S. Viet Nam Troops Ignore Reds For Day

EDITOR'S NOTE - Malcolm W. Browne, Associated Press correspondent for South Viet Nam, spent Christmas at an air-strengthened base north of Saigon, where 15 U.S. Army instructors and their Vietnamese trainees observed the holiday under the eyes of Viet Cong snipers.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
TRUNG LAP, South Viet Nam (AP)—Despite the constant threat of Viet Cong snipers and guerrillas, 15 U.S. Army men and their Vietnamese trainees stationed at this lonely ranger base in the jungle observed Christmas with a midnight Mass, a Christmas tree and a turkey dinner.

The Mass was said in Vietnamese by a South Vietnamese army chaplain. The Christmas tree was small and mounted on cases of mortar shells. And the turkey dinner had been carried 30 miles north from Saigon over hazy, dangerous roads. But Trung Lap camp spent a peaceful holiday.

With the Americans were about 500 Vietnamese ranger trainees and their officers, some 70 of them Christians. Next week the rangers will begin field training problems conducted on the "learn while you fight" principle. The maneuvers will be conducted against the Viet Cong rebels themselves.

TAKING TOLL
During the past week, the Viet Cong had tried to burn down two bridges on a rutted, dusty road connecting the camp with the outside world. Communist sniper fire had been taking its toll of casualties among the Vietnamese rangers.

As the sun set on Christmas Eve, sounds of rooster calls and tom-toms told Trung Lap that the Viet Cong outposts were watching and signaling from the surrounding rice fields and underbrush.

The new diesel generator was started, and lights came on in the new mess hall. A string of lights on the Christmas tree was plugged in, and Capt. Linton C. Beasley of Lynchburg, Va., senior U.S. adviser at the camp, produced a tape recorder with some Christmas carol tapes. When the generator failed, the men lighted candles and sang.

PRIEST ARRIVES
During the day, the Rev. Dinh Tuan Ngan had arrived at the camp under heavy escort in his pink chaplain's jeep. Father Ngan could speak no English but communicated with the Americans in enthusiastic, broken French, and prepared a makeshift altar and confessional in a training hut. During the past year, the Viet Cong has made priests special targets. A French priest was murdered while visiting his parishioners two weeks ago.

After dinner Monday, the Americans played cards, swapped stories, read or wrote letters. Most were lonely. For all this was the first Christmas in Viet Nam, and for some of the younger officers it was the first Christmas away from home. Most are married and have children back at home.

Shortly before midnight, the massive barbed wire gate to the fort was opened. Vietnamese rangers carrying tommy guns escorted about 20 women and their children from the nearby village inside. All the villagers were dressed in their best clothes and had come for Mass. The children were given candy and taken to see the Christmas tree, but the generator had failed and the tree lights were out. In the darkness, the children inspected the tinsel by flashlight illumination.

The villagers were joined at the Mass by the Christian rangers and most of the Americans. Fire crackers were exploded to scare off mosquitoes, and the priest solemnly intoned the Roman Catholic rites.

As the villagers walked away from the improvised chapel, an American mortarman fired five illuminating flares into the warm northern sky, casting a bright glow over the rice fields. The shells exploded in the sky, forming the rough pattern of a star. Lookout posts checked the field, but no Viet Cong were in sight.

On Christmas Day, the Americans moved out of camp in combat formation for an inspection of the bridges and the nearby village. Children flocked around and candy was distributed.

During the day an army plane flew low over the camp, dropping a box of mail. The mail plane has not tried to land at the camp since breaking its landing gear there several months ago.

VOLEYBALL
Just before sunset, Americans and Vietnamese set up a volleyball net and played until dinner. The prized turkey and fixings were prepared with a flourish by Sgt. Al Combs, 34, of Brooklyn, N.Y., whose wife and four children stayed in Okinawa when he was sent to Viet Nam.

Along with all the other U.S. troops at Trung Lap, Combs can cook, fire mortars, train Vietnamese rangers, perform minor surgery, fix communications equipment, demolish enemy emplacements, fight in any kind of terrain, make combat parachute jumps or back paths through the jungle. But on Christmas his principal problem was preparation of cranberry sauce.

The men went to bed early. There had been an intelligence report that a Viet Cong platoon with at least one automatic weapon had moved into the area, and the war would continue tomorrow.

Traffic Deaths Exceed Estimate

Holiday Road Toll Now Stands At 521

By The Associated Press

Traffic	521
Fires	83
Miscellaneous	65
Total	669

Christmas holiday traffic deaths soared past the 500 estimate of the National Safety Council to a six-year record Monday night.

The latest count of the three-day Yuletide period from 6 p.m. local time, Friday, to midnight Monday was 521. Fires took 83 other lives and 65 persons died in miscellaneous mishaps. The overall total of violent deaths was 689.

The council increased its estimate to 550 or more midway through the holiday period. This is the first year since 1955 that more than 500 persons have died in traffic accidents during a three-day Christmas holiday. The 609 traffic deaths in 1955 is the record for a 78-hour yuletide period.

Last year 488 persons died in highway accidents during the Christmas weekend, the lowest figure for that period in 10 years. The council said weather played a major part in traffic accidents during the 78 hours. Many parts of the country were sheeted with ice and packed snow, making the crowded highways even more hazardous.

The toll ran considerably higher than did the results of a 78-hour, non-holiday weekend survey conducted by The Associated Press. In the period from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8, to midnight Dec. 11, 347 persons were killed in traffic accidents, 42 died in fires and 57 were killed in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 446.

Among the worst highway accidents was a two-car collision near Hearne, Tex., in which five persons were killed and two others injured.

Two couples were killed and five girls, aged 3 to 15, were orphaned when a station wagon and an automobile collided near Warren, Pa.

In Marietta, Ohio, a car carrying a group of young carolers and a truck collided, killing two boys and the father of one of the youths. The mother, following in another car, watched the tragedy.

Fires added to the grim holiday toll. In Groton, N.Y., three of widow's five children and a farm laborer perished in a fire which destroyed a two-story frame building. A father and his twin 5-year-old stepdaughters died in flames which swept their home in Nankin Township near Detroit.

The Right Day

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A son was born to Mary and Joseph Christmas Day. The father, Joseph Sapp, said it probably would be named Joseph, Jr.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy goes back to work on the nation's business today while keeping a careful watch on the condition of his seriously ill father.

The President himself is getting a physical examination. Dr. Preston Wade, New York specialist, is due here during the day for a year-end checkup of the President's blood.

In announcing that Wade would examine the President with the regular White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, press secretary Pierre Salinger emphasized that Kennedy has experienced no recent trouble with his back.

The President's brother, Edward M. Kennedy, visited their father, Joseph P. Kennedy, at St. Mary's Hospital this morning. He told newsmen his father appeared to be "about the same."

NO CHANGE
Salinger added to this report later by saying there was no change in Joseph Kennedy's condition. Fever, caused by the mild case of pneumonia, has virtually subsided, and the elder Kennedy's temperature is now "very near normal," Salinger said.

Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton gave the President his daily intelligence briefing. Due from Washington are three presidential advisers to work with Kennedy on the forthcoming State of the Union message.

Kennedy is getting ready for what Salinger called "a last look

Astronaut Home For Christmas
Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., United States Marine Corps, who is to make a rocket ride around the world in mid-January, poses with his family at the door of their home in Arlington, Va. With the astronaut are Mrs. Glenn and their children, David, 16, and Lyn, 14. Glenn came home for Christmas from intensive training at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Texas Violent Deaths Hit 93

By The Associated Press
The Christmas weekend violent death toll in Texas soared to an appalling 93 persons this year with 50 of the victims killed in traffic accidents.

The Associated Press tabulation covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

Earlier the Department of Public Safety had predicted that 88 persons would die in traffic crashes during a 10-day period covering Christmas and New Year's weekends but the pace of death on the highway was pointing to much higher toll.

In addition to 90 persons who lost their lives in traffic accidents, 11 died in fires and miscellaneous causes snuffed out the lives of 32 others.

Social Security Rates Going Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Social Security tax rates go up again Jan. 1, with the increased revenues helping meet the cost of benefit changes which became effective under amendments signed into law June 30.

The hike amounts to one-eighth of 1 per cent for employees and 1 per cent for the self-employed.

Spectacular Fires Mar Holiday In Parts Of U.S.

By The Associated Press
Spectacular fires marred both the coming and going of Christmas Day.

Baltimore, Md., firemen fought into the early morning hours today before gaining control of a multiple alarm fire in a six-story building housing a wholesale produce firm just south of the downtown business district.

At least eight firemen were overcome as heavy smoke poured from the structure. Several were sent to hospitals.

In Nashville, Tenn., fire gutted the century-old Maxwell House Hotel Monday night, sending its guests fleeing into 30-degree weather. Firemen vainly fought the blaze for two hours. All the hotel's occupants were believed safe, although one elderly man was unaccounted for in the confusion.

Fire destroyed a log home near Bald Creek in Yancey County, N.C., and killed five persons. They were listed as Curtis Honeycutt; his son, Fontana, 14; his daughter, Mrs. Bill Wilson, and Mrs. Wilson's sons, Billy Joe, 2, and Roger, 1.

At Groton, N.Y., a mother and her two remaining sons spent their Christmas Day in mourning for the other members of their family and a friend.

Irene L. Thayer's husband died Nov. 3 after undergoing surgery. Three of her five children and a hired hand died late Saturday night in a fire that destroyed the two-story frame farmhouse she rented.

The hired hand, Robert Brown, 38, was found cradling the body of May Thayer, 5, for whom he re-entered a burning bedroom in a vain rescue attempt.

Two More Gifts To Cheer Fund

The Christmas Cheer Fund gratefully acknowledges two additional gifts received today. One is for $10, from Lt. and Mrs. Leonard F. Reynolds, the other for $5 from the Big Spring Junior Woman's Forum.

This brings the Fund total to $1,302.02. The Fund shortly will be paying all bills incurred in the rebuilding of toys and providing fruit for poor youngsters, and it will have available some money to help meet emergencies during the year when destitute people become ill.

Again, thanks to all who helped.

Kennedy Returns To Work With Watchful Eye On Dad

his wife arrived, his mother, Rose Kennedy, accompanied by her youngest son, Edward, left the hospital by a side entrance.

Dr. Walter Newborn, vascular surgeon who operated on the child during his surgery to relieve congestion on the chest and throat, reported the former ambassador to Britain was better Monday.

Salinger said the elder Kennedy's condition remains serious, but that he recognized members of his family who visited him during the morning and seemed to respond well to their visit.

The fever from the pneumonia was reported to have gone down. This is regarded as a favorable sign by doctors. However, it is understood there has been no apparent improvement in the partial paralysis which followed the stroke.

Among the presents Caroline got from her parents was a pedal-powered brown horse and red surrey. Another present was a set of plastic horses and a plastic stable to house them.

Like her mother, an accomplished horsewoman, Caroline likes horses and has taken riding lessons. Salinger said John Jr. fared well with gifts but that he did not check up on what they were. The adult Kennedys who are in Palm Beach gathered Monday night in the President's borrowed home for the traditional Christmas dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

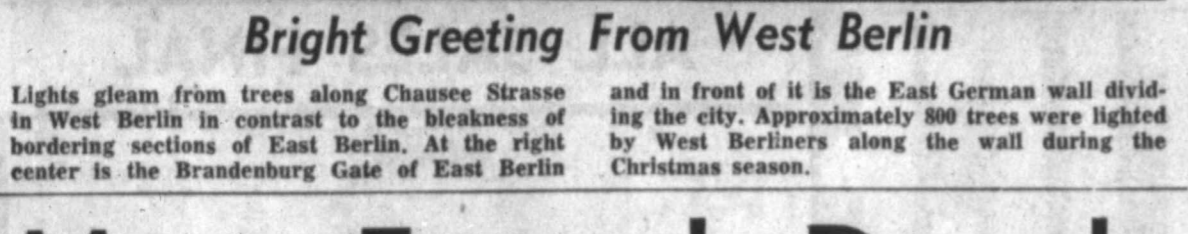

President's mother; his brother Edward and his wife; sister Pat and her husband, actor Peter Lawford; Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwili and her husband, Ann Gargan, niece of Joseph Kennedy, and Luella Hennessy, long-time Kennedy family nurse.

Coming from the capital for two or three days of conferences with Kennedy are Budget Director David Bell; Theodore Sorensen, the President's special counsel and speech writing assistant; Myer Feldman, assistant White House counsel, and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Bright Greeting From West Berlin

Lights gleam from trees along Chaussee Strasse in West Berlin in contrast to the bleakness of bordering sections of East Berlin. At the right center is the Brandenburg Gate of East Berlin.

and in front of it is the East German wall dividing the city. Approximately 800 trees were lighted by West Berliners along the wall during the Christmas season.

Man Found Dead Near Highway 80

Ramon R. Rodriguez, 61, was found dead in a borrow ditch on US 80 east some eight miles east of Big Spring about 7:30 a.m. Monday. He had apparently died several hours earlier.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice has not yet rendered a verdict on the cause of death, pending a report on an autopsy made in Abilene Monday. A preliminary report is expected Wednesday, he said.

Rodriguez, whose home was given as Laredo, was seen walking east on the south side of the highway several hours earlier by deputy sheriff Bill Whitton, Coahoma. At that time Rodriguez was near the east city limits of Big Spring.

The body was found beside the highway east of Sand Springs. His hat was found 44 feet west of the body and a shoe was about 100 feet farther east on an access road. There were bruises across the midsection and slight cuts on the top of the head and one leg. Bobby West, special investigator for the district attorney's office, said, "There was no blood, glass, or clues of any kind."

Rodriguez was identified through a visa and a driver's license. He is a Mexican National who has been here since 1910. He had been working in Lorraine. "He was apparently struck by an automobile, but we cannot be sure of that," Fern Cox, Howard County deputy sheriff said. The office is conducting its investigation on the assumption that a felony has been committed, he said.

The body is at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home pending notification from relatives about arrangements. Members of his family are believed to live in Lubbock, but no verification had been made shortly before noon, Cox said.

Priest Denies Aid Unwanted

TRACADIE, N.B. (AP)—A Roman Catholic parish priest says that his parishioners snapped up Christmas gifts from U.S. airmen that were criticized locally as being of poor quality.

The Rev. Arthur Duguay said the shipment of fruit, chocolate bars and clothing from airmen at MacDill Air Force Base in Florida seemed to have "gone with the wind" in the nearby community of Brantville.

Airmen at the Florida base collected the Christmas gifts and had them flown more than 2,500 miles to Brantville after finding notes attached to imported Christmas trees telling of hard times.

Claude Savoie, member of the New Brunswick Legislature, contended that most of the fruit was spoiled and that the clothing was unusable. He called the offering an insult to the residents.

Father Duguay said a number of parishioners met with him in his office and expressed willingness to accept the presents. The priest said his people appreciated the airmen's efforts.

90 Congo Soldiers Don U.N. Berets

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Ninety Congolese soldiers will put on the blue berets of the United Nations Wednesday to join the U.N. army at Kamina base, the United Nations announced today. They are to have the same status as any other national contingent in the U.N. Congo force.

They will be the first of more than 900 Congolese soldiers scheduled to serve eventually under the U.N. flag.

Their duties at Kamina, U.N. officials said, will be to guard the important U.N. base in Katanga Province and perform routine reconnaissance work alongside Indian, Swedish, Norwegian and Canadian troops based there.

U.N. headquarters made clear the Congolese are not to be used in any offensive actions against Katanga President Moise Tshombe's secessionist government. But their presence is likely to increase Tshombe's fear the United Nations may assist the central Congolese army to reoccupy Katanga by force.

The political crisis between the central government and Katanga settled into a nervous period of apprehension while officials waited to see if Tshombe would stick to the agreement he signed last week with Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government.

The first test of the Tshombe declaration, in which he promised in effect to end Katanga's secession, will come Wednesday when the Katanga members of Parliament are supposed to arrive to take up their places in the national legislature.

U.N. sources indicated that arrangements are being made to fly the 15 Katanga legislators to Leopoldville in a U.N. plane and house them here in accommodations guarded by the United Nations.

Owen Brewster, Ex-Senator, Dies

BOSTON (AP)—Former U. S. Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, an arch foe of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal and for 18 years Maine's most potent political figure, died in a Christian Science retreat house Monday. He was 73. The Republican lawmaker and his wife had been at the Christian Science Benevolent Association House for a week. Brewster, a former president of the Christian Science Mother Church, had made periodic retreats at the house. He is survived by his widow, Dorothy, and a son, Charles, a Bangor, Maine, attorney.

Christian Science funeral services will be held in the First Universalist church in Dexter, Maine, Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Brewster was defeated in his bid for a third Senate term in 1952. Since then he had lived quietly in retirement, spending nine months of the year in Washington and the rest in Dexter, his home town. In his career Brewster clashed with many political opponents. His most bitter feud was with Howard Hughes, millionaire plane and tool manufacturer. In 1947 Brewster was chairman of a Senate War Investigating Committee. A subcommittee of that body investigated Hughes' World War II plane contracts. Hughes claimed Brewster had offered to sidetrack the inquiry if Hughes would merge his Trans World Airlines with Pan American Airways. Brewster, in an unprecedented action, dropped his rights as a witness before his own committee to deny the accusation under oath. Brewster was a member of a joint congressional committee that investigated the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The majority said the failures that contributed to the disaster were the fault of only military men in Hawaii and Washington. Brewster was one of two Republican senators who, in their dissent from the majority report, declared President Franklin D. Roosevelt "was responsible for the failure to enforce continuous, efficient and appropriate cooperation" in Washington "in evaluating information and dispatching clear and positive orders to the Hawaiian commanders." A strong conservative, the Maine Republican fought Roosevelt's New Deal. He particularly disliked its reciprocal trade program, dubbing it "Alice in Wonderland" economics. However, he fully supported Roosevelt in the war, saying "if I am compelled to a choice between Roosevelt and Hitler, I choose Roosevelt."

Storm Brings Numbing Cold To The South

By The Associated Press The storm front that brought a white Christmas to a large area of the nation has spread numbing cold throughout the South, dropping temperatures below freezing as far south as Florida. Farmers fired smudge pots Monday night in an attempt to ward off killing frost in agricultural sections of Florida, which had its coldest Christmas Day on record. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said the icy Canadian cold front that caused blizzards in the north over the weekend had pushed through Florida and into the Caribbean Christmas Day. Low readings Monday included 42 at Miami, a record for Dec. 25. Readings skidded into the 20s in much of northern Florida today. It was 27 at Jacksonville, 24 at Tallahassee, 38 in Tampa and 43 in Miami. Birmingham, Ala., reported 29 degrees. In the Midwest, the area hardest hit by the snow storm, digging out still was going on. Rescue workers reached 12 persons Monday at a pumping station near Maryville, Mo., where they had been marooned several days by six-foot drifts. Light snow was reported today from the western central Plains to the northeastern upper Great Lakes. Showers dampened the Pacific northwest, changing to snow in the mountains. Skies were mostly cloudy across the northern part of the country, where temperatures were seasonably cold. Readings were mostly in the 20s but ranged as low as 4 degrees at Farmington, N.M., 5 at Glasgow, Mont., and 6 at Minot, N.D. Temperatures were in the 50s in the desert regions of the Southwest and in extreme Southern California. Fog again blanketed most of the southern Pacific coast as well as the interior valleys of central and northern California. Except for readings in the 50s and 60s in southern Texas, most of the rest of the nation had temperatures in the chilly 30s and 40s. Brownsville, Tex., had 63 degrees during the night, Corpus Christi reported 60.

2 Are Wounded In Gun Battle

CORSICANA (AP)—A former mental patient and a city policeman were wounded here Monday night during a gun fight involving several other officers. Archie Packett, 38, barricaded himself in a small house near downtown Corsicana and held officers at bay for more than an hour with a single barrel shotgun. Efforts by his parents to persuade him to surrender failed and he finally was routed by tear gas.

FREEDOM TO DISAGREE

By T. H. Farber, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 30 P.O. Box 1353. "Freedom to disagree can be a healthy thing. Suppose Luther, Calvin, Knox, deValera, and other reformers had not disagreed with the Roman-dominated Church, what would have become of our knowledge of the Gospel? If the Campbells had not been free to disagree with the Presbyterians and Baptists in the late 19th Century, where would the 'Church of Christ' be now?" (from a pastor's letter of protest.) Tomorrow's article will deal with the above insinuation that "the Campbells" started the church of Christ in the 19th Century. Today, we consider the freedom to

Suspect Admits Rape, Murders

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Sheriff Clyde Orton says James (Buddy) Williams, 34, a Negro convict, has admitted the shotgun slaying of an Arkansas youth and the rape of the youth's girl friend. Frank Craig, 19, of Blytheville, Ark., and Brenda Joyce Raines, 17, of Holland, Mo., were found dead on a country road near Holland Saturday. Miss Raines had been raped and beaten.

Pope John Convokes Ecumenical Session

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII issued a papal bull Monday formally convoking an ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church next year. It will deal with internal affairs of the church, advance the cause of Christian unity and consider the problems besetting modern man. The Pope did not set the exact date for some 3,000 Catholic leaders to gather in St. Peter's Basilica. The worldwide council is expected to open late in 1962. The internal administration of the church and paths toward Christian unity—two problems that have been major concerns of Pope John since his election in 1958—will be major topics at the council. The Pope, expressing grave concern over "militant atheism, operating on a world plan," said the council "could not ignore the problems and troubles" of the world. "While humanity is on the verge of a new era," the papal bull continued, "the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history. "They concern, in fact, the need of bringing the vivifying and perennial energies of the Gospel to the modern world—a world that exalts itself in its conquests in the technical and scientific fields." The ecumenical council, known as Vatican II, will be the 21st in the history of the church. Many of its predecessors have issued historic decisions. The first, in 325, set the date for Easter. The 19th lasted 18 years—from 1545 to 1563—and condemned the beliefs of Martin Luther. The last council, known as Vatican I and called in 1869, proclaimed the infallibility of Roman pontiffs when teaching in their full authority on matters of faith and morals. From the Protestant viewpoint, the concept of papal infallibility has provided one of the most important theological barriers to closer ties with the church of Rome. But the Pope made clear that

Trading Stamps Help Patients

NORTHVILLE, Mich. (AP)—Young patients at Northville State Mental Hospital have a new bus, a Christmas gift made possible by a mountain of trading stamps sent in from across the nation. More than 4,000 individuals and organizations contributed a total of 2,301,600 trading stamps so that the youngsters would have the bus to attend school at nearby Hawthorn. Trips to the zoo and other points of interest in nearby Detroit also are planned.

Saloons, Hogs Came First, City, Progress Followed

By M. A. WEBB
A lot of changes have been made in Big Spring during the 50 years C. E. McDaniel has lived in the city. He has seen the city change from a row of saloons along the railroad where hogs ran loose and wallowed in the mud, to business buildings and paved streets.

McDaniel, who lives on US 80 West, was 66 years old Friday and says it was just another day for him. "I can remember when all along the railroad we used to have saloons, riding rails in front of all places of business, and hogs wallowing in the mud in front of the saloons when the streets were wet. I have seen Big Spring grow from a small burg to the city it now is and have done a little as I went along to help it grow," he said last week.

McDaniel was born in Abilene and came to Big Spring with his parents when he was six years old, in 1903. He went to Big Spring schools in his earlier years.

"My first job was driving an ice wagon, delivering ice to residents of the town. The old ice plant was then where the present Southern Ice Co. building stands at 105 N. Johnson. I was 15 years old when I hitched up the two mules and started 'packing' ice from the rear of the wagon. The mules knew when to go and when to stop about as well as I did," he continued. "The plant had two 2-mule wagons, and a one-horse wagon for delivery."

He worked for several years in the railroad shops in Big Spring, and in the grocery business for a time, and also in the building contracting business.

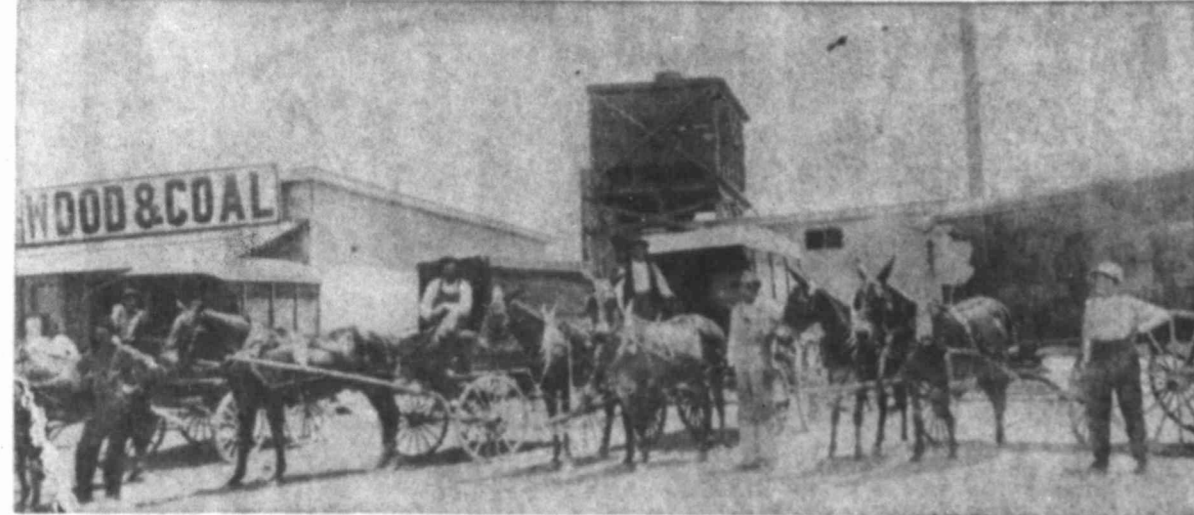

McDaniel's son, Glaselle, is an automobile salesman in San Antonio. His daughter, Mrs. Rita Ray Lewis, operates the Lewis Grocery on US 80 West.

"I have three grandchildren," he said, "and enjoy them all."

Open Air Model

C. E. McDaniel, who was 66 years old Friday, is shown at the wheel of an early Chevrolet touring car. There was no air conditioning in the early twenties when all cars were open and used side curtains when it rained.

Ice Wagons Ready To Roll

Four ice wagons and driver get ready to roll, back in 1920, to deliver ice all over Big Spring. C. E. McDaniel is shown at right, when he was 15 years old and drove one of the wagons as his first job. The ice plant was where the present Southern Ice Co. plant is now at 105 N. Johnson.

Questioning Due In Several Deaths

DENVER (AP)—Alfred Ratzloff, accused kidnaper of a 16-year-old girl, was to be questioned today about the slaying of four teen-aged girls in Texas, New Mexico and Fort Collins, Colo.

Ratzloff, 43, admitted verbally that he kidnapped and shot Sandra Lee Smith of Aurora and left her for dead, Arapahoe County Investigator Bill Maraggos said.

Maraggos said Ratzloff would be questioned about the fatal beating given Jerri Lee Owen, 13, of Fort Collins, and the death of two girls at Carlsbad, N.M., and another at Hondo, Tex.

5 Granddaughters Are Left Orphaned In Road Crash

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Walter M. Campman isn't certain about the future of her five granddaughters orphaned and injured in a traffic crash that killed their parents the day before Christmas.

"I don't know yet," Mrs. Campman said Monday when asked where the youngsters would live after their release from a hospital. "It's too soon to tell."

The children—Judy, 15; Rita, 13; Mona, 10; Sandra, 11; and Janet, 3—are listed in fair condition at Warren General Hospital.

They were hurt in an auto-station wagon collision that killed their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Campman of Falconer, N.Y., on U.S. 6 about seven miles west of Warren.

Also killed in the crash were Lloyd Palmer, 45, and Kathleen Smith, 37, both of nearby Irvine. Each is survived by five children.

The elder Mr. and Mrs. Campman, who live near Irvine, were hosts Sunday at a dinner for their son, daughter-in-law, and five granddaughters.

Their son and his family then climbed into their station wagon for the 30-mile trip back to their home at Falconer.

They had gone about five miles when the crash occurred.

Pleas For Peace Mark Holiday

By The Associated Press
Leaders of the Western world appealed for peace and unity in Christmas messages Monday while expressing grave concern over differences dividing major powers and flareups troubling lesser ones.

President Kennedy assured West Berliners in a taped television broadcast that the beacon of free Berlin "will continue to shine brightly for many years to come."

"We are at your side—as before," Kennedy declared. "We shall stay. Until truly there is good will among men, not walls to divide them, our pursuit of peace shall continue."

Church next year for the first time since 1969, warned that "while humanity is on the verge of a new era, the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history."

Palestinians, pilgrims and tourists packed the Christian churches at Jerusalem, and about 10,000 visitors journeyed across the Judean hills to services at Bethlehem, bathed in a brilliant winter sun.

Amid the prayers and the fasting, violence erupted as usual. A terrorist bombing killed at least 50 persons among 500 worshippers at Christmas Eve services at an army barracks at Buga, Colombia. More than 110 were reported injured in the blast, which came as a procession was about to place a figure of the infant Jesus in a manger. In Algeria the underground Secret Army Organization of anti-De Gaulle Frenchmen proclaimed a Christmas truce. But elsewhere in the North African territory terrorism from both sides of the French-Algerian conflict resulted in the deaths of 17 Algerians and 14 Europeans, and the wounding of 33 Algerians and 24 Europeans.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt cabled Kennedy his appreciation, asserting that "Berliners will take upon themselves new burdens rather than to forsake convictions and principles which free men all over the world are willing to defend."

Churches were filled to capacity in both East and West Berlin. The grim concrete and barbed-wire wall the Communists threw up to divide the city was softened a bit by the first Christmas snow in five years. Some 800 lighted Christmas trees twinkled along the Western side of the wall to remind the East Berliners they were not forgotten.

Queen Elizabeth II said in a broadcast to the nations of the British Commonwealth: "We can only dispel the clouds of anxiety by the patient and determined efforts of us all. It cannot be done by condemning the past or by contracting out of the present. Angry words and accusations certainly do not do any good, however justified they may be."

Messages from Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and President Sukarno of Indonesia to their peoples reflected the rising tension between the two nations over Dutch-held West New Guinea.

Roman Catholic priests in Goa, biggest of the three enclaves which India captured last week, prayed for the prosperity of India at special services. # Quiet Christmas For Stricken Girl

STATE CENTER, Iowa (AP)—Ann Hilleman moved her hand a few inches, fondled a stuffed toy, and smiled.
The smile, the excitement in her eyes and that tiny movement with her hand were the 17-year-old girl's only acknowledgements of Christmas at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hilleman.
She lay in bed, a few feet from the gaily decorated Christmas tree, while her parents, three sisters and a brother muted their celebration so the commotion wouldn't tax Ann's strength.
Her weak attempts to join the fun renewed the Hilleman's faith that Ann would yet recover from injuries suffered in a tragic crash last May after a high school prom.
"We were sort of hoping Ann would be able to talk by Christmas," said her father. "Maybe by Easter."

Although able to take but a few steps, to smile, and to use her hands to signal "yes" and "no," Ann's improvement is considered an answer to their prayers by the Hillemans.
"She had lain unconscious more than four months after the crash, in which a school chum was killed. She didn't move her eyes until late in September—an exciting day Mrs. Hilleman recalled—and didn't move her hands until early November.
"That's the way it's been," Hilleman said. "About the time you get discouraged she does something new."
Shortly before Christmas Eve she laughed aloud, boosting her parents' hopes she will regain her speech.
Doctors say they won't know for at least a year whether damage to Ann's brain is permanent. She suffered brain injuries, a broken jaw and a fractured cheekbone in the crash.
Her parents are counting on their prayers and Ann's drive to complete her recovery.
"It takes determination," her father said. "Ann's got plenty of that."

Line Put Aboard Drifting Boat Snaps In Heavy Seas

BOSTON (AP)—The Coast Guard said today a tow line cutter Acushnet put aboard the dredge Cartagena in rough seas had parted, leaving about 600 feet of line attached to the disabled dredge.

The Cartagena is about 250 miles east of Nantucket.

The Acushnet advised the Boston Coast Guard headquarters it planned to await further moderation of the seas to enable the Canadian seagoing tug Foundation Vigilant to pick up the tow.

The weather was reported moderating.

The 10-man crew of the Cartagena remained aboard and the Acushnet said the dredge rode well during the night.

The Cartagena was being towed by the tug Monday from Quebec to Baltimore when a hawser parted.

Seas were still too high to attempt to remove the crewmen from the dredge.

The Coast Guard cancelled a plan to send out planes to drop life saving equipment after Acushnet radioed she could float such gear to the dredge if necessary.

Apprehension mounted when Cartagena's crew reported the 80-ton "ladder," a ponderous assembly used in dredging operations, was shifting under the pounding by the seas. They said they feared if it carried away it would demolish the stern of the dredge and cause it to founder immediately.

The Acushnet shot a light line over the dredge Monday night as a messenger to haul a new towing hawser aboard, but the crew reported weather conditions too severe to go on deck and handle it.

A 40-knot, snow-laden north-northwest gale had built up northeast to 30 feet between trough and crest.

The dredge is on the second leg of a trip from Detroit.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Visiting families have disentangled themselves from the Christmas wrappings and most are on their way back home. We couldn't have asked for more perfect weather as far as the children and their out-of-door gifts were concerned. White Christmases may be the kind to write songs about and put on cards but when it comes to playing with wheeled toys, etc., there's nothing like a good old West Texas sunny day. Instead of cleaning out tracked-in snow we just swept out dry grass all day. But it was a good day.

MR. and MRS. OTIS GRAFA JR., and their children, Mike and Michele, of El Paso spent the holidays with Otis Sr.

THE ALFRED ADAMSES from Fort Worth, and their children, spent their time here with her parents, MR. and MRS. W. R. DOUGLASS, and MR. and MRS. TOM ADAMS.

MR. and MRS. BILLY UNDERHILL and their children from Fort Worth visited his mother, MRS. T. A. UNDERHILL.

This was a special Christmas for MR. and MRS. DON LOVE, LADY of Fort Worth who brought their little daughter to Big Spring for her first Christmas with her grandparents, MR. and MRS. J. P. GORDON, and great-grandparents, MR. and MRS. FRANK WILSON.

PAT FISHER who is instructing in computing at Fort Bliss, El Paso, plans to return here for a short visit during the weekend. He spent Christmas in Carrollton with his mother, MRS. HARRY HEISE. M. Sgt. Heise has been sent to Japan.

The family of HEINE ROGER were all together for Christmas. Airman I.C. BILLY ROGER who is stationed at Suffolk AFB, Long Island, N. Y., arrived Friday and will be here several weeks. He is due back on base by Jan. 18. His seven-year-old brother, BOBBY, got to come home from the hospital after being there in traction for four weeks, suffering from a broken thigh bone. Bobby broke the bone the day after Thanksgiving, playing football with relatives in his yard.

The coffee pot will be on for friends of the former MELVA TURNER who is visiting here with her mother, MRS. MELVIN TURNER, 1308 Tucson, MR. and MRS. WM. STEPHENS who live in Council Bluffs, Iowa, are proudly showing their little five months old daughter, VALERIE. The three, Mrs. Turner and Cora Sue, are in Abilene today and Wednesday visiting grandparents, MR. and MRS. ALVIN TURNER and MRS. CLARA HARRILL. Mrs. Turner is anxious for all of Melva's friends to come by during the time she is here. Mr. Stephens will leave by Jan. 1, but Mrs. Stephens will be here several weeks.

MR. and MRS. KENT MORGAN, Katie and Kent, attended a reunion of her family in Lubbock Sunday.

The JONATHAN LANCASTERS and their children returned to Kermit today after spending Christmas Day with her parents, the J. B. PICKLES.

Here for the weekend with MRS. E. W. DOZIER were her sister and brother-in-law, MR. and MRS. JACK EMOND, of Kansas City, Mo. From Big Spring they drove to Dallas, accompanied by PHIL-

Holiday Reunion Held By Phillips

Holiday guests in the home of the D. A. Phillips Sr., were their children and families. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gregory and children of Dumas, Jerry and James Phillips and Mrs. Gene Breeden and three children, of Joliet, Ill., were among those here.

Also Mrs. Phillips' sister, Mrs. Lena Thomas, and a niece, Mrs. Woodrow Bryan, a n d children were here from Abilene, and her brother, Robert Moore of Odessa. A granddaughter, Mrs. J. C. Pezito of Monahan, with her husband, and Miss Pat Henry of Denver, Colo., were also guests.

Skiles Visit In Abilene Home

FORSAN SC — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Skiles and daughter, Glenda are spending a few days in Abilene with her son and family, the Danny Roberts, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Skiles.

Christmas guests for a family reunion with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patton Jr., and children were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patton of Tye, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pendleton and sons, David and Penny of Panhandle, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Haynes and son, David, of Fort Worth.

Europe Held In Icy Grip
LONDON (AP)—Winter held an icy grip on most of Europe today.
The cold extended from Scandinavia to north Italy. Temperatures dropped below freezing in many places.
Some countries enjoyed a warming sun on their snow. In others the Christmas cold wave persisted with shivering discomfort and dangerously icy roads.
It was a few degrees below freezing in London and even colder in northern Britain, where snow and ice made motoring difficult. Horse racing, rugby football and other sports events were called off.
Fog shrouded some French highways already hazardous because of ice. Skies around Paris were cloudy with some possibility of snow. Temperatures were at freezing level.

Famed Dixie Hotel Burns
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The 102-year-old Maxwell House, once one of the South's most splendid hotels, was destroyed by fire Christmas night, sending its occupants fleeing into 30-degree weather.
Between 60 and 70 persons, some in night clothes and carrying pets or Christmas gifts, were evacuated safely.
One elderly guest remained unaccounted for.
The blaze was first spotted on the fourth floor of the five-story hotel, which occupied one-fourth of a square block in downtown Nashville.
The origin of the fire, the third in four years at the hotel, had not been determined.
The Maxwell House was started in 1859 and the incomplete structure was used by Union troops during the Civil War to house Confederate prisoners. The building was finished in 1869.
In recent years, the Maxwell House catered to permanent guests.
Fire Marshal Dan Hicks said the brick and wooden building was insured for $1 million.

Tax Revision Unlikely For Special Session

By JERRY PILLARD
AUSTIN (AP)—Chances of tax revision in the Jan. 3 special legislature appear slim to a lot of Texas legislators.

An Associated Press survey indicates only a few legislators think revision will be made in the new sales tax and natural gas tax. Most say major revision has "no chance" and minor revision "some chance."

All answers depend on whether Gov. Price Daniel will open his special session to any changes in either tax law. A special session considers only the matters the governor specifies.

Most of those polled said no major revision can be made in one 30-day session. The divergence of opinion enters in on whether minor amendments will be made, or the taxes will be left as they are until the regular session in January 1963.

One possible area to be revised was cited by Rep. John Allen of Longview. Allen said a businessman who sells all his products under 25 cents now collects no tax but is required to turn in tax money on two per cent of his gross business.

Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene said he did not think Daniel would open the special session to either sales tax or gas tax revision, but be content "to let sleeping dogs lie."

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo said "yes" in answer to the question of sales tax revisions.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola said, "Time would not permit major revisions, but I do feel that we should take up one bill embodying many interpretations to help the comptroller and the businessman."

Hinson said he did not favor trying to make a gas tax revision in the special session, "and prior to any court decision."

The new gas tax has not been tested in court. A gas tax passed in 1959 was held unconstitutional.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria predicted some gas tax revision and said the new sales tax "will go across the board if submitted." This would mean a two per cent tax on all transactions, where groceries and other items are now exempt.

The gas tax enacted by the legislature levies a fee of one cent per one thousand cubic feet, minus the gross production tax of seven per cent of market value.

However, it appears that tax revision is waiting in the legislative line behind escheat, loan regulation laws and tourist attraction. It took 150 days to enact the tax bills, and 30 days for revising would be crowding the calendar.

Christmas Spirit Noted

By PIERCE LEHMBECK
Associated Press Staff Writer
A special Christmas warmth lingered across the continent today. It burned in the eyes of children of misfortune remembered for the fortunate, in the minds of troubled adults touched by the kindness of neighbors, and in the hearts of the charitable who experienced again the blessedness of giving.

Examples? They were nigh as countless as the strands in the beard of that ageless North Pole resident who circles the earth in the predawn hours Monday.

Freddie Downer, 7, was killed by a car early this month as he crossed a street in Massena, N.Y., to telephone Santa Claus and remind him of an important letter he had written.

"Even if you have to leave me out, Santa," the boy wrote, "please don't forget my sister."

Three-year-old Vicky was not forgotten.

Through the magic that is St. Nick's way of doing things, gifts and money for more gifts turned up under her tree Christmas morning.

Donna Lee Staats, 7, was struck down by an auto as she dashed across a Louisville, Ky., street two weeks ago to greet a Santa at a yule display. She lived. Her hospital room was flooded with Christmas greetings and gifts.

In Bloomfield, Conn., friends of the 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Cahill went caroling to gather donations for the Cahills, who were made homeless by a fire two nights before Christmas. Louisa Cahill, 7, was critically burned.

Bloomfield and other communities responded with fund drives, gifts and clothing.

Andrew J. Francolino of Middletown, Conn., sent a $25 check with a note that probably explained it for all the givers: "My family is healthy; I'm grateful. The Christmas season moved me to make the gesture."

Fires Saturday night destroyed the homes of the James Sanders and Clarence Lofton families in Nashville. Both Negro families lost all their possessions, including the Christmas presents.

But the word spread, and by Christmas morn they had received money, food, clothing and promises of furniture.

Lofton, with a wife and five children, expressed his thanks: "It's going to be the best Christmas we've ever had."

Sanders, his wife and five children agreed that "it's a mighty good Christmas."

At New Cumberland, Pa., near Harrisburg, a fire two weeks ago left Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jones and their seven children without home, clothing or personal possessions.

The Fairview Fire Co., its ladies auxiliary, the Fairview Lions' club and others in the community pooled their compassion. The Jones had a partially completed house which they planned to occupy in about six months. Local merchants contributed insulation, plumbing, heating, electrical wire and flooring.

The ladies auxiliary purchased new Christmas gifts.

Forty men got together Dec. 17 and started work on the house. On Christmas morning the Jones were in their new home. They had a tree laden with toys delivered by a Santa Claus helper Christmas Eve.

Silas Brown, who worked on shrimp boats in Florida, went to Texas to seek a trucking job. He arrived in Galveston with his wife and seven children—and $2.

Police found the family on Christmas Eve under a causeway, where they had gone for shelter.

"I knew these people in Galveston had suffered from the hurricane and I didn't want to push in on them," Brown explained.

Police arranged for a free meal, then clothing, free lodging through the holidays, more than $200 in cash, toys, a turkey dinner — and perhaps most important, a job offer.

"It kind of reaffirms your faith," said Brown.

In Springfield, Mo., a man the Salvation Army Christmas morning and asked how much the organization needed to meet its goal for its Christmas fund for needy families.

"$991," he was advised. The caller, who asked that his name not be revealed, sent a check for the $991.

Cadet Louis S. Csoka, 20, of Lewisburg, Pa., polishing his parade hat in preparation for inspection at any time by upperclassmen, won the highest honor ever accorded a plebe (freshman) at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. The cadet, who with his family fled from Hungary in 1945, was named cadet commander for the Christmas holidays. With the temporary rank of first captain and brigade commander, he headed the almost 800 plebes, who remained at the academy during the Christmas vacation.

A Devotional for Today

Unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. (Luke 2:11.)
PRAYER: O God, as we celebrate the birth of Thine only Son, help us to welcome Him into our hearts and homes. We pray that His love and peace may rule in us as we sing glory to God and peace to men on earth. In the name of the Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. . . Amen."
(From The "Upper Room")

Perhaps This Will Be A Stimulus

Big Spring received a nice Christmas present in the announcement that the way now has been cleared for construction of the new home of the First National Bank building.
Representing an investment in land and facilities of over three-quarters of a million dollars, this project has more importance than the dollars invested. It means the upgrading of a portion of the downtown area and opens up possibilities of a progression of commercial developments. In the next block the First Federal Savings & Loan Association is planning to erect in 1962 a new and spacious home.

It could be that these programs could stimulate further action.
Be that as it may, the two buildings cannot help but fix a new tempo and tone for downtown business enterprises. Modern, bright and designed for tomorrow as well as for today, these structures will testify with dollars in permanent investment as to a faith in the future and potentialities of the city.
Within the month contract has been let for a million dollar shopping center, and now this downtown development looms immediately ahead. It may be that we will at last break the persistent log jam on commercial construction in Big Spring.

Exorbitant Price For Wrong Action

Prime Minister Nehru has paid an exorbitant price for Goa and the other tiny Portuguese enclaves, despite his description of them as colonial pimples on free India's political body. The price he has paid is his claim built through long, hard, dangerous years to speak as a prestigious voice for international morality.
Though the vestigial colonialism of Portugal in India can enlist little support in the United States or among its other allies, Nehru committed a grave error in resorting to force before exhausting all the peaceful redresses available under international law. The error is compounded by the warranted suspicion that the conquest was undertaken to bolster his Congress Party's shaky position in domestic politics and especially the left-wing element led by Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who is under fire for tolerating Red China's creeping aggression in the north.
The price Nehru is paying for the relatively insignificant territory acquired is not limited to India. Adlai Stevenson, mindful that the League of Nations was doomed from the day it failed to nullify the use of force by Italy against Ethiopia, was moved to warn that the Soviet Union's veto of a cease-fire appeal in the Goa incident may be "the first act of the drama which could end in its (the U.N.'s) death."

India's example could be followed by a wave of forcible moves in Asia and Africa with which the U.N. could not cope, and which thus could end the usefulness of the world organization. It is a grim irony that the Afro-Asian nations, abetted by the cynical support of the Sino-Soviet bloc, are—in the abused name of anti-colonialism—threatening to undermine the institutionalized rule of law that stands between them and involvement in the rivalries of the great powers.
Nehru's conquest is now a fait accompli. No discernible U.N. action seemingly can undo it. The best that can be done is what Stevenson immediately set out to do, to try to prevent an Afro-Asian slide into international lawlessness that would carry the United Nations down with it. If that cannot be done, the Western world may be left no choice but to merge all of its immense power into a peace-enforcing organization of its own.

Marquis Childs Influence Of The Elder Kennedy

WASHINGTON. — The drama of the Kennedy family, now underscored by the grave illness of the head of the clan, would be hard to match. It is a success story of outside dimensions, with overtones that relate to many of the principal themes in American life.
Joseph P. Kennedy has become a legend in his lifetime. The fact that one of the sons who rushed to his bedside is President of the United States and another Attorney General owes more to the fierce, driving ambition of the senior Kennedy than will perhaps ever be clearly understood.

alist Boston, the home of the bean and the cod where the Cabots speak only to God. The son of South Boston, whose family had come over at the time of Ireland's potato famine, was achieving the dream of every Anglophile American who believed that his money and his breeding might someday entitle him to that august ambassadorial post.
But Kennedy was far from being an Anglophile. He was an isolationist and he believed it would be folly for the United States to try to save Britain from the consequences of British failure to understand the significance of Hitler's drive for conquest. His second son, Jack, wrote a term paper at Harvard which became a best-selling book called "Why England Slept."

ARNOLD TOYNBEE'S perfect of challenge and response is illustrated in the Kennedy story. Set down in conservative, traditionalist Boston where every taboo worked against the Irish, the elder Kennedy was spurred on to tireless endeavor in his resolve to become a millionaire before the age of 35. Part of the legend is the remark he was supposed to have made when a Boston newspaper referred to him as an Irish-American:
"How long do you have to live in this country before you become an American? We've been here for two generations. Isn't that enough?"

THE TWO oldest boys, Joseph Jr. and Jack, worked closely with their father in the embassy at the start of the war. This was a closely knit clan and it would be hard to exaggerate the importance of the clan spirit. The father infused his children with his own driving energy and ambition, his own intense competitiveness.
If that is part of the Kennedy legend, if Joe Jr. and Jack came in from a weekend sailing race on Cape Cod and had to admit to their father that they had not come in first his wrath was such that weekend guests at the Kennedy place at Hyannis Port would scatter in terror. Family tennis and touch football games were fought with the same intensity. If you were a Kennedy you had to win.

But money was not enough. That is what gives this success story its special dimensions. One of the very few men of great wealth — his fortune has been estimated at from $200 to $400 million — to throw in his lot with Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal, Kennedy turned his driving, fiery ambition to government. Knowing all the tricks, he was well equipped to be the first chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Later he headed the Maritime Commission.
THE CLIMAX came with his appointment as Ambassador to the Court of St. James's. Here was revenge on tradition-

THE FATHER did not, however, set their ambition on money. They all had enough money, with each of the nine children getting a trust fund of a million dollars which has since greatly increased. The goal was public service and you had to be first here, too. The death of Joe Jr. in a bombing raid was a heavy blow. But three sons remained to fulfill the family ambition.
HOW MUCH influence has the elder Kennedy exerted on the President of the United States? In his conservative outlook, probably relatively little. He is said to have taken a more or less detached attitude on the difficult issues facing his son.
As head of the clan he can scarcely have yielded his great influence over the members of his family. His voice is said to have been powerful when Robert Kennedy hesitated about accepting the office of Attorney General, believing that his interest lay in foreign policy or defense. For the father the request to serve was an order and there could in the end be no question about accepting the command to duty.
BUT THIS is one that the historians will have a fascinating time sorting out. A year ago a Kennedy won after a long and intensive struggle in which each member of the clan gave his all. Now for the son in the Presidency winning is so much more complex, so infinitely more difficult, than the father could ever have imagined.

ing the dependence is the worst threat—much worse than any sort of threat against which the victim can angrily offer to fight.
That is the far-reaching danger of alcohol. It wins, not by overpowering its victims, but by embracing them.
The victim wants to be won, and he will make any sort of excuse to justify it—including the claim that he needs alcohol to relax, or that he can "hold his liquor." Each of these is an excuse that was stale before I was born, but in them a million new victims every year think they have discovered a new justification.
Are "good intentions" enough? What do you think?
The best advice I can offer is that the young man's fiancée, if she understands what is really happening, should lay the facts on the line. She may shock him into understanding. True understanding is the answer.
If she wins, God bless her, and him. If she loses, it's a good thing for her.
And of course if she loses, he'll use it as an excuse to keep on with his drinking. In that case, I hope she'll accept the truth; that she has done her best, even though he will use her as a reason for continuing the drinking he has already begun.
The worst form of enslavement comes not from force, but from dependence. The threat of removal.

THE INSCRUTABLE WEST

James Marlow
It's Only The Beginning

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is coming to the end of his first year in office. How well did he do at home and abroad?
It home, with Congress, he has been competent but not brilliant. He has had some conspicuous failures.
In foreign affairs 1961 has been a matter of beginnings—of foundation-laying for the next three years—rather than of successes. He will be a forceful president if he follows through on some of them.
His most consistent, obvious quality has been a sense of action, which he promised in the 1960 campaign. He's been busy, busy, busy.
THAT, MORE than anything else perhaps, is why the people give him unusually high grades in the public opinion polls.
Kennedy, a middle-roader, got that kind of program through Congress. He apparently was willing to settle for a half-loaf.
His philosophy seems to be: Avoid all-out fights on any one issue because it may antagonize enough people in Congress to block other issues.
So, instead of public appeals for pressure on Congress, a method which could be inflammatory, he worked through aides behind the scenes. The predictable result was no fractured skulls and only a moderate program. On three major issues he backed away from tough opposition: Civil rights, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education. All three were left hanging.
HIS APPEARANCE of eagerness was boosted by trips to Europe and Latin America for talks with Premier Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and the presidents of Colombia and Venezuela.
The trips showed no tangible good results. But no one could suggest they did any damage, either.
He dominated American foreign policy completely. But he goofed early and badly in backing a half-baked Cuban rebel invasion against Fidel Castro.
Whether or not that shook his self-confidence, he's been cautious in all directions since. But most of the year he encountered problems which would have tested the patience and judgment of any president.

Khrushchev hit him with a number of problems, two in particular: His demands on Berlin intended to weaken the Allies' grip on the city; and, if possible, shake their unity; and the tricky way he suddenly resumed nuclear testing.
THROUGH IT all Kennedy kept his head, showing some toughness himself, until Khrushchev delayed a showdown. But Kennedy has to deal with him in 1962.
If Kennedy has a solution on Berlin, he hasn't revealed it. But he could hardly be expected to, yet. And he says he still hasn't made up his mind whether this country should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere to keep up with the Russians.
At times his allies were almost as difficult as Khrushchev. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, always worrying he might get sold down the river, was on Kennedy's back steadily, seeking reassurance. He got it.
De Gaulle was a prime pain in the neck to Kennedy who, with Adenauer and Macmillan, was willing to discuss Berlin with the Russians. Not the lofty De Gaulle. He didn't help solve allied problems. He contributed to them.
Then Kennedy ran into opposition from both De Gaulle and Macmillan in backing the United Nations action in the Congo. That's quieted down, but like so much else, is still unsettled.
MEANWHILE, Kennedy laid the foundation for new relationships in four important directions:
1. In demanding that countries that want American help to stand off Communism put in badly needed social and economic reforms. Viet Nam, for instance, and Latin America. Whether he'll ever be tough enough to put it on a do-it-or-else basis remains to be seen.
2. In setting up a new economic aid program for Latin America plus a new understanding.
3. In adopting—at least in the case of the Dominican Republic—President Theodore Roosevelt's speak softly but carry a big stick policy, which could mean American intervention where and when Kennedy thinks necessary. How far he'll carry this is also one of the unknowns of 1962.
4. In trying to establish a new era of commerce with the allies. He has started a campaign, which must be fought out with Congress next year, to lower tariffs for the sake of better trade.
What Kennedy's first year in the presidency amounts to is a beginning, and hardly more than that. He still has the years to make good on it.

What Others Say
Harold G. Ridlon, professor of English at Tufts University, has a penetrating article in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly entitled, "Why Freshmen Fail." While his analysis is probing and practical and has great merit, we believe there are several other underlying reasons for freshman failure in college that deserve attention and, we hope, argument.
Ridlon traces freshman failures to (1) an inability to read with speed and comprehension; (2) an inability to listen constructively; (3) the natural freshman obstacle of fear, anxiety, selfishness, timidity and lethargy. There is, too, the difficulty of adjusting to classes which do not meet daily, to strict study regimens, and over-emphasis on grades.
While these obstacles are undoubtedly real, we think that a large part of freshman failures are due to a decline in our sense of values, and that these values should be restored by emphasizing: (1) An appreciation of "old-fashioned" industry—the willingness to work; (2) the necessity of making an active, positive approach to learning, rather than a passive one; to learn to form conclusions aggressively; (3) an appreciation of the knowledge to which they are exposed and of the civilization that has built that knowledge.
One of America's most important fallacies in education for the past two decades has been a tendency to "make things easy" for the student.
Freshmen fail often because they cannot stand the shock of realization that the processes of learning are hard work.

Collectors' Items

When I was a kid there were two items which all boys of my time held in extremely high esteem.
We dearly loved empty cigar boxes and the gray calendars which merchants handed out about this season of the year.
The search for the cigar boxes went on the year around. The calendar hunting season was much more limited. It began about two weeks before Christmas and petered out by Jan. 10.
We didn't have the slightest idea why we were so eager to get the calendars. Two or three would more than serve the needs of our homes. However, the idea seemed to be that the winner was that kid who gathered the largest collection.
WE COULD NEVER understand the reluctance of many merchants to give us calendars and sometimes we were bluntly refused. Banks, as I remember, were especially adamant.
Usually our loot was limited to smaller models and to the kind that patent medicines distributed through drug stores. What we really relished, of course, was one of those big fellows on which was depicted a huge coiled dog at the feet of a doll-like little girl who held a basket of very gay and colorful flowers in her hand. The caption usually read "Her Best Friend," or, sometimes, "Innocence." These were the kind of calendars the banks had and which they didn't like to give to us kids.
REGARDLESS OF the grudging attitude of many of the storekeepers, we

Around The Rim

we were sure to get a few calendars if we made the rounds. It was better, we found, to travel in small packs rather than in large groups. One or two kids stood a better chance of getting calendars than a group of six or eight.
What puzzled us was that merchants had the calendars to give away and then didn't want to give them to us. There was something wrong somewhere.
And we noticed, too, that the storekeeper would bend over backward in his insistence that some lady customer accept a calendar. Yet, when we asked for one, he would snap our heads off and even if he finally did give us a copy, you'd think it was made of gold.
I DON'T SUPPOSE calendars are as widely used as they formerly were. I know that dozens are sent to offices and to private homes each year but the old system of the corner grocer having a batch of the things printed up for distribution to his favorite customers seems to have faded out of the picture. Kids do not go out on calendar-hunting safaris as we used to do.
All year long we made all of the drug stores, the tobacco stores and the groceries at least once a week asking for cigar boxes. And if we had a good day, we'd come home with an armful of the boxes.
When we got home with them (like with the calendars) we didn't know why we wanted them. We just did.
—SAM BLACKBURN

Inez Robb A Look At Things To Come

The holiday season always brings to my door a pair of publications that brighten life considerably. The first is The Farmers' Almanac, without which I would never know quite when to put on my long underwear, plant potatoes or mothproof the woolen closet.
The almanac also enables me to wow dinner partners with such borrowed quips as "Advice to worms: Sleep late."
THE SECOND publication to spread knowledge and happiness through the household is the annual "Forecast" of Hugo Gernsback, widely acclaimed as "the father of science fiction" and the editor and publisher of Radio-Electronics Magazine.
Gernsback is a man en rapport with the future, to say the least. And while I am overjoyed to know that if I can live until 1986, the threat of atomic, hydrogen, cobalt or any other missile is kaput (the submarine demises two years earlier), nonetheless, the most sensational prediction in "1962 Forecast" is of chief concern to the Society for Improvement of the Breed of Boobies.
SOMETIME in the future — Gernsback doesn't pinpoint the date — electronics will replace the jockey. Or rather, the jockey won't be up. The future Sande or Harlack or Arcaro will be in a remote control tower manipulating a "power pack atop the horse that can do anything the jockey does, including whipping."
Instead of saddle and rider, the horse will carry a power pack weighing 25 to 50 pounds that will be capable of "reining" any future Native Dancer. Presumably the power packs will be painted in the colors of the respective stables of owners, although this is a fanciful thought of my own that I hand on to Gernsback.
FROM HIS CONTROL tower the jockey will be able to sweet-talk his horse home, since the steed will be wired for sound. Gernsback believes his system, already feasible in his opinion, will make "for faster and more scientific races."

There are only two problems here: (1) Can you "fix" a power pack? (2) Will the future jockey, manipulating in his control tower a panel that looks as complicated as that of a jet plane, have to show a degree from M.I.T. or Cal Tech?
SINCE I AM NOT a horse player, I don't know whether Gernsback's prediction will kill or cure racing. But there it is, for tote board and bookie alike to ponder.
Gernsback foresees eternal youth and life, too, but I am too far gone to benefit from such breakthroughs in science in these fields as he predicts. I won't even be around in 2010, when he believes "the successful breakthrough of atomic fusion (atofusion) for industrial and large public works will finally decongest automobile traffic from our city streets and put cars into underground lanes and parking vaults."
CERTAINLY I shall miss the advance of 2014, which would be the greatest financial boon imaginable to me. By that date, Gernsback says, all city streets and sidewalks will be covered with plexiglass, a combination of plastic and glass that will keep the rain and snow off the just and unjust alike.
This invention comes too late to save me. If I only had the money in the bank that I have spent on umbrellas, lost and scattered with the recklessness of calling cards, I could retire and live on my income.
Oh, yes, something called "ultra-dynawaves" will forever remove the threat of missiles by 1986.

Holmes Alexander Congressional Committee Goofs Off

WASHINGTON — The child-bearing, tax-paying American public has been poorly served — in fact, not served at all — by the House Armed Services subcommittee which was set up to investigate military air crashes and aviation policy. The 25 supplemental air-lines, chiefly to be investigated, derive 70 per cent of their revenue from flying military personnel. Without this, they would not be in business, so that their affairs are very much a concern of Congress.
THE THREE-MEMBER group comprised Reps. Hardy, Brewster and Van Zandt, with Robert Smart as staff counsel. They were set to begin the probe last week, December 14th, but canceled out, although Chairman Hardy now claims he did not set the date firmly.
This goof-off is the second one by a Congressional group which found it inconvenient to work during the recess on public business. The Senate special subcommittee to investigate military muzzling couldn't collect enough Senators to meet. Both committees will try again in January.
SUCH A PERFORMANCE leaves your reporter, who had boned up to cover the hearings, with some material that should not be allowed to gather dust. I had felt it unfair to mention certain airlines by name since I supposed the investigation would mention them all, under sworn testimony. But to give the American public something to think about — and the Congressmen some homework over the holidays — here are some facts which ought to get into the record.
ARCTIC PACIFIC, Inc., killed 20 members of a college football team in November, 1960 at Toledo. The same management was back in business until last month as a contract firm under the name of Golden Gate Airlines.
Trans American Airways (not to be confused with TWA or American Airlines) committed six recorded violations of the Civil Air Regulations between 1949-51. This passenger carrier then went out of business, but today is operating as a contract carrier for trooplift under the name of Twentieth Century. The Civil Aeronautics Board has asked new regulations to prevent such things happening. Congress has not obliged.
CAPITOL AIRWAYS of Nashville (not to be confused with Capital, nor Capital-United Air Lines) has had four fatal crashes from 1955-61. The locations were Pensacola, Fla.; Ft. Collins, Colo.; Hill Air Force Base, Utah and Katy, Texas. This company is described by off-record government spokesmen as "pretty shaky on marginal operational requirements," and as a company which hollers "Harassment!" when the government agencies step in to inspect or to clamp down.

An outfit called Westair has had two bad crashes, one involving Puerto Ricans, the other school students and they had maintenance responsibility for another crash by Peninsular Air Transport, involving troops. Westair has been told to reorganize. They did so by receding their stock holdings below 50 per cent, but continued to run the company.
IN THE 1950's, Trans American, in order to escape certain CAB regulations, organized several smaller lines under the covering name. This group was disbanded by the government. But today, Trans Alaskan Airlines, Great Lakes Airlines and Curry Air Transport are under CAB investigation for doing the same thing on the West Coast. Government agencies know who the chiselers are, but find them adept at clever legal dodges and often protected by their Congressmen. From 1953-61, supplemental (formerly called non-scheduled) airlines had a passenger fatality rate of 3.22 (per million revenue passenger miles), as against a rate of 0.47 by regular airlines, 0.13 by all-cargo airlines.
NOT ALL THE offenders, however, are independent or charter lines. One of the biggest and best air carriers, United Airlines, failed to equip all but two of its planes with a device called DME (distance measuring equipment), although the device was on the market and was in use by 13,000 military planes. It was one of these not fully equipped United airliners which participated in a mid-air collision over New York on December 16, 1960.
IT IS WRONG, I know, to write negatively about airlift and air travel. The country very much needs independent, cargo and charter airlines to move troops, civilians and goods. But the point here is that the Federal Government and, even more so, Congress owes it to the American public to get to work and give the U.S.A. the kind of air service that we deserve.

To Your Good Health Alcohol Wins Victims By Embracing Them

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
People who can gain the most from reading today's column may quit as soon as they realize what it's about.
The ones who can get the next most benefit will probably read it all.
"Dear Sir: Wouldn't you say that a young man of 25 who drinks straight whisky or brandy for relaxation at home is well on the way to becoming an alcoholic? He is contemplating matrimony. He says he will never become a 'drunk.' He is proud that he can 'hold his liquor.'"
"He keeps a bottle in his room at all times. He 'drinks socially,' but we are concerned with this solitary drinking.—Mrs. W. E."
I don't know whether Mrs. W. E. is the young man's mother, but she is concerned about him, and she seems to have a terse amount of significant information.
Within the last year there have been five columns devoted to alcoholism, not counting a greater number of short comments. Even this is not an amount of space commensurate with the problem's importance.
I cannot say for sure whether this man of 25 will become an alcoholic, but I think he will. Or perhaps he already is!
The worst form of enslavement comes not from force, but from dependence. The threat of removal.

After The Storm

Dozens of automobiles were stalled along Keosauqua Way, one of the main arteries leading traffic into and out of downtown Des Moines, Iowa, after a heavy snowstorm. The storm dropped 11 inches of snow, to top six inches left by previous storms, and makes this metropolitan area of about a quarter of a million people about as snowbound as it has been in many years.

Return Of Sunny Weather Welcomed By Texas Farmers

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The return of sunny weather to Texas last week was welcomed by farmers and ranchmen. Most hope it will continue to permit the completion of harvesting and allow grain field grazing.

Temperatures were chilly side, director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said, but the clear skies were beneficial. Moisture, except in limited areas, is adequate to excessive. Stockmen in many areas kept small grain grazing at a minimum and increased feeding.

Hutchison said livestock generally are in good condition. Calving and lambing are well along in southern and western areas. Wet, cold weather halted work in South Texas. Rains in the Coastal Bend will help crops and pastures. Some rain fell in all counties of the district.

The first heavy frost hit South Central Texas and the misty, cold weather stopped activities. Feeding is beginning. Moisture is still short in the southern counties of the district.

Fields are boggy and plowing halted but oats, ryegrass and clovers are growing in the upper Gulf Coastal area. Grazing has been limited by the wet fields but livestock generally are in good condition. Native pastures are fair to good. The vegetable harvest is continuing with quality good to excellent.

In East Texas, moisture was adequate to surplus; pastures were average; native grass were killed by frost; and livestock were in good condition. Marketing was off some due to bad weather. Feeding increased.

Sunshine was welcomed in Central Texas where at least 10 days of dry, open weather is needed to complete the peanut harvest. Moisture was adequate to excessive. Small grains made little progress due to the weather. Grazing was on a limited basis. A fair to good pecan harvest is about over. Livestock are doing good as the supply of mature grass holds up.

The southern third of the Central West Texas district needs moisture. The misty weather has left little moisture but has delayed the cotton and pecan harvests. Small grains are furnishing some grazing but sun and warmer weather are needed for growth. Livestock are in good condition but the damp weather is causing old grass to deteriorate and some protein supplement was fed during the cold. Considerable calving and lambing was reported.

Moisture is short west of the Pecos River and feeding is increasing. Cold, damp and cloudy weather slowed up harvesting and shrunk livestock. Ranges are in good to poor condition. Calving and lambing are under way.

Moisture is adequate and sun is needed in Northeast Texas. Oats and wheat made little growth and were providing limited grazing. Pastures were average but too wet for grazing.

More moisture in the Rolling Plains (Vernon) delayed the cotton harvest; kept livestock out of grain pastures and caused feeding to increase. Moisture was adequate to surplus. Rust on wheat had now been reported from several counties.

South Plains farmers have had only one good day for harvesting during the past several. Farmers would like to see prolonged good weather so they can get on with their cotton harvesting. Grains were excellent and livestock and ranges were in good condition.

Moisture was adequate in the Panhandle but the cold slowed the growth of wheat. Wet fields kept grazing to a minimum and the wet and cold brought increased feeding. Cattle generally are in good condition. Much cotton and considerable grain sorghum remained to be harvested.

Florida Suffers A Record Chill

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida faces another day of numbing cold in the wake of the coldest Christmas on record.

A high pressure ridge drove icy blasts down the peninsula to Key West and brought Miami a Christmas morning low of 42 degrees—the city's lowest Dec. 25 temperature.

Key West, at the end of the Florida Keys, had a low of 57 and a high of only 63 degrees. Other low readings included 40 at Tampa and West Palm Beach, 39 at Fort Myers, 36 at Tallahassee, 34 at Apalachicola, 31 at Jacksonville and 29 at Pensacola.

DEAR ABBY

He's Already Been Paid?

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a garage and I keep his books and send out bills. There is a woman who lives near us who has owed us a bill for over a year. I sent her one on the first of the month (a year ago) but she ignored it. My husband told me not to send her any more bills and just to forget it. When I ask him why, he tells me to mind my own business. She works and so does her husband, so they can't be hard up. Why do you suppose he doesn't send her a bill? "SILENT PARTNER"

DEAR SILENT: Maybe she paid him. In cash.

DEAR ABBY: I'm curious about what a person should do in a case like this: I have a relative who invites me to spend weekends at her home frequently. She never asks me if I would like a cup of coffee, tea or a glass of water. No lunch is served and I must go all day without even a snack until dinner.

She is well-to-do and her cupboards are stocked with plenty of everything. Should I ask for a bite to eat? Or should I excuse myself, tell her I'm going for "a walk" and then go to a luncheonette to eat? I was advised to write to you. What would YOU do? JUST CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: I, too, am curious. Why, when you are treated so inhospitably, do you continue these weekend visits? I would ask my hostess if she objected to my fixing a little lunch for myself, and then I'd go to it.

one else? No one can understand her thinking.

DEAR GIRLS: It is not necessary to UNDERSTAND the other person's thinking... just respect it.

DEAR ABBY: These few lines are to thank you for recommending that wonderful home for unwed mothers to my daughter. You may not realize it, but you saved three lives. She had twin girls this morning. God bless you.

Sugar Bowl Teams Resume Workouts

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — National champion Alabama resumes practice today for the Sugar Bowl clash against Southwest Conference co-champion Arkansas.

and tied in 10 regular season games, sets up shop down the Gulf Coast at Biloxi, Miss., about 90 miles east of New Orleans. Arkansas, which had an 8-2 regular season mark, flies into its pre-game headquarters at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, 80 miles north of here Wednesday.

A capacity crowd of 81,563 is expected to see the two defensive Titans meet next Monday. The Crimson Tide, ranked No. 1 in the final poll by the Associated Press, rules a 12 1/2-point favorite over the Razorbacks, who lost only to Cotton Bowl opponents Mississippi and Texas during the regular season.

It was the third straight year Arkansas has either won or tied for the SWC title, and also its third straight 9-2 season.

Although Alabama rolled up an impressive offensive record of 3,270 yards in 10 games to rank 12th in the nation, its forte is defense.

The tough 'Bama line, bulked by All-America tackle Billy Neighbors, center LeRoy Jordan and linebacker Darwin Little, allowed only three touchdowns all season. The Tide led the nation in defense, allowing an average of only 132.6 yards per contest.

On the attack, the Crimson Tide features the strong quarterback-fulback team of Pat Trammell and Mike Fracchia. The versatile Trammell passed for eight touchdowns, ran for nine more and ranked seventh in the nation in offensive with 1,314 yards.

In a close game, the Alabama, coached by Paul (Bear) Bryant, can call on sophomore placekicker Tim Davis who converted successfully on 22 of 27 tries and also kicked 9 of 11 field goals.

Alabama topped the Southeastern Conference with seven straight victories and will be the host team for the game.

The higher Razorbacks, coached by Frank Broyles, favor the running game, led by halfback Lance Alworth, twice a unanimous all-Southwest Conference choice and fullback Billy Joe Moody. But the Porkers can also throw, as attested by the eight touchdown passes thrown by alternating quarterbacks George McKinney and Billy Moore.

The Arkansas defense, led by end Jimmy Collier and tackle John Childress, is especially tough against passing. The Razorbacks stood third in the nation in pass defense.

Arkansas ranked ninth in the final AP poll. Its losses were 16-0 to Mississippi in the season's opener and 33-7 to Texas, with which it tied for the SWC crown.

Although most observers consider Alabama a strong bet to score a decisive victory, Arkansas fans are confident that the Razorbacks, who have been underrated before, can hold their own.

Kickoff time Monday is 2 p.m. (EST). The game will be telecast nationally (NBC).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:

DAN PARKER, New York scribe:
"Sonny Liston may be the best heavyweight fighter in the world, although I don't think so on the basis of fights I've seen him in, but if he ever wins the title, that'll be the end of boxing, for sure."

LEONARD SHECTER, New York Post:
"If Harry Wismer, the nifty owner of the New York Titans, had a sense of humor under his polished brass, he could be one of the most interesting figures in sports since Branch Rickey. But Wismer, alas, seems to believe the silly things he says and thus suffers from a disease which has destroyed better men. It's known as taking yourself too seriously."

HAROLD BRADLEY, University of Texas basketball coach:
"The difference between a mature player and a sophomore is mistakes. If we cut down on our mistakes, we'll have a good team."

FORD FRICK, baseball commissioner:
"The game is in the strongest position now that it ever has been. The next move will be 12 team leagues, but that's a long way off. Three leagues, which I first suggested, will not work. When 12 teams come, there will be two divisions of six each."

DANNY MURTAUGH, Pittsburgh manager:
"If you know anybody who wants to buy a tuxedo cheap, send him to me. I won't have much use for mine this winter. Nobody wants to hear how we happened to finish sixth."

JIM SMITH, chairman of the California Athletic Commission:
"The recent heavyweight fight promotion matching Floyd Patterson against Tom McNeely and Sonny Liston against Albert Westphal, is just plain lousy. Mismatches such as these should be outlawed. If they had been proposed for California I know I would have voted a screaming loud 'no' against them. It amounted to outright defrauding of the man who buys the ticket. I'm not going to guess about Liston's status in California. Should he ask for a license to box in California we should first demand a complete factual disclosure on who's who and what's what behind him. When you don't do that you might find yourself married to the wrong element in boxing again. We aren't hungry enough for big fights in California to throw aside the book and let hoodlums and racketeers back in."

Comedian DAVE BARRY:
"I feel good today. I finally shot a 71 — in bowling. I went to the Caliente race track not long ago. I was very lucky. I got a ride back."

CASSIUS CLAY, the talkative heavyweight boxer, after viewing the recent fight doubleheader featuring champion Floyd Patterson:
"I could beat all four. That Westphal. Why, my brother, Rudy, who is only an amateur, could beat him. I could take McNeely easily. He would never lay a glove on me."

GEORGE HALAS, owner of the Chicago Bears, when asked which player he'd take in the NFL over all others:
"Lenny Moore (of Baltimore). He can get the touchdowns for you. It's impossible to stop him with just one defender. I'd like to have Jimmy Brown, too."

Longhorns Resume Drills For Game With Andrews

The Big Spring Steers resume practice today for their Friday night visit to Andrews.

Delnor Poss' club beat Andrews, 56-50, in overtime in their first game of the season back in late November. The Longhorns figure to have their work cut out for them, since Andrews is bound to be improved.

The contest will be the last practice game before the Longhorns begin conference play. They open 2-AAAA competition here Tuesday, Jan. 2, at which time they tangle with Midland Lee.

Although he saw little action against Colorado City last week, Dick Ebling continues to lead the Steers in scoring with a total of 306 points.

Ebling is averaging just a shade under 16 points a game. He suffered a slight ankle injury in the Colorado City game and managed to pump only four points through the hoop.

As a whole, the Steers are averaging 54.7 points a game, compared to 44.2 for the opposition. No fewer than 14 members of the squad have gotten into the scoring act.

Aussies Win In Cup Play

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Mighty Australia, with Roy Emerson and Rod Laver playing brilliantly despite stamina-sapping 90 degree temperatures, moved to within one victory of its 10th Davis Cup Tennis Championship in 12 years today against Italy.

Emerson, the U.S. champion who usually concentrates on doubles, defeated Italian ace Nicola Pietrangeli 8-6, 6-4, 6-0 and Laver, the top-ranked Aussie and 1961 Wimbledon titlist, routed Orlando Sirola 6-1, 6-4, 6-3 in opening singles matches of the challenge round at Kooyong Stadium.

A doubles triumph Wednesday would close out the championship for Capt. Harry Hopman's Aussies, who faced up to an "Italian draw" with the sure formula of success—unbeatable tennis.

The luck of the draw, pitting Pietrangeli against Emerson, was expected to help the underdog Italians. They counted on temperamental Nicola besting Emerson in the opening match and perhaps the 6-7 Sirola to a top performance against Laver.

Ply Leads South 11 To 35-10 Triumph

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The South again has conquered the North in the Shrine's annual College All-Star series, and the latest hero of this football civil war is Baylor's strong-armed quarterback, Bobby Ply.

The shifty Texan piled a slow-moving Yankee defense with 14 successful passes to three talented receivers Monday night and the Rebels, favored by only a point, rolled to an easy 35-10 victory.

Glenn Glass of Tennessee was the catcher on a 46-yard touchdown aerial play, and Miami's two ends, Larry Wilson and All-America Bill Miller, snagged two other Ply scoring throws for 10 and 7 yards.

Ply also sneaked a yard for a fourth touchdown in winning the press box vote as the most valuable player of this series which the South now leads, eight wins to six.

The game is played for the benefit of the Shrine's hospitals for crippled children, but the financial return was the lowest in the series history. Only 18,892 fans turned out in cold weather that dropped the temperatures into the 40s during the game.

In completing 14 of 26 passes, Ply overshadowed the North quarterback, Eddie Wilson of Arizona, who had an off night with 15 out of 39 throws.

Wilson, however, started the longest pass play in the history of the series. One of his pitches, to George Sefcik of Notre Dame, was good for 73 yards, four yards longer than the previous record.

For fine defensive work against the South's overwhelming attack, center Larry Onesti of Northwest was picked as the outstanding player for the North.

Larry Wilson, an exceptional end who has played in the shadow of Miller at Miami for four years, was given the sportsmanship award.

Still another Miami player, Jim Vollenweider, slammed 18 yards for a South touchdown and led the Rebel ground gainers with 68 yards in 13 carries. The leading rusher for the North was Steve Simms of Rutgers, with 40 yards in 10 tries.

The North's only touchdown came in the second period when, trailing 21-0, Eddie Wilson passed five yards to Bennie McRae of Michigan in the end zone. The Yankees added a safety on the game's last play when Larry Bowie of Purdue tackled Ply in the end zone.

West To Go All Out In Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — You can expect more of a wide open game from the West squad than from the East Saturday in the 37th Shrine East-West football game.

Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame, coach of the East team, said his 24-man aggregation already has assimilated what he calls his "post-season offense."

It boils down, basically, to his quarterbacks calling the numbers of his power runners and telling them what direction they're to take.

Fairbanks Will Join Cougars

HOUSTON (AP)—Chuck Fairbanks of Arizona State will join the University of Houston as a backfield coach, Houston's athletic director said today.

Harry Fouke said Fairbanks, 28, will join Coach Bill Yeoman's staff immediately. He has been an assistant at Arizona State since early 1958.

Three Major Meets In Progress Today

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three major tournaments, featuring some of the nation's top teams, head the college basketball schedule today, while three other important tournaments kick off Wednesday.

Starting today are the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden, the inaugural Quaker City tourney at the Palestra in Philadelphia and one of the nation's oldest holiday tournaments, the 28th annual All-College at Oklahoma City.

Starting Wednesday are the Los Angeles Classic, featuring four of the country's top 10 teams, the Big Eight tourney at Kansas City and the Far West at Portland, Ore.

Those six tournaments and their progress—finals in all but the All-College affair will be Saturday night—should be the focal point of the week.

The list of the major unbeatens, already trimmed to 10, will be reduced one more tonight when New York University and Dayton, each 6-0, clash in the Holiday Festival at New York.

Neither, however, holds the favorite role, with such powers as Cincinnati, defending NCAA champion and ranked second in the nation, and third-ranked Providence in the field.

Defending champion Wichita and tough Utah State, each 8-1, head the field in the All-College, while Duquesne and Villanova, two more unbeatens and surprise teams in the East, share the limelight in the Quaker City affair.

Here are the first round pairings:

ECAC Holiday Festival at New York: Dartmouth (2-1) vs. La Salle (3-1) and Cincinnati (6-1) vs. Dayton (6-0) and Providence (5-2) vs. Wisconsin (4-2) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

Quaker City tourney at Philadelphia: Duquesne (6-0) vs. Wyoming (4-3) and Penn State (5-1) vs. Iowa (4-2) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

Villanova, under its new coach, Jack Kraft, has come up with a surprisingly tough crew, who have built their unbeaten record on hustle and aggressiveness. Should they survive Niagara, and Duquesne lives up to its favorite role against Wyoming, the two unbeatens will meet in a semifinal.

3-1 tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

All-College at Oklahoma City: Texas Christian (1-5) vs. Houston (7-2) and Oklahoma City (4-3) vs. Utah State (8-1) tonight and Seattle (5-0) vs. Bowling Green (5-1) and Wichita (8-1) vs. Texas A & M (4-2) Wednesday night. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Friday.

Cincinnati's talented Bearcats rate as the team to beat in the Holiday Festival. But it's been done only once—a 52-51 upset by Wichita—in the last 30 games.

Providence, NIT champion last season and featuring one of the tallest front lines in the country, seek to rebound from a pair of road losses last week, while Dayton and NYU each hope to retain their unblemished records.

Villanova, under its new coach, Jack Kraft, has come up with a surprisingly tough crew, who have built their unbeaten record on hustle and aggressiveness. Should they survive Niagara, and Duquesne lives up to its favorite role against Wyoming, the two unbeatens will meet in a semifinal.

Giants Get A Lesson In Basic Strategy

NEW YORK (AP)—It almost looked like a classroom in P.S. 85 today when the New York Giants handed in their homework to Coach Allie Sherman.

But instead of "pass" or "flunk," each Giant may be graded in terms of $50,000 of them to be exact, if he has learned his lessons well and the team beats the Green Bay Packers in Green Bay this Sunday for the National Football League's championship.

Sherman gave his squad a four-day Christmas holiday but had the players take home their play books, containing the basic plays and formations to be used in the Packers' game.

"If they don't have these basics down pat, then we're in trouble," Sherman said today.

He sent them onto snow-fringed Yankee Stadium to begin intensive outdoor work to put their book knowledge into operation. He planned to supplement the outdoor drills with skull sessions.

"We won't be putting in very much that's new these last few days," he said, "and neither will the Packers. We'll go at each other with our strength and prepare for the strength of the other."

Sherman admitted that while the Giants have great respect for Green Bay's passing, it is the Packers' tremendous running, led by Jim Taylor, that poses the biggest threat.

"We feel we can stop this, or at least slow it down, by repositioning our defensive men," he pointed out. "We've got to make it a lot tougher for their blockers to get the angles and knock our men down, as they did in the game in Milwaukee."

Oilers Return With AFL Grid Championship

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"It's like taking over the New York Yankees in midseason," happy Wally Lemm said after his Houston Oilers won their second American Football League championship.

"I was real lucky to step in here with all this material."

The Oilers beat San Diego, 10-3, Sunday to complete the AFL's rags-to-riches story for this year.

Lemm took over as Houston's coach in mid-October when Houston was in the Eastern Division cellar with a 1-3-1 record. Under Lemm Houston won 10 straight.

The Oilers already are looking to next year.

"Let's make it three straight now," quarterback George Blanda said shortly after he signed a 1962 contract. "Only let's don't play them again next week."

Fullback Charlie Tolar, tired and bruised, agreed.

"I don't want to see that bunch again until next year," he said.

"This will prove to those people that we play defense in this league," Blanda said. "Where do you find a better game than that?"

Six Houston players left the game because of injuries. Two—Bill Groman and Fred Glick—did not return.

"What got those people so mad at us?" asked tackle George Shirkey, who lost two teeth.

Blanda passed to Billy Cannon for the game's only touchdown and kicked a 46-yard field goal. He also got the seat of his pants dirty.

"I got hit more in that game than with any other time since I've been with the Oilers," the veteran said.

Charlie Hennigan, Houston's pass-catching flanker back, was among the walking wounded.

"The doctor said I got a slight concussion when Bud Whitehead tackled me in the second quarter," Hennigan said. "But I went back into the game in the second half and I don't remember anything until I snapped out of it in the dressing room."

Packers Fined But They Win

By The Associated Press

Late by an hour, tired by a wearying day of travel, and fined a bundle of cash, the Chicago Packers posted one of their infrequent victories in the National Basketball Association Monday night.

For arriving late in New York for their opening game at the Madison Square Garden doubleheader, the league's newest entry got socked a $2,500 fine by NBA President Maurice Podoloff. The Packers then took the floor and whipped the Detroit Pistons 118-97.

In the second game, the New York Knickerbockers squeezed by the Philadelphia Warriors 136-135 in double overtime. The Boston Celtics tripped the Syracuse Stars 127-122 and the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Cincinnati Royals 141-127 in other NBA action Christmas night.

One flight cancellation and two other delays in Chicago caused the Packers' travel troubles. Podoloff decreed the team had failed to take sufficient precaution to arrive in time, and levied the stiff penalty.

Field Goal Could Be The Clincher

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The field goal, used sparingly by both, could be the clincher in the Rose Bowl battle between Minnesota and UCLA, a couple of close-to-the-vest football practitioners.

As the New Year's Day game rivals resumed practice today after the Christmas holiday, the feeling grew that this could be the fourth Rose Bowl contest since 1950 to be settled by a field goal.

Wichita Favored Over Villanova

EL PASO—Wichita's pro-type offense and a stingy defense are expected to prevail when the Shockers face the Wildcats of Villanova University in the 27th annual Sun Bowl game here at 2 p.m. (MST) Saturday. The game will be nationally televised over the ABC network.

Coach Hank Folsberg's Kansas, who have won the Missouri Valley Conference championship for two years in a row, have been installed as the favorites against the strong Villanova team, building back towards its days as one of the top independents in the country.

Both teams returned to the practice fields today after brief vacations for Christmas. Villanova will fly to El Paso tomorrow with Wichita making the trip Thursday morning.

Starting lineups give Villanova an 18-pound advantage in the line and a 17-pound pull in the backfield. The bigger Villanova team has a 216-pound average up front with a 196-pound backfield, by a smashing 230-pound fullback Billy Joe.

Coach Alex Bell has named Joe Cutroneo (265) of North Bergen, N. J., and Jack Mount (228) of Caldwell, N. J., as his ends; Charlie Johnson (230) of Philadelphia and Tom Kepner (230) of Camden, N. J., at tackles; Al Calligaris (210) of West New York, N. J., and Capt. Richie Ross (215) of Morrisstown, N. J., at guards and Reggie Magnus (205) at center. The Wildcat starting backs will be Joe (230) of Coatesville, Pa., Quarterback Richie Richman (183) of Philadelphia; Nick Russo (190) of Atlantic City, N. J., and Larry Glueck (190) of Hatfield, Pa., at halfbacks.

Folsberg, who will leave after the Sun Bowl game to assume his new duties as head coach at Texas A&M, has named Ron Turner (196) of Mission, Kan., and Jim Maddox (190) of Enid, Okla., at ends; Bill Seigle (212) of Sharon Springs, Kan., and Gene Dempsey (205) of Kansas City, Kan., at tackles; Rex Molder (188) of Findlay, Ohio, and Charles Wright (210) of Enid at guards with Leroy Leep (190) of Wichita at center. The backfields will have Quarterback Alex Zyskowski (183) of Wichita; Alvin LeBlanc (187) of Beaumont, Texas, and Richard Stephens (175) of Gainesville, Fla., at halfbacks and J. R. Dumler (180) of Russell, Kan., at fullback.

The pre-game ceremonies will begin at 1:45 p.m. with kickoff at 2 p.m. (MST). Halftime show will be presented by the nationally-known Texas Western College Marching Cavalade, including the 60-member Goldgridders precision marching unit.

The Sun Bowl game is one of 10 sports events here this week. A collegiate basketball tournament Thursday and Friday matches Baylor University, New Mexico State University, University of New Mexico and Texas Western College. Other events include tennis, bowling, polo, bullfight, pistol shoot, rodeo, skydiving, and golf. Although not part of the official program, horse racing will be held throughout the week at nearby Sunland Park, N. M., one of America's newest tracks located just 10 minutes from downtown El Paso.

Ole Miss-Texas Game On KEDY

Two of the nation's most explosive football machines—the University of Texas Longhorns and the University of Mississippi Rebels, will provide the aerial and ground fireworks for the Cotton Bowl classic to be broadcast over the KEDY-TV Big Spring Channel 4, Monday, Jan. 1, starting at 1:15 p.m., Big Spring time.

Sportscasters Chris Schenkel and Johnny Lujack will be on hand at the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, Texas, to report the battle between the two high-scoring eleven which boast 9-1 records for the regular season.

Small Fry—Big Try

A small bystander, Kevin O'Connor, 4, faces up to Merlin Olsen, 265-pound All-American tackle from Utah State, at the West Team's practice field at Stanford, Calif., during picture session.

Olsen told newsmen he has signed a two-year contract with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League. (AP Wirephoto.)

9-Year-Old Bride Nears 25th Wedding Anniversary

TREADWAY, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. Charlie Johns will be 34 years old when she and her husband celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary next month.

"I'd do it all over again," said Johns, who was 22 when he married Eunice Winsted, 9, near this east Tennessee mountain town Jan. 19, 1937.

"I've never been sorry or regretted it," Johns told the Knoxville Journal in a copyright interview, the first Johns had granted in nine years. "She has always been as good to me as could be. She's a good mother and a good housekeeper."

Their marriage caused a national uproar and the Tennessee Legislature later made 16 the minimum age for marriage in the state.

The Johns have nine children.

Cloudy, Warmer Is Texas Outlook

By The Associated Press

Increasing cloudiness and slightly warmer weather was in store for Texas Tuesday as a new mass of cooler air edged toward the state.

The cooler air mass was due to roll into the northwest section of the state Wednesday.

Skies were clear over Texas early Tuesday except for clouds along the upper coast and inland for about 100 miles.

Eight still live on their 65-acre farm which provides a simple but ample living for the family. The oldest daughter, Evelyn, now 18, was married last year to John Henry Antrican, Charlie objected to the marriage at first, but later gave the couple his blessing.

"We get along together as good or better than other couples I know," Charlie said. "I guess she'd do it again if she had it to do over. I've never asked her that. She hasn't had it too bad, or any worse than folks we know."

"We don't go out much. I go to the store a couple of times a week and Eunice goes to the doctor now and then. That's about it. We don't dislike people; we just don't trust many of them."

He said his marriage and family life is "no one's business but ours," but it's okay to let them know how it turned out.

General
