SOME OBSTACLES TO SELLING LIVESTOCK

LACK OF PROPER ADVERTISING THE STOCKMAN'S GREATEST HANDICAP

The Reporter actually offers the stockmen of the Midland Country, almost without cost, some really good advertising, publicity which, carried to a healthy degree of interest and enthusiasm, would be calculated to help their business interests no little. It, our plan, has been often repeated, and to no purpose. We sincerely find a pleasure in commenting upon the excellence of the livestock, and all other products, of the Midland Country, and we ask no more than that you inform us from time to time.

We have readers, numerous ones, who note conditions and facts as reported by our columns; we have exchanges which reproduce our statements and they are scattered far and wide, giving the local stockman such publicity as he could hope to obtain otherwise only at great cost. We merely ask to be informed.

Along this line we take the following from a recent issue of the Progressive Farmer:

The difficulties of advertising purebred livestock in the South and of making sales are those surrounding the building-up of any new business.

In the first place prospective farmers are not as numerous in any given area. Within a radius of 100 or 150 miles of any breeder the number of farmers and breeders who are probable buyers is smaller than in an area of similar size where livestock breeding is more extensively carried on. But there are ample buyers in the South for all the good stock which southern breeders have to sell. Moreover, the quality is as good for the price as can be bought elsewhere and it can be obtained as near or nearer home, than when brought from the North. The express or carrying charges are usually higher, however, than for the same distances in the north. But the chief obstacle to building up sales by southern breeders is the small number of breeders in any one locality. This condition makes advertising more expensive and difficult. An advertiser also makes it more expensive for the buyer who wishes to inspect the animals before purchasing. When there are a number of breeders in any given locality the chance offered the purchaser to find what he wants is much better. He might afford to make a trip of 100 miles to see the stock if reasonably certain of getting what he wanted, but if he must make his selections from one herd or flock his chance of making a satisfactory purchase is lessened and he cannot afford to incur the expense of the trip. When there are a number of breeders in any locality more buyers are attracted and the advertising done by one helps all the others. Southern breeders have not yet learned to advertise, nor to adopt selling plans such as are used in all lines of business which supplies more than purely local needs. But, at best, the pioneer has difficulties to overcome which do not exist where there are larger numbers of producers and buyers and the business has the benefit of the accumulated publicity from many years of advertising.

The market is not so large nor so good, but at least a part of the fault lies with the breeders. Too frequently their stock is not in good condition and they have not generally followed good business methods in their sales department. They have not given enough attention to farmer-buyers but have sought sales only to breeders and have quite generally failed to do the advertising necessary to establish any new business. The southern breeder who keeps good stock, who does the necessary advertising to call it to the attention of the prospective buyers that are the small breeders and farmers of the South and uses sound business methods in his sales work, can establish a business in the South, for we are now buying and will continue to buy large numbers of purebred animals.

MIDLAND LIGHT NOW IN GOOD CONDITION

ONE DIESEL AND TWO FAIRBANKS ENGINES GIVE GOOD SERVICE

C. S. Dawley, of Dallas, vice president and general manager of the Southern Ice & Utilities Company, has been here this week, to look over the light plant here. He came just about the time Midland's troubles over lights was about over. In the last issue of The Reporter we stated how badly we, the town, was suffering over the condition of the light plant, more than half the town being in darkness. Now everything is fine and dandy.

Manager W. H. Williams and his helpers worked day and night, for weeks, to get things in shape, with the result that they now have at the plant three units that are in first class condition, the two Fairbanks-Morse and one Diesel, the Diesel now rendering most of the service.

The Diesel engine that was shipped here from Dublin will soon be installed. It may take 60 days to get it in running order, but, in the meantime, the three engines now in running order will give Midland all the light and power that is required.

The Reporter congratulated Mr. Williams upon his efforts to give service under conditions that were so adverse. The company, too, may congratulate itself in that it has a local manager who is so untiring in his efforts to serve; but Midland, especially owe him a debt that we are not likely to pay.

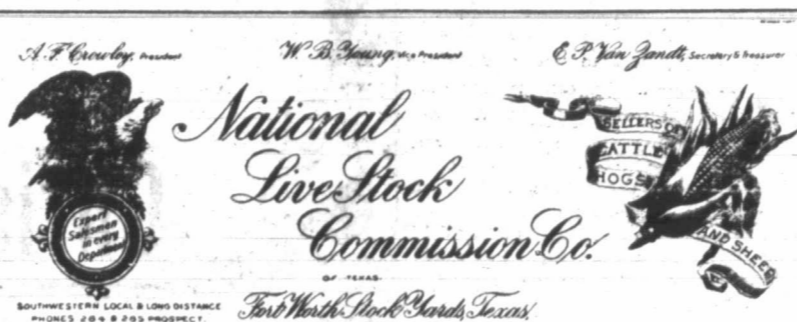

OCCASIONS WHEN WE REFUSE TO ARGUE

Chas. and John Edwards were in this week from their ranch west, the former for a few days with his family, and the latter bringing his family to town for a few days. They report range conditions out there very fine—Midland Reporter.

Play the game fair now, Bro. Watson, and don't go swiping our "leading citizens" in your city building enthusiasm. We grant your possession of Chas. Edwards, but when it comes to the John Edwards, that is another matter. This excellent family, we'd have you know, are bonafide citizens of the city of Odessa, county of Ector and State of Texas, have their beautiful suburban home right here. Mrs. Edwards is president of the Mothers' Club, and they are pillars of the Methodist church, and all round good folks. We know that plenty of good citizens is about the only thing your county lacks of being thickly settled; but don't be greedy. And by the way, just because Midland is incorporated and has a mayor and all that, is no reason why you should mention the "range being good" just like our fair county seat village was a 4-section pasture.—Odessa Herald.

Have it your way, Sister Johnson: it's all yours. We have never yet voluntarily entered into an argument with a lady. We are not exactly afraid, but—discrete.

Special Notice

To Shippers of Live Stock:

When RECEIPTS are LIGHT and the DEMAND STRONG and active with BUYERS KEEN and aggressive, all that you need is some one to show your stuff; but when conditions, as now, are the reverse, RECEIPTS HEAVY, DEMAND DULL and the market draggy with BUYERS quite naturally TAKING full ADVANTAGE of the unfavorable situation, it requires SALESMEN OF PROVEN ABILITY and with EXPERIENCED JUDGMENT to handle your stuff so as to obtain for you the FULL STRENGTH OF THE MARKET. It is under these unfavorable conditions where the National's salesmen prove their merit. Try the NATIONAL with your next shipment and be convinced of its superior service. One car or many will receive the same attention—THE BEST.

Market information gladly furnished you upon your request at our expense. Command us by letter, phone or wire. Our service is yours for the asking.

MR. DURBIN'S DEATH EXPECTED ANY HOUR WILL PERMANENTLY LOCATE IN DALLAS

Readers of The Reporter have, no doubt, expected to learn of the death of our townsman, J. K. Durbin, ere this, but he has lingered remarkably. One day this week the end was expected hourly, but he rallied, and he still lingers, ready, though, for the summons. He suffers of tuberculosis, is, 20, has for a long time. He, himself, has selected those whom he wishes to serve as pall bearers and has made other arrangements for his funeral. It is splendid to face the summons so bravely and with such fortitude; and the heart of our community is touched with deepest sympathy for the young wife.

Attention, Baracas!

Every member of the Baracas Class of the Baptist Sunday School is expected to be in his place Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

As this is a class of "Good Fellows," they must complete arrangements, making it possible for every person in Midland to enjoy Christmas. Young man, if you are not in Sunday School, and want to become a "Good Fellow" and help to make some one happy during Christmas, visit this class Sunday morning.

A good time socially, spiritually and mentally.

BRYANT NO. ONE NEARING SHOW-DOWN

DEPTH IS OVER FOUR THOUSAND FEET AND DRILLING IN GRAY LIME

After more than a year and a half it now looks as if we are soon to know what there is in a way of oil at Bryant No. 1, the oil test that has been the center of interest in the Midland Country for so long.

Yesterday the drill was down to a depth of 4035 feet and was pounding away in black, or dark gray, lime. The drillers and others interested in operations, have in no wise lost faith in this test, which is just nine miles south from Midland, and a state of subdued expectancy now exists among them and in Midland.

The test is now awfully deep, but not so deep as to be discouraging. There are many paying wells far deeper than this, and geologists tell us that some times, when oil is struck at a great depth, only a few hundred feet away it may be found much shallower.

We read in the Texico Star, only this week, of the Arnold well, near Graham. It is a Texas Company well, and, supposedly, the deepest producing well in the United States. It is 4711 feet. Bryant No. 1 is now liable to become a producer any minute. Let's keep on a-hoping for it—and for Midland.

WEEKLY REPORT OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

Dr. Gray, field secretary of the Methodist orphanage, spoke Sunday at the eleven o'clock hour in the interest of the orphanage, using as his lesson the last six verses of the 5th chapter of James, making it very strong that we are to be doers of the word and not hearers only, and that food and exercise was as essential to soul life as physical life. God's word our meat. Service for others our exercise and if we fail to take this food and exercise we take religious indigestion. If our souls are no larger today than they were fifteen years ago we have not digested God's truth. It is just as important to do what God would have us do as to read, sing or pray. Dr. Gray gave an outline of the work being done in the home, showing that it is both vocational and cultural. The children are being taught lessons in thrift and economy. Christian people should count it a privilege to help one of these orphans to a better life. A free will offering was taken at the close of the service.

The sermon in the evening by the pastor was "A Study in Personal Responsibility." The audience greatly enjoyed the special music and especially the cornet solo, played by the pastor at the morning hour.

Our former young townsman, L. C. Sharp, now of Abilene, was with us for a day on business the first of this week. He now has a foremanship with a large auto concern in Abilene.

N. H. Gann and Jess Ellis, of our neighbor city, Odessa, were business visitors to Midland last Tuesday.

We congratulate our friend, Bert Belcher, and wife upon the arrival Monday night of a baby boy, born in their ranch home in Gaines County.

SOME HISTORY OF CHRISTMAS TIME

CHARLES REYNOLDS BROWN, IN THE COMPANION, TELLS OF DAY OF DAYS

Charles Reynolds Brown is a delightful contributor to the Youth's Companion, and he tells the following story that ever thrills in the last issue of that paper:

The shepherds were keeping watch over their flocks by night. Simple outdoor men they were, with open minds and honest hearts; and to them it was revealed that something extraordinary was taking place at Bethlehem.

When they reached Bethlehem they found that a child had been born in a stable. How strange it would have sounded that night had some one remarked that the birthday of that child would become the starting point from which the more civilized and progressive nations would all reckon their time. The ends of the earth have set their clocks by that event.

The Hebrews had dated their calendars from what they believed to be the period of the creation, but today if you meet a Hebrew in New York or London or Vienna and ask him, "What year is it?" he will reply instantly, "Nineteen hundred and twenty." It is so long ago that since the child was born. The Romans dated their calendars from the founding of the city on the Seven Hills, and the Greeks from the first Olympic games. But all that was changed by the birth of that child.

GROWN to be a man and exalted as a Savior, He has drawn the attention of the race to Himself. He has gathered the forces of history into his own hands in such a way as to cause the nations to reckon their time and date their time and date their treaties from the year of his birth.

You count it wonderful that wise men saw a strange star in the east, that shepherds heard songs in the air, that the glory of the Lord shone there in the dark; but none of those things is so wonderful as that a child, born in poverty and obscurity in an out-of-the-way village in Palestine, should thus impress his birthday on the leading nations of the earth.

When Jesus gave his first public address He said, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the captives and recovering of sight to the blind; to set at liberty them that are bruised; to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

And "a year of the Lord" it was indeed! Today we say, "December 25, in the year of our Lord 1920." Whatever else is uncertain, this is hard matter of fact.

The kindly note He struck in that opening address, the programme of humane service He announced, the proclamation of the coming reign of good will among men, made that a worthy starting place. It was an earnest of the splendid history worthy to be called "Years of our Lord." The great fact of Christ, born into the world, building Himself steadily into its life, directing the movement of its thought, changing the calendars of the nations to date from his coming, all this we celebrate at Christmas time!

How swiftly He wrought! For thirty years after his birth we never hear of Him save for one brief glimpse when He was a boy of 12. He reappeared, taught and healed and lived for three years, only to have his benign career cut short by the enemies who put Him to death.

Three years—for great achievement such a brief space is like yesterday when it is past! How many years Alexander and Caesar and Cromwell and Napoleon wrought in the accomplishment of their work, yet their impress fades and dims, while the impress of the One born in Bethlehem brightens with the centuries. What an abiding significance the events of those three brief years hold in the story of the race!

There stands the Christ, manifesting the glory of the Highest, promoting peace on earth and good will among men. There he stands, the greatest fact in history, writing his name in a bold hand across all the finer pages of it, saturating with his spirit all the finer movements in it, making the years of genuine progress veritable years of our Lord; "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass."

MAKES THE JANUARY
ASH CAN TO BULGE

GIVE FOR THIS CHRISTMAS GIFTS NOT LIKELY TO BE WASTED

The holiday season with its joys and its problems is upon us. What shall we do to add to the happiness of the occasion? Each one of us would like not only to wish our friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, but to give them one. We cannot do this by means of ill-considered presents. Thoughtless gifts cause the January ash can to bulge with debris. Only when our gifts have lasting meaning do they carry the true message of good will which is the spirit of real giving.

We can give happiness and contentment and safety for the future as well as pleasure for the moment. Such gifts are within reach of all. They are to be found in the Savings Securities of the United States government. From the 25 cent Thrift Stamp to the $1000 Treasury Savings Certificate, they will carry with them not only the greetings of the season but happiness for years to come. In presenting the child a card with one thrift stamp affixed, you bestow not only a present but a habit which will grow in value as the days pass, for he will wish to fill the card. That little gift will have grown wonderfully before another Christmas comes around, and the recipient will be on the way to a life of independence.

In recommending these lasting gifts, the Savings Division of the Treasury does not suggest that a single American curtail his Christmas giving. It suggests only that he broaden it to include this present which will bring future well-being to those he loves.

Thrift Stamps, Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates will be on sale throughout the year 1921. In continuing the sale of Government Savings Securities, the government is giving the opportunity to every man, woman and child in the land through the coming year to enjoy the happiness, prosperity and contentment which is found in financial independence and security for the future.

CATTLE-HOGS LOWER SHEEP-LAMBS HIGHER

Cattle receipts were larger than expected Monday, and the per cent of fed cattle was liberal for the first time in several weeks past, writes our Kansas City market correspondent under date December 13th. Trade opened slowly at weak to 25 cents lower prices and showed no improvement later. Some prime Christmas yearling steers brought $17.75. Hog prices were 10 to 15 cents lower, top $9.65, and bulk $9.25 to $9.55. Sheep and lambs were in moderate supply and sold readily at strong to 25 cents higher prices.

Receipts Monday were 16,500 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep, compared 11,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep a week ago, and 21,500 cattle, 11,500 hogs, and 7,950 sheep a year ago. Strictly finished steers suitable for the high class Christmas trade and choice full fed steers, such as have been lacking for some time past, sold readily today at strong prices. The top for Christmas yearlings was $17.75, the highest price of the year. Short fed and plain to ordinary warmed up steers were slow sale and 15 to 25 cents lower. The bulk of the supply sold at $8.50 to $10.50, and the bulk of the good fat steers sold at $11.00 to $12.50. Cows and heifers were steady. More short fed cows were in the run than in preceding weeks. Most of them sold at $6.50 to $8.00, and heifers $7.00 to $9.00. Veal calves were 50 cents lower at $6.00 to $11.00.

Demand for stockers and feeders was fairly active at steady prices. Local receipts continue light compared with other markets and prices here are higher than elsewhere. The top price was $9.65, and bulk of sales $9.35 to $9.60. Pigs sold up to $9.50. In Chicago the bulk of the hogs sold at $9.25, top $9.60.

Sheep and lambs prices were 50 cents higher than Wednesday of last week and 25 cents above last week's close. Fat lambs sold up to $11.25 and good grades brought $10.50 to $11.10. Ewes at $4.75 to $5.25. Receipts were light for this season of the year. Trade in stockers and feeders remained quiet.

Trade in horses and mules under the limit of light receipts remained quiet. Prices were unchanged. Small demand is expected after the holidays.

Wholly Accidental
"Stonewall" Jackson was not a man to speak ill of another man without reason. At a council of generals early in the war, one of them remarked that Major Smith was wounded, and would be unable to perform a certain duty.
"Wounded!" said Jackson. "If that is so it must have been by an accidental discharge of his duty."

OBLIGATION OF
OUR CITIZENSHIP

The granting of the right of suffrage to women has awakened throughout the country a lively interest in the study of government, and the obligations of citizenship especially among the women. Training in citizenship is a course that has for years been given at the College of Industrial Arts, and its interest and importance have been more fully recognized with the additional need for such training. Regular college courses in American government and citizenship are required of all students in the B. A. group and may be elected by any student. In addition to the regular class work, all students of the college are required to attend a popular lecture course given in the college assembly four times each month on the practical problems of local, state, and national government as related to citizenship. The various literary clubs of the college are also making a special study of government and have arranged their yearly programs of club study to include citizenship as the topic of principal interest and study. Dr. T. G. Groner, director of the department of history and social science, has prepared a number of interesting and valuable outlines for the women's organizations of the State on the study of citizenship. These include lists of books, magazines, and other reference readings. They deal with such subjects as: The Political Issue and Women; The Nineteenth Amendment; What Women Need to Know About Government Law; Problems of Local Government; The Child and the Community; Problems of Child Delinquency; Local Conditions in Connection with Punishment of Crime; Reform Suggested, and American Indifference. The outlines may be obtained free of charge by writing the Secretary, Director, Department of Extension, College of Industrial Arts.

 A silence when he wrote the letter C caused the lecturer to ask, "Is there nobody here who can name a bad drink beginning with C?" He pointed to a small boy in the front row and said "There is a little man who I am sure can tell me."

SELLING VERY MANY CHRISTMAS SEALS

Nearly 15,000,000 Christmas seals have been sold in Texas during the first fifteen days of the sale of the little seals of health, is the estimate of Miss Winnie I. Bracy, State seal sale director, of the Texas Public Health Association.

"From reports from all parts of the State it appears that Christmas seals are being widely sold," said Miss Bracy. "The county chairmen report that the little stamps are already beginning to appear on letters, and that people are pasting them on their Christmas packages."
 "Poor crops in some sections of the State, as well as the drop in the price of cotton, hurt the Christmas seal sale; but the majority of the reports coming into the State office of the Association are gratifying. I feel sure that when all reports are in we will find that Texas has responded in the fight against tuberculosis and for better health."

Local affiliations of the Texas Public Health Association at Dallas, Houston and Beaumont have called for a larger quota of seals than were first assigned to them. Many of the counties with small quotas have reported that they exceeded their quotas during the first few days of the seal sale.

Christmas seals will be kept on sale until the holidays in booths and stores, and tuberculosis workers hope to see their slogan: "A Christmas Seal on Every Piece of Mail in Texas" come true.

The Season's Greetings

Christmas is drawing nigh. We wish to say a few words to the Husband. If you are wondering what to give friend wife, just whisper the amount you wish to invest in your Yule Tide expression. We will help you to get the very best, most acceptable gift for your coin. We have so many things that will please her. To the Wife: No one knows better than a man what a man likes. We charge nothing for advice. If friend husband smokes and you wish to give him cigars, by all means consult us. We will sell you a man's smoke, a cigar that makes every puff a nerve soother, that just makes an optimist of a grouch. A good smoke will help to digest that Xmas dinner. Nothing so delightful to the smoker as the after dinner cigar of right blend and strength. To the Young Man: The young lady in question will think you are just a dear if you give her a box of our special holiday boxes of unusual confections. Those Johnston's chocolates are different, the triumph of the candy maker's art. They stamp the giver as a man of good taste. When in doubt send a box of our Xmas confections deluxe and perhaps it would be well to include a goodly bit of one of those delicate perfumes in the dainty bottle for her dressing table. To the Young Woman: Choosing the gift for Him is some times a much mooted question. We have a number of things that are bound to please no matter how fastidious he may be. The useful gift though moderate in cost is always in good taste. Remember we sell stamps and have a telephone. During the holidays we will be glad to wrap and tie your packages to be mailed.

Violin Recital Interests Many

An audience which was representative and appreciative greeted Mr. Dewey Wiley of Midland College on last Tuesday evening at the Christian church, when he presented some of his violin pupils in their initial program. The numbers consisted of violin trios, duets, vocal and piano selections and each number reflected much credit upon the skill and ability of the young teacher as well as upon the diligence of the pupils. There are no "short cuts" to music, for the music student has a long, tedious, soul wearing road to travel, hence the simplest five finger exercise represents not only hours, but days and months of diligent practice on the part of the student and it requires a teacher with vision, with ideals, musical education and patience that is infinite to produce these results, hence we cordially congratulate Mr. Wiley and his pupils upon the purely classical, wholly uplifting program which they so creditably rendered Tuesday evening. Those who participated were Misses Mabel Shaw, Elsie Wolcott, Lady Connell, Ruth Lewis and Mr. Benjamin Fleanor, assisted by Misses Mabel Holt, Louise Wooten and Viva Rhodes, of the piano and voice department of Midland College, and Mrs. Francis, accompanist.

Mrs. Addison Wadley returned on Wednesday from Dallas where she recently underwent an operation. The Reporter with numerous other friends rejoice with Mrs. Wadley that now after her protracted illness there is every possibility that she will be quite restored to health. Her mother, Mrs. Buchholz, of Pecos, came Tuesday and is going to remain this winter, so now after a year's separation the little family will happily be together and thus the music of Christmas bells will chime in their hearts at this joyous Yuletide season.

Benefit For Presbyterians
On Tuesday evening, December 21, Douglas Fairbanks will appear in his latest production at Rialto Theatre as a benefit for the Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary. The management of the theatre are putting on the very best shows and Midland folk should reward their efforts by a liberal patronage every evening, and particularly upon this evening when part of the proceeds are given to one of our churches. A two-fold reason why you and your friends are cordially requested to be present.

The Regina Rebekah Lodge had a most delightfully enthusiastic meeting on December 6th at which time the following officers were elected: Mrs. Fanny Reynolds, noble grand; Mrs. Mary Roberts, vice grand; Mrs. Lora Kilcrease, secretary; Mr. H. N. Garrett, treasurer. Mrs. Kate Dean was recommended to be appointed as district deputy president of this lodge and was also elected as representative to Rebekah assembly which will meet in Waco next March, with Mrs. Fanny Reynolds as alternate. At the close of the business meeting the most delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Ethel Weir, of Chillicothe, Texas, arrived last Saturday to be with her sister, Mrs. J. K. Durbin, who is now living through dark days, as she tenderly ministers to her husband who continues to linger on the border land of the mystic river. All of Midland sorrowfully sympathizes with the young wife.

Mrs. West Aycock returned from Dallas last Sunday where she had been with her little daughter, Annie Julie, to have her tonsils and adenoids removed. The little lady passed through the operation finely and is again her own winsome little self.

Mr. O. B. Holt, Jr., will arrive on next Sunday from Chester, Penn., where he has been a student of the military college, and will be a Yuletide guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nebitt, of Stephenville, arrived last Saturday, and will be the holiday guests of Mr. G. F. Cowden and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Cowden.

Miss Ora Mae Terry returned last Monday from Sweetwater and Abilene where she has been visiting since Thanksgiving.

Mr. John W. Terry will arrive Sunday from Roswell, N. M., where he has been attending the New Mexico Military School.

Mr. Wesley Edwards and mother left last Saturday for their home in Merkel after a week's visit with Mr. Charley Edwards and family.

FOURTH ROLL CALL

STATE SECRETARY AMERICAN RED CROSS CONGRATULATES LATEST DIRECTOR

Dee McCormick was appointed local director in the Fourth Roll Call of the American Red Cross, the drive for which was concluded satisfactorily a short time back. Our young townsman has received a very congratulatory letter from State Secretary Henry M. Baker, and we reproduce it herewith:

"My dear Mr. McCormick: We have just received your report stating that Midland County has gone over the top for the Fourth Roll Call. The whole staff of the State headquarters office joins in congratulating you and your able assistants in this pronounced success. "If every chapter in the United States does as well as you have done, the Fourth Roll Call will be a glorious success. This demonstrates to us once again that the appeal of your American Red Cross is still strong and will find a ready response in the hearts of all true citizens, if it is adequately and squarely presented to them. "I am sure you will get deep satisfaction out of the consciousness that in this task you have linked your life once again with hundreds of thousands of earnest and loyal American citizens in an effort to bring to the attention of the population as a whole, the appeal of mercy which the American Red Cross presents. "Please accept, and pass on to all your associates, the best thanks of the State headquarters staff for the work which you and they have accomplished; without which the Roll Call in Midland County would have been a failure. "As you observe the work of mercy and helpfulness which your American Red Cross will endeavor to perform during 1921, may you obtain great personal satisfaction in the knowledge that this work was due in no small measure—to the fact that you had worked faithfully for memberships in your county. "Very sincerely yours, "HENRY M. BAKER."

T. E. Foster, of Silver City, representing the Gila Farm Company, was a guest of the Llano this week. During his stay he closed a deal with Bryant & Elkin Bros., to winter 2800 cows on their ranch northwest of the city. He was highly elated over the immense crop of grass we have on hand.

HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY CONCERT GREAT SUCCESS

Last evening the high school literary society gave their initial concert in the Christian church to a large and appreciative audience. Two of the best numbers on the program, or rather two of which pleased the audience most, was "Roaming in the Gloaming" sung by the boys' glee club. In this delightful Scotch song the boys were costumed and they received encore after encore and finally retired amid a storm of applause. We believe they boys could have repeated this song a dozen times with success. The other song was the "Anvil Chorus" in which an anvil effect was introduced, and the boys made a decided hit from the very first note. We wish we had the space to comment upon the other numbers, for all did their parts exceedingly well. Following was the program:

Program
"O Praise the Lord" from "Mendelssohn's 'Athalie'" (Mendelssohn)—High School Chorus with Orchestra.
Readings (a) "If" (Kipling) (b) "Crossing the Bar" (Tennyson)—Midland High School.
Piano solo: "Jy Peuse" (Helmund)—Mabel Holt.

Romance: "Love's Hope" (Arnold-Stickney)—Orchestra.
Baritone: "The King of the Storm" (Spalding)—W. W. Lackey.
"Sandman Am a-softly Comin'" (Humoreske — Devorak-Rix)—Girls' Choral Club with Orchestra.
Reading: "He Tried to Tell His Wife" (Anonymous)—Leola Bigham.
Declamation: "Rienzi to the Romans" (Mitford)—Carroll Hill.
(a) "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust"; (b) "Anvil Chorus" from "Il Trovatore" (Verdi)—Boys' Glee Club with Orchestra.
Reading: "A Christmas Kid" (Cooke)—Miss Elkin.
(a) "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" (Bland-Hilton); (b) "Near-er, My God to Thee" (by request—Excell)—High School Chorus with Orchestra.
(a) "Lullaby" from "Jocelyn" (Gogard-Rix); (b) "When Twilight Weaves Her Gentle Spell" (Minuet—Beethoven-Brans)—Select Women's Voices with Orchestra.
"Roamin' in the Gloamin'" (Lauder)—Select Male Voices with Orchestra.
Soprano and Alto: "Home to Our Mountains" (Gipsy Diet—Verdi)—Misses Melson and Wilhite.
Baritone and Chorus: "Jerusalem" (Arr. Prof. Roe)—High School Chorus with Orchestra.

Friday, today, a continuous show after 2 p. m. A Henry Lehrman Comedy entitled "A Twilight Baby," featuring Ham Hamilton and Virginia Poppie. This is one rollicking comedy with a big round of laughs. Also a big cartoon comedy and International News picture together with the big serial, "The Moon Riders."

Saturday, matinee and evening, a Reelart Special "The Law of the Yukon," with an all star cast, based on the poem by Robert W. Service. The theme of this story is that the unfit must perish and only the strong survive when brought into difficult conditions such as are in an Alaskan mining town far from civilization.

Monday, Constance Talmage in another delightful comedy drama entitled "Happiness a-la Mode." Also a Star comedy and International News. Tuesday, matinee and evening, the Presbyterian Ladies Aid Benefit. Douglas Fairbanks in his latest picture "The Mark of Zarro." A bigger and better picture than "The Mollycoddle." Also educational reel on polo. In the evening some vocal solos by Misses Melson and Wilhite and Mr. Robert Fasken, and music by the Midland Orchestra.

Wednesday, May Allison in a sparkling comedy, "Fair and Warm-er," from the famous stage success. The play that made the weather man famous. Snub Pollard and Sunshine Sambo comedy, "Don't Weaken."

Thursday, a Selznick special, "The Valley of Doubt," with an all star cast. A gripping story of the frozen north, containing beautiful snow scenes and wonderful acting by animals. Charlie Chaplin in a third million dollar comedy "Shoulder Arms," a burlesque on army life in the trenches.

Friday, "Romance of Tarzan," by Edgar Rice Burroughs. These who failed to see "Tarzan of the Apes" will see it in synopsis from the first reel of this bill.

The Elite has now on display a very beautiful and complete line of Davis Christmas and New Year cards and folders. adv 10-31

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

MIDLAND COLLEGE NOTES

By D. O. W.

The girls' basket ball team played big Spring on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon. Our team put up a good fight all during the game and lost by a score of only 16 to 10. We shall beat them when they play here, for our girls were handicapped on account of sorry goals.

The College boys will play the Stanton high boys basket ball team on Thursday the 16th. A hard game is expected.

Many clubs are being formed among the students now, and this is especially true of the girls. It is rather a unique thing to have half the boarding girls in a school that bear the same name, but we have that very thing here. The Johnsonian club is a club composed of the Johnsons. There are three Johnson sisters in the club and they each have two sisters, which makes nine; the other two Johnsons are not related to these in any way. They make out the eleven.

We wish to correct one error of omission that was made last week. John McKissick, our faithful, accurate and always reliable center, received a letter at the football banquet last Monday night. John played four quarters in each and every game the College played this year, and much of the success of our strong backfield was due to his accurate pass work.

A general organization of the third floor girls has been perfected and given the mysterious name of "L. O. P. H." club. The following officers have been elected: Miss Lura Johnson, president; Miss Willie Cole, secretary-treasurer; Misses Jessie Morton, Lois Johnson and Lura Johnson, social committee.

The French club, under the tutelage of Joseph Fasken, went on one of its regular frolics Saturday night. A good picture show to stimulate the imagination and a cup of hot chocolate after the stroll from town, after the show, completed the evening's program.

Mr. Laney has been seen going about the campus in a manner that would indicate profound thought. We presume he is thinking of his trip home Christmas.

School turns out Friday, December 17th, and will resume January 3rd. Everybody is expecting a great Christmas, and here is hoping that one will be disappointed.

C. L. A. BEAUTIFYING GROUNDS WITH TREES

The people of Texas and the country at large have realized more the last few years than ever before the civic value of beautifying school grounds and public parks. The College of Industrial Arts set apart Monday afternoon, December 13th, for this purpose, and the students and faculty entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock a short general program, consisting of suitable songs and addresses was held in the auditorium of the College, after which the faculty and student body numbering about 1,400, adjourned to the campus for the tree planting. The exercises were participated in by every one connected with the College and resulted in the planting of about 400 trees and several hundred shrubs.

First the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors planted their class trees with appropriate exercises; then, the 25 different club organizations gave interesting programs on different parts of the campus in connection with the planting of their respective trees; and finally members of the faculty representing the various departments of the College also contributed their share. The 400 trees were of the following kinds: One hundred pecan trees; 130 sycamores; 40 redbuds; 20 elms; 20 poplars; 10 maples; 10 mountain trees, and 1 magnolia tree. Nothing adds more to a college campus or to public school grounds of any kind than does the planting of flowers, shrubs and trees, and it is believed that this phase of civic improvement will characterize more and more the communities, large and small, throughout the State.

Notice of regular annual meeting of stockholders and directors of the Midland & Northwestern Railway Company:

Notice is hereby given to the stockholders and directors of the Midland & Northwestern Railway Company that the regular annual meeting of said Company will be held at the offices of the Company at Midland, Texas, at 2 o'clock p. m. on the 18th day of January, 1921.

Dated this 17th day of December, 1920, at Midland, Texas.

THE CHRISTMAS STAR

Since ancient Bethlehem beheld
The Christmas star arise,
Astronomers have vainly sought
Its splendor in the skies,
But when the bells of Christmas Eve
Repeat the glad refrain
Of "Peace on earth good will to men,"
Behold! it shines again.

In every home where little feet
Go pattering to and fro,
And little voices merrily
Ring out across the snow,
And scarlet-berried holly makes
The glittering windows bright,
The holy star of Bethlehem
Reveals its dazzling light.

It sparkles from the Christmas tree
In gold and silver sheen,
And tiny tapers strong along
The branches darkly green.
It shimmers on the angel perched
Upon the topmost spray,
And o'er the tinsel cards that tie
The gifts of Christmas Day.

O! may no little one awake
Upon a Christmas morn
To find his stocking hanging up
All empty and forlorn.
For lo! the glory that aroused
The shepherd in the fold,
Is shining still in childish eyes
And curls of baby gold.

—MINNA IRVING in Texaco Star.

G. H. COYLE BUYS MANY POLO PONIES

TRAINS THEM, AND SUPPLIES PLAYERS OF NEW YORK AND OTHER CITIES

One day recently our townsman, G. H. Coyle, shipped three cars of polo ponies to Aiken S. C., and from that place they go to some other points. It reminds us of a fact that The Reporter has perhaps not mentioned to its readers, not in a long time, at least, and that is that this citizen of ours buys and handles more polo ponies than perhaps all other buyers in the United States put together. He has made it almost an exclusive occupation for a great many years, during which time he has handled hundreds upon hundreds of these animals.

Mr. Coyle's connections are direct with the players themselves, with nearly all of whom, prominent in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and other polo centers, he has personal, and in many instances, intimate acquaintance.

Lately Fred H. Post and wife, of Long Island, have been guests of Mr. Coyle and family. Mr. Post is a polo enthusiast, and spent two weeks very pleasantly with Mr. Coyle, and we expect they had a lot of polo business to discuss and arrange. Anyway Mr. Coyle's activities have been greatly renewed lately, and he is even now out on a buying trip of this nature.

Mr. Coyle spent fifteen years in New York, a great deal connected with polo activities, and during the years he has lived in Midland he has been the means of much favorable advertising of his home town. He never fails to let it be known that his home is Midland, whenever it is not already known, which is now rare, for stockmen everywhere know him by reasons of his polo interests.

Coyle trades easily. Right freequently his first offer on an animal is a happy surprise to the owner and a whole lot of time is not lost in "dickering." Often, though, the owner has an exaggerated idea of the value of his horse. People, usually, are quite prone to exaggerations of this sort, and it makes it hard to pull off a trade, sometimes, even when the price is fair enough to the owner.

Girls, Whitmeyer will have that pretty dinner or dance frock you are wanting for good times during the holidays, and they will be straight from New York too. adv

BUSINESS STALLED BUT IT CANNOT STAY SO

The writer was talking recently with one of the South's foremost students of economic problems.

Our manufacturers, we remarked to him, report that they have cut the prices and cut the prices but say that seemingly they have not yet cut prices enough to make people buy. The real trouble, we added, is that the cuts made by manufacturers have not reached the consuming and buying public. The retail merchant has a lot of goods on hand bought at old prices and he is not willing to make sales on the basis of present wholesale values. "Yes," answered our economist friend, "and do you see where all that leads to? Take cotton, for example. The manufacturer has cut prices of his goods, but the retail merchant hasn't. Consequently, people have held off buying. But with winter coming on--and their old clothes wearing out, the folks will soon be compelled to buy. Then they will likely have to buy in more than ordinary quantities. This will enable the manufacturers to boost prices again, and then the retailer will have an excuse for holding his prices up--and the only man who will lose out will be the farmer, the man who has tried to sell his raw material on a dead market.

There is a good deal of danger that things may work out just about this way. Business is temporarily stalled, but it can't stay stalled. The vast majority of the people of America are still employed, and employed at rather high wages, and salaries. Consequently, they are going to buy plenty of food and plenty of clothing especially cotton clothing. In fact, the tendency to economize may help the demand for cotton goods by lessening calls for silk shirts and silk hosiery.

It is true that the market right now is stalled, deadlocked. But it can't stay stalled. And the world must pay enough for cotton to insure getting an adequate acreage planted next spring. Doesn't that mean that it must offer around 30 cents a pound before next April? It looks that way to us.--The Progressive Farmer.

TELLS OF PRISON CAMP ATROCITIES

WRITER SEEMS FORTIFIED WITH FACTS AND REVEALS REVOLTING DETAILS

Charging that convicts are shot down like dogs in Texas prison camps, beaten to death with heavy thongs, suspended by chains, confined naked in dark cells, beaten and punched with loaded pistols by brutal guards, George W. Dixon, of Houston, has issued an appeal to the public to put a stop to these "cruel and inhuman practices."

Mr. Dixon has issued the following statement to the press, with the request that the facts be given to the public:

"I have in my possession a report showing that the cruelties practiced on prisoners in Texas prison camps are sufficient to shock the conscience of the civilized world. I am no maudlin sentimentalist; no habitual reformer. I am only a reporter of facts which I am making public solely through sentiments of humanity. I have the names of prisoners who have been beaten to death. I have the names of prison guards in charge at the time of death. My report shows thirteen prisoners killed. Of this number five were beaten to death and eight were shot by prison guards.

Three prisoners were beaten to death at Ramsey Farm, one at Camp No. 2, and one at Allen Farm, all operated by the Texas prison system. Heavy manilla rope was used in the beating of one man to death. The rope was first soaked in water then applied to the prisoner's body until he fell in a crumpled heap, dead at the feet of the tormentor. I have the names of two old men who were beaten until their bodies were covered with scars inflamed with the wet manilla rope.

One assistant manager beat a prisoner to death, then prepared the body for burial himself. I have the name of the dead prisoner and the prison camp at which he died under the cruel lash.

During the influenza epidemic volunteer nurses obtained permission from the governor to visit some of the sick prisoners. At Allen farm they found a prisoner had been shot to death the night before and the cause of his death reported as influenza. I have this dead prisoner's name. I have the name of another prisoner on this same farm who was beaten to death in June of last year. Prisoners are afraid to give out information as to their treatment and dead men tell no tales. A prisoner at Imperial Farm was suspected of giving out facts to a lady who visited the farm in company with the prison physician. The prison farm manager had the man handcuffed and suspended from the floor by chains, and otherwise maltreated him as punishment for his supposed giving out of information which had been used in a complaint to the governor of Texas. On petition of more than 100 Texas women this manager was discharged, but the maltreated prisoner was transferred to a negro prison camp in East Texas, where the abuses continued.

Tubercular prisoners are driven to work in the rain. I have the name of a prison guard who chained two tubercular patients together by their wrists, then stripped them naked and kept them in the dungeon for seventeen hours! They were beaten, kicked and punched with the muzzle of a loaded pistol. Tuberculars are supposed to get a ration of butter, milk and eggs, but these men received neither. A physician calls to see them about once a week.

The people of Texas, ignorant of these atrocities, have been greatly concerned with the cruelties to Russian prisoners in Siberia. There is opportunity for a mercy crusade closer home. I will give the names and dates in my possession to any bona fide official commission that desires to correct these abuses, but I cannot do any act that might subject these unfortunate prisoners to further torture or death. There is only one way to reach these abuses and that is through the legislature and the governor's office. And if the people themselves who are the source of all governmental power, fail to rise up in their might and demand that these cruelties cease, then our prison population must continue to submit to atrocities that were supposed to have ended during the dark ages of human history.

J. K. DURBAN DIED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

PASTOR TELLS OF BEAUTIFUL FAITH AND PERFECT ASSURANCE

On last Friday, December 17th, 1920, our late well known fellow citizen, Mr. J. K. Durbin, passed into rest, after a lingering illness.

The funeral service was conducted from the home by the pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. Owen J. Hull and Rev. J. T. McKissick, after which the remains were given sepulcher in the city cemetery, the burial taking place shortly before noon of Saturday, the 18th inst.

Their many friends will be much pleased to learn that Mrs. Durbin will have her old place back with the Western Union, where she will begin about January 15th, thus being permanently a citizen of Midland.

John Kennison Durbin was born at Waterproof, in Texas parish, (same as "county" in this State,) Louisiana, on Friday, August 18th, 1875, and therefore at the date of his death was 44 years, three months and 29 days of age.

He is survived by one sister who lives in Tennessee, a son by a former marriage—a youth of about 16 years and an adopted daughter of about 19 years, both of whom live in Louisiana, and his wife, whom we all know, and to whom he was married about six years ago.

Shortly after their marriage his health began to fail, and in hopes of restoration they left their home in Mississippi and came to this place, where they have since resided. For perhaps three years he seemed to gain in health, but about two years ago he began to visibly fail, and this failing health culminated in his death as before stated.

Deceased was (as is his wife also,) a member of the Methodist church, and has been for many years. He was also an earnest Christian and lived a most circumspect life. It was the privilege of his pastor during his last weeks to be frequently with him, and his testimony to the saving grace of our Lord Jesus Christ was most satisfactory and wondrous beautiful. In his last conversation with his pastor he expressed his unflinching faith in his Lord. He fell asleep in great peace, leaving no doubt as to his destination.

With his many friends his pastor tenders to him his congratulations on having "completed his race with joy," to his bereaved ones his sincere condolence, and prays that God may so lead us that in the end we may find with Him our eternal home, as thitherward our feeble, faltering steps we turn.

His pastor,
S. X. SWIMME.

Cordial Greetings

We extend to all the old, old wish for a Merry Christmas, and take this occasion to express our appreciation of your friendship and the opportunity to serve you.

SERMON SUNDAY IN METHODIST CHURCH

OFFICIAL REPORTER TELLS OF INTERESTING SUBJECT DISCUSSED

Splendid attendance at all the services even though quite a number had gone to the ranches for the holidays. Sermon at eleven o'clock by the pastor, subject: "Elements Necessary to a Church's Prosperity." First scripture lesson, Psalm 15; second lesson, Neh. 1:4-11; text, Psalm 118:15. Extracts from sermon: Prosperity is the object of our seeking; prosperity is given of the Lord. Man, woman, boy and girl is under moral obligations to the church. In seeking prosperity we lose sight of the fact that material prosperity is the heart of all prosperity. Wesley's rule was: make all you can, give all you can give. Prosperity of a financial sort, unaccompanied by benevolence, is like a man with money and without character. Prosperity of the church: Just what does it take to constitute a prosperous church? The following rules if properly applied will guarantee a prosperous church: The first element necessary to a prosperous church is a piety and an enlightened minister; without this the people lose interest. It was necessary for God to call holy men for the purpose of awakening men; he must live a consistent Christian life for the people look to him as a religious example. The people in the pew will not rise above the religious life of the minister.

The second rule: We must enlarge our spirit of benevolence; we may bestow our means and yet not be benevolent. Benevolence rises above the mere giving of your money, but it includes it. We need to enlarge our missionary activity at home and abroad. We are doing a great deal to retard our work in Mexico by our treatment of those in our midst. If all members of the Methodist church would sign a contract every time they go to a show they would pay the price of the ticket in missionary box, we could pay all obligations. A church will never be a prosperous church until there is a spirit of unity in the church. We must be of one mind, agreed in desire as well as words of prayer. Until all are in sympathy the baptism of the Holy Spirit will not come. There must be a unity of spirit of peace with each other. A little man or woman won't acknowledge his faults. It takes a big soul and the grace of God in a man's heart to say he has wronged another, but it has got to come before you can enter Heaven. Change your relation to the fellow by changing your attitude. You can't get to Heaven with un forgiveness and lack of love in your heart. If we are out of harmony we are injurious to our lives and are in the way of others. One need of the church in Midland is unity of purpose. We need enforcement of judicial discipline. The world is watching each of you. The world has no respect for a crooked church member. Our Lord desires a Christian church, holy and without blemish. A man who works on Sunday is as much of a thief from God's view as the man who would take my money. One sinner can retard the progress of the church; one sinner can destroy much good. Anyone who does wrong not only hurts himself but others.

The fourth element necessary to church prosperity is efficient financial management. Every member, boy or girl, should feel he has stock in the church and take some part in the financial plan of the church. Each should have a proper conception of our individual responsibility to the church. Each member has the honor and purity of the church in his keeping. Am I living as close to Christ as I should? We should carry Christ into our business office; carry Christ into our social affairs; honor our God in our homes; live so people will regard you as a moral force in the community. We may be active church members and yet not have Him in our lives. We are just marking time. Why? Too many actors in the camp; too much sin in the church. People, inspect your church vows. Refrain from worldly amusements; stay away from the old timer's dance. If you old people you children will be wanting to go to a "hugging" machine pretty soon. The world doesn't respect a crooked church member. Let us be a church clothed with righteousness, having on the girdle of mercy and our hands uplifting the cross.

Sunday night sermon, subject, "Why I am a Methodist." This was a strong doctrinal sermon, broad and instructive. The audience greatly enjoyed a vocal solo by the pastor. —Reporter.

The college students are: Messrs. Meyer Half, of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell; Joe B. Johnston, of the Commercial College at Tyler; Joe Caldwell, of A. M. C.; Truett Hull, Simmons College, Abilene; Miss Carolyn Caldwell, of Sulins College, Bristol, Va.; Miss Lorraine Davis, of State Normal, Denton; Miss Essie Cowden, Baylor University, Waco; Miss Geraldine Cowden, and Miss Fay Taylor, Boyler, Belton; Miss Theresa Klapproth, S. M. U., Dallas.

Allen Bailey
On last Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, a pretty marriage was solemnized when Miss Mabel C. Allen, of this city, became the happy bride of Mr. Leslie Bailey, of Davis, Okla., Rev. I. H. Teel, of the Christian church, impressively reading the beautiful service which made the twin one. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for Davis, Okla., where he is employed as a mechanic. Numerous friends with The Reporter wish them a long life of wedded happiness.

Miss Thelma White returned last Tuesday from an extended visit to Dallas and points in east Texas.

Miss Joe King, Honoree
On last Saturday afternoon a pretty Christmas party was given at the residence of Mrs. C. C. Foster, when Misses Minnie Foster and Jewell Collins entertained with a miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Joe King, whose marriage to Mr. John Collins will be one of the charming events of the Yuletide season. The house was prettily decorated with Christmas greens and bells and a sweet spirit of happiness seemed to pervade the entire atmosphere. The guests, who were only a group of congenial girl friends, first wrote a favorite receipt in the bride's book, then followed an interesting contest suitable to the sentiment of the occasion. Miss Jewell Collins, by her nimble wits won first prize, a dainty handkerchief, which she graciously presented to the honor guest. Miss May Marshall came last and thrillingly told of her first proposal. Then in response to a knock, old Kris Kringle, his dear old self, was ushered in, with his pack on his back. With merry jest, he bestowed all his gifts upon the pretty little bride-elect, who then sweetly thanked these girl friends for so beautifully remembering her at this, the golden hour of her young life. At the conclusion of the happy afternoon the most delicious fruit salad, with sandwiches, olives and coffee were temptingly served.

Miss Frances Miller, Graduate
Midland friends this week are receiving invitations to the graduating exercises of Miss Mary Frances Miller, the young daughter of our esteemed friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, which took place in Mineral Wells, Thursday, Dec. 23rd. Many girls graduate but few do it so triumphantly as Frances. The Mineral Wells high school requires eighteen credits for graduation and this little girl, who is the youngest member of her class, met these requirements, was exempt in this term's work with her lowest grade, 92. She has also done heavy work in music and oratory. Then, too, in a hotly waged contest, she was voted the most attractive girl in the senior class, leading her closest opponent by forty votes. Intellect, ambition and personal charm is a combination that is as rare as it is beautiful and The Reporter warmly and cordially congratulates this favored young daughter of the gods, and will watch her path of future progress with much interest. Miss Miller will enter William Woods College, Missouri.

The Wednesday Club met Wednesday of last week with Mrs. Half as hostess, at which time the following program was proficiently given. To make the study still further interesting Mesdames Rowe and Half had some beautiful prints of the Madonnas which they brought from abroad:

The world's greatest picture, "Sister Madonna." At Christmas time we turn to the great Madonna type of mother love.

Roll call: Response, one of the famous Madonnas, where hanging and by whom painted.

Two interpretations: The Madonna Religious and the Madonna Secular—Mrs. E. R. Thomas.

A story told: Raphael and the Sistine—Mrs. Chancellor.

Mrs. Jennie Colom, who occupies a very warm spot in the hearts of a wide circle of Midland friends, returned last week from Georgia and Tennessee, where she has spent the past year.

Mrs. Rube Clayton and children left Tuesday afternoon for Sherman to spend the Yuletide with relatives and friends and from there they will go to El Paso, possibly for the winter.

Miss Vernon Hill will arrive on Christmas day from Duncan, Oklahoma, where she has been teaching and will be a holiday guest of her brother, Mr. J. E. Hill and family.

Mrs. Spence Jovett and children, Miss Hallie Phea and Mr. Holt Jovett, returned last week from Waco where the latter two have been students in Baylor University.

Mrs. M. J. Allen left last Friday morning for Vernon and Crowell, to spend Christmas with her daughters, Mrs. May and Misses Eunice and Mittie Lee.

Mrs. John Haley left last week for a visit to relatives and friends in Belton.

Miss Roxie Ngent, of Eastland, arrived yesterday to spend Christmas with home folks.

Readings by the Author

The Reporter has had a hard time of it this week, without a printer. Our foreman left last Saturday night and the job was left up to the linotype operator, an apprentice, and the editor. For the first time in nearly twenty years the editor has had to serve as ad-man, make-up, etc., and he is extremely clumsy as such, and irritable and cross and generally worthless; but now, that we are at last issuing the "little sheet," we are all smiles again and wish our readers and everybody else good cheer, a merry Christmas, and a happy, prosperous New Year.

CHRISTMAS EVE AND ITS HOME BEAUTIES

Christmas Eve in the home is always a joyous event, or should be. The father has closed his ledger with a "Thank God" that there is now and then a respite from toil, from the perplexities and cares of everyday life, an oasis in the desert of the year, and yields himself for the time to the pleasure of creating new joys for the loved ones at the home fireside. The mother's heart overflows with love and thankfulness as she watches the innocent and enthusiastic face of her little ones over their Christmas gifts. And as for the children themselves, what eternity of time could compensate them for the loss of one Christmas?

Mrs. Pearl Lewis, of El Paso, who has been nursing our deceased friend, J. P. Durbin, left for her home on the early train Monday.

GREETINGS

YOUNG BOY STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

What came near being a serious accident happened to Forrest, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Biard Wednesday afternoon, when he was knocked down by an automobile. It is not known just how the accident occurred. The little fellow was badly bruised about the face and body and for a time was in a semi-conscious condition. After a thorough examination, however, it was found that no bones were broken and the little fellow bids fair to be up and about in time to enjoy Santa Claus.

Feeding the Ghosts

When a stockman feeds a scrub, ghosts of the scrub's neglected and starved ancestors share his food with him. Fanciful as this may sound, it is none the less true.

A pure-bred shows more gain in tender, well-flavored meat from 100 pounds of feed, because, with generations of good breeding and good feeding back of him, he is haunted by none of the scrub's ghosts.

The pure-bred in the feed pen is an economy to the stockman. From the pure-bred come choicest steaks, juiciest roasts, at lowest cost to the consumer.

You've noticed how a grass-fed steer of good breeding will often outweigh and outsell a corn-fed scrub of the same age.

With the present narrow margin between the growing cost and the market price of beef, it is your duty—to yourself, to your family, to your community—to raise only the animals that make the beef that brings a price that pays you a profit on your investment. Don't waste good corn on poor steers.

If you're not yet convinced that pure-breds can make you money, you should read THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN and learn what registered cattle are doing for farmers all over the country. Successful breeders and feeders everywhere are enthusiastic readers. It's not preachy, but it's accurate, fair and interesting, and it does a thorough job of presenting opportunities for greater profit. Just $1.00 brings 52 issues, full of practical helpfulness and wholesome inspiration.

THE PRETTY "LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE"

CLASSIC CHRISTMAS SENTIMENT THAT "THRILLS AND SOOTHES"

Walter Kennedy was, some years ago, editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. He is dead, but his last Christmas editorial will live for ages. Each year, at Christmas time, it is re-published in the Commercial Appeal, and though this writer had read it before, this year our attention is called to it by Judge J. M. DeArmond, who says of it: "It is a gem that thrills and soothes and thrills again. It is full of genuine human sympathy, and gives expression, beyond the power of others, to the thoughts and feelings that come trooping home to us with this Yuletide season. Possibly it is unknown to your readers, and it occurred to me that it would be of real interest to them if The Reporter would reproduce it."

The Reporter thinks of it no less favorably than does Judge DeArmond; we are glad he has called our attention to it, and it is a real pleasure to reproduce

"The Land of Make-Believe" As the Christmas festival recurs, it is observable that certain somber gentlemen of academic mien have begun to inveigh against the pagan absurdities and mythological futilities of the season. They tell us that we make of the Christ Child's birthday a time of Make-Believe, in which we lose sight of the realities of life and the sacred significance of the occasion. These pundits would send Santa Claus, the good St. Nicholas and Kris Kringle, with their sleighs and reindeer, flying into the land of nowhere and oblivion. They would strip the Yuletide of all its accumulated charm of legend and fancy. They would abolish the silly traditions that have clung for ages to the holly and mistletoe. They would eliminate the Christmas tree, with its lighted candles and its fragile toys. They would teach every child not to believe in Santa Claus because there never was any such person, and children ought to cultivate scientific accuracy of thought and not have their curly heads stuffed with fairy lore and the moonshine of myth and legend.

And all this they would do because we live in an age of science and substance and reality, and not in a Land of Make-Believe. "Life" illustrates pointedly the effect of such philosophy in its Christmas number, when it depicts a wise little girl in her nightgown receiving Santa Claus and telling him:

"You know I don't believe in you any more, but you may leave the things." And so this is not the Land of Make-Believe? Could any explicit declaration contain a greater solution of untruth than that? Why, from the cradle to the grave our lives are dominated by Make-Believe. The pleasures of the senses entrance us while they last, but they do not linger; and when they go, they often leave the gray ashes of vain regret and chill remorse.

It is only in the land of Make-Believe that we find our noblest and truest joys. Little children make excursions into that enchanted domain when they play among the flowers of sail mimic fleets of battleships upon the brook that rambles through the forest, or listen, as did Peter Pan, to the call of a wandering Tinker Bell. Their education begins with the telling of stories by the winter fire, and even when they are sent to school the appeal must first be made to the spirit of Make-Believe that haunts every tiny head. And then, at the other extreme, is the old man dosing by the fire, not unmindful of its warmth, perhaps, but with his head full of dreams and memories, ghostly duplications of the days that are no more, faint groupings into that land of light beyond the western hills. Unrealities, phantoms, visions, it is true; but the only things in life for one who stands, patient and serene, before the grave waiting the inevitable summons.

It is not what we eat and drink, what we wear and where we live that constitute the essentials of life. Home, says the poet, is where the heart is. Yet, sifted to its analysis, this is only a piece of make-believe that must be sorely offensive to those of collegiate training and scientific tastes. Those, however, who look beyond crucibles, retorts, solutions and measures, know that there is an underlying truth in this aphorism. The millionaire lives in his palace, surrounded by all the luxuries, and ministered to by all the arts. Yet he is not at home. The place that will always be home to him is a memory—perhaps an old farmhouse on the hill, long since torn down and replaced by a modern mansion, or left to ruin and the bats and owls. Yet this place that has no tangible or material existence is the only home the millionaire can ever have. On the other hand, the house that one has built from the fruits of honest toil, where the dainty She Who Must Be Obeyed presides, where love's young dream has reached its fair fruition, may well become a true home, for there, indeed, the heart is.

And now, you who are inclined to take material and practical views of life, come into the library. A shaded reading lamp stands upon the table. An old armchair invites you. The walls are covered with books, favorites of yours, perhaps. You are in a chapel consecrated to Make-Believe. About you are the ghosts of Shakespeare, Goethe, Homer, Moliere, Dante and the long, illustrious line. And there are volumes telling you the strange, eventful history of the world's great men. Wonderful songs lie imprisoned and silent in the dark receptacles that men call books. You have but to turn the pages and many voices speak and sing to you. You open Shakespeare, and you hear Hamlet declaiming upon the snowy ramparts of Elsinore, and you follow Shylock through the moon-bathed ways of Venice and stand with him before his shadowy home, where nothing but emptiness answers his knocking upon the door. What somber tragedies, what marvelous histories, what forgotten songs, what side-splitting comedies, what stately epics are all crowded into one small room! And yet, so far as the senses are concerned, it contains nothing but voiceless books.

Go to the theatre, and you enter again the Land of Make-Believe. Here we have personages that never existed, enacting stories that never were. But, though the play is only Make-Believe the emotions portrayed, if portrayed well, are true to truth. The illustrations of the stage have become a part of modern life; and when one reviews the years that have passed he realizes that many of his most pleasant memories are associated with the theatre. A fugitive air from the "Bohemian Girl" drifts across his mind, recalling some white night in his experience. Edwin Booth as Iago, or John McCullough as Spartacus, or Joe Jefferson as Rip Van Winkle, step before the mythic footlights and a delightful experience of the past is lived again. Music and the play are among the vital needs of men. Poetry and old romance are factors in the well-rounded life. Art, too, plays its part to some purpose.

Yet these things, strictly speaking, are futile and unnecessary. They all pertain to the Land of Make-Believe. What is art but an imitation, a counterfeit presentment? Of what avail is "a painted ship upon a painted ocean," when one can see the actual waves of the sea? People do not sigh at one another in real life, so what's the use of opera, and why not consign "Faust" and "Carmen" and "The Troubadour" to the limbo of lost things? And why should we be harrowed with the haunting music of "Madame Butterfly"? She never lived and suffered, anyhow, and that little Japanese house amid the blossoms of peach and the vagrant morning glories, where she ended her dainty, perfumed life, was a false pretense, making an illicit appeal to our sympathies. Besides, the man who wrote such music and drew the reluctant tears to our eyes is a humbug and pretender, and we have a right to settle with him. Shakespeare, too, should be given his conge, for his characters speak in blank verse, and people in real life never do.

It is the spirit of Make-Believe, indeed, that makes life worth living. It sends the boy and girl to school. It impels the youth to get the ball to goal in spite of all obstacles. It fills the maiden's head with happy dreams. It is the architect of storied castle and grand cathedral. The missionary takes with him to the wilderness and the desert nothing that is pleasing to the senses, merely the glad tidings that appeal to the spirit. The soldier who dies for a cause or for his country, or who dares to go wherever Valor waves a flag as a challenge to death, is giving up his life for a sentiment. He has made no material gain. He has simply forfeited his life in a good cause, or possibly a bad one, on the field of battle.

This is a season of the year when we should be loath to disturb our beliefs. Take a trip to the Land of Make-Believe, and take the children with you. If you look out of your window at midnight of Christmas Eve, you may see the ghostly reindeer flying through the wintry air, and you may hear the bells of Make-Believe chiming against the misty shores of memory and ringing in the shimmering steeples of hope. Cherish all the legends that are entwined about the yule log, the holly and the mistletoe.

THIRTY-FOUR YEARS IN MIDLAND

TELLS ON THE KIDNEYS

Midland People Have Found This To Be True

The strain of overwork tells on weakened kidneys. The hurry and worry of business men, the heavy lifting and stooping of workmen, the women's household cares, tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they can no longer filter the poison from the blood and the whole body suffers from the waste matter that accumulates. Weakened kidneys need quick assistance. Doan's Kidney Pills are prepared especially for weakened kidneys; tired and worn-out backs have proven their merit in thousands of such cases. Convincing proof of their worth in a Midland citizen's statement:

Mrs. J. A. Nance says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have always found them to give me relief. Every time I did too much heavy house work, my kidneys would get sluggish and I would have bearing down pains in my back. At such times a few of Doan's Kidney Pills would fix me up. Different members of our family have also used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results. I certainly recommend this medicine highly to anyone troubled with their kidneys." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nance had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv 10-2t

ENTERTAINMENT IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

MIDLAND HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTS CHRISTMAS MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Midland high school presented its annual Christmas program on last Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Christian church. Many pronounced this program to be the best ever rendered by the high school, and by some it was considered better than the program given by the choral club of this city. All of the numbers had been memorized by the students and besides being well selected, they were the best prepared and most artistically rendered numbers ever given to a Midland audience by the high school.

The concert was given by the high school chorus of 160 voices, the Girls' Choral Club of 40 voices and the Boys' Glee Club of 55 voices. These were accompanied by two pianos and the Midland orchestra.

There were four full choruses, three ladies' choruses, two male choruses, two duets, one baritone solo, one piano solo and several readings.

Among the best artistic choruses were the ladies' choruses, "Lullaby from 'Jocelyn';" "When Twilight Weaves Her Gentle Spell" (Beethoven-Branscombe); the male choruses, "Soldiers' Chorus from 'Faust' and 'Anvil Chorus from 'Il Trovatore';" "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," (Bland-Hilton) came for its share of appreciation and popularity, and the closing number, "Jerusalem," (Protheroe) was grand, stately and sublime.

The individual numbers deserving special mention were: a piano solo, "Jy Pousse," (Helmond) by Mabel Holt; baritone solo, "Would God I Were the Tender Apple Blossom," (Fisher) artistically sung by Supt. Lackey and appreciated and enjoyed by the large audience; soprano and alto duets, "Love Divine, all Love Excelling," (Geibel) by Annie Wall and Lillie B. Williams, and "Home to Our Mountains," very admirably rendered by Misses Wilhite and Melson. "Roamin' in the Gloamin'" (Lauder), given by select male voices and in the characteristic Scotch costume was the most enthusiastically received number on the program. The declamation "Renzio to the Romans," (Mitford) by Carroll Hill was well delivered and received hearty applause. The readings, "He Tried to Tell His Wife," by Leola Bieham, and "A Christmas Kid," (Cook) by Miss Nollie Elkin, were heartily applauded and encores were given.

The Reporter would like to publish the program again in full, but we have been badly demoralized this week on account of lack of printers. We are therefore compelled to shorten all subjects, however good, and this interesting matter is of much else that is sacrificed.

EARLY DIFFERENCES ON CHRIST'S BIRTHDAY

The early Christians were divided as to the date on which the nativity of Christ should be celebrated. Some of these celebrated it on the first or sixth of January, other groups observed September 29th and still another March 29th. As early as the fourth century, however, the period of the new year had been generally accepted as the time for celebrating Christ's birthday. The Western branch of the church observed December 25th and the Eastern church January 6th. Finally it was decided that all should celebrate December 25th. Pope Julius I, who presided in the first half of the fourth century, is credited with having set the date.

Greetings

I always come to visit you at Christmas-time each year,
But every time I come along I miss a face that's dear;
Some girlie is a woman grown, some boy is now a man,
But while the crop of kiddies lasts I'll do the best I can
To make you shout instead of cry,
And make you laugh instead of sigh!

THE ORIGIN OF THE WORD "TENDERFOOT"

No term used in the far west is more significant than "tenderfoot," and in no connection is it more used than in relation to horsemanship. If a person approaches a horse to catch him or saddle him from the "off" side, or mounts or dismounts on that side, he is more sure to be styled a "tenderfoot," than when he cannot shoot straight. The tough western mustang or a broncho used in the mountains and on the ranches in the southwest was formerly never shod. His hoofs grew so tough that shoes were not only unnecessary, but a hindrance, for tough unshod hoofs are much more sure footed on rocky trails than are iron shoes. After once being shod, however, the hoof always needs it, and becomes very tender and lame without an iron shoe. As nothing is more useless to a western ranchman or guide than a lame horse, and as shoeing was not easy in the early days, a "tenderfoot" horse was despised. The unshod "tough-foot" was always reliable. Hence we have the western term to donate a "greenhorn."

By controlling the period of light each day scientists have discovered the possibility of advancing or retarding the growth of plants, enabling florists to get poinsettias ready for Christmas, and causing iris to bloom in December and chrysanthemums in the spring.

HUDSPETH WILL SUPPORT SHEPPARD-TOWNER BILL

The following letter, addressed to Mrs. Harry Tolbert, who handed it in for publication, will explain itself: "Dear Mrs. Tolbert: "The resolution which was signed by you and a number of other citizens of Midland, urging that I use my influence toward the passage of the Sheppard-Towner Bill is received. In reply I wish to state to you that I shall be glad to support this bill and do what I can to bring about its passage. "Very truly yours, "C. B. HUDSPETH."

With the coming of the joyous Christmas tide, the Unique has been putting on some very fine features this week.

Among the most noteworthy special attractions this week was the benefit performance under the auspices of the Presbyterian ladies. The feature was Douglas Fairbanks, in a very fine comedy in which this great acrobatic comedian performed some most daring and thrilling stunts. Besides this feature as a special attraction Miss Mary Meison and Mr. Robert Fasken sang some very pretty solos and the Midland orchestra rendered some bright and catchy hits of the day.

"Fair and Warmer," with May Allison was the subject on Wednesday night. This is taken from the play by the same name, and it was very cleverly portrayed. Constance Talmage on last Tuesday night in "Happiness a la Mode," was distinctly characteristic of this bright little actress and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. Miss Constance will appear soon in "The Love Expert." Many have seen her in this play and it has been said by those who have witnessed it that it is her best. It was written especially for this actress and it brings out all her characteristics. We will look forward to this with anticipation.

WANTS SOCIETY TO HAVE TWO DAYS OF REST

"Modern society cannot do with only one day to itself. It should have two—one for play and the other for rest and prayer." This is the latest contribution to the controversy over Blue Law Sundays, and it comes from Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, well known pastor of Brooklyn, N. Y. "We ought to get a whole day Saturday in which to go to the movies and the beaches and baseball games, in which to see our friends—in short to play about. And we ought to reserve a whole day Sunday for resting and going to church and worshipping the Lord in the manner we wish. The two-day holiday would render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto the Lord the things that are the Lord's."

A beautiful box of Christmas stationery makes a useful and appreciated gift. The Elite Confectionery.

CHRISTMAS IS THE BEST OF ALL HOLIDAYS

Taking it all in all, it may be safely asserted that Christmas is the merriest and the best of all holidays, and one which is likely to be observed for ages to come. Nations may rise and fall, new beliefs and religions may sweep away the old, but that would seem, indeed, a dreary and empty year which brought no merry Christmas in its annual round. May old Father Time long spare this holiday to mankind to gladden the hearts of all with its coming, and may each Christmas be still merrier than the last.

To My Friends and Patrons:

Once more we are in the midst of the season of Santa Claus, Good Cheer and such-like, and I want to take this opportunity to wish you a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

I am always glad when Christmas time comes round. It gives me an opportunity to present the good wishes I've been storing up for 364 days, and to say "thank you" for the many favors you have bestowed upon me throughout the year.

I have tried mighty hard to merit your good will and confidence, and am sincerely grateful for your patronage. With the coming of another year I look forward to again numbering you as a friend and customer.

So here's hoping this will be the most joyous and happy Christmas you have ever spent, and my sincerest wish will not come true unless 1921 brings happiness to you.

Cordially yours,

JNO. P. HOWE.
