LOWE TO DRILL 1,500-FOOT
WILDCAT IN SE HOCKLEY

Ralph Lowe of Midland has filed an application with the Texas Railroad Commission, requesting a permit to start drilling immediately on his No. 1 E. T. Roch, as a 5,500-foot wildcat, in Southeast Hockley County, five miles southeast of Levelland. The prospector will be 440 feet from north and west lines of labor 24, league 26, Wharton County School Lands. The 1,500-foot objective is calculated to take the exploration into the San Andres lime—the pay zone in the nearby Levelland and Slaughter fields.

CENTRAL WINKLER VENTURE IS TO HUNT ELLENBURGER

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 3 Seth Campbell, Central Winkler County prospector, about six miles southeast of Kermit, and 1,981 feet from south and 1,986 feet from west lines of section 13, block B-5, pd survey, is on a total depth of 9,881 feet in an unidentified line. Operations are temporarily suspended while new, and larger drilling equipment is being installed. Operator has amended drilling application on this wildcat, and asked for permission to continue it to a possible 12,300 feet. That point is scheduled to put it into the Ellenburger. The venture was started under a permit to go to at least 8,600 feet. Up to now it has not reported having logged any signs of possible production.

SO&GC OFFICIALS ARE IN MIDLAND FOR A VISIT

A party of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company executives are visiting the company's district geological and land office in Midland. In the group are John Bartram, manager of exploration; and G. E. Jenkins, manager of the land department, both from the company's headquarters at Tulsa. Also along are John Evans, division manager, and William J. Noite, division manager of exploration, for the Fort Worth division. The Stanolind officials are checking with Ed Reed, district geologist, and W. H. (Bill) Ground, district landman, and their associates, in Midland.

SE STERLING DISCOVERY IS MAKING MORE HOLE

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and The Vickers Petroleum Company No. 1 Foster, Southeast Sterling County discovery for between 20 and 25 barrels of oil per hour, flowing from the lower Permian at 4,252-95 feet, was making hole below 4,332 feet.

This new discovery is located about six and one-half miles south of Sterling City, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block 15, H&TCo survey.

Report on fluid recovered from the drill pipe, after the 90-minute drillstem test of the 4,252-95-foot zone, where the well started flowing in 58 minutes and flowed at the rate of 20 to 25 barrels of oil per hour for 32 minutes, has not been received.

The drill pipe unloaded oil as it was being pulled and the fluid was sprayed over the location. No water has been developed.

CORRECTED REPORT GIVEN ON NORTH PECOS PROSPECT

C. W. Chancellor, Slick Oil Company, et al. No. 1 Thornton Davis, North Pecos County discovery for heavy gas and distillate flows from the Ellenburger, was drilling ahead below 9,330 feet.

This project is located two miles west of the shallow Pecos Valley field, and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 105, block 8, H&C&N survey. In a previous report on this well it was stated that a drillstem test was run for 35 minutes at 9,034-94 feet, and that gas of 15,200,000,000 cubic feet per day, was developed. That test was at 9,234-94 feet, and the gas volume was gauged at 15,200,000, not 15,200,000,000, cubic feet per day. Distillate yield during the test was estimated at about 25 barrels per hour. Gravity of that fluid was about 62 degrees. Another drillstem test will be run shortly.

Scout Ranch Dinner
Slated Wednesday

The most important meeting of the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch campaign here will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Schaefer when division chairman, team captain, team workers and others gather for a kickoff dinner officially opening the campaign. Leaders urged every campaigner to be present. They said the meeting will adjourn in time for persons to attend the Rotary Institute lecture in the high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

The goal of the council-wide campaign is $200,000 to improve the 6,000-acre Scout ranch in the Davis Mountains. Plans are to make of the ranch a year-round campsite for boys of the Buffalo Trail Council which includes 15 West Texas counties. Announcements, instructions and brief talks will be made at the Wednesday night meeting. Assignment cards and campaign literature will be distributed. Charles L. Klapproth, general chairman of special gifts, will preside.

Howling Blizzard Roars Into Texas

Prices Continue On Downward Plunge

NEW YORK—(AP)—Prices continued down the toboggan slide Wednesday on commodity and security markets for the second consecutive day and the reaction is being felt around the world.

The Chicago grain pits were flooded with selling orders right at the start of trading. Within a few minutes wheat and corn fell the limit of 10 cents and eight cents, respectively. Cotton was lower.

The reaction turned worldwide a week after the first decisive break in rising prices.

Security markets in London, Manila, Sydney and Copenhagen slumped.

Cocoa and hides fell in New York commodity markets. Butter was down as much as 2 1/2 cents a pound for top grade in New York wholesale market.

Hog, livestock steady.

Tallow and grease prices fell a cent a pound and are down nine cents since mid-January.

Hog prices at Chicago were 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds higher. Arrivals were the smallest for a Wednesday since Oct. 9, 1946, the last day of culling prices.

Cattle and sheep prices remained steady.

Some New York storekeepers termed reports of wholesale reductions misleading. They said they were taking losses by cutting some items to meet chain store competition.

Several retailers reported customers were becoming extremely wary in making purchases. They said shoppers were buying on a day-to-day basis and waiting for cost to drop.

Cotton Slumps Again

Cotton prices at New Orleans fell more than $10 a bale at the opening. The limit of decline is $10, but directors adopted an emergency trading rule for Wednesday only under which some (Continued on page 10)

New High School Building Plans
Ready Next Week

Plans and specifications for Midland's new and completely modern high school building will be viewed by trustees of the school district at 1:30 p. m., February 18, it was announced at their regular meeting Tuesday night. A construction contract likely will be let the latter part of March by Hayes and Kirby of Lubbock are the architects.

Bonds for the new high school were voted early last year. The trustees approved a request of the First Christian Church for possible use of an elementary school auditorium while the church's new building is under construction. The request was made by Delbert Downing, a church official.

Earl Glasie explained the operation and general objectives of the health program being conducted in Midland schools. The board approved a contract to H. T. and T. J. Criger of Dallas for the erection of steel grandstands at the new athletic plant in Northwest Midland. The stand on the west side of the field will be 34 rows high. A fence will be erected around the tract.

Supt. Frank Monroe reported the State Department of Education has granted permission for the taking of a special scholastic census at Midland Air Terminal. A building purchased from the War Assets Administration is being moved from Midland Air Terminal to the Carver School location, Monroe said. He reported a home-making department now is in operation at Carver School.

Monroe told the trustees membership in public schools here last Friday totaled 3,205, the highest in history. He presented a financial report for January.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—America is on the brink of disintegration, a top-ranking psychiatrist said Wednesday. Reason: the increase in divorce and juvenile and adult delinquency.

Dr. Edward A. Strecker, chairman of the psychiatry division of the National Research Council, warned in an interview that as families are torn apart, the nation's future is bleak. They fail to instill self-reliance in their children. Children grow into emotionally immature adults unable to meet responsibilities. "Somewhere along the line," Doctor Strecker declared, "we have lost our spiritual values. Through technological advance we have achieved a highly materialistic civilization, but underneath we are straw."

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Texas) told the Senate Wednesday that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson "is the real gambler" in the wheat market. He said it is time for Anderson to resign.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—(AP)—Two fliers were killed and eight others hurt, two critically, in the crash of a Navy Martin Mariner about 20 miles south of here, the Public Information Office said Wednesday.

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Cotton futures, responding to breaks in other markets, dropped nearly $18.00 a bale in extremely heavy trading here Wednesday, before a buying reaction set in.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines resigned Wednesday as ambassador to Panama. The White House announced the resignation is effective March 1.

Beef Held Off Market

After the drastic break in beef prices on the Chicago market, "smart" farmers, many of whom lost money in the rush to sell, keep their cattle at home, as these empty pens at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago will illustrate. Tuesday's receipts at Chicago totaled only 5,000 head, compared with Monday's total of 18,000.

Cabinet Rank Favored For Aid Plan Head

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A European recovery boss who won't have to take orders from the State Department appears a certainty Wednesday.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed unanimously Tuesday night to create a $50,000,000 a-year independent Marshall Plan administrator.

He would rank equally with the secretary of state and other cabinet members and any dispute would be settled by the President.

Check Boards Favored

The administrator would be advised by a 12-member board of private citizens and would report to a 14-member congressional "watchdog" committee.

A roving ambassador and special missions abroad would help keep tabs on how Europe uses the American help.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said the administrative plan was agreed to without dissent by the committee. He added that if the State Department has any objections, he hadn't heard them.

The State Department proposed a plan that it is given full say over the recovery program.

Taft-Hartley Violation
Charged Against CIO

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted the CIO and its president, Philip Murray, on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Act's political expenditure ban.

The indictment charges that Murray published an endorsement for a Maryland congressional candidate last July in the union-financed CIO News.

The CIO has openly invited a court test. It says the Taft-Hartley ban against unions or corporations making political expenditures is unconstitutional.

New Sewer Ordinance
Proposed By City Council

Two new ordinances, one providing for a revision of sewer rate charges and the other setting up a standard electrical code, were passed on first readings by members of the City Council at their regular meeting Tuesday night. The ordinances may be adopted on second readings at the next regular meeting.

Sewer charges for commercial and industrial establishments, under the proposed ordinance, will be on a water consumption basis with a minimum monthly charge of $1. The sewer charge for the first 300,000 gallons of water used will be at five cents per 1,000 gallons, and in excess of 300,000 gallons at three cents per thousand gallons.

The minimum charge for private residences will be 50 cents a month for four fixtures, and 10 cents per month for each additional fixture. Apartment houses will be classified on the basis of each apartment a separate unit. The ordinance provides that charges for service outside the city limits will be one and one-half times the city rate. Air conditioning equipment will be based on a charge of three months average preceding summer connection.

The Chamber of Commerce last year recommended a revision of sewer rates as a means of providing additional revenue to meet sewer bond charges and increased department expenses.

The proposed electrical ordinance provides for creating the office of (Continued on page 10)

Contracts Let For Drainage, Sewer Projects

Contracts were awarded by the City Council Tuesday night for the laying of a sewer line in Moody Addition and for the digging of a drainage ditch in East Midland. Both projects were included in last year's bond issue.

The sewer line contract was awarded to Roger Smith of Waco on a bid of $29,034.50. P. R. Burn of Las Cruces, N. M., submitted a low bid of $26,804.60, but his bid on the drainage ditch was high, and he had indicated he would not accept one contract without the other.

The Wilks, Dake and Steed Company of Tyler bid $36,555 on the sewer job.

Wide Range In Bids

The Spencer Construction Company of Carrollton, Texas, was awarded the drainage ditch contract on a low bid of 29.5 cents a cubic yard, or a total of $17,010. The bids ranged from the low of $17,010 to a high of $73,860. Other bids were: Ted B. Smith, Sweetwater, $27,434; C. E. Blakeman Contracting Company, Sundown, $31,320; P. R. Burn, Las Cruces, N. M., $73,860; Fred Burleson Company of Midland, $41,760; El Paso Sand Products Company, El Paso, $27,840; Roger Smith, Waco, $21,480; and Wilks, Dake and Steed Company, Tyler, $30,740.

A. G. Classen, El Paso consulting engineer, will supervise both projects. Plans and specifications were drawn by Classen, who attended the contract letting.

Trains, Buses Are Delayed, Canceled

By The Associated Press

A howling blizzard—the worst storm of an unusually hard winter—snarled highway and rail traffic Wednesday in the Texas Panhandle as it fanned out to the South and East.

Trains and buses were delayed or canceled. A number of automobiles were reported stalled between Vega and Adrian in the Panhandle. A Borger High School basketball party of about 25 members was stranded overnight at Stratford, Texas. A Fort Worth and Denver passenger train carrying President Ralph Budd of the Burlington Railroad was hours overdue in Amarillo from the South.

The mercury dropped to two degrees below zero Tuesday night at Dumas, in the Northwest corner of the Panhandle.

The State Highway Department set up road blocks at several points in the Panhandle to stop all road travel possible. The chief danger was from low visibility, reported to be zero in many places. The snow, while drifting badly before a high wind, was dry and light, mixed with dust.

Rail Schedules Halted

The Rock Island Railroad cancelled all freight trains on its road from Tucumcari, N. M., to Oklahoma City. Traffic was stopped on its stub line from Amarillo to Liberal, Kas. The road's main line, crossing the Northwestern tip of the Panhandle, was kept open by snowplows.

Railroad officials said snow drifted back into the cuts almost as fast as snowplows could throw it out.

The Fort Worth and Denver Railroad was holding its northbound Zephyr passenger train at Amarillo because of bad snow conditions reported in Southeastern Colorado. The train carrying Budd was due in Amarillo at 8:30 a. m., and had not arrived shortly before noon. It was planned to hold it at Amarillo when it arrived. Another southbound Fort Worth and Denver train was being held at Trinidad, Colo., and a train was made up at Amarillo to take its place on the schedule to Fort Worth.

Cattle Losses Feared

The main line of the Santa Fe through Amarillo was operating with slight delay, but the road cancelled its trains on a branch line between Spearman, Texas, and Shattuck, Okla.

Greyhound and Continental Bus Lines cancelled north and west-bound runs through the Panhandle. At Dumas, where the snow rode a 50-mile per hour gale, it was said cattle losses were feared. Long distance telephone service was cut off there.

Schools were let out at many Panhandle points. Some industries at Dumas and Amarillo because employees could not get to work.

There were no reports of fuel shortages such as those which caused emergencies in the late January storm. At Dallas, officers of the (Continued on Page Ten)

Convict Search
Back In Central
West Texas Area

ABILENE—(AP)—Search for an escaped convict from the Darrington Prison Farm switched back to Central West Texas Wednesday.

Tuesday night a man identified as G. J. Murphy of Sweetwater said a motorist who picked him up bragged: "I'm hot and so is this car. I'm going as far as Cisco or until the law catches me."

Murphy said he had the motorist let him off at Trent, Texas, 15 miles east of Sweetwater, "because he was driving at a terrific rate of speed." Murphy was hitchhiking to Dallas.

Monday, El Paso officers said the convict, Harvey Lee Glass, 24, answered the general description of a man wanted in a robbery and slaying case there.

Sunday night, Glass' two companions in the prison break were captured in Colorado City. Glass escaped in a stolen car belonging to John Z. Kimbrell, a person of Midland, which was recovered.

Deputy Sheriff Homer Bradford of Sweetwater said he believed Glass had been hiding out in Sweetwater. "He's got his family and a girl friend here," Bradford said.

Appointment of William Engel, former USO director in Texas, as director of the Midland Youth Center was overwhelmingly confirmed at a meeting Tuesday night of the center's Senior Advisory Council in the county courtroom of the courthouse.

More than 50 members of the council, representing virtually all church and civic organizations in the city, were present at the meeting to approve employment of Engel as director of the Youth Center and to complete the process of establishing the center at the corner of Illinois and B Streets.

Former USO Director

Engel was USO director for two years at Camp Hood, near Waco, and served for a similar period at the Laredo Army Air Field. Widely experienced in program development and activity planning for young people, he studied music in (Continued on page 10)

Midlander's Father
Dies In Denver

Curtis H. Field, 60, father of Mrs. Alden Donnelly of Midland, died in his home in Denver, Colo., Tuesday morning following a heart attack. Field, a retired railway mail superintendent, was born in Denver and was one of the oldest pioneers in the state.

He was a son of the late Curtis H. Field, chief justice of the Colorado Supreme Court. His mother, the former Mary Louise Jones, also was a pioneer and "the daughter of one of the founders of the Pony Express."

Survivors include his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Edwards of Denver, Mrs. Donnelly, and a son, C. B. Field of Denver.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Hoffman Mortuary in Denver. Interment will be in Denver.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly are in Denver for the services.

Rotary Speaker Here Wednesday

Chester Tobin of Chicago, private investment counselor, author and student of world economic problems, will speak at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday in the high school auditorium, as the first lecturer on the Rotary Institute of International Understanding, sponsored by the Midland Rotary Club.

"Understanding the Peoples of the Modern World" will be Tobin's subject.

The Wednesday night session will take the place of the club's regular meeting Thursday noon, the Rev. Howard Holloway, president, said.

Other institute lectures, based on the general theme, "Getting Acquainted with our World Neighbors," are scheduled February 23 and March 3 and 10.

Tobin, a native of Portland, Me., has worked and traveled extensively in Europe and Asia, and is thoroughly familiar with problems of the Moslem areas of the world. His recent book, "Turkey, Key to the East," was based on his years of residence in Turkey.

Boy Scouts 'Take Over' City Council Duties To Enact Scout Legislation

Midland Boy Scouts and Cubs Tuesday night took over the administrative duties of the City Council long enough to adopt a petition approving and favoring the operation of Cub Packs, Scout troops and Senior units throughout the City of Midland. The event was staged in connection with the observance of National Boy Scout Week.

The regular meeting of the City Council, opened by Mayor Rusty Clifford, was recessed and the council members left their places at the council table to make room for the "new council."

"Mayor" Billy Cartwright called the meeting to order, and "City Secretary" Keys Curry reported there were no minutes since the session was the first of the new council.

Scout Joe Patton presented the petition supposedly signed by every boy in Midland over nine years old. The petition read, "We the undersigned boys, residents of Midland, and nine years old or more, petition the City Council to approve and favor the operation of Cub packs, Scout troops and Senior units throughout the City of Midland, with the supervision of churches, service clubs, and other sponsoring institutions, all of which will be conducted according to the requirements of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, and under the pledge and observance of the Scout oath and law."

City Attorney Tim Cornwell declared the petition in order. "Councilman" Don Hargrove moved its adoption, and "Councilman" Fella Patten seconded. The motion carried by a unanimous vote.

The "mayor" charged "Chief of Police" Bill Erskine with the duty of enforcing the requests, provisions and regulations of the petition.

The "meeting" was adjourned. Cubs of Pack 51, and Scouts of Troop 88 participated in the program. Scoutmaster Jim Morris was the director.

Fashion's Convertible Has Three Outfits In One

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Meet the 1948 convertible which gives you three outfits in one. This Adele Simpson-designed ensemble is a combination of suit and dress in which a gal can do a lady-like strip tease in three fashionable acts.

For the first act, she wears the full ensemble—a navy woolen bolero jacket and a matching skirt, featuring new length and fullness, which when buttoned up over a print dress appear to be a "new look" suit worn over a blouse.

In the accompanying photographs you see the model, unbunting her skirt and getting ready for the second act, for which she is dressed, at left, in the print frock and bolero jacket. When she removes the jacket, she appears for the third-act finale dressed, right in a snappy-looking print frock designed to go its way into Summer independent of its woolen companions.

Keith Heads Episcopal Men

County Judge Clifford C. Keith was elected president of the Men's Club of Trinity Episcopal Church at its meeting in Hotel Scharbauer Tuesday night. James Parker was elected vice president, Frank Ashby program chairman, and George Turner secretary-treasurer.

"Prosecute every writer of a hot check," R. C. Suran, special agent in charge of the El Paso office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, urged in an address to the club. "Prosecute all of them," he declared. "Don't give up and decline to testify when you get your money back. Let the courts decide."

"Keep checks as a medium of exchange. Thousands of hot checks are passed every day and businessmen must cooperate to combat this huge racket."

Suran discussed cases of notorious check artists including the man who forged the name of the Crane County sheriff for thousands of dollars. "Frauds and Rackets" was his subject. He discussed FBI activities including the new assignments from Congress to investigate all violations of the Atomic Energy Act and also the loyalty of all government employees. He also told of the training programs conducted by the FBI for law enforcement officers of the nation.

The National Stolen Property Act, he explained, has given the FBI the right to enter into the investigation of frauds and rackets and he asserted the number of expert check artists has been reduced.

The FBI agent discussed activities of swindlers and told of the bureau's drive against them. He was introduced by Dan Hudson, program chairman.

The Rev. R. J. Small, rector of the Trinity Church, and Dr. H. A. Briggs, retiring president of the club, also addressed the club.

RA Chapter Started In McCamey Church

McCAMEY—A Royal Ambassador Chapter was organized recently when a group of junior boys met in the First Baptist Church for that purpose.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. T. R. Melton, counselor; Robbie Weddle, ambassador-in-chief; James Lyles, first assistant ambassador; Don Smith, second assistant ambassador; Gary Pinkie, chapter recorder; Jimmie Johnson, chapter scribe; Billie Skain, chapter steward; Rudy Patterson, chapter custodian; and Jerry Coplen, chapter herald.

The chapter will meet each Monday at 3:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church.

West P-TA Given Delinquency Facts By FBI Agent

Special Agent R. C. Suran of the FBI, in a talk on "Delinquency" for the West Elementary School P-TA Tuesday afternoon, told members and guests the criminal acts of today were the juvenile delinquents of yesterday, and urged that active remedial steps be taken by the parents in their own homes rather than to leave all the training to schools, churches and law enforcement officers.

Suran, special agent in charge of the El Paso field office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a man well-versed on youth problems asked that parents analyze themselves and ask themselves what they can do.

"The FBI sees the result of those who fall as parents," he said. "What can we do?" asked Suran. "I believe there is one remedy... teach the youths to respect God, country and the home."

Suspect Youth Groups

The agent also asked the support of "youth-saving" organizations that lead to better citizenship, such as Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

"A survey made several years ago," Suran said "indicated that the first act of delinquency is playing hooky from school." The child who does this, he said, must amuse himself away from parents and school—he must find hidden recreation. "It extends to the very future of America," the agent said as he brought before the group several case histories in which espionage agents during the war were active-born citizens who had not been installed in them as children true Americanism and respect for officers. "Juvenile delinquency extends far beyond the horizon... it extends to whether we in the United States can boast that we live in a free America."

The West Elementary's business session, directed by Mrs. Bert Cole, Jr., saw the election of the following nominating committee: Wesley Martin, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Noel Cason, Mrs. Scott Brown, and Mrs. Richard Peters. Winning the room count was the class of Mrs. Grenade Peters, with Mrs. Francis Kingon's class taking second place honors.

McCamey WSCS Has UN Study Program

McCAMEY—The WSCS met in the church annex for the second lesson of the study "We the People of the United Nations."

Mrs. Bill Ramsey conducted the business session during which Mrs. D. C. Burch, treasurer, reported on the new dishes and silver which have been ordered for the kitchen. Mrs. Marie Neal gave the devotional, her subject being "Blessed Troubles." Mrs. C. J. Mann was in charge of the program which was the second chapter of "Freedom From Want" Assisting Mrs. Mann were several members reporting on different United Nations organizations and their purposes. "Economy and Social Council" was given by Mrs. Bill Ramsey, "International Trade" by Mrs. C. E. Harris, "Commercial Aviation" by Mrs. D. C. Burch, "The Education and Scientific Organization" by Mrs. Leo Plumlee, "World Health" by Mrs. Dutch Culwell, "International Labor" by Mrs. L. C. Partian, "The International Refugee Organization" by Mrs. I. L. Edwards, "Social Justice" by Mrs. C. J. Mann. The next lesson will be on "Human Rights."

Those present were Mrs. L. C. Partian, Burley McCollum, Leo Plumlee, D. C. Burch, George Lawless, T. L. Fuller, Mollie Yates, C. E. Harris, Dutch Culwell, I. L. Edwards, Raymond Stillwell, C. J. Flowing Bobcat Power Erases Midland 55-29

SAN ANGELO—Midland cooled off considerably from recent warmth on the 3-AA basketball courts and Tuesday night lost a chance to play in the conference tournament by dropping to the San Angelo Bobcats 55-29 here.

The San Angelo power seemed to flow and Midland couldn't dam it or beat it. The 3-AA games this season have been see-saw and Tuesday night the Bobcats were up and the Bulldogs down.

San Angelo "B" beat the Bulldog "B" 35 to 25 in the curtain-raiser. In the varsity tilt, Wayne Warren of the 'Cats notched 17 for high scoring honors. Leonard (Hoot) Harris shunked in 11 counters for Midland, including seven free shots. Cliff Jett made 11 points for San Angelo.

Cliff Rowland of the "B" Bobcat quintet dropped in nine points for honors in that game. Lloyd Henderson racked up five tallies for Midland leadership.

Trolley Driver Mystery Has Policemen Guessing

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Police speculated whether a retired motorist's litch to get behind the controls again accounted for a trackless trolley theft. The legitimate operator, Andrew Pugh, had left the car only for a moment, to make a report in the barn. Before the unscheduled run was over the car had defied a policeman's whistle, run a red light, picked up a passenger and damaged an automobile. The borrower continued his flight on foot, and witnesses said he wore a transit company uniform.

ACA Committee Plans This Year's Program

At a meeting Wednesday of the Midland County Agricultural Conservation Administration Committee, plans and dates for the seven 1948 agricultural conservation program practices in the county were principal topics of discussion. The meeting was in the ACA office in the courthouse.

Agricultural producers of the county earned $26,948.33 in 1947 by carrying out approved conservation practices, ACA supervisor J. A. Boyd reported. Payment of most of this sum to farmers and ranchmen has been approved, he said, and application to the state office for payment will be made within 30 to 60 days.

Producers soon will be advised when to apply for approval of 1948 practices which they are beginning, Boyd said.

Lavern Roach To Mix With French Champ

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK —(AP)— France's Marcel Cerdan, European middleweight champion, and Lavern Roach, the young, talented Texan, will have it out in Madison Square Garden March 12 in a bout that should do bonanza business at the box office.

The handlers of the two crowd-pleasing fighters agreed to terms Tuesday with the Twentieth Century Sporting Club for the ten-rounder. A $100,000 gross gate seems a good possibility since both have shown well in previous garden appearances.

Texan Hits Big Time
Roach made the jump to the big time last January 16 when he decisively outpunched babyface Tony Jairo of Youngstown, Ohio, in a garden feature ten. The handsome, 22-year-old ex-Marine, named boxing's 1947 "kookie of the Year" by Ring Magazine, appeared cool, calm and collected in his garden debut as a headliner.

It was Roach's 18th straight victory and his 23rd in 24 pro starts. He displayed a rapier left, a fine right cross and a willingness to mix.

In Cerdan he will meet an opponent with the same eagerness to swap punches. The Casablanca climber moves forward all the time, toasting leather rapidly with both hands.

Three U. S. Victories
Cerdan has fought three times in the United States. He outpointed veteran George Abrams in his first bout, flattened Harold Green in the second, and narrowly outscored rugged Anton Readi in Chicago, although he was floored three times in the final round.

The winner may be in line for a title shot if and when champion Rocky Graziano gets straightened out with the New York commission and has his return with ex-titlesholder Tony Zale. Graziano's license was revoked by the New York body.

The earliest known lighthouses were beacon fires in towers erected in lower Egypt several hundred years before Christ.

Headed for Fall

A few seconds after this picture was taken, the left ski of Class C jumper Billy Hatch became imbedded in the snow, and the youth rolled to the bottom of the hill. Unconscious for several minutes, Hatch was taken to a hospital, where he was reported shaken up. He was competing in the Big Hill meeting at Beloit, Wis.

RAPID CITY FIELD BECOMES WEAVER BASE
RAPID CITY, S. D.—(AP)—The Army air field here—one of the nation's biggest heavy bomber installations—formerly known only as the Rapid City Army Air Base, has a new name. It's the Weaver Air Force base, Senator Chan Gurney (R-S.D.) says the name was bestowed on the field in memory of Maj. Gen. Walter R. Weaver, a pioneer air corps officer who died in retirement in Washington in 1944.

King's Fine Foods Opens Here Thursday

Cecil King's Fine Foods, Midland's newest eating establishment, will open for business at 6 a. m. Thursday, the management announced. The firm is housed in a new building just completed at 418 West Texas Street.

The King's have been in Midland 12 years, catering to the quality food demands of residents of the fast growing city. The finest equipment available has been installed in the new cafe to provide speedy, efficient and sanitary service.

Curb Benches For Youth
The owners said the location is convenient for customers to walk to for lunch and for coffee and cakes during the day. Ample parking space is available for car tray service during the breakfast and dinner hours. A battery of barbecue pits are located at the rear of the building. Fine foods of all kinds will be featured.

Special facilities to serve school children are available, King said. Curb benches for youths have been set up outside, along with a water fountain. School children eating outside will be given a special discount on sandwiches during the noon hour.

The public is invited to visit Kings on opening day.

Drink Like Gentlemen, Or They'll Bar 'The Bar'
BEDFORD, PA.—(AP)— Things were pretty quiet in this mountain community and, according to Assistant Police Chief H. A. Clark, they're going to stay that way—thanks to a 75-year-old law.

Under the law, almost forgotten since its passage in 1872, five women and 75 men have been banned from buying beer or liquor as persons of "known intemperate habits."

A list of those involved has been posted in each of Bedford's 11 bars, Clark said, and all tavern owners have been informed they will be subject to a fine of $25, 30 days in jail and possible liquor license suspension for selling drinks to offenders.

The list will be revised every 30 days, Clark said, with the understanding that an improvement in conduct will bring a restoration of drinking privileges.

Birth Of 'A Son' Calls For Educated Father

ITHACA, N. Y.—(AP)— Fathers ought to know just as much about bringing up children as mothers do, believes Ramon Alan of Paterson, N. J. He's the only man among 50 young women taking a course in "Principles of Child Guidance" at Cornell University's college of home economics.

Alan, a senior in the college of mechanical engineering, expects to apply his new-found knowledge in bringing up his own son, born in December.

Originally, both Mr. and Mrs. Alan planned to take the course. But Mrs. Alan fell ill and Pop Alan had to carry on alone.

CIVIC MUSIC CLUB TO SPONSOR PROGRAM BY TEXAS COMPOSER

The appearance in Midland March 2, of Oscar J. Fox, noted Texas composer, was announced Tuesday at a meeting of the Civic Music Club, the group which will sponsor this event here. Further announcements on the forthcoming program will be made later, according to club officials.

The brief business session in the North Elementary School auditorium followed a musical program taken from the period of 1875-1945, which included the music of Dvorak, Campbell-Tipton, Debussy, Alice Kennard, George Gartin, Rachmaninoff, Lecuona and Tchaikowski.

Public Help For A Public Problem

This year the American people are being asked for the first time to contribute to the fight of medical science against heart disease. The campaign is being conducted by the American Heart Association, a group made up largely of specialists in diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

The association's program is as broad as its appeal. It aims at expanding research, professional education, public education and community service. One particularly important aim, it seems to us, is to establish a greater number of local heart associations. The eventual goal is a local association in every sizable city and rural area.

These local groups would have access to new knowledge and new activities developed by the American Heart Association. Ideally—and, it may be hoped, eventually—the millions of "heart cases" throughout the country would at last receive highly professional diagnosis, treatment and care.

That, at present, is a distant goal. It cannot be reached without a lot of work and a lot of money. Heart disease today causes one out of three deaths in this country. These ailments are not, of course, confined to middle age and beyond.

Rheumatic fever is one of the deadliest of children's diseases. In New York City, over the 1942-45 period, rheumatic fever annually killed more than 10 times as many children as infantile paralysis, meningitis, whooping cough, measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever combined. Yet it remains one of childhood's least-understood and worst-cared-for afflictions.

Great discoveries remain to be made in the cause and prevention of the various heart diseases. They probably will be made, but it will take time and money for research. Better treatment for sufferers from heart disease, and some relief from the worry and hopelessness that accompany it, are surely possible. But they will require time and money for professional and public education.

Yet at present the funds available to fight heart disease as a public enemy are pitifully inadequate. In recent years voluntary agencies for tuberculosis and infantile paralysis have received 400 times the money, and cancer agencies 100 times the amount, that the American Heart Association has had to work with.

This is not the public's fault. The public has not been asked to help before. But now that the call has come from the American people will surely heed it. Millions suffer from heart disease. Millions more have friends and relatives who are sufferers. Heart disease is an intimate and unwelcome acquaintance, as well as a national health and economic problem.

The amount that the American Heart Association seeks is modest, as such things go. It is asking from the public less than $760,000.

Only Yesterday

Several million Americans, by conservative estimate, will feel like congratulating Mrs. Shirley Temple Agar on the birth of her new daughter. But most of them aren't going to feel any surge of grandparental pride when they do so.

Why, it can't be more than a couple of years at the most since Shirley was hoofing and singing on the screen as a golden-ringed three-year-old. Couldn't be some of us are getting old, could it?

One of the best meals of all could be made up of the items crossed out on the menus.

Many a blonde is dyeing to meet a man who prefers brunettes.

Iraq Premier Flees

Ex-Premier Sayed Saleh Jabr, right, fled in disguise by air from Trans-Jordan, escaping possible reprisals from countrymen who were angered by an alliance he signed with the British which failed to realize "the national aims of Iraq." The worst rioting in the nation's history has claimed 14 lives, with 65 persons injured. This photo was taken after the British-Iraq treaty was signed in Portsmouth, England. British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, left, and Sayed Jabr, then-premier, admire the mace of the Royal Navy, just after the signing in January.

GI's Declare Subsistence Isn't Enough For Education

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—Since the end of the war more than one and one-quarter million veterans have swelled the ranks of students in colleges and universities in this country to the bursting point.

How these ex-servicemen subsist, what they think of their instruction, vocational choices and extracurricular activities has been made the subject of a nationwide study planned by a national committee appointed by the American Council on Education, financed by the Disabled American Veterans.

The committee found that the average total monthly expenses of single veterans is $106.13, or $43.13 more than the $65 allotted to him by the Veterans Administration. Married students spent $175.38 but received only $90, a difference of $85.38.

To make ends meet, the committee reports, many veterans work during school terms and Summer vacations. Of the more than one-third employed, 22 per cent earned from $10 or less to $30 a term. Earnings of the remaining 8 per cent ranged from $31 to $105. Wives of 56 per cent of the married student veterans work to supplement their husbands' incomes.

The answers to what the veterans think of their instruction, the committee reports, range from "average" to "very good" with approximately 8 per cent considering their teaching "inferior" or "very poor."

Vets Are More Mature

A majority of the veteran students, the committee says, feel that educational standards in their institutions actually had been raised as a result of the tremendous growth in enrollment. Increased competition among students, their greater maturity and present day higher college entrance requirements, "more and better professors" and a larger selection of new courses" were some of the reasons advanced.

Veterans are more serious than non-veteran students, the committee finds. They are more mature in their approach to college studies, have more practical and definite goals and realize more fully the value of the educational program which they are now undertaking. The report shows that only 35 per cent of the veterans now enrolled in colleges and universities have changed vocational plans they made before entering the armed services. The greatest change was found among the disabled veteran.

students, with 46 per cent of married students in this group and 43 per cent of single students enrolled in programs leading to occupational goals different than those they had prior to the war. All but a few veteran students in college are satisfied with the progress they are making toward their chosen vocations.

The study shows that more than one-half the former GIs take little part in student organizations and activities outside the classroom. In most cases they do not have sufficient time or are not interested in such activities.

Dean E. G. Williamson of the University of Minnesota acted as chairman of the committee. Ralph J. Strom, formerly of the Veterans Administration, was director.

...for BETTER LIVING

It takes long hours of practice to master a piano keyboard. And about the only time boys and girls can find to work on their music lessons is after school, late in the afternoon. This means that both the quality and amount of lighting is vitally important, for to successfully read musical scores, the student must see the notes clearly.

To make sure that your children have enough of the right kind of light for home study assignments and music lessons or for play and relaxation, make sure that every socket has a bulb large enough to provide adequate illumination and that shades are so fixed that glare is eliminated. Remember, with Better Light they will have Better Sight.

Fill EMPTY SOCKETS
Fill all empty sockets and replace burned out lamp bulbs. Do away with blacked-out walls, closets, and corners for bright, cheerful living.

She Looks You In The Eye With Camera, Saves Sight

Mary Brown (left) and patient: "The most exciting work..."

NEW YORK (NEA)—Sometimes today a boy is happily playing, perhaps basketball, if it were not for Mary R. Brown and her camera, he might have been blind in one eye.

The boy had injured his eye in a basketball game.

"We took a series of deep pictures of what seemed to be a growth on the retina and sent them to a famous specialist in England.

"With nothing to go on but these colored slides, magnified and thrown upon a screen, he recommended preserving the eye. Well, in time the growth went away and the boy still has his sight.

Important Work
Mrs. Brown jumped from photog-raphing her own son as a child to commercial photography to specializing in the very complicated photography of the human eye—
"the most exciting work a cameraman can do and the most important"—for the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary.

With her special retina camera, which uses the lens of the eye itself to create the correct focal length, she can photograph the fundus of the eye—the area deep within this delicate mechanism.
From the colored slides from such pictures surgeons can study the ill that affect sight.

Mrs. Brown, a shy, attractive woman, has made it possible for eye surgeons to sever optic nerves, cut out cancerous tissues, or make corneal transplants surely and safely to save or restore sight.

"Many persons treated here for eye trouble, have taken the pictures back to other lands where their own eye specialists can see what further treatment is necessary," she says.

"Not only do we take pictures here that make it possible for surgeons elsewhere to help in diagnosis but we teach ophthalmologists to take their own pictures."

The photographic techniques Mrs.
Brown has developed today are being used to teach eye specialists in the Philippines and India as well as in U.S. medical schools and hospitals.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Of course everybody has heard about the snowstorm in New York over the holidays, but sitting in the middle of it and reading about it are quite different.
While the storm was at its peak
I received a telephone call from Joseph Cohen of Wooster, Ohio, Joe, calling from Wooster, asked me to get him a smoked turkey and ship it out to him for New Year's Eve.

I had to explain to him that we were snowed in, and Joe said,
"Well, just so the call won't be a total loss, here's a bridge hand for you." And it's quite an interesting one.

Joe said, "I was confronted with a problem right on the opening lead, but I finally played the five of spades from dummy. East won with the jack and returned the king of clubs, which I won with the ace."

"Now I led all the diamonds and hearts, and ended up with the eight of clubs and four of spades in my hand. In the dummy I had the ace and queen of spades, the king and king-king of clubs, he had to make a discard. He let go of the queen of clubs and my eight-spot was good. I won the last trick in dummy with the ace of spades.

"Now don't hang up," said Joe.
"If I had been sitting North I still would have played it at six no trump. And if East had opened the king of clubs, I would have made the contract."

Well, it was Joe's money we were talking on, so I said, "All right go ahead."

"I would win the first club trick in dummy with the ace, cash the six diamonds and three heart tricks. Now I would be down to the eight of clubs and two spades in dummy, and the ace-queen of spades and a club in the North hand. I throw East in with the eight of clubs and he has to lead away from his king-jack of spades into my ace-queen."

Joe was right. Six no trump can be made from either side.

Texas Congressmen Have Own Ideas On Cure For Inflation

By TEK EASLEY
WASHINGTON — (P)— Texas
members of Congress, while agreed that only a Solomon has the answers to inflation, still have some ideas of their own about the problem.

Boiled down, the typical view is this:
Six years of war and reconstruction have caused tremendous shortages while building up an enormous circulation of currency. Supply has not caught up with demand. More and more production is the answer.

That's "over simplification" of the problem, several Texas congressmen said, but the best they could do in only a paragraph, or two.

Here are thoughts of Texas available for comment:
Senator Tom Connally: "In the disturbed conditions following the war it was inevitable that inflationary forces should operate. What the world gets down to working again and producing and economizing, inflation will begin to decrease.
No Hard, Fast Rule
"It is difficult to lay down any hard and fast rule of action to meet these economic needs. Voluntary action by our people to purchase only the absolute necessities and to make necessary sacrifices will, I believe, initiate a downward movement in inflated prices."

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel: "Most of the inflation is the result of the planning of the New Deal to create inflation so they might then propose more of their screwy ideas.
"The best remedy I know would be for the people to clean house in Washington. Connally: "I don't know the answer myself, and I don't know anyone who does. I'm not much on any more controls, but I do think if the president had been given authority over strategic materials it would have helped greatly."

Bankers' Conspiracy Rep. Patman of Texas: "It's a conspiracy among the big bankers to increase interest rates and I'm afraid they have some help inside the government. It will make loans hard to get, stop building and cause a depression. I think the Justice Department should investigate the big banking interests and shake 'em out."

Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine:
"The cause of inflation is an over-abundance of purchasing power and an undersupply of consumer goods.
I don't know how you're going to get a snap reduction. If I did I'd patent the idea and get rich."

Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock in the Panhandle, who served on the House Postwar Planning Committee: "Our committee was unanimous on the points: 'There's too much money and not enough things to buy.'
"Before the war ended, we recommended price controls be kept on various items until there was a balance of supply and demand.

Had they been retained, as distasteful as they are, we would not be in the highly inflationary position we're in now. Sugar is an example of a commodity where controls were retained, with good results.

"Restoration of controls might halt the spiral, but the real antidote is work and production. There have been recent price reductions where supply is catching up, as with radice. I would guess we're about half way in this matter of reaching a balance."

Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont:
"A combination of things enter into the picture. Of course, one of the main reasons is scarcity of commodities and a big demand.

"This personal experience illustrates how shortages affect prices, and also how monopoly is a factor. We broke the glass top to our new coffee percolator. An ordinary percolator top can be bought at a dime store, two for 5 cents. This top is of a smaller size, and after a long search I finally found one —but it cost 40 cents."

Supply, Demand, Says Regan
Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston: "I'm much concerned for the man who has children and must buy milk for them. I'm glad to see prices breaking, and hope it's a sign that better days are ahead. I don't pretend to know the solution to the problem; if I did I'd be president."

Rep. Ken Regan of Midland: "The reason for inflation is that the demand is greater than the supply, and our overseas shipments to the armed forces and to European countries is certainly a factor."
"Easy money" accumulated in the war appears now to be disappearing. It's a good sign when Miami night club operators begin to complain, because it's evidence of the pressure of that kind of money is lifting."

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson:
"Supply and demand is going to govern. That's logic. There may be numerous elements entering into the picture, such as market mani-placation and exploitation of conditions by big business and labor. The real answer is more production."

Texas Marine Dies Of Maneuver Injuries

OCEANSIDE, CALIF.—(P)—Marine Corporal Sterling E. Dalley, 19, of Austin, Texas, died of injuries received Tuesday when storm swamped Marine landing craft during maneuvers here.

Early Wednesday the Camp Pendleton Public Information Office said another Marine was missing and a Navy man killed and 31 men were injured when five LVT's, carrying 35 men, were swamped in the churning surf.
Dalley died soon after being rescued from the water.

Other casualties included a platoon and exploitation of conditions by big business and labor. The real answer is more production."

Hot Races Loom In Approaching July Primaries

By BO STERS
AUSTIN—(AP)—Political announcements—like the groundhog—seem to have hibernated for another six weeks in Texas. There was a flurry of announcements for various state and national offices in January, but few new candidates have appeared in February.

A senator, one of the oldtimers in the State Legislature, says politicians are "waiting for the ground to thaw and the sap to rise." Here's how some of the hot races are shaping up for the Summer primaries.

U. S. junior senator from Texas—Coke R. Stevenson, George E. B. Peedy of Houston, and Dr. F. B. Clark, former Texas A. and M. faculty member, already have announced. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel still is silent about his plans, but is expected to run again. Former Gov. James V. Allred and U. S. Rep. Lyndon Johnson also want to get on the ballot if they can find enough preliminary support.

U. S. representatives—West Texas will see two hot battles, with State Rep. Woodrow W. Beasly of Pecos again seeking to defeat Ken Regan of Midland for the congressional seat which Regan won in a special election last Summer. That is Congressional District 16.

State Rep. Charles L. South of Coleman wants to return to Washington. He will take on U. S. Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, the man who beat him two terms ago. Perhaps the closest race of all for U. S. Representative will come in District 4, where State Sen. G. O. Morris of Greenville is expected to take another crack at U. S. Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham. Morris ran a nip-and-tuck race with Rayburn in 1944. He can take a "free ride" in campaigning this year, for his state office continues another two years.

Sixteen of the state's 31 senators must stand for reelection or give up their offices this year. All save three of these have indicated they will probably ask for John Q. Citizens' vote again.

A ding-dong battle is in prospect between Rep. Sweetwater and Rep. Pat Bullock of Colorado City for the senator's job. Sen. Sterling J. Parrish of Lubbock also faces two contenders, LaMesa County Judge K. O. Corbin and Lubbock Attorney Ralph Brock.

At Greytown on the coast of Nicaragua, the rainfall is as much as 334 inches a year.

The State Department has "suggested" that Marshall Plan countries agree to "facilitate the sale to the United States for stockpiling purposes... of materials which are required by the United States as a result of deficiencies or potential deficiencies in its own natural resources." Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Lewis W. Douglas, ambassador to Great Britain, gave the above estimate of stockpiling possibilities, listing the amounts of vital minerals which could be stockpiled here by expanding production in the next two years, with the participating countries shipping the materials here in exchange for Marshall Plan funds.

There Is No Question About How The 'Cold War' Started

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
We shouldn't let the charges and counter-charges about who started World War II get us off the beam. The vital thing for us to know is who began the "cold-war" in which we now are engaged, and what it means.

It is well that we study the current exchange between Washington and Moscow about the antecedents of the second World War. We won't go into details here but a few highlights on thumbnail are these: The U. S. State Department has published captured Nazi documents purporting to show that Germany and Russia agreed to divide Poland between them, and that they also agreed Britain and America should be kept out of Europe, Asia and Africa. Moscow retorts that the United States, Britain and France provided Hitler with the strength to launch the war—that it was done with "a golden rain of American dollars" and by French and British diplomacy.

Rain Of Dollars
Well, there can't be much argument about the partition of Poland, for we saw that actually carried out as the war began. And Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop testified during his war crimes trial at Nuremberg that Russia was Ger-

There's That Warm Greeting Awaiting Stangers In Stinnett

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
STINNETT, TEXAS—(AP)—A freezing mist stung the stranger's face when he alighted from the bus in this Northern Panhandle town.

He saw nothing that looked like a hotel—a little row of weather-beaten frame business houses that bordered the highway from Berger and Amarillo.

Constable Ben Foster, a small, lean, middle-aged man, walked up and stuck out a hand.

"What can I do for you, friend?" "I have to spend the night and I'm looking for a room."

"I'll get you fixed up," Foster said, smiling. "If Ed hasn't got something maybe Curley will have and if Curley's full up I'll put you up in the jury dormitory at the courthouse. We're not trying anybody right now."

"Don't worry about a room—Stinnett never turns anybody away." Ed was clear-out-of-rooms and so was Frantz (Curley) Ferguson. But Ferguson, owner of a hardware store and pool parlor, had an idea.

"My youngest can spend the night with his grandma. My wife and I will move into his room and this man can have the big bedroom with the desk."

The visitor protested causing such an inconvenience but Ferguson refused to listen.

"It's all settled," Curley stated. "Now, here's my car keys—you probably have some running around to do while you're here and I don't want you getting wet and muddy."

It was a typical incident here, and big city citizens who walk around the unconscious man on the sidewalk and never nod to the guy in the next apartment would be amazed.

Stinnett is the county seat of Hutchinson County, which sits atop the world's greatest gas field. Thirteen miles to the south is Berger, carbon black center. Over most of the county the smoke haze of the atmosphere, softens the sunrise, colors the sunset and sometimes gives the appearance of an impending blue norther.

Berger, with 15,000-plus population, has far outgrown Stinnett, which has only 635. Most men of Stinnett work in carbon black plants and in the gas field. The gas wells march right into town.

Outside Stinnett are the ranches and wheat farms, and the ranchers and farmers are part of Stinnett's community life that centers in the two-story brick school. Everyone knows everybody. There are no doctors or dentists in town and druggist Burt Downer does quite a business patching up scratches and swabbing throats.

Capitals To Fall In This Revolution

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Denmark's minister of education, Prof. Hartvig Frisch, is preparing a plan to abolish the use of initial capitals from the Danish language—except in names and after full stops.

Danish and German are the only languages in which all nouns are written with an initial capital.

The minister has no jurisdictional right to insist that all Danes stop the practice. The only thing he can do is to issue a decree ordering school authorities to see that all school-children adhere to the new orthographical rules.

Such a decree does not require parliamentary recognition.

Inflation-

(Continued from page 1) that the rest of the world is beginning to take care of itself. With food cheaper, other retail prices should come down gradually, or at least stop going up.

But we still can't get enough steel, or enough of many of the things made of it. Nor enough oil, which in recent years has become the lifeblood of our industrial machine.

No Crash Necessary

All we have to do is to leave the ultimate consumer with enough money to buy these things. The speeding inflation of the past six months was draining the consumer money. Too much of it would have spelled the disaster of an economic crash.

But—barring panic—that crash now can be avoided. The world as a whole is far from over-producing, and it has 10 per cent more inhabitants than it did before the war. There should be plenty of work for everyone.

Since we have all wanted an end of inflation, we shouldn't mourn events that are killing it. What we want is stabilization—we want prices down where we can continue the record prosperity we have been building up since the war.

Situation In Hand

We don't want prices to go down too fast or too far, however, and there are some dangers that they might.

A danger lies in our gray markets and in large inventories of goods which people had been holding while the price spiral was running upward. Now that it has turned, we can expect goods to be thrown into the market for what profits can still be had. This thrusts prices further down.

So far, however, the situation seems to be in hand. The consumer has his gains, and the producer more. Just what he ultimately gets from the price break—a healthy stabilization or some kind of a recession—will depend on developments. The next few days should tell him much.

Remains-

(Continued from page 1) mob which seemed about to crush a woman. He also snatched up a little boy endangered by the trampling feet. For 15 minutes disorder prevailed.

Third Class Coaches

Then Nehru walked to the little third class coach where Gandhi's funeral urn sat fixed to a palanquin. He gazed quietly into the window at the urn, which rested on a darkly stained varnished stand. Six small spotlights brightened the urn and etched the outlines of the Indian flag on which it stood.

Another Indian flag formed a canopy.

On the outside of the coach the freshly-gilded Roman numeral III was a reminder of the simplicity of Gandhi. Always in life he had hidden the hard benches of a third class coach. In deference to him, the whole funeral train was composed of third class cars. In further deference, no members of the party smoked or chewed betel nut.

Gandhi's youngest son, Devadas, will strew the ashes on the three rivers most sacred to Hindus.

electrical inspector, establishing standards for electrical equipment, regulating sale, installation, repair and use of wiring equipment, and fixing fees for inspection services. It has the endorsement of eight master electricians of Midland.

An ordinance regulating the operation of taxicabs and providing for a two per cent gross revenue tax as a city permit fee was adopted on second reading.

An application by Mrs. Ben Gray for a permit to erect and operate a grocery store at 708-10 North Weatherford Street was approved. No protests were registered at the hearing. The council also approved Leroy Franklin's application for a permit to operate a grocery store and service station at 401 South Madison Street in the Moody Addition. The Zoning Commission had recommended the granting of both permits.

Water Discussion

The Planning Commission was asked to study the street names situation in Midland. It was pointed out some streets are not named and that others have duplicate names.

Midland's water situation came in for considerable discussion, with the council, on a four to one majority vote, authorizing the employment of the Layne-Texas Company to drill test wells and to make a scientific study of the location and production of wells on the Wadley tract north of the city. The test wells will be drilled at a cost of $1,000 a well. Commissioner R. S. Dewey voted against the proposal.

The city manager and engineer were instructed to study the feasibility of drilling additional wells at the Cloverdale and Rosedale Parks as a means of providing more water during the summer months.

With the employment of Engel as director, Midland Youth Center became an accomplished fact. Dr. H. A. Ireland, chairman of the advisory council, said. A lease for the building for use, Ireland said. About $2,000 is now available, but no public campaign is planned to raise the remainder, he reported. The advisory council hopes to obtain needed funds through interest of clubs and individuals in the city and work of teen-agers themselves.

Anderson Blames Small Traders For Boom, Bust Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson Wednesday blamed the recent "boom and bust market" upon mass speculation by small traders.

He asked the Senate Agriculture Committee to approve a bill that would allow the Agriculture Department to fix the amount of margin required for speculative trading.

Local exchanges now set the margins, or down payment, required of commodity traders.

Anderson said control of margins "to cool the speculative fever before it is too late is the only remedy we can see as a possible alternative to more drastic measures."

"Had such margins been imposed at that time, and maintained, the boom and bust market might have been averted."

Members of Boy Scout Explorer Post 85 of Midland, sponsored by the Lions Club, were featured on the program at a luncheon meeting of the Lions Wednesday in the Scharbauer Hotel. The boys described phases of their program.

Speakers from among the scouts were Duane Fritz, John Morrow, Dick Morrison, and Fred McMurry.

It was announced 25 new members were inducted in the Midland club during the month of January, Melvin Jones month.

Insurance Men From Wide Area Attend District Meet Here

Insurance representatives from a wide section of West Texas met at the Midland Country Club Wednesday at a casual conference for District Six of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents.

Edwin L. Stephens of Midland presided at the session and Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing welcomed some 75 agents from many cities of the area, including Big Spring, Odessa, Lubbock, Pecos, Alpine, Rankin, McCamey, Monahans and Midland.

Insurance Commissioner Speaks

The conference was held for all insurance agents of District Six who represent capital stock companies.

Principal speaker was Joe P. Gibbs, insurance commissioner of Texas. Also here to participate in the conference were Gibbs' assistants, including Paul Benbrook, August McDonald, A. W. Penn, Dean A. Whitten and J. D. Wheeler, who are directors of various sections of Gibbs' office.

The meeting began at 10 a. m. and was scheduled to conclude Wednesday afternoon. Luncheon was served the visitors at the Country Club.

Anderson Says Chicago Trader Made 'Honest' Profit In Price Breaks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said Wednesday E. J. Maynard, a Chicago trader, made several hundred thousand dollars profit on the price breaks in wheat and oats.

Anderson told the Senate Agriculture Committee that Maynard had "no inside information" and that "no corruption" is involved.

"We wish we had him on our staff," the secretary said, when asked how Maynard had called the ups and downs of the recent price movements.

Anderson identified Maynard as a member of the Chicago Board of Trade who bought and sold more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat this month. The secretary supplied Maynard's name after Senator Young (R-ND) demanded it be made public. Young said Maynard had made $400,000 profit on the market break.

Referring to price breaks on commodity markets, Anderson said: "The type of market behavior we have witnessed recently is exactly what was feared when 25 per cent margins were first suggested in March, 1946."

"Had such margins been imposed at that time, and maintained, the boom and bust market might have been averted."

Family Going Places, At Home In A Trolley

HARRISBURG, PA. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lebo and their three children don't worry about catching street cars—they live in them.

When the Lebos found living in a trailer cramped their style they bought two street cars, for $200 each from a line that had abandoned its service.

It cost an additional $100 to have the cars trucked to a lot on the outskirts of Harrisburg. There the cars were placed on foundations and the Lebos set up housekeeping.

Lebo, a former war worker, converted one car into a residence, installing a porcelain stove for cooking and a coal stove for heating. The second car is used for storage but the Lebos plan to remodel both cars into a single home.

ASTHMA

A chronic affection of the bronchi, characterized by great difficulty in breathing, accompanied by wheezing sounds, and a sense of constriction in the chest.

Everyone does not have asthma, therefore there must be a reason for some people being afflicted with the dreaded disease. Nerves leading to the bronchi are being pressed upon by a bony segment of the spinal column, impairing function of the air passages to such extent that the air cannot get in and out of the air passages rapidly enough to supply the right amount of oxygen.

Scientific Chiropractic affords PERMANENT relief for asthma sufferers in that it corrects the Cause of the condition, by releasing the pressure on the bronchial nerves allowing normal transmission of Life Energy over these nerves from the brain to the affected organs.

The Chiropractic office of Dr. Marvin C. Fitch, 701 N. Big Spring, is equipped with the latest Scientific Chiropractic Instruments to locate the Cause of your condition and only the Specific Method of Correction is used. Phone 2208.
