Guardsmen of Battery A, local unit of the 49th Division which went on active duty Sunday, polish their drill techniques with workouts over the rough terrain behind the Armory. As practice continues steps are made more in unison and the commands given take on a crisp military tone. Marching is only one form of basic training which the Guardsmen will be undergoing before they leave here for Ft. Polk, La. All of the men reported for duty Sunday as scheduled, according to Capt. Dewie Stevenson, commander. He could not release official figures on the strength of the unit, but only two men have been dropped from the original 81 total and others have been added since then.

Guardsmen On Duty Here, Preparing For Ft. Polk

By JOE BEYER

The National Guard Armory here has become a scene of orderly motion as local Guardsmen put on their uniform for the coming months and began readying for a tour of active duty. It began Sunday morning when the 79 men reported for duty.

"They are all here," Capt. Dewie Stevenson, commander, said today. "Six of the men will be leaving Tuesday to get things ready at Ft. Polk, La. for the main body."

Two National Guard divisions and 249 lesser reserve and guard units today began a stretch of active duty and could last up to five months. The local unit is Battery A, 3rd Artillery Howitzer Battalion, 132nd Artillery of the 49th Armored Division.

Until they leave for Ft. Polk, or for schools elsewhere, the men will be taking rigorous basic training here, Capt. Stevenson said. Inventory checks will be made and all equipment will be brought to full strength preparatory to leaving.

In addition to the group which leaves for Ft. Polk Tuesday, another group will leave Oct. 21. The remainder of the unit will leave Oct. 23.

The noon meal will be prepared Armory, Capt. Stevenson said. Only five men will remain there at night, however. Bunks have been set up in the Day Room of the Armory and men will stay there, not at Webb as was previously reported.

The men are Lt. Carl L. Black, Austin, recently assigned to the unit; Lt. Charles H. McKay, Spec. 4 Thomas H. Corwin, Pfc. Marvin E. Tollett and Spec. 4 Leslie R. Bonner.

Five men did not pass the physical examination and others who are teachers may be deferred from duty, but orders have not been received to that effect yet, according to Capt. Stevenson. Until orders are received, these men will be on duty.

Called to duty Sept. 19, units scattered across the country reported to Army posts Sunday. In all, about 73,000 Army reservists and guardsmen were involved, bringing to 153,000 the number of Army, Navy and Air Force Reservists called to duty to increase U.S. military strength.

At full strength the 49th Division will have about 14,000 men.

District Court

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, Jerry Spence, court reporter; Gil Jones, district attorney; and a number of Big Spring lawyers are in Stanton today for a jury docket opening in the Martin County court house.

Both civil and criminal cases are set down for disposal at this week's session.

COMMUNITY TO SALUTE ITS SOLDIERS

A community salute for the men of the local National Guard unit has been planned Tuesday by Chamber of Commerce officials.

An informal farewell party for the Guardsmen is being sponsored Thursday by the post of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Tuesday salute will be held at the Armory, beginning at 5 p.m. The Big Spring High School band will be on hand to play retreat and John Taylor, mayor pro-tem, will give the address.

Officials urged all Big Springs to be on hand for the event and give the men a good sendoff. Tuesday is the last day that all men of the unit will be in the city, as several will leave ahead of the main body.

Thursday, at 7 p.m., the party will be held in the Legion hut, on US 87 south. It is to be a stag affair in the nature of a buffet dinner. Following brief formalities, the evening will be given over to informal visiting.

All members of the Legion and VFW posts are urged to be on hand.

Islanders Ousted By Volcano Arrive In Cape Town

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The 280 islanders of Tristan da Cunha, dispossessed by a volcano, arrived in Cape Town today for their first bewildering contact with the 20th century world.

They arrived aboard the Dutch liner Tjisadane, which picked them up from neighboring Nightingale Island in the Atlantic after their island was shattered.

A large crowd turned out to greet them. Many of the newcomers had clothing and other gifts from the Tristranders, a people of British descent. The refugees are expected to go to Britain eventually.

Only a dozen had ever before left their isolated, mountainous colony of 42 square miles, dominated by the 7,640-foot volcanic peak that for centuries was extinct. Earthquakes accompanied the eruption last Monday.

The British frigate Leopard sailed from the doomed island today after loading movable possessions, the people, largely farmers and fishermen, left behind.

The sailors salvaged everything portable of value. They destroyed abandoned pets that could not be expected to fend for themselves.

Ahead Of 1960

Postal receipts for the first nine months of 1961 are $6,772.17 greater than for the same nine months in 1960 but receipts for September were $66 less than for September a year ago, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said.

September receipts this year were $28,000.36 compared with $28,136.78 last year. Total receipts for the office for the first nine months of current year are $275,615.89. For the same period in 1960, the total was $286,843.72.

Talks Delay Underscores Berlin Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cancellation of a proposed Western Big Four meeting underlined today the difficulties the Allies will face among themselves if they ever get into negotiations with Russia over Berlin.

The proposed meeting of senior diplomats from the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in London this week to work out a common negotiating position had been tentatively agreed on, a State Department spokesman said Saturday.

Sunday the spokesman said there had been no decision on the high-level parity and, instead, the Big Four ambassadorial group which has been meeting here regularly on the Berlin crisis "will continue here in Washington."

The reason for the switch, informants said, was France, which objected that it would be premature to get into discussions on negotiations when the Kremlin has offered nothing the West can negotiate about.

The future of inter-allied talks remained obscure as the Western diplomats discussed what to do next. The United States had an invitation out to the proposed participants to come to Washington.

In London the Foreign Office said its delegate, Deputy Undersecretary Sir Evelyn Shuckburgh, would go to Washington. A West German spokesman said over the weekend the Bonn delegate, Deputy Foreign Minister Karl Carstens, planned to leave for London Wednesday as scheduled. In Washington, Asst. Secretary of State Ford Kohler dropped his plan to go to London.

France's Jean Lalois, Director of European Affairs in the Foreign Ministry, apparently was going to no meeting on negotiations — either in London or Washington.

The French stand is that the Allies would weaken their bargaining position by rushing into negotiations with the Reds over a Moscow-caused dispute while the Kremlin is threatening Berlin and has displayed no willingness to negotiate on anything the West can give up.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British have favored moving toward negotiations with the Russians on grounds the explosive issue is too dangerous to let drift.

A Third 'K' Will Be Topic

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, the Soviet Union's Western-inclined next-door neighbor, arrived today for a two-day visit with President Kennedy and was given a red carpet welcome.

"No visitor could be more welcome," Kennedy told Kekkonen.

Kennedy flew back from a weekend on Cape Cod and waited at the airport to greet Kekkonen when the Finnish president arrived at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

The President and Mrs. Kekkonen arrived at the air base 10 minutes before Kekkonen's plane landed. Mrs. Kennedy joined in welcoming the Finnish president and his wife.

After the airport welcoming ceremonies, the Kennedys and the Kekkonens flew by helicopter to the White House.

They lunched at the White House.

Later in the afternoon the Kekkonens will receive Finnish citizens at the embassy and conclude their first day in Washington as guests at a state dinner given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Demos Push Efforts To Down Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Encouraged by their private polls, Democrats are putting new punch into efforts to defeat Republican nominee James P. Mitchell in the New Jersey governor's race.

Mitchell, former secretary of labor in the Eisenhower Cabinet, generally is regarded as the favorite over Democrat Richard J. Hughes in one of the few contests that hold national significance in this year's elections. Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner has held the office since 1953 and was not eligible to run again this year.

Democrats at national headquarters here are talking more and more confidently about the possibility of a Nov. 7 victory which would be a blow to Republican revival hopes in the industrial East. They say their polls show Hughes making significant gains.

HOUSE CONTROL

If Mitchell can win the New Jersey governorship, the Republicans hope to go into the 1964 presidential election with New York and New Jersey state house control, which carries with it organizational benefits denied to the Democrats.

The Republicans already have the Massachusetts governorship, which they seek to hold next year. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York also will be a candidate for re-election next year. There will be strong Republican bids in 1962 to turn the Democrats out in Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

Pop Defends Girl In Corps

BOSTON (AP) — The father of a young woman Peace Corps member whose postcard caused an uproar in Nigeria says his daughter entered the corps "to help the country and ease world tensions."

A postcard Margery Michelmoré, 23, had written in Nigeria and intended to send to a friend in this country, mentioned poverty and squalor in Nigeria.

It drew strong criticism from African students and a demand that the Peace Corps get out of Nigeria.

The young woman's father, Howard Michelmoré of Foxboro, a business executive, said his daughter "was brought up around Foxboro and Boston, so how could she know what real poverty was like?"

Miss Michelmoré is a 1960 graduate of Smith College.

"She just wanted to help the country and ease world tensions," her father said. "It was what she wanted to do — I had no objections."

"She disliked publicity and certainly would not do this with intent."

Rightists Protest Sale Of Planes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) The first meeting of the National Indignation Convention — formed to protest the training of Yugoslav pilots by the United States — drew about 1,200 persons Sunday night.

Frank B. McGehee, chairman of the group, told a cheering crowd "the entire United States is looking to see how indignant and resolute we are."

McGehee, who said he is a member of the John Birch Society, said that about $1,200 was collected Sunday night and that newspaper ads asking for contributions are being planned.

Ford Readies Its Plants As Strikes Are Called Off

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. aimed today at having its 120,000 production workers back at their jobs by Wednesday, the United Auto Workers Sunday having ordered local unions to call off strikes at all but two of Ford's 85 plants.

There was doubt, however, just how far Ford could go without settlement at one of the two plants still struck — the Walton Hills stamping plant outside Cleveland, Ohio, which employs 3,300 and makes pressed metal parts for all of Ford's car divisions.

A strike at Walton Hills a year ago began to take Ford assembly lines down in six days, and a union spokesman predicted today that if this plant were not back working in nine days, all Ford assembly lines would be affected.

MAY CONTINUE

Besides authorizing workers at Walton Hills to continue their strike in support of local-level demands, the UAW's international executive board told the 1,700 employees Sunday it represents in an engine factory at Wayne, Mich., they could continue their walkout for an at-the-plant settlement to supplement the national contract.

Ford and the UAW reached agreement last Thursday on a new three-year national contract that carried wage and fringe improvements which the union estimated worth more than 12 cents hourly in take-home pay. Similar benefits had been won earlier at American Motors Corp. and General Motors Corp.

Chrysler Corp. is the next target for UAW bargainers. Chrysler negotiations, as had Ford's, have been allowed to slide while the union hammered away elsewhere.

On the strength of its national contract and a series of local settlements Ford summoned about a third of its 120,000 production workers back today. It said maintenance workers would be recalled to others, that most production workers would be back on the job Tuesday and all by Wednesday, it hoped.

NEW PACKAGE

While agreeing to a new nationwide wage and fringe benefits package Thursday, the UAW authorized workers at a score of Ford plants to continue strikes in support of local-level demands.

Seven units, representing 13,000 within Local 600 at Ford's huge Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn, were the only ones outside at-the-plant agreements to continue striking.

At one plant where agreement was reached Sunday, however, a strike had been in progress since July 26. That strike was at Ford's St. Louis assembly plant, where 1,000 had walked out in a dispute over production standards and relief time accorded workers.

When the St. Louis workers left their posts, there still was an estimated six-day run of 1961 models in the pipelines. When it finishes up these models, the St. Louis plant is slated to switch to 1962 Mercurs.

The Atlanta and Dearborn assembly lines, both closed for model changeovers when the Oct. 3 strike came, will not be reopened immediately. They will begin operation when changeover procedures are completed.

Appeal For Fund Increase Made As 2 More Groups Begin

A special appeal coincided this morning with kickoff efforts of two more United Fund groups of volunteer workers, as the campaign continued to gather steam.

Groups beginning to work today are the metropolitan division and the service station division, a part of the metropolitan. The service station division was created this year.

"The group has no special goal because there is no precedent to work against, but you can be sure they will go all out," Andy Glenn, manager, said.

Four chairmen were at the meeting today to select cards. They will appoint workers to assist them. The chairmen are Roy Bruce, Tom Conway, Zack Gray and R. F. Dunlap.

The metropolitan division had a goal of $7,500. Both groups will try to complete their work by Friday night, Glenn said. They will report on progress as the cards are worked.

As the new efforts got underway, a special appeal to increase gifts in proportion to the UP's need this year came from Campaign Chairman Marvin M. Miller.

Said Miller: "We are pleased to report today that within two weeks about 50 per cent our goal has been reached. It could be, of course, that the first half is easiest — that remains to be seen. I am still confident that our citizens will give generously so that our goal will be accomplished this month."

"It is interesting to note that the first donors in the Big Gifts Division increased their giving over last year by an average of 11 per cent, but reports for the last few days indicate that some are not increasing over last year's contributions. We hope this recent trend is not indicative of what to expect from other divisions."

"As has been said before, we have to get 10 per cent more than we received last year, plus an additional $2,500 for Hurricane Carla relief. It can be seen that the community must average 10 to 15 per cent more in their giving than they did last year or we cannot reach our goal of $105,000. Please keep this in mind as the Metropolitan and Area Division workers call on you this coming week."

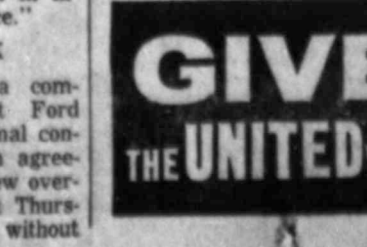

Something To Chirp About

"Over 200 of your fellow citizens have volunteered to make this house — to house and do — a door solicitation, and they are giving of their time as well as their money. It would be helpful if all of us to give them a friendly welcome and a substantial contribution — you will be helping yourself as well as the 12 agencies being taken care of by this year's United Fund."

Slightly more than $50,000 has been turned in. The goal is $102,494 plus $2,500 as the local share of aid to the Hurricane Carla disaster area.

The balance needed to meet the goal should be sharply cut today as more workers for the employee division report. Other divisions which have not completed their task will continue to report as they progress.

Jiminy Cricket, the United Fund mascot, figured he had something to chirp about Monday when an entirely new division of the United Fund held its kickoff. This is the service station group, formerly functioning as an integral part of the metropolitan division. This year, however, service station operators will have their own special push under the leadership of Roy Bruce and Foy Dunlap, top, and Tom Conway and Zack Gray, bottom. Service stations constitute the largest single classification of businesses in the county.

Pakistani Camel Driver Gets Big Look At Texas

BASHIR AHMAD

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson today gave a Pakistani camel cart driver the same gill-edge treatment that has charmed heads of nations.

Bashir Ahmad, 44, who sports a flowing black mustache, and Johnson arrived at the latter's central Texas ranch Sunday night. London fog and the grounding of American civil flights in Sky Shield II combined to cause a delay of almost 12 hours.

"Two of my prayers have been answered," Bashir told Mrs. Johnson, who met him and the vice president at the air strip back of the LBJ Ranch house.

"One prayer was that our family was in good health and the other was that I would come to America."

The camel driver then was whisked to the ranch house in a jeep flying the Pakistani flag.

"Ranchers and cattlemen here do not use camels, but we are familiar with the problems that face your country," Johnson told Bashir. "When you return, I hope you will feel much closer to the American people."

The vice president took Bashir on a tour similar to sightseeing trips given President Kennedy, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Pakistan President Ayub Khan, and Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. Bashir's trip originally was scheduled for July 4 but was delayed until after the visit of the Pakistani President.

Today's schedule included a visit to the Federales Electric Cooperative in Johnson City and a noon barbecue attended by some of Johnson's neighbors.

Johnson will take his guest Tuesday on a tour of Six Flags Over Texas, an entertainment center near Dallas, and then to the State Fair in Dallas where Bashir will be honored at a ceremony in front of the Hall of State.

They will go to Washington by plane late Tuesday.

The vice president first greeted the camel driver when Bashir arrived in New York Sunday aboard a jet airliner from London.

Johnson—to whom Bashir refers as "the deputy king"—first met the camel driver while the vice president was touring Pakistan last spring. As he shook hands with Bashir, Johnson said, "Come over and see me," and Bashir accepted. American business men made the trip possible under the People-to-People program.

Ike Originated Slav Air Deal, Post Story Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Post said today it had learned President Kennedy was assured by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower that the shipment of surplus Saber jet fighters to Yugoslavia was in the national interest.

"Gen. Eisenhower is said to have told President Kennedy," the Post story said, "that the planes shipped to Yugoslavia were obsolescent and would never be a factor in a major war of the future."

"The decision to ship the planes to Yugoslavia was made before the change of administration last January and explained to the incoming president by the outgoing president, according to a source informed about the background of the affair."

Disclosing the transaction last week, the State Department said it was intended to help Yugoslavia stay free of Soviet domination. In connection with the sale of the 135 planes, eight Yugoslav Air Force men are being trained at Perrin Air Force Base, Tex.

There has been criticism of the deal from some Congress members. Saturday, administration officials reported that Kennedy last month had ordered a review of U.S. aid to Yugoslavia.

U.N. Caught In Congo Squeeze

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula, protesting the new U.N.-Katanga pact strengthens President Moise Tshombe, declared the central Congo government is still determined to take over the rich secessionist province.

The U.N. meanwhile got a warning from Tshombe that unless the U.N. Advisory Committee on the Congo ratifies the agreement, he will hold as hostages the 184 U.N. troops taken prisoner in the recent fighting.

Paul E. Rogers of Sweetwater preaches Monday night, beginning a series of 12 revival sermons for the church of Christ, 3900 W. Highway 80. His subject: "Hear Ye the Words of the Lord." Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively, he will speak on "God's Two Contracts" and "The World's Greatest Need." Services will be each evening at 7:30 until Oct. 26. The public is cordially invited.

Result Of Drug Hearings: Whom Does One Believe?

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A new round of a prolonged battle royal — perhaps the bitterest yet — is coming up on the issue of whether drug prices and profits are too high.

Starting today, the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee will open a fresh chapter of hearings on a hotly controversial bill to place the drug manufacturing industry under tighter federal police control.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., is an outgrowth of nearly two years of stormy and widely-publicized investigations by the subcommittee.

The bill calls for changes in the Sherman Antitrust Act, the Patent Code, and the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. Backers say the intent is "to lower drug prices to consumers and to improve the protection afforded under present law."

HIS GOALS

Kefauver's announced goals are: 1. To slay down allegedly monopolistic practices by big companies which he contends have grossly inflated prescription drug prices; 2. force more competition among drug makers and enable small manufacturers to compete on more equal terms with the large ones; 3. make sure that medicines are safe and efficacious and that doctors are told the whole story of the good and bad points of a given drug.

The drug industry contends that existing law is good enough if Congress will only vote enough money to let the Food and Drug Administration do the policing and inspection job needed.

The hearings opening today are expected to produce major fire-works for these reasons:

1. They will be concerned at the outset with the patent law aspects of the bill. Both sides expect that such organizations as the American Bar Association will oppose the proposed changes on this score: Such legislation might establish a dangerous precedent that could ultimately imperil the entire patent system.

FIRST TESTIMONY

2. The drug industry, in early December, will offer its first testimony in formal opposition to the bill. Dr. Austin Smith, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, the trade organization representing the drug industry as a whole, indicated to a reporter the stand his group will take.

"We are prepared to bite back. Before, during the hearings preceding introduction of the bill, we just licked our wounds — and we had some deep ones. "Sent" Kefauver has hit the public in its pocketbook with his allegations of excessive drug prices and profits. I propose that we hit the public in the pocketbook too, and point out that, in terms of drugs that can save lives, shorten the length of various illnesses compared with years ago, and actually reduce public expenses in the case of mental hospitals, the public is really getting one hell of a bargain."

REDUCE RIGHTS

Kefauver's drug patent proposal would reduce exclusive patent rights to a new drug from the present 17 years—for patents of any kind—to three. After the three years, the exclusive patent holder would be compelled to license other qualified manufacturers to produce and sell the drug, but would be entitled to collect royalties for 14 years.

He expects opposition from patent lawyers who fear this would be an opening wedge against all patents.

The drug industry contends this phase of the bill would greatly reduce drug research.

Earlier drug hearings — beginning in December 1959, and running off and on throughout 1960 — produced a typewritten record running to more than 10,000 pages.

When a report on the hearings was filed last June by the Democratic majority—picturing the big drug manufacturers as making extraordinary profits through alleged control of patents on prescription medicine—the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association labeled it an unjustified attack on the drug industry.

CONTROVERSY

Controversy raged anew early in July when hearings on the Kefauver-Celler measure were opened.

The American Medical Association opposed some key features of the bill—notably, the one under which the Food and Drug Administration, before approving drugs, would investigate whether they actually worked. At present, the FDA checks only to see if they are safe.

During the July hearings, the stand of the AMA on the drug bill was that the medical profession, working with the drug manufacturers, could clean up any unsavory conditions in the drug business—and should judge for itself whether a new drug has merit.

But several individual doctors retorted in testimony that any hope of a cleanup without tough government policing is dim.

Proponents of the Kefauver bill were heartened by testimony given recently by Welfare Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff. Up to that time there had been no indication of the Kennedy administration's stand on the measure. There had been unofficial reports that Ribicoff might introduce a rival bill.

TIGHT LAW

Ribicoff came out strongly for a tightened drug-licensing law—notably on the issue of requiring drugmakers to prove the effectiveness, as well as the safety, of drugs before they can be marketed.

Just what are the specific arguments of both sides regarding drug prices and profits?

Kefauver and his backers offer figures like these—brought out in testimony during the original 1959-1960 hearings—to support their contentions of excessive prices: A tablet of Prednisolone—one of the cortisone family of drugs for treating ailments like arthritis—costs only 1.6 cents to produce, exclusive of selling and distribution costs. Yet the price to druggists is 17.9 cents, and the ultimate consumer pays about 29 cents a tablet.

In the field of antibiotic "wonder drugs," the Kefauver group cites figures for Tetracycline, the most commonly used of the broad spectrum, or widely versatile, antibiotics.

FIGURES CITED

The figures they cite run this way, exclusive of royalty, selling and distribution costs: production cost—2.9 cents a capsule; price to retail druggists—30.6 cents; and price to the consumer—51 cents.

The drug industry, maintaining that costs to consumers are not unduly high, contends that production cost is only one of many factors in computing prices, and that consideration must be given to such things as research and development costs, and the cost of new-product marketing.

Kefauver and his supporters retort that the drug industry's major companies devote only 6.2 per cent of the sales dollar to research but up to 25 per cent on advertising. They contend that if less money were spent on advertising and promotion, prices to consumers could be sharply lowered.

Drug industry spokesmen say it's true that the long-term trend of prescription prices has been upward and that drugs cost more than formerly, but "so does nearly everything." They say further that drug prices from 1949 through 1959 rose slightly less than the cost of living as a whole.

PROFITS

On the matter of profits made by the drug industry, Kefauver and his supporters say the drug industry in 1960 "once again showed a higher profit on investment, after taxes and after all

After Rocketing 40 Miles Into Space

Air Force Major Bob White climbs from the cockpit of the X15 after rocketing 40 miles into space near Edwards Air Force Base in California. It was a new altitude record for winged flight—about eight miles higher than the previous record. Only American and Russian astronauts have gone higher. A test maneuver as he came down caused the plane's windshield to crack.

Miss Majorette Of Texas Named

VERNON, Tex. (AP)—A Robstown teen-age girl was named Miss Majorette of Texas Sunday.

Frances Whitelyey, 15, will represent Texas in the national finals to be held in Hollywood. She was named winner in the senior division of competition sponsored by the National Baton Twirling Association.

Judges picked the winners in two other divisions of the contest. In the junior division for girls 11 to 14 years old, first place went to Diane Farrar, 14, of Houston. In the juvenile class for girls up to 10, the winner was Patsy Milner of Bowie.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

expenses including research, than any other industry."

Industry spokesmen contend that critics tend to cite the industry's best years on profits — and say nothing about leaner years. They contend there are signs of a downward trend and that the decline will continue unless someone comes along with a cure for cancer or heart disease.

Dr. Smith, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, offers some other figures.

"If all the profits due to U. S. drug industry sales for one year—amounting to $171 million—were distributed evenly among the nation's 180 million population, it would mean 95 cents a person as a gift."

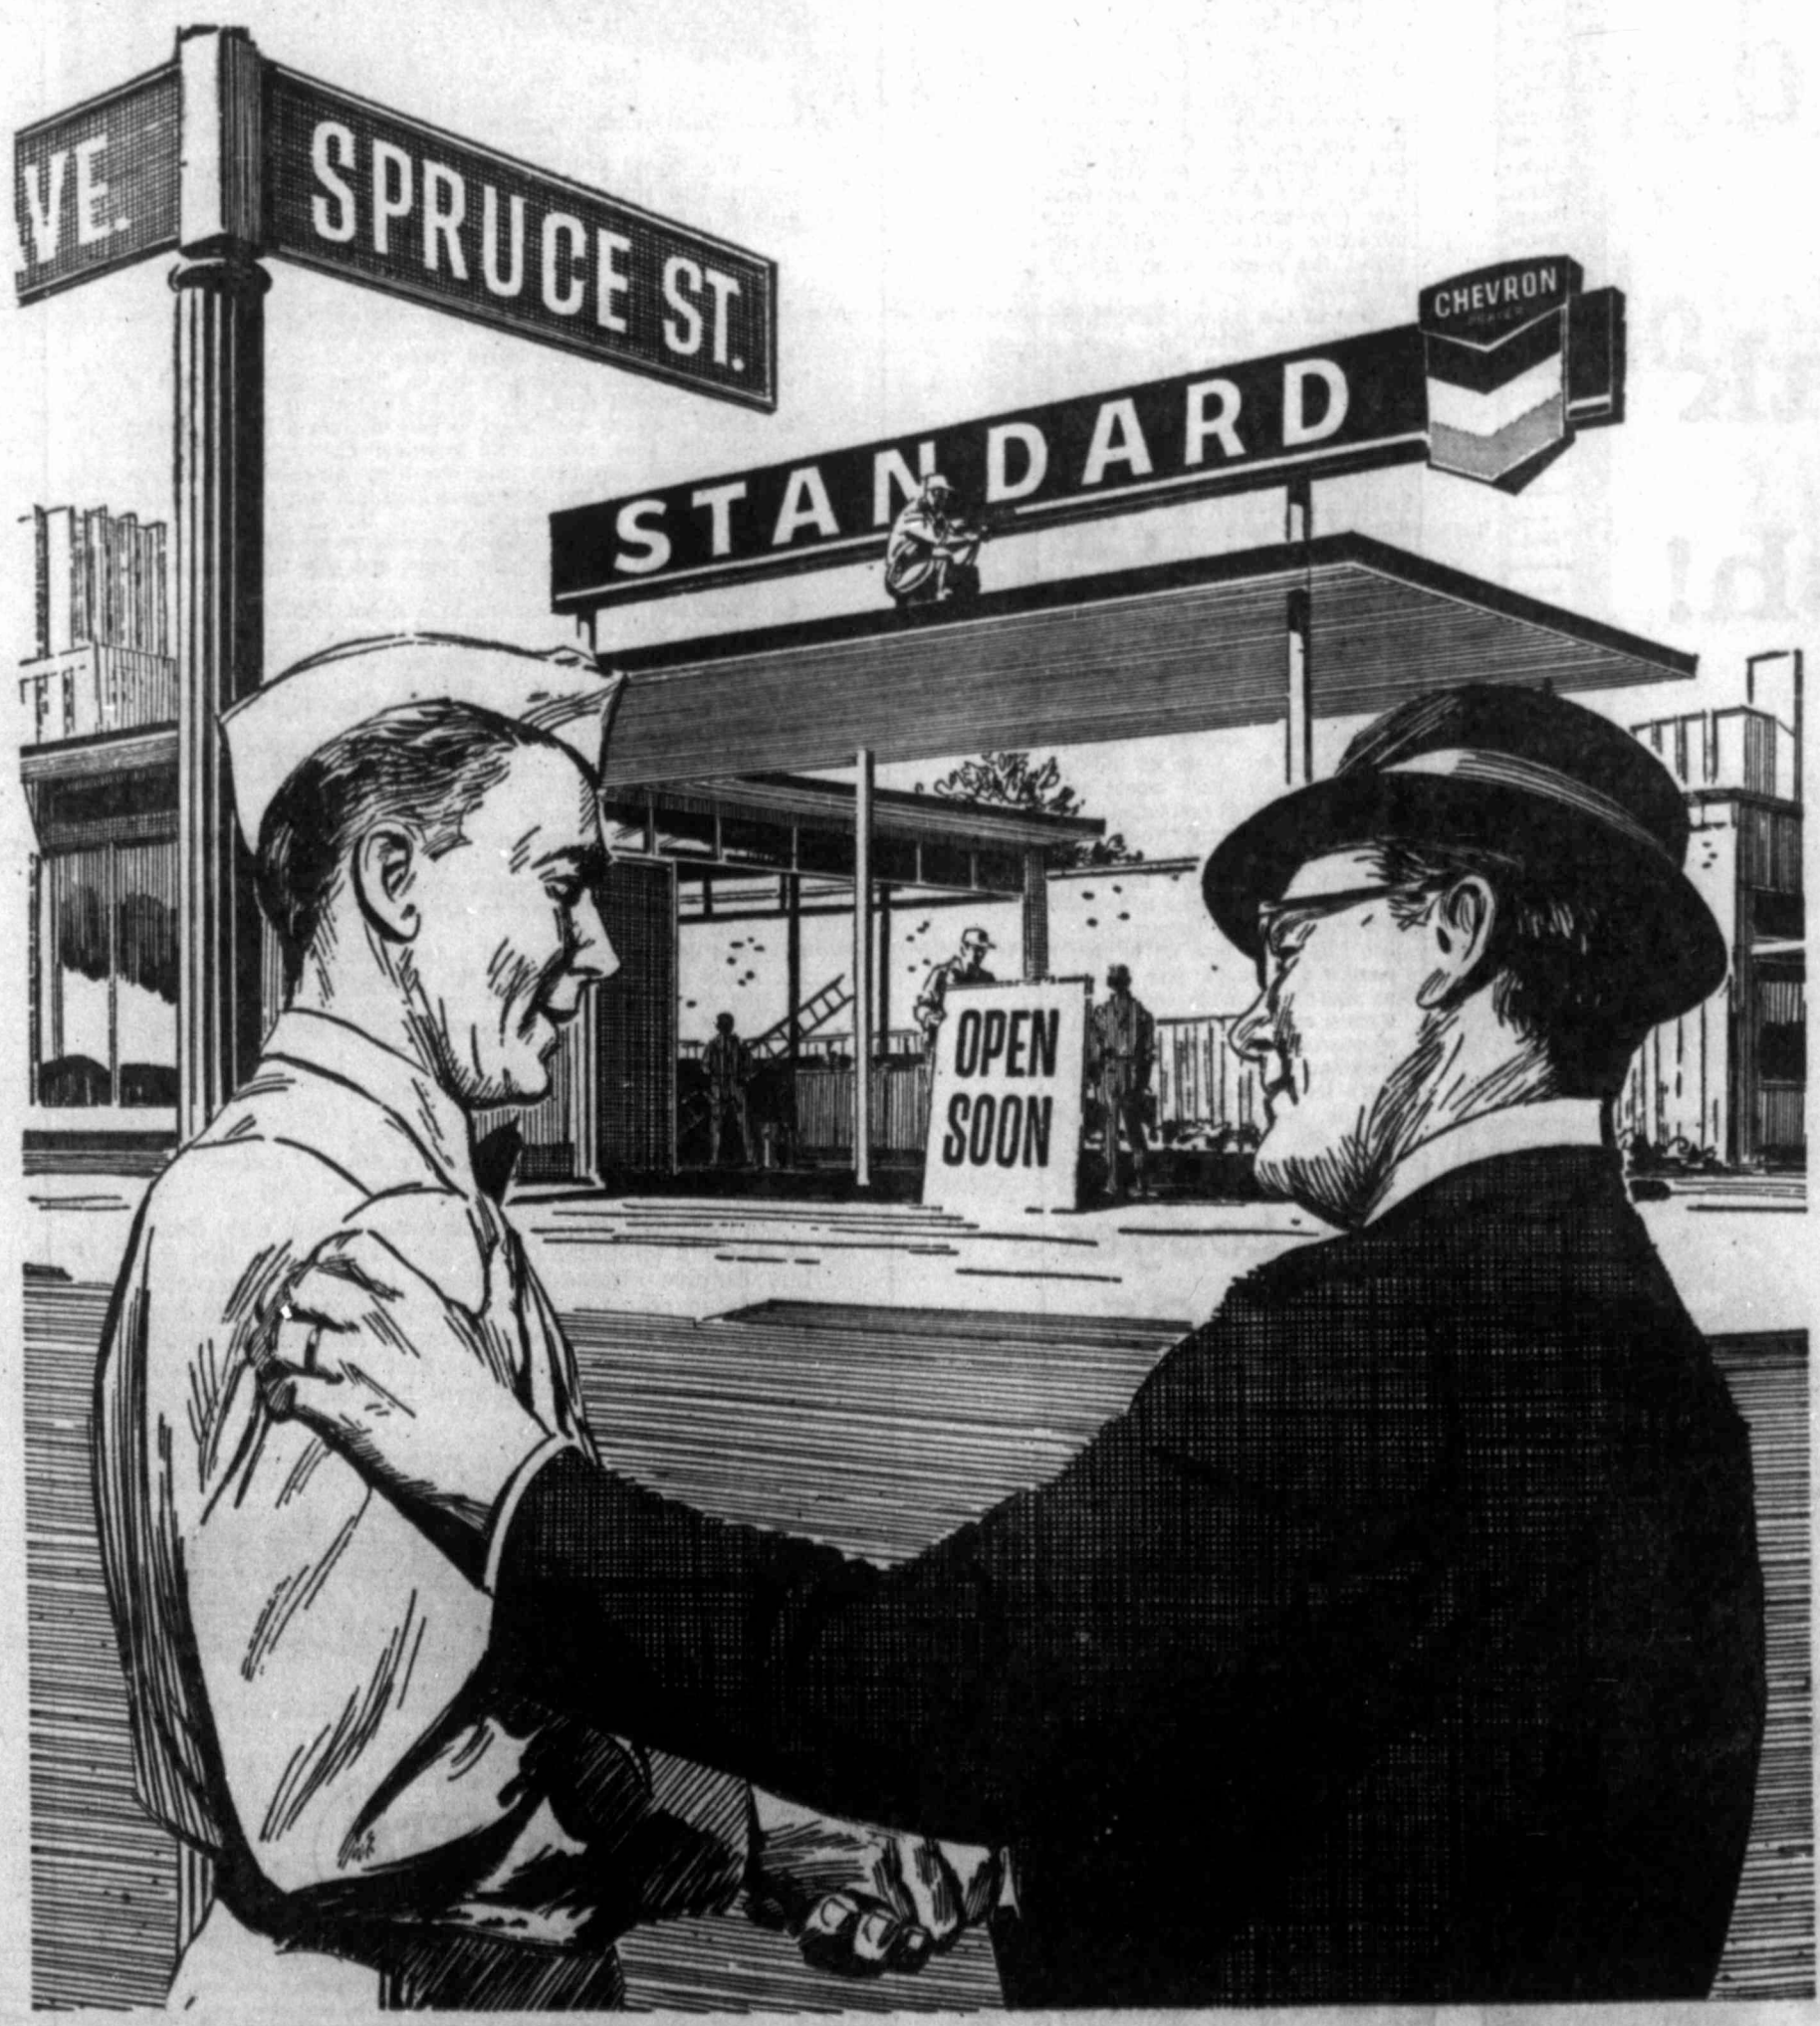

"Put it another way: if all these profits were turned back in terms of lowering the price of prescriptions, it would mean a saving of only 24 cents on the average prescription. But it would also mean no expansion of plant facilities, no extension of research labs, no new research—in short, no more drug industry." Whatever develops from the latest series of hearings, don't expect any early showdown on Kefauver's bill. Testimony presentation may last into January and any floor action on the bill might not take place until next summer, some three years after the drug-price investigation began.

"You're helping us spruce up Spruce Street!"

On many a southwestern main street, Standard of Texas is building modern, spacious new service stations that civic leaders hail as assets to their towns and cities.

They know that very often a tourist's first, and sometimes his only, contact with a community is a service station — and a bright, up-to-date station can create a favorable impression that reflects on the entire town, and encourages stop-over or return visits.

In addition to the more than 300 new stations created through Standard's current development program, the Company conducts a continuing program of modernization — to keep present stations bright and attractive, and help communities put their best foot forward to visiting motorists.

Over 100 different towns in Texas and New Mexico will have shared in this partial "face-lifting" of their main thoroughfares — improvements that help raise adjacent property values, and stimulate the flow of capital.

In this — as in all other phases of its widespread operation in two great states — Standard's progress contributes to community progress.

DO-IT-YOURSELF DECOR

Fresh Styling Found In New Vinyl Prints

Decorating is becoming more adventurous as well as practical. Original handprints and textures, formerly associated with custom wallcoverings, are now coordinated in scrubbable vinyl plastic for every room of the house.

Fresh styling and coordination of prints in a range of colors and textures are helps to the homemaker who must be her own decorator. To guide her in choosing designs and textures to harmonize, the newest sample books suggest room uses for related groups.

For example in the nursery it makes good decorating sense to combine two handprint designs, a gay pattern of whimsical stuffed animals and a woven ribbon plaid. This fresh combination is eligible for beauty awards as well as merit badges for scrubbability.

Elegant as silk damask, but far more practical in vinyl, is a formal white brocade embossed handprint on white silk Shiki textured vinyl background for living and dining rooms. Reflecting the other extreme in decorating trends is a rough textured homespun related to a geometric print.

Flower prints and stylized modern designs are made to harmonize for bedroom, powder room or bath. A light airy charm is captured by pairing a bedroom design of posies tumbling on a white noire textured background with a powder room design of modern stylized lanterns hanging in space.

All resist fading, oils, grease and scuffing. Mild soap and water restore their rich embossed colors and preserve their beauty.

Virginia Mayo feels that people are attracted to you by your real self not whether your features are beautiful. In today's Hollywood Beauty, Virginia tells of a skin problem and how she cured it with a special soap and diet.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Illness Taught Her Value Of Health

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "You have to value your health," Virginia Mayo told me when we met for lunch recently. "Some people don't do it until they become ill. As a child, I had one serious illness after another. I was so weak and underweight that I was called 'Skimpy.'"

"I worked hard to build a strong body, and even today, anything that I feel will undermine my health is an enemy," she continued. "I am not tempted to excesses that I know are destructive."

"It's good seeing you looking so well," I said. "But a strange thing happened a few months ago," Virginia revealed. "My face broke out. It was the kind of acne I didn't have as a growing girl, and I was distressed because I knew that my complexion could be ruined if the condition wasn't corrected immediately."

"My doctor told me to use a germicidal soap and to watch my diet. I had been using only creams and my face needed soap and water—and I hadn't been watching my diet too carefully. But I followed the doctor's instructions and my face started clearing."

"You wouldn't know that you'd had any trouble with your skin. It's lovely now," I told her.

"I have a special diet that I use when I want to lose weight," she went on, "and I have noticed that when I'm on it my skin looks better. This diet is so nutritious that I always feel well, and the attractive part of it is that I can adjust the menus to my individual tastes."

"One of the items that's included is sherbet. That's why I call it my 'Lemon Sherbet Diet.' When I get hungry in between meals, I eat a dish of sherbet. It's quite satisfying and I can wait until the next meal without hunger pangs."

The talk turned to beauty, and Virginia contended that it was ridiculous to make yourself unhappy because your features aren't regular.

"Developing a charming personality is more important," she declared.

"People are attracted to you by what is going on in your mind, and they are interested in you—your real self—not whether you are beautiful or not. Look at the top Hollywood stars. They would never win a beauty contest, but in charm and personality they come out on top," Virginia concluded.

LEMON SHERBET DIET

Here is your chance to share Virginia Mayo's "Lemon Sherbet Diet" and lose up to five pounds a week for five weeks as she did. A wide variety of menus are suggested—and whenever you feel hungry, you may have a dish of the special, tasty lemon sherbet. The recipe is contained in Leaflet M-84. For your copy of this

Carter's Fall Furniture Festival

Open Tonight Thru Thurs. Night 'Til 8:00 P.M.
REGISTER FOR FREE $100 GIFT CERTIFICATE

We know you'll enjoy making fine furniture, if you've the time and the true inclination. Willing to give it a try?—okay, let's start with a chest!

1. Study a book or two on furniture design and manufacturing.
2. Secure the tools which you will need. The list will be long—check it carefully.
3. Then, to the drawing board. Draw the chest in scale.
4. Now that your pattern is drawn, figure up the amount of wood you will need.
5. Select the very best wood to be had from a lumber dealer—in this case, native wild American cherry. (Be sure that the lumber has been properly dried—air-dried from three to six months, and then dried in a kiln with cross-circulating currents of heated air.)
6. Cut out as many of nature's defects as possible.
7. Now, match the boards for color, and glue them up to the proper width.
8. Plane the resulting boards to a smooth surface.
9. Project your designs to full-scale working drawings.
10. Rough cut the boards to the desired dimensions for each part.
11. Shape the various parts to finished size and sand thoroughly with a sander.
12. Carefully assemble the various parts together with the necessary screws, glue joints and glue blocks. Drill holes for the solid brass hardware hinges, etc.
13. Sand all the completed chest by hand.
14. Inspect the chest carefully for any defects before finishing.
15. Apply the first coat of stain to the exterior.
16. Apply sealer coat to entire chest and sand.
17. Apply coat of lacquer to drawer interiors and inside of chest. Allow to dry.
18. Sand drawer interiors and inside of chest.
19. Apply filler to chest and rub vigorously into the grain of the wood. Allow to dry 12 hours.
20. Apply blending stain to chest, brushing out so as to highlight the grain of the wood.
21. Apply lacquer sealer to chest.
22. Apply first coat of heavy solid lacquer.
23. Apply second coat of lacquer.
24. Rub with pumice stone and steel wool.
25. Apply all drawer pulls, catches, glides, and casters.
26. Wax the exterior and interior of chest by hand.

Congratulations—you've come a long way! Ready to start on another? If not, may we suggest that you buy Empire Furniture? Choose from two completely correlated collections—the Bonnie Kate in solid hard rock maple, or the John Sevier in native wild American cherry Empire pieces?—they're truly reasonable for such a lifetime investment in good living! At better stores everywhere.

Supreme Court Upholds Decision Against Race Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision holding unconstitutional two acts of the Louisiana Legislature designed to aid that state's efforts to prevent racial desegregation.

The decision was given May 4, 1961, by a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans. It was appealed to the high tribunal by Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion.

The Supreme Court, however, affirmed the special tribunal's ruling without the hearing of arguments. In a brief order, the high court said a motion by the United States to affirm was granted. The action apparently was unanimous.

The special court ruled two acts of the 1961 second extraordinary session of the legislature were "invidious weapons of a state administration dedicated to scuttling the modest program of desegregation which has been initiated in Orleans Parish."

It added that the legislature clearly wanted parents, teachers and other interested persons to understand they would be punished if they had any contact with an integrated school.

Gremillion's appeal questioned, among other things, the Justice Department's intervention in racial litigation in federal court in Louisiana. He contended the United States took part in such cases without authority in law and equity.

The two Louisiana laws involved are known as "Acts 3 and 5 of the 2nd Extraordinary Session of the Louisiana Legislature for 1961."

The special three-judge court said Act 3 purported to create a new crime entitled "bribery of parents of school children." It called for punishment for giving to, or acceptance by, any parent of "anything of apparent present or prospective value" as an inducement to sending his child to a school operated "in violation of any laws of this state."

The companion offense listed by Act 5 was labeled "intimidation and interference in the operation of schools."

The conduct condemned by that law was "the offering to do or doing of any act" to a child, parent, teacher, or other school employee which might influence that person to do any act in violation of any law of Louisiana. Both acts granted immunity from prosecution to informers and promised a money reward to them.

In another action today, the high court decreed a new trial for Luther Bailey, a Negro under death sentence for the rape of a white woman in Little Rock, Ark.

It did so by refusing to review a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in St. Louis which held there was a prima facie case of limitation of Negroes in the selection of the jury panel in Bailey's case. Bailey was tried in the 1st Division of the Pulaski Circuit Court in 1956.

The Circuit Court's decision, which the Supreme Court let stand unchanged, overturned a U.S. District Court ruling that there was no discrimination in the selection of the jury panel.

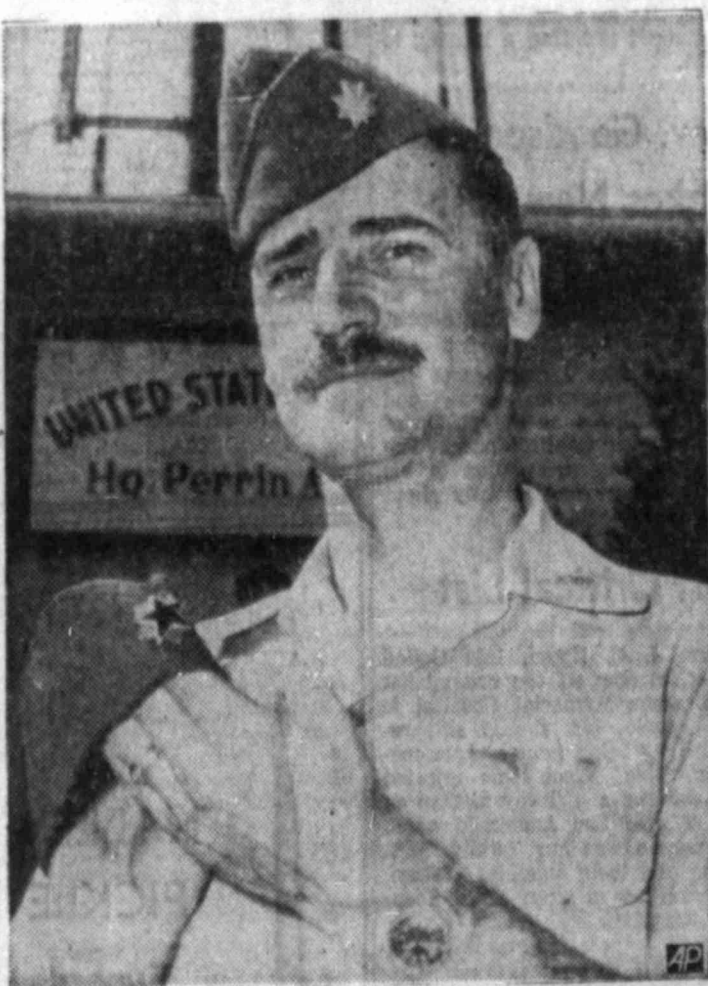

Arkansas Atty. Gen. Frank Holt, in appealing to the high court, contended jurors were selected for Bailey's trial without consideration of race.

The court disposed of a number of other appeals today, mostly in routine cases.

Reds Ask Friendship

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union published an appeal for friendship with the United States, Britain and France today, within 24 hours of opening the big Communist party congress.

While the congress will adopt a program calling for Soviet economic and cultural development aimed at spreading communism over the world, the party Central Committee not only proposed peace and friendship between East and West but even invited friendship with the people of West Germany.

Salt Water Conversion Plans Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The expanded program for cheaper ways of making fresh water out of brackish and sea water is about to begin.

The program of the Office of Saline Water will come in for attention Friday with dedication of the government's first brackish water demonstration plant at Webster, S.D.

The Webster plant is one of five. A sea water conversion plant is operating at Freeport, Tex. Another at San Diego, Calif., is to be completed next month. A third is planned at Wrightsville Beach, N.C. and a brackish water plant will be built at Roswell, N.M.

Congress passed a bill last month authorizing a $75 million, 6-year water conversion program. The Saline Water Office will place emphasis on basic research looking for new and cheaper ways to drive down the cost of conversion.

Specialists say the demonstration plants surely will prove several processes are practical and reliable. But some say that extremely large plants—bigger than any now planned—may be needed to prove economic feasibility of known processes.

Much of the basic research will be done under contracts with universities, research organizations and governmental agencies.

Among other expenditures planned will be $200,000 for development of mobile and portable water conversion plants that could be used in emergencies including storms.

"Several proposals are being considered to investigate the possibilities for trailer mounted, self-contained mobile conversion equipment," director C. F. MacGowan of the Saline Water Office said.

"For example, the recent hurricane disaster along the Gulf coast and the resultant critical shortage of fresh water is but one reason, and a good example of the need for such equipment."

Stray Postcard Causes Peace Corps Bobble

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — A postcard that went astray has given the American Peace Corps its first black eye in the field.

Nigerian university students demanded Sunday that the corps unit sent to teach Nigerians be expelled because of criticism of primitive living conditions in this year-old African republic written by an enthusiastic—but "thoughtless"—girl in the group.

Her postcard, dropped accidentally on the campus, stirred 1,000 students at Ibadan University College to an angry demonstration denouncing the American volunteers as "agents of imperialism."

Margery Michelmore, 23, Smith College honor graduate from Foxboro, Mass., quickly apologized to the university authorities for writing the "thoughtless card" and offered to resign from the corps in an attempt to quiet the uproar.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver said in Washington he talked to the Nigerian ambassador and "he did not seem disturbed. He said it was the type of thing you could expect in this kind of operation, and I agreed with him."

The anti-American demonstration was organized after someone reportedly had found on the campus grounds the postcard that Miss Michelmore had written to a friend in Boston telling him: "With all the training we had, we were really not prepared for the squalor and absolutely primitive living conditions rampant both in the cities and the bush. 'We had had no idea about what 'underdeveloped' means. It really is a revelation, and once we got over the initial, horrified shock, it is a very rewarding experience. Everyone except us lives in the streets, cooks in the streets, and even goes to bathrooms in the streets."

She described the university as "great fun," but added, "I just hope they do not repeat last year's Lumumba riots." This was a reference to antiwhite demonstrations in Lagos, capital of this former British colony of 35 million people, after former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was slain in Katanga.

The American girl's postcard was copied and circulated among the 1,500 students here by the Ibadan University College Students' Union, which described her comments as "damaging to our country."

Before the student rally got under way on the campus, Miss Michelmore, attractive daughter of a Massachusetts' electronics company executive, left the college where 37 Peace Corps members are training for teaching assignments.

Visibly upset on arriving in Lagos, she said she had written the university authorities saying she understood the students' "sense of insult and offense."

Shriver said no action has been taken on Miss Michelmore's offer to resign but that she is free to quit at any time.

At the rally in Ibadan, the president of the Students' Union, Dapo Salase, charged that the Peace Corps was designed to spread "American imperialist propaganda" in Africa and "to spy on what you are doing."

Coast Guard Rescues 45 Cuban Refugees At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Forty-five Cuban refugees, 18 of them children, arrived in Miami today after a Coast Guard rescue off the Bahamas island of Cay Sal with a U.S. destroyer standing by.

The destroyer sped to the scene after reports that a Cuban boat had fired on the small, leaking craft bearing the refugees. But refugee arrivals in Miami said they heard no shots.

"We heard no shots, but later heard rumors that there had been some," was the unanimous report of six women aboard.

The women and children were taken to a Miami hotel. The 21 men aboard were detained by immigration authorities for questioning.

P. S. Willmore, chief immigration official in Key West, and Sir Robert Stapledon, governor of the British Bahamas, issued brief statements.

The British governor, who sent policemen to the tiny island to investigate, said shots had been exchanged between "two Cuban fishing boats" just offshore after the refugees landed.

Willmore told newsmen: "I spoke with the Cuban political refugees, and they said that there were not shot at and that there was no shooting in their vicinity while they were on Cay Sal or while they were in the boat."

Cay Sal is leased by Clarence R. Moody, 68, owner of a Miami dredging business and once a builder of homes on islands near Miami. Moody said that he had notified the Coast Guard Saturday morning to pick up the refugees after receiving a radio-telephone call from a caretaker on the island. Then in the afternoon, Moody said, he received another call from the caretaker, Cleo Sears.

"This time he said to me, 'A Cuban boat is firing on the refugees on shore. We are desperately in need of help.' I notified the Coast Guard," Moody said.

The Coast Guard boat and a destroyer, already en route, were told to wait offshore Saturday night. The pickup was made the next morning. Moody flew to the island—130 miles southeast of Miami—Sunday.

He said he got this story from his caretaker: A boat 40 to 50 feet long flying the Cuban flag and with "Joe Louis" painted on the stern had been fishing in the area two or three days. It was anchored 1,000 feet from the island Saturday morning when a vessel which appeared to be a refugee boat picked up other refugees from a leaking boat and went into an inlet. The refugee boat anchored, and the occupants went ashore.

West Berliners Are Tear-Gassed

BERLIN (AP) — East German police threw tear gas grenades at a West Berlin crowd today after five East Berliners jumped from a second-story window of a border house into a sand-filled truck, West Berlin police said.

The incident occurred at Bernauerstrasse. There, apartment houses on one side of the street are in the Soviet sector, while the sidewalks below are in West Berlin.

At around noon, the truck roared up to one apartment house. Seconds later three men and two women jumped into it. West Berliners standing nearby cheered. The Vopos — East German people's police — were taken by surprise but after realizing what happened tossed several tear gas grenades into the West Berlin crowd.

Taylor Leans To Last-Ditch Theory In Viet Nam Action

HONOLULU (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor apparently would recommend sending U.S. troops to South Viet Nam only as a last resort to save that key Southeast Asian nation from communism.

This was the indication today as President Kennedy's personal military adviser paused here for a day of conferences before resuming his fact-finding mission taking him halfway around the world.

Taylor, who flew in late Sunday with 15 specialist-aides, planned to talk with Adm. Harry D. Felt about current conditions in South Viet Nam, which is under increasing red guerrilla assault.

Felt, U.S. commander of the Pacific, has just returned from a swing through South Viet Nam, Laos and Thailand, where he attended a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

A decision on whether to recommend the use of U.S. troops in South Viet Nam awaits the results of what may be a two or three-week personal study on the scene.

But it is known that any recommendation by Taylor to send in American GIs would be made unhappily.

If the move did come, support-type troops likely would be landed first. Combat units would go in only if there was an extreme need.

Talking with reporters on his arrival here, Taylor said: "I am not going to Viet Nam to offer American troops. I am going to see whether they are needed."

"I might add that nobody wants to send American troops anywhere."

Taylor is seeking a formula that would bring swift results in stemming an apparently rising Communist threat to the pro-Western regime in South Viet Nam.

Such a stopgap remedy would be followed up by a longer-range program intended to secure South Viet Nam, which Taylor regards as one of the two main pillars of the Western position in vital Southeast Asia.

The other main underpinning in his view, is Thailand. But the general doesn't believe Thailand is in any immediate danger. He may visit Bangkok after Saigon.

What galvanized the president and his personal military adviser into action on South Viet Nam was the impending political settlement in Laos, where pro-Western neutralist Souvanna Phouma will resume the premiership.

Minow Suggests Television Tests

NEW YORK (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission suggested Sunday simultaneous presentations of educational and entertainment television programs to test viewer preferences.

The chairman, Newton N. Minow, predicted that teen-agers "will respond to the best television has to offer" if given a choice between a Western or a comedy and a high-level cultural program.

Minow made the suggestion in answer to a question on the WNBC-TV show "Youth Forum."

Poised For Flight

This fully assembled Saturn C-1 vehicle on its launch pedestal at Cape Canaveral, Fla., is the one NASA expects to send on its first flight in the next few days. The flight has been set for 225 miles down the Atlantic missile range with the rocket reaching an altitude of about 90 miles. The vehicle stands 162 feet high. Plastic cover as a weather protective surrounds the engines in preliminary tests. The two upper stages are dummies.

Storm Bares Ship Hulls, Treasure Rumors Spread

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Carla uncovered long-buried ship's hulls from the dunes sands that have covered them for years. Thus once more tales of treasure from the sea are rife along the Texas coast.

Between Port Aransas and the first washout on the beach, 13 miles south, there are four or five of these hulks, masses of oaken beams and rusty iron that treasure seekers have found.

Money Hill, where Spanish coins have been found in the past, is once more a mecca for beachcombers on the lookout for pieces of eight. The tides cut almost half of the hill away.

The old, old tale of the treasure galleon of VeraCruz is the one that catches the fancy of treasure hunters along Mustang and Padre Islands.

The story dates back to 1553 when 29 vessels left the Mexican port only to run into a hurricane in the Bahamas passage.

Three sank, four sailed to safety; the other 13 were forced back across the Gulf and flung ashore on the Texas coast.

Cargoes of all but one were salvaged the next year.

That one, with its gold and silver from the mines of Mexico, still lies beneath the sands, waiting on some lucky finder, says the tale.

There are a whole host of other treasure ships believed sunk off the Texas coast.

On July 4, 1811, Jean La Fitte sank an unidentified Spanish galleon off the beaches of South Texas and it was reported to be carrying $500,000 in gold. So far as anyone knows, it's still there.

The S. J. Lee, Little Fleeta, Texas Ranger, Ida Lewis, Reins des Mers, Clara Woodhouse, Len, Maria Theresa and the Carrie A. Thomas were all sunk or went ashore along the South Texas coast, between Sept. 6, 1873, and June 16, 1880. They carried a total of $855,000 to the bottom with them, and no one has ever salvaged any of the money unless they did so in secret.

Biggest Day Yet At Fair

DALLAS (AP) — A total of 309,510 visitors jammed the State Fair of Texas grounds Sunday for the biggest single day attendance to date at the 1961 exposition.

Twenty-four Texas 4-H club boys and girls, New Farmers and New Homemakers were honored today for outstanding achievement.

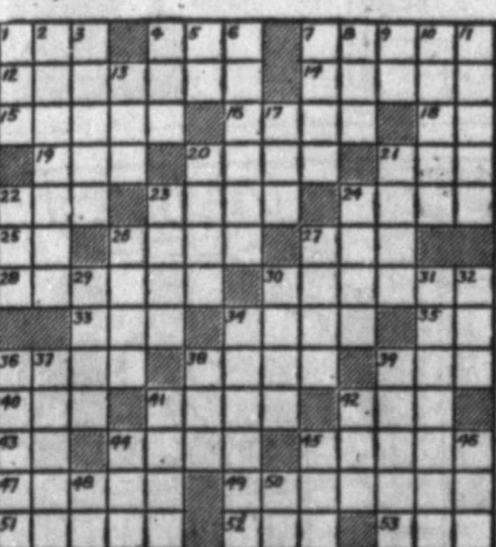

Four - H club boys to receive the awards included Carl Urban Westbrook Jr. of Marshall.

The 4-H Club girls included Lolita Armstrong of Longview, Bobbie Nell Henry of Tyler, Rose Marie McDaniels of Henderson, Wilma Marshall of Washington and Esterlene Manley of Bryan.

New Homemakers of America getting awards included Jenna-beath Ward of Abilene and Jo Berne Brown of Tennessee Colony.

Slight Warming Trend Expected

By The Associated Press
A slight warming trend was predicted for Texas Monday with clear and bright weather due to continue over the state.
A gentle north wind kept temperatures mild Sunday with high readings ranging from 70 at Lufkin to 81 at Laredo.
No rain was reported in the state Sunday and the U. S. Weather Bureau said none is expected.
Early Monday skies were clear over the state except for some cloudiness in the Brownsville area. Pre-dawn temperatures ranged 40 degrees at Lufkin to 60 at Brownsville.

Scout Rocket To Glean Ionospheric Radio Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Scout rocket designed to climb 4,500 miles in one hour will be fired this week. Its aim: To explore the ionosphere and send back important data for radio communications and for the tracking and guidance of space craft.

The solid fuel Scout, a four-stage rocket 72 feet high and weighing more than 18 tons, will be launched from Wallops Island, Va. It will carry aloft a 94-pound package of instruments.

The rocket's final stage will remain attached to the eight-sided scientific package. They are expected to fall into the South Atlantic, 3,900 miles from the launch site. No recovery attempt will be made.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the probe, designated the P21, will measure the density of electrons and other characteristics of the ionosphere — electrically charged area starting 40 miles above the earth and gradually merging with outer space.

NASA has fired two previous ionospheric probes in the P2 series and plans one more early next year. This week's shot will measure daytime concentration of electrons, and the next shot will chart nighttime activity.

NASA said ionospheric data is "very scarce" for the area between 200 and 600 miles up and virtually nonexistent above that height.

During the ascent the probe will broadcast on two frequencies, 12.267 megacycles at 1 watt of power, and 73.6 megacycles at half a watt.

Huge Saturn Launch Set For This Week

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Scientists plan to launch this week the first Saturn superrocket on an eight-minute flight which will start the United States on the long road to manned landings on the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reports the firing will take place within a few days if no problems arise. With 1.5 million pounds of thrust — about 30 million horsepower — the first Saturn is three times more powerful than any previous U.S. rocket.

The maiden flight will test the first stage only. Two upper stages will be filled with 23,000 gallons of water to simulate weight of the operational rocket.

The flight plan calls for the 162-foot, 462-ton Saturn to accelerate to a speed of 3,700 miles an hour during the 1 minute 57 seconds burning time of its eight big engines. In that time it will consume 300 tons of fuel.

When the engines cut off, the vehicle will coast upward on a ballistic trajectory to an altitude of 95 miles before plunging back into the Atlantic Ocean 235 miles to the southeast. No recovery attempt will be made.

The rocket has been wired to radio information on 510 aspects of performance during the flight.

NASA said the upcoming flight is the first of 10 research and development launches leading to an operational Saturn C1 rocket, with a thrust of 1.5 million pounds, in 1964.

Cautioning against overoptimism on the early tests, officials said: "It is reasonable to expect a total of 5 successes in the 10 launches. In this first attempt, invaluable experience and engineering data will be achieved even though the flight path is not completely fulfilled."

Saturn is the United States' first entry in the heavy booster field. The Soviet Union has been using for some time an operational space rocket with estimated thrust of one million pounds.

When ready in 1964, the two-stage Saturn C1 will be capable of placing a 10-ton satellite in earth orbit. Advanced C3 rockets will be able to send 40 tons into orbit or 15 tons on probes to the moon, Mars or Venus.

Violent Deaths Claim 21 Lives

By The Associated Press
Violent deaths claimed at least 21 lives in Texas over the weekend with traffic mishaps accounting for 13 of the fatalities.

One man was killed in a plane crash while the others died in miscellaneous violent deaths.

The Associated Press tabulation covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

Stan Owens of Pearlsall was killed Sunday when his crop dusting plane crashed northeast of Leveland. Investigators said Owens apparently had just completed a turn when the plane stalled and crashed.

Earl Coffee, 16, one of the managers of the Tulla High School football team, was electrocuted Saturday. He was watering the grass on the practice football field when an iron pipe he was moving came in contact with an electrical wire.

David Gathings, 26, of Grandfalls, Tex., died Friday night when his car crashed between Grandfalls and Imperial.

Mrs. Peggy Davis, 31, of Lamesa died Friday night in a two-car crash that injured two others.

DEAR ABBY
Grow Up Dear Lady

DEAR ABBY: I am 46, and my husband is slightly older. We have been married 20 years. My husband, at his age, is still collecting stamps! He spends hours filling stamp albums. How embarrassed I am when I tell my friends my husband is busy with his stamps! For a young boy, this hobby is fine, but not for a full-grown man. Please set my husband straight.

MRS. G
DEAR MRS. G.: I am afraid it is YOU who should be set straight. Stamp collecting is a very worthy hobby for a person of any age. Why don't you take a leaf out of your husband's book? This is a hobby that really sticks!

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is fair for parents to put their children in boarding schools and leave them? I started in the first grade, and now I am a senior. If you've spent only four years all told with your parents, could you love them? I can't. I have had all the material things that any child in this world could want but, in my opinion, the poorest child who lives at home in the slums has more than I will ever have. He has "love." Thank you, Miss Abby, for letting me get this off my chest. I could never say this in confession without being punished. May God's love for you be eternal, and may Mary bless you. Am I wrong? UNLOVED DEAR UNLOVED: Perhaps you are. Most parents do what they feel is best for their children. You are not expected to understand the full meaning of this until you, too, are a parent. Save this and remember it.

DEAR ABBY: Every boy I take an interest in starts telling me his troubles as though I were his sister. I listen sympathetically, but am very much annoyed when the evening turns out to be nothing more than an advice session. How can I establish the fact that I am not simply a shoulder to cry on, and have troubles of my own? EVERYBODY'S SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Quit acting like a sister—and the boys won't respect like brothers. A girl can't expect to play the romantic lead in the life of every boy she meets, but if she is ALWAYS handed the sister part — there is something too sisterly about her approach.

What's troubling you? Write Abby, care of Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include self-addressed stamped envelope.

Bear Mauls 3 Persons

CONNEAUT LAKE, Pa. (AP) — A 250-pound black bear clawed and mauled three persons at a wild animal park Sunday before being shot and killed by a youth.

Ida Mae Kemp, 35, of McKees Rocks, near Pittsburgh, and John Hohl Sr., 35, of Conneaut Lake, the park's caretaker, were admitted to Spencer Hospital in Meadville in fair condition.

Robert A. Mahoney, 12, of Coraopolis was treated at Meadville City Hospital and released.

State police said the incident had occurred at Fairyland Forest, a park connected with Conneaut Lake Park in northwestern Pennsylvania.

They said Hohl was checking the bear's cage and Mahoney was with him when the bear suddenly grabbed the boy's right arm and pulled it through the fence. Hohl unlocked the door to the cage and placed his hand in the bear's mouth.

The bear let go of Mahoney's arm and started clawing and mauling Hohl on the head, chest and back. Hohl's son, John Jr., 15, then stunned the bear by hitting him on the head with a stick, enabling the elder Hohl to get away.

While the Hohls went to get a shotgun, the bear got out of the cage and attacked Miss Kemp, knocking her down. The bear started clawing at her neck and back.

The Hohl boy then fired two shots from a 12-gauge shotgun and killed the bear, which was nearly five feet tall.

Big Crowd Sees Third Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A crowd of 25,000 persons, including the Polish ambassador, witnessed the third Texas Prison Rodeo Sunday.

A rodeo judge and two convict performers were injured at the performance. The rodeo is being staged each Sunday during October.

There were numerous out-of-state visitors at the rodeo, including a busload of fans from St. Petersburg, Fla. and Shreveport, La.

Honored guests were the ambassador to the United States from the Polish Peoples' Republic, his wife and members of his staff, all from Washington, D. C.

Ambassador Edward Drozniak was accompanied by Prof. Edward Iwaszkiewicz, commercial counselor, Polish trade mission; his wife, and Andrew Szczepan-czyk, economist, Polish trade mission. They were flown to Huntsville by Col. and Mrs. Harold Byrd and George Haddaway, publisher of Flight magazine, all of Dallas.

A veteran rodeo judge was sent to the ground when a big Brahman bull crashed into the judge's horse. Gerald Abbott of Houston was examined by prison physicians, who said they did not believe his injuries serious enough for hospitalization.

In the bareback bronc riding event, James Montgomery of Angleton, serving 12 years, was hurt by a mount called Display. Montgomery was kicked in the jaw and chest and in the stomach. He was taken to the prison hospital for examination.

The wild horse race, also proved to be a bruising contest. Gerald Lee, doing 20 years from Pasadena, had to be taken to the hospital for examination and treatment.

Sugar Down

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican sugar production this year will reach close to 1,400,000 tons, the National Union of Sugar Growers estimates. The figure is a decrease of about 7 per cent from 1960.
