Goes West

The arrow indicates the path of Hurricane Hattie which veered westward and today struck British Honduras.

Disaster Seen As Hurricane Hits Mainland

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Giant hurricane Hattie smashed into British Honduras today, possibly inflicting a disaster on the capital city of Belize, and spread flash floods through the British crown colony and on deep into Guatemala.

Miami Weather Bureau storm forecasters said Belize, a city of 31,000 population, may have suffered a disaster as a 15-foot tide pushed up by the hurricane blasted the coastline.

Such a tide, said forecaster Gilbert Clark, might have engulfed the city.

The hurricane center struck directly at Belize at 7:30 a.m. (EST). For hours, the city was pounded by mighty winds and tides.

At 11 a.m. (EST), Hattie was centered near latitude 17 north, longitude 88.5 west, about 50 miles southwest of Belize. It was moving west-southwest at 10 miles per hour.

The steady hurricane winds around the center had dropped from 150 to 100 m.p.h.

Clark said Belize took the highest winds and strongest tides the storm could throw.

"There could be a disaster there," said forecaster Gilbert Clark. "This hurricane is big enough to do it."

The capital lies almost at sea level. A storm tide striking the coast would meet no resistance except from a sea wall which forecasters said would be inadequate. The shoreline is barren and swampy.

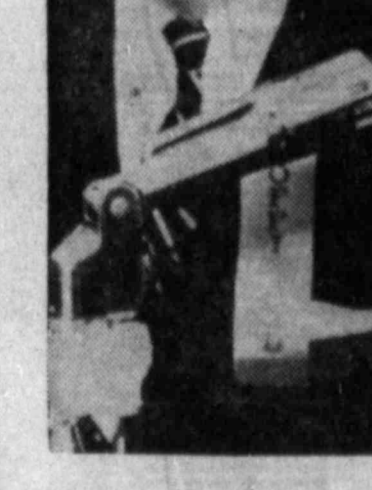

Residents of Belize fled from their wooden homes to public shelters Monday night. Power failed at 4 a.m. as first gales from the hurricane began to lash the colony. A city official reported: "We look for a severe lashing."

The hurricane, with winds reaching as high as 200 miles an hour in gusts, probably will spread flood waters throughout Guatemala and the Yucatan Peninsula before breaking up against interior mountain ranges, Clark said.

Hattie collided with a strengthening high pressure front and swung toward Central America after first threatening to move into Cuba and south Florida.

Shot To Death

ABILENE (AP)—Mrs. Francis Grissom, 29, was found shot to death Monday in a bedroom at the home of her estranged husband, Jack Grissom. A shotgun was nearby.

Beside Candidate

As he spoke to a crowd who welcomed him on arrival at San Antonio, former President Dwight Eisenhower stands beside Republican candidate for Congress John Goode. Eisenhower came to San Antonio to aid Goode in his campaign for the congressional seat formerly held by Rep. Paul Kilday, who resigned to take a post on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

Angry World Protests Red Nuclear Test

LONDON (AP)—Shock waves of anger and condemnation beat around the world today as a result of the Soviet Union's super-bomb blasts.

Anti-Soviet demonstrations were staged in Britain and Italy. Government leaders condemned the nuclear explosions as bald defiance of world opinion. Newspapers denounced the blasts as madness, a brutal crime against humanity, as a terror intended to force the non-Communist world into covering surrender.

The Soviet press and radio made no mention of Monday's big bomb blast, the most powerful ever set off by man.

A hint that the tests were over was seen in a Moscow radio report that a convoy of transport ships and icebreakers was forming to leave the area of Novaya Zembla, the arctic island site of the experiments believed to have culminated in an explosion of about 50 megatons.

Seismographs in Sweden and Britain recorded a new shock wave today. A seismologist at Kew Observatory in England said the shock may have been from a 15- or 20-megaton nuclear device, but scientists at Sweden's Uppsala Observatory said it appeared to be a normal earth tremor.

Using unusually strong language, Indian Prime Minister Nehru declared Monday's giant explosion was highly regrettable and "no amount of argument that

Officials Due Back Thursday

Four city officials, attending the Texas Municipal League meeting in San Antonio, are expected back in their offices Thursday morning.

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer, City Commissioner George Zachariah, City Secretary C. R. McClenny, and Police Chief Jay Banks, are attending the three-day meeting.

Chief Banks spoke to the Texas Police Chiefs Association Monday afternoon on development of police departmental rules and regulations.

Teller Lashes CD Confusion

WACO (AP)—Nuclear scientist Edward Teller says an initial atomic attack on the United States in the near future would kill half the people.

He made the statement Monday to a group of Baylor University students and teachers.

"In the ensuing period the government would cease to exist and many survivors would die," said the man sometimes called the father of the H-bomb.

Dr. Teller told the group in his informal talk that cities now have no protection.

"What we have done has been confused and useless," said the University of California scientist. "We are completely unprepared for civilian defense. Militarily we are somewhat better off."

He declared that if 10 per cent of the military budget were spent on civilian defense, the nation would save 90 per cent of its population.

Other candidates were Gil Jones for Senate sergeant at arms and Jay Hatch for governor. Winners of the Pre-Leg voting will become candidates for elections during Youth in Government Days.

331st Team Rates Fourth

Final scoring was announced today after all missions were flown in the Air Force world wide weapons competition — known as "William Tell" — at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

These figures showed the 331st fighter-interceptor squadron of Webb AFB in fourth place. An earlier rating yesterday indicated the 331st was in 5th place. The team's final score was 2,700 points.

This was in the category for F-102 Delta Dagger aircraft. This division — as well as the entire meet — was won by the 59th FIS of Goose Air Base, Labrador, with a perfect 4,000 points. This is a record for the William Tell competition.

Goodbye, Joe

The body of Joseph Stalin will be removed from its place beside Lenin in the big tomb in Moscow's Red Square. The action was voted in Moscow by delegates and officials at the Soviet Party Congress in the wake of speeches by Premier Nikita Khrushchev denouncing the longtime dictator.

Britain To Back Atom Tests

LONDON (AP)—Britain will back the United States in testing big nuclear bombs if this becomes necessary to maintain the balance of power and preserve world freedom, Prime Minister

He said Britain has no plans at this time for nuclear testing of her own and would make no test just to retaliate for the Soviet 50-megaton explosion.

"Nevertheless, I must be quite clear and frank," he told Parliament. "If I were convinced that a particular atmospheric test was necessary to maintain the balance of deterrence and preserve the freedom of the world, our country would be bound either to cooperate in or support their (American) conduct."

Underwood Gets New VA Position

Wills O. Underwood, former manager of the Big Spring Veteran's Administration Hospital, has been named assistant administrator for personnel in the VA Career Development Service.

He succeeds Edward R. Silberman, who held the post since July, 1958. Silberman will become controller for Veterans Benefits.

Underwood was director here from 1952-54 and has been director at the Oakland VA Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa. since 1960.

Local Delegates Push Three Bills To Approval

Big Spring YMCA representatives at a Pre-Leg session held in Abilene Saturday pushed three of five bills through subcommittees and got them approved for presentation during Youth in Government Days coming up in Austin in December.

Local candidates for government posts were not as fortunate, however, according to Joe Leach, physical director of the Y.

Jerry Richberg, local candidate for secretary of the Senate, was defeated only after a prolonged floor fight, Leach said. He was defeated in a runoff by a girl from Abilene.

Other candidates were Gil Jones for Senate sergeant at arms and Jay Hatch for governor. Winners of the Pre-Leg voting will become candidates for elections during Youth in Government Days.

Big Spring had 57 delegates from six clubs. Ten adult sponsors accompanied the group.

They were Leach, Curtiss L. Chatham, Wade Choate, Mrs. Clyde McMahon Jr., Mrs. Jane Thomas, Bobby McDonald, Mrs. Frostie Robison, Mrs. Carol Odum, Cheryl Jones and Wayne Burns.

Final UF Reports Come In

Gifts turned in to the United Fund headquarters took a turn for the better Monday after a slow Saturday as workers are beginning to make final reports. A report total of $2,896.30 brings proceeds to $86,167.42, according to Glenn, manager.

Glenn said contributions continue to stream in regularly this morning. Division leaders and team captains have urged their workers to work and return cards promptly to avoid a rush Friday, the final day.

One of the bright spots in this year's UF campaign has been in the category of firms which do business here and have out-of-town headquarters.

R. L. Tollett, a vice chairman of the campaign, has handled the out-of-town solicitation, and has accounted for more than three times the amount raised last year. The figure is approximately $4,500, as against a quota of $2,000 established for this year.

Rayburn Goes Home For His Last Days

Child Saved From Burning House Monday

A one-year-old child was saved probably from death about 12:30 p.m. Monday when two neighbors, Louis Underwood and E. W. Murphy, entered the burning home and carried the child to safety.

The home, occupied by the Steve Gonzales family on the Delbert Stanley farm a mile north of the Gay Hill school, was destroyed by fire.

Underwood and Murphy, who had seen the blaze, drove to the house and heard a child crying. They entered the house, and had to follow the sound to locate the child because of the dense smoke filling the building. The baby was completely covered on the bed, and Underwood said its life was possibly saved by the covering.

"It's quite possible the little girl would have been suffocated by smoke if it hadn't been covered," he said.

In addition to the one-year-old daughter, the Gonzales family has five other children, three of whom are in the Gay Hill school.

A fire truck from Big Spring was sent to the scene but the 16 1/2 miles was too far to save the house. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said the house and most of the contents are listed as a total loss. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Trial Begins In Bus Burning

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms today told jurors scheduled to hear the "Freedom Rider" bus-burning trial of eight men that he had been reliably informed of jury tampering efforts.

He directed U.S. Dist. Atty. Macon Weaver to prepare contempt citations.

He also asked any juror who during a recess.

The judge did not say specifically that the bus-burning case was involved but a source close to the court confirmed it.

The judge made his statement shortly before the trial of the eight men in the mob burning of a bus—the first outburst of rider violence in Alabama—was scheduled to get under way.

Weaver said the unexpected development may delay the start of the trial.

The eight face charges of interfering with interstate transportation, a crime punishable by a 20-year prison term and a $10,000 fine on conviction. They also are charged with conspiracy.

The indictments grew out of two waves of violence May 14 that first blocked the departure of a regularly scheduled Greyhound bus, then destroyed it.

Among the 17 persons on the bus were nine Freedom Riders—five Negroes and four white persons — on a tour of the South testing bus station segregation.

The defendants, all of the Anniston area, are Kenneth L. Adams, 41; Frank B. Johnson, 42; Jerome Byron Couch, 25; Jerry Willingham, 23; William Chappell, 40; Jerry Ronald Eason, 23; Frank Tolbert, 34; and Roger Dale Cough, 19.

Neutrals In U.N. Pushing For Action On Nuclear Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Nonaligned members of the United Nations pushed today for action on an appeal to the nuclear powers to call a voluntary halt to all test explosions. There was no sign the Soviet Union or the West would heed it.

Pressure for a vote mounted in the 103-nation Political Committee. The appeal had the backing of the powerful Asian-African group, as well as the Scandinavians and many Latin American states.

The support appeared enough to put across the appeal, but delegates gloomily predicted it would do little if any good in view of the current Soviet test series and warnings by both Britain and the United States that they might

And What If It Had Failed To Go Off?

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev declared today the giant bomb exploded Monday exceeded the 50-megaton calculation of the scientists but "we won't get angry with them for this."

The statement was made in a brief speech at the closing session of the Communist party congress in the Kremlin. It was the first announcement in Russia that the bomb had been exploded, and even then it was made first only to a restricted session of the congress.

"The scientists made a slight mistake in the evaluation of the bomb," Khrushchev said. "It proved somewhat bigger than 50-megatons, but we won't get angry with them for this."

The announcement brought a storm of applause, of cheering and some laughter from the congress.

Khrushchev quickly calmed the delegates with a warning that to achieve the program "we will need work, work and only work."

The statement was made to the full membership of 4,500, with no Western foreign correspondents present.

Earlier in the brief concluding session, Ekaterina Furtseva, only woman member, was dropped from the Presidium, ruling group of the party.

MAN JAILED

Deputy Injured In Rural Wreck

D. R. Buzbee, deputy sheriff, was injured and his car demolished in a rural collision late Monday.

Fernando Gutierrez, 22, driver of the second car, was in Howard County jail today, as a result of the wreck. He is serving a 120 day jail term imposed for assault with a motor vehicle. He pleaded guilty in Howard County court Tuesday morning and Judge Ed Carpenter passed sentence. He had cuts about the face and hands.

Buzbee received cuts about the head, a badly bruised arm and numerous abrasions. He was at Medical Arts hospital this morning for a check-up and X-rays.

The mishap occurred about 11:30 p.m.

Buzbee was on a call to the northwest part of the county where it had been reported a Mexican was threatening his family. Buzbee was driving north on a dirt road which intersects FM 220 about 12.1 miles north and west of Big Spring. There was a heavy fog.

He said that as he neared the intersection, he saw the lights of a car coming south. Instead of driving on the FM road, he parked to permit the other car to pass.

The oncoming car rammed the sheriff's car almost head-on.

Buzbee walked a mile before he found a phone to report the accident. The Latin-American was taken to the Cowper Hospital and later to jail.

Jimmy Parks, state highway patrol officer, investigated the accident. Sheriff Miller Harris said that some of his staff also went to the scene. He said the car in which Buzbee was riding was demolished.

Chrysler Holds Back Its Answer On UAW Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. held back for the time being today its answer to a United Auto Workers new contract proposal.

The company said it required more time to study the union proposal. Top-level negotiations, scheduled for a.m., were delayed until an undetermined later hour.

The union made its new proposal Monday night. UAW President Walter P. Reuther said it "fits into account the economics of Chrysler," which lost $20.5 million in the first nine months this year.

As the bargainers went back to the table only 11 hours remained under what amounts to a union deadline for wrapping up a complete new contract with the last of the auto industry's Big Three. Settlements were reached previously at Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp.

The union's International Executive Board meets at 8 p.m. It warned Chrysler last week that if no new contract was in hand by that time it would serve 48-hour notice of contract termination.

Chrysler made the UAW an economic offer last week that both Reuther and Chrysler Vice President John D. Leary said paralleled in most details contracts negotiated with GM and Ford.

The union estimated the latter were worth more than 12 cents hourly in take-home pay over each of their three years.

While saying the union's Chrysler proposal took into account economics of the company, Reuther refused to explain what it contained and hedged on most direct questions about it.

The UAW chief insisted, however, the economic package proposal would not cost Chrysler less than the new pact negotiated with money-making GM and Ford. He also said Chrysler employee benefits would be no less.

French Settlers Cheer Bombings

ALGIERS (AP)—French settlers cheered excitedly Monday night as their underground army exploded a record number of plastic bombs in Algiers. Two Algerians were killed and 16 others injured.

SILENCE

The spectators stood silently, watching. Even busy news photographers couldn't detract from the scene of respectful sadness as the speaker began his trip.

Who was in the ambulance with the speaker couldn't be learned. Apparently there was no member of the family—a nurse in white, a doctor and the ambulance attendants.

The decision to move the 79-year-old Texas Democrat, incurably ill with cancer, was announced Monday by Baylor Hospital and Rayburn's administrative assistant, John Holton.

Both statements said there had been no apparent results yet from the drugs and irradiation therapy which doctors said would not cure Rayburn but might prolong his life.

Rayburn entered the hospital Oct. 2, complaining of a backache which he blamed on lumbago.

Holton said he could not disclose, because of a standing request from Rayburn's family, whether the speaker knows the seriousness of his condition.

After his return home, Rayburn will be treated by his personal physician, Dr. Jose Risser of Bonham.

Holton's statement, issued in behalf of Rayburn's family, said that "in making this decision to return him to Bonham, the determining factor was the speaker's often expressed desire to end his days among, in his words, 'some friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and a loyalty, unsurpassed in any annals.'"

Doctors attending Rayburn issued this medical bulletin Monday: "Mr. Rayburn has had a relation (See MR. SAM, Page 5, Col. 6)

Ambulance Takes Him To Bonham

BONHAM (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn, ill with incurable cancer, was carried on a stretcher into Risser Hospital in his beloved hometown of Bonham today.

Only the lower portion of Rayburn's face could be seen. The upper portion was covered with a white towel.

A light tan blanket covered his thin body.

He was carried through the side entrance of the two-story brown brick hospital near the center of this North Texas town.

The hospital is a converted old brick residence.

The black ambulance carrying Rayburn from Dallas passed about 1,000 yards from his home on the western outskirts of Bonham.

As the ambulance passed near the house, two women came onto the porch from the inside of the house.

BELIEVED SISTERS

It was their first journey outside for several hours. The women were thought to be his sisters, Mrs. S. E. Bartley, and Mrs. W. A. Thomas.

Mrs. Bartley, a widow, lives in the house. Mrs. Thomas lives in Dallas.

The hospital is named after Dr. Joe Risser, Rayburn's family physician. It is across the street from a supermarket, and next door to the Risser clinic, a modern, one-story, brick structure.

At Baylor Hospital in Dallas, Rayburn was brought from his room on a stretcher. His eyes were closed and towel hooded around his head.

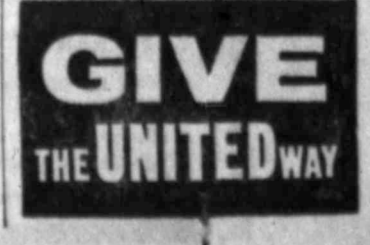

The ambulance had drawn up to the maternally entrance of the hospital. Three mothers in wheelchairs watched Rayburn, 79, as he left the hospital where he has been under treatment since Oct. 2.

A statement from the family said Rayburn was being taken to Bonham to be with "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and loyalty unsurpassed in any annals."

Fewer than 100 persons watched solemnly as hospital attendants wheeled Rayburn through a door, down a ramp and to the ambulance. Most were reporters, photographers, hospital personnel and patients.

A gray, overcast sky added to the solemnity.

The ambulance moved slowly forward under a towering oak tree. A pattern of dead leaves and dying summer green tinged the branches with a cheerless autumn pastel.

U.S. Denounces K-Bomb As Instrument Of Panic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's huge nuclear burst—which may double the fallout coming from all the current Soviet tests—has been denounced by the White House as a device to incite "fright and panic."

The immediate fallout from the blast is expected to reach North America in three to five days. The White House statement, obviously issued with President Kennedy's approval, said the Soviet effort to spread fear will be repelled—"not only by the steadfastness of free men but by the power of the arms which men will use to defend their freedom."

tons. A megaton is equal to one million tons of TNT in energy. Thus, with a single 50-megaton bomb, the Russians almost equalled the explosive force of more than two dozen earlier tests. The blast could have created almost as much lingering fallout as all the previous tests, depending on how "dirty" it was. Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a nuclear scientist who is outside the government, said he believes the monster bomb was a very dirty one.

Western Europe Angry Over Bomb

LONDON (AP)—A shock wave of alarm and dismay surged across Western Europe today in the wake of the Soviet nuclear super-bomb explosion. Government leaders spoke out in anger against the Soviet defiance of worldwide appeals not to test the bomb. Newspapers denounced the blast as a brutal crime against humanity, a political terror weapon aimed at covering the non-Communist world, a threat to the very existence of the human race.

in London, and some tried to invade the embassy grounds. Twenty-four were arrested. In the British press there was an almost unanimous outcry against the Soviet bomb. Only the Communist Daily Worker defended it.

SHEPHERD PSALM One of the all-time favorite Scripture texts is the twenty-third Psalm. Written by David and often called the "Shepherd Psalm," it reveals with vivid grandeur and simplicity the care of God for us as his flock. David was intimately familiar with the pastoral scene, and the rich impressions of his early life flow powerfully through the pen of inspiration into this best-known of Psalms.

U.S. Weather Bureau specialists said wind patterns indicate the immediate fallout was being carried southeastward from its point of detonation in the Soviet arctic. Robert List, one of the bureau's fallout specialists, said the mass of radioactive ash would likely swing east ultimately and would "reach the North American continent in three to five days, depending on the winds."

Until Monday's explosion, the Soviets were estimated to have detonated bombs with a total yield of more than 50 megatons of energy yield—including the big Oct. 23 explosion which U.S. scientists now estimate at 25 megatons.

Other Greenhand officers include Eddie Herm, vice president; James Haston, secretary; Bob Green, treasurer; Larry Barefoot, reporter; and Sam Tarbet, sentinel. DEAR ABBY In The Spirit Of Things

DEAR ABBY: How do you stop swapping Christmas gifts with people whom you hardly ever see? Our Christmas list includes people we haven't seen in years. It is expensive, and take a lot of my time. We are remembered with a gift from them, too, but I would rather get off the hook and not have to send them one. Is there an inoffensive way to terminate this type of pointless gift-giving?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what to do about my son. He is 29, and was married last June to a fine young woman (a school teacher) after a courtship of three years. Since their marriage he has left her and come home three times. Each time I sent him back. He is accustomed to my cooking and housekeeping, and his wife doesn't do things the way I did. He tells me that he is much happier at home with me. (I am a widow, and raised him alone since he was 3.) # Texas Feelings Mixed Over Urban Renewal

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Urban renewal, a plan offered by the government to restore blighted areas of cities, has met a mixed reception in Texas. Many cities view the program as one to create a better community and have embraced the plan. Others want nothing to do with the proposal — for a variety of reasons — as reflected by property owners' votes. Still others simply have ignored the government's standing offer to help, an Associated Press survey shows.

Urban renewal in its simplest terms is a scheme to tear down houses which can't be restored and to repair those which can. The program gained strength when the Legislature in 1957 gave cities authority to condemn private property for urban renewal.

NO POWER
Disapproval centered largely on the belief that a city should not have the power to take control of a man's private property and turn it over to another private individual.

That is what normally happens. The property is turned over to a private developer. The original owner has no right of repurchase. One big unsolved problem is where to house persons living in the slums who can't afford higher rents of even the lowest housing project.

One who has tackled the relocation problem is C. E. Schernbeck of the University of Texas. His best suggestion is public housing for the adults tied into education of the children so they can better their economic condition when they become adults.

At least seven large communities have voted against urban renewal proposals.

These are Abilene, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, Beaumont, Big Spring, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

Abilene, although rejecting the federal program, has a slum correction program of its own. For impact, a 48-acre town just north of Abilene's city limits, city officials once said they would seek federal help. This they dropped because of a dispute over the town's incorporation.

EYES ON WINK
One of the urban renewal projects which received national notice is that at Wink, once a 30,000-person oil boom town which has withered away to 1,800.

The government granted Wink an urban renewal loan of $1,034,758 and at the same time promised an $891,000 grant with which to help repay the loan.

About 75 blocks in Wink will be cleared of substandard buildings including 281 residences. The land then will be offered to private businesses and individuals for redevelopment.

One of the more advanced projects is at Mercedes, a small Rio Grande Valley city of 11,000. The town was bankrupt and about 4,500 persons lived in a slum area.

Of the 682 homes in the area, about 400 already have been repaired. Some were torn down. The area was drained, a drainage system put in, and then a water supply and sewer system. Parks and schools were built.

CAPSULE REPORTS
Here are capsule reports on other cities:

PORT ARTHUR: The $8.7 million slum-clearance program in an all-Negro area is running on schedule despite opposition so strong the vote for the subject had only a 109-vote margin. The city has not contributed one dollar directly to the financing, although spending considerable money in the 60-block slum area to be improved. This city money has been spent on schools, drainage, sewer lines and the like and while its $1,800,000 local obligation to the project is about $600,000. The bookkeeping runs like this, illustrative of the urban renewal system: Total cost $8,760,000; urban renewal hopes to recover about $3,360,000 from resale of property it clears; leaving $5,400,000 net. The government is obligated to bear two-thirds of the cost, or $3,600,000. This leaves $1,800,000 as the city's part which the city is meeting with schools, sewers, and the like.

VICTORIA: A program has been approved by the government and research in other cities, has taken place. Start is awaiting passage of a zoning ordinance.

NOT DEAD ISSUE
SAN ANGELO: City Manager Dick Howard says renewal is not a dead issue, although enthusiasm faded several years ago and last spring. Howard is gathering data for submission to the federal Urban Renewal Agency.

LUBBOCK: This South Plains city early approved a renewal program by a surprising margin of 5-1. The vote took place in 1957, but court cases slowed action. Now it is under way again — on a 400-acre tract with about 1,800 houses. Orville Alderson, Lubbock urban renewal director, says about 70 per cent will be cleared out and the remainder rehabilitated. Total cost is expected to be $9 million, of which $2 million will be recovered from resale of property. The city plans to build schools, streets and the like as its one-third share.

MARSHALL: The city hopes to improve 17.5 acres on which only Negroes live. Only nine tracts have been purchased and indications are that condemnation suits will be required to obtain control of many parcels.

HOUSTON: A $90,000 federal grant has been received for a survey, and a Blight Study Committee appointed. Tied into this is a long-range Civic Center program whereby buildings in the older part of town are being torn down to make way for federal and city buildings.

AMARILLO: This Panhandle city may become a showcase for urban renewal, tied into a whole picture of city betterment. Amarillo has been selected as one of six cities in the nation to take part in a U.S. Chamber of Commerce study of industrial and commercial development, community planning, location and natural resources, local government and housing and urban renewal. City leaders generally look with distrust on federal aid. But any questions of method of financing the programs is undetermined and

Grandmother Has Triplets

Mrs. Frank W. Delidie, 40-year-old grandmother, proudly displays the triplets which she gave birth to while her husband beams at left. The two boys and a girl all weighed more than seven pounds. Mrs. Delidie has six other children by a previous marriage, and one married daughter has a nine-month-old son. Mrs. Delidie's husband says he "still can't quite get used to it."

some of the advance surveys are only now getting under way.

SAN ANTONIO: The city received a $5,153,075 allocation in June and has started buying property in a 68-acre area. The land will be used for light industry and commercial buildings.

EDINBURG: A $762,000 federal loan and a $229,000 grant have been made to this Rio Grande Valley city for rehabilitation or removal of 358 dwelling units.

CRYSTAL CITY: A $1,118,000 grant and a $1,300,000 loan have been made for restoration or clearing of 405 dwellings.

WACO: Four square blocks were designated this month by the City Council as an urban renewal area. If the federal agency approves, says Hank Corwin, it will be the first in a commercial district for any city in the state. Corwin is director of the local renewal program. Waco already has urban renewal projects in three residential areas.

EL PASO: The city is taking some preliminary steps toward improving slum areas but city leaders shy from the term "urban renewal." In a Census Bureau survey of 6,181 dwellings, only 1,947 were sound; most of these in public housing authority projects. Even in the "sound" dwellings, only 53 per cent had plumbing. Facing any planning is the staggering problem of relocating families where, of the average five persons occupying each dwelling unit, only $99 have earning capacity and average income per dwelling unit is $45.06 per week. Average spending power per individual is $8.84. Housing improvement proposals largely are in the committee, drafting or survey stage.

Resident's Brother Aboard Cuban Refugee Sailboat

Tito Arencibia, 1203 Lloyd, received a telephone call from his brother Carlos Sunday. Carlos Arencibia, 48, and his son, Carlos Jr., 14, were among six Cubans rescued by the Coast Guard Saturday when their sailboat sank in the Gulf off Brownsville.

Tito said his brother plans to go on to Miami, Fla., where other refugees are gathered, before making any definite plans. He expects to see his brother in the near future, however.

Members of the party predicted the downfall of the Castro regime in Cuba before Christmas, when picked up Saturday. They gave no reasons for the statements.

Others aboard the sailboat were Pablo Hernandez, 38; Maria Martinez, 16; Federico Avila, 24; and Ramon Soto, 40.

Crocker, Meador Attend Session

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador and Fire Chief H. V. Crocker of Big Spring will attend the 14th Annual Instructors' Conference in Austin, beginning Nov. 6.

Meador said the conference will be a training session under the supervision of the Engineering Extension Service of Texas A&M College. It will be held for fire marshals and fire chiefs of Texas.

The shows will be presented on Ward 10A. One skit will be a pantomime and the other will be scenes of secretary interviews. Eleven girls will participate. Leaders of the show are Marilyn Bigham, president of the Tri-Hi-Y, and Carolyn Sewell.

Stamford Fire Kills 4 Children

STAMFORD, Tex. (AP)—Four small children burned to death late Monday night when fire of undetermined origin swept their home just outside this West Texas town.

The victims were Willie Ray Fields, 9; Ruth Fields, 6; Gwendolyn Fields, 5; and Carolyn Fields, 4.

Their mother, Mrs. Georgia Mae Fields and a 3-year-old son, Clarence, were seriously burned but were reported in a satisfactory condition early today at a Stamford hospital.

A Devotional for Today

"Brothers, I have lived with a perfectly good conscience before God down to the present day." (Acts 23:1, MOFFATT.)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, for this inner force that abides in us. We pray that it may be blended with Thy spirit. Let Thy voice speak to us through our conscience. Help us so that sin may not sear our conscience or destroy our moral judgment. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Some Sort Of Change Is Indicated

The President is reported in some quarters as being disenchanted by the farm program and initial steps taken toward mitigating the problem of supports and storage. Yet, the same sources say, there is no indication of a modification of position tending toward a withdrawal of supports and control.

The underlying philosophy in justification of a farm program is that the farmer must buy and produce at costs disproportionately higher than he can get for his yield. To achieve a semblance of balance, a formula known as "parity" has been devised.

History of agricultural production under the controlled program is that while acreage may be curtailed, production invariably has gone up. Surpluses have thus been piled upon surpluses, and this has added great storage costs to the program.

Recent efforts, as under the grain program, to offer higher supports for lesser acreage has not altered the productivity curve. Efforts to bleed off surpluses in other ways has not proven too effective, and in some instances a curious if not completely unrealistic view has been taken. For instance, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman refused to grant more acreage for cotton producers so they could turn out more lint to bid for a bigger cut of the world market, yet he turned down a request for more cotton exports to India on the ground that the U. S. didn't have the cotton to spare.

Obviously, there must be some more workable basis on which to approach this vexing problem. If subsidy it must be, perhaps the most economical form would be a direct payment of X number of bushels, bales or pounds. Something of this order would at least have the advantage of sharply reducing storage costs and might at the same time dull the incentive of producing beyond reasonable market demands.

Blow Some Their Way

Russia continues to detonate massive nuclear devices. One touched off Monday is estimated, on the basis of limited information, at between 50 and 100 megatons. No one appears to be impressed by the fantastic potency of these explosions, and it is doubtful if they are returning any scientific information remotely in keep with their scope or cost.

But they are polluting the atmosphere of the earth with a cumulative array of radioactive fallout. Some of this has drifted in over the Pacific Northwest down across Canada and along the northern reaches of the United States. Scientists are watching this closely, and some think that the wave of pollution upon pollution could become a health hazard.

Already, Russia is reaping a harvest of bitter reaction around the world for its wanton nuclear explosions. It could be that having reached the extremities of the world's patience, the Soviets will cease testing, then claim that anything the United States explodes will tip the residue into a critical stage. Perhaps we could arrange to conduct some tests in the Arctic zone where the prevailing wind would first dump its fallout on Russia.

Marquis Childs The New British Ambassador

WASHINGTON — In the American vocabulary the word establishment is beginning to take on the same meaning it has long had in Britain — the inner group that by virtue of birth, wealth, ability, charm and good luck or a rare combination of all these qualities rules the roost.

NO ONE COULD be more completely "establishment" than William David Ormsby-Gore who is the new British Ambassador. It may be a measure of the gravity of the Times that after a succession of career foreign Service Ambassadors Sir David (he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth two days before he left for his post) is in the tradition of the late Earl of Halifax. Halifax came here in 1949 in the critical period of the "phony war" and endeared himself over the war years to the public as well as to official Washington.

In one of the endeavors on which the President at the outset put great stress. That was the effort to reach agreement with the Soviets on a nuclear test-ban treaty in the talks at Geneva that were carried over from the Eisenhower Administration. Under President Eisenhower, London and Washington had often been at odds over the question of a test treaty. The British were disturbed over the differences, sometimes aired in public, within the Administration on whether such a treaty was desirable.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY enforced at least outward unanimity. London and Washington agreed on the terms of a far-reaching nuclear treaty providing for inspection and control. Ormsby-Gore represented Britain at the start of the resumed negotiation. It was no reflection on his reputation for skill and patience as a negotiator that the Soviets abruptly reversed gears, going back on everything they had previously agreed to and making a treaty impossible.

THE FACT that Sir David is an old friend of President Kennedy may, of course, have had something to do with his selection as Ambassador. He has been Minister of State for Foreign Affairs under Prime Minister Macmillan, a post second only to that of the Foreign Secretary.

It is in the friendship between the two men — the President is one year older than the Ambassador — that the cohesiveness of the establishment is so well illustrated. In 1938 in the most impressive years of his life the President came under the influence of Britain's establishment.

In the normal working of politics in Britain Ormsby-Gore might expect to follow the Kennedy precedent and become Prime Minister. He is considered, at 43, one of the most able of the middle generation.

BUT HE HAS HAD one insuperable handicap deriving from his very closeness, by birth, to the establishment. Ormsby-Gore is heir to the fourth Baron Harlech, who was himself a former Minister of the Crown and at one time a delegate to the League of Nations. A peer cannot sit in the House of Commons, as was just reaffirmed in the widely publicized case of Labor member Anthony Wedgwood Benn who on his father's death became Lord Stansgate. So on the day of his father's death Ormsby-Gore, if he were sitting in the House of Commons, would have to move to the House of Lords and thereby forfeit his right to be Prime Minister.

THIS INFLUENCE lent color to the sense of public service, public obligation on the part of those privileged by wealth and position, that is an important component of the President's character and the outlook of the Kennedy family. While the importance of those years in London, when his father was Ambassador to the Court of St. James's can be exaggerated nevertheless Mr. Kennedy's attitude toward public life bears a family resemblance to that of the enlightened Conservative in Britain. It is the attitude of the practical man of affairs who is willing to accept change, even radical change. If this means that the system with what he considers best in it can be preserved.

IT IS AS a member — through his mother who was born Lady Beatrice Cecil — of one of the ruling families of England for 300 years that Ormsby-Gore touches the establishment at so many points. Since the time of Lord Burghley and the first Queen Elizabeth the Cecil family has had a hand in government and finance. The new Ambassador is the nephew of Lord Salisbury, the present head of the Cecil family who has served in many Conservative governments.

His sister, Katherine, married Maurice Macmillan, member of Parliament and son of the Prime Minister whose wife is Lady Dorothy, daughter of the tenth Duke of Devonshire. President Kennedy's sister, Kathleen, married the Marquis of Hartington who was the Devonshire heir until his death in the war. And that would seem to bring the establishment full circle.

SO THERE is a kind of poetic justice in the fact that the two friends will be working together in a crisis hardly less grave than that of 1940. The new Ambassador has already had a close relationship with the Kennedy Administration.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Maybe watchdogs are a big help, but — Birmingham police reported that a thief apparently opened a gate at Grabove-Leaf Iron and Metal Co. here, stood back and waited until the six watchdogs wandered off, and then entered and carted off an assortment of merchandise.

A TROIKA WE COULD GO FOR

James Marlow Final Degredation Of Stalin

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the very moment when he needed the utmost freedom and support at home in dealing with the West on Berlin, Premier Khrushchev has stifled his critics and gotten the full support of the Russian Communist party.

For him the throwing of Stalin's body out of its tomb meant getting a troublesome ghost off his back. Stalin died in 1953 exactly at the end of an era. Khrushchev took over at the beginning of a new one which needed new ideas for dealings at home and abroad. So long as Stalin remained a Communist saint, entombed in Moscow Square alongside Lenin, those who disagreed with Khrushchev's way of doing things, when they differed from Stalin's, could accuse him of heresy.

THIS IS exactly what was done by the Red Chinese, the Albanians, and some of the old Bolshevik companions of Stalin, like Vyacheslav Molotov who, although reduced to a minor pos-tion, this year still condemned Khrushchev's tactics.

If Khrushchev, in anger or exasperation, had sought by himself to downgrade Stalin or banish him from his tomb to get rid of the memory of him, he would have been accused not only of heresy but of sacrilege.

So he had the Russian Communist party at its 22nd congress this month do it for him when more than 5,000 cheering delegates ordered Stalin's body taken from its tomb and a monument built in Moscow to the victims of his tortures and purges.

Hal Boyle

What Happened To The Tricks?

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the old-fashioned Halloween?

This is the night bats fly, witches cackle weirdly as they soar through the sky on jet-fast broomsticks, and skeletons dance in their homes in the streets, pursued by red devils with rubber pitchforks.

they threw off the halters and roamed like wild things. The kids then didn't seek treats from adults. On Halloween they were one-night rebels, out to ridicule and humiliate the grownups. They were in full revolt against authority.

Your doorbell may ring many times. If you open it you are likely to see a group of small costumed monsters, each holding up a container. "Trick or treat!" they yell in chorus. "Treat, if you please," you answer, and if you hand them a dime each or some pieces of candy, the mollified monsters go on to the next door, usually followed at an unobtrusive distance by a cautious parent.

But what happens if you reply, "Trick!"

In the farm areas robust teenagers took a particular joy in pushing over outhouses. In the cities they spilled garbage pails on front porches. They soaped store windows, cars, home windows. They painted or chalked defiant messages on the steps or sidewalks of "the old crank" who seemed to dwell in every neighborhood.

The old-fashioned Halloween was a nuisance and an annoyance to most adults, a time of vexation and often of expense, as some of the pranks were costly if not downright dangerous.

Probably nothing. The tiny monsters look uncertainly at each other, then go away. They are so used to getting treats they don't know any tricks to play on a householder to force him into granting their demands.

I don't know when this "trick or treat" ultimatum got started, but a generation ago it wasn't so popular in many parts of the country.

Halloween wasn't an evening of harmless fun but the most dreaded night of the year to grownups. Children were generally more obedient to their elders in those days, but one night of the 365

AS LATE as 1959 Khrushchev conceded some Communist party members had opposed his attempt to demolish the Stalin image. So long as his anti-Stalinism could be interpreted as a one-man crusade he was open to conflict at home, even though minor. And the Stalinist Red Chinese could go after him individually.

But now, after the action of the 22nd party congress, Khrushchev can claim full support by his party for his anti-Stalinism for whatever he does that is the opposite of what Stalin might have done.

To Your Good Health Emotional Stress Can Affect Virility

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there medication or special diet that will increase virility of a man in his early 40's? My husband recently had a complete physical and was found to be in excellent health.—Mrs. C. J."

It's hard to convince people—but the usual reason for lack of virility is emotional. Business or other problems pile up, and the thoughtful concern of middle life supersedes the febrile exuberance of young adulthood. Wise is the wife who recognizes this is not meant to talk about it; who cherishes the fact that her husband loves her and is devoting his life to supporting the family, and who makes him feel that there's a sound, happy marriage. Surprisingly, somewhere along the line the hard-working husband relaxes, and forgets that he is worried about losing his virility. Unexpectedly, and happily, he finds that he's as virile as ever. Maybe not as often as when he was young—but his love is as ardent, and it's deeper and sweeter and more meaningful than ever before.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would you write something about peritrate for heart patients? I have taken it for four years following a coronary attack.—R. C. M."

This is a drug in the general classification of nitroglycerin, used for dilating the coronary arteries. Its action is slower in starting, but more prolonged. For example, taken four times a day, it gives a more continuous beneficial effect.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I contracted athlete's foot during World War II army service and have had it ever since.

"I have heard there is an effective pill to be taken orally. A druggist says there is one but it should be taken only on a doctor's prescription.

"I earn only a fair living and would help if you would comment on the oral pill and why it is important to get it only through a doctor.—F. F."

There's some variance in reports on the effectiveness of pills for athlete's foot. Some doctors say yes, some don't. The real answer may be that all cases of athlete's foot may not come from the same fungus. The drug attacks some, not others.

The government decides which drugs require prescriptions. All powerful ones do—because there is no way, except by a physician's supervision, to be sure that the right amount is given, and that side effects (which can be anything from skin outbreaks, nausea or nerves, to serious blood disorders or worse) will be detected soon enough to prevent them from doing serious harm. That's the plain, logical reason.

In F. F.'s case, if the trouble began in the army, perhaps he can get treatment from the Veterans Administration.

Likewise there are other and less expensive treatments for athlete's foot. Drug stores have various remedies that are sold over the counter without prescription. And it's also effective to soak the feet in potassium permanganate, a one to 5,000 dilution. But remember that it is poisonous if taken internally, and that it will stain the feet and also the pan or other container.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My two-year-old daughter has a sort of depression in the center of her chest. She also seems to have trouble breathing at night—snores so she can be heard all over. Could this 'chest depression' be the cause?—Mrs. W. K."

It depends on the depth of the depression. If it is extensive, it can be repaired surgically, before puberty. (There's time, in other words, to have the condition studied carefully.) If the depression is small, I doubt that it has anything to do with the breathing problem.

Around The Rim Things Are Not What They Seem

You don't eat things any more because you happen to like the taste of them. No, you are satisfying some sort of impulse, either chemically inspired or you are tracing back to some long forgotten episode in your childhood.

You may think that you order a T-bone steak, medium-rare, with mushrooms and all other trimmings, because it's darned good eating. You are really ordering it because you have a dislike for your Cousin Emma (four times removed). When you were a very, very small child, Emma, who is a year older than you, snatched a rattler of yours. So, when you are gobbling that juicy, luscious steak, you are really satisfying an unaccomplished desire to avenge yourself on Emma.

bigger one and in an upgraded neighborhood.

The real reason you sold your old house and invested in this new place is because you have an overactive inferiority complex which you have to gratify. It is not of any issue that the new house has a good roof and workable plumbing. Or that it is more comfortable and livable than your old home.

These things had nothing to do with your reason for buying.

YOU LOSE YOUR temper and quarrel with some fellow worker over some incident, it's not that his failure to do some part of the job has resulted in your having to do a lot of extra work and get you in hot water with the boss. That's not what makes you fly off the handle and storm out at your associate.

No, what really caused it is that you feel insecure.

Just how you are to feel secure in these times, no one has suggested. Nevertheless that's why you're such a grouch, it's not that you feel bad or that you are working too hard or that someone has goofed. It's just that old insecurity bug biting you, that's all.

A kid of tender years breaks into a place, wrecks all of the furniture. He turns on all of the water faucets, pours gasoline on the floor and sets the whole shebang on fire.

WHY? WELL, it's not that he's just a mean brat in need of discipline.

It's because he has been rejected by his parents or his grandparents and he is manifesting his deep sense of frustration. If your house happened to be the one he selected for his experiment, it's just too bad. He meant you no harm, so smile and forget it.

Or will you?

—SAM BLACKBURN

YOU MAY SEE a new car that to your eye appears to be the very last word. And you may have an overwhelming urge to buy that car. So strong, indeed, that you do buy it. It's not that you need a new car. It's not that you feel you'll enjoy riding around in the thing. It's because you want to improve your "image" in the community where you live. When others see you in that shiny new job, they are going to be impressed (or so you think).

Actually, if you do buy the car, those who see you driving it will wonder (1) how you can pay for it on the salary they think you earn; (2) that you are showing off; (3) you've probably been taking payola from some source and you'll eventually wind up back of the 8-ball.

YOUR PRESENT house may have a leaky roof, plumbing that is completely out-of-date. You may find someone who fancies your house enough to buy it. So you sell and get a newer house, perhaps

Educational TV Proves Itself

PITTSBURGH — This city is not only a lamp unto the feet of other American communities intent on survival through urban renewal; it also sheds pioneer light on educational television, a subject of increasing interest throughout the nation.

STATION WQED, the country's first community-supported educational television station, began telecasting in Pittsburgh on April 1, 1954. Everyone concerned was hopeful, it is optimistic, about its success. Seven and a half years later, WQED is not only a healthy and going concern, but the anchor of the National Educational Television Network.

That network includes 57 educational stations. It is headed by John F. White, who had the faith and the fortitude to take the job of general manager of WQED when it started telecasting in 1954.

subjects he needs. He must follow the course on the home screen, do homework and regularly mail his assignments to WQED.

The station, in turn, grades every paper and returns it to the student. At the end of the summer session, the child, if he has made up his work and received a passing grade, is promoted along with the rest of his class and goes into the next grade.

PITTSBURGH SCHOOLS, children and parents have found this an efficient system and as painless as any summer sessions can be for kids. But if WQED has remedial reading at the second-year level, it also offers such courses as Creative Writing for adults.

Pittsburgh, a city of 600,000 — with a "metropolitan area" embracing 2,400,000 persons — is fortunate in the quantity and quality of educational talent on which WQED can call. It can depend upon faculty aid from the University of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech and Duquesne University, as well as that from a number of small but excellent colleges.

BUT ANY COMMUNITY of its size in this country is almost certain to have a similar pool of talent if it surveys its educational resources.

The station offers a bonus that makes me envious of Pittsburghers — it runs all the movie classics, old and new, it can get its hands on and runs them from beginning to end without a single commercial to mar or disrupt the story. (I have given up trying to watch any movie classic on any New York station because 10 minutes of commercials for every 10 minutes of movie is too high a price to pay.)

PITTSBURGH pioneered with WQED and the station has indeed "quod erat demonstrandum" that the public likes and will support educational teevee. (Copyright, 1961, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Time To Sever Relations With Russia

WASHINGTON — When William Knowland was in the Senate he told this reporter (and possibly others) that at the right moment, and with the right incentive, he would come out for severing diplomatic relations with Russia.

With Knowland regrettably gone from the upper chamber, along with some other unconstructed Communist distrusters, and with Styles Bridges recovering from a grave illness, there is no realistic chance of mounting a de-recognition movement.

have called the shield of the republic. De-recognition of the U.S.S.R. could also put an abrupt end to our undoubted drift toward admitting Red China to the U.N. We would no longer feel that we had to speak softly on this subject to allies and neutrals. Some of these, not willing to go whole hog and eject Russia from their capital cities, might well decide that one Communist monster around the premises was sufficient.

IN ADDITION, de-recognition of the Soviet Union would go further than is commonly understood toward slowing down the modernization of Russian agriculture and industry. Both Russia and Red China have trouble feeding their populations. This could not happen if they were advanced in the use and possession of fertilizers and farm machinery. It is significant that the only large segment of illiterates in Russia is on the farm. The U.S.A. is so soft-hearted that food and the means of raising it will never be denied to Russia as long as any interchange of ideas and persons goes on.

Russian industry, while capable of impressive spectacles, is uneven. It got its start by imitation of West Europe and America after World War I, and today much of the progress comes from copying American machines and designs. Incredible as it is, after 16 years of the cold war, we still do not have an export policy that hurts Russia.

ONLY A withdrawal of recognition would isolate Russia from the products which American firms, or their overseas subsidiaries, send to Yugoslavia, Poland and beyond.

It is, of course, senseless to hope that the Kennedy Administration will see all the reasons and benefits of taking away the very formality of friendship with this enemy.

But sometimes even senseless hope is worth expressing — as a statement of self-evident right. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

NEVERTHELESS, the moment and the incentive have arrived. The Soviet nuclear barrage from their Arctic position goes far beyond the needs of scientific experiment and beyond anything that could be called "justifiable" military testing. It is a series of acts in defiance of world opinion, and beyond the pall of civilized behavior.

We could reasonably, and with abundant historical precedent, call it a hostile performance which makes formal relationships between the Russians and ourselves no longer tenable. If we were still leaders of the Free World, we could send the Russian Ambassador home from Washington, and start a chain reaction of ejections around the world.

BUT THAT TIME, too, has gone. We would probably be alone in our glory, but the benefits of ending diplomatic relations would not be single by any means.

First, it would solidify our Russian policy which has been as fluid as 57 varieties of soup. At no time since 1928, when we recognized the Red Revolution, have we had an anti-Communist foreign policy. In all those intervening years we have had proof upon proof, example upon example, that World Communism has an anti-American policy.

WHY WE HAVE not reciprocated in kind is one of those questions over which the Sphinx can ponder many centuries after Western Civilization has gone. But de-recognition, and perhaps nothing else that we could safely do, would not only be the proper response to the Russian nuclear barrage — it would make steel of our foreign policy which men

For Halloween Gaiety

Halloween, night of witches, black cats, mischievous goblins, masquerading, fortune telling and wacky games that make no sense but are fun, affords a chance for a once a year different party. Perhaps you are entertaining the group that sponsored the sane and non-destructive Halloween for the town's youngsters. Perhaps you've invited in the mothers and fathers who chaperoned the neighborhood small children on their trick or treat excursion. Or maybe you simply want to give a party. In any case, the glass-topped wrought iron table here holds a handsome silver punch bowl with its bevy of cups and an apple pie in a silver pie plate. A big pumpkin contains an arrangement of dried flowers, cattails and colored pods.

Shoemaker's Child Is Not Barefooted

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Newsfeatures Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Nina Silverstein is a shoemaker's child, but unlike the adage about such progeny she is far from barefoot.

Indeed, Nina has so many shoes that by dallying in making her choice for the day she nearly misses her school bus. But the pretty grandfather, two uncles and her Dad made wooden-soled clogs. When they moved to New York, the men continued to make clogs until Nina's dad decided, after observing her fickle ways, that providing some of the ever-changing fads for teen-agers could be profitable.

Thus, to keep up with the shifting tastes, Nina became the one-girl market researcher. Now she tests her classmates' reactions every time she puts her pretty foot down anywhere. Her school friends are likely to see Nina in anything from high button types that their grandmothers used to wear to petal pointed suede flatties with as many colors in them as Joseph's coat.

"When the kids hang around trying to get them wholesale, Daddy knows it's a pretty successful shoe," the very young lady explains seriously. "Sometimes he's way out, but usually he's pretty much with it."

Mrs. Vernon Winchester was hostess for the affair which was held in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Gas Co.

Skit Given At Meeting Of Guild

"What Requirements" was the skit enacted by a group of Martha Wesleyan Guild members, meeting Monday evening in the parlor of the First Methodist Church. Problems of employing a minister for suburbia was theme of the skit with Mrs. Doc McIwain, Mrs. Ruby Martin, Mrs. R. L. Penney, Mrs. C. L. Rowe, Mrs. Annie Thompson, Nan Bunch, Mrs. T. P. Harrison and Mrs. Miller Harris, the participants.

Gladys Burnham assigned members to groups for discussion of selected topics concerning Churches in New Times.

During an intermission, Mrs. W. D. McDonald, Mrs. N. W. McClesky and Mrs. Harris were hostesses. Afterward members heard Mrs. S. Gorman review "God's Colony in Man's World" by George W. Webber.

The devotion, "The Living Church," was given by Edith Gay and Roberta Gay, after which members formed a circle to present their Week of Prayer offerings, hearing the benediction by Mrs. B. M. Keese.

Thirty members attended the concluding session of the study of "Churches for New Times."

Stretch Shirts To Be Available Soon

Stretch baby shirts that grow with the size of the infant will soon be on the market.

Although standard cotton shirts usually must be replaced six times as a child develops from infancy to a 3-year-old, two sizes of the stretch kind covers the same period of growth. The shirts are available in small and medium only.

They are cotton on the inside to insure softness and absorption, and nylon on the outside. The manufacturer claims the stretch shirts have a 50 per cent longer life.

Band Performs For Freedom Forum Meeting

The Runnels Junior High School band played pre-program music for the second Freedom Forum at the HCCJ auditorium Monday night. Close to 150 were present for the second session being conducted by C. L. Kay, conference leader, from Lubbock Junior College. The Forum is sponsored by local Jaycees.

The structure of the American way of life was the subject of the forum Monday. Kay told the audience how America's greatness was the result of a moral society.

"A constitutional government, and the free enterprise system, known as capitalism, is the only way we have attained our greatness," he said. "This society of ours has stressed the value of personal liberty found in freedom to manage private property, and a competition in a free market where the fruits of savings and labor has been enjoyed. It encourages high investment in the tools of production, and this results in prosperity. The wealth produced by our system, and its distribution to the American people, are contrasted with the poor results attained under communism and socialism."

Kay pointed up the fact that regimentation by the state has never produced a high standard of living and has never produced a moral society.

The third session, next Monday night at 7:30, will stress "The Threat of Communism," by analyzing its philosophy, claims, and strategy, with documented materials.

Pack Meeting Attracts 132

Pack 137 drew 132 people for its monthly meeting Monday evening at Washington school, and Den 2 won the attendance banner.

Twenty-three new Cubs were awarded, and several others got badges. Badges went also to four mothers. Den 2 had the opening, Den 1 the closing, and Dens 4 and 6 gave skits.

Badges went to new den mothers, Mrs. A. G. Goodson, Mrs. Doyle Hale, Mrs. Ernest Welch, as well as to Mrs. A. L. Mich.

Arrow points were earned by Terry Martin, Mike Seals, Kenny Curry, Keith Gum, and a denner's badge to Coleman Nails. Service bars went to Mike Seals, Scott Medford, Keith Gum, Bruce Bright, Ricky Cables, James Reed, Marvin Bartlett, Paul Bartlett for one year, and to Billy Bob Wilson and Larry Milch for two years. Bob Bright was given a Thanks badge.

New Cubs were Jacks Hobson, Gary Moore, Jeff Wickline, Zane Anderson, Richard Ridgion, Mike Goodson, Billy Jo Henkel, Sammy Reed, Clem Sporn, Scott McLaurin, H. A. F. Jones, Jimmy Rose, Danny Ballard, Mark Denison, Rodney Hale, Wayne York, Ricky Simpson, Jimmy Davidson, John Weeks, Bobby Travis, Tommy Callahan, Jay David Millard, Tommy Welch. Next meeting will be Nov. 28.

Van Fleet Says Adlai Should Have Been Fired Over Cuba

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Tampa Tribune quotes Gen. James A. Van Fleet as saying Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, should have been fired because of the Cuban invasion which fizzled.

Van Fleet said also that Berlin and Laos are lost and that there is only a 50-50 chance of keeping South Viet Nam out of Communist control, the Tribune said in today's edition.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, was to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today. He was called out of retirement to supervise the training of Army units in guerrilla warfare.

The Tribune said Van Fleet departed from his text in a talk on Florida's water resources before the Natural Resources and Waterways Committee in nearby Lakeland Monday night.

The newspaper quoted Van Fleet as saying, "I would not like to read tomorrow that which I say tonight."

He was quoted as saying Berlin was lost when "they made the agreement at the end of World War II."

The Tribune account added: He said Viet Nam has a strong national pride, "but a white face has no place in that country."

Van Fleet said Stevenson "should have been fired when he said he would not support the armed action by this country against Fidel Castro during the ill-fated Cuban invasion."

The general said this country sponsored the invasion and gave full Navy escort and air cover to and from training bases that the United States established. After Stevenson took his stand, Van Fleet said, the United States refused to go through with plans to give direct support to the landing force.

Committee to Study Plans On Country Club Finances

A special committee to meet with the organization's board of directors and to try to arrive at recommendations for continuing club operations was named at a Monday night meeting of stockholders of the Big Spring Country Club.

The club has been running a deficit with no immediate prospects for improvement, and stockholders were called into an emergency session to consider remedial plans.

Mostly, members were advised, and loss is in the kitchen operation, other phases of the club operation are about breaking even.

After the organization moved into its new building some months ago, members were assessed a food subsidy of $10 per month, in addition to regular dues. Later, when dues were raised, this subsidy was removed.

Various proposals were aired at the Monday night meeting, and a

OIL REPORT

Dawson Project Has Good Show

A Dawson County prospector, Texaco, Inc. No. 1 F. P. McDougal, recovered large quantities of oil from an unreported formation on the fourth drillstem test made.

The county also gained another deep prospector on today's report. Pan American Petroleum Corporation No. 1, Floyd McGee for 13,200 feet to test the Devonian 20 miles southwest of Lamesa.

The Dorward, West (San Andres) field in Garza County gained a second well with the completion of J. E. Blakey Jr. No. 1 J. C. Dorward. The confirmation pumped 67.56 barrels of oil on initial production.

Dawson

Pan American Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Floyd McGee is a 13,200-foot Devonian wildcat struck 20 miles southwest of Lamesa. It is 1 1/4 miles southeast of a 13,271-foot Lamesa formation failure which was plugged and abandoned in 1949 and again in 1952. Location is C SW SW, labor 23, League 273, Loving CSL survey.

Tidewater No. 3-NB Everett Turner, spotting C NW NW, section 17-C38, PSL survey, is a new well in the Welch field. It pumped 79 per cent water, on initial production 55.64 barrels of 34 gravity oil, with tential. The gas-oil ratio was 95-1 and the oil was acidized with 2,000 gallons and fraced with 6,000 gallons. Elevation is 3,143

State To Take Paving Bids

State Highway Department will take bids on Nov. 8 and 9 on 221 miles of Texas road, but only three projects, involving about 23 miles of construction, are in the Big Spring area. None is in Howard County.

U. S. 87 in Sterling County from Sterling City northwest seven miles is to be given grading, structures, flexible base and paving. This is the most important of the three local projects from a Big Spring viewpoint.

The other two area jobs slated are:

Ector County: FM 866 at Goldsmith to SH 202, 5.1 miles grading, structures, base and surfacing.

Mitchell and Nolan: U. S. 84 from Scurry County to Roscoe 9.4 miles, grading structures and base.

Rev. Maguire Is Installed

Rev. Max R. Maguire, chaplain of the Big Spring State Hospital, was installed by the Presbytery of Big Bend at a ceremony Monday night at the hospital.

Regular worship service was conducted on Ward 10A. The installation ceremony included presentation of constitutional questions to Rev. Maguire, responses from the chaplain and Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the hospital, and charges by Rev. Maguire and the hospital.

Rev. Maguire assumed his duties Sept. 15 after completing supervisory training in chaplaincy at the Medical College of Virginia. He graduated from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in 1958 as a minister of the United Presbyterian Church.

Participants in the service were Rev. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian Church, The Wood, E. A. J. Seddon, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Ernest Dinahline, Christ Presbyterian Church, Midland; the Rev. Henry Haupt, Presbyterian Church, Monahans; the Rev. John Gordon, Presbyterian Church, Big Lake; Dr. Harrison and the Rev. Dunlap.

$2 Million Daily Cost Of Price Support Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department's new system of bookkeeping on crop surpluses showed today that it cost $74,673,000 to carry out farm price support operations during July, or more than $2 million a day.

The department asserted that this compared with $150,328,000 in July last year under the Eisenhower administration. A year ago, the department had reported July losses at only $17,420,000.

Under the old system, costs of handling, storage and transportation of surpluses in the government's hands were added to the inventory value of the commodities. The costs of handling did not show up until the commodities were finally disposed of.

Under the new system, which Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman ordered into effect in June, the handling costs—storage, transportation and the like—are not added to the inventory value of the surpluses, but are kept separate under the heading of losses.

Thus, the department said, the estimate of losses of $17,424,000 for July 1960 did not reflect handling charges.

Oil Operators To Chart Goals

HOUSTON (AP)—Independent oil operators were to chart their 1962 objectives on oil imports and natural gas price controls today. The Independent Petroleum Association of America was expected to take these actions:

1. Renew a request that oil imports be reduced to at least 200,000 barrels a day.
2. Call for an early congressional hearing on the Harris Bill (H.R. 7375) which would remove utility-type controls from wellhead gas prices.
3. Policy committees on imports and natural gas were to submit reports at IPAA's 32nd membership meeting.

The gas report also was expected to include new policy statements on area price controls and, possibly, on President Kennedy's proposal that producers with an annual output of less than two billion cubic feet be exempt from federal price controls.

The Federal Power Commission (FPC) late last year adopted an area formula for controlling gas prices, tossing aside an old policy under which each producer's case was handled individually on a cost-rate basis.

An IPAA policy adopted in May said there was no assurance as to the legality or feasibility of area pricing. The 11,000-member group also rejected the Kennedy exemption plan IPAA said the exemption plan would be an arbitrary division of the industry.

Last week however, IPAA officials asked the FPC not to require small producers to fill out detailed financial questionnaires required under the area price program. They proposed exemption of all producers with an annual output below 10 billion cubic feet.

Alvin C. Hope of San Antonio, IPAA president, said Monday area pricing is not the final answer to the producer problem.

Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall gave the independent some hope Monday that oil imports will be reduced.

Udall, in a letter to Hope, said he has recommended a reduction for 1962. Details were not given, but Udall said the recommendation was being reviewed by other federal agencies involved.

Harold Decker, 57, of Houston, was elected to succeed Hope. Decker is manager of the oil and gas interests of Brown Root, Inc., a worldwide construction firm.

Schools Show Strains Of Influx Of Refugees

EDITOR'S NOTE—The arrival in Miami of thousands of Cubans fleeing Castro's dictatorship is a strain on the city's resources in many ways. One of the greatest challenges is in the schools.

By LOUIS UCHIFELLE, MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—After a frustrating first-grade reading period, the young teacher told her pupils to sit down and put their papers in their desks.

A few did. Most didn't. Of the entire class of 25 Cuban refugees, only three speak English.

As the pupils stood there, smiling uncertainly, the teacher tried again: "Sit down—like this. Put your papers away—like this."

Finally, as even her demonstration failed, she asked a bilingual student to tell the others what she had said. A burst of Spanish from Juanito brought quick action and neat desks.

This teacher was trying to deal with one of the most difficult situations in Miami's widespread effort to teach English to more than 80,000 Cubans who have fled from Fidel Castro's regime and settled here.

Perhaps as many as 18,000 are studying English, including 9,500 children in the public schools, 3,000 in the parochial schools and 3,000 in adult classes run by the public school system.

The Riverside Elementary School has 1,350 pupils and 90 per cent of them are Cubans.

The classes have been divided into those in which all the students speak English and those in which few speak English.

"Until this year, we mixed the English and non-English speaking students in the same classes and I think the Cuban youngsters learned faster because children

Firebug Held After Chain Of Hotel Fires

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A firebug, described by one witness as a pimply faced, giggling 4-footer, left a fiery trail through downtown San Francisco Monday night and early today.

Police and fire officials pressed a search for the arsonist, who, after setting fires in nine leading hotels, moved into another downtown district and set several more fires in trash piles.

Most of the blazes were extinguished before they did any serious damage. Fire Chief William Murray said: "But a fire on the 14th floor of the Fielding Hotel, started in a linen closet, did an estimated $10,000 damage."

The rash of fires, Murray said, were all set by the same person.

The first hotel blaze began at 5:30 p.m. in an unoccupied room on the fourth floor of the Stewart Hotel on Geary Street. Three minutes later, the fire broke out in the Fielding just across the street.

In rapid succession, similar blazes were reported at the St. Francis, Cliff, Bellevue, Marlow and Sir Francis Drake hotels in the theater district.

There was a lull until after 10 p.m., when fire was reported in a top-floor stairwell at the YMCA Hotel. A short time later, the Stewart Palace Hotel reported two trash cans in the basement had been set afire.

Police were stationed on guard duty at many downtown hotels.

After midnight, a series of trash pile fires erupted in the area south of Market Street.

The description came from a guest of one of the hotels, who told officers he saw a tall youth "giggling to himself and laughing" about the time the blaze was discovered there.

tively comfortable day. . . There has been no major change in his condition.

"It is too early to determine the extent of improvement in his condition as a result of the treatment to date. It may be several weeks before beneficial effects of the treatment may be apparent."

Although Dr. Rojas says many Cubans have not changed their recommended course of treatment presently being administered and contemplated for the future, the family has decided to return Mr. Rayburn to Bonham, feeling that the paramount consideration at this time is deference to the desire of the speaker to return to his home in Bonham."

STATEMENT

The family's statement also said:

"After thorough consideration, we, the family of Speaker Rayburn, have requested his release from Baylor University Medical Center so that we may take him to Bonham Tuesday morning. His personal physician in Bonham will continue to treat the speaker."

"Since Oct. 5, 1961, when the biopsy was performed, all concerned have known that Mr. Rayburn's malignancy was incurable. The doctors, the nurses, the staff of Baylor University Medical Center have labored with unmeasured devotion and magnificent skill to treat the speaker with the most advanced techniques known to man, hoping that he might materially improve.

"Such response has not been forthcoming. The gratitude of his family and friends to all those at Baylor University Medical Center is beyond the power of expression."

U.S. Stops Aid Cars On Autobahn

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. Army appears to have stopped sending its military assistance cars along the lifeline autobahn between Berlin and West Germany.

An informed source said no military assistance cars had made the 110-mile trip between West Berlin and West Germany for more than 24 hours since one was turned back by the Soviets early Monday.

West Berlin authorities had reported the cars moving without hindrance, but that may have been confusion with other U.S. military traffic. Numerous jeeps and heavy vehicles as well as staff sedans have been traveling over the superhighway in the move of a U.S. engineer company from West Berlin to West Germany.

U.S. authorities would not comment on the report the trips had been called off.

The source for the report assumed they had been halted while U.S. officials discussed the matter with Soviet army authorities. The Americans sent the patrols

Gray Lady Orientation Has 21 Listed

The orientation for Red Cross Gray Ladies being conducted at Webb AFB Hospital is producing excellent results, according to Mrs. James F. Smith, co-chairman.

There were 22 volunteers present for the first orientation at Ward 3 Monday and 21 returned today. All of the 21 are expected to complete the course and begin training in preparation for capping.

Col. Robert A. Wiemer, hospital commander, welcomed the group Monday. Mrs. Moore T. Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard-Glasscock counties chapter of the Red Cross, was guest speaker.

Today's speaker was Capt. Adolph A. Lindsay, executive registrar at the hospital. He spoke of hospital procedures, record maintenance and the Medicare Program.

The schedule for Wednesday, the final day of the orientation includes roll call at 9 a.m., lectures and coffee. F. W. Huffman, base field director of the Red Cross, and Dr. Thomas W. Cook and Walton L. Shaffer, hospital clinic, will be speakers.

Upon completion of the course, the volunteers will go on a probation period. They must work in three clinics at the hospital for a minimum of 10 hours to qualify for capping.

"Although the practice is illegal, it is difficult to catch them," Plotts said. "The Cubans know that the best way for their children to learn English is to send them to school with Americans."

To help solve the English problem, the school system has hired a special adviser: Dr. Pauline M. Rojas, former language consultant to the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and former head of the English section for the government of Puerto Rico.

"All over Miami people are teaching English to Cubans," Dr. Rojas said. "Many of them are wasting their time because they don't know how to teach a language."

"What the public schools really need right now are the right sort of books for teaching English. This is a scientific problem which has been studied and solved in textbook form."

It is not available to buy the books which Dr. Rojas suggests.

Nine Wrecks Are Reported

Nine accidents were investigated by police Monday with minor injuries reported in one at the intersection of West Eighth and Gregg, Andrew Belkins, OK Trailer Courts, and Lee Bummert, 1703 Lancaster, were slightly injured in the wreck, but they were not hospitalized.

Both cars were heavily damaged. Drivers of vehicles involved were Lloyd W. Holland, 705 Walnut, and R. V. Dean, 705 Douglas. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $1,750.

Other accidents, locations and drivers involved were: Third and State, Alton Don Lilly, Rt. 1, and Rutherford D. McCarty, 713 Abrams; 500 E. 3rd, Earl Dean Jenkins, and Robert Henry Taylor, Jay-ton; Third and State, Julian Carver Herring, Abilene, and Pete Macias Maldonado, 1386 E. 3rd, Fifth and Johnson, Nancy Gale Wicks, 500 Austin, and Cirila Castro Hank, 608 NW 7th; Eighth and Gregg, Nathaniel H. # Sifford May Improve With Name In Book

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

The Professional Golfers' Association next year will include the name of Charley Sifford in its Tournament Player Catalog. It may not sound important to most people because Sifford is no Johnny-come-lately. He's 43 and has been a pro since 1947.

He finished 51st in money won that came from the Orange County Open at Costa Mesa, Calif., where I finished second. I lost by one shot to Billy Casper and got $1,500.

"This year I tied for the lead in the Tucson Open and finished tied for fourth with Art Wall. After shooting 69-66-65 I had my bad round the final day, a 71."

"I had a chance at Palm Springs, Calif., and in the Lucky International at San Francisco, both times shooting 65 in the opening round. But I just didn't get enough 65's."

Sifford, who often plays with a cigar in his mouth to relieve tension, lives in Los Angeles but is connected with a golf club maker in Melrose Park, Ill. The latter helps Sifford on tour since it costs almost $200 a week to compete with the big boys.

Sifford's ambition? "To win the National Open," he says. He has been in three U. S. Opens. In 1950 he failed to make the final 36 holes at Merion outside Philadelphia. In 1959 at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N. Y., he tied for 32nd with a 299 and received $240. In 1960 at Cherry Hills, Denver, he tied for 40th with 297 and got $260.

Irish-Soldier Series Could Go To N. York

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — In 1913, Notre Dame came out of the Midwest with a Gus Dorais-Knutie Rocke passing combination that whipped Army, boosted the Irish into national football prominence and began a classic series discontinued as an annual fixture after the 1947 clash.

Now the two schools, which have met only twice since the West Pointers felt the contest was getting out of hand and called a halt, seem to be moving toward a resumption of football on an annual basis.

This became apparent Monday when Notre Dame Coach Joe Kuharich said: "I would like to see us play every year in New York. The Army-Notre Dame game surpassed all bowl games. I am speaking only for myself but I think Moose Kraus (Notre Dame athletic director) feels the same way."

Asked how he thought resumption of the series could be accomplished, Kuharich said: "I think all it would take would be discussions between authorities of both institutions."

Col. Emory S. Adams Jr., director of athletics at the Point and present at the football writers meeting when Kuharich brought up the subject, said he personally favored the game and he thought they were moving closer together.

Notre Dame and Army are scheduled to meet in 1965 and 1966 and in 1969 and 1970 on a home-and-home basis. Kuharich said he saw no reason why at least the games at South Bend, Ind., shouldn't be shifted to New York. Adams said as far as he knew Army wouldn't object to a change of playing sites.

The long and heated rivalry between Army and Notre Dame was terminated after the 1947 contest because West Point officials claimed the game was being over-emphasized. The schools, however, played a home-and-home series in 1957 and 1958. The Army home game was played at Philadelphia Stadium, where the 1966 game is scheduled.

Notre Dame leads the series with 24 won, 8 lost and 4 tied.

Redskins Find A New Star In N. Snead

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Redskins lost another game Sunday—their seventh this year and 15th in a row over two seasons—but they may have gained a quarterback.

"Norman Snead played a great game," said Washington Coach Bill McPeak today. "and it came at a crucial point in his career."

The 6-foot-4 rookie from Wake Forest completed 21 of 31 passes for 296 yards and two touchdowns although the Redskins' lost 27-24 in the final minute of the Philadelphia Eagles, defending National Football League champions.

Snead will be the starting quarterback again next Sunday when the Redskins play the defensively strong New York Giants at Yankee Stadium.

McPeak, New York's head coach, has gambled on Snead as his quarterback. He swapped off Ralph Guglielmi, 1960 regular at the spot, just before the season began.

This meant Snead had to learn about life in the NFL, the hard way—on the field with red-dogging linemen slamming into him. Most teams figure on taking several seasons to develop a quarterback, working him gradually into the lineup. But McPeak decided the Redskins were desperate. He is bringing Snead along in a crash program.

Snead, a quietly confident type, heard boos for the first time when Washington was shut out in a 24-0 defeat by St. Louis. The Cardinal linemen dumped Snead seven times trying to pass and he completed only 7 of 17 passes.

If the Cardinals' rough treatment upset the lanky quarterback it didn't show against the Eagles. He had the poise of a veteran.

With five minutes remaining and the Redskins trailing 20-17, Snead directed an 81-yard drive that put Washington ahead 24-20.

Even when veteran Sonny Jurgensen miraculously drove the Eagles back with three brilliant passes—the last a 41-yard game-winner to Tommy McDonald with 16 seconds left—Snead gave the Eagles something to shudder about.

On the last play he connected on a 49-yard pass to halfback Dick James, who was downed on the Philadelphia 31 by the last man between him and the end zone.

Sports Dialogue:

Pro golfer JERRY BARBER, when asked if his next goal is winning the National Open:

"That would be mighty nice, wouldn't it? But my goal is just to win anything. The little tournaments are as tough as the big ones nowadays, especially for an old, broken down scrawler like me. This is a rough business. You're a champion one day and can't even qualify the next."

BOB SCHEFFING, manager of the Detroit Tigers:

"I've seen a home run hitter under pressure. I was managing Los Angeles in the Coast League in 1956 when Steve Bilko was playing first base and took aim at Tony Lazzeri's record of 60 home runs for Salt Lake City, set in 1925. I think Steve had 50 with some 27 games left to play. But he began overworking and chasing pitches and didn't do a thing. He wound up with 55. Babe Ruth wasn't under any pressure. He already held the record, 59, and he wasn't trying to beat anybody but himself. I suspect the Babe thought he'd eventually break his own record of 60, too."

PINCUS SOBER, chairman of track and field for the U. S. Olympic team and the AAU, commenting on the controversy in the sport at the present time:

"Track and field is the most international of all sports. It is shocking to think that a fight for power and patronage might jeopardize America's position. If certain changes are indicated, the AAU will consider them if they are for the benefit of all athletes in the sport and if they are consistent with our obligations in international competition. I can't believe track and field in America will be permitted to degenerate into a cat and dog fight. I don't believe the (Track Coaches Assn.) coaches want to take over the work involved, only the selection of the U. S. team coaches and managers. The serious part of this controversy is that of athletes making public complaints or seeking special privileges and I'm referring to fellows like Bobby Morrow, Parry O'Brien, Rink Babka, Harold Connolly and Al Oerter. Some of the proposals to change rules are cruel to the athletes, and it is odd that no references have been made as to what will happen to men in college. They would become professionals according to college rules, were they to compete under suggested changes."

JOHNNY SAHN, pitching coach of the New York Yankees:

"A coach should be in the dugout sitting beside the manager where he can spot the weaknesses and work with him closely. With the Yankees, my advice is sought constantly. I feel as though I was a part of the team. Why, Ralph Houk took more ideas from me in spring training this year than the Kansas City team did in the entire season. Even though they knew I'd spent years learning the trade, I was often overruled in the clubhouse meetings in Kansas City. My stay there was almost a complete waste of time."

HUGH McELHANN, Minnesota Viking back, after playing against his former team-mates, San Francisco 49ers:

"I've never been so hard before by a guy who handles my insurance (linebacker Matt Hazlett), and besides that, four of five of the other 49ers are regular customers in my San Francisco supermarket."

LA CIVILTA CATTOLICA, Jesuit biweekly, published in Vatican City:

"One cannot gamble one's life for a passion of sports. To do so is neither human nor Christian. Automobile racing should be considered organized massacre in honor of the great idol of modern times—speed. There are those who will say that the auto racer knows very well the risks that he freely takes. But we reply that his freedom must respect the right that God has on the life of every man. A man cannot expose his life to mortal risk without a truly great motive."

DUFFY DAUGHERTY, Michigan State Coach:

"I ordered all my athletes to wear pellet-loaded spats weighing 2 1/2 pounds on each ankle while working out during the summer. George Salmes, our leading scorer, decided that if 2 1/2 pounds would help, five pounds would help more. So he doubled the load and wore the spats during all his working hours on a tough summer job."

MRS. H. H. HEAP, Odessa, in a letter to The Herald:

"We had the pleasure of watching your fine football team in action Friday night. Even though you lost the game, your boys never at any time lost their wonderful spirit. We have heard many reports of their good sportsmanship. We feel that these boys are a credit to your town and they certainly reflect good sportsmanship."

Others receiving votes: Minnesota, Notre Dame, Purdue, Utah State, Northwestern, Kansas, Penn State, Auburn, Syracuse, Rutgers, Wyoming and Arkansas.

The Spartans, ranked first Monday for the third week in succession, place their 50 record on the line in a Big Ten conference clash with resurgent Minnesota. Last year's national champions who just missed climbing into the top ten in the latest rankings. On a point basis, Michigan State received 437 to 407 for Mississippi.

The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, points figured on a 10, 9, 8, 7, etc. basis: 1. Michigan State (31) 437 2. Mississippi (8) 407 3. Texas (6) 383 4. Alabama (2) 325 5. Ohio State 297 6. Louisiana State 163 7. Georgia Tech 162 8. Colorado 143 9. Iowa 83

LEADER

Walter W. Stroup, CLU, of Big Spring receives a Southwestern Life salute for winning two of the highest honors in life insurance — the National Quality Award and membership in the Texas Leaders' Round Table. The National Quality Award is granted by the National Association of Life Underwriters and the Life Insurance Agency Management Association to agents whose service to the public has been deemed superior. Membership in the Leaders' Round Table of Texas, honor group of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, is limited to those who meet high standards in volume and permanence of business produced. Outstanding men like Walter W. Stroup add better service to Southwestern Life's better plans for a better life.

DEPENDABILITY DOESN'T HAVE TO BE DULL

Any 1962 Dodge, full-size Dart or compact Lancer, is proof of that. Every one has a rustproofed body. Quiet, new high-speed starter that puts less strain on the battery. Every one will go 32,000 miles between grease jobs. They are swift automobiles, too. Dodge Dart accelerates 7% faster on 5% less gas than last year's comparable model. Our compact Lancer corners flat, handles neat, leaves the weak sisters cold. Drive THE NEW LEAN BREED OF DODGE

It's An Ill Wind That Can't Be Sweetened

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One of the sweetest economic developments of south Florida is a sugar boom touched off when Fidel Castro's revolutionary antics cut Cuba out of the U. S. sugar market.

American sugar men, and many former big-time growers in Cuba's one-crop economy, are building refineries and planting sugar cane in vast Everglades areas which for centuries produced little but sawgrass and snakes.

Their $100-million sugar expansion program hopes to recoup losses which Cubans and Americans suffered in the Castro expropriation of Cuba's sugar industry.

Eleven mills are either in operation, under construction, or in the planning stage.

Florida's sugar production, only 80,000 tons 10 years ago, is expected to be more than 300,000 tons in 1962, and 500,000 annually within a few years.

Land prices in the new "sugar bowl" have jumped. An acre that brought $250 two years ago may be worth $500 now. Owners of choice land near Lake Okeechobee are getting as much as $900 an acre.

U. S. Sugar Corp. has under construction a $15-million plant near Belle Glade. U. S. Sugar has operated a mill at Clewiston for many years.

Talisman-Sugar Corp., a $10-million Cuban refugee venture, plans to bring a mill from Louisiana for erection on a 16,800-acre site south of Belle Glade.

Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida has just broken ground near Belle Glade for a $13.5-million plant.

Cuban sugarmen Manuel Arca and Luis de Armas are heading a project to establish a $5.5-million grinding factory for the Glades County Sugar Growers Cooperation Association.

South Florida Sugar Corp., headed by P. J. Serralles of Miami, hopes to bring a complete mill from Puerto Rico to a site near Belle Glade.

Other sugar firms are building or expanding facilities.

Pilot Killed
GILSERLIEN AIR BASE, Netherlands, (AP)—Sixteen training planes were damaged and the pilot of an F8F Thunderstreak was killed when his plane crashed in a hangar Monday, the Air Force Information Service announced. The pilot lost control when the rudder mechanism failed. His name was withheld.

Finnish Minister To Handle Red Bid
LIHUE, Kauai, Hawaii, (AP)—President Urho K. Kekkonen of Finland sent his foreign minister home Monday to handle a Soviet request for a joint defense pact against West Germany. The Finnish president stayed behind to complete his visit to Hawaii. He was to leave this afternoon for Los Angeles, last stop on his tour of the United States. The U.S.S.R. called on Finland to join with it to thwart what the Soviets called a growing West German threat to use the Baltic Sea as a jumping off place for war. The move was seen as an effort to bring independent Finland in line with Warsaw Pact nations.

An unusual development in the flying training of Military Assistance Program personnel at Webb when 2nd Lt. Wilhelm Ruf, a German Air Force officer from Munich, Germany, instructed an American student in a Link trainer. Lt. Ruf, who graduated from pilot training at Webb Sept. 14, had a few weeks' delay before reporting to Lake AFB, Ariz., to take advance training in F-84's, and was assigned as an instructor in the Link Trainer Dept. A Webb-based pilot who drew Ruf as an instructor for a required Link period said Lt. Ruf is an excellent Link instructor. Lt. Ruf will return to Germany for duty as a fighter pilot when he completes advanced training at Lake.

Understand Bobby Darin? This Ought To Spook You

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Halloween is perhaps an appropriate time to call another meeting of the Let's Try to Understand Bobby Darin Club.

The secretary is sorry to report a number of withdrawals from the club. It seems they could not find a satisfactory reason why they should try to understand B. D.

Their point is well taken, but the fact is that Darin has already made four starring movies and in all likelihood will make more. He continues strong in the record field and elsewhere. Try as we may, we cannot ignore him.

To further club research, I made another field trip to see Darin. He was parked outside the "State Fair" set in his brand-new $10,000 trailer, complete with refrigerator, stereo, game table with chess set, etc.

Darin was resting on the couch, listening to "Swan Lake" on the earphones. "What are you angry about today?" I asked.

"I'm only angry because you asked me what I was angry about," he replied.

But upon further questioning it was apparent that he was angry at fan magazines, certain articles writers and any who inquire or write about his marriage to Sandra Dee.

"The number of reporters I will talk to gets smaller and smaller all the time," he commented. "When I see some of the personalities in this town—I won't mention names—who disrupt their homes and families for the sake of personal publicity, it makes me physically ill."

"I owe nothing to anybody, except the person who plunks down his dough at the box office or pays to see me in a night club. When the time comes that that person isn't pleased with what he bought, then I'm in trouble. But not before."

I asked Darin about his near suspension when he failed to show up for work one day last week.

"The studio would be very foolish to do that, because then I might decide to take the week off," he said. "They knew I had a valid excuse for being absent. A box fell on my finger and it was three-quarters amputated."

Well, that's it for this meeting. We may hold another one sometime—if we can get a quorum. If not, we may break up into a group discussion of "After Fabian, what?"
