No One Yet On Jury In Myers Trial

The jury box in the 118th District Court room remained empty at 12:30 p.m. today when court recessed for lunch. There was a mounting impression in the court house that the probability of a jury to try John Edwin Myers, 33, for murder, can be obtained in this county. Only 10 of the special veniremen have been examined so far but the tenor of answers which these individuals have offered, bolstered the belief there was very little chance that 12 satisfactory jurors could be found.

Wednesday's session dragged even slower than the session on Tuesday afternoon. Only two veniremen were examined from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Both of these were excused—one on preemptory challenge by the defense and the other for cause.

Shortly before noon, the court recessed and the judge and the counsel for the state and for the defense met in lengthy conference behind closed doors. There were reports circulated the subject being discussed was the advisability of a change of venue being ordered in the case. However, when Judge Caton returned to the bench at 12:15 p.m., he merely announced that court would resume at 1:30 p.m. and that all veniremen should be on hand at that time.

The court was late starting on Wednesday and the first venireman was Lee E. Young, 30-year-old Corden employee. After a lengthy examination by state and defense, Gil Jones, district attorney, announced: "The state accepts this juror."

Warren Burnett, chief defense counsel, then had to exercise the first of the defense allotment of 15 preemptory challenges to keep Young from becoming the first man to take a seat in the jury box. The state has not as yet made use of any of its quota of challenges.

The second venireman was R. L. Myrick, civil service worker at Webb AFB. He was subjected to nearly 40 minutes grilling by the state and defense and finally excused because he indicated he had a bias toward the law which permits a penalty as low as two years in prison for proven murder with malice.

Bickering between Burnett and Jones over the tenor of the questions being asked frequently developed. The final clash before the noon recess was a demand by Burnett that all veniremen be called back into court and ordered to read no newspaper accounts, hear no radio or television reports nor engage in any discussion of the case with anyone until they have been excused from further service in the court.

Judge Caton said he would call in the remnant of the morning allotment of veniremen still in the building and so instruct them but that he did not intend to call back the 45 who had been instructed to report on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday.

The recess was then taken to permit the judge and the defense attorneys to confer. Later, Judge Caton went to the office of the district attorney, for another meeting with Jones and County Atty. Wayne Burns.

Myers, under indictment for murder with malice in the Sept. 7 slaying of Arthur Lee KeKraal, itinerant Iowa plumber, sat bored through the morning session. He was wearing a light green sport shirt and a pair of faded blue jeans. He has complained, it was said,

Duel On Points Of Law

District Attorney Gil Jones makes a point while Defense Attorney Warren Burnett listens during the proceedings this morning in 118th District Court. Beginning of the trial proper appeared several days away this morning as the defense continued to debate several points concerning selection of prospective jurors. Almost all of the action in the case so far has developed around defense pleas for a mistrial or an order quashing the special venire. It has been a constant debate between Jones and Burnett on fine points of law.

Pneumonia Worsens Rayburn's Condition

Critical Stage For 'Mr. Sam'

DALLAS (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn developed pneumonia during the night, his doctors reported. "He is now considered critical," the physicians said. Rayburn entered Baylor Hospital 10 days ago and his condition was diagnosed as incurable cancer of the lymph system.

The hospital bulletin prepared by Rayburn's doctors said: "Sam Rayburn's immediate condition has grown more serious during the night. He has developed left lobar pneumonia with pleural effusion."

"This diagnosis was made from X-ray examinations completed this morning. Because of this condition, he is now considered critical."

The diagnosis means that Rayburn has pneumonia in his left lung. "Pleural effusion" means that fluid from blood or lymph capillaries are going into the lung area.

His condition changed radically during the night, comparison of the hospital bulletins indicated. Doctors said Tuesday his spirits were good. They also indicated Rayburn had not been told he has cancer.

IN A COMA One source close to Rayburn who would not permit use of his name said the speaker is in a coma. He said Rayburn "is completely out of contact with reality." The morning hospital bulletin made no mention of a coma and other confirmation was lacking.

Tuesday's hospital bulletin said the 79-year-old Rayburn's condition was unchanged and added: "His spirits are good. He has indicated great interest in the newspaper highlights of the President's visit Monday which have been read to him."

Hospital officials did not elaborate, but the final sentence carries at least a hint that by reading only the highlights those near Rayburn are shielding him from the extent of his illness.

The Rev. Baxton Bryant, a Dallas County Democratic leader, called on Rayburn Tuesday, and when he came out he told reporters: "No, Rayburn doesn't know."

While refusing to say why he was sure, the Rev. Mr. Bryant said: "Rayburn still thinks he has lumbago."

NO NEWS For the first time since the cancer diagnosis, no news conferences are planned. Four were held each day at first. These dwindled to two, with John Holton, Rayburn's administrative assistant, and a physician available for questions.

Now hospital officials will issue a couple of bulletins daily on how Rayburn is feeling. He received his third dose of an experimental drug, "5 fluorouracil," Tuesday.

"So far he is showing no ill effects from the treatment," the hospital said. A close friend of Rayburn told the Dallas News that the cancer-stricken veteran legislator appeared much weaker Tuesday.

"You could tell he was way down Tuesday." The source denied reports that Rayburn has been reading newspapers or has been informed of the nature of his illness.

UAW Meets To Consider Double Issues

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' International Executive Board meets tonight with a double mission—to review the Ford Motor Co. negotiations and to consider what to do about the American Motors Corp. contract.

Top-level Ford and UAW negotiators were to resume sessions today on the last two national non-economic issues standing in the way of ending the nine-day-old strike of 120,000 hourly paid Ford workers.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said there is a possibility of an all-night session tonight. The union is driving to get a new contract in time to present it to a scheduled meeting of its Ford Council Thursday afternoon.

The two remaining non-economic national problems at Ford are production standards and a union demand for more company-paid union representatives to handle plant grievances.

Reuther and Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president and company bargaining chief, said both issues were discussed Tuesday but nothing was decided.

Reuther said the executive board meeting will hear reports from UAW regional directors around the country on the progress of local Ford negotiations. The wage package already has been settled.

Another problem facing the board is that of the AMC contract rejection by Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis. The 12,000-member local, AMC's biggest, voted 1,507-1,444 against ratifying the profit-sharing contract. A majority of the locals have approved it.

George Romney, AMC president said the contract is "better than any contract in the industry. I am confident that when the people in Kenosha are completely informed, they will approve."

Of the 85 bargaining units at Ford, 42 have settled and 31 still have unresolved problems. Twelve had no local demands.

Stickney Loses New Trial Plea

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals refused today to free on bond and order a new trial for Howard Stickney, under death sentence in the slaying of Mrs. Shirley Barnes.

Building Planned At State Hospital

Architects are currently drawing up plans for another modern building to be constructed at the Big Spring State Hospital, according to Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent.

"The preliminary plans have been drawn but we are waiting for the architects to finish the details so we can study them and decide if any changes are necessary," Dr. Harrison said.

The new building will be a Rehabilitation Center to house many therapy centers now scattered throughout the hospital. Included in the building will be a recreational area, occupational therapy, vocational rehabilitation, music therapy, an auditorium and a gymnasium and swimming pool if funds permit.

At present $200,000 are allocated by the state for the building. Dr. Harrison said that matching funds may be forthcoming from the Hill-Burton Foundation.

"We certainly hope so," he said.

2 Killed In Crash

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Two men were killed and two other persons injured in the flaming head-on collision of two trailers-trucks 16 miles west of here early today.

The huge trucks burst into flames after the impact. Because of the intense heat, the charred bodies of the two victims were still in the trucks several hours after the crash.

The two dead were identified as Buford Lanier, 47, of San Antonio and Nathan Pitts, 36, of Houston.

Pitts, who drove the F. L. Lepord Co. of Houston, was cremated. Lanier drove for the Kale Truck Service of San Antonio.

The two injured persons were identified as Lloyd Griffin, 29, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Margaret Pitts of Houston. They were brought to a Beaumont hospital.

More Americans Going Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deployment of more U.S. forces, probably of moderate size, to Europe was reported today to be imminent.

Speculation was that the total of manpower involved might be something over 2,000, including some tactical air as well as ground forces.

There was no immediate information on whether units going overseas would be regular or reserve outfits, although the possibility seemed to point to regular Army elements.

Gromyko Reports Talks With West 'Useful'

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andre A. Gromyko said today his talks in Berlin with President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and other Western leaders "have been useful." But he declined to go into detail.

The diplomat chatted briefly with reporters on arrival at the airport before whisking into the city with First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov. The two appeared to be in earnest conference.

From the London conferences Gromyko brought word that the British government fully supports U.S. determination to defend Western interests in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the opening session of the Conservative party conference at Brighton that the Western Allies have at last convinced the Russians they will resist interference with the West's access routes to Berlin.

FIGHT WOULD START "If there was interference with access to West Berlin a fight would start," Home said, "and no one can say that it would not end in the ultimate disaster of the nuclear exchange. I think that we succeeded in convincing Gromyko that that situation must not be allowed to arise."

Gromyko, after outwardly cordial meetings Tuesday with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Home, steadfastly maintained the Soviet determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. He refused to say, however, whether the Russians would carry out their previous threat to sign the treaty before the end of the year.

Gromyko described his London talks, which followed similar meetings in the United States with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as "very useful."

Gromyko's three weeks of contacts with Western statesmen produced no sign of relaxation of either the Soviet or Western positions except for indications that the Soviet end-of-the-year peace treaty deadline might have been postponed. This and Soviet talk in recent days about the necessity for peace appeared to take some of the heat out of the crisis.

FLASHED SMILES The usually dour Gromyko flashed smiles, V's for victory and a new troika sign to newsmen after his hour and 40 minute session with Macmillan. Several times he told newsmen that everything must be done to avert a military collision over Berlin. A peaceful settlement is possible, he said, "but not everything is dependent on the Soviet Union."

Both Macmillan and Gromyko indicated the continuing diplomatic probing is proving useful. Informants said Gromyko found complete unity in the U. S. and British stands on Berlin and that Macmillan sought to dispel any possible Soviet suspicion that Britain might be taking a softer stand than Washington.

They said the Soviet foreign minister will be able to report to Premier Khrushchev that both Kennedy and Macmillan are ready for a meeting—but not on the basis now proposed by Moscow. Macmillan echoed Kennedy's informants said, in rejecting as a starting point for talks the Soviet demands for an immediate German peace settlement, an end to the occupation status of West Berlin and the transfer of authority over West Berlin's access routes to East Germany's Communist regime.

WARNING Macmillan warned Gromyko that any aggressive Communist action against West Berlin or interference with Allied access would create grave dangers, the informants added. British Foreign Office officials said the Macmillan-Gromyko meeting produced nothing not covered in the earlier U.S.-Soviet talks.

After the business meeting, the Soviet deputy attended a two-hour dinner party with Macmillan and Home and their wives at the foreign secretary's residence. Gromyko and Home shook hands for photographers three times at the entrance, then entered the building with arms about each other's shoulders.

The proposed statement is a modification of the original Soviet demand that deputies representing the world's major political groupings have a virtual veto over the secretary-general's actions.

Other groups working are the big gifts division and the special gifts division. There will be a report meeting of the special gifts division Thursday, according to Champ Rainwater, chairman.

Syria Proposes United Arab States

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's new revolutionary regime today proposed that all Arab countries from the Atlantic to the Persian Gulf join in a United Arab States.

The U.A.S., said a 14-point appeal sent to all Arab governments, would be a "voluntary Pan-Arab union on a constitutional, decentralized basis."

The proposal obviously was designed to recapture from Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser the initiative toward Arab unity, a popular cause among Arabs.

Premier Mamoun Kuzbari and his provisional government have described this country's own short-lived union with Egypt—the United Arab Republic which was shattered by the Syrian revolution of Sept. 28—as an experiment in Arab unity that failed because it lacked a basis of "freedom and equality."

Syria's appeal, made jointly by the provisional government and the army revolutionary command and read over the Damascus radio by Kuzbari, said the United Arab States should follow an international policy of neutrality and peaceful coexistence.

All Arab governments were urged to call their parliaments into session to consider the Syrian proposals.

Bank Is First Over The Top

The first firm to be 100 per cent across the board in the United Fund Drive was reported at the kickoff meeting of the employees division this morning at the YMCA.

The First National Bank raised $1,522, almost twice the goal and more than triple its total for last year. All 60 officers and employees of the bank took part.

Another department at Cosden, the Refinery Office, reported 100 per cent contribution, bringing that firm to about 60 per cent of collection, according to Dan M. Krause, The Production Department and the Pipeline Department previously were reported at 100 per cent.

About 120 persons in the employees division were present at the meeting this morning, including all team captains and workers. Kits and cards were turned over to them for contacting.

Cardr will be worked as rapidly as possible and turned in as they are worked. There will be no report meeting until Monday, according to Marvin Miller, general chairman of the United Fund campaign.

Other groups working are the big gifts division and the special gifts division. There will be a report meeting of the special gifts division Thursday, according to Champ Rainwater, chairman.

New York Mayor Candidates Clash During Video Debate

NEW YORK (AP)—The two major party candidates for mayor clashed over political ethics, bossism, fund-raising practices and other issues as they debated on television Tuesday night.

Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner and State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, his Republican opponent, appeared for an hour on a program similar to the Kennedy-Nixon debates in last year's presidential campaign.

The public service program was carried by station WPLX, owned by the New York Daily News. The candidates replied to questions asked by three newspapermen, commented on each other's replies and delivered summaries at the end.

Wagner, seeking a third four-year term, said Lefkowitz is a "boss-picked candidate."

Lefkowitz, who has the active support of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other GOP leaders, declared he has acted without interference during five years as the state's top law officer and would continue to do so if elected mayor.

Wagner said bossism has been eliminated in the Democratic party here since the Sept. 7 primary election in which he and his running mates won nomination over a ticket backed by the city's Democratic leaders.

Lefkowitz blasted the recent Democratic luncheon at which $25,000 was pledged to Wagner's campaign fund. Two score men at the luncheon—including a number of real estate men and builders doing business with the city—answered a roll call and made their pledges. Wagner, who attended the luncheon, said later he had had no knowledge that any of those present was dealing with the city. After the luncheon became a hot political issue, he rejected the pledges.

Skirted Males Result Of Missionary Efforts

By HOUSTON HARTE
 SUVA, Fiji — The mountainous large islands of the hundreds that make up the Fiji group are all the ordinary tourist has any opportunity to visit. But if you want to buy an island in the dreamy tropics, where work is almost taboo and where a bountiful nature provides an ample sufficiency for a healthy existence, you should get in touch with the Her Majesty's Department of Colonies in London.

Obviously there are many for sale or perhaps for lease on a 99-year basis. There are hundreds of islands in the Pacific. Many of them are too small to get a place on even the largest maps. On the front page of an Auckland newspaper last week was a story about a Texan by the name of Glasscock who said he wanted to buy an island and go into the ranching business off the coast of New Zealand. He was a little far south. Here islands are going begging.

Borneo and New Guinea are the largest islands in the South Pacific and perhaps the world. But there are untold hundreds of others. Many are the tops of volcanic peaks, or even ranges, surrounded by a coral reef. Within these tropical islands are thousands of acres of fertile land. More than a dozen governments rule these different, but distantly related people. None of them are what we call Caucasians.

WHAT DO THEY THINK
 They make up a part of the five-to-one ratio of population of the world which the white races have governed during the last three to four centuries. These non-white people are becoming aware of the numerical superiority. They are a long way from Texas but they exist. They are physically strong. They can take it—and they do.

Storms Dump Rain On Texas

By The Associated Press
 Violent thunderstorms dumped more rain on Texas Tuesday as turbulent weather brewed two widely separated tornados.

The twisters, one near San Antonio and the other close to Lone Star in East Texas, dissipated without any reported damage.

The heaviest rain reported Tuesday was a 4.56 inch downpour at Hondo, west of San Antonio. Water ran in the streets but no serious flooding was reported.

A cold front that edged into Texas early in the week touched off the wave of thunderstorms that brought rains up to 6 inches Monday.

Early Wednesday the front lay across the Panhandle and South Plains, bringing chillier weather to the upper part of the state. At Dalhart the pre-dawn reading Wednesday was 36 degrees, considerably below the 51 minimum reported Tuesday. Amarillo had a 41 and Lubbock a 43. Elsewhere Wednesday but forecasts called for continued scattered showers through Thursday in most sections.

Maximum readings Tuesday afternoon ranged from 70 at Dalhart to 94 at Laredo.

'Time' Writer Is Held In Jail

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Time magazine correspondent Mario Planet was held in jail today because of articles on Chile that appeared in the magazine.

Justice Minister Nerique Ortuzar charged in the Court of Appeals that the articles in the issues of June 23 and Aug. 25 "defamed our country, seriously hurting our international prestige, and will undermine trust in our institutional and economic stability."

Planet was arrested Tuesday and charged formally with threatening the internal security of the state.

State's Deficit Lessens A Bit

AUSTIN (AP)—The state's deficit lessened slightly since Sept. 22 and now stands at $75,537,106, State Treasurer Jesse James reported.

The earlier deficit was $76,811,173. James issued a new call for general revenue warrants. He said his office is paying warrants up to June 30. This call, he said, includes all warrants issued through June 13 and part of those dated June 30, including No. 492,269.

Republican Chief Razzes Demo Meet

EL PASO (AP)—Ted Smith, state Republican chairman, says the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting Monday marked "a great day for the Republican party of Texas."

He termed the meeting a "comedy of confusion."

THE SOUL

By T. H. Tazhel, preacher, Church of Christ, 1200 West Highway 90 P.O. Box 1283.

The Lord once asked, "For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Mat. 16:26).

A man's soul is the most valuable possession he has or can ever hope to attain. Yet, with many of us, it receives the least attention of anything. We are often more concerned about the safekeeping of our jewels and money, than about the safe keeping of our soul. We may lie awake nights worrying about finances; but give practical

As you look at them from the promenade deck of a luxury liner you wonder what they think of us. You observe their inscrutable faces as they size up the Americans, Australians and New Zealanders. They see us in our impractical dress, observe our many cameras and our condescending manners. You do not have to wonder to know what they think. It does not take too much imagination to realize very little good will is created by such of us.

SKIRTS
 The Methodist missionaries were determined to put clothes on the natives. When they came here in 1860 the Fijians, men, women and children, went naked. The missionaries had come prepared with skirts for the women and cloth to make more. But all the dealings with the tribes was through the chiefs. When the chiefs came to the missions they had to be clothed. The seamstresses said they could not cut out or sew men's pants, so as the chiefs came they were girded with a skirt. The Fijians appeared to like them. Thus the head men and chiefs went away in skirts and created a caste or style which others wanted to emulate.

The skirt was called a "lava-lava." It fits tight about the waist and now is wrapped around like a sari. It is more or less just a strip of cloth, wrapped around the waist with a wide overlap. It has no seam up the side. Some are fitted. I stood behind a husky fellow at the Hibiscus Festival dances who wore a grey gabardine lava-lava that was held up by a foot long zipper along the right side. Men adopted the Chinese custom of wearing sport shirts outside their trousers a decade ago, perhaps we'll pick up the lava-lava from the Fijians. They would make a real substitute for the old-fashioned night shirt.

CAPT. BLIGH
 The Fijian women wear a two-piece outfit called the "puletasi." One full-length garment reaches to the top of their sandals and is usually narrow at the bottom. The overblouse is of bright flowered material and half or three-quarter length. Lightweight cotton or silk material is used.

Old Capt. William Bligh made the first detailed report on these islands. He sailed among them after he was put adrift following the mutiny on the Bounty. The rainfall on Viti Levu ranges from 220 to 60 inches a year. The western sides of the islands which have mountain ranges across them are usually the "dry" side. Suva has received 60 inches of rain the last three months, and July, August and September are called the dry months.

A fine airport with 8,000-foot runways which handle the largest jets has been completed in the last few months. There is a jet in and out of the airport every day to California and Australia and New Zealand.

As though even the shrubs were putting on show the Hibiscus Festival, the hibiscus was showing in all its colors throughout the city and there are many hibiscus hedges in Suva.

COLORFUL PLANTS

The New Zealand Air Force has a sea base here. Its big amphibious planes lay in the still water inside the coral reef, which around Viti Levu is a mile high. There are new plants here, flowering ginger, African tulips, flamer tree and Roman candles. The frangi-pangi trees are just about in full bloom here and appear to be twice as large as those we have seen, further south.

The Fiji Islands today offer a tribute of achievement to the Methodist Church. The Fijians, although a highly intelligent, proud and clever people, in 1860 were ferocious and dangerous. They were habitual and determined cannibals. Many of their social customs were sometimes horrible but always disgusting. Civilizing this race was a formidable task.

Thakombau, the great chief, deserves some of the credit. Within 40 years after he and his nation adopted Christianity the Fijian people were law abiding, trustworthy and kind. It was the missionaries who spread Christianity, education and health and who conquered the minds and hearts of the Fijians. In the last census there were 138,147 Methodists.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

DEAR ABBY Decency Is Still An Asset

DEAR ABBY: When I was young I had to walk home more than once. I am now a widow of 50, and I have found that men are still the same. Whether they are 18 or 90, if they take a woman out to dinner and a show, they think they have rented her for twelve hours. I have been from California to Boston, and down to Texas, and they are all the same all over. The first thing they think of is to make up for everything the poor woman has missed since her husband died. But they aren't interested in marriage. What does a decent woman do? I am—

PLAIN DISGUSTED
DEAR PLAIN: She keeps herself busy doing decent things with decent people. She volunteers to help at church, in hospitals, or in politics in her spare time. And she might even attempt to broaden her horizons by taking some courses with other adults. Decency is still an asset, not a liability.

DEAR ABBY: I've got a guy who loves to bowl. He has a reputation for being a very good bowler, but whenever I come to watch him bowl, he is terrible. Now he has started calling me "Jinx." I know he means it as a joke, but I wonder if maybe I am really bad luck to him?

DEAR "JINX": When you are near, he obviously is unable to concentrate on his bowling. But that is probably because he likes you, which is good luck, all the way 'round.

DEAR ABBY: An elderly man, who claims he knew my husband many years ago, turned up in our town. My husband barely remembers him. Anyway, this man said my husband was his favorite when he was a small boy. I had him to dinner and he saw my dishes didn't match, so he sent me a new set which must have cost him forty dollars. He met our children, and took them all downtown and bought them new clothes. We had a few bills, and he paid those. He is staying with us, and hands me fifty dollars a week. He buys us turkeys, steaks and chops. I personally think he's off his rocker, but you can't argue with him as he says he has heart trouble. He says he's divorced, and his

A Devotional for Today

I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (John 8:12.)

PRAYER: Our God and heavenly Father, at this moment we lift our thoughts to Thy throne of grace, seeking to thank Thee for blessings received. Accept our gratitude, O Lord, and grant that we may always humble ourselves at Thy feet to adore and serve Thee, in Jesus' name, Amen.

Could Be Sanctuary Or Booby Trap

Although the argument goes on, there is simply no reason for not believing Richard M. Nixon when he says that, if elected governor of California, he will not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

The reason is not just the one given by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona: "Everyone who runs for office over there in California has to carry a Bible around and swear he won't run for the presidency." The reason, in fact, is a shrewd appraisal of political realities.

Nixon cannot have many illusions about the difficulty of beating John Fitzgerald Kennedy in 1964. The memory of last November is clearly in his mind. He must know that Kennedy, unless he falls flat on his face in the meantime, will be a much more formidable opponent in 1964 than in 1960.

A cool assessment of 1964 cannot overlook another political reality: The Republican nominee for president in 1964 must be something of a lamb being led to slaughter. Any nominee, at least from this distance, can cherish hope, but not much conviction, that he can win. If that nominee proves to be Goldwater or Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, then at least one formidable contender in Nixon's path will be removed when 1968 rolls around.

The evidence plainly indicates, therefore, that Nixon is looking beyond 1964 to the Republican convention of 1968. In that year the Democrats will have to produce a new nominee, one that Nixon could meet on at least equal terms.

But there are three, too. — The feud among California Republicans is no help to Nixon, but that is not his main problem. There is no certainty that the former vice president, for all his prestige, can beat Gov. Edmund Brown in the election. Not only do California Democrats outnumber Republicans, but also their party has greater unity. One thing appears certain: Should Nixon be defeated by Brown in the gubernatorial race his political stock would take a nose dive. As far as he was concerned, what happened at the next GOP national convention would then be largely academic.

Tribute To The Past

Though it sometimes appears these days that mankind will have no future, interest in the distant past is still keen. That is good, because the more we understand about where our civilization came from the better our chances of deciding wisely where we ought to be heading.

Such generalizations are narrowed into sharp focus by developments in the international efforts to preserve some of ancient Egypt's greatest treasures from being flooded. The danger is posed by waters that will back up along 300 miles of the Nile Valley when the Aswan high dam is completed. Chief among monuments that would be flooded are the colossal temples of Abu Simbel.

Congress has now appropriated four million dollars to help pay for either walling off or moving these tombs which were built long before the time of Christ. Ultimately the United States is expected to spend some 10 million dollars of a total cost of between 75 and 100 million dollars. These may seem like enormous sums merely for the preservation of ancient relics. But through this project men of future generations will be enabled to look upon some of the most majestic works ever fashioned by human beings.

Quiet Diplomacy Takes Over

WASHINGTON — "Quiet diplomacy"—now going on between Russia and the United States—means patient diplomacy. It covers months—not just days. Progress isn't measurable by public statements, nor is there always a concrete accomplishment to be noted in time for the next edition of the newspapers.

As for the world in general, it wants to know in advance whether there's going to be a war. On the basis of all the moves made to date, neither side has a logical reason for beginning a war. So it's the talk of accidents and of some arbitrary action by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, together with the long series of nuclear tests by Russia, which tends to make people nervous.

IT IS UNFORTUNATE that the techniques of negotiation are so unfamiliar to the public that such an exaggerated importance should be given to the conference, for instance, the President Kennedy had with Foreign Minister Gromyko here or to Secretary of State Rusk's long sessions with the Communist envoy.

Naturally, when the foreign minister of a potential adversary's government comes to this country, there is an opportunity for significant conversations. But anyone familiar with past practices doesn't really think for a minute that a tangible agreement can be reached in such parleys. A dictator limits the scope of an ambassador's instructions. The word, therefore, that is used is "exploration." This leads in turn to comments by Mr. Rusk that the talks were "interesting" and by Mr. Gromyko that they were "useful."

BUT THE TRUTH is the quiet reputation of views doesn't mean too much. Acts mean more. The Soviets did cut off East Berlin and seal it with "the wall." The West didn't resist. This was doubtless regarded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a sign that he could go further and meet resistance. But promptly the military buildup by the West around Berlin served notice, in effect, that the limit had been reached.

The over-all situation can be described simply. If Russia begins a fight, the West will resist. This word has been passed along to Moscow again and again. How did the whole crisis start? Moscow announced that a separate peace treaty with East Germany would be signed "before the end of the year." Since then the West has shown it isn't too much concerned about the mere signing of a piece of paper between Moscow and its puppet in East Germany, either this year or next. What's important is whether there is an aggression—whether the West Germans or their allies are to be denied access of West Berlin.

THE SOVIETS CAN, if they like, repress their military and confine their interferences with access to Berlin to small incidents. That's why London and Washington are already urging the Bonn government to make up its mind how it wants to handle what may develop significantly as routine contacts with East Germany. To arrange for the passage of persons and the transport of goods across the boundary isn't a difficult matter if each side understands that the word "access" really means access. The Soviet government has pledged that it will guarantee access rights.

So, seeming details are likely to be haggled about for several months. Meanwhile, big talk will come from Nikita Khrushchev when the Communist party and the Communist bloc states hold important meetings soon. The world will be kept in a state of apprehension. This is a deliberate tactic by the Soviet premier, who thinks that the more he bluffs and threatens, the more likely the West will be inclined to grant concessions in the negotiations.

UNDER THESE trying circumstances, it is regrettable that President Kennedy isn't getting more help from members of his own party as well as from members of the newspapers in Western Europe. The impression is being conveyed that the President's own strong words will be followed by a surrender in the end on essential points and that he will not stand up in the final analysis in support of the government of West Germany.

One thing ought to be made clear to domestic as well as foreign critics. President Kennedy can't surrender or back down on any vital point. If he does and a real defeat is registered in the "cold war" on matters of substance, he might as well say farewell to the presidency in the next election. For if the public is convinced that John E. Kennedy did not stand up in an international crisis, he will be defeated at the polls.

The President, however, is an experienced political analyst. He knows the consequences of surrender better than do his critics. He also knows that to save his country from war by an honorable settlement means certain re-election.

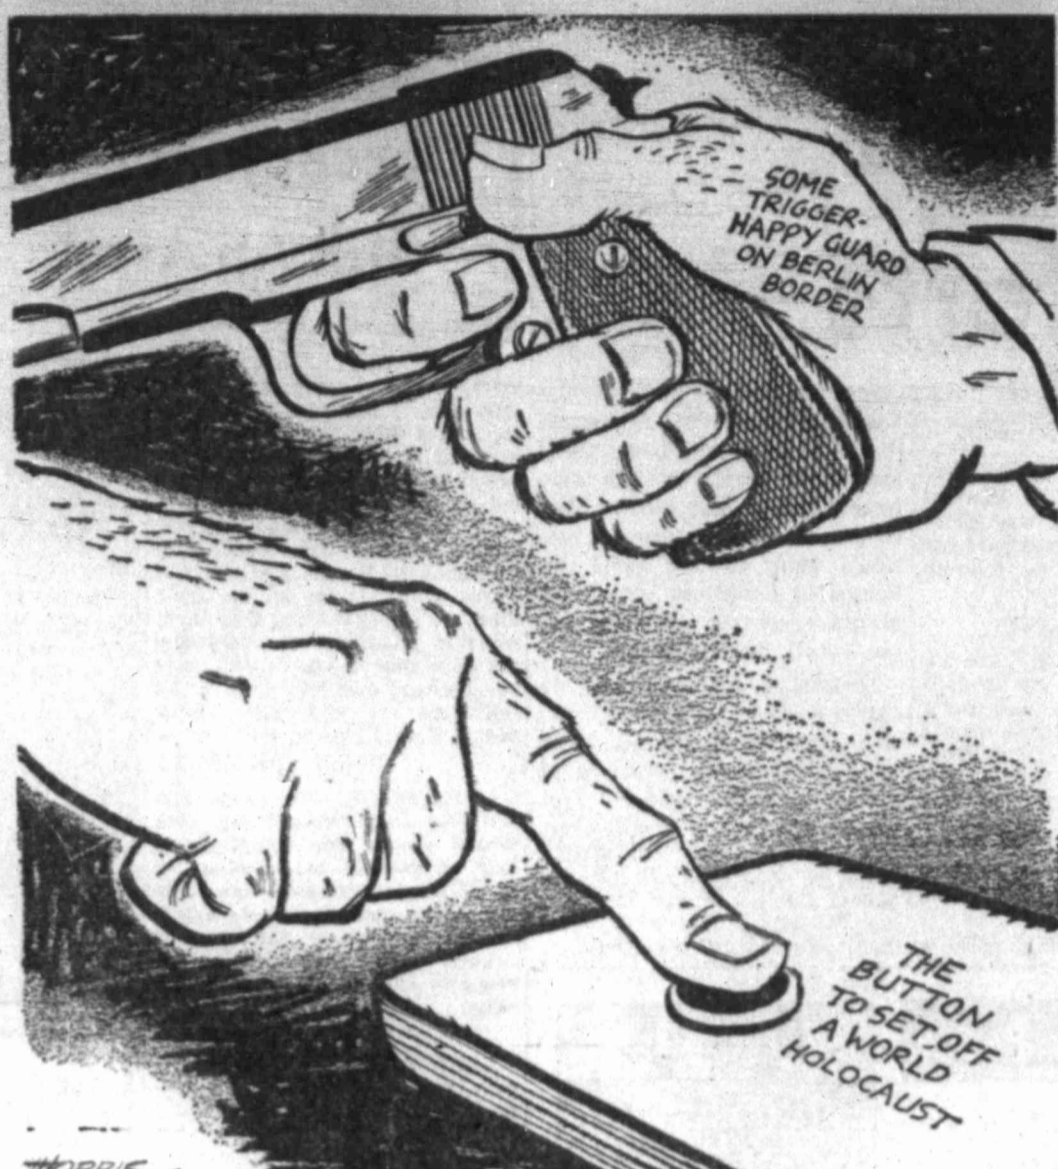

THE BIG QUESTION is how Nikita Khrushchev sizes up the carping criticism of the President in the foreign press. He must know that the United States cannot back down on established rights in Berlin. He will try, therefore, to prolong the present crisis while he attempts to harass the West in other parts of the world in the hope of breaking up the Western Alliance.

This will be a long, long controversy. It may take years to resolve. For, as the prospect of a hot war recedes, the "cold war" intensifies more and more as an instrument of Communist imperialism. It will require alertness and patience on the Western side—solidarity of spirit as well as financial sacrifice—to carry on intelligently a countermovement. Rooney's Unstoppable

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Lots of people spend their time fretting about the past," Mickey Rooney philosophized. "Me, I only care about the present and the future."

This was the unstoppable Mick thumping his turned-up nose at his misfortunes, which are enough to sink a man twice his size.

"Oh, I've had a few financial problems," he said airily. "It has become very chic to sue Rooney. Okay, let 'em. I forgive 'em."

ROONEY HAS other things to think about. They include: 1. The impending birth of his sixth child. "I believe in lots of children. Maybe it's because I was an only child. After all, you should leave something behind when you leave this earth."

2. His career. "I'm busy. Did a Dick Powell show which turned out okay. Got 'Breakfast at Tiffany's' and 'Roaring Twenties' coming out in theaters. Going to New York for 'Naked City' and 'Requiem for a Heavyweight.'"

Own 50 per cent of 'Everything's

Ducky,' which is a good family film I did with Buddy Hackett. I'll be doing more with Buddy. Going to team up with Bobby Van in night clubs, also make a TV series with Bobby for my own company."

3. His enterprise, the Mickey Rooney School of Entertainment.

When he gets started on this subject, you'd better just sit back and listen.

"I'VE BEEN thinking about this for 20 years," he said, gathering steam. "What this country needs is a good school in every city where we can develop the stars of tomorrow."

Rooney stands ready to do the job. He whipped out a brochure which he has been poring over for weeks. It will total 40 pages and offer franchises and an organizational plan whereby schools can offer a year's talent training at $385, payable over an 18-month period.

"Think of it!" Rooney enthused. "For $30 a month, youngsters can get training in tap, ballet, singing, drama and so forth. Then we'll have regional contests to pick the best talent, ending in a televised show in Madison Square Garden for the world series of entertainment."

"This is where the Judy Garland, the Mickey Rooney, the Shirley Temple, the Doris Days, the Rock Hudsons of tomorrow will come from."

Languages For Flyers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lessons in French, German, Italian, Spanish and Japanese are being repeated over a loudspeaker periodically each day in the Intelligence Division of the 301st Bomber Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Lt. Col. W. L. Stevenson, division chief, said he's intended to teach the men language phrases useful when they serve overseas.

By learning language characteristics now, he thinks they will find it easier to learn the tongue of the nation in which they serve. Eventually the program is to be expanded to include teaching selected phrases to combat air crews for use in emergency situations in foreign lands. Stevenson says.

Nervous Tension Can Cause Stomach Growl

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a 12-year-old daughter who gets very nervous about her school work."

"Even though she eats a good breakfast, she gets worried in school and her stomach starts growling from her nervousness. This worries her still more and she dreads going each morning for fear other students will hear her stomach growl."

"Do you have a solution that might help ease this tension?" D. E. S.

From the physical standpoint, no. From the emotional standpoint, yes.

This isn't a question of what makes her stomach growl, but of what makes her "very nervous about her school work."

Is she a good, fair or poor student? If she is a poor student and worried about passing, then maybe she needs some help. An understanding teacher may be able to give all of the advice and aid that are necessary. (Teachers are usually more than willing to go out of their way to help a student who is worried about passing, if not very anxious to help the sort of student who doesn't care. This girl, obviously, cares. And worries.)

Or am I on the wrong track? Is she a pretty good student? If so, why is she worried about passing? To get back to the ordinary cases, this one perhaps is inspired by nursing difficulties. Sometimes the nipple can be made to protrude by gently attempting to elevate it each day. Use of a breast pump may also cause it to become more prominent.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a diabetic and a saccharin. Could I substitute pure honey, it being a natural sweetener?"—E. P.

No, we can't recommend it. Remember that sugar (sugar cane or sugar beets) is a "natural product," too. Both sugar and honey are high in carbohydrates.

Saccharin is not and hence can be used by diabetics without putting added strain on their already low supply of insulin from the pancreas.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald requesting a copy of his booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Getting Smarter About Protection

It's difficult to tell about the size or weight of a football player now. The amount of gear they must carry for protection has a sort of averaging effect on appearance within certain tolerances.

But this is all to the good, for this paraphernalia cuts down drastically on the injuries — particularly the serious injuries — in football. Coaches rightly insist on sound, durable equipment.

Back in the days when Texas high school football was emerging from its primitive days, equipment was more or less an after thought. Thanks to school spirit, there had to be school colors, and thus every team had to have uniform jerseys. Sometimes these were a little weather-beaten and moth-eaten, but they had 'em.

THE AFFLUENT squads had other conventional items of equipment—all alike, too. But the smaller schools were apt to field a team with half a dozen different types of pants, and all them in various stages of repair. Maybe the players had helmets, and maybe they didn't. Some of the daring thought it added to a reputation of ruggedness to discard a helmet. Some few of the backs stuck with a bucket-like affair made of one thickness of leather.

Most everyone had shoulder pads of one kind or another. These ranged from some lightweight things that would have served better as epaulets to the more expensive type which actually covered the collar bone!

NOT INFREQUENTLY shoes were heavy-duty work shoes with leather cleats fashioned by the town cobbler. Even the store-bought football shoes were apt to wear cleats past the shoe track line and assume all the softness of a set of hobnails.

The thigh, hip and kidney pads were less than adequate. The thigh pads were always flopping around at the moment of impact so that every football team worthy of its salt had several bad cases of bruises and charley horses going at the same time. Similarly, hip bruises were numerous, and floating kidneys were sort of common. Some smart designer built a kidney pad that came up high on the back like a corset. Maybe it was a good idea for protection, but it was a ready-made handle for tackling from the rear. Within a short space of time, the kidney pad returned to its place under the jersey.

BATTERED NOSES and broken teeth attested to the absence of anything remotely resembling a face guard. Protection of injured places was not far different from today, except that everything had to be done with cotton, gauze and tape.

Now the gridiron warrior wears a helmet big enough for a spaceman (webbing and padding inside absorb most of the worst jabs), shoulder pads that extend down over the upper rib cage and which are designed to spread the impact over the whole shoulder when contact is made, tightly fitting pants with lightweight, heavy-duty pads, fitted shoes in good repair, and a plastic guard which catches most of the feet and hands which might have disfigured. This collection will add upwards of 25 pounds weight to a player; more important, it multiplies his protection.

This bulk doesn't mean he can't play as well. On the contrary he is in much better condition; he moves much, much faster; he uses finesse instead of battering ram tactics. Moreover, he plays a smarter brand of ball and is less likely to wear any scars for his experience.

Why Must Critics Have Dyspepsia?

Some of my best friends are theatre critics. So it hurts me to sort of level off on them. They have their problems, all right, such as rushing out of the theatre before the play ends in order to make the deadline with their reviews. Or a burn hot on the World Series. Or a dinner wolfed too rapidly at Sardi's to make the first curtain.

In fact, I am not really leveling off on them. I'm just curious about their suspicions of almost anything that is gay, light-hearted and designed to give simple pleasure to the tired and hungry businessman and or woman.

The boys are apt to sail their hats into the air over anything that is grubby, dismal and peopled with repulsive types such as drug addicts or pushers (I believe, however, that these two types are rather old-fashioned this season), compulsive alcoholics, nymphomaniacs, sex deviates, psychotics or sadists, among other widespread traits.

THE ABOVE LIST also fails to include the prostitute-with-the-heart-of-gold. She has been the darling of the avant playwright and the reviewer for some years now. But I think—and again, this is only a hunch—that her sun has set, too.

Don't misunderstand—I don't think she is going to be replaced by Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm. She will reappear as a repulsive creature whose moral degradation will have reached either a new high or low.

Critics will swoon with delight over her depravity as a symbol of man's plight in an atomic world. And if her person is dirty, her clothes filthy and the set reminiscent of the Collier brothers' manse, and if the dialogue is double-talk, the play will be described as a masterpiece.

The Problem Of The Pills

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sen. Kefauver's anti-business campaign against the American drug industry makes a distressing yet laughable sight when viewed by a visitor to Britain, where medicine has been socialized for more than a decade.

The sight is distressing because it shows what would happen if the Kefauver Drug Bill (S-152) and other New Frontier medical schemes should become law in our country.

The sight is wryly laughable because the very same problems which the senator's legislation seeks to abolish remain unabolished under Britain's National Health Service.

Like all the woes which politico-economic flesh is heir to, the problems of price-and-profit, the subject of personal-and-professional ethics, simply cannot be legislated out of existence. My information is taken from a still-to-be published study by the London Institute of Economic Affairs.

SINCE 1948 ALL DRUGS in Britain have been without charge to NHS patients, which means virtually everybody. The prime result has been an insatiable demand for pills.

Even under British socialism, a general practitioner's income depends on how many patients he handles. The more patients demand free drugs, the doctors are under pressure to prescribe them, whether or not the dosage will do any good.

The stamped on the medico's office to the pharmacist's shop became so dense and precipitous that the Health Ministry decided, in 1951, to charge the patient a shilling for each prescription. The patient-doctor combine got around this by loading each prescription with many different items. The Ministry moved to block this play by limiting each prescription to one item. But the patient-doctor cartel saturated each prescription with larger doses of the single drug.

IN 1961, THE MINISTRY raised the prescription price to two shillings and is now awaiting results. Under consideration is a Scandinavian plan to vary the price of a prescription with the true cost of the drug. Indirectly and inevitably, the standards of the market place keep filling the vacuum created by socialist methods.

In vain and frantic efforts to cut the

For the first three years tickets will boot-legal at $100 a pair.

THESE LONG, long thoughts are occasioned not only because I am a dyed-in-the-plum theatre buff, but more immediately by the general lack of critical buzz for "Sail Away," the new Noel Coward musical that opened last week on Broadway.

With the exception of the review in The New York Times, the critical reception of the Coward work lacked hearty enthusiasm, to put the best face on it. Everyone agreed that Elaine Stritch and most of the cast were wonderful, and then sort of trailed off.

So I went to "Sail Away" to jeer and remained to cheer. It is gay, light-hearted and entertaining, with an extraordinarily good cast and excellent sets. It has no problem beyond a nine-year-old brat. The audience didn't know any better than to laugh and laugh and laugh.

RIGHT THERE is where I think "Sail Away" lost the critics. It has no problem, and the audience laughs. With such a brace of handicaps, it's uphill all the way for any show, critic-wise. Such a play labels itself as old-fashioned and that's the kiss of death.

Now let's take a gander at what the critics love — "The Caretaker," which opened 48 hours after "Sail Away." Here is a loving description of the "hero" in The New York Herald Tribune: "Under twin flares of dirty white hair, rolling his tongue inside his lower lip as though he were tasting his rotted teeth or the flavor of doom to come, flinging his filthy coat high to reveal his sagging trousers, he is rude, grubby, bigoted, suspicious, eternally whining."

Heaven help us, it's "Tobacco Road" with a message — and no turnups! (Copyright, 1961, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

cost of pills-for-everybody, British Health authorities have constructed categories of drugs.

Categories "P" and "N" could be prescribed unconditionally. Category "S" was subject to price agreements between the government and the manufacturers. Categories "O" and "H" were those which a doctor might prescribe but on the peril of "being called upon to justify the cost of his prescribing." In 1961, Category "S" joined "O" and "H" on the "must be justified" list. In addition, the doctor was required, under threat of disciplinary action by the government, to keep his prescription costs within 50 per cent of the "regional average."

NONE OF THIS, mind you, related to the efficacy or quality of the drugs—only to the cost of them to the government. The regulations have caused a shortage of dentists and an emerging shortage of doctors. The supposition is that less dedicated and competent persons are entering the medical professions.

Non-competition in the drug industry (which mainly has the government as its customer) has tended to put a premium on sales promotion to doctors who prescribe the drugs for government purchase. By and large, the price-profit structure remains.

Sen. Kefauver's bill does not go as far as the British system, which should provide Americans with a warning. There is no way on earth to get something for nothing. The medical patient is much like any other customer. He gets the best service at the optimum cost when he's allowed to go out and shop for it. (Distributed by McQuay-Norris, Inc.)

MRS. CLEVELAND LEWIS PUCKETTE II

Marriage vows uniting Nancy Lee Smith and Lt. Cleveland Lewis Puckette II, were solemnized Tuesday evening by the Rev. Clyde Nichols of Berger. The double ring rites were performed at 8 o'clock in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church. White chrysanthemum altar arrangements were used with lighted tapers in candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, 712 Dallas, are parents of the bride. Puckette, who is stationed at Cannon AFB, N. M., is the son of John E. Puckette of Dallas and the late Mrs. Puckette.

Nuptial music included the procession "The Bishop's Procession" by Norman Coke, and from "Trumpet Voluntary" and "Trumpet Tune in D" by Parcell, the recessional. Jack Hendrix, organist, also accompanied Mrs. Don Newson who sang "How Do I Love Thee" by Hopkins. "Entr'act Me Not to Leave Thee" by Gounod and "Benedictus" by Peter Lutkin.

Tapers were lighted by Bennett Brooke Jr., and Wade Simpson.

The bride was accompanied to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown of ivory satin and lace was that worn by her sister, Mrs. J. F. Howell Jr., for her wedding. It was fashioned with moulded bodice of satin featuring a V-shaped neckline, outlined with scallops of lace, and short lace sleeves. The full lace skirt, having a front panel insert of satin, extended into a chapel train. She wore white satin mitts and pearl-trimmed satin headpiece which fitted low on the forehead and secured her veil of illusion. The bridal bouquet was white roses and gardenias.

For something old the bride wore a family heirloom, a cameo ring which she pinned to her petticoat; something new, her headpiece and veil; something borrowed, a threepence brought from England by Mrs. Russell Scott, Edwards, Calif.; and blue, a garter.

The bride was attended by her sister, matron of honor, Mrs. Howell of Detroit, Mich., who was attired in a short length frock of green satin and matching green satin headpiece. Her flowers were bronze mums.

Boone Powell Jr. of Abilene served as best man. Ushers were Bennett Brooke Jr., John E. Puckette Jr. brother of the bridegroom from Dallas, Wade Simpson and George Oldham.

RECEPTION

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Big Spring Country Club where guests were received by Mrs. Smith, the bridegroom's father, Mrs. Howell and the honored couple.

Beige linen covered the bridegroom's table, appointed with silver coffee service, candelabra, and silver tray which held the bridegroom's glazed cake.

The bride's table was covered with a floor-length cloth of beige silk centered with spiraled tapers in silver candelabra which also contained an epergne arrangement of white fugli mums and fern. Opposite a silver punch bowl was the bride's three-tiered cake, frosted white with top nosegay of white mums.

Brass was used on the foyer table where guests were registered, while on the candlelit buffet table appointments were of silver.

Throughout the evening, the Max Alexander String Trio provided background music. Mrs. Ebb H. Hatch was in charge of the register.

Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Charlie M. Adams, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Lloyd of Plainview, Byron Lillie, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Price, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Mc-

Gibbon, Mrs. Robert T. Piner, Dr. and Mrs. Lee Rogers.

Also Mr. and Mrs. J. Arnold Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Coy O. Nalley, Mr. and Mrs. Wendal Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Keaton, Mr. and Mrs. Dan M. Krause, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradford.

And Dr. and Mrs. George T. Hall, Mrs. Boone Powell Jr., Abilene; Mrs. John Puckette Jr., Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel.

Others were Dr. and Mrs. Allen Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stripling, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stipp.

WEDDING TRIP

Leaving afterward on a wedding trip to the New England states, the bride chose for travel a gold knit dress and jacket. Her accessories were matching gold pillbox hat and gloves, brown shoes and bag.

The couple will make their residence in Germany where he is to be stationed.

After graduating from Big Spring High School, the bride attended Christian College, Texas Christian University, and was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She has been teaching in Lubbock Public Schools.

Puckette, a graduate of Adamson High School, Dallas, attended the United States Naval Academy. He is now a fighter pilot and first lieutenant with the United States Air Force.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. Tom Smith of Fort Worth, aunts of the bride; Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell Sr., Sonora; Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll A. Harkans, Carlsbad, N. M., cousins of the bride; Mrs. A. A. Harkans, Woodsborow, aunt of the bride; the Rev. and Mrs. Alan Conley, Colorado City.

BUFFET LUNCHEON

A luncheon for the families and out of town guests was given by Mrs. Coy O. Nalley, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon and Mrs. H. G. Keaton, yesterday at the Nalley residence.

The buffet table, spread with cloth of linen and Brussels lace, was centered with a large silver basket filled with white chrysanthemums, pink-tinted carnations and fern. Individual tables were spread with madiera cloths and centered with nosegays of white carnations in small brandy snifters.

Former Resident Is Honoree At Coffee

Friends of Mrs. H. A. Reque gathered at Cadden County Club Tuesday morning for two hours of informal visiting and coffee. Hostess for the occasion was her sister, Mrs. H. C. Stipp.

Mrs. Reque, the former Connie Cushing, has recently returned from Germany, where Maj. Reque was stationed with the Air Force for almost four years. The two will make a home in South Carolina.

Alternating at the polished table, which held an arrangement of white mums, tinted with aqua, were members of the house party. They included Mrs. Marion Edwards, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Fred Hyer, Edith Gay, Mrs. Horace Garrett, Mrs. Allen Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Stripling and Mrs. Clyde Angel.

Guests were greeted by members of the house party at the entrance of the entertaining suite and directed to the Blue Room in which the party was given.

Mrs. Rex Baggett brought the introduction to the study on Latin America for members of the Sylvia Lamun Circle, meeting in the home of Mrs. Clyde Cantrell.

A report was heard on the birthday party given Friday by the circle for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The Lamun Circle will combine with the Fanny Stripling Circle to take up the new study, it was announced, and the two will meet Oct. 31.

FANNY STRIPLING

A warning against the complacency of this country about communism was given members of the Fanny Stripling Circle in the home of Mrs. T. R. Braddock; the speaker was Arestides Menendez, who came to the United States from Cuba about seven months ago.

The speaker discussed the prosperity of Cuba before the rule of Castro began and showed how the various industries have declined since his advent to power.

Tickets for the book review were distributed to the 14 members. Three guests, Mrs. Elmer Tarbox, Mrs. George McAllister and Mrs. Agnes Elliott, were present.

MARY ZINN

Members of the Mary Zinn Circle met with Mrs. Clyde Denton, who was assisted as hostess by her daughter, Mrs. Winston Kilpatrick.

Mrs. Mary Williams opened the meeting with prayer and introduced the study, "Churches for New Times." She also gave highlights in the life of the author, Theodore E. Matson.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell discussed "Are We Relevant?" and the story of "The Drive-In Church" was told by Mrs. H. H. Stephens.

Plans were made for filling a duffel bag for World Community Day in cooperation with the United Church Women of Big Spring. The meeting next week will be with Mrs. Dave Duncan, Old San Angelo Highway.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to 12 members.

Colts' Hopes Rest In Winter Trades

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — At a cost of nearly two million dollars each, Houston and New York have assembled teams today that probably will battle it out for ninth place in 1962 in the now expanded 10-team National League.

The only hope for the Colts and Mets to finish among the club eight is to improve the club through trades, purchases or the sudden emergence of thus far unheralded bonus youngsters.

Despite the seemingly meager pickings in Tuesday's regular and special drafts of players from the eight established National League clubs, both President George Weiss of the Mets and General Manager Paul Richards of the Colts appeared satisfied, at least outwardly.

"We have a strong nucleus for a fine club in a short time," said Richards. "From now on, we ask no favors from anyone."

"We went for fellows who had been top players," explained Weiss, "and we got most of them. We went for young pitching and hitters tailored for the Polo Grounds. I think Houston has the edge over us in infielders while we have the edge in pitching."

"I honestly feel both new clubs obtained some excellent young prospects," said National League President Warren Giles, who presided over the draft meeting, attended by officials of all National League clubs. "I am hopeful that these players will give them a nucleus in which to build a pretty good club next year."

If the Colts and Mets were to open the 1962 National League season tomorrow, here is how the starting teams probably would shape up:

District Champions

Hershel Wells, Webb quarterback, and team captain, accept the ATC Southern District Touch Football Trophy from Colonel A. F. Taute, Deputy Wing Commander of Webb AFB. Webb whipped Laredo AFB 23-0; Randolph AFB, 35-0; and then stopped Randolph, 24-0 in Saturday's finals to win the crown for the third consecutive year. (Official Air Force Photo).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Wendy Green, the local golf pro, probably will play in the New Mexico State Golf Tournament at Las Cruces this weekend. The meet starts Thursday and extends through Saturday.

Luke Thompson, the former Big Spring visitor here from El Paso last weekend, is also entering in the meet. Luke is now Freddy Hawkins' assistant at the Coronado Hills Country Club in El Paso. The course is built up in the hills above El Paso and is very picturesque.

The 1962 station wagon ordered for the Big Spring High School athletic department has arrived and been put to use by coach Emmett McKenzie and his aides.

E. C. Moore, who has been scouting Odessa Permian for Big Spring, had this to say about the Panthers after they had won their fourth straight game:

"Permian just does what it has to do to win, week in and week out."

Some observers said Permian didn't show to advantage against Abilene last week but Moore is inclined to think Ted Dawson's club is just as good as it has to be.

And Don Henry, the former Big Spring newspaper man who is now writing sports for the San Angelo paper, says Brady looks like the real Class AA power in West Texas and has a likely berth into the State semifinals now.

Don covered the Big Spring-Lee game in Midland the other night.

The Midland school system employs one ritual at its home games I wish would be adopted here: That of introducing each player of the two starting units over the loud speaker and bringing him to the center of the field.

The rite doesn't take very long and it is very impressive.

Odessa High, the next football foe of the Big Spring Steers, has changed its offense for the better. It was shifting into a box formation but lately has been running off the T.

The Broncos' offense is now very potent and their defense has always been sailing. In Martin Benavides, the Red Hosses have one of the better running backs in West Texas.

Al Stump recalls in a book he authored recently the bitter salary fight the late Ty Cobb had with the owner of the Detroit Tigers, Frank Navin.

At one time, when the Federal League was in existence, Navin arranged to intercept all telegrams sent to Cobb — in order to find out whether his star outfielder was about to jump to the "outlaw" league.

Cobb learned of Navin's meddling and arranged a telegram which trapped Navin — and won, by way of an apology, a $15,000 a year contract for three years — a fantastic salary to pay a big league player in those days.

That Boston College football team which performed against the University of Houston in Houston last weekend was playing a Texas team for the first time since 1923. That year, BC blanked Baylor, 33-0.

The last time Boston College sent a football team to Texas was in 1946 at which time the Eagles lost to Banks McFadden and Clemson in the Cotton Bowl game, 6-3.

Two Bucks Hurt In Scrimmage

Associated Press Sports Writer

They really knock heads together at Ohio State's football drills. It's getting costly.

The seventh-ranked Buckeyes lost two men with head injuries Tuesday as they went through their paces in a midweek head-knocking drill for Saturday's opening Big Ten conference clash with Illinois.

Left end Chuck Bryant had to be carried off the field on a stretcher after being knocked unconscious in a collision. Moments later tackle Bob Vogel was forced to the sidelines when he was hit in the head. Both are expected to be ready for the Illinois game.

The Illinois last quarterback Mike Tallafiero for the rest of the season when the team physician ordered the signal-caller removed from the roster after checking a nerve injury in Tallafiero's neck. Fullback Mike Summers and linebacker Joe Mota did not take part in the scrimmage.

Michigan's six-ranked Wolverines will be shy two key linemen for their nationally televised test against fifth-ranked Michigan. First-string right guard Joe O'Donnell and replacement Lou Pavloff have not recovered from their injuries.

Southern Cal's Trojans will face eighth-ranked Notre Dame Saturday without the services of halfback Willie Brown, who has a torn ligament in his right foot. Syracuse, which meets Nebraska, learned Soph tackle John Paglio has a broken left wrist and probably is out for the year.

Quarterback Ron Taylor was sidelined with a thigh injury as Missouri worked out for its Big Eight conference opener against Oklahoma State. He may be back for the clash but halfback Gerald Stevenson definitely is lost and fullback Andy Russell remains a question mark.

Bison Passer

Buddy Glaspie (above), 150-pound junior back, threw the pass to Herb Sorley for Stanton's sole touchdown in last week's game with Crane. The Buffs take a rest this week before plunging into District 3-AA play on Oct. 20 against Denver City in Stanton.

TV Game May Be Explosive

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Be sure to equip your TV set with a shatter proof screen for this weekend's viewing of the Michigan State at Michigan football game. Each again is a Big Ten power and they hate each other athletically as only rival state institutions can.

You and some 100,000 spectators-in-the-flesh will see Michigan wear down the Spartans and eke out a narrow victory. There's a .725 chance that this prediction is correct. That's the average for the season after four weeks. Last week's figures showed 31 correct and 15 wrong picks.

Each team has powerful and mobile linemen. Each, also, has speedy and versatile backs. But Michigan also has Bill Tunnicliffe, a 230-pound fullback and he gives the Wolverines a slight edge.

Iowa over Indiana: The Hawkeyes have been sputtering in their first two games, but despite a long injury list among the low backs the Hoosiers haven't enough to hold their foes in check.

Alabama over North Carolina State: The Crimson Tide has yielded an average of only four points each to three foes stronger than State.

Texas over Oklahoma: The one-time Big Eight power will wear itself out trying to catch Jim Saxton and Jack Collins.

Missouri over Houston: The Rebels' biggest worry will be to decide which of their three top teams to start.

Ohio State over Illinois: The Illini still too green even if the Buckeyes aren't as fierce as they were rated to be.

Notes: Dame over Southern California: The Irish are on the way back as any team would be that had their backfield array.

Elsewhere: Baylor over Arkansas; Maryland over North Carolina; Louisiana State over South Carolina; Northwestern over Minnesota; Washington over California; Georgia Tech over Duke; Miami over Colorado; Navy over Cornell;

Layne Says He Will Be Back

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An injury has sidelined Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers, but the veteran quarterback vows he'll be back in the lineup before the end of the season.

Coach Buddy Parker feels Layne is through for the year. Layne played only a brief time against Los Angeles and last week he did not dress for the Philadelphia game.

He is suffering from hematoma on the left side of his body. Hematoma is a tumor or swelling containing blood.

Injury Jinx Hits A&I Grid Eleven

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The injury jinx has struck Texas A&I's No. 1 small college football team of the nation.

The Javelinas have five players of the first and second units on the injury list. Star halfback Tommy Janik is out with a broken collarbone and two of the other starting players—halfback Mauricio Neal and end Bobby Pysen—are doubtful starters.

Texas A&I plays Howard Payne at Brownwood Saturday afternoon.

Houston Missing Cage Standout

HOUSTON (AP)—University of Houston starts practice Monday without its basketball captain, Tommy Thomson.

Thomson, 6-6 senior, will miss the remainder of the fall semester because of an attack of infectious hepatitis. He plans to re-enroll at mid-term and resume his basketball next year.

McKenzie, Sibley Say Odessa Toughest Foe

"Odessa could have beaten the teams we have by bigger scores than we ran up," coach Emmett McKenzie of Big Spring High School told members of the Quarterback Club here Tuesday night.

"Odessa is by far the toughest ball club we will have met to date and we must play better ball and cut our mistakes to a minimum if we hope to win."

Big Spring Journeys to Odessa Friday night to oppose the Bronchos in the second 3-AAAA game for both teams.

Joe Sibley, the coaching aide who has had the job of following the Bronchos all season, said the Red Hosses have always had a rugged defense and their offense has shown steady improvement since the beginning of the season. Sibley described Martin Benavides, the Broncos' left halfback, as perhaps the most talented player on the Odessa team.

"We have to stop him if we are to win," Sibley told the gathering. He described Benavides as an excellent passer and a very dangerous runner on the pitchout, which Odessa uses often.

Odessa's other halfback, the 160-pound Jerry Holderman, was described by the Big Spring scout as a boy possessing good speed. Holderman is especially effective as a downfield receiver. Against Abilene Cooper last week, he raced 51 yards after taking the ball on a belly play.

Mickey Thurber, the Odessans' 175-pound quarterback, was pictured as a good ball carrier on a fake.

The Bronchos boast a battle-tested, quick line, Sibley stated, with splendid ends in Bill Rose, the top scorer on the team; and Jerry Anderson, a 170-pounder, a standout center in Raymond Adams and a stellar blocker in Langdon White, the left guard.

There is a possibility that Larry Jernigan, injured quarterback, will be back in action for Odessa in the Big Spring game. Jernigan suffered a ruptured intestine in a practice session before the season began and has not played a down. He returned to workouts Monday, however. He is considered to be one of the outstanding players in West Texas.

Don Hawkins, the Odessa fullback, was described by Sibley as a tough runner on the quick trap. Odessa will match its 2.2 worst record against Big Spring's perfect 4-0 mark. Amarillo edged the Bronchos, 3-0. Then came a loss to Tom S. Lubbock, 20-14. The Red Hosses turned around and beat Port Arthur, 12-0, in a mild upset. Then came last week's 19-0 win over Cooper.

Odessa, San Angelo, Permian and Big Spring are all tied for first place in district standings, each with a 1-0 record.

McKenzie praised his own boys for their win over Midland Lee. He said the Steers made their share of mistakes in the game but added that they showed tremendous fight and speed in reacting to correct their miscues.

He said Jerry Tucker, Big Spring's star quarterback, missed Monday's practice due to the injury he suffered last week against Lee but returned to practice Tuesday.

Films of the Big Spring-Lee game climaxed the entertainment for the evening. Biggest turnout of the season, estimated at more than 200, attended the Tuesday night session.

Holovak Is Hired As Boston Coach

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Patriots of the American Football League have hired head coach Lou Saban, former Western Illinois University coach, a 17-year-old coach, and hired Mike Holovak, ex-Boston College mentor, to replace him.

The Patriots' management lowered the boom suddenly Tuesday night by majority vote of the board of directors.

"I didn't know about it until they phoned," said Saban.

"They had to make a change. It just hit me and that's it."

Saban, 39, joined the Patriots last year, touted by the Boston Club's General Manager Ed McKeever, as "the finest young coach I've seen in 15 years." His contract had one year to run.

Holovak, an All-America fullback at Boston College and assistant Patriots coach, played professionally with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League. He was a PT boat skipper in World War II.

"I hope it works out," Holovak said. "Needless to say it was a tough decision. We simply felt that all the talent on our team had not been used."

"We felt that Mike was the man who would be able to step in and use the talent we had to the extent that it is capable of performing."

The Patriots are tied with Buffalo for second place in the AFL's Eastern Division with a 3-2 record. The Patriots finished last in the division last season with a 1-5 record.

Prior to coaching at Western Illinois, Saban served four years at Case Institute, one year as an assistant at University of Washington, and one year each as an assistant and head coach at Northwestern.

He starred as a single wing quarterback at Indiana University and captained the Cleveland Browns of the defunct All-American Conference in 1946-47-48.

Unitas Having Woes In NFL

BALTIMORE (AP)—Johnny Unitas has been a mystery to National Football League opponents of the Baltimore Colts for six years. But the all-pro quarterback has not been particularly hard to solve in four games so far this season.

Enemy defenders have picked off nine of his passes and his completion percentage has dropped to 49.4. Unitas also is far behind his pace of last year when he threw for 3,099 yards, an NFL record.

What's wrong?

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who indicated Tuesday he might bench Unitas and start Lamar McLean Sunday against the Bears in Chicago, frankly admits he doesn't know for sure. Unitas has become a new kind of mystery quarterback.

Local Dragsters Bring Back Cups

Five local drivers won trophies during the weekend at the district drag races held in Wall, east of San Angelo.

Franklin Kirby got his for winning in the B altered class; Carroll Green for D-gas; John Huckabee for B sportman; Travis Anderson for L sport; and Richard Clark for D sports.

The drivers are due to go to Abilene Sunday for the regular monthly races.

Lamar Tech Loses Ronnie Fontenot

BEAUMONT (AP)—A knee injury will keep halfback Ronnie Fontenot out of football for the remainder of the season at Lamar Tech.

Fontenot, All-Lone Star Conference player, tore ligaments in his right knee in Lamar's game with Stephen F. Austin last week. He will undergo surgery.

Texas Ahead Of '60 Pace

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' three-game, record-breaking pace in total offense in the Southwest Conference is only 34 yards short of what the Longhorns gained through their first six games last season.

Texas has rolled up 1,512 yards with 1,965 yards rushing and 447 passing, and it is the third straight season for the Longhorns to set the offensive pace. At a corresponding time last year Texas had a total offense of only 918 yards.

The 1,512 yards is the best three-game aggregate recorded by the Southwest Conference statistics service. The previous best was 1,161 yards by Texas in 1946.

Just why Texas is traveling so fast offensively can be understood by a glance at the individual statistics. The Longhorns are running 1-2-3-4 in rushing.

James Saxton leads with 273 yards a sensational 12.4 average. Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian has taken over the passing lead, replacing Doug Cannon of Texas Tech. Gibbs has 19 completions to 18 for Cannon and has accounted for 302 yards—the most yardage for any passer.

Gibbs also leads in total offense with 343 yards compared to the second place Saxton's 273.

Bob Witucki of Texas Tech leads the pass-receivers with nine catches, Harold Morgan of Southern Methodist and Jerry Cantler of Rice are tied for the lead in punting with 41.9 yard averages, while Lance Alworth of Arkansas tops in punt returns with a 19.4 yard average.

Several season highs were established last week by the conference teams. Texas gained 175 yards passing against Washington State for one. Texas A&M had the best punting average against Texas Tech with 45.7. Southern Methodist showed the best punt return average of 25.0 against Air Force and Texas Christian the best kickoff average with 25.7 against Arkansas.

There was one individual high. Alworth had the best pass interception return when he took one back 35 yards against Texas Christian. Mike Clark of Texas A&M tied the record for the longest field goal when he booted one 36 yards against Texas Tech. Jerry Spearman of Texas Christian had a 36-yarder against Kansas three weeks ago.

Upton Sinclair, Famous Writer, Weds At Age 83

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—"I think I'm a very lucky old man," says Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist Upton Sinclair, 83.
Sinclair, author of more than 70 books, and Mary Elizabeth Willis, 79, a widow, took out a marriage license Tuesday. His first wife, Mary Craig Kimbrough Sinclair, died last April 26 at 78.
Sinclair said he and Mrs. Willis

Draft Lodge Effort Opens

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts will have one of 1962's liveliest Senate races if Henry Cabot Lodge—who says he can't be drafted—ends up a candidate for the Republican nomination.
An effort to bring Lodge, the 1960 GOP vice presidential nominee, into the race was launched Tuesday by a group headed by Paul Vaites Jr., a Boston attorney.
Lodge promptly told newsmen "I cannot be drafted. No attempt to draft me has my approval."
The former U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations now is associated with Time, Life and Fortune magazines as an adviser on international affairs. He lost his Senate seat to Kennedy in 1962.
Vaites said later he wasn't surprised at Lodge's reaction. He said the Draft Lodge Committee will meet soon to see what to do next.

Hoover Hopes For Reich Unity

BONN, Germany (AP)—The German people received a message of greeting Tuesday from Herbert Hoover in which the former president expressed "the prayer that the reunification of Germany in freedom may yet take place in my lifetime."
The message was delivered at a news conference held by Louis P. Lochner, a U.S. journalist, to introduce the German translation of his book, "Herbert Hoover and Germany."

Peace Corpsmen To Get Training

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Twenty-six Peace Corps candidates scheduled for teaching assignments in Sierra Leone arrived Tuesday for a month's training at camp Rio Abajo.
The contingent includes Elizabeth Roseberry, former dean of home economics at the University of Cincinnati, who when asked why she joined the Peace Corps replied: "I guess for adventure."

How To Be Happy Though Irradiated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's civil defense director opened a series of lectures on how to build home fallout shelters. Eighteen persons showed up for the first one Tuesday.
Two, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marshall of Woodside, told C.D. Director A. G. Cook they already have a shelter.
"We're using it as a wine cellar now," Marshall said.

Musicians Union In Discord But Harmony Finally Restored

CHICAGO (AP)—The sound of the Chicago Federation of Musicians Union meeting was anything but harmonious during a debate over the amount of pension that should be granted the local's veteran maestro.
But harmony was restored, more or less, when the maestro himself, James C. Petrillo, took the podium Tuesday and waived a pension, stipulating that the money be used to set up the James C. Petrillo Music Appreciation Fund.
The fund, to be used to present music education and performances in grade schools, will be financed by the local at the rate of $25,000 a year, beginning Jan. 1.
But before Petrillo, president of the local for 39 years, agreed to this proposal by one of 600 members at the local's annual meeting the debate was loud and long and punctuated with sour notes.
The local's directors had proposed that Petrillo, 69, be pensioned at full salary, $500 a week, when he retires—if he does. In 1958 Petrillo retired as president of the American Federation of Musicians after holding office 18 years. He declined the federation's offer of a $20,000 pension.
At Tuesday's meeting, several delegates presented proposals for lesser pensions. Lillian Poenisch, a clarinet player, suggested the

Radioactivity Up

VIENNA (AP)—Air radioactivity in Austria is fifteen times higher than before the resumption of the Soviet nuclear test explosions, the meteorological office said Tuesday night. Radiation is still well below the danger limit, the office added.
