Stocking Up

Walter Stroup, president of the Band Boosters, is getting ready with supplies to help feed the Big Spring fans who ride the special train to Abilene, Friday. The organization plans a variety of sandwiches, drinks, and candy, all at economical prices. From the looks of this basket, Stroup is expecting a good crowd, which is supported by the ticket sales report this morning.

Cotton Estimate Is Made: 4,750,000 Bales For Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department estimated this year's cotton crop today at 14,538,000 bales, 4,750,000 in Texas. This estimate is 204,000 bales more than the 14,334,000 bales indicated a month ago. It compares with 14,272,000 last year and 13,553,000 for the 10-year average.

A reserve of about 7 million bales exists from past crops. Department forecasts are that domestic and export demand from this year's crop will total about 14.5 million bales. Some trade groups say this estimate is too small.

Banquet Plans To Be Aired

Preliminary arrangements for the annual banquet sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be made at a meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Chamber, according to Carroll Davidson, manager. The event is scheduled for Jan. 12, 1962. Adolph Swartz and Champ Rainwater are co-chairmen of general arrangements for the annual banquet committee.

United Fund Hits Original Base

The first goal of the 1961 United Fund Campaign has been achieved. This morning's report showed $102,588.25 in gifts turned in, according to Anny Glenn, manager. The basic goal of the drive is $102,484 and campaign leaders are pushing to collect an additional $2,500 as the local share of aid to the Hurricane Carla disaster area. Glenn pointed out that although gifts are still about $2,400 shy of the total goal, the prospects look promising. The Big Spring State Hospital employ group gave the drive a boost Tuesday turning in 100 per cent. Unsolicited gifts also came from the American Business Club and the Rotary Club, ABC gave $150 and the Rotary, $100. Other civic groups have indicated that they may have gifts to offer in an effort to put the drive over the top, but nothing definite had been reported at UF headquarters. Every division gained Tuesday with the out-of-town division adding $325 to its already high total of $4,613.50. It now has $5,138.50. Big Gifts gained $107.75 for a total of $40,521.50; special gifts is up $360 to surpass its goal with $10,034; the metropolitan division gained $223.55 for a total of $5,341; the employ group added $254.78, rising to $23,289; and the public employes gave $58.29 more for a total of $17,357. Vealmoor and Coahoma workers brought in gifts from area committees giving that division $906. More may be forthcoming from these two places, Glenn said. Lomax had previously completed its drive. Glenn was warm in his praise of the workers who had a hand in putting the campaign over its basic goal and he urged them to bring in the remaining gifts as they work to do as well on the total drive.

Cut-Off Point On Grid Train Tickets Near

The football special train to Abilene neared its minimum requirement today, and there was prospect that a cut-off may have to be fixed soon on tickets.

The school business office, where football tickets also are available, had sold over 120 train tickets. The high school pep squad had favored riding the train, indicating a willingness to pay the difference between the normal school transportation and the train fare. Other points also reported sales, and thus over 250 of a minimum of 300 was in sight . . . and interest was just beginning to hit its stride.

Fare for the trip is $3.75 per person.

The schedule calls for departure at 4:45 p.m. Friday from the Texas & Pacific station, and arrival back in town around 12:45 a.m.

Band Boosters are making preparations to have sandwiches and cold drinks available. The T&P is furnishing a counter car to facilitate feeding the fans en route. Walter Stroup, Band Booster president, said that the price schedule would be 25 cents for sandwiches, cold drinks and coffee 10 cents, chips 5 cents, and assorted candies.

Quarterback Club members, who are co-sponsors with the Herald on the train, will serve as sponsors, said Jimmy Felts, co-captain. Jay Banks, police chief, said that several officers also would ride the train to be of assistance.

Abilene school authorities, in a gesture of friendship, are furnishing buses to transport fans from the train to the stadium and return.

Tickets for the train are on sale at Senior High School, the school business office, the Herald and the Chamber of Commerce. Fans are urged to get their tickets as soon as possible to make sure of a seat.

City's In For Trouble

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Alonzo Smith Jr., asked to be excused from jury duty because he had to work.

"The boss man said I had to work or there wouldn't be any place for me to work," Smith said Tuesday.

"Well, then, maybe we can straighten your boss man out," said Judge Carl Durrance. "Who do you work for?"

"The city," said Smith. Durrance said he would talk to Mayor Julian Lane about the situation.

Mexico Will Stay Independent

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India won't find Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos very receptive should he make overtures during his visit here next week to woo Mexico into the bloc of neutral nations.

"We have been, we are and we shall continue being independent," (in world affairs), Lopez Mateos declared in his recent State of the Union speech at the beginning of his fourth year in office.

He told newsmen shortly after Nehru's visit was announced that talks with the acknowledged leader of neutralism wouldn't change Mexico's stand.

Fluoridation Is Defeated

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (APV) —Fluoridation of the city's water system was soundly defeated in an election Tuesday.

The vote from 183 of 203 districts was 2,770 in favor of fluoridation to 31,338 opposed.

Organized medical groups all supported fluoridation, arguing that it would reduce tooth decay. Several groups actively opposed it, contending that fluoridation amounted to mass medication; that it was thus a step toward socialized medicine, and that if anybody wanted such use of fluorine against tooth decay, he could get it from his dentist.

'Right Woman' Excuse Attacked

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Attention confirmed bachelors: your excuse of waiting for the right woman no longer holds water.

The Rev. Troy M. Strong, a Methodist pastor and family life counselor from Seattle, Wash., says you could marry any one of 10,000 women and live happily. Lecturing to a group of Florida Southern College students Strong said: "Courtship is just like buying a dress or suit of clothes—you shop around before making a choice. You don't fall in love, you grow into it."

3 KILLED, 7 MISSING

2 Ocean Vessels Collide In Houston Ship Channel

HOUSTON (AP)—A Norwegian tanker and a Chinese freighter collided in clear weather on Galveston Bay Tuesday night, setting off explosions and fires fed by oil and chemicals.

Three men were killed and seven were missing. Wen Tsai Hsu, 46, captain of the Union Reliance, a Nationalist Chinese freighter, said his ship was anchored when it was struck by the M. S. Berean, a new Norwegian tanker.

All the dead and all but one of the missing were from the Union Reliance. Also missing was Capt. David Duncan of Houston, who was piloting the freighter down the 50-mile ship channel that links Houston with the Gulf of Mexico.

All 46 persons aboard the Berean escaped injury but 11 then aboard the Union Reliance were treated for burns, exposure, and shock. Five were in hospitals and three were in critical condition.

BODIES FOUND

Capt. L. G. Haverland, commander of the Galveston Coast Guard station, said three bodies were found on the Union Reliance.

The freighter still was burning at 10:30 a.m., more than 11 hours after the collision, and Haverland said it was possible that more bodies would be found on the vessel.

The Berean fire died after nearly six hours and the tanker moved under its own power to Bellview Roads near the Port of Galveston.

Agents for the vessels indicated 56 persons were aboard when the ships collided 35 miles southeast of Houston.

The bows of the M. S. Berean, a 9,000-ton Norwegian tanker, and the 494-foot Union Reliance, a Nationalist Chinese freighter, rammed each other. The cause had not been determined. The weather was clear.

Wen Tsai Hsu, 46, captain of the Union Reliance, said the collision occurred after he had anchored for the night.

Capt. Sten Larsen said the freighter struck his tanker. He said the freighter was dropping anchor but still was moving.

Names of the dead were not disclosed. Coast Guard officials said both were crewmen aboard the Union Reliance.

FROM SAME SHIP One body was found on the deck. The second was found in the engine room. All of the injured and missing also were from the Union Reliance.

The Berean, launched earlier this year, was bound for Houston. The Union Reliance had left Houston six hours before the collision bound for New Orleans.

The Berean fire burned five hours. A skeleton crew then moved the ship under its own power to Bellview Roads near the Port of Galveston.

Four badly burned men were pulled from Galveston Bay and taken to San Jacinto Hospital in nearby Baytown, while others were treated at small hospitals in the La Porte area.

The Coast Guard spokesman said the Marine Inspection Office of the Coast Guard would start an inquiry.

EXPLOSIVES The tanker carried explosive chemicals, solvents and animal fats. The freighter had oil in barrels on her deck, the Coast Guard said, and lumber below in the holds.

"I saw the heavy smoke from the skylight. The smoke heavy, heavy," said C. I. Ho, the first assistant engineer on the Union Reliance.

"We stopped the main engine. We escaped by the shaft alley to the main deck. The ship has many places on fire. Much people on deck. Some one go crew room. He found a man in bed who was dead," the engineer said.

Ho is one of 35 crewmen from the Union Reliance who took refuge at the La Port corporation (city) courtroom. He was the only one of the group who spoke English.

Mrs. Birgit Larsen, 30, of Copenhagen, Denmark, wife of Capt. Sten Larsen, 39, of the Berean said she was in bed when "suddenly there was this awful shaking."

"I got dressed and dressed the boy (Michael, 4) and ran up on the bridge and asked my husband what to do," she said.

"The other ship was blazing fire and aft. It was terrible," she said.

The Coast Guard said 16 crew members remained aboard the Norwegian ship to fight the fire for a time.

Cmdr. Ray Evans, the Coast Guard captain of the Port of Houston, boarded the Berean shortly after the collision to take charge of the fire-fighting.

Demos Clobber GOP In 2 Major Elections

James P. Mitchell in the contest for governor.

Democrats have captured both prizes in the two big elections, grinding out an upset by electing the governor in New Jersey and easily winning the New York mayoral race.

Both elections Tuesday were intensely watched by politicians who regarded them as important in gauging how the political winds may blow in 1962 and 1964.

In New York, Robert F. Wagner breezed past Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz and independent Lawrence E. Gerona to win his third term as mayor, as had been expected.

Across the Hudson River, New Jersey voters overturned predictions and elected Democrat Richard J. Hughes over Republican hard fight for re-election as governor.

BIG GUNS Both parties had wheeled their big guns into the New Jersey campaign. President Kennedy and former President Harry S. Truman campaigned for Hughes. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower campaigned for Mitchell.

Mitchell held out overnight but finally conceded defeat this morning when the count in all but 14 of the state's election districts showed him more than 40,000 behind. At that point the vote stood: Hughes 1,076,356, Mitchell 1,037,113.

The White House reported Kennedy was extremely pleased by the outcome in both New York and New Jersey.

In Gettysburg, Pa., a spokesman said Eisenhower planned to make no comment on the New Jersey election.

Virginia voters followed tradition by giving Democrat Albert S. Harrison Jr.—and the state organization of U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd — a one-sided victory over Republican H. Clyde Pearson in the race for governor.

GOP VICTORY In Kentucky, however, Republicans cracked 28 years of Democratic rule in Louisville by sweeping into the mayor's office and other top posts. The GOP also sewed up surrounding Jefferson County for the first time in 16 years.

In Washington, Republican National Chairman William E. Miller called the Kentucky victories "a good omen for 1962" and a "victory of major proportions."

The majority victor in Louisville was William O. Cowger, a mortgage broker. He defeated Democrat William S. Milburn, president of the Louisville Board of Aldermen.

The lone U. S. House seat at issue gave the Democrats another expected victory in strongly Democratic Wayne County (Detroit) Mich. Democrat Lucien N. Nedzi defeated Republican Walter Czarnicki in a special election to fill a vacancy in the First District.

The nation's attention was occupied by the barometer races in New York and New Jersey.

Called REBUFF The chairman of the Democratic National Committee, John M. Bailey, said Wagner's victory was a rebuff in New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's "efforts to use the New York mayoralty campaign to advance his own personal national ambitions and a warning to him that he faces a

Casualties Feared In Air Disaster

BOSTON (AP) — A Navy bomber with a crew of 11 crashed in the Atlantic off Virginia today while on an antisubmarine warfare training mission and several hours later two life rafts and possibly two bodies were reported sighted.

The Coast Guard in New York said a search plane reported the rafts and evidence of possible casualties in an ocean area 300 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

First news of the twin-engine patrol bomber was missing, and that it had crashed, came from Boston Coast Guard and Navy headquarters.

Later, the public information officer for the Atlantic Fleet air force said the plane, a P2V Neptune, was a unit of Patrol Squadron 10 based at the Brunswick Naval Air Station in Maine.

The officer said it left Brunswick Tuesday night at 8 p.m., EST, with fuel enough to keep it aloft until 10 a.m. today.

The Navy said the plane did not take off from the carrier Lake Champlain which was on duty in the general area of the crash.

The carrier had been in communication with the plane until 2:40 a.m. after which contact with the aircraft was lost. Confusion had existed over the time the plane was last contacted because of a difference between the Navy system of reporting time and Eastern Standard Time.

The Navy said no trouble was indicated in the last message from the plane.

A squadron of planes sped off on a huge search southwest from Brunswick, all the way to the bomber's last reported location about 300 miles off Virginia.

The search concentrated along a 125-mile wide track running from Brunswick, Maine, past Texas Tower II 100 miles off Cape Cod, and thence to the starting point of the flight.

Special Signal Wins Approval

A special traffic signal at Sixth and Gollad, which can be controlled by pedestrians, was approved by the Big Spring Traffic Commission on Tuesday. Several other traffic matters were discussed.

Roy Watkins, representing the Boydston School P.T.A., appeared before the commission and explained the need for traffic protection for the school youngsters at Sixth and Gollad.

Roy Rogan, city electrician and traffic engineer, recommended that a pedestrian control signal light be installed. This will allow students to push a button and change the signal light to halt traffic. He pointed out that the present flashing signal is worn with age and must be replaced anyway.

The commission accepted his recommendation and approved the new signal. The matter now goes before the Big Spring City Commission for final action.

On Rogan's recommendation, a plan to give traffic a leading green light on Main and Scurry, at the Fourth Street intersections, was tabled. Rogan pointed out that this change might upset the progression of traffic on Fourth Street, by alternating the signal time lengths.

The plan to change the Old State Highway between Airport Road and Harding, to a one-way street was shelved for more study. The commission asked Rogan and Bruce Dunn, director of public works, to discuss the matter with State Highway officials.

A request that a signal light be placed at Fifth and Johnson was turned over to Rogan for study. The commission asked that a traffic count be taken before a definite action is reached.

A discussion of the traffic problem on Eleventh Place, between Birdwell Lane and Gollad, was on the agenda. One member pointed out that the traffic commission had already studied the problem and recommended that the city follow the Master Plan solution of widening the street.

Jury Finds Bean Guilty; Given Life Prison Sentence

Frankie Lee Bean, 30, must spend the remainder of his life in prison, a jury in 118th District Court ruled late Tuesday afternoon.

The jury, composed of six men and six women, deliberated less than 20 minutes in finding Bean guilty of being an habitual burglar. The punishment for conviction as a habitual criminal is life in prison.

Bean, first defendant to come to trial in 118th District Court this week, was arrested first on March 8 of this year. Investigation showed he had been previously convicted of burglary and had served two prior penitentiary terms for the offense. His arrest was also for burglary. Indicted by the county grand jury as a habitual burglar Bean was remanded to the county jail to await trial. While being held, he and Levy Lee Edmondson, now in the state penitentiary, made an attempt to break jail last July. Using a fake pistol they threatened George Bogard, jailer, and a jail trusty and had made their way into the corridor of the jail when they were encountered by A. G. Mitchell, deputy. Mitchell clouted the pair over the head with his pistol and the jail break came to an abortive end.

Some days later, Bean was brought into court for arraignment. His conduct was so hysterical that he was ordered removed to the Big Spring State Hospital for observation. While held at the hospital, he escaped from his cell and was apprehended some days later near Ozona. He has been held in jail here since that time.

Gil Jones, district attorney, prosecuted the case and Bill Eysen, Big Spring attorney, appeared for Bean.

The jurors who tried Bean and found him guilty were: Alpha Reid, James H. Jennings, Joyce L. Nichols, Mrs. E. A. Turner, James W. Franklin, Eugene R. Peters, Donald Carter, Clyde McMahon, J. W. Carter, Mrs. J. N. Edwards, Hope Alexander and Mrs. Lerdy Findley.

Trial Continues In Thompson Highway Case

Trial of a US 87 right-of-way appeal case in Howard County Court resumed at 10 a.m. today.

The case is an appeal from a special commission's finding in acquisition of nearly four acres of land owned by Clarence Thompson for right of way on US 87.

The case began Tuesday morning and recessed Tuesday afternoon until 10 a.m. today.

The State Highway Department contends that the award of $6,740 by the special commission was excessive.

It will be the task of the jurors, when the testimony is completed, to reach its own decision as to a proper sum to be paid to Thompson for his land.

The Thompson appeal case is the first of six which the state intends to push in Howard County Court.

Formby Discusses Future With Rotarians Tuesday

Marshall Formby, former state senator, and former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, spoke to Rotarians Tuesday on "Texas and the Road Ahead."

Formby was introduced by Elmer Tarbox, program chairman for the day and a long-time friend of Formby's. Formby is a criminal attorney of Plainview and has announced for the gubernatorial race in 1962.

"Texas is still a magnificent state," the speaker said. "Every man can find just about what he wants in the state, including land, climate, people, and size. We have got to get ready to take our responsibility in taking care of the 12 million people coming into the state. Not so many of them are coming from the north and east, but about a quarter of a million are born every year. Take away the 75,000 who die and that still leaves 175,000 natural born Texans, plus those who move in.

Rayburn Seems 'More Alert'

BONHAM (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn seemed more alert but his basic condition remains unchanged, Dr. Joe Risser said Tuesday.

Dr. Risser also said Rayburn, 79, remained weak but not as weak as in the past. Rayburn, suffering from widespread cancer, is being treated in a hospital at his home town of Bonham.

Candidate

Jack Cox, who sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last year, will be a candidate in the 1962 Republican primary, he announced in Austin.

Stalin's Name Removed

Only the name Lenin appears on the tomb he shared with Stalin in Moscow's Kremlin for eight years. Stalin's body, on orders of the Communist Congress, has been moved to a grave near the Kremlin wall. Lenin's body alone lies in state in the vault. A temporary rush job has left the name Lenin painted in red over a black plastic which covers the slab that carried the two names.

Parents Defend Son's Right To Choose Style Of Haircut

PERRY, Ga. (AP)—Does an American teen-ager have a basic right to wear any kind of haircut he chooses?

Yes, says the father of a boy suspended from school for wearing a ducktail haircut.

No, says the school principal and the school board.

The father, Walter C. Sorrells, argued Tuesday that the ducktail is a harmless passing fancy and he is going to court to prove his point.

Ducktail haircuts are popular among the rock 'n' roll set. The hair is worn long and combed to a point in the back.

The principal, Eric Staples, said the school board recently banned "unconventional haircuts" because they sometimes were associated with delinquency.

But Stanley Sorrells, 17, center of the controversy, contended that the ducktail was "the kind you see on all the popular young actors, singers and politicians."

At a hearing before the Houston County School Board, Sorrells said his son has a basic American right to wear any hair style he chooses.

"The right of choice was won when Cornwallis surrendered to General Washington at Yorktown," he asserted, "and I mean to defend that right."

Stanley's mother agreed.

"Why, if Stanley is willing to stand the ridicule, he has the right to wear a Chinese queue or go to a beauty shop and get a permanent," she told the school board.

The Sorrells argued unsuccessfully. The board voted unanimously to uphold the eight-day suspension.

Sorrells said he would appeal to the State Board of Education. He has filed suit in Superior Court to enjoin the principal from enforcing the no-ducktail rule.

"Nothing has ever worried me as much as this," said Sorrells, a civilian employe at Robins Air Force Base. "With our freedom being challenged by communism on all the world fronts the least we can do is fight to protect our rights at home."

2 Midland Buildings Burn

MIDLAND (AP)—A fire in downtown Midland which destroyed two buildings raged for two hours early today before firemen brought it under control.

Loss was estimated by one of the building owners at $200,000. Destroyed was a building containing an auto supply firm and a vacant structure.

Fire Marshal Bill Klatt said several of his 40 firemen who fought the blaze suffered from smoke inhalation but that there were no injuries.

The raging fire, in the midst of a group of one-story buildings, for a time threatened another half-block of buildings but Klatt said they suffered only smoke and water damage.

Defendant To Testify

DALLAS (AP)—A former ambulance attendant was to testify today in his trial on charges of molesting a 52-year-old woman while she was being taken to a hospital last June.

Herbert Randall Worthan, 21, was accused by the woman, who testified, Tuesday, of making sexual advances to her in the back of an ambulance.

A five-man jury is hearing the case in Judge James H. Guthrie's county court.

Most Of Texas Has Clear Skies

By The Associated Press

Most of Texas had clear skies Wednesday but it was cloudy west and southwest of Midland to the Texas-Mexico border.

A light rain fell at El Paso shortly before dawn, the state's first precipitation reported in more than 48 hours.

Temperatures were slightly warmer around the state in a pre-dawn range from 27 at Dalhart to 55 at Galveston.

INTO CHRIST

By T. H. Tarbox, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 90, P.O. Box 1582.

If salvation is by faith only, then faith only puts a man into Christ. Redemption is in Christ; not out of him.

"In whom we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7).

Thus to have redemption, man must get into Christ. But where does the Bible say that one believes into Christ? Echo, Where?

Nowhere does the Bible say one believes into Christ; but twice it tells us that one is baptized into Christ (a very strange thing if man is saved by faith only; and

Doctor Faces Securities Indictment On Finance Plan

LAKE CHARLES (AP) — Dr. Curtis Lee Attaway of Ville Platte was free on $25,000 bond today under charges involving 30 counts of violating the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Act.

A federal grand jury at Lake Charles returned the indictments last Thursday. They were not made public until Tuesday following Attaway's arrest.

The indictments stemmed from an investment plan allegedly started by Dr. Attaway that operated in several states, primarily in Texas and Louisiana, before its collapse in 1959.

The investment plan reportedly involved thousands of persons with some putting in as much as $10,000.

After the plan collapsed, the 57-year-old Dr. Attaway filed for receivership in federal court at Shreveport and set up a trust fund to pay off the investors. A trustee said at the time some money to pay the claims would come from the Attaway Clinic and Hospital in Ville Platte.

In the application for receivership, Dr. Attaway's assets were listed as about $3 million and his debt as $3.9 million.

Under the financial plan, an investor received Dr. Attaway's personal check for the full amount. As long as he didn't cash it, he received interest rates ranging up to 120 per cent.

The physician had been reported as saying he operated his clinic on the borrowed money, and that he could pay high interest rates because of income tax deductions.

Baptists Tackle Church-State Issues

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Baptists, considered today a series of recommendations concerning separation of church and state.

The church-state separation moves began Tuesday at a meeting of the influential 192-man executive committee. Final convention approval may be asked today.

First general convention sessions of the 76th annual meeting were held Tuesday night. Close to 6,000 messengers registered as representatives of 1 1/2 million members of Texas' 4,000 Baptist churches. Closed circuit television sets were installed for convenience of those who could not crowd into the 4,500-seat Austin Municipal auditorium.

Gov. Price Daniel welcomed the delegates with an appeal for the help of churches "in combating the atheistic materialism which is being preached by our Communist adversaries throughout the world."

The Rev. John Rasco, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Olessa, will deliver the convention action on executive board recommendations. Rasco is an alternate for Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dallas, who was unable to attend because of illness.

Executive committee recommendations ready for presentation to the convention included:

A special recommendation that Texas Baptists unequivocally oppose "all direct aid, money, or property to church schools, colleges, and other church institutions, whether they be Protestant, Roman Catholic or Jewish."

demand complete separation of church and state and back up the demand with political participation "especially at the precinct level."

A proposal to send a 1,000-man Christian crusade to Japan for a month-long nationwide revival in the spring of 1963.

The report said, "The Christian should perceive that the Communist is not a superman but like all others is a sinful man in need of redemption of God's grace." It warned Christians against "using Communist tactics of hate, half-truth and slander."

The Christian citizen should oppose any injustice "whether it is to be found in racial discrimination, vindictiveness in dealing with the criminal or in greedy exploitation of the economically weak," the report said.

20 Divorce Suits Filed

Twenty new divorce suits filed in October in the office of Wade Choate, district court clerk, brought the total of such suits for the first 10 months of the year to 257. October's 20 new divorce actions were the same in number as were filed in September.

During the first 10 months of the year, 200 other type civil suits have been filed.

The clerk's office has assisted in filling out 189 passport applications during the year.

Choate said that the 50 adoption petitions filed for the 10-month period sets a new high record. The court has been exceptionally lenient in approving such suits, too. The records show that 48 applications for adoption have been granted.

During October, there were 12 divorce suits dismissed. The total dismissals of these suits stands now at 110. The court has granted 172 decrees of divorce so far in 1961, including 15 in October.

The court has disposed of 119 other type civil suits during the year. Five were handled in October. Seventy-three such suits have been dismissed so far in 1961 including four last month.

The courts have filed 42 contempt of court actions during the year and four defendants in such cases have been jailed.

There have been 51 additions to the child support accounts in the clerk's office including six added in October.

Battleship Goes Home

The USS North Carolina is moved into its final resting place near downtown Wilmington, N.C. The ship, taken over by the state, was destined for the scrap heap. Cyril S. Adams of Houston engineered the proud ship's last voyage, just as he did 13 years ago for the Battleship Texas. Hugh Morton, chairman of the North Carolina Commission, said the move couldn't have been made without the help of Texas.

Battleship Mover Called A Genius And Isn't Impressed

By CHARLES GREEN
HOUSTON (AP)—Ever wonder what it's like to do something no one else has done? And to do it so well people call you a genius? Cyril Adams, a Houston engineer, knows and he isn't very impressed with himself.

Adams planned the Battleship Texas' last journey from the Gulf of Mexico to the ship's cozy slip at the foot of the San Jacinto Monument.

Now he's done the same thing for North Carolina.

The state followed Texas' lead when school children and others donated $250,000 to give the 35,000-ton USS North Carolina a final resting place worthy of its record.

"If it had not been for the encouragement we got from Texas we never could have done it," Hugh Morton, chairman of the USS North Carolina Commission, said.

"Cyril Adams is a genius." "The only reason I can think of for them to call me in is that I'm the only man in the country who had previous experience moving a dead battleship into a permanent slip for a monument," Adams said.

The Texas became a monument on San Jacinto Day, April 21, 1948. Thousands have walked on the deck since.

Enough pay the small admission charge each year to pay for the upkeep.

So Morton came to Texas when

Airman Finds Missing Man
PRINCETON, Ill. (AP)—When Airman Harold A. Erickson of Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex., went on a weekend leave to Lawton, Okla., he had no idea he would find a missing acquaintance.

It was just chance that on a Lawton sidewalk he came face to face with J. William Dabler, 50, who had been missing from their hometown of Manlius, Ill., since Oct. 19, 1960.

The missing man, however, showed no recognition and told Erickson that his name was Jack Davis. The former Illinois hardware dealer was working in Lawton as a plumber.

Erickson went to the Lawton sheriff and told him the story of Dabler's disappearance on a business trip to St. Louis. . . how the man's abandoned automobile was found later in St. Louis.

The sheriff telephoned Mrs. Dabler in Manlius, and promised to keep an eye on "Davis."

Then, Mrs. Dabler and a member of her family drove to Lawton.

Tuesday, Mrs. Dabler and her husband, positively identified drove back to Manlius.

Area VA Offices Will Be Closed
WASHINGTON (AP)—The veterans Administration plans to close its 161 one-man contact offices by the end of the year.

A spokesman reported affected employees will be absorbed to the extent possible in other VA activities and normal attrition is expected to provide places for most of them.

Remaining open will be 273 contact locations including 35 larger contact offices, 67 regional offices and 171 hospitals, with 767 contact officers and representatives.

The one-man offices to be closed Dec. 29 include:

Texas — Beaumont, Corsicana, Galveston, Wichita Falls, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Laredo, Odessa, Abilene and San Angelo.

To Puerto Rico
Lloyd McGlaun, Hilburn Appliance, left Big Spring Tuesday for Dallas where he will board an airplane for Puerto Rico and a week's vacation. He won the trip in a contest sponsored by General Electric for North Texas dealers of the firm's products. M. K. Carson will make the trip as a guest.

Builder's Minimum Is $100,000 Home

EDITOR'S NOTE — If you don't have $100,000 to spend on that new house, don't call Texas builder Rosenthal. That's his cheapest model, economy size without solid doorknobs.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Gold doorknobs and bathtubs carved from solid blocks of Italian marble — these are the little extras that make a house a home to Texas millionaires.

For $150,000, give or take $15,000 or $25,000, Ben H. Rosenthal manages to put these colorful touches in homes he builds for the wealthy of Texas and occasionally elsewhere.

Of course, some men are pressed for money, so Rosenthal skips the marble tub and a few other niceties and holds the price to $100,000. He won't go any lower.

His biggest job is now under way in Beverly Hills, Calif., where he's building a $350,000 home for a movie star whose name he doesn't know.

"I'm dealing with their agent." The house for a man and wife and their two children, will have five bedrooms and seven bathrooms, a play room, family room, breakfast room, kitchen, utility room, library-study, dining room, living room, butler's pantry, a wine cellar, heated pool, and a three-car Cadillac lounge.

Inside the house will be such items as gold doorknobs, gold plumbing fixtures, and walls and floors made of white, black and brown Italian marble. The tub in the master bathroom will be carved from a block of marble in Italy.

Behind the house will be a 22 by 52-foot heated pool. Rosenthal is a retired Dallas millionaire who sold his meat packing plant to George A. Hormel Co. in 1954.

Before and after he sold his packing plant Rosenthal built commercial buildings. After he sold the plant he put up homes. "I build every house as if I personally were going to live in it," Rosenthal says.

"I turn down lots of jobs in the $100,000-price range because people want to skimp on things."

Rosenthal had to put a store type soda fountain in one $110,000 house. In another an eight-stool bar, complete with ice maker is hidden by a wooden wall eight feet wide that slides into the attic.

As rich as the people are who buy his homes, Rosenthal sighs.

"I've never met a man who didn't care about money. I know they exist, but I've never met them."

"I've never had the lush customer who would just let me go and do whatever I wanted to. It would only cost an additional 15 or 20 per cent." But he did have a man who took his decorator to New York for 10 days to furnish a Rosenthal house.

Rosenthal works on a simple business basis: he'll build a house for $100,000 or more for anyone at cost plus 12.5 per cent.

"The greatest mistake in homes now being built is the quality of materials. The foundation, the lumber, the plumbing, the wiring — it's all the cheapest the builders can buy. Not enough quality is put into the framing," Rosenthal says.

"I build homes because I love what I'm doing. I haven't built a house that can't be sold today at a profit by the person who bought it from me."

Rosenthal believes certain areas of California offer the best chances of building really expensive homes.

"We're still selling land by the acre in Dallas," he says, "while out there they sell it by the square foot. The higher the land the more expensive the homes will be."

DEAR ABBY
He's Just A Texan, Son!

DEAR ABBY: I am a college junior and my roommate is a guy from Texas. He keeps a shoe box filled with plain, ordinary dirt under his bed. Nobody is allowed to move it because it is TEXAS dirt. Do you think this guy is all there?

NOT FROM TEXAS
DEAR NOT: Of course he is. It doesn't matter if he's got dirt UNDER him or OVER him, once a Texan—always a Texan.

DEAR ABBY: Every girl needs someone to talk to, but I am afraid I've been talking to the wrong person. She is my aunt. She is almost 50, and has never been married. She claims all men are no good, and has drummed that idea into my head ever since I can remember. I idolize my aunt, and have grown up believing everything she has told me. I am 25 and not married, although I have been called "beautiful," and I am constantly being asked out.

My aunt made me promise I wouldn't date a man until she met him. I kept that promise. I realize now she has found fault with every man who showed an interest in me. I recently met a man I could love. I broke my promise and have been seeing him. I am afraid to introduce him to my aunt because I know she'll tear him down like she did the others. Should I introduce him and clear my conscience, or not?

MIND OF MY OWN
DEAR MIND: Your aunt sounds like a player who never made the team, but is right in there intercepting passes. By all means, introduce him to your aunt. But tell her how you feel about him and ask her not to blow the whistle on this one until she has seen him in action.

Wind Up Play Saturday

The Big Spring High School B football team, still unbeaten this season, visits Odessa Saturday afternoon for a 2 p.m. game with the powerful Permian club. The Dogies have won seven and lost one in starts to date. In their last three games, the Dogies have scored 118 points. Left to right, top row, they are E. J. Self, Tony Carrillo, Jimmy Nipp, Mike Alexander, Gary Holman and Jimmy Cavit. Middle row, Thurman Randle, Eric Nichols, Albert Fierro, Charles Sweeney, Bowman Roberts and Joe Brown. Lower row, Robert Goodlett, Tommy Arhardt, Marvin Bell, Robert Bailey (no longer with team), and Rickie Peters.

Abilene Ace Best BS Will See: R. Baird

Jack Middlebrooks, halfback on the Abilene High School football team, was described by Big Spring scout Roy Baird as the finest back the Steers will meet all year in an appearance made before the Quarterback Club at the High School Cafeteria Tuesday night.

Baird, who has followed the Eagles closely all fall (he has seen them play more than he has his own team), said the speedy senior had been able to score on all District 2-AAAA opponents this year and usually gets his TD's from far out.

Abilene will take a 5-3 won-lost record into its game with Big Spring Friday night, Baird reminded. The Eagles will boast a 21-pound weight advantage per man over Big Spring in the line and an 11-pound edge in the backfield.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

Big Spring's football victory over Midland High last weekend was significant in more ways than one.

It not only was the first for the Steers over the Bulldogs in 14 years but it insured them their best won-lost record since 1954, at which time they finished with an 8-1-1 won-lost-tied record.

Too, it clinched fourth place for them in District 2-AAAA, a spot which had been conceded hands down to Odessa High. They still have a chance at either a tie for first place or third. By beating Abilene Friday night they can sew up third.

Any way you look at it, this has been a splendid season for the Longhorns.

Those 13 pass interceptions made by the Steers this year, coupled with the 17 enemy fumbles they've recovered, have had a lot to do with the success of the Longhorns this fall.

A ball-hawking football team is usually a successful team.

If Dexter Pate of the Steers goes ahead and is named to the all-district team, as is expected, he will become Big Spring's first center to ride the honor since Jerry Graves raged across the West Texas gridiron in 1955.

Graves went on to place on most of the all-state teams that year and wound up with a scholarship at Rice.

One of the better coaching jobs in West Texas has been done this year by Joe Youngblood, the former Abilene athlete who is now at Sands High School in Ackerly.

Since being promoted to 11-man ball, Sands has been considered by some foes as an easy mark but Youngblood sold his boys on the idea they could go out and scrap with any foe.

The Ponies won four, lost five and tied one and, with a little luck (some key personnel was hurt early in the season), would have played better than 5-0 ball.

Youngblood loses nine starters off this year's team but is far from pessimistic about next fall's club.

The final attendance figures on two of Big Spring's road games are in and they show a healthy increase in fan interest.

The Longhorns drew a paid turnout of 7,148 for their game with Lee in Midland last month. The cash income from that contest amounted to $7,377.95. Of that amount, after expenses, the Steers' share came to $3,424.81.

The paid attendance for the Odessa High engagement in Odessa totaled 7,142, with a cash income of $7,353.50. The local school realized $3,574.00 as its part of the gate.

The Steers played before their biggest crowd of the year in Odessa against Permian, when 9,635 paid their way through the gates.

The 4,394 fans who saw the Big Spring-Midland engagement the other night (an excellent turnout considering weather conditions and the fact that Midland had won only one game all year) contributed to a cash income of $4,344.30.

Again, it was almost exclusively a Big Spring representation, since only 51 adult and 138 student tickets were sold in Midland for the contest.

Football business is booming as it never has before in San Angelo. The Bobcats have lured 45,232 paying customers through the gates to date and still have another home game on tap. Abilene Cooper visits there Friday.

That averages out to something like 9,046 a game.

Asked Tuesday if he were about ready for the 1961 football season to end next week, Emmett McKenzie replied: "We're not planning for it to end."

In other words, McKenzie and his Steers reason they have a good chance to at least share the District 2-AAAA championship. They can do it by beating Abilene and San Angelo.

As usual, Saturday's backfield stars were plentiful and many were nominated for top honors. Among them were Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State, Sandy Stephens and Bill Munsey of Minnesota, Dick Shiner of Maryland, Ernie Davis of Syracuse, Eddie Wilson of Arizona, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Bobby Smith of UCLA, Butch Blume of Rice, Mel Renfro of Oregon, Ray Farris of North Carolina and Bill Whaley of The Citadel.

SMU held Texas scoreless until the third period, when Saxton broke the Mustang resistance with a 79-yard touchdown sprint. The slender 165-pounder also led another scoring drive, finished the afternoon with 173 yards in 16 carries, and for good measure got off a 54-yard punt.

Texas, 'Bama Picked To Win This Weekend

By HAROLD CLAASSEN Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A poet once wrote that "once to every man and nation, comes the moment to decide." That doesn't include college football forecasting where you must decide every Wednesday. Last week there were 36 correct decisions, 16 wrong for .692.

This week's picks: Texas over Baylor: Texas has romped over four conference foes to the average tune of 34-7. What makes you think they won't do the same to Baylor?

Alabama over Richmond: Almost like an open date for the Alabamans.

Ohio State over Indiana: Where do you find a better fullback than Bob Ferguson of the Buckeyes? Louisiana State over North Carolina: This very easily could go the other way if the LSU Tigers spend too much time re-reading the clippings of their triumph over Mississippi last weekend.

Iowa over Minnesota: The nation's No. 1 team in September needs a victory here to save its season from complete collapse.

Michigan State over Purdue: They can't stop the Spartans two weeks in a row. But the Boilermakers are rugged.

Mississippi over Chattanooga: The Rebels start another winning streak.

Colorado over Utah: Gale Weidner and his Colorado mates are headed for the Orange Bowl and they are not to be side-tracked at this stage.

Tennessee over Georgia Tech: Some of the wolves are beginning to yelp in Tennessee and that should inspire the Vols.

Missouri over Oklahoma: But not by last year's 41-19 margin.

Syracuse over Colgate: Just when Colgate starts on the road back it runs into an angry Ernie Davis.

Duke over Navy: This is the Oyster Bowl game. The Duke razzle-dazzle will decide it.

UCLA over Texas Christian: A toughie but the home field helps the Californians. It is a Friday night contest.

Washington over Oregon State: Too much Huskie speed in the person of Charlie Mitchell.

The others without comment: Friday Detroit over Villanova, Furman over East Carolina.

Saturday Army over William & Mary, Boston University over Connecticut, Buffalo over Virginia Military, Columbia over Dartmouth, Cornell over Brown, Princeton over Harvard, Holy Cross over Massachusetts, Yale over Pennsylvania, Notre Dame over Pittsburgh, Rutgers over Delaware.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Wofford over Davidson, Florida over Georgia, Florida State over The Citadel, Louisiana Tech over Mississippi Southern, Maryland over North Carolina State, Memphis State over North Texas State, Clemson over South Carolina, Miami over Tulane, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Wake Forest over Virginia Tech, Penn State over West Virginia.

MIDWEST: Miami (Ohio) over Dayton, Michigan over Illinois, Houston over Tulsa, Iowa State over Nebraska, Kansas over Kansas State, Wisconsin over Northwestern, Wichita over Drake, Xavier (Ohio) over Marshall, Utah State over Western Michigan.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Rice, Texas A & M over Southern Methodist, Texas Tech over Boston College, Arizona State over Texas Western, West Texas State over Trinity (Tex.).

FAR WEST: Arizona over Idaho, Brigham Young over Colorado State Univ., California over Air Force, Montana over Montana State, Wyoming over New Mexico, University of Pacific over San Jose, Southern California over Stanford, Oregon over Washington State.

NEW YORK (AP)—The always cloudy college football bowl picture has a new element of uncertainty this year—a Big Ten team may not be invited to the biggest of them all, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. There is at least a fair chance Alabama might get the bid.

The working agreement between the West Coast and the Big Ten has expired, although Minnesota was invited last year. There is some disagreement with the Big Ten over the game and the upshot could be a switch by the West Coast group to another area for the visiting team.

NEW YORK (AP)—The always cloudy college football bowl picture has a new element of uncertainty this year—a Big Ten team may not be invited to the biggest of them all, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. There is at least a fair chance Alabama might get the bid.

The working agreement between the West Coast and the Big Ten has expired, although Minnesota was invited last year. There is some disagreement with the Big Ten over the game and the upshot could be a switch by the West Coast group to another area for the visiting team.

Among the teams almost certain to be invited somewhere

—UCLA, 2-0 in Big Five play, seems to have the inside track as the Western team, with the issue probably to be decided Nov. 25 in the game with Southern California. Ohio State and Minnesota, unbeaten in the Big Ten, would seem to have first call, but Ken Hixon, a director of the Big Ten Club of Southern California, thinks the academic Senate of Ohio State might veto the game, and that Minnesota might not want a repeat appearance.

All this points to Alabama as a possibility.

COTTON, at Dallas, Jan. 1.—Top-ranked Texas seems sure to be the host team, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech and Auburn of the Southeastern Conference are all possible opponents.

SUGAR, at New Orleans, Jan. 1.—The stands are segregated and no teams with Negro players will be invited. That points to an all-Southeastern Conference game, and again the possibilities are Louisiana State, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Auburn.

ORANGE, at Miami, Jan. 1.—One team will come from the Big Eight but this does not have to be the conference champion, now shaping up as Colorado. "If Colorado falls by the wayside, then we have Missouri or Kansas," says Ernie Selter, Orange Bowl president. Georgia Tech and Syracuse are possible opponents to the Big Eight representative.

GATOR, at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30.—The goal is to match a Southeastern team against one from the East. The Eastern group includes Maryland, Syracuse, Army and Navy.

BLUEBONNET, at Houston, Dec. 16.—One of the top Southeastern teams is wanted for one opponent, or possibly Navy. For the home team the runner-up in the Southeastern Conference will be sought. This could be the winner of Saturday's Rice-Arkansas contest.

LIBERTY BOWL, at Philadelphia, Dec. 16.—Maryland, Syracuse, Villanova, Rutgers, Army and Navy are best prospects for the home team. For opponents, one of the toughest Southeastern Conference teams is being considered along with Rice, Utah State, Miami of Florida, North Carolina and Duke.

GOTHAM, at New York, Dec. 9.—Army and Syracuse have been invited. Both are proving cozy. Maryland, Miami of Florida, and Georgia Tech are possibilities.

Liston Restored To Top Rating

By JERRY LISKA Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—"That's good, that's good, now I won't have to knock off that Britisher to get to that title."

This was Sonny Liston talking today after the National Boxing Association Tuesday restored him as No. 1 challenger for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title in its month ratings.

In its previous ratings, the NBA had listed England's Henry Cooper as the ranking contender for Patterson's crown, ignoring Liston because of his most recent brush with the law. "Maybe I don't have to fight that Cooper now to show who's who," grinned Sonny, who doesn't grin easily.

The NBA now rates Cooper fourth.

Liston, 28, has spent most of his bizarre career winning fights in the ring, losing scrapes outside the ring and never quite catching up with Patterson.

At the moment, he may be on the glory trail. He now goes to his "rehabilitation center" — to train for his Dec. 4 bout with Germany's Albert Westphal, a master baker from Hamburg. The Philadelphia bout will be part of a fistie TV doubleheader, also including Patterson's title defense against Tom McNeely in Toronto.

Liston, also rated the No. 1 contender by Ring Magazine, not only has put himself in the hands of a new manager, George Katz, but also those of a Denver priest, Rev. Edward Murphy.

"I'm glad of a new chance and I hope to make the best of it," said Liston who was in Chicago for a Monday night exhibition with Chicago's Ernest Terrell.

"I think I've found true friend in Father Murphy — and that makes a lot of difference after all the trouble I've been in," said the hulking Liston, who has won 32 of 33 bouts and knocked out 22 opponents.

Liston hasn't fought a regular bout since last March when he kayoed Howard King in Florida. Meanwhile, he had to unburden himself of connections which brought him before a Congressional committee and also get straightened out once more after a brush with the law.

Liston looked a little paunchy at 219 pounds Monday night. "I'll get down to 200 or 210 for Westphal," he said. "I don't know much about this German, but I'll try to make him live up to his name — he's gonna fall — maybe west, maybe east, but some place."

After Westphal? "I don't think Patterson can duck me much more," said Sonny. "If he does, maybe I can tour Europe and fight some of those heavies over there — just to keep ready when Patterson can't duck me no more."

Zephyr Formation Paying Off For Detroit Lions

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the year of the fresh formation in the National Football League. San Francisco has its shotgun. New York calls its variation the BB gun. Now Detroit has come up with a "Zephyr."

The "Zephyr" comes from Glenn Davis, the two-time Olympic 400-meter hurdle champion, who is a key man in this new attack conceived by Coach George Wilson of the Lions. Actually it is another variation of the popular spread to make more men available for pass catching.

Davis, 6-0-10, played some football in high school at Barborton, Ohio, but was too busy with track at Ohio State. He has been learning the game the hard way in the NFL. Last year Davis caught one pass for 17 yards. In the first six games this year he was used sparingly and caught only one more pass.

When Coach Wilson switched to the "Zephyr" — named that because of Davis' blinding speed — Davis suddenly came to life. He caught four passes against Los Angeles Oct. 29 and four more last Sunday before his ankle was injured in the first half.

"The main idea is to get more speed on the receiving end," Wilson explained in Detroit. "We use Davis as the weak side end and move Gail Cogdill from the end to slot back on the other side. With Jim Gibbon on the strong side end and Terry Barr as a flanker we try to flood one side, giving Davis a chance to get in the clear. Davis hasn't played much football but he is learning and he really can go like the wind.

"We started scoring more with the offense. The quarterback (Jim Ninowski) has more time to throw, because they can't red dog so much. We also mix in the T formation down close.

In the last two games (a 28-10 victory over Los Angeles and a 20-20 tie with San Francisco, both on the road) the Lions have gained a total of 811 yards, almost half as much as they picked up in their first six games. When they operate from the "Zephyr," fullback Nick Pietrosante is the only running back.

Abilene Star Has Big Lead

Adjusted totals show Abilene's Jack Middlebrooks leading the District 2-AAAA football scoring race with a total of 70 points.

Middlebrooks, a senior halfback who is regarded at the state's speediest football player, has counted ten touchdowns and as many extra points.

Middlebrooks appears a lead-pipe cinch to finish first in the race, since only two games remain on the regular schedule.

A distant second in the scoring derby is Mike Tabor of San Angelo, who has 44 extra points. Tabor has raced for six touchdowns and added 11 extra points.

Two Permian players, Richard Keller and Frank Sloan, are tied for third, each with 44 points. Keller scored four touchdowns in Permian's game last week.

Sands Trips Post, 32-28

ACKERLY — The Sands girls did an about face in the final half to defeat Post, 32-28, in a basketball game unreeled here Tuesday night.

It was the first victory in three starts for Sands, which plays Westbrook here next Tuesday.

Sands trailed at half time, 19-9. Martha Burrow tossed in 18 points for the Mustangs while Kay Dyer had nine and Ruth Lemon five.

Sands also won the B game, 30-29. In that one, Robbie Brown counted 13 points for Sands while Donnell Allred had seven and Brenda Wallace and Judy Brice five each.

Half time entertainment in the feature game was provided by seven-year-old Danny Ray Johnson, a Lamesa second grader, who rode a unicycle.

Coach L. L. Laws plans to take his Sands girls to Wayland College in Plainview for a basketball clinic Saturday.

Asked about the overall condition of the local club, McKenzie stated that "we have the usual colds and coughs expected at this time of year and we're hoping no other sickness develops."

QBC members were reminded by their co-captains, Roy Bennett and Jimmy Felts, to support the special train to Abilene Friday night, which is being jointly sponsored by the club and The Herald.

Films of the Big Spring-Midland game were screened for the benefit of the club members.

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Saxton, the lightfooted flyer for Texas' stampeding Longhorns, was named The Associated Press college football Back of the Week today.

Saxton was cited for his performance in Saturday's 27-0 victory over Southern Methodist, a victory that kept Texas in the unbeaten-untied class and helped lift the Longhorns into the No. 1 national ranking.

As usual, Saturday's backfield stars were plentiful and many were nominated for top honors. Among them were Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State, Sandy Stephens and Bill Munsey of Minne-

Kennedy To Seek Pact With Adenauer For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy hopes to reach quick agreement with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer later this month on issues that the Western powers may negotiate with the Soviet Union in the search for a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis.

The White House announced Tuesday that Adenauer would visit Washington Nov. 20-21 for talks with the President, on Berlin problems and "other matters of common interest."

If the U. S.-West German summit discussions are successful, they will be followed by efforts to reach detailed agreements among the Western powers on a Berlin negotiating position.

In this prospective second stage, the President's task will be to try to win an accord with French President Charles de Gaulle, who has been opposed to negotiations with the Soviets until Premier Khrushchev has modified his position on Berlin.

The Adenauer visit to Washington will be held about a month later than U. S. officials had hoped. The delay was occasioned by Adenauer's need to form a coalition government following the Sept. 17 elections, which reduced his political strength. His domestic problems were finally resolved Friday and the announcement of his visit to Washington followed quickly.

For several weeks Allied policymaking on Berlin has been largely paralyzed by differences among the four Western governments involved. All understood that until the reorganized West German government took office final decisions could not be made.

GOP Hurt In Elections

NEW YORK (AP)—Republicans took a stunning one-two punch on the chin in New Jersey and New York City elections Tuesday that threatened to leave them groggy for 1962 and 1964 contests.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York rolled up a smashing re-election victory that could single him out as the most likely Democratic opponent of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller next year. Or Wagner might wait to bid for a Senate seat in 1964.

Across the Hudson in New Jersey, a little known liberal Democrat, Richard J. Hughes, knocked off a nationally known liberal Republican, James P. Mitchell, in a cliff-hanger finish to a governor's race in which President Kennedy put his campaign prestige on the line.

Kennedy also added to his political bank deposits by appearances with and an endorsement of Wagner.

These two weathervane contests, plus a victory in a special congressional election in Texas last Saturday, lifted Democratic morale for 1962 off-year congressional elections, which traditionally go against the party in possession of the White House.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who campaigned for Mitchell, had said the New Jersey results "unequivocally" would affect the outcome of House and Senate battles in 1962.

Eisenhower's new career as a GOP political leader got a double setback in the two major contests. He also campaigned in New York for defeated GOP candidate Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Rockefeller, who bids for re-election next year, also collected a couple of political shiners. He campaigned hard for Lefkowitz with the hope of building Republican strength in the city for his 1962 statewide race.

With City Comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa, a Democrat running as an independent, cutting into the vote, Wagner's margin was far less than the 923,000 he rolled up four years ago. But it still was substantial enough to contest Rockefeller's claim that Lefkowitz and the GOP ticket had "revitalized the two party system in New York City."

John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, called Wagner's re-election a rebuff to Rockefeller's "efforts to use the New York mayoralty campaign to advance his own personal national ambitions and a warning to him that he faces a hard fight for re-election as governor."

As a possible preliminary to a

1964 bid for the GOP presidential nomination, Rockefeller also lent a helping hand to Mitchell, Eisenhower's former secretary of labor.

Mitchell's upset left conservative Republicans like Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in a position to say "I told you so." Goldwater has hammered at the theme that only conservative Republicans can win.

Hughes, 52, a bespectacled six-footer, was moved into the national spotlight by his election.

Like Wagner in New York, Hughes will become the man in New Jersey with whom the Kennedy administration now will deal. This should simplify what has previously been a fuzzy White House relationship with party leaders in both states.

Wagner, elected with the help of "reform" Democrats such as former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Eleanor Roosevelt, was in a position to reorganize the party in the city and the state. Hughes would have less of a free hand, since he would have to deal with county leaders who helped him get elected.

District Sets Nov. 27 Meet

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are scheduled to meet in Big Spring at 4:30 p.m. Nov. 27 in what could prove a brief but important session.

Ostensibly, the board will meet to formally adopt the tentative budget which was presented a month ago. The indenture requires that the budget be submitted to bondholders, and since there has been no comment from that quarter, the final approval of the budget is expected.

However, E. V. Spence, general manager, is preparing to submit a recommendation to the board regarding control of pollution of the upper Colorado River watershed in the Sharon Ridge oilfield of Mitchell and Scurry counties. The district met with operators approximately a year ago, pointing out that a permit to impound a second lake on the Colorado River was contingent upon clearing up the pollution problem.

Reds, Afro-Asians Open Fire In U.N. On Colonialism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet bloc and a host of Asian-African nations today pressed one of the bitterest attacks on Western colonial powers in U. N. history.

Colonialism was under simultaneous fire in the 103-nation General Assembly and two of its main committees. However, there was no attack on Communist domination of subject countries to which most of the Asians and Africans turn a blind eye.

In the General Assembly debate got under way on proposals to carry out the United Nations' 1960 declaration against colonialism. The Soviet Union denounced the United States and Britain as the main colonial powers barring freedom for millions of people. The United States countered that the U. S. S. R. was using colonialism as a pretext for a propaganda attack on the West.

In the Trusteeship Committee a parade of Communist, Asian and African countries blasted Portugal for the way it runs its overseas territories.

In the special Political Committee, nation after nation bitterly assailed South Africa's white supremacist policy and pointed to it as an outgrowth of the colonial system.

Colonialism also was probably in for another going-over in the main Political Committee, which opened debate on an Asian-African resolution demanding that all Africa be kept free of nuclear weapons and all foreign bases on the continent be liquidated. With the powerful 49-nation

Asian-African group supported down the line on colonialism by the Soviet bloc and a number of other nations, most of the resolutions against colonial practices were virtually certain to win approval.

S. G. Lapin, foreign minister of the Russian Republic, charged in the assembly that U. S. monopolies "take $20 billion a year profits from the new countries and worm their way in...to force out the old colonizers."

Adenauer Expected To Continue Policy

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, just elected to head a new coalition government for West Germany is expected to continue his tough policy toward the Communist bloc.

Associates say the 65-year-old chancellor will not soften despite the wish of his coalition partners, the Free Democrats.

The Free Democrats have made plain they won't press too much for a change. Party chief Erich Mende has said his group would "try to make the others see our ideas upon them."

The Free Democratic ideas conflicting with Adenauer's, which include diplomatic recognition of such Communist countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia, actually are insignificant compared to the areas in which the smaller party fully agrees with Adenauer and his Christian Democrats.

Thus there will be no change in Bonn's full support of the Atlantic Alliance and the European Economic Community and its policy of strengthening Europe cooperation through increased political consultations.

Adenauer's first important foreign policy move in his fourth term as chancellor will be a meeting in Washington with President John F. Kennedy Nov. 20.

A Devotional for Today

I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Matthew 5:44.)

PRAYER: O God, Thou hast shown love and mercy to us in spite of our sinfulness. Help us to further peace by loving our enemies, winning them to a peaceful spirit by returning good for their evil. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

The More Talk, The Better Chances

For the first time that can be recalled, freedom of information — "the people's right to know"—has attained the dimensions of a major national partisan issue. It became that with a written debate this month in Editor & Publisher magazine between Republican National Chairman William E. Miller and Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey.

The Miller-Bailey articles shed more heat than light, in the timeless tradition of partisan rhetoric. Miller charged the Kennedy administration with "censorship, favoritism, 'managing' news, carelessness and attempting to use reporters as propaganda conduits." Bailey countered by pooh-poohing Miller's documentation, counter-charging that secrecy grew under the Eisenhower administration, and claiming "solid and significant" gains for freedom of information in the present government. Our judgment at this point is that each is carrying a greater measure of truth in criticizing the other than in claiming his own party's virtues.

There have been several major reports this year on this issue. The three professional journalistic ones — from the freedom of information committees of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Sigma Delta Chi, and the Associated Press Managing Editors association—reflect a fairly close consensus. It is that freedom of information did suffer under the Eisenhower administration and that there have been both improvements and retrogressions during the Kennedy administration, which has yet to measure up to its campaign pledges on this score and now seems to be plagued by indecision on the principles involved in the issue.

All of this confirms a widespread conviction among newsmen that the best guarantee of freedom of information must continue to be press vigilance and enterprise, that there is a natural unbridgeable gap between what journalists and public officials think the people have the right to know. Heated high-level political debate is welcome on this issue, however, because it may make secretive bureaucrats more wary of arbitrary restrictions and cause the people served by both government and press to give the matter more attention. In the final analysis, the people's right to know will be largely defined by what the people demand they be told, and the Miller-Bailey exchange—and others like it—should stimulate more demand.

Enlightenment May Help Curb Quackery

Medical quackery is as old as the history of medicine itself. It flourished widely in this country in the late 19th century. But in this more enlightened age, with stricter rules for licensing of physicians, and with laws regulating drug and medical advertising, one might suppose that quack medicine would be a rare thing.

Surprisingly, a formidable array of frauds was recently exposed at the first National Congress on Medical Quackery, which was held in Washington, D. C. The American Medical Association joined with the Food and Drug Administration, the Post Office Department, national voluntary health agencies, the Federal Trade Commission and the United States Department of Justice in a concerted effort to warn the public about charlatans.

It is especially troubling that arthritis and cancer, which have proved so resistant to the efforts of medical science, are the diseases for which quacks most often claim "miracle cures." It has been reliably estimated that 252 million dollars a year is spent on worthless remedies for arthritis and rheumatism. In the case of cancer, there is serious danger that the patient, lulled by false hopes, may delay getting medical help until it is too late.

Alertness to false claims, fake testimonials, "secret" machines or "guaranteed" cures would help to uncover much of this fraud. It is hoped that the greater public knowledge resulting from the National Congress on Medical Quackery will illuminate the grave dangers lurking in the jungle of fraudulent devices and "cures."

David Lawrence Stressing 'People's Capitalism'

WASHINGTON—So preoccupied has the nation become with the threats of a "hot war" that many important moves which could help to win the "cold war" are being neglected. And yet it is by reaching the hearts and minds of peoples everywhere, including the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, that a "hot war" can be prevented.

THE RUSSIANS have been getting away too long with the misuse of words. One of the words that they have often bandied about in Soviet radio broadcasts and in the speeches of their leaders is "capitalism." They have built up an impression far and wide that "capitalism" is a sinful philosophy, and that only through an economic system dominated by socialism can people thrive. Yet "people's capitalism" has made America the nation with the highest standard of living in the world. How long will the United States let the Soviet propagandists get away with their distortions of truth?

A REMARKABLE speech on this very point was made the other day by Lee H. Bristol as he addressed the Association of National Advertisers at their annual convention at Hot Springs, Virginia. He wasn't discussing his own business—the Bristol-Myers Co., of which he is chairman of the board—the material side of anybody else's business. He was talking about something that would aid his country in time of peril. As chairman of the Advertising Council of America, which devotes itself to helping in many worthy causes in the national interest, Mr. Bristol made this comment:

"A GOOD START was made when the Advertising Council came up with the words 'people's capitalism' as a quick and easily understood description of our economy. We know that the term 'people's capitalism' struck home. Up till then the Russians had established a practical monopoly on the word 'people'—'people's democracy,' 'people's government,' 'people's Soviets,' etc. Soon after launching 'people's capitalism,' the Moscow papers started to howl. We knew then we had struck their public relations and publicity nerve, and it hurt. Then what happened?"

James Marlow Adenauer Runs Into Reality

WASHINGTON (AP)—The difference between the ideal and the real has hit West German Chancellor Adenauer with brutal force.

In April, when the 85-year-old Adenauer last came here to get acquainted with President Kennedy, he was the German strongman.

At their meeting's end he and Kennedy said the problem of a divided Germany can be handled only on the basis of self-determination by the German people. The two leaders said they were speaking specifically of the problem of a divided Berlin, as well as the country as a whole.

This was an idea which the United States helped Adenauer keep alive for years. But it was unreal, and now more so than then.

Premier Khrushchev held Communist East Germany and East Berlin. And he wasn't going to

Hal Boyle More Double Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—It's been some time now since we've had a drill on double talk.

Double talk, you remember, is the art of saying one thing while actually thinking another.

There are some who deplore double talk as a form of deceit and regard it as immoral. However, in most ordinary cases it is no more immoral than medicine.

For, in a schizophrenic world, double talk acts as the saving salve of civilization. It enables us to be pleasant to others while leaving us free to be true to ourselves within.

Here are some more useful phrases, and their literal translations, to pep up your double talk vocabulary:

"You'd like to ask you for $5 until payday, but the truth is—The truth is I've already borrowed from everybody else in the office, and you're the only sucker left."

"Let me be the first to congratulate you on your new promotion, Joe." What happened to the boss—is he losing his marbles?

"You'll love this apartment. It is so palatable to America, but the American broadcasts have been timid, and, indeed, instructions were issued a few years ago to the 'Voice of America' from expressing any opinions of its own. The attitude of the 'diplomats' in the State Department is always inclined toward soft-pedaling strong expressions, and the tendency is to use the polite phrases of diplomacy. This has been changed somewhat recently, but not enough for the 'Voice of America' to do the job that has to be done with world opinion in the 'cold war.'"

To Your Good Health Trust Is Vital In Good Medical Care

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

It was just a postscript in a letter to me: "I want to know if I can change doctors. I've had one for the last two years, and he's only come to see me about four or five times.—A. G."

The answer is yes, of course you can change doctors.

If so happens that your letter comes from a region in North America ("I'm doing my best to keep this article non-political and non-geographical") which has one of the various "plans" for medical care.

I have, I admit, certain opinions about some "plans." Call them prejudices if you wish. Maybe you're right. But I try to keep them to myself.

The only thing I try to do in this column is to give the best possible advice to people about their health. If I want to vent my opinions on political matters, I'll write a letter to the editor, or make a speech, or something. Whether it's a medical "plan" or "panel," or "system," or whatever, the one basis on which all must be judged is the quality of care which the patient gets.

So, plans aside (and, frankly, the one in use in the area mentioned is, so I hear and believe, pretty good), the question is this: If a patient isn't satisfied with a doctor, can he get a different one? Yes. But whether this is best for the patient is another matter. The quality of medical care cannot be measured in the number of visits a doctor makes. If the problem involved is a slow, chronic one, the doctor shouldn't waste time (and money) on unnecessary visits. He should (naturally) keep track of the general progress of the case, and depend on the patient to call him if some sudden or unusual development occurs. If, for some reason, the patient just doesn't like, trust, or can't stand the sight of the doctor, a different one should be consulted. And by every human judgment the patient has a right to do so. Trust, liking, empathy, or whatever you want to call it, is a vital ingredient of good medical care.

But in any country, under any plan, I likewise want patients to realize that "shopping around" for doctors is wasteful. Trying to judge a doctor by the number of visits he makes is futile.

Switching from one doctor is entirely proper if some friction exists. But switching because of a whim, or trivial matter, is wasteful. This is true whether the patient pays fees direct, or belongs to a "plan," or lives under government medicine. It's wasteful to quit one doctor and then have the next one have to go through the process of learning the history of the case, new examinations, etc.

Unless you have a compelling reason, don't switch doctors. If you do have a compelling one do it at once. The purpose of medicine, after all, is to provide the care and attention that a patient yield or lose either or both to the West.

NOW ADENAUER is no longer the strongman. In West Germany's September elections Adenauer's Christian Democratic party lost its absolute majority in Parliament.

The September defeat meant the Christian Democrats had to make a deal with the minority Free Democrats to run the show and re-elect Adenauer.

They dickered seven weeks and Tuesday finally made it when Parliament once again chose Adenauer chancellor. But he barely squeaked through. He paid a price.

He granted the Free Democrats five ministers' jobs in his 18-member Cabinet. Worse for him: he agreed to elect to resign before his term's end in 1965.

Tuesday it was announced he will come here again, Nov. 20-21, to confer with Kennedy. This time he comes as a chancellor near the end of his road.

NOW ANY TALK of self-determination for East Germany, or East Berlin, or reunification with West Germany, will be even more unreal than in April.

Since Adenauer's last visit Khrushchev not only has made it plain he won't yield an inch on East Germany or East Berlin but is putting heat on West Berlin.

Any talk this time by Kennedy and Adenauer about self-determination will be strictly dream talk.

The West showed how little stomach it had for a test on East Germany or East Berlin when it let the Communists wall off East Berlin without trying to remove a stone.

But there is a pressing reality the two men will have to discuss: what kind of deal they can make, and how, with Khrushchev on West Berlin.

Adenauer, like France's President Charles de Gaulle, has been all for delaying negotiations with the Russians. They haven't come up with solutions. But there will have to be solutions.

Khrushchev, without any more expense than threat, bluster, bomb-waving and demands, at this moment apparently has the Allies split and confused on how to cope with him on Berlin.

The Best May Have Been Edited Out

I sometimes wonder if the best commercials are not on the cutting room floor.

In the early days of television, advertisers were content to let their wares be extolled spontaneously. But ever since one star of the show quaffed some beer he had just praised, then spewed it into a bucket in the mistaken belief that the cameras had been switched, and since the announcer took a deep draw on a mellow cigar, only to go into paroxysms of choking, sponsors have been skittish about doing the commercials live.

WHICH MAKES me wonder if the most hilarious episodes aren't edited out in favor of vapid stuff that we get to see and hear. For instance, there is a current run of tests in which an individual uses a product (or several products) all wrapped in blank paper. Of course, the commercial we see is the one where the sponsor's product is first lauded, then unmasked in all its glory.

Now what if the Blue Fairy washing powder people got their signals crossed, picked up the wrong film, and it came out like this:

ANNOUNCER: Now Mrs. Mitchell, you have been washing clothes for the past month with the product in this box. Have you noticed any difference in your clothes?

MRS. M.: Yes, I have.

ANNOUNCER: (Exuberantly.) And what have you found?

MRS. M.: I've found that the stuff is eating holes in all the cottons and melting the rayons, and furthermore, I'm pretty sore about it, and . . .

OR—
ANNOUNCER: . . . Have you noticed any difference?

MRS. M.: Yes, I have. My white things are definitely whiter, and the 'grease' seems to be coming out of my husband's work clothes much better, and the whole kaboodle seems to have a sweeter, cleaner smell.

ANNOUNCER: Well, would you like to know what product you're using?"

MRS. M.: (Giggling) Yes, I would.

ANNOUNCER: Then just tear off the paper wrapper from that package. Now—now read it.

MRS. M.: Why it's . . . Grandmother's Lye Soap made by the Zilch Bacon Rind Company!

AND SO IT MIGHT go—bread turning up unexpectedly with holes in it, or the cigarette filter protruding instead of being recessed, or the sparkling, cool beer that spewed like a hot fire extinguisher, the shampoo that caused hair to fall out by the roots, the instant-starting fuel that somehow wore out the starter without firing. These might not sell merchandise, but they would brighten my day.

Karl Marx, Reptilian Character

Would anyone care to make book on how long the statue of Karl Marx will be permitted to remain on its pedestal, hard by the Bolshoi Theatre in Moscow, where it was placed a few weeks ago?

Or would anyone care to speculate on the reasons it has taken more than 40 years for the U.S.S.R. to erect, in Communism's capital, a monument to the author of Communism?

IN LIFE, Marx was anything but lovable. He cultivated a brutal penchant for biting the hands that fed and helped him. Like a certain other current Communist leader, Marx could and would brook no rival in the political movement he spawned.

Throughout his life, Marx betrayed and brought down any political disciple, no matter how devoted the man was to the founder, if Marx so much as suspected that the luckless follower was attaining any stature in the Communist movement.

THE "CULT OF PERSONALITY" was well founded by Marx himself, long before the phrase was dreamed up by Khrushchev as a cudgel with which to beat the dead Stalin.

In the last year of his life, Marx was planning to betray and drive out of the party the man who had been his main source of financial support for almost 40 years. That man was Friedrich Engels, a rich and successful German businessman. He supported Marx and his family during the long Marx-Engels collaboration on Communism.

CERTAINLY ENGELS is a co-founder of Communism with Marx. Together, they issued the Communist Manifesto in 1848. Before that date and until Marx's death in 1883, Engels supported Marx, who was never able to support himself, his wife and children.

For his pains and devotion to Marx,

Engels was slated for the old snicker-sneer treatment at the time of Marx's death.

Marx was, throughout his life, a reptilian character. One of the best biographies of this unlovely character is called "The Red Dictator." It ought to be included in the curriculum of any courses planned to explain Communism to students in junior and senior high schools, or in college.

MAYBE THAT biography explains why it has taken the Communists so long to put up a statue in Moscow to The Founder.

It is also interesting to realize that Khrushchev, while planning to bury us, has also been looking ahead to his own burial. There is now, so to speak, a vacant chair in the grim, maroon granite mausoleum in Red Square across from the Kremlin.

Against my better judgment, I went through that mausoleum two years ago. It was a grisly experience. Once I found myself inside the grim tomb, going down, down a long flight of steps, then up another flight and around the dais on which Stalin then rested with Lenin, such was my revulsion to necrology that I could not look at either man.

ONE SWIFT GLANCE at the two wakened images, at the horde of armed soldiers standing at attention all about the chamber, one whiff of the moist air always circulating in the crypt, and I was terrified that I was going to be sick.

I managed not to be, but I don't remember a longer five minutes in my life than that spent in the tomb, held captive to the pace of the hordes in front and in back of me. I don't think I could force myself to do it again even for the pleasure of seeing Nikita and Lenin resting together.

Taking Our Trade Back To Europe

American public opinion is now under a barrage of propaganda which has the eventual purpose of taking the United States of America into the European Common Market.

This project is counter-revolutionary in nature and gigantic in magnitude. When Alexander Hamilton wanted to bring the separate States of the American Confederation under a Federal Constitution, he first brought the representatives together in Annapolis for a trade conference. He rightly reasoned that economic unity would lead to political unity.

SIMILARLY, the leaders of the Inner Six which form the Common Market of Western Europe, soon to be joined by Britain, have always contemplated — and have already begun — a political federation. No less an historian than Winston Churchill has called it the United States of Europe.

The matter will be best understood, and not at all exaggerated, if we ask: "Is the U.S.A. prepared to take steps that must inevitably lead to a decision to surrender our national sovereignty, first economic and finally political, by becoming a part of another Union?" The idea, although hailed by its proponents as a Giant Step, could with equal plausibility be called The Rear March! By returning to the days when North America was politically a part of Britain, France, the Netherlands, Spain and Russia.

THE CASE for historical retrogression is being argued by a splendid array of celebrities whose special interests and entrenched positions ought to be made part of the story. I intend to keep my discussion on the highest level, and I shall be chagrined if anybody calls it muckraking to identify the chief spokesmen.

George W. Ball, Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, made the keynote speech in New York on November 1st, when he told the National Foreign Trade Convention that we must begin by the further lowering of our protective trade barriers because "there is no place for inward-looking economic nationalism."

UNTIL HE WITHDREW from the firm to take the influential post of an Under Secretary, Mr. Ball was a partner of Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen and Ball, which has offices in New York, Washington, Paris and Brussels. Mr. Ball's name was dropped and his place on the door and stationery was replaced by Fowler Hamilton, who, in October, resigned to become director of AID, the latest title of Foreign Aid.

The firm, now Cleary, Gottlieb and Steen, is listed at the Justice Department under the Foreign Agents Registration Act as being the agent for the Common Market, the European Coal and Steel Community, The European Atomic Energy Community, and the Republic of France, among others. The firm is not exclusively, or even principally, a server of foreign clients. There are 17 partners and 45 other lawyers, so that the two here mentioned do not necessarily characterize the whole shop.

I FIND NO FAULT with anybody's motives or honor. Mr. Ball and his former law firm certainly believe in European trade blocs and clearly have some portion of their personal prosperity rooted there. President Kennedy favors the internationalization of American trade. He is right to bring internationalist traders, like Mr. Ball and Mr. Hamilton, into his administration. Since the President is looking for the best available brains, he is to be commended for taking highly successful professionals in their field.

BUT THESE AMERICAN people ought to have these background facts in mind when they listen to the eloquent advocates of a free trade policy that is leading us back into Europe. Two other spokesmen, who have frankly called for a "trade partnership" with the Common Market, are William L. Clayton, head of a vast export business, and Christian Herter, whose avowed internationalism began with his enthusiasm for the League of Nations after World War I.

Every informed American must respect the personalities and the bona fides of these four men. But, at the same time, I think the American public should be hard to convince that these men bring objectivity to the subject and that their proposition is good for America.

HOLLYWOOD — "If you have limited time to spend on yourself, concentrate on your skin," Gena Rowlands declared, "because nothing adds or detracts from your appearance like your complexion. I am a fan of the cosmetic industry. I feel they have wonderful products, and it is up to me to find the ones that will help me most. I have no patience with doctors who tell you to use lard, and that creams cannot keep wrinkles away. They are debasing something they have never tried. I have a friend whose skin is obviously neglected because her doctor shook her confidence in corrective formulas.

clean your face without leaving any stale cosmetics behind," she continued. "I like a liquid cream that washes off with water. I have used it for a long time, but I change around once in a while because I find that I build a tolerance for a particular formula whether it is toothpaste, deodorant or a face cream. And lots of times a person can be slightly allergic to something and not be aware of it.

"Puffy eyes are often the cause of an allergy, not always, but I have a friend who got rid of hers by having an allergy test and finding to what she reacted. Sometimes it is a thing that you least suspect," she concluded.

John Hogg Speaks To Desk And Derrick Club

The regular meeting of the Big Spring Desk & Derrick Club was held Tuesday in the Cosden Snack Bar at 7:30 p.m. John Hogg, manager of the Sid Richardson Carbon Black Plant, the speaker, talked on "Carbon Black." Hogg stated that carbon black is one of the three forms of pure carbon. Ninety-five per cent of the carbon per cars or may be bagged and shipped in boxcars or trucks.

Hogg then gave some background on the Sid Richardson Carbon Company and its affiliate companies. During a question and answer period, he stated that the quality of the finished carbon black is determined by the feed stock into the furnaces. Quality determination of carbon black as used in tires is made by road tests of the tires manufactured with the product.

After Hogg's talk, a business meeting was held and the date for the December meeting was discussed. December 8 was the date selected, place and time to be announced later. Also discussed at this meeting was the plan to donate $2 per member to the Sharon Jones Fund in Abilene. The report of the nominating committee was heard and election of officers for 1962 will be held at the December meeting.

Fairview Chairmen Named

Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. S. Hanson, 11 members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club met for a program and business session.

Mrs. Hanson gave the devotion and a prayer was offered by Mrs. Shirley Fryar, after which plans were made to help with a Herford sale on Dec. 9.

Mrs. Fryar, the new president, appointed committee chairmen. Mrs. O. D. Engle, family life; Mrs. Cecil L. Kirkland, civil defense; Mrs. W. H. Ward Sr., citizenship; Mrs. J. F. Skalicky, health and safety.

Andersons To Make Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Michael Anderson will make a home at 1406 Johnson following their marriage Saturday evening in Midland at the Northside Baptist Church. The bride is the former Shirley J. Gibbs.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Loren White, pastor of the church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson, 2204 Rannels, and Mrs. Elma Bailey, 410 Dallas.

The bride chose a sheath of pale blue with jacket and used white accessories. Her flowers were white carnations. For something old, she wore her mother's wedding band; her attire was new, and she had borrowed a blue garter.

She is a graduate of Leuders High School and attended Howard County Junior College; at the time of her marriage she was employed at the Singer Sewing Machine Co.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Center Point High School, is assistant manager at the Quick Loan Service.

Lamesa Council Sells Two Tracts, Rejects One Bid

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa City Council Monday night accepted high bids on two quarter-sections of land and rejected another land bid, during a regular semi-monthly meeting.

O. H. Preston Jr. submitted the high bid of $33,040 for the southwest quarter of the Mayben tract and L. D. Woodward's bid of $27,900 for the southeast quarter was also accepted.

A high bid of $37,875 submitted by Woodward for the Bartlett tract near Lamesa was rejected since the council felt it would bring a higher bid. The bids were called for surface rights only.

The 63-acre dump ground tract (with salvage rights) was leased to H. T. Baird for $1,110 a year. A bid of $1,025 for excess water from sewer lagoons was tabled.

The council authorized the city's consultant engineers, Parkhill, Smith & Cooper of Lubbock, to survey the 63-acre tract in order to find a suitable location for the proposed new sewage disposal plant.

Suspects Injuries As Cancer Cause

DALLAS (AP)—A pathologist has cited two cases in which he said physical injuries may have caused cancer.

Dr. Harrison Rigdon of the University of Texas Medical Center in Galveston described the cases before the Southern Medical Association Tuesday. Each patient, he said, developed fatal cancer within a relatively short time as a direct result of injuries.

One case Dr. Rigdon described was that of a man who was struck on the shoulder by a pipe and suffered a severe bruise. Three months later a swelling developed which was diagnosed as cancer. The man died nine months later.

The other case Dr. Rigdon cited was that of a man who bruised his thigh. A tumor developed within six months and the victim was dead a year after the accident.

Surgeon Dies

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A widely known surgeon and selective service official, Dr. Omer Roan, died Tuesday after a week's illness.

The 70-year-old doctor was cited by Presidents Roosevelt and Eisenhower for service as a Selective Service superintendent.

He was a member of the American and International Colleges of Surgeons and was active in civic, church and fraternal work.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ella Roan, a brother and three sisters.

Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Chokes To Death

Walter W. Fondren Jr., 53, president of Fondren Oil Co., and son of a founder of Humble Oil and Refining Co., died in Houston when he choked on a piece of steak. The Fondren family has given millions to educational, medical, religious and charitable groups.

Singer Rapped In Support Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer Jerry Lee Lewis has until Nov. 24 to pay $700 in overdue child support or face punishment for contempt of court.

Judge Edward Quick gave Lewis that ultimatum Tuesday after ruling the singer's income is sufficient to make full monthly payments to a former wife, Jane Lewis Wilkinson of Ferriday, La. Attorneys said Lewis had been paying only $50 a month instead of the $150 the court had ordered.

'The Defenders' Seeks The Truth

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The too-familiar ingredients of the television series are all there in the format of CBS' "The Defenders." There's the father-son team of dedicated lawyers, widower and bachelor. There are the weekly courtroom scenes. And there is, of course, the eternally fascinating peek into the lives of a different set of troubled people.

But there "The Defenders" resembles the average TV series stops abruptly. What makes the difference is Reginald Rose, a highly respected TV writer who fearlessly tackles controversial themes. He serves as the series' script editor and, often, as its writer.

beliefs forbade both blood transfusions and surgery—a touchy TV subject.

Other episodes have taken on such questions as mongolism and mercy-killing and unruly parents. Future shows will deal with a miscarriage of justice, abortion, a child rapist, and a consideration of bribery of college athletes—who are going to school on scholarships awarded for games-playing skills rather than scholarship.

"Many of these shows," said Rose, "are really morality shows. We're attempting to deal with the law realistically because we feel that the courtroom drama lies here. Other courtroom dramas are glamorized. We're trying to get to the real motives of real people."

Rose's previous TV credits include a number of "Studio One" shows including "Twelve Angry Men," and that two-part NBC show on Sacco and Vanzetti which blew up a storm of controversy and complaint.

It is strange that in all these years, nobody ever came up with the obvious, a comedy sketch kidding Perry Mason, the lawyer who never loses a case—until Jack Benny got around to it last Sunday.

Ever since CBS' "Gunsmoke" went to an hour's length and NBC started programming old feature movies opposite it, the show has slipped in popularity. NBC's "Bonanza," now released from "Perry Mason" competition, has zoomed right up to the top.

Recommended tonight: "Bob Newhart Show," NBC, 10:10-10:30 (EST) Jo Stafford, guest; "David Brinkley's Journal, NBC, 10:30-11—features an interview with a Soviet spy.

'The Twist'

Edie Adams, wearing the gold beaded costume she values at $7,500 and which she'll wear for her Las Vegas night club opening, goes through a gyrations as she demonstrates the dance called "The Twist" for the benefit of photographers. The dance has had New York society gyrating, but hit the Hollywood movie colony only recently.

Nasser Dissolves U.A.R. Assembly

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser Tuesday night formally dissolved the National Assembly, formed when Egypt and Syria were partners in the United Arab Republic. The action came three days after Nasser announced new reforms, including eventual formation of a new political party for Egypt and elections for a constitutional convention.

Interception Is Improved

HANSCOM FIELD, Mass. (AP)—The Air Force has reported that the new communications system can make interception of a target by a fighter plane just as automatic as it is with an unmanned missile.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth P. Bergquist of the electronic systems division of the Air Force Systems Command announced successful testing of the new communications setup.

Known as the Time Division Data Link (TDDL) it is nicknamed "Tiddle" by the project personnel. Gen. Bergquist explained that it enables one machine to give instructions to hundreds of airplanes faster than any other known means.

When an aerial target is detected, TDDL receives command instructions from a computer in coded form. The computer directs distribution of the commands to transmitter sites scattered throughout the country and then beamed to aircraft.

This makes it possible for the central battle station to do almost everything for the pilot—once he is airborne—except fire his guns or rockets.

Court Schedules Another Hearing For Stickney

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals scheduled another appeal today for Howard Stickney, condemned for the Galveston Beach slaying of Mrs. Shirley Barnes.

The hearing was set on a stay of execution issued by Laredo Judge E. D. Salinas. Stickney was scheduled to die Oct. 28, but was granted a 15-day stay of execution.

Three federal judges refused Monday to halt the scheduled execution, ruling that Stickney has not exhausted all the remedies open to him in the state courts.

The Houston hearing was on a stay of execution issued by Chief Judge Elbert Tuttle of the U.S. Court of Appeals in Atlanta, Ga.

Another Houston hearing is scheduled on an appeal from an order by U.S. Judge Joe Fisher denying Stickney a writ of habeas corpus and refusing him a stay of execution. No action has been taken on this appeal as yet.

Earlier, Chief Justice Earl Warren and four other justices of the U.S. Supreme Court refused to intervene. The pardons board also denied a last minute appeal.

Stickney was arrested in Canada following the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barnes. He was charged in both deaths but was tried only for the slaying of Mrs. Barnes, 28.

The nude body of Mrs. Barnes was found in her Houston apartment May 27, 1958. Eight days later Barnes' body was found in a thicket about 30 miles southwest of Houston.
