hawaii as guest artist with the Honolulu Symphony. "A major pianist . . . Mature mind and mature feelings . . . Truly great musical exponent . . . Tremendous technique, the nerves of a Heifetz, total musical assurance . . ." say the critics of Grant Johannsen.

MUSIC MAN

Kermit Bloomgarden, who produced Meredith Willson's "The Music Man" on Broadway, has put together an entirely new company with a nucleus of veterans from the Broadway engagement, as well as fresh scenery and costumes.

From the time the curtain went up on the first show in December, 1957, there was no doubt that "The Music Man" was one of the all-time greats among the musicals. Theatre-goers went away beating the tempo of "Seventy-Six Trombones," singing the catchy "Goodnight My Someone" and "Til There Was You," "Lida Rose" and a dozen other infectious numbers created by Willson. It's bright and gay, fresh and wholesome — a show to delight the whole family.

The company, in addition to 60 actors, singers and dancers, also will carry a dozen musicians, plus a staff of other aides.

FRED WARING

Fred Waring drew a capacity house — much of it standing room — here two years ago, and ever since then there has been a big demand for his return.

This year, with a brand new show, "Let Freedom Sing," Waring and his Pennsylvanians will be back to quicken pride in the heritage of this country.

This is the story of the nation from Columbus to Lincoln, with music integrated with narration of the most eloquent spokesmen of their times — Bryant, Emerson, Whittier, Longfellow and others.

With this, Waring has set a new standard in the use of advanced stage production techniques, lighting and stereophonic sound, massive sets, dazzling costumes.

RICHARD ELLSASSER

Somebody different and exciting is Richard Ellsasser. An organist with few peers, he is noted for his virtuosity and keen sense of the dramatic, brilliant musicianship and impeccable taste. He is heard annually in concert by over 200,000 people and by countless thousands more through radio and television, and also by motion pictures and recordings. His MGM and RCA long-playing albums are the top selling organ recordings of the world. His range is from the pops to monumental works of Bach. Small wonder that Richard Ellsasser, playing on an instrument valued at many thousands of dollars, has been called the "Paganini of the Concert Organ."

Webb Flier Joins Former Classmate In Space Test

First Lt. Melvin E. Pollard, jet flying instructor in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, was launched Tuesday in a 17-day space cabin simulator flight at Brook Aerospace Medical Center, San Antonio. Pollard, who is a member of Jaguar Flight at Webb instructing in T-33's, was selected several weeks ago by a visiting team from the Brook Medical Center which screened candidates for this flight.

In volunteering, Lt. Pollard said "I want to further my knowledge and would some day like to pilot a space craft."

Lt. Pollard is a native Texan. He attended Odessa High School from 1952-55. Following his Odessa schooling, he was selected as a member of the first class to go through the Air Force Academy, graduating in 1959.

After his graduation from the Academy, he went immediately into pilot training, taking his primary training at Graham AB, Marriana, Fla. He entered basic training at Webb in February, 1960 and completed training in July, 1960. After receiving his wings, he was selected to be an instructor pilot at Webb, where he has remained on duty until now.

Lt. and Mrs. Pollard live at 1501-B Sycamore.

Experiment Is For Purposes Of Comparison

BROOKS AEROSPACE MEDICAL CENTER—Two members of the first class to graduate from the Air Force Academy Monday began at 17-day test in the School of Aerospace Medicine Space Simulator at Brooks AFB, Texas. The men, both jet pilots, are 1st Lt. Melvin E. Pollard, 23, Odessa, and 1st Lt. Craig V. Miller, 24, Humboldt, Iowa. They are the youngest men ever to serve as subjects in the "space cabin."

This test differs from the three which preceded it in that cabin air pressure and atmosphere are the same as at sea level. In all other respects — isolation, diet, workload — it is the same as the others.

Purpose of the current test is to give SAM space scientists a comparison to use in determining the effects on previous subjects of prolonged exposure to extreme altitude and almost pure oxygen.

In the other 17-day runs subjects were maintained at a simulated altitude of 33,000 feet and breathed almost pure oxygen with traces of nitrogen and other gases. (Sea level air is only 21 per cent oxygen with 79 per cent nitrogen and small quantities of carbon dioxide and other gases).

Pollard and Miller will live on dehydrated foods and recycled body water throughout the test. They will man the cabin simulated flight control panel 20 hours a day in shifts of varying length. During the other four hours they will perform medical tests on themselves. They will be under constant surveillance by TV cameras within their cramped 8x12 foot world, and will be able to communicate with the outside world just six minutes out of every 90.

Dr. Billy E. Welch, Chief Space Ecology Branch, Department of Space Medicine, described the current test as one in a series designed to learn more about man's reaction to various types of space cabin environment. Before this series two runs of 30 days length and one of 12 days were successfully completed.

Lt. Pollard is a T-33 jet instructor pilot at Webb AFB, Texas. Since graduating from the Air Force Academy in 1959, he has compiled 800 flying hours of which 560 were in jet aircraft. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pollard, Quannah, Texas. He is married to the former Louise Kelley of Alvarado, Texas.

Lt. Miller is assigned to Perrin AFB, Texas, as an instrument instructor pilot in T-33 jets. Since graduating from the Air Force Academy with Lt. Pollard in 1959, he has flown 750 hours, 550 in jets. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller, and is married to the former Sandy Becker of Holsington, Kansas.

Explorers Hunt For More Bottles

Explorer Post No. 1 will meet again at the post at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and will begin their collection of bottles at 9 a.m. in the Park Hill school area and work east.

The boys have worked two Saturdays on their collections and have made a good start on raising money for their European trip next summer.

Committeemen Named For Five Communities

Community committeemen and alternates for the five communities in Howard County have been elected. It was announced by Gabe Hammack, office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization committee.

Ballots which have been cast in the past two weeks by farmers, landowners and other eligible voters, were counted Tuesday. Hammack said that 302 votes were cast—about 32 per cent of the potential number which could have been cast. He considered the total vote satisfactory.

The elections in most of the communities were close and in a number of cases, ties had to be settled by casting lots.

The new committeemen take office Oct. 1.

The newly elected committeemen are:

Community Committee A: Donald Alired, Knott, chairman; Paul Adams, Ackery, vice chairman; Fred Roman, Knott, member; Robert A. Merrick, Ackery, first alternate and Ralph Proctor, Vealmoor, second alternate.

Community Committee B: A. M. Anderson, Gail Route, chairman; Jack Buchanan, Gail Route, vice chairman; James C. Barr, Vincent Route, member; Neil D. Spencer, Gail Route, first alternate; Henry Moates, Gail Route, second alternate.

Community Committee C: C. A. Nichols, Route 1, chairman; W. J. Rogers, Route 1, vice chairman; Jeff Grant, Route 1, member; Landon Burchell, first alternate; W. C. Fryar, second alternate.

Community Committee D: R. E. Hane, Route 1, chairman; J. L. Baugh, Route 1, vice chairman; Lloyd B. Murphy, Route 1, member; Frank Loveless, Coahoma, first alternate; Jerald Walker, Route 1, second alternate.

Community Committee E: Cecil Long, Rt. 2, chairman; Roy Bates, Route 2, vice chairman; Neil Fryar, Route 1, member; L. N. Davis, Coahoma, first alternate; Louis Rosser, Route 2, second alternate.

54 Enroll In Special Classes

Two extension courses being offered by the Big Spring Independent School District attracted 54 students at registration Monday, according to Sam M. Anderson, superintendent.

The courses are on a graduate level. Teaching Mathematics in Elementary Schools had an enrollment of 37 while an evaluative course in Tests and Measurements had 17.

Final opportunity to register will be Monday at 5 p.m., on the first day of classes. Students are not limited to teachers, Anderson said. Anyone wishing to enroll may do so. Undergraduates must first receive approval by the instructor and cannot claim graduate credit for the courses.

Dr. Olive Wheeler and Dr. Burdette Fallon, both from Texas Tech, will be the instructors. The classes are sponsored by Texas Tech.

Classes begin Monday at 5 p.m. and will last until 8:30 p.m. They will continue through Jan. 15, 1962.

A third course, Psychodiagnostic Techniques, will also be offered with enrollment and class dates to be determined later. It will be offered at the Big Spring State Hospital with Dr. Paul C. Young instructing.

Rites Set For J. A. Johnson

COLORADO CITY (SC)—John Allen Johnson Jr., 55, Colorado City oilfield worker, died Sunday afternoon from a heart attack suffered while working southwest of Snyder on the Huddleston ranch. Johnson was born Feb. 18, 1906, in Missouri, but had lived in Colorado City since 1923. He was a member of the Baptist Church and had married Ruth Skelton in Westbrook in 1934.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. from the St. Luke Methodist Church, with the Rev. Weldon Rives, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. David Crow, Silver, and the Rev. Clinton Eastman, Andrews. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. A. Johnson Sr., Colorado City; his widow; four sons, Walter, Stanton; J. A. Johnson III, San Angelo; and Larry and Harry, both of Colorado City; three daughters, Mrs. E. M. Daugherty, Colorado Springs, Colo., Mrs. Hollis Gainey, Ayer, Mass., and Jane Johnson, Houston; a brother, A. A. Johnson, Houston; a sister, Mrs. O. A. Fortner, Anahuac, Texas; and four grandchildren.

Aiken Slaps Federal Aid

COLORADO CITY (SC)—State Sen. A. M. Aiken of Paris, speaking at a Chamber of Commerce sponsored Teacher Appreciation banquet in Colorado City Tuesday drew applause from the 300 teachers and Chamber members when he said:

"I don't want any part of federal aid to education—now or later—in this state. It's not that I've got anything against the federal government or that I'm scared of em—I just don't want the federal government running our schools."

Aiken was the guest speaker at the Civic House banquet honoring 79 teachers and other school personnel in Colorado City's five schools.

Project Reports Good Response

At a meeting of the "Money-Tree" project managers in Wing Headquarters Tuesday morning, Chief Warrant Officer Joe Brown read a report showing that 46 "acorns" had been planted at Webb AFB since the beginning of the project two weeks ago.

Col. A. F. Taute, who presided at the meeting, was pleased with the report, but he said, "We can be a bit that." Col. Taute stressed the fact that the money-tree project was designed to save money, or time.

Acorns, it was explained by Warrant Officer Brown, are nothing but a suggestion as to how money might be saved during the operation of a activity.

The money-tree project is Air Force wide, and is expected to result in an annual savings to the Air Force of thousands of dollars, and many man-hours in labor.

"Don't let any regulation bluff you; if your suggestion is worth it, a regulation can be changed," Taute said.

Mrs. Luceford Hurt In Wreck

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Lloyd Luceford, 25, of Colorado City is hospitalized in the Root Memorial Hospital following an automobile accident at 19th and Austin Tuesday morning.

Hospital employees said this morning that she is still under observation.

Two children, accompanying Mrs. Luceford, Shirley Baker, 5, and Linda Luceford, 10 months, were given examinations and released.

Police said that the driver of the second vehicle, Harold Howard, Artesia, N. M., was driving a floral truck owned by H. B. Burgett, Artesia. He was reported uninjured.

Judge Opposes Making Payment

LAMESA (SC)—The Dawson County Commissioner's Court Tuesday overruled Judge R. F. Spraberry in approving payment of an estimate on the county library, now under construction.

The payment question arose last week, but commissioners bypassed the issue when the judge voiced an objection. Spraberry outlined several items in the construction which he termed unsatisfactory.

The judge suggested that the court get a qualified person to check the construction of the library, but the commissioners expressed confidence in the architect — Howard Allen — who is also supervising the work.

On a vote, the bill was ordered paid 4-1 with Spraberry recording the only dissenting vote.

New Type Nuclear Bomb Speculated

TOKYO (AP)—A university professor in Niigata, 100 miles northwest of Tokyo, said today the Soviet Union may have detonated a new type of nuclear bomb in its current test series.

Prof. Seitaro Koyama of the science faculty said the presumption is based on the fact that uranium 238, found in nuclear bombs before, was not detected in "hot" rain that fell over Niigata last weekend, the newspaper Yomiuri reported.

Correction

Mrs. M. O. Griffith led the study for the Crossview Baptist WMS study at their meeting Monday at the church. It was previously reported that the study was given for the Hillcrest Baptist WMS.

Stranger Stops To Kill Snake

A four-foot rattler had his rattlers stilled Tuesday at the intersection of Second and Bell, according to Lee Herndon.

As the snake slithered across the street, a stranger driving past stopped his car and crossed the street to Jones and Laughlin Supply Co. to borrow a hoe. He calmly chopped its head off.

"I did not find out who he was," Herndon said. "He just got back into his car and drove away."

The head of the snake was buried to keep inquisitive children from hurting themselves accidentally, he said.

Mrs. McKenney Dies Tuesday

COLORADO CITY—Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday for Mrs. Walter E. McKenney, 83, who died at the Root Memorial Hospital Tuesday night after an extended illness.

She was born May 28, 1878 at Mt. Hilliard, Ala., and moved to Mitchell County in 1902. She married Walter E. McKenney in the Dorn community June 5, 1905.

Mr. McKenney preceded her in death in 1952.

Services will be held at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Harris Egger, pastor, officiating. Burial will be at the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Ends Meeting
 CAIRO (AP)—The Arab League Council meeting ended a five-day session Tuesday reiterating support for the Algerian nationalists against France.
 A council resolution also supported the policies of the Algerian rebel regime aiming at achieving "legitimate goals of self determination, independence and the unity and sovereignty of Algerians over their territory."

Coin Operated Dry Cleaning Center Opens

Coin-operated dry cleaning, last word in self-service convenience, opens Thursday at 11th Place Automatic Laundry. It was announced today by Gene Nabors, owner. This new coin-operated dry cleaning center is located at 11th Place and Johnson Street.
 "For practically pennies, homemakers now have at their disposal several thousands of dollars worth of the most modern, efficient laundry and dry cleaning appliances made," Nabors pointed out.

Nabors has selected the latest B-W, by Norge, automatic coin-operated dry cleaners and he has had installed eight of these machines in order to provide fast service with a minimum of waiting for his customers.

"Coin-operated dry cleaning is a revolutionary new appliance which gives you color-bright, wrinkle-free dry cleaning for one-fourth what you'd pay a regular dry cleaner," he added.

To introduce his new machines, Nabors is holding a grand opening event on Thursday and Friday with special introductory of one-half price on the first cleaner load of eight pounds per family.

Art Club Lays Education Plans

The initial meeting of Les Artistes Art Club was held in the Police Building where members began discussion on work and goals for the year.

The group, directed by Leonard Ware, president, adopted plans for intensive art education programs at future meetings. Different types of painting expression will be explored by means of lectures, slides, films and illustrations.

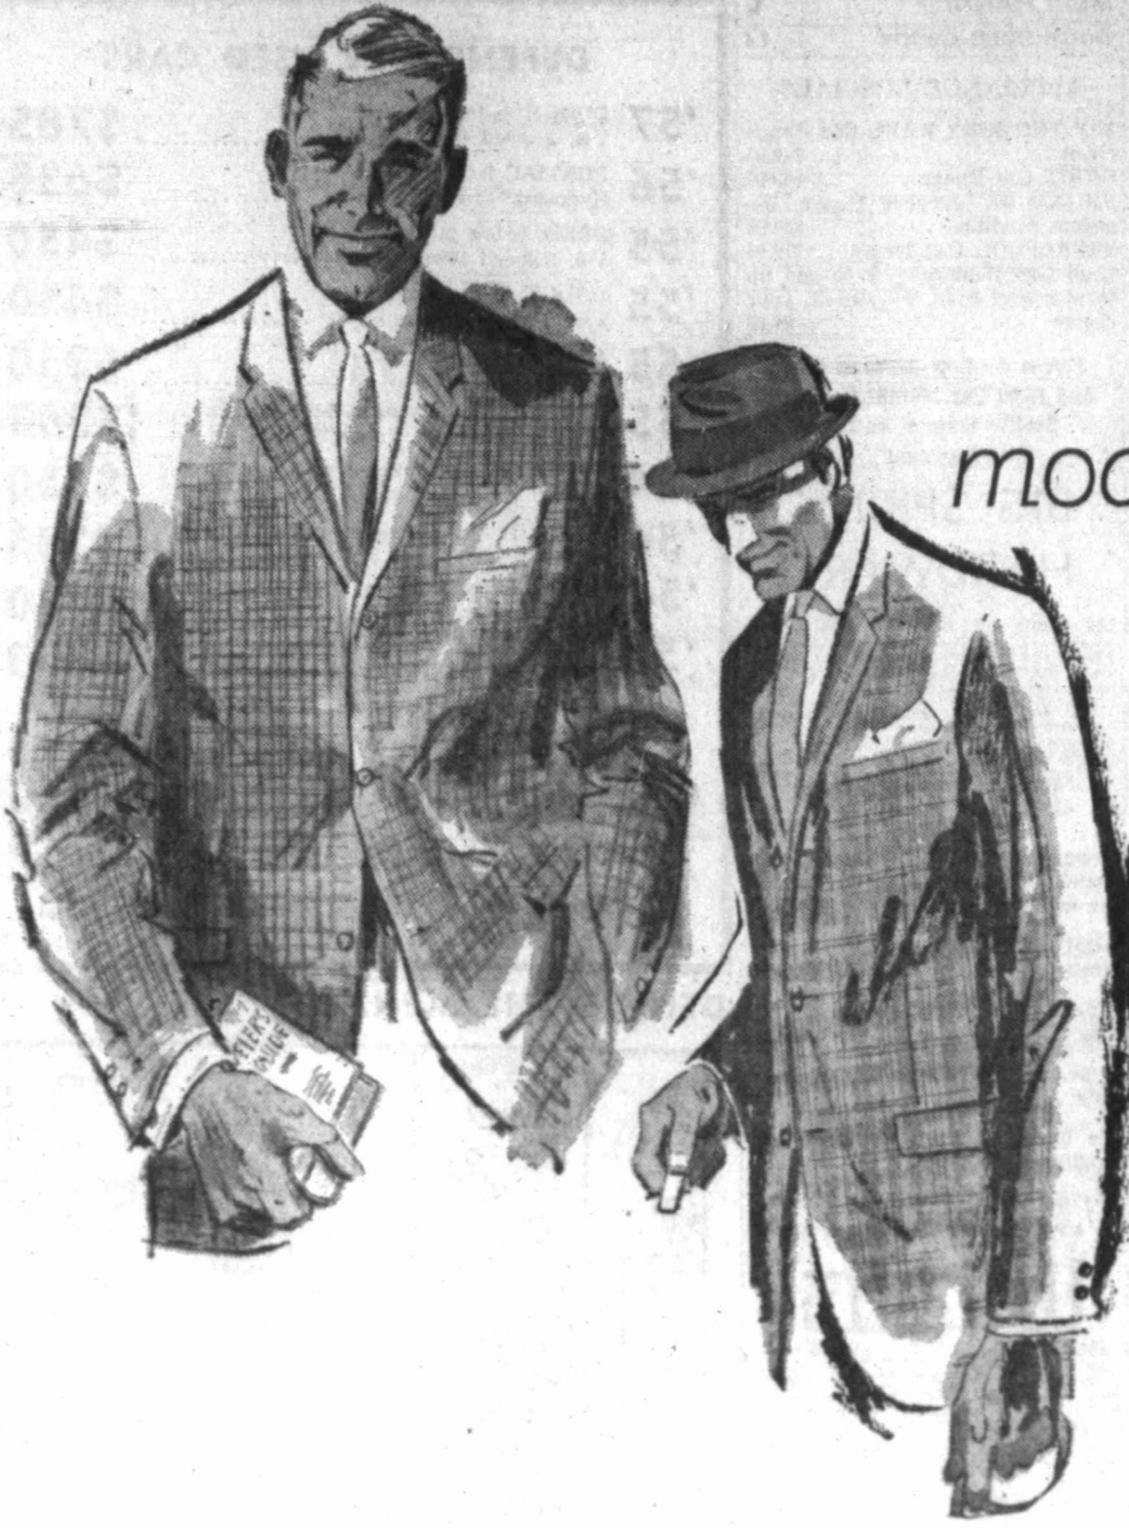

A special called meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 3, at the home of Mrs. Bill Unger, 2411 Morrison Dr., for election of officers.

 By Bob Smith
 The variety show staged last weekend by the Academy of Fine Arts showed what can be done with small town talent. Proof was in a couple of little girl acts, a type which usually leaves this critic yawning — but the tiny tots reflected through training, and, most important, were kept away from the "cute" acts so beloved of spinsters and melting hearts.
 One of the highlights was baton twirling by Rhonda Parker, of all the Academy's studios in Odessa, Crane, McCamey and Big Spring. Most, as might be expected, showed no particular talent such as might auger a great career in the arts (these talents are rare, indeed), but all carried themselves with the grace and ease which result from proper dance training.

March 15; "Othello," U.S. April 19; and "Nana," France, May 17.
 The film club also is sponsoring a children's theatre, with eleven films, all classics. Show times will alternate Saturdays at 10 a.m. in ECJC auditorium, with prices at two dollars per season ticket.
 Membership will be limited to 300, and according to co-director Mrs. Connie Wade, the lists are closing fast. Mrs. Wade also points out that all first and second graders must be accompanied by an adult or an older brother or sister.
 Members of the film club will be admitted on their cards, but other parents wishing to attend the movies must purchase a children's ticket.
 Tickets may be obtained by mail from Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wade, 1751 Purdue; Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Brooke, 700 Dallas; or Col. and Mrs. Leonard Einstein, 2 Albrook, Webb Village.
 Included on the children's program will be "The Living Desert," Oct. 7; "Edison, the Man," Oct. 21; "National Velvet," Nov. 4; "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," Nov. 18; "Melody Time," Dec. 2; "Captains Courageous," Jan. 6; "State Fair," Jan. 27; "Madame Curie," Feb. 10; "The Yearling," Feb. 24; "Captain Horatio Hornblower," March 10; and "The Story of Alexander Graham Bell," March 24.

And speaking of culture, the Big Spring Film Club launches its season of eight foreign movies Thursday. Other selections have been described in this column previously, leaving only the last on the series.
 This one is "Nana," a French import which will show May 17. Nana was the dissolute, greedy, treacherous but always charming Parisienne who blazed through the half-world of the Second Empire. Martine Carol is enchanting and ruthless, as she flits from one benefactor to another in the stage fraternity or the corrupt court of Napoleon III. In a word — decadent, but irresistible. Charles Boyer co-stars.
 The short feature will be "Toussaint Louverture," which won first prize in the 1962 Cleveland Film Festival. At the time, critical comment included this:
 "A comprehensive film — lively and informative, it draws on photographs, paintings, drawings and etchings, plus scenes from Paris streets and cafes, to recapture Louverture's special world. Louverture's own works are used to people that world with his own particular vision of Paris at the turn of the century. The color is exceptionally good. The film avoids sentimentality and sensationalism."
 All films will be shown the third Thursday of each month, beginning promptly at 8 p.m., in the Howard County Junior College auditorium. Admission will be by season ticket only, and these may be purchased by mail from The Big Spring Film Club, Inc., 2300 Morrison, Big Spring, Texas. Ticket prices are five dollars each.
 The season includes "The Golden Demon," Japan, Sept. 21; "Our Man in Havana," Britain, Oct. 19; Package A, selected art films, Nov. 16; "Please! Mr. Balzac," France, Jan. 18; "No More Fleeing," Germany, Feb. 15; "One Summer of Happiness," Sweden,
