Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The toast of the town is the Big Spring Steer football squad.
The young men and their coaches have given the town its first good case of football fever in half a dozen years. A week ago they won their first conference game in six years, and Friday night they beat Odessa for the first time since 1929. The stands here ought to be packed Friday evening in tribute to players and coaches.

broad community front was the re-port from the United Fund. With all but the metropolitan division in action, combined division tabulations showed over $50,000 already raised. This puts the campaign at the halfway mark, the best in years at this stage of the game. More and more people are accepting the challenge of individual responsibility toward their mity this year.

News of the resignation of Dan M. Krausse, who has been serving as a senior vice president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, comes as something of a shock. In addition to his responsible place with Cosden, Krausse has made an extremely valuable contribution to the institutions of Big Spring and area. He is to join Dresser and area. He is to join Dresser Industries in Dallas.

The city's radar apparatus will be dusted off and put back into action unless speeding declines, Police Chief Jay Banks warned last week. He said he didn't like to use the device but would if nec-

Filling Idle Time

Summertime sometime can be idle time for a lot of youngsters, and idle time is not always good time.

The Citywide Recreation program helps fill this gap by rolling the activities of several agencies into one to reach the greatest number of children and young people with the least cost, It's more than just play, for hundreds of youngsters are taught special skills and strengthened in moral values. The United Fund is the mortar which binds this program together.

Kuykendall Leaves FPC

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)— President Kennedy Saturday ac-cepted the resignation of Republican Jerome K. Kuykendall from the Federal Power Commission as of next Jan. 1. Kuykendall was the center of dispute over who should head the commission when Kennedy earlier this year named Joseph C. Swid-ler to the agency and designated him chairman. Kuykendall resisted, but ultimately an agreement was reached and Swidler, a Democrat, took over.

With Kuykendall's resignation the commission, all present members will be Kennedy appointees. By law, he will have to name a Republican replacement, as Swid-Howard Morgan and Lawrence J. O'Connor are Democrats. Charles R. Ross is the only Re-

Guardsmen To Report Today For Full Duty of the National Guard are to check in not later than 2 p.m. today for active duty assignment. guardsmen are to report to the armory west of town, according to Capt. Dewey Stevenson, company commandant.

This is the first step in activating the unit for duty at Camp Polk, La., as ordered some weeks ago. A small advance party from the local company leaves on Oct. 18 for Camp Polk.

A second group, comprising sev-en members of the company who are taking their families to the training center will leave on Oct.

The entire company will be on its way on Oct. 23.

Thirty - eight of the guards-men will travel by bus and the remainder of the 79 men in the outfit who will be here on that date will travel from Big Spring to Polk in guard cars and trucks. The early arrivals will check in as soon as they reach the camp and the entire company will be on duty at Polk by Oct. 26. The local guard outfit is Battery A, 132nd Artillery, 3rd Rocket and Howitzer Btn., 49th Armored

"Superb" . . . "luxurious" . . . "beautiful" . . . "brilliant"-there are many words that might be used to describe the new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars" -we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and fine and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a Cadillac masterpiece-graceful, clean-lined and elegant. .

In performance, it is a revelation. Its power plant is a reservoir of silken power-and the car rides and handles with an instinctive ease and sureness. In safety, it is in a class of its own-with a host of exclusive features, including remarkable new side cornering lights. In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness. On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never replace the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest motor car ever to bear the Cadillac name.

The Oil & Gas Journal said:

PRICES Wholesale prices of regular gasoline in the Mid-Continent area, for example, ranged last week from 9% to 10% cents a gallon. A month ago the range was 10% to 11 cents.

States affected by the price cuts are Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming, and New Mexico.

All price changes have applied only to specific fields in each area. Production from the East Texas Field and the Denver-Julesburg Basin of Colorado and Nebraska accounts for nearly half the 400,-000 barrels affected.

INDEPENDENTS TO TESTIFY IN RATES CASE

WASHINGTON UP - Cross natural gas producers in-volved in a Federal Power Commission area rate case is scheduled for Nov. 4.

The producers involved are the first to take an area rate case to the hearing stage. They filed written testimony and exhibits here Wednesday, Involved are scores of natural gas producers in the Permian Basin area of Texas and New Mexico. All have filed proposed rates which have been suspended by the commission or have some other interest in the case.

The commission proposes to regulate rates for natural gas on an area rather than on an individual producer basis. It announced this general policy more than a year ago. Prehearing conferences in the case have been held at Midland, Tex., and here.

As a result of the confer ences, the commission laid procedural rules requiring the producers to file written testimony by Thursday.

OF THE COSDEN FAMILY ...

JAMES M. DALTON

This is the 1st in a series of special Cosden presentations recognize ing the long and valued services of these employes who have been assoclated with the Company 18 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

To James M. Dalton, there is a challenge in whipping damaged equipment back into serviceable condition. The same incentive that made him a mechanic by both avocation and vocation has directed him in his work at Cosden as a salvage repairman, Class B, where such items as pipe fittings and valves are restored to service.

Fifteen years ago Dalton was a farmer in the Luther community. After his wife died he left the land and signed on with Cosden on Feb. 21, 1946. As a transport driver he made runs throughout Texas and New Mexico for a year until the trucks were sold. He undertook alternate assignments as a mechanic and painter, but for four years he has been in the salvage department.

A native of Tye, Dalton acquired his schooling in Hilton and Norton, Tex. His five daughters have scattered. Mrs. Richard (Peggy) Scott and Mrs. Jerry (Nelda) Hendricks are in Dallas, the latter being the mother of Dalton's only grandson, born Sept. 19. Mrs. Ralph (Joyce) Parker in Houston has the four granddaughters, ranging in age up to seven years. At the Dalton residence, 1004 East 14th, are Janette and Delores and their step-sister, Frankie Morgan. Dalton and Mrs. Edna Mae Morgan were married last March 31.

Hunting, fishing and auto mechanics are the afterjob interests of Dalton, who looks toward another 15 years with Cosden.

CHEVROLET

at your Chevrolet dealer's one-stop shopping center!

Discovering your kind of car just couldn't be simpler! Why? Because your Chevrolet dealer is offering three separate and complete lines of carsplus the Corvette-for 1962.

If you like your cars full size, by all means consider the beautiful new Jetsmooth '62 Chevrolets. Fourteen models to choose from, including elegant new Impalas, sure-to-please new Bel Airs and neat new Biscaynes.

If you like your cars trim and sporty, then one of the nine new Corvairs, with their sure-footed rear-engine agility, may be just the model for you.

And if in-between size is your size ... you couldn't have come to a better place. You can pick one of the brandnew Chevy II models-each built a new way for a new kind of modern, basic transportation. With so much to choose from, you're sure to find just the size, the model and the worth you want...in one easy stop at your Chevrolet dealer's.

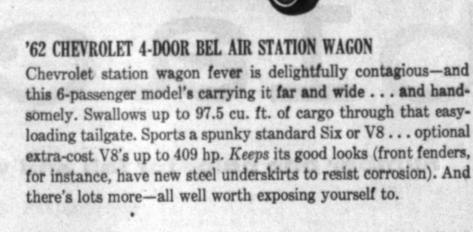

'62 CHEVROLET IMPALA SPORT COUPE

Lovers of good cars, what more could you want? This is a one and only! Folks look twice at this Impala hardtop and still think it's a soft top. The sculptured steel roof is molded into crisp convertible contours . . . it's the sweetest trick of the year. Of course, all the plush roominess, all the Jet-smooth silkiness, all the extra-scatty performance, all the extra Impala refinements, are all here just as you want them. You'd expect no less from the top of the Chevrolet line. And you could scarcely expect more from the top of anybody's line. So why pay more?

THE NEW CHEVY II 100 4-DOOR SEDAN

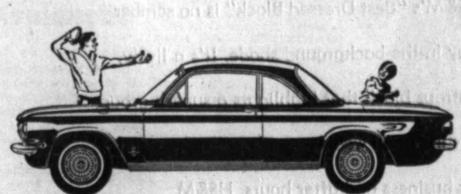

Here's sensibility at its Sunday best. This new-sized family sedan is as spacious as many recent-model full-sized cars inside. Built with sturdy, stylish simplicity. Designed to save you money on service and maintenance. Fenders bolt on for easy fixin'. Tuneups are a cinch with either the frugal 4- or savin' 6-cylinder engine. And those new Mono-Plate rear springs ride satiny smooth-eliminate the friction of multi-leaf springs.

THE NEW CHEVY II NOVA 400 SPORT COUPE

Here's a heart-stopper that's not a budget-stopper. It's Chevy II's soon-to-be-available hardtop-a sporty, sensibly sized traveler with a price tag that says you can own it with the greatest of ease. Front bucket seats are optional at extra cost, along with plenty of other options and accessories. And there's a snappy Chevy II convertible coming to join it soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA CLUB COUPE

If you want to flavor your driving with sports car spice-and not flatten your wallet while you're about it-this one's for you. Corvairs have a perky new look for '62, sporty new interiors and bigger new brakes. They climb, corner and cling with roadrally reflexes (naturally . . . what with 4-wheel independent suspension and the engine in the rear). About the only thing they won't do is cost you a pile of money.

Larry Jernigan, out all year with an injury, was inserted into the Odessa lineup for inspirational dividends and Larry was tremendous but he was no match for the welded effort the Steers made or the remarkable performance staged by Big Spring's great and gifted Jerry Tucker.

The triumph was the fifth in succession for Big Spring and left the Steers tied for first place in District 2-AAAA standings with San Angelo, each with a 2-0 record. The Longhorns also hold the rather unusual distinction of being the only undefeated, untied team in the conference.

The Bronchos took the field knowing what to expect of Tucker and his teammates and couldn't do much about it. The Odessa fans ventured to the field not knowing what was in store for them and stayed to witness, with varying degrees of emotion, the deterioration of what was said to be the finest defensive primary in West

The Longhorns scored once in each quarter to vanquish the Cayuses and at one time led the home team by 16 points. The victory was the first for Big Spring over the Bronchos since 1939 and only the second in all recorded history. The Bronchos held the Steers for downs following the opening kickoff and went out and helped themselves to a touchdown in a 48-yard march that required only three plays.

Jernigan got the score from 39 yards away by running the ball 'up the gut', with 8:44 showing on the clock. It looked remarkably easy and was. The 6,500 plus fans settled back in their seats, half expecting another Steer barbecue. Don Hawkins tried for two extra points on a run but was stopped short.

Big Spring was presented with another scoring opportunity after the Cayuse 24. The Steers moved all the way to Odessa's three but a 15-yard penalty at that point for having an illegal receiver down field took the steam out of the drive.

Odessa couldn't move the pighide and was forced to punt. The Steers came into possession on their own 23 a couple of plays before the first period ended.

Tucker mixed his plays beautifully and the Longhorns proceeded to move the ball 77 yards in nine plays for their second score, fullback Jack Irons cashing in from the one, with 10:36 showing on the clock in Round Two. Mendoza proved a big help in the drive by gaining 48 yards on two passes and Tommy Young set up the score on another aerial that moved the ball 14 yards, all the way

After Irons got the score by muscling over, Pryor tried to kick the PAT but the kick strayed and Big Spring's lead remained at

The two teams sparred until just before the half ended, when Odessa moved from its own 24 down to Big Spring's four. Baxter Moore recovered a Jernigan bobble for the Steers at that point but the over-eager Steers fumbled the ball right back and David Layfield claimed it for the Hosses. Mickey Thurber got the tally on the first play and Odessa pulled to within one point of a tle.

The Hosses tried for two points by sending Jernigan up the middle but the Steer linemen converged on him around the one. The Steers waited until late in the third period to strike again and Tucker lugged it across himself that time from the one on Odessa was to get no closer. Midway in the fourth, Ricca Flores recovered an Odessa fumble on the Broncho 32 and Big Spring set out to get its fourth TD of the game in eight plays.

Eddie Everett took a couple of passes in the drive, covering 13 yards on the second one down to Odessa's seven. The Boyines hacked through the jungle of tacklers down to the one, from which point Maberry sliced through for the TD.

Big Spring got two chances at the PAT and made good the second time, Everett making a shoestring eatch of the ball on a pass from Tucker after Pryor had first tried to boot the ball. Odessa drew a penalty to provide the Bovines with another chance.

Odessa brought Jernigan to the bench shortly thereafter and witched to a box formation, with Martin Benavides handling the ball, to get its third TD. Garden City Breaks YARDSTICK ON BS-ODESSA 5 Game Losing Skein

GAME AT A GLANCE

GARDEN CITY-Garden City's in six starts Friday night, as Imperial fell victim to the Bearcats. 24-16. The contest opened District 5-B play for both teams.

Garden City scored twice in the second period to hold a 16-0 halftime lead. Imperial's Longhorns scored once in each of the third and fourth quarters to tie the game until the Bearkats punched over their game-winning TD midway in the final stanza. Imperial made a much better showing in the second half. The Longhorn defense held Garden City to a mere 30 yards rushing, while their offense picked up 88 yards on the ground and 49 in the air, scoring twice and introducing a serious threat at the game's end. Robby Robinson set up Garden City's first score as he pounced on a fumble at the Imperial 15. Two plays later Gary Pagan went over from the nine. Babe Shields added the two-point conversion.

A 65-yard march highlighted the second Bearkat score. Dennis Cypert tossed to Shields for a 22yard pick-up, and Pagan flashed gains of 13 and six yards to set up Ron Reynolds' one-yard plunge into the end zone. Pagan slipped through right guard for the points

The Longhorns' third touchdown broke a 16-16 deadlock and proved to be the deciding factor. Cypert brought about the score when he snatched an Imperial pass at the 19. Denny Seidenberger drove for 11 yards and then scored on a 2-yard slash through center. Pagan again added the extra point.

Imperial's first score came early in the third quarter, Joe Esparza intercepted a pass at the Garden City 29 to set up the tally, Steve O'Rourke and Esparza car ried for gains of 13 and 9 yards, respectively, before O'Rourke belt-ed over from the 5. Esparza added

The Longhorns drove 36 yards for their final tally, with O'Rourke again doing the scoring honors from the four. Esparza tossed to Junior Rey for the extra point.

Army scored first in the second quarter and though State also collected a TD the Hoydt extra point loomed decisive until the clinching field goal.

It was the option play by quarterback Dick Eckert that led to the Cadet touchdown and the lead they never lost. The victory was Army's seventh in the 12-game series. Two games ended in ties. Dick Peterson, sophomore halfback from Boston, scored Army's touchdown on a 2-yard sprint around left end with 12 seconds remaining in the first half after rule infractions had nullified two earlier Cadet scores.

Bucks Roll Over Illini

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Allscored four touchdowns Saturday as Ohio State launched its Big Ten campaign with a 44-0 victory over inexperienced and injuryriddled Illinois.

Ferguson, held scoreless Ohio's first two games, got his markers the easy way. He went over on a one-yard plunge, twice from two yards out and once from the three after some heroics by his teammates had placed the ball in scoring position.

It was a weird contest in which a blocked kick, safety, two pass interceptions and two fumbles wrecked Illine a third straight loss.

The triumph was Ohio's most impressive in 50 years of combat with Illinois. The 44-point total was matched only by the 1942 national champion Buckeyes, who won 44-20.

Illinois made only two threat-ening gestures. The first time it had the ball it marched 50 yards to Ohio's 3 only to fumble there. Ten times after that, the Illini failed to reach Ohio territory, but on the 11th try young Ron Fearn sparked a 65-yard drive which

Rebs, Cougars Fight To Draw In Midland

MIDLAND-Midland Lee's Rebels and the Cougars of Cooper high fought to a 6-6 draw Friday night. Both are newcomers to district 2-AAAA football

Each team scored its only touchdown in the second quarter, one minute and 21 seconds apart. Cooper scored first on an 82yard march, Fullback Drew Tucker carried the ball 11 times, picking up 37 yards. Although longest drive went 7 yards, Tucker gained on each carry.

Quarterback Bobby McCraw completed two passes during the drive, both to halfback Bill Boyd in the left flat, for 11 and sevenyard gains.

Tucker did the scoring honors, plunging over from the one. Mc-Craw's kicking attempt at the point after hit the right goal post and bounded away.

Two scrimmage plays later, Midland haldback Sammy Flour-noy broke through left tackle and halved three others with Britain maneuvered 71 yards for the tieing score. Dwayne Casbeer's extra point try failed.

Late in the second quarter Cooper drove from its own 11 to Midland 20-yard line infive plays. Tucker peeled off a 26-yard run for the largest gain in the move. Flournoy doused the threat by intercepting a pass.

During activity period Wednes-day the Lasso Club, an organization for HCJC girls, held its first meeting of the year. Delores Howard was selected president of the group. Carolyn Sewell is vice president; Pat Sands, secretary; Amy Eyssen, reporter. A Mother-Daughter Tea is planned for November 5. Several committees were appointed for this event.

The debate team is entering a meet in San Marcos on Dec. 1 and 2. An Invitational Practice Session will be held at HCJC Oct. 23. Those schools invited are San Angelo Junior College, Lubbock Christian College, and Odessa Junior College.

Tuesday and Wednesday new members in WRA went through initiation. Each girl was required to wear a red and gray ribbon in her hair, carry a sack of candy and gum for WRA members, curtsy to sophomore WRA members and teachers, and visit the sponsor and at least three other fellow members once during initiation.

Cash Awards For New Ideas

2nd Lt. William S. Osborn, 3560th Civil Engineering Group at Webb AFB, has received a $25 cash award for a managementimprovement suggestion adopted recently at the base and now in operation in Maintenance and the Repair branch.

A new form and two control boards devised by the lieutenant have simplified planning and coordination of work in the section. It is a refinement of the old system of scheduling technicians for work order jobs. The two boards, rotated each day, facilitate planning for the next day's work, while it keeps a tab on the jobs accomplished during the course of each day.

Incentive cash also went to two other participants in the Military Suggestions program.

Capt. James P. Smith, 3560th Maintenance and Supply Group, earned $5 for a suggestion which eliminated a safety hazard. Also getting $5 was S.Sgt. Oliver Tiersob, Maintenance and Supply, whose idea of using form letters He won the award by displaying to cut down paper work in routine extensions of enlistments proved to be effective.

Milady's Chapeau

MILADY'S CHAPEAU is customarily associated with the springtime. It is traditionally trimmed with bows, flowers or feathers from our winged friends—barnyard variety or colorful, soaring songsters. On the contrary, autumn and a new fall creation are wedded to turn a lady's head. This is not altogether woman's vanity. It is purely practical to prettily cover the head and hair-do when breezes blow and the wind is chill. And speaking of practical, what will father think when he finds that the wife's "fancy lid" has not depleted the family budget but is (and every inch of it) a creation of her own fanciful fingers . . . A class in hat making is now being conducted at Webb Air Force Base by Mrs. August F. Taute. Pupils tell a picture story of a-hat-in-the-making . . .

the country says an expert in fi-nance, Mary G. Roebling.

"And if they are going to continue control of the nation's purse strings, they should learn to do it well as a contribution to our economy," she says.

The first woman to head a major banking institution and the first woman governor of the American Stock Exchange, Mrs. Roebling points out that 80 per cent of the nation's money is spent by wom-en, "yet women are timid about seeking information that will answer their money problems."

Women own 52 per cent of all stock out today, she says, and when they become aware that high finance isn't a big complicated mishmash of egghead proportions, they become eager for financial

"What they fail to realize is that they could stand on a street corner and ask their questions of the first 10 men they meet, and the men wouldn't know the an-swers either."

Mrs. Roebling, who studied economics and business admin-istration at New York University, started her financial career as a customer's woman in a Philadelphia brokerage house. Fourteen years ago she assumed her late husband's post as director of the Trenton Trust Co. She is now president and chairman of the board. The bank's resources expanded from 17 million dollars to more than 90 million during her

Her aim has been to encourage women by education in finance, and she has persuaded brokerage houses to point up their advertising to women, service them with a monthly magazine and to institute investment clubs.

Beauty Retained In Portable Art Gallery

By VIVIAN BROWN

You need not give up indoor culture to live al fresco.

The revival of the stone-set-instone mural technique, popular during the Italian Renaissance permits you to enjoy pictures and murals on terrace, patio or porch.

When colder weather moves in. your "art gallery" can be transferred to the living room.

The advantage of stone art outdoors is that it is weather proof. Let the sun beat down, winds howl and hurricanes blow, the stone pictures will maintain their beauty,' says the reviver of the art, architect Richard Blow.

He was born in Illinois of Virginia parents, attended Princeton

This group takes off Tuesday and Wednesday to Tyndall AFB, Fla., in an effort to win the F-102 world's championship and to show such over-all proficiency as to earn the best-of-meet recognition. The eyes of all Big Spring people will be on them and the best wishes of this area will go with team members, their controllers, crew members, suppliers and

Of course, the end objective of the competition is to demonstrate the precise skill required for direct hits on targets moving at jet speeds. The record of the 331st so far indicates that it is ourstanding in this respect. Performance of the men in the cockpits, however, is in a large measure the product of the efforts of the men servicing and maintaning the planes, operating the electronic devices which put the craft in a position to make contact, and in making maximum utilization of all highly technical equipment.

Like so many other successful ventures this is an example of team work. "Our" 331st has it, and it has that team spirit too. We hope we can salute them as champs when they return.

Project That Deserves Success

Chamber of Commerce committees and the City of Big Spring have under consideration some possible steps for beautification of the entrance to Webb AFB. An honest appraisal will dictate that most of our highway entrances into our city are pretty drab if not downright ugly. A similar look tells us that the approach to Webb is in about the same fix. There was a time that we even let the roads into Webb AFB get into terrible shape. The city figured they belonged to the county, the county thought they belonged to the state, and the state allowed they were the city's business, We trust that no such no-man's land will spring up regarding the entrance improvement proposal. Webb AFB is one of the major attractions as well as major assets of our community. Big Spring is justly pround of it and would like to let the world know how proud it is. One of the best ways would be to work out a system of tidying up the roads leading to the base, and to provide suitable markers and entrance ways. This is a worthy project and one which should be kept alive until maturity.

Marquis Childs U.N. Must Act On Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON - Reports to this capital are to the effect that the Soviet Union may conduct as many as 30 nuclear tests before the present series is concluded and, what is more, there is some indication that these tests are related to development of an anti - missile missle.

As the level of radioactive fallout rises with the 19 nuclear devices already detonated, it becomes imperative that the United Nations take a stand. It s not enough to look the other way, hoping against hope as some of the neutrals seem to be doing, that the tests will end and then everything will be as it was be-

THIS LAST might be the effect of a resolution which India is said to be prepared to put before the United Nations. It would call for an end to all testing. If its adoption, which is assured, should coincide with the end of the Soviet test series. Moscow could use it as a convenient way to try to get off the hook.

With a pious look assumed for the occasion the Soviets would say they were only too happy to stop and they would expect the United States to do the same. Having carried out in secret the most extensive preparations for a test series during the unmonitored moratorium, they could bring their own series to quick completion and strike a noble attitude. Pressures would have been generated in the meantime on the President, regardless of considerations of military necessity, to push American tests, including testing in the stmosphere such as the Soviets have been doing in defiance of opinion through the world.

AN AMERICAN resolution on testing is also in the works. This would begin by regretting the resumption of testing without naming names. It would call on all states to conclude an agreement banning tests under a system of inspection and control, such as Britain and the United States were insisting on during the nearly three years of talks with the Soviet Union in Geneva.

The Soviet bloc would have to oppose such a resolution and at the same time the world organization, with the increasingly preponderant balance of neutral and uncommitted nations, could hardly turn it down. Nevertheless the question of the double standard arises, for if the United States had been the first to start testing again these same neutrals would certainly have rushed in with a resolution condemning this country.

THE DOUBLE standard works both ways and it is one of the reasons for the profound uncertainty over the future of the U.N. Many of the Asian-African delegates are beginning to question the intentions of the Western powers in the Congo. They are saying that while noble utterances come from the West about the need to establish order and lawful government in the Congo, certain of these same Western powers are providing the money and the arms that enable Moise Tshombe to preserve the facade of a goverment in Katanga Province.

THIS IS DONE, of course, by the powerful mining interests in Belgium and Britain that form a kind of axis from Katanga through Northern Rhodesia, with Sir Roy Wilensky as a champion of keeping the mines in safe European hands. This may be a laudable objective from the Western viewpoint. But when it comes to maintaining the so - called government of Tshombe in power, with the threat of civil war in the Congo, then increasingly to many delegates it appears to be an attempt to thwart the will of the

THESE SAME neutral powers have supplied most of the U.N. force that is seeking to establish order in the Congo-India has 7,000 troops there. If they were to become convinced that the West was privately giving a free rein to the mining combine while professing to believe in the objectives of the U.N., they could decide to withdraw their support for the difficult and uncertain Congo operation. The end result would almost certainly be civil war, with tribal war in Katanga as a ghastly sideshow which would very likely overwhelm Tshombe and the mines.

There is no sign that this is imminent, and for the present nuclear testing is far more acute an issue in relation to the double standard as it threatens to destroy the U.N. American monitoring of the Soviet test has been remarkably thorough and effective. Certain of the shots have been from planes and these obviously had no connection with any beginning effort on an anti-missile missile.

TWO OF THE 19 shots could have been the very earliest tests of the kind of device which, if prefected, would give the side to get it first an enormous advantage. No one can be sure. They may have been merely tests of what weaponeers call just a plain old Nike, the American weapon to shoot down invading air-

WASHINGTON, Oct. - "How do you answer the charge that this administration is anti - business?

That was my first question after Secretary of Commerce Luther H. On the wall back of Hodges' desk was a counterbalancing photo - por-trait of President Kennedy and a color - photo of the President and Mrs. Kennedy.

Hodges pondered his reply. "If somebody thinks you're something, then you are. If business men think the President is antibusiness, it's hard to get them to think otherwise.

"I'd agree that the President. steel companies not to raise he said carefully. "But he didn't. He made an appeal to them. He wanted the steel companies - and the union too - to take account of the intense competition America faces in international trade, of the need to improve our balance of payments deficit, and of the necessity to keep down inflation." The suspicion crossed my mind that he was easy. not completely happy about the steel letter. Was I reading my own

Culture Report: Moanin' Low Music

Well, pardner, this was supposed to be the time for me to report on more culture, which is what you seems to be interesested in, even if you don't know

THERE WAS a planna player here the other night-one of those who strikes a blow for culture. You know how to tell 'em-they wear split-tall coats and standup collars, sit pretty well to the front of the planna bench while attacking the instrument, and don't ever have to use music, as if the audience would know when they missed a note, anyhow.

But the fact is that I didn't get exposed to this particular culture music. Just wasn't here. So next best thing is to report on some culture music I did get next to.

THE KIND I am going to tell you about comes from only one place in the worldleastways, only in the U.S. of A. This is spang in the middle of a thrown-away country and is called Las Vegas.

They got these big cacinos up and down the main streets. And out along another road is a whole passel of fancy hotels. They are fancy in what they look like as well as in what they charge.

THE MUSIC I am gonna tell you about is the kind that is heard in these casinos, both downtown and in the hotels. With only a few outbursts to make it different, most of this music is the sad, dismal, lonesome, discouragin' kind. Plumb like a dirge, as a musician would say.

Take the slot machines. Slip a coin into the hungry lil thing's mouth, pull down the handle, and there comes this brief rhythm, sorta like, blickety, blickety, blap. The blap is where your quarter went down into a deep hole, never to be seen again. I take it there ain't no more frettin' sound on earth than that blickety. blickety, blap. Thing is, you keep thinking the tune will change, so you drop in more quarters-till they're all gone, OR YOU can use nickels or dimes or dollars. The music is all the same.

Oh, once in a week somebody will tune up one of the machines, and get a blickup one of the machines, and get a blick-ety, blickety—sprattle, sprattle, splang! That's the sound of coins sloshing out of the bottom of the thing, and some splash-ing out on the floor. This movement is climaxed by a loud squeal if the player is a lady, or a satisfied shout or grunt if it's a man, and you have completed this particular symphony.

THERE IS more music over at a kind of table where a unhappy lookin' feller flips a big wheel, then tosses a little round pellet in it, the pellet running the opposite way from way the wheel is turn-

This composition goes tiddly, tiddly, tiddly, gloomp. The gloomp means the little ball fell into an odd-number slot if you was hopin' for even-or into a red slot, if you was pullin' for black, There is a lot of repetition in piece of music, too, until a feller in his right mind would get up a leave the table. Those tiddly, tiddly, tiddly, gloomps can rub your nerves raw,

BECAUSE the cadenza is climaxed with that soft swish that is made by the unhappy lookin' feller sliding a little hockey stick around over the felt, pulling in the

Generation Of Conservatives

WASHINGTON - Shortly after the Cuban fiasco, Senator Barry Goldwater was called to the White House and, arriving in the President's office before the President, sat down to try out the famous rocking chair. When the President entered, he good-humoredly said:

"Barry, if you want the chair, you can have it-and this (censored) job, too."

THE REMARK was spoken in jest, of course, like many true words. The men are on easy terms and both are patients of Dr. Janet Travell, who is frequently given time off by the President to treat the Senator. But the happy example of good sportsmanship and good sense contains also a hard glimpse of truth.

These two men, John Kennedy and Barry Goldwater, are the winners of uphill fights as leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties, are the chosen champions of Left and Right, are in a running battle that will carry through three more Congressional sessions and many other confrontations and that will end with a decision that will far surpass in significance the meaningless election of last year. Moreoever-and this believe to be the least known fact in the public domain-Mr. Kennedy and Liberalism are on the skids, while Senator Goldwater and his Conservatism are up and coming so fast that they could sweep the country by 1964.

IT WOULD BE redundant at this date to document the New Frontier's failure at home and abroad, its loss of prestige with the metropolitan press and its loss of face with the American people, Besides, the causes of JFK's failure lie further in the past, and deeper in their causes, than is evident by events of the 87th Congress, the dismal performances over Cuba, Laos, West Berlin and elsewhere, Many of us who have covered the stretch of history in the past decade have sensed and reported the tides of change in American thinking. And now the momentous but unfinished revolution of thought is chronicled in a book whose title, "Revolt on the Campus," is misleading in its modesty. M. Stanton Evans, editor at 27 of the Indianapolis News, is writing of his own generation, which grew up in 1951-61.

"IT WAS FOR American Liberalism." Evans writes of Inauguration Day, 1961, 'the worst of time.'

Despite surface evidences, a young Liberal President in office and the accent on youthful intellectualism, the youth of America had already begun to clear its head of Liberal dialectics and to give its heart to Barry Goldwater,

EVANS IS no word-waster, and it takes him 241 tight pages to tell what happened, and why. The revolt which started on the campus now flourishes through the writings, speeches and influences of the scores of young authors, editors, organizers and politicians whose names and affiliations are given in this running tale. To mention a few would be an injustice to the

Anybody who doesn't know, or wants to confirm, what has really happened to American thinking as we push into the 1960's should start by reading, "Revolt on the Campus."

President Shows Determination

WASHINGTON - If the men in Moscow have been under the illusion that the United States isn't determined to stand firm in the current crisis over Berlin, they must have been dismayed by President Kennedy's grim words at his Wednesday press conference.

It was an opportunity for the President to allay rumors that the American position might be weakening, and he made

FOREIGN MINISTER Gromyko, by his talks with Secretary Rusk and with President Kennedy and with Prime Minister Macmillan, presumably has learned just what the Western position is. But the world had no definite or authoritative information until the President spoke.

In fact, Mr. Kennedy was careful in the choice of words. He said that all the conversations with the Soviets thus far had merely been exploratory - an attempt to define precisely the position of each side - and that this should not be called "negotiations."

THIS, OF COURSE, is a technical use of the word "negotiations," but is has nevertheless a particular purpose at the moment. For the United States government doesn't want to be represented as having advanced any compromise sug-

It was important for President Kennedy to make it clear to the Kremlin that he hasnt retreated or receded and that he means to go ahead-even if it means war. What better way to emphasize this than to say it over radio and television to the assembled press in answer to impromptu questions?

FOR THE Moscow government must make up its mind soon whether it will seek further advances in the "cold war" and take risks on the American government's policies. Thus, for example, Mr. Kennedy in a few words gave the Russians something to think about when he announced that he had ordered General Maxwell Taylor of the White House staff to go to Vietnam and look things over. The President didn't say what kind of assistance America would give to its ally in Southeast Asia but left the plain inference that, when the General returns with his report, a decision will be made whether to send American military forces into Southeast Asia. A war in that region could involve Red China, which has no nuclear weapons.

THIS IS A significant way also of advising Moscow that the United States is net becoming preoccupied by the Berlin crisis and recognized that there are things to be done in Laos and elsewhere to counter Communist aggression,

No light was shed by the President on any specific plan to settle by mutual agreement the disputed points in the Berlin controversy. This is not surprising. For Mr. Kennedy purposely gives the impression that he is biding his time and will not take precipitate action of any

IT HAS BEEN reported, for instance, that President De Gaulle of France does not think there should be any negotiations until the Russians give some sign of making concessions. He is said to have been displeased by the recent talks with Foreign Minister Gromyko here and as inclined to describe them as "negotiations." Mr. Kennedy's words were undoubtedly intended to reassure the French president that no attempt had been made to carry "negotiations." Externally at least, this helps to preserve Allied solidarity. THE COUNTRY cannot tell from anything Mr. Kennedy said to the press on Wednesday whether or not there's going to be war. But neither can Nikita Khrushchev. One point needs to be stressed. The President of the United States cannot trifle with the security of this country, and the Soviet premier ought to take a good look at Mr. Kennedy's exact words. He pointedly referred to America's military build - up in recent months. When a President say that the United States means to defend its rights by force, if necessary, such a statement should not be discounted but should be taken seriously. That's why Mr. Kennedy's comments at his press conference could play a vital part in shaping the future course of events in the world.

Furniture Fashion Has Three Faces

PROVINCIAL

Provincial furniture, today, honors rural craftsmen of France, Italy, England and our own first Colonies as they never were in their own time. Itinerant carpenters and cabinet makers for European country folk and America's pioneers imitated styles of their city-based designer contemporaries. They added their own or client's whimsical details. Today's Early American, French Provincial and Country English furniture still carries the charm and naivete of design details which brightened rugged country living from the late 16th Century on. For vastly different reasons, now, millions of Americans nostalgically seek the tranquility of rural life. Provincial furniture provides the spirit of it, the gracious charm.

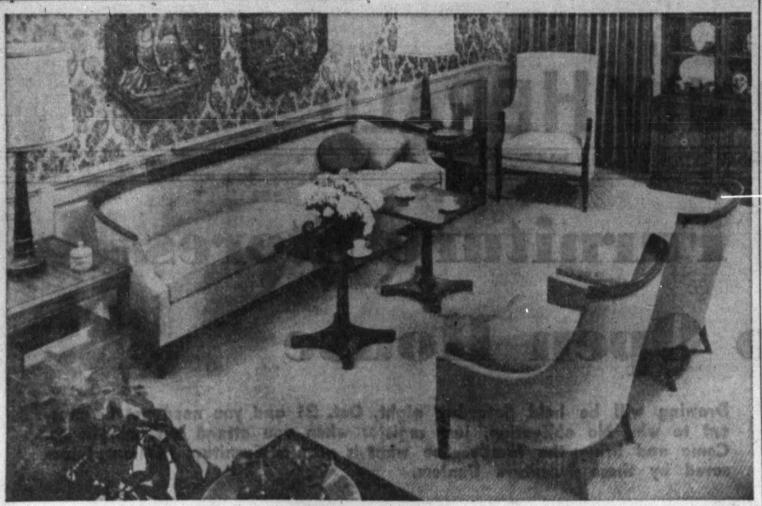

MODERN

Modern furniture design stands, this year, at the center of the stage, playing a key role in its own right and strongly influencing the characteristics of both Provincial and Classic styles. As a star in 1961 furniture presentations, it may be seen in rustic mood, borrowed from Provincial forms. Or it may appear lightly decked with Classic details. Stripped, after three decades, of most of its original European influences, our modern furniture now seems to be establishing a new, purely American furniture style. With bows to the past and eyes on the future our creative designers are already showing the new directions. Cloaked in rich woods, native and imported, shielded for practicality with new materials the first groups are debuting now.

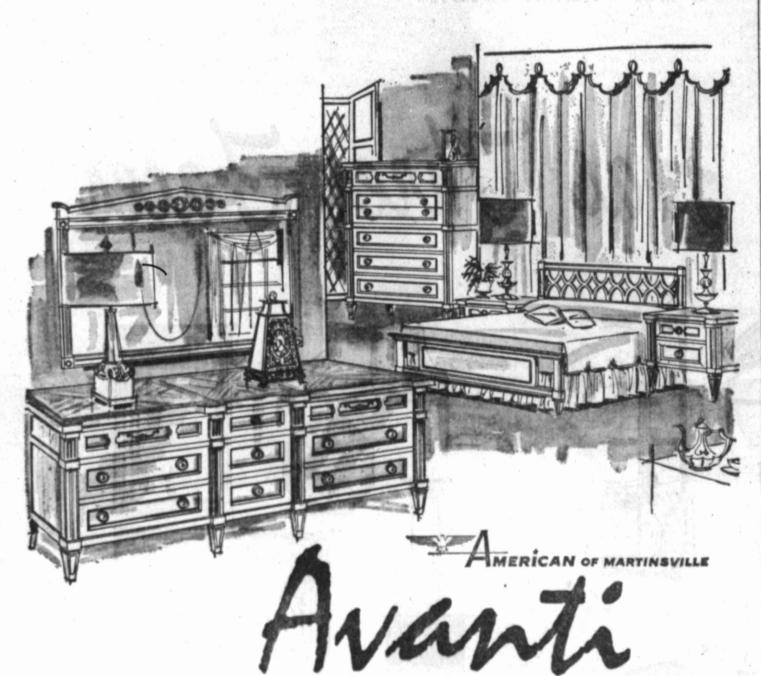

CLASSIC

Classic furniture styles have continued to bring a sense of ordered design elegance to furniture form and ornament for nearly three hundred years. Just as ancient Greek buildings, from which come fluted posts, pediments, cornices and pilasters, are a source of admiration to modern architects, so today's furniture designers turn to the works of master cabinet makers at the peak of their 18th Century brilliance, spurred by discovery of Greek ruins. Current interpretation of classic furniture of England, France and Italy is modified, simplified by our point of view of our world, its way of living. The purity of line and form, the elegant detail will always enrich the lives of Americans who enjoy ordered formality.

Outstanding Beauty

Drexel's Triune is noted for its outstanding beauty and richness. Exacting attention has been given to quality, classic refinements in detail, dignity of design, and elegance of appearance, as visitors at Good Housekeeping, 907 Johnson, will find this week as they visit the store. The line is perfectly attuned to today's tempo through superbly grained woods and durable, strikingly attractive upholstery.

Italian provincial in antique white contrasted with walnut parquet tops

Here's a bedroom destined to be at home in the most sophisticated rooms. The finish is something new, antiqued with tiny flecks, hand glazed to a velvety, warm glow, soft as candle light, and accented with touches of gold. Tops are of walnut veneers, carefully selected for beauty of grain, and precisely matched in a handsome parquet. Prices are very modest for furniture of this high quality. Come see Avanti

Indicator Of Approval

'Classic' Is

"Classic" indicates timeless approval, as applied to literature, art, music and furniture designs. In the realm of furniture "Classic" may indicate derivation from certain English, French, Italian or American epochs of design prestige. In all countries during the 18th Century designers and architects enthusiastically and skillfully adopted the forms of Greek and Roman architecture. The ruins at Pompeii had only recently been unearthed.

In each country of course, the interpretation took somewhat different form, and in some countries the influence was in popular favor for a longer time.

Over the years the proportions identifying shape of legs, arms and backs of chairs, etc., were modified by various cabinet mak-ers. Many of the Classic designed furniture to be seen in stores this fall, is of Italian origin. It is often referred to as Italian Provincial, cause of one of the great archiect-designers, Palladio.

He created beautiful furniture for the Country Manor Houses near Padua. His drawings, a heritage to our own designers are rich Like the good "little black dress" you can dress Classic current adaptations.

Keyboard Takes Its Place In

The keyboard instrument has taken its place as an important home fashion as well as hobby and pleasure. One out of every five homes have either an organ or a piano. Furniture grouping in terms of overall effect, as well as convenience for both player and listener, is a problem of many home decorators.

Make a plan before you begin to rearrange the room, advises Gladys Blair, consultant to the Hammond Organ Co.

As you plan, consider the possibility of placing the instrument at right angles to a wall, as well as the more usual arrangement where the back is toward the wall. The player may enjoy the view of the room or a view from the window may inspire him, she said. Best of all, the listeners can see the player's face, instead of his

Placing the narrow end of the instrument, instead of the back, against a wall, opens up many rangements. Space between two windows might be utilized. A short wall, where the player would have a wide view of the important sofa-chair grouping would be ideal. This permits listeners to see the player's hand movements.

At right angles to a longer wall, the instrument might be placed between flanking tall cabinets, for books, or lower ones which house the home entertainment equipment, or by the sections of a sofa.

Mrs. Blair cited two situations to avoid. Never place an organ or piano diagonally across the corner of a room. It could make the player feel like a punished child, she smiled. Avoid too, right angle placement to a short wall having doors at either end. Traffic lanes might be impeded in that case, she pointed out. Choose such a wall area for a breakfront cabinet to balance the height of the doors, she hinted. Instruments of a spinet size and smaller are available with screwwood case. Or a covering panel for the back can easily be made by the do-it-yourselfer.

Scaled To Fit

Within the range of Early American furniture adaptations, the modern homemaker, will find many pieces especially scaled for smaller rooms. No bit of nostalgic flavor has been lost. The charm, warm color and relaxed way of living is just as apparent. Smaller units such as chests, buffets, with or without smaller rooms will take all the necessary furnishings.

"For many years manufacturers have been presenting us with coordinated packages of furniture, fabrics and floor coverings—even in some cases, accessories too," Mrs. Brandt said. "These represented a systematized relationship of color, style, design and finish, in which everything matched.

The same wood finish and design details, are carried out all through the furniture group, and fabrics and floor coverings are designed to go with it.

A GOOD IDEA-BUT! This is a fine idea and insures an attractively furnished house, she said. But for those adventuresome souls, with wide interest in art, music, travel and the artifacts of other cultures than ours, there are other groups of furni-ture, she pointed out. A single group of furniture may use an amazing variety of woods, design each piece distinctive though with a general family relationship.' THE BEST, BLENDED

As an example of this family relationship. Mrs. Brandt mentioned a dining group recently introduced by a manufacturer in North Carolina. It blends various traditional design details such as arches, reeded columns and a Sheration - inspired chair rail with Oriental pendant hardware. Designers have been especially interested in late 18th and 19th Century furniture details for about the last two years. This fall will see full scale presentations of such styles.

The Colonial or Early American period has been a continuous favorite ever since it was originally hand made by the earliest settlers. Within the past three years appreciation for its warm charm has made it the most favored styles of today's home makers.

But most of the special pieces of furniture which are being offered a new home in the White House were undoubtedly made by highly skilled cabinet makers of New York, Boston and Philadel-Duncan Phyfe, were famous in their own times. Modern Echoes Past Styles

Every age in history has called itself "Modern." Art, science, personal skills and knowledge develop so greatly in the span of generation or two, that modern is an applicable term. Each progressive step drew strength to go forward from the carry-over knowledge of the previous era.

Little wonder therefore, that our "modern" furniture echoes our own and other past designs and styles. As our furniture designers glance backward, they also look forward. Their imaginations often outstrip public acceptance. Hence furniture design changes slowly.

But these same advanced ideas may become the foundation of the "medern" of two generations "modern" of two generations from now. As everyone becomes accustomed to an age of even reater electronic and mechanical living conveniences the shape and size of our rooms may change. Peering into the future, it may be that furniture designers will be giving their modern furniture just a touch of the 1960-61 styles to ease the transition to a real-farout style.
