Midland's Infant Malady Is Fatal To Four In Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS. (AP) — At least four deaths attributed to larygo-tracheo bronchitis, the same malady which claimed several infants at Midland, have occurred in Littlefield the last ten days and at least nine cases believed to be suffering with the disease are reported in two Littlefield hospitals at present. At least twenty other cases have been treated, doctors said. Deaths occurred within a matter of hours after the young patients were brought to the hospitals, doctors said, and according to all indications, the cause was believed to be complications of Virus B influenza, Hospital authorities conferred with Midland hospital authorities and the State Health Department and said symptoms were almost identical to those which caused the deaths at Midland.

Dr. F. W. Janes of the Littlefield Hospital said primary grades in Littlefield schools had been closed hand young children had been barred from theaters and other gathering places in Littlefield.

Disease Called Two Types Of Influenza

AUSTIN - (AP) - Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said Saturday that laboratory studies of the disease which killed seven babies plan, submitted by the Brookings at Midland indicated the babies had two types of influenza at the same time.

The official findings state that "laboratory studies now completed indicates the deaths recently at Midland were probably due to an fluenza bacillus." Doctor Cox said this means, in simple language, that the babies not only had influenza caused by Virus A and B but also had another type of influenza at the same time, hemophilus bacillus type B. No Littlefield Reports Doctor Cox said his department had not received any reports of similar deaths at Littlefield, but added that the description of the disease at Littlefield sounded similar to that which attacked the Midland babies. He said the effect of explained the disease reported at Midland is to "cause the choking of the babies through infection of the trachea and the bronchial tubes.

No deaths from the disease have securred in Midland since December Dr. Homer B. Johnson said Saturday, and no new cases have been reported recently.

Last Minute Poll Tax Paying Rush Is Expected Here

As the last week for paying 1947 poll taxes begins Monday, Midland County Tax Assessor-Collector J. H. Fine and his staff expect approximately 2,000 Midlanders will pay off between now and the Saturday night deadline.

At the close of last week, a total of 3,122 poll taxes had been paid here. On the basis of population growth in the county since last, year, when a record of 4.230 citizens got tax receipts, and because this is an important election year when occupants of county, state and national offices will be deter_ mined by voters, 1947 Midland poil tax payments should total between 5,000 and 5,500, Fine said Saturday. If his estimate proves correct, it will mean more poil taxes will be paid this week than were paid during the entire payment period in 1940, when only 1,982 voters exer-cised their right to ballot. It will also mean he and his helpers will be, esceedingly busy between now and next Saturday; they must issue an average of 300 or more poll tax receipts daily. Voting Rights.

Beginning in 1945, poll tax pay-ments in Midland County have set new records each year. The total was £015 that year, and jumped to 4.230 last year. In 1944 the total was 3,305, but it was 3,-834 in 1943. The total was 2,266 in 1942, as compared with 3,177 the previous year and 1,962 in 1940.

March Of Dimes Drive Appears Successful As Final Week Begins

Midlanders already have contributed generously to the 1948 March of Dimes, Ray Gwyn, chairman of the National Foundation for In-Yantile Paralysis chapter here, said Saturday. He added the prediction that during this last week of the campaign, donations will be even heavier than before.

In addition to 70 contribution boxes located in grocery stores, drug stores, cafes and other business places in the city, special arrangements for the fund-raising drive will be staged this week. Monday, the Lions Club will be in charge of a "wishing well" in front of the post office; other civic clubs will take charge of the well on other days of the week.

Special Events

This is to be "theater week" of the drive, and receptacles for contributions will be maintained at each theater. Other special events to help boost the campaign's total will be announced later in the week Gwvn said.

He asked that contributors who wish to mail money or checks to the March of Dimes send their contributions to "March of Dimes Campaign. Box 272. Midland"; or, if they prefer, turn in donations to Cecil Waldrep at the First National Bank.

This prospector is 35 miles northwest of Stanton, and 660 feet from south and west lines of tract 87, league 258, Briscoe County School Lands, 1

It is now active and had reached 11,096 feet in an unidentified lime and shale, at last report, and was drilling ahead.

Up to now this exploration has not reported having logged any signs of oil or gas.

Magnolia Petroleum Company has proven a one location northwest extension to the Yarborough & Allen field, in Southwest Ector County for the Ellenburger pay of that area.

That concern's No. 1 C. H. C. #### Draft Eisenhower Leaders Back Stassen

NEW YORK - (AP) - The carefully built up draft-Eisenhower movement collapsed Saturday amid echoes of the general's resounding "no" to efforts in his behalf.

A last-minute attempt to throw support to Harold E. Stassen produced negligible immediate results. All state units of the National Draft-Eisenhower League, Inc., weer asked to disband by top officials of the league, who said the organization "reluctantly bows to the wishes of the general.'

The original six organizers of the draft movement then announced their support for Stassen and requested state chairman of the league to put their weight behind efforts to secure the Republican nomination for him.

He hopes all the new equipment will be in place for the open-house next month.

'Modest' Texans On Job In Washington

Innocence, In Two-Part Time
Whatever can be said for or against the so-called Lea Act, one thing must be admitted. It was tailored to the measure of James C. Petrillo and some of his practices as head of the American Federation of Music. Petrillo says this anti-feather-bedding law is uncon- stitutional. So he called a strike at a Chicago radio station to test the question, and said as much at the time. He was tried and acquitted by Federal Judge Walter LaBuy. The Supreme Court refused to rule on the law's constitution- ality when the verdict was appealed. Instead it ordered a new trial on the facts of the case. Now Petrillo has been acquitted again. This probably makes the government attorneys un-

This probably makes the government attorneys unhappy. Maybe Petrillo is unhappy, too. For he took great Howard Hughes Seeks pains to break a law that he considered unlawful. Now the To Buy late Film Film judge says he didn't break it at all.

The whole thing is pretty puzzling. Here was a small local station that employed three AFM members to turn records. Petrillo told the station it would have to hire six union musicians to put the platters on the phonograph. Floyd Oldum, head of Atlas Corp.

The station refused, so the boss man of music called a of America. strike.

It seems evident from this that Petrillo never aske whether the station needed twice the record-turning hel whether the station heeded twice the record-turning help it already had. At least Judge LaBuy said nothing about Petrillo inquiring and getting no reply. To be fair, let's stretch the imagination and suppose that the czar of tunedom did go to the station and say, "Don't you need three more record turners?", and that the station manager said to himself, "We certainly do; but I'm not going to tell him as" not going to tell him so." No, that's too hard to believe, for reasons mentioned above: the fact that the station is doing all right without the three strikers, and the fact that Petrillo made no secret of his deliberate intent to test the Lea Act's constitutionality.

Rough Treatment Urged For Handling Germans

WASHINGTON - (AP) - Drastic measures to compel the Germans to work for their own recovery, either "at bayonet point" or through a "work or starve" policy, were urged by two members of the House Foreign Affairs committee: Citing strikes in the German industrial Ruhr, Rep. Richards (D-SC) declared: "Under international law we are obliged to keep the Germans from starving, but they also have an obligation to work for themselves. I think they should be required to work at bayonet point."

Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) commented that Hitler made the Germans work "by bayonet rule" and said: "Apparently the German people only understand brute force."

CLEANERS & DYERS

If this isn't puzzling enough, let us remember that in the first trial Judge LaBuy ruled that the Lea Act was unconstitutional. This time he says nothing about that aspect; he simply rules that the law was not broken.

We don't know what happens now. But we doubt that Petrillo will try the same tactics again, for Judge La-Buy's decision implies that a precedent has been set. Next time and employer will only have to say, "No, we don't need more help," to Petrillo. Then if he still tries to force more men on this employer it will be rather hard to prove that the Lee Act hear't been violated that the Lea Act hasn't been violated.

So we would guess that James Caesar isn't altogether happy in his victory. But we can't imagine anything but smiles at station WAAF, Chicago which is getting all its work done without three extra salaries to pay.

Taxes: An Accounting Problem

Income is determined by accounting. So, accounting is at the root of income taxation.

Naturally, business has always turned to Certified Public Accountants for aid in preparing its income tax reports, and for assistance in settling disputed tax items with the government.

The government, too, welcomes the aid of CPAs in explaining to taxpayers the accounting requirements involved-as evidenced by the fact that the Treasury Department authorizes CPAs to represent clients in tax proceedings.

By assisting in the prompt payment of the right amount of taxes - corporate or individual - Certified Public Accountants help to reduce the cast of payingand collecting—the Nation's taxes.

By TEX EASLEY WASHINGTON-(A)-One of the most provigious memories possessed by anyone in official Washington is that of Dr. Walter M. W. Splawn, former University of Texas president, who has been nominated to another six-year term on the Interstate Commerce Commission.

While Splawn modestly disclaims any particular distinction in regard to mental retentive characteristics, he says that if the reputation has foundation it is because nature's laws of compensation are at work - he has become almost totally nlind.

Last Fall she hit upon the "Silent Guest" idea

Named To Commission Jacques Ferfand, executive secretary of the One World Award Committee, was looking for several people to take the place of the late Fiorello H: LaGuardia, winner of its 1947 award, to carry peace messages abroad. He wanted at least one member of the commission to be someone with 'grass roots," who had done something for others. Miss Gabriel seemed to fill the bill. She was named to the commission a few weeks ago, together with Mrs. LaGuardia and Prof. Emily Greene Balch, 1946 Nobel Peace Prize winner. Fritz Von Unruh, internationally known writer and peace worker, will make a special trip to Germany for the Commission. Mrs. Balch expects to concentrate her work in the Scandinavian countries. Mrs. LaGuardia, if she makes the trip, will go to Italy and perhaps Czechoslovakia. But Miss Gabriel plans to reach every country in Europe that she can get into, plus Palestine and North Africa. She's just getting started.
