They Gave Thousands Of Hours

These are but a few of those receiving volunteer service awards Thursday evening at the Big Spring State Hospital, but they were entitled to the top awards by reason of having given

Volunteers Honored At State Hospital

Awards went to 441 volunteers Thursday evening at a special awards banquet held at the Big Spring State Hospital, and one of them recognized Mrs. Buddy Pulliam, Midland, for more than 3,000 hours of service.

Mrs. C. A. Clark, Midland, was given her award for 2,900 hours; Mrs. B. T. Piner, Big Spring, and Mrs. P. R. Hargrove, Midland, for 1,500 hours; Mrs. Theo Ferguson, Midland, for 1,000 hours. These are all based on records through Aug. 31.

Mrs. H. W. Smith, chairman of the Christmas party project, said preparations were shaping satisfactorily and that gifts had been ordered so that every patient would be remembered. Representatives of several organizations announced at the meeting that they would again sponsor the party on various wards. Council members favor a decoration allocation to each ward so that the patients could themselves have a hand in developing decorations.

D. M. McKinney, chairman, reported that ward draperies had been installed as had new amplifying equipment by local groups, along with the eight deodorizers furnished by Midland volunteers. Five walkers were given by the State Mental Hospital Development Association, Odessa, for use on the wards for aged patients.

Dr. Prestor Harrison, hospital superintendent, gave a hypnotic demonstration and explained how the technique may be used to help some patients. Joe Pickle expressed appreciation to volunteers for a demonstration of humility and compassion and for being a point of contact between the patients and reality. During the past year, he said, volunteers had given enough time that at minimum rates it would have cost $38,000, although actually it was a priceless contribution.

Qualifying for 100-hour buttons were Mrs. O. H. Ivie, Mrs. Dale Kirk, Mrs. Robbie Lattimer, Mrs. T. F. Linsberry, Mrs. Florence Little, Mrs. A. A. Marchant, Mrs. Herman Morton, D. M. McKinney, Mrs. H. T. Reynolds, Mrs. J. H. Robertson, Mrs. Anne Robinson, Roy Rogan, Mrs. W. R. Taylor, Mrs. Lucille Turner, Harvey Williamson, Mrs. D. M. Wozencraft, Mrs. Paul C. Young, Mrs. Pat Allen, Mrs. Consuello Britton, Mrs. Bennett Brooke, Mrs. W. C. Brown, Dr. Josh Burnett, Mrs. Josh Burnett, Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mrs. C. A. Cranfield, Mrs. H. C. Dewlen, Mrs. Ray Dunlap, Mrs. David Elrod, C. H. Fisher, Tom Gorell, Mrs. H. S. Hanson, Mrs. E. J. Rodo, Rev. Donald Hungerford.

Qualifying for 500-hour awards were Nell Brown, Big Spring.

Launch Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Technical problems forced postponement today of an attempt to launch a Ranger 2 spacecraft to try out techniques for sending future vehicles to the moon, Mars and Venus.

County Legion To Host Meet Over Weekend

The Howard County Post of the American Legion will be host to the fall convention of the 19th District Saturday and Sunday. Registration and business meetings are to be at the Settles Hotel with the 6 o'clock Saturday evening social scheduled at the Legion Home on the San Angelo highway.

Over 100 delegates of the Legion and the Auxiliary from some 40 cities within the 19th congressional district are expected to participate in the two-day session.

Presiding over the Auxiliary session will be Mrs. Byron Hill, Big Spring, 19th District president. Wilfred Stoerner, Lockney, is the Legion District Commander.

Delegates will begin registration at the Settles Hotel at 1 p.m. Saturday with a rehabilitation meeting to be held at 3 p.m. A joint social hour will be held at the Legion Home at 6 o'clock.

The Auxiliary begins business meetings at 1:30 Saturday with Mrs. Maurice Kubby, El Paso, past State President, as the afternoon guest speaker.

The convention dance with the Starlighters orchestra will be held in the Settles Hotel beginning at 9 p.m.

Marshall Formby, Plainview, former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, will make the morning address to the Legionaires Sunday and Warren Liner, Lubbock, commander of the Legion Fourth Division will address the afternoon session.

Joe Pendleton, past commander of the Big Spring Post will conduct the 11 a.m. memorial service in a joint session with the Auxiliary members.

Convention chairman is Raymond Andrews, past District Commander, who served an unprecedented second term when the district membership refused to name a successor. A. G. Goodson will head the Big Spring delegation in the business meetings and Pendleton, Roscoe Cone, Commander Littlejohn and Jack Pearson will be delegates.

Visitors to Big Spring will be welcomed by John Taylor, mayor pro-tem and a member of the Post. The response will be by Clarence Rogers, Plainview, past vice commander of the district.

Color Bar Halts Adoption Attempt

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—Probate Court Judge George F. Jones has reaffirmed his decision to deny the adoption by a Rutland white couple of a 5-year-old girl from Mexico, said Gonzalez. He said the project was sponsored in Lubbock by Lions clubs.

"The girl is not one-quarter Negro," Jones said. "She is Negro. I will not make birth records show a Negro child with white parents."

Ferrer Would Make Amends

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—"Nothing would make me happier," actor Jose Ferrer said Thursday when newsmen asked about chances of his reconciling with singer Rosemary Clooney.

But Miss Clooney, 33, replying to the same question, said: "Not at this time."

The two appeared in court, and Ferrer agreed to pay $1,500 a month temporary alimony pending trial of Miss Clooney's divorce suit.

The singer charged Ferrer, 48, with mental cruelty. They separated Aug. 7 after eight years of marriage.

Cosden Unit Is All-Out For UF

Another department of Cosden Petroleum Corp. swelled the ranks of 100 per cent groups in the United Fund this morning.

The downtown offices of Cosden, headed by Bill Crooker, reported this morning with 100 per cent of the goal, $4,425.28.

"There are 216 employees in the offices," Crooker said, "giving our report an average of over $20 per person."

Meanwhile, a report meeting was scheduled this afternoon from the metropolitan division and the service station section. This division got its drive off the ground earlier this week.

Two sections of the public employees division received cards Thursday and were making contacts today. They are the city's fire department and police department.

Workers in UF headquarters this morning counted a whopping $9,814.67, one of the best reports days since the campaign started. This big assist gave the drive a total of $71,647.19, either pledged or in the till.

Leaders continued to urge contributors to increase their gifts of last year due to increased expenses of the 12 contributing welfare and youth guidance agencies that benefit from the United Fund.

These include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Texas Rehabilitation Center, Howard County Rehabilitation Center, Texas United Fund, Air Force Aid Society, Milk and Ice Fund, Summer Recreation Program and the Westside Recreation Center.

In addition, the $105,000 UF goal this year includes $2,500 as the community's share in relief to the Hurricane Carla disaster area.

Rip-Snorting Rally Peps Homecoming

A rip-snorting pep rally blew the lid off homecoming activities for Big Spring High School this morning.

In rapid succession there was to be the homecoming parade at 10 a.m., starting from Sixth north on Main to Second, west to Scurry, south to Sixth; the big chili supper (replete with music) sponsored by the Band Boosters at 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the cafeteria; the football game at 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium, with growing of the football, homecoming and band queens at the halftime; several receptions (see last paragraph) for exes.

At the pep rally, students, aided by many exes and parents, almost raised the roof. Frosty Robison, once an all-state hallback for the Steers, and Coach Emmett McKenzie spoke, and cheerleaders put on a skit. Co-captains named were Jerry Tucker, Willie Mendoza and Jimmy Gilbert.

Saturday the Big Spring Country Club will be the site for a gathering of exes at 10 a.m. for coffee until noon, and for informal visiting during the afternoon. During the evening there will be a social hour at 8 o'clock, followed by a dance an hour later with script of $3 a couple. The student homecoming ball is set for 9 p.m. in the gymnasium with a $1.50 script.

Those connected with the homecoming have pointed out that it is for all ex-students, regardless of whether they graduated or not.

Among the class groups reported to be planning informal get-togethers after the football game this evening are 1928-32 at the Joe Pickle residence, 2303 Cactus; 1933-39 at the Robert Saltwaterwhite home, 610 E. 17th; 1940-44 at the Bruce Frazier home at 25th and Birdwell; 1949-55 at the Big Spring Country Club.

The latter is the latest to be announced and will be an informal Dutch treat affair. Glenn Bunn (AM 4-5346) is serving as general chairman with class chairman including Mrs. Katie Lou Jones Cathey (49), Bunn and Dewey Byers, Jones, Hodnett, Daniels (52), Mrs. Gloria Byrd Duncan (53), Frankie Marstrand Bledsoe (54), Frosty Robison (55).

Teen-Age Queen To Be Named

DALLAS (AP)—Miss Teen-Age America is to be named tonight at Dallas.

She will be chosen from 19 finalists and crowned at the Memorial Auditorium.

The winner will reign as Miss Teen-Age America through the coming year. She will receive a four-year scholarship to the college of her choice and will go on a nationwide tour. Her parents will receive a paid two-week vacation.

More than 100 girls—who arrived in Dallas from all sections of the country—have been competing in a series of tests all week.

House steps in his black fur hat, long black frock coat, and baggy white trousers.

"So far over there, we've just been hearing about him. Now I have met the man of the world," he said.

Reporters were not permitted to witness the meeting of the President and the camel driver.

Earlier Bashir had expressed a high hope to see Kennedy.

"I will consider myself fortunate if I ever meet the American badshah (that's king)," he said before he left his home in Karachi.

Bashir is visiting here at the invitation of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, whom he refers to as deputy king. Johnson met him during a visit to Pakistan.

President Kennedy is the king in Bashir's eyes. Looking at a picture of Kennedy in Johnson's senate office Thursday, the camel driver said: "He (Kennedy) seems to be very young, and he's certainly gone a very long way in a short while."

"I have never seen a king in my life, although I have heard stories about kings and emperors from my childhood," said the camel driver from a fabled land.

This is the sixth day in America for Bashir, 48, a striking figure with his long mustache and native dress.

When arrangements were under way for Bashir's trip, officials say word abroad they could expect to meet "a genuinely genteel man" who commands considerable respect in his homeland.

Bashir has lived up to its advance notices and added some to it. A tourist in the Senate got a wave from the smiling camel driver Thursday, commented, "He's very photogenic." News cameramen think so, too.

"I think he's precious," said a schoolgirl as Bashir visited James Madison High School in nearby Vienna, Va. There the camel driver, who can neither read nor write his own Urdu language, urged American youngsters to take advantage of their educational opportunities.

In a classroom at the school, Bashir asked one boy what he was studying to be. The boy said he wasn't sure.

ARTIFICIAL VALVE FOR HUMAN HEART

CHICAGO (AP)—An artificial valve made of Dacron and silicone rubber has proved highly satisfactory in replacing defective human heart valves, two Georgetown University surgeons reported today.

The operation corrects a heart condition caused by a malfunction of the aortic valve.

Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel and Peter W. Conrad of Washington, D. C., described the technique in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The surgeons reported they have replaced defective valves in more than 100 patients. The subjects gained relief from chest pains and labored breathing and were able to return to normal activities, the doctors said.

The artificial valve is sewn or sutured inside the heart or aorta in an operation that takes from 30 minutes to an hour. The body's normal circulation is performed during this time by a heart-lung machine.

Educated Women Key To Future, Eisenhower Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says educated women hold a key to the "future of our free government in the United States."

In a speech at a luncheon Thursday sponsored by Barnard College, Eisenhower said, in discussing communism: "I do believe the only way we are going to lighten the problem is to inform ourselves. To make a distinction between the education of men and women is silly."

Education, he continued, is needed by both sexes to understand "what our international problems are."

As for women in professions, Eisenhower, former president of Columbia University, said: "I am not decrying women doctors, scientists or lawyers, but what can be more important than the inescapable duty of the mother to get the child started?"

In a personal reference, he said: "I'm quite sure if I had not listened to a girl originally named Marjie Doud, I might have been unheard of." He did not elaborate.

In the afternoon the former president and Mrs. Eisenhower attended Aqueduct Race Track. It was his first visit to the track.

Before the races began Eisenhower said he was going to try to pick the winners himself, adding: "And I'm not going to bet more than $2 a race, and I'm not going to play every race."

It was not known how he made out.

Endangered Areas Protest

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Six countries close to the Soviet nuclear testing area formally called on the United Nations today to appeal to the Soviet Union to cancel its proposed explosion of a 50-megaton bomb.

The new resolution was laid before the General Assembly's main political committee by Canada, Denmark, Iceland, Japan, Norway and Sweden as that body debating steps to halt further testing of nuclear weapons.

It noted with deep concern Premier Khrushchev's announcement that a 50-megaton bomb would be exploded before the end of the month. It "solemnly" appealed for cancellation of the plans.

The resolution was circulated to the 101 members of the committee this morning. Representatives of Denmark, Japan and Canada were expected to press for priority action later in the day.

The first speaker at the morning session was Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who pressed for a new voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing despite Western insistence that such a ban would be a trap unless guaranteed by a treaty and inspection machinery.

Menon told the committee that both the Western power and the Russians must share responsibility for resumption of tests.

SUPPORT SEEN Diplomats predicted overwhelming support for the six-nation appeal to Khrushchev.

Asian-African nations reportedly had planned to introduce a similar resolution, but they apparently decided to leave the initiative to nations more likely to be affected by fallout from the giant blast.

Several U.N. delegates have expressed the suspicion that Khrushchev had no intention of setting off the bomb despite his dramatic announcement before the Soviet Communist party congress Tuesday. They believe the Soviet leader, knowing the alarm his announcement would arouse, intends to let the full impact sink in, then, as a magnanimous gesture, say he has decided for the sake of world harmony to heed the appeals.

LITTLE VALUE Arms experts have pointed out that there is little military value in exploding such a superbomb. They say that after test bombs reach a certain size, they furnish no useful information.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the Political Committee Thursday there is "no military purpose whatever in such weapons."

"For years the United States has been able to build such weapons," Stevenson said, "but we are not interested in the business of intimidation or bigger blasts."

Stevenson declared that unless a nuclear test ban treaty is signed the United States must prepare to take all steps needed to protect its security, including nuclear tests in the atmosphere as well as underground.

He challenged the Soviet Union to sign such a treaty at once, declaring: "I pray we do not lose another chance to meet this challenge of our time and stop this death dance."

MEETING SET The Security Council scheduled a meeting for next Wednesday to consider membership applications from Mauritania and Communist Outer Mongolia. A Western diplomat and some African delegates expressed belief Nationalist China would not carry out its threat to veto Mongolia, an action certain to provoke a Soviet veto of Mauritania.

A Nationalist Chinese source said his delegation had not received any word from Taipei.

But the New York Times, quoting Western diplomatic sources at the United Nations, said the United States and perhaps some other Western powers had persuaded Chiang Kai-shek's government not to veto Outer Mongolia because such action would likely step up the drive in the United Nations to give Nationalist China's seat to the Chinese Communists.

REVISION A report from Taipei said qualified sources there expect the Nationalist Cabinet to ask the Legislative Yuan, Nationalist China's Parliament, to revise its June 23 resolution in which it endorsed the use of the veto against Outer Mongolia.

The sources said this would be a necessary preliminary to changing the veto order previously given the Nationalist delegation at the United Nations. They explain the Cabinet could not reverse its instructions to the U.N. delegation unless the Legislative Yuan agreed.

FBI Man Sees Little Clerical Control By Reds

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Communist party has never substantially infiltrated the American clergy, says the No. 2 man of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"There can be no doubt as to the loyalty of the overwhelming majority of the clergy to our nation," William C. Sullivan, assistant director of the FBI, told a meeting at the Highland Park Methodist Church Thursday night.

Matched against the 300,000 ordained clergymen in the United States, the proportion who wittingly or unwittingly aided the Communist movement is exceedingly small, he said.

To Visit U.S. BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will go to the United States immediately after he is re-elected for talks with President Kennedy, one of the chancellor's closest associates said today.

Bashir's Dream Comes True-- He Meets The 'King' Of America

WASHINGTON (AP)—The smiling camel driver from Pakistan had his big dream come true today he saw America's "king"—President Kennedy.

"I have met the man of the world," Bashir Ahmad said as he emerged from Kennedy's White House office.

Although the meeting with the President had not been arranged in advance, Bashir had hoped that he would get to see Kennedy.

The grinning Pakistani was taken to the President's office after a half-hour tour of the White House with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the vice president.

Johnson, who is in Texas, invited the visitor to come to America on meeting the camel driver in Karachi on an Asian tour.

Through his interpreter, Bashir said the President had asked him how his visit was going. The camel driver said "wonderful" and thanked Kennedy for having sent Johnson to Karachi.

"What will you tell your neighbors about the President?" a reporter asked the 48-year-old camel driver as he stood on the White House steps in his black fur hat, long black frock coat, and baggy white trousers.

Ready To Work

Two sections of the public employees division received their United Fund cards Thursday and began making contacts this morning. Bruce Damm (right), chairman of the division, gives cards to H. V. Crocker (left), Big Spring fire chief, and Jay Banks, Big Spring police chief.

These two city departments had excellent reports in last year's campaign and are expected to duplicate the effort this year. Meanwhile, other departments were making regular reports, pushing the United Fund goal nearer the top.

Negroes Protest UT Campus Bars

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Fifty Negro students at the University of Texas visited in the lobby of a girls' dormitory Thursday night to protest campus racial barriers.

Negro students at the university are prohibited by school regulations from participating in varsity athletics and dramatics and other nonclassroom activities.

The Negro boys and girls entered the lobby of Kinsolving Dormitory and talked among themselves and with a few white students. A white boy, three Negro boys and three Negro girls stood around a piano while a Negro boy played and a Negro girl sang.

The dormitory's resident counselor told the students their presence violated university rules and asked them to leave. They told her they would stay but after about an hour they left.

There were no counterdemonstrations by whites.

The demonstration followed several smaller ones by Negro girls students in the dormitory's lobby.

The Daily Texan, student newspaper, quoted Kinsolving residents as saying they had been told that Negro girls visiting white girls should do so only in the girls' rooms, with the doors closed, and that Negro girls could not use rest rooms or water fountains.

The Texas also quoted the girls as saying they were told that Negro men entering white dormitories must be there only on errands.

Dr. Joseph R. Smiley, president of the university, said that students found to be guilty of infraction of university regulations will be subject to disciplinary action. Asked what the punishment might be, he said it would depend on the circumstances.

The Negro students at the dormitory refused to give their names. They said they feared disciplinary action.

One Negro girl said "This is just a protest to segregation in general. We hope to show that things like this can be done peacefully."

"We hope to show the university and board of regents that Negro students refuse to be treated as sub-human," another said.

Last year almost continual stand-ins at the box offices at two campus theaters led to admission of Negro students to the theaters this fall.

A petition to desegregate athletics was signed last month by about 6,000 students but university officials have taken no action on the petition. Within recent months there have been protests by white and Negro students against racial segregation in athletics, dramatics and student activities.

Communism Builds Depressing Sight

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

BERLIN (AP)—Here in Berlin communism has created one of the ugliest and most depressing sights on the face of the globe. It is The Wall—the wall of death, the new concrete curtain of communism.

Come take a tour along it. Walk along the Goerlitzer Ufer. You see West Berliners standing on one side of the Landwehr Canal, knots of East Berliners on the other bank. They wave to one another—separated families, relatives, friends.

Only the narrow canal separates them, but they look across an enormous gulf of cold war, across double lines of concrete posts connected with cruel tangles of barbed wire.

You see an old man waving to somebody on the other side and quietly weeping.

They stare back at you and finger their guns, as if they would like to use them on you.

Walk to the Eisenstrasse and see the newest section of the wall. The barbed wire has had time to rust. You can peer through an opening in the far side of the wall, beyond the barbed wire, and see the concrete roadblocks, placed there so that no more desperate people can crash trucks through the wire.

There you see an elderly woman, shouting through the opening. She is talking to a relative on the other side. She must shout to be heard. The Vopo, his machine gun slung over his shoulder, watches with the police and Communist party men, there to stand guard. In other vacated apartments party functionaries have moved in, but not many have been occupied. There must be a shortage of people who really can be trusted.

Walk down the Heinrich Strasse, named for a poet who loved freedom. It is one of two crossing points for the few West Berliners who get special permits to enter the East Sector. A knot of people waiting in line, looking tense.

A sound truck is blasting away at the police and Communist party men. It identifies itself as "the studio at the barbed wire." Helmeted West Berlin motorcycle police stand by, on the alert for trouble.

Vopos, why are you standing there?" comes the voice from the sound truck. "You are told it is because Berlin is a center for aggression, but you know better. You know it is a pretext for Ulbricht to wall you in against contact with your brothers. You know it is Ulbricht's way of keeping you in a concentration camp. That is why there is The Wall."

GOOD INTEREST

By T. H. Tazaki, preacher,
Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 40
P.O. Box 1285.

Even though we have repeatedly asked for Bible authority for certain religious practices of the community, the authority has not been presented to us.

Repeatedly, we have offered to furnish Bible proof for all we teach and practice in religion.

Now, at last, we are beginning to see an interest on the part of many people in holding to the truth. Many are interested in investigating for themselves. Questions are being asked. Attendance is growing. Undenominational, New Testament Christianity is on the march.

Even though we have the same evangelist as last year, our revival now in progress is much better than it was in 1960. People who come once, are returning again and again. And little wonder, Brother Rogers' lessons are both true to the Book, and very plain. Truth seekers are finding real help. If you are not coming, you do not know what you are missing. Come once, and you will come again. Come and see.

Tonight at 7:30 the sermon is, "GOD'S PLAN FOR UNITY."

Corps Member Now In London

NEW YORK (AP)—Margery Michelmore, the Peace Corps member whose stray postcard touched off a Nigerian student protest, arrived by plane from London today. Weather had diverted the plane from Bermuda, its intended destination.

Miss Michelmore was smiling and cheerful as she stepped from the air liner.

She had been scheduled to go from Bermuda to Puerto Rico for a new Peace Corps assignment.

Timothy J. Adams, assistant chief of public relations for the Peace Corps, said she would go to Puerto Rico later but did not indicate exactly when.

The 23-year-old girl from Roxboro, Mass., decided to discuss her troubles with newsmen.

A postcard the girl wrote describes primitive living conditions in Nigeria went astray and was found on the campus at the University in Ibadan, Nigeria, where she and the 36 other Peace Corps members sent to Nigeria were taking indoctrination training. Students at the university demanded that all 37 be expelled from the country, but the Nigerian government was satisfied by Miss Michelmore's departure.

New Purge Of Reds Seen

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party paper, disclosed today that a campaign of denunciation unmatched since the 1953 execution of Lavrenti Beria and Stalin's purge trials is being waged against former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and former Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich.

It printed hitherto secret speeches before the current party congress accusing them of beating, torturing and executing innocent Communist party officials during Stalin's reign of terror in the 1930s.

The speeches also charged they were involved and directly responsible for execution under N. I. Yeshov—bloodiest of the purgers.

No one in the history of the Soviet Union has ever survived such charges, but the only punishment so far demanded for Kaganovich and Malenkov is expulsion from the Communist party.

The speakers said former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and former President Klementi V. Voroshilov bore similar guilt, but direct and detailed charges against them have not been made yet.

Nevertheless, it seemed clear that this would be done before the party congress ends. Their expulsion from the party was also demanded.

Voroshilov, strangely enough, is serving on the Presidium of Honor.

Nikolai Podgorny, first secretary of the Ukraine, charged that all four men fought Premier Khrushchev's campaign of de-Stalinization because "they were personally responsible for many mass repressions."

The denunciation in Pravda aroused curiosity whether a new series of purge trials was being prepared and, after reading a section of a speech by Gennady Voronov, observers are inclined to think a new purge might sweep other Communist countries too. Voronov is party leader of the Russian Federated Republic, largest in the Soviet Union.

Club Told Of Free Press

Freedom of the press, as set forth in the United States Constitution, has a wider application than merely in the field of newspapers, Robert W. Whippley, publisher of the Big Spring Daily Herald, told members of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Freedom of the press goes into the right of each individual to write and cause to be permanently printed those ideas and viewpoints which he holds important and in need of distribution.

There is a constant effort, often carefully concealed, to curb the freedoms allotted to Americans in their Constitution, the Big Spring newspaper warned. He urged that all citizens be vigilant in seeing their rights endure.

He was speaking at the Kiwanis Club's observation of National Newspaper Week which is being celebrated Oct. 15 through Oct. 21.

He was introduced by Soc Walker, member of the club and principal of the Goliad Junior High School, who called attention to the use that his school makes of newspapers in their daily educational activities.

Whippley also told the club of the specific operations of the Herald—of the number of people employed, its operation as a retailer, manufacturer and public service institution, and of the area into which the paper goes.

Scout Rocket Test Successful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the civilian space agency say the firing of a Scout rocket 4,261 miles into the ionosphere to study its electrified air was "a damned good success."

But it will be several weeks, agency spokesmen said, before the scientific information radioed back during Thursday's probe could be analyzed and evaluated.

Scientists are interested in the effects of this electrified air on long-range radio waves from the earth. The experiment was important also for tracking and guidance of spacecraft.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said a 94-pound payload of instruments, carried aloft by a four-stage Scout rocket, reached an altitude of 4,261 miles before it and the rocket's fourth stage descended and plopped, as planned, into the Atlantic. No recovery effort was made.

Clear Skies, Bright Sunshine

By The Associated Press
Clear skies and bright sunshine helped erase the early morning chill that held most of Texas in its grip early Friday.
South Texas and coastal points had readings in the low 60s, but over most of the state they were in the 40s and 50s.
Dalhart with 40 and Junction were the coolest points while Galveston with a 63 had the highest pre-dawn reading.
The weather forecast called for continued coolness in the southern part of the state and a warming trend in the northern part Friday. Cooler weather for the upper Panhandle was predicted for Saturday.
Maximum temperatures Thursday ranged from 65 at Abilene and Dalhart to 89 at Laredo. No rain was reported in the state.

DEAR ABBY Sauce For The Goose

DEAR ABBY: Why should women knock themselves out trying to get slim and trim while their husbands let themselves go to the dogs? When we were married, Ron weighed 155. (He is only 5 ft. 6 in.) Now, only 15 years later, he weighs over 200 and looks like an overstuffed pig. He is ruining our furniture by dropping his weight on the chairs and sofa with a thud. He puffs and pants his way back when he is through gorging himself. Any suggestions?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I moved into my aunt's house so I could take care of her, when she died she would leave her house and everything else she had to me. She is 82 years old, and her health is poor. My husband says I should ask her to put her promise in writing. Should I?
A DEVOTED NIECE

DEAR ABBY: It seems to me that you, your husband and four children have a pretty good deal while your aunt is living. But if you are caring for her now only because of what she has promised you after she passes on, you had better ask her to speak to her attorney about making a will.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do. I am a grandmother in love with a grandfather. He is a fine gentleman, in good health, and we are of the same faith. I know he cares for me, but he keeps telling me that we are too old for marriage. He has no family obligations as his children are married and well off. I am in the same situation. He doesn't need my money, and I don't need his. We like the same things, and have a wonderful time together. Should I propose?
GRAY HAIR—BLUE FUTURE

DEAR GRAY: Yes, if you are young enough for love you aren't too old for marriage.

1962 'Critical' For Economy

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—President Kennedy's chief economist told industry today that 1962 may bring the "critical period" when renewed inflation could halt the advance toward a full-employment economy.
Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, appealed for restraint in price and wage decisions. He spoke at the fall meeting of the Business Council, attended by the heads of nearly 100 of the country's biggest corporations.
The prospect for price stability in the immediate future is good, Heller said in his address, but the business upsurge could stall next year—as it did two years ago—short of full utilization of men and machines.

THE TEST

"By the middle of next year we will probably have not reached full employment but we will have reached about that stage of the business cycle that we reached in 1959 and did not then manage to surpass," Heller said.
"The test next year will be whether the surge of recovery will continue toward full employment, or whether a revival of creeping inflation will hamper our efforts to use the full potential of the economy in the service of our national goals."
"Every person who wants the United States to continue to discharge its world responsibilities, and every person who favors full recovery and a faster rate of economic growth, is tied by the bonds of logic to the cause of price stability."

The business group, headed by Roger M. Blough, board chairman of the United States Steel Corp., heard Heller praise Kennedy's letter to Blough and 11 other major steel producers, asking them to forego a proposed Oct. 1 steel price increase.
LOGICAL APPEAL
The letters, said Heller, were a logical appeal for moderation in the long-range interest of steel makers, steelworkers and the public.
The absence of a price rise to date is "reassuring," as is the pledge of President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers to remain aware of its public responsibilities when the new round of wage bargaining begins next year, Heller said.
Heller spoke at a closed meeting of the council, he gave newsmen advance copies of his remarks.
He told the corporation heads the future of U.S. competitiveness in world trade depends on learning "to limit the increase in money incomes—wages and non-wage both—roughly to the rate of productivity increase, as some other countries have done."

The government has a two-fold obligation in this effort, Heller said, continuing: "In the first place it can try by persuasion and by the encouragement of healthy competition—both foreign and domestic—to induce both business and labor to conduct their negotiations and make their decisions in a way responsive to public as well as private interests."

DEFENSE ECONOMY
"The second responsibility of government is this: The federal government pledges to use its traditional fiscal and monetary powers to defend the economy against inflation arising from excessive demands on our productive capacity, as well as against deflationary pressures resulting from weak over-all demand."
"This task, in all its rigor, we are determined to carry out."

The President's economists also brought to the council a blueprint of the hoped-for American economy of 1963.
The study sets up such steep targets as these:
National output: $630 billion, compared with an annual rate of $516 billion in the second quarter of this year and perhaps $540 billion in the present quarter.

Unemployment: Reduced to 4 per cent, or about 3 million idle, as against 6.8 per cent and nearly 5 million unemployed last month.

Prices: Held to a 1.5 per cent annual increase, about the current rate of rise in living costs.
Profits: Corporation earnings at $82 billion a year, as against an April-June 1961 rate of $45.5 billion.

Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council, was expected to explain the projections at today's opening session of the business council's fall meeting. About 100 of the country's front-rank industrialists were to attend.

The council, which was the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council until it severed all government ties after a clash with Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, also will hear Hodges and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon in its closed weekend sessions.

Heller and fellow members of the council unfolded the 1963 perspective at a closed huddle in Washington last week with the council's team of professional economic consultants.

MAY AGREE
The Business Council's Committee on the Domestic Economy, headed by Frederick R. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., was expected to agree readily to help fill out Heller's outlines of a high-growth, high-employment economy.

The White House advisers, according to official sources, hope that the industry men will be able to translate the goals into such specifics as tons of steel, dollars of investment, new plant and equipment needs, credit supply and construction volume.
Where bottlenecks are revealed, the White House team would hope to recommend government policies and private measures to make the goals reachable.

Some of the private economists were known to be dubious about the Heller approach, preferring to push directly for tax, credit and fiscal policies which they consider to be holding back investment and growth.

Reds Cancel Flight Film

BALTIMORE (AP)—What would have been the first public showing in the United States of Maj. Gherman S. Titov's orbital flight was canceled suddenly Thursday night by Russian Embassy officials.

Ten minutes before the movie was scheduled to begin, embassy attaché Viktor K. Novash rushed here and picked up the film. He said only that it was "urgently needed in New York."

The Russian Embassy earlier had telephoned the Maryland Academy of Sciences, which was sponsoring the showing, and told an official the movie was canceled. The call came too late, however, to stop a private viewing of the film, which had just been completed.

Foreign correspondents in Moscow saw the 45-minute color film and heard the Russian commentary Oct. 9.

An Associated Press newsmen, who viewed Thursday night's private showing, said the film included scenes of the training of Titov and others, and some views of a rocket. The rocket's full size was not shown.

Ray Thompson of the Maryland Academy of Sciences said the Russian Embassy assured him the film would be made available to the academy again in a few weeks.

2 Churches Begin Doctrinal Studies

NEW YORK (AP)—Lutherans and Presbyterians in America, in a historic move, today set out to discover how closely—or far apart—they now stand on matters of doctrine.

It is the first such step of its scope, involving a score of denominations in these two main branches of Christianity that grew out of the Protestant Reformation. Their leaders will engage in a long-range series of talks on historical-theological differences and to what extent the differences still exist. The discussions are not, however, aimed at merger, it was said.

The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary—Presbyterian—and the Rev. Dr. Paul C. Emlie, executive director of the National Lutheran Council, said in announcing the project: "These conversations are to be purely theological to discover to what extent differences which have divided these communions in the past still constitute obstacles to mutual understanding."

There are more than 78 million Lutherans in the world and 45 million Presbyterian and Reformed believers.

In the American talks, representatives of at least a dozen Presbyterian bodies, with 6.5 million members, and of seven Lutheran bodies, with 8.5 million members—a total of 15 million Christians—will take part.
Both traditions stemmed from the 16th century Protestant break from Rome.
Lutherans sprang from the leadership of German reformer Martin Luther, while the Presbyterian-Reformed camp arose through influence of the Swiss reformers John Calvin and Ulrich Zwingli in the same period.
Most other Protestant bodies are offshoots, or else developed separately but in the simultaneous environment, such as Baptists in Germany and Methodists, Episcopalians and Congregationalists out of the Church of England.
Crosscurrents, in the Reformation era, touched all groups.
First meeting between the Lutheran and Presbyterian-Reformed theologians tentatively is set for January, 1962, another in the spring of 1963, and a third in the spring of 1964, with exact times and dates still to be determined.
The plan was originally proposed by Dr. McCord, as secretary of the North American Area of the World Presbyterian Alliance. It was accepted by the National Lutheran Council Executive Committee, which serves as the U.S.A. committee for the Lutheran World Federation.
Most controversial issues between the two Protestant branches in the past have centered on the Lord's Supper and the doctrine of predestination.
Lutherans have always stressed the "real presence" of Christ in the Lord's Supper, contrasting somewhat with the Presbyterians, at least historically.
Also, the traditional Presbyterian doctrine of predestination, a subtle concept involving God's preknowledge of each man's fate, is not taught in Lutheranism.
However, there have been modifications in the Presbyterian interpretation of the doctrine.

Scarbeck Case May End Soon

The 41-year-old former second secretary of the American Embassy in Warsaw is charged with giving secret embassy documents to Polish agents after they threatened to expose his affair with a 22-year-old Polish girl.

A Lad With Get-Up-And-Go

Most newspapers devote more space to the observation of doughnut week than they do to National Newspaper Week, but for Saturday we want to pay tribute to the newspaper boy whose special day climaxes this special week.
 Much has been said about the lessons of selling, service, collecting, thrift, dependability and others that a boy learns when carrying a newspaper route. He also has earned respect for his part in the dissemination of information about the happenings close at home and around the world. He has even been praised as the link which makes it economically possible for a product such as a paper to be placed daily behind the door of a subscriber.

 All of these things are important qualities, lessons and contributions. They equip a lad for better performance later on.
 We pay our respects, however, to the newsboy because he has shown that he has the get-up-and-go necessary to accomplish things. He has a good attitude toward the solution of problems, because he is not reluctant to put out energy and thought required to solve them. In short, he is not afraid of work—he welcomes it.

Where The Real Test Lies

The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to review its ruling of last June, upholding the verdict of the Subversive Activities and Control Board that the Communist Party is an instrument of the Soviet Union, and therefore it must be regarded as a lobby or agent of a foreign country. Thus, the Communist party is required to register as the agent of a foreign power, listing its members and source of revenue.
 Some American Communist leaders have announced that they will defy the Supreme Court decision.
 As a broad matter of principle, this may seem to approach the border of requiring an individual to register because of personal belief, yet there is a clear line of demarcation here. The Communist Party has been shown, by the court decision and certainly by its deeds, to be an agent rather than a party.

 Roscoe Drummond, a seasoned observer, puts it in a capsule: "All right, then, why don't Americans who want to persuade America to become Communist choose a legal course and organize a legal party which would have no loyalty to a foreign power—if they could do so? . . . Probably the Communists would prefer to defy the law rather than to break with Moscow. That is the real test of where their loyalty lies."

Marquis Childs Rayburn Represented The Frontier

WASHINGTON — The qualities making for leadership in a democracy are blurred by television and radio, the media of mass communication that infinitely expand the opportunity of the clever demagogue. It was out of quite another era, the era of the individual speaking from a body of conviction and belief deeply rooted, that Sam Rayburn came.

$534,352,000 for Texas with a population of 9,850,000.
 This compares with $655,899,000 for New York State with its population of 16,782,000 and California which got $677,584,000 with a population of 15,717,000. The comparison shows up even more sharply in individual programs. On old-age assistance, for example, Texas got $103,187,000 while New York State got $46,732,000. This may be a reflection of the degree to which Texas out of its own sovereign tax revenues helps its own old people.

MR. SAM has always known who he was when he did speak sparingly and sparsely in language of almost Biblical simplicity. It was out of his origins in an America that still reflected the glow of the struggle for freedom and the harsh, demanding life of the frontier.

IN MILITARY contracts Texas outranks all but three states with well over a billion dollars in defense procurement in 1960. In short, the process that Rayburn began many years ago to try to equalize the distribution of the nation's wealth has gone forward with a vengeance. And as Mr. Sam has from time to time very observed, those who shout loudest about states' rights are often those who work hardest to snare the Federal dollar.

Because he was so little concerned with his own personal prestige — his is one of the shortest biographies in Who's Who — a later generation is hardly aware of how much he had to do with shaping the Democratic party. He was a partner of Franklin Roosevelt in the New Deal. And if for the most part he was content to be a silent partner he was nevertheless an indispensable component of the partnership that brought what was in effect a new party into being.

Nothing riled him so much as the fulminations of these conservatives who were at the same time eager to get all the benefits going from the measures initiated under the New Deal and the Fair Deal. A year ago when President Kennedy was in Texas Mr. Sam campaigned with him with the vigor of a man half his age. He showed that he could still hit at what he believed to be prejudice and hypocrisy with the fire of his youth.

ROOSEVELT spoke for the city masses, the bosses and their constituents. Rayburn worked for the dispossessed South and West, for those who were in effect colonial drawers of water and hewers of wood for the industrial North. The partnership was highly successful in that the two major interests complemented each other and impressive majorities were rolled up in one election after another.

IN THE HOUSE where he has been Speaker for longer than any one in history — he passed that record in 1951 — he has in recent years been tired and sometimes impatient and indifferent. Discipline in the unwieldy Democratic majority was lax and both Southerners and Northerners strayed off the reservation with Mr. Sam's sanction in the belief that if they had to vote a certain way to get re-elected then they had to vote that way.

ONE OF THE New Deal goals that Rayburn pushed hardest was rural electrification. He had grown up in the age of oil lamps when the farmer's wife pumped all the water for the household by hand, besides doing the innumerable chores for a big family. Rayburn was determined to have the farmer share with the city dweller the benefits of technology. He worked hard to get benefits for his own state of Texas and particularly when he recruited as his assistant a smart young Texan new to the House named Lyndon Johnson.

When he came to Congress in 1913 Washington was a small provincial capital, a Southern town with a transient population moving in and out as the Congress met. Increasingly the follies of the time oppressed him. But he never lost the integrity, the sense of being part of a nation he knew and loved, that he brought with him from the last frontier.
 (Copyright, 1961, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

THE end of Rayburn's career coincides with a revolution of the right in Texas that seeks to take that state not only out of the New Deal but into the arms of the Republican right. This uprising, symbolized by Texas' new Republican Senator, John Tower, is for states' rights and against the Federal government and all its works. The wealthy Texans financing the movement are well to the right of Louis XIV in the conviction of their own sovereignty.

WHAT OTHERS SAY
 It should come as no surprise that the mule is rapidly disappearing. The technological unemployment of the mule has been proceeding apace for many years.
 Even so, when the mule state of Missouri can produce no more than 54 of the animals for an exhibition at the state fair, despite attractive cash prizes, it adds to the alarm that the faithful beast of many burdens may be rapidly becoming extinct in this part of the world. Forty years ago, the mule census of Missouri counted almost half a million. By 1955 the number had dropped to 20,000.
 The St. Louis Post Dispatch bemoans the fact that Missouri children may grow up and die without ever seeing a mule. The same bemoaned existence may face many young Alabamians as the much-maligned but still noble beast is almost as odd a sight nowadays as a zebra pulling a plow.
 It can be safely stated that a large part of the education of many prominent Americans — specifically including political leaders — was based on their early experiences persuading a mule. With that background of managerial experience and behavioral psychology, the control of people and events comes easily.
 But alas the old saying assumes a new dimension of truth: "A mule is an animal that has neither pride of ancestry nor hope of posterity."

 In nine months on his new job Hodges has traveled 60,000 miles, visited most sections of the country, been to Mexico and made two whirlwind trips to Europe. Next week's destination: Tokyo.
 "What does he tell them? He tells them: 'You've got more money now. We've got deficits, you've got surpluses.'"
 "I've never worked so hard in my life," he said during a pause here en route from Madrid to Washington. "This New Frontier is exciting and moves pretty fast."
 Hodges, one of nine children of a North Carolina tobacco farmer, has always enjoyed going at a fast clip. He helped work his way through college selling Bibles, made a fortune in business and quit at 32 to enter politics.
 Soon after taking office, the new Commerce secretary moved to help businessmen by simplifying the issuance of patents and speeding up U. S. census reports.
 But Hodges, a strongly built, blue-eyed man with a vast amount of urban as well as folksy Southern charm, is too restless to stay long behind a desk.
 He isn't the board chairman type. He is a super-salesman, a missionary with a message.
 This is his message:
 "America needs to sell more goods abroad, and it needs more foreign tourists to come over and spend money here."
 "The average American firm has had such a good market at home it hasn't felt it necessary to sell abroad. But it's time now perhaps because allowances are higher these days.

 But a publisher who has business relations with some 32,000 youngsters across the land comes to the kids' defense. They're as good as ever, he says, at least in the smaller towns where his publication largely is distributed.
 SATURDAY IS Newspaperboy Day. So a lot of famous former newspaperboys may be looking over the shoulders of the two Cabinet members: Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges; and Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff.
 Some in the list are former Presidents Hoover, Eisenhower and Truman; Chief Justice Warren; Gen. Gruentzer; Sens. Sparkman, Mundt and Yarborough; Jack Dempsey and Walt Disney—to name only a few.
 Hodges says today's parents aren't using discipline to teach children the joys and rewards of work. He fears this is helping to make the nation soft.
 Ribicoff also decries coddling and lays a lot of the blame to restrictive laws on hiring youngsters. But he sees a growing feeling against teaching of self-respect and a sense of responsibility through work.
 THE PUBLISHER who thinks neither the boys nor the parents, especially in the multitude of smaller cities, are that bad is George R. Lamade of Williamsport, Pa. His newspaper, Grit, is billed as a national publication devoting itself to small-town America.
 One of its early newspaperboys was Luther H. Hodges himself. Others include "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky and Ford Frick, present baseball commissioner, House Republican Leader Halleck, Carl Sandburg and Gene Autry.
 Many city newspaper publishers report having their troubles resulting in youthful distributors these days.
 But in big and small cities they are likely to agree that newspaperboys still can learn a lot that's useful later on. They cite training in salesmanship, learning to talk on their feet, making contacts with various types of people getting noise and self-assurance, training in the virtues of reliability and promptness.

To Your Good Health Different Kinds Of Heart Irregularity

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 More and more people are recognizing that "heart trouble" is a mighty broad term. This is gratifying. People are becoming so much better informed on health problems than they were a generation ago, or even a few years ago.
 One result is that my readers are asking much more specific questions, like this one:
 "Dear Dr. Molner: I would like some information on the pills doctors prescribe for birth-control. I have some reservations about taking them, but I know a number of women who do. My family physician suggested them because of my irregularity.—Mrs. F.G."
 Such medication is used with good effect in certain menstrual irregularities. It has also been used because of its "rebound effect," in encouraging pregnancy. As to its use for contraceptive purposes, I have heard mixed reports. Since considerable study is still in progress, I prefer to wait until we hear the results before I try to arrive at any conclusions. I see no reason why you should not follow your doctor's advice.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful for a person who has chronic colitis to eat meat? I also drink prune juice, night and early morning, as a laxative. Is that harmful?—M.J."
 No, no harm from either.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: What is nor-nervous states; or by the presence of infection.

 The premature contractions can be eliminated (and cured) by getting rid of the cause. Only occasionally does this irregularity require drug treatment, other than those used to combat the underlying infection, nervous condition, or other cause.
 "Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to know if there is a cure for Mrs. F. R."
 Articular fibrillation (fibrillation can be described as a light, rapid quivering instead of a solid, concerted beat) is what we call "an irregular irregularity." The auricles (upper chambers of the heart) receive the impulse to beat at an irregular pace. The ventricles (lower chambers) receive their impulses at a different rate, also irregular.
 Control of auricular fibrillation is the goal—control, because of the difficulty in finding a cure for the basic problem. Drugs such as digitalis or quinidine are frequently used for this.
 Premature contractions, on the other hand, are an occasional irregularity in which the auricle (or more likely the ventricle) receives an off-rhythm impulse to beat.
 Premature contractions are usually caused by some toxic condition, such as resulting from excess coffee or tobacco; certain mal blood sugar level in a man about 70 years old? He has been diabetic for several years, but at present has realized a drop in sugar to 85. Is this low count dangerous? Also, in the case of alcoholism, is the patient allowed meat and eggs in the diet?—M.E."

 A blood sugar value of less than 120 before breakfast is considered normal. Hence at 85 I would consider this man's case as being in excellent control. (Pills are most likely to be useful among diabetics 50 years of age and over.)
 As to albumin, the loss (via urine) has to be replaced because protein is necessary in maintaining the tissues. I would say that therefore an egg a day and an average serving of meat is quite allowable. If your doctor has reasons, unknown to me, for thinking otherwise, follow his instructions.
 "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.
 Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim Crystal Balling The TV Fare

The year is 2000 A.D.
 Every home has its TV room. This is a specially designed room built much like the movie theatres our ancestors attended.
 Facing the tiered seats is a wide screen, covering the entire upper portion of the wall. There is no TV tube; those became obsolete "way back in 1968 A.D."
 In the pit below the screen are the equipment—the stereo sound projectors, the boxes of printed circuits and microscopic components, and the computer.
 OUTSIDE, THE AERIAL points toward the sky, with lateral projections aimed at local and regional stations. The network programs come from manned satellites in stationary orbits 25,000 miles above, encircling the Earth. The satellites wheel about the Earth at the same rate as the mother planet spins, so that each satellite remains over the same spot.
 Back inside the TV room, the computer intercepts the signals from the antenna and stores away all data. Wires lead from the computer to the screen and sound boxes.
 FAMILY MEMBERS wander in at their leisure, for the time element has long gone from television. The wife and mother, at 10 a.m., wants to see that horrendous soap opera she missed two weeks ago, but which she heard from a friend was a very good show. The 3-year-old wants to see the cartoons after his noon nap, although the cartoons went on the air at 11 a.m. Junior, coming in from elementary school at 3 p.m., wants to see the cowboy show he missed last night because it came on at a late hour. Big brother, a high school student and budding scientist, comes in at 4 p.m. to see that panel discussion of nuclear scientists which went over the airwaves last week, but which he missed because he was on a rocket firing expedition.

 AND, OF COURSE, the father comes in sometime after 5 p.m. and plops down to view the World Series game which ended at 3 p.m.
 Each viewer sits, makes himself comfortable, and speaks to the computer, ordering whatever show is wanted. The computer's memory circuits hum, and the entire show is presented, with flaws and distortions corrected and nauseous commercials deleted.
 In the evening, the entire family gathers, and Father interrogates the computer, as to the available shows from the world. Samples of interesting titles are flashed across the screen, and the final selection is made.
 The commercials? Ad men have been forced to make the commercials as interesting and as tasteful as the shows, and there are billions who watch them, too.

OK Men, Start Supporting The Gals

There is news for the National Man's Legion. The congregation should remember that this is the organization that proposes to solve all problems — peace, prosperity, unemployment and the common cold — by the simple process of giving women! The man is 27,000 per cent more creative (superior) to the woman. For prosperity and defense, abolish all female labor. Join the National Man's Legion.
 Since the column containing this formula for paradise appeared early in September, the letters written me by women eager to quit gainful employment have arrived in such unmanageable number as to delight the Unmanageable Man's Legion. And, perhaps, surprise it a bit.
 WOMEN OF ALL ages in every section of the nation can't wait to stop punching the time-clock of gainful employment if only — and there is one proviso — the legion supports them in the manner to which their own efforts have accustomed them.
 "All my life I have been trying to find some man who would support me," writes a woman from St. Louis, who signs herself "Dying to Quit." "Neither my father, my brothers, nor my uncles ever showed the slightest interest in providing me with food, shelter or clothing," she continues. "For the past 20 years I have been the sole support of myself and my mother."
 "SO I SAY THIS to the Man's Legion: Let me know when your support starts so I can quit. Hurry!"
 A Salt Lake City woman who signs herself "One Who Knows" writes:
 "This legion contends that men are 27,000 per cent more intelligent than women. Boy, they sure must be! Or else why do women allow themselves to be stuck with families because men don't want the responsibility of being husbands or fathers."

 "I SPEAK FROM experience. My husband wanted a large family. After the fourth child arrived, he told me, 'I'm too young to be stuck with all this responsibility.' So he walked out. Ever since I have worked to support my children and myself.
 "There are days when my back hurts a lot worse than Mrs. Kennedy's. Please tell the Man's Legion that I'll be perfectly willing not to work any more if it will support the kids and me. We like to eat."
 A CHICAGO WOMAN whose experience parallels that of Salt Lake's "One Who Knows," offers a novel solution to the high incidence of divorce in the United States.
 "In the divorce court, how many men either offer or want to take the children and rear them properly, much less support them?" Mrs. Chicago begins. "If the law stipulated that the man must take the children and make a proper home for them, in case of divorce, or support them, divorce courts and lawyers would have to quit for lack of business.
 "IF WE WERE willing to face the truth," another woman writes, "we would have to admit that most men don't want to be men. A man wants to be a child all his life, yet with the conveniences and privileges of marriage. When that child is faced with a man's responsibilities, he walks out on his wife and children.
 "I'm dog-tired, and if the legion will support me and the children, I'll quit tomorrow."
 Well, as everyone knows, I'm just crazy about men. And I don't want to have to take sides. But it does seem to me at this point that the National Man's Legion either has to fish, cut bait or cloister some of its own.

David Lawrence Khrushchev Delays Berlin Showdown

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy, in behalf of the United States, has won his first victory in the "cold war." When he met with Premier Khrushchev in Vienna last June, Mr. Kennedy said no "ultimatum" had been presented to him. Later it was disclosed that the Soviet premier had left a memorandum with the President which was widely interpreted as an ultimatum—that before the end of this year the Soviets would sign a peace treaty with East Germany abrogating the four-power agreement signed after the close of World War II.

would then be taking itself out of the parleys altogether and whatever hopes it had for other "concessions" or new arrangements concerning, for instance, the Polish boundary, would have to be abandoned.
 SO THE INCIDENT confirms the belief that prolonged negotiations are in prospect, and that the Russians aren't going to throw away their trump card by signing a peace treaty with East Germany until they have exhausted every opportunity to negotiate settlements favorable to them.
 What probably happened is that when Foreign Minister Gromyko returned to Moscow he reported that President Kennedy and Secretary Rusk were firm in their determination to resist any change in the status of West Berlin so far as rights hitherto granted the Western Allies are concerned and that the only hope lay in further talks.

BUT NOW the Soviet premier announces that the plan for signing a peace treaty with East Germany will not be carried out this year and will be postponed. As so often happens in diplomacy the premier decided to confirm Mr. Kennedy's earlier interpretation of the Vienna conference because it now seems expedient to do so.
 This may sound like an unimportant detail and perhaps it is no proof of any fundamental modification of the Soviet viewpoint on the main issues of the current controversy over Berlin. But it is significant nevertheless of a change in the timing. It can only mean that Mr. Kennedy's firm position has been duly taken into account in Moscow and that all the words in the President's speech to the U. N. and in his private conversations with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko here really did take effect.
 TO PEOPLE who generally are not familiar with the nuances of diplomacy and the crafty maneuvers that precede "negotiations," it will bring a sigh of relief anyway. For it does reduce tension somewhat. It shows that Mr. Khrushchev became convinced that he cannot deal lightly with the American viewpoint or brush it aside and immediately sign a peace treaty with East Germany.

WHAT STIMULATES a feeling of satisfaction here is that, despite Premier Khrushchev's big talk about the Soviet plan to test the largest megaton bomb ever developed, he is not making any moves that indicate he will really use nuclear weapons to force the Allies to agree to his views on the problem of Berlin. In a broad sense, the whole world can derive the inference that, while talk of a big nuclear war still continues, it has not been given any real impetus by the speeches made or the events occurring on either side of the Iron Curtain.
 WHEN ONE, therefore, concludes that President Kennedy has won a significant victory in staying the hand of Premier Khrushchev, it is important to note that this was brought about by a remarkable display of unity inside the United States. Not only have both political parties supported firmness as the nation's policy, but public-opinion polls have reflected the refusal of the American people to be bluffed or intimidated by repeated mentions of the horrors of war.
 Under these circumstances, it would seem logical to record that the President's policy of firmness, coupled with a sense of restraint and a willingness to go on talking, has had a favorable sequel—Mr. Khrushchev is now putting the "ultimatum" idea on the shelf and perhaps it will stay there indefinitely.
 (Copyright, 1961, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

THE FORMALIZING of such a pact, moreover, has more meaning than appears on the surface. For to sign a peace treaty between the Soviets and East Germans means the end and not the beginning of "negotiations" with the West. If, for instance, the Soviet treaty were signed, there would be nothing further to negotiate with Moscow. It would imply that everything had been left for the Allies to settle with the puppet government of East Germany. The Soviet government

Guard Unit Feted, Leaves Here Sunday

National Guardsmen from Big Spring who are in the process of going into active training at Fort Polk, La., got a friendly farewell Thursday night from men who have already served a military hitch—members of the American Legion and the VFW.

The service organizations were hosts for a buffet supper at the Legion Hall. The meal was preceded and followed by informal visiting.

A large number of the local Guardsmen—Battery A, 3rd Artillery, Howitzer Battalion, 132nd Field Artillery, 49th Armored Division—were present, with their commander, Capt. Dewey Stevenson.

A brief formal note was sounded when R. W. Whipkey, speaking for the veterans, lauded the Guardsmen for their high training fitness, and their willingness to make personal sacrifices in order to be ready to defend their country.

Capt. Stevenson voiced appreciation of the battery for the recognition given them.

The main body of Guardsmen will leave by bus at 10:30 p.m. Sunday and the others will depart at 1 a.m. Monday by convoy.

The bus will arrive at Ft. Polk Monday morning and the motor convoy should be there about noon Tuesday, Capt. Stevenson said.

Lt. Johnny P. Hooper will be the only person in the unit remaining in Big Spring. He will stay here a few more days awaiting transfer to Ft. Sill, Okla., to attend artillery school.

"We will probably have two men relieved of duty after they reach Ft. Polk because of physical disability," he said. Capt. Stevenson did not give out the names of the men.

Two school teachers, Pfc. Jeff Walker, Colorado City, and Pfc. Wilburn P. Cunningham, Big Spring, have received 90-day deferments. They will report for duty in January.

Five of the men have purchased house trailers and will take their families to Polk, Capt. Stevenson said. The men have already made arrangements for trailer facilities.

Officers of the Buffalo Trail Council were re-elected Thursday evening at the board meeting, one of the best attended in months.

O. D. Albright, Odessa, was returned to the presidency. Those elected vice presidents included Dr. Byron Wildenthal, Alpine; Alvin Mark McLaughlin, Snyder; Truett A. Roach, Andrews; and O. W. Whitten, Wink. Maj. Wilson E. Speir, Midland, was named council commissioner, and Luther May Jr., Midland, was named treasurer, with Fred Middleton, Midland, as assistant.

Of the two score board members present, nine were from Big Spring.

Date of the annual meeting was set for Jan. 18 at Midland, and Bill Murray, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, was announced as the speaker.

Walter Wenzel, chief of the conservation section of Boy Scouts of America, reported on his inspection of the council's Boy Scout Ranch and Camp Ed Murphy at Lake J. B. Thomas. He made certain recommendations for promoting conservation at these sites. There also were reports from the conservation and finance committees.

Williamson No. 1 Wolcott flowed 289 barrels of oil on 24-hour potential from the lower Leonard. This Martin County discovery is 10 miles northwest of Tarzan and 1 1/2 miles southwest of the one-well Wolcott (Wolfcamp) field.

Blair and Price and Fred M. Allison Jr. No. 1 Koonsman was completed in the upper zone of the Pennsylvania, for 201.15 barrels of oil. This Borden County discovery has a total potential of 442.35 barrels a day from the two zones.

There were eight sites filed in the area. Howard and Martin county each had four.

Borden

Blair and Price and Fred M. Allison Jr. No. 1 Koonsman, producing from Pennsylvania "E" from a previous discovery completion, was potentialized from 201.15 barrels of oil to 262.58 barrels of oil flowing. No water was produced. The gas-oil ratio was 920-1. It was completed on zone "E" for 241.20 barrels on Oct. 3. Location is C SE SW, section 2-6-2, T&P survey, 13 miles northeast of G&M.

Chambers and Kennedy No. 1 Willis is drilling in shale below 3,489 feet. It spots C SE NE, section 333-97, H&T survey.

Dawson

City Selected For Union's Office Site

Big Spring has been selected as the headquarters for the Mid-West Texas Building and Trades Council (AFL-CIO), and John F. Wallace has been named to head the office.

The council was created here following several conferences in the spring, and it will be a coordinating agency for unions in the various building crafts.

Wallace said that contractors would be able to obtain wage information, both on rates and other agreements, for all crafts operating in the area from Wichita Falls to Odessa and from San Angelo to Lubbock. In addition to construction and contractual matters the council also will offer a base for political exchange, said Wallace.

Each of the locals of some 16 crafts have two delegates on the council, which will meet here the first Saturday of each month at 10 a.m. in the offices maintained by the council in the International Union of Operating Engineers building south of Costen's refining plant.

Wallace is a native of Ringling, Okla., and has been an iron worker by trade. For the past three years he has been the business agent for the iron workers at Wichita Falls. He and Mrs. Wallace and their children, Janice, 12, and John Mark, 6, reside at 2612 Larry in Kentwood addition. They are Baptists.

Funeral is scheduled Saturday at 10 a.m. for Tammie Lee Davis, five-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Davis, 2031/2 Galveston. The Rev. Jack Strickland, East Fourth St. Baptist Church will officiate at graveside rites in city cemetery. River Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

600 Beaumont People Attend Slav Protest

By The Associated Press
Dallas' National Indignation Convention spread Thursday night to Beaumont where 600 persons signed petitions protesting military and training aid to Yugoslavia.

The Beaumont meeting was the first outside of Dallas where night-time protest sessions have been held this week.

Maj. Harry Knickerbocker of Dallas, a member of Air National Guard who first reported that four Yugoslav pilots and four mechanics are being trained at Perrin Air Force base near Sherman, was the main speaker at Beaumont.

The meeting was held in the American Legion auditorium and was sponsored by the Americans for America Committee.

More than 1,000 participants at Thursday night's meeting in Dallas heard oil attorney Sidney Latham assail what he called "bogus phone calls" to the group. "You can begin to get encouraged until you find out that the opposition is trying to destroy you. They try to get you when you begin to hit where it hurts," he said.

Latham said the convention had received phone calls from "somebody calling himself Bill Decker saying he would attend the meeting."

Dallas County Sheriff Bill Decker and District Attorney Henry Wade said they didn't plan to attend the meetings.

Latham said "Things like this are bound to happen when you start trying to fight communism."

The attorney called for enthusiasm in the meeting not to die out and recalled instances in the American Revolution "where it was a long, hard wait for freedom."

Long-distance phone calls were placed to congressmen and others who were asked if they supported the three basic aims of the convention: (1) to expel the Yugoslav pilots from Perrin Air Force Base, (2) to find out who contracted the sale of F86D fighters to Yugoslavia, (3) to find out who is responsible and have them removed from office.

Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen said he agreed with all three aims. Dean Clarence Manion of South Bend, Ind., the former head of Notre Dame, called for "sending the spies out of Texas."

Cigarettes Get Blame

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A medical tale from two cities about cigarette smokers today agreed:

The death rate from coronary heart disease was three times higher among middle-aged and older men smoking a pack a day or more, compared with non-smokers, pipe or cigar smokers, and former cigarette smokers. Their death rate from all causes was three times higher also.

Why they died earlier than other men is obscure.

The researchers from Albany, N.Y., and Framingham, Mass., said "There is strong evidence for some lethal but nonspecific factor associated with cigarette smoking."

They suggested caution "in drawing therapeutic inferences on these observations"—meaning whether changing smoking habits would reduce disease or death risks.

But they said their preliminary results suggest the chance of developing coronary heart disease increases the longer and more a man smokes cigarettes.

The statistical studies involving 4,120 men in Albany and Framingham during six to eight years were described to the American Heart Association's 34th annual scientific sessions opening today.

The combined report was prepared by Dr. Joseph T. Doyle of Albany Medical College and Dr. Thomas R. Dawber, director of the National Heart Institute's heart disease epidemiology study at Framingham, and was read by Dr. Doyle.

Reclamation Bureau Outlay Includes San Angelo Work

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reclamation Bureau has a $15,221,000 construction program under way in Texas for the year ending June 30.

A report by the bureau today showed the largest item in the program is $7,385,000 for continuing construction of the Twin Buttes Dam and reservoir near San Angelo.

This work will include building the main canal and lateral system and a district operation and maintenance headquarters, the report said.

The bureau said it planned to spend $4,200,000 on the Canadian River project, which includes a dam near Sanford and an aqueduct system to 11 cities in the Panhandle and South Plains. The money will acquire lands, relocate pipelines and other properties and initiate construction. Total estimated cost of the project is $102 million, of which 95 per cent is to be repaid by water users.

The bureau said it also is carrying on rehabilitation of two long existing irrigation projects in South Texas. It said the year's expenditures on the La Feria Division of the Lower Rio Grande project would amount to $1,200,000 and on the Mercedes Division to $1,871,000.

The bureau's loan program, not included in the construction total for Texas, includes $1,501,000 for the Donna irrigation district and $5,000 for administration of the loan program from the bureau's regional office in Amarillo.

Arab Oil Envoys Assail Russians

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Arab delegates to the Arab Oil Conference have angrily accused Russia of dumping oil in the world market with the help of Italy.

Heated argument broke out with Russia pushed into the unlikely position of defending a free market and Lebanese delegate Emile Bustani shouting in answer that anyone who forced a reduction in oil prices is "an enemy of the Arabs."

Soviet delegate V. P. Soukhanov argued that Russian sales to Italy, which started the argument, were concluded on an open market in the face of free competition.

Italian delegate Enrico Bonomi also was assailed by Arab delegates when he defended the Soviet deal as in the interest of Italian industry.

Pastor Calls Sam 'Great, But Humble'

By GEORGE BURLAGE
Denton Record-Chronicle Staff
Written For The Associated Press

TIOGA, Tex. (AP)—Elder H. G. Ball, long-time pastor of the Primitive Baptist Church here, describes one of his members, ailing House Speaker Sam Rayburn, thus:

A great statesman but humble in the eyes of God.

Rayburn was accepted into the 45-member church and was baptized by Elder Ball four years ago.

"Mr. Rayburn was not a convert to the church," Ball said. "In his heart he was always a Primitive Baptist, and he had never joined any other church."

The minister recalls the speaker asked him about joining the church and Rayburn stated his faith before the congregation in the white frame church at a regular Sunday service.

Rayburn said then that there was a large Primitive Baptist Church in Washington, but he preferred the friendliness of a small church.

Tioga is a town of diminishing population on Texas 99 about 25 miles northeast of Denton.

Elder Ball observed his 50th year in the ministry last year.

Primitive Baptist Church services consist of hymn singing and preaching. There is no Sunday school or other church organizations. Members participate in a follow-a-shin ceremony yearly. Ministers are called elders and receive no pay.

Elder Ball has visited Rayburn twice in Dallas in the past few days. He said sadly of his friend and fellow church member, "Mr. Rayburn is a man of great character; one whom the nation will miss."

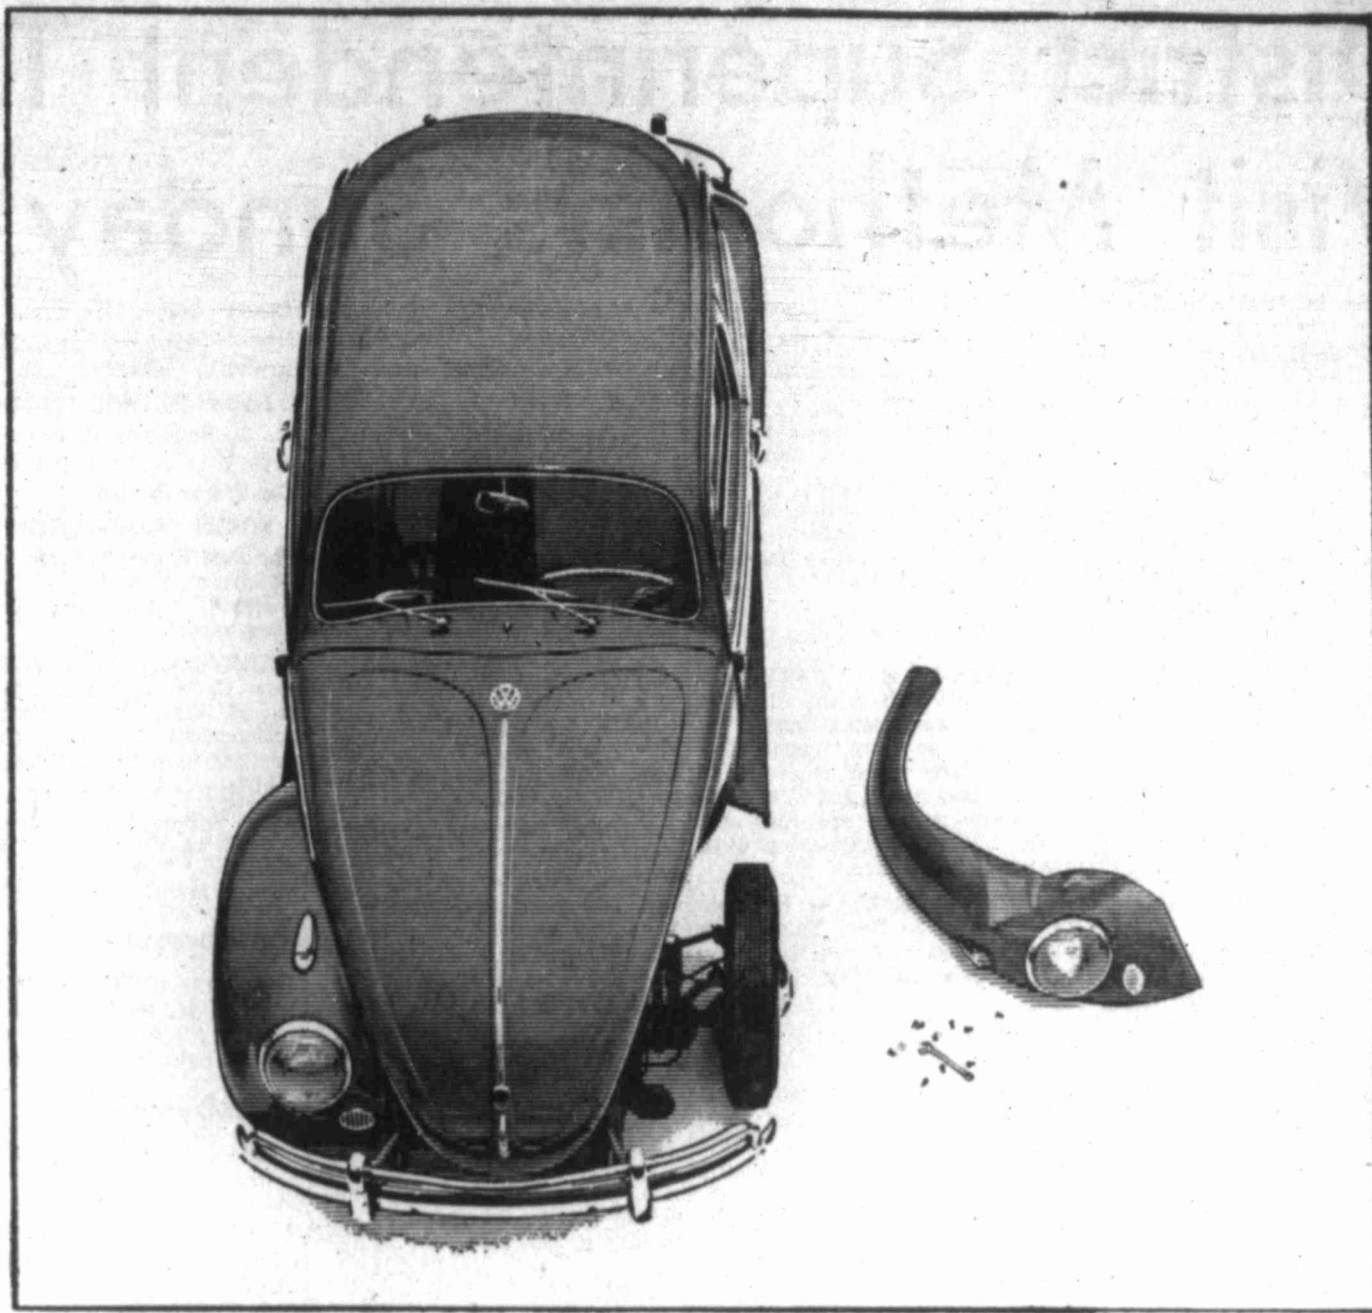

"It was a great honor to accept him into our church. He is a great statesman and a loyal Primitive Baptist."

Denners Discuss World Problems

Denners in Den 3, Pack 63 took up world problems at a Wednesday meeting in their club house at the home of J. E. Fickling, old Gail Road. Mrs. Billy Brooks, den mother, led the group in a discussion of the United Nations.

The meeting opened with roll call and a check of achievements. The Cubes then worked on lettering for their booth for the Center Point Halloween Carnival.

After playing a game of skittles, the boys adjourned with the living circle. Refreshments were served to Roger English, Gregg Ryan, Ryan Walker, Terry Fickling and Brent and Noel Brooks. Visitors were Markay Brooks, Joyce Fickling and Mrs. A. B. English.

You don't have to replace half the car.

A new front fender for a Volkswagen doesn't mean major surgery.

Just 10 bolts, and you're in business.

The Volkswagen people made simple maintenance a part of the car's design, and they did it while the VW was still on the drawing board.

In fact, they went deeper than fenders.

Example: we can remove and replace the whole engine in 90 minutes.

(If you wanted to keep the engine and replace the car, it would take a little longer.

But it's possible. That's because we—and all our fellow VW dealers—have every VW part in stock or on tap.)

Of course, as your VW dealer, we do have this edge: most VW parts are interchangeable from one year to the next.

So if your 1951 VW needed a fender, it wouldn't be any more trouble (or expense) than if it were a 1962.

Or we'll be happy to replace a VW for you with a brand new one at surprisingly little cost.

And you can pick a new color, too.

Growth in Christian Relations

THE CONDUCT CHRISTIANS SHOULD DISPLAY TOWARD ONE ANOTHER

Scripture—Philippians 2:1-18; Colossians 3:1-4:1.
By N. SPEER JONES
THE SUBJECT matter in today's lesson is taken from two of the letters Paul wrote during his first imprisonment in Rome, about 64 A.D. The first is to the Christians in Philippi, a group which on the whole made Paul very happy in their religious growth.

They were a zealous group, full of vigor and fervor. However, this very energy presented a problem which it quite often presents—disunion. The group which always presents a state of calm and unity is liable to be a dead one; the energy of conviction is essential for growth.

However, as Paul reminds the Philippians, differences of opinion, though healthy, should be overlaid with an attitude of Christian love. This love is rooted in humility. It is the realization that, although you uphold your beliefs as right, they do not make you more worthy than your fellow man. The true Christian seeks not for himself, but for the good of all.

Paul clinches his argument for humility in verses 5-8, in which he points to the supreme example of this virtue in Christ—One equal with God Himself, Who "emptied Himself," taking on the form of a servant, in man's image, "obedient unto death."

Even as a man He humbled Himself, seeking to help the meek and lowly, those who happened to be at hand. He resisted all temptation to prove Himself the exalted Being He really was.

The second letter in today's lesson was written to the members of the church at Colossae, a city deep in the hinterland of the Roman province of Asia, inland from Ephesus.

Paul reminds them that in effect they have been rewarded with Christ already; that they have been forgiven and redeemed.

GOLDEN TEXT

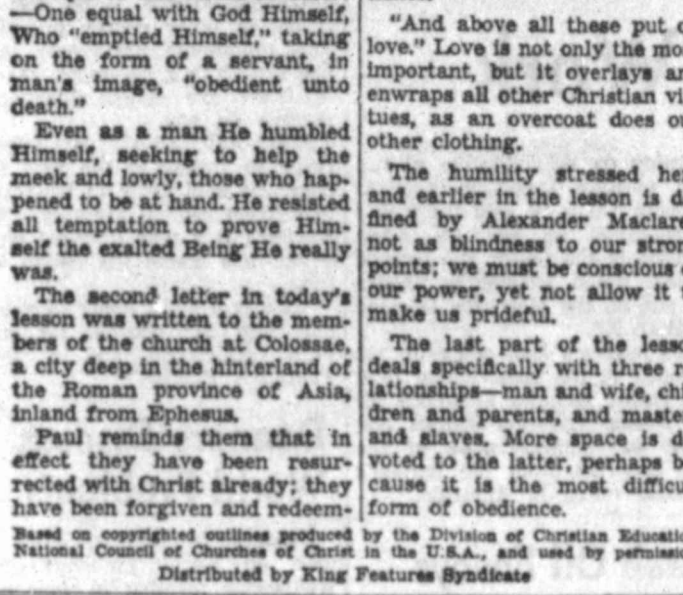

"Not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others."—Philippians 2:4.

is very meaningful. We are told to "put on" our "new nature" stemming from our spiritual rebirth with Christ, as a new suit of clothes. We are told to adorn ourselves with compassion, kindness, lowliness, meekness, patience.

"And above all these put on love." Love is not only the most important, but it overlays and enwraps all other Christian virtues, as an overcoat does our other clothing.

The humility stressed here and earlier in the lesson is defined by Alexander Maclaren not as blindness to our strong points; we must be conscious of our power, yet not allow it to make us proud.

The last part of the lesson deals specifically with three relationships—man and wife, children and parents, and masters and slaves. More space is devoted to the latter, perhaps because it is the most difficult form of obedience.

LOVE, COURTSHIP, MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

Our age of high octane, and high speed motors, and hasty marriages and quick divorces has company; this age has high blood pressure, high mortality and spiritual anemia, spiritual recession and is approaching disaster unless men humbly open their New Testaments and learn, then obey! Men and women are "Lying" as well regarding their love, courtship and marriages. Society laughs church people often "Hush Hush." Little is taught from the Word of God and less is done. Judge Sabbath suggested that marriage is a two way proposition which must be based on love, affection and mutual interest if it is to be successful. This judge made 4 pointed suggestions: 1. Fairness in handling the funds. 2. Education must prepare young people for marriage. (This would be a difficult thing in a school or a teacher who might not respect the Bible and the Christlike way of life). If anyone is crude, careless, vulgar and unchristian they would be unfitted to handle the subject. 3. Husbands and wives must build up common interests. 4. "I believe that one of the most important steps a husband and wife can take toward maintaining a happy married life is that of talking things over calmly and reasonably, whenever problems arise."

A prominent jurist made this observation, "Marriage, unlike other contracts is instituted by God himself; it has its foundation in the law of nature, it is the parent and not the child of civil society. In our day statements of truth generally do not come fraught with more truth or meaning!"

God is the author of marriage, Gen. 2: It ought to bear his stamp, impress and purity and joy. When Satan enters he comes but to smear and destroy.

"Marriage is honorable in all and the bed undefiled but whoremongers and adulterers, God will judge," Heb. 13:4. No one ought to be prohibited their rights of marriage by theological thought nor church decree. "Forbidding to marry" was a sign of fallen from the truth. The honour of marriage is seen in the apostles, Yea, Simon Peter also, Mt. 8:14 and some 30 years later still with his wife! Oh, the foolishness of the doctrinaires and commandments of men which turn from the truth and deny that marriage is best for all men. To teach such a system is the worst way of developing a concubine, it is simply not—in God's word!

The rules of marriage are simple and supreme: Husbands love and wives obey, Eph. 5:22-23, I Pet. 3:1-7.

Christians are told to marry christians, and this too must be final! Cor. 9:3, I Cor. 7:39, II Cor. 6:14-16.

Matt. 19:9 "I say unto you: whoever divorces his wife except for unchastity and marries another, commits adultery". Hence if a man marries a divorced woman he marries another man's wife wrongfully, and shamefully and sinfully unless her divorce was justified by fornication, or adultery on the part of her first companion.

IN DALLAS

Stamps-Baxter Music Co. Called Fountain Of Songs

By G. M. BRAU
DALLAS (AP)—A two-story red brick building in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas may well be called the fountain of gospel songs in this country.

From it flows thousands of religious compositions each year for churches, singing conventions, radio, television programs and recordings.

It shelters the Stamps-Baxter Music and Printing Co., organized by two of the nation's top quartet organizers and singers—V. O. Stamps and J. R. Baxter Jr.

Both are now dead, but their names and memory are about as well known as the singers and composers were in their days of personal popularity.

WIDOW

Now shepherding the firm is Baxter's widow, petite and charming Clarice Baxter, a former Alabama school marm. Mrs. Baxter took over after her husband's death in 1960.

Baxter and Stamps organized the company in 1926. It rode along to success as the popularity of the Stamps and Baxter singing groups became widespread.

The close partnership grew out of a casual meeting of Stamps and Baxter at a singing convention. Both men were music teachers, quartet organizers and gospel song writers.

Baxter, a native of Alabama, agreed to handle company affairs east of the Mississippi from headquarters at Chattanooga, Tenn., while Texas-born Stamps warbled his praises in the western half of the country from Dallas.

SERVICES SOUGHT

Various organizations over the nation soon sought their services. Orders for their songs skyrocketed. Today more than half a million song books are turned out at the Dallas plant yearly.

One of the most popular products is what the publishers call "convention books." On the average, one of these is turned out semi-annually. Each contains 136 songs suitable for singing meets.

The firm says these books are comprised of new type songs, and adds this explanation:

"These are usually a faster tempo, and, in some cases not as smooth flowing rhythm as the church type song, though many of these songs are quite suitable for church services."

Approximately 125,000 of these convention books are published semi-annually.

SONG BOOKS

The firm also keeps its presses running by turning out 400,000 church and revival song books yearly.

Thousands of songs are submitted yearly to the publishing firm. The company itself has 80 to 100 writers. Some writers take their "pay" in song books, to be sold by the composers.

Many songs enjoy popularity through the years.

One of the all-time favorites is, "I'd Rather Have Jesus." It was submitted in 1935 by Luther G. Presley.

Presley is now manager of the company's office and distribution center in Pangburn, Ark.

Another favorite, "Talk It Over With Jesus," was by Stamps himself.

One of Baxter's most popular songs was, "Try Jesus." Another favorite, "Cross The Border Line," is by V. O. Fossitt, music editor of the firm.

Baxter, a native of Lebanon, Ala., started out in his father's mercantile store, but his love for music caused him to change his course.

"He attended every music school he could," his wife recalled.

TEACHING

The Baxters were married in June, 1918. Mrs. Baxter also is a native of Alabama. She gave up a literary teaching job to join her husband in the music field.

Known affectionately as Pap and Ma Baxter, they became the guiding half of a number of quartets dating back to the 1930's.

During this time they also managed their company's Chattanooga office. After Stamps' death in 1940, the Baxters moved to Dallas to take complete charge of the business.

At the close of World War II, Baxter headed the Stamps-Baxter G.I. School of Music, the only one of its kind in the country. A limited quartet service is still maintained by the publishing firm.

Revival Sermon Topics Listed

Paul E. Rogers, Church of Christ minister from Sweetwater, has announced sermon subjects for Friday and Saturday nights in the revival in progress at the Church of Christ at 3900 US 80 west.

The Friday night subject will be "God's Plan for Unity," and a special feature sermon Saturday night will be "The Home As God Would Have It."

T. H. Tarbet, minister of the church, said the revival started Monday night and would continue through Oct. 26.

"We are having good attendance at the meetings this year," he said, "and we cordially invite the public to hear the sermons each night."

Exclusive Appeal

HOKKAIDO, Japan (AP)—When the Rev. Joseph C. Luckey, a Maryknoll missionary from Cincinnati, Ohio, had trouble getting Japanese men to a study class on Christianity, he put up a new kind of sign, and attendance shot up. The sign said: "For Men Only."

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When I talk to God I'm sure He listens. I'm too young to realize there is such a thing as a skeptic.

I admire the convictions of my Mother and Father. They have shown me by their example that they live what they believe.

Because I've learned to trust and depend on those who love me, I haven't any silly illusion of self-sufficiency. It makes sense to trust and depend on God.

I'm proud and happy that I'm a Christian—so I'm not afraid someone might laugh at me for believing the Truth.

But, of course, my faith is no accident. I'm in Church every Sunday to worship God. Religious training is a major part of my education. I'm one of the millions of Christian youngsters who are the hope of this frightened world.

And when I talk to God, I don't just talk to Him about ME. I talk to Him about YOU!

Steers And Cooper Clash Here Tonight

Surprising Big Spring and upstart Abilene Cooper, two teams figured to be among the also-rans in District 2-AAAA football this fall tangle at 8 o'clock in Memorial Stadium here tonight.

Big Spring must win in order to remain at the top of conference standings and protect an unsullied record. The Steers have won five straight. Cooper faces the task of winning if it is to escape banishment to the conference cellar for once and for all.

Cooper will match its vaunted defense against Big Spring's high-octane attack. The Steers have been able to move the ball on the ground and through the air.

Although the visiting Cougars have only one tie to show for their efforts in five starts, no one is selling Clovis Riley's team short here. The Abilene team has been showing steady improvement.

Face Denver City Tonight

junior tackle; and Sammy Webb, 165-pound senior guard. The Buffs, coached by Harlin Dauphin, are the only District 3-AA team conceded a chance against the defending state champions. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Hogs Could Assume Charge In SW Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

Four conference games that could put Arkansas in the driver's seat are scheduled in the Southwest Conference Saturday.

There would have to be some upsets for this to come about but it is the time of the year when upsets become the rule rather than the exception in this whacky football league.

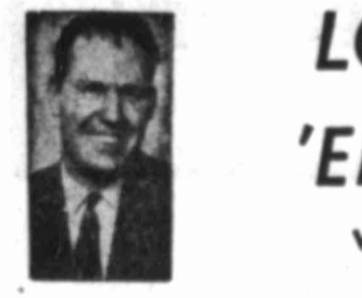

Arkansas, leading the race with a 2-0 record, meets Texas, the nation's No. 3 team, in the headline game. They clash at Fayetteville Saturday afternoon.

Texas A&M, which is tied with Texas for second place, each with a 1-0 record, tackles angry Texas Christian at Fort Worth. The Horned Frogs are virtually out of the race with two straight losses but that probably will only make it harder on the Aggies.

Baylor, stunned by an Arkansas licking last week, journeys out to Lubbock to play spirited Texas Tech, which isn't going anywhere much in the conference race but is having a lot of fun knocking others out of it. Rice and Southern Methodist have their first conference competition at Houston.

Should Arkansas win and Texas A&M and Rice lose, the Razorbacks would be in a most advantageous position in seeking their third straight championship honors. Three out of five last week wasn't even mediocre. How about this:

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

At times old friends can afford the luxury of intimate conversation. It is not unusual for the co-workers of an athletic coach — when things are going badly for a team and the outlook is even bleaker — to throw out suggestions for corrective surgery designed to improve the fortunes of that squad.

They have also been known to hint about their head man's paucity of talent, his weakness for "politicizing with the wrong crowd" and his general lack of social graces.

The case of Emmett McKenzie, head coach at Big Spring High School, is a unique one, however. There was no question about where the loyalties of McKenzie's staff lay last year, even when the Steers were living through some of their darkest hours.

In substance, to the man, the assistant mentors on the Big Spring staff were saying over and over: "Bear with this man. Give him time to get his system to working. He knows what he's doing. His theories are revolutionary and sound. He'll get the job done. I'm glad to be associated with him."

Never have I seen a group of men more ready to believe in the mission of a staff, in the ability of an individual to get his message across.

It's an admirable relationship the local mentors have and one that is certainly paying dividends for the local school and the town in general.

The biggest football surprise in West Texas last weekend had to be Pampa's 15-14 win over Amarillo High, achieved in Pampa. Including their opening game loss to Big Spring last year, the Harvesters had lost 16 in a row.

Pampa was outgained, 399 yards to an even 100, by Amarillo. A Pampa sophomore named Kenny Hebert had a lot to do with the win.

Harking back to the Big Spring-Odessa High game last weekend, there's no doubt but that Big Spring would have adjusted soon to slow the double reverses and tricky handoffs Martin Benavides was executing near the game's end, had there been a pressing need for it.

Benavides was spectacular what time he was on center stage and the Bronchos were carving out long yardage. However, Big Spring had a 16-point lead at the time and the Steer coaching staff didn't appear too worried about the problem.

Actually, the Steers defended against Benavides very well the whole game — he didn't hurt the locals nearly as much as he had some of the other teams.

Larry Jernigan, a fine athlete, was the big surprise in the Odessa backfield. There was much doubt that Larry would see action, except for trying for points after touchdowns, until Friday but Larry played most of the way on offense for the Bronchos and was an able performer. He's capable of giving any foe a hard time.

The big thing that kept the heat on Odessa all the way was Big Spring's ability to make its points after touchdowns. Odessa failed to convert after any of its scores. The Steers had a two-touchdown lead near the end but the fact that they also had four extra points made the lead seem much bigger.

An oddity of the Big Spring-Odessa football series is that the Steers have never been able to beat the Bronchos here. Both of the locals' wins over the Red Hoses have come in Odessa.

After he graduated from high school, Roger Maris had a tryout with the Chicago Cubs in Wrigley Field and was told by an official of the club: "Forget about baseball, son. There's not much future in it for you."

Costa Mesa, Calif. (AP) — A 7-under-par 34-30-64 put Buddy Sullivan of Yuba City, Calif., into the lead for the $20,000 Orange County Open golf tournament.

Sullivan had 12 birdies Thursday over the 6,650-yard par 36-35-71 Mesa Verde Country Club course, but he had two bogeys.

Bob Harrison of Pacific Palisades, Calif., was second with 38-30-66 and Phil Rodgers of La Jolla third with 34-33-67.

Five players were tied with 68 — Al Geibberger of Santa Barbara, Jack Ellis of Wilmette, Ill., Larry Mowry of Onida, Calif., Tom Nieporte, Bronxville, N.Y., and Jon Gustine, Gladwyne, Pa.

Should Buffalo beat Boston and New York lose to Denver, the Bills would take over first place in the Eastern Division. A Boston victory, however, would mean a tie for the division lead between Boston and New York.

Buffalo last Sunday almost ruined Dallas' chances by toppling the Texans 27-24. The previous week the Bills had whipped Houston 23-13 to put Coach Lou Rymkus of the Oilers on the skids.

Then on Sunday, when Boston played Houston, the 1960 league champions, to a 31-31 tie, Rymkus slid all the way out of a coaching job.

Buffalo Seeks Third In Row

By The Associated Press Buffalo goes after its third straight victory and a possible climb into first place in the Eastern Division of the American Football League tonight.

In the way is another team that hasn't been going so well but knows now it's the time for it—Boston.

Buffalo and Boston clash at Boston as the first game of a full league schedule.

Sunday the other members hook up, with San Diego, leading the Western Division by 2½ games and unbeaten for the season, traveling to Oakland; New York going to Denver, and Dallas playing at Houston.

Jack Nicklaus Is Worried About His Mental Attitude

MONTEREY, Mexico (AP) — U.S. champion Jack Nicklaus was concerned about his mental attitude as Uncle Sam's top amateur golfers prepared to defend the Americas Cup against Canada and Mexico this weekend at Monterey's Club Carmel.

"I need at least a week or 10 days to get sharp for a tournament," the husky Ohio State student from Columbus said today after his first practice round.

"I've been busy with my studies for the last few weeks.

"I haven't hit many balls since the Walker Cup matches at Seaside in the National Amateur at Pebble Beach. I have to be thinking right to play my best golf."

Nicklaus, 21, apparently was the only man concerned about his capabilities in the tricornered battle scheduled Saturday and Sunday. The Yanks are overwhelming favorites to win the hemisphere trophy for the sixth straight time.

Six 18-hole team matches, in which two men representing a country hit alternate shots, are scheduled Saturday morning with six individual matches for the afternoon. Six team and six individual matches also will be played Sunday.

The rival captains will announce their lineups later today. In addition to Nicklaus, the U.S.

Donovan Wins In Pro Debut

By The Associated Press

Frank McGuire and Eddie Donovan had different reactions after their debuts as professional coaches in the National Basketball Association.

Donovan, who previously coached St. Bonaventure, was mildly pleased. McGuire, long-time successful coach at St. John's and North Carolina, was not pleased at all.

The reason: McGuire's Philadelphia Warriors lost and Donovan's New York Knickerbockers won in a Madison Square Garden doubleheader that opened the NBA season Thursday night.

Los Angeles overcame Wilt Chamberlain's 48 points with some good rebounding and beat McGuire's Warriors 118-113. A 10-point spree late in the last quarter put it out of reach as Donovan's Knickerbockers took the New Chicago Packers 120-103.

"We made too many mistakes," McGuire complained. "Rebounding was a problem. Elgin Baylor got 21, but we expected that. But we shouldn't let a little fellow like (6-foot-3 Jerry) West get 13. The 34 he hit were them. We shouldn't have let them get that many."

Donovan used a weave, aimed at getting Johnny Green in close enough for his deadly jump shot, as the Knicks improved a 56-55 halftime advantage to 69-79 at the end of the third quarter.

Los Angeles is at Philadelphia in the only action tonight. The Saturday schedule has Detroit at Boston, New York at Philadelphia, Chicago at Syracuse and Cincinnati at St. Louis.

Elbow And Forsan Teams Split Two

ELBOW—Basketball teams representing the Forsan and Elbow schools halved a doubleheader here Thursday evening.

The Forsan girls finished on the long end of a 48-38 score, after building up a 31-23 lead at half time.

For Elbow, Jody Dodds counted 27 points, Karen Lawson had seven and Jessie Arnold four. For Forsan, Judy Hughes tallied 26, Patsy Gooch 17 and Mary Jo Simpson six.

Elbow won the boys' contest, 45-13, after leading at half time, 20-6.

In that one, Jack Ellis counted eight points for Elbow, Ray McKinnon 14, Douglas Franklin 12, Alex Moreno eight, Tommy Crane two and Tommy Girard one.

For Forsan, Billy Seal had two, Leroy O'Brien six, Jack Shoultis three and Larry Callahan one.

The Elbow boys hit 45 per cent of their shots from the field and 53 per cent from the free throw line.

FIGHT RESULTS

Jerry Gross To Give Navy A Test Tonight

By JACK CLARY AP Newsfeatures

Jerry Gross, the University of Detroit's clever little bomber, is going to put Navy's anticraft defenses to the acid test tonight when the two football teams meet in the Motor City.

Gross, a junior quarterback, is ranked second nationally in total offense with 702 yards in leading the Titans to a 3-0 record. Navy scout Steve Belchick classified him as "an outstanding quarterback who combines fine passing with excellent running."

He has averaged 236 yards a game and has good support in ends Lary Vargo and Steve Stonebreaker, both drafted by the pros last year as juniors in college.

Navy is favored despite Gross' offensive heroics. The Middies have won three in a row after an opening game loss to Penn State, last week beating Cornell 31-7. After giving up 20 points against Penn State, the Middies have allowed only one touchdown to each of their three victims.

Coch Wayne Hardin feels that the defense cannot afford to let down against Detroit's running, led by halfback Jim Shorter and fullback Vic Battani. His own offense, led by quarterback Ron Klemick, also is rolling in high gear.

In the night's other major game, two Southern Conference rivals William & Mary (1-4) and George Washington (2-3) play in the nation's capital.

Big games in each region, headed by top-ranked Michigan State's encounter with Notre Dame at East Lansing, Mich., highlight Saturday's program. Three-Syracuse at Penn State, fifth-ranked Alabama and Tennessee at Birmingham, and Southern California at California—will be telecast regionally by ABC.

The Michigan State game is the acid test for the Irish, 3-0, and ranked sixth in the latest Associated Press poll. After a 2-8 season in 1960, the sudden spur this year has conjured up thoughts of the powerhouse of a decade ago.

The Spartans, also 3-0, have superior depth but will have to cope with a powerful Notre Dame rushing attack, third best in the nation.

Notre Dame has lost five in a row to Michigan State and has not scored a touchdown since 1955.

Alabama (4-0) has an offense ranked second nationally, and led by quarterback Mike Trammell and fullback Mike Fraechia. Tennessee (2-1) is led by tailback Glenn Glass, and a victory over the Tide would take the stretch out of its showy 3-0 Southeastern Conference mark.

California (1-2-1) goes after its second Big Five victory and is favored over the Trojans (1-3). Syracuse (3-1) and Penn State (2-2) will try to decide the mythical Eastern title in their game.

In the Southwest, third-ranked Texas (4-0), headed by halfback Jimmy Saxton, meets Arkansas' resurgent forces in what may be the key Southwest Conference game of the year. Arkansas, tied for No. 10, is 2-0 in the conference, and the Longhorns, the most powerful team in the country, are 1-0.

The other games involving the nation's top-ranked schools are all conference affairs. Second-ranked Mississippi plays Tulane, eighth-ranked Georgia Tech plays Auburn and Louisiana State, tied for 10th, takes on Kentucky in SEC contests.

Iowa, ranked fourth, plays Wisconsin and Ohio State (No. 7) faces Northwestern in Big Ten contests while Big Eight leader Colorado (No. 9), goes against Kansas State.

Sugar Ray Is Back In Ring

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who says his ego won't let him quit without a title, will try to stretch his winning streak to two Saturday night when he faces young Denny Meyer in a television fight at Madison Square Garden.

For a guy who used to win 40 shouldn't seem important. For Sugar Ray, at 41, it is vital. If he can't beat the 22-year-old speedster from Portland, Ore., then he most likely won't even get close to another shot at the middleweight crown. That's what Robinson wants more than anything.

Robinson has held the 160-pound division crown, or a piece of it, five times.

"I'd hate to quit again without the title," the fading veteran said. "I know I'm not what I used to be but I think I've got enough to beat either Downes or Fullmer."

Terry Downes, of London, is recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts and England. Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, is the NBA's champion.

Robinson, now ranked as the No. 5 contender, has a 144-93 record, including 59 knockouts. Meyer, ranked ninth, has a 20-5 record, including only eight knockouts.

The 10-rounder will be telecast (ABC-TV, 9 p.m. EST) nationally.

Robinson won't be awarded for high gun, five-man team, two-man team, lady champion, junior champion, Dutch doubles, Class A through E champions and, also ran." In addition to the trophies, NBSA patches will be awarded.

The shooting will start at 7:30 a.m. and should end around 6 p.m.

Rift Rocks Sino-Russ Boat But Little Chance Of Tilt

MOSCOW (AP)—An open rift over Albania is rocking the Soviet-Chinese boat, but it has little or no chance of capsizing it. That was the diplomatic assessment here today after the startling disclosure that Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in a speech to the 22nd Soviet Communist party Congress Thursday had severely criticized Premier Khrushchev's condemnation of the tiny Communist nation on the Adriatic.

The Chinese Communists in their contention that war is still a legitimate weapon to spread communism. In what Western observers considered an implied criticism of Peiping's rulers, Khrushchev, in opening the party congress Tuesday, had accused Premier Enver Hoxha and other Albanian Communist leaders of falling to support his policy of peaceful coexistence with the non-Communist world and of trying to lead their country back to the era of Stalinist repression. Chou did not name names, but Khrushchev was plainly his target when he declared: "Any public, one-sided censure of any fraternal party does not help unity and is not helpful to resolving problems. To lay bare a dispute between fraternal parties or fraternal countries openly in the face of the enemy cannot be regarded as a serious Marxist-Leninist attitude. We socialist countries and we Communist parties of all countries support and cooperate with each other in a brotherly way, on the basis of independence and full equality."

Chou said disputes and differences between Communist parties or governments "should be resolved patiently in the spirit of proletarian internationalism and on the principles of equality and unanimity through consultation." Chou's defense of Albania did not extend to Yugoslavia, whose Communist leadership Khrushchev also had attacked Tuesday. The Chinese Premier said "the grouping of American imperialists and Yugoslav revisionists is trying every way to drive a wedge in the cohesion of progressive forces around the world."

At one point in his discussion of party relations, the 4,500 delegates began to applaud out of habit. Khrushchev and the members of the party Presidium sat with their hands folded, and the audience subsided almost at once. But otherwise Chou went down the line in support of Soviet domestic and foreign policies, and at the end of his speech he and Khrushchev shook hands amid a standing ovation from the congress.

The Chinese premier directed his bitterest remarks at the United States and President Kennedy in particular, accusing the Americans of aggression in Berlin, Laos, South Viet Nam, South Korea and Formosa.

Chou charged the Kennedy administration with being "deceptive and adventurist" and declared: "U.S. imperialism is the most vicious enemy of peace." "President Kennedy waves the olive branch, but he is worse than those who preceded him," Chou said.

Component Parts Not Taxable

AUSTIN (AP)—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has ruled that component parts used in the manufacturing of products are not subject to the state sales tax. Calvert said the exemption does not cover general supplies, machinery, replacement parts for machinery or personal property as hand tools, office machines or other materials incidental to manufacturing, however.

In another ruling, Calvert held all retail sales of ice and dry ice subject to the tax, except that used inside a package to preserve or protect its contents.
