Indian Forces Invade Portuguese Colonies

BOMBAY, India (AP)—India today claimed capture of two Portuguese enclaves—Damao and Diu—and gains on all sectors in a lightning campaign against Goa, the third and largest of Portugal's possessions on the subcontinent.

U. N. Security Council Called In Goa Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council was summoned for an urgent meeting this afternoon to deal with the Indian attack on Portuguese Goa.

The meeting was set for 3 p.m. EST after a request had been received from the Portuguese delegation for quick action.

India was expected to come under sharp criticism for the military action which began Sunday.

The invasion of Goa, Damao and Diu came after U.N. acting Secretary-General U. Thant failed to get Indian Prime Minister Nehru to negotiate with Portuguese Premier Antonio Salazar over the enclaves.

The United Nations released Thant's messages to Nehru and Salazar about an hour before the invasion news came and their replies to him a few hours afterward.

He sent both men identical cables Thursday appealing to them to see that the situation on the borders of the three enclaves on the west coast of India did not deteriorate into a threat to peace.

"I would urge immediate negotiations with a view to achieving an early solution of the problem," Thant said.

Salazar accepted the suggestion for negotiations. Nehru's rejection said India had consistently lived up to the United Nations charter, but Portugal had "consistently ignored United Nations resolutions on ending colonialism" and refused to send the United Nations required reports on her colonies.

"It is hardly possible," Nehru said, "to negotiate on the basis of the charter provisions with a government who take their stand on 16th Century concepts of colonial conquest by force."

Nehru accused the Portuguese of repressing the inhabitants of the territories and staging daily raids into India.

Salazar said Portugal was ready to negotiate international guarantees that the Portuguese territories would not be used against India's security. He promised Portugal would do nothing that might threaten peace "except in the case of an armed aggression" and expressed regret India had not accepted a Portuguese proposal Dec. 8 for international observers to watch the borders of the enclaves.

U.S. Weather Menu Is Varied

A variety of weather, mostly miserable, hit wide sections of the nation in a wet and stormy week-end.

The foul weather touched nearly all bases in the climatic cycle—snow, cold, strong winds, rain, sleet, fog, a tornado, thunderstorms and floods. The effects were nearly nationwide.

Freezing rain and fog in many areas in the eastern half of the nation made conditions hazardous for both motorists and pedestrians. Many storm-related deaths, most of them in traffic accidents on slippery highways, were reported, including nine in Iowa, eight in Indiana and two in New England.

sent troops, tanks, warships and bombers of this second most populous of the world's nations against the tiny territories under Portugal's flag since the 16th Century.

The Indian government announced in New Delhi that Damao and Diu north of Bombay, were "liberated" in this first day of what Nehru termed a police action.

SHIP HURT
A spokesman for Nehru's regime, leader of the Asian-African neutralist bloc, announced the Indian navy put a Portuguese warship out of action in a sea battle off Goa, 200 miles south of Bombay.

Portugal, a charter member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said it had only one warship in the area, the 30-year-old sloop Alfonso de Albuquerque.

The National Information Secretariat in Lisbon denied India's claim to occupation of Diu and Damao. It said the defenders were using a scorched earth policy in all three enclaves, plus minefields to hinder Indian advances. A Goa radio broadcast said the Indians suffered heavy losses in battles near two towns, Sanguilem and Sarvona.

The Portuguese, who had agreed to negotiations, said their forces were outnumbered more than 2-1, but were putting up gallant resistance in Goa. Men from the Diu and Damao garrisons were reported to have been withdrawn to strengthen the defenses of Goa, a territory of 1,537 square miles and a population of 600,000.

By Indian account, the three-pronged strike into Goa—with tanks helping to batter the way—was going according to schedule. Several towns were reported seized. Authoritative reports from Belgaum, near the Goa frontier, said the invaders were within a few miles of Nova Goa, the capital.

Goa, the main battleground, is on the Arabian Sea at about the latitude of Guatemala. Indian air force planes bombed Nova Goa's airport, an Indian spokesman announced. He said the runway and one radio station were put out of commission.

India adopted bombing tactics because of the impossibility of entering the capital's harbor, which had been heavily mined by the Portuguese, he said.

Otherwise Indian troops had gone between eight and 10 miles inside the border in a wide arc, the spokesman said.

The Indian command predicted the three enclaves would be captured within two or three days.

Officials at the United Nations predicted the Security Council would meet and probably would censure Nehru's government.

The Indian invasion to seize the territories ruled for more than four centuries by Portugal brought sharp criticism from the United States.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called an urgent meeting of his top aides in Washington and a high-ranking official said afterward: "This is a classic example of the use of force by one of the most moralistic members of the neutral bloc."

DEAF EAR
President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan earlier had appealed directly to Nehru to seek a peaceful settlement of the long-standing dispute. But Nehru turned a deaf ear to their pleas and rejected a similar appeal from Acting U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant, declaring "the only solution...is for Portugal to leave its colonies in India and allow the people in these territories to join their countrymen in freedom and democracy."

Portuguese Premier Antonio Salazar told Thant he was ready to negotiate and give guarantees that the territories would not threaten India's security.

Other members of NATO reportedly had informed the Salazar government that its Indian territories did not come under NATO's mutual assistance defense shield.

Portugal ordered internment of all Indian nationals and froze overseas territories and froze their assets. There are sizable Indian populations in Mozambique and Angola in Africa and in Macao on the Red China border.

HEAVY FIRING
Details of the fighting were skimpy but heavy firing could be heard only a few miles from the Goa frontier.

L. Gen. J. N. Chaudhuri, the conqueror of Hyderabad in 1948 a year after India became independent, is directing the Indian offensive.

The Indian forces swept across the Goa border at three places in full force, with tanks, armored cars and air cover.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon said in New Delhi that the invaders were being helped by underground sympathizers inside Goa. He said there was evidence the Portuguese were blowing up bridges and destroying oil storage tanks in a scorched earth policy.

JFK Ends Tour On A Happy Note

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy, suffering from "a heavy cold," stopped in Palm Beach today instead of returning directly to Washington from his weekend trip to Latin America.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy's present plan is to leave for Washington Tuesday morning.

Salinger told newsmen that the decision to stay over in Palm Beach was made only this morning, en route to Florida from a refueling stop at Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico.

Salinger used the description "heavy cold" in describing the chief executive's illness.

The Air Force jet carrying the presidential party had been scheduled to stop here only long enough to let off Mrs. Kennedy, who was to join her children at Palm Beach for the Christmas holidays.

Kennedy had intended to get together with them on Friday, on his return from a meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Bermuda.

Salinger's announcement that Kennedy's present plan is to continue on to Washington Tuesday indicated the President still expects to keep the date with Macmillan. His schedule has called for a flight from Washington to Bermuda Thursday.

Traces of a cold showed up Sunday night in Bogota as he spoke to a dinner given in honor of the Kennedys by President and Mrs. Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia. There was a slight hushiness in his voice.

The Kennedys' whirlwind trip to the upper tier of South America was an obvious personal success. An enthusiastic greeting at Caracas, Venezuela, where leftists had made violent attempts to incite demonstrations against the United States and an overwhelming reception at Bogota, Colombia, reassured Kennedy.

Puerto Rico had reacted as expected on Friday at the start of the weekend journey, with more than 200,000 exuberant spectators on the streets of San Juan cheering the President.

While the friendliness he found was comforting and encouraging, awaiting the President in Washington was the task of devising the next move toward solution of the menacing Berlin crisis.

Although the success of his Alliance for Progress hinges primarily on the good will and cooperation of governments in power, Kennedy was openly gratified by his welcome from the people in Caracas and Bogota.

Half a million or more Colombians lined country roads and jammed Bogota's streets Sunday to cheer the Kennedys. Colombian officials called the demonstration the greatest by far in their capital's history.

Desert Skirmish

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Three Arab infiltrators were killed in the central Negev Desert Sunday in a clash with an Israeli military patrol, an Israeli army spokesman announced. A fourth infiltrator was wounded and captured, the spokesman added.

BERLIN (AP)—Another U.S. infantry company rolled westward along the lifeline autobahn from isolated West Berlin today, defying a new Communist demand that American troop movements along the highway stop.

to cheer the Kennedys. Colombian officials called the demonstration the greatest by far in their capital's history.

The Kennedys' reception in Caracas on Saturday and their sendoff Sunday contrasted dramatically with the trepidation felt that pro-Castro elements and groups hostile to Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt would cause grief.

Kennedy emphasized two positions in his 6,300 miles of travel:

1. An appeal for hemispheric support of his Alliance for Progress, the $20-million plan for public and private funds to raise Latin American living standards.

2. Wholehearted support for Betancourt and Lleras Camargo. Kennedy made clear that he counts on their example to generate wide backing for the alliance.

The court acted on a request by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which protested asserted delays in trials and burdens inflicted on the arrested persons "by virtue of the vexatious multiple prosecution program."

The court's action was announced in an order which said that the persons asking that the Jackson proceedings be stayed were apparently not those being prosecuted in Mississippi courts.

Today's action by the high tribunal came one week after it struck down "breach of the peace" convictions of 16 Negro sit-in demonstrators who tried to desegregate lunch counters in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

That decision last Monday did not decide broad constitutional questions raised in the cases. It was based on the comparatively narrow ground that there was no evidence the defendants breached the peace.

Today's refusal to stay the Jackson proceedings does not necessarily mean the Supreme Court might not act on the cases later, after the state courts act.

More Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court unanimously refused today to order a stay of proceedings against "Freedom Riders" arrested in Jackson, Miss.

The Supreme Court's order today commented that "a federal injunction to stay state criminal

ROY REEDER

IKE ROBB

CLYDE HOLLINGSWORTH

Roy Reeder Elected Chamber President

Roy Reeder was named president of the Chamber of Commerce for 1962 at noon today, when the board of directors met to elect new officers. He succeeds Horace Garrett.

Ike Robb was elected vice president and Clyde Hollingsworth was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Election of officers was the principle business before the directors today as the Chamber geared for another year of hard work.

Reeder could feel right at home in Howard County, for he was reared in Howard County, Ark. at Nashville. He worked for a plantation there, then became a higher accounting instructor for Draughon's Business College in Abilene in 1927. He was with the Chevrolet dealer in Baird long enough to meet and marry Lola Johnson in 1930. They moved to Amarillo with a motor company and then to Olney before coming to Big Spring.

Freak Winds Hit W. Texas

The windstorm at Littlefield on the South Plains of West Texas was called "a freak situation—just one of those things" by the Weather Bureau.

Radio Station KZZN in Littlefield measured winds gusts up to 70 m.p.h. Blowing sand dropped visibility to a quarter of a mile.

He arrived here in the afternoon of Dec. 10, 1934 with a dense dust storm in progress, and despite other discouragements established an insurance and accounting service. In 1936 he added automotive finance to his agency and developed it into one of the leading agencies of the area.

Active in many affairs, he has headed the Red Cross chapter, served as Chamber vice president under Champ Rainwater, was a founder of the American Business Club and served as president and district governor, is a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge and commandery (being a past commander) here, the consistory in Dallas and Shrine in San Angelo.

He is one of the lay leaders of the First Baptist Church and a deacon, and has participated in virtually all finance and other campaigns of major community organizations.

Robb is a native of Big Spring and has been active in the Chamber for several years. For the past five years he has served as chairman of the base-community division or its predecessor, the military affairs committee.

Sworn In

AUSTIN (AP)—George Korkmas, a 31-year-old chemical engineer from Texas City, was sworn in today as the second Republican member of the current legislature.

Highland South addition, a development of Highland Acres, Inc., has taken shape.

Hollingsworth is a native of Longview where he completed high school. He left Kilgore Junior College to enter service, returned to the school and then went to SMU. He entered practice as a public accountant at Longview, then at Kilgore and opened his own office here in January of 1956.

Active in numerous affairs, he serves as secretary-treasurer of the Kiwanis Club, treasurer of the First Christian Church, Howard County Rehabilitation Center, and Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of the American Legion, and has been active in the United Fund and YMCA efforts. He was married in 1941 to Margie Elam in Longview and they have two daughters, Mrs. Roy Deel, and Dell Anne.

Nativity As Seen From Heaven Is Subject For 4-Part Series

The Christmas story, according to Christian belief, is an exalted drama of the interaction between the divine and the human.

Unfolded on earth—and also in heaven.

And it is from the higher perspective that AP Religion Writer George Cornell has attempted to tell the Christmas story in a narrative of four parts, starting Tuesday in the Herald.

The Bible, of course, fully develops the terrestrial aspects of the drama. But throughout Scripture, there are traces and footmarks of the heavenly situation. Some of it is figurative and symbolic, and that is the method followed in this unusual series.

Obviously, the specifications of the heavenly dimension are unknown—"Eye has not seen, nor ear heard," as St. Paul puts it. Yet vestiges of the higher realm shine through the Biblical accounts. Although various details of the action and description in these stories are imaginary, they adhere firmly to the basic lines of the Scriptural record.

It is from this standpoint that Cornell presents the Christmas story in its celestial setting, from the sorrow over man's alienation from the divine to the heavenly music which accompanies the wall of a newborn infant in a manger below.

Words and attitudes ascribed to the Divinity in this account are those attributed to Him by the inspired prophets. Some utterances of angels are also directly quoted in the Bible. Others are taken from the words of prophets and apostles, who are regarded as having mirrored the heavenly view.

While some persons have objected to personifying God, the Bible itself does so in many places, and it has been followed carefully in this as in other respects.

Don't Be A 52-Timer

A 52-timer is a Herald reader who has trouble every week digging up change to pay his newsboy.

On the other hand, a ONE-TIMER is a Herald reader who sends in his check to have the paper delivered to his door for all of 1962, and never worries about it again.

Thinking about it, he not only is happier about saving time and making his newsboy happier, he saves real money—more than 10 per cent, in fact.

The Weather Bureau issued a cold wave warning for the Texas Panhandle Monday and a freak wind storm struck Littlefield with blasts up to 70 miles an hour.

The bureau predicted temperatures of 13 degrees above zero for the upper Panhandle by Tuesday morning, with recordings ranging up to 28. A few snow flurries were expected.

The windstorm at Littlefield on the South Plains of West Texas was called "a freak situation—just one of those things" by the Weather Bureau.

Radio Station KZZN in Littlefield measured winds gusts up to 70 m.p.h. Blowing sand dropped visibility to a quarter of a mile.

Levelland, near Littlefield, also had wind gusts up to 72 m.p.h. that scooped up dust to cut visibility to an eighth of a mile.

Car drivers turned on lights because of the resultant darkness.

CHEER FUND OVER $1,000

Some very fine gifts, from classes, from children, from business firms, helped put the Christmas Cheer Fund past the $1,000 mark today. It can use all the help that warm-hearted Big Springers can give, because it assures toys and food delights for poor youngsters on Christmas, and it works all year to step in and help the distressed when no other fund is immediately available.

High School students, through their own United Fund, made a substantial contribution. The Welch Auto Supply made its gift in recognition of good customers and friends. Others were heard from.

If you are going to help in this program, please act immediately. The Christmas distribution will be done in a few days, and bills must be paid. Make your check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND, and send it to The Herald. It doesn't have to be a large gift—just have a part. Thanks to these good people:

Canadian Dam Bids Invited

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reclamation Bureau has invited bids on construction of Sanford Dam on the $96 million Canadian River project in Northwest Texas.

Bids for building the 300-foot high earth fill dam will be opened Jan. 20 in the Amarillo city auditorium.

Under bureau specifications, bidders will be allowed roughly 3 1/2 years to complete construction.

Sanford Dam and reservoir, about 40 miles northeast of Amarillo, is the principal storage feature of the project.

It will provide supplemental water for Amarillo, Borger, Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton and Tahoka.

The reservoir will supply an average of 33 billion gallons of water annually.

The dam will be 6,300 feet long. Annual payroll on the job will be about $3 million.

Vanishing World Help To Research

EDITOR'S NOTE — What brings on hallucinations? Science doesn't know the complete answer, but in a remarkable experiment at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center researchers have found a quick way to produce hallucinations. They hope analysis of voluntary flights of fancy will shed some light on the dark recesses of the human mind.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Human volunteers are making their world disappear. They float for hours in complete silence and darkness in a tank of warm water, cut off from almost all normal senses. Utterly alone, they begin looking deeper into themselves. Some find the experience upsetting. Others enjoy it. Two-thirds begin to get hallucinations, seeing things and events which don't exist, within 15 minutes to three hours after they slip into the tank. They may see a donkey in the dark room, or hear a dog barking, or see street scenes, people, sometimes in color. The hallucinations come in bursts and appear as things happening outside the person. Logical thinking and concentration usually become difficult. Minds wander; vague memories stir; some persons see more deeply into their own personalities—and are not always happy for doing so. The floating in the dark, silent tank is one technique to explore the workings of the human mind, says Dr. Jay T. Shurley, psychiatrist directing the project at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center. MORE INSIGHTS And it may also yield insights into hallucinations and loss of contact marking mental illness. Or illuminate some hazards facing spacemen isolated on long space journeys. Similar experiments to cut off or cut down on normal stimulation by human senses have been conducted in the last eight years elsewhere. Dr. Shurley's tank tries to take away as much as possible, including the sense of gravity. Volunteers wear fitted buoyant pads to simulate weightlessness. They cannot see or hear anything, or smell anything. Dr. Shurley was one of his own first volunteers. "You lose all sense of body boundary," he said. "After a time, you don't know where your skin ends, and the water begins, where the water ends and the rest of the universe begins. RESTLESS "At first I was anxious and restless. I felt the need for something to happen. I wanted to itch, so I could scratch. I wanted to thrash around. I sought for any signs of residual light or sound. "I could hear my own pulse and respiration. I could even hear my joints move, and the valves opening and closing in my heart. "At first, I tried to think of something I had been doing, or was going to do. Then thoughts became more personal, and I began to daydream. "Any faint stimuli became exaggerated. Touching a toe accidentally to the side of the tank started a train of images—I would begin to build a fantasy on that. HALLUCINATIONS Then, he adds, came hallucinations. Not much at first, but then images in three-D, in color, with people, with motion. Some people see a scene straight ahead of them, and it fills out as they turn their heads, a panorama as in an ordinary room. For some of the 50 volunteers, the hallucinations were frightening. Others were pleasurable. None could be predicted. In three to six hours of isolation, moods often swing from ebullience to anxiousness, to boredom. Only one person refused to try the experience again. Several have done it repeatedly, making a total of 100 tests to date. Repeating, most begin to enjoy the sensation, and feel refreshed afterward. Smokers generally lose the urge for a cigarette. EXPERIENCE HELPS With repeated runs, frightening and threatening feelings from the utter solitude tend to disappear. Some men and women sleep briefly and have ordinary dreams. A microphone hangs over the floater's head, so he can talk and tell what he feels, all recorded in an adjoining laboratory room where the physicians keep watch. The sound of a person's own voice doesn't necessarily destroy or interrupt his hallucination. When volunteers emerge, Dr. Shurley and associates interview them, expanding the detail. Some remember the facts they had forgotten to report while they were happening.

Hot Louisiana Political Battle Winds Up Tuesday

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—One of the hottest two-party political fights in Louisiana in years winds up Tuesday when the 4th District elects its new congressman. A larger-than-normal absentee vote in the largest of the northwest Louisiana district's seven parishes indicated high interest in the election between Democrat Joe D. Waggoner and Republican Charlton H. Lyons Sr. Waggoner, 43, of Plain Deal ing, a member of the State Board of Education, remained a strong favorite to succeed the late Rep. Overton Brooks despite the vigorous campaign by Lyons, 67, Shreveport oilman. The district has not elected a Republican since 1873. The winner will serve until January, 1963. Both candidates are segregationists and extreme conservatives. Their platforms are similar. Lyons has argued he can do more for the district's basic beliefs than "another Southern Democrat." Waggoner countered by stating that Southern Democrats have "preserved states' rights down through the years." An indication of the degree of Lyons' uphill struggle is in the district's registration figures. About 97 per cent of the 95,221 registered voters are Democrats. But Lyons has the editorial backing of the Shreveport Times, the only daily morning paper in the district, and two smaller papers. The Republican presidential ticket, with more than 40 per cent of the vote, led both the States Rights party's unpledged electors (including Waggoner) and the Democrats in the 1960 election. At the same time, however, Brooks defeated Republican Fred McClanahan 48,286-16,827. Brooks died Sept. 16.

I continue quoting from the letter under review: "But, unless I read into your article something that is not there, you seem to be saying that neither Catholic nor Protestant churches are legitimate, but only the 'Church of Christ.'" Legitimate means legal. Certainly all these churches are legal, from the standpoint of civil government; and should be. We should have absolute freedom of religion. On the other hand, God has a law. Triangle Shooting Kills Soldier, Wounds Detective

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—A bedroom pistol duel, witnessed from a closet by the wife of one victim, took the life of an Army sergeant and critically wounded a police detective Sunday. M. Sgt. Dow Farrar, 35, home on emergency leave from an Army missile unit in Germany, found his estranged wife Lillian in a closet with police Lt. R. A. Davis, 37, said detective Captain Cleo Stout. Stout said Farrar was granted emergency leave two weeks ago after his wife filed suit for divorce. The detective captain said the soldier went to the home of Mrs. Leatha Chiles, who works at the police department, in search of Davis and Mrs. Farrar. Stout gave this version of subsequent events: Mrs. Chiles told Farrar the couple was not in, but the soldier searched the house and found them in a closet. "Come out or I'll shoot," he said. Farrar counted to three before firing several shots. Davis took bullets in the forearm and stomach. Mrs. Farrar was not hit. Davis staggered out of the closet and returned fire. Farrar fell with three wounds in the abdomen, and one in the forearm and shoulder. The detective called an ambulance and collapsed. Stout said a will found in Farrar's pocket left his wife $1. A letter to the Veterans Administration asked that his wife be removed as beneficiary on his insurance policy.

Successful People Are Likely To Be Investigated

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When a man gets successful, he usually can expect extra attention from his colleagues—who figure he's on the way up, from automobile dealers—who want to sell him a prestige car, and maybe even from his wife—who wants a bigger house. Chances are he also will get attention from a quarter he doesn't expect: private investigators.

There are good odds that his name may be among the 4½ million indexed by Bishop's Service, Inc., one of the nation's major investigating agencies. (If you listed all the people who filed returns on incomes of $10,000 or more, altogether you'd have around four million names). "Any man who comes into the business world and begins to grow in stock, financing or executive status will sooner or later be investigated by us," says William H. Chiariello, 50, stocky president of Bishop's. The firm is a sort of private eye for banks, brokers, financial houses, insurance companies, large corporations, big investors. It serves an average of 7,000 clients each year, preparing anywhere from 4,500 to 6,750 full-scale, detailed reports. It has been checking into the honesty, integrity and ethics of individuals since 1895. It has agents in principal cities of the United States, as well as Canada, Western Europe and other far-flung points. "The investigation we conduct is not a criminal investigation such as you might have if an employee were suspected of some wrongdoing," says Chiariello. "Our activities are almost wholly in the personnel field. But we've had our share of scoundrels and baffling cases."

There was the bizarre case of the man who got a $3-million controlling share of a company without a penny of his own. Chiariello tells it this way: The promoter negotiated with a majority stockholder to buy $3 million in holdings. He borrowed $300,000, which he used as an option for $3 million in stock, stipulating that the shareholder would immediately create a new board, with the promoter as chairman. Thereupon the promoter flew to the West Coast, where the firm had a principal office and there, in his capacity as new chairman, obtained $3 million in negotiable instruments held by the company. With these, he obtained $2.7 million from a bank, sped to New York and paid the stockholder the additional money owing him. Then he wrote a check for $3 million against funds of the firm, cashed it, paid off the $300,000 he spent for the option, went back to the West Coast where he paid off the bank and returned the securities to the company. The end of these transactions found him in control of the company, everyone paid off, and the money taken from the firm accounted for under the heading of "acquisitions."

"He might have gotten away with it except that minority stockholders were suspicious and brought suit," Chiariello says. "This might not have been successful but there was something the promoter hadn't figured on. The majority stockholder did not choose a new board immediately and so when the promoter was on the West Coast dealing with the company and the bank he actually had no legal connection with the company and no authority whatsoever." Chiariello, who was a practicing attorney until he got into investigative work for the government in World War II, says some men who are not imposters have tricky ways of inflating their own versions of their capabilities and connections. The deflating comes in the course of personnel investigations. "You find that the man who could never get through college, somehow is compelled to list himself as a Ph.D. The $70-a-week shipping clerk gets a romantic notion of his job and puts himself forth as a vice president in charge of traffic, annual salary $30,000," Chiariello says. While Bishop's may one day investigate you—if you are on your way up in the business world—it doesn't mean that its report will get you in trouble or cinch a job or kill your chances for it. Says Chiariello: "We never make recommendations, and we are no muckrakers. We simply learn the facts and report them confidentially. That's it."

Jackie Takes Rest After Charming Latin Neighbors

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy settles down for a Christmas holiday rest in Palm Beach today with her children after scoring another personal success in Colombia and Venezuela.

The First Lady reportedly was fatigued from the hectic pace of the 6,300-mile trip to Latin America. She had kept up a steady pace for some 18 hours on the Colombia leg of the presidential trip.

The day before in Caracas it was a bow in front, by the young California designer Gustave Tassel.

She and the President entered Bogota to a tremendous reception from a half million or more cheering, flag-waving, enthusiastic Colombians who showered them with confetti and flower petals.

Mrs. Kennedy gathered crowds of many thousands as she went to visit a charity children's hospital. Men, women and children, some of whom had waited for hours, turned out to catch a glimpse of her.

Mrs. Kennedy early this year had won acclaim in Canada, France, Austria and Great Britain on official visits with the President. There was no doubt she had added Colombia and Venezuela to her list of successes.

The crowds in Bogota shouted "Look! Look!" and "What a beauty!" as they caught sight of the 32-year-old First Lady of the United States in a gay yellow wool suit and matching straw hat. Even though Mrs. Kennedy's schedule ran two hours behind, the crowds waited for her.

She changed her costume four times for her public appearances in Bogota.

She and the President shook hands with some 400 guests at an evening reception in their honor at San Carlos Palace, the historic 18th century residence of Colombia's President Alberto Lleras Camargo.

Mrs. Kennedy, who is fond of antiques, told Latin Americans she has long admired their culture.

The final black tie dinner on the Kennedy's schedule was held in the palace dining room, a long stately chamber with massive mahogany beamed ceilings decorated with gold and royal red. Mrs. Kennedy was a striking figure in a turquoise silk evening gown, ankle length, with beading at the hemline and on a matching stole.

During the trip that started at San Juan, Puerto Rico, Mrs. Kennedy was entertained by three first ladies of the Americas—Mrs. Luis Munoz Marin, wife of the governor of Puerto Rico; Mrs. Romulo Betancourt in Venezuela and Mrs. Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia. She tried out her Spanish on all of them.

Twice she used Spanish in public talks and won delighted applause.

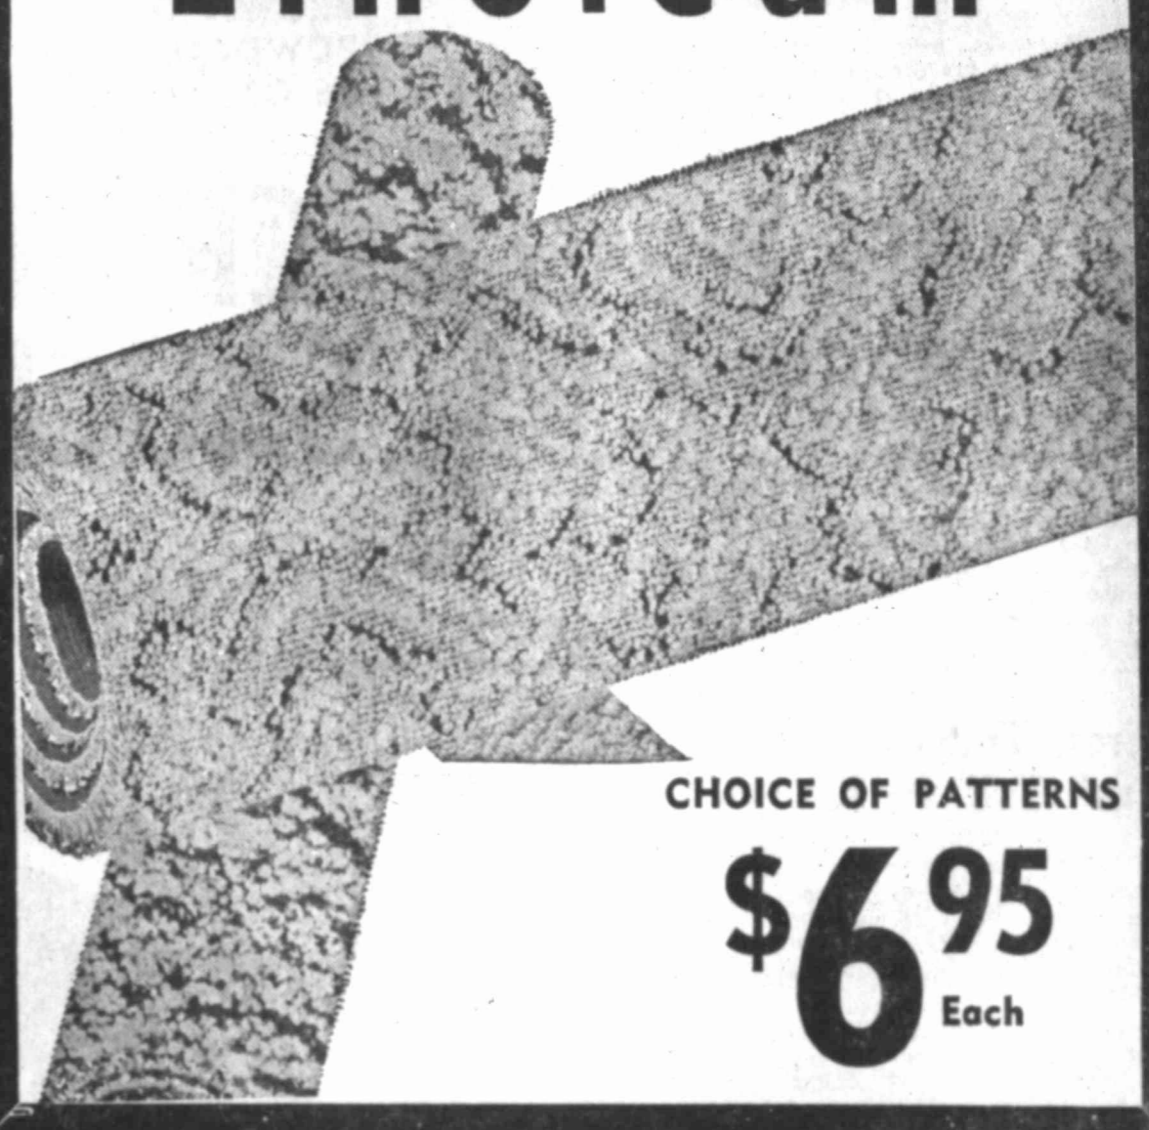

There was one special fashion footnote on the trip. Mrs. Kennedy arrived in Colombia wearing a pale yellow-green coat dress, double-breasted and empire line with

Abilene's Sleeping Mother Still Sleeps

By KATHARYN DUFF
Abilene Reporter-News Writer
Written for The Associated Press

ABILENE (AP)—Tuesday will be the anniversary of tragedy for Jack and Sharon Jones, tragedy which fills their modest Abilene home.

Just a year ago, on Dec. 19, 1960, Sharon went on one last Christmas errand to pick up one last gift for her young husband, Jack.

At an intersection her automobile and another were in collision. Sharon, now 24 and still an auburn-haired beauty, was hardly marked by the wreck.

But the crash jarred her into unconsciousness.

Since that moment she has been, even when open-eyed, as one in deep slumber.

Peacefully she lies, unaware of the massive machines around her which keep her alive, unaware of the beautiful baby she delivered in unconsciousness, her son she has never seen, a normal and healthy little fellow, thanks to medical miracles.

WORLD WAS THEIRS

Until plunged into tragedy a year ago, Sharon and Jack were just another bright, handsome young couple. They had bought a small home, had "paid out" their furniture, laid by some savings and were wanting children.

Early in that December, Sharon learned she was to have a baby—news that sent Jack to passing out cigars at the oil field supply house where he works.

"We had the world by the tail," Jack recalls gravely. "And then..."

Sharon's was one of those ordinary city wrecks, an intersection collision.

She was taken to an Abilene hospital, on to Fort Worth for brain surgery which did not repair the damage, then back to the Abilene hospital for the long vigil toward childbirth.

The baby, named Eddie, was delivered by Caesarian section on July 5, 1961—six and a half months after his mother was knocked into unconsciousness.

FIGHT FOR LIFE

Little Eddie, delivered prematurely under the most adverse circumstances, had to fight for his life. For two weeks last July his survival was uncertain.

But care and skill—and the prayers offered for him by thousands who became interested—won for him normalcy. Now, at five and a half months, he can very nearly sit alone, he gurgles and drools, smiles and howls, just as does any baby.

The struggle goes on to keep his mother alive for that day she may awaken.

The struggle is costly. Earlier the hospital and clock-round nursing care required cost upward from $80 daily. Jack has trimmed and cut and learned to do much of the work himself so that, with Sharon now at home, bills are down to a bedrock $30 daily.

Sharon's two insurance policies expired last March. The couple's savings quickly melted and Jack borrowed and borrowed again to keep Sharon's care.

HELP CAME

Last spring, a group of near-strangers decided to help The Sharon Jones Fund was set up at Abilene's Citizens National Bank. Some 18 persons began and have continued monthly gifts to it. Others, locally and from all over the nation, give irregularly. The Fund has lately got as low as $200, but in all it has produced about $8,000 toward the $30,000 Sharon's injury has cost.

Only Sharon's bills are sent by Jack to the Sharon Jones Fund for payment. He takes care of the rest. Young Eddie is now old and healthy enough to be deposited daily at a kinsman—just cutting cost of a housekeeper. Jack does the laundry and takes the nurses' off shifts himself.

He watches Sharon—and he watches pennies needed to run the machines and keep the nurses on duty.

Sharon's 24th birthday was on Nov. 27.

"I didn't buy her a present," Jack says apologetically. "I wanted to. But she wouldn't have known. I'd have just wasted the money."

NO TREE, EITHER

He doesn't plan to spend any dollars on a Christmas tree this year.

For one thing, the thought of last year's tree haunts.

The presents off it are packed away in a closet. He'll not open them until Sharon awakens.

And what are the chances for that?

Jack hopes at times she shows signs of returning. But he says quite frankly, "The doctors say it is in Higher Hands than theirs."

"But I keep thinking... if God let her live this long, He must have a reason."

Noted Classics Are Protested

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—"The Good Earth" and "Drums Along the Mohawk" will continue available for reading by students of Pontiac's two high schools.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent, has rejected protests of a group of 12 parents who charged the books were unsuitable reading for children 15 to 18 years old.

The parents said the books contained "degrading language" and were "vulgar, profane and filthy."

"The Good Earth," by Pearl S. Buck, will "remain available to teachers for use as required reading," Dr. Whitmer said. "Drums Along the Mohawk," by Walter L. Edmonds, will be optional reading.

Dr. Whitmer said he had the informal support of the Board of Education. "This decision was reached after a staff study. We asked the opinions of teaching personnel and citizens," he said.

Nathaniel Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter" has been mentioned in the discussion. However, Dr. Whitmer said there had been no protest regarding that book.

Purcell, Top Vote-Getter, Begins Campaign Anew

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Democrat Graham B. Purcell, top vote-getter in Saturday's special election to fill the 13th District post in the U.S. House, begins campaigning anew today.

So does Republican Joe Bailey Meissner, who will face Purcell in a runoff election to be held sometime between Jan. 22 and Feb. 6. Gov. Price Daniel will set the date.

Tabulation of all but about 120 votes showed Purcell with 8,935 votes to Meissner's 6,704. Other totals included Jack Hightower, 35; Wilbarger County district attorney and Democrat who resigned to make the race, 6,030; Vernon Stewart, 32; Democratic state legislator from Wichita Falls, 2,696; and Jimmy Horany, 44; Archer City attorney who ran as a Democratic liberal, 2,037.

The House seat was vacated by Democrat Frank Ikard, who resigned to become executive vice-president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Both Purcell, 42, and Meissner, 36, said they welcome a clear cut Democratic-Republican choice for the voters in the runoff.

Purcell said the runoff "will show the Democratic party is much in the majority in our district. The final outcome is inevitable."

But Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who campaigned for Meissner, said, "I think conservatives have every cause for optimism and with hard work Meissner can win."

Four counties in the 19-county district gave Meissner a lead.

Purcell is a moderate-liberal in the tradition of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. He is judge of the 89th Texas District Court. He is a former resident of Big Spring.

Meissner resigned as a Wichita Falls City councilman to run. "I wear the badge of conservatism proudly," he said.

Fires, Traffic Push Toll To 20

By The Associated Press
Poor driving conditions and home fires combined to push the violent death total to at least 20 during the last weekend before Christmas.

Police blamed slick roads and poor visibility from rain and fog for several of the 13 deaths charged to traffic accidents.

Fires at Brownwood in Central Texas and Terrell, east of Dallas, claimed the lives of four tiny children.

The Associated Press began its regular weekend count at 6 p.m. Friday and continued it through midnight Sunday.

Two small children—Bobby Hajek, 6, and Harvey Hajek, 4, were swept through their home at Early, east of Brownwood, Sunday night. Their mother, Mrs. Henry J. Hajek, 26, was burned when she tried to enter the flaming house but was reported in good condition at a Brownwood hospital. A third child, an infant, escaped injury.

Circus Tent Fire Kills 250

NITEROI, Brazil (AP) — Fire roared through a nylon circus tent Sunday afternoon as 2,500 persons watched a performance. Police estimated 250 were killed.

It was Brazil's worst disaster and the worst circus fire in history, worse than the Ringling Bros. fire in Hartford, Conn., in 1944 in which 168 died.

Officials early today said 180 bodies had been recovered, many of them children. An estimated 500 were injured, some seriously. Gov. Celso Pecanha of Rio de Janeiro said arson was suspected. Niteroi is across Guanabara Bay from Rio de Janeiro.

The fire flashed up the tent as two trapeze performers began their aerial act. Within five minutes the flames had enveloped the mammoth tent and seared the ropes. The blazing mass fell on the spectators.

Some were trapped in their seats. Others could not get near the exits. Some were trampled to death. Fear-crazed women and children rushed for the exits, fell atop each other and caught fire.

"I've seen some horrible things, but I never thought I would ever see anything so horrible," said a policeman. Trucks transferred the bodies to the city morgue. When it was filled, they were taken to the city's soccer stadium. Hundreds of persons searching for missing relatives added to the confusion.

Treatment of the hundreds of injured was hampered by shortages of medicine, blood plasma, hospital beds, doctors and nurses. Air force helicopters flew medicine and plasma from Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo. Radio appeals brought doctors and nurses from Rio.

Niteroi's five hospitals were filled. Others of the injured were ferried across the bay to Rio hospitals.

All of the circus' 150 animals were rescued. Three elephants broke their chains and escaped.

Among the survivors were the two trapeze artists. The woman, Antonietta Estevanovich, said she was standing on the platform and her partner was swinging through the air when they saw the fire. "I didn't yell fearing he would fall," she said. "He completed his swing and we both jumped into the net and escaped."

'3-Penny Opera' Finally Closes

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Threepenny Opera" is over.

Off-Broadway's long-run champ rang down the final curtain Sunday night after 2,612 performances. It closed with a sigh, a few tears and the pop of champagne corks.

The play, which made "Mack the Knife" a latter-day hit, had more performances than Broadway's current long-run champ, "My Fair Lady." The Lerner-Loewe musical, which opened in 1956 and is still running, had the benefit, however, of a much larger house.

The all-time Broadway long-run king is "Life With Father," which closed after 3,213 performances.

Confetti Shower For Kennedy

Grassroots Campaign Begins To Solve Albany Race Fuss

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—A grassroots effort was launched today to solve this embattled south Georgia city's bitter segregation controversy with a minimum of outside help. Under discussion in biracial talks was a proposal to ease up for 60 days the integration struggle, which has landed more than 700 Negroes in jail within a week. Prominent in the deliberations was Marion S. Page, local Negro leader who said he and his associates welcome outside help but "as of now, we need no help."

He and two Negro lawyers, C. B. King of Albany and Donald L. Hollowell of Atlanta, went into conference with Mayor Asa D. Kelley and Police Chief Laurie Pritchett after the mayor had conferred with members of the city council. One suggestion was that all except 11 of the 400 Negroes remaining in jail be released and their trials be delayed for two months while down-to-earth attempts are made to resolve the entire dispute. The 11 not included in the proposal are "Freedom Riders" whose arrest precipitated mass demonstrations.

Officials viewed with obvious favor a position Page has taken for local determination of the issue. At a news conference in Atlanta, Gov. Ernest Vandiver charged today that outside agitators connected with organizations having a subversive background were responsible for the Albany demonstrations. He said this information had been transmitted to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy by Mayor Kelley, who provided Kennedy with six names. "We have information that six outside agitators were sent into Albany several weeks ago to stir up trouble and they are still there," Vandiver said, "they have been connected with organizations which have been designated as subversive."

Creighton Has Another Bull To Top Sale
For the second consecutive week, a bull from the Charlie Creighton Hereford herd topped an area sale Saturday. His CC Major Mischief 541 was picked as the champion bull of the Sweetwater Area Hereford Association sale and then sold to Jesse Koonsman of Snyder for a $925 top on the sale. Four bulls averaged $484 per head, five females $401, and the overall average on 45 head was $475. Association officials were pleased with the results. The week previous, Creighton's CC Major Mischief 540 was reserve champion of the 18th annual Howard County South Plains Hereford Association sale, then went on to top the bidding with $1,965 paid by J. C. Sale of Stanton. At the Sweetwater sale Saturday, Dr. G. T. Hall of Big Spring, paid $510 for the top price female, Modest Lady LI, consigned by James Bird Pentecost, Sanco. McBride Bros., Blanket, consigned the champion female, Miss Onward Champion, which was bought by Koonsman. The reserve bull PT Real Turner 64, consigned by Price Turner & Sons, Sweetwater, went to Reed Bros. Sterling City, for $670.

Officials viewed with obvious favor a position Page has taken for local determination of the issue. At a news conference in Atlanta, Gov. Ernest Vandiver charged today that outside agitators connected with organizations having a subversive background were responsible for the Albany demonstrations. He said this information had been transmitted to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy by Mayor Kelley, who provided Kennedy with six names. "We have information that six outside agitators were sent into Albany several weeks ago to stir up trouble and they are still there," Vandiver said, "they have been connected with organizations which have been designated as subversive."

Formby Nails Car Insurance To Platform

PLAINVIEW (AP)—What he called the high cost of car insurance caused by penalties assessed for traffic violations will be an issue in the governor's race in 1962, Marshall Formby promised Texans today. Formby says he will make his formal announcement for governor in January. "Unless the so-called merit car insurance plan is amended by the insurance board soon either voluntarily or by legislation passed at the January call session of the legislature, it definitely will be an issue. I intend to carry the fight to every area of Texas, asking the people to help me rid the state of one of the most ridiculous rulings ever imposed on a people by a state commission. The present members of the insurance board are all appointees of the present administration in Austin. "Texans just don't believe that the cost of car insurance should be based on minor traffic violations. They think it is double jeopardy. They are as mad as hornets about the insane ruling and are going to demand that the next governor straighten out the whole mess," he said. Formby said he is the only candidate or probable candidate who has spoken out on this ruling of the insurance board. He said a driver convicted, for example, of going even three miles an hour, had to pay not only his fine which a court might decide, but also a 20 per cent penalty on his car insurance for the next three years.

U. S. Envoy Flies For Tshombe Talks

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo, (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion today flew to meet Moise Tshombe and hoped to bring the Katanga president back for unity talks with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula. Gullion took off at daybreak in a U.S. Air Force Constellation as President Kennedy's personal peace envoy. One report from Elisabethville said Tshombe was still inside his heavily defended official palace in the Katanga capital under siege by U.N. troops only yards away. Other reports placed him in the African district south of Elisabethville. A press dispatch said a furious battle raged in the streets of Elisabethville when the first U.N. armored patrol pushed into the center of the city. The patrol drew withering fire but was making a steady advance and it seemed the fall of the capital was near, the dispatch added. Earlier reports from the United Nations indicated that the fighting was less intense than in the previous few days. American officials here said unless Gullion's pilot got definite word that Tshombe was waiting in his capital, the ambassador would land at Nola, in neighboring Northern Rhodesia, and hope to meet the separatist Katanga leader there. A delayed report from Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neeld said Tshombe held a news conference at his residence while Gullion had no intention of offering Tshombe a cease-fire in his embattled secessionist province as a condition for talks with Adoula. But the ambassador was empowered — with U.N. approval — to guarantee Tshombe and his party safe passage and protection from arrest should he agree to come to a meeting with Adoula. Kitona, the U.N. military base along the Congo's Atlantic coast, was mentioned as a likely site. Tshombe reportedly has indicated in informal contacts with U.S. diplomats in the past few days that he would agree to this arrangement. Gullion's mission was limited to setting up the meeting between the two Congo leaders — not to mediating their talks. Kennedy stepped in the Congo crisis directly after Tshombe appealed to him to intervene to bring a cease-fire in the fighting between U.N. and Katanga forces. U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant, backed by the United States, has repeatedly made clear that there will be no cease-fire until U.N. objectives in Katanga are achieved. U.N. troops were crushing Katanga resistance in Elisabethville today with only two remaining objectives still needed to give them virtual control of the city — Tshombe's palace and Radio Katanga. The drive launched by 5,000 U.N. troops has carried into the heart of Elisabethville with a giant pincer movement clamping a vise to isolate the city.

Katanga Victim

A nun carries an injured child into the hospital in Elisabethville after the youngster was injured by mortar fragments during the fighting between U.N. forces and Katanga defenders. The U.N. troops seized virtual control of the city as President Tshombe's government fled the capital.

Yuletide Singers Race To Meet Engagements

The sound of Christmas musical presentations in local churches and at the Howard County Junior College Sunday afternoon and evening was accompanied by the puffs of artists scurrying from one place to another. Jack Hendrix, head of the Department of Music at HCJC, was at the piano for this program and Ira Schantz directed. Soloists were Mrs. Carl Bradley, soprano; Mrs. Ed Clements, Mrs. Delaine Crawford, contralto; Joe Deventport and Don Ford, tenors, and Mel Ivey, bass. About 200 persons were present for the musical selections and to witness the annual candle lighting service which concluded the music program. The East Fourth Street Baptist Church choir, under the direction of Billy D. Rudd, presented the Cantata, "Night of Miracles," by John W. Peterson. Jack L. Strickland, pastor, narrated and Mrs. Keats Watts, church organist, and Mrs. Morris Sewell, pianist, accompanied. Soloists were James Kinman, baritone; Mrs. Arnold Tonn and Mrs. Jack Strickland, sopranos; and David Yater and Ralford Dunagan, bass. The choir of 50 persons appeared in new ice-blue robes purchased through voluntary donations of the choir and other church members. About 600 persons were present as the first floor, with a seating capacity of 720, was almost filled. "To Us a Child is Born," a Cantata by J. S. Bach, was heard by 265 persons at the Wesley Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m., according to Rev. Royce Wornack, pastor. Ira Schantz, choral director of the HCJC a capella choir, tenor, Marilyn Smith, contralto, and Don Shockey, bass, were soloists. Don Bryson was director and Mrs. J. P. Aslin was organist. Mrs. Bryson was accompanist.

They are as mad as hornets about the insane ruling and are going to demand that the next governor straighten out the whole mess," he said. Formby said he is the only candidate or probable candidate who has spoken out on this ruling of the insurance board. He said a driver convicted, for example, of going even three miles an hour, had to pay not only his fine which a court might decide, but also a 20 per cent penalty on his car insurance for the next three years.

Officials viewed with obvious favor a position Page has taken for local determination of the issue. At a news conference in Atlanta, Gov. Ernest Vandiver charged today that outside agitators connected with organizations having a subversive background were responsible for the Albany demonstrations. He said this information had been transmitted to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy by Mayor Kelley, who provided Kennedy with six names. "We have information that six outside agitators were sent into Albany several weeks ago to stir up trouble and they are still there," Vandiver said, "they have been connected with organizations which have been designated as subversive."

Loan Bill Given A Small Chance

By JERRY PILLARD
AUSTIN (AP)—If loan legislation, a two-time loser, comes up in a special session, it may get the death penalty on its third time around.

An Associated Press sampling of opinion shows that many senators and representatives give such legislation "poor" or "doubtful" chances of passing.

Attempts to regulate the loan industry were made in the regular session of the legislature and again in the first special session. The complex problem couldn't be solved in this four-month period, and some legislators predicted doom if the problem is submitted by Gov. Price Daniel at the 30-day session.

COMPLICATED

The problem of regulating the loan industry is more complicated than mere regulation. The problem also encompasses enforcement of any new law, what amount constitutes a "small loan", and what interest rates and charges are necessary for companies to continue in business.

Daniel has indicated he wants to get the legislature started on escheat law changes to cover banking institutions before he submits another subject such as loan legislation. Daniel's newest adversary, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, has asked that Daniel make loan regulation top priority, rather than escheat legislation.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola said the legislature should not be burdened with the loan issue at the special session. "If anything is passed, it will simply be a 'peopled fooler' and not good legislation," Hinson said.

ONLY ISSUE

Rep. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock said "I had hoped that this would be the only issue submitted to the special session, since I consider it the most pressing. However, with the number of issues that apparently will be submitted, I doubt if any agreement can be reached on loan shark legislation."

Rep. Charles Whitfield of House predicted a loan regulation bill "will die in the Senate." The House, in previous sessions, has passed loan legislation, but it was killed by the Senate, mainly because of vigorous objections over the rates of interest contained in the bill.

Rep. Donald Roberts of Hillsboro said passage is "very doubtful." His reason is "there seems to be very little agreement on this issue among the loan people."

SMALL FIRMS

Many legislators feel that the major abuses of charging unlawful rates of interest come from the small-small loan companies—those making loans under $100. Others feel small loans should be regulated up to $3,000 and $5,000.

Once the problem of what size is agreed upon, next comes the interest rate, and whether any other charges will be allowed.

Small lenders argued during legislative hearings last March that it took as much personnel to maintain a $100 loan as it did to keep track of a $1,000 loan. This means a higher interest rate would be necessary to keep the company in business.

FROZEN

The present limit on loan interest is 10 per cent because it was frozen at the old constitutional maximum. The voters approved a constitutional revision, but the legislature first must enact a new law.

However, loan companies require in many cases that the borrower take out "credit insurance." This is insurance on his life or disability, which would render him unable to pay the debt and serves as a protection to the company.

Opponents of credit insurance argue that it serves only as a subterfuge to gain more profit for the company.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office expects the largest single mail load in history today as the 1961 Christmas rush hits its peak.

Royal Typewriters Make Good Presents

Typewriters have come a long way in the past few years. Time was when a typewriter was a strictly utilitarian device, designed to produce readable letters and about as attractive in appearance as a sad iron.

They were fine for what they were intended but not what madam would approve as a touch of decor for her lovely home. Not so any longer.

Typewriters used to be uniformly black in color, devoid of graceful lines and utterly lacking in the basic elements of beauty. Today's typewriters come in every color of the rainbow. They are designed to offer the artistic appeal of a piece of sculpture. Instead of detracting from the appearance of a room, they add to its attractiveness.

Thomas Typewriter Company, 101 Main, has a colorful and eye-catching display of modern Royal typewriters. Royal typewriters are not only the most attractive typewriters in the business but they are the most efficient, and durable of all such machines. Royals are highly popular with folk who make daily use of typewriters and smart secretaries everywhere ask their bosses to buy Royals when typewriters are needed for the office.

Royal typewriters make excellent and pleasing Christmas gifts. Portable or regular, standard or electric—you can't go wrong if you buy a Royal.

Maybe you are out of touch with typewriters.

Maybe you haven't had a chance to see the improvements that Royal offers.

Why not drop by 101 Main Street and look over the display of typewriters Thomas has on hand.

Why not buy one for your own use and another as a Christmas present for that particular someone who wants to give a really important gift?

AEC Announces Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has announced its seventh underground nuclear explosion since the United States began its current series of tests.

The detonation Sunday was carried out at the AEC's Nevada test site and was described as a low yield blast. This would indicate a force equivalent of up to 5,000 tons of TNT.

Paint Must Be Canned

The final step in the preparation of paints at the Cactus Paint Company is putting the mixtures into the bright containers characteristic of Cactus. Paint is offered in all convenient sizes. Austin Turner, a canner for the firm, is shown filling gallon containers. It was previously mixed in batches of 50 gallons or more. Quality control is maintained by constant observation by personnel during paint preparation and use of machines where possible.

Cactus Makes Paint To Meet Requirements Of West Texas

Perhaps the most important aspect of paint is its ability to meet requirements of the locale in which it will be used. Without this, quality paint loses much of its usefulness.

Cactus Paint Company, located about one mile east of Big Spring on US 80 east, has dedicated its years of work into manufacturing a quality paint. At the same time, it has done everything possible to make that paint fit the requirements of West Texas.

Sunlight, sandstorms, fumes and gases from industrial plants all affect paint. Cactus insists that only the highest quality materials go into manufacture and that added measures be taken to protect against these hazards so paint will retain its original beauty as long as possible.

A complete line of interior, exterior and industrial maintenance finishes are offered by Cactus Paint Co. The range of colors is unlimited. A great variety of colors is offered and it can be custom-made to fit any need or match any color.

A carefully planned series of tests is run on each ingredient which goes into the paint production and the final product is again double-checked to insure that it meets the high standards required by the firm. Tony Bozich, chemist, is in charge of this testing program.

Customers at the store are received in an atmosphere of pleasant business. C. E. Campbell, manager, or Rodney Roberts, production manager, is available for service or special consultation about paint problems at almost any hour of the day.

The professional painter will find he needs only one stop at Cactus Paint to fill his paint and associated supplies needs. The amateur is assured of quality in his selection of paints, brushes, rollers, additives and other supplies.

Cactus Paint Company is a home-owned operation and currently employs 15 persons to care for the needs of Big Springers and the area.

Flying Boat Forced Down At Sea

Seven persons cling to a water-logged PBV flying boat that was forced down near the Bahamas Islands reefs because of motor trouble. A. Kennedy's Success Boosts U. S. Policy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Kennedy's reception in his bold venture into Latin America—particularly the wildly happy outpouring in Bogota—can prove an important shot in the arm for U.S. policy.

Here Kennedy put this challenge to the wealthy class of Latin America: Reform yourselves or face violent revolution and destruction.

This is a challenge to peaceful revolution many young Latin Americans have been waiting to hear, and Kennedy has told them the Alliance for Progress stands ready to lead it.

The Kennedy journey, despite some gloomy advance prophecies of disaster, took on a look of success likely to go a long way in persuading Congress to foot bills for the Alliance program.

The results of the trip must be painful to Communists and followers of Cuba's Fidel Castro.

The trip could have resulted in headaches for Washington if there had been any show of violence or hostility. There were plenty of possibilities. In Venezuela, the Communists, though small in number, are tightly organized and disciplined.

There were many rumors that Castroists and Communists would try to sabotage the Kennedy trip. Communists boasted in Caracas they would stage something spectacular. It never came off.

This indicates the Communists and Castroists do not have it so

Capt. C. A. Smith Speaks To Club

FORSAN (SC) — Capt. Charles A. Smith, Webb Air Force Base Information Officer, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Forsan Service Club held Thursday night at the Forsan School.

His subject was the training program for U. S. pilots, including jet training. Capt. Smith showed a film about the T-38 jet aircraft.

A barbecue turkey dinner was served. The next meeting has been scheduled Jan. 11.

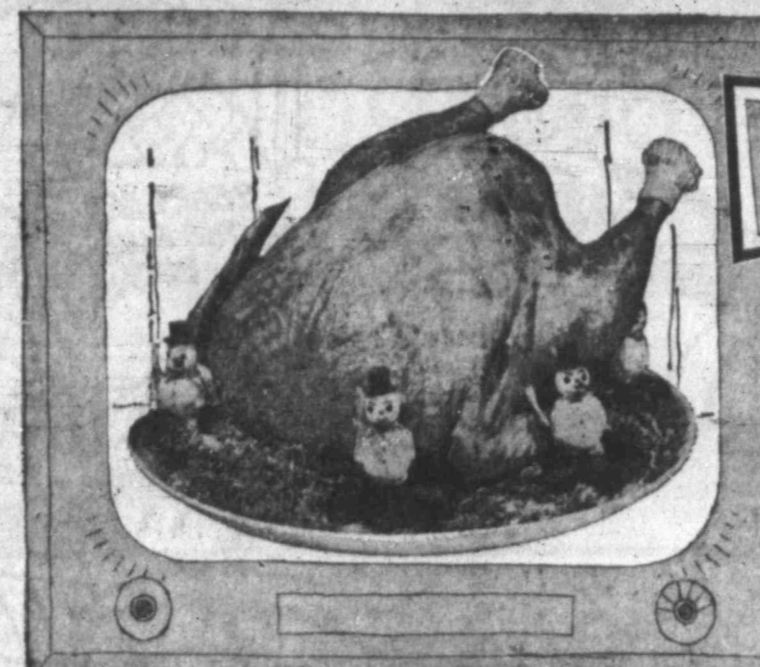

easy as might be suspected from the noise they make. It also suggests room exists for bold action in Latin America such as the President undertook with his journey.

Extremists faced a dilemma. To act was dangerous. Not to act was to give the Yankees an opportunity to dramatize their Alliance program to Latin Americans and score a propaganda victory.

Communists apparently decided on the side of caution. In Bogota's case there seems little doubt the Communists themselves issued orders against demonstrations, probably certain in advance such acts would fall in the face of President Alberto Lleras Camargo's security precautions.

Had the Communists persisted in an attempt, it would have given Lleras Camargo, who rules under state of siege powers, the chance to round up Red leaders. In the second place, there is a real affection for the Kennedys among Colombians. Communists stood to lose, locally at least, more than they might gain by trying to kick up a fuss. Many of the Castro extremists were rounded up in advance of the visit and held in jail.

NOVEMBER AUTO SALES SET RECORD

Good News from Dodge!
Prices on all DODGE DART models are lower than last year

More new cars were sold this November than in any other November in automotive history. Industry sales are booming at a record rate.

Before you buy any new car, check your dependable Dodge Dealer. Check the new size Dodge Dart, actually priced up to $71 less than last year's comparable model.

COMPARE DART'S NEW LOW PRICE
FORD FAIRLANE	$2079
MERCURY METEOR	$2203
THE NEW SIZE DODGE DART	$2241
CHEVY BISCAVNE	$2324
FORD GALAXIE	$2378

The 1962 Dart is a totally new kind of Dodge automobile. Two feet shorter than America's largest car. Two feet longer than the smallest. Dart is sized right in the middle of the big and little.

You get maneuverability without sacrifice of comfort or room. You get both gasoline economy and outstanding performance.

'62 DODGE DART!

The Dart standard six cylinder engine is the most powerful in the business. Its standard V8 develops more horsepower and torque than anything near its price.

Dart is comfortable. (Chair-high seats.) It is extremely easy to handle and park. (New low-friction steering gear.) And like every Dodge before it, completely dependable. The body is rustproofed. The brakes adjust themselves. You can go 32,000 miles between grease jobs.

The 1962 Dodge Dart is now, without question, the best buy on the market. See it. Drive it today.

A Devotional for Today

She brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. (Luke 2:7.)

PRAYER: Our Father, cleanse our hearts of all sin, preparing them to be fit dwelling places for Thy blessed Son. Keep us faithful to Him, that He may always dwell with us. In His name. Amen.

(From The Upper Room)

Where Does It Start And Stop?

There is an interesting aspect to the blue laws imposed by the last session of the legislature. In this area as well as in most places, officers, frequently with the encouragement of business operators, have taken a hands-off attitude.

We say interesting because this involves not merely the question of a law which may have been punitive or selective in intent, but because the principle of selectivity in enforcement is involved.

Nor is this question restricted to the blue laws. Indeed, it is spread, to a varying degree, among the warp and woof of the administration of our statutes. The speeder summarily gets a ticket; the person annoyed by disturbance may be told to sign a complaint "and we'll see what can be done."

Now where does this start and where does it stop? And isn't the line extremely fine between judging and administering when it comes to an individual choice of charging or of requiring an independent complaint? Admittedly, the requirement that John Q. Public sign a complaint is a convenient test of sincerity that screens out a lot of nuisances, but there must be utmost care not to allow it to become wholly a screen of convenience.

Some laws involve the security and safety of body and property; others are regulatory. Perhaps there is a distinction here, but again at what point does the line between them become nebulous?

There is no easy answer. The matter, like so many others, may be basically one of attitude. If this be so, the pitfall to guard against is that of taking the line of least resistance or least annoyance.

More Park Support Needed

The financially conservative Texas Research League's report recommending more support for the operation and development of the state parks system should help move legislators to reappraise the stepchild status long suffered by the system in biennial budgets.

The system, which the league report called "a questionable asset in its present condition," needs better field management, long-range planning and a much larger program of permanent improvements, and revised acquisition policy. But the tax money which these things will cost should be looked upon as a blue-chip investment in the state's economic growth.

A greatly improved state parks system would make Texas a better place to live in, a more rewarding place to work and do business in, and a place more attractive to tourists. As the league report points out, improved parks would directly collect more revenue from visitors, partially offsetting the program's cost. The state also would benefit directly from higher tourist-traffic tax revenues, especially that from the gasoline sales levy.

The Texas Highway Department has estimated that the state's tourist trade has dropped from 10.3 million visitors spending $531 million in 1947 to 8.6 million spending $457 million in 1960. Meanwhile, state park attendance has doubled from three million in 1956 to six million in 1960 and should double again in the current decade. The obvious inference is that even the inadequate existing parks helped prevent a worse lag in tourist trade and that a better park program would be a big factor in revitalizing trade.

David Lawrence Policy On Wage-Price Problem

WASHINGTON—The public reads about big strikes and suffers acutely from them. But what the public doesn't know is the truth about the hokey and misleading claims that convince millions of wage-earners that they are being bamboozled and deserve wage increases even when management really can't afford them.

SO IT IS pertinent to take note of a significant pronouncement just made by the Secretary of Labor, Arthur Goldberg, who puts his finger on the need to take into account a very important set of facts, even though he doesn't explain how to get them.

Mr. Goldberg discusses the subject of financial benefits from "productivity" and avows what labor leaders rarely avow—that these gains should be divided three ways, that is, they should be shared by the workers, the owners, and the public in the form of lower prices.

BUT WHO IS to say what the division should be? Certainly stockholders should be given at least a fair return on their investments, and they will not furnish more capital to companies that don't have good earnings. The public should be given lower prices wherever possible. The workers should be given in increased wages a part of the money saved through their own increased "productivity."

It turns out, however, that the labor unions usually demand almost all of the benefits from increased "productivity," including gains from new machinery, sometimes even though they have played only a small part in the increased efficiency. The additional wages demanded by the unions often cost more than the entire increased benefit in money from "productivity." In the last steel wage settlement, for example, workers got substantial increases, but "productivity" still is below the pre-strike figure in 1959.

MUCH IS HEARD, too, about the "average rate of productivity." One company may have a 10 per cent increase, and another may have only one or two per cent or none at all, but the "average" for the industry becomes the yardstick for wage increases according to labor-union leaders. Also, if the steel industry is loaded with orders in the months before a threatened strike—as it was in the latter part of 1958 and during a large part of 1959—the total volume goes up. "Productivity" measured by such a year is then used as a basis for computing the wage rates for a succeeding year no matter how low production itself might fall. Profits may go down later, but wages never.

IN THE LIGHT of such conditions, the latest statement by the Secretary of Labor is germane to the discussion. Writing to the Washington "Post," he said that, since that paper had interpreted his own speeches and comments at the AFL-CIO convention as giving strong support to the President's policy on wages and prices while the New York "Times" had construed his speech "as taking a soft line toward that policy, some words of clarification are required." He added:

"I want to make it very plain, as I have repeatedly said to labor and to management groups, that we in this country must do everything within our power to prevent inflation and maintain price stability. Since we do not want wage and price controls imposed in our free economic system, it requires responsible collective bargaining to achieve this.

"EVERY ECONOMIST believes that economic gains for both labor and management must be earned by increases in productivity. This means that these gains should be shared by the workers, the owners and the public. Within the framework of our potential national productivity, all three can benefit.

"Further, we must keep competitive in world markets and keep our money sound. This means that we cannot afford the luxury of restrictive practices on the part of labor or management which impair efficiency and productivity. It also means that automation must be encouraged.

"IN UNRESTRICTED and protectionist trade policies must be avoided since they will retard our economy, not stimulate it. Also, we must be careful not to throttle business profits from which new enterprises and plants grow and provide new jobs.

"These are the things which I attempted to say to the AFL-CIO in my prepared remarks, my extemporaneous ones, and in the press conference which followed my speech.

"MY REFERENCE to inequities was to state that even wage and price controls have recognized in war time the fact that all industries and companies do not progress at the same rate and that there are inequities present in both industry and labor at any given point in history. It is these inequities to which I referred. I also believe, as I stated, that they can be adjusted within the framework of overall increases in productivity.

"My position on these subjects is not a new one. It is the same one expressed by Dr. Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, and in strong support of the President in his efforts to prevent inflation and maintain price stability.

"THESE ARE THE things I tried to say to the AFL-CIO. I believe that my whole remarks reflect these thoughts accurately."

One point in the above needs to be underlined and repeated again and again: "The fact that all industries and companies do not progress at the same rate and that there are inequities present in both industry and labor at any given point in history."

But labor-union negotiators do not accept this as a "fact of life." The present system of industry-wide bargaining, moreover, virtually destroys all opportunity to remove inequities between companies, thus aiding the larger units and often forcing the smaller ones out of business.

Nehru's No Saint, After All

WASHINGTON (AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru, who made himself the world's No. 1 holier-than-thou moralizer and man of peace, can no longer act as the conscience of mankind.

He ranged from critical to indignant when Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt, when the Soviet Union crushed the Hungarian revolt, and when the United States backed the rebel invasion of Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Now, after Sunday's Indian invasion of tiny Portuguese Goa, he is in the same boat with those he condemned. Goa has 1,537 square miles and 650,000 people on the southwest coast of India, a nation that has 450 million people.

NEHRU MAY have achieved greatness in a number of ways as an Indian leader. But he has preached peace and avoidance of force so much that he has created an unreal image of himself.

When he was Mohandas Gandhi's disciple he accepted the master's doctrine of nonviolence as a political weapon simply because it happened to be the right policy at the time India was seeking freedom from Britain.

It was not something he believed in absolutely. He explained once: "The majority of us, I take it, judge the issues not on moral but on practical grounds, and if we reject the way of violence it is because it promises no substantial results."

THIS IS THE doctrine of opportunism. Taking Goa promised substantial results because it would be easy. Far-off Portugal could hardly make war on India to hold its possessions.

The results if India had attacked Red China would look very much less substantial since the Communists have 650 million people and a far greater military force.

Since 1959, when Red China occupied about 12,000 square miles of Indian territory — almost 9 times the size of Goa — Nehru simply has argued.

Nehru has been under great pressure in anticolonial India to seize Goa, which Portugal took in 1510 and still holds as a colony. Next year is election year in India for Nehru and his Congress party.

THE PRIME minister ignored President Kennedy's plea of last Thursday to avoid the use of force.

This was a switch for Nehru, who in the past could always be relied on to deplore the use of force anywhere. He has now adopted the philosophy that might makes right.

It wasn't Nehru's only switch. Portugal has no more right to Goa than Britain had to India or France to Indochina. All three took territory because they had the power to and held the native people under thumb.

This was imperialism. Nehru has been a life-long foe of it. But his action against Goa also is imperialism, although he may call it liberation.

If all this seems a contradiction in the man, perhaps it can be understood by this statement by Frank Moraes, an Indian journalist who knew Nehru a long time and five years ago wrote the story of his life: "It is interesting to see how his mind persuades his conscience of many things."

It explains how he can make a complete turnabout in six years. In 1955, when some Indians suggested taking Goa wasn't much of a military problem, Nehru drew back from the thought of war.

"The fact that a war is a little war doesn't make it less of a war," he said.

Then Sunday he made war, although it was a pretty safe kind of war.

Hal Boyle Test Of Popularity

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One test of your popularity is the number of Christmas cards you get. If you're average, you should receive at least 16 of the 3 billion seasonal cards mailed this month.

Incidentally, the first U.S. commercial Christmas card was created by Louis Prang, a Boston lithographer, in 1873. It depicted a budding rose.

Marital statistics: About 20,000 teen-age girls marry each year, but only about 30,000 teen-age boys.

One price of prosperity: Americans spent $146 million for headache-type pain relievers in 1955. In 1960 they spent $240 million.

Royal vanity: Elizabeth, empress of Russia, was so fond of the color pink she made it a crime for any other woman in her empire to wear it.

We are justly proud of our medical progress, but nine nations still have lower infant death rates than the United States. They are Sweden, Holland, Australia, Norway, Switzerland, Britain, Denmark, New Zealand and Finland.

Our quotable notables: "Fun is like life insurance: The older you get, the more it costs."—Kin Hubbard.

The Dorset Country Club in Miami plans to introduce something new in American golfing next month—girl caddies. In France and Japan women caddies monopolize the field.

History lesson: Horse racing long has been known as "the sport of kings." The first monarch to establish his own stable was Henry VIII of England, also famous for his love of palace fillies.

Nature notes: The venom of a black widow spider is 15 times as potent as that of a rattlesnake. That old myth about eagles carrying off human toddlers just isn't true. Adult eagles weigh about 12 pounds and can lift only about 7 pounds.

Wisecrack of the week: Actor Oscar Homolka tells of the rich African chief who bought himself a two-tone vehicle—a zebra.

Fear of automation isn't new. In 1851 when Bartholomew Thimmonier, a manufacturer of French military uniforms, tried to introduce the first sewing machines into his Paris factory, 300 tailors rioted and burned his plant.

You just can't escape those commercials! A new talking scale now delivers a sales pitch along with your correct weight.

Europe and French Algeria produce four-fifths of the world's supply of wines. But in 1960 the average adult American drank only one and two thirds bottles of table wine.

The surface of the moon is arid, but scientists believe they can obtain some water by literally boiling rocks and condensing the resultant moisture vapors.

To Your Good Health Breast Cancer A Deadly Disease Of Women

Dear Dr. Molner: I had cancer of the breast, it was removed some months ago. I go to my doctor for a check every so often, but all he does is examine the incision and the remaining breast. I feel that he should do more.

What does a Papanicolaou test cover?—Mrs. E. B.

Breast cancer is one of the deadliest of diseases of women. Detected early, it results increasingly in cures. The deadly cases are the ones that aren't treated soon enough because women see the signs but ignore them or try to argue themselves into believing that "it's something else."

The majority of cases of breast cancer SHOULD be cured. They will be, if people don't try to fool themselves.

As to examination after a successful operation, what should be done? Well, a surgeon usually has a pretty good idea of whether the operation has been permanently successful. A pretty good idea, I said. He can, and of course will, remove every detectable trace of the disease. But there is no way yet known to be positive that some invisibly small scrap of the disease does not remain — to cause future trouble. Surgery is a painstaking process, but statistics prove it is successful.

The only safe course afterward is to keep on looking, for several years, for any sign of recurrence. If any lump, any fault in healing, or lesion in or near the area, is found, a prompt biopsy can show whether it is benign or whether it demands immediate removal.

That is all anyone can do: Watch, and act at once.

The Papanicolaou test is not applicable here. It is based on the fact that in certain areas of the body a cancer may start on the mucous membrane surfaces — mainly this still means the cervix, but efforts are being made to apply the same principle to other mucous surfaces.

In such instances, swabbing the surfaces will pick up some of the tissue cells. If they are cancerous, this becomes apparent under a microscope.

No, your doctor isn't neglecting you. He is doing all that can be done — and it should be comforting for you to know that you have every reason to be optimistic. Disaster strikes when you aren't watching. Safety comes from remaining steadily alert.

"Dear Sir: I had a badly abscessed tooth and my dentist gave me aureomycin by mouth. A few days later my tongue became noticeably brown. My family doctor said I had a "hairy tongue," or a fungus condition sometimes caused by antibiotics. I had never heard of this. I am not rid of it yet and my tongue burns.

—Mrs. J. H.

This is one of the side effects from antibiotics that bothers some individuals. "Hairy tongue" is a form of glossitis, or irritation of the tongue. The situation should correct itself in time; in some cases taking the whole B-complex vitamin group by mouth helps.

NOTE TO M.C.: No, there is no vaccine for shingles, nor for chickenpox. Sorry. I wish we had them. But there are many things I wish we had, but we don't — yet.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Purcell Arrival Was Made Legal

Not too many years ago, Graham B. Purcell Jr., a young jurist who now is running for a Congressional seat in the Wichita Falls area, was practicing law in Big Spring.

WHEN HIS second son, Kirk Boynton Purcell, made his appearance into the world, Graham circulated news of the birth with a very legal looking document, entitling it "In the District Court of the Happy Family in and for the Purcell District," identifying the paper as "Civil Action No. 2." Kirk Boynton himself was properly identified as "a very minor, brother of Blaine Smith Purcell."

The phraseology of the very legal-looking document terminated with:

"IT IS HEREBY ordered and decreed that you desist from the carrying on of all mundane business, that you set aside for naught all excuses, that you forthwith betake yourself to the home of the said Graham B. Purcell Jr., and Betty Smith Purcell, at the earliest possible moment, then and there to inspect this Kirk Boynton Purcell, and after having observed said parents, who will be conspicuous somewhere on said premises, that you show cause, if any there be, why the said Graham B. Purcell Jr., and Betty Smith Purcell should not be proud and happy over the addition to their family of the said Kirk Boynton Purcell."

The document was duly signed by A. Busy Stork (judge.)

EVER WONDER how they paint flag poles? Whether they paint from the bottom up, or the top down?

A man with a lot of experience at such an endeavor says that he does neither, that he employs a vertical stroke. He paints in a circle, that way makes the pole seem shorter.

THE PAINTERS on some of the really tall flag poles wisely use a bos'n's chair to get the job done and they say they don't worry when they're at their task.

One veteran at the job explains: "If you do, you don't last."

The only way I'd agree to paint a flag pole would be to plant it near a ferris wheel and get it on the way by. Even then someone else would have to paint the middle.

J. A. Livingston SBIC No Cinch Investment

WASHINGTON — Like a proud father, whose son has just returned from school with his first black eye, Sen. John J. Sparkman (Dem. Ala.) cheerfully told the third annual meeting of the National Association of Small Business Investment Companies: "There are signs that this new industry is making progress. You are being attacked."

After years of trying, Sparkman and others interested in small business finally fathered the Small Business Investment Act through Congress in the hot, humid months of the summer of 1958. Immediately, ho-hum dormancy.

LAWYERS, accountants, and investment bankers studied the ins and outs and advantages of the new law. Few companies were started until last year. Then the "gold rush." And now, at last, recognition: Criticism.

More than 430 companies have been established, with assets of more than $400,000,000, of which the Small Business Administration provided about $50,000,000 in government funds. SBICs, despite government sponsorship, are still essentially a very private business.

"ONLY WHEN you do nothing can you escape criticism," said Sen. Sparkman, and immediately he, himself, warned that the purpose of the act was to help business men who had plenty of energy, imagination, and ambition, but not enough capital.

To encourage the development of small business investment trusts, Congress passed two important tax concessions. An SBIC can write off all investment losses directly against income, yet can treat its investment profits as capital gains. Also, investors in SBICs are permitted to write off their investment losses against regular income.

THIS HAS induced many tax-conscious accountants and lawyers to form SBICs and many investors to buy SBIC stocks. However, nobody has yet got rich taking losses.

All newly-formed SBICs, and they're all new, face this dilemma: If early investments are in companies that require nurturing for years, capital will be quickly frozen.

Therefore, SBIC operators in the early stages look for companies likely to attain quick earning power so that the stocks of these companies can be sold to investors, thus bailing out the SBIC.

AFTER ONE or two successes, the SBIC will have some fat — some surplus — to sit on while nursing "slow" situations. Small businesses seldom take less than three to five years to mature into marketable possibilities. And many wind up long before that as Dun & Bradstreet statistics — without benefit of flowers.

Some accountants and lawyers and builders, dazzled by tax concessions and cheap (5 per cent) government money, are trying to operate minimum — capital (about $300,000) companies as a sideline. That can't be done for long. Such companies will have to get bigger or get out of the business.

IF SUCH a company makes two or three long-gance investments requiring five years to work out, it's frozen. Yet, if it doesn't make such investments, it's not using government funds as Congress intended and will be wide open to rebuke.

Many persons have gone into SBIC thinking they can sit back and wait for the big chance. Oh, yeah! SBIC success (as in any business) will come through hard grubbing and careful investigation to find the right man with the right product at the right time.

It's a new business, hurry is no virtue. It's a lot easier for an SBIC to rush into a small business opportunity than out of it.

Holmes Alexander Holes In The Federal Air Policy

WASHINGTON — "Killer airlines" seldom die. They change their names, but not their natures, and often they go back into business with the same men in the front offices, the flight lines and the cockpits. Before very long, there is another airplane catastrophe, killing from 50 to 80 civilians, military personnel or military dependents, and rarely does anybody state the reason why.

YET THERE is a special reason why, although the basic reason is, of course, that flying has inherent risks—as do all other forms of motion. The reason he can't find all but a few, unavoidable, law-of-average plane crashes is lack of financial stability and responsibility of the companies which operate the planes.

This is not to say that only big, rich companies should be allowed to operate air services. Far from that. Some of the big, rich companies occasionally have a lapse of conscience or vigilance, also. They neglect to equip their planes with the latest air safety devices, or they overinvest in a bad plane, and won't admit it. As sure as shooting, a disaster will follow. No, the criterion is not wealth and prominence in airline companies—it is a sense of responsibility which causes a firm, large or small, to operate within its financial resources.

THERE ARE so many tragic proofs of this thesis that it is unfair to mention past offenders by name without mentioning all offenders—which is impossible. But the way to prevent recurrence of preventable accidents is for Congress to give the government better legislation with sharper teeth, and for the government agencies to apply the laws without fear or favor.

AT THIS writing, Congress has been remiss. Last session, the Senate passed an air policy bill by Senator Monroney which was thought by many to be too lax on the independent airlines. The House passed a stricter bill by Congressman John Bell Williams. The two bills went into a Senate-House Conference and never emerged. It is the duty of the 87th Congress to come up with a law which protects the public (not just business interests, labor unions, pilots' associations and individuals) before some makeshift legislation expires in March.

THE GOVERNMENT has been remiss. The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) is charged with passing on the financial ability of all route-traveling and supplemental (formerly non-scheduled) airlines. But there are supplemental lines which everybody in the business knows to be financially infirm. They own few, sometimes no, planes of their own, but lease them when able to wrangle a flight contract. These companies do not have the money to pay for fuel, except on a flight-to-flight basis. Much less are they able to pay for expensive replacement parts. They are not very choosy about their pilots and crews. The case histories on file at the CAB make scandalous reading. Something over a year ago an Oakland (Cal.) college football squad was killed at Toledo by a pilot who was appealing the suspension of his license and whom the company permitted to fly passengers after allegedly firing him. As the case history reads, the pilot did not feel he could obligate the company to hire a bus to return the boys to a hotel, and for that reason seemingly decided to take off in zero-zero weather. Financial insecurity was the root of the disaster, yet the CAB allowed this company to stay in business. One whole class of contract carriers—known as part 45 carriers—do not have to prove financial stability at all.

THE FEDERAL Aviation Agency (FAA) certifies all planes and pilots. Close to one-half of the plane accidents occur from pilot error, which suggests that this is an area for a lot more work. Not long ago, a U. S. Senator defended the right of an epileptic to fly as a private pilot in the crowded air. The Senator contended that individuals had a right to kill themselves in airplanes if they wanted to. This is carrying individual rights to the point where it becomes a public menace, and the government should have no patience with such arguments.

THE OLD bureaucratic game of passing-the-buck often prevents the true cause of airplane accidents from being exposed, and the situation righted. Until the fatal crash which took the lives of 74 Army recruits at Richmond, the Pentagon took the position that an FAA-certified airline was good enough. Today, the Pentagon takes full responsibility by requiring Military Air Transport Service (MATS) to do the certifying. The Military Traffic Management Agency blames the local recruiting personnel when recruits are placed upon a doomed plane. The buck goes around and around.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

She Discusses The Teen-Agers' Problem

HOLLYWOOD — Because Christmas is in the air, Annette Gorman decided she would treat herself to something special for lunch.

"Like so many teen-agers, I have to watch my diet or my face breaks out," she explained. "It is not so easy to realize that what you put inside of you is as important as what you put on your skin."

"When I first began having bumps on my face, I thought it came from not removing all of my make-up. But when I wasn't working, I left off the make-up and my skin didn't clear. I went to see a doctor and he gave me a list of foods that I should not eat. The hardest thing to stay away from is chocolate. I'm not too fond of seafood so I didn't mind giving up fried shrimp, but I did mind not having fried foods and potato chips."

"After following his advice, my skin cleared and I still use a medicated liquid soap that he recommended. And my skin has been good ever since."

"I told Annette that I had enjoyed "Five Finger Exercise" in London, but that I was looking forward to seeing it on film.

"I got the part because the director said I didn't look like an actress," she explained. "I think you have plenty of time for using lots of make-up when you grow older, and I really haven't wanted to look older than I am."

We talked about forming good habits when you are young, and how many young girls learn beauty secrets from their mothers. "I am partial to unscented castor oil. It is wonderful for the cuticle. If you rub it in a few times a week you never have any hangnails, and it seems to help my nails grow. I also like to use it on my eyelashes, and if you have any callouses on your heels or elbows, it really helps soften them," she concluded.

Houston Oilers Sweep Eastern AFL Division With Nine Straight

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
Houston Oilers have won nine in a row and are champions of the American Football League's Eastern Division.

Sunday's results indicated that they could pretty well count on making it 10 in a row before winding up the 1961 season. San Diego's Chargers don't look like they will offer much resistance when the clubs clash at San Diego next Sunday for the league championship.

Houston ran over Oakland 47-15 in a record-making day and this was expected but when San Diego was beaten 41-0 by Boston it caused league officials to blanch. San Diego sewed up the Western Division championship long ago but was beaten by Houston 33-13. Since then the Chargers have looked about like Houston did before it took stock of itself, brought in a new coach and started off on a nine-game winning streak.

San Diego had some injuries but the Chargers never complained about them when they were roaring through 11 straight games before meeting Houston. Definitely there's something wrong with the really fine team of a month ago.

Giants Aiming At Green Bay Match

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Giants, rebuilt by trades, rookies and a first-year coach, are champions of the National Football League's Eastern Conference for the fourth time in six years and aiming at the title game against Green Bay's powerful Packers at Green Bay on Dec. 31.

It will be a replay of a regular season meeting at Milwaukee, Dec. 3, which the Packers won 20-17, but rookie coach Alie Sherman of New York thinks the result may be different.

"Green Bay is the best club we've played," Sherman said after the Giants wrapped up the title Sunday in a 7-7 tie with the Cleveland Browns at Yankee Stadium. "But we'll be better next time, both physically and mentally. We'll be loose from now on."

The Giants may shudder for a day or two before they "loosen up," regardless of what Sherman may think. Except for a flubbed pass by sure-handed Ray Renfro, the New Yorkers would instead be spending this week getting ready for a division playoff with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Green Bay 11-3, which clinched the Western Division title two weeks ago, closed out with a 24-17 triumph over Los Angeles; Washington snapped a 23-game winless streak, 34-24, over Dallas; St. Louis blanked Pittsburgh 20-0; and the Chicago Bears, with Billy Wade coming off the bench and passing for 355 yards and four touchdowns, whipped Minnesota 52-15 in other season closing games. Baltimore edged San Francisco 27-24 Saturday afternoon in their closer.

Results included:

Fry Names Two Of SMU Coaches

DALLAS (AP) — Hayden Fry, the new head football coach of Southern Methodist, has already completed part of his staff and also set up plans for recruiting.

Fry, the Arkansas assistant coach who was named to succeed Bill Meek Saturday, came here over the weekend and held his first press conference Sunday.

He announced that Herman Morgan would remain as freshman coach and head the recruiting program and that Dudley Parker would continue on the staff as an assistant and would work with the backfield.

WEEK OF DECISION

Basketball Powers Lay Imposing Records On Line

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
This could be a week of decision for a host of collegiate basketball powers as they put imposing records on the line in an effort to separate the men from the boys.

The ranks of the unbeaten definitely will dwindle with at least two games tonight and Tuesday involving undefeated teams. Several other games on the agenda tonight could produce a surprise or two.

Only one major tournament is scheduled this weekend—the Kentucky Invitational at Lexington, Kansas State, No. 8 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, opposes Xavier of Ohio and Tennessee faces host Kentucky in the opening round Friday night.

Wichita, winner of six of seven starts. An interesting attraction plus seventh-ranked Duke (6-1) at unbeaten West Virginia (6-0). Duke was knocked from the ranks of the undefeated Friday night by Duquesne in the opening round of the Steel Bowl. But the Blue Devils bounced back to wallop Arizona in a warmup for the Kentucky Invitational. The Wildcats proved rule hosts Saturday in subdividing St. John's No. 9 nationally, 65-50. The loss was the touring New Yorkers' first of the campaign.

Over at Midland, athletic director Audrey Gill says Midland Lee may be in its new gym by the time the Rebels open conference basketball play Jan. 9. The gym is considerably larger than is the Midland High fieldhouse. When Midland High's cagers smashed Odessa Ector recently, 63-34, the Bulldogs didn't give the Eagles a single point in the first quarter and led, 17-0, at that stage. Ector is coached by the ex-Big Spring, Moe Madison. The team has been slow in getting started but is due to be a title contender.

Spoils Of The Battle
Delnor Poss, Big Spring High School basketball coach, proudly displays the trophy which the Steers won Saturday in capturing the Del Rio tournament. The surprising Steers were never hard pressed and clipped Sanderson 55-46 to win the title. This gave them a 10-1 record.

West Texas Takes Most Top Berths

By The Associated Press
The schoolboy football race, with more than a share of startling upsets, is at an end with West Texas dominating in championships for the second season in a row.

only Corpus Christi Miller of the South able to break the domination. Miller took the Class AAAA crown, beating Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls won its fifth Class AAAA title when it beat gallant Galena Park 21-14 Saturday.

Coach Joe Golding of Wichita Falls shook his head when he thought about 1962. He will lose all but two of his starters. Larry Shields, the big all-state fullback, and Kelly will be included in the departures.

Albany repeated as Class A champion with an 18-12 triumph over Hull-Daisetta and also finished with the long winning streak in schoolboy football, all classes considered. The Lions have won 29 straight.

Tigers Top Statistics

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, who finished last in team batting with a .239 average in 1960, were the American League pace-setters last season, the official statistics released Sunday disclosed.

The Tigers hit a collective .2663 and edged the Cleveland Indians, who wound up at .2661. The Chicago White Sox were third with .265 followed by New York, 263, Boston and Baltimore .254 each. Minnesota .250, Kansas City .247, Los Angeles .245 and Washington .244.

San Francisco (AP) — Ping Bodie, 74, one of major league baseball's colorful characters four decades ago, died Sunday.

Spec Gammon, the Odessa scribe, says both new head coaches in the Odessa school system, Bradley Mills at Odessa High and Jim Cashion at Permian, face monumental tasks next fall.

TCU Opens Big Coliseum Today

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian University opens a $1,450,000 coliseum tonight when the basketball team plays Centenary.

The new coliseum, named Daniel-Meyer, will seat 7,166. It replaces the wooden field house that burned on the campus eight years ago. TCU has played home basketball games in a high school gym awaiting the construction of the coliseum.

Lakeview Books Two Games Today

Lakeview Junior High school has a pair of games booked for this evening.

Starting at 7 o'clock, the B team will meet its counterpart from Big Lake, and at 8:30 p.m. the A team will square off. Coach Acie Clark's A squad has a 2-2 record, while the B team is off to a slow start with an 0-3 record.

Arkansas Sets The SWC Pace

By The Associated Press
Arkansas, short as basketball teams go these days, set the pace in the Southwest Conference campaign now entering its fourth week with the best inter-sectional showing in years.

pects of perhaps going ahead. Arkansas is down for only one game but it's against the team that beat two conference outfits—Louisiana State. The Tigers whipped Texas Christian and Texas but lost to Rice.

The 6-4 Razorbacks have done the most to make the league look good in competition with the outsiders, winning four of five inter-sectional games. At the same time Arkansas has begun to look like one of the teams to beat for the conference championship.

Arkansas meets Louisiana State at Shreveport Thursday. Texas Tech also has only one game, taking on Oklahoma at Lubbock Tuesday night.

Sophs Place Second In GC Tourney

Big Spring High School sophomores captured second place in the Garden City tournament Saturday, losing out in the finals to Stanton 59-49.

Texas also joined the list of beaten teams last week and the Longhorns did it twice, losing to Louisiana State 77-75 and then dropping their opening game in the Blue Grass Tournament to Louisville 76-60 but winning third place by taking down Western Kentucky 78-60.

Charles West, one of the mainstays of the sophoms, was placed on the all-tournament team along with McReynolds, Stanton, Sybert, Garden City, Exparza, Imperial.

Southern Methodist plays Alabama and Vanderbilt; Rice takes on Vandy, Creighton and Drake; Texas Christian meets Centenary and Oklahoma City and Baylor tackles Tulane and Georgia Tech in other inter-sectional games on the week's schedule.

The second round victory was costly for the sophoms, for Baxter Moore turned his ankle midway in the second quarter and was lost for the balance of the tournament.

Arkansas beat Oklahoma State 63-54 and Mississippi 59-54 last week to strengthen the suspicion that Glen Rose has a better basketball team in the Ozarks than he has let on. Tech blasted Loyola 87-77 in its only game.

In the final round, the sophoms, coached by Jimmy Marcus, came through on their assignment to watch Herb Sorley and Buddy Gillespie, Stanton aces, closely, but Bob Stephenson and Ronnie McReynolds got hot as a pistol with 21 points each. Stanton led by 15 points at the half, saw it dwindle to 7 at the end of the third, then went into a stall and got the margin back up as the sophs went into a press.

Jerry Carlton of Arkansas has pushed into the scoring lead. The 6-1 Razorback has 109 points for an 18.1 average.

Adams Gets Promotion

L. D. Adams, 25, who has been with the Big Spring Police Department since Oct. 1, 1958, has been appointed sergeant on Capt. L. A. Hillbrunner's shift, by Chief Jay Banks. The appointment is effective immediately to replace Jack Hackney, former sergeant, who resigned Dec. 11.

Firemen Making Final Repairs

Big Spring firemen are on the last lap of repairing, painting, and delivering toys to the Salvation Army distribution building at Main and Sixth. Everything has to be in the warehouse, ready for sorting, labeling and packaging, for delivery to needy children by Wednesday evening, Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said Monday.

Three To Jail

Two men pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and a third to a charge of carrying a pistol when they were arraigned before Judge Ed Carpenter in County Court Monday.

Active Year For Dawson SCS

LAMESA (SC) — Thirty-three new soil and water conservation plans were written for 7,997 acres in Dawson County this year, according to the annual report of the Soil Conservation District Office.

In addition, 32 plans were programmed to complete basic projects and 24 old plans were revised. The report, issued recently, also showed that two farm tours were conducted during the year with 100 persons participating. Soil stewardship addresses were heard by 2,500 persons.

More emphasis will be placed on conservation cropping systems, and irrigation and conservation practices will be emphasized to school children next year.

The local district was formed on July 31, 1945, after landowners petitioned the state to form a soil conservation district within the county. W. H. Meeks is the county chairman.

School Board To Pare List

The list of candidates for the post of superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District is due to be pared for the final vote, at a special meeting of trustees tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Administration Building, 100 E. 10th.

After elimination of names at the last two sessions, the list stands at five candidates in addition to Sam M. Anderson, whose contract expires July 31, 1962. At a regular meeting Dec. 12, trustees expressed the hope of cutting the list to a maximum of five before holding interviews or taking other steps which will lead to making a choice.

Names were acquired by asking college officials to submit the names of persons they believed to be the best qualified candidates in the state. Colleges queried were the University of Texas, Texas Tech, the University of Houston, North Texas State, Baylor University and West Texas State.

When all candidates were in, there were 23 choices of college administrators and several unsolicited applications.

Trustees are working toward a deadline of January which they set as the time of selection.

Compton Back

T. J. Compton, district manager for the State Ware Board's Big Spring office, has returned to his desk after five weeks in Austin as instructor for field agents of the department.

Explosion Kills Boy, Ruins Church

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Ala. (AP) — An explosion demolished a rural church and killed a 10-year-old boy who had arrived early for Sunday school. The blast injured five others, including the boy's mother, a brother and a sister.

"There'd have been 75 inside if it had been 15 minutes later," said Russell Morgan, who lives beside the little church in this northeast Alabama community.

Morgan's nephew, David Morgan, was killed in the explosion, which occurred when the Sunday school superintendent, John Sizemore, tried to light a heater.

'Sweet' Gas Gags Congregation

HOUSTON (AP) — A sickening sweet gas broke up a Christmas program at a Houston church Sunday night and sent several members of the congregation to hospitals.

About 40 people complained of similar symptoms last year when some sort of gas swept across the nearby city of LaPorte. No one died and few were hospitalized, however. Most of the LaPorte victims described that gas as smelling like new mown hay.

Fair, Crisp For Texas

By The Associated Press
Generally fair skies and crisp temperatures dominated the Texas weather scene Monday as a cold front moving down from the Dakotas aimed its cold boasts at the state. It was expected to enter the Panhandle area tonight or tomorrow.

A dense fog hung on in the northeastern portion of the state and high clouds floated above the Abilene-Wichita Falls area and in the Texas Panhandle.

Scattered showers are forecast for the extreme northeast Tuesday.

Fred Waring, Pennsylvanians On TV Again Christmas Eve

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, the musical aggregation of singers and musicians which has delighted audiences since the early years of television, will be back on TV after an absence of several years for a special Christmas Eve broadcast.

That is a pleasant prospect for Waring fans, but it is also highly ironic.

"Why haven't we been seen on TV recently?" Waring said. "I sort of a bland answer, but the truth is that we were dropped—rejected. Everybody told us we were finished."

"It's been hard to understand. We really were the ones who invented the spectaculars on TV—we did GE spectaculars for years, every Sunday night. All—or practically all—the people who worked for us have been snapped up for television. But they didn't want us, and they said we were through."

The irony, of course, is that with the phenomenal success of "Sing Along with Mitch," on NBC, television is going into another of its cyclic phases. All of a sudden Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians are the subject of new interest.

If Waring's hour show on NBC Dec. 24 comes off with style, it may mean the beginning of a whole new TV career. But Waring, a veteran of 45 years in show business, is not likely to forget his recent experiences with people in the medium.

"It's not only that there aren't many real showmen in television—and there aren't," continued the music master. "There's something completely off balance about the whole thing. Quite frankly, I don't know whether there's enough money in television to support our kind of organization—the economics are unbalanced."

Waring said that his budget for the forthcoming show is far above anything he had in the old days, but that it still isn't big enough to cover adequate rehearsals. "You just can't afford perfection and I don't see how we can get it."

The show will consist of memorable old songs and, although Waring won't urge it, you can sing along if you've gotten the habit.

The weekend TV was mostly run of the mine. There were a few moments Saturday night more suspenseful than any who-dunit.

There was the windup of the very long professional football game between San Francisco and Baltimore on CBS. The game still had a few minutes to go as the clock hit 7:30 (EST). And 7:30 p.m. is Perry Mason time. Would CBS outrage every football fan by going to the courtroom show? Or would CBS infuriate "Perry Mason" fans by staying with the football game? CBS made the brave decision, it stuck with football. All ended happily. The Colts won and nothing much had happened by the time we joined Perry's weekly adventure.

FM Maintenance Measure May Have Little Trouble

By BOB ROOKER
AUSTIN (AP)—When the smoke clears from the Jan. 3 special session, there may be one multi-million dollar bill which glided through the legislature with little fanfare and only minor opposition.

An Associated Press sample opinion poll of legislators indicates that a farm to market road maintenance appropriation bill could have relatively easy going if Gov. Price Daniel submits the topic.

Of more than 50 lawmakers answering the opinion poll, not one said a farm road maintenance bill would not pass, and just four said its chances would be only fair or poor.

"This is a must and I feel confident it will be passed," Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene said.

"It is my understanding many of the difficulties and differences have been pretty well ironed out—I think there's an excellent chance at some good legislation in this field," Rep. Roland Bridges of Corpus Christi said.

Rep. B. H. Dewey Jr. of Bryan said, "we must have $15 million for farm roads reappropriated for 1962-63. I think there is a good chance that some bill diverting part of bond assumption money to maintenance will pass."

The subject came into the political spotlight when Daniel vetoed a $15 million construction item after the first special session. He said then that the roads should not be built if money were not also available for maintenance.

But while the farm people may be having a fairly easy time getting through their farm road bill, the city lawmakers could be in an entirely different situation on an urban bill—city annexation.

Bills to halt the huge municipal land expansion over the state already have been introduced in both houses in the regular and special sessions this year—all with no success.

Of the lawmakers answering the opinion poll, only two said they felt the city annexation bill would pass this special session. Most answers passed off the possibility of its passage with a brief "no."

The fate of both bills will be subject to the progress of the primary topic of the session—abandoned property legislation. Daniel has indicated he will include other topics for consideration only after he sees how the abandoned property bill comes along.
