Anderson Named As Superintendent

The race for superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District was brought to a halt Monday night at a special meeting of trustees with the selection of Sam M. Anderson, present superintendent, for another term.

He was offered a three year contract beginning July 1, 1962 at a salary of $15,000 with a $1,000 increase each year, by a 4-2 vote. Johnny Johnson and Wendall Parks voted against the move.

Anderson became interim superintendent July 19 after the unexpected resignation of Floyd Parsons. He was given a one year contract July 27 with the understanding that he would not actively seek the post upon expiration of his term. He was, however, not to be eliminated as a candidate.

Trustees acquired the names of top school administrators from officials of universities and colleges throughout the State. Twenty-three names were received, in addition to about a dozen unsolicited applications. These were then screened and the number cut to five names in addition to Anderson. Monday's decision climaxed about three hours of debate on the course to be taken in making the selection. By a 4-3 vote trustees turned down a motion to invite the top two candidates to Big Spring for interviews. The next motion, made by Harold Talbot and seconded by Joe Moss, made the proposal which Anderson accepted.

"I would like to thank the trustees for deciding to give me the job," Anderson said. "Big Spring has become my home and I was hoping you would arrive at this decision."

Anderson came here as director of elementary instruction in October, 1956. Previous to that he was superintendent at Hebronville for three months and at Robstown for 10 years with the Petronia Independent School District.

He received a bachelor's degree from North Texas State and a master's from Texas A&I. Anderson has also done one year of graduate work at Baylor and is now working on a doctoral program at Texas Tech.

He and Mrs. Anderson live at 900 W. 17th. She is a fourth grade teacher at Washington Elementary School. They have one daughter, Lyn, who is a junior at the University of Texas.

India Claims Victory In Goa Campaign

BOMBAY, India (AP)—India today claimed complete victory in its lightning invasion of Portugal's three tiny territories on the Indian west coast.

Just 36 hours after Indian forces blitzed into the last footholds of European territory on the subcontinent, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced all fighting had ceased in Goa, Damao and Diu. Three little Portuguese pockets totaling 1,537 square miles and about 650,000 people.

Portugal's Information Ministry, however, announced in Lisbon the receipt of an amateur radio message from Goa declaring heavy fighting persisted at Nova Goa, the capital, and the nearby port of Mormugao. The ministry said this message was broadcast several hours after the Indians made their victory claim.

Goa's governor general, Manuel Antonio Vassalão e Silva, in a balcony speech from his office Monday had said the Portuguese defenders "will resist to the end." Portuguese troops along the invasion route had boxes of dynamite to blow up all bridges.

The Indian Defense Ministry announced Indian forces lost only eight killed, and a ministry spokesman said he believed Portuguese casualties were also light. He said more than 1,000 Portuguese troops had surrendered.

A report from Belgaum, the Indian command center just outside Goa, said the Indian commander, Lt. Gen. J. N. Chaudhuri, hoisted the Indian flag in Nova Goa, the Portuguese colonial capital, about 9 a.m.

The report said a large crowd of Goans cheered as the flag went up and the town's 15,000 was gaily celebrating the end of 4½ centuries of Portuguese rule.

Nova Goa was the last reported pocket of resistance. An Indian spokesman said the invaders met only initial resistance there and after midnight the Portuguese defenders seemed to melt away.

Damao and Diu, which together total only 53 square miles north of Bombay, fell Monday with little or no resistance.

Escape was cut off for the Portuguese in Goa. No more Portuguese planes were left on Goa's only major airfield, and an Indian cruiser and a destroyer, in a 45-minute exchange of fire, drove the one Portuguese warship in the area aground.

The last refugee plane to escape from Nova Goa arrived in Karachi early today with 78 women and children and a Portuguese crew of seven aboard and bullet holes in its wings and fuselage.

Insolvency Hurts Holiday

ST. MARY'S, Pa. (AP)—The holiday season will be an unhappy time for many people in this small Elk County community because of the revelation by authorities that three of the town's finance companies are insolvent to the extent of about $3.7 million.

Some 670 of this town's 8,066 residents had invested in the companies and many may lose their life savings.

Dutch-Indonesian Battle Is Brewing

U.S. Hopeful Door Still Open To Negotiation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Sukarno reportedly told President Kennedy that Indonesia would not sit idle while the Netherlands moved to set up a separate government in West New Guinea.

Kennedy appealed last week to both the Netherlands and Indonesia for a peaceful settlement of their territorial dispute. Sukarno answered Kennedy's letter in a message delivered late Monday to Secretary of State Dean Rusk by Indonesian Ambassador Zairin Zain. The message was relayed to Kennedy in Palm Beach, Fla.

U.S. officials took the view that Sukarno was moving closer to armed action against the Dutch government but would not close all doors to negotiation.

It was expected here that Sukarno would issue an ultimatum to the Dutch for withdrawal from their portion of the island before making any military move to occupy New Guinea.

The United States was reported to have urged the Indonesian government to withhold military action while efforts continue to reach a peaceful solution of the dispute.

Former Mental Patient Killed

JOURDANTON, Tex. (AP)—Bullets from his own rifle killed Joe Himes, a former mental patient, and seriously wounded Sheriff Half Coward, 55, Monday.

Deputies of the Atascosa County sheriff gave this account: Himes, about 65, was backing a car from the driveway as Coward and his sons, Henry, 16, and John, 14, returned to their ranch home about 40 miles southwest of San Antonio.

At sight of the sheriff, Himes leveled a rifle and fired. Henry knocked Himes to the ground as the gunman stepped from his car. John seized the gun and shot, killing Himes.

Bullets struck Coward in the chest and both arms, and surgeons found it necessary to remove his left hand. Attendants at Mercy Hospital said his condition was critical.

Church Bells Toll For Fire Victims

NITEROI, Brazil (AP)—Niteroi's church bells tolled a pre-Christmas dirge today as scores of the victims of Sunday's circus fire were borne to graves.

Congo Foes To Talk Differences

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central Congo government flew to the U.N. base at Kitona today for new talks on ending the secession of Tshombe's rich province.

Tshombe left N'zola, Northern Rhodesia, with U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion. Adoula flew from Leopoldville, accompanied by a team of his ministers and U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche.

U.S. officials did not have much confidence that a reconciliation would result.

U.N. officials said the talks would be secret and Bunche, other U.N. aides and Gullion would sit in only if the Congolese asked them to. A U.S. diplomatic source insisted Gullion is not trying to act as mediator but is only "facilitating" the talks.

U.N. troops were reported in control of Elisabethville, Tshombe's capital, and the defenders who had battled with U.N. troops there since Dec. 5 appeared to have melted away into the countryside. The Katangans and their white officers were reported planning guerrilla resistance in the bush.

A U.N. spokesman in New York announced that Acting Secretary-General U. Thant had ordered a cease-fire throughout Katanga for the duration of the talks between Tshombe and Adoula but that U.N. troops would shoot back if attacked.

Most diplomats in Leopoldville had little hope of a lasting agreement between Tshombe and Adoula. They said the two hold unalterably opposed positions and speculated that Tshombe might decide to continue his resistance to the central Congo government from exile abroad.

The Katanga leader has demanded local autonomy for his province, the Congo's richest because of its foreign-operated mines. The Leopoldville government, running deep in the red, is in dire need of this financial support, and Adoula has shown no weakening in his stand to downgrade Tshombe to the relatively minor role of a provincial president within a united Congo.

Reports from Elisabethville told of heavy fighting around the headquarters of the Belgian-owned Union Miniere mining company Monday but Katanga troops later appeared to have withdrawn from all sections of the city.

However, a white officer in the Katanga army said, "We don't mind. We are reorganizing our campaign on the basis of the U.N. occupying Elisabethville. Believe me, the war has just begun."

NLRB Orders Reinstatements

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations board, overturning several conclusions of its trial examiner, ordered 14 striking employees of the Cactus Petroleum, Inc., plant at Spearman, Tex., reinstated with back pay.

The men struck July 7, 1960, and were told four days later that they were fired.

Sukarno Calls For Mobilization

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno declared today that he has ordered the Indonesian armed forces to be prepared to invade Dutch-held West New Guinea at any time. He also ordered "total mobilization of the Indonesian people."

The spellbinding Indonesian president did not indicate when the invasion would come. Officials in the West fear he may be emboldened by Indian Prime Minister Nehru's easy success against Goa and the other two Portuguese enclaves. Indian troops captured today after less than 36 hours of fighting.

Sukarno accused the Dutch of "cheating Indonesia on West Irian," the name by which Indonesia refers to the big island, and ordered his people to smash efforts by the Netherlands to lead West New Guinea down the road of self-determination.

"I order you to wreck the Dutch efforts to set up a Papua puppet state and to hoist the red and white (Indonesian) flag in West Irian," Sukarno told a wildly cheering crowd estimated at one million, in a speech that was broadcast nationally.

TOTAL WAR?

"I order total mobilization of the Indonesian people to liberate West Irian from the grip of the Dutch," he said.

The Dutch-administered western half of New Guinea, the world's second-biggest island, changed its name to West Papua Dec. 1. The name stemmed from the 700,000 Papua tribesmen who inhabit the area.

The change was suggested by the 28-member New Guinea Council, a joint Dutch-Papuan governing council which Indonesia has labeled a puppet government.

About 18,000 Dutch and Eurasians also reside in the western part of the island, a primitive area of hostile jungles and rugged mountains. Australia governs the eastern half of the island. So far the Indonesians have made no claim to it.

"CHEATED"

"The Dutch promised to recognize Indonesian sovereignty over the whole territory of the former Netherlands East Indies but they only cheated us," Sukarno asserted, referring to the 1949 grant of independence to Indonesia.

West New Guinea was the only part of the Dutch East Indies retained by the Netherlands. The Dutch claim that West New Guinea was a part of the Indies only for administrative purposes and that there are strong ethnic differences between the Papuans and the Indonesians.

Sukarno spoke in the south central Java city of Jogjakarta, the revolutionary capital of the Indonesian republic during its fight to gain independence from the Netherlands in the early post-World War II years. His address came at a rally which commemorated the Dutch capture of the city 13 years ago.

OUTNUMBERED

Indonesia's armed forces total several hundred thousand men and in recent years they have been equipped with large quantities of Soviet arms, including TU16 jet bombers. The army has reinforced its garrisons in Ambon, east Indonesia, the jumping off point for any invasion of New Guinea.

At the Hague, a Dutch army source said the Netherlands has about 1,200 navy personnel in West New Guinea on the destroyer Utrecht and two frigates, some landing patrol craft and auxiliary harbor boats are also in the area.

The Dutch also are estimated to have 16 new Neptune patrol aircraft, a dozen Hawk-Hunter jet planes, a dozen navy fighters and three Dakotas there. Dutch land forces were said to include a 1,000-man infantry battalion and about 1,000 royal marines.

The Netherlands government today stressed its willingness to negotiate a settlement of the New Guinea issue with Indonesia through the United Nations.

Commenting on Indonesian President Sukarno's mobilization order "to liberate West Irian"—Dutch New Guinea—a communique said there was no cause for measures as announced by Sukarno.

The government suggested the "committee of 17 member nations of the United Nations" be formed to execute a resolution to end colonialism, adopted last year, might help arrange the negotiations.

The government also is discussing the situation with the United States and with the president of the U.N. General Assembly, the communique said.

Albanian Team To Red China

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A two-man Albanian economic delegation left for Peking Monday to negotiate terms in which Red China would give economic assistance to Albania, reports reaching Belgrade said.

In its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union, Albanian leaders accused Moscow of imposing an economic blockade on Albania and is looking for help from Red China. Peking sided with Albania in the dispute.

Kennedy's Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned to Washington today in cold foggy weather after a Latin-American trip and a day's stay in Palm Beach, Fla., to fight a cold.

Soviet Veto Kills Western Bid For Indian Withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A Soviet veto early today killed a Western resolution calling for the withdrawal of invading Indian troops from Goa and the two other Portuguese territories on India's west coast.

Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, who led the Western fight, told the council it was witnessing the first act of a drama which could end in the death of the United Nations.

"The League of Nations died when it allowed the use of force. The failure of the Security Council to call for a simple cease-fire in these circumstances is a failure for the United Nations," Stevenson declared.

Stevenson said the Soviet veto was not surprising since it was "one in its long role of obstruction." But he said the attitude of some other members—obviously India and its Asian and African defenders on the Council—was profoundly disturbing because they were trying to rewrite the U.N. Charter to sanction the use of force when it suited their own purposes.

"This can only lead to chaos and disintegration of the United Nations," he declared.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin not only blocked any U.N. intervention on behalf of Portugal but supported a resolution by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic which rejected the charges of Indian aggression, and called on Portugal to cooperate with India in liquidating the Portuguese territories on the Indian subcontinent.

India's defenders contended that the invasion was justified because the three Portuguese enclaves—Goa, Diu and Damao—were remnants of colonialism.

The Asian-African plan was rejected when the other seven members of the council voted against it. The vote on the Western plan—sponsored by the United States, Britain, France and Turkey—was 7-4. The negative votes were cast by the Soviet Union, Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic. The veto was the 99th cast by the Russians.

Western diplomats expressed dismay at the Soviet action, but there was no indication that they would seek action in the 104-nation General Assembly. Some said privately the strong Asian-African bloc in the assembly also would defeat any move to get Indian troops out of the Portuguese territories.

Next: Jobless Cotton Pickers Must Wear Ties

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A mother of four has been dropped from unemployment compensation rolls because she showed up for her checks wearing blue jeans.

Mary Bell Turner, a meat packing plant worker, was informed Monday her check had been canceled because she continued to appear at the office in jeans.

Mrs. Turner, who had been drawing benefits for 11 weeks, reopened her claim Monday. She said loss of the compensation check means the family will have a slim Christmas. Her husband, W. C. Turner, works for the city street cleaning department.

"I was planning to use this week's check to buy groceries for a big Christmas dinner, since we don't celebrate with trees and presents," she said.

"I had been told not to come back in jeans, but I was in a hurry and it just slipped my mind because I had more blue jeans than dresses."

A 30-day-old ruling by the State

Department of Employment Security says persons must be "suitably attired." James Cuff, district manager for the department, said the rule is based on the basic federal law requiring persons receiving payments to make themselves available for immediate employment.

He said women reduce their chances for employment when they appear in slacks or jeans. Mrs. Turner said she has worked off and on since 1941 in meat packing plants where jeans are worn by all women workers. But Cuff said that doesn't mean her next job would require jeans.

L. B. Jennings, state commissioner of employment security, backed up the dress ruling. He said the rule is a good one and part of the department's over-all effort to get people back to work.

Mrs. Turner didn't agree. "I figure if a woman has to work like a man she might as well dress like one," she said.

CHRISTMAS STORY AS SEEN FROM HEAVEN

Degenerate Earth Saddens God

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Christmas story unfolded on earth—and in Heaven. Naturally enough the parts which occurred on earth have become dominant in Christian literature—because there were human witnesses to the birth and life of Christ. But Christian theology emphasizes that the events in this world were the fruition of a Divine decision which transcended both earth and time. This is the first of four articles dealing with the great Christmas drama from a bold new viewpoint: as seen NOT from earth, but FROM HEAVEN. The narrative draws on the allegory and metaphors which often are the language of Scripture. Although in part conjectural, it is based on Biblical allusions; the words and attitudes are those attributed to the Divinity by the prophets.

School Hearing To Be Held In District Court

The hearing on a protest by Center Point and Gay Hill Common School Districts against being annexed to the Big Spring Independent School District will be held in the 118th District Court.

After a discussion Monday night with Gil Jones, attorney for the Howard County School Board, trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District decided against asking for a rehearing in the State Supreme Court in the hope of gaining time at the risk of losing about two months by asking for the rehearing.

Jones pointed out to trustees that the court had held the Howard County School Board was right on all points except on the final point, deciding that no election was made by the protesting districts according to law. He recommended filing a motion for rehearing in hopes of clarifying the point on which the County Board was ruled to be in error. Should the court reverse its decision, the Texas Education Agency would rule on the case and action might be speeded up.

However, with the decision of the trustees, he will ask that the mandate be returned to Big Spring and action will be initiated in the 118th District Court. The County Board must concur in this action.

The present difficulties arose when annexation was ordered in May, 1960. The two common school districts immediately filed a protest with the Texas Board of Education and the 118th District Court. On June 24, 1960, Judge Ralph Caton, in the 118th District Court, held that his court was without jurisdiction and that the school districts had to lay their appeal from the action before the Texas Board of Education.

This was appealed to the State Court of Civil Appeals which ruled Nov. 11, 1960, that the 118th District Court was in error. Jones and the county board filed an appeal to the Supreme Court against his finding. The Supreme Court handed down its decision Dec. 13, after almost seven months.

The case will now go before a jury in the 118th District Court. It is again expected to go through the route of appeals and it may take several years to get a decision.

In the meantime, the two schools are still operating without the supervision of the Big Spring Independent School District, pending the outcome of the litigation.

Newlyweds

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Prescott Webb pose in their hotel suite at Corpus Christi, where they are staying after their marriage in Fredericksburg, Webb, 73, is a noted historian and author of several works on Southwestern and Texas history. She is former Mrs. Maury Maverick S., widow of the congressman who served during President Roosevelt's administration. The Webbs plan to visit the Lower Rio Grande Valley and Laredo.

Skinny But Wagging — Trapped Hound Is Rescued

GILBERT, W.Va. (AP)—Brownie, a 3-year-old rabbit hound with a master who cares, settled down today to replacing the 25 pounds he lost during 50 days entrapment in a caved-in mine shaft. A bulldozer late Monday uncovered a hole leading into the shaft into which the dog disappeared almost two months ago. Brownie, with protruding ribs and eyes bleary in the daylight he hadn't seen for so long, clambered into the arms of equally bleary-eyed Richard Hatfield, 21, his master.

2 Survive Freezing

RENOVA, Pa. (AP)—"Picture a frozen turkey; that's the way both boys looked." That's how Dr. Frank P. Dwyer, a country doctor for 55 years, described two hunters who were literally frozen stiff. Richard Lansberry, 26, Elyria, Ohio, and Robert G. Wise, 21, Grafton, Ohio, were found Dec. 9 by Carl Schmoke of Moshannon, and Charles Ramage of Williamsport.

Lansberry and Wise had a two-bunk hut on the floor of a truck. After reaching their rifles and packing lunches for the next day in the woods, they lit an oil stove. As they slept the stove went out. Temperatures were near zero. They were sleeping in a cold storage box. When they awoke they couldn't move. They yelled for help, Wise finally losing consciousness. Schmoke and Ramage finally heard Lansberry. Lansberry and Wise were taken to Renovo Hospital where the two were kept in the last rites. But Dwyer went to work and saved the two.

"Some of the tips of the toes will be removed," said the doctor, "but this will not interfere in any way with their walking." Dwyer said he didn't want to be singled out, that all of the hospital personnel did a wonderful job.

Relays of nurses applied compresses, first cold then warmer ones, finally hot ones as the victims thawed out. It was hours before the arms and legs of either could be stretched out. Then each had to survive fevers as high as 106 degrees. Each remained unconscious, Lansberry for 72 hours, Wise for nearly 108 hours. Dwyer expects Lansberry and Wise will be back to work by next month.

Demo Is Favorite In Louisiana Vote

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Northwest Louisiana's 4th District elects a congressman today after a vigorous campaign which Republicans hoped would bring them their first victory here since Reconstruction days. Democrat Joe Waggonner was the favorite, however, to defeat Democrat-turned-Republican Charlton H. Lyons in a battle between two staunch segregationists and conservatives.

The election is to choose a successor to the late Rep. Overton Brooks. The winner will serve until January 1963. An estimated 50 per cent of the district's 95,221 registered voters were expected to turn out in the polling hours between 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. The district, which is composed of seven parishes centered around Shreveport, has not elected a Republican since 1873. Brooks, who died Sept. 16, defeated Republican Fred McClanahan 48,286-16,827 in 1960.

About 97 per cent of the registered voters are Democrats. Lyons, 67, was a Democrat until last fall. He is making his first struggle to free his trapped pet had been a lonely and seemingly hopeless one. But as word spread, his neighbors made it a community project.

Richard had tried lassoing Brownie through a narrow crevice; he had tried luring him into a sack; but nothing worked. For 18 days after Brownie disappeared while on a hunting trip with Richard he was thought dead. But whatever the dog chased into that narrow slit—probably a rabbit—seemed to have provided him with enough food to keep him going for a while.

Brownie's whimpering and barking was heard by one of Richard's numerous cousins in the small community of Hampden. Tommy Kennedy told Richard he had heard Brownie bark. That was 32 days ago.

When Charles Dillon, one of Richard's neighbors, crawled into a narrow break in the stony mountainside, Brownie was at first immobile and seemingly blind. After he adjusted to the fading daylight outside, he trotted out to his master.

Richard had visited the break every day since the dog had been located, dropping food down the slit to his pet. Water was plentiful inside the shaft. Even so, Brownie's ribs were in plain view when he came out. His weight dropped from 45 to 20 pounds. But his tail wagged.

Missionary Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Reports reaching here Monday said the Rev. Murray Dickson had been found dead in his car high in the Andes Mountains of Bolivia.

Dickson, 46, was a Methodist missionary from Hillsboro, Tex. A report to the Methodist Church Board of Missions said the body was found Saturday and he was presumed to have died from effects of high altitude. The board said Dickson suffered from a bronchial condition.

Home Explodes, Farmer Is Killed

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Conner Spears, 50, a Lamar County farmer, died a few hours after his home exploded and burned Monday.

Spears told officers before he died that he struck a match to see what time it was about 7 a.m. Firemen blamed the blast on escaping butane.

Parts of the house were blown 100 to 150 feet. Spears was alone.

Pact Eases Race Tension In Albany

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—A biracial agreement has led to an easing of racial tension in this south Georgia city, but a Negro leader says desegregation efforts will continue.

Talks between city officials and Negro leaders Monday resulted in indefinite postponement of trials for more than 700 Negroes arrested last week in a series of marching demonstrations.

Under the agreement, Negro leaders said they would stop the mass demonstrations. But M. S. Page, acting chairman of the Albany movement, said negotiations are to reopen next month on a broad desegregation program.

Page said his group conceded only on the demonstrations and that an economic boycott, already being felt by white merchants, was not discussed.

After the agreement was reached, many of the nearly 400 Negroes still in jail began posting cash bonds or, in the cases of property owners or taxpayers, gaining release on their own signatures.

One of the points of the agreement was police compliance with the Interstate Commerce Commission's order banning segregation in train and bus terminals. Last week's demonstrations started after a group of 11 Negroes and white persons were arrested following their attempt to desegregate the railway terminal.

Bonds for the "Freedom Riders," originally ranging from $750 to $1,000, were cut to $200 for three Albany Negroes and $400 for the others.

City officials agreed to meet with Negro leaders on segregation issues after incoming city commissioners take office in January. Page said Police Chief Laurie Pritchett would recommend that the commission give consideration to the Negroes' proposals.

Page said efforts would continue in the negotiations toward desegregating parks, hospitals, libraries and other public facilities, plus discussion of better job opportunities in the city for Negroes.

Mayor Asa Kelley said lawyers for both sides agreed to delay the trials, but that if there are further demonstrations "then it is in the discretion of the police chief to call these cases to trial."

Among those first released was the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. King left on a plane to Atlanta after telling reporters: "I would not want to stand in the way of meaningful negotiations."

The integration leader, who had pledged to remain in jail indefinitely, said he decided to post bond on the basis of talks with his attorneys.

Earlier Gov. Ernest Vandiver had charged that outside agitators stirred up the trouble in Albany. Vandiver said in Atlanta that he and Kelley had reported to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy the names of six agitators who "have been connected with organizations designated as subversive."

A Devotional for Today

Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy. (Luke 2:10.)
PRAYER: O God, help us never to forget the wonder of wonders — Thy love for us in Jesus. Help us to render unto Thee fitting expressions of our gratitude: Our prayers, our worship, our gifts, our service, our witness. In the name of our loving Redeemer. Amen. (From The Upper Room)

Nehru Faces Some Hard Choices

It is a grave irony that India, the fountainhead of nonviolent neutralism, has been at any time since its 1947 independence to a violent defense of its territorial integrity.
 Prime Minister Nehru's distress lies bare in this recent public cry: "All through my life I have condemned war and pleaded a peaceful approach to problems. What is the use of preaching peace if we do not believe in it ourselves?"
 Indian and Portuguese armed forces have now clashed in hostility across the borders of Portugal's enclave — Goa — which Indian public opinion is demanding be integrated into national territory.
 On the north, Nehru sees Communist China's creeping aggression: The conquest of buffer-state Tibet, the occupation of 18,000 square miles of disputed Indian border territory, and Peking's claim to 50,000 square miles more.
 Still smoldering ominously is the Indian-Pakistan dispute over the cloudy status of Kashmir state, which is strategically situated along border areas where Indian and Pakistani relations are strained with Afghanistan and the Soviet Union. A border war with Communist China or a serious Portuguese-Indian struggle could fan that smoldering dispute into flames.

 Nehru faces two troubling deadlines. The Sino-Indian trade treaty expires in seven months because neither party requested a renewal by Dec. 3; the end of trade intercourse could add to pressure for a border military clash. The Indian general elections are due in February, and Nehru must cope cautiously with the attending Communist agitations, rising nationalist pressures, separatist strife in some states, and sharp division in his own Congress Party over policy toward Portugal and China.
 Nehru is reported to be a deeply sincere man of peace, but these threatening events may urge upon him that national strength is a prerequisite of peace and that appeasement, however idealistic, invites a destruction of peace. Against Communist China especially, India must adopt a stance of stern resistance to encroachment or subject its free nationhood to imminent danger. To preach peace is not alone enough to secure it, and the Goa experience may be a stern reminder.

The Eichmann Verdict

Given the facts in the case, an Israeli court could do no less than to find Adolf Eichmann guilty of crimes against the Jewish people. The sentence has now been pronounced: Death by hanging.
 No punishment has yet been devised to fit Eichmann's crimes. His trial did serve to emphasize what Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion is said to have wanted to prove, that Israel claims to represent all those who perished in the "final solution" to the Jewish problem devised by Nazi Germany. But there is scant evidence to suggest that the trial or the verdict has served to quiet any of the hatred or bitterness of the past or helped bring closer a reconciliation of Germans and Jews.
 Whether Eichmann lives or dies is of little importance. But the circumstances surrounding his capture and his trial will most certainly be the basis for bitter contention in legal circles for years to come. The fact that he was kidnapped from Argentina and brought to trial for crimes that were committed before Israel was a state can only produce strong misgivings among those who have been reared in the Anglo-Saxon legal tradition.

 It would have been far better if Eichmann had been tried in a West German court. It is inconceivable that the verdict would have been different. A West German trial would have cleared the atmosphere and avoided the legal cloud that will inevitably hang forever over the Eichmann case.

Reconciling The 'Big Three'

PARIS. — The showy ministerial meetings of the North Atlantic alliance that occur twice yearly produce an official outpouring of sentiment on solidarity and harmony having little to do with the real troubles besetting NATO. Those troubles can be traced to a root cause in the relationship between Britain, France and the United States.

The beginning, the fact that France continued testing was a point of serious vulnerability for the West.

SO LONG as the ties between the three principal partners are disjointed, so long will the alliance be plagued by a lack of common purposiveness and direction. That has been abundantly demonstrated during the week just ended here in Paris.
 It is easy — perhaps too easy — to put the blame for it all on the remote and towering figure of Charles de Gaulle. He sits in the splendid seclusion of the Elysee Palace, talking rarely even with his own ministers and then only to give them the benefit of his commands.

WHAT IS equally important, France does not have the resources to go the full course of nuclear weaponry, with its fantastic costs. This may be one reason why reports have emanated from Paris to the effect that the French and the Germans mean to unite for a common nuclear development. This seems unlikely so long at least as Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is in power since, as he would know only too well, such a combine would have a deeply disruptive effect on the Western Alliance.

BUT A CASE can be made for De Gaulle and the logic of his present intransigence. It goes back to World War II and his proud refusal to capitulate, possibly even because of the defeat of France to knock under to Roosevelt and Churchill. They found his prickly, prideful temperament intolerable, and the scars of that time are still an irritant.
 Then, after the war Britain continued to cultivate a special relationship between the two English-speaking partners. The United States gave Britain nuclear know-how while denying it to France. More recently, the French are said to have been denied the missile technology that has gone to Britain and to Germany. The insistent intervention of Ambassador James Gavin is reported to have corrected that situation after it had produced great resentment.

WHEN KENNEDY and Khrushchev met in Vienna in June, the Soviet Premier could hardly have been sterner or harsher in his attitude towards Germany and Berlin. Yet the last paragraph of their communique said: "The President of the United States and the President of the Council of Ministers of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics are in agreement to keep in contact on all the questions interesting the two countries and the entire world." That was taken at the time to be a kind of fire escape in the event of an imminent conflagration.

IN THIS WAY, the rancors of the war have been kept alive, and one consequence has been De Gaulle's determination to go it alone in producing a separate French nuclear deterrent.

THE BRITISH have consistently favored negotiation, and they would logically expect to be part of any confrontation, even at the highest level. But to have two of the three present, with France sitting it out, would give De Gaulle cause for new suspicion and resentment.

There can be little doubt that this seriously handicapped the attempt in the past three years to come to an agreement with the Soviet Union on the control and inspection of nuclear tests under a test ban treaty. De Gaulle refused to have anything to do with that effort, and while it may have been foredoomed from

If this resentment were to be strong enough, De Gaulle could take his revenge in a matter that hangs in delicate balance. Britain has applied for membership in the European Common Market, but membership must be conditioned on reservations having to do with the Commonwealth and other commitments that cannot be abruptly severed. A blackball for Britain would have unhappy consequences not only in the European club but everywhere.

A Bit Of History

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Christmas afternoon in the year 1991.
 Johnny and Sue were playing on the floor near their grandpa who dozed on a sofa. Grandma sat knitting in a nearby rocking chair.

clear a space and began to dance with the stenographers. It was a new dance they called "the twist."
 "Yes," nodded Sue, "I've seen pictures of it in a history book in the library."
 "Well, anyway," continued Grandpa, "the boss got to feeling so good he decided to play a game of tag with his secretary. He chased her over the tops of the desks and finally caught her under the mistletoe. Wasn't that lucky?"

"Wake up, Grandpa," said Johnny, shaking him, "and tell us a story."
 "Yes," cried Sue, "Tell us a story about how Christmas was like long ago in the good old days."
 Grandpa sat up and knuckled the sleep from his eyes.
 "Well," he began, "once upon a time I went to my last office Christmas party, and—"
 "But Christmas parties are held in houses, Grandpa," objected Sue. "They aren't held in offices."
 "They used to be," interposed Grandpa, adding sternly, "by the riffruff."
 Grandpa grinned.
 "As I was saying, once upon a time I went to my last office Christmas party. The boss came to his private office about 3:30 p.m. with a bottle of soda pop in his hand, and said, 'Okay, boys, let's get the show on the road.'"
 "Well, it was payday and all of us fellows had bought some soda pop, too."
 "Was it grape or cherry?" interrupted Sue.
 "I forget," said Grandpa. "But we poured the bottles into the water cooler, and — my, it sure tasted good!"
 "We sent down to the delicatessen and got a dozen platters of sandwiches, and hung some of them from the office Christmas tree. Then a three-piece band showed up—that was arranged as a surprise by the boss."
 "So we pushed the desks away,

HE IS GOING down a road, trying to undo the damage of centuries, where the results won't be apparent in a hurry.
 He has made several major things about it, particularly on March 13 when he outlined his 10-point program; the next day in a message to Congress; and last Sunday on his visit to Bogota, Colombia.
 The keystone in this program is cooperation by the Latin American countries and self-help in trying to improve themselves.
 In his message to Congress he gave some figures on Latin American conditions: life expectancy, 46 years, compared with 70 in this country; almost half of all Latin American adults can't read; approximately 50 per cent of all the children have no schools to attend; in one country 90 per cent of the population lives in makeshift shacks and barracks.
 He emphasized that the help a country gets will depend not only on need but on its "demonstrated readiness" to put in the reforms which promise lasting social progress.
 But it was at Bogota that he called his shots most bluntly.
 Pointing to the "leaders of Latin America"—the industrialists and the landowners—he said: "Unless they are willing to contribute resources to national development, to accept and even initiate basic land and tax reforms, take the lead in improving the welfare of the masses, then 'that leadership will be taken from them and the heritage of centuries of Western civilization will be consumed in a few months of violence.'"

 If you'll delve deeper you'll find that others believe that the disease existed in Europe before then, but was confused with, or went under the name of leprosy. I don't know which theory is correct.
 But some things I DO know. It is a prevalent and dangerous disease. It can be eradicated in an individual with antibiotic drugs — but only if the cases are recognized and drugs are used and sources of infection traced down.
 Around the end of World War II the number of cases was very high. Modern drugs then caused a powerful and encouraging decline in the disease.
 And after some years, apparently, people began to get careless because they "knew it could be cured." Right now syphilis is on a startlingly large upswing. It is alarming. I shall do all I can to emphasize the fact that promiscuity spreads the disease — and that while drugs can cure it, particularly in its early stages, a bottle of medicine on the shelf doesn't do any good. Early proper treatment is required.
 I can hardly deny that there are innocent ways of coming in contact with the offending germ — but they are rare. Acquiring the disease raised the same situation which judges have long since learned to dismiss with the ver-

The Unsung Chronicler Of Beggs Switch

One of the most difficult jobs a newsman encounters when he is assigned to get the information about some major catastrophe—such as a bad wreck, disastrous fire or severe storm—is to obtain the correct names, addresses and ages of victims.
 That's why each Christmas I am reminded of the amazing achievement of an unsung country correspondent I encountered a long, long time ago.
 I never saw this reporter; I never heard his name, but he remains green in my memory as an exceptionally able craftsman.

first to reach the door sought to jerk it open, but they were so hard pushed by those behind them that it could not be pulled inward.

THE FLAMES continued to gain ground. The panic inside the small building mounted. No one seemed to be able to find a way to the outside.

In no time at all, the building flared and collapsed into a glowing pile of embers.
 I have forgotten just how many died but it was practically everyone in the building, and nearly every one in the little town.

My phone rang around midnight. It was the Associated Press. Did I want the story of the Beggs Switch fire? So I copied it down as it was dictated to me—the man who did the dictating was reporting it just as the country correspondent at Beggs Switch had told it to him a short time before.

The voice droned on.
 "THE DEAD," it said "are—" and there followed a complete list of every person who perished in that holocaust—their names, ages and their occupation.
 I pulled back my front page, replated and went to press with the Beggs Switch fire as the top story.

The day after Christmas I grabbed the morning papers.
 Imagine my surprise—the details, the listings of the dead and the facts were unchanged. Whoever that country correspondent was, he managed, in the span of less than two hours, to file a complete and accurate story.
 I always wanted to meet that fellow and ask how he managed to do so thorough a job.

Katanga Touches Off Extremists

It has been pretty obvious in recent weeks that the radical or extreme right, by its unbridled behaviour and intemperate utterances, is destroying itself more rapidly than any of its critics dared hope.
 That this fact is even penetrating the councils of the far-out right is indicated by the pressure brought to bear on Col. Mitchell Paige (USMC, retired) to repudiate his statement to a Los Angeles audience that Chief Justice Earl Warren deserves to be hanged.

and turn it into action." Such radical fighters as William F. Buckley Jr. and James Burnham, with whom Lieberman said he "kicked around the idea of a committee to aid Katanga," obviously found it futile to strain at gnats and nieces.
 The sponsors — more than 50 of them — named in the advertisement were characterized by one of the signers, Victor Lasky, well-known writer, as "the usual right-wing list."

AFTER A W. Clean Skousen, in charge of the meeting, declared, "I am appalled at the statement," Paige finally reappeared and said, "I want to apologize for stating that I would hang Earl Warren. Really, it isn't my feeling that he should be hanged."

"I DIDN'T SEE the ad before it was printed, and I'm not going to repudiate it," Lasky continued. "The only thing that disturbs me is the polarization of the issue into a conservative-liberal fight."

In another instance, the extreme right has been repudiated by Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois who has declared that the use of his name as a sponsor for the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters was unauthorized. His name was used without his permission in a hysterical full-page advertisement run by this committee in the New York Times a few days ago.

WHAT THE REPUBLICAN New York Herald Tribune has to say in its editorial columns is to the point: "It is unfortunate, we believe, that the strife in the Congo has served as a rallying point for the extreme right wing in America, many of whose adherents have always opposed the United Nations, and wish now to see it destroyed."
 "Of all the nonsense that has been spoken and written about the Congo — none is more blatant than to compare the Katanga of 1961 to the Hungary of 1956 or to depict its leader, Moise Tshombe, as a shining and unstained knight."

"EMERGENCY APPEAL! Katanga is the Hungary of 1961!" the advertisement screamed in heavy black type.
 Even Marvin Liebman, the Madison Avenue advertising man or public relations expert in whose fertile mind the committee originated and in whose office the incontinent ad was written, told me, "Of course, that analogy is stretching it a bit. But the Hungarian thing was a matter of self-determination, and so is the issue with Katanga and Tshombe." (Lieberman's office is also committee headquarters.)

"TO SPEAK of 'Katanga Freedom Fighters' is not only to distort today's realities in the Congo but to demean the memory of those who have actually died fighting tyranny."
 (Copyright, 1961, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

SO "STRETCHING IT A BIT" posed no problem for Liebman, who also said, "If I have any talent, it is to take an idea and conservative leader, Richard Cowan, organized the "American Student Volunteers For Katanga Independence." Cowan says that his call had gone to 35 other universities for fighters to go to Katanga as earlier generations of Americans went to join liberty-seekers in Cuba against Spain, in Spain against communism, in China against Japan, in France against Germany.

No Peace At Christmas

WASHINGTON—With Christmas coming up, it is easier to preach peace-on-earth than to prove it. There are several fronts where Christendom is embattled and where this country must, later if not sooner, win or lose enduring issues.

THE CARIBBEAN: After a timid showing of the flag off Santo Domingo, the American fleet has apparently withdrawn and disbanded, but without settling anything at all. If past performance is meaningful, we are on the edge of accepting the same bargain that we did in Cuba, where we traded a pro-American dictator, Batista, for an anti-American dictator, Castro.

THE BALTIC: The Kennedy administration has refused to read what is plainly written in Finland. The Joint Baltic American Committee, representing nationalities of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania recently presented a statement to the State Department, calling on the U.S.A. to remember that these three countries were forcibly absorbed by the Soviet Union.
 At a subsequent press conference, the committee chairman answered a query by this reporter on Finland. He said that Russia's 1939-40 take-over of the three Baltic countries was preceded by a demand for bases, by a treaty of mutual defense and non-aggression, but was consummated by the arrival of Russian tanks. He added that recent events clearly showed a "Soviet decision to absorb Finland" and that only some resistance by the West would prevent it.

THE CONGO: Strange alignments in warfare are normal, rather than the opposite, but it often takes statesmanship to distinguish where the country's interests lie — and to proclaim these interests. This the Kennedy administration has failed miserably to do — so miserably that numerous newspapers, as well as private societies and individuals, have been gulped into the vacuum of the empty foreign policy.

Not surprisingly, the Wall Street Journal and the New York Times, on the same day, December 12th, delivered different readings of the auspices: To its dismay, the Journal found that the U.S.A.'s policy is being dictated by the 103-member U.N.; "The U.N. is doing this, therefore we must support it." The Times wrapped it up under an editorial headline which will go down hard with self-determinists: "Katanga Belongs in the Congo."

FINLAND MAY not be the ideal place to fight, and not the ideal issue for a showdown — but Finland is going to be the place and the issue where, unless we do resist, we will suffer an unforgettable loss.
 Not only on the Caribbean Islands, in the African jungles, in the Arctic forests, is Christendom embattled. There is a fight going on — miscalculated and misunderstood — to keep the fire of patriotism alive in Americans. It is a fight which John F. Kennedy could not fail to win because Americans are yearning for leadership, and certainly are going to "extremes" to find it. To lose this battle or worse: not even to join it, would be the most lamentable catastrophe of all.

Where Jet Plane Hit

The debris of an Iowa Air National Guard F86L jet is strewn over the garage and yard of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Sandahl at Des Moines, Iowa. Air Guard officers said it and another jet crashed apparently after running out of fuel. The pilots ejected safely. Mrs. Sandahl escaped injury.

Katanga Grows As Probe Topic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration apparently is going to have to defend in the Senate its support of U.N. action in Katanga.

Although chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., declined any comment, a growing division of opinion among Foreign Relations Committee members and other senators pointed today toward January questioning of Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the explosive Katanga situation.

Fulbright, a candidate for reelection next year, said on a brief Washington visit he was engrossed in Arkansas problems and had not been briefed recently on Congo developments. Because of this he would not comment upon them.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a committee member, has been plugging for weeks for an inquiry into the U.N. effort to bring Katanga President Moise Tshombe back into line with the Congo central government. Dodd called a news conference to air further views on the subject.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, another Foreign Relations Committee member, said in a separate interview he believes the U.N. forces which have battered their way into Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, have been acting illegally by interfering in the internal affairs of the Congo.

Unlike Dodd, who has praised Tshombe as one of the leading anti-Communists in Africa, Lausche said he was not taking sides in the Katanga president's controversy with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula. Dodd has said that Adoula's government is subject to strong Communist influences.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Monday he is supporting the U.N. action in Katanga because the alternative — "confrontation between the Communist bloc and the free world in a tension spot in the Congo—would represent a grave danger to world peace."

But Javits said critics of the U.N. position should not be ignored in any settlement. He said there must be "good faith" participation in the Adoula government by provinces "administered by the leftist Gizenga administration."

He added that Katanga and other provinces should be given "substantial autonomy," and that Adoula must see to it that the human rights provisions of the U.N. Charter are enforced.

The success or failure of President Kennedy's efforts to bring about some kind of agreement between Tshombe and Adoula obviously will influence the trend of the Congo debate when the Senate resumes its sessions next month.

But even an agreement which would end the current fighting between U.N. and Katangan troops seems unlikely to quell criticism of the President and his aides for their support of the international organization's actions.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a spokesman for conservatives, has denounced the administration's policy as "suicidal" and one likely to pave the way "for a Communist takeover in the Congo."

Stock Ban Is Upheld

AUSTIN (AP) — An order prohibiting Key Western Investment Corp. of Abilene from selling its stock has been upheld by state securities commissioner William King.

King, who had originally revoked the permit granted to Key Western to sell securities, held a public hearing Nov. 20 to hear Key Western's appeal on the order.

King originally revoked the permit contending the stock was not worth as much as Key Western was attempting to sell it for. Company officials contended that the company had to be built up for a period of years before the stock would reach its listed value.

Key Western Insurance Co. is the only holding of the investment corporation.

Daniel To Set Runoff In 13th District Election

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel probably will set the date for a 13th Congressional District runoff Saturday after returns from the Dec. 16 election are canvassed officially.

Democrat Graham Purcell and Republican Joe Bailey Meissner will vie in the runoff.

Final unofficial returns Monday showed Purcell led with 8,974 votes to 6,732 for Meissner, a former Wichita Falls city councilman.

Meissner was the only Republican in the field of five. There have been indications the unsuccessful candidates all may support Purcell, a former district judge, in the runoff.

Mrs. J. Pickens Coleman, Democratic committeewoman from the 23rd Senatorial District, indicated in a letter to the Wichita Falls Record-News that support for Purcell already had been

A husky foreman plopped a protective steel helmet on his head, told him to grab a pick and led him into the dust-filled pits where African apprentices—imported to relieve a labor shortage—were learning the skills of the trade.

Two hours later, the directors got a call from the pits. One of the apprentices refused to work any longer, insisting he was here to discuss the business, not to learn it.

They retrieved the visitor, brushed him off and then talked about African lime.

The company declined to identify the diplomat or his country. Officials said he shrugged off the incident with a laugh.

Air Here Helps Clean Engines

West Texas air is used to keep the jet engines clean in aircraft flying at Webb Air Force Base. The Air Force uses pecan, almond, walnut, peach, cherry, and apricot hulls and pits to clean out jet engines over at Brookley Air Force Base, Mobile, Ala.

Abrasive used at Webb only on the test cell where ground tests are made. The nut shells were used only once to experiment for the cleaning.

F. M. Fulbright, who heads up the overhaul and repair end of jet aircraft at Webb, said he had about 800 pounds of shells he would sell to somebody needing them.

"We use a powdered abrasive to clean the engines on the test cell," he said. "When they're flying there is enough abrasive in the air to keep them clean, so we don't have to worry about the carbon building up in them."

A report from Mobile, Ala., said that Brookley AFB there had bought 996,000 pounds of the shells, at three cents per pound, and that the contractor said he was throwing in some peach, cherry, and apricot pits for good measure.

Cooler Readings Due Back Tonight

The hog-killing weather is back again, and the weather man promises temperatures for quick-freezing the pork tonight.

The arctic temperatures have dropped down into Texas and today's high is expected to keep down around 43 degrees and Wednesday's high about 42. Low tonight is expected to get down around 23, with no moisture in prospect.

Some northerly winds today are expected to speed up to around 30 miles per hour, but no blowing wind is forecast.

Winds Monday stirred up some dust out of the northwest from New Mexico and visibility reacted to about a quarter of a mile for a time, but the dust rolled by as the winds decreased and became northerly.

Pleads Guilty

Nehru Called A Hypocrite

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says Prime Minister Nehru of India is "a time-serving hypocrite" and that the Soviet Union was behind India's invasion of three Portuguese territories.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made the remarks in a talk to about 1,000 persons at a men's meeting at the Second Presbyterian Church Monday night.

He said the presence of Soviet Union President Leonid T. Brezhnev in Bombay indicated Nehru secured the permission of the Soviets before invading Goa, Diu and Daman.

"The action reveals Nehru in his proper light," Russell continued. "It is just another case where Russia has called the signals."

He said Nehru only talked and took no action when Communist China invaded India's northern border.

"We cannot have one law for the weak and defenseless and no law for the strong," he added.

Russell also called for less emphasis in our foreign policy on the reaction of neutral nations.

"I don't trust all these neutrals. Some have a strange affinity for the Soviets," in their United Nations votes," he said.

"The more they denounce us, the more aid they get. I may be old-fashioned, but it does not make sense to me."

Parochial Pupil Transportation Ordered In N.Y.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A Long Island school district was under state orders today to provide transportation for a pupil to a parochial school 10 miles away by ferry, bus or 50 miles away by highway.

Education Commissioner James Allen Jr. said Greenport Union Free School District No. 10 in Suffolk County should pay reasonable costs of the transportation of Patricia Cooper, 14, from Greenport to Sacred Heart Academy in Sag Harbor.

The Greenport School District had turned down a petition by Mrs. Patricia Cooper, mother of Patricia, for transportation costs to Sacred Heart Academy.

The district said the transportation would cost $5,000 and require increased local property tax.

Gen. Gent To Present Medal To 331st Pilot

Capt. Arthur Yarrington will receive his Air Medal in special ceremonies at Howard County Airport. Dr. M. W. Talbot, co-ordinator for the board and the air transportation committee, said Trans-Texas Airways would serve the airport.

The Chamber will prepare a brief on the subject, since it was the consensus that this would result in better, more frequent service.

Dr. W. A. Hunt reported that the education committee would meet early in 1962 to map plans for the year.

Roy Reeder was named president of the chamber for 1962 and new directors were welcomed to the board at the noon meeting.

The group met to elect new officers. Reeder succeeds Horace Garrett. Others elected are Ike Robb, vice president, and Clyde Hollingsworth, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

New directors are Jeff Brown, W. D. Caldwell, Jack Davis, D. M. McKinney and H. W. Smith. They replace Dr. W. A. Hunt, Dan Krause, Randall Polk, Wayne Gound and Ed Fisher.

Dallas Boom Just Balloon

DALLAS (AP)—It turned out to be only a weather balloon, but for a time some Dallas area residents thought an airliner had disintegrated in flight.

Alarmed householders hurried to telephone police and sheriff's offices Monday. Several shouted something about fragments of a plane falling.

Maj. Robert Ray of Goodfellow Air Force Base at San Angelo said the balloon, about the size of a football field, was one of 10 sent aloft with weather instruments each month.

Ordinarily the balloons blow away from Dallas. This time a wind switch headed it squarely toward the city. At Ray's order, a helicopter crew set off an explosive charge by radio.

It blew the big bag to bits, freeing the weather instruments to float down by parachute.

Ray said the sudden release of 885,000 cubic feet of helium gas in the balloon probably shook a rural area south of Dallas and presumably sounded like a sharp sonic boom.

Church Schedules Annual Program

First Performances Of Y Christmas Pageant Slated

The annual YMCA Christmas pageant will be presented for the first time this evening, with performances at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m., on the south side of the YMCA plant. Eighth and Owens. Thursday performances will be given at the same time.

A cast of 30, as well as live animals, walked through the dress rehearsal Monday night and all appeared in readiness for the second annual presentation of the Christmas story.

Bleacher seats borrowed from Webb AFB will give spectators a good view of the pageant and residents are urged to dress warmly, although the program lasts but 30 minutes. For those who prefer to stay in cars, ample parking has been provided but only about 25 of these parking places offer a good vantage point to see the entire spectacle.

Special lighting effects were designed and prepared by Roy Rogers, city electrician and stage technician. The colorful costuming was arranged by Mrs. John Rudeseal, with many of the costumes borrowed from the Big Spring Civic Theatre.

Arnold Marshall will narrate the pageant and the music was prepared by Dick Bailey and Jerry Caddell, using recordings of Dr. P. W. Malone and equipment of KFNE-FM.

The donkey is on loan from J. W. Thorpe and Sgt. L. E. Brown is handler. Other animals belong to 4-H clubbers and Lovell Kuykendall, assistant county agent, will be in charge of them.

Joe Leach, Y physical director, will play Joseph, and Sharon Gary will play Mary. Others in the cast will portray Herod, members of his court, prophets, the Three Wise Men, shepherds, Elizabeth and Zacharias.

Besides the persons who appear on stage, some 25 others will be working behind the scenes to insure that all goes well.

Page, institutional representative, read a letter of thanks from the church to the troop for its efforts in helping to improve the manse.

Lewis Loveless, assisted by Mrs. W. T. McRee and accompanied by Cathy Seldon at the organ, led in singing Christmas carols. A gift was presented to Gene Sturdivant in appreciation of his service as Scoutmaster. Boys brought a collection of food, clothing and toys for needy families. Refreshments were served by all the mothers.

Rehearsing

It was just rehearsing so Joe Leach, who plays Joseph in the YMCA Christmas Pageant, didn't seem to mind as they went through their paces. The pageant opens today at 7 p.m. with a second showing at 8 p.m. The same schedule is planned for Thursday evening.

State Legislators

David Read, right, State Representative, and two of his House associates met with members of the legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a noon luncheon Monday to discuss current and proposed legislation. The recently passed blue law on sale of certain objects on both Saturday and Sunday and the escheat bill to be introduced by Gov. Price Daniel in special session were the main topics of discussion. Shown with Read are, left, Sam Parsons, Henderson, and James Slider, Mt. Pleasant.

Blue Law Is Primary Topic Of Meeting With Legislators

The recent blue law, which forbids the sale of certain items on both Saturday and Sunday, was the main topic of discussion at a meeting Monday between state legislators and members of the legislative affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

David Read, state representative, and two of his House associates, joined the committee on an informal noon luncheon at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Read, James Slider, Mt. Pleasant, and Sam Parsons, Henderson, were guests of Doug Orme, chairman of the committee. Bob Fairchild, Center, was scheduled to accompany the three men, but was unable to attend.

Gil Jones, district attorney, brought up the blue law and pointed out that its effects were predictable. He said that in many instances it has brought about selective law enforcement.

"Such a law should not have been passed in the first place and since it has, it should be knocked off the books as quickly as possible," he said.

Read stated he had voted for the measure because he had received from 200-300 letters favoring it.

"I am a representative of the people," he said, "and it was apparent from the mail that most people were in favor of it."

He added that he believed the law would be declared unconstitutional, when taken to the courts.

The escheat bill to be proposed by Gov. Price Daniel in special session would not be satisfactory if it were passed, the legislators declared. Most dormant bank accounts are so small that the amounts received by the state would not pay for the cost of suits which might arise, they said.

The two per cent sales tax was reported as a compromise measure needed to put Texas on a firm financial footing. Read and his associates agreed that it was not satisfactory, but like much legislation, was the better of poor choices.

Fifteen persons were present for the meeting.

Death Penalty Is Legal Again

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Capital punishment is legal in Delaware today.

Rep. Charles F. Richards, absent from Monday afternoon's voting which failed by one vote to override a veto by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, staged an eleventh hour return and cast the deciding affirmative in the lower chamber.

The Senate had countermanded the veto by a 13-1 margin Friday. The day before, Carvel rejected the measure re-legislating capital punishment after three years' suspension.

Foul Weather

Snow, rain, sleet, cold and floods plagued many parts of the nation again today in the spell of foul weather near the start of the winter season.

CHRISTMAS STORY

phim attended the divine establishment, and angelic legions served "His will in all places of His dominion," among all manners of souls. Others raised anthems of praise in that crystalline orb whose currents flowed with the essences of life complete.

"There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy habitation of the Most High."

SELFISH SEARCH
Yet man, newly brought into the vast and varied divine procession, had abandoned his native vision of it, striking out on his own in selfish isolation, seeking to make himself preeminent. And God, with all His happy progeny, crowded for His prodigal — humanity.

Spiritual freedom, that exhilarating crown, had its hazards. Others, like man, had by their choice cut themselves off from their moorings, alone and never content, distraught by their strivings to dominate. And God was anguished.

"O foolish and senseless people, who have eyes, but see not, who have ears, but hear not . . . Everyone turns to his own course, like a horse plunging headlong into battle."

Thus had an even higher clan, the proud, lofty Lucifer and his angelic cohorts, sought to make themselves supreme, and been forever exiled, to roam the abyss of malice, deception and conflict.

But his revolt had been irrevocable, since no emotion or lack of knowledge clouded his decision. His state and that of the angelic horde that followed him was utter hopelessness, since nothing remained for them to learn. In their gloomy interim, they thus set out to beguile artless creatures such as man.

LUCIFER'S HAUNT
Man's world had become the chief haunt of the baleful Lucifer and his crew the rulers of the darkness, after masquerading as

"angels of light," or hiding their own existence, in order to deny supernatural governance.

After humanity fell into its benighted ways, God had been "sorry that He had made man on earth, and it grieved Him to His heart." And yet He knew how "very good" He considered the earth and its inhabitants at their origin.

God was resolute: "I have made them for My glory . . . I have purposed; I have not relented nor will I turn back . . . For the mountains may depart and the hills be removed, but My steadfast love shall not depart from them."

Throughout the cosmos, grave concern was focused on the earth. Its couplings with eternity appeared bent and broken, wrenching loose into oblivion.

"The earth staggers like a drunk man," a doleful observer noted. "It sways like a hut, its transgressions lie heavily upon it, and it falls and will not rise again."

Another onlooker, of terse expression, added: "Its inhabitants are like grasshoppers."

Yet, among the pure, unspotted worlds that watched the tribulations of earth, there were some who yet saw hope for that confused and bustling globe, turning wanly in a lesser solar system.

"God . . . is from of old, working salvation in the midst of earth," a sunny saint maintained. "He did not create it a chaos, He formed it to be inhabited."

RESTORATION DOUBTFUL
However, on the immutable scales of divine equity, it was hard to see how He could ever restore to His household a species that had willfully deserted it, that had become grossly unfit for it, and too densely self-centered to discern it, much less achieve it.

What seemed absurd to the holy one, was man's chronic blindness to his spiritual rudiments, to his mold in the divine image that equipped him to move toward that advanced mode of being.

Instead of recognizing this basic component in his makeup, instead of understanding that each level of existence is variously visible or invisible according to the station of the viewer, man saw only himself.

Across the circumference of the centuries and events, the celestial observers noticed the spiraling of vast conflicts on earth, wars and havoc, and the flaming burst of basic organic power in the midst of man.

"There, they are in great terror, in terror such as has not been," an indignant trumpeter proclaimed. "The nations rage, the kingdoms totter . . . Lo, the kings assembled, they came on to gather. They are in panic . . . Trembling takes hold of them there."

The doleful one stared sadly. "The enemies are in tumult; those who hate God have raised their head. Every city takes to flight. They enter thickets; they climb among rocks. All the cities are forsaken."

The trumpeter went on. "Woe to you, destroyers. Woe to you who trust in chariots because they are many . . . Might will not save . . . Shudder, you complacent ones . . . The mountains melt like wax before the Lord."

But then, as they studied the scene, the physical disruption was infused and overlaid with a more penetrating element, clear, shining, unimpaired, continuing out of the past. Through the veiled links that bind and preserve the flow of time, the vibrant force on earth expanded and worked.

What was it? How had it entered that midnight vale?

"The salvation of God," the saint breathed.
"Truly, the terse one said, 'no man can ransom himself.'"

WE AGREE

By E. R. Tarbet, preacher,
Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1252

The pastor of a popular denomination in the city, wrote in protest against some of these articles, agrees with me that Christ established only one church. All honest Bible students are compelled to admit this truth. My brethren and I not only admit it; we preach it. We try to get people to return to the one church of the Bible. And when we preach this admitted truth it causes much disturbance among modern religious leaders. Why?

Having started last Wednesday we shall continue to quote from the pastor's letter until we have printed everything in it. Those who keep the articles can tell whether we have dealt fairly with the letter. The letter continues: "Now I know that you will probably reply that Christ established only one church. With that I agree."

More important than agreeing with each other, is the fact that we agree with the Bible in saying Christ established only one church.

The church is the body (Eph. 1: 22, 23.)

There is one body (Eph. 4:4) But one body (I Cor. 12:20)

Leave Out The Lady

DEAR ABBY: A couple my husband and I have known for many years have recently separated. They are not divorced, but it is being considered. They have small children, so all their friends are hoping for a reconciliation.

Tower Lashes Nehru Action

KILGORE (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., attacked Indian Prime Minister Nehru for sending troops against Portuguese enclaves and the Kennedy administration for its Nehru policy in a speech Monday night.

He appeared at an appreciation dinner given in his honor at the National Guard armory. About 600 persons paid $25 a plate to attend.

"I think there is very little Mr. Nehru can say now about world peace. We need no more moralizing from him after this," the Wichita Falls senator said.

"It is my hope that the recent military action on the part of Nehru will reveal his hypocrisy to the administration to the extent we'll stop currying his favor in formulating our foreign policy."

It was Tower's first speech in East Texas since his election to succeed Vice President Lyndon Johnson in the Senate.

Speaking of a recent boost in crude oil imports allowed east of the Rocky Mountains, he said:

"It looks like the administration has no interest in the economy of our state."

Tyler lawyer Bill Steger, GOP candidate for governor in the last election, was master of ceremonies. Longview lawyer H. M. Harrington introduced Tower and Kilgore oilman Jack McCubbin was dinner chairman.

Rally Delayed By Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Freedom Fund rally was delayed for an hour Monday night when a woman called City Hall and said a bomb was due to go off under Zion Baptist church. Police searched the building and found no bomb.

(His wife is out of town.) My husband issued the invitation and the man asked if he could bring a "lady friend." I blew my stack and wanted to call the whole thing off. My husband says I am being narrow-minded and should go through with it because it is rude to withdraw an invitation. I don't know his "lady friend" and don't care to meet her. As far as I am concerned he is still a married man, and I refuse to entertain a married man and his "lady friend" in my home. What is proper?

STRAIGHT-LACED
DEAR STRAIGHT-LACED: You are right. Stick to your principles. If you are among those "hoping for a reconciliation," entertaining the man and his lady friend won't help matters.

DEAR ABBY: I want to know from your readers if they have ever had the same thing said to them that my daughter said to me. She is soon to be 13 and yesterday she shouted she wished she had never been born. Is this natural for girls this age?

MRS. D.
DEAR MRS. D.: It's "natural." Almost all of us have said it. Or thought it. (Haven't you?) But don't take it seriously. It is said in excitement, and will be quickly forgotten.

DEAR ABBY: What can a minister's wife do about all these showers? People don't stop to realize the pastor's wife is the only one in the entire congregation who is invited to all the showers. I can't get a gift for one and not for another. To buy gifts for all would break a rich person. Thank you.

PASTOR'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Take a token gift, or whatever your purse will allow. The folks who invite you must be aware of your financial limitations as well as the social burdens a pastor's wife must bear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO NEAL OF CALIF.: I do not consider myself a fashion expert, but I predict that this spring there will be much change in ladies' dresses, and little change in men's pockets.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of Big Spring Herald.

Steers To Play Colorado City

Delnor Poss' Big Spring Steers seek their 11th basketball victory in 12 starts in Colorado City this evening. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The Longhorns are fresh from a tournament sweep at Del Rio, where they defeated Brackettsville, Del Rio San Felipe and Sanderson in that order to win the championship.

Big Spring's only loss this year has been an 11-point reversal at the hands of battle-seasoned Lammas in the finals of the San Angelo Lake View tournament.

The Steers host Colorado City Friday night to wind up pre-Christmas play. They won't be idle throughout the holidays, however, for they have a Dec. 29 booking with Andrews in Andrews.

Big Spring opens its District 2-AAAA season as early as Jan. 2, at which time it has an up-and-coming Midland Lee team.

Colorado City recently won the consolation championship in the Hamlin tournament, after beating Stamford, 53-39, and Merkel, 55-48, in that order.

Senior Steve Hillhouse leads the Colorado City attack. He was named to the all-tournament team at Hamlin.

Avoca beat the Wolves, 59-40, in the first round of play at Hamlin. Colorado City hadn't won a game until it vanquished Stamford in the Hamlin meet.

The Wolves earlier had lost to Andrews, 50-32, a team that lost to Big Spring in an overtime period earlier this year, 56-50.

Charles Houston and Ronald Lyon lead Hillhouse a lot of help in the Wolf offense.

Earlier this year, the Wolves lost decisions to Abilene High and Abilene Cooper, as well as a previous go to Andrews. Colorado City is coached by Caddo Matthews.

Poss will probably go with a lineup composed of Dick Ebling, Albert Fierro, Eddie Nelson, De-Roby Gartman and either Richard Bethell or Coy Mitchell.

B teams of the two schools clash at 6 p.m.

A Boy With Big Hands

Albert Fierro, fine all-around athlete at Big Spring High School, displays his ability here to hold up a basketball with one hand — a feat few cagers anywhere can accomplish. Fierro is a top rebounder for the Longhorns. He's a sophomore.

Fouls Hurt HC Club At Paris

HJC lost to a top-quality club in dropping its first game of the season to Paris Junior College, 39-36, in Paris, Coach Buddy Travis said Monday.

HJC played nearly half the game without services of two of its front-line men, Elvis Spradling and Ernest Turner, who fouled out.

"When we lost these two boys we were dead," observed Travis, adding hastily: "This is not to disparage Paris, for they have a mighty fine ball club. They have back four starters from last year's club and in the clutch the poise and confidence of those sophs made the difference."

Turner had accumulated three fouls midway in the first half and had to be saved. Spradling had been tabbed three times by the half and also had to be benched to conserve him for the stretch. It was not to avail, both fouled out long before the game was over.

At that, Hawk replacements did a fine job. There was hardly a time that more than four points separated the teams, and most of the time it was two points with the lead constantly see-sawing.

The Paris JC coach paid the Hawks a high compliment in rating HJC as the best team they had played all season. Among the teams they had played were Decatur, which has lost but one game, and the Eastern Oklahoma team which went to the national tournament and which has its all-American back for another year of service.

Travis is easing up on the Hawks prior to the HJC tournament here Dec. 28-29-30.

"We want to give the boys a chance to catch up with their books," he said. "We've been on the road and some have fallen a bit behind. They need to catch up before we go to the all-state tournament at Lawton, Okla. Jan. 5-6."

Phillips Named Western Mentor

EL PASO (AP)—Texas Western has completed its athletic setup by naming O. A. (Bum) Phillips, a successful high school coach, to the job of head football coach.

Phillips coached high school football at Nederland, Jacksonville and Amarillo for 10 years and spent one year as assistant to Paul Bryant at Texas A&M.

He was selected Monday to replace Ben Collins, who resigned to become an instructor at the college.

George McCarty, dean of men at the school, was named athletic director last week. Collins held both positions before he resigned.

The Coyotes won the boys' A game, 43-33; the girls' contest, 29-27; and the boys' B engagement, 45-42.

The Sands boys now have a 5-5 won-lost record. Dan Shortes tallied 12 points for Sands.

Cincinnati Upset By Wichita U.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — "We didn't shoot too well," said coach Ed Jucker of Cincinnati.

"When our boys got down to the place where they had to hit every shot, they did," said coach Ralph Miller of Wichita.

That just about tells the story of Wichita's 52-51 upset of Cincinnati, defending National Collegiate basketball champion and winner of 27 straight games.

Turner Spells Baugh As NY Titan Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, a 230-pounder who used to lift bulls for photographers and laughs, today had another heavy hoisting job for his broad shoulders.

The former all-pro center of the Chicago Bears will spend next season trying to lift the New York Titans into a contending position in the American Football League.

Sammy Baugh, another former National Football League great, couldn't do it and Monday after weeks of open pleading with Titan owner Harry Wismer and his second straight 7-7 season, Baugh was dropped to a "consultant" and Turner was named to succeed him as head coach.

"Everybody's happy," claimed Wismer, who said Turner would be paid $20,000 a year under a two-year contract, the same amount Baugh was drawing as head coach.

The out-spoken Titan boss then took another verbal punch at Baugh, who last week said he hoped he'd be fired but wouldn't quit, obviously because he wanted to be paid the $20,000 due him under his three-year contract.

"Turner was my first choice for head coach when I organized this club," Wismer said. "My second choice was Otto Graham, my third was Frank Leahy and my fourth choice was Sammy Baugh."

Baugh wasn't available for comment by last week, when Wismer threatened to demote him, Sammy said: "That's wonderful. I'd like to be an assistant at these prices."

Turner, now 42, played 13 seasons with the Bears and eight times was named all-pro center. After his retirement in 1953, he was an assistant under George Halas of the Bears until 1958.

Since then he has been out of football, managing his ranch at Gatesville, Tex. He played his college football at Hardin-Simmons in Texas, where Baugh coached before joining the Titans.

Turner said he would retain two assistants—Hugh (Bones) Taylor and John Del Isola — and would scan the films of the Titan games thoroughly before considering what changes would be made.

Goliad Mavericks Defeat Travis In 2 Of 3 Starts

Mavericks now have a 1-5 won-lost record.

Terry White scored eight points and Horton seven for Big Spring in that one.

Goliad's eighth ran its won-lost record to 4-5 by defeating Travis, 27-19. The Mavericks have won four of their last five starts.

Simon Terrazas tallied 11 points for Goliad in that contest.

Goliad's ninth fell behind early in its game and was never able to catch up. The ninth graders now have a 2-5 won-lost record.

Don White paced Goliad's attack with a ten-point output.

Looking 'em Over

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue: GEORGE PRESTON MARSHALL, owner of the Washington Redskins.

"In a bowling alley, the atmosphere is smoky. The participants wear the shabbiest clothing in sports. The women are usually attired in unattractive slacks and gaudy polo shirts that bear such inspirational messages as 'Sam's Auto Painting.'"

SAMIN GOREC, Turkish basketball authority.

"When the Russians learn what basketball is all about watch out for them in the Olympics. They are short on finesse, but long on conditioning. The players chosen for their national teams do nothing but play basketball. That is their life. They marvel at how the Americans such as Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson handle the ball and hit the basket with such uncanny accuracy. They watched them closely in the Olympics and afterwards. Their high jumpers once marveled at American high jumpers. They watched, also, and they practiced to the exclusion of all else. Now they are breaking world high jump marks. To this day the Russians haven't discovered the secret of good basketball, which is split-second teamwork in the execution of set plays. But they are watching... Sooner or later it will dawn on them. Then their relentless day-after-day drilling will make them something to see."

JOHN P. CARMICHAEL, Chicago writer

"The toughest bowl game of them all could be Texas and Mississippi in Dallas. Each is an offensive powerhouse. Each has been shackled only once. Coach Darrell Royal of the Texans has such a plain, unfrilled offense that he utilizes only five basic running plays, off which there's also a pass option. 'We play a winged-T,' said Royal, 'but if we moved our quarterback (Mike Cofer) over just a few steps, we'd be a single wing team. It's that easy to change.' One thing Texas has done with a flair: Royal hired a full-time academic counselor named Len Hewlett to combat scholastic mortality. Everybody knows what Ken is there for and it is happily significant that the Longhorns didn't lose a man for deficiency in reading, writing and arithmetic."

VIC LINDSKOG, assistant coach of the Los Angeles Rams:

"Merlin Olsen (the Utah State All-American linebacker) may not be of much help on the offense to the Rams next year. It takes three years to develop an offensive lineman in this league. I know he can play defense right away. Playing offense is a more difficult adjustment than defense, which is reaction."

FRESCO THOMPSON, vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers:

"We get lots of suggestions—some of them dilutes. One guy wanted us to cut down the ball and strike count, so that the batter would walk on three balls and fan on two strikes. Moreover, if he had one strike and then fouled off two pitches he'd be called out on the second foul. The weirdest one, though, was a suggestion that the game be played with five bases instead of four. But don't ask me how it was supposed to work. I couldn't understand the plan myself."

JIM MURRAY, Los Angeles writer, commenting on the headline "Jim Owens Says He's Happy at Washington":

"You'd be happy, too, with ten per cent of Puget Sound and all the free salmon you can eat. Besides, if he left Seattle for Houston, they'd have to postpone the Seattle World's Fair. At least until the war with Texas was over."

CUS D'AMATO, manager of fight champion Floyd Patterson:

"Floyd Patterson will knock out Sonny Liston within six rounds. The minute Sonny is crowded, he goes to pieces and Floyd will crowd him. Liston must have arm room, so he can pick and fight from a distance."

Ranks Of Unbeaten Dwindle In Hurry

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ Associated Press Staff Writer

The ranks of collegiate basketball's unbeaten teams dwindled today as three of the nation's top five teams tasted defeat for the first time and several other powerhouses had their untarnished records spoiled.

Cincinnati, ranked second in the weekly Associated Press poll, lost to Wichita 52-51 Monday night to set the tempo for a night of form reversals.

Providence, No. 3 nationally, fell to unbeaten DePaul 68-63 and fifth-ranked West Virginia was spilled by Duke 69-65.

Arizona State, tied for 10th in the ratings, dropped its first game in six starts, to Indiana 94-68. Temple suffered its first setback, to Kentucky 78-55, after winning five.

Two of the top ten teams stayed undefeated. First-ranked Ohio State whipped St. Louis 61-48 for its sixth straight win and Kansas State, No. 4, breezed to its sixth in a row, 59-43, over Arizona.

New York University (6-0) beat Notre Dame 81-73, Utah State (7-0) rolled over San Francisco State and Illinois (5-0) upended Xavier of Ohio 81-69.

Lanny Van Eman's 15-foot jump shot with three seconds remaining gave Wichita its one-point squeaker over Cincinnati and snapped the defending NCAA champion Bearcats' 27-game winning streak—longest among major colleges. The victory was the Shockers' seventh in eight starts. The loss gave Cincinnati a 5-1 record.

Van Eman sank seven field goals in the last eight minutes. The 5-11 senior shared scoring honors with Cincinnati's big Paul Hogue, each with 19 points.

Providence, the National Invitation Tournament winner last March, lost for the first time in six outings as DePaul boosted its record to 6-0. Dick Cook and M. C. Thompson sparked the Demons to their 19th consecutive home court victory.

Duke, in extending its record to 7-1, handed West Virginia its first defeat after six triumphs. The Iron Dukes, with all of their starters playing the entire game, jolted West Virginia on the Mountaineers' floor. Jeff Mullins and Art Heyman led the Duke attack with 25 and 20 points.

Ohio State experienced little difficulty with St. Louis in enhancing its No. 1 rating. All-America Jerry Lucas paved the way with 20 points and John Havlicek contributed 17 as the Buckeyes bolted to a 32-19 halftime bulge.

Elsewhere on the basketball beat: Billy McGill clicked for 27 points as Utah downed California 64-58; Oklahoma State drubbed Tulsa 81-57; SMU spanked Alabama 71-67; Mississippi outlasted Louisiana Tech 68-64; Oregon State tripped Stanford 55-49; Iowa State beat Drake 59-50; Iowa ripped Los Angeles State 82-72; Michigan State downed South Carolina 99-81; Maryland romped over Virginia 91-70; Bradley beat Minnesota 80-47 and Air Force shaded Brigham Young 68-66.

Mighty Buckeyes Lead In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Mighty Ohio State was a near unanimous choice as the nation's No. 1 college basketball power in the first Associated Press poll of the regular season.

Eight district boards around the country made the Buckeyes their overwhelming selection, giving them 39 of 40 first-place votes on the basis of games through last Saturday.

Cincinnati, one of several rated teams toppled in Monday night's wave of upsets, received the other first-place vote. The Buckeyes totaled 399 points to 301 for the Bearcats, with 10 points for a first, 9 for a second and so on.

Ohio State was ranked first throughout last season when the Buckeyes won 32 in a row before Cincinnati beat them in a stunning triumph for the national collegiate title. The Buckeyes were No. 1 in the AP's preseason poll.

Cincinnati's 27-game winning streak was snapped Monday night by Wichita, 52-51.

Along with Cincinnati, three other teams in the top 10 were knocked over Monday night—Providence by DePaul, 68-63; West Virginia by Duke, 69-65;

A Year Of Culture For Big Spring

1961 was culturally drier than in previous years in Big Spring, but the season did have its high points. Nearly all the seven lively arts were represented in both amateur and professional fields. Included were concerts, pageants, plays, art shows, and many other attractions.

It was a big and successful year for Big Spring High School's thespians, theatre-wise. The only thing lacking was big audiences; Lida Fiveash and Tommy Wilkinson rehearse for a more serious moment in the comedy-fantasy, "Mr. Angel." Things will happen in the best of rehearsals, and Denneice Nicholson strums an imaginary Okinawan stringed instrument while stage-whispering to stage hands to hand over her guitar. She was the geisha of the high school comedy, "Teahouse of the August Moon," and on opening night the stage hands were on cue with the guitar. High School drama coach Bedford Forrest finally got his new lighting system, just in time for the school year's last performance. Behind that string of lights is a modern, complex lighting board which will allow special effects comparable to those of the professional theatre. Imogene Coca and King Donovan took time off from an off-Broadway tour, along with Edward Everett Horton, to regale an audience of Webb AFB personnel and their guests with an impromptu but professional variety show. The Howard County Junior College presentation of a modernized Greek classic, "Antigone," pitted Kay Loveland in the title role against a mad tyrant, portrayed by LeRoy Cebik, in the two finest and most subtle characterizations HCJC's stage has yet seen. Frank McKinley again brought his North Texas State College choir through Big Spring and, as usual, took his singers through a repertoire that would have done justice to Broadway; one of the concert's high points was an amusing skit by the choir's quartet. Bob Walker, Air Force civilian public relations worker, greets Col. and Mrs. Geo. S. Howard as they arrived with the U.S. Air Force Band for what was to be the most professionally rendered concert by armed forces musicians here in many years. Bill Mancill, chairman of the Jaycee's annual Miss Big Spring pageant, smilingly accompanies the first entrants, Kay Leatherwood and Phyllis Anderson, as they sign in for the contest. Artists were not as active as in previous years, but some acceptable and a few good paintings were shown publicly; one of the latter being admired by Las Artistas President Leonard Ware's two pretty daughters. HCJC vocal instructor Ira Schantz arrayed his choir members step by step for the yearbook picture, and he took them step by step through rehearsals of difficult choral compositions and into a successful season of public performances.

Santa Claus Helpers

Marsha Stark, president of the Junior Garden Club, welcomes new members, Jane (at left) and Nancy Oppgaard, with refreshments at the home of Mrs. John Balch, Monday afternoon. The club met for a work session and made gumdrop trees to be part of the decorations on the wards of the Big Spring State Hospital when patients are entertained at a party Friday evening.

Junior Club Works For Yule Party

Singing while they worked, members of the Junior Garden Club fashioned gumdrop trees for decorations to be used at the state hospital for the party Friday evening.

The group met at the home of Mrs. John Balch, co-sponsor of the club, where Gene Ann Black, a guest, led them in carols. A gift from the club was presented to Mrs. Obie Bristow, sponsor, by Ann Talbot, and Pat Schaplund read the "Collect for Juniors."

Nancy and Jane Oppgaard were welcomed into the club as new members.

Santa Claus arrangements stood on the serving table and the small tables at which the group was seated, and napkins bore a picture of the jovial Santa.

Party Is Given At Park Hill

Open house for residents and guests of Park Hill Terrace was held Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pulls, host and hostess for the get-acquainted affair.

The couple was assisted by Mrs. Dennis Wills and Mrs. William Gurley, who distributed name tags as guests arrived.

A silver tree with red baubles was spotlighted and featured in decoration. Large Christmas candles with evergreen were placed on the tables, and above the doorway was a red looped kissing ring centered with mistletoe.

Some 40 guests called during the evening including special guests Mr. and Mrs. Truman Jones.

Catholic Women Guests For Christmas Affair

A Christmas tea for Catholic women of Webb AFB and Immaculate Heart of Mary was held Monday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. C. W. Head on Albrook. This being the first such affair held jointly, co-hostesses were Mrs. Head, Mrs. Henry Victor, Mrs. Harold Talbot and Mrs. Y. C. Gray, representing both groups.

Red and green predominant, decoration in the living room included twin wreaths over the fireplace; Santa, his sleigh and reindeer in the windows; large poinsettia plants, and a Nativity scene.

Some 145 guests were served at the tea table which was spread with Venetian lace cloth and appointed with silver tea service and punch bowl. Centering the table was a silver and white Madonna arrangement with spires of white berries, baubles and silver ribbon on a base of green spruce.

Red berries, greenery and red ribbon formed corsages for members of the house party and hostesses.

Those who assisted were Mrs. John Summa, Mrs. Don Long, Mrs. James Green, Mrs. H. L. Cannady, Mrs. Jack Turner, Mrs. V. O. Wade, Mrs. C. W. Deats, Mrs. Billy Shepherd and Mrs. Walter Ross.

Officers Assist At Tea

Officers of Webb AFB Altar Society and Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society were among those assisting with a joint tea for Catholic women, held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Head on Albrook. Mrs. Don Long, standing, is president of the Webb group while Mrs. Jack Turner, seated, is vice president of Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society.

Birthday Noted At Club Meeting

Eight members of the newly organized Friendship Club attended a Christmas party, held Monday at the home of Mrs. W. M. Gage, 1200 Nolan. The party was also an observance of Mrs. Ollie McDaniel's birthday.

Guests for the occasion were Mrs. W. R. Smelser, Mrs. O. M. Green, Mrs. Clarence Hahn and Mrs. Melly Tompkins.

The next meeting will be a breakfast at the home of Mrs. H. H. Tanner, Lamesa Highway, Jan. 1.

Class Meets With Mrs. J. Sutherlin

Lydia Class of the First Christian Church met with Mrs. John Sutherlin Monday evening, with Mrs. Nina Carter presiding.

The group's project, preparing a clean-up kit, was discussed and members were asked to bring towels to be added to supplies already in the kit.

Program leader, Mrs. Joe B. Johnson, presented the Christmas story, taken from the books of Matthew and Mark. A question and answer period on current events followed. Members were asked to read the first three chapters of Ephesians before the next meeting in January.

Christmas packages for shut-ins were packed with cookies, candies, fruit and nuts, and will be sent to the shut-ins by members of the class.

Refreshments were served to 10 members and the next meeting announced for January at the home of Mrs. Harvey Clay.

Scenic Chapter

Members of the Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, met Friday evening for a Christmas party in the Flame Room. The account in Sunday's Herald inadvertently called the group the Cactus Chapter.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Wouldn't our city be beautiful for the holiday season if every housewife would remember to connect the Christmas lights at the same time? Last night, in driving about the streets, we saw many homes with no pretty lights showing; some had trees in the windows but they just stood there unlighted. Being the window peeper that I am (I only look into those that are already left undraped) I enjoy seeing the delightful decor some ingenious women think up for the festive seasons.

On Alabama there is such a pretty "tree" made of row upon row of lights in reflectors; another house is fronted with gay peppermint stick candies; Santa is spotlighted in many yards and caught climbing down some chimneys. Picture windows are outlined with colored lights to frame glistening aluminum trees colored in various shades with revolving reflectors. Then there are the many plain green trees with a maze of multi-colored lights blinking their happiness.

Get out and see the pretties . . . You'll enjoy the warm feeling of the season.

Don't forget the YMCA Christmas pageant tonight at the Y beginning at 7. Another will be given at 8 o'clock on the property just south of the building.

MR. and MRS. L. W. CROFT left this morning by train for a Christmas visit with their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. DAKIN WILLIAMS, and their two little girls, Fran and Ann, in Belleville, Ill. The Williamses and the Crofts will probably be in New York on Christmas Day to see Tennessee Williams' play that is now showing on Broadway. The Williams men are brothers.

MR. and MRS. ELMER DORSETT and son, Jeffrey, of Dallas have returned to their home after visiting their parents, MR. and MRS. ERNEST DORSETT.

MRS. ARTHUR PACHALL is back home from San Francisco, Calif., where she spent a month with her daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. CHARLES RUSSELL (Sally Pachall). Primary attraction for the visit was the arrival of TONI CARLENE on Nov.

29. She weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces, and is the Pachall's first grandchild.

MRS. HALLIE PEARCE, mother of MRS. CHARLES SWEENEY, arrived Sunday in Midland by air, to spend the holidays with the Sweeneyes. Mrs. Pearce's home is in Durant, Okla., and she has spent the past few weeks in Los Angeles with another daughter.

Do you know anyone who could use an oversized rubber plant? MRS. E. E. EVERETT at 1710 Alabama over-exercised her green thumb and now she has more rubber plant than her ceiling will allow. If you know of a hospital, business reception room, etc., that can handle a five or six footer, you may call Mrs. Everett at AM 3-2958.

Here for the holidays are MR. and MRS. STORMY EDWARDS and Sarah Ann, and MR. and MRS. SONNY EDWARDS, all of Rudoso, N. M. The Stormy Edwards will be with the FRANKLIN NUGENTS while the Sonny Edwards will be guests of MR. and MRS. TRAVIS REED.

When the Boatler family got together Saturday night the nose count reached 44. Left out of the list were the names of MR. and MRS. M. H. BOATLER and MR. and MRS. R. W. HALBROOK and Carolyn. The latter aren't really members of the family but they are so closely connected they are included in the family gatherings.

MR. and MRS. C. C. JONES will spend Christmas in El Paso with her sister and brother-in-law, MR. and MRS. C. W. HARPER.

MRS. ALBERT M. FISHER arrived early Monday morning to spend the holidays with her son, MR. and MRS. EDWARD FISHER, 1413 E. 19th. The first thing she did was to assist in the holiday preparations was take a lengthy grocery list in hand and do the shopping—about the greatest help that could be given a homemaker who also follows a career.

MR. and MRS. BOB CLARK and MR. and MRS. A. J. ALLEN entertained members of the Howard County Junior College Choir Sunday afternoon following the program presented at the college.

About 35 were present for the party, during which BARBARA CLARK, SANDRA LANE, LOUISE JACKSON and BONNIE BELDA assisted in the house party.

Woman's Society of Christian Service, Park Methodist Church, was entertained Monday evening when a dinner-party was held at the parsonage with Mrs. R. L. Bowman, hostess. Co-hostesses were Mrs. J. B. Hollis and Mrs. Harold Pearce.

Mrs. G. C. Graves was in charge of the program and Mrs. Jack M. Griffin conducted a song-fest. After Scripture reading from Luke II, Mrs. Graves led the group in prayer. Each told of the spirit of Christmas in her own home and what she would like in the toe of her Christmas stocking. About 25 members were present and participated in a gift exchange.

Construction Begins This Week On Shopping Center

Construction is due to begin this week at the College Park Shopping Center on the 15-acre site located at East Fourth and Birdwell Lane. John Little, vice president of College Parks Shopping Center, Inc., Dallas, said Monday that he went over the plans and the survey with the contractor, and equipment will begin moving in at once.

R. G. Farrell and Company, Odessa, was awarded the contract, on a bid of $853,900, with the work to be completed in 190 working days.

"The company was not the low bidder," Little said, "but the shorter completion time will give the tenants more time to get their fixtures installed and ready for an Aug. 1 opening."

The huge, "L"-shaped center will house, in the first construction contract, a Safeway store, a W. T. Grant junior department store, a Lewis 5 & 10 store, a drug store, paint and glass store, real estate office, cleaning and pressing shop, shoe store, service station, and others.

To be included in a later contract will be two large buildings on the northeast and northwest corners, and facilities for hardware, sporting goods, and men's and women's wearing apparel.

The structures will have ramp-type, covered walkways along the fronts and no steps will be required except at the curb. The covered walkways will be lighted to give an impression of being inside the stores, Little said.

The parking area will handle 777 customer cars. Employee parking space for 191 cars, will be at the rear of the buildings, and a loading dock, at truck-bed height, will be built at the rear.

Grading of the site, and a retaining wall with chain-link fence on top, has already been done.

The ultimate cost of the shopping center will run in excess of $1 million, Little said, and contracts may be let during the first phase of construction for the other buildings to be included. These buildings will be designed to suit tenants.

"Barring unforeseen circumstances," Little said, "the work will be completed prior to June 30, 1962."

Choirs, Band To Present Musical Treat

The choir and the band from Goliad Junior High school are combining this evening to provide a Christmas musical treat.

Their program is set for 8 p.m. in the Senior High School auditorium and is, of course, free to the public.

Choir activities are under the direction of Mel Ivey, while Bill Jones is in charge of the band.

Opening the comparatively brief program will be the advanced choir in Revelation Motet, a rather complicated composition by the pre-Bach composer, Melchior Franck. Not only is the piece unusual, but it is difficult for young singers. Nevertheless, Mr. Ivey has trained his choir members in the subtle musical expressions which distinguish the work. This passage is based on Rev. 7:13-17. Approximately 60 are in the advanced choir.

A colorful novelty, the massed choir, with upward of 150 voices, will sing the fantasy based on the First Noel, while the 50-piece band will furnish accompaniment. This is the story of Christmas in carols and includes the best known carols. This selection will put nearly 250 young people on the stage simultaneously.

The finale will be Adeste Fideles by the band, then repeat in accompaniment for the choir, and finally with the audience joining in the stirring Christmas praise.

Russians Hail Goa 'Liberation'

LONDON (AP) — Pravda hailed the Indian invasion of Goa today as a campaign to liberate Goans from Portuguese colonial domination.

"Historic justice has triumphed," the Soviet official Communist party newspaper declared.

"The Indian people are welcoming their brothers from Goa, Daman and Diu into their great family."

Quoted in a Tass dispatch, Pravda claimed the United States has been building Goa up as a base; for waging a struggle against the newly independent people of Asia.

Fidel Is Figurehead Useful To Communists

EDITOR'S NOTE—The writer of this dispatch has just come out of Cuba after six months as The Associated Press correspondent in that Caribbean nation. His is his penetrating analysis of the temper of the people in Cuba and an insight into the little known behind-the-scenes Communist who play an important role in the Castro revolution.

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO
An AP News Analyst

once known as the "Pearl of the Antilles" is far from being a circus but is becoming the first nation in the Western hemisphere to fall under the iron grip of international communism.

Castro seems to be slowly losing his position as ring master. What Castro says still goes, since the Communist clique acting behind him needs his popularity to stay on top. But the Reds have taken over control of government planning and are turning the former easy living in Cuba into a tightly organized Communist state.

Although there is some armed rebel activity, the Castro regime's well organized political-military machine makes improbable any internal uprising on a large scale at the present time.

JAILED OR WATCHED
Anyone known to be of sympathy with the government is either jailed or watched. The underground movement, smashed after April's abortive invasion, has not been able to reorganize itself, partly because of the differences among counterrevolutionary groups fighting one another for leadership.

Castro himself is a paradox. Either sincerely persuaded or forced because he has no other way to turn for help, he is going along with the Communist clique to the extent of proclaiming himself "a Marxist-Leninist to the day I die."

However, there are observers close to the Cuban prime minister who say he is not an indoctrinated Communist but a man dragged toward Moscow as the only source of support in his bitter feud with the United States.

These observers claim that Castro is incapable of adhering to the rigid discipline demanded of a member of the Communist party and "can never be a real Communist." One Western diplomat in Havana told me: "Castro is a typical individualistic leader who believes only in himself."

SOURCE OF SUPPORT
Castro used the Communists as a source of support in the first days after his two-year guerrilla revolution in the Sierra Maestra overthrew the Batista dictatorship Jan. 1, 1959.

As the break with the United States widened, he leaned more on the Communists until today they control all fields of Cuban life—political, economic and social.

Sometimes the Communist leaders bow before Castro—more often goes along with them. Heading the Red clique are Fabio Grobart and Blas Roca. Both are Moscow-trained and toe the Kremlin line.

Grobart, in his 60s, is a mysterious East European who has been a Soviet agent in the Caribbean for 20 years. He is believed to be a Polish Jew whose real name is Abraham Zinowich.

Blas Roca is reported to be his handpicked head of the Cuban Communist party—an appointment made years ago.

IN THE OPEN
Roca, whose real name is Francisco Calderin, has operated in the open since Castro seized power. Grobart remained in the background until four months ago when his name appeared as a director of "Cuba Socialist," a new monthly magazine of Marxist-Leninist philosophy.

Grobart is credited with creating the "School for Instructors of Art"—a huge program under which thousands of Cuban youngsters are taught communism. These schools have been set up in the luxurious homes of wealthy Cubans who fled after Castro's takeover.

A Western diplomat living next door to one of these schools in a Havana suburb said he overheard a lecture to a geography class.

"Cuba is an island lying 90 miles southeast of the United States. Cuba is a Socialist country. The United States is a capitalist country. As long as the United States remains a capitalist country there can be no peace for Cuba," the instructor said.

SOLE PARTY
Grobart and Roca operate through the "Integrated Revolutionary Organizations" known as ORI, slated to become the lone and all-powerful political party in Cuba.

Ernesto Guevara, Argentine-born economic czar considered by many as the ablest figure in the Castro government, is a member of ORI. But there are growing doubts about Guevara's political influence.

Castro still retains the support of a large part of the Cuban people even though his popularity is not as high as when he first took over.

Food is scarce and there are other shortages in such key items as clothes, bathing soap, toothpaste, razor blades, brassieres.

Castro's support comes largely from the interior where peasants—particularly 200,000 distributed in 600 collective farms—live under better conditions than they ever did before.

ARMED CAMP
But Cuba is an armed camp with 300,000 men and women out of a six million population in the militia or regular army.

Cuban government leaders have admitted they still need to attract the younger generation to the Marxist-Leninist line of thought to close the gap between themselves and the masses.

"The revolution is going ahead so fast that many people are left behind," Castro himself once said. The big question mark in the all-out transformation of a Cuba known for gambling, drinking and dancing into a drab Communist state is the Cuban people themselves.

There are many who believe that the traditionally gay and hot-blooded Cubans will never accept the rigid discipline and austere life of a Communist country.

Proposal Spurned

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—Machinists at the big Gulf Oil Co. refinery here voted Monday night to reject a package proposal for a new working agreement.

Cold Air Rides Deeper Into State

By The Associated Press
Arctic air rode deeper into Texas as a dry norther spread a fresh chill Tuesday.

The mercury sagged to freezing and below across the northwest third of the state before sunrise. Even more frigid weather was in prospect, with temperatures down to 5 above zero expected in the Texas Panhandle by early Wednesday. Cold wave warnings went out for Northwest, North Central and Northeast Texas.

Fierce winds which churned clouds of dust over a broad area of West Texas Monday last much of their force during the night but were due to rise again. Skies were nearly cloudless throughout the state. The latest forecasts dropped an earlier prediction for snow flurries in the Panhandle.

The temperature sagged to 16 degrees at Dalhart, 21 at Amarillo, 22 at Lubbock, 29 at Childress and 32 at Marfa and Wink. Readings at other points ranged through the 30s and 40s up to 55 at Alice and 57 at Corpus Christi. Visibility dropped to one-eighth mile Monday as winds gusting up to 72 miles per hour sent dust billowing through the sky over the South Plains. At Levelland, motorists found it necessary to turn on car lights at midday.

In addition to 5 above zero lows in the upper Panhandle, forecasts called for readings no higher than 22 elsewhere in Northwest Texas and down to 18 in parts of North Central and Northeast Texas overnight.

Readings in the 20s were predicted for Southwest Texas, down to 32 for South Central Texas and down to 30 for Southeast Texas.

Clear to partly cloudy skies were promised all sections of the state.

Favor Integration

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Rice University students have voted almost 2-to-1 in favor of integrating the privately endowed, all-white school.

Louisiana Negroes Plan Vote Protest Mass March

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Negroes protesting alleged vote discrimination planned a mass march on the registrar's office tonight in the wake of the arrest of nearly 300 sympathy demonstrators.

The Consumers League of Greater New Orleans, a Negro group, appealed to President Kennedy for protection.

Police Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso said his department "positively will not stand for any demonstrations by marching groups."

Police quickly broke up a march Monday by Negro youths. They said were protesting the arrest of 73 Negroes last week in Baton Rouge, where officers used tear gas to break up anti-segregation demonstrations.

The arrests in New Orleans included 290 Negroes and two white youths. Many of the Negroes were students at Dillard University and the New Orleans branch of Southern University.

The Rev. Avery Alexander, president of the Consumers League, wired President Kennedy that the students "were run down and hunted by dogs like animals and arrested while walking peacefully to a local state office building to protest the tear gassing and inhuman treatment of students at Southern University in Baton Rouge."

Police said they did not use their trained dogs to break up the demonstration. The arrests were made under a city statute passed last year to ward off impromptu racial demonstrations. It requires a permit well in advance of scheduled marches, including the Mardi Gras parades.

The marchers were orderly and offered no resistance as police started hauling them to jail in patrol wagons. They were scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court at 4 p.m. today.

Alexander said the consumers league would sponsor a march on the registration offices at 6 p.m. to "protest the utter disregard by the registrar of voters, Mr. Tim Gallinghouse, of the rights of Negroes to register and vote as other citizens."
